Cool Front Brings Fog And Clouds

By United Press International
Thick patches of fog dotted much of Texas today as a weak cool front shoved southward through the state.

The front dropped the temperature to 31 degrees at Dalhart early today. It was 32 at Amarillo. Skies behind the front were mostly cloudy, but little rain was expected.

The Weather Bureau said the cooler air would move over all but the extreme southern portion of the state by tonight.

Decreasing cloudiness and a slight warming in the north was predicted for Tuesday. No rain was reported in the state during the 24-hour period that ended at 6 a. m.

Temperatures Sunday rose as high as 85 degrees at Van Horn in southwestern Texas. That was the warmest reading in the United States. It got as high as 83 at Midland, Mineral Wells and Alice, and ranged downward to a high of only 67 at Dalhart.

The Canadian-born cold front abruptly broke the mild, autumn weather in the Midwest, turning skies cloudy and plunging temperatures from the Great Lakes to Texas.

Snow mixed with rain pelted the northern Rockies, northern and central plains and upper Mississippi Valley during the night. Readings neared zero in eastern North Dakota, and the mercury dipped to 2 above at Havre, Mont. Steady rains in Oregon and Washington heralded the approach of a moisture-laden Pacific storm, which the Weather Bureau said would cause showers and snow flurries to Idaho and the northern Rockies today.

Offshore oil drilling near Santa Barbara, Calif., was postponed because of predicted bad weather like the storm Saturday that sank a $1 million oil barge. Winds reached a peak of 75 miles an hour, hurricane strength.

Scattered snow flurries were forecast for the Great Lakes region with light showers accompanying the cold front from the lower Mississippi Valley into parts of New England. From the Midwest to the South and central plains states it was expected to be cloudy and colder.

Family Guarded From Maniacal Slayer Of Five

MINEOLA, N.Y. (UPI)—Police guarded the wife and children of escaped mental patient Mate (Mike) Ivanov today, fearing another maniacal outburst from the hulking immigrant sought in the knife massacre of all five members of his brother-in-law's family.

Ivanov, 38, dropped from sight Saturday after terrorizing his wife in Brooklyn, and stabbing to death Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gregov and their three children. Gregov had helped bring Ivanov to this country from Yugoslavia only last December.

Police guarded other relatives of the victims as well as Ivanov's wife, Mrs. Tomica Ivanov. Gregov's sister and the mother of three children. Ivanov has threatened his wife, and once wrote her a letter in his own blood, police said. Slaughtered in their neat home in this Long Island community not far from New York City sometime Saturday afternoon were Gregov, 39, his wife, Veronica, 35, and their sons, Peter Jr., 17, Ronald 15 and Michael, 11. The bodies were found early Sunday by police and a relative who became alarmed when he got no answer at the home.

Ivanov, an "honor" patient who was allowed to leave the mental hospital on work details, escaped by jumping from a work truck Nov. 15.

Dr. Francis O'Neill, the hospital's director, said the 200-pound Ivanov was suffering from a "chronic paranoid malady."

Another Gasoline Can Picked Up In Rockefeller Hunt

HOLLANDIA, Dutch New Guinea (UPI)—A second empty gasoline can has been found by rescue workers searching for young Michael Rockefeller, a Dutch official reported today.

The official, H. Veldkamp, internal Affairs Department chief for Dutch New Guinea, said the can was found bobbing in the water at the mouth of the Digul River which flows into the Arakura Sea just north of Frederik Hendrik Island.

There was no immediate word on whether this appeared to be the second of two gasoline cans used by 23-year-old Michael for buoyancy when he pushed off from his native raft toward shore a week ago Sunday.

Veldkamp said searchers also had found a water bottle which was swept off the native boat when it first was swamped and swept out to sea from the island river to the west of the Digul.

Rene Wassing, the rescued Dutch companion of Michael, Sunday examined the first empty gasoline can found floating in the sea and said he was "90 per cent certain" it was one of the cans used by Michael.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Michael's father, was so encouraged by the finding of the first can that he put off his departure from Meauke Sunday and decided to remain with the search at least until Wednesday.

Dutch officials were more pessimistic. They felt that finding the can so far from land indicated Michael might have drowned while trying to swim to shore.

Home Decorating Contest Program To Be Discussed

Officials of the Pampa Garden Clubs and Chamber of Commerce scheduled a meeting for 2 p. m. today to work out plans for this year's Christmas Home Decorating Contest.

Chamber Manager E. O. Wedgeworth said Garden Club members will handle details of the contest and the Chamber of Commerce will furnish prizes to be awarded for the best decorated homes.

The city will be divided into several districts, Wedgeworth stated, and prizes will be awarded in each district.

College Professor C-C Meet Speaker

Dr. Morris S. Wallace, head of the Department of Education and Philosophy at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, spoke this noon at the monthly membership luncheon of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in Coronado Inn.

A meeting of the C. of C. board of directors, was held at 11 a. m. prior to the 12 noon luncheon session.

Dr. Wallace's subject today was "Education — An Investment in People." Gordon Lyons, chamber president, presided at today's meeting and Dr. Wallace was introduced by E. L. Henderson, chairman of the C. of C. Public Relations Committee.

Not Like Home, But Conditions At Camp Defended By Troops

(Editors Note: Ft. Polk, La. is one of America's biggest military installations. Re-activated last fall for the fourth time in its 20-year history, Polk is the training home of Texas' 49th Armored Division. This is an account of what Polk is like after its newest growing pains.)

FT. POLK, La. (UPI)—Tell 20,000 men to leave their jobs, classes, girls and buddies. Tell the fathers to yank their children out of the schools they know.

Tell them to forget about neighbors, golf, bowling teams and all that means "hometown" until further notice because a new wall stands in a city they've never seen.

Tell them all this and wait for the bitterness to boil up. When it doesn't, wonder why.

Wonder why Gen. Harley B. West, commander of Texas' recently-activated 49th Armored Division, can state simply "the morale of the men is good," and mean it.

When the Columbus, Ga., Ledger's Ben House wrote of Ft. Polk as a "hell hole," rebuttal came from the strangest quarters—from the enlisted non-careerists usually the ones to cheer loudest when the "brass" gets criticized.

"Hell hole?" Hell no," said specialist Bill Harrell Jr., 20, of Goodwater, Ala. "Why I was in a barracks up in Missouri with cracks in the wall big enough to throw a cat through.

"When it was 20 below outside, it was 20 below inside," he said. "We stay warm in here." Two months ago, Harrell's job was putting handles on coffins. He calls it "applying hardware to underground furniture."

There's a kitten-size hole in the door to the platoon leader's quarters, but Harrell's townsman and barracks-mate, three-striper Robert Patterson, pooh-pooed it.

"I've been in some barracks that would make this place look like heaven," said Patterson, a cotton gin employe in civilian life.

The 42-year-old sergeant looked out at the pouring rain. "Now I'm not sure I've been any place with weather like this. But you can't blame the Army for the weather. If the good Lord wants to put it on you, He just puts it on you."

The Lord had been putting it on Ft. Polk the week of House's visit. It had rained for days on end. It would have been difficult for House to have exaggerated the muddiness and mugginess of the company areas.

House saw Polk at a bad time, and he also saw a bad part of the fort.

The Alabamians live on "North Fort," a portion five miles away from the part which had been kept-up.

South Fort has 1,564 buildings and can house 15,000 men. It has been continuously maintained to serve as summer training ground. North Fort has 753 buildings and can house 10,000 men. Until the 49th's support units moved in this fall, it had not been lived in since 1954 when Oklahoma's National Guard moved out.

"The original decision this year had been not to include North Fort in the reactivation," says Col. Wylie A. Abercrombie, deputy post commander.

"The call came for the 49th, and Polk was the only place available big enough for the 49th. We had to open North Fort, which had been cannibalized for years to keep the South Fort going."

