Fierce Fighting Breaks Out Between Algerians

ALGIERS (UPI) — Fierce fighting between Algerian army units and guerrilla forces opposing Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella was reported south and west of Algiers today.

Headquarters of Willaya (military district) Four, center of Ben Bella opposition, said the fighting involved "artillery and automatic weapons."

Willaya Four said its guerrillas had pushed the Ben Bella forces back. It put the casualties at "dozens of dead and seriously wounded."

"Extreme Violence"

"The combat is still going on, with extreme violence," the Willaya Four announcement said.

The announcement said the fighting took place south of Aumale, about 55 miles south of here, shortly after daybreak.

Willaya Four said its guerrilla troops "resisted fiercely and repelled the invaders."

The fighting near Aumale appeared to be the heaviest since the pro-Ben Bella forces began their three pronged drive toward Algiers last week to wrest control of the capital from the rebel military commanders.

Police sources at Medea reported more "violent fighting" near Massena, about 120 miles west of Algiers, early this morning.

First reports from the Massena region list eight dead and "several" wounded, the sources said. There was no immediate report on casualties in the Aumale region.

Motorists Drive To Death Record Over Holiday

By United Press International

American motorists drove to a death record over the Labor Day week end.

With reports of the highway carnage still trickling in, the traffic death toll soared over the previous all-time high for the 78-hour holiday of 461 set in 1951.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, feared the final tally for the traffic slaughter would be near or past the 500 mark.

Hopes that the death pace would slacken were dashed as an estimated 25 million cars began the homeward rush from holiday outings Monday.

The council said the traffic was the "heaviest of the week end and possibly the heaviest in history."

Drownings and other mishaps shoved the total accidental death count well over 600, and thousands more were injured.

At noon CST, the United Press International count showed that 499 persons had been killed on the highways since the holiday started at 6 p.m. local time Friday night — a rate of six an hour. The vacation period ended at midnight Monday.

The breakdown:

Traffic 499
Drownings 72
Boats 4
Planes 9
Miscellaneous 80
Total 664

California had the grim distinction of leading the death parade with 47 traffic fatalities. Next was New York with 26, Texas 25, Ohio 17, and Indiana 19. Pennsylvania and Illinois—18 each; North Carolina 17, and Virginia and Wisconsin 16 each. Nearly half the persons killed on the roads died in these 11 states.

'Provocation' Cited By Radio Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union charged today another U2 spy plane had violated Soviet borders.

In a protest note to the United States, handed over today to U.S. charge d'affaires John McSweeney, Russia referred to the U2 flights as provocations and said the world already knew what the consequences of Francis Gary Powers' U2 spying mission in May, 1960, had been.

Moscow Radio broadcast the text of the note at 10 a.m. EDT today.

The Soviet note, said the U.S.S.R. will be "compelled to take retaliatory measures up to and including making harmless U. S. A. bases," if the "provocations" continue.

The Soviet News Agency Tass reported the Soviet note specified the new U2 flight "intruded into the Soviet air space in the far east, 65 kilometers (40.3 miles) east of Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk, at 7:21 p.m. (12:21 p.m. EDT), Aug. 30 and overflew the territory and territorial waters of the U.S.S.R. for nine minutes."

Yuzhno-Sakhalinsk is a major city on southern Sakhalin Island, just north of Japan.

The Soviets asked the U. S. government to "rigorously punish the persons responsible for organizing this flight of an American warplane."

Tass reported:

Call For Action

The Soviets also asked Washington to "take measures at once to prevent any future violations of the Soviet air space."

"If this is not done, the Soviet government will take measures it will deem necessary to safeguard the security of its frontiers in the event of a new violation," Tass quoted the note as saying.

Tass reported the Soviet government "reserves the right to raise" the question of the alleged U2 flight before the U. N. General Assembly.

The Soviet note, according to Tass, stressed that this alleged "gross violation of the Soviet frontier is of a flagrantly provocative nature."

Powers' Flight Recalled

Tass specifically connected this latest event with the May, 1960, flight of Francis Gary Powers that ended when his U2 was downed over Sverdlovsk in Siberia.

The Soviet note as reported by Tass said:

"What is this—a revival of the old practice of the previous (Eisenhower) government, condemned by President Kennedy himself, or a provocative act of the bellicose United States quarters which would like to create a new international conflict, like the conflict of 1960, and to aggravate the situation to the maximum?"

Answer Requested

"The U. S. government must furnish a clear answer to this question," the note said.

According to Tass, the Soviet (See RUSSIANS, Page 3)

Communists Shoot Berlin Refugee As Battle-Ready US Troops Take Posts

BERLIN (UPI)—Communist police shot and probably killed a refugee trying to escape over a cemetery wall into West Berlin today.

West Berlin police said the man was shot off the top of the wall and tumbled back into East Berlin territory. He showed no signs of life, and Western police said they believed he was dead.

The incident occurred as United States Army troops in full battle gear manned positions at key crossing points to block any attempt by the Soviets to send their war memorial guards in armored cars through the American sector of Berlin. The Russians did not try to get through up to 2 p.m. (9 a.m. EDT).

Ambulance Alerted

When the report of the shooting reached the West, a French Army ambulance stationed at the U. S. Army's Checkpoint Charlie at the Friedrichstrasse crossing point on the East-West Berlin border was alerted and it began to move out.

But it was called back almost immediately when news reached the West that the refugee—wounded or dead—had been carried away on a stretcher by the Communists.

The Western Allies stationed an ambulance on the order after a 19-year-old refugee bled to death on the eastern side of the wall Aug. 17.

The French ambulance replaced an American ambulance at the border Sept. 1.

Vigil Kept up

As the shooting incident occurred, Western Allied troops kept up an intense vigil at the border. In addition to the American soldiers, the French sent nine soldiers each to their two crossing points into East Berlin at Bornholmer Strasse and Chaussee Strasse. A British armored car toured the border near the British sector's Sandkrug Bridge crossing point, one of the two points the Russians were told to use.

The scene was set for a possible showdown after an Allied order for the Russians to re-route their convoys took effect at midnight.

The Russians had shown no indication they would comply. But they did attempt a crossing at their usual hour of 12:30 p.m. (7:30 a.m. EDT).

The Western Allies told the Russians Sunday they could no longer use Checkpoint Charlie at the Friedrichstrasse crossing for their daily trip to the war memorial in the British sector.

The Russians were told they still use, instead, one of two crossings directly into the British sector—the Sandkrug Bridge or Brandenburg Gate.

Forcing the Soviets to use Brandenburg or Sandkrug was aimed at underlining the fact that the West, not the Russians, control West Berlin.

The Russians turned over their authority in East Berlin to the Germans when they abandoned the Soviet commandant's role there 10 days ago.

Burglar Leaves 'Trademark' On Victim's Mirror

A red circle on the mirror, drawn with lipstick, was the trademark left by a burglar who entered the home of Clyde W. Terry, 205½ N. Nelson, early last night.

Terry reported that the unlocked house was entered between 5:30 p.m. and 6:15 p.m. Dresser drawers in a bedroom were ransacked. A bottle of ink, hair oil and assorted cosmetics were dumped on the dresser top.

The intruder poured a bottle of pills into the kitchen sink.

According to the report to police, the intruder overlooked a jar containing 390 pennies.

Mrs. Joe Whitten, 429 Jupiter, reported a prowler around a house across the street from her home. Mrs. Marion Woodward, 519 N. Starkweather, also telephoned a prowler report to police. Officers checked both reports but said they were unable to find a trace of anyone.

Ben E. Graham, 800 Lefors, reported that between 9:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. yesterday someone threw a beer bottle through the left front window of his car parked in the 300-block of N. Cuyler.

Mrs. Horace Reynolds, 413 N. Zimmer, became alarmed at 5 p.m. yesterday when she said some boys appeared in the alley behind her home with bows and arrows. She said they aimed at her dog. Police investigated and reported the youngsters were just aiming and did not release the arrows.

Officers today were on the lookout for the driver of a 1955 black and white Chevrolet which John L. Walls, 2100 N. Dwight, said left the scene after backing into his car while trying to change traffic lanes near the intersection of S. Cuyler and Brown Sts.

The Russians were told they still use, instead, one of two crossings directly into the British sector—the Sandkrug Bridge or Brandenburg Gate.

Cambodian-US Road May Cost $50 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House investigators estimated today that the Cambodian-American Friendship Highway eventually may cost more than $50 million, three times its original price tag.

President Kennedy has earmarked another $7 million to pay for repairs on the road, which started to fall apart after its completion in 1959. Congress gave him $2.7 million last year for the same purpose.

These expenditures are in addition to the $34 million already spent on the Cambodian road. The original cost estimate on the project, designed to be a showpiece of American engineering and construction, was $17 million.

Aid agency officials said the original construction contractor, A. L. Dougherty Overseas Inc. of New York and Hammond, Ind., also wanted more money for its work on the 132-mile highway.

A House watchdog subcommittee, led by Rep. Porter Hardy Jr., D-Va., charged last November that the highway was "so badly bungled that it has damaged our prestige, burdened us with costly repairs and supplied the Communists with an effective source of anti-American propaganda."

The House group strongly criticized the Dougherty firm, U.S. foreign aid officials and another American firm, Michael Baker Jr. Inc., of Rochester, Pa., which did the engineering.

The two American firms, however, strongly denied any responsibility for the road's failures. They said proper maintenance was not performed by the Cambodians and heavy rains damaged portions of the highway.

Pice Searching For Wyatt Earp's Slen Saddle

Poa police today were conducting a search for Wyatt Earp's saddle.

It had a missing something between last Friday and Monday.

Poa said the saddle was given to Pampa's 10-year-old Wyatt Earp the same name as the famous western hero, two or three years ago at a celebration in Dodge City, Kansas.

At time of the theft, according to police, the saddle had been loaned by Myrel Looper, 626 N. ...

They May Ask Red China For Help

PNOMPENH, Cambodia (UPI) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia said Monday that if the United States and the Western Allies could not protect his country's borders and guarantee its neutrality he might appeal for help to Communist China or Russia.

The prince said at a news conference that he was tired of "very friendly, very sugary letters."

Norodom Sihanouk apparently was referring to an exchange of letters with President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain on his proposal for an international conference to recognize Cambodia's international rights.

Kennedy said he felt "official" (See RED CHINA, Page 3)

Hoaxer Calls Station

Iranian sources said Holmes told Alam the station put out the quake warning after a man who identified himself as a "police official" called and requested that a message on an impending earthquake be broadcast.

Top Iranian officials called the AFRS-TV action "careless and thoughtless."

This country staggered under the effects of the worst earthquake in its 2,500-year history, Alam said the quake which struck Saturday night killed or injured more than 20,000 persons.

Help Form Plan

The plan, worked out by the United Nations with the United States, Britain and Belgium, was presented to Katanga 11 days ago by Robert V. A. Gardiner, chief of the U.N. Congo operation, Monday was the deadline given for Katanga's response.

