Bond Issue Is Defeated Here By Close Vote

For the first time in the corporate history of the City of Pampa a bond issue has failed.

Property-owning voters in Wards One and Two turned out in sufficiently large numbers yesterday to defeat the issue by a total vote of 1,112 to 43 votes.

It was also the first time in the history of this community that those two wards had turned thumbs down on an improvement project bond issue.

On the other side of the fence, it was also a first for wards three and four. It was the first time those two wards have voted "For" a bond issue in the community's history.

All four wards voted heavily either "For" or "Against" the issue with wards three and four carrying for the issue, 367 to 126 and wards one and two defeating the issue by 284 votes, 1,029 to 745, providing the 43-vote margin for the opposition.

Here is the ward-by-ward breakdown of the vote:

| | For | Against |
|------------|-------|---------|
| Ward One | 379 | 375 |
| Ward Two | 366 | 434 |
| Ward Three | 162 | 56 |

Club Would Keep Cottage From Park

Pampa Garden Club representatives last night asked the City Commission not to grant a request of the Pampa Genealogical and Historical Society to place the Pioneer Cottage in the center of a park at Browning and Stark-weather Sts.

Mrs. Thelma Bray, chairman of the parks committee for the Garden Club, told commissioners the cottage will not fit in with beautification plans and asked that it be placed on another nearby site.

The Historical Society asked the Commission to place the cottage there because it was the original site of the structure.

"The Historical Society looks at it from the historical viewpoint," Mrs. Bray said, "and the Garden Club looks at it from the beautification standpoint."

The commission tabled the matter for further study with representatives of both groups.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Steel Corp. has cut its common quarterly dividend by one third apparently on the basis of third-quarter earnings which were the lowest for any non-strike period since the second quarter of 1946.

Investigation Looms About Radio Ads On Bond Issue

Rushing Russians Are Dismantling Missiles

By MERRIMAN SMITH

UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Russians are hurrying to carry out Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's promise to remove his weapons from Cuba, according to strong indications today reaching the U.S. government from a variety of sources.

There were clues from Havana, however, that Premier Fidel Castro was attempting to maintain a degree of face-saving autonomy in the matter of having United Nations observers on hand to verify the Russian pull-out.

Castro possibly could delay U.N. inspection arrangements, but by going ahead with their own removal plans, Soviet forces in Cuba would be following Khrushchev's orders.

Castro and Acting U.N. Secretary General U Thant conferred in Havana for more than two hours Tuesday. Another meeting was set for today, after which Thant was expected to fly back to New York. By late today there should be a clearer picture of Castro's intentions.

Dismantling Pads
Construction work on Cuban missile launching sites was believed to have stopped last Sunday when Khrushchev in a message to President Kennedy announced that he had ordered out of Cuba Soviet Arms which this country regarded as weapons of offense.

Later reports have reached Washington to the effect that previously completed launching pads for medium range (1,200 miles) ballistic missiles are being dismantled.

The next big step would be shipment of the missiles and bombers back to Russia. U.S. officials have heard indirectly that the Russians are talking of being able to start actual shipments out of Cuba this week. American experts regarded such estimates as being on the optimistic side and that more likely, the shipments

Only The Young Goblins To Be Out, Council Says

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Only young goblins will be allowed to make Halloween trick-or-treat visits to homes here tonight.

City Council placed an age limit on fright in an ordinance Tuesday which prohibits persons over 12 years of age from wearing masks or making trick-or-treat rounds.

The purpose of the statute is to reduce vandalism and give "Halloween back to the smaller children for whom it was intended," explained City Manager James Brown.

would not start, until sometime next week.

The U.S. naval blockade, and aerial surveillance of Cuba were suspended while U Thant conferred with Castro.

The blockade, however, would present no problem on shipments of missiles out of Cuba. Russian or Communist bloc ships are now in Cuban harbors in sufficient numbers to start the Soviet weap-

PCCA Slates Concert Tonight In Three Parts

"A Leonard Bernstein Gala," a three-part production featuring the composer's works for the opera, ballet and Broadway, will appear here at 8 o'clock tonight at the Pampa Jr. High auditorium. Admittance is by membership only in the Pampa Community Concert Association.

Special precautions will be made to protect the cars as tonight is Halloween. The Pampa Police Department will furnish patrol cars to watch the area.

According to Pampa Community Concert Association officials, tonight's performance will be one of the most elaborate shows of the season.

John Kriza, one of America's leading dancers, heads the American Ballet Theatre ensemble which will perform the Jerome Robbins ballet "Fancy Free" in "A Leonard Bernstein Gala."

"Fancy Free" is the second third of a three-part bill, which also includes the one-act satirical opera "Trouble in Tahiti" and a galaxy of the song and dance hits from Bernstein's Broadway musicals "West Side Story," "On the Town," "Peter Pan," "Wonderful Town" and "Candide."

A headliner with the American Ballet Theatre since his teens, Illinois-born Kriza made headlines last year when he performed the title role in "Billy the Kid" for President and Mrs. Kennedy in the East Room of the White House. The year previous during the Company's tour of the Soviet Union, Nikita Khrushchev congratulated him for his portrayal of Bluebeard. Among the thousands of compliments that have come his way for his performance as the sailor in "Fancy Free," a role he created, are those from Queen Elizabeth II and Princess Margaret.

Claire Alexander, a lovely young lyric coloratura soprano with a three-and-a-half octave vocal range and the face and figure of a Hollywood starlet, will be one of the stars in "A Leonard Bernstein Gala," which will

Could Extend Suspension
The arms quarantine of Cuba was lifted for 48 hours at Thant's request. This time period ends at dawn Thursday, but orders to extend the suspension could be issued with little advance notice.

During the day, the President and his chief advisers were expected to get through Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson at U.N. headquarters in New York a report on Thant's mission to Cuba.

Thant, Castro and their advisers met Tuesday "without reaching any agreement," according to an official Cuban announcement. Thant described the same meeting as "very useful."

The President and his National Security Council executive committee were to hold their edaily Cuban crisis review meeting at 10 a.m. EST, the same hour Castro and Thant were resuming their conference in Havana. Kennedy also scheduled a morning meeting with Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, Army chief of staff.

US Launches Winking Star Into An Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The United States today rocketed a "winking star" satellite into orbit to help missilemen and map makers cope with the problems of a pear-shaped world.

The 335-pound satellite, named "Anna," was blasted into space by a two-stage Thor-Able-star rocket launched at 3:08 a.m. EST today.

After normal separation of the booster, the second stage ignited on time and sent the moonlet whirling into orbit. The second stage was re-fired as scheduled minutes later in an effort to make the orbit as nearly circular as possible about 700 miles above earth.

The first serious experiments with the Anna satellite are expected to come in about four days, after scientists have had a chance to firmly establish just what sort of orbit it is in.

Anna is a ball-shaped assortment of radio transmitters and light beacons brighter than the beams from most lighthouses. It is a strange sort of satellite in a strange sort of program.

The shot was planned as part of a $12 million geodetic program whose goal is to find out literally what shape earth is in.

From it may come all sorts of practical benefits, including aid to missilemen in drawing a better bead on their targets and geographers in the charting of the most accurate maps ever devised.

City Officials Believe Facts Not Presented

An investigation into last-minute tactics used in radio advertising by opponents in yesterday's city bond issue election loomed today following charges made at last night's meeting of the Pampa City Commission.

These included a charge by Mayor E. C. Sidwell that "certain individuals within the last 24 hours had broadcast statements purportedly made by high officials of the State Highway Department" which indicated that members of the City Commission had not represented the true facts pertaining to the city's highway program.

The matter was brought up by the mayor after other city business had both cleared and an announcement was made that the bond issue had been defeated by 43 votes.

"If I said I wasn't disappointed at the result of the election, I wouldn't be telling the truth," Mayor Sidwell said. "We tried to play the game fair. It is regrettable that last-minute attacks on the radio contained statements which did not represent the facts."

The mayor read the commercial which was aired on Radio Station KPDM. It stated:

"As an informed citizen of Pampa you are urged to vote no in today's bond election. A high ranking official of the State Highway Department informed a group of Pampa citizens that Highway 50 will not be-pass Pampa without express consent of City and County officials. We are not in a panic situation where we have to act at once as we have been led to believe by local sources. There is still sufficient time to remedy highway drainage and parking problems. Do not vote for tax increases without knowing all the facts. We urge you to inform yourself and vote no in today's election."

The commercial was carried on KPDM at regular intervals the night before election day and on election day.

Miss Sue Ramey, secretary at KPDM, told The News today that the commercial was brought to her desk by a man who gave her his name. She said she did not know the man.

The man, when contacted by The News yesterday, said he did not place the commercial, and all he knew about it was that he had heard it on the air.

John Callarman, speaking for KPDM today, said the station accepted the disputed commercial because it would have been in jeopardy with the FCC if it had not done so.

"A station is required to give time to both sides," Callarman said, "and likewise it does not have any control over the content of a commercial."

Here is the statement of Mayor Sidwell in which he called for an investigation of the statements in the radio broadcasts opposing the bond issue and recommended that all avenues be explored for authenticity:

"This Commission certainly has no objection to voters being for or against the issue. Every voter has the right to vote his own convictions. This Commission has had the policy to deliberate and debate publicly and this had been the policy in today's bond election."

"It is regrettable certain individuals have within the last 24 hours broadcast statements purportedly made by high officials of the State Highway Department. These statements indicate that this Commission has not represented the true facts pertaining to our highway program. The highway department officials have orally stated and stated in writing their requirements for our improvement program.

"This, we have attempted to convey to the public and have repeatedly asked the public for their consideration. The open Forum or Town Hall meeting was held for that purpose.

"It would be my suggestion and recommendation that we, as a Commission, make a thorough investigation of the statements in the broadcasts opposing the issue, and that all avenues be explored for authenticity. We have had a

Phone Call 'Shakes Up' Photographer

Irj. Smith, owner of Smith's Studio, was a bit shook up for awhile over a telephone call he received this morning.

Smith said he was called on the phone and given a "good dressing down" by a woman who said she was upset by the radio commercial he put on the radio in opposition to yesterday's bond issue election.

"She said it wasn't true," Smith stated, "and then told me she would never trade with me again or spend another dime with me. She also said that she had a lot of kinfolks here and that she would see to it that none of them ever spent any money with me."

The manager of the photographic studio said that before he could explain to her that she had the wrong number, the woman hung up the receiver.

