Reds Boost U.S. Officer

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today ordered the expulsion of U. S. embassy political officer Kermit Midhun, 41. He was the second American diplomat ordered out within a week.

The order for Midhun's ouster came in a note handed to Minister-Counselor John McSweeney, who was summoned to the Foreign Ministry at 4 p. m. to receive it.

A week ago today McSweeney received a similar summons for the expulsion of Lt. Cmdr. Raymond Smith, U. S. assistant naval attache who was accused of spying while on a visit to Leningrad. The United States denied the charge.

Today's Soviet statement charged that Midhun, of San Francisco, "tried to induce a Soviet citizen, employe of a Soviet institution, to transmit to him information of a secret character."

According to an embassy spokesman, the ministry said Midhun's activities were "incompatible with the status of an accredited diplomat" and that "his continued presence was undesirable" in the Soviet Union.

The spokesman said the action against Midhun was "another case of reprisal for the expulsion of the two Soviet U. N. diplomats from the United States last month." They were caught buying U. S. defense secrets.

Attorney Waits For Word From Castro About Fate Of Prisoners

Kenyon To Be Speaker For C Of C

Howard Kenyon of Lubbock, Pampa's fiscal agent for the upcoming $1.5-million street improvement bond issue, will be the principal speaker at Monday's monthly membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn.

Kenyon will represent the Pampa City Commission in an explanation of the various facets of the bond issue proposal.

He will be assisted by Wayland Merriman, of Merriman and Barber, Pampa consultant engineers, who drew up and recommended the storm sewer and drainage project plans to tie in with the State Highway Department's street improvement program for Pampa.

An election on the bond issue has been set for Tuesday, Oct. 30. The bonds to be issued over a period of five or six years would cover improvements which the city has jointly planned with the State Highway Department.

Covered in the project would be the widening and improving of State Highways 152 and 273 and U. S. Highway 60 inside the Pampa city limits and the necessary drainage system for the three main thoroughfares.

The state's share of the improvement program would total from $825 to 2 1/2-million, according to engineers.

At the Chamber membership meeting Kenyon and Merriman will explain with the aid of maps just what is included in the bond proposal.

A new set of chamber of commerce by-laws is being prepared for presentation at Monday's membership meeting. The new by-laws will be distributed to members who will govern the operations of the new Chamber of Commerce organization which will replace the combination BCD-Chamber established in 1928.

Next Move Is Up To Island's Top Commie

By CHARLES E. TAYLOR
United Press International

MIAMI (UPI) — New York attorney James B. Donovan waited today for word from Fidel Castro on the next step in negotiations for release of 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners.

Donovan said when he arrived here on a commercial flight from Havana Thursday that he hoped the Cuban regime would contact him within 48 hours. He said the next move is up to Castro.

The ruddy-faced Donovan, looking weary from eight days in Havana and two hours-long sessions with the Cuban premier, said he was hopeful Castro would accept the offer of the Cuban Families Committee of medicine, drugs, medical supplies and baby food as ransom for the captives of the abortive April 17, 1961, Bay of Pigs invasion.

Still a Chance
The stocky New Yorker, who negotiated the trade last February of Russian spy Rudolf Abel for American U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers and is the Democratic nominee opposing Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., made it clear to newsmen here that he did not consider the prisoner talks finished.

"The prisoner negotiations have not broken down. There are simply some points that have not been resolved," Donovan said. He said the families committee, which he represents, had made "a definite concrete proposal to Dr. Castro. His government is considering it. It represents what we believe is the maximum we can offer."

No Cash Involved
He added: "I am always optimistic about everything I engage in until I abandon it, and I am not ready to abandon this."

Donovan would not go into what he termed "new questions on specifics" holding up a final agreement. But he said the offer does not involve money, and that the U.S. government has no part in the negotiations.

"My work does not involve one dollar in cash," said Donovan.

When we determine this, Stubblefield said, we will notify Walker's attorneys and will proceed with the examination 24 hours after that.

It was reported that Overholser might not make it to Texas until early next week. This would delay the examination even further.

Attorney Robert B. Morris, who helped work out the agreement for release of Walker from the federal psychiatric hospital at Springfield, Mo., told reporters on Thursday night that "General Walker is on 24-hour call to Dr. Stubblefield."

Walker is charged with rebellion, insurrection and seditious conspiracy. He was taken to the hospital at Springfield after his arrest, but was released in $50,000 reduced bond Saturday night.

Paris (UPI)—The pocket principality of Monaco was expected to take advantage of a 24-hour reprieve today to reach a compromise agreement with France on taxing Monaco residents.

The French government granted a one-day extension Thursday night on its ultimatum that Monaco sign a new pact eliminating its tax-free status or face incorporation into France.

Informed sources said only one point of contention remained in the talks at the Quai d'Orsay, France's foreign office, that is the question of whether France can tax the estimated 7,000 non-French foreign residents among the 32,000 population.

The absence of income taxes has made the 253-acre Mediterranean enclave a haven for rich foreigners and corporations. The French government, under whose protection the principality exists, had become increasingly concerned about the "French and other foreigners who operated from the sunny little spot to avoid French taxes.

The special election will be set for Tuesday, Oct. 30. The bond issue is being asked as the city's share to tie-in with plans of the State Highway Department to spend from $2-million to $2 1/2-million on the street and drainage project which will be carried out over a period of five or six years.

Also on the agenda tonight will be first reading of a paving ordinance, opening of bids for furnishing meals to prisoners in city jail for a one-year period, opening of bids for paving the 800-block of E. Kingsmill, and recommendations of the city manager.

Another report meeting is scheduled for 5 p. m. next Wednesday, again in the Coronado Inn.

All workers were urged today to attend both report meetings.

In Polio Drive Make-Up Clinic Scheduled For Pampa Sunday

A make-up clinic for persons who missed out on last Sunday's Sabon polio inoculation will be held from 12 noon until 4 p. m. Sunday in the Stephen F. Austin Elementary School, 1900 Duncan.

Representatives of the Top O' Texas Medical Society and the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, co-sponsors, are hoping that the remainder of Gray County's residents will protect themselves against polio at this Sunday's clinic.

Last Sunday, there was a total of 17,815 (including the previous Sunday's "dry run" session for volunteers) who took advantage of the project.

Only Type I vaccine is to be given Sunday, as in the previous week.

The make-up clinic will again be staffed by medical doctors, professional pharmacists, Jaycees, Jaycee-Ettes, Boy Scouts, Gray Ladies, girls from the high school student nurse's unit, registered nurses, and others.

It would be helpful, officials said, if persons planning to take the vaccine would have their registration forms filled out before coming to the vaccine station, as time would be saved in the process of getting one's inoculation.

The time required for taking the vaccine is only a few minutes, but, since there will be only the one vaccine station Sunday and a large number of persons is expected, it is anticipated that filling out the registration forms in advance will save individuals some time.

The forms are available in various local stores and a form is (See CLINIC, Page 3)

Republicans To Open Campaign Headquarters

Republican headquarters will formally be opened at 117 W. Kingsmill in downtown Pampa at 11 a. m. next Tuesday, according to an announcement today by Clayton Husted, Gray County G. O. P. chairman.

Husted said the public is invited to the opening and to visit headquarters throughout the day when coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Jack Seale, Republican candidate for Congress from the 18th District, will be on hand for the opening with Warren Fatheree of Pampa, candidate for State Representative from the 87th District.

Other local candidates also will attend, Husted said.

Appreciation Is Expressed By Thunderbirds

Lt. Col. William A. Alden, commander of the USAF Thunderbird Team which performed over Pampa Sept. 27, wants Pampans to know that the Thunderbirds' visit here was one of the highlights of their demonstration tour.

In a letter to Ralph Prock, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee, which sponsored the Thunderbirds on their local appearance, Colonel Alden expressed appreciation of Pampa's hospitality to the fliers and for the fine turnout to watch the demonstration.

Colonel Alden wrote from the home base of the Thunderbirds at Nellis Air Force Base in Nevada.

Seale To Speak Before Jaycees

Jack Seale, Republican candidate for Congress from the 18th District, will speak at the regular weekly meeting of Pampa Jaycees next Tuesday in First Methodist Church.

Seale will follow Rep. Walter Rogers, who spoke at the Jaycee meeting last week.

The Amarillo mayor, according to Joe Cree, his Gray County campaign manager, also will spend next Wednesday campaigning in Dalhart.

He will arrive there at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday following a visit to Stratford. Seale will remain in Dalhart until late afternoon and then will make stops at Hartley about 4 p. m. and Channing at 5 p. m. before returning to Amarillo.

On Thursday the candidate will campaign in Amarillo and Borger and on Saturday he will be in Panhandle, Claude, Goodnight, Groom and Alanreed.

Two Hospitalized In Burglars Hit Food Market Here Last Night

Paul Lane, 65, Davis Hotel, is in Highland General Hospital with a broken leg as a result of an auto-pedestrian accident at Cuyler and Foster Sts. last night.

Police said Lane was crossing west on Foster at 9:30 p. m. when William L. Riggins, 17, of White Deer, turned north into Cuyler from Foster and struck him.

Riggins said he was headed east on Foster and had stopped for a red light. When the light turned green, he stated, he turned left into Cuyler and did not see Lane in the walk area.

Police said Riggins' car skidded 26 feet and struck Lane in a sideways skid. Lane was taken to the hospital in a Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance and was reported resting comfortably there today.

Mrs. Ann Fleetwood, Rt. 2, Pampa, was in Highland General Hospital today for observation, following a traffic accident in downtown Pampa yesterday afternoon.

Police said Mrs. Fleetwood was turning right from Cuyler into W. Kingsmill and was forced to stop suddenly by a car backing out from the curb. As a result her car was hit in the rear by another car driven by Thomas J. Taylor of Amarillo.

Taylor was making a left turn into W. Kingsmill from Cuyler, according to the police report.

Mrs. Fleetwood complained of pains in her neck and was taken to a doctor and then ordered to the hospital for a check of possible injury. Police said total damage to both cars was estimated at $175.

Burglars hit the Fite Food Market, 1333 N. Hobart, last night and escaped with loot estimated at nearly $650, mostly in cash.

