Wilson Set To Seek Job As Governor

AUSTIN (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson dumped his derby in the gubernatorial ring and made official Wednesday what most political observers had known for months—that he is a candidate next year come what may.

He becomes the first candidate in the race for the Democratic nomination and an ambition he has had for 15 years of political life.

Wilson wanted to run in the last election, but a decision by Gov. Price Daniel to seek a third term upset his time-table, and he announced for, and won, his third term as attorney general in a torrid contest with former House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock.

In making his announcement, he tossed a number of barbs at Daniel who has not yet ruled out the possibility he will seek an unprecedented fourth term as chief executive.

"I pledge a fight for economy in Texas government and to hold the line against new taxation," Wilson said, obviously making reference to the first sales tax in Texas history which was passed by the last session of the legislature.

Wilson said he considered Daniel, Navy Secretary John Connally and U.S. Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth as "possible" opposition in the Democratic primary, but said he did not think Daniel and Connally would both run.

Former State Highway Commissioner Marshall Formby of Plainview has said he will make a formal announcement about his plans to run for governor in January.

Jack Cox, who made a determined bid to unseat Daniel as a Democratic candidate in the last election, has announced this time he will run as a Republican.

Wilson said he would not start an active campaign until next spring, because of the backlog of work to do in my office and because now would be too early."

Asked what his political position is, he replied, "I run to the right of center generally."

"I WANT A" — Ole St. Nick was in Pampa yesterday checking on the final details of the Santa Day parade to be held Friday at 3 p.m. Annette DiCosimo took the opportunity to tell Santa her Christmas wishes. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe DiCosimo, 1907 N. Nelson.

Pampa's Santa Parade Slated Friday Afternoon

Pampa's annual Santa Day Parade will unfold at 3:30 p.m. Friday beginning at the intersection of Craven and S. Cuyler streets where Parade Marshal Wesley Langham will blow the whistle to officially open the Christmas season in Pampa.

Four bands, including the Pampa High School, Robert E. Lee Junior High School, Pampa Junior High School, and Wheeler High School will provide sparkling Christmas music for the parade route. Several organizations and commercial floats will be in the parade line-up.

Cash prizes of $35 and $20 will go to the organizations having the best floats in the Religious and Santa Claus themes. An engraved plaque will be awarded to the best commercial float or entry.

Following the parade, Santa Claus will visit with youngsters on the south lawn of the Gray County Court House while the Robert E. Lee Junior High School Band, under the direction of Joe DiCosimo, plays traditional Christmas music.

Santa Claus helpers, working under the direction of Ed Anderson, will pass out 4,000 Christmas candy canes to boys and girls in the Pampa area who are expected to be in town for the annual affair.

Santa Claus will be riding atop Pampa's spanking new fire truck and will hail greetings to those along the line of march.

Installation of Pampa's street decorations was to be finished today and lights are expected to be ready for turning on at parade time. The Jaycees, with the help of Pampa's Electrical Contractors Association, have been busy the past few days putting the street decorations in order.

The parade route will be as follows: Starting at the intersection of South Cuyler and Craven, the parade will move north to Browning, west on Browning to Frost, south on Frost to Foster, west on Foster to West Street where the parade will break-up.

All organizations and individuals taking part in the Christmas pageant have been requested to be at the parade starting point not later than 3 p.m.

Police and sheriff's officers will be on duty in downtown Pampa to handle traffic and clear the way along the parade route.

Holiday Shoppers Urged To Watch Purses, Packages

Police Chief Jim Conner today issued a warning to Christmas shoppers who have left purses or billfolds lying on a store counter only to return and find them gone.

"Each year at this time," Chief Conner said, "we get reports from shoppers who have left purses or billfolds lying on a store counter only to return and find them gone."

The police chief also warned shoppers about leaving packages in unlocked automobiles.

"There are persons who watch for the opportunity to take packages from an unlocked car while the owner goes back into a store to do more shopping," Chief Conner said.

A warning also was issued to motorists about double parking in the downtown district to wait for a parking place to open up.

"This is one of the most flagrant violations we have at this time of the year," Conner said, "and we are going to be forced to issue tickets to drivers who persist in the practice."

The chief said the double-parking violation throws traffic into a jam and causes situations which become dangerous to pedestrians and motorists alike.

Merchants Asked To Help Relieve Parking Problem

Lou Troja, chairman of the Merchants Activities Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, today appealed to downtown merchants to ask their employees not to park their cars in front of business places during the Christmas holiday season.

"We would like to have every merchant cooperate in asking employees not to park in the downtown parking places in the business district," Troja said. "These parking places should be available to customers."

Troja said many employees leave their cars parked in front of stores all day and run out every hour to put another nickel in the parking meter.

"This is simply taking up a space that could be used by a customer of the store," Troja added.

Nuclear Ban Pact Outlook Clouded

GENEVA (UPI)—Diplomatic sources said today it looked as if Russia had lost all interest in a nuclear test ban treaty, with or without controls.

They rated as near zero chances for agreement here between the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

Orbit Flight By Marine Not Expected This Year; Space Chimp Examined Agency Names Astronaut For Global Circuit

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—A 40-year-old Marine will ride America's first manned flight into orbit, but he will need something akin to a miracle to make the space trip this year.

Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. vowed he was "ready to go now." His selection to make the first orbital trip was announced Wednesday. But scientists have grounded him until they can solve the troubles that caused a premature end to an attempt to hurl a chimpanzee three times around the earth Wednesday.

Space chimp Enos was pulled safely back to earth after two orbits when problems cropped up in the cooling and control systems of his Mercury capsule. The flight was ended after 56,000 miles "to save the mission and his life," said Mercury operations chief Walter Williams.

Enos was to Bermuda early today for medical checksup and observation before being returned to Cape Canaveral.

The 5½-year-old male chimp and the space capsule in which he made his space journey were recovered from the Atlantic 250 miles south of Bermuda by the destroyer USS Stormes shortly after they landed.

The Stormes reached port at adjacent Hamilton with the monkey and the capsule at 8:30 a.m., and both were promptly brought ashore.

The chimp was under preliminary study to see how he survived his trip, while a plane was flown in here and the capsule loaded aboard for return to Cape Canaveral for detailed examination.

Project Mercury director Robert R. Gilruth minimized the problems faced by the agency but said an "almost impossible" schedule, all but scuttled U.S. hopes of sending an astronaut in the space

SCOUT SPEAKER — Paul Beisenherz, Dallas, former scout executive of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting beginning at 6:30 p.m. tonight in the Coronado Inn. Beisenherz is now deputy regional executive. Highlight of the banquet will be the presentation of three silver beaver awards for outstanding services to the Boy Scout program in the 15-county area.

Court Backs FPC's Gas Rate Change

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today approved a new system of rate-making proposed by the Federal Power Commission for natural gas producers.

In a case involving the Phillips Petroleum Co., the commission abandoned the normal utility-type rate-making based on return on investments. Instead, it prescribed rate schedules for each of 23 producing areas throughout the country.

In most instances it proposed one rate for new contracts and another for rate increases.

The commission said the schedule is only for guidance and does not constitute any determination of just and reasonable rates and will not foreclose any person from justifying a particular rate in any area.

At the time the commission announced its new policy, 3,772 independent producers had rates on file.

The commission pointed out, among other things, that natural gas producers also produce oil, the price of which is unregulated. This, coupled with other problems, makes cost allocations extremely difficult, the commission pointed out.

The new system generally is referred to as "an area price method." The appeals court found nothing illegal or unconstitutional about the commission's action.

"If, as some consumer interests fear, the new process turns out to be ineffective in the protection of their interests, the way is open for them to challenge the results," the opinion said.

Communists Face Second Deadline

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Communist party headed toward another government deadline today with vows that its leaders will never register with the Justice Department as an arm of the Soviet Union.

If the Communist leaders don't register by midnight, they will face a possible five years in prison and a $10,000 fine for every day they fail to register.

Pampa Rodeo Contract Given Beutler Brothers

A contract was signed this morning with Beutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla., to produce the annual Top O' Texas Rodeo in Pampa next summer.

Beutler Brothers are considered tops among professional rodeo producers in the country. The contract signing took place at a meeting of TOT Rodeo Ass'n. executive board members and Lynn Beutler, representing Beutler Brothers, in Coronado Inn.

Dates for the show also were selected today. The rodeo will be held for four days, Aug. 22 through Aug. 25.

The Pampa Rodeo and Kid Pony Show always has been held the first week in August. The dates were changed this year so as not to conflict with other top rodeo attractions in the Southwest.

The rodeo has been an amateur attraction here ever since the rodeo association was formed in 1945.

'Multi-Eared' Demo Rule Rapped By GOP

Bill Hayes of Temple, G.O.P. businessman candidate for lieutenant governor of Texas, made a campaign stop in Pampa Wednesday night and was greeted by an enthusiastic crowd in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn.

Hayes, a conservative who campaigns much like Sen. John Tower did in his successful Republican bid for the U.S. Senate, attacked the Kennedy administration and charged the government was drifting more and more into a socialistic trend.

"Our government is being run by a Democrat animal with two left ears and one new 'front-ear,'" Hayes said, "and it has long tentacles on the left side which are reaching into everybody's pockets."

