Stepped-Up Fight On Crime Is Prompted Here

City Manager Harold Schmitzer and Police Chief Jim Conner were in conference this forenoon on stepped up methods of reducing crimes against the public in Pampa.

The conference was prompted by recent crime activities in the morals category and the recent rash of break-ins, attempted break-ins, and petty thievery.

The latest report on the police records came yesterday afternoon during the Kid Pony Parade when police were on duty downtown.

Mrs. Ola Edney, 535 S. Somerville, called police and told them a Negro man knocked on her door and demanded to be admitted. When Mrs. Corey slammed the door and locked it, the man shouted a threat, saying he would be back to "get even" with her.

Eight law enforcement units were dispatched to the scene including city police, highway patrol, Texas Ranger Bill Henslee, Sheriff Rufe Jordan, Deputy Sheriff Jimmy Bowers and Police Chief Conner.

A thorough scouring of the neighborhood failed to locate the man, Chief Conner said today. One suspect was picked up but Mrs. Edney said he was not the man.

Another case of indecent exposure also was reported to police at 7:40 p.m. yesterday. Police said a ten-year-old girl was riding her bicycle at the intersection of Oklahoma and S. Sumner Sts., when an automobile driven by a young man about 19 drove up, stopped and called to her. When she went to the car, she told police, the act of indecent exposure took place. The girl ran and the car left the scene. Police said they believed the driver of the car was the same young man reported in a similar incident involving a 12-year-old girl at 9:30 p.m. Monday at the intersection of Montague and Nelson Sts. In that case the youth was reported driving a two-tone green car of about 1955 vintage.

In the incident last night, police

Rep. Rogers Has Introduced Bill To Revise Tax

Rep. Walter Rogers (D - Texas) this week introduced a bill providing that income which is derived by a dependent in any calendar year as community income under State law shall not be included for income tax purposes as gross income if not actually received.

The present law has plagued legally separated but not legally divorced persons for years, Rogers explained. As an example, the Congressman cited the plight of a young man who was supporting his mother and eight brothers and sisters. Although separated from the father and not receiving support from him, under the community property laws, the mother is considered to have a vested right in the father's community income which exceeded $600 and is liable for the tax on her one-half of the community income. The son, the actual breadwinner, is not now entitled to claim proper dependency.

"Even though taxes are a necessary evil," Rogers said, "why not encourage children to take a fiscal responsibility toward their parents instead of defeating them with insurmountable roadblocks." Rogers, of Pampa, noted that it is probable that some taxpayers in community property states like Texas are already claiming exemptions thinking they are within the law.

"Technically they are in violation of the law," Rogers said "and could be subjected to severe penalties. Hence, immediate action should be had to correct such an unconscionable situation."

Despite the approaching adjournment of Congress, Rogers hopes that his bill will put the Congress on notice that such a correction should be included in the over-all tax revision planned for early next year.

hurried to the scene but again were unable to find any trace of the car.

Mrs. L. A. Blythe, 705 N. Cuyler, reported yesterday afternoon that someone had entered her house through a bathroom window and prowled through the rooms. Nothing was reported missing.

Clarence Wolfe, 823 1/2 N. Somerville, reported shortly after 6 a.m. today that thieves had stolen ten to 15 gallons of gasoline from his car parked in the driveway beside his home.

K-9 Corps For Pampa?

Pampa may join Amarillo and other Texas cities which recently have introduced the use of police dogs for crime detection and prevention.

In a discussion of Pampa's recent rash of thefts, a safe robbery, an attempted safe robbery, criminal assault, molestation of a young girl and other crimes against the public, members of the Pampa City Commission at their regular meeting in City Hall last night informally approved a recommendation that City Manager Harold Schmitzer look into the possibility of using canine police in Pampa.

Mayor E. C. Sidwell and the other four members of the city commission, Will Graham, Lloyd Simpson, Leon Holmes and L. P. Fort, indicated they were in favor of investigating the proposal. Commissioner Graham said he had had favorable reports on the use of canine police in Amarillo.

City Manager Schmitzer said he was highly in favor of the use of police dogs and had observed them in use in other cities.

The city manager said he would make an effort to arrange a demonstration of police dogs and how they are incorporated into crime detection and apprehension of criminals.

Mayor Sidwell told commissioners he was deeply concerned about newspaper reports of both major and petty crimes in Pampa.

"We as commissioners," the mayor said, "need to give every cooperation possible to our police department in an effort to halt this situation."

"I do not know whether crime is on the increase here," he added, "but it seems to me we are having too much of it."

City Commissioner Schmitzer said he would discuss the situation again with police officials.

Missing Girls Were Locked In Bathroom

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (UPI) — "Just to see her smile was worth a million dollars."

The words summed up the reaction of Marine Maj. Arthur Ohlgren to the end of a tale that had the best of all possible endings. His daughter Rita and her playmate, Teresa Morley, had been found—safe and unharmed—after being missing for nearly two days.

Police had feared the two 7-year-olds had been kidnapped or slain. Their mothers had become so ill with worry that doctors had to place them under sedation.

The two days of agony began Sunday evening. The girls, like thousands upon thousands of other little girls, played in the apparent security and safety of their suburban development.

That was the last seen of them until Tuesday afternoon.

The girls went into a vacant apartment when Teresa "had to go to the bathroom." The door shut behind them and jammed shut.

Pampa's 1st Professional Rodeo Due Tonight At Recreation Park

Champion Cowboys In Competition Here

At 8 o'clock tonight, the gates swing open at Recreation Park for the 18th annual Top O' Texas Rodeo — Pampa's first professional rodeo.

Heading the day's activities was the huge downtown rodeo parade which was to get underway at 3 p.m.

The color guard from the Pampa National Guard Unit was to lead the parade, followed by the Amarillo Air Force Band, the famous Canadian Wagon Train, White Deer High School band, Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy band, 25-35 riding clubs from throughout the Panhandle area, clowns, floats, and city, state and county officials.

Spectators from cities throughout the Top O' Texas began crowding the parade route at 2:30 p.m. to watch the annual event.

According to parade officials, first, second and third place trophies will be awarded for each division participating.

They are: best typical ranch entry, best civic club or organization entry, most attractive commercial entry and best riding club. Winners of the parade will be announced at the rodeo performance tonight.

Beuter Brothers of Elk City, Okla., nationally-known rodeo producers, will stage Pampa's first professional rodeo, which ends Saturday night. The list of entries received for this year's rodeo is the largest in the Top O' Texas rodeo history, officials announced.

Special attractions in addition to the regular rodeo competition in saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, bull riding, steer wrestling and calf roping, will be the "Beeswax" Moore Family, Charlie Davis, the bull fighting clown and Apache Chief White Cloud, with his presentation of the "Red Man's" ability with bow and arrow.

Announcer for events will be Cy Tailon of Denver, Colo., known as one of the best rodeo announcers in the world.

Tonight's program features many of the top cowboys of the nation competing for $8,000 in prize money.

Dean Oliver, presently holding the title as world champion calf roper, will be competing in tonight's roping event.

Tonight's events are as follows: Event No. 1 — grand entry, event No. 2 — bareback bronc riding, event No. 3 — girls barrel race, event No. 4 — calf roping, event No. 5 — Chief White Cloud, event No. 6 — saddle bronc riding, event No. 7 — "Beeswax" Moore's Taxi Mester Mule, event No. 8 — steer wrestling, event No. 9 — "gone to the dogs," comedy act, event No. 10 — bull riding.

Headlining tomorrow afternoon's activities at the rodeo grounds will be the Quarter Horse Show scheduled to get underway at 1 p.m. On Friday there will be a Halter Show Class at 1 p.m. All entries for these shows must be made at the Rodeo Headquarters located in the Pampa Hotel.

Tickets for the rodeo are on sale at the rodeo headquarters or at the rodeo grounds, prior to rodeo time. Admission is $1.50 for general admission and 50 cents for reserved seats. Children up to 12 will pay 75 cents for general admission and 50 cents for reserved seats.

Following the nightly performances, Leon McAuliff and his Cimarron Boys, the nation's No. 1 western dance band of Tulsa, Okla., will play for dancing in the National Guard Armory Building next to Recreation Park.

Hobo King, Queen Named In Voting

BRITT, Iowa (UPI) — Scoopshovel Scotty and Michigan Sue reigned in royal splendor over the Knights of the Road today.

Scott, whose last name is McDougall, won the title of "king of the hoboes" Tuesday in a quiet but effective campaign at the 62nd annual Hobo Day celebration here.

WISHLIF WATCHERS — These two youngsters were among the spectators that crowded the downtown area yesterday afternoon for the annual Kid Pony Show parade. The parade kicked off two performances yesterday of the miniature rodeo and the 18th annual Top O' Texas Rodeo scheduled to open at 8 p.m. today in Recreation Park.

Four More Quakes In South Italy

By WILLIAM F. SUNDERLAND

NAPLES, Italy (UPI)—A series of 14 earthquakes rocked Naples and the surrounding areas of southern Italy Tuesday night and today, causing death, destruction and panic.

The quakes, which so far have caused 12 deaths and injured more than 200 persons, caused mass terror throughout the area. So far as was known, no Americans were among the victims.

Entire village populations, including patients in hospitals, fled into the open countryside as walls split and roofs toppled. Southern Italians have long experience with earthquakes and fear their grim impact.

