MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usages by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. May a bride have both a maid of honor and a matron of honor?
2. How should a woman ask for her husband when she telephones him at his office?
3. What is a correct way for a woman to introduce her husband?
4. If you are sending a wedding invitation to a married woman you do not know, should you address it to Mr. and Mrs. George Townsend?
5. What is the primary rule to follow when inviting party guests? What would you do if—

(a) You are leaving a telephone message at your husband's office—

(a) Say, "Will you ask Mr. Young to call Louise?"

(b) Say, "Will you have Mr. Young call his wife when he comes in?"

(c) Say, "This is Mrs. Young; will you have Mr. Young call me when he comes in?"

Answers

1. No. Either, but not both.
2. She asks to speak to Mr. Young.
3. "This is my husband."
4. Yes.
5. To invite people who are agreeable to each other.

FRIENDS CALL ON MRS. DAVIS

Birthday Is Honored With an Informal 'At Home'

Birthday congratulations and good wishes were showered on Mrs. H. M. Davis Sunday afternoon when her daughter, Miss Mabel Davis, invited friends for an informal open house at their home, 603 N. Soumerville.

About 45 guests, many of them like Mrs. Davis long-time residents of Pampa, called to extend greetings and enjoy a brief visit. Miss Davis served coffee throughout the afternoon.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

It is so very necessary to give a boy or girl a background of pride that it might be interesting to take the whole matter of "pride" apart today and look it over.

Born with each of us is something that no one else possesses. As long as we live, no matter how someone loves us, there won't be a single soul who will know how we feel, what we are thinking of, what we are inside ourselves. We call it consciousness.

The first instinct of a baby and the last we take to our graves, is pride, the feeling that we are important to the scheme of things. It suffers many a blow on the way, but the germ is always there.

All inferiority is injured pride. Loss of confidence is merely pride that has had a few knockouts, from which it has never recovered. Fear of failure is pride again, afraid to risk another fall. Does it not seem that this is the most vulnerable spot of all?

Seek Refuge in Possessions

Many people poultice the hurts and disappointments by indulging in possessions. The boy who can't hold his place with his friends may depend too much on the glory of a new bicycle, or the girl on fine clothes, to give them importance.

Ambition of the worldly type, especially money acquisitiveness in adults, has behind it, as often as not, the motive of some early hurt to personality, that finds relief in gain.

None of these things brings real happiness or mental content, material possessions being merely a drug in this case to bolster up pride. Not always so, of course, for we are born with the acquisitive complex, too, and it needs some satisfying, but this can become an obsession.

So what are the real bolsters to natural self-pride?

First, good appearance and clean, normal surroundings. No self-esteem ever grew out of opposite conditions.

Encouragement is Vital

Second, the glow that comes from doing well. The child who does a little task as well as he knows how, and gets a word of approval for it, adds one more star to his account. But here lies a secret. He must know that it is his best, before he will quite swallow praise. Every real help to pride must spring from some root of "self."

This is why it is so necessary to encourage a child, not only to set his lessons as well as he can, but to do dozens of little things outside of his school life. His pride needs it. But he must have praise, too.

Third, he must be allowed to exploit his prowess along the line of his natural tendencies, enough to give outlet to his preferences. Suppression, always dangerous if carried to extremes, is the natural enemy of self-confidence and pride. Let the child shine brightly in some particular field, no matter how simple it may be. Let him know he is good.

Natural pride grows with proper encouragement and does not depend upon false gods to endow it.

WMS DELEGATE GIVES REPORT

Mission Lesson Is Studied In M. E. Circles

A report on the Northwest Texas conference of Methodist Missionary societies held at Stamford last week was given by a delegate, Mrs. Joe Shelton, to circle one of First Methodist Missionary society yesterday afternoon.

The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Charlie Duenkel. Ten members and a guest, Mrs. I. C. Huff, were present. The conference report replaced the usual mission lesson after a devotional by Mrs. Lee Harrah.

Leaflets on world and home evangelism furnished the lesson material for circle three, meeting with Mrs. Calvin Jones. The devotional topic, "A Disciple Is Always a Missionary," was discussed by Mrs. Luther Pierson.

Mrs. John Hodge spoke of Evangelism Through Home Mission Groups. Sixteen members attended.

Twenty members of circle four and two guests met at the home of Mrs. V. L. Boyles, with Mrs. A. C. Green as co-hostess. The lesson from Outlook Magazine was presented by Mmes. S. A. Hurst, E. A. Hampton, O. D. Stover, and W. Parvance.

The devotional talk was by Mrs. J. M. Turner and the opening prayer by Mrs. Roger McConnell. The meeting ended with a social period, when refreshments were served. Circle two had its meeting with Mrs. Sherman White.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Clark and son Charles David returned Tuesday from Wichita Falls where they visited Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clark.

Mrs. J. D. Burnett returned to Waxahachie last week after spending the last few months on her farm here.

The average life of a dollar bill is about nine months.

CHAPTER HOLDS MODEL MEETING

Study and Business Are Conducted By Sorority

A model chapter meeting with a cultural program and business session was conducted by Beta Sigma Phi sorority last evening, one of the events of rush month. The meeting was at city hall club room.

Definite plans for remaining entertainments of the month were made. At a formal dinner at Schneider hotel Friday, initiation of five pledges will be completed. Juliette McCallister and Myrtle Faye Gilbert will be the hostesses. A dance at the country club April 30 will honor the new members.

The pledges are Johanna Hodge, Ann Johnson, Lois Martin, Maxine Burris, and Cleora Stanard.

Last evening's program was on literature. Josephine Lane discussed Prose Writing; Miss Gilbert's subject was Drama; Lorene Nicholson spoke of poetry with stress on the life and writings of Edgar Allan Poe; France Stark read a poem written by Mary Elizabeth O'Rourke, sorority member in Pennsylvania.

An invitation from the Alpha Alpha chapter at Amarillo to attend a tea there Sunday afternoon was accepted.

After the meeting the group went to a downtown confectionery for refreshments. In addition to the pledges and those on program, sponsors present were Jewell Blufford, Pearl Ward, Lois Hinton, Sibyl Weston.

Mrs. Simpson Is Hostess At Shower

Mrs. L. W. Simpson was hostess at her home yesterday with a shower for Mrs. Hughey Daniels. After the dainty gifts were inspected, she served sandwiches, cake, and cocoa. Guests were Meses. Wayland Wright, Josie Young, Kenneth McDonald, Ray Wilson, Osborne, Edna Andrews, Joe Daniels, Harry Dean, James Fuchs, Avis Rhoades, Mae Daniels, George Allan, Burl Estes, H. W. Simpson, L. M. Smith and Miss Emily Daniels.

To Women:

If you suffer every month you owe it to yourself to take note of Cardui and find out whether it will benefit you. Functional pains of menstruation have, in many, many cases, been eased by Cardui. And where malnutrition (poor nourishment) had taken away a woman's strength, Cardui has been found to increase the appetite, improve digestion and in that way help to build up a natural resistance to certain useless suffering. (Where Cardui fails to benefit, consult a physician.) Ask your druggist for Cardui—pronounced "Card-u-1".

UNITED STATES WILL OPERATE IN 'RED' AGAIN

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The administration, sticking to a no-new-taxes fiscal program, projected today another year of spending in excess of income.

President Roosevelt's revised budget, ready for submission to congress this afternoon, was reported by Senator Robinson (D. Ark.) to call for a $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation for the year beginning July 1.

Robinson, the Democratic leader, said after a White House conference attended last night by congressional and administration leaders:

"Some members of Congress believe the relief appropriation might have been reduced to $1,000,000,000." Robinson said last night's conference developed strong sentiment that "every practical effort should be made to limit expenditures and appropriations so as to close as soon as possible the gap between income and outgo." He added, however:

"The indications are that if appropriations are conformed to estimates the budget will be out of balance."

"It is thought ways may be found without increasing taxes to bring the deficit to a narrow margin."

The Senate leader joined with Chairman Doughton (D. N. C.) of the House ways and Means committee in saying no new taxes were contemplated at this season.

The White House conference was designed to put finishing touches on a broad revamping of income and spending estimates for both the 1937 and 1937 fiscal years.

If another deficit is chalked up during the 1938 fiscal period, it will be the eighth consecutive year the government has operated in the red.

Faced with a $6,000,000 spread between income and outgo each day, the treasury has started a new financing operation to put $50,000,000 weekly into federal coffers.

The first of a series of $50,000,000 discount bills issued to provide new cash was sold yesterday at an average interest rate of 0.545 per cent.

The treasury had $300,000,000 of bills maturing June 15, and some authorities predict these will be replaced with long-term obligations. The bills now being issued will mature September 15, when third-quarter income tax collections pour in.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY CO-ED IS SELECTED DRAKE RELAYS QUEEN

DES MOINES, April 20 (AP)—Jack N. Campbell, editor of Quax, Drake university year book, announced today selection of Frances Rondolph Rather, 20-year-old University of Texas senior, as queen of the Drake relays for 1937.

Miss Rather is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity and of Pi Beta Phi, national social sorority. She is 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighs 115 pounds and has blue eyes and brown hair.

Campbell said the queen was selected on intelligence, beauty, personality and poise from 20 candidates representing colleges and universities in all parts of the country.

Miss Rather is majoring in English at the University of Texas and will receive a bachelor of arts degree in June. Her home is in Austin, Texas.

COMPLAINT IS FILED AGAINST LIQUOR STORE

A complaint was on file in county court today against the F. and L. Package store, W. Foster-st. for alleged violation of the state liquor law by selling liquor on Sunday.

The complaint was signed by E. S. Carter, agent for the Texas Liquor Control Board.

UAW LIKELY TO REJECT PLANS FOR WALKOUT

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Informed persons predicted officials of the United Automobile workers would reject today demands for a walkout of General Motors employees in the United States to show sympathy for their striking Canadian colleagues.

The union's executive committee took up the issue after the Canadian strikers had rejected an offer of higher wages' insurance committee without union recognition.

The Canadian union men had asked a United States strike to back up their demands. After an earlier strike in this country, General Motors recognized the union as spokesman for its own members.

The union executives also arranged for further discussion of organizing workers in Henry Ford's auto plants.

Homer Martin, president of the auto workers, and other officers would not divulge the campaign plan.

Martin disclosed his organization had opened discussions with the National Labor Relations board relative to filing of charges of discrimination and intimidation against Ford.

The American Federation of Labor took no action meanwhile against John L. Lewis' insurance committee for industrial organization, which embraces the auto workers' union.

Frank Dillon, a federation organizer, was on his way to Atlanta under orders to take the Georgia federation of labor convention out of the hands of a reputed C. I. O. lieutenant.

WHAT A WRECK CONSTIPATION MAKES

Constipation can dull your whole life. Headaches, poor complexion, tired, lifeless days are often the results. Also, many serious diseases.

Get rid of common constipation now with a ready-to-eat cereal—Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN brings you the two things your system needs to act naturally: "bulk" and vitamin B to help tone the intestines.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water—forms a soft mass, and gently clears the intestines of wastes. It acts naturally.

Pills and drugs seldom cure constipation. You just keep on increasing the dose and switching from one laxative to another.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day, three times daily if needed. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in recipes. Sold by all grocers—made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

PUBLIC OPINION AND AUTO-MOBILE ACCIDENTS

Much has been written on the subject of automobile accidents. In a national competition to determine the best editorial on the subject, for which was awarded a prize of $500, the prize money was given to E. Earl Hall of Mason City, Iowa.

