LONDON — While shooting grouse on the Yorkshire moors these past few days, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan must have been thinking hard about the approaching gathering of commonwealth prime ministers.

There is little doubt the meeting in London on Sept. 10 of the 15 leaders will be a crossroads affair.

Unless the conference is carefully handled, the whole concept of the commonwealth as a loose-knit body with a common heritage and widely differing political beliefs.

The pop-popping of Macmillan's holiday shooting is nothing compared to the heavyweight sniping that has been going on between various members of the commonwealth.

Traditionally when the prime ministers gather in London for their meetings — there have been 10 since the war—they hold their discussions in an informal atmosphere behind closed doors.

In this way behind-the-scenes rows are covered up, and the delegates are free to talk.

This time, however, there has been such advance publicity given to commonwealth differences it is going to be difficult to keep any major clashes quiet.

The main theme is going to be Britain's bid to join the European Common Market, about which the old white dominions have deep suspicions.

Men's Clothing Sales Increase Is Predicted

NEW YORK (UPI)—If Bernard Slesky is a prophet, then the possibility some men lost their shirts in the stock market a few months ago failed to scare off the American man's desire for new attire this year.

Slesky is chairman of the board of Hat Corp. of America, and his brother, Charles, is president. Their company is one of the nation's foremost producers of hats, including three of the most widely known brands, and of men's clothing generally.

"I think the men wear business this fall is bound to be better," he said this week while discussing industry prospects for the balance of 1962.

"The purchasing power and demand is here. People are expecting a tax cut sooner or later — I feel we've got to have one to loosen up purchasing power — and that idea is going to help."

"And the men's wear people generally have widened their vision and are venturing into fields they have not tried before. In the past there have been signs the industry was suffering from myopia."

All in all, he said, he looked for industry sales to be up about 7 percent this fall over last year's.

"At the start of the year the industry had hoped for a 10 per cent rise, figured it would be 5 — and seven looks good," he said, and the same broad aim in world affairs could be threatened.

The last commonwealth meeting in March 1961 was a hectic affair, and ended with South Africa quitting.

The September parley promises to be equally controversial. The 15 nations coming are Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Ghana, Malay, Nigeria, Cyprus, Sierra Leone, Tanganyika, and newly independent Jamaica and Trinidad — a United Nations in miniature covering people of many races

Good Deeds Perpetuation Club's Goal

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) — In the name of charity, soft-hearted businessmen fine themselves $1 when late to a conference — or when a word not fit for polite society slips into their conversation.

The fines fatten the kitty of the Crown Pin Club, a non-profit fraternity dedicated to perpetuating good deeds.

Louis Lauch, of Cincinnati, Ohio, is president of crown pinners.

"Someday we hope to build a national clinic for handicapped children," he said.

The Crown Pin Club of America has units coast to coast and more than 1,000 members. Lauch estimated that during the last nine years the fraternity has helped more than 1,500 children and their parents.

Help Less Fortunate
"Our pledge is simple," the executive said. "We aim to help all less fortunate members of humanity."

The most ambitious and gratifying project was undertaken by the Canadian chapter.

"Members heard that a Dutch couple who had emigrated from Holland to South America as missionaries had to leave the latter country when the wife contracted malaria," Lauch said.

"The couple settled in Canada and in order to augment their small income placed an ad in a local paper stating they were available to look after handicapped children for short periods of time to give parents a breather."

Tells Sad Tale
The offer developed into a sad saga. At the end of the year, the husband and wife were left with seven unclaimed—and unwanted—children.

"The youngsters had been registered under fictitious names and never called for," Lauch said.

That's when the local Crown Pin Club went into action, furnishing rooms in the couple's home with beds, cribs, and equipment for physical therapy.

"Other organizations, learning about the situation, pitched in," Lauch said. "Today, as a result of the action started by the Crown Pin Club, there is in Ontario, the sunbeam home for handicapped children. With 85 patients, it's the largest private hospital there."

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Marvin Shearer, 26, won acquittal of a traffic charge when he explained that he was driving on the wrong side of the street because he felt a sneeze coming on and was reaching in his pocket for a handkerchief.

Quotes In The News

By United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York City Transit Authority reported Wednesday on the more than 45,000 articles left on subway cars by forgetful riders during the last year.

Among them: False teeth, jewelry, headstones, bass fiddles, eyeglasses and 50 $1,000 bonds.

KEOKUK, Iowa (UPI) — Mark Humble, 18, while sailing his motorboat on the Mississippi River, turned on the automatic bailing device.

The machine knocked a hole in the bottom of the boat. The craft sank. Humble was unhurt.

MANCHESTER, Conn. (UPI) — As Ralph Hubbard, 51, crossed a Manchester street Wednesday he was struck by a sport car convertible and flipped into the bucket seat next to the driver.

The driver drove on to Manchester Memorial Hospital with his passenger, Hubbard was reported in fair condition.

CLARION, Iowa (UPI) — Mrs. Sarah Goodge, who celebrated her 101st birthday by kissing a photographer and waltzing with a neighbor, gave this formula for longevity:

"Stay in the thick of things; never take a back seat to anyone; never worry; dance; take good care of your health; and eat lots of corn bread and beans."

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Sign displayed by a boating dealer on Clear Lake, near the manned spacecraft center and residences of U.S. astronauts:

"After a hard day in space, relax on a boat."

PARIS — French Interior Minister Roger Frey, commenting on the attempt to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle:

"It was not the sort of attempt made by civilian criminals. It is clear that the aim of the subversive organizations in France is to kill Gen. de Gaulle... he (De Gaulle) did agree that this time it was a pretty close shave."

ROME — The Vatican city newspaper Observatore Romano, reminding mankind of its weakness in the face of earthquakes such as the ones which hit near Naples:

"The night, the day, the hour, the season when all of a sudden the buildings and streets on which we move will attack us with their apocalyptic rumbling cannot be calculated in advance."

The Lighter Side On The Estes Double-Header

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A number of our more articulate members of Congress are fond of asserting that something or other is being used as a "political football."

I dig most cliches but I have never figured out what that one means. Depending on how you interpret it, it could imply that the issue in question is being either kicked around, passed about or fumbled.

Not long ago the expression cropped up in connection with the Billie Sol Estes case, and that really baffled me. Nothing that I had observed in the congressional investigation of Estes seemed to bear any relation to football.

It appeared to me to be more like volleyball, or, if you prefer, badminton.

Back And Forth
A House government operations subcommittee would hold hearings for awhile on Estes' grain storage operations. Then a Senate government operations subcommittee would hold hearings for awhile on Estes' cotton allotment operations. Then back to the House, and so on.

This ping pong procedure made the inquiry fairly easy to follow, provided the spectator did not develop a crick in his neck.

Lately, however, the two subcommittees have been holding hearings simultaneously, which is like no game that I ever heard of, but which bears some similarity to tug-of-war.

As the risk of developing schizophrenia, I attempted for a few hours Wednesday to follow both. They gave me a kaleidoscopic impression somewhat as follows:

The senators were questioning Harold E. Orr, an Amarillo, Tex., manufacturer about a mysterious $25,000 check.

Signed A Check
Orr testified he signed the check at the request of Estes, who promised it would not be cached. That was the last he saw of it and for all he knows it may still be floating around some place.

But Orr said he wasn't worried about anyone trying to cash it because he didn't have enough money in the bank to cover it anyhow. Nor was he worried about being hauled into court on a cold check charge.

"If they want to sue me," he ruefully reported, "they've got to get in line."

Feeling a bit dizzy-headed, I switched over to the House group, which also was in the throes of high finance. It was hearing a report on a review of government grain shipments to Estes' elevators.

