100% Turnout Sought In Gray County Polio Inoculation Project

Local Delegates Are Taking Part In Conventions

Gray County Democrats and Republicans were participating today in the opening of their respective state conventions in El Paso and Fort Worth.

The Democrats sent 38 delegates and alternates to El Paso and the GOP has 22 delegates and alternates in Fort Worth.

In the pre-convention activity yesterday both Gray County clubs held 31st senatorial district caucuses.

The Democrats named Mrs. A. Wilkinson of Pampa as Democratic committeewoman over S. Imogene Williams of Pampa by a 142 to 19 vote. The GOP was expected to be given to Mrs. Wilkinson by acclamation at an actual caucus on the convention floor today. Carl Hill of Amarillo was returned as state committeeman.

All Democratic party officers were re-elected to two-year terms before the pre-convention caucus.

Jimmy Thompson, Gray County Democratic executive chairman, is named to the resolutions committee after a runoff involving Thompson, W. D. Bales and K. Bert Watson.

In the GOP pre-convention activities yesterday W. Glenn Morford of Amarillo and Borger was elected chairman and Mrs. Frances Fatheree of Pampa was elected vice-president of the district senatorial district.

Clayton Husted of Pampa, Republican executive committee chairman for Gray County, was elected to the rules committee.

Gray County Cancer Group Evaluated

Board members of the Gray County Cancer Association met last night in Lovett Memorial Library where they heard an evaluation report from Tom Williams, district field representative of Amarillo, on last year's activities of the local chapter.

Williams praised the chapter's program and the manner in which it was carried out. He stated the Gray County chapter has 29 board members including physicians, and is among the top chapters of the state.

Other business at the meeting included a report from Dr. Ed Williams, Pampa, on the dangers and treatment of cancer. He explained to the group that each year $100,000,000 is spent by persons throughout the United States on false cures for cancer.

According to the American Cancer Society, Dr. Williams stated, 1,000 persons died of cancer last year. He said a great number of these people could have been cured if they would have taken professional help instead of trying "get - cured - fast" method of treatment.

Bob Carmichael, first vice-president, explained the chapter's activities for the coming year at the workshops and public education programs which are in process of being set up.

It was announced that several new civic clubs have agreed to show Cancer films at meetings in the near future, in an effort to explain to the public the importance of the Cancer Society.

A district cancer meeting is scheduled to be held Oct. 2 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Amarillo in the Baptist Church Educational Building.

Delegates from Pampa, who will attend the meeting include Dr. M. Daniel, Kermit Lawson, Paul West, and Bob Carmichael.

The next official board meeting will be held Nov. 28 at 7 a.m. in Coronado Inn, according to J. P. Foster, president of county association.

Red Cross Is Simply People Helping People

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles on various agencies of the Pampa - Lefors United Fund. There are seven in the organization which will kick off a $73,600 campaign Sept. 25.)

Reduced to its simplest form, the Red Cross is "people helping people." It is an organization that serves American families in every part of the country, town or nation, and in every corner of the world. Last year Pampa Chapter served over 1100 families in Pampa and surrounding communities in Home Service alone. This does not include the families who were enrolled in all of the other service programs of the Red Cross.

To families who were victims of the Hurricane Carla and over 330 other disasters last year, the Red Cross is the source of food, clothing, communications, shelter, medical care and nursing care, and help in returning to the pre-disaster way of life. Pampa Chapter gave $3,000 to the Carla Disaster alone from our community.

To American men and women in uniform, their parents, and their wives and children, beset with problems resulting from separation, Red Cross is the source of friendly council and guidance and in emergencies, rapid communication and financial assistance. Last year Pampa Chapter gave $2,594 to assist servicemen, and their families, and veterans and their families also some civilian families on the basis of need. $1,820 was repaid by the servicemen with no interest and no carrying charge if the serviceman could without hardship repay the loan to the Red Cross chapter, if there was a hardship, the loan was made into a grant.

The Red Cross helps keep babies safe and healthful by teaching courses in first aid and water safety also courses in Care of the Sick and Injured and Mother and Baby Care, to millions of family members. In Pampa Chapter, 29 classes in First Aid were held, over 1,000 children and adults were given instruction in Water Safety. Many in the chapter took the classes in Home Nursing. With world tensions increasing daily, the Red Cross is stepping up their programs so that one member in each family may be trained in First Aid and Water Safety and Nursing Service.

The Red Cross each year collects and distributes 2,500,000 pints of whole blood — 40 per cent of the total used in the nation — and also distributes disease fighting components of blood, gamma globulin, serum albumin, and fibrinogen. (See RED CROSS, Page 4)

Youth Is Still In Critical Condition After House Fire

Seven-year old Jerry Dayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil White, Mobeetie, remains in very critical condition today in Highland General Hospital suffering from burns he received early Monday morning when fire swept the White home in Mobeetie.

The fire was discovered shortly before 2 a.m. Sunday when Mrs. White said a ball of fire dropped into her bedroom.

