Bows To Military Might

Algerian Premier Accepts 'Bureau'

By ALAIN RAYMOND
United Press International
ALGIERS (UPI) — Provisional Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda bowed Saturday before the growing military might of the dissident Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella and said he would accept the idea of a political bureau to run Algeria if the revolutionary parliament agreed.

As a result of these conferences it appeared the provisional premier was emerging as a mediator between the Ben Bella-Krim factions.
A spokesman for Krim and Khider said Saturday's peace talks were held in a "fraternal atmosphere."

Ben Khedda called for an urgent meeting of the National Council of the Revolution (parliament) to avert civil war as Ben Bella's troops invaded the port city of Philippeville and moved to within 60 miles of a mountain stronghold of Ben Khedda's supporters.

Byrd Says Tax On Dividends To Lose In Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., predicted Saturday the administration plan for a withholding tax on interest and dividends would be defeated by a 3 to 1 margin in the Senate if put to a vote.
He made the forecast—and said he also had given it to Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon—in an interview with Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa. The interview was recorded for Midwestern radio stations.

Peace talks were underway in Algiers among the three rival political factions now struggling for power, but a new threat of bloodshed was seen in ominous statements Saturday from former Minister Mohammed Boudiaf who threatened to fight to keep Ben Bella from power.

There were three political factions in the tangled mess of Algerian politics which has threatened to repeat the chaotic conditions of the Congo since Algeria gained its independence early this month:
Most powerful is the faction led by Ben Bella who contends that the provisional government is illegal. Ben Bella commands the loyalty of most of the liberation army and now holds more than three-fourths of the country.

Byrd is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, which voted 11 to 5 Friday to reject the withholding proposal. The plan was recommended by President Kennedy and approved by the House as part of the administration's tax reform bill.
The Virginia senator said he had received 100,000 letters opposing the proposal. He expressed belief that a substitute proposal to require corporations and savings institutions to report dividend and interest payments plus the development of computer systems would minimize losses from unpaid taxes.

Ben Khedda, though deserted by many of his ministers, remains provisional premier. He holds the loyalty of troops of the third military district (Willaya) threatened by Saturday's troop movements and about half the troops in the Algiers military district.

Third Force
A new "third force" has developed in the past few days led by Belkacem Krim, a former tough guerrilla leader who has sworn to keep Algeria out of Ben Bella's hands, and Mohammed Boudiaf, another unrelenting enemy of Ben Bella's. They more or less support Ben Khedda.

The peace negotiations in Algiers Saturday were held between Mohammed Khider, an emissary of Ben Bella, and the fiery Krim. They met for 3 1/2 hours and appeared optimistic afterwards that some solution short of war would be found.

Khider met Friday with one of Ben Khedda's representatives who also expressed optimism that a compromise solution would be

Several Passengers Reported Trapped In Tangled Wreckage

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Five passenger coaches of a Pennsylvania Railroad "Baseball Special" hurtled the tracks near here Saturday. Three of them spilled down a 25-foot embankment into two feet of water.

State Police Capt. Richard Gray estimated the number of dead at 20. "That's a conservative estimate," he said. Estimates of the injured ranged from 70 to 200.
Several persons were still trapped in the tangled wreckage three and a half hours after the derailment, and rescue workers set up flood lights.

Harrisburg Hospital received at least 65 injured, 12 of them in serious condition. Polyclinic Hospital had at least eight.
A temporary morgue was set up in the Baldwin Fire Co. headquarters at Steelton, near the scene of the wreck. Hundreds of police, firemen and rescue workers from as far as Gettysburg, 30 miles away, joined in rescue operations.

The Reverend Stephen Hrbic, pastor of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church in Steelton, said he administered last rites to at least eight persons. He was unable to estimate the total number dead.
Several priests were at the scene. Skin divers, working with acetylene torches, burned through the twisted steel to reach the victims. Two helicopters from nearby Olmstead Air Force Base hovered overhead, lifting bodies from the cars.

The nine-car train was carrying baseball fans from this area to Philadelphia for the Phillies game with the Pittsburgh Pirates. The two cars with passengers landed on their side in the river, but the other one, which was empty, was upright.
The front cars were empty for other fans were to be picked up en route to Philadelphia, about 100 miles away.

District Court To Meet Monday

District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich will preside over the Gray County 31st Judicial District Court which convenes at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the district court room of the County Court House.
Nine cases have been set for trial.
Selection of a 12-man petit jury will be the first order of business on the docket.

Pathet Lao Forces Will Return Five Americans And One Filipino

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Pro-Communist Vice Premier Prince Souphanouvong told U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger Saturday the five Americans and one Filipino held by the Pathet Lao forces will be returned here Monday, Unger reported.
Unger, who conferred for 15 minutes with the acting premier, said the leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces told him he had ordered the prisoners taken to airstrips from which they can be flown to Vientiane.

He said the Red prince told him he had no information on 11 other Americans and one Filipino missing in Laos and believed to be dead.
The five Americans to be returned under terms of the Geneva accords intended to guarantee the neutrality of Laos are NBC cameraman Grant Wolfkill, Shelton, Wash., helicopter crewmen John Shore Jr., Galloway, Tenn., and John B. McMorrow, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Army Sgt. Orville R. Ballenger, Spring Lake, N. C., and Army Maj. Lawrence R. Bailey, Laurel, Md.

The first four were seen in November by a Swiss Red Cross official who reported they were in good health. The Red Cross official also was told by the Communist guerrillas that Bailey was well.
Souphanouvong told newsmen on his return from the rebel-held Plain of Jars he had "no precise information" on the Americans but that he had ordered them taken to areas near airstrips so they could be freed.
Souphanouvong said he did not know where the prisoners were held, because they were with guerrilla forces which kept moving and that communications in the mountain regions were poor because of floods brought by monsoon rains.
Unger called on Souphanouvong to give him more information about the 11 missing Americans. Seven of these were in the crippled plane from which Bailey parachuted. Three are Army men who disappeared during the battle in which Ballenger was captured.

The 11th is Charles J. Duffy, Watkins, N.Y., a private contractor. The U.S. Embassy has expressed doubts that any still are alive.
Unger said he believed the prisoners would be taken first to the Plain of Jars. He told Souphanouvong as soon as he is notified that they have arrived there he will send an American plane with a doctor aboard to the area.

Commission To Meet Tuesday
Pampa's City Commission will meet at 9 a.m. Tuesday in the Commission Room, City Hall.
The agenda includes a public hearing on zoning certain territory in the city limits, opening bids on wet garbage removal and also on furnishing and installing air conditioning in the Palm Room of City Hall, site of future Commission meetings.
Approval of various bills for payment is also slated.

Mineral Wells, Dallas Starting Cleanup; Flood Waters Recede

By United Press International
Flood water moved down the Brazos River Saturday and hundreds of residents in the Mineral Wells and Dallas areas began a cleanup from rains measuring yet 15 inches.
Skies cleared Saturday in the north Central Texas area which was hardest hit by more than two days of torrential rains. The storm scene moved to the Northwest. A funnel cloud was sighted near Wheeler in the Panhandle and Fritch, also in the Panhandle, had 2.35 inches of rain between 3 a.m. and 11:30 a.m.

Hundreds of persons driven from their homes Friday returned Saturday at Mineral Wells and several towns in that area to find silt and damage to houses and furniture.
Water began receding at the town of Bennett southwest of Weatherford in Parker County. Deputy Sheriff Chester Casbie said six families had fled their homes there Friday.

Police dispatcher S. L. Knight at Mineral Wells said the worst damage there came from the break of an earthen dam at Pinto Lake.
Water from the 25-acre lake tore the backs from every cabin at the Jack Garrett tourist lodge. Several cabins were pushed from their foundations. The lake was a private lake owned by Upham Ranch Co., which did not indicate whether it will rebuild.
Police dispatcher John Gilbert of Mineral Wells said damage estimates from the flood ran more than $500,000.
"It's the worst flood anybody can remember," Gilbert said.
Hundreds of persons fled their homes on the east and north side of Dallas. Dallas recorded an official 8.48 inches of rain in a two-day period starting Wednesday night. Evacuees returned to their homes Saturday.
The heaviest flooding in Dallas came in the White Rock Lake (See CLEANUP, Page 4)

Cancer-Cigarette Connection Said Not Yet 'Definite'

MOSCOW (UPI) — Doctors at the 8th International Cancer Congress said Saturday there seemed to be no definite connection yet between cigarettes and cancer but that smoking combined with air pollution tended to increase incidents of lung cancer.

The reports were issued at the start of the congress. Prof. Nikolai N. Blokhin, president of the congress, said "many truly outstanding reports" had been presented.
Blokhin is president of the S.S.R. Academy of Medicine. He told the 3,500 cancer specialists gathered in the palace of congresses in the Kremlin that certainly it is still early to sum up the conference.

"There were seven sections working simultaneously," he said. "No one could have known what was going on in all of them, but every one will be studying the results for some time to come." He said it was expected the full conference documents would be published in the near future.
The morning session concentrated on the problem of smoking and lung cancer.

Katherine M. Herrold of the laboratory of pathology, National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md., presented a paper describing the effects of benzo-pyrene of the respiratory tract of Syrian hamsters.
She said benzo-pyrene was the most potent carcinogen, or cancer causing agent, so far isolated from either cigarette smoke condensate or air pollutants.

"Whether or not this carcinogen plays a role in the development of lung cancer in man is still uncertain," she said. She also said the result of her experiments left uncertain whether cigarette smoking could be the sole cause of lung cancer.
Four British scientists, F.J.C. M.H. Salamon, I. Cohen and G. Burgon reported on experiments with cigarette smoke per-charged with benzo-pyrene comparison with ordinary cigarette smoke.

The results of this experiment suggest that benzo-pyrene plays a minor role in carcinogenesis (the emergence of cancer) (See DEFINITE, Page 4)

Russians Put 'Cosmos' Into Orbit

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union Saturday successfully fired into orbit the seventh of its unmanned "Cosmos" space-probing satellites to gather data on the "radiation hazards for long space flights," the Tass news agency announced.

Tass said "Cosmos 7" was circling the earth every 90.1 minutes at an angle of inclination to the equator of 65 degrees. It made no reference to the possibility of bringing it back to earth.
However, the angle was the same at which both Soviet cosmonauts, Yuri Gagarin and Gherman Titov, were sent into orbit. It was also the same angle at which "Cosmos 4" was orbited and brought back to earth.

Of the six previous unmanned "Cosmos" sputniks launched since the research program began last March 16, only "Cosmos 4" was reported recovered. Tass said the Sputnik, orbited on April 26, was brought back safely three days later after a voyage of about 1,240,000 miles through space.
As in previous announcements, Tass made no mention of the weight of "Cosmos 7." It said the Sputnik was on an elliptical orbit, with an apogee of 229 miles and a perogee of 130 miles.
The Sputnik's radio, Tass said, was transmitting on a frequency of 13,994 megacycles. It said "the analysis of the first information sent back by the Sputnik shows that its equipment is functioning normally."

Tass said the Sputnik would study the radiation belts surrounding the earth "to estimate radiation hazards for long space flights"—an obvious reference to an eventual new manned Soviet space voyage.

About Stopping FBI Probe, Yarborough Contribution

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — A close associate testified Saturday that Billie Sol Estes bragged about stopping an FBI investigation in the summer of 1961 and about spending $40,000 on a political campaign by Ralph Yarborough, now senior senator from Texas.
The close associate was Coleman D. McSpadden of Lubbock, Tex., director and leading stockholder of Superior (tank) Manufacturing Company of Amarillo. Another witness said at least one finance company knew that Estes dealt in "penitentiary paper" when it bought $1.5 million worth. "Penitentiary paper" was Texas as Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's term for mortgages on non-existent anhydrous ammonia fertilizer tanks. Twelve finance companies bought chattel mortgages totaling $22.5 million on tanks through Superior Manufacturing.

Previous testimony had indicated that only a few tanks were ever made. When Saturday's court of inquiry recessed, Wilson said it was the "most illuminating" of eight such courts that he has conducted.

Purpose of Inquiry
He said the purpose of the inquiry was to show that finance companies—he named Walter E. Heller & Company of Chicago and the CIT Corp. specifically—were deeply implicated with Estes.

"This hearing should totally dispel the notion that Estes was a Robin Hood or anything other than a con man."
Estes has not attended any of the courts of inquiry. The eighth court of inquiry lasted three days. McSpadden and Harold E. Orr, president of Superior, testified earlier but were recalled to the witness stand Saturday.

McSpadden and Orr were indicted with Estes by a federal grand jury on 29 counts of fraud, transporting fraudulent documents interstate and conspiracy. McSpadden and Orr pleaded guilty to five counts and are awaiting sentence. Estes, 37, pleaded innocent to everything.

After boasting about stopping an FBI investigation, McSpadden said Estes announced: "Now that the FBI is off our backs, I can do a better job for us in Washington than Commercial Solvents can."
"Until that time did he mean he had depended upon Commercial Solvents to handle the Washington end of it?" Wilson asked. "Yes," McSpadden replied.

"The Washington end of it" apparently meant dealing with the Agriculture Department to make sure Estes' elevators were kept filled with surplus grain.
Deal Worked Out
Commercial Solvents and Estes had a deal worked out so that Commercial provided Estes with anhydrous ammonia fertilizer for West Texas cotton farms and Estes turned over to Commercial (See ESTES, Page 4)

Candidates Speak Before Meet Of American Legion

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gubernatorial candidates John Connally and Jack Cox called for freedom Saturday in non-partisan speeches before the state convention of the American Legion.

Connally, the Democratic nominee, said America must be ready to defend its freedom against Communism in economic, political and propaganda fields.
Any field which the Soviets may choose to probe, Connally said, must be met by superior American strength.

"Our national strength will depend on how much stamina, how much courage we choose to display," Connally said.

Connally praised U. S. armed forces branches for their strength and readiness. He said the "magnificent polaris submarines are manned and on station—a solemn and enduring warning to any potential aggressor."

To maintain freedom, Connally said, Americans must place greater emphasis on education—to increase technological knowledge and appreciation for American heritage.

Republican Cox defended charges against the Legion that it is composed of "super patriots."
Cox said charges have been brought against the Legion because it is conducting a program "dedicated to the American way of life."

"In America we have an internal struggle of freedom as well as an ideological struggle against Communism," Cox said.
"America can be destroyed from within if we do not follow an Americanism program like that of the American Legion," Cox said.

"Most Americans," Cox said, "could not debate a devoted Marxist on the subject of the American way of life vs. Communism. Too many people in America have forgot what the Fourth of July stands for."

Cox, a member of the Breckenridge post, said he would take time off from the gubernatorial campaign in October to attend the national convention of the Legion in Las Vegas. Cox is a member of the National Americanism Commission of the Legion.

Javits Requests Justice Dept. Aid Arrested Negroes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., asked the Justice Department Saturday to intercede in behalf of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and other Negroes who were arrested in Albany, Ga.

In a telegram to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Javits said he wanted the Justice Department to meet the situation "with the full dignity and majesty of the United States government."
"Situation in Albany presents real crisis as to whether U. S. can protect its citizens against interposition by local and state authorities," Javits said. "Court action has endeavored to insure Dr. Martin Luther King and his associates of the basic constitutional rights of peaceful assembly and petition."

"I believe it is vital that Justice Department now intercede in legal proceedings to protect these rights from police interference," Javits said. "This is a real test of the effectiveness of action which the Department of Justice can take to protect the civil rights of U. S. citizens and will be an important object lesson to all."

COFFEE IS THEIR PROBLEM—The 48 nations represented at a Washington meeting have come to a tentative agreement on how to bring the world's coffee supply into better balance with demand. A formal pact may come in June or July. It probably will seek to control production and exports by producing countries and imports by consuming nations. Effect may ultimately boost coffee prices to the American housewife.

3 Million Pairs Of Shoes A Day Are Sold In U.S.

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—For most of us, except a few barefoot backwoodsman, next month should be one to observe as a pleasant centennial.

It was in August, 1862—a time when the massing of the greatest armed forces the nation had known to that time had in itself created an unprecedented demand for footwear—that a Boston civil engineer and industrialist commercially launched what became known as the McKay sewing machine.

The National Shoe Institute said that for the first time the upper and the sole of a shoe could be sewn together by machine.

Before that time, many shoes had been assembled in homes, where the parts were farmed out by shops. Often the sole was attached to the upper by pegs or by nails and there was a minor supply industry of about 35 mills and shops whose chief function in the early part of last century was turning out shoe pegs.

With the McKay machine, output got to 600 pairs a day in 1862; by the end of 1863, about 200 machines were in use, turning out

2.5 million pairs for the year.

Those figures were amazing then.

Now, the approximately 850 manufacturers in the US shoe industry produce 640 million pairs a year, or about 30 per cent of the world's total output of leather-type footwear. The American public spends about $4.6 billion a year for them, with a choice of 100,000 new shoe styles and patterns.

But shoe manufacturers need to be speedy. The institute says that the public buys on an average well over 3 million pairs a day.

It is estimated that about 93 per cent of all homes in New York City have television sets.

Celanese Plant On Production

BAY CITY (UPI)—A new plant to make acetaldehyde and other acetyl compounds by a new German process has been put in production here by Celanese Chemical Co.

