Well, Ex-King Edward has gone and done it. . . . But, through the whole messy story leading up to and from the abdication we have been waiting for one wise-crack that so far as we know has failed to put in its appearance. . . . Now, that Mr. Windsor has junked his throne for Mrs. Simpson, shall we say that he had to be a bit "Wally-eyed" to do it?

Several days ago, H. L. Mencken, the Baltimore author and critic, was authority for the statement that the Edward-Wally story is the "best story since the resurrection." . . . When advised yesterday that the King had abdicated, Mr. Mencken had this to say: "I consider Edward an idiot. His abdication shows it."

This is the time of year when a person can't open a magazine without having a shower of prettily decorated circulation "come-ons" fall out.

There are two possible courses of action: One can either roll the papers into a wad and make a trip to the wastebasket with them at once, or he can sit there, holding the wadded paper in his hand, letting one corner of the brain absorb what is on the printed page while another thinks up unpleasant things about the ingenuity of circulation departments.

We're thinking of writing the magazine we subscribe for and asking them is there isn't a special rate if Christmas subscription blanks are left out. We're willing to pay a little more for the convenience.

On the occasion of its 10th anniversary, NBC is making a great deal about television. Its officials predict that within the next decade television sets will have advanced to the point radio has today.

One of the newsreels gives its impression of how football games and a wide range of other entertainment will be broadcast by television in the near future. One of the better known radio manufacturers has a customer-catcher called a "television plug" on the panel of his set.

We predict that television will not advance in the next decade to a point comparable to radio now. We predict that mechanical difficulties and opposition from interests which stand to lose by the general use of television will retard its rapid perfection.

These words may look foolish a decade from now but they are a boomer of the type which first jeered Robert Fulton and then asked him for a ride on his steamboat.

Things were becoming so serious in London that it was only a matter of time until affairs Simpson would be generally covered by all English newspapers, but their about-face in policy came with unexpected suddenness.

We had expected that first one newspaper, bolder than the others, would refer to Mrs. Simpson as "Mrs. X, an American person said to reside in Cumberland Terrace." Then another publisher would screw up his courage to the sticking point and breathlessly write of "Mrs. Simpson." . . . Then another publisher, taking the cue, would write of "Mrs. Wally-eyed Simpson," and finally the whole situation would be revealed to a populace that dotes on sensationalism anyway, judging by the enormous circulation of some of the more lurid English journals, which devote much space to Hollywood high jinks and the danger of being mowed down by machine gun bullets in Chicago.

Somewhere near the top of the non-fiction best seller lists is a little book called "Live Alone and Like It." It is a handy guide for the unbridled (or inaccessibly) young woman who is despondently facing the prospect of spinsterhood.

"Live Alone and Like It" really is a sort of complement to a book written some years ago by Elinor Glyn. The text of Miss Glyn's preachment was "Lack It and Live Alone."

Looking through an exchange newspaper, we couldn't help but mutter "Aw, he did not," when we saw a theater advertisement announcing the showing of "The General Died at Dawn."

And Business Week spotted a good double feature coupling on a marriage: "The Man Who Lived Twice" and "The All American Chump."

The case of the Tennessee boy who had a stroke two weeks ago, and has been talking since, is eclipsed by a golfer friend who notched 74 last summer.

No, the Reading, Pa., "livedown" strikers weren't night watchmen.

Pampans expressing satisfaction with the ruling of the state inter-scholastic league in declaring Bill Kilman of Amarillo eligible although they couldn't ascertain how a line in a family Bible could refute documentary evidence which, according to league rules, controls eligibility of a student. Pampa had the same situation arise a couple of years ago. The boy, however, did not play his additional year because a Bible record was all that was available to show his age, which was OK, but which was recorded differently when he entered school.

TO LAY RELIEF STRATEGY TONIGHT

COMMITTEES WILL OUTLINE DRIVE DETAILS

DRIVE TO AID HUNGRY CITIZENS STARTS TUESDAY

Details of Pampa's Supplementary Relief Fund drive which opens next Tuesday morning will be outlined at a joint meeting of the finance committee and general advisory council in the B. C. D. offices at City Hall at 7:30 p. m. today.

Mr. Garman stated today that it was essential that every worker who already has been contacted attend tonight's joint meeting. "We urge everyone on the committees to attend tonight's session," he said, "for at this meeting all details of the fund campaign will be outlined thoroughly."

"This is not a separate welfare agency. We merely are raising money to supplement federal relief and to aid those in distress. The money will be used to feed hungry men, women and children and to see that they are properly clothed and housed."

REBEL DRIVE CRACKED LOYALISTS TROOPS SAY

MADRID, Dec. 11 (AP)—Insurgent shells crashed into the heart of the Spanish capital today as fascist and socialist batteries blasted away in a long range artillery duel.

A heavy insurgent infantry drive on the western front from Montros to Pozuelo was cracked, the government reported, in a bitter three hour struggle.

The fascist attack climaxed the fifth week of the siege of Madrid. Under cover of artillery, Gen. Francisco Franco's insurgent troops pushed their offensive while a biting wind blew down from the snow-capped Guadarrama mountains.

Officials speeded the evacuation of the capital's non-combatant population to the eastern coast as the government took steps to guard the food supply.

LATE NEWS

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Great Britain's new king today chose officially the name of George VI.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Dec. 11 (AP)—President Eamon de Valera strove in the face of an opposition attack in the Dail today to take advantage of the abdication of Edward VIII by severing all but one of the Free State's remaining ties with Great Britain.

MRS. SIMPSON EXPECTS TO GET FINAL DIVORCE

CANNES, France, Dec. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Wallis Simpson, for love of whom King Edward renounced his throne, said through a spokesman today she expects to obtain her final divorce decree without any complications.

He declared the "understanding at the villa (where Mrs. Simpson is in seclusion) is that Edward will have left London by tomorrow."

Actual Examples of Dire Need Shown In Cases

Someone a long time ago said that one-half of the world knows nothing of how the other half lives. This is true in Pampa, where next Tuesday a drive to raise $5,000 for supplementary relief during the winter months will get under way.

For instance: There is in Pampa a family of seven—father, mother, three sons and two daughters. The father is a paralysis victim, the oldest son, 17, and the only potential male wage earner in the family is ill in bed, afflicted by rheumatism.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND IN TANK IN KANSAS

WICHITA, Kas., Dec. 11 (AP)—The body of Mrs. Arthur C. Utterback, 33, wife of a Wichita federal land bank auditor, was found today in a pit on the Utterback farm, near Mulvane, Kas., by Sheriff Frank Boone and deputies.

Utterback, informed last night by telephone of his wife's disappearance, was believed on his way here by plane from St. Paul, Minn., where he went last week on business after hiring Cain to take care of the farm.

DR. GRIMES TO DELIVER SCOUT BANQUET TALK

PERSONS INTERESTED IN BOYS INVITED TO MEETING

Dr. C. C. Grimes, pastor of Polk Street Methodist church of Amarillo, will deliver the principal address at the Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council's annual banquet at the First Methodist church, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today.

Dr. Grimes is noted as a boys' leader and a supporter of boys' activities. Platos will be fifty cents each, and parents, friends, leaders and supporters of Scouts are invited to attend the meeting.

Preceding the annual banquet, committee meetings will be held in the city hall, beginning at 5 o'clock. The 12 executive committees of the Council are scheduled to convene to make annual reports at that time.

The Council nominating committee will also meet at that time to name the Council president for the next year. A. G. Post is president of the Council now. They will name other officers and directors. Final action on the nominations will be taken at the banquet.

Entire World Hears Ex-King

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—More persons than ever before listened to one man adjusted wireless dials tonight to hear Edward VIII, former king of England, bid his half billion subjects of a few hours ago farewell.

Virtually every activity of the nation was placed on spoken or unspoken standstill orders for ten o'clock (4 p. m., central standard time), the hour "Mister Windsor" chose to take the air.

Suspension was arranged for theatres, cinemas, music halls, greyhound tracks, for the minutes in which the radio will carry the voice that many in the empire never have heard before.

The British Broadcasting Corporation, whose facilities were utilized to start the message around the world, announced a record of the speech would be kept permanently with the recordings of King George V's Christmas talks.

As for the former king, his broadcast was stressed as that of a private citizen. The words he chose were interpreted as an expression of individual opinion.

The government made no effort to censor his address in advance. The manuscript was not submitted for approval to any minister.

His words, officials said, were his own—written, perhaps, in consultation with his personal friends.

Had Edward still been on the throne he could have broadcast only with the consent of his counselors. But, the moment his abdication became an established, irrevocable fact at 1:52 p. m., today, he was able to speak with complete freedom.

NEW KING TO DECIDE EDWARD'S TITLE SOON

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The new British king will decide what title his abdicated brother will bear, it was disclosed today in the House of Commons.

Sir Donald Somervell, attorney general, told the members "the new king would deal with that when the time comes."

The attorney general's declaration was made in response to a question put by Hastings Lees-Smith, laborite. Edward will cease to be Edward VIII, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, Ireland and the Dominions Beyond the Seas King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India.

Henceforth he must be content with some simpler title. It may be any of his dukedoms: Cornwall, Lancaster, Normandy or Rothesay.

Or he might have a more humble epithet, becoming the Earl of Chester or the Earl of Carrick.

Even lower in the aristocratic scale he might be the Baron of Renfrew or the Lord of the Isles.

KPND WILL BROADCAST KING EDWARD'S SPEECH Radio Station KPND of the Pampa Daily News will broadcast this afternoon's 4 o'clock address of David Windsor, formerly King Edward VIII. This will be Edward's final address to the whole world before he leaves England. KPND today made arrangements with radio station WKY, Oklahoma City, to re-broadcast the speech here while the ex-king is speaking in London over a world-wide broadcast.

Stalin Submits New Constitution

Delegates from every section of vast Soviet Russia listened as stern Josef Stalin, above, Red dictator, made one of his rare public speeches in presenting a draft of the new Soviet constitution in Moscow. Stalin was in one of his more serious moods as he announced provisions for freedom of speech and religion, a representative congress, and other democratic reforms. The constitutional convention was held in the Kremlin palace.

Contentment Against Aimee Is Sought

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11 (AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson, honeymooned founder of the International Foursquare Gospel church, today faced a threat of contempt proceedings by the legal staff of her ousted co-worker, Rhea Crawford.

Plainly dissatisfied with the evangelist's answers to financial questioning, Attorney Joseph Paine said he would turn the matter over to superior court for a contempt ruling.