Mr. Hall's safety editorial, "Bringing It Down to You," follows:

"Agencies and individuals interested in highway safety should not neglect the factor of an aroused public opinion in favor of a rigid enforcement of the rules of safety.

Up to this time, and at this time many a peace officer and many a court—particularly in the minor brackets—has believed that the greatest popular favor is to be had through a policy of leniency.

The peace officer has believed, with too much reason, that the surest way for him to continue himself in employment was to be extremely discreet in his choice of subjects for arrest and prosecution.

The story of the court—from local justice of peace up to district judge—has been too similar—The miserable showing of Iowa's capital city as to automobile deaths last year has been laid largely at the door of one court.

It can be shown, it must be shown, that the consensus in Iowa is overwhelmingly on the side of the public official who proceeds without fear or favor against those who habitually endanger all travel on our highways.

Most violations of traffic rules, we are convinced, bottom on an assumption by the driver that he will not be penalized for his breach. It's too apparent to be missed that when the police in this or any other city "crack down" on those who disregard stop signs, there's an immediate salutary effect.

Reluctantly we have come to the conclusion that education, as such, can go only so far. It can, and does, make the careful driver more careful but it is not effective against the "lunatic fringe" the 10 per cent of our drivers responsible for more than 50 per cent of our accidents.

The only language understood by them is the language of compulsion. And the only ones who can talk to them are our peace officers and courts, through courageous enforcement. Of the three "E's" of safety—engineering, education and enforcement—the last is the most important factor in the safety equation.

Isn't our purpose here to point a finger of criticism at either peace officer or courts. They have a right in a democracy to look to the wishes of those from whom they derive whatever authority they exercise. Our appeal, therefore, is for a public opinion which will not only approve rigid enforcement but insist upon it."

WASHINGTON LETTER

By PRESTON GROVER WASHINGTON—If ever your visit to Washington falls on you, take an hour off from your survey of the gold crested department of justice building and watch the house make laws.

Never was there a place more given over to frank, unalloyed disorder than the house when it sets out to debate a serious bill.

They don't talk to persuade the opposition, and anyway the opposition probably is out in the corridor smoking a cigar. They follow their views into "The Congressional Record" where their constituents may read them, although were it not for the competing din all constituents as far west as Duluth might very well hear them while completing the spring plowing.

At the same moment the member from Georgia cries out in agony against loss of states' rights in the anti-lynch bill, a half dozen of his fellows 10 yards up the aisle will throw back their heads in a guffaw at the latest ribald wheeze.

Asstute house managers have woven a network of rules to trap any rebellious clique which might be tempted to start a runaway filibuster. So this weapon of minorities, available in the senate, is easily curbed in the house.

Yet for almost every rule seeking to limit the number and duration of speeches there are outlets, like airholes in the ice, through which submerged congressmen can blow a public bubble. Unless the house managers slap down the rule prohibiting amendments, a congressman can add his own voice to the general hubbub by proposing an amendment, upon which he and a few associates can speak five minutes each.

To a reader of the record the amount of copy that a speaker can cram into a five-minute speech is simply bewildering. But that is taken care of in another manner. At the end of five minutes of speaking the member simply picks up his pages, mutters something about "privilege to extend my remarks," and hands the whole hour-long text of the speech to the reporter who obligingly inserts it in the record, lock, stock and barrel. Once there, it can be run off in multiplied number by the government printer for mailing to the voters.

But underneath the boiling disorder there

TEX'S TOPICS

The CIO-AFL controversy is puzzling to one with a thick skull. . . . After chatting for awhile yesterday with Adolph Germer, of Washington, who is John L. Lewis' personal representative, we garnered that the Committee for Industrial Organization has no quarrel with the American Federation of Labor. . . . Says Mr. Germer it is not the rank and file under A. F. of L. who make the complaint, rather it is the A. F. of L. "big-wigs" who are yipping about CIO.

CIO has no plan to enter into the precincts of the Federation, according to Mr. Germer. . . . The difference between CIO and AFL, according to Mr. Lewis' lieutenant, is that CIO is trying to get all labor under one head, to make it easier for employers to bargain, while AFL is so sub-divided into various groups, that an employer is made dizzy trying to do business with half a dozen or more union business agents all in one plant.

If you ask us—right now an employer probably is made a bit dizzy, no matter with which group he is dealing. . . . Premier Hepburn, up there in Oshawa, Ontario, read Lewis the "riot act" yesterday. . . . Said the premier: "Let me tell Lewis and his gang here and now that they'll never get their greedy paws on the mines of Northern Ontario as long as I am prime minister." . . . CIO may not be intending to step on AFL toes, but if yesterday's reports are true the same cannot be said of AFL when it comes to stepping on CIO toes. . . . It was predicted by a high labor source that the AFL executive board would move at once for the expulsion of unions in Lewis' CIO. . . . It is all so confusing.

Scientists think the first man lived in California. The office blond thought he lived in the garden of what British foreign secretary. . . . Another way to break up a sidown strike is to remove the chairs when the broadcast ball game reaches the seventh inning. . . . "A bronze eagle disappeared from a New York lawn." It cannot be the one now believed hovering over Washington, as that is blue. . . . The word "Ca'cany," used by Justice McReynolds, turned out to have been a Scotch firm meaning, "To drive carefully." To most autoists, that's Greek.

A sheriff couldn't understand how Detroit girl strikers withstood a long tear gas barrage, not knowing that girls feel the better for a good cry. . . . A person adrift at sea will live longer by taking no water at all, than by drinking sea water. Sea water is so salty that, while the kidneys are eliminating the excess salts, water from the blood plasma is lost, thus hastening death. . . . "Air wells" already have been successfully used in southern France. The principle of the air well is the same as that of an ice-filled pitcher, on which water condenses. At night, cold air enters the dome of the "air well" through a central pipe and circulates through the interior core, chilling it thoroughly by morning. As the outside air warms up, it enters and deposits its moisture, which drains into basins.

So hard is the shell of the barbasco nut that it will withstand a pressure of six tons. About the size of a tennis ball, it contains a cluster of nut meats resembling shelled Brazil nuts. . . . A "colony" of African insects has been discovered atop a Scottish mountain, 4000 feet high. The insects found were of a variety formerly believed to be extinct. . . . In England, telephone subscribers with weak eyes now can have their instruments fitted with a dial bearing figures three normal size.

"Trained fleas that just arrived in Boston from England can walk a wire." In fact, they were probably reared on wire-haired terriers. . . . "The medical name for cross-eyes is strabismus," suggesting a new yell for the fans: "Hey, ump, you got no business out there with Strabismus." . . . Klamath Falls, Ore., lumbermen discover eggs laid 100 years ago, too far back to have been vaudeville turns of the Cherry sisters. . . . Perhaps Il Duce sent his topnotch soldiers to Ethiopia, and only the backward ones to Spain.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Murray Korman thinks the current harvest of Park Avenue deb's will have to hurry if they are to catch up, in romantic interest, with the coterie of biddies who roam Broadway. Over a kipped herring at Lindy's this famed White Lane photographer put it this way:

"I don't know how it is, but the girls on Broadway get cuter each year. They're smarter, brainer, and they dress with more dash and style. Look at that girl there." He indicated an ingenue who had waltzed in on the arm of some local swain, and you caught at a glance just what Korman meant. She was a flash of restless color.

"What Park avenue needs," continued Herr Korman, spearing a crisp dorsal fin, "is a stage director and better lighting effects. Those kids haven't a chance against actresses and girls who dance in the night clubs—that is, in making impressions on the marriageable lads. They're trained, apt performers. They know stance, style, verve. They know how to pace a situation."

It didn't take much nosing about to know that he was led into these solemn cogitations by the recent uproar over pictures of Heloise Martin, the Drake college co-ed and ex-show girl, taken in a college shower and in the arms of a campus hero.

"The girl on the stage is following a script. When she steps off the stage she keeps right on acting. She can do things a girl on Park Avenue, or Catfish Row, doesn't know about. What if she does show a leg or reveal a tempting curve or so; she's just as modest, really, as girls of 10 or 15 years ago. As I get it, the difference is that she has acquired glamor. People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

A long time ago when the people we now call Old Timers planted shrubbery they set out lilacs, and they knew they would have to wait more than one summer for blooms, but they knew they would be here a long time, and that time in a new country is short. So the Thut and LeFors families set out lilacs at LeFors, and when Mrs. LeFors moved to Pampa she planted more.

And Mrs. Lena Schneider set out more than any one in town over at the old Schneider hotel, and now all the lilac bushes in town are in bud and before the week is over the perfumed plumes of the lilacs will be the favorite dress of spring, and the breath of spring by night when the moonlight will appear scented because of the lilacs, and showers will fall and make spring more complete because it always rains when lilacs bloom under the moon—the legend says the sky weeps for blooms, but they know they will miss their most ardent devotee this spring at an old home on West Francis where the yard is crowded with lilac bushes, for Grandma Waldstad will not be here to enjoy that wonder and ecstasy and surprise that an ever new and ever ancient and which overtake one when he awakens one morning and finds the lilacs in bloom.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—Dick Powell, and not James Cagney, is the champion striker of the Warner talent tribe. At fairly regular intervals of three or four months, the talkie troubador has found cause to complain of impasse with production chiefs, and retired to his own residence to off salary to sing it all in the bath.

Cagney gained fame as a rebel by taking his contract into court, whence he walked unfettered and free. Powell's periodical pouts have remained unused because, after sitting around a while, he always has learned an "Oreo-bitch" which, in his attitude, and forthwith reported for duty.

Misjudged One Picture He admits, to friends, that he has been wrong in box-office angles. "Colleen" for instance was a picture he confidently predicted, before walking out, would be as poor as its reports drifted in, the studio could show him that it did more business than other productions of its period.

(That's what makes movies the fascinating gamble they are—had one click, and good ones can miss) Principal cause of the Powell protests has been vehicles in which he had to play only the very ingenious or very fresh youth—accent on youth because he screens incredibly younger than he looks. How can a fellow learn to act unless he plays in pictures that'll teach him how? At Powell's salary for not acting, I'd be afraid to learn, personally—but Powell isn't.

Doesn't Bother Him Complete-indifference note, very refreshing amidst all the "Gone With the Wind" is this inter-office communication from one publicity man to another, copied verbatim: "Allen Jenkins says he hasn't read 'Gone With the Wind' and therefore hasn't any idea who should play Scarlett and Rhett Butler and

How's Your Health?

RHEUMATIC FEVER: I

Rheumatic fever is the leading cause of heart disease among the young. It is a highly destructive disease and one that from every viewpoint deserves the earnest concern of parents. Their informed vigilance may help to limit its ravages.

The cause of rheumatic fever remains unknown. There is strong suspicion that infection with streptococci contributes to, if it does not actually bring about the disease. However, though the cause remains uncertain, we know well the three developmental phases of the disease.

The first phase consists in the manifestation of a more or less acute throat infection. This is followed by the second phase, called the latent period, during which the child gives every appearance of being normal and healthy.

The third phase is characterized by the development of one or more of the specific clinical pictures characteristic of rheumatic fever, namely: rheumatic arthritis; rheumatic involvement of the nervous system (leading rise to St. Vitus' dance); and rheumatic involvement of the heart.