"It had me on the floor for a few minutes," Smith said, "but after I got to thinking about it, I began to see the humorous side."

Civil Defense Coordinator For Pampa Asked

William Leonard, Gray County Civil Defense Director, recommended in a letter read to the City Commission meeting last night that a City Civil Defense Coordinator be appointed for the city of Pampa, as has been done at LeFors and McLean.

The purpose of a civil defense coordinator, according to Leonard, would be to create closer coordination of Civil Defense in this area.

Leonard also recommended in his letter that a meeting be called in the future with the building owners or representatives for the purpose of public shelter planning.

Attached to the letter was a report on public fallout shelters in Pampa. A shelter is rated 1-4 according to its protective factor. Only a rating of four is considered safe and can be marked, stocked, and used providing a license form has been obtained from the building owner.

In Pampa there are five public shelters with a protective factor of four available which are not stocked or marked, but which Civil Defense has licenses forms for and these buildings have a present capacity of 1,007 maximum for a temporary period.

Out of a total of 30 buildings surveyed in Pampa, according to the report, eight have the proper protective factor and of these eight, Civil Defense has license forms for four. The total present shelter potential, based on shelter license approval, proper shielding, proper ventilation, stocked and marked, would be a capacity of 6,511 people at a cost of approximately $100,000.

The report pointed out that there are no Federal funds available for shelter improvement.

Leonard's office has on file survey summaries and engineering data concerning the public type shelters which are available.

Witness Tells Story Of Estes Tank Deal

TYLER, Tex. (UPI) — Pecos, Tex., farmer T. J. Wilson testified today the only document signed the day he agreed to a fertilizer equipment mortgage deal with Billie Sol Estes was a $7,500 check Estes gave him to close the transaction.

Estes, 37, bankrupt former boy wonder of West Texas agriculture and financial circles, is on trial on charges that he swindled Wilson and stole from him in the complicated mortgage deal.

Wilson told a jury of 11 men and one woman that Estes gave him a check drawn on the Farmers Co. of Pecos as payment for agreeing to buy 75 fertilizer tanks on time, then leasing the tanks to Estes. The mortgage for the tanks was signed later, he said.

Dist. Judge Otis T. Dunagan is presiding at the trial.

Said Copy Different

Tuesday, Wilson testified the copy of the disputed mortgage in the records of the CIT Corp., was not the same copy he signed originally and on which the state based its indictment.

He said the CIT copy bore a signature that "does not look like my signature at all."

The defense objected to the state's getting the CIT copy into evidence on grounds the state cannot allege one mortgage and introduce a different copy as proof of its allegation of fraud.

But the state contends the two copies are part of the same fraudulent misrepresentation Estes is alleged to have made to induce Wilson to get into the mortgage agreement.

The state's rejoinder prompted the day's most heated exchange.

Cofer Angered

"These young attorneys who are practicing law as the prosecution are practicing law in a most dangerous way," Austin lawyer John Cofer, Estes' chief defense lawyer, declared. His voice rose in anger.

Special Asst. Atty. Gen. Frank Maloney of Austin admitted the mortgage copies are different, but said the differences are part of the state's case against Estes. State's attorneys, however, appeared surprised Wilson's signature apparently had been changed in one copy.

Tax Advisory Board Action Is Scheduled

The Pampa City Commission will act next week on a request from City Tax Assessor - Collector Aubrey Jones to name a Tax Advisory Board for 1953.

The Tax Advisory Board, an unofficial group, is made up of five members whose purpose is to study the city's overall tax administration and make recommendations to the official Board of Equalization.

In his request to the City Commission, Jones stated:

"I would like to point out and impress upon all concerned that the system of a combination Advisory Board and Board of Equalization is effective only if the official Board of Equalization is selected from the Advisory Board.

New members should be added to the Advisory Board when desired and not to the Board of Equalization."

The equalization board consists of three members.

The 1952 Advisory Board was made up of Edwin E. Simmons, Billy B. Davis, Bob C. Williams, J. C. McWilliams and William S. Dixon.

The official Board of Equalization for this year consisted of E. J. Lewis Jr., Edwin E. Simmons and Billy B. Davis.

"These six men served well so far as I am concerned and probably would form a good Advisory Board with one or two appointees," Jones stated.

City Manager Harold Schmitzer was asked to get a list of the suggested names for Advisory Board members and submit them to the commission for consideration next week.

Nehru Junks Menon

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru ousted V. K. Krishna Menon as defense minister today and took over the post himself.

Krishna Menon was named minister of defense production in the shakeup which becomes effective Thursday.

The change, which had been anticipated, came as fighting simmered down to two exchanges of artillery and small arms fire in the last 24 hours for the quietest day since the border shooting intensified 11 days ago.

Krishna Menon, who will remain a member of the cabinet in his new job, has been blamed for much of the ineffectiveness of the Indian army in resisting the advances of the Communist Chinese invaders.

Critics charged that Krishna Menon had not made adequate plans for defense and had not equipped the army with modern automatic arms since he became defense minister 5½ years ago.

One clash was limited to artillery fire around the town of Jang, and the other took place between the same troops who have been fighting around Walong for at least the past five days.

Both places are in the northeast border region. The situation was quiet in the northwest.

The spokesman said there had been only a "few" casualties since it was revealed Monday that India suffered 2,000 to 2,500 killed or missing in the first 10 days of major fighting with the Red Chinese invaders.

Aid From Russia
The spokesman also said that military equipment from Russia had been coming on schedule, saying that some had been received after Sept. 8 when the Red Chinese first began their operations in the NEFA.

The spokesman declined to answer a direct question as to whether India had ordered 21 MIG jet fighters from Russia and whether they were being sent.

The United States and Britain have responded to New Delhi's pleas and are rushing arms shipments to help put Indian soldiers on a more equal footing with the automatic weapons-equipped Chinese.

Meanwhile, India's Communist party went into emergency session to consider the embarrassing prospect of supporting the country's defense effort against Red China in defiance of Moscow and Peiping.

The issue has confused and divided the party on a national scale here. Two local Communist (See NEHRU, Page 2)

Prisoner To Be Taken To Kansas On Theft Count

Sheriff's officers from Graham County, Kansas, were due in Pampa today to return Kenneth I. Swaney, of Hill City, Kans., to Hill City on a warrant for auto theft.

Swaney was arrested by Pampa police on an intoxication charge and when fined $15 in Corporation Court yesterday he asked police to take him to the home of friends where he said he could borrow the money for the fine.

Police said when they arrived at the house they were told Swaney, who had given the name of Charles Harlow, was not Harlow, but Swaney, and that he was wanted by Kansas authorities.

Pampa police immediately called the sheriff's office in Hill City and learned that Swaney was wanted there on the auto theft charge.

John O'Neill Faces Jury For Murder

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Detectives planned to return John J. O'Neill, 42, to Pittsburgh, Pa., today for a murder trial which the commercial photographer said would bring out the full story of the woman whose body he stored away in a sealed warehouse box eight years ago.

O'Neill signed a waiver of extradition Tuesday when Pittsburgh authorities arrived with a murder warrant and told part, but not all, of a weird story. The rest, he said, would come out at his trial.

"I think I have a good case," O'Neill said. "I am indirectly not responsible for her death."

He disclosed that the woman had died in 1954, although the body was not placed in the warehouse until 1957. He said that for three years he kept it in his room, sealed in cardboard and metal boxes.

Then he stored the box in a Pittsburgh warehouse, paying a $1 fee, where it was discovered during an inventory last Saturday.

O'Neill identified the dead woman as Mrs. Pearl Kercher of Mount Lebanon, Pa., a Pittsburgh suburb. A woman's pajamas found in the box were marked "P. Kucher."

He said he met her in a bar on New Year's Eve, 1953, but did not want that published because "it doesn't sound nice." He said she was a divorcee and an alcoholic and that he had dated her for four months before "it" happened.

He was arrested here last Aug. 13 for pointing a gun at a woman. The FBI matched his fingerprints to those found on the case in which the body was stored.

When asked if his grisly secret had bothered him any for the past eight years, O'Neill said, "everyone has a conscience."

parties already have announced support of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's government.

One, in the Bareilly district of Nehru's home state of Uttar Pradesh, "shamelessly started an undeclared war on India."

Officials made the first move to tighten up internal security today. Bombay police served notice on the city's 2,000 Chinese residents that they must not stay away from their homes more than 24 hours.

Penalties for violations of the order range up to five years imprisonment at hard labor.

The attack on India's northern borders has been almost universally condemned in this giant Asian nation which has depicted itself as a foremost disciple of world peace.

Attack Uniting Nation

As one important Indian told a Western reporter: "The Chinese have done the impossible. They're the first to really unite the country."

The nation Tuesday received its first heartening battle reports since Peiping's troops smashed across the northeastern and northwestern borders earlier this month.

Gen. P. N. Thapar, chief of staff of the army, said the Communist troops had been stopped on all fronts. A Defense Ministry spokesman said Indian troops in the Northeast Frontier Agency had begun a limited counter-offensive.

UPI correspondent Pat Mohan reported from the northern Indian town of Tezpur that heavy snow has been falling in the last two days in the Towang battle area and this apparently has cut down the actual fighting in the main zone of conflict.

Nehru's government seemed to be mobilizing for a long, drawn out battle, possibly lasting for years.

Help On Way

Newspapers — throughout the country were carrying reports on the governments appeal for voluntary financial support from Indian citizens.

India is finding more help from overseas, too. A popular fund raising campaign started in England has raised $2,800 and one in Kenya is up to $15,000.

British military hardware has started arriving. American weapons are due this week and India is negotiating for similar help from France and other countries concerned about the spread of international communism.

Mayor, City Attorney In Fort Worth

Mayor E. C. Sidwell and City Atty. Bob Gordon were in Fort Worth today with officials of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. to discuss with the Railroad Commission the gas utility firm's request for a gate-rate gas charge for Pampa.

Pampa is one of 57 towns and cities included in Pioneer's petition to the Railroad Commission for a gate rate charge of 25 1/2 cents.

Pampa appeared at the first hearing on the matter Oct. 1 in Austin and protested the application for the gate rate.

Gordon at that hearing asked for severance from the application, stating that Pampa is located in gas field, and that the gathering system and transmission lines serving the city were installed principally to deliver gas to Pampa only and not as a unit on a trunk line to serve other municipalities.

Gordon maintained that facts pertinent to Pampa are far different from those of other cities in the application.