White, the father of five children ranging in ages from 2 to 13 years, kicked out a window and started helping his wife and children out.

He told doctors at the hospital he thought all the children were out of the house when young Dayton came running out the front door of the inflamed home.

Doctors said he is suffering from second and third degree burns over several parts of his body. None of the other children was burned.

A clothing, food and money fund has been set up in Mobeetie for the family which lost all their personal belongings in the blaze which completely destroyed their home.

Commission To Set Tax Rate, Vote On Abolishing BCD In Meet Tonight

Action on the 1962-63 budget and tax rate and an ordinance to abolish the Board of City Development will be the chief items on the agenda when the City Commission meets tonight in City Hall.

The $1,563,000 budget and the $1.45 city tax rate tentatively were approved by the Commission last week but action will not be final until tonight.

The BCD abolishment would come if the commission approves a proposed ordinance to repeal Ordinance 107-A which created the BCD 34 years ago.

In effect, the action would dis-

Aid To Poland, Yugoslavia Stricken

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee today slashed a record $1,244,000 out of President Kennedy's $4.7 billion foreign aid program and voted to ban U.S. help to Communist Yugoslavia and Poland.

The full committee balked at imposing an even deeper cut in the money bill as recommended by its foreign aid subcommittee. Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., chairman of the subcommittee and traditionally one of the aid program's severest critics, personally came to the administration's rescue, moving to overturn his own group's recommended

The subcommittee, to Passman's surprise, had approved a one-third cut in the President's requested $1.5 billion fund for military aid this year.

When the full committee met today, Passman successfully moved to boost the sum to $1.3 billion. This was $300 million more than recommended and $50 million more than Passman himself first proposed.

Heaviest Cut Yet

Even so, the overall cut was the heaviest imposed by the committee in the 15-year history of the aid program. Administration officials warned only last week that a cut of as much as $1 billion would have "grave" foreign policy and defense implications.

The committee, on recommendation of Passman's subcommittee, also wrote into the bill a flat ban on further aid to Communist Poland and Yugoslavia.

This provision was a surprise and presumably foreshadowed a sharp new fight over the issue.

Change of Decision

Only a few months ago, the House reluctantly agreed to let President Kennedy extend aid to such nations when it was clearly in the U. S. interest. The committee action, if sustained by Con-

John Gets After GOP In Talks

By LLOYD LARABEE
United Press International
EL PASO (UPI) — Texas Democrats open their 1962 state convention today, awaiting a "harmony" keynote speech from gubernatorial nominee John B. Connally, who tore into the Republicans in a round of election - eve kickoff dinners.

An estimated 3,500 delegates, out of a record 5,461 votes authorized, were in El Paso. Connally's keynote address, designed to outline his views on the party platform, was among the first items of business.

"Dolph Briscoe Jr., of Uvalde, a former state legislator who helped author the Briscoe-Colson farm to market road bill in 1949, was the temporary chairman. He was the selection of Connally and the choice was approved without dissent Monday by the State Democratic Executive Committee (SDEC).

Harmony Sought

Both Connally, who served 11 months as secretary of the Navy in the Kennedy administration and Gov. Price Daniel voiced hope the convention would be a "harmonious and constructive one."

Two groups, one a militant conservative delegation from Houston, and the other led by a mild-spoken leader of the Texas State AFL-CIO posed a test for the harmony theme.

Harris County's delegation proposed in caucus Monday night to submit eight resolutions for the state convention platform. They advocated putting labor organizations under anti-trust laws, spoke out for the right-to-work law, "deplored" cities which employ urban renewal, endorsed "the principle of capital punishment for heinous crimes," and opposed federal aid to schools.

On the latter question, the Harris County group urged "the families of Texas to assume and assert their right and responsibility to educate the youth."

Labor Code Suggested

The other test was advanced by Hank Brown, president of the Texas State AFL-CIO. He presented a 27-point statement to Connally Sunday, headed by a proposal for a state labor-management code.

Brown said: "We are not going (See CONNALLY, Page 4)

Cox Hits 'Hot Oil' Scandals

By CARLTON F. WILSON
United Press International
FORT WORTH (UPI) — Republican gubernatorial nominee Jack Cox said today the East Texas hot oil scandals shows how one-party rule encourages corruption in state government.

Cox, speaking in a news conference before the start of the 1962 Republican state convention, said if elected governor, he plans to call for a revision of state laws governing the oil and gas industry in Texas.

The Railroad Commission, he said, "gets bogged down in a lot of paper work. And a lot of the rules it enforces are outmoded."

Dallas lawyer M. Sims Davidson, temporary chairman, called the convention to order. Cox and U.S. Sen. John Tower, D-Tex., were scheduled to make the main addresses.

Minor Rule Changes

The State Republican Executive Committee made only minor changes in its proposed convention rules Monday, then went into a two-hour secret session to discuss financial backing of party candidates.

Axtell Byles of New Braunfels headed a secret session of the platform writing committee and said the major difference was over what voting requirements to recommend in place of a poll tax.

