mantic conception of love. True, they are marrying younger than ever but it is rarely for any "We can't live without each other" emotion. Many of today's girls feel that if they don't marry by the time they are 20 they are doomed to be old maids. And so they "shop around" just long enough to find a man who will put an engagement ring on their finger.

Many young men today are so sold on the idea of security that they marry for the same reason they lock into a company's pens'on plan before taking a job for security.

These "oung men shop around . to find a girl who fits into their picture of a secure future. Whether they choose a girl with a good job, the boss's daughter, or a girl with the "right" background depends on what they think they need to make their future more secure.

And then there are young peop'e mar ying today for no better reason than that all their freinds are getting married. They shop around a while and decide that this person or that one is probsome even ma'te the mental reservation. "If it doesn't work out - there's always d'vorce:"

Radio Broadcast Scramble Device Basis Of Inquiry

WASHINGTON (UPI)-A Federal Communications Commission official said today the agency will look into reports that a Texas radio station has scrambled music broadcasts to prevent rerecording from home receivers.

An official in the broadcast bureau of the commission said the agency was unaware such activity was taking place, but that electronically it would not be difficult to do. The station, KTOD-FM-AM, of Corpus Christi, reported Monday night it had used an electronic device to prevent recordings from its music broadcasts.