Ten investigators worked 550 hours on the review, which cost about $2,000. Their labors resulted in the discovery of $631 in freight overcharges. So there you have it, sport fans — the latest report on the big double-header. And now back to political football.

In musical compositions, a movement entitled scherzo is one that is humorous and capricious in character.

The 1961 per capita consumption of major food commodities in this country continued at 3 per cent above the 1947-1949 level. Also continuing was the significant change in the eating habits of Americans. Namely, the decline in consumption of potatoes and cereal products, the substitution of vegetable for animal fats and an increase in the eating of poultry, as well as the degree to which citrus fruits replaced some other fruits.

Shoplifters Get Transistor Radios

Shoplifters stole two transistor radios from White's Auto Store, 109 S. Cuyler, yesterday afternoon.

Bill W. Gross, store manager, notified police that the radios were discovered missing about 2 p.m. Their total value was set at $59.90.

Russell Shaw of Canadian reported to police that someone stole two hubcaps, valued at $13, from his 1962 model car parked last night on the rodeo grounds at Recreation Park.

Junior Hawley, 2808 Rosewood, told police thieves siphoned a quantity of gasoline from his milk truck parked Wednesday night near a service station at 2101 N. Hobart St.

It is estimated that about 90 per cent of the heat striking the outside of a house is concentrated on the roof.

Berlin

hour hassle over whether Soviet armored cars in West Berlin should have Western escorts.

The eastward convoys were from the 2nd Battle Group, 6th Infantry, which have been in West Germany for the past two weeks on annual live-firing practice.

The westward convoys carried troops from the 3rd Battle Group going for live-firing training on West German ranges.

Another Killing
The U. S. Army sent the convoys through East Germany to West Berlin, located 110 miles inside Communist territory, at a time when tensions were high in the city because of the Communist slaying of another young refugee.

West Berlin police feared the slaying Thursday night of 19-year-old Hans Dieter Wesa might trigger new riots by West Berliners in protest against the Communist-built anti-refugee wall.

West Berlin police said they were "absolutely certain" that Wesa, a transport policeman, was in Western territory when he was cut down.

The shooting of an 18-year-old East German construction worker last Friday triggered three days of riots in West Berlin. West Berliners stoned Soviet vehicles, clashed with their own police and jeered U. S. soldiers because they did not go to the aid of the victim.

Fled From Job
According to police at the scene, Wesa apparently left his post on the Communist-controlled elevated system and darted across about 25 yards of rail. The elevated actually is below ground level at that point.

Western police said Wesa apparently was scrambling over a five-foot-high metal fence topped with a strand or two of barbed wire when the Red guards discovered his flight.

They fired about 30 shots in three salvos from their machine pistols and Wesa dropped, fatally hit in the head and back.

West Berlin firemen picked Wesa up and rushed him to a hospital, but he was dead on arrival.

French In Call For Office Of Vice President

PARIS (UPI) — The attempted assassination of President Charles de Gaulle brought demands today that the French government create the office of a vice president in the event of his death.

Many political observers believe the nation would have been plunged into chaos if Wednesday night's assassination attempt on De Gaulle had succeeded.

Under the Constitution, the President of the French Senate is next in line to the presidency. The post is currently held by Gaston de Monnerville, a Negro from French Guiana.

No arrests have been made despite the nationwide search for the estimated 10 would-be assassins who ambushed De Gaulle's motorcade on a suburban street and sprayed it with machinegun fire.

The men were thought to be members of the terrorist Secret Army Organization (OAS) which fought bitterly to prevent Algeria from receiving independence from France.

The Paris newspapers Aurore and Combat asked editorially whether the 71-year-old De Gaulle planned to press ahead with his plan to form the post of vice president.

Union Head Orders Men Back On Job

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI)—The head of a striking electricians union ordered his men to return to work on space projects at Redstone arsenal today but he said they were so resentful of a federal back-to-work injunction they may not obey his directive.

"They were damn unhappy," said James H. Haygood, business manager of Local 558, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers after a closed union meeting Thursday night.

"I ordered them to return to their jobs tomorrow (today). Whether or not they will abide by my order is another matter," Haygood said. "All of them resent being ordered to work by a federal judge."

Judge C. W. Allgood of Birmingham Wednesday signed a permanent injunction against picketing at the Marshall Space Flight Center and the Army Missile Command and ordered the strikers to "pick up your tools and get back to work."

Some of the electricians went back to work Thursday on about 40 space projects, including construction on a test stand for the giant Saturn rocket, booster for America's manned shot to the moon.

Dear Abby... 'Brainwashed' Man Goes Fad Crazy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My co-worker goes for every goofy fad he hears about. His latest is phrenology, which is having the bumps on his head read by a nut who calls himself a phrenologist. I told him he is throwing his money away

(he pays $5 a reading and goes once a week) but he tells me he has found out a lot about his past and future through these bumps. Is there anything to this or am I behind the times?

FOREMAN DEAR FOREMAN: The bumps on your co-worker's head could be caused by the rocks inside. You are not behind the times, your co-worker is. Wish him a speedy recovery.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for six years and have never suspected my wife of anything. While searching for a match I looked in her coat pocket and came across a letter (addressed to her mother's house). I became curious and read the following:

"It was so good to hear your voice again, Darling. I am glad you still feel the same about me. As long as you don't love your husband, how long will it take you to get a divorce?" I have not told her I read the letter. I was so hurt I just froze. The letter was signed with an initial which meant nothing to me. Where do I go from here? P.S. Yes, we have children.

SICK DEAR SICK: Go to your wife and tell her you read the letter. The next move is hers.

DEAR ABBY: I am considered the DEAR ABBY of our crowd. I have helped solve the love problems (and even marriage problems) of other people, but I can't seem to solve my own. I am almost 17 and HE is 18. He used to like me a lot once, but not any more. I don't know what I did to turn him against me, but he has no interest in me whatsoever. I can't forget him and I won't give up hope. How can I get him to like me again? Sign me—

SCHMO DEAR SCHMO: The most frustrating of all projects is trying to get someone to "like you" again, once his ardor has cooled. Warmth over soup is never as good. Give up! (And he might wonder why, and start chasing you!).

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

King-Crawford Exchange Vows

CANADIAN (Spl) — Miss Joyce Jean King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis King, near Dumas and Billy Joe Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Crawford, exchanged wedding vows Aug. 12, at the Bible Baptist Church of Dumas.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. Clarence Bishop immediately following the morning worship service. For her wedding, the bride chose a brown sheath dress with matching accessories. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone studded silver heart necklace, a gift from the bridegroom's father.

Mrs. King, the bride's mother, wore a white linen suit with pink accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige dress with brown accessories.

The couple are making their home in Canadian in the Furman Williams house on 7th Street. Mr. Crawford is employed at the Humble Service Station.

