Crackdown On Violators Starts

Pampa Corporation Court today launched a crackdown on traffic violators and overtime parking offenders who have ignored police citations to appear in court.

Judge James R. Bowers has started proceedings to order persons charged with moving violations and persons who have ignored overtime parking tickets either to appear in court or face warrants for their arrest.

Court attaches today were mailing out some 50 or more letters to persons charged with moving traffic violations which have accumulated in the past several weeks during the time in which temporary judges were on the bench.

City Attorney Gordon said the docket was fairly cleared up on moving traffic violations until a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Faye D. Miller, one of the clerks in the court, today also was busy sorting and preparing notice cards to send to possibly 750 to 1,000 persons who have ignored overtime parking tickets during the last year and a half.

She said approximately 50 of these cards are being mailed daily. At the court's order the clerk is sorting out tickets of the most flagrant violators to be mailed first.

One woman driver in Pampa has 61 parking violations charged against her. These accumulate from the fact that the violator parked more than the established time in a parking meter zone. These violators may clear their tickets immediately after receiving them by depositing a 25-cent fine in receptacles provided for this purpose on the parking meters.

If the ticket is ignored for 24 hours, a $1 fine becomes mandatory under city law.

As an example, the woman with the 61 tickets against her owes the city $61.

There are scores and scores (See CRACKDOWN, Page 3)

193 Traffic Accidents In Year So Far

So far in 1962, Pampa has had 193 traffic accidents in which one person was killed and 61 were injured.

These figures show up in the report on May accidents which Police Chief Jim Conner released today before sending it on to the National Safety Council.

The 193 accidents include accidents only where police were notified and called to the scene. In the same period last year there were 198 traffic accidents in Pampa with 43 persons injured and no deaths.

In May of this year 46 accidents were reported with 12 injuries. In May of 1961 there were 38 accidents and 10 persons injured.

Causes of the accidents included running stop signs, running red lights, failure to yield right-of-way, switching lanes, drunken drivers, and 10 accidents listed under the general heading of "improper driving."

The report shows that 49 men and 29 women drivers were involved in the 46 accidents recorded in May.

Twenty drivers under 15 years of age were involved in accidents. Twenty-six of the drivers were between 20 and 24 years of age, and 25 of them were between 25 and 64 years of age.

Stock Market In New 1962 Low And Still Falling

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market took another header Thursday, slipping to a new 1962 low.

The Dow-Jones industrial averages fell to their lowest point since 1958.

The decline of $5.3 billion in paper values came when many analysts felt the market might be leveling off or perhaps even due for a rise.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange rose to 4,560,000 shares, up 1,344,088 shares from Wednesday. But 13 of the 15 most active stocks showed losses.

The two which gained made only fractional gains.

The Dow-Jones industrials closed at 550.45, off 12.59 points. It was the lowest closing level since its post-recession standing of Nov. 26, 1958.

No new 1962 highs were recorded and 189 issues fell to new lows. In all, 590 issues were lower and only 133 showed gains.

Among the losers were the glamor stocks. IBM was off $12.25, Polaroid fell $9.25, Xerox $5.75 and American Telephone and Telegraph $2, to $101 per share.

Many traders were disappointed that Wednesday's short interest figures, released after the market closed, did not kick off an advance in prices Thursday.

The May 15-June 15 short interest figures showed the biggest monthly increase since the New York exchange started keeping such records in 1931.

Short interest occurs when traders sell borrowed stock in the expectation of buying it back at a lower price and showing a profit.

There was little in the day's news dispatches to cheer about on Wall Street. Several industries were beset or threatened with strikes, although this does not always reflect in stock prices.

PITY POOR DOGS

LANCASTER, Pa. (UPI) — Lawns, hedges and trees on private property are out of bounds to dogs here even if they are on leashes because of complaints of canine bad manners.

The city council acting at the request of Warden Winfield Noden changed an ordinance banning even leashed dogs from the greenery unless they have a property owner's consent.

Another Airplane Is Down And 112 Are Feared Dead

Jetliner Crashes In French West Indies

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) — An Air France Boeing 707 jetliner with 112 persons aboard crashed and burned in a tropic forest on Guadeloupe in the French West Indies early today as the pilot attempted to land at Le Raizet airport in a rainstorm.

A local pilot, first to reach the scene of the crash, reported that he saw no survivors in the widely scattered, smoking wreckage 2 1/2 miles inland from the north coast of Basse-Terre island, one of two islands making up the Guadeloupe group. Air France reported 102 passengers and 10 crew members aboard.

It was the second Boeing 707 crash in 19 days. Another Air France 707 crashed at Orly Airport near Paris on June 3, killing 130 persons.

Guadeloupe is 300 miles southeast of Puerto Rico and 600 miles northeast of the Venezuelan coast. The plane, Flight 117 named Chateau de Chantilly, was en route from Paris to Santiago, Chile, when it crashed while attempting to make a scheduled stop.

In Heavy Rain
Air France said the pilot, Capt. Andre Lesieur, reported a low cloud ceiling and heavy rain as the plane approached the airport near Point-a-Pitre on the flat northern coast of Guadeloupe, well away from the rugged mountain peaks. He was reported to have tried to bring the plane in visually rather than relying on radio instrument guidance.

Lesieur was one of Air France's most experienced commanders. He frequently served as pilot for President Charles de Gaulle.

The crash occurred 19 days after an Air France 707 crashed on takeoff in Paris, killing 130 persons including many prominent Atlanta residents, and exactly a month after a Continental Airlines 707 crashed near Centerville, Iowa with a loss of 45 lives. Two other 707 crashes in the last 16 months took 167 lives.

The plane left Paris' Orly Airport Thursday at 4:18 p.m. EST, and made scheduled stops at Lisbon and at Santa Maria in the Azores.

It was cleared for a final approach to Guadeloupe's airport on the island's north coast when the crash occurred, according to Air France.

The U.S. Coast Guard said the pilot was flying visually when the plane smashed into the lush tropic forest 2 1/2 miles from the beach at Eshayes.

The plane burned and thick smoke clouds were reported billowing from the wreckage. A local pilot said parts of the wrecked plane were scattered over a wide area.

Ready to Land
The crash occurred around 12:25 a.m. EST, the scheduled arrival time at Le Raizet airport at Pointe-a-Pitre. The wreckage was first sighted about 3 a.m.

The plane had been scheduled for stops at Caracas, Venezuela; Bogota, Colombia; Lima, Peru; and Santiago, Chile, after leaving Guadeloupe.

French Pulling Foreign Legion From Algeria Before Referendum

ALGIERS (UPI) — France was reported today to be pulling the 17,000 man Foreign Legion out of Algeria, removing almost the last hope of European extremists that they could ever get organized military support for their cause.

Highly reliable sources said the sand-brown battle flags of the famed Legionnaires are coming down and virtually all its officers and men will have left the territory before the independence referendum July 1.

The sources said Legionnaires were dismantling the museum of battle relics at Sidi-Bel-Abbes, its headquarters since 1884, for shipment to new Legion headquarters near Marseilles, France.

Sidi-Bel-Abbes is just 46 miles south of the western port city of Oran, chief stronghold of Secret

Army Organization (OAS) diehards who refuse to accept truce terms worked out by OAS leaders and Algerian Nationalists in Algiers.

Some of the leaders and members of the OAS, which was formed in a vain attempt to keep Algeria French through terror, are Legion deserters.

Those in Oran presumably hoped they would get help from the Legionnaires at Sidi-Bel-Abbes if they resorted to their threat to make a final stand from "fortified" positions.