The quizzing, to be resumed Jan. 15, was conducted as a preliminary trial of Miss Crawford's $1,000,000 slander suit against Sister Aimee. It drew her admission that a $250,000 trust deed on the Echo Park Evangelistic Association, Angelus Temple Holding Corporation, is in her name.

"My income is $180 a week," she continued, "and is in return for the many things I do."

"There is also a fund in the bank—we call it the tithe fund—which is available for trips in case I should be called to some one of our foreign missions. All of the churches contribute to the tithe fund."

"I Saw . . ." This presumptuous and wholly false (as far as Pampa is concerned) paragraph in Morris Higley's column, "Indexing," in the Childrens Index, Mr. Higley used to live in Amarillo and perhaps he is inaccurately judging Pampa by his own home town.

"It looks as though the football season isn't over for Childrens yet. Anyway, this protesting business will give the fans something to talk about. But I am afraid it will be a lost cause. In other words, I don't think Lubbock and Pampa would have let Amarillo play with ineligible players. Don't think that those three towns never check on each other. It has been estimated that each of the schools spends around $1,000 every year checking the eligibility of their opponents."

EDWARD WILL QUIT ENGLISH SOIL TONIGHT

IRISH FREE STATE MAY REFUSE TO RECOGNIZE KING

BY FRANK H. KING. LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The greatest empire on the earth gave up Edward VIII as king today and placed his oldest brother, Albert Frederick Arthur George, on his throne.

In three swift hours, the Houses of Commons and Lords approved the abdication of the 327-day sovereign who chose marriage to a twice-divorced American instead of his ancient crown.

Then, with quick-precision, a royal commission gave royal assent to the act. At 1:52 p. m. (8:52 EST), Edward the Eighth ceased to reign.

At that very moment the quiet Duke of York became King of England and the dominions beyond the seas, Emperor of India, defender of the faith.

Tonight, perhaps by British warship, plain Edward Windsor is expected to cross the channel to France, to be near Wallis Warfield Simpson, the woman he loves.

It is reported he would sail at midnight, from Dover. His destination was not disclosed.

First, at 10 o'clock (4 p. m. CST) he will talk by radio to his people. To Proclaim King.

Tomorrow afternoon heralds will proclaim his brother king—probably as George VI—with medieval robes. But actually, Albert Frederick Arthur George became king with the giving of the royal assent by a commission composed of Lords Onslow, Denman and the Earl of Stanhope.

—Just as Edward took the reign when his father, George V, breathed his dying breath at Sandringham last January 20.

Parliament, in session exactly two hours and 52 minutes before the throne changed hands, adjourned immediately upon notice being given.

Commons will meet at 2:45 p. m. tomorrow to take the oath of allegiance to the new king. On Monday, the sovereign's forty-first birthday, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin will present a message from him.

Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and the Irish Free State will act independently, thru their parliaments, on the abdication, as autonomous units of the empire.

Ireland Rebels. The first minister told parliament today that the governments of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa had communicated their desire "to be associated with this bill," and that President Eamon de Valera, of the Irish Free State, had informed him the Free State parliament would meet during the day "to pass legislation dealing with the situation."

However, with the opening of the Free State day session a bill was introduced by de Valera to abolish both the office of governor general and the use of the king's name in conducting the Free State's domestic affairs.

The measure, which would provide for recognition of Edward's abdication and his brother's accession, would, however, limit British control over Free State activity to foreign affairs.

While Edward made his farewell tour, the new king will be in London. See NO. 2, Page 8

KING GEORGE VICTOR OVER MANY 'BOGEYS'

HE LIKES TO KNIT AND ENGAGES IN ATHLETICS

(Roger D. Greene, formerly of the London staff of the Associated Press, has written the following story on the personality of Great Britain's new king.)

By ROGER GREENE

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Britain's new king, "Bertie," who likes to knit and can cast an iron plate in a smelting factory, steps into the world spotlight today as a perfect example of bulldog grit overcoming terrific obstacles.

He had a brooding inferiority-complex.

He stuttered.

He had wretched health.

He couldn't make friends—just couldn't "warm up."

He excelled at nothing.

Nobody noticed him, in a room or a crowd. Shy, he simply didn't "register."

Even now, at the glittering climax of his "success story," he gets the job only because his brother gave it up.

But down the years, doomed to under-study his glamorous brother, in his quiet, self-effacing way he perfected his role with a dogged courage that must command admiration. Today, at the pinnacle, he has beaten the odds. If ever a man was self-made, the record shows it is Albert Frederick Arthur George, "by the grace of God"—and King Edward—King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British dominions beyond the seas.

The story has few dazzling chapters. Albert, in the best British tradition, "muddled through."

He didn't stand out. During the world war, he saw action aboard the Battleship Collingwood, at the battle of Jutland. After the smoke of battle cleared, all the officer in charge could recall about him was: "Oh, yes, I remember—he made cocon as usual for me and the gun crew."

He was a studious type, but never a scholar; a hard-playing all-around athlete, but never outstanding.

Today, the tall, grave-mannered second of George V can look back on victory over all "bogeys."

He has trampled the inferiority complex to a point where he is perfectly at ease, level-gazed, commanding.

He stutters only occasionally.

He is by far the most physically fit of the four royal brothers.

He has learned to make friends.

By grinding perseverance, he has become an excellent horseman, a crack shot, a strong swimmer, excellent tennis player.

And although Edward always received the publicity as the world's best royal golfer, if Edward played his successor now, Albert would have to give him a couple of strokes. Edward's handicap is 11; Albert's has been newly-reduced to 9.

Finally, the crowning touch for the "understudy"—the son nobody noticed much today as the eyes of the entire world upon him.

Success story—He is the king!

Etiquette Says—When in Doubt, Send Xmas Card

By JOAN DURHAM

"Shall I send Marion a Christmas present this year—or just a card?"

It's easy enough to make out a list of people who ought to be remembered at Christmas. But the problem of deciding whether to send gifts to the Marions on our lists is sometimes very baffling.

There's one good rule to follow in gift-sending:

When in doubt, don't. Send a card instead.

A wide variety of suitable cards is on the market today. The point is to take time enough to select something to fit everybody on your list. Here are a few good rules to follow in sending greetings:

For Signing the Card—

Women use "Mrs." or "Miss" on engraved or printed cards. Those prefixes may be omitted from cards bought at the local store, and signed in ink, however. For example: "Miss Jane Evergreen" or "Mrs. Robert Evergreen"—for printed and engraved cards; "Jane Evergreen" or "Marion Evergreen"—for store cards.

Men ordinarily omit "Mr." from all signatures—printed, engraved or inscribed.

Hubband-and-wife cards—engraved and printed—are signed: "Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evergreen." Less formal greetings may bear both first names—"Robert and Marion Evergreen."

In Addressing Cards—

Write the name and address of the person to whom the card is going on the lower-half of the envelope. For example: "Master Thomas Evergreen," "Miss Jane Evergreen," "Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evergreen," "Mr. Robert Evergreen," or "Mrs. Robert Evergreen." (Never address a woman by her own first name.)

It is entirely proper to put return addresses in the upper left-hand corner or on the back flap of the envelope—especially if there's any doubt about the address of the person who's to get the card.

HOME HARDER TO RUN THAN A BANK

HARRISON, Ark. (AP)—Operating a bank is a "soft job" compared with running a house, says Mrs. Agnes Shinn.

Mrs. Shinn, who five years ago inherited a bank presidency at the death of her husband, reflects: "Mothering six children, seven in-laws and four grandchildren is my biggest job."

She says the secret of successful banking is "being careful with the people's money."

Second in command at the bank Mrs. Shinn directs is another woman, Vice-President Jobelle Holcombe.

HOMEWORK

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—Frank L. Skeldon, Jr., Toledo Times police reporter, telephoned his city editor he would be a little late at the office as he was covering a story.

When he arrived he turned in an item on a fire. It described how the fire department and Frank L. Skeldon, Jr., extinguished a blaze at the Skeldon residence.

JOHN'S VISION ON PATMOS. By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D. Editor of Advance.

The book of Revelation, which probably was not the last book in the Bible to be written, but which is the closing book in our Bible, has puzzled scholars as well as ordinary readers.

All manner of theories and interpretations have been offered concerning it, but no one can claim to have solved with authority all its mysteries.

Possibly much of the symbolism and imagery was intelligible to those for whom the book was written in days of persecution in the church, but there is much truth in the claim of the scholar who said that the key to the mystery had been lost, and could not be recovered.

While this is true, it ought to be recognized at the same time that there are clear and beautiful religious teachings in the mysterious setting of this book, and that, in imagery and literary power, it has a sweep and grandeur that stir the soul, even though one may not be assured of the exact meaning of particular details.

Perhaps the clearest and most unmistakable portions of the book are in the letters to the seven churches of Asia.

Here we have a chance to see the Christian movement in its reality, with the struggle of good and evil in an ancient world dominated by powers of force and violence and all manner of tyranny and wickedness.

One would expect that, under such conditions, those who dared to follow the Christian way would all be inherently pure and beautiful souls, beyond weakness and beyond temptation; yet the picture of these early churches reveals much that was not ideal.

Here in our lesson, in the introduction to these letters to the seven churches, the symbolism of the book is emphasized.

In Patmos, the writer tells us, he was "in the Spirit on the Lord's day;" when he heard behind him a great voice, as of a trumpet. The voice commanded him to write to the seven churches all that he should see, and as he turned toward the voice, he saw seven golden candlesticks.

One need not dwell upon other details of the image, and the writer became convinced that the Living Christ was speaking to him, and that the message came directly from God.

First of all, in this message, is the appeal to cast aside all fear. The Living One has the keys of death and of the unseen world.

The forces of evil may destroy the bodies of men, but they cannot destroy the soul. In the great struggle of good and evil, the good will tri-

Beauty That Rocks an Empire

A serene beauty, her direct gaze seemingly fixed on far-off visions, Mrs. Wallis Simpson shows in these poses her undeniable charm—the charm for which a king was willing to relinquish a throne, threatening the course of empire.

umph, for truth cannot be destroyed.

In this world of the present day, new terror has laid hold of whole masses of people. At the time when we supposed the world has progressed in enlightenment, and the tyrannies and persecutions of the past were at an end, new persecutions have broken out.

In various parts of the world today, men are suffering for their faith, and all freedom of thought and speech has been destroyed. Fear clutches at the hearts of men and women, and even in our own land we are not so sure that religious liberty is beyond all peril.

Can we find the faith that sustained men living in dark days? Perhaps the Book of Revelation can be read with a new meaning and a new value at a time when the great struggle between right and wrong, and all the dangers involved is re-emphasized.

There is a book to stir and sustain the souls of men and women in times of crisis.

