Pampa Man Suffocates As Fire Damages Home

Former Truman Aide Named In $500,000 Fraud

NEW YORK (UPI) — Seven men, including a former Truman administration tax official and three ex-convicts, were named today as parties in a "stave" confidence game to raise $500,000 to produce a motion picture about the life of St. Patrick.

New York State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, in announcing he had obtained a court order requiring the seven to appear in court Friday with their books and records, said the plan unwittingly involved prominent government and religious officials.

Horde Of Negro Demonstrators Held In Georgia

ALBANY, Ga. (UPI) — Police prepared to deal with more Negro demonstrators today in this staunch segregationist city where 466 persons have been arrested during the past two days for protesting the trial of "freedom riders."

City and county jails were filled, and the National Guard Armory was brought into use as a detention area for demonstrators. Police Chief Laurie Pritchett said "we'll keep on arresting them and moving them to other jails." He said he has been offered the use of jails "throughout south Georgia."

Police arrested 199 persons Wednesday when Negroes staged three demonstrations within eight hours at the town square. Another 267 Negroes were jailed Tuesday for demonstrating outside city hall during the opening of the trial of 11 "freedom riders."

The trial of the bi-racial group of riders, arrested Dec. 10 for attempting to use the "white" waiting room of the train station, was not held Wednesday because of the demonstrations.

Dr. W. G. Anderson, head of the integrationist Albany Movement, told a rally of 500 persons Wednesday night that "it is no disgrace to go to jail. We are proud to go to jail for a right cause."

Mayor Asa Kelly said the "Negroes have shown they are not in good faith by their demonstrations. I think they have hurt themselves here in Albany by their actions."

Kelly told the first group of demonstrators Wednesday—74 Negroes who knelt in prayer on the courthouse steps—that their lives might be in danger because "we have received word that many people from around the country are coming in who may do violence." He asked them to disperse. Instead, they sang hymns.

EIGHT DAYS only remain for Christmas shopping.

HEARS VERDICT — Adolf Eichmann sat tight-lipped as he heard the guilty verdict from three black-robed judges in the Beth Haam courtroom in Jerusalem, Israel. The former high-ranking Nazi officer was convicted on all 15 counts of the indictment charging him with responsibility for the slaughter of millions of Jews. (NEA Telephoto)

Several Children Killed As Train Rams School Bus

GREELEY, Colo. (UPI) — A Union Pacific passenger train crashed into a loaded school bus six miles southeast of here this morning, killing between 10 and 15 children and injuring at least 30 others.

The bodies of the victims were brought to the National Guard Armory here. All were grade school students.

The train was not derailed, and no persons aboard the UP streamliner apparently were hurt. The state patrol here said it did not know how many were killed but "there were a number of fatalities."

A radio newsmen, Larry Cooper of station KFKA, in Greeley, said he had counted 10 bodies.

The Weld County hospital here said it had at least 30 children in an "emergency room full of injured students."

The passenger train crashed into the bus on a county road. Ambulances were rushed to the scene to take the injured children to the hospital and administer first aid.

The accident happened at about 8:15 a.m., the patrol said. The crash occurred on a paved Weld County crossing. There were no flashing signals at the crossing, but it was marked. Cooper reported wreckage was strewn across the tracks, and authorities were checking the main part of the bus for bodies or injured persons.

Knife Cuts Put Man In Hospital

One man was in Highland General Hospital today and another was charged with aggravated assault as the result of an argument and cutting affray late Wednesday night in front of the Busy Bee Cafe, 410 Maple St.

Belmor Junior Ryan, 25, 406 Oklahoma, was taken to the hospital with a slashed wrist and severed tendon. He was reported recovering late this forenoon.

The aggravated assault charge was placed against David Lucas, 40, Elm St., in county court today. Boyce W. Anderson, 39, and Elmo Rhone both of 504 Elm St. were charged in Corporation Court with disturbing the peace. Police reports said Ryan became involved in an argument with Lucas, Anderson, and Rhone inside the cafe and all four went outside to settle it.

According to Lt. J. B. Goad and Patrolman G. W. Callahan, Lucas is alleged to have pulled a knife and slashed Ryan in the wrist. All three men charged still were in jail late this forenoon.

Wife Discovers Husband's Body In Living Room

Elmer Lee Smith, 42, died of smoke suffocation early today in the four-room house in which he lived at the rear of 121 S. Wynne.

Coroner J. W. Graham said this noon the verdict would be accidental death by suffocation.

According to firemen and the coroner's report Smith apparently had fallen asleep while smoking in bed. Smith was found by his wife, shortly after 1 a.m. when she returned from work.

According to Coroner Graham, Smith had apparently been awakened and tried to get out of the house. His body was found slumped over a couch in the living room.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Satter, owners of the house, told newsmen the house was filled with so much smoke, firemen had to clear it away before ambulance attendants could enter.

Smoke damage to the house was heavy, firemen said, but there was apparently no blaze.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Fellowship Baptist Church with the Rev. Earl Maddox, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Jerry Bryan, pastor of the Community Church in Skellytown.

Mr. Smith was born April 25, 1919 in Ranger and had lived in San Angelo, Dumas and Borger before moving to Pampa 17 years ago. He was a veteran of World War II.

Survivors are his wife, Gladys, of Pampa; two step-daughters, Mrs. Jim Keelin of Briscoe, Mrs. Lester Randall of Skellytown; one granddaughter, Debbie; his mother, Mrs. Georgia McClelland of San Angelo; three brothers, Doyle, Raymond and Jeff all of Skellytown.

Oil Group Plans Proposal To Curb Foreign Imports

DALLAS (UPI) — The imports committee of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO) is drawing up legislation to take to Congress for controlling oil imports.

The committee Wednesday asked the Kennedy administration to press early plans for limiting oil imports.

Nation Mourns Grandma Moses

HOOSICK FALLS, N.Y. (UPI) — Grandma Moses once said "If I didn't start painting, I would have raised chickens."

That was the way Grandma Moses, who died Wednesday at the age of 101, said things—salty and simple. She painted the "old timey" pictures of American rural life that way, too, and it won her world renown.

Grandma Moses, whose real name was Anna Mary Robertson Moses, has her "primitive" pictures hanging in museums in Vienna, in Paris and all over the United States. Just as important to her, they also are available to every American on Christmas cards.

President Kennedy led the persons, who mourned the loss of this tiny, self-effacing artist.

"The directness and vividness of her paintings restored a primitive freshness to our perception of the American scene," he said.

Grandma Moses had been confined to the Hoosick Falls Health Center since mid-summer as the result of a fall at her home in

U.S. And Russia Agree On Arms Parley Plans

U.S. Accepts 4 More Slav Air Students

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department plans to give four more Yugoslav airmen technical training within the next few weeks at Lowry Air Force Base in Denver, Colo.

The Defense Department said the four will complete the total of 12 America agreed to train as part of a sale of 130 obsolescent Sabrejet fighter planes to Yugoslavia for $10,000 each.

The other eight airmen have completed their training. They were trained at Perrin Air Force Base near Sherman, Tex.

They will be trained as "weapons controller" technicians. The State and Defense departments contended, when the issue was raised in October that aiding Yugoslavia to keep its independence from Moscow was vital to America's security, and has "denied to the Soviet Union an important strategic area in southeastern Europe."

Secrecy Shrouds Rescue Of 2 Men And Boat At Sea

GALVESTON (UPI) — The Coast Guard today had custody of a flat black speedboat capable of cruising at 60 miles an hour that reportedly had been used on ferry missions between Florida and Cuba for the Central Intelligence Agency.

An air of intrigue surrounded the boat's two passengers who were picked up, apparently in distress Monday off the coast of Cuba by a freighter.

The solid black craft has two tandem bucket seats on a Catalina hull with a pair of 100-horsepower outboard engines. Galveston boatmen assessed its potential speed as tremendous.

A curtain of secrecy was thrown up around the two occupants, an American and a Spanish-speaking man who gave his nationality as Cuban. The Coast Guard whisked them off the freighter at Bolivar Roads before the ship put in at Galveston.

Immigration officers said they identified themselves as John Stevens, a citizen of the United States and Reynaldo Silva Natiagua, a citizen of Cuba.

Houston Press Washington reporter Richard Boyce said Wednesday he had learned from an entirely authoritative source that the boat and its occupants were part of a CIA project that went awry.

In Washington, Paul Lonsdale, public information officer of the Coast Guard, told Boyce the entire matter was highly classified. The whereabouts of the two men aboard the boat was not disclosed by the immigration service.

State Gets Relief From Severe Cold

By United Press International
Texas got welcome relief today from the first severe cold spell of the season.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said freezing precipitation was unlikely at least in the next 24 hours. Earlier, forecasters said sleet and snow were possible in the north part of the state.

Clouds covered most of Texas except the Panhandle and drizzle fell along the Gulf Coast and across much of Southeast Texas.

UN Names Committee To Work On Problem

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — A half-year of hard bargaining by Moscow and Washington brought the United Nations today to the point of resuming efforts to disarm the world.

An 18-nation committee, worked out by the Soviet Union and the United States and approved unanimously by the General Assembly's Main Political Committee Wednesday night, will start work on the elusive disarmament problem as soon as technical arrangements can be made.

Its main working paper will be a set of broad principles agreed upon by President Kennedy's disarmament adviser, John J. McCloy, and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin.

Whether the time was ripe for the committee to make any real progress was the big question.

Zorin told the committee Wednesday night that if the United States goes through with its present nuclear test plans, the Soviet Union would have to continue its own series.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean labeled this as pressure for another unspoken moratorium "which can be violated at will whenever the Soviet Union wishes to violate it." He made it clear the United States would not submit to it.

Ambassador Adlai Stevenson warned the political committee that the hardest job, still lay ahead.

"What is yet to be undertaken looms as a gigantic task alongside what has just been accomplished," he said. "We have found the way to resume actual consideration of actual disarmament measures, but we have not yet tackled the task of disarming. We have agreed on certain basic principles, but (not) a means to put a single one into effect."

Artificial Meteor Fired Over Ocean

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The space agency sent a fiery artificial meteor over the Atlantic early today in a scientific test of air friction on fast-moving objects.

The test was conducted with a four-stage solid-fuel Trailblazer fired at 2:10 a.m. from the Wallops Island, Va., station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Air Force Plans To Send Monkey On Rocket Jaunt

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The Air Force, fresh from a successful wrap-up on the research and development of its Titan I missile, went ahead with plans today to shoot a monkey 5,000 miles aboard another intercontinental rocket.

The animal, a rhesus monkey weighing about six pounds, will be hurled more than 600 miles into space inside a "piggyback pod" attached to the side of a silver Atlas ICBM.

The monkey shot is expected shortly from Cape Canaveral. An Air Force crew fired a bullet-shaped Titan Wednesday night about 5,000 miles across the Atlantic in the finale "R - and - D" flight for America's second ICBM system.

The Titan I, capable of hurling hydrogen warheads of more than five megatons more than one-third of the way around the globe, is expected to become officially combat-ready late this month or early in 1962.

Operational status for the Titan is awaiting go-ahead from the Air Force, which in turn is awaiting installation of the first nuclear-tipped Titans in launching silos at Lowry Air Force Base near Denver, Colo.

