Behind Closed Doors Today

McClellan Subcommittee To Hear Testimony On Estes' Operations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators hoped to start taking testimony behind closed doors today on the operations of indicted Texas farm tycoon Billie Sol Estes.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., called an afternoon meeting of the Senate investigations subcommittee. Interviews were planned for the morning, and McClellan expected to take testimony from some witnesses at the afternoon session, scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. EDT.

McClellan declined to name any witnesses in advance. He said some out-of-towners might be questioned, as well as officials from government agencies in Washington.

Informed sources said the Senate investigators had quietly arranged to examine the income tax files of Estes and others involved in his dealings with the government.

They said McClellan's subcommittee had asked for tax records of Estes and three former government officials who lost their jobs as a result of disclosures arising from Estes' grain and cotton operations. An executive order gives the subcommittee the right to make use of tax returns.

The subcommittee also was reported looking into investments from abroad in Estes' dealings. A subcommittee source said one lead suggests that at least one $1 million investment was made from overseas in Estes' farm empire.

The subcommittee staff is interested, this source said, in whether other investments from abroad

Mysterious Death Will Be Probed

FRANKLIN, Tex. (UPI) — A grand jury today opened an investigation into the mysterious death of Henry Marshall, an Agriculture Department agent who may have known more about the cotton allotment dealings of Billie Sol Estes than any other agricultural official.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman said many facts of the Estes case died with Marshall last June 3. Marshall was found with five bullet holes in his chest. A 22-caliber bolt-action rifle was nearby.

Justice of the Peace Lee Farmer ruled the death a suicide. The shooting happened in Robertson County.

State Dist. Judge John M. Barron said at least 54 subpoenas had been issued and hinted more could be expected. Barron and Dist. Atty. Bryan Russ called the grand jury.

Freeman was invited to come to Franklin "if he has any pertinent information" to offer the grand jury. Franklin is located near Bryan.

W. Lewis David, executive director of the USDA's agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Administration in Texas, said Marshall was the first government employe to obtain evidence against Estes.

Marshall, 62, had worked for the USDA 26 years.

have been made in the Estes enterprises and whether Estes, himself, has foreign assets.

The subcommittee request was separate from an investigation of the tax returns of Estes and others in the case now being conducted by the Internal Revenue Service.

The internal revenue auditors are looking for possible tax evasion. The Senate investigators are looking for recorded transactions which might be used as leads in determining whether improper influence was used in Estes' behalf and whether he was given favored treatment.

In addition to the records of Estes who has been indicted on fraud charges the subcommittee has asked to study the income tax files of:

600 Are Treated For Food Poisoning Following Armed Forces Day Dinner

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — A lively Armed Forces Day dinner for 4,000 Ft. Jackson visitors and servicemen Sunday apparently brought violent illness to about 600 persons treated for food poisoning.

It was a fried chicken dinner served in 94-degree weather which Columbia doctors believed hospitalized almost 200 persons in the area.

In fact, the hospitals in the capital city area were so crowded treating food poison patients that at least one bus load of sick persons received a state highway patrol escort 65 miles.

There were no deaths reported from the food poisoning.

Many doctors who treated the victims diagnosed their illness as food poisoning but one military official denied it.

"There is no evidence of food poisoning," said Col. Thomas G. Faison, hospital commander at Ft. Jackson, after 112 persons had been admitted to Army medical facilities. Hundreds of others had been treated by Army personnel and then released.

"It appears to be a combination of heat exhaustion, over-exertion and over-indulgence of food and drink," he added.

However, while military authorities were examining further into the illnesses, many local physicians said they were definitely treating food poisoning.

"We called it acute gastroenteritis (inflammation of the living membrane of the stomach and the intestines) and our patients have been violently ill in some cases," said one doctor who treated a number of patients at Baptist Hospital.

Mrs. Martha Dickson, a lab technician at Baptist Hospital, was one of the 4,000 to go through three cafeteria lines which were set up on the reviewing field at Ft. Jackson, the Army's infantry training center.

"None of the food was iced," she said. "I was expecting somebody to get sick."

The food, prepared at mess halls, included fried chicken, potato salad, stringbeans, coffee, grape juice, rolls and butter, brownies, and ice cream.

The meal was eaten both outside and in huge Army tents and was served about 11 a.m.

The first cases of food poisoning were reported about 3 p.m. and then there was a steady stream of patients all with the same symptoms: nausea, vomiting, weakness and in a few cases, blackouts.

Dr. Leonard W. Larson, AMA president, said in a statement on Sunday night that giant rallies could not conceal that the administration measure "would force an immediate 17 per cent payroll tax increase on workers earning $5,200 or more and their employers. These taxes would be used to provide health care for millions of others financially able to take care of themselves."

Larson said the administration plan would give the federal government "dangerous power to control medical practice in hospitals. The quality of medical care would suffer." He said the medical profession is "for the Kerr-Mills law to help those who need help."

The group left Pampa and arrived in Borger about 3 p.m. where they were given a city-wide welcome. The visit in Borger is being sponsored by the Phillips Petroleum Co.

AMA Is Set To Slug Back At JFK Punch

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Medical Association (AMA) was set to slug back to B. Johnson and several Kennedy Cabinet members spoke at the meetings.

The President asked physicians to write directly to him for information about the administration-backed bill rather than rely on the AMA for it. He said he could not recognize the bill as explained by the AMA Journal.

Kennedy rejected the idea that medical care financed through Social Security taxes would sap the Dr. R. W. Moore, secretary-treasurer of the Gray County Medical Association, today called attention to a special program to be carried on KGNC-TV at 7 p.m. today.

Dr. Moore said the program would consist of a reply by the American Medical Association to President Kennedy's Madison Square Garden speech of Sunday afternoon and to the administration's campaign to sell the nation its medicare program.

Tonight's program has been bought and paid for by the nation's doctors to counter the President's arguments in yesterday's telecast, Dr. Moore stated.

across the nation on behalf of his plan to finance medical care for the aged through the Social Security program.

Kennedy, in a speech to 22,000 persons in New York City's Madison Square Garden and a nationwide television audience, went over the head of the AMA to support his program — the King-Anderson bill.

The AMA, bitter opponent of the administration plan, announced it would reply to Kennedy at 8 p.m. EDT, on a nationally televised program (Your Doctor Reports — NBC-TV).

He said that nothing could possibly 'destroy self-reliance more than the burden of massive medical bills being passed on from patients to other generations.

Kennedy said that a "busy organization" was lobbying against the bill. He cited a heavy volume of mail against the measure that

Violent Weather For Area Is Seen Today

At least six tornadoes ripped into Northwestern Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma Sunday. No deaths or serious injuries were reported, but damage was heavy.

The rain gauge above The News building measured .11 inch of moisture yesterday for Pampa.

The area was braced today for more anticipated thundershowers.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said conditions in western Texas are favorable for another buildup of violent weather this afternoon.

