Three Russian Subs Arrive In Cuba While U. S. Quarantine Lifted

ON TRIAL — Mrs. Suzanne Coipel Van de Put, charged with the murder of her armless baby whom she says was deformed by the drug thalidomide, and her husband, Jean Van de Put, who is charged with conspiracy to commit murder, appear glum at the opening of their trial in Leige, Belgium. Mrs. Van de Put allegedly confessed to killing her week-old baby, Carine, May 29 by giving her a fatal bottle filled with barbiturates mixed with honey "to save her from a wretched existence." A Two-Party System For Texas Is At Stake Today

In The Cuban Crisis

Soviet Jet Bombers Are Burr Under US Saddle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet jet bombers in Cuba could turn out to be a sticking point in negotiations for removal of offensive weapons from the island, U.S. officials said today.

Administration sources said recent U.S. aerial reconnaissance showed there might be more than 112 jets in Cuba than were known to have been there a week ago—around 27 to 28, instead of the earlier estimate of about 26.

The bombers are capable of carrying nuclear weapons.

Officials said the number of jet bombers observed assembled had slightly increased. They said, however, this might indicate only that some of the planes had been moved out of camouflage.

They said the number of jet bombers observed assembled had slightly increased. They said, however, this might indicate only that some of the planes had been moved out of camouflage.

These officials said there was no evidence the bombers had been assembled since Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's Oct. 28 promise to remove offensive weapons from Cuba.

On the other hand, they also said there was no evidence any of the bombers were being dismantled, though dismantling of missile bases has gone ahead.

Promised Weapons Removal — Khrushchev, in his Oct. 28 letter, did not spell out what weapons he would take back to Russia, but merely promised President Kennedy to remove "those weapons which you call offensive."

Negotiations to settle the Cuban crisis remained a waiting game. Officials said the dismantled missile equipment had been shipped out of Cuba. To take them out, Khrushchev must send more ships to Cuban ports, probably some of them ships with extra-large hatches.

U.S. officials reported that a number of Soviet vessels have been steaming about the Atlantic, sailing "various courses," apparently waiting for Red Cross inspection procedures to be set up for in-bound ships.

If the Soviet ships proceeded to Cuba before these procedures are put into effect, the ships would encounter the U.S. Navy blockade, which is still in operation.

The Russians first proposed the idea of Red Cross inspections of ships bound for Cuba to check for offensive weapons. The United States agreed to the idea.

An international committee of the Red Cross at Geneva expressed initial approval, but asked the Castro government if it approved. Monday, the international committee said it had received Cuba's consent and it was sending an official to New York to work out details.

Over A Million Votes In State Are Expected

By LLOYD LARABEE
United Press International

More than one million Texans determined today the fate of a two-party system for Texas.

The two main adversaries in the GOP-Democratic conflict, Democrat John B. Connally and Republican Jack Cox, got in the final licks of the campaign Monday night and settled back to wait for today's vote.

The Republicans estimate that 1.2 million votes will be cast. The Democrats say 1.5 million will go to the polls. Voting started at 7 a.m. The polls closed at 7 p.m. A few showers were forecast for north Texas.

The fledgling GOP has fielded candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, five other state offices, 18 of 23 congressional seats, 13 places in the state senate and 84 in the Texas House.

The two gubernatorial candidates closed out campaigning Monday night with telecasts. Cox called for a two-party system for the good of the state. Connally said Texas has done "fine" under strictly Democratic leadership.

Income Issue

Cox said Texas is 36th in per capita income, "with the other one party states following right down the line." Connally said per capita income in Texas exceeds that of New York, Illinois and Massachusetts, and that Texas apportionment of tax dollars is superior to other states systems.

Connally, former Navy Secretary in the Kennedy administration, listened to the returns in Austin. Cox waited it out in Breckenridge, his hometown.

Each candidate used a living room setting for the telecast. Connally called for strengthening of Texas' educational system. Cox hit hard on the need for election law reform which, he said, can only come under a two-party system of government.