Another meeting was held by a group of attorneys on the Texas Republican Lawyers Council. They decided to impound some voting boxes in Duval and Jim Wells counties after the election. Those districts have been areas of alleged voting fraud.

Delegates Entertained

Hollywood personalities entertained at a fund-raising rally and attended a $100-a-plate breakfast. The group included dancer Ray Bolger, singers Frankie Laine and Frankie Avalon, ventriloquist Edgar Bergen and master of ceremonies George Murphy.

Some 4,000 delegates and guests were in attendance. One statewide candidate much in evidence was Des Barry of Houston. The congressman-at-large candidate passed out yellow ribbons with the words "Viva Des" printed thereon.

Sunday, Oct. 7th, Is Date For First Part Of Program

Plans for the Gray County Sabin polio vaccine inoculation program, scheduled to start Oct. 7, were formulated in a meeting at noon yesterday in Coronado Inn.

The project, under the joint sponsorship of the Top O' Texas Medical Society and the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, is a three-part affair with the first inoculation slated for the first Sunday in October, the 7th.

There are three strains of polio, according to Dr. Ed Williams, administrative coordinator for the project along with Dr. Raymond Laycock, and the three doses of Sabin vaccine which provide immunity to them must be taken at least six weeks apart.

The other dates tentatively scheduled in the program are Nov. 18, 1962, and January 6, 1963. Type I vaccine will be given at the Oct. 7 project.

The doses will be given in the following manner: three drops on a cube of sugar. For diabetics, distilled water will be available and the vaccine will be consumed from a paper cup along with some of the water. For infants, nurses will simply drop the vaccine into their mouths. Children under three months should not be given the vaccine, the doctors pointed out.

The project will be absolutely free of charge for all residents of Gray County. However, there will be a place for persons receiving the vaccine to donate to the project if they so desire.

Residents of Pampa will be urged to take the vaccine at one of the elementary schools listed below. Campaign officials are hoping for a 100 per cent turnout throughout the county as there will also be inoculation projects conducted on the same day in McLean and Lefors. A Pampa doctor will be on hand at each inoculation center, including Lefors, and the McLean resident doctor, Dr. Harold Fabian, will be present at the McLean center. The McLean and Lefors Lions Clubs are assisting in the project in those communities.

Centers here will be in the William B. Travis, Horace Mann, Lamar, Stephen F. Austin, and Baker Elementary Schools, and at Carver. In Lefors, the center will be in the Lefors Civic Center and in McLean, the project will be carried out at the grade school cafeteria.

Dr. Williams and Laycock have urged all residents of the community from the age of three months up to take the vaccine, regardless of whether they have taken the Salk polio shots or not and regardless of age (except for the three month age limitation).

The Sabin vaccine is given even in instances where the recipient has "a slight cold" in contrast to the Salk method which discourages inoculation when the patient is ill, however slightly.

The Sabin vaccine may also be taken without harmful effect by pregnant women.

Even persons who have contracted polio at some time in the past are urged to take the Sabin inoculations as, if they have had polio only once, they still are not immune to the remaining two strains.

The centers will operate from noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 7, and on the succeeding Sundays scheduled in the project.

Porch Light Drive For Scouts Tonight

The first Boy Scout Porch Light Campaign will be held tonight between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m., with members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce calling on the homes of prospective Boy Scouts.

All boys, eleven and older, that are not registered in Scouting, and desire to be, are urged to turn on their porch light at 7 o'clock, and they will be called on, and the Scouting program explained. An invitation will be given to attend the next meeting of a near by Troop. If by 8:30 p.m., an extension worker has not called at the home of an interested boy, he is asked to call MO 4-8833 and a special worker will be dispatched.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—In the realm of confidence, actor Nick Adams ranks with composer Dmitri Tiomkin, who once accepted an Academy Award by saying, "Thank You. I did it all by myself."

Adams' confidence is monumental because he is certain his new hour-long NBC-TV series, "Saints and Sinners," a newspaper drama which bowed in Monday night, can hold its own against competing shows that include Lucille Ball, Danny Thomas and "The Rifleman."

Can it? Well, on the basis of the first episode — and format it is a strong commercial effort. Adams plays a reporter: brilliant, tough and charming — in short, a typical example. John Larkin portrays his city editor. There will be loads of big-name guests, including Paul Muni. And gorgeous Barbara Rush plays a Washington correspondent. Which may not be exactly authentic, but who cares?

In the first show, illustrating a format in which ordinary persons become involved with a New York newspaper, guest star Lola Albright was a woman whose husband is kidnapped. She must place a coded classified ad in response to the kidnaper's instructions, as well as keep it secret.

Adams, Larkin and a few others know of the story and promise to keep it from "leaking" while working with police to rescue the victim. But somehow a scandal sheet gets the story and prints it, endangering the husband's life. Who squealed? Well, writer Adriane Spies, an ex-newspaperman, remembered his early training: In an emergency, blame the copyboy.

