Diplomatic Hassle About Robert Soblen Developing Britain, Israel Split Over Plane Orders

Too Much Is Enough!

By JAY AXELBANK
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — A developing diplomatic battle between Israel and Britain threatened today to delay the return of convicted Soviet spy Dr. Robert Soblen to the United States.

The British government formally notified El Al Israel Airlines to place Soblen, who lost his appeal for political asylum Thursday, aboard a U.S.-bound plane.

But highly placed sources in Tel Aviv said Israel had protested to Britain against the order. A high diplomatic source in London said Israel had asked the British to free El Al of any further obligation to transport Soblen back to the United States.

The Tel Aviv sources said the Israeli cabinet was still maintaining its opposition to having the government-owned line return the runaway spy for life imprisonment.

Sources here said earlier the British government hoped Soblen would be on the airline's flight for New York scheduled to leave London at 8 p.m. (2 p.m. EST). Solomon Kaufman, Soblen's chief defense attorney here, said he had information the British government had become "very threatening" to El Al.

Turned Down Plea
The government Thursday turned down the 61-year-old New York psychiatrist's plea for asylum and ordered El Al to fly Soblen to the United States.

Soblen was on an El Al plane en route from Israel to New York when he slashed himself, forcing his admission to a British hospital for treatment July 1.

He had jumped $100,000 bail in the United States and fled to Israel June 25.

Israel deported him as undesirable but was reported upset at the fact that Britain ordered El Al to carry Soblen to the United States.

The Jerusalem Post, which is known to have close government connections, said in an editorial that "no international agreements gave Britain the right to give instructions of this kind of an Israeli carrier."

Diplomatic Protest Possible
Sources close to the Israeli government said "appropriate action" might be taken — apparently meaning a diplomatic protest.

The possibility was raised Thursday night that Soblen might be flown to New York by a Pan American World Airways plane. A Pan Am spokesman said El Al has approached the American carrier Thursday night on the subject.

Beauty Pageant Cancelled

The Miss Pampa Beauty Pageant, sponsored by Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce and scheduled for Aug. 11 in Robert E. Lee Junior High auditorium, has been cancelled for this year, according to program chairman, Jerry Don Hopkins.

"We cancelled because of lack of interest. We couldn't get the girls to participate," he said. "We thought omitting talent from the regulations and requiring only beauty, poise and personality would increase the interest, but it didn't," he said.

'Man Friday' For Estes In Ag Department Indicated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said today testimony shows Billie Sol Estes had "a man Friday in the Department of Agriculture." But Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, cautioned against "premature" judgments in the case.

The two members of the Senate investigations subcommittee stated their views as the panel scheduled further testimony on Estes' cotton allotment transfers. No witnesses were announced.

Mundt's comments were occasioned by testimony Thursday about a memo, prepared about Jan. 24, 1962, which recommended that the department, in effect, approve Estes' disputed 1961 cotton allotment transfers and give him allotments for the 1962 crop year.

Joseph A. Moss, head of the department's cotton division, testified that he gave some "technical advice" for the memo although he disagreed with its recommendations.

He testified that it was written by Emery E. (Red) Jacobs, who resigned his post in the department under charges that he took expensive gifts from Estes.

Mundt called the testimony on the document "some of the most significant" heard in the long inquiry. He said, however, that he is not sure that its preparation was as described. He suggested that some "mystery man" in the department may have given orders for its drafting.

"It is evident," said Mundt, "that Billie Sol Estes had a man Friday in the Department of Agriculture who exercised a lot of authority."

Muskie questioned Moss closely Thursday about what happened after the memo was written. He stressed that the department a

EXTRA FUNDS NEEDED
JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Mayor Allen Thompson said Thursday an increase in city taxes would be necessary next year because of extra money the city has spent dealing with "freedom rider" cases and other civil rights issues.

State To Appeal Small Purchase Court Ruling

AUSTIN (UPI) — State authorities have indicated they will appeal a district court ruling that the 2 per cent sales tax does not apply to small purchases from vending machines.

Dist. Judge Herman Jones ruled Thursday the state cannot collect the levy on purchases of 24 cents or less. Jones' ruling could lead to similar suits by other retailers and could end up substantially reducing revenue from the 11-month-old sales tax.

The suit was brought in Jones' court by four members of the Texas Vending Machine Association.

Attorney Will Davis told the court it was unconstitutional to force the vending machine operators to pay the tax on sales of 24 cents or less even though they cannot collect the levy.

State Will Appeal
Assistant Atty. Gen. Riley Fletcher said the state will appeal. Vending machine operators have been paying the tax under protest since it was passed last year.

Jones said the effect of his ruling will be "the state can collect a tax only on sales above 24 cents."

Jones said his ruling "is going to reduce revenues considerably." Comptroller Robert S. Calvert ruled the tax would apply to vending machine sales. The machine operators brought suit after Calvert failed to ask Atty. Gen. Will Wilson for an official ruling on the tax law and its effect on the operators.

Calvert held that individuals do not have to pay the sales tax on sales of 24 cents or less, but companies who purchase the items sold at such prices must pay according to the total value.

Four Firms Involved
The suit was filed by Canteen Co. of Dallas, Neelley Vending Co. of Austin, Gallarneau Brothers of Amarillo and B&M Vending Co. of Lubbock.

A similar suit was filed by Russell T. van Keuren of Houston, who was defeated in the Democratic primary for congressman-at-large. Van Keuren also complained to passing the tax along to the retailers of small items although they cannot collect it.

The vendor's suit is the second sales tax suit in which the decision has gone against the state. Earlier, Dist. Judge Jack Roberts ruled that gas and electricity used by dry cleaners and laundries should not be subject to the levy.

Commission Sets Meeting For Tonight

The first reading of an ordinance rezoning three separate areas of Pampa will be voted on at tonight's meeting of the City Commission.

The Commission, meeting at 7 p.m., will also interview the third engineering firm in its current search for an engineer to do a survey of the city's water and sewer needs in connection with the receipt of water from the Canadian River Dam.

In other action scheduled for tonight's meeting, the public hearing on rezoning the three areas in the city will be continued before the ordinance, as prepared by City Attorney Bob Gordon, is voted on.

The three areas will all be zoned "A" Dwelling areas if the ordinance passes on all three readings. Currently, two of the three, located in north Pampa, are zoned "Dwelling" and the third, located in south Pampa, is zoned "Commercial."

"A" Dwelling is the highest strictly residential zoning available under Pampa's zoning ordinances.

The Commission also is expected to let the bid for air conditioning the Palm Room in City Hall at tonight's meeting. City Manager Harold Schmitzer has been studying five bids received on the job at Tuesday's Commission meeting.

George Green of Lubbock, consulting engineer, is the man to be interviewed. The meeting is slated for the Commission Room in City Hall.

Lonely Mutt On The New Frontier

Robert's Labrador Poses Federal Legal Question

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Has Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy violated a federal regulation by bringing his dog to work with him?

No one has called the nation's chief law enforcement official on it yet. He appears to be in little danger of being convicted and serving the 30-day jail sentence that could be imposed for breaking the rule.

But the question comes up because a sad-eyed Labrador named Brumus has been accompanying Kennedy to his office at the Justice Department lately.

Brumus is no ordinary dog. At the age of 14 months he is almost as big as a pony and not nearly as graceful.

Gets Lonely At Home

"He usually stays at home with the children," the attorney general recently explained to visitors. "But the children are away on vacation and he gets very lonely. So I bring him down here and get pretty girls to take him for walks."

Government building regulations issued by the General Service Administration have this to say on the subject:

"Dogs and other animals, except for seeing eye dogs, shall not be brought upon (government buildings.)"

Man Is Captured After Holding Six Hostages

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Two men were seconds from death Thursday. One a hostage — the other the embittered man with an injured back who held the pistol.

For 12½ hours an unemployed steamfitter held a gun to the head of an attorney. At the same time, an expert rifleman was poised — ready to end the life of Charles E. Milligan, the steamfitter.

