Refugee Escapes Commies

BERLIN (UPI)—An East German soldier patrolling the Berlin wall bolted for freedom Saturday and escaped through the barbed wire while his comrades-in-arms tried to shoot him down.

Unhurt by the fusillade, the soldier fled through the wire under the cover of pre-dawn darkness in the vicinity of Kieholz Street at the border of the American sector's Neukoelln district, West Berlin police reported. He was the first refugee to get through the wall since Aug. 14, when the Communists shot down Peter Fechter and left him to bleed to death in the incident that touched off the current tension in Berlin.

Another East German failed early Saturday in his attempt to reach the West. As he tried to swim across the River Spree in downtown Berlin he was spotted by a Communist patrol boat that opened fire and picked him out of the water. The scene of the attempted escape was not far from the point where the soldier fled.

Fired at Escaper
Communist guards found the man about 35 minutes after the successful escape and fired 21 rounds from tommy guns at him before plucking him from the river. He was believed to be uninjured. West Berlin police saw the swimmer captured but were powerless to go to his aid because the Communists stayed on their side of the border.

During the night, West Berlin police said they heard a total of 13 shots in East Berlin where Communist guards may have been shooting at others trying to breach the wall.

West Berlin police disclosed, meanwhile, that 41 persons are known to have been killed while trying to get across the 25-mile-long wall since it was built Aug. 13, 1961. The number was described by police as a figure that "could be confirmed beyond all doubt." But it was believed to be lower than the number actually killed. An unofficial United Press International tally totalled 51 deaths for would-be refugees, and some unofficial estimates placed the number of killings in the past year as high as 100.

Except for the two shooting incidents along the border the city was quiet as Western authorities awaited a reply from Moscow on their call for four-power talks to ease the Berlin crisis. Officials here doubted the Soviets would accept the bid.

OAS Says It Will Kill De Gaulle

PARIS (UPI)—Leaflets said to be sent by the outlawed Secret Army (OAS) warned Saturday the OAS would keep trying to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle and predicted he would be "struck down like a mad dog."

The tracts, which reached Paris newspaper offices Saturday, were mailed free of charge from the National Assembly post office in envelopes bearing National Assembly letterheads. Who mailed them was a mystery.

They were purported to have been sent by the "National Resistance Council," the OAS political organ headed by self-exiled former Premier Georges Bidault.

Speaking of Wednesday night's ambush attack on De Gaulle's automobile near Paris, one leaflet said: "The National Resistance Council wholly approves this action."

"Today or tomorrow" the tract added, "in spite of and against everyone, the traitor De Gaulle will be struck down like a mad dog. The National Resistance Council and the OAS pledge their oath on this. They will not fail."

Police disclosed, meanwhile, they were quizzing a close aide of a former OAS commander-in-chief, ex-Gen. Paul Gardy, who

10-Story Rocket Poised For US Shot At Venus

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A 10-story rocket, bearing U.S. hopes for regaining some lost prestige in the space race, was poised Saturday for a planned attempt to shoot a 447-pound probe toward the Planet Venus shortly after midnight Saturday night.

The gold- and silver-plated probe is an electronic explorer named Mariner-2, designed for a 181.7 million-mile expedition that may answer one of the oldest and deepest mysteries of the universe:

Can life, at least as we know it on Earth, exist beneath the thick clouds that perpetually hide the surface of Venus?

U.S. scientists and technicians early Saturday began the final countdown that would send Mariner-2 soaring into space and away from Earth at a speed of seven miles per second toward the "mystery planet."

First Major Shot
This was the first major U.S. space shot scheduled since the Soviet Union dealt America's reputation in space exploration a severe blow by orbiting a pair of "space brothers," cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich, two weeks ago.

American space experts also predicted that Russia probably would try at least one shot at Venus before a mid-September "cut-off" point. After that, Venus will have moved too far out of range, and won't be back around again for another 19 months.

The United States already has taken one exploratory shot at Venus this year—on July 22. But the effort failed when the Atlas-Agena rocket booster, hampered by an erroneous guidance equation, veered off course and had to be destroyed six minutes after it was launched.

Senator In Opening Shot At Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., triggered the opening Senate shot Saturday against President Kennedy's embattled tax revision bill with a sharp attack on the proposed $1 billion credit for business.

He called it a "tax gimmick" and a "subsidy" that many businessmen don't even want.

The liberal Democrat's sharply worded floor speech foreshadowed a prolonged fight over the complex, 390-page bill which the Senate is expected to debate all of next week.

The investment credit, designed to spur business outlays for new machinery and equipment, is the key feature of the much-amended bill. It is the only tax relief Congress is likely to enact this year.

A powerful array of conservative and liberal senators has lined up in opposition to the administration-endorsed provision. Reasonable Guess

Year Later
The case was broken just one year and 14 days after the girls' bodies were found 12 miles northwest of this potash mining center on the floor of the desert just off a lonely dirt road.

Both had been shot once through the head with a .32 or .38 caliber pistol.

Hawkins said Parsons was arraigned Saturday before Peace Justice Richard J. Floyd on complaints signed by himself, Morris Chief Eddy County Deputy W. C. McGrew and State Police Investigator Jim Clayton.

The sheriff said Parsons had no previous record of any kind. The youth is 5-6 and weighs 118

Washington Denies Knowledge Of Attack

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro charged Saturday that "armed ships" sprayed the Havana waterfront with gunfire Friday night in an attack which he blamed on "the U.S. government and the mercenary agents it has recruited and armed."

In Washington, the United States flatly denied any "involvement or knowledge of" the reported shelling.

In Hyannis Port, Mass., where President Kennedy was spending the week end, official sources said they were positive there was no U.S. involvement.

An anti-Castro student revolutionary group in the United States claimed credit for the attack and simultaneous uprisings in central Cuba. But American officials hint privately that elements of the Cuban navy may have been responsible.

Fired From Ships
It said the attack was made with 20mm guns fired from ships about a half mile offshore and damaged public buildings and private homes in the suburban Miramar District.

It said the shooting occurred about 11:30 p.m. Friday, and that the ships fled under cover of darkness.

"The Cuban revolution which has withstood economic blockade and repeated, indirect attacks organized in the United States, can also resist and reject a direct attack," the statement said.

"We warn the President of the United States that our people have taken all the necessary steps to confront the danger."

The statement claimed that the "buildings of the Icap Hotel the Chaplin Theater and other buildings occupied by families, women and children, received multiple hits from (armor) piercing explosive bullets which endangered the lives of their occupants."

Residents of Miramar said they heard seven or eight explosions which might have been light shellbursts about 11:30 p.m., followed about a minute later by seven more explosions. It was not known whether the second group of explosions came from the offshore ships or from Castro's defense batteries.

The anti-Castro Student Revolutionary Directorate (DRE) with headquarters in Miami, Fla., said its forces carried out the attack with two launches, one firing more than 14 shots from a 20mm gun and light mortar while the other stood guard farther off the coast.

Bombard Theater
The DRE group said its forces bombarded La Blanca Theater, renamed the Charlie Chaplin and remained the Charlie Chaplin and tempted to implicate a brother in the slayings, but officers cleared the man after giving him a lie detector test in Lubbock, Tex.

Parsons had lived with his family in Carlsbad during the fall and spring of 1959, but was not living here at the time of the girls' deaths. At that time, his family was in San Antonio and he was traveling about the country.

No New Details
Newsmen were not told any details of the crime not already known and Hawkins refused to answer such questions as whether an automobile had been used or whether Parsons had been taken back to the scene for a reenactment of the crime.

The bodies were discovered by two rabbit hunters who summoned officers.

Second place went to Joe Green with 338 points, winning $87. Third was Bill Hand with 335 points, taking home $58. Fourth place was a tie between Freckles Brown and Duane Hennigh, each with 334 points. Each rider received $14.50.

Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Senate appropriations subcommittee on agriculture, suggested that a faster-paced program of research into new uses for farm products was the best solution to the surplus problem.

The full Appropriations Committee added $25 million to the Agriculture Department's previous annual spending of $18 million for "utilization research." The Senate went along.

The Senate bill totals $4,774,983,000. But the money that would be available is nearer $6 billion because also set aside for the department are about $800 million in loans from the Treasury and some $400 million in automatic appropriations derived mainly from duties on farm imports.

Approval was by voice vote after three hours of discussion in which Russell stressed the need for stepped up research.

"The problem of surpluses did not become so serious until comparatively recent years," he said. "And research has lagged far behind improved production."

Citizens Bank Hosts Hundreds In Big Opening

Hundreds of Pampans and visitors from neighboring communities passed through the beautiful, new Citizens Bank & Trust Co. building, opened to the public for the first time yesterday afternoon, and hundreds more are expected for the second day of the formal opening from 2 to 6 p.m. today.

The bank will open for regular business hours at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Saturday's opening was for the two-hour period 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. Today it will be during the four-hour period beginning at 2 p.m.

Visitors at the bank today again will be asked to drop in their suggested names for the bank's hospitality room. Bailor boxes are conveniently located on the main lobby floor. A $100 savings bond will go to the person who suggests the winning name.

On hand to greet the visitors yesterday were bank officials and employees who acted as hosts and hostesses for the public reception.

Scores upon scores of beautiful floral offerings with congratulatory notes from Pampa business houses and individuals are profusely displayed from the main lobby to the hospitality room on the second floor.

Floyd Imel, president of the Citizens, said Saturday night:

"All of us are overjoyed with the community-wide congratulatory tributes from our fellow townpeople. We feel that this reflects a desire on the part of all segments of Pampa and Gray County to express, along with us, (See VISITORS, Page 3)

Senate OK's $5 Billion For Farmers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Saturday voted almost $5 billion to finance the nation's farm programs for another year and urged that new ways be found to combat the problem of enormous surpluses.

The measure goes back to the House which approved a different version. If it accepts Senate changes, the bill will be sent to the White House.