The burglary was discovered at 8 a. m. today by Ray Williams, store manager.

Police Chief Jim Conner and Patrolman Denny Roan, the investigating officers, reported that the burglars gained entrance to the store by climbing on the roof of a warehouse in the rear of the store and entering a kitchen window to a second floor apartment.

Once inside the building the burglars descended in an elevator to the main store downstairs.

A filing cabinet in a small office in the rear was broken into and two money bags containing some $500 in cash and $33.24 in checks were taken.

Chief Conner said no attempt was made to break into the heavy steel safe although a wooden door in front of it had been battered down.

The burglars also figured on eating high on the beef for the next few days. Their loot included 15 pounds of T-bone steaks and 13 pounds of boneless club steaks valued at $33.50 and 17 cartons of cigarettes worth $46.75.

Police said the burglars apparently wore gloves since they were unable to find any fingerprints.

Two City Officials Will Attend Amphitheater's Ground-Breaking

Mayor E. C. Sidwell and City Commissioner Will Graham will go to Palo Duro Canyon Sunday to join with other mayors and city officials in ground-breaking ceremonies for the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation amphitheater.

The program is scheduled to start at 4 p. m. Sunday.

Some 41 mayors or their representatives from 41 Panhandle communities, each with a spade, will in one mass movement lift clouds of earth from the floor of the canyon.

The human earth-moving action will be representative of the participation of the people of the entire Panhandle area in the open air theater, on the stage of which soon will be enacted the story of the development of the Top O' Texas.

The West Texas State College Band will greet members of the Foundation and distinguished guests. R. Earl O'Keefe, president of the Amarillo Area Foundation will open the ceremonies, and members of the executive board of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation will act as hosts, assisted by officers of the chambers of commerce of the area, and Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College, and Mrs. Cornette and Dr. J. A. Hill, president emeritus of the college, and Mrs. Hill.

Signal for the ground breaking will be given by Mrs. Ples Harper, president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, with a fanfare, and a short description of the drama, in the words of author Paul Green, will be read by William A. Moore of the Drama Department of West Texas State College. Eddie Melin, as representative of The Amarillo Symphony, will be master of ceremonies. The Texas Parks Board will be represented, and there will be the reading of greetings from other distinguished persons interested in the project who cannot be present.

one of the girls' dormitories.

Starts After Game
The raid started between 10:30 and 11 p. m., shortly after the Baylor - Texas freshman football game won by Baylor 13-12, when about 100 clapping, shouting male students gathered outside Kinsolving dormitory.

In a short time others began to gather and the group moved to the men's dormitories to pick up reinforcements. Groups of boys numbering from 50 to 100 gathered at various points and began milling through the campus.

2,500 In Texas U. 'Panty Raid'

AUSTIN (UPI) — About 2,500 University of Texas students staged a three-hour panty raid Thursday night and early today that started outside Kinsolving women's dormitory and spread over the sprawling campus.

University police called for help from Austin police around midnight when campus officers found they were unable to cope with the size of the crowd.

Officers arrested about six students for throwing rocks. Police said there was some light damage, including a broken window in

Residents of the women's dormitories littered the lawns around their buildings with panties and other bits of intimate female attire. This served to spur the male students on, and around midnight campus chief of police Allen Hamilton called for help.

Several units from the Austin police department sped to the campus to help break up the larger groups and attempt to unsnarl a gigantic traffic jam which tied up main intersections on the campus.

About 1 a. m. varsity police issued a warning that student blanket taxes and identification cards would be taken up and the students would be expelled if the campus were not cleared in 15 minutes.

Most of the crowd flowed toward Guadalupe Street, which borders the campus on the west and others moved toward the Delta Delta Delta sorority house west of Guadalupe.

By 2 a. m. all the students had cleared out, police said.

Driving Teacher Flees, "Suicide"

STOCKPORT, England (UPI)—A 65-year-old schoolteacher whose driving instructor jumped out of the car Tuesday and fled, shouting, "this is suicide!" went out again Wednesday to prove him wrong.

Margaret Hunter had driven less than 100 yards when a truck slammed into her car, throwing her into the road. She suffered minor head injuries.

Miss Hunter said today she still wants to take her driving test.

"If someone would lend me a car, I would go through with my test, but that seems a faint hope now," she said.

"I regard what happened, as another piece of wretched luck. Everything seems to be against me. I feel it is my duty to go on. I intend to prove I can drive."

Here Are Some Left-Handed Suggestions About Safety

NEW YORK (UPI) — So you want some spark in your life? If you don't mind a good burning, smoke in bed. You'll get sparks. For best results, fall asleep while smoking in bed.

The advice from a "Blueprint for Life" is among many left-handed suggestions from Paul Jones, administrator for the Greater Cleveland Safety Council.

Jones has figured that accident statistics show that people don't pay as much attention as they should to the right-handed suggestions.

You know — the kind that say: Don't smoke in bed. Don't leave the medicine where toddlers can get at it. Don't practice accident prevention on the homefront.

The poet laureate for safety wrote his left-handed blueprint for life for the PTA magazine.

Can Do More

As he sees it, you can do more than smoke in bed if you're determined to break your neck in the bedroom. You also can:

- Turn on the gas or oil heater without allowing for any ventilation. This induces quick and permanent sleep, Jones promises.
- Place a footstool or chair where you can fall over it in the dark. This will put you in stitches," Jones noted.
- If you want to continue to live dangerously, he suggests you give everyone a king-sized headache by leaving the aspirin bottle where the youngsters can reach it in the bathroom.
- In the kitchen, deal a blow to safety by standing squarely in front of the oven when lighting it.

Added Opportunities

Stairways, as Jones figures it, give you plenty of opportunities to skid. Help the accident prone by having junior leave his skates or marbles on the stairs. Give everyone a chance to fall — anytime. Keep the stairway dimly lit.

This new and different way of life, yours with practically no effort, guarantees maiming and possibly killing experiences.

"The National Safety Council," Jones said, "points out that by following the unsafe practices... a total of 26,500 Americans managed to kill themselves in home accidents last year.

"Four million others suffered disabling injuries. The cost of all this in cold-cash was 900 million dollars."

MIXED COMMENTS

MOSCOW (UPI) — The New York City Ballet drew warm applause from a second-night Moscow audience Wednesday night, but comments about the performance were mixed.

There were a few shouts of "Bravo." Comments among the 6,000 Russians in the audience ranged from "I didn't like it" and "interesting" to "marvelous."

The performance under the Soviet-American cultural agreement included Tchaikovsky's "Serenade," Gould's "Interplay" and Stravinsky's "Agon."

EAGLE DENTS PLANE

MOSCOW (UPI) — An aggressive eagle flying at an altitude of nearly 5,000 feet put a dent in the fuselage of a twin-engine Ilyushin airplane, Moscow Radio said Wednesday night.

It said the pilot was flying near Rostov when he saw two eagles flying directly at the airplane. He banked sharply, avoiding one eagle, but the other crashed into the planes fuselage.

The adventurous life in Alaska must be more appealing to the young than to the old. Alaska has a much younger population than the rest of the United States. Figures from the 1960 U.S. census reports showed that the state's population was 226,167. Over half the total were in the age bracket of 20-44, as against one-third in the same age bracket in the United States as a whole.

Welfare Index Talks Needs In Meeting

Pampa Welfare Index met recently in the City Commission Room in City Hall with Tom Board, president, presiding.

The resignation of Wendell Alt Miller, vice-president, was read and accepted. The group elected Wesley Langham to be vice-president for the remainder of the year.

It was decided that the Red Cross office would be the coordinating agency for the Welfare Index for the Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets this year. All church groups, organizations and clubs were asked to call the Red Cross office for names to send baskets to and also to report the names they wished to take baskets to. This would be the means of seeing that needy persons in our community would be remembered and those who take baskets could remember all of those in need instead of one family receiving more than they could use.

The group discussed the possibility of moving the clothing to a room nearer town, and keeping the storeroom on Barnes St. for used furniture. Mrs. E. M. Stafford, Mrs. Walter Sponmore, and Wesley Langham were appointed to be the committee to investigate this possibility.

A great need for baby beds and mattresses was told of by the president.

If anyone could help collect furniture and clothing they are asked to call Richard Drug and tell when they could work.

Members present were: Mrs. E. M. Stafford, Rebecca, Mrs. Walter Sponmore, County Welfare; Mrs. Bonnie McCarley, Altrusa; Mrs. Jane Groff, ESA; Miss Aline Ritter, American Business Women's Association; Mrs. Lee Harrah, Varietas Club; Mrs. D. V. Biggers, Delta Kappa Gamma; Wes Langham, National Guard; W. L. Call, Kiwanis Club; Mrs. Roy Dawson, Girl Scouts; Loyal Davies, Rotary Club; Miss Barbara Kennaman, High School Red Cross; Mrs. B. G. Ward, Catholic Charities; Mrs. W. L. Veale, School Nurse; Mrs. John Warner, Jaycettes; Mrs. Frank Shotwell, Red Cross.

The next meeting will be November 12th in the City Commissioners Room, City Hall.

Police Chief, Sheriff Will Attend Meet

Pampa's Police Chief Jim Conner and Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan plan to be among the more than 200 peace officers expected to attend the annual Fall convention of the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Peace Officers Association in Vernon, Texas, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 24 and 25.

Sheriff Eldon Head of Duncan, Okla., is president of the association, and Police Chief Walter C. Suttie of Vernon is in charge of convention arrangements.

One of the main purposes of the convention, Chief Conner said today, is to bring peace officers up to date on various phases of law enforcement study.

"The officers of North Texas and Southern Oklahoma work very closely together in a united effort to solve and prevent crime," Sheriff Jordan said.

Officers Search For Murderess

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The search for Winnie Ruth Judd continued today with police scouring likely hiding places and friends appealing to the escaped trunk murderess to give herself up on the condition she could tell her story to the public.

Detectives conceded they had no concrete leads to the whereabouts of the 57-year-old mental patient who fled from the Arizona State Hospital Monday. It was the seventh escape for Mrs. Judd, who was committed to the institution in 1932 following her conviction of murdering her two roommates, dismembering one of the bodies, and shipping both to Los Angeles in a trunk.