Utility House Stores Junk Out Of Sight

KAY SHERWOOD

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

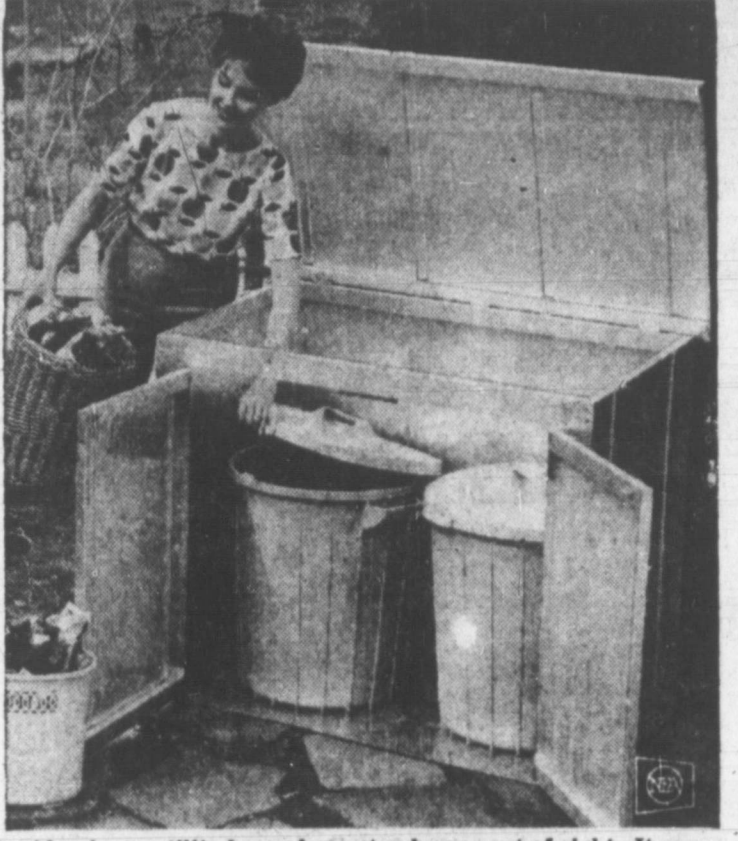

More efficient disposal of household trash is a concern when summer weather adds its special aesthetic and practical problems to this daily task.

Most of us, dependent on regular collections by private or community trucking firms, make our peace with the collector and arrange the trash and garbage as he asks. This may mean meeting him more than halfway on his visit to our house and moving trash cans from the back entrance to the front curb.

In some areas, homemakers are asked to separate papers, metals and garbage. Even the household equipped with a garbage disposer and incinerator has a certain percentage of trash which cannot be banished by either appliance.

No one pays much attention to the dull gray trash cans when they fade into the dull gray winter landscape. But outdoor living calls attention to the disreputable can parked conveniently to the back door but too near the patio. Aside from appearances, trash cans can become offensively smelly and insect-ridden in warm weather. Added problems to me are two inquisitive puppies who show great ingenuity in removing lids and tipping over cans in search of hidden treasures.

I have been looking for a container for the cans which would discourage animal raiders and add a neater appearance to the back yard. Recently, I saw a new all-purpose Aluminum utility house which is large enough (43x24x35 inches) to hold two good-sized cans or barrels. This lightweight storage locker has an enclosed base to prevent stains on cement or stone walks, a hinged top lid and front-opening doors for easy access. Although the ribbed, non-rusting aluminum doesn't need paint for surface protection, it can be painted for camouflage (green and white) or for a bright dash of color.

Aluminum utility house keeps trash cans out of sight. It can also be used for furniture, toy or screen storage. Its non-rusting surface can be painted to blend with surroundings.

Incidentally, galvanized trash cans painted in various colors and decorated with simple and jaunty designs brighten the alleys and curbs of Chicago's Old Town area where the artist-residents put their talents to work to alleviate the dreary look of trash collecting.

Moving trash cans around is a nuisance but, if this must be done, a sturdy dolly is a great aid. I bought a small one years ago and it is still a useful aid to moving any heavy object.

This is the time of year to inspect trash cans. If the bottoms are rusted or sides are warped or tops don't fit, buy a new one. You'll have a much easier time keeping a new can clean and fresh.

If you buy plastic barrels make sure the plastic is intended for outdoor use and extremes of temperature. I use a plastic barrel for garbage because it can be swabbed clean with soap and water with little effort and no rust problem. I use galvanized cans (which are less expensive) for papers and similar trash. If they must be used for garbage, I line them with newspapers first. Both types can be sprayed with insecticides and deodorizers. Spray the area around the trash cans with insecticide too.

The Mature Parent First School Day Brightens With Token

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. In the days when knights charged forth on perilous enterprises, the ladies they loved gave them Tokens of their devotion to carry with them.

It could be anything from a scarf to a ring so long as it was closely associated with the person of the lady. The scarf of Lady Edith bound about Sir Harold's mailed arm was tangible evidence of the existence of home and love which had been temporarily removed from him by the obligation to test himself in the world of unknown hazards.

The principle of the Token can work just as comfortingly for little boys and girls on their first day of school as it used to work for knights embarking on their grownup adventures.

On the first day of school, Elly and Steve are also obliged to test themselves in a world of unknown hazards — and will find some small belonging closely associated with mommy and home reassuring evidence of their continuing existence.

So let's plan to give them a Token just before we leave them, not making a big anxious production of the adventure that lies before them but quietly accepting its loneliness for what it is. Let's say, "Here's a part of me to keep with you and remind you that I'll be waiting right here at these steps to pick you up after school and hear about all the things you have done."

What could the Token be? Well, there are small, metal-encased, purse-size vials of our over here in this corner, or somewhere on this page, with a maximum amount of regularity, we hope, will appear this ad.

and don't any of you folks start calling it a column. It's true we have tried our hand at any number of things, just as all Merchants do, judging beauty contests, canning pickles, serving on committees, boasting the charms of our town to people who live in other cities while we are on buying trips, filling our store with the newest, and smartest merchandise. . . and we think it might be fun to chat with you about it.

you can expect this in the form of a column; however, we do not pretend to be in League with Dorothy Killgallen, Earl Wilson, Winchell or even Mrs. F.D.R. (also we do have our days!)

we just simply want to drop a few observations now and then on what goes on in the fashion world, of course, if somebody makes headlines, we might contribute our two cents worth regarding the matter, whatever it happens to be, but truthfully speaking . . . THIS IS AN AD. . . we have to pay for it. . . and we want the opportunity to talk to you every few days.

for instance, no doubt you have read about and seen pictures of the suits which will be worn to the moon. It has to carry enough oxygen to last for ten days, must be insulated for temperatures from 215 F. in the daytime to 250 below at night. Must be thick enough to protect one from 20 feet of dust and have room enough to protect one from 20 enough to carry food inside for several days.

we have always had a romantic feeling about the man in the moon and we don't think he is going to like this suit . . . let's face it. . . it will make one look a dozen times your normal size. For the time being, we will stay right here on earth and be satisfied with the old adage . . . "distance lends enchantment."

and speaking of suits, if you want real satisfaction and wearability, just try on one of the new fall knits. They are to be worn on this earth but are out of this world in looks! smartly tailored, no sag, no stretch and never a wrinkle. all you have to do is try one on, we have a lovely collection and would like nothing better than have you see them today.

and now that you know THIS IS AN AD, we hope you will be watching for it and we will be waiting to serve you at Bentley's in the Center of Pampa!

REV. G. L. COWART
CALVARY ASSEMBLY OF GOD

TAKE UP YOUR CROSS

Then said Jesus unto his disciples, if any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me, Matthew 16:24.

This present, modern age brings easy living. The past half century has brought about a revolution in our everyday living. The automobile, train, airplane and the ocean liner have made travel convenient and fast; our household appliances, our forty hour weeks, our pre-cooked foods have made us leisurely, easy going people. There seems to be a quick and easy way to do anything we like.

Even in the realm of religion we have settled back and taken some things for granted. Here in this great and wonderful, free country of ours we can identify ourselves with the religious ranks, and still keep our head upon our shoulders. We can have full fellowship with the church, and never experience the new birth. We can partake of Sacraments and Ordinances, and never dedicate our hearts unto the Lord. Our life does not change, our language does not change, our habits do not change. We are in the modern, easy-going age, and becoming a Christian, so called, has become an easy thing also.