Man Held In Year-Old Double Murder

CARLSBAD, N.M. (UPI)—Authorities Saturday charged a 21-year-old slightly built Texan with two counts of murder and said he had confessed to the year-old slayings of two teenage Carlsbad girls.

Eddy County Sheriff Carl Hawkins hurriedly summoned newsmen to his office here Saturday and announced that Franklin D. Parsons of San Antonio, had been charged with the Aug. 11, 1961 slayings of Patty Sue Pritz, 14, and Mattie Catherine Restine, 13. The arrest and confession capped a year-long investigation which had reached throughout the Southwest and commanded the best efforts of lawmen in New Mexico history.

Parsons was arrested several weeks ago in Monahans, Tex., and brought here the same day for investigation. He has remained in jail since then.

Hawkins refused to allow newsmen or photographers to see Parsons and declined further comment except for the brief remarks in his news conference.

Year Later
The case was broken just one year and 14 days after the girls' bodies were found 12 miles northwest of this potash mining center on the floor of the desert just off a lonely dirt road.

Several weeks ago, he willingly posed for a newspaper photographer and obliged by stepping out of his jail cell into a corridor where the light was better. He remarked that he "liked" seeing his picture in the paper.

Overheard Talk
Officers refused to say what originally led them to Parsons, but his implication and subsequent arrest may have been due in part to a desire for recognition and publicity.

Parsons was first picked up when he was overheard boasting in Monahans that he knew something of the slayings. The tip quickly brought officers to him and he was immediately transferred to Carlsbad for further intensive questioning.

Some weeks ago, the youth attempted to implicate a brother in the slayings, but officers cleared the man after giving him a lie detector test in Lubbock, Tex.

Parsons had lived with his family in Carlsbad during the fall and spring of 1959, but was not living here at the time of the girls' deaths. At that time, his family was in San Antonio and he was traveling about the country.

From Hockey Team To Dress Designer

FASHIONS
By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—In 1949, Zdenek Marek was a member of the Czechoslovakian hockey team which won the world amateur championship in games at Stockholm, Sweden.

Today, he's a successful designer-manufacturer of junior dresses and is married to one of New York's top models.

In the 13 years between the hockey championships and his contrasting career in New York lies a cloak and dagger story like none other in the cloak and suit industry.

This is Marek's story, as the tall handsome athlete told it to me.

Marek was born 36 years ago in Prostějov, a small town in Czechoslovakia. He was in the army at the time he was playing center forward on the team which went to Stockholm in '49.

Marek Makes Decision
It was after getting to know some members of the U.S. team that he decided not to go back to his native land.

"I have a fair amount of ambition," Marek explains now. "I am deeply religious and could not be a Communist, but unless you're a member of the party you do not go very far."

Arranging an escape involved the use of hiding what luggage he had with a hotel chambermaid just before the Czech team had checked out for Prague. He excused himself from the others, saying he wanted to bid goodbye to a Swedish girl he had met. He never rejoined the team and recalled Saturday that "I think they were too busy celebrating the victory to notice my absence for a while."

He risked and won temporary asylum in Sweden. His defection was big news throughout the sports world.

U.S. Team Offers Help Marek said it was through the help of some members of the U.S. team that he made his way to this country — "I arrived with exactly $18 in my pocket," he said. A scholarship and part-time selling jobs helped him to a degree in merchandising from the University of North Dakota.

His first New York job was as a fashion artist with an advertising agency — "the agency never got a fashion account so it didn't learn what little experience I had," said Marek.

His sketching ability led him eventually into the giant garment industry. He recalled that his first employer, Felix Safian, head of a dress firm, took one look at a design in which Marek had put a pocket in the middle of the bodice and said, "If you're that crazy, you're hired."

He also designed sportswear for Loomtogs and junior dresses for Junior Theme before opening his own Marek Dresses, Inc., one year ago.

The Danish flag is said to be the oldest of any nation.

BROWNWOOD (UPI) — Serv-

Alcorn, 38, a chief investigator in the Texas veterans' land scandals of the early 1950s and later land commissioner.

He died Friday in Brownwood, following a long illness. Alcorn was appointed land commissioner in 1958 by Gov. Price Daniel to fill an unexpired term. Later that year he won election to the post.

He was defeated for re-election in Alcorn had been ill with a

He was named one of the five

JOHN BIRCH
Missionary of Jesus Christ
Captain,
United States Army

AMERICA -- KNOW JOHN BIRCH!

THE JOHN BIRCH SOCIETY is named in honor of one of the greatest young men that America has produced.

John Birch was a Christian missionary from a farm near Macon, Georgia, who was in China when we entered World War II. His heroism, accomplishments, and nobility of character were to make of him a legend which the Communists could not allow to live.

On July 4, 1942, John Birch officially joined General Chennault's forces in Chungking as a volunteer. He organized Chennault's intelligence service, rose to the rank of Captain in the United States Army, and served with unsurpassable bravery and brilliance throughout the war. He was frequently referred to, by both his associates and superiors, as the most important single man in our forces struggling against the Japanese in China.

Ten days after V-J day, while in uniform, on a peaceful and official mission for our government, John Birch was brutally murdered in cold blood by our "allies," the Chinese Communists. This was on August 25, 1945. He thus became probably the first American casualty in that third World War, between the Communists and the ever-shrinking "free world," which is still being waged against us seventeen years later; a relentless war of which there is no end in sight.

You probably never heard of John Birch before our Society came into the limelight. This is simply because the Communists in Washington planned it that way. It took five years of persistent and determined effort on the part of his parents, aided by Senator Knowland and many other good patriots, to pierce the blanket of oblivion which had been so brazenly thrown over his life and death by Communist sympathizers in our government. As the Saturday Evening Post pointed out, in a long edi-orial on January 22, 1955, based on The Life of John Birch: Amazingly, there were in Washington responsible officials who were willing to suppress news of the murder of an American officer, apparently to prevent the American people from rising in their wrath and vetoing further appeasement of communism."

John Birch was killed by typical Communist tactics, as part of typical Communist strategy, in a typical Communist-style war — a continuous undeclared war in which our enemies observe no rules of international law, of civilization, or of human decency. He commanded no armies, headed no government, converted no nations to his creed. His impact would have been of transient memory and comparatively small importance, had not that impact occurred at a time and in a way to supply particulars from which momentous generalizations can properly be projected. With his death and in his death the battle lines were drawn, in a struggle from which either Communism or Christian-style civilization must emerge with one completely triumphant and the other completely destroyed.

Partly for these reasons, but even more because John Birch — in all of his short but outstanding career — so typified the best of America, we have named our organization in his memory. If we rediscover some of our sounder spiritual values in the example of his life, recharge our determination from the spark of his courage, and learn essential truths about our enemy from the lesson of his murder, then his death at twenty-six ceases to be a tragedy.
For in a full lifetime he could not have accomplished more.

For a far more thorough introduction to The John Birch Society, we suggest that you contact one of the local chapters of the John Birch Society.

Rocket

The shot ranks as perhaps the most complicated ever tried by the United States. It is equivalent to firing a bullet (Mariner-2) at a speed of seven miles per second from a moving platform (Earth) traveling at 18 miles per second around the sun.

The target (Venus) is itself traveling about the sun at nearly 22 miles per second.

U.S. scientists said they would consider Mariner-2 a full success if it passed anywhere from 10,000 miles to 36,000 miles behind Venus. However, a direct hit was not wanted — it would ruin the value of the experiment as well as possibly contaminating the planet with earthly germs.

Mariner-2 carries radios capable of relaying information across the millions of miles of space between Earth and Venus. After missing the planet, the probe was expected to swing into an orbit around the sun there to die.

Hopkins School To Open Monday

Hopkins School will open for its new school year on Monday morning, according to T. J. Adkins, school principal.

"There will be a full-day schedule of classes and luncheon will be served in the cafeteria," Adkins has announced.

The faculty for this year will be Mrs. Ida M. Fuqua, Mrs. Marguerite Cleghorn and Mr. Adkins. An enrollment of approximately 30 students is expected.

Castro

(Continued From Page 1) site of many of Castro's long television speeches. It said the attack was made while a meeting of "technicians," presumably presided over by Castro, was in progress.

A spokesman for the DRE in Washington said the two small boats also "bombed" the Rosita de Horneda apartment building complex in Miramar, "where many Soviet technicians live."

The directorate of the DRE said the bombardment coincided with these other actions in Cuba: A group of students took up arms in the rugged Escambray Mountains of central Cuba's las Villas province.

A clandestine student broadcast from Cuban soil made a "dramatic appeal" to the world on the student situation, calling for a "frontal attack against Red despotism" and denouncing "the arrival of a great number of Russian troops in our island."

Blanket Stolen

The Police Department received a report at 8:42 p.m. yesterday from L. P. Sandford, 714 E. Frederic, that his Navajo saddle blanket, valued at $22, was taken Friday afternoon while it was hanging outside the Texas Liquor Store, 714 E. Frederic.

Tax Bill

(Continued From Page 1) nance Committee Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., has served notice he will offer an amendment to strike it from the bill.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., told UPI he expected debate to last at least through next week. He declined, however, to give a leadership position on a host of pending amendments.

"The President proposes, the Congress disposes," he said, indicating that the leadership will not make its position known in advance of actual voting.

Proxmire said that by blanketing utilities in for a share of the proposed investment credit, the bill would "simply waste taxpayer's money." He said American Telephone & Telegraph Co. would benefit to the tune of $75 million a year.

He added that to AT&T's everlasting credit, their spokesmen testified against the proposal during finance committee hearings. "It's stupid," he declared, "to give an unwanted tax break to a utility whose profits are strictly regulated."

De Gaulle

Police said the aide, 39-year-old Daniel Brune, had more than 40,000 worth of francs in banknotes on his person when he was seized. He also had a duty order signed by Gardy and several false identity cards, police said.

