SUPPORT ASKED FOR CITY DEVELOPMENT

LABORITES IN COMMONS HIT CABINET STAND

DEMAND FOOD SHIPS BE PROTECTED AT BILBAO

LONDON, April 14 (AP)—Angry labor forces demanded a House of Commons vote of censure today for Great Britain's conservative government, declaring in a bitter onslaught the cabinet of the greatest maritime nation had "run up the white flag" to help Spanish insurgents "starve out women and children."

The attack, led by Major Clement R. Attlee, leader of his Majesty's opposition, was pointed straight at the cabinet's refusal in the interests of neutrality to protect British food ships entering besieged Bilbao, capital of the basque regime which is loyal to the Spanish government.

In sniping phrases Attlee called this refusal the surrender of the right of this country.

Ship Owners Also Oppose He launched a full dress debate on the government's Spanish policy in the House of Commons while conservative ship owners, like-winded, joined laborites in condemnation of the Bilbao decision.

An insurgent blockade has driven British food ships away from Bilbao, where hundreds of thousands of refugees, forced into the city by insurgent land armies, are described as hungry. Britain has sent the H. M. S. Hood, world's greatest warship, to the Bilbao vicinity, but has announced she can protect her merchant ships only while they are outside the Spanish territorial 3-mile limit.

Attlee moving a vote of censure against the government, cried that its action, designed to prevent international incidents, was "a grotesquery in a grave breach of international law."

Pablo Azcarate y Florez, the Spanish government's ambassador, listened intently from the gallery while Attlee presented this motion of censure.

Partial to Franco "That this House, taking note of the statement of the Prime Minister of the (Bilbao) situation, deplores the failure of His Majesty's government to give protection to merchant ships on their lawful occasions" (sic).

Despite the motion, the conservative government was confident its majorities would see it through the labor-socialist attack.

Warning to his subject, Attlee shouted: "The hopes of Franco (the insurgent generalissimo) depend on starving women and children. The British government is going to help!"

He charged the government was partial to Franco and that "to support Franco is to encourage Mussolini in his aggression."

$1,500 IN POCKETS OF LAKE TRAGEDY VICTIMS

SAN ANTONIO, April 14 (AP)—Fifteen hundred dollars in currency is in the pockets of two of the un-recovered victims of the Medina lake drowning tragedy, April 4, in which six persons lost their lives, it was learned today.

Leslie A. Bowers, former Alamo Downs employe, and Sam Johnston, salesman, whose bodies are still held by waters of the lake, were understood to have had $1,000 and $500, respectively, in their pockets when the boat in which nine were riding was overturned during a squall, according to Frank Trahan Jr., a survivor and hero of the accident.

A close watch has been kept on the waters of the lake, but so far none of the bodies has come to the surface. The bodies of Mrs. Henry L. Lamkin and 5-year-old Minnie Lee Johnston, daughter of Sam Johnston, were recovered at the time.

Henry L. Lamkin and James Stone, Mathis railroad man, were the other victims whose bodies are still missing.

I Heard...

City Park Superintendent Jno. V. Andrews almost weeping with rage as he viewed the destruction on the west boulevard on West Francis avenue. A car crashed over the curb through a bunch of 4-inch iron posts, through a hedge and smashed two trees sometime last night. A safety measure would be to tear out the boulevard or put up a light to warn motorists speeding around the curve from the Berger road.

New President

M. A. (MACK) GRAHAM

M. A. Graham was elected president of the Pampa Country club at a meeting of directors yesterday afternoon in the White Deer Land building. The retiring president, R. G. Allen, automatically became vice-president.

The new president soon will release names of his committeemen and outline plans for an active year in local golf circles. Tournaments will be stressed, Mr. Graham intimated.

C. P. Buckler was re-elected secretary of the club. New directors named were H. H. Hicks and Lynn Boyd. They will serve with Frank Perry, Chinch Barrett and Siler Ryker, holdover directors.

Attlee's course is in good condition for this time of the year. Moisture is needed badly to bring up grass in the fairways, however. Del Love, club professional has worked the greens and built traps and bunkers around several of the greens.

FORTY AND EIGHT TO MEET THIS EVENING

The regular meeting of Voiture 953 Forty and Eight will be held at the Pampa club at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present. A roundup of delinquent members will be started and each member will be given a delinquent to bring in. Those failing will have a penalty to serve.

Pampa Kiwanians To Give Program At San Jacinto

Pampa Kiwanians today were making final arrangements to send a big delegation of members to San Jacinto club at Amarillo tomorrow where Pampans will be in charge of the program at the regular noon-day meeting of the neighboring club.

Judge Newton P. Willis, member of the Pampa club, will be the principal speaker at the San Jacinto meet which will be topped off in the afternoon by an inter-club golf match over the Amarillo country club course.

W. V. Jarratt is in charge of the general arrangements for tomorrow's meeting. He is being assisted by Edwin Vickers and Fred Cullum. Guy McTaggart is in charge of the entertainment which will be supplied by the "Three Apple Sisters" and "Nacogdoches." P. E. Hoffman this afternoon was completing arrangements to take along ten golfers.

Kentucky Coal Area Enslaved, Avers Witness

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Senate investigators heard today that coal operators in Harlan county, Ky. were "maintaining a tyranny over the men employed in their mines which has no equal in the civilized world."

Philip Murray, soft-spoken vice president of the United Mine Workers, told the LaFollette civil liberties committee that "kidnappings, killings, maimings and bloodshed" had been employed by the operators to keep their workers from exercising their legal right to organize.

GRETA GARBO MAY BECOME U. S. CITIZEN

FORT WORTH, April 14 (AP)—Union pickets this morning blockaded the Lone Star Gas Company building on Monroe Street and refused to permit company officials, employees or customers to enter.

When Floyd Carmichael, manager of the Fort Worth district, arrived and started to enter the building, Jack Perrin, a striker, caught hold of Carmichael's arm and told him he could not enter the building, that it was closed. R. M. Jarrell, union vice president, also explained to Carmichael that employees or officials could not enter.

W. F. Wright, Dallas, general manager of the Dallas-Fort Worth division, arrived shortly and he and Carmichael had a conference. Wright said he would have a statement for the press later. He repeated a conference with union men would be held, but could not say at what time.

"Rather Strong?" When Carmichael arrived he said to Jarrell and Perrin, "don't you boys think you are going rather strong?"

"No," Jarrell replied, "not too strong."

Then Perrin declared, "some of our men and their babies are getting hungry. We want a conference now. We won't wait six months."

"We've arranged," Jarrell said to Carmichael, "for you to go in and out of the warehouse. If you want to do that, all right."

About 200 men have taken turns at picket duty at the warehouse. The strikers walked out in protest of what they said for the discharge.

ROY LEWTER INJURED WHEN TIRE EXPLODES

Roy Lewter, employe of the F. E. Hoffman Service station, received a badly crushed nose and face lacerations last night when a tire he was inflating exploded, hurling the large rim into his face. He was given emergency treatment at Worey hospital and then rushed by ambulance to Amarillo for an operation, performed by an eye and nose specialist.

This morning Lewter was resting comfortably at St. Anthony's hospital. It required more than two hours to remove crushed bones from his nose and head and to rebuild the nose. His eyes, at first believed injured, were found to be all right.

The accident happened about 9:45 p. m. as Lewter was inflating a large truck tube he had just repaired.

Pampa Kiwanians To Give Program At San Jacinto

President Chris Martin today issued a special appeal to members of the Pampa club to turn out for the trip to San Jacinto tomorrow. Arrangements are being made to supply ample transportation facilities, he stated.

The trippers will leave from Schneider hotel here at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

"It is our desire to have every Kiwanian who can possibly make the trip to be on hand in the morning," Mr. Martin said. "We will furnish transportation for anyone who does not have a way to go."

Members who intend to go are asked to notify Mr. Jarratt, Mr. Martin or any member of the committee this evening or early tomorrow morning.

The meeting at San Jacinto tomorrow is one in a series of inter-club sessions being planned by the local club this year.

GRETA GARBO MAY BECOME U. S. CITIZEN

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 14 (AP)—Greta Garbo, the solitary Swede who is showing signs of possessing a slightly-developed herd instinct, may become an American citizen.

This is pure speculation among her associates and friends, since Garbo is never much help in answering questions about her future.

Anyway, she is building a house, and it has leaked out that she asked a friend to shop for furniture for her home while he is traveling in Italy.

Garbo's studio associates said they believed that Jean Hesholt, Swedish actor who is her close friend, may have advised her to become an American citizen.

Hersholt, naturalized 19 years ago, has urged other actors of his native land to become Americans and aided them in studying for citizenship examinations and making out the necessary papers.

The Americanization of Garbo has been a slow process. She has adopted many mannerisms of this country. She wears American fashion entirely. She takes an active interest in the nation's affairs.

She is getting fairly gregarious—has been ever since she returned from Europe on her last visit and gave interviews on board the ship at quarantine.

Garbo now chats with others on the motion picture set, whereas she used to make beelines for her dressing room. She is an addict of the game of 20 questions wherein the subject tries to identify a famous person. She is good at it, too.

These phenomena, her friends say and the chamber of commerce and all-year-around club perhaps hope, mean that Garbo is going to take root in southern California.

TWO NEGROES LYNCHED BY MISSISSIPPI MOB

WINONA, Miss., April 14 (AP)—The lynching of two negroes, their flesh seared with blow torch flames to exact "confessions" to the killing of a white man, was a two-fold investigation today even as Congress considered legislation to curb mob violence of such character.

The governor advised Chairman Hatton W. Summers of the House judiciary committee in Washington that he had ordered an investigation.

The negroes, accused of killing George Windham, a storekeeper, were taken from the custody of Sheriff E. E. Wright and two deputies by a mob—some estimated the number as high as 500—led by the sheriff described as "orderly."

Blow torches cooked their chests. Towns died from the burns. McDaniel was shot through the head.

Simultaneously, while flag waving strike pickets paraded at the Oshawa General Motors of Canada plant to show opposition to the "not Communists" CIO Union Organizer Hugh Thompson said a union official in Detroit had told him General Motors workers in the United States would "sit down again" if the company shipped cars from the United States to England to fill Oshawa orders.

Hepburn, in a letter he dictated to Labor Minister David Croll and Attorney General Arthur W. Roebuck, told them they must step out to assure provincial government unity in a great Canadian "economic crisis."

He said he would not confer with either minister pending their receipts of his request for their resignations.

Thompson attributed to Ed Hall, vice-president of the United Automobile Workers, the statement that United States workers would be "strike breakers" if they made cars for the export market normally belonging to the Oshawa plant.

Harry Carmichael, vice-president and general manager of the Oshawa plant, advised an English salesman yesterday that rush orders would have to be filled in the United States.

Meantime, 400 police stood ready to speed to Oshawa at the first sign of trouble. There was none this morning; only a flag waving demonstration.

FORESTS MORE POPULAR

BOISE, Idaho, April 13 (AP)—The nation's forests are gaining in popularity. R. G. Rutledge of Ogden, Utah, regional forester, said today the number of visitors in national forests increased from 52,000,000 persons in 1935 to 97,000,000 in 1936.

Britain's Sea Power Is Gone, Sneers Italy

ROME, April 14 (AP)—Italy's fascist publicists accused France today of sending Algerian troops to fight for the Spanish government, taunted Great Britain for her caution at sea and urged Spanish insurgent Gen. Franco to sink "enemy" ships at will.

Renewing his charges against France, the authoritative Virginia Gayda wrote in Il Giornale d'Italia: "It appears that on March 7, 250 Algerian militiamen left Tangier with Spanish passports, disembarked at Marsille and at once proceeded to the Red Spanish front."

"Between March 17 and March 18 there also left Tangier for French ports and Spain another 1,000 combatants."

"This followed upon fascist slurs on 'Britannia's lost supremacy' at sea."

At the same time, well informed circles declared that Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler of Germany were working jointly to barricade their eastern doors against communism in order to face the international problems of the Spanish civil war with more freedom.

The article in the semi-official fascist organ, Il Regime Fascista of Cremona, sarcastically asserted the Britannia that once ruled the waves "can no longer defend her ships."

The paper, generally believed to keynote opinion of the central wing of the fascist party, was founded by Roberto Farinacci, former secretary of the party, who is reported to be in insurgent Spain with the mission of organizing Italian volunteers in Franco's army.