The tornadoes were accompanied by large hail and heavy rain. Power lines were knocked down, farm buildings demolished, crops damaged and livestock killed.

The outlook for the rest of the state was warm and dry weather. Patchy fog covered portions of East and Southeast Texas during the early morning, but lifted after daybreak. Overnight low temperatures ranged from 47 at Dalhart to 75 at Corpus Christi.

Four of the twisters were reported in the Texas Panhandle and North Central Texas. No injuries were reported. The wheat crop took a beating in the Vernon and Electra areas.

One tornado wrecked power lines, destroyed fences, and demolished farm buildings 11 miles south of Vernon. Some livestock loss was reported. Another leveled a barn and other farm buildings 10 miles southeast of Shamrock in the eastern Panhandle. A third smashed a barn and damaged a house five miles north of the Wichita Falls airport. A twister was reported west of Lockett on the Waggoner Ranch.

Heavy hail and high wind struck Crowell and Thalia. Windows were broken and crops damaged.

In neighboring Oklahoma, a small tornado dipped to the ground 2½ miles west of Frederick. A ham radio operator reported a funnel on the ground north of Duncan. It lifted back into the clouds without doing any damage to buildings, he said.

There were no reported injuries from the Oklahoma tornadoes.

Presidio as usual recorded the nationwide high—105 degrees. Laredo had 96. Amarillo had the low maximum of 73 degrees.

Among problems to be taken up at the sessions, the mayor said, will be plans for City Hall improvements, park programs, water and sewer rates, review of the city's financial setup, tax analysis and street improvement programs.

"These are just some of the things we hope to go into," the mayor said. "We find that we do not have time at regular meetings to go into all of the avenues that need discussion."

The mayor said it was necessary to hold the panel discussions at night, since most of the city commissioners are busy with their own businesses during the daytime.

US Troops Movements Denounced As 5,000-Man Goal Is Approached

By EUGENE McLOUGHLIN
United Press International

Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels, proclaimed himself ready today to talk with his rival neutralists and pro-Western princes about coalition government for Laos.

The prince coupled his statement with a denunciation of American troop movements to Thailand and accused the United States of "taking a new step in their scheme to rekindle and expand war in Laos."

The prince's statement was broadcast by the clandestine Voice of Laos radio and rebroadcast by North Viet Nam's Radio Hanoi.

It comprised the first direct statement by the prince that he is willing to resume negotiations, although several of his followers had said he would do so.

The 5,000-man American task force neared the end of its buildup in Thailand just four days after the first Marines landed in Bangkok.

The Marines went quietly about their business of shoring up Thailand's resistance to communism despite the barrage of propaganda from Peiping and Moscow.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, in a 4,000-word communique at the end of his Bulgarian visit, denounced the American move as an "extension of the aggressive actions of the United States against the peoples of Southeast Asia."

He did not mention that Thailand's military buildup in Thailand neared its 5,000-man goal today and American officials expressed satisfaction with their speedy deployment to defense positions.

The last few hundred reinforcements were flying in from Hawaii on 13-hour, one-stop flights.

U.S. Ambassador Kenneth Todd Young told newsmen Sunday that American forces will remain in Thailand "so long as the situation remains confused, dangerous and a threat to Thailand's security."

Young indicated that a political settlement among the three rival princes of neighboring Laos would not necessarily mean U.S. troops would leave Thailand immediately.

The Thai government is concerned about internal subversion and is particularly anxious to silence the clandestine "Voice of Thailand" radio which has been broadcasting Communist propaganda.

Radio direction finders have pinpointed its location in the Plain of Jars, rebel-held territory in Laos.

The Marines set up a temporary field camp near Udorn, about 35 miles from the Laotian capital of Vientiane. Ambassador Young said they probably would be deployed to more permanent positions within a week but would be stationed in "ready positions," not barracks.

R. C. Parker, Highway Patrol officer who assisted in the investigation, said the accident happened at 2:45 p.m. He said the pick-up truck was traveling west during a heavy rainstorm and apparently struck a slippery spot in the pavement and overturned.

An oncoming Greyhound bus also traveling west, was unable to stop and struck the truck, which burst into flames. Officers said the pick-up had a camper unit bolted to the truck frame and carried a small butane tank which exploded when the vehicle was struck.

Officers said little damage was reported to the bus and the passengers were not injured in the collision.

Positive identification has not been made and further investigation is pending the arrival of a son from California.

The bodies were buried in the Lamb Funeral Home.

Up With Chickens Is For The Birds!!!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I live in a city where most people aren't farmers, but they have to get up early in the morning to get to government jobs or to take their children to school. All we can get on the radio at breakfast time is talk about dying chickens, coxidia, rat poison, hoof and mouth disease, calf scours, worms and insect sprays. This makes it very difficult to down a poached egg.

It seems to me they could give us shopping bargains, home building improvements and things to discuss with hubby while he's still home. I bet the farmers are out doing chores at that hour. And anyway, even farmers don't like pip and crud for breakfast.

DEAR EARLY: I'll send your letter to the F. C. C. — as if they don't have enough headaches.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to TOO TALL, women in the know go for small men. That's why they go wild over Latin-Americans and fight over jockeys. The big, tall men fall apart earlier. They get pot-bellies and double chins and succumb to heart attacks in their mid-forties, while the little wiry man is still going strong. The next time you go to a dance, notice that the best dancers on the floor are the smaller men. Half the women married to tall, dark and handsome men would love to trade them for the little runt they wouldn't go out with before they got married.

VOICE OF EXPERIENCE
DEAR ABBY: I have a pen pal. She is a 22-year-old woman living in a foreign country. She is anxious to come to this country and wants to marry me. We have exchanged pictures and she is very pretty. I know very little of her past, but she writes interesting letters and tells me how much she loves me. I have sent her money on different occasions when she has asked me to help her out. That was foolish, wasn't it? My experience with women has been limited as I am slightly handicapped. I've never been married. I am not a kid. Can you advise me how to get out of this correspondence without hurting her?

"THIRTY-SIX"
DEAR "THIRTY-SIX": Write her and tell her that you think it best to terminate the correspondence. You do not owe her any explanation. You were foolish to "help her out" with money, knowing so little about her. Break and break clean.

DEAR ABBY: I don't see why that lady kicked up such a fuss because her husband mentioned other women's names in his sleep. I would rather have my husband dreaming ABOUT someone else than dreaming WITH her.