The plan allows Tshombe much of the administrative autonomy he has fought for as well as a significant share of all foreign currencies attracted by his copper-rich province.

Under the projected federation, however, the Leopoldville regime of Premier Cyrille Adoula will be the over-all authority in Congolese affairs. It will have control of national military and police, customs, immigration, and citizenship, international relations — political and economic — and postal and electronic communications for the nation.

1st Ad Appears In The Journal

The first of a series of advertisements appeared in today's issue of The Wall Street Journal to tell the Pampa story to potential investors seeking Texas locations.

The series of ads was decided on by the Industrial Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce as part of the chamber's revitalized program to bring new industry to the area.

Massive Rescue, Salvage Operation Starts In Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—A massive international rescue and salvage operation mobilized relief today for the thousands suffering from the worst earthquake in Iran's history.

The United States and a dozen other nations poured money, men and machines into this shattered land in a vast humanitarian effort to help Iran dig out of the disaster that killed or injured 20,000 persons and left possibly 100,000 homeless.

The U. S. Air Force was flying 100,000 blankets, 1,000 tents and a 100-bed hospital unit to Iran where piles of crushed stone and mud were all that was left of scores of tiny villages in the vast triangular area south and southwest of Tehran hit by the quake.

The U. S. State Department disclosed $20,000 in emergency funds turned over to the Iranian government immediately after the earthquake became known.

Key Sends Cable

President Kennedy cabled a message of sympathy to the shah and offered whatever other aid may be needed.

The American Red Cross cabled $10,000 to the Red Lion Society, the Iranian equivalent of the Red Cross.

The new headquarters of CARE—the American Relief Administration—directed its mission to divert $100,000, worth of supplies to the quake survivors.

The U. S. Embassy announced that CARE supplies already in Tehran were given as an immediate gift to victims.

Others Offer Help

In addition, offers of help came from Canada, France, Morocco, Norway, West Germany, Italy and the Vatican, with others expected shortly.

Premier Assadollah Alam, who toured the disaster area and wept as he described the devastation later to newsmen, said in a broadcast today that health minister Dr. Ebrahim Riahi had set up a base at Ghazvin to conduct all-relief operations in the stricken area.

The premier also announced that Gen. Hejazi, head of the combined general staff, personally is directing all operations of the 4,500 troops in the disaster region.

Medical students throughout the nation also have volunteered their services to disaster officials, it was disclosed.

Ambassador Apologizes

Meanwhile, U. S. Ambassador Julius C. Holmes apologized to Premier Alam for an American television-radio broadcast that erroneously warned jittery Iranians of impending new earthquakes.

The broadcast, which Holmes labeled a "cruel hoax," set off a citywide panic.

The transmission over the local U.S. Armed Forces radio-television station AFRS-TV Monday night sent thousands of Iranians into

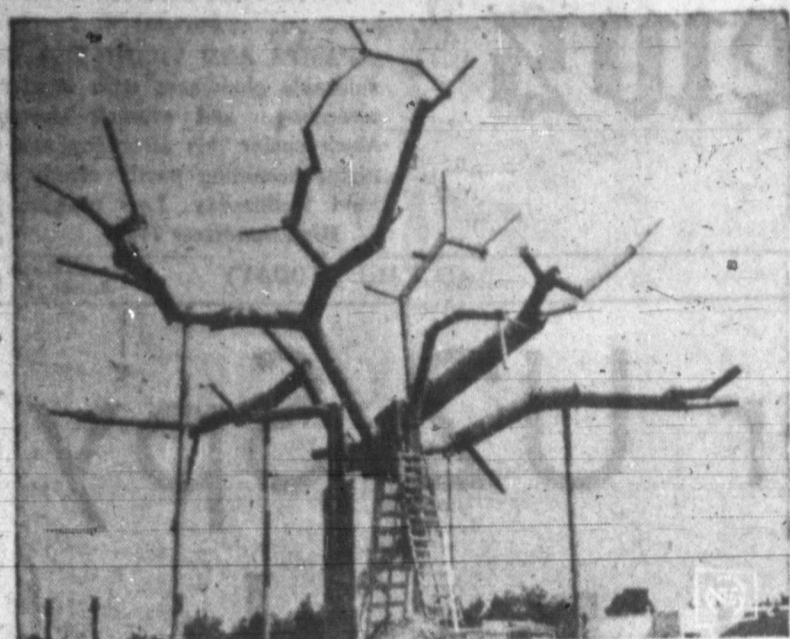

A massive effort was being organized to speed recovery from the quake which struck Saturday night, devastating a 13,800-square-mile triangular area to the south and southwest of Tehran.

Saturday's tremor shook Tehran, but no casualties were reported in the city.

Offer Help

The United States and a number of other countries offered financial and material help.

Because of the vast destruction, it was difficult to pinpoint the casualties. Premier Alam told newsmen that "well above 20,000" persons had been killed or seriously injured. A spokesman for the premier put the death toll at "more than 10,000... maybe 20,000, maybe more."

Walter Rogers Reports

No Disarmament

There can never be unilateral disarmament by this country. Anyone advocating such a policy is either mentally unbalanced or seeking the overthrow of our government. I know of no Member of Congress who would give a second thought to a suggestion of unilateral disarmament. They would consider such a suggestion completely and utterly silly. Hence, since the affirmative action of the Congress is required before any such action could be taken, it is a foregone conclusion that the fuzzy-headed thinking of a few unrealistic dreamers is not going to have the slightest weight.

Documentary proof of this lies in the fact that Congress has just recently passed the largest defense authorization and appropriation bills in our peacetime history. Other outlays have been made in the space program, which will soon become our first line of defense. This means that 60 cents out of every tax dollar going to the Federal government is closely and directly identified with the defense of this country in refining old weapons of war and in building new ones. Add to these figures the costs of past wars for which we are still paying, and we find that approximately 75 cents of every Federal tax dollar is directly associated with "war."

This should prove to the most skeptical that the United States of America is not seeking war but is ready, able and willing to take on any country or group of countries that thinks we are soft. It would do any of these countries well to look at the facts before listening to the talk of some soft-heads. This country has never lowered its guard, nor will it so long as there are aggressors in this world who preach peace and practice conflict.

Man has long looked upon unilateral disarmament of the major powers as the best method of securing the peace of the world. This has been a major concern of every civilization since the Stone Age. It has been the subject of conferences between sovereign powers since the beginning of time. To date, no satisfactory solution has been found, although the conferences and discussions continue. As each new weapon of war has come into being, the problem has become more complex. The advent of nuclear power increased the problems and complexities many thousand-fold. It made necessary a complete re-evaluation of the studies, the research, the coordination of activities and the preparation for management of participation in international negotiations on the subject. In short, it created a situation where the slightest lack of knowledge from a technological or scientific standpoint could spell disaster.

For a number of years, activities and research with relation to disarmament negotiations had been carried out in our government in a rather loose and uncoordinated manner. This method of operation had apparently been satisfactory prior to the coming of nuclear power and hence was continued. However, in the past several years the lack of some basic scientific and technological information on the part of some high officials in this country, due primarily to the uncoordinated efforts of the several agencies and divisions charged with this responsibility, created some very dangerous pitfalls. It was these near-tragic experiences that shocked our government into recognizing the need for absolute coordination of all of our facilities in further negotiating on this age-old issue.

Thus came into being the Arms Control and Disarmament Act, which is an act designed for the purpose of coordinating all phases of these activities under one head, in order to center the responsibility and to avoid any possibility of breaches in security clearance, research and development and all other sensitive areas including scientific and technological activities. The primary purpose of the agency created by this act is to provide the essential scientific, economic, political, military, psychological and technological information upon which realistic arms control and disarmament policy must be based. It does not have the power in any degree to bind this country in the field of disarmament or otherwise contrary to the Constitution and laws of this nation.

In order to doubly assure there would be no misunderstanding in this particular, several of us in the Congress prepared an amendment and secured its adoption. This amendment specifically spelled out a prohibition against disarmament or arms limitation not approved by the Congress in accordance with the Constitution. Hence, anyone reviewing all of the facts, even the fuzzy-headed, can readily see that the United States of America is continuing its motto "Don't Tread on Me" and is fully capable of enforcing the warning.

On Deducting Expenses For 'Entertainment'

Uncle Sam's tax collection agency, the Internal Revenue Service, is taking a long critical look at tax abuses in the areas of "entertainment expenses," "business travel," and "expense accounts." Canceled checks alone are no longer being accepted as adequate substantiation for claimed expenses. Consequently, before Mr. Hardworking Businessman gets too far off on the wrong foot with the IRS in 1962, Ellis Campbell, Jr., Dallas IRS district director, comes up with some helpful suggestions.

"Accurate record keeping is the best way to save federal tax money that I can think of," Campbell said.

"The following pointers can be as useful to our area self-employed folks as to corporation executives claiming deductions on personal tax returns for business expenses, whether reimbursed or not."

Campbell revealed that entertainment expense records should provide relation of the expenditure to the taxpayer's business, and the ordinary and necessary business purpose of the expense. Records should show the name of the person or persons entertained and the companies they represent, as well as the date and place of entertainment.

"Naturally," Campbell cautioned, "the amount of the expenditure must be ordinary and necessary. If the sum is sizeable, be sure to keep a copy of the bill. It's necessary for us to know whether the entertainment was paid by out-of-pocket cash, credit card, check, or charged to the employer."

Campbell's next article will discuss proper record keeping for federal tax purposes of "Home Entertainment," and "Club Dues."

'Miss America' Time Again In Atlantic City, N.J.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—It's Miss America time again at this famed seaside resort and shortly before midnight next Saturday a new queen will realize a dream come true.

But from now until then, the 54 finalists in the beauty contest will lead spartan lives of self-denial and will be under the strictest supervision.

The rigid rules are an integral part of the Miss America tradition and a volunteer corps of Atlantic City matrons will be on duty to enforce them.

Here are some of the "don'ts" the contestants are required to observe:

—They are not permitted to speak to any man, including members of their own families, unless a hostess (matron) is present.

—They are not allowed to dine with a man.