But let us go to the Word of God. Let us not depend upon our own finite thinking or the logic of this world. Our Lord has the way of eternal life. He declares, "If any man..." not just the church of the first century, not just our fathers of early America, but "any man." Christianity has not become an easy thing. If others had to fight for it and separate themselves from the world, we need to do the same. Then He gives us three things that we must do.

Deny ourselves . . .

Take up our cross . . .

and then, follow Him .

Mister, according to His standards, are you a Christian?

Television In Review

EDITOR'S NOTE: Rick Du Brow is on vacation. Today, Bill Hanna and Joe Barbera, creators of "The Flintstones" and other notable animated characters on television, tell about their new series — "The Jetsons."

By BILL HANNA and JOE BARBERA Written For UPI HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—This year when World War II comes charging onto your television tubes during a season which will also find more unemployed actors suddenly working as M.J.'s, a quiet but significant milestone will turn over here at Hanna-Barbera.

No private eye, no Anzio landing, no brain surgery, no, none of that. Instead, as a sequel to our animated series about a stone-age family, "The Flintstones," we will modestly present the first family of the future, ABC-TV's "The Jetsons." In ultra-dynamic, spectacular, everlovin', living color, yet.

We learned several important lessons last season: 1) Clever and witty dialogue cannot alone carry a show. There has to be action, and 2) there have to be strong points of identification between the audience and the characters in the show.

Product Of Research "The Jetsons" is the product of over 16 months of extensive research and planning by our talented staff of artists and writers. The feeling around our shop was that the public was intensely interested in what the future held for them in terms of space exploration, better things for better living, etc.

Voilà! The birth of the family of the future. "The Jetsons" live in the sky pads apartment (high-level adjustable living). George Jetson is a hard-working, honest, lovable husband who is devoted to his family, which consists of wife Jane, teen-age daughter Judy, 8-year-old son Elroy and their dog Astro.

George works for Spacely Sprockets Co., which supplies materials to such futuristic corporations as General Rotors. He is the digital control operator—a sort of 21st Century office foreman of the completely automated factory.

Futuristic Appliances Jane Jetson, his attractive and spirited wife, solves the every-day problems of cooking and cleaning with a variety of time-saving appliances. These include a seeing eye vacuum cleaner, a machine with two electronic eyes which seeks out dust, dirt and debris, and consumes it.

Many times, however, when Jane isn't looking, the vacuum will lift up the rug and sweep it water same. There is also the foodarack—a dandy gadget to end all dandy gadgets; it stores, preserves, prepares and serves food to the Jetson household. Just insert the meal ticket into the machine and out comes your desired

Vice President Flies To Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was flying here today for high-level talks with Iranian officials concerned over withdrawal of American military aid funds.

The vice president, accompanied by his wife and daughter, were scheduled to arrive here from Beirut.

The highlights of Johnson's first day of his 48-hour stay were a reception by Foreign Minister Abbas Aram and a visit to the shah's summer palace for dinner.

Johnson started his two-week goodwill tour of Middle East and Mediterranean countries Thursday in Lebanon. After arriving by presidential jet from Washington, he spent the day in Beirut mixing with people in the streets and visiting with Lebanese leaders, including President Fuad Chehab and Premier Rashid Karamé.

From Iran, the vice president will continue on to Turkey, Cyprus, Greece and Italy. Johnson turned on his electioneering charm for the people of Beirut, and his Texas-style handshaking in the streets was expected to set the pattern for other countries of his tour. It is the sort of official man-on-the-street visit that is rare in the Middle East.

The vice president started the small but enthusiastic crowds that greeted him in Beirut. At one point he stopped his motorcade from the airport to chat with an amazed, grease-stained, 15-year-old watermelon vendor.

In a discussion with Chehab, Johnson, who is the highest-ranking U.S. official ever to visit Lebanon, praised the use made of past American aid money, which he saw at work on a superhighway and at an industry institute. In Iran, as in Greece and Turkey, Johnson was faced by officials concerned over the withdrawal — or planned withdrawal — of U.S. military aid funds.

Top government sources said Iranian leaders would try to impress Johnson with Iran's strategic position as an anchor point of the vital Central Treaty Organization (CENTO) with a 1,200-mile border with Russia.

ISLAND IN THE SUN—With the end of 307 years of British rule, Jamaica is the first new independent nation in the Western Hemisphere since Panama broke away from Colombia in 1903. Its past is mingled with the lot of buccaners of the Spanish Main; its future is one of increasing industrialization. Located 90 miles south of Cuba, Jamaica was discovered by Columbus in 1494 and was ruled by the Spanish until it was conquered by the English in 1655. Port Royal became headquarters for pirates and privateers who raided gold-laden Spanish ships. It became one of the major slave markets of the West Indies until the trade was abolished in 1833. Bananas and tourists became important factors in the island's economy in modern times. A quarter of a million tourists, mostly Americans, visit the island annually. Since 1950, many manufacturing plants have been built, aided by rich deposits of bauxite (aluminum ore). The island has an area of 4,411 square miles and population of over 1,600,000. Jamaica will maintain its ties with Britain as a dominion within the British Commonwealth.

"A FRIENDLY BANK WITH FRIENDLY SERVICE"

Bank's Development Interesting Page In Pampa's History

ELMA VANDERBERG

Elma Vanderberg, vice president and cashier of the Citizens Bank and Trust Company, has been with the bank since June, 1942.

She and her husband, Clyde M., live at 1125 Charles. Mr. Vanderberg retired last December after 35 years with the Sinclair Oil and Gas Company.

"Van" as she is known to most Pampans, is a member of the National Association of Bank Women, past president and charter member of the Altrusa Club of Pampa, the Business and Professional Women's Club, the Pampa Little Theatre, the First Presbyterian Church, the Presbyterian Women's, the Chamber of Commerce, and is vice president of the Gray County Tuberculosis Assn.

Prior to becoming a banker, "Van" was in the newspaper business for seven years. She was once listed on the masthead of the Hutchinson County Herald as its managing editor, and later became the auditor of the Panhandle Publishing Company, which eventually led to a new profession in banking and finance, when she came to Pampa.

She already possessed a background of legal and oil experience as she was secretary to an oil operator, a lawyer, and a royalty and investment firm.

FREDA LE MOND

Freda Le Mond, assistant vice president, has been with the bank for over twenty years, having begun her banking career in December, 1941.

As exchange teller, she issues travelers checks, drafts, cashiers checks and bank money orders as well as handles draft collections.

Her husband, Guy Le Mond, is associated with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in the toll department.

Her son, Richard P. Barrett, and his family recently moved to Lubbock where he is associated with the Lumberman's Investment Company. While in Pampa he was with Cabot and his wife, Carolyn, was employed at Joe Cree Insurance Agency.

Aside from banking, her primary interest is her grandson, Mark, 3 years old.

The Le Monds reside at 1221 N. Russell. She is a charter member of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha and a member of the First Baptist Church in Pampa.

The story of the Citizens Bank & Trust Co. from its birth on May 25, 1940 down through the intervening 22 years of progressive growth marks one of the most interesting pages in Pampa's commercial and industrial history.

It is a far cry from that first bank, with the 25-ft front and the new and beautiful modern bank that holds its formal opening for the public tomorrow and Sunday.

The Citizens Bank has consistently kept pace with the growth of the city, moving from its original quarters in July of 1931 to the home it occupied for more than 11 years at the 123 W. Kingsmill address and from which it completes moving this week end across the street to its new home, one of the finest banking structures in the Southwest.

There are many facets to the growth of the Citizens Bank. Take back there in the 1940 formative days, the bank had seven employees and a payroll of approximately $12,000 a year.

Today the bank employs some 34 persons who bolster the Pampa economic picture with a yearly payroll, that approximates $200,000 a year.

