Storm May Have Been Cause 45 Are Killed In Crash Of Plane

CENTERVILLE, Iowa (UPI)—A Continental Airlines jet liner crashed in a violent electrical storm Tuesday night and all but one of the 45 persons aboard were killed almost instantly. The lone survivor lived for about 10 hours but died in a hospital here this morning.

He was Nakano Takehiko, 27, a native of Japan.

Takehiko, who was pulled alive from the fuselage of the huge Boeing 707 nearly eight hours after it crashed was rushed here from the

Information Said Basis For Profits By Mining Firm

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators today delved into testimony about a mining company lobbyist who allegedly built an information pipeline high into the Eisenhower administration.

A Senate armed services subcommittee planned to explore further the activities of Wellwood H. Maxwell, lobbyist for the Calumet & Hecla Co., which made a reported $5.7 million in government stockpile transactions.

According to testimony Tuesday:

Maxwell knew what was on the agenda of the Cabinet-level Defense Mobilization Board.

He was shown copies of internal government correspondence involving his Chicago-based company.

He obtained a copy of recommendations by a division chief to former Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks.

He was tipped off about the attitude of officials in three different agencies toward his company's request for changes in copper supply contracts.

Louis Brooks, a comptroller for the General Services Administration, said Calumet & Hecla realized the $5.7 million because the government permitted the company to defer or default on $2 million pounds of copper destined for the stockpile from late 1954 to early 1958.

Instead, he said, the company sold the copper on the open market at a higher price than the government would have paid.

In exchange for a three-year stretch-out of deliveries, according to the testimony, the company agreed to place in escrow certain profits on copper in excess of two cents a pound.

But six months after the company's obligation reached $1 million, GSA Administrator Franklin G. Floete unexpectedly agreed to settle the claim for $197,000, Brooks testified.

"Nothing I did was illegal in any shape, way or manner," Maxwell testified. "I regarded it as my duty to get any information that would affect our company, and get it legally."

Thunderclouds over the area broke after the violent weather, and the early search was conducted by moonlight.

Both the Civil Aeronautics Board, which has responsibility for investigating crashes, and the Federal Aviation Agency dispatched officials to the crash site.

Green said, "From the looks of things, it isn't going to be a matter of injuries. We have hospital facilities here to take care of 85 people. However, we have a big

Australia To Send Troops
To Thailand

United Press International
Australia announced today it was sending a contingent of armed forces to help defend the threatened borders of Thailand.

The announcement, anticipated for several days, coincided with a massive propaganda blast by three Communist nations of Asia against the landing of American troops in Thailand.

Red China said the U.S. action posed a "grave menace." North Viet Nam said it may lead to "incalculably dangerous consequences." North Korea recalled the "heinous fiasco of the Korean War."

Australian Defense Minister Sir Garfield Barwick said in Canberra that his country was taking action "in pursuance of its obligations" under the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO).

He said U Thant, acting secretary general of the United Nations, was being informed. Composition of the contingent still is being worked out, he said.

A similar announcement is expected shortly from Auckland, New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake said Tuesday his government had offered a token force.

Death Of Agriculture Official In Estes Case Is Cited As Murder

Man Was Apparently Shot Once In Back

By WILLIAM CLAYTON
United Press International

FRANKLIN, Tex. (UPI) — A preliminary report by a pathologist indicated today that Henry H. Marshall, 52, the agriculture official who first began checking farm financier Billie Sol Estes' business deals, was murdered.

Dr. Joseph Jachimczyk, the pathologist who is directing the autopsy on Marshall's body, said it appears he was shot once in the back and four times from the front.

Manley Jones, a funeral director who had suspected murder instead of the official verdict of suicide when Marshall was found dead in a field last June 3, said there was evidence of other injuries.

"There were indications that there had been quite a struggle," Jones said. "This had not been brought to light. There were wounds like blows from something . . . there were indications of body and facial lesions.

"There is no doubt in my mind that Henry Marshall was murdered."

Texas Rangers and the FBI, armed with the latest report from Jachimczyk, resumed their investigation of Marshall's death—the latest phase of the mushrooming Estes scandals.

The autopsy was conducted Tuesday to help a grand jury investigate the case to "clear the air" and find any connection, if there is any, with Estes.

In Washington, Sen. John McClelland, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee which is now inquiring into the Estes case, said he was "not at all surprised."

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said the tentative ruling by the pathologist further emphasized the need of a thorough investigation of the case.

"We need a thorough, impartial and non-political investigation of the whole sorry mess—no matter who is hurt by it," Miller said.

Sheriff Howard Stegall disagreed with Jachimczyk about Marshall being shot in the back.

There were nine bullet holes plainly visible in the body. Jachimczyk said he assumed that Marshall was shot five times and that four of the nine holes were made by bullets that went all the way through the body and came out.

The bullets were never recovered.

Stegall said the shirt that Marshall wore had two holes in its back. He said two of the bullets must have been nearly spent and did not "have enough steam left" to punch through the cloth. One of the holes is what causes the disagreement.

Stegall said threads around the hole were "pulled out" in such a way as to indicate an exit wound. Jachimczyk said it was an entry wound.

Jachimczyk said he hoped to finish his examination of the body and be able to give the grand jury a complete report Thursday.

Mrs. Marshall, who hired a private investigator because she did not believe that her husband had killed himself, was relieved.

"I hope the truth has been found out," she said. "I wanted to know the truth from the beginning."

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman said last week that Marshall took some of the secrets of the Estes case to the grave with him. Marshall had heard months before his death that Estes was illegally buying cotton allotments for his west Texas farms. He began an investigation.

At that time, Estes was a respected and rising Texas agriculture figure with an empire estimated to be worth $150 million.

Estes has since been indicted by federal and state grand juries on charges of fraud and violating Texas antitrust laws. He admits being $20 million in debt. A court-appointed receiver is running his affairs.

None of the candidates would concede.

Incumbent Gov. Howard Edmondson, prevented by law from seeking a second consecutive term, ordered state highway patrolmen and national guardsmen to guard the ballot boxes in view of the closeness of the race, pending the official canvass.

7 Absentee Votes
In City Election
Only seven absentee ballots have been cast at the City Secretary's office in City Hall in the Tuesday, May 29, election for city commissioner in Ward 2.

Voters in Ward 2 only will participate in the balloting. Officials pointed out that it will not be a city-wide election.

Three candidates are in the race for commissioner to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Newt Secrest.

The candidates are Dr. Will Graham, George Hamlin and Herman Brown. The voting place will be at the North Side Fire Station, 321 E. 17th St. Polls will be open Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Billie Sol Faces His Creditors

EL PASO (UPI) — Indicted farm tycoon Billie Sol Estes was scheduled to come face to face in court today with creditors who claim he owes them amounts ranging from $100 to as much as $7 million.

BULLETIN
EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Billie Sol Estes took refuge in the Fifth Amendment today to almost every question asked him at a meeting with his creditors in U.S. District Judge R. E. Thompson's courtroom.

His refusal to talk brought a quick conclusion to the meeting.

One question he was expected to be asked was whether he has millions of dollars hidden away in Swiss banks under a code name. The question was never asked.

One of the questions he is certain to be asked is whether he has concealed millions of dollars in a number of accounts in Swiss banks.

There has been a report that he transferred $4.7 million to a bank in Switzerland. When originally arraigned, he laughed off such reports.

