UN Troops Win Katangese City; Tshombe Flees

ELISABETHVILLE, Congo (UPI) — United Nations forces crushed the main Katangese resistance in Elisabethville Saturday in heavy street fighting against Katangese and European whites. Katanga President Moise Tshombe was reported to have fled the city.

Six thousand Swedish, Irish, Eihopian, Malayan and Indian Gurkha troops smashed into the heart of Elisabethville under the shattering cover of a five-hour mortar barrage that inflicted heavy damage. But the main objectives were won in hand-to-hand fighting and held against strong counter-attacks.

U. N. sources said their troops captured the main gendarmerie stronghold at Camp Massart, the strategically located post office, the Hotel Lido including a nearby golf course used as a mortar base and had won control of a heavily defended railroad underpass commanding the road to the airport.

(A white mercenary arriving in Salisbury, Rhodesia, said U. N. forces had "completely captured" the city.)

U. N. military reports plus the flight of Tshombe indicated a complete U. N. victory with Katangese forces now cut off from the city and facing the choice of surrendering or fighting against the full power of the U. N. forces backed by rocket-firing jets.

Diplomatic reports said Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the Federation of Rhodesia, would give Tshombe asylum.

Diplomatic sources said Tshombe fled to Kipushi on the border of Northern Rhodesia, 17 miles south of Elisabethville, as the U. N. forces scored victory after victory that brought the fighting swirling within a few hundred yards of his own residence.

Unconfirmed reports said the Katangese were retreating to surrounding African townships, showing little willingness to face the heavy U. N. attack that rolled over Tshombe's main gendarmerie camp and left the city without electricity and water.

Two companies of Swedish troops won the main victory of the day—Camp Massart—in hand-to-hand fighting with bayonets and guns against the tough gendarmerie who are the backbone of Tshombe's armed forces.

The U. N. offensive was kicked off when Indian troops bombarded the city with mortars for five hours. Katanga sources said a hospital was heavily damaged and that two Europeans were killed and seven wounded, bringing the white death toll to 10 dead and 53 wounded.

Americas Seek End To Tyranny, He Says In Talk

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — President Kennedy got a festive, flag-waving welcome to Venezuela Saturday as the tightest security measures ever undertaken for an American chief executive squashed potential Communist trouble-makers.

Kennedy threw down a warning to Cuba's Fidel Castro within hours after arriving here for a South American week-end to dramatize his Alliance for Progress program for the Americas.

In the major speech of his visit at the dedication of a government-sponsored agrarian reform project for campesinos (farmers), Kennedy declared that the aim of the new alliance must be to wipe out "tyranny of whatever source or breed" from Cape Horn to the Arctic Circle.

The beginning of the visit to Venezuela and Columbia was a triumph.

A crowd estimated as "pushing" 300,000 jammed the streets of gaudy downtown Caracas. A veteran police officer said it was the biggest reception ever given a foreign visitor in Venezuela's history.

Green-uniformed soldiers lined the route from the airport, where the Kennedy party flew in this morning from Puerto Rico, along the 27 miles to the city where—in some sections—they stood six feet apart with bayonets fixed and gas masks in place.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy rode in a car behind the President's with Mrs. Betancourt. She drew audible exclamations of appreciation as she passed in a bright apricot-colored coat.

Several joking signs with a latin touch were seen along the route. They read: "Jackie si, Kennedy no."

Kennedy smiled and waved. The crowds cheered and applauded. Tiny United States flags fluttered in many hands. People stood on the balconies of the gaudy, multi-colored apartment skyscrapers and threw green confetti onto the glass top of the car.

Kennedy's speech at the La Corita rural housing project for 38 families was the major event of his visit which will be completed Sunday with a one-day stay in Columbia.

Castro was not mentioned by name by Kennedy but the President obviously had him in mind when he called for "freedom from dictatorship" throughout the hemisphere.

U.S. To Put Up $133 Million For Big Ghana Dam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States announced Saturday that despite grave concern over President Kwame Nkrumah's leftist policies, it will contribute $133 million for the Volta Dam in Ghana.

The controversial project is the biggest of its kind in Africa and is the key to Ghana's industrialization. It will include an aluminum smelter, and will provide electricity for the southern third of Ghana where half the population lives.

The U. S. commitment, taken after months of debate among President Kennedy and his advisers, involves $37 million in loans. This will go to the Volta River Authority, a Ghanaian institution similar to the U. S. Tennessee Valley Authority, to help build the dam.

By far the biggest share of the U. S. commitment—$96 million—will be provided through the U. S. Export-Import Bank to a consortium owned by the Kaiser and Reynolds aluminum companies which will build the aluminum smelter to operate from the dam's power.

U. S. officials emphasized that the aid for the dam was of a long-term nature, amounting to about $8 million a year for the first three years and that the smelter financing was self-liquidating.

Officials said the agreement was set up with elaborate escape clauses under which the United States can withdraw at any time for financial or, in some cases, political reasons.

The President's decision was relayed to Nkrumah by former steel executive Clarence Randall, whom Kennedy had designated last fall to conduct an on-the-spot investigation of the proposal.

The dam itself will cost $196 million, Ghana will pay about half.

35,000 Soldiers Guarded JFK

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — Venezuela put an estimated 35,000 troops and police on duty today to assure the safety of President Kennedy in his visit to the city where Vice President Richard M. Nixon was stoned and spat upon three years ago.

As the soldiers and police lined the streets to provide the strictest security measures ever provided for an American president, the crowds cheered, applauded, and waved American flags. There were no signs of hostility along the route taken by the welcoming motorcade from the airport into the city.

But in the light of scattered outbreaks of anti-American violence here earlier this week the government was taking no chances.

Green-clad soldiers lined the entire 27-mile length of the motorcade route, and in the Catia section where Nixon was attacked the troops were stationed every six feet. The concentration of troops and police also was heavy in El Silencio section where a number of Communists live. A double cordon of troops kept the crowd back at least 100 yards from the street in El Silencio.

At the airport where Kennedy was welcomed by President Romulo Betancourt about 3,000 soldiers were on guard duty.

As the motorcade traveled along the eight-lane highway into the city at a 25-mile-an-hour clip security officers were in evidence all the way. In the 11 cars following the President's White House bubble-top limousine all but the one carrying Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Betancourt were filled with security officers, who had tommy guns and pistols on the seats and floors of the cars.

German Reds Demand Berlin Convoys Cease

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist East Germany, in a diplomatic note sent to the United States on a basis of mutual "sovereignty," has demanded an end to "provocative" U. S. Army movements between Berlin and the West, it announced Saturday.

The protest struck not only at the U. S. Army use of the 110-mile Berlin-Helmstedt highway through the Soviet zone, but also against the very presence of the American troops in West Berlin. It was based on an apparent new-line Communist argument that U. S. forces in Germany are a part of the NATO command and thus exempt from World War II occupation guarantees.

"No legal basis of any kind exists for the presence of American troops in West Berlin," the East German note said.

The note was delivered Friday in Prague to Thomas P. Dillon, U. S. charge d'affaires in Czechoslovakia and the text released Saturday by the official East German news agency ADN.

An American spokesman here said the note simply would be disregarded since the U. S. Government does not recognize East Germany. Informed sources also said the protest would not stop the dispatch of U. S. military convoys though East Germany whenever they are needed.

Tariff-Slashing Accord Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., said Saturday he "wouldn't be surprised" if the United States announces some form of major tariff-cutting agreement with European common market nations before President Kennedy submits his new foreign trade plan to Congress next month.

Boggs would not predict, however, what effect any such agreement under the present reciprocal trade act might have on the fate of Kennedy's expected request for broader authority to cut tariffs to deal with the common market.

"It depends on what agreement they reach," he told reporters. He was referring to tariff talks currently underway in Geneva and Brussels.

Boggs is chairman of a House-Senate economic subcommittee which this week concluded hearings on foreign trade. He also is a member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee which will handle the legislation Kennedy sends up.

Wright Won't Run For Governorship

FORT WORTH (UPI) — U. S. Rep. Jim Wright removed himself from the Texas gubernatorial campaign speculation Saturday by announcing he will "remain at my post of duty" in Congress.

"I have no present intentions of seeking a position at any other level of government," Wright told a news conference.

Yule Buyers Keep Pampa Stores Busy

Pampa stores were crowded Saturday night with shoppers who took advantage of the first night to do their Christmas shopping after the regular 9:30 p.m. closing hour.

The stores will be open until 8 p.m., each night this week to accommodate late shoppers. Most merchants said they expect a last-minute rush.

At the close of the current week, many store owners and managers said they expected 1961 Christmas buying would be very close to a par with one year ago.

Some stores reported they were up a little in volume over last year, others stated they were off a little and most seemed to think this week's business would put them on a level with the 1960 Yule holidays.

Toy departments in many stores already have been depleted of stocks in certain popular items.

Postmaster O. K. Gaylor said the final week of Christmas mailing was expected to keep his staff busy. However, the postmaster had a word of praise for Pampans who apparently took his suggestion to get their package mailing done early this year.

"We had a wonderful response," he said, "and the cooperation of the public has made the job of the mail handlers and carriers a lot easier."

Charitable organizations in Pampa who bring holiday cheer to indigent families were making final preparations to distribute food and toys by Christmas Eve.

Many Christmas and open house parties and dances will be held in Pampa this week. Sons and daughters away at college will be coming in for the holidays and there will be many family reunions.

Other Pampans will go to distant places for holiday visits.

Special services and music programs have been scheduled for Pampa churches today and tonight, throughout the week and next Sunday, Christmas Eve.

Troops Reported Missing In Goa

BELGIUM INDIA (UPI) — An Indian government spokesman said Saturday the Portuguese were missing troops "in a menacing manner" inside Goa and that the Indian military was prepared and alerted to meet any "threats."

No major border incidents have been reported this week.

Pampa's Bankers Delay Answering Escheat Queries

Presidents of Pampa's two banks said Saturday they were awaiting developments in the study of escheat laws being made by a special committee of the Texas legislature.

In Austin, Rep. Franklin Spears, chairman of the special House committee, said subpoenas were being issued to some 40 or more bankers throughout Texas whom Spears said had refused to cooperate with the committee studying abandoned property laws.

The bankers to whom the subpoenas were issued, Spears said, refused to answer questionnaires sent to them. He added that two or three had refused to admit teams from the state auditor's office who tried to obtain information for the committee.

A. A. Schuneman, president of the First National Bank here, said the questionnaire sent out by the committee had been filled out but was being held here upon the advice of legal counsel.

"We are ready to cooperate," Schuneman said, "we just want the legal protection of a subpoena."

Floyd Imel, president of the Citizens Bank and Trust Co., said a questionnaire had been received but that no action had been taken.

"We are awaiting developments," Imel said.

Pampa's Bankers Annual Church March Delay Answering Escheat Queries

Several thousand Pampans are expected to walk to church this evening as the Pampa Key Club, with the support of the Ministerial Alliance, conducts its third annual Pampa Pilgrimage.

Thirty-nine churches are participating in the city-wide event. Church-goers will meet at five gathering points at 5 p.m. and follow signs to their church as they walk to the places of worship.

These gathering points are Baker Elementary School, Lamar Elementary School, Carver School, Pampa Senior High School, and the parking lot at the Ideal Food Store, Ballard at Browning Streets.

There will be group singing with music, song leaders and a sound system at each of the five places.

A representative of each church will be on hand, with a banner, and will lead the members of that church as they walk along the Pilgrimage route.

The Pilgrimage is setting a new record for participating churches this year, according to Raymond Nance, general chairman and Key Club vice president. The churches taking part this year have an estimated 15,000 members.

In last year's Pilgrimage it was estimated that 5,000 persons took part. The Key Club, sponsored by Pampa Kiwanis Clubs, is hoping to top that mark and even break the 7,000 figure in the first Pilgrimage in 1959 when the Pampa Pilgrimage received nationwide attention.

The pilgrimage is an annual community-wide observance to

LEVIN'S

Right Of Choice Fading In U.S. Kiwanians Told

Too many Americans do not demand vigorously enough the rights that belong to them under the Constitution and as a result those rights are slipping away, Wes Izzard, Amarillo editor and columnist, told Pampa Kiwanians at a Kiwanis educational breakfast meeting in Coronado Inn Saturday.

Izzard, a Kiwanian, pointed his remarks to the service club's international theme for 1952, "Freedom, Our Individual Responsibility."

"If we are to survive as a free nation," Izzard said, "we must put individual responsibility above group demand."

The speaker said we are fast becoming numbers in Washington. "First," he said, "it was a social security number. Now it is an income tax number. We are becoming a series of holes in a Washington punch card."

Izzard dwelt on the importance of teaching young people in our schools the need for individual responsibility and the rights that belong to each individual under the Constitution, along with a plea that they also be taught the importance of protecting those rights.

"The American Constitution is the most important political document in the world. It is the only document that spells out our guaranteed rights."

"If the Constitution goes under, all of our freedoms go under. So we must defend those rights, but we are not defending them vigorously enough."

"We see what Castro is doing to the people of Cuba as far as private property is concerned, but we sometimes don't see what our own leaders are doing to us right here at home."

Izzard said the true test of freedom is the right of choice.

"More and more we do not have that choice," he added.

Kiwanians, and other service clubs, Izzard said, have the opportunity to carry a message and teach our young people, especially, the importance of defending their constitutional rights and teaching them what will happen if these rights are not defended.

Saturday's educational clinic was presided over by Dr. Weldon Adair, incoming president of the downtown Kiwanis Club. Speakers on club activities included Fred Thompson, Warren Hasse, and Melvin Munn. Wayne Denson, president of the Pampa High School Key Club, a Kiwanis-sponsored youth organization, outlined the work of his group. Special entertainment was furnished by the Four Cards, a high school quartet.

Pampan. Among College Students Held For Thefts

Don A. Pierce, 21-year-old Pampa youth, is one of four West Texas State college students charged with theft in Potter County Friday following investigation of alleged shoplifting in stores at Amarillo, and Canyon.

Pierce was arrested Wednesday on the campus at WTSC along with Harvey Pate, 22, of Dalhart; Charles Schaff, 20, of Floral Park, N. Y., and Richard Kirk, 20, of Stinett.

The Pampa youth was transferred from Canyon to Potter County Friday and released on $1,000 bond.

One of the youths, Schaff, pleaded guilty to misdemeanor theft in Potter County Court Friday. He was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail.

Authorities said Kirk, the Stinett youth, was being questioned further Saturday in connection with the alleged thefts.

Police said they had recovered approximately $700 worth of stolen goods and expect to find another $1,000 worth before the investigation is completed. They said the recovered articles were found in dormitories where the four youths lived.

Better Christmas Movies Possible, Expert Declares

By BOB KNIGHT
(Written for UPI)

The color movies millions of families will be making around the Christmas tree this holiday season are going to be better and brighter than ever. For two reasons.