But death was made unnecessary when two cunning policemen posing as reporters overpowered the stocky 50-year-old steamfitter. A hearing into Milligan's industrial compensation case was just getting started when he pulled the gun from a small box.

Grabbed For Gun
His attorney, Stephen Gorey, shouted: "No, no, Milligan."

Gorey grabbed for the gun, but the floors were slippery and he staggered. The gun went off. The next thing Gorey remembered, he was lying on the floor. He had been shot in the left thigh.

Milligan allowed him to be taken to a hospital but forced the other six in the room to remain to conduct a hearing into his case.

Police could have killed Milligan anytime they chose. But they were afraid the gun he held next to the head of attorney D. J. Morgan Jr. may have discharged on a dying reflex.

Five of the six hostages were not allowed to leave the room. The sixth left for water, but went back. It was the only nourishment the seven men involved in the forced hearing on the steamfitter's compensation had the entire day.

Went In Unarmed
Detectives Earl Moore and Don Rodriguez went into the room posing as newsmen. Milligan finally allowed five hostages to go, but kept his pistol against the head of the courageous Morgan.

Rodriguez and Moore were unarmed. Rodriguez began to question Milligan as if he were a reporter.

During the conversation, Milligan pointed the gun at Moore while reaching for a glass of water. Rodriguez grabbed the steamfitter's right arm and forced it down and Moore joined the struggle to subdue him. One shot was fired before Milligan was handcuffed and hustled from the third floor chamber.

Milligan allowed him to be taken to a hospital but forced the other six in the room to remain to conduct a hearing into his case.

Survey Slated Here On Home For Aged

The Top O' Texas Foundation for a Home for the Aged has entered into a contract with The Hockenbury System, Inc., of Harrisburg, Pa., in which the Hockenbury firm will conduct a survey preliminary to a possible finance campaign being considered by the Foundation.

The survey will be conducted beginning immediately and is expected to determine what need exists for a nursing home of the type being planned by the Foundation, whether or not the community will support such a home, and whether a campaign to raise funds for the home would be successful.

If results of the survey are favorable and a finance campaign is initiated, the Hockenbury firm would direct it, according to Arthur M. Teed, Foundation president.

Hockenbury is widely known in Pampa as his firm did a survey and successful finance campaign resulting in Pampa's new, Coronado Inn hotel.

The Foundation already has acquired a site for the proposed nursing home, located northwest of the Coronado Inn, on Kentucky Street consisting of 10 acres. The property was donated to the Foundation by W. M. Castleberry, now deceased.

Preliminary architectural plans have also been completed and tentatively approved.

Miss Guthrie is being sponsored in the Amarillo contest by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. She will be among 25 contestants throughout the state vying for the top award.

The pageant is part of the Amarillo Diamond Jubilee celebration which is now underway. The contestants will ride through the city tomorrow in a parade opening the day's activities.

Baby Dies From Pills Overdose

HOUSTON (UPI)—A 20-month-old boy died Thursday night apparently after taking scores of his brother's heart depressant pills.

The victim, Larry Joseph Hoffart, was rushed to a local hospital after his mother, Mrs. Fred F. Hoffart Sr., found him vomiting in the garage.

Larry's stomach was pumped, but the results were inconclusive. A doctor noticed the boy's pulse getting weak and sent Larry's father, a pipefitter, back home to look for drugs or poison the boy might have taken.

Read Aloud To Acquire Golden Attractive Voice

ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
An unattractive voice is a social disadvantage. Although it requires diligence and effort to improve pitch and pronunciation, it can be done. If you have a tape recorder, you're fortunate, for you can hear yourself. Practice daily to correct whatever your voice fault may be and listen to the playbacks to see how you're coming along.

If you don't own a tape recorder, you can still set up a program of voice improvement. Each night read the newspaper aloud. Whether or not you have an audience, you'll find you are reading in your "company" voice — doing your best, if only to impress yourself.

Before long, you'll be speaking that way at all times. And you will have provided yourself with another social asset — knowledge of current events. You will not only find that your speaking voice and pronunciation have greatly improved in just a few weeks, but you'll be an interesting conversationalist as well.

MATURITY IS ELEGANCE
The mature woman who tries to adopt the dress and manner of a young girl is foolish. She's reached the age where elegance, an enviable quality, can be hers at last. The young seldom achieve it, yet the woman who has reached middle age can claim it as her most cherished beauty asset.

I could talk about how silly a mature woman looks in frilly dresses and a little-girl hairdo. But, perhaps my advice will carry more weight if I can make you realize just how much charm and sophistication you're letting slip by when you don't take advantage of the opportunities your age has opened to you.

Don't give up color. Now is the time to make the most of it. But wear well-cut, simple clothes. Leave the frills to the teenagers. Your hair style should be smooth and chic. Accessorize your simple dresses and suits with one piece of jewelry. Above all, don't giggle or simper when you're spoken to. Walk tall, speak softly but with authority, dress smartly, and you'll have it made.

BEACH MAKE-UP
We all like to look pretty on the beach, even if we're swimmers and not just sun bathers. Waterproof make-up has made this possible, even after a bout with the briny deep.

But there's one precaution that should be taken. If you feel that you must use scent even at the beach, put it on a scarf, a handkerchief, or even the corner of your towel. Since fragrance is a sensitizer, you should avoid wearing it directly on your skin when you plan to go out in the sun. It can cause an unpleasant irritation.

Bike Riding Wonderful Exercise That Takes You Out In Wide Open Spaces

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The career girl who spends her days at the office is inclined to relax on weekends. And at the end of long inactivity, she'll find that she's gained unwanted pounds and inches.

Now that mild weather is here, one of the most pleasant ways to get rid of the extra weight is to ride a bike. Don't make the mistake of thinking that cycling will build big leg muscles. It won't. But it will trim down the figure, stimulate circulation and give you a much-needed dose of fresh air in the bargain.

Dress appropriately in flat shoes, pedal pushers or Bermuda shorts. If your hair can take the breeze, so much the better for your scalp. But if you must protect your hair, you can wear a pretty scarf over your head.

Like any other form of exercise, bicycle riding will induce perspiration, so choose a deodorant with long-lasting qualities. One such combines deodorant with antiperspirant. The makers claim that it dries within four seconds, eliminating the chance of staining expensive sports clothes.

If your riding technique is rusty, try a few practice runs alone. Then suggest a Sunday bike picnic to your date. If you're well-groomed and attractively dressed, he'll probably suggest the next Sunday outing himself.

Leach-Williams Solemnize Vows

Miss Henrietta Marie Leach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Leach recently became the bride of William L. Williams Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Williams of Wheeler in a ceremony performed in the Phillips Methodist Church with the Rev. L. Lennol, pastor officiating.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Gerald Jueschke, matron of honor and Gerald Jueschke, best man.

The bride chose for her wedding a street-length dress of pink cotton with lace accenting the fitted bodice and three quarter length sleeves.

Mrs. Williams attended Frank Phillips College and is presently employed at First Savings and Loan. The bridegroom was graduated from Pampa High School and is now associated with Phillips Petroleum at the Rice Plant. The couple will be at home at 516 Coble, Apt. 5, Borger.

Dear Abby....
You Can Take Girl Out Of Small Town, But...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a girl I met at college. I graduated this June (she quit after two years) and I want to marry her. She says she loves me but refuses to leave the small town where she was raised. She's close to her family (especially her mother) and says if I get a job in her town (population 36,000) she'll marry me this Christmas.

Abby, I have a good job with a promising future in MY home town (population 260,000), which is only 300 miles from hers. I know my future is here. My friends say I'd be foolish to marry her on her terms. An outsider's opinion is needed.

YOUNG MAN WITH A FUTURE
DEAR YOUNG MAN: Your "girl" appears to be more interested in the present and her family than in the future and you. Unless you can get the "small town" out of this girl, don't take this girl out of her small town.

DEAR ABBY: I went through a red light and the most attractive man I've ever seen gave me a ticket. I can't get that officer out of my mind. When he wrote down my name and address, I kiddingly told him to call me up some time. He smiled, but I haven't heard from him.