A Los Angeles law firm which represented her in the 1931 extradition proceedings following her original arrest appealed to her to surrender.

Cantillon, in Los Angeles, said he had no knowledge of Mrs. Judd's whereabouts, nor did her friends, but he said he would make every effort to persuade her to surrender.

Phoenix police theorized Mrs. Judd may be "holed up somewhere" and Thursday conducted a painstaking search of all vacant houses and other dwellings near the mental hospital in East Phoenix.

Police Chief Charles Thomas said the methodical search of possible hiding places would continue. He said a report that she may have flown to Minnesota was still being checked but it appeared unlikely she would be found there.

Battle Looms Over Connally

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas labor leaders gather in Houston this weekend to reconsider their "conditional" endorsement last summer of Democrat John Connally for governor in view of the party's state platform.

There was some speculation that the endorsement would be withdrawn. But such a move is sure to bring on a bitter fight by some leaders of the state AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE).

President Hank Brown of the Texas AFL-CIO branded several planks of the state Democratic platform as "totally unacceptable" at the Sept. 18 Democratic state convention. He called the special COPE meeting to reconsider its endorsement of Connally.

Labor leaders were irked when delegates to the Democratic convention last month largely ignored labor's platform suggestions.

Brown made several pointed references to "the other party" at the El Paso convention in speeches before the Democratic Executive Committee and the platform committee.

Might Back Up

He said after the convention that his organization might decide at the COPE meeting in Houston to withdraw its tentative endorsement of Connally.

Just how much influence such a move would have on the Nov. 6 gubernatorial election is debatable, but in the only other similar instance in the state the Republican candidate won.

Dear Abby... May Convince Husband, But Won't Be Easy!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who refuses to listen to reason? Dad and I have been married 42 years. Our family is married and gone. For the past five years I have been begging my husband to put our house on the market, but he won't budge.

We own this large, two-story, 12-room house, and live in only three rooms of it. Every time I mention selling the house we have a fight. My husband likes this house because it's been home to him for 28 years. But he doesn't have to take care of it. I do. Running up and down the stairs wears me out and the work is killing me. We could sell the house and enjoy life in a bungalow or apartment. Please, Abby, help me convince him.

SLAVE TO THE HOUSE

DEAR SLAVE: You need more help than I can give you. If you have friends who have done what you would like to do, enlist their help in selling your husband on the idea. Have them invite you to their new compact quarters and let your husband see for himself how uncomplicated and care-free life can be in a smaller love-nest.

opinion and you gave it to him. Don't avoid this couple. An don't apologize unless one of them brings it up. Forget the incident and perhaps he will.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "A MAN WHO WEARS THE PANTS IN HIS FAMILY": I thought the man in the family was SUPPOSED to wear the pants! What's all the shouting about? When a man feels that he has to crow about "wearing the pants" in his family, you usually have to look under his apron to find them.

The 18 members present discussed informally the unit's fund raising project "Halloween Fun Night" to be held Oct. 26 at the school.

PLEA FOR EARLY MORNING

DEAR ABBY: A friend of many years became acquainted with a woman. He asked me to join them one evening, which I did. Later he asked me what I thought of her. I told him I thought she looked like a cheap gold-digger, and I wouldn't bother with her if I were he. Well, shortly afterward he married her. I am so embarrassed whenever I see this couple that I don't know what to do. I find myself going out of my way so I won't have to face them. Should I apologize to him? How would you handle this delicate situation? This man's friendship means a lot to me.

Council Of Clubs Discusses Lack Of Local Flag Display

Mrs. Frank Shotwell presided over the meeting of the Council of Clubs in the City Club Room, Thursday, Oct. 4, at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Rufe Jordan presented the invocation and City Manager, Harold Schmitzer and Wayland Merriman presented the program on "The Proposed Bond Election." Mr. Merriman illustrating, with a chart, showed the parts of town that needed drainage system improvements. They also pointed out, that if the bond issue is approved at the special election set for Oct. 30, the State Highway Department will be spending approximately $2.5 million to $3 million on the highways inside Pampa City limits compared to $1.5 million that will be spent by the City of Pampa.

Tracy Carey, president of the Genealogical Society, reminded everyone of the coming district meeting to be held in the Coronado Inn. He also pointed out lack of flag display over the Gray County Court House and urged the County Commissioners and County Judge to see that an adequate flag pole and flag be purchased for the purpose.

There were thirty-one members and guests present at the meeting.

TWO TOOTHBRUSHES

The kind of toothbrush you use is important. The bristles should be hard and all the same height for getting at all the teeth easily. You should own two brushes at least and alternate using them so they have time to dry out.

The second manned three-orbit flight of the Mercury capsule took place on May 24, 1962 with Navy Lt. M. Scott Carpenter as pilot. Except that he overshoot his landing area and, like John Glenn, had control problems, his flight was successful. NASA then announced that the next shot would be a six-orbit attempt later in the year with Lt. Com. Walter M. Schirra Jr. at the controls.

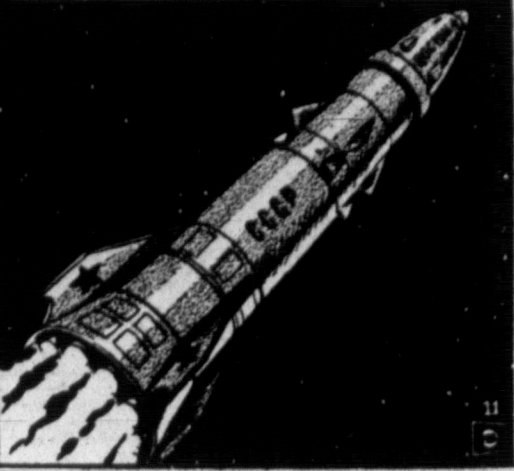

(11) After Mercury

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

Looking ahead past Mercury, plans call for the two-man Gemini capsule to go up in 1964. It will practice rendezvous techniques with fuel rockets in orbit. The spaceship designed to take Americans to the moon by 1970 is the three-man Apollo, which will be boosted by the giant Saturn rocket. The Apollo will orbit the moon while two men land in a small ferry rocket for a brief exploration.

That the Russians have the same ideas in mind—and are still ahead—was shown by the orbiting of Vostok III and IV on Aug. 11 and 12. Cosmonauts Nikolayev and Popovich circled the earth 64 and 48 times respectively. Although they did not hook up in space, the precision of their launchings and the length of their flights was impressive.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — PT-boat skippers are very large this year. They may be even more popular after the debut Thursday night of a new ABC-TV comedy series in which Ernest Borgnine heads up the motley crew of such a vessel in the Pacific in World War II.

The half-hour Borgnine entry, "McHale's Navy," is the last of this season's new series to have its premiere. And, after numerous tries, television has finally found — on the basis of "McHale's" first show — a military comedy in the tradition of "Sgt. Bilko." The great Bilko is still untouchable, but the latest attempt may be a worthy successor.

Ex-Bilko associates are all over Hollywood trying their luck; several are connected with "McHale's Navy," and the opening scene Thursday night was uproarious farce: The PT-boat is speeding along. "How's the skipper doing?" asks one crewman dramatically. "I don't think he's gonna make it," says another. The camera cuts quickly to the rear of the boat, and there is Borgnine on water skis, terrified, a can of beer in one hand. Water skiing is also very large this year.

Faces Tough Competition There is little doubt President Kennedy's PT-boat exploits did not exactly discourage the creation of the new series. There is little doubt "McHale's Navy" may have a rough go of it because of its NBC-TV competition, the entrenched "Hazel." And there is little doubt we have had more than enough alleged comedies of the military on television. But unlike such banal attempts at humor as the "Ensign O'Toole" and "Don't Call Me Charlie" programs, both of which are anchored by their reliance on scripts, "McHale's Navy" has the one thing that makes any comedy format excusable: Very funny actors to carry it off.

Borgnine is no Phil Silvers, which is the major reason we don't have another "Bilko"; but he is wisely used as a good-natured but competent slob around whom the others revolve. As in "Bilko," these supporting players keep things going, though the writing is not always up to them.

McHale Is Enemy There is Joe Flynn as the magnificently dry, sardonic captain who is convinced McHale (Borgnine), and not Japan, is the real enemy. Tim Conway as a bumbling, spit-and-polish ensign who is one of the comedy finds of the year; and Carl Ballantine as a Navy con man named Lester Gruber. You may remember Carl as the wildy zany magician, "Mr. Ballantine," who has a hard time getting his tricks to work in his nightclub act. Conway's face looks like that of a downhearted seal. He was just tops as he tried to grapple with the idea of a crew that had a 10 o'clock brunch; that fired at him when he tried to wake them at dawn; and that employed a Japanese cook. In one scene, Flynn gives him a fighting speech in nautical language about getting up a full head of steam, and Conway replies emotionally, "Gee, I love that kind of talk."

The Channel Swim: Gene Barry, formerly the "Bat Masterson" of television, will costar with Doris Day in an upcoming movie, "The Lady and the Bandit." Walter Pidgeon plays the master of an ocean liner as headline of a planned ABC-TV series, "Mr. Kingston." CBS-TV's Carol Burnett is set for a Broadway musical, "The Unfair Sex," for next season. NBC-TV will present on Oct. 31 a 90-minute special about a group of West Berlin students who dug

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Hon. Timothy Tugbuton stormed into the office today in a farseoing rage.

Clearing the news-desk of spikes and paste pots with one sweep of his heavy cane, Tim gave voice:
"I ain't gonna stand for it. The taxpayers ain't gonna stand for it. Of all the dad-blamed foolishness I ever heard tell of, those adde-headed congressmen have voted to build a fish house right here in the District of Columbia—and a $10 million fish house at that."
"You talking about the aquarium, Tim?" Grant Dillman inquired from the slot position.
"The aquarium that President Keucudy okayed couple of days ago when he signed the bill?"
"Course I mean that 'aquarium,'" Tugbuton shouted, "and, a'course that young feller in the White House signed the authorization bill. What's $10 million to that young feller especially when it's $10 million of other people's money?"