Hayes also touched on the new Texas sales tax law which he said has become the target of many of his alleged inconsistencies and confusing provisions.

"If a businessman had been lieutenant governor," Hayes said, "a lot of the trouble we are into because of the sales tax law mess could have been clarified and avoided. Many of the mistakes and misunderstandings could have been taken out before they became law."

Hayes' visit to Pampa was sponsored by the Young Republican Club. He was introduced by James Brown. A question and

Rayburn Gives Estate To Public And Family

BONHAM (UPI)—Speaker Sam Rayburn, who died with a wealth of friends and somewhat less in the way of worldly goods, managed to remember everybody in his will.

Rayburn, who died of cancer at Bonham on Nov. 16, drew up his own last will and testament on Dec. 16, 1960. In it he bequeathed a treasure of papers, books and historical mementos to the Sam Rayburn Library.

Most of his property eventually will be sold to help endow the library and to thus benefit "the people, especially, young people and those interested in agriculture."

But the brother and two widowed sisters who survive him, their children, and their children's children will share in his moderate fortune.

No estimate of his estate was made when his will was filed for probate here Wednesday. Close friends believe his total worth was rather less than $300,000—though he earned more than twice that in salary alone during his 49 years in Congress.

The home Rayburn built just west of Bonham on 150 acres was left to a sister, Mrs. S. E. Bartley of Bonham, for her lifetime. Then it will pass to the Sam Rayburn Foundation, which maintains the library.

His brother Dick and his wife received the farm at nearby Ector, where they have lived for many years, for life. When they die, it will be sold. Three other farms Rayburn owned will be sold now.

Two-thirds of this money will go to the foundation, and one-third to charity institutions, including cancer hospitals.

900-acre cattle ranch at Ivanhoe 15 miles northeast of Bonham, will be sold. The proceeds, together with his cash, securities and insurance, will pay specific bequests to a host of nieces, nephews, great-nieces and great-nephews.

What is left will be shared among Dick Rayburn, Mrs. Bartley, and his other sister, Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas.

Much of the Speaker's money was given four years ago toward the $425,000 it cost to build his library. He placed in it his most cherished personal possessions, including scores of gavels he had used on great State occasions and the gifts, large and small, he had received from the four corners of the globe.

Three Trucks Needed To Haul Loot Carted Off By Boy In Little Cart

MARION, Ind. (UPI)—The 12-year-old coaster wagon burglar hauled most of his loot home in his little red cart, but it took three big trucks to carry it away.

"We even found the wagon was stolen," police said.

Police Chief Marvin Martin said Wednesday authorities have only scratched the surface of the 12-year-old boy's career of crime which started when he was only 8.

Martin said the boy committed a dozen burglaries in the past month and at least six earlier this year.

Seven bicycles, a large motorized snow plow, auto accessories, wagons, tires, a go-kart, a toy farm tractor, small motors, and dozens of other items—in all, three truck loads.

One of the bicycles was stolen three years ago.

The boy was arrested Sunday night as he wheeled a stolen go-kart across a bridge. It was his second arrest this month and police decided to check his home. Discovery of the loot followed.

Martin said the boy would be turned over to juvenile authorities. Meanwhile, the police chief said, authorities were trying to determine whether the boy's parents were involved.

PANCAKE DAY BOOSTERS—Rufe Jordan, county sheriff, left; and J. C. Roberts, local businessman, tried out some Jaycee pancakes when the Jaycee's Pancake Batter Committee met preceding the annual supper to be held Friday, starting at 5 p.m. in the Pampa High School cafeteria. Serving the pancakes is James Malone, Jaycee member. Proceeds from the supper will go to the Pampa Youth and Community Center and the career clinic.

Taste And Color Called Vital In Yule Decorations

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Deck the halls with boughs of holly!" Throughout the land homeowners are pondering the question of Christmas decorations for the home.

Outdoor decorations can make a home sparkle with individuality — or they can make it gaudy and downright unattractive.

Noma Lites, Inc., in its booklet on "the art of decorating," sums up outdoor Christmas beauty this way: good taste and color. Simplicity should be the keynote. A wreath or holly spray spotlighted on a door or the simple perfection of an evergreen in a Christmas dress of lights can spread the warmth and welcome of the holiday and call a friendly greeting to visitor and passerby.

For an unusual combination of simplicity and beauty, Noma suggests placing a white light at the top of the outdoor tree; mix a few blue lights in an overall pattern of green for an effect that is especially lovely against a carpet of white snow.

If you've hesitated to decorate a prized evergreen — blue spruce and Douglas fir especially need special protection from the heat of tree lights and from weight on the branches — Noma offers a decorating hint:

Build a simple "teepee" to carry the light strings. Pound stakes into the ground around the tree inside the spread of branches at regular intervals. Then string wire up from the stakes to a point several inches below the tree top. Fit a padded wire collar around this point and fasten to the wires. The tree will be alive with lights and carry the Christmas message, yet remain free from damage.

As they deck the halls with boughs of holly and other seasonal adornments, thousands of families also are spreading out the welcome mat for fire, the National Board of Fire Underwriters warns.

The board has these recommendations for Christmas safety: —Keep your Christmas tree outdoors until you are ready to install it and don't set it up indoors until just before Christmas.

—Place the tree in the coolest part of the house, away from radiators, heaters, fireplaces or other sources of heat. Be sure you stand it in water or moist earth to retard drying.

—Inspect tree from time to time to see if needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so, change position of lights. Provide a switch at some distance from tree for turning tree lights on and off. And don't leave the lights burning when away from home. —Keep electric trains away from the tree.

Former Pampa Boy Wins Top Honor At Lewisville

Mike Frye, former Pampa High student now attending high school at Lewisville, Texas, recently was named Mr. Future Business Leader in a contest conducted among Lewisville high students.

Frye is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Frye, 713 Magnolia. He attended Pampa High in 1959.

Frye was chosen by a panel of judges comprised of Lewisville businessmen and W. C. Hendrixson, Proctor and Gamble Co. vice president, Dallas.

He will represent Lewisville in the District 3 F.B.L.A. convention in Weatherford Saturday and at the state convention at North Texas State University at Denton in March.

Walter Rogers Reports

Sam Rayburn Called Man Of Clear Vision

"It is now my sole purpose here to help enact such wise and just laws that our common country will by virtue of these laws be a happier and a more prosperous country. I have always dreamed of a country which I believe this should be and that is one in which the citizenship is an educated and patriotic people, not swayed by passion and prejudice, and a country that knows no East, no West, no North, no South, but inhabited by a people liberty-loving, patriotic, happy, and prosperous with its lawmakers having no other purpose than to write such just laws as shall in the years to come be of service to humankind yet unborn."

These words, in the author's handwriting, appear on a portrait which hangs in my office. They were penned in March, 1913, shortly after the author's election to the United States House of Representatives from the Fourth District of Texas. To me, they allow a clear vision into the integrity and unchanging character of the man who wrote them, Sam Rayburn of Bonham.

Mrs. Rogers and I attended the recent services for Speaker Rayburn at Bonham as a nation mourned the passing of a great Texan and an outstanding American. Tributes to the Speaker have been offered from every corner of the land — by the great and the small throughout the free world. They will form part of a memorial, the greater part of which will be an eternal monument in the annals of American government where the imprint of Mr. Sam's character will long be felt. I shall always count it a privilege to have served in the greatest legislative body in the world with Mr. Rayburn. We sometimes did not see eye to eye on a given issue, but I never doubted that his sole motivation was to serve America and the cause of freedom with every ounce of his energy and strength, which attitude he always reciprocated.

Last summer the House observed the long tenure of Mr. Rayburn as Speaker, after 16 years, 273 days, — more than twice as long as any other Speaker in the history of the United States. The compilation of tributes paid Mr. Rayburn on that occasion form a booklet entitled "The House will be in order." I have obtained a limited number of these booklets and will be happy to forward copies upon request until the supply is exhausted. I quote from the forward of this publication a particularly appropriate characterization:

"Those of us who served with Speaker Rayburn and under his guidance for the whole of a political — and often a natural — lifetime, never for a moment lost the feeling of being in the presence of a great and a good man whether we had his agreement or his opposition, or whether he had ours. Where he sat there was authority and dignity, highly warranted seniority, but never the adamant or arrogant manifestations of naked power. For perhaps a quarter of a century, his was one of the strongest, and not infrequently the strongest single voice in Congress. But always Speaker Rayburn accepted for himself with reverence and punctilio what may be called the rule of the democratic process. Above all there was the Constitution of the United States and for him personally the clearly defined and correct outposts of unaggrandized command. It was he, at the peak of his legislative eminence, who said:

"You can't be a leader, and ask other people to follow you, unless you know how to follow, too."

One fact of the greatness of Speaker Rayburn is that neither opportunity nor invitation by circumstance to the abuse of an immense power ever tempted him on a single day, in a single hour of his unprecedented tenure in the Speakership. The benevolence of his leadership is written — we hope forever — in the statute books of a free people. It speaks in the toil and the sweat lifted from the shoulders of tens of millions of his fellow Americans by legislation he authored from the beginning and saw voted into law, or legislation that he espoused, helped, personally fashioned, or negotiated through its many trials to success, and to unwise legislation that he negotiated into extinction.

Congressmen see in Speaker Rayburn what they most want to see in themselves — the sublime expression of the true patriot."

