Tanks Thrown Into Action

Chinese Communists Start New Front In India

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Chinese Communist troops opened up a new front today in the undeclared border war with India and threw tanks into action in another sector of the embattled frontier, the Indian government said.

The government said the Communist forces launched a new "vigorous attack" this morning at Kibitoo, at the eastern tip of the border, more than 100 miles from any previous reported fighting.

It said that tanks were brought in to crush an outpost in Ladakh, on the northwest sector in northern Kashmir, after the Indian post had earlier driven off Chinese artillery and infantry attacks.

It was the first time tanks had been reported employed in the border war that raged for the third consecutive day today between the world's two most populous nations.

Indians Retreat
An official Indian military spokesman said that eight Indian posts had been overwhelmed by advancing Chinese forces in Ladakh, and that seven more outposts units "had fallen back to regroup."

The Indian government report coincided with a Chinese Communist claim that its troops had captured at least four more Indian border points in their drive southward.

A New China News Agency broadcast monitored in Tokyo said that Chinese troops had "recovered Chipu, Jihchang, Changto, the Hatung pass and other places" along the Sino-Indian border.

Bhutan Threatened
The Communists Sunday reported the capture of at least seven other Indian posts in the thrusts by heavy forces in the frontier conflict that threatened to engulf the little Himalayan state of Bhutan.

Peiping Radio reported the Indians had launched a "violent" counter-attack early today at the extreme eastern end of the border after a weekend of losses.

Worried Indian government officials, struggling with the massive problems of getting reinforcements and supplies into battle areas two and three miles high, were preparing for the possibility of a major war with their giant communist neighbor.

"From the way they (the Chinese) are going, there's no limit to where they may go," Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon told newsmen Sunday.

Countdown Starts In Ticklish Raising Job

VIDALIA, La. (UPI) — The countdown began today for the ticklish job of raising four giant chlorine tanks from the Mississippi River and removing a potential threat to about 80,000 persons in two states.

Engineers are expected to hoist the first 75-foot tank Tuesday from a barge which sank 18 months ago seven and a half miles south of here.

A team of 12 divers worked today to clear away tree limbs, driftwood and other debris lodged at the upstream end of the barge. They expected to complete the job before nightfall.

The next step will be to maneuver two barges with powerful cranes into position and lower a raising platform atop one of the tanks.

ed statements to assure residents in a 30-mile radius of the sunken barge that chances of the liquid chlorine escaping from the tanks be remote.

If the chlorine should escape and mix with moisture, it would form the same type of poisonous gas used in World War I. This would force evacuation of inhabitants of six counties in Mississippi and Louisiana.

Engineers say it will take one day to place the raising platform on a tank and another to raise it.

Divers will direct the platform, called "strongback," on top of each tank. Two-and-one-half inch metal straps then will be lashed around the tank from the platform.

Once surfaced, each tank in turn will be placed in a waiting barge and taken 85 miles downriver to Geismar, La., to the Wyandotte Chemical Co. There the chlorine will be transferred to storage tanks.

Slow for Safety
A spokesman for the engineers, John Anderson, said the four tanks should be removed to safety within two weeks or less.

Engineers said they will not try to raise any of the tanks except during daylight hours when children are in school.

Civil defense and military officials, supported by the U.S. Public Health Service, nearly completed evacuation of chronically ill and aged persons from the Natchez, Miss., and Vidalia areas over the weekend.

About 265 persons have been airlifted out of the Natchez area by the Mississippi Air National Guard to veterans hospitals at Alexandria and Shreveport, La., and Biloxi and Jackson, Miss. Other elderly patients were taken by ambulance to Vicksburg and Magee, Miss.

Pampan Killed In Auto Crash; Two Others Hurt

A Pampa man was killed and two others were injured in a one-car crash 2.3 miles east of White Deer on U.S. 60 about 3:35 a.m. Sunday morning.

Dead on arrival at Highland General Hospital was Abel Ruiz Garcia, 26, of 703 Brunow in Pampa. Garcia was riding in the back seat of the automobile.

Alberto Madrid, 21, of 912 S. Faulkner, is in satisfactory condition in Highland General Hospital. He was a passenger in the front seat.

Eugene Madrid, 16, is listed in good condition in the St. Anthony's Hospital at Amarillo. He suffered a broken jaw in the accident. He was driving the car at the time of the accident. Madrid is a member of the Pampa Harvester football team.

Highway Patrolmen Lawrence Macha said the driver apparently fell asleep at the wheel, and the car angled off the highway and hit an embankment on a dirt road which intersects the main highway.

There was a stop sign directly in the path of the car as it swerved off the pavement, but the sign was not damaged, and there were no tracks around it. The patrolman investigating said the car had evidently flipped and soared

'Music Must Be In Your Blood,' Says Montoya

"The music — it must be in you." So says Carlos Montoya, the celebrated flamenco guitarist, who will give a recital here for the Pampa Community Concert Association at 8 o'clock tonight in the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium.

Possessing a musical gift inherited from his parents, both Spanish gypsies, Montoya has the flamenco heritage which he declares is so vital to anyone who wishes to make his mark in that musical genre.

Flamenco music, Montoya avers, is, despite its lack of written background (or, perhaps, because of that lack) a most demanding and exhausting idiom. "Flamenco must come from the heart. You do not pick up a sheet of music and say, 'Now I play flamenco.' The music must come from the guitarist — not from a book."

At the age of eight, Carlos started on the guitar under the guidance of his mother, "La Tula," herself a most accomplished performer. By the time he was fourteen, young Montoya was the toast of the "cafes cantantes" in the heyday of flamenco singing and dancing. His virtuosity was such that the leading singers and dancers of the time,

Danger is Remote

Authorities have issued repeated statements to assure residents in a 30-mile radius of the sunken barge that chances of the liquid chlorine escaping from the tanks be remote.

Chemical Tests May Determine ID Of Victims

LUTCHER, La. (UPI)—A Coast Guard spokesman said today that chemical tests may reveal the identities of eight of the 18 persons who were burned to death in a scorching explosion that turned a Norwegian tanker into a water-bound crematorium.

The remains of the eight victims will be subjected to thorough chemical examinations, the spokesman said.

The 10,400-ton freighter Boheme, mutilated Saturday by the blast and the flames, today lay afloat against the east bank of the Mississippi River. Salvage crews plan to float the ship downriver to New Orleans for repairs.

The bodies of 10 persons, one believed to be a woman, have been recovered. Eight of the crew were hospitalized and 18 others released after treatment for burns and injuries suffered when several oil-carrying barges broke loose from a tugboat and rammed the Boheme.

The barges fractured, spraying burning oil first on the ship's bow, then on the stern. In minutes explosions of the Boheme's fuel supplies rocked the ship.