The misfortune of the Alabama units and other support units was put into the language of the enlisted man by a young South Texan chatting in a bar in Leesville, the closest town to Polk.

"I feel for those guys in North (See TROOPS, Page 3)

Russia Bares Proposal To End Nuclear Tests Under Four-Power Pact

New Story Of Five Sea Deaths Told

MIAMI (UPI) — Capt. Julian Harvey confided to a close friend that he "panicked and jumped overboard" abandoning six persons on the ketch Bluebelle the night it sank in the Caribbean, the friend disclosed Sunday night.

James C. Boozer, a personal friend of Harvey, said he had given a statement to Coast Guard investigators Friday quoting Harvey as saying he lost his nerve and left the others after the vessel was hit by a storm.

This version differed from that given by Harvey to investigators after his rescue. It also differed considerably from the story told by 11-year-old Terry Jo Duperault, the sole survivor of the ordeal who is now recovering in a Miami hospital.

Boozer said Harvey told him the story before Terry Jo's rescue. He said Harvey had lived with him for two days between his rescue and his suicide after Terry Jo was recovered.

Boozer said Harvey had seemed under terrific emotional strain, but had finally told the story after making Boozer take a "vow" the Allies do not have "rights"

Parents Told Short Skirts Too Revealing

FREDOM, Wis. (UPI) — Freedom High School officials have sent letters to the homes of girl students explaining why they think parents should take a hand in drawing the hemline below the knee in present short skirt styles.

"If you allow your daughter to leave for school with her knees showing as she walked out the door, then you can almost be positive that more than her knees will be showing when she sits down," the letters say.

Soviet Explains Program Would Ban All Arms

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today asked France to join it, the United States and Britain in a four-point agreement to end nuclear weapons tests.

Calling for a "new approach" to a test ban, the Soviet Foreign Ministry gave foreign correspondents copies of a draft agreement to be presented to the three-power test ban conference resuming Tuesday at Geneva.

Neither the draft agreement nor an explanatory statement issued at the same time formally invited France to the conference table. But the draft called for the big four powers, including France, to sign the agreement.

The draft agreement contained these specific points:

1. The parties to the agreement will not carry out any kind of nuclear and thermonuclear tests in the atmosphere, outer space or under water.

2. The states involved will use "national systems" for detecting nuclear and thermonuclear explosions.

3. No states will carry out any underground nuclear tests before they agree on a control system that would be part of an international control system for an agreement on general and total disarmament.

4. The agreement would be signed by the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France, and would be "open for adherence by all states."

At the same time, the ministry published a statement of explanation of the draft. The statement said the Soviet government proposed to "sink all weapons, both conventional and nuclear, in the deepest part of the ocean."

"Humanity now has no other recourse but to wreck its entire military machine and create a world without armies and without weapons," the statement said.

"Otherwise, the nations will be hit by a crushing tornado of nuclear war and within a few minutes not only individual cities and inhabited points will disappear from the earth but entire countries can be turned into deserts."

"The Soviet Union believes in the strength of ideas and not in the strength of weapons."

The Foreign Ministry again insisted on a general disarmament agreement as a prelude to Soviet acceptance of any system of controls proposed by the Western powers.

"Sooner or later the western powers, if they only do not intend to commit suicide, will be compelled to accept general and total disarmament," it said.

Red Denies Allies Have Access Right To Berlin

BERLIN (UPI)—Tough talk by East German Communist boss Walter Ulbricht has dampened hopes that the Soviet Union might be willing to negotiate a reasonable settlement of the Berlin crisis.

The Communist newspaper Neues Deutschland published Sunday a speech in which Ulbricht told his party central committee the Allies do not have "rights" of access to West Berlin across East German territory.

Ulbricht declared that the East would not consider de facto recognition of its regime by the West as a bargaining point on the part of the Allies.

He said the only subject for negotiations would be the finding of some way to cut down Allied Berlin garrisons while still allowing the West to "save face."

Since Ulbricht has spent much of his time in recent weeks in Moscow, it was assumed his word echoed the sentiments of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, Khrushchev has remained studiously vague about just what portion of the Soviet position on Berlin is "negotiable."

According to Ulbricht's speech, it's not very much.

Ulbricht reasserted East German claims to sovereignty and control of all access routes to and from Berlin, whether by water, land or air. The Allies claim access rights under agreement by the four occupation powers after World War II.

Yuletide Parade Plans Finalized

Nativity scenes to be used in decorating Central Park for the Christmas season will be in place by Dec. 15, it was announced today by City Manager John Koontz.

Chamber of Commerce officials also stated that plans for Friday's Santa Day parade have been finalized.

The street pageant is scheduled to move from S. Cuyler and Craven Sts. at 3:30 p. m. Friday. All parade entries are asked to be at the point of formation not later than 3 p. m.

Featured in the parade will be civic and commercial floats, Pampa's three school bands, and Santa Claus, who will entertain some 4,000 children on the Gray County Courthouse lawn immediately following the parade.

$250 More Added To Fund Campaign

Pampa's United Fund total jumped some $250 over the weekend to a total of $54,253.93.

The goal is $68,746.

At noon today the fund was $14,492 short of the goal.

"We still need more action from fund solicitors," George Newberry, campaign chairman, said today. "If we can just get the workers to make their calls, we can go over the top."

Kennedy Shifts Ten Top Aides To New Positions

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—President Kennedy today ended a business-and-pleasure holiday at Cape Cod that was climaxed with the first big top-echelon shakeup of his administration.

Kennedy's reassignment of Under Secretary of State Chester Bowles from his post as No. 2 man at the State Department to "a new high policy position" was the big news in a reshuffling of 10 officials announced Sunday night.

Bowles had been expected for a long time to leave his high command station—but the timing and wording of the weekend White House disclosure generally came as a surprise.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Bowles' new assignment

Shakeup By President Rids Rusk Of Bowles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's shakeup of White House and State Department jobs is expected to give Secretary of State Dean Rusk a firmer grip over his department and result in better coordination of foreign policy operations.

Administration sources said it would give Rusk direct control over some officials who had previously been able to talk to Kennedy about foreign policy, without first consulting Rusk.

Chester Bowles' removal from the State Department hierarchy should result in more efficient operation at the top. The move had been expected for some time.

The sources said Rusk had been able to stop Bowles' habit of writing memoranda directly to Kennedy, but still felt the situation was unhealthy. Rusk was said to have agreed with Kennedy that Bowles could be more effectively

"will be announced shortly." Salinger refused to answer any questions beyond the bare bones of reporting the assorted transfers of White House and diplomatic personnel.

Three White House aides will move to the State Department as part of that shift. One State Department official will go to the White House. The other moves are all within the State Department. They boil down to this:

W. Averell Harriman, 70-year-old former governor of New York and ex-ambassador to the Soviet Union and Britain, will become assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs. He will succeed Walter P. McCone, 53-year-old career diplomat, who will switch to "a major ambassadorial post."

Bowles, 60, will be succeeded as second in command of the State Department by George S. Ball, 53, now under secretary for economic affairs. Ball's successor in rank will be George McGhee, the department's 49-year-old counselor and chairman of its policy planning council, who will become under secretary for political affairs.

Walt W. Rostow, 45-year-old deputy special assistant to the President for national security affairs, will take over McGhee's present State Department duties.

Brooks Hays, 63, a former Democratic congressman from Arkansas, will become a special assistant to the President. His post as assistant secretary of state for congressional relations will be taken by Frederick G. Dutton, 38, who has been Kennedy's special assistant for Cabinet affairs. Timothy J. Reardon, long-time aide of Kennedy's, will take over Dutton's Cabinet duties.

Richard N. Goodwin, Kennedy's 30-year-old deputy special counsel, will become deputy assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs. This is a new post in which he will continue a field of specialization he has followed all year at the White House.