Brune was captured in a Carcassonne hotel with his wife and son. He was transferred at once to Paris. Police said he had been an OAS treasurer and had been in contact with OAS terrorist groups in southern France since he reached this country from Algeria.

Meanwhile, French police trying to track down the killer commandos who narrowly missed assassinating De Gaulle methodically worked their way through twisted trails marked by false identities, conflicting "eyewitness" accounts and a growing list of stolen and mysteriously rented cars.

Information reaching French police indicated the commandos had planned an earlier attempt on De Gaulle's life when he last visited Paris Aug. 8 or had carried out a "dress rehearsal" on that day.

At least three rented automobiles used in the Wednesday night roadside ambush had been rented in time for an earlier attack.

'Back To School Radio Days' Set By Key Club

Pampa Key Club members were to begin their third annual "Back To School Radio Days" at 7 a.m. today over station KPND. The radio days will be on the air some 17 hours today and approximately 18 hours Monday and Tuesday, according to Jesse Jones, chairman of the event.

During the radio days, Key Club members will be announcing official information to parents and students about schedules and school activities planned for the coming year in Pampa and area community schools.

Sunday's program will be highlighted at 3:40 p.m. by a report from Cameron Marsh, Pampa High School principal, and Bill Cooper, high school assistant principal, about the school activities which have been planned this year.

At 3:30 p.m. Monday, a report from F. ed Stockdale, Pampa Harvester Band director, will be given on the band schedule. At 6:45 p.m. Monday, Jack Nichols, principal of Robert E. Lee Junior High School, will take the mike to explain the junior high school activities.

At 8:45 p.m. Monday, Weldon Trice, athletic director for Pampa Independent Public Schools, will explain this year's sports activities.

Jones said parents or students wishing additional information about the school activities are urged to telephone the radio station during the three-day event.

Goldwater Says He's Not Seeking The Presidency

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Saturday he is neither seeking nor running for his party's nomination for president in 1964.

"I am not seeking it," he said. "I don't know where all this talk is coming from. Every news conference I go to, they ask this, and I have said I am not running."

"I haven't the organization, money or desire," he said, "and it takes a lot of all three. I want to stay where I am if I can." Glenn Gibson, Republican nominee for Congress from Oklahoma's 8th district, had introduced Goldwater in Clinton, Okla., earlier Saturday as "a man most people would like to see elected president in 1964."

"The officers, directors and employees all are proud of this new opportunity to be of still greater service to our customers and the growing community which has made it possible for us to take this progressive step in the field of banking in the Top O' Texas area."

In addition to the local tributes, Imel and other members of the board were in receipt of congratulatory messages from bankers and financial institutions throughout the Southwest.

Again this afternoon, the guided tours through the new bank building, built at a cost in excess of $400,000, will continue with entertainment by the Sinclair Sisters, Mary and Judy, of Hollywood and the organ music of Pampa's own Coy Palmer of Radio Station KBMF-FM.

"Everyone is invited," Imel said. "This formal opening is for the general public."

Lyndon Pledges U. S. Aid As He Visits The Shah

TEHRAN (UPI)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson visited the summer palace of the Shah of Iran in an elegant Persian garden Saturday and toured the teeming under-developed sections of the city in 90-degree heat.

In both visits he pledged American help.

On the second stop of his six-nation tour, the vice president ironed out military and economic aid questions with Iranian leaders, paid a surprise visit to a family in a government housing project, chatted on the sidewalk with a school teacher, stopped to introduce himself to bystanders, and made an impromptu speech to several hundred Iranians.

After his visit to the ornate summer palace of the Shah, Johnson made a person-to-person tour of the working class and peasant districts.

Wearing an open-neck olive green sport shirt and matching slacks, Johnson rode in an open convertible to one of the city's poorest sections.

Several times he stopped to talk to the crowds. During the first stop with about 400 persons watching, Johnson went into an electric supply store to look at the wares. Pointing to a long, chrome object with three globes attached in style reminiscent of a pawn shop sign, he asked, "what's that?"

Told that it was a ceiling fixture, he bought it for $10.

"I'm going to hang this on a large oak tree where it will remind me of the friendship of your wonderful people," he said.

Later he stopped for a chat with a barber and then with a teacher, Mrs. Scheharazade Soltani, who said she had been waiting an hour for the vice president to pass so that she might discuss Iran's economic plight with him.

"Please tell President Kennedy we have a budget deficit and really need help," she said.

In reply Johnson told her "our leaders are working close together" to do something for the development of Iran.

During his visit with Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi at the summer palace of Saad Abad in suburban Shimiran, Johnson promised the United States would act sympathetically and swiftly on Iran's applications for economic development loans as soon as preliminary plans are submitted, informed sources said.

TOKYO (UPI)—Typhoon Thelma, with center winds of about 115 miles an hour, moved toward central Japan Saturday behind a vanguard of showers and gusty winds. The typhoon warning center on Guam said the big storm was about 375 miles southwest of Tokyo and moving toward the mainland at 12 miles an hour.

TELEPHONE EMPLOYE RETIRES — Mrs. Beulah Evans, seated center, was honored this week at a special retirement party in her honor at the Pampa Southwestern Bell Telephone Company office. Hostesses for the party pictured here with Mrs. Evans are, front row, left to right, Miss Lucille Moore and Mrs. Helen Spalding. Back row, left to right, Mrs. Wilma Dixon and Mrs. Clyde Willis. SERGEANT KILLED

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—An Air Force sergeant was killed and three other persons were injured Friday night in a head-on collision on San Antonio's west side. Killed was Sgt. Elvin G. Lewis, 33, who was stationed at Brooks Air Force Base. The driver of the other car was booked on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

SARK, Channel Islands (UPI)

John Robson, 46-year-old, member of the local parliament, was fined $5.80 Friday for driving on a road on this island where vehicles other than tractors are banned. Robson was driving an electric invalid's chair owned by the dame of Sark, Mrs. Sybil Hathaway. He said he was only charging the batteries.

Weathermen Keep Eye On Squall Band

MIAMI (UPI) — An easterly wave was expected to brush southern Florida Saturday night with some heavy showers and winds up to 25 miles an hour.

But forecasters said the wave apparently "doesn't have what it takes" to become a tropical storm.

Weathermen still kept a wary watch on the band of squalls because there was a "possibility" it could intensify once it reaches the Gulf of Mexico early next week, they said.

Early this afternoon, the wave extended from Andros Island in the Bahamas—200 miles off Florida—over Cuba into the western Caribbean. It was moving westward at 10 to 12 miles an hour, carrying winds of 20 to 30 miles an hour.

Forecaster Elbert Hill said "pressure patterns aloft are definitely not favorable at this time" for intensification.

He said "It appears that this isn't going to be the one." The first tropical storm of the season still has failed to show up and it has been 21 years since the month of August has gone by without producing at least one.

The Weather Bureau said no other well organized systems were on the tropical scene Saturday.

JFK's Court Choice Faces Deep Trouble

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S. C., predicted Saturday that the President's nomination of Negro leader Thurgood Marshall to the second U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New York will face deep trouble on the Senate floor.

"I predict," he told newsmen, "that if the nomination reaches the floor there will be a fight."

He declined to speculate to what extent southern senators might oppose the man who prosecuted the school desegregation case before the Supreme Court. So far the southern bloc has not held a strategy session. It is certain, however, that a number of the Southerners will make opposition speeches—if only token ones.

The attack probably will be led by Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D-S. C., as chairman of a judiciary subcommittee, he has successfully delayed progress of the appointment for months but now appears to have exhausted all his tactics.

Johnston concluded hearings on the nomination Friday, more than 11 months after Marshall was first named by President Kennedy and more than 10 months after he ascended the bench under a recess appointment. The hearings punctuated by frequent pauses, stretched over nearly four months before Johnston closed the record.

Johnston promised to gather his three-member subcommittee next week, probably Monday, to decide what to do. The other members are Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who did not attend any of the six hearings, and Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., who appeared twice.

It might be Johnston's last chance to delay confirmation. But many observers feel he would be delighted if the nomination were taken from the subcommittee. They reason that the senator could then campaign in South Carolina on how he tried to block the nomination but that it was taken away from him.

Johnston told reporters, however, he would have acted the same even if there had been no election in the offing.

Senate liberals plan to open their drive shortly to force the nomination to the floor.

Sens. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., members of the full Judiciary Committee who followed the hearings closely, said they would move to discharge the subcommittee at the next meeting.

CALCUTTA, India (UPI)—Reports from the Himalayan state of Sikkim said some 100 persons were missing and feared swept away by flood waters that caused the collapse of two bridges on which construction crews had been working.

NAMED NEW MANAGER—Buddy Thornton, 32, was recently named manager of the Pampa White's department store. Thornton was formerly a manager of the White's Stores, Inc. in Amarillo at Sunset Center. He replaces Lucian Young who has been transferred to near Houston, where he will be superintendent of several White's stores in that area. Thornton is now living at 1117 Crane Rd. with his family. He has three children who will be attending William B. Travis Elementary School.

TAIPEI (UPI)—Formosan authorities Saturday reported the 22nd death in a cholera epidemic that began here six weeks ago and was known to have stricken 347 persons.

East Texas Boy Hospitalized As Victim Of Polio

MARSHALL (UPI)—A 14-year-old boy from Harleton, near Marshall, has been admitted to a Tyler hospital as a possible polio victim, it was learned today.

If the boy's disease is diagnosed as polio, he would be the first polio victim of the year from Harrison County, which has had no mass immunization program.

Radio Station KADO and the Turney Foundation, both of Marshall, made identical offers to underwrite any financial loss in a mass immunization with Sabin anti-polio vaccine, but the Harrison County Medical Society turned down both offers.

The society said it does not believe such a campaign is necessary, partly because the county has a fairly high level of immunization from private vaccinations with Salk vaccine.