Last Monday, Col. Roger Vaillant, commander of Sidi-Bel-Abbes, warned the Europeans that the legion never would support the OAS. For that he was called a "traitor" by the 25,000 Europeans who live in the town that has grown up around the fort.

Nevertheless, the removal of the Legionnaires seemed to reflect official anxiety that some more members of the Legion might go over to the OAS.

The Oran leaders of the OAS said Thursday night they would announce sometime today whether they would resume their scorched earth campaign.

2 'Cheerleaders' Slain

MORRIS PLAINS, N.J. (UPI) — An 18-year-old ex-Marine underwent questioning today in the bludgeoning slaying of two high school cheerleaders whose bodies were found in an isolated lovers' lane.

The youth, whom police said was an acquaintance of the dead girls, was being questioned at the state police barracks in nearby Morristown where 50 other teenagers were interrogated Thursday night and early today.

Morris County prosecutor Frank Scerbo said no charges had been filed against the youth, whom he identified as an ex-Marine.

The bodies of the girls, Noreen Buckley, 17, and Margaret Ann Kennedy, 15, were found fully-clothed Thursday in a densely wooded section of this New York City suburb on a road leading to a deserted estate.

So savagely had the pretty teen-agers been beaten that one of three boys who discovered the bodies reported a boy had been killed.

Congressmen Facing Legislative Logjam; Dozen Measures Snagged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress today faced one of its worst mid-summer logjams in recent years. At least a dozen key measures with a June 30 deadline were snagged in the legislative pipeline.

While Congress fiddled, the huge complex of federal government burned at both ends.

On the spending end, federal agencies were running out of money to pay their bills because of a feud between the House and Senate Appropriations Committees that has blocked action on all money bills.

On the revenue end, the Senate still had to pass a bill cutting travel taxes, but extending $4 billion in federal excise and corporate income taxes before they automatically expire at midnight June 30.

Other congressional news:

Cooper — Senate judiciary subcommittee resumes hearings today on the controversial nomination of Irving Ben Cooper to the federal district court in New York City's southern district. Cooper will testify in answer to representatives of the American Bar Association and the bar association of New York City who opposed Cooper on grounds that his long service in a city court demonstrated that he lacked judicial temperament.

Eisenhower — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will meet with Republican leaders today in a series of political conferences. Tonight he will address a GOP fund raising dinner where he is expected to deliver a "hard hitting attack on new frontier domestic policy." The $100-a-plate dinner will be attended by some 3,000 Republican faithful. Seventy-five per cent of the net proceeds will go toward financing House Republican races this fall while the remaining 25 per cent will be used to aid Senate candidates.

Hoiles Turns Down White House Lunch

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI) — Harry Hoiles, publisher of the Colorado Springs Gazette Telegraph, sister paper of The Pampa (Tex.) News, turned down an invitation to attend a luncheon at the White House this noon with President John F. Kennedy.

Hoiles said today he thought a visit to the White House luncheon would serve only to enhance the President's political prestige. Hoiles said the President already "has enough power, and I don't want to help him get more."

President Kennedy had wired the invitation to Hoiles saying: "It would be most helpful to me to have an exchange of views with you on state, regional and national problems. Therefore, I would be most pleased to have you as my luncheon guest on Friday at the White House."

Hoiles' answer to the invitation was sent to Pierre Salinger, press secretary. The RSVP message said: "President Kennedy would completely disregard my views. I would not want to lend the sanction of my presence to the result of a luncheon such as he proposes. Therefore, I must respectfully decline the invitation."

Kennedy's Get-Tough Farm Bill Is Upset In House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration strategists, stunned by a major legislative defeat, today surveyed the wreckage of President Kennedy's get-tough farm bill and pondered what to do next.

The House dealt the President a severe blow Thursday night by rejecting his farm bill on a roll-call vote of 215 to 205.

It left the administration faced with the problem of whether to try to concoct a bill less objectionable to farmers or give up any attempt to enact farm legislation this year.

The Texas delegation in the House voted 12 to 10 against recommitting the controversial Kennedy farm bill to the Agricultural Committee.

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa, representing the 18th Congressional District, voted for the get-tough Kennedy farm bill which would have imposed tight production controls on practically all grain growers beginning in 1963.

The Texas delegation in the House voted as follows on the motion for recommitment of the bill as follows:

Against: Rogers, Gonzales, Patman, Brooks, Roberts, Teague, Thomas, Thompson, Thornberry, Poage, Wright, and Purcell.

For the motion: Beckworth, Alger, Dowdy, Young, Kilgore, Rutherford, Burleson, Mahon, Fisher and Casey.

Kennedy seemed on the verge of victory just before he lost his fight to impose tight production controls on almost all grain growers, starting next year.

When the chips were down, the White House could not hold enough Democrats in line. Forty-eight Democrats defected and voted with Republicans to scuttle the bill. Only one Republican — Rep. Phil Weaver of Nebraska

The Working Man's Friend, Surplus City, 483 S. Cuyler. (Adv.)

—supported Kennedy.

GOP Beats Responsibility
A White House statement issued by Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the GOP would have to bear responsibility for "the continuing chaos" in farm surpluses. It said the defeat would cost U.S. taxpayers an additional $1 billion next year.

But the American Farm Bureau, leading opponent of Kennedy's bill, hailed the vote as a "victory for farmers, consumers and taxpayers." It said "the only losers were the political empire builders in Washington."

The sweeping production controls on grain were Kennedy's answer to mounting farm surpluses in which the government now has $7 billion invested.

Had Won Approval
The new controls had won Senate approval four weeks ago. The legislation would have added corn, barley and sorghums to the list of crops on which growers by secret ballot must accept planting curbs or suffer reductions in support prices. This would have broadened the scope of farm controls so that they would cover crops which accounted for slightly more than one half of last year's total harvested acreage.

Ag Department's 'Gestapo-Like' Tactics Blasted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, accused the agriculture Department today of "a Gestapo technique" in reviewing correspondence of two GOP senators investigating the Billie Sol Estes case.

Dirksen said he was "astounded" this kind of pressure should come out of the woodwork of the Agriculture Department.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman has denied that his department was trying to "intimidate" the two senators.

Sens. Karl Mundt, S.D., and Carl Curtis, Neb., disclosed Thursday that the department had searched his files of correspondence with the senators since 1953. They said the action was "unusual and reprehensible" and designed to find material that might be embarrassing to them.

Rep. Charles Halleck, R-Ind., leader of the GOP in the House, said the incident would "shock the conscience of the people in this country who believe in fair play."

Dirksen and Halleck made their remarks about the Estes incident at their weekly Republican leadership news conference.

JFK's Face Is On Angel In Vatican

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A visit to the home of a foreign service officer 23 years ago put President Kennedy's likeness on the head of an angel in the Vatican, the Washington Post and the Times Herald reported today.

The Post said Kennedy was the model in 1939 for the face of a wooden angel carved by Irene Wiley, the wife of foreign service officer John Wiley.

The newspaper said the story is described in Mrs. Wiley's autobiography, "Around the World in 20 Years," to be published in August.

Mrs. Wiley said the President's likeness appears in one panel of an altar she carved and gave to the Vatican. The angel is pictured leaning over the shoulder of St. Therese of Lisieux.

She said Kennedy spent a week with the Wileys during a tour of Europe in 1939.

At the time, Mrs. Wiley said she needed a model for an angel in her twelve-panel altar. Kennedy with his "youthful serenity of expression was literally God-sent," Mrs. Wiley told the Post.