The sharp attack launched against Great Britain charged the insular power with pretending "to have resolved maritime freedom by refusing to grant protection to her merchantmen within Spanish waters, blockaded off Bilbao by the insurgent fleet."

England, however, the paper charged, was "competing with France and Russia" in supplying the government forces and ended the article with an exhortation to the insurgents "to have no nervousness, then, in launching torpedoes and sinking enemy ships."

While fascist Italy awaited the outcome of the outbreak against Great Britain, persistent reports of a forthcoming visit to Rome by Hitler's chief aide, Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goerring, led to a growing belief Germany and Italy planned to remove any possibility of communist infiltration through "Europe's back door," before turning again to Spain.

Dangerous Nitro Cans Are Hunted

There's danger in the air—or rather in the can. Police Chief Art Hurst today warned that a number of 10-quart nitro-glycerin cans have been carried into the city from an abandoned magazine just east of the city limits.

The police chief said boys have gone to the magazine and brought the cans into various sections of the city.

They are oblong with two stopper holes in the top. The tops of the cans are only about 14 inches square, he stated.

"They are highly explosive if only a small portion of the nitro has been left clinging to the side or bottom of the can. They can be set off by a jar or in a bonfire," the chief said.

If anyone sees a can answering the description of the nitro-glycerin type they are requested to notify police at once.

Only a small portion of the deadly explosive in a can would be sufficient to blow a person to bits, the chief warned.

ONE-ACT PLAY TOURNEY OPENS HERE TOMORROW

Panhandle will present the first play in the district interscholastic league one-act play tournament at the high school auditorium at 9 o'clock. Pampa high school will present its "Cabbages," set on a family made newly-rich by oil at 10 o'clock.

The rest of the schedule for tomorrow follows: Briscoe, 11 o'clock; More at 1, Peryton at 2, LeFors at 3, Berger at 4, Miami at 5. The four best will be chosen to enter the semi-finals on Friday at 1 o'clock. The finals will be held on Friday night at 8 o'clock, unless otherwise announced. Kenneth Carmen, local director and speech teacher, said the admission charges will be 25 and 15 cents for adults and children. The contests will be open to the public.

Applause will not be allowed and no one may enter or leave the auditorium while a play is being presented.

Pampa will be defending the district title which local players have won three years in a row. Last year, two high school players, Mary Adams and Arvo Goddard, were picked at Austin in the finals as the best in the state. "Dust," the 1936 play, won in the district and in the region. All plays this year are comedies, by order of the State Interscholastic league.

ALLRED HOPES SALES TAX WILL BE SHUNNED

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP)—Governor Allred expressed the hope today that the legislature would not submit a constitutional amendment calling for a 2 per cent general sales tax. The Senate is considering such an amendment.

The governor said that until the tax plan contained in his program received a fair trial he did not favor any other suggested sure for the state's financial troubles.

Allred has advocated higher levies on natural resources and corporation franchises, submission of a constitutional amendment providing for property classification, and revision of property valuations to eliminate inequalities and tax evasions.

"Until those able to pay are paying their just share of the taxes," Allred said, "I'm not willing to see any further tax on the backs of the poor. The people who are most active against the income tax are the strongest for a sales tax. Yet the sales tax is nothing but an income tax on the poor man."

PANHANDLE DOCTORS TO MEET IN PAMPA

AMARILLO, April 14 (AP)—Dr. C. E. Donnell, of Canyon, took office as president of the Panhandle District Medical Society at the annual convention held here today. Dr. J. E. Crawford, Tulsa, became vice president, and Dr. Richard Keys, Amarillo, continued as secretary.

Among the prominent Texas doctors of the West, Texas program were Dr. John H. Sewell, Fort Worth; Dr. Robert B. Giles, Dallas; Dr. G. V. Brindley, Temple, and Dr. J. H. Burleson, San Antonio.

The fall meeting will be at Pampa.

C-C IS IN NEED OF BOTH MEN AND FINANCES

ISSUES CALLED VITAL TO CITY ARE DISCUSSED

What's ahead for Pampa? That question cannot be answered until it is determined how Pampans will support their chamber of commerce both financially and with man-power, it was declared by local speakers at the regular monthly membership luncheon in the basement of the Methodist church yesterday. President James Collins presided and Guy McTaggart was program chairman.

Speakers urged that the 1937 budget be increased so that Pampa's needs can be taken direct to the "head of the horse instead of working gradually from the ground up." Need of more active workers was also stressed in talks.

Co-operation and not a fight with our neighbors was urged by C. H. Walker, whose subject was "Conservation and Lakes." Mr. Walker said the proposed $4,325,000 dam for Patter county would be constructed across the Red river only if the government found that the Coahuila river dam was not sufficient to control flood waters on the Canadian river.

"Join and Progress" urged the speaker. "But at all times boost Pampa. We must fight for everything we can get. Some things we must have an increased budget."

There are two ways of securing a lake for Gray county, Mr. Walker said. One is through government aid and the other through a bond issue.

"The question before us is whether we will wait and see if the government will appropriate money for a lake or whether we will go ahead and vote a bond issue," Mr. Walker said.

"Build more homes, build more business houses and show that you believe in your city," urged Clyde Fatheree. "Interest rates are so low now that we cannot afford to let the opportunity pass."

The speaker urged that Pampans study current happenings and take an interest in affairs. He revealed that Gray county will lose many of its plants if legislation is not passed to protect oil and gas interests. Organization of an active committee to study the oil and gas situation in the area was advocated by the speaker.

Discusses Highways Fill gaps in our highways and then go after new roads, said M. A. Graham in discussing plans of the highway committee. Our highway situation shows that we start at Amarillo, then go to San Antonio, then to Austin, and finally to Washington, D. C.

"If we are to progress we are going to have to have money with which to fight for things we need," he declared. "Our future is in Pampa, let us make it a bright one."

It Otto Studer, discussing legislation, urged concentration on a few major problems at a time and to push them to completion before going after something else.

"We are so far from Austin and Washington, our government seats, that we can't have too many irons in the fire at once," the speaker said. "We must help those who are spending their own money and such of their time fighting our battles."

Startling Information Advertising Pampa through road markers, booklets, etc., is the plan of the publicity committee. Its report was presented by Dick Hughes who revealed the startling information that Pampa is not listed in the Santa Fe railroad folders and that several oil companies who issue road maps failed to show paved roads leading into Pampa.

The committee has already received promises of immediate action in correcting the oversight.

Pointing out the long life of the Beaumont, Corsicana, Texarkana and Wichita Falls oilfields, Ivy N. Duncan declared that an oilfield is never exhausted. New sands are being discovered and new pools uncovered all the time, he said.

"If we don't believe in our own city we are never going to get ahead," said the speaker. "People in Pampa who have made their fortunes in Pampa should have enough faith in their city to build and give for the betterment of their city."

"Back your chamber of commerce with large donations so that its leaders can go out and get things that will pay you back with interest," urged Mr. Duncan.

20TH CENTURY CLUB AND GUESTS GIVE BOOKS FOR LIBRARY.

CHINESE THEME IS STRESSED IN BOOK REVIEW

Annual Shower For Library Given in Hughhey Home

Chinese atmosphere was brought to the annual book shower of Twentieth Century club last evening, to set the stage for the program feature, a review of the novel, "Yang and Yin" by Alice Hobart, which was presented by Mrs. Allen Hodges at the home of Mrs. I. B. Hughhey.

Colorful lanterns hung in doorways and over the lace covered dining table where iced punch, cookies, mints, and salted nuts were served as the guests arrived. Deep pink snapdragons formed the centerpiece, flanked by candles in crystal holders. Snapdragons and roses lent their color to the living room, sun-room, and library, where guests were seated.

Mmes. A. H. Doucette, James E. Lyons, and W. A. Bratton were hostesses with Mrs. Hughhey. About 45 club members and their guests attended, each bringing a book to be presented to the public library.

Mrs. J. B. Massa introduced the speaker, saying that the author of "Yang and Yin" is an American woman who lived several years in China, and explaining that the title of the novel signifies a Chinese symbol for the two factors of life which they believe must balance to make a healthy and happy individual.

Both she and Mrs. Hodges wore Chinese costume. Mrs. Massa a man's black embroidered robe, and Mrs. Hodges a pale blue satin costume.

Mrs. Hodges reviewed the interesting narrative of an American doctor's life in China during the changing era from 1900 to 1930, when the very nature of the country was revolutionized by introduction and acceptance of western thought.

PROGRAM ON RADIO. Discussion of the radio as a means of adult education will feature the program for the Horace Mann Parent-Teacher Study group at its meeting tomorrow. All members are urged to be at the school at 2:30, and anyone interested in the subject is invited to attend.

Judge and Mrs. W. H. Ewing have as a guest this week her sister, Mrs. Frank Cox of Oklahoma City.

MRS. TINSLEY GIVES REPORT OF CONVENTION

Child Study Club's Program Is on The Home

A resume of the district federated club convention in Canyon last week as seen by a delegate, was given for Child Study club at its meeting yesterday afternoon when Mrs. George Cree was hostess at her home. Mrs. Roy Tinsley gave the report.

The program was on "The Home," with Mrs. Luther Pierson as leader. Her topic was "As Is the Home, So Is Community, County, State." Mrs. Harland Yoder discussed "A Re-evaluation of Home Training," stressing the vital importance of early years to the child.

Spring flowers decorated rooms where the club met, and sweet peas were placed on each refreshment plate.

Mrs. W. W. Boyd of McLean was a guest. Members present were Mmes. J. C. Volmert, Earl Eaton, Tom Darby, S. C. Evans, W. J. Foster, W. C. Hutchinson, Herman Jones, N. F. Maddux, Earle Scheig, H. C. Schofield, J. M. Smoot, Sherman White, Pierson, Yoder, Tinsley.

Weekly Visits Planned in WMU

Observance of each Thursday as a visitation day, and organization of a new circle for young women, were planned by Central Baptist Missionary union at a general business meeting in the church Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. B. Hilburn was in charge of a program from Royal Service magazine. The subject was "The French in Louisiana." Assisting in the discussions were Mmes. John O. Scott, S. L. Anderson, T. M. Gilliam, and G. C. Stark.

TWO PROGRAMS COMBINED FOR CULTURE CLUB

Federation Day Is Observed in One Division

Two programs were combined at the meeting of Twentieth Century Culture club yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. F. A. Howard was hostess at city club room. Mrs. Carl Boston was in charge of the program.

The first division continued a series on Latin-America, and dealt with fact and fiction about the pampas. Mrs. R. M. Johnson described the Argentine plains known as the pampas, and compared the gaucho with the Texas cowboy.

Impressions of Buenos Aires, largest city of Argentina were given by Mrs. Joe Burrow. An Argentine story, "Laucha's Marriage," was reviewed in a paper prepared by Mrs. C. W. Briscoe and read by Mrs. Marvin Lewis.

The second part of the program concerned federation. Mrs. Boston's talk, "Did You Know?" reported accomplishments of the federation year in an interesting manner. Mrs. F. E. Leech, club delegate to the recent federation convention in Canyon, gave her report of that district meeting.

A delicious plate lunch was served by Mrs. Howard.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usages by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it important that only a few persons be in a receiving line?
2. How long should a guest remain at a tea or reception?
3. May one ever answer a formal invitation informally?
4. Is it necessary to answer an invitation to a reception?
5. How should one dress for an evening reception that is not formal?

What would you do if—
You arrive at a formal dance and find that neither you nor the girl you have taken knows the person at the head of the receiving line?
(a) Let the girl introduce herself and then you?
(b) Introduce yourself and then your partner?
(c) Go up to the line and wait for the head of the line to introduce himself?

- Answers
1. Yes, usually not more than four.
  2. A half-hour is long enough.
  3. No, the answer must be written in the third person.
  4. No.
  5. A woman wears street clothes, with hat and gloves. A man, a business suit.
- Best "What Would You Do" solution—(b).

DELEGATES TO NATIONAL CLUB COUNCIL NAMED

EI Progresso Plans To Send Two to Tulsa

Attendance at the Council of the General Federation of Women's clubs, scheduled April 25-30 in Tulsa, Okla., was planned for delegates of EI Progresso club at a meeting yesterday. The council, business organization of the federation on years when no national convention is held, is open to all presidents of federated clubs.