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The purchasing power of the U. S. dollar will enjoy little protection from the new management of the U. S. House of Representatives.

The new management will succeed the late manager, Speaker Sam Rayburn. Mr. Sam did not give the U. S. buck much protection either. Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass., is slated to succeed Rayburn as speaker. Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., is contesting Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., for the House Democratic leadership, the job from which McCormack will be promoted to the speakership.

Carl Albert looks like the winner of that one. There are several sound reasons why Albert is more likely than Bolling to be elected leader of the House Democrats.

On the Rayburn-McCormack team, Carl Albert was Democratic whip. The whip is the man responsible for (a) knowing how all House Democrats will vote on a given matter and (b) seeing to it that they are present and voting when the roll is called.

Hard-money conservatives rate the prospective new Democratic management of the House as a wasteful management, careless of the taxpayers' dollars. They are big spenders, Bolling equally with Albert, so it would make not much difference which of them succeeded to the House Democratic leadership.

Whether McCormack, Albert & Co. are, in fact, wasteful of the taxpayers' dollars depends, of course, on the point of view. The hard-money conservative judgment of these top Democrats is harsh. It is most forcibly expressed in an analysis of their voting records by an organization called Americans for Constitutional Action.

ACA is no lunatic fringe outfit. Its trustees include retired Adm. Ben Moreell, chairman; Charles Edison, a secretary of Navy in a Roosevelt Cabinet; Edgar Eisenhower, you know who's brother; and former President Herbert Hoover.

ACA analyzed votes over a period of years on issues which it interpreted as raising the question

Pampan To Tour With Band Group

John Wagoner, Pampa, a member of the McMurry College 1961 Band will be with the group on their annual fall tour when they perform in eight towns in West Texas and Oklahoma.

whether the vote would be for sound money and against inflation or the reverse.

From the standpoint of ACA, top score would be 100 per cent for a congressman who voted in all instances for sound money and against inflation. Some members of Congress score 100 per cent. On those issues, ACA graded McCormack at zero. Bolling scored 4 and Albert 7 per cent.

In another category, "for economy and against waste," McCormack rated another goose egg. Bolling's grade was 6 and Albert's 10 per cent.

Materials Thefts Reported By Firm $300 More Added To Fund Campaign

Hughes Construction Co. officials reported to police today that thieves have been stealing material from two of their construction jobs.

Some 54 two-by-four boards, two aluminum windows, and 20 pieces of sheet rock were stolen from 1120 Willow Rd. and 2136 Dogwood, according to Jay Thompson, vice president of the company.

Another theft was reported to

The Pampa United Fund total climbed some $300 today to a total of $54,825, according to George Newberry, general campaign chairman.

Fund solicitors still are striving to collect enough to make up the $14,000 needed to reach the fund goal of $68,746.

Police by L. C. Prentice, 421 Elm St., who said someone took his billfold containing $7 in cash.

Area Scout Council Praised By Speaker

"The Adobe Walls Council of the Boy Scouts of America is one of the most outstanding councils in the whole country," Pampa Rotarians were told yesterday by Bill Corder, deputy regional Scout executive from Dallas.

The speaker stated that there are over 5 million active Scouts in America today and over 40 million who have at some time been active in Scouting.

Elaborating on his remarks concerning the Adobe Walls record, Corder said it ranked 19th out of 531 councils in the United States. The high percentage of boys participating in the program is one of the main reasons for this ranking. In the Cub Scout program of eight, nine and ten year olds, 62 out of 100 boys in the 15 county council participate. In Scouting, 42 out of 100 are active and the Explorers, who are high school age, have over 15 out of 100.

Supporting this vast program are 143 institutions, churches, service clubs, PTA-groups, etc. who act as official sponsors.

Corder is visiting in Pampa to help outline a capital improvements financial drive in January which hopes to raise $139,000 for new Council offices and extensive improvements at Camp Kiowa, near Lake Marvin.

Visitors and guests for the day were J. B. Keener, Roy Bierley, Ott Shewmaker, Roy Bassett, Homer Gibson and D. W. Osborne.

Panhandle Class To Present Play

Friday night at 7:30 o'clock the annual senior play of Panhandle High School will be presented in the junior high school auditorium in Panhandle. The play, "Brother Goose," is a comedy in three acts, and was written by William Davidson.

It is the story of a family of four of which Jeff, the twenty-five year old brother of Hyacinth, a ten-year-old tomboy; Carol, a 15 year-old typical teenager; and Wes, a 17-year-old girl-crazy boy, is mother or actually, Brother Goose. Jeff with one hand does the cooking, sewing, and cleaning, and with the other works as an architect. The result is a mixture of accidents and incidents of a hilarious nature.

The cast of the play has been chosen. Jeff is played by Bill Smith; Mike James acts the part of Wes; Carol is portrayed by Etta Ray Blacklock; Molly Johnson plays Hyacinth; Sarah, a buxom colored woman, is portrayed by Jenny Dove; Virginia Gray acts the part of Peggy, a very pretty young woman; Janice Skaggs plays Lenore, Jeff's girl friend; Eve, Wes's girl friend, is played by Sondra Price; Helen, the temporary house keeper, is portrayed by Glenda Smith; Carolyn Bell acts the part of Mrs. Trimmer, Jeff's customer; and the truck driver, a rough-looking individual, is portrayed by Butch Haskin. Wayne Schickedanz is stage manager, and Stanley Hearnon is the assistant director. Mr. L. A. Sparks, Thespian sponsor and speech teacher at Panhandle High School is the director.

Young Rites Set Friday

Interment rites for John Vaughn of Perryton, former Pampa, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church in Perryton with the Rev. Tommy Brower, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in San Antonio and former pastor of the Perryton Presbyterian Church, officiating assisted by Dr. Raymond Burns, pastor of the Perryton Presbyterian Church.

A graveside service will be held at 4 p.m. in Memory Gardens in Pampa, following the Perryton service, under the direction of Boxwell Brothers Funeral Home of Perryton. Mr. Young, owner of Young's Flower Shop, was found dead in his home, 722 S. Baylor, at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday.

He was born Oct. 31, 1932 in Graham and moved to Perryton six years ago from Pampa.

He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and had served as president of the Perryton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Survivors are his wife, Joan; one daughter, Cynthia Ann; one son, Jay B.; all of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Young Sr. of Pampa; two sisters, Mrs. Jerry Walker of Lubbock, Miss Mary E. Young of Greenville, S.C.; and a grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Babb of Graham.

Pallbearers will be Sid Mills, Harold Courson, Robert Close, Jim Dunlavey, Frank Shaffer, George Saied, Clair Brillhart and Pete Eastup.

Space

(Continued From Page 1) "crash" program idea when he commented that selection of Glenn for the first manned orbital mission and the choice of Air Force Maj. Donald K. Slayton to make the second orbital flight "doesn't necessarily mean we'll have another shot this year."

Officials close to the program maintained that mid-January or February were more realistic dates for the manned missions.

Mercury officials and scientists planning Glenn's three-orbit flight around the globe were encouraged by the apparently smooth mental and physical sailing Enos had during his stay of nearly three hours in space.

The 37½-pound simian, tucked safely inside a protective metal-and-plastic couch, survived forces of eight times his own weight at blast-off. Then he "didn't miss a trick" in performing a complex series of "work tasks" with a small instrument panel of levers and lights.

The environmental test gear apparently worked fine. But a system of small rockets for controlling the position, or attitude, of the capsule in space malfunctioned and threatened to send the spacecraft out of control if the flight were continued into the planned third orbit.

Instead, the capsule was brought down to a smooth landing about 260 miles southeast of Bermuda and retrieved by the destroyer within two hours.

Georgia's Aid Program Found Based On Need

By AL KUETTNER
ATLANTA (UPI) — Georgia's public welfare program is only 24 years old but it is already taking in and spending close to $100 million a year.

The Georgia program is geared carefully to federal welfare laws and efforts are made to match every federal dollar that is available for use in the state's program.

The department is presided over by Allen Kemper, a long-time political figure who serves a four-year term at the pleasure of the voters. His office is in a marble-front building on the state's Capitol Square.

Kemper gives the appearance of the relaxed office-holder who has time for leisurely cups of coffee with visitors. But actually he has a firm grasp on the intricacies of the welfare business.

Kemper said in an interview that Georgia's welfare program, unlike the wide-open affairs in some states, "is geared to the needs rather than the greed of the people."

Under most conditions, applicants for welfare aid must have lived in the state for at least a year and must show that they really are in need. An exception is child welfare. Young children may become eligible for aid at any time the need arises.

Itinerants who become welfare prospects must take their chances with charitable organizations rather than with the welfare department.

The Georgia welfare department, started in 1937 in the waning days of the great depression, gets about 75 per cent of its revenue from the federal government, 21 per cent from the state and four per cent from counties.

Applicants in general start their cases with county departments and their records move up to the state department for investigation and clearance for payment.

Each applicant is assigned a welfare worker who determines the exact needs and helps to draw up a "budget" of payments. Approximately 48,000 Georgians sought financial aid from county departments and 164,000 received sustenance through public welfare grants from the state in the past year.

The state's program provides that when a person is 65 or older, or blind, or permanently and totally disabled or has children in his care who are deprived of parental support and lacks sufficient money to cover living expenses, he may apply for public assistance.