DORIS JEAN FOSTER

Doris Jean Foster, proof operator, has been with the bank five years. Her husband, Franklin Foster, is employed by J. L. Colville as a cement finisher.

They have one son, Kurt, age five. Their home is located at 1916 N. Dwight.

Deposits today approximate $13,600,000.

The bank's chronology began with Bob McCoy, E. O. Sneed and John F. Sturgeon, who sought to organize Pampa's second financial institution in 1940. By the time they had achieved the backing needed to complete chartering details, the organization assumed the formal leadership of the first officers and board:

S. C. (Tex) Evans, president; Sneed, vice president and cashier; McCoy, vice president; and directors W. B. Wild, M. A. Graham, J. J. Crutchfield, F. M. Culbertson, A. J. Beagle and Ivey E. Duncan.

These men submitted an application to the banking commission for organizing a bank on March 27, 1940 and received a state charter on April 16, 1940. The FDIC charter was issued May 27, 1940 and a new bank was in business.

The new bank, realizing an obvious need for banking experience at the helm, acquired the leadership of Floyd E. Imel and made it possible for him and associates to buy controlling interest. Mr. Imel came into the organization as executive vice president in December, 1940.

DON KITE

Don Kite, employed by the bank five years, is a paying and receiving teller.

Don was reared on a ranch near McLean, Texas and he graduated from McLean High school in 1957.

He and his wife, Clara Mae, reside at 108 N. Dwight with their three children, Brenda, Don Jr. and Cathy.

Imel remained in this position until January, 1947, when Evans was named chairman of the board and Imel became the bank's second president. It was about this time that Imel bought the interest of T. J. Blakemore and C. W. Law, with whom he had served as cashier of the First National Bank in Liberal, Kan., before coming here.

At the time Imel came into the organization at Citizens, the directors who served with him were Evans, Beagle, Duncan, John F. Sturgeon, B. L. Hoover and Blakemore.

For a time, the directorship was increased with Law, Dr. C. E. High and V. L. Boyles serving on the board.

Present officers of the bank are F. E. Imel, president; Elma Vanderberg, vice president and cashier; A. J. Beagle, vice president; Robert E. Imel, vice president; Bob C. Williams, vice president; Jack E. Imel, vice president; Freda Le Mond, assistant vice president; Joyce Jenkins, assistant cashier; Lora Miller, assistant cashier and Bill Kindle, assistant cashier.

Directors are B. L. Hoover, chairman of the board; Beagle, Clinton, M. Evans, F. E. Imel and Jim Tripplehorn.

KEVIN CHISHOLM

Kevin Chisholm, beginning his career in banking, became associated with the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. in June of this year.

He attended schools in Pampa, graduating in 1959.

He is a senior student at the University of Notre Dame majoring in accounting.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Chisholm, 800 N. Gray.

JACK E. IMEL

Jack E. Imel, vice president, started his banking career full time in August, 1955.

He attended school in Pampa, graduating in 1951. He attended North Texas State College in Denton.

Jack served in the army for two years, stationed in France.

He and his wife, Willie, reside at 416 Lowry. They have two daughters, Stephanie — 5 years, and Michelle — 5 months.

He is a member of the First Christian Church.

ROBERT E. IMEL

Robert E. Imel, vice president, entered banking full time in April, 1955.

He attended school in Pampa, graduating in 1948. He received a BBA degree from Oklahoma University in 1952. After completing his college education, he served in the Army as lieutenant from 1953 to 1955 and was stationed in Korea.

He married Nancy Jean Bever in July, 1960, and they have one son, Kirby, age 1 year. They reside at 1728 Fir.

Gene is active in Pampa Rotary Club, treasurer for the Red Cross, and a member of First Baptist Church.

BOB C. WILLIAMS

Bob C. Williams' appointment to the bank staff was effective as of February 15, 1960. He was formerly assistant vice president at the First National Bank in Abilene. His banking career began at the First National Bank in Stamford, Texas in 1949. In December of 1952 he joined the National Bank Examiners and resigned to accept a position with the Texas Bank and Trust Company in Dallas, moving to Abilene in September, 1955.

Williams graduated from Stamford High School in 1946 and joined the U. S. Army in 1948 being discharged from the reserve unit in 1953 at the rank of second lieutenant.

Bob and his wife, Joy, have two children, Merilyn, age 13 months, and Reid, age 8 months. They are active members of the First Baptist Church in Pampa.

JOYCE JENKINS

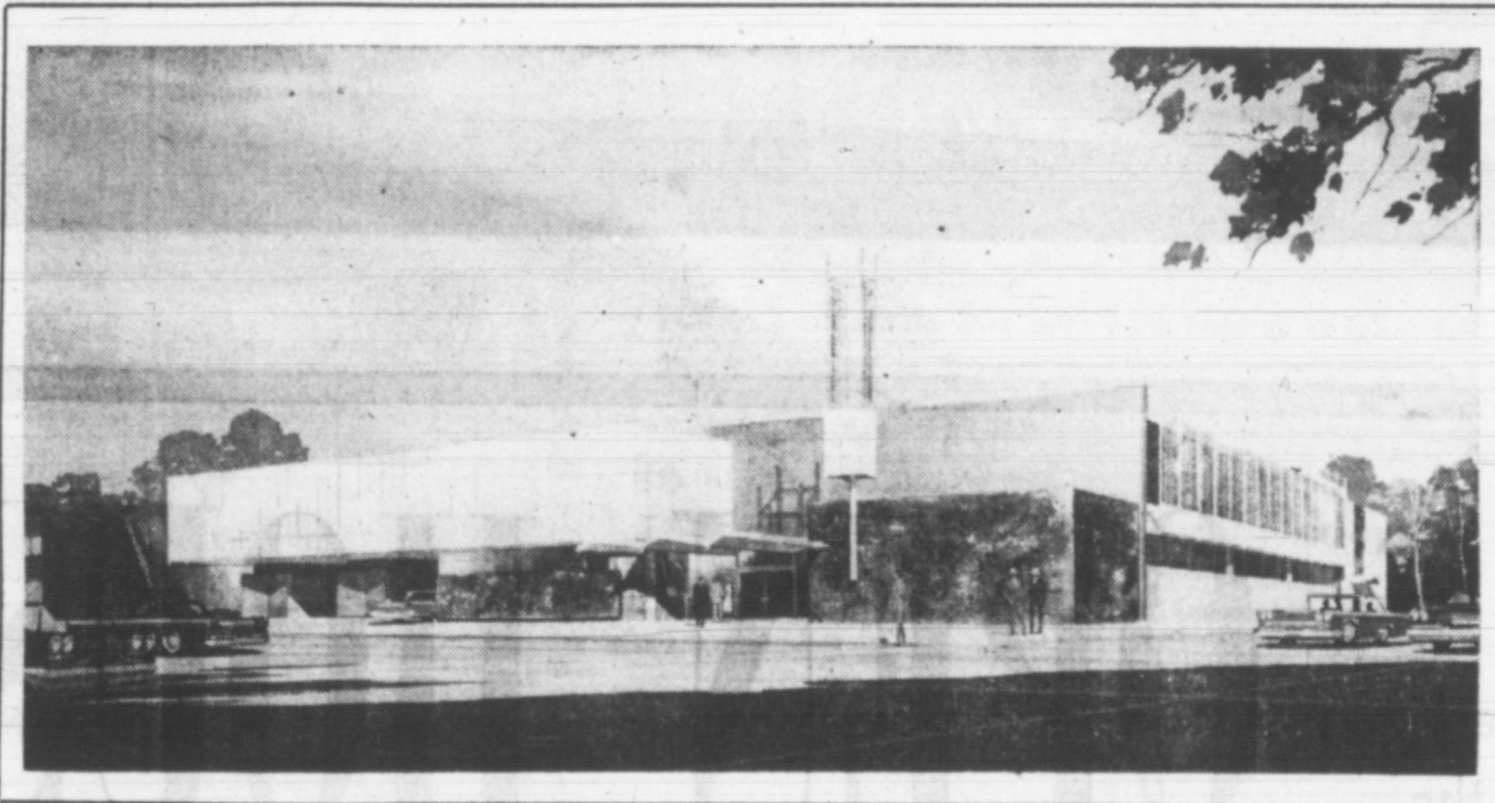

Joyce Jenkins, assistant cashier, began her banking career in September, 1959.

