Texan Opposes Measure 'Medicare' Gets Damaging Blow

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A damaging, and possibly fatal, blow was delivered today to prospects for congressional passage this year of President Kennedy's medical care program for the elderly. One of the Democrats who had been tentatively counted upon to help pry some compromise version out of the House Ways & Means Committee disclosed that he would vote against the measure.

"I don't intend to vote for it this year," Rep. Clark W. Thompson, D-Tex., told United Press International.

Thompson's opposition raised grave doubt administration forces would be able to break the committee bottleneck that has blocked congressional action for five years on bills to add a hospitalization plan to cash benefits of the Social Security program.

The showdown vote is expected next month.

Thompson spoke out just five days in advance of simultaneous rallies that will be staged by medical care supporters in 30 big cities in an effort to whip up "grass roots" pressure on Congress.

President Kennedy will lend his prestige to the rallies next Sunday afternoon with a nationally televised address from New York City's Madison Square Garden.

Thompson said he was opposed to action this year on Kennedy's proposal because he wanted to see how the present Kerr-Mills program of federal aid for the medically needy works out in his home state. He said the Texas Legislature only this year brought the state into this program.

The Texan was the second of the committee's 15 Democrats to voice public opposition to providing medical care for the elderly under the Social Security program. Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said earlier this year that he did not see how he could support the legislation.

To muster a majority of 13 votes in the 25-man committee for some compromise version of Kennedy's bill, the White House must either: Win support of every one of the remaining 13 committee Democrats, or: pick up a vote from the Republican members to match every additional Democratic defection.

There is considerable doubt this can be accomplished.

Protests Heard By 2 Boards Of Tax Equalization

City Tax Assessor - Collector Aubrey Jones and his deputy, Bill Wagoner, today were reviewing the work of the city tax Board of Equalization in public hearings conducted Monday and Tuesday at City Hall.

Jones said 24 protests were heard Monday on raises that had been made on personal property valuations and 12 were heard Tuesday on real estate valuations.

One spokesman, Jones stated, represented a number of property owners in one joint complaint. Jones also stated that he presented some 15 complaints at the request of property owners.

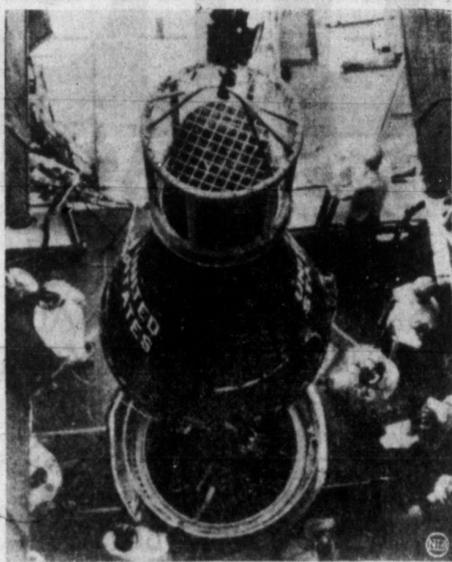

The tax assessor said 90 per cent of the complaints on increased real property valuations were centered in a Hobart St. area north of Highland General Hospital.

Before the hearings started this week, Jones said, there had been some 229 raises on real property valuations and approximately 635 reductions. This was the result of long studies by the equalization board and tax officials.

Jones said a number of cases still are under consideration and final adjustments will not be made until next month.

Gen. Salan Says He Heads OAS Fighters

PARIS (UPI) — Former Gen. Raoul Salan admitted to the court trying him for treason today that he was completely responsible for the actions of the terrorist Secret Army Organization (OAS).

He said in a lengthy life-or-death speech that he was the head of the OAS and "as such, my responsibility is complete."

Salan's 30-minute speech was expected to be his one and only major statement at his trial in a heavily-guarded courtroom of the Palats de Justice.

He is being tried before a special high tribunal for his part in the so-called generals' revolt of April 1961 in Algiers and for his leadership of the OAS for nearly a year until his capture last month.

On the effect of his speech could depend whether France's most decorated living soldier lives or dies.

"I am the head of the OAS," Salan began his statement. "As such, my responsibility is complete. I accept full responsibility since I do not intend to step out of a line of conduct which was mine during 42 years of command."

"I am not the leader of an armed band, but a French general representing a victorious and not a defeated army."

With those words, Salan followed a principle common to all armies: the commander is ultimately responsible for the actions of his troops.

De Gaulle Drops 2 Army Generals From Commands

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle's government today relieved two generals of their commands in its struggle against the terrorist Secret Army Organization and five cabinet ministers resigned in a policy dispute over European political unity.

At the same time, the government authorized Defense Minister Pierre Messmer to draft all youths in Algeria from the ages of 19 to 21 into the army to remove them from OAS influence.

Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte announced that the two generals relieved were Gen. Henri Sauvagnac, commander of the military region at Lille; and Gen. Pierre Moneglia, who holds a command in the French army in Germany.

The five cabinet ministers, all members of the Catholic Popular Republican Party (MRP), resigned because De Gaulle said Tuesday he opposes the political integration of Western Europe—a key point of MRP policy.

Peyrefitte said Sauvagnac was relieved "on account of actions by military personnel under his command." He said Moneglia was relieved following a recent tour of French army bases in Germany by Col. Antoine Argoud, one of the top leaders of the OAS.

Fighters, Transports Landing At Bangkok

By EUGENE McLOUGHLIN
United Press International

The United States started landing battle reinforcements in friendly Thailand today and ominous rumblings came from Communist China.

A dozen F100 supersonic jets of the 13th Tactical Fighter Squadron and Hercules transports from the Philippines and Okinawa were landed at Bangkok and Taikhi, 100 miles north of the Thai capital.

The SEATO council held an emergency meeting in Bangkok to review the Communist-inspired crisis, U.S. Ambassador Kenneth T. Young Jr. briefed the council on the U.S. military buildup.

The U.S. embassy in Bangkok said the Marines would land "within 24 to 36 hours" and be moved to areas near—but not on—the Laotian border. A thousand U.S. Army troops previously had been reported sent to the border area but the embassy said today they still were near Korat, about 150 miles northeast of Bangkok.

Accompanying the troop ship was the carrier Valley Forge which will land helicopters to support the land troops. The United States shortly will have 5,000 men in Thailand.

The decision to send the American forces was triggered by an advance of pro-Communist rebels which swept the royal army out of northwestern Laos and into northeastern Thailand last week.

American officials in Washington said contacts with the Russians had raised hopes slightly for a peaceful settlement in Laos, Southeast Asia's chief flashpoint.

But Peiping propaganda outlets denounced the American military move and said Communist China "cannot remain indifferent." The declaration recalled similar pronouncements in September 1950, a month before Red China entered the Korean conflict.

Peiping radio, quoting the People's Daily newspaper, said the U. S. military action "obviously (is aimed) at extending the Laotian civil war and making the peaceful settlement of the Laotian question impossible."

The paper appeared to be laying the groundwork for possible Red Chinese intervention by charging that Nationalist Chinese forces were collaborating with the royal Laotian government.

Many Nationalist irregulars were driven into Laos from the jungles of northern Burma about a year ago.

Officials in Washington said Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin's reaffirmation in a conference Tuesday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk of Russia's year-old pledge to support a ceasefire and creation of an independent, neutral coalition government in Laos was heartening as far as it went.

But they were not sure how much control the Russians would have if Communist China or North Viet Nam took a more dangerous course.

The United States pinned its hope for a political settlement on Prince Souvanna Phouma, a declared "neutralist" and former premier who has been commissioned by King Savang Vatthana to try to form a coalition government.

Souvanna said in Paris Tuesday night that he regarded the troop movements to Thailand as "a measure of precaution" taken under the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

"I hope and pray that a general battle doesn't break out," he said. "It would be a second Korea."

There was no report of new fighting in Laos, lending encouragement to the belief that the rebels have broken off their attack, at least for the time being.

Speaker at the breakfast will be Brig. Gen. Everett Simpson, commanding officer of the Texas National Guard.

Immediately following the breakfast there will be a flag-raising ceremony on the esplanade in front of the Coronado. American Legion and VFW members will take part.

Members of Pampa's various reserve units will take part in a downtown parade scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday.

The parade, which will form at Craven and Cuyler Sts., will move north and will be tied in with Pampa's Crazy Day observance.

Law Officers Swap Info On Area Hoods

Known law offenders in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles came in for their share of discussion as county peace officers from the area met here yesterday for luncheon and a round table forum at Coronado Inn.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan and Texas Ranger Bill Henslee hosted the session which was attended by sheriffs and deputies from Canadian, Wheeler, Lipscomb and Amarillo as well as detectives from the Amarillo Police Department.