A person may have as much as $500 in savings or other financial reserves and still be classed as "needy" and receive help. The applicant also may own the place of residence if it has a tax value of not more than $5,000 (that would generally make it a house with a market value of about $10,000).

Kemper said payments are made to applicants for as long as their welfare needs exist on the basis of the individual's budget allotment and his other sources of income. These sources may vary by the month.

Sea Water Tests Are Being Eyed By Many Towns

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than 200 communities throughout the United States which feel they need more water for every day use are anxiously watching efforts now being made to economically shake the salt out of the sea.

The number of such communities is increasing. It is estimated the nation's water consumption for agriculture, industry and the home will reach 600 billion gallons a day by 1980. That's 100 billion gallons more than now is readily available.

Currently, about 312 billion gallons of water are consumed daily in the United States. Total daily water supply is about 500 billion gallons, but use is rising and the available supply is not uniformly distributed.

Rainfall, the major source of water, varies from 51.2 inches a year in the South Atlantic states to 10.3 inches in the driest areas of the Southwest.

According to Steelways, official publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, a solution to this problem may come from tests being conducted at Freeport, Tex., by the Salt Water Conversion Demonstration Plant. This plant, the first salt water conversion unit to help supply regularly the water needs of a U.S. municipality, feeds Freeport an extra million gallons of potable water a day.

The operation is run by the U.S. Department of Interior to measure the economic possibilities of desalination. Never intended to be profitable, the plant now produces a thousand gallons of potable water for $1 to $1.25, but sells it to the community for 20 cents.

While this is a sizable loss, the important fact, Steelways says, is that the costs per 1,000 gallon in

Methodist Will Hold Meeting In Abilene Friday

The Abilene District Conference of The Methodist Church will convene at 9 a.m. Friday, at Aldersgate Methodist Church in Abilene. Dr. Woodrow Adcock, former pastor of Pampa's First Methodist Church, now Abilene District Superintendent, will preside. Bishop the Freeport project are among the best achieved in the desalination field thus far.

The Northern hemisphere supplies nearly 95 per cent of the world's fish catch.

op Paul V. Galloway, San Antonio, Texas, will preach the conference sermon at 11:30 a.m. Rev. Tage E. V. Adolffson, Missionary to Africa will speak at 9:15 a.m.

Reports will be received from the 38 churches of the district covering the last six months, June 1 to Dec. 1, 1961. Statements will be heard concerning the many benevolent and educational institutions of the Methodist Church.

The Conference will conclude at 12:30 with the noon meal served by Aldersgate Methodist Church. Dr. Ray Johnson will be host pastor.

The conference is open to the public. Each church in the district will be represented by official delegates.

Sleightful Of Breads For Christmas Giving

The enjoyment of Christmas giving comes with giving a gift of yourself. And, what better way to give truly of yourself than with gaily wrapped bundles of home baked breads.

Now is the time to begin that Christmas baking, before the hustle-bustle of last minute shopping and tree-trimming suddenly catches up with you. A brisk fall afternoon is a perfect stimulus to don your baker's apron and fill your kitchen with the aroma of freshly baked banana and nut breads.

Before you plunge into your baking you'll want to make certain that you have reliable ingredients on hand. An all-purpose snowy white shortening produced from selected meat and vegetable fats is your first guide to better flavor in all baked goods. Martha Logan, famous home economist, tells us that this same creamy shortening is ideal for frying, as well as cooking and baking. In the 1 pound or 3 pound can, it will remain fresh without refrigeration.

Your own family might want to "test" the banana and nut breads first, so you had better bake a few extra loaves to be eaten right away. The breads which you will give as gifts may be frozen until you are ready to play Santa and deliver "your" bundles. Luckily is the friend at whose home Santa's sleigh stops.

DATE BREAD
Yield: 9½ by 5¼ by 2¾ inch loaf
¾ cup shortening
¾ cup packed brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon all spice
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup cup chopped dates
Cream together shortening and brown sugar. Add eggs, and vanilla and beat well. Sift together flour, salt, baking powder all spice, and nutmeg. Add to batter. Blend in nuts and dates. Pour into 9½ by 5¼ by 2¾ inch loaf

Teenagers Will Find That New Style Popcorn Popping Bee Is Real 'Blast'

If your teenager is typical, he starts looking around for something interesting to do around this time of year. School has begun to pall. Usually, the first thing that comes to mind is a party or get-together of some kind. But — what can they do at a party?

Your own teenager can be the first in your neighborhood to pick up a fad that's sweeping the country — the new style of popcorn popping bee — it's a real "blast!"

The kids can have a wonderful time over the outdoor fireplace or the kitchen stove with popcorn. With very little effort, too, they can transform the traditional form of popcorn into delicious "sophisticated" popcorn — Pizza, garlic, curried, and so on.

And — did you know that freshly popped popcorn makes an out-of-this-world dip dunker? It's true! Just dunk the popcorn into your favorite dip; give it a swirl, and pop it in your mouth. Tastes wonderful and has far less calories than the usual dunkers.

Here are some flavored popcorn recipes that the kids will really go for — and they're simple to do without a lot of mess in the kitchen.

Each of these recipes calls for 2 quarts of popped corn, and each has the same basic procedure. For example, the Pizza Popcorn: fresh from the popper or in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Combine ¼ cup of butter (½ stick), ½ teaspoon of chili powder, ½ teaspoon of onion salt and ¼ teaspoon of garlic salt in a small fry pan over low heat to melt the butter. Stir well, then drizzle over warm popcorn and mix thoroughly. Then watch it disappear!

For the garlic-flavored popcorn, the procedure is the same, but you use ¼ cup of butter and about a teaspoon of garlic salt. Curried popcorn calls for ¼ cup butter, ½ teaspoon of salt and a teaspoon of curry powder. Incidentally, this curried popcorn is ideal for dip dunking — it imparts a special snappy accent to dips for all types.

And, Mother, you needn't think that these popcorn snacks are just for the kids. Try them on your friends either with cocktails or as the beginning of a barbecue — they'll polish off a big bowl so fast it'll make your head swim!

Jellied Apple Gouda Pie Has Gourmet Elegance

Apple pie'n cheese has long been America's favorite dessert. Here's a scrumptious new Jellied Apple Gouda Pie that is certain to become a favorite with apple pie fanciers. It combines all of the goodness of apples, spice and Wisconsin Gouda cheese to make a truly handsome and delicious pie.

The crispy, tender Gouda cheese crust is perfect for this unique pie. Its fine distinctive flavor is obtained by adding goodly amounts of shredded Wisconsin Gouda cheese to a crispy rich crust.

Apple flavored gelatin, fragrant spices and juicy canned apples team up with the Gouda crust to make this light refreshing dessert. It has all of the wonderful goodness of old-fashioned apple pie and cheese plus a distinctiveness of flavor and appearance that will make it popular with young moderns.

Wisconsin Gouda cheese, with its uniformly fine quality and flavor, is delicious, too; served with your favorite old-fashioned apple pie, whether its made at home from a favorite recipe, purchased at the bakery, or one of the frozen pies available ready for baking.

Here's our recipe for Jellied Apple Gouda Pie:
JELLIED APPLE GOUDA PIE
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup shortening
1 cup finely shredded Wisconsin Gouda Cheese
4 to 5 tablespoons cold water
1 package apple-flavored gelatin
1 can (1 pound 6 ounce) apple pie filling (not spiced)
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ pint (1 cup) chilled whipping cream
1 tablespoon sugar
Sift flour and salt into bowl. Cut in shortening until size of peas. Add ½ cup of cheese; toss lightly. Add water slowly mixing with fork until particles hold together. Shape into patty. Roll ¼ inch thick on lightly floured board. Fit into 9-inch pie pan, trim crust 1-inch beyond pan. Fold edges under; flute to make high rim. Prick crust with fork tines. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) until done and browned, 10 to 12 minutes. Prick large bubbles that form during baking. Cool. Prepare gelatin as directed on package, except reduce water ¼ cup. Remove ¼ cup gelatin; save. Chill remaining gelatin until syrupy. Mix pie filling, ½ teaspoon lemon rind; ¼ teaspoon cinnamon and nutmeg; stir into gelatin. Pour into crust. Chill until firm. Stir remaining gelatin, cooled until syrupy, into cream. Beat until stiff. Fold in remaining cheese, lemon rind, cinnamon and sugar. Spread onto pie. Chill. Garnish with slices of Wisconsin Gouda. Yield: One 9-inch pie.

Faster Pace Of Living Calls For Meat Cookery Shortcuts For Meals

Shortcuts in the kitchen are important to the modern homemaker. Why? Because people are living at a more rapid pace than ever before in history. Today's homemaker has far less time to spend in the kitchen.

Reba Staggs, well-known home economist, has suggested several time-savers in meat cookery. Now you can take little time to turn out a wholesome meat dish with appetite appeal.

Bake meat loaf mixture in muffin pans or a 9-inch square pan for shorter baking time.

Separate ground beef during cooking with a potato masher when browning meat for casseroles.

Dice bacon, trim pie crusts and cut parsley and other greens with kitchen shears.

Cook bacon for a group more quickly by placing bacon on a rack in an open roasting pan and baking it in the oven.