The government lent substance to the reports last week, however, when it ordered through the Immigration Service that Estes was not to leave the continental limits of the United States.

Estes was scheduled to appear (See CREDITORS, Page 3)

Estes Gave $7,300 To Democrats

WASHINGTON — Billie Sol Estes has contributed $7,300 to the Democratic National Committee since President Kennedy was elected in 1960.

His largest donation was a $4,000 gift in 1961.

These political contributions were uncovered by Senator John McClelland's Senate Investigations Subcommittee, which is digging into Estes' mysterious $245,000 "Washington Project."

According to the McClelland investigators, there is no record of Estes donating funds to either party during the hard-fought 1960 presidential election.

Man Goes Berserk, Kills Three Before Being Killed By Policeman's Gunshot

OZARK, Ala. (UPI) — A mild-mannered chiropractor turned bank robber shot and killed two bank employees and a policeman in a holdup attempt Tuesday before he was cornered by police in a church graveyard and shot to death.

Eugene S. Gault, 43, of Prattville, Ala., was described by a friend as a "quiet, soft-spoken man who never seemed to fit the community." He killed a bank vice president, a teller and a veteran police officer and wounded another officer in a daylight robbery attempt at the Bank of Ozark.

The shootings occurred shortly after Gault had hung a sign on his office door which read: "Emergency, called out. Please call only 24 hours away."

The space agency announced late Tuesday that all systems on the silver Atlas 107D booster rocket and Carpenter's Aurora-7 spacecraft were "in a go condition for the launch" scheduled Thursday.

A spokesman also indicated that a variety of weather threats had dissipated, giving Carpenter better than 60-40 odds of following the space trail blazed by astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. last Feb. 20. And Carpenter's personal flight preparations were reported to have "picked up pace" as the flight time neared.

Carpenter's flight will be very similar to Glenn's if all goes well. It will be roughly five hours long in an orbit 100-150 miles high and at a speed of 17,500 miles per hour. But the 37-year-old Navy lieutenant commander will perform many new experiments for scientists who want to learn more about the mysteries of space.

Last-Minute Efforts For Stay Of Execution Fail

Stickney Dies In Electric Chair

HUNTSVILLE (UPI) — For 25 tense minutes early today, convicted killer Howard Stickney stood looking at the electric chair while his attorneys tried desperately to postpone his date with death for the 18th time.

Twice before the 23-year-old Highway Department draftsman had been just a step or two and minutes away from death. And for a time, it appeared he might cheat the chair again.

Another stay would have given him twice the number of stays California's Caryl Chessman received before he was put to death for kidnap.

As Stickney stepped into the execution chamber, a telephone jangled on the wall outside. A flicker of a smile broke the sandy-haired young man's resignation.

"Hold up the execution," the voice on the telephone said. It was Jack Heard, assistant prison director. He said he had Bob Looney, one of Stickney's attorneys, on the telephone.

Looney and Travis Ballard, another attorney working for Stickney, were at the plush Houston Club on the ninth floor of the Houston Building.

They had tried vainly during the day and evening to get judge after judge, both federal and state, to stop the execution.

"I've got Judie Miron Love (the judge that originally sentenced Stickney) on another phone now," Looney told Heard.

All Systems 'Go' For Tomorrow's Orbit Try

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Launch crews today began the first phase of the critical split countdown for astronaut Scott Carpenter's blastoff into orbit, only 24 hours away.

The space agency announced late Tuesday that all systems on the silver Atlas 107D booster rocket and Carpenter's Aurora-7 spacecraft were "in a go condition for the launch" scheduled Thursday.

A spokesman also indicated that a variety of weather threats had dissipated, giving Carpenter better than 60-40 odds of following the space trail blazed by astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. last Feb. 20. He had been on death row for three years while his lawyers tried to get a new trial. At one time, they even tried to get him tried on the second murder charge so they could present what they said was new evidence to show him innocent.

Earlier Tuesday, the State Court of Criminal Appeals barred Dist. Judge Cullen Briggs of Corpus Christi from taking any action in granting Stickney last minute stays.

Among the judges that turned down a habeas corpus petition, which would have prevented the execution, were Judge John E. Brown of the U. S. Court of Criminal Appeals, State Judges John F. Onion Jr. and Archie S. Brown of San Antonio, and Federal Judge Reynaldo Garza of Brownsville.

State and county police joined local authorities and volunteers and fanned out along a line across the Missouri border to search for the fuselage and the victims. Centerville is 66 miles southeast of Des Moines, Iowa.

Dr. Eugene Ritter, a Centerville physician, said bloody pillows had been picked up on farmland in the area.

Pieces of the plane, including a door bearing Continental's golden eagle symbol and a life raft, were scattered along the 10-mile area.

The FAA ordered the wreckage left where it was and placed a guard around parts of the plane.

Authorities were first alerted to the crash by two motorists who found a curved piece of metal on Iowa 60 near Centerville and took it to police, who identified it as a part of a plane.

The plane took off from O'Hare International Airport in Chicago at 10:35 p.m., EDT, and was due in Kansas City at 11:40 p.m., EDT.

Forty minutes after leaving Chicago, the plane transferred its radar contact from the FAA air control center at Waverly to the FAA center at Olathe, Kan., southwest of Kansas City.

"But we never completed the handoff—the transfer," said an FAA spokesman at Olathe. "The plane just faded away and we couldn't find it again."

The U.S. Weather Bureau said a squall line with high winds and thunderstorms was moving just east of Kirksville, Mo., in the area where the ill-fated craft vanished.

Continental headquarters in Denver said the crash was the first in the airlines' 8-year history. The plane's crew, which was based at Los Angeles, was identified as Mary R. Perfect Safety Record Is Marred WASHINGTON (UPI) — The crash of a Continental Airlines jetliner Tuesday night marred commercial aviation's most perfect safety record.

Continental was the only major U. S. carrier never to have suffered a fatal accident. It has been operating for 28 years, and in that time flew more than 10 million passengers 5 billion miles.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Broadway captured television's four top acting awards at the 14th annual Emmy ceremonies with seasoned theater veterans E. G. Marshall, Shirley Booth, Julie Harris and Peter Falk winning performing statuettes.

Miss Booth was voted the best actress Emmy for her weekly portrayal in "Hazel," the busy-body, big hearted maid.

Marshall, playing a battling defense attorney in "The Defenders," walked off with the best actor in a series award. His show won three other Emmys, including best dramatic show of the year.

Audiences in Hollywood, New York and Washington, in addition to viewers of the nationally telecast program, saw Miss Harris break into tears Tuesday night when she accepted her award as best actress in a single performance for "Victoria Regina."

Falk, in the role of a tough but sentimental truck driver, was voted best actor in a single performance for "The Price of Tomatoes."

with his lawyers, John B. Cofer of Austin and W. L. Kerr of Midland, former president of the State Bar Association.

The courtroom seats 300 persons. It was expected to be filled to overflowing. Many of the creditors, and their attorneys, began arriving Monday. Among them were executives and attorneys for 12 finance companies who are alleged victims of a $22 million fertilizer tank scheme.

Estes has admitted he owes $20 million. His business has been turned over to a court-appointed receiver, Harry Moore of El Paso.

Out of the meeting today, the creditors are expected to appoint a committee to work with Moore in recovering their money.