An ingenious theory has been advanced of late to explain this origin of the rheumatic fever. Many children suffer acute infections of the throat. Few of them, however, develop rheumatic fever. The reason why these few do develop it is explained on the basis of their peculiar incompetence to deal effectively with the toxins produced by the streptococci.

Be that as it may, the developmental "history" of rheumatic fever offers us clues to the possible control of the disease. To begin with, since the sore throat, or tonsillitis, is the forerunner of rheumatic fever, it is reasonable to assume that everything contributing to the prevention of acute throat infections should also contribute to the prevention of rheumatic fever.

This implies good nutrition for the child, and protecting it, which is difficult, against contact with other children or with adults who suffer from an infection of the throat or respiratory system.

The routine removal of tonsils does not seem to play a significant role in the prevention of rheumatic fever. However, when the tonsils are chronically infected and unquestionably diseased, and when there is a repeated history of sore throats, tonsillectomy is indicated.

FIRST CIO CONTRACT IN OIL FIELD PLANNED

Kilgore, April 20 (AP)—John T. Allen, organizer of the East Texas council of the Oil Workers union, hoped today to sign the first contract in the East Texas district since the Committee for Industrial Organization unionization drive began.

Allen said he and a committee of workers would meet officials of the Sparto Refining company of Shreveport today to discuss a union contract, which would extend 18 months, provide a 26-hour week, two weeks' vacation with pay for men who have worked a year or more for the company, and increase salaries ten per cent over those paid April 1.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history, and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. How was the Greer county ownership dispute finally settled?

A. At the instance of Texas, Congress passed a law submitting the controversy to the U. S. Supreme Court, which, in 1896, decided that the south fork of Red River was the boundary and awarded the land to Indian Territory.

Q. When was Starr county created and for whom was it named?

A. Starr county on the Rio Grande, adjoining Hidalgo county, and across from the Mexican town of Mier, was created in 1848 and named for Dr. James H. Starr, a pioneer Texas surgeon, Indian fighter and secretary of the treasury of the Republic of Texas under President Lamar.

Q. What became of the records of the first Masonic Lodge instituted in Texas, Dec. 17, 1835, at Brazoria?

A. Meetings of the lodge were held in the second story of the old courthouse, the last in February, 1836. In March, Gen. Urren's Mexican forces entered the town, and burned the courthouse, including the records, books, jewels and everything belonging to the lodge.

Q. What is the early history of the State Asylum at Austin?

A. The act of the Legislature appropriating $50,000 was approved Aug. 26, 1856, the site was selected by C. R. Johns of Hays county, E. T. Branch of Liberty county and Samuel Bogart of Collin county. Dr. J. C. Perry was appointed to superintend plans and construction; the first three units were built by Glascock & Miller of Austin for $21,841; Dr. C. G. Keenan was the first physician and superintendent, from 1858 to 1862.

Q. How many highway division offices are there in Texas?

A. Twenty-five, distributed thru-out the state.

CENTENNIAL SONG BOOK

In the homes, in the schools, in public gatherings of all kinds, Texans are singing the best known and best loved songs of the Texas home—songs of the Texas home. Twenty-eight of the best songs sung in Texas have been carefully selected by competent musicians, set to music, and published in a 36 page, 6 by 9, booklet on heavy coated paper with covers in colors.

The booklet will be mailed postpaid for 25 cents. Send all orders to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

SIDE GLANCES

This, That and Everything

BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK

Our reactions toward those who become embarrassed are distinct revelations of our culture. When we chance to witness some friend (or anyone else for that matter) who is passing through one of those embarrassing moments, and we deepen the person's misery by ostentatious recognition of his blunder, we are really showing our own lack of refinement.

Polished individuals, instead of trying to make uncomfortable folk more uncomfortable, will seek, through gentle manner, to make them less miserable.

That person possessing the smoothest technique in social usage is not the one who throws up his hands in holy horror when someone makes a breach of etiquette. The more finished personality is the one who can help timid persons in moments of mental distress to endure the shock of their embarrassment.

READING And Writing

By John Selby

One of the season's finest collections of poetry is "The Sleeping Fury" by Louise Bogan (Scribner's, $2.50). This volume, her third, is one of the few slim volumes of verse which makes up in quality what it lacks in quantity.

The poems are accomplished, epigrammatic, and full of a classic pride which seems to be the basis of Miss Bogan's poetic credo. Miss Bogan is not one of the surface skimmers among the moderns, but if her poems seem difficult at first reading it is, I believe, to the austere, almost fanatical restraint she employs. The title poem, which is very fine, is done in blank verse, but to my mind she is most successful within the boundaries of conventional meter.

"Lawrence: The Last Crusade," by Seiden Rodman (Viking, $2.50), is a remarkably interesting, if somewhat uneven, long narrative poem. Certainly, few men of our time have offered such possibilities for heroes as Lawrence of Arabia, that curious fusion of dynamic and contemplative spirits who swept across the world in our own time.

That this work does not quite make him a modern, more noble Oedipus is not the fault of the hero or poet. What is at fault is rather the impossibility of building a bridge between two spirits.

Despite the occasional tendency of the poem to fall into a rut of dullness, there are passages of great strength and beauty, passages of extraordinary vitality. What are the faults of the work, it must be granted that a strong and worthy attempt has been made with a heroic subject.—E. H. T.

SOIL CONSERVATION PLAN IS CONSIDERED

AUSTIN, April 20 (AP)—The Senate today received a bill establishing a state-wide soil conservation plan which had been amended to permit optional participation by farmers.

A diversion of 10 cents on the $100 valuation of the state ad valorem tax for general fund purposes and $75,000 appropriation would provide the state's part of financing the program with contemplated federal aid.

Local districts would be formed by vote of two-thirds of the resident land-owners and would formulate their own program. Farmers would govern the local, county, district and state organizations.

Districts would be authorized to furnish financial or other aid to land-owners or agencies to promulgate wind and soil erosion prevention programs.

WINTER-RACED HORSES GIVEN SMALL CHANCE

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—Not since Black Gold won the Golden Jubilee Kentucky Derby in 1924 has a winter-raced horse won the $50,000 added stake for three-year-olds at Churchill Downs.

Turfmen used to say that "no good horse ever races in the winter." Although, with the rich stakes at winter tracks in recent years, this adage no longer holds true, the bookmakers, who set the future odds on major racing events, believe no winter-raced horse will win this year's Kentucky Derby on May 8.

Odds on the "big five" winter-raced horses range from 20 to 40 to 1, while quotations on the five best thoroughbreds which led a life of ease during the cold months range from 6 to 15 to 1.

Here are the "big five" in each division among this year's derby nominations:

Winter-raced — Fairy Hill, Court Scandal, Mrs. Ethel V. Marrs, Case Ace and Military, and DeWitt Page's Maedic.

Winter-rested — E. R. Bradley's Brooklyn, J. H. Louchheim's Pomponoo, Mrs. Marrs' Reaping Reward, Samuel D. Riddle's War Admiral, and Warren Wright's Galsun.

Joseph E. Widener's Brevity, which finished second to Mortal L. Schwaner's Bold Venture in last year's derby, was raced in Florida during the 1936 winter, and after being bumped at the start came closer than any winter campaigner to winning the rich stake since the triumph of Black Gold 13 years ago.

Oil Production Shows Increase

TULSA, Okla., April 20 (AP)—An increase of 36,498 barrels daily in the production of oil during the week ending April 17 brought a new peak of 3,462,352 barrels daily for the period, the first new high mark since March 23, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Oklahoma had an increase of 15,778 barrels daily and a new total of 637,400 barrels. East Texas decreased 599 barrels daily to 460,098 while total Texas increased 26,864 barrels daily to 1,375,925.

California production dropped 4,500 barrels daily to 620,500 and Kansas increased 13,800 barrels daily to 192,575 barrels.

Eastern states including Michigan declined 151 barrels daily to 156,812 while the Rocky Mountain section increased 6,050 barrels daily to 75,510.

TEXAS COMPANY NOSES OUT PHILLIPS 11-10

Trailing 10 to 0 going into the sixth inning, the Texas company softball team pulled a rally to nose out Phillips 11 to 10 in a Pampa Softball association postponed game yesterday.

A home run by Pitcher McBride with two men on base started the rally in the sixth and five runs crossed the plate before the end of the inning. Texas continued the bombardment in the seventh and it ended with Awtry hitting a double with three men on base to score the winning runs.

Utterback and McBride divided hurling duties for the winners with Covington behind the plate. J. Dewey and Morgan was the battery for Phillips.

BEAUMONT IS DEFEATED BY MISSIONS 3-1

(By The Associated Press)

Beaumont's exporters clung to the top position in the Texas league's young pennant race today despite a defeat at the hands of the San Antonio Missions, 3 to 1.

The Shippers fell before Harry Kimberlin's curve ball yesterday as the San Antonio hurler scattered ten hits. Other teams with a chance to move abreast of the Exporters lost their games.

It was a day and night of sparkling pitching performances, featured by the three-hit shut-out of Dallas turned in by Clyde Lahti of Tulsa. Lahti was threatened only twice by the Steers as the others nosed them out 1-0.

Tulsa's run came in the first on singles by Janeco and Sands and a fly to center by Florio. Lahti fanned nine and didn't allow a walk. Curt Fullerton gave up only seven hits but couldn't match the great exhibition by the Oiler moundsmen.

Dutch Schesler, veteran Galveston right-hander, scattered six hits to blank Houston 5-0. Schesler was in trouble but once but he struck out Ray Zimmerman with the bases filled to stem an impending rally. Doubles by Fritz and Susce figured prominently in the Houston scoring.

Oklahoma City staged a story book finish to beat Fort Worth 5-4. The Indians scored two runs in the last of the ninth. They spotted the Cats four in the first but kept pecking away for a garrison finish that gave them victory. Jim Gravin, who relieved Steve Larkin for the Cats in the ninth, walked Tony Governor to force in the winning run.

MARATHON WINNER IS ON RELIEF IN QUEBEC

BOSTON, April 20 (AP)—If cheers could drown financial worries and a laurel wreath and a silver trophy defy the hunger that threatens his family, jobless Walter Young, lanky 24-year-old winner of the fortieth Boston A. A. marathon, would be superlatively happy today.

But the transitory rewards of victory, although sweet, are far from adequate and he hopes his proud townsmen of Verdun, Quebec, will give him a chance to get off the relief rolls after four years and become a policeman.

"A job is what I want most," said Young, after he had beaten Arlington's great Johnny Kelley, the 1935 winner and the outstanding favorite.

