Fierce Battle Is Raging In India

NEW DELHI (UPI)— Chinese Communist troops today launched their biggest attack in more than three weeks on the eastern front and a "fierce battle is raging," an official Indian spokesman said.

The massive Red assault apparently was triggered by a successful Indian attack on Red hill positions in the border area of the North East Frontier Agency.

It coincided with reports that Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru had rejected Red Chinese conditions for a cease-fire as a prelude to negotiations to end the undeclared Himalayan border war.

The spokesman said that numerically superior Red troops had counterattacked in "more than two places north and west of Walong." Walong is near the border with Burma.

Indian Offensive
A "strong patrol" of Indian troops attacked Chinese positions northwest of Walong on Wednesday.

The spokesman said the Communist offensive appeared to be the biggest in the NEFA since the human-wave attacks which forced the Indians to withdraw from the monastery town of Towang on Oct. 24.

"Fierce fighting is raging at this very moment," the spokesman told newsmen, "and has been since the early hours of this morning."

Nehru's three-page letter was said to have stated again that there will be no talks until the Red army pulls back or is driven back to positions it held before launching its attack on five places across the McMahon Line Oct. 20.

In some places the Chinese have driven as much as 18 miles south of the line which India regards as its northern border.

Dispute Red Demands
Peking, in letters of Oct. 24 and Nov. 4, called for a cease-fire and withdrawal of both sides 12 miles "from the line of actual control" to be followed by negotiations.

Newsmen returning from a tour of forward areas of the Northeast Frontier Agency reported that if the Indians agreed, the Chinese would retain strategic high ground positions while the Indians would, in some places, have to withdraw 60 to 80 road miles to new defensive positions.

Nehru's letter was delivered at the same time Indian troops were engaged in what appeared to be their biggest offensive of the undeclared border war.

18 Lost At Sea

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two U.S. Coast Guard planes took off from Bermuda today to lead a search for 18 seamen tossed into the stormy Atlantic Ocean and swept out of sight when their lifeboat capsized just moments before rescue was at hand.

The 18 victims were part of a 25-man crew that was forced to give up a heroic struggle to save a blazing Greek freighter when raging flames cut deep into the ship and threatened to ignite a cargo of high explosives.

For 18 hours the courageous crew fought searing heat, blinding smoke and a vicious Atlantic storm before abandoning the stricken vessel in lifeboats Thursday night.

Seven Picked Up
Seven survivors from the 422-foot SS Captain George were quickly picked up from the swirling sea and taken aboard two freighters that had steamed to the rescue scene 340 miles north-east of Bermuda and 500 miles east of New York.

But the 18 others were sent crashing into the mountainous waves when their lifeboat capsized only yards away from rescue. Seamen aboard the rescue ships helplessly watched the men, clutching life jackets and trying to cling together, as they bobbed and thrashed in the storm-churned water. Then they vanished from view, swallowed up by a towering gush of waves.

A Coast Guard spokesman at search and rescue headquarters here said there was little hope the men could be found unless the storm subsided.

The men apparently were not equipped with flashlights. Flares dropped from a Coast Guard plane by parachute Thursday night illuminated the pitch black waters disclosed no trace of the missing seamen.

One Plane Leaves
The flare-dropping plane was forced to leave the rescue scene because it was running low on fuel, but another Coast Guard aircraft remained in the area until relieved by the two planes which took off from Bermuda early today.

Adenauer's warning was made known as the chancellor prepared to return to Bonn to deal with what is possibly the worst political crisis he has faced since he took office 13 years ago.

The chancellor was scheduled to leave nearby Andrews Air Force Base in a chartered Luftwaffe Boeing 707 jet liner at 10:35 a.m. EST on a non-stop flight to Germany.

He has set up a series of conferences for Saturday morning, a few hours after his return to Bonn, in an attempt to save his coalition, threatened by a dispute about the arrest of several editors of a weekly magazine for alleged treason.

Adenauer wound up two days of intense talks with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk Thursday night with the issuance of a communique which as usual reported full agreement.

But Adenauer, it was learned, did take issue with Kennedy's estimate of the effect on Khrushchev of the Cuban crisis.

Both men recognized there were too many unanswered questions for them to be prophetic.

Kennedy spoke of a possible "turning point" in East-West relations. But while the President apparently thought his stand in the Cuban crisis might cause Khrushchev to avoid challenging vital U.S. interests elsewhere, Adenauer felt that Khrushchev's initial reaction would be to turn more truculent.

Castro Threatens To Shoot All 'Invaders'

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration officials said today the United States was prepared to send heavily armed warplanes to protect its reconnaissance aircraft over Cuba if Premier Fidel Castro carried out his threat to shoot at them.

They said there was no weakening of President Kennedy's determination to defend high level and low level surveillance flights over Cuba pending Communist compliance with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's pledge to permit United Nations verification that all offensive weapons had been removed.

It was acknowledged that the Cuban affair could be headed for a flaring new crisis if Castro is not bluffing. There was some feeling, however, that the Russians would be able to prevent the Cuban premier from taking action which could erupt into military hostilities.

Make Stand Clear
The U.S. determination to shoot if necessary to protect its reconnaissance planes presumably was made clear to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov by U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson at a long meeting Thursday night in New York.

It also was assumed that Stevenson renewed Kennedy's warning to Khrushchev that the approximately 30 Soviet jet bombers in Cuba must be pulled out before there could be any easing or lifting of the U.S. blockade.

Administration officials, when asked to comment on Castro's threat, said they wanted to emphasize two points:

—The United States has a mandate from the Inter-American Alliance, the Organization of American States (OAS), to take all steps necessary to guard against any offensive threat from Cuba.

—Kennedy was prepared to defend his reconnaissance planes by whatever means might be necessary.

Adds Complications
The possibility of shooting over Cuba added a new and potentially dangerous complication to Soviet-American negotiations to settle the affair.

Administration officials said they were reasonably certain that the 42 nuclear missiles Khrushchev pulled out of Cuba were all of medium range that he had there.

Officials emphasized, however, that the IL28 twin jet bombers in Cuba must be removed before Kennedy would consider that Khrushchev had lived up to his promise. The Soviet leader has been told that his conditional offer to remove the bombers only after the United States lifted its blockade and met other conditions was unacceptable.

Several Volunteers
Several local volunteers are slated to give help to the project. The volunteers helping with Part I were doctors, pharmacists, nurses, student nurses, Boy Scouts, Pampa Police Dept., Gray Ladies, Jaycees, Jaycee-ettes and others.

Co-sponsors for the project are the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Top O' Texas Medical Society.

Those who can locate their permanent record cards will simply present them to be marked and returned to them when taking Type II vaccine, according to Melvin Jayroe, chairman of the project for the Jaycees. Others should fill out a "pre-registration" form, available at local stores, before going to one of the "vaccine stations."

The sponsors of the Sabin oral polio vaccine emphasize that there will be no makeup for those missing the second part of the inoculation.

As with the first dose, sites will be the Town Hall at Postex, the elementary school buildings at White Deer, Skellytown and Groom, and the school cafeteria in Panhandle for Carson County residents.

Each of the clinics will be open from 12 noon until 8 p.m. There will be no charge for the vaccine. (See VACCINE, Page 2)

Adenauer Warns Khrushchev May Be More Touchy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has warned President Kennedy the enforced withdrawal of Soviet missiles from Cuba probably has made Premier Khrushchev more dangerous and unpredictable, it was learned today.

Adenauer's warning was made known as the chancellor prepared to return to Bonn to deal with what is possibly the worst political crisis he has faced since he took office 13 years ago.

The chancellor was scheduled to leave nearby Andrews Air Force Base in a chartered Luftwaffe Boeing 707 jet liner at 10:35 a.m. EST on a non-stop flight to Germany.

He has set up a series of conferences for Saturday morning, a few hours after his return to Bonn, in an attempt to save his coalition, threatened by a dispute about the arrest of several editors of a weekly magazine for alleged treason.

Adenauer wound up two days of intense talks with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk Thursday night with the issuance of a communique which as usual reported full agreement.

Firemen Renew Plea For Toys

Pampa firemen are pleading with the townspeople to answer a Christmas request on behalf of children in the city who may have a bleak holiday this year.

That is, it may be bleak if the people do not answer a request for broken and used toys for the annual Veterans of Foreign Wars Christmas party.

The firemen join with the Veterans each year to repair and repaint broken toys and put them in condition for giving at Christmas time to children who otherwise would not receive toys.

Fire Chief Ernest Winborne renewed the plea today. "I don't know what has happened this year," Winborne said, "but we are not getting any toys to amount to anything."

So far, Chief Winborne said, only about a dozen toys have been contributed for repair.

The deadline is Dec. 12, the chief pointed out, which leaves less than a month for the collection and repairs.

Chief Winborne asked The News to make another appeal today.

"I just can't believe the people of Pampa will let their children down," he said. "In fact I know they won't, if the seriousness of the situation is brought home to them."

Harold Blanche, president and chairman of the board of Celanese Corporation of America, said he anticipated continued growth and expansion of the Pampa plant of Celanese.

Blanche said the local plant was planning at the present time on adding still another product to their list and a decision on that will be forthcoming within the next week or so.

With the continued growth locally, he said, there will be additional plant personnel as needed. He added that Celanese was "happy" in Pampa.

Blanche said that Celanese, which has through its payrolls poured millions of dollars into the local economy and provided the community with many of its most civic-minded residents, had been "treated nicely in Pampa."

In a brief news conference held late yesterday at Coronado Inn, Blanche described the company's international operations, told how it just barely missed having a plant in Cuba about the time Castro took over that imprisoned island and remarked that Celanese had just officially opened another plant in Texas, at Bay City. Celanese now has four plants, one in laboratory in the Lone Star State, here, at Bishop, Bay City, Clarkwood and Houston.

Blanche said Celanese had an investment of approximately $165,000,000 in overseas plants including Japan, Colombia, Venezuela, Brazil, Canada and others.

Shortly after the news conference, Blanche and the other five company visitors left for Harvester Field House, where a western style barbecue was held for company employes and their spouses.

The event marked the 10th anniversary of the Celanese Chemical Plant at Pampa and commemorated the local plant's outstanding safety record of three million man hours, as of October 3rd, with no disabling injuries.

Some 450 persons attended the barbecue and were entertained by a western string band, a barbershop quartet and a square dance exhibition.

The group had been invited to wear western or casual clothes and many did, adding to the colorful event which featured red-checked tablecloths, a "corral fence" along the west wall hung with saddles, bridles, wanted posters, bales of hay and lighted by kerosene lanterns on the tables.

Red Chinese Step Up War With India, Tiff With Russia

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China today stepped up its hot war with India and its cold war with the Soviet Union.

Peking Radio broadcasts monitored here said "fierce fighting" has resumed on a large scale along the Sino-Indian border.

They charged that the Indians launched 1,000-man attacks along the frontier and inflicted "heavy casualties" on Chinese forces with a steady bombardment.

Other broadcasts accused the Soviet Union — although it was not named specifically — of being "scared stiff" of the United States and of backing down before the U.S. "policy of strength" in the Cuba crisis.

Peking attacked the "modern revisionists" in the world Communist movement. In the past it has implied that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is the leader of the "revisionists."

The broadcasts carried the text of an editorial in Red Flag, the theoretical journal of the Chinese Communist Party. It said revisionism can be recognized by its "surrender to imperialist pressure."

Peking accused Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of "inciting the country to a sustained war with China" and his government of "pursuing its anti-Chinese policy with increasing frenzy."

As with the first dose, sites will be the Town Hall at Postex, the elementary school buildings at White Deer, Skellytown and Groom, and the school cafeteria in Panhandle for Carson County residents.

400 Attend Farm-City Week Event

'We Need A Clearer Picture Of Agriculture,' Says Dinner Speaker

Describing agriculture as the biggest and most important business in the United States and around the world, W. C. (Dick) Whetsell, manager of the Phillips Petroleum Co. demonstration ranch at Forsaker, Okla., told a Farm-City Week audience of 400 persons in Robert E. Lee Junior High cafeteria last night that the people of the nation need to have a clearer picture of the agricultural industry.