EDWARD VIII TONIGHT TO BROADCAST SPEECH

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Edward Windsor probably will broadcast his farewell words to the British people tonight from a room at Windsor castle which he occupied as Prince of Wales.

It was understood wiring facilities had been arranged there. He is due to speak at 10 o'clock (4 p. m. central standard time).

There were many who believed the abdicating monarch would not linger in England to hear the medieval cries of heralds tomorrow, proclaiming the Duke of York king.

DOGS TO GUIDE BLIND THEY MEET IN SCHOOL

DENVER (AP)—A school soon will open here where eight blind persons and eight German shepherd dogs will study each other.

Then, acquainted with each other's temperaments, the dogs will become "eyes" for their blind masters.

The animals were especially trained in Morrilton, N. J. to aid blind persons. They were brought to Denver through the Colorado State Blind commission to be sold, at nominal cost, to blind persons who desired them.

BRINKLEY OUSTED

AUSTIN, Dec. 11 (AP)—Jimmy Brinkley of Houston, president of the Students' association, is no longer a member of the University of Texas athletic council. By an 11 to 5 vote in stormy session last night, the council ousted him at request of Dr. J. C. Dolley, chairman, who charged Brinkley violated rules by revealing a recent 4 to 0 council vote to oust Jack Chevigny as head football coach.

David Kellogg Cartter of Massillon, O., clinched the nomination of Lincoln by announcing a change of four votes in the Ohio delegation in the Republican national convention of 1860.

JOHN'S VISION ON PATMOS. By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D. Editor of Advance.

The book of Revelation, which probably was not the last book in the Bible to be written, but which is the closing book in our Bible, has puzzled scholars as well as ordinary readers.

All manner of theories and interpretations have been offered concerning it, but no one can claim to have solved with authority all its mysteries.

Possibly much of the symbolism and imagery was intelligible to those for whom the book was written in days of persecution in the church, but there is much truth in the claim of the scholar who said that the key to the mystery had been lost, and could not be recovered.

While this is true, it ought to be recognized at the same time that there are clear and beautiful religious teachings in the mysterious setting of this book, and that, in imagery and literary power, it has a sweep and grandeur that stir the soul, even though one may not be assured of the exact meaning of particular details.

Perhaps the clearest and most unmistakable portions of the book are in the letters to the seven churches of Asia.

Here we have a chance to see the Christian movement in its reality, with the struggle of good and evil in an ancient world dominated by powers of force and violence and all manner of tyranny and wickedness.

One would expect that, under such conditions, those who dared to follow the Christian way would all be inherently pure and beautiful souls, beyond weakness and beyond temptation; yet the picture of these early churches reveals much that was not ideal.

Here in our lesson, in the introduction to these letters to the seven churches, the symbolism of the book is emphasized.

In Patmos, the writer tells us, he was "in the Spirit on the Lord's day;" when he heard behind him a great voice, as of a trumpet. The voice commanded him to write to the seven churches all that he should see, and as he turned toward the voice, he saw seven golden candlesticks.

One need not dwell upon other details of the image, and the writer became convinced that the Living Christ was speaking to him, and that the message came directly from God.

First of all, in this message, is the appeal to cast aside all fear. The Living One has the keys of death and of the unseen world.

The forces of evil may destroy the bodies of men, but they cannot destroy the soul. In the great struggle of good and evil, the good will tri-

AIRPLANES AND DEFENSE

In commenting on the importance of airplanes as defense, Major General Oscar Westover, chief of the Army Air Corps, at the conference of the National Aeronautical Association in Chicago, pointed out that now with air-bombers having a range of 3,000 miles America is not as secure from air attacks as formerly.

The comparative air forces with other leading nations shows the United States will be sixth in strength. The airplane strength of the United States in July, 1936, was 1329. During the next year we will have about 500 additional planes. Other nations are as follows:

France totals 4400 crafts; Russia 7000; Italy 4400; Germany 2800; Great Britain 1790 (this is being tripled); Japan 2000. This puts the United States in sixth place.

Major General James E. Fechet points out that "If you have an adequate air fighting force your shores are safe from marauding navies. They are safe from invading armies.

"An air force is the most efficient means of national defense today.

"Air force costs less than armies or navies. Europeans have discovered these truths. Americans have not yet profited by this knowledge."

While it is true that we are a long distance from hostile foreign shores any attack from ships used as a base would be hazardous. The gradual increase in airplanes of all other important governments is something the United States cannot afford to ignore.

IDENTITY OF WORKERS

A good point in the social security act is that it will be difficult for men to change their names because of having committed a crime. The new cards that the workers have been obliged to sign, giving their parents' names, place of birth, etc., will make it difficult to commit a crime in one place and then to take another job under another name. It will serve as quite a prevention of crime in industrial centers.

WHO NEEDS EDUCATING

Mrs. Roosevelt says, "the people who need the most education as citizens are very often the people who had the most advantages in education and perhaps a greater amount of the material things of life."

We think Mrs. Roosevelt is right in this contention. There are plenty of people who are regarded as well informed who seem to have very little conception of what intelligent education is, when it relates to good citizenship and good government. The big problem is intelligent education.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—Something new happened when the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., as a result of "informal conferences" with government officials, agreed to cut its long distance rates so as to save subscribers about $12,000,000 a year.

Traditionally, the way to get a telephone company to cut its rates is for a commission to order a reduction, whereupon the company goes into the courts with the complaint that it is being ruined. The public pays the bill on both sides for years of expensive litigation which may or may not end with a rate cut.

Telephone rate cases have been dragged out anywhere from five to 11 years. The big Illinois Bell Telephone rate case was in the courts nine years before the supreme court finally said the company would have to cut its charges.

Under a new technique supervised by Federal Communications Commissioner Paul Walker, boss of the continuing FCC investigation of the A. T. & T., the government and the telephone company sat down at a conference table and finally reached agreement on the extent to which long distance rates should come down.

The telephone company now says the reduction is greater than it ought to be and the government says it is too small, but the big fact is that long distance calls will be cheaper after Jan. 15.

Negotiator for FCC was Carl Wheat, former public utilities counsel for the city of Los Angeles. Wheat was able to jimmy the cut rate out of President Walter S. Gifford of A. T. & T. because he had all the facts about Gifford's company, facts developed and co-ordinated by Samuel Becker and John Bickley, respectively chief counsel and accounting expert for the investigation.

Wheat undertook to show the telephone officials how, on the basis of their own figures, they could afford to bring rates down by $15,000,000. The telephone officials wanted to make a cut of from $3,000,000 to $6,000,000. Finally they compromised on what amounted to $12,000,000.

Pressure arising from two years of investigation plus psychological influence of the election returns is believed to have made Wheat's job easier.

Walker hopes to see the day when a fellow on the Atlantic Coast can call up his aunt in San Francisco for about 60 cents. He believes increased business resulting from low rates and inventive progress are working toward that goal.

Already you can make a night station-to-station call from Eastport, Me., to Cape Mendocino, Calif., for $5—in case you happen to be in Eastport, Me., and have $5 and know someone on Cape Mendocino.

Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York, who was in Washington with other mayors to protest large reductions in WPA rolls, is working for a constitutional amendment and says the problem of wording it is simple. He says he has found much support for one which would read like this:

"Congress shall have power to regulate commerce, industry, labor, and agriculture."

The most important thing, LaGuardia says is to straighten out the commerce clause complication in the Constitution so industry and agriculture will be accepted as national, not local.

LONDON FOG

HEPLOCK

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Reduce New York to its least common denominator and you have an unrelenting comedy of colloquialisms, argot in tempo and authored by gag-men, playwrights, and actors. Here are a few excerpts:

The large safety zone in Times Square is "Panic Island." Subway guards are "sardine packers." When you like a horse well enough to bet on him you "hotten up" to him. A Harlem lass of 18 or 20 is "a chicken dinner." Even the most dignified advertising is "ballyhoo." An actor who advances from vaudeville to the stage is a "reformed hooper."

Nobody in New York is insane—they're just "wacky." Taverns which bed tramp for 10 cents are "flop houses." Any sum above $100 is a "stake." Unimportant dough is "coffee and cake." Currency is better understood as "scratch." Any movie house featuring passe films is a "shooting gallery."

Broadway—Rue Regret. A nightclub manager is a "table cloth bandit." Those with inflated egos are said to have "white collar poisoning." News photographers are known as "lens boys." Tenth avenue is "Hell's Kitchen."

"Warblers" of melancholy songs are "torch singers." You may with equanimity address any wardrobe mistress as "Mother." Exclusive of liners, every craft in the harbor is a "cutter." A spic who is a barker or a "shill." Press agents for hotels are "news editors." The manager of a hotel is an "impresario," but the manager of a prize fighter is a "mentor." An editor who assigns a reporter to Harlem always gets a story about the "Sepia Belt."

Broadway, which deserves but won't get a paragraph to itself, is the "Big White Line," the "Rue Regret," "The Great White Way" and the "Stem." Jazz is non-existent—everything is now "swing." You are "in the chips" when you have enough coin to finance a little nocturnal entertainment. The fellow who wheels your cab through traffic is not a chauffeur—he is a "hackey."

Nobody ever tells funny stories—just "gags." A theatrical venture in any part of the city is definitely "on Broadway."

Only "bookies" take bets on horse races. Never invite a friend to have a drink; ask him to indulge in a "powder." A stock actor is a "blue shirt leading man."

You Don't Get Plastered. Beggars are "stumble-bums" and "panhandlers." Also "chickens." To razz anybody is to give him "the bird." A heckler is "a dizzy annoyer." All ballroom dancers bill themselves as "society's favorites." Publications on the newsstands are known as "pulp," "slicks," or magazines.

Any actor worth his salt will tell you about his "command performances." Saloons are "bars" or "pubs." It is undignified to get plastered—you should merely get a "skinful." You'd better smile when you call a man a "stogie" in these hard parts. And I'd better scream if I want to get to that party on time. Gypsy Rose Lee is going to be there and I don't want to miss anything.

HOW'S YOUR HEALTH

Bookkeeping Health. Statisticians have been roundly abused for long. Many people resent the cocksure certainty of statistical figures. One somehow feels so helpless when up against "the facts" mathematically expressed. But the fault is seldom with the figures, and mostly with the interpretation.

In public health statistics, these difficulties are encountered. And be it borne in mind, the subject is not one of mere academic interest. On the contrary, vital statistics, as they are termed, serve as the basis for many medical and public health activities. They therefore touch every man's purse, in taxes, and every man's health and welfare in numerous ways.