The worst of the series of tremors came at 7:09 p.m. Tuesday. Seismograph machines registered it at between six and seven on a scale of 10—making it a "very strong" earthquake.

The last quake was registered at 7:25 a.m. today. Several of the shocks in between were strong enough to cause damage to houses.

The stricken area lies southeast of Naples. It covers an area about 200 miles long and 100 miles wide, stretching across the peninsula to Bari.

The center of the quakes was located near Avellino and Ariani Iripino, about 40 miles southeast of Naples, where a number of houses were flattened and many more suffered caved-in roofs and cracked walls.

Bulletin

George W. Burrell III, 24, of Spearman, formerly of Pampa, was killed at 5:45 a.m. today on a farm-to-market road 759, thirteen miles east of Spearman in Ochiltree County.

Burrell, a driller for Baker-Taylor Drilling Co. was returning from a trip to Pampa and was in his car alone, when it veered off the highway and hit an abutment.

The body was taken to the Boxwell Brothers Funeral Home but will be removed to the Richerson Funeral Home in Shamrock where funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Thrills And Spills Highlight The Kid Pony Show Here Yesterday

Thrills and spills galore highlighted the Kid Pony Show action Tuesday afternoon and evening as the youngsters "strutted their stuff" to kick off the first day's action of the Top O' Texas Rodeo at Recreation Park.

A variety of events, ranging from bull riding to barrel races, featured the annual event which preceded the main rodeo starting tonight at 8 p.m.

In the afternoon performance, the crowd was delighted by Billie Snyder of Canadian, who darted out of the west chute and circled the barrels in the girls barrel race unannounced.

While Miss Snyder was pacing her horse around the three barrels in the arena, Cindy Horton of Pampa was circling the barrels going the other way. Miss Horton was the only girl supposed to be in the arena at the time.

After Cindy had completed her journey around the three obstacles, Miss Snyder once again roared around the barrels to win the event.

One of the roughest events in the night-time performance was the boys' breakaway roping contest in which only three of the ten contestants were able to rope their calves in the allotted time. David Stockstill of Pampa had the best time in the event with 7.5 seconds.

Scattered afternoon showers sent spectators scurrying for the stands, but they soon returned to watch the remainder of the show.

Warren Hasse was master of ceremonies. Judges were Sonny Linger of Elk City, Okla., and Duke Holland of Childress.

One of the most colorful parts of both performances was the grand entry of all the young cowboys and cowgirls mounted on their beautifully groomed horses and carrying their Top O' Texas flags aloft. The kids circled around a line of stationary "cowpokes" on both the east and west ends of the arena to conclude the colorful pageantry.

City Budget Hearing Set

Pampa's City Commission last night set Tuesday, Sept. 11, for a public hearing on the proposed city budget for the fiscal year 1962-63.

The budget was filed with the city secretary last Friday and copies were given to the mayor and each of the four city commissioners for study.

The proposed budget, as recommended by City Manager Harold Schmitzer, is set at $1,563,102, a decrease of some $90,652 over last year's budget.

The commission at its meeting last night also voted 4 to 1. Commissioner Leon Holmes dissenting, to execute a contract between the City of Pampa and Forrest and Cotton, Dallas consulting engineers, for a preliminary survey of Pampa's water and sewer needs in connection with the city's participation in the Canadian Municipal Water Authority.

This would include recommendations on a water treatment plant, sanitation plant, storage facilities and other needs in connection with the Canadian River Dam project which is expected to be ready to deliver water to Pampa in 1968.

The contract agreed on last night was for the preliminary survey only. There had been discussion that the city should accept a more detailed contract with the Dallas firm which would assure terms of design and construction in case the city decided to hire the Dallas firm for future work after the preliminary survey was completed. It was decided, however, to contract now only for the preliminary work and then negotiate with the firm for future design and construction if the city desired to retain the same firm.

Commissioner Holmes voted no, he stated, because he thought the city could get the same preliminary survey from another firm for only $1,850. The price for the accepted contract was $7,500.

The commission last night also awarded bids for the purchase of pipe, valve boxes, lead and fire hydrants.

Contracts were awarded to four low bidders for a total of $23,654.32. Eleven bids had been submitted.

The awards were made to Lone Star Steel for pipe, Wells Machine & Supply Co. for valves and fire hydrants, Clow & Cowan for lead, and the Morrison Supply Co. for valve boxes.

The commission approved city bills for August in the sum of $23,124.35, Lovett Memorial Library, $64.40, and Continental Oil Co., $936.25.

Long-Lasting

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Association of American Railroads reports the average railroad freight car traveled a record 1,025,990 (m) miles — about 41 times around the world — before being sidetracked for emergency hot box repairs.

Big Crowd Seen For Demo Rally At Coronado Inn

An overflow crowd of between 400 and 500 persons was expected to attend the reception-dinner for top Democratic candidates for state offices in Coronado Inn late this afternoon.

Lynn Boyd, general chairman on arrangements, said shortly before noon that more than 400 tickets had been sold for the dinner, and that the Inn management was planning for the crowd to be handled in the Starlight Room and other dining rooms of the hotel. Loudspeakers were to be set up in the overflow rooms.

John Connally, Democratic candidate for governor, was due to fly in from Huntsville, arriving here about 3 p.m. Connally was to be met at the airport by R. G. (Dick) Hughes who will be master of ceremonies at the 6 o'clock dinner.

Others to be present for the reception starting at 5 p.m. will be Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa; Preston Smith, candidate for lieutenant governor, who was due to fly in from Lubbock; Waggoner Carr, candidate for attorney general, driving from Lubbock; former Rep. Eugene Worley, who arrived from Shamrock at noon today; Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo; Rep. Fritz Thompson of Borger; and Rep. Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler. Most of the candidates were accompanied by their wives.

All of them were expected to be in Pampa at least an hour or two before the reception gets underway at 5 p.m.

The reception and dinner are open to the public and tickets were still to be available in the Coronado lobby late this afternoon.

Bus Driver Good At Finance, But Failure At Intrigue

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Bus driver Leonard W. Martin was a failure at intrigue but a master of finance.

He managed to support two wives and five children on $100 a week until he introduced his 15-year-old daughter by wife No. 1 to wife No. 2.

Martin, 32, waived preliminary hearing on a bigamy charge Tuesday and was placed under $1,000 bond.

Patrolman Miles Nelson said Martin married Donna Maria, 36, in 1947 at Red Wing, Minn. The couple has three girls, aged 15, 5 and 2.

Nelson said Martin married Jean, 30, in 1959 at Dubuque, Iowa. They have two girls, aged 1 and 2.

Both wives live in Milwaukee. Police said Martin lived with Jean but visited Donna Maria about twice a week.

He told No. 1 he worked in Chicago and gave her about $50 a month. She received some financial help from relatives.

Dowdy Asks For Probe Of Ag 'Tactics'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John Dowdy, D-Tex., asked Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman Monday to investigate possible "Gestapo tactics" and harassment by department auditors of a family of Texas rice growers.

Dowdy, of Athens in Henderson County, said a Polk County farmer charged two Agriculture Department auditors with "Gestapo tactics." Dowdy did not include the names of the auditors in his press statement. However, he said Harold Andrew of Brookshire, Tex., named the auditors in a complaining letter.

Dowdy said Andrew has written him saying "the freedom and rights of individuals are practically gone."

"If the Agriculture Department can treat rice farmers as they have," Andrew said, "they can do whatever they wish with anyone."

The Justice and Agriculture departments along with the FBI have been investigating reports of widespread fraud in the sale of rice allotments in some 21 South Texas counties. Two ASCS officials have pleaded guilty to accepting bribes to cover up fraudulent rice allotment sales.

All this means that a father should have a financial check-up regularly. And he should also make sure he has taken advantage of the most modern insurance provisions and benefits.

More than an interview—a service

2. You weigh your responsibilities: mortgage or rent payments, education, retirement, accident and sickness emergencies; how much would cost your family to live without you.
3. You find out where you stand. You determine your weak and strong points... whether the provisions you have made for your family will do what you intend. You get the facts in front of you.
4. You plan for the future. Based on these facts, you decide what action, if any, may be needed to give you a family security plan, tailor-made to your own needs and ambitions—one which makes good sense for you.

GOING, GOING, GONE—Bill Rigney lost another decision, this time to Bill McKinley in the last of the ninth inning at Chavez Ravine in Los Angeles. Rigney claimed that Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox trapped Lee Thomas' line drive to left field instead of catching the baseball. The call stayed and the Angels manager left for the showers.

Yankees Smash Angels With Seven In Tenth

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

It was an old-fashioned New York Yankee explosion and it just about made a wreck of both the Los Angeles Angels and the American League pennant race.

Seven runs poured over the plate in the 10th inning rally Tuesday night, crushing the Angels, 11-4, and extending the Yankees' first-place lead to five full games.

It was the Angels' moment of truth — the game in which they could have begun a late run on the Yankees — and the fact is they gave it a great try. But in the end they were smothered — and only a miracle can bring them back into position as practical pennant challengers.

The Angels had tied the score at 4-4 on Leon Wagner's ninth-inning single but all that did was set the stage for typical late-inning Yankee lightning. Two singles and a walk produced one run, another single and Clete Boyer's double drove in two more runs and then Roger Maris clouted a grand slam homer after a walk to leave LA in the rubble of the AL standings.