January Draft Call Announced

AUSTIN (UPI) — State Selective Service headquarters today announced a January draft call of 440 men, 121 less than for December.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state director, also said some 4,000 men would be given pre-induction physical examinations next month.

Another Cuban Refugee Center May Be Set Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration said today that it is considering establishing a second refugee center for Cuban exiles with New York and New Orleans as prospective sites.

William L. Mitchell, head of the Cuban relief program in the Health, Education and Welfare Department, said New York City and New Orleans were under consideration as new localities for handling the heavy influx of Cubans fleeing Fidel Castro's regime.

Mitchell told the Senate subcommittee on refugees and escapees that the problem "is not sufficiently urgent at present for a second city at this time but it is under active study."

Mitchell was the lead-off witness as the subcommittee began its third day of hearings on the problems created in Miami and Dade County by the refugees.

Mitchell said that one of the major problems in establishing a second refugee center was the fact that the administration did not know how much money would be available for its program.

ENDORSE THIS CHECK PLEASE

Most people today have checking accounts. As negotiable instruments, checks allow you to transfer money easily.

Two main ways to negotiate checks: by delivery or by endorsement and, now and then, by assigning them.

For checks made out to "cash" or "bearer," delivery alone negotiates them. It's not a good idea to make out checks this way. Any holder can cash the check without endorsement — a thief, a finder or some other unauthorized person. A merchant cashing it may still have you sign the check for identification.

You negotiate checks made out to named payees by endorsement. There are several kinds:

1. A blank endorsement: The endorser just signs his name, usually a poor idea. Anyone getting hold of it can negotiate it by delivery. As the endorser, you may have to pay if it bounces.

2. Special endorsements say who gets the money. On the check's back, you may write "pay to the order of John Jones," followed by your name. If Jones cashes it, he must sign it, a way to show that he got the check.

3. Some endorsements cut off further negotiations: You sign a check, "for deposit only," "for collection only," "Pay to Joe White only." This means no further negotiation.

4. Qualified endorsements remove endorser's liability if the check bounces. Here you write "without recourse" on the check's back and sign your name.

When would you use such a check? Suppose you are collecting funds for your club, a debt for a friend, or a business associate. The debtor makes out the check to you. You have no stake in the check; you just want to pass it on to its rightful owner. But you may have to endorse it, though you don't want to guarantee it. Should the check bounce after negotiation to other people you don't want to hold the bag as an endorser. The qualified endorsement solves this problem.

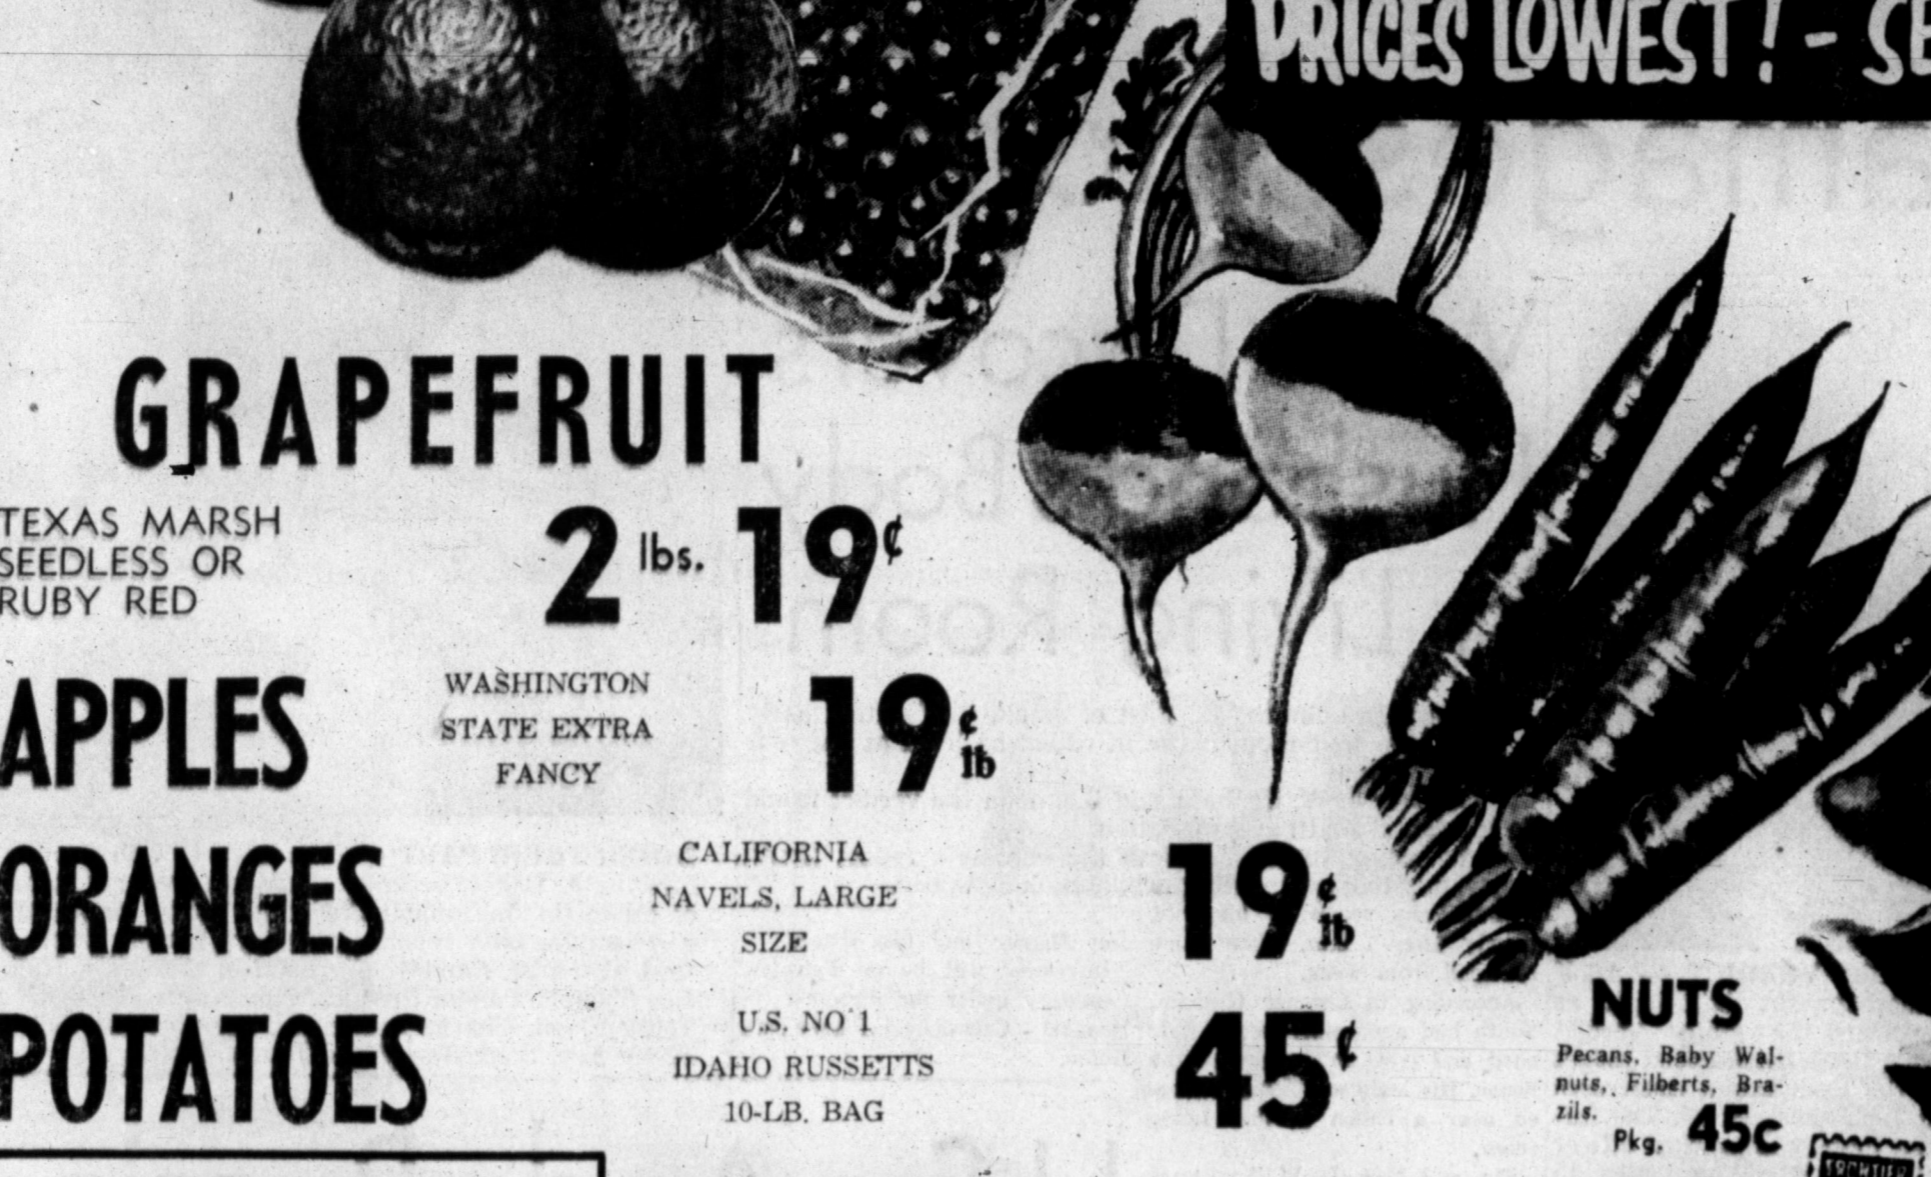

5. A conditional endorsement limits the rights of the person getting the check. "Pay to the order of John Jones, upon completion of my home." It calls upon John Jones to honor this condition. But such an endorsement does not always work. Jones can still negotiate it or cash it at a store or bank. Only he is subject to the condition, not the store or bank. Such an endorsement may at least fix your rights between you and Jones.

When you endorse a check (except "without recourse"), you guarantee that it is good, even though the first maker may make a stop payment or deny that the reasons for making the check exist.

Outbreak Of Flu Now Reported In Trio Of States

By United Press International
The first of the predicted outbreaks of influenza has closed schools in Colorado and Missouri communities, curtailed activities in Illinois and brought absenteeism in California factories.

The peak of the outbreaks coincided with the coldest weather of the season in Illinois, Missouri and Colorado.

Early last fall the American Medical Association and the U.S. Public Health Service forecast increased incidence of flu during the cold months.

Potosi, Mo.; Ignacio, Durango and Pagosa Springs, Colo. were first to be hit.

Schools had been scheduled to reopen today at Potosi but a new increase in the number of victims delayed the resumption of classes until Monday, School Supt. William Long announced this morning.

Long estimated that 75 per cent of Potosi's 1,200 school children were afflicted. He said there were about 1,500 flu cases in the town of 2,500. Potosi's five doctors said the epidemic was the most severe in recent years.

Authorities at Wolf Lake, Ill., across the Mississippi River from Potosi, speculated the virus infection may have been carried there by Christmas shoppers.

The Wolf Lake outbreak began Monday and by Wednesday 143 of the town's 325 school children were stricken.