Tuberculosis, for instance, is a communicable disease, each case of which physicians must report to their local department of health. Why? Basically because each active case is a real or potential menace to all those around him. Theoretically the state, in self-defense, can when necessary protect its people by forcibly quarantining the infection-spreading individual.

Fortunately such drastic procedures are but seldom necessary. Either the individual freely withdraws into his own home and learns to live without hazard to others, or he voluntarily goes to a tuberculosis sanatorium. And here is a pertinent point. Without statistical knowledge of how many persons in a given community are sick with tuberculosis and the severity of their illness, the responsible agencies would be without guidance as to how many clinics, tuberculosis hospital beds and tuberculosis sanatoriums the community requires.

Statistics on illness and deaths according to causes also point out the weak places in health work, and serve as a guide in concerting remedial efforts. They measure the effectiveness of health work and the

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

BY ROBBINS COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Frank Lloyd's formula for selecting a screen story is interesting and simple, but it runs into complications. After reading a yarn, he asks himself: "Two years from now will I remember this story?" And if this story is good enough to justify an affirmative answer, he believes the story has every chance of making a great movie.

The complications arise because finding that kind of story means plowing through hundreds, even thousands, of scripts. Lloyd's recently completed "Maid of Salem" and already has begun the quest for another story. He has Gilbert Gabriel's story of pioneering, "I, James Lewis," on schedule for spring production, but after that—what?

"There doesn't seem to be any short cut in story selecting," he says. "Stories come in every day from writers and the only way to pick the sheep from the goats is to read them all.

"Sometimes the first paragraph hits you right between the eyes and you think you've found something. Then it peters out. But no matter what my reaction to a story may be, the minute I finish it I ask myself: 'Will I remember it in two years?'"

Lloyd argues it is the theme rather than the plot that makes a story memorable. He selected "Muttiny on the Bounty" after several studios had rejected it on the grounds that it lacked a good romance and had too much brutality in it.

"It appealed to me," he says, "because despite these apparent faults it had a great theme—back of its plot it carried the message that rights are wrong. 'Maid of Salem,' entirely different in plot and character, has almost precisely the same theme and the same appeal. The 'villain' is the Salem witchcraft of 1692, menacing the romance of Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray."

Thinks Audience Approves. Lloyd believes that audiences, watching the delineation of this theme on the screen, are mentally approving.

"Suppose," he says, "that some man in the audience works for an unsympathetic boss. Don't you think he feels it deeply when 'Gabrie' is subjected to the tyranny of Captain Bligh? And he's glad to see tyranny get a sock in the eye. He won't forget it for two years or 10—and when that happens you have a great story."

Talks to Parents

THE I. Q. DANGER

By Brooke Peters Church

"Susie has the highest I. Q. in her class."

Susie preened herself as if she had accomplished a feat. She knew that she stood at the moment just below the middle of her class. Ever since she had been doing poor work. To exert herself in a class of dumbbells hardly seemed worth while. With such a brain as hers, she could always get by without effort.

It is generally a great mistake to tell a child what his intelligence quotient is. If he is told, he should also be informed what the rating means. Hundreds of children idle through school smugly relying on the superior intelligence proved by their psychological tests. Frequently they accomplish less in life than their less gifted fellows.

No one can take credit to himself for a high I. Q. He has no more to do with it than with the color of his eyes and hair. He was born that way. Having been given a superior mentality, he is obliged to use it well and develop it to its fullest extent. Few people, having beautiful hair or hands or figures, sit back and neglect them. Beautiful hair must be tended if it is to remain beautiful, hands must be cared for, figures kept trim. Brains are fundamentally the same. No matter how high the I. Q., if it is not equalled by the record of achievement, it is wasted.

The brilliant child owes something to the world. He has it in his power to do great things, and this power should be held before him as an ideal. He is like the man in the parable of the talents. The 10 talents are his portion, and unless he makes them work and produce more, he is worse off in the end than if he had none.

Robert Southey, the English poet, was expelled from school in 1789 for writing an essay against flogging.

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. How did President Roosevelt's vote this fall compare with that of 1932? M. F.

A. In 1932, President Roosevelt received 22,821,857 votes. Although complete returns are not yet in for the 1936 election, President Roosevelt received at least 27,109,428.

Q. How long is a camel supposed to travel on the desert without a drink? H. T. F.

A. When crossing the desert, camels are expected to carry their loads 25 miles a day for 3 days without a drink. The fletcher breeds carry a rider and a bag of water 50 miles a day for 5 days without drinking.

Q. How many gold certificates were in circulation when they were called into the Treasury? B. B.

A. In 1932, there were $715,683,000 in gold certificates in circulation.

Q. Which modern nation was the first to have social security laws? M. R. T.

A. Germany was first. National insurance came into force under a law passed in 1883.

Q. Have the foreign countries been forgiven their war debts to the United States? M. J. B.

A. The war debts are still owing to America and the nations are still considered to be in default of an obligation.

Q. Does Alaska have airplane service? H. J. K.

A. Planes are rapidly supplanting dog teams in Alaska. Six commercial and eleven private companies are operating scheduled passenger flights covering every important city in the Territory.

Q. What is the highest peak in the Philippines? C. W.

A. Mount Apo, in southern Mindanao, with an elevation of 9610 feet, is the highest.

Q. What is the name of the cartoonist who drew the Romeo and Juliet cartoon of Ethel du Pont and Franklin Roosevelt? J. P. C. H.

A. Jerry Doyle of the Philadelphia Record drew the cartoon.

Q. How many people die of kidney disease? E. L.

A. Kidney disease is responsible for 31,000 deaths in this country annually.

Q. Who was Father Divine before he took that name? A. S.

A. He is in his late fifties now. His early life is obscure, but in 1899 he was a serious-minded young man named George Baker, who earned a living in Baltimore, mostly by cutting lawns and doing odd jobs on the dock. He taught Sunday School at the Rev. Mr. Henderson's Baptist church. He met a traveling mulatto evangelist, Samuel Morris, and the two worked together. In 1912, Baker decided to go out on his own and preach from town to town. In 1919 he became "Father Divine."

Q. How many pupils are transported to and from school daily? How many buses are used? J. R. M.

A. Three million boys and girls are carried to and from school daily in 80,000 school buses.

Q. How much salt is there in the Dead Sea? R. S.

A. The Dead Sea contains approximately 11,600,000,000 tons of salt.

Q. What is the origin of Kentucky burgeois? J. L. K.

A. The originator of Kentucky bourgeois was Gus Jambert, one of Morgan's men, who first made it for an encampment of Bluecoat prisoners at Lexington in the fall of 1863. The secret of the concoction was handed down to James Looney, who still retains the title of Burgeois King.

Q. Is it true that King Edward VIII has displaced all the older officials at Buckingham Palace with younger men? E. M.

A. With the exception of several officials, the King's appointments to the household posts are all younger men. In the Lord Steward's department, the 66-year-old Earl of Shaftesbury has been succeeded by the duke of Sutherland, aged 47. The duke of Beaufort, 36, is now Master of the Horse in place of the Earl of Granard, 62. Major Alexander Hardinge, 42, now heads the private secretary's department, and Major Ulick Alexander, 47, is the Keeper of the Privy Purse.

Q. For whom was Rudyard Kipling named? E. W.

A. The writer was named after Rudyard Lake in Staffordshire, where his parents first met.

Make Some Home-Made Candy

The holiday season without candy would be like Thanksgiving without turkey. And no matter how much candy you may have from the confectioner's it is always well to have on hand a supply of the home-made article. Nothing ever quite takes the place of the sweets prepared by the loving hands of a member of the family. The first thing to do is to ask our Washington Information Bureau for a copy of its home service booklet, Candy Recipes.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

He finished the brandy and rang the bell for the butler. The man entered and stood waiting; he betrayed no astonishment whatever at the sight of that still body lying on the floor.

"I've got a job for you," said Lawson curtly. "Mr. Lee-Ramsden's hat and coat are in the hall. Put them on, and then make your way quickly out to his car and drive away. If anybody's watching, I want them to think it's Lee-Ramsden driving away."

"Go on driving about until you're quite certain you're not being followed, and then abandon the car in a quiet place, and bring the hat and overcoat back here in a parcel."

"Very good, sir," replied the man, and left the room.

That was that, thought Lawson; if Lee-Ramsden had been seen entering his house, he would also be seen driving away from it. So far as the body was concerned, that could remain in the house for the time being until a convenient opportunity occurred to dispose of it.

In a corner of the room stood a big cupboard containing unimportant books and papers. Lawson cleared them out, piled them in another corner of the room, thrust the body into the cupboard and locked the cupboard door.

Patty Bassett was very worried. Things were happening which he did not understand in the slightest. He sat frowning, staring at the fireplace, and occasionally drinking beer from a large tankard. Barney Flynn, who was with him, noticed his pre-occupied air.

"What's the trouble with you, this evening, Patty?" he inquired.

Patty shook his head. Ordinarily he was not a communicative person, but on this occasion he felt the need to confide in someone.

"It's the gov'ner," he answered. "I'm thinking he's gone off 'is rocker. But you know what 'e's like; it's no use arguin' with 'im."

"And what's he after doin' now?" asked the Irishman.

"E's made an appointment to meet Miss Little in a lonely 'ouse in Clapham in an hour's time. 'E told 'is 'isself 'e reckoned there was a trap in it—that that Bloke Lawson was layin' for 'im with some dirty scheme. An 'e's gone off on 'is own, and when I asks wot I was to do about guardin' 'im, or settin' an ambush to catch 'im, Ruddy Lawson, 'e says, 'do nothin'."

"What's that yere sayin'?" You mean he's gone off to that house where he expects to find a trap, an' there's nobody from our side gone with him at all?"

"That's what I mean," answered Patty grimly. "I tried to talk it out of 'im, but 'e wouldn't listen. Don't worry about me, Patty, 'e says, I know wot I'm up to, an' orf 'e went."

"And you let him go like that, all by himself?" said a voice just behind them.

Ruth Fraser had just entered the room and was standing, pale and indignant, looking at the two men.

"You let Terence go off by himself, knowing he was going into a trap?" she repeated.

Patty had an uncomfortable air. He looked uneasily in his seat.

"There was no stoppin' 'im," he protested. "E told me particularly 'e didn't want any of my blokes

PRINCESS ELIZABETH IS ASKING QUESTIONS ABOUT 'UNCLE DAVID'

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—"Uncle David" is asked just a one hour recess from lessons for little, fair-haired Princess Elizabeth.

The stirring events in London brought the 10-year-old daughter of the new British king and queen next in line for the throne.

Some say she may rule the British Empire as Queen Elizabeth II, but what count's at the moment is that hour's respite from the daily educational chores.