Held Early Lead

Lee Thomas' two homers enabled the Angels to take an early 3-1 lead but the Yankees tied the score on Elston Howard's two-run sixth-inning homer and took a 4-3 lead on Bobby Richardson's run-producing seventh-inning single. Wagner's clutch hit tied it up again and gave hope to the crowd of 50,630 in Los Angeles — until the Yankees went to bat, that is.

The Minnesota Twins beat the Washington Senators, 5-2, the Detroit Tigers topped the Cleveland Indians, 10-1, the Baltimore Orioles routed the Chicago White Sox, 9-1, and the Boston Red Sox downed the Kansas City Athletics, 11-6, in other AL games.

The Milwaukee Braves shaded the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds downed the Chicago Cubs, 2-0, the Philadelphia Phillies swept a doubleheader from the Houston Colts, 5-3 and 7-4, and the New York Mets snapped a 13-game losing streak with a 5-4 win after losing the first game of a doubleheader to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-6.

Twins Extended Streak

Jack Kralick and Ray Moore combined in a four-hitter for the Twins, who scored their fourth straight victory with the help of a key single by Bernie Allen in the sixth inning. Dave Stenhouse suffered his ninth loss against 10 wins for the Senators.

Jim Bunning pitched a four-hitter to win his 13th game of the season and the 100th of his big league career for the Tigers. Bunning yielded a first-inning homer to Al Luplow and then set down the Indians with three hits the rest of the way. Al Kaline had three hits for Detroit.

Robin Roberts won his eighth game of the year and the 242nd of his career behind a 10-hit Baltimore attack that included a grand slam homer by rookie Boog Powell. Early Wynn, in search of the 29th win of his career, retired only one batter in the first inning before being routed.

Carl Yastrzemski hit a three-run homer and drove in two other runs to lead the Red Sox' 15-hit attack. Earl Wilson, aided by Arnold Earley in the ninth, picked up his ninth win of the season.

Braves Nipped Cards

Lee Maye's 10th-inning single drove in the winning run for the Braves and gave Claude Raymond his fifth triumph. Charlie James

Sooners In Grid Win Over Texans

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI) — What Oklahoma lacked in offensive fireworks, it made up with a tough, sticky defense to muffle Texas power Tuesday night and give the two-touchdown underdog Sooners a 7-6 victory in the 25th annual Oil Bowl high school football game.

It was only the third win for Oklahoma in 17 games of the series. Texas won 13 times and one game ended in a tie.

A packed crowd of 16,000 watched Oklahoma score a second quarter touchdown, kick the extra point, and beat the vaunted Texans back from paydirt except for the one time Texas cranked up its scoring machine.

Nicky Upton, a 170-pound scabbard from Stillwater, Okla., fired the Sooners to their only TD. He zipped and ragged 24 yards with a punt to set up the second period score. Then on the first play from scrimmage he flashed 16 yards for the touchdown. Dwight Johnson kicked the all-important extra point to make it 7-0.

Texas roared back on the running of Wayne Bell of Baytown, Larry Shields of Wichita Falls and the passing of quarterback Ronnie Waldo of Sherman.

Waldo hit Alvin end Hubba Dozier with a 47 yard pass during a 75-yard march to set Texas up on the Oklahoma four-yard line. Bell bulled over from the three for the score.

The Texans, however, gambled and went for the victory instead of a tie. Quarterback Larry Mullins of San Angelo, trying for the two points that would have provided victory, was tackled short of the goal.

The Oklahoma defense was the big story after that.

Bell was voted the game's outstanding back with 85 yards in 17 carries. Alton Edwards of Tulsa was picked the outstanding line man.

Score by periods:

Oklahoma ..... 0 7 0 0-7
Texas ..... 0 6 0 0-6

Scoring summary:

Oklahoma—Upton 16 run (Johnson kick)
Texas—Bell 3 run (run failed)

Bull Might Make Pro Grid Debut

RENSAELAER, Ind. (UPI) — Ronnie Bull, the Chicago Bears' No. 1 draft choice from Baylor, may make his pro football debut Saturday against Green Bay, but if he does, it will be on defense.

"We're using Bull as a combination defensive-offensive man now," owner-coach George Halas said Tuesday. "He may not be able to play Saturday, but if he does, it will have to be on defense."

Bull missed the All Star game due to a virus and has been hospitalized for 10 days due to an infection since he joined the Bears. He has been working out the last few days, but Halas did not believe he was physically ready yet.

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (UPI)—The Air Force's lethal F-105 fighter-bomber, built by Republic Aviation here, has been assigned a new and critical cold war role—unarmed.
 The 1400-mile-an-hour jet that is capable of carrying atomic and hydrogen bombs will be the new vehicle of the Air Force's official aerial demonstration team, the Thunderbirds. It will be the aerobatic team's first performance in a Mach 2 (twice the speed of sound) jet. Organized in 1953, the Thunderbirds have performed in some 750 air shows before 50 million spectators in 50 states and 29 foreign nations.

TV Viewers Will Not Literally See Twice As Much Hitchcock This Fall

By ALFRED HITCHCOCK
 Written for UPI
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It is not literally true that television viewers, during the coming season, will see twice as much Alfred Hitchcock as before.
 My diet forbids such a ghastly eventuality.

At the same time that I am determined to remain a sylph of my former self, it is decidedly true that the Alfred Hitchcock Hour, as the title rather plainly implies, will endure for 60 minutes each week instead of 30 minutes, starting Sept. 20.

"Sixty minutes" is, of course, a relative term. From that total must be subtracted time for commercials (that is indeed a temptation), as well as time for my "lead-ins." As long as the public seems willing to abide my presence on the screen, I shall make my brief appearance on the show, even at the risk of exposing myself to the indignities of being an actor.

Permits Natural Style
 Despite the sponsors' infringements upon our time, the one-hour period will allow us to tell full dramatic stories in natural narrative style, whereas the half-hour show permitted us only short tales that led to a "twist" ending.

We are often asked how we have managed to find enough stories to sustain a mystery series over seven years' time. The query always reminds me of my arrival in Hollywood some years ago, when a studio representative accompanied me on the train from New York. He mentioned several movies, asking whether I had seen them.

"No," I replied. "I don't see many movies." The studio man said, "If you don't go to movies, where do you get your ideas from?"

Use Many Sources
 We definitely do not get our ideas for the Alfred Hitchcock Hour from the late, late shows. In doing an anthology of one-hour dramas, we are in fact able to derive stories from all literary novels and all manner and length sources, not only originals but of published works. The half-hour form had limited us to short stories.

One hour also gives more time for character development and for humor, an indispensable item in any successful suspense story. I am privileged to divulge that suspense will remain an active ingredient of all our presentations. Beyond that the network, CBS-TV has earnestly solicited me not to reveal any story content.

Yet I do not think that too many CBS vice presidents will be upset if I relate here just one of the stories we have already filmed for next fall.

It concerns a beautiful blonde whose fiance is a former mental patient, and on one dark night in a hospital laboratory... On second thought, it's too horrible to tell.

Dear Abby....

School Pride Lasts Thirty Years

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How long does it take for a grown man to forget where he went to college? A friend of mine is almost 50, and two minutes after he meets someone he manages to get into the conversation that he went to Harvard. Now I know lots of men who went to Harvard, but they don't mention it 25 times a day. It so happens I never went to college and my income is easily double that of my Harvard friend — which proves you don't have to go to Harvard to be a success.

What can I say to this Harvard grad to let him know he sounds ridiculous? WOODROW WILSON HIGH, 133 DEAR W. W. '33: Persuading a 50-year-old man that he "sounds ridiculous" is a hopeless task. It's just another case where the boy got through college but college never got through the boy. Forget it.

DEAR ABBY: Please help settle a family fight. I have two sisters. They got into a real battle and are not speaking to each other. I steered clear of the fight and am friendly with both of them. One sister says that if I continue to be friendly with the one SHE isn't speaking to, our friendship will have to come to an end. I don't think this is right, what do you think?

THE SISTER IN THE MIDDLE DEAR SISTER: It's your sister's privilege to fight with whom-ever she chooses, but she has no right to force you to non-speaking terms with her enemies.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is the world's dullest man. Whenever we go to a friend's home he goes off by himself and listens to the radio. Or else he just sits and talks to the dog! He never has a thing to say. I try to draw him into the conversation and he answers with a YES or a NO. What does a wife do when she is married to a moron like this?

BORED AND EMBARRASSED DEAR B AND E: Who picked

this moron? And why? CONFIDENTIAL TO HIGH POCKETS: The guy who always winds up with the check is not necessarily a "good kid." He is more of a goat.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Knowing that she will use her cologne lavishly during the hot summer months, this woman buys her favorite light fragrance by the quart.

Splash On Cologne By The Quart To Cool Sultry, Hot Summer Days

By ALICIA HART Newspaper Enterprise Assn. It takes a little more effort to stay dainty and well-groomed during summer than at any other time of year. We start the day crisp and fresh after a shower and before we reach the office or the supermarket, we're limp and sodden. Frequent showers and baths are good weapons for beating the heat, but don't rely on cold baths to revive you. They will give only temporary relief, while a tepid bath will give your body a chance to release internal heat through the skin and keep you cooler for hours afterward. Cologne is a most important summertime grooming aid. During all other seasons, it's simply an accompaniment to your matching perfume. But during the hot weather, it can be slathered on with a free hand, the more the better. There's a reason for this. Cologne, in addition to the perfume essence, contains a high percentage of cooling alcohol that works like magic on body warmth. And while it cools, it imparts a delightful aura of fragrance. Keep a bottle in your desk drawer for use during working hours, and a large bottle at home to splash freely. One summer cologne, dainty and garden fresh, now comes in a 32-ounce bottle for lavish use on sultry days. You'll look dainty and feel cooler after a tepid bath and a generous application of light fragrance.