That's who did it, the dirty sneak, and Adams tells him off in a fine scene which makes the point that a good reporter must feel for people.

Adams has an appealing combination of cockiness and sensitivity; but oldtimer Brian Donlevy stole the show in a guest role as an alcoholic, weak, over-the-hill rewriter suspected of tipping the scandal sheet, a man desperately trying to hold a job that he knows is his last chance.

One question the series raises is whether the public will accept a reporter who doesn't wear his press card in his hat or act like a private eye. Despite some lapses into alleged newspaper theatrics, the program at times offered a bit more authenticity than most past similar efforts.

There was, however, one scene in which Miss Rush said she was supposed to cover a foreign ministers meeting in Paris, but, what the heck, she'd stay another day and work on this story. Well, that's news biz.

NBC-TV Monday night offered another new series which might be the sleeper of the year: "It's a Man's World," a one-hour show about two young men and a 14-year-old boy who live on a houseboat docked at a small Midwest college town. Another young man will move in with them.

There was hardly any plot Monday night: The boy, excellently played by Michael Burns, loses $32 of his newspaper route money and panics; a young guitar-playing stranger, Randy Boone — the future houseboat addition — finds it and considers keeping it. The hour, however was a gentle, pointed lesson in personal morality; the approach obviously aimed at showing that not all youngsters are juvenile delinquents or idiots; and the whole thing added up to a paean to normality, with a lovely, almost impressionistic quality reminiscent of "The Human Comedy." I liked it.

Disabled Vets To Get Increase In Compensation

On or about October 31 some two million disabled veterans will start receiving checks for increased compensation amounting to $88 million yearly, Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Lubbock, Texas said today.

Under the terms of the new law signed by the President September 7, provision is made in the October payment for a special increase which amounts to a three months' retroactive sum. This applies to the October checks only.

Sisson stressed there is no need for veterans to contact the Veterans Administration. The compensation checks are processed automatically with electronic data processing equipment so that the checks received by veterans with service-connected disabilities about October 31 will contain the first of the increases.

Designed to reflect changes in the cost of living since 1957, when the last compensation increase for veterans disabled in service went into effect, the average payment will be 9.4 percent more than the current rate.

Compensation for peacetime service-connected disabilities is paid at approximately 80 percent of that for wartime service-connected disabilities.

The increases are on a sliding scale so that the more seriously injured veterans are to receive the higher benefits. The increase for a veteran who is 10 percent disabled goes from $19 to $20 a month and the payment to a 100 percent disabled veteran is upped from $225 a month to $250.

In addition to payments based upon percentage of disability, additional "Statutory" payments are made for specified disabilities or combinations of disabilities such as blindness, deafness and loss of limbs.

The maximum amount that may be received by a wartime veteran who has no dependents and who is so seriously disabled that he requires aid and attendance, has been increased under the new law from $600 to $725 monthly.

Dear Abby....

It's A Favor To Struggle A Little

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In the winter of '38 you had something in your column about children from broken homes, "thrown to the winds to grow like weeds," but who managed to do more with their lives than some children of today who have all the advantages. There was so much truth in it that our minister read it from the pulpit and built his sermon around it. Would you please do your readers a favor and repeat it?

FAITHFUL ABBY FAN
DEAR FAN: Here it is:
DEAR ABBY: In my lifetime I have seen children from broken homes thrown to the winds to grow like weeds, with no supervision, no up-bringing and none of the advantages. Still they managed to make something of themselves. My husband was a man like that. Our son was given all the advantages, his father never had. Given all the love and attention and material things a child could ask for, yet he turned out so bad that I am ashamed to claim him as our son. Why, Abby, why?

BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Your son was denied the very things that make a man out of a boy. Hard work, self-discipline, and the satisfaction of making it on his own. The biggest favor parents can do their children is to let them struggle a little. Sorry.

DEAR ABBY: Don't people realize that if a man wanted a wife he'd find himself one? I am a bachelor (age 46) for the simple reason that I want to be. All my friends and relatives pester me with "girls" I ought to meet. Every time I am invited to someone's home for dinner they have a "girl" there for me to look over. This is getting tiresome. Please print this. Some of my friends might take the hint.

SINGLE AND HAPPY
DEAR SINGLE: Your friends

mean well. Don't be a schnook. It doesn't cost anything to look. DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me what a REAL mother is? I married a divorced man with three children. Their "real" mother had run off with another man when the oldest child was 5. They are in their teens now and I am sick of hearing how sad it is that their "real" mother can't enjoy seeing them accept the honors and awards they earned.

STEPMOTHER
DEAR STEPMOTHER: A REAL mother is one who married a man with children and raises them. Or one who will bound the adoption agencies until a child is placed in her home. In my opinion, she is more of a "real" mother than the one who raises a child solely because she reluctantly (or accidentally) had one.

Austin PTA Activities Underway At Fall Meet

Mrs. George Cree Jr., immediate past president of the PTA City Council, was guest speaker at the Stephen F. Austin PTA meeting held Thursday evening in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Cree, in speaking briefly on the objects and aims of PTA, stated that the organization on all levels, national, state, district, city and local units, have the same objectives. "The primary purpose is the education and welfare of youth."