A person in close touch with the royal household disclosed today the princess' fair head was bent over her books when her mother, the new queen, entered her schoolroom and gently told the important tidings.

Eut because it is not good for little girls to know too much she was not told she was now a more important personage herself as her pre-emptive to the throne.

If she didn't understand the full significance of what her mother told her, she was shrewd enough to know something of exceeding importance had happened.

"Much of the tenderness of the moment was communicated to Princess Elizabeth," said a witness of the drama, "for she's an astute, sharp witted little girl."

"For days she has been asking questions. Naturally, she was told nothing of the true gravity of events."

"But, in driving to and from Windsor, she has frequently caught sight of newspaper posters bearing the king's name. She has plied her attendants with questions regarding what was happening to 'Uncle David.'"

JAH IS 'HOME' FOR MUCH ARRESTED MAN

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Candidate for the title of America's "most arrested man" is George Tipton, 58-year-old negro here who has been jailed 125 times since 1924.

The charges against Tipton, who has outlived three wives, range from vagrancy, drunkenness and petty theft to violation of the federal narcotic act.

His most noteworthy escapade was the theft of a snow shovel on the hottest day of summer. Arrested once for stealing a lawnmower, he denied the charge, saying:

"I stumbled over it, and was too lazy to walk around it, so I just pushed it away."

Arkansas, Marquette May Play In Dallas January 1

Invitation May Be Issued to Frogs If They Win

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT.
DALLAS, Dec. 11 (AP)—Officials of the University of Arkansas, Southwest conference grid champions, are expected within the next 24 hours to accept an invitation to meet Marquette's Golden Avalanche in Dallas' Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day.

J. Curtis Sanford, young East Texas oil man and president of the Cotton Bowl association, is doing a one-man job of bringing together two of the nation's more pass-minded teams in the first Cotton Bowl classic.

Sanford planned to confer with Arkansas officials, Athletic Business Manager Boyd Cypert and Head Coach Fred Thomson, here today. Cypert and Thomson are attending the annual meeting of the Southwest conference. Conrad Jennings, Marquette athletic director, informed Sanford by telephone Marquette was agreeable to the game.

Definite selection of an opponent for Marquette will be withheld until after the Texas Christian-Santa Clara game at San Francisco Saturday. It was reported, Texas Christian may get the call over Arkansas if it defeats the Bronco, only major undefeated and untied team of the nation and scheduled to play Louisiana State in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl game.

Informed sources indicated Texas Christian, regardless of the outcome of Saturday's game, would close shop for the season.

Sanford said he had been advised that Ray (Buzz) Bulvid, Marquette's heralded all-America halfback would decline an invitation to play in the East-West game at San Francisco on New Year's Day to play with his team here.

Negotiations hit a slight snag when it was learned the championship game of the Texas Interscholastic League may be played in Dallas on the same date. The titular game has been played here the last two years and packs a tremendous drawing power. Some 20,000 fans watched the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm subdue Corpus Christi in the 1934 finale at the Cotton Bowl while 20,000 saw Amarillo repeat against Greenville at Southern Methodist's Ownby oval last New Year's Day.

Sanford, however, did not finish the schoolboy game would alter his plans.

Finalists in the interscholastic chase usually toss a coin or agree on a neutral spot for the windup game.

Marquette lost but one game during the season that made them prominent Rose Bowl contenders until the final tilt when Duquesne, conquerors of Pitt, Rose Bowl team, stopped their march.

Arkansas lost games to Texas Christian, Louisiana State and George Washington but finished with a rush to win their first conference title.

TROJAN CAGE TEAM TO BARNSTORM IN TEXAS

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Dec. 11 (AP)—Coach Sam Barry and 12 members of University of Southern California's basketball team leave tonight for a barnstorming trip through Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

The Trojan squad will rate one of the best in the Pacific Coast conference this season.

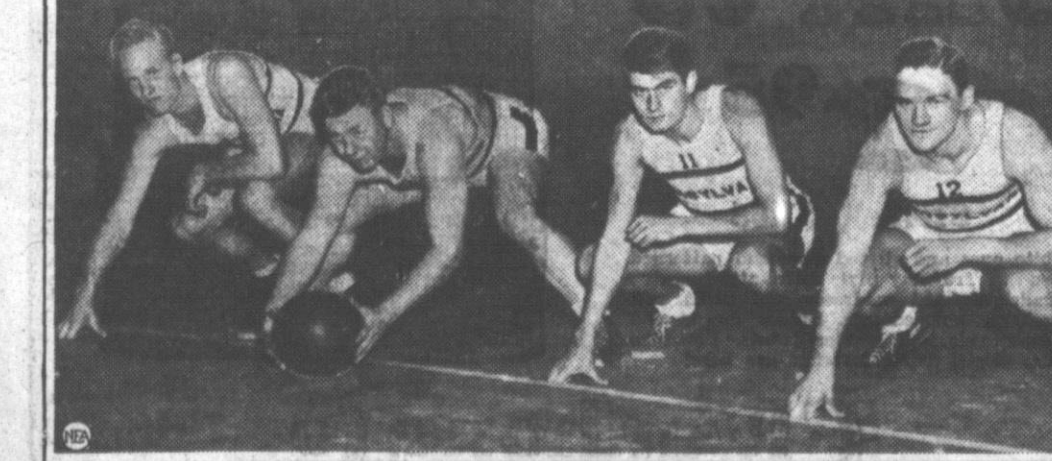

The schedule for the trip includes: Dec. 14—New Mexico A. & M. at El Paso. Dec. 16—Texas Tech at Lubbock. Dec. 17—Southern Methodist at Dallas. Dec. 18—Texas A. & M. at College Station. Dec. 19—Texas University at Austin. Dec. 21—Rice Institute at Houston. Dec. 22—Rice Institute at Houston.

FROGS ARRIVE
OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 11 (AP)—Football players of Texas Christian University arrived here shortly after midnight tonight en route to San Francisco and their game Saturday with Santa Clara.

The Horned Frogs, determined to blemish the Bronco's record as the only undefeated and untied major team in the country, rolled in by train from Fresno where they held a light workout.

Dr. Milda Threlkeld, dean of women at the University of Louisville, says "preparation for and adjustment to a vocation are fundamental aims of education."

Signals Over! This Is Basketball Season

These University of Pennsylvania basketball players just can't seem to remember that football season is over. The quietest played a big part in the Quakers' gridiron destinies this year, and now are members of the cage squad. They are, left to right: Anton Mischo, forward, who played end on the football squad; Jim Hauze, cage guard and football center; DeWitt Ricketts, center in basketball and pigskin lineman; and Franny Murray, cage guard and backfield ace of the grid team.

Coach

PAT GERALD
The Panhandle Panthers, coached by Pat Gerald, are playing for the region I class B football championship this afternoon in McLean where their opponents are the Flomot Longhorns. Coach Gerald and his Panthers will be banqueting in Panhandle Monday night. Pampa guests will include Dr. H. H. Hicks and Harry E. Hoare.

Schmeling Seeks Fight Showdown

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight, sought a showdown today before the New York State Athletic commission on a title fight with James J. Braddock.

Mein Herr Max was prepared to tell the fistic fathers he was ready to sign to meet Braddock any time the promoters can arrange the fight. Max didn't care whether it was staged here, in Miami or in Atlantic City.

Also, der Moxie was set to tell one and all he is prepared to squawk both in German and English if Braddock fails to go through with his promise to give Joe Louis' conqueror first shot at the heavyweight crown.

Just a year ago Schmeling came to New York and the commission told him he would have to knock off Joe Louis before meeting Braddock. Schmeling agreed and came through with a 12-round knockout of Louis last June.

"I won the right to fight Braddock and I won it the hard way," said the German. "They are not going to give me what you Americans call 'the run around.'"

GRADERS ARE WORKING OVERTIME ON STREETS

Two graders are working full time on city streets, according to L. P. Duval, street superintendent. All dirt streets will be graded and leveled while the earth is still moist following the recent rain. Mr. Duval said.

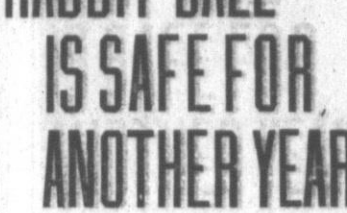

Workmen are also busy setting traffic lane "buttons" on Cuyler street with the greatest possible speed between Francis and Atchinson avenues. Nearly two blocks have already been affixed to the paving. The "buttons" will show up clearly both day and night and motorists are warned to stay on the right side of the line. City Manager C. L. Stine warns.

DIES IN GAS CHAMBER
RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 11 (AP)—Martin Moore, 22-year old negro, was executed in North Carolina's gas chamber today for the hotel room slaying of Helen Clevenger, New York University student, in Asheville last July. The former hotel bell boy, a hulking giant who confessed shooting and beating the 18-year old victim to death, was pronounced dead 12 1-2 minutes after he entered the death chamber.

C. P. BUCKLER ELECTED
The Canadian commandery, Knights Templar, last night elected C. P. Buckler its new commander at a well attended meeting in Canadiana. Earl Johnson, Canadian, is the retiring officer. Mr. Buckler has just returned from Waco where he attended a meeting of the Grand lodge.

LION'S ATTACK FATAL
BALTIMORE, Dec. 11 (AP)—Miss Gladys Cote, young Chicago dancer who was bitten and clawed by a lion on a Baltimore theater, died in University hospital early today. The lion attacked the girl several days ago as the curtain rang down on the act, in full view of the audience.

RABBIT BALL IS SAFE FOR ANOTHER YEAR

BOB FELLER SAFE IN FOLD OF CLEVELAND TRIBE

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Bob Feller was safely in the Cleveland wigwam, the rabbit ball was set for another riding spree over distant fences and the incomparable Disney Dean still received orders from Branch Rickey today.

As major league club owners and managers, worn to a frazzle after 10 days of bartering, headed for home, all was peaceful and serene in the baseball world.

Cleveland was happy and relieved by the decision of Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, who finally ruled that Feller, 17-year old pitching wonder, has its exclusive property.

Club owners were triumphant. With the Feller decision behind them they hoped ultimately to raise to statute which forbids them to sign sandlot players without minor league experience.

Because the majors had a big warehouse filled with rabbit balls, it was decided to use them up in 1937 and then talk about a deader sphere for 1938.

Since the big player mart opened in Montreal last week, there are principal moves of major league clubs to repair their baseball fences:

American League
Tigers—Released Outfielder Chester Morgan to Toledo; recalled First Baseman Rudy York. Outfielder Chief Lamb, Pitcher Clude Hatter and Shortstop Wimpy Wilburn from Milwaukee; sent cash and Catcher Clarence Phillips to Indianapolis for Pitcher Paul Trout.