Coast guardsmen who searched the still smoldering ship said a vent from the Boheme's fuel tank spewed a column of burning fuel oil. The vent was in effect a huge blow torch, searchers said.

A spokesman said none of the vessel's highly-inflammable cargo of lubricating oil and nitrate solvents was ignited.

"Had this cargo caught on fire," the spokesman said, "we would really have had fire and explosions all over the place."

Charges It's Robert Kennedy's 'Personal Vendetta'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Teamsters Union president James R. Hoffa, charged by the Justice Department with a $1-million conspiracy involving illegal business deals, goes on trial in federal court here today.

Hoffa, who has dismissed the charges as unfounded, said on his arrival from Detroit Sunday that the case is part of U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's "personal vendetta" against him.

Warns Bhutan

Peiping Radio said the communist Chinese Foreign Ministry had warned the mountainous buffer nation of Bhutan not to allow Indian troops to enter the country.

Charges T-H Violation

The indictments charge Hoffa with violating a provision of the Taft-Hartley Act which prohibits a representative of employees, such as a union, from demanding or accepting payments from employers except for wages and other specified purposes.

It contends that Memphis attorney James Wrape set up Test Fleet for Commercial Carriers in his own name in 1949 and then switched stock in the company to Mrs. Josephine Hoffa and Mrs. Alice Brennan, wives of the Teamsters executives.

The indictments alleged that Commercial executives arranged for a $10,000 loan from a St. Louis bank to get Test Fleet started and agreed to lease Test Fleet trucks for an unlimited period.

Rental income of the trucks over a nine-year period, the grand jury said, was $1,008,657.

Top Congressional Leaders Summoned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy summoned top congressional leaders back to Washington and planned to make a nationwide television report at 6 p.m. EST because of an international situation of the "highest national urgency," the White House announced.

The announcement came after a weekend of mounting tension over international developments.

The official silence on the situation finally was broken at noon today by White House secretary Pierre Salinger.

Salinger said Kennedy would speak for 30 minutes on a subject of "the highest national urgency." He did not elaborate.

The press aide also announced that the National Security Council would meet with the President this afternoon and that Kennedy arranged to meet with the cabinet later in the day.

To Meet Leaders
Salinger said Kennedy would follow by meeting with Democratic and Republican leaders of the House and Senate.

The congressional leaders were summoned back to Washington early this morning. Air Force jets were dispatched across the country to bring them to the capital.

There was no hint of the nature of the crisis. The congressional leaders themselves did not know.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen told reporters in Chicago that "it could be Cuba... it might be Berlin... maybe India has asked for help." He added, "Rather than just tee off, I just won't speculate."

Maneuver Cancelled
Before the White House announcement was issued, the Defense Department disclosed the cancellation of a huge Navy-Marine maneuver scheduled to start Tuesday off Puerto Rico.

The maneuver was to have included landings by Marines on the island of Vieques. The department said the exercise was cancelled because the ships had been scattered by a "hurricane."

Kennedy was assured in advance of bipartisan support in whatever foreign policy move he might take. The GOP congressional campaign committee pledged "wholehearted Republican support for any strong stand the President wants to take on Cuba and Berlin."

Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., chairman of the committee, said that "whatever move the President has decided to make—if it involves strengthening our stand—I know that I speak for Republican congressmen and the Republican who will be elected Nov. 6 in saying that we will give the President our unreserved backing in every way."

Top-Level Talks
The President conferred this morning with several of his highest advisers, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

He also saw Martin Hillenbrand, who heads a special task force dealing with Berlin, and Llewellyn Thompson, former envoy to Moscow and Kennedy's special ambassador at large.

Hillenbrand and Thompson participated in Kennedy's meeting last week with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The presence of the Navy and Marine forces in the Puerto Rico area had led to speculation that there was a link with some development in Cuba, even though the exercise had been announced some time ago.

But Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester told reporters there had been a "mis-relationship" between the maneuver and "anything else."

According to a report from Mexico City, there was strong speculation there that Kennedy might announce a blockade of Cuba. Hemisphere economic and finance ministers are meeting in the Mexican capital to review the alliance for progress.

50 Are Missing As Norwegian Vessel Sinks

ROERVIK, Norway (UPI) — A Norwegian coastal vessel which ran aground with nearly 10 persons aboard apparently sank in the storm-lashed seas early today, and half the passengers and crewmen aboard were missing.

A spokesman for rescue operations said a Norwegian air force plane sighted several bodies in the sea. Wreckage, floating mail bags and luggage also were reported seen floating in the area where the ship went aground shortly before midnight.

Five lifeboats carrying 47 persons reached land safely from the 2,172-ton Sanct Svithun, but about 50 people were not accounted for, according to a spokesman for the owner, the Norwegian shipping firm Stavanger Dampskipsselskap.

Women and children were believed to be among those on board.

Fifteen to 20 ships searched the area for the Sanct Svithun, but the search was hampered by darkness, wind and rain.

It was believed the ship hit a reef in the treacherous strait between Vikna Island where Rorvik is located, and the rocky mainland or northern Norway. The strait is made more dangerous by a swift current.

Jim King's Rites Slated Wednesday

James (Jim) Taylor King, 57, a resident of Pampa for 36 years, died in a local hospital after a heart attack Sunday night at 11:15 p.m.

He was a partner of Groninger & King Contractors, a member of A.F. & A.M. No. 966, Scottish Rite in El Paso, KCCB and Khiva Temple.

He is survived by his wife, Edna; one son, James Arthur of Pampa; two brothers, Fred of Denver and George of Pampa.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the First Christian Church with the Rev. Glyn D. Adsit, pastor, officiating.

Interment will be in Memory Gardens under the direction of Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home, where Masonic rites will be conducted.

Masons are asked to meet at the Lodge Hall No. 966 at 1 p.m. Pallbearers are Ralph Milliron, "Skeet" Wagner, Larry McCathern, Bill Puckett, Frank Keip, Demaris Holt, Bernard Organ and Jerry Sims.

MRS. FDR STILL ILL
NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt rested at home Sunday still bothered by the effects of her anemia condition for which she had been under treatment for three weeks at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center.

The former First Lady was discharged from the hospital Thursday but will be in seclusion at her home for a while, her secretary said.

Hoffa's Trial For Conspiracy To Start

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Teamsters Union president James R. Hoffa, charged by the Justice Department with a $1-million conspiracy involving illegal business deals, goes on trial in federal court here today.

Hoffa, who has dismissed the charges as unfounded, said on his arrival from Detroit Sunday that the case is part of U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's "personal vendetta" against him.

"Bobby Kennedy is using the taxpayers' money for his own personal vendetta and is usurping his oath of office when he used the FBI and other government agencies for his own satisfaction," the 49-year-old union leader said of his long-time legal foe.