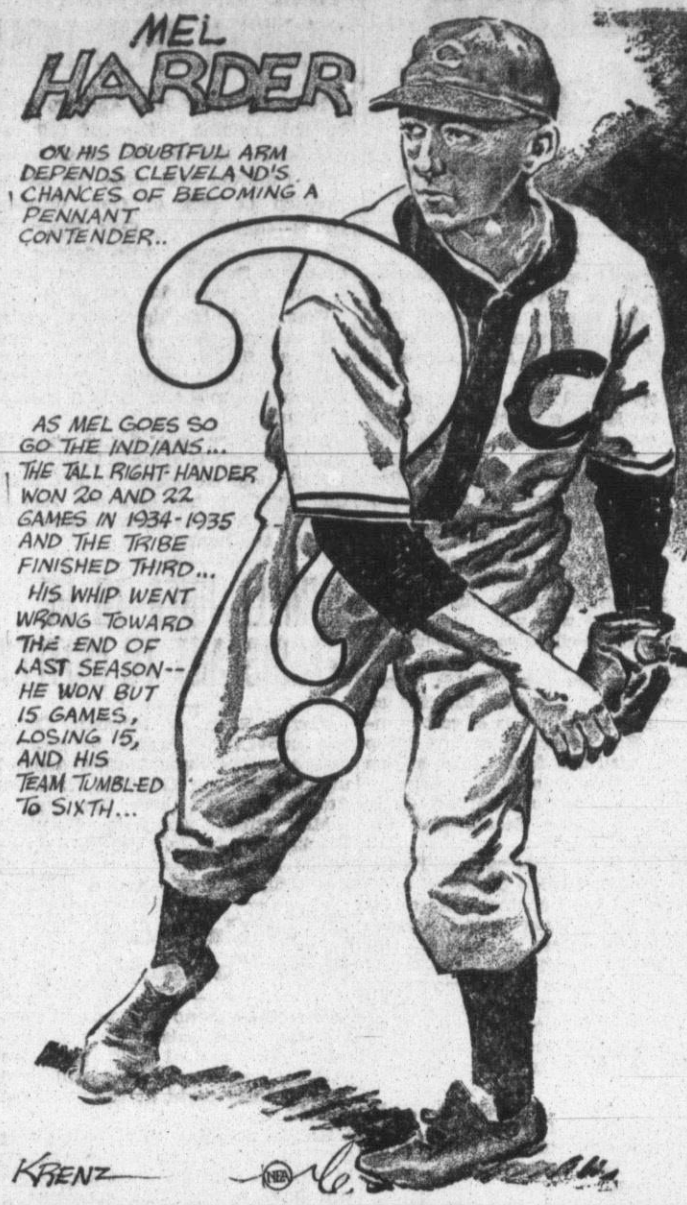

"The Verdun citizens financed my trip here for this race and promised they would provide me with work if I won," he explained. "I haven't had a job since I got married, about four years ago but I have passed the police examinations and I hope I can get a speedy appointment. My wife and three-year-old son can't eat cheers, laurels wreaths or silver cups."

BOOKMAKING IS OUTLAWED IN HOUSE BALLOT

AUSTIN, April 20 (AP)—A bill outlawing horse and dog race bookmaking and imposing drastic penalties for operators today passed to the Senate after overwhelming endorsement in the House.

The proposal, authorized by Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill and others, passed by a vote of 108 to 3 at the close of the first night session of the House on controversial matters last night.

The bill would impose a fine of from $50 to $200 on bettors, $100 to $1,000 and up to two years in jail for operators of pool-selling and bookmaking establishments, $100 to $1,000 and a jail sentence for the owner or lessee of premises used for that purpose and $100 to $1,000 fines for telephone or telegraph companies permitting their lines to be used to transmit racing information after being notified by law enforcement authorities to that effect.

2 Philadelphia Teams Are Leading In Major Leagues

BY SCOTTY RESTON.

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—The astonishing spectacle of the two Philadelphia teams, almost unanimously chosen for the cellar berths, leading the major leagues testified to the possibility of almost anything as the teams lined up today for the "real" opening after the preliminaries at Washington and Boston.

Given good baseball weather all around, an outpouring of more than 200,000 fans was anticipated in seven cities to top off yesterday's total of around 67,000.

New York, with all three metropolitan teams performing within the limits of the greater city for the first unanimous opening day in 25 years, looked for the biggest crowds. At least 50,000 were expected at Yankee stadium to see the world champions open against Washington's Senators, yesterday's 4-3 victims of the Philadelphia Athletics. Some 30,000 more were looked for at Brooklyn's Ebbets field to see Burling Grimes lead his Dodgers against their traditional rivals, the Giants, for the first time.

The Athletics returned home to face the Boston Red Sox; Detroit's Tigers entertained the Cleveland Indians and Chicago's White Sox looked up with the Browns at St. Louis in other American league openers.

Dean to Start.
Manager Frank Frisch of the St. Louis Cardinals called upon his loquacious star, Dizzy Dean, to start the Gas House Gang at Cincinnati, where a capacity gathering of 34,000 was expected. A pair of first-division prospects, Pittsburgh and the Cubs, met in Chicago.

The Phillies, who beat the Boston Bees 2-1 in 11 innings and 1-0 in yesterday's Patriots' Day bill at Boston, drew a day off, along with their opponents.

Two of the game's shining stars were on the sidelines and there was a notable casualty list through both leagues. Jimmy Foss, the Red Sox first baseman, was recovering from sinus trouble and Joe DiMaggio, Yankee center fielder, from an operation for removal of his tonsils and adenoids.

Manager Mickey Cochrane of Detroit had a few worries over the illnesses of Pitchers Tommy Bridges and Schooley Rowe but was consoled by the knowledge of his own good health and by the return of Hank Greenberg to his old first-base job as well as the acquisition yesterday of hard-hitting Babe Herman.

Wally Berger, the Bees' closing outfielder, broke a finger during practice yesterday.

Ruffing Still Unsigned.
The Yanks' Charley (Red) Ruffing and Adolph Camilli of the Phillies, who wasn't greatly missed yesterday, remained as the No. 1 hold-outs—the only players unsigned on the opening day.

Lou Gehrig, the indestructible Yankee, turned up with a painful injury of a finger on his right hand and every intention of playing in his 1,809th consecutive game in spite of it.

Under these conditions, virtually the only certainty was that the Phillies would remain atop the National league for at least one more day. They won their first contest yesterday when Morris Aronovich, who played with Hazelton, Pa., most

PITCHER ROOSEVELTS LOSES FIRST GAME IN FOUR YEARS

A CHARMFUL

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Hurler F. D. Roosevelt—a converted third baseman from Groton—nursed today his first defeat as a lucky ball-thrower—out for the Washington Senators.

Until yesterday, the big right-hander had a perfect record. Four times he flung out the opening day baseball at Griffith stadium, and four times the local nine came out atop the scoreboard.

The President was getting a little chesty over his performance. Last year he commented on how the capital club always won behind him.

Right-hander Roosevelt took a shiny white ball from Manager Harris. Thirty-two thousand fans and the Washington and Philadelphia teams were on hand.

The ball went twirling and then came diamond disaster—a triple fumble.

Three Washington stalwarts got their trained fingers on the ball but it eluded them. Finally third baseman Eddy Lewis came up with it.

Oldsters shook their heads—the season's first fumble—a bad sign.

The rest is history. The Philadelphia club beat the home boys 4 to 3, despite the fact that right-hander Roosevelt stayed in the box the whole 10 innings.

Anyhow, his record is four one and one lost.

"Which," said Manager Harris, "is pitching 800 baseball. Give me another flinger like that, and I'll grab the pennant."

3,000 JUDGES PARTICIPATE IN CONTESTS

COLLEGE STATION, April 20 (AP)—More than 3,000 Texas school boys and teachers participated yesterday in the twentieth annual Smith-Hughes state vocational agriculture judging contests held at Texas A. and M. college.

There were 790 teams from 293 schools scattered over the state that took part in the ten events, wild life, poultry and eggs, farm shop, horticulture, farm crops, soil conservation, entomology, cotton classing, dairy cattle judging and livestock judging.

Winners in dairy, poultry and livestock events will represent Texas in the national contests at the American Royal livestock show at Kansas City in the fall.

Team winners and high point men were: Farm crops—Emhouse first, Whitehouse second, Melvin Rich, Emhouse, high point.

Farm shop—Roby first, Cherokee second, Jerome Hajovsky, Weimar, high point.

Soil conservation—Stephenville first, Van second, Ferris Padgett, Van, high point.

Cotton classing—Caldwell first, Granger second, Hugh Vickers, Robstown, high point.

Dairy cattle—Bangs first, Ricardo second, John L. Blair, Devers, high point.

Wild life—Stephenville first, San Saba second, Bobbie Davis, Stephenville, high point.

ORGANIZER ADDRESSES MEET OF OIL WORKERS

A not too enthusiastic crowd of about 300 oil field workers heard Adolph Germer of Washington, D. C., organizer for the Committee for Industrial Organization, and J. L. Coulter of Fort Worth, vice president of the Oil Workers' union, speak in the district court room here last night.

Coulter, introduced by Lloyd Hawthorn, president of the local union of Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers union, discussed the organization of labor unions and how the A. P. of L. and the C. I. O. became separated although still affiliated in purpose. He revealed that nine organizers had been named by President John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. to work in Texas.

Objectives and accomplishments of labor organizations were outlined by Germer.

The speaker vehemently denied that John L. Lewis or the C. I. O. had called or had been responsible for the calling of any strikes in the United States.

"John Lewis or the C. I. O. has no authority to call a strike," Germer declared. "The C. I. O. does not believe in strikes, only steps in to settle strikes after they have occurred. Strikes are started by groups or organizations of dissatisfied workers."

WAR MACHINE AT LAST SATISFIES A. HITLER

BERLIN, April 20 (AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler, hailed on his 48th birthday by the masses, was believed today to be ready to join in calling a halt to the rushing world rearmament race.

Foreign observers considered the German army finally had reached a strength satisfactory to Der Fuehrer, as demonstrated today by the greatest military review ever staged in the German capital.

They drew their conclusions from Hitler's statement yesterday that "Germany would be willing to participate in a united effort to establish mutual understanding between the nations of the world" through a conference called by President Roosevelt or the head of some other world power.

The declaration of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, economics minister, that "rearmament forcing by Germany, to withdraw certain raw products from consumption but raw material restriction has now passed its highest peak."

Together, these things were taken to mean Der Fuehrer's earlier plans for his army have now been completed and he is now ready to slow down its development, restrict armament, or disarm, as he considers events outside Germany dictate.

Hitler's Birthday Is Celebrated in War-Like Fashion

BERLIN, April 20 (AP)—The Third Reich celebrated Adolf Hitler's 48th birthday today with a military display that eclipsed any in the memory of the old Berliners who used to attend the Kaiser's parades.

Der Fuehrer's pride in Germany's re-emergence as a military nation was shared by high Nazi aides and by scores of high officers of the old Imperial army, occupying places of honor in the official reviewing stand.

Hitler's arm was raised time after time in the Nazi salute as 14,000 soldiers, 1,500 horses and 600 motorized war machines passed in long lines before the Third Reich's chief.

Beside him, their faces beaming, stood his highest lieutenants: Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, War Minister Gen. Werner von Blomberg, army Chief of Staff Col. Gen. Werner von Fritsch, and Chief of Admiralty Admiral Erich Raeder.

Immense crowds of German citizens lined Berlin's streets to watch the parade. They applauded vociferously as squadrons of war planes roared overhead and gave special cheers to an assembly of 275 two-man tanks which rumbled past the reviewing stand.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 20 (AP)—In late trading today, the Chicago wheat market averaged higher, but failed to hold extreme upturns a feature being widening of the price spread between the May future and new crop months.

Cables said buying of wheat for Germany and Italy had ceased temporarily but was expected to be resumed later on. It was added the international wheat market would be governed to a great extent hereafter by North American wheat conditions.

At the close, wheat was 3/4 lower to 1 1/2 higher than yesterday's finish, May 1.34 1/2-35, July 1.21 1/2-1.21 1/2, corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, May 1.28 1/2-1.28 1/2, July 1.15 1/2, and oats 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher.

Adobe Walls Scouts

Boy Scout troop 80 held its monthly Board of Review at the First Methodist church last night with three committeemen, R. S. McConnell, V. L. Boyles, A. C. Green in charge.