Mrs. W. R. Ewing, EI Progresso president, plans to attend as an ex-officio delegate. Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar was elected by the club as alternate.

A federation day program was given in the club, which met in the home of Mrs. Dave Pope with Mrs. LeNora McMurtry as hostess. Mrs. Lee Ledrick was leader. She reported on the recent district club convention at Canyon, as the club delegate. Mrs. S. G. Surratt, was ill yesterday and unable to be at the meeting. Short convention reports were also given by Mmes. John Andrews, Hunkapillar, and Ewing, who were visitors during the meetings at Canyon.

Other members present were Mmes. George Briggs, W. M. Craven, J. M. Dodson, J. H. Kelley, Claude Ledrick, J. M. McDonald, Charles Thut James, Todd, George Walstad, L. C. Neely.

The chapter, Ten of 20 such officers now members of the order were present and each received a souvenir of the occasion.

Sam Isaacs was the only one present of the 20 charter members who organized the chapter October 12, 1904. He was also the first Worthy Patron and was given a seat of honor Monday night. The first Worthy Matron, Mrs. Hannah Hopkins, now resides in Amarillo. Mrs. Thelma Carver is the present Worthy Matron and H. S. Wilbur is the Worthy Patron.

CLOSING PROGRAMS OF TERM ARE PLANNED IN P-TA UNITS AS NEW OFFICERS TAKE POSTS

Picnic and Faculty Party Are Wilson Projects

End-of-school activities were planned in Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association yesterday, when about 80 members met at the school building. Girl Scouts of the new Woodrow Wilson troop, 33 in number, were honor guests.

A picnic was planned for May 7 at the LeFors park or at the school according to the weather. Teachers in the school will be entertained with a theater party before the term ends, in accordance with annual custom.

New officers were installed by Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, retiring president, who presided with a radio table as an expression of appreciation from the unit. Mrs. T. F. Morton is the new president, Mrs. Tom Perkins vice president, Mrs. E. M. Kelley secretary, Mrs. Louis Turpley treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Posey historian.

The program was on Safety, given in panel fashion with Principal A. L. Patrick of Sam Houston school as leader. Mrs. L. L. Ford, Mrs. A. L. Burge, F. E. Shryock, and Joe Shelton took part. A safety reading was given by Carolyn Darnell. Whistling solos by Mrs. Roy West, and songs by Barbara Lou Walters and Blaine Qualls, who took high places in the Panhandle Musical Festival contest last week, furnished entertainment.

The publicity record book from Sam Houston school, which placed first in the district contest, and that of Woodrow Wilson unit, which received a high grade, were on display. In the attendance count, E. L. Seastrand's and Loye Ruckman's rooms tied, and will share the award, use of the school radio, next month.

A called meeting of Beta Sigma Phi for important business is announced for this evening at 7 in the home of Mrs. Raymond Harrah. Members are urged to attend.

Constipated 30 Years

"For thirty years I had stubborn constipation. Sometimes I did not go for four or five days. I also had awful gas bloating, headache and pain in the back. Adierka helped right away. Now I eat sausage, bananas, figs, anything I want and never feel better. I sleep soundly all night and enjoy life."
—Mrs. Mabel Schell
If you are suffering from constipation, stomachache, gas bloating, there is quick relief for you in Adierka. Many report action in thirty minutes after taking just one dose. Adierka gives complete action, cleansing your bowels, treating ordinary laxatives do not even reach.
Dr. H. L. Shubb, New York, writes: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierka checks the growth of bacterial bacteria and gives your bowels a real cleansing with Adierka and see how good you feel. Just one powerful reliever, Adierka and stubborn constipation."

Fathers and Charter Members at Baker To Be Feted

Dad's Night, postponed from last month, will be observed on April 27 in B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher association. It was decided at the meeting yesterday. Plans were also made for the final meeting of this term in May, when charter members will be honor guests and mothers of pre-school children will be invited.

New officers were installed yesterday. Mrs. L. H. Anderson taking office as president to succeed Mrs. Roy Holt. A past-president's pin was given to Mrs. Holt from the association, in appreciation for her leadership the past few years.

Mrs. V. L. Hobbs became vice-president, Mrs. C. E. Simmons secretary, Mrs. Cecil Lunsford treasurer, and Mrs. M. D. Dwight historian.

Two plays were given on the program. Sixth grade students presented a safety skit, and faculty members a dramatization on the work of Horace Mann, noted educator. Mrs. Anderson led songs.

Reports from delegates to the recent district conference at Perryton were heard, as were reports of standing committees and room mothers.

First grade room mothers were in charge of the social period.

EVENING P-TA MEETING HELD

Students Give Play For Junior High Association

An evening meeting of Junior High Parent-Teacher association in the new school auditorium last evening was featured by a play by students and a talk by Principal R. A. Selby. The talk was one given at the recent Parent-Teacher convention, on "What Students Think of Their Parents."

The play, "One to Grow On," was presented by the play-production class under direction of Eugene Mann. The plot dealt with child labor. In the cast were Geraldine Smith, Aubrey Green Jr., Bonnie Lea Rose, Ed Terrell, and Jean Lively.

Announcement was made that this group of students will give a public program of plays on April 20. The program opened last evening with songs led by Mrs. Ray Reeder. Miss Opal McKay's room received the attendance award.

A called meeting of the executive board was announced by Mrs. Claude Lard, president, for 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in Mr. Selby's office. All old and new officers are asked to be present for transaction of special business.

M. E. CIRCLE MEETS
Circle one of First Methodist Missionary society had Mrs. Sam Cook as program leader when it met in the home of Mrs. W. R. Frazee Monday afternoon. She conducted a devotional and a lesson from the year-book. Mrs. F. W. Shotwell gave the closing prayer. Refreshments were served to eight members.

CLASS TO ATTEND CHURCH.
Members of Three-H class of First Baptist church will meet Thursday morning and attend the morning revival service in a body. All members are urged to be present at the church in time for the 10 o'clock meeting.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Gray County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon W. W. Edwards by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the 31st District Court of Gray County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Pampa, Texas, on the 5th Monday in May, A. D. 1937, the same being the 31st day of May, A. D. 1937, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 5th day of September, A. D. 1936, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 4313, wherein Mrs. E. J. Case, a feme sole, Ellen M. Case and husband, A. T. Case, H. B. Tiemann and husband, A. A. Tiemann, are plaintiffs, and W. W. Edwards is defendant, and said petition alleges:

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Gray.

To the Honorable 31st District Court of Gray County, Texas:

Come now Mrs. E. J. Case, a feme sole, Ellen M. Case, her next and pro forma by her husband, A. T. Case, H. B. Tiemann, joined herein pro forma by her husband, A. A. Tiemann, hereinafter styled plaintiffs, and complainants of W. W. Edwards, hereinafter styled defendant, and respectfully represents:

1st. Plaintiff Mrs. E. J. Case is a resident of County, State of Colorado; plaintiffs H. B. Tiemann and husband, A. A. Tiemann, are residents of Gray County, Texas, and are plaintiffs Ellen M. Case and husband, A. T. Case; the defendant herein is a non-resident of the State of Texas and resides in the State of Oklahoma.

2nd. On or about the 17th day of February, 1927, plaintiff Mrs. E. J. Case, who was then the legal owner and holder of the entire title to the East halves of Sections 181 and 182, Block B-2, H. & G. N. Ry. Co. Surveys in Gray County, Texas, containing 33.5 acres of land, more or less, executed and delivered an oil and gas lease thereon to the defendant W. W. Edwards, as lessee, under the terms and effect of which lease said property was demised to the defendant for a term of 5 years, and as long thereafter as oil, gas, casinghead gas, casinghead gasoline, or any of them, are or can be produced from said land, with the right vested in the lessee thereunder to mine and operate for and produce oil and gas, casinghead gas and casinghead gasoline, with the right of laying pipe lines, building tanks, storing oil, building power houses, telephone lines and other structures thereon to produce, save, take care of and manufacture all of such substances, said lease containing other terms and provisions unnecessary herein to set forth, other than the following provisions, set out in Paragraph 8 thereof, viz:

"8th. The lessee shall have the right to use, free of cost, gas, oil and water found on said land for its operations thereon, except water from the wells of the lessor. When required by lessor, the lessee shall bury pipe lines below plow depth and shall pay for damages caused by its operations to growing crops on said land," etc.

Said lease also contains the following terms and provisions, viz:

"The lessee shall pay to the lessor, one-eighth of the proceeds of the sale of gas, as such, each year, for gas while the same is being sold or used off the premises."

Plaintiffs further respectfully show unto the Court that after the execution and delivery of said lease the defendant entered upon said premises, and commenced operations thereon for the purpose of drilling oil and gas wells thereon and has conducted various drilling operations, unnecessary to be alleged in detail herein, since said date, and is now in possession of said premises under the terms of said lease. Plaintiffs further respectfully show unto the Court that in the conduct of such drilling operations the defendant has caused the construction of various derricks, slush pits, cellars, roads, pipe line rights of way, houses, and structures upon said premises, all of which occupy an area in excess of the 15 acres upon said land and all of which structures have been upon said premises for many years past and during all of which years time, from the date of the execution and delivery of said lease to date hereof, the owners of said land have lost the use of said area, so damaged by the lessee in the conduct of his said drilling operations, and that the crops upon said lands which could have been planted and harvested by the owners of said land would be of the value of $300.00 per annum, and which caused damage to plaintiff Mrs. E. J. Case, as the owner of the surface rights to said land, of the sum of $1,200.00, being the amount of the damages sustained by her as a result of the loss of said land for the past four years preceding the institution of this suit.

3rd. Plaintiffs further respectfully show unto the Court that since the date of the execution and delivery of said lease the defendant herein has sold water from said premises, to adjoining lessees, for drilling operations conducted upon lands other than those owned by any of the plaintiffs, in this case, in excess of the value of $1,000.00, and for none of which has the defendant herein accounted to plaintiff Mrs. E. J. Case, as the owner thereof, all to her additional damage in said sum of $1,000.00.

4th. Plaintiffs further respectfully show unto the Court that since the date of the execution and delivery of said lease, and during the year 1928, plaintiff Mrs. E. J. Case sold an undivided one-half interest in the oil and minerals under said land to plaintiffs Ellen M. Case and H. B. Tiemann, who have been the owners of an undivided one-half interest in the oil and minerals under said lands since said date, and that plaintiffs herein have been entitled to receive the oil and gas royalties payable under the terms of said lease since 1928, and that since said date the defendant herein has sold gas from said premises to other operators for their use in conducting drilling operations upon lands

PRESIDENT IS TIGHTENING UP PURSE STRINGS

WASHINGTON, April 14. (AP)—The administration, faced with failure of tax revenue to reach estimates, began tightening federal purse strings today.

President Roosevelt instructed heads of all government agencies to effect an immediate curtailment of expenditures for the remainder of the fiscal year.

Secretary Wallace promptly announced 850 workers would be removed from the Agricultural Administration payroll at the end of this month.

Mr. Roosevelt's order yesterday said the expenditure cut would be used to prevent the deficit from being far greater than the $2,652,654,000 estimate.

Treasury officials said they did not know how much could be whittled from projected expenditures, but asserted substantial cuts probably could be effected.

There was conjecture over whether other department heads would follow Wallace's lead in slashing employment rolls.

The President will send to Congress next week revised budget estimates for both the 1937 and 1938 fiscal years, together with his estimate of relief needs for the latter.

Led by Senator Byrnes (D., S. C.), some prominent Democratic senators are proposing a cut in relief spending. Byrnes is surveying the financial conditions of states to determine whether they could take over a larger portion of the relief load next year.

Through April 10, the treasury had collected $1,532,645,000 from income levies, or $840,000,000 less than the original estimate for the entire year. At $700,272,000, March collections fell about $140,000,000 under informal estimates.

Mr. Roosevelt recalled he had ordered departments to slash expenditures last year, but said the instructions did not go out until late in May. The earlier demand this year, he said, should make possible larger savings.

For this year, the January budget estimated outlays at $8,480,804,000. Spending thus far has aggregated $7,792,992,000, with debt retirement and other year-end outlays still to be met.

Women to Attend Presbyterian at McLean Friday

Women of the Presbyterian church at McLean are preparing to entertain about 75 visitors Friday and Saturday at the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the Amarillo Presbyterian society. A number of members of the Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary here plan to attend the meeting, to which Mrs. L. C. Neely is delegate.