John Sets Fashions Just As Jackie Does

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Just as Mrs. John F. Kennedy exerts a powerful influence on feminine fashions, so does the President on what the well-dressed man will wear. The man who says so heads a firm which for three generations has been tailor for diplomats, dukes, bankers, corporation presidents, an occasional movie star, a congressman—and currently lists President Kennedy as one of its customers. It also lists most of the Kennedy sons including Robert, the attorney general; also the Duke of Windsor; two former ambassadors to the Court of St. James—John Hay Whitney and Winthrop Aldrich—and the current one, David Bruce.

tailors are conceding that he is one of the world's best-dressed men... and you know how proud the British are of their own. Harris said the two-button suit his firm created for Mr. Kennedy now is spreading through the men's apparel field. "It gives a longer line to a man's build than the three-button," he said. The tailoring firm, which now is affiliated with Rogers Peet, has listed John F. Kennedy as a customer since immediately after World War II. All the Kennedy boys are quiet dressers, he said, and "the President'll scream when he sees what I'm making up for him. But he'll wear it." He pulled off a rack a medium blue town suit—Harris' name for the business suit—in a subtle glen plaid. It looked quiet to this observer, but the tailor said Kennedy probably would consider it loud. The President shops by phone and in person. And, as in the case of all his customers, Harris has patterns cut to the presidential figure, which is six feet, one and one-half inch height, 42 chest, 34 waist. The measurements stay pretty consistent, Harris said, "which is more than I can say of a lot of my customers. About 70 per cent of them are on diets." "I get customers with a 40 chest and 50 waist who want to look like Kennedy," he said. "I just tell 'em I'll do my best." When the President is in New York, he either visits the Harris shop on Fifth Avenue or Harris goes to his suite at the Carlyle Hotel to give the Chief Executive a fitting and altering of the "on file" pattern if necessary. By keeping the pattern of each customer up to date this way, one can call Harris at any time and say, "run me up a couple or three summer suits. I'll let you decide the fabric." Or, a wife can call—and many wives do, including Mrs. Kennedy. But Harris said that he, and apparently the First Lady, are having no luck getting the President to wear a topcoat.

We were, also, glad to have Mrs. Helen Miller of Tonkawa, Okla. with us. She is an old friend of Mrs. Verda Adair, who brought her. She is "helping out" in her son's home, while Mrs. Cecil Miller is in the hospital convalescing from major surgery.

Mrs. D. M. Porter and daughter, Ruth, were guests of her mother, Mrs. C. G. Miller and son, Bill, while in Pampa Friday attending the organ festival conducted by Tarpley's in the Coronado Inn.

Mrs. Joe Mullen attended a family reunion at the Boat and Ski Lodge at Thompson's Park in Amarillo one day last week. Fifty-three were present; coming from several surrounding counties. Mrs. Mullen reports a very good time.

Mrs. E. B. Smith and daughter, Corinne, have returned from a three weeks' vacation in South Texas. They visited relatives at Glen Flora, Wheaton and Corpus Christi. They also saw the damage done on Poudre Island and Mustang Island. So nice to take a trip this time of year.

Glad to report that Frank Herlacher is able to be in a wheel chair part of the time. Mr. Herlacher is in the Veteran's Hospital in Amarillo and enjoys his friends dropping in. Mrs. A. L. Long enjoyed three days this week with her son, R. L. Long and family on Campbell Street.

Now, for the first time you can apply the brakes to stomach distress before the trouble begins. Up to now, anti-acids have been used mostly to relieve stomach upset after suffering the pangs of distress. Now, thanks to a new, natural formulation called MIAZYME you may eliminate the discomforts of indigestion, heartburn and intestinal gas caused by poor digestion of foods.

If you properly digest the food you eat, chances are you will not suffer stomach distress. This is because of the action of enzymes, manufactured in the digestive process. When these enzymes fall below par—as age increases, enzymatic action may become inadequate, or, as medical science knows, today's fast, hectic living pace can create distress caused by stomach tensions—you are apt to suffer indigestion, gas, bloating, heartburn, cramps and other uncomfortable forms of stomach upset.

Why risk making the anti-acid mistake? Just two MIAZYME capsules a day is all it takes to help eliminate the discomforts of indigestion, heartburn, gas and open the door to new vistas in food enjoyment.

MIAZYME contains no narcotics! No habit forming drugs! No harmful side effects, taken as directed. So safe, no prescription is needed! Get MIAZYME today at your favorite drug store and break the anti-acid routine. Try it for 6 days on a NO RISK GUARANTEE. You must be completely satisfied or your money refunded. Regular size, $1.50. Economy size, $3.00.

JFK Seeks Help For Economy Of Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy appealed today to leaders of organized labor, business and the public to forget party or organization labels and help the administration get the economy going at "full blast."

The chief executive, opening a White House conference on national economic issues, said he needed support from every group to make the United States a "model for the world."

Kennedy told about 200 delegates that this country's task is to try to match recent economic growth achieved by France, West Germany and Italy and still avoid inflation.

He specifically asked the conference to propose ways to halt the flow of gold and dollars resulting from the U. S. balance of payments deficit.

Kennedy said the nation needed advice on how to make a free economy work at full capacity.

He said that much of the squabbling between labor unions and management in collective bargaining could be eliminated if the country's economy was expanding at a faster rate.

"If we can operate the economy at full blast," he said, slicing up the economic pie into wages, profits and dividends would be much simpler.

Problems crop up, he said, when plants are operating at 70 per cent of capacity and manage-

"The Dragon" is Free China's gift to the free world. We are bringing it to the government and the people of the United States in gratitude for the help they've given us so generously in our many years, in war and in peace. Every true Chinese who understands the lessons of history, looks on America as his second home."

General Ho was commander-in-chief of the Allied Land Forces in the China Theater in 1944 and at the end of the war accepted the Japanese sword of surrender.

Performances of "The Dragon" in Bryer will begin at 8 p.m. tonight and tomorrow night in the High School auditorium. Tickets are $4.50.

Thursday's Date With Space Said Still 'On Schedule'

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Informed technical sources expressed confidence today that they could hold to the present timetable to rocket astronaut M. Scott Carpenter into orbit Thursday, provided no new snags develop.

Repairs to Carpenter's Atlas booster rocket were clicking along smoothly and the weather outlook was reported far better than at any time last week.

Carpenter originally was scheduled to be rocketed aloft May 15 but a series of difficulties with his space vehicle caused four postponements.

The latest was called off Saturday when scientists discovered "irregularities" in the booster rocket that could have caused it to veer off course during the early stages of flight.

There were reports Sunday that the trouble might force another delay beyond the present Thursday target date, but this was largely discounted by sources today.

Carpenter, who took advantage of the work break Sunday to get in a day of relaxing and sunning with his fellow astronauts, returned to his rigid schedule today.

has been received by Congress and the White House.

But Kennedy, often interrupted by shouts and cheers of encouragement, said the people will support the bill, "one by one, thousand by thousand, million by million."

The President also dismissed the threat of a group of New Jersey doctors to refuse treatment for persons hospitalized under the government plan should it become law.

Kennedy said this was another way of opposing the King-Anderson bill, but he was also confident "not a single doctor is going to refuse to treat any patient if this bill becomes law."

Otherwise, he added, the New Jersey physicians would not have become physicians in the first place.

His speech, sponsored by the Council of Golden Ring Clubs and the National Council of Senior Citizens, was Kennedy's most eloquent and extensive public argument in behalf of the medical care program to date.