The creditors had hoped to recover a large part of their losses from government grain being stored in Estes' warehouses. However, these hopes were dashed Tuesday when the government announced it was taking all of its grain out of the warehouses.

Storage fees from the government amounted to about $4 million per year. With this gone, many creditors doubted they would get much of their money back.

NO GOOD AT ALL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Robert E. Cook, D-Ohio, who is seeking reelection, recently received $900 in the mail from Ash-tabula, Ohio, with an unsigned note stating: "From a good Democrat."

It was in nine $100 Confederate bills.

Students At Morgan Rites Baylor To Be In Tour

Jerry Baxter and Tom McPeak, freshmen students at Baylor University in Waco and members of the Baylor Chapel Choir will leave on an 18-day tour with the choir today at 1 p.m.

The choir plans appearances in southern Texas towns, Carlsbad, N.M.; Phoenix, Ariz.; and in Disneyland. An appearance is scheduled before the Southern Baptist Convention in San Francisco, Calif.

On their return trip, the choir will visit the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, Utah and will appear in a concert in Denver, Colo. A program by the choir is planned in Pampa on June 9. Several other concert dates are planned in the Texas area before the choir returns to campus.

Jerry and Tom were graduated from Pampa High School in 1961 and both were members of the 4-Flats, a popular entertaining group at civic functions.

Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baxter; Tom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McPeak.

Bank officers said Gault "apparently did not get any money."

After the shooting, Gault fled this small southeast Alabama town of 7,000 population in a late model blue Cadillac and headed north about 20 miles to Clio where he wounded Policeman Bill Roberts.

Roberts, who said he was shot "through and through one time," had tried to halt Gault's car.

Youngblood, who had worked 11 years as a Troy city policeman, was fatally wounded by Gault's bullets during the chase.

Highway patrolmen and police from Troy and Clio finally cornered Gault in a small country churchyard. Officers said Gault was first wounded when he drove through Clio and was struck a second time by a bullet from Youngblood's gun during the chase.

operation from the sheriff and justice of the peace in Texas, who ruled the death a suicide. The thinking was, apparently, the department should not get into a controversy with local officials."

The official added that as far as he knew results of the investigation were never turned over to the FBI.

He added the inquiry was not in the nature of a criminal investigation, but was made "only to determine the facts."

The Senate investigations subcommittee, headed by McClellan, is one of two congressional groups investigating the case. The other is a House government operations subcommittee.

McClellan said the question of whether Agriculture Department official Henry H. Marshall killed himself or was murdered would probably not be a crucial point in the investigation.

"His death concealed more than establishment of an act of murder would reveal," McClellan said.

Lovely Graduation Party Dresses

Lovely frocks you can sew for summer.

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN week and the entire summer of Parties every night graduation means that you just have to have lovely frocks for such occasions. Put one-third style and fashion-rightness into your dress through correct pattern selection, put one-third of the smartest, most flattering fabric you can afford; add to those considerations care in cutting, fitting, and good workmanship, and you will easily have a dress worth three to four times what it costs you. I call this my "Rule of 3," and I have seen it work out oh, so many times.

Flowered chiffons are fashion-lovely on a dance floor and ideal for summer evenings, whether dining out or at a party. Sheers take more time to make because of the long edges to be rolled, unless, you use a picot edge.

For a machine picot, baste a line using stitches not more than 1/4-inch long. Take to the sewing machine shop. They will picot on the basted line, then you cut the hem-stitching apart as the illustration shows, to make the picot.

Many chiffon bodices are made double. If the fabric is a print, then a plain chiffon is used underneath, in a color that will not make the bodice look different from the skirt. By making the bodice double, all seams can be inside and concealed, making the effect better and the work easier.

When stitching chiffon, stitch it with tissue paper underneath so the stitching cannot draw.

For a silk crepe, surrah, or limp satin dress, "tailor" it by using wide, carefully basted seams, and by clipping all edges before they are turned, pressing as you work so that the effect is smooth. Usually no stitching shows on a dress like this.

When pressing silk, use a moderately hot iron with a dry press cloth under the iron. Avoid a damp cloth as it may leave a water ring.

Dress at left in sketch can be worn by those 16 to 60. At right, same, if one is slender.

Dear Mrs. Picken: When putting new blanket binding on wool blankets, which is the proper stitch to use — blanket, catch, or feather? They all seem to pull and pucker. — E. M. S.

Dear E. M. S.: I would not use any one of the hand stitches in applying blanket binding. Rather, I would baste one side of the binding to the blanket, making sure that it is smooth and flat.

Then I would turn the other side, pin it every 2 inches and then stitch by machine, using the longest possible stitch on your machine. After the first row you can add a second row 1/4 to 3/8-inch above the first.

I think you will find this much better than trying to do it by hand, because of the thickness of the blanket and the binding.

If you do not have a machine, then prepare as for stitching. Use embroidery floss and sew binding to place with 1/4-inch running stitches.

Do you have a sewing problem? Send it to Mary Brooks Picken, care of this newspaper. While Mrs. Picken cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in the column.

Dear Abby... Woman Works In A Lemon Grove!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Two weeks ago I invited five girls, with whom I work, to my home for a barbecue supper. They all accepted, and arrived at 6:30 on the dot. I worked hard to prepare everything in advance — with all the trimmings. My house was spotless, and I was looking forward to a lovely evening. One girl bolted her supper, and left at 7:30 to go bowling. The third girl left at 7:45 because she had a date with her fiancé. The other two seemed embarrassed. Knowing they liked to sing, I opened the piano and tried to rescue the evening by playing while they sang. Very red-faced, one said her husband asked her not to stay late, so she left at 8:05, and the other one had to drive her home. My husband said not to let it bother me. Am I overly sensitive?

HURT

DEAR HURT: I have heard of one lemon in an office, but you must work in a grove. Your husband is right. Don't let it bother you again, either.

DEAR ABBY: I have a five-year-old mule named Bertha. She is a devoted animal and very affectionate. She follows me everywhere, nudges and pushes with her head and slobbers on my clothing. This makes my wife very angry. She says that either Bertha goes, or she does. Bertha is my best mule and brings in $883 a year. What should I do?

MONTANA

DEAR MONTANA: Get rid of Bertha. One mule in the family is enough.

DEAR ABBY: I have looked in every cook book I could lay my hands on and I cannot find a recipe for plain old-fashioned butterscotch pudding. Doesn't a recipe exist? Don't tell me to make vanilla pudding and substitute brown sugar for white, because I've tried it and it doesn't work. And don't recommend that packaged powder stuff you add milk to. I want the kind my mother used to make from scratch. Can you help me?

CRAVES BUTTERSCOTCH PUDDING

DEAR CRAVES: You need an old-fashioned cook book and I don't have one. If any of my readers has a recipe for butterscotch pudding (made from scratch) please send it to me as I am itching to help my reader. (And I'd like to try it myself.)

DEAR ABBY: What have you got against the cigarette industry anyway?

C. W.

DEAR C. W.: I have nothing against the cigarette industry. But I have plenty against the big-name athletes who tell our young people how "mild," "satisfying" and "refreshing" a cigarette is. I think we should take up a collection for athletic stars who are so hungry for money that, for a few extra bucks, they will encourage young people to smoke, knowing that it undermines their health.