A "flu-like illness" struck both children and adults in the Los Angeles area of California. Health officials recorded "above average" absenteeism in schools and manufacturing plants.

UN Spokesman Denies Katanga Drive Planned

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo (UPI) — Katangese forces dug in today for an expected all-out offensive by United Nations troops.

Katanga President Moise Tshombe, in what he called an "ultimate appeal to the free world," claimed Wednesday night that U.N. preparations prove they are getting ready for a massive attack. He vowed that his people are ready to die to "defend our freedom."

Well-informed U.N. sources said such an attack was "unlikely in the immediate future." The sources said the Katanga government's belief that an attack was imminent "appeared to be based on the misconception that new United Nations reinforcements would be thrown into the battle immediately."

A U.N. spokesman in Leopoldville said a steady stream of U.N. reinforcements had been sent to Katanga throughout Wednesday to help restore law and order. Katangese gendarmes and armed civilians are trying to break Katanga away from the Congo.

The Security Council authorized the U.N. command to use force, if necessary, to restore peace.

There were no efforts to bring about a cease-fire in Katanga Wednesday, Acting U.N. Secretary General Thant rejected Britain's appeal for a cease-fire on the ground the Katangese authorities showed no interest in stopping the fighting.

Tshombe, in a communique to the Katangese delegation in Brussels, reiterated his determination to defend Katanga's independence.

"Katanga troops are steadfastly awaiting their adversary," it said. "The resistance will be total and not one inch of ground will be given up without fierce fighting to the last man and the last drop of blood. The entire world will know tomorrow morning (Thursday) whether Katanga will win or die."

The communique said 20 U.N. planes landed Wednesday in Elisabethville, unloading 1,800 Ethiopian soldiers "with considerable war material."

Another Katanga communique issued earlier asked U.N. Under Secretary General Ralph Bunche to fly here from Leopoldville on a "fact-finding mission."

It said Bunche could then "bring to the world proof of the cruel inhuman actions of the U.N. armed forces on free Katanga soil."

The communique also said seven civilians have been killed and 25 wounded since U.N. troops began mortar shelling in Elisabethville.

(A high Katanga government official was reported to have crossed secretly Wednesday into Northern Rhodesia to seek urgently needed fuel supplies. U.N. Canberras recently destroyed large quantities of Katangese fuel, including a major dump in Elisabethville.)

The steady rain of mortar fire in the Katanga capital Tuesday night and early Wednesday wrecked the French consulate and the headquarters of the Benedictine friars.

Civil Defense Plan Readied

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Kennedy administration today unveiled a $700 million civil defense program that includes funds for subsidizing construction of community fallout shelters in schools and hospitals.

Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatrick told a news conference the key feature of the new program was a plan to subsidize building of shelters aimed at protecting 20 million persons.

Federal funds would be available to public or private, non-profit institutions engaged in health, education and welfare activities — primarily schools and hospitals.

Gilpatrick said President Kennedy will ask Congress in January for the funds to underwrite the program.

He said Kennedy's appropriations request will be in the neighborhood of $700 million, more than twice the civil defense budget for this year.

It was understood that substantially more than half of the $700 million would be earmarked for the shelter subsidy program.

Gilpatrick said the federal grant would be something less than the actual cost of construction. Local agencies presumably would put up the rest.

critic and collector, discovered her early works in a drug store window here in 1933.

With fame came fortune, earning up to a reported $10,000 a picture. But it never turned Grandma Moses' head. She kept right on painting, working like the farm woman she was.

She produced more than 1,200 oil paintings, including one her illnesses prevented her from finishing, called "Beautiful World."

Grandma was a bonafide title. She had five children, 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Her first exhibition at the St. Etienne Galleries in New York brought her immediate fame. Her most remembered paintings are "The Checkered House," which depicts a large farmhouse, "All Is Still," showing a stream flowing past a hillside mill; and "The Old Oaken Bucket," one of her most famous.

Water Program Is Recommended By Commission

AUSTIN (UPI)—A three-phase program for the future development of Texas water has been recommended to the U.S. Study Commission by the State Board of Water Engineers.

The board made its recommendations after a two-month study of a water program prepared for Gov. Price Daniel by the study commission. The report covers Texas water needs projected into the year 2010.

The board recommended congressional appropriations for early completion of reservoirs at McGee Bend on the Neches River; Navarro Mills on the Trinity; Waco, Stillhouse Hollow; Somerville and Proctor, all on the Brazos; Twin Buttes on the Colorado; and Canyon on the Guadalupe.

The second phase called for funds for advance planning and early construction of Bardwell Reservoir on the Trinity, local flood-protection projects and navigation projects.

Upon completion of surveys, the board recommended appropriations for advance planning and early construction of a salt water barrier on the Neches, Lavon Reservoir enlargement, comprehensive development of the Trinity Basin, Milcan Reservoir on the Brazos, North San Gabriel Reservoir on the Brazos, Cuero Reservoir on the Guadalupe, flood protection projects, navigation projects and hurricane-protection projects.

When Congress enacts legislation approving the study commission report, funds should be appropriated for the Wallisville salt water barrier on the Trinity and Columbus Bend Reservoir on the Colorado, the board said.

The U.S. Study Commission report dealt only with intrastate river basins, covering some 62 per cent of the area of Texas. The remaining area is served by border rivers such as the Canadian, Red, Sulphur, Sabine and Rio Grande.

DUKE OF WINDSOR AND WIFE — "Time has long since sanctified a true and faithful union."

Duke And Wife Still Snubbed By Royalty

By TOM A. CULLEN LONDON (NEA) — On the bitterly cold night of Dec. 12, 1936, the British destroyer HMS Fury slid out of Portsmouth harbor carrying a sad, white-faced monarch into exile.

King Edward VIII, now known to the world as the Duke of Windsor, had just tossed away his crown for "the woman I love," as he described American divorcee Wallis Simpson. The nation he left behind was reeling from the shock.

Looking back after 25 years, it is hard to visualize the excitement, the bitter recriminations which the abdication touched off. But at the time, there were no neutrals as far as the ill-starred monarch was concerned.

The king either was involved in the "romance of the century," or he was the central figure of a scandal which threatened to bring the institution of the monarchy into disrepute.

Whatever the outcome of the abdication crisis, the monarchy would never again be the same, the pessimists predicted. They said the delicate fabric of esteem surrounding the royalty had been torn beyond repair. But Edward was succeeded by his brother, George VI, who in turn was succeeded by Queen Elizabeth II. Far from suffering from the abdication, the monarchy today is stronger — and commands greater respect and admiration than it did then, most observers believe.

At the same time, the British nation appears to have been less than just to the Duke of Windsor. "It's love and love alone that caused King Edward to lose his throne. . . . Thus runs a Trinidad calypso which swept the world in the wake of the abdication."

No Briton under the age of 30 today would ever have heard this calypso, nor have any independent memory of the events which it celebrates in song. All that the present generation of Britons knows about "Edward and Wallis" is what their parents have told them.

The Windsors have been buried alive by the Establishment, that curiously British combination of church, peerage and landed gentry. One sees press photos of the Duke and Duchess occasionally on the society pages as members of the international smart set glimpsed at Cannes or Palm Beach. Otherwise there is a conspiracy of silence, abnormal in a country which is so curious about its royals.

The Duke of Windsor slips in and out of England almost stealthily, his movements barely noted by the press. He still, quite obviously, is the black sheep of the royal family. The vedetta has in some cases

Try Two-Flavored Christmas Cookies For Gift-Giving To Favorite Friends

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here's an American version of a Viennese cakelette, made with a crumb topping and bottom layer. Half the cookies are chocolate flavored; half butterscotch, although both are baked in the same pan.

TWIN "BAKE-IN-BULK" COOKIES
(Chocolate-Butterscotch)
(Yield: Approximately 6 dozen cookie squares)

CRUMB LAYERS
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Combine bread crumbs, sugar and cinnamon. Add butter, mix well. Use one-half crumb mixture to line bottom of 2 greased 8x8 1/2-inch pans OR a 9x13x2-inch pan.

CHOCOLATE-BUTTERSOTCH BATTER

1 cup butter or margarine
3/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-6-ounce package (1 cup) semisweet chocolate morsels
1 cup walnuts, divided
1-6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch morsels

Cream together butter and sugar. Beat in eggs, one at a time, add almond extract, beating until very light and fluffy. Sift in flour and salt; stir until blended. Divide mixture in half. To one-half of mixture add semisweet chocolate morsels and 1/2 cup walnut halves. To other half, add butterscotch morsels and remaining walnuts.

Spoon chocolate mixture over crumbs in one baking pan, spreading gently to cover. Spoon butterscotch mixture over crumbs in other pan and spread gently. (If one pan is used, spread choc-

Gaily Decorated Ham Shines At Yule Dinner

CHRISTMAS DINNER
Baked Smoked Ham with Tangerine-Cranberry Garnish
Duchess Potatoes
Minted Green Peas
Tomato Aspic Salad
Hot Rolls
Plum Pudding
Coffee Tea Milk

The traditional family dinner on Christmas Day is an important part of the holiday festivities. It's a time of joy and merrymaking, often with a number of relatives gathered together.

You'll certainly want a deluxe meat cut for this special meal... and what could be more festive than a baked smoked ham? This distinctive dish lends itself so well to gay decorations and garnishes. Let your imagination go to work to create a pretty entree that will receive raves from the happy group. It's easy and fun to prepare.

Here are a few recommendations to help you achieve that note of perfection: Select a 12 to 14-pound smoked ham from your meat dealer, and allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound for roasting. Place the ham, fat side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan.

Since ham should be baked to an internal temperature of 160 degrees F., you should use a meat thermometer to determine this degree of doneness. Insert the thermometer so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part. Be careful that the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not cover or add water. Roast the meat in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) until the meat thermometer registers 160 degrees F.

A scored and glazed ham has an elegant look and requires little preparation time. Thirty minutes before the ham is done, take it from the oven. Score the ham by cutting diamond or other decorative designs in the fat surface. Then cover with the glaze and insert the cloves. Or you may choose to adorn the ham with other holiday trimmings.

For a special glaze combine 3 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon dry mustard and 1 tablespoon flour. Mix well and spread the glaze right over the ham. Stick with cloves and slip the ham back into the oven to finish roasting and to set the glaze, about 30 minutes.

The tangerines stuffed with plump, juicy cranberry sauce make a festive accompaniment for the Christmas ham.

CRANBERRIES IN TANGERINE BASKETS
2 cups sugar
2 cups water
4 cups cranberries

Boil sugar and water together 5 minutes. Add cranberries and boil without stirring until the skins are popped open (about 5 minutes). Remove from the heat and allow the sauce to remain in

Research Finds Young Homemaker Uses Convenience Foods More Often

The mature homemaker, responding to the flavor and convenience characteristics of the instant potato products, is one of the largest consumers of this popular food, according to a talk given by Mr. Fred Buchanan, Market Research Corporation of America, to members of the Instant Potato Products Association.

Homemakers using instant potatoes have found that they satisfy the continued desire to serve their families the most delicious and good tasting potato dishes available. The acceptance of instant potatoes by the older homemaker is unlike the trend of usage of convenience foods which has shown that young homemakers use them most frequently.