★ Polly's Quiz ★

By Polly Cramer

The "just right" item to start the wheels rolling for a smart room scheme may turn up when you least expect it. Just the other day, as I wandered through a large store looking for something else, I came across a table filled with enchanting denims in plaids and stripes. They were priced at less than a dollar a yard.

One of these, narrow rose pink and white stripes printed like bed ticking, went home with me. This denim will go into wall covering, curtains and bed trimmings to make a small girl of my acquaintance happy. Always shop with mind and eyes wide open.

Dear Polly: We are remodeling part of our basement into a family room. Walls are light brown prefinished mahogany panels. Ceiling and trim are cream. My husband has built a much-needed closet just off the main room.

To add more color, I thought of making orange draperies for this instead of having a door. Drape at the one small, high window would match.

Only furniture now is an old sofa (must be covered) and a light brown day bed. We need them both. We thought of buying a brown wall-to-wall carpet to put on the black asphalt tile floor.

Would three or four bamboo chairs blend properly with the couch? Please suggest colors for a striking effect and advise about chairs.—Mrs. J. O. W.

Dear Mrs. J. O. W.: I would use a louvered door at the closet opening as well as shutters at the small window. You'll find them more practical and just as gay if you paint them orange.

Bamboo or peel cane tub chairs would be smart, inexpensive, easy to move about and a cinch to paint a bright color. A good choice all around.

Striped denim for couch cover and seat pads for chairs might be brown, black, cream, olive green and orange. Why not let the black tile floor show, using only a big area rug with lots of cream and olive green in it?

Dear Polly: Our bedroom walls are painted crystal pink and I plan to paint the woodwork the same. Should I paint the door that leads from the hallway into the pink bedroom the same color? Or lilac like the hall walls? Would it be too dark if I painted the hall woodwork lilac.—Mrs. C. C. DEAR Mrs. C. C.: Paint the door pink on the bedroom side. Paint hall woodwork and doors white for a nicer effect when they are opened into other rooms.

It is just plain rudeness to sound the horn when it isn't absolutely necessary.

The Mature Parent

'Guilty' Mother

Confuses Values

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

One hot summer night several years ago an unstable young girl I know had a bitter argument with her mother and took an overdose of sleeping pills. Becoming frightened, she telephoned me to ask me to inform her parents. In exchange for her promise to tell them herself, I agreed to go to the house.

The mother opened the door to me. She said:

"The doctor is with her now. Do you know what she did? She broke my bottle of French perfume. When she took the sleeping pills, she knocked it off the bathroom shelf. Why is she so careless?"

I was so appalled I could not speak. My mind, given to the despair of the child who had condemned her young life as meaningless, could not take in this concern for perfume. I thought, "This woman is dead or monstrous." Then suddenly I saw her eyes, and I knew that she was neither. I saw that her guilt had reached a point where she could not take her share of responsibility for what had happened to her daughter, she had to concern herself with the loss of French perfume.

Reducing Can Be Pleasant

Here is a letter from Mortimer Hawk, 3602 N. Big Spring, Midland, Texas. "I have had a most wonderful experience with Barcentrate. I weighed 200 pounds and most everything I ate contributed to more weight. I was hungry most of the time and ate profusely. Consequently, I felt sluggish and was constantly bothered with bloating, gas pains, acid indigestion and irregular bowel movements. I commenced to take Barcentrate and lost 20 pounds and I am no longer bothered with bloating, gas pains, sour stomach or acid indigestion."

School Jumpers Give Variety

Jumper dresses go to school for fall.

MARY BROOKS-PICKEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Make a jumper dress. Have for it at least three separate blouses, or two blouses and a sweater, of white, navy or a pastel that is smart with the color of the jumper. This way you gain variety and can have your costume look fresh and attractive with a minimum of washing and ironing.

Jumpers, no matter whether for a 6-7 year old or a 16-year-old, should be of a fairly firm fabric. There are available imitation linens in drip dry fabrics that are ideal. There are also fabrics with a small amount of wool that makes the garment look and act like wool — yet at the price of a good cotton.

A circular skirt, if short enough to be perky and becoming, is ideal for college, high, or grade school wear. A circular skirt looks nice sitting down, and is comfortable. It is easy to care for, as you do not sit on the same wrinkle twice.

Jumpers at the left, in sketch, should be joined at the waist. Buttons are there for decoration. Jumper has a center back zipper. Neckline, armholes and skirt should have a true bias or fitted facing. When a true bias or fitted facing is used at the bottom, greater care must be used in turning the hem, to be sure it is even. But even with these necessary precautions, circular skirt jumpers are not difficult and they are ever so attractive.

Seams in front of bodice can be pressed open, stitched on each side, or a welt seam used. Center front and center back seam of skirt are notched and pressed open.

For the dress at right, a 3-inch hem is good for the skirt. Neck and armholes are finished with a true bias or fitted facing. (See detail for applied pockets.)

Top-Stitched Seam
Also called doubled-stitched. Pink or overcast edges of plain pressed-open seam. From right side, stitch on each side of seam, using narrow or wide side of presser foot as a guide to keep stitching an even distance from the seam line.

Welt Seam
Practical for firm fabrics.

Open-Welt or Tucked Seam
Even-baste seam line with short stitches, but do not machine stitch. Press both seam edges to one side; then machine stitch the distance from the seam line that you want tucked to be. The tucked seam when you remove basting. Provide extra seam width when wide tucks are desired.

Slip-Stitched Pocket
On a slip-stitched pocket, no stitching shows on the right side. Stitch one edge of the bias binding to the hem edge. Turn the hem to the right side of the pocket, and stitch through the hem to the right side of the pocket, and stitch through the hem on both sides. Stitch along both sides of the pocket and across the bottom. Clip the two corners, as shown.

Walt Seams should be made in firm fabrics that tailor perfectly and hold their shape.
Slip-Stitched Pocket
Turn the hem back to the wrong side, and slip stitch it down. Turn the seams back to the wrong side, exactly on the stitching line, and catch stitch all raw edges down.
Baste the pocket to the garment. Then, with matching thread, slip stitch the pocket in position, securing the corners so that they will not pull out. The stitching line on the edges helps the pocket to hold its shape and also gives a foundation for the slip stitches.

Travel Tips Make Vacationing Easier

ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When you plan what to pack for your vacation trip, don't include the small things that you can buy when you reach your destination.
Why use valuable space in your suitcase for boxes of tissue, extra suntan lotion and a lot of cosmetics? Take what you need for a day or two and buy the extras later.

If you plan a European vacation, however, you will need to pack soap and cleansing tissues. Know the kind of place you've chosen for your vacation. If it's not particularly dressy, two dinner dresses, with different accessories should do the trick for a two-week stay. Take along comfortable walking shoes for your sight-seeing excursions. Select daytime dresses that can be worn with the same bag and shoes.

As a safety measure, pack a small bag with your cosmetics, toilet articles and sleepwear for the night of your arrival and keep it with you.

Then, if there's a mix-up with the heavy luggage, you'll at least be set for the night. You'll be tired after your trip and better able to cope with the luggage problem if you've been able to freshen up and have a night's rest first.

Relax into Sleep
During the summer season, teenagers are more active than at any other time of year. And because the heat as well as the exercise can be fatiguing, some slowing down is called for.
A good time to relax is an hour or so before sleep. Take a warm bath, get into bed, turn on a good bed light and read for a while. You'll feel tension slip away, and when you're ready to put out the light, you'll be relaxed enough to insure a good night's rest.
Reading will also help you socially. You'll soon find that you can speak intelligently on a variety of subjects, and stimulating conversation is welcome anywhere.

You needn't read books that you might consider dull or "square." You'll find food for thought and exchange of ideas right between the covers of many of today's best sellers.

Remove Make-up
It seems incredible that any woman would need to be reminded to remove her make-up before going to bed. Yet some of the most famous beauty salons admit that many women are guilty of this beauty-destroying habit.
Whether you want to preserve an expert job of makeup or you've just come home too tired to bother, the end result will be large, clogged pores, blackheads and blemishes that no cosmetics will be able to conceal.

You can do the same damage to your complexion if you apply new make-up over old during the day. To keep your skin clear and glowing, NEVER neglect to remove every trace of make-up before you retire and before you make "facial repairs" during working hours.

The African Violet Society met with Mrs. Holly Gray, 1320 Charles, Tuesday and voted to join the Pampa Council of Garden Clubs.
Members decided to meet at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 19 with Mrs. Norman Walberg and plan to attend the Pampa Garden Club meeting Sept. 11. The by-laws of the Pampa Council of Garden Clubs were read and approved and the minutes were read by Mrs. R. F. Dirksen, secretary.
Mrs. Gray served the covered dish super in her yard which was decorated with lanterns.