The timing of Harriman's start in his new Far Eastern post will be governed by how soon he can leave his duties as a U.S. participant in the Geneva conference on Laos.

Prior to the shakeup announcement, Kennedy brought his four-day holiday at Cape Cod to a leisurely close Sunday by attending church and watching his wife, brothers, sisters and other relatives ice skating in Hyannis, several miles from their home.

This likely was their last visit to Cape Cod for the season, with Palm Beach, Fla., expected to be the President's next major relaxation spot.

Officials Discuss Improving SH 273

Mayor E. C. Sidwell, City Manager John Koontz and District Highway Engineer Charles Smith, Amarillo, were meeting with other interested officials late this forenoon at City Hall to discuss proposed improvements on SH 273 from Brown St. to the city limits.

The matter has been before city commissioners for some time and the city manager said it was hoped some decisive plan of action could be worked out at today's meeting.

City Commission Plans Purchases

Bids will be opened at Tuesday's City Commission meeting for the purchase of one three-quarter ton truck, one two-ton truck and three two-way radios for the city water and sewer departments.

City Manager John Koontz said the meeting tomorrow will be taken up for the most part with routine matters.

OFF FOR STATE MEET — Local PTA unit and City Council delegates are leaving tonight for Houston, where they will attend the 52nd annual convention of Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, which will be in session Nov. 29-30 and Dec. 1. The local group will leave at 7 p.m. tonight and join the Amarillo PTA area council and go by chartered bus to Houston. Kathy Hodges Feted At Party

WHITE DEER (Spl) — Mrs. Roy Hodges entertained for her daughter Kathy with a party on her eighth birthday. Party games and favors were enjoyed by the guests.

Ice cream, punch and decorated cake was served to Johnnie Freeman, Jennie and Jerry Urbanczyk, Melissa McBrayer, Terry and Tina Rhodes, Pat Hughes, Scotty Lee, Vicki Bates, Kaye Ballard, Mitch Abbott, Gay Kotara, Karen Haiduk, Nancy Lavake, June and Theresa Bichsel, David Hodges and Mrs. Charles Miller, grandmother of Kathy.

Wesleyan Guild Continues Study

Wesleyan Service Guild of First Methodist Church met Monday evening in the church parlor with Mrs. Ethel Stilwell as hostess.

Mrs. Rachel Jones presided during the business meeting as plans were made for the distribution of Christmas contributions.

In meditations presented by Mrs. Margaret Wells, suggestions were made on "How To Help Bereaved."

Another chapter in the study of "The Meaning of Suffering" by Dr. Ralph Sockman was presented by Miss Ila Pool, who gave this thought "The great business of life is: To Be; To Do; To Do Without; To Depart. To make life great we must know the things that last. The art of leaving is as important as the art of living."

Members attending were Mmes. Alma Wilson, Ivo Denson, Ila Pool, Kathy McMillan, Rachel Jones, Ethel Stilwell, Lillie Mae Fowler, Lou Ella Patterson, Inez Clubb, Margaret Wells, Frankie White, Lillian Mulinax, Laura Penick, Margaret Wilkerson, Diana Wood, Gladys Turner and Lalar Wilkerson.

Exemplars Have Costume Party

Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met recently in the home of Mrs. F. L. Stone, 1800 Evergreen for a salad supper and costume party.

Members came in costumes ranging from the Gay Nineties to the "latest thing" in Ladies Space Suits.

A skit, written and narrated by Mrs. Norma McMullan, entitled "Around the Clock with Today's Mother," was presented with Mrs. Lemond Hall wearing the latest in sleeping attire; Mrs. Dot Francis in a drab duster; Mrs. Ralph Eason in a chic golf attire; Mrs. Lucille Meredith in a bridge-luncheon costume. As the final engagement for the evening, Mrs. F. L. Stone appeared in a breath-taking creation designed especially for the Valentine Ball Presentation.

Mrs. Jeff Truly and Mrs. Melvin Keiffer posed as live models for a quick dress designing lesson with newspapers.

Members attending in addition to those previously mentioned were Mmes. Jack Vaughn, Jimmy Scholl, James Poole, John Plaster, Ralph Eason, Barney McMullan, Ted Knox, Byron Hilbin, Joe Fischer, Howard Buckingham and Lucille Meredith.

ESA Continues With Study Of Senses With Program On "Interior Decorating"

Alpha Omicron Chapter of Epsilon-Sigma Alpha Sorority met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Bill Spidell for a program on "Interior Decorating" presented by one of the club's new pledges, Mrs. Jerry Ray Boston, who holds a degree in interior decorating from North Texas State College.

The program was planned around the sorority's series of study on the five senses. The Thursday evening program was on "sight."

For illustration during her talk, Mrs. Boston displayed exhibits of interior and exterior decorating, color variations and fabric combinations.

Mrs. Boston mentioned that "colors we use in decorating our homes reflect our personalities and affect our personal habits. Colors can be tastefully used to create emotions. Too little color is as detrimental as too much. A color has three characteristics: hue, value and intensity."

"Some colors are designed to do a specific job," Mrs. Boston went on to say. "Designers have been known to use colors to promote a faster moving pace; therefore, more volume. Color can be like a traffic light; that is, reverse in effect according to the need. Red makes one hurry, subconsciously or otherwise."

"Floyd Lloyd Wright," the speaker related, "the father of American architecture, said that color is a media by which we can marry natural surroundings with the rectangular necessities of architectural structures."

"In closing remarks, Mrs. Boston emphasized "to achieve variety in unity is the ultimate aim of all branches of the arts."

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Members attending were Mmes. Eugene Bentley, Parks Brumley, Murray Castleberry, John Hatcher, James H. Lewis, Tom Lindsey, Bob Marlar, Boyd Maule, Bruce Parker, Walter Reek, Charles Robison, Kenneth Roysse, Dewey Wheat, Bob Win-

Dear Abby... Six Children In Two Years: Record?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I wasn't educated here so please correct my English if I don't express myself too good.

I don't know a thing about baseball and I am not interested in the game, but I have a nut at home for a husband. Since Mr. Maris hit 61 home runs, all I hear about is the record he set. I am fed up with this nonsense. Let me tell you that I also set a record. In two years I gave birth to SIX children. The first time I had three boys, and the second time I had three girls. And, believe me, that is a record I never heard of before. I would like to see Mr. Roger Maris or any other baseball player tie a record like that. Please, Abby, remind my husband that I also set a record and I am not in the Hall of Fame.

SIX OUT OF TWO

DEAR ABBY: I became acquainted with a man through my work. He told me he wasn't married. He is my type of guy and I could get very serious about him, but something bothers me. I have called him up numerous times at his apartment, and a woman has answered the phone.

He has told me it was his "sister" or a "cousin" or a "neighbor." But I am sure it is the same woman every time. How can I find out for sure whether he is married or living with someone?

Gay Kotara Feted On 8th Birthday

WHITE DEER (Spl) — Gay Kotara celebrated her eighth birthday with a party, given her by her mother, Mrs. John Kotara. Party favors were presented and parlor games were enjoyed.

Refreshments of individual cakes, decorated with clowns, was served with punch and party candies.

Attending were Christy and Karen Mmes. Eugene Bentley, Parks Brumley, Murray Castleberry, John Hatcher, James H. Lewis, Tom Lindsey, Bob Marlar, Boyd Maule, Bruce Parker, Walter Reek, Charles Robison, Kenneth Roysse, Dewey Wheat, Bob Win-die, Walter L. Worley Jr., Bob Monzingo, Don M. Groff and Charles Risenthal.

DEAR NEEDS: Don't get palsy walsy with a man whose marital status is hazy. If a woman has answered his telephone "numerous times," the chances are she belongs there.

DEAR ABBY: I am 23, well-behaved and live at home. I give my mother half my pay check in return for room, board and laundry service — which is all right with me.