One reason, for many amateur movie makers, is the remarkable little electric eye that's built into their cameras. This amazing device might be compared to the power-steering feature of the family car — if, that is, this term meant that cars could actually steer themselves. For, although it's true that you still have to wind up the spring-driven motor of today's movie cameras every now and then, their electric eyes take it from there. They not only gauge the light, outdoors or in, but also automatically set the lens for it. Sight-and-shoot has become the modern home-movie filming formula.

The second reason assuring better 1961 Christmas movies is to be found in the new and faster "Type II" color film — and in the improved and more comfortable indoor lighting it makes practical.

The speed of indoor color film, until recently, made necessary the use of direct, head-on flood-lighting. The idea was simple enough: camera and lights were operated from a hand-held light bar, and both lights and camera covered the same area. It worked, too. The only hitch was that whenever subjects looked at the "birdie" of the movie camera, they were also inevitably looking right smack into the lights. And this, often as not, resulted in a bit of blinking and squinting until eyes, accustomed to relatively dim room lights, adjusted to the brighter photofloods.

Now, however, the greater speed of "Type II" color film make it possible to use far more natural and eye-easy lighting. The requirements, other than the film, add up to a light bar fitted with four low-cost 300- or 375-watt reflector flood lamps, and someone to hold the light bar. The light beams, instead of being blasted directly at targets, are bounced off a light-colored ceiling or wall so's to floodlight everything in one half of a room. The camera can be operated from almost any angle and any distance for the making of either group shots or those all-important and always dramatic close-ups.

Electric-eye cameras, under such general lighting, will judge exposures as effectively — even more effectively — than before. And a good rule of thumb for hand-set movie cameras is to shoot most bounce-lighted scenes, from any camera distance, at 2.7 or 2.8, closing down to 3.5 if the over-all length of the light-to-subject ricochet is fairly short. Which, admittedly, is not entirely specific — but in addition to being a sharper film, "Type II" has considerable latitude, which is another way of saying that, for color movies, you can now miss the right lens opening by a bit and still get good pictures.

What will all these Christmas movies be-OF? Of anything and everything of importance that happens this Christmas Day... exactly when and how it happens. There will be no need for a script. Holidays, as do most days, write their own hour-to-hour continuity.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM,
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Like a stone dropped into a pond, the widening ripples from the United Nations Katanga venture have produced discords among allies and aroused serious doubts about the wisdom of the decision which sent U. N. troops into the Congo province in the first place.

Contributing to both was a sense of frustration arising from the fact that after 17 months and a succession of crises, the Congo conflict appeared no nearer a solution.

Other factors contributed. One was the obvious hostility to the U. N. forces among both the black and white populations of Elisabethville, capital of Katanga and center of U. N. operations. Another was the suspicion that the United Nations was attempting to force a political decision on Katanga, thus exceeding its mission.

A third was sympathy for Moise Tshombe, secessionist president of Katanga who has been among the more militantly anti-Communist leaders in black Africa.

Contributing further to the doubts were reports that U. N. forces were proving themselves just as trigger-happy as Africans and that until their arrival Elisabethville had been about the most peaceful place in the Congo.

Tshombe proclaimed the independence of Katanga on July 11, 1960, 11 days after the Congo received its independence from Belgium. On the following day, answering a plea from Congo President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba, the U. N. Security Council authorized the sending of troops to the Congo to reestablish peace and unity.

This established the pattern for subsequent events in which the U. N. sought to establish a strong central government in Leopoldville while at the same time dealing with other secessionist movements in Kasai and Oriental provinces.

What Tshombe had that the others did not were the strong financial resources which normally supplied the Congo with half its tax resources.

This came from uranium, copper, tin and gold in which Katanga abounds and which is dominated by the powerful Belgian mining company Union Miniere.

Despite the violence swirling around it, the company last year was able to turn in a profit of nearly $50 million and should do as well this year.

Tax income from Union Miniere largely has financed Tshombe's army, paid for his Belgian, French and other mercenaries and purchased his weapons.

Despite the company's denial, there have been charges that a giant company lobby operates in Tshombe's favor and might be at least partially responsible for the coolness with which Britain and France have viewed the U. N. Katanga operation.

Whatever the cause, it has created friction among Britain, France and the United States which enthusiastically has supported the U. N.

Oil Industry Not Growing In U.S., Statement Says

WASHINGTON — Alvin C. Hope, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America strongly urges action to curb oil imports. In a statement this week, he said:

"Both national security and economic growth are threatened by President Kennedy's decision to postpone action necessary to assure adequate supplies of oil and gas. After comprehensive investigation and lengthy study of the defense program as to oil imports, the President has created uncertainty by announcing further delay until mid-1962.

"In contrast, Russia is ahead of schedule in her plan to increase greatly U.S.S.R. output of essential petroleum supply. Russian oil is a primary weapon in the Soviet economic offensive. Other nations, such as Canada, are pursuing vigorous and successful policies to expand oil and gas production.

"The U.S. petroleum industry is not vigorous and is not expanding. Domestic exploration and drilling have been declining for the past five years. Employment in the industry has been decreasing. Oil prices have been depressed far below the cost of finding and developing needed reserves for defense mobilization.

"The evidence is clear and compelling that the Government's oil import program must be improved and strengthened. Mandatory limitations on oil imports were imposed early in 1959, based on "the certified requirements of our national security which make it necessary that we preserve to the greatest extent possible a vigorous, healthy petroleum industry in the United States." While the import program prevented complete chaos in the domestic industry, two and a half years of experience leave no doubt that further action is imperative in the interest of national security.

No matter of national petroleum policy has received more study, re-study and deliberate consideration by Congress and the Executive Branch of Government than oil imports. The further delay proposed by the President is unnecessary, unwise and unacceptable.

Panama Severs Link With Cuba

PANAMA CITY (UPI) — Panama broke off diplomatic relations with Cuba Thursday night, becoming the second of the 22 New World nations to do so within a week and the 13th in less than three years.

The Panamanian break was inspired by the same Fidel Castro speech that led Colombia to sever relations with the Havana regime last Saturday. Castro insulted both nations in one of his midnight harangues last Friday, calling their governments "treacherous back-stabbers."

Georgia Town's Officials Spurn Negro Demands

ALBANY, Ga. (UPI)—City officials refused Saturday to meet conditions Negro leaders laid down for restoring racial peace in this South Georgia industrial town.

Mayor Asa Kelley charged Negro negotiators with bargaining in "bad faith" and said the city refused "to act under duress or threats."

"Until the Negroes come through with a demonstration of good faith we will not resume negotiations here," he said.

Downtown Albany was jammed Saturday with Christmas shoppers, many of them from rural areas where segregation sentiment is even stronger than in this city of 58,000.

Mayor Kelley conceded the rejection of Negro proposals might bring on new demonstrations, but added, "we hope not."

Police Chief Laurie Pritchett served warning that any additional demonstrators would be arrested, "even if we have to jail every Negro in Albany."

Four marches—during which at least 466 persons were arrested—were staged on the courthouse earlier this week to protest the trial of 11 "freedom riders" then in progress inside.

The Negroes initially submitted a list of three demands which included: 1. That all persons arrested in connection with the protests be freed; 2. That local bus and train stations be desegregated; 3. That a permanent bi-racial committee be set up to start work on the gradual lowering of racial barriers.

Mayor Kelley, in rejecting the proposals Saturday, said the Negroes had not stuck by the original demands and had made additional proposals.

Republican Joe Meissner, 36, of Wichita Falls, ran second to State District Judge Graham V. Purcell Jr. 42, a Democrat, also of Wichita Falls. There were three other candidates, all Democrats. All were out of the running.

Unofficial returns from 328 of the 344 precincts in the 19-county North Texas District gave Purcell 8,928 votes to 6,702 for Meissner.

Actress Becomes Mother Of A Son
NEW YORK (UPI)—Actress Lauren Bacall, wife of stage star Jason Robards Jr., gave birth Saturday to a boy.

A spokesman at Harkness Pavilion, a division of Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center, said mother and child were "doing well."

Kennedy

overthrow of a repressive dictatorship—that of Marcos Perez Jimenez three years ago—was a striking example of what the "Alianza para el Progreso" must accomplish.

"One of the first goals of the new inter-Americanism must be the elimination of all such tyranny, of whatever source or breed, until this is a hemisphere of democratic and independent nations from Cape Horn to the Arctic Circle," he said.

Kennedy paid tribute to Betancourt as "one of the great leaders of the Americas."

The United States will help Venezuela by making loans available to build rural homes and advancing credits to finance crops, he said. His biggest applause came when he said:

"The achievement of . . . two freedoms—freedom from dictatorship and freedom from the bonds of economic and social injustice—is the contribution of our generation to the dream of Bolivar and to the work of (Franklin) Roosevelt."

Then—hitting at Castro again—Kennedy said:

"Today we are told by strangers—and those who have fallen prey to alien philosophies—that economic progress is possible only if we submit to a discipline which destroys liberty—only if we accept a society in which individual man is subjugated to the will of an all-powerful state.

"They forget the lessons of both recent and ancient history—that once power is achieved and freedom destroyed, the promise of rapid economic progress is forgotten and a better life does not come. We have seen this in the Breck, Inc. Mrs. Middle Class America averages 22.8 beauty parlor visits per year at an average of $3.81, bringing national beauty parlor sales to $2.5 billion, according to the Breck survey.

Job Offer Report Denied By Daniel

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. Price Daniel has not yet announced what his political intentions are for the future, but he keeps talking like a candidate.

He said Thursday that a report in a New York newspaper that he might be "lured away from the governor's race by a federal appointment" was the "figment of someone's imagination and highly offensive to me."

The report (in the New York Times) said that a federal appointment might be offered Daniel now that John Connally has resigned as secretary of the Navy to run for governor.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Along with dolls that kiss, dance and perform other feats, comes the talking doll this Christmas. It's "Chatterbox," a 24-inch platinum blonde that says such full sentences as "Do you like me?" "Let's go to the park" and "I like to ride on the carousel." Secret of Chatterbox's loquaciousness is a tiny record player powered by flashlight batteries, within the body of the doll. When a button on her stomach is pushed, she begins talking. To quiet Chatterbox in the middle of her conversation, the child merely places her on her back. Her eyes close and she falls asleep. Additional records will be available early next year to give Chatterbox a wider conversational range.

'SUSAN SLADE' TEAMS POPULAR PAIR — Connie Stevens and Troy Donahue head the cast of the Technicolor production of "Susan Slade," opening Friday at the Capri Theatre. As teen-agers deeply disturbed by their tragic personal problems — she is an unwed mother and he lives in the shadow of his father's prison suicide — they are drawn to each other. Delmer Daves produced and directed the romantic drama which also stars Dorothy McGuire, Lloyd Nolan, Brian Aherne and Grant Williams. Daves has previously directed Donahue in "A Summer Place" and Donahue and Miss Stevens in "Parrish."

Meet Johnny Halliday

The Elvis Presley Of France

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
PARIS (NEA) — After years of trying, France finally has produced an overnight rock 'n' roll sensation. The name of the French Elvis Presley is Johnny Halliday, his age is 18, his guitar is diamond-spangled and his reputation as the foremost of France's "sacred monsters" is less than a year old. What makes him slightly different from the others is $1 million. That's what Halliday earned this year. It's the largest, quickest fortune in European musical history. Record companies rang up sales of more than 2 million records carrying Halliday's voice to his public — almost solely between the ages of 13 and 19. The moment Halliday appears in public on or off stage, the teenagers go wild. Several Halliday galas have been broken up with tear gas bombs and fire hoses after the teen-agers wrenched out auditorium seats. In Bordeaux, two boys, 17 and 18, and a girl, 16 from honorable families killed three swans in the public gardens. In delinquents' court, all they could offer as an explanation was: "It all happened after the Halliday recital. The shindig was pretty violent."

— The rest of the world soon will be given a chance to find out what this is all about. After filming an episode in "Les Parisiens," Halliday will tour the U.S. early in 1952 and then go on to the second home of rock 'n' roll — Japan.

It certainly looks as if Johnny Halliday has "arrived." But where did this 6-foot-1, slim, dark blond, bundle of shaking nerves come from?

Halliday, whose real name is Jean-Philippe Smet, was born inconspicuously in Belgium, not on a ranch in Oklahoma as reported in early legends. "My parents abandoned me when I was a baby. I was brought up by an aunt who was a cabaret singer. She had a daughter, Desta, who was a dancer.

"After the war, Desta married Lee Halliday, an American fighter pilot. Together, they worked out an acrobatic dancing act. That was five years ago.

"They took me along. We toured Europe and then we went to

Sea Epics Wave May Soon Engulf Nation's Movies

LONDON (NEA) — Sea epics — from the return of Captain Bligh (Trevor Howard) and Mr. Christian (Marlon Brando) plus the 18th Century Captain Queeg — of Sir Alec Guinness and Peter Ustinoff PLUS JFK's PT boat exploits — are about to engulf us all. Movies run in cycles, you know, and if box office cashiers aren't being fitted for life belts and if theater owners are not filling sand bags, it is high time they get around to it. As for movie fans, (who might well be fortified with doses of dramamine mixed in their popcorn) Hollywood hopes there is no mutiny at the box office. Three of the biggest new films in the

He thrives on the mob scenes at the stage door (although he usually leaves by a secret exit to avoid having his clothes torn off his back). His fan mail averages 1,000 letters daily. And in the suburbs and provinces, where his fame is greatest, dance halls and juke boxes grinding out Halliday songs have replaced the old accordion tunes on the fairgrounds. MGM's "Bounty," an enormous sailing ship, was built from scratch in New England, then sailed to Tahiti. For the Guinness movie, there was a shortage of title change. If MGM could have full say, the competing film would have been "Sunk long ago" — but there is no stopping a movie cycle. The three-masted Defiant and a French frigate are two Italian-built ships converted into replicas of historical men-of-war. Battle and mutiny scenes for both "Billy Budd" and "HMS Defiant" were filmed off the coast of Spain, near Valencia. Captain Alan Villiers, who took the Mayflower II across the Atlantic in 1957, was in charge of both ships during filming under the direction of Lewis ("Sink the Bismarck") Gilbert. He's now being called "Sink the Bounty" Gilbert.

Before things really become explosive at sea on your screens, with flashing cutlasses and that competition for Mr. Nasty Behind the Mast, a movie titled "Sail a Crooked Ship," also from Columbia, will be dropping anchor at the Bijou.

This one, however, is for laughs only, with Ernie Kovacs playing a fellow who steals an old Liberty ship and then holds it for ransom. With two steel marbles in his hand he does a Captain Queeg satire. Since it is the hysterical Ernie, "Sail a Crooked Ship" might be listed as a four-dramamine movie. Laughing is rough on the stomach, too.