Cox has criticized Connally as "Lyndon Johnson's hand-picked boy," sent to Texas to take over the state government for the Vice President. Connally struck out at Cox for switching his party allegiance. Cox ran for governor as a Democrat in 1960.

Party Unity

Connally has indicated he will support President Kennedy for reelection and has called for all Democrats to support the Democratic nominees.

Cox, on the other hand, hardly mentioned the issue of his party affiliation, and called for "all conservatives" to support him because he is "independent of Washington control."

Republicans were given an outside chance to send three congressmen to Washington to help Rep. Bruce Alger of Dallas, presently the only Republican in the Texas congressional delegation.

The Allen-Scott Report

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Sauer
WASHINGTON — Three Russian submarines, detected, photographed and tracked in the Atlantic for eight days by the U.S. Navy, have arrived in Cuba unhindered and without incident.

They are the first Russian men-of-war to go through the "quarantine" patrol since it was set up on October 24.

These Red submarines, including one capable of firing 400-mile missiles, were allowed through the blockade a few hours after President Kennedy lifted his quarantine during the visit to Cuba of Acting UN Secretary-General U Thant.

This presidential decision was made with the full knowledge that the three Soviet submarines were approaching the naval ring drawn around Cuba. Twice when the subs surfaced, naval units photographed them. One photo shows the subs being refueled by a Soviet submarine tender.

Hourly reports on the location and course of these subs were forwarded to the White House by Admiral George Anderson, Chief of Naval Operations. Kept under constant surveillance, the Soviet subs could have been sunk at any time.

That order never came. Instead, the presidential directive temporarily lifting the "selective" quarantine was issued.

The Russian submarines, transporting a number of high-ranking military and construction officers, docked near Banes, Cuba, where the Soviet is building a large "naval fishing" base.

These three subs were part of a squadron that this column two days ago revealed were enroute to Cuba despite Premier Khrushchev's announced claim that all Russian ships had been diverted from the island. Prior to that announcement, the underwater squadron was proceeding toward Cuba at 14 knots. After Khrushchev's statement, the squadron's speed was reduced to 8 knots.

Subsequently, the squadron split up with the three subs remaining to Banes for the purpose of debarking the high-ranking military and construction officers.

FLOATING MISSILE BASES — The Banes installation, and another being constructed on the Isle of Pines, will give the Russians their first submarine bases in the Western Hemisphere.

One intelligence estimate strongly implies that these three Cuban bases will be used by Soviet nuclear and missile-firing submarines for repairs, refueling, and maintenance.

Northern Pakistan Now Open To Red Invasion

NEW DELHI (UPI) — India's withdrawal from the stronghold military post at Daulat Beg Oldi has opened Pakistan's northern Kashmir areas to possible Chinese Communist invasion, military experts said today.

Dbo, as it is called by the military men, is located in extreme northern Ladakh only a few miles south of the 18,500-foot Karakoram pass leading through the valley of Kashmir and the Indian subcontinent.

The defense ministry said Indian troops withdrew to better defensive positions even though Dbo was not under attack.

But the withdrawal assured the Chinese Communist forces in Sinkiang Province control of an all-weather pass leading into the Pakistan areas of Baltistan and Hunza.

There appeared no immediate prospect that the Chinese actually would invade territory claimed by Pakistan. They would want to do nothing that would couple Pakistan's substantial military power with that of India.

The present Pakistan-India estrangement over Kashmir has worked to Peiping's benefit.

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's rejection three years ago of a Pakistani proposal for a joint defense pact against Red China.

Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan has sent a reply to Nehru's appeal for "sympathy and support" in the present border crisis but the text has not yet been disclosed.

Red Cross Officials To Work Out Checking Cuban Arms Shipments

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Top International Red Cross officials were expected here today to work out details of checking against offensive arms hidden in Soviet cargoes bound for Cuba.

Paul J. Ruegger, 63 former president of the International Committee for the Red Cross, was flying in from Geneva to make the inspection arrangements with Acting United Nations Secretary General Thant.

U. S. sources emphasized that the vital issue of the Cuban crisis still remained unsettled. Washington's demand for inspection of the dismantling and removal of missiles and bases already in Cuba.