Could he think I am married? How can I find him again? I drive up and down that street every chance I get, but I haven't seen him.

GOT A CRUSH
DEAR GOT: Maybe HE's married—or has a "crush" on somebody else. Forget him. It's the fascination of the "one who got away."

DEAR ABBY: I guess you can call me a nosy neighbor, but I can't stand by and see a young girl ruined without trying to help. Several other neighbors besides myself have seen a boy slip into this girl's bedroom window after her parents have retired. He stays until almost dawn. Should we notify the mother of the girl or should we report it to the authorities? She's a high school girl.

LOST EDEN

I'd love to be a glamour girl
And give romance another whirl
With candlelight
and pink champagnes
And stereo's seductive strains.
But every time I set the stage
Somebody shakes the family cage;
The dog gets loose, the baby wakes,
A throat is dry, a stomach aches,
The phone begins to ring, and then
The status is at quo again:
Here I am, the same old grouch—
And Dad's asleep upon the couch.

SAFETY SIGN—With back-to-school time getting closer, it's not too soon to think of student safety. Police officials in Lawrence, Kan., recently installed new "flip signs" to replace the old style movable signs commonly seen in the middle of the street in school areas. Sign in horizontal position, left, permits normal flow of traffic. When flipped and locked in vertical position, right, stop sign is visible to motorists. The new sign eliminates the necessity of rolling the old, cumbersome signs from the curb to the center street and puts an end to their removal by thieves and pranksters.

Auto Antics Reported To Local Police

Police have received several reports during the past 24 hours of motorists speeding past their homes and through several business districts.

Topping the list of complaints were two which the department received last night. First was a resident in the 400 block of Purviance who told police a little red foreign car had just driven up on his lawn, swerved between his house and the next house and out through an alley.

A few hours later a report was received from another resident on Somerville St., that a car had just jumped the curb in front of his house and was driving down the sidewalk at a high rate of speed.

According to city traffic laws, there are no records of speed limits on city sidewalks.

2 Break-Ins Are Reported

Police today were investigating two break-ins reported last night.

Officers were called to the Falstaff Distributing Company, 321 W. Atchison, today when an employee reported that someone had broken out a window on the south side of the building and ransacked the office.

Upon investigation, officers said that about $4 was taken in small change from a desk in the front office. Also taken were four cases of beer which were later found near the outside window. A black pair of size 7 boots was also reported missing.

Officers also investigated a report of a break-in at the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company, 214 E. Tyng.

According to officers, the lumber company has been vacant for several months and recently two skill saws, a power drill, and 500 self addressed envelopes were taken. Police were called last night when someone was seen in the lumber yard. Officers said there was no one there when they arrived.

Brumus was the animal star of a film made in Kennedy's office by the U.S. Information Agency during a question-and-answer session with students from Brazil.

The South American visitors seemed delighted when the attorney general solemnly poured his pet a drink of water from a silver pitcher into an ash tray.

Kennedy's aides have jokingly suggested that Brumus might qualify as a goodwill envoy, a bodyguard or watchdog to meet the GSA test of being on official duty.

This, at least, seemed to bar any long Justice Department visits by other animals assembled by the seven Kennedy children. This menagerie has included two other dogs, ponies, horses, geese, a burro, a sea lion, Hungarian pigeons, 20 goldfish, rabbits, turtles and a salamander.

Lights Came From Out Of Nowhere!

LIBERAL, Kan. (UPI) — A series of brilliantly-colored lights moved across southwestern Kansas skies Thursday night.

Fred Jones, a Central Airlines agent at Liberal, said the lights lighted up the airport. He said Central Airlines had other such reports from Pueblo, Colo., Guyton, Okla., Garden City and Goodland, Kan.

Capt. Jack Metker, a Central Airlines pilot, said he first saw the lights on a flight from Wichita to Amarillo.

"They moved higher and faster than any plane," Metker said. He described the lights as ranging from white to brilliant orange with some green and blue. One of them became stationary over the Liberal airport for a few minutes.

The Federal Aviation Agency said no aircraft equipped with such lights were scheduled in the area.

No Injuries In Accident Yesterday

A young service man and his wife escaped serious injury yesterday forenoon when the car they were driving struck the rear of a dump truck, 11 miles east of Groom, just west of U.S. Highway intersection 66 and 77.

Investigating officers said a car driven by Martin Luther Newberry Jr., 25, of Wartburg, Tenn., collided with a state highway dump truck loaded with hot asphalt mix, driven by Arley D. Bentley, Star Rt. 2, Pampa.

Newberry and his 23-year-old wife, Peggy, who was a passenger in the car, were both taken by ambulance to the Groom hospital where they were treated and released for cuts and bruises. Bentley was not injured.

Both vehicles were traveling east at the time of the collision. Newberry told officers he saw the truck, which was driving on the right shoulder of the road, but when he got within a few feet of the rear of the truck he "blacked out."

The Newberry car was heavily damaged and the truck received an estimated $150 damage.

Mrs. Payson Had Dreams Stymied

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sports of all sorts:

Things are tough all over for a loser... Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, chief owner of New York's hapless baseball Mets, once had high hopes of being in on the formation of a third major league and even named one of her favorite racehorses "Third League" — the horse couldn't win for losing and Mrs. Payson finally sold him... the other day at Saratoga, a non-winner in 27 previous starts, "Third League" won for his new owner.

Arnold Palmer failed in his determined bid for a grand slam of the Masters, U. S. Open and PGA golf championships but thereby set up a great match at Chicago Sept. 8-9... if he'd won 'em all there'd be no "world series of golf" on those dates... the 36-hole test originally was scheduled as a tussle among the four winners of the U. S. and British Opens, PGA and Masters... Arnie cut it to a threesome by winning the Masters and British Open but Jack Nicklaus cut him out in the U. S. Open and Gary Player won the PGA — for which golf fans, particularly the television variety, may be thankful.

The Pirates feel left out of things because there never has been a no-hit, no-run game pitched in the 53-year history of Forbes Field and here Chavez Ravine at Los Angeles has had two in its first year... Bo Belinsky of the Angels popped the first one against Baltimore and Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers did it to the Cubs.

Georgia Tech's new 7,239 seat addition to its football stadium will be ready ahead of schedule, more than 40 days before the Tech opener against Clemson... that takes the heat off Tech officials who already had sold most of the new seating space in advance.

Most cheered baseball comeback of the year: Robin Roberts of the Orioles... washed out by the Phillies after a 1-10 season last year and dropped by the Yankees before he had pitched an inning in the American League, the popular Robby hooked on with the Orioles... he won six of his first nine decisions before dropping his fourth game in 11 innings against the Minnesota Twins Wednesday.

Ranking Spoils Record

Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., feels the worst thing that could have happened to him was being ranked No. 1 in American tennis this year... he hasn't won anything worthwhile since, trying too hard to live up to the ranking.

Handicapper James P. Ross Jr., of the Atlantic City Racing Association ranks the greatest horses since 1932 by assigning them weights for a hypothetical historical handicap... triple crown winner Citation "drew" top weight of 134 pounds followed by Tom Fool at 133, Equisope and Count Fleet at 132, Cavalcade, Bold Ruler, Nashua and Swaps at 130, Native Dancer and Assault 129, Kelso, Round Table and Twenty Grand 128, Stymie, Sea Biscuit, High Gun and Swoon Sun 126... well down the list at 122 was Whirlaway who'd have been a dandy bet at that weight.

Cary Middlecoff says of young golfer Bobby Nichols: "He has more potential than any young golfer in the game today... he's a combination of Snead and Hogan... he has a delicate putting touch and he's strong as a bear."

Tiny Tots Have Filled Classes

Packers Favored In Battle With 'Stars'

CHICAGO (UPI) — The 1962 College All-Stars will be "running scared" against the Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football League tonight and coach Otto Graham believes that might help them win.