SOUND OF '60s—Profile of a sonic boom is shown in diagram above. Flying at speeds of 1200 to 1400 m.p.h., modern Air Force planes trail a continuous cone of sound—up to 50 miles wide—across the country. Because of the great speed, air is piled up in front of a plane, creating a shock wave. The wave trails the plane, lowering air pressure. When air rushes back to normal, the noise occurs, much as thunder is caused by lightning. Structural damage from jets above 35,000 feet is impossible, the Air Force says.

Ring Riches

CHICAGO (NEA) — Floyd Patterson, who picked up $75 for fighting his first professional opponent in 1952, will become the first $5 million fighter after his heavyweight title defense against Sonny Liston at Comiskey Park in Chicago Sept. 25.

So far, Patterson has spent 774 minutes in the ring and earned $4,295,700 — or $5,550 per minute. His top purse, so far, was the $832,500, which was his share in his third title fight against Ingemar Johansson at Miami Beach in 1961.

A guarantee of more than $1 million from the gate and ancillary rights will make his earnings soar away from the record $4,676,721 earned by Joe Louis. Rocky Marciano, who retired undefeated in 1955, earned $4,138,289. Jack Dempsey accumulated $3,568,114.

Debra Huff of Pampa placed first in the Junior Girls' Tricks and Junior Girls' Slalom in a recent water skiing tournament.

Busch, Disenchanted By Cardinals, Backs Stadium

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — August A. Busch Jr., dual commander of a prominent brewery empire and baseball team, has written off his own investment in Busch Stadium to bolster a new municipal sports stadium which will leave his property to the sole possession of the pigeons.

Busch, violent in his own denouncement of the St. Louis Cardinals, nevertheless subscribed to the tune of $5 million to a civic effort to build a new municipal sports stadium in the downtown area.

David F. Barber, spokesman for Falstaff brewery, said the opposing competitive brewery, which sponsors the football Cardinals, has contributed approximately $400,000 to the new sports arena.

Renowned for his philanthropic gestures in the St. Louis community, Busch led about 310 St.

Louis area firms and individuals who pledged a total of $20 million toward the new stadium which will be added to the $6 million bond issue passed by the city last March and $31 million being provided by the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States as a loan.

The new sports stadium accommodating both Busch's St. Louis Cardinals and William B. Bidwill's football Cardinals, will be located on a 31-block tract close by the riverfront in the heart of metropolitan St. Louis.

The stadium will be of a strictly modern design engineered to accommodate the two major sports in the St. Louis area. Parking facilities, up till now tight and expensive in the Busch Stadium area where householders rent out their yards for each major league game will be provided on a city-type program.

Busch, spurning his own investment in the stadium which seats 30,500, went instead to the civic plan for a centrally located mammoth, multi-purpose sports stadium designed to bolster attendance through ease of access by fans.

Threatened Firing Busch, bitterly critical of his team's efforts and excepting manager Johnny Keane, fireballer Bob Gibson, centerfielder Curt Flood and national hero Stan Musial, recently threatened to "trade the whole damn bunch if necessary."

The new 50,000-seat stadium's other major league prospective occupant, the football Cardinals, are looking forward to its completion. William B. Bidwill, vice president of the club, said, "preliminary discussions have been very successful. We're sure the project will be a benefit to all of St. Louis in addition to our club."

Bidwill commented on the stadium's capacity to house both football and baseball by saying "it's possible to design a stadium that is compatible to both sports. The District of Columbia's new stadium has shown that it can be done successfully."

Would You Like To Fill Freezer With Elk Steak?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Want to stock your freezer with a few buffalo or elk steaks? Or your ranch with a live longhorn?

You can place your order with the Interior Department until Sept. 30.

As it does annually, the department shortly will begin removing a specified number of animals from three national wild life refuges to keep the herds from exceeding the capacity of their ranges.

A total of 233 buffalo, 75 elk, and 137 longhorn cattle will be sold this year. The buffalo will be sold from three refuges — Wichita Mountains wild life refuge, Cache, Okla.; Fort Niobrara national wildlife refuge, Valentine, Neb.; and the National Bison Range, Moiese, Mont.

Longhorns will be sold from Wichita Mountains and Fort Niobrara. Longhorn sales will be live animals only. Elk sales will be only from the Wichita Mountains refuge. There will be no sales of live elk.

Buffalo will be sold at $180 each for live animals, and from $220 to $270 per carcass for butchered animals, depending on the type of processing. Quarters and halves also will be sold.

Buffalo and elk meat may be purchased packaged and ready for the freezer. Butchered elk prices will range from $110 to $145 per animal, again varying with the type of processing. A half carcass is the minimum quantity that can be purchased.

THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY—Though he's straining, Eric Leder of Flushing, N.Y., is only holding air. Just as his father snapped a picture of his proud 12-year-old's catch at Wedgeport, Nova Scotia, the huge pollock slipped off the gaff. Luckily, for the youngster, the whopper slipped the hook after it was brought in and landed on the dock.

High Averages Are NL's 'Order Of Day'

NEW YORK (UPI)—The hitters are feasting on the National League's diluted pitching strength this year but not the way the dopesters figured.

High averages—not record home run paces—are the order of the day. The list of potential .300-plus hitters has more than doubled since last year.

Based on what happened in 1961 when the American League went to 10 clubs for the first time, the experts freely predicted those accomplished blasters in the newly-expanded National League would produce a new Babe Ruth or at least a one-year wonder like Roger Maris.

Instead, they're making like Wee Willie Keeler of "hit 'em where they ain't" renown.

More Press 300 Eleven swingers wound up at .300 or better in the NL last year but earlier this week there were 25 banging away in that much-prized category with another half dozen close enough to join the elite if they can put together a bit of a hot streak down the stretch.

Only three—Richie Ashburn of the New York Mets, Roman Mejias and Al Spangler of the Houston Colts — are members of the league's two new clubs so the mere addition of more players isn't much of a factor.

When Stan Musial was in town with the St. Louis Cardinals the other day, he noted that more and more hitters in the National League were just trying to get some good wood on the ball instead of fence-hunting with every all-out swing.

The result is a dizzy race for the batting crown among Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Frank Robinson of the Cincinnati Reds and Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves with Musial, himself, only a long shot contender because he probably will lack enough "at bats" to be counted officially in the chase.

Doubt Expansion Effects There's continues to be some debate, particularly from hitters who aren't doing so well, that expansion has little to do with weakening the overall pitching but logic says it must.

The new clubs certainly lack talent and the old-club had to give up something in the expansion move even if only second line stuff.

The averages are a better argument. It took a .312 average or better to make the National League's top 10 batsmen at one point this week but a .298 swinger made the American League list the same day.

Stick to Bat BOSTON (UPI) — Bill Monbouquette was an outstanding high school hockey player in Medford, Mass., before signing with the Boston Red Sox in 1955.

Tee to Beach DELRAY BEACH Fla. (UPI) —Golf pro Marlene Hage is an accomplished ballet and acrobatic dancer.

GROAT GETTER—A groundskeeper by Philadelphia third baseman-outfielder Don Demeter gets by shortstop Dick Groat, top, allowing Tony Gonzalez, bottom, to score from second base in game in Pittsburgh.

Golf Entries Hit Record At Pinehurst

NEW YORK (UPI) — A record number of 2,071 entries have been accepted for the amateur championship of the United States Golf Association to be held at the Pinehurst Country Club, Pinehurst, N.C., Sept. 17-22.

Only 200 of these entrants will compete in the tournament proper at Pinehurst. Thirteen are automatically eligible but the others will have to earn a place through 41 sectional qualifying rounds to be staged on Aug. 28, Sept. 4 and Sept. 5.

This year's entry list exceeds by 76 the former record of 1,995 set last year.

Those who automatically qualify for the match play competition at Pinehurst include Deane Beman, Charles Coe, Charles Evans Jr., Ted Bishop, Harvie Ward Jr., Richard Chapman, Richard Davies, Marion Methvin Jr., H. Dudley Wysong Jr., Dexter Daniels, Gary Cowan, Dick Sikes and Jim Wiechers.

The tournament was won last year by Jack Nicklaus, now a professional.

Indianapolis Bids For Prize International Racing Plum

By JIM SMITH
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
INDIANAPOLIS (NEA) — Indianapolis Raceway Park has ambitious plans.

They want to get the U.S. Grand Prix here from its present site in Watkins Glen, N.Y.

A bid for it in 1964 will be decided upon by the Automobile Competition Committee of the Federation Internationale de l'Automobile, which is understood to look kindly upon moving the race to various parts of the country.

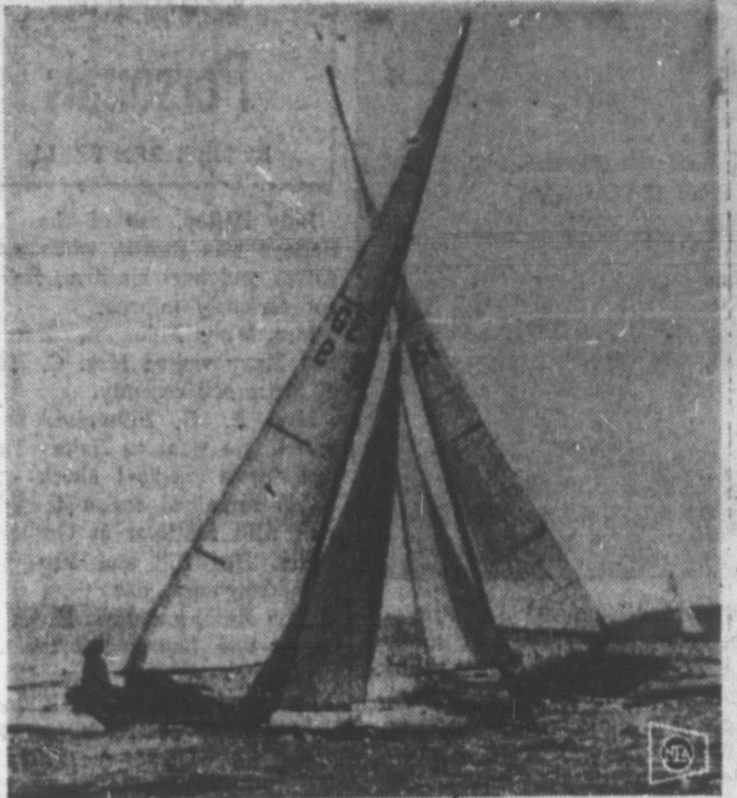

Getting the U.S. Grand Prix here would add greatly to the stature of racing in Indianapolis since we would then be on the FIA world calendar for championship points. Each country belonging to the FIA is granted one race that counts toward world championship points. A number of other races, however, are placed on the world calendar.