She attended school in Pampa and graduated from Pampa High School in 1956. She attended Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

Her husband, Bill B. Jenkins, is employed by Celanese Chemical Corporation as an operator.

The new Citizens bank building which opens Aug. 25, is the realization of a dream come true. Spearheaded by Imel, each new pooling of minds of the officers, directors and employees. "This beautiful new modern bank building is our expression of appreciation to the people of Pampa and the surrounding area for their confidence and support of our bank throughout our first 22 years and to show our faith in the future of Pampa. We felt that it was necessary to provide them with suitable facilities and every banking convenience," Imel said. Born on a ranch near Dodge City, Kan., and reared in Beaver County, Okla., he began his career as bookkeeper in the First National Bank of Forgan, Okla. He was promoted to teller and less than a year later, he accepted the position of cashier with the First National Bank in Liberal, Kans. In Liberal, he met Laura Barnes, an elementary school teacher. They were married and lived in Liberal before moving to Pampa in 1946. Their two sons, Gene and Jack, were 10 and 7 years old when they moved to Pampa. Both are vice-presidents in Citizens Bank. In December, 1946, eight months after the bank opened, Imel and his associates bought the controlling interest in the Citizens Bank and Trust Company and he took over the operation as vice-president and cashier. At that time, the deposits totaled less than half a million dollars and the personnel consisted of six persons. In 1947, Imel was elected president. Since then the bank has grown to 11 million dollars in deposits and employs 30 staff members. "The greatest satisfaction in being president of the bank is to see, customers whom we have counseled and worked with over the years prosper in their businesses and professions," Imel said. "We feel that our bank and its personnel are an integral part of this area and have a direct influence on its development and future. We are glad we are able to offer our friends and customers better banking facilities and every service." He said his plans for the bank's progress include continued friendly, efficient service and expansion to meet future needs. A quiet, unobtrusive, but key figure in Pampa's development for the past 22 years, Imel has

Creator Of Beautiful Mosaic Is Proud Of Work In Pampa Bank

One of the many attractive pieces of beauty and artful color in the new Citizens Bank & Trust Co. is the 50-ft. mosaic on the facing beneath the row of tellers' windows.

It was created and installed by Merritt Yearsley of Dallas, known throughout the Southwest as "Mister Mosaic."

The 40-year-old Yearsley spent several weeks on the installation of the modernistic design made of bits of copper, glass, marble and Byzantine glass.

According to a recent article in the Sunday magazine section of the Dallas Times-Herald, Yearsley was just a schoolboy when his grandparents gave him a final warning about the nutty looking stuff he drew on his schoolbooks, on his test papers and even on the wallpaper at home.

"You've got to study, boy," they told him. "You'll never get anywhere just drawing all that stuff."

It was the same Yearsley who placed the mosaic designs in the Citizens' Bank & Trust Co. here in Pampa.

The home folks back in Townsend Del., (pop. 450) probably find it hard to believe that "the Yearsley boy" has been here in Pampa making things out of copper, glass and marble to add to the beauty of the local bank.

What's more the folks back in Delaware probably would be surprised to learn that he is paid real money for it.

Yearsley sits in his modern studios in Dallas, thinks up ideas and contemplates works of art such as he has carried out in Pampa.

The lean, blue-eyed Yearsley is a mosaic artist and a sculptor in bronze. He does fountains, wall decor, and even big mosaics that cover entire walls, working mainly with copper, marble and Byzantine glass.

One of his recent works is a large mural for the Marine Plaza in Milwaukee, a structure designed by the same architects who designed the United Nations Bldg. in New York. Another is an 18-foot-long mural for a bank in Durant, Okla., picturing the Texas-Oklahoma bridge dispute. He also did a bronze sculpture of Christ and installed it on an outside wall of a church in Dallas.

In a bank at Richardson, Texas, a 15-foot tall fountain of marble, copper and glass decorates the plaza area. In El Paso, a new bank will have a Yearsley fountain that towers about five stories. Only recently, Bethesda Naval Hospital in Maryland contacted Yearsley about decorating its main entrance.

His talent, stifled though it was in the early years, stems from his paternal grandfather, who came to this country from England as a woodcarver and finisher. He did the expert millwork on numerous yachts that still ply the Eastern shore.

Merritt Yearsley had his first stroke of luck in 1945. He was one of the few members of the 106th Infantry Division to survive the Battle of the Bulge. Later, in Belgium, he rediscovered art for the first time since his school days.

There in the bombed-out churches and buildings of Belgium, he says, he somehow became inspired with art.

When he returned to the United States after the war, Yearsley went back to work for an engineering firm in Milwaukee for 18 months, and later started taking courses in physics and art there.

"But I got sick on the day of the exam — an exam they give only twice a year — and so I missed it and didn't pass the course," he recalls.

Yearsley says he then started a small engineering firm of his own and saved enough money to go to school in Italy — a school of mosaic art on the Adriatic Coast. There he studied for two years, the last as an instructor on the staff. In 1954, he came back to the United States, started a small studio in Milwaukee and says he never made a living at it.

Yearsley said he next took part-time jobs as a salesman, worked installing barbecue equipment and even got a job as a fireplace consultant before heading for Dallas a little over two years ago.

He said he went to Dallas because his girl had moved there to take a job.

"I had just 70 bucks in my pocket when I hit Dallas," Yearsley said. "I decided to call on some architects. I went to see one (George Dahl) and his regular secretary was out of the office. Her assistant let me in to see Mr. Dahl, and I walked out with my very first commission."