The Packers were three touchdown favorites for the 29th game of the annual series, in which the pro's, victors 18 times, boast a three game winning streak. The collegians have won eight games with two ties.

Rosel Wins, 2-0, Over 1st National

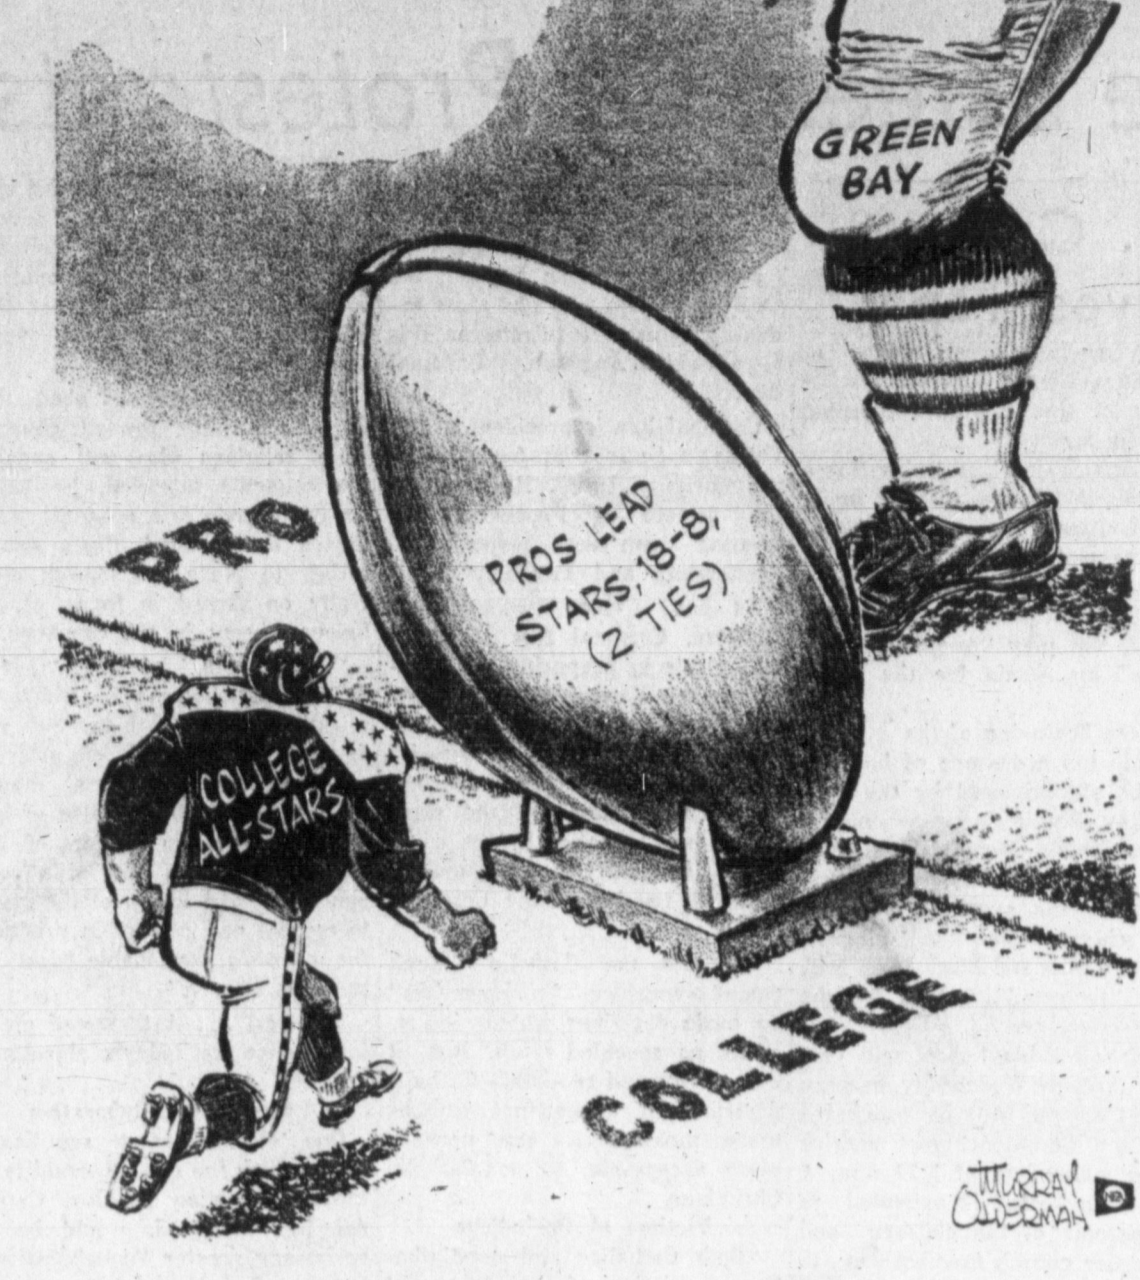

PERRYTON (Spl) — The Rosel Well Perforators of Liberal, Kan., played a softball game with the First National Bank team of the Young Men's Christian Association's softball league last Friday.

Carlos Fry, pitcher for the Rosel team, struck out the first 20 men he faced out of the total 21 for a game.

The final score was 2 to 0 with Rosel winning. The Rosel team only got 4 hits from Vernon Bull, First National Bank's pitcher.

An all-star game is scheduled for today with Rosel Well Perforators of Liberal. The game is to begin at 9:30 p.m. at the YMCA ball park. Players for the YMCA all-stars include Dannie Miller, Vernon Bull, Dewey Blank, Larry Clark, Billy Drake, Don Staley, Duwayne Mounts, M. D. Childress, Joe Ogden, Cecil Lanning, Bob Close and Bill Blankenship.

Howard Leads Dodgers To Win Over Pirates

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

Rogers Hornsby... Al Simmons... Jimmy Foxx... Hank Greenberg... and now add the name of Frank Howard.

Howard, the massive Los Angeles Dodgers' outfielder, finally has learned the strike zone, and is fulfilling his destiny as the most feared right-handed hitter in baseball.

If there are any skeptics, he has a .486 hitting streak for the past 10 games to prove he's on his way.

Howard broke up another ball game for the Dodgers Thursday night when he lined a bases-loaded seventh-inning single that drove home the deciding runs in a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The victory preserved the Dodgers' four-game National League lead, since the second-place San Francisco Giants edged the Chicago Cubs, 4-3.

Raised Batting Average

During his torrid 10-game streak, the six-foot-seven Howard has made 18 hits in 37 tries, including four doubles, a triple and five home runs. He has driven in 21 runs and raised his batting average 26 points to .320.

And that's just about what manager Walt Alton and the Dodger braintrust had expected of Howard once he overcame his perplexity about major league pitching.

The Dodgers fell behind 0-3 in the early innings when Smoky Burgess hit a pair of Pittsburgh homers off Johnny Podres. Tommy Davis put the Dodgers back into the game with a two-run homer off Vernon Law and the Pirates led 3-2 going into the seventh.

A single and a walk off reliever Joe Gibbon brought in Roy Face, who promptly threw wildly to first on Jim Gilliam's bunt and the tying run came home. Face intentionally walked Willie Davis and induced Tommy Davis to hit into a double play by way of home plate.

Deliver Winning Single

With two out and first base open, strategy dictated a walk to Ron Fairly, bringing up Howard.

Big Frank delivered his two-run single and Larry Sherry blanked the Pirates in the last two innings to wrap up Podres' eighth victory.

In other National League games, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 5-1, the Houston Astros blanked the Milwaukee Braves, 3-0, and the Philadelphia Phils beat the New York Mets, 3-4.

The runnerup Los Angeles Angels moved to within 5½ games of the idle New York Yankees by edging the Cleveland Indians, 5-4, in the American League. The Boston Red Sox defeated the Chicago White Sox, 7-4; the Minnesota Twins rallied to beat the Baltimore Orioles, 6-3, and the Kansas City Athletics nosed out the Detroit Tigers, 5-4.