Selection of a jury to try Hoffa on charges of accepting illegal payments from a Michigan trucking firm was to begin after a pre-trial conference at 11 a.m. EDT, before Federal Judge William E. Miller.

Miller called the conference to iron out methods of procedure and determine the number of juror challenges allowed attorneys for each side.

Pleads Innocent

Hoffa has pleaded innocent to a federal grand jury indictment handed down last May 18 after what Kennedy termed an "extensive investigation by the FBI."

The indictment also named Commercial Carriers Inc., of Detroit, a nationwide automobile transport firm, and the late Owen (Bert) Brennan, former Teamsters vice president.

The grand jury charged that Hoffa and Brennan collected $1,008,657 from Commercial Carriers through Test Fleet, another automobile hauling concern formed here in 1949.

Commercial Carriers has entered a plea of no contest, which is expected to complicate Hoffa's defense. In issuing the plea, the company will not defend itself and places itself at the mercy of the court.

Charge T-H Violation
The indictments charge Hoffa with violating a provision of the Taft-Hartley Act which prohibits a representative of employees, such as a union, from demanding or accepting payments from employers except for wages and other specified purposes.

It contends that Memphis attorney

James Wrape set up Test Fleet for Commercial Carriers in his own name in 1949 and then switched stock in the company to Mrs. Josephine Hoffa and Mrs. Alice Brennan, wives of the Teamsters executives.

The indictments alleged that Commercial executives arranged for a $10,000 loan from a St. Louis bank to get Test Fleet started and agreed to lease Test Fleet trucks for an unlimited period.

Rental income of the trucks over a nine-year period, the grand jury said, was $1,008,657.

A Beauty Plan For Gala Evenings

This young mother is getting ready for a special celebration. She treats her complexion to a soapsuds lather (left), and lets the suds stay on for a few minutes before rinsing. While her tub is running, she creams her face and selects a dramatic shade of eye make-up. She adds scented crystals to her bath (center) and relaxes in the warm water to relieve the tensions built up during a day of family care. She has a knack for looking glamorous on gala evenings (right). Her formula includes over-all good grooming, carefully applied make-up and pretty clothes, suitable to the occasion.

By ALICIA HART

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Wherever the "stroller set" gathers, you can be sure of seeing a group of neat, attractively dressed women. But for the big club dance or special company dinner, something more is needed than the informal, breezy looks which have become the trademark of American women.

Choosing the appropriate evening clothes is the first step. But your grooming will be the real test as to how well you have managed the transition from kitchen to candlelight.

That comfortable, neat hairdo will need more festive styling, with a lift from a professional hairdresser. Don't go to an extreme coiffure that will make you self-conscious, but wear a hairstyle that is a bit more formal than your daytime one.

Whether your hair is set at home or at the salon, plenty of shampoo and thorough rinsing are the secrets behind the body and shine so vital to a fashionable hair style.

A light pat of powder and a dab of lipstick may suffice by day, but artificial lighting places special demands upon your complexion. Use a foundation and powder a shade darker than your skin, and a deeper lipstick.

Mascara, eye shadow, liner and pencil are also important to evening eye beauty. The new eye make-up is so easy to apply that any woman can acquire skill with very little practice.

Before you dress, remove every trace of daytime makeup with a good cleansing cream. Then work up a lather of soap and let it remain on your face for a few minutes. After you've rinsed it off, apply lubricating cream that can soften your skin while you bathe.

Allow a few extra minutes to sink into a warm tub. This will relax you, and you'll emerge feeling pampered and eager for the celebration. Be sure to add your favorite bath salts or oil to the water — preferably the same scent as your perfume.

An aura of freshness and fragrance will enhance your loveliness all evening long.

Don't ruin a book or movie for someone else by telling him the name to the person at the head story.

About My Writing!!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would quit printing all those stupid letters from teen-agers. Who cares about an idiotic 14-year-old girl who's madly "in love" with her Science teacher? Or, when a girl meets a boy in the hall, who says "hi" first? Come on, Abby, let's have some really serious problems!

ADULT READER

DEAR ABBY: Teen-agers read your column, too, and we would like to have more letters from our age group. We aren't interested in nosy neighbors, unfaithful husbands and barking dogs. Give us more teen letters! Thank you.

TEEN FANS

DEAR ABBY: I enjoy reading your column because you get right to the point and seem to hit the nail on the head without wasting any words. Keep up that snappy style, Abby, old girl. It's very refreshing in this day and age when so many writers don't know when to quit.

"4 U"

DEAR ABBY: I don't know how you presume to answer with one sentence a problem so complicated that a person should really go to a psychiatrist for maybe five years. Who do you think you are, anyway? Soimmon?

A READER

DEAR ABBY: I suppose it is only natural, but I notice you always take the woman's part. Please be a little more fair-minded, Abby. Sometimes the man is right and the woman is wrong, you know.

MALE READER

DEAR ABBY: If I had a problem, you would be the last person I'd ask for help because you always stick up for the man. Why is that?

The Mature Parent

Hint To All Parents: Don't Let Child Be Tyrant

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Billy allows his mother to complete a telephone conversation only if she confines it to news about his health, the gift he is taking to a birthday party, his struggles with school homework. So long as his father's talk is limited to a report on the new truck, Billy has taught their dog, it can continue. But if either of his parents attempts to discuss an interest that does not involve Billy, they are invariably interrupted.

"What's that, dear?" his mother will ask. "Oh, I'll have to call you back. Billy can't find his ball-point pen." And his father, falsely hearty, will say, "Hi, kid! Sorry, Bill has just come in. I'll have to call you back."

Billy is a tyrant because he was once hospitalized with a mild attack of polio. Thought it occurred 7 years ago, he still operates on his 3-year-old conviction that his parents were to blame for it.

But what controls his parents is not the tyrant in Billy. The bully which forces them to release all their interests to their child is THEIR conviction that they were responsible for this attack of polio. It is not an appropriate one.

A child of 3 years is entitled to blame his parents for anything that goes wrong with him. For we are magicians to him. We can make ice cream cones appear by exchanging coins with soda clerks and the pain of a burn disappear by applying vinegar. Crediting us as he does with the power of a superman, a child of 3 has a right to believe that we have betrayed him when we cannot relieve him of some misfortune. He has a right to wish to punish us and try to make us atone for our failure.

But Billy's parents are not babies of 2.

They are old enough to know that they were not magicians and did not possess the power to protect Billy against polio. But as they refuse to face this liberating reality, they are doomed to go on placating and appeasing out of their secret belief that they should somehow be able to exert that power.