Mrs. T. J. Coffey is president of the McLean Auxiliary. Mrs. Allen Wilson secretary, and Mrs. S. D. Shelbourne pianist. Mrs. R. G. Glennin of Tulsa is district president.

Miss Mary Turner, secretary of the Foreign Board of Missions, and Mrs. Ashley Lawson of Post, synodical secretary for young people and seniors, will be the featured program guests. Miss Turner will speak Friday evening and again Saturday morning while Mrs. Lawson's address will be at 4 p. m. Friday.

Election of officers for next year, reports, and various discussions will make up the program, which starts at 1 p. m. Friday.

ASSOCIATION TO BAN OIL DRILLING FORMED

PORT LAVACA, April 14. (AP)—Texas coastal cities today studied a plea for effective legislation banning oil well drilling in shallow waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

Henry Flagg, head of the Gulf Coast Anti-Pollution association, warned business men here last night the first such well might be a wedge which would block efforts to prevent further drilling. He said such coastal drilling had been a political issue in California for 16 years and that opponents there had been unable to stop it because they "permitted a first well."

"We propose to prevent the first well being drilled in Texas," he added.

The association was formed last week. It announced it would appeal to all coastal cities to join its fight to "save for all the people" the resort and fishing grounds along the Gulf.

owned by others than the plaintiffs, to the value of $5,600.00, plaintiffs' one-eighth royalty thereunder being the sum of $700.00, and for none of which has the defendant herein accounted to plaintiffs, to plaintiffs' damage in said sum of $700.00.

Wherefore, premises considered, plaintiffs pray that the defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and that at time of trial hereof they have judgment against the defendant for their said damages, together with all costs of this suit, as well as such other and further relief, general or special, legal or equitable, as may be their due upon the facts herein shown.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Pampa, Texas, this 27th day of March, A. D. 1937.

MIRIAM WILSON, Clerk, District Court, Gray County. (Seal)

YOUR CHILDREN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON.

There should be a balance of power between parents.

It happens that when a father becomes too arbitrary and domineering (or let us just say "dominating"), that the mother, too, shares part of his control, and allies herself with the children. If daddy is too cross or unreasonable, she hides and protects the lambs from his roar; and although we can forgive her and even cheer her, the whole situation is unfortunate indeed.

For this is what happens. The children depend on her only for sanctuary and begin to question even her authority, unless she happens to be a person of unusual talent for keeping respect and the reins of rule.

Parents Must Be Reasonable.

We are trying, of course, to instill in all children self-control, self-government and honor. Theoretically it is an excellent idea. But this is not the case, just and entirely reasonable parent, both parents, which is too much to expect. But at that, it is well for all children to feel that above their own independence there are people to answer to. The home is the miniature world and all of us must learn respect and obedience to authority.

Johnny, whose father is mean, as he calls it, will learn to hide behind his mother's skirts. On the other hand, mother may be unreasonably strict, while the father attempts to excuse and make peace.

He, Johnny, will learn to select one parent to obey. If, at table, Dad says, "Eat your beans," and Mother pleads, "He isn't hungry, Henry," or "The beans aren't cooked the way he likes," Master John is going to ease himself out of a tough spot.

"Mom said I needn't," he says, and he doesn't eat the beans.

We must allow for the faults of growing children and not be too hard on them, but we should not go to the other extreme and feel that each time Dad gives an order, he is being cruel. Not unless he is cruel.

Remonstrance Becomes Habit.

One of the hardest things in the world is for a mother to keep quiet when her husband is using authority with a high hand. But where occasionally it is right enough for her to say, "No, Henry, Johnny did the best he could," or "He is really too tired to do that," she can fall into the habit of remonstrance before she knows it.

Parents should co-operate, but they cannot, always. A man may have one idea and his wife another. Each should try, however, as far as possible to see the good in each other's motives, and allow for it.

The child should feel that each of his parents tacitly backs the other. And if he thinks that things are a trifle unreasonable at times, he must get used to it.

Katherine Ward of Pampa, student at Mary Hardin-Baylor college, Belton, has been nominated sophomore representative on the college legislative council last week. Voting is to be held this week on the nominees.

Mrs. E. E. Smith and daughter, Carolyn, of Amarillo are returning home today after a short visit with Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. H. F. Barnhart. Mrs. Kenneth Kurtz of Borger, another daughter of Mrs. Barnhart, is here with her small son, Jean, to spend the remainder of the week.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED FOR MISS KENNEDY

Teacher at McLean To Be Married In June

BY MRS. JIM BACK.

McLEAN, April 14.—Announcement of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, for seven years head of the English department in the local high school, to Edward F. Kennedy of Laramie, Wyo., which is to take place on June 1, was made at a unique cowboy dinner given by Miss Aline McCarty and Mrs. Roger Powers in the Powers home Monday evening. Members of the Sigma Gamma were guests.

Guests were seated at card tables laid with red table cloths and red bandana handkerchiefs for napkins. The room was lighted with old-fashioned kerosene lamps. Place cards held cowboys and cowgirls mounted on wild bucking horses and printed on the front of each was: "Look inside and you will see What a Wyoming cowboy just told me."

On the inside was: "Elizabeth and Edward, June 1."

Present for the occasion were the honorees, Misses Elizabeth Deal, Jewel Cousins, Lillian Abbott, Odesa Kunkel, Mildred Bessie, Madeline Ray, Helen Heath, Ima Nell Still, Margaret Hess, Nona Cousins, Sarah Truitt, Eunice Stratton, Frances Noel; Mrs. Marie Vogel, and the hostess.

Miss Kennedy has been very popular among students, clubs, church and social groups during her tenure of teaching here. Mr. Kennedy, the groom-to-be, is construction engineer, employed by the Wheatland Reservoir corporation, now located near Laramie, where they will be at home to their friends after the wedding.

District Meet Entrants.

McLean school representatives who will enter the district meet this week-end at Pampa are: Dannie Hiel, 880-yard run; Nicholson Patrick, Hiel, and Finley, mile relay; John Bond, shotput; Viola and Mary Lou Clements, tennis doubles.

Walter McCord and Hobart Moore, declamation; Catherine Belew, extemporaneous speaking; essay, Emerald Floyd; Joyce Pubright, declamation from the ward school.

Boys Find Skeleton.

Lloyd Erwin, Pampa Daily News boy in McLean, Clyde and Robert Wright discovered an Indian grave near where they were picking up a beam and three arrow heads on last Saturday while on an excursion trip on the Noel ranch about nine miles north of McLean. The skeleton had been buried sitting up, the boys reported, and the same had blown away until the skull was exposed, causing the boys to notice it. They dug and found all of the body except one leg. One side of the skull was cracked and appeared to have had a heavy lick on the side of the head. The boys brought the head in to the science teacher, Otto Hiel, who treated it so that it might be preserved.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Heard are new residents of McLean, having moved here from Pampa.

BREAD PRICES UP

CHICAGO, April 14. (AP)—Increase in bread prices recorded in several large cities this week was termed by W. M. Quinlan of the American Bakers' Association today "a natural and long overdue reaction" to rising production and distribution costs. Bread prices were increased in New York, St. Paul and Cleveland. A member of the Bakers' club board of governors predicted a rise in Chicago prices.

LOYALISTS HOLD GAINS DESPITE NEW ATTACK

MADRID, April 14. (AP)—Gen. Franco's gunners tested a new wrinkle in artillery warfare today while the government's own shell-fire barred urgently needed supplies from his beleaguered University City garrison.

Artillerymen camped on the capital's outskirts turned smaller calibered anti-aircraft guns on the city. Several casualties were reported from such an attack yesterday.

The guns, already attuned to difficult targets, planted the shells with remarkable accuracy in various parts of the city.

Franco's forces, seeking to shatter the nearly-closed ring about 3,000 of their number in University City, hurled tanks and infantry against Gen. Jose Miaja's men during the night.

After a pitched battle Miaja announced he had held his gains despite Casa de Campo and University City.

There was a gap of about 700 yards to be closed along the Manzanares river before the University City force could be isolated completely from the Casa de Campo sector.

The insurgents restored part of a wrecked bridge across the river and attempted in vain to penetrate into University City with tanks bearing supplies for the 3,000 men. Other provisions, however, reached the besieged garrison in barrels pulled across the river on ropes.

Pupil at Horace Mann Wins Story Telling Contest

Patsy Ruth Husband of Horace Mann school placed first in story telling contests at the city meet of ward school contestants yesterday at the new school auditorium. Jimmy Rhoades of Sam Houston was second, Tracy Cary of Horace Mann third, Helen Geneva Pollard of B. M. Baker third.

Second and third grade pupils completed in the contests. First grade story tellers competed only in their own schools.

After the contest yesterday, a short program was given for the pupils attending. The Sam Houston Glee club sang; Vada Lee Alden of Horace Mann gave an acrobatic dance; and the one-act play cast from the high school presented their play, "Cabbages."

Cullum Files Suit To Foreclose on Farm Machinery

A lawsuit seeking to foreclose on a $700 chattel mortgage on farm machinery purchased a year ago was filed in district court today by Cullum & Son, of Pampa, against L. C. Gomillion.

The petition charges that the defendant failed to make payments outlined in an agreement at the time of the purchase.

THE AMERICAN MOTORIST BILL

In the current issue of The Automotive Industries, it is pointed out that the American motorist paid over ten billion twenty million dollars for automobiles and their maintenance in the year 1932. This, the magazine points out, is about one-sixth of the national income.

It is fine that people can have automobiles and enjoy the wonderful benefits of travel and have an opportunity to see the beauties of nature, get the fresh air and more often visit their friends.

Twenty-five years ago, a very small fraction of the national income was spent on individual transportation. As science, invention and capital make it possible for people to live better, a larger and larger fraction of the national income is spent in other than food and shelter and this part of the desires of men is unlimited.

Would that we could spend many times as much for things that give people as much pleasure, health and comfort as automobiles.

A WARNING

Dictators seem to be riding high in Europe, on the whole, but now and then a news item appears that suggests everything may not be well with them. Such a story was published the other day, and has to do with Schiller's drama, "Don Carlos," which has been staged in Berlin and throughout Germany.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—Brewing in the congressional "third house" is one of the grandest scraps over foreign policy that Congress has witnessed in some seasons.

Some weeks ago this column recorded that there would be a growing White House and state department pressure to give the President greater discretion in administration of the arms embargo machinery. The senate was reminded mildly by R. Walton Moore, assistant secretary of state, of the administration wishes.

Nevertheless by a vote of 62 to 6 the senate passed a bill to continue indefinitely the present law under which the President must embargo arms, ammunition and implements of war from recognized belligerents. Discretion was given him only to prohibit American ships from carrying certain other commodities when such trade becomes dangerous.

But the house felt the pressure and responded wholly in the other direction. It passed a bill by a 347 to 12 vote giving the President discretionary authority as to whether arms embargoes should be imposed and discretionary in most other particulars in which the senate bill had been made mandatory.

In that manner the question was committed to a conference of representatives of both houses. Now the conference committee, the congressional "third house," can recommend acceptance of either bill and report it back to the two houses for a vote on the recommendation. But while the house, last year, proved it could accept the senate's desire for mandatory legislation, the senate proved it would not. And that provides the makings of a real tussle.

Chairman Pittman of the senate foreign relations committee, head of the senate conferees, goes into the conference knowing he must win acceptance of the senate bill or come back to face one of the most riotous arguments of his career. Senators Clark, Nye, Vandenberg, Johnson of California, Borah and Bone have indicated time after time that they simply would brook no such things as discretionary arms legislation. Pittman himself, once agreeable to discretionary legislation, is now converted solidly to the mandatory type.

Johnson has indicated the only compromise he would accept would be to scuttle the whole legislation. Yet the amazing thing is that, knowing the battle ahead, both senate and house conferees have postponed coming to blows until now they are face to face with a dangerous "deadline." The present arms embargo act expires May 1 and unless an agreement is reached before that time they may have a recurrence of that silly incident of last January when they lost a race with a munitions exporter who beat them to sea with a boat load of planes before they could outlaw shipments to Spain.