The Hoosier Grand Prix was one of these. That event, held here, was a grand success. True, the Raceway brass would have liked to have seen more people, about 20,000 more. But 10,000 did show up, more than last year, and the event didn't lose any money.

How much chance does Indianapolis have of getting the U.S. Grand Prix?

If they can come up with enough money, I'd say their chances were excellent. For one thing, Indianapolis is the most ideally situated place in which to have a road race. Competitors from abroad, who would certainly have to compete, could fly right to our city. This is not true of either Watkins Glen, Sebring, Fla., or Riverside, Calif., where the U.S. Grand Prix has been held.

Watkins Glen paid a purse last year of $11,000. That's only $1,000 more than was paid by Raceway Park for the Hoosier Grand Prix. But the Glen budgeted $60,000 to cover expenses, and these can be staggering.

SEA DUEL—The masts of these sloops are crossed like the swords of duelists as they make a quick turnabout to avoid a crash in the International Sailing Regatta at Hanko, Norway. Only skillful handling prevented an accident.

Between You'n'Me Crow Considered A Move To The AFL

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
CHICAGO (NEA) — John David Crow, again in full stride for the St. Louis grid cards, reveals that two years ago he discussed the possibility of jumping to the American Football League.

With Bud Adams, the owner of the Houston Oilers, then his off-season boss. "But that was because my kids were reaching school age," explains Crow, "and I didn't want to live in Chicago (where the club was then based)." The shift to St. Louis kayoed the Jeap.

Insiders hint that squad dissatisfaction was a big factor in Notre Dame's disappointing 5-5 record last year. . . and that a couple of the big kids might not make it back to campus.

The report that the NFL had put the clamps on Card coach Wally Lemm, to keep him from comparing the two pro-grid leagues, turned out to be a myth when we saw him at the Lake Forest training base. "The big difference between us and the AFL," said the former coach of the Oilers, "is experience. Billy Cannon of Houston could play with anybody. Funny thing, when I was with Houston we had some boys there from the NFL and we couldn't see how they could ever be released. Now it's easy to see, watching this level of competition."

Brown Headed For Retirement?

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — Joe Brown, lightweight champion of the world until four months ago, may be washed up and headed for retirement.

Brown was battered about the ring by the powerful but crude Luis Molina Friday night and lost a unanimous decision to a man that he would have toyed with a year ago.

"His legs are gone," said referee Frankie Carter after the fight.

But Brown differed. "Observers at ringside tell me my legs look as good as ever," said the former champion after the licking. "I have no intention of retiring now."

"This was my first fight since losing the crown in April. I was rusty. I'm in shape now. I hope I can get another fight right away."

That will tell me if my legs are gone or not. I don't think they are.

Brown lost the crown to Carlos Ortiz in a bout at Las Vegas, Nev., in April—a battle in which he made a very poor showing. He was no better Friday night.

Molina immediately demanded a shot at the lightweight title after the victory.

"I'm ready for Ortiz now," said the San Jose grocer. "I'd like to fight him right away."

The bout was held in the San Jose Baseball Park and drew a crowd of 6,500. The gate was $32,000. Brown got $9,600 for his beating. Molina is set to get 25 percent of the net.

Both men weighed in at 138 pounds, but Molina was strong as a full as he chased the faltering Brown around the ring for the full 10 rounds.

I was a bit cautious at first. I hit harder. But when I found out said Molina. "I thought he could he didn't hurt me, then, I just kept rushing him."

Molina shook up the former champion several times with hard, looping rights to the head. On the other hand, Brown never could land solidly against Molina, who was covered up Archie Moore-style as he came in to toss his punches.

Ring's 'Golden Greek' Says Global TV To Boost Boxing

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) — Silver-haired George Parnassus, the fight game's "Golden Greek," predicted today that the Telstar and global television will make professional boxing "a fabulously rich and tremendously attractive international sport."

Los Angeles George, 57, has an excellent vocabulary but he also has such a musical Greek accent that his intimates accuse him of having cooked up the original "strum" for strumberry pie.

Right now the world's busiest promoter, George said — before flying to New York at dawn — "boxing already is such a popular international sport that when the Telstar system of television is completed, there will be a weekly international fight, seen simultaneously in nearly every country, around the world."

He stressed that this new international video will boost American boxing out of the temporary slump caused by too much home television — "when we had three or four television shows a week."

Would Increase Proceeds
Big weekly international Telstar bouts probably will be sent by closed-circuit to theaters or to pay-TV homes in many countries, he emphasized. The rewards for the promoters and the fighters will be "up in the millions," he predicted.

He added, "But the big thing will be the boost in boxing interest stimulated everywhere by the international rivalries of the various countries — as the site of the fight shifts each week from one good boxing country to another, Japan, Italy, Mexico, Brazil, England, Thailand, the Philippines, mainland United States, Germany, Argentina, France, Venezuela, Hawaii, and so forth."

Personally, Parnassus, a medium-sized, spare man, has no complaints about how boxing is treating him now — or did treat him in the past.

"Boxing has been very good to me in every way," he admits. "It treated me well financially and it brought enjoyment to me almost every day I've been in it since 1920. I made wonderful friends and had wonderful times."

Lived In Arizona
He came to the United States from Greece in 1915 and lived first at Phoenix, Ariz., and then at Los Angeles.

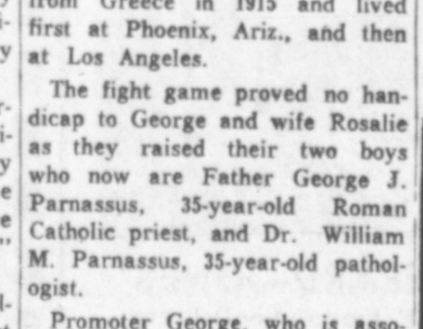

The fight game proved no handicap to George and wife Rosalie as they raised their two boys who now are Father George J. Parnassus, 35-year-old Roman Catholic priest, and Dr. William M. Parnassus, 35-year-old pathologist.

Promoter George, who is associated with Cal and Eileen Eaton of the Olympic Boxing Club in Los Angeles, is also a co-promoter in many other cities in the United States, Europe, the Orient and Latin America.

He hopes to sign featherweight champion Davey Moore in New York today for a title defense against Cuban Sugar Ramos at Los Angeles in November.

George flies to Sao Paulo, Brazil, Tuesday to complete arrangements for a title fight there between world bantamweight champion Eder Jofre of Brazil and Joe Medel of Mexico, Sept. 8.

RECEIVES AWARD — Commander Bernard J. Covington, brother of Mrs. James A. Hopkins, 1710 N. Russell, Pampa, recently received the coveted Sikorsky winged "S" award at the U.S. Coast Guard Air Station, Salem, Mass., for his skill and courage as a pilot in a lifesaving helicopter mission when he flew a patient from a ship at sea to a hospital in Rhode Island despite hazardous weather conditions.

Air Pollution Is Linked To Heart, Cancer, Lung Diseases

A leading cancer researcher has leveled his investigative guns on air pollution as a potential "accessory to the fact".

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond of New York City, director of statistical research for the American Cancer Society, reports on studies in air pollution, smoking, and health in the August issue of the Texas State Journal of Medicine. He holds a doctor of science degree from Johns Hopkins University.

According to Dr. Hammond, an individual may be exposed to the same air contaminant from several different sources, including tobacco smoke. For example, an automobile mechanic may be exposed to carbon monoxide at work, while driving home in city traffic, and while smoking cigarettes.

"Since a number of cancer producing agents, irritants, and toxic agents are present in both tobacco smoke and general air pollution as well as certain industrial dusts, vapors, and gases, these three sources of exposure should be considered together," he writes.

An American Cancer Society study, begun in 1959, enrolled 1,079,000 men and women over the age of 30. More than 44,000 of the subjects are in Texas and 15,700 are in Houston. The subjects filled out a detailed questionnaire on family history, history of diseases, physical complaints, diet, smoking and other habits, occupation, occupational exposures, and place of residence.

A preliminary analysis of death rates by smoking habits revealed the following:

Cigarette smokers were found to have by far the highest death rates, the total death rate increases considerably with amount of cigarette smoking, death rates increased considerably with degree of inhalation, the lung cancer death rate of men with a history of regular cigarette smoking is roughly ten times as high as that of men who never smoked, and the total death rate from all causes, and the death rate from both lung cancer and coronary artery disease is lower in former cigarette smokers than in men who continue to smoke cigarettes regularly.

Dr. Hammond doubts, however, that exposure to tobacco smoke is directly involved in the cause of every disease for which the death rate is higher in cigarette smokers than in nonsmokers.

Much less is known concerning the possible dangers of air contamination other than from heavy occupational exposures and tobacco smoke. Studies in England, Wales, New Zealand, South Africa, and Denmark suggest that general air pollution and occupational exposures may be responsible for many cases of lung cancer in certain industrial areas in countries other than the United States.

Certain types of air pollution, particularly from auto exhausts, have increased in the past several decades and will continue to increase. Dr. Hammond recommends extensive research into the problem to determine the possible serious effects on health if such exposure is continued.