Also in attendance, at yesterday's meeting were Lee LaFurnay, Elk City, Okla., of the Oklahoma Crime Bureau, and FBI Agent Tom O'Malley of Amarillo.

"It was just a meeting for shop talk," Sheriff Jordan said, "and a chance to discuss the activities of some of our known offenders in this area."

Estes Is Subpoenaed To Appear At Investigation Of His Farm Empire

By ROY MCGHEE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Senate investigators disclosed today that Billie Sol Estes has been subpoenaed to appear at congressional hearings on his shattered Texas farm empire and the possible involvement of Washington officials.

A spokesman for the Senate permanent investigating subcommittee also said that many of Estes' records have been subpoenaed and the group plans to request Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman to testify.

A spokesman for the subcommittee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said about a dozen new investigators have been assigned to the Estes case, which Tuesday led to the firing of another administration official. He was James T. Ralph, a former assistant agriculture secretary.

Freeman, meanwhile, told a Republican member of the House Agriculture Committee he "would be willing to appear in good time" before congressional investigators looking into Estes' tangled financial dealings.

The Senate hearings are not expected to get underway, the staff investigator told UPI, for another three or four weeks.

He said Estes was served with the subpoena in Texas Sunday. No date for his appearance was set. Freeman discussed the possibility of testifying with Reps. Paul Findley, R-Ill., and Bob Dole, R-Kan., when he went before the committee on the administration's new sugar bill.

As matters stand however, chairman Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., has refused to order an inquiry into the department's relations with Estes. Cooley has contended there already are enough investigations underway.

Last weekend, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced that the Senate investigations subcommittee has decided on a full-scale inquiry of the Estes scandals.

Democratic congressional leaders said today after a White House weekly breakfast meeting with President Kennedy that there was no discussion of the case.

But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told newsmen: "We think the investigation is in the very capable hands of Sen. McClellan."

Ralph was the fourth administration official to lose his job in the furor over the government's dealings with Estes.

But Republican demands for Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman's resignation brought a ringing endorsement of the cabinet officer Tuesday night from President Kennedy.

Shortly afterwards, Freeman announced Ralph's dismissal. Freeman said the Justice Department told him it found that Ralph had made long distance

Retail Sales Course Will Start May 21

"Dynamics of Selling," a special sales training course, has been scheduled for Pampa starting May 21st, it was announced today by Sam Jacobson, chairman of the Merchants Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

The course is made possible by the Distributive Education Program of the University of Texas and the Texas Education Agency and will be presented in four two and a half hour sessions, Monday through Thursday, starting at 7 p.m. Meetings will be held in Lovett Memorial Library.

Francis A. Flynn, supervisory training specialist from the University, will conduct the course. He has been conducting similar programs for the past five years and has had broad experience in personnel administration and retailing.

"Indifference on the part of sales people is responsible for 68 per cent of customer turnover," explains Flynn. "Because sales

Severe Weather Forecast Issued

A severe weather bulletin for the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle was issued today by the United States Weather Bureau effective from 3 to 9 p.m.

Weather officials said thunderstorms and damaging hail are expected to develop in Eastern New Mexico and move eastward.

Meanwhile it looked like fall in Pampa today.

Spring may have sprung, but a tint of fall seemed to find its way into Pampa today as skies remained overcast and a brisk wind out of the north sent local residents seeking warmer attire.

The Weather Bureau called for an expected low of around 62 for Wednesday night with the high Thursday up around 78. A chance of scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers also exists, continuing through Thursday.

Winds will remain brisk from 20 to 35 miles per hour.

Jacobson urged all salespeople in Pampa to attend. For reservations or more information on the course, interested parties may contact the Chamber of Commerce at MO 4-3241.

City Manager Gets Started On New Job

City Manager Harold Schmitzer today spent his first full day on the job meeting city department heads and City Hall employees.

Schmitzer was at City Hall bright and early and was given his first tour through various city offices by Public Works Director R. B. Cooke, who stepped out of a temporary post as acting city manager when Schmitzer was named to the job yesterday.

The new city manager formally was employed at yesterday's weekly meeting of the City Commission.

"No plans are in the making for any kind of a shake-up," the city manager said. "I want to repeat that I am here to work with the other department heads and have them work with me."

The city manager said that he hopes soon to begin a regular schedule of staff meetings with department heads.

Son Wanting To Collect On Bet From Dad

Mike Fort, Pampa High School Junior Red Cross president and a member of the senior class, long-distanced his father from Seattle, Wash., yesterday, asking for a payoff on a father-son bet.

Mike, who has been in Seattle attending a national Red Cross convention with Howard Graham, high school teacher and sponsor of the Junior Red Cross unit here, is the son of City Commissioner L. P. Fort.

When he left Pampa last Saturday, young Fort carried with him several of the official keys to the City of Pampa. Also before he left he made a $10 bet with his father that he could get an audience with the mayor of Seattle and present him with one of the keys.

He not only got in to see Mayor George S. Clinton of Seattle, but he visited and presented one of the Pampa keys to Archbishop Thomas A. Connolly of the Seattle diocese.

Fort and Graham were expected to fly back to Amarillo this evening.

Don Yarborough To Visit Pampa

Democratic gubernatorial candidate Don Yarborough comes to Pampa Thursday during an air-hop through the Panhandle.

Traveling by private plane, Yarborough will arrive at Perry LeFors Field at 1:30 p.m. where he will be welcomed with an airport reception. He will make a stump speech on major issues in the runoff campaign.

Yarborough will be in Amarillo this evening and will make a 30-

He Says More Troops Should Enter Thailand

By CHARLES R. MOORE
United Press International

SONOMA, Calif. (UPI) — Adm. Charles M. Cooke Jr., USN (ret.), former commander of the U.S. 7th fleet and a military-political strategist with a remarkable record of accurate prophecy, said today that if the Communists are not stopped in Laos and South Viet Nam they will continue toward conquest of all Southeast Asia.

And that conquest, he said, is just part of their overall plan to communicate the whole world.

Cooke said he approved of President Kennedy's action in sending U.S. Marines into Thailand but that the move came late and still was not in sufficient force.

"I would put at least a Marine division in Thailand," Cooke said in an exclusive interview with United Press International. "At the same time I would put a guerrilla-trained division of Marines in South Viet Nam—and on a fighting rather than merely advisory basis."

"Our decision should be to stop and turn back Communist aggression and we should use forces sufficient to do it. We did it in Lebanon. And we did it in Korea, although we did not carry through to victory."

Cooke was commander of the 7th Fleet from June, 1946 to February, 1948. Retired unwillingly at the mandatory age of 62 in 1948, he continued military activity as adviser to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and frequent consultant to Gen. Douglas MacArthur during the Korean War.

It was at his California ranch that he talked with this correspondent about the latest Far Eastern crisis.

Cooke recalled that in May, 1945, Fleet Admiral Ernest King asked him for a memo on the Navy's role in the postwar years. Cooke told him that:

"Unless the United States prevented it, Russia would expand too fast and too far.

"Unless the United States prevented it, the Communists would take over China.

"In order to carry out U.S. policy, all services must be prepared to carry out local war.

"Nobody believed that," he said today, "until Korea."

Cooke said that in 1948, when the U.S. government ordered its troops out of South Korea, he found it incredible, and said so in an interview with Frank H. Bartholomew, former president and present chairman of the board of United Press International.

He said he considered it "disastrous" in January, 1950, when U.S. government policy put Korea outside U.S. defense lines.

North Koreans, with Russian aid later, Communist Chinese backing, attacked in June.

When the Korean cease-fire talks began, Cooke warned that if the Chinese Communists were let off without a decisive defeat they would move into North Viet Nam. In 1955 North Viet Nam surrendered.

Cooke said he did not believe the Communists intend to attack Thailand immediately, but that with Laos practically lost the Reds have a pathway to new attacks in South Viet Nam and for threats to Thailand.

"Each time we let them get away with something," he said, "we weaken ourselves. Other countries figure the United States is never going to do anything. As we continue to retreat, we are weakened in the minds of our friends."

Cooke said he does not believe there will be all-out war in the Far East. And he does not believe use of nuclear weapons will be necessary or desirable.