ASK THE DESIGNER by gail dugas

Dear Gail: I am short, 5 feet 2, stout, and in my 60s with upper arms that I am ashamed of. I cover them with three-quarter sleeves. My hair is gray, my eyes brown. After searching through many stores for months, I have finally decided to attempt making a dress for myself. (The attached sample is the material I prefer.)

This dress may be street length with three-quarter sleeves and V neckline. If the skirt is full or slightly full, would it look too bulky to have the bodice shirred? And how should the sleeves be made? What color slip would you suggest? And would China silk be right for the slip?—Mrs. T. H. C.

Dear Mrs. T. H. C.: The sample periwinkle blue chiffon that you enclosed is very pretty. Advice on how the dress should look comes from designer Cecil Chapman, who knows everything to be known about handling and draping chiffon. She says:

"I would suggest that you make the dress with an easy top and slightly full skirt cut, perhaps, in gored. The waistline should be defined so I suggest that you use a belt. The three-quarter sleeve is a good idea but I would make it with a little softness below the elbow so that you can push the sleeves up a bit if you like."

"I believe I would use a silk heavier than China silk for the slip. And do try to match the periwinkle blue; this will be exactly right under the chiffon."

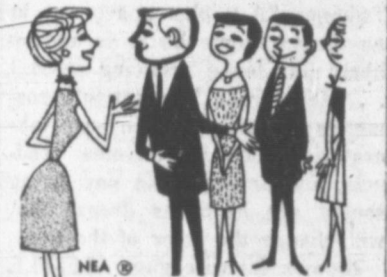

Dear Gail: Please help me select an appropriate and adequate wardrobe for a one-week stay in New York City in July. Mostly, we will be sightseeing and taking in some plays. I have a dull black satin embroidered cocktail dress, a floral nylon chiffon dress in blue and green and a red cotton embroidered dress with high neck in front and low in back. It has elbow-length sleeves. Would any of these be appropriate for a gala night in New York? What about hats at any time?—Mrs. L. H.

Dear Mrs. L. H.: Suggestions for a capsule wardrobe for a week in New York come from designer David Crystal. He says:

"The understated look is the important one in New York. So you'll want to look your best in the simple, casual, chic lines that typify this city. Begin with a smart, cool three-piece seersucker suit which comes with its own sleeveless overblouse.

"For aircooled spots (New York is filled with them), the jacket will come in handy. Then, you might add a black knit nylon dress for theater evenings. It will pack to the size of a hanky and can't possible wrinkle. It washes like a dream and stays fresh with very little care. Another good day-

At a large reception, give your name to the person at the head of the receiving line. It will be passed along.

Grandma's Day Lacked Experts

Today everything's a problem—and for every problem there are experts — real or self-styled, ready to give the answers.
There's even a book out now that tells teen-agers how to be teen-agers. At least that seems to be the gist of it.
The publicity sheet on the book promises that it will include such vital information as "tips on walking gracefully in high heels," "how to make small talk," "how to shape eyebrows," "when is the best time to ask a girl to a prom" — and even "what to do after the prom is over."
Back in the days before the word teen-ager was even coined — adolescents were expected to work out such problems for themselves.
A girl learned to walk on high heels, like she learned to walk on stilts, teetering around until she finally got the hang of it.
Small talk must have come quite naturally — for nobody both-

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

The Power To Tax

Why do monkeys love their mothers? Why do people behave as they do at cocktail parties?

How many leaves grow on a short cotton plant on the average? What is the proper relationship between husband and wife?

Are you engrossed in finding an answer to these fascinating enigmas?

Is so, you must be very pleased with some delightful research programs recently undertaken by the federal government.

To find out why monkeys love their mothers, your tax money has been taken to the tune of some $1.2 million. Imagine how much more important this is than the things that you might have bought with that money. Of course, this program only costs each taxpayer a very small sum. Still, it all adds up.

And we MUST know why baby monkeys are so fond of their maternal parents. Right?

$89,000 has been appropriated to study the behavior of people at cocktail parties. Presumably, a good portion of this sum will be spent in providing the libations. What a jolly good party could be thrown on government money, and all in the sacred name of "research."

As for husband-wife relationships, this has received only a paltry $33.1 thousand.

But just how much the cotton leaf-counting program is going to cost isn't known. A thousand scientists (or technicians) have been employed to undertake the counting in various areas of the country. Clearly, this may turn out to be the most costly of the lot.

But it isn't really the cost of these programs which is so distressing. Put altogether, they probably won't amount to more than a four-cent stamp for each of us which many people will spend in protest of the waste and the extravagance.

We mention these things because we believe the time has come to protest NOT the amount of money being foolishly frittered away by our massive bureau-

The Moon—Status Symbol

Ever since the space age was launched by the first Russian sputnik, America has been pushing its resources and its taxing programs in an effort to be the first to reach the moon.

It is quite acceptable these days to enthuse over the prospect. We are going to gain certain military advantages, it is claimed. We will gain economically and socially. We will gain scientifically.

Millions upon millions of dollars are already being spent in our "crash program" to get some cosmonauts on the moon before the Russians or anyone else can manage it.

Although it may be unpopular to say it, we are not so certain that this program is worth all the fuss and feathers. In fact, to the degree that Americans are being lured by their dollars so that a hundred thousand men can toil frantically in this space race, to this degree is human freedom being impaired. And we would not trade one tiny fraction of human freedom for a Saturn's ring of moons.

As to the military advantage of being first on the moon, the "experts" have varying opinions. One such expert, when pressed to explain how the moon would constitute a military advantage, came up with this:

"We'll develop new techniques which will surely be of military importance.

"Let me give you an example: One of the things that we began on was the study of 'impact'—heavy impact. It turned out as an indirect result of this that it is possible to produce diamonds by shock. Now industrial diamonds are a strategic material. It's a sort of 'fallout' from the program."

This fairly well sums up the cracy, but at the ability this same bureaucracy has to decide how and where it will take and spend our money.

If we are only going to protest because of the amounts involved, we are going to be stopped in our tracks. But surely we ought to be able to marshal a pretty good case on the principles involved, not the amounts. What is certainly a growing necessity is a clipping of the wings of federal power.

Sometimes we are prone to wonder if these instances of arrant foolishness are not simply slipped into the Congressional or bureaucratic mill for purposes of raising a smoke screen to keep our minds and attentions from the really significant things that are being done to us.

After all, what persons, aside from zoologists, really care a snap about the affections of the spider monkey or the blue-nosed baboon? Just about everyone in the country could be outraged over this nonsense.

And while we're getting upset over these particulars, the federal government will swamp us with a multi-billion dollar grab for our schools, another multi-billion dollar grab for our highways, another multi-billion dollar grab for our foreign give-away program and another billion dollar grab for our military build-up. We'll succumb without a whimper when we prematurely blow up a few multi-million dollar rockets.

But we'll raise all kinds of a rumpus over the Freudian frolic with our simian friends.

It isn't the amount of the tax bite, nor is it the places where the tax money is spent that really matters. What does matter in a big way is the totally unbridled power of the government to tax us in any amount, to reduce us to penury for anything it chooses to call the "public good."

Either we believe in the rights of individuals to their own earnings, or we believe in the power and rightness of government which violates these rights. We can't have it both ways.

view of the militarists which has little to go on except "hope," "expectation," "possibility" and so on.

But one thing does emerge in discussions with them. They don't want the Russians to get to the moon first. And therein lies the whole reason for the race. The moon has become an international status symbol.

Reaching it may turn out to be a complete waste of time and money. But if we can do it ahead of the Russians then we will have won a certain amount of "status" among the nations of the world and we simply couldn't bear the thought of having the Russians achieve this status symbol ahead of us.

The $20 to $40 billion race to the moon is costing us being expended so we can keep up with Ivan, instead of the Joneses.

As for the scientific gains to be made, and this of course is the one place where some solid justification might occur, we rather go along with Dr. R. L. F. Boyd, a leading space scientist of Britain. Dr. Boyd insists that there is very little we can discover by putting a man on the moon that we cannot discover right from earth by means of instruments.

He says: "The plain fact of the matter is that for one tenth of the cost—something of that order—one could get 90 percent of the valuable information. You have to ask yourself whether you are going to increase the whole cost of the project by a factor of 10 to rake in the remaining ten percent of information. I don't think we know enough yet about the moon to decide whether it's useful to have a man there."

And we think this is rather a crusher:

"I don't really think the reason

Pull Up A Chair

By Neal O'Hara

Nearly two-thirds of all American job-holders drive to work in their private cars or in car pools, the Census Bureau reports. And incredible as it seems, the next most popular mode of getting to work is by walking, by 10 percent of the nation's workers. Nearly 5 million persons, half of them farmers, work at home. Although diabetes is primarily an inherited disorder, it has been established that obesity may play an important contributing part in its development. Today's Health magazine reports, for instance, a person who has a family history of diabetes may never develop the disease if he is careful to keep on the lean side. But if he becomes grossly overweight, there's a strong probability that diabetes will develop.

Item in the New York Herald Tribune: "A triplex apartment in an elegant town house is an unlikely liar for a reducing salon. . . . Hey, girls! The nation's cosmetics makers maintain busy laboratories searching for new products, and among those now being sought are 'harmless' drops that will change the color of the eyes.

Today's favorite gag: LITTLE ELSIE — "Mother, they're going to teach us domestic science at school next week." MOTHER — "You mean domestic science, don't you, dear?" FATHER (overhearing) — "Let us hear our little girl know what she is saying."