My problem is that I am treated as though I were still 16. I could move and share an apartment with another girl, but I know my parents can use the money so I have continued to live at home.

When I come home from a date, the minute the car pulls up, my mother starts flashing the porch light off and on. It is very embarrassing for a girl my age. Have you any suggestions?

LIGHTNING BUG'S DAUGHTER
DEAR DAUGHTER: Your mother's signaling is childish. Tell her, respectfully, that you have seen the light and if she doesn't stop embarrassing you in this manner you will move out.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DEEPLY TROUBLED: Do unto others: If YOU had a 15-year-old daughter who behaved that way, wouldn't you want to know?

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of this paper.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Final Session For Civil Defense Study

The final session of the City Council Study Course on Civil Defense met at Lamar School Auditorium on Tuesday, from 9:30 to 11:30. Woodrow Wilson School assisted in the arrangements.

Following this, Mrs. J. A. Wilson, of Amarillo, concluded her lectures on Civil Defense. She urged each family to discuss the plan to be used in their particular family in case of a civil emergency. She also suggested each school in Pampa make a plan for such emergency, and to inform all parents of what to expect in regards to their child.

Those taking the course for Civil Defense credit and P. T. A. Study Course credit will receive their certificates through the Study Course chairman of each local unit. Mrs. Cree, president of Pampa City Council, thanked all those who assisted in planning this study course: Mrs. N. L. Nichol was general chairman for the entire study course.

Stevenson Talks World Problems With Argentine

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (UPI)—U. S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and Argentine President Arturo Frondizi talked until past midnight today about problems of the world and "political solidarity" of the western hemisphere.

Although neither Cuba nor communism were mentioned publicly, it was believed these related problems and their threat to Latin American nations were discussed thoroughly in the unusual conference.

With only 24 hours notice Stevenson, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, flew 2,000 miles to Trinidad to meet Frondizi at the first stop of an extensive foreign tour by the Argentine president. Frondizi asked for the meeting and President Kennedy assigned Stevenson.

Stevenson talked for an hour and a half with Frondizi's foreign minister, Miguel Angel Carcano, and then huddled with Frondizi for two hours and 20 minutes. Advisers for both sides sat in.

Returning to his hotel at 2 a. m., Stevenson issued a brief statement saying he and Frondizi "reviewed every matter of common concern between our two countries, especially the alliance for progress program in Argentina as well as political solidarity of the hemisphere and general problems relating to tensions around the world—Germany, Southeast Asia and the Congo."

He did not spell out the details of the conversation but said the talks were finished and there would be no need to meet again before Frondizi took off for Canada this morning.

Colombia has been urging that a conference of American foreign ministers be called in January to draft joint defense measures against subversion in the hemisphere.

Outlawed Irish Republican Army Centers Raided

DUBLIN (UPI)—The government staged a series of lightning raids against the outlawed Irish Republican Army today in the first major police crackdown since World War II in an effort to end mounting violence along the border with Northern Ireland.

Special branch detectives searched houses and seized suspects throughout the country, with at least 12 men seized in Dublin alone. Police said among those arrested were "some of the IRA's most senior officers."

Those seized will be brought before the government's newly re-established special military court set up to try political offenses.

The IRA wants unification of the six northern counties with the rest of Ireland, and often has used violence in seeking this end. But it has been banned by the Irish government.

Congolese Border Battle Reported

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI)—Radio Katanga today reported a border skirmish between Congolese troops and Katanga gendarmes and said "two European mercenaries" were killed.

The broadcast said the fighting occurred near Katanga at the northwest border and that no Katangese soldiers were killed. It gave no further details.

However, usually well-informed sources said the skirmish appeared to be a minor border clash with few troops involved on either side.

Travelers returning from Katanga said that President Moise Tshombe's call to arms had been taken literally in many areas and that local police had to calm the population to prevent disturbances.

Pope John Leads In Prayer Rites

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII led several thousand persons assembled in a heavy rain outside his private library Sunday in reciting the Angelus. The 80-year-old pontiff recited the prayer from his window and blessed the crowd at its conclusion.

Joan Sutherland Wins Great Opera Ovation

NEW YORK (UPI)—Coloratura soprano Joan Sutherland, often compared with Maria Callas, stormed the Metropolitan Opera Sunday night and won one of the greatest ovations in that historic house's 77-year history for her "Lucia Di Lammermoor."

The Australian-born singer left little doubt in the minds of her $25-a-ticket audience of socialites and musical celebrities that the vacuum left by the continued absence of Miss Callas from the Met has been filled. Staudes had been in line since 7 a. m. EST, to hear the voice from the continent Down Under that gave the Metropolitan Dame Nellie Melba and Marjorie Lawrence.

Miss Sutherland's magnificent "mad scene" in Donizetti's tuneful opera proved her to be a prima donna assoluta. The great debuts of the past decade—Callas, Renata Tebaldi, Birgit Nilsson, Leontyne Price—paled in comparison.

After the first cadenza section of the mad scene, in which the 35-year-old red-haired soprano out-trilled her flute accompaniment and ended on a solid high E flat, her listeners applauded her for five minutes.

She knelt, her head almost to the floor to accept the ovation, then rose and finished the scene with the fantastic vocal fireworks of "Spargi D'Amso Pianto" climaxed by a stage faint accomplished by a backward fall.

The dramatic ending of the scene touched off pandemonium, and the diva took curtain call after curtain call.

On the seventh bow, the audience rose en masse to its feet. They would not let Miss Sutherland go until the 14th call when the diva had to cling to the golden curtains from sheer exhaustion. This ovation lasted 20 minutes.

Fort. They got nothing up there," said the GI, who withheld his name on grounds he was overdue for bedcheck.

"Look. The 49th runs Polk. It fills up South Fort. We got modern wall lockers, the kind with the individual pull-out drawers. The barracks are modern. Up at North Fort they're hanging their clothes in the windows."

"I'm with the 49th and better yet I'm with quartermaster. We got here first," he said with undisguised satisfaction. "and nailed down the best of everything."

Willie Jewell Dean, 19, of 15 miles south of Alexander City, Ala., is orderly of a barracks at 203rd Artillery's Battery C.

"We been building since we got here. We done a lot of painting and messing around the mess hall," he said. "The ammo section spent the first two weeks doing nothing but that."

"We painted the day room and put in new boards for some that was busted. There's nothing in there to do, but at least we made it look nice."

Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commander of the Continental Army Command, inspected Polk after the first confused days. If he saw dissatisfaction or bitterness, he didn't mention it.

His statement was: "The spirit and determination to do a good job here is rewarding. This is the most patriotic demonstration I have ever seen."

Italian Aroused By Draft Notice

LA SPEZIA, Italy (UPI)—Franca Borrini, 21, angrily waved a draft notice under the nose of the warrant officer at the local military district.

Officials comparing the notice with the pretty Miss Borrini then decided it should have been addressed to her cousin, Franco Borrini, who is working in Belgium.

F. D. Roosevelt Going To Africa

Lefors Gas Rate Hike Under Study

LEFORS (SpI) — D. M. Jones, Gray County Gas Company representative, presented the proposed increase in gas rates for Lefors to the City Council in the meeting held in city hall recently.

After the proposed rate increase was fully discussed and compared with the rate of surrounding towns, the council decided not to accept the rate without another hearing and further accounting on the part of the gas company.

Mayor Frank Wall said he was confident that a solution can be worked out with the gas company which will be agreeable to all concerned.

The gas company already has had to pipe in more gas to supply the town's needs, and a definite increase is being carried by them in the cost of gas, Jones said.

The council is prepared to accept an increase in the gas rate for consumers in Lefors, but feels that a compromise can be worked out, and assured the company that the council will meet in a called session as soon as the company can supply a more complete accounting of its business—with the city.