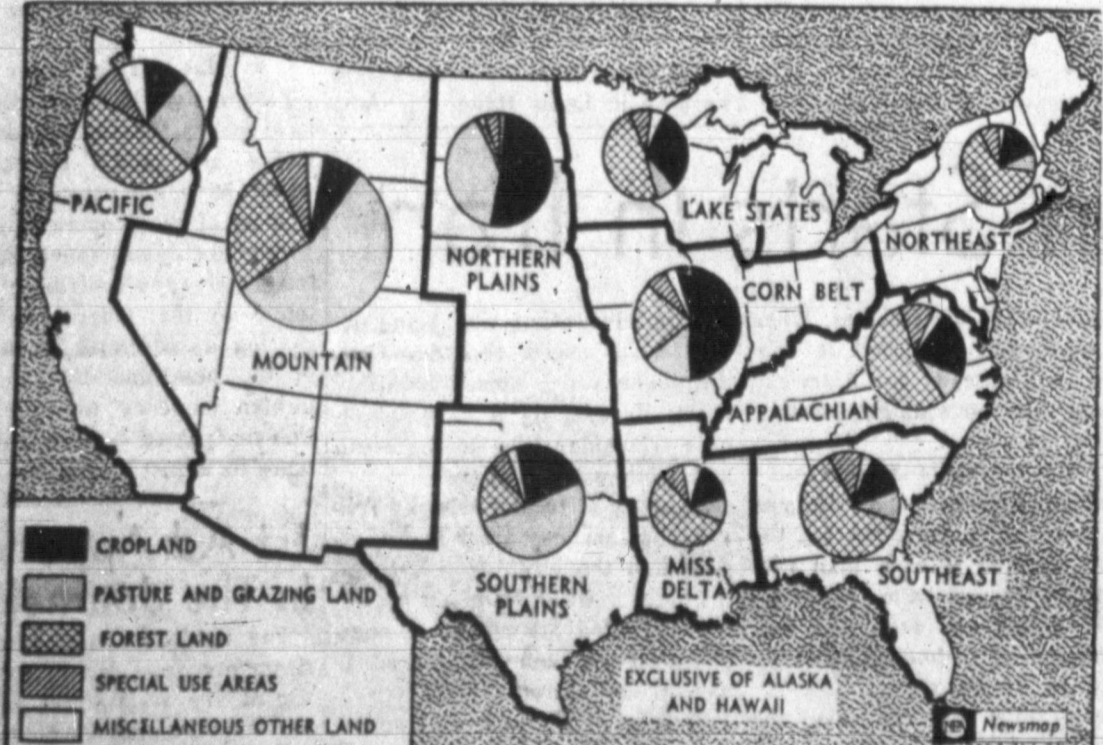

—No smoking in public.

—They are not permitted to enter any business establishment where liquor is served.

—And they are forbidden to have their pictures taken in swim suits while on the beach or boardwalk.

An officially supervised swim suit picture session, to be held on the sun deck of a hotel, is scheduled for Tuesday.

And for that, the girls were warned they must not wear strapless swim suits. Bikinis, naturally, also were forbidden.

USES OF THE LAND—Varied climate and geography give each section of the United States a different role in the nation's economy. Newsmap above, based on information from the Department of Agriculture, shows the major uses of land as compared with the total land area in regions. In the East, South, Lake states and Northwest, forestland predominates. In the Midwest and Northern Plains, it is cropland, and in the Southern Plains and Mountain states, pastures and grazing land. Total number of acres of land in the 50 states is 2.271 billion. Of this 20 per cent is cultivated cropland, 28 per cent grassland pasture and range and 34 per cent forest. The rest is devoted to other uses.

John Sloan Rites Set Wednesday

John W. Sloan, an independent oil operator, died at 2 p.m. Monday at the Hillcrest Hospital in Tulsa, Okla.

Mr. Sloan suffered a heart attack Saturday.

He was born in 1897 in St. Mary's, West Virginia. He had lived in Tulsa since 1906 and was the former sales manager of the International Supply Company, having been associated with his father, the late James W. Sloan, founder of International.

John Sloan was president of the Thompson Oil and Gas Company and vice-president of the Sloan Oil and Gas Company. He had been an active operator in the Pampa area of the Panhandle Field for the last 24 years, during which period he spent a great deal of time in Pampa. He is well known to most local oil producers and oilfield supply company personnel.

Survivors include his wife, Neesho; and step-mother, Mrs. James W. Sloan, both of Tulsa.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10:10 a.m. at the Stanley Funeral Home in Tulsa.

Amphitheater Bids Are To Be Opened

CANYON, Tex. (Sp) — Board members of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation will meet Thursday afternoon to open bids for the construction of the first wing of the amphitheater in the Palo Duro Canyon. They will decide at that meeting to whom to award the contract and how much of the building to construct at this time. Seven construction companies in the area were invited to submit estimates. They were chosen for their experience in projects of similar size, by the building committee of the Heritage Foundation.

About half of the money is still needed to build the theater and to produce the great drama with music and motion about the heritage and spirit of the Texas Panhandle which is planned for the Palo Duro Canyon. While this money is coming in, construction on the first wing of the theater will proceed. And the awarding of the contract is a giant step.

With the construction of this theater and the presentation of this great historical play with music called a symphonic drama, the Texas Panhandle will join the ranks of areas in the world which tell their stories in such distinguished and exciting ways that visitors and residents who hear them never forget the place or the people or the story.

One of the needs of our time, according to Foundation officials, is to make one place distinguishable from another. The people of the Panhandle have embarked on this project to advertise and draw people to the Palo Duro Canyon, the distinguished gash which marks our area, with a play about its history which will make both unforgettable.

Other areas which produce such entertainments have enriched their own lives, enchanted their children, and reaped much financial gain from the interest and patronage of the tourists.

The office of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation is now located at 415 16th Street on Canyon Square, Canyon. The telephone is OLive 5-4272.

letters" from interested countries in support of Cambodia's independence would be more effective than a conference. "I should be glad to write such a formal letter for the United States," Kennedy said.

The text of the President's letter was released Monday in Washington.

Norodom Shihanouk suggested the Western powers should give Cambodia the same guarantees they gave neighboring Laos. He said that if a workable solution cannot be found, Cambodia "in the last extremity" would appeal for "Chinese and Soviet garrisons."

The prince said Cambodia had been able to increase its army by only 350 men "because of lack of money."

"We can try another way," he said. "But I do not want to get any more very friendly, very sugary letters saying they recognize and respect my country. I want respect but I also want guarantees for my country."

Mariner-2 'Corrective' Shot Is Due

By DOUGLAS DILTZ United Press International PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Scientists today hoped to execute a critical midcourse maneuver intended to redirect the Mariner-2 spacecraft within 10,000 miles of Venus for an electric eye view beneath the planet's perpetual cloud cover.

The maneuver was originally scheduled for Monday but was canceled for 24 hours by scientists at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) to allow more time to determine whether the craft's high gain antenna-earth sensor combination was "locked on the earth or the moon."

To successfully execute the midcourse maneuver, the antenna should be "locked in" on the earth, so it would be at a proper angle to receive accurately the signal to the robot "electronic brain" on the craft. When the process is triggered a small rocket motor is activated to correct the trajectory of the Mariner-2.

JPL scientists said Monday the maneuver could be attempted "within the next few days," but after that it would be futile to attempt the course correction.

Without the midcourse correction, the Mariner-2 will fly by Venus at 250,000 miles — too far to obtain valuable information on the mystery-shrouded planet.

It was stressed that it "was not detrimental to the long range success of the mission" if the earth sensor was not locked on earth. At 7 p.m. EDT, Monday night the Mariner-2 was 1,324,823 miles from earth, traveling about 6,700 miles an hour.

Woman Charged

Dixie Marie Cunningham, 27, 605 Madison, Amarillo, was to be arraigned in County Court this afternoon on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

She was arrested at 8 p.m. yesterday near the intersection of E. Albert and S. Cuyler streets after being observed by police officers Lt. J. B. Goad and Patrolman Joe E. Brewer, after the vehicle she was driving was observed weaving along the street.

Maryland was on the Union side during the Civil War.

Police And Club Seek Courteous Pampa Drivers

Are you a courteous driver? If so, the local police department and the Altrusa Club of Pampa are looking for you.

Beginning this week, the women's service club, with the cooperation of the police department, is conducting a survey to find the "most courteous driver of the month." The recognition for acts of courteous driving will continue through eight months beginning this month and concluding in June, with recognition awards made each month with the exception of December.

In the interest of traffic safety, local drivers performing acts of courtesy, while driving in downtown traffic or on residential streets, will receive recognition for their courtesy from the police and will be guests of Altrusa at its monthly luncheon meeting in the Coronado Inn.

The safety project, conducted in cooperation with the City Traffic

It is felt by the club and the police department that courteous acts of "doing unto others as you would have them do unto you" applies as much on the city streets as in someone's living room and will go a long way in keeping Pampa a safe place in which to live.

note also warned about "the grave consequences for the countries whose governments grant their territory to American warplanes for preparing and committing invasions into the confines of the U.S.S.R."

The note repeated Soviet warnings about taking "proper retaliatory measures, including the rendering harmless of war bases used against the U.S.S.R."

Large Shipping Center Ruzhno-Sakhalinsk is the largest city on the southern tip of the Soviet Union's Sakhalin Island just north of Japan.

The alleged incident was the first of its type since a Soviet fighter shot down a British-based U. S. Air Force RB47 reconnaissance bomber north of Archangel in July, 1960.

All but two of the crew were killed. The survivors, after a lengthy period of detention in the Soviet Union, were released in what the Soviets portrayed as a good-will gesture to U. S. President John Kennedy just after he took office.

Man Accidentally Shoots Self While Dove Hunting

Finis C. Gee, 121 S. Dwight St., was reported in good condition today in Highland General Hospital where he is recovering from a gunshot wound he received at 10:40 a.m. Monday while dove hunting.

According to hospital officials, Gee told them he was dove hunting alone on the British-American Oil Lease, east of the city on U.S. Highway 60, and when he stopped his car to get out and shoot at a flock of doves, the gun discharged, hitting him in the calf of his left leg.

He told hospital attendants he was unable to get back into his car and drive into town, so he flagged down the driver of a passing automobile which took him to the hospital.

To thoroughly cleanse the skin areas around the nose and chin, this woman uses cotton balls on which she has dabbed cleansing cream, plus a mild astringent.

Proper Complexion Care Important Key To Prolonging Youthful Look

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The wise, mature woman has no desire to look like a teenager. But, whatever her age, she's pleased if she seems younger.

Proper skin care is an important key to prolonging a youthful appearance, for it can prevent lines and wrinkles.

As you grow older, skin changes occur which require special attention. And if any bothersome skin conditions arise, you should see a dermatologist.

Tension causes worry lines. So treat yourself to a facial when you feel strain and fatigue. It will relax you and stimulate circulation as well.

Many women have skin that is dry in some areas, yet oily around the nose and chin. To properly cleanse the oily areas, keep a vanity jar of cotton balls on your dressing table. Soak one in cold water, squeeze out the water, and then dab the cotton in light cleansing cream, plus a mild astringent.

Cleanse these areas a number of times, using a fresh cotton ball each time until no make-up shows on the cotton. Finish by applying an astringent. On less oily portions of the face, refrain from using too much astringent.

For very dry skin, have your dermatologist prescribe a medicated soap, which you can apply with a good quality man's shaving brush.

Follow these simple rules and adhere to a balanced diet, and your complexion should glow for years to come.

Time To Take Stock Of Summer's Damage

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We're close to that transition period when summer is disappearing and fall is around the corner. It's time to take stock of the damage done to our looks by sun and casual living.

That sun tan we worked so hard to get is fading, and a sickly olive tinge is all that's left. Hot baths and the use of good body brush will eventually fade this. And gentle rubbing with half a lemon will remove the stubborn spots.