. . . Distinction: In the whole solar system, Mars and Mercury are the only planets not always surrounded by a thick, impenetrable atmosphere, and whose solid surfaces may be examined by astronomers.

Most major cities have a "Groom Shop" for the renting of formal wedding clothes to sturdy males, along with gifts for ushers, jewelry and other accessories. . . . Old Helpful at the bat again: Try using fruit juice instead of milk in the making of an omelet. You may be surprised. Variety's term for TV Westerns: "Mesa Mustangers."

Thoughts while shaving: 1. Since he functioned in the earlier days of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration, wonder has James A. Farley changed his theory about voters in presidential elections, with that of 1960 especially in mind. In that era Mr. Farley estimated that in a presidential contest all but 3 per cent of the nation's voters had made up their minds for whom they'd vote at least a fortnight before election day. . . . 2. In modern times there has never been a shrewder calculator than Jim Farley was in the 1936 election. In the closing days of that campaign he assured FDR that he'd carry every state except two — Maine and Vermont. And those proved to be the only states FDR failed to carry. . . . 3. And never, in modern times, was there a greater miscalculation than that of the Literary Digest for that same year of 1936. That was when the Lit. Dig., as a result of its famed nation-wide poll, predicted on the eve of election that Alfred M. Landon, the Republican candidate against Roosevelt, would win. . . . 4. And unforgettable is the front cover of the Literary Digest the week following its bum guess. The cover was printed in deep crimson. And the caption was: "Is Our Five Red?"

Country editor speaking: "It's not right to marry a man for his money, but there are times when that's the only way you can get it."

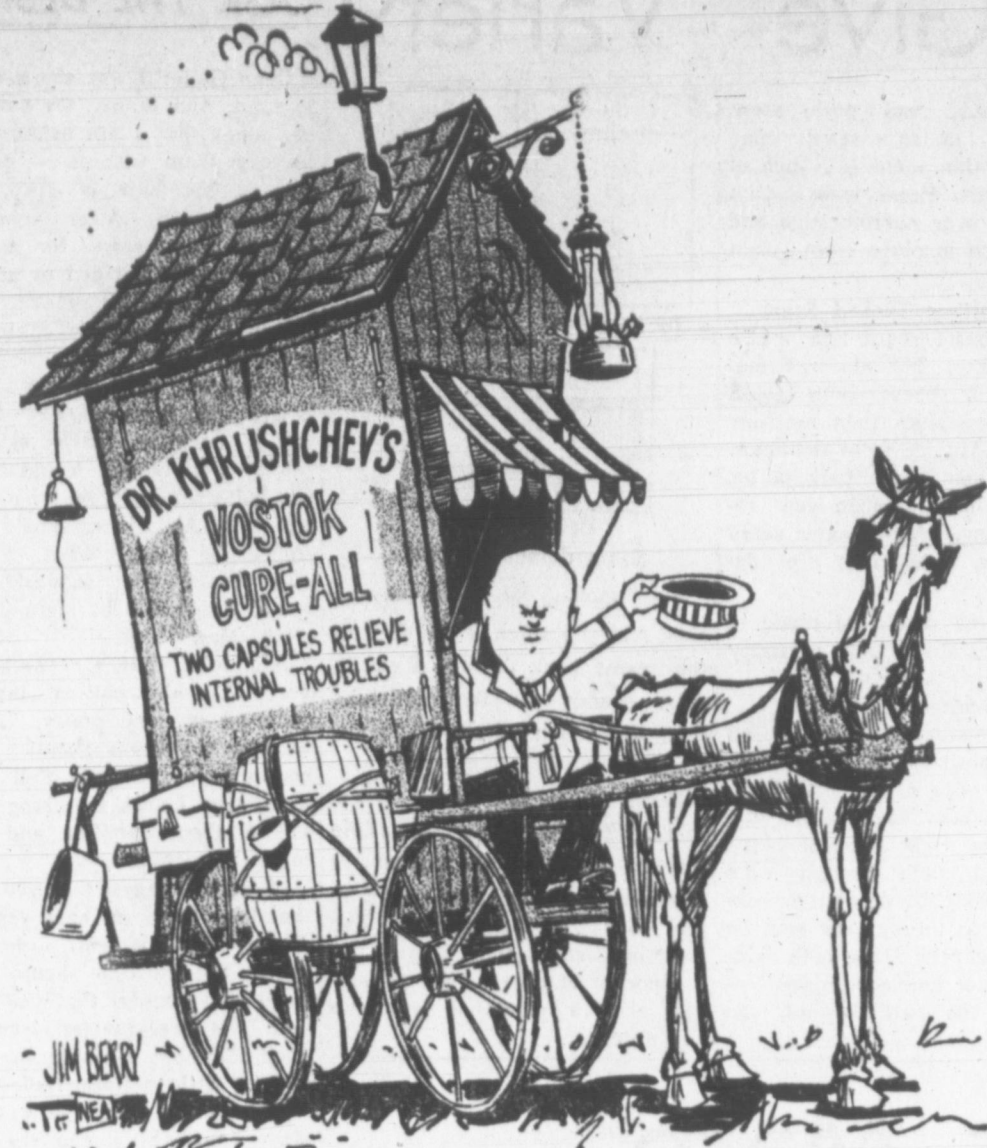

the great powers are sending men into space is scientific at all. Personally, I am rather sorry that frequently, science is dragged in as the justification for what I really regard as a political exercise.

"Now, I'm not saying that it's unwise, for example, of the United States to do manned space flights. This may, in fact, be the best political thing they can do."

Again the inference is clear. The moon has become the most expensive and possibly the most useless status symbol of all time. If anything of value were to be discovered there, the cost of bringing it back to the world would virtually remove its value. Economically, the moon race is a total dud.

As for social gains, it is wholly doubtful that a species of people who haven't learned how to live on this planet are going to learn more about it by putting someone on a satellite. The military and the scientific reasons given, boil down to a rush for prestige.

We wonder how much we'd lose if taxes were repealed and we were permitted to do what we please with these same dollars.

The American Way

HELP! THEY'RE ROBBING WIDOWS AGAIN! By Harry Browne

(Editor's Note: Harry Browne is the Associate Editor of American Progress Magazine; and Managing Editor of American Way Features, Inc.)

Loud and clear, throughout the land, the politicians are calling for a tax cut. They propose to reduce income taxes — claiming that this will put more money into the hands of the consumer, thereby stimulating the economy. Is that really what will happen? Let's trace the inevitable chain of events:

1. The government lowers income taxes — let's suppose it cuts $9 billion.
2. The government's deficit for the current fiscal year is thereby increased by $9 billion.
3. In order to finance the increased deficit, the Treasury Department sells additional bonds, totaling $9 billion, to the banks of the Federal Reserve System.
4. The Reserve System pays for the bonds by issuing the equivalent in new paper money (Federal Reserve Notes).
5. These notes increase the amount of money in circulation (by $9 billion), thereby decreasing the total value of all money already in circulation (by $9 billion). Since only the supply of dollars is increased, while the supply of commodities remains the same, each commodity will inevitably equal more dollars. We call these rising prices "inflation."
6. Those who receive the income tax cuts may not be hurt by the inflation, because they can obtain cost-of-living pay raises. But senior citizens, widows, disabled veterans and others living on fixed savings will be forced to make up the difference — by having their money worth less than before the tax cut was instituted.
7. Thus, the $9 billion tax load is shifted from the wage-earners (whom the politicians usually call "those with the ability to pay") to the poor widows and others who can least afford it. This is the result of inflation.

In other words, a "reduction in taxes" without an equal reduction in federal spending is nothing but fiction. It is just a shifting of the load to areas we don't watch as closely. To gain favor with the wage-earner, the politician turns to robbing widows again!

Let's make a motion to bring about real taxpayer relief. Here's how it works:

1. Cancel all foreign aid for a starter. If the nation is as bad off as the government says, we obviously can't afford to support alien governments around the world. That will save $4.5 billion.
2. Eliminate all farm subsidies, price supports, soil bank, and other agricultural subsidies. That would save our widows about another $4.5 billion.
3. Thus, we will have saved $9 billion for the government this year, without losing a penny's worth of service. This will save the average family $225 in taxes. And that will be true relief, not the sleight-of-hand variety.

In fact — for real relief, let's pass the Liberty Amendment. That will compel the government to give up all of its wasteful, unconstitutional activities — thus providing for complete repeal of income taxes.

That will certainly "get the economy moving" — as well as restore our lost liberties — and it will be the American Way!

Although it is now on everyone's lips, "astronaut" is a comparatively new word in our language. When women are selected to make trips around the earth and to the moon and other planets, another new word will be used more and more frequently. That word, "astronette."

It's Up To You

by HOWARD KERSHNER L. H. D.

The third assembly of the World Council of Churches very appropriately appealed to all governments for peace. It correctly said that to achieve peace "all must renounce the threat of war."

At the close of World War II the Western nations did "renounce the threat of war," demobilized, came home, sunk their munitions in the sea and disarmed. The Communist juggernaut rolled on westward and eastward absorbing one country after another. No one can claim this war-like attitude was the result of threats issuing from the West, for there was none at that time. In fact, the absence of armaments in the Western nations greatly hastened Communist expansion.