Yearsley returned to Milwaukee,

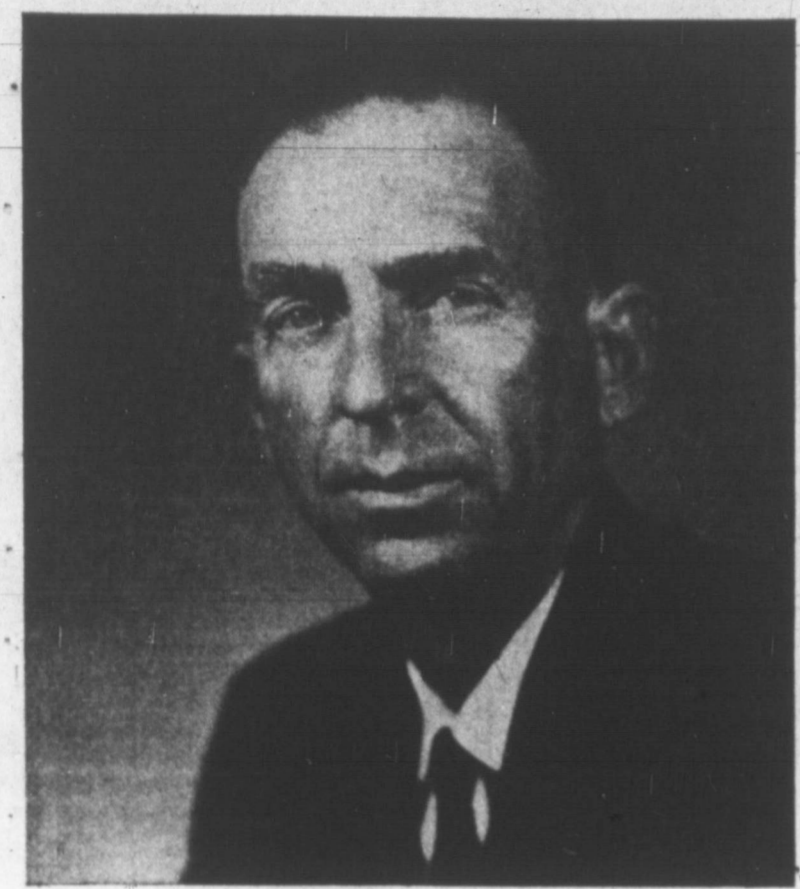

MOSAIC ARTIST AT WORK — Merritt Yearsley, one of the Southwest's most noted mosaic artists, is shown here while installing the modernistic design that underlines the tellers and cashiers' cubicles in the new Citizens Bank & Trust Co. lobby. The mosaic of copper and glass pieces on marble add greatly to the decor of the bank's interior setting.

came back to Texas for good within a few months and on April 17, 1961, he married the girl he had followed to Texas and success.

A little more than one year later, the Citizens Bank & Trust Co. job brought him to Pampa. "I am proud of the mosaic in the Pampa bank," Yearsley said, "and I hope the people of Pampa will be proud of it, too."

JIM TRIPPLEHORN, DIRECTOR

Jim Tripplehorn, director of the Citizens Bank and Trust Company, came to Pampa in 1934 after receiving his degree in Petroleum Engineering from Texas University. His schooling up to college was received in Fort Worth. He attended TCU and Tulsa University and then went to Texas University where he graduated.

He joined his family in the oil industry here. Later he became a registered petroleum engineer in this area and has operated an individual oil and gas contracting and producing business. Additional business interests include farming and cattle raising.

Born in Tillsbury, Ontario, Canada, about forty miles from Detroit, the son of D. R. Tripplehorn, a Pioneer oil man of this area and the late Mrs. Tripplehorn. The Tripplehorn were native Ohioans who spent about seven years in Canada in the oil drilling contracting business, later moving to Texas.

Tripplehorn married Anna Mae Gotcher of Pampa and they have a son and daughter. John is a junior in Pampa High School. Anne finished Stephens in Missouri and is now in dress designing in St. Louis.

"The new bank should provide a very nice place for all of our friends here in this area to do business," Tripplehorn said, "and we should be able to supply them with all the services and facilities required to carry on their businesses. We want them to feel welcome to call on us for any way in which we can better serve them."

Top Texas Architect Did Plans For Bank

The man who sat down at the architect's drawing board and conceived the original plans for the beautiful new Citizens Bank & Trust Co., which is having its formal opening this weekend, is a 37-year-old resident of Sherman, Texas.

He is Raymond Frank Thomas, second son of Thomas O. Thomas, a Welshman who had immigrated to the United States at the age of 20 and who is now retired after 30 years of service with the Humble Oil Co.

Thomas already has become one of the most outstanding architects in the Southwest in the field of bank, hospital and clinic architecture.

At the age of 18 months Raymond moved with his family to Cisco, Texas where he received all of his primary and secondary education, graduating from Cisco High School in 1942 as president of his class. While in high school his main activities were in band and sports. After attending Cisco Junior College for one year, he enlisted in the U.S. Army during World War II where he received basic infantry training, and where he served for most of the duration of the war at O'Reilly General Hospital, Springfield, Mo., as an occupational therapy instructor to pleurisy, burned, and psychopathic patients.

After his discharge from the Army, Thomas enrolled at the University of Texas where he completed a five-year course in architecture, receiving a Bachelor of Architecture degree in 1951.

While a student at the university, he was one of three winners in a state-wide contest open to architectural students and designers for furniture design.

After graduating, he served his three-year architectural apprenticeship with William Collier, Architect, of Abilene, Texas, John Floore, Architect and John Wesley Jones, Architect, both of Fort Worth, Texas. Thomas became a registered architect in November of 1954, and a full member of the American Institute of Architects and the Texas Society of Architects. This same month he established his own architectural office in Sherman, where he has practiced since that time.

Some of his more important commissions in the Sherman, Texas, area are the Essin Clinic for thirteen doctors, the Grayson County State Bank Building, the Grayson County Society for Crippled Children's Clinic, an addition to the Sherman Community Hospital, the Texoma Savings Association Building, and the First Baptist Church in Tom Bean, Texas.

Other projects include bank buildings, in McAllister, Oklahoma, Texarkana, Ark., and Durant, Okla., an addition and remodeling for the Madonna Hospital in Denison, Texas, hospital and clinic facilities for the Richardson Medical Center, Richardson, Texas, geriatrics housing, other medical facilities, residential and commercial projects.

Besides architectural projects, Thomas still enjoys furniture design, having won a southwestern design competition sponsored by the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts with a six-position combination coffee and dining table which is a permanent acquisition of the museum. His hobbies include painting, sculpting, swimming, water skiing, music and reading. Much of his free time is given to his church through the choral music and religious education departments. He is presently president of the Sherman Art League.

Judy plays the accordion, Mary performs on the big bass "fiddle" and Ann plays guitar. Together with their vocals, some styled after the McGuire Sisters, the trio makes up an unbeatable entertainment package. 'Drive-Thru' Department New Feature Modern design which highlights the new Citizens Bank and Trust Company building is carried into the convenient drive-thru motor banking department located on the west side of the bank building.

Three banking windows have been installed to give fast service to those who wish to do their banking from their automobile.

A teller in each window will be able to clearly hear the customer and a "deal tray" has been installed at proper height within easy reach of the driver.

Employees who will be working the drive-thru windows will be tellers Don Kite, Maxine Johnson and Verona Collier.

Bank officials say motorists wishing to use the outside service should approach the rear of the bank building from Frost Street and through the bank parking area and into the banking stalls.

When leaving the service area, drivers will exit on Kingsmill Street.

The first service window is located inside the bank building with the other two areas attached with separate stations.

24-Hour Depository Service Is One Special Feature Of The New Bank

One of the special features to be offered by the new Citizens Bank & Trust Co. will be the special 24-hour depository service to afford convenience and protection for the individual user.

Bank officials report that this service reduces hazards of burglary and will be an asset to the entire community.

Night depository equipment, of course, also will be available for use during banking hours. A customer may, with the proper depository envelope, just walk by the bank and make a deposit through the slot provided for that purpose.

The 24-hour depository service completely eliminates the need to bank by mail for depositors living in Pampa. The bank will supply depository envelopes and fully instruct depositors in their use.

"Bank by Mail" envelopes and deposit slips will be available.

Officials of the bank explained that upon receipt of deposits through the mail, the contents are verified, the deposits processed, and a receipt mailed to the depositor.

In explaining the use of the 24-hour depository service, the bank officials outlined the following instructions:

Endorse check by writing "for deposit only," then sign your name.

If cash is deposited verify the amount and place the amount on space provided on the front of the envelope. When your deposit is opened the amount of cash and checks will be counted and verified in the presence of two tellers.

Be sure that both your name and address is placed on the 24-hour deposit ticket.

To use the 24-hour depository:

1. Raise the cover.

2. Push the envelope slide to the side.

3. Put envelope into slot.

4. Slide the slot closed and lower the outside cover.

Accident-Prone NEW YORK (UPI) — Drivers who commit traffic violations are particularly likely to have accidents, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. A study of Iowa drivers, it said, showed the ratio of actual accidents to the number expected was 134 per cent among drivers with two or more violations.