City officials and gas company officials hoped to reach some sort of compromise at the hearing before the gas utilities division of the Railroad Commission today.

number of conferences with the highway officials and our relationship and cooperation received from them has been excellent. We can not believe the State Highway Department has a double set of standards, one for us, the duly elected officials, and one for a certain group."

City Commissioner L. P. Fort said he was in agreement with the mayor's recommendation.

"It seems dangerous to use a public news media to go far afield from the facts. The State Highway Department has stated that it did not make the statement made on the radio and that it did not talk to any group of Pampa citizens. I think it should be cleared up."

Chill Smith, district highway engineer at Amarillo, and G. K. Reading, resident highway engineer in Pampa both stated they had not talked to any group of Pampa citizens about the bond election.

Mayor Sidwell said:

"The highway department has been put in a bad light and since we have maintained the best of relations with the highway department I think we owe it to them to have this matter cleared up."

Commissioner Fort said if the highway department had made the statement to the group as stated in the radio commercial then the commission would have no quarrel with the man who placed it.

"But if the highway department didn't make the statement to the group of Pampa citizens, then this man who placed the commercial on the radio should be called on an accountant," Fort added.

Gene Lewis, S. Cuyler St. businessman, arose in the audience to tell the commission:

"The city commission did not lose the election. The citizens of Pampa lost the election, and they lost it unfairly and unjustly."

City Commissioner Will Graham said he thought the failure of the bond issue to pass was something that the city will regret for years.

Graham also stated he was not sure that it was up to the city commission to investigate.

"There is no city ordinance against lying," Graham said, "and if the State Highway Department was libeled then it is a matter for the State to investigate."

At this point, Mayor Sidwell said:

"It is my opinion that there will be liability on the part of some of the participants."

The commissioners took no immediate action on the mayor's recommendation for an investigation.

It was decided to table the matter for a few days until an official canvass of the election is made by the commission.

It was indicated that the votes would be checked against tax rolls and that other checks would be made on the bond issue election because of the narrow margin of defeat.

Commissioner Fort made a motion to hold another election on the issue. Two weeks must pass before another election could be held.

"I think when the people find out what was done," Fort said, "they will see through it and the bond issue will carry."

Mayor Sidwell asked Fort to withdraw the motion.

Fort said he would just let the motion die for a lack of a second.

"I will make the same motion next week," he said.

GRAVEYARD OF MONSTERS—Big Bone Lick state park in northern Kentucky is yielding to archeologists the remains of countless primeval animals trapped and preserved in a great natural gasmine formed by vast mineral springs. Mastodon, mammoth, gigantic three-toed sloth, Arctic elephants and the Bison Antiquus—all are being uncovered. Typical digging site is illustrated. The deeper scientists dig, the older the form of animal—a vertical timetable of extinct animal life. Kentucky is erecting a museum in the park to house bones, fossils and artifacts unearthed.

Walter Rogers Reports

Rules Committee

From past experience, it is safe to assume that one of the first tests facing the new Congress will be the age-old battle to change the membership of the Rules Committee. Some of the veteran lawmakers who knew of my fight against the change were already enlisting my support before I came home.

Nearly everyone will recall the controversy in 1961 over the proposed increase in the membership of this important committee; a battle that caused a delay of several weeks before the Congress could commence its business. When the smoke had cleared, there were three additional members on the Rules Committee.

The Resolution which was adopted applied only to the 87th Congress, however, and unless the new 88th Congress takes action to continue the increased membership, the Rules Committee will revert to its original composition of 12 members. Although the additional membership did not accomplish all its advocates had counseled on, it is expected that a determined effort will be made to convince the 88th Congress that its Rules Committee should have 15 members, and the controversy could very well reach the same proportions as before. Hence, I thought it would be of interest to again discuss the subject in a newsletter.

The House of Representatives operates through committees. The bills introduced in the Congress by the Members on different subject matters are assigned by the Speaker to the respective committee having jurisdiction of that subject matter. These bills are considered by that committee, and, if approved, are referred to the House of Representatives with the recommendation that the bill become law. However, instead of going directly to the House of Representatives, these bills must first pass through the Rules Committee and obtain approval by that Committee for hearing before the House of Representatives.

In other words, most bills are not considered by the House unless they pass through the Rules Committee. Prior to the 87th Congress, the Rules Committee consisted of 22 members—8 Democrats and 14 Republicans. If all Members were present and voting, a bill, in order to receive approval to be debated before the House, had to receive at least 7 votes for it and 6 against it, the motion to report the bill failed. During recent years on several highly controversial measures, the division in the Rules Committee had been a tie of 6 and 6.

This meant that the highly controversial legislation could not receive a rule to be debated before the House. This is what caused the big hue and cry to change the Rules Committee or the Rules of the House. It was the cause of the caustic and bitter criticism that was directed against Congressman Howard Smith of Virginia and Congressman William Colmer of Mississippi—unfair and unjust criticism, in my opinion, but nevertheless, criticism that formed the basis of the battle against the Rules Committee.

In the opinion of the writer the Rules Committee, as previously constituted (i.e. 12 members), is necessary for the proper dispatch of the business of the House of Representatives. It could not and did not thwart the majority rule of the House. There are 4 ways of bringing a bill before the House of Representatives.

The first is through the Rules Committee; the second is by a suspension of the rules which requires a 2-3 majority; the 3rd is by a discharge petition which, if signed by a majority of the House of Representatives, will discharge the Committee in which the bill is pending and make the bill a privileged matter before the House; the 4th method would be by following the usual procedures under the rules of the House on Calendar Wednesday.

The United States is a great country, but a large country with many varied and diversified interests. The National Congress is supposed to be representative of all of those several interests. It is supposed to pass laws that are fair and just to all of the people. Just as there must be laws for all of the people to live by in fairness and justice to each other, the lawmaking body itself must have rules and regulations in order to properly conduct its business. That is the primary reason for the Committee on Rules in the first place, its jurisdiction including "(a) the rules, joint rules and order of business of the House. . ."

Good government requires a sharp division of opinion, sound presentation and expression of all facets of the problem or issue involved and a thorough screening of the proposed final result. This is the process that has made this country great, that has made it strong and will keep it strong. Any policy or process of permitting a simple majority to shove through any and all kinds of laws on emotional dictates or other pressures would soon result in the destruction of any government.

There is no doubt that the Rules Committee has on occasion created frustration in the minds of those who would like to see their pet bill or project sail through unopposed. But it must be remembered that the sharp division of the Rules Committee constitutes an excellent safeguard against impractical or inadvisable successes by advocates of any extreme philosophy.

It assures consideration for the will of the minority, whichever party that might be. The secret of good government is the balance that is struck in the final product of law after full, complete and exhaustive consideration and debate of the issues and problems involved. Some call it compromise; others call it the area of agreement between the many sides represented.

But to me it is the balance that insures the justice guaranteed under our Constitution to all individuals. The Rules Committee in the House of Representatives as constituted prior to the 87th Congress is, in my opinion, the balance wheel that can preserve the good health of our government.

What Happens When Power Is Given To Mere Mortals

Advocates of a bigger and better UN have recently been set back by a disclosure of possible corruption of unprecedented magnitude within the world body.

The Richmond (Va.) News Leader reports that Congressman Donald Bruce uncovered the story after months of painstaking work. Strangely, the wire services and metropolitan press have said very little about it.

According to the News Leader: "There is now reason to believe that no fewer than six high U.S. and UN officials, all of them involved in some phase of the Congo operation, have been directly or indirectly connected with a Swedish-American syndicate engaged in African mining. There is reason to believe that this syndicate would profit enormously by the neutralization, or control, of the vast copper mines operated by Union Miniere in Katanga."

The article goes on in great detail to relate the various connections involved. These connections explain why the UN has so ruthlessly attempted to destroy the independent government of Katanga. With Union Miniere under central Congolese control (which means UN control), the Swedish-American syndicate would profit greatly — hence the UN Katanga policy works to the personal advantage of the UN and U.S. leaders involved.

For full details, write to your Congressman and ask him for a copy of The Congressional Record for September 12, 1962. Rep. Bruce's speech is on page 18137. It is a well-documented, but restrained, indictment.

Obviously, a full Congressional investigation is called for. But our aim shouldn't be to prove which individuals have dirty hands — although they should definitely be identified and removed. But this experience should prove to us once and for all what happens when too much power is placed in the hands of mere mortal men.

We have given our government far too much power to the UN — with no questions asked. When you give this much power to world leaders, it is almost inevitable that the power will be abused.

Lord Acton said: "Power corrupts absolutely." As long as we hand such power to government on a silver platter, and relinquish our own responsibilities, corrupts, and absolute power corruption will follow. In this case, it has brought on unprecedented atrocities and suffering in Katanga. The next case could be here at home.

It is time that the United States withdrew from the UN and stood on its own two feet. It is time, in turn, that the people of the United States withdraw a great deal of the power they have delegated to (or allowed to be usurped by) their own leaders.

If Thomas Jefferson were alive today, he would not put his faith in the good intentions of Dag Hammarskjold or U Thant, or even the President of the United States. It was Jefferson who said: "In questions of power then let no more be heard of confidence in man, but let us bind him down from mischief by the chains of the Constitution."

No More Time To Lose

In the wake of President Kennedy's much belated declaration of embargo on the flow of Red arms and troops into Cuba, a torrent of oratory — impressive even by loquacious UN standards — has been issuing from that bizarre Manhattan East River.

The invective of Khrushchev's man, Valerian Zorin, has been superb. And the so-called "ambassador" from the Kremlin's newest satellite, Cuba, has amply proved the adaptability of Spanish to Communist dialectics. We are, it seems, violating the UN Charter. Much was also said by both on America's hatred of Cuba, but we recall no mention of our lack of love for the Soviets.

It was against this background that UN Secretary General U Thant issued his plea for a two-week postponement of US quarantine action which had become effective that morning (24th), and a similar holiday by Russia in missile shipments.

That Khrushchev accepted the proposal with alacrity should have been no surprise since the Russians traditionally seek advantage with no intention of keeping any promises. Accordingly, President Kennedy's courteous acknowledgment of the Secretary General's solicitude, and his reservation in the matter of Russian observation of any pledge, were all that could be expected. Nor does the presence of those Russian missiles and "technicians" in Cuba (which Zorin denies) admit of delay.

Fortunately, the weird State Department plan to disband our armed forces and dismantle our defense system, to turn our troops and weapons over to the UN "Peace Force" — as described in Department of State Publication 7277 and formally submitted to the UN General Assembly — has never been acted upon!