ABILENE, Tex. — Billie Sol Estes, arrested for driving through a stop sign and having no driver's license.

"I sure don't need the publicity... I respect the law all the way... A policeman has the hardest job in the world. I still don't think I ran that stop sign."

"We can't seem to break little Napoleon of that habit, but I'm sure he'll outgrow it when he's older."

10-12,000 In 'War Orphan' Program

Between 10,000 and 12,000 young men and women are expected to apply for training in the nation's schools and colleges this fall under the War Orphans Education program. Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Lubbock, Texas said today.

Since the start of the plan in 1956 about 45,000 have entered training. The education is for the sons and daughters of veterans whose death was from disabilities or illness incurred in active service, the VA manager said.

Called "orphans" even though one parent is still alive, these eligible "children" generally must be between 18 and 23 years of age. They may marry without losing eligibility. They either must have completed or have been a student in a regular high school. They may receive up to

McLean Man Is On Committee

Richard L. Everett of McLean has been appointed as a member of the three-man Gray County Farmers Home Administration committee, the agency's County Supervisor, James D. Gouldy, announced this week. The appointment is for three years and began on July 1.

Everett succeeds Wilbur L. Wilson, whose 3-year term expired this year. The other two members serving with Mr. Everett are John S. Mackie of Pampa and Lawton F. Hoffer of Miami.

36 months of schooling with the VA paying an allowance of up to $110 a month for each month they are in school.

The present marital status of the surviving parent does not affect these "orphans", Sisson said. Before they start school, they will be given vocational counseling to help them select a goal and the proper course leading to that goal.

The local Farmers Home Administration county committee reviews applications by farmers and other rural families for six different types of agricultural, housing and water loans made in Gray county. In addition, the committee advises with the county supervisor regarding the adapting of national loan policies to local conditions.

County Supervisor Gouldy says that Mr. Everett's practical farming experience will enable him to make a real contribution to the county committee's actions when they review loan applications.

CANADIAN (Sp) — In a double-ring ceremony held at 2:30 in the afternoon on August 19, Miss Sharon Koksals of Garden City, Kan., became the bride of Philip Price of Canadian. Wedding vows were exchanged in the First Methodist Church of Garden City with the Rev. Paul-Henle reading the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koksals of Garden City. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Price of Canadian.

The altar area of the church was decorated with baskets of white pom poms and carnations. Special pews were marked with pastel blue and white bows.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Howard Blanchard, who was also accompanist for Fielding Hands, who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

BRIDE

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a traditional white gown of imported Silk Illusion and Chantilly lace. The bodice, sparkling with pearl-embroidered eleonora lace appliques, was styled with a Sweetheart neckline and long tapered sleeves. Her voluminous floor-length skirt was enhanced with tiers of Chantilly lace. Her elbow-length veil of imported Silk Illusion trimmed in Chantilly lace fell from a queen's crown of pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of red roses. Her jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Jill Anderson of Garden City, maid of honor, was attired in a pastel blue silk chiffon dress. She wore matching shoes and gloves and a crown headpiece. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations trimmed in pastel blue.

The flower girl, Cindy Osborn of Garden City, a cousin of the bride, wore a white dress styled similarly to that of the honor at-

Bentley's CHATTER

For some time now, manufacturers have been experimenting with electrically heated clothing. The British War Department have heated socks, gloves and shoes. Many concerns are watching this experiment closely; they may want to adopt it to commercial use, remembering a few days we spent in London, cold, damp and foggy. It might be a wonderful idea. On the other hand, we have a mental picture of a fine mist of vapor arising from electrically heated clothing, adding fog to the fog. We are also thinking of our friends who wanted a fur stole for Christmas and when her husband presented her with an electric blanket instead, she threatened to wear it downtown and plug it in at every opportunity. Heaven forbid... that this could become fashionable!

So far, the styles at Bentley's are running under their own power, but we do have some especially "hot numbers" in dresses and would like nothing better than the chance to show them to you. A fine domestic knit — color combinations of vicuna with black or camel with grey or black with grey — which opens up a dozen ways to change or add to your outfit — then there is a sleeveless shell to make a three-piece suit — and also knit pants too — all items priced from $8.98 to $22.98. Dear Abby....

Wronged Wife Forgives Husband

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have two daughters. One is 28, married and has two children. The other is 23 and single. The single one was employed by my son-in-law for two years. All this time they carried on a secret love affair. The older one found out about it and started divorce proceedings. I got upset and forbade my unmarried daughter to enter my home again. Now, the older one is being courted by her husband again and it looks like they are going back together. She says if I have anything to do with her sister she will never speak to me. I love them both, Abby. The older one blames her sister — not her husband — for what happened. What should I do?

BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Your older daughter is wrong to demand that you have nothing to do with your younger daughter. I can't blame her for feeling resentment toward her sister, but if she has it in her heart to forgive her husband, she should forgive her sister, too.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are going to celebrate our 10th wedding anniversary shortly. I have heard that some of our friends are getting together and giving us a surprise party. Should we be "surprised"?

NOT SURPRISED
DEAR NOT: You can't "be" surprised — but you can ACT it.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think I am a case for a psychiatrist? I keep a diary, but it really isn't much good because it is full of lies.

Rainbow Assembly Plans Ceremonies

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — Twenty officers and 15 members of the Skellytown Rainbow Assembly were instituted at 7 p.m. and installed at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Oddfellows Hall, Skellytown.

Mrs. Martha Marie Whitfield of Dallas, supreme inspector in Texas and supreme service for Rainbow Girls was in charge of the services.

The institution was a closed ceremony for Rainbow Girls, members of the Masonic Lodge and Order of Eastern Star. The installation was open to the public.

Mrs. Whitfield was honored with a coffee at 10-11 a.m. Thursday in Mrs. Jim Goff's home, 1109 Willow, Pampa.

It tells about dates I never had with boys I don't even know. I enjoy writing in it, but I am beginning to wonder if I am crazy keep it well hidden so there is no danger of my mother or anyone else finding it. What makes a person do things like that? I am 15 and not very popular.

MIXED UP
DEAR MIXED UP: If it will make you feel better, you have lots of company. Many people find escape from dull reality by creating a more exciting make-believe world. A certain amount of daydreaming is normal and healthy. Concentrate on developing your personality and becoming more social, and you'll enjoy reality more and dreams less.

Trim Line, Rich Color, Marks Fall Dresses

To take your mind off the sultry summer heat, think ahead and start to plan your fall wardrobe. Fashion designers make it a breeze with the airy, sheer - textured fabrics they've used in their new collections.

Harold Solorsh, young president of Harou, tells what to expect this fall: "Chiffon — that alluring, evasive stuff — we use in surprising ways for a sophisticated casualness."

"Silhouettes are more definitely defined: Daytime dresses have slim body lines, fitted bodices and belts that seek more natural waistlines. A tunic sheath of chamois wool has an enveloping two - ply stole that may be worn in a variety of ways. A full-skirted afternoon dress is striking in a bold abstract print of wool challis.

Cocktail designs are sleekly assured; a chiffon and wool fringed tunic has an illusion overskirt; another, with a chiffon bodice, has a tiered skirt of satin bands. Evening dresses shimmer and float in metallic fabrics, in silks, in satins, cloques and silk chiffons. Gathered and pleated skirts fan out from giant - size butterfly bows, tapered sleeves have fringed beading for cuffs; and hostess gowns of shining, encrusted lame, are glamorous enough for gala "first night" appearances.

Costume coats, cardigan - cut or billowy, are made of shaggy wool or mohair for day, of metal cloth or satin for evening. A pale lame trench coat has a notched collar of luxuriant dark beaver. And fur appears in other ingenious ways: A collar of ranch mink fits over the curved neckline of an evening gown; baum martin cuffs of a theatre costume remain on the dress when the coat is removed.

Brown stands out as the nucleus color of the collection. Of a bold darkness, rich as bitter chocolate, often producing a shock effect when combined with blue of a shade that is light and fragile as delft blue china; or with pink, soft and translucent as a rosebud. Black, in its timeless elegance, produces drama of its own when it sweeps back in a satin greatcoat to reveal a Goya red lining. Gray has an ingenu charm by day, becomes pearly and platinum by evening as it appears with black or with a green that is deeper than leaves in shadow. Gold and silver highlight the evening costumes, but always there is brown — daytime to evening.

Take It From Kathy

Dear Kathy: This week I had a date for the first time. We had a wonderful time but I am supposed to be home by 10:30 p.m. It's terrible to feel like a baby, so I stopped to talk and have something to eat. We didn't get home until after 12 o'clock and my parents were furious. I've been told that I can't go out again. What can I do? I had already made another date and now I can't keep it.—Babs.

Dear Babs: There are college girls who have 10 o'clock curfews, so you shouldn't feel like a baby. Rules are something that every teen understands. Your date's family makes them, too, about lots of things.

You can't undo the past so you'll have to prove yourself trustworthy in the future. The date you planned will have to be canceled, but I'm sure the ban isn't permanent. Next time, and there will be one eventually, let him know about your curfew at the beginning of the evening. The right kind of boy will help you to keep it.

Teen-agers: Please send your personal problems to Kathy Peterson in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Ruth Millett Astronauts Are ...

Today's Real Heroes

When America's astronauts recently moved to Houston, Texas, the city turned out to give the men and their families a real old-fashioned welcome.

As the astronauts rode by in parade formation, men, women, and children stood three deep on the streets, waving the American flag and holding up six fingers in a space victory sign signifying the six orbits that Cmdr. Walter M. Shirra Jr. will attempt.

No wonder Houston turned out in full force to cheer the astronauts and to welcome them to their city. Any city would be lucky to have those men and their families move in.

In the last few years our young people have had so few real heroes publicized enough to focus attention on them.