Three Died In Plane Crash

DURANGO, Colo. (UPI) — All three men aboard an Air Force plane when it crashed in southwestern Colorado three months ago apparently were killed instantly when the plane hit a mountain.

An Air Force rescue team from Kirtland AFB in New Mexico reported from the crash scene late Sunday that the personnel aboard the ill-fated T29 probably were killed when the plane crashed into the face of Babcock Peak, about 14,000 feet above sea level, last Feb. 25. The team was expected to return with the bodies today.

The wreckage of the cargo plane was discovered Saturday by Sgt. Le Roy Hardenbrook of Ent Air Force Base Colorado Springs, and his son, Larry, 19, as they were investigating a mining claim.

When the plane disappeared in February, the Air Force said it was carrying Capt. Richard E. Bellamy, 30, Memphis, Tenn.; Maj. J. E. Lunsford 39, Elkhart, Ind., the co-pilot, and S. Sgt. E. L. Fairry, 37 Branchville, S. C., and the flight engineer, all based at Shaw AFB, S. C. The wreckage, still covered with four feet of snow, is located about 10 miles northwest of Durango.

The plane crashed on a flight from Amarillo to Salt Lake City.

Two other planes were still missing today in the Colorado mountains.

A Piper Apache flown by Henry Hansen, 44, of Sepulveda, Calif., disappeared in the same general area on Jan. 7 on a flight from Los Angeles to Chicago.

And, an Air Force U3 disappeared April 26 on a flight from Hill AFB, Utah to Ent AFB. The U3 carried four persons.

Charge Will Be Filed In Death Of 2

GUYMON, Okla. (UPI)—A murder charge was expected to be filed today against a Texoma mechanic accused of the Sunday morning killing of Texoma's town marshal and the marshal's part-time helper.

Texas County Atty. Haman Foster prepared the charge. He identified the suspect as Kenneth James Hoover Jr.

Officers found Hoover lying in a drainage ditch Sunday about three hours after the shooting. Texas County Sheriff Robert L. Shepherd said Hoover signed a statement admitting the shootings.

Killed by blasts from a 12-gauge shotgun were Bill James, 25, Texoma town marshal, and Joe Dale Hartman, 39, who lived at city hall and worked part-time for the Texoma police and fire departments. The murder charge was drawn in James' death.

Court Says Convictions Were Wrong

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court ruled today that six witnesses who defied congressional investigations of Communist activities were wrongly convicted of contempt because of faulty indictments.

In reversing the convictions, the court declared that grand jury indictments in contempt of Congress cases must pinpoint the subject being investigated when the witness is questioned.

For the majority, Justice Potter Stewart said: "In each case, the indictment returned by the grand jury failed to identify the subject under congressional subcommittee was interrogated."

In recent years, the court has held that congressional committees must clearly spell out the purposes of their investigations. Stewart pointed out that the court had never before decided whether a grand jury indictment must do the same.

The witnesses, none of whom invoked the self-incrimination privilege, were:

Norton Anthony Russell, a Yellow Springs, Ohio, engineer, called before a House subcommittee on un-American activities in 1954. He drew 30 days in jail and a $500 fine.

Robert Shelton, copy editor of the New York Times, called by the Senate internal security subcommittee in 1956.

The Dutch were reported considering bombing Indonesian island bases.

Spokesmen at military headquarters here said Rear Adm. Leendert Reeser, commander of Dutch forces in New Guinea, is preparing the concentrated attack by army, navy and air force units on four major Indonesian positions established by the paratroopers in the past week.

New York Lost Without Mantle

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees are a solid ball club from stem to stern but those close to them insist today that for all of this they are just another team when they lose the services of Mickey Mantle.

Nobody is pushing the panic button because the Mick will be on the sidelines for approximately a month with a torn grain muscle. They feel they can hold their own until he's back in service.

But without him there's no hope of an anticipated runaway and there's always the uneasiness of what this latest injury will do to his effectiveness.

"We'd have the devil of a time winning the pennant without him," said one. "It would make a real scramble of the race and whether we could win it or not would then depend primarily on our pitching. We couldn't count as heavily on our power."

There are several reasons when you ask for an explanation as to why not.

The first is that the pitchers don't have the respect for Roger Maris that they do for Mantle. This is not to hint that they don't always pitch carefully to Maris. But when Mantle is coming up right behind him, they can't give Maris anything too good to hit and yet they can't pitch so carefully that they walk him and risk two runs.

"With Mantle out there," asserted one expert, "they don't have to worry too much about walking Maris."

Mantle also means many intangibles to the Yankees. He has, within the last couple of years, come into his own as the real leader of the team. All of the players like him and he sets an inspiring example by competing despite physical handicaps, frequently playing when he is only 75 per cent up to par.

Another factor is that Yogi Berra long swung another blazing bat which menaced rival pitchers. But they have lost much of their fear of the aging Yogi and, when you derick Mantle, too, they breathe a lot easier.

The contenders have evolved a costly system for beating the Yankees. Coming up to a series with the perennial champions, they usually manipulated their rotation to have their best pitchers available. In the process, by changing their rotation, they were deferring retribution because in any subsequent series their pitching staffs were jumbled and lost highly necessary effectiveness. Everybody was doing it and getting hurt in the process.

With Mantle out, you may not see this happening.

"There's also the question of how long it will take Mantle to get back into top gear, another close to the club analyzed. "Certainly it will be some time before he can dare to slide or go for that extra base. That makes a difference, too."

The Mick has had more than his share of injuries and ailments. Hardly a year passes that something doesn't happen to halter him.

In 1951 there was a knee operation. In 1953 he had an operation for removal of knee cartilage, torn ligaments and a pulled muscle. In 1954 he had a cyst removed from his right knee. There was a pulled thigh muscle in 1955 and in 1956 sprained knee ligaments and a tonsilectomy.

Castoffs Are Starring As Top Notch Players

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

It's beginning to look like the "year of the castoff" in the major leagues.

In baseball parlance, the "castoff" is a reject, a retiree or simply a guy for whom a club no longer has any use.

This year a whole contingent of players started off with the "castoff" label—guys like Chuck Essegian of the Indians, Bo Belinsky of the Angels, Billy Pierce of the Giants and Frank Thomas of the Mets, to name a few. Given a chance to make good with new teams, 1962's "castoffs" are causing a lot of red faces in many front offices.

Essegian, turned down by five other major league clubs, had four hits in eight at-bats, including two home runs that helped the Indians set an American League record, split a doubleheader with the Detroit Tigers and remain in a first-place tie with the New York Yankees.

His two homers and six others gave the Indians a total of 23 for eight games, breaking the old AL record of 22 set by the Yankees last year. Cleveland won the opener, 7-6, but lost the nightcap, 8-6. Bubba Phillips' ninth-inning single broke up the first game, while Jim Bunning's three-inning relief stint helped the Tigers gain the split in the second game.