Sunday Hair Clip Was Almost Plot For Movie Story

HOMING ON A BOEING (NEA) — Did you know that you need a hotel room to get a hair-cut on Sunday in London? George Hamilton asked. The London-to-Los Angeles jet had leveled off and it was cocktail time in the glaring sunshine 29,000 feet above the Atlantic's fog blanket. Hamilton is a young MGM actor with a string of notable roles, including films like "Where the Boys Are" and "A Light in the Piazza." He was returning to Hollywood from a location in Rome — and as a preface to his hilarious story about a haircut in London we should explain that he was born in the wrong era. He's a throwback to Hollywood's giddy days. If he had been around at the time, he surely would have

In an era of beatniks, leather jackets and "the method," he drives a Rolls Royce, wears tailored cashmere and monogrammed silk, and admits he is a gregarious ham. Now about that haircut. While working on a film in London there was a sudden change in the shooting schedule. On Saturday night, he was told: "It may be tough on Sunday but find a barber and have your hair cut. You're in the first scene Monday morning." The only barbershop in London open on Sunday, from 9 a.m. to 11 only, is at the Savoy Hotel where Hamilton had stayed for a week prior to moving into an apartment. He arrived at the shop a few minutes before nine. The barber was honing his razor

'White Christmas' Melody First Sung 20 Years Ago

NEW YORK (UPI) — This Christmas will mark the 20th anniversary of "White Christmas," the song which Bing Crosby has said is "as much a part of me as my floppy ears."

Crosby, who introduced the Irving Berlin tune in his picture, "Holiday Inn," will observe the occasion by singing it again for the several thousandth time on his seventh annual "Christmas Sing With Bing" over the CBS radio network (6:10-7 p.m. EST).

In its two decades of popularity, "White Christmas" has enjoyed a circulation of 14 million recordings as sung by Crosby and another 14 million by about 85 other artists. More than 100 recorded versions have come and gone.

Sheet music sales during the six weeks that followed the premiere of "Holiday Inn" zoomed to 600,000 in a period when the music business was still shaking off the effects of a depression.

"White Christmas" has not been confined to the United States nor to the English language. It has been recorded in Italian, French, the Scandinavian languages, Chinese, German, Spanish, several Polynesian tongues, Hungarian and Swahili.

In a widely reprinted editorial, the Christian Science Monitor once speculated on the instantaneous popularity of the song: "It isn't a war song. It isn't even a love song. Yet it has sung its way into practically every home and heart in the country. No one seems able to explain just why. Even Mr. Berlin himself is puzzled."

The poet, Carl Sandburg, had an answer when he wrote in a column in the Chicago Times during the war-clouded, anxious December of 1942:

"We have learned to be a little sad and a little lonesome without being sickly about it. This feeling is caught in the song of a thousand juke boxes and the tune, whistled in streets and homes, 'I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas.' When we sing that, we don't hate anybody. And there are things we love that we're going to have sometime if the breaks are not too bad against us . . . Way down under, this latest hit of Irving Berlin catches us where we love peace. . . ."

Toward the end of World War II, Crosby was entertaining a paratroop unit in France. Before the performance, he was approached by a tough-looking sergeant.

"You gonna sing 'White Christmas?' the paratrooper asked. Crosby assured him he would.

"Well, in that case, I guess I'll duck out," the sergeant said. "I think you'll like the other numbers," Crosby urged. "Why not stick around?"

"I like the song all right," the sergeant explained. "But I'll listen from behind the portable kitchen. It's no good for the men's morale to see their sergeant crying."

Crosby warmed to the song the first time he heard it. Berlin had played half a dozen other tunes he was preparing for "Holiday Inn" while Crosby puffed impassively at his pipe. When the composer ran through "White Christmas," Crosby stopped puffing and said: "You won't have to worry about that one, Irving."

Disclaiming his own role in making the song a musical symbol of the American Yuletide, Crosby insists: "A jackdaw with a cleft palate could have sung it successfully. You've got to give full credit to its composer, Irving Berlin."

The casual Crosby will have no special hoopla to mark the occasion of the 20th anniversary of "White Christmas." He'll just sing it. He'll also sing other Crosby Christmas standards, along with Rosemary Clooney, Edgar Bergen, Charlie McCarthy and Mrs. (Kathryn Grant) Crosby.

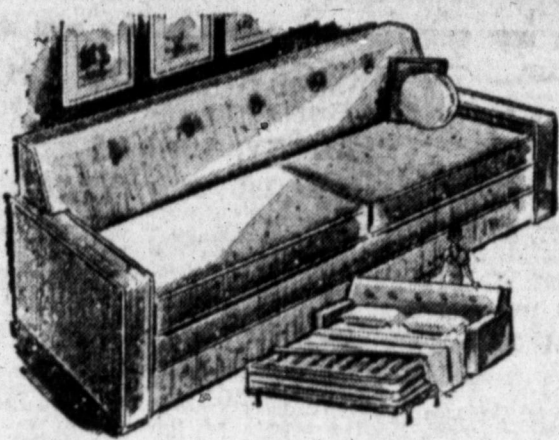

Cigar Sales
NEW YORK (UPI) — Many merchants report a rise in sales of higher-priced Philippine cigars. The Philippines shipped 5.1 million cigars here in the eight months ended August 31, up from 3.3 million a year earlier. Imports from Cuba dropped to 7.6 million from 13 million.

Hobbs Snaps Pampa Win String, 72-65

Red Hot Eagles Thump Foul Ridden Harvesters

Hobbs run and shoot Eagles derailed the Pampa Harvesters unbeaten express Saturday night with a convincing 72-65 triumph at Harvester Fieldhouse before an enthusiastic crowd.

Depth was the big factor as the Eagles rebounded from a Friday night defeat to stop Pampa's string at 10 straight, including nine this season.

Story of the Friday night game is on page 13.

Eight Hobbs players landed in the scoring column with four of them hitting in double figures. A foursome of sharp shooting players paved the way for the Eagles with Barney Barnhill connecting for 18 points, Robert Gamble hitting 16, Zeke Williams popping in 13 and Terry Williams conning 10.

For the fourth game in a row, hard-driving and canny Wayne Kreis led the Harvesters with 24 points. Bobby Neslage chipped in 18 before fouling out early in the final period.

Randy Matson, the 6-6 Pampa ace, was limited to just 10 points and a pair of fielders by the rugged Hobbs defense.

Pampa held an early first period lead but the Harvesters couldn't make it stand up in the face of terrific pressure by the Hobbs sharpshooters and ball hawking defense.

And the Harvesters of coach Terry Culley lost two starters early in the final period by fouls. Neslage went out 25 seconds deep in the quarter and Gordon Balch followed him a minute later.

Hobbs held a slim 59-54 lead going into the final stanza but three field goals by Barnhill and one each by Zeke and Terry Williams and Gamble put the Eagles into a commanding 70-57 lead with just four minutes left in the fast moving contest.

Kreis led a Pampa rally with a pair of fantastic lay-up shots and two gratis throws to pull the Harvesters within seven points of the sharp Eagles 70-63 with exactly three minutes to play.

G. Balch slammed in a fielder 30 second later and the Harvesters just trailed 70-65. But Hobbs came back to make it 72-65 on a pair of charity tosses and the Pampans blew several easy shots while the Eagles put on a stall in the final minute to sew up the victory.

Again Kreis was hot from the free throw line. The peppery little guard hit 10 of 11 charity tosses. In fact free pitches were the only thing which kept the Harvesters anywhere close to the aggressive Eagles.

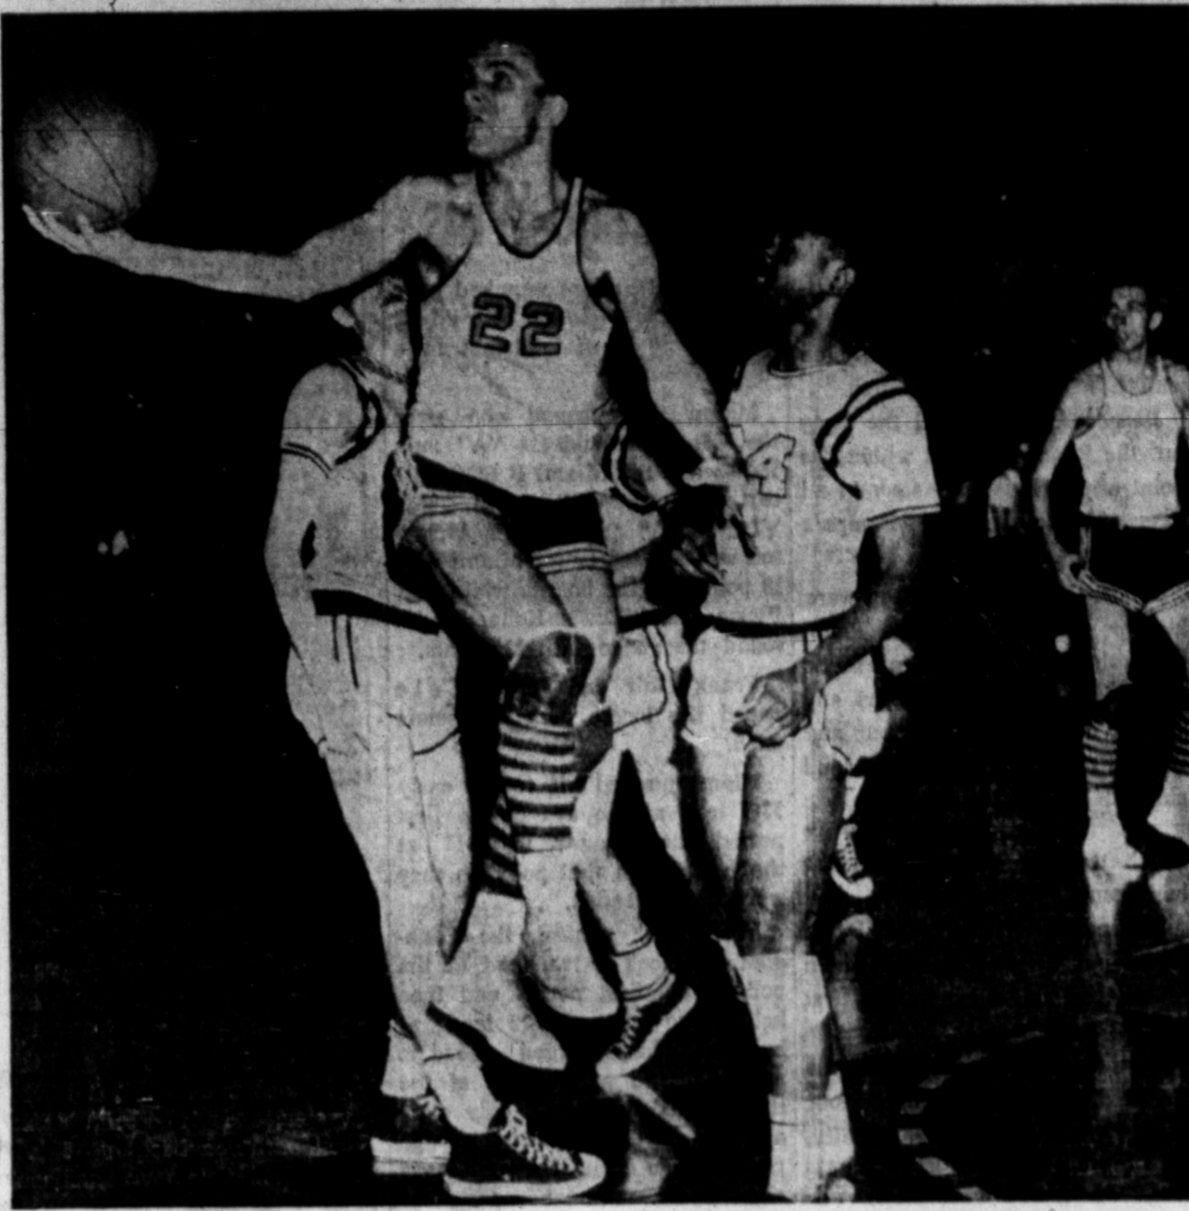

Pampa connected on 24 of 30 charity pitches while Hobbs sank 18 of 28. The Eagles poured in 28 fielders and Pampa swished in 20 from the floor.

The Harvesters led early by 18-14 and 28-21 counts — their largest lead. Hobbs held leads of 5-13 points throughout the second half. The score was knotted eight times. Pampa pulled within one point, 40-39, but the Eagles quickly pulled away to establish a nine point 53-44 margin.

Pampa's Shockers also met defeat for the first time this season from a fired-up Hobbs Eaglet squad.

The Eagles made a 15-5 first period lead stand up for a narrow 61-57 triumph although the Shockers tied the score several times in the final period.

Kenny Hebert basketed 18 points to lead the Shockers and Danny Ayers pumped in 15. Charley Price again contributed some fine play and connected for eight points as did Gary Sikes.

UP AND AWAY — Wayne Kreis drives in for a lay-up shot in the Saturday night cage game between Pampa and Hobbs at Harvester Fieldhouse in the third period. Lloyd Balch (30) watches his teammate as does Zeke Williams (24) and two other unidentified Hobbs players. Although Kreis sank the basket for two of his 24 points, Hobbs won the contest 72-65. Coyotes Storm By Galena Park For AAAA Title

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Marvelous Mike Kelly scooted 55 and 59 yards for touchdowns and launched a 47-yard pass for another Saturday as Wichita Falls won the Texas Class AAAA state schoolboy football crown with a come-from-behind 21-14 victory over Galena Park.

The 160-pound quarterback stole the thunder from his more heralded teammate, all-star Larry Shields, as the Coyote pack spotted the stubborn Galena Park Jackets a 6-0 halftime lead and then shocked the south Texans with three long-range scoring strikes.

Kelly's two romps came within two minutes of each other in the opening phases of the final quarter, but it was evident even before then that Galena Park's brilliant first half was apparently doomed of ultimate failure.

A crowd of 14,888, cut to about half what had been expected by early morning rains, saw the Jackets move 81 yards in nine plays for a second quarter touchdown on a four-yard pass from Mickey Holder to end Howard Twilley.

The Jackets threatened again before the half, but couldn't score as receivers dropped passes in the open, one on the goal line.

Wichita Falls couldn't cross midfield until 10 minutes deep into the third quarter, but when the Coyotes did, it was too bad for Galena Park.

Kelly faded and lofted a long pass which end Don Denham plucked from between two Jackets on the 11-yard line and trotted over for the touchdown.

Shields fooled the Jackets with a fake spin play on the first play of the last quarter and Kelly went through tackle for 55 yards behind a convoy of three blockers. They worked the same play 80 seconds later for 59 yards and Ronny Shields tacked on the last of his three conversions.

Galena Park didn't quit, however, and surged 76 yards in the fading minutes to score on the final play of the game when half-back Ronnie Powlidge capped the drive with a three-yard run at right end. Hoder passed to Doyle Johnson for the two-point conversion.

The victory gave Wichita Falls its eighth state championship and made it two out of the last four years the Coyotes have forged to the finals.

It also gave the north a clean sweep of the first three state titles decided with Albany retaining its Class A crown Friday night with an 18-12 victory over Hull. Daisetta and Dumas grabbing the Class AAA title with a 8-0 victory over Nederland Saturday afternoon.