Visitors for the meeting were Bob Call, James Means, J. C. Jernigan, and D. M. Jones. Regular members present were Mayor Frank Wall, Councilmen L. R. Cain, Ray Dickerson, Fred Blackwell, Jim Hanon and Supt. Frank Kirk.

Finn Reports On His Talk With Nikita

HELSINKI (UPI)—Finnish President Urho Kekkonen's position at home appeared strengthened today by his success in winning at least a temporary withdrawal of Russia's demands for joint defense talks.

In a radio report to the nation on his meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, Kekkonen Sunday night assured Finns they could maintain their nationality and independence through continuing "friendship" with their giant neighbor.

He said immediate Soviet pressure for talks had been removed, and promised that any future defense consultations will come on Finnish "initiative."

Previously, there had been open speculation that Khrushchev might demand the right to establish Russian bases on Finnish soil. Observers called the fact that he had not a "major concession." But they pointed out there apparently was nothing to preclude the Soviet Union from bringing up the question of joint defense again at some future date.

Negro Songstress Becomes Mother

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Singer Eartha Kitt gave birth Sunday to a 7-pound, 9-ounce daughter. The Negro songstress, 31, and her husband, real estate man William McDonald, a Caucasian, were married June 20, 1960.

Dispute Boosts Sale Of Readers MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Book dealer Harry W. Schwartz says the quarrel between the Twin Lakes School Board and the state Department of Public Instruction over merits of McGuffey Readers has been as good for his business as having the 82-year-old book banned in Boston.

Schwartz said he has sold hundreds of McGuffey's since the dispute and added "We never carried them before because there was little call for them."

Holiday Traffic Toll Up To 414

The 102-hour Thanksgiving holiday appeared today to have taken a traffic death toll lighter than in a "normal" equivalent period in late November.

The death toll climbed above the 400 mark early today but remained below the figure of 450, which the National Safety Council listed as the number who might be expected to die over a 102-hour weekend this month. The council did not make a pre-holiday estimate of traffic deaths because of the stay-at-home nature of Thanksgiving.

With the holiday officially over at midnight, local time, but with additional holiday fatalities still being reported, United Press International counted 414 persons dead in traffic accidents.

The breakdown:

- Traffic 414
- Planes 5
- Fires 31
- Miscellaneous 85
- Total 535

California's 58 traffic deaths were the most of any state. Texas had 24, Michigan and North Carolina each had 23, New York and Pennsylvania each had 20.

Illness Compels Knight To Slow California Race

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI)—Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight was reported in good condition today at a hospital despite an illness which forced him to slow down his campaign against Richard Nixon to regain the governor's chair.

Knight was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday night to recover from an attack of influenza and undergo tests for viral hepatitis.

The California Republican said as a result of his illness he had decided to slow down until Jan. 1. That meant cancellation of his appearance at the Republican California Assembly meeting in Santa Maria this Saturday as well as cancellation of a speech Tuesday.

Knight's physician, Dr. Carl Lund, said early tests indicated the politician could be suffering viral hepatitis, a liver ailment. If further tests are positive, Lund said Knight might be required to spend as much as two months in bed.

Boost In Postal Rates Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy's proposed general postal rate increase has a "very good chance" of getting congressional approval next year, according to Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

Day said the rate increase would be among the first high priority items Kennedy sends to Congress when it convenes again in January.

Congress this year refused the administration's request to raise rates a penny on nearly all categories of letters and postcards. As a result, the Post Office Department has predicted an $843 million deficit in the fiscal year ending next June 30.

on Lance." Harvey's 13-year-old son, never to reveal the secret.

Boozer said he decided to disclose the story to the Coast Guard after talking with a minister.

He said Harvey related that the most of the sailboat had broken and knocked his wife, Mary Dene, and Dr. Arthur Duperrault, Terry Jo's father, into the sea.

"I lost my nerve when I saw the blood and guts on the deck and I jumped overboard," Boozer quoted Harvey as saying. "The next thing I knew I was pulling the little girl into the boat with me."

When Harvey was found 12 hours later by a passing vessel, the body of 9-year-old Rene Duperrault was in a small life boat with him.

In addition to Rene, Mrs. Harvey, Dr. and Mrs. Duperrault and their son, Brian, were victims of the tragedy.

Boozer said Harvey "was in an extremely nervous state" when he told his tale. "As he talked he was stuttering the worst I have ever seen or heard. His right eye rolled in his head and his eye lid batted, but his voice was low and not hysterical."

Terry Jo has told of hearing screaming and of seeing her mother and brother lying in a pool of blood on the deck of the Bluebelle. She said Harvey gruffly pushed her back down a ladderway and jumped into a small boat and left. She said a few minutes later the vessel began to sink and she freed a life float and climbed onto it. She was picked up nearly four days later by a freighter.

Pain Faces Court In Shooting Case

David Caldwell, 722 S. Somerville, and George Haynes, 520 Elm, were scheduled for arraignment in Corporation Court today, each charged with discharging firearms within the city limits.

Caldwell and Haynes were arrested after firing several shots following an argument over a card game last Friday midnight. Police said no one was injured in the shooting affray.

Coyotes And Albany Keep On Rolling

By United Press International
Wichita Falls in AAAA and Albany in A remained in the favorite's roles in their divisions today, but San Benito in AAA and Jacksboro in AA had lost some of their glamor as the Texas schoolboy football race moved into the quarterfinals week.

The Coyotes, headed for an apparent fourth consecutive finals appearance, beat Borger more convincingly than the two-touchdown margin indicated, while Albany turned in a three-touchdown blanketing of strong Crowell.

San Benito, however, was extended to the final minutes and had to come from behind a 12-0 halftime deficit to knockout 1960 finalist Port Lavaca, and Jacksboro had its hands full staving off Plano.

Wichita Falls, Paschal and Milby in AAAA; San Benito in AAA; Quannah and Jacksboro in AA, and Kress, Wink, Albany, Forney and Hull-Daisetta in A sport perfect records.

Ray put on the most impressive performance in AAAA in bi-district play with a 46-7 romp past Austin S. F. Austin, while Wichita Falls beat Borger 14-0, San Angelo stopped Ysleta High 28-8, Milby beat Spring Branch 13-3, Galena Park downed Port Neches 13-0 and Jefferson bowled over San Antonio Brackenridge 41-7.

Nederland advanced via an 11-9 first down route in a 13-13 tie with favored Cleburne, Dumas beat Semion 14-0, Breckenridge edged San Angelo Lake View 20-14, Gainesville outscored Carrollton 35-28, Corsicana defeated Carthage 19-8, Angleton upset Bay City 32-14, Del Rio polished off San Antonio Lee 30-18 and San Benito scrambled to a 15-12 verdict over Port Lavaca.

Dalhart halted champion Denver City's 16-game winning streak 29-8, Quannah beat Ballinger 28-0, Jacksboro rallied to beat Plano 20-12, Hooks stopped Gilmer 14-6, Brady beat Hearne 30-20, Dayton edged Columbus 20-19, Sweeney beat Gonzales 27-13 and Donna beat Devine 12-7.

Albany ran its winning streak to 26 by cutting down Crowell 21-0, Kress upset Gruver 22-19, Wink rolled by Rotan 22-6, Forney squeaked past Mt. Vernon 14-13, Groveton blanked Brownsboro 19-0, Connally outscored Thordale 34-20, Hull-Daisetta beat Sealy 22-7 and Three Rivers walloped Rio Hondo 34-6.

last year we should be as good, and we've got a chance to be better," the veteran strategist declares.

Southern Cal won the Big Five title last season, then was upset by scrappy Arizona State in the NCAA regionals, 86-71. Back from that Trojan contingent are such tested workmen as John Rudomekin, Ken Stanley, Vern Ashby, Gordon Martin, Chris Appel and Neil Edwards.

Twogood also expects his reserves will be better because of more experience.