The two homers gave Essegian 10 for the season in only 23 games and helped boost his batting average to .385—tops in the AL. Al Kaline hit two homers for the Tigers in the nightcap to take over the AL lead with 12.

The Yankees, meanwhile, downed the Minnesota Twins, 4-3, but lost, 4-2, in the 13-inning second game; the Los Angeles Angels swept the Boston Red Sox, 5-3 and 1-0; the Chicago White Sox beat the Baltimore Orioles twice, by 8-3 scores, and the Kansas City Athletics nipped the Washington Senators, 1-0, and then lost, 7-5.

In the National League, the New York Mets beat the Milwaukee Braves, 7-6 and 9-6; the San Francisco Giants widened their lead to 4½ games by bouncing back to beat the Houston Colts, 7-4, after dropping a 6-5 decision; the Chicago Cubs swept the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-4 and 11-2; the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the Cincinnati Reds, 8-2, and the St. Louis Cardinals edged Los Angeles, 4-3, to take over second place by 1½ percentage points.

Belinsky, dropped by the Orioles because they didn't think he could make the major league grade, gave up a bunt single to Pete Runnels in the first inning and a double to Bob Tillman in the fourth inning of the nightcap. Two weeks ago the talkative Belinsky pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Baltimore. Sunday's win was his sixth against one loss. The Angels overcame a pair of home runs by Carroll Hardy to win the opener, with Bob Rodgers driving in the winning run in the fifth on a sacrifice fly.

A double and three straight singles in the top of the 13th off reliever Jim Coates broke up the Minnesota-New York nightcap and enabled Ray Moore to gain a split for the day. Moore pitched to four batters in the ninth inning of the first game and didn't get anyone out, Tom Tresh's single with the bases full deciding the issue. Roger Maris hit his seventh homer in the first game and Harmon Killebrew his eighth. The split left the Twins ½ game behind New York and Cleveland.

The White Sox took the opener with a 14-hit barrage, including two homers by Al Smith as Johnny Buzhardt, a reject from the Phillies, gained his fifth victory against two losses. Smith added two more hits and two more RBIs in the nightcap to help Ray Herbert gain his fourth win in five decisions.

Bennie Daniels came out of the bullpen to stop a Kansas City rally in the seventh inning and help the Senators win the second game. Manny Jimenez, a rookie reject from the Milwaukee organization and the AL's second leading hitter (.370), won the opener for the A's with a ninth-inning homer that broke up a scoreless pitching duel between Ed Rakow and Claude Osteen, Dodgers and Reds rejects, respectively.

Thomas, sold by the Braves to the Mets during the winter, batted in three runs in the opener and two more in the nightcap on a home run, double and two singles. His homer was his 11th. The Mets now have nine victories in their last 12 games. The double victory also vaulted them into eighth place ahead of the Colts.

The Giants stacked Pierce to a six-run lead in the first inning of the nightcap and the White Sox hand-me-down hung on to register his sixth victory without a loss. Bob Bruce, who failed with the Tigers, contributed a run-scoring single during a four-run Houston rally in the opener to help himself gain his second victory. The Giants made it close with a two-run rally in the ninth but Dick Farrell, whom the Dodgers gave up on, got the last two outs to save Bruce's win.

Vernon Law, attempting a comeback after a long siege of arm trouble, won his first game in nearly a year for the Pirates. He gave up 10 hits in going the distance. The Pirates cuffed Reds loser Joey Jay for four runs in the second inning and Cincinnati never got close.

Rookie Lou Brock's second-inning grand-slam homer helped young Cal Koonce gain his second major league victory in the opener for the Cubs, while homers by Ernie Banks, Billy Williams and George Altman made it easy for Bob Buhl, recently picked up from Milwaukee, gain his second win in the nightcap.

Curt Simmons gained his sixth victory against one loss as the Cards beat the Dodgers and vaulted over them into second place. The Cards made it tough for Simmons by committing three errors. All three Los Angeles runs were unearned. Rookie Doug Clements paced the Cards with three hits.

Patterson Discusses Fight With Sonny Liston Sept. 17

DETROIT (UPI) — World heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson and his manager Gus D'Amato, were due here this afternoon to discuss details of Patterson's title defense against Sonny Liston, which appeared certain to be held at Tiger Stadium Sept. 17.

An insider told UPI Sunday night that the Michigan Boxing Commission has agreed "in writing" to grant Patterson and Liston licenses to box here.

Actual granting of the licenses by the commission, thus getting Liston over a major hurdle in his title quest, was expected later this week.

New York City was the logical site for the bout but the state boxing commission's refusal to grant Liston a license because of his police record muddled the site picture until Detroit's strong bid.

Patterson and D'Amato were expected to iron out fight details today with local promoters Elisha Gray and Leon Saddler, a spokesman said. A formal signing and announcement was expected to take place Tuesday or Wednesday, he said.

D'Amato slipped into town Friday and obtained use of Tiger Stadium in a meeting with Saddler, Gray and Tiger executive vice president Harry M. Sisson, the spokesman said.

Sisson told the promoters Friday it would be possible to increase the stadium's capacity to 75,000 for the fight by adding 20,000 seats.

Saddler and Gray, successful real estate men who had the backing of other Detroit area associates, appeared to have land

Birds Sign Robin To Pact After Release By Yankees

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles today announced the signing of Robin Roberts and named him as the starter in Tuesday night's game with the Cleveland Indians.

Roberts, former National League pitching ace who won 234 games in 14 seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies, had been a free agent since his release earlier this season by the New York Yankees.

Oriole manager Billy Hitchcock said left-hander Art Quirk would be optioned to the Rochester farm club in the International League to make room for Roberts.

Roberts, 35, worked out in Baltimore about a month ago and impressed Hitchcock with a new change-of-pace pitch he has developed.

"We are signing Roberts because we believe he can still be effective," Hitchcock said. "He has to improve our pitching staff because now he is better than a Quirk."

"Roberts showed me he can still throw hard. He seems to have developed a pretty good change of pace which he didn't have before."

Thirty-Three Cars Set To Compete In Memorial Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — A million dollars worth of sleek racing machines, the fastest 33 in history, were set today to battle for fame and fortune in the 46th annual 500-mile Speedway classic on Memorial Day.

Four days of speed trials wound up Sunday on the usual frenetic note with 10 racers on the apron ready to be qualified when time ran out. The field average of 147.330 miles per hour is more than two miles faster than last year's record.

Thus, qualifications ended as they started May 12 — with records.

Parnelli Jones set the pace on opening day when he became the first Speedway driver to shatter the 150 miles-per-hour mark to win the pole position. Although his effort was not equalled or surpassed, the total field average was considerably better than in 1961.

It probably would have been even faster but for the heat wave which last Saturday soared to a record 141 degrees on the track surface and hit 130 Sunday.

When the trials were finished, the overall picture also included: —Four "500" winners made the grade —defending champion A.