Dear Abby.... Put Bite On Dentist For New Set Of Teeth

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever kissed a man without teeth? Well, I wouldn't wish it on my worst enemy. My husband takes his dentures out every chance he gets and he won't try to get used to them. When I put up a fuss he puts his teeth in to kiss me, but most of the time he doesn't even know where they are. He has had his false teeth for over two years and he hasn't given them a chance. What can I do?

END OF ROPE

DEAR END: Your husband doesn't give his dentures a chance because they don't fit him. It's not his fault. Tell him to trot back to the dentist who made them and put the bite on him for an adjustment or a new set.

DEAR ABBY: When should a girl start her hope chest?

MARGIE

DEAR MARGE: As soon as she has "hope."

DEAR ABBY: There is a middle-aged woman who works at the mill where I work. She is what every man wants. What she does is her own business, but now she has a young boy so dizzy about her I am afraid one of these days he will put his hand in one of the machines. Maybe I feel like I do because I have a boy just his age. He is in Korea. Anyway, this trampy woman goes everywhere with this kid and keeps him out until all hours, drinking and twisting. She is no good. Should someone talk to his parents? Or would it be better to talk to the boy? He is just a green kid who doesn't know what life is all about.

Prevent Loneliness

By Having Hobby

If you don't want to feel lonely and useless and bored at 60, 70, or 80 — you had better spend the years between 40 and 50 developing interests and hobbies and talents that you can fall back on when your major work in life is finished.

That is the opinion of the head of a state hospital for the mentally ill who feels that if people would begin early to prepare themselves for life after retirement the hospital wards and nursing homes for the aged mentally ill would be less crowded.

For women, preparing themselves mentally for old age while they are still young and active should be easy. The majority of women in their forties have some free time on their hands — or could have.

But too few women make use of middle age leisure to develop the interests and talents that they can fall back on in old age.

Some are content to live through their husbands and their children — instead of striking out to develop interests of their own.

Some fill their days with organized activities, rushing from meeting to meeting, unaware that the day will come when younger members will take over their organizations and there will no longer be much of a place for them.

Some middle-aged women simply putter away the years when they could be learning new skills — spending endless hours in beauty salons, in shopping expeditions, at the bridge table, or keeping up bigger houses than they need.

Perhaps, all of these women think that there will be plenty of time for more creative activities when they're old.

But those who reach old age without hobbies or creative interests aren't likely to find any. It takes too much energy, too much mental effort, too much push to develop interests at 70 or 80. But it is no trouble at all for a 70-year-old to go happily along pursuing interests and skills she developed in her 40s or 50s.

Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club Has Program On Health At June Meet

Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Roy Tinsley with roll call answered by "a danger signal of cancer."

During the business meeting, plans were discussed for having a group of 4H girls to the second meeting in July.

Mrs. Odie Skinner discussed "the care of children's teeth" as a portion of the program. She stressed the importance of six-year molars, which should be examined and filled, if cavity appears. She also stated that mothers should eat a balanced diet as the basic part of the teeth are formed before the child is born. "It is very important that children have well-balanced meals. Candy and gum are very harmful to the teeth. Children should be given fresh fruit, raw vegetables, nuts and cheese for snacks."

In continuing the discussion on children's teeth, Mrs. W. G. Kinzer stated "children should be taught to brush their teeth three times a day before school age with tooth paste or powder. The teeth are important for health and also for appearance. The loss of one will cause an irregular line of premature teeth. The technical names for decay is caries."

Mrs. John McKnerney gave a talk on "Emergency Action To Save Lives." "In bleeding," she said, "make a pad of several thicknesses and hold on wound. You might also bind the place with bandage. For broken bones, do not move patient as bone might be a compound fracture and come through the flesh."

"In suffocation, give patient plenty of air; if from gas fumes, take patient outside. It is always best to watch for shock," Mrs. McKnerney continued. "The patient will become pale and large drops of perspiration will appear. Cover patient to keep warm but not too hot. Always call a doctor and wait for his arrival in all emergencies."

Members attending were Mes. Boyd Brown, J. C. Payne, Odie Skinner, M. S. Jenkins, John McKnerney, W. G. Kinzer, N. L. Welton, Calvin B. Rogers, Roy Tinsley and Harry Havenhill, a guest.

JFK Policy On Islands Is Due

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy appeared today to be facing the necessity soon to define more clearly his policy toward the Chinese Nationalist islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

That was the view in diplomatic quarters following the White House statement of "concern" over a large-scale buildup of Chinese Communist military forces along a 150-mile strip of the Fukien Province coastline opposite Quemoy and Matsu.

The two islands are within five miles of Red territory. The Nationalist stronghold of Generalissimo Kai-shek is more than 100 miles farther east on Formosa.

Administration officials reported at least three new Chinese Communist divisions have moved into the coastal area. They speculated that the Peking regime might be preparing for an assault on Quemoy and Matsu.

Strategically Worthless
Kennedy said during the 1960 presidential campaign that such an assault would face the new administration with a "key decision." He described Quemoy and Matsu as "indefensible" and strategically worthless and said he intended to see that "not a single American dies on those islands."

At the same time, however, he adopted President Eisenhower's position that he would favor fighting for the islands if a Communist attack on them was part of an assault on Formosa and the Pescadores, which the United States is committed to defend.

The United States was reported to have been seeking a renewal of Chiang Kai-shek's earlier commitment that he would not attempt to attack the Red mainland without the approval of the United States.

First Considered Defensive
Administration officials at first assessed the new Red buildup as a defensive maneuver stemming from fears that Chiang would attempt an invasion at this time of near famine and unrest on the mainland.

However, when more information came in on the disposition of the forces and it was learned that the Reds also had sent about 300 planes into Fukien, Washington began to consider the possibility that the buildup was for offensive rather than defensive purposes.

It was virtually certain that Kennedy at his next news conference—possibly next week—would be asked for clarification of his policy on Quemoy and Matsu.

The administration, which went to some length to publicize the Communist buildup, thus finds itself in the position of having made it certain the President will have to deal with the issue.

Break-In And Burglaries Investigated

Police today were investigating several reports of breaking and entering and burglary.

Mrs. Paul West, 106 S. Purviance, told police today that while she was away from her home about 10:10 p.m. last night someone entered the house through a bedroom window and turned on the television and all the lights. She said nothing was missing. Police said the West residence garage was broken into Wednesday night and an assortment of tools were taken.

Police also received a report from Mary Alice Combes, 1230 E. Frederic, that sometime last night while she was attending a movie, someone stole the rear license plate from her automobile. She said she noticed the plate was gone when she returned home. The license number is AV7707.

An employe at Dick's Chevron Service Station, 901 N. Hobart, reported to police today that someone after 10 p.m. last night someone broke the side window of the station and prowled through a desk and stole $20 from a cigarette machine, six packs of cokes and left $4 worth of pennies on the floor.

Burglars looted 50 cents for a coke machine and stole 50 cents in pennies from a desk at Betty's Beauty Shop, 1405 N. Hobart St., sometime last night.

Senator Case Dies Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Francis Case, R-S.D., considered a "legislator's legislator" during a quarter of a century in Congress, died early today in Bethesda Naval Hospital.

He was taken to the hospital by ambulance from his Senate office Thursday night after suffering what was described as a flareup of a minor heart involvement discovered earlier this year.

Shocked aides of Case said they did not know immediately the cause of death. Hospital physicians referred all queries to a senator's office. It had been reported he might be discharged today from the hospital.