Reporting the types of families where instant potatoes have highest acceptance, Mr. Buchanan listed the following: the middle and upper income families, the families where the housewife is employed outside the home, and the the saucepan until cool. Make 8 cuts about 1/2 the distance from the stem to blossom end of the tangerine; thereby, producing a petal-like effect. Carefully remove the tangerine segments leaving just the fruit shell. Fill shell with tart cranberry sauce.

Lemon Pork Chops Palate Pleasers

Combining Pork Chops with other food flavors give them extra appetite appeal. For instance, try these Lemon Pork Chops by placing a lemon slice on each chop and braised in a sauce of brown sugar and catchup. Its a certain palate pleaser.

LEMON PORK CHOPS
6 pork rib, loin or shoulder chops, cut 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
6 lemon slices
1-3 cup catchup
1/4 cup water

2 tablespoons brown sugar
Brown chops in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Place a lemon slice on each chop. Combine catchup, water and brown sugar and pour over chops. Cover tightly and cook slowly on top of the range or in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour or until done. 6 servings.

PERK UP RAINY DAYS
Coming — dark and stormy weather. Prepare yourself with bright raincoat and matching umbrella. Bright colors on a dark day lift your spirits.

Mr. Buchanan reported that the favorite way of serving the white potato in the home is mashed. This is followed in preference by boiled, pan fried, baked, French fried, and potato salad, in that order.

The most important feature of a successful home-menu food, according to the Market Research Corporation of America survey, was its palatability and good taste. Second in significance was the convenience in preparing and serving the food... homemakers rated high the fact that instant potatoes need no extended or complicated preparation.

Individual acceptance of the item was third in importance with diversified use fourth, and competitive cost last on the list of essential characteristics reported by Mr. Buchanan.

Continuing at its present rate of usage and acceptance, the MRCA vice president told the Instant Potato Products Association members that their product would double in sales by 1966.

Christmastime Query Posed For Christians

On Earth Peace, Good Will Toward Men

The Christian world again approaches the celebration of the birth of Christ. The stories of that night in Bethlehem when Christianity came into being will be told and re-told throughout all parts of the world where there are Christians and where there is freedom of religion. I suspect that these stories will be told in many of the countries where there is no freedom of religion... perhaps in secret, but told nevertheless. Our Lord and Savior will be referred to in many of the revelations as the Prince of Peace, and certainly He was the advocate of God Almighty to bring peace to the earth. In St. Luke, Chapter 2, beginning with the 8th Verse, in the story of the birth of Jesus we find the following words:

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, GLORY TO GOD IN THE HIGHEST AND ON EARTH PEACE, GOOD WILL TOWARD MEN.

It would be well if every adult Christian on each Christmas Day would stop and ask this question: "What have I done since I last celebrated the birth of Jesus Christ to carry His word and His teachings and to contribute to peace on earth and good will toward my fellow man?" I am sure most everyone could list many things, such as church attendance, contributions to charitable organizations, underwriting programs designed to promote peace, aiding underprivileged, etc. What would the answers be if the question is asked in another way, such as: "What have I done during the past year which would not have been conducive to peace on earth and good will toward men; or what have I failed to do that I could have done that would have been in contribution to peace on earth and better understanding and good will as between men?" In other words, how many times have I failed to follow the teachings of Christ; how many times have I done things big or little that were not in keeping with Christian principles; how many times have I lost my temper; have I been neglectful or discourteous; or failed to do some little thing that would have added to the comfort and convenience of others; how many times have I failed to do unto others as I would have them do unto me? Perhaps this would be a good season for us to realistically face these issues from a Christian standpoint. In so doing, we may find the cause of the trials and tribulations that have taken us further and further away from peace. We may discover why, during the last half century we have been engaged in two violent world conflicts which have destroyed unbelievable numbers of lives and amounts of property. We may discover why we have been constantly beset by small wars all over the world. We may discover why the world is now divided into two ideologies eyeing each other as strange dogs, and engaged in a cold war that hangs like a Damocles Sword over the head of Peace. We may find out why peoples throughout the world live in constant fear of a miscalculation or a misstep that could trigger a holocaust which could wipe out our civilization. We may find out why the cities of Jerusalem and Bethlehem and Jericho, the very heart of the Christian world, are now the center of a conflict between two peoples, neither of which is Christian, in a continuing conflict of deep-seated hatreds between these people — hatreds that cannot be reconciled easily — hatreds nurtured by practices which are diametrically opposed to Christian principles; a conflict that has the walls manned by soldiers waiting to engage in violence at the first sign of aggression on the other side of the wall, in buildings hidden behind sandbags, are machine guns and rifles and stocks of hand grenades and other explosives to be used at the first sign of adverse action across the narrow no-man's-land strip that surrounds the wall. It is within these walls of Jerusalem that Christ carried his cross to Calvary; where the Prince of Peace was crucified to save Man more than 1,900 years ago.

When we look at the scorecard we find that we have either failed to do what we should have done, or we have done what we should not have done.

Dancing Protocol At Buckingham Palace Revealed

By HARRY FERGUSON LONDON (UPI)—The fact that Queen Victoria proposed marriage to Albert years ago started an argument as to who popped the question in the romance between Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. Royal protocol is strict about these matters.

The quick and easy way to get to the bottom of such things is to interview Miss Margaret Saville, the Buckingham Palace correspondent for United Press International. Next to the Lord Chamberlain, she is the ultimate authority.

"It is true that Victoria proposed to Albert," Miss Saville said. "But Philip proposed to Queen Elizabeth. The difference was that Victoria was queen at the time and had to take the initiative. But Elizabeth was a princess when she got married. If she had been queen, she would have done the proposing."

Then there is the matter of dancing at a Buckingham Palace party. You can not ask the queen to dance—she asks you. It works this way:

Philip always has the first dances with the queen. But before that happens the queen tells her lady in waiting how many times she wants to dance and when she wants to sit out. The lady in waiting arranges for the partners. The gentleman is escorted to where the queen is standing, he bows and then they have some small talk. The weather and things like that. Finally the queen says: "Shall we dance?" When the dance is over it is the queen, not the gentleman, who says "thank you."

The one exception to this rule is if a gentleman is the head of a state. Then he may ask the queen to open the dancing with him. That's the way it was worked during her recent African tour. But after that first dance the arrangements are all made by the lady in waiting.

This is a big job. Titled ladies take turns at it on appointment from Buckingham Palace. The lady in waiting is always in charge of the big leather bag.

"The queen only carries a medium-sized handbag," said Miss Saville. "It always has handles large enough so she can slip it up on her arm when she is shaking hands with people. The bag contains a handkerchief, lipstick and a powder compact. The queen never carries any money."

64th YEAR THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1961 9

discreetly in the background, who carries the big leather bag. In it is everything the queen might need for a full day—spare nylons, spare handkerchief, a tiny sewing kit, a clothes brush and a sponge, cologne, barley sugar (to ease the throat). And the money.

"If the queen makes a purchase at a fair or an exhibition, the lady in waiting stays behind and pays the bill. Or else she arranges to have the bill sent to Buckingham Palace to be paid out of the privy purse. If the queen needs cash—money to put in the collection plate at church, for instance—the lady in waiting gives her a pound or so in advance." That's about all except that no Englishman ever kisses the queen's hand when he is presented. He merely bows. Frenchmen and Italians are on their own.

Spotty Market
Period Forecast

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Dow Theory Trader says we can expect a spotty stock market, with selective strength here and there, for the next eight to 10 trading days, "but on the whole I expect the market to perform bullishly and to end 1961 with a powerful year-end rally to new high."

The Trader also feels that this strength will probably carry on well into the early months of 1962.

Though the market is high, underlying business and earnings trends are favorable and seem likely to continue that way for some months, says United Business Service. "Invested positions should be maintained and careful purchases are still warranted."

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. says it seems clear that the downside will not yield; rather that the action of the market provides evidence that the next test will be against the top-side barrier. "It remains our contention that the old-high will be penetrated with new peaks established before the year is out."

The market's hesitating, rotating action should continue for the remaining 14 trading days of 1961, says Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co. However, he adds, the next upward phase in terms of the Dow-Jones industrials remains 760-770 with downside risk and support indicated at around the 715-720 level.

L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutten & Co., says one reason for the backwardness of the rails is the lack of institutional interest in them—and "to a large extent, the institutional buyers rather than the so-called public have been dominating stock market trends"

Wilson And Cox Aiming Political Barbs At 'Veep'

By United Press International
Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and Republican Jack Cox, both warming up for the governor's race, found themselves today sharpshooters at a common target Vice President Lyndon Johnson.

Wilson accused Johnson, Gov. Price Daniel and John Connally, who resigned as secretary of the Navy to run for governor, of "holding hands under the table" in an effort to bring machine politics to Texas.

Cox said Johnson was coaching "the Democratic donkeys, a pro ball club that looks more like donkeys than ever" and that Wilson was a team member who didn't get the signals and took a poke at Connally because he got roughed up.

So far, Wilson, Connally and Cox are the only announced candidates in the race.

Daniel, faced with a special session of the legislature in January, has kept alive the possibility of a fourth term bid, a possibility he must take or assume a "lame duck" role in the session.

Wilson again said Daniel would like to be lieutenant governor and has been playing politics with Johnson and Connally "ever since he read the fourth-term handwriting on the wall." He predicted Daniel will step down and give Connally his blessings.

The attorney general's comments were a continuation of his open rift with Daniel and Johnson. He started after Daniel during the past legislative sessions over the sales tax issue, Wilson added Johnson to his list in an unscheduled speech two months ago before the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Cox, a Breckenridge oilman and former Democrat who is now seeking the Republican nomination, raised campaign money at a fund-raising dinner in Austin. U.S. Sen. John Tower, whose victory earlier this year started Republicans to thinking earnestly about a two-party state, pitched in at the dinner.

Meanwhile, Houston liberal Don Yarborough moved close to becoming another Democratic gubernatorial candidate. Yarborough said he would announce his plans within 10 days and indicated it would be a race for governor. He has also been mentioned as a possible candidate for lieutenant governor, a post he sought unsuccessfully last year.

Another Democratic probability is former state highway commissioner Marshall Formby of Plainview, who has said he will announce next month.

January Demand For Oil Boosted

AUSTIN (UPI)—William Murray, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, said the Bureau of Mines reports that demands for Texas crude oil in January is 129,000 barrels a day more than in December.

The bureau reported demand at 2,665,000 barrels daily for the month with January nominations for purchase totaling 2,606,470 barrels daily, an increase of 17,455 barrels daily over December.

Missile Launching Platform Change Slated By Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department announced today that it is canceling a program for using railroad cars as missile launching platforms in favor of an increase in fixed underground missile bases.

Approximately $100 million has been spent on the mobile railway program for the Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missiles. Steps are being taken to cancel contracts totaling $108 million for its development, a Defense Department spokesman said.

An increase in the number of Minuteman launchers to be placed underground will be substituted in budget recommendations to the new Congress, he said.

The Kennedy administration, soon after taking office, postponed steps to install the railroad-type squadrons. At the time, this was described as a year's delay.

The old program called for deployment of 600 stationary Minutemen. The new recommendation is expected to increase this to 900.

Calorie Counters Spend

NEW YORK (UPI)—Current retail sales of low calorie diet drinks are estimated at $145 million, compared with $100 million a year ago. Stiff competition is also bringing down the prices of many of the drink brands.