And as to whether the jungle of Southeast Asia are a good place to fight, he said:

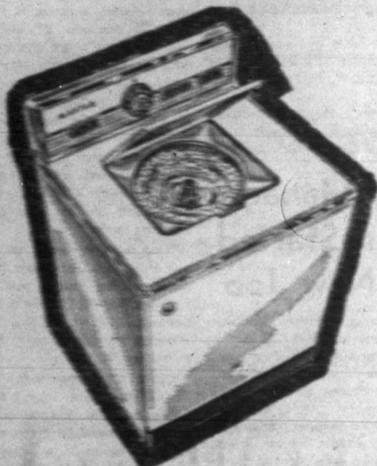

"North Korea was a helluva place to fight, too."

Teacher Service To Be Offered By TEC Offices

W. J. Ragsdale, manager of the Texas Employment Commission office in Pampa, said today that the commission is offering a new statewide placement program for teachers.

"Beginning this spring," Ragsdale said, "the TEC State office in Austin will serve as a clearing house for both teachers' applications and requests for teachers from school administrators."

Ragsdale explained that this gives school administrators a statewide selection of teachers and at the same time provides teachers with a wider range of teaching opportunities.

"This service to the teaching profession is the first of this type ever to be offered by the commission," Ragsdale said. "Our office now has resume forms for teachers who wish to file an application for a new position next fall."

The form, he stated, provides for a complete history of the teacher's educational and professional background. School administrators can file their vacancies with the Pampa office. The requests, like the teachers' resumes, will be sent directly to the state office. There, TEC's specialists in the teacher placement field will match teacher resumes with the requirements of existing vacancies as they are sent in by school officials. Teacher resume forms can also be obtained by writing to the Texas Employment Commission, Teacher Placement Service, TEC Building, Austin 1, Texas.

Ragsdale said that TEC's centralized teacher placement service will provide each teacher with a selection of positions which reflect his qualifications. Teacher resumes will be reproduced and sent to those administrators whose vacancies they are qualified to fill. In this way the administrator will have a large selection of qualified candidates for teaching positions.

"The immediate effect of this new program," Ragsdale said, "is to enable TEC to assist teachers in locating positions which they are most qualified to fill."

The Teacher Placement Service will operate without cost to the school system and to the teacher. Until now, Ragsdale stated, no complete statewide placement service has been available both to teachers seeking employment and to school officials seeking teachers.

ECA Hears Address By Instructor

Mrs. Bernice Lorenz, instructor for the Special Education Class in Pampa Junior High School, was guest speaker at the Exceptional Children's Association meeting held Monday evening in the City Club Room.

Mrs. Lorenz recently attended the 12th annual three-day convention of Texas Association for Retarded Children held in the Hilton Hotel in El Paso.

Outstanding speakers for the meeting were Dr. Harvey Ringer, president of Texas Medical Association; Jess Irwin, director of the Budget Division of the governor's office; Dr. Charles Cleland, superintendent of Abilene State School; Dr. William P. Hurder, member of President John Kennedy's panel on Mental Retardation.

Mrs. Lorenz reported that Dr. Ringer, in pledging aid for retarded children from the medical association, stated that "there are 1.5 million mentally retarded children and 3.5 million mentally retarded adults in the United States today."

"Mental retardation is a symptom of a condition just as paralysis is a symptom of polio," Dr. Ringer explained.

Walter Johnson Jr. director of the National Association for Retarded Children, Inc. reported that the NARC has 1,000 units throughout the United States and its most important field is public education, followed closely by promotion of inter-agency cooperation and governmental affairs primarily assisting in writing legislation.

It was brought out, during the convention, that "the public schools in most areas of Texas have facilities for the educable and trainable mentally retarded. These are for both white and colored children. On Sept. 1, 1961, there were approximately 1,270 units and 18,144 pupils, approximately 1,169 teachers with an average of 14 students to a teacher."

The Monday evening meeting for the ECA marked the final meeting of the current year; meetings will be resumed on the second Monday in September.

2nd Readings For PLT Play Set Thursday

Second readings from "George Washington Slept Here" will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Holy Souls' School, 612 W. Browning.

The three-act comedy, written by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, will be presented by Pampa Little Theater in August and will be directed by Mrs. Jewell Walker.

There was "a nice turn-out" for the first reading held last Thursday evening in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Walker invites everyone, whether a member of PLT or not, who is interested to turn out for the second reading. Roles will not be cast until after the first of June.

A stage manager for the August production has been named as Leon Wayland of El Reno, Okla., who has had much experience in theatricals. John McCausland will head the ticket sales committee.

"George Washington Slept Here" has a modern setting and is the story of a couple, who buy a broken-down farmhouse because of its rumored historical heritage and of their trials, tribulations and joys in restoring it to a liveable condition.

There are 17 roles to be cast; 10 male and seven female. Mrs. Walker plans a specially-written sequence, which will include all the teenage members of the organization.

Roles to be cast are those of Newton and Annabelle Fuller, a married couple in their late 30's or early 40's, who buy the farmhouse; their daughter, Madge, who is in her early 20's and her boyfriend, Tommy, same age; a "delinquent" nephew, Raymond, in his teens; Uncle Stanley, a pompous "rich" relative, in his 60's; Mrs. Douglas, over 50, who is the "save-the-day" type; Rena and Clayton, stage actors in their early 40's, whose car breaks down near the farmhouse; Kimber, the hired hand, who is brightly pessimistic; Hester, the cook; Katie, the maid; Mr. Prescott, a crotchety, neighboring farmer. Minor roles are those of Madge's friends, Steve, Leggett, Miss Wilcox and Sue.

Third and final try-outs will be held at the PLT's regular meeting date Monday, May 21, according to Mrs. Walker.

Traffic Mishaps Showing Slight Increase Locally

Traffic accidents in Pampa during April showed a slight increase over the same period one year ago, according to a report released today by Police Chief Jim Conner.

The report, which will be forwarded to the National Safety Council, shows there were 38 traffic mishaps and 12 injuries in April of this year compared to 33 accidents and 11 persons injured in April, 1961.

There have been 147 accidents in the first four months of this year compared to 180 last year. One person has been killed in Pampa traffic so far in 1962. There were no traffic deaths in 1961. Forty-eight persons have been injured this year against 33 for the same four-month period of 1961.

Twenty-five of the 38 accidents in April happened during the daytime and 12 at night. Forty-two males were involved in the accidents and 18 females.

Failure to yield right-of-way was given as the chief traffic accident cause with 12 citations in that category. Five were attributed to drinking, two to illegal turns, two to defective brakes and the remainder attributed to improper driving.

Twenty-four drivers were cited for traffic violations and total property damage caused in the 33 accidents was estimated at $8,070.

"This activity," Freeman said, "combined with those disclosed in Dr. Ralph's testimony in Texas regarding his relationship with Estes, does not, in my judgment, measure up to the standards of conduct required for a person representing our government in an overseas assignment."

Ralph, 36, had been training for the new post of agricultural attache to the Philippines. He had testified previously in a Texas court of inquiry that he accompanied Estes on a shopping trip and tried on suits, but insisted Estes never gave him any clothes.

The first day of Salan's trial was devoted Tuesday to the reading of the long indictment against him and to maneuvers by defense attorneys to declare the tribunal incompetent or have the trial adjourned.

The court disallowed the request for adjournment, saying that at a later stage of the trial it could be decided whether there was any need to recess to get more information on Salan's case.

Sun Can Harm As Well As Beautify

This girl is enjoying her summer vacation at the shore because she has taken all the necessary precautions against the drying effects of sun and salt water. Boating is one of her favorite sports (left), and she prevents eye irritation from salt water spray by taking along soothing eye drops. She achieves a golden tan by gradually increasing the time she spends in the sun each day, and by using a preparation (center) that will screen out the ultraviolet rays. To protect her hair from drying effects of the sun, she wears a pretty beach hat (right). Her dark glasses are protection against glare and reflected light from sand and water.

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

As summer vacation approaches, we long for the luxury of relaxing on the warm sand, the pleasant sting of salt spray as the outboard skims over the water and, of course, the beauty of an even sunset.

Before you get carried away by the sun's brilliance on white sand and blue water, remember that the sun can sizzle as well as soothe. There are hazards as well as delights to be considered.

Here are some tips for having fun in the sun by avoiding the pitfalls that could mar your vacation:

Protect your eyes from bright sunshine with a pair of dark glasses. A beach umbrella is not enough, since it doesn't reduce the glare and reflected rays from water and sand. And leave that exciting paperback at home. Reading in the bright sunlight can seriously damage your eyes.

The two major eye problems at the beach are blowing sand and salt-water spray. So be sure to include in your beach kit a handy plastic squeeze bottle of eye drops to soothe the irritation and to flush out the offending particles.