It is sad, for every time Billy is allowed to bully his parents, they confirm his conviction that they were to blame for his polio. Every time they permit him to mistreat them, they endorse his belief that they betrayed him.

personal extension phones

HELP TEENAGERS BECOME MORE GROWN-UP

A phone "for their very own," in their own room, gives them a sense of privacy and responsibility. Allows more freedom to express themselves and their ideas. Helps them with school, church and club activities. But mostly, it gives them the fun of talking with their special friends. Costs so little most youngsters could pay for it with their own money!

Who needs extension phone service most?

- Families that make or receive five or more calls a day.
  - Families with one or more members active in school, church, civic or club work.
  - Families with active, popular teenagers or young adults.
- If any of these conditions fit your family, the chances are you need extension phone service.

To order your personal extension phone—Princess, wall or table models, in a wide range of colors—call the telephone business office, or ask any telephone service man.

Hornback Rites Set Tomorrow

Carl T. Hornback of Canadian, 59, died in Highland General Hospital here Saturday night after becoming ill at his daughter's home, Mrs. Willie J. Cook, 928 E. Murphy.

Mr. Hornback, an employee of Texaco in the Canadian area, was apparently the victim of a heart attack. He was a longtime resident of Canadian.

Montoya

His supplying the musical backgrounds for these top artists resulted in a growth in Montoya's repertoire and technique. "The only way to improve is by playing," he says. "It becomes easier to improvise. That is the secret of our music - improvisation. And one must have the music in his heart before he can play it on the strings."

Denver Upends Houston In AFL

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer

The Denver Broncos are showing their pass-happy American Football League rivals that defense pays off on the field and at the gate.

The surprise team of the league so far this season, the Broncos retained first place in the Western Division Sunday when they beat the Houston Oilers, 20-10, for their sixth victory in seven games.

The win left them a half-game ahead of the Dallas Texans, who downed the New York Titans, 20-17, in the only other Sunday action. The Buffalo Bills defeated the Oakland Raiders, 14-4, on Saturday night and the Boston Patriots whipped the San Diego Chargers, 24-20, Friday night.

The Broncos won their game by scoring two touchdowns in the fourth period but the win actually was built on a sturdy defense that has allowed only one touchdown in each of its last four games. The Broncos' recent success was rewarded when a crowd of 34,496, largest of the AFL season, turned out at Denver.

The Broncos overcame a 10-6 deficit in the fourth period with a 77-yard scoring drive. AFL scoring leader Gene Mingo, whose 18th and 17th field goals of 41 and 25 yards gave Denver a 6-3 halftime lead, ran 34 yards to the Houston three to set up the score.

Lynch intercepted Plum's pass on the next series of downs and ran it back to the Detroit 33. A 23-yard Tittle-to-Alex Webster pass brought the ball within range for a game-winning 9-yard field goal by Don Chandler.

Twice after that the Giants' defense saved them. When Jim Gibbons caught a pass and raced goal-ward, Lynch tackled him hard enough to induce a fumble on the New York 13 and Jimmy Patton recovered.

The Lions threatened for the final time in the fourth period when Plum's pass to Gail Cogdill brought them to the Giants 30 with two minutes left to play. Again the rugged Giants defenders showed the Lions back 16 yards in three plays and Lynch blocked a 53-yard field goal try by Wayne Walker. A crowd of 62,856 attended.

Geiberger Wins Ontario Golf Open

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI)—Steady Al Geiberger, only three years out of college, today happily exclaimed that he had achieved one of his major goals as a touring pro golfer, with his victory Sunday in the $27,500 Ontario Open.

Geiberger shot an eight-under-par 276 for the 72-hole tournament over the par-71 Whispering Lakes course to beat out five rivals tied one stroke behind him.

"It was the first official tournament I've won since I turned pro, and it was a great feeling to win one that goes into the records of the year," the 25-year-old former University of Southern California golf captain said.

And the first money of $3,500 Geiberger collected was the richest purse he had won, although his earnings in official tournaments now has soared to $25,435.

"I'm going to play in the Orange County Open this weekend and then will lay off for the rest of the year," the slim young pro said.

Geiberger's 70 in the final round was far from the best of the day but it was enough to win and he played the 18th hole conservatively with the knowledge that a par four could win.

Tied at 277 for second were Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., who shot a 65 to equal the best round of the tournament; Chuck Rotar, Las Vegas, Nev.; John Ruedi, Billings, Mont.; Bob Goalby, Belleville, Ill.; and Gardner Dickinson Jr., Tequesta, Fla.

Kelso Breaks Record In Race At Belmont

By United Press International

There's nothing wrong with Kelso. It just takes him a little longer to get warmed up these days.

The 5-year-old gelded son of Your Host, who was called "washed up" by many after a dismal start in 1962, further embellished his claim as one of the all-time racing greats Saturday with a record-breaking time while winning the $108,900 Jockey-Club Gold Cup Stakes at Belmont Park for an unprecedented third time.

Kelso was clocked in 3:19.45 for the two miles, clipping by three-fifths of a second the track record set by Nashua in the 1956 Gold Cup.

Racing with ease over the entire distance, Kelso crossed the wire by 19 lengths over Guadalupe, with Nickel Boy finishing third in the field of six. Kelso, with Milo Valenzuela in the saddle, returned $2.50, $7.40 and $23.00.

Beau Purple handled a muddy track with confidence to register a two-length triumph over Bass Clef in the $131,250 Hawthorne Gold Cup at Hawthorne. The Argentine-bred Sensitivo was third, followed by Tumble Turbie and Crozer.

Beau Purple negotiated the mile and one-quarter in 2:04.15 despite high weight of 123 pounds, and he

Red Wings Lead National Hockey

By United Press International

Hockey's Montreal Canadiens—like baseball's New York Yankees—always seem to have the man they need waiting in the wings.

Latest case in point as far as the Canadiens are concerned is rookie Gordon (Red) Berenson who is doing a bang-up job replacing the ailing Dickie Moore.

Berenson, former University of Michigan star, scored at 6:45 of the third period Sunday night to earn the Canadiens a 3-3 tie with the New York Rangers and enable them to remain in a second-place tie with Toronto in the National Hockey League.

Coach Toe Blake says Berenson "could be a great one" but the 185-pound wing is a little more cautious: "This is a tough league compared with college hockey, but I think I can stick," he says.

The Canadiens came from behind three times to earn their tie with the Rangers but lost a point in the standings when the Detroit Red Wings stayed undefeated with a 3-1 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks.

SWTSC Tops In Lone Star

By United Press International

Southwest Texas State takes its half-game Lone Star Conference football lead to Huntsville Saturday afternoon to take on Sam Houston State.

In nighttime clashes, second place Texas A&I hosts S.F. Austin at Kingsville, third-place Lamar Tech goes to Brownwood to play Howard Payne and East Texas hosts Sul Ross at Commerce.

Southwest Texas scored a mild 20-13 upset victory over Lamar Tech this weekend.