How's the world treating you? For a personal unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Miss Suthers Is Honored At Tea

CANADIAN (Spl) — A tea honoring Miss Al' Louise Suthers, bride-elect of John Ramp was held Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Dick H. Barton. Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Tom Riley and Mrs. Walter Killebrew were co-hostesses for the affair, which served to introduce Miss Suthers, who is a resident of Arnett, Okla.

Miss Suthers, her mother, Mrs. Howard Suthers of Arnett, and Mrs. Jake Ramp received the guests.

Mrs. Charles Cole registered the guests and Mrs. Glen Bill Walker and Mrs. Bill Popham presided at the serving table.

The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were used on the table which was laid with an ecru drawn-work cloth and centered with a white urn featuring a tall white candle twined with blue sweet peas. The flowers also hung over the sides of the urn. The arrangement was flanked by white tapers.

Ruth Millett Play Same Notes But Tunes Differ

"The language of women differs extensively from the language of men," says a professor of linguistics. Any husband will agree with the professor on that.

When a woman says she "found" the most perfect dress, or hat, or sofa she certainly doesn't mean what a man means by "found." What a woman really means is she bought the article mentioned — as any husband soon learns.

When a woman uses the word "darling," it may be an endearment as it is when a man uses it. But just as likely "darling" is used to describe a hat, a dish, a house or anything else that strikes a woman's fancy.

A woman uses the word "save" in ways that would never occur to a man, too. A woman can, for instance, find all sorts of ways to use "save" for "spend." She "saves" her husband money (or so she tells him) when she "finds" a "darling" dress at half price.

And that brings up the word "bargain." To a woman, almost anything she buys is automatically described to her husband as a "bargain," either because it was on sale, was cheaper at one store than at another or just because she hopes if she calls it a "bargain" her husband won't call it an extravagance.

To a man a minute is 60 seconds. But to a woman a minute may mean half an hour, especially when she says she'll be ready in a minute, or dinner will be ready in a minute or she'll only be a minute in a store.

And there's that word "charming." Men reserve it for women. But women use it to describe things — a house, a restaurant, a room, a garden, or just about anything else that can't be described as interesting, cute or darling.

Men and women even use the word "relax" in a different sort of way, too. When a wife tells her husband to relax, she means for him to take to an easy chair because she has noticed that he looks tired and she is concerned about him. The word, when a woman uses it has a solicitous sound. But when a husband tells his wife to relax he is usually irritated with her and what he really means is "For heaven's sake, quit nagging or quit worrying or quit rushing around tidying up."

Formulae for bliss: read Ruth Millett's booklet, "Happier Wives (Hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c/o Pampa News, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 18, N.Y.

Spring Recital By Piano Pupils Of Mrs. Reimer

Piano pupils of Mrs. Paul Reimer will appear in their annual Spring Recital on Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the City Club Room.

To be included in the program will be "Impromptu in C Minor" (Reinhold) played by Velda Rose; "Prelude in C Minor" (Rachmaninoff) to be played by Johnny Schmidt; "Polish Dance" (Scharwenka) performed by Connie Burger; "Waltz In G Flat" (Chopin) played by Kathy Davis.

Other students performing will be Jennifer Cunningham, Cindy Cole, Jackie Stephens, Debbie Daughterty, Debbie White, Vivian Albritton, Cathy Hall, Cynthia Carter, Debbie Juenger, Linda Albritton, Linda Bohlander, Ray Kenney, Terry Allen, Debra Reimer, Sherry Cobb, Betty Blanda, Martha Colville, Chris Kenney, Gene Carlson, Kathy Pate, Sharline Bryant, Paula Blanda, David Irwin, Kay Bohlander and Lodema Cole.

Expensive evenings are another problem, with students sometimes running up a bill of $100. The entire nation shuddered a few years ago when seven celebrating teenagers were killed by a train at a grade crossing.

Now comes news of a movement that may solve the problem. A year ago, a group of California high schools came up with a dazzling idea. Arrangements were made for $-000 seniors to converge on Disneyland at 11 p.m., for an All-Nite Grad Party of truly memorable proportions.

Excited youngsters in party clothes arrived by bus, with one adult chaperone for every fifteen students. The change was $4 per student, plus $1 for breakfast. Chaperones were admitted free.

The young people had the run of Disneyland for six hours — as many rides they wanted, as any times dancing was available, with Benny Goodman and Tommy Sands the featured entertainers. No alcohol was served.

The event proved popular enough to allow two All-Nite Grad Parties in Disneyland this year. Across the country the idea has picked up. The Prom Party is a model to parents in any city or town within hailing distance of a major amusement park.

Freedomland in New York City is offering its first Prom Night Party this summer, while over in New Jersey the Palisades Amusement Park expects to have a token program going. Bob-Lo Park Ontario, Canada is blueprinting large-scale plans for 1963.

This should spell the end of senior prom mishaps.

LOW HEELS BACK

Low heels are coming in at last to replace high heels even for evening wear. The gold cobra pump for evening has a low, stacked heel.

Mrs. Watt's Pupils In Spring Recital

Mrs. Bill Watt will present piano students in recital on Friday at eight o'clock in the educational building of the First Methodist Church.

Guest soloist will be Jean Holman, who will present two vocal selections.

Woman's World Prom Night (Until Daybreak Often Ends In Heartbreak For Students

Too often the joy of the senior prom has resulted in the sorrows of an all-night party. Graduates revel till dawn, parents worry the dark away, and daybreak does not always bring good news.

"We see the same pattern every year," observes a Maryland educator in the June "Good Housekeeping." "A prom - night joy ride to a motel over on the Eastern Shore, a hasty marriage in midsummer, a baby in March. A girl who might have gone on to college or a nursing school loses out for a lifetime."

Expensive evenings are another problem, with students sometimes running up a bill of $100. The entire nation shuddered a few years ago when seven celebrating teenagers were killed by a train at a grade crossing.

MODERN FELTING MACHINE — This felting machine is one feature of Acme Mattress Company's Pampa plant at 817 W. Foster. Acme will renovate your old mattress so that it will "sleep like new." If you want your mattress picked up for the standard one-day service, call MO 4-6621 and an Acme truck will be at your door without delay. (Daily News Photo)

Acme Mattress Can Save You Money!

The modern, efficient Acme Mattress Company, 817 W. Foster, is the place that's in business to serve you, whether you are interested in a reconditioned mattress or a custom job.

In one day, Acme can "work wonders" with your old mattress. You can have that lumpy cotton mattress reconditioned and have it built into an innerspring. You can also save when you have your old mattress converted to an orthopedic. This is even better than an innerspring.

Acme gives you an orthopedic mattress in which you'll never feel the springs. On reconditioning jobs the original cotton is used. This not only saves you money but guarantees you continued quality as the cotton in your old mattress is very often of a higher quality than you can buy in a new mattress. The orthopedic mattress is made by adding cotton and a new covering.

Acme's main selling point is that, with its factory machines, it gives you a new mattress at less than it will cost to buy a new one.

Pie-throwing Stars Raise $100,000

By JOSEPH FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — More than $100,000 was raised for handicapped children at a recent night-club party attended by movie and television stars who engaged in such antics as cream pie throwing at $500 a toss.

Soupy Sales, chief pie lobber, hired out to hit celebrities for anybody who'd donate money at the annual party given by SHARE, an organization of filmland wives.