Don Larsen came to the rescue of Billy Pierce in the ninth inning after homers by Billy Williams and Andre Rodgers had brought the Cubs to within one run of the Giants. Larsen struck out pinch-hitter Bob Will to end the game and save Pierce's ninth win. The triumph also was the 198th of Pierce's major league career.

The Giants scored what proved to be their winning run on Ernie Broglio's squeeze bunt in the eighth inning.

Broglio Threw Four-Hitter

Ernie Broglio of the Cards pitched a four-hitter to beat the Reds, losing a shutout when he wild-pitched home a run in the ninth. Bob Purkey, who lost his fourth game after 16 victories, threw wildly on a pickoff play to give the Cards their first run and wild-pitched home St. Louis' final tally in the seventh. An error by catcher John Edwards also set up two Cards runs in the third.

Dick Farrell, of the Colts held Milwaukee to five hits and struck out 11 batters to gain his eighth win against 13 defeats. Bob Aspromonte singled home two runs in the first inning and Jim Campbell promptly singled home another tally off Lew Burdette.

Art Mahaffey of the Phils pitched a five-hitter and also hit a grand slam homer to beat the Mets. The win was Mahaffey's 15th. Frank Thomas and Marv Throneberry each hit two New York homers.

In the AL, Art Fowler of the Angels retired Chuck Essegian on a foul pop-up with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to save the win over Cleveland. A pair of passed balls by Cleveland catcher John Romano helped Los Angeles take a 5-2 lead before the Indians rallied to score twice in the ninth. Reliever Don Osinski was the winning pitcher. Bubba Phillips hit a Cleveland homer off starter Bo Belinsky.

Twins Beat Orioles

Vic Power's bases-loaded two-run single highlighted a four-run Minnesota rally that beat Baltimore. This was the Twins' only hit during the rally. A passed ball by Gus Triandos and two wild pitches by Hoyt Wilhelm set up the winning runs and made Frank Sullivan the winner. Zoilo Versalles of the Twins and Jerry Adair of Baltimore hit homers.

Norm Siebern's three-run homer in the sixth inning led the A's to victory over the Tigers. The win going to Ed Rakow. Al Kaline hit a Tiger homer.

Don Schwall scored his fifth victory for the Red Sox, although he needed relief from Dick Radatz in the sixth. Luis Aparicio and Al Smith hit Chicago homers.

Wall Is Leading Play In Insurance City Tourney

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., fresh from a six-under-par 65, carried a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $35,000 Insurance City Open golf tournament.

Despite his fine opening round, Wall led Paul Harney and Frank Boynton by only one stroke each and there were six other competitors — Tommy Bolt, Lionel Hebert, Jack O'Keefe, Charlie Siford, Jerry Steelsmith and Al Johnston tied at 67.

Another suinter was grouped at 68 over the Wethersfield Country club course.

Wall's opening-round 65 was five strokes short of the course's

18-hole record but Bruce Cramp-ton of Sydney, Australia set a nine-hole mark when he shot a 29 — six under par for the outbound route and the most spectacular half-way mark in the tournament's 11-year history.

Par on the 6,551-yard course is 71 — and nearly two dozen other players, including Cramp-ton, came in with from one to five strokes under that total.

Wall collected four birdies on the outbound nine and two on the incoming. He created a stir on the 374-yard 12th with a deadeye 25-yard putt from the edge of the green.

Texas Farms Are Now More Valuable

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — The average Texas farm is $16,000 more valuable now than it was three years ago, a Texas A&M College extension economist reports.

The value has climbed from $48,378 per farm in 1959 to $64,950 this year, C. H. Bates said. The average national worth of a farm is $41,400 Bates said. The average size of Texas farms is 710 acres this year—more than twice the national average of 336 acres per farm.

Bates said agriculture statistics show the land on the average farm in Texas is worth $59,302. Buildings are worth $5,848 and the average value for land and buildings is about $91 per acre, Bates said.

Farm title transfers in Texas rose from 51.8 per 1,000 farms in 1960-61 to 58.2 in the 1961-62 period surveyed, Bates said.

Religion In America

By LOUIS CASSELS United Press International

Next to Pope John himself, the Catholic prelate who has most endeared himself to Protestants is 81-year-old Augustin Cardinal Bea.

Cardinal Bea is president of the Vatican's Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity. He has won the esteem of Protestants by treating them with respect, understanding and brotherly love.

As one of the Pope's closest advisers, Cardinal Bea played a major role in preparing the agenda for the Vatican Council which will meet in Rome on Oct. 11. This week, in an interview with the Catholic magazine America, he discussed some of the steps which may be taken by the council to smooth the path toward eventual reunion of the Christian family.

He said the Catholic Church cannot consider "compromises" on basic doctrines which it regards as revealed truth. But it can clarify and re-state Catholic doctrines in terms that will be more meaningful, and perhaps more acceptable, to non-Catholic Christians.

Both Catholics and non-Catholics are victims of prejudices and misunderstandings," he said. "The latter arise in part from the theological controversies of the Reformation, and in part from later developments. Religious thought and theology have developed differently among Catholics and among non-Catholic Christians... Consequently, it is most difficult, not to say impossible, for our separated brothers to understand Catholic doctrine when it is presented in traditional terminology.

"Therefore, the council could explain Catholic doctrine in a way that would take account of the changes in language that have occurred among our separated brethren from the time of separation up to now."

Cardinal Bea, a noted Biblical scholar, suggested that much might be accomplished simply by tracing back to the Bible, which Protestants regard as the sole yardstick of Christian doctrine.

One irritant which the council certainly can remove, he said, is the widespread belief that Catholics do not regard Protestants as fellow Christians.

Bound To Christ

"All those who have been validly baptized in Christ, even outside the Catholic Church, are organically bound to Christ, to His mystical body," said Cardinal Bea. "They belong in a true sense to the church, though not in the fullest sense. Those who, in all sincerity, accept and live the faith in which they were born and educated receive — in virtue of their baptism — the necessary aids for a truly Christian life. And they are on the road to salvation... We hope that the council will make this very clear."

Protestant misgivings about the Catholic attitude toward church-state relations also will engage the council's attention, he said. On the agenda is a proposal, submitted by Cardinal Bea's secretary, to place the church officially on record in favor of religious liberty in all countries.

"Please note," he said, "that I do not say 'tolerance,' which is a rather negative thing, but religious liberty, which consists of positively recognizing a man's right to follow the dictates of his own conscience in matters of religion. It consists also of a recognition of the duties of the state to respect and protect in practice the citizen's inalienable right to religious liberty."

(This is) ... A theme of great importance for today's pluralistic society.

Encourage Collaboration One of the most significant steps which the council could take toward Christian reunion, Cardinal Bea indicated, would be to encourage greater "collaboration" between Catholics and Protestants on practical problems of "civic and social life."

"Think of what a wonderful thing it would be," he said, "if Christians of all confessions would work in close harmony for international peace; for the achievement of human rights of minority groups and racial groups; for disarmament; for the social progress of developing nations."

"Such collaboration could do much, indeed, to further eventual union. We will never be one in faith until we become one in charity."

Mexico To Build Borgward Autos

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Annual production of "Borgward" automobiles in a plant to be imported whole from West Germany may well be close to 20,000 units, backers of the enterprise report.

Purchase of the plant at Bremen of the company which was bankrupt at 4 million Deutch marks was announced here recently by the Impulsora Mexicana Automotriz firm.

A spokesman said the Mexican owners probably will retain the "Borgward" name for production of 1.5 and 2.4 liter model passenger cars. The company has been capitalized at seven and a half million dollars.