J. Foyt, Houston, Tex.; Rodger Ward, Indianapolis; Jim Rathmann, Melbourne, Fla., and Troy Ruttman, Dearborn, Mich.

—Five rookies crashed through — Jim McElreath, Arlington, Texas; Dan Gurney, Costa Mesa, Calif.; Chuck Hulise, Downey, Calif.; Chuck Rodee, Indianapolis, and Allen Crowe, Springfield, Ill.

—Four cars were "bumped" by faster machines on the final day. That left Dempsey Wilson, Lawndale, Calif.; Duane Carter, Indianapolis, and rookies Ronnie Duman, Dearborn, Mich., and Bruce Jacob, Salem, Ind., without rides.

—Jones, at a clip of 159.370 m.p.h., was the fastest qualifier. Elmer George, Indianapolis, son-in-law of speedway owner Tony Hulman, was the slowest at 146.092.

Other weekend qualifiers who remained in the field included Rathmann, Lloyd Ruby, Houston, Tex.; Jack Turner, Seattle; Paul Goldsmith, St. Clair Shores, Mich.; Eddie Sachs, Coopersburg, Pa.; Jim Hurtubise, Lennox, Cal.; Ruttman; Bob Christie, Grants Pass, Ore.; Ebb Rose, Houston, Tex., and Jimmy Daywalt, Indianapolis.

Billie Sol And Ralph

The Hon. Ralph Yarborough has been found to be one of the financial beneficiaries of Billie Sol Estes, the alleged swindler. The Senator says Estes gave him $1,700 so he could buy recordings for his "reports from Washington," as our statesmen like to call their self-serving radio spiels to the suckers back home.

The interesting thing about the Senator's belated flash of memory is that when a reporter for the Odessa, Texas, American called him in Washington, he said he wouldn't take any phone calls unless it was a death message.

Well, the Estes-Yarborough disclosure might not be a death message, but it isn't going to improve the Senator's political health.

Already Jerry Holleman has bitten the dust — some say he was thrown to the wolves to protect other, and higher, dignitaries in the government. Maybe Jerry will go back to the CIO-AFL. Certain elements in that axis are not finicky about the good character of their leaders. If they can stomach Reuther, they can embrace Holleman.

But, getting back to the Senator, when he first was asked about the money he got from Billie Sol, he told a reporter he had merely been the bagman for the Democratic Party. He said Billie Sol had given him a check for $1,000, but it was made out to the party. Something seems to have refreshed the Senator's memory. He recalls the $1,700 Billie Sol gave to Ralph Yarborough, personally, and for his own political use.

It should be remarked, in all fairness, that everybody who does business with a crook isn't necessarily a crook himself. The fellow down at the grocery store doesn't imperil his immortal soul by purveying beans to a professional assassin. But the conjunction of politics, money and a man who profited many millions of dollars from his political connections in Washington is more than casual relationship. It is worthy of some investigation.

Billie Sol Estes is not the real criminal in this operation, no matter if he is indicted and convicted. Neither is the little Senator a real principal in the drama. They are both symbols of a system in which government has become so big, so expensive, so powerful, so uncontrollable, so incomprehensible that it has lost its identity with morality, reason and even with people.

Stealing from the government or for the government is not thought by some to be like theft from a person. It is a form of game in which the player rationalizes his activities to the exclusion of any moral issue. "If I don't get it, somebody else will." How often have you heard that one? "They know what we're doing and they don't give a damn, so why should we?" That's another way of putting it. "They" is something remote, impersonal, amoral and extraterrestrial. It is "the government," an entity completely removed from human experience and comprehension.

Men like Ralph Yarborough flourish as the managers of this vast, formless and purposeless monster. They are not "bad" men, simply weak ones. How can they be militant against theft and deceit when the business they manage survives by theft and deceit?

They may not be dishonest in the legal sense. But their long association with dishonesty has dulled or destroyed their capacity to detect dishonesty in its more subtle guises.

This is the real death of a man, when constant association with deceit, dishonesty and duplicity has made him accept these things, an inevitable part of the landscape. When we become insensitive to immorality we have lost our capacity to recognize it.

We rather suspect this explains how a man like Billie Sol Estes can be a noisy leader in the Church Community and at the same time a rampaging predator of his friends and neighbors, as he is accused of being. In his mind, perhaps, the two things were completely dissociated.

Matter Of Emphasis

All life is a matter of making choices. This individual necessity is with us at every waking moment. We choose between the good and the bad. We even choose things which are relatively better or worse. We select our food, our clothing, our place of domicile, our method of transportation. We decide how we will spend our spare time.

No one, however well intentioned or however evilly motivated, can make these choices for us without injuring us. It is the nature of life that each of us is free to choose for ourselves in each of these and thousands of other instances.

And here is the important thing to keep in mind. Our choices, being made on the basis of personal emphasis. That is, we will take or we will not take action according to our own view as to what is important — and what is unimportant.

And this matter of emphasis now needs to be emphasized. When an entire people, such as the American people, get themselves into the kind of an impasse they are presently in, it is more important than ever that correct and rational emphasis be found for what is truly important and what is relatively less important.

We were to try to set up a chart which would place first things first for ourselves and our compatriots we would set down items in the following order:

1. Truth is the most important item of our existence, now or at any time. What men do, whether they advance or regress, depends entirely on what they believe to be true at a given moment. If men know the truth and believe it, then they are on solid ground. If men know truth but do believe it, they stand in quicksand. But, if men know falsehood but believe that falsehood to be true, they are in a predicament from which it may take years of effort to extricate themselves.

In other words, the most important thing in the world now or at any time is for us to know the truth and to believe that truth once we know it.

2. The second item we would list would be the relative unimportance of government, or any agency of organized compulsion and coercion. The truth of government is that it is far less necessary than most people believe.

We are not referring here to self-government and self-control, which is the only real and valid government. We are referring to the artificial and unnatural agency of compulsion wherein some men set themselves up as superiors over us all and presume to manage our lives and affairs for us.

The fact that they do this does not make the doing important. Actually, it is unimportant. It has gone on for centuries and it is not one whit different today than it was in the past.

In any city where a governmental center exists, there is perpetually a great scurrying about as men and women assume what Shakespeare called "the insolence of office" in a great show of being important. This is all a matter of show and noise designed to distract you from reality. Life preceded government and would continue if government were to cease to exist entirely.

3. Next, we would emphasize the merit and the importance of the individual. In actual fact, the individual is the ONLY man around. If men know truth but do

Pull Up A Chair

By Neal O'Hara

Some genius—or should we call him a benefactor?—has invented a telephone accessory which plays music for the party who has to hold the line till communication has been established. Purely psychological: One chain of stores increased the accuracy of its checkout girls by displaying this sign on all its cash registers: "Your purchase free if we ring and total your purchases correctly." Both checkout girls and customer were on the alert at all times.