Case, 65, was the ranking Republican member of the Senate Public Works Committee and also served on the Armed Services Committee. Less than 24 hours before his death, he participated in Senate debate on stockpile legislation.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois called Case "really one of the most diligent diggers" to serve in Congress and said his death "makes South Dakota and his country the loser."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., paid tribute to Case's bent for fine-tooth-combing legislation for minor flaws, a habit which won him the accolade of "legislator's legislator."

"We relied heavily on him to scrutinize bills for loopholes and errors," Aiken said. "He was an example to the rest of us in knowing what he was voting on."

Case also was a stickler for shunning improper influence. In a 1956 Senate speech, he said he was turning down a $2,500 campaign contribution he said had been made to his re-election campaign committee by a Texas oilman.

The speech touched off a Senate investigation of improper lobbying and was held at least partly responsible for President Dwight D. Eisenhower's veto of a bill to relax regulations covering certain gas producers.

Quarter-Million US Jobholders Idle In Strikes

By United Press International
Two strike threats were averted and a major walkout settled, but nearly a quarter of a million American jobholders remained idle today because of labor disputes.

Some 160,000 others faced possible idleness because of strike threats in the aircraft, construction and shipping industries.

Trans World Airlines Thursday came to terms with the Flight Engineers Union, ending the threat of a walkout by 615 men. However, the union immediately announced it may call strikes against Pan American and Eastern Air Lines.

West Coast shipping firms reached agreement with Seamen's, Firemen's, Cooks and Stewards Union Thursday night, ending the threat of possible resumption of a walkout of 6,700 men. Their previous strike dealt a severe blow to Hawaii's economy between March 16 and April 11, when the government obtained a Taft-Hartley injunction ordering a work resumption during an 80-day cooling off period. The injunction would have expired June 30.

Will Try Again
Government mediators were to try again today to settle a work quarrel involving 25 United Auto Workers which has brought shutdown of Ford Motor Co. plants employing 75,000 persons. Company officials said if the dispute remains unsettled through the weekend another 45,000 persons may be laid off.

Some 15,000 New York Telephone Co. repairmen and installers returned to work Thursday following a one-day walkout which began Wednesday when union officials were fired for leading a previous work stoppage.

U. S. Labor Department statistics indicated that the number of Americans on strike this month will be well above last June's postwar low of 211,000 but far short of the 990,000 who walked off their jobs in June of 1952.

The status of strikes and walkouts: Autos — No progress was reported in negotiations to end the strike over hourly quotas for quarter panel production on Ford Motor Co. Comet cars, which began June 6 when 3,200 employes left their jobs at a Cleveland, Ohio, plant and subsequently has idled 75,000.

Construction — Negotiations continued in the seven-week strike of construction workers which has left 140,000 persons unemployed in 46 Northern California counties. In Southern California 55,000 carpenters were threatened with loss of jobs in a labor dispute with 2,000 builders. Some 150 structural iron workers Thursday began a strike at missile base sites near Lewiston, Mont. A strike of iron workers in Washington, Oregon and Northern Idaho idled 2,500 men. The possibility remained of a hitch in still unratified contract terms involving 35,000 Arizona construction workers. A strike of iron workers halted construction of the Kellogg Co. technical center at Battle Creek, Mich. Northern Nevada carpenters continued their three week strike.

Newspapers — There were no reports of progress toward settling the strikes which have halted publication of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune since April 12 and the Milwaukee Sentinel since May 27.

Airlines — Federal mediators scheduled day-long meetings in an effort to avert an Air Line Pilots Association strike against Ozark Air Lines which was scheduled to begin at midnight. Flight engineers for Pan American and Eastern Air Lines refused to accept the same terms which brought settlement of their dispute with Trans World Airlines Thursday.

Mines — Potash mines at Carlsbad, N.M., remained shutdown by a strike of 2,500 men. The Morton Salt Co. mine at Grand Saline, Tex., was closed by a strike of 230 workers.

Shipping — Marine engineers threatened today to tie up 29 ships of American export lines at East Coast ports.

Aircraft — International Association of Machinists negotiators purses, still containing money, lay nearby. Authorities said they apparently had not been sexually assaulted.

The youth being questioned was picked up Thursday night at an amusement area in nearby Lake Hopatcong. Police said he lived near where the bodies were found and was believed to be the last person to have seen the girls alive.

Scerbo said the youth admitted seeing the girls at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Morristown at the Colonial Sweet Shop, a favorite meeting place for teen-agers.

"We have no definite linkage connecting any perpetrator to the crime," the prosecutor said. "There are many things he does admit, many things he does not admit."

Regarded As Quiet
The girls, both students at the Bayley-Ellard Regional Catholic High School in Madison Township, N.J., were regarded by police and friends as soft-spoken and quiet; "not the type who would let themselves be picked up by a stranger," as a neighbor put it.

Morris Plains Police Chief George Burns said the two girls ate supper at their own homes Wednesday night, then headed for Morristown to do some shopping.

Others — Pharmacists struck at Las Vegas, Nev., drug stores Thursday, asking a boost of $1.75 an hour over their $3.25 an hour pay. Six hundred warehousemen walked off their jobs at Macy's Department Store facilities at Long Island City and Queens, N.Y. Thursday after rejecting a contract negotiated by Teamsters Union leaders. Two New York Teamster locals rejected contract terms offered in an effort to end a five-week strike against United Parcel Service. The Koppers Co. plant at Kobuta, Pa., remained shut down by a strike of 650 chemical workers.

Man Apparently Killed In Berlin Escape Effort

BERLIN (UPI) — A Communist East German border guard today shot and apparently killed a man trying to flee to the American sector of Berlin.

West Berlin police reported that the refugee fell under a burst of machine pistol fire about 20 yards from a bridge spanning a border canal.

The police said the man showed no sign of life after being hit. He lay motionless for 15 minutes, and then was carried away into the Eastern sector by the Communists.

The shooting was the latest of a recent rash of Communist attacks on East Germans trying to pierce the Communist-built barrier dividing Berlin. The shootings have brought protests from the Western powers and counter claims by the Reds that the continued flights to the West are spurred by the West German government.

Up to today, 29 persons have been killed attempting to cross the city border since the Communists erected their wall last Aug. 13.

Western police disclosed that another shooting occurred Thursday on a highway to the West through East Germany. They said Communist police fired at a West German automobile and arrested its two occupants, who apparently were not hurt. The reason for the shooting was not known.

A U.S. Army convoy bound for Berlin from West Germany moved along the 110-mile highway from Helmstedt. An Army spokesman said about 100 men in 27 jeeps and trucks cleared the Soviet checkpoint at Marienborn, the Western end of the highway, in one hour without incident.

3 Missing Americans Are Found

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House said today it has received word three Americans who were missing for more than six weeks in the Himalayas have been found safe though in weak condition.

The missing men included the grandson of the late President Woodrow Wilson.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the White House and State Department had received a cable from Katmandu, Nepal, that Prof. Woodrow Wilson Sayre, 42, and his mountain climbing party were safe in the village of Khum Jung in Nepal.

Salinger said the village is in the area of Namche Bazar and that they had requested evacuation by helicopter which the U.S. embassy in Katmandu was trying to arrange.

Sayre, a professor at Tufts University, and his party have been missing since May 31.

Woman Charged
Charges of assault and battery and disturbing the peace were filed in corporation court today against a Pampa woman after she was arrested last night by city police in a downtown cafe.

Police said the woman, Maggie McCain, was charged after she threw two water glasses at two other women in the cafe.

of tickets with more than ten violations. Others run as high as 30 and 40.