Make sure that your exposure to the sun is handled gradually, increasing the time each day. And make liberal use of one of the many preparations that are designed to screen out the burning ultraviolet rays of sunlight.

A pretty beach hat will put you right at the head of the fashion parade while it protects your hair from the streaking and drying effects of the sun. As a further precaution, shampoo out the salt water as soon as you get home from the beach.

A little common sense will enable you to enjoy all the benefits of the sea and sun with no fear of damage to your health and beauty.

A. C. Houchan, parliamentarian; H. W. Waters, reporter. Plans were discussed for the final meeting of the year, which will be in the form of a Family Picnic on May 22 in the country home of Mrs. Emmett Osborn.

The Mature Parent Don't Be Speared For Generosity

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

Although my son knows I have a heart condition, he has given me a terrible shock. He has just bought his wife a car for her own. He pays me no rent for the upper floor of my two-family house where I keep the lower floor as my home. Six years ago when he was having business troubles I offered the floor to him and his family rent free and have never since mentioned the sacrifice this has meant to me. Now I find that he can afford to buy his wife a car to drive herself around town all day and...

ANSWER: You want your son to pay you rent, don't you? I know a "Yes" to that question is hard for you. But it is a "Yes," isn't it? You want your son to pay you rent - BUT YOU DON'T WANT TO ASK HIM FOR IT. You want him to understand your wish himself and, by giving you rent voluntarily, spare you the embarrassment of asking for it. Isn't that so?

I think it is. And it's pretty romantic of you. However, lots of us do expect this kind of chivalrous attention from children. In return for all we have done for a son, we feel that we are entitled, not only to his affection but also to HIS GRATEFUL AWARENESS OF WISHES THAT WE HAVE NOT EXPRESSED - and to his indulgence of them. When he doesn't come through with this awareness, we can go wild with rage. We feel helpless and cruelly abused. And the truth is, we are helpless. On the one hand we have a child who is not going to offer us rent voluntarily and on the other we have a secret pride in our generous, undemanding kindness that forbids us to ask him for it.

In such a situation we can stew indefinitely in bitterness. Unless we are brave enough to get down from our high horse and know ourselves to be less generous, less kind than we have felt obliged to appear. Unless we can say to ourselves, "O.K., maybe I don't care about looking so wonderfully helpful any more. The fact is, I want some money from my son. I WANT HIM TO PAY ME WHAT HE OWES ME."

It would be fine if you could stop dodging away from this embarrassing wish. Do you know why? Not because I want to hurt or humiliate you by insisting on its existence, but because if you continue to pretend that it doesn't exist, you can't bring it up into the clear light and take a long, unscared, sensible look at it's worth.

You say you have heart trouble. Isn't there a deep advantage to you in your children's nearness to you in this house of yours? Isn't their presence more reassuring to you than would be the presence of strangers who paid you rent?

Are your son and his family the only ones who are profiting by this rent - free arrangement? DOESN'T IT ALSO GIVE YOU A SENSE OF SAFETY that balances the financial loss it in-

Dinner Meeting Held By Nurses

District 23, Texas Graduate Nurses' Association met Tuesday evening in Poole's Restaurant for a Dutch treat steak dinner. Twenty-seven nurses from Spearman, Borger and Pampa attended.

The evening's program consisted of reports of the Texas Graduate Nurses' Association convention, which was held in Abilene last month. District 23 had 14 nurses, who attended the state convention for a 3-day period.

The District expects six nurses from District 23 to attend the ANA convention which will be held in Detroit May 14-18.

volves? Are your children as selfish as you have been believing them to be? They are sharing their lives with you, you know. I can't answer these questions. I just know that if you won't look at your wish for rent from your children, you can't judge its wisdom or its foolishness.

Council 'Ship' Embarks; New Officers Aboard

PTA City Council officers were installed by Mrs. James E. Lewis in a nautical ceremony held Tuesday morning in the Pampa Junior High School auditorium.

As unit and council members arrived for the Coffee Hour, the Pampa Junior High School Band under the direction of Homer Krueger provided musical selections.

In installing Mrs. Brantly Hudson as president, Mrs. Lewis referred to her as the "captain, whose keen eyes will see everything from the bridge and to whom will fall the responsibility and well-being of the officers, crew and passengers." She was presented with a telescope as a symbol of the office.

Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer as vice president was referred to "as the first mate, who will assist the captain by understanding her duties and by accepting the responsibilities delegated to her by the captain. To her, we give the anchor."

"Since every good ship has a keeper of the log," Mrs. Lewis continued, "Mrs. A. N. Gretn as secretary will keep the log of this journey for the unit.

"Every passenger vessel has a purser, who keeps the accounts," Mrs. Lewis said in charging Mrs. John Holt Jr. with her duties in the office of treasurer. Mrs. N. L. Nichol, historian, will tell Tales of the Sea. Messages concerning the voyage will be sent by Mrs. Derrell Hogsett, publicity chairman.

"Mrs. George Cree Jr. as parliamentarian, outgoing president, should be able, upon a moment's notice, to direct the course of the ship."

Following installation, Mrs. Hudson, current president, announced the following members as new officers and chairmen: Mmes. Lenn Holmes, procedure; J. P. Brumley, hospitality; E. R. Southard, membership; Charles Norton, legislative; J. B. Woodington, national magazines and publications; James Floyd Scott, radio; W. C. Puryard, youth protection and recreation;

Dear Abby... And Let There Be Music Everywhere!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I strenuously disagree with your advice to NO CHOPIN. There is no better way to kill a child's interest in music than to force him to take lessons and practice when he would rather be doing something else. As a boy I had considerable talent and might have made music my career, except for the seven years I was forced to take lessons. This prevented me from ever becoming a decent pianist, I think "No Chopin" should be allowed to forget the piano until he has a natural desire to take it up.

MIGHT-HAVE-BEEN CHOPIN DEAR MIGHT: The best years for learning are the youthful years. And if children are permitted to put off the study of math, science, history, grammar, religion AND music until they have a "natural desire" to learn, many would never learn. I would like to know how a child with musical talent can develop it without instruction and practice. And so would millions of parents.

DEAR ABBY: We have a problem with our women's bowling league. We want to know how long a woman, who is pregnant, should be allowed to stay on the team. We want to set down a rule, but find it very difficult. Can you, or any experienced lady bowlers help us?

LADY BOWLERS DEAR BOWLERS: The very thought of a pregnant woman bowling makes my back ache. Why must you have a rule? Let each pregnant bowler bowl as long as her doctor allows her to.

DEAR ABBY: Congratulations on your opinion of the athlete who cried when he lost. You said, "There are no good losers. Just good actors."

Having participated in, coached and watched athletic competition for almost 30 years, I can back you up. The old cliché, "It doesn't matter if you win or lose, but how you played the game," makes about as much sense as the doctor saying, "It doesn't matter if you live or die, but how I perform the operation."

Very truly yours,
BERKELEY

Mrs. Yoder To Present Pupils In Spring Recital

Piano students of Mrs. Fidelia Yoder will be presented in a spring recital on Friday evening, May 18, in St. Matthews Episcopal Parish Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Pupils of all ages will be included in the varied program, which will feature both solo and ensemble of eight students using ensemble numbers.

Of special interest will be the four pianos. They will play the Torreador March from Carmen by Bizet. Participating in this number will be Joyce Prock, Amy Earhart, Joretta and Loretta Baird, Janie Prock, Terrie Watson, Kaye Forkel and Kathy Larsen.

Certificates earned by students participating in the recent National Piano Auditions will be presented by Mrs. Yoder at the close of the recital. Eight students have earned National Certificates for the preparation of 10-piece programs; two will receive State Certificates for 7 pieces; two are getting District Certificates for 6 pieces and five will receive Local Certificates for playing 3 pieces in the Auditions.

Baker Mothers Honored At Installation Meeting

Mothers, who will have children entering first grade next autumn at B. M. Baker School, were guests of honor at the PTA meeting held Thursday afternoon. Each mother was presented with a gum-drop corsage as she registered.

Featured on the afternoon's program were first grade children in a selection of songs, which they have learned this year. The children, dressed in white choir robes with red and blue ties, sang songs to carry out the patriotic theme. They were directed by Mrs. Marilyn Duke, first grade teacher. The stage was decorated with a white picket fence and spring foliage. Bobby Maples, first grade student, was announcer for the program.

Following the program, Mrs. Duke discussed "Preparing Your Child For the First Grade." She stressed the importance of creating a happy home atmosphere toward school and of allowing the child to look forward to the school experience.