Whetsell was the principal speaker at a dinner where Top O' Texas farmers and ranchers reversed the tables and played host to their city neighbors at a western barbecue served by the Pampa Shrine Club. In years past "City Dudes" have played host to area agriculturists.

The speaker called the Texas Panhandle agriculture area the "breadbasket of Texas and the Southwest."

Toastmaster Clyde Carruth later called attention to the importance of agriculture to the Top O' Texas with figures on farm income from the nine-county Gray County and Pampa trading area.

Total agriculture annual income was listed at $52,700,000 for Gray, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Roberts, Hemphill, Carson, Wheeler, Donley and Collingsworth Counties.

The figure is broken down county-wise as follows: Collingsworth, $9,800,000; Ochiltree, $8,500,000; Donley, $6,800,000; Carson, $6,500,000; Lipscomb, $5,800,000; Wheeler, $4,900,000; Gray, $4,600,000; Hemphill, $3,300,000. (See INDUSTRY, Page 2)

Whetsell pointed to opposites in the development of agriculture in Russia and the United States.

In Russia, he said, they started out with government control, found it wouldn't work and are now moving toward the system with which the United States started—private initiative through freedom of operation on the farm.

"Someone asked me when Russia would catch up with us in agriculture," he said. "I said, the answer to that depended upon which country moved the fastest toward the approach it is taking today. Russia has been moving away from control and we have been moving toward it."

"It is important that the people know more about the agriculture industry," Whetsell said. "We must not head toward the hindrance of freedom. If we do we are on the wrong road. Agriculture can progress only through freedom, initiative and the right to fair profit."

Whetsell called upon the people not just to live upon agriculture but to make a contribution to it.

"Each of us should do something worthwhile," he stated. "Think of something you can do for your community. We all have an opportunity for service. Don't overlook the people around you."

He called upon the people to be "do-ers" when problems arise.

"Don't be a part of the problem," he said. "Be a part of the answer. You'll enjoy it a lot more and you'll feel a lot better."

Whetsell cited figures and illustrations of America's vast lead in agriculture over other countries of the world and pointed out just how vital the industry is to American survival.

"Actually," he said, "agriculture is the only essential industry we have. The last thing in the world you would give up is food."

The invocation was given by the Rev. Russell West, pastor of the Church of the Brethren. John Spearman introduced special guests and Bob Price introduced the speaker.

J. D. Skaggs presented a certificate of appreciation to Joe Donaldson, Chamber of Commerce president, and E. O. Wedgeworth, chamber manager, for the many projects the chamber sponsors and has sponsored for the farmers and ranchers of the Top O' Texas area.

Dinner organ music was played by Jerry Whitten and special musical entertainment was furnished by the Starfires, a group of junior high school boys.

Has Winter Arrived?

Gusty winds blew a cold front into the Top O' Texas area about 7 p.m. last night, creating the possibility of the season's first snow for tomorrow afternoon.

The mercury in the temperature thermometers skidded downward in a hurry late yesterday evening as the cool winds sent Pampans digging into closets for warmer wearing apparel.

The first hard freeze of the season is expected for tonight as the Amarillo Weather Bureau predicts that the low for tonight will be in the middle to high 20s.

Occasional light rains, forecast for Saturday afternoon, are expected to turn into snow.

Winter appears to have taken up residence in the Top O' Texas area as the high for today is forecast to be in the upper 40s with the high for Saturday in the lower 40s.

Pampan Is Treated For Stab Wounds

A man was in Highland General Hospital today with three stab wounds in the back and police were holding a 19-year-old girl following an altercation between the two in front of the Peppermint Lounge, S. Gray St., last night. The stabbing victim was Albert Young, 43, of 534 Crawford St., who was taken to the hospital by his brother, Willie Young, 433 Crawford St.

Patrolman Denny Roan, who completed investigation of the case this forenoon, said the girl being held was Wilhelmina Moore, 731 S. Gray. Roan said a charge of aggravated assault was filed against Miss Moore and she was scheduled for arraignment in County Court today.

Young was reported in good condition in the hospital. He was stabbed three times, once on the right side of his back and twice on the left side, police stated. One of the stab wounds penetrated Young's right lung.

Two Are Arrested For Intoxication After Incident

Chester Bullock, 424 N. Russell, reported to police shortly after 10 o'clock last night that someone threw an empty whisky bottle through the rear window of an automobile driven by his son-in-law, Sammy E. Barnhill, same address, when he drove into the driveway.

Police said Bullock told them the bottle was thrown by someone in a blue and white Chevrolet.

There were four or five youths in the car, he stated.

At 2:30 a.m. today, Patrolman John HySmith stopped a car answering the description. There were four boys in it, he said, but the occupants denied any connection with the bottle throwing incident.

However, Patrolman HySmith arrested two of the youths and jailed them on intoxication charges. Joe Spencer, 20, pleaded guilty in Corporation Court this morning and paid a $20 fine. George Valentine, 18, entered a guilty plea and was fined $15. He was remanded to city jail.

This morning, the entourage of visitors was to leave Pampa by jet plane, the first time a pure jet aircraft has landed and taken off from Perry LeFors Field. The plane, a Lockheed Jet Star, arrived here yesterday after checking out the field for landing facilities. It had earlier disemplaned its passengers at Amarillo.

Top O' Texas 4-H Club Members Report On Projects And Activities

The Top O' Texas 4-H Club met Nov. 10 in the Court House Annex. The president, Bill Skaggs presided over the meeting. The Club motto and pledge and the pledge to the flag were led by the vice-president, Andy Cole. Phyllis Atwood, secretary, read the minutes and reported on the box supper and Halloween party. In answer to the roll call each member reported his 4-H Club project and activity.

J. A. Reeves reported that plans are under way to organize a Gray County 4-H Riding Club. Any one in Gray County 4-H Club work having a horse may be a member. Those interested may contact him.

The Club's organizational leader, Mr. Tom Veal, announced that any boy interested in being on the beef judging team should contact Cecil Regier, the assistant county agent.

Mrs. Derrel Hogsett explained the meaning of a budget. She said that the money in a club's treasury belongs to all the members and is to be spent the way the majority of the members wish to. After a budget is accepted by a club, the money can be spent for those items listed. If an expense comes up that is not in the budget, a motion to have this expense must be made and passed by a majority of the members present.

Phyllis Atwood read the following budget that was accepted by the club. Membership pins and window stickers $15; office supplies — $5; scrapbook — $3; party expenses — $20; and parade expenses — $10.

After the meeting orders were taken for 4-H jackets.

During the recreation period cookies were served by Gail Green and Janie Murphy. The Toothpick-Lifesaver race was led by Danny Hogsett; the partner balloon race was led by Andy Cole and, This I Saw, was led by Cynthia Hogsett. About 40 members, parents and guests attended.

POLLY'S POINTERS

It's In The Plastic Bag Until Collection Time

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Now that some of us are raking fall leaves, the question is where to put them for city pick-up when all the boxes are full. Save the plastic dry cleaning bags and put a rubber band or string around the small, top hole so the leaves will not fall through at this point. Fill the plastic bag, tie a string when it is full and you have a waterproof way of keeping the leaves intact until city collection time.

MRS. N. H. DEAR GIRLS—I am going to have to get my clothes sealed quicker so as to get more bags from the cleaner. How about you?

POLLY DEAR POLLY—A small piece of foam rubber glued to the rubber floor mat at the base of the gas pedal in the car will protect milady's high heels from scuffing.

SIS DEAR POLLY Y—I folded diapers for the last time about a month ago. Since then they have all been sewed. I folded the oblong type in thirds and then stitched them in place. They fit my 2-year-old and my 18-month-old. In two months, with an extra fold they'll be used for a new baby. Such a joy to know that tiresome job is ended for good.

Spring costume jewelry will be heard as well as seen. Previews of pins looking like a steal from the crown jewels featured clusters of stones the size of eggs. The noise comes from the jingle-jangle of three to four-inch streamers of pearls and beads stuck to the clustered jewels.

Also, I write the contents of each drawer in the children's chests on separate cards and tape the cards to the drawers. Either daddy or a baby sitter can quickly find anything needed without musing through everything else. If you do not want these labels on the drawer fronts, make a little picture map of the drawers that shows the drawers' contents.

MRS. C. J. E. JR. DEAR GIRLS—Evidently this smart gal makes every motion count.

POLLY DEAR POLLY—I found that by pricking several small holes with a pin in the covering that comes over a box of loose face powder you don't waste so much powder nor get it all over everything. Use the box like a shaker and shake on to the powder puff. Saves time, as you don't get too much on your puff.

The Mature Parent

Parents Shouldn't Worry: Tot Naturally 'Stutters'!

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My husband's brother who boards with us has stuttered all his life. What I am afraid of is that my 20-month-old boy has picked his habit up. He doesn't finish words but repeats a part of them over and over. I try to get him to say "water" but he goes on saying "waw" if he wants a drink. He can't say "goodbye" either but says something that sounds like "eye." If we did not need my brother-in-law's board money...

ANSWER: "It is quite normal for a child to repeat the first syllable of a word when he begins to speak."

This is the statement of Dr. I. Peter Glauber, psychiatrist and chief of speech clinic, University Hospital, New York University-Bellevue Medical Center.

It is also normal for him to seize on the stressed syllable of a word—the one that reaches his ear with the strongest emphasis like the last one in the word "goodby."

So, when you read an incipient stammer into your baby's attempts to substitute syllables for words whose complete sounds he has not yet been able to assemble, it is your anxiety, not his speech, that is the problem.

It would be sad if you continued to convey that anxiety to him so that he comes to feel that his efforts to express himself to you in words displease you. For a little child's first attempts to use words to express his meanings to us are most important adventures into independence.

They tell us that he is no longer relying on the infant's wordless cries to make his wishes known to us. He is no longer requiring us to assume the whole responsibility for communication between us by forcing us to try to interpret his cries as demands for food, for relief from discomfort or pain. He is trying to take responsibility for himself by speaking to us in language forms.

If we receive these speech attempts with anxiety that suggests they are unsatisfactory, he may become frightened of his self-assertion—and develop the very stutter we're scared of.

ability for communication between us by forcing us to try to interpret his cries as demands for food, for relief from discomfort or pain. He is trying to take responsibility for himself by speaking to us in language forms.

Dear Abby... Takes All Kinds In Living Today, Lady!
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: If you want to know why so many teen-aged marriages go on the rocks just stand around a supermarket and see what the young wives put in to their shopping carts. All you can see are TV dinners, frozen chicken pies and boxes of mixes. Anything that is easy and fast. Don't they teach girls in Home Economics how to cook a roast beef, leg of lamb, or how to make a fresh salad or bake a pie? No wonder young husbands don't come home for supper. Or else they run out "for a beer" and leave the young wives home with the babies.

DEAR UNHAPPY: Invite some of the cats to your home for a bowl of milk and a close-up of your family.

DEAR ABBY: After seeing all that stuff in your column about getting married on horseback, a cousin of mine did it in Iowa. I asked my boy friend if he would like to have the same kind of wedding and he said, "I'd rather be shod at sunrise." Isn't that great?

It's The Collar Necklace For Winter

By GAILE DUGAS
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — The single most important necklace this winter is the collar.

In chains, golden beads or textured gold, the collar is for daytime wear. For afternoon, the collar becomes wider and is done in pearls or glowing, colored stones. And for evening, the collar is both deep and wide, blazing with fabulous fake stones.

In one sense, the collar is always with us, season in and season out. The reason for this is that few women have perfect necks and fewer still can afford to do without the collar in some form.

But what makes a feeling for the collar flare up, as this winter, is the trend to deep, wide necklaces and, conversely, to high, close necklaces. Either are perfect foils for the golden or jeweled collar.

Bear in mind that the collar is, in itself, such a dramatic piece that your cuff bracelets, big pins, and earrings should be left at home when you wear it.

When you choose a collar, have in mind the neckline, the occasion and the color of the dress for which you want it. Obviously, you can't find one collar that will do for every occasion this winter. You should have one for daytime and another for evening, minimum. And chances are, they'll become pet necklaces to be worn and much enjoyed year after year.