"The Parent-Teacher movement in Texas," she said, "was organized in 1909 in Dallas and at the present time, the membership, including parents, teachers and administrators, totals 750,000."

Glenn Cox presented the spiritual thought for the evening.

Mrs. Joe Daniels, program chairman, introduced the principal, D. V. Biggers, who announced that a total of 484 students have been enrolled in Austin up to the present time.

Following an introduction by Mr. Biggers, Mrs. John Gill, membership chairman, presented each teacher with an autumn corsage and a gift PTA membership. New teachers in the school this year include Mrs. H. S. Ayres, second grade; Mrs. Gene Harper, third grade and Mrs. Perry Gaut, sixth grade.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. S. B. Syper, unit president, Mrs. Bob Echols was elected historian to replace Mrs. J. Robert Brown.

Approval was given the executive board to send two delegates to the State PTA convention to be held in Fort Worth Nov. 14-16 with expenses paid.

Mrs. W. T. Fain, hospitality committee, announced that plans were underway for Family Night, which is planned for Oct. 26 between the hours of 5:30 and 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria. "The menu," she said, "will include ham and turkey. Tickets will be $1 for adults and 75 cents for children. Youngsters two years and under will not require tickets."

In the absence of Mrs. Earl Schmeiding, study course chairman, Mrs. E. Ray Duncan reported that the study course this year entitled "Know Your Schools" will begin on Oct. 4 at Woodrow Wilson. The study subject will be "The Third Parent."

The next Austin radio program will be Nov. 2 at 8:15 a.m. over station KPND, according to Mrs. Charles Lanehart, radio chairman.

Mrs. Brantly Hudson, PTA City Council president, was introduced as a special guest.

Parents and teachers adjourned to classrooms after the program for a 30-minute orientation during which teachers outlined for the parents their plans and expectations for the school year.

Door prize was won by Mrs. R. E. French. The room count banner was won by the third grade.

PTA Benefits Are Told In TV Format At Baker

A TV format was used in the presentation of a program for B. M. Baker PTA at its first meeting of the new year held Thursday in the school auditorium.

The program opened with David Murphy, a sixth grade student, accompanied by Mrs. Claudie Gallman, music director, who led the group in a selection of songs in a "Sing A-Long With Smith Smiler." TV commercials advertising "Duz Duz It Dandy Detergent" and "Brand X Bread" were given by Buzzy Green. Jean Downs and Judy Shorter, other sixth grade students, were in charge of "props."

Newscasters, "Chat Gruntley," as portrayed by Mrs. Leon Holmes and "Rabid Stinkley," as played by Mrs. A. N. Green, gave a documentary report on the history of the B. M. Baker PTA.

The commentators, in order to answer the questions, "Why Should I Join PTA?", "What Does It Do?" and "How Does It Help My Child?", told of the various ways in which the PTA has helped since its organization in 1927.

Their commentary brought out that "during the depression years, all proceeds from 'Fun Night' were given to the cafeteria to help pay for lunches; over the years, the unit has purchased playground equipments, music, books for the school library, sick-room equipment, tape recorder and many other needed items too numerous to mention."

"More recently," the commentators reported, "a piano was presented to help the children develop music appreciation. The unit is now planning to save all proceeds from Fun Night for the next few years to purchase a film projector."

The program opened with the Rev. Glyn B. Adsit, minister of the First Christian Church, reading a selection of poems from a booklet entitled, "Poems For Sunshine and Shadow." In his devotional, he stressed the importance of "using whatever talents we may have rather than searching for new ones; giving of ourselves even though we feel our contribution may be small; and to always set a good example for our children."

Mrs. Ferguson introduced Carl Jones as the new principal, who has joined the faculty this year, replacing John Evans, who has moved to Arkansas. Mrs. Howard Lee was introduced as a new first grade teacher.

Mrs. R. C. Dittmeyer, vice pres-

The Tampa Daily News

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Want To Keep Subsidy

We have received a long, sad story of woe from the Magazine Publishers Assn. As we read through their 36-page booklet and two-page news release we get the idea that they are unhappy about the proposed postal rate increase bill (HR 7927).

The magazine publishers, (Time, Life, Readers Digest, McCall's, Hearst, Curtis, and many others are included) have included the comments of numerous writers for the magazines to help them in their fight against this increase.

What these comments boil down to is this: That the Congress should "preserve America's great literary heritage by rejecting further postal increase for the nation's magazines." They also claim the increase would be injurious to a free press. This is based on the contention that many magazines are now operating on a marginal basis and any further increase in costs will put them out of business.

The publishers say that if the measure is passed into law (it has already been approved by the House) "a number of magazines will be unable to survive" since publishing cost are becoming prohibitive.

This plaintive statement is followed by the argument that the postal department "was established not to make money, or to break even, but for the dissemination of knowledge."