Troop 80 will have charge of the program Monday night at the Court of Honor to be held at the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. Principal speaker will be the Rev. J. H. Boles, Presbyterian minister of Tulsa, who has an address on Scouting here last winter. Rev. Boles is an outstanding authority on Scouting, an unusually popular minister and speaker. Preceding his address, the four boys will come up for Eagle Scout will give a 15-minute program.

The boys are Doyle Auda, Poogy Green, Keeton Rhoades, Ray Boyles. The quartet will be the largest number of Boy Scouts from one troop ever handed the Eagle badge at one time in this council. In January the LeFors troop awarded Eagle badges to three Scouts and the scoutmaster.

At the Scout meeting last Thursday night, the troop practiced knot-tying and a contest was won by the Flaming Arrow patrol. Games were played later. A camping trip for the week had to be postponed due to the illness of the scoutmaster. A camping trip will likely be held this week-end. Those eligible will be Life Scouts and those who came up before the Board of Review Monday night.

Present at the meeting Thursday night were the following: Roubazack patrol—Bill Coons, Billy Moutz, Jack Baker, Jack Smith, Bert Isbell.

Wildcat patrol, Bennett Wray, Glenn Roberts, Junior Krutz, V. L. McDonald, Kent McDonald.

Buffalo patrol—Bobby Fraley, Ira Van Houten.

Thunder Bird patrol—June Roland, James Van Houten.

Dan Beard patrol—Poogy Green, Jack Crout, Maxie Lee Roland, Edward Wiles, Archie Brown, Richard Keuhl, J. L. Burba.

Flaming Arrow—Doyle Auda, Walter Word, Ormer Harrell, Keeton Rhoades, Grover Lee Heiskell, Nevin Johnson, Doug Keyser.

New members were Earl McKinney, Bill Arthur, Dee Ford, Billy Wray, Robert Graham.

ESCAPES INJURY KERRVILLE, Tex., April 20 (AP)—Wilson Johnston of Corpus Christi, Schreiner Institute student, escaped injury in an automobile accident with a Sunday night killer, Martin Eckhart, Eckhart, who was not a student at Schreiner, was believed to be from Missouri. He was driver of the automobile which overturned near San Antonio.

The Rev. John O. Scott, Central Baptist pastor, is quite ill of flu this week, and is confined to bed.

TRIAL OF KENTUCKY GENERAL OPENS TODAY

NEW CASTLE, Ky., April 20 (AP)—In this excited village of 500 inhabitants, Kentucky's most celebrated murder case since the assassination in 1900 of Gov. William Gobel—that of Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt, charged with slaying his beautiful fiancée, Verna Garr Taylor—was called today for trial.

Counsel for the big, bald, 60-year-old general, long a military and political figure in Kentucky, contend he cannot obtain a fair trial in Henry county and seeks a change of venue.

Mrs. Taylor was found shot to death in a ditch along a lonely road the night of November 6, last. Near the body lay the general's service revolver. A bullet from the gun had pierced the heart.

JARRELL RHEA TO BE ASSISTANT TO MOTLEY

Jarrell Rhea, of Norman, Okla., has arrived in Pampa to become assistant to Claude Motley, general manager of the Griffiths Brothers Amusement Co. three theaters here.

Mr. Rhea, who succeeds Kenneth Blackledge who left Pampa several weeks ago to become manager of the company's Wellington theater.

Fight Card for Next Tuesday

There will be no professional boxing in Pampa this week but Promoter Del O'Neal said yesterday that he would present a full card next Tuesday night at the Southern club.

He is skipping the bouts this week so that he can have everything in readiness for the next show. He will have a new ring constructed, bleacher seats for general admission customers, a gong, corner chairs and other equipment available, according to a statement made yesterday afternoon.

"The card for next week is shaping up nicely," O'Neal said. "I will not release the names of the boys scheduled to fight until I have their signed contracts returned, but I hope to have Chief Paris up against a top-notch boy in the main event."

O'Neal's first show, last week presented three or four good-looking fighters.

DAWN ALARM INDIANAPOLIS—Neighbors complained that Homer H. French, 47, made too much noise when he awakened his son every morning. The judge imposed a fine and advised him to try another technique if the young man was too hard to rouse.

French's technique was sounding his car's horn.

Of the budget estimates. An increase in appropriations would, of course, nullify our efforts to prevent a deficit in 1938.

He said bills being pressed for enactment would commit the Government to an expenditure of more than $5,000,000,000, mostly for public works, compared with $500,000,000 he had told Congress was necessary for an annual works program.

Bills providing more than $50,000,000 for highways have been introduced, Mr. Roosevelt added, despite the fact that expenditures for this purpose in the last four years have exceeded $1,000,000,000 and existing authorizations for the next two years provide nearly $450,000,000 more.

Armed Forces Referred suddenly to international armament races, the President said "It is a matter of common knowledge that the principal danger to modern civilization lies in those nations which largely because of an armament race are going directly towards bankruptcy."

"In proportion to national budgets," he added, "the United States is spending a far smaller proportion of government income for armament than the nations to which I refer. It behooves us, therefore, to continue our efforts to make both ends of our economy meet."

Mr. Roosevelt asked that his relief appropriation for next year be made available early in June so that its expenditures can be properly planned prior to July first.

Declaring maintenance of a sound fiscal policy required careful planning of authorizations and appropriations, the President said "It is impossible to maintain a proper balance between revenues and expenditures unless restraint" is exercised.

Analysis of tax returns for March, the President said, indicated income taxes would produce $267,000,000 less than forecast in January estimates and that other revenues would fall off $337,000,000—"Due in large part to the obstruction of collections by numerous law suits against the Government."

Mr. Roosevelt asserted, however, he expected to save $295,000,000 in current expenditures by eliminating or deferring unnecessary spending.

Walter M. Lewright of Corpus Christi attended court in Wheeler yesterday and visited in Pampa.

927 Millions For Agriculture Asked

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The House appropriations committee recommended today that Congress supply $927,398,548 to the agriculture department for the next fiscal year.

Of the total, $630,000,000 was tagged for the agricultural adjustment administration.

The committee chopped $5,078,407 from the amount, asked by the budget bureau, but the department still would receive $143,402,149 more than its appropriation for the present year.

To meet the "present emergency" in the so-called "dust bowl" area, the committee stipulated that up to $5,000,000 should be made available immediately from funds previously appropriated for soil conservation work.

The bill would provide $22,225,000 for the demonstration projects and other activities of the soil conservation service during the coming fiscal year which begins July 1. This was $628,485 less than the appropriation for this purpose in the current fiscal year.

A total of $470,000,000 was recommended for "conservation and use of agriculture land resources."

Assistant To Katy President Is Dead SAN ANTONIO, April 20 (AP)—Walter Walthall, assistant to the president of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad and San Antonio civic leader, died suddenly early today in Harlingen, while attending a district conference of the Rotary club.

The rail official, who was 57, was a native of Marietta, Ala., and had resided in San Antonio 45 years. He had been associated with the Katy railroad for 34 years, starting as a ticket agent at the age of 24.

At the time of death, he was a director of the Rotary club and was district governor in 1929-30, and director of the Rotary International in 1932.

The body will be returned to San Antonio for funeral services and interment.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barnhart and baby daughter, Sarah Beth, came in yesterday from Columbia to make their home here. They formerly resided in Pampa.

GEORGE CHRISTOPHER TO MOVE TO AMARILLO

Earl Gray was employed as a city fireman at a meeting of the city commission last night. Gray will replace George Christopher, Pampa's flying fireman, who has resigned. Christopher will move to Amarillo this week to become associated with C. J. Boyd in the Boyd Aero Service, located at the Amarillo Municipal airport. Christopher will move his ship to Amarillo.

A petition was received from residents of the Cohen addition asking for a sewage line through that section of the city.

WPA officials at the city park project also met with commissioners and discussed ways and means of speeding up work on the project so that a race meet can be held here in June.

Commissioners also approved payment of bond renewal premiums for several city employees.

Letters from the state highway department and the Santa Fe railroad were read announcing that efforts were being made to secure an allotment of government funds for an underpass on Cuyler street. The city was asked to stand any property loss. City Manager C. L. Stine was authorized to answer that the city would cooperate as much as possible.

ERNEST W. CABE TO HAVE CHARGE OF SUMMER TERM

Eight - Week Session Will Begin On May 31

An eight-week session of summer school will begin immediately following the close of this term, according to announcement made yesterday.

Since the new ruling of the board of education that no student may go through the graduating exercises unless he has completed 16 solid units of credit with at least 100 grade points (for 1937-38), students who hope to graduate next year with their class will find it necessary to get their work in line this summer, if they are short in any respect.

Those members of the class of 1937 who at the close of school have 15 units of credit and have fulfilled all other requirements for graduation and those who have 16 units of credit with not less than 90 grade points, may complete the requirements for graduation in summer school and receive their diplomas at the end of the summer session, according to the new ruling of the board of education.

The summer school is intended to meet the needs of several types of students:

1. Those who need additional credits to meet graduation requirements.
2. Those who are short in grade points.
3. Those who have failed subjects and need to repeat them in summer school in order to have their work straight for the fall term.
4. Those who have unfinished halves in whole year courses, such as American history, chemistry, biology, etc.

5. Those who are weak in some subject and wish to review to strengthen themselves.

6. Those who were forced to drop out because of sickness or work and wish to straighten out their credits.

7. Those who wish to finish high school in less than four years.

8. Those who wish to take advantage of the rich curriculum offered by P. H. S. by taking additional electives in the summer.

Fees will be $10 for the first half-unit; $18 for two half-units; and $25 for three half-units. The normal load is two half-units, and these are not supposed to be in the same subject. Only in case of repeats will a student be permitted to take three half-units. Any subject for which there is sufficient demand will be taught, including grade school and junior high school work.

Ernest Cabe of the history department will be in charge of the summer school. He will be assisted by Mrs. Frances Alexander, head of the science department, and Mrs. Hol Wagner, head of the English department.

Classes will take up at 7:30 and continue until noon. Students will be required to be at school only when scheduled for classes. The term will begin May 31 and close July 24. Classes will be conducted six days a week.

School authorities suggest in the handbook that any student who is behind with any of his requirements for graduation attend summer school in order to be ready for graduation the next spring.

Our Faculty

When you contact Helen Martin, music instructor of PHS, the quotation from Auerbach, "Music washes away the dust of everyday life," comes to mind. This charming woman exemplifies music.

Miss Helen Martin was born in Claude, Texas. Her early school days were spent in Clarendon, Texas, which is now her home.

She received her B. S. degree from Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York, and her Master of Music degree from the University of Washington.

Before teaching in Pampa she taught in the American College for Girls in Cairo, Egypt. This is a college for daughters of Egyptian first families. While abroad she attended a music school in Fontainebleau, France.

After coming to Pampa, Miss Martin taught music four years in Pampa Junior High School. Last year at mid-term she became a teacher in Pampa High School where she started the largest glee club the school ever had. Through this organization the school became interested in group singing. This teacher has made the girls of the school music minded.

Miss Martin has traveled extensively. The countries she has visited include Palestine, Egypt, and various European countries.

She says that she has no particular hobby, but spends most of her leisure time reading.

Her one and only vocation is teaching music.