Instead they've been offered paper heroes made up by press agents from young singers who can't sing, from method actors who make a fetish of sloppiness, from coached "geniuses" on rigged television quiz shows.

Our young people have had so much of the phony, the cheap, the shoddy, the superficial handed to them in the guise of something big and great that it is truly wonderful they now have the quiet, unassuming courage of the astronauts and their loyal families to give them something real to admire.

Any city is lucky, indeed, to have for their "first families" — at least in the admiration of its citizens — families headed by our NIGHT PILOTS—Flying squirrels are fairly common in the U.S. Even though many persons spend vacations in the woods without ever seeing these interesting animals take to the air, that doesn't mean they weren't near. The little squirrels are nocturnal and soar at 15 to 20 miles per hour from tree to tree seeking food. At left, flying squirrels are seen resting on a stump. Black line on side is special gliding membrane which turns them into a square glider, capable of a variety of aerial acrobatics. At right, seldom seen—much less photographed—is the flying squirrel in full daytime flight. Here the gliding membrane is fully extended. These unique squirrels are presently under study by scientists at the University of Michigan, who took the unusual photographs.

Building Permits In State Show Decrease

AUSTIN (UPI) — Building permits authorized in Texas dropped from their June peak for the year to 131 per cent of the 1957-59 average, in July, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

The July total was 7 per cent below the June peak but was 14 per cent above the July total last year.

For July, permits totaling $134.2 million were issued in Texas, including $119.7 million for new construction and $14.5 million for additions, alterations, and repairs.

For the first seven months of the year, permits totaled $937.8 million, compared with $901 million to the same time in 1961.

The index is "currently below the all-time high of 152.3 per cent registered in August of last year, but it is still at a relatively high level when compared with values for the past 19 months," statistician Francis B. May said.

The July total is the fourth highest in more than 10 years, May added.

Seasonally adjusted totals for residential permits fell by 1 per

Opera Season Set In Dallas

September 5 will be the final day for ordering season tickets to Dallas Civic Opera.

Sale of single tickets for the 1962 season, which opens November 30, will begin the following day, Thursday, September 6.

Civic Opera's general manager Lawrence Kelly reminded operators that they have first choice of seats when they order season tickets. "All season ticket orders will be filled first," he said.

The opera company's 1962 season will include "Otello," starring Mario del Monaco, Ilva Ligabue, Ramon Vinay and Joan Grillo, November 30 and December 8; "Barber of Seville," with Teresa Berganza, Luigi Alva, Sesto Brucantini and Carlo Badioli December 1 and 7; and "Suor Angelica" and "Pagliacci" on a double bill December 13 and 15, with Ligabue, Regina Resnik, del Monaco, Manuel Ausensi and Richard Torrig.

DCO offers two season tickets plans — Series A, with two performances: "Barber" on December 7 and the double bill December 13; and Series B, with three performances: "Barber" December 1, "Otello" December 8 and the double bill December 15.

San Antonio construction permits totaled $6.5 million including $1.1 non-residential.

Houston had the state's most dwelling units authorized in July, with 1,723.

Texas Retail Sales Take A Dip In July

AUSTIN (UPI) — Retail sales took a dip in July after two successive months of rises, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

For the first seven months of 1962, the state's retail sales are still 10 per cent above the comparable period of last year, at $6.7 billion, the bureau said.

July sales declined 3.8 per cent, as nearly all categories of durable goods had declines greater than seasonal. Non-durable goods sales also dropped.

For the year to date, sales of durables are up 23 per cent from the same time last year and sales of non-durables are 3 per cent above the first seven months of 1961.

Statistician Francis B. May said figures indicate total retail sales for the state this year will be $11.9 billion, including $4.4 billion in durable goods and $7.5 billion in non-durable.

"Nearly all categories of durables had greater-than-seasonal declines in July," May reported. "However, cumulative sales for the first seven months of this year were well above sales of durables in the first seven months of 1961. Also, sales in July were above July, 1961 for every category of durables except farm implements."

In the durable category for July, automotive stores sales were down 9 per cent from June and up 24 per cent from July of 1961. Motor vehicles dealers did 10 per cent less business in July than June but 26 per cent more than July last year.

July furniture and appliance sales were down 2 per cent from June but up 4 per cent from July, 1961.

Building materials sold 2 per cent less in volume in July compared with June, but were up 6 per cent from July 1961. Farm implements enjoyed July sales 23 per cent above June but 7 per cent below July, 1961.

In the non-durables category for July, apparel stores' sales were 2 per cent down from June and about the same as July, 1961. Eating and drinking places were down 7 per cent from June and down 2 per cent from July, 1961. Gasoline and service stations did 1 per cent less in July than in June but 9 per cent more than July, 1961. General merchandise sales were up 1 per cent in July from June and 4 per cent up from July, 1961.

By areas, Brownsville fared best in total retail sales in major areas. Brownsville sales rose 17 per cent.

Retail sales in Austin held at the June level instead of dropping. Retail sales in Waco rose 4 in Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has provided a target date for those members of Congress and other citizens who are fed up to here with nearly 20 years of costly foreign aid.

The target date is Jan. 1, 1964, a presidential election year. On that day the balance of international payments is to be favorable or nearly so to the United States. Or so Kennedy believes. The faith of Europe in the stability of the U.S. dollar substantially would be restored if the President is right about that.

If Europeans regain their faith in the U. S. dollar they will have no reason to insist that their U. S. dollars be exchanged for U. S. gold. This draining of gold has reduced U. S. monetary stocks of that metal from $20.2 billion on June 30, 1945, to $16.7 billion in mid-July 1962.

These figures have made European holders of dollars jittery about possible devaluation of the U. S. buck. It could be devalued by executive order increasing the number of dollars the U. S. Treasury will pay for an ounce of gold.

Full Value Pledge

The prevailing price is $35 an ounce, up from $20.50 since January, 1934. President Kennedy has stated firmly that he will not devalue. At this week's presidential news conference, Kennedy also reminded Europe that the United States could correct the unfavorable balance of international payments simply by reducing overseas defense and foreign aid. Kennedy does not plan to do that, either.

He has an alternative idea. It is that by a variety of means, his administration will be able to correct the unfavorable balance by the end of next year. That is what makes Jan. 1, 1964 a target date. For Kennedy it is a target date to correct a situation jeopardizing the integrity of the U. S. dollar. He must correct the unfavorable balance, or else.

For the opponents of foreign aid, Jan. 1, 1964 is the target date to make reduction or abandonment of foreign aid a blazing campaign issue. There is some evidence that the voters are ready for such.

In this session of Congress, opponents of foreign aid lacked the muscle even to cut it off from Communist states such as Poland and Yugoslavia. But the supporters of foreign aid also lacked some muscle or, was it courage? Passed the Buck

What they lacked was muscle or courage to vote directly in favor of aid to those Communist states. What they did, finally, was to pass the buck to the President. He can pay out to Poland and Yugoslavia, but strictly on his own responsibility.

Next time around, Congress might strike Poland and Yugoslavia off the aid list. Kennedy has given himself 18 months in which to plug the gold leak. If he fails to do so, foreign aid is likely to be a hot issue in the 1964 campaign.

Kennedy estimates that the United States has paid out $50 billion to Europe alone since 1945. The national debt on June 30, 1945 was $258.6 billion. It is nearly $300 billion today, 17 years after war's end. Those figures also tend to heat up the foreign aid dispute. Aid opponents know it must end sometime.

cent in July, to 122.3 per cent of the 1957-59 base years. This level was 6 per cent above the July, 1961, total.

Non-residential permits dropped 15 per cent in July to 149.2 per cent of the base years. At this level, the index was 23 per cent above July, 1961.

By areas of the state, Dallas had the highest total construction permits in July, at $32.5 million, and the highest non-residential total at $22.9 million. Dallas' new dwelling units totaled $85 for July.

Austin's total construction authorized totaled $3.9 million, including $325,550 in non-residential construction.

El Paso's total construction authorized was $2.8 million in July, including $692,000 non-residential.

Some changes may be in the works in Communist Czechoslovakia, beginning at the top.

A recent Prague dispatch reported that President and First Party Secretary Antonin Novotny has been rebuffed by his own party politburo and managed to remain in office only after a warning from Moscow that his removal might touch off an upheaval.

If Novotny goes, it will provide an apt illustration of the dog-eat-dog nature of Communist politics and an example of a man impaled on his own sword.

Among satellite leaders Novotny has been among the most reluctant to accept the de-Stalinization concept first announced by Nikita Khrushchev at the party congress in 1956 and reinforced last year.

Name Still Popular

The streets named for Stalin and statues in his honor have remained unchanged, and as late as February of this year the Czech radio still was mentioning the "Stalin mine."

Part of Novotny's reluctance to abolish the Stalin personality cult or to relax his harsh repressive measures came from fears that Czech minds might turn back to the happier days of a free Czechoslovakia under Thomas Masaryk and Edouard Benes.

Measles Cases Show Increase

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas measles outbreaks slowed somewhat the past week, but continue to outpace last year's case load by several times, the Texas Department of Health said today.

The department counted 115 measles cases in the week ending Aug. 18, compared with a five-year average for that week of 145 cases. The year's total has risen to 65,326 compared with 13,608 to the same time last year.

Rites Held For Professor

HUNTSVILLE (UPI)—Dr. Harris L. Russell, professor at Sam Houston State Teachers College who was beaten to death by his son, was buried Saturday.

Harold, 19, the son, may attend the funeral under guard. The honor roll student at the University of Texas, has admitted bludgeoning his father with an iron bar. He is being held without bond.

Police took Russell to Fort Worth Friday. The officers questioned an office worker who was described as a family acquaintance of the Russells.

Walker County Dist. Atty. Gus Lanier and Deputy Sheriff T. T. Easley accompanied Russell to Fort Worth.

Lanier said they later went to Dallas to check on several insurance companies with which the elder Russell did business.