Open both ends of meats in a can for easy removal. Loosen around edge of meat and push it through.

Cut through several slices of meat at one time for quick julienne-style pieces.

Mix flour and seasonings in a bag and shake with pieces of meat when recipe calls for floured meat.

Grind liver more easily by first lightly browning the slices in a small amount of lard or drippings.

Reactions Mixed With New Gold Crisis Looming

NEW YORK (UPI)—Thomson & McKinnon finds that reactions are mixed as to whether we are headed for another gold crisis although "the fact remains that our total gold stock level is now the lowest since Oct. 11, 1939."

This news may not take the wraps off inflation psychology in the market, but it could sharpen the conflict between investors who out of their own convictions, look upon and buy stocks as an inflation hedge and those who feel more secure buying stocks when prospects for a sound economy are improving, the brokerage house comments.

L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. says if the market is to continue to rise from this point, it seems to him that there should be more interest in cyclical stocks and in highly speculative low-price issues.

Technically and fundamentally, as well as psychologically and seasonally, says Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co., the overall market picture is still quite favorable and generally bullish.

William I. La Tourette of Shearson, Hammill & Co. says based on indications to date, investors will be receiving some very pleasant Christmas presents in the form of stock dividends, increased cash payments and/or special year-end extras. He says it looks as though fourth quarter profits for most corporations will be "very good," and earnings prospects for at least the first half of 1962 "seem promising."

Postmaster Says Mail Early And Mail Carefully

"It's time to start planning your Christmas card and gift mailings," Postmaster O. K. Gaylor said today as he launched his 1961 "Mail Early For Christmas" Campaign.

Looking ahead to what may be the biggest Christmas season ever, the postmaster gave a list of things to watch in order to get every Christmas card and package delivered before December 25.

Here's what he recommends: Check Christmas card and gift lists carefully. Be sure each address is complete with full name, street and number, City, zone and state. Avoid abbreviations of city and state names.

For your gift packages, secure heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and adhesive tape. Remember, also, that you can include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift packages if you will add the appropriate First Class mail stamps to the postage for the package itself.

Stock up on postage stamps — By doing this soon, you'll save lots of time that might be spent standing in line later on. When you go to the Post Office, ask for a supply of labels which read, "all for local delivery" and "all for out of town delivery", so that before you mail your Christmas cards you can sort them into two groups, with the addresses all facing one way, thus expediting delivery.

The post office will help plan Christmas mailings. Get a copy of Pamphlet No. 2, which gives full information about proper packaging and wrapping of parcels.

First class postage is best for mailing Christmas cards. All cards sent by 4 cent postage may include a personal handwritten message, and they'll be forwarded or returned, if that becomes necessary. Be sure to put your return address on your Christmas card envelopes. It's socially correct to do this, and enables both you and your friends to keep your mailing lists up-to-date.

Predicting that this year's Christmas mail will set an all time record, the postmaster pointed out the importance of planning Christmas mailings now to avoid a lot of headaches when the Christmas rush comes in earnest.

He said further, that through the excellent cooperation of the public during recent Christmas seasons, he has been able to get all of the Christmas cards and packages dispatched and delivered before Christmas Eve.

"We can all make the 1961 'Mail Early For Christmas' Campaign a big success, he continued. "If we'll all take a personal responsibility in planning Christmas mailings so that cards and gift packages to most distant points are mailed by December 10, and earlier, if possible. Christmas packages for local destinations should be mailed by December 15, and be sure to mail your Christmas cards for friends and relatives in this area at least a week before Christmas."

Fudge Sweet Answer For Christmas Gifts

degrees F. about 20 minutes.

MINTED WALNUTS
(Makes 1 1/4 pounds)
1/4 cup light corn syrup
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon essence of peppermint
10 marshmallows
3 cups walnut halves (10 ounces)
Combine corn syrup, sugar and water in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Continue cooking to soft ball stage (238 degrees F.) or until a small amount of mixture forms a soft ball when tested in very cold water.
Remove from heat; quickly add essence of peppermint and marshmallows. Stir until marshmallows are dissolved. Add walnut halves. Stir until walnuts are well-coated. Pour onto waxed paper. Separate walnut halves while still warm.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Rich chocolate fudge, crunchy with Brazil nuts spread on top, is a smooth and exciting answer to "What can I make my friends for Christmas?" Packaged handsomely, presented with "Merry Christmas" greetings well, wouldn't you welcome such a gift yourself?
BRAZIL NUT CHOCOLATE FUDGE (Yield: Approximately

4 1/2 pounds)
1 tall can (1 2-3 cups) evaporated milk
3 1/2 cups sugar
2 12-ounce jumbo-packages or 4 6-ounce packages (4 cups) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 jar (any size) marshmallow cream
1 tablespoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups chopped Brazil nuts, divided Brazil nut slices
Combine evaporated milk and sugar in a 3-quart saucepan. Place over high heat and bring to full all-over boil, stirring constantly. Continue to boil, stirring vigorously, 9 minutes. (Reduce heat, if necessary, to prevent boiling over sides of pan.) Remove from heat, add semisweet chocolate morsels and stir until smooth. Add butter, marshmallow cream and vanilla, stir until blended.
To Make Fudge Squares: Turn half of fudge mixture into buttered 8-inch square pan. Sprinkle with 1 cup of the chopped Brazil nuts, pressing into surface. When cool, cut into squares.
To Make Fudge Bonbons: Spoon half of remaining mixture into remaining mixture into bonbon papers placed in small cupcake pans to hold round shape. Top each with a Brazil nut slice.
To Make Fudge Balls: Cool remaining fudge until firm enough to handle. Shape into 1-inch balls and roll in remaining chopped Brazil nuts.

'Sermon On Mount' Program For Club

LEFORS (Spl) — Art and Civic Club entertained with a Guest Night Thanksgiving program recently in Civic Center.
"The Sermon on the Mount", as recorded by Melvin T. Munn of Pampa, was presented followed by singing of favorite hymns.
Miss Mickey Sue Johnson, program chairman, introduced Dr. Beryl Hixon, who sang "Bring Me A Rose" accompanied by Mrs. Joe Dan Watson.
The Club Collect was read by Mrs. Jerry Jacobs.
Hostesses were Mmes. C. N. Mounger, Ray Chastain, Miss Norma Lantz. The serving table was appointed with a lace cloth centered with an arrangement of chrysanthemums.
Mrs. Jack R. Allen of Perryton, Top of Texas district president; Mrs. Emmett Osborne and Mrs. A. C. Houchin of Pampa, members of the Civic Culture Club, were special guests.
Members and guests present were Mmes. Cleve Johnson, Earl Atkinson, Sally Airington, Lee Airington, R. H. Barron, Fred Chastain, Jesse Holley, Bud Cumberland, Charles Glissen, A. L. Styles For Springtime Of 1962 Offer Very Little Clutter But Lots Of Jewels

By GAYPAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — The plainness of the fashion silhouette, the fancier are the jewels worn with the clothes.
Styles for spring 1962 offer very little clutter, so provide a good setting for your jewelry, either the costume or the real thing.
Take for instance the wide-open necklines and the innumerable daytime ensembles and suits without collars. Here is where chunky, multi-strand necklaces can fill in, either in colors coordinated to the costume or contrasting. Or, leave the neckline bare and wear only a pair of dangling earrings.
Evening clothes rarely come with collars anyway, so jewelry designs this year include the collared look. Jeweled collars, usually in multi-colored stones, come from widths of two inches all the way to a strangling cover wide as the turtle neck of a sweater.
Or, consider the short sleeves which dominate in spring collections. When sleeves come just to the elbow or below, something has to break that long stretch of bare arm. New York designers accessorized with bracelets or with elbow length gloves in matching kid.
Pins, big splashy numbers, can be worn just about where you please. Tuck one in your hair for evening. For day, attach a pin at the seam marking the higher waistline silhouette. Pin a jewel at the hem of the long overblouse on a two-piece dress. Or, use a pin at the shoulder instead of a necklace as the only ornament on a collarless costume.
The Chanel influence runs strong in spring jewelry — to go with the open, cardigan type coats and jackets the Paris designer has made her trademark. Favorite fastener at the neck for these cardigan types are bar pins, either in the tailored gold of the original or more fancifully made up in pale-tone jewels.
Another Chanel revival: The long chain necklaces with tassels reaching almost to the waistline. Wear one of these or several with a simple dress-jacket costume or suit.

Mrs. W. Wright Is PEO Hostess

CANADIAN (Spl) — Mrs. Wiley Wright was hostess to Chapter 1 of the PEO in her home recently.
The program for the day was the annual "Country Store," proceeds from which help to finance the PEO Home. A total of $108.10 was raised at the Monday sale. Mrs. John C. Isaacs acted as auctioneer.
The hostess served refreshments to Mmes. Malouf Abraham, John Glenn, Preston Hutton, Calvin Isaacs, John C. Isaacs, John H. Jones, William Karr, Cap Kelley, Morris Bennett, Jack King, Frank McMordie, Dale Nix, Carl Studer, Charles Teas, F. D. Teas, Arthur Webb, and J. L. Yokley.