You'll want a permanent and a new hair style so that you'll look as fresh and crisp as fall, itself. But first, get your hair back into condition. Hot oil treatments, or a heatless conditioner, will help a great deal. And wield that hairbrush, too. Only when your hair is shining and healthy once more should you have your permanent and new coiffure.

To look your best in your fall wardrobe, don't forget to change your make-up shades. Summer pastel lipsticks are a good contrast for a golden tan; but brighter shades are best for autumn. You'll want your lip and eye make-up to be perfect complements to fall fashion shades.

Use this period that's neither summer nor fall to get ready to look your best when the clear, brisk new season arrives in earnest.

Grooming Counts Most

Teen-agers everywhere are getting ready for the fall term. And because every girl wants to be a campus belle, she is giving a lot of thought to her school wardrobe.

Everyone will look her best those first days of school, when clothes are new and smart. But the girl who wants to be date bait all term long, will remember that much of beauty is a result of good grooming.

When the heels on those new shoes start to run down, have them fixed. Be sure that the bright scarf you wear to brighten a dress or sweater is clean and in mint condition. Even your jewelry can be come dull and soiled and should be cleaned frequently. (With proper care, most costume jewelry can be washed.)

You won't be beautiful unless you are neat, trim and clean. So insure your continued social success at school by paying attention to the little things that can make even a plain girl good to look at.

Make-Up Manners

To learn to apply your make-up with the skill of a professional, you must first learn "dressing table manners."

All your foundation make-up should be in one place so that you can read the labels and colors and easily select the one you want.

You'll never have to search for the proper lipstick shade, rouge, mascara or eye shadow if you place them in divided boxes so that the names are visible.

Store your powder puffs and tissues in a drawer separate from your make-up. When they are allowed to fall just anywhere, they soil your other make-up requisites and become soiled themselves.

Coaches' Wives Are Welcomed At Coffee

WHITE DEER (Sp) — Mrs. Jackie Moss, Mrs. Ronald Mills and Mrs. Weldon Bates were complimented with coffee Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Roy Simmons. Assisting as hostesses were Meses. Ray Schultz, John Morris, E. A. McCreary, Vic Bates and Lawson Shaw.

The guests of honor are the wives of the new coaches at the White Deer and Skellytown schools.

The coffee table was centered with an arrangement of fall roses and pastel pink dahlias, presented by Mrs. Harry Hughes and arranged by Mrs. Shaw.

Approximately 40 guests met to welcome the honorees.

DEAR ABBY: I have a dandy for you. I am 32, single, fairly well educated and have a good job that keeps me on the move. Not wanting to become permanently involved with women, I wear a plain gold ring and tell the ladies I am a married man stepping out. This has worked like a charm until now. I have been seeing a girl very often who was clever enough to ask a few questions like, "What does your wife look like? Don't you carry her picture? Why don't you ever talk about her?" I got myself tripped up.

Now she knows I am single and intends to pin my ears to her boudoir wall on a permanent basis. I don't want to get married, but for every argument I put up, she puts up three and, frankly, I am being out-talked. Can you help me?

OUT-TALKED

DEAR OUT-TALKED: A man who will say "I do" because he hasn't the courage to say "I won't" doesn't deserve to be rescued. Head for the hills!

DEAR ABBY: Why do customers come into a restaurant and always sit at the dirty table even though there are 30 clean ones available? This puzzles me. Please print your answer as this question is in the minds of many other waitresses.

PUZZLED WAITRESS

DEAR PUZZLED: Perhaps clutter and disorder are more inviting than tidiness. Could it be the same psychology that motivates people to use bath towels, tissue and even bath mats to dry their hands rather than disturb the pristine state of a lovely linen guest towel?

DEAR ABBY: Our father died 15 months ago. All of us children are married and have homes and families of our own. Mamma took it very hard although Dad was sick for a year and his death was a blessing. Every night we go through the same thing: "Who's going to stay with Mamma to-night?" She refuses to make her home with any of us, and says she doesn't sleep a wink if someone isn't in the house with her. The first few months we could understand it, but it's been over a year now and we can't take turns staying overnight with her forever. Any suggestions will be welcomed.

DEAR ONE: Find Mamma a live-in companion. Surely there is a compatible widow or single woman with whom your mother could share her home. If your mother vetoes that suggestion, make up your mind that she refuses to be pleased and just wants to be catered to.

Dear Abby....

The Mature Parent

Instant Obedience
Unnatural For Child

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Opening the kitchen's screen door just long enough to call, "Joe, come in to lunch," Mrs. X closes it. But her 5-year-old does not obey. In the thick grass beside the back porch he is searching for the tiny light bulb that rolled off a step when he began to dismantle his father's old flashlight. Called again, he continues his anxious search for it. His mother, coming out to the porch for the third time, sees him still intent on his own activity. She feels a real sense of outrage, and says sharply, "Didn't you hear me call you for lunch? Do you think I'm going to hang around all day waiting...?"

For to Mrs. X the idea that anyone could be more interested in his own activity than in somebody else's is shocking. So she lives in constant apprehension of Joe's disobedience. Any delay arouses in her mingled amazement and anger. As a result Joe, a normal child passionately committed to his own interests, gives her a difficult time.

However, there's nothing much we can do to help her.

For Mrs. X is a person who must always jump at anyone else's demand. If she's busy and Joe calls from downstairs, she does not call back. "If you want to talk to me, come up here." Instead, with much annoyance she has never registered, she goes downstairs to discuss his question with him.

Childhood training has built into Mrs. X an automatic switch which compels her to respond immediately to any demand, regardless of the importance to her of what she is doing. Whether she is writing a letter, or talking on the telephone, that switch which she is entirely unaware compels her drop the activity in which she is interested to attend to some activity which interests somebody else.

Under such circumstances we can understand why this instantly obedient woman finds her child's refusals of instant obedience so unjust and bewildering.

But if Mrs. X can't be helped, perhaps some of us can become aware of the irritation we feel when a child refuses to drop some activity that interests him to attend to one that interests us.

Weekly Report To Texans

By SEN. JOHN TOWER

John Tower (R-Texas) discussed proposals to Administration's omnibus bill by reducing the depletion for oil and gas 27 1/2 per cent rate, enacted in 1926, to 20 per cent by reducing the percentage for each of three tax years. Senate opposes the amendment text of his comment: "The debate this week in the Senate, as you know, has been about a tax bill. I would like to tell you today about a spending bill which is being passed by the Senate. It is a bill that is of great importance to the people of Texas. It is a bill that will affect the economy of our state and our country. It is a bill that will reduce the depletion allowance for oil and gas from 27 1/2 per cent to 20 per cent. This is a very important bill because it will save the taxpayers a great deal of money. It will also encourage the oil and gas industry to explore for and produce more oil and gas. This is a bill that we should all support. It is a bill that will benefit the people of Texas and the people of the United States. It is a bill that will help to reduce the federal deficit and to improve the economy. It is a bill that will help to create jobs and to increase the standard of living. It is a bill that will help to make our country a stronger and more prosperous one. I believe that this bill is the best policy, but it is surprising how many people think they can't afford the best. Enrollment At Canadian Increases

CANADIAN (Spl) — A slight increase in enrollment in Canadian schools was recorded last week as classes got underway.

Five hundred and eighty-eight students were enrolled in all grades at mid-week, and that number is expected to climb above 600 after Labor Day Monday.

Total enrollment during the first week of school last year was 575. The biggest increase over last year was in the Junior High grades 7 and 8, where enrollment is 12 more than a year ago. There are 112 students enrolled in junior high, 61 in the 7th grade and 51 in the 8th grade class.

High school enrollment is unchanged from a year ago, with 181 students enrolled in the four grades. There are 40 seniors, 33 juniors, 3 sophomores and 52 freshmen.

BREAKING THE ICE—The red star of the Soviet Union blazes from the new Soviet icebreaker, the "Leningrad," as it prepared to sail from Helsinki, Finland. The shaft power of the Polar vessel is 22,000 hp.; its top speed is 18 knots.

HOURS OF FLOWERS—The garden clock of flowers in Bromley, England, is a unique timepiece which always gives the correct time and chimes the hours. Mr. Marchand mans the amplifier on the window sill to adjust the chimes.

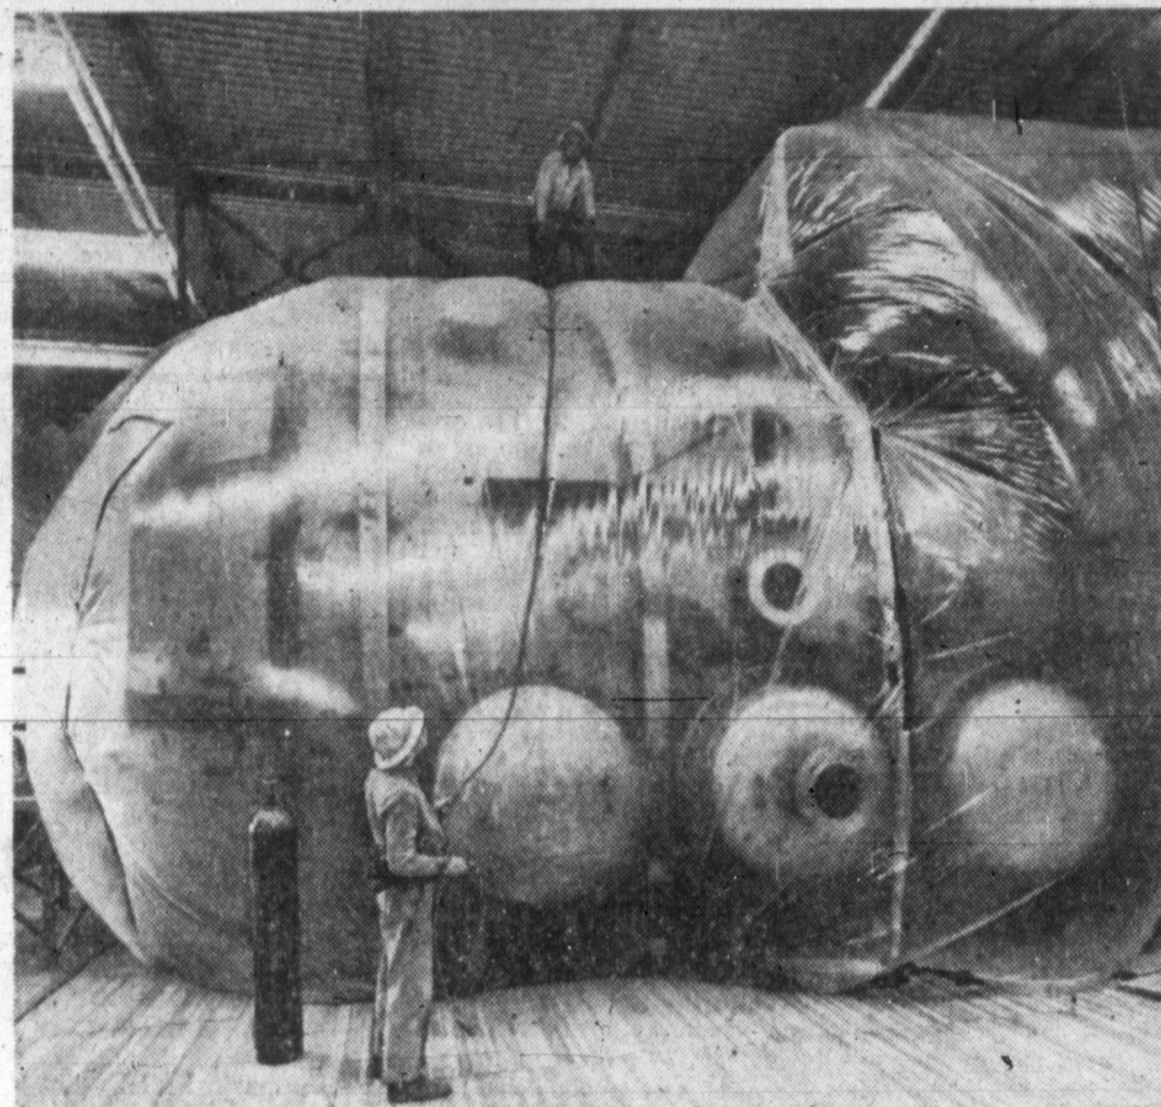

BUSS STOP—This pier scene is as old as sea travel. Sailors Edward Cos and David Williams kiss their wives goodbye at Portsmouth, England, before boarding the HMS Protector.