The process was licensed from Farbwerke Hoechst and Wackerchemie of West Germany. It produces acetaldehyde by combining ethylene gas with air in the presence of a catalyst. Celanese has plants at Bishop, Tex., and Pampa, Tex., making acetaldehyde by older processes and, with the new Bay City plant, now has a capacity of 500 million pounds a year of 30 acetyl derivatives.

These are used in paints, dyes, plastics, synthetic rubber, detergents, fuels, cosmetics, lubricants and insecticides.

Lost 37 Pounds With Barcentrate

Here is a letter from Mrs. E. T. Gelson, 824 Patch Road, San Antonio 34, Texas.

"I have lost a total of 37 pounds taking Barcentrate and reduced my waistline 2 inches. I now take Barcentrate as a tonic and wouldn't be without it. Barcentrate has solved my constipation troubles and it keeps me free from indigestion and bloating."

Barcentrate may be obtained from any Texas drug counter. Money back guarantee on very first bottle.

UPI Foreign News Analyst
ROVANIEMI, Finnish Lapland—For 400 miles the Kemi River surries southwestward through this land of reindeer and pine-covered forests to its mouth in the Gulf of Bothnia near the Swedish border.

The logging run is almost over now, but the logs still float down by the thousands.

This is Finland's green gold, providing 79 per cent of its national exports.

The green gold of Finland's forests represents its inherited wealth. The Kemi is the means to transport this wealth to the mills at the river mouth. Now the Kemi itself is producing a new kind of wealth.

Huge cranes, earth moving equipment and men's muscles are building dams and cutting tunnels through miles of solid granite to provide Finnish industry with millions of kilowatts of new electric power.

Power for Industry
When the Kemi program is completed, nine new power stations will be pouring power southward to a growing industrial complex which centers 600 miles away around Helsinki.

This is the land of the midnight sun and the contrasts that come when one season has 24 hours of daylight and another 24 hours of darkness.

Now the work on the dams goes forward in shifts 24 hours a day. In winter, when darkness comes and the freeze goes deep into the ground, the work still goes on but it will be slower.

Today, in Rovaniemi, it is possible to read a newspaper by natural light at midnight.

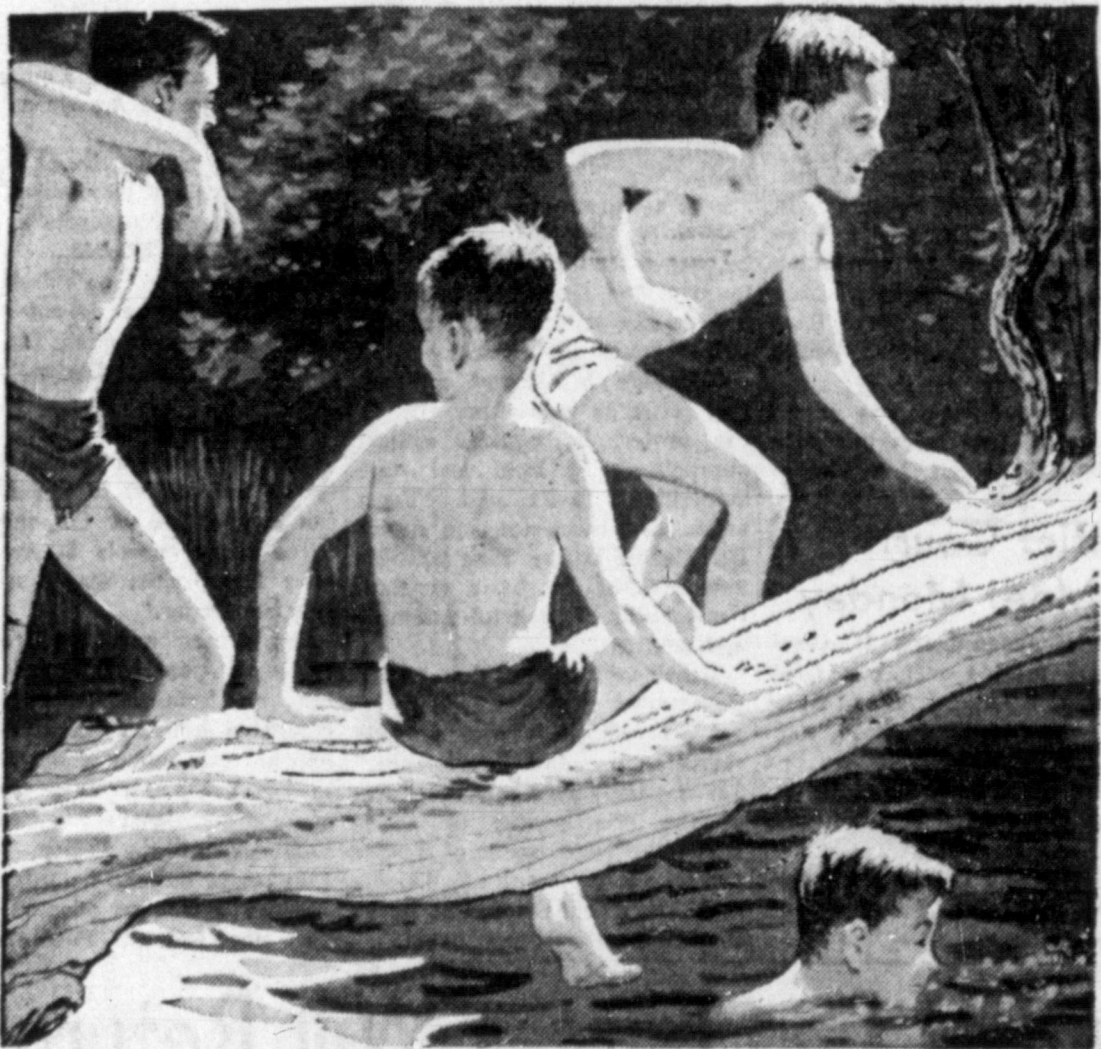

By 1 a.m. the bright sunlight of a new day will come pouring through the windows of the new, modern Polar Hotel.

Wealth from Reindeer
At the Polar a Spanish orchestra plays "Mack the Knife." A Lapland girl may dance the night through in a dress straight from Paris, purchased through the wealth of her father's reindeer herd.

The coming of the dams and Finland's rush toward full use of her water power have brought few other changes in the lives of the Laplanders. A man's wealth still is counted in the number of his reindeer.

The tax collector is an unfriendly person, and to ask a Laplander how many reindeer he owns is a breach of etiquette comparable to asking him about his bank account.

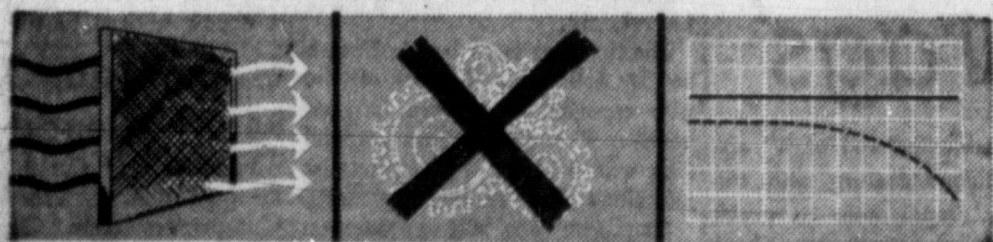

World's largest machine tool plant is located in Cincinnati, Ohio. It is said there are about 3,000 different kinds of lizard.

Air Conditioning experts agree... WATER cooling is BEST!

Youngsters learn mighty early about the cooling effect of water when the weather's hot. And air conditioning engineers know that water cooling is far more efficient than air cooling. The reason is simple... 85° water can absorb more heat from your home than 100° air.

That's why ARKLA-SERVEL Sun Valley's GAS air conditioners are WATER cooled! Water cooling, plus Sun Valley's "no moving parts" principle, gives you two big advantages unavailable with other air conditioners. One, a Sun Valley gives you CONSTANT EFFICIENCY, while air cooled units lose as much as 15% efficiency. Two, Sun Valley operating COSTS REMAIN CONSTANT, while air cooled equipment operating costs rise as much as 23%.

KING-SIZED FILTER
Sun Valley's double filtering capacity STOPS ALL HOUSEHOLD ODORS! It even traps cigar and tobacco, giving your home Spring-like freshness all year long.

NO MOVING PARTS
... in the heating or cooling cycles of the Sun Valley... nothing to wear out or break down! Sun Valley is year-around comfort for the mortgage life of your home!

CONSTANT EFFICIENCY
Sun Valley has no comfort-robbing friction to run up your operating costs. It doesn't cost a penny more to operate the Sun Valley for an hour when it's 115° than it does when the temperature is 90°.

Nuclear-Space Seminar Slated For Amarillo

AMARILLO, Texas — More than 300 of the nation's top scientists and industrialists are expected here August 27 - 28 for the Southwest Nuclear - Space Seminar — the highlight event of this city's Diamond Jubilee.

The seminar features Dr. Edward L. Teller, father of the H-Bomb.

Space age exhibits will be on display at the Tri-State Fairgrounds from August 24 through August 28.

The seminar, which is free to the public, will be held at Municipal Auditorium. Sponsoring organizations are the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, Amarillo College, City of Amarillo, Southern Interstate Nuclear Board, Texas Committee on Atomic Energy, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and West Texas State College.

'Corvettes' Purchased By Mexico

VERACRUZ (UPI) — Twenty U.S. Corvettes purchased by the Mexican Navy will be delivered to this Gulf Coast port fully equipped including armament before the end of the year for Gulf and Pacific Coast patrol duty, a government spokesman said Wednesday.

Purchase of the vessels was made by a committee headed by Vice Admiral Oscar Fritche who visited Texas ports recently. Cost of the vessels, purchased from the U.S. Navy, was not disclosed. Neither was the planned distribution of the 20 on the two coasts.

U.S. fishing vessels, particularly from Texas, are continually chased from Mexican Gulf Coast territorial waters and sometimes detained and fined.

Secretary of the Navy Fred Korh arrived here earlier as part of an official five-day visit which included an interview with president Adolfo Lopez Mateos and Mexican Navy officials.

PARK SITE—Fort Rock, natural rock formation towering 325 feet above the central Oregon plateau, has been authorized for acquisition, and may become a state park.

New Books Available At Pampa's Library

Four mysteries, six adult non-fiction and eight teenage books are included among a recent group of new books placed on the shelves at the Lovett Memorial Library.

"Homicide Trinity" by Rex Stout: a three - course feat of murder, mystification and masterful deduction.

"First Come, First Kill" by Richard and Frances Lockridge: Capt. Heinrich solves a case of murder and misplaced identities.

"The Spy Who Loved Me" by Ian Fleming: a new departure in chronicling and adventures of James Bond.

"The Case of the Blond 'Bonanza'" by Earle Stanley Gardner: Della Street's vacation turns into a busman's holiday.

Non - fiction adult books are: "Red River Valley" by Harry Sinclair Drago: the mainstream frontier history from the Louisiana bayous to the Texas Panhandle.

First Skating Rink

World's first mechanically frozen ice skating rink was the Glaciarium in London, built in 1876. It was a studio - type room, with an ice surface of 40 by 24 feet, frozen by means of a mixture of glycerine and water running through copper pipes and chilled by ether.

Thirty Postal Employees Are Indicted

CHICAGO (UPI)—Thirty postal employees and eight other persons have been indicted for making special deliveries of narcotics in Chicago's main post office, a floor above the Federal Narcotics Bureau.

U.S. Atty. James P. O'Brien said "there may be further indictments."

One of the 38 indicted by a federal grand jury, mail handler Willie J. Folie, 28, was arrested while on jury duty in Chicago's criminal court building.

O'Brien said federal agents bought 616 grams of marijuana, 10 grams of heroin and 500 milligrams of cocaine from the ring. Agents paid $1,359 for the drugs.

Agents had been at work on the case since last November, when a postal supervisor told postal inspectors that employees were trading in marijuana cigarettes.

The 30 postal employees included clerks, mail handlers and carriers. O'Brien said some of the purchases were made at the post office for delivery by carriers to customers along their mail routes.

COULDN'T BE SWAYED

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—"Duke" a member of the police canine corps, must be having some second thoughts today.

Carrying out his assigned task of marijuana sniffing during a narcotics raid at a restaurant Wednesday, Duke came upon 10 pounds of frankfurters in the refrigerator. He impatiently brushed aside the meat and under it he found eight packages of marijuana.

MANKIND'S LONG CLIMB UP POPULATION MOUNTAIN

INHERIT THE EARTH—How many people have ever lived on earth? The answer is only an educated guess, but the Population Reference Bureau estimates 77 billion. They assume the emergence of man about 600,000 years ago. Some anthropologists would place it another million years before that. Of the 77 billion, only 12 billion lived before 6,000 B.C. It has taken hundreds of thousands of years for man's numbers to reach the present three billion. Yet in only 40 more years, if current trends continue, the population will double. Passionate Plea May Help Make Houston Top Polio-Immune City

By KENNETH CARR
United Press International

HOUSTON (UPI) — A dying steelworker's impassioned plea to his wife may be responsible for making metropolitan Houston the nation's number one polio-immunized area Sunday.

Last Sunday 400,000 persons in the Houston area failed to receive the Sabin-type oral polio vaccine during an immunization drive. A large percentage of those failing to take the vaccine were teenagers and adults.

Graydon W. Cooke, Houston's first polio fatality since 1959, died this week. His last words to his wife were:

"For God's sake, tell everybody not to neglect the shots the way I did."

Cooke had neither the Salk nor Sabin vaccine. He had previously told his wife, "adults don't get polio." He was 38 years old.

Last Sunday Houston had the largest single-day turnout for a mass immunization in the United States.

In what doctors called "an overwhelming success," 938,000 persons showed up at 197 Harris county schools to take their two drops of vaccine on a cube of sugar.

So far, Cleveland, Ohio, leads the nation with 93 per cent of its 1,643,972 persons immunized in two Sundays.

Houston health officials have ordered one million more units of the oral vaccine to prevent a recurrence of last week when thousands were turned away because the vaccine gave out at several places.

What remains of this Sunday's vaccine will be used in neighboring areas. Campaigns will be held next Sunday in six nearby counties: Colorado, Fayette, Washington, Burleson, Calhoun and Houston.

Harris County has had 16 cases of polio reported already this year as compared to seven cases all last year.

Ike Visits Copenhagen

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower spent a quiet day sight-seeing in Copenhagen and pleasantly discovered that when the sun shines here autograph-hunters are noticeably absent.

Saturday morning, Eisenhower visited the Tivoli Gardens and he was almost unnoticed as he was driven around the famous Danish amusement park in a mini-train.

Eisenhower took several pictures. He was accompanied by Freeman Gosden, a member of the old "Amos and Andy" radio team.

From Tivoli, they went to the "Bing and Groendahl" chinaware factory. After a brief tour of the plant, the ex-president was presented with a beautiful vase decorated with Hamlet's Elsinore Castle, which the Eisenhower party visited two days ago.

Shortly after noon, Eisenhower and Gosden picked up the retired general's grandchildren at the Hotel D'Angleterre and went for a boat ride.

Eisenhower seemed to be in excellent shape despite the rigorous schedule he has kept and apparently enjoyed Saturday more than any of the previous ones.

Miami Theft Is Probed

MIAMI (Spl) — Roberts County sheriff's officers are continuing their investigation into two burglaries which occurred here Thursday night which netted the thieves $70 in cash.

Cy Carr, sheriff, said Ethel's Cafe, owned by Mrs. Ethel Robertson and Ferg's Cafe, owned by C. W. Ferguson, located on U.S. Highway 60, were broken into and money looted from the cash boxes and several vending machines.

Officers reported that entrance to the building was gained by breaking out the glass in the rear door and reaching through to unlock the door.

Approximately $47 in $5 and $1 change was taken from Ferg's Cafe and $23 taken from Ethel's.

Owners of the buildings told officers nothing else was missing.

Swim Program Completed Here

Red Cross officials have announced the completion of the six weeks' summer swimming classes held at the city swimming pool.

Two hundred and five certificates were given during the sessions.

Terry Culley acted as water safety chairman.

There were 27 swimmer certificates given: 30 intermediate; 33 adult beginners; 68 advanced; 47 beginner; seven senior life-saving; and 13 junior life-saving cards given.

In addition to the swim program, held at the city pool, there have been classes held in the Pampa Youth and Community Center pool with Bobby Bybee and Pete Erwin acting as instructors.

Fifteen swimmers at the Marcus Sanders Pool received beginner certificates.

Swim classes will continue to be held in the Pampa Country Club pool through the month of August, according to program officials.

Culley expressed his thanks to all the instructors and aides who have worked so diligently to make this year a successful one for the Red Cross - sponsored annual swim program.

Kennedys Are Celebrating Jacqueline's 33rd Birthday

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — President Kennedy ignored small craft warnings and manned the tiller of his 22-foot racing sloop in Nantucket Sound Saturday while his beautiful wife, celebrating her 33rd birthday, went water skiing on choppy Lewis Bay.

The President's handling of the tiller and sails of the sloop indicated to observers that his back injury of a year ago was vastly improved.