Kelly, thanks to his two long runs, gained 136 yards rushing of the Coyotes' 228-yard total, while Shields added 80 more. He completed only two of five passes, but one of them was the important one to Denham.

Galena Park netted only 75 yards on the ground, but got 149 in the air although completing only eight of 25 attempts.

A-M Hires Foldberg As Mentor

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Henry C. (Hank) Foldberg, whose only two years as a head coach have been highly successful ones, was hired Saturday to give sagging Texas A&M football fortunes a lift.

The 38-year-old Foldberg was officially named athletic director and head football coach succeeding Jim Myers, who was fired a month ago at the end of a fourth losing season at a school whose alumni speak loud and long when victories do not appear.

Foldberg, a Dallas, Tex., native, has been coaching since the late 1940s, but always as an assistant until the University of Wichita gave him a chance as a head coach two years ago.

Foldberg rewarded the school with two Missouri Valley Conference championships and each year was elected the conference coach of the year for his 8-2 season records.

At Wichita where Foldberg is getting the Wichita team ready for the Sun Bowl on Dec. 30 at El Paso, Tex., against Villanova, he said he plans to tackle the A&M job with "spirit and enthusiasm" and do everything "within the legal limit" to build a winning team fast.

From the start, he said, "we'll go on the playing field with the belief that we have a good opportunity to win." But he would not predict when the Aggies would be "among the leaders" in the Southwest Conference.

His name had been prominently mentioned in connection with the Texas A&M job since Myers was let out Nov. 24, but he also had been offered the head coaching jobs at the U. S. Military Academy and the University of Nebraska as well as a promotion at Wichita.

Word leaked out at Wichita Friday night that Foldberg had told his players Thursday that he was "going back to his home state." Texas A&M officials would neither confirm nor deny the report Friday night, and Saturday made it official.

"We're expecting great things from him," said Dr. Chris Groneman, chairman of the athletic council said, "We hope he never leaves."

Foldberg, who spent two years as a student at Texas A&M in 1940-43 and one season as an assistant coach here in 1951-52, did not come to the campus for a visit prior to his hiring. He met with Dr. Groneman at a neutral point to discuss the job.

Dumas Nudges Nederland, 6-0

DALLAS (UPI) All — state quarterback Mike Boxwell led the Dumas Demons to their first state championship Saturday in a hard-fought 6-0 Class AAA victory over the Nederland Bulldogs.

Boxwell cranked up the Dumas offensive machine early in the second period, when the Demons drove 6 yards, for the game's only touchdown. A three-yard line smash by halfback Dale Bick provided the score.

Boxwell also contributed heavily to the Dumas defense that halted two Nederland scoring threats. Boxwell intercepted a Bulldog pass in the end zone early in the fourth period to stop Nederland's final rally.

A slim crowd estimated at 4,500 saw the contest at Dallas' P. C. Cobb Stadium. The fans were given a demonstration of a hard running game by the victorious Demons and watched a fine aerial attack by the Bulldogs.

Dumas got its scoring drive underway on a 28-yard end sweep by halfback John Whiteside to the Nederland 39 on the fourth play of the second quarter. Whiteside added 10 more yards and Boxwell rolled out for 15 on a keeper that moved the Demons to the Nederland three.

Vick went over on the next play. But an attempted two-point conversion run by Whiteside was stopped short.

Jake David, Nederland's second-team all-state quarterback, passed the Bulldogs down to the Dumas four in the final moments of the second period. But the drive was halted there with an interception by Whiteside.

David's favorite receivers were All-State end James Overstreet, end Dan Hunt and back Robert Albritton.

The Bulldogs marched from their own 34 to the Dumas five, mainly on passes from David to Hunt and Steve Bailey. But a fourth down-pass was snared in the end zone by Boxwell to choke off the threat.

Dumas seldom tried to pass. The second period scoring effort by Nederland was set up, in fact, when Boxwell faded to pass but was hit hard by end Haden Bourz and fumbled the ball away on his 28 yard line.

Kansas Thumps Rice Owls In Bluebonnet, 33-7

In Liberty Bowl Tilt ...

Syracuse Nips Miami

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Orange of Syracuse, down 14 points at halftime, roared back to life on the power running of All-America Ernie Davis Saturday for a comeback 15-14 victory over Miami in the third annual Liberty Bowl game.

Davis, checked in the first half when the hard-hitting Hurricane line throttled the Orangemen and guilty of one of the two fumbles which cost Syracuse the ball inside the Miami 10, was his slashing self in the winning touchdown drive to complete a day on which he piled up a total of 140 yards in 30 carries.

He scored the first Syracuse touchdown on a one-yard smash in the third period and was the crushing task force on a 51-yard march set up by a Miami fumble which paved the way to the Syracuse victory in the fourth period.

A conversion by end Ken Erickson, a draft selection of the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League, was the deciding point after quarterback Dave Sarette passed 7 yards to halfback Dick Easterly to tie the score.

Syracuse's winning touchdown was set up when halfback John Bennett of Miami fumbled and Bill Schoonover recovered on the Syracuse 49 with 12:30 left in the game.

A personal foul after Miami had stopped Syracuse gave the Orange a first down on the Miami 37 and after an offside penalty nullified a 15-yard Davis gain, Sarette passed 13 to Easterly. Then Davis, bolted for 10 yards, added 9 more, and went 3 for a first down on the 7. On the next play he became a decoy on the winning touchdown pass.

Sarette made a masterly fake to Ernie, who was buried by three tacklers. But while this was going on Easterly drifted alone into the end zone and took a perfect pass from Sarette which tied the score, 14-14.

Then Erickson kicked the point

Borger '5' Tops Pampa

Pampa's 7th grade Reapers rallied late in the fourth period Friday but it fell short and the Borger Austin Mustangs went home with a narrow 26-25 triumph.

Borger Austin led all the way but the Reapers pulled within one point of the Mustangs several times. The loss evened Pampa's season log at 1-1.

Robert Carr and Don Been were high point getters for the Reapers with eight and five points respectively. Larry Stephens and Steve Williams each had four and Larry Keyser and Jack Strickland chipped in with two apiece.

which was the difference in the ball game.

The power - running of Davis wiped out a 14-point lead which Miami had rolled up in the first half.

On their first scoring drive, the Hurricanes went 52 yards in four plays, plus an offside penalty, with the big gainer a 29-yard pass from George Mira to Larry Wilson for a first down on the Syracuse 12. Jungle Jim Vollenweider barreled over his left tackle for the touchdown.

Miami missed two scoring opportunities when Mira overthrew Bill Miller, once when he was in the end zone and once when he was behind Davis, but with 17 seconds left to the half, halfback Nick Spinelli broke loose for a brilliant 60-yard punt return for the second Miami touchdown.

Miami Boys, Girls Post Cage Wins

Miami's Warriors wracked up a pair of cage victories Friday while going down to defeat in a third encounter.

Miami's "A" squad won over the Canadian Wildcats "A" unit, 53-39 while the Miami B team lost to the Canadian "B" team, 25-24.

In the "A" game, Mark Arrington was top scorer for Miami with 18 points on the boards while Tim Flowers and Lewis Holland each found the range with 12 points.

Frank Muir and Jerry Cole paced the losers with 12 points each.

Miami jumped off to an early 12-3 lead at the end of the first period, increasing it to 29-15 at the half. From that point on they were never headed.

In the "B" contest, the Canadian five took a 10-8 lead at the end of the first period and then held on to post a 13-12 lead at halftime. Miami surged ahead to an 18-17 lead at the end of the third period, but could only manage six points in the final round while Canadian managed eight points on the boards.

Butch Thompson was top scorer for Miami with nine points while Ramon Guerrero had six and Charles Byrum managed five.

Miami's "A" team girls won over the Canadian girls, 44-40 in the third contest of the day involving the two schools.

Marilyn Murphy and Donna Byrum shared scoring honors for the winners with 12 points apiece. Jacques Gill had 11 points to aid in the attack.

Sharon Pretree led Canadian scorers with 27 points for the day.

Miami led at the end of the first period 10-6 and then held on to take an 18-16 lead at the half. Miami maintained their slim lead at the end of the third period and then added 14 more in the final round to ice the contest away.

JOHN HADL

Jayhawks Score Impressive Win

HOUSTON (UPI) Quarterback John Hadl, with the help of two fine running backs, Saturday guided the University of Kansas to a well-played 33-7 win over Rice University in the third annual Bluebonnet Bowl.

Sophomore fullback Ken Voleman and halfback Roger McFarland each scored twice and halfback Curtis McClinton bulled over for another touchdown as the visiting Jayhawks riddled the Rice line at will in their post-season bowl game before 52,000.

Hadl, who completed seven out of 10 passes and had two intercepted, mixed a highly successful double reverse with a full-back trap up the center time and again to grind out yardage by Coleman and McFarland.

Rice had only one good series, in the first period, when quarterback Randy Kerbow guided the Owls downfield for 69 yards in nine plays for the single Rice touchdown. Kerbow completed a five-yard jump pass to end Johnny Burrell for the score.

Coleman was named the outstanding back of the game for his fine performance in scoring two touchdowns while gaining 107 yards on 18 carries. He bulled over from the one for both of Kansas' touchdowns in the first half.

Rice, which went in the game after the half, and Hadl's masterful play-calling clicked almost on every play during the last two quarters.

The Jayhawks had to punt only once in the second half, and end Jay Roberts recovered for Kansas that time after it bounced off a Rice lineman.

Kansas' most successful play—the one that Rice never got around to figuring out—was the double handoff by Hadl to Coleman and McFarland.

McFarland scored twice on that play—both of them from the 13 in the third and fourth periods. And both times he went through Rice's left tackle and easily crossed the line untouched.

Rice, which went in the game a three-point favorite on their own home field, managed only one more serious threat at the Kansas goal line, and that drive died as time ran out at the half.

Kerbow, who was rushed by the hard-working Kansas line time and again, completed a pass to halfback Bob Wayt inside the Kansas five yard line, but the gun sounded to end the half just as Wayt caught the ball.

SMU won its last conference football championship in 1948; when All-America Doak Walker quarterbacked the Mustangs to eight wins, one loss and a tie.

No Southern Methodist team since then has won more than six games. Meek's 1960 team didn't win a game. This year the Mustangs won two, lost seven and tied one.

Meek's overall record was 17 wins, 29 losses and four ties.

Fry has been a key man in the success of head coach Frank Broyles at Arkansas since 1958. The Razorbacks tied for the Southwest Conference championship in 1959 and won it outright last year.

Bell said Fry was on his way to Dallas, and would remain here several days talking with SMU officials before returning to Fayetteville to help get Arkansas ready for its Sugar Bowl meeting with Alabama.

Fry's selection was not a surprise. The former Marine captain was regarded all along as the top candidate among the four coaches interviewed for the job.

Hayden Fry Chosen As SMU Grid Coach

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Hayden Fry, 32-year-old backfield coach at Arkansas, was named head football coach at Southern Methodist University Saturday.

Fry replaces Bill Meek, who was fired by the SMU trustees after five years in which Meek had only two winning seasons and placed no team among the Southwest Conference leaders.

Athletic Director Matty Bell announced that "after considering a great number of coaches and after interviewing four outstanding ones, we have unanimously selected Hayden Fry."

"We think his qualifications and experience best suit our situation at SMU," Bell said. "We think he is the best man available for the job."

"Hayden is young, ambitious, energetic, and smart. He is a man dedicated to his profession."

Pa'o Duro And 'Dogs' Dominate 3-AAAA Eleven

Pampa and Plainview failed to place a player on the district 3-AAAA "official" all-loop team selected by the coaches.

Borger's Bulldogs and the Palo Duro Dons, the 3-AAAA co-champions, dominated the mythical eleven by placing a total of 13 players on the squad.

Palo Duro, with its high scoring offense, had five gridders named to the offensive unit but could nab just one berth on the defense.

Borger had four players on the defensive unit and three on the offensive squad. The Bulldogs allowed just 54 points in running up a 9-2 season mark. Coach Gene Mayfield's crew blanked five opponents.

Tascosa put three on the defensive unit and one on offense; Monterey had one on each unit as did Tom S. Lubbock and the Amarillo Sandies captured one slot on the defensive club.

Four gridders made both teams. Players named to two berths were Borger's John LaGrone, Tommy Middleton, Lubbock, Jerry Stowers, Borger and Eddie Whiddon, Tascosa.

Palo Duro nabbed four line slots on the offense team. The Dons put center Ronald Scott, tackle James Pope, guard Jerry Berry and end Terry Morton on the all star offensive forward wall.

Gordon Nelson, the loop's leading scorer, gained a backfield position for the Dons to go with Middleton, Whiddon and Borger's blasting fullback David Hill.

The Dons' Durwood Burnett gained a defensive secondary slot.

Borger had Davis, Stowers and LaGrone on the offensive unit at fullback, tackle and guard respectively.

On defense the Bulldogs had LaGrone and Phil Phillips in the line, Jerry Stowers at linebacker and Wayne Rape in the secondary.

LaGrone also nabbed a berth on the class AAAA all-state eleven, the only player from district 3-AAAA to make the honor. He is the only junior on the all-district teams.

Shockers Halt Eaglets' 49-Game Streak, 67-62

The axe fell on the Hobbs Eaglets' 49 game winning streak Friday night as the Pampa Shockers carved out an exciting 67-62 triumph over the visitors.

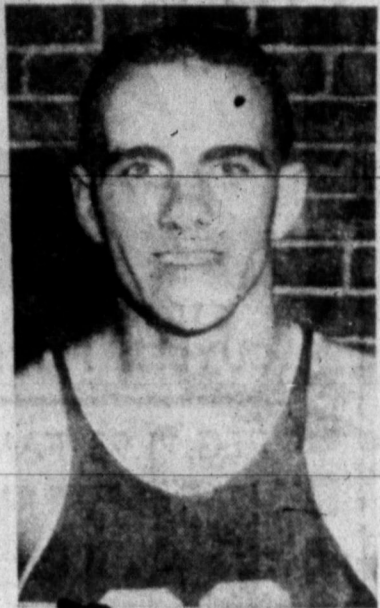

Clutch free throw shooting by Pampa's Donny Ayers was the difference. Ayers was the portrait of a man with ice cold blood as he sank six charity tosses in the final three minutes to pull the Shockers to the victory throne before a frenzied, noisy prejudice audience.

Ayers wound up with 21 points. Gary Sikes paced the Shockers with 22 but in the end it was the deadly shooting of Ayers that clinched the triumph.

Pampa led 52-46 at the start of the final period and stretched it to 56-48 with 6:30 left to play. But Hobbs quickly narrowed the count to 56-54 on three fielders with 5:18 showing on the clock.

The Shockers got three points on free tosses by Ayers to go in front 59-54 but Hobbs bounced back to within one point of the locals at 59-58.

A pair of charity pitches by Ayers and a field goal by the Eaglets' John Stafford left the

ON SCORING BINGE — Junior guard Wayne Kreis has been on a hot scoring streak lately. He pumped in 29 points Friday night in leading the Harvesters to a 64-58 victory over Hobbs. Kreis has garnered 76 points in his last three games for a 25 point per game average.