Loyola of Los Angeles, which won the West Coast Athletic Conference race, also figures to be just as tough.

"We feel we will be as strong again, maybe better," says John Arndt, who is breaking in as head coach. "We have more depth and we lost only one forward—Tony Ryan. Senior Bernard Bowler or junior Jim Brosnan both are close to him in ability."

Other Lions back on hand are Ed Bento, Tony Krallman, Jerry Grote and Brian Quinn.

Seattle University, usually the class of West Coast independents, is talking in terms of its biggest season since the reign of Elgin Baylor. Eddie Mile, known as the "Arkansas Traveler," figures as the key man in coach Vince Cazetta's plans. Miles stands 6-4 and has established himself as a star whether playing at guard or forward. Most of last season's Chiefs will be back with the exception of the mighty Dave Mills.

Georgia Tech moves to Houston Saturday night against Rice and Texas opens that night against Howard Payne at Austin.

Tech's opener is at home the following Monday against Colorado and Baylor follows the Horned Frogs to Oklahoma City.

Rose Bowl Opponent For UCLA Undecided

By United Press International
If Ohio State isn't interested in a rematch with UCLA in the Rose Bowl, who will get the bid?

Minnesota? Michigan State? Alabama?

Right now, it's simply a case of "Ya betcha money and ya take ya pick."

Ohio State became the leading candidate for the other berth in the Pasadena, Calif., classic by wrapping up the Big Ten Conference championship Saturday. But the OSU faculty council, which helped kill the old Rose Bowl pact between the Big Ten and Big Five conferences, has indicated it will turn down all bowl bids this season.

The Rose Bowl officials, on the other hand, may not even extend an invitation to the Buckeyes because they beat UCLA, 13-3, earlier this season. And with Alabama headed toward the Sugar Bowl, the sponsors of the California game now might have to settle for Minnesota or Michigan State, who finished their regular seasons with identical 7-2 records.

Tom Hamilton, commissioner of the Big Five, failed to throw any light on the situation, declaring only that "we will name the other team by next Saturday and maybe before that."

The only major bowl pairing completed during the long holiday weekend was an announcement that Louisiana State and Colorado will meet in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

Top-ranked Alabama, though, is expected to accept a bid to play Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl if the Crimson Tide completes a perfect season by beating Auburn next Saturday. And Mississippi presumably will be paired with Texas in the Cotton Bowl if Ole Miss beats Mississippi State as expected in its final regular-season game.

Outside the so-called "Big Four" bowl games, Syracuse has accepted a Liberty Bowl bid, with Utah State a possible opponent; Gotham Bowl bids are out to Kansas and Penn State, while the Gator Bowl sponsors are trying to talk Penn State into meeting Georgia Tech in their game.

Ohio State clinched the Big Ten when it whipped Michigan, 50-20, and Wisconsin upset Minnesota, 23-21. Bob Ferguson scored four touch-downs for the Buckeyes, who completed their regular season with eight straight victories after an opening tie against Texas Christian.

LSU and Colorado accepted their Orange Bowl bids after posting smashing victories. The Tigers clinched at least a tie for the Southeastern Conference crown by walloping Tulane, 62-0, and Colorado, the Big Eight champion, romped to a 34-0 triumph over Iowa State.

UCLA won the host berth in the Rose Bowl by downing Southern California, 10-7, on a third-period touchdown by Bobby Smith, and Arkansas agreed to play in the Sugar Bowl after tying Texas for the Southwest Conference title by whipping Texas Tech, 28-0.

Rutgers, which previously announced it would not accept a bid to any bowl, completed its first perfect season in 92 years with a 32-19 triumph over Columbia.

Optimist Boxers Cop Nine Wins

Pampa Optimist Boxers copped nine of 17 bouts Saturday night in a three team event with Lefors and Borger boxing clubs.

Lucky Dunham and Ronnie Fletcher turned in a pair of exciting victories for the Pampa Optimists in the night's top attractions.

Dunham decided Joe January, Borger, and Fletcher topped Jim Doughty of Borger.

There were two TKO's in the events. Borger's Mike Waters gained a technical knockout over Borris Cox, Pampa, in a 138-pound match and Delmar Baldwin did likewise over the local's Gary Epperson.

Waters stopped Cox with just 43 seconds gone in the opening round. Epperson was decked in the second round.

Other results are:
David White, Lefors, defeated Jerry McClure, Borger — 55 pounds
Gary Sims, Lefors, over Junior Garcia, Borger — 58 pounds
Ray Moore, Borger, over Gary Howell, Pampa — 64 pounds

Rice Owls Gunning For Bowl Bid

By United Press International
The Rice Owls, who were noted for their November winning ways into the Cotton Bowl probably against Mississippi.

Coach Broyles' Hogs, who completed their fourth season in a row without losing a November contest, will pack an 8-2 record into the Sugar Bowl against possible Alabama.

Rice clinched third place in league play with a resounding 35-16 victory over TCU, while Baylor battered SMU 31-6 to indicate it will be far from a pushover opponent for the Owls.

That leaves fourth place the main goal involved in the SMU-TCU game at Fort Worth and the Baylor-Rice struggle. Texas Tech, which has completed its Joop schedule with a 2-5 mark, winds up its season against West Texas at Lubbock.

The Texas Aggies, who lost their coach, Jim Myers, less than 24 hours after bowing to Texas, have clinched no worse than a tie for fourth with a 3-4 record. Baylor and TCU could match that by winning their finales. SMU, on the other hand, could escape sole possession of the cellar and match Tech's 2-5 mark by spoiling TCU's homecoming.

The Aggies gave Texas a run for the money in the first half by holding the Longhorns to two field goals, but Texas broke the Turkey Day classic wide open with two quick third period touchdowns, the first a spectacular 46-yard James Saxton-to-Jack Collins pass that broke the A&M core of resistance.

Lance Alworth continued in the starring role for Arkansas as the Razorbacks easily manhandled Tech for their 16th consecutive November victory under Broyles.

Randy Kerbow was the standout in Rice's triumph as he passed and ran the Owls to a 35-0 lead before TCU got its offense clicking.

Ronnie Bull scored twice, but sophomore quarterback Don Trull provided the big spark in Baylor's walk-way over SMU.

Bull's second consecutive two-TD performance put him in position to challenge for the conference scoring crown in his final game. He now has 48 points to 56 for the Texas twins—Saxton and Jerry Cook—and 54 for Rice's Butch Blume.

Andy Pilney Resigns As Coach At Tulane

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Head football coach Andy Pilney, whose fifth straight losing season (2-8) at Tulane ended with a 62-0 humiliation by LSU Saturday, resigned Sunday night.

Dr. Herbert E. Longenecker, Tulane president, announced the resignation early today. He said it was effective immediately and that it had been accepted.

Tommy O'Boyle, Pilney's chief assistant and line coach, was named acting head coach.

Longenecker said he had named a committee to pick a successor. A source at Tulane, who asked to remain unidentified, said O'Boyle would be strongly considered.

Pilney, 48, said he had "no immediate plans whatsoever." He came to the Green Wave staff as an assistant coach in 1946 and served in that capacity through 1953. He became head coach in 1954.

His overall record here is 25-49-6. In eight years as head coach he had only two winning seasons, 5-4-1 in 1955 and 6-4 in 1956. He faced a growing tide of criticism in the past several weeks.

He was the second losing coach to resign during the current Southeastern Conference football season. A week ago Wade Walker of Mississippi State said he would leave the bench and devote full time to his duties as athletic director.

A recently organized alumni group sparked a call for Pilney's ouster and an overhauling of the school's recruiting and athletic policies. But a university spokesman emphasized this had nothing to do with the resignation.

In the AFL's only other game Sunday, the Houston Oilers opened a one-game lead on the idle Boston Patriots in the Eastern Division by trouncing the Denver Broncos, 45-14.