TEX'S TOPICS

A young man who is preparing a theme for his English teacher on the general subject of "Courtesy in Business," just dropped in to ask for a few pointers. He figured, he said, that as long as we were in business we should know something about courtesy and its relationship to the general public. The lack of courtesy has wrecked many a business. To attain lasting good will with those whom you are serving every day, any business must practice courteous treatment of the public from president of the company down to the janitor.

What damage even a telephone operator can do to a business! You know how it is—you've had the experience many times. You call a certain number, having in mind the giving of an order for something you wish to buy. You hear the receiver picked up and a voice on the other end says: "Yeah, this is Jones, Jones and Jones—whaddaya want?" Flooey! It may be the best company in the world, and it may be selling the best product known in its line—but the person who let you down with that "yeah, whaddaya want?" business has kicked the bottom out of its stock. The president and all other members and employees of the firm may be courteous to the last word, but the telephone operator has turned the trick. You think to yourself: It must be SOME company that would employ a telephone operator who is so discourteous.

That's only one of the countless examples of the part that courtesy plays in business. There are many, many other angles equally as important. Business courtesy should carry sincerity. Without it, there is nothing more than an empty gesture, easily detected. We made mention here yesterday of the growing appreciation for music in Pampa. In this connection, we wish to call attention again to the appearance here next Monday night of the Albuquerque Junior Symphony orchestra which will stop off for a one-night concert enroute to the East.

This musical unit is one of the finest of its type in the nation. Music lovers of Pampa will want to avail themselves of an opportunity to hear this stellar organization. Pampa is one of the few towns on the trip East that has been selected for stop-over performances. The Junior Symphony of Albuquerque has shown its confidence in Pampa music devotees, and one feels certain that Pampans will reward this excellent orchestra with a full house in the City Auditorium on Monday night.

A survey shows modern students are taller than their fathers. But whose fault is it that fathers are always short. "Middleweight Champion Steele offered $35,000 for tie fight." This is not, however, a scrap iron quotation. A film exec says, "There's something about going to the theater that television can't supply." Still, Junior could be bribed to step on feet and eat peanuts.

A Pampa papa says it is hard to determine if the new arrival is for or against labor in the Michigan situation. He yells "UAW," but he won't let anyone sit down. It seems to be a trend. A westerner wrote a book without an "e," and wasn't there a recent novel entitled "I-less in Gaza?" School children are being guarded from Communism nowadays. Perhaps the girl in the book should be called Little Red White and Blue Riding Hood. A Viennese barber won a contest by shaving a man in 18 seconds. With time out, of course, for replacing divots.

The salary of London's Lord Mayor, which had been fixed at $50,000 since 1875, has been raised to $75,000. The first electric lighted train in America was put into service on the Pennsylvania lines in 1887. Many birds mate for life and many keep within sight and hearing of their mate year in and year out. Yugoslavia has 6,327 miles of railways.

Moving pictures were given to the world by Thomas A. Edison in his basic patent of 1883. With the invention of the "gramophone" in 1878, he laid the basis for sound pictures. Canada exported $23,697,000 worth of copper bars, rods, etc., during the year 1932. The 1937 gross income from agricultural production in the United States will be $9,530,000,000, according to estimates by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY Mayor F. P. Reid was re-elected president of the Fort Elliott highway association at its meeting here. L. N. McCullough and J. M. Dodson were among the Pampans mentioned as attending a baseball game at Amarillo. Miss Mary Hobart was hostess when the Friday Thirteen bridge club was organized. Mrs. Mack Graham and Mrs. E. E. Fisher received the score prizes.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY County Democratic Chairman Siler Faulkner flayed the attitude of Al Smith on Roosevelt's candidacy for presidential nomination, after an address by Smith at a national gathering. Elections in Parent-Teacher associations named Mrs. W. Purviance as president-elect of Junior High. Mrs. J. W. Crowder of B. M. Baker, Mrs. J. M. Turner of Horace Mann unit. John B. Hessey, county superintendent, was elected president of the Gray County Superintendents and Principals association.

THE APPROACHING CRISIS

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—First they wouldn't then they would!

That's just a description of the public's attitude toward one of Irving Berlin's best songs, a song he never hears without crossing his fingers and chuckling all the way home. Back in 1918 he wrote "Easter Bonnet," but it never became popular. Then several years ago, he revised it as a part of "Easter Parade," and it blossomed into the most whistled, warbled and played tune of the day. That's why Berlin never tosses away a manuscript. Wise in the ways of the public's fancy, he realizes that chicken to-day often means hash or croquettes tomorrow.

Now back to 1918: Berlin was busy at that time providing Fannie Eric with appropriate ditties to sing in Flo Ziegfeld's shows. One of the best was "Yiddle on the Fiddle." Another tune that wowed 'em was "Hollah for Moah." This, however, was by no means Mlle. Brice's first acquaintance with the musical compositions of Senor Berlin. As far back as 1910, when she was the $40 a week soubrette in "College Girl," she was making her first splash with a soulful number called "Sadie Salome." It was then that Ziegfeld, realizing he had a star, tore up her old contract and offered her a new one for $75 a week. Later, Berlin became rich, too.

The latest additions to the coterie of first nighters include Odile de Azevedo and Dulcina de Moraes, Brazil's wealthiest actors and comparable in the pampas country to our own Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne. And why are they here? Well, for one thing, President Roosevelt invited them when he was in South America shortly after his re-election. Then, too, they would like to have the Brazilian rights to "To-variach," the French play about Russian aristocrats who hire themselves out as servants. If this comedy is successful, as it well may be, Brazil will be the 13th country and the 9th language in which this comedy has been presented. In no country or tongue has it been a failure.

Denouncing one of those pests who interfere with his practicing, Frank Black pianist, barked this quotation from Rubenstein, who, apparently, had pest-trouble too: "If I neglect to practice one day, I know it. Two days and my friends know it. If I neglect it three days, my public will know it." Equally effective but less erudite was this rejoinder from Dayton Stoddard, directed at a night club annoyner who absolutely would not be suppressed: "You could out-ugly an alligator, spotting the alligator two staves!"

THAT'S DIFFERENT BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Police frown on hitch-hikers. Finding $40 in the purse of the pretty blonde, she was taken to headquarters. Mrs. Mildred Turquena, 20, explained she earned the money as a waitress to pay her husband's tuition at a Seattle engineering school. Lonely, she was hiking to visit him. The foraging police motored her to the city limits where she thumbed her way aboard a truck. L. W. Stagner of McCook, Neb., has kept a diary in shorthand since January 1, 1889. His conclusion: "If a man could read his life history, he wouldn't want to live it over again."

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

There are two young women who every day go out on their path on their way to work so they can pass by a house trailer parked outside an automobile agency, and they have inspected it several times and they always stand on their tiptoes and look through the windows and at intervals throughout the day they envision places they would go in the trailer and the people they would meet, and the fun of rolling down the highways in a house on wheels, and they say that if they should come to a spot in some faraway place of course they would park the car and enjoy the woods, or the flowers, or the mountains, or the stream, or the Stranger they have met, or whatever would cause two young women to be in the trailer and between the two of them they talk softly and wistful-eyed about where they would go if they had that trailer, and they know how the furnishings are arranged in it, and just how many drawers there are in the dresser, and the kitchen cabinet, and alas, they also know how much it costs, so it is not likely that they will strike out to the coast of Maine, to Canada, or to Arkansas, or to the West Coast in that trailer. They would rather continue to live in a lifeless world of words, figures, . . .

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—The tang of the briny deep blows over "Captains Courageous," first of the Hollywood Kipling cycle to reach the screen. And the real stars are a couple of sailing schoolboys, as pretty as ever you saw and the old devil sea, camera-captured in moods from calm to storm.

The story of a spoiled brat regenerated through the devotion of a simple Portuguese fisherman is effectively told, and unless you're one of those Hollywood sophisticates who dismiss it as "hokum." The unique Freddie Bartholomew is the boy, and Spencer Tracy, doing his first screen dialect and singing, is the brave, soft-hearted Manuel. Lone Barrymore is Captain Disko of the "We're Here," and Oscar O'Shea plays captain of the rival "Jennie Cushman." Melvyn Douglas is Freddie's father, and there are also Charley Grapewin, long John Carradine, Mickey Rooney, and never a girl.

The picture, beset by the furies of weather and illness, took 17 months to make. One life was lost at sea. The thrill high spot of the film is the near-capturing of the "We're Here," not faked but photographed from the "Cushman" during a storm. A scene was added to the script to include this. Tracy, in the key role, plays it so naturally that the character's influence dominates even after his fictional death. His singing isn't bad, either. Picture Without Stars "Top of the Town" is a distinct novelty for Hollywood—a million-dollar production without a star. The large cast is composed mainly of newcomers, with Hugh Herbert as the only established "draw." Doris Nolan, George Murphy, Gertrude Niesen, Peggy Ryan, Ella Logan and the Three Sailors are among those yet to prove themselves at the box-office. It's about a very rich girl whose

SEX EDUCATION

Sex education should not be confused with sex instruction. This was urged by Dr. Susan Isaacs during a recent talk she made before the British Physiological society. An individual may possess, as many adults do, an appreciable knowledge on sexual matters and yet from the viewpoint of his or her emotional or feeling attitude toward the subject, may be "badly educated."

Sex education of course includes knowledge of the essential facts of reproduction, but in addition it is also concerned with the individual's wishes and relations to people. Dr. Isaacs correctly maintains that sex education has for its objective the fostering of right attitudes, of wisdom and of happiness. The aims of life are therefore involved in sex education. Moreover, it goes on all through an individual's life, whether conscious or not.

Obviously, the sex education of the young is not to be attained entirely by specific instruction. The child is quite likely to learn much by observing the common everyday relations of his elders. A happy, harmonious home gives the child the right background against which to set the specific factual knowledge of sex physiology. Around this knowledge will prevail a feeling tone of goodness, respect and gratification. In an undefined way he will sense that sex pertains to the "life giving loving, and creating," and not to hating or destroying.

When the child begins to ask questions about birth, or sexual differences, his questions should be answered as simply as possible. Elaborate descriptions of sexual anatomy or physiology are more likely to confuse and bewilder the child than they are to enlighten him.

The questions of small children are best answered by the parent, those of older children by other people. The child who fails to ask question may not be lacking in curiosity, but he may be laboring under an anxiety. One significant experience in the child's development is the manner in which it acquires what is termed a sense of modesty. All too often this comes by way of being shamed, rather than by being encouraged to cultivate and to respect personal privacy.

How to Get Your Money's Worth

Most people go through life spending all the money they earn, but getting very little value out of it. Knowledge about money makes every dollar of greater value to its owner. It leads to confidence and independence—dividends, ignorance about money, its uses, its earning power, its spending sensibly, and saving systematically, leads to poverty and dependency in old age.

This booklet contains 32 pages—a ruled page for each month's accounts and 20 pages of guidance on spending, saving, investing. Model budgets for every income.

Authoritative statistics on home budgets from the most recent governmental cost-of-living surveys. Printed on special paper to preserve ink or pencil records.

Know where your money goes, then you will begin to save. Get a copy of this helpful booklet and begin keeping a record of your income. Act today. Ten cents postpaid.

This, That and Everything

BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK

I heard a story the other day that would stand a good chance to take the prize in most any "telling" contest. I am going to put it one to you without vouching for its veracity, but with the assurance that whoever created it had a very creative imagination.

A piano was being moved from one house to another. It was to be taken without protection during the move. The lid was lifted for over the keys in the shuffle and the hallstones fell upon those keys with such amazing regularity and sequence that the entire tune of "Yankee Doodle" was rendered out a single discord. Now I think we would all readily agree that such a strange combination of events is a possibility—its probability, however, is another proposition.

So They Say:

Remember that the keys to man's heart are words of praise and food well served. When occasion calls, feed him and flatter him.—Dr. L. Morgan Chambers, Trenton, N. J., advising women of his congregation.

The American worker is indigent, but the American industrialist is a slave—Jan Bata, Czechoslovakian shoe magnate, visiting the United States.

What this world needs today is little more of the faith of our fathers—Police Recorder Duffy, Paterson, N. J., who sentenced five criminals to read a chapter of the Bible every day for three months.

Improved business conditions have enlarged opportunities for employment.—Secretary of Labor Frank Perkins.

There is a greater depth and sweep to Wagner's operas. They require much more of a singer—more study, more preparation.—M. Lotia Lehman, Austrian opera singer.