Yesterday, the court clerk said, a check for $29 was received from a violator who had 29 tickets that had been unpaid for a long time.

The moving traffic violations, according to Mrs. Mildred Cook, one of the Corporation Court clerks, said the approximately 50 letters that were to go into the mails today on the moving traffic violations covered violations during May and the first two weeks of June before Judge Bowers was named to the court post.

The moving traffic violation letters cover all types of charges including following too closely, no safety sticker, failure to yield right-of-way, speeding, running red light, leaving scene of accident, loud and excessive noise, defective muffler and other miscellaneous charges.

The letters sent to the alleged offenders order them to appear in court and plead guilty and pay a fine or plead not guilty and post a bond for appearance on Wednesday morning following the date of receipt of the letter. They also have the choice of mailing in a check for the fixed fine which is set up in each letter.

The letter then states: "Further failure to comply with this request can only result in the local requirement that a warrant be issued for your appearance."

In letters to persons outside of Pampa, the alleged offenders are told that "you are accountable for violation and your local officers will assist us in serving a warrant for your arrest."

The letters are signed by James R. Bowers, the Corporation Court Judge.

BANDITS KILL 19
MANIZALES, Colombia (UPI) — Bandits killed 19 persons and wounded 3 in a raid Tuesday on the farm village of Quimbaya in southwestern Caldas Province, it was announced today.

Victims of the shooting included three children and a 90-year-old man.

Caldas Gov. Cesar Gomez Estrada said troops and police are believed to have tracked down the six gunmen who attacked the village, but there was no immediate report of arrests.

Skeleton To Be Sent To Austin

LITTLEFIELD, Tex. (UPI) — Lamb County officials prepared today to ship to Austin parts of a human skeleton plowed up on a farm near here.

Lamb County deputy sheriff V. L. Smith said he believes the skeleton was that of a large Plains Indian male, who was about 50 years old upon death many years ago.

The bones were turned up during plowing on the W. Q. Hardin farm, 11 miles southeast of Muleshoe.

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
Christian laymen have progressed if that is the right word — from apathy to confusion about their role in the church.

In recent years, they have been told time and again, by the highest ecclesiastical authorities, that they are supposed to be leaders rather than lackeys. They have been exhorted to bestir themselves and become full working partners of the clergy in the advancement of Christ's kingdom.

But when they try to respond to these appeals, they find that many clergymen are unwilling to move over and make room for them. Frustrated in their attempts to play an important role in the church, some laymen have concluded that what the clergy actually want is more active lackeys, not real lay leaders.

Frustration breeds resentment. A noted Roman Catholic scholar, Msgr. John Tracy Ellis, warned recently that the "virus of anticlericalism" is beginning to appear in America. He said it is likely to spread unless the clergy can be "persuaded that present conditions call for relaxing some of the power and authority that they have been accustomed to exercise."

The Protestant magazine Christian Century reported last week that "Protestantism also shows tendencies" toward anti-clericalism. It said "the patience of the Protestant laity is being strained" by "clerical manipulation" of the reins of power, which gives laymen the illusion but not the reality of leadership in church affairs.

The Christian Century suggested that much of the current criticism of the National Council of Churches comes from embittered laymen who make the council "the scapegoat for a generalized bias" against the clergy.

Without detracting from the gravity of these warnings, it is only fair to point out that the strain in lay-clerical relations cannot be blamed entirely on the clergy. There is another side to the story.

Women In Church

By MARY FOWLER
Miss Layona Glenn, 96-year-old retired Methodist missionary from Conyers, Georgia, was honored at the recent assembly of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in Atlantic City, N.J. She was presented a lei by Mrs. J. Fount Tillman, the organization's president. She was the oldest of the 9,200 women attending. At 96, she is a lecturer, teacher and writer of a weekly column in a Georgia newspaper. Her column is entitled "Layona Glenn Says." Miss Glenn was decorated by the Brazilian government in 1959 with "The National Order of the Southern Cross" as tribute for her half century of missionary work in education, religion, and social service in Brazil. While in Brazil she helped establish the American college in Petropolis, and was instrumental in merging two schools into what is now known as Bennett College in Rio de Janeiro. She also established an orphanage, the Ana Gonzaga Institute, in Brazil.

Mrs. Jane Dick, of Chicago, as spokesman for the United States in the session of the United Nations Social Commission, has sought top priority for the global problem of deterioration in housing facilities. She recently introduced a resolution designed to bring about mobilization of all possible resources of the United Nations and its affiliated agencies, through the creation of a unit similar to that recently established to accelerate progress in industrialization of the less developed countries. Reports by the Social Commission have for years stressed the dangers inherent in the "shanty-towns" of all developed countries which have crowded the fringes of great cities even in Asia, Africa and Latin America in the post-war period. Major factors involved have been war damage, the population explosion, and the increasing mechanization of agriculture, stimulating the exodus to urban communities in search of employment. Far more and far cheaper housing units must be built in faster time, Mrs. Dick commented, even to keep abreast of the "frightening" problem now plaguing governments everywhere.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

REV. EDWARD J. CASHMAN, C.M.
ST. VINCENT de PAUL CHURCH

Who Is This Holy Spirit?

On Pentecost Sunday the apostles were changed suddenly from bewildered and fearful men to heroes of fiery zeal. The Holy Spirit had come upon them to affect this transformation.

Who is the Holy Spirit? In order to understand Him, we must probe more deeply into the Godhead in Whom the Holy Spirit resides. The nature of the Blessed Trinity is a mystery of course. Puny human minds cannot hope to sound the infinite depths of God. Still, there is much about the Blessed Trinity that we can know and must know if we are to see the Holy Spirit in true perspective. What do we know about the triune God?

God is infinitely perfect. Consequently, God's knowledge. The image of Himself which God has in His divine mind is an absolutely perfect image, an exact replica of Himself. Since it belongs to the very nature of God to exist, God's idea of Himself must have an existence of its own. It must be a living image, otherwise it would not reflect God perfectly. It is a living thought of Himself which God possesses, and this living image is He Whom we call the Son.

Between the two — the Father (God knowing Himself) and the Son (God's knowledge of Himself) — there flows a mutual love. It is a love of infinite intensity, and infinitely perfect love and therefore living love.

This perfect, living love is the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is love. He is God's love — a living, conscious and eternal love.

55TH YEAR FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1962

Final Two Rounds Slated In Tourney

Golfers will tee off in the second round of the annual city golf tournament at the Pampa country club course Saturday starting at 12:30.

Sunday will wind up the tourney. There will be 18 holes of golf each day with the championship to be decided in Sunday afternoon's play.

Last Sunday, seven flights completed play in the first 18 holes of golf. The tournament consists of 54 holes of medal play in all. Leaders of the flights thus far include Buster Carter, championship flight, 68; Haskell McGuire, first flight, 71; Russell West and Pete Blanda, second flight (tie), 75; W. T. Fain and Bill Arthur, third flight (tie), 77; John Adams, fourth flight, 77; Stu Youngblood, fifth flight, 82; H. E. Joyce and Allen Wise, sixth flight, (tie), 89; and Mike Choate, seventh flight, 87.

Trophies will be awarded to the top three in each flight on Sunday. Max Hickey is the defending champion from last year. Play both Saturday and Sunday will get underway at 12:30. A good turnout is expected for the final two rounds of golf.

Hoover In West League Victory

Hoover Oil eased past Rotary, 3-2 in a Western little League game at the Optimist park.

Don Whitney was the winning pitcher, striking out 13 and walking 7. Thornburg was the losing pitcher, striking out 7 and walking 19.