A-HEAD FOR FASHION—Irrepressible Carol Channing shawls up against a cold wind as she arrives in New York. The bright-eyed comedian had just completed a busman's holiday in London and Paris, visiting the theaters and music halls before starting her own round of shows.

CREAM OF THE CROP—Cream-colored sheared beaver and pastel mink take top honors teamed in this luxury combination.

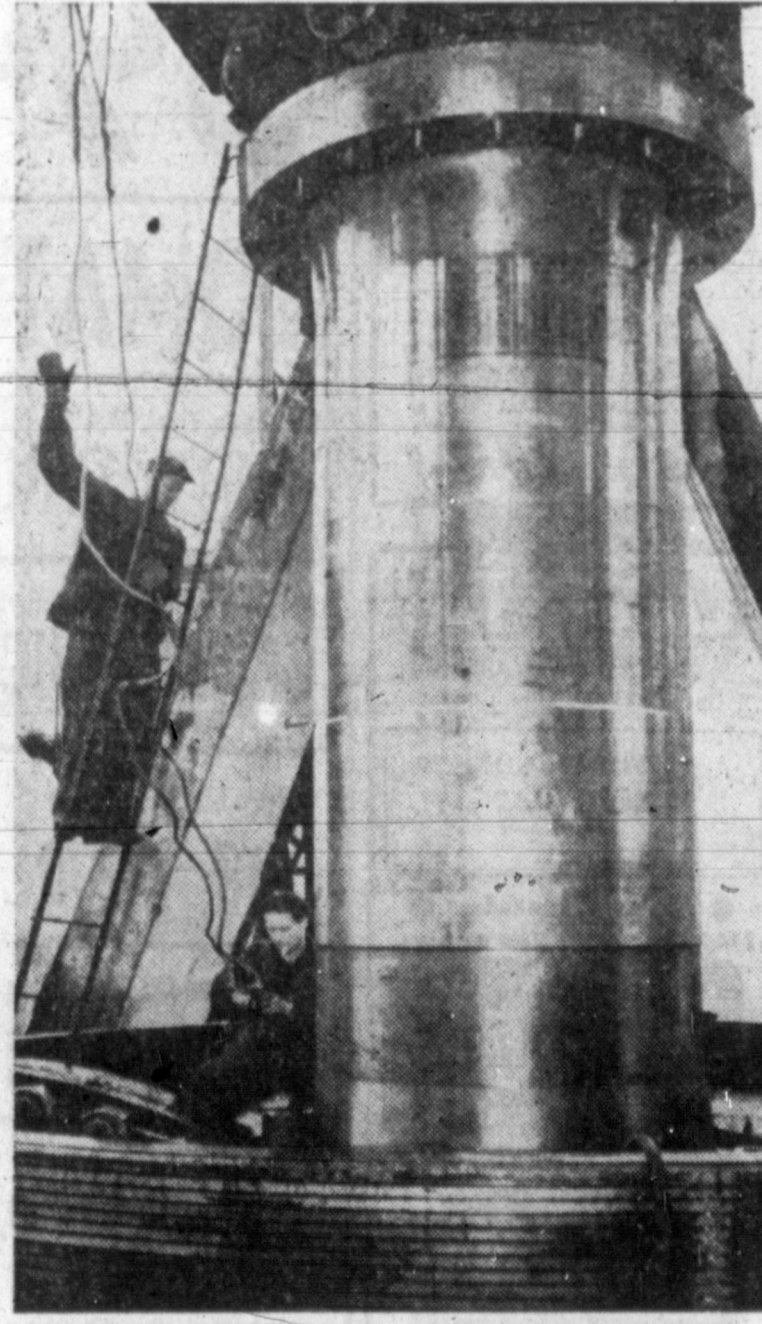

OUTSIDE-IN—The Bendix test chamber for testing full-sized satellites and space capsules was pumped down to the vacuum of space at an altitude of over 246 miles. It was enclosed in an inflated plastic bag and looked like supermarket vegetables all ready to go.

TIGHT SQUEEZE—Tourists and spectators watch as a 40-foot-long American touring bus negotiates one of the many hairpin turns in the St. Gotthard Pass over the Alps in Switzerland. Each turn required 15 to 30 minutes of intricate maneuvering, stretching a three-hour trip to 12. The tour was to publicize European visits to the U. S.

BUBBLE BLISS—A bubble blower that produces giant bubbles without even stopping to take a breath is the envy of Tommy Probst. He was visiting a Minneapolis-Honeywell plant that produces electronic air cleaning equipment. Non-foaming detergent is used in the air conditioning washers.

BIG WHEEL POWER—Workers at the giant Bratsk Hydro-power Station near Irkutsk, in Soviet Siberia, assemble the generator's working wheel. The power plant is under construction on the Angara River, in the heart of Siberia. The ranks of the labor force were decimated during harvest time, as the farming communes were shorthanded.

HEADY STUFF—Specially-designed language laboratory headphones can be adjusted to fit any head size, and even accommodate milady's fluffy coiffure.

NEW TWIST—The gyrating abandon of the new dance craze is captured in a "Twist" hairdo. The hair is wound around and around into a cote that rises from the top of the head. Bottom hair is fluffed out in a mobile and dizzy swirl.

ROYAL FLUSH—Miss Dolly Lee, a BOAC stewardess from Hong Kong, displays a locket which contains a piece of ivory about the size of a grain of rice. The likenesses of H.M. Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh were carved on it by Chen Ching-yi, a carving artist.

RUNNING WATER—With her baby hidden in the folds of her shoulder-slung blanket, a derby-hatted housewife is like a child with a new toy as she operates the first water pump she has ever seen in the village of Pillapi, Bolivia. Installed on the crumbling wall, the pump is the first water supply in the village which formerly drew water from a lake.

Texas Horse Is Ruidoso Race Winner

RUIDOSO, N.M. (UPI) — Texas was $96,425 richer today as a result of Monday's running of the $222,850 All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs.

Hustling Man, owned by Texas oilman J. B. Ferguson of Wharton, and ridden by Texas jockey Clifton Dettage of Dayton, scampered in three-quarters-of-a-length ahead of Tiny Charger to win the annual race, the third richest in the nation.

The race was held up for a time by stewards investigating a complaint.

Hustling Man paid $11.40, $5.00 and $4.00. Tiny Charger returned $11.20 and $7.20.

The winner hustled the 400 yards in 20.1 seconds to take the big first prize. Tiny Charger won $42,427 and Bar Depth, which trailed Tiny Charger by a neck, won $34,713.

Fourth place went to Lightning Bell, which won $19,285. Mister Juniper Bar got $9,000 for fifth and Little Chloe won sixth and $7,000.

Dan's Sugar Bar took seventh place with $5,000. Christy Go finished eighth, winning $4,000. Will I Win was ninth.

The futurity was the fourth at Ruidoso. It left only next Friday, Saturday and Sunday for racing at the track this season.

Major League Roundup

Pennant Races Still 'Red Hot'

By JOHN GRIFFIN
UPI Sports Writer

Thanks to the 20th victory of late-blooming pitcher Jack Sanford and a grim, last-ditch rally by the Los Angeles Angels, the nation's baseball fans came out of the Labor Day holiday today to find themselves with two red-hot pennant races on their hands.

Sanford, who reached pitching's "magic circle" for the first time at age 33, marked up his 14th straight win on the holiday when his 7-3 decision over the Los Angeles Dodgers' cut the Dodgers' National League lead to 2½ games.

In the American League, the Angels prevented the New York Yankees from taking a stranglehold on first place when they scored four runs in the ninth inning to beat the Yankees, 6-5, in the second game of a twin-bill.

The split cut the Yankees' lead to three games over the Minnesota Twins, who swept a doubleheader from Washington, 9-3 and 4-3. It also left the Angels with flickering pennant hopes, 4½ games behind.

Joins Three Others

Sanford, however, was the biggest hero of the holiday as he joined Don Drysdale of the Dodgers and Joey Jay and Bob Purkey of the Reds as the only National League pitchers to win 20 games so far this season.

Sanford is a guy who took almost 10 years to make the majors, then had a brilliant rookie year and a poor sophomore year with the Phils before being traded to the Giants in 1958. Now, four years later, he hit the pitching jackpot in a game where he allowed eight hits, fanned five batters, and didn't walk any.

The Giants backed up Sanford by blasting out Stan Williams with six runs in four innings, three of them on Willie Mays' 42nd homer. Tom Haller also homered for the Giants and it didn't matter that Sanford gave up three hits to Tommy Davis, who boosted his league-leading average to .342.

Shooting for their fifth straight over the Dodgers, the Giants planned to pitch southpaw Billy Pierce Tuesday night against Pete Richert.

Backs To Wall

The Angels really had their backs to the AL wall in the ninth inning at Yankee Stadium. Having lost the opening game, 8-2, when two-run doubles by Tom Tresh and Mickey Mantle whipped Bo Belinsky, the Angels faced the prospect of falling 6½ games behind if they dropped the second.

Singles by Lee Thomas and Leon Wagner opened the ninth and Bob Rodgers drove in Thomas with a double. Yankee bullpen ace Luis Arroyo relieved Jim Coates but Leo Burke singled to bring in two runs that tied the score and, after a sacrifice, George Thomas' pinch-hit single scored Burke with the run that made Arroyo the loser.

Bob Allison was the big gun for the Twins in their sweep. He had three hits in the opener, including a homer, as Camilo Pascual won his 17th. In the nightcap, his three-run homer in the eighth inning wiped out a 3-1 Senators' lead and made Ruben Gomez the winner.