Haynes, the versatile 185-pound halfback from North Texas State, gained 158 rushing yards and caught two passes for 40 yards in his glittering performance before approximately 14,500 fans at Dallas.

Haynes' rushing haul was just one yard more than his old AFL record. His five touchdowns, four TD's by rushing and his total of 30 points also were league records.

The Oilers were handed all kinds of scoring opportunities by the Broncos before 27,834 fans at Houston. They intercepted six passes, recovered two fumbles and blocked two Denver field goal attempts.

New York Tops Eastern League

By United Press International
The New York Giants feel they just about "own" the Cleveland Browns but it won't do them much good unless they can "take" the Green Bay Packers next Sunday.

By an odd quirk of this year's National Football League schedule, the Giants must beat the best in the West in order to prove their claim to champs of the East.

Next Sunday's Packers-Giants game at Milwaukee could be a preview of the NFL's championship playoff. Green Bay can clinch the Western Division title by winning that game. The Giants also need it to stay ahead of the Philadelphia Eagles in the East.

As far as the Browns are concerned, the Giants made a rout of their "showdown" battle, at Cleveland Sunday by winning, 37-21. It was New York's seventh win in the last eight meetings with Cleveland and in the process the Giants' superb defense humbled Jimmy Brown and Milt Plum.

Philadelphia remained one game behind the Giants by trouncing the Dallas Cowboys, 35-13. Cleveland, by losing, dropped two games behind New York in the Eastern Division.

The Chicago Bears and the San Francisco Forty Niners both won and kept alive their remote Western Division title hopes. Chicago beat the Los Angeles Rams, 28-24, on Billy Wade's late 55-yard touchdown pass, to Willie Galimore, and San Francisco defeated the Minnesota Vikings, 38-13.

The Pittsburgh Steelers edged the St. Louis Cardinals, 30-27, on Lou Michaels' third field goal of the game with 13 seconds left to play, and the Baltimore Colts drubbed the, winless Washington Redskins, 27-6.

New Myth For Old

The "Stalin Myth" is supposed now to have been thoroughly and finally destroyed with the removal of the late Soviet dictator's body from the great tomb in Red Square.

What about the Khrushchev myth that is being erected in its place? By this final act of public repudiation, as by his secret but now famous 1956 speech on the matter, Soviet Premier Khrushchev has sought to persuade the Russian people — and perhaps the world — that he himself was totally divorced from Stalin's regime of terror and that such horrors will never occur again.

There is wicked irony, of course, in the fact that as Stalin, the terrorist, is being unceremoniously relegated to oblivion, Khrushchev, the self-styled "man of peace," is brandishing a 50-megaton bomb as an obvious weapon of terror against the world.

But just what was the "peaceful" Mr. Khrushchev doing in the worst days of Stalin's internal repression? It has to be said at the outset that his foreign biographers do not blame him as an active agent of Stalin during the bloody general party purges of the mid and late 1930's.

In this period he was rising steadily in stature and authority, but no evidence exists to show he had anything more than administrative responsibility. He ordered no executions himself. Nor, say his biographers, could he have prevented any — except at the cost of his own arrest and very possibly his life.

Yet there were men, other than purges, who protested the mass killings of Stalin's enemies. Khrushchev was not among them. He was regarded unmistakably as a "Stalin man," and he benefited steadily from the reign of death, rising to higher posts as vacancies were created by the executions.

Most striking, however, is the way in which Khrushchev, who now publicly reviles his inflexible predecessor, spoke of him at the height of the terror. Of the purge victims Mr. K then said: "By lifting their hand against comrade Stalin, they lifted it against the best humanity possesses. For Stalin is our hope, he is the beacon which guides all progressive humanity. Stalin is our banner! Stalin our victory!"

Later Khrushchev was sent to the Ukraine as a member of Stalin's "purge troika" to liquidate Stalin's opposition in the region. Here we have the word of the official Soviet history — of the Ukraine that Khrushchev himself speeded the "eradication of the remnants of the enemy" with particular success.

If Pravda could be free for a day, would it not be instructive to the Soviet people to publish in parallel columns the things he did for and said about Stalin then, and those he says now?

Individual Limit

Each man is endowed with a minimum of intelligence; scarcely enough so that he can manage his own affairs properly. No man is endowed with sufficient intelligence so that he can properly manage the affairs of another.

Early Ideas Of Property

The great problem of the human race from the days of stone-age men to the present time relates to the problem of acquiring capital goods.

To make anything at all that people must have in order to consume, and hence to stay alive, three things are always required. There are only these three things: raw materials (natural resources), labor (human energy), and capital goods (tools). With these three present, production can occur. Without any of them, there can be no production.

A quick review of the nature of this world reveals that there is an abundance of two of the items: natural resources and human energy. The globe itself is a terrestrial ball of natural resources. True, we don't always know just how to use what mother nature has provided. And until we do, those resources just lie there fallow. So, in essence, there are billions of tons of resources available to us whenever we figure out what they can be used for.

Also, it turns out that there are millions of human beings. And each of these human beings is eager to consume, hence to some degree, willing to work in order to be able to consume.

Man and earth are here as a result of many great unsolved mysteries. Man did not create either man or earth. The best man can do is to procreate. But man as a living organism is not the product of men's minds. And the earth, as a great storehouse of raw materials, didn't emerge from any human laboratory.

However, these two factors themselves are not enough for production to occur. It takes tools — capital goods — to create the shelter and comforts we all want as human beings. These tools are not supplied by nature, but by man.

Edson In Capitol

Peter Edson NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Hot from three months of labor contract negotiations which he says will net his United Auto Workers a billion dollars during the next three years and bring them "with in an inch of a guaranteed annual wage." Walter Reuther came to Washington and delivered his demands on the future.

There will be plenty of people in the United States who won't endorse one word of the scrappy UAW president said. But his remarks should provide much inspiration for his critics.

He made a free swinging, wide-ranging oration of an hour and a half to the AFL-CIO industrial union division convention here. He attacked the forces of extreme reaction in both the communism of Khrushchev on the left, the John Birch society and National Association of Manufacturers on the right.

Declaring that these forces counterbalanced each other. Reuther put the burden of leadership in the long, hard, struggle for peace on the 57-million organized workers of the world.

Then he made a round-house review of the war between the building trades and the industrial unions within the AFL-CIO. And he called on its coming convention in Miami to amend its constitution so as to provide for compulsory, binding arbitration in all disputes between unions.

His objective is a united labor movement which will militantly take on the job of organizing unorganized workers and promoting economic growth in America, with social justice.

"We've got to concentrate on four areas," he said in listing labor's goals for the coming session of Congress: —Education: Give every child in America the opportunity to develop his abilities, regardless of the wealth of his parents. Reuther called attention to statistics that half of the best-high school graduates don't go to college.

—Medical Care: Admitting that some progress has been made, Reuther added that millions of older citizens still can't afford the help they need. In the final weeks of the last Congress he said a law had been passed to wipe out hog cholera in America.

"If we can do that," said Reuther, "we can take care of our older citizens." —Civil Rights: Reuther declared labor would be unworthy of leading its world crusade for freedom if it does not fight for equality under the law. He then admitted that, "We have some unfinished business to clean up in the house of labor" by wiping out discriminatory practices in trade unions.

—Full Employment: Reuther called unemployment the greatest of all problems in the United States. He asserted that this country would need 8,000 new jobs every week for the next 10 years, plus jobs for the six million now unemployed.

"You cannot rely on the blind forces of the market place," Reuther declared, "because they do not assure adequate economic growth. While we will do all we can to aid private sectors of the economy," he went on, "the government must play an increasing role if we are to allocate our resources to meet the challenge of five to six million unemployed."

He tackled the United States balance-of-payments problem by charging that half of the trouble came from the flight of American capital to foreign countries where there were better investment opportunities under full employment.