John Brady lead the winners with the timber with a double. In a pair of Eastern league contests, Duncan eased past Dixie Parts, 1-0 and Cabot downed Celanese, 5-2.

Steve Summers was the winning pitcher for Duncan, striking out 13 and walking 3. Billy Davis was the losing pitcher, striking out 4 along the way.

Duncan picked up but two hits while Dixie Parts could only manage one hit.

Bobby Chase was the winning pitcher for Cabot, allowing two hits, striking out eight and walking none. Jim Cornutt was the losing pitcher, giving up four hits, striking out nine and walking six. Stephens whacked out a triple in the third inning to lead with the timber.

Sports Briefs

WEST LOSER PLAYER
BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Center Bill Van Buren of Iowa has been lost to the West squad for the All-America football game here June 29. Van Buren suffered a knee injury during Thursday's workout and will be replaced by Mickey Tingelhoff of Nebraska.

WINNIPEG SIGNS FARRELL
WINNIPEG, Man. (UPI)—The Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League have signed end Farrell Funston, a native of Los Angeles, for his fourth season with the Grey Cup champions.

GIANTS SIGN COACH
NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Giants have signed Ken Strong, one of their former stars, as kicking coach to help the Eastern Division champions find a replacement for the retired Pat Summerall. Strong, 57, was a top halfback during the 1930's and came back as a placekicker from 1944-47.

OUT FOR REVENGE
LONDON (UPI)—Chuck McKinley, rubber-legged Davis Cupper from St. Louis, Mo., was bidding for revenge when he met Australia's Rod Laver today in the semi-finals of the London grass courts tennis championships.

Laver was a slight favorite on the strength of his victory over McKinley in their Wimbledon title match last year.

Shawnee State Forest, largest forested area in Ohio, covers approximately 33,419 acres.

AAU Cinder Meet Begins

WALNUT, Calif. (UPI)—The National AAU, a truce declared with NCAA coaches for at least a couple of days, opens its 74th annual track and field meet today with every major U.S. star competing.

The prizes for the athletes included the medals won here, a chance to compete in the Polish meet (at Chicago June 30-July 1), and the Russian meet (at Stanford July 21-22), as well as several trips abroad. Competition was to get underway with several trials at 10 this morning on the Mt. San Antonio College crushed lava rock track, described by many as one of the fastest in the world. The site is about 35 miles southeast of Los Angeles.

"We have the all-time best field for this meet," says Hilmer. Lodge, Mt. San Antonio coach and the meet director. "I expect there may be at least eight, possibly a dozen, world records broken."

Among the marks he mentioned in jeopardy is the 100-yard dash, where Bob Hayes, Florida A & M, Frank Budd, Villanova, and Harry Jerome, Canadian from Oregon, will be tangling. Budd is holder of the official world mark at 9.2 seconds but Hayes has been timed in that this year and Jerome will run within inches of the others, if he doesn't beat them.

The other big glamour event is the mile, where officials will get along without the presence of Dyrrol Burleson, the American record holder, who will compete at three miles.

But the mile will attract such sub four-minute or better men as Jim Beatty, Jim Grelle and Terry Weisiger — the latter a Marine.

ODOM LEADS
HOUSTON (UPI)—Alvin Odom of Beaumont, Tex., soared to a three-over par 73 Thursday in the third round of the annual Left-handed Golfers Association Championship Tournament but maintained his five stroke lead over the field.

Odom actually lengthened his lead when second-running Fred Blackmar shot a 74. Odom leads Blackmar 208 to 213 and the rest of the field is virtually out of contention.

Colts Down Braves In Tri-State Loop

Jimmy Walker and Mike Clark combined to pitch the Pampa Colts to a 6-5 victory over the Borger Braves in Borger Thursday night.

Walker and Clark each gave up five hits in carding the win for the local crew. Walker struck out seven and walked five while Clark walked to register a strikeout and walked one. Walker pitched six innings and Clark toiled three.

The Colts opened the scoring in the third when Walker reached first on an error, moved to second when Roy Stephens' ground ball was bobbled by shortstop Bob Forrest and scored on a single by Bobby Stephens.

The Colts came back with three more runs in the fifth on Roy Stephens' home run, a hit batter and another home run by Terry Haralson.

Borger came back with one run in the fifth and three more in the seventh to tie it up.

In the eighth, Bobv Nut reached first on an error. Roy Stephens sacrificed Nutt down to second and Bobby Stephens lined a triple to deep right to score Nutt. Stephens then scored on Haralson's single to left.

Borger came back with another run in the ninth, but their rally fell short as the Colts posted their second straight win.

JOCKEY WINS FIVE
STANTON, Del. (UPI)—Ronnie Ferraro, the leading apprentice jockey in the nation and bidding for the national championship, rode five winners at Delaware Park Thursday. His last three came consecutively, in the seventh, eighth and ninth races.

LOLLAR DISABLED
CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago White Sox have placed veteran catcher Sherm Lollar on the disabled list while his broken thumb heals.

Lollar suffered the injury on his right thumb when he was hit by a pitched ball during Wednesday night's game against Minnesota.

second straight win.

Roy Stephens led the locals with the timber with three for four. Bob Stephens, Terry Haralson, Bob Seitz, Larry Stroud and Carl Schreiner each picked up a pair of hits to share swat honors for the winning Colts.

Ford Leading Action In Eastern Open

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Who says practice makes perfect? Certainly not Doug Ford.

Arriving late for the Eastern Open golf tournament, Ford had to hustle to the first tee without having played a single practice hole on the course, but he still fired a three-under-par 69 Thursday for a one stroke lead in the opening round.

There was one catch, though. Ford has been here before. Many times, in fact.

This marks the 13th time he has made the trip down from his New York home in search of the Eastern title.

"I've really never come close to winning here, but maybe, it will be different this week," he said. Never in all Ford's previous Eastern Open bids has he led at any stage of the tourney.

Ford, winner of many other titles, including the Masters and PGA championships carried his one-stroke lead over six different rivals going into today's second round of the $35,000 tournament. The six at his heels were Terry Dill, Charley Sifford, Charlie Bassler, Moon Mullins, Julius Boros, and Bobby Nichols.

Doug Sanders, the defending champion, and Phil Rodgers, another co-favorite, were off the pace with opening rounds scores of 74 Thursday.

Ford Snaps Yank Losing Streak With 3-0 Shutout

By MILTON RICHMAN

UPI Sports Writer

Bo (live a little) Belinsky was in trouble again Thursday night but came out smelling like Chanel No. 5.

The rollicking, fun-loving left-hander sweated plenty through the first six innings against the Kansas City A's.

Over the last three, though, he looked like Lefty Grove as he won his first game in more than a month and pitched the Los Angeles Angels into second place in the American League with a 3-1 victory.

Frankly, the irrepressible Belinsky was beginning to get a little apprehensive himself before Thursday night's contest. Not so much because of his after-hours escapades but because he had failed to finish six straight times and hadn't won a game since May 20.

He gave manager Bill Rigney a few thrills by putting 13 KC runners on bases during the first six innings Thursday night. Fortunately for Bo only one of them scored.

Belinsky settled down nicely, however, and eased the last nine batters with ease, finishing with a flourish by striking out Norm Siebern to end the game and nail down his seventh victory compared with two defeats.

Bo, who accepted congratulatory handshakes all around after the final out, struck out six and walked the same number.

The Angels gave him a two-run stake in the first inning on Albie Pearson's single, Billy Moran's double and Lee Thomas' infield out. Felix Torres added another run with a second inning homer.