THE WINNERS! — Charles Coody of Stamford, left, winner of the 25th annual Top O' Texas Golf Tournament, is shown here with the runnerup in the tourney, John Paul Cain of Lubbock. The two are holding the trophies they were presented at a ceremony last night at Pampa Country Club and stand beside the new set of irons Coody won. The two also were presented $50 gift certificates. Coody and Cain are both former Texas state amateur golfing champions. (Daily News Photo)

John Paul Cain Of Lubbock Is Second

Charles Coody of Stamford, a former Texas state amateur golfing champion, rallied in the last 36 holes of the Top O' Texas Golf Tournament yesterday and nailed down the championship with score of 66 on the final 18 holes.

Coody had a 72-hole total of 274 to take the tourney ahead of John Paul Cain of Lubbock, who carded 276 for second-place honors.

Coody sank a 26-foot putt on No. 18 in the final round Monday to dramatize his come-from-behind victory with an eagle. He shot 70 in the first round yesterday to go with earlier rounds of 69 and 69 for the 10-below-par total score.

The leader through the first two rounds, John Farquhar of Amarillo, faded in the last day's shooting to slip to a tie for fifth place with Pampa's Buster Carter. Farquhar had a two-stroke margin going into yesterday's final 36 holes with 65 and 70 scores, but shot 71 and 72 for a 72-hole total of 278.

Cain, the runnerup, had rounds of 72, 67, 67, and 70 to make his 278 total. Cain is also a former Texas amateur champion.

Don Kaplan of Childress tied for third place with medalist Dickie Cannon of San Angelo. Kaplan had 69-68-68-72-277 while Cannon had 68-72-65-72-277.

Carter, tied for fifth with Farquhar, had 72-69-69-68-278.

Borger's Dave Houck was sixth with 66-73-66-73-279 and defending champion Les Howard of Pampa had 71-73-74-79-297.

Others in the top 20 were Ben Lane Jr. of Amarillo, 72-72-68-68-280; Jim Hardy of Hutchinson, Kans., 67-72-71-71-281; Max Hickey of Pampa, 70-72-66-74-282; Malcolm Douglas of Pampa, 69-72-71-71-283; H. D. Cogburn of Amarillo, 70-70-73-72-285; John Hatcher of Pampa, 73-69-74-69-285; Jim Bullard of Stillwater, Okla., 71-72-73-72-288; Jack Williams of Plainview, 72-69-70-79-290; D. L. Robinette of Colorado Springs, Colo., 69-71-72-80-292; Jack Foster of Pampa, 71-71-76-74-292; Don Lackey of Borger, 71-74-75-294; and A. D. Pritchard of Pampa, 72-77-73-294.

Awards, prizes and trophies were presented in a ceremony at Pampa Country Club last night. Coody hauled off the first-place trophy, a new set of irons and a $50 gift certificate. The winner of each flight got a new set of irons while the runnerup was awarded a four-piece set of woods and the consolation champion got a three-piece set of woods, in addition to trophies.

Dickie Cannon was presented his trophy for medalist honors, 65, in last Friday's qualifying round, and all flight winners were presented their awards.

Ken Reeves shot a hole-in-one in the tournament but failed to win the new Oldsmobile which was to be awarded to the first player to shoot a hole-in-one in the 12th hole. Reeves got his ace on number 7.

Joe Cree of Pampa was master of ceremonies for the presentation ceremonies.

Winners of the various flights, runnerup and consolation winner, in order, were:

First Flight: Del Cantrell, Yonnie Cox, Jackie Coffey.

Second Flight: George Cordial, Jack Dempsey, Bryan Prigmore.

Third Flight: Ray Davis, Robert Montgomery, Russell Casner.

Fourth Flight: Ray Robbins, Jerry Angeley, Grady Walker.

Fifth Flight: Chief Fagen, Fred Howard, David Fatheree.

Quarterback Club Meets Tonight To Plan Bar-B-Q

Plans for a pre-season Football Warm Up Barbecue will be completed at a meeting of the Pampa Quarterback Club at 7:30 p.m. today in the High School Cafeteria.

Forrest Hills, club president, has announced that there will also be a special film, "Pedro Running Wild," to be shown through the courtesy of West Texas State College Coach Joe Kerbel. The film shows highlights of West Texas State's games with Texas Western and Wichita last fall.

The Warm Up Barbecue has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday immediately following the Pampa Harvesters' scrimmage session with the Hereford Whitefaces just to the west of Harvesters Stadium. The scrimmage gets underway at 5 p.m.

Hills issued a special invitation to all football fans and Harvesters supporters to the Quarterback Club meeting tonight and to the barbecue Thursday. Tickets to the barbecue are $1.50 per plate.

The Harvesters are working hard this week, getting ready for the Thursday scrimmage and also for the season opener against El Paso Bel Air here on Friday, September 14.

Coach Otis Holladay has reported that team spirit and morale are high and the squad is "rounding into shape" now.

Billy Maxwell Is Winner At Dallas Open Tourney

DALLAS (UPI) — Billy Maxwell, $5,300 richer and a berth on the Ryder Cup team almost assured, credited exceptional putting on pock-marked greens with his four-stroke Dallas Open golf tournament victory.

The chunky, 33-year-old Texan broke a 13-month victory drought by turning in the only four-round mastery of Oak Cliff Country Club's par 35-35-70 layout with rounds of 68-70-68-71 for a 277 to beat out former champion Johnny Pott's second place total of 281.

"I had only four three-putts greens through the four rounds," Maxwell pointed out, "compared with 11 three-putters last week at Oklahoma City when I tied for 14th."

"That's exceptional putting for me. Of course, I also was driving well, too. I seldom was in the rough and missed only a few greens with my irons. In a way everything went my way for all four days."

Maxwell is recognized as one of the tour's top short game artists and this ability seldom left him with any long putts.

His birdie putts on his final round of 37-37 Monday were 12-footers, but most of the time he was up close with his irons.

Maxwell was sixth in Ryder Cup points going into this tournament with 264.84 points, and the 29 Ryder Cup points virtually assured him of a berth on the international team.

Pott's final round 36-35-71

El Paso Takes League Crown

The El Paso Sun Kings won their final game of the season over Albuquerque by a 7-6 count Monday night to take the regular season Texas League title by a three-game margin over runner-up Tulsa.

The Oilers edged Amarillo, 3-2, and San Antonio trimmed Austin, 3-2, in 10 innings in the other two games.

Playoffs between the top four teams get under way tonight, with El Paso playing at Austin and Tulsa plying at Albuquerque.