"Everything we ask him (young Russell) about insurance he balks," said Lanier. "Mr. Easley and I want to know how many insurance policies Dr. Russell carried at the time of his death, the value of the policies and the name of the beneficiaries."

The killing happened last Wednesday at the Russells' Huntsville home.

TWX GOES DDD—Biggest change in the history of telephony will take place on August 31 when some 60,000 teleprinter exchange (TWX) stations switch over to direct distance dialing (DDD). It will involve every operating company in the Bell System and many independent telephone systems. TWX is like a telephone call, except that it is sent by keyboard and received as a typed message. Direct dialing will replace manual switching of calls, used since TWX began in 1931. Central switchboards in 16 cities (see map) will handle collect calls and conference calls. St. Louis will be the nationwide information center.

TELLTALE SHOES—Things are being made just a bit tougher for inmates of certain federal prison camps who attempt to escape. Their shoes, issued on arrival at the prisons, have unusual marks in the heels. A "V" notch is cut out in front of the heel and a dime-sized hole is cut in the center. The heelprints leave easily recognized trails in the soil. Photographs from Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Indignation Is Aroused By Shrimp Boats

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Profound indignation has been aroused in Salina Cruz by arrival of a fleet of U. S. shrimp boats, allegedly operating in Mexican waters, dispatches today said.

The Navy Ministry was reported still investigating alleged display of arms by some of the vessels, with resultant flight of Mexican fishermen from the scene.

The reports today identified the vessels as out of Brownsville, and said they flew American flags.

Some of them bore the following names—Alma D. Ruby, Carrol, Mona Lisa, Cheyenne Sally, Pandaluz, Aurora and San Jose, it was added.

The shrimp being taken by the foreign boats are being delivered to packing houses and freezing plants operated by US firms in Central America, the dispatches said.

Additional protests have been filed with the Navy Ministry by organizations in Salina Cruz, asking immediate intervention of the federal government.

A Marine Ministry spokesman said it had not been determined if the US boats were actually in Mexican waters or beyond the limits. Mexican-US limits of territorial waters do not jibe, this country claiming seven miles the US holds a three-mile extension of national territory.

A message to the Navy Ministry from a shrimp packing firm in Salina Cruz declared that the port captain there had ignored previous protests about the foreign fleet, which it described as containing 15 boats with US flags, out of Brownsville.

Tobacco crops are grown in 19 states of the Union.

Labor Day Traffic Safety Drive Opens

Governor Price Daniel has announced the opening of the annual Statewide Labor Day traffic safety campaign, and said the official Texas Department of Public Safety estimate of 30 traffic deaths during the three-day Labor Day week end "shows we must stage one of our most strenuous campaigns to get the cooperation of Texas motorists in driving safely, legally and soberly."

The Governor said the "summer-time death record underlines the urgency of the effort. When June set a new all-time death record for that month in our State, when the first three days of that month took 54 lives in 35 fatal crashes, when we hear about 20 persons being killed in three crashes in six days in West Texas, it is tragically plain that we need to step up every effort."

Texas newspapers, radio and TV stations, through the Texas Press Association, Texas Daily Newspaper Association and Texas Association of Broadcasters, will again assist the Governor's Highway Safety Commission, State agencies and local traffic safety councils throughout the State in organizing the campaign.

The radio broadcasters have officially adopted the "Drive Lighted and Live" campaign as one of their annual public service programs. Radio stations throughout the State will invite all drivers to drive with headlights burning during the driving safely and legally. In past campaigns Texas motorists have responded so well to this idea and practice that, in numerous metropolitan and other traffic-crowded areas, there was not a single serious crash nor a traffic death.

"This is a simple suggestion," the Governor said, "that anyone can follow. In addition to reminding himself to drive safely and legally, its use reminds the other fellow, too."

Texas Junior Chambers of Commerce, as for the past three years, will also take their Labor Day safe-driving campaign out to the highways and the motorists. Larry Tate of Tyler, Jaycee State safety chairman, has advised the Governor that the Jaycees "are shooting for a new, all-time record with our highway rest-stops and distribution of safety literature to motorists on the highways."

Working through State Executive Vice-President Bill Davis at Grand Prairie, some 3,000 Jaycees in 165 Texas clubs are planning to devote 30,000 man-hours to the Labor Day program, to man 150 rest-stops along the highways where motorists can receive 60,000 free cups of coffee and soft drinks and 300,000 pieces of safety literature. They expect to erect 1,200 safety signs on private property along the highways.

Why all this effort? Tate told the Governor: "Maybe we can save another 10 lives with our gentle reminders and friendly approach."

The Texas Council of Safety Supervisors, composed of safety directors of the Texas trucking industry, will again put its "Holiday Road Patrol" on various main-traveled highways to help travelers in trouble. These units will bear identifying signs, and will be equipped with extra oil, gas, water and communications facilities. They will do no law enforcement work, but will report accidents if necessary, and aid stranded motorists.

The Governor is also asking law enforcement agencies, Statewide, to add their weight to the life-saving campaign. In letters to Texas sheriffs and chiefs of police this week, the Governor said:

"I urge you to put every man you can possibly spare on our streets and highways during the Labor Day weekend to get the speeders and the drinking drivers off the highways and into the courts. I know you will work closely with the Texas Department of Public Safety, whose director, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr, tells me he will assign 150 uniformed patrolmen from other DPS branches to help you and the Texas Highway Patrol during the holiday period."

Governor Daniel concluded: "Many safety officials and engineers tell us that 90 per cent of all highway accidents result from driver errors, ignorance or recklessness. Our Labor Day campaign is directed about 90 per cent toward educating and informing our five million Texas drivers, and I hope the DPS, and our sheriffs and chiefs of police will take care of the other 10 per cent. This kind of campaign last Labor Day held our traffic toll to 21 instead of the 30 deaths expected by DPS statisticians. We want to do as well or better this year."

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Technically speaking, says Roy Brzdy of J. W. Sparks & Co., after the recent sharp stock market advance the possibility of a modest correction can be expected. However, he says, this does not lessen the impact of the technical forces in play that displayed the strength of surmounting the "psychological barrier" of 600 in the Dow-Jones industrial average. The achievement of this objective, on volume, indicates the bullish element on this move remains dominant and a further advance to the 640 level appears technically attainable in the near future.

International Statistical Bureau, Inc. says that although it remains optimistic, any continued market rise will lack uniformity—much more so than at any time in the past several years.

According to Spear and Staff, Inc., shares of many of the glamour stocks seem to have rebounded too sharply within a short period of time and a near-term reversal is probable.

The Lighter Side

On Picketing White House

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Hollywood mind at work is always strange and wonderful to behold, particularly to those of us who live in the East and don't get many opportunities to observe this phenomenon.

One such occasion arose this week when a company representing Columbia Pictures arrived on Capitol Hill to film scenes for the movie version of the Broadway musical "Bye Bye Birdie." I paused briefly to watch the proceedings and, being unaccustomed to that mode of thinking, found myself not only dazzled but momentarily blinded by the brain waves that flashed about the cameras.

Assembled before the Capitol were 60 teen-age girls carrying picket signs. They were supposed to be staging a protest demonstration because the Army had drafted their rock-and-roll singing idol.

Answers Readily Apparent
If you took this scene and captioned it "What is wrong with this picture?" A number of answers would be readily apparent.

In the first place, when you want to protest something in Washington, you don't picket the Capitol. You picket the White House.

Picketing the White House is part of the American tradition, like Grandma's gingerbread and jumping off the Brooklyn Bridge. In fact, you don't have to be protesting something to picket the White House. A lot of people do it just for the exercise. In the second place, picketing at the Capitol is illegal. Demonstrators who try it are immediately rounded up and marched into the Senate chamber where they are forced to listen to a three-hour speech on the European Common Market.

You can bet they don't try it again.

Should Attract Attention
In the third place, the purpose of a picket line is to attract attention. Sixty teen-age girls marching in front of the Capitol would hardly be noticed at all.

Everyone would assume they were high school seniors on a sight-seeing tour. For these reasons you and I might think that the Capitol makes a rather illogical setting for a picket scene. To the Hollywood mind, however, it seems perfectly rational.

Members of the film company explained that when they're shooting a scene in Washington, they want it to look like Washington. And what looks more like Washington than the U.S. Capitol?

It's hard to find fault with that kind of reasoning. If they ever make a movie of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," I assume they will use the Taj Mahal.

COURSE FOR MEN
LOUTH, England (UPI)—A new course at Louth Evening Institute is called "survival for men." It deals with cooking, laundry and mending.

Drought Is Still Critical In State

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—Drought conditions in most areas of the state remain critical as hot, dry weather hangs on, the Texas Agriculture Extension Service said.

Though moisture is needed generally over the state, conditions approaching the severity of a few years ago dominate in central, south and West Texas, the service said. Central and South Texas farmers got the cotton, corn and grain sorghum harvests in high gear and ranchmen stepped up shipment of cattle from their parched ranches.

As High Plains and Panhandle farmers prepare to harvest ripening crops, South Texas farmers are plowing stubble and planting fall crops.

With the state cotton crop 14 per cent ginned, several weeks more of dry weather is important to the harvest but the dry conditions have caused some cotton to wilt and some fruit to be lost.

With the state grain sorghum crop nearly 30 per cent harvested, the south central crop is almost 90 per cent finished. The Southern High Plains began combining and the rest of the High Plains crop is nearing ripeness. Rapid progress is being made in the Blacklands as two thirds of the crop has been combined. Pastures and ranges over much of the state are badly burnt and stock tanks continue to dry up.

LOST IN THE END
LORIENT, France (UPI)—Retired policeman Louis Le Bellour, 55, bet a group of companions he could eat two yards of sausage. Bellour won. He not only ate two yards, but finished off the meal with an extra four inches of sausage. A day later he died. Doctors diagnosed the cause as indigestion.