It was the first time since the summer of 1960 that Kennedy had been observed sailing, a vigorous sport which was exceptionally strenuous in Saturday's 15 to 25 mile an hour southwesterly winds.

Only the most experienced sailors were out on the windy sound, since the red flag for small craft warnings had been flying since early morning.

Kennedy was accompanied on the half-hour sail by his brother Ted, and four others.

The entire Kennedy clan of about 30 persons had gathered at the summer White House to celebrate the first lady's birthday, and attend a dinner party.

Mrs. Kennedy, an avid water skier, was forced to cut her activity because of the wind-swept waves.

She took a spin of about 50 yards, spilled and then climbed into a secret service speedboat to watch other members of the party carry on with the skiing.

There were so many Kennedys on hand, including the President's father, mother, three sisters and two brothers and their families, that the party had to be split in two groups—one aboard the family's 52-foot yacht Marlin and the

Agency Will Buy Eight Oil Tankers

MEXICO CITY (UPI) —The government oil agency "Pemex" plans to purchase eight new tankers for its fleet, the Union of Petroleum Workers said Thursday.

The union gave no details of the projected purchase but said that 40 members would work aboard each vessel. The union in the past has pressed Pemex to purchase tankers to replace those leased

Red Germans Quietly Release Some Prisoners

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist East Germany has been quietly releasing hundreds of short-term prisoners during the last month, authoritative western sources said Saturday.

The sources said the unannounced amnesty had two aims.

To ease conditions in the overcrowded jails and make room for political offenders.

To get workers back into understaffed factories.

In one East Berlin prison, according to information reaching here, cells designed for four men now hold 10 to 12 persons.

There was some speculation here the Communists might make a propaganda play of the amnesty Aug. 13, the first anniversary of their anti-refugee wall.

It was unlikely any serious opponents of the regime would be given their liberty.

Estimates of the number of political prisoners in Communist jails range from 12,000 to 15,000 of whom 6,000 to 9,000 were imprisoned since Aug. 13.

Many of them included skilled workmen jailed when caught telling anti-regime jokes or arguing about the Communist line at compulsory factory meetings.

During the near-panic after the Communists sealed the Berlin "escape hatch," hundreds of disgruntled workers were arrested. Their absence has been reflected in production difficulties, according to Western experts.

The amnesty is being applied in general only to needed industrial workers and to petty criminals serving sentences of less than one year.

The amnesty order was believed to have come from politburo member and economic boss Bruno Leuschner after the April politburo meeting.

Pampa Youth Is Dog Bite Victim

Police officers today were seeking the owner of a reddish blonde male bull dog which attacked a 10-year-old Pampa boy Saturday morning.

Mrs. Geneva Cooper, 904 Scott, told officers her son, Jimmy, was returning home from a grocery market nearby when the dog attacked him and bit him on the left leg, just above the ankle.

Young Cooper was taken to a family physician where he received treatment for the bite.

The dog is being held in the city dog pound for observance.

McSpadden did not specify to what Yarborough campaign Estes allegedly contributed $40,000. Yarborough, a Democrat, ran unsuccessfully three times for governor before successfully running for the Senate.

In any event, McSpadden said Estes mentioned the $40,000 while urging him to get out and meet politicians because it was "good for him."

McSpadden said Maynard Wheeler, president of Commercial Solvents, was present at a meeting in McSpadden's office in 1959—he did not recall the month—when McSpadden told Estes, "I'll throw in the towel."

He said he meant that he would throw in with Estes and from then on buy all his fertilizer from Estes. The first thing Estes did, according to McSpadden, was to get a $50,000 draft from him to pay for fertilizer made by Commercial Solvents.

The Lighter Side On Superstition In Space

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most of the scientific information obtained from astronaut John H. Glenn's space flight has now been correlated and evaluated.

Among other things, the first U.S. orbital mission is credited with shattering the superstition that 13 is an unlucky number.

"At least, that is the interpretation placed on the flight by the Anti-Superstition Society of Chicago.

The society, which makes a practice of defying evil signs and portents, empowered one of its members, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, to hold a special meeting here in Glenn's honor.

Dirksen accordingly reserved the Senate conference room for the hour of 10:13 a.m. Wednesday, decorated the premises with cardboard black cats, and invited 13 fellow senators to join him there.

Dirksen Breaks Mirror
Then, having called the meeting to order by breaking a mirror, he presented Glenn with a watch whose dial markings show the figure 13 rather than the usual numerals.

The ceremony was in recognition of the fact that the space capsule in which Glenn rode around the earth was the 13th to be launched by the United States.

The society seems to feel that because Glenn got safely up and down in the capsule there is no need for the rest of us to worry about the number 13 bringing us bad luck. But is that a valid assumption?

The way I see it, all that Glenn proved was that 13 apparently is no malignant powers in upper, or outer, space.

Offers Explanations
It may be that the radiation belt encircling the earth neutralizes the number's malevolent signals. Or it may be that a jinx can't operate in a state of weightlessness.

Whatever the explanation, I believe it would be folly to assume that 13's quiescent behavior in orbit means that it bodes no malice on the ground.

And here's another thing that should jar the Anti-Superstition Society's composure: Glenn, in accepting the watch from Dirksen, commented that 13 was his lucky number.

In my view, it is just as superstitious to feel that 13 will bring you good luck as it is to feel that it will bring you bad luck. It would therefore appear that the society may have been premature in concluding that 13 was not a factor in the flight.

Future astronauts undoubtedly will provide more data on the question of superstition in space. Until then, better keep your fingers crossed.

Sugar Overtaking Cotton Exports, Mexico Reports

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Sugar is overtaking cotton as Mexico's number one export, the afternoon newspaper "Ultimas Noticias" said in a front page story Wednesday.

But it gave few figures and no sources for the story.

The paper said cotton exports during the first five months of 1961 were valued at $32 million (U.S.), compared with sugar exports for $44 million during the same period. Coffee exports for the five months were valued at almost $31 million.

Cotton exports have dropped in recent years because of saturated markets and falling prices.

HOW LONG CAN A MEDICINE LAST?

Each one has its own problem. Some must be taken soon after compounding for they lose potency daily. Certain drugs deteriorate quickly when exposed to light. — others to heat. Some medicines absorb moisture from the air. — others can give up less stable ingredients and decompose.

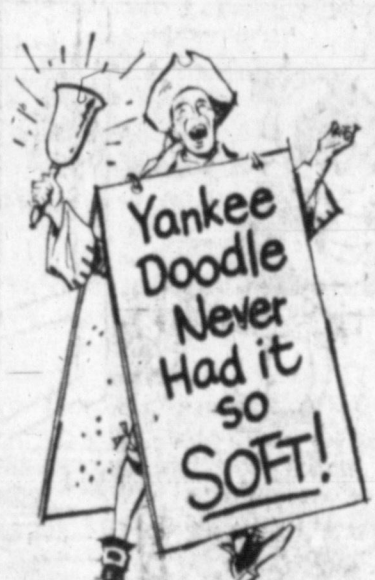

Pharmacists have been taught how to protect the potency of all drugs. That is why a pharmacist must attend college for many years to gain this knowledge. When you get your medicines from your pharmacy, potency is positive.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

8 SUNDAY, JULY 29, 1962 55TH YEAR

Yanks Win, 4-3 On Home Runs

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The Minnesota Twins scored three runs in the ninth inning, two on a single by Rich Rollins, to defeat the Cleveland Indians, 5-2, Saturday behind Jim Kaat's five-hit pitching.

Rollins' single drove in a pair of insurance runs after the Twins moved ahead, 3-2, on a sacrifice fly by Lenny Green that scored Bernie Allen from third base.

The victim of the rally was Gary Bell, third Cleveland pitcher. He suffered his eighth loss against seven victories. Kaat now has a record of 10-9.

DETROIT (UPI)—Norm Cash walloped his 29th homer, a 430-foot drive on the right field roof with two mates aboard, in the sixth inning Saturday as the Detroit Tigers whipped the Los Angeles Angels, 6-1, for the second game in a row.

Tom Burgess of the Angels got the only other extra bases hit—a two-out double in the ninth inning—in a game in which each team collected six hits.

The blow by Cash, who is batting only .237, but leads the league in home runs, capped a four run Tiger spurge in the sixth off reliever Dan Osinski. Until a homer Friday night, the Angels had been the only club in the circuit to hold Cash without a homer.

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Jerry Lynch and Gordy Coleman each batted in three runs Saturday to give the Cincinnati Reds and Jim O'Toole a 9-3 victory that ended the Milwaukee Braves' longest winning streak of the season at seven games.

O'Toole, who pitched a one-hitter in his previous start, gave up a home run to Eddie Mathews in the first inning, and then settled down and shut out the Braves until the seventh, when he tired and yielded two more runs.

Joe Nuxhall relieved him and held the Braves scoreless during the last two innings.

Two Are Tied In Scotch Foursome

ODESSA, Tex. (UPI)—Boyd Huff of Midland and Billard Crenshaw of Fort Worth, fired a four-under-par 68 Saturday to lead first round play in the Scotch Foursome competition of the $15,000 Odessa Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

The two-day Scotch meet was limited to teams which did not make the 36-hole cutoff in the pro-am.

Huff and Crenshaw started off successfully. Huff eagled the par-four first hole with a 155-yard-7-iron shot. They tied the 9-hole turn in five-under-par 31 and played the back side in one-over-par 37.

For the round, hitting alternate shots, they carded one eagle, four birdies and two bogies.

The 68 gave them a two-stroke lead over Will Larseingue, an Arlington pro, and Shirley Picard of Lafayette, La., who fired a second-place 70.

Three teams share third at one-under-par 71. They were pro Bo Winger and Bobby Maxwell, both of Odessa; pro Chris Gers, Ardmore, Okla., and Loy Masters, Davis, Okla., and pro Loddie Kempa, Macon, Ga., and Charlie Harrison.

Belkin, Harris In Singles Net Win

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (UPI)—A couple of Florida youths, Mike Belkin of Miami Beach and Bill Harris of West Palm Beach, romped to easy victories Saturday in the finals of the Western Junior and Boys singles tennis championships.

Belkin won the junior division singles with a 6-3, 6-2, 6-1, victory over Jackie Cooper of Louisville, and Harris, the No. 1 ranked boys player in the nation last year, downed Garth O'Malley of Alameda, Calif., 6-2, 6-1.

Blanchard, worried over one of his worst slumps, hit the fifth pinch homer of his career Saturday with two on to power the New York Yankees to a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox before a crowd of 52,038.

Blanchard's homer climaxed a four-run seventh-inning rally off knuckleballer Eddie Fisher, who blanked the Yankees on two singles over the first six innings.

The home run by Blanchard hit deep into the lower right field seats, was his 11th of the season but only his second successful pinch hit this season. Oddly, his only other pinch hit came off Fisher on April 25 when his single also drove in the winning run against the White Sox.

Even with Saturday's homer, Blanchard has a pinch-hitting average of only .143 and an overall mark of .226 for the season.

With the Yankees trailing, 3-0, Mickey Mantle led off the seventh with his 21st homer into the upper right field deck, Hector Lopez singled with one out and, after Clete Boyer's single moved Lopez to third with two out, Blanchard supplied the clincher.

Liston's Trainer Is High On Challenger

SOUTH FALLSBURG, N. Y. (UPI)—They say that no man is a hero to his own valet. That may be true, but Sonny Liston certainly is a fistie hero to trainer Willie Reddish.

Big Willie of Philadelphia, once a ranking heavyweight contender himself, said Wednesday: "I never saw a man like Sonny. Maybe they never made one like him before. He'll win that title from Floyd Patterson in September and hold it for 10 years or longer."

Nearly bald Reddish, now 48 and weighing a portly 244, fought and beat such explosive punchers as Roscoe Toles, Jack Trammell and "Hatchet Man" Curtis Sheppard; but he assured, "I never saw anybody who could compare with Sonny."

Well-spoken Willie said he has trained challenger Liston since 1959 and prepared him for "about a dozen fights," and the longer he grooms Sonny the more he admires him for his physical prowess.

Can Estimate Power
"Any trainer can measure a fighter's punching power," said Willie, "almost like with a yardstick. You feel his power when you hold the heavy bag for him to hit."

When Willie stands behind the big 80-pound leather bag and holds it firm for Sonny's punching, "he jars me so much he really moves my feet along the floor, and there's nobody else in the world can do that."

Half-sitting on a stool at the little soft-drink-and-coffee bar in Liston's swanky quarters at the golf club of the Pines Hotel, Willie admitted that he and Sonny sometimes have arguments about "punches and movements and strategies."

But he emphasized, "I like that because Sonny's got a good head on his shoulders. If I can prove I'm right, he accepts my view and goes to work on it. And if he can prove he's right, then I go along with him. We're good for each other that way, and we're both workin' toward the same thing—the title."

Smith Cops Net Tourney

HAVERFORD, Pa. (UPI)—Margaret Smith of Melbourne Saturday became the first Australian to win the Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis championship by defeating Wimbledon title holder Karen Hantze Susman, San Antonio, Tex., 6-4, 10-8.

Miss Smith, seeded second to Mrs. Susman, battled the strong Californian in a brilliant hour and 15-minute match before more than 2,500 persons at Merion Cricket Club.

Miss Smith, holder of the national titles of Australia, France, Italy and Switzerland, won the match with a clean service ace on the final point, although she had not always been true with her service during the contest. She committed 10 double faults.

Mrs. Susman made a strong start in the second set after trailing, 2-5. She played sharp attacking tennis to take the lead 6-5, 40-30, one point from taking the set. But in the next exchange she was passed by Miss Smith's running backhand volley and never again held set point.

Cabot Wins Over Lions Club Nine

Cabot Smutt Hounds shut out the Skellytown Lions club Friday night, 1-0 in a softball game played in Skellytown.

Delbert Daniels was the winning pitcher, giving up two hits.

Don Golliger poled a home run to account for the only run in the game. It was the third victory for Cabot.

Anyone wishing to play with the Pampa team are asked to call Joe Slater, manager, at MO 5-5255.

Texans Working On Pass Attack

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Texans ended their second full week of work Saturday by concentrating on their passing game.

Coach Hank Stram praised quarterbacks Eddie Wilson, Len Dawson and Cotton Davidson; receivers Fred Arbanas, Chris Burford and Abner Haynes also drew praise for their work.

Pitchers To Blame For Long Drawn Out Contests

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Who's to blame for all these long drawn out ball games?

The pitchers, beyond any question of a doubt.

So say the umpires, who tend to agree that three-hour ball games are rapidly causing fans to leave the ball park long before the final putout.

"There is no question that the pitchers are primarily responsible for the games that drag and drag until all hours," said veteran American League umpire Joe Paparella.

"Next time you go out to the ball game, make it a point to watch the pitchers out there on the mound. They dig around in the dirt, scratch themselves and seem to take forever trying to make the perfect pitch."

Hank Soar, another AL umpire, agreed completely with Paparella. "The pitchers are more to blame than anyone else," Soar said.

"In the old days, a pitcher would have a fast ball, a curve and a change, and that was it. Today they have a dozen different pitches, they can't get anyone of them over the plate and they go to 3-and-2 most every time."

Hutchinson Was Fast
Paparella and Soar, along with all the other umpires, yearn for those days when Cincinnati manager Fred Hutchinson was pitching for the Detroit Tigers.

"Hutch, was the fastest worker I ever saw," Paparella recalled. "He couldn't get the ball from the catcher fast enough to throw it again. Sometimes I think he'd throw the ball without even getting a signal from his catcher."

Of the current crew, the umpires claim the fastest are Don Rudolph, Claude Osteen and Dave Stenhouse of the Senators, Whitey

Ford of the Yankees, Dick Hall of the Orioles and Ted Bowsfield of the Angels.

The slowest workers are Ryne Duren of the Angels, Camilo Pascual of the Twins and Bob Turley of the Yankees.

Changes Take Time
Pitching changes take a lot of time, until the manager goes out to talk with the pitcher, take the ball from him and summon in his replacement. Then the reliever has to walk in from the bullpen, takes his warm-up pitches, fix the mound a bit, check the signs with his catcher and maybe even wind his wrist watch.

There is a rule that says a pitcher must deliver the ball within 20 seconds when the bases are empty.

"But a pitcher can take all the time in the world when someone's on base, and most of them do," Paparella said.

There must be some solution but the umpires insist it's going to be hard to find as long as the pitchers keep fooling around with palm balls, forkballs, knuckle-curves, slip pitches, screwballs and what not.

Paterson Sets Channel Record

DOVER, England (UPI)—Englishman Simon Paterson, 20, swam the channel underwater Saturday and shattered the American-held time record by more than five hours.

Paterson plunged into the icy channel at dawn at Cap Griz Nez, France, and surfaced 13 hours 50 minutes later at Shaker's Beach west of here to become the second man to swim the 26-mile straight line distance underwater.

American frog man Fred Baldasare, 38, of Cocoa Beach, Fla., was the first to go the route underwater July 11 in a crossing of 19 hours, 1 1/2 minutes. Due to currents he covered about 40 miles.

Simon said after the swim "I feel perfectly fit and very happy."

He is the 119th person to swim the channel since the first recorded success Aug. 27, 1875. More than 800 have tried it.