Dear Abby... Single Man... Sees Double...!!!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Recently a married couple and I (a single man) decided to join together and buy a wedding gift for a mutual friend. When it came time for sharing the cost of the gift, we had a difference of opinion as to what the fair share for each of us should be.
My idea was to count the heads and divide the total charge by three. The couple's idea was that since they were a married couple, they should be considered "one." In other words, they—the married couple—should pay half and I, the single man, should pay half. Who, in your opinion, was correct?

Co-Ordination Key For Homemaker-Decorators

KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
If you're planning a major-decorating project and aren't sure of your own taste, don't overlook the help you can get from the varied color co-ordinating efforts in the home furnishings industry. Here is valuable advice from top-level professional color stylists to be had for the looking.
Unfortunately, judging from letters I get from other homemakers and from my experience, these efforts are not as widely known nor as well emphasized by local stores as they might be. The hitch to making any major decorative change is that you're going to want to make other changes, too. I bought a new living room rug and now I want to slip cover one chair, reupholster another. The question then becomes what color and what fabric will it be with literally thousands to choose from.

A pleasant contemporary room is decorated with ease and taste with color co-ordinated carpeting and fabrics. Gold textured carpet is combined with green spot-shed velvet upholstery on the fireside chairs and a nylon-rayon green-gold stripe on loveseat cushions. A sunflower-gold cotton covers the game table chairs and is repeated in panels on the cabinet by the fireplace.

Co-Ordination Key For Homemaker-Decorators

Where to look for help? Quite by chance I stumbled across one helpful co-ordination program. Advised by a retail rug expert to investigate the new blends of acrylic and modacrylic fibers, I flipped through the samples. One group in particular caught my attention because listed on the label were four different fabric and accent colors that would go with the carpet color. Suggested for the gold carpet, for example, were fern green, lime green, sunflower gold and flame red.
Specific fabrics in different weights are made by a leading manufacturer, should one want them. A fern green spot-shedding water-repellent velvet might be used for upholstery, a sunflower antique satin for the curtains

CES Club With Mrs. Ben Parnell

CANADIAN (Spl) — Mrs. Ben Parnell was hostess to the CES Bridge Club on Thursday evening.
Guests for the evening were Mmes. Bill Jackson, Jim Mahon, Bob Ward, Gilbert Dickens, Gordon Hill, Warren Hill, Buddy Hobdy and J. B. Reid, Jr.
In the bridge games Mrs. Warren Hill tallied high score, Mrs. Hobdy second high and Mrs. Ward low.

and a nylon-rayon gold-and-green stripe for upholstery, slip cover or drapery. The carpeting comes in 10 color blends in a simple textured design and is in the moderate price range. Fabrics are, too.
The large mail order houses have carefully selected color families which they co-ordinate throughout their home furnishings from bath towels to upholstery fabrics. In a store with an alert home-furnishing section, this color co-ordination program will be spelled out via displays and sales help.
Many of the leading fabric wall-paper and paint makers have extensive color and pattern co-ordination efforts based on the work of highly paid specialists. But you sometimes have to wrest this information from the local store. One store in our town leaves the little lady on her own to browse through a bewildering array of sample books.
A more progressive local store has a proprietor who appreciates the customer's dilemma and groups the samples according to what she is looking for.

Plainview And Optimist Boxers Tangle Saturday

TO SPEAK AT BANQUET — Berl Huffman, a member of the Texas Tech coaching staff, will be the guest speaker at the annual high school football banquet Dec. 5 at the Robert Lee Junior High cafeteria. A widely sought after speaker, Huffman will be the feature attraction of the banquet where the football queen will be named and the "Fighting Heart" award will be given the player selected by the coaches to receive the honor. Tickets are on sale at Malone's Pharmacy and Richard's Drug. The Quarterback Club is sponsoring the event.

LSU Aroused About Cotton Bowl Choice

SHREVEPORT La. (UPI) — LSU Coach Paul Dietzel blasted Cotton Bowl officials Wednesday for selecting Ole Miss over his Tigers for the New Year's Day football game in Dallas. Dietzel told the Touchdown Club that Cotton Bowl officials first indicated that the winner of the LSU-Ole Miss game would be invited. He said the Cotton Bowl was then embarrassed when LSU won. He said the bowl had already unofficially invited Ole Miss and the Rebels had unofficially accepted. LSU last Saturday accepted an invitation to play Colorado in the Orange Bowl. Ole Miss, which plays Mississippi State this Saturday, is regarded as the top prospect to meet Texas in the Cotton Bowl, but no official announcement has been made.

17-Card Event Heads Program

Pampa Optimist-Boxers will host the Plainview Boxing Club Saturday night at 7:30 at the Boy's Building in a 17 card program with several Dumas boxers also scheduled to participate.

Plainview will bring several fine boxers to pit against the well-drilled and talented Pampa ringmen. Some of the top Plainview boys are Landre Martinez, a 112-pounder formerly of Pampa; Eddie Gonzales, 118 pounds; Angelo Rosendo, 126 pounds; Manuel Gonzales, 147; Gilbert Gonzales, 175 and Jimmy Tyerena, 135. Martinez was a finalist in the regional golden-gloves tournament in 1961 and is considered a real classy boxer.

E. Gonzales was a 1961 State Golden Glove semi-finalist at Fort Worth where he was beaten by Richard Marquez of Houston, who won the state championship.

Rosendo lost to Steve Freeman of Houston in the state Golden Gloves finals last year.

M. Gonzales won the Abilene Tournament last year in the regional even though he was defeated in the regional tourney at Amarillo.

G. Gonzales went to the state tourney in the lightweight Golden Glove division in 1960. He lost in the quarterfinals at the state meet. He has real good speed.

Tyerena lost to Lucky Dunham, Pampa, in the 1960 Regional meet but he bounced back to cop the Golden Glove regional title last year.

Cliff Dunham, Pampa's program director, stated, "I would not be surprised to see three or four of the Plainview boys in the state tourney and all of them have good chances to capture state titles."

Pampa open class battlers who will be in action against the rugged Plainview club are Dickie Wills, 160 pounds; Gary Wilhelm, 155; Pat McDonald, 147; Gene Shipman of Lefors, 135; Lucky Dunham, 135; Corky West, 125; Steve McCarthy, 118; Gail Martin, 126 and some top notch high school fighters. Wilhelm was runner-up in the

3-4A Clubs Roll Along

District 3 - AAAA - basketball teams continued to roll along at a merry pace Tuesday night as all four clubs in action scored victories to run the loop's season mark to 13-2.

Lubbock's Westerners, the losers of the only two games by 3-AAAA teams, stomped woeful Littlefield by the shocking count of 96-29.

The Westerners took it easy in the first half with a 34-15 half-time lead but piled up 33 and 29 points respectively in the last two periods.

Randy Matson popped in 20 points and Bobby Neslage added 10 more as the Pampa Harvesters chalked up their third win at the expense of Phillips 57-51.

Pre-season favorite, Borger, rolled over last year's class AA finalist Dimmitt 69-52 to stamp the Bulldogs as the team to beat for the championship.

Gail Simpson paced the easy Borger victory with 24 points.

Plainview opened the season by tromping Hereford 55-46. The Hereford cagers now have lost to three 3-AAAA clubs. They were defeated by Pampa 67-57 and Palo Duro 52-50 in overtime.

Monterey, another top rated district five, seeks its fourth win of the season tonight when they go to Hobbs, N.M.

Friday night the Pampa Harvesters journey to Lamar, Colo. to tangle with the defending AA state champions of that state. It will be a real test as to the strength of the Harvesters since Lamar has four returning starters from the state championship squad.

In other Friday night games, Tascosa hosts Odessa Ector, Odessa Permian is at Palo Duro, Amarillo entertains Odessa High and Borger hosts Dimmitt.

The standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.	Pt.	Opp.
Pampa	3	0	1.000	57.2	49
Monterey	3	0	1.000	60.3	49

Bears Accept Bowl Bid

WACO, Tex. (UPI) — Baylor coach John Bridgers said his team is "very proud to play a team with a record like Utah State's in the first annual Gotham Bowl at the New York City Polo Grounds Dec. 9.

Members of the Baylor team voted unanimously at Waco Wednesday to play in the post-season game, after clearance had been granted by the school's president, Abner V. McCall, and the Athletic Council.

"We view it a great honor to play in the very first Gotham Bowl," Bridgers said.

H. B. (Hy) Hunsaker, Utah State athletic director, said the Bears "come from one of the toughest football conferences in the nation and have a good reputation for strong football."

The meeting will be the first on the football field between the two schools. They have met before in basketball.

Karl Klages, Aggie sports publicity director, said "they (the Utah State Athletic Department) have plenty of respect for any team in the Southwest Conference."

Utah State of the Skyline Conference has a season record of nine wins against one tie, ranks third in the nation among major football teams in total offense, and second behind Alabama in defense.

Quanah And Dalhart To Do Battle

Mighty Quanah and upstart Dalhart, two newcomers to the state playoffs, keep the Panhandle in the football spotlight for at least one more week when they clash Friday afternoon at 2 at Buffalo Bowl in Canyon.

The winner of this AA quarter-finals contest will move into the semi-finals next week against the Jacksboro-Hooks victor.

Both clubs bring high-scoring aggregations into the playoff battle. Quanah's Indians, undefeated in 12 games, have racked up 455 points and Dalhart, loser only to top ranked AAA Dunfas, has tallied 436 points.