Highway Patrol Acts To Reduce Traffic Deaths

Capt. J. W. Blackwell of Amarillo, in command of the District 5 - B Highway Patrol, which includes Pampa and Gray County, announced today a stepped up traffic law enforcement program will be launched in an all-out effort to stem the tide of traffic deaths during the remainder of the year.

"We find ourselves confronted with the fact that, unless we succeed in our stepped up enforcement program, we will experience an increase of about one per cent over last year," Captain Blackwell said.

"But," he added, "we feel confident that with our accelerated enforcement program and, most important, the active support and cooperation of the driving public — statistics can be made to lie."

"We feel that the traffic death tragedy cannot be over-emphasized. When we know that during last year alone there were 2254 violent deaths on our streets and highways in our state caused by colliding motor vehicles, it should readily be seen that concerted action on the part of everyone concerned is in order."

The Highway Patrol Captain said, "The new emphasis program on the part of the Highway Patrol is being geared to the idea that in almost every case, fatal motor vehicle accidents are caused by at least one violation of the law. Therefore," he continued, "these actions will comprise the program:

Field personnel are being instructed to redouble their efforts to remove reckless and dangerous drivers from the highways.

Field personnel are being ordered to step up their programs of stopping motorists to check their driver license.

The use of radar will be greatly increased throughout the district by the addition of several new units to those already in use. The new radar units, one of which has been used very successfully, are much more efficient than the older type in that they are mounted on the Patrol car and require only one opera-

Christmas shopping for him this year should be easy. Pick a sweater (left) in slate gray or lion trimmed in black. Easily washable, of course. Or, a new kind of pocket lighter (upper center) that uses butane gas and produces the right flame height for cigarette, cigar or pipe. Spray-cologne (lower center) for men is citrus-scented, comes in round crystal aerosol facon. Casual plaid shirt (right) is done in wash-and-wear blend of dacron-and-cotton. It is red, patterned in green and yellow.

Resist Impulse To Buy Him What He Needs

GAILE DUGAS
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Since shopping for him is something you do the year around anyway, Christmas shouldn't really present great, knotty problems.

The impulse you must resist is the one to buy him just the things he needs. Think how happy a new mop, a year's supply of scouring powder or the gallon size of detergent would make you. And yet these are certainly things you need and use. In a way.

Therefore, if you buy him a sweater, make it something special. Pick out one good enough for the Duke of Edinburgh even though it won't be that costly in this country.

The same principle applies to buying him a shirt or shirts. Not the same old plain white, please. A flash of color and a fabric that's unusually handsome, unusually practical or, happily, a mixture of both.

At least ten Christmases past, the notion vanished that toiletries for men were sissy. Now, they're regarded as sophisticated. And essential. And since toilet water, aftershave lotion and shaving cream all come in spray form now, this is most likely the form he'll welcome. You can buy toiletries singly or in handsomely packaged sets.

The man who hunts, fishes, takes pictures or rides a genuine hobby is never any problem. Neither is the collector of antiques or first editions. It's the ones in between who present a problem. But this is where gadgets come in handy. A miniature radio. A lighter that produces the right flame height for cigar, cigarette or pipe. A gold-plated stapler, actually budget-priced. A patio clock. A watch that rings to remind him that he's over-stayed parking meter time.

Only in desperate circumstances should you resort to a gift certificate for a hair piece. No matter how worried he may be about his receding hair line, this is not really a tactful way to solve the problem.

This will be a big cufflink and tie-tac year, if the makers of cufflinks and tie-tacs have anything to say about it. You may buy them in cameo, black onyx, Venetian glass, Italian marble, mosaics, Florentine enamel, porcelain or solid gold if you really want to eat macaroni for the month of January.

Yule Party Easy With Cereal Mix

Wouldn't it be wonderful to know that you could have a tree-trimming party or simple open house without a lot of last-minute preparations? This is easily possible when you keep Walnut Cereal Snack Mix on hand. The Cereal Snack Mix is the old-time favorite with the addition of walnuts. Here again the preparation can be done far in advance. Store in airtight containers.

WALNUT CEREAL SNACK MIX
1/2 cup butter or margarine
3/4 teaspoon curry powder
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 teaspoon ginger
3 cups bite-size shredded corn biscuits
2 cups ready-to-eat oat cereal
2 cups oven-toasted rice cereal
1 to 1 1/2 cups walnut or pecan halves, as desired.

Place butter or margarine in shallow baking pan (15x10x1 inches). Place in moderate oven (350 degrees F) until butter or margarine is melted. Remove from oven. Stir in seasonings. Add cereals and nuts; stir to coat well. Return to oven about 15 minutes, stirring once. Yield: 7 cups.

Dear Abby... Dirty Looks Better Than Standing Up!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: As the holiday season approaches and Christmas programs will be given at schools, I would like your opinion on "saving seats" for people who are not present. In the past, I have come to school auditoriums and have sat down only to have someone chase me out of the seat saying, "Sorry, but this seat is saved." I have seen people save a whole row. I've stood for an entire two-hour performance while some of the "saved" seats remained unoccupied. I am referring to free programs. Thank you.

TIRED OF STANDING
DEAR TIED: Haven't you ever heard of "squatter's rights"? Just squat and tell the "seat saver" that he is entitled only to the seat on which he himself has squatted. You might get a dirty look, but it's better than standing for two hours.

DEAR ABBY: I've been trying to get a date with a swell kid for two months. He finally asked me for a date, but things didn't turn out very well. He took me parking and, to let him know I didn't appreciate it very much, I acted very cold toward him and we fought and argued the whole time. I don't call this much of a date. I suppose I sound silly, but I would like to go out with him again. I mean on a real date. I think he would be a swell boy friend. How can I get another date with him?

PARKED
DEAR PARKED: This "swell kid" is obviously interested, in a girl for parking purposes only. You apparently "angled" for the first date with him. Don't angle for another unless you want history to repeat itself.

DEAR ABBY: My mother has a system. Every time I leave something where it shouldn't be, she puts it in a box. Before I can

by kathy peterson

Dear Kathy: I started working at a soda fountain two weeks ago. It's my first job and I was thrilled until I realized that all my friends expected extra scoops of ice cream in their sodas, and even free drinks and cones. I feel guilty because I give more and more away but I don't know how to stop. I have even thought of quitting.—Doris Dear Doris: Do something in a hurry or you won't have to worry about quitting that job. Being fired for dishonesty will cause you to lose more prestige with your so-called "friends" than demanding the money they honestly owe. Stop immediately! When you accept a job, an employer expects you to protect his money, property and general interests in every possible way. This adult attitude was expected of you when you were hired. The freeloading customers are treating you like a child playing "store." Face the fact that this isn't a game. It's dishonesty and stealing in combination with cowardice. You are giving others things that aren't yours in return for temporary popularity.

Exotic Food Isn't Lure Of Dining Out

"Women love to go out to dinner. But did you know that only one-third ever order something they don't have at home?"

That — among other facts — is what an advertising executive recently told members of the National Wholesale Druggists' Association to back his claim that women are as "enigmatic as the sphinx and as full of riddles as Nostradamus."

A fact like that may strike men as hard to understand — but it wouldn't surprise a woman.

Any woman knows that a housewife doesn't crave to eat out because it gives her a chance to try exotic foods.

—The No. 1 reason why a housewife likes to eat out is because the meal is one she doesn't have to cook.

—The No. 2 reason is that when the meal eaten in a restaurant is finished she doesn't have to clear the table and wash the dishes.

—The No. 3 reason is that, when she eats out, a baby sitter has to get junior to drink his milk, convince sis that there's no dessert if she doesn't eat her spinach, and settle any dispute, between the two over whose turn it is to wait on the table.

—The No. 4 reason a woman likes to eat out varies with the woman.

For some, it is because dining in a dimly lit restaurant makes them for a little while feel like "dates" instead of wives.

For others, dining out gives them a chance to "get out of the house."

For others, it means a chance to relax and enjoy being waited on for a change.

And for others (one-third, according to the advertising executive's figures) it means a chance to eat food they don't have at home. But even for that third — it's a fourth reason.

That's why it surprises women to learn that men are surprised that they love to eat out, even though the majority of them order the same kind of food they would have had if they had stayed home and cooked dinner, themselves.

For Christmas, a sparkling fragrance has been done up in both eau de toilette and perfume spray mist.

For Her Christmas Remembrance Beautiful Fragrance In Spray

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What the jet plane is to travel, the spray is to the world of fragrance. It relegates all other means of application to the horse and-buggy days.

Knowing this, perfume houses have readied favorite fragrances for Christmas in really beautiful spray cylinders both large and small. You can spend a little or a lot and, either way, give a gift that's in excellent taste.

This year, a famous French fashion house which also makes lovely perfume has readied one of its top favorites in both perfume and eau de toilette spray form. The eau de toilette comes in an impressive slender silver-plated ribbed cylinder topped with a gold-toned cap. A perfume spray is done up in a similar cylinder but with a golden band around the middle. One spray is dressing table size; the other is purse size. Either is a joy to use, requiring only gentle finger pressure.

Further, each spray is refillable so that when the fragrance itself is gone, there is no need to toss out a handsome container. And if the giver wants to do so, a refill certificate can be added for future use when the spray itself is purchased.

The scent is a subtle and lingering one with top notes of sandalwood and rose. It's both wistful and tender. Any woman in this country who has ever used it dots on it.

Notre Dame Grid Fans Grumbling Over Coach

CHICAGO (UPI) — Grumbles of dissatisfaction over Notre Dame's 5-5 season have been emitted by a volatile segment of students and alumni favoring the ousting of coach Joe Kuharich, but his head coach's job apparently isn't in danger.

The Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president and chairman of the faculty board in control of athletics, said "The opinion of the students and alumni doesn't affect his contract. That's an administration matter, and the administration is satisfied."

The mutterings of discontent were prominent at Tuesday's annual Irish football banquet.

Kuharich himself shrugged off the criticism.

A major indication of the opinion of the student body came in the seasonal review by the student publication—The Scholastic. Commented the publication:

"So far Kuharich has not been able to establish means of communication with the team. Until this means is established, Notre Dame will continue, to produce so-so football teams."

Another comment: "Kuharich complained all season about our weakness at tackle, then our first two tackles were drafted by the pros in the second round."

Kuharich's team this year wound up with a 5-5 record, an improvement over the 2-8 mark of the 1960 team, and last year his contract was extended for three years. It is now scheduled to end Feb. 1, 1966.

"Look at it this way," one graduate said. "We're not in any conference, and we can't play in any bowl games. So what have we got to play for—the national championship. And if we're not close to that, we don't have very much."

SIGN FOR BOUT

NEW YORK (UPI)—Billy Collins of Nashville, Tenn., will meet Cecil Shorts, of Cleveland in a 10-round fight at St. Nicholas Arena Dec. 18, it was announced Wednesday by promoter Irving Cohen.

Mick Inks Pact; Maris Expected To Sign Today

NEW YORK (UPI)—Home run king Roger Maris is expected to sign a $65,000 contract today that will make the New York Yankees' M&M combination a $150,000 1-2 punch.

The 26-year-old Maris, who set a season record of 61 homers in 1961, is believed ready to follow Mickey Mantle in the Yankee fold without quibbling over his original suggestion that his $35,000 salary of '61 be doubled. Mantle signed for an estimated $85,000 Wednesday—placing him second only to Joe DiMaggio as the highest paid Yankee in history.