There we have it. The magazine publishers are asking for a subsidy so they can continue to bring information, amusement and culture to their readers.

Herbert R. Mayes, president of McCall's and a member of the executive committee of the Magazine Publishers Assn., puts their case this way: "...the decision on postal rates will have to be weighed, not in pennies per pound, but in the effect on the circulation of ideas to and from free minds — hundreds of millions of them — around the world."

We would certainly agree that some magazines have excellent informative articles. Some have amusing contents. Some contain highly cultural material. Some have none of these.

But, we think that those persons who are interested in receiving this diverse information should pay for it.

If we subscribe to a magazine we should pay for what we receive, not expect other taxpayers to shoulder part of the burden.

If we subscribe, it is because we feel we are getting our money's worth and not because we feel that it is any proper function of the government (by virtue of its ability to seize money from the people) to help provide us with information, amusement or culture.

To us it is this simple: if enough persons want a magazine (or any other product) they will support it by purchasing it. If not enough want it (in a free market) it cannot continue to exist.

The one, by virtue that it exists on a free market, justifies its existence. The other has no reason for existence.

We ask for a subsidy. We have constantly opposed reduced or free mailing privileges for newspapers. We prefer to take our chance on the free market. The magazine publishers would do well to do the same.

Chinchillas, whose pelts are so valuable, are strict vegetarians, virtually odorless, and very gentle. Some novices in the chinchilla-raising field can hardly bear to kill the little animals when their time has arrived.

Contrary to popular belief, Detroit is not the sole producer of automobiles. The industry is scattered throughout the country, with cars produced and assembled in 47 plants located in 35 cities in 18 states.

Hollywood producer has under way a film titled "Il Duce," to be made in Italy, which will depict the life of the late Benito Mussolini, from the start to its inglorious finish, with the body hanged upside down in a public square and spat upon.

Well, so are we, and the cause of our personal dissatisfaction is often the mode and manners of the "obliques."

The welfare of the U.S. lies with the "straights" — those who like their pioneer forebears declare, "This is God's country!" and never let a day go by without saying to themselves, "Thank God I'm an American."

Pull Up A Chair

Water is a prime essential for the human body, but what form it is taken in doesn't make much difference. Today's Health mag asserts. Many complain, "I just don't like water." Their dislike is no handicap, however, for water needs are met just as well by drinking tea, coffee, soft drinks, milk, fruit juices, or even by eating watery foods such as watermelons or summer squash.

Purely psychological: Those in the trade have noted that the demand for colors in wallpaper often follows closely the most fashionable colors in women's clothes. It's because the womenfolk realize they'll look their best in surroundings which harmonize with what they're wearing.

Social item in the Harmon (Mo.) Times: "Mrs. Blank and Mrs. Smith were hostages at a pink and blue shower." When you hear or read the political dope from Washington that in 1964 the ticket may consist of John F. Kennedy for President and Robert F. Kennedy for Vice President, toss it in your mental ashcan. To start with, it's unconstitutional. That document prohibits two men from the same state being elected President and Vice President.

Today's favorite gag: Grandma was visiting for the first time and was particularly entranced by her daughter's three-year-old son. Her pride overflowed when she heard the youngster reverently recite his bedtime prayers. "That's darling, Johnny," said grandma. "I hope you'll let me hear you say your morning prayers, too." "Aw," the lad replied, "I just say prayers at night. I can take care of myself in the daytime."

At a sales meeting of a major corporation, worn-out salesmen of shoes in sealed envelopes stamped "Formula for Successful Selling" were distributed to the gathered sales force. The boys carefully opened their envelopes and got the point.

When we learn that it is the oft-reiterated determination of communism to destroy free Western civilization? Its leaders boast that they use peace declarations, treaties, agreements and diplomatic maneuvers as means of advancing toward their objectives.

Twenty-five years ago there might have been some excuse for not understanding their intentions, but only the blind, the ignorant or those who prefer appeasement and retreat because they lack the courage to fight for the right to live are, in these days, deceived by the hollow mockery of Soviet peace propaganda.

Recent and current events show the folly of appeasing communism. Recently our government cooperated with the U.S.S.R. to oust the people who believe in a free government in Laos and to set up a coalition government with the Communists. This is equivalent to the communization of Laos, just as it was in Czechoslovakia, Poland, Rumania and elsewhere.

We urged the same policy upon Chiang Kai-shek and we urged it in the Congo. We did even worse in Cuba by backing Castro in the first place without going through the intermediate step of a coalition government.

Because we backed communism in Cuba, the whole of Latin America is seething with Communist agitation. The enemy knows that if we would not resist his establishment of a Communist bastion 90 miles from our shores, that we surely will not interpose any objection if country after country in Latin America is now taken over by the Communists. As long as the policy of appeasement and surrender rules in Washington, we may expect this trend to continue.