ONE-ACT PLAY CAST FETED

During the past week the one-act cast has been much feted. Last Thursday morning Mr. Carmen gave a breakfast party at Hotel Schneider for the cast. Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sone honored the players with a dancing party at their home. Saturday evening Gene Pinkbender entertained his fellow actors with a dance. Thursday evening of this week the mothers of the cast will entertain at the country club with a dance at 9 o'clock.

THE LEADING ONE-FOURTH

Winners of the District Interscholastic League meet are going jubilantly on their way to the Regional at Canyon. For months these winners have worked and worked hard in order to make themselves better than their opponents. Many an hour boys and girls have stayed after school to practice one-act play, shorthand, typing, spelling, track, declamations, and for other League competition. Often they wanted to shirk practice and go to something that didn't take so much concentration. But they stuck, and even though they all didn't become winners they gained much for having tried.

These are the one-fourth that are leaders, the one-fourth that are going on and will always lead because they have the initiative and determination that marks the way to success.

Not only does the Interscholastic League stimulate competition between classmates and other schools, but it creates a friendly relationship between towns. It has done much to further a more intensive plan of study.

APPRECIATION TO THE P. T. A.

Hats off to the high school Parent-Teachers Association! Much praise is due to the Pampa P. T. A. and its very able president, Mrs. N. F. Maddux, for its splendid work in connection with the students of P. H. S.

Some of the notable things that this organization has done in the past year in an effort to further the interests of the students are listed below.

The P. T. A. sponsored the high school carnival last December to help the annual fund. It gave the Pep Squad and band a banquet. The Student Council was wholeheartedly recommended by this organization. This association, with special emphasis on the part Mrs. Maddux played, organized the Harvester Mothers, Band Parents, and Senior Mothers organizations.

Vocational guidance programs has been given and the National Honor Society pins were presented by the P. T. A. The members are now planning an adult play, the proceeds of which will go for P. H. S. "letters."

This association is cooperating in the Carlsbad trip and, as usual, will assist in the Senior activities at the close of the year.

Mrs. Maddux has been doing admirable work in helping find rooms for the visiting band members who are to be in Pampa for the band contest the last of this week. Pampa high school students are indeed fortunate in having such grand organization backing its every interest.

Baby Brother an Expert Nuisance

Editor's Note—The following essay was judged the winning essay of the Interscholastic League district meet, which met here Saturday. It was written by Dorothy Jane Day, who has always been prominent in essay writing, having won several prizes at the regional meet to be held at Canyon this coming Saturday.

By Dorothy Jane Day

Despite Flapper Fanny's wide exploitations of her little sister as the supreme nuisance, I after due reflection and experience—particularly experience—have arrived at the conclusion that there is no one to compare with my baby brother. Do not misunderstand me! I don't mean a baby brother in rompers and cradle who runs up the laundry bill, but a baby brother in rompers and cradle who runs up the gas bill—he likes to play with fire. As a matter of fact, only two years ago he caught the house on fire while "playing" about. That would be beside the point except for the fact that I received the blame. "Big sister should watch and take care of little brother"—he can practically "manhandle" me as it is. Now, no matter what you tell me or how much evidence you may present you cannot convince me that a little sister can cause such a blunder and so neatly slide out of the deserved punishment.

It is not the big things that make the black marks mount against my brother so much as the common everyday occurrences. My lack of privacy would make the owner of a human bush! Perhaps it is the old maid in me, but how I love to have bureau drawers and my dresser neatly arranged! I pride myself on their orderly and symmetrical appearance. It is (or was) a rule of the family that the bureau and dresser of my room were to be touched even by the most reverent hands. However, on arriving home from school and retiring to the comparative quiet of my room the other day I found the whole interior turned inside out. For a moment the thought of a cyclone or perhaps an earthquake whirled through my befuddled brain, but then I lighted upon a more logical explanation. I wrathfully flew into the living room where baby brother was sawing out an airplane on the carpet and started my cross-examination. "Why, I was just a-lookin' for a pen last month."—and in my bureau drawers! What can a person do. This is supposed to be a Nation where people have equal rights. If F. D. R.'s court plan had a clause about the extermination or prevention of baby brothers I think I could "put it over" with little effort, perhaps a nation-wide appeal to big sisters. When I am taking a bath it is, of course, a more or less leisurely process. However, I scarcely ever spend over thirty minutes or so in all, but I'll wager you'd doubt something arise in it is a "honey"—against a doughnut that I have never been in that bathtub over five minutes before he started telling me to "get a move on." Teletalking! That boy could give lessons to Benedict Arnold. When he is around my desk sometimes arise in my mind as to whether life is worth living or not.

Now, I could stand all this by summoning all my reserve powers, but he does not confine his attacks to the domestic side alone. He confides all my deepest secrets to my boy friends! That is what I call the tops in disloyalty to all family traditions. Of course, there are certain hours of the day when a girl must cream her face; roll up her hair; and just lounge around in disreputable clothes. Do you know what my brother did? He told my latest

Canadian Presents Girls Glee Club In Group Singing

Miss Sewells, director of the Canadian Glee club, appeared on the Pampa high school assembly Wednesday morning with a group of 18 girls singing a series of vocal selections: Will You Remember?, Can't You Hear Me Calling, Caroline, and Sylvia were featured. The trio sang Smooth Sailing, O Susanna, and Kentucky Babe. The Glee club continued with Allah's Holiday, and Maria Mia.

Following this entertainment, Mr. T. C. Morris of the Texas Christian university, spoke to the student body on "Selling Yourself."

The high school band, which sent 19 players to all-state, played two selections, "Safari Overture" and the "Finale" from the New World Symphony.

Students who won in some of the interscholastic meets were introduced by their respective sponsors. An announcement was made by Claude Motley, manager of the local theaters, concerning a special price for the coming attraction, "Romeo and Juliet."

Home Economics Girls to Ft. Worth

At the National Education Rally for Home Economics girls, five girls will represent Pampa high school on April 29, 30, and May 1.

Maxine Whesley has been chosen to model her wash dress, Jean Lovely to enter judging in selection and purchasing of foods suitable for family meals and planning a luncheon or supper, Leona Wray to enter a play costume suited for a child in a specific situation, Betty Shryock will represent the club, Future Homemakers of Texas, and was selected to model her special occasion dress.

The girls will be accompanied to Fort Worth by their sponsor, Angela Strnad.

Sympathy Extended To Tidwell Family

The faculty and student body of Pampa high school extend their deepest sympathy to Billy Tidwell, a sophomore in school here, and his family in the loss of their daughter and sister, Mary Edith Tidwell, who died last Saturday from throat infection.

She was buried yesterday in Pampa and her funeral was attended by many of her closest friends, most of whom were students of high school. She had been attending junior high school up to the time of her illness.

heart-throb that I wanted him to come to see me last week and he gave him a suitable hour. Well, my flame arrived in the middle of my period of relaxation and there I was—and there he was—and there we were. What a day. I can hardly bear the boy now, or perhaps it is the other way around. There should be a law against it! I've been told that they throw bad children out into the streets in China. Mother and Daddy refuse, however, to move and they are immune to all my tearful pleas.

If I ever marry and my first child is a girl I know that I shall have more consideration than to burden her with a baby brother. The modern orphanage homes are always open to baby boys. Parents are kind but so very inconsiderate.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

ALTERNATIVE
 Since Uncle Sam took it upon himself to purchase gold at $35 per ounce foreign production has increased sharply. These producers are getting rich at the expense of the United States. Despite denials from Washington, informed London contacts insist that there have been gold discussions at the White House and Treasury Department.
 London advices are that some form of gold price action will be announced by the United States. It is believed that Secretary Morgenthau will announce that gold-buying at $35 an ounce will be limited to newly mined American gold.
 That move will act as an alternative to changing the price of gold. It will operate along the same basis as now rules in the United States silver buying program.

DIVIDENDS

According to an official of the organization Pure Oil stockholders are in line for dividend receipts. It was said that the first quarter profit net ran substantially ahead of that of last year. It is expected to continue through the current three month period.
 The improved earnings outlook was attributed to the fact that the organization is now benefiting from the $4,000,000 new refinery equipment installed last year. Dividend resumption is expected after the pending financial operation is completed.

WATCHED

Railroad officials are closely watching New York Central's step in the direction of replacing its bonds with common shares. If successful the steps are most important. Heavy funded independence is the cause of current railroad reversion. If Central's move works out smoothly railroads going through the reorganization and recapitalization washing machines will ask the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to do likewise.
 Without large fixed charges on funded debts railroads will be in a better position to weather depression periods. The benefits to common shareholders would be that during periods of prosperity dividend returns would be larger.

SPURT

For the fiscal year ended March 31 Philip Morris will report a net of about $650 a share. This compares with previous estimates of close to $6 a share. The sales volume during March was the largest in the company's history.
 The spurt is attributed—so insiders say—to the advance in prices announced by the Big Four. Philip Morris' price schedules remained unchanged. The sales betterment is reported continuing.

OFFSET

For the fiscal year ended with March 31 Remington Rand's net is estimated at $1.35 a share. Making allowances for the nonrecurring expenses for moving plant equipment and labor troubles, this result is good. Insiders estimate that both difficulties cost the company as much as $1 a share.
 Another reason for the bullish enthusiasm of insiders is that about 55 per cent of last year's business volume came from domestic orders. Before the depression about 70 per cent of the business came from foreign countries. It is also disclosed that in order to offset higher labor and raw material costs price increases have kept pace.

ADVANTAGE

Manganese is the stuff that puts the "starch" in steel. Thus far American industries rely on Brazilian Russian and African output. It is a war material necessity. War department officials are closely watching the world manganese situation. Now Cuba comes into the picture.
 In this respect the report Sulphur—through its subsidiary Cuban-American Manganese Company—is taking advantage of the situation. It spent $500,000 in installing a new nodulizer at its Cuba mines. Its oil flotation process has brought production up to a rate of 10,000 tons per month.

AVOIDED

Mr. Paul Hahan, vice president of the American Tobacco Company, officially informed stockholders that 1937 earnings will run substantially ahead of those of 1936. He said the company's advertising expenditures this year will not run as high as those of last year. He also said that he doubted whether Congressional men to propose a graduated cigarette tax will become law. Financial interests particularly noted that Mr. Hahan avoided the topic of prospective dividend payments.

count gets out of its "frozen" condition security prices will have to stage a sharp rally. Deer & Company to go on dividend paying list before close of year. Detroit speculative interests like National Rubber Machinery's long pull prospects. Gillette Safety Razor's South American trade continues to expand. By close of year American Machine & Foundry's $1 annual dividend rate will be supplemented with extras. Long-range 1937 earnings estimate: American Chain will show better than-$4 a share. Alis-Chalmers was switched into Oliver Farm Equipment so investment trust acted. Priced to yield five per cent Consolidated Oil has portfolio following.

Studebaker's operations averaging twenty-five per cent ahead of last year. Technical position of rail equipment issues is strong. Pacific Coast traders favor Southern Pacific for quick moves. Commission house brokers report large profit interest in amusement equities—earnings expanding. B. F. Goodrich first quarter net estimated at $2.75 a share. Paper manufacturing equities favored in speculative circles because of good earnings outlook. Continental Oil getting attention of those who follow Phillips Petroleum move. And, that foreign accounts not doing any common share buying—we large sellers last month.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM GAINS IN VALIDATION OF WAGNER LABOR ACT

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Leaders on both sides in the Supreme Court reorganization battle claimed significant gains today because of Supreme Court validation of the Wagner labor law.