Necklaces, designed as wide, flat collars are destined to fill in low necklines or lead drama to simple necklines this winter. Richelleu has done three in this mood. For a daytime woolen, the collar is done (left) with golden teardrops suspended from golden chains. Fake pearls are used (center) for collar necklace shown here with glittering clasp worn at front. Golden wafer collar (right) is perfect foil for daytime dress in black wool.

Small's Quality Shoes

ASK THE DESIGNER by gaile dugas

Dear Gaile: My husband and I are planning to take a 17 day cruise to the Caribbean Islands in November. I am taking four real cocktail-type dresses; one beige brocade, one beige silk jersey, one hot pink chiffon, one printed silk with turquoise, green and charcoal print on white. I would like to take only one pair of evening shoes and one evening bag. Please suggest a color and fabric for each and style of shoe (pump or sandal).—Mrs. M. A.

Dear Mrs. M. A.: Advice on your fashion problem comes from the National Shoe Institute. Here it is:

"Select one of the shades from your printed silk dress, preferably the turquoise color, and have your shoes and bag dyed in the same tone but one shade lighter. The color will be a charming contrast with your hot pink chiffon and a delightful color accent with your beige dresses as well. The fabric might be raw silk, peau de soie or satin.

"As to the style of shoe, have an open sandal, a more covered-up sandal, a sling or halter pump or one of the new 'inleed' pumps. Pick the style that is most becoming and comfortable. Best wishes for a wonderful trip."

Dear Gaile: I would like your help on a small problem. I am going home to England with my two children, both girls, age 11 and three months, at the end of October. I wish to know what should pack for them for the first month of our stay and also what they should wear on the flight over.

We are going by jet with no stopovers or changes, leaving from Chicago at 7 p.m. The flight will take 7 1/2 hours but there will be a long wait at London Airport for a connection to Liverpool. Also, I would like to know if it would be correct for me to wear tailored slacks on the flight over.

Dear B. R.: For the older girl, designers at Barnbury suggest that you take along a sturdy wool coat with leggings. Take a warm blanket for the baby. Since, as you remember, England is cold and damp at the end of October, you should also pack leotards, dresses with long sleeves, sweaters, wool socks, warm flannel sleepwear, light and heavy blankets. Heavy cotton underclothes, corduroy slacks, cotton knit smocks to wear with leotards, plus boots and rainwear are all essential.

The older girl, during the trip over, could wear a long-sleeved dress with matching leotards under her wool coat. She should wear matching hat or knit cap. The three-months old baby should be dressed in a loose, comfortable bunting that zips from top to bottom.

As for your slacks, never really acceptable for plane travel. Why not wear a basic wool suit since wool is naturally crease resistant and will look smart. Wear a sweater underneath so that you can remove the jacket while you are aboard the plane.

Revival To Start Sunday

A special series of gospel preaching sermons is scheduled by the Hi-Land Christian Church, 1615 N. Banks, starting Sunday and continuing through Nov. 30th.

Services will be held at 7:30 p.m. week days and 6:30 p.m. Sundays, according to the pastor of the church, Rev. Harold Starbuck.

Rev. Willis H. Fowler, evangelist of Oklahoma City, Okla., will be doing the preaching. "You will enjoy hearing Willis H. Fowler preach the Gospel of our Lord. His 'homespun style' and straight-forward preaching is a thrill to the soul. His sermons are as inspiring as they are Biblical," Rev. Starbuck said.

Also on hand will be Willis and Laura Harrison, song evangelists from Southern Christian College, San Antonio.

The Harrisons will present a Gospel Concert Sunday at 6:30 p.m., and will remain in Pampa for the Revival Services each evening at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend all services, Rev. Starbuck said.

Youth Party After Game

The Christian Youth Fellowship of the First Christian Church will host a party this Friday evening, November 15, following the Pampa-Plainview football game at the youth building of the church located at Kingsmill and Starkweather. Theme for the "blast" according to Steve Dulaney and Ronnie Klein, co-chairmen of the event, is "Let your hair down after six weeks exams and a victory celebration."

The C.Y.F. of Plainview will be the guests of the local group. Larry Treadwell is president of the visiting group. Rev. Arthur Digby is minister of the church there. The young people will be the guests of the Pampa youth in their homes following the party.

The Real 'First Thanksgiving'

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International Thanksgiving Day, which is coming up next week, is often described as a uniquely American institution.

It is, in the sense that no other country observes such a national holiday.

But the custom of holding a special harvest festival to return thanks to God did not originate in America.

The Bible-reading Pilgrims borrowed the whole idea from ancient Israel.

The story of the real "first thanksgiving" is to be found in the 16th and 26th chapters of the Old Testament Book of Deuteronomy. They record the detailed instructions which Moses gave to the Jews for a holiday to be held exactly seven weeks after they began harvesting their first crop in the Promised Land.

Rejoice In The Good

The purpose of the holiday, Moses said, was to "rejoice in all the good which the Lord your God has given to you and your household."

Moses was explicit about the manner in which the children of Israel were to show their gratitude.

Barrett Moore Guest Speaker At First Christian

Rev. Barrett Moore, Associate Minister, First Christian Church, Amarillo, Texas will be the last in a series of four guest ministers appearing in the pulpit of the First Christian Church, Pampa.

The Church has been emphasizing Evangelism for the four past Sunday mornings. Mr. Moore's topic is, "The Church, This Church, and You."

The evening Bible Study Group will meet at 6 p.m. and will discuss the second chapter of Galatians.

Church Board officers for 1963 were elected at the November Board Meeting and consist of: Mr. E. E. Shultz, Chairman of Board, Mr. H. L. Ledrick, vice-chairman of Board; Mr. John Woods, Treasurer; Mrs. Lester Stewart, Secretary; Mr. R. E. Mitchell, chairman of Elders; Mr. Duane Cash, vice-chairman of Elders; Mr. George Gambin, chairman of Deacons, and Mr. Jim Terrell, vice-chairman of Deacons.

Those serving as Elders for 1963, are: Messrs Lloyd Kuntz, Lloyd Laramore, Charles Stowell, E. E. Shultz, Jack Hood, R. E. Mitchell, H. L. Ledrick, Fred Tinsley, Duane Cash, Max Presnell, Clyde Carruth and B. G. Gordon.

A City-wide Thanksgiving Day service, in cooperation with many churches in our city, will be held Nov. 22nd at the First Christian Church at 9 a.m. The entire community of Pampa is invited to attend this service. Rev. J. S. McMullan, pastor of First Assembly of God church will be the speaker.

A choir, composed of members of various choirs, will present special music.

Youth programs begin at 5:30 p.m. Sunday evening. The Chi Rho Fellowship (grades 7, 8, and 9) will have recreation from 5:30 till 6:15 at which time they will have a study session based on the topic, "What About Smoking For Young Teens?"

"Where Do We Fit In?" is the topic for the Christian Youth Fellowship (grades 10, 11, and 12) study beginning at 5:30, followed by recreation.

"You shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground which you harvest," he said, "and you shall put it in a basket..."

The basket was to be taken to the altar of God's house for dedication. Its contents were then to be distributed among widows, orphans, and others who had no harvest of their own.

The Thanksgiving holiday which Americans will celebrate next Thursday is a far cry from the one which Moses planned more than 3,000 years ago. We have subtracted a great deal that Moses thought essential, and have added certain things, such as turkey dinners and football games, which he probably would

'Thanks To God' Brethren Sermon

"Thanks to God" will be the sermon subject of the Rev. Russell G. West, Sr., at eleven o'clock on Sunday morning at the Church of the Brethren, 600 North Frost. There will be congregational singing, and the choir will bring a special message in song. Sunday School will open at 9:45 a.m. with classes for all age groups.

The evening program will be built around the November Family Night. The program will open at 8:00 o'clock with a Fellowship Supper in the Dining Room of the Church. Following the supper the church will assemble for the Fall Business meeting. Wayne Irwin, Moderator of the Church, will have charge of the program. The church will provide a nursery for those who have babies and small children.

The church is happy to announce that the congregation will participate in the Union Thanksgiving Service at the First Christian Church on Thursday morning, November 22. Members of the local choir will participate in the Union Thanksgiving Choir rehearsal at the First Christian Church at 3:30 o'clock this coming Sunday afternoon.

MYF Jr. High Sets 'Slave Week'

The Junior High Department of the Methodist Youth Fellowship at the First Methodist Church has designated the days between November 18 and Nov. 30 as "Slave Week."

During that time they will be happy to do odd jobs for anyone for the purpose of earning money to help others at Thanksgiving and Christmas. They will do babysitting, car or window washing, raking leaves or any job within their capabilities. If you need these jobs done, call for a "slave" at MO 4-234.

have considered irrelevant to such an occasion.

But one can still detect, in the modern Thanksgiving, at least a faint echo of the original idea that men can best thank God for their blessings by sharing them with others.

Overseas Relief Programs During this season, all of America's major religious faiths will be conducting their annual appeals to the public for contributions to overseas relief programs.

Protestants will give to the "share our surplus" drive of Church World Service which helps to underwrite shipments of U.S. foods to more than 10 million hungry people in 32 countries.

Catholics will donate wearable used clothing, shoes, blankets and bedding supplies for homeless people through the Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection. Jews will contribute to the world's needy through the United Jewish Appeal.

All of these campaigns have a common theme: "Give thanks by giving." Moses might not like anything else about the American Thanksgiving of 1962. But he would recognize and approve of that slogan.

Highland Baptist Holds Services

Sunday School will begin at 9:45 a.m. at the Highland Baptist Church this Sunday. There will be a department and class for every age, and a nursery for babies.

The teachers will be teaching the lesson, "Redemption: God's Provision." A study of this lesson will give a better understanding of God's love for us and His provision for our redemption.

For the Morning Worship Service, Rev. Allison has chosen to speak on "Enlarge the Place of the Tent." He will read the scripture as found in Isaiah 54:1-3. The text will be taken from Isaiah 54:2.

During the Training Union Hour, which begins at 7:30, the subject, "The Individual and the Communist Challenge" will be discussed. This is the third in a series of four lessons dealing with the Communist and their beliefs.

Training Union will be followed by the Evening Worship at 7:30 during which time Rev. Allison will read Exodus 20:1-14 from the Bible and speak on the subject "Our Conception of God."

Roy Harper, minister of music, will direct both the Junior and the Adult Chorus and the congregation in the song services. He will be assisted by Mrs. Don Stafford, Jr. Choir Director, and Mrs. H. E. Winegeart, pianist.

LUTHERAN HOUR RALLY — J. M. Thompson, left, and Deck Woldt, local members of the Lutheran Church, are displaying a picture and poster about Dr. Oswald Hoffmann, International Lutheran Hour speaker, who will be in Amarillo Sunday to speak at the Municipal Auditorium at 3 p.m. His sermon will highlight the Lutheran Hour Rally scheduled for that day, to which the public is invited.

Special Music At First Baptist

Dr. Douglas Carver, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pampa, will be in the pulpit for both services of worship Sunday. At the 11 o'clock service, he will preach from the subject "Wood and Won By Love." Mr. Joe Whitten, Minister of Music, will direct the church choir in singing the anthem "Immortal Love Forever Full" an arrangement by Jack Dean.

Mrs. L. S. Richardson will also sing a soprano solo. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, will play "Thanks Be To Thee" for the offertory.

Two church ordinances of the church will be observed at the 7:30 evening worship. At the beginning of the evening worship the ordinance of baptism will be observed. All awaiting candidates are asked to meet the pastor in his study at 7:15. Then the Lord's Supper will be observed with special music presented by the choir and Mr. John Zinn, choral artist, will draw a picture with the title, "The Love of God."

The pastor will speak from the topic "Our Debt of Gratitude." Miss Lane will play "The Pilgrim's Song of Hope" by Batiste for the evening offertory.

The regular services will be followed Wednesday evening with a chili supper beginning at 5:45. The Mid-Week Service will be on "Thanksgiving" in the auditorium.

The First Baptist Church will participate in the Community-Wide Thanksgiving Service Thursday morning, 9:00 o'clock, in the First Christian Church when Mr. Joe Whitten will direct the combined church choir and the Reverend Mr. J. S. McMullan will preach the Thanksgiving sermon.