Harvesters Capture Win On Free Throws

By JOE LEE SMITH
 Daily News Sports Editor

Hobbs fouled its way out of a victory Friday night. Pampa's ever Fighting Harvesters earned 32 free shots in 45 attempts as a result of 34 fouls committed by Hobbs to pick up a thrilling 64-58 triumph over the visiting Eaglet at Harvester Fieldhouse.

Coach Terry Culley's Harvesters thus ran their victory skein to 10 in a row and left them with a perfect 9-0 mark for this campaign.

The Pampans trailed 38-33 at halftime and 49-47 at the end of the third quarter. But the Harvesters — hitting with deadly accuracy in a great clutch performance — sank 13 consecutive gratis throws in the final period to overhaul the Eagles.

The hero of the game? Well it will have to be guard Wayne Kreis. For Mr. Kreis scorched the nets for 29 big points to give him a 76 point total for the last three contests.

Kreis hit a fabulous 17 of 22 tosses from the charity line including seven straight in the thrilling fourth quarter. Wayne pumped in 15 points in the opening half and garnered 14 in the second half.

Five of Kreis' six fielders came on driving lay-ups through the congested Hobbs defense. Some of the baskets were almost unbelievable due to the fact that the Eagles usually had two or three men hanging on Kreis as he went up for a goal.

Randy Matson added 14 points and Lloyd Balch, with a fine performance, chipped in 10 tallies. Barney Barnhill led Hobbs with 15.

Matson was hampered by his fourth foul early in the third period and he finally fouled out with 1:46 left in the game. Bobby Neslege drew four personals before the half and Gordon Balch went out of the game at 1:16 of the final period.

The Harvesters tied the score at 49-49 early in the final period on a fielder by Matson. Moments later Kreis scored on a beautiful lay-up and converted the play into a three point affair by sinking a free shot for a 52-49 Pampa lead.

Hobbs tied the count on a fielder and a one pointer then the two teams exchanged goals and the count stood 56-56 with four minutes left in the game.

Clifton chipped in nine points for the Pampans and Ricky Stewart added six.

BALCH BALKS HOBBS — Lloyd Balch turned in an impressive performance Friday night against the Hobbs Eagles. The 6-1 senior forward and co-captain plunked off nine rebounds and slammed in 10 points in his finest exhibition of the season.

Stewart clinched the triumph for the Harvesters by swishing in his two foul shots.

The score was tied 10 times and the lead changed hands on 18 occasions as the two teams were never separated by more than six points.

Pampa jumped into a 10-5 lead in the opening minutes only to see Hobbs surge in front 11-10 midway through the period. The Harvesters bounced back to take a 19-13 margin as the quarter ended.

L. Balch and Neslege turned in sparkling performances on the backboard. Neslege took up the slack as the Eagles kept Matson boxed off of the boards most of the game.

But Matson came on strong in the latter stages of the third period and the fourth quarter, as he cleared the boards time after time to give the Harvesters possession.

One of the prettiest plays of the season was a well executed pass play. Kreis, tossing the ball in from out of bounds, lobbed a long pass to Matson who caught the ball at the top of the basket and crammed it in for two points.

New Tax Return Era Promised In January

By EDWARD COWAN
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new era for the American taxpayer and Uncle Sam's tax collectors opens in January.

The Internal Revenue service says it will be a better era for both sides.

After several years of planning, the Service next month will begin using a high speed computer to check tax returns. In 1962 the computer, whizzing through 800,000 calculations a minute, will examine only business returns from seven southern states. By 1966 it will cast a questioning electronic eye over the return of every last taxpayer in the nation.

For the average taxpayer this will mean:

- less chance to cheat and get away with it.
- faster refunds to those who overpaid their taxes.
- an end to explaining the same thing to a different IRS agent each year.
- credits for refund checks which are undelivered because of change of address.

Tougher enforcement of the tax laws is the chief reason the Service is installing the computer. Coping with the huge and growing volume of paper IRS handles also is a factor. Another result which the Service genuinely seeks — may be easing of tax frictions for the taxpayer.

With the computer, revenue agents will be able to check up on tax returns in ways not hitherto possible. For example, the computer will detect the person who files for a refund in more than one IRS district. It will facilitate checking a return filed this year in one district against one filed elsewhere last year. It will indicate whether a taxpayer failed entirely to file a return (assuming he has filed them in the past). It will show omission of some types of income. It will spot returns with unusually heavy deductions.

Most important: it will permit Internal Revenue to check every tax return more thoroughly.

The computer, housed in a new IRS building near Martinsburg, W. Va., will be the hub of a system of automatic data processing (ADP) fanning out to nine regional service centers and 62 district offices.

Taxpayers will continue to mail their returns to their IRS district directors. The districts will check the returns for name, address, tax account number (for most people their Social Security number) and signature. Then it will send the returns to a regional service center.

There the information—income, taxes withheld, exemptions, deductions, etc.—will be transcribed onto punch cards and then on to magnetic tapes. The tapes will be shipped to the National Computer Center, at Martinsburg.

The heart of the computer center — and of the entire national ADP system — is the master file: an account on magnetic tape for every taxpayer.

Each reel of tape — about 10 1/2 inches in diameter — records the accounts of 116,000 taxpayers — about as many as live in Birmingham, Ala., St. Paul, Minn., or Portland, Ore. An equivalent stack of punch cards would stand 400 feet high.

By 1966, when the ADP system is fully in operation, 72 million individual accounts and six million business accounts will be recorded on about 400 miles of tape — enough to stretch from Washington to Boston.

ADP will enable the Revenue Service to keep up with the swelling volume of tax returns and related paper without enormous growth in its payroll, now about 50,000 employees. In 1961 the Service received 95 million tax returns of all kinds — individual, corporate, excise, etc. The number is estimated to climb to 110 million by 1970 and 135 million by 1980.

With ADP, agents will have more time to ferret out fishy-looking returns and investigate them. Revenue agents say the problem of unreported income is greatest with the self-employed — businessmen, farmers, professional people, etc. ADP will be of only limited direct help in this area because the Service gets few information returns showing payments to such people. Indirectly, it will help by freeing more agents for investigatory work.

ADP will be of great help in checking on reporting of dividends and interest, especially dividends. The Service gets more than 110 million information returns a year on this kind of income. (They pertain to far fewer taxpayers. Many banks and corporations submit these returns four times a year as they make payments to depositors and sockholders.)

These returns, are filed for all dividends above $10 a year per person and interest above $600 a year. Matching them with the recipients' tax returns, an impossible task by hand, will be possible with ADP. The computer will enter data from all information returns in taxpayers' accounts in the master file. Then the computer will determine whether the amount paid to the taxpayer is the amount reported by him.

Christmas Time At Senior Center

SOCIAL CALENDAR

THE BEAUTIFUL TRADITION of the Nativity Scenes was scheduled to go up in Central Park on Friday evening with the significance that Christmas has really come to a town that cares . . . we know a family that annually re-reads the story of the birth of Jesus in their home and then together go to the park and stroll pass each of the scenes absorbing quietly all of the beauty of the ancient story . . . The seven Nativity Scenes are illustrated in life-size oil paintings on cutouts all beautifully and inspirationally done over a period of years . . . and the stream of cars that circle the park during the Christmas season must be a source of happiness for the local artists Charles Thomas . . . Edwinna Boyd . . . Claudine Vail . . . Florence Jackson . . . Olive Hills and others . . . who have contributed their talents to the tableau over a period of 14 years . . . while on the subject of contributing talents, we have heard so many "rares" about Katy Key's presentation of Peter Marshall's prayer "Let's Keep Christmas" for a group of luncheon guests Monday in the Coronado Inn . . . we know how lovely and soul-stirring it must have been . . . for we know Katy! . . . we are not trying to prove a point, for that is unnecessary . . . but another evidence that most people consider Christmas an event for the soul and heart was the SRO attendance that Treble Clef Club had for its Christmas Concert given just recently in the St. Matthew's Episcopal Parish House.

Right thoughts and deeds are the sovereign remedies for all the earth's woe. — Mary Baker Eddy

THE SOCIAL SCENE IS a-bustle with gay goings-on . . . Friday evening, the 79ers . . . a group of seventh through ninth grade students, who are the off-spring of the club members . . . held their annual Christmas Formal in the Pampa Country Club . . . and the stag line was filled with such dashing young blades as Hal and Ricky Cree . . . Mike Osborne . . . and Bobby Kuhn . . . all quite the little gentlemen in dark suits, red vests and red carnation boutonniere . . . and the older (?) set, among them Richard Fatheree and Kenneth McWilliams, set a style-pace with a red cummerbund and a smart red-checked sportscoat . . . the very next night the adult Country Club members were invited out for their formal ball . . . each year it seems that the decorations keep getting prettier and prettier, if possible . . . this year as you enter the foyer there is an arrangement of choir figurines surrounded at the vase by votive cups in an arrangement of Holly Leaves placed on a table below a mirror . . . and the ball-room proper has a massive, revolving arrangement of gilded cages holding clusters of red grapes hanging from the ceiling . . . the walls are decorated with Holly Leaves on shiny red aluminum foil forming large Christmas trees . . . the Grill Room has a more modern decor to blend with its Pumpkin and Blue furnishings . . . the walls are decorated with fringed, green cellophane yule trees accented with orange baubles . . . all very festive for the endless calendar of events that fill the club during this mad merry season!

A WORD OF ENCOURAGEMENT for those harried Christmas shoppers, remember what Goeth said, "We always have time, if we will but use it right."

FOR THE PAST SEVERAL weeks, we have been wondering what in the world was going into that new building going up on Gwendolyn Street just across from the Humble Oil Co. Offices . . . well, this week it turned into a charming red brick structure that is to house the new Cities Service Petroleum Company offices . . . we heard that Frances Hofess "did" the drapes for the executive offices in gold, brown and beige prints designed with oil wells . . . the oil well print is from the artistic hands of Bob McKenzie of Amarillo, well-known area designer, who last year won a national design award and this year is scheduled to be presented with an international design award . . . those who read "House Beautiful" are also familiar with Bob's work for he often has an illustrated article in that magazine . . . let's confess, we are a "building-bug" so we are keeping our eyes on the progress of the new Citizens Bank and Trust Co. building, which this week has added rows of buff brick around the foundation and the "cutest" fluted thinga-mabobs in steel . . . the architects drawing of the new building in last Sunday's issue of the Transition Edition showed what it will look like when it is completed early in 1962 . . . speaking of the Special Edition, we have not yet completed reading through all of the vast material published . . . but one thing did strike us as very worthy to comment upon . . . and that is many, many business are "hometown concerns with husband and wife, father and son, brothers, or son and mother as business-partners . . . this seems to be a very healthy yard-stick for the continued growth and prosperity for our town.

The only gift is a portion of thyself. — Ralph Waldo Emerson

PAMPA GARDEN CLUB MEMBERS are busily preparing themselves for the judging of the Christmas Home Decoration Contest . . . judging is to be conducted on the evening of the 21st, so turn your pretty lights on early, so you won't be overlooked . . . the contest will be fair as ever with the city divided up into districts and an award given to one home in each of the 10 districts . . . we do not envy the ladies on this gigantic job . . . for there are some very pretty homes to be judged . . . we noticed driving around the other evening that the E. E. Shelhamer home at 2101 Charles is particularly spectacular with its huge jolly St. Nick on the roof beside a huge Christmas package . . . and we saw Jimmy Hollingswood . . . nearly two . . . walking up and down in front of his grandparents' home, Blanche and Jamie Deal, on Chestnut inspecting the Santa Claus door . . . the letters to Santa Claus in the paper are always so much fun to read . . . and we are amazed that the children don't want just any old doll, wagon, gun, or toy . . . they give the brand names . . . we read the one from C. E. Cantrell the other evening . . . and we are wondering if he really has been good enough to rate a Thunderbird for Christmas! . . . heard that Cecil and Joan Tedrow, who moved to Wichita last fall, were planning to be back for a Christmas party held last night in the Pampa Country Club . . . know all of their friends will be happy to see them.

COMING AND GOING . . . Barry Bowman winged away Thursday via a jet, to visit with his family and friends in Burwick, Pennsylvania . . . Kay and Jimmy Schuneman are due home to spend the holidays with their parents . . . the A. A. Schuhemans and the Kermit Lawsons . . . Kay and Jimmy have been away studying in Kansas City . . . know that a lot of other kinfolk will be re-united to make Christmas the happy season it is meant to be . . . noticed that Dave and Nona Payne have their huge lawn Christmas greeting out to gladden the hearts of passers-by . . . there was a gala at the Pampa Country Club on Friday evening when the Cabot downtown employees got together for their annual party . . . and we hear that there was some mighty fancy dancing going on by the name of "The Twist" . . . all you have to do to learn this dance, we have heard, is to pretend that you are putting a cigarette out . . . first with your left foot and then with your right.

Remember now . . . as the Christmas packages begin to stack up under your Christmas tree, it's no fair to pinch, punch, shake or peek! It just isn't cricket! . . . love ya, Peg

Provocative Program Given By Key Club

Twentieth Century Club met in the home of Mrs. J. W. Gordon, 1817 Charles, on Tuesday afternoon for a Christmas program presented by members of the Pampa Key Club. Mrs. H. E. Stanfield introduced Raymond Nance who served as master of ceremonies. Music was provided by "The Four Cards," James Shelton, Wayne Pursley, Bill Mangham and Kelly Robinson. Raymond Nance discussed the topic "Man Walks Toward God." He stated, "The world has known hatred and greed throughout all its history, but if it is to survive, it must apply more and more of what Christ called 'love of fellow-man.'" "I believe," he continued, "that youth in general is moving toward accepting Divine love as an actual basis of life." John Arthur, in his discussion of "Youth and the Christ," reminded TC members that very little is actually written about Christ as a boy. "History has led to a mental picture of a celebrated baby with wonderful stories that appeal to the very young and then suddenly the image changes and He is a grown man filled with righteous anger, calm encouragement and a disturbing confidence toward His responsibility to God. Perhaps if a zealous man had gone to Bethlehem and on to Nazareth to trace his boyhood, we might have a more thorough understanding of the youth of today. "The Poetry of Christmas" was the topic selected by Vince Johnson. "Poetry becomes the fastest way to convey a full message," he stated in opening remarks. "The Bible offers much prose that is almost poetic in its nature." He read from Luke 2 and "Like Other Boys" by John Oxenham as he showed the image poets have drawn of Christ the Boy. He concluded, "Poetry of Christmas is after all, poetry that teaches us of the power, wisdom and purpose of Jesus."

both good and evil — right and wrong are eternal." The speaker continued, "When people are grouped in a family, a neighborhood or a community, the spirit of Christmas in its true sense gathers with them." "What does Pampa mean to Christ?" he asked, "It means hope, energy, dedication, challenge, good and evil. It means experiences to live and to work together in peace, mutual respect and love." The group sang "God Bless America" and the benediction was delivered by James Shelton. Mrs. R. W. Stowers, president, presided at the brief business meeting. A basket was prepared for a deserving family. After the program a gift exchange was held. ★ Polly's Quiz ★

By Polly Cramer

Decorating for the Christmas season has become nearly as important as year-around decorating. But far too many holiday decorations have gone far afield in past years. Some are all flamboyant color and glitter and have little about them to reflect the Christmas spirit.