No Respect for Money
"You'd think a young feller whose old man could save enough to make all his kids rich before they could vote would have some respect for money, wouldn't you now? Well, that young feller ain't got it and Congress ain't got it, either. And the taxpayers ain't gonna have anything if that Congress don't quit appropriating and appropriating and that young feller don't quit signing and signing and the tax collectors don't quit collecting and collecting."
"Fish house!" the old man spat the words.
"What's got into them Democrats, anyway?" he continued. "The Republicans will make a big issue of this, let me tell you, or, anyway, they oughta make a big issue of it although they probably won't. Republicans being very little smarter than Democrats, if any—and ain't that a terrible thing to say about both of 'em?"

Watch that Cane!
By this time, Tugbuton was beating time to his own words, banging his cane indiscriminately on the desk and the frame of Bill Zimmerman's typewriter.
"The Republicans have been hollering that the Democrats are soft on communism and it ain't got them anywhere except to make Harry Truman mad," Tugbuton shouted.

"That ain't no issue—leastwise it don't win no elections, and what's the matter is the Republicans have got the Democrats soft on the wrong thing and in the wrong place. The place where the Democrats are soft is in the head, on money. And what they are soft on right at this moment is fish, that's what. Soft on fish. You could make a big campaign issue on that. The Republicans in Missouri could holler:
"Yah, yah, yah. Harry Truman's soft on fish, soft on fish, soft on fish." And they oughta do some yah yahs at Jack Kennedy, too. That young feller has been a great disappointment to me. He oughta have better sense, raised good the way he was. He sure oughta have better sense, especially about money."

WONDERLAND—Dreamlike effect of a young girl wandering over a giant Parcheesi board is accomplished by the dancing feet of men hidden beneath seven-foot molded pawns. Sequence was filmed for a television commercial.

Rain Threatens Series In 'Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants, counted on "more times than any team in baseball history," needed to pick themselves off the floor once more today in the rain-threatened sixth game of the World Series to stay alive against the New York Yankees.

Even with another rain-out, however, this would not be the most rain-plagued series in history. Back in 1911, when the Giants played the Philadelphia Athletics, the scheduled fourth game was rained out six straight days. Manager Ralph Houk of New York was confident that Ford would close out the Series in the sixth game and clinch the Yankees' 20th world championship.

Although this gave the Giants two more right-handed hitters against southpaw Ford, neither Kuenn nor Cepeda has made a hit in the Series thus far. Kuenn was 0-for-8 and Cepeda 0-for-12. De-k said he also was undecided whether Tom Haller or Ed Bailey would catch.

The Giants pilot, who arose early with the idea of conducting a workout at Candlestick Park and then went back to bed when it appeared obvious that no practice could be held in the rain, insisted that any delay because of bad weather "would neither help nor hinder either club."

Hook, upon learning that the workout was postponed by the weather, conducted a press conference at the downtown hotel where the Yankees are quartered.

He was chipper and relaxed as he told a room-full of newsmen that he planned to start Ford in the sixth game "because we are going with our best and let the chips fall where they may."

"We'll have our best pitcher going for us and you always have to feel you have a good chance of winning when Whitey is pitching," he said.

"I was going to start Ford in the sixth game whether we won or lost in New York on Wednesday," Houk continued. "He will be pitching on the fourth day (after his last start), just as he's done most of this season and last year. He pitches better on the fourth day than if he had an extra day's rest."

Ford has won a record 10 World Series games, against four defeats. He won this year's opener, 6-2, and left last Monday's game with the score tied at 2-2 in the sixth inning.

On Sunday afternoon, the defending champion Oilers were 13 point favorites over New York in a game at Houston. Denver, heading the league's Western Division with a 4-1 record, was a 15-point pick over the Raiders at Oakland.

The Patriots, with little hope that defender Houston would lose to New York, must reverse a season-opening 42-28 loss at Dallas in order to maintain their Eastern Division top tie with the Oilers.

Dawson Poses Problem
Boston's chief problem was the passing of Texas quarterback Lenny Dawson who already has pitched 11 touchdown passes. Since Boston's pass defense currently is the league's most porous, the cause of coach Mike Holovak's headache was obvious.

Offensively, the Patriots continued to rely on the passing of Babe Parilli whose statistics are only slightly behind those of Dawson.

The winless Oakland Raiders had little hope of reversing last

THE BROTHERS TWO — Matty (left) and Felipe Alou are two reasons why the Giants are in contention for the World Championship of baseball. Felipe, the starting left fielder for San Francisco, stole the defensive show in New York with his superb catches in Yankee Stadium's difficult outfield. Matty, also an outfielder, is used mainly as a pinch hitter.

Pampa Harvesters Tackle Monterey 11

Pampa's Harvesters take their campaign for a winning season to Lubbock to tussle with the Monterey Plainsmen in a District 3-AAAA game. The game is slated for 7:30 p.m. at Lowry Field.

The big job facing Coach Otis Holladay's charges is stopping Monterey's passing attack and at the same time getting their own brand of offense clicking.

Last week the Harvesters fought Tascosa of Amarillo to a 6-6 first half tie only to be swamped with passes and touchdowns in the second half. The Pampans have spent most of the past week working on its defensive game.

Tackle Shaun Hills and quarterback Don Ayres have moved into starting positions for tonight's battle.

Pampa, 2-2 for the season will be playing its second district game with Monterey, 2-1, making its initial plunge into District 3-AAAA action.

In pre-district play the Plainsmen stopped Cooper (Abilene), 7-0, and Midland, 20-6. The Lubbock team was edged by Permian of Odessa, 13-14, between the two victories. Permian also stopped Tascosa, 14-0, earlier this season. Pampa will return home after the game.

Boston, Texans Battle In AFL

By United Press International
The Boston Patriots and Dallas Texans, each trying to push their way into the young American Football League's select title class, tangle tonight in a game that well could ruin the loser's championship dreams.

The clash at Boston, in which the Patriots are one point favorites, highlights a four-game sixth round in the AFL. San Diego was a seven point choice to run the Bills losing streak through a record seven games at Buffalo Saturday night.

On Sunday afternoon, the defending champion Oilers were 13 point favorites over New York in a game at Houston. Denver, heading the league's Western Division with a 4-1 record, was a 15-point pick over the Raiders at Oakland.

The Patriots, with little hope that defender Houston would lose to New York, must reverse a season-opening 42-28 loss at Dallas in order to maintain their Eastern Division top tie with the Oilers.

West Texas Buffaloes Meet Arizona St.

CANYON (SpI) — It has been 15 years since West Texas State last defeated Arizona State University in football, and the undefeated, untied Buffaloes would like nothing better than to change history's course Saturday night in Tempe.

Off to their fastest start in several seasons, Coach Joe Kerbel's Buffaloes figure to get their toughest test of the season against the Sun Devils, who also are undefeated but once-tied. While West Texas was submerging Arlington State, 49-0, for the fourth win in a row Saturday, Arizona State was playing Pacific Coast power Washington State to a 24-24 tie. Arizona State wins have come over Wichita, 21-10, and Colorado State, 35-0.

The Buffs have been awesome in the statistical department. They continue to lead the nation's major college teams in team rushing with a 348.5 yard average, and rank second in scoring with a 47.3 point mark. Halfback Jerry Logan is the nation's top individual scorer with 72 points and Pistol Pete Pedro tops the rushers with 621 yards in 75 carries for an 8.3 average.

Another halfback, junior Jerry Richardson of Canyon, has been awesome in a defensive manner. He intercepted three Arlington State passes last week to run his season's total of steals to eight. The West Texas team intercepted six Arlington passes in all. One of Richardson's swipes was returned for a 40-yard touchdown, and later in the game he took a 17-yard scoring pass from quarterback Jim Dawson.

The Buffs spent the early part of the week working against Arizona State's pulverizing offense, which is designed to control the ball. Coach Kerbel is apprehensive about the Herd being able to stop the Devils' offense, featuring swift halfbacks Tony Lorick and Charley Taylor. The Buffs came out of the Arlington game with the usual lumps and bruises, but should be in top shape for the flying trip to Tempe. The squad leaves via TWA Friday afternoon, and during a stop-over in Albuquerque, will work out at the University of New Mexico.

Dave Hill Leads Bakersfield Open

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI) — Slender Dave Hill, leading the field by a stroke into today's second round of the $40,000 Bakersfield Open golf tournament, hopes this top purse event of the fall tour won't turn into another Seattle for him.

The 25-year-old long ball hitter fired a five under par 67 Thursday as a galaxy of stars stayed hot on his heels. In the Washington State classic four weeks ago, Hill was first round leader with a hot 64 but wound up in a tie for 27th.

"I'm the first to admit I need this 87 for protection for the next few days," said Hill, who plays out of Jackson, Mich., but is noted most for his double wins at the Denver Open in his hometown. "I was pleased with the round except for two bad shots on the back side when I slipped a little."

Jimmy Powell and Butch Baird, plus Sahara Open winner Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., posted 68s. Powell, Yorba Linda, Calif., had 33-33, Baird, Galveston, Tex., 33-35, and Lema, 34-34.

Tied at 69 were Gene Littler, Billy Casper Jr., Bob Rosburg, Billy Maxwell and Bob Goalby plus rookie Bob Pratt and sophomore Jack Rule. Sixteen others were bunched at 70 and ten at 71.

Hill, whose best finish this year was second at St. Paul, Minn., went out in 57 and came in 75 after bogeys on the 12th, 13th and 18th. He had an eagle and six birds on putts from 15 to 23 feet earlier.

Cleveland Browns, Colts In NFL Tilt

By United Press International
The Cleveland Browns and Baltimore Colts, tabbed before the start of the season as leading contenders for the National Football League division championships, meet Sunday in a game to determine which will go on to fulfill that destiny.

The Browns, like the Colts, have been something of a disappointment thus far, but they are 7-point favorites to beat Baltimore in this inter-division battle at Cleveland. Each team has a 2-2 record and the losers' hopes for a division title will be dimmed considerably.

Green Bay's champion Packers

(4-0) are 21-point favorites to remain undefeated by beating the winless Vikings (0-4) at Minneapolis-St. Paul, but the Washington Redskins' reign atop the Eastern Division appears in jeopardy.