Senator Burke (D., Neb.), an opposition chief, said the decisions had paved the way for eight or ten additional votes against the Roosevelt bill to add six justices unless members over 70 retire. He did not name those he expected to shift.

Senator Ashurst (D., Ariz.), on the other hand, insisted the decisions had "immensely helped" the measure, which he is trying to pilot successfully through the judiciary committee.

A check of the committee members showed no open change of position since the Wagner act was approved.

Attorney General Cummings, speaking last night by radio to mass meetings of Labor's Non-Partisan League in 24 cities, said unless the Roosevelt bill is approved, the Wagner act and other social laws "may be whittled away bit by bit in their application until nothing remains but an empty victory."

The committee, nearing the end of public hearings, invited William A. Eddy, president of Hobart college, and Col. Frederick H. Allen of Charleston, S. C., to testify today against the bill.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.
 The United States Civil Service Commission has announced open competitive examinations as follows:
 Associate physicist (electroencephalography), $3,200 a year, U. S. Public Health Service.
 Endocrinologist, $3,800 a year, Bureau of Lairy Industry.
 Full information may be obtained from O. K. Gaylor, secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board of Examiners, at the Pampa post office.

C. P. BUCKLER IS MEMBER OF HISTORY BOARD

Banquet Is Attended By More Than 200

CANYON, April 20 — C. P. Buckler of Pampa is now a member of the board of directors of the Panhandle Plains Historical society. Officers elected at the annual meeting yesterday were: Horace M. Russell of Amarillo, president; R. P. Smyth, Plainview and J. D. Hamlin, Farwell, vice-presidents, and L. F. Shiefly and W. L. Vaughan, secretary and treasurer. Other members of the board of directors are: W. H. Patrick of Clarendon, J. A. Hill, Canyon; W. T. Coble and John L. McCarty of Amarillo, T. D. Hobart, a pioneer citizen of Pampa now deceased, was president of the Historical Society for six years and it was during his administration that the museum was built.

The Panhandle Plains Historical Review will have J. Everts Haley, Harold Bugbee, Floyd Studer and H. B. Carroll as associate editors under editorship of Professor L. F. Shiefly.

It was reported at the meeting that the Museum Building is now worth $100,000 and that the collections are conservatively valued at $500,000. Twenty-eight thousand people from 35 states and eight foreign countries visited the museum since April 10, 1936, and 591 visitors registered last Sunday. Fifty new display cases will be put into use in the museum within the next month.

Floyd Studer of Amarillo declared that the archaeological collections of the society are becoming so valuable that eastern institutions will soon send students to study in the Panhandle Plains Museum, rather than send expensive parties to the region to make collections. It was revealed that the vast collections made locally have been secured with less expense than at any museum in the United States.

Much of this work has been done under the WPA. It was announced that a giant ground sloth, larger than a buffalo, had been excavated and would soon be put on display in the museum after being prepared by Professor G. Stuart Johnson under whose direction the field work has been done.

Walter Prescott Webb, of the University of Texas was the principal speaker at the banquet at which more than 200 people were present. Hermon Pipkin of Amarillo presided. Several out of state visitors were present.

HE'S 102

CYNTHIANA, Ky., April 20 (AP)—Among the crowd attending the opening National league game at Cincinnati today probably will be Charles Rieckel, who claims to be the nation's oldest baseball fan. He will be 102 next October.

GABLE READY TO DENY HE'S GIRL'S FATHER

LOS ANGELES, April 20 (AP) - Clark Gable brusquely swapped his makeup box for a witness chair today, ready to deny under solemn oath he is a father. The No. 1 screen lover (pre-Robert Taylor era) became witness No. 1 in the mall fraud trial of Mrs. Violet Wells Norton, whose attempt to establish the paternity of her 13-year-old daughter resulted in her arrest last January. Mrs. Norton, the United States government charges, wrote Gable for money in recent years on the plea he had "wood and won" her in England in 1922-23. Witness No. 2 on the list of Assistant U. S. Attorney Jack Powell today was diamond-festooned Mae West, best known for her sociological screen study, "She Done Him Wrong." It was to Miss West that Mrs. Norton apparently addressed a letter a year ago asking for a motion picture opportunity for young Gwendoline, "Gable's child." Four townfolk from Portland, Ore.; Radio Commentator Jimmy Fidler and Publicity Man Terrel deLapp were relied on by Prosecutor Powell to complete the government's case in a day or so. The Oregonians were expected to testify that Gable was selling neckties and lumber packing in the Pacific Northwest at the time Mrs. Norton claimed he was her suitor in an English country cottage. Fidler was said to have been approached by Mrs. Norton when she came to Hollywood in 1936. De Lapp has handled Miss West's press relations.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

By Nard Jones NEA Service, Inc.

Chapter XXIV Martha screamed, opened her eyes again. But it was not Ciznik who had fired. His revolver clattered to the floor, and he stood there clutching his right wrist and rocking with the sudden pain. Suddenly the room was filled with men, all struggling around Ciznik and Ling.

A young coast guard officer shoved through the mob. "Take them aboard," he ordered, and came toward the two women. "Are you all right?"

"Yes," said Martha weakly. "I'm Lieutenant Howison. We didn't know you girls were aboard here or we wouldn't have got so rough out there." Quickly he unbound them. "You'll take care of you. There's a doctor aboard."

Howison's men made fast work of sending Ciznik and the Oriental along the passageway. With the officer between them, Martha and Betty followed, both glad for their firm assistance.

On deck the confusion had subsided. Ciznik's men were meekly transferring to the coast guard. An officer and crew were making ready to take over the smuggling ship. Suddenly Martha stopped dead still, her face growing pale as she before.

"What's a doctor?" Howison asked. She rubbed a trembling hand over her damp forehead. "No-thing. I'm all right now."

She had seen Gerry Neal, unmistakably, aboard the coast guard cutter. His presence among Ciznik's men was not what had struck her as motionless. But rather it was the hurting thought that not once had he tried to help her, even make her more comfortable. Not once had he owned the courage to face her at last, and admit the truth.

Suddenly she felt herself leaning too heavily against the young officer. "I-I think I'm going to faint."

"Feeling better now, Mart?" It was Betty, sitting on the edge of her berth. Martha saw the port hole above her and sprang from the pillow. "Betty! Betty, we're not back on that-"

"No..." Betty pushed her gently back. "We're on Uncle Sammy's ship this time, heading for Seattle. And friend Ciznik and his playboys are in the brig, or so Lieutenant Howison says." Betty grinned infectiously. "He's nice, isn't he?"

"I-I was too scared to notice." "Well," Betty told her, "you should have stayed on your feet and you'd have had time to notice!"

"We've been under way an hour. The doctor says you're okay. You came to once, and he gave you a sedative. While you've been snoozing I've been having dinner in the officer's quarters. Hungry?"

"Sort of." "The cook's keeping something for you. I-". She was interrupted by a polite knock on the door. It was Lieutenant Howison.

"How are you by this time?" he smiled pleasantly, set his neat officer's cap on the table. "Much better," Martha told him. "Sorry to go out on you like that."

"No trouble at all," Howison said. "I was telling Miss Haynes at dinner that it's all been a pleasure. You know, the coast guard service gets pretty monotonous at times. It's not every day we can round up a gang like this-and rescue beautiful young ladies in the bargain!" He was directing his words at Martha but the latter noticed his special glance at Betty.

"You should get him to tell you what we were up against," Betty suggested. "Probably Miss Brittain doesn't want to hear about it right now."

"I do, though," Martha assured him. "Well... the fact is that you girls found yourselves right in the windup of a case the T-men have been working on for a long time."

"Yes, Treasury Department men-customs agents. We were just helping them out on this little deal. Ciznik had had a syndicate for the last 10 or 11 years, I'm told. It stretched all up and down the coast, and back into Chicago and Detroit. He had the idea to really go in for transporting quantities of dope-with trailer cars. He figured they would not be regarded with suspicion, and they wouldn't be running afoul of the truck legislation and license laws in all the states."

"That's right. You see, what he didn't realize when he started all this new idea was that one of the T-men had been working a long time right in his syndicate. His name was Guy Weeks, and he'd even taken a Chinese blood oath with some of Ciznik's Chinese gang, so he could get more information."

"But if this T-man knew all about Ciznik why didn't they get him long ago?"

Howison shrugged. "If they'd shot too soon they wouldn't have been able to clean up the whole mess. This was a big thing, you know. There are more than 200 customs men all over the country closing in on it, and several score border patrol agents were transferred to the coast to help trap the opium smuggling rings that Ciznik had built up. Then the coast guard came into the picture. This boat was sent around from the east coast to replace a slower cutter. We didn't even know why ourselves until now."

"You should see the opium Ciznik had aboard!" Betty exclaimed. Martha nodded. "I did see some of it. Why is it put into cans filled with flour?"

"That's to keep it dry," Howison told her. "You see, the opium smuggling liners from the Orient toss the stuff overboard in sacks tied with cork floats. At the top of the sack is a flashlight sealed in a bottle. Then the faster, smaller boats, like Ciznik's, come along the steamer lanes and pick the stuff up. They transfer it to shore where Ciznik planned to transport it all over the country."

Martha looked at Betty. "If ever we get to the old home town again we'll never leave, will we?"

"Don't say that," Howison went on quickly. "Miss Haynes has promised to come to Seattle again next summer. After I've done Alaska duty... Anyhow, you can't leave the coast right away. You may have to stay to give some evidence-and you're both going to have dinner with me ashore."

Martha smiled. "Isn't three a crowd?"

CAPITAL AND LABOR CALLED INTO PARLEY

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP) - Secretary Perkins undertook today at tripartite conference to bring leaders of capital and labor into agreement on a national policy to avert strikes and lockouts.

Business and union representatives who joined government officials for the closed meeting said they were at a loss whether to expect a "love feast" or an outbreak of tempers on the sit-down strike issue and amendment of the Wagner labor relations act.

Indications were no final conclusions would be reached but some general statements might be drawn up for consideration in later conferences. The meeting brought together leaders on both sides in the organized labor dispute over industrial and craft unionism, representatives of national business organizations and of the railroad, the steel, oil, textile and other industries, and a group experienced in the arbitration of labor disputes. Miss Perkins' conference was arranged after the Supreme Court upheld the Wagner act last week. With labor's collective bargaining rights now a certainty, she said the time had come to reach an understanding on procedure and methods. John L. Lewis accepted an invitation as head of the Committee for Industrial Organization. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, sent word the meeting of the federation council might keep him from the conference.

SMOKE CARRIED AWAY BY NEW INCINERATOR

The teachers and students that sit in the rooms on the north side of the school building wish to express their appreciation and thanks to the ones that were responsible for building the new incinerator which is located on the north side of the building.

In the past the teachers and students had to endure the smoke and odor from the old incinerator, but with the new arrangement the smoke and the odor are carried away to the top of the building. The cost of the incinerator is estimated to have been about $250.

A. R. McAllister, Famous Conductor, to Judge

The morning of Thursday, April 22, approximately 1,500 boys and girls from cities in the northwestern district of the state will be in Pampa. These people are gathering in our city to compete in the annual spring band and orchestra competitive festival to be held through April 24 under the auspices of Pampa bands.

Pampa's six band directors, who are sponsoring the big musical event, are arranging plans to make this year's festival the best contest ever held in this section of the state.