WPA HOUSEMAIDS' SCHOOL

Ellen S. Woodward, assistant administrator in charge of women projects, has prepared a program to train needy young women household employment. The project calls for wages while learning to cook, wash, iron, clean, shop and take care of children.

PAMPA BASEBALL CLUB OPENS SEASON WITH 9-4 VICTORY OVER PONCA

TEAM'S NAME TO BE KNOWN ON APRIL 30

PENNSYLVANIANS WILL BE HERE ON APRIL 16 AND 17

By HARRY E. HOARE
Pampa's new baseball club, which opened the season with a 9-4 victory over the Ponca City Angels yesterday afternoon at Road Runner park, was given a name last night. The name, however, will not be disclosed until later in the month, probably on the night of April 30, when the team will appear in new uniforms and winners of prizes in the contest to name the club will be selected.

The named teams will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Road Runner park. Next competition for the local nine will be on the nights of April 16 and 17 when the Homestead Grays of Pennsylvania, team in the Negro National league, come here for games. Other top-notch traveling clubs will be here during the season.

Ponca City led at the bat with 14 hits to 13 for the locals. Extra base hits, however, went to Freddy Brickell's bats with Ben McLarry hitting one over the left field fence in the sixth. Herschel McNabb, by some great hustling, contributed a triple in the seventh. Eddie Sain, who used to catch for the Pampa Road Runners, not only played a great game in the outfield but collected a pair of doubles and a single. Manager Brickell managed for a double and a single. Carl Beason, an outfielder by trade, played sparkling ball at the hot corner and contributed three singles on five trips to the plate. McNabb, Beason and Lisle pulled the fielding thriller.

Novikoff, who patrols the left garden for Ponca City, entered the game with a batting record of eight hits on eight trips to the plate against Huber of Berger. Harvey Hutton, starting pitcher, broke the string with three perfect strikes. The little Russian came right back, however, with three consecutive singles. Shirley at second base helped his batting average with three singles. In Engle, shortstop, who is considered a major league prospect, he has a wonderful throwing arm. Weigandt, in center field, is another promising youngster.

Harvey Hutton who came to Pampa a couple of years ago with Iola, Okla., and held the Road Runners to five scattered hits, now resides at LeFors. He started on the mound for Pampa and held the Angels to one run, and fanned five. Pierce Mays, formerly with the Humble Oilers at Kilgore, finished the game and although a little wild showed that he has great promise.

Ponca City sent Brown, Burton and White, all righthanders, and Olsen, a leftsider, to the mound in an effort to stop the Pampa runs. Sponsors of the Pampa team need look no farther than the prayers of any manager as a hot corner artist. He is fast, gets the ball away from any position and his whip is almost perfect. With Al Summers on the bench with a broken nose, Sam Scalling worked at second base. Manager Brickell will be in the midst of trouble, not from lack of material standpoint but from too much material. Sain and McNabb, who helped the manager in the outfield yesterday, will be considered for their speed and hitting.

Ponca City has a promising bunch of youngsters playing for a young manager, Art Veltman.

By HARRY E. HOARE
WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Senator Byrnes (D, S. C.) said today the Supreme Court decisions upholding the Wagner act proved that Congress undoubtedly has the power to outlaw sit-down strikes. A House committee has approved 11 to 4 a Senate resolution condemning sit-downs.

All But 3 Clubs Will Have New Lineups Opening Day

TEXAS LEAGUE SEASON WILL OPEN TONIGHT

DALLAS, April 14 (AP)—Four mayors prepared to throw four wild pitches and start the Texas baseball league on its forty seventh campaign at Dallas, Galveston, Houston and Tulsa tonight.

Threats of rain blended with summer temperatures and the weather man wasn't too optimistic in forecasts for the openers.

Only one of the eight clubs, Galveston, appeared to be out of the experimental stage and actually set for the season. Others still had youngsters and unproven talent sprinkled through the lineup and indications were two or three weeks would pass before box scores would carry the same names daily.

Greenest of all was Beaumont, with Manager Al Vincent and Mark Christman, infielders, the only veterans back from the '36 squad. Vincent, well supplied with the Detroit farm system's brightest rookies, was optimistic however and predicted a fast first division club if the rookies got away on the right foot.

Fans were to be introduced not only to a flock of new players but managers as well. Only Alex Gaston of Dallas remained from the eight who started the '36 season. Outfielder Homer Peck at Port Worth, who jerked the Cats from dungeon surroundings into the pennant scramble at mid-season last year, was back.

At Tulsa, where the championship flag waves, Bruce Connator was at the helm; Jim Keese at Oklahoma City; Hank Severid at Galveston; Zach Fowler at San Antonio; Johnny Watwood at Houston.

For the fifth season the clubs will scrap for berths in the Shaughnessy playoff series, a titular round-robin for the first division teams. Tulsa romped in Dallas in the playoff last year and then went on to win the Dixie title.

Lusty hitting has featured exhibition games with pitching suffering as a result. San Antonio's Missions, with an average of about ten hits per game, have loomed as a potent offensive machine while Tulsa's hurling staff again appears strong.

TRACK-FIELD MEET STARTS ON SATURDAY

The district interscholastic League meet, track and field division, will be conducted in Pampa Saturday and preliminaries in all but the mile relay, mile-run and 800-run, scheduled for the morning, beginning at 10:30 o'clock at Harvesters field.

Final and running of the three events in which preliminaries will not be held will begin at 2:30 in the afternoon, also at Harvesters field. A good track has been laid out for the meet and plenty of space will be available for the field events.

The Pampa high school track and field team, coached by Coach J. C. Prewitt, Donley and Hansford counties will be eligible to send teams.

Defending champions, the Harvesters are expected to have stiff competition this year. Coaches J. C. Prewitt and J. C. Prewitt will send a group of inexperienced boys into competition. They have had less than two weeks of practice and have not competed excepting in intra-squad meets.

Strong teams are expected to be Wheeler, Perryton, Panhandle and one or two others. The two left counties will be eligible to send teams.

Washington Senators—Al Simmons, purchased from the Tigers, is the only newcomer sure of a regular job.

Reds—Phil Weintraub, Rochester, and Pitcher Lee Grissom are the sure starters. Jimmy Outlaw, Nashville, and Charley Gelbert, former Cardinal, are given the edge for third and second, respectively.

Joe Cronin of the Red Sox, is counting on young Bobby Doerr, from San Diego, at second and is hoping Fabian Gaffke, Minneapolis, will replace Colonel Mills, Rochester, will

WHEELER BOXERS WIN 2 TO 1 DECISION OVER McLEAN BOYS

McLEAN, April 14—With only three fights counting in the meet, Wheeler boxers last night won a two to one decision over McLean high school boxers.

Robinson of Wheeler opened the official card by defeating L. Braxton of McLean in a close battle. Mantooth of McLean put his team back in the running when he best Bagley of Wheeler in the next event. Arman of Wheeler, outweighing Cadra of McLean 10 pounds, won his decision in the heavyweight fight.

Wheeler and Terrell, both of Wheeler was a real crowd pleaser. Another exhibition was a draw fight between Joe Cook of McLean and Nations of Wheeler, a couple of 85-pounders.

McLean's Golden Glove tournament will be staged on April 30 and May 1. Ten or more teams will enter. Already requests for entry blanks have been received from Wheeler Shamrock, Mobeetie, Briscoe, Amarillo, Canyon.

Individual winners will receive gold gloves. Winning schools will be presented trophies. The most popular fighter will also receive a trophy.

TEXAS, PHILLIPS AND CITIES SERVICE WIN SOFTBALL TILTS

Three games in the Pampa softball association preliminary schedule were played yesterday afternoon with victories going to Texas, Phillips and Cities Service.

Poorly Managed Matches Disappoint Boxing Fans

Four knockouts in five badly matched and badly staged fights featured the return of professional boxing to Pampa last night at the Southern club. Six matches and a battle royal were scheduled but more than half of the fighters failed to put in an appearance and the battle royal was called off by Promoter Del O'Neal who announced that it was against the law to have more than two fighters in the ring at the same time.

Little Nick Carter of Oklahoma City opened slowly against Ray Young of Berger but gathered speed to force Young's seconds to throw the towel in the ring at the close of the fourth round. Young was badly out of condition and faced after Carter started to work with short jabs to the head and body.

The opening round was a draw with the second going to Young who dropped Carter for an eight count in the second. Carter, however, closed the round fighting hard and continued the battling until the towel sailed into the ring.

Tommy "Kno-Head" Mounts slugged his way to a knockout over Stan Sandy in the second round of a scheduled six-round battle. Sandy opened like a world beater but faded when some of Mount's swings connected to his face, which was wide open for punches. Sandy went down twice before the final count. Sandy substituted for Joe Vernon who was transferred to Sumray yesterday.

Clubby Scores Kayo Ray Walker failed to put in an appearance for his scheduled meeting with Chubby Stewart so Pug Cole gave away 30 rounds and lasted two rounds before taking the count.

One of the best, if not the best, match of the evening was the opening four rounder between Homer Wilson and Everett Taylor, a couple of local youngsters. The two left their corners slugging and kept up the pace until they were too tired to throw gloves. The battle ended in a draw.

The fight failed to get under way until after 9:30 o'clock. The ring was not properly put up and the ropes sagged until they hung half way to the ring floor. As a result, it was impossible for the fighters to come off the ropes punching. An open light over the ring blinded spectators close to the ringside.

Fighters Minus Shoes When the opening battle got under way, there was no stop watch, no gong, no stools in the ring and no seconds. Several of the fighters appeared in their socks without shoes. "We were rushed getting the card lined up for the scheduled date and rather than postpone the fight, we held it the best possible," Promoter O'Neal said. "We will have a much better arrangement for the next card."

Fred Corbett, veteran California fighter, now a resident of Berger was the third man in the ring.

CHILD LABOR BAN STUDIED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Administration leaders, long insistent that the judiciary reorganization bill had precedence over wage and hour legislation, reconsidered their strategy today in the light of the Supreme Court's Wagner act decisions.

President Roosevelt's advisers expect to complete soon a new set of recommendations on minimum wage and maximum hour standards. These may be transmitted to Congress regardless of the court bill's status.

Whether wage and hour or similar proposals would get floor consideration ahead of the judiciary measure appeared to depend on how soon the Senate Judiciary committee ends its hearings.

Chairman Ashurst (D., Ariz.) said the committee would consider when to close testimony at an executive session Saturday.

Senator Logan (D., Ky.), supporting the measure, advocated again that the committee agree on a closing date. Senator Burke (D., Neb.) said the opponents still had numerous witnesses, but he offered to consider the possibility of their presenting written statements.

White House callers received the impression that President Roosevelt was considering, in addition to wage and hour standards, whether recent Supreme Court rulings left leeway for a ban on child labor.

It was learned, however, that the court applied the extension of federal power over interstate commerce only to the industries involved in Monday's cases and doubt was left in official minds about how far the government would go.

Despite opposition by Senators Ashurst and Burke to compromise by adding to the proposed six justices to the court unless members of 70 retire, talk of such a proposal persisted.

Testifying in opposition today, the Rev. Linius Lilly of St. Louis, a Jesuit priest, asserted the legislation would threaten judicial independence.

"The Constitution," his prepared statement said, "contemplates courts that are entirely, absolutely and perpetually independent of executive influence in the exercise of judicial functions, and therefore a plan that would subject them to annoyance and harassing pressure for resignation precisely because their opinions do not please the executive, is directly contrary to what the constitution is."

"The court packing plan was foisted upon the country with meaningless simulation, offered as an ineffective remedy for a non-existent evil."

of 26 men for union activities. The company said the dismissals were economy measures.

DALLAS, April 14 (AP)—L. B. Denning, president of the Lone Star Gas company, said today the company planned "no coercive steps or reaction of any kind" in the strike of employees at Fort Worth.

Strikers picketed the firm's building at Fort Worth this morning and told officials they could not enter. "We seek only to maintain peace and order," Denning said. "It is pretty hard to say much at the present moment. The strike was called without any warning to us. I agreed in a telephone conversation with one of the men to meet with them Monday as employees but they called the strike without any further notice."

Blockading of the company's office followed filing of a complaint by strikers with Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, charging violation of the Wagner labor relations act.

Seattle Housewife Has 10,000 Spiders

SEATTLE, April 14 (AP)—Spiders may be a bane to housewives, but not to Mrs. Harriet Edline Lloyd. She has 10,000 of them.