He charged that 60 billion dollars' worth of potential productive capacity in the United States was wasted because American consumers did not have adequate purchasing power to put it to work. Reuther finally attacked pressure to balance the U.S. government budget with a statement that eight years of budget balancing in the last administration had unbalanced the economy as a whole, leaving a residue of unemployment.

"You can balance the federal budget," he said, "only by balancing the family budget and giving all the people full employment."

ideas led to the concept of ownership.

The Worst We Said of Stalin

Allen - Scott Report

Nehru To Tell Khrushchev U.S. Will Retaliate If Reds Launch South Viet Nam Offensive

WASHINGTON — The U.S. is poised to bomb Communist airfields, supply depots and communication lines if the Reds launch their threatened offensive against South Viet Nam.

President Kennedy has served this blunt warning on Premier Khrushchev through Prime Minister Nehru.

The Indian leader agreed to transmit the militant message during his recent talks with the President. In acting as intermediary, Nehru is repeating a role he filled for President Eisenhower in 1953.

Then the new Republican President, through Nehru, notified Stalin's successor, Georgi Malenkov, that unless an armistice was promptly signed in Korea, the U.S. would carry the war directly to the Red Chinese by bombing their bases and industrial centers in Manchuria. Within a few weeks the Communists came to terms at Panmunjom.

The Red bases that would be blasted under President Kennedy's grim warning are in North Viet Nam and Laos, near South Viet Nam border.

The Communists' main air and supply installations are in the vicinity of Hanoi, capital of satellite North Viet Nam. Last month, U.S. reconnaissance planes discovered five new Red airfields on the Laos - South Viet Nam border. Russian MIG - 17 jet fighters and some large piston-type cargo planes were observed on several of these fields.

WHAT'S BEHIND IT — The President served his unannounced warning on Khrushchev on the recommendation of General Maxwell Taylor, following his firsthand survey of the grave South Viet Nam situation.

This far-reaching action was approved by Secretary of State Rusk, Defense Secretary and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

U.S. Navy and Air Force bombers and fighters already are disposed to retaliate if the Communists disregard the President's warning and carry out their large-scale attack on pro-Western South Viet Nam.

The Reds' military build-up has been underway for months. An estimated 35,000 regular and guerrilla North Vietnamese forces are concentrated in South Viet Nam or in Laos, near the former's borders. Of these Soviet trained troops, 15,000 are regulars and 20,000 guerrillas. The Communists also have a sizable airforce and a number of naval vessels.

If the decision is made to blast the Reds' airbases and depots, it will be done in conjunction with the South Viet Nam airforce.

It consists of around 20 propeller-type fighter planes, but is being expanded. President Ngo Dinh Diem strongly urged General Taylor that the U.S. provide "military support" for South Viet Nam air attacks on Communist bases, and to land several thousand jungle fighters behind the Reds' lines in North Viet Nam and Laos.

Diem asserted he has the necessary troops for such assaults if the U.S. supplied the air and naval facilities to "deliver" them. Taylor considers both proposals militarily feasible and advisable.

President Kennedy detailed all this to Nehru in emphasizing U.S. determination to prevent the threatened Communist seizure of South Viet Nam. Deeply impressed, Nehru agreed to convey the blunt warning to Khrushchev.

Hankering

By HENRY McLEMORE

The most distressing news of the year for all of us rough-and-ready, red-blooded American sportsmen and sportswomen has come out of Innsbruck, Austria, site of the next Winter Olympic Games.

The Austrian Olympic Organizing Committee, so dispatches tell us, has decided to return to simplicity for the Winter Games.

There will be no frills or furbelows about the Games in Innsbruck. Lodging will be ample, that's all. Sufficient to guarantee warmth and protection against wind and snow, but with a minimum of floor-to-sidewalk carpeting, Adam fireplaces, and Byzantine cocktail bars.

Food will be plentiful and nourishing, no more. The Games will be staged, we gather, as if Henry Thoreau had been called in as architect and planner, and hit upon a sort of frozen Walden Pond with ski jump and bob run.

The Austrians, it seems, have fastened upon the idea that the athletic events, not the social ones, should be the prime attraction of the Games.

What a blow for us Americans! It strikes at the very roots of our concept of how a sports event should be staged and managed. How different from Squaw Valley, where almost the first things built were highways to enable the Cadillac to reach the ski jump and downhill courses; where bars and $25-a-night lodges went up almost before the quarters for the athletes; where the brazen sound of the national anthems when played; and where the spectators would not have been found behind a snowdrift without the proper and costly winter ensemble.

Had Squaw Valley tried any such thing as the Austrians are going to try, its name would have been changed to Squaw Valley, and we Americans would have left the place to those foolish folk who place sport above status.

Who is right — America or Austria? Being a hardy, outdoor type, I am inclined to lean toward the Austrian view. I think nothing of sleeping under a nothing but a double electric blanket, even on the coldest of nights. I even leave the window open a bit when I feel particularly virile.

But such rigorous living isn't for everyone. I know men who feel, and perhaps rightly so, that a skiing event cannot be properly enjoyed or appreciated unless viewed from a lounge chair, behind a picture window, and with a double hot buttered rum in each fist.

Who is to say that a German sports enthusiast is right when he elects to slip on his black leather coat, goggles, and motorcycle through a blizzard to see the downhill slalom? Or that he is right when he turns in for the night in a snowbank under an ice-coated fir tree?

Maybe he'd have a better time if he drove up in a Mercedes, nipping now and then from a silver flask, and went to bed in a lodge that cost only $18 a night, and with rock 'n' roll music, lulling him to sleep.

Innsbruck will go a long way toward proving which country has the right point of view. That is, if any of us Americans elect to

If the insect called the "centipede" lived up to his name, he'd have 100 legs, and the "millipede" would have 1,000. But you can't always trust a name. The common house centipede has a grand total of 15 pairs of legs. Garden centipedes have 21. Other centipedes may have up to 200 legs. The common millipede, when you actually count his "thousands" of wiggly legs, has a mere 60.

While McCormack is virtually assured of being the next Speaker, he is taking no chances. He has written a personal letter to every Democratic member of the House asking for his vote. McCormack also is personally telephoning many members.

Deceased Solon Paid Tributes

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI)—Tribute from the nation's leaders poured in today for Sen. Styles Bridges, dean of U.S. Senate Republicans and model of New England conservatism.

Bridges, 63, died peacefully in his sleep Sunday.

President Kennedy and former Presidents Eisenhower and Truman were among those who expressed sorrow at Bridges' death.

Kennedy described the senior Republican member of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee and the Armed Services Committee, as a "great patriot who devoted his life to the continuities strength of our country."

The President telephoned Bridges' widow here from the weekend White House in Hyannis Port, Mass., to express his sympathy.

Bridges' death came as a shock to many of the senator's intimates who had noted his apparent recovery in recent weeks from a severe heart attack suffered last Sept. 21. He died at his home of complications arising from the seizure.

The seasonally adjusted index of urban building permits issued rose 19 per cent to 113.9 per cent of the 1957-59 average monthly volume.

Baylor U Plans New Structures

WACO (UPI)—The Baylor University Board of Trustees announced Saturday that a $2 million chemistry-physics building and a $600,000 women's dormitory will be built on the Waco campus.

President Abner C. McCall and Dr. Jefferson D. Bragg, dean of the graduate school, said sharp enrollment increases, particularly in the graduate school, underscored need for more adequate library facilities.

Dean Ann Taylor of the school of nursing announced a gift of $50,000 for nursing loans and scholarships. The fund will come from the estate of Miss Lora Robertson of Dallas, a 1925 graduate of Baylor.

The trustees adopted in principle a revision of their by-laws but decided to defer formal action until the next full meeting of the board. The board also authorized the Waco trustees to borrow $1,600,000 to finance the proposed new women's dormitory.