A&I ran its record to 2-0-1 with a 27-3 victory over Sam Houston and East Texas blanked Howard Payne, 28-0, to pull even with Sam Houston at 1-1-1 in league action.

Sul Ross whipped S.F. Austin 22-8 in the other conference game. Sul Ross now stands 1-2 for the league season, Howard Payne is 0-2-1 and S.F. Austin is winless in three loop games.

Tickets On Sale For Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (Sp) — Tickets for the 1963 Cotton Bowl Classic will go on sale Thursday. Applications for tickets to the New Year's Day game will be accepted by mail only for a 13-day period, starting Thursday, October 25, and continuing through Tuesday, November 6.

The 1963 Classic will match the 1962 Southwest Conference champion against other nationally-ranked power at 1:45 p.m. on Tuesday, January 1. In the 1962 spectacular the University of Texas defeated the University of Mississippi, 12-7.

The price of tickets is $5.50 and a 25-cent mailing fee should be added to each application. There is no limit on the number of tickets an individual may order. However, no more than ten should be ordered on a single application. For those desiring more than ten tickets two or more applications should be submitted with separate checks or money orders accompanying each application.

When all ticket applications are received and filed after the November 6 deadline, a drawing will be conducted to determine the allocation of the 25,000 tickets available to the general public.

Applications should be mailed to arrive during the specified period, October 25 through November 6. Checks, money orders should be made to the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association and applications addressed to Box 7185 Inwood Station, Dallas 9, Texas.

Tickets will be mailed to the purchasers shortly after December 1. Unfilled applications and accompanying checks and money orders will be returned to the senders at that time.

Little Juan Wins

SUNLAND PARK, N. M. (UPI)—Little Juan set a Sunland Park record Sunday in winning the $3,000 Charity Week Stakes. The four-year-old ran the 6 1/4 furlongs in 1:16 flat while carrying 130 pounds, the highest impost ever assigned a horse at Sunland Park.

Trailing 3-0, Texas punched away at the leaky Razorback pass defense in seven minutes 23 seconds of the last quarter. Duke Carlisle and Johnny Genung completed six of seven aerials to move the ball downfield. Tommy Ford then slashed across from the three for the winning score with only 36 seconds left in the game.

The game was supposed to decide the SWC champ, the experts said, but many of the so-called experts had picked the Hogs to upset Texas.

The victory gave Darrell Royal's Longhorns a 2-0 league record and made them 5-0 for the season. Now the Steers must tackle Rice, SMU, Baylor, TCU and A&M on successive weeks along the title trail.

SMU now stands 1-0 in conference play because of a 15-7 upset of Rice Saturday; TCU stands at 2-1 with Arkansas after rallying for a 20-14 victory over A&M and Baylor bounced Texas Tech 28-6. A&M and Baylor are 1-1 in league play. Rice is 0-1 and Tech 0-4.

SMU's defense made the difference in the Rice game. The ponies recovered two fumbles and intercepted four passes in a penalty-studded game and got two touchdowns in the final four minutes. Don Campbell sneaked one yard for one and diminutive Tommy Brennan scooted six yards for the other.

Sonny Gibbs connected on nine of 14 passes and added two touchdowns personally to lead TCU from behind against the surprising Aggies.

In the Baylor-Tech game signal-caller Don Trull hit 10 of 18 and guided fullback Dalton Hoffman to a pair of touchdowns and Hoffman's understudy, Tom Davies, to another.

Liston To Defend Title In February

NEW YORK (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, angered at being forced to go on tour to get "eating money," announced today he will break away from Championship Sports, Inc., and make his first title defense in February against Floyd Patterson.

Through advisor Jack Nilon, Sonny made his announcement which designated the new 16,000-seat Baltimore Civic Center as a preferred site for the return fight with Patterson.

Nilon said Sonny will break loose from Championship Sports for alleged breach of payment contract and make his February defense under new promotion. It was Championship Sports that staged the fight at Chicago's Comiskey Park on Sept. 25 when big Sonny of Philadelphia took the title from Patterson on a first-round knockout.

But Nilon charged today that Championship Sports failed to give Sonny $50,000 within 48 hours after the Chicago fight, as contracted.

Nilon added, "And the rest of our estimated $282,000 purse was to have been held in escrow until after Liston gave Patterson his return title shot, within a year."

The only money Liston received from CSI was $25,000 for training expenses, given him at the time he signed the formal Illinois Commission contract in Chicago, weeks before the fight. Back stressed.

"I haven't heard of Championship Sports putting any of Sonny's money in escrow," he explained, "because the government is holding up practically all funds connected with the bout—in a $2,175,500 lien."

But the slender, brown-haired advisor emphasized that he believed the government's lien had nothing to do with the plans of Championship Sports to pay Patterson his proceeds from the fight at intervals over 17 years.

"In my opinion, the United States government doesn't do business this way," Nilon continued. "There is much more to the government's lien than meets the eye — matters that have nothing to do with the recent fight."

He declined to amplify that statement.

SWC Roundup

By PAUL FREEMAN

The top-ranked University of Texas Longhorns, now tested against the mightiest foe in the 1962 Southwest Conference lineup, start what may be a downhill run toward the league title Saturday night against Rice.

The Owl-Longhorn tilt is one of three conference and one inter-sectional games on tap for the coming weekend. In other games Baylor and the Texas Aggies play at Waco Saturday night, surprising Southern Methodist travels to Lubbock to take on winless Texas Tech and Arkansas takes a vacation from conference wars at Little Rock against Hardin-Simmons. Texas Christian takes the day off.

The Longhorns defended their No. 1 national rating Saturday night at Austin with a Hollywood finish to pull out a 7-3 victory over Arkansas.

Texas, Alabama Pace Unbeaten

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

Texas, Alabama and Northwestern, locked in a three-way battle for national honors, place perfect records on the line Saturday when the college football season passes the half-way mark.

Top-ranked Texas, confronted by the heartbreak ridge of the Southwest Conference in its remaining games, meets Rice; second-ranked Alabama gets another breather in Tulsa, but the No. 2 Northwestern Wildcats face the task of trying to defeat Notre Dame for only the seventh time in 32 meetings.

Five other undefeated teams among the top 10 seek to strengthen their positions. Fourth-ranked Mississippi takes on Vanderbilt, fifth-ranked Southern California meets Illinois, eighth-rated Wisconsin is pitted against Ohio State, ninth-ranked Washington goes against Oregon and the No. 10 Louisiana State Tigers face Florida.

Texas almost stumbled against SWC foe Arkansas, ranked sixth last week, before gaining a 7-3 squeaker Saturday on Tommy Ford's touchdown plunge from the three-yard line with only 36 seconds remaining in the game.

Tide Ribs In

Alabama, launching a co-ordinated land and air attack, handed Tennessee its fourth loss, 27-7. Benny Nelson scored twice for the Crimson Tide on passes and Cotton Clark blunted for another Alabama touchdown.