Simon experienced smoother weather than Baldasare who got seasick. The Englishman had air pumped into his facemask from a compressor in an accompanying boat, Baldasare's supply was strapped to his back in cylinders which were replaced every half hour by diving teams.

Orioles Smash Athletics, 3-0

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Steve Barber's shutout pitching and homers by Boog Powell and Jerry Adair gave Baltimore a 3-0 victory over the Kansas City Athletics in the first game of a two-night doubleheader Saturday and moved the Orioles into fourth place.

Relief specialist Dick Hall made his first start of the season in the second game for Baltimore against Kansas City's Jerry Walker.

Baltimore scored all its runs in the second inning when, with two out, Powell lined his 11th home run into the right field seats. Norm Siebern then fumbled Charlie Lau's grounder for an error and Adair followed with his fourth home run into the left field stands.

Ed Rakow, who lost his 12th game against seven victories, gave up both blows but went the route and allowed only four other hits.

RAINED OUT

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Houston Colts-Chicago Cubs baseball game was postponed Saturday because of rain. It will be replayed Sunday as part of a doubleheader.

Woods Pitches Six-Hit Victory

Roy Dale Woods pitched a six-hitter Friday night to lead Carson County over Hereford, 4-2 to win the District little league title at the Optimist Park.

Jerry Kendrick was the losing pitcher.

Bill Bartley and Larry Morrison hammered out home runs for the Carson County nine to lead the winners with the timber. Bartley also had a single to aid in the attack.

Carson County had six hits in carding the win.

Texas To Have Another Park

United Press International

Already blessed with many fine state parks and recreational areas, Texans can look forward to still another, providing the legislature approves the offer of the C. W. Wheatleys of San Antonio.

The Wheatleys have offered their 4,778-acre Circle Bar Ranch in Blanco County to the state if the legislature will approve $250,000 worth of improvements.

Originally, the offer carried a $500,000 stipulation, and the State Parks Board had to turn it down. Cutting the sum in half seems to have alleviated much of the pressure on the board.

Circle Bar will change names to Wheatley State Park if the deal goes through and Texas outdoors enthusiasts will be treated to a gem in the hill country.

Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, calls the area along the Pedernales River a fisherman's dream. Large catfish, black bass and perch abound in the main stream and bays of the Pedernales.

Located 36 miles from Austin and 66 miles from San Antonio, the ranch is in a 325-mile radius of all large Texas population centers except El Paso and Amarillo.

Jay Vessel, a board man who beats a loud drum for the project, says the river area "is the scenic counterpart of craggy Garner State Park, one of the state's most popular parks near Uvalde.

About the proposed gift, Wheatley said "all we want is to know we are doing something for posterity... Texas has been good to us."

"There would be no object in selling," Wheatley said, "if we did, we would lose all we have built up for conservation here in the last 26 years."

Steers Are Grid Pick This Fall

AUSTIN (UPI)—Despite the loss of three starting backs including all-America James Saxton, the Texas Longhorns look strong again in 1962, the new Texas football brochure indicates.

Replacing Saxton, quarterback Mike Cotten and halfback Jack Collins might floor most coaches, but Darrell Royal has some outstanding talent to test come September.

Quarterbacks Johnny Gening, a senior from Wichita Falls, and junior Duke Carlisle have both been impressive. They will direct an imposing group of backs led by Ray Poage, Jerry Cook, Tommy Ford and Ernie Koy Jr.

Poage, the wide-strides running fullback who starred in Texas' Cotton Bowl win over Mississippi, is the Longhorns' most likely all-America candidate.

Pat Culeper and Johnny Treadwell head a Texas line-backing crew, that could be the best since Royal established hard-nosed defensive units in 1957.

Texas has strong, experienced ends in Tommy Lucas and Sandy Sands, good interior linemen in tackles Scott, Appleton and Ken Ferguson, guards Treadwell and Marvin Kubin and center Perry McWilliams.

Koy, Joe Dixon and Jim Hudson are backs tabbed to help as sophomores. Ends Knox Nunnally and Pete Lammons are the top soph linemen.

Royal said his defense "will be slightly down from last year," but "I've never had a better pair of linebackers than Pat (Culeper) and Johnny (Treadwell)."

Texas will likely stick with its "flip-flop" offense this year which runs the wing-T formation from an unbalanced line.

Carlisle may develop into the best all-round quarterback the Steers have had since James "T" Jones on the 1952 team. In the final spring training game, Carlisle threw long passes well and made long run backs of a punt and a kickoff.

Koy, the sensation from Bellville, is expected to give Texas its best punting game since Walt Fondren in 1957.

Finneran Sets Medley Mark

OSAKA, Japan (UPI)—Sharon Finneran, a smooth-stroking 16-year-old from the Los Angeles Swim Club, smashed a world record Saturday and led a group of American teen-agers who took nine of 13 finals in the Japanese swimming championships.

The comely Miss Finneran bettered the existing world record for the women's 400-meter medley race with a time of 5:21.9 that eclipsed the 5:34.5 world mark set last year by 15-year-old Donna Devarona, of Santa Clara High School, California.

Miss Devarona placed second to Miss Finneran Saturday, her clocking of 5:24.1 also bettering her previous world record.

In still another American triumph, Roy Saari, 17, of El Segundo High School, California, practically broke the hearts of 6,000 spectators who lined the Ojimaichi 50-meter outdoor pool when he defeated Tsuyoshi Yamanaka, the 25-year-old pride of Japanese swimming. Saari won by 35 yards in the men's 1,500 meters freestyle event.

Kroll, Sifford Sharing Lead

LAVAL-SUR-LE-LAC, Que. (UPI)—Ted Kroll, winless since 1956, and five-time U.S. Negro Champion Charlie Sifford shared the third-round lead in the Canadian Open Golf Championship Saturday with eight-under-par 54-hole totals of 208.

Kroll, the balding Purple Heart veteran, fired a three-under 69 and Sifford, the halfway leader, had a 70 over the 6,555-yard par 36-36-72 Laval-Sur-Le-Lac course.

The two 54-hole leaders held a strong four-shot lead over little Bobby Brue who had a 69 Saturday to go with earlier rounds of 69 and 74. Five shots back of the co-leaders were U.S. Open Champion Jack Nicklaus and Al Geiberger who both carded 68 Saturday and George Knudson, of Toronto, 67-73-73. At 214 were former Canadian champion Doug Ford, Gene Littler, Bob Shave, Jr., Bob Rosburg and Wilf Home-nik of Winnipeg. Still in contention at 215, one under par, were Art Wall, Jr., the 1960 Canadian champ; Al Balding of Toronto, Bill Johnston; Bruce Crampton of Australia and Don Fairfield.

Kroll, 42-year-old pro-out-of-Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was off to a great start with a three-under 33 on the front nine, birdieing the fourth, fifth and seventh holes.

Spahn, Wynn Aiming Higher

NEW YORK (UPI) — The majority of your successful athletes have a certain respect for the record books, but for downright appreciation of what they accomplish you have to put Warren Spahn and Early Wynn almost in a class by themselves.

Most of them shrug off the little black type which will record for posterity what they have been able to do. The general attitude is that this, plus 15 cents, will get you a ride on the subway.

But the seemingly ageless Spahn and the husky Wynn, bothered as he is by various ailments, still are putting out with the record book primarily in the record book primarily in mind.

There was a pitcher a few seasons back who was asked how he felt when he won his 20th game, one of the higher criterions for gentlemen of the mound. His disdainful observation was that on the previous day he had already won 19 and nobody broke down the doors.

Records Meaningful
"What difference does one more make?" he demanded.

To Spahn, the hawk-faced wonder of the Milwaukee Braves, and the grim, determined Wynn, who is prying out those victories with great effort, it makes a tremendous difference. Each one improves the footnotes which will follow their names long after they have left the baseball scene — and this is, why both of them are pitching with such dedication.

Each of them has a target to which he is devoted this year. Spahn, beating the Mets Thursday night, ran his victory total to 319 and now needs only seven to become the winningest left hander in baseball history.

Dumas Wins, 11-0 Over Canadian

CANADIAN (Spl) — Canadian's Little League All-Stars were clobbered 11 to 0 in the first round of the Little League tournament play at Spearman last Thursday night.

Victors in the contest were the Dumas Little Leaguers, who advanced to the second round of the tournament.

Terry Robinette, who pitched four and one-third innings for the Canadian team, gave up only eight base hits, striking out four and issuing five walks (two of them intentional) . . . but the Dumas sluggers made every hit count. Three of them were home runs, one good for three runs, one for two.

Dumas pitcher Glenn Bonner handcuffed the Canadian hitters striking out fifteen while giving up only two base hits and issuing three bases on balls.

The Canadian team threatened twice, once in the third when Jerry Hornberger singled with one aboard, and again in the fourth when Joel Whitefield led off with a single and Gary Filler walked . . . but each time Bonner tightened his grip and struck out the side.

Dumas scored two runs in the first inning on a homer by Ronie McInturff; got an unearned run in the second when Mike Magle walked and came home on a wild pitch; scored another in the third when McInturff walked and was brought home by Jimmy Thomas' single; and added two runs in the fourth on a single, an error, and a sacrifice.

The big Dumas inning was the fifth when Herb McInturff led off with a single, Squires walked, and pitcher Glenn Bonner cleared the bases with a home run. Another walk was followed by a home run by Glenn Gaddis. At this point, with one out, Robinette was believed on the mound by Gary Filler who retired the next two batters to end the inning. Canadian batters Robinette, Pennell and Ortega were struck out in order in the Canadian half the sixth to end the ball game.

ETTIS SHINES
MARQUETTE, Mich. (UPI) — Rookie end Norman Pettis and veteran defensive end Bob Lilly continued to shine for the Dallas Cowboys in practice scrimmage sessions. Wednesday's practice drills were partially washed out by rain.

Wynn lacks only three games of winning his 300th decision, and thereby becoming the 14th man to accomplish this feat.

Won 10th Game
There was a fleeting thought in some quarters this season that possibly time was finally catching up to the 41-year-old Spahn. But he scored his 10th victory Thursday night against 11 losses and apparently is set to start his usual late season drive.

It means much to him if he can chalk up a record 13th season — a 20-game winner from the southpaw side. The record already is his. But extending it — and getting those seven more he needs to shade Eddie Plank — are goals which probably will carry him through.

Wynn, the oldest active player in the majors, is in the same situation. His pride and his driving desire for those 300 victories make him toil at an age and in a condition where others might have called it a career.

Wynn is Struggling
The fact that he needs only three more to reach 300, and become the first American Leaguer to perform this feat since Lefty Grove in 1931, sounds easy. But his record of five wins against seven losses this season indicates the bitterness of his struggle.

It isn't a vain glorious effort. In each of them, vanity is strangely lacking. The answer is that they view their deeds almost abstractly, as if the footnotes were being written for a pair of strangers. They want it in the book for all to see but it transcends money and personal glory.

It is, to each of them, something that simply has to be done.

Frogs Spell Upsets In Grid Action

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas Christian should get a five-year upset award for its skullcrugging to favorites, figures released by the Southwest Conference indicated Saturday.

The Frogs have ruined four perfect seasons in five years, two each for Ohio State and Texas.

In 1957 the Frogs nipped the Buckeyes, 18-14 and last season they battled the Bucks to a 7-7 tie. Both years those were the only blemishes on otherwise perfect seasons for the Big Ten powerhouse.

In 1959 the frogs upended Texas, 14-9, and last year applied the 6-0 crusher to the Steers when they were riding in the Number One spot in the nation. Texas was 8-0 going into both games. Hitting the road must have something to do with it — both the Ohio State games were at Columbus, Ohio, and both conquests of Texas were in Austin.

Borger Downs Pampa, 8-3 In Pony Loop

Borger Pony league all-stars downed the Pampa all-stars, 8-3 Friday to finish the little league season for the local team.

Bud Hammons was the losing pitcher, with Roy Harper hurling five innings of good relief ball.

Larry Daniels lead Pampa with the timber with three for four, including a home run, double and single.

Daniels, Hammons and Harper all made the all-tournament team from Pampa.

Pro Golfers Earning More Cash Each Day

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (UPI) — Professional golf on a tournament basis is getting too big for the physical well-being of its star players, PGA Secretary Wally Mund analyzed today, and the "out" is fewer "official" tournaments for larger purses.

The pros this year are playing for purses totaling more than $2 million. Mund sees the time approaching when they will be playing for anywhere from three to five million in the course of a year.

"The answer will be in limiting our official tournaments to approximately 30," says the big man from Midland Hills Country Club, Minneapolis, "and I can visualize the day when each of them will offer a $100,000 purse."

Right now the touring pros have available more than 40 official tournaments, plus an assortment of "unofficial" events. The "official" events are so designated to make certain that most of the "name" players put in an appearance. Thus, in the official events there are added lures such as Ryder Cup and Vardon Trophy points awarded.

Players Wear Out
"But it stands to reason," Mund explains, "that you can't get Arnold Palmer and Gary Player and all the big names for each and every tournament. They simply wear out and need a vacation. They have their families to see and they have other valuable interests to attend."

Joe Campbell, the blond husky from Indiana, backed this up unequivocally. Campbell, looking strong enough to walk through a brick wall, said at the end of the PGA championship Sunday that he was "burned out from too many tournaments and needs a vacation."

All of the pros start to show this strain along about mid-summer if they have made the whole winter tour grind and swung into the summer schedule without let-up. Palmer is one and blamed his poor showing in the PGA on having added to his physical strain by going abroad to the British Open.

"It's too much," he said. "Next year I'm cutting down on my number of tournament appearances. That will give me time to get in more practice for the big ones that I want to win."

Lauds Bleacher Innovation
One of the brightest facts of the PGA tournament, Mund held, was the first use of bleacher sections throughout the course. At Aronimink, there were bleachers at 17 of the 18 holes.

"They worked out wonderfully," said Mund, "particularly for the elderly people. They could sit in the bleachers and watch the players go through the ninth hole. Then they simply walked over to the 18th hole and watched comfortably from the bleachers without getting trampled by the walking mob."

Mund's number one suggestion in the bleacher department is a green canvas wall, roughly waist high, separating the bleachers from the players.
"This would provide a perfect backdrop and the players wouldn't be bothered by people's legs moving in the line of their putt," he said. "But the day will come when the greens will be bleached at every green."

Layne Joins Camp

WEST LIBERTY, W. Va. (UPI) — Quarterback Bobby Layne was expected to join the Pittsburgh Steelers in training camp today. Layne was delayed one day because of a Colorado trip to bring home a son from camp. Coach Buddy Parker agreed to the extra day for the former Texas star.

Future Tech Stars Are In 'Star' Tilt

LUBBOCK (Spl) — Both All-Star games at the Texas High School Coaching School games here Aug. 10 and 11 could serve as "sneak previews" for this area's sports fans.

Lubbock High School's new head coach, Carl Spoonmore, for instance, is coaching the North All-Stars. And there are a number of Texas Tech's incoming athletes among the basketballers and footballers.

Playing for the North All-Star basketball team in the Coliseum Aug. 10 will be a trio of future Red Raiders — John (Dub) Malaise of Odessa, Russ Wilkinson of Lubbock Monterey, and Bob Measels of Seminole.

Among the North All-Star footballers declaring their intent to enroll at Texas Tech this fall are back Jan Crews of Anton; Tommy Ledbetter of Dalhart; Jerry Agan of Farwell; Johnny Yagan of Albany; Mike Sutherland of Yselta; tackle David Graves of Plano, and end Pat Campbell of Leveland.

Advance ticket sales are being handled at the Texas Tech Athletic Office.

Hot Battle Rages For Second-Place

CANADIAN (SPL) — With tournament play behind them, Canadian Little Leaguers swung back into action at Rotary Park this week with ten games still to play in the 1962 season.

The Yankees, beaten only once this season, are far in front and have the championship clinched . . . but a hot fight is still in prospect among the other three teams for second place.

The Dodgers were still in second place at mid-week, but after losing Tuesday night's game to the Yankees, their margin was cut to a single game over the third-place Cardinals . . . and the Cardinals, in turn, are only a game in front of the Red Sox, thanks to Monday night's victory which the Cardinals won over the Sox, 9 to 5.

The Red Sox play the Dodgers Thursday and the Cardinals meet the Yankees Friday night. Monday night it will be the Dodgers versus the Cardinals, and Tuesday night Red Sox versus the Yankees.

Each team has four games still to play.

In Monday night's game, the Cardinals won a hard-fought victory over the Red Sox to break up a third place tie. Buddy Wood was the winning pitcher, going five and one-third innings for the Cardinals, striking out nine and giving up ten walks, but only one base hit.

Gary Filler came on in relief in the fifth inning after Wood had walked three to load the bases and retired the side, striking out two. He then struck out three Red Sox batters in the sixth after walking one to end the game.

The Cardinals got six runs off Richard Pennell, the losing hurler, in the second and third innings, two of them on a homer by Gary Keim, to go ahead 6 to 2; they picked up three more in the fourth on a home run by Gary Filler off Richard Berry. Red Sox relief pitcher, Berry gave up only two hits, and shut out the Cards for the remainder of the game.