Washington is Underdog
Washington (3-1), the surprise team in the NFL, is a 3½-point underdog against the Cardinals (1-3) at St. Louis. The New York Giants (3-1), poised to take over the Eastern Division lead if the 'Skins should slip, are the choice by 10 points to win their home opener against the Pittsburgh Steelers (2-2).

In other Sunday games, the Detroit Lions (3-1) are picked by 11 points at home over the Los Angeles Rams (0-4); and Chicago Bears (3-1) are the choice by 4 for their home opener against the San Francisco Forty-Niners (2-2), and the Philadelphia Eagles (1-3) are favored by 1 over the Cowboys (1-2) at Dallas.

Someone should get back into business in the Browns-Colts game. Both teams, and their quarterbacks — Jim Ninowski of Cleveland and Johnny Unitas of Baltimore — have been spotty. The Browns have scored only 59 points in three games. Unitas was removed during the first half of last Sunday's game against the Forty Niners because of ineffectiveness.

Passing Hurts Browns
If Unitas and fullback Jimmy Brown of Cleveland are "On," this could develop into a high-scoring game. The Browns have been hurt most so far by enemy passing. The Colts have proved vulnerable to a strong rushing attack.

Green Bay and Detroit, which met last Sunday, next play the only teams in the NFL which have not won a game thus far.

The Packers, in top shape following their 9-7 win over the Lions, should steamroller Minnesota for their fifth straight win. Detroit, however, could encounter some trouble with the Rams.

For one thing, coach George Wilson may have trouble getting his Lions "Up" after last weekend's bruising and disappointing defeat. The Rams, on the other hand, are under great pressure to win and this week they will be strengthened by the return of star halfback Jon Arnett.

Snead Guides Redskins
NFL observers have been expecting the roof to fall on the Redskins for the past few weeks. Still, they have rolled on under the skillful guidance of quarterback Norm Snead. In the 'Skins' earlier game with St. Louis, they capitalized on first fumbles and four intercepted passes to win, 24-14.

Mantle at Milestone
DETROIT (UPI) — Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees hit his 400th home run here the night of Sept. 11 to become only the seventh major leaguer ever to reach that milestone.

Robert E. Lee Teams Win, Lose To Dumas

Fumbles, fumbles, fumbles dealt the death blow to Robert E. Lee's eighth graders as the Rebels fell victims, 12-8, to Dumas' Jr. High in a Thursday afternoon game.

"The boys played a good football game," Coach Mack Choate commented following the tussle. "The fumbles hurt us."

The Rebels fumbled nine times in the fracas, once on the opponents three yard line and twice on their five. Five of the Rebel fumbles were in the fourth quarter.

Leading 8-6 at half on quarterback Byron Porter's one yard keeper for the touchdown and Smisson Goodlett's conversion of the two points, the Rebels were unable to score in the final half.

Coach Choate praised David Smith and Jack Williamson for playing well on defense.

Ninth Graders Win
In another Thursday afternoon game, Robert E. Lee's ninth graders walloped the Dumas ninth graders 44-6. The halftime score was 30-0.

"We looked real good on offense and team timing," commented Coach Don Myers. Details of the game were not available at press time.

Mighty Longhorns Favored In Clash

DALLAS (UPI)—Texas, the nation's No. 1 football team, and the University of Oklahoma meet for the 57th time Saturday in a renewal of the most colorful football rivalry in the Southwest.

The Longhorns' rule as two-touchdown favorites to win their fifth consecutive game in the series and their fourth in four games this season.

The game, a sellout for the 17th consecutive year, will be regionally televised (over CBS). Capacity at the Cotton Bowl, site of the game, is 75,504.

Fans supporting both clubs began to pour into Dallas early today. Three special trains—two from Oklahoma City and a third from Ardmore—carrying more than 1,500 Sooner fans are scheduled to arrive Saturday. It is virtually impossible to find a room in hotels and motels.

And tonight is the time for the traditional pre-game madness, when thousands of supporters of each team crowd into downtown Dallas. If tonight is like the pre-game Fridays in the past, it will be a near riot.

As always, since Darrell Royal moved to Texas, the game is billed as a match between professor and student. Royal was an all-America quarterback under Wilkinson at Oklahoma in the late 1940s.

Texas leads the old series, 34-20-2. Under Wilkinson, the Sooners hold a 9-6 advantage. Texas won last year, 28-7.

The Sooners will arrive in nearby Fort Worth today, where they will stay during their trip. The Texas team is also expected in Dallas late today, after a last-minute workout in Austin.

For the Longhorn boosters, the game figures to be a proving ground. Texas has rolled over three opponents—Oregon, Texas Tech and Tulane—with ease.

None of the three, however, has been of championship caliber. The Texas performance against Oklahoma is expected to answer questions about just how good this Longhorn team is—it really the best in the nation.

Oklahoma is 1-1 for the season. The Sooners defeated Syracuse 7-3 but lost to Notre Dame, 13-7. Scores in the Texas' games so far were 25-13 over Oregon, 34-0 over Tech and 35-8 over Tulane.

Texas, OU Rivalry Top Tussle In SWC

By United Press International
The University of Texas, first-ranked nationally, and the surging Razorbacks of the University of Arkansas will be in the spotlight this weekend when seven Southwest Conference squads take to the field.

The Longhorns are a 13½ point favorite to whip the University of Oklahoma Saturday, at neutral Dallas. The game is a sellout, with 75,504 expected.

The 7th-ranked Hogs are chosen to knock off winless Baylor by 19½ in Fayetteville in one of two conference contests on tap.

Texas Christian will try to regain some of the stature it lost in last weekend's rout by Arkansas Saturday night against Texas Tech at Fort Worth.

Texas A&M will journey east to meet Florida in an afternoon game. Rice continues taking on major intersectional football powers by hosting Oregon under the lights at Houston. Southern Methodist will be idle.

The weekend will provide a good preview of what may happen Oct. 20 when the Longhorns and Razorbacks meet with what probably will be the most resounding crash of the 1962 SWC season.

Texas has bounced this year's opponents hard in climbing to its No. 1 ranking. The Longhorns whipped Oregon 25-13, Texas Tech 34-0 and Tulane 35-8.

TCU is favored by 11 over Tech, which lost a last-second 7-3 contest to the Aggies last weekend. Tech is winless in three starts. TCU owns a squeaker over Kansas and a slim loss to Miami.

Rice, which tied Louisiana State and then fell to Penn St., will be favored by two points over the Oregon squad.

The Aggies are five-point underdogs to Florida.

Bevo The Steer Half Sooner?

AUSTIN (UPI)—Bevo, the traditional University of Texas steer mascot, will be at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas Saturday for the annual Texas-Oklahoma clash. But Bevo represents Oklahoma as well.

Bevo was sired by a bull named "Smokey Joe" from the Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge in Oklahoma.

State lines have often been ignored for this tussle. Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson usually fields a team with more Texans on it than Oklahomans, and the Texas team is coached by Darrell Royal, a former quarterback at Oklahoma.

Tri-City Fighters Hold 4-Way Meet

TO CAR OWNERS TRYING TO "GET BY" ON REGULAR GASOLINE:

How You Can Switch To The One Gasoline That Does What No Regular Gasoline Can Do

AND GET 2.1¢ EXTRA VALUE PER GALLON

What's the biggest single cost of owning and operating your car? Contrary to what many people think, it's not the cost of the fuel.

Depreciation alone costs nearly twice as much as fuel, for most car owners. If you drive a $3,000 car 10,000 miles a year for 5 years and then get $500 for it when you sell or trade it, you have lost around 5¢ a mile. Your insurance, especially if one or more children drive your car, will cost you almost as much as the gasoline you buy.

Yet many car owners are straining to save a fraction of a cent per mile by buying regular-grade gasoline for cars that need the higher octane of premium-grade gasoline. If you are one of these, has it ever occurred to you that what you gain is not worth what you are giving up?

Every car has a definite octane requirement. We call it "octane appetite." But some cars that perform well on regular-grade gasoline when new begin to need the higher octane of "premium" gasoline as they get older.

That's because as carbon builds up in the combustion chambers, the compression ratio goes up—and so does the octane appetite. One well-known symptom of this is "pinging." Another is loss of pep and power.

The simplest, easiest, lowest-cost cure for these problems is to switch to Skelly Keotane Gasoline.

The first benefit you'll get from Keotane, of course, is the new smoothness, new peppier acceleration, and new power on hills—due to Keotane's higher octane. But that's not all. Of all premium gasolines today...

Only Keotane actually "unplugs" carbon and lead deposits from vital engine parts as you drive. The more you drive, the more you clean your engine. And the cleaner your engine is, the more it runs like a new engine.

In independent research tests, Keotane in premium gasoline proved it can deliver an average of 12.7% more mileage, 14.6% more horsepower output, and the performance effect of 3 extra octane points. These and other benefits add up to an estimated 6.1¢ extra value per gallon.

You still come out 2.1¢ ahead, based on these figures, even if you pay as much as 4¢ per gallon more to switch from "regular" to Keotane. And, at the same time, you'll be getting advantages that no other gasoline at any price can match.

See your Skelly Dealer and make the big money-saving switch from "regular" to Skelly Keotane Gasoline. We believe it's the smartest gasoline buy you can make to get back the power you paid for when you bought your car.

revivals in the country. He has been pastor at the Knob Hill Church for a little more than a year, according to Rev. Joe Vernon, local pastor, and before moving to Oklahoma City was pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Casa Grande, Arizona, for seven years.

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
A heated argument has been under way in America since last June 25 over how far the Supreme Court meant to go in its school prayer decision.

Some people have insisted that the court did nothing more than rule out an official prayer composed by state officials. On the basis of this narrow interpretation many public schools — including those in the nation's capital — have continued to require daily classroom recitation of the Lord's Prayer, which comes from the New Testament.

Others have contended that the court left no room for any officially-sanctioned prayers or other religious exercises in tax-supported public schools. This broad view is reflected in a decision by the New York state commissioner of education that it would be improper for public school children to recite the fourth stanza of the Star Spangled Banner as a classroom prayer.