The will to peace exists in the Western nations; it does not exist in the Communist nations. The chief aim of the latter is conquest, expansion and world domination. To be sure, they would like to do this by peaceful means if possible, but as Khrushchev said, their fingers never faltered on the trigger if they believed that war would hasten the realization of their ambitions.

It cannot be said that strife and the threat of war in the world today is equally chargeable to East and West. If communism stops its aggression, peace will immediately be available. Consider that Communist aggressions in Viet Nam, in Laos, in the Congo, in Cuba, in Korea and elsewhere are the reasons why the world is not a peace but, in desperate fear, is arming and developing nuclear science because there seems to be no other way to counter the Communist threat.

I believe that more progress could be made toward meeting this situation if these facts were frankly faced and the policy formulated for dealing with them rather than to continue the fiction of mutual guilt and continuing to find fault with both East and West for carrying on military activities.

The World Council wants to "strengthen the United Nations within the framework and spirit of the Charter. . . ." The spirit of the Charter calls for peace but the spirit of communism is one of aggression and it has repeatedly proclaimed that it will be satisfied with nothing short of the destruction of all opposing systems and worldwide domination. It is unrealistic to put our heads in the sand and refuse to face up to the fact that the objectives of the Western nations and of the Communist nations are not one and the same. The former sincerely wants peace; the latter wants expansion, more territory, power and world domination. This dichotomy will not go away by mere hoping, wishing or addressing impartial appeals to both East and West as though the fault were equally chargeable to both.

The appeal speaks of building "peace with justice." Will the Council appeal for justice for the three Baltic countries wiped out by the Soviet Union and large members of their leaders mercilessly liquidated? Will it appeal for justice to the Eastern European countries who were promised the right of setting up govern-

Money Haunts Closing Congress

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — The annual horse stretch sprint is now on in Congress with the money stakes running in billions.

The question before every candidate for re-election is whether to vote for bigger spending bills in Congress to show voters back home how much their representative in Washington has done for his state and district.

The alternative is to vote big cuts on all appropriation bills in an appeal to economy-minded voters who think the government is already spending too much as it is.

Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., writes his constituents that the $885 million Interior appropriation bill just passed will give his state $11 million in nice, new, federal money.

Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., tells his state it will benefit by $297 million in payroll and $114 million in prime contracts from Department of Defense. Also, $6 million more for hospitals and another $6 million for schools.

Similar letters are being sent by other congressmen to every state in the union for, so far, this has not been an economizing Congress. On the five appropriation bills for this year approved by Congress as this is written, the total of nearly $60 billion is $44 million above Kennedy budget requests.

These figures include a boost of $229 million to a total of $48.1 billion for Department of Defense. The other four bills appropriating the Legislative, Post Office, Interior, Labor, Health, Education and Welfare funds were cut only $185 million below budget requests. Total for these appropriations: $11.8 billion.

House of Representatives has a pretty good record on cutting back money bills. It is the Senate which is profligate, restoring cuts which the House has accepted as a compromise.

Rep. Jerry Ford, R-Mich., has dug up figures to show that in the last 10 years, the Senate has raised House appropriation bills by $32 billion. In conference, the House has been able to make $10 billion of its cuts stick.

But the net effect is that the Senate has increased government spending by a $2.2 billion-a-year average over House-approved appropriations in the last decade. The other side of this story is that pressure is now building up in Congress for an all-out economy drive in the remaining weeks of this session. House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck and others have declared open opposition to the quickie tax cut law being considered by President Kennedy. The Halleck alternative is for a drastic cut in government spending. He can probably muster a lot of conservative Democratic as well as Republican support.

The trouble is that this idea comes pretty late in the session, after two-thirds of the money for this year's government operations has already been appropriated by Congress.

Another trouble is that the economists have not come up with any carefully prepared, specific proposals on how much to cut or where the cuts should be made: So if any reductions are made in this year's $93 billion budget, they will be by a slashing, meat ax attack, with ringing election year criticisms of Kennedy administration reckless extravagance with the taxpayers' money.

The administration's $546 million request for fallout shelters has already been cut to 10 million. Land acquisition costs for three new government buildings in Washington have been eliminated, including one for the FBI, which needs more room and usually gets what it wants.

The President's request for $2 billion standby authority to start new public works in recessions is threatened. The $500 million urban transportation measure is endangered. So are the wilderness preservation and land conservation for recreation programs.

The $2.6 billion college bill, now in conference, and the $1.2 billion programs for teacher training, elementary and secondary education grants are in jeopardy. So are medical and dental education aid and the Youth Conservation Corps.

On the other hand, the House Post Office Committee has tentatively approved a $1.2 billion pay increase for postal workers. So there's no telling what the final score will be.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 22, the 234th day of 1962 with 131 to follow.

The moon is in its last quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history: In 1762, the first American woman newspaper editor — Ann Franklin — assumed her duties on the Newport Mercury at Newport, R. I.

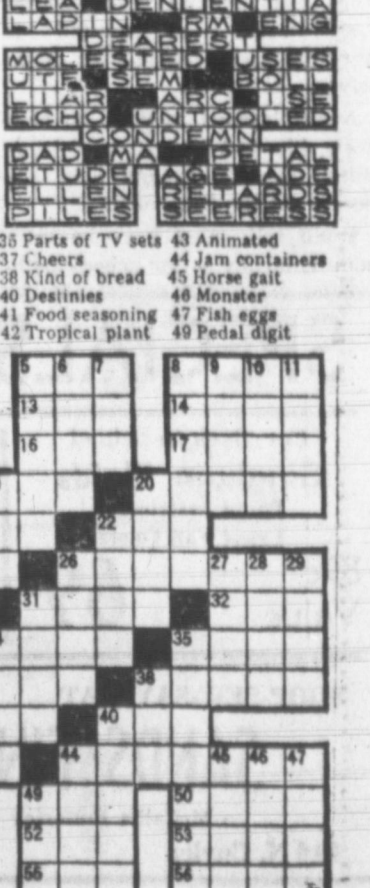

In 1911, the Mona Lisa was stolen from the Louvre museum in Paris. In 1941, Nazi troops reached the outskirts of Leningrad, Russia.

In 1958, President Eisenhower offered to halt U.S. nuclear testing for one year if Russia would agree to a similar suspension. A thought for the day: Will Rogers, the American humorist, said: "Everything is funny as long as it is happening to somebody else."

Wall Street in Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — The

Investment Stock Survey says, "We do not consider the 600 level in the Dow-Jones industrial average to have any magical significance." The only meaning it carries derives from the simple fact that it's a nice round number and serves as a focus for discussion and conjecture. The survey believes that the market must consolidate for some time at prices near 600 before it can stage a major move.

One major group, destined not many new fields of science, has yet to fully reflect these prospects in the market — and that is the aerospace industry, the company states. Harris, Upham & Co. says that depressed groups that have had larger and longer readjustments than the general market in recent years are being watched closely for signs of renewed buying interest. These include: aerospace, aluminum, chemicals, copper, electronics, machinery and vending machines.

Try Reading A Mattress

By JESSE BOGUE
 PUPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Some time when you're short of bedside reading, you might try what's on your pillow or mattress.