The Red Sox were helpless at the plate, however, collecting one run in the second inning, one in the third and three in the fourth with only one base hit for the en-

"thank you, Dr. Salk..."

I catch myself thinking something like that whenever I watch the children headed for the sun and fun. I'm so thankful to be free of the haunting fear of polio that used to return each summer.

This summer, I'm putting my gratitude into more than words.

I'm giving... in the name of each of my children who will never know the pain of polio... to the Salk Institute for Biological Studies.

For there are still many threats to my family's health... from the common cold to cancer... killers and cripplers that strike indiscriminately. Scientists all over the world are searching for ways to control them.

It makes sense to me that much more can be accomplished, much faster, with their brilliant minds working together. That's exactly what will happen at the Salk Institute when it opens next year in San Diego, Calif.

We won the battle against polio because the American people cared enough to form a partnership with science. Now think what we can accomplish as our dollars help build the Salk Institute!

For this man who has done so much for us, and will do so much more, each contribution says — "THANK YOU, DR. SALK!"

LET'S FACE IT... the most important event in Pampa this week was DDD... no, no, my dear, it's not something you spray, it's something you dial... and after a couple experiences with DDD-ing, we have come to the conclusion that we may become a legless race because of automobiles and lack of exercise... but our fingers will be strong... it's really a very simple procedure for all of its complex electronic sequences... you take your index finger and insert it in the Number One slot of the phone dial and pull it down to the right as far as it will go... then release it... this indicates to the electronic powers-that-be that you are going for a long distance call all by your lonesome... now, with the same finger you dial three more digits which indicate the town you are calling... again pull each slot down as far as it will go and release... now you are ready to dial a two-number prefix... and finally, at last, a five-digit number... the only thing the instructions left out was to be sure and have a small glass of warm soda water right beside the phone in which to let your throbbing finger soak comfortably while you concentrate on the message to your friend.

QUAKING THOUGHT: What if you dialed, say, Hyannis Port, Mass... the party answers and you say "May I speak to Caroline"... "what number are you calling"... "1-617-12345"... "sorry, but this is 1-617-12344"... a wrong number by just one slip of the trusty old index finger... frankly, we'll miss the long distance operators handling our calls so efficiently and pleasantly... though, heaven knows, they still have plenty to do... dialing for the blind and infirm and to cities who haven't advanced to DDD... now and then think we'll have an LD operator handle a call for us... just to remember the "good old days"... before we hang up the receiver on this topic... don't forget to transfer important telephone numbers to the spic and span new books, which arrived this week... wonder how our phone book gets so dirty and dog-eared in just one short year... we're usually ashamed of it in just a few weeks.

TWO HAPPY PEOPLE and a son... that best describes Louise and Ernest Fletcher, who, this week, welcomed a son into their home... they're on Cloud Twelve... no, not Nine... that's just ordinary happiness... they've named him Mark Lynn and he's a husky, dark-haired, blue-eyed infant... all of 11-days old... sometime when you have an afternoon or morning to "kill" go by Louise's desk at the News office and she'll glowingly tell you "a few" things about Mark... better go soon for as soon as she thinks of taking pictures of him, it may take just a little longer... happy for all three of them... Mark got himself a pretty nice pair of parents.

KNOW HOW Stormy Jordan interprets the weatherman's forecast for scattered showers???... Stormy says that's when it's raining on everyone's garden but yours.

AULD LANG SYNE... parties, parties, parties to tell a nice person "auf wiedersehen"... but not good-bye... with the date coming nearer and too nearer for Audrey Robison to join her husband Charlie, in Enid, Okla., where they will be making their home, has been a signal for a series of parties to tell her "to come back again soon"... Jewel Walker and Hesta Hestand entertained with a Coffee yesterday morning in Hesta's home honoring Audrey... and you could almost smell the aroma of freshly-brewed coffee, when the invitation from Ruth Osborne, Margaret Holt and Jane Reynolds arrived extending an invitation "to join us for a cup o' coffee" honoring Audrey next Wednesday morning in Ruth's home south of the city... the cheery invitations were imprinted with an old-fashioned coffee-grinder... it isn't easy to say goodbye to good friends... and we never do... but the parties help just a little... when Charlie has been home for weekends, friends of the couple have entertained for them... Hardy and Betty Pitts had a dinner party for them in their home on Beech last Friday... then the next night Jane and Wiley Reynolds had a group out to their ranch west of the city for another dinner party... roots go pretty deep in 14 years... especially when you do so many worthwhile things for the community such as Audrey and Charlie have done... Audrey and her mother, Rosie Poston, are planning to leave around the 5th... and we know some teenagers are going to miss Rosie's delicious hot lunches, which she always had ready for them, when the school menu began to poll... the twins, Judy and Johnny, plan to stay until after the rodeo... Judy is accepting some of the invitations she has to stay with friends... and Johnny has been an old ranchhand all summer on the Riley Ranch.

Blessed are they who have the gift of making friends for it is one of God's best gifts. —Thomas Hughes

DON'T YOU KNOW that our Girl Scouts are having a Ball at Button Bay?... Sally Paden called home the other night to give her parents, the L. B. Padens a first-hand account of how she and the seven other Girl Scouts, Natalie Skelly, Kelley Caulfield, Elizabeth Graham, Synda Taylor, Chris Grayson, Beverly Heaton and Sharon Williamson are faring with the other 8,500 Girl Scouts and 1700 adults, who are attending Girl Scout Senior Roundup at Button Bay State Park... the roundup has become a city of 6,000 tents bordering the shores of Lake Champlain... the girls should be home some time after July 31, when the assemblage disbands... know that Marion Osborne was thrilled with the one dozen red roses, which the scouts gifted her with, at the railway station the evening they left... it was their way of saying "thank you" for all Marion had done to help get them ready for the important junket.

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT: John McCausland, chairman of Pampa Little Theater's ticket sales for the August 9-10 play, "George Washington Slept Here" (yes, Virginia, that's what all those signs mean that are plastered all over town) requests that those theater patrons, who are purchasing tickets by check, please make the checks payable to Pampa Little Theater... not George Washington.

READ AN INTERESTING comment by a female columnist which pointed out that according to an anthropologist "gossiping about your friends and neighbors will go a long way toward warding off stomach ulcers, high blood pressure and neuroses... it seems that when you get catty you are unconsciously promoting your own emotional stability by releasing discontent... but don't get upset if your friends and neighbors gossip about you, for they don't want to get ulcers either... one further tip seems in order, if you ever want a friend to confide in, perhaps you'd better look for one with ulcers because she got that way because she isn't the kind of person who promotes her own emotional stability by gossiping about her friends"... Miss Hutchens Repeats Vows With W. Musgrave

Miss Gail Hutchens repeated wedding vows with Wayne Musgrave in a double-ring service performed at eight o'clock on July 27 in the First Baptist Church parlor by Dr. E. Douglas Carver.

Vows were repeated in a setting of candlelight provided by seven-branched candelabra with a background of Jade Palms and baskets of pink and white gladioli.

Miss Hutchens is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hutchens, 821 N. Wells. Mr. Musgrave's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Musgrave of Fairmont, West Va.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in street-length peau de soie fashioned with a portrait neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The fitted bodice, featuring bow accents in the back, was enjoined to a bouffant skirt designed with applied reembodyered lace sprinkled with tiny seed pearls.

Her shoulder-length veil of Bridal Illusion was held to a Queen's Crown of seed pearls.

She carried an arrangement of Cymbidium orchids with Frenched white carnations on a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Mary Helen Ayres, as maid of honor, wore a deep rose dress of taffeta, designed with a portrait neckline, cap sleeves with the molded bodice flowing into a bouffant skirt. A bouquet of white gladioli complemented her attire.

Earl Musgrave, bridegroom's cousin, was best man. Ushers were David Hutchens, bride's brother and Howard Musgrave, bridegroom's cousin.

Mrs. Hershel Jerrell was guest registrar.

Miss Nanette Flynt, pianist provided the traditional wedding marches and served as accompanist for Mrs. David Hutchens as she sang "Till The End Of Time" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For the wedding, Mrs. Hutchens selected a dusty-pink sheath with white patent accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Musgrave, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue dress with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was appointed with a pink net cloth, over pink centered with an arrangement of white Daisies.

Miss Karen Wells presided at the punch service. Mrs. Otis Driggers, bride's cousin, served from the three-tiered cake, which was decorated with pink wedding bells and pink roses.

For a wedding trip to Amarillo, the bride traveled in a white silk sheath complemented with a feather hat and white patent accessories. She wore the cymbidium orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Musgrave was graduated from Pampa High School and attended Texas Technological College, where she was majoring in secretarial administration. During the summer, she has been employed by her father.

Mr. Musgrave was graduated from East Fairmont High School in 1959 and attended Fairmont State College in 1960. He is employed by Westinghouse Electrical Corp. in Fairmont, where the couple will make their home. Both plan to continue with their education at Fairmont College in the fall.

Double-Ring Vows Unite Hutto-Lucas

Wedding vows of Miss Rosemary Hutto and John James Lucas were exchanged on July 13 in the First Baptist Church of Clayton, N. M. with Brother Henry K. Stringer, pastor, reading the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hutto, 820 N. Frost. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lucas, Texhoma, Okla.

The bride wore a two-piece dress of white embossed peau de soie. Her elbow-length veil of illusion held to a pearl and sequin tiara.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Dawkins, sister of the bride and Richard Lucas, brother of the bridegroom, attended the couple.

The couple took a wedding trip to Red River, N.M., and are making their home in Texhoma, where the bridegroom is employed with the Texhoma Times.

Martin-Philpott Repeat Vows In El Paso Chapel

Miss Marjorie Lynn Martin of El Paso was united in marriage to Marvin Earl Philpott of Miami in an eight o'clock ceremony performed on July 21 in the William Herchel Ford Chapel, First Baptist Church in El Paso with Dr. Leon P. Woods officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John D. Martin of El Paso. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kint Philpott of

BRIDE

For the double-ring service, the bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bride formal gown of traditional white silk peau de soie with a petal neckline and short sleeves. Her bodice and fullskirt, which extended into a chapel train were trimmed in scrolls of peau d'ange lace, embroidered with seed pearls. A

Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls held the veil of Imported Silk Illusion. She carried a cascade of white gladioli and stephanotis arranged with dwarf English ivy.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Sharon Kay Martin attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a coral silk organza over taffeta, styled with a bell skirt and matching circlet headdress. She carried a cascade bouquet of coral gladioli and ivy.

Bridesmaids, Miss Judith Ann Moore, cousin of the bride and Miss Patricia Wade of Galveston, were attired in dresses identical to the maid of honors and carried cascade bouquets of coral gladioli and ivy.

Kint Philpott, served his son as best man. Ushers were Joseph Milchen, David Peticolas, Curtis Parkin and Melvin H. Moore, cousin of the bride-elect.

The bride's mother wore a shell pink chiffon sheath with lace bodice, shell pink mainline pillbox hat and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Philpott, chose a beige lace sheath with scoop neckline and short sleeves. Her hat was a beige woven straw circlet with a veiled crown. Both wore deep pink orchid corsages.

RECEPTION

For the reception in the Hotel Cortez following the ceremony, the bride's table was centered with a silver epergne filled with white stock and English ivy. Five-branched silver candelabra, holding white tapers, flanked the centerpiece.

Misses Sue Moore and Joyce Reeder assisted as guest registrar. Assistants for the serving (See Page 12)

Carter-Burruss United In Double-Ring Service

Double-ring vows of Martha Dee Carter and Douglas Lefoy Burruss were solemnized in a double-ring service performed on July 21 at eight o'clock in the Central Baptist Church with the Rev. Therman O. Upshaw, pastor, officiating.

Miss Carter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Carter of Pampa. Mr. Burruss is the son of Mrs. Odessa Burruss of Pampa and Durwood Burruss of Lefors.

BRIDE

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in floor-length Chantilly lace and tulle designed with a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves, which tapered to points over the hands. The bouffant skirt was designed with a lace overskirt and tiers of tulle extending to the hemline.

She wore an elbow-length veil of Bridal Illusion draped from a tiara of rhinestones. The bride carried a cascading arrangement of white roses showered with satin streamers.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. S. F. Redus of Bay City, bride's sister, served as matron of honor wearing a pink peau de soie dress complemented with a pink and white colonial bouquet.

Mrs. J. C. Cox and Mrs. Becky DeFever, bridegroom's sister, were bridesmaids, dressed as the matron of honor and carried similar bouquets.

Garrel Robertson of Lefors was best man. Groomsman and ushers were David Lewis, Danny Wilman of Lefors, Bill Carter, brides brother and Jerry Fritch, also of Lefors.

Misses Betty Sue Lewis and Caron Terry of Lefors were candlelighters.

Miss Shires Cable provided the traditional wedding music and served as accompanist for Bill McGowan as he sang "The Lord's Prayer," "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carter chose a dress of beige embroidered linen with beige accessories. Mrs. Burruss wore a rose beige dress with black accessories. Their corsages were fashioned from orchids.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church. The bride's table was appointed with a white net cloth over pink centered with an arrangement of small mums in white milk glass flanked by matching candle holders.

Miss Sherry Archer presided at the punch service. Mrs. Garrel Robertson served from the tiered wedding cake, which was topped with a bridal couple.

For a wedding trip to Raton, N.M. and Red River, the bride traveled in a blue linen suit and wore a white roses corsage.

The bride attended Draughon's Business College and is a member of the Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, where she served on the board of directors. The bridegroom attended West Texas State College in Canyon.

STUFFED CELERY

Fresh as the outdoors is stuffed celery with this new filling developed in the Mario Olive kitchens. It blends stuffed olives, deviled ham and sour cream.

You can make it ahead and keep it refrigerated for use as needed. To make it, combine two four and one-half ounce cans of deviled ham, three tablespoons dairy sour cream and three tablespoons chopped pimento stuffing. Mix well. Fill chilled celery stalks. Serve on relish tray with onion-garlic chips or crackers.

RUTH MILLETT

Nothing brings back memories of childhood so swiftly and surely as the sounds of a summer evening — in that brief hour or two after the sun is down but when there is still light in the sky.

The crickets and katydids begin to sing, a faint breeze stirs the leaves of trees, the bugs make popping sounds as they thump against the window screens, green doors bang as children run out to play, a dog barks with excitement as he tries to join the children's game — and the high, shrill voices of children call back and forth to each other as they run and romp, trying desperately to crowd as much play as possible into the just-ending day.

What are they yelling at each other? Are they playing a new game — or the old ones you played at dusk when you were a child?

You strain to make out the shouted words — hoping that they will be the old familiar commands that went with hide-and-go-seek and run-sheep-run.

You aren't even sure children still play those games in the hour before they are called in for the night. But then you hear the same old words, "Ready or not, here I come."

The same words, the same excited voices, the same sound of running feet — all blending with the other evening sounds.

In the distance you hear the whistle of a train — and all seems exactly as it was when you were a child.

And then a jet plane rips the evening air — and breaks the spell. It doesn't belong. It wasn't there when you were a child.

And yet when today's children are grown and listening to the sounds of a summer evening — perhaps, the sound of a jet screaming its way across the sky will in memory belong to the evening sounds of childhood. They are hearing it now and they'll surely remember it — right along with the soothing sound of the crickets and the katydids.

Miss Cumberledge Becomes Bride Of Douglas Reeves

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Reeves

LEFOR (Sp) — In a double-ring ceremony performed at three o'clock on July 22, Miss Karen Sue Cumberledge became the bride of Douglas Reeves of Pampa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cumberledge of Lefors. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Reeves, 936 E. Scott.

The Rev. Eddie L. Spivey, pastor, officiated for the service in the First Baptist Church.

Miss Amy Earhart played a selection of pre-nuptial airs as guests assembled and the traditional wedding procession and recessional.

Miss Bettye McWilliams sang, "O, Promise Me."

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white lace lined with bridal satin. The pencil slim skirt was enhanced with an overblouse featuring a rounded neckline, brief sleeves and a scalloped hemline.

She wore a mantilla of lace which draped from a regal rhinestone crown. She carried a cascade of white mums atop a white Bible showered with satin streamers tied in Lovers' Knots.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Ross Pool attended her sister as matron of honor wearing a sheer, white dress designed with a bouffant skirt, puffed sleeves and a scoop neckline. She carried a nosegay of daisies.

Ross Poole, bride's brother-in-law, was best man. Gerald Wright, bridegroom's brother-in-law and Gene Davis were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cumberledge chose a beige dress of linen complemented with a beige lace hat, matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Jessie Holley, grandmother of the bride, wore a grey silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Reeves, chose a navy dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Nancy Reger, bridegroom's grandmother, wore black with a white carnation corsage.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. Miss Earhart provided background music during the reception.

The bride's table was appointed with a pastel green cloth overlaid with white lace and centered with an arrangement of white carnations, and stock in crystal bowl flanked by tiered crystal holders holding green tapers. Suspended above the table was a cluster of white wedding bells.

Miss Mary Barron presided at the serving of the three-tiered cake which was decorated with wedding bells and topped with a miniature bridal couple. Miss Mary Watson presided at the crystal punch service. Green napkins engraved with "Karen and Doug" completed the appointments.