Noted constitutional lawyers, religious leaders and educators have lined up on both sides of the question. And all hands have had a field day blaming the press for the confusion.

The argument may soon be settled — in the only way it can be settled — by the court itself.

The court agreed this week to rule on its present term on two cases involving the constitutionality of public school religious exercises.

Case In Pennsylvania
One case originated in Pennsylvania, where a state law requiring daily Bible reading in public schools has been held unconstitutional by a federal court.

The other case comes from Maryland, where the highest state court upheld a Baltimore school board regulation requiring daily Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer.

The Supreme Court is thus confronted with exactly opposite findings by lower courts on how the First Amendment applies to religious exercises in public schools. It will hear oral arguments on the question and hand down its own decision before the present term ends next June.

The case which the court decided last June involved a unique situation. New York, where that case arose, is the only state in which officials have seen fit to compose an official prayer for public school use.

But the Pennsylvania and Maryland practices now before the court are very widespread in the United States.

Prof. Richard B. Dierenfield of MacAlester College, St. Paul, Minn., recently completed a survey of religious practices in 4,000 public school systems in all parts of the country. His findings are reported in a book, "Religion in American Public Schools," just published by Public Affairs Press.

Regional Variations
The survey indicates that Bible reading is a regular practice in about 42 per cent of America's public schools. There are wide regional variations: Bible reading is found in 77 per cent of the schools in the South, 67 per cent of those in the East, 18 per cent of those in the Midwest, and only 11 per cent of the schools in the West.

One third of the nation's public schools conduct daily "home-room devotional exercises" which usually include the recitation of the Lord's Prayer as well as Bible reading. In some instances, the exercises include short devotional talks and singing of hymns.

Again these practices are very common in schools of the South (60 per cent) and east (68 per cent) but quite rare in the Midwest (6 per cent) and West (2 per cent).

Trying to guess how the Supreme Court will rule in the pending cases is more-than-usually difficult. Two new justices have joined the court since the June 25 decision. And some of the seven justices who found the New York prayer unconstitutional may have based their finding solely on the point of state authorship.

Despite these elements of uncertainty, some observers feel that the probable ruling of the court is clearly foreshadowed, not only by the logic of the June 25 decision, but also by the consistent tenor of its rulings on the First Amendment in recent years. These rulings have emphasized that government must be strictly neutral in matters of religion.

Changing Decision Opinion
If the court bans Bible reading and the Lord's prayer in public schools, there doubtless will be quite a national reaction. But it might not be as explosive as the one which greeted last June's ruling.

During the past 3½ months, many Protestants who were initially shocked by the prayer ruling have concluded, on second thought, that the Supreme Court actually struck an important blow for religious freedom and church-state separation.

Some major Protestant bodies, including the Southern Baptist Convention and the Disciples of Christ, have specifically commended the court for the prayer ruling.

Although Catholics and Jews also have strong feelings on this subject, Protestants will experience the greatest impact if the court outlaws Bible reading and prayer in public schools. Catholics and Jews have not relied on public schools for religious education of their children. Protestants have — to a far greater extent than many of them realized until the prayer ruling woke them up.

Highland Baptist Church Sunday Services Told

Sunday School at the Highland Baptist Church begins at 9:45 and there is a class and department for every age group. The teachers in all adult departments will be teaching the lesson on "What is God Like?"

No words are adequate to describe the concept of God, but in the three scriptures are used to answer the question that is the name of the lesson.

For the 1 a.m. Worship Service, Rev. Allison has chosen to speak on the subject, "Conditions of Salvation Are Simple." The scripture will be read from Acts 20:17-21. Mrs. Robert Scott will sing "On A Rugged Hill."

During the Training Union Hour, which begins at 6:30 p.m., the subject "How Missionaries Are Selected," will be discussed. The aim of this lesson is to help members recognize their responsibility in the foreign mission program.

During the Evening Worship Service, Rev. Allison has chosen as his topic, "God Is Love." The scripture will be read from John 3:14-21.

Roy Harper, minister of music, will direct both the Adult and the Junior Choirs and the congregation in the song services. He will be assisted by Mrs. Don Tafford, Junior Choir director, and Mrs. H. E. Winegart, pianist.

Prayer Meeting, October 17, will be at 7:30 p.m. The pastor will speak on "Correct Teachings, Manner and Nature of the Resurrection."

First Baptist Church To Begin Its Eight-Day Revival Here On Sunday

The First Baptist Church of Pampa will begin an eight day revival Sunday.

In preparation for the revival, A. C. Wimpee, associate Secretary of the Brotherhood Department of Dallas, will be guest speaker Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock morning worship service.

Alec Hopper of Lake Charles, La., will direct the music for the revival and will arrive for the Sunday services. At the morning worship he will direct the church choir in singing a hymn arrangement of "Revive Us Again" by Eugene Clark. Hopper is a chalk talk artist and will draw a picture each evening and also sing a solo for each service. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "I Love to Tell the Story" by Fischer for the offertory.

At the 7:30 evening worship, Wimpee will show one of the latest Billy Graham films and Hopper will direct the church choir in singing a hymn arrangement of "Christ Arose" by Eugene Clark. "Softly and Tenderly Jesus Is Calling" is the offertory number. Miss Lane has chosen for the evening hour.

The Reverend John Robert Meadows, pastor of the University Baptist Church, Shawnee, Okla., will arrive Monday for the service at 7:30 p.m. and will conduct the service. Meadows is a well known speaker and has been invited to speak at many churches throughout the country.

More than 6,000 persons from nearly every Baptist church in Texas are expected to attend the three-day convention.

Principal speakers include Dr. Herschel H. Hobbs of Oklahoma City, president of the Southern Baptist Convention; Dr. Robert Hingson of Cleveland, Ohio, medical doctor who led a recent mass smallpox immunization project in Liberia; and Dr. Baker James Cauthen of Richmond, Va. executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

Negro spiritual soloist Ethel Waters will sing. It is the first time that a Negro has played a major role on the Baptist Convention program.

The convention will open Tuesday evening Oct. 30, with the president's message, to be delivered by convention president James H. Landes, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Wichita Falls. Landes is serving his last term as head of the 1.7 million-member Baptist Convention.

Dr. H. Leo Eddleman, president of the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, will speak three times on the convention program, including the keynote address on the meeting's theme, "God's Word for God's World."

The annual convention sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Vernon Elmore, pastor of Baptist Temple Church in San Antonio.

Pastor, First Free Will Baptist Church

1st Thessalonians 5:17 "Pray without ceasing"