Maris had indicated that he would not discuss terms with general manager Roy Hamey until next month. But he responded with a ready "yes" when Hamey asked him whether he'd care to discuss terms today and both seemed to feel there will be little or no hickering.

Maris will earn less than Mantle in 1962 despite the fact that he out-homered Mickey, 61-54, and won the most valuable player award in the American League, because of the "escalator system" the Yankees employ in common with most other teams. The idea is to present gradual increases from year to year rather than jump a player from, say, a $20,000 class directly into the $60,000.

The Yankees' $150,000 duo might well be the highest-paid 1-2 combination in history. There are one or two possibilities in the years when DiMaggio earned $100,000 with the Yankees or Ted Williams earned thereabouts with the Boston Red Sox. But it's a good guess that M&M will be the top duo once Maris agrees to terms.

Mantle, who has been a bitter holdout in some previous seasons became the first Yankee to sign for 1962 Wednesday and Hamey himself made it clear that Mickey had received a big boost. Hamey said the figure in Mickey's contract topped Babe Ruth's best—which was $80,000 in 1928.

from dropping their fifth in a row to Los Angeles.

The Celtics received a good team effort in their win over Philadelphia, with three men scoring over 20 points. Sam Jones led Boston with 35.

There also was good scoring balance in the Cincinnati lineup Wednesday night, five men getting over 20, as the Royals defeated the Syracuse Nations, 136-126. Jack Twyman led Cincinnati with 31, and rookie Lee Shaffer scored 28 for the Nats.

Chicago and New York, the teams with the two worst records in the NBA, battled in the first game of a doubleheader at Boston, and Andy Johnson's free throw in the final seven seconds gave the Packers a 113-112 victory. Rookie Walt Bellamy again led the Packers with 33 points, while veteran Richie Guerin dropped in 31 points for the Knickerbockers, who have lost 9 of their last 10.

Elgin Baylor Paces Lakers Past Hawks

By United Press International

The two big men in the National Basketball Association—Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain and Los Angeles' Elgin Baylor—continue to break the 50-point mark as if it were nothing—but Baylor's points mean something and Chamberlain's don't.

Both scored 52 Wednesday night. Baylor's 51st and 52nd points came on a drive shot in the final three seconds to give the Lakers a 137-136 overtime victory over the St. Louis Hawks—the Lakers' eighth NBA win in a row.

Chamberlain's total tied a Boston Garden record, but the Warriors dropped their fourth in succession to the team they have to beat to take the NBA's Eastern Division, the Boston Celtics, by a score of 123-113. It was Boston's sixth straight NBA win.

The 7-foot-2 Chamberlain set a record pace in the league last week, including a single-game mark of 78 against the Lakers. However, Philadelphia even with Will's amazing performances has won only four more games than it has lost.

Baylor, along with Jerry West, has been the Lakers' big spark.

Bob Pettit of St. Louis, who scored nine field goals, in the opening seven minutes of the final quarter, had 49 points, but it wasn't enough to keep the Hawks

Saxton Finishes 3rd In Voting

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Ferguson, Ohio State's burly fullback already ticketed for service next year with the Pittsburgh Steelers, capped a brilliant collegiate career today by winning "Player of the Year" honors in a nationwide poll by United Press International.

The 217-pound Buckeye lineblaster, who previously had been the top vote-getter on the UPI All-America team and then had topped the "Back of the Year" poll, again outdistanced halfback Ernie Davis of Syracuse for the No. 1 individual honor.

Ferguson received the votes of 86 of the 316 sports writers and broadcasters throughout the nation who took part in the balloting, a solid 27 per cent bloc in a year that saw the ballots scattered among 32 different players.

Davis, who winds up his college playing career Saturday in the Liberty Bowl game against Miami (Fla.), was second to Ferguson again, just as he had been in the "Back of the Year" voting announced earlier this week. Davis received 62 votes, while speedy halfback James Saxton of Texas was a distant third with 36.

Quarterbacks Sandy Stephens of Minnesota and Pat Trammell of national champion Alabama tied for fourth at 24 votes each and guard Joe Romig of Colorado, who won the "Lineman of the Year" voting, finished sixth with 18 votes.

Selection of the 22-year-old Ferguson was hailed by coach Woody Hayes of Ohio state who called him "one of the truly great athletes that college football has ever developed."

What the pros think of Ferguson was clearly demonstrated earlier this month when he was made the No. 1 draft choice both of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League and the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League. The Steelers won the battle for his 1962 services and announced his signing last Friday.

SMU Denies Report On Hayden Fry

DALLAS (UPI)—The faculty committee at Southern Methodist University continues its search today for a head coach to replace Bill Meek and denied reports that Hayden Fry of Arkansas already has the spot sewed up.

"No action has been taken whatsoever," Dr. Willis Tate, SMU president, said.

Fry did not learn of the reports until Wednesday afternoon when he came out to a meeting with the faculty committee.

"It's real good news to me," he chuckled, "I wish it were true."

The faculty committee interviewed Rice assistant Harold Hagan and Claude Gilstrap, Arlington State head coach, on Monday and Tuesday and plans to talk to Tugboat Jones, a coach at Highland Park High School, today.

Fry is completing his first year at Arkansas. He served two years at Baylor as assistant to John Bridgers.

Fry said he tried to "think this thing out" before coming to talk to SMU officials, and discussed his availability with Arkansas coach Frank Broyles. The Razorbacks are preparing for a Sugar Bowl date New Year's Day with Alabama.

"If I get the job, my present job wouldn't keep me from accepting here," Fry explained. "If I or the people here thought it necessary, I could be here immediately. Coach Broyles already has assured me of that."

Fry said he was not in a position yet to evaluate SMU's returning personnel, but he definitely has some prospective assistants in mind for the day when he becomes a head coach.

"I don't think there's any assistant who doesn't want to be a head coach," he said. "If I ever had one on my staff who didn't want to be a head coach, he wouldn't be on the staff long."

Baylor Thrashes Trinity Cagers

By United Press International

Rice and Arkansas will attempt to improve the Southwest Conference record against intersectional foes tonight in the only scheduled games.

Baylor was the only conference team to take to the court Wednesday night, whipping Trinity University, 71-58, for its third consecutive victory. The conference now has a record of 19 wins and 14 losses against outside competition.

Rice meets Centenary at Houston, and Arkansas entertains Tulsa at Fayetteville.

Baylor scored 17 points and Trinity none in an eight minute span in the last half to drop the stubborn Tigers. Baylor was ahead only one point, 52-51, when it started the scoring binge.

Herb Barritt made 20 points to lead all scorers. Baylor has a 3-2 record. The Tigers show only one victory in five starts.

Friday, Texas plays Louisville in the Blue Grass Classic at Louisville, Ky.

Saturday, Texas continues play in the Blue Grass Classic; SMU travels to New Orleans to play Tulane; Lamar Tech is at Texas A&M; Arkansas meets Mississippi at Little Rock; Baylor battles Kentucky at Lexington, Ky., and Texas Tech hosts Loyola (La.).

Yanks Holding Breath

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—The New York Yankees are literally holding their breath today as they await the result of promised desegregation when they open their new spring training camp here Feb. 4.

So are the silent members of the community committee which lured the Yankees from their long-time base at St. Petersburg. They succeeded by promising the Yankees a new 8,000-seat ball park all to themselves and desegregated housing.

Everybody is extremely reluctant to comment on the outcome. "If we talk about it," said one official, "it may create a problem. We'd just as soon not have anything said. That way it all may work out by itself."

There is a breathless fear that if questions are asked—and answered—housing three Negro players on the Yankee squad in the 38-unit ocean-side motel set aside completely for the world champions may cause a furor that would frustrate plans which obviously hinge on ignoring certain statutes.

Florida law calls for segregation. There are segregated stands in the Orange Bowl and there are segregated rest rooms on the state-owned Florida Turnpike. At St. Petersburg, the Yankees' Negro players were quartered privately.

Dan Topping Jr., 24-year-old son of the Yankee president, has arrived in Fort Lauderdale to act as liaison man between the world champions and the city. A personable, brown-eyed, black-haired man who graduated from UCLA, he has been learning the business with the Yankees since getting out of service in July of 1959. Young Topping had a frowning "no comment" on what might happen in the color controversies. But he had glowing comments concerning the new training camp facilities which are virtually completed.

"I don't think there's a better ball park anywhere in the country," observed young Dan. "It's a beautiful thing and the facilities for the customers are wonderful. It's everything we were promised."

One thing he said may give the Yankees an "out" as far as their three Negro players are concerned if there is opposition to their desegregation plans.

"We won't insist on the players staying in the motel which we have set aside," Topping said. "If they want to live in private quarters with their families, that's up to them."

It is, quite apparently, the ace in the hole both for the Yankees and the city of Fort Lauderdale.

Rice Preparing For Bowl Game

By United Press International Rice University, its Bluebonnet Bowl date with Kansas just a few days away, eased off during drills Wednesday. Texas and Arkansas, both with New Year's Day dates, watched movies and held signal drills.

An advance guard of newspapermen, broadcasters and network television personnel arrived in Houston Wednesday. Kansas coach Jack Mitchell was scheduled to come to town today. His Jayhawk team will not arrive until Friday—the day before the game.

Kicking was emphasized at the Rice workout. Fullback Roland Jackson missed the practice because he had to take an Army physical. No. 2 left halfback Spencer Brown limped with a sprained ankle. There was no contact at the Rice drill.

The Texas Longhorns, who meet Mississippi Jan. 1 in the Cotton Bowl, zipped through a conditioning session, then watched movies of the Rebel-LSU football game.

Optimist Boxers Fight Tonight

The clash between Gary Wilhelm of the Pampa Optimist Boxing club and Cowboy Willamore of Dees' Club of Amarillo will be the main attraction at the boxing matches tonight at the Boy's Club Building starting at 7:30.

There will be approximately 16 bouts with Amarillo and Canyon boxers pitted against boys from Pampa and Lefors. Two other top bouts are on tap. One is an open class battle between battling Ken Woods of Pampa and undefeated Ronnie Morgan of Amarillo. The other pits the Optimist's unbeaten Pat McDonald against the Dees' Kenneth Cameron.

Wilhelm and Willamore both are fighters with good reputations. They met earlier in the year in an exhibition match and some followers felt that the "cowboy" might have gotten the best of Wilhelm.

Willamore won several state titles in Idaho and Wilhelm was AAU runner-up in 1960.

Tourney Teams To Be Honored

A luncheon honoring the four basketball teams to play in the annual Top O' Texas cage Tournament here will be held Dec. 29 at the Coronado Inn. It was announced today.

Pampa's Harvesters will be the host team in the two-day tournament starting Dec. 29. Other teams in the tourney will be Dumas, Lawton, Okla. and Elk City, Okla.

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce, working in co-operation with the Pampa High School athletic department and school officials, arranged the noon luncheon honoring the four teams.

James Gallimore, chairman of the C-C sports committee, will preside at the luncheon and Mayor E. C. Sidwell will give a short welcome speech.

Entertainment for the program will be provided by a girl's A Cappella sextet under the direction of Pampa choir director Hugh Sanders and Mrs. Sanders.