Other members of the house-party were Mmes. R. H. Barron, Flossie Butrum and Tom Florence.

Mrs. Reeves was graduated from Lefors High School this Spring. She was active in Future Homemakers; served as student director of dramatics. She was FHA Sweetheart; a member of the Thespian Club and is now attending the Pampa College of Hairdressers.

Mr. Reeves attended schools in Pampa, where he has been active in scout work.

After August 1, the couple will make their home in Oklahoma City where Mr. Reeves will be employed with the telephone company.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Messrs. and Mmes. J. D. Ray; Mmes. W. Holt, E. W. Ray, Alta Campbell, A. C. Houchin; Shirley Davis, Brenda Russell, Ronnie Atkinson, Kim Myles, all of Pampa.

Also Messrs. and Mmes. Hugh Wilson of Canadian; Jack Pool of Groom; Spence Matlock of Claude; Ray Carruth of Borger; H. E. Barrett of Amarillo; Mmes. Wayne Blankenship of Amarillo; Ed Lehnick, Debby and Mark of Panhandle; Delma Butrum and Herby of McLean; S-M Sgt. Allen Cumberledge, uncle of the bride of Carswell, AFB, Fort Worth; Mrs. Nancy Reger of Stinnett, bridegroom's grandmother.

ASK THE DESIGNER by gaille dugas

Dear Gaille: I expect to go on a European tour, leaving by ship in mid-August and returning the latter part of September. I will be traveling tourist class and wonder what type of clothes will be suitable? Should I take slacks or shorts? I am 41 and have a slim figure.

Also, do you have any suggestions regarding clothing for the tour which will last about one month from the last week in August through the first three weeks in September, starting in Paris, going through Germany and Switzerland to Rome in mid-September, the last week being spent in London. Will I need fall clothing or can I get by on late summer clothing throughout the trip? I have a black silk shantung sheath. Will this be suitable for evening? What is suitable for dinner aboard ship?—G. R.

Dear G.R.: Europe is at its best in early autumn but you are likely to encounter many weather changes during your trip. Some days will be hot and sunny and others really chilly and rainy. Pack a small, light travel umbrella, by all means. Now, advice on your wardrobe comes from designer Hannah Troy. She says:

"By all means, take that black silk dress but cheer it up with accessories in a high shade, emerald. Or a soft one, such as violet. Take along one or two dark cotton jacket dresses for sight-seeing. And a lightweight wool coat, a cashmere cardigan and comfortable shoes for walking. "Now, aboard the boat, you'll need some swimsuits for the sun deck plus a straight shift in cotton or linen. Take along slacks if you look well in them but leave the shorts at home. You'll need simple dresses for shipboard with exception of one short silk chiffon or matte jersey. The latter might be preferable since the sea air won't cause it to wrinkle. Have a wonderful time!"

Dear Gaille: In July, I will be a guest at a wedding with a reception to follow at the country club. I have a silk turquoise sheath costume dress; the jacket has a touch of white silk trimming. Is it correct to wear all white accessories or should my shoes match my dress? Is this type of outfit suitable for such an occasion? Also, do you have a booklet on how to coordinate colors and outfits?—H. M.

Dear H. M.: I haven't had sufficient time to do a booklet yet. Meanwhile, I suggest that you clip and keep this column in a scrapbook. Many of my readers are doing this. They find it a helpful guide to fashion. Now, about your question: Advice comes from Lou Keller of Palizzio shoes, who says:

"I'd suggest all white accessories in a matte luster leather. (This is a high, satiny finish and very dressy.) Carry a little clutch bag with single jewel clasp. Wear pearls and white kid gloves. You'll look lovely."

Please send your fashion problems to Gaille Dugas in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

"PAMPA'S FASHION CENTER"

Line Laid Down By Dress Designers In First Glimpse Of Long, Lean Look

By ALINE MOSBY
PARIS (UPI) — Designer Marc Bohan of the salon of Christian Dior gives the public its first glimpse today of what is described as his new "long, lean look."

Informed sources said Bohan would follow somewhat the line already laid down by the other designers: Longer skirts below the knee, longer suit jackets, narrow shoulders, natural waistlines and suppleness but not fullness.

Wednesday designer Jacques Heim, one of the most copied Paris designers abroad, especially in the United States, offered women the "Casbah" look. His models pranced out bundled in coats and suits with huge stand-up collars that hid their faces to the nose-tip or above.

Like veiled Moslem women, their eyes were heavily made up to look more provocative over the collars.

Many of the collars were of black seal that could be pulled down to lie flat and wide, or taken off to double as muffs.

Heim's coats were cut cleanly, many with huge patch pockets and often ¾ length. His cocktail dresses were either form-fitting in front with fullness floating behind like a cape, or else form-fitting in back with billowing folds forming an "apron" in front.

Jacques Griffe's collection featured a "triangle" line. Coats were "princess style," fitted to the waist and flaring gently in the skirt. His suits and even evening dresses followed the same theme. And nearly everything in his collection had stitched inverted pleats and stiffened hemlines that gave the clothes the "triangle" form.

His daytime dresses were sheaths with high, round necklines, narrow, long sleeves, semi-fitted waists and skirts flaring just a little at the bottom.

Over these Griffe showed princess-style coats in contrasting colors and fabrics. One outfit was a fuzzy lime-green mohair princess-style coat over a thin lime-green wool dress.

Miss Mary Leola Baughman Repeats Vows With B. D. Chumbley In Church

CANADIAN (Sp) — Wedding vows uniting Miss Mary Leola Baughman and Billy D. Chumbley in marriage were read on July 20 at 8 o'clock in the Church of Christ. James O. Wilburn officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Baughman, of Canadian and J. H. Baughman of Archer City. Mr. Chumbley is the son of Mrs. Doris Chumbley.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Charlie E. Evans, wore a suit of white silk shantung and a fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Mrs. David Swires, a cousin of the bride, attended her as matron of honor, attired in a blue silk shantung suit with a corsage of white carnations.

Thomas Chumbley of Perryton was his brother's best man. Ushers were Stanley Swires and Billy Lee Ortega.

Music for the wedding was provided by a vocal chorus, which sang "Whither Thou Goest," "I Love You Truly" and "Be With Us, Lord". The altar area was decorated with baskets of white gladioli.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Jim Parks served the wedding cake; Miss Loetta Chumbley served the punch. Guests were registered by Miss Mary Garcia.

For the wedding trip to Carlsbad Caverns, N.M., Mrs. Chumbley chose a two-piece blue suit.

Upon their return from New Mexico the couple will be at home at 4100 West 8th in Amarillo.

The bride and bridegroom attended Canadian schools. Mrs. Chumbley is employed by the Am-

Stitch 'N Chatter Club With Mrs. Campbell

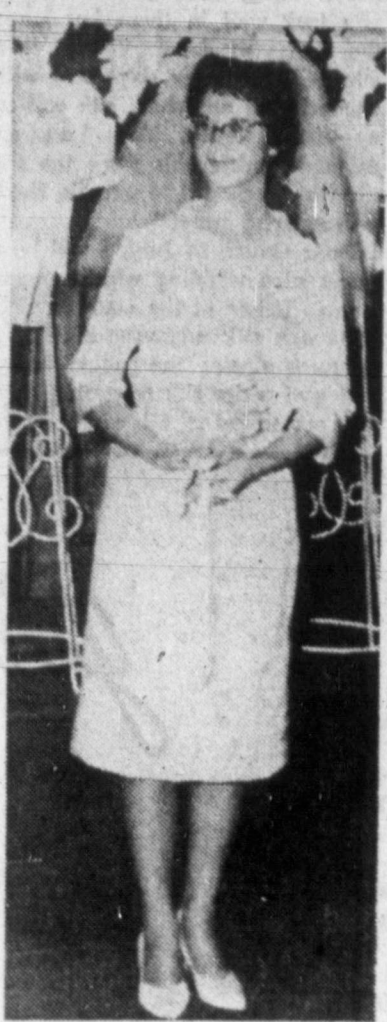

CANADIAN (Sp) — Mrs. Gene Campbell was hostess to the Stitch and Chatter Club Wednesday morning. Those present were one guest, Mrs. Marlan Kohart, and club members Mmes. O. C. Kennedy, Lloyd Ivy, S. E. Pennington, Randy and Susan Pennington and Bill, Mark and Brenda Campbell.

Necklines And Hemlines To Plunge This Autumn

By ALINE MOSBY

United Press International. PARIS (UPI) — Plunging necklines, knee-length skirts and Russian fur-lined hoods from the salon of Nina Ricci brought a young exciting look to the Paris winter collections.

The grapevine among the fashion writers who have descended upon Paris for the winter showings is that today's designers in the docket — Jacques Heim, Jacques Griffe and Carven — have followed the trend of covering the knees.

Belgian designer J. H. Crahay, Ricci's style creator, stubbornly kept hemlines short to show about a quarter of the knee. He also presented winter cocktail dresses and evening gowns with eye-catching low necklines.

Crahay's theme was Russian, his silhouette a reminder of Tolstoy's heroines. Face-flattering hoods edged with fur were attached to many of his suits.

The audience of fashion writers appeared to approve an olive green wool suit with a hood edged with leopard.

Huge Cowl Neckline A dressier black wool suit in the same style was topped to the shoulders and became a huge cowl neckline.

Crahay's models were protected against the winter cold by fur-lined coats and capes, big fur collars, and turn-up collars that touched the top of the head. Many of his coats had billowing fullness in the back.

The suit jackets at Nina Ricci's show were often low to the hip, with semi-fitted waists and wrist-length sleeves, in line with the current Paris trend. Skirts were narrow and straight with an extra panel of fabric hanging down the front.

Another suit silhouette was a narrow skirt topped by a jacket, collarless, narrow and fitted to the mid-hip, then flaring out in a curve.

Daytime wool dresses had bathing or raglan sleeves, and insert mid-driffs that hugged firmly from slightly below the waist to underneath the bustline.

The Russian Look Conical or squarish Russian fur hats gave the Ricci models a Russian look, and the theme was repeated in evening wear. One short black dinner dress had blank mink edging around the low neckline. A pink evening coat with a short train sported a hood trimmed with sable.

Crahay's after 5 o'clock wear won enthusiastic applause. One short black cocktail dress had a skirt sprinkled with black feathers. A blue-and-beige brocaded sheath dress was topped with a matching three-quarter length coat with a sable collar.

Bright strawberry-colored floor-length evening gowns had stoles edged with fringe or feathers. Fit for queens and movie

DEAR ABBY: Our 20-year-old daughter is very serious about a 22-year-old boy. The boy has a good character and we approve of him in every way except one. He is constantly calling our daughter, "knucklehead, idiot, birdbrain and numbskull." I suppose he is only teasing her, but it rubs me the wrong way. I feel if they get married it would continue a very well and seems to be very maybe get worse. He treats her considerate of her feelings in all other ways. What is your opinion?

CONCERNED MOTHER DEAR CONCERNED: If it doesn't bother your daughter, don't let it bother you. Better this way than to have him call her "darling, sweetheart and honey" and mistreat her.

DEAR ABBY: Is it proper for a mother to open the letters her 17-year-old daughter receives from her fiancé in the service? I know many servicemen who have the same problem.

"A LONG WAY FROM HOME" DEAR LONG WAY: ALL mail is the private property of the person to whom it is addressed — and the government postal authorities will back me up on this. If, after the letter is received, the daughter wishes to share it with her mother, that's her business, but no one has the right to open another's mail.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding your column about drop-in visits from the clergy: A discussion of the hospital visit may also be in order. Since clergymen are not restricted to regular visiting hours, many of them drop in whenever it is convenient for them, without considering whether it is convenient for the patient or the staff. Unexpected visits, especially from the clergy, may upset the patient. I think it would be a good idea if the family of the patient advised the clergyman when to visit the patient, if indeed the patient wishes him to visit at all.

Long And Lovely, Long And Lean For Fall Fashions

By ALINE MOSBY United Press International PARIS (UPI) — The house of Christian Dior today launched the "arrow line" for women—a long, lean look, but with skirts—barely covering the knees.

The organizers of the Dior collections of designer Marc Bohan called it "long and lively."

Skirts covered the knees at about the same line where they had fallen the last two seasons, a Dior spokesman said.

Some crepe cocktail dresses, however, wound up only a couple of inches above the ankle, the same idea tried this year by designer Pierre Cardin.

Bohan also unveiled cowboy style trousers for women and jumpers for daytime wear.

The bust was given emphasis instead of being flattened as by many designers. Bohan kept shoulders round and natural.

The show in the elegant grey Dior salon was jammed with

Friendliness Prevails At Busy Button Bay

(Editor's Note: This is a second in a series of news releases written by Miss Sally Paden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Paden, who was selected as the News' correspondent in reporting the activities of the Senior Girl Scout Roundup now in progress in Button Bay Park, Vermont. Miss Paden is one of eight scouts representing the Quivira Girl Scout Council at the roundup.)

BUTTON BAY, Vermont (SpI) — There are many varied activities at the Girl Scout Senior Roundup to afford every camper much enjoyment as well as education. The eight girls in the Quivira Council patrol are finding this encampment more interesting than any other camp they've ever attended. One never passes another person without a friendly greeting, and this provides for an excellent environment.

There is never a lack of something to do. An afternoon can be entirely filled just strolling through the Village Green where each day Vermont people come and provide demonstrations of local folk lore, activities, history, and legends of New England and the Champlain Valley. It reminds me of a large county fair with lots of people excited and enjoying just being with other people. The Green includes separate structures such as an old-time kitchen or a Maple Sugar home, along with exhibit tents displaying industrial products, old-fashioned costumes and home utensils.

Demonstrations done by patrols from different parts of the country are always to be found going on in the separate sections. Anything that typifies a state or section of the country is to be found. We gave our demonstration yesterday, July 24th of singing Western songs accompanied by Sydna Taylor on her ukulele. Along with this, we demonstrated Texas roping with a calf borrowed from the dairy exhibit in the Village Green and with a rope loaned to us by our Rhode Island neighbors. If we missed the calf, we blamed it on the fact that we had a Rhode Island rope and trying to rope a Vermont calf. Never-the-less, it was well enjoyed by our audience and we have been asked to do it in the arena.

Because Girl Scouts are celebrating their 50th birthday this year, a stamp in their honor has been made and was officially released Wednesday. Last night we had a huge birthday party celebrating this—complete with birthday cake and bright colored balloons. The sight was magnificent as the many staffers all over the huge arena each lit a sparkler in the honor of our birthday and each girl shined her flashlight into her face as they sang "Peace".

As we think back on our first 50 years and on the progress we've made, we can all see how really great the Girl Scout organization is. We will all gladly work to insure the girls ahead of us as great of experiences as we have had and as is our theme, we will "honor the past and serve the future."

"SOUP'S ON" — Quivira Girl Scout Council Senior Scouts enjoy soup, as a mainstay of camp meals, as they attend the third Girl Scout Senior Roundup on the shores of Lake Champlain at Button Bay State Park, Vt. Cook's duties are rotated among the Roundup's 8,500 Senior Scouts. Soup, which the campers like because of its ease of preparation will be served 14 times during the 12 days from July 18 through July 31 for breakfast, lunch and dinners. Will Wig Replace Mink As Status Symbol?

It used to be that when a woman wore a wig it was because she was an actress, was going to a fancy dress party or, woe of woes, had the misfortune to have lost her own hair.

But no more. The wig has now become not only high fashion but one famous hairdresser claims it is the latest status symbol.

It seems incredible that a wig could become a fashion symbol in this otherwise modern world — but he's probably right. The women who wear them certainly make a point of asking everyone, "How do you like my wig?"

Far from wanting people to think the wig is their very own hair, they seem disappointed if anyone doesn't recognize the wig for what it is.

Not long ago I went to hear a guest speaker brought from another city to address a woman's group on the first thing the speaker asked was "How do you like my hairdo?" Then she told us that she owned several wigs in different colors.

Since wigs are expensive and a woman's own crowning glory must be somewhat of a flattened mess when she pulls off a wig — wigs couldn't be catching on because they are practical.

It must be, then, because they are a new status symbol. Come to think of it, women do say "my wig" with the same tone of pride that they used to say "my mink."

So if you've been saving up for a mink stole maybe you ought to invest in a wig, instead. You have to be careful how you spend your status money — if you're going to get any status with it.

Credit Club Hears Talk On Counseling

Benny Shackelford of the First National Bank was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Pampa Credit Women's Club held in the City Club Room.

Following an introduction by Mrs. Jerry Hodges, program chairman, Mr. Shackelford discussed "Community Counseling."

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. H. F. McDonald Jr., president, the financial report was given by Mrs. Cordelia Mayes.

Mrs. Joe Wilson, regional president of Amarillo, Bonnie, Nickel and Ada Warner, were welcomed as special guests.

Members attending, in addition to those previously mentioned, were Meses, Lillie Walton, Virginia Wesner, Elizabeth Lewis, Ethel Bryan, Ethel Stilwell, Ruby Crocker and Miss Sharon Johns. Door prize was won by Mrs. McDonald.

Refreshments were served during the social hour by Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Crocker, hostesses.