McLean, District 2A Defending Champ, Gets 5 Lettermen Back

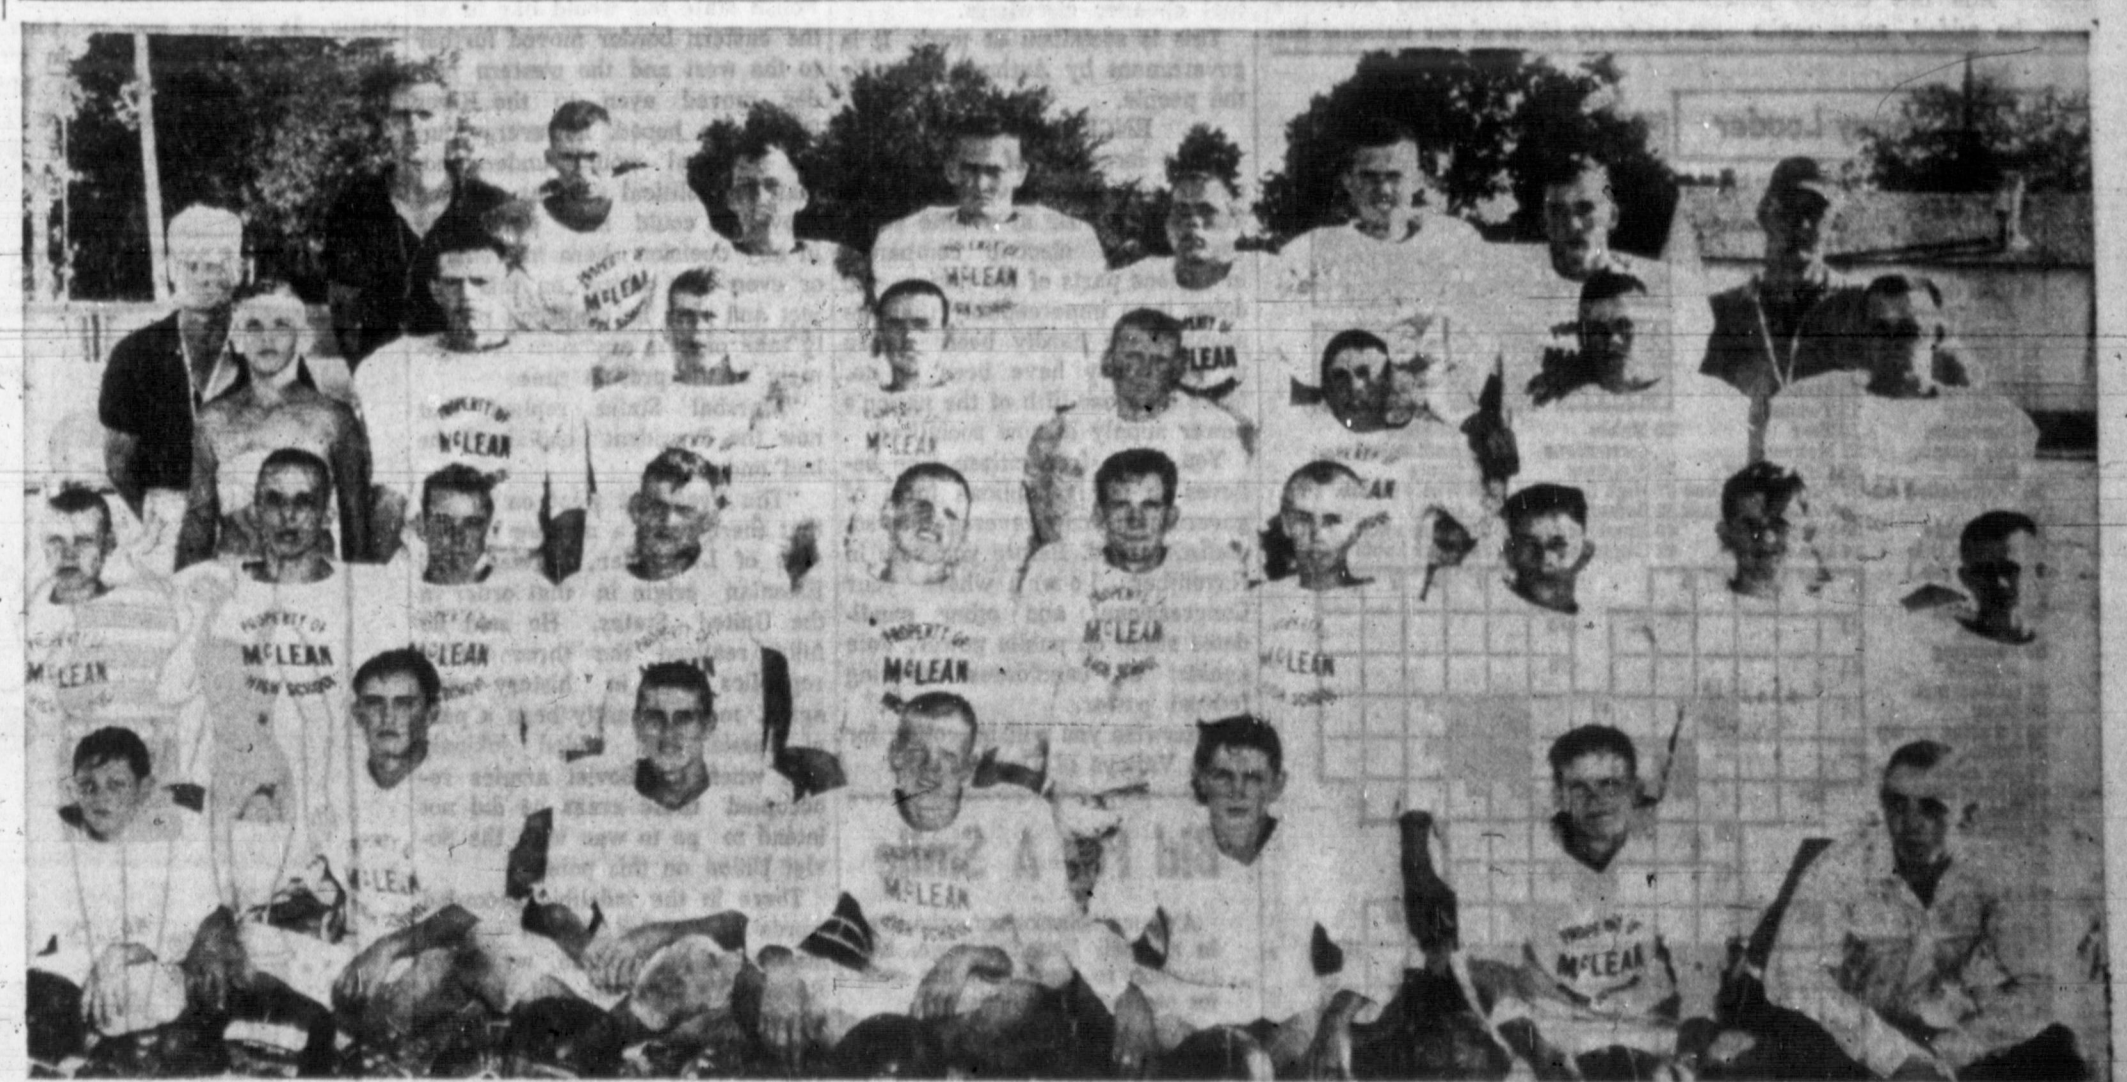

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of stories concerning the prospects for the 1962 football season of various schools in the Top O' Texas area.)

The McLean High School Tigers, defending champions of District 2-A, face an uphill battle in repeating as conference titlists this year principally because of that perennial bug-a-boo for high school coaches... graduation.

Coach Derral Davis has only five lettermen returning from last year's team and notes sadly that 16 of 29 members of the squad in 1961 will not be wearing the black and gold this term. Davis, starting his second year as head coach and third year at McLean, is a former standout basketball player for the Pampa Harvesters. He also played football during his PHS days and says he "loves the game."

Two players the coach is depending on heavily this year are halfback Dicky Crockett and fullback Bob Patton. Patton, an all-district tackle as a sophomore last year, is the team's heaviest man at 196.

Three seniors are listed in Coach Davis' lineup, co-captain and quarterback Don Woods, co-captain and center John Evans,

Without Federal Sanction

It was almost crowded out of the news columns, but the recent feat of the young Japanese auto repairman who defied conventions to sail alone across the Pacific Ocean in a 19-foot sailboat has aroused terrific admiration in these parts.

Perhaps the feat of Kenichi Horie may not have the worldwide news impact of the Russians sending a pair of government-sponsored cosmonauts circling the earth, but for downright courage and individualism it will do in the eyes of a lot of Americans. Here was a young fellow with a small sail boat he bought with his savings. He was refused a passport by the established government officials because they were sure he would be committing suicide. So, without official sanction, he set out with only minimum navigation equipment to guide him. A Coast Guard man put it pretty well when he commented that young Horie, was "obviously a helluva navigator," after the young man sailed through San Francisco's Golden Gate after 92 days. He still had food supplies and sake on-hand when he landed.

From such individuals, as this young man from Japan, who are not discouraged, when the officials tell them it can't be done, has come most of the real progress of the world.

Mission Accomplished - But!

Carl DeBloom of the Columbus, (Ohio) Dispatch's Washington Bureau expressed a point of view which has been gaining more and more adherents when he wrote: "The old theory that, once a bureau is established in federal government it is here to stay even after it accomplishes its original mission — seems to be coming true again in the case of the Rural Electrification Administration."

The REA is a perfect example of this seeming immortality of no-longer-needed federal bureaus. The rural electrification problem has gone with the wind — something like 98 per cent of farms either are using central station power or have it available if they want it. But, as Mr. DeBloom puts it, "REA is taking a new lease on life to assure itself of continuing in business long after all farms have electricity. The co-ops are doing this by moving, or attempting to move, into fields and areas of services which have no earthly connection with rural electrification — including, believe it or not, a housing development and a loan to a wood products company. And, as Mr. DeBloom also says, financing is accomplished . . . on a two per cent interest deal to the borrower although the rate the government pays is higher. The difference is charged off to the taxpayers."

Reports indicate that numbers of members of Congress are beginning to take searching looks at REA and its plans and system of operation. All one can say to that is — it's high time!

Choosing Wisely

The process of selection is one of the most trying and difficult we ever have to face. There is always more than one pathway we can take; more than one task to which we can commit ourselves; more than one product by means of which we can satisfy our longings. Choosing wisely is the acme of the good life.

Too Much For Granted

The contribution of modern capitalism to the comfort, well being, and individual freedom of large numbers of people has effected a revolution surpassing anything seen to date in history.

The head of a leading U.S. oil company told that truth to the Knox College class of '62. But with it came a needed warning — that "one of our errors has been to take it for granted, instead of viewing it as the truly revolutionary force it is and presenting it to the world in this light." And this college generation, he added, must make the ultimate decision whether corporations are too big, whether competition is adequate, and whether profits are too high.

The obvious danger is that we will bargain away a further measure of our personal freedom, by substituting government orders for individual decisions. And there is a sad irony in that fact. It is individual, voluntary decision, multiplied innumerable times, that is primarily responsible for our strength, prosperity and freedom. When governments move in, and takes the commanding role, we are inevitably weakened in every facet of our national life.

The American Way

TVA—VALLEY OF DEPRESSION
By Raymond C. Baker
(EDITOR'S NOTE: Guest columnist Raymond C. Baker is a former newspaperman who writes widely on economic and industrial subjects.)

While public power advocates in the Kennedy Administration push plans to nationalize America's electric power industry, people are starving in the heart of the world's biggest socialized power project — the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Created by Congress nearly three decades ago, "for agricultural and industrial development" among other things, TVA's seven-state area actually is one of the nation's most depressed. And this in spite of the fact that all taxpayers have been forced by Congress to pour more than two billion dollars of their hard-earned income into the area.

Why should a gigantic octopus with tentacles stretching throughout Tennessee and into Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina and Virginia, fail to accomplish the very purpose for which it was created—to bring prosperity to a languishing area in an otherwise prosperous nation?

REASON

Perhaps one of the answers lies in the principal purpose for which it was created. This was to control floods in the meandering Tennessee Valley. Before TVA, most of the lush farmland lay in the river bottoms where crops grew in abundance. But with the construction of high multi-purpose dams which created giant lakes, TVA brought the greatest flood ever known to the Valley. Moreover, it is permanent, not just an occasional flood that brings disaster to comparatively few farmers perhaps once in ten years.

Today, out of America's 30 farm states, Tennessee ranks 25th. While the average value of land and buildings per farm in the United States is $34,472, those in the valley states are worth only $14,435. Tennessee is second from the bottom of the seven states, for an average value of $12,576, only $750 more than Alabama's farms. This can hardly be called agricultural prosperity.

INDUSTRIES

Production of what TVA sponsors called "incidental" power was supposed to bring new industries to the area to create new jobs. But the figures show otherwise.

In 1940, the Valley states had a population of 20,271,000. Twenty years later, population had grown to 24,511,000, a 21 per cent gain. During the same period, the national gain was 37 per cent.

There is more to the vaunted "prosperity" of the Valley. Of the 169 counties in the TVA region, 87, or more than one-half, are classified by the Department of Labor as "depressed areas." This means that one or more out of every 17 employable persons is out of work and has been for at least one year, that unemployment runs from 50 to 100 per cent above the national average.

And there is still more in this heart-rending story. Just north of Chattanooga, where the Sequatchie River meets the Tennessee, is a pocket of poverty which probably qualifies as "the nation's most depressed area." Unemployment in this three-county section of the Cumberland Mountains, centering around Whitwell, Tenn., ranges from 70 to 90 per cent. Malnutrition and anemia are rampant among the area's 6,500. These people depend on coal-mining for their living. But TVA has thrust these citizens and their coal aside, because it can buy cheaper elsewhere.

This is socialism at work. It is government by Authority, not by the people.

ENCROACHMENT

Since inception of TVA, public power advocates have been hacking away a little at a time at investor-owned electric companies in various parts of the nation, and doing it so imperceptibly that the people have hardly been aware of what they have been up to. More than one-fifth of the nation's power supply is now socialized.

You, as a free citizen who believes in our republican form of government, can reverse this socialistic trend. Before you vote in November, learn where your Congressional and other candidates stand on public power. Vote against all candidates favoring federal power.