Women In Church

"Religion and the Arts" is the theme of the study sessions scheduled throughout the year by United Church Women of Charleston, West Virginia, and the Temple Israel Sisterhood of that city. Directing activities for these sessions are Mrs. Philip Antel and Mrs. F. Elwynn Peace. Leaders who have been participating during the year included the Rev. John L. Wilkes, minister of Baptist Temple, who spoke on "Religion in Current Literature"; Mrs. Lloyd Black and Mrs. Naomi Hosterman, who discussed and displayed "Religious symbols in Art"; Dr. Robert H. Emery, head of the department of religion at Morris Harvey College, who spoke on the year's theme at the annual luncheon meeting; Mrs. Barbara Bengston, who demonstrated "Dance as an Expression of Worship"; and Bishop Fred G. Holloway, of the Methodist Church, who presented a program of religious poetry.

15 years or over, and of these an estimated 700,000,000 or 44 per cent are illiterate, according to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Agency. To the last figure should be added children under 15 who are illiterate because of inadequate or unavailable schooling. In 1959, a probable 52 per cent of the estimated school-age population were not receiving primary education. Current estimates also indicate that of the 198 countries of the world, 97 have an illiteracy rate of over 50 per cent.

Miss Renuka Mukerji, principal of Women's Christian College, Madras, India, has recently completed a three-month speaking tour in the United States under the auspices of the United Church Women, Mt. Holyoke-in-Madras, and the Associate Board of the college in the United States.

20,000 Attend Church Meeting

Nearly 20,000 men, women and children jammed the Cow Palace arena last Saturday to participate in the worship services of the 49th session of the World Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

Pastor R. R. Figuhr, re-elected world president of the denomination, told the Adventists of the church's great growth during the past 10 years and said 1961 was the "greatest in our history." "In the past four years," he added, "there have been baptized into this faith the equal of the entire membership of the North American Division — nearly 350,000."

The 49th world session of Seventh-day Adventists in San Francisco is comprised of representatives from over 100 countries. The session runs from July 26 to August 4.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

REV. L. C. PENNINGTON, PASTOR
THE CHURCH OF GOD
CORNER OF REID & CAMPBELL

WHAT GOD HAS WRITTEN

Five times in the scriptures we have a record of the writing of God. Great significance can be attached to each time that God has written. While all the scriptures were written by his inspiration, these five times he did the writing Himself.

THE FIRST WAS A WRITTEN LAW

This occasion of divine handwriting occurred on Mount Sinai (Exodus 31:18). At this time God wrote with his finger upon tables of stone the laws which were to guide His people to Israel. These laws were as firm as the stone upon which they were written. They were inflexible, stern, not to be violated.

THE SECOND WAS A WRITING OF DOOM

The supernatural hand of God performed this when He wrote on the wall of Belshazzar's palace (Daniel 5:5). This writing of God — Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin — pronounced an inevitable doom on Belshazzar and His kingdom. The king had neglected the handwriting of law, but he could not escape the handwriting of doom.

THE THIRD WAS A WRITING OF LOVE

Jesus did this when an angry mob brought to Him a woman taken in adultery (John 8:3-11). The scriptures do not reveal to us what it was Jesus wrote on the ground. Jewish tradition says that He wrote down the Ten Commandments as the woman's accusers looked on. Since the mob had invoked the law of Moses upon her, it is very likely that Jesus did indeed write down the law so that accusers might realize that they too were condemned by the selfsame law. Seeing themselves mirrored in the very law by which they would have put the woman to death, the accusers, conscience-stricken, quietly departed. This was a writing of love because it spared the life of the woman taken in adultery. Her sins were forgiven her and she was told to go and sin no more. It was also a writing of love because Jesus showed the angry mob the picture of themselves so that they might also find forgiveness. Whether they did or not we cannot know, but Jesus at least gave them the opportunity.

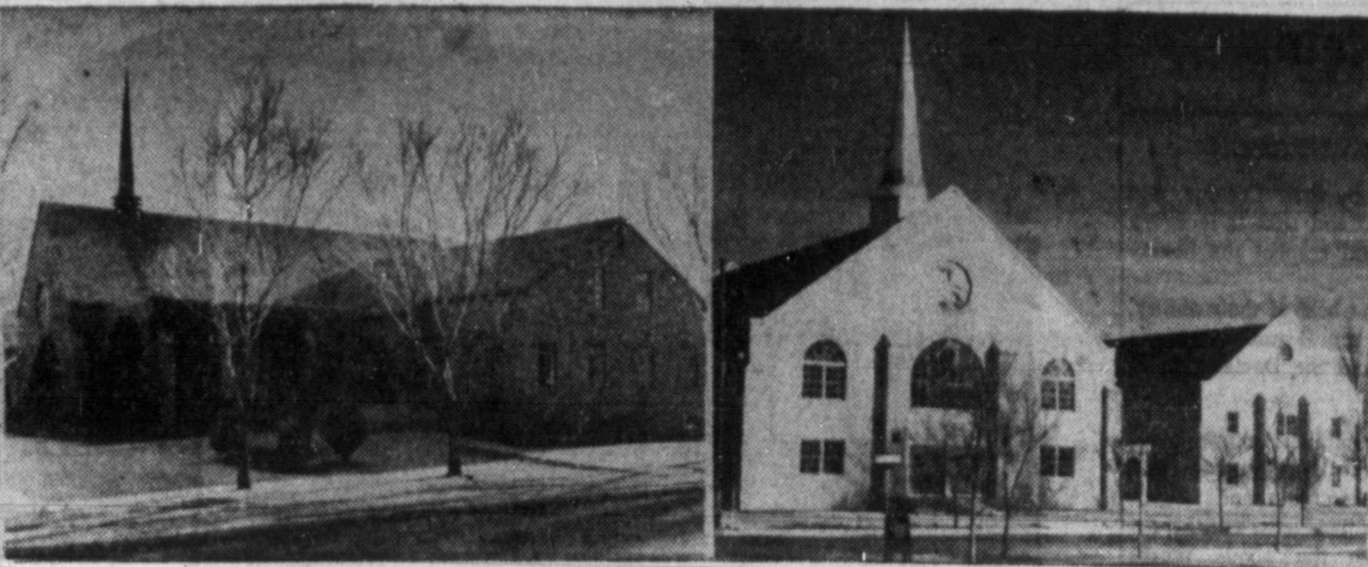

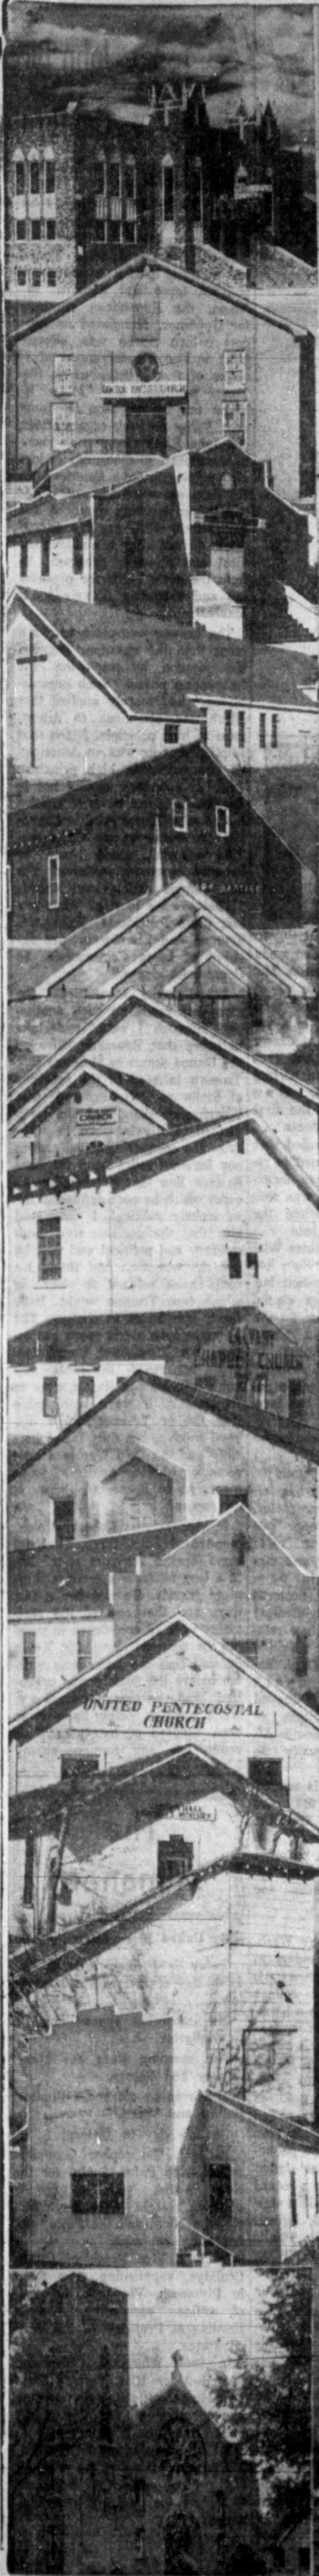

THE FOURTH WAS A WRITING OF GRACE

In this, God has written His law in our minds and upon our hearts (Hebrews 8:10; 10:16). With this act, God blots out the handwriting of ritualistic laws and ordinances that once had to be observed (Colossians 2:14). Now we live according to the law of grace written in our hearts and in our minds.