Want concrete proof of the great generosity of Americans? Just take a look at these figures: charity donations in 1961 were conservatively estimated at $9 billion. Of this, an estimated $7.1 billion came from individuals, $450 million from corporations, $630 million from bequests, and $820 million from foundations. From this total, religious groups were expected to receive about $4.59 billion, health and welfare $2.43 billion, education $1.444 billion, foundations $360 million and other causes $180 million.

— FIRST Scattered Returns —

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER L. H. D.

The Soviet Union joined in a declaration condemning war propaganda and may continue to shout for peace as it has heretofore, but such declarations and such shoutings do not stop Communists from fomenting what they call "people's wars of liberation."

It has extended its frontiers thousands of miles from Eastern Europe to the Caribbean by landing troops, missiles, jets, tanks, and electronic equipment on Cuba at our doorstep.

Apert from the stark military significance of this extension of power, that fact has a tremendous psychological meaning to the Communists, their captives and marginal peoples.

I was a Psychological Warfare officer in the Pacific during World War II, and we successfully utilized the charts showing the steady movements of our troops toward Japan to bolster our morale and to undermine the Japanese spirit. The fall of the Marianas, Iwo Jima, and then Okinawa raised the concept of surrender for the Japanese people; it convinced us of ultimate victory.

Lenin, in his writings, expressed his concern that future Soviet successes would generate a growing sense of resistance on the part of the free world. He anticipated this as a difficulty to be overcome. This latest threat to the Caribbean should have been such an occurrence, igniting the resistance of the American people.

NO RESISTANCE

Instead we find State Department spokesmen rushing forward with statements that the move is purely defensive and a sign of weakness! They insist it means that Castro has so many difficulties that he needs Red Army assistance. The net result is, however, a Soviet military and electronic bastion at our doorstep.

For more than a decade our State Department has carried on extensive efforts to create an ter-American System of Collective Security. It has helped to fabricate not only the Organization of American States, but it entered into a long series of regional pacts at Rio de Janeiro, Punta del Este, and other Latin American centers. All of this effort had, as its goal, the creation of diplomatic machinery to take action against "extracontinental" aggression.

The Soviet sally into Cuba is obviously such a threat. We should be calling for a meeting, not of the Foreign Ministers even but of the Heads of State to take dramatic counteraction within the framework of these pacts. Instead our planners perform the role, so sought after by Lenin in his writings, of suppressing the concern of the American people.

This failure to act does not appear only in our Latin American policy. The inaction is a reflection of something much more deeply seated. It is a failure of our will.

In the realm of Internal Security we have also reflected this same weakness. Back in the late 1940's legislation was introduced in the Congress to require Communists in the United States to register. This was the democratic way, it was said, of dealing with Stalin's agents. We were not suppressing Communists and driving them underground, but bringing them out into the open.

Senator Pat McCarran, a great Democratic Senator, put through the Internal Security Act of 1950. This was omnibus legislation that included the registration requirement for Communists. It also created a Subversive Activities Control Board that would sit as a quasi judicial body to take testimony to determine whether any organizations or persons were controlled by World Communism and therefore subject to registration.

The Board sat and compiled a mountain of evidence showing that the Communist Party of the United States was so controlled. It was an elemental and obvious fact but in 1953 it was officially established. Then the justices on the Supreme Court went to work on that elemental conclusion. It was not until 1961 and then by a shift of position by the retiring Justice Frankfurter that the conclusion received Supreme Court sanction.

FAILURE

Despite this, another year has passed and still not one Communist has yet registered, twelve years after the necessary legislation was enacted. During these twelve years American Communists have been instrumental in bringing bondage to millions of people around the world. As with the Latin American Pacts, the machinery has been set up years ago. But there is no effective implementation on the part of our prevailing officials.

As Communism closes its pincers on our great country we seem more and more to lack the will to resist it from without or from within.

Allen-Scott Report

Khushchev Seeking To Place 80 Russians In Top Secretariat Jobs; Thant Holding Line

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — U Thant, acting secretary general, is holding the line against a Soviet demand that 80 high-ranking positions in the United Nations secretariat be given to Soviet citizens.

Arriving here for the opening of the U.N. General Assembly today, State Department aides report that U Thant assured President Kennedy and Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, U.S. Representative at the U.N., that he will not permit the Soviets to stack the U.N. staff in favor of the Communist world.

U Thant reported that he rejected the Khushchev demand to discharge a number of U.N. employees to make room for 80 Russians. U.N. employees in the positions specified by Khushchev, during his recent meeting with U Thant, hold permanent appointments or contracts for a fixed number of years.

Russia is the first U.N. nation to submit a detailed list of the secretariat jobs it wants for its citizens. Twenty of the 80 jobs requested are in the top level of the secretariat, and include the powerful position of Under Secretary for Economic and Social Affairs, with a salary and allowance of more than $20,000.

The Soviet demand presented by Khushchev also calls for the naming of a Russian as director of the division of press, publications, and special services, which is in the U.N. Office of Public Information.