FALL PROVES FATAL

— Gloucester, England (UPI) — Leslie Dally, a gardener at Prinknash Abbey, died Wednesday of a broken spine.

He received the fatal injuries when Brother Christopher, a monk, fell on him from an apple tree.

Lutheran Hour Rally Is Slated In Amarillo

Final plans have been completed for the Lutheran Hour Rally — with world-known Dr. Oswald Hoffmann as speaker — in Amarillo Sunday. Expected to draw a capacity crowd of over 3,000 persons, the Rally will begin at 3 p.m. in Municipal Auditorium.

The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

Sponsored by the Panhandle Zone of the Lutheran Laymen's League, the rally is one of several held throughout the United States each year. As the regular speaker on the world-wide Lutheran Hour radio broadcast, Dr. Hoffmann is one of the outstanding U.S. Protestant clergymen, who, according to Time magazine, has the most widely-heard sermon on radio.

Lutheran Church Missouri Synod ministers from throughout the Panhandle and South Plains are a have been assisting with plans for the Rally.

On Saturday, ministers of all Protestant churches in Amarillo have been invited to a special dinner at Trinity Lutheran Church, 5005 Wolfen. They will be asked to extend special invitations to their congregations to attend the Rally.

Scientists Hold Special Service

A special Thanksgiving Day service, traditional in Christian Science churches all over the world, will be held in this area by First Church of Christ Scientist.

Everyone is welcome to the service, which begins at 11 a.m., Thanksgiving morning, in the church edifice at 901 North First. Hymns, prayer, and a specially prepared Bible Lesson-Sermon are all a part of the service, which also includes a period for spontaneous expressions of gratitude by church members in the congregation.

The entire congregation will join in reading these Bible verses included in the Responsive Reading: "Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name. O Lord our God, all this store that we have prepared to build thee an house for thine holy name cometh of thine hand, and is all thine own" (1 Chron. 29:13,16).

On the Sunday before Thanksgiving, a special radio program entitled "The Time for Gratitude" will be presented on the weekly Christian Science radio series, "The Bible Speaks to You." It will be broadcast over station KGNC Amarillo Sunday at 9:25 a.m.

Spiritual Healing Scientists' Topic

Spiritual healing will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday in a Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Mortals and Immortals."

Scriptural selections will include this verse from Matthew: "And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease."

One of the correlative citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them. This is an element of progress, and progress is the law of God, whose law demands of us only what we can certainly fulfill." (p. 233).

at Trinity Lutheran Church by the Rev. Edward Heinicke, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Dr. Hoffmann is scheduled to arrive in Amarillo by Braniff at 1:26 p.m. Saturday.

Music for the Rally will be furnished by a choir of some 150 persons, Lutherans from congregations throughout the Panhandle, under the direction of E. C. Gutz, minister of education, Trinity Lutheran Church.

The Lutheran Hour, the world's largest non-government radio operation, has been broadcast since 1930, and today spans the globe in 40 languages. More than thirty-million persons in 115 countries hear its gospel message each week.

Parish pastor, college instructor, film production adviser, public relations executive, Dr. Hoffmann has served his church for over 23 years. He acted as technical adviser for the film, "Martin Luther," which has been shown to church groups and other organizations around the world.

The Board of Missions of the Methodist Church (475 Riverside Drive, New York 27, N.Y.) announces that among its many openings for young people (college graduates) in missionary service are the following posts for single women: 4 social groups workers with girls in dormitory situations in Katanga (Congo), and in Constantine and Tunis; North Africa; 6 home economics teachers for Congo, Bolivia, Peru, Japan, Korea, Liberia; 2 secondary teachers of general subjects in Southern Rhodesia; 2 education majors for work with student teachers; 2 medical technologists for hospitals in Liberia and Southern Rhodesia; 3 rural church workers for the Philippines; 3 directors of Christian education for schools and churches of Malaya and Burma; social worker for Pusan Community Center serving refugees, Korea; 2 librarians for Department of Library Science of Isabella Thoburn College, Lucknow, India; 4 music teachers also prepared in English or Christian education for schools in Pakistan, Korea, Japan, and district rural work in the Philippine Islands; 6 English teachers for colleges and universities in Japan, Korea and Philippines; 6 English teachers for junior high and high schools in Japan, Korea, and Hong Kong; 2 physical education teachers for secondary schools in Pakistan and Ewha University in Korea.

The World Council of Churches is urging all local churches of its supporting denominations and national councils to pray during November "for the displaced persons and refugees from many lands who have been helped to leave a precarious existence in emergency surroundings and to become established in new homes in many parts of the world." The Council's prayer "for compassion for the suffering" is suggested for use: "Blessed Lord, who for our sake wast content to bear sorrow and want and death, grant unto us such a measure of Thy spirit that we may follow Thee in all self-denial and tenderness of soul. Help us by Thy great love to succor the afflicted, to relieve the needy and destitute, to comfort the sorrowful, to share the burdens of the heavy-laden, and ever to see Thee in all that are poor and desolate through Jesus Christ our Lord Amen."

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

THE FALL OF A SPARROW

Russell G. West, Sr., Church of the Brethren

Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows. —Matthew 10:29-31.

To me the most disturbing and yet the most satisfying revelation in the Word of God is found in the burning message that God loves each individual on this earth! This thought runs like a golden thread from Genesis to Revelation. And strange to say, this glowing, transforming message of the Bible is so often overlooked by the average Christian.

The Psalmist says, "When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars which thou hast ordained; what is man, that thou art mindful of him, and the son of man that thou visitest him? For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honor." (Psalm 8:3 — 5) What boundless love is manifest on the part of God for his children! In the midst of an ever-expanding universe, which modern scholars and scientists are confirming to be limitless, boundless, we still cry out, "What is man that thou art mindful of him?" Man seems so little, so insignificant, so unimportant!

The Bible is the unfolding revelation of the nature and will of God, coming to perfection in the life and teachings of Christ. No one ever knew what God was like until Jesus came. "For in him all the fullness of God was pleased to dwell" — Col. 1:19) Only the Son of God could say, "He who has seen Me has seen the Father." — (John 14:9) "No one has ever seen God; the only Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he has made Him known". — John 1:18).

In the coming of Jesus this message of God's boundless love and deep concern for each individual broke over the world like a sunrise! "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16) "See that you do not despise one of these little ones; for I tell you that in heaven their angels always behold the face of my Father who is in heaven. What do you think? If a man has a hundred sheep, and one of them goes astray, does he not leave the ninety-nine on the hills and go in search of the one that went astray? And if he finds it, truly, I say unto you, he rejoices over it more than over the ninety-nine that never went astray. So it is not the will of my Father who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish." — (Matthew 18:10—14)

God is love! God loves everybody! God shows no partiality — he loves all people equally! In the sight of God each person is worth more than all the world. Man is the only thing on this earth that has intrinsic value. The world, the church, the Bible, Salvation were all made for man! God hates sin — he loves the sinner. Sin is disobeying the will of God. Sin separates man from fellowship with God. Sin does not separate man from the love of God. Remember: we were all sinners when Jesus came! "But God shows his love for us in that while we were sinners Christ died for us." (Romans 5:8)

To many so-called Christians God is vague, impersonal and far away! Therefore they are pagan in their views, their attitudes, and in their ways of living! Bible reading, Worship and prayer, have no vital place in their lives. Usually they are listed as "inactive members." They do not attend Sunday School. They do not attend church. They do not participate in Communion. They do not share their income with Christ. To them, religion is cold and formal and meaningless. It takes second place to the things of the world.

On the other hand, to genuine regenerated Child of God religion is one constant adventure of warm personal fellowship with a loving Heavenly Father! To them God is a God of Love and Compassion. He would attend the funeral of a sparrow. As St. Augustine said, "God loves us every one as though there were but one to love." Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick says, "This is a romantic creed. But if this love of God for the individual is not true Christianity itself is false." Ours is a loving Heavenly Father. He takes notice of the fall of a Sparrow. With a loving heart He cares for me! Therefore I can pray with the Psalmist: "O God, thou art my God, I seek thee, my soul thirsts for thee; my flesh faints for thee, as in a dry and weary land where there is no water. So I have looked upon thee in the sanctuary, beholding thy power and glory." — (Psalm 63:1, 2) He cares for each blade of grass, each leaf, each little bird, each lovely flower!

"His eye is on the sparrow, and I know He watches me!"

Monsters Of The North

Green Bay, Colts In AFL Action

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

And now it's the Baltimore Colts' turn to face the monsters from the north country.

The invading marauders, of course, are the Green Bay Packers, who will be on the prowl for their 10th straight victory of the National Football League season.

The Colts have managed to win at least one game from the Packers each season since 1954. Baltimore gave Green Bay a pretty good wrestle three weeks ago before succumbing, 17-4. But the Colts are 16-point underdogs for this return meeting at Green Bay.

Meanwhile, in the tighter Eastern Division race, the first-place New York Giants are 15-point favorites in their home game against the much battered Philadelphia Eagles, while the runner-up Washington Redskins are 4-point underdogs against the Steelers at Pittsburgh.

In Sunday's other games, the Detroit Lions are the choice by 9 points against the Vikings at Minnesota; the Chicago Bears are picked by 3 over the Cowboys at Dallas; the San Francisco Forty Niners are 3 over the reshuffled Rams at Los Angeles; and the Cleveland Browns are 7 at home over the visiting St. Louis Cardinals.

Would Tie Record
If the Packers should win as expected, this would tie the longest winning streak in the club's history and would represent the NFL's longest in-season string since the 1953 Browns won 11 in-a-row. Counting the last regular season game of 1961 and the championship playoff victory over the Giants, the Packers now have won 11 straight. The 1928 and 1929 Packers won 12 in-a-row.

The Colts (5-4) have thrown up an excellent defense in their three latest games, but oddly, they have not shown much of an attack. Following their 17-4 defeat by Green Bay, the Colts held the Forty Niners and Rams to a total of only five points.

Washington (5-2-2) can regain first place in the Eastern Division by winning while the Giants (7-2) lose. It's more likely, however, that the Giants will widen their lead.

The Eagles (1-17-1) were further demoralized by last Sunday's 49-0 rout by Green Bay. The Redskins have several injuries and face a Steeler team (5-4) that has looked good in winning its last two games.

Sherman Warns Team
The return of end Joe Walton brings the Giants to full strength, but coach Al Sherman has warned his men not to ease up against Philadelphia. The Eagles' pass catching corps has been further depleted by the loss of Dick Lucas with a broken hand.

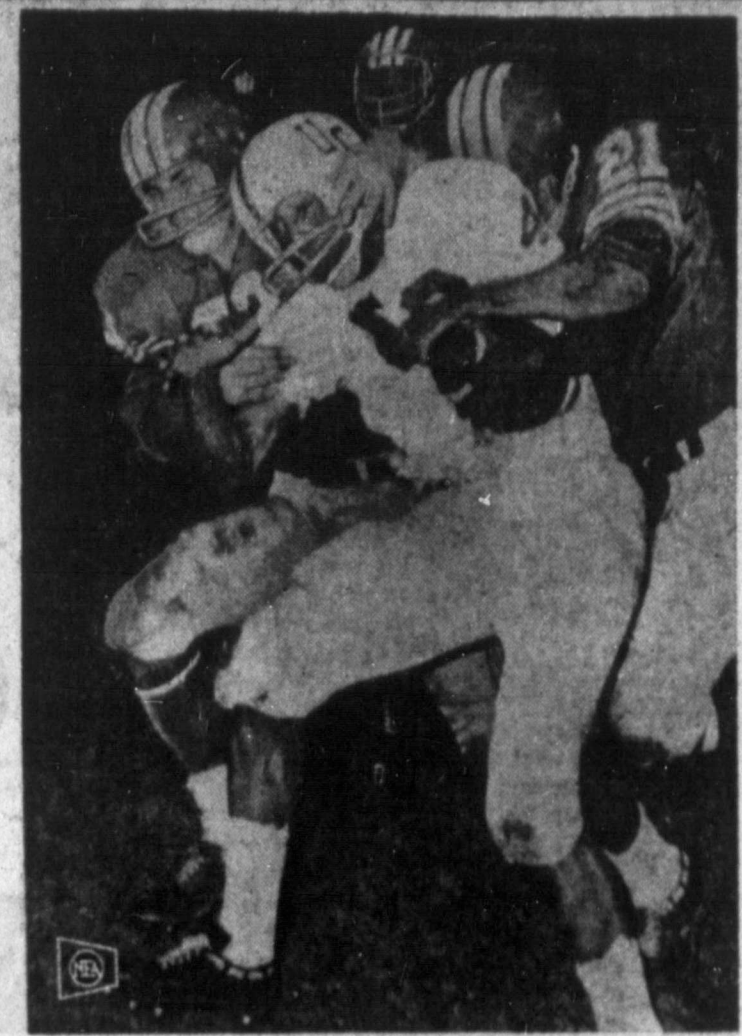

Washington's injuries include defensive halfback Claude Crabb and linebackers Bob Pellegrini and Gordon Kelly. Pittsburgh may have to go without linebacker Bob Schmitz.