Mrs. Lloyd, doctor of philosophy at the University of Washington, spent nine years assembling her collection, which includes 400 species.

"When I was working for my bachelor's degree at Reed college in Portland," explained Mrs. Lloyd, "27-year-old widow, 'one of my professors decided it would be an amusing hobby for me to play around with. They've been amusing me ever since. But you can't work up any feeling for spiders and make pets of them. I just pickle them, segregate them, and feel a little bit proud of the different species, but that's all there is to it."

COMPANY MAY BORROW

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The Securities commission gave the Amarillo Gas company of Texas permission today to borrow $450,000 on a 4 per cent note from the New York Guaranty Trust company to retire the gas company's outstanding 6 per cent bonds. The company also received permission to accept a $225,000 4 per cent note in redemption of Panhandle Pipe Line company bonds it owns. The Southern Development company, parent of the other two companies, will guarantee the $450,000 note.

SIGNS REWARD BILL

TRENTON, N. J., April 14 (AP)—Gov. Harold G. Hoffman signed today a bill appropriating $2,000 to the reward offered by New Jersey for the arrest and conviction of the Lindbergh baby's kidnaper. The governor, who under the law must decide who will receive the money, made no statement as he signed the bill, but his office said he planned to hold a private hearing to which all claimants would be invited.

FAVORS DRILLING

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP)—The board of education has gone on record as favoring the leasing of submerged lands for oil development, estimating it might bring to the permanent school fund approximately $100,000,000. Ghent Sanderford, president, said the board considered objections to leasing warranted because the state has regulatory powers to prevent pollution of waters in oil production.

lian county operators' refusal to enter into national coal agreements, or even to deal with union officials. Thirty-five thousand miners in Virginia and other southern states are now idle, he said, "because the Harlan county operators refuse to enter into an agreement with the rest of the industry on wage contracts."

Despite his prediction of lawlessness Murray announced his union was opening a new Kentucky membership drive as a result of the Supreme Court's Wagner act decisions. To the committee he declared: "We expect the government to protect the lives of these men while they are in Harlan county."

Describing the county as "the blackest spot in the United States," he asserted that the operators "exact a tax on every ton of coal to buy guns, munitions, and tear gas."

"These weapons are put in the hands of irresponsible men, who float around the county killing and maiming people," he charged, "that sort of thing has got to stop."

Murray contended low wage and hour standards prevailed in the county, and said they were "undermining" standards in other states, and threatening to "cause a chaotic condition throughout the whole industry."

Veteran Duke Coach Jack Coombs says Ace Parker's future as a major league baseball player is dependent upon whether his hitting improves. Coombs coached Parker at Duke university.

He estimated that the balance of Texas will produce ten million bushels.

Recent snow and rain over wide sections of the Panhandle limited the crop outlook. The only seriously damaged sections are in the extreme northwest where moisture has been negligible.

CANYON, April 14 (AP)—A limited number of reservations for the annual banquet of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, which will be served in the Cotuit's Hall dining room on the West Texas State College campus here Friday evening are still available. W. L. Vaughan, treasurer, announced Tuesday.

Places have been provided to accommodate 220 at the banquet, which will close the 1937 annual session of the Historical society. Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, noted Texas author and historian, will deliver the principal address at the banquet Friday evening.

W. H. Patrick, well-known Canyon pioneer, will preside at Friday's meeting and deliver a brief address at the banquet Friday evening. The Hon. H. C. Pipkin of Amarillo will act as toastmaster.

Places favors for the banquet have been prepared by members of the Phidias Art Club and freshman art classes, under the direction of Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the art department at West Texas State.

The favors consist of figures of pioneer women and cowboys, made from sheets of copper, aluminum, and alloy.

Mines Bureau Shows Oil Stocks Increase

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The Bureau of Mines said today stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum on April 3 totaled 297,374,000 barrels. The total represented increases of 3,523,000 and 264,000 barrels in stocks of domestic and foreign crude, respectively.

The daily average production during the week ended April 3 was approximately 3,435,000 barrels, about 5,000 barrels below the previous week. Daily average crude runs to stills were about 3,005,000 barrels, or 55,000 barrels below the level of the previous week. Crude oil imports after declining in the week ended March 27, rose to a daily average of 112,000 barrels for the current week.

OIL INDUSTRY ORGANIZATION IS FORECAST

HOUSTON, April 14 (AP)—The oil business, its condition reflected in numerous pay hikes to employees, was experiencing today a new situation—a national drive to organize all branches of the industry under the banner of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The drive, being pushed by the CIO—backed by International Association of Oil Workers, was the first wholesale effort to organize all branches of the industry under the banner of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Oil company executives voiced no reaction and declined to comment on the matter.

The only outspoken opposition to the drive came from two large groups of employees—at the Humble company's Baytown refinery and the Texas company's Port Arthur refinery—and from the American Federation of Labor. A. F. of L. leaders planned to open a counter drive at a mass meeting here tomorrow night. John Free, president of the Federation's metal trades department, will speak at the meeting and lead in the competitive campaign for recruits.

At the same hour, the Houston local CIO union will meet to assign each member a specific duty in the unionization move.

The drive was under way in all the nation's oil belts with district headquarters at Houston and Ardmore, Texas; Hammond, Ind.; Oklahoma City; Ashland, Ky.; Long Beach, Calif.; and Parco, Wyo., directing the work in cooperation with the CIO office in Washington.

Hailing the Supreme Court action in declaring the Wagner act constitutional as a boost to the drive, union leaders predicted the industry would be organized within a year.

Meanwhile, millions of dollars were added to the annual payrolls of several large companies. The Humble and Shell each talked wages by more than a million dollars annually. The action followed that of the Magnolia, Pure, Texas, Gulf, and a number of other companies. Although the Texas company increase became effective March 16, official confirmation came nearly a month later.

Oil executives said the wage hikes and similar ones posted within the last several months by the same companies were in line with the increasing cost of living and the "usual" policy of salary adjustments. Several other companies were reported studying wage schedules and reliable sources predicted that payrolls would be increased in the entire industry within a short time.

Mounties Ready to Halt Canada Strike Disorder

Ready to take stern measures against strike violence, these red-coated Royal Canadian Mounted police are pictured as they assembled in Toronto, and there bivouacked, prepared to rush to nearby Oshawa in case of hostilities at the General Motors plant where 4000 employees were on strike and picketing. The strikers agreed to allow non-strikers into the plant, but would not accept responsibility for what happened after hours.

FDR Will Put Brakes On Disastrous Price Balloon

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEWS Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 13—Roosevelt's chief purpose in his recent statement as to "inflationary" prices of steel, copper, and other basic products was to serve notice that the administration would not stand idly by and see prices ruin prosperity.

The promise that the government would curtail expenditures for purchase of durable goods, and emphasize expenditures which would be reflected in consumer goods purchases, was the first official step toward forestalling the economic collapse which many believe is threatened by the rising price level. Almost certainly, there will be other steps taken.

Aside from the obvious effect of the promise, it was also meant as a reassurance to buyers. When in doubt as to whether prices will keep on going up, many are accustomed to buy ahead, thereby accelerating prices to an extent which would have been avoided had they purchased normally.

Last month this writer outlined a 10 point plan which had been proposed by administration economists to put the brakes on disastrous price inflation. The President has now moved on one front, then described as "pressure through allocation of government purchases." Other points, it may be interesting to recall, proposed federal action against monopolies and collusive bidding; selective taxation on profits; patent law revision; encouragement of consumer co-operatives; tariff reductions and government yardstick production to keep down prices of things the government buys.

Complaints on Price Fixing. Perhaps you overlooked it, but the Federal Trade Commission has just ordered General Electric, Westinghouse and two other companies to cease price fixing with respect to turbine generators. It has also entered a price fixing complaint against the Cast Iron and Soil Pipe Association and 35 companies. (The government bought $18,000,000 worth of such pipe last year.) These incidents and similar actions now planned are not unconnected with the administration offensive against skyrocketing prices.

You may also look for abolition or reduction of the four-cent excise tax on copper imports, first imposed in 1932 and scheduled to expire June 30, this year. This tax has kept copper imports out of the country. Roosevelt complained about copper prices. He said many mines could turn out copper profitably at five or six cents a pound and that others among them the great Anaconda of Montana, could make a profit at eight or nine cents a pound. Copper lately has been selling at 17 cents a pound and—according to the President—pushing up prices in all the durable goods industries which it enters. Senator Wheeler of Montana, long a reputed foe of the Anaconda company, angrily took issue, suggesting price reduction would mean American copper miners must compete with "African slaves and Mexican peons."

Says Steel Too High
Just what can or will be done about steel prices is not clear. Roosevelt branded steel prices as much too high, owing to recent large and rapid increases. The federal government bought $250,000,000 worth of steel last year. Government purchases of steel presumably will be curtailed, but much is needed for the army and navy. Manufacture of some steel by the government is possible, but not yet probable.

Although Attorney General Cummings recently said the Department of Justice inquiry into collusive bids by steel companies was practically at a standstill, the President has subsequently asked him for a report on progress.

The investigation followed charges by Secretary Harold Ickes that steel companies had submitted identical bids on steel needed for PWA projects, including New York's Triborough bridge.

Former Assistant Attorney General John Dickinson told the House appropriations committee that "the Supreme Court in the steel trust and the International Harvester cases 17 or 18 years ago laid down rules to the effect that for one concern to follow the price of another concern does not necessarily mean a violation of the law. And there have grown up in a good many of these industries practices which enable one concern to take its cue as to prices from other concerns, without any clear and definite violation of the law unless a good many other factors and circumstances can be established." Cummings has said, in discussing steel bids, that anti-trust laws "certainly need some form of reformation."

The President's public prodding of Cummings indicates there may be something doing soon as to collusive bidding.

WORKERS FREE TO JOIN UNION CLAIMS FORD

ADVISES HIS EMPLOYEES NOT TO JOIN ANY UNION

DETROIT, April 14 (AP)—Henry Ford made clear today that employees of the Ford Motor company are "free to join anything they want to" but that he considers it "foolish" for them to enroll in labor unions.

Ford, in an interview late yesterday, indicated that he was not concerned about the Supreme Court's decision upholding the Wagner national labor relations act. The "useful" provisions of the act, he said, long "have been policies of the Ford Motor company."

He declined to say what he would do if a union presented formal demands to him.

"Ask me that when the demands are made," he commented.

Ford appeared not the least perturbed by the furor created by his recent statement that his company never would recognize the United Automobile Workers of America or any other union.

He did not repeat that statement in his interview, but reiterated his advice to workers not to join any union.

A few hours before the interview the U. A. W. A. announced that it would start an intensive organization drive among Ford employees.

The Automotive Daily News estimated the reopening of the strike-bound Chrysler and Hudson plants would increase this week's production of cars and trucks to 126,595, barely under the highest this week.

The Chrysler corporation said $9,000 of its 67,000 employees were back at work.

Strikes that halted operations of Chrysler, Hudson and Reo were settled last week.

Ford, informed that Chairman Madden of the National Labor Relations board said the Ford company is "subject to the law" just as any other corporation, commented:

"Isn't everybody?"

The independent automobile manufacturer evaded a direct reply to questions concerning his plans for wage increases soon, particularly reports that he contemplated increasing the daily minimum from $6 to $10.

"We are going to give Wall Street-owned companies some competition," he said. "I think Wall Street financiers are trying to stabilize industry on a basis of no competition. Wall Street always wants to raise prices and pay dividends."

"We believe in competition in wages and goods. That is the only way to make a market and be fair. I'm not saying anything now about what wages we shall pay in the future. But I am saying that you cannot keep up industrial competition on low wages."

AG PROF TRAPS DUST TO CHECK STORMS' ORIGIN.

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Everybody talks about dust storms, but Dr. W. B. Gernert of Oklahoma A. & M. college is doing something about them.

Dr. Gernert, agronomist and weather man for the experiment station at the college, has set up dust catchers to determine the composition and amount of soil brought into Oklahoma by the storms.

The catchers are large pans set more than 20 feet in the air, and are designed to catch the dust as it falls. Height of the catchers prevents anything except storm dust from falling in, making it possible to determine accurately how much dust falls on each acre.

Dr. Gernert hopes to determine the source of dust storms by studying this dust.