Kansas City's only run off Belinsky came in the fifth when Gino Cimoli walked, moved up on an infield out and came home on Ed Charles' single, one of the seven hits Bo allowed.

The Chicago White Sox dropped the Minnesota Twins into third place with a 6-2 victory, the Boston Red Sox beat the first-place Cleveland Indians, 3-1, the Detroit Tigers downed the Washington Senators, 6-3, and the New York Yankees ended a five-game backslide with a 3-0 win over the Baltimore Orioles.

The Philadelphia Phillies shut out the Chicago Cubs, 3-0, in the only National League game scheduled.

Eddie Fisher's fine two-hit relief job over the last 7 2-3 innings cemented the White Sox' victory after they rallied for four runs in the first inning against the Twins. Al Smith's two-run double featured the White Sox' big outburst. Fisher took over after the Twins kayoed John Buzhardt in the second inning and hurled scoreless ball the rest of the way to even his record at 3-3.

Earl Wilson and Dick Radatz combined in a three-hitter against the Indians and Carroll Hardy provided the winning margin for the Red Sox with a two-run homer in the fourth inning off loser Pedro Ramos. Wilson, who allowed two hits over the first 5 2-3 innings, was credited with his fifth win.

Rocky Colavito's seventh inning double broke a 3-all deadlock and produced what proved to be the winning run for the Tigers in their game with the Senators. Colavito's blow scored rookie Purnal Goldy, who had a triple and a single and now has hit safely in all eight major league games he has played. Mike Roarke and Norm Cash each homered for Detroit while Chuck Hinton and Harry Bright connected for Washington.

Southpaw Whitey Ford cheered Yankee manager Ralph Houk by winning his first game since May 9 at the expense of the Orioles. Ford limited Baltimore to three hits through 6 2-3 innings but Marshall Bridges had to come in and get the final out after Whitey walked two men.

Hector Lopez and Clete Boyer hit second inning doubles for the Yanks' first run and Bill Skowron nicked loser Steve Barber for his 10th homer in the sixth.

The Orioles saw a five-game winning streak come to an end but had the consolation of playing their 10th straight game without an error. The Cincinnati Reds of 1953 set the major league record of 11.

Art Mahaffey scored his eighth victory of the year for the Phillies with a five-hitter over the Cubs. Southpaw Dick Ellsworth, who lost his 10th in 14 decisions, wild-pitched one run across in the third and yielded another run before bowing out for a pinch hitter in the seventh. Ted Savage collected three of the Phils' seven hits.

Ferrari Cars Favored In Le Mans Race

LE MANS, France (UPI) — Ferrari prototype cars loomed as top favorites today to win the 24-hour Le Mans endurance.

Fifty-five cars are scheduled to start Saturday. Phil Hill, Santa Monica, Calif., and Olivier Gendebien of Belgium who shared the wheel of a four-litre Ferrari prototype, covered the 13.4 kilometer (8.3 miles) track in 3:55.2 for an average speed of 206 kph (108 mph) Thursday night in the second trials.

This was slightly less than the time they clocked earlier in the opening trials but still far ahead of everybody else.

Another prototype four-litre Ferrari, driven by Mike Parkes of Britain and Lorenzo Bandini of Italy came second in 3:58.6. They were also second in the opening trials.

The Tangled Web

House investigators say flatly the Kennedy Administration erred in naming Texas promoter Billie Sol Estes to the federal cotton advisory committee at a time when his manipulations in cotton were officially suspect.

They have had some familiarity with this sort of laxity. Years ago a man, was allowed to serve many months on a grain export advisory committee, even though he was then under indictment for illegal activities in that very and large, however, both professional and FBI investigators are encountering heavy frustrations as they probe the vast culture Department for signs of favored treatment.

That gets the investigators in the morass of administrative regulations by which the department is largely governed internally.

These rules, laid down by department heads over a long span are so numerous, so complex and so varied as to afford sanction for almost any course of action.

How does any agency of government get so entrusted with conflicting and overlapping rules? Congress, in writing legislation, generally sketches in only the broad outlines. To make a law work the department involved usually is given wide discretionary power to make regulations. Inevitably, these pile up, like barnacles fastened to a ship's hull.

Congress can hardly solve this problem by legislating every detail. Agriculture and other big departments would be running to the lawmakers with endless appeals for "updating" amendments. There would be time on Capitol Hill for little else.

What about major administrative reorganizations? Three times since 1950, plans for some reorganization of the Department of Agriculture have been sent to Congress.

The only successful one, in 1953, was a re-do of the beaten 1950 proposal—an original Hoover commission plan. Basically it was designed to concentrate more of the department's authority in the secretary's hands. In any shift of department functions, he was directed to make operations simpler and more efficient.

Results since 1953 are hardly cheering. When bureaucracy becomes so overgrown as to blur the lines so that right and wrongdoing get tangled up in complicated regulations, free government stands in danger. This may prove one lesson of the Estes case.

Automation is in the factory, has taken over some office chores, and is threatening to take on some management functions. Now Seaborg sees it entering the home in a big way.

By 1992, he says, there'll be a home "control center" to plan menus, keep budgets, help figure income taxes, even take part in family policy decisions.

It sounds as if the class of 1962 could by then be meeting in almost continuous reunion, since they may not have much else to do.

Ge, Thanks Loads!

The Nation's Press

1984. HERE WE COME!
(The Chicago Tribune)

Sen. John Williams, the highly effective Republican from Delaware, charged Monday that a woman secretary in the department of agriculture was "railroaded to a mental institution" because she knew too much about the Billie Sol Estes scandal.

The woman is the secretary of Battle Hales, the department of official who helped bring the scandal to light and who has since been barred from his office and files. She was ordered to the psychiatric ward of a hospital on April 25 by the doctor assigned to the department. Twelve days later she was found to be mentally sound and released.

A department statement says that the woman's own doctor advised that the department acted on its own and arbitrarily and that the woman's doctor was not consulted until afterwards.

If Sen. Williams' charge proves correct — and he is not in the habit of making charges that don't stand up — we're a lot nearer than we had thought to the tyranny described by George Orwell in "1984."

Here is a woman who undoubtedly had a good deal of information which might embarrass the department of agriculture and the Kennedy administration. Out of loyalty to her boss, who is already in the departmental doghouse, she might logically be expected to make it public. Suddenly and secretly she is whisked out of circulation.

problem. (But now lookit...) A. Speaking of cigarettes, a tobacco company R. J. Reynolds, located at Winston-Salem, N.C., markets the brand named Winston and the brand named Salem. And it's a good thing the company's tobacco factory isn't located at Walls Walla, Wash.

The Doctor Says:

Up to Doctor: Drug's Place in Hypertension Treatment
By DR. HAROLD T. HYMAN
Q — Quite a number of my friends, as well as my wife and I, all living in retirement, take drugs to reduce high blood pressure. We compare notes and no two of us seem to be taking the same prescription. Can you tell us what you think is the best drug to take for reduction of blood pressure?

A — The more important question is whether any drug at all is needed for hypertension. In the experience of most careful physicians, the majority of hypertensives have what is called an essential or benign hypertension. This is apt to be more frequent and more marked in women. And, if it occurs around the time of the menopause, it is apt to be incorrectly labeled menopausal hypertension.

Now, since extensive studies have shown that this essential hypertension rarely produces symptoms or complications, it requires no drug treatment. At most, if necessary, it calls for weight reduction, rest and perhaps sedation with some simple product such as phenobarbital or luminal.