Harland Svare, new Los Angeles head coach, has announced a shakeup that will start rookie Ron Miller at quarterback, shift Jon Arnett from running back to split end.

Clay Roars Past Moore

Young Fighter KO's Ageless Archie In 4th Round Of Bout

SURROUNDED—University of Cincinnati halfback Errol Frisby, center, is tackled from all directions in game against Detroit. The push and pull action took place in Detroit.

By ALEX KAHN
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Cassius Clay, still not old enough to vote, today was wooed from coast to coast as an opponent for heavyweight champion Sonny Liston.

The 26-year-old youngster from Louisville, Ky., stepped into the championship picture Thursday night with a fourth round knockout of the aging Archie Moore, just as he had predicted.

The brash Clay, whose favorite expression is "I'm the greatest," did what few men have been able to do in Moore's 26-year ring career by dropping the veteran to the canvas three times in the fourth round before referee Tommy Hart stopped the fight and ruled it a knockout victory.

Matchmaker George Parnassus had started negotiations even before the Clay-Moore bout with Liston to meet the winner and he brought the champion and his adviser here from Philadelphia to see the fight.

Stadium Fight Planned
But Clay still was receiving the congratulations of admirers in his dressing room when Harry Markson, director of boxing for Madison Square Garden, announced he hoped to arrange a Clay-Liston bout in New York's Yankee Stadium next June.

Markson's proposal was hinged upon Liston either meeting and defeating ex-champion Floyd Patterson or having the rematch fall through. And Clay first would have to beat Billy Daniels again. Clay scored a controversial technical knockout over Daniels last May. Under Markson's plan, the Clay-Daniels rematch would be held at Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 19.

Clay was not reluctant to beat his own drums as an opponent for Liston. He stopped by the champion's seat after knocking out Moore and told Liston, "You're next...we'll draw $10 million."

Just as he had needed Moore with his prediction of a fourth round win, Clay started on Liston by saying, "But you've got to fall in eight rounds."

The burly Liston, however, was just as quick on the comeback as he declared: "If you can last just eight seconds with me, I'll give you the fight on a forfeit."

Gets 16th Straight
The victory was the 16th straight without a defeat for Clay and it came before a crowd of 16,200 in the Sports Arena who paid an estimated $165,000 to witness the bout. Thousands more viewed it on closed circuit television in 53 cities.

Clay, 204, went into the ring a 2-1 favorite and he took the fight away from the 197-pound Moore with his speed and fast punching. Moore himself said a blow high on the head in the first round started his downfall.

And in the third round Clay backed the 45-year-old Moore against the ropes and poured punches to his head with both hands. The veteran's knees were buckling but he called on his ring experience to weather the round.

But Clay picked up where he left off in the fourth round, exploding a series of combinations that first dropped Moore for a count of eight. The ancient one got up but went down again for a six-count and the third time was enough for the referee. Moore's wounded pride, however, was saved somewhat by the $75,000 guarantee he demanded and received against 35 per cent of the gross receipts from both the live audience and television. For Clay the $40,000 he received against 25 per cent was his richest purse since he started fighting for pay after having achieved the glory of winning the Olympic light heavyweight championship in the Rome Games.

Syracuse Nats Win In NBA

By United Press International
Syracuse, without a player among the National Basketball Association's top scorers, has managed to win seven of nine games this season through fundamental teamwork.

The Nats tightened their grip on second place in the Eastern Division Thursday night by beating the Los Angeles Lakers, 120-98, at Baltimore, Md.

Chicago edged New York, 83-92, in the only other action of the evening.

John Kerr staged one of the few scoring bursts by a Syracuse player when he tallied 28 points against the Lakers. But it was an outstanding defensive job by Dave Gambee which held the Lakers at bay. Gambee held Elgin Baylor to only five points in the last half. The Los Angeles scoring ace had netted 19 points before intermission.

Walt Bellamy led the Zephyrs with 37 points as the Knicks suffered their 10th defeat. Rookie Charlie Hardnett's foul shot and Si Green's basket in the final seconds clinched it for Chicago. Richie Guerin had 21 points for New York.

Lefors, Borger Win Optimist Matches

Lefors and Borger boxers turned the tables on Pampa Optimist Boxers as the visitors provided the stronger fighters for the "Thursday night fights."

Lefors, winning six of seven bouts entered, dominated the lighter weight divisions with Borger's bigger boys controlling the matches starting at 130 pounds.

Pampa's lineup of boxers for the night's matches were mostly inexperienced boys in their first fights, especially in the heavier bouts.

In the matches held at the Optimist Boys' Club Building, several newcomers entered the ring as many of the more experienced fighters couldn't be matched with opponents.

Winning for Lefors over Pampa opponents were Mike Ashley over Rickie Hausman, Terry Dunn over Gregg Dunham, Glenn Cunningham over Jimmie White, Dennis Boyd over Pete Garcia

(Borger), Freddie Romines over Johnny Roth, and Keven Romines over Conley Bowles.

Pampa winners over Borger fighters were Troy Holtman over Daniel West, Joe Roth over Raymond Moore, Bobby Ashby over Carlton Rhodes, and Johnny Hubbard over James Rollins (Lefors).

Borger winners over Pampa were Teddie West over Mike Hausman, Rodney Martin over Wesley Thomas, Freddie Honeycutt over Mark Gregory, Joe Clement over Mathis Ashley, Waldo Green over John Sandefer, and Oliver Clement over Butch Robbins.

In fights matching Pampa boys against one another, David Jenkins won over Billy Davis, and Richard Jones won over Junior Jenkins.

Herman Giese and Johnny Caldwell fought an exhibition bout in the heavyweight division.

Navy To Battle USC's Trojans

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

Southern California, aware that Navy's tattered flag still can signal storm warnings, meets the Middles in a "grudge" game Saturday which the highly spirited sailors hope will sound taps for the Trojans' No. 1 college football rating.

Whether Navy coach Wayne Hardin's blast that Southern Cal uses "illegal motions, illegal formations and illegal procedures" is just so much psychological brainwashing for-the-Tars, will be determined at the Los Angeles Coliseum when the Trojans go for their eighth straight victory.

Trojan coach John McKay said he was shocked at the accusations and intends to justify his newly won status as best team in the country by picking up the challenge glove and settling for all time Hardin's claim that Southern California flouts the rules.

Two previous games between these opponents wound up in high scoring frays. In 1949, Southern California beat Navy, 42-20. The Middles avenged the defeat in 1950 by tripping the Trojans, 27-14.

Navy Was Routed
Navy has been on the short end of several rout-jobs this season, losing to Penn State (41-7), Minnesota (21-0) and Syracuse (34-6).

In case Navy's threat to upset the West Coast team materializes, second-ranked Alabama and the No. 3 Mississippi Rebels are set to hurdle into the top rating. Both squads are bowl-bound with unsullied records.

Alabama, the defending national champion, is a six-point pick over Georgia Tech and triple-threat Bill Lothridge while Ole Miss sports a 16-point edge over Tennessee.

continues Saturday with fourth-ranked Wisconsin and co-seventh ranked Northwestern and Minnesota a most highly eligible for the title and a trip to the Rose Bowl. Wisconsin is favored by 18 over Illinois. Northwestern states three better than Michigan State and Minnesota four over Purdue.

Tri-City Boxers Sponsor Matches

Tri-City Boxers will host, Saturday night, teams from Amarillo-Canyon, Dallas, Shamrock, Lefors, and Skellytown in the National Guard Armory.

Bell time is 8 p.m. with prices set at 1.00 adults, 50 cents students, and children under 12 admitted free.

Several top matches are on tap for the fights. The coaches from the various teams entered are reported bringing their strongest boxers to the Tri-City matches.

Some of the boxers slated to carry Tri-City honors are Johnny Henderson, Trent Olson, DeLo Henderson, Kenny Powell, Lee Johnson, Dennis Duncan and Kenneth Wood in the open class.

On hand in the high school division for Tri-City will be Dickey Spence, Dwayne Sanders, Tommy Snider, Richard Organ, E. M. Brine, Bob Meador, Larry Taylor, H. D. LaRue, Jimmy Watson, and Danny McCane.

Two of the toughest pee-wee teams in the Panhandle will match their boys as Lefors and Tri-City have abundant top-notch pee-wees to represent their corners.

Some of the lighter fighters for Tri-City are Danny Boyd, Dean LaRue, Gary Watson, Richard Dismuke, Ronnie Watson, and Bruce Watson.

Texas Christian Ready For Upset

By ED FITE
FORT WORTH (UPI)—It all began in 1929 when Texas Christian first became a spoilsport for lofty University of Texas football aspirations.

That was the year the powerful Longhorns had waded through seven games without yielding a point. Furthermore, TCU had NEVER beaten a Texas team.

But, Cy Leland, one of the state's first sprinters of renown, sped 90 yards with a Texas kickoff to propel TCU to a 15-12 upset that led to TCU's first Southwest Conference championship.

Seven times since then, Texas teams have rolled up to their November dates with TCU boasting impressive records and title hopes—only to stumble and fall.

Last Year's Shock
The latest such shocking experience came a year ago when Texas was ranked No. 1 nationally and rated a 16-point favorite over a TCU team with a 2-4-1 season record. Giant Sonny Gibbs and end Buddy Isles teamed on a 50-yard second period scoring pass and Texas lost 6-4.

Now, the stage is set for another similar drama Saturday when the nation's fifth-ranking Longhorns invade TCU Stadium with an undefeated team, an undisputed conference title and certain bowl bids in sight.

Coach Darrell Royal's Longhorns are rated seven-point favorites over coach Abe Martin's Froggies, who have lost three of their seven starts.

The tense potentialities of the situation will overtax the 45,373-seat capacity of the stadium and standing room tickets are expected to be gobbled up by game time.

Other Stunning Upsets
There will be many in the crowd who will remember all, or least some of the other stunning upsets dealt Texas down memory lane.

It was in 1932, that a great Texas team boasting a backfield of Bohn Hilliard, Harrison Stafford and Ernie Koy (father of injured Texas sophomore star Ernie Koy Jr.) blew into Fort Worth with the title in sight. TCU's powerful line, anchored by Mississippi coach Johnny Vaught, held Hilliard to two yards and TCU won 14-0 and took the championship.

Nine years later, Texas was ranked high nationally and headed for an almost-certain Rose Bowl bid when a pass with eight seconds to play administered a 14-7 defeat.

In 1947, TCU put the only blemish on Texas' conference record with a 13-7 victory and in 1944 the Frogs knocked Texas out of the title, and took it themselves with a 7-4 upset.

Again TCU Wins
Bobby Layne had passed Texas into peak national prominence in 1946 by the time Texas met a TCU team struggling along with just one victory. But, Carl Knox bottled Texas up in its own end of the field and TCU spoiled things again, 14-0.

In 1959, Texas was unbeaten and riding high in the national spotlight when TCU blew into town with a snowy Texas "norther." Scatback Harry Moreland shook loose for a 36-yard scoring scamper halfway through the final period to jerk TCU into a 14-9 upset.