Mrs. Warren Jackson, former Baker PTA president, installed officers for next year comparing the construction of the unit to the making of a dress.

Installed were Mrs. Orgal Ferguson, who was identified as the "pattern guide" for unit as she assumed her office of president for a second term; Mrs. Robert Dittmeyer was referred to as the "material" for the program of unit; Mrs. Harold Engle, as secretary, was related to the "instruction sheet," which will hold all minutes for references of important events to the unit; Mrs. Lawton Branscum as treasurer as identified as the "needle and thread" holding all activities together with funds earned by hard work. The historian, Mrs. Howard Price, was referred to as the "trimming" adding each year the touches that make a complete history for future use; the parliamentarian, Mrs. John Vantine was called the "all-important zipper" which holds the unit together with order in all things.

A gift was presented to John Evans, school principal and to Mrs. Ferguson for their service to the unit during the past year.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

The executive board of the Baker PTA convened in the school cafeteria for a salad luncheon on Wednesday.

New members for next year were introduced and members, whose children will be going on to junior high school next year, were urged to come back and visit the school.

Mrs. Ferguson, unit president, presided as the board made plans to purchase a typing table for use in the school office and to have a hay ride on May 17 with Otto Mangold furnishing horses, wagon and hay.

Mrs. Lacey Ayers, office secretary, was welcomed as a guest. Attending were Meses. S. A. Downs, L. D. Martin, Felix Fischer, Don Knutson, Howard Adamson, J. L. Hampton, R. A. Mc-

Clenathan, R. C. Dittmeyer, B. J. Lambright, Lawton Branscum, Howard Price, J. J. Combs, D. P. Brown, O. G. Ferguson, Charles Cox, E. C. Fulton, A. N. Green, H. L. Engle, Leon Holmes, Charlie Pipes, C. D. Anderson and John Evans.

New Fire Station And Trucks Are Available For Boys Ranch Now

A new fire station complete with two gleaming red fire trucks now protects the nearly 300 boys at Cal Farley's nationally famous Boys Ranch following the dedication of the new equipment Saturday by firemen of the Panhandle and South Plains.

The new trucks were donated by the Panhandle Firemen's Association and members of the Lubbock Fire Department. The fire station is the contribution of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Hafner of Chillicothe, Texas.

The new trucks are a 500-gallon pumper, constructed by the Howe Manufacturing Co. of Anderson, Indiana, at cost and a 300-gallon booster built by the Lubbock Fire Department. The new building is

Job Picture Improvement Is Anticipated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Factory jobs and hours of work showed strong improvement in April and could trigger a bigger-than-seasonal decline in unemployment this month, the Labor Department reported.

The department reported that manufacturing employment climbed by 80,000 to 16,598,000 last month. It usually declines at this time of year.

Total non-farm payroll jobs jumped by 675,000 to a monthly record high of 54,699,000.

Seymour Wolfbein, the department's chief manpower expert, predicted the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate would "move down a little bit" in May.

Wolfbein said average weekly earnings of factory workers increased by 65 cents last month to $96.56 a week.

Attending from the Canadian association will be General Manager Erbin L. Crowell and Assistant Manager John R. Ball, both of Canadian.

Livestock Survey Cards To Be Mailed

Postmaster O. K. Gaylor reminds rural patrons of the Pampa Post Office to be on the lookout for June Livestock Survey cards. Next week, mail carriers will leave survey cards in a sample of boxes along their routes.

"USDA bases livestock and poultry estimates on replies to this survey," Gaylor explained. "It's important for everyone who gets a card to fill it out and return it to the carrier. This way, USDA gets a representative sample of the area's livestock and poultry holdings."

Information from this survey will guide livestock and poultry producers in making important business decisions," Gaylor concluded.

Mission Near Alamo Is Feted

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — The Most Rev. Robert E. Lucey, archbishop of San Antonio, recently paid solemn tribute to the pioneer builders of church that became a fort in one of the fiercest battles for Texas independence.

Lucey presided at ceremonies in front of the Mission Concepcion, which was constructed 200 years ago after two decades of labor by Franciscan fathers. A pontifical mass was celebrated.

The mission, its 45-inch stone and mortar walls now chipped and pock-marked, was the scene Oct. 28, 1835 of a pre-Alamo battle between a large Mexican detachment and a small group of Texans commanded by Col James Bowie and J. W. Fannin.

Lions, Rotary In Diamond Wins

The wind blew and it looked like Mother Nature might dampen spirits for awhile Tuesday evening, but the show went on and the Little League and Pony League baseball season got underway in fine fashion at the Pampa Optimist park.

Various city officials helped former Yankee pitching ace Allie Reynolds to kick off the initial diamond action for the kids in the official opening game ceremonies.

Reynolds also gave a few pitching demonstrations and looked almost like he could have taken the hill tomorrow in the pin-striped Yankee uniform and blazed that famous fastball of his past enemy opponents. Following the demonstrations, "the Big Chief" autographed baseballs for the screaming youngsters who swarmed around the big right hander to get a glimpse of their hero.

Bob Izzard of KGNC-TV, Amarillo, was the master of ceremonies and the invocation was given by the Rev. A. Bruns, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church.

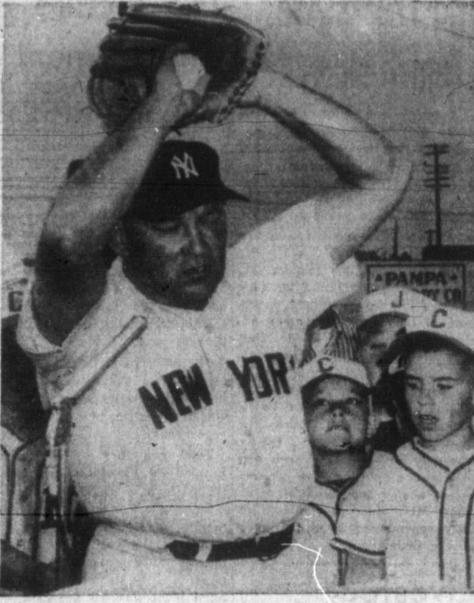

Mayor E. C. Sidwell of Pampa extended an official greeting to players and parents alike and Izzard recognized various civic dignitaries and Little League, Pony League and Colt baseball officials.

And last, but not least, all the players, managers and coaches were introduced.

Oh yes, they also had a couple of ball games. The Rotary won over Dick Evans, Inc. in Western League play, 6-5, and the Lions club downed Cree Drilling company, 7-5 in Pony League action.

Ellis Thornberry carded the win for Rotary, striking out eight and walking two. Allen Jenkins had a pair of doubles and David King two singles to pace the winners with the timber.

For the losers, Johnny Carlos

HERE'S HOW IT'S DONE — Allie Reynolds, the former mound ace for the New York Yankees, demonstrates how it's done to the little league and pony league ballplayers who swarmed around their hero to see Reynolds go through a few pitching motions on the opening day of the diamond season for the kids at the Optimist Park. Jaipur Misses Workouts For Preakness Saturday

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Only Jaipur was missing today as the candidates for Saturday's Preakness stakes engaged in their final workouts.

Jaipur is not due to check into Pimlico until Thursday, when the official entries will be accepted at a cost of $1,000 each. It will cost an additional $1,000 to start in this second jewel of the triple crown.

Owned by George Widener of New York, Jaipur did not run in the Kentucky Derby. In fact, he struck out 13 and walked six. Brown, Parker and Carlos each picked up a pair of singles for Dick Evans.

Miller Posts Win For Giants To Maintain Four Game Lead

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

The San Francisco Giants' rivals may have forgotten about soft-spoken, soft-throwing Stu Miller, but manager Alvin Dark hasn't.

Miller, the little relief ace who had a 14-5 record and 2.66 earned run average last season, hadn't worked for the Giants since May 5. Part of the reason was the nine-inning route-going ability of San Francisco pitchers and part was the surprising early relief work of Don Larsen.

Miller was ready Tuesday night however, when lefty Bill Pierce faltered in the eighth inning of a 6-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals that kept the Giants' early National League lead at four games.

Miller replaced Pierce after Doug Clemens and Ken Boyer singled to open the eighth and threatened the Giants 6-2 lead. The little curveballer yielded a run-scoring single by Gene Oliver but pitched out of the jam by retiring Julian Javier with the bases filled.

The win was the fifth straight for Pierce, who needs only six more victories to reach the 200 mark for his career. The Giants backed him with an eight-hit attack and handed Curt Simmons his first defeat after five straight triumphs.