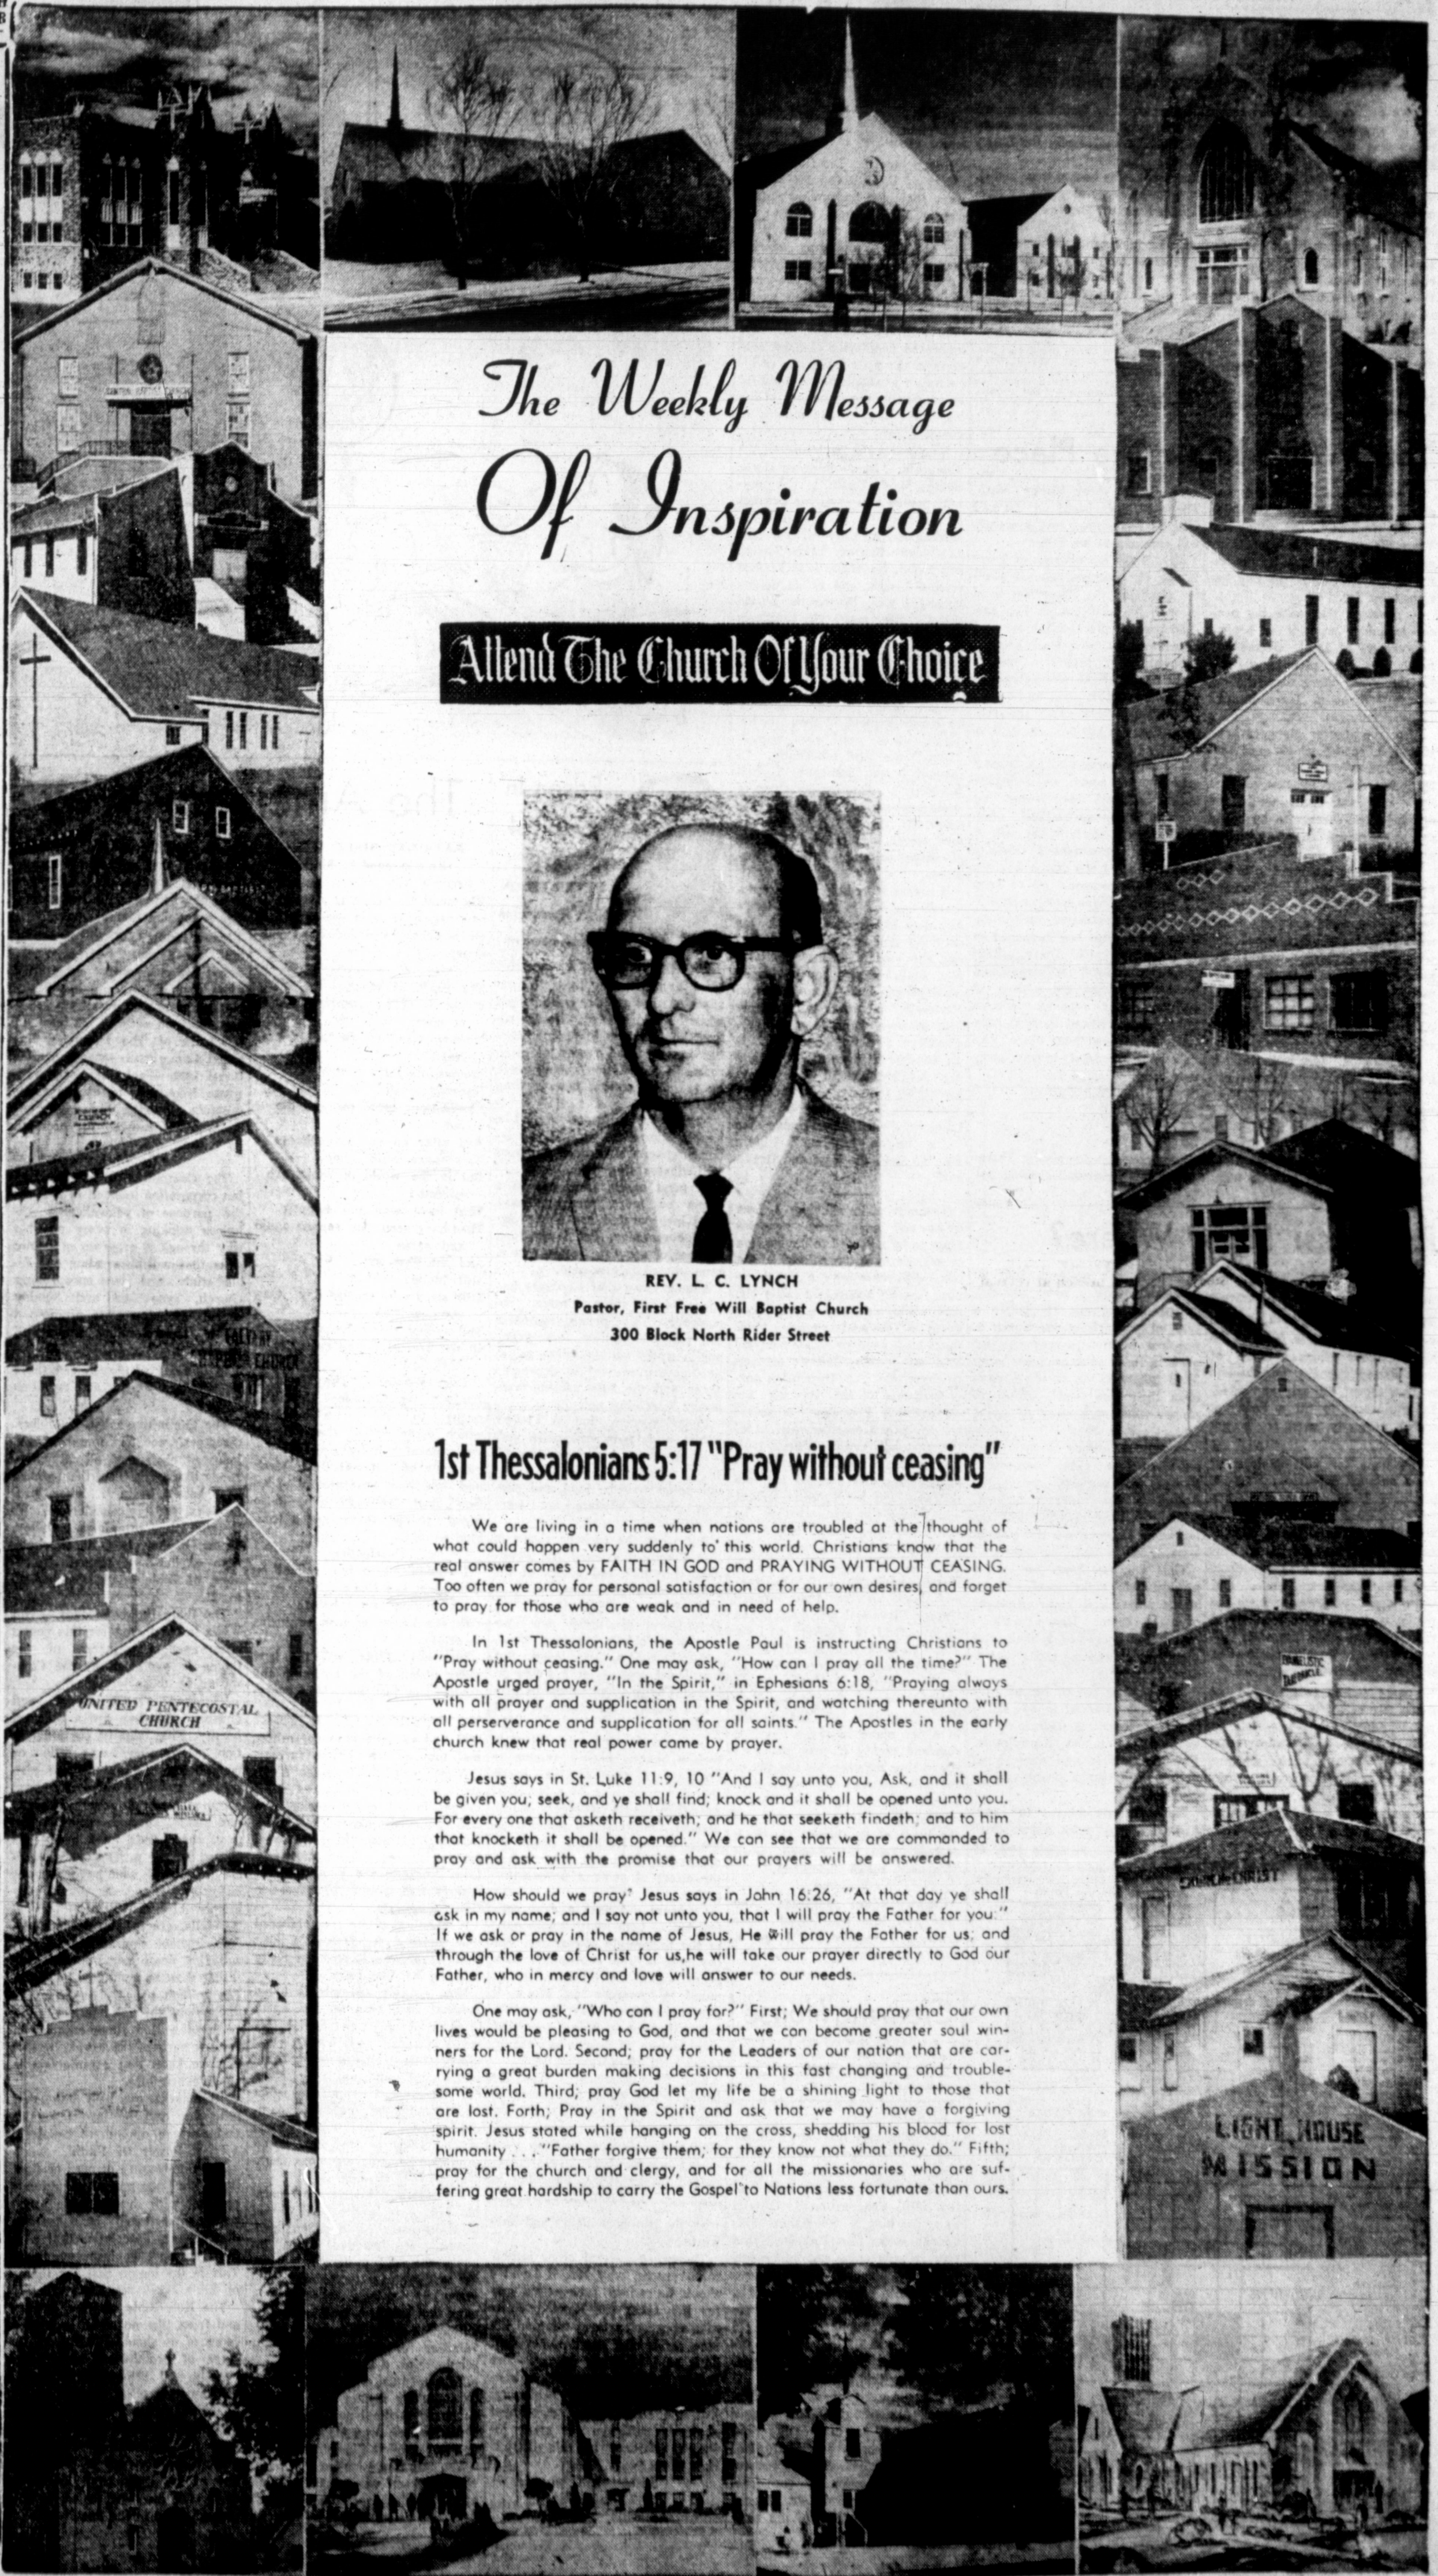

We are living in a time when nations are troubled at the thought of what could happen very suddenly to this world. Christians know that the real answer comes by FAITH IN GOD and PRAYING WITHOUT CEASING. Too often we pray for personal satisfaction or for our own desires, and forget to pray for those who are weak and in need of help.

In 1st Thessalonians, the Apostle Paul is instructing Christians to "Pray without ceasing." One may ask, "How can I pray all the time?" The Apostle urged prayer, "In the Spirit," in Ephesians 6:18, "Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints." The Apostles in the early church knew that real power came by prayer.

Jesus says in St. Luke 11:9, 10 "And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened." We can see that we are commanded to pray and ask with the promise that our prayers will be answered.

How should we pray? Jesus says in John 16:26, "At that day ye shall ask in my name; and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you." If we ask or pray in the name of Jesus, He will pray the Father for us; and through the love of Christ for us, he will take our prayer directly to God our Father, who in mercy and love will answer to our needs.

One may ask, "Who can I pray for?" First; We should pray that our own lives would be pleasing to God, and that we can become greater soul winners for the Lord. Second; pray for the Leaders of our nation that are carrying a great burden making decisions in this fast changing and troublesome world. Third; pray God let my life be a shining light to those that are lost. Forth; Pray in the Spirit and ask that we may have a forgiving spirit. Jesus stated while hanging on the cross, shedding his blood for lost humanity... "Father forgive them; for they know not what they do." Fifth; pray for the church and clergy, and for all the missionaries who are suffering great hardship to carry the Gospel to Nations less fortunate than ours.

ONLY A PAPER MOON—American astronauts aren't scheduled to land on the moon for a number of years, but they can beat the calendar in a realistic manned space flight simulator. Coupled to a room full of computers, the realistic device makes it possible for an astronaut to experience many aspects of lunar flight without leaving the ground. The moon's surface is a film image projected on the inside of a large sphere which surrounds the simulator. Projectors are mounted atop the man-carry gondola, center. Both gondola and moonscope move in proper relation to each other to give the illusion of motion near the moon's surface. Two cylindrical objects at sides are counterbalances for the mechanism, which was developed by Ling-Temco-Vought in Dallas, Tex.