Approximately 1,200 people paid $50 for a basket of chicken and an evening at the Moulin Rouge nightclub where Dean Martin, Milton Berle, Steve Allen, John Wayne, Spike Jones, Jack Lemmon and Eddie Fisher entertained.

Also performing were the SHARE girls, Helen Grayco, Janet Leigh, Jo Stafford, Marge Champion, Annie Sterling, Lucille Ball, Ruth Berle, Mrs. Dean Martin and wives of other stars.

The pie slinging got under way when a wealthy celebrant offered $500 if his son's face was on the cake.

Sales accommodated the father and junior returned the favor by paying $100 to see pop get hit.

When the cream settled, Sales had raised $2,100 and was himself hit with a piece. So was Steve Allen.

Entertainers in the audience offered their singing and dancing talents to bidders who offered up to $1,000 to see Gene Kelly do a dance.

Eddie Fisher sang a $500 song and Andy Williams crooned two for $1,000. Jim Garner auctioned his gun and holster for $550, and Dean Martin's red pocket handkerchief had a buyer who paid $1,000.

The auctioneers were Martin, Berle and Allen, who were on stage for several hours, acting in skits and drumming up money. Frank Sinatra, who didn't attend this year, joined a group of associates in paying the party's expenses.

The Western dress party ran into the early morning hours. But before the guests departed, they'd helped some mentally retarded children get medical aid.

Moore Keeping Twins Near Top Rung In A.L.

UPI Sports Writer
Ray Moore tells everyone he's 35, an out-and-out fib, but there's no getting around the fact that he's the man who is keeping those persistent Minnesota Twins moseying around the top of the American League.

The gray-haired, pipe-smoking Moore, closer to 40 than 35, has been pressed into relief in three of the Twins' last four games and has won two of them.

"Our rookies, like Rich Rollins and Bernie Allen, have done a tremendous job," says manager Sam Mele, "but Moore has been our real life-saver."

The veteran right-hander turned Tuesday night when he was credited with a 6-5 victory over the Washington Senators that moved the Twins into a virtual tie for first place with the New York Yankees.

Moore, who calls everyone else "Horse," cantered out of the bullpen in the eighth inning with Washington runners on first and second and one out. He immediately induced Danny O'Connell and Chuck Cottier to pop up and then protected his one-run lead through the ninth.

Moore was Minnesota's fourth pitcher and actually came into the game with the Twins leading by one run. The official scorer awarded him the victory, his third of the season, because he felt Moore had been the most effective Minnesota hurler after starter Georges Maranda failed to survive the fifth.

The Twins broke a 2-2 tie in the third with a four-run rally highlighted by Bob Allison's two-run single, Lennie Green and Chuck Cottier hit homers.

In other AL games, the Yankees shaded the Los Angeles Angels, 2-1, in 12 innings; the Baltimore Orioles beat the Cleveland Indians, 4-1, and the Kansas City A's handed the Boston Red Sox their eighth straight loss, 5-1. The Tigers and White Sox were idle.

The St. Louis Cardinals ran their winning streak to six games in the National League with a 6-2 win over the Philadelphia Phillies; the Los Angeles Dodgers downed the first-place San Francisco Giants, 5-1; the Cincinnati Reds beat the Milwaukee Braves, 3-2, in 11 innings; the Houston Colts nipped the New York Mets, 3-2, and the Chicago Cubs defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1.

Elston Howard's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded in the 12th gave the Yankees their victory over the Angels. Four Yankee pitchers, Whitey Ford, Jim Coates, Bud Daley and Bob Turley collaborated in a one-hit effort—Bob Rodgers collecting the Angels' only hit, a single with one out in the ninth off Coates. Ford left the game with a muscle strain in his left shoulder after pitching seven hitless innings. Turley was the winner and Tom Morgan the loser.

A pair of home runs by Jim Gentile, his 11th and 12th of the season, and one by pitcher Milt Pappas, his third, powered the Orioles to victory over the Indians. Pappas, who held the tribe to four hits in 6 1-3 innings, was credited with his fifth victory. Jim Perry was the loser.

Dave Wickensham and Diego Segui combined to hold the Red Sox to five hits as Manny Jimenez provided the Athletics' winning margin with a two-run homer off loser Galen Cisco. Bob Tillman homered for Boston's only run.

Bob Gibson won his sixth game for the Cardinals, striking out nine and holding the Phillies to four hits. He lost his shutout in the ninth when Johnny Callison rapped a two-run homer. Three Philadelphia errors paved the way for Paul Brown's first defeat.

The victory moved the Cards to within 2½ games of the Giants, who were limited to five hits by winner Stan Williams and reliever Larry Sherry. Tommy Davis hit a two-run homer, his second against the Giants in as many games. Jack Sanford was the losing pitcher.

Don Blasingame and Leo Cardenas each singled home a run in the 11th inning for the Reds as Jim O'Toole out-pitched Bob Shaw of the Braves. The victory was O'Toole's fourth in nine decisions. Gordy Coleman homered for Cincinnati in the second inning.

Norm Larker's two-run triple in the eighth inning gave the Colts their second straight victory over the Mets. Dick Farrell went the distance for Houston and scattered 10 hits for his fourth victory. Loser Jay Hook, who also went the distance, gave up only seven hits, including a fourth-inning homer by Roman Mejias.

George Altman accounted for all the Cubs' runs against the Pirates with his ninth homer and a pair of singles. Don Cardwell recorded his first victory after four straight losses. Bob Friend dropped his fifth decision. He has won four games.

Tulsa Still Leading Play In Texas League By One

By United Press International
Tulsa stayed a jump ahead of the hungry pack nipping at its heels Tuesday night in Texas League play.

The league-leading Oilers turned back dogged El Paso, 10-8. Elsewhere, Albuquerque and San Antonio, both teams just one game behind the Oilers, notched victories. Albuquerque beat Austin, 5-1, and San Antonio whipped Amarillo, 5-2.

Tulsa launched a 13 hit barrage against three El Paso pitchers. The Sun Kings collected 9 hits but did not bunch them as well as the Oilers did.

The Missions scored four runs in the first two innings to sack up the Gold Sox early. Amarillo dented the plate for two tallies in the 8th inning.

Albuquerque and Austin locked in a tight pitching duel. Fireballing Jose Santiago limited the Senators to only four hits to gain the victory. The Ducks collected seven hits off Austin hurling.

Tonight's schedule is the same.

Ford Could Have Had No-Hitter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pitcher Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees today shrugged off his futile flirtation with a no-hit game with the observation, "It isn't worth risking your career to pitch a no-hitter."

The 33-year-old Yankee ace asked to be removed from Tuesday night's 2-1, 12-inning victory over the Los Angeles Angels after he had pitched seven hitless innings. Bob Rodgers collected the Angels' only hit, a single, off Jim Coates in the eighth.

"I developed a pain in my left side beneath the shoulder in the fourth or fifth inning and it was beginning to pain me more and more," Ford explained. "So when I reached the dugout after the seventh I told (manager Ralph) Houk, 'You better get another pitcher in there.'"

Ford's ailment was diagnosed by club physician Dr. Sydney Gaynor as a muscle tear, and further examination will be made today.

Shields Leads U. S. Open Qualifiers

By United Press International
Three guys named Bob—Shields of Quincy, Ill., Zimmerman of Dayton, Ohio, and Goetz of Tulsa, Okla.—topped a field of 452 who passed first-round qualifying tests for the U.S. Open golf championship.