This is the first time either school has advanced this far in the state playoffs. Dalhart is in the post season play for the first time since 1930.

But both are ready to make a mighty effort for the AA crown held by Denver City, a team Dalhart knocked off 29-8 last Thursday.

Dalhart's victory over Denver City snapped the state's longest winning skein at 26. The Wolves have two fine backs in fullback Jim McClesky and halfback Tommy Ledbetter.

McClesky and Ledbetter each rushed for 100 yards plus against Denver City as the Wolves battled back from an 8-7 deficit on a thrilling 97-yard run by Ledbetter.

Quanah has power — in fullback Bill Mansell — and speed — in halfback Blackie Wade and quarterback Danny Scarbrough. Everett Kelley, a 175-pound end, is a pass catching expert and an extra point and field goal specialist.

Majors To Vote On Bonus Rule

TAMPA Fla. (UPI) — The major league baseball clubs, who have been spending millions of dollars a year for untried youngsters, attempted to put a brake on their lavish bonus payments today.

They considered a rule, that would make large bonus payments too much of a gamble, but the chances appeared to be less than 50-50 that it would be passed.

The proposed rule came up for consideration today at the final session of the minor league convention. All proposals must be approved by the minors before they can be considered by the majors.

Should the minors adopt the rule, then it will have to be approved by the majors later this week at their convention in Miami Beach before it becomes part of the baseball code.

The new proposal would provide that any player who received a bonus of $8,000 or more for signing a contract would have to be kept on the active list of the team signing him. If sent down to the minors, he still would count against the 25-active player limit of the club. And if waivers are asked on the player, they cannot be withdrawn.

The Pampa Daily News

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Confused Mr. Bowles

Mr. Chester Bowles of the U.S. State Department provided one of the "highlights of American Education Week."

He made a speech, which was supposed to be read by somebody in his behalf or maybe presented by tape recorder — at a adult education conference, which were part of the week's celebration.

First Mr. Bowles advocated more government intervention in the lives of people. Immediately following this he advocated less intervention, etc.

He wants stronger alliances with other nations, a strengthened United Nations and federal action to strengthen national defense, improve highways and schools, and provide "greater opportunities for all our people."

At the same time, he says we should seek "adjustments within our own economy which will help expand international trade" rather than increased tariffs which would "shut out those foreign goods which compete with American products no matter how costly and inefficient our domestic production can be."

His speech was an attack on what he calls "isolationists," which is a smear term used by interventionists in our government against those who believe the people of the United States should regain their own freedoms and opportunities and not try to turn them over to some vast world government which would destroy the few remaining liberties left to the individual.

One of the groups of "isolationists" tabbed by Bowles is "the concentration of many patriotic Americans on the activities of our small minority of domestic communists to the exclusion of far greater challenge abroad."

He seems to think there is a difference between communism in Russia and Communism in the United States, which clearly has been shown to be a part of an international conspiracy to make the United States a complete dictatorship and thus a part of the totalitarian world of peoples controlled by a master state.

It is unfortunate that men who think like Bowles have taken control of our government, and then will be spokesmen for what passes as "education."

Spur To Interest

The modern workman would do well to take an interest in his work and become proficient. Remember, he can often be replaced by a button.

Conservation Fallacies

One of the more impressive arguments offered by governmental dependents relates to the conservation of natural resources.

It is claimed by these adherents to a use of force, that private enterprise invariably exploits the land and the resources of the land. It follows, therefore, that some kind of restraint in law must be invoked to prevent private enterprisers from stripping the land of all its assets and leaving worn-out and valueless pieces of terrain.

This argument will not hold up when confronted with economic truth.

But because certain instances of bad management can be pointed to by socialist schemers, it is an argument that is accepted quite widely. Indeed, so general is belief in it, that the luckless supporter of economic fact is placed at a disadvantage when he seeks to show that the argument is specious, invalid and wholly without merit.

There is, perhaps, nothing more difficult than to oppose emotional commitment with logic.

Let us go back in time to a period when this nation was a young and when vast areas of virgin timber covered millions of acres presently converted to other uses. Socialists claim that foresters moved in against this timber, stripping the land, causing soil erosion and then vanishing after skimming off the cream of the big trees.

The claim is spurious and invalid, if viewed in a correct light.

Let us admit, however, that in certain instances the government gave grants to timbermen, thereby giving to some, something for nothing. When this occurred, in a few instances lumbermen did strip the land leaving it prey to the elements. But had these same lumbermen been placed in such a condition that they must bid for the land in a competing market, they would have had to make an original investment in land which would have been sizable enough at the outset to counteract any tendency to strip and run.

No man in his right mind makes a costly investment only to "milk" his newly acquired asset and then abandon it. On the contrary, even including the bad managers, when costly purchases are made, the buyer tends to protect his investment, not destroy it. Even if he expects to make a "quick killing," he must still think in terms of ultimate sale of that which he so dearly purchased. If he destroys the beauty and the utility of that which he owns, who will buy it from him? And who will repay him for the many dollars he has invested?

So, in those rare instances when bad management and land stripping occurred, upon examination you will find that government was at the bottom of the deal somewhere. It was either offering "free" land for the exploiting, or it was offering fancy prices for timber cutting on land that it did not expect to deed over to private persons, anyway.

Where timbermen purchased timber rights or bought the land outright for logging operations, you do not see the destruction of natural resources. Rather, you discover the logger working industriously taking out only the largest trees.

But this does not skim the land. Rather, it opens clear spaces for the younger trees to grow. Tree farming has been developed by private timbermen because it is to their advantage NOT to destroy that which they own.

In point of fact, the great cause of conservation was not sited by government men, altho Theodore Roosevelt usually gets the credit. It was sited by the lumbermen themselves, who mistakenly put their trust in government in an effort to limit the production of their competition.

A close examination of the entire conservation effort reveals two important points, almost always overlooked either thru ignorance or thru malice. 1. Conservation efforts were born in the minds of private property owners. 2. The apparent need for conservation occurred at the outset because of government intrusion in the market place; and the only reason to have it today is because of continued government intrusion.

When these facts are included in the equation, one discovers that the villain of conservation is the government; and the hero is the private owner of property, working diligently against governmental odds in order to protect and perpetuate that which he owns.

The mudskipper has a head and forelegs resembling those of a frog, but the rest of his body is like that of a fish.

The American Way

THE TRUTH MUST BE HEARD In the age of the muted statement and the public relations approach to almost every problem, the outspoken individualist is as rare as he is valuable to community and country.

This thought comes to mind in connection with disclosure of some plain-spoken grassroots conviction to President Kennedy. The man who voiced his convictions and those of many people in his region is Ted Dealey, publisher of The Dallas Morning News, a conservative morning newspaper in Texas.

Mr. Dealey was one of a group of publishers invited to dine with Mr. Kennedy and to inform him of grassroots sentiment in their part of the country. To be sure, the White House was not genuinely interested in gathering opinion in Texas. This luncheon, which was one in a series, had as its real purpose the political wooing of influential publishers and editors. According to the thinking of the White House palace guard, exposure to the personality of Mr. Kennedy — in the imposing surroundings of the executive mansion — should suffice to make some, if not all, publishers and editors see things the New Frontier way.

But Mr. Dealey was not one to submit to polite presidential brain washing when he had been requested to contribute to presidential understanding of popular beliefs. Once in Mr. Kennedy's presence, Mr. Dealey accepted the invitation at face value. According to his statement published in the Dallas Morning News, Mr. Dealey said: "I had the temerity to read a little memorandum."

In this memorandum, Mr. Dealey declared: "The general opinion of the grass roots thinking in this country is that you and your administration are weak sisters. Particularly is this true in Texas right now. We need a man on horseback to lead this nation and many people in Texas and the Southwest think that you are riding Caroline's tricycle."

Though he received what he had asked for — a candid expression of opinion — Mr. Kennedy was indignant, though trying to conceal it. When Mr. Dealey finished reading the memorandum, the President turned to Pierre Salinger, his press secretary, and said: "Don't subscribe to that paper. I'm tired of reading its editorials." To which Salinger replied, "But I have to read them."

Perhaps some people will think that Mr. Dealey should have softened his views and meekly sat silent while Mr. Kennedy turned on his political charm, sketching the wonders of life on the New Frontier. But persons who hold this view should consider what is at stake — it is nothing less than the future of the United States of America. A President must not be viewed as a monarch of old, in whose presence no one dares speak an unpopular truth in fear of being banished to a remote region.

The President of the United States is like every other citizen in this republic. He must hear the truth about the condition of the country, even though he may never be able to hear it. It is possible that conservatives, if they are outspoken like Mr. Dealey, will convince Mr. Kennedy to change his views.

Even if they are unsuccessful in this effort, they at least lay down for the public the realities of American public life. Above all else, no one these days should submit to falsehood or give value to the aura of name and power. The light to save America from socialism and communism will never be won by those who endlessly urge the soft word and the cautious approach. Outspoken public leaders, like the Texas publisher, are necessary if freedom and constitutional government are to be protected from danger within and without.

IGNORANCE REVEALED (Charleston S.C. News-Courier)

Whatever qualities are possessed by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, the Arkansas appeaser, historical understanding and vision are not among them.