Speeding, improper passing and failure to observe stop signs were the most highly associated with accidents, the company said.

The spacious interior of the building is arranged with the most efficient layout practical with the large lobby featuring attractive check tables equipped with the customary pen and ink, deposit and withdrawal slips and other items necessary for a customer to conduct banking transactions.

The terrazo flooring in the lobby contains imported onyx chips from Monterey, Mexico.

Six tellers will serve bank patrons from an area adjacent to the lobby and an expansive, 32-foot by 60-foot carpeted area serves as the loan and conference room on the ground floor.

Safety deposit boxes, numbering 200, are located at the rear of the lobby with a small, private conference room adjacent for personal examination of important documents, etc.

A 50-ton heating and cooling system serves the building with 32 outlets, each with individual control units.

The entire ceiling is coated with a sprayed-on acoustical material to provide a quiet, pleasant atmosphere.

Also on the ground floor are two exchange windows, two statement windows, three installment receiving windows as well as two private rooms for the use of bank officers and for conferences in absolute privacy with bank patrons.

According to the builder, Frank Winfree of the Frank and Winfree Co. of Denison, a company which deals exclusively in the construction of banks, the Citizens Bank and Trust Company is "one of the most beautiful and modern banking plants in Texas."

The exterior of the building is of polished jet granite, whiteface brick, porcelain paneling and gold metal trim.

Added facilities include a parking area for 35 cars off the street, as well as accommodations for 20 cars at a time doing business in the three drive-thru banking areas.

Still more features include a day and night depository for 24-hour service; an automatic elevator to take customers to the second floor where there are bank service offices and the beautiful community room which will be available to the general public for club meetings, etc. Also upstairs is located the coffee room for employees and guests, plus bank storage, power plant, lounges and directors' room. If you would rather, you can use the beautiful staircase to reach the second floor from the lobby.

The new bank will continue to utilize modern equipment to expedite the most complete banking and trust services: Burroughs Sensimatic bookkeeping, Bell and Howell microfilming and National Cash Register proof.

Services, as in the past, include checking and savings accounts, all types of loans, escrow, cashier's checks, bank money orders, safety deposit boxes, trusts, sale and redemption of savings bonds, permanent record by micro-filming counseling, plus many extraordinary services and facilities offered by a most progressive and friendly bank.

CLINTON M. EVANS, DIRECTOR

Clinton M. Evans, director of the Citizens Bank and Trust Company, was born at Morningsport, Louisiana, the son of Mrs. S. C. Evans and the late Mr. Evans, who was one of the original founders of the bank. The Evans family has been well known in the oil industry as Mr. Tex Evans had a major part in the development of oil in the Pampa area since moving here in 1929. They established the Buick Agency here in 1934.

Clinton was graduated from Pampa High school and the University of Texas. Upon his graduation from the University in 1938 he joined the family firm of Tex Evans Buick - Rambler, Inc., and was made manager of the firm in 1947 upon his return from World War II in which he served with the Air Force in North Africa. In 1941 he was married to Donna Jo Berry. They have their home at 1701 N. Russell with their children, Dean and Berkley.

Evans has been very active in civic affairs of Pampa. He helped to organize the United Fund, of which he is past president, as well as being past president of Knife and Fork, Kiwanis, Chamber of Commerce. He is now a director of the Community Hotel, the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority and the Chamber of Commerce. He is a member of the First Methodist Church.

"A new building is always a source of pride to the owner. It has been our aim in planning an out-standing bank building that it would also be a source of pride for the city of Pampa and our area. This new building is a big step for the Citizens Bank and Trust Company. We believe it is a big step forward for Pampa too," he said.

Experienced Firm Contractor For The New Citizens Bank Building

Officials of the Citizens Bank & Trust Co. did a great deal of shopping around some 18 months ago when they were looking for a contractor to build their new bank structure.

They finally settled on the Frank and Winfree Co. of Denison, Texas, a firm that deals exclusively in bank construction.

The bank construction job which started here in August of 1961 has been under the personal supervision of F. W. Winfree, company president.

The Frank and Winfree Co. was founded 18 years ago in 1944 by F. W. Winfree, R. J. Frank, R. A. Frank and E. O. Frank. Eight years later in 1952 Frank W. Winfree acquired full interest as individual owner. The company was incorporated in 1958. Home office of the company is in Denison and the firm has its area of operation throughout the entire Southwest.

Officers of the firm today, in addition to President Frank Winfree, are W. E. Winfree, vice president; R. B. Miller Jr., vice president; and Ann M. Winfree, secretary - treasurer.

An outstanding distinction of the Frank and Winfree Co. is that it not only engages in contracting for building construction but also operates a manufacturing plant for custom built furniture and fixtures.

Some of the more recent bank buildings completed by the company, in addition to the beautiful, new Pampa bank, are the Alva State Bank at Alva, Okla.; State National Bank at Marlow, Okla.; First National Bank at Mt. Pleasant, Texas, and the First National Bank at Brownfield, Texas.

"We are exceptionally proud of the new Citizens Bank & Trust Co.," Winfree said this week. "It is one of the most modern banking structures in the Southwest."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Commenting on the recent pause in the summer rally, Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. believes the market was entitled to a rest after its long advance and news of Republic steel's dividend cut provided an excuse to come down. He does not visualize any drastic sell-off at this time. Instead, he looks for opportunities to buy favored equities since the technical position remains sound.

Spear & Staff says that despite the added conference reflected by the recent rally, it does not believe that the stage has been set for an important upside move.

Thomson & McKinon says among the laggard areas which should show improvement are the rubbers, chemicals and steels.

'Hospitality Room' To Be Used By Many

By WANDA HUFF
Pampa News Staff Writer
A contest to name the Hospitality Room in the new Citizens Bank and Trust Company building will begin Saturday and end Sept. 10. The winner will receive a $100 savings bond from the bank. Contest blanks will be placed in the foyer of the new building.

The Hospitality Room of the new bank building has a seating capacity of 100 and blends the bank's theme colors of gold, apricot, cream and melon with tangerine and turquoise accent colors. The room's central features are a 4 foot by 12 foot walnut reception table with 60 wool, antique gold grosspoint walnut chairs and two walnut cabinets with locked glass doors and gold grills.

The reception table is the non-extendable, panel pedestal type and seats 14 easily. The cabinets were built and intended for arts and crafts clubs to use to display their work. The bank will place a movie projector in one cabinet for civic clubs and organizations to use. Movies can be projected on to the cream colored walls.

Two grooves, extending the entire length of the north and south walls were cut for art clubs to hang selections of their members work.

The 25 foot by 35 foot room is carpeted in a soft, basic melon color, has floor-length draperies in a cream colored, sheer linen, mesh design and will be decorated with ivy and other green plants in brass, turquoise and walnut containers.

The room is furnished with two walnut love seats upholstered in a gold and tangerine, nubby weave fabric, four walnut chairs in a pumpkin colored fabric, two walnut cocktail tables and an 80-inch server which will hold a 24-karat, 35-cup, gold-plated automatic coffee urn. The appointments on the coffee tables will be, in white china. The hanging lighting fixtures are in white and gold brass.

"We're keeping an appointment book for civic clubs and organizations to reserve the room," Mrs. Clyde M. Vanderberg, vice president and cashier of the bank, said. "The Altrusa Club of Pampa made the first reservation for Monday night."

"After brides have their receptions in the Hospitality Room, they can come down our modernistic version of the spiral staircase. It is in white and gold with a mahogany railing and would be ideal for the traditional tossing of the bridal bouquet," Mrs. Vanderberg said.