Sample-Schaffer Engagement Told
WHEELER (SpI) — Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dean Cain of Shamrock announce the engagement of their daughter, Stephanie Sample, to B. Gene Schaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Schaffer of Kelton. The wedding will be at 2 p.m. July 30 in the Shamrock First Baptist Church. The bride-elect is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Sample of Orange and a niece of J. M. Hubert and Chester Tindall. Miss Sample is a student in West Texas State College. Mr. Schaffer graduated from Kelton High School this year.

If you mail a gift or have it delivered, it is proper to check as to its arrival.

Why Does My Baby Walk On Her Toes?

The almost universal tendency of babies to walk on their toes indicates that it is a normal thing. The fact that doctors and physical education instructors recommend a similar exercise for strengthening weak arches tells that the babies are strengthening their arches "doin' what comes naturally." Toe dancers have wonderful arches.

Very, very rarely a baby may have a shortened Tendon or Achilles or heel cord. These babies cannot get their heels down to the floor at all. It is a condition that should be seen by a doctor without wasting time trying suggestions of shoemen (like me) or omniscient neighbors.

'Stormy' Jordan, 'Mr. Texaco' To Many, To Retire

Cities Service Vice President To New York

NEW YORK—Central administration of all domestic petroleum operations of Cities Service will be achieved under a program announced by Burl S. Watson, chairman of Cities Service Company.

Under this program, direction of operations in the fields of oil-finding and production, refining and manufacturing, supply and distribution and marketing will be consolidated under Cities Service Petroleum Company, which has headquarters in Bartlesville, Okla.

Robert L. Kidd, chairman of Cities Service Petroleum Company, will remain in Bartlesville and will devote his principal attention to oil exploration and production, and related activities, in the U.S. and Canada.

J. E. Heston, president of the Petroleum Company, will transfer to New York to direct the management consolidation in marketing, refining, supply and distribution, and related functions.

The centralization program is another long step, Watson said, in organizational streamlining which followed the exemption of Cities Service from the Utilities Holding Company Act a year and a half ago.

FINAL CHECK — "Stormy" Jordan, known as "Mr. Texas Company," in the Pampa area, stands beside a Texas Company pumping unit, located one mile west of Pampa on the Mary Fisher lease. A 53-year veteran in the oil fraternity, "Stormy" will retire Aug. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan plan a month's vacation in Tennessee and Arkansas after retiring. (Daily News Photo)

By WANDA HUFF Daily News Staff Writer

In 1926, "Stormy" Jordan drove into the Texas Panhandle in his "Leaping Lena," Model T "sports car," to live in Pampa, a small, but growing boom town, and to work in the oil fields of the Texaco Company.

He has worked for Texaco for 35 and one-half years and is known to the oil fraternity as "Mr. Texas Company."

Before retirement Aug. 1, Stormy and R. S. (Whitey) Marlar, of Skellytown, were honored with a farewell barbecue party at 5:30 p.m. yesterday in the Windsor Servicing Company building, 1345 S. Hobart.

Marlar was first employed as a pumper by Texaco, Inc., in 1929 on the Faulkner lease west of Lefors. He was promoted to head roustabout at Skellytown, but lived on the Boney lease until 1957, when he moved to Skellytown.

Marlar has served as Relief Production Foreman and in his 34 years service has never had a lost-time accident. He has completed 26 years of driving without an accident and has taken 25 first aid review courses.

Born in Lawrenceburg, Tenn., July 21, 1897, Stormy came to Texas with his parents in 1901 and attended Electra High School. While in Electra, he was nicknamed "Stormy" by a high school friend who connected the name Jordan with the hymn, "On Jordan's Stormy Banks." Since his father's name is R. Jordan, he was called "River" Jordan.

In November, 1928, "Stormy" and Lillian Annis Gibson Smelser of Sherwood, Tex., met at a bridge party given by Mrs. T. K. Underwood. They dated every night for three months and at 8 p.m., Jan. 23, 1929, they were married in Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Neel's home in Pampa. The couple cleared a cornfield and built their home at 712 N. West.

When Mr. and Mrs. Jordan came to Pampa in November, 1928, Pampa was a little community of 2,000 people, board sidewalks, frame buildings and three paved streets, Cuyler, Foster and Frost.

Stormy's first employer was the Rowe Drilling Company in Wichita Falls. On July 15, 1918, he went to work as a roughneck in the north Texas oil fields.

"I was able and willing and I got a job in oil fields seemed like the thing to do in those days," he said.

His first job with the Texas Company started Jan. 21, 1927, as field warehouseman in Borger. In July, 1928, he was transferred to Kingsmill to supervise the drilling of cable tool rigs.

"Our company had 26 wells in the Panhandle in 1926, today we have over 1,200. Our first and best well was the J. B. Bowers No. 1, 12 miles south of Pampa. In 1928, the first year it operated, it produced over a million barrels of oil. After 34 years it is still producing and turns out six barrels a day.

"The oil made Pampa and put Gray County on the map. Without it there would be just a few starved ranchers here today. After the boom, people moved in here from everywhere and ranchers and cattlemen with oil leases started driving cadillacs," he said.

In April, 1929, Stormy was promoted to production foreman in the east and west Lefors areas to drill wells and maintain leases. In 1945, he was transferred to the Borger area as production foreman, but moved his office back to Lefors in 1958.

In 1948, he was promoted to drilling foreman of the Panhandle district, which included all oil producing Panhandle counties, three Oklahoma counties, Cimmaron, Texas and Beaver, and extended to Farmington, N. M., Childress and Plainview. In 1957, the area was restricted to include only Panhandle counties.

After he was sent to the West Texas division in 1958 to study deep well drilling, he supervised Texaco drilling throughout the Hugoton field in Hansford and Moore County and the first operations in the Anadarko Basin, which includes Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Hansford, Hutchinson, Roberts and Hemphill Counties. He drilled the first producing well in Ochiltree county, the C. S. McGarraugh, "B" No. 1.

He drilled the first deep gas well, the Harvey Cook No. 1 in the Camrick field in Texas County, Okla., and the first morning sand well, the J. L. Flowers No. 1 in the Camrick field.

"Pressures are more involved and complicated in deep well drilling because there is greater chance of drilling into formations carrying high pressured, explosive gas.

"In the beginning, before high pressure equipment was devised, we couldn't dig big wells, because the gas would blow our tools out of the hole and cause wells to catch fire.

"Cable tools were used exclusively in the early days, but they started going out in the 1930's when the modern rotary rigs were brought in. Mobile cable tools, without derricks, are used in completion of open hole wells, before pumping equipment is installed."

Derricks for cable tool rigs were made of wood and sheet iron and were not moved when a well was completed. The drillers used mules and wagons to "tear down" and "rig up" and loaded the engine, boiler and cables onto wagons for the mules to pull to another location, he said.

In a cable tool rig, the cable and drill stem with its tools fastened to the tip, was dropped down to dig the well. Steam generators, heated by a power for a cable tool rig. The modern rotary rigs are powered by gasoline engines and use a drill pipe that rotates around instead of up and down.

A crew for a cable tool rig consisted of a driller and a tool dresser who worked 12 hour tours a day. They were relieved by another driller and tool dresser who came on at night and worked by lights. Each crew had a tool pusher to supply the men's needs. Rotary crews are four - man teams who work eight hour tours.

After the well is drilled, it is full of mud and water that must be bailed out before the casing is run and a pumping unit installed. When Stormy was drilling foreman, it was during this bailing out period that he had his only accident in 35 and one-half years of service to Texaco.

"One winter about 9 p.m., we were running pipe in rotary and lost circulation. The mud and water stopped coming out as it should have.

"I went down in the 'cellar,' below the surface of the derrick floor, to find out what was wrong. As I was coming back up, I cut my head on a jagged piece of pipe.

"It was zero weather and so cold I had left my steel hat off and was wearing a woolen hood pulled up around my head. The jagged iron went through the hood, but I didn't have to stop work. The doc just sewed in a few stitches and I went back to work," he said.

The Texas Company encourages safety by awarding annual safe driving certificates to employees and holding monthly safety meetings for all employees to discuss safety problems and suggestions for improvement. Stormy has received 23 certificates since the program began in 1935.

A member of the First Christ Church, the Quarter Century Club, and the Knights of Pythias and order of DOK (Drama Order of Knights of Kroshar), Stormy has received the diamond studded pin for 25 years service and the 30 - year - service watch from Texaco.

"The first thing I noticed about Stormy was his friendliness. Everybody that knows him likes him. He's just an all around good person," says his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan's constant companion is a registered, purebred, brown Siamese cat, named B-B, after its former owner, Mrs. Jordan's cousin and husband, Bessie and Bill Saul Quiteque.

"Since Stormy loves to cook, he buys all of our groceries and does all of the cooking. We my girl friends come over to eat and with us Stormy follows his usual routine. He does all preparation, cooking and sets the table. All we do is wait until he says, 'It's ready'."

"Maine is the only state haven't visited and we plan to there someday. Stormy loves travel. Our honeymoon trip was to Mexico City. Since then we have been to Cuba, Grand Cayon, in Arizona, Nassau, L. Vegas, Nev., Acapulco, Cancun, Disney Land, Niagara Falls, Seattle, Detroit, Hot Springs, Florida and Sarasota, Fla., where my sister lives." Mrs. Jordan said.

Alamo Polymer Corporation Is Formed By Firms

Formation of Alamo Polymer Corporation, equally owned by National Distillers and Chemical Corporation and Phillips Petroleum Company, is being announced jointly today by John E. Bierwirth, chairman of National Distillers, and K. S. Adams, chairman of Phillips.

Alamo will build and operate both a polypropylene resin manufacturing plant and a polypropylene film plant at Phillips industrial development site on the Houston Ship Channel. Completion of the plants is scheduled for the third quarter of 1963.

The new plants will use Phillips polypropylene resin manufacturing process and National's film process.

Alamo film sales will commence immediately utilizing polypropylene film both cast and bi-oriented which is being manufactured at National's present facilities. National has been a pioneer in the commercial development of bi-oriented polypropylene film, a clear, tough plastic which is already providing active competition to cellophane in the packaging field.

Annually, about 200,000 U.S. Army personnel is overseas, in some 90 different countries or areas.

Tech Geology Department Has Expanded

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's geology department has expanded its program to include curricula in the geosciences, thus changing its name in the title of the department of geosciences.

The curricula now include geochemistry, geophysics, paleontology and ground water geology. In addition to standard Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science programs currently offered in geology.

The change of curricula and name was approved by the Texas Commission on Higher Education to better reflect the variety of offerings in the title of the department. Dr. F. Alton Wade, department head, said.

"Interest in the geochemical and geophysical aspects of the earth sciences has been increasing rapidly during the past two decades, but institutions of higher learning have not geared their programs to take care of the training of students in these fields," Wade said.

"Undergraduate programs for students interested in these disciplines are practically non-existent. As a result, most of the training must be at graduate levels and with students usually poorly prepared in one of the two principal aspects of each of the subjects," he concluded.

Students in all programs of geosciences will be required to attend the summer field course of six weeks between their junior and senior years, or at the close of their senior years. Purpose of the course is to give a true insight into the problems of the geosciences through an understanding of the broad relationships which can be studied only in the field.

The new programs in geophysics and geochemistry will lead to Bachelor of Science degrees, with majors in the particular field. Students will receive basic backgrounds in mathematics and geology, in addition to physics or chemistry.

The ground water geology program is now offered to provide a well-rounded background in geology and the training in hydrology which is essential to the engineering problems encountered in this field, Wade explained.

For those students interested in the paleontological side of geology, an optional program is being offered in which background training in zoology is required to supplement a broad background in geology.

25% DIVIDEND TO ELIGIBLE TEXAS MOTORISTS

That's right, Texas policyholders have come to expect dividend savings from State Farm Mutual's famous 6-month policy. Nine out of ten policyholders have saved more than $30,000 over the past 27 years. State Farm's present 25% dividend rate makes the actual cost of car insurance lower than that of most other companies. For more complete details see me soon!

The Pampa Daily News

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Everything 'A-OK' In Pampa

Top O' Texas residents have been hearing plenty of late concerning the Pampa Chamber of Commerce drive to bring new industry to this area.

The CoC is raising money for an advertising campaign in the Wall Street Journal and to finance follow-up activities when and if prospects are found.

The drive for industry can be an expensive thing, as witness costs of the campaign indicated at the outset. A series of 24 one column by four inches ads in the East, Midwest and Southwest editions of the Wall Street Journal, plus one full-page ad in the official state magazine, Texas Parade, will return statements to the CoC for approximately $3,000.

Add to this the additional advertising that is planned and contact work with prospects, and you can see that no small amount of money will be needed to do an effective job for Pampa.

And how is the chamber going to raise such amounts? They hope to get it from YOU, Mr. Businessman, YOU, Mr. Professional Man, and YOU Mr. Individual.

This is an outstanding opportunity to make an investment in the future of Pampa, and we can do it in the good old Texas way... state, federal, state or local government "assistance."

Here's a chance for local private enterprise to assert itself and finance its own improvement project. Let's not let the opportunity slip through our hands.

The fruits of the labor can be rewarding indeed.

New industry is the nucleus of an economic cycle healthy for all in the town. One industry, employing maybe 50, can send up to 400 payroll-filled pockets to town regularly, and, who knows... maybe some of them would wander into your front door to BUY what you have to SELL!

Pampa needs new industry! All of Texas and the Great Southwest is out to get its share of the industrial growth the nation is enjoying and if we don't answer this challenge with dollars, and right now, we could be left out in the cold. The competition from neighboring communities is fierce.

And why shouldn't Pampa have new industries? We have all it takes to feed them... plenty of raw materials like gas, oil, Petroleum, helium, gasoline, butane, propane, grain sorghums, wheat, cotton, cattle, manpower; low taxes, and, perhaps best of all, an abundance of water now, and more to come through the Canadian River Dam project!

We have housing, fine educational, cultural, medical and recreational facilities, hospitable, and we want it to continue, don't we? It will take money to keep us on top so dig down in that left-hand hip pocket today, pull out some hard, U.S. - type cash and go stuff it in the front door of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, located in City Hall.

Your grandchildren will be glad you did... and so will you!

Each community is rated by Sales Management to show its relative standing as a market, based on such factors as income, spending volume, population and growth potential. This is called SM's "Quality of Market" index. Pampa was given an index rating of 116, or 16 per cent higher than the national average.

And we want it to continue, don't we? It will take money to keep us on top so dig down in that left-hand hip pocket today, pull out some hard, U.S. - type cash and go stuff it in the front door of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, located in City Hall.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — American casualties in South Viet Nam bring the struggle of this little country for independence and freedom from communism much closer to home.

To check up on this situation, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is making another of his periodic trips to Pearl Harbor at the end of July for a strategy conference with American commanders in the Pacific and Southeast Asia.

In the face of extremely conflicting reports from Viet Nam itself, the official line in Washington seems to be that the situation isn't as bad as it's portrayed and, "We're still learning." But the lessons, with more American casualties, may be becoming increasingly costly.

The role of American troops is now limited to training and the conduct of supply missions, particularly by helicopter.

U.S. military advice is given when asked for. It isn't always followed. That complicates matters.

One report that Maj. Gen. William B. Ross, commanding the U.S. military mission to South Viet Nam, thinks American troops should be directly engaged in combat with the Viet Cong Communists is denied in Washington.

Perhaps the most controversial figure in the whole situation is Viet Nam's President Ngo Dinh Diem.

One opinion is that he is responsible for most of his own country's troubles and that he can't possibly last.

The other side is that he has been right when the American military advisers have been wrong, more often than not. This is the basis for the judgment that, "We're still learning" how to fight their kind of war.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk's departure for Geneva, Switzerland, to sign the agreement making Laos a neutral state has marked another new uncertainty in the troubled area.

The general impression has been that this agreement could make matters worse in South Viet Nam. The reasoning is that it will allow North Viet Nam to send more supplies to the Viet Cong over the "Ho Chi Minh trail."

This is no superhighway. It is a series of jungle trails over rough country. Supplies must be carried by pack animals or on human backs. This has definite limitations.

A greater danger is said to arise if a "neutral" but really pro-Communist Laos permits supplies to move from North Viet Nam to the Mekong River. They could then move in greater quantity to supply the Viet Cong rebels in the south.

The extent to which Soviet Russia will co-operate in closing the Laos border with both Viet Nams has yet to be demonstrated. One reason for thinking that Russia will co-operate in sealing-off Laos is the Communist fear that if this isn't done, the United States will retaliate by bombing Hanoi, the North Viet Nam capital of Ho Chi Minh.

If the United States is restricted on bombing Hanoi, this might become another war that can't be won. It would confine American intervention to "pinching off the head of the snake," which means cutting the supply lines from north to south across the Laos border.

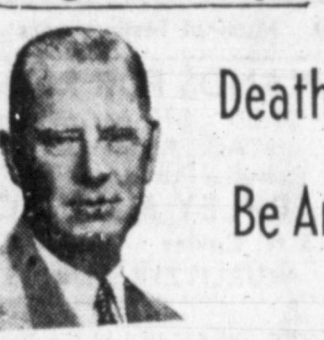

There is an apparent difference of opinion between the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff and civilian leaders in the Kennedy administration on this point. The JCS are said to feel that with open lines of communication and transport for the Communists through Laos, the situation in South Viet Nam will steadily deteriorate.