Shields led the more than 2,000 golfers shooting for the 452 berths on Monday when he carded a sizzling 63 - 66 - 129 at Springfield, Ill., while Zimmerman, a 21-year-old pro, shot a 68-65-133 at Cincinnati. Goetz, a frequent performer on the pro tour, moved into the No. 1 spot Tuesday when he shot a 65-68-134 at Indianapolis to pace a field of 84 golfers at four sites who survived the first qualifying round.

The 452 survivors now move on to 13 second-round qualifying sites June 4-5. They'll be joined by 45 older pros like Sam Snead, Ben Hogan and Cary Middlecoff in a scramble for 131 starting berths for the tourney proper at Oakmont, Pa., June 14-16.

A total of 19 others—rounding out a tourney field of 150—were exempt from qualifying. They include 15 former champions, including Tiger Woods, Fred Couples, Tom Watson, and Jack Nicklaus. The group also included the last five winners of the Open—defending champion Gene Littler, Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper Jr., Tommy Bolt and Dick Mayer.

The others in the 19 exempt from all qualifying are Jerry Barber, the PGA champion; Bob Goalby, Doug Sanders, Jack Nicklaus, Mike Shouchak, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford, Eric Monti, Jacky Cupit, Gardner Dickinson Jr., Gary Player, Billy Maxwell, Gay Brewer and Johnny Pott.

The first qualifying round play was conducted on three different dates. Last Friday nine qualified at Oakland, Calif., while on Monday 359 qualified.

Wins In Playoff
Tuesday's play was held at Chicago, Indianapolis, three metropolitan New York sites, and at Denver where Orville J. Moody of Fort Eustis, Va., gained the 15th and final berth when he beat four others in a playoff.

Tuesday's casualties included such well known pros as Dave Marr, winner of the Azalea Open; Herman Barron, Eddie Merrins and Mike Homa. Among those who made the grade were Felice Torza, Tony Holguin, Al Balding, Jim Ferree, Claude Harmon, Shelley Mayfield, Bob Sweney, Tom Nisporre, Mike Fetcheck and Al Brosch.

Dycus' Bird Wins 200 Mile Race

A grizzle hen owned by Bill Dycus won first place Saturday in a 200-mile pigeon race flown from Waurika, Okla. by the Top O' Texas Racing Pigeon Club.

Honing first among 40 birds entered, she covered the 200-mile distance in four hours and 27 minutes for an average speed of 1302.29 yards per minute. Placing a close second and third were Jim Cantrell and Buddy Epperson with speeds of 1293.59 ypm and 1289.30 ypm.

The results of Saturday's race are 1st, Dycus, 1302.29 ypm; 2nd, Cantrell, 1293.59 ypm; 3rd, Epperson, 1289.30 ypm; 4th, Cantrell, 1279.50 ypm; 5th, W. H. Thom, 1259.93 ypm; 6th, Bazell Pettit, 1255.96 ypm; 7th, Delbert Thurman, 1208.03 ypm.

Saturday the club will fly a 300-mile race from Dallas.

Lone Star Loop Slates Meeting

An end of the season meeting for the Lone Star Bowling league will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Pampa hotel banquet room.

All team members are invited to attend this meeting.

Ruff, B And B In Little Loop Wins

Shelby Ruff and B&B Pharmacy emerged victorious in Northern little league contest—Monday night at western league park.

Softball Loop To Meet On Saturday At I

All personnel wishing to join the Derringer Softball league are urged to meet Saturday at 1 p.m. at the Hobart St. park.

The league, sponsored by the Church of Latter Day Saints, is open to all boys 8-15. Boys 8-11 will be in the junior division and boys 12-15 in the senior division.

League play will get underway sometime during the first part of June. As many teams as want to may comprise the league. Games will be regulation seven innings. All games will be on Saturdays.

Requirements for boys wishing to play in the league are (1) attend a church of their choice (2) must not drink or smoke (3) exhibit good sportsmanship (4) use no profanity and (5) have parents permission.

There is a $1 entry fee.

Elder Harvey D. Rasmussen is president of the new league and Elder Daniel W. Wheeler is vice-president.

Ring Group Checks On Alfaro

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York's joint legislative committee on professional boxing, completing its first public hearing today, has subpoenaed fight-manager Manuel Alfaro's income tax records for the past four years.

Alfaro, manager of ring victim Benny (Kid) Paret, must produce the records at the committee's executive meeting in New York June 13.

When Alfaro was unable to provide the records, as requested, at Tuesday's second session of the hearing, the subpoena was served upon him in the hearing room by committee counsel Joseph F. Soviero.

Alfaro claimed he was unable to contact his tax accountant.

Paret died on April 2 from ring injuries suffered at Madison Square Garden on March 24 when he was knocked out and deprived of his welterweight title by Emile Griffith.

Soviero declared, "We want to know what happened to the $750,000 Paret earned between 1958 and 1962."

Assemblyman Hayward H. Plumadore of Saranac Lake, N.Y., committee chairman, said: "We must have those records to show whether Alfaro is indeed the benevolent patron of fighters who claims he never made any money out of boxers until Paret became champion."

Assemblyman Hayward H. Plumadore of Saranac Lake, N.Y., committee chairman, said: "We must have those records to show whether Alfaro is indeed the benevolent patron of fighters who claims he never made any money out of boxers until Paret became champion."

Ring Group Checks On Alfaro

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York's joint legislative committee on professional boxing, completing its first public hearing today, has subpoenaed fight-manager Manuel Alfaro's income tax records for the past four years.

Alfaro, manager of ring victim Benny (Kid) Paret, must produce the records at the committee's executive meeting in New York June 13.

When Alfaro was unable to provide the records, as requested, at Tuesday's second session of the hearing, the subpoena was served upon him in the hearing room by committee counsel Joseph F. Soviero.

Alfaro claimed he was unable to contact his tax accountant.

Paret died on April 2 from ring injuries suffered at Madison Square Garden on March 24 when he was knocked out and deprived of his welterweight title by Emile Griffith.

Soviero declared, "We want to know what happened to the $750,000 Paret earned between 1958 and 1962."

Assemblyman Hayward H. Plumadore of Saranac Lake, N.Y., committee chairman, said: "We must have those records to show whether Alfaro is indeed the benevolent patron of fighters who claims he never made any money out of boxers until Paret became champion."

Patterson Will Announce Site

NEW YORK (UPI)—Floyd Patterson is expected to announce at a news conference at 5 p.m., EDT, today whether a fight-site is in sight.

Attorney Julius November said the heavyweight champion would make "an interesting announcement" about his next title defense at the conference. That was all.

Floyd and Sonny Liston signed for that title fight on March 16, without naming the site. During the past week Detroit seemed the leading candidate, but negotiations for the Motor City appears to have been stymied Tuesday.

Just buying expensive clothes won't give a man a good appearance. It is know-how.

I've seen junior executives with know-how dress better than their bosses, and at a fraction of the expense. So you see there is no substitute for know-how for that well dressed appearance.

The first impression you make on people is through your appearance. It's no wonder so many companies are so concerned about their employees appearance.

They spend a considerable amount of money training an employee, and then find out his chances for success are greatly hampered by his untidy appearance. If you are fortunate enough to have this know-how, then "You've got it made"; when you complete your training. Your chances for success are unlimited.