All four teams represented in the tourney have excellent records thus far this season. Pampa, of course, is undefeated in eight games and Dumas has chalked up a 7-2 mark despite the fact that two of the Demons regular starters are out of the line-up due to a prolonged football season.

Coach Terry Culley reported Wednesday that both Elk City, who Pampa plays next Tuesday, and Lawton have real fine ball clubs.

Elk City has a tall club which averages almost 6-2 for the five starters. And the Oklahomans are undefeated on the season having scored over 100 points in one game.

4th Ranked Providence Tops Brown

United Press International Duke's unbeaten Blue Devils nominate Art Heyman as their best all-round basketball player since Dick Groat, and that nomination was seconded today by a dejected delegation from South Carolina.

Heyman, only 20, six-foot-five and still growing in national stature, sent South Carolina down to its first loss of the season Wednesday night by pouring in 39 points, including 26 in the final 12 minutes, while pacing fifth-ranked Duke to a 76-69 victory.

The sure-handed Rockville Centre, N.Y., junior whom Marquette coach Ed Hickey calls "as graceful as Bob Cousy," hardly seemed to extend himself.

The victory was the fifth in a row for Duke.

Fourth-ranked Providence, last season's National Invitational Tournament champions, also remained unbeaten with an 80-73 win over Brown University.

Brown led early in the game but Vin Ernst scored 11 points in little more than two minutes to put the winners ahead for good. Mike Cingiser was individual high scorer with 30 points for Brown. Ray Flynn led Providence with 17.

Memphis State employed accurate outside shooting to break San Francisco State's zone defense and romp to a 107-49 victory. Sophomore center Bob Neumann tallied 26 points in leading the Tennesseeans to their fifth victory in six starts this season. Tom Cleary was high man for the losers with 13 points.

St. Joseph (Pa.) handed Richmond its fourth straight setback, 77-56, as Jimmy Lynam and Tom Wynne sparked the Pennsylvaniaans with 14 points apiece. Richmond's Bill Burdon was individual high scorer with 18 points.

Floyd Bosley's tip-in with one second left in overtime gave Loyola of Chicago an 87-85 victory over Western Michigan. Jerry Harkness led Loyola with 24 points while Manny Newsome paced Western Michigan with 21.

Butch Blume Blooms Hope For Rice Owls

HOUSTON (UPI)—When Rice senior football players went onto the field before their last game of the season to take their bows, Coach Jess Neely yelled glibly at Leslie (Butch) Blume, "come back here, you're too little to be a senior."

But the baby-faced halfback went on to score 20 points against Baylor, giving him the Southwest Conference scoring title for the season and eclipsing the school record set in 1964 by Dickie Moegle at 72.

Two touchdown runs, one for 50 yards, and field goals of 33 and 27 yards gave Butch a season total of 74 points.

Blume blossomed in November with the fast-closing Owls. Rice earned the host spot in the Bluebonnet Bowl by ending with a 7-3 record after losses to Texas, Arkansas and Georgia Tech—all post-season bowl teams.

Blume failed to make the All-Southwest Conference teams because of his misfortune to come along the same time as Texas' Jimmy Saxton and Arkansas' Lance Alworth.

Butch plays piano, sometimes with a dance band led by his father, a La Grange, Tex., rural postman. In the spring and summer, Blume is a shortstop with a reputation as a "good glove."

In last year's Sugar Bowl game against Mississippi, the 169-pound speedster scored the Owls' only touchdown and barely missed a potential tying score. His versatility kept Rice going this season through a series of injuries that knocked out key personnel. Blume does all the kicking, and Neely considers him an excellent blocker and defensive back in addition to his running threat.

He was named to the UPI Backfield of the Week for his performance against Baylor. Sports Illustrated Magazine chose him for its back of the week after the game, and he was invited to play in the Montgomery, Ala., Blue-Gray game Dec. 30.

His teammates call Blume "Teddy Bear" because of his size, and immature-looking features. The three athletes, who room with him say his hobby is sleeping.

"He sure gets his rest," says Dixon Gilreath, a trackman. "He gets enough for all of us, in fact."

Blume describes himself as country boy. His future plans are indefinite, but he says he would like to coach or maybe be a physical therapist. His size rules out professional football, Blume says.

Hardin Simmons Coaches Resign

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI)—Three members of Hardin-Simmons University's athletic department resigned Wednesday as the school ended the football year in the midst of a 22-game losing streak. Head football coach Howard McChesney and assistant Carlos Berry quit effective Dec. 31. Athletic director Bill Ledbetter's resignation will become effective May 31.

Hardin-Simmons failed to win a game in McChesney's two seasons as coach. He succeeded Sammy Baugh, who resigned last year to become coach of the New York Titans in the American Football League. The losing streak began at the end of Baugh's last season in 1959.

A third member of the school's football coaching staff, John Ford, had resigned earlier.

Merchandising In 1961

In mid-October about 1,000 leaders of the national food industry gathered in Chicago. The occasion was the 26th annual meeting of the National Association of Food Chains.

The theme chosen for the conclave was "Food Merchandising in Transition." And its that transition which is of direct interest to the consumer. According to one of the industry's leaders, the consumer seems to be interested in cut-price operation on the one hand, while, on the other, she seems to be demanding added convenience and is willing to pay the extra cost.

In his words, "Never has competition cut across the traditional lines of retailing as it does today." He added that where supermarket once competed with supermarket, it now competes with drug store, variety store, department store and discount house as well. And, of course, all of these various types of stores compete vigorously among themselves. So every kind of store, as well as the food outlets, also are in transition.

Who is the principal gainer? That question is easily answered—the consumer, who reaps the benefits of wider choices, more attractive places to shop, superior service and prices as low as the conditions of this age permit.

Property

There are three valid ways to acquire property: by earning it; having it given gratuitously; by claiming it when no others have claimed it. Honest men employ all three.

There is one invalid way to acquire property: that is by force. Thieves, hiwaymen and politicians practice this method.

Demands Of The Market

One of the principal reasons why government invasion of the economic field is harmful relates to the character of the demands government makes upon the market. Many people suppose that government spending is invariably a good thing. And certainly, no one can deny that the spending which does occur under political auspices has an effect upon the market.

But the fact is that there are two entire systems of demands here—which must be separated in the minds of people for them to comprehend the true nature of government "encouragement" in the field of spending.

People outside of government have what we can call "market place" demands. They want to buy houses and automobiles and clothing and food and entertainment and insurance. They have a thousand things they wish to purchase, all of which relate primarily to the business of staying alive, learning something, occupying one's time constructively or, at least, entertainingly and in a manner to which human beings are generally addicted.

Now, of course, people in government will have these same demands. And, as consumers they are every bit as ordinary and mundane as the rest of us.

People in government or out of government, considered merely as human beings, all make demands upon the market for the things they want. In response to these demands, another area of market-place supply comes into existence. This is the area of demand created by the entrepreneurs who wish to buy the raw materials, the power, the machine tools, the human energy, all of which can be combined in various ways to provide the goods and services all their customers wish.

Entrepreneurs in business do not care at all (nor should they be concerned primarily) whether or not their customers work for the government or in some other area of the market place. They simply provide their enterprises with the customer in view. They want this customer to purchase their houses or their automobiles, or their radio sets, or their theater tickets, or their clothing, or whatever goods or services they intend offering.

This area of demand which is created by the persons who themselves are in business to satisfy customer demand is a normal market place function. The reason we can so classify it is because normal customer demand herein stimulates that section of the market place which will produce the very things the customers themselves want to buy. Hence, in this area we are all each other's customers.

Here economic operation is correctly viewed as a circle. Investments occur in productive machinery and tools. Men are hired; raw materials or partially finished materials are purchased. Products are made and distributed. Customers buy them. The money paid by the customers goes back into the hands of managers and owners who pay workers and who receive dividends. Paying workers and stockholders or owners inspires more work and more productive machinery, and the cycle is complete.

As customer demand increases (if it does), more patronage occurs. This inspires managers and owners to enlarge their operations so they can satisfy increasing customer demands. It's a round robin. We all help each other. Each one helps everyone by helping himself to that which he wants most.

But men in government perform a second function. Not as human beings but as political sycophants, they also turn to the market place. Here they demand things which normal people don't want for themselves and couldn't possibly use; things such as atomic submarines, cyclotrons, fighter planes, machine guns, bayonets.

Profits which have been accrued through the satisfaction of customer demand are drained away from the market to produce non-customer items. And this stimulates the market, but the stimulation occurs on the basic of political demand, rather than customer demand. More and more businessmen will be diverted from making automobiles to making tanks; from making washing machines to making fighter plane engines; from knives and forks to rifle barrels, bomb sights or bazookas.

But there is no personal human being demand for these products. Only politicians want them and only employees of the political mechanism can use them. Thus, such products always come off the end of an assembly line for which there is no private purchaser. This type of economic operation can only be viewed as a straight line, rather than a circle. The products thus produced have no buyer except government.

But government has no money of its own. To pay for these products, government must take the money by force from persons who are NOT in government. (They take from those in government, too, considering them in the taxing category to be no other than non-government people.)

But there is no return here. A link is missing, the line of the freely choosing customer, spending his own money in satisfaction for his own choices.

Instead, this customer is replaced by the government which

MATTER OF POLICY OWNERSHIP FIGURES IN MARRIAGE UPSET By FAYE HENLE

Q—Some time ago I bought a small insurance policy on our son's life. My husband was named as owner, I as beneficiary. We were separated shortly thereafter. I've been paying the premiums on the policy which is in my possession. Can my husband cash it in? —J. B.

A—Dear J. B.: You're in a risky spot. Your husband could repossess the policy, change the beneficiary, cash - surrender it. Even evidence that you've paid the premiums from your earnings gives you no rights.

When a marriage breaks up, such matters as policy ownership are important. Lose no time. Negotiate for ownership of this policy or resign yourself to the consequences.

Q—Wouldn't it be wise to invest in mutual funds in conjunction with life insurance rather than all life insurance for a young person? —C. L.

A—Dear C. L.: Every young person should divide his savings between protective and growth devices. You must have the protection offered by cash value life insurance in an amount sufficient to care for any emergencies.

Often group insurance will be enough, especially if your company offers you a profit-sharing or retirement plan. Beyond this, you should invest in common stock or a mutual fund. However, separate insurance holdings from mutual fund investments.

Don't sell paid-up insurance to buy term and invest the difference. You'll be sorry if you do.

Q—Could you give me a little information as to where a person might find out about long-term loans and what places a person might get them, what per cent interest they charge, etc.? —D. K.

A—Dear D. K.: Long-term loans are not made to individuals, but to companies.

However, you can borrow from a credit union, bank, or finance company for a 12-month period and possibly keep extending the loan although, of course, the longer you keep using someone else's money the more expensive it is.

I do not recommend borrowing on an insurance policy unless you've no heirs that might need the cash. However, when you borrow on your own insurance there is no pressure to repay since you really borrow your own money.

ELEMENTARY LESSON (California Feature Service)

When a small Wisconsin town recently took on the State Board of Education in a no-holds-barred battle to preserve the old-fashioned McGuffey's Readers in its elementary schools, it made a double contribution to the cause of good education. For one thing, it illuminated the earnest desire so many American parents have for a return to old, sound standards of teaching. For another, it made very clear the inevitable result of government aid to education: government control of education.