The contest director will be Mr. P. Winston Savage of the high school band. Other local school band directors are A. C. Cox, Pampa junior high school, who will be in charge of the marching events; L. R. Harner, Horace Mann, in charge of programs; Eugene Seastrand, Woodrow Wilson, registration and local treasurer; W. Postma, Baker school, who will be chairman of the all-state selective committee, and Oscar Croson, Sam Houston school, in charge of the publicity of the contest.

The contests include every phase of instrumental instruction taught in the public schools of northwestern Texas; orchestras, concert and marching bands, rhythm bands, drum major baton twirling, student conductor, solo and ensemble contests.

Nationally famous conductors and musicians will judge and criticize these contests, among them will be A. R. McAllister, president of the National Band and Orchestra Association and director of six national champion high school bands.

Brashears Essay To Be Entered In State Contest

Jack Brashears was winner in the recent essay contest conducted by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars on the subject of "Permanent Peace for America." He will receive a cash prize of $3 and his paper will be sent to compete in the state contest.

Howard Jensen and Hazel Bath will receive prizes of $2 and $1 respectively for second and third places in the contest.

The state winner will receive a medal. The national winner will receive a free trip to Washington, D. C., and to the national encampment of the VFW, where he will read his paper, and $100 in cash, and receive a gold medal. The winner of second place in the national contest will receive a gold medal and $50 in cash. The third place winner will receive a gold medal and $25 in cash.

Jack summarized his plan for permanent peace as follows:
"What we need to do in the way of making our United States a nation which will not only be peaceful but which will be revered by its citizens and respected by foreign nations is to understand other nations, keep a strong enough army to prevent aggression, and to keep our peace by a strict neutrality, showing no favors to any one nation and endeavoring to understand and appreciate all nations. Our defense must be based on defense of our soil and rough it without outside aid. We must have strong neutrality legislation and embargoes on war materials; war profits must be taxed and munitions industries nationalized. Last, but not least, the freedom of speech and press must be maintained as guaranteed by the constitution to prevent civil strife. If we succeed in all these things, we shall be assured of peace not only for ourselves but for those who are to follow us."

LADY LITS TO ENTERTAIN
The Lady Lits will entertain with a supper party Tuesday evening, May 4, at 6 o'clock in the Home Economics rooms honoring the faculty members. It will be the club's last program of the year. Dorothy Day, president of the organization, extended the invitation to the teachers at the Wednesday morning faculty meeting.

LITTLE HARVESTER REPORTER MAKES NATIONAL MAGAZINE

At last one of the Little Harvester club reporters has broken into big news. A national magazine recently carried a story about a lad, Warren Marten, a senior in PHS. A large picture of him and Kenneth Blackledge appeared in the April 3 issue of the Motion Picture Herald. As you probably know, he was assigned the job of covering the trip that Mr. Blackledge and he made in a covered wagon to advertise "The Plainsman," and to prove to Tex DeWeese, editor of the Pampa Daily News, that men of today could "take it" just as did the pioneers of old. Below is the excerpt from the Motion Picture Herald.

"To settle an argument on the staying qualities of the present generation of the he-men in Pampa, Texas, and of course to spotlight attention on the date for 'The Plainsman,' Manager C. F. Benefiel, of the LaNora in that spot, smoked up a pip of a controversy with the editor of the local Daily News that eventuated into featured slant of campaign.

First blast in the tie-in was an editorial decrying the lack of pioneers who could live off the country as did the earlier day plainsmen. The editor challenged any male to take a covered wagon on a four-day trip and rough it without outside aid. Journey was to be made with the provisions specified to be taken along at the beginning. The challenge was then taken up by Kenneth Blackledge, Benefiel's assistant and co-investigator of the stunt, who replied in an ad and after another barrage of front page counter accusations, set out on the trip which was to cover 95 miles. The only reservation was that the picture and theatre could not be advertised with banners.

In order to keep up interest among local schools and others in the territory to be traveled, a high school senior in the journalism class was taken along to send in daily reports of progress under his own by-line. Stops were made at schools in each town to distribute heralds and visit the students who had been contacted in advance on the stunt. The paper kept building the stunt which was made more thrilling by progress of the wagon through a series of serious dust storms. Main roads were traveled to bring attention from the many who passed the wagon. Local stations also informed listeners of the journey and outside publicity included pickups on the bally in leading papers in the territory. The finale of the street of Pampa on the return of the "pioneers." Below is pictured Blackledge, the high school lad, (Warren Marten) and the editor of the paper,

PAMPA WINS FOUR VICTORIES IN DISTRICT MEET

One-Act Play Wins First Place Over Borger High

Pampa high school is again the winner of the perennial district Interscholastic League meet. Pampa took first place with a total of 70 points followed by Borger with 45 2/3 points and Hedley in third place with 31 2/3 points.

More than 1,000 students, teachers, coaches, parents and visitors came to Pampa last week from Booker, Alanreed, Lelia Lake, Midway, Hopkins No. 1, Grandview, Borger, Hopkins No. 2, Hedley, LeFors, Twitty, Conway, Plainview, and McLean to take part in the events.

Pampa's one-act play, "Cabbages," won first place with five first places and two second places over the Borger high school play, "Bargains." This is the fourth consecutive year that Pampa has won first place.

Colleen McMahan, who played the role of Wilhelmina Grossneir in the German accent comedy, was judged the best girl actor in the tournament in which eight plays from as many schools were entered. The girl who interpreted the role of Rene in the Borger play won second and Betty Rains, playing the role of Lena Fischer in "Cabbages," placed third. A LeFors boy who interpreted the role of a negro, was named outstanding boy actor with Dickie Kennedy second. Newton Craig of Miami was third.

The Wheeler track team carried away the honor in the field events. Pampa in the late events with good team work began to climb up but it was too late to take any honors but second place.

Don Taylor and Dan Buzard, Pampa declaimers, defeated Hedley, Borger, and Booker for the boys' debating cup. The Pampa girls, Betty and Margaret Tignor, were defeated by the Borger girls for the girls' debating cup. Pampa lost in the junior declamation, senior boys' declamation and the typing contest.

The senior girls' declamation by Catherine Barrett, the golf meet and Dorothy Jane Day of Pampa won essay writing.

In the spelling contest Max Kirby at the city limits ready to ride into town, the editor at the head of the parade to fulfill his part of the bargain. Bally wound up in front of the theater, the finish broadcast by remote control, and the wagon allowed to remain for further publicity. During the course of the trip, publicity and photos were planted in the lobby for extra attention."

and Bessie Belle Davis had perfect papers and the papers are being sent to Austin for inspection.

Council Members To Attend Dallas State Convention

The Student Council has chosen four students to represent Pampa high school at the State Student Council conference held in Dallas this week-end, April 22 and 23. Two seniors, Betty Jo Townsend and Betty Blythe, and two sophomores, Bill Stiles and Jimmy Mosley, will be sent as representatives. The conference is being given by Highland Park high school in Dallas and includes every school in Texas that has a Student Council.

This morning questionnaires were filled in by the student body concerning the forming of the Council constitution. All answers will be given to the constitutional committee and from them they will make the constitution.

Harvester Band Gives Concert For Assembly

The high school band played two numbers in the assembly program Wednesday morning. The numbers played were "Finale" from the "New World Symphony" and "Overture Safari." The "Finale" is the required number for the contest to be held here April 22, 23, and 24.

Marked improvement was noted in the persons playing the new instruments. The overture played in assembly was featured by a French horn solo by John King and an oboe solo by Rose La Nell Williams.

SHRYOCK IS ELECTED HOMEMAKERS PRESIDENT

At the Thursday meeting of the Future Homemakers of Texas, Betty Shryock was elected president of the club for next year to succeed Maxine Wheatley. Betty was also chosen to represent the club at the Fort Worth rally April 29-30, and May 1.

A motion was made and approved for the club to have a Mother's Daughter banquet. It was planned for the week preceding the junior-senior banquet.

Arlene Saunders and Byron Dodson played three accordion numbers, carrying out the idea of "Spinsters of America."

MRS. HOL WAGNER REPORTS THAT 1937 ANNUAL WILL BE DISPENSED MORNING OF MAY 17

Some Books Left To Be Sold for $2.25 Immediately

The 1937 annual is on the press and will be ready for distribution the morning of May 17, says Mrs. Hol Wagner, faculty adviser of the annual staff. Students are urged to save their receipts till then.

A few books are still available at $2.25. These books will not be reserved but will be sold to the first persons who put up the price. Those who bought annuals in the fall paid only $2, thought the actual cost of the volume has been about $3. The difference was raised by means of the all-school carnival, yearbook numbers, selling ice cream, etc.

At least nine improvements over last year's book will be readily noticeable when the books are distributed, the staff declares.

1. The 1937 annual will be much more colorful than previous year-books. The color innovations will be the biggest and most pleasing surprise about the book, the staff believes.

2. Twenty pages have been added to the book.

3. A new section has been included, though the staff refuses to reveal what it is like.

4. The arrangement of the senior section is changed and improved.

5. All pictures are larger, clearer, and neater as the result of the more attractive setting and better lighting. Heads in group pictures are at least doubled in size over previous annuals and are therefore more easily distinguishable. Group pictures are bust size and so are not made untidy by chairs and rows of feet.

6. Many more pictures are included this year, all sections of the book except the snapshots and the favorites being enlarged. Those two sections have the same number of pages as last year, but snapshots are larger and clearer.

7. The athletic section has a surprise.

8. Much more printed matter will be included than in former years.

9. The paper and binding will be different and of slightly better quality than last year. The staff found the fabrikoid (imitation leather) cover beyond their budget and so concentrated on improving in every way possible the quality of the book's contents.

Betty Jo Townsend is editor of the annual. Other members of the staff are Fred Vanderburg, Bob Kilgore, Dan Buzard, Jim Brown, Jimmy Mosley, and Dorothy Jane Day, Mrs.

Wagner is faculty adviser in charge of planning and publishing the book. Bob Curry as business manager has handled the financing of the book.

SHAKESPEAREAN ROMANCE NOW AT LA NORA

"Romeo and Juliet." The Shakespearean play that is deathless in its beauty, sublime in its passion, and magnificent in its spectacle, opened at the preview Saturday night, April 17, at the LaNora after and will continue through Wednesday.

"Romeo and Juliet" as it has been produced by Irving G. Thalberg, starring Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard, is a motion picture that is truly great, a picture that will bear seeing again and again, a picture that marks an important step in the advancement of entertainment.

More radiant than ever, Miss Shearer fulfills the promise she gave as the lovely Elizabeth Barrett in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." It is her finest role. She rises to every occasion in a part made famous by the greatest actresses of the stage. Her Juliet has a breathless expectancy, a feeling of vibrant youth so essential to the portrayal of Shakespeare's selection as Romeo was a happy one. He is every inch Romeo. Together they make these young lovers of Verona live again.

"Romeo and Juliet" has been pictured with fidelity. Beginning with the opening scenes, which establish the hatred of the Montagues and Capulets whose feud causes the young lovers to marry in secret, the death of Mercutio at the hands of Tybalt, Romeo's slaying of Tybalt to avenge his friend's death, his banishment and the swift dramatic events that follow, the picture is all action. The love story is woven like a golden thread through this background of hate.

"Romeo and Juliet" is recommended to every member of PHS. It is a picture that will never be forgotten, for it is a picture that will live for years.

Special prices of 25 cents are being offered the high school students. These reduced price tickets will not be sold after 6 o'clock, but if tickets have been bought before 6 they can be used at the evening features.