Indians—Won clear right to Pitcher Bob Feller.
Red Sox—Swapped Infielder Bill Werber to Athletics for Infielder Pinky Higgins.

National League
Giants—Released Mark Koenig.
Cardinals—Sold Infielder Charlie Gelbert and Catcher Virgil Davis to Cincinnati.

Dodgers—Picked up Outfielder Herbie Manush, free agent; traded Pitcher Dutch Brandt to Pittsburgh for Pitcher Ralph Birkner and Infielder Cookie Lavagetto; swapped Shortstop Linus Frey to Cubs for Infielder Woody English and Pitcher Roy Henshaw; sold Outfielder Frenchy Bordagaray, Infielder Jim Jordan and Pitcher Emil Leonard to Cardinals.

Cubs—Purchased Outfielder Joe Marty from San Francisco for cash and Outfielder Johnny Gill, first baseman Gene Lillard and Infielder Joe Vitter.

Bears—Purchased Outfielder Vincent DiMaggio from San Diego for cash. Outfielder Ruppert Thompson and Pitcher Jim Chaplin.
Cincinnati—Released Infielder Tommy Thevenou.

AIR-MINDED PAMPANS
R. G. Allen returned last night from a business trip to Fort Worth, Dallas and points in East Texas. The trip was made in Dee Graham's Waco cabin plane with Mr. Graham at the controls.

Frank Shaw also returned from Dallas last night, flying the Howard Bean Cessna monoplane which had been left there last week because of impossible flying weather.

SMITH COMPLAINS
AUSTIN, Dec. 10 (AP)—Lon Smith, member of the Railroad commission, charged today in a statement that the majority of the commission had "executed in military style" several employees appointed by him. Ernest O. Thompson, commission chairman, said yesterday there was "nothing unusual" in the dismissal of four men and declined to comment on Smith's statement. The other commissioner is C. V. Terrell.

"Resign!" "Down with Baldwin!" "Boo-oo-oo-oo!" The clamor of disapproval assailed Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin when he was recognized in his dashes about London to confer on the "constitutional crisis." He's seen here leaving his car at No. 10 Downing Street to attend the cabinet meeting that decided not to rush King Edward's decision on abdication.

FARM PROBLEMS IN EUROPE ARE DESCRIBED AS ALSO DEPRESSING

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 11 (AP)—Europe has its farm problems, too, Clifford V. Gregory, Chicago member of the President's special commission to investigate cooperatives in Europe, told the American Farm Bureau Federation's annual convention today.

"In Ireland," said Gregory, who is editor of Prairie Farmer, "farmers complain bitterly about the English cattle tariff, while in England, farmers complain because the tariff is not high enough."
"On the wall of a creamery in southern France I saw a poster which told of the evils of deflation and demanded honest money, more protection against imports, and parity prices."
The editor said plans vary from export subsidies to straight price fixing.
"In Sweden," he said, "the price of grain is fixed for a year in advance. The farmer knows in the spring before he plants his crop just what he will get for it. Control of imports, export subsidies and diversions of surplus wheat to feed are the methods used to sustain the price."
Two cents a pound is paid on all fat cattle at the time of marketing in England, he related. The money comes out of the treasury and is little more than a direct subsidy.

Harvester Basketball Team To Play In McLean Monday

JAPANESE WILL PLAY FOR FIRST CUE TITLE

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—Kinrey Matsuyama of Japan, who isn't as tall as some of the cues used by experts. He has defeated, goes after his first world's three cushion billiards championship tonight.

The squat, round-faced Oriental, who wears high heeled shoes when he plays to boost his height to five feet, opposes Welker Cochran of San Francisco, and if Matsuyama wins will take, at angle crowd back to the land he last saw 16 years ago.

If Cochran wins, however, a three-way tie for the title will result and necessitate a playoff, all because of the wizardry of Willie Hoppe of New York, graying one time "boy wonder" Hoppe, with no chance to retain his title, dealt a severe blow to Johnny Layton's title chances last night, defeating the Sedalia, Mo., expert 50 to 33 in 47 innings.

If Cochran defeats Layton today and then beats Matsuyama there will be a tie, at angle crowd back to the land he last saw 16 years ago. Cochran and Tiff Denton of Kansas City, if Layton wins and Cochran beats Matsuyama the tie will involve Layton, Matsuyama and Denton.

Norman Cox, elongated end on the football team, apparently has the center job sewed up. Albert Ayer, only starter available from last season, will be one of the guards. At the forward positions, the line appears to be centered around Jamey Dewey, a newcomer, Doyle Enlo and Junior McKay while the other guard will be either Noblitt or Richard Kilgore.

McLean's Tigers have been working out for nearly three weeks. Coach Bill Allen, it is reported, has a good looking bunch of boys battling for starting honors.

Army and Navy Stamps Will Be Available Here

First issue of the new Army and Navy stamps will be available in Washington, D. C. on December 15, according to local postoffice officials. Collectors desiring to secure some of the first issue should send self-addressed envelopes air mail, not exceeding 10 for each kind, to the Postmaster, Washington, D. C. with money order enclosed to cover the amount of the stamps.

Only one-cent stamps will be available at this time. Several hundred of each have been ordered here but they are not expected to arrive before the new year.

Both stamps are special delivery size with background of green. Pictures on them are horizontal, according to the communication.

The army issue shows pictures of George Washington, on left, and Nathaniel Green, on right, both in ovals. Mount Vernon is shown as a background with panels of laurel leaves on the sides, and stars in the corners.

ALBERT'S MARRIAGE CAUSED QUITE A STIR

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—It's all forgotten today, but the Duke of York's marriage in 1923 caused quite a stir.

Prince Albert, Duke of York, Britain's new monarch, shocked the die-hards by marrying a person not of royal blood—the first English prince in 250 years to receive the king's consent to wed a commoner.

The order restricting monarchs' sons in their choice of brides was laid down to English princes by King George II in a decree which only the growing freedom of the post-war years could kill.

George's decision to permit his children to choose from a wider circle, however, was said to have been on the condition they pick their mates in the first three ranks of the aristocracy—sons and daughters of dukes, marquises and earls.

The Duke of York's wife, who was Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, met this requirement.

Held for Threat to Ginger Rogers

Charged with attempting to extort $5000 from Ginger Rogers, dancing star of the films, James E. Hall, 30, above, was captured in a Long Beach, Calif., cafe, where federal operatives said he was waiting for the money. Letters to the screen actress threatened her with death if she did not pay. Hall is a sailor on the U. S. aircraft carrier Lexington.

LEAGUE RULES BILL KILMAN IS ELIGIBLE

AUSTIN, Dec. 11 (AP)—The state executive committee of the Interscholastic League ruled last night that Bill Kilman, Amarillo High school football guard, was eligible, and Amarillo will continue in its race for the state grid title.

Dean T. H. Shelby, committee chairman, said the protest of Childress High school, which suffered a 46 to 0 shattering by Amarillo's Golden Sandstorm last week in bi-district play, was disallowed since it was proved to the committee's satisfaction Kilman was not beyond the age limit of 19.

Bible Evidence Conclusive
Evidence was submitted by both schools, Childress being represented by Superintendent A. W. Adams and Principal C. E. Damron and Amarillo by Superintendent C. M. Rogers and Principal R. E. Norman.

A family Bible formed part of the documentary evidence in the hearing. It dated Kilman's birth as December 27, 1917.

"The evidence presented by Childress," said Dean Shelby, "was not conclusive."
Kilman was found eligible. Amarillo will resume its third consecutive race for the state title in the quarterfinal clash with Abilene Bible Decides Case.

"The protest was raised on two considerations," Dean Shelby said. "Childress officials claimed a consolidated school census rolls showed the boy to be older. They said he was born in August, 1917, which of course, would have made him 19 before Sept. 1 of this year and disqualified him from high school play."

"His parents' representatives, however, proved beyond question the family had moved from Pannin county Benton county before the lad was born and their documentary evidence, in the form of a family Bible which was unquestionably genuine, showed him to be born in December, 1917."

"None of the committee doubted this evidence and we therefore accepted it as definite proof and ruled Kilman eligible."

Eagles Are Glad It's The Sandies
ABILENE, Dec. 11 (AP)—It's Amarillo we had prepared to meet, and I am glad we are to have it with the Sandies," said Dewey Mayhew, Abilene High School coach, tonight, when news of the Kilman eligibility decision was received here.

"The Sandies' victory over Amarillo, although the Golden Sandstorm is a unanimous pick of schoolboy football observers to win.

Preparations will be renewed tomorrow to accommodate a crowd of twelve or thirteen thousand at Eagle Stadium Saturday afternoon where seating accommodations have been added for about 1,500 since the Thanksgiving game with San Angelo, which was won by 11,500.

Because of cold weather, the Eagles held most of their workout today in their gymnasium.

DALLAS, Dec. 11 (AP)—The mighty of Texas Interscholastic League football made final preparations today for games that will determine semi-finalists in the seventeenth annual race.

Amarillo's Golden Sandies, relieved of eligibility worries, meet Abilene's surprising Eagles in the feature battle, scheduled for the Abilene ballfield.

Four gridiron attractions tomorrow on widely-separated fields—North Side (Fort Worth) clashing with Gainesville at Fort Worth, Lufkin meeting Kerrville on a neutral field at Waco and Corpus Christi journeying to Fort Arthur.

North Side, Kerrville and Fort Arthur. Amarillo, seeking a third straight title, survived ineligibility charges against Bill Kilman, guard, filed by Childress, the interscholastic league ruling the boy in question was not over the limit of 19.

The Sandies are generally considered as meeting their strongest test.

FIREMEN—YOU HAD A BUSY DAY
NEW HAMPTON, Ia. (AP)—New Hampton's volunteer fire department had a busy day—all in the same place.

On the first trip they extinguished a fire on the roof of Ora Eggleston's home.

An hour later they dashed to Ora's home to put out another roof fire and rip off some shingles. An hour later it was to put out a fire in Ora's basement. He had stored the roof shingles there and they burst into flames again.

AMERICAN PRESS BOTH PRAISES AND CONDEMNS FORMER KING EDWARD

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Sympathy and condemnation for ex-King Edward and criticism of the British government for not keeping its subjects informed of developments prior to the abdication were included in editorial comments in the American press today.