PIGEONHOLED HUMMINGBIRDS—Robert C. Lasiewski, University of Michigan researcher, uses a syringe to feed a haul of hummingbirds he brought back from California. Wrapped in flannel "flight-jackets," the usually furiously active birds relax in the "pigeonholes" of their specially designed carrying case. It was necessary to feed them once an hour to keep them from starving during the 12-hour flight. Lasiewski is studying the physiology of the birds, world's smallest warm-blooded animals, who burn up energy at a rate equal to 10 times that of a running man.

Tito Has Always Said He Would Side With Soviets

A Communist, Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito always has made it clear that in case of a war between East and West, he would be on the side of the Soviet Union. But as a Yugoslav he also has insisted that Yugoslavia would attain the Communist Utopia by its own path, independent of Moscow. It was this bit of independence which induced the United States to extend to Tito over the years aid totaling around a billion dollars. It also led Congress in the most recent past to pass a bill to continue President Kennedy's discretionary powers to give him more aid in the form of food, medicine and clothing. As for the Kremlin, it expelled Tito from the Cominform in 1948 and he remained in the deep freeze until the Bulganin-Khrushchev visit to Belgrade in 1955. In that visit the Kremlin leaders apologized for past treatment and in a joint declaration with Tito said that every nation had the right to develop its own social system and its own form of socialism. Back into 'Freeze': Things seemed better for a while, but then came 1956 and Soviet intervention in the Hungarian revolt. Tito denounced the action as a "fatal error" and joined the United States in backing a resolution in the United Nations demanding immediate evacuation of Soviet troops from Hungary. Back he went into the Kremlin freezer. The situation remained until about a year ago when Khrushchev's quarrel with Beijing apparently led him to decide on a new effort to consolidate European Communist nations in an economic and political bloc. The result was last week's visit to Belgrade of Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev. Advance reports said one of Brezhnev's assignments would be to line up Yugoslav support for the Kremlin's announced plan to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. Trip a Failure: The final communique indicated failure, not only on this assignment but on others as well. It called for a German peace treaty but made no mention of a separate treaty with East Germany. The communique also called for an improvement in United Nations "activity" but made no mention of Khrushchev's three-headed troika plan to reorganize the office of secretary general. If Brezhnev's trip was designed as another apology to Tito, it does not seem to have been accepted too wholeheartedly.

matter of fact

WOMEN In The CHURCH
A new Methodist Church nurses' training school has been opened in West Germany. Twenty trainees are enrolled for the first year, six of whom are planning to become deaconesses, and fourteen of whom will work for a variety of charitable organizations.
Field workers for the United Nations report that they have frequently encountered in many parts of the world, strong tribal taboos against certain foods which, if used, could prevent diseases arising from malnutrition, especially among children. In some parts of Africa, for example, pregnant women are forbidden to touch poultry meat despite its plentitude. Some African men reject oranges, as unmanly food. And in one area, a husband may divorce his wife if she is found guilty of having eaten an egg.
Miss Helen Huntington Smith, of Cleveland, Ohio, has been elected executive of the Council for Lay Life and Work of the United Church of Christ. Miss Smith was born in Ing-tai, Fukien, a small town in the mountains of South China where her parents were American Board missionaries. They had gone from Norwichtown, Conn. in 1891.

Abilene State School Schedules Open House Observance Oct. 19th

The Abilene State School will hold Open House on Friday, October 19, according to an announcement by the Superintendent, Dr. Charles C. Cleland.

The school serves 115 counties of West Texas. It employs over 500 persons and has an annual operating budget of more than $2,430,000.

Eight new dormitories and a new central dining room will be open for inspection on October 19. Construction should start soon on an $850,000 hospital.

More than 4,000 letters of invitation have gone out to parents, state and county officials and other interested persons.

The Abilene State School has 42 dormitories for its residents, who range in age from six to 86 years.

The Abilene State School operates an academic school program within the institutional community.

Under an inter-agency agreement with the office of Vocational Rehabilitation, a Rehabilitation Counselor is assigned to work with students at the Abilene State School.

Religious activities of the school are supervised by a resident chaplain. More than 80 students from the three Abilene colleges, in addition to adults of the area, serve as teachers in the Protestant Sunday School.

Wall Street In Review

Rueben Rose & Co., Inc. points out that with all the important technical indications bearish, business news uninspiring, and the public apparently largely out of the market, a further severe drop would appear the logical course.

Spear and Staff, Inc. says that clients who wish to establish tax losses themselves may actually be better off withholding their orders until the end of the year when a good deal of the tax selling pressure will have slackened.

The improved market tone which developed during the latter part of last week may continue, says Bacic & Co. However, such improvement still has to prove itself by developing a greater market following.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSON UPI Foreign News Analyst

As President Charles de Gaulle has reshaped France to his own grand pattern, his chief weapon has been the overwhelming confidence in him shown by the French people.

On the other hand, French deputies who in a panicky moment in 1958 abdicated their powers to De Gaulle to save France from civil war, have grown increasingly restless under De Gaulle's open contempt both for Parliament and what he considers the petty games of party politics.

The result has been a series of referendums which permitted De Gaulle to by-pass Parliament and take his policies directly to the people.

In this way came the new Constitution establishing the French Fifth Republic and others by which the French people approved independence for Algeria.

Uncertain Outcome

On Oct. 28, French voters again will be called upon to ballot in a referendum. But this time with a difference. Even De Gaulle's staunchest supporters concede the outcome is by no means certain.

The issue will be De Gaulle's determination to take the election of a French president from the hands of some 50,000 privileged politicians and place it in the direct hands of the voters.

De Gaulle has made a personal issue of it, threatening to quit if the vote goes against him.

And for the first time, his combined opposition sees a chance for bringing him down.

They started it with a vote of censure which brought down the government of the De Gaulle-appointed Premier Georges Pompidou.

The motion accused De Gaulle of violating the Constitution and "opening a breach through which an adventurer might pass some day to overthrow the republic and suppress its liberties."

Remember Napoleon

Speaker after speaker reminded the French people that Louis Napoleon, nephew of Bonaparte, made himself emperor of France only two years after dissolving Parliament and obtaining approval for direct presidential elections.

For his part, De Gaulle made it clear he believed that only through a strong president backed by a direct mandate from the people could France continue to enjoy the stability it has had since 1958.

There was a great deal to what he said, for under De Gaulle and his new Constitution only two premiers have served—Pompidou and Michel Debre. The old Fourth Republic had 28 between 1944 and 1958.

Worrying De Gaulle supporters, however, is the knowledge that great national leaders not always are honored at the polls once an emergency has passed.

Past months have indicated a growing restlessness among French voters and opposition leaders now gangling up on De Gaulle are hoping to profit by it.

The Lighter Side Federal 'Money Saving' Instruments

By DICK WEST United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — I have often heard it said that it doesn't pay to do things better than your boss.

If this old axiom is still valid then I give Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman credit for being either very courageous or very foolish.

His department has just acquired a machine that can read 400 words a minute faster than President Kennedy.

The instrument, called the Farrington Page Reader, will be installed in the department's computer center in New Orleans where cotton loan records are maintained.

Officials said it will be able to read whole pages of records compiled under the price support program and store the information for later use.

Ability Widely Publicized Much has been written about President Kennedy's ability to read at the rate of 1,200 words a minute. Well, sir, this machine reads at the rate of 1,600 words a minute.

Freeman, whose own reading rate has never caused much comment one way or the other, took part in a demonstration of the machine Wednesday. If he had any qualms about electronically outdoing his leader, he didn't show it.

He indicated he was not so much impressed by the rate that the machine could read as by the rate that it could save money. He put the latter figure at $2 million a year.

There is a funny thing about this. During my time in Washington I must have heard at least 50 similar statements as some new money-saving instrument or plan was adopted by a federal agency.

What Happens To Savings? But during this same period I have never heard of a federal agency trimming its budget accordingly. It would be interesting to know what happens to all of the money that gets saved every year.

Perhaps the new machine will be able to clear this up for us. As a reader, the machine, despite its speed, is rather limited in one respect. It can read only one kind of type face, or font. The font, appropriately enough, is called "financial gothic."

President Kennedy can, of course, read all kinds of type and between the lines as well. Leaving his boss a superior rating in that regard may save Freeman's job.

It also seems appropriate that the machine is going to be used in connection with the cotton loan program. They need a fast reader there in case another Billie Sol Estes comes along.

Huge 'Cargomaster' Is Dunked In Tank During Plane Fatigue Tests

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—A huge C-133 Cargomaster has been dunked in a million-gallon water tank in the "most strenuous and comprehensive aircraft fatigue research ever attempted," Douglas Aircraft Co. disclosed today.

Douglas scientists said the Cargomaster had demonstrated its structural integrity by completing the equivalent of 30,000 hours of "flying time" while submerged in the large hydrostatic tank at the company's division here.

The C-133 was put into the huge water tank to localize damage from pressurization cycling. The wings, extending outside the tank through watertight sleeves, were weighted down with 200,000 pounds of lead.

Scientists forced extra water into the Cargomaster's fuselage to expand it, then withdrew the extra water so it could return to its natural shape. This simulated the stress such an aircraft undergoes when it takes off—flies to 30,000-40,000 feet, then returns to earth.

In spite of the extremely rugged punishment inflicted on the aircraft—the equivalent of about 25 years of C-133 use at the current rate of utilization by the Air Force military transport service—little damage was found in either the fuselage or wings.

Damage consisted only of minor skin cracks, all repairable in normal maintenance.

Starting July 1, 1961, the aircraft was subjected to virtually continuous flight stresses 24 hours a day, five days a week, for more than 14 months. Testing was interrupted only for periodic inspections and some repairs.

Under the original contract with the Air Force, the C-133 "took off" on a total of 12,000 flights under conditions simulating a cross section of those encountered by Cargomasters during military flights.

The Cargomaster still is submerged in the tank—and the Air Force is considering a proposal to continue the test for a total of 60,000 represented hours.