Sophomore quarterback Tommy Myers rallied Northwestern to an 18-14 victory over seventh-ranked Ohio State with an eight-yard TD toss to Paul Flatley for one score, and totaled 35 yards in passes to set up another Wildcat tally.

The Glynn Griffing to Woody Dabbs pass-scoring combination led Mississippi to a 21-0 triumph over Tulane and the fourth straight victory for Ole Miss.

Unbeaten Southern California routed California, 32-6, in a game marred by 26 penalties. Hal Bedsole, a former quarterback, found himself on the receiving end of scoring passes as he went over twice on plays that covered 46 and 7 yards.

Wisconsin, which ranks with Northwestern as the only undefeated teams in the Big Ten Conference, swamped Iowa, 42-14. Ron Vanderkelen keyed the Badgers with three touchdown throws and Ron Smith scored three times.

A tough defense by Washington enabled the Huskies to shutout Stanford, 14-0. Nat Whitmer and Jim Stiger accounted for the scoring.

Jerry Stovall carried five times in seven plays to notch the only touchdown of the game as Louisiana State beat Kentucky, 7-0.

Censorship Gains Beachhead

Signature by the President of the combination bill boosting postal rates and Federal workers' pay does not make the Bush Amendment smell any sweeter. This is the rider that would partially restrict the freedom of the Communists to inundate Americans with Red propaganda via the US mails. Successor to the original Cunningham Amendment, it would likewise establish statutory peacetime censorship for the first time in our history. And while intended to restrain the subversive efforts of our enemy, the establishment of censorship in one area may readily be extended to another and another as time goes by.

Under the Bush Amendment, a first class mail would be exempt, also that to libraries, colleges, universities, scientific and professional institutions etc. etc. Thus, even if it was a good idea, censorship in a Bush would not be very effective — merely expensive to the taxpayers.

The measure further provides that the Secretary of the Treasury will rule on what Russian mail constitutes Communist propaganda. Such material would be held up and the addressees notified to come and get it if they wanted it. The whole idea is not only contrary to the First Amendment to the Constitution but it also impresses us as abominably expensive — especially when the original purpose of the postal bill was to relieve the deficit. We seriously doubt that Mr. Dillon will be spending much time, personally, looking over third and fourth class mail from Russia to see what is subversive, notifying addressees and handing it out to those who cherish it. But we can imagine the horde of officious censors and straw bosses and clerks who will be hired to do it.

Rather, we would suggest a new bill next January — when we can hope some sanity has returned to the Congress — requiring Russia to pay postage on the tons of stuff the post office now delivers free, with a rider repealing the censorship amendment. This, we can be sure, would reduce the flow more than the Bush measure, reduce postal losses too, and protect the traditional freedom of the great American mailbox.

Just Imagine!

Imagine that your salary is $5,200 a year — and you are almost $30,000 in debt. Says Congressman Norblad, of Oregon, "Last year your debt increased by $300. This year you are adding at least $700 to your indebtedness."

"Your friends are warning you that you can't continue to pile up additional debt — that this is the road to financial ruin. So you and your wife talk it over and decide to draw up a budget for next year. But instead of reducing expenditures — or even holding them at their present level — you decide that you will spend $340 more next year than this year. You reach this decision on the assumption — there is nothing definite — that you will receive a salary increase next year, therefore an increase in spending is in order. Little or no consideration is given to the $30,000 debt. The significant thing is that you expect to make more money next year — therefore you plan to spend it.

"Nearly everyone will agree that a family handling its finances on this basis is headed for serious trouble. Yet add seven ciphers to these figures and you have the exact fiscal situation of the Government."

Continually spending more than you earn, whether you are a private citizen or a government is the way to bankruptcy. It is a cold, blooded financial problem, not a partisan political issue.

How Other Nations Obtain U.S. Gold

By ED DELANEY

If you want to know why the purchasing power of your dollar keeps dwindling year after year, look toward Washington. Your present 40 cent dollar will sink lower in value unless the senseless squandering of the administration and the give-aways to every nation in the world are halted. You taxpayers already directly owe $300 billion which is $25 billion more than the combined debt of all other nations in the world, but that does not worry the spending boys in Washington.

Obviously foreign nations are worried about the value of our paper dollars because some of them are draining gold out of that cache at Ft. Knox. Mr. Kennedy has said that our scanty gold resources are not being alarmingly depleted, but the reports of the U.S. Treasury do not support U.S. statements. The first of September this year the U.S. government had slightly more than $4 billion in gold to meet demand notes of foreign governments and banks to a total of $15 billion — all payable in gold.

During 1961 the out-flow of gold from Ft. Knox was $837 million. But during the first seven months of 1962 the drain on that gold was $808 million. What should arouse some of our people to justifiable anger is the fact that millions of tons of gold is going to dead-beat nations. Nations who would not pay their special assessments to the United Nations. So our generous administration in Washington, that has no money of its own, paid those assessments for the dead-beats. How do they show their gratitude? That is a pretty story.

assessment for UN operations was $695,000. Uncle Sam contributed $548,400 to defray the major part of that debt. Then Argentina, so impoverished it could not pay an amount if less than a million, bought 90 million of that gold at Ft. Knox. Undoubtedly they paid in our paper dollars which they did not regard as having the same intrinsic value as gold. Little Costa Rica was assessed $22,000 for its part in the U.N. special operations. Our Washington sympathizers took $25,000 of your money to help Costa Rica pay off the U.N. assessment. Then the little country managed to scrape up enough currency or bank credit to buy $2,200,000 of that Ft. Knox gold.

Saudi Arabia, a country that is oil-rich, was assessed $56,000 for the special operations of the U.N. Our State Department and U.N. delegates took compassion on that Arab state and paid $44,800 of the debt. That pleased the oil barons, so they bought $47 million of our gold stocks and probably paid in oil. Little Nigeria in Africa could not or would not pay its U.N. assessment of $165,000. Our Washington do-gooders with your money, paid $124,000 of Nigeria's debt. To show appreciation, little Nigeria bought 20 million of that yellow metal we have been hoarding at Ft. Knox for emergency uses. We paid $25,000 of the $32,000 Lebanon owed the U.N. then poor little Lebanon bought 21 million of our gold. Could not pay the U.N. assessment but could buy millions in gold. We paid $256,000 of Turkey's assessment of $320,000, so Turkey found enough U.S. currency to exchange it for $251 million of our gold, Cambodia, over on the fringe of Asia, was assessed $32,000 by the U.N. As it is a poor little country our kind-hearted squanderers in Washington approved the idea of us paying $25,000 of Cambodia's assessment, which left them enough to buy $7,000,000 of the nest-egg we were saving at Ft. Knox.