Be wary of large investments in exotic decoration and don't attempt "high style" decorations unless yours is a high style house. Some decorations will always reflect the holiday spirit: holly wreaths, red satin bows, pine cones and pine trees. One designer of unusually beautiful decorations uses much gold with deep green velvet ribbons and greens for a rich effect.

Remember Christmas decorations should look like Christmas and be compatible with the style and colors of the room in which they are used.

Dear Polly: Our home will be Early American and I plan to paint the hall and living-dining room walls driftwood white. With a soft beige wall-to-wall carpet, what shall I use for draperies and furniture? Would a deacon's bench be pretty in the hall? Should we paint the doors and windows or leave them natural? — S. J.

Dear S. J.: A deacon's bench is a nice choice for a hall. To emphasize the Early American feeling in your home, paint the woodwork (including doors and windows) a grayed olive-green. This will be most effective with off-white walls.

Draperies and the slip cover for a wing chair could be made of a documentary print in blue, olive, beige or golden brown on a white ground. Cover the sofa with an olive-green linen or linenlike weave.

A pair of easy chairs could repeat the pale beige of the carpet color in a self-toned stripe of the plaid.

SHADE MAGIC

Handsome decorative effects revolve around new tricks with window shade cloths. To make a special design accent of some of the new patterns or textures, order extra yardage for a valance.

Dear Abby

By Abigail
Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Tell me in plain language, how does a nice woman find a nice man? I am a very respectable unmarried woman of 42 who would like male companionship. I disapprove of going alone to bars. I have even thought of writing to a Lonely Hearts' Club, or registering with a Marriage Bureau that matches up people for a small fee. (They claim each applicant is thoroughly investigated and screened.) What do you think of the idea? I don't want to waste my life living alone.

RESPECTABLE AND LONELY DEAR R AND L: In this big, wonderful world no one need be "lonely." Try to make YOURSELF attractive and interesting to men and women. (Women have brothers, cousins and friends who are eligible.) Get out and do volunteer, political, or church work. Make yourself useful and needed. Investigations and screenings mean nothing. Most Lonely Hearts' Clubs and "Marriage Bureaus" are run for $$$ — not as a service to humanity. Don't fall for them.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 19-year-old girl with a problem I have never seen in your column. When I am on a dinner date with a young man and I am asked to order a beverage, I am stuck. You see, I love milk and drink it with all my meals at home, but it seems so babyish to order milk on a date. I don't drink coffee or tea, so it seems foolish to order it and take a few sips. It seems incorrect to order no beverage with my dinner at all, yet I feel funny ordering milk. Can you advise me?

MILK DRINKER

DEAR MILK DRINKER: For goodness sakes, order milk! Your date is probably dying to order it, too, but he feels "funny" because you haven't taken the lead.

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column applied to me, but I didn't write it. My husband has a big-mouthed sister who tells everyone who mentions my name that I am her sister-in-law. This burns me up because as far as I'm concerned, I married my husband and not his family. Furthermore, if this person were not my husband's sister, I wouldn't even speak to her. She is vicious, two-faced and I am not proud to be related to her. What is the solution, Abby? I hate having her call me her sister-in-law.

PROVOKED

DEAR PROVOKED: Whether you like it or not, she IS your sister-in-law. She is apparently prouder of you than you are of her, but the best way to handle the situation is to have as little to do with her as possible.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of this paper.

SS Classes Have Christmas Dinner

The Fellowship Class and the B&PW missionary group of the First Christian Church met jointly for a Christmas dinner recently in the church. Rev. Glyn Adsit gave the invocation.

The program consisted of a tape recording presented by Lydia Gilchrist featuring a message from the pastor and Christmas songs by the choir. This was followed by group singing. Ann Chapman and Bernice Hatcher gave a special reading.

Corsages were presented to Elma Hardin, leader of the B&PW group, and Teresa Humphreys, president of the Fellowship Class, by Lottie Burton.

Mrs. Adsit installed officers for the coming year for the Fellowship Class as follows: president, Lydia Gilchrist; vice - president, Lillian Snow; secretary, Zula

Hawkins; and treasurer, June Cantrell.

Individual gifts were distributed to the class from Teresa Humphreys. Each member also brought a personal gift to be sent to Shirlene Lacy at Juliette Fowler Home. Special appreciation gifts were presented to the teachers of the class, Hortense King, Lottie Burton and Ann Chapman from the class.

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Lottie Burton.

West Virginia Tries To Solve Economic Woes

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— West Virginia is undertaking a massive assault on its problems — mostly economic — that have grown greatly in the past 10 years.

Taxes have been increased about $27 million to improve roads and schools and help bring new industry to the state. The governor and the Legislature are working together for the first time in almost eight years.

Leading the resurgence is Gov. W. W. Barron, a soft-spoken attorney from mountainous Elkins whose background includes service as mayor of his home town, in the legislature, as state liquor commissioner and state attorney general.

Barron, a Democrat, had noteworthy success in getting his entire program enacted by the Legislature earlier this year, including large-scale tax hikes.

For the previous four years there was little cooperation between the strongly Democratic Legislature and Republican Gov. Cecil H. Underwood. And Underwood's Democratic predecessor, William C. Marland, feuded regularly with the lawmakers.

During those years West Virginia's economy suffered sharp reverses as a coal mine after another closed. Production dropped from 173 million tons in 1947 to 117 million in 1960 and, while more than 110,000 West Virginians had jobs in the mines in 1950, last year less than 45,000 turned out all the coal the market could absorb.

By the time Barron was elected last fall there was a growing awareness that something had to be done — and fast.

More state services, especially of the kind needed to make the state more attractive to industry and to tourists, seemed to be part of the answer. Immediate help was needed by the jobless and their families.

Barron proposed an emergency program of public works to put 5,000 family heads to work at $1 an hour. Money for the program came from a temporary increase in the sales tax. For the longer-range effort at boosting the state's economy, the governor asked for — and got — $25 million more for economic development, $8 million to put the road program on a pay-as-you-go basis, $2 million more for higher education. And the Legislature added more than $5 million to give schoolteachers the equivalent of a $400 a year pay hike.

The industrial expansion program included $2 million for a new Industrial Development Authority that will provide state loans for new and expanding industry and $300,000 for a new state Department of Commerce to coordinate the industry-hunting program.

Most of the revenue needed for these new programs is coming from a state income tax enacted in February to produce $15 million a year. Its rate is equal to 6 per cent of what a person pays in federal income taxes.

Pampa Stores Loaded With Thrilling Toys

By BOB HALE
Daily News Staff Writer

With thousands of children all over the country anxiously awaiting the arrival of Christmas, Pampa merchants are doing their part in displaying the endless array of toys that boys and girls may choose from.

Santa himself will find it exciting this year in filling his Christmas lists with new and modern toys. For instance the once old-fashioned model airplane is now available with a gasoline engine and automatic starter.

For that little girl who wants a doll, one of the "hottest" selling items on the toy market is the Chatty Cathy. If this doll doesn't appeal to her, there are rows and rows of other sizes and shapes to choose from.

There are rag dolls, walking dolls, some that drink and become "undry," and there is even a kissing doll.

To complete the doll category there are clothes, beds, blankets, chairs, dishes, dishwashers, and a complete kitchen outfit to set up the little miss in housekeeping.

For the boys on Santa's list, there are thousands of different trucks and heavy duty road equipment sets.

One of the most asked for Christmas gifts by the young men is the Blue and Gray civil war set, with guns, hats and cannons to make the battlefield complete. Another popular selling item this year is the Johnny Reb Cannon set.

Among the modern-age toys, there are airplanes for every taste. Some of the newest and most fascinating are the jet fighter planes that run by a small gasoline engine and actually fly. Another is the Cape Canaveral missile, designed for launching by space-minded youngsters. Many grownups would probably shudder at the amazing robot commando, made of metal and controlled by commands given through a battery operated microphone.

The young science-minded boy or girl would be pleased with the wide selection of chemistry sets available. There is a complete biology lab kit with microscopes and specimens including the frog, starfish, earthworm, crayfish,

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI)— What should the nation's already overflowing universities and colleges do about high school students who come knocking on their doors with less than a "C" average?

The University of Maryland recently inaugurated a program which has attracted the interest of many private and state-operated colleges. Its solution: Require below average students to pass special summer courses before being granted admission.

The University of Maryland's rigorous program lasts for six weeks. Students are required to enroll in two courses: English, and a choice of government and politics or sociology. Engineering students have a third choice of math.

Dr. George Marx, director of the summer program and an assistant professor of education at the university, said that to qualify for admission the students have to pass both courses with at least a "C" in one.

Of 359 students who took the courses last summer, only slightly more than 50 per cent passed them satisfactorily.

One hundred and seventy-six qualified for admission out of the original 359, with 144 students being rejected. Thirty — none dropped out before completion of the program.

"Under our former arrangement, on - trial students were admitted and only one in six survived after two years," Dr. R. Lee Hornbake, vice - president for academic affairs, said in an interview. "This is expensive, and frustrating to the student and the university."

No more on - trial students those admitted dubiously pending attainment of certain grades — will be admitted to the university, said Dr. Hornbake. He said the pre - college summer session is designed to separate those students capable of doing college work from those who would not be able to finish a four - year program.

He explained that the university is trying to develop an admissions policy of graduation

$50,000 Offered To Canadian For A Citizens Home

CANADIAN (SpI) — A gift of $50,000 to start a building fund for a modern convalescent home for elder citizens of this area has been offered by the Abraham family of Canadian to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, with the provision that the community raise a matching amount to create a $100,000 endowment fund.

The gift from the Abrahams, Mr. and Mrs. N. Abraham and sons, Tom and Malouf, all of Canadian, and Nay Abraham of Amarillo, is being offered as a memorial to another son, Eddie Abraham, whose death, following a heart attack, shocked this community two months ago.

It was 44-year old Eddie Abraham, an active civic worker and member of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, who had launched a one-man campaign shortly before his death to establish a convalescent home in Canadian for older people.

At the October meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, he had told members that "Canadian ought to take care of its own folks without any help from the government," and declared his intention to devote his own time to the promotion of such a project.

The $50,000 gift from the Abraham family was announced at a Chamber of Commerce meeting this week. C.C. President Gobpr Mitchell read a letter written by Malouf Abraham on behalf of the family offering to contribute $50,000 to the project "if the people of this area will match it."

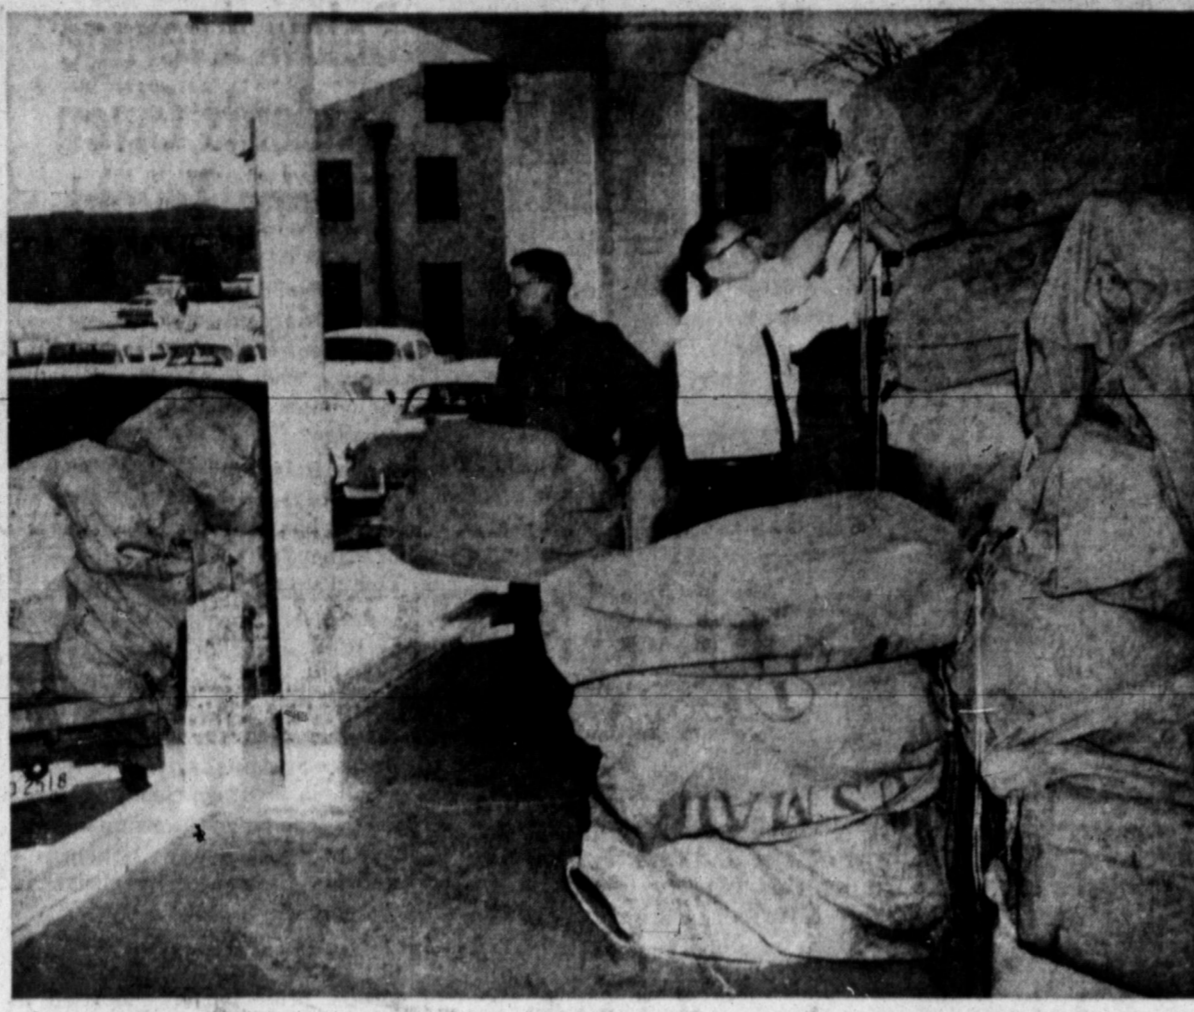

The only other strings attached to the offer were that the Chamber of Commerce should act as a sponsoring organization, and that it be operated under supervision of a board of trustees to be appointed by the chamber.

Plans are to set up a non-profit foundation to build the home and operate it on a permanent basis. The Chamber of Commerce directors will act as a steering committee, and people of the Canadian area will be invited to take part in the project, with the provision that elder citizens from Canadian and neighboring towns would have first call on the facilities of the home.