We here at Heath's can do a lot for you when it comes to your appearance. We have the finest selection of clothes in town, and we're sure you'll find just the right clothes, particularly in suits, to get that job well done.

Ticket Sales Are Up In NFL League

NEW YORK (UPI)—Commissioner Pete Rozelle, reflecting the joy of most National Football League club owners following their successful defense of a damage suit by the young American Football League, announced today that advance sales of tickets for the 1962 season are up 10 per cent.

Rozelle, who is presiding at a meeting of NFL club officials here, said that if the trend continues the league could set a record high of more than 400,000 in season ticket advance sales.

"On the average throughout the whole league," Rozelle said, "sales are up 10 per cent. Last year's season ticket sale totaled $68,975. So at the current rate, the clubs' total should run about 405,000."

Translating the advance sale into paid attendance for a 98-game schedule opening Sept. 16, Rozelle said that approximately 2,835,000 tickets will be sold on a season basis before the first kickoff of the 1962 season.

If the projection proves correct, the advance sale will account for roughly three-fourths of last year's entire paid attendance total which was a record 3,986,159. Last season, though, was the first for a 98-game schedule.

"Carrying the projection further," Rozelle continued, "there is every reason to believe we will have our first year of four million paid attendance."

The Philadelphia Eagles, who just missed winning the Eastern Division title for a second straight time last year, have made the most impressive increase in ticket sales. They sold approximately 19,000 season tickets in 1961 and report now that they are almost sure to top the 40,000 figure.

Griffith Will Battle Dupas

LAS VEGAS, NEV. (UPI)—World welterweight champ Emile Griffith today looked forward to his first ring appearance since the fatal bout with Benny (Kid) Paret — a July 13 title defense against clever Ralph Dupas at Convention Center.

The Friday-the-13th championship bout is expected to attract a full house — about 7,500 — and a $100,000 gate. Matchmaker Mel Greb, in disclosing the hard-hitting Griffith and boxing master Dupas would meet, said the bout would not be televised.

Griffith, 24, regained his championship March 24 when he knocked out Paret at New York. It was in that bout that Paret suffered fatal injuries.

To meet Dupas, 26, Griffith received a guarantee of $40,000 or 45 per cent of the gate. Dupas, of New Orleans, will take home only $10,000, but long has been looking for a crack at the title regardless of the pay.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to set its blessings. For only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Depends On Who Says It?

News item: "Bitterly, he (President Kennedy) recalled that: "My father always told me that all businessmen were sons-of-bitches but I never believed it till now!"

Now that the church-going Mr. Kennedy has given Anglo-Saxon epithets the dignity of the office of the President of the United States, we presume it will be "the accepted thing" in certain circles to reflect on the mer-hood of persons who have different points of view.

Seems to us that when a little haberdasher from Independence, Mo., referred in such uncompromising terms to those he disagreed with, there was a wave of criticism in academic circles against the uncouth comments.

But a degree from Harvard and training in the London School of (Keynesian) Economics seems to make a difference, eh?

Moral Loss

There is no such thing as group responsibility, group thinking, group morality. Efforts of individuals to transfer their individual responsibilities, thoughts and morals to a group, result in the loss of these things by the individual. There is no gain.

War And Peace

Many people have commented on the abuse moderns inflict upon the language.

In addition to the proclivity to coin and employ slang expressions, there is a tendency in political circles to appropriate words with pleasing and favorable connotations and to insert them into insidious programs for purposes of obtaining power.

Thus, the word freedom is constantly assaulted and used in ways which have nothing to do with freedom. The word liberal, which in essence means a person who supports liberty, has come to mean a person who enjoys prodigality with other people's money. And the word conservative, by all odds an extension of conserve, has come in many quarters to mean anti-Communist or anti-Russian as the case may be.

But there is another word now which is experiencing an amazing amount of distrust and antagonism and that is the word, peace.

Because Russian politicians have successfully employed the word, in some strange way it is believed that Russia favors peace and that anyone else who says he wants peace, must somehow be pro-Russian.

Actually, this is wholly void of fact. Russia has never been particularly favorable to peace. True, it is doubtful if Russia could wage a successful war of aggression and, hence, it is probably true that she favors peace. But only in that sense. Actually, Russia has violated peaceful purposes repeatedly while mouthing the word to the echo.

The fact is that most Americans, not counting a fringe of zealots, truly want peace. But because of the close connection now between Russia and peace in so many minds, it is becoming popular to equate war with America. And this is to fall squarely into the Russian trap and to concede that Americans are warmongers and out to commit aggression.

In other words, Americans who have grown increasingly distrustful and antagonistic to Russia, especially in political circles, take it as demonstrative of their anti-Russian feeling to favor war and not peace. This is a sample of false syllogistic reasoning.

A. Russia favors peace. B. Americans do not like Russia. C. It must follow that Americans do not like peace.

Actually, neither the Russian nor the American people have anything to be gained by war and bloodshed. Both will gain thru peace and production.

If one faces the issue squarely, one could come a little closer to the facts. Using the same system of reasoning but in a truer sense, it could be said that Russian politicians favor victory even at the expense of war. There would be nothing we could do more destructive of any war aims Russia's political masters might have.

In other words, if Russia wants war in fact, there is no reason for us to accommodate her. And if Russia actually wants peace, as she professes, then we can accommodate ourselves by remaining peaceful and letting her do as she pleases.

But there is a fascinating overtone to this whole international picture as provided by atomic and hydrogen potential. As a friend of ours recently remarked, the politicians who have always played the game of war have never been confronted with the scientific possibility of human extinction if the typical political game is followed.

Heretofore, whichever politician triggered a conflict, the war could be fought according to certain "international rules" such as one would find in boxing or football, and the winner would pick up the chips.

But with the shadow of the "bomb" hanging over the world, there are no rules that can be summoned to anyone's aid. So there is a great deal of scurrying around trying to get the bomb banned on all sides so that the politicians can go back to conventional warfare, which they understand in the same way they understand conventional warfare.

In the end, if the bomb can't be banned, and at the same time, if politicians become too fearful to run the risks of possible atomic warfare, then the game of politics will have lost its ultimate weapon. All political action, in the final analysis is dependent upon war. If it becomes too risky to invoke a war, what will the politicians do to attain their objectives?

Pull Up A Chair

By Neal O'Hara

Remember during Col. John H. Glenn's orbital flight when the Australian city of Perth turned on all its lights throughout the night as a salute to him and his mission? Well, a poll of the nation's top public relations firms shows the gesture is regarded as "the most outstanding public relations idea of the decade." And while we're on the subject: A space highway around the earth, safe from dangerous radiation, has been found at an altitude of about 250 miles. . . . Headline in the Harrisburg (Pa.) Evening News: "Granahan Seat Cut By Phila. Democrats." . . . You have an idea of the rough competition on learning there are presently 117 different brands of Scotch whisky being sold in the U. S.

Sign at a service station: "We collect taxes — federal, state, local. Also sell gasoline as a sideline." . . . The diff. The "itis" in neuritis means inflammation of a nerve, and when this is present there is evidence of some interference with normal function of the nerve involved. Neuralgia means never pain, which may or may not be present in neuritis. But in neuralgia there is never any evidence of loss of normal nerve function.