New York Times: "With his (Edward's) conclusion, there will be general agreement. . . It is a sad frustration of the hopes that had centered in Edward VIII. . . All this high opportunity for service, this call to duty, he put aside in one mad surge of passion for a woman. This was unworthy of a true man and of the great tradition into which his inheritance had brought him."

New York Evening Journal: "The village that voted the earth was flung had nothing on the Baldwin cabinet and that section of British reactionary opinion which has forced King Edward to abdicate because, forsooth, his intentions were honorable. . . Edward declined to be married off into some broken-down royal family."

Chicago Tribune: "A suggestion is heard that Edward's abdication was not the only cause of the ministry and the church and some of the upper classes had against him. It may be true that what was regarded as the irregularity of his marriage was not unwelcome in circles which were not to him for other reasons and thought it difficult to take a stand against him if he gained enormous popularity by a show of sympathy and humanitarianism."

Dallas News: "The stability of the British commonwealth is apparently restored after a brief period of danger. The new king will doubtless make a satisfactory ruler, possibly a more adequate one for these times than Edward would have been. It must be painful for any man to retreat from a position as high as the king-emperor but the alternative of deserting a lady at the church might have left even sorer wounds to both Edward's emotions and to his prestige in an age in which chivalry has not been entirely forgotten."

Los Angeles Times: "A car driven by a woman on a downtown Los Angeles street today had a cold shower. The car, a Buick, was driving on a street when it swerved to avoid a collision with a car. The fire plug snapped and the water came on full blast for cold, early morning shower in downtown Los Angeles."

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 11 (AP)—Selling that was considered to be for profit taking and realizing purposes appeared in the market during the morning and brought small recessions for active operations. The mid-way mark in dealings futures were off around 50 cents a bale, with a good trade and speculative demand taking contracts on the way down. Two exceedingly bullish private estimates on consumption of cotton during November, one for 420,000 bales and one for 425,000 bales appeared. These compared with 412,000 bales in November, 1935.

Liverpool said that the settlement of the constitutional crisis had brought more business into that market. Speculative buying that had stayed on the sidelines there was reportedly back in the market.

Wet weather in the eastern half of the cotton belt and dry weather in the west characterized reports on climatic conditions.

Cloth markets both here and abroad were active with a strong price structure.

Condition of Harry Lemmons, suffering from gunshot wounds, was slightly improved at Worley hospital this morning.

Mrs. D. E. Davis of Kellerville was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday.

Little change is reported in the condition of Mrs. Ed Manning, injured critically in an automobile accident last week. She is a patient in Worley hospital.

DIES OF INJURIES

MADRID, Dec. 1 (AP)—Louise de la Pre, 44, correspondent for the Paris Soir, died today, three days after he was injured with three others, when their plane was shot down by an unidentified war plane over Spanish insurgent territory.

EDDY, DAVID, TEDDY

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Stripped of his titles by his own act, the former king of the British empire has three names today: To England, he is Edward Windsor. His family calls him David. Mrs. Simpson's name for him is Teddy.

TO ASK LOANS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Re-vestment administration officials said today they would ask Congress to authorize loans for drought-stricken farmers to help place them on self-supporting basis.

BURIED AS PAUPER

ROME, Dec. 11 (AP)—Luigi Pirandello, 69, was buried today with a pauper's burial in accordance with the dying wish of the famed playwright and Nobel prize winner. A simple hearse, used to bear paupers to their graves, bore him to a station and the body was placed aboard a train for Agrigento, Sicily, where Pirandello was born and where he will be buried without further ceremonies.

The "national" soups are France's pot-au-feu, and petite marmite, Italy's minestrone, Russia's borcht, Holland's erwtensoep and Spain's puchero.

Spinach was introduced to Europe about the fifteenth century. It is probably of Persian origin. A distilled liquor milled arrack was made in India as early as 800 B. C.

What Happens When Rebels Fire on Madrid

Worse even than a lightning bolt are the incendiary bombs rained on Madrid by rebel aviators. Explosion scatters far and wide the fiery charge of molten metals and inflammable liquids dropped out of the sky. Taken an instant after a bomb burst, this picture shows vividly the havoc in its wake. The street is an inferno of blazing combustibles, and air eddy adjacent buildings have burst into flames, adding to the confusion caused by the night air raid.

wells to brothers and friends at Fort Belvedere. Mrs. Simpson, at Cannes, let it be known through a spokesman that she expects to obtain her divorce decree next April without complications.

As yet, the spokesman said, she has made no arrangements to meet the former king.

The House of Commons, rushing the abdication bill through first, second and third reading with but a faint ripple of dissent from a handful of left-wingers, sent to the peers at 1:20 p. m.

The new name of the king—presumably "George VI"—awaits official confirmation, but officials generally expected the sovereign would take that means of continuing the heritage of his late father, George V.

He has three other possibilities, however, Albert, Frederick or Arthur.

The new king, who was receiving distinguished visitors at his Piccadilly home when the hands of Big Ben pointed to 1:52, the instant of his accession, will take the oath of accession at 11 a. m. tomorrow at St. James's palace.

At 3 p. m. heralds, in medieval splendor, will step out on the balcony of the palace for the historic ceremony of public proclamation.

Then will follow a splendid procession to Temple Bar and Royal Exchange, where the accession again will be proclaimed with sonorous

The ceremony will be identical with that for Edward early in the year, except that the proclamation will not say "the king is dead."

The new monarch will not move into Buckingham palace until the new year, but, like his brother, will go there to transact state business.

And, while Edward seeks voluntary exile and the peace of a private life, his new majesties will spend Christmas at Sandringham, with their children, the queen mother, and other relatives.

There may be many changes in the old staff of the royal households.

One of those whose future was uncertain, Inspector David Storier of Scotland Yard, assigned to guard both the former king and Mrs. Simpson, sat dejectedly today in the front seat of a surrey constabulary car, traveling swiftly along the road from Belvedere to Staines. He may go back to regular—and not so glamorous—duty.

MOORE HIRED AGAIN.

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 11 (AP)—Louisiana State university football supporters hailed with gratification today the issuance of a new and extended contract to Coach Bernie Moore, who in two years guided the Bayou Tiger gridman to high national ranking and two Southeastern titles. Moore, who took charge as head coach Jan. 1, 1935, when Major Lawrence M. (Biff) Jones resigned after a dressing room dispute with the late Senator Huey P. Long, was given a new contract assuring the university of his services for two additional years.

To Dismantle Parking Meters at Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Dec. 11 (AP)—City of Lubbock officials this morning prepared to dismantle 217 parking meters after a group of Lubbock merchants had posted $5,000 bond to make effective a temporary writ of injunction against operation of the meters.

Judge Homer L. Pharr of 72nd district court late Thursday granted the injunction, asked in the suit of I. A. Stephens and others against the city of Lubbock.

Immediate appeal of Judge Pharr's ruling to the court of civil appeals at Amarillo was ordered by the city.

Judge Pharr, in granting the temporary injunction, had ruled that the plaintiffs must post $5,000 bond before it would become effective.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Lawson were called yesterday to Fort Scott, Kan., where her brother, Maj. Charles Smallwood, died at his home. They were expected to return Monday.

TALLEY HEREFORD SALE BRINGS $8,805 GROSS

Two Randall county cattlemen started a "comeback" in the purebred Hereford business at Amarillo Thursday by buying the prize offering of H. A. Talley's annual fall sale, a cow and calf, for $1,250. They were S. G. and E. J. Sanders, brothers, who are building up their second pure-bred herd. They entered only one bid, raising one of $1,160.

As many as four buyers were bidding on the cow, Donna Anna 3rd, and calf, Dandy Prince Domino Jr., at one time. Among them were W. D. Corley of Littleton, Colo., who some time ago paid $5,100 for a half-sister of the Talley animal.

The sale, held in the sales pavilion at the Tri-State Fair grounds, grossed $8,805. Eleven bulls averaged $299 and 16 females brought an average of $331.

S. R. Nelson of Miami and John Cist of Odessa paid the highest prices for bulls, each bidding $450. The heaviest buyers were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clark of Clovis, who paid $1,575 for one bull and four heifers.

George Nance of Canyon, J. H. Jett of Elida, N. M., and W. D. Corley of Littleton, Colo., were other prominent bidders.

Earl Garten was the auctioneer and O. R. Peterson and Frank Farley of Kansas City and Mason King, Amarillo, were field men.

ALLIED SILENT
AUSTIN, Dec. 11 (AP)—Governor Allred declined to answer a question today as to whether Jack Chevigny, head football coach at the University of Texas, would be employed in a state department in a legal capacity. After announcing recently that he was not a candidate for another term as mentor of the Longhorns, Chevigny, former assistant to Knute Cocks of Notre Dame, said he had a "job" promised at the capital. Chevigny holds a law degree.

WHY PUT UP WITH PIMPLES, WRINKLES AND A SALLOW SKIN?

So many women throw their charm and beauty away—look years older than they are—because they neglect common constipation. They forget that badly balanced meals, over a period of years, can change how they look and feel.

Often their menus lack the "bulk" needed for regular habits. Then constipation, the beauty-killer, sets in. Other effects may be headaches, listlessness, sleeplessness.

Get "bulk" back into your meals with a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Just eat two tablespoons daily, either as a cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

work with not enough food to eat to carry them through the day. When lunch time comes they open packages of nothing but water biscuits. Men cannot work and keep the proper body requisites on fare of that kind. Here is where the supplementary relief fund would help again.

Children Hungry
Children go to school hungry. Many of them are supplied with meals at noon through a Red Cross fund. But they have had little or nothing to eat before they left home. The relief fund is to eradicate situations of that sort.

There is a 13-year-old Pampa girl who was forced to quit school in order to try to earn a living for her bedfast mother and for herself. This girl is working in a cafe, earning what money she can for her services.

Back To Wall
Only two days ago a Pampa couple who never had asked for relief found their backs to the wall. There are the 23-year-old husband, his 20-year-old wife and their two-year-old baby. The husband has no work. They live in a small cottage on the edge of town. No income. No money to buy the necessary foods for the baby. No money for rent, heat, light. He is willing to do any kind of work, but so far has been unable to obtain employment. Finally, he came to WPA. It will take ten days to get his application through. They must live, eat and keep warm in the meantime. But will they?

The Pampa Supplementary Relief Fund is designed to care for cases of this kind. A relief fund would tide their family over until a job can be found.

There are many cases of this kind in Pampa. There is a certain amount of suffering among the needy and the jobless.

Jobs Hard to Find
You hear some people say, anybody can get a job in Pampa if they want it. That statement is hardly true. Unskilled men are trying to get jobs and can't. In addition to this there are families which have no employable members. The heads of these families are ill, unable to work. But they should have the right to be sheltered, to be warm, and to eat—and to have proper medical attention when it is necessary.