THE FIFTH WAS A WRITING OF LIFE

Somewhere in Heaven God has a book called the book of life (Revelation 20:12,15). God records here the names of those who obey the writing of grace which He has placed within our hearts.

God's writing of law was written into a book, the Old Testament. That is why it is so important that we be sure that our names are written in the book of life. This can be done only through faith and obedience to those other things that He has written. The way is clear before us if we will only accept it.

What Took Surplus?

Remember, not so long ago, when a small federal budget surplus, in the half-billion dollar range, was officially forecast for the coming fiscal year?

Well, that hope has gone aglimmering. There will be a deficit. Responsible quarters put it at a minimum of $5 billion. Some think it may reach twice that figure.

Here's what Sylvia Porter, the respected financial writer, has to say: "Whatever the precise deficit figure when the books are closed on the 1963 fiscal year, the pivotal point is that the budget is fast sinking into the red. This coming year's deficit will mark the third in three fiscal years of the Kennedy administration, the 11th in the past 17 years of both Democratic and Republican Administrations, the 27th in the past 33 years of our history."

"It will reflect primarily the fact that good as our economy's performance is in 1962, it simply isn't good enough to produce the corporation and individual income taxes to cover the government's scheduled spending."

Overestimates of tax income and underestimates of spending seem to have become a habit-forming vice within the government. And what are the potentialities of these huge, continued deficits? One, of course, is a new wave of inflation, as the government pumps red-ink money into the economy, without a compensating increase in the supply or demand for goods and services. Another is a further weakening of the dollar in the world markets. Another is a further decline in our gold reserve.

Let all this go on long enough, and there's just one end — the national bankruptcy, or something approaching it, that our Soviet enemies anticipate and eagerly await. And remember, as the value of money declines the much vaunted "security" of the welfare state becomes increasingly illusory.

Congress Must Do Better

William McGaffin of the Chicago Daily News Service propounds a question: Why did numbers of U.S. businessmen testify before the Senate Finance Committee in opposition to a bill designed to help them — this bill having to do with changes in the tax system concerning allowable deductions for investment in new machinery and equipment?

Mr. McGaffin provides the answer: "... they feel it does not help them enough."

The bill would permit deductions up to a maximum of seven per cent of the cost of new machinery and equipment — which, incidentally is a little less than the administration proposed. But it would still leave the U.S. industry far in the lurch, by comparison with its vigorous foreign competitors. As an example, Mr. McGaffin points out that in Canada "machinery costing $1100 may be written off in five years compared to the 20 years required in the United States."

Congress is going to have to do a lot better — if we are to maintain, much less to improve, our position in the rough world markets, and to sustain the employment that depends directly or indirectly on our international trade.

The Value Of A Drug

What is a prescription drug worth—a drug which may save your life, restore you to health, or prevent a prolonged illness during which your earning power might be fully stopped?

No one can answer such a question with mathematical accuracy. And no layman has the knowledge that would enable him to make statistical breakdowns that show the cost of finding, developing, producing, and distributing drugs.

But there are answers — important and powerful answers. For instance, a midwestern businessman recently wrote a letter to a senator who has been most critical of the pharmaceutical industry. In it he said: "On October 29, 1961 my wife was taken seriously ill... a gangrenous blocked intestine. I don't know whether the $82 worth of drugs she received cost $2 cents or $8,200 to produce, and I couldn't care less. The profits which the drug companies made financed the necessary research to develop drugs and equipment which saved my wife's life. I am getting very fed up with the attitude... that profits are criminal, sinful and should be eliminated... I hope that neither you nor I have our life span cut short by the lack of a drug which was not developed."

Drug research is costly — in money, time, energy, often disappointment. The risks of failure are inevitably great. The financially successful discoveries must carry the load of the failures. Otherwise, progress must end — and an appalling human waste must follow.

Poland Hits Jackpot In Its Imports of U.S. Grain for Stock Feed

WASHINGTON—Communist Poland hits a multi-million dollar jackpot every time Premier Gomulka makes one of his many huge purchases of U.S. surplus farm commodities.

The lush bonanza results from Gomulka's little-known decision to import U.S. wheat and barley for livestock feed rather than human consumption. By decreeing this use of the surplus grain, the economically hard-pressed Communist regime receives triple financial benefits from its massive grain deals with this country.

Premier Gomulka is permitted to buy the surplus grain for Poland in being reshipped to other Communist countries. One small shipment has been traced to East Germany where the Communists are facing a worsening farm situation.

An outbreak of hoof-and-mouth disease on East German farms is now threatening that country's entire livestock population if not immediately brought under control. U.S. Intelligence officials report that Communist officers are as concerned about this growing epidemic as the continued success of East Germans fleeing to the West.

DARK SKIES — Bad weather conditions behind the Iron Curtain continue to be one of the Communists' biggest problems in Poland, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Rumania. In Bulgaria, Rabotnichesko delo, the Communist party organ, is emphasizing the concern felt because of dry weather conditions and serious lags in irrigation operations with daily references to these problems.

Farm workers are criticized in lead editorials for failure to irrigate crops and fully utilize existing irrigation systems. Difficulties caused by the dry weather were reported in Ruse Okrug. This daily claims that crops are turning yellow from the sun while a million cubic meters of water are locked in a reservoir near Razgrad.

In Czechoslovakia, Pravda (Bratislava) discusses the difficulties recently experienced with the supplying of meat. It reports that all the problems could be traced to lack of forage and animal feed. The paper reveals that "cattle went hungry during the winter" and "livestock turned out to pasture this spring were nothing but skin and bones."

In Hungary, June was the "coldest that Hungary has experienced in this century," according to a statement by Dr. Zoltan Berkes, head of the department of long-range weather forecasting of the National Meteorological Institute, Budapest.

In Poland, Trybuna Ludu reports that the months of May and June were the wettest in memory. It states that farmers were unable to complete the planting of sugar beets in Warsaw, Lodz, and Olstyn Wojewodztwo. Potato and sugar beet crops were a disaster. Another article reports that the heavy rains are again posing threats of floods in regions around the Oder River.

BID FOR A SMILE

All the villagers of the little resort town assured the visitor that the fish were biting like mad at a certain spot along the river. There he went, and after several fruitless hours he returned disheartened to his hotel.

Desk Clerk — Fish biting? Disappointed fisherman—they may be, but if they are, they're biting each other.

If it is difference of opinion, that makes horse races — Mark Twain.

John Birch Society in California Commotion

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LOS ANGELES —The John Birch Society has kicked up enormous commotion in California politics. The Los Angeles Times has attacked it as a "subversive" political force and Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee for Governor, repudiated its support (which never was offered him) in eager endorsement of a series of five articles which the Times published last March. Nixon put the question to himself: "Why do such organizations (as John Birch) have such enormous appeals to thousands of loyal, public-spirited Americans?" He then answered himself: "Because our existing political organizations, with very few exceptions, do not offer a challenging, vital and effective program to fight the great battle for preserving and extending American ideals."