Thus, the Constitution of the United States still takes precedence in this country over the Charter of the United Nations. The first duty of the President, which he is seeking to fulfill, is still to the people of the United States and the security of this nation.

OUR ANCESTORS by Quincy

"It sure is pretty. I wonder if the stuff you scraped from inside it is any good to eat?"

Down South

By THURMAN SENSING
Nashville, Tenn.

With so many external enemies pressing hard on the flanks of the United States, it is a tragedy that this republic should be plagued by grave internal discord. And with totalitarianism spreading across the globe, it is equally tragic that what may be described as totalitarian democracy is gaining ground inside the gates of this proud republic.

Troops have settled in for a long siege in Mississippi. And while the situation can and must probably will change from day to day, there apparently is no realization inside the Kennedy administration of the dangers posed to this country and its well-being by the continued use of armed forces to achieve respect for governmental decision.

It is an American principle that our system is one based on the consent of the people. But, clearly, this consent is not being given by the people of Mississippi, who are being forced into social relationships that violate their deepest personal convictions.

What is to be done in the present situation? It should be recognized that the Kennedy administration is in the spot it is because of the onrush of radical sentiment in this country over a long period of years. Both politicians and university professors have insisted that the American republic should be under centralized direction. What was in outrageous political speeches and silly books even a decade ago, today is policy under the New Frontier. But, put into practice, the liberal-leftist doctrines of big government — carried to their extreme in Mississippi — threatens the peace of the nation. Who can say, for instance, that further disturbances will not result if the Kennedy administration insists on more provocative action in that state?

The reasonable mass of the nation's citizenry — the vital center of its political consensus — surely realizes that there must be a breathing spell. Those who so rashly committed the country to a policy of force and to immediate overrule of a state's judgment must make concessions dictated by common sense and a desire for the public safety. This is the only way in which wounds can be healed and the country can progress in good order.

The Kennedy administration, having shoved aside Mississippi's sovereignty, will be reluctant to act with any degree of moderation. Certainly, it will seek to make political use of its intervention in the elections in the Northern states where Negro voting blocs are important.

But those citizens in the North and West who have no political axe to grind, who only wish to promote, as the Constitution said, "the general welfare" and increase domestic tranquility, have an obligation to their country to call for a cooling off period on the part of the federal government.

The pressure must be taken off Mississippi and other Southern states. Their citizens must be given a breathing spell from the threats unleashed by the Kennedy administration. And in that breathing spell, the country must begin to soberly reassess what is afoot in the whole program of forcing integration against the rocklike convictions of millions of Americans.

This effort at forced integration is an experiment that imperils not merely the safety of one community or one state. It imperils the safety and the national unity of this country. The United States cannot afford, at this juncture of history, to have armed forces deployed against its own citizens rather than at its enemies abroad.

How much the people of Mississippi would rejoice if the troops, now quartered in and around Oxford, were used to destroy the communist menace represented by Russia's Cuban satellite! There would be an act that would achieve national unity, but the administration is still intent upon using force to create distunity rather than unity.

The voice of the people — the American people in all the states — must be raised to cut short the dangerous and unconstitutional experiment with force now under way in Mississippi.

Girls, you may as well know that here in America married women, as a rule, live longer than those not-in the wedded state. The death rate for spinsters (sometimes called "old maids") is one-fourth higher than that for wives, and the mortality rate for widows and divorcees is even higher — half again as high as for wives.

2. For some time now, 65 years has been regarded as the appropriate age at which a man should retire. But it's quite a surprise to learn that it was Bismarck, Germany's Iron Chancellor of the 19th century, who first arbitrarily established 65 as the retirement age. Bismarck however, was one of those men who believe in "Do as I say, not as I do," for he himself didn't retire until he was 75 — and only then because he had a violent disagreement with Kaiser Wilhelm II.

Allen-Scott Report

WASHINGTON — At almost the same hour that President Kennedy was ordering the quarantine of Cuba, his ambassador in Moscow was bombarding the State Department with urgent pleas not to crack down on any more Soviet spies.

Ambassador Foy Kohler clamorously requested this in a personal message to Secretary Dean Rusk after the Kremlin ordered two high-ranking U.S. embassy officials expelled on phony spy charges.

Kohler contended that these expulsions, in reprisal for the ousting of two Soviet UN employees caught spying, were making it extremely difficult for his staff to function.

Kohler, who only recently took over the sensitive Moscow post, revealed that the Soviet foreign office was deliberately delaying the approval of much-needed replacements for Kermit S. Midtum, First Secretary, and Commander Raymond D. Smith, assistant naval attaché, who had been unjustly accused of espionage.

Also, that the Soviet secret police had tightened surveillance of other embassy officials, including Kohler himself, and that it was extremely difficult to function without Russian authorities having full details of embassy activities.

The astonishing Kohler request was laid before President Kennedy with Secretary Rusk's recommendation that a temporary moratorium be put into effect on further Soviet spy arrests.

The President is taking no immediate action on this proposal. White House insiders indicate the President will make that decision when the arrest of another Red spy is imminent.

Meanwhile, copies of Kohler's message and the State Department recommendation have been turned over to Attorney General Robert Kennedy and FBI director J. Edgar Hoover for their comments. These are expected to determine the President's action.

Allen-Scott Report

WASHINGTON — At almost the same hour that President Kennedy was ordering the quarantine of Cuba, his ambassador in Moscow was bombarding the State Department with urgent pleas not to crack down on any more Soviet spies.

While the Russian and East German operators of the jamming equipment have not yet tried to zero in on any planes, they have been testing the device by sending signals toward flying drones over an unpopulated area of East Berlin. The results have been nothing less than startling — complete destruction of the drones after having their guidance systems knocked out by the jamming.

Already, there are hints that the Communists may be preparing to use the device against Allied aircraft. The Soviet-puppet East German regime has sent a note to the State Department, through the Russian embassy in Washington, stating that the West Berlin airfield is unsafe and Western air traffic should henceforth be channeled through East German airfields.

As evidence, the East Berlin message points out that the airfield is dangerous because it is surrounded by tall buildings.

Significantly, the note makes no mention of their jamming device installed atop one of these buildings, less than five miles from the Templehof field.

In addition, the Soviets and East Germans are installing the ECE devices along the three air corridors linking West Berlin to West Germany.

U.S. Intelligence estimates warn that the ECE stations are being readied to blockade the corridors by jamming the guidance control systems of Allied aircraft.

Such jamming could easily force the planes to crash or veer outside the corridors where Soviet MIG-21s are ready to force them down.

Walker Treatment Might Backfire

By ED DELANEY

It may be said with some assurance that the futile effort of the sinister influences around Mr. Kennedy to destroy the former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker with the stigma of mental incompetence, may instead destroy the President's political future. The supporters of Gen. Walker — and they are legion, will now rightly regard him as a political martyr. He will be a cause celebre and any effort the minions of the administration may take to extricate themselves from their untenable position will only add to the stature of Walker. It has already, so it is reported, sparked wide use of the slogan "One Term Kennedy."

Walker was arrested by U.S. marshals at a roadblock on the outskirts of Oxford, Miss., at the time of the disturbance there when troops were used to force the entry of a student in the Mississippi University. It was alleged that Walker helped to incite a riot. He was swiftly transported to the federal prison at Springfield, Mo., on the questionable charge of seditious conspiracy and insurrection. But the federal authorities were quick to inform the press that the former general would undergo an examination to establish whether or not he is responsible for his actions. That is the way outspoken critics of the administration's policies are "smeared." If they can implant in the mind of the public the suspicion that Walker is mentally unstable or in need of psychiatric treatment, then his effectiveness as a vigorous opponent of dubious policies of the administration — is destroyed.

It may be said that Walker should not have gone to Mississippi at the time of the disturbances there. Most of us will concede that and it is to be regretted that he did go there. However there are some aspects of that situation which were of particular interest to the former general. He was in command of the federal troops at the time a somewhat similar disturbance occurred at Little Rock, Ark. He did not agree with the action of Eisenhower in sending federal troops to quell that disturbance but he carried out his orders. Walker tried to resign from the Army shortly after that, but his resignation was not accepted. He did resign later as we know and has been exposing what he says is the "Rust-Ball-Roslow no-win" policy of the State Department which calls for and directs a McNamara-Yaromolinsky-Sylvester purge of our Armed Forces.

Walker has charged in public addresses and in printed material that the Armed forces of our nation are being mentally and psychologically purged to conform to the "no-win" policy of W. W. Rostow, the State Department planner. Rostow, in this column has pointed out in the past, is that individual in the President's councils who urges that the United States do nothing that "will embarrass the Russians in the eyes of the world." Gen. Walker is a thorn in the side of the State Department and the willing collaborators in the Pentagon. Undoubtedly directives have gone forth to completely destroy him in the eyes of the American people.

Gen. Walker knows too much for the comfort of some in Washington. He was fighting communist influence in the Army when the nabobs of the administration were coddling it.

After the depression in the 30s it was argued that our trouble was that there had been too much saving and not enough spending, that if men would spend more we would have more prosperity. It would seem, however, that that hardly holds water, because if there had not been saving and there had not been effort put forward to start with, there would never have been any tools to work with. Tools come only from sacrifice and doing without for the present so that one can have better conditions in the future, for either himself or for those one wanted to benefit, or for mankind in general. Anytime anybody adds to the wealth of the world by creating wealth, not by getting it from somebody else and reducing his standing, everybody benefits.

It is just about as reasonable to contend that the spender is more beneficial than the saver as to contend that the man who dissipated his life was more useful to mankind than the man who preserved it and developed his faculties.

The fact of the matter is, we have no difficulty in getting spenders. A lot of people spend before they have, by borrowing. Borrowing is all right if it is for productive purposes, but the man who borrows for consumptive items that are gone and who gets himself further and further in debt, is only piling up trouble for himself and for others. The borrower for consumptive items uses property that could be used to increase tools which benefit all mankind.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question No. 34: "Is the saver or the spender more beneficial to mankind?"

Secret Of Beautiful Complexion Is Thorough, Deep Cleansing

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The secret of a beautiful complexion lies in proper diet and thorough cleansing. Any girl who is troubled with facial blemishes should shun foods and be sure she includes a sufficient amount of milk, water, fruit and green vegetables in her diet. An excessively oily skin is subject to blackheads. And improperly removed make-up and grime will add their share of damage. Although almost every skin can stand at least one thorough washing each day, it's important to remember that soap and water alone will not remove make-up. A cleansing cream or lotion must be used first. Women who prefer to cleanse their faces with lotion rather than cream will be interested in a new medicated cleanser, claimed to get out every hint of soil and make-up, leaving the face feeling cool, soothed and moist. The lotion's special antiseptic action should protect against skin bacteria.