The Cincinnati Reds shaded the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Milwaukee Braves, 5-4, the Los Angeles Dodgers outslug the Houston Colts, 10-7, and the New York Mets beat the Chicago Cubs, 6-5, in a four-hour and 54-minute 13-inning contest.

In the American League, the Minnesota Twins topped the Detroit Tigers, 4-2, the Boston Red Sox routed the New York Yankees, 14-4, the Kansas City A's downed the Cleveland Indians, 6-5, the Chicago White Sox beat the Washington Senators, 4-3, and the Baltimore Orioles scored a 7-1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

Vada Pinson's 12th homer paved the way for Joey Jay to win his fifth decision with late-inning relief help from Bill Henry, Dave Sisler and Ted Wills.

The Dodgers scored six runs on six hits and a walk with two out in the seventh inning to present relief pitcher Larry Sherry with his second triumph.

Smoky Burgess' 10th-inning single scored Dick Groat with the decisive run for the Pirates, who snapped a six-game losing streak. Rookie Denis Menke accounted for all the Braves' runs with a grand slam homer.

Rookie Cal Koonce walked Hobie Landrith with the bases filled and two out in the 13th inning to force in the Mets' winning run and end an ordeal of frustration in which 37 players saw action. The Mets left 19 runners on base and the Cubs wasted two homers by George Altman and solo homers by Ernie Banks and Billy Williams.

The Twins moved to within a half game of the AL lead with the aid of homers by Vic Power and Harmon Killebrew. Jack Krackiewicz went seven innings to win his third game while Frank Lary, making his first appearance since April 26, suffered the loss.

The Red Sox scored nine runs in the sixth inning to deal Ralph Terry his fourth loss and bring Bill Monbouquette his third win. Norm Siebern drove in four runs with two homers to reward Dave Wickersham's three innings of sturdy relief with his third victory. Willie Kirkland, Chuck Essean and John Romano homered for Cleveland.

Al Smith's two-run double was the big blow for the White Sox, who rallied from a 3-2 deficit in the eighth inning. Ray Herbert won his third game while Tom Cheney lost his first decision of the season.

Rookie John Powell hit two homers and drove in four runs as the Orioles beat the Angels behind the four-hit, 10-strikeout pitching of Milt Pappas. Tom Burgess homered for the Angels.

Two Longshots Produce Daily Doubles Victories

By United Press International

Uncle Sam — the government, not a horse — was a big winner at Aqueduct Tuesday when two longshots produced a whopping $1,073 daily double — the largest in two seasons at the New York track.

There were 144 $2 tickets and 11 $10 tickets sold on the 12-7 combination of Away With You ($15.60) and Black and White ($34.50). Any $2 daily double of $600 or more must be reported to the government's internal revenue bureau for tax purposes.

Away With You, unraced as a juvenile, romped to victory in the first race after being defeated in his first two starts this year. Don Pierce was aboard the Son of Revoked while Terry Boye rode Black and White, winless in his previous six starts this year.

The feature race also produced a longshot with Dedimud winning the six furlong event under Johnny Sellers. Dedimud, a 3-year-old son of Dedicate, paid $17.50 in beating Duc O'or by a half length. Rainy Lake, the odds-on favorite, finished third. At Hollywood Park, Fournell, with Ray York up, won the $17,175 Goose Girl stakes for 3-year-old fillies, paying $3.60. Nas-Mahal finished second and Savaii ran third in the six furlong event.

Bobby Perna piloted Pet Dare to a nose triumph over the late-surging Orazio in the mile and 70-yard feature at Garden State Park. Pet Dare, winless in his first five 1962 starts, paid $8.20 and was timed in 1:42.

At Suffolk Downs, Uim, ridden by Larry Grubb, paid $12.80 in winning his first start of the year. Hi-Lift was second and Amber Ruler ran third in the six furlong test.

Dick Winant's three victories topped the Churchill Downs action. He won on See U-There ($10.80) in the second, Spy Song Diamond ($5.80) in the fifth and Three Dot Day ($8.80) in the sixth.

Remittance Man ($6.40) won the feature at Pimlico; Venture (5.80) scored at Washington Park; Big Patton ($5.00) won at Detroit and Greek Law ($7.20) finished first at Tanforan.

Lucas Expected To Sign With Pipers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Three-time All-American Jerry Lucas is expected to sign a two-year contract today with the Cleveland Pipers of the American Basketball League.

Details of the pact were scheduled to be disclosed at a press conference called by the Pipers. Lucas, who arrived here late Tuesday night, met with a close friend, Joe Hardy, and Pipers President George Steinbrenner.

Lucas indicated the proposed contract called for a salary of about $10,000 a season, plus investments worth about $40,000.

He added that he decided to sign with the Pipers partially because he would be able to complete two quarters of work at Ohio State and get his degree before the start of the ABL's 1962-63 season.

The fact that the ABL plays fewer games than the National Basketball League also was a factor, Lucas said.

Lucas' decision, to sign with the Pipers was disclosed Tuesday in a copyrighted article in Sports Illustrated magazine.

The article, written by Lucas, detailed his reasons for rejecting a pro career until now. "The Pipers had carefully studied my objections to professional basketball and came prepared with answers," he wrote.

Meanwhile officials of the Cincinnati Royals of the NBA expressed surprise at Lucas' disclosure.

Executive Vice President Thomas Grayson and coach Charles Wolf, who played golf with Lucas Tuesday, said he told them he would make a decision within the next 10 days.

Royals' General Manager Pepper Wilson said "until we get a definite no, or confirmation that he's signed a contract, as far as we're concerned we're still in the running."

Lucas was the number one draft choice of both the Pipers and the Royals. The signing of Lucas is considered a big boost for the ABL which began operation last season.

Big Cat Is Hoping To Fight Machen

HOUSTON (UPI)—Cleveland (Big Cat) Williams, who did to Alonzo Johnson what 29 other opponents couldn't do, said today he wants to fight second-ranked heavyweight Eddie Machen next.

Williams wants to move up from his present position as sixth-ranked contender.

Johnson, 195, stepped into the ring Tuesday night without having been knocked out in his previous 29 fights. Williams, 210, took just 2 minutes and 26 seconds to wipe that away, and chalk up his 54th victory in 58 fights, 45 of them by knockouts.

Williams was scheduled to tangle with Machen in February, but the New York bout had to be postponed when Machen was sidelined by a training injury.

Since the postponement, Williams has stayed in shape by knocking out three unranked boxers.

Johnson, a Pennsylvania fighter who brought a 21-8 record to Houston with him, never landed a blow. Williams put him away with a flashing left hook.

In preliminary bouts, Manuel Gonzales, 146, Odessa, Tex., won a unanimous 10-round decision over Daulton Caro, 150, Dallas, and Todd Herring, 212, Houston, knocked out Al Gonzalez, 187, Odessa in 2:51 of the sixth round.

Tulsa Opens Up Texas Loop Lead

United Press International "Homer-happy" Tulsa, led by its one-man gang Jeffrey Long, whipped another Texas League team Tuesday night and opened a 2½ game gap over second-place Austin.

The Oilers mauled last-place Amarillo, 12-3, while Austin fell, 6-3, to San Antonio. Albuquerque edged El Paso, 9-8, in the other contest.

Tulsa had three home runs in a 19-hit bombardment against four Gold Sox hurlers. Weldon Mauldin coasted along with a 10-hitter. The big noise was provided by Long's 15th home run of the season, and a bases-loaded blast by Charles Maxville. Everett Krug also hit for the circuit for Tulsa.

Austin got a three-run homer from Raymond Withrow, but that was its only offensive fireworks of the night. The Missions, backed by Don Davis and Roger McCordell who belted home runs, whizzed past the Senators with runs in the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 6th innings.

Albuquerque overcame El Paso's nightly "home-run thunder" with a 9th inning two-run rally for its narrow victory.

The Sun Kings got two four-batters but their pitching fell apart.

Tonight's schedule is the same.

The Pampa Daily News

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control; no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to set its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Credit To Credit

One hears outcries from time to time that the American people, through easy credit buying, are on the thin edge between affluence and the poorhouse.

There was even one case in the news recently of a man who embarked with his family for Australia to escape the "American rat race" of seductive advertising and keeping up with the Joneses.

A more sober appraisal of our buying habits, however, puts these fears in their proper perspective. Undoubtedly, many persons go into debt unnecessarily. But the vast majority who make use of installment credit and they form half the purchasing population (or "spending units")—do so in a conservative manner.