That's where the money contributed to the Pampa relief fund will go. The government is taking care of some of the needy in a highly inadequate manner. The money raised here next week will go to supplement this relief work being done by the government. It is President Roosevelt's request.

Cases cited here are actual cases taken from local relief files within the city limits of Pampa. Any who doubt that they exist may have them verified through the welfare office in the Gray county courthouse.

Other cases of destitution in Pampa will be published in Sunday's Pampa NEWS.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquirers must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. What results followed the Texas claim to Santa Fe? O. P. A. Although the Texas Congress disapproved it, President Lamar, in 1841, decided to send a "trade expedition" to Santa Fe to secure for Texas the profitable business between St. Louis and Mexico, then going to Santa Fe. The 270 armed and equipped party, with three commissioners, was joined by many non-descript adventurers. Provisions were exhausted, and when they reached New Mexico they were taken prisoners and marched on foot to Mexico City, where they were finally released through the intervention of England and the United States.

205,850,684 insurance in force; out of state legal reserve companies number 89, collecting $37,781,103, with $1,466,016,285 insurance in force.

Q. What are the Texas furbearing animals on which a tax must be paid? B. J. A. Badgers, civet cats, foxes, minks, muskrats, opossums, polecats or skunks, racoons, beavers and ring-tail cats. These may be taken by trappers only in open season, as to which inquiry should be made of local game wardens. The fee for a resident trapper's license is $1.10; for non-resident trapper's license, $25.00.

TURKEY SURPLUS GOES TO NEEDY

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Canned turkey is on the menu for many El Paso county farm families this winter.

There was such a big turkey crop the farmers were unable to obtain a normal price for their birds so J. Ralph Young, Colorado Springs WPA director, suggested they be canned at the WPA kitchens.

Seventy-five per cent of the canned product was returned to the turkey grower offering his birds, and 25 per cent was retained for distribution to needy families.

BILIOUS

Condition Needs Double Action Treatment

Stimulation of liver bile flow is not enough for complete relief, but combined with intestinal stimulation that relieves temporary constipation, quick, soothing results are certain. Herbina, a combination of herbs, contains BOTH actions and so those dizzy, headachy, indigestions, gas, rumbling feelings get relieved when both liver and bowels return to normal action. Get your bottle of Herbina from druggists.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

OPINIONS

What do bond traders think of their market? Here's the consensus. Foreigns: Threats of war overhanging due to political disturbances. Industrials: increased wages and dividend payments no direct encouragement in behalf of bonds. Utilities: uncertain effects of legislative restraint, rate problems and higher labor costs. Ralls: bullish results of heavier loadings and larger revenues offset by fears of federal investigations, labor threats and doubts as to freight rates. As a result of these views—for quick turns—professionals are confining commitments to activities in specialties, governments and prime offerings.

OUTLOOK

The current cocoa commodity price move is attributed to increased consumer's buying coupled with a shortage in crop. It might be added that British interests practically control the world price structure because of their hold on the African crop. Since it takes seven years for cocoa trees to produce and since African growth has been neglected it will be years before the Gold Coast will again be an important producing factor. That is why the outlook for cocoa appears constructive according to those in the trade.

REGULAR

It is interesting to note something else concerning world cocoa prices. It appears—according to charts—that every decade a spectacular move occurs. The first sharp upswing was noted in 1896. Another bull movement started in 1906. Commodity conditions in 1916 were ripe for another strong movement. The world war was in full bloom at the time. The cocoa market continued dull from 1918 to 1925. Early in 1926 it again climbed sharply. Now—1936—cocoa commodity prices spurted over one hundred per cent. The move started in May. Chartists say that current prices should hold or continue for another few months. This would be in line with the regular cocoa 'decade' moves.

PLANNING

Informed circles say that the apparent lull in interest in the TVA pool power proposal is misleading. The inside news is that the Tennessee Valley Authority, Federal Power Commission and all private companies involved are studying intensively facts to effect an early solution.

FOODS

Wholesale food markets are suffering from a pre-holiday lull. Due to a fairly well stocked position of the retailers this situation will prevail until after the turn of the year. But the trade reports a firm price undertone.

Strength of the price structure is constructive. It shows—according to information—that present food supplies are below the normal average. That is why as soon as new public spending starts after the holidays higher prices will rule.

The trade believes that a ten per cent rise in retail prices is a certainty. In some instances it will be larger. Due to the inventory position of food distributors the 1937 earning outlook for food companies is generally regarded as bullish.

DEMAND

The railroad industry reports that lightweight streamline trains are gaining in prestige. The public likes fast trains and the public must be served.

Union Pacific reports that its streamliner operating between Chicago and the Pacific coast is booked to capacity from three to four weeks in advance. Because of this other carriers are going for streamlined trains in a big way.

Companies in a position to benefit are Pullman Company, E. G. Budd Manufacturing and Electro-Motive Corporation.

SUGAR

For the first time as far back as traders can remember six weeks have gone by without the shipment of a single ton of Hawaiian sugar to the Pacific Coast. Unless the seaport difficulties clear right soon West Coast cane refiners will be forced to look elsewhere for their smelting needs. This will bring about demands for southern growth. The situation has drawn the attention of commodity traders.

REPORTS ARE THAT:

Speculative interests accepting trading profits in shares of merchandizing organizations—always taking profits at height of season. . . Subject to anti-chain store legislation Walgreen holdings being retained. . . Liquid Carbona's sales running ahead of last year—plant expansion program to continue. Of all important cigar manufacturers Deisel-Wemmer - Gilbert showing largest gain in 1936 earnings. Expansion in heavy industries helps A. M. Byers. . . White Motors' Bal-

Letters To Santa Claus

Dear Santa Claus: I try to be a good boy and would like for you to bring me a BB gun, tricycle, and a car, candy, and nuts. Please bring my Mother and Daddy and my two sisters a few things. Oh, yes, bring me a package of BB's. Clarence Jones.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a boy six years old. I go to school and like it fine. I love my teacher so don't forget to bring her something nice. I have a brother nine years old and we are great pals, so bring us toy guns with holsters, cowboy boots and spurs, and lots of fireworks.

Santa, I have two little sisters and they want dolls and doll buggies and lots of candies, nuts, and all kind of fruit. Please don't forget my Daddy and Mother. Hoping to see you Christmas, I am anxiously waiting. John W. Boggett.

Dear Santa: I am a little girl seven years old and in the second grade at Woodrow Wilson school. I want a telephone, drum, teddy bear, trunk, coloring set, wagon, book, and some clothes for my doll. I want some candy and nuts, too. Please bring my brothers and sister something. Remember my Mother and Father and the rest of the boys and girls. Virginia Lee Giddens.

Dear Santa: I want a cute doll made of rubber, and I want a caup. I want a pencil, too. I want a sack of oranges, apples, candy, nuts, and bananas. Mary Frances Treadway.

Nye Accuses French Munitions King of Assisting Hitler

—(AP) II Dec. 10 (AP)—U.S. Senator Gerald Nye of North Dakota climaxed a series of collusion charges against world munitions makers by declaring he has proof today that Eugene Schneider, French munitions king, was one of the chief financial supporters of Adolf Hitler during his climb to power.

Nye said he had received proof within the last two weeks, showing Schneider made large contributions to Hitler's cause over a long period of time.

The senator, speaking to an audience of 2,600 persons who crowded the Tacoma armory last night, charged French and German munitions makers exchanged materials through Switzerland while French and German armies were fighting the World War, declared virtually all foreign submarines, airplane motors and gasses were manufactured under American patents and accused admirals of the United States of encouraging collusion among bidders on construction of navy ships.

TWISTER
LAURENS, C. S.—Councilman R. M. Brown had a good setter dog, but too many birds were his death. Brown said it happened like this: The dog was hot on the scent of a covey of quail when suddenly he was confused by the shadows of circling buzzards. The dog set his eyes on the slowly-moving squadron, then went into a whirl, cracked his neck and fell dead.

rest of my family as well as everyone else. Your little friend, G. D. Holmes Jr.

Dear Santa: As it is near time for you to come to see me I will tell you what I want. I am only two years old and I want a doll, buggy, table and chairs, dishes, and a rocking chair, also lots of candy and fruit. Please don't forget Aunt Laura, Uncle Jack, and my little cousin, Eddie. I have been a real good girl. Betty Lee Pulliam.

Dear Santa: I am a little girl two years old. I have been sick but I have been good. Please bring me a doll and doll bed and some dishes and nuts, candy, and fruit. Your friend, Joan Oates.

Dear Santa Claus: I'm a very small boy of 15 months. Would be ever so happy to have a drum, little telephone so I can talk to my Grandpa, and a tiny streamlined tricycle—something my size. Your little fellow, Carlton (Skipper) Bliss.

BOY'S REVERSED SIGHT CORRECTING ITSELF

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Nine-year-old Mark Grieco, after seeing things backwards, is beginning to see "left to right" again.

Mrs. Cora McLaughlin, his teacher, said spinal meningitis caused transposition of his sight nerves.

Mark, who is left-handed, entered her special pupils' class and read and wrote backwards. He saw and wrote "cat" as "tac".

Mrs. McLaughlin said the boy's normal sight is returning so rapidly she thinks he'll be able to continue his studies in regular classes by next fall.

But Mark is happiest that he can see "right" now because he wants to be a football player.

With that objective, he set out to become right-handed, as well as "right-eyed."

HUNTER'S REWARD—FRACTURED NOSE

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP)—These things happened when R. N. Jobe, district WPA engineer, fired with a shotgun at a jackrabbit:

Joe's foot slipped. He tried to catch himself before he fell.

His finger accidentally tripped the trigger again. The gun discharged, the butt struck Jobe on the nose.

Again the gun discharged. The butt struck Jobe on the nose.

Jobe went to a hospital with a fractured nose and deep cuts on his face.

The rabbit ran away.

'FLUNKING FINE' STARTED AT COLLEGE

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Students at the University of Oklahoma will have to dig down in their pockets if they "bust" any courses this year.

A new "flunking fine" of $3 per semester course goes into effect at the end of the current semester.

University officials say the rule was passed to raise the scholastic standard of the institution. Students, for the most part, contend the "fine" is unfair.

FLANK ATTACK

CAMDEN, N. J.—Earl Foy, a huckster, was returning to his wagon when he saw a man casually lift a bag of potatoes from the cart and place it in his automobile.

Foy yelled. The man jumped into the car and sped away. Foy chased afoot for several blocks, then gave up.

He walked breathlessly back and in dismay found six more bags of potatoes missing.