In 1946, when the Soviet Union was forcing Eastern Europe into satellite status, Sen. Fulbright was asked to contribute a chapter to a book entitled "Assignment In Exposition." His chapter, entitled "The Price Of Peace Is The Loss of Prejudices," contains statements that make interesting reading now that he is busy attempting to silence anti-communists. He referred to "unbridled and interperate attacks upon Russia" and declared: "I do not believe the Soviets desire to dominate the world as the Germans did."

This is the man who now criticizes defense leaders for allegedly lacking knowledge of world issues. Kennedy, however, returned to the German problem. He cited Soviet losses in World War II and said the United States, too, had suffered although not so severely. He said his elder brother Joseph Jr. and a brother-in-law were killed.

"The fact is that the war is over," Kennedy said. "We wish to prevent a new war which could break out in Germany."

He said World War II must not be used as a rallying cry for building the tensions that might set off a new war.

Club For Careless Drivers

WASHINGTON — John McCone, new head of the Central Intelligence Agency, is preparing to tighten the reins on the way his super-secret agency spends its money.

He is asking Cord Meyer Jr., who handles the CIA's unvouchered funds, to make a full report on the $400 million that he doled out during the past 12 months for covert operations and intelligence gathering activities.

Returning from a first-hand survey of the agency's foreign operations earlier this month, McCone decided on this move after discovering that the CIA had financed dozens of questionable conference, groups, and other undercover activities throughout the world.

For instance, McCone was shocked to learn in Europe that the CIA promoted or financed nearly every major international socialist conference held on the continent during the past 10 years.

He is now investigating to determine whether these conferences were arranged as intelligence gathering missions or to promote socialist movements and groups abroad, as some evidence now indicates.

McCone is also looking into the advisability of another questionable CIA activity. This is the unpublicized practice of giving large fees to U.S. law firms and foundations for making intelligence studies and furnishing the agency operational "advice," none of which has been of visible help in improving the CIA. In one case, a New York law firm was paid more than a million dollars in "consultant fees" with no evidence of positive results.

Meyer, who handles these unvouchered funds, is one of the real mystery men in government. His name has never been listed in a government directory since he joined the agency early in the '50s. Only a handful of persons know of Meyer or his position and none of these will discuss it.

Before joining the CIA, Meyer was national president of the United World Federalists and a vocal advocate of world government. He is a friend of William Bundy, deputy to Assistant Defense Secretary Paul Nitze. Meyer, Bundy, and Nitze have worked as a team in shaping and supporting the policy of supplying U.S. military and economic aid to Yugoslavia's Communist dictator Tito.

LIFTING THE LID — McCone is also lighting another time bomb within the CIA. He is making a first-hand survey of the agency's "estimates" division, which is headed by Sherman Kent.

The new CIA director is looking over these reports to determine their accuracy and the impact that these national intelligence estimates have on U.S. foreign policy — especially, U.S.-Soviet relations.

Already, the unexpected move by McCone has touched off a series of secret battles between CIA officials and members of the State Department policy planning staff. These officials, who work together in drafting position papers, are concerned that they will lose control over the "estimates" on which their policy is being based if McCone decides to shake-up the division.

If this should happen, the stage would be set for a complete restudy of U.S. policies toward the Soviet-Chinese Communist bloc and why these policies have failed to stem the tide of international Communism.

Hankering

On Thanksgiving Day I was so busy getting more than my share of white meat, so busy asking for second helpings of mashed potatoes, carrots and peas, turnips, creamed onions, cranberry sauce, corn pudding, and several other life-giving dishes that I forgot to give full and complete thanks for being an American.

In my heart I said thanks, yes, but not the whole way. It's time I made up for this.

I say thanks now for: Doughnuts. America is the only country in the world with the know-how to make a light, crispy, hot one. And the best ones in America are made in the Farmer's Market in Los Angeles, so I say a special thanks to them.

Drum Majorfette Schools. Were it not for these institutions of higher baton tossing many an American girl's talent for high stepping would forever remain dormant, and that would be man's loss.

Society Gossip Columnists. But for these, most of us would never know what Mrs. Winston Guest wore to the Charity Ball for Polo Ponies, the latest antics of the Duke of Bedford the whereabouts of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, the marital status of Prince Pignatelli, and the cost of the debut of Dorotha Maxwell Dodge Reu.

Presidential Press Secretaries. Without them, we would never realize how quickly an unimportant man can become tremendously important overnight.

The Price of City Real Estate. The cost of a 50 by 50 piece of ground shows how deeply Americans are devoted to one another, and what they'll pay to live hedge to hedge, window to window.

Trains. Ours are the only really comfortable ones in the world, and the only ones that sound like real trains.

Central Heating. We are the warmest people on earth in the winter. In fact, we are the ONLY warm people on earth.

Sandwiches. America is the only country that knows how to make a sandwich, and the only country that has the stuff to make the sandwiches with. England may have invented them, but we brought them to full flower.

Hot Running Water. That's another American blessing. Milk. Real good milk, that is. Ours is the only country where milk is important, and is given the care and devotion it deserves. In other lands, the best milk tastes like our skim milk if it had been skimmed ten more times.

Newspapers. The best a n y where. By far.

Western TV Shows. They keep alive the remembrance of a West that never was.

The Washington Redskins. I can't think why.

Hotel Night Clerks. Same as above.

Miniature Golf. Probably the world's greatest sport. To score a 20 on a par 24 hole that leads through a sewer pipe and around a corner is a tremendous thrill.

Juke Boxes. They, stand with the eagle as American symbols of strength and right. Strong, tireless, and noisy.

Telephones. Ours work. Also, apple pie, wrinkle-proof suits, a scarcity of bicycle riders, fried chicken, well-done pork, fried tea, soft bed pillows, and I repeat, central heating.

Trade Agreements Act Now Up For Usual Hassle

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — They're choosing up sides now for the triennial battle royal over renewal of the 27-year-old reciprocal trade agreements act. Unless renewed, it dies June 30.

There has always been some opposition to it. There is some indication this year that the opposition is noisier. More American industries are feeling the pinch of foreign competition.

But since the trade agreements acts have always been supported by both Democratic and Republican presidents and congressional majorities since 1934, there is little possibility it is going to be scrapped this year.

This battle is frequently oversimplified by saying it is a fight between protectionist advocates of a high tariff and free traders. It was that once, but it may not be now.

Few people want all tariffs abolished and few people want to return to high protective tariffs across the board to create an isolationist or economic fortress America.

What the so-called high tariff bloc really wants is assurance that tariffs won't be lowered any further, says O. R. Strackbein, founder and chairman of the Nationwide Committee on Import-Export Policy. This is a lobby of 200 companies, trade associations, farm and labor organizations in 60 industries. It operates on a budget of about $75,000 a year.

Its contention now is that over the past 27 years the United States has reduced its tariffs by about 80 per cent. Since this was done under the reciprocal trade agreements acts, the assumption is that Europe cut its tariffs similarly.

Actually, on dutiable items European tariffs against American goods are now said to average 7.4 per cent, American tariffs average only 11 per cent. If the whole free list is included, U.S. tariffs average only 6 per cent.

From another angle, it is argued by those who want U.S. tariffs cut no lower than the so-called "escape clause" is only 10 per cent effective. It is supposed to protect American industries from foreign competition in hardship cases.

In 120 escape clause cases that have come before the U.S. Tariff Commission since 1951, injury to U.S. industry has been found in only about 50 cases. Only 13 have reached the White House and nearly all have been turned down there.

The principal pressure group supporting liberal trade policy is the Committee for a National Trade Policy. Its board just met in Washington to select as its new chairman for the 1962 battle Carl J. Gilbert, chairman of Gillette Co.

Eighteen members of the committee's board called at the White House. They urged President Kennedy to take bold new action in negotiating lower tariffs against U.S. imports in exchange for lower tariffs against U.S. exports.

In 1958 this group spent $15,000 on lobbying and over $200,000 on its so-called educational campaign.

The other principal group opposing further liberalization of trade policies is the Trade Relations Council of New York. It was formerly known as the American erating head is Richard Anthony.

A number of trade associations which want protection fight their own battles. In this group are the domestic oil producers, cotton and other textile manufacturers, clothing and garment workers and the dairy industry, which is fighting off foreign cheese imports.

The coal producers and chemical goods manufacturers have so far not been as vocal as they were when trade agreements were up for renewal in 1958. U.S. antitrust action against electrical industry pricing policies may have quelled down this source of opposition.

Foreign-produced oil, lead and zinc are the only commodities against which there are U.S. import quota restrictions today. But there are additionally international agreements on sugar, coffee and other commodities. They allocate shares of the U.S. market to various producing countries.

There is a different story for almost every item entering into foreign trade. It is this complexity which makes real understanding of the tariff issue and trade policy so difficult.

Today is Thursday, Nov. 30, the 334th day of the year with 31 to follow in 1961.

The moon is in its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1782, preliminary peace articles ending the American-British Revolutionary War were signed in Paris.

In 1939, the Russo-Finnish War began after the Soviet Union failed to obtain territorial concessions from Finland.

In 1949, the Chinese Communists captured Chungking, China.

In 1954, the prime minister of the Union of South Africa, Daniel Malan, resigned and was succeeded by Johannes Strydom, an extreme nationalist.

A thought for the day: "The Spanish writer Cervantes said: 'There is no sauce in the world like hunger.'"