According to the findings of a University of Michigan survey team, the burden of installment debt is no higher than it was five years ago.

The middle or low income family spends about the same proportion of its income on automobiles, furniture, appliances and house repairs as does the high income family. Significantly, however, use of installment buying is increasing among families earning over $10,000.

Formerly, installment buying was considered a middle income trait. The economists explain the change by the fact that many families have advanced into the higher income group in the last few years and have carried over the habit.

Only 10 per cent of the spending units interviewed had debts representing 20 per cent or more of their annual income. And those who tended to make new purchases were generally those with successful records of installment buying in the past.

No Accounting For Tastes

Change, the one great certainty, makes itself felt in every facet of American existence. Long since it has invaded our tables, as we have steadily loaded our diet more heavily with meat, poultry and eggs, while cutting down on potatoes.

That old staple, bread by the loaf, has been losing ground for years. Still, it comes as a surprise to learn that U.S. bakeries in the years of 1947-58 produced an average of nine fewer loaves of white, rye and whole wheat bread per person.

Looking at breadstuffs altogether, the loss is not quite total. For the average person in that period ate an extra three pounds of rolls and buns and nearly as much more raisin and diet bread.

Like most everything else about us, our palates seem over the years to have become increasingly specialized—and more demanding.

Wilderness Or Progress

During the past two or three years some mighty expensive propaganda has been released to promote what is called "The Wilderness Act." The matter is pending now and it is quite likely that the pro-government people will pass the measure.

Headquarters for pushing this particular brand of nonsense has been a number of nature-loving societies scattered around the country who are appalled at every effort to mine, or to cut timber, to get a nature's resources. They want a wilderness that is untouched by the hand of man. And to promote what they want, they take up the cudgel against "commercialism" and expose thousands of feet of film to show how marvelous the wilderness can be if man will only leave it alone.

If one were to take these people literally, and assuming the extension of the argument to its logical conclusions, we would be tempted to suggest that the whole planet might look a lot better if homo sapiens had never come to live here. This being the direction of the argument, perhaps a society might be formed to encourage the migration of the race to some far star so that good old planet Terra Firma could regain its pristine beauty before the defiling hand of man was raised.

"We can be as deeply moved as any when it comes to nature's grandeur. But we certainly aren't going to suggest that it would be "good" for the human race to turn great territories over to the government so that nature rather than man can be served.

Man has managed to survive on this planet because of his remarkable ability to convert natural resources to his use, not because of any great affection for untouched wilderness. And with an increasing population, and enormous new products, food stuffs and facilities needed on every hand, to propose that wilderness be sustained... further, that this would be "for the permanent good of the whole people" is about as silly as anything we've heard in a long time.

As a matter of fact, there is a splendid way out of this impasse created by growing demands for more natural resources, and equally clamorous demands for pristine wilderness. The route is so simple that we marvel at the failure of those really interested in championing it.

All that has to be done is to refuse utterly to call on the government in this case. Let those who want wilderness, proceed to buy up the land they wish to retain in its primitive state. Having done so, they would be well within their rights to insist that no hostile hand be raised against the forests, the hills, the prairies or the mountains.

On the other hand, those who wish to buy up land for the purpose of getting at the resources the whole human populace is pining to acquire, would be well within their rights if they owned the land themselves and made use of it according to their several interests.

This is a perfectly valid solution. Indeed, if the opponents of an everlasting wilderness had used the money they have committed to propaganda for the purpose of buying up acres, today they would own some enormous tracts and be firmly entrenched in carrying forward their particular hobby.

But, no. Our society is so committed to violence as a way of life that the pro-wilderness people aren't content to own and manage what they can buy; they wish to impose their wills on everyone in the nation. And, unfortunately, those who are to be made the victims of this enormous governmental take-over can only think of protecting them in their own holdings.

So, the exploiters will use the government to rip the rights of land ownership out of the hands of private producers; and the men who own land privately will try to use the government to protect the very rights the government and the wilderness people wish to oppose.

The solution to the whole thing is in private ownership of all land and the ouster of government from the proprietorship of any land whatsoever.

We don't suppose this idea will be met with serious acceptance in many quarters. Nonetheless, this is the solution and the only valid outcome which would permit all parties to use land in the way each party thinks is best.

Any other procedure resting upon a law and a government decision will result in rising taxes, loss of rights, and an invoked force by means of which some will win and others will lose.

PROOF OF 'NO WIN' POLICIES

When Senator Strom Thurmond said that the Kennedy administration was following "no win" policies, many Americans simply refused to even consider his charge. Others attempted to laugh the Senator's questions out of court. A special Armed Services subcommittee, supposed to inquire into the matter, has behaved as though it were doing Senator Thurmond a personal favor to review the "no win" issue.

But in Geneva, Switzerland, the Kennedy administration revealed to the people of the United States its real intentions. The U.S. delegation to the disarmament conference proposed that all national armies be abolished and replaced by a United Nations "peace force." That proposal is solid proof of what Senator Thurmond has charged, namely, that the New Frontiersmen want to surrender defense of the United States to a U.N. military force.

The American people should carefully consider the implications of the Kennedy administration proposal. It is as outrageous as anything ever advanced by officials theoretically in the service of this country.

In the first place, defense of the national sovereignty is not an obligation that the President of the United States can hand over to an international body. According to the wise provision of the founding fathers, who wrote the U.S. Constitution, the President is the "commander in chief" of the army and navy. In other words, Congress cannot provide funds for national defense, and then have the President delegate his authority to a committee of military men from Poland, Indonesia and Morocco. To "provide for the common defense" is a duty that the President must obey. When he swears to uphold the U.S. Constitution, the President promises not to abandon his duties.

But when the administration proposed replacement of the national armed forces by a U.N. "peace force" he is proposing abandonment of his duty. And consider the effects of such abandonment by a Chief Executive. The United Nations today is a motley collection of more than 100 countries, the overwhelming majority of which are unfriendly to or distrustful of the United States. Many of these countries are Soviet satellites or allied to Russia. Others, like India, Ghana, Morocco, Ceylon, etc., are neutrals that invariably favor the Soviet Union and Red China when there is a dispute involving the United States. Only a small bloc of countries in the U.N. are still good friends of the American republic. So if a U.N. "peace force" were created, that military force unquestionably would be dominated by countries that have no love for the United States.

Without a strong military establishment, the United States would be outnumbered and exposed to disaster. The world is full of envious and greedy nations that hate the United States for the prosperity it has achieved. The Kiangsi invasion has provided all the precedent the communists and neutralists would need in attacking the U.S. in the interest of a phony "peace." In other words, such a "peace force" could impose military rule on portions of the United States. If the unfriendly majority thought that the U.S. was not behaving properly it could send Ethiopians or Gurkhas or other U.N. "mercenaries" to invade and occupy the United States.

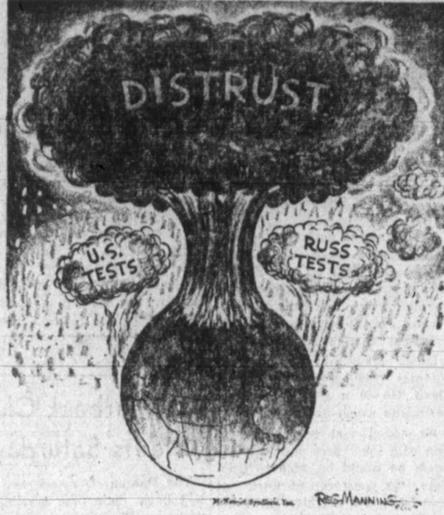

Sounds fantastic? Well, practically everything that happens in the U.N. these days is fantastic. Attacking anti-communist countries and giving financial help to communist countries such as Poland and Yugoslavia is fantastic. Yet it takes place. Pouring of national substance into faraway countries that show contempt for the U.S. is fantastic. Yet that is what the Kennedy administration is doing. Invasion of the United States by a U.N. "peace force" also is fantastic, to be sure. But it could take place in this mad world.

Advocates of "no win" policies don't attempt to conceal their tricks these days. That's the significance of the disarmament proposal in Geneva. They openly declare their eagerness for the United States to abandon its national defense and depend on the whim of the communists and neutralists. Citizens who love this great republic must put on the armor of zeal for country and work to overcome the political forces that are willing to surrender American sovereignty to the U.N.

State Dept. Proposing "Two-China" Policy in UN-Nationalists to Retain Security Council Seat

WASHINGTON — Sweeping changes in U.S. relations with the Communist and National Chinese governments are proposed in a new master plan of this nation's foreign policy objectives.