The daily newspaper in the city of Kaingaroa in New Zealand has this notice in its masthead: "Opinions expressed in this periodical are not necessarily condoned or even understood by the editorial staff." At a recent testimonial to Fred Astaire at New York's Lambs Club, the ace of modern dancers wound up the affair by calling up from the audience his former stage partner, his sister Adele, and they demonstrated the Twist in their own way—which was slightly terrific.

Today's favorite gag: WIFE — "Fred, before you settle down in that easy chair with your pipe and paper, I have a lot of things I want to talk to you about." HUSBAND — "Well, that's fine! Usually, you want to talk about a lot of things you DON'T have."

Congressional leaders are huddling with the State department's protocol officers to ease up on the number of visiting chiefs of state who are invited to speak to joint sessions of the Congress. In recent months so many heads of newly-created states have been visiting Washington that they bite into the lawmakers' time. The proposal is this: Hereafter, speeches will be made on Capitol Hill only by heads of state on "official" missions to the U.S., and not those who come to Washington at the personal invitation of the President.

Accidents take the lives of more than 90,000 Americans each year, but at least 100 times that number of persons annually are injured severely enough to be disabled one or more days beyond the day of the accident. In addition, about 20 million persons a year are the victims of injuries which require medical attention, although they do not restrict activity. Sideline: Baseball personality kid, Jimmy Piersall, is a part owner of the new national magazine, "Baseball Monthly," published in Washington, D. C. In the first issue, Jimmy blasts the sports writers of Cleveland, where he formerly played, for "killing baseball for the Indians, the fans, and the town."

Ever alert to everything, the Federal Trade Commission has pounced on the maker of a brand of chewing gum for illegally monopolizing the baseball picture-card industry. Flashback: Robert Hoake, an Englishman, gave the living cell its name in 1865. He sliced pieces of cork into very thin sections and viewed them under a primitive microscope. He saw multitudes of tiny compartments which he called cells, from the Latin word meaning "chamber," but it was not until 1838 that independent work of German scientists gave great impetus to the "cell theory" of life.

Collective man is a fiction. There is no such thing. The concept of society is a convenience in thinking and in communication, but like most of our thinking or communicating, which relies on symbols, society is merely a symbol. It is not a reality.

What is real is the individual. What is unreal is the concept of a society as a special kind of life. It follows that emphasis must always be about the reality and not upon the fiction.

Yet, today, much of our thinking is geared to a consideration of what is "good" for society (a fiction) even if it destroys the individual (a reality).

To sum up, we would point out that it is more important to know truth and to believe it, than to know government and obey it. And it is more important to recognize yourself as an individual with responsibilities, rights, attributes and aspirations, than to consider society as even having existence.

When correct emphasis occurs in these places, a more rational and a more constructive life is possible.

Insiders Believe Frankfurter Will Not Return to Bench; Second Stroke And Advancing Age May Force Retirement

WASHINGTON — Justice Felix Frankfurter has had another stroke — the second since he suddenly became ill several months ago in his Supreme Court office.

The first stroke partially paralyzed his left side, but he has made some recovery from that. The second stroke occurred a few weeks after he was hospitalized, and affected his speech.

The oldest member of the high tribunal (79) is able to talk, but haltingly and with a thick tongue. Frankfurter has not left his bedside since he was brought to the hospital.

Only three callers have been allowed to see him: His wife, who was long bed-ridden herself but has managed to visit her husband with the aid of a nurse; former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, the ailing Justice's closest friend; and Justice John Harlan, named to the Supreme Court from New York in 1955 by President Eisenhower.

On the bench, Frankfurter, noted for his feuding with fellow justices, has been on warm terms with Harlan.

The only formal word the Court has received about Frankfurter's condition is a recent press statement issued by his physician that he was "improving" and expects to return to the bench in October, after the tribunal's usual three-month summer recess.

In judicial and other official circles that is frankly doubted. In these quarters there is open skepticism that Frankfurter will resume his seat on the Court. It is being pointed out that on November 15 he will be 80, and that last year, prior to the two strokes, he had a heart attack.

Significantly indicative of this backstage view is that partisans of possible successors to Frankfurter already have started drumming up support for them.

Illustrative of this is the wire-milling activity of friends of Professor Paul Freund, 53-year-old Harvard authority on constitutional law, and Yale law Professor Eugene Rostow, 49, brother of Dr. Walt Rostow, head of the State Council.

Both the President and Attorney General Robert Kennedy are being proselytized in their behalf. A point being strongly stressed in favor of Freund and Rostow is that they are warm admirers and ardent disciples of Frankfurter's legal concepts. Freund was a law clerk of the late famed Justice Louis Brandeis.

NEW ARMY SECRETARY — Howard Petersen, Philadelphia banker who is special assistant to President Kennedy on his trade liberalization legislation, is high on his list as successor to Army Secretary Elvis Stahr, who has resigned to become head of the University of Indiana. During World War II, Petersen was an assistant to Secretary of War Robert Patterson. Petersen is a Republican, but is highly regarded by Kennedy. Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg has leased a large estate on the upper Potomac River, about 20 miles from Washington, as his family's summer residence. The estate, with two houses, one of them air conditioned, and a swimming pool, is located on what are known as the Potomac palisades and has a magnificent view of the upper reaches of the river and surrounding Maryland and Virginia countryside. President Kennedy and former President Truman will be speakers at the July 4th exercises at famed Independence Hall in Philadelphia. Truman will receive the city's Freedom Medal.

TRUTH-FORUM

With Ed Delaney

Who is responsible for the printing and distribution of the U.S. Air Force poster depicting a scene in Paris with an American Air Force captain and a WAF Lieutenant standing almost directly under the United Nations flag and no Stars and Stripes displayed even in the remote background? Rep. James B. Utt, of Calif., brought this poster to the attention of his colleagues on the floor of the House in Washington and asked a very pertinent question. "Has our Air Force been turned over to the United Nations, or is the prominent display of the U.N. flag a bit of subtle propaganda?"

There is just one word wrong in that question of Rep. Utt. He should have used the word "brazen" instead of calling it "subtle" propaganda. There is nothing subtle about it. Ther terminates in our government; the one-world eggheads, the dedicated destroyers of our Constitution and the U.N. advocates apparently feel the time has come when they may abandon their subtle tactics. Obviously sufficient indoctrination has been used on those in the Defense Department. They now come out in the open with the treasonable design of merging us into a miscellany of multi-lingual, multi-colored people, some just emerging from the savage stage, and calling the hotchpot a world community, or United Nations.

Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert told newsmen he knew nothing about the poster until Mr. Utt brought it to the attention of Congress. It is understandable that he does not see every piece of promotion or publicity material that is made for the Air Force. But now that it has been brought to his attention, what action has been taken? Is this going to be a repetition of the merry-go-round that was staged by the Defense Department and the Eisenhower administration when the late Sen. Joe McCarthy asked the simple question: "Who promoted Peress?"