This will have special appeal to teen-agers plagued with oily skin. Moistens a cotton square and cleanse the neck and face with upward, outward strokes. When the square shows soil, start anew with a fresh one. The scent, medicinal at first, imparts a refreshing fragrance once on the skin. Deep-down cleansing helps you maintain a clear complexion. And don't rely solely on soap and water to do the trick—it won't!

Guests Are Honored At Annual Club Tea

Twentieth Century Forum Study Club held its annual Guest Day Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 23, in the home of Mrs. W. L. Ellis, 521 N. Somerville, with Mmes. James O. Harris and D. M. Lawrence as co-hostesses. The program, "Travels of a Texan," was presented by Mrs. M. McDaniel. Guests were seated in the game room which was attractively decorated with travel posters and memorabilia collected on the McDaniel's trip. While showing colored slides, Mrs. McDaniel told of experiences and incidents that occurred throughout their travels, including a stay of seven weeks in Spain. Mrs. McDaniel and her four children left New York on the Queen Elizabeth, and after docking in England, spent several days touring London and the surrounding area. From London, they flew to Paris to view the sights. Slides, shown, included the children effectively photographed in front of such famous landmarks as the Eiffel Tower, the Arch de Triomphe and a sidewalk cafe. In Amsterdam, the quintet was joined by Dr. McDaniel, and from there they motored to their destination in Spain. They traveled through Germany, Austria, Liechtenstein, Switzerland, Monaco and into Spain where their first stop was Barcelona. Here the McDaniel's twin daughters paid their first visit to a zoo. The tour continued to Gibraltar and then headed north to Sevilla. At Granada, the family attended a bull fight and saw the famous Spanish toreador Ordones with two ears for his kills. The ultimate destination of the tour was the small port town of Roia in southern Spain where Mrs. McDaniel's brother is assigned by the U.S. Navy. From Roia, the family toured the surrounding area and made a trip to Madrid where they met and visited with Louisa Prieto, exchange student now living in Pampa, and her family. From Madrid, Dr. McDaniel returned home to be followed by his family some three weeks later. Mrs. McDaniel and the children saw the sights of Lisbon before boarding a jet that returned them to America. Glimpses into everyday life in Spain and a few words about the American image abroad added to the interest of the delightful program.

It's up to the bride to keep the number of showers from getting out of hand.

It seems to me that when I was a girl quite a few romances blossomed on Sunday and I don't remember that they were frowned upon. The very fact that a girl got acquainted with a boy at church was considered a recommendation of the young man if the girl's parents didn't happen to know him. Some of those Sunday romances were nourished by parental approval, their acceptance was entirely natural. A shared religious experience often resulted in marriage.

Guests enjoyed the porch overlooking the backyard blooming with bright colored geraniums.

Guests attending were: Mmes. Harold Barrett, J. T. Sanders, E. L. Grimes, F. Wm. Power, Louie Clark, Frank Fata, Wade Gilbert, Bruce Pratt, Raymond Laycock, Royse Laycock, Joe Franklin, Don Cain, Bob Regan, M. C. Overton, Bill Dings, Bill Trout, and members Bourland, Joe M. RUTH MILLETT

It almost seems as though young people today can't win the approval of their elders. No matter what they do, somebody thinks they are going to the dogs.

Now there's that minister in England who is objecting to young people going to church for "pick-ups, to hold hands and flash glances at one another."

Instead of being pleased that boys and girls are going to church, he is upset because they have eyes for each other — even in church. But hasn't church always been a place where young people could meet and get acquainted? Haven't many of the happiest marriages been between young people who grew up in the same church, who perhaps first noticed each other in Sunday School, or a church organization for young people, or even during church service?

It seems to me that when I was a girl quite a few romances blossomed on Sunday and I don't remember that they were frowned upon.

Varietas Study Club Hears Amendments

The Varietas Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Dow King with the president, Mrs. Lee Harrah, presiding.

Mrs. Otis Nace announced that the club will be hostesses to the Senior Citizens April 18, 1963.

"Can Science Save the World," was the topic for discussion and Mrs. Ralph Thomas spoke on "Can Science Prolong Our Useful Years?" Mrs. Thomas stated, "Make sure you always follow the rules of good health and moderation and depend on your doctor for advice and treatment. Remember where there is life, there is hope." Alexander Dumar said, "all wisdom is summed up in two words, wait and hope. Thank God for all human wisdom."

Attorney, Don Lane, presented a discussion on the 24 amendments to the Texas Constitution, which will be voted on soon. He explained in detail No. four and 14, and urged everyone to study them carefully.

Take It From Kathy

by Kathy Peterson

Dear Kathy: My problem is one which I'm sure countless girls have had, an infatuation with an older man. I'm 15 and he is 27, which is too old for a girl my age. I really do like him and the more I see him, the more I do. I'm not a silly, flighty, brainless girl. Even though I have my share of reasoning power, it suddenly seems to have left me.

If he were terribly handsome, I could label my feelings as physical attraction but he's not. Do you think anything could ever come of this (years from now) despite our age difference?—SOS

Dear SOS: Years from now? Don't pin your hopes on it. The most likely possibility is that he'll be married and a father before you're old enough to enter the competition.

A second possibility is that he'll be footloose and fancy free but a man of that age who hasn't married is well on the way to becoming a confirmed bachelor.

A girl admiring an older man can often have an unhappy experience because admiration is often mistaken for love.

For a 15-year-old, you express yourself well. You probably have matured a little more rapidly than boys you know and temporarily find them dull. Give them a few years to catch up and a man who is 12 years older won't appear so charming.

Some of those Sunday romances were nourished by parental approval, their acceptance was entirely natural. A shared religious experience often resulted in marriage.

Dear Abby...

This Lady Needed A Good Punch Line!!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow over 30 year old. I baby-sit in the neighborhood to earn a few extra dollars. A woman telephoned and asked if I would sit with her two children. She wanted me to come at 5:00 P.M., give them their supper, bathe them and put them to bed. I asked how much she paid and she said, "Twenty-five cents an hour and ALL YOU CAN EAT!" I told her I was sorry but I was busy. I was really insulted and think I could have thought of a better answer for her. What would YOU have told her?

INSULTED
DEAR INSULTED: I'd have told her I couldn't eat enough to make it worthwhile.

DEAR ABBY: I am failing geometry because of my teacher. Every time I look at him my stomach does flip flops. He is tall, thin, has blue eyes and sandy hair and wears dark-rimmed glasses. He is not married. I have stayed after school to get special help, but when I'm near him I can't concentrate on what he's saying. My other grades are A's and B's. What should I do?

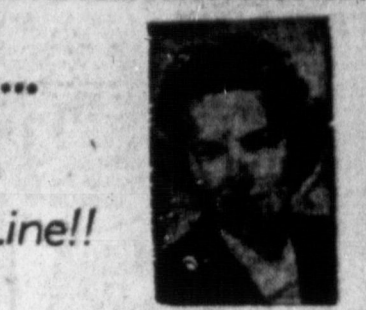

GOT A CRUSH
DEAR GOT: The "crush" is sure to pass but YOU might not unless you pursue a different angle. School is for learning and not for yearning. You had better concentrate on that for the moment.

DEAR ABBY: I am 46 years old and have gone with Miss X for seven years. She is 34, never been married.

POLLY'S POINTERS 'Dry Clean' Those Drapes In Only Six Minutes

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — This is the way I clean my drapes, and it works like a charm. Remove all the pins. Put drapes in automatic clothes dryer and run for three minutes to tumble the loose dirt from them. Next, take a wet bath towel and put it in the dryer with drapes and run for three more minutes. Remove and press. Replace pins and hang.

MRS. G. K.
DEAR GIRLS — I know many of us will use Mrs. G. K.'s idea when we are doing fall cleaning.

POLLY
DEAR POLLY — Here are my favorite tricks. Save your fingers! Hold that smell nail or tack with a common bobby pin. Just slip nail through the prongs, hold the end of the bobby pin and hammer away. And did you know that a rubber head tack at each bottom corner of a heavy picture frame will allow air to pass freely behind the frame and eliminate much of the dark streaking that shows when pictures are taken down. And last, for the dear mother: Keep the children from pulling towels off the rack by slipping shower curtain hooks over the towel bar. Sew a bone ring to the corner of each towel and snap the ring on a towel through the hook.

LOTTIE F.
DEAR POLLY — I find that a small piece of reflector tape over the lock of a door will save groping in the dark. Cut a slit in the tape where the key is to be inserted.

MARY
DEAR POLLY — We keep up on current events and discuss them with our children so they will acquire an active interest in what is happening in today's world. New worlds of thought are opened to them, and the daily newspaper and dictionary are two things we keep right at hand.

MRS. A. V.
DEAR GIRLS—Don't you agree that this might be a better world if more parents took their obligations as seriously as the 'Ys do?'

POLLY
Share your favorite homemaking ideas. Send them to Polly in care of this newspaper. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

'Stop Burke' Story At QB Meeting

The name Burke seemed to punctuate every statement made by Coach Eural Ramsey in presenting the scouting report on Palo Duro, the Harvesters' Friday night opponent, to the armchair quarterbacks attending last night's QB Club meeting.

The assistant coach had high praise for the senior speedster for the Dons. According to Ramsey, Palo Duro's Floyd Burke has been clocked in 9.7 on the 100 yard dash. "He has the good balance you seldom find in a high school player," Ramsey praised in his report.

Coach Otis Holladay, head mentor, echoed the praises of Burke. "He is one of the best backs I've ever seen. He runs real strong and determined."

Some of the offensive plays the Dons like to run, according to Ramsey's report, are trap plays up the middle, off tackle plays, and sweeps. One of the most dangerous plays executed by the Dons is the double reverse pass.

The experience of the Dons is evident as the Palo Duro team starts 11 seniors on offense. The other Don halfback, Donnie Walton, has better than average speed.

The Friday night visitors' average 159 pounds in the backfield. Other starters in the backfield besides Burke and Walton will be quarterback Doug Hendrick and fullback Stuart Raef. Burke is the heaviest, 175, and the most powerful. Burke is considered as the best back in District 3-AAAA this year.

The Dons average 171 in the line and 187 as a team, according to the scouting report.