SENATE HEARS ARGUMENTS IN TAX HEARING

AUSTIN, April 14 (AP)—The bill proposing to boost the tax on oil production was little farther advanced toward Senate action today despite another hearing on it.

The Senate state affairs committee yesterday listened to more arguments on the measure, passed by the House of Representatives several weeks ago, and then recessed without taking action.

The same committee tomorrow night will conduct a hearing on another House bill which would increase the tax on sulphur production.

Other tax measures awaiting committee consideration would increase the rates on natural gas and corporation franchises.

The Senate itself was engrossed with a proposed constitutional amendment to authorize a sales tax for social welfare purposes, including old age assistance, in order to consider the amendment first, it had laid aside temporarily a bill which would remit ad valorem taxes to all counties.

Opponents of the proposed oil tax, which would increase the rate from 2 1/2 cents per barrel to six cents, argued petroleum already was overtaxed and moreover there was not a need for the $15,000,000 additional revenue it was estimated the measure would produce. They also said it would destroy stripper wells, discourage exploration and increase gasoline prices.

Proponents asserted taxes should be placed where there was money to pay and that oil men profited by $300,000,000 last year.

COTTON.
Commodity traders disclose that the world statistical position in American cotton is bullish. Despite well founded reports of overproduction of domestic lint, consumption is again expected to run above output. That will make the fourth consecutive season of crop disappearance.

A cotton survey shows that about 5,500,000 bales of American cotton will be sold in foreign markets. Domestic consumption is estimated at 8,000,000 bales. Combined sales, therefore, should total 13,500,000 bales. The most bearish of estimates call for a 12,500,000 bale output.

Due to continued liquidation the government's cotton holdings are currently estimated at 1,850,000 bales against 6,000,000 two years ago. With the statistical position that strong and with the world demand increasing, cotton traders look for further price appreciation subject to recessions from time to time.

BRIGHT.
Based on current operations, revenue receipts of Firestone Tire are running at a $5 per share annual rate. Should the last six months hold the pace, it is unusually fast—the company will show about $6 a share for its fiscal year ending with this coming October 31.

Despite labor difficulties in the motor industry and those in its own, Firestone shipments continued high. Its 800-odd retail outlets weren't affected on replacement sales. Insiders say the farm machinery market is a new outlet. Also—higher raw material prices have been offset by tire advances. The company's outlook is regarded as bright.

SPECULATIVE.
There are those who like United Fruit for long-pull purposes. Here are the reasons: The company is the world's largest grower and shipper of bananas. It is also a large sugar grower. In addition it operates an extensive line of steamships. Moreover, United Fruit recently developed an extensive acreage of cocoa from which it obtains cocoa and chocolate.

The organization came through the depression without reporting a deficit and didn't remove dividends on the common stock. Its financial position is satisfactory. Given favorable sugar news the issue is expected to do better. The shares, however, get a speculative rating.

SQUEEZE.
With few exceptions during the past 50 years has the supply-and-demand picture of the wheat industry been as tight as it is now. This accounts—experienced grain interests say—for the sharp rise in the price of May contracts.

The open interest in the May wheat is far above available supplies. True, much of it is a speculative interest which will liquidate before the contract expires. Yet trading people feel certain that a "squeeze" isn't unlikely. The same situation prevails in the May corn contracts.

Commission brokers wonder whether the Board of Trade governors—acting with the Commodity Exchange Administration—will permit a "squeeze" play to develop.

BENEFIT.
What's behind the strength displayed by the common shares of United States Rubber? Is it true that the shares will be placed on a dividend paying basis before the close of this year? These questions are being asked in boardrooms of most brokerage offices.

An insider informs your correspondent that a dividend payment to common shareholders isn't likely this year. But insiders are bullish on the shares because the company is showing larger operating profits from its rubber plantations. Since crude rubber prices are expected to move higher U. S. Rubber will benefit from its inventory position.

OILS.
The C. I. O. has openly invaded the oil fields—as previously disclosed by your correspondent. Nevertheless statistics favor the industry. Production is being reduced while consumption shows betterment.

Strike difficulties aren't anticipated by trade insiders. The constructive picture of the industry accounts for investment trust scale-down buying of the oil equities.

FAVORED.
Fertilizer equities have attracted a public following. Speculative interests say that for the industry's fiscal year ending with this June, earnings will show impressive gains over those of last year. This is only because the price structure is better but because farmers' demands are larger. The most constructive argument favoring the fertilizing in-

Annis says he pumps the fluid from the ground through one pipe then lets it settle. Within a few hours the gasoline comes to the top, a yellow liquid, and Annis skims it off with a bucket.

He sells about 100 gallons of this fuel daily, paying the regular gasoline tax, and also uses the fuel in his car and tractor. After taking off the fuel he uses the water for his stock.

Q. Who first represented the State of Texas in the United States Congress?

A. Gen. Thomas A. Rusk and Gen. Sam Houston in the Senate; David S. Kaufman and Timothy Pillsbury in the House. The territory east of the Trinity formed one and that west of that river the other of the two Texas congressional districts.

Q. When did the first Legislature of the State of Texas assemble and who were its first presiding officers?

A. Feb. 18, 1846; Jesse Grimes was president pro tem of the Senate and Wm. E. Crump was speaker of the House of Representatives.

Q. Why was Brevet Major General David E. Twiggs removed from command of the United States troops in Texas following Texas secession in February, 1861?

A. He was relieved by Col. C. W. Waite because he acceded to the demands of the commission appointed by the secession convention to surrender the United States property under his control, and to appoint a military commission to negotiate them regarding terms and details of surrender.

Q. How were Gen. Cortina's Texas cattle thefts finally stopped?

A. When it was seen that the U. S. Garrison at Fort Brown, Brownsville, was either unable or unwilling to cope with Cortina's bandits, Ranger Captain L. H. McNelly and 17 men went to Brownsville in June, 1875, and soon were on the trail of Mexicans, who were attempting to drive a herd of cattle across the Border. They killed the entire gang of 14 bandits, took their bodies to Brownsville and laid them out on the public square to be identified and claimed. Later, McNelly's men crossed the Rio Grande to retake stolen cattle and soon stopped the banditry.

CHAPTER XIX.

Martha munched the sandwiches hurriedly. When she had finished, Speddon handed her the warm thermos bottle of coffee. Somehow the black liquid raised her spirits appreciably.

"Have you," he asked suddenly, "heard from Gerry Neal?"

In the darkness she sensed Speddon's surprise. "Neal?" he repeated. Then, a moment later, "What about him?"

"I just wondered if you'd heard from him."

"Where did you see him last?" Speddon asked oddly.

"He was with me in Monterey, and later in San Francisco." She did not add that she had caused Neal's arrest in Eureka. Speddon's reaction to the subject of Gerry Neal puzzled her, and she did not know how far to go.

"What did he say about me?" Speddon wanted to know.

Martha hesitated. "He said that he knew you. I don't remember him saying anything else. He wondered why you didn't wait for him in Los Angeles as was planned."

"Yeah?" Speddon lighted a cigarette in the darkness. Under the yellow flare of the match his thin face shown eerily. "Well, I'll tell you why I didn't wait. It was because I didn't want to. When he wasn't there with you I got suspicious."

"Why?" asked Martha quickly.

Speddon did not answer at once. Then his words came slowly. "I want to get out of this racket—and Neal don't. Once I made the mistake of telling him I wanted to get out—"

"What—what did he say?"

"He said I was crazy to talk about leaving it. He said I'd better forget it or he'd mention it to the chief. I'm still afraid he will—but after this job I'm done. We're close to Canada, and that's where I'm heading."

Martha felt gone, lost. She knew now that she had somehow hoped that Neal wasn't a criminal, that his connection with Speddon and Betty's disappearance was the result of some circumstances over which he had no control. But now here was the truth—Neal was in it with all his heart. Speddon had wanted to go straight, and Neal had fought it.

"I don't trust that guy," Speddon went on in the darkness. "I got a hunch he's after me."

"But why did you take Betty with you?"

"She made a crack that sounded like she knew too much, and I figured it was safer to have her along."

Martha set down the thermos with a trembling hand. "But what is all this—this racket? What have I to do with it?"

"Plenty," grunted Speddon. "Whether you know it or not."

"But what is it?"

"I've shot off enough. Anyhow, you'll sleep better nights if you don't know what it's all about."

Martha knew from his tight tone that he realized he had talked her enough—perhaps too much. She had got as much from him as she could. "You've untied my hands," she said. "Would you mind taking the rope off my ankles? It's hurting."

"Okay. The boys'll be here any minute now and you'll have to do some walking." Speddon's deft, thin fingers unloosened the rope at her feet.

Then Speddon fell utterly silent, smoking in the darkness. Periodically the tip of his cigarette would sear the blackness pitilessly, throw a soft glow on his sallow face. It was plain that he was thinking hard. What manner of man was he, Martha wondered. How had he treated Betty? True, he had said that he didn't wait. It was because business, whatever it was—but how could she believe? How could she even be sure that Betty was really "across the Sound"? She had wanted to ask Speddon that, ask him where Betty had been when he crossed the California border alone. But something had warned her that it would be safer not to know too much—that she would be able to discover more if she were careful not to reveal what she already knew.

Suddenly, far down at one end of the dock warehouse there was a sound of a heavy sliding door moving on its rollers. Then the bright rays of a powerful flashlight.

"Here's the boys," Speddon said. "Come on." He took Martha by the arm, lifted her to her feet. Her legs and arms stiffened from their long imprisonment, she almost fell to the floor again.

The flashlight came on, bathing them in its glare. Martha could not see beyond the powerful light. Then it was extinguished, as if the owner had satisfied himself that everything was as he expected.

"All set?" she heard a gruff voice ask.

"Yes," Speddon answered. "What's the idea of that light? You might as well carry a flashlight with you."

"We're all right," the voice replied. "There ain't been a patrolman past this dock in five years. Come on... the tub's ready."

Coming through the partly opened door and into the keen air, Martha saw the "tub" at the bottom of a ladder lashed to the piling of the dock. It was a sleek speedboat, rising and falling easily with the movement of the Sound.

"I'll go first," Speddon said, "then the dame."

One of the two men held her arm roughly while Speddon started down the ladder. In a moment she heard his voice drifting up to them softly. "Okay... send her down."

Gingerly Martha put her feet on to a rung of the slippery wooden ladder. Afraid to look at the water, she started down. Then she felt Speddon's hand on her waist. "You're all right now. Sit down aft there."

The two men followed like monkeys, tossed off the mooring lines. There was a muffled roar from the high-powered motor, and the speedboat took a wide turn and started out across the moonlit Sound. Suddenly one of the men came toward her with something white in his hand.

"There's no need for that," she heard Speddon say. "She's not going to jump overboard."

The big man turned to his adviser. "It's the chief's orders."

"I don't give a— if it is. There's no need for it. I've given that dame one shot of chloroform today and that's enough."

"Listen, Jack—I'm working for Johnny Ciznik, not you. He said he wanted her out when she came aboard. So she's going to be that way, see?"

Martha tried to scream as the evil-smelling cloth was clamped against her mouth and nose. "Go ahead and yell," the fellow laughed. "That'll make you get the stuff all the quicker."

In that last terrible moment before she lost consciousness she wondered if she and Betty had become involved in one of those vast crime rings which, until now, she had always believed to be only the fiction of the detective magazines.

Male Sex Hormone Produced By Women Reported Isolated

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor.
CHAPEL HILL, S. C., April 13 (AP)—The first isolation of a male sex hormone produced by women and the astonishing discovery that this feminine chemical is a more potent influence toward male characteristic than man's own natural hormones was reported to the American Chemical society today.

The discovery was interpreted as meaning that many of the aspects of sex are more chemical and less physical than has been believed. The new point of view is that the important controls of sex are chemical reactions, instead of the chemicals themselves that permeate the body's tissues.

The report was made by a group of Pennsylvania state college chemists, the same men who last summer succeeded in artificially making the female sex hormone, theelin. They are Russell E. Marker, R. V. McGrew, D. M. Jones, E. L. White, and T. S. Oakwood.

Hormones are chemicals produced by the body's ductless glands. They regulate the work of all organs. The sex hormones are responsible for "secondary sex" characteristics like the deep male voice. The sex hormones of men and women are different.

The state college workers for the first time isolated the female-male hormone after obtaining it from expectant mothers.