Actually that poster, supposedly intended to recruit for the U.S. Air Force, is designed to deceive the prospective recruit. While ostensibly recruiting for the United States, the symbol of the U.N. is immediately impressed in the mind of the youth who may be inclined to enlist. That poster was not an inadvertent error of someone or some group in the Defense Department. It is part of a cunning and one may say carefully conceived conspiracy — let us begin to speak plainly. That poster is intended to eventually purge from the minds of our people what the one-worlders regard as our pinched perspective. We must be made to see beyond our frontiers — far toward the New Frontier of which so much has been rated.

A recent State Department document (publication No. 7277) has the title "United States Program for General And Complete Disarmament in a Peaceful World." It purports to be a program for peace. But it notes this "can only be achieved through the progressive strengthening of international relations under the U.N. and by creating a U.N. Peace Force to enforce the peace as disarmament proceeds." We have the record of

Pegler Says:

Estes Case Shot Through With Dubious Dealings

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The Department of Justice, under Attorney General Robert Kennedy, has important documents taken from the offices of Billie Sol Estes, of Pecos, Tex., a speculator and manipulator in fertilizer, fertilizer tanks, land, crop allotments and subsidized grain storage. Estes has been indicted by a Federal grand jury on many charges of fraud, but only in chattel mortgages on tanks. Friends of Estes have said that he showed them a gold card from the Democratic National Committee indicating that he had given $100,000 to the Party.

In the present situation, there was irregular practice between Billie Sol and agents of the Department of Agriculture including gifts comparable to the notorious vicuna coat in the Sherman Adams scandal of the Eisenhower Administration. The conflict of interest is the more dramatic because an important official of the Department of Agriculture was shot dead in a field near Bryan, Tex., while many dubious dealings of politicians were on his desk for investigation.

The victim was Henry H. Marshall. He had been shot in the abdomen five times by a .22 calibre bolt action rifle. The local Justice of the Peace said it would continue to be a suicide until "we get some new evidence to the contrary." Marshall was employed by the Federal Department of Agriculture to supervise cotton acreage allotments. He was suspicious of applications by Estes for such allotments. The sale of allotments is illegal, but Estes had hit upon a questionable device of lending on acres covered by allotments and foreclosing the mortgages.

Will Wilson, the Attorney General of Texas, told me he does not believe a man could shoot himself five times with a bolt action gun. There was no autopsy and the usual police practice of fingerprinting the gun was ignored. Although many of Estes' applications for allotments had accumulated in Marshall's office, the U.S. Department of Agriculture did not ask for Federal investigators until a month after his death. John Tower, the Texas Republican Senator, has charged that Estes was appointed to the National Cotton Advisory Committee in 1961 after some of his gifts to the Democratic Party. Tower had demanded an investigation of the conduct of James T. Ralph, former assistant Secretary of Agriculture, but then Ralph was dismissed by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

Ralph and Estes have been hearty, intimate associates in Estes' grandiose plans. In correspondence, Estes reflected a dream of rustbucket argosies of surplus American wartime freighters carrying subsidized surplus American wheat to India and other mendicant countries with generous profit for Billie Sol.

Ralph meanwhile had been identified by clerks of the Neiman-Marcus store in Dallas, who said he came in with Estes and that they fitted him with expensive clothing which Estes paid for in currency. However, the clothing was shipped to Estes at a hotel in Washington where he stopped a few times. He was not in residence when the clothing arrived and there is no record to show who got it. Ralph denied that he ever received any of it.

Ralph did write a rapturous greeting to Estes' new daily paper, the Pecos Daily News, when it began publication last July. Ralph soared into space to project a future for the paper and Sol's fine ideals. The cost of running the News has been from $10,000 to $12,000 a month to date.

Secretary of Agriculture Freeman was one of two consecutive Governors of Minnesota who called out the National Guard to quell rioting at packing plants struck by the CIO, and imposed on these American soldiers the duty of doing picket service for an insurrectionary force. They simply closed the plants, which was the very purpose of the unions in rioting around the doors.

The other Governor was Luther Youngdahl. President Eisenhower rewarded him with a life job on the U.S. Court for the District of Columbia at the highest salary he has ever received.

United Press International

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—What was cancelled from Sunday night's "Show of the Week" on NBC-TV is more fascinating to contemplate than that was shown. Originally scheduled was a murder-mystery involving a top American television comedian enroute to Berlin with his... to tape a broadcast. Although it could have referred to Bob Hope or other comedians, some observers felt the character might be compared with Jack Paar because of his much-publicized, controversial Berlin jaunt. A spokesman said script trouble developed but that the Paar aspect was never considered. Be that as it may, Sunday night we got a substitute production: An adaptation of the 1945 Broadway play, "A Sound of Hunting," a tale of infantry soldiers loathe to leave a trapped comrade behind, enlivened by the earthy comic genius of Peter Falk. He made it seem better than it was. The cancelled show was an original drama set on a train which makes a daily run from Frankfurt through Communist East Germany to West Berlin. Entitled "Murder on a Sealed Train," it first was scheduled for the "Show of the Week" of April 15. Then it was reset for Sunday night. Now it is planned for sometime next season. Whatever the reason for the delay, it is just as well. Whether or not the former "Tonight" host was the model for the comedian, it is unlikely the show would have done anyone, including Paar, any good if it seemed to be capitalizing on the Berlin episode. At a later date, with memories dimmer, it will stand a better chance as fiction. As for "A Sound of Hunting," there is little to say except for Falk. Sal Mineo was one-dimensional as a trigger-happy soldier anxious to rescue the stranded squad member. And Robert Lansing, star of the "67th Precinct" series, was not much as a sergeant who reluctantly tries to obey orders to pull out with his men. It was difficult to sustain reality in this boiled-down version, especially with the light-hearted commercials. After each one, I had the feeling an announcer was going to say, "And now—back to the war." The gruff Falk, who seems to win an Oscar or Emmy nomination every few minutes, played lazy, long-view soldier who finally sneaks out and single-handedly wipes out a German machine gun comrade is dead. At one point, Falk, asked how he knows the squad has been ordered back, says: "I'm very close to Mark Clark." The sparks really flew Saturday when NBC-TV's "Championship Debate" closed out its successful first season with two college boys and two coeds arguing whether a woman should be president of the United States. I couldn't figure out why the girls were so aggressive until one outburst verified my sneaking suspicions. Anne Hodges, of North Texas State University, was talking about male speech deficiencies when James Godwin, of King's College, noted she had an accent herself. "I notice you liked it last night," snapped Anne. "You didn't seem to mind either," smiled Jim. The Channel Swim: CBS-TV's Dick Van Dyke is negotiating for

HOW'S THE FISHING?

Have you wet a line in your favorite lake or stream this spring? Smokey hopes you have and found the fishing just as good as you remembered it!

But all over America, fishermen are going to get skunked in places where they always found fish before.

If the water's high and muddy, chances are that a forest fire upstream burned off the ground cover. The spring rains ran right off, carrying top soil and flood waters into the stream, spoiling your sport.

Remember—Only you can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!