Although Coach Holladay was a real disgruntled with this week's practice sessions, he was well pleased with last Friday's intrasquad scrimmage. "It was a real eye opener. We saw the best football Friday afternoon that we've seen all year," commented Holladay on his team's play.

Coach Holladay introduced Ricky Stewart at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees make the "Toughest Harvester" award each week as part of their back the Harvesters program.

Other Harvesters receiving the coveted honor besides Stewart and Wright are Jerry Glover, Curtis Fletcher, and Ricky Goodwin.

The period of judging the player selected is from Monday through that week's game, workouts included. The citation goes to the player, selected by the coaching staff, who best meets the following requirements — aggressiveness, blocking and tackling ability, leadership, and desire.

Stewart Selected Toughest Harvester

Ricky Stewart, Harvester end and defensive standout, was selected by the Pampa coaching staff as the team's "Toughest Harvester" for his fine work this past week and his play in the seniors' future scrimmage.

The rugged playing Stewart was named earlier this month as the "Toughest Harvester." Stewart is the second Harvester to receive this honor twice this season. Tackle Dee Wright was selected "Toughest" last week for the second time.

In announcing Stewart as the coaches' selection, Coach Otis Holladay commended the youth for his good tackling and for running with more determination.

U.S. Seeks 3rd Victory

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United States will be seeking to score its third straight victory tonight when the international jumping resumes in the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden.

Frank Chapot and Bill Steinkraus gave the United States a sweep of both opening-day jumping events when the show opened Tuesday afternoon and night. The six-nation jumping competition continues this evening with the Joseph Memorial Trophy and $1,000 at stake.

Chapot, riding San Lucas, won the Frederick MacKay Memorial Trophy Tuesday afternoon in the second jump-off against five rivals. With elapsed time the decisive factor in the second jump-off, Chapot posted a time of 24 seconds to beat out Great Britain's David Barker, who was second in 26.8 seconds.

Steinkraus, with a faultless and

He revealed to the QB Club the Harvester's new offensive weapon — Kenny Hebert's field goal kicking. "If we get inside the 50 you may see us start kicking," he joked with the group. Needless to say, the coach has a new weapon that the fans may see kick a serious field goal this Friday night.

The junior high coaches gave reports on their teams. Randy Roten reported on the Shockers. Slated for Friday at 3:10 is this week's pep rally at Pampa High gymnasium. Forrest Hills, QB Club president, announced that the club would pay for the mums to be presented to the mothers of the football players.

At the game Friday night, Father's Day will be observed for the fathers of the Harvesters.

Shoemaker, seeking his sixth string of three winners with a half-length victory aboard Mah Moola in the $10,000 Ladans Handicap.

Mah Moola's decision over My Portrait resulted in a $2,700 payoff and her sixth win in 25 starts this year. She covered six furlongs in 1:10.

Shoemaker's other winners were Constantia Star ($4,000) and Crewman ($2,500).

At Garden State, Meadowbrook Stable's Frimanaha scored a 2½ length win over Gus Terry in the featured $8,000 allowance race. The mare's victory was her first in 19 starts for 1962 and resulted in a $27,000 payoff. She was clocked in 1:44 4/5 for the 1 1/8 mile distance.

Shoemaker Wins Triple

By United Press International

Willie Shoemaker, a pint-sized Texan but tall in the jockey standings, added to his national riding lead Tuesday with a triple at Aqueduct.

The Hawks are now 5-1 and the Warriors 4-1, while Boston and Syracuse are tied for the Eastern Division lead with 3-1 marks.

Auerbach was ejected from the Hawks-Celts battle when he protested a goal-tending call by Ref Sid Borgia against Bill Russell. Auerbach charged onto the floor and became engaged in a jaw-to-jaw discussion with the ref which ended when Auerbach was given the thumb.

As the Boston coach made his way slowly toward the exit, he charged into the stands after a fan who later identified himself as Iver Anderson of Chicago. Anderson said that Auerbach came at him after he accused the coach of lack of sportsmanship.

Time was called while players from both teams and police separated the men and escorted Auerbach away.

As for the game itself, reliable Bob Pettit hit 26 points to lead the attack but the real heroes were the St. Louis defenders who cooled off the Celt attack. Boston had been averaging 130 points per contest coming into the game.

Chamberlain, who always has a big night against the Knicks, piled up 50 points to run his lifetime total to 10,033.

New York suddenly blitzed the Warriors 17-2 in the third period when Guards Gene Shue and Richie Guerin got hot. New York moved ahead 88-85.

But then San Francisco roared back with Chamberlain and Tom Gola hitting with ease and the Knicks were finished.

Optimists Sell Trees

Both Pampa Optimist Clubs are now selling advance tickets for Christmas trees. The tickets sell for one dollar and are worth 1.25 on any tree.

The organization will have two lots for these trees — one on North Hobart and one on South Cuyler. The proceeds from the sale of the trees will go toward the club's back the boy program.

Red Auerbach Given The Boot In NBA Action

By United Press International

They had to call the police to get Boston's firebrand coach Red Auerbach out of the St. Louis Arena Tuesday night.

St. Louis took Boston in a 98-97 bruiser to stay ahead of San Francisco in Western Division play. The Warriors dumped New York 125-106 in a contest which saw Wilt Chamberlain sail past the 10,000 point career mark.

DENVER (UPI) — Big Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho, held on to a $1,100 lead over Tom Nesmith of Bethel, Okla., today in the race for the coveted all-around crown of professional rodeo.

The rodeo information commission said Tuesday that Oliver won $300 more last week to push his season's winnings to $28,888. Runner-up Nesmith won only $100 last week and remained in the number two spot with $27,740.

Ralph Buell, 32, of Sheridan, Wyo., tightened his grip on bareback bronc riding last week, earning $481 for a total of $15,153.

Oliver continued to lead all calf ropers. He has won $26,656 of his money in that department alone. Second is Nesmith with $13,459 and behind him Glen Franklin of House, N. M., with $13,227.

Nesmith was nearly $2,000 ahead in steer wrestling with $14,065, to $12,849 for Harry Charters Jr. of Melba, Idaho, and $10,866 for Wilbur Plaughter of Prather, Calif.

Freckles Brown of Lawton, Okla., had a nearly insurmountable $18,875 total in bull riding. Bill Reinstein of Amarillo, Tex., was second with $12,640 and Pete Crump of Green Acres, Wash., third with $10,940.

NCAA Frees Kansas From Penalty Box

By STEVE SNIDER
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kansas and East Tennessee State have been sprung from the penalty box by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) but at least one more culprit may be rounded up today for fracturing rules on recruiting athletes.

"Several cases are being considered," said an NCAA spokesman. "At least one might be considered important, depending on your definition."

The NCAA, after lifting a two-year probation on Kansas and a one-year sentence for East Tennessee State, still has seven colleges on the blacklist. The sorry seven are headed by Indiana, which drew the worst penalty ever for football recruiting violations — a four-year ban on NCAA competition in all sports ending in April, 1964.

Kansas was "convicted" on three counts in 1960 and drew a two-year term in which the Jayhawks could not participate in post-season football or the televised football program for the first year and was declared ineligible for NCAA events for both years.

Basketball ace Wilt Chamberlain, football star Bert Coan and three unidentified athletes were involved in the Kansas case.

Wilt was presented with an automobile worth $1,564 presumably to influence his entrance to the university. Coan was given "excessive entertainment" including a plane trip to the Chicago All-Star football game in 1959 and the other three were recruited without contacting other institutions for which they had indicated an earlier preference.

East Tennessee State was placed on probation for one year on Oct. 24, 1961 for violating the recruiting treaty rule in the case of a basketball prospect.

A & M's Gilbreath On Death Bed

HOUSTON (UPI) — Bobby Gilbreath, 20, a star member of the Texas A&M track team, was in critical condition with encephalitis today at a Houston hospital. He was not expected to live.

A&M track coach Charlie Thomas said at College Station Tuesday night that Gilbreath "is not expected to live."

The Iowa Park sophomore complained of dizziness last Friday. He was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital in Bryan for treatment. He was transferred to Harman Hospital in Houston Monday.

Gilbreath recorded the fastest freshman time in the nation last year in the 400-meter hurdles with a time of 54 seconds flat. He won eight gold medals in three years of competition in the Texas track and field meet. He led Iowa Park to a Class A high school state championship in 1960.

Gilbreath placed third in the low hurdles of the Southwest Conference freshman meet last year.

Meschery Gets Release

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Tom Meschery will be released from the Army today and expects to report immediately to the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association. Meschery, however, will not see league action for at least two weeks because of a cracked wrist suffered in a service game.

Baseball Launches Program For Minors

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — A sweeping new "save the minors" program that will cost about $1-million a year but which will put the minor leagues on a firm foundation for the first time in years was revealed today by the secretary of baseball.

The new program, unanimously recommended by a committee headed by president John Galbreath of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is expected to pass at the annual winter meetings of the minor leagues at Rochester, N.Y., starting Nov. 26.

Aside from the vital financial support, the most important part of the program is the scrapping of the traditional classifications ranging from D through triple-A. Instead all minor leagues would be divided into three classifications — triple A, double A and A. The old A-through-leagues would all be grouped in the new A classification.

Guarantees Support
"Under the new program, minor league owners would not have to come to the winter meetings with hat in hand forlornly seeking an affiliation with a major league club," explained baseball secretary Charles Segar. "This new agreement would guarantee that support to the minors."

Approximately 100 minor league clubs would thus be underwritten by the major leagues. The new program would replace the "parum-scarum" $850,000-plus annual "dole" by which the majors have supported the minors with inconsistent success for the last few years.

A player development contract, under which a major league team would supply a roster of players for a minor league club, is the key to the new plan. The big league club would supply the entire roster or the minor league team could provide a "certain number of players itself."

The minor leaguers could be optioned, consigned outright or they could be newly signed free agents.

Selectable Players
Certain players would be made "selectable players." Under this arrangement, the major league club would finance a large part or perhaps all of the minor league's club's expenses to support, pay, etc., the player. In return, the sponsoring big league club would have first crack at obtaining the player up to Dec. 15.

Class triple-A players would sell for $20,000 each, class double A for $10,000, and class A for $5,000. The program calls for the 100 sponsored teams to be divided with 20 at the triple A level, 20 at the double A level and 60 at the A level. Major league clubs would have the right to decide how many minor league clubs they would sponsor.