Thus, there's ample reason for Royal and the Longhorns to trot onto the field with trepidation Saturday.

Pampa Hosts Plainview Tonight In Home Game

By LEE WHITE
Pampa News Sports Editor

A victory hungry pack of Bulldogs will invade Pampa's Harvesters Park tonight with fangs sharpened and stomachs growling for a victory meal at the expense of the Pampa Harvesters.

The Bulldogs' Tom Sawyer will make better use of his talented arm than painting white board fences as his fabled namesake used to. Sawyer, the top passer in District 3-AAAA, can be expected to keep the Harvesters on their toes as he sprinkles the air with an array of passes from the touchdown "bomb" to the short gainers.

Plainview, faced with the thought of ending its second season without writing its name on the winning side of the ledger, has its sights aimed on Pampa, another district team that has received its share of bruises in rugged conference play.

The sweet taste of victory still lingers in the mouths of the hungry Bulldogs when they recall the last time and the team that furnished the win-starved pack with a victory meal.

The Bulldogs spoiled Pampa's 1960 Homecoming with a 13-7 victory in 1960 for their last win. Both teams that year came into the encounter with identical 0-4 records. Since then, the Bulldogs have grown to no avail, losing their last 19 games.

Pampa's chances of breaking even in the win-loss column in their first year of rebuilding under the guidance of Coach Ollis Holladay was dealt a severe blow last week in Lubbock as the Westerners halted the Harvesters.

Shockers Downed In Season Final

Pampa's Shockers found the going a little rough Thursday afternoon as they hosted a fired-up Monterey "B" team that helped the Pampans end their schedule on a sour note.

Monterey "B", winning by a 45-6 score, reeled off several long runs to cripple the Shockers.

In the opening minutes of the game, the Lubbock team raced ahead as Tommy O'Kelly scampered 51 yards for the game's first TD. Jerry Johnson, who scored 16 points for the winners, added two points on a blast through the middle to send the visitors ahead to stay.

Ronnie Oler broke loose for Pampa's lone touchdown on a 45-yard gallop in the first quarter. Oler failed on an attempt to run the ball over for the two points.

Halftime score was 22-4.

Scoring Plays
Pampa - Oler, 45-yard run (6).
Monterey - O'Kelly, 51-yard run (6). Johnson, extra points (2). Johnson, 24-yard run (6). David Jones pass to Chris Key (2). Johnson, 12-yard run (6). Johnson, extra points (2). O'Kelly, 45-yard run (6). Thad Walker, 8-yard plunge (6). Rusty Jacks, kicked exp. (1). O'Kelly, 90-yard scamper (6).

20-8. For a break even record, the Harvesters have to stop a couple of Bulldog packs, Plainview and Borger.

Four players were moved from the Shockers this week to help bolster the Harvesters. Getting promotions were Carl Johnson, Jim Brumley, Terry Chris, and Larry Watson.

Johnson is slated to start tonight for the Harvesters in a tackle spot.

Hebert At QB

Hebert will be calling signals from the quarterback spot with Ricky Stewart at wingback, Randy Matson at fullback, and Jerry Glover at tailback in the Harvesters backfield.

Probable starters in the Pampa line will be ends Clay Lively and Howard Reed, tackles Johnson and Dee Wright, guards Glenn McCathern and Carl Clark, center John Brown.

In the backfield for the visitors will be Sawyer at quarterback, Larry Haydon and Timmy Benefield in halfback slots, and Joe Don Ford at fullback.

Pampa has a slight weight advantage for the tussle.

Pampa's three victories this season have been over El Paso Del Aire, 19-7, Phillips, 12-0, and Amarillo, 7-4.

The Harvesters have suffered losses at the hands of Dumas, 40-8, Tascosa, 26-4, Monterey 35-0.

Houston Colts Release Scouts

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Houston Colts, in what was called a "re-organization of the scouting system," Thursday released five scouts.

Also given the gate was Fred Hatfield, manager of the Colts Class C Modesto Club of the California League.

Scouts released included Dixie Howell, Indiana-Ohio-Kentucky area; Jim Greengrass, Georgia-South Carolina; Thurman Tucker, Arizona-New Mexico-COLORADO; Johnny Sturm, Illinois-Iowa-Missouri, and Johnny O'Brien, Oregon-Washington area.

The Colts said replacements would be announced at a later date.

11, Palo Duro, 28-7, and Lubbock, 20-8. The Plainview Bulldogs have an 0-8 season mark.

Buffaloes Meet H-SU 'Pokes

CANYON (SpI) — After dropping two of its last three games, West Texas State will close the 1962 football season Saturday afternoon against Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene. It will be Homecoming for the improving Cowboys.

Despite the recent tail-spin, West Texas can compile its best record since 1956 with a win over Hardin-Simmons. The Buffs of Joe Kerbel have won seven and lost two, and an 8-2 mark would match the 1956 record that won the Herd a berth in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.

The most recent setback for high-scoring West Texas was a 20-13 upset by North Texas Saturday night at Denton. The Buffs gave the Eagles two touchdowns just before the half on fumbles, and lost the ball six times in all on fumbles and pass interceptions. It was easily the worst game of the season for the Kerbel crew.

"We gave it away," Kerbel said, "and we had better get ready for Hardin-Simmons this week. Hardin-Simmons has improved each week, and has a much better team than its record of one win and eight losses."

Coach Joe Rector scouted the Cowboys' 7-4 loss to Arlington State last week, and pointed out it should have been a Hardin-Simmons win.

Ferraro Catches Willie Shoemaker

By United Press International
Ronnie Ferraro is all even with Willie Shoemaker today atop the national jockey standings.

The 19-year-old Ferraro, who scored only once in 15 previous mounts, rode three winners at Pimlico Thursday, boosting his total of winners this year to 361.

Shoemaker, who previously had announced that he would be vacationing until the Santa Anita meeting opens Dec. 26, says he will ride in the feature race at Bay Meadows Saturday.

Ferraro scored with Dulcet Blue ($7.20) in the fourth, Lick ($5.00) in the sixth and Sir Charmian ($23.80) in the seventh. Sir Charmian outraced The Draker and Old Kel in the six furlong feature.

4 Relief Games

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Jim Konstanty pitched in 74 games for the pennant-winning Philadelphia Phils in 1950, all in relief.

Next game for Pampa is against the Borger Bulldogs next Saturday afternoon in Borger.

Southwest Challenge Bowl Slated For Corpus Christi

By United Press International
The nation's newest post-season bowl game, the Southwest Challenge Bowl, will be played in Corpus Christi, Texas next January 5. The Gulf Coast location is an ideal spot as far as climate, accessibility, and enthusiasm according to Ken Jackson of Austin, President of the group sponsoring the contest.

"We wanted to locate the game in a football town. Corpus Christi is that town. We intend to hold the game here annually," Ken Jackson said. "Everyone we have contacted here has been as enthusiastic about the game as we are." He has met with school officials, chamber of commerce leaders and others. All have pledged support to the game that eventually will be nationally televised, he said.

The Southwest Challenge Bowl is the same type of game as the Senior Bowl, a success for many years at Mobile, Alabama.

"This is a game with a purpose," Jackson, a former star who later played pro football with the old Dallas Texans and the Baltimore Colts, said. "This is Texas against the rest of the nation."

The bowl calls for graduating seniors from Southwest Conference and other Texas schools to be pitted against graduating seniors from the rest of the country. They will turn pro in the classic, with members of the winning team receiving $600, the losers $600.

Players must be recommended by the coaches and will be chosen by a committee of Southwest Sports, Inc., backers of the venture, headed by Jackson. Each team would be composed of 26 players and would include some of the finest collegians in the nation. Most of the players chosen will be high on the draft lists of the American and National Football Leagues.

The Southwest Challenge Bowl was originated last February and San Antonio was chosen as the site. The decision to make the change to Corpus Christi was definitely made only this week. "We expect to be here from now on. We intend to make this bowl game among the best in the nation," Jackson said.

The Pampa Daily News

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the right of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Government, Price Fixing

The report that six major manufacturers of aluminum conductor cable, including Anaconda Wire & Cable, have been indicted on charges of price fixing under the Sherman Antitrust Act, again points up the unfairness of the so-called price-fixing regulations.

The federal government claims the six firms entered an agreement to "fix, stabilize and maintain uniform prices" for the aluminum conductor cable. President Richard Stelmets of Anaconda flatly denied the charges and promised to disprove them.

A business man hardly knows where he stands these days. If he raises prices, he is accused of gouging the public; if he lowers prices he is accused of unfair competition; if he charges the same price as his competitor, he is accused of conspiring to fix prices.

If he happens to be the only producer of a product or if he buys out a failing competitor, he's accused of building a monopoly in restraint of trade. It's no wonder General Electric and some of the other electrical firms threw in the sponge awhile back when the government accused them of price fixing.

In addition it should be pointed out that federal and state agencies on one hand are accusing businesses of fixing prices, while governmental agencies are engaged in price fixing or are condoning price fixing.

There are both federal and state milk price laws, which set minimum prices below which a dealer cannot sell, despite the contention of many efficient producers that prices set are too high.

Rents are fixed by bureaucrats in some states and cities even today.

Labor unions are fixing the price of labor, and federal and state governments approve, even joining in with the union brass.

As we have pointed out repeatedly, the politicians are not on firm ground in accusing one segment of the population of price fixing when they are guilty of participating in the same "crime" day after day.

A Man Among Many

A man who is able to let others know exactly what he means, and then acts so that others know that he means what he says, is a man among men.

Safety's Biggest Bargain

For parents, school administrators and others who may at times be inclined to take a dim view of driver education as a worthwhile high school course, we have some startling figures that should settle all doubts.

During the 1960-61 school year, more than one million male public high school students reached legal driving age. Of these, only 29 per cent could take advantage of driver education courses meeting national standards. The lack of such training is costing the remaining 81 per cent (for their parents) an extra $7.7 million a year in automobile liability insurance premiums. Furthermore, their failure to qualify for the usual ten per cent premium discount given those young males who pass the recognized courses, will cost each of the 81 per cent from $90 to $151.85 in extra premiums by the time he is 25. The cost of standard, high school driver education ranges from $40.19 to $60 per pupil.

These are the highlights of a nationwide study just released by the Insurance Information Institute which points out that "if the availability of driver education courses continues at the present inadequate level for that one-year span (from 16 to 25), that group and the new thousands who reach legal driving age through 1979 will pay an extra $369,495,637 in premiums - all for want of standard driver education facilities.

"But," continues the study—perhaps for the benefit of those who are arguing that this "unnecessary frill" be dropped from the high school curriculum—"consider this: If no driver education courses were offered in any high school for the next nine years, it would add $12,638,664 in the first year to the liability insurance premiums of young male drivers and the accumulated total for the nine-year span would be a staggering $605,730,531!"

Nor should it be overlooked that the insurance people—who are very statistical-minded—have a good reason to extend this ten per cent premium discount to qualified young drivers. Their 30 hours of classroom study and six hours of behind-the-wheel training by a certified driver-education teacher pay off handsomely in any hard-boiled study of highway injuries, death and destruction.

No community can afford to be without high school driver-training—whether we keep score in death or dollars.

Pull Up A Chair

Most chain hotels are not owned by the management. The operators take up to 7 per cent of the revenue for their fee. This also goes for many of the foreign hotels, that are government-owned but leased out. It takes a big convention to fill the hotel rooms in New York City. Summer is the quietest period of the year. Some close up as many as six floors from the end of June to Labor Day, when the busy season starts. The room closing is especially true of the large East side establishments.

Even with TV in the field, radio stations in large cities command prices up in the millions, when put up for sale. There are about 50 radio stations listed in the New York Times, which blanket the metropolitan zone. The Storer Broadcasting Company paid $10,900,000 for Manhattan's WHN quite recently, and in the past month Westinghouse paid $10,000,000 for a New York outlet.