There are other examples of how we pay the debts of the dead-beat nations and they in turn buy that precious metal which they regard as being of more value than our paper money. Americans cannot buy that gold and the gold mining industry in the United States is strangled by government edicts, first under Franklin Roosevelt and since then, Russia, who got gold mining machinery from the United States during the last war, is now the second largest producer of the metal, next to South Africa.

When our gold resources dwindle to further low levels, the Soviet may begin dumping its supplies into the marts of the world and the route will take the place of the dollar as the most valuable currency in the world. The dead-beat nations seem to be dead — sure that they get gold from us instead of paper money which has a way of shrinking — as you are learning every day when you go to the market.

Pull Up A Chair

By Neal O'Hara

A new item may make TV viewing more pleasurable for many. It is a sort of dart game in which a transparent fits over the TV screen. This permits viewers to express their emotions by shooting at the characters with the harmless darts. There's a radically different role for today's salesman. Too many of them spend too much time seeing buyers who can make only buying motions not buying directions. Individual buyers for the giant retail chains are losing their authority, and buying committees are taking their place.

Political item in the New York Herald Tribune: "He and Gov. Faubus spit during the 1957 Little Rock public school integration crisis." Purely psychological: One nationwide sales organization requires its traveling salesmen to file their expense account by tape-recording, and finds the combined expenses have been cut by about 25 per cent since the practice was initiated. For it's a psychological quirk that men who do not hesitate to pad an expense account when it's a written report finds it harder to list little exaggerations when speaking aloud.

Today's favorite gag: MOTHER — "Now, Freddie, wouldn't you like to give your football to that poor little boy who hasn't a daddy?" FREDDIE (clutching football) — "Couldn't we give him Daddy instead?" In Britain the MacMillan government has favored "in principle" the adoption of the decimal system for its currency. But the problem is a profound one. The pound sterling now is worth $2.80 and is divided into 20 shillings, each of which represents 12 pence. How to convert this to a 1-10-100 relation is the big question.

Barfoot with cheeks of tan may be the answer to this, but states with the lowest consumption of shoes include Mississippi, South Carolina, Alabama, Kentucky, Arkansas and Tennessee.

Thoughts while shaving: 1. It doesn't make much difference now, but during their unshakable and eternal friendship, Hitler rarely if ever addressed Mussolini as "Duce," and Musso was quite as reluctant to address Adolf as "Fuehrer." Maybe they thought that was greasy kid stuff among themselves. 2. When they were introduced, remember all the stress that was placed on the fact that ball-point pens could write under water? When you think of it, just how many pen users would have to write under water? 3. Printers' Ink mag has a fictitious character, Montague Muldoon, whose duty is to think of new products that would appeal to various segments of the market. One of his recent suggestions was to bring out fresh fruit filter cigarettes. 4. If those don't meet favor — although fresh fruit filter cigarettes don't seem so absurd today as they might have five years ago — Mr. Muldoon has another idea in the same field — "Pee-wit, the Cigarette for Slobs!" There's a cigarette appealing to almost every other phase of American society. But who ever thought of the slobs?

Country editor speaking: "Kennedy warns Castro to keep his arms in Cuba. To this we may add the hope that he'll keep his mouth out of the UN Assembly."

Allen-Scott Report

K. to Visit U.S., U.N. Thanksgiving Week; Talk with President Planned; Berlin in Balance

WASHINGTON — Premier Khrushchev is making his third trip to the U.S. just before Thanksgiving.

He is scheduled to arrive in New York on November 20 to speak at the United Nations General Assembly and confer with leaders from all over the world.

Khrushchev's mission, which will last more than a week, could mean peace or war over West Berlin.

Already, the Russian leader has informed Ambassador Foy Kohler that he wants a meeting with President Kennedy during his visit to discuss the "neutralization" of West Berlin and Cuba.

Arrangements for this "big two" session are now being completed. The two East-West leaders will meet in New York, Washington or Hyannis Port during Thanksgiving week.

President Kennedy's Cape Cod retreat was proposed as the meeting site by Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia. He was a White House guest there during the 1961 Thanksgiving holiday when he was given an exclusive interview.

Khrushchev first visited the U.S. in 1959 as the official guest of former President Eisenhower. After a short stay in the Capitol, the Soviet leader made a whirlwind tour of the country. His second trip was in 1960 when he made his shoe-pounding appearance at the United Nations.

Khrushchev's forthcoming visit will be the most important the Kremlin leader has ever undertaken outside of Russia. This is the joint opinion of the Premier and President Kennedy.

advisers to use tactical nuclear weapons in defending Berlin. This policy determination was based on the fear that employment of tactical A-weapons would escalate into full-scale nuclear war with Russia.

BALANCING THE SCALES — Algerian Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, who received one of the most lavish White House receptions given a foreign visitor, got a distinctly different greeting at the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue.

Taking advantage of an accidental meeting, Speaker John McCormack gave the Algerian Marxist a polite but firm lecture on "how Communism will be defeated."

Ben Bella, touring the Capitol with his small party, was being shown Speaker McCormack's office when the Democratic leader arrived to sign a number of bills Congress has passed on adjournment day.

Greeting his unexpected visitor, McCormack invited Ben Bella and his party to sit down, saying: "I welcome you to our country and Congress. There are good men in this country just as there are good men in your country and all over the world. When good men unite, there is nothing they cannot accomplish."

"Take the great evil of the world today, Communism. It will be licked when the good men in my country join the good men in your country fighting it wherever it is found. It is in this spirit that I greet you."

The startled Ben Bella, on hearing the French translation of McCormack's words, replied: "I accept your welcome and may our nations be friendly."

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "If private enterprise is allowed to control our economy, who is going to look out for the non-competitive type of person?"

If a person is able-bodied and healthy he, of course, should make every effort to take care of himself. Remember, one of the Commandments says, "Honor thy father and thy mother that thy days may be long in the land thy God has given thee." That means that the children should take care of their parents if they are in need, and then the children when they grow up and have children will have their children believe that it is their responsibility to take care of them if they are destitute. If they have no children, of course, the charitable organizations, and the churches, in many cases, take care of the destitute, if they have so lived that someone wants to voluntarily help them. If they have not so lived would not nature have the solution?

If we had a completely free enterprise and didn't have government interference, it would be much easier for individuals to take care of themselves, because our production would be at least one-half higher, we wouldn't be in all these crazy wars, and it would be much easier for a man to provide for his old age.

During the depression, nobody starved, and before there was any welfare work by the government, friends and neighbors and charitable organizations took care of the destitute.