Wildcats Ready To Claw Indiana

NEW YORK (UPI) — Top-ranked Northwestern is a 16-point favorite to make Indiana its sixth straight victim and No. 2 Alabama is rated 14 points better than Mississippi State in Saturday's college football games.

A three-point spread was posted by oddsmakers for a pair of games involving teams among the top 10. Southern California, No. 3, was picked to beat eighth-ranked Washington while sixth-ranked Louisiana State was the choice over No. 4 Mississippi.

Southern Cal and Ole Miss have perfect records in five games, while their opponents have been tied twice this season.

Tenth-ranked Nebraska joins the underdogs as the experts figure Missouri three points better than the Cornhuskers.

Also among the elite, fifth-ranked Texas is 16 points over Southern Methodist; Michigan State, the No. 7 team, is a 10-point choice over Minnesota in a Big 10 conference contest, and ninth-rated Arkansas is favored by 13 over Texas A. & M.

George Mira's passing earned Miami (Fla.) an 11-point favorite's role against Kentucky in Friday night's feature game.

In other leading Saturday games:

East — Navy 6 over Notre Dame, Penn State 7 over Maryland, Syracuse 4 over Pittsburgh and unbeaten Dartmouth 14 over Yale.

South — Auburn 6 over Florida, Georgia Tech 3 over Duke, Tulane 1 over Virginia Tech, Georgia 5 over North Carolina State, Florida State 13 over Houston, Clemson 7 over North Carolina and South Carolina 7 over Virginia.

Midwest — Purdue 23 over Illinois, Ohio State 13 over Iowa, Wisconsin 16 over Michigan.

Southwest — Rice 13 over Texas Tech, Texas Christian 7 over Baylor and Iowa State 1 over Oklahoma State.

Pistol Pete Now Fourth

NEW YORK (UPI) — One Texan from Massachusetts and two Texans now of New Mexico and Oklahoma are among the leaders in individual football statistics announced today.

James (Preacher) Pilot of New Mexico State, a transplanted Texan, ranks second in rushing yardage in the latest individual statistics. Pilot has carried the ball 139 times in seven games for a total of 771 yards. He trails leader Eldon Fortie of Brigham Young by 66 yards.

Pistol Pete Pedro of West Texas State, the Texan from the Northeast, is fourth in individual rushing with 664 yards on 100 carries in seven games.

Joe Don Looney of Oklahoma, a transplanted Texan from Fort Worth, took over as the nation's No. 1 punter, and he did it without kicking one time during the past week.

Looney has averaged 42.8 yards on 16 punts so far this year. He did not kick at all in Oklahoma's 47-0 triumph over Kansas State last week.

Torres Whips Joey Parks

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Raymond (Battling) Torres, world's sixth-ranked junior welterweight, slammed Joey Parks of Omaha, Neb., through the ropes in the third round Tuesday night to win by a TKO.

Referee Leonard Zuniga stopped the fight at 2:38 of the round. Torres, who weighed 147½, slammed Parks off his feet early in the round with three straight left hooks. Torres is from Reynosa, Mex.

A right hook to the jaw sent Parks out of the ring and out of the fight. Parks weighed 141½.

An estimated crowd of 2,000 attended the fight at the San Antonio Municipal Auditorium.

Ring Magazine Salutes Tiger

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dick Tiger of Nigeria, new middleweight co-champion, was named "fighter of the month" today by The Ring Magazine because of his decisive title victory over Gene Fullmer at San Francisco, Oct. 24.

The Rebels of Robert E. Lee have a full schedule of games this week with only the ninth graders of Pampa Jr. High slated to see game action.

The ninth graders at Pampa Jr. High play Phillips there in a 4 p.m. game on Thursday.

Probable starters for the Rebels are ends Ronnie Valentine, Randy Whitten; tackles Ernest Frazier, Robbie Robinson; guards Lynn Abbott, Billy Turner; and center Leroy Tate.

In the backfield will be Tim Adist at quarterback, Roy Harper at tailback, Kent Bowers at fullback, and wingback Donald Bennett.

The ninth graders at Robert E. Lee will face a stern test in Shamrock's "B" team. The game will be played Thursday afternoon starting at four at the Harvester field.

Probable starters are ends Teddy Bird, Nolan Ellis; tackles Frank Parrish, Billy Quarles; guards Jerry Wright, Larry Eckert; and center Steve Martin.

Larry Daniels will get the nod at quarterback, Lewis Meers at fullback, Gary Crossland at tailback, and Joey Roden at wingback.

Loan Ellis, Gregory Locke, and Wayne Hill are scheduled to move into the lineup on defense. David Frasier will probably not play due to an injury.

The eighth grade Rebels also will play stiff competition in the Gruver ninth graders. The game is scheduled for Thursday at 4:30 on Rebel field.

Tentative starters in the backfield will be quarterback Myron Porter, halfbacks Jack Thompson and Gary McCarroll, and fullback Smissen Goodlett.

In the line will be center Ronald Rusley; guards David Smith, Bruce Raines; tackles Doc Cornutt, Jack Williamson; and ends James Matney, Bruce Ginn.

In a Saturday morning game, the seventh grade Rebels host Perryton's seventh graders at 10 a.m.

The Rebels will go with two backfields in the contest. The quarterbacks are Steve Summers, Mike Brown; halfbacks Wendell Watson, Buddy Myers, and Wayne Caswell, Chris Kenny; and fullbacks Mike Burnett, David Schaub.

In the line as probable starters are ends Keith Burns, George Bailey; tackles Joe Fritz, Jimmy Cornutt; guards Rodney Hall, Johnny Ray or Donnie Snapp; and center Mike Sublett.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The way Damon needed Pythias, the way Romeo knew the jig was up without Juliet, the way Jackie Gleason is at a loss since Art Carney left — so is Garry Moore up a creek without Carol Burnett.

This was never more clear than Tuesday night when Miss Burnett, who is rapidly becoming one of show business' 100-proof superstars, made her first return visit to Moore's CBS-TV variety program, from which she was graduated last semester.

All at once, the Moore show, which at its best has been merely amiable and at its worst quite dull this season without Miss Burnett, began to glow again as she took the stage. All the polish that is associated with a Moore enterprise suddenly became relatively inconsequential in the presence of the simple electric excitement that only a real star can generate.

Conquers All Comers
 Since venturing out into the theatrical world on her own, Miss Burnett has conquered all comers. She can write her own ticket in the movies. She has a Broadway show coming up. CBS signed her to a 1-year million-dollar contract, with a series if she wants it. And her six-city tour with her own road troupe this summer smashed records.

Miss Burnett, probably the most popular female star on television for the past few years, received an enormous ovation when she made her entrance Tuesday night. There was a rather sticky nostalgic routine with Moore and Durward Kirby, but her instinct for puncturing corn and her appealing funny-sad quality gave the occasion a legitimate wistful flavor.

She sang "You Call Everybody Darlin'" and "I've Got a Lovely Bundle of Coconuts." And she carried a skit in which she played a violinist who has insured her hands for a million dollars and is afraid to use them for anything. Like Lucille Ball, she is one of the few female performers who can deliver the physical comedy that brings solo laughs.

Moore, Kirby Sidem'n
 In Tuesday night's skit, she booted a hat from the floor into a closet with the precision of a football place-kicking expert; she drank a martini with her teeth, and she shook hands with her elbow. It is no secret that Moore and Kirby have been strictly her sidemans since she became the show's star; but seeing them in secondary roles again Tuesday night merely emphasized why the program now lacks punch and magic.

Aiding matters Tuesday night was the comedy team of Allen and Rossi, who were part of Miss Burnett's road show. In one exchange, one of the boys was supposed to be Dwight Eisenhower, and he was asked if he had noticed any changes since leaving the White House.

"Yeah, he replied. "A lot more golfers are beating me."

Miss Burnett said she missed not being on the show regularly.

And, though Moore is reported to have encouraged her in her personal venture, the chances are that he is doing most of the missing. She has come a long way since, as a newcomer, she broke up the "Tonight" program by singing "I'm In Love With John Foster Dulles." She is the real goods.

The Channel Swim: Bette Davis is one of the guests to headline CBS-TV's "Perry Mason" while Raymond Burr is hospitalized around Christmas. Dale Robertson, formerly of the "Wells Fargo" series, visits the Roy Rogers-Dale Evans show on ABC-TV Nov. 10.

John Payne plays a drifter on NBC-TV's Dick Powell program Nov. 27. Richard Boone appears on CBS-TV's Art Linkletter show Nov. 8. Sammy Davis Jr. stars on "The Rifleman" on ABC-TV Nov. 26. Chubby Checker guests on the same network's "American Bandstand" Friday.

Foreign Commentary

Dramatic as has been the Soviet rollback in Cuba, there still remains another important question.

The one involved a head-on clash between policies of the United States and the Soviet Union, and from it the United States emerged with prestige enhanced throughout the free world, including Latin America.

The second involves the course now to be followed toward the Communist Cuban regime of Fidel Castro itself.

Discovery that the Soviet Union was shipping offensive weapons to Cuba brought the American republics into unanimous and unprecedented agreement with the United States.

Argentina dispatched two destroyers to join U. S. units enforcing the "Cuban quarantine." Use of facilities was offered by Guatemala, Panama, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

Chile, previously one of the Latin American holdouts against any punitive action against Cuba, made a complete switch and gave full support to the U. S. action both in the Organization of American States and in the United Nations.

Mexico also was showing a marked change of sentiment.

Brazil endorsed the initial U. S. action but served notice it would not support "measures implying an intervention on Cuban territory."

In Mexico City where OAS finance ministers have been studying the past and future of the Alliance for Progress program, UPI correspondent Henry Raymond reported a growing sense of shock at Castro's bad faith in accepting secretly Soviet offensive weapons and thus endangering the hemisphere's peace and security.

Castro, he said, had "emerged as a discredited pawn of Soviet foreign policy."

It also was felt that the past week had damaged Castro's and Moscow's position in Cuba as well as throughout Latin America.

A common danger had brought nations of the American hemisphere together. But as the immediate danger receded, the durability of that unity would be tested all over again.

To promise to pullback his missiles meant a certain amount of humiliation for Khrushchev. But he still had his Communist bridgehead in the American hemisphere.

That is the question which the United States and its fellow-members of the OAS must ponder now.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Spear & Staff, Inc., says that from an investment standpoint it would continue to exercise caution, not because of Cuba per se, but rather because of the wide swings in the prices of most stocks.