The second important question is whether reduction of blood pressure is desirable. For, in persons who have hardening of the arteries, for example, it may be necessary for the head of pressure to be increased in order to overcome the resistance imposed by hardened vessel. As you can easily imagine, reduction of the head of pressure in such instances might result in less efficiency of the circulation.

The third important question is drug toxicity. For, to be sufficiently powerful for pressure reduction, the antihypertensive drug must surely be capable of the production of side effects. For example, a manufacturer has just had to recall a widely used product because of side effects to which attention has been drawn in several previous columns (rashes, hair loss, visual disturbances, etc.).

Other well-known antihypertensives produce other side reactions such as dizziness, faintness, Parkinsonism, fever and blood disturbances. The question then resolves itself into a consideration of what drug should be used in the small number of hypertensives who fail to respond to weight reduction and sedation and who might profitably chance the side reactions.

That choice will have to be made by the individual physician who is responsible for the care of the particular patient.

Q — I am about to be married. I have rheumatic heart disease and have been warned to avoid pregnancy. What can I do to protect myself?

A — The Planned Parenthood Federation of American (501 Madison Ave., New York 22) has just published two pamphlets that provide specific information. They are "The Safe Period," approved by the Roman Catholic Church, and "Modern Methods of Birth Control." They are available to persons 21 years of age or older at a small cost.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Harold Thomas Hyman, M. D. in care of this paper. He will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

The New Stuff Dreams Are Made Of

Thoughts while shaving 1. While the saleswoman in a smart apparel shop for women was waiting on a customer, a woman rushed up and exclaimed, "I'm just in from Tokyo, Japan, to have adjustments made. Tell them they have to do it right away." Arms akimbo, the woman already in the process of being waited upon piped up: "Well, I'm just in from the suburbs. Does that make me any less important than Mrs. Marco Polo?" That crushed the recent arrival from the Orient.

2. There's the neighborhood housewife who inquires: "Why are so many labels on pots, pans and glass containers put on with an adhesive that resists every effort to remove it?" (You, madam, aren't the only one who'd like to know.)

3. Remember about 20 years ago when an innovation for women—red-tipped cigarettes—caught on? They were popular at the time because most men disliked to see the white paper of the cigarettes discolored with women's lipstick, and the red-tipped smokes solved the

Youth Employment Service For Pampa Is Vital Aid To Students

The Youth Employment Service, sponsored by the Top O' Texas Kiwanis Clubs, began June 1 and works to coordinate summer employment vacancies with high school students needing summer jobs.

High school boys have applied for 117 jobs and girls for 77. Employers needing to fill vacancies or students needing employment should call MO 4-5444 or go to the Service's office, 317 E. Tyng.

Directed and managed entirely by students, the service maintains a card file of students qualified and available for employment.

Five volunteer high school girls staff the office. Each girl works four hours a day, taking applications for employment. The girls are Pat Nichols, Jean Keagy, Kay Miller, Beverly Stephens and Barbara Reeve.

A wage rate is not set. The students work for the salary the employer wishes to pay. Recommended salaries are babysitting, 50 cents an hour and other, $1.50 an hour.

Students have applied for jobs as baby sitters, clerks, yard workers, house cleaners, secretaries, typists, receptionists, beauty operators, laborers, truck unloaders, service station workers and "anything."

This service has never been tried in Pampa and is intended to operate as a central office for jobs and students to get together. Since it began, 28 jobs have been filled.

Quiet Death Is Seen For 'Drug Control'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An administration-backed plan to fix tough new government controls over the production of drugs and cosmetics seemed to be heading toward a quiet death.

Though the House Commerce Committee is presently holding hearings on the proposal—strongly recommended by President Kennedy in his consumer protection message last January—a poll of key members indicated that final action probably would not be taken this year.

The major provisions in the plan would establish government control over the manufacturing standards of drug makers and make them prove their products were effective as well as safe.

The Food and Drug Administration has refused to let congressional investigators examine government files on two drugs recently withdrawn from public sale because of allegedly dangerous side effects.

Rep. L. H. Fountain, chairman of a House government operations subcommittee, reported the incident Wednesday while testifying on the bill.

The North Carolina Democrat also disclosed that the FDA still is investigating the manufacturers of the drugs to determine whether their applications for government clearance to sell the drugs contained false statements.

FDA Commissioner George P. Larrick told Fountain that under the law "we are forbidden to disclose information submitted in connection with new drug applications that is entitled to protection as a trade secret."

He said the secrecy was needed to encourage manufacturers to make as full a disclosure as possible when they file drug applications.

United Press International

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — NBC-TV's "Tonight" show faces, on Monday, its toughest test since Jack Paar left.

The nightly competition of Steve Allen in a new, syndicated, 90-minute entertainment program from Hollywood.

It is no mere coincidence that "Tonight," which will be taken over by Johnny Carson in October, has lined up its biggest name guest host — Jerry Lewis — to oppose Allen next week from New York. Or that Lewis has lined up Sophia Loren as a Monday guest.

Although Allen's show, distributed by the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co., will be seen at present over 21 stations as opposed to NBC's vast number, he is considered a formidable foe, and his outlets in key cities are steadily increasing.

Lewis undoubtedly will break all kinds of ratings records, but this "Tonight" viewer thinks he will be hard-pressed to match the delightful tone set by this week's surprising resident host, singer Steve Lawrence — an old Allen protégé.

Lawrence proved again it is not the presence of a tremendous star that gives "Tonight" the easy, informal lilt that makes for pleasant late-night viewing. Some big names have proven that. Examples:

Bob Cummings, as host, was a downright embarrassing with his gushing and fussiness, not to mention his lack of scope. And Art Linkletter, though amiable, simply presented the air of a Boy Scout troop leader who has wandered by mistake into the Peppermint Lounge.

The times I have seen Lawrence this week, he has been very nearly perfect. Gracious and relaxed, he was one of the rare hosts with the good manners not to interrupt his guests, yet he never lost control of the show. And he handled the commercials with a minimum of effort.

On one night, when his group included Hugh Downs, comedian Phil Foster, Kaye Ballard, mimic Frank Gorshin and singer Jennie Smith, this viewer got the feeling he was watching a private clam-bake held by some very nice people — and that's what "Tonight" is really all about.

In addition to a charming talk-and-sing sequence with Stephen Sondheim, lyricist of "West Side Story," pianist Skitch Henderson and Miss Smith (who is magnificent to look at as well as hear), Lawrence did a first-class imitation of Jack E. Leonard, the fat comedian. It seems Leonard once asked him how much he weighed. "160," said Lawrence. "I had more than that for breakfast," replied fat Jack.

As for the other hosts: Joey Bishop was pleasant but his humor was a little too local; Jack Carter and Jan Murray were often funny, but also overbearing and ill-mannered, interrupting the guests and constantly leaving sentences dangling. Soupy Sales just wasn't up to it, and Merv Griffin pleased NBC so much he's getting a daytime variety show.

Last week, it was said to see the lightning mind of Mort Sahl either unable, or unwilling, to come to terms with the fact that he was not performing for his "in-group." Non-theatre talk is a relief. But it is not pleasant to feel a performer is looking down at his audience.

The Channel Swim: James Mason and Carol Channing guest Tuesday on CBS-TV's "Password" ... Pat Boone visits Dick Clark's ABC-TV show Thursday ... Jan Sterling will be a panelist on NBC-TV's "Your First Impression" for five days in mid-July.

The first trans-Atlantic live television program is planned for next month to be carried by the three American networks and European broadcasters ... Gloria Swanson guests on CBS-TV's