The answer was more to the point than the question. Because the question, by employing the insinuating phrase "such organizations," had merely implied that Birch was obnoxious to Americans of high principle. Nixon thus implied that he was an American of unquestionable high principle. And his comment applied not to the details of the series of articles but to an editorial by Otis Chandler, the editor of the Times. This editorial, which Nixon so heartily approved, reviewed the anti-Birch articles and asked, "What are we to think when our last three Presidents, Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower, are accused of being Communists or Communist dupes?"

Actually, the John Birch Society has made no such accusation although I would undertake to prove that Roosevelt betrayed the United States to Moscow; that Truman faltered in the presence of Stalin at Potsdam, and that Eisenhower abandoned the war victory to Russia when he withdrew the conquering allied armies one hundred miles from the final eastern line in obedience to an order which he once defined to me as strictly political. I answered him that the decision was both military and political and that he lost the war then and there. He could have refused to obey in which case Truman might have flown him home in chains. The ultimate outcome is mere conjecture, but Eisenhower unquestionably performed the most valuable service for Russia next to Roosevelt's. It was unthinkable that Ike or Truman had a disloyal motive, but they failed horribly and the Cold War is a consequence of their errors of judgment. As to Roosevelt, there is no excuse.

It appears that Robert Welch, founder of John Birch, made a few drastic remarks about Ike in a long letter to a group of intimate friends. He told me a few days ago that one of the recipients violated confidence in passing the contents along. But Welch insisted that the letter was written before the Society was organized. And, be that as it may, Welch and the Society have never been accused of betraying their country to any foreign enemy.

Formal evening wear is not required of those attending the opera at Edinburgh, Scotland, but the management has laid down this regulation for its male patrons: "Put on a clean shirt for the opera." (That hardly seems too drastic).

Flashback: When George Washington's step-son was a student at Princeton, he sent home such glowing reports of that college that George kicked in with a handsome contribution to its endowment fund... It's one way or the other down in Costa Rica where the cow tree exudes a latex-like liquid which is used as a substitute for milk... Ted Williams, the retired home run king, is going to enter the phonographic field next. He has signed to make a long-playing record on "How to Hit"... The eminent educator, Samuel S. Drury, for years head of St. Paul's school, once philosophized: "What is the greatest grief of fathers? Seeing our sons inherit all our weaknesses."

A Toledo manufacturer is shipping 700-pound insulated steel filing cabinets in 16-ounce wax paper bags. It's part of a new packaging technique to insure safe transit of customer shipments. The wax bags are first ballooned over the steel cabinets for finish protection. Other package components for the five-minute wrap-up or a crash pad, kraft board outer shell and steel banding.

The Lighter Side

On New Frontier 'Ins' And 'Outs'

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Status symbols in the U.S. capital are constantly changing, making it difficult to keep track of what is "in" and what is "out."

About 18 months ago, I drew up a form chart showing how certain symbols, prevalent here during the Eisenhower administration, had been discarded and replaced during the first few weeks of the Kennedy administration.

I noted, for instance, that heart attacks were "out" and back ailments were "in." Augusta, Ga., was "in," and Palm Beach, Fla., was "in;" golf was "out" and touch football was "in;" and so forth.

This chart has, of course, become obsolete with the passage of time. New symbols have emerged and some of the old ones have crested and waned.

Fortunately for status seekers who like to keep abreast of the tide, an up-to-date version of the "ins" and "outs" on the new frontier has just been compiled by Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr. of New Jersey.

Following are some of the more poignant excerpts from his study, lumped together into general categories for easier identification:

Social Life

"Pool parties in Bobby's backyard are 'in'... as are many of the guests." Touch football is going 'out' but Bobby hasn't been told yet. Water skiing is 'in'... for the summer.

Personalities

"Roger Blough was 'out' but he is now 'in.' Senator Smathers was 'in' but he may now be out." Bobby is so 'in' he is way 'out.' Teddy will soon be 'in,' they hope.

"Chester Bowles was 'in.' Now he's 'out.' Pat Brown thinks he is 'in.' Secretary Freeman has a feeling he is 'out.' Lyndon Johnson is 'out.' He always was.

"Billie Sol almost got 'in.' Now even a mention of him is 'out.'"

Newspaper Columnists

"Doris Fleen is 'out.' Roscoe Drummond doesn't care whether he is 'in' or 'out'... so he is 'in.' Drew Pearson is 'out.' But a Drew Pearson column is 'in.'"

Organizations and Issues

"Everyone thinks the ADA is 'in' but it is really 'out.' Needless to say, the AMA is 'out'... Talk about the stock market is 'out.' No one knows yet whether a tax cut is 'in' or 'out.'"

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

United Press International

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—If Plato were alive, David Susskind might invite him on his "Open End" show and tell him a thing or two.

Thursday night, in an exciting one-hour experiment, CBS-TV let two famed thinkers speak for themselves in the quiet of a New England farm.

The occasion was entitled "The Dialogues of Archibald MacLeish and Mark Van Doren" — and the two old friends, both writers and Pulitzer Prize winners, were the entire case as they talked, fished and wandered the fields of MacLeish's farm in Conway, Mass.

Their dialogues are not likely to put Plato out of business, invigorating as they were under the circumstances. But the extraordinary intimacy they achieved with viewers — as if sitting in the same room or walking the same country road — was a notable television accomplishment. Director Hilary Harris used this technique:

Presented Sequences

He presented a series of sequences — the poets chatting at breakfast, or on the banks of a pond, or driving through town. But once each sequence began, to sustain a sense of immediate naturalness and reality, he kept the camera flowing between them, with as few cuts as possible, so one could almost feel the words and smell the woods.

The conversation ranged from the American dream to poetry to love and God and disarmament, and it was civilized coffee house chatter. On this particular occasion, anyway, MacLeish was the more abstract, while Van Doren seemed pointed and humorous.

Van Doren told a spellbinding tale about writer James Thurber. He said the gentle Thurber once told him he felt his blindness was "a punishment" because he had made fun of the weak and stupid. Van Doren assured Thurber he was misjudging himself. Said Van

Doren to MacLeish: "He said 'I'd saved his life.'"

Still, the best part of the hour was when the two writers were just having fun — netting a fish, trying to catch a frog and getting enthusiastic about both the way only gentle men can. There was an inspired parting sequence in which MacLeish dived in for a swim and shouted: "You're crazy if you don't come in."

One Of Four

Thursday night's experiment was one of four CBS summer specials about the American character. The next one, a reflection of America through its poets, will be aired Aug. 16, and one of the works scheduled to be involved is Carl Sandburg's "The People, Yes." Last year, when Sandburg was in Hollywood, he gave this viewer a copy of "The People, Yes" — and, for the benefit of CBS, the following is the passage he pointed out first and foremost:

"Do you solemnly swear before the everliving God that the testimony you are about to give in this cause shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?"

"No, I don't. I can tell you what I saw and what I heard and I'll swear to that by the everliving God but the more I study about it the more sure I am that nobody but the everliving God knows the whole truth and if you summoned Christ as a witness in this case what He would tell you would burn your insides with the pity and mystery of it."

The Channel Swim: Harry Belafonte guests on CBS-TV's "Talent Scouts" Sept. 4. Lola Albright and Craig Stevens, of the "Peter Gunn" series, team again on CBS-TV's "Comedy Spot" Aug. 21. NBC-TV's "All-Star Golf" returns for a second season Jan. 5.

Comedian Frank Fontaine will be a regular on Jackie Gleason's new CBS-TV series. Japanese as well as American veterans take part Sunday in ABC-TV's "Editor's Choice" program marking the 20th anniversary of the battle of Guadalcanal.

Darren McGavin replaces Jack Lemmon Aug. 14 on CBS-TV nighttime "Password." Ralph Meeker and Mona Freeman star Aug. 22 on same network's "Steel Hour" in a murder drama. CBS-TV's "Calendar" examines the role of the U.S. Supreme Court Tuesday.