Patrol Reports On County Auto Crashes In 1961

The Highway Patrol investigated 17 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during the month of November according to Sergeant J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol Supervisor for the Pampa area.

The wrecks accounted for five persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $7,555.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Gray County from January through November of 1961 shows a total of 143 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were 6 persons killed and 95 persons injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $81,684.00.

The patrol supervisor announced that a stepped-up traffic law enforcement program is being launched in an all-out effort to stem the tide of traffic deaths during the remainder of the year. "We find ourselves confronted with the alarming fact that statistics indicate some 238 persons will be killed in traffic crashes in Texas this December," the Sergeant stated.

The patrol supervisor reported that as of Friday, December 1, a total of 2014 traffic deaths had been reported to the department, as compared with 1984 during the same period in 1960. "This represents an increase of 30 deaths or two per cent," he said, "and presents all of us with a stern challenge to hold the line during the month of December. This will not be an easy job, because the toll of 218 deaths during December, 1960, was low for that month of the year and we will have to beat that in order to halt the trend toward a higher death toll for 1961.

"But we feel confident that with an accelerated enforcement program and most important, the active support and cooperation of the driving public — the statistics can be made to lie. And that is exactly what we propose to do.

"We feel that the traffic death tragedy cannot be over-emphasized. When it is considered that during last year alone, there were 2,234 violent deaths on the streets and highways of our state caused by colliding motor vehicles; it can readily be seen that concerted action on the part of everyone concerned is in order," the Sergeant added.

America's Allies Warned Of Perils By Secretary Rusk

PARIS (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk warned America's allies today that the Communist drive in the Middle East, Southeast Asia and Latin America may be as dangerous to the West as the threat to Berlin.

In a sweeping worldwide survey to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council, Rusk also told how the United States is liberalizing its trade and expressed hopes that other nations would follow its lead.

Rusk spoke at the NATO council concluded a three-day review of cold war issues, including Berlin and the speeded-up arms drive.

H. R. Thompson Auto Parts Firm Serves Big Area

H. R. Thompson Parts and Supply, Inc. represents an interesting evolution from a farm implement setup to a versatile firm which makes Pampa the hub of a 50 to 150 mile distribution point for automotive parts and supplies.

In fact, Raeburn Thompson has been "in" on Pampa's growth pattern ever since 1929 when he was in partnership with T. C. Lively on a venture which poses as a remarkable transition for both. They were in the hardware and implement business through 1936 when they discontinued implements in favor of automotive parts.

In 1944, their business had grown to such extent that they decided to dissolve the partnership. Lively retained the hardware business and Thompson took the automotive parts department and moved to the present location at 312 W. Kingsmill. Thompson incorporated just three years ago and now has his son, Ray, as a stockholder. Ray has been actively engaged in the business since his youth.

They started out in 1944 with a staff of six personnel and now a total of 20 people are active in the firm, and paychecks count up to between $100,000 and $120,000 a year.

Besides the two Thompsons, key personnel include Charlie Miller, machine shop foreman; Bill Abernathy, parts manager; Steve Oates, shipping and receiving manager; Mrs. Eileen Greer, head bookkeeper; Mary Florence, in charge of inventory system; Nathan Lancaster and Ed Chisum, counter salesmen and outside salesmen are James Cullen, shipping and receiving manager; Jim Maher and Noel Clifton in the territory.

Miller has been active with the firm ever since they were a party to the partnership in the implement business.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — This essay is addressed to all parents of little children. Little children in this rich United States are getting a raw deal in too many cities and towns.

The raw deal is that they are being educated under a system so impractical that it might be described as a three-legged stool from which one leg had been removed and the others loosened in their sockets.

This rickety system of education began some years ago to raise on a national level a disturbing question. It was this: "Why Can't Johnny Read?"

The answer seems to be that the methods by which the little Johnnies are taught to read do not, in fact, teach him. College presidents are complaining now that entering freshmen are so deficient in reading that they must be exposed to a course in remedial reading before they can proceed.

If parents are unconcerned about this situation, they do not deserve to be parents. If teachers are not concerned, they should not be teachers. Any parent or teacher sufficiently interested to act may learn something about this problem and what can be done about it for as little as 25 cents.

Two bits will buy a 15-page pamphlet published by the Council for Basic Education, 725 Fifteenth St., N. W., Washington, D. C. The pamphlet is No. 1 of a projected series of "occasional papers." It will be part of a book soon to be published by the council, and written by Dr. Carl F. Hansen, superintendent of schools in the District of Columbia.

Progressive education is getting its lumps from Dr. Hansen, Dr. Hansen believes little children should get an education even if they must suffer the indignity of having to work for it. He has proceeded beyond theory to establish in practice here in Washington an elementary school in which the little children do, indeed, work.

This is known as Amidon school. It is a fireball success. The progressivist do not like it. Dr. Hansen reports in the pamphlet: "It seems to some teachers and principals that I was determined (at Amidon) to impose a harsh and rigid program upon children, who then would be subjected to the indignity of having to work for an education in a nearby school system, a principal told an inquiring parent that the Amidon plan would put children in a strait jacket and warp their personalities."

None of these things came to pass. On the contrary, all is well at Amidon and the kids thrive on it. Here are some of the principles of Amidon education as stated by Dr. Hansen:

Basic subjects are phonics, reading, literature, composition, speech, spelling, grammar and usage, handwriting, arithmetic, science, geography, history, art, music, health and physical education.

about this situation, they do not deserve to be parents. If teachers are not concerned, they should not be teachers. Any parent or teacher sufficiently interested to act may learn something about this problem and what can be done about it for as little as 25 cents.

Two bits will buy a 15-page pamphlet published by the Council for Basic Education, 725 Fifteenth St., N. W., Washington, D. C. The pamphlet is No. 1 of a projected series of "occasional papers." It will be part of a book soon to be published by the council, and written by Dr. Carl F. Hansen, superintendent of schools in the District of Columbia.

Progressive education is getting its lumps from Dr. Hansen, Dr. Hansen believes little children should get an education even if they must suffer the indignity of having to work for it. He has proceeded beyond theory to establish in practice here in Washington an elementary school in which the little children do, indeed, work.

This is known as Amidon school. It is a fireball success. The progressivist do not like it. Dr. Hansen reports in the pamphlet: "It seems to some teachers and principals that I was determined (at Amidon) to impose a harsh and rigid program upon children, who then would be subjected to the indignity of having to work for an education in a nearby school system, a principal told an inquiring parent that the Amidon plan would put children in a strait jacket and warp their personalities."

Financial Review

By JESSE BOGUE...
NEW YORK (UPI) — About 3,500 registered representatives have been added by New York Stock Exchange member firms in 1961, preliminary figures showed today and at the beginning of December there were more than 30,000 such listed.

The rapid growth of this particular type of employment is another indication, if one is needed, of the expansion of postwar interest among the American public in investment in securities markets. In 1942, the NYSE had only 6,719 registered representatives, according to figures furnished United Press International.

Another indication of interest was shown by the graduation this week of 39 young men who completed an intensive six months' training course for their new job from Francis I. Du Pont and Co., one of the largest of the investment firms, and passed the NYSE examination qualifying them.

While 39 were graduated, there were nearly 1,200 applicants for the jobs that were open. They underwent extensive psychological and personality tests, by a director of training, John Rice; and the final selection was confirmed by a committee of the firm's partners.

The NYSE sets up in its constitution and rules a set of requirements for registered representatives of member firms, realizing the importance of these men who ordinarily are those with whom an investor deals when he wants to put his money into some form of securities.

The exchange looks not only at his ability to do his job, and his knowledge of its requirements; but for the integrity of the candidate and his record of high standards of business conduct.

Tax Transactions Called Dominant In Stock Trading

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tax transactions involving both profits and losses continue to dominate the stock market as prices chase each other around in strange convolutions without any discernible trend, says the Investograph Stock Survey.

However, it adds, some patterns are beginning to emerge. The long-liquidated oils are beginning to get support and last week impressive buying, developed in the auto group "where things seem to be getting better and better."

L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. says this is the time of year when it sometimes pays to look around for unpopular issues under severe tax selling pressure. He says if the stocks show further weakness in the next two weeks, it might be a good idea to take trading positions in some of the better electronics and vending machine shares.

Recently granted rate increase call attention to the fact that carefully selected utilities are still legitimate purchases despite the long and steady rise of the group as a whole, according to Thomson & McKinnon.

Joseph E. Grantville of E. F. Hutton & Co. says that despite little spots of weakness and intermittent phases of irregularity which occur from time to time, the market as a whole continues to perform well and there is no change in the current opinion which is a bullish one, calling for new highs on year-end strength with a good spillover into the new year.

First U. S. Tobacco Crop Grown In 1612

NEW YORK (NEA)—Ah, romance. It is exactly 350 years an Englishman named John Rolfe wooed and won a local girl from Jamestown, Va., named Pocohontas — and started a fire around the world that is still smoking furiously today.

For with the nuptials barely finished, Rolfe took his wife's dowry and hurried down to the town wharf to pay off a bribe.

For a price, a Dutch sea captain had smuggled a handful of tobacco seed out of Spanish-held Santo Domingo for Rolfe. And within the year of 1612, the first commercial crop was harvested and exported, putting Virginia on a paying basis.

Now, tobacco had been around Europe ever since one of Columbus' sailors named Jerez had picked up the smoking habit in the Bahamas in 1492. But, generally, it was only sailors on the Atlantic run who used tobacco for the next century.

Little by little, the fashion spread. But once the Jamestown crop proved successful, tobacco hit the world like a hula hoop.

In England, clay pipes were to be seen everywhere. In Rome, a pope called on one of his cardinals for instruction in smoking. In Africa, natives traded land, cattle, and even their fellow tribesmen for tobacco.

Historian Jerome Brooks notes that, during the Great Plague of 1664, school children were given a daily medicinal pipe. Queen Caroline's court in England used tobacco as a dentifrice. In the Orient, opium users began to smoke their narcotics for the first time — mixed, or course, with tobacco from America.

In every civilized capital in the world, professors "in the art of whiffing" gave expensive series of lectures, according to one chronicler.

And if smoking were that profitable, Yankee ingenuity calculated, tobacco must have many more uses. Consequently, snuff was born and happily accepted during the Revolutionary war, acceptable donation to Gen. Washington's war fund.

Meanwhile, John Rolfe's crop, had spread widely throughout the Southern colonies, making fortunes for many planters, luring new and needed settlers from Europe, forcing a young country to build a merchant marine fleet that would be vitally needed in the coming fight against England.

Curiously, too, the vast lands needed for tobacco growing resulted in the development of representative government. The planters could not make the long trip to town meetings as farmers in New England could.

And today, with Americans buying 47 billion cigars and cigarettes annually, and 170 million pounds of smoking and chewing tobacco and snuff, Rolfe's marriage to Pocohontas still is being lived happily ever after.

Weather Delays Crop Harvesting

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—The coldest weather of the season held most of Texas in an icy grip at mid-week. The moisture which preceded the cold kept outdoor farming activities at a virtual standstill, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said today.

The service added that little progress was made during the week toward getting crops out of the fields in northern and High Plains areas. Harvesting was also slowed in other areas.

Only about 75 per cent of the expected bumper South Plains cotton crop is out south of Lubbock and 50 per cent to the north. Considerable grain sorghum and well over half of the northern High Plains cotton crop was still in the fields and harvesting remained at a standstill.

Ranges have been helped by the moisture and conditions of both ranges and livestock are generally good.

Rain in far South Texas should help the pasture and oats situation but a general rain was said to be needed in far West Texas. The Kimble-Llano area was described as a moisture short area.

The vegetable harvest is moving along but the cold which hit at mid-week is sure to slow the growth. Temperatures before the cold front passage were unseasonably warm.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated in furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Sanctity Of Ownership

Nearly everyone speaks up in favor of private ownership of property, particularly when it is his own property in question. The concept, broadly speaking, is as widely accepted as the concepts of the sanctity of the home and mother love.

And while there are few who would care to champion the idea of just a little non-sanctity in the home, and just a little erosion of the beautiful picture of mother love, there is a general but unspoken agreement that private ownership of property, the other fellow's property, is something else again.

Here is the place where in the minds of many people the Golden Rule doesn't apply. To our view, here is the place it must apply. If you cannot condone the idea of losing your property, it seems to us in harmony with the Golden Rule that you must support the right of your neighbor to his property. Indeed, this is the very core of morality and the basic concept by means of which human beings have evolved beyond and above the brute.

But too often we hear persons speaking up in favor of taking away just a LITTLE of their neighbor's property (usually in the form of money) because, it is claimed, the neighbor has certain defects of character which prevent him from employing his property "correctly."

Education Or Chaos

H. G. Wells once stated that civilization was a race between education and chaos. The more we think of this cryptic utterance, the more favorably impressed we are with it.

Man's emergence as an intelligent biped, capable of responsibility, self-reliance, integrity, compassion, appreciation of beauty, and so on, is largely an educational process. Today in this world there are still tribal groups living in an economic state of savagery, even as there are other groups, with minds finely attenuated, living in an advanced state of awareness, with comprehension of scholarship.

Physiologically speaking, these two groups have little in the way of differences. The distinction between them relates to what each one knows and believes.

The Bindie - Bu of Central Australia still believe in the ghosts and demons of ancestors of a thousand years ago. They live a primitive, nomadic existence, foraging for sustenance, ill equipped mentally to provide even the most primitive tools for themselves.

How is it possible that such people could still inhabit this world in a year of guided missiles, rocket propulsion, nuclear fission, television and paved highways?

The answer is that the species homo sapiens has never advanced along a broad front involving all of its members. The advancement made by the race, or more properly, by a part of the race, has occurred because CERTAIN INDIVIDUALS put aside tribal custom and taboo to dare a new way of doing things.

Human progress is geared to its intellectual leaders, not to its cus-

Enough To Give A Guy A Complex!

It is sometimes well to see ourselves as others see us. In this connection attention is called to a lead article in a newspaper of Warsaw, Poland — a Communist paper of course. Translated, it reads in part: "There is joy and satisfaction over the statement made by General Clay on the current situation."

"The conscious indiscretion of Gen. Clay, personal representative of President Kennedy in West Berlin — which was committed at a banquet in his honor by the authorities of that city — became generally understood as a hint at a new approach by the United States toward the problem of the two German states. The more so because of the fact that at the same time the leader of the Democratic majority in the Senate, Mansfield, put the dot over the 'i' by stating that de facto recognition of East Germany may become unavoidable. Let us speak bluntly: if the U.S.A. wants to save face in the Berlin crisis — and the losing of face would be the greatest blow to the prestige of the United States since the Korean war — it cannot be dogmatic regarding the recognition of the German Democratic Republic."