Thoughts while shaving: 1. With the tuition fees of colleges nudging toward the $2,000 mark—we fondly recall that some 40 years ago a Harvard education sold at $150 per annum. And they allowed you to pay it on the installment plan—$60 down, and the remaining 90 bucks by mid-term... 2. And for that $150, annually, you could have taken courses under such eminent professors as Blais Perry, Charles Townsend Copeland, Albert Bushnell Hart, Hugo Munsterberg, Barnett Wendell, George Lyman Kittredge, George Herbert Palmer, Josiah Royce, LeBaron Briggs, Frank W. Taussig, William Allan Nielson, George Pierce Baker, Edward Channing, and even Prexy A. Lawrence Lowell, who taught government... 3. Those who employ the term "poppycock," meaning empty talk or foolish nonsense, might be surprised at its derivation. This is a family newspaper, so you'll have to look it up for yourself.

The greeting card industry prints messages covering almost every sort of occasion or circumstance you can think of. "Almost," we said—for you'll be hard put to find a special greeting card for a person who was born on February 29 of any Leap Year. That date rolls around only once every four years and that isn't often enough for the trade to be bothered with.

A nation-wide survey of more than 4000 family heads reveals that male smokers consume an average of 7.3 packs of cigarettes a week as compared with 5.5 packs for feminine smokers. And a sidelight of the survey is that their rate of smoking decreased markedly after both men and women passed the age of 45.

The largest concentration of steak houses in the world is on E. 48th Street, New York. It extends from Lexington to Second Avenues, with some overflow on the adjoining streets. Sun-Tan manufacturers had a banner season this year, but physicians still warn on over-exposure to the sun, especially in Arizona, Southern California, and Florida. I know a skin specialist who always recommends the first exposure to the sun at about 10 o'clock in the morning, or 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He says it is best to start with fifteen minutes, and on the following days extend the time by five and ten minute intervals.

For years the peak load for electric utility companies has been during the Christmas holidays, but air-conditioning and this summer's heat waves provided another peak load for many public utilities, especially in the South. But increased refrigeration and other modern appliances consumption in nearly all areas... Today's favorite gag: A man carrying a grandfather clock down a crowded street to a repair shop collided with a woman, knocking her down. After collecting her composure and packages, she struggled to her feet, glared at him, and snapped: "Why don't you carry a wrist watch like everybody else?"

Also, it was an open secret that Ted's brash and heavily-financed candidacy won no cheers among Democratic senators. They frankly disapproved of it.

"All He Really Needs Is Understanding"

Allen-Scott Report

'Ted' Wants Membership On Sought-After Foreign Relations Committee Despite Priorities

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Being a young man-in-a-furious-hurry is apparently a compulsive habit with Ted Kennedy.

Having wrested a seat in the Senate at the age of 29—with the incidental aid of his name, close relationship to the President of the United States, and his family's great wealth—Ted is now proposing to blitz the Senate as he did the Massachusetts electorate.

The fledgling Senator, who has yet to be formally inducted into office, already is busily scrambling for one of the glamorous prizes of the upper chamber—a place on the august Foreign Relations Committee.

This committee is one of the most influential and socially prominent in Congress. It has far-reaching jurisdiction over international affairs and appointments to the State Department and diplomatic service. And membership on the Foreign Relations Committee ensures a constant stream of invitations from the Capital's numerous embassies to their glittering and lavish receptions, banquets and other shindigs.

Assignment to this glamor committee is much sought after. With two exceptions, all present members have been in the Senate at least 10 or more years. It is virtually unprecedented for a newly-elected senator to be named to the committee.

But apparently this is not daunting young Kennedy; nor the fact that a number of Democratic senators with seniority are after the one available vacancy.

Backstage plan of Senate Democratic leaders is to add another Democrat to the Foreign Relations Committee, giving them 12 Democrats to 6 Republicans. Present ratio is 11 Democrats to 8 Republicans. Two G.O.P. committeemen were defeated—Senators Alexander Wiley, Wis., and Homer Capehart, Ind. There were no Democratic losses.

Among Democratic senators who have long had their eye on this choice committee are Estes Kefauver, Tenn., Edmund Muskie, Me., Claiborne Pell, R.I., and William Proxmire, Wis.

So young Ted Kennedy has his work cut out for him blitzing a seat on this potent committee.

WHAT HE'S UP AGAINST—One inside report is that the administration is throwing its weight behind him. If that is the case, the administration could be inviting a stinging rebuff. Traditionally, the Senate has jealously resented outside meddling in its affairs.

Also, it was an open secret that Ted's brash and heavily-financed candidacy won no cheers among Democratic senators. They frankly disapproved of it.

During Ted's rattle-dazzle campaign, he proclaimed that if elected, he intended to get himself named to the "Foreign Relations Committee and the Fishing Committee." There is no "Fishing" committee. The Commerce Committee has jurisdiction over that industry.

being assigned to that committee are far better than Foreign Relations.

Significantly indicative of that were telegrams Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., and Senator J. William Fulbright, Ark., chairmen of the Foreign Relations Committee, sent to Governor Gaylord Nelson during his successful campaign against veteran Senator Alexander Wiley, R-Wis. In these messages, Mansfield and Fulbright declared they would go to bat for Nelson to put him on the Foreign Relations Committee.

Immediate political purpose of these telegrams was to offset Wiley's electioneering claim that he was senior Republican member on this key committee. At the same time, the wires also publicly committed Mansfield and Fulbright to back Nelson for a place on the Committee.

How that sits with Proxmire is conjectural. Privately, no love is lost between him and Nelson. Proxmire did little to help Nelson. Also, Nelson is more blatantly liberal than Proxmire, and is rated more knowledgeable about foreign affairs, particularly Latin American. He has published studies on that, which were the basis for the Mansfield-Fulbright telegrams.

Another newcomer aspiring to the Foreign Relations Committee is Maryland's Senator-elect Daniel Brewster, who has served two terms in the House. That gives him a decided edge over both Nelson and young Kennedy.

But Capitol insiders are not counting the latter out—despite the odds against him. He has strikingly demonstrated he has a way of getting what he wants!

POLITICALS—The 1964 presidential campaign is still two years off, but Republican politicians already are viewing Senator Thomas Kuchel, Calif., as a likely running mate on a Rockefeller ticket. They are saying that Kuchel, who resoundingly won re-election while virtually all other G.O.P. candidates were defeated, is a "natural" for a Rockefeller slate, linking the two biggest states in the country, New York and California... Despite the defeat of his hand-picked candidate for the Senate, Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley definitely will seek a third term next spring. While Daley's senatorial choice was licked, the entire Cook County Democratic ticket, with one exception, was swept into office last Tuesday. Most probable Republican opponent of Daley will be Benjamin Adamowski, former state's attorney and long-time Daley rival... Nevada's anti-administration Democratic Representative Walter Baring was re-elected, but to no cheers of the White House. In fact, privately, some administration insiders were rooting for Carlton Adair, Republican opponent of Baring, who favored more Kennedy measures than Baring. Adair campaigned for medical care for the aged and other Kennedy policies, about which Baring either was silent or against.

The Doctor Says:

Gasoline Sniffing Is Habit Of Unhappy Children

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Instead of stepping on the gas some youngsters are sniffing it. Although accidental swallowing of gasoline has occurred in the past, addition to gasoline sniffing is a relatively new development.

It has been reported only in boys—perhaps girls have better sense. Although these boys are usually in their early teens, some were found to have been sniffing for several years. One boy started when he was only 5 years old. There are undoubtedly many whose habit has not been discovered by their parents, or if discovered has not been reported to the family doctor.

William M. Hanson made a study of some boys who were gasoline sniffers and found that they came from homes in which serious marital discord and violence prevailed and in which divorce was threatened or had occurred. The relationship between father and son in every instance was weak. The mothers tended to be over-indulgent and to encourage their sons to have an unrealistic opinion of their own importance.

The boys as a result tended to be over-demanding and to be unable to tolerate even mild frustrations. Unable to make any real friends in their own age group, these boys became "loner wolves."

The ready availability of gasoline (by siphoning it from a parked car if necessary) led these boys to discover that by inhaling strong gasoline fumes they could achieve a sense of well-being. This was really a state of intoxication in which all tensions were relieved.

At with alcoholic intoxication, this state could be carried to the point of seeing and hearing the little man who wasn't there. One boy during the Christmas season saw the Holy Family and had a prolonged conversation with them. If very high concentrations were inhaled there was sometimes a sudden loss of consciousness.

Gasoline probably does not cause a true addiction in the sense that alcohol and certain drugs do. Although the boys had become emotionally dependent on sniffing, their habit was easily broken when appropriate treatment was given. Although they had been able to sniff gasoline for hours on end without showing any painful symptoms, stopping the habit did not produce disturbing withdrawal symptoms as in the case with other forms of addiction.

It should be emphasized that there is no danger of this habit developing in a child whose home surroundings are pleasant.

FARE INCREASE ASSURED

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Eastern railroads have been virtually assured of authority to boost passenger fares 10 per cent to absorb the federal transportation tax when the levy is lifted Friday.

The fare increase became almost a certainty by default when the deadline for protests to the Interstate Commerce Commission passed without a request for review of the ICC suspension board's refusal to block the action.

TRUTH FORUM

Supreme Court Using 'Salami Tactics'

By ED DELANEY

"Illegality breeds illegality," is the heading of a recent editorial by David Lawrence, in the nationally known "U.S. News and World Report." For many years Lawrence has been regarded as one of the most conservative, conscientious and responsible editors in this country.

He refers to the recent disturbances in Mississippi, also the Supreme Court ruling, in compliance with which a President sent federal troops into Little Rock in 1957. This year the President and the attorney general took similar action when the militia of Mississippi was put under federal command to override the action of Gov. Ross Barnett in preventing registration of a non-white student in a state university.

Apart from all the emotional and sociological aspects of this issue—just what is the legal position? The 1953 Amendment of our Constitution, invoked by Gov. Barnett, says: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people." As Lawrence points out, no legal authority has ever been granted to the executive branch of the federal government to manage or operate the schools of the states. A decision of the Supreme Court, under which the President assumed to act, is not "the law of the land."

Congress has passed no law abrogating the rights of the states in the matter of education, and under the 10th Amendment Congress cannot enact such legislation.

There is nothing in the Constitution giving the chief executive the authority to send troops into any state, under the circumstances as observed in both Little Rock and in Mississippi.

It is implied that the desegregation decision of the Supreme Court in 1954 is based on the 14th Amendment to the Constitution. But that amendment, Lawrence asserts, is not valid. In October 1860, the legislature of Oregon rescinded its previous vote to ratify the Amendment. It went further and declared that the so-called "ratifications" by the southern states were "unauthorized, unconstitutional and void" and that a state has the right to withdraw its assent to a proposed amendment. To this day the Supreme Court has admitted by a passed any proposal to render a decision on the legality of the 14th Amendment. The courts have never ruled that a President may use military force to do what Congress never authorized him to do. Congress makes the laws, not the executive or judicial branch of the government.

This applies likewise to the decision of the Supreme Court which is interpreted by some as withholding powers to the public schools. That is the same usurpation of legislative powers by the court. The first amendment to the Constitution prohibits: "Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." Congress has not passed any law "prohibiting the free exercise" of prayers in schools. The court contrived no part of the Constitution or its amendments, in the so-called prayer decision.

These decisions and the acceptance of them is frightening.

Feng's are accepting rulings by members of the court that are far beyond the power which the Constitution has granted that body. If we accept such decisions of men who served their country in the same adversary that is exercised by the Soviet Politburo. We then cease to be a Republic.

Commenting on this eminent jurist, Lucas D. Phillips, a member of the Virginia legislature, said: "Unless the states act in their sovereign capacity to protect their reserved powers from being exercised unlawfully by members of the court, it will be only a matter of time until their reserved powers will be liquidated by usurpation."

This is what Willy Brandt, of West Berlin, calls "salami tactics" when the Soviet whittles away, little by little, the rights Berliners had in that divided city. It is "salami tactics" the Supreme Court is adopting to accomplish the abrogation of states' rights.

Question Box

(We invite questions on constitutional and the proper functions of government which will aid those appearing.)

Question: Is a governor provided with a plane by the federal government, and if so may it be used for transportation of the governor during a campaign or for political purposes?