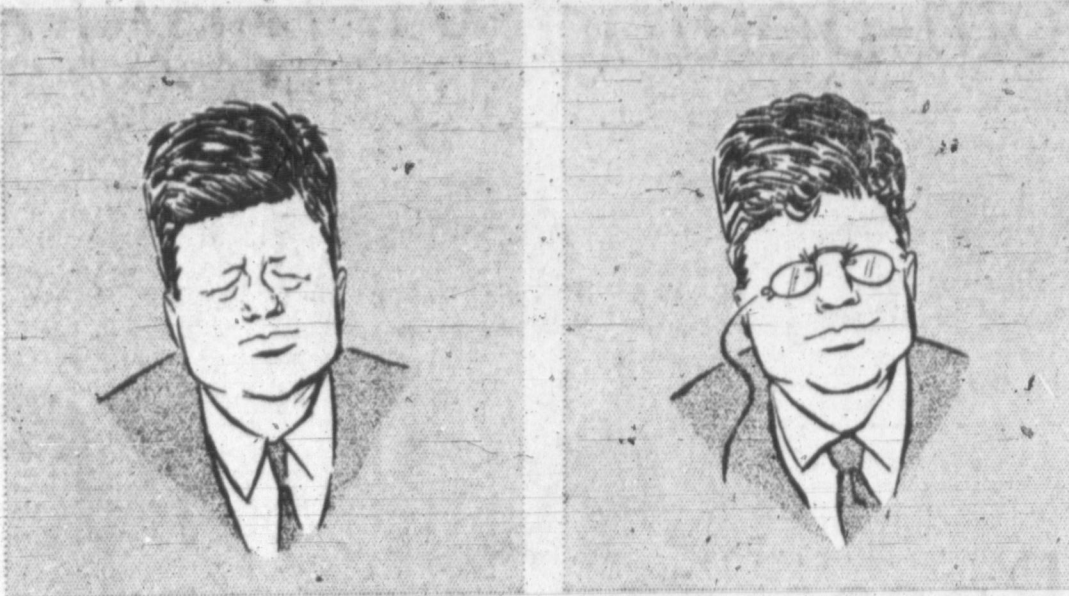

Otherwise you will be voting for more Valleys of Depression!

An 1898 Solution to Today's Cuban Situation

TRUTH-FORUM

With Ed Delaney

President Kennedy, has named Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen as our ambassador to France. Bohlen was first secretary of the American Embassy in Moscow during World War II. He was interpreter for Franklin Roosevelt at Teheran and other conferences with Stalin and he accompanied President Kennedy to Vienna last year for that useless conference with Khrushchev. Bohlen has been with the State Department for many years and, speaking Russian, is perhaps as well informed on the Soviet aims and designs as any one in this country.

It is not inappropriate to mention that Bohlen, as much as anyone else and obviously without intending to do so, has supplied irrefutable proof of Franklin Roosevelt's furtherance of communism's cause throughout the world. It is fitting that this be stressed because President Kennedy and others of his political party continually endeavor to portray the charlatan of Hyde Park in a favorable light for this and coming generations.

A year and more ago, the State Department reluctantly published further details of the Teheran conference and Bohlen's exhaustive notes of private talks between Roosevelt and Stalin. One such intimate chat was Dec. 1, 1943 and reads as follows:

"The President said he has asked Marshal Stalin to come to see him as he wished to discuss a matter briefly and frankly. He said it referred to internal American politics. He said that we had an election in 1944 and that while personally he did not want to run again, if the war was still in progress he might have to. He added that there were 7 million Americans of Polish extraction and as a practical man he did not want to lose their vote.

"He (the President) said personally he agreed with the views of Marshal Stalin, as to the necessity of the restoration of a Polish state but would like to see the eastern border moved further to the west and the western border moved even to the River Oder. He hoped, however, that for political reasons outlined above, he could not participate in any decision here in Teheran or even next winter on this subject and that he could not publicly take part in any such arrangement at the present time.

"Marshal Stalin replied that now the President explained, he had understood.

"The President went on to say that there were a number of persons of Lithuanian, Latvian and Estonian origin in that order in the United States. He said he fully realized the three Baltic republics had in history and again, more recently been a part of Russia and added jokingly that when the Soviet armies re-occupied these areas he did not intend to go to war with the Soviet Union on this point."

There in the indelibly recorded words of Charles Bohlen - from his notes at Teheran, we have Roosevelt's betrayal of Poland, which was not to be made public until after the 1944 election. Also we have his flippant approval of the enslavement of the three Baltic states.

The Nation's Press

THE STENCH OF SCANDAL
The Wall Street Journal

At one point during the McClellan hearings, Agriculture secretary Freeman offered an interesting reason for the weaknesses in his department that made possible the Billie Sol Estes scandal. In part, he said, the weaknesses stem from "lack of real concern for the administration of farm programs" in the Eisenhower Administration.

The Government isn't going to get far with meaning up the Agriculture Department on the basis of a silly argument like that. The basic trouble with that department, and with similar Federal activities, is the Government's attempt to rig markets. That is what provides unlimited opportunities for inefficiency and dishonesty.

Just consider some of the whiffs of scandal presently emanating from our nation's capital.

The General Accounting Office charges that certain cotton brokers, acting as agents of the Government, made questionable if not illegal profits with the knowledge and approval of Agriculture Department officials. It is alleged they sold some $400 million of Government cotton to themselves at as much as $20 a bale below prevailing market prices.

The FBI is investigating the alleged sale of Federal rice-planting allotments in Texas. Such sale is illegal.

A Senate committee staff is looking into the fantastic lobbying on behalf of domestic and foreign producers for bites of the to indict FDR, but the record is not available for all to read. This "secret agreement" and the ones entered into at Yalta show the utter disregard Roosevelt had for our Constitution. It states that the President "shall have power by and with the advice and consent of the Senate to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur."

None concurred in that perfidy of Roosevelt's. They were not told of it until comparatively recently. Is it any wonder that millions abroad and here in our country are disturbed when Mr. Kennedy indicates that he will follow in the course charted by Roosevelt? We have reason to be disturbed?

'Blue Collar' Union Head Quietly Building Reputation In International Circles — May-Be Meany's Successor

WASHINGTON—Although Walter Reuther and James Hoffa are making the headlines, the labor leader to watch during the next 12 months is James A. Sulfridge, a vice president of the AFL-CIO and president of the 420,000 member Retail Clerks International Association.

The 51-year-old Sulfridge, who is little known outside of labor and political circles, is considered the favorite within the AFL-CIO to replace George Meany if he decides to quit as president later this year.

Meany, who is 67, is not in the best of health. He suffers from arthritis and would like to retire. However, Meany's personal feud with Reuther is delaying an announcement since he does not want to quit while under fire.

Aides close to Meany expect him to retire by the end of 1963 if not sooner. When he does, Meany has privately indicated that he will push Sulfridge, a close friend of President Kennedy and Vice President Johnson, as his successor. Meany plans to vigorously oppose Reuther if he seeks the presidency.

The Meany-Reuther feud is so out of hand that President Kennedy now makes it a practice of conferring separately with the labor leaders when he seeks their point of view on legislation.

The soft-spoken Sulfridge, who has headed up the nation's largest "blue collar" union for the past 18 years, is now quietly building up an international reputation. For instance, he is arranging for the 14-member executive committee of the International Federation of Commercial, Clerical, and Technical Employees to hold their first meeting in the U.S. here in October.

This powerful international group represents three million "white and blue collar" workers in forty countries throughout the free world. Its members are dedicated to block the growth of communism in labor movements throughout the world.

At their coming meeting, Sulfridge plans to push for support of a massive effort in Africa and Asia to organize the "white collar" workers. It was through his efforts that the international group has become very active in South America in opposing Castro's efforts to take over unions there.

A registered Republican, Sulfridge strongly supported the election of President Kennedy on the basis of the former senator's labor voting record. He also believes Kennedy would help labor battle the growing tide of international communism.

Sulfridge, a member of the AFL-CIO executive council since 1957, has built the Retail Clerks into the largest, "blue collar" union in the world. He is vice-president of the IFCTE and member of the AFL-CIO's Economic Policy Committee and Inter-American Affairs Committee.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE — President Kennedy's appointment of Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg to the Supreme Court has saved the White House from an embarrassing situation in Congress. Goldberg's active interest in the Massachusetts Democratic primary on behalf of Edward M. Kennedy wasn't helping the President's legislation program. Legislators friendly to House Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., uncle of Edward J. McCormack, the opposing candidate, had complained to the White House that Goldberg's telephone calls to Massachusetts union leaders were risking the President's program. According to labor leaders in Boston, Goldberg urged them to either support the President's brother or to remain neutral in the Kennedy-McCormack senatorial battle. Polls show that a majority of union members support McCormack.

President Kennedy is keeping a close personal watch on a new ominous build-up of Communist military forces and equipment in South Viet Nam and Red-held areas of Laos. He is studying intelligence estimates flatly warning that Communist North Vietnamese troops, equipped by the Soviets, will enter the battle for South Viet Nam in October. These reports point out that the Viet Cong — the Communist guerrillas now operating in South Viet Nam — are creating a solid territorial base along the Laos-Vietnamese border in preparation for a full-scale offensive by these regular troops. The Secret Service is quietly increasing its protection of President Kennedy and his immediate family. Tighter security measures were ordered by James J. Rowley, chief of the Secret Service. After the number of "crank" letters began increasing this summer, the Budget Bureau is sending a memorandum to all agencies stating that President Kennedy wants them to hold down the number of federal jobs. The memorandum states that the White House plans a detailed review of all proposed new jobs included in the 1963 budget requests of all Departments. One of Labor Secretary Goldberg's last reports to the President forecasts that next year would be peaceful on the labor-management front with no major strikes in sight. He predicted no trouble in the steel industry although the steel workers have a right to reopen their wage contract. Vice Admiral H. G. Rickover, assistant chief of the Navy's Bureau of Nuclear Propulsion, has caught the fancy of Representative Clarence Cannon D-Mo., the 82-year-old chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. Introducing Rickover to his committee recently, Cannon declared: "We have with us this morning not only one of the most indispensable men in national defense, but one of the most remarkable men in our history and in world science."

Several articulate readers have called to my attention a conflict between my advice advocating "party foods" for the sick child and other professional advice offered elsewhere.

In a widely read magazine column, a noted doctor expressed the opinion that, in the interest of preventive dentistry, "it's better to keep candy, soda pop, cookies and such sweets away from children as long and as much as possible." Parents are advised to "keep candy out of the house except on a few special occasions."

The reasoning behind this advice is aimed at preventing tooth decay, admittedly due in great part to the continued presence in the mouth of refined sugar or which decay producing bacteria thrive.

Now, while I am in complete agreement with the objective, I disagree with the means for obtaining that objective.

As each of us knows, the growing child craves sweets, furthermore, that craving is not just an idle whim. It is dictated, in great part, by the need of the rapidly growing, active youngster for a continuing supply of easily combustible fuel.

As the observant parent knows well the energetic boy or girl seems to be engaged during most waking hours in the processes of chewing and swallowing.

Now it is all well to suggest that this craving be satisfied by offerings of non-sweet foods (such as whole-wheat crackers or bread and milk, natural sweet drinks like real orange and grape juice, sweet raw fruits and dried fruits (prunes, raisins, apricots, dates and figs.)

But, unless I miss my guess, none of these suggestions will prevent most children from longing for candy, soda pop, cookies and other sweets and party foods such as I recommended. And this longing will only be intensified if these goodies are forbidden.

In the words of the old axiom, "Stolen sweets taste best."

It is my view that a ban on sweets will only add to the many frictions already existing in most households. Hence, I would be wiser, in my opinion, to offer goodies at the end of each meal, especially during illness.

And, for prevention of the growth of decay-producing bacteria, insist on tooth brushing after each such feeding. The child should be taught that the main purpose of tooth brushing is not to sweeten breath or polish teeth, but to dislodge from the crevices of the teeth accumulated food.