That puppet regime is neither "democratic" nor is it a "republic," but communists are adept at distorting meanings of words. The Warsaw newspaper makes it clear that, to the communist world at least, the "cuff comment" of Gen. Clay was a "conscious indiscretion." And so it was understood in this country by those who rejected State Department contradictions to the contrary. Apparently that Polish newspaper does not receive the routine news releases sent out by Edward R. Murrow, head of the U.S. Information Agency explaining that "indiscreet" comment of Gen. Clay's.

Reluctantly we must admit that the Warsaw newspaper puts it truthfully when observing that the United States lost prestige in the Korean war. Not only did we lose prestige, we suffered an ignominious defeat, the magnitude of which is better known to the communists than it is to most of our own people. We permitted the U.N. to direct our military operations, instead of relying on U.S. leadership.

We will lose more prestige and suffer another humiliating defeat if our pro-appeasement politicians make genuflection to Khrushchev and flinch on the Berlin front. Nor can we accord recognition to a puppet regime of the Soviet that has found it necessary to build concrete walls and erect miles of barbed wire barricades to keep people in the vast prison called East Germany. For once, regrettable to admit, the communist press was right, when citing our loss of prestige in Korea. But it was wrong in asserting that recognition of that puppet regime will regain our waning prestige.

On the contrary our rejection of such a proposal will greatly enhance our position in the world and could be the needed action to topple that illegitimate offspring of the Soviet into political limbo — and soon we hope.

This significant backstage development has been ascertained by the special House committee, headed by Representative Paul Kitchin, D. N.C., investigating reports that NATO countries are materially aiding the development of Iron Curtain defense and heavy industries by selling them hundreds of millions of dollars of latest-model strategic and technological machines and equipment.

RED MENACE — Secretary Dean Rusk, personally brought up the Soviet wheat rust fallout problem at a meeting with the House probers.

The State Department chief raised this subject as a graphic illustration of his contention that some bases of cooperation with Russia are necessary to protect our own interests and welfare.

"There are certain areas where cooperation is essential in our own defense," Rusk asserted. "Wheat rust is a concrete instance."

"By that I take it you mean that rust fallout from Russia is hitting our country," said Representative Kitchin.

"That is correct," replied Rusk. "We are watching this matter very closely. It could become extremely serious. If the Soviet does not keep abreast of its own insect-borne viruses and we are suddenly hit with mutations of these viruses, we could be under grave threat with an affliction that originated in Russia."

"New strains of wheat rust have been found in our hemisphere with all indications that they are coming from the Soviet. Unless the Russians do a reasonably good job of keeping up with their own wheat rust, we can be seriously affected by rust fallout blown by high-velocity winds. We could be badly damaged, and many countries depending on us for food could be hurt, too."

HOW RUSK SEES IT — While giving no hint of what the Kennedy Administration may do about selling grain to Red China, Secretary Rusk was not disap-

ROBERT ALLEN ALLEN - SCOTT Report PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A new Russian fallout menace is threatening the U.S. — which, while very serious, is unrelated to the recent atmospheric nuclear tests.

This new fallout danger is wheat rust, being blown by high-velocity winds from the Soviet to the North American continent with increasingly alarming consequences to the wheat crops of the U.S. and Canada — principal granaries of the world.

Agricultural authorities fear that if the Russian wheat rust fallout cannot be effectively curbed, U.S. and Canadian wheat production will be severely hit.

That, in turn, would have grave world-wide repercussions, as many countries, pro-West, neutralist and Communist, are largely dependent on U.S. and Canadian grain to avert critical food shortages.

Among the most seriously affected would be Red China, which has bought millions of tons of Canadian wheat and, as this column disclosed several weeks ago, has put out feelers for huge quantities of U.S. grain. India, which contemplates buying $100 million of U.S. surplus crops for a number of years; Egypt, Poland; and undeveloped countries in Latin America, Africa and elsewhere.

This problem is deemed so urgent that Washington and Ottawa have sounded out Moscow on sending wheat experts to Russia for first-hand studies of the rust menace and to assist in devising measures to overcome it.

Unquestionably that is a factor," pointed out Representative Delbert Latta, R. Ohio. "But it is also undeniable that the Communists brought this on themselves, and armies still march on their stomachs."

"That is true," agreed Rusk. "But if through the difficulties they are having with their agricultural production, they must strain themselves to buy foodstuffs with their foreign exchange instead of using it to spread subversion and revolution, then I think that's the safest use for it. It must also be kept in mind that refusal to help feed people who are starving may cause a serious health threat to neighboring countries."

"In what way?" "A cholera epidemic in China, as is now prevalent," replied Rusk, "isn't good for anyone. It is spreading to other countries and could spread further. We are doing everything we can to fight these cholera outbreaks in these countries."

"What you are saying in substance," said Representative Kitchin, "is that from a humanitarian standpoint and our historic friendly relations with Canada, we cannot object too seriously to their trade with Red China. We may not approve of it, but we can't do much about it."

"We have discussed it fully with them," explained Rusk. "We have made it clear we would not like to see them underwrite China's economy in this way. Neither do we wish to see them trade without quite a bit of cash being put on the barrelhead, instead of grants and long-term credits. But at the same time, we realize this trade has advantages as well as disadvantages."

"In the past few years, Red China has been increasingly active in revolutionary operations in many parts of the world. One of the causes of the friction between Peiping and Moscow is their direct competition in various areas. Red China is most active in Latin America and in Africa."

Now it does not disturb me too much to see their foreign exchange being spent for the basic need of feeding their own people instead of furthering Communistic doctrines and penetrations in other countries. If I had to choose a way to absorb their foreign exchange, I'm not sure but that spending it for food for the Chi-

Government Gobbledygook Makes Red Tape Redder

WASHINGTON (Nea) — Old-fashioned government red tape — bane of the taxpayers for more than a century — is now being modernized. It is being replaced by the magnetic tape of electronic computers. This doesn't reduce the gobbledygook very much. It introduces a lot of new code words that add to the confusion.

In a fancy, new, two-color pamphlet and a much bigger technical manual introducing a new robot management plan just approved for his department by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman is a new alphabet soup lingo that includes MODE and PADA and ADAM and MOHR and FAME and GMAE.

MODE stands for Management of the Department's Objectives through Dollars provided by Congress with Employees, PADA stands for Payroll Automation for the Department of Agriculture. ADAM is Agriculture Department Automated Manpower. MOHR is management of human resources. FAME is Financial Analysis of Management Effectiveness. GME is gaming Analysis of Game. That makes everything clear, doesn't it?

As explained by the book, this is a sweeping effort to streamline administrative efforts in the Department of Agriculture by cutting administrative costs $1.5 million in three years. In the future, decisions will be aided by mathematical applications in two areas — human relations and plained by John C. Cooper Jr., management effectiveness.

Critics of the Department of Agriculture may suggest it could save billions of dollars, not millions, a lot faster by cutting out some of the more expensive farm programs.

But it's MODE (see above) they're going to start with. As explained by John C. Cooper Jr., deputy director of Freeman's budget and finance office and the project director of this operation, all payroll, personnel, budget and procurement accounting will be taken care of by a computer.

These people is the best way. "That isn't the final answer, because it is a complex problem. But Red China has only a limited amount of foreign exchange, and it must be a strain on them to have to spend it to prevent famine in their own country. And that's what they are up against. They are using most of their foreign exchange to provide a minimum diet for their people. That's far better than their spending it for subversion and revolution in other countries."

en out of Washington and local offices scattered all over the country. This information will be concentrated in New Orleans where the department already has a $2.5-million IBM 705 III ADP — automatic data processing computer — in its DPC (data processing center).

This machine is now used for problems such as remembering where the government has all its wheat stored and how much of each grade there is, so as to compute how to make a blend that will satisfy some prospective purchaser's order.

Records of all department of Agriculture employees will now be fed into this New Orleans machine on 18 or 20 magnetic tapes within a year. The data will include wage rates, overtime, vacations, sick leave, taxes withheld for federal and state governments, deductions for savings bond purchases, health insurance, pension payments and civil service.

By this operation, it is believed that the costs of keeping books on each employee will be cut from $46 to $31 a year. It will save 241 man-years of labor and eliminate 17,000 reports which the department now makes to other agencies.

Tapes will also be prepared for 50 or 60 other programs which will be used in two research projects on management analysis. This work will be done at Dallas, where the department now leases part-time a 7070 computer owned by an insurance company. This is where MOHR and FAME and GAME come in.

For the top 44,000 employees, selective data will be put on tape concerning education, capability, achievements, ambitions and what their supervisors think of them.

Then, if they want a veterinarian who speaks German and is available for immediate assignment overseas, "Through the use of Boolean algebra," says the book, "the computer will construct the logic required to locate the potential employe for satisfying the request."

Comments expert Cooper: "The department can now tell you everything you want to know about a dairy cow. But the information about its own employes is buried in the files of 130 personnel offices and almost impossible to get at."

The computer will tell budget officers if they are spending money too fast. And by the GAME process of computing numerous variables on a given problem, it will be able to determine the most efficient and economical operation, in seconds.

Curb On Foreign Oil Held Vital To U.S. Security

DALLAS — Effective limitations on oil imports have been established as vital to the security of the United States through long studies by both Congress and the executive branch of government on a non-partisan basis, says a statement from the Oil Imports Committee of the Independent Petroleum Association, which continues:

There is a critical and urgent need for action to strengthen the government's present mandatory oil import program.

Unleashed by economic conditions in the domestic petroleum industry have reached the point where delay on this matter can only imperil the nation's energy mobilization base for preservation of world peace.

Therefore, the officers of the Independent Petroleum Association of America are authorized and directed to immediately and vigorously pursue the following courses of action:

1. Request an urge the President of the United States to reconsider his December 2 proposal that would delay action needed to strengthen the oil import program.
2. Request and urge the President to take immediate action to assure an effective oil import program by revising the present program in accordance with recommendations adopted by the membership of this association at its Annual Meeting on October 31, 1961.
3. Advocate and support congressional action necessary to accomplish this objective.
4. Continue cooperation with government in every program to restore a vigorous and expanding domestic petroleum industry capable of providing adequate and available supplies of oil and gas in the interest of national security.
5. Invite and solicit the active cooperation of other trade associations, companies, groups and individuals in this united common effort to maintain U. S. energy supremacy as a deterrent to war and a foundation for economic growth.

Gas Firm Asks Storage Project Permit In Iowa

CHICAGO — Natural Gas Storage Company of Illinois filed an application yesterday with the Federal Power Commission in Washington, D. C., asking authority to take further steps toward development of an underground storage facility near Columbus Junction, Ia., about 45 miles southwest of Davenport, in Iowa County.

An application also is before the Iowa State Commerce Commission.

The company currently operates a major storage field at Herscher, Ill., near Kankakee, and a smaller one at Cooks Mills, Ill., near Mattoon.

In the application, the company asked to construct and operate facilities necessary to evaluate more fully the storage capabilities of the area. The operation if successful would augment the storage service NGS now performs for customers of Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, an affiliate.

"About 2.8 billion cubic feet of gas would be injected during 1962, in the initial phase of the development," G. P. Garver, president of the firm, said.

Esso Education Grants Readied

NEW YORK — J. J. Rathbone, chairman of the Esso Education Foundation, today announced grants of nearly $1,900,000 for the 1951-62 academic year. The Foundation, established in 1953 by Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), of which Rathbone is president, is also supported by five domestic affiliates of Jersey Standard — Humble Oil & Refining Company, Esso International Inc., Esso Research and Engineering Company, Humble Pipe Line Company, and Jersey Production Research Company.

The rapid growth in numbers and size of major development campaigns is highly significant to members of the educational world and to all those having an interest in the private support of education, Mr. Rathbone said. Therefore, the Foundation has increased its development and capital awards this year by over fifty per cent to $447,000.

Unrestricted grants continue to make up the largest single category in the Esso Education program, with 266 institutions receiving $763,000, the National Fund for Medical Education $85,000 and the United Negro College Fund $50,000, to bring the unrestricted grant category to nearly $900,000.

India's Frontier Woes May Force Resort To Arms

NEW DELHI (UPI) — India, involved in border disputes in three areas of its vast frontier, has raised the possibility of solving them by force if its traditional policies of non-violence fail.

The areas at stake are Kashmir state, which both India and Pakistan claim; the Portuguese enclave of Goa, which India wants to "liberate" and Portugal refuses to abandon; and the 43,000 square miles of disputed territory along the border between India and Communist China.

In each case, Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has called for peaceful solutions, but the threat of war to defend India's interests has been either expressed or implied.

In the Chinese dispute, Nehru said last week that India would "resist and repel" any Communist attack on Indian territory, warning: "I do not rule out war."

He warned last summer that any Pakistani attack on Kashmir would result in war. "We are capable of defending ourselves, with our own men and weapons," he added in a reference to U.S. military aid to Pakistan. India, has refused such aid.

Nehru refused to agree last week to a parliamentary demand that the Indian army invade Goa and claim it for India. He said he could not state what steps India would take to "liberate" Goa. A government spokesman said a future "police action" against the colony could not be ruled out.

The border dispute with Red China began in August, 1959, when Chinese Communist troops penetrated the Indian border regions at points opposite Tibet. India, whose neutrality at that time had been criticized as leaning more to the Communist than the Western camp, called it "a clear case of aggression."

In October, India announced Communist troops attacked an Indian force in the Ladakh region of the border, killing nine and capturing 10 soldiers. China replied by claiming the right to order its troops to cross the border claimed by India if India did not keep its forces out of what it considered Chinese territory.

Nehru met with Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai, but they failed to reach agreement. The McMahon Line, drawn in 1914 as the border when Britain ruled India, was "absolutely unacceptable to China," Chou said. But he promised his troops would not cross it, and asked India not to send forces into Chinese-occupied territory in another border area.

The dispute sharpened again in recent weeks. India protested a series of border incursions by Communist patrols. Nehru warned of war in two consecutive speeches to Parliament. China answered with a propaganda barrage unprecedented in its relations with India.

It accused Nehru of lying, lacking moral courage and "pursuing an unfriendly policy towards China." It charged that Nehru's "anti-Chinese campaign is inseparably connected with U.S. 'assistance' to India.

The consequences of the Chinese attacks, both military and verbal, have been to drive India closer to the East. Peiping's territorial gains have been minor by comparison, and of small strategic value in the remote and rugged mountain territory.

Portugal's tiny enclave of Goa on the west coast of India, about the size of Rhode Island, was a stubborn holdout when Britain ended its colonial rule in 1947 and France followed in 1954. It remains a holdout.

Portugal has ruled Goa since 1510, and its government has cited a treaty with Britain dating back to 1681 as a guarantee of its sovereignty.

An invasion by India could easily overwhelm Goa, which is estimated to have about 3,000 troops in the territory. But such an attack could badly tarnish India's image as a force for world peace and would not seem to be worth the minor gain for Nehru.

Kashmir state, about the size of Kansas, lies between India and Pakistan. The Kashmir dispute has been relatively quiet since last summer, when Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan visited Washington, and secured the promise of more arms.

But India has incorporated its areas of Kashmir into its boundaries by means of a constitution adopted by the pro-Indian government of Kashmir. The United Nations does not recognize this step.