To have a person believe that popular around the White House because she backed Nixon in 1960, Wiley Buchanan, Vinton Chapin, and Burks Summers. Some 20 four-star generals and admirals turned up at the huge Pentagon reception for General Maxwell Taylor, new head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and General Lyman Lemnitzer, his predecessor who is becoming NATO commander. Aides of the four-star general and admirals sought to put them at the head of the receiving line, but they declined — which made a big hit with the numerous colonels and other lower-ranking officers who were ahead of them.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's inaugural gown is going on display next month as part of the Smithsonian Institution's famous collection of First Lady gowns.

Mrs. Gwen Cafritz, one of the capital's zealous "society queens," gave her annual cocktail party when the Supreme Court resumed its deliberations, but this time with a new angle. Instead of holding the shindig in "honor" of the tribunal, Mrs. Cafritz labeled it an autumn party with the honor guests Swiss Ambassador Lindt and his young blonde bride. Reason Mrs. Cafritz quietly dropped the Supreme Court tag on her party was that the "Nine Old Men" ignored it.

Few Tax Benefits For Man-In-Street

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — What the average citizen gets out of the new tax law just passed by Congress is not much.

What came out was a series of highly technical amendments to existing tax law. The changes benefit corporations and businessmen. Business will even be allowed to deduct expenses for lobbying and trying to influence congressional votes.

As originally requested by President Kennedy last year, the tax bill was intended to close tax loopholes and increase tax receipts sufficiently to cover revenue losses from an investment tax credit of 15 per cent on new equipment purchases. This latter was cut to 7 per cent.

An administration proposal for compulsory deduction of taxes from dividend and interest payments to individuals was killed.

Treasury and congressional staff estimates put the government's loss of revenue from the new law for the fiscal year ending next June 30 at from $970 million to $1.3 billion. For full years after that the estimated losses will be from $170 million to $550 million.

These figures do not take into account the increased taxes which Treasury expects to collect from the stimulative effects on business of the 7 per cent investment tax credit. No one is smart enough to make any estimate of how much this might be.

For average citizens filing individual income tax returns, here are some of the new law's more important effects:

Companies paying dividends and interest to individuals will be required to make more detailed reports on such payments to the government. If Internal Revenue Service checks up on all these reports, it may be able to collect taxes from a lot of people who have not been paying them. IRS hopes to collect about $175 million of the more than $1 billion that has been escaping the tax collectors through this old loophole.

Expense account deductions of salesmen and business executives were tightened a little. Expenses for maintaining yachts or hunting lodges will be deductible only to the extent that they are used for entertaining that leads directly to a business transaction.

Good will entertaining, banquets and business meals are made deductible for tax purposes only if they directly precede or follow a substantial and bona fide business talk.

Taking a customer to a night club or a prize fight would not be a deductible expense if it is not preceded or followed by business negotiations. It's still a big loophole.

Artists and writers who are now permitted to spread their income from the sale of a painting or a book over several years will now be permitted to spread back their charitable contributions in a similar manner.

People who are members of cooperatives will be required to pay income taxes on patronage dividends as they are received.

he does not need to be responsible for his own well-being is to encourage idleness and sloth, and pauperizes and barbarizes the whole people.

Man's loving his fellowman and following the Golden Rule would take care of the person who was destitute.

These dividends will be a deductible item for the co-op. But the members must report dividends on their tax returns and pay taxes on amounts they receive in cash or by written notice of a dividend allocation by the co-op if more than 20 per cent is paid in cash.

Taxpayers engaged in farming will be permitted to claim a current deduction of up to $5,000 or 25 per cent of income from farming operations — whichever is less — for expenses of clearing or leveling land and diverting streams to make acreage suitable for farming. Previously, this was a capital expenditure.

One loophole that was closed affects American citizens living abroad or receiving income from foreign sources. If they have been bona fide residents of a foreign country for three years, $20,000 of income will be excluded from U.S. taxes. If they have been living abroad five years or more, $35,000 will be excluded.

But all such people — Hollywood stars, for instance — will no longer be able to claim they are foreign residents for U.S. tax purposes and U.S. residents for foreign tax purposes.

They will have to pay taxes on foreign "fringe benefits" by a gradually rising scale until 1968. Thereafter they must pay taxes on the full amount. And income paid to U.S. citizens by foreign trusts will be made taxable in America for the first time.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — NBC-TV's reported wish for Mrs. Nikita Khrushchev to narrate part of a Kremlin tour, coupled with the network's present rash of programs with subjects sensitive to the Soviets, poses a provocative situation.

Four years ago, CBS-TV presented a drama entitled "The Plot to Kill Stalin," with the Soviet hierarchy identified by real names. It was not too kindly to Premier Khrushchev. The sensitivity was so great that CBS was deprived of its official news bureau in Moscow for a while.

Three of NBC's scheduled documentaries are certain to get careful scrutiny from the communists — one called "The Death of Stalin," another "The Rise of Khrushchev," and the third a 96-minute program of authentic film showing the construction of a 450-foot tunnel under the Berlin wall.

Sunday night, with the Berlin crisis adding timeliness, the network also presented a strongly anti-communist drama set in the divided city, and aired on "The Show of the Week." The story told of a non-political student who betrays a member of the East Berlin underground by trying to stay neutral; it starred Franchot Tone, Maureen Stapleton, Margaret O'Brien and Burt Brinckerhoff, and it began with an announcer saying:

"This is the story of people trapped behind the wall." The drama, based on a 1911 story by Joseph Conrad set in Czarist Russia, held this viewer only because of its immediacy. In a period of less timely emotion, it would have little to offer.

Truth and workable plot are assets, but they do not guarantee art. The ludicrous loopholes of some actions and the loose direction rendered the hour flimsy as drama, despite the work of the superb young actor, Brinckerhoff, as the student who betrays in hopes of being left alone with his book work, but winds up being made deaf by the communists.

'United States Day In Pampa' Proclaimed

Mayor E. Sidwell has proclaimed Tuesday, Oct. 23, as "United States Day" in Pampa in an official proclamation which urges Pampa citizens to "pause, reflect, re-appraise and re-evaluate their heritage as members of a free society originating in the Declaration of Independence and governed according to the Constitution of the United States."

The mayor's proclamation goes on to say: "Whereas, it is profitable for all citizens of the United States of America to pause, reflect, re-appraise and re-evaluate their heritage as members of a free society originating in the Declaration of Independence and gov-erned according to the Constitu-tion of the United States, and

"Whereas, under the stress and strain of modern living with its many distractions, there is a tendency to accept our freedoms and opportunities without due regard to our responsibilities to protect, defend and maintain them for future generations, and

"Whereas, there is much propa-ganda circulated among us de-signed to persuade us to compro-mise and surrender our sov-erignty, and thereby our freedoms hard won by our forbears for our benefit and for the benefit of future generations, and

"Whereas, only by keeping our Country strong, united and sov-ereign can we best serve our in-terests and be able effectively to cooperate with and befriend oth-er peoples and nations, and