Today's favorite gag. The federal judge, after briefly explaining the history of Old Glory to a group of aliens seeking citizenship papers, asked one of them, "And now tell me what flies over city hall." The alien blinked a moment and then triumphantly replied, "Peepkins!" . . . Modern merchandising. While on duty, the manager of a Baltimore sea food restaurant keeps a bandage on one finger. When a customer inquires if the hard shell crabs are fresh, he displays the bandage and says, "I was bitten only an hour ago. Is that fresh enough?"

An eminent educator speaking. "If rudimentary education is based on the three R's, then acceptable personality is based on the three C's — courtesy, courage and co-operation."

Thoughts while shaving: 1. Don't know whether it requires a Wall Street analyst or a Park Avenue psychiatrist to figure it out, but of stockholders of Am. Tel. & Tel., a blue chip of the deepest hue, only one-third as many showed up at this year's annual meeting as a year ago. And the reason? No box lunch was served this year.

In short, many co-owners of a corporation that sells at more than $100 a share passed up this year's meeting because they wouldn't get about a dollar's worth of free lunch. . . . 2. It's the husband down the street who says equal pay for equal work for women would be a wonderful arrangement if the women would be as generous in dividing the proceeds as men have always been. . . . 3. Wonder if San Francisco's native sons and daughters ever become upset when they so often hear and read the praises of Robert Frost, "the great New England poet"? After all, Robert Frost, the great New England poet, was born in San Francisco in 1874. . . . 4. Never could determine whether it was gallantry or sarcasm which led to the adoption of Maryland's state motto: "Fatti Maschii, Parole Femine" — meaning "Manly Deeds, Womanly Words."

Country editor speaking: "The new atom-powered ship can go 2 1/2 years without refueling, and the automobile owner wishes somebody else would get the idea."

Bid For A Smile

A doctor brought a dyspeptic farmer a big brown pill. Doctor — I want you to try this pill at bedtime. It's a new treatment, and if you can retain it on your stomach it ought to cure you. The next day the doctor called again. Doctor — Did you manage to retain that pill on your stomach? Farmer — Well, the pill was all right as long as I kept awake, but every time I fell asleep it rolled off.

A farmer on his way home from market one day suddenly remembered that he had forgotten something, but what he could not recall. As he neared home the conviction increased and three times he stopped his horses and went carefully through his notebook in the vain endeavor to discover what he had missed. In due course he reached home and was met by his daughter who looked at him in surprise and said, "Daughter — Why, father, what have you done with mother?"

When JFK Writes Letters, Congress Checks Wallet

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Kennedy has become one of the most prolific writers of letters to Congress ever to occupy the White House.

In addition to the 19 major policy messages he has sent to Capitol Hill this year, the President has also sent 15 letters to the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate, asking for additional legislation, or money.

House Republicans estimate that the 19 messages call for additional government expenditures of $10 billion by 1970. No such estimate is made for the 15 letters. But the figures cited for each letter add up to another $8 billion over the next eight years.

You have to consider the whole $18 billion kit-and-caboodle as the complete Kennedy program, up to May 1.

The possibility of additional letters being sent to Congress before adjournment must not be ruled out.

The President has already promised to send up recommendations for financing political campaigns. He will have other ideas. For whatever else you think about this president, you have to admit he's prolific, full of (Boston barked) beans and he's always busy doing something.

These mass notes which the President sends to Congress on the average of one a week are something like letters from a young son just starting out in the world to the old folks at home. He wants more money, naturally.

Some of the letters merely ask for loans which will be paid back. Some are one-shot requests for a few odd millions as supplementary appropriations, to carry on the business from now till June 30, end of the fiscal year.

Some are just reorganization matters which will cost little or nothing as housekeeping pin money. But others are for continuing operations which will cost as much or more in later years than they'll cost now, if Congress approves them at all.

Since nobody can remember all these letters except the President, whose memory is prodigious, you may want a list to paste in your hat, your mirror, or over the kitchen sink. There were four letters in February, six in March, five in April.

Feb. 1—A $2 billion loan for International Monetary Fund. Feb. 7—Supplemental appropriation request for $500 million. Feb. 8—Fallout shelter bill, $1.8 billion over the next five years. Feb. 26—Increase in Peace Corps from 2,400 to 6,700 with increase in costs from $40 million to $63 million next year. (This last request has already been approved by Congress.)

March 19—Creation of a Youth Conservation Corps to cost $197 million the first year, $230 million the second, $393 million the third, $482 million the fourth and $400 million a year thereafter. March 5—Change in revolving fund to finance Small Business Administration operations. March 13—$25 million for New York World's Fair pavilion.

March 19 — $25 million for storm relief. March 26 — $600 million for emergency public works program over the next three years to reduce unemployment in distress areas. March 29—Reorganization plan to create an Office of Science and Technology in the White House with $43,000—that's right, thousand—to pay for one director and his assistant.

(But just wait till they start to grow and take in space.) April 3—Supplemental appropriation for $17 million for nine departments. April 4—Proposal for recreation taxes, such as $3 a year for each auto entering a national park to pay for land conservation program recommended in the President's conservation message March 10.

April 10—Emergency unemployment insurance extension through

Your Lack Of Confidence—

—IS MAKING THE PILOT NERVOUS!

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. HAROLD T. HYMAN
Value of Newspaper Lies
In Reading, Not Chewing

Q — I have the habit of chewing newspaper. Not the part that has the print on it, but just the white part. I like the smell of the paper and simply have the desire to put it in my mouth. This may sound odd to you, but when I think about it I don't believe it is any worse than holding a cigarette and inhaling and blowing smoke out of the mouth, or worse than chewing tobacco, or smoking a pipe.

However, I wish I didn't do it, and I'd like to know from you whether you think it might be due to a lack of certain minerals. Do answer but don't start off with "My dear madam." It's so condescending.

A—Without the least condescension, I can only bow to the logic of your position and assure you that chewing newspaper cannot be due to any mineral lack with which I am familiar. But, I cannot refrain from citing the case of the goat who, after devouring the film of a movie made from a novel, declared he "didn't enjoy it as much as the book."

Q—Is it possible for pregnancy to take place after the menopause?

A—I suppose anything is possible, but certainly conception after the "change" must be of rare occurrence, if ever it occurs.

As a matter of fact, ovulation ceases ordinarily about a year before the cessation of periodic bleedings. Hence, despite the occasional appearance of a "change-of-life baby," the vast majority of women become infertile before they actually enter the menopause.

"Thank you for writing that there must be some things besides animal fats and cholesterol that cause heart trouble and that shorten lives. I am the youngest of our family and am 75. The oldest is 84 years old. All of us are in good health in regard to blood pressure. And all are active. Our mother, who is now 103 years old and still in good health, would tell us children to eat lots of fat, because it would keep us warm in the winter."

"So, all our lives we have done the same thing. Our family processed all the meat we ate and made all our own bacon and lard. And, oh how we children loved those crackles after rendering the fat. And, ever since, we wouldn't eat a piece of meat unless it was about one third fat. We never threw away any fat or left any on our plate. So, there must be something else about heart trouble that the medical profession hasn't found yet.—Mrs. J.

a special payroll tax to raise $183 million this year and next. April 17—President asks power to name his own Federal Reserve Board chairman and give all seven members a raise. April 30 — Request that all top grade government administrators, engineers and scientists be given a raise. (The assumption is, of course, that this raise would be justified by the members increased productivity.)