The civilian opinion is that conditions in Viet Nam have been improving the last few months and that the outlook is anything but hopeless. This optimism is based on continuing belief that Soviet Russia genuinely wants to restrain Red China and Communist North Viet Nam from starting another Korea-type war.

This point may be clarified somewhat by Prince Souvanna Phouma, the new neutral prime minister of the new neutral Lao government, as he carries out his current visit in Washington.

Pegler Says:

Death Of Student May Be An Endless Mystery

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

SAN DIEGO, — Newton Armstrong, the San Diego State College student who was found hanged on March 30 at the age of 19, had written a remarkably strong and clear discussion of motives which might have caused an anti-Semitic speech on the campus like that of George Lincoln Rockwell on March 8. The death of Armstrong may be an endless mystery. There are conflicting bitter convictions among the 8,000 students of the day school and 3,000 night students as well as the faculty. San Diego State is markedly "liberal," but Armstrong was a staunch and articulate conservative and editor of a conservative campus paper called "Evolve." The "liberal" paper is called "The Aztec."

It is admitted that the "liberals" imported Rockwell with full knowledge that he called himself the leader of an American Nazi Party and that he preached violent anti-Semitism. Doctor Oscar Kaplan, formerly of New York, a teacher of psychology and a "liberal," told me he knew the Conservatives had circulated printed protests against Rockwell's engagement. Two Conservatives have told me that one of the "liberals" warned those present that Rockwell's sentiments represented the program of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Accordingly, the Committee would regard all Jews as Communist traitors in the service of Russia, but this was one of the expressions which the Conservatives anticipated and publicly explored before Rockwell spoke.

Armstrong had just been appointed editor of "Evolve" and his first editorial did not appear until after his death.

He wrote in part as follows: "Assume that Rockwell is an agent for the Communist International. You ask, 'But why would he pose as a Nazi?' Well, probably for several or all of the following reasons:

"1. — To create anti-German sentiment among those who were persecuted by the Nazis. This would cause distrust of the modern Republic of Germany and weaken NATO, thus jeopardizing European security.

"2. — To act as a forerunner for Socialist and Communist speakers on college campuses. The argument would be that if a Nazi were permitted to speak, then why not a Communist?"

"3. — To shift attention from the immediate danger of Communism to the rise of the 'American Nazi' movement.

"4. — To provoke hatred and bigotry, causing Americans to defy law and order and succumb to mob rule and violence.

"5. — To try to discredit American conservatism. This would be his most important function, for the primary objective of Communists in this country is to halt the rise of anti-Communism by the right wing.

"The first four reasons are easy to comprehend. The fifth is somewhat more difficult for the person unaccustomed to political tactics.

"Rockwell is trying to identify himself with the American right wing. By describing himself as a right winger and allowing himself to be discredited he is a detriment to true American libertarianism. The Communists realize that conservatives are a grave threat to their plans of conquest. Therefore they try to identify Nazism with the right wing."

A local liberal magazine called San Diego, for April, carried a discussion in which Doctor Kaplan was quoted as follows: "I am frank to state that I do not believe in unbridled freedom of speech on or off the campus. I believe no man has a right to defame another solely because of race, color or religion, unless he can substantiate his claims before a court of law."

I said I did not believe it would be defamatory to call a Catholic a Catholic or a Jew a Jew. He then explained that he meant that defamatory would enter only if the speaker attributed false and defamatory traits to all Catholics or all Jews. He agreed that it might cost $100,000 in some jurisdictions to prove or disprove any such thing. So his contention seemed moot.

There is strong evidence that Armstrong would not have used the laborious and painful method of hanging with a clothesline looped six times around his neck. For one item, there were three handguns and ammunition in the house. There is no credible testimony that he was depressed. He was not involved in any love affair or any immorality. And if he had been free to save his own life, and wanted to, he could have stepped on his father's bed with ease and stopped the strangulation.

His friends believe killers prevented this. He certainly did have enemies in a bitterly hateful campus situation. On the other hand, the coroner and a special police investigator from Los Angeles who decided that Armstrong killed himself have excellent reputations. But, again on the other hand, the boy had no known motive and the incident which caused the campus commotion was created by the left wing for the admitted purpose of discrediting the Conservatives.

Christian Economics

RISE OF CONSERVATISM—CHRISTIAN AWAKENING
VERNA M. HALL
(Christian Economics)

The rise of conservatism in America, by whatever label it is called, is essentially a rebirth of the desire for Christian self-government and individual liberty, the Christian idea of man and government. It is the effect of the innate resistance of Christian Americans to socialism, the pagan idea of man and government.

This movement is an awakening. It is the same spirit, though not yet so recognized, that motivated the generation who founded this nation. The generation of 1776, in their struggle with tyrannical government were enlightened and educated in the Christian principles of government; whereas, we of today are struggling with the same problem of governmental domination but with an ignorance of those Christian principles.

Ignorance of our Christian history of heritage has been and is more harmful to our American way of life and American Constitution than all the active socialists and Communists put together, for without the seed-growth of ignorance the tares of collectivism could not flourish. Because of our very prevalent false assumption that Christianity is unrelated to America's political, economic, civil, social, and cultural life, but is a subject unto itself, we have become a victim and a ready prey for the advocates of communism and socialism. These adherents openly disavow the importance of the teachings of Jesus Christ in our political, economic, civil, social and cultural life.

How could we Americans of today have forgotten our Christian history and heritage? It does indeed seem almost incredible, but it was brought about by what might be called the "sin of omission." It is as Jeremiah says: "For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken Me the fountain of living waters and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water." (Jeremiah 2:13) This omission is not just a current one for it began about 1850, and by 1910 it had gone full circle in our way of life: the arts, civil, political and economic fields, education, law — all omitted the relation of the principles of their respective fields to those of Christianity. They substituted human reasoning, intellectuality, the letter without the spirit. As a fundamentally Christian people, we have forgotten and neglected the power of our Christian faith. We have been trying to solve the problems that confront all peoples and nations through intellectual, human reasoning alone. We have forgotten the power of the Word.

Socialism operates in the political arena, but it is not a political problem; socialism is found expressing itself in our social and cultural fields, but it is not a cultural or social problem; socialism appears in our economic life, but it is not an economic problem. Socialism is a religious battle, the battle for the survival of Christianity. Man either believes he is governed by God or he believes he is governed by man through the state. Whichever of these concepts predominates in the thought and life of a nation, accounts for the advance or decline of individual liberty and progress.

History shows us that it was neither the intellectuality nor human reasoning of the Greeks, the Egyptians, nor the Orientalists which has been the motivating force for the individual liberty of all men. It is Christianity. No other religion, no matter how fine its moral basis, has produced the God-given liberty and self-government for each man that Christianity has produced, first in Europe, then in England, and finally culminating in Christianity's highest expression of a nation — America.

If we Americans of today had the same degree of knowledge of Christian history as did our forefathers, we would not have allowed socialism to secure a foothold. We have almost crucified the Christ in our lives once again through ignorance, as Peter said, "And now, brethren, I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers;" (Acts 2:17)

The answer then, as to how to stop America's drift into further socialism, is education in our Christian History and heritage; it is to restore Christianity as the vital spirit of America in every avenue of its life, to acknowledge Christianity with its Christian idea of man and government as the life, vitality, and inspiration of our Republic.

An examination of the newspapers and documents of the American Revolution period (1765-76) proves the fact that the people knew Christian principles of government — self-government, property and unity. They knew these principles as originating in the Bible and elucidated in later years by such Christian scholars as Ponce, Harrington, Grotius, Sidney, Penn, Locke, Puffendorf, Vattel. For over 200 years prior to our Revolution such men as these had been discussing how the sanctity of law as revealed to man individually through the Scriptures could be worked out in a national government, and how such governments would live peacefully with each other. First, the fallacy of the "divine right of kings" had to be disproved, a most difficult thing to do when one considers that all nations believed this was the basis of law and government. The arguments of today's proponents of socialism and communism follow the "divine right of kings" reasoning, substituting the state for the monarch. Secondly, the Christian principles of self-government, property and unity had to be specifically and practically articulated so that they could be set forth in a form of law and government.

John Locke's Second Essay, "Of Civil Government," was accepted by the Founding-Father generation as being one of the best Christian statements of these principles, and was quoted by them in newspapers and other writings all during our revolutionary period. Today, Locke is not studied except perhaps as an interesting philosopher of the 17th century. It is sad to discover how many clergymen and educators have been erroneously led to believe that John Locke was not a Christian, but was either a deist or an agnostic. The French philosophers who perpetrated the French Revolution are guilty of promoting this concept of John Locke. As James Wilson, one of our esteemed Founding Fathers writes, "The reputation which he (Locke) deservedly acquired for his enlightened attachment to the mild and tolerating doctrines of Christianity, secured to him the esteem and confidence of those who were his friends. The same high and deserved reputation inspired others with very different views and characters, with a design to avail a fascinating kind of lustre over their own tenets of a dark and sable hue. The consequence has been that the writings of Mr. Locke, one of the most able, most sincere, and most amiable asserters of Christianity and true philosophy, have been perverted to purposes which he would have deprecated and prevented had he discovered or foreseen them." With John Locke discredited among the Christians of today, one of the most essential, and perhaps the most important, of the Christian principles of man and government which assisted the generation of 1776 to overthrow tyrannical government, is denied to the Christian American today. This omission is but the product of ignorance.

Our Founding Fathers knew this 200 years' history of the development of the Christian principles of self-government, property, and unity. They also were familiar with all forms of government, their decline and fall. They were mindful of their responsibility to all the generations before them who had struggled to make it possible for the Americans of 1776 to erect an edifice upon those Christian principles of government. By comparison, how many legislators, educators, or clergymen of today can discuss the subject of government in the same degree of thoroughness as did Samuel Adams, John Adams, James Madison, James Wilson, Thomas Jefferson, Christopher Gadsden, or George Washington? That there are indeed few is another sign of the ignorance of the times, ignorance of Christian principles in government. We have many intellectuals, scientific and academic intellectuals, but few Christian intellectuals.

It is to be hoped that as the conservative movement rising in our country begins to search out answers, it will turn to the period when men best knew the Christian principles of government and put them into practice. As this conservative movement turns to the original sources for accounts of our nation's beginnings, it will become the "intelligent public opinion" which Samuel Adams loved so much and which brought about the victorious Revolution against overwhelming odds and obstacles.

Because the battle of today is for the survival of Christianity, the clergy should become the leaders in this renaissance of Christian Constitutional government. If they will do this, they will serve their nation as did their predecessors in the revolutionary period. John Adams described this responsibility of the clergy in the following quote from the Boston Gazette (Novangus, 1774). "The clergy in all ages and countries, and in this in particular, are disposed enough to be on the side of government as long as it is tolerable. If they have not been generally on the side of administration on that side, it is a demonstration that the late administration has been universally odious. The clergy of this province are a virtuous, sensible, and learned set of men, and they do not lack sermons from newspapers, but from the Bible."

Friend — That is one good deed. Now for the other two. Man — Oh, First, I relieved the sorrows of a weeping woman; second, I assured the child of eternal salvation; and third, I got rid of that counterfeited ten dollar bill I'd been carrying for more than a year.

Cities Service Centralizes Operations In New Program

NEW YORK — J. E. Heston, president of Cities Service Petroleum Company, today named William T. Cravens, 48, of Bartlesville, Okla., to direct all Cities Service Refining operations in the United States.

Cravens, vice president of the company, will move to New York to assume this new duties and will establish headquarters there. He has been in charge of Cities Service Refineries at East Chicago, Ind., and Ponca City, Okla. In the future, he will also direct the operations of company refineries at Lake Charles, La., and Linden, N.J. Centralization of refinery management is an important step, Heston pointed out, in a broad Cities Service program to bring under single management all of the company's domestic petroleum operations.

A native of Arkansas, Cravens was graduated from the University of Arkansas with a degree in chemical engineering. He joined Arkansas Fuel Oil Corp., a Cities Service subsidiary, in 1937 as refinery engineer, and held various positions in Cities Service refineries in following years, becoming a vice president in 1954.

Cravens is married and the father of three daughters and a son.

Cabot Plant In Argentina In Operation

Cabot Argentina S. A. produced its first carbon black on July 11. This wholly owned subsidiary of Cabot Corporation of Boston with a plant at Campana, Argentina, will produce 13,000 tons of carbon black per year. The plant will produce a wide range of blacks and is situated so it will be able to give quick delivery of products and service to customers throughout Argentina and neighboring countries.

This is the fifth carbon black plant built by the Cabot organization outside of the United States to help supply the world with this important product. About 95 per cent of the world's production of carbon black goes into rubber.

R. S. Stewart Ends 20th Year

R. S. Stewart of Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, is celebrating 20 years' service with the organization this month. Stewart, repair foreman of the local compressor station, joined the firm in 1942. He and other awardees will be honored at a banquet this winter. Natural Gas Pipeline Company transports gas to customers in Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Indiana, Texas, and Wisconsin.

Pemex, Others To Sign Agreement

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — An agreement will be signed here next week by U.S. and Italian capitalists, Petroleros Mexicanos, and Mexican investors creating a consortium for the production of carbon chloride, bromo, soda ash and chloride, a Pemex spokesman announced.

Card of Thanks

ETHEL LEITH The family of ETHEL LEITH wish to express their gratitude and appreciation to the following people for their kindness and sympathy in the death of our loved one, Doctor Frank Kelly and Raymond Laycock. The Nurses who ministered to her at Highland General Hospital, Dr. Carroll B. Ray and all those participating in the funeral service, Rev. E. D. Madrox, Duaneke-Carmichael Funeral Home. All our friends and loved ones who made her last days happy ones and stood by us in our loss, and those who sent flowers. Prayers to the Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still water. He restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will hear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou annointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever. Mrs. W. E. Leith Mrs. Frank Scott & Family Mrs. E. Paul Miller & Family Mr. W. M. Marbles And Microbes Help In Oil Search

NEW YORK — Marbles and microbes are helping the petroleum industry to find oil and keep it flowing.

Oil Facts, published by the American Petroleum Institute, reports that a newly patented system uses certain bacteria which thrive on methane in the search for oil.

Methane, a gaseous hydrocarbon, diffuses through the earth from petroleum deposits as well as from decaying vegetation. The new system, called "geobio-chemical prospecting," involves placing colonies of bacteria in porous containers and leaving them in the earth for a time. Later the contents are analyzed for radio-activity.

A high count indicates the presence of decaying vegetation, but a low count may suggest the possibility of petroleum deposits.

Among oil wells, even good producers, sometimes get sluggish. Thousands of glass marbles, like those used by schoolboys, are being dropped into such wells as part of a new method of improving production.

Dropped to the bottom of the well, the marbles form a plug which makes it possible to pump a special mixture of sand, chemicals and water under pressure through perforations in the steel casing. This mixture is forced into the oil-producing formations around the casing, loosening the channels which allow the oil to flow into the well.

Canadian Firm To Enter Helium Production Field

SASKATOON, Sask. (UPI) — A new Canadian, British and French-backed company has announced plans to invade the commercial helium production field — long dominated completely by the U.S.

The firm, Canadian Helium Ltd., said Thursday it will drill a second well in the Helium area nine miles north of Swift Current,
Sask., and build a processing plant.

Provincial Mineral Resources
Minister J. H. Brockelbank said the plant will go into operation by next April and will have an initial output of 12 million cubic feet of helium a year.

The new company will have an initial investment of $1.5 million.
Most of the world's helium presently is produced in the Southwestern U.S.

Texas, New York, Pennsylvania,
Ohio and Illinois. The total collected was up 3.6 per cent from 1960.

California led the states in gallons taxed (5.9 billion gallons)
and in number of registered vehicles (8.1 million). Other states

Motorists Paid Record High In Highway Taxes

NEW YORK — American motorists paid a record high $5.5 billion in state highway-user taxes last year, but not all of the money was used for highways.

Oil Facts, published by the American Petroleum Institute, notes that certain states diverted about $400 million to non-highway uses.

The publication adds that the federal government itself diverts some $1.6 billion in federal highway-user taxes per year into the General Fund.

The total collections reported by the states to the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads include taxes on 60 billion gallons of motor fuel, adding up to $3.5 billion, plus motor-vehicle registration fees and other carrier fees.

lons taxed (5.9 billion gallons)
and in number of registered vehicles (8.1 million). Other states

Construction Of Pipeline Is Requested

CANADIAN (Spi) — Trans-
Cities Pipeline Company has filed an application for authority to build a 180 - mile pipeline from Glazier to Blackwell, Okla. according to recent reports from Houston.

The proposed natural gas pipeline would cost $20 million.

Trans - Cities is owned jointly by Trans - Western Pipeline Company of Houston. The company which completed the pipeline from Glazier to the west coast last year, and Cities Service Gas Company of Oklahoma City, which also has extensive pipeline properties in this area.

The proposed line would connect the two systems operated by the parent companies.

The joint operation calls for Trans - Western to deliver gas to a compressor station at Glazier for re - sale to Cities Service under a 20 - year contract. Cities Service delivers gas to 382 communities in Kansas, Missouri,