Answer: We do not know whether the federal government provides a plane for each governor. If it does, we believe the legality of its being used for political purposes could be questioned. However, the presidents of the United States have been making "non-political" trips in federal government planes for many years. Senators have had difficulty differentiating between some of these trips and others which are admittedly for political purpose.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Friday, Nov. 18, the 231st day of 1962 with 45 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history— In 1891, Gen. William Sherman started his "march to the sea" during the American Civil War. In 1922, the United States and the Soviet Union established diplomatic relations.

In 1954, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower ordered all federal agencies to cut their foreign spending to a minimum in a move to help the drain on U.S. gold reserves caused by a shift in the U.S. balance of payments.

In 1951, Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn died. He had served in the House longer than any other man—nearly 46 years.

A thought for the day—The English proverb, "Will is Power," said, "Unlimited power is apt to corrupt the minds of those who possess it."

Pentagon Orders Personnel To Ignore Glances Of Russian Gals

By JOHN G. WARNER United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon has ordered its personnel to ignore the beckoning glances of bewitching Russian beauties. Big brother, it said, may be lurking behind a two-way mirror.

The order was contained in Defense Department memoranda dealing with Communist espionage methods that might be used to trap U.S. military men or civilians working overseas.

The regulations prohibited "any sexual relationships whatsoever with Soviet or satellite citizens."

The memos also warned of the pictures then were used to blackmail the Americans into spying for the Communists, it said.

Pension Fund Director Fired

HOUSTON (UPI) — Mayor Lewis Cutler removed city civil service director Sherwood Crane from his post on the city pension board.

Crane has been under fire since Monday when it was discovered he was president of the Colonial Savings Association, a six-month-old savings and loan association in which $651,746 in city pension funds have been deposited.

The Houston City Council Wednesday night gave Cutler an ultimatum saying that Cutler must fire Crane and city treasurer Ellis Allen by next Wednesday or the council would intervene.

No action has yet been taken on Allen, who was a stockholder in Colonial.

Production Of Food Is Expected To Stay Ahead Of Population Growth

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN WASHINGTON (UPI) — World food production in 1962-63 is expected to increase faster than the growth in population, which is going up at a rate of 2 per cent annually, according to an analysis by the Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service (ERS).

Prospects for the main food grains are favorable, according to the world study. Wheat and rye production is expected to increase about 6 per cent from 1961-62. Western Europe has a record wheat crop, indicating smaller imports. On the other hand, Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union, with disappointing crops in 1962, may have less to export this season.

India and Syria report record wheat crops and good crops were harvested in Japan, Pakistan, Turkey and North Africa.

(Food supplies in the United States continue to be more than adequate for domestic consumption and near-record exports.)

Court Awards Dog To Family In 'Theft' Case

CHICAGO (UPI)—A dog's wagging tail and the shining eyes of three children decided a court battle between two families Thursday.

The decision brought joy to one family and heartbreak to the other.

Mrs. Gladys Santiago and her three children and Mrs. Lucille Thorne and her seven youngsters went before Judge Joseph Butler in Women's Court to battle for the custody of a collie.

The battle began Oct. 22, when Mrs. Santiago had Mrs. Thorne arrested on charges of stealing her dog "Larry." Mrs. Thorne retorted that the dog was hers and was named "Lady." Both women presented witnesses who said they had given the dog to the families.

Judge Butler was stumped. "Let the dog decide," he ruled. Mrs. Thorne and her children brought "Lady" into court Thursday. A bailiff took the leash from her hand and led the collie before the judge. The trial began.

Children Flank Judge On one side of the judge stood the Thorne children, all holding their breaths. On the other side were the Santiago children, their wide eyes fixed on the collie.

Almost from the moment she saw the Santiago children, the collie's tail began to wag. She strained at her leash in a seeming attempt to get to them. Mrs. Thorne stepped in between but the dog persisted.

The judge sighed. "I'm not a Solomon," he said. "I don't pretend to be one and I'm surely not God and I have to make a decision. I award the dog to Mrs. Santiago."

There was a cry of joy from the Santiago children, Juanita, 11, Vidal, 9, and Marguerita, 7. They fell on their knees around their "Larry" and pressed their faces into her fur.

Asks For Leash, Muzzle Mrs. Thorne then spoke up for what was hers.

"Can I have my leash and muzzle back?" she said. "How much is it?" asked the judge.

"Two dollars and 59 cents for the muzzle and a dollar-25 for the chain," Mrs. Thorne said.

Judge Butler dug into his own pocket and handed over the money. Then he announced there was a pedigreed collie waiting for the losers at a kennel-free of charge—the gift of a sympathetic lawyer.

"We don't want any other dog!" the Thorne children wailed. As "Larry" trotted off with the Santiago children, a reporter asked Mrs. Santiago if she was happy.

"No, I'm not happy," she said. "I feel sorry for her children."

Shirley Booth (Hazel) Spent Off Season With Her Maid

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Shirley Booth, television's "Hazel" the housekeeper, is back dusting off video's furniture after having spent the off-season vacation with her maid and getting some tips no doubt.

Miss Booth lives in New York or Cape Cod, (Mass.) when she's not working here. During the television season Shirley's maid keeps one eye on the New York apartment and the other on a television set, watching the boss.

During the off-season Shirley's maid showed some of "Hazel's" self determination. She invited herself along on the boss' vacation.

"She called me from New York and said she was going back to the Cape with me," Miss Booth said. "June, that's her name, didn't look upon the stay at the Cape as work at all. She did her chores in the daytime and at night we watched reruns of the show."

Some folks think Miss Booth's maid might have taken on some of "Hazel's" crusty mannerisms after watching her on television. But that's not true, Shirley says.

"I've been dressing her for years," Shirley said. "She's soft spoken and has her own personality."

She may not take on airs, but Miss Booth's maid helps herself to the boss' castoff dresses.

Miss Booth is going into her second year on the series. The first year was a successful one which saw the show with a high rating and Miss Booth with an Emmy nomination.

She's not only become a friend to televisioners, but a champion of waitresses who look upon her as one of them.

"Some waitresses I see are adopting 'Hazel's' way of walking," she said. "And they all recognize me."

Defense reorganization legislation of 1958, the most recent amendment of the 1947 "unification" act?

From the public's standpoint, all this is not a picayune matter of internal organization in a federal department. It involves, at once, such questions as whether the armed forces are being transformed gradually into a single service and the degree to which information about the national defense is being centrally controlled.

When Sylvester issued his order, 65,000 copies were printed and spread around Washington. But as far as can be learned, no copies were sent officially and formally to the secretaries of the services. Nor was it stated that the order was issued at the direction of the services to comply. The 1958 legislation provides that "except as otherwise provided by law, an assistant secretary of defense shall have authority to issue orders to a military department only if (1) the secretary of defense has delegated to such assistant secretary the authority to issue such orders, and (2) such orders are issued through the secretary of such military department or his designee."

In its report on the bill, the House Armed Services Committee regarded assistant defense secretaries as advisors rather than issuers of orders and said they "will not be permitted to usurp the daily operational activities which can only have the effect of creating a fourth completely duplicating department within the military establishment."

The Defense Department put out an implementing directive stating that orders to the Army, Navy and Air departments will be issued through those departments' secretaries by the defense secretary or under authority specifically delegated by him or by law.

The extent to which the Sylvester order is being heeded in the Army, Navy and Air Force, in view of its uncertain status, was not learned. But within the office of the secretary of defense, a spokesman said, 67 reports have been submitted concerning compliance with newsmen since Oct. 27, when the "procedures for handling media representatives" were distributed.

One who neglected to report, it appears, was Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatrick. He taped a television interview last Saturday for use last Sunday, saying in it that 42 missiles had been counted outbound from Cuba. United Press International learned of this count and reported it in a dispatch Saturday. Sylvester's office was unable to verify the report until the next day.

Foreign Commentary

By CHARLES W. CORDDRY WASHINGTON (UPI) — The validity, if not the legality, of the Defense Department's holy controversial order on the "handling" of newsmen now is considered sure to be investigated in Congress early next year. The order, signed by Assistant Secretary Arthur Sylvester, but stemming from Secretary Robert S. McNamara, requires military men and civilians to report what they say to newsmen in person or by telephone, unless a public information officer monitors the talk.

Here Are A Few Knick-Knacks You Can Pick Up For Friends

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pity the Texas tycoons, drawing up Christmas lists for kisser kin who have everything. This Yuletide the poor Texans might be reduced to giving junk. Junk, at least, is one gift suggestion in the annual Christmas shopping book circulated by a Dallas store that caters to folks who have plenty of everything—especially money, oil, cattle. Yup, You heard right, Junk. It's a Chinese junk made in Hong Kong to the finest U.S. yacht standards — 30 feet long, three sails, 30 horsepower. This stocking stuffer costs $11,500. For twice as much and a little extra for hand-lettering, you can buy a "his" and a "her" junk. Ideal, you see, for the couple preferring separate vacations. For stay-at-homes, the Santa's helpers at the Dallas store recommend a little $1,875 pair of cowboy chaps made of white mink and rhinestones studded. The price includes tax.

Those assisting with the cookie decorating were Howard Wilson, Ricky Wright, Doyle Toash, David Stephenson, Martin McCloud, Randy Stephenson, Mike Tietz, James Filipp, Mike Franklin, and Charles Boisenet. Those doing the Indian dances were Lonnie Lane, Douglas Berry, Jerry Saxon, Bradley Lemons, Charles Moore, Harold Saxon and the mascot, David Saxon. The Boy Scouts of Troop Nine took the red ribbon for second place in their demonstration of First Aid.

Scientist Says We're Due Hit By Mile-Wide Meteor

HOUSTON (UPI)—The world is due to be hit by a mile-wide meteor, Dr. Eugene M. Shoemaker, chief of the branch of astrogeology of the U. S. Geological Survey, told fellow scientists.

"In fact, such a meteorite impact in North America is long overdue," Shoemaker said.

"The statistics show that North America should be struck by a large meteorite on the average of once every 10,000 years," he said. "The last large meteorite to strike this continent was the one which fell at Meteor Crater in Arizona. That was 20,000 years ago."

"Shoemaker told delegates to the annual meeting of the Geological Society of America that he did not think the danger came so much from the meteor itself but from the chance of its being mistaken for an intercontinental missile.

"Let's just hope that our defense radars are definitive enough," he said, referring to the danger of the meteor starting an "accidental war."

The meteor that struck in Arizona gouged out a hole 4,000 feet in diameter and 60 feet deep. Any building west of the Mississippi could be fitted in a hole that deep.

Gentlemen, Keep Your Coats On!

AUSTIN (UPI)—It may be a gallant gesture when a man offers a woman a coat on a chilly day, but physiologically speaking it's foolish.

"The fat of a normal woman is thicker than that of a normal man," a report released by the Texas State Department of Health said Wednesday.

And the fatter a person is, the report said, the better cold weather can be tolerated.

The report points out that although the man may offer the woman a coat "he probably needs it more than she does."

Welfare Index Has Meeting

Pampa Welfare Index met in the City Hall recently with 12 members present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Tom Beard.

The group urged the community and each organization to clear through the Index while giving their Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets so that each one who was needy could be remembered.

Persons are urged to call MO 4-7121, the Red Cross office, and Mrs. Shotwell, who is acting as the coordinating agency for the Index, will give the names of persons needing baskets. Names from the Salvation Army, the County Welfare, and the Old Age Assistance have been compiled for persons wishing to give baskets.

The Index voted to move its storeroom from 837 S. Barnes to a warehouse on the Amarillo Highway about the first of December. The new warehouse will be clean and dry for the furniture and clothing given to the Index for those in need. Persons who have good used toys were urged to take them to the Pampa Fire Dept. The furniture is used for fire victims, also. Next meeting of the Index will be December 10th.

Property Damage Totals $344,101 At Mississippi U.

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Rioting and the resulting use of troops at the University of Mississippi caused property damages estimated at $344,101 during a two-week period, it was announced.

The estimate was made by two university officials when they appeared before a legislative committee in closed session Oct. 18.

It was made public by the committee, which said the damages resulted from "the Army's occupation of the University of Mississippi."

Immediately the House of Representatives adopted a resolution urging the quick removal of troops still quartered on state property in the university area.