Entitled "Basic National Security Policy," the explosive 286-page State Department document recommends:

U.S. adoption of a "two-China" policy under which the Chinese Communist government would be admitted to the United Nations; Peiping be given a seat in the United Nations General Assembly, while the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa would retain its seat on the UN Security Council.

New diplomatic pressure be brought on the Chinese Nationalists to evacuate their troops from the offshore island of Quemoy and Matsu.

The master plan, with these recommendations and 30 other major foreign policy and military strategy changes, is being circulated at the highest level in the Kennedy Administration for comment from other cabinet members.

Prepared by Dr. Walt W. Rostow, counselor and chairman of the Policy Planning Council of the State Department, this document will go to the National Security Council, the government's highest policy-making body, in June for a formal review.

Administration officials who have read Rostow's document say it is the most important policy paper proposed by any Administration official since President Kennedy took office.

Quoting literally from Winston Churchill and the Declaration of Independence, the Rostow plan rules out any U.S. military action against the Soviet Union or Communist China unless those nations launch a nuclear attack against the U.S. or Europe.

It calls for the Kennedy administration to adopt a completely defensive containment policy against the spread of international Communism, stating that the ultimate U.S. objective is a peaceful world in which every nation can determine its own destiny.

THE BIG SWITCH — In proposing a new China policy, the Rostow document argues that the only practical solution is to admit Red China (as "China") and Formosa as a separate and independent state.

The plan is to offer Peiping a seat in the General Assembly on a par with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists, but leave the permanent Security Council seat to the Nationalists.

If Peiping refused, this would at least remove from the U.S. the onus of blocking its admission, according to Rostow's document. U.S. recognition of Communist China would depend on whether Peiping accepted the "two-China" approach.

According to U.S. Intelligence estimates, there is not the slightest chance at the present time that Peiping would accept such second-class membership while Chiang retained the all-important Security Council seat. Moreover, Chiang has warned the U.S. that he would veto any proposal to tamper with the status quo.

Chiang's forced evacuation of the offshore islands is recommended as a major U.S. move to lessen tensions between Peiping and Washington.

Pegler Says:

Liberals Call Birchers Terror Plotting Fascists

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

A few miles east of Pecos, Tex., there is a tall signboard, mounted on metal pipes, having a dark green background with light green letters of luminous paint, which reads "Uphold the Constitution. Impeach Earl Warren. Write Your Congressman."

This might be the work of the John Birch Society, which is strong in Midland, Odessa, Pampa and other cities of the Texas plains. The wear and tear on Birch people calls for dogged courage. The only one I met in Pecos who would admit that he was a member said he and his wife had been harassed by abusive phone calls night and day and ostracized socially and in business. But he was not whining. He and his family have tightened their belts, he has a tough set to his jaw and he compared their experience to that of a Jewish family in Munich when Hitler was on the rise.

The Yellow-Dog Texas Democrats and the Liberals, of the overall political force which is coming to be called The Establishment, are badly queered in their thinking in this situation. They are the dominant political power in the United States, their published abuse of the Conservatives is ferocious and yet they constantly depict the John Birch people as Fascists plotting terror.

It were futile to speculate whether there will be blood on the moon in this rebellion of the Conservatives against The Establishment, which includes New York as a political center, Hayward and much of the national magazine press. If so, it will not be Liberal or Democratic gore but the blood of this rising minority which elected John Tower, a Republican, to the Senate from Texas. I think John Birch is bigger than it seems, I have never praised the Society except to admire its principles, while rejecting its leadership, but for every kind word I get hundreds and hundreds of letters from people who either profess to be members or don't have to.

The person I admire most in Pecos is Mrs. W. E. Carpenter, the society editor, photographer, historian and Gunga Din of the conservative bi-weekly paper called the Independent and Enterprise. Mrs. Carpenter is known as Marj, a friendly familiarity which readily springs from the heart to the lips. She knocks off work at China are continually on guard not to bend the bow too far. The clashes in world Communism have shown them that grave consequences may result from a too uninhibited struggle. The present "peace feelers" obviously represent an effort on their part not to permit these dangerous developments to get out of hand.

The Japanese International Trade Ministry has approved a $1.5 million sale of 200 trucks to Red China. Peiping also is sounding out the Japanese on the purchase of heavy electrical machinery, chemical equipment and other capital goods "on delayed payment terms."

Under the new Finnish-Soviet trade agreement, Russia has agreed to build a giant power plant on the Kola Peninsula. When completed in 1965, the plant will be the largest of its kind in Finland.

FOREIGN FLASHES — The Dutch KLM airline has agreed to establish regular service to Albania, satellite of Red China. The airline and Albanian Communist government have come to terms on that, and the new route will open next week. It will be via Amsterdam to Munich to Dubrovnik to Tirana, and from there to Beirut via Brindisi. In exchange for this deal, KLM is guaranteed an air route to Red China.

How times have changed in Santo Domingo! A newly-enacted law bars public praise of the late dictator Trujillo; including all "writings, drawings, paintings and emblems" regarding his long and bloody tyranny. Penalties for violations of this new act are up to one year in jail and a fine of 500 pesos, or both.

The Japanese Defense Ministry has approved the creation of a submarine force. Construction of the underwater craft will be in Japanese shipyards, and by 1965, seven subs are slated to be in service.

A bulls-eye commentary in the Neue Ruhr Zeitung, leading West German independent newspaper, on the constantly recurring reports of an alleged "deep rift" between Moscow and Peiping says: "In spite of everything, there are many indications on both sides that Soviet and Red noon to hurry home and feed the children. When the press is clanking in the back room of the one-story building, she turns to with Oscar Griffin, the editor, Alan Propp, the publisher, and whoever else is handy-by, to stuff the little second section into the first section and toss the bundles to the carrier boys.

Her father was a New York kid who found himself on the Mexican Border in 1916 and in France in 1917 and '18. When he got back he lit out for Texas again and Marj was born down in the Rio Grande Valley. I guess her dad was something like Jeff Burd, Jr., the son of the New York reporter I knew so long ago.

Jeff Junior, who is now running a crop-dusting business with his own planes down in the Valley, recently wrote me that when he was discharged at Fort Dix in 1945, "I didn't even stop to visit. I got on a train and rejoined the little Texan I had married during a sojourn at the Amarillo Air Base as quickly as I could. We've had it rough at times but we've had it good, too and enjoyed every minute of it. We've got two sweet kids, Jeff and Patti, 14 and 12, and I look like hell, gray and losing hair, but my little Texan is still sharp at 35."

Marj Carpenter writes fine pieces about shootings, hangings and other social events out of the memory of Pecos neighbors who are getting along now. She is fixing to run a story on a massacre of white people by the poor, bedeviled, dispossessed Comanches from the handwritten diary of an old lady who was in it.

Marj's recent story on Page One with an old photograph of cowboys at a chuck wagon recalled that the cattlers went to war with "Foreign" corporations which bought up miles of range and fenced the resident cowmen out of the water holes and the belly-high grass. The pioneers craved range. One of them pulled out because a nester was crowding him—28 miles away. The stockmen were furious at the sight of cattle lacerated by the barbs. Having no experience with barbed wire, the poor brutes would run full tilt against the fences.

Texas law allowed a man seven square miles of school land under certain conditions and some operators got their cowboys to take seven sections each and, in time, controlled whole counties.

"Great hatred sprang up between the free grass and the pasturemen. Every election was carried or lost on that issue," Marj writes.

Now, the grass is down to nubbins or plowed under and cotton slickers in air-cooled offices far away are fleeing the Government for legal boodle for unforming great spreads of brown soil.

Just outside Pecos, a little east of Pecos, there is a cordial roadside invitation which reads: "Pyote Cafe. Hurible Fude."

Bid For A Smile

The anxious husband accompanied the doctor to the door, and asked, "Hubband — Just what exactly is the trouble with her, doctor?" Doctor (gravely) — Well, the pulse is an absolutely accurate indicator. Her pulse indicates that she has been indulging in too much strong drink.

The husband made plain his doubts as to the accuracy of the doctor's diagnosis, but the doctor insisted that there were no two ways about it, and departed in something of a huff.

The husband immediately repaired to the sick room, and was even more disturbed to find his wife laughing in an abandoned fashion. When he told her of the doctor's diagnosis, she merely burst into newer and greater peals of laughter.

She — When the doctor requested to feel my pulse, I held out my hand. But he took his own hand by mistake.

A commentary on the times is that the noun "honesty" now is usually preceded by "old-fashioned."