All during the great crusade for President Kennedy's federal aid bill we heard many a pious protestation that such aid would not mean federal control. We didn't hear it from the professional educationists of course, for they are entirely frank about wanting federal control. But we heard it.

If nothing else proves the validity of the Supreme Court's holding that what government finances government must control, the Wisconsin case should. There the local taxpayers were told that their share of state aid would be withheld if they did not agree to the standards set by the state.

This, of course, is as it should be. We can't entrust money to state agencies if there are no regulations as to how they shall spend it. But the point is, why turn over to state agencies important functions that we can handle ourselves, in the way best suited to our particular needs and preferences?

McGuffey's Readers taught some pretty sound elementary things. Maybe what this country needs is a McGuffey on political science.

spends the taxpayer's money for items which the taxpayer doesn't want for himself and couldn't use if he had them.

This secondary and non-market place procedure injures the rest of the market place by stimulating the production of non-customer items which can only be purchased by forcefully appropriated funds, and by reducing the size of the market place which could satisfy customers.

Hope Seen For Passage of Half of President's Federal Aid to Education Program in New Session

WASHINGTON — There is growing optimism at the White House that Congress will pass at least half of President Kennedy's federal aid to education program during the coming session.

This hope, is based on the unannounced plans of House Majority Leader John McCormack, D. Mass., who is slated to become Speaker in January, and Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D. Mont., to seek quick passage of the President's federal aid proposals for college class room construction and scholarships.

Specifically, the House - Senate Democratic Leaders told the President that they can win congressional approval for a "minimum" education program that provides:

$300 million in loans and grants annually for five years for the construction of class rooms for state and privately owned colleges.

$240 million to be used over a five-year period for scholarship grants to superior and needy college and high school students. These grants will be limited annually to $1,000 per student.

These proposals of President Kennedy, along with his multi-billion dollar program of federal aid for public elementary classroom construction, were shelved earlier this year when a heated controversy over aid to private schools deadlocked the House Rules Committee.

House Majority Leader McCormack believes he can break this deadlock by bringing the less controversial college aid and scholarship proposals to a vote in the House first.

Already, Representative McCormack has won drum-tight assurances from a majority of the Rules Committee members that they will vote to send this part of the President's education program to the House floor.

Polls by the House leadership indicate that passage of the two proposals will come easy due to strong bipartisan support in the House. Senator Mansfield has set the stage for speedy Senate action once the House votes.

The two Congressional leaders are delaying until later in the session a final decision on what to do about the other half of the President's educational program — the controversial federal aid to elementary schools.

CRISIS AND CHALLENGE — There is a very strong case for the legislators to pass the President's scholarship and college aid program.

A study made by the House Education and Labor Committee reveals that "College enrollments, totaling 3,600,000 students in 1960, 61, are to increase by more than one million, or 30 percent, in the next five years. By 1970 an estimated 6,000,000 students will be seeking admission to colleges and universities, a gain of 66 per cent over current enrollments."

"Despite this large increase in prospective students, thousands of the nation's most able youths cannot attend college because they cannot afford it," the study warns. "Each year an estimated 60,000 to 100,000 high school graduates in the top 30 per cent of their class, who have aptitude and interest for college, lack the financial support to go to college."

Institutions of higher education are confronted with "the task of nearly doubling, within the next decade, facilities it took three centuries to build," according to the committee's findings. The study concludes that "failure to perform this task would

Bureaucratic Power Grab Seen In Proposal By NRD

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — One of the biggest Washington bureaucratic power grabs ever proposed has just come to light through publication of an article by a mysterious "Mister Z" in the not-too-widely-circulated "Natural Resources Review," just issued by the University of New Mexico School of Law in Albuquerque.

What is proposed is that all water and natural resources agencies of the federal government except the Tennessee Valley Authority be merged into the Department of Interior to create a new "Department of Natural Resources."

This colossal amalgamation would take in 18 separate agencies which now have annual budgets totaling over $3 billion. It would include the 11 agencies now in Interior, Army Corps of Service, Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Conservation Program, and Rural Electrification Administration with the management of Health, Education and Welfare.

Identity of the "Mister Z" who makes this proposal is not being revealed by Jack L. Kroner, editor of the Review. But the 3,000-word text, published under the title of "The Case for a Department of Natural Resources," presents such detailed knowledge of government activities in this field that immediate suspicions of an inside job have been raised.

Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall has shied away from any suggestion of merger, according to his new public relations man, James N. Faber. The Secretary is presented as being happy in his co-operative efforts with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman on water conservation.

But lesser officials in the department have known about this "Mister Z" article for some days. And Interior's Bureau of Reclamation got into a row with Army Corps of Engineers during the last session of Congress over allocation of funds for development of Alaska's water resources. This is the classic big rivalry among water agencies, but there are others.

Excerpts from the "Mister Z" article give the main arguments in a fight that has been a Washington disgrace for years:

"United States public policy towards natural resources is developed and administered by a complex, confusing and conflicting array of agencies, offices and departments.

"Competition among agencies to 'get business' contributes to inefficient water resource development and waste of public funds. (therefore) takes place as a result of 'log rolling' and 'pork barrel' politics.

"The division of water agencies among the four departments of Agriculture, Defense, Interior and Health, Education and Welfare has reached proportions of a national crisis.

"Some order must be made out of the present chaos of resource policy. A centralized responsibility under a department of natural resources is a necessity.

"Because of the present concentration of resources activity in the Department of Interior, the easiest way to obtain a department of natural resources would be to transfer other resource agencies to Interior.

"The most adamant group blocking the way to reorganization is the National Rivers and Harbors Congress. (It is) backed by the water development contractors who strongly support certain congressional relations of the Army engineers. The present crisis in foreign affairs provides a further reason for taking civil water programs from the Department of Defense.

"The reorganization would centralize all responsibility for development and management of natural resource programs (except TVA) in a Secretary of Natural Resources.

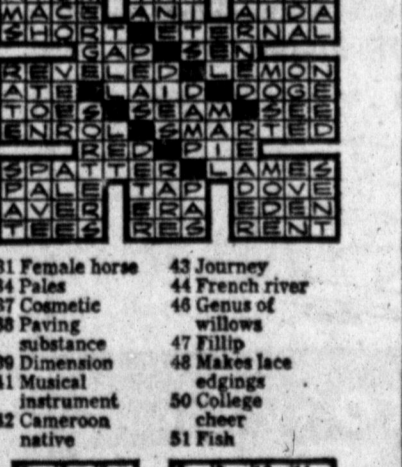

"Resource activities would be divided into six groups, each supervised by an assistant secretary. This grouping would be basically along resource lines: minerals, electric power, water, parks and wildlife, (public) lands and Indian affairs.

"An organization such as this one would not automatically solve all natural resource policy problems. It would, nevertheless, simplify authority and focus responsibility. The first and most vital step is to organize a Department of Natural Resources."

Master of Fact

The last of the flesh-eating dinosaurs was the most terrible of them all. The king-trant lizard, with his great head and slashing teeth, drove all other animals of his time to instant flight. He was 20 feet tall, not counting his long tail. Though he was "king of beasts" in his own time, he couldn't adapt to changing conditions, and like all the monster reptiles, disappeared from earth.

Eisenhower Kept Busy By Plunge Into GOP Events

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A recent visitor to Gettysburg says former President Eisenhower is immersing himself more deeply in Republican party doings as the months pass.

"Since he retired he's really discovered politics," the emissary added. "He's even dipping into local issues, the grubby stuff of campaign funds, and all that."

Ike is said to have indicated plainly that he intends to exercise a right of veto over GOP choices next year for governor and U.S. senator in his home state of Pennsylvania. Already well advertised is his effort to persuade some of his former cabinet members to run there and elsewhere.

Said the visitor: "When you call on him he won't let you leave. I never saw anybody so restless in retirement. When winter sets in around that little Gettysburg office of his, I don't know how he's going to stand it."

Sen. Bob Bartlett, D-Alaska, tells a tale of poetic justice on himself. As a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Bartlett often rushes over to the White House with his colleagues to fill President Kennedy in on the committee's closed hearings.

In one of these sessions, the President found himself without a pencil. Bartlett obligingly loaned him an automatic pencil.

When the meeting adjourned, both men forgot about the transaction. As a result, the President still has the pencil. Recalling the incident, Bartlett muses:

"I should have known better in the first place. I acquired the pencil under the same circumstances from an old friend in Alaska."

On the eve of election day, a cluster of Washington politicians and newsmen fell to talking of voting day shenanigans, especially the way sharp-eyed precinct captains may detect what voting machine levers a voter is pulling. Said one:

"One trick is to put the voting machine on a pedestal. Then you watch the guy's feet. If they stay flat, he's voting right. If he goes up on his toes to reach a higher row of levers, he's voting wrong."

Even without this device, the group agreed, the watcher can sometimes pick up a cue just from the voter's stance in the booth.

Then there are the booth curtains that somehow don't quite come together when the voter moves the big handle. A well-placed observer can often see the whole show, or at least catch a telltale hunch of the shoulders.

The peekers don't always have to be that subtle. "Ever notice," asked one newsman, "how many polling places are put in barber shops with all those high mirrors?"

Dr. Osman El Hadari, Sudan's ambassador to the United States, tossed a cheerful party for United States officials who helped squire President Abboud of the Sudan on his 12-day spin around the nation.

Among the guests was Angier Biddle Duke, chief U.S. protocol officer, who kept saying: "I passed up Carl Sandburg for this."

They reminisced fondly about many incidents on the often confused, hectic trip. One standout: Visiting Disneyland outside Los Angeles, Abboud and party boarded a small vessel fittingly named "Queen of the Nile," for a run through Adventureland. They floated past live exhibits of American Indian and wild African life. Suddenly, as they rounded a bend, they were stuck with this announcement of the next exhibit:

"The Fussy - Wuzzies of the Sudan!"

They might have been annoyed at this seeming stress on their primitiveness. Instead, the Sudanese smiled and took with good grace this unexpected "touch of home."

Rep. Bob Ellsworth, R-Kan., tells a story about the wife of a law school classmate who was experiencing her first year away from her home in Missouri's Ozarks. She was hospitalized with a broken ankle. Ellsworth and a group of students sent her a dozen roses, a magnum of champagne and a bucket of imported black caviar.

When asked how she had enjoyed the treat, the girl replied that she liked everything very much, especially the "ginger ale, but to tell the truth, that huckleberry jam tasted kind of fishy."

"Crowdsman ship," the sport of estimating political turnouts, had a short revival in New Jersey this fall when both President Kennedy and former President Eisenhower made appearances.

The 15,000 strung along Newark's busy streets to see Eisenhower roughly matched the number which assembled at a spot near the Delaware River in Trenton to hear the President.

A shaky element in the equation: How many were shoppers who just happened to be in the vicinity? Kennedy spoke on a crisp shopping night, and Ike bustled through Newark in the noon-day rush.

"Heck," said one cynic, "in situations like that a guy fixing a flat can get 20,000."

Student Increase

NEW YORK (UPI) — A population increase by 1970 is expected to almost double the present student population of the nation's secondary schools, according to a report by Allied Chemical Corporation's building materials division.

California is expected to have almost 800,000 more high school students by 1970, a rise of 85 per cent over last year, while Arizona anticipates a jump of 70 per cent and Florida an increase of 80 per cent.