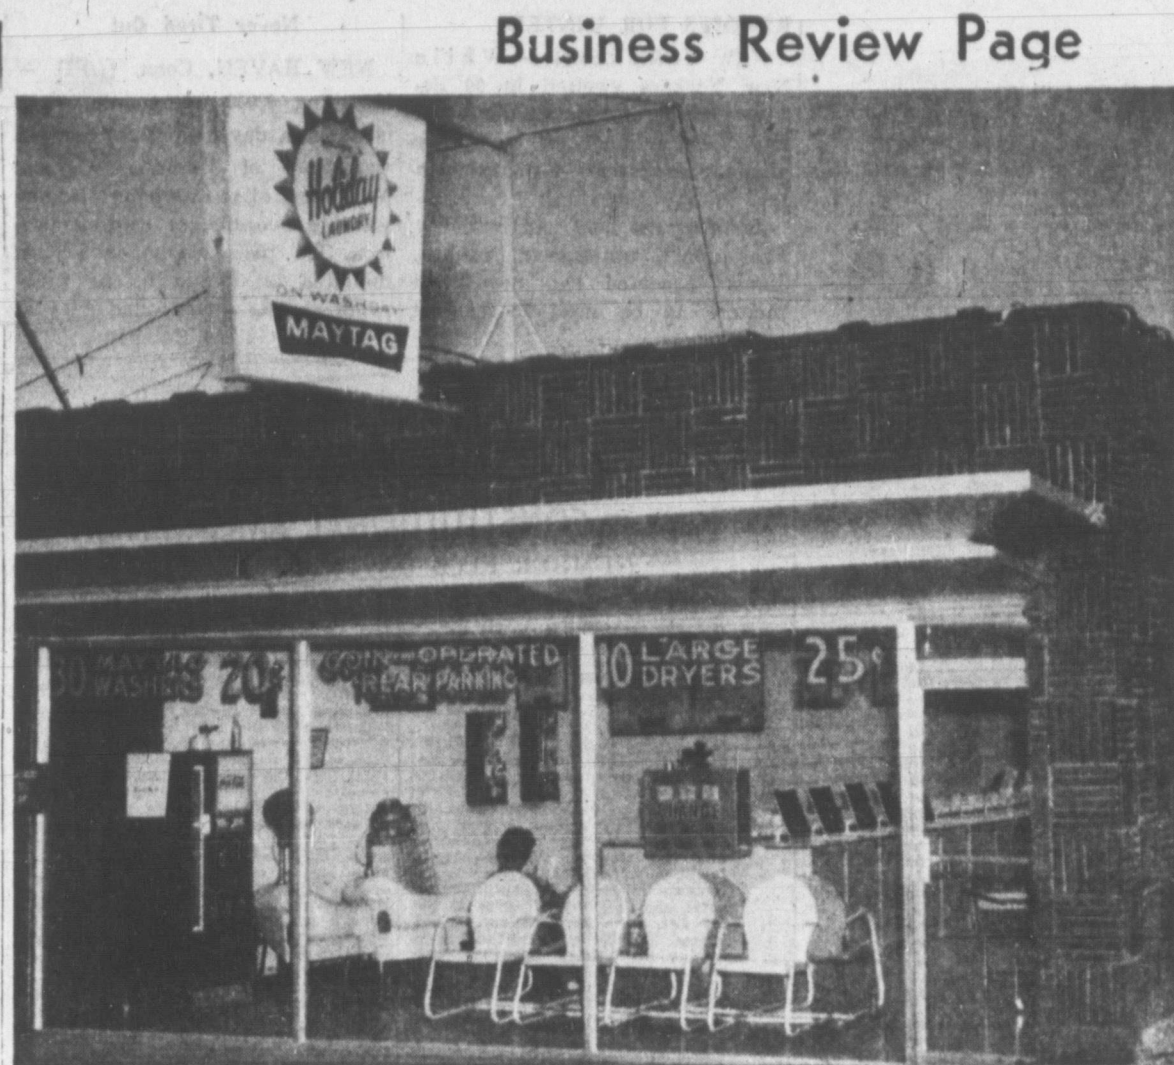

In more than four-fifths of the states, the manufactured articles of bedding and upholstered furniture must bear a tag telling the buyer what's inside the cover, latex foam, urethane foam, horse-hair or whatever.

Chances are fairly good that the tag may still be on the article, even though you may have owned it for some time. The tag says "do not remove under penalty of the law," and while it hardly would apply to the ultimate consumer, and although the provision was intended for the seller, the injunction seems to discourage many housekeepers from doing away with it.

Most of the labeling laws date back many years; in New York state, the government includes a division devoted to enforcement here.

Robert L. McCann, director of the division of upholstery and bedding, New York Department of State, has said that there are many variations in the state labeling laws.

Some require that manufacturers tag upholstered furniture or bedding with labels giving the names of the fillers; others specify that percentages of each material used as filler be listed.

You'll Find A Perfect Gift At Party Shoppe

If you're planning a party, or need the perfect gift for any occasion, be sure to stop at the Party Shoppe, 1425 N. Hobart. Mrs. Wanda Watkins, owner and operator, stocks gifts for all occasions.

A popular item is the Lol-De-Rol candles designed in variegated colors to match the decor of your room. Also on display are the spiral and tapered Vicrylite and Halo candles in a variety of gay colors.

Specially arranged display tables hold a variety of treats for party favors to highlight any children's or adults' parties.

If it's bargains you seek, look over the modern designed Nambe serving ware, now marked at one-half off the original price. There are fruit and flower bowls, serving bowls and ash trays which can be purchased as separate pieces or as a setting.

To "beautify anyone's" home there are wall plaques, pictures and clocks in Early American and Provincial designs.

Located for easy shopping is the large display of Hallmark greeting cards, napkins, stationery, tray and glass coasters. You will find a card to make any gift a pleasant surprise.

Now is the time to start your Christmas shopping and $1 will hold any purchase until Christmas at the Party Shoppe.

While making your selection, don't fail to look at the "gag" counter where you will find several laugh gifts.

While planning the kids' party be sure to inquire about the Mexican Pinata game. The Pinata is a gayly colored figurine hung from the ceiling, and each child is blindfolded and given three strikes at the Pinata. When it is broken open, the contents spill to the floor and each guest grabs for the "goodies."

For all bridge accessories and a complete line of Charles Goren rules, The Party Shoppe, 1425 N. Hobart, will fill your need.

Another fast selling item is the little Peter Pauper book covering a variety of subjects including religion, comedy, cooking, philosophy.

No matter what you're looking for in any party decorations or gifts, the Party Shoppe is headquarters for you. Stop by and browse around.

Foreign News Commentary

By BRUCE W. MUNN
 United Press International

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The transfer of West New Guinea from the Netherlands to Indonesia may have far-reaching consequences that extend beyond the boundaries of those two countries.

The transfer, formalized in a U. N. agreement last week, was a loss-of-prestige deal for the Dutch, although it was evident they had wanted out of the South-west Pacific territory for years.

It involved The Hague's signing away the last remnant of the once great Dutch East Indies empire, a chunk of territory eight times the size of the mother country.

Loss of West New Guinea, which cost the Netherlands some $30 million a year—a sizable sum for the Dutch budget—left as Holland's principal possessions the relatively rich South American territory of Surinam (also called Guiana) and the Netherlands Antilles in the West Indies, including oil-important Aruba and Curacao.

Whatever the government's thinking on the West New Guinea territory, it was an unpopular move with the Dutch public.

It brought sharp criticism of the United States, which turned down Dutch overtures for American fighting help when Indonesian President Sukarno started talk of war to take the territory, and placed a new strain on ever taut NATO relationships.

Sukarno claimed the territory, retained by the Dutch when Indonesia became independent in 1949, on grounds that it was geographically part of the former Dutch East Indies. He argued that the native Papuans were the same stock as Indonesians. And he boasted that the Indonesian flag would fly over the territory "before the first cock crows in 1963."

Capitulation of the Netherlands on his terms—including the stipulation that the Indonesian flag be hoisted in Hollandia Dec. 31 although Indonesia's sovereignty does not take effect until May—gave him a popularity-building bone to throw to his people.

Referendum in 1969

Sukarno agreed to the Netherlands' demand for an "act of self-determination" by the natives by 1969. But the agreement makes no provision for the possibility, unlikely by then, that the Papuans may vote in such a plebiscite to go back to Dutch control.

Australia holds the eastern half of the island, part under U. N. trusteeship.

CHARWOMAN STOPS THEFT
 LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Ivy Cottis, a 55-year-old charwoman, saw a gang of thieves lifting her boss' safe into a truck. Enraged, she sprang into action.
 "I'm not moving," she shouted, jumping on top of the safe in front of the gambling club where she is employed. The thieves drove off without the safe.
 "They must have been scared of me," Mrs. Cottis said as she relaxed with a cup of tea.

Television In Review

EDITOR'S NOTE: Rick DuBrow is on vacation. Today's guest columnist is Amanda Blake the perennial "Kitty" of CBS-TV's "Gunsmoke," who comments on a woman's place in television.

By AMANDA BLAKE
 Written For UPI
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It has been noted by innumerable ingenuities that television is unkind to women.

They cite the enormous preponderance of shows in which men are the central characters, and what they call an unfair number of television plays in which the ladies are relegated to roles ranging from nitwits to psychopaths, from gold-diggers to well-poisoners.

Half the roles available to them, they complain, are gun molls, and the other half give them nothing to do but stand around wringing their hands while the menfolk perform feats of skill, strength and courage.

"I'm not sure what these good ladies have in mind as substitutes for such roles. Maybe they want to do the fist fights while the male actors do the waiting and weeping. Whatever the case, I think they're out of line.

If they want to remain in television as actresses, they'll probably have to get used to the idea that it's a man's medium. We women may not like it, but that's the way it is.

Knows About Adventure
 The staples of television entertainment are, of course, music, adventure and comedy. I happen to know a little more about adventure shows, since that is what "Gunsmoke" is, and I've been on it since it started seven years ago.

There just aren't very many adventure stories in which women are the protagonists. I don't think the public would like them much even if there were—not even the ladies in the audience.

On "Gunsmoke" I have from time to time played the central role in an adventure — as Kitty Russell I've been kidnapped, wooed at gunpoint by halfwits, marooned on the prairie and taken by irate Indians. But it was always the men of the show — Matt Dillon, Chester or Doc Adams—who got me out of these messes.

And that's okay with me. I'd feel silly, and look silly, if I were to try to swing a .44 colt frontier-model hogleg on any of the meaner types hired as heavies on "Gunsmoke."

I disagree also with the charge that too many villainous roles are assigned to women. (If I wanted to court a charge of treason to my sex I could point out the newspapers, which seem to have as many stories of ladies scragging their menfolk as vice versa.)

Arguing Is Fruitless
 But without counting them up, and then deciding how many makes too many, arguing that point is fruitless.

It might help to note, however, what many male actors have said: The heavy parts are the best ones. Professional villains like Peter Falk and Nehemiah Persoff haven't cashed an unemployment check for a long time.

COCKNEY CAPER—This new style hat resembling a newsboy's cap is a houndstooth felt beret. It graces a model at the Society of London Fashion Designers show.

It's the youngsters who insist on juvenile leads — nothing but good buy roles—who develop ear strain listening for a telephone with an agent at the other end of the line.

The same is true for actresses. The best roles ever written for women were fraught with evil—from Lady Macbeth to Lolita.

The role I play is not an evil one, of course, but neither is it Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm. But whatever it is—and whatever roles I ever play — I intend to enjoy them, not cry about them.