A market so completely under the influence of rapidly changing world events cannot be accurately gauged by the usual technical methods. The basic downturn of the majority of stocks has not been broken and a consolidation phase of at least two or three months duration will be necessary before a major upward move can be sustained, Spear & Staff believes.

The churning market which followed the huge rally of last week is natural, states Investors Research Co. This action may continue for another week as individual issues stabilize after a hectic week. It advises a fully invested position in investment accounts but says that no buying should be done until a decisive lowpoint has been established.

Mitchell of Canada, Inc., says that whatever happens next, the one thing we can be sure of is that we're facing another round of accelerated inflation. Wise traders and investors should act accordingly, instead of going off half-cocked.

This is a time for calm judgment, says Standard & Poor's. Panicky liquidation of holdings should be avoided. If the Cuban crisis is resolved satisfactorily, it would not be surprising to see the market stage a worthwhile rebound from its present oversold position.

Safeway Stores Building Milk Processing Plant

Construction of a new milk processing plant is well underway by Safeway Stores Inc., at Clovis, N. M. The target date for completion and operation of the plant is Feb. 1, 1963, according to Safeway officials.

The building contains 17,002 square feet of space and is what can be called a tilt-up concrete building. The plant is expected to process 7,500 gallons of milk per day at the outset but is equipped to handle 15,000 gallons per day at full capacity.

This new plant will contain the very latest in processing equipment and is geared to what is called bulk handling of milk at the producer level adding efficiency both on the farm and in the plant.

The new plant will also contain a cottage cheese manufacturing operation and buttermilk and sour cream will be made in the plant. There will be a modern laboratory in the plant to use in making routine and technical analysis of all milk coming from producers as well as the finished product going to consumers.

Safeway Stores in the Amarillo Zone as well as stores in the El Paso division will be supplied with the Company's sponsored brands of Lucerne and Blossom Time milk, cottage cheese and buttermilk.

Montgomery Ward Catalog Is Delivered

One of the earliest previews of gift items for Christmas — the mail order catalog — this year presents more new, novel and imaginative gift ideas than ever before offered.

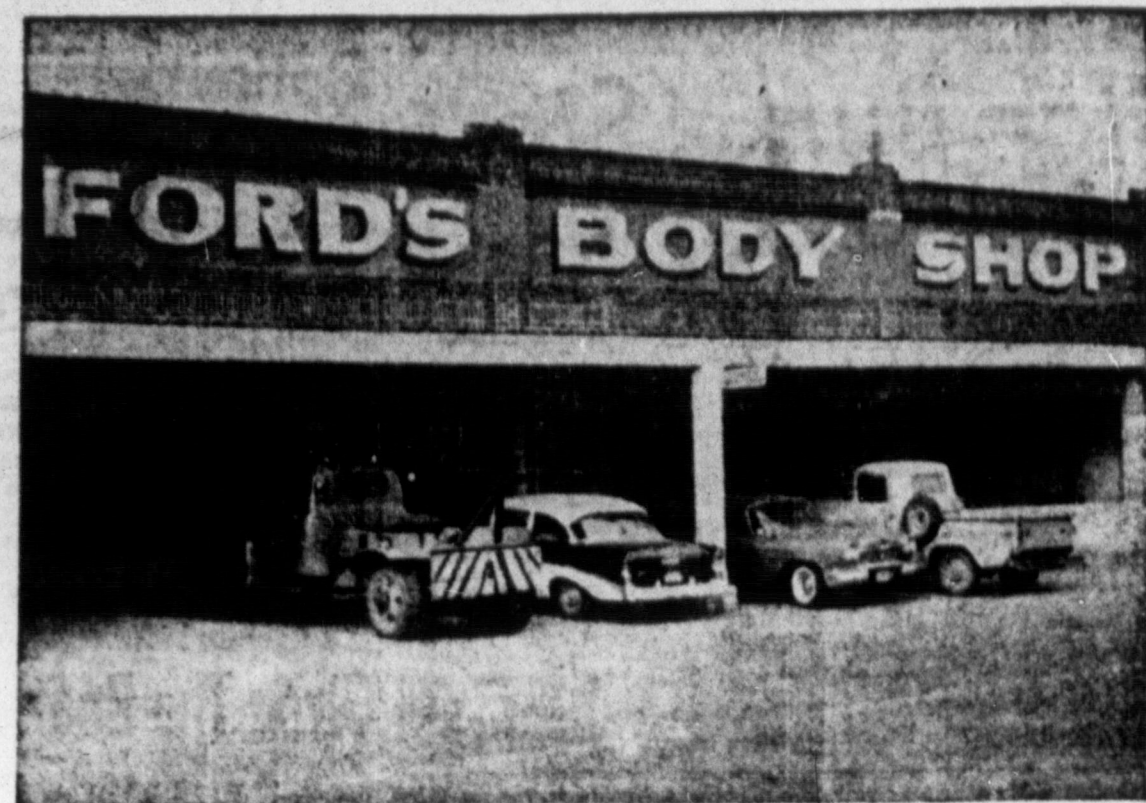

Headliners for children are an electric player piano, a miniature electric train with a four-ounce engine, an honest-to-goodness egg hatchery with fertilized eggs and a dissected plastic frog.

For young marrieds, one can select a twosome model Turkish water pipe, cuckoo clocks from the Black Forest of West Germany, Scandinavian skiwear and sleepwear. For Dad, a gold-plated putter is offered, and for Mother, a white milk pillow box.

These ideas and thousands of others are getting attention this week in homes in the Pampa area and throughout the United States, as Montgomery Ward distributes its colorful 424-page 1962 Christmas catalog.

In anticipation of one of the greatest Christmas seasons in its history, "Wards has expanded its catalog offerings to include many more high quality gift items to satisfy the desires of our customers for gifts of assured quality," according to W. G. McComas, manager of the local Wards retail store at 217 N. Cuyler, Pampa.

"From velvet-upholstered love seats and high-fashion knit suits to diamond pendants, sapphires rings and a new world of scientific electronic and space toys, the merchandise offered in the 1962 Christmas catalog represents careful selections to meet the increasing demand of families for items that will be backed up by our 90-year guarantee of satisfaction," McComas said.

Quotes In The News

By United Press International

OXFORD, Miss. — A U.S. soldier's reply to a University of Mississippi student who taunted him for protecting Negro student James Meredith:

"I'm just doing my duty. It must take a lot of courage on your part to insult a man wearing the uniform of your country."

LONDON — Foreign Secretary Lord Home, explaining to a television audience why President Kennedy did not consult the British before ordering the quarantine on Cuba:

"The Americans will always consult the NATO alliance, but this was an unprecedented occasion. There was a crash buildup of these weapons (the Russian missiles). It was tremendously urgent."

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Memphis civil defense director John Somers, reporting that the number of telephone calls to his office has sharply decreased following Russia's promise to remove missile bases from Cuba:

"When Khrushchev frowns, folks take a lot of notice in civil defense, but when he smiles broadly they lose interest."

Hunchback Skeleton Is Analyzed

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)— Analysis was underway today on the skeleton of a hunchback prehistoric human skeleton found in what authorities believed to be the garbage dump of an ancient Indian tribe.

Highway crews working on a freeway inside the San Antonio city limits Monday unearthed the skeleton, of which the skull and teeth were intact.

The fact that the skeleton was that of a hunchback, said Mrs. Roy Scheutz, curator of archaeology and anthropology at San Antonio's Witte Museum, accounted for its presence in the garbage dump.

Mrs. Scheutz said the skeleton probably belonged to a member of the ancestor tribe of the Coahuiltecan Indians, who roamed South Texas and northern Mexico before the advent of the white man.

Plenty Of Spots Left For Communist Push

By DONALD MAY
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are at least a half dozen spots around the world where Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev could press for new ground in the aftermath of Cuba.

Foremost on the list is West Berlin, encircled by Communist East Germany, and where Khrushchev has strategic advantages, just as the United States had them over Cuba.

Khrushchev could press for removal of Western missile bases from Turkey. He made a short-lived proposal Saturday to trade the Cuban missile bases for the U.S. bases in Turkey.

Pressure On Iran
He could increase pressures against Iran, recently under heavy Communist propaganda and where clandestine radios have called for uprisings against the Shah.

U.S. officials long have had a lingering suspicion that someday Russia might seek to move into Afghanistan, which it now gives large-scale aid, as a gateway to South Asia.

The Kremlin could again unleash the North Koreans. It could influence a further stepping up of North Viet Nam's guerrilla war against South Viet Nam.

The Soviet Union could seek to take into its fold the unsteady, neutral coalition government of Laos, set up only three months ago to settle a civil war.

It presumably could relax its restraining influence which may have helped to keep Red China from reckless aggression against Formosa, Quemoy, Matsu or down the Mekong River Valley into Southeast Asia.

But — assuming Russia goes through with its promised missile withdrawal from Cuba — the effect of Cuba on future Soviet policy remains imponderable to U.S. officials.

There are some who feel the President's demonstration of U.S. willingness to risk nuclear war in defending its vital interests will make Communist nations think twice about launching any aggression.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges predicted Monday "an acceleration of good business" would begin in mid-1963.

Hodges' appraisal of the state of business was at odds with recent predictions by some economists that the economy is headed for a downturn in the first quarter of next year.

He said the outlook now is for a continuation of the present "high plateau" of business activity.

Hodges, in New York for a series of speaking engagements, would not comment at a news conference on whether the easing of tension in the Cuban crisis would cause any upturn in business trends.

He said his prediction for gains in 1963 were based on the recently

New Cementing Agent Prevents Decay Of Teeth

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—America's dentists soon will be working with a cementing agent for fillings which will prevent recurring tooth decay, it was reported today.

Dr. Michael G. Buonocore of Rochester, N. Y., said in a paper prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the American Dentists Association today that materials presently available to dentists do not bind to tooth structure, thus sometimes letting bacteria in to start new decay around a filling.

Buonocore and Dr. Eugene W. Skinner of Chicago both said development of such a cement to prevent recurring decay involves many problems but they will eventually be solved.

Some 15,000 dentists from the United States, Canada and South America are attending the convention which opened yesterday.

A Negro dentist, from Atlanta, Dr. R. C. Bell, picketed the auditorium Monday and was joined later in the day by another Negro. Bell said he was trying to "bring to the attention of all members of the ADA that a great proportion of all American dentists are excluded from organized dentistry because of race."

The board of trustees of the ADA recommended, meanwhile, that bylaws be amended to permit suspension from membership in the policy-making House of Delegates of state dental societies which discriminate against Negroes.