Other positions requested by Khushchev includes: Special adviser in the office of Under Secretary for Political Affairs; special adviser to Secretary General for Disarmament; deputy director of Special Fund; deputy director for personnel; legal officer; director of the Industrial Development Center; deputy executive secretary of the Technical Assistance Board; deputy, Resources and Transport Branch; and director of Geneva Information office.

RED TAKE OVER?? — In most of these instances, the appointment of Soviet citizens would require the dismissal or transfer of the incumbents, who are mostly American, British and French.

For example, Laurence Michelmore, of the U.S., is deputy director of Personnel; Alexander MacFarquhar, of Britain, is special adviser in the Office of the Under Secretary for Political Affairs; and Claude de Kemouria, of France, is director of Geneva Information office.

In his private talk with U Thant, Khushchev justified his campaign for additional places in the secretariat on the ground that Soviet citizens do not have as many jobs as they are entitled to under the existing quota system.

This is based mainly on the percentage of contributions by member governments to the United Nations budget.

U Thant reminded Khushchev that Article 101 of the U.N. charter states that "the paramount consideration in the employment of the staff and in the determination of the conditions of service shall be the necessity of securing the highest possible standards of efficiency, competence and integrity."

Both President Kennedy and Ambassador Stevenson made inquiries of U Thant after U.S. intelligence agencies warned that this overt Soviet move in the U.N. was designed to (1) give Khushchev rather than U Thant control over a majority of U.N. employees, and (2) to double the number of Kremlin espionage agents in the U.S.

The seriousness of the espionage problem was highlighted recently when FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover testified before the House Appropriation Committee he charged:

"With privileges and immunities, Soviet-block personnel attached to the United Nations are becoming increasingly more active in Soviet intelligence operations. These countries are expanding their representation of the U.N. Secretariat. Soviet representation alone having jumped from 30 on July 1, 1957, to 72 on January 1, 1962."

BEHIND THE SCENES — Communist Dictator Fidel Castro, Cuba, is planning to make his second appearance at the United Nations. He will come to New York in November to cry "invasion." His high flying, Soviet-built Mig-21s are now busy taking photographs of the U.S. fleet units operating near Cuba.

U.S. officials still believe that Soviet Premier Khushchev will show up at the U.N. — probably some time in October. He is expected to launch a U.N. campaign to make West Berlin an "international city." U.S. officials plan to ask the General Assembly to enforce the recent World Court ruling that all nations in areas with their U.N. dues must pay up or lose their voting rights. Russia, the principal debtor, is expected to oppose this move.

Private bankers and central bankers here and abroad are hardly avid staying out of trouble with Congress next year. In January, Representative Wright Patman (D-Tex.) and Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) two of Congress' most persistent critics of the banking community, will take over the chairmanships of two Congress' committees having the most to do with bankers. Representative Patman is to move to the top spot on the House Banking Committee, Senator Douglas to the chairmanship of the Joint Senate-House Economic Committee. Both legislators plan to use their important committee positions to launch new investigations of the banking communities operations. Representative Patman, who is also investigating the nation's largest foundations, has uncovered some interesting ties between these tax-exempt organizations and the nation's bankers.

CANCER OFFICIALS MEET — Tom Williams, right, of Amarillo, district field representative for the Gray County Cancer Association, was in Pampa last night where he made an evaluation of the local association to the board members who met in Lovett Memorial Library. The Purpose Of Waterways Is Disposal Of Excess Water

By WILLIAM E. ATRY JR., Agricultural Engineer, Soil Conservation Service (Editor's Note: William E. Atry Jr., agricultural engineer for the Gray County Soil Conservation Service, has written the following article concerning waterways and their application to conservation.)

The purpose of a waterway is to dispose of excess surface water from natural concentration or man made diversions at a safe velocity to permit little or no erosion.

Waterways can be natural depressions or shaped on flatter land, using berms to contain the water.

Establishing grass in a waterway is very essential to protect the soil from erosion by serving as a protective cover to reduce the velocity. The speed at which the water travels will determine the amount of soil erosion. The size of a waterway will depend on the amount of water and the slope of the land.

Vegetative cover plays an important role to prevent washing in a water course. Care and maintenance of a waterway is as important as tilling the land to plant a wheat crop. Most waterway failures are caused by poor maintenance and no vegetative cover. One of the better ways to establish a grass cover in a waterway that has been shaped is as follows:

(1) When all the top soil has been removed some should be replaced and fertilized if needed, using nitrogen and phosphate when there is adequate moisture.

(2) A dead litter cover should be planted consisting of grain sorghum or small grains and prevented from maturing in the summer or fall. This can be obtained by a late planting date or by mowing or shredding to leave the litter on the ground and a stubble height of 6 to 10 inches. The seeding of a native grass or grass mixture in the dead litter cover is the next operation. All competitive vegetation should be controlled both before and after seeding the grass.

After the waterway is established maintenance plays an important role in the success of its operation. Only to often they are used as roads or turn rows, to transport machinery and an active gully is created. When the grass has been established the waterway is ready for the disposal of excess water at a safe velocity.

If you have a need for a water-