Another growing complication was the question of Soviet medium bombers capable of carrying nuclear warheads. Washington officials said there was no evidence that any of the 27 or 28 in Cuba were being dismantled along with the missile bases.

Offensive Weapons

Washington officials deem these to be in the "offensive" category of weapons which President Kennedy demanded be removed.

Heavy Turnout Is Indicated By Early Balloting

Pampa voters were going to the polls in unusually large numbers today to choose between Republican and Democratic candidates for state, district, county, and precinct offices and to approve or reject 14 amendments to the State Constitution.

Election officials said early indications were that Gray County would poll a much heavier vote than usual for an off-year election.

In the two largest precincts among Gray County's 12 precincts, No. 18 at the Gray County Courthouse had cast 236 votes at 11:28 a.m. This precinct, and a total of 462 ballots had been voted in No. 9 at the First National Bank Annex at that hour. Precinct 9 Dbo also reported that 187 absentee ballots had been cast there.

Daker School, Pct. 2, reported 136 votes in the box at 11:15 a.m. At 11:30 a.m. South Side Fire Station in Pampa, there were 158 votes cast by 11:15 a.m.

When The News made the late forenoon check, it showed that there had been almost continuous lines at all five of the precincts located in Pampa.

Similar heavy voting was reported from the seven precincts located throughout the County outside of Pampa, although no figures were available about before noon.

Considerable time is being taken for the individual voting due to the presence of the 14 amendments on the ballot, officials stated.

County Clerk Charlie Thant had estimated that the complete count in Gray County probably will not be in until around midnight or later.

Voter interest has been stimulated this year because of the fact that for the first time in history, Republicans have put a slate of candidates on the ticket in opposition to the Democrats.

This is true of the top places on the ticket for governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general

Okies Really Fight It Out

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — A melee in downtown Oklahoma City between Democrats and Republicans Monday night climaxed one of the state's hottest campaigns.

About 1,000 persons had gathered by the time police broke it up. There were a few punches thrown and a lot of heated words uttered.

It all started when B.F. Hayden Crawford, Republican nominee for the U. S. Senate, addressed a rally on the county courthouse steps across the street from the state Democratic headquarters. The rally followed a torchlight parade for Crawford and Henry Bellmon, Republican nominee for governor. Bellmon was not present.

Crawford said a man came out of Democratic headquarters and began to put Democratic party bumper stickers on the back of a Republican girl. A man came to her aid and the two men began fighting.

Kirksey Nix Jr., son of a judge of the State Court of Criminal Appeals said a Republican threatened one of his party's volunteers. He said he then went to her aid, driving the man off.

Meanwhile, three elephants that were being used to haul the Republican ticket wandered aimlessly down the street. One spectator said one of the elephants had a "Vote Democratic" sticker on its hind leg.

Court Hits Request For Mandamus

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Supreme Court Monday night turned down a request by the state for a writ of mandamus to prevent 78th Dist. Court Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin from interfering with a state probe of alleged Starr County absentee balloting abuses.

Chief Justice Robert Calvert of the Supreme Court said the writ was denied without prejudice. That meant the writ could be refiled if Laughlin, who issued a restraining order blocking a hearing of the case by the attorney general's office in 98th District Court in Austin, granted another injunction on Saturday.

Making Probe

Laughlin's order, in behalf of Starr County Atty. Frank Nye, said Nye had jurisdiction of the county election proceedings and that Nye was making his own investigation.

Committee Chairmen Named Chamber Of Commerce Selects A New Location For Its Offices

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce will move from City Hall to new quarters in the Hughes Bldg. on Jan. 15, it was announced today by E. O. Wedgeworth chamber manager.

At the first meeting of directors of the newly-organized chamber yesterday, a special committee reported on the availability of office space, and the board voted unanimously to enter into a lease agreement with the Hughes Development Co. for office space located at 265 N. Somerville.

The building will be put in shape and be ready for occupancy at mid-January, Wedgeworth stated.

Plans also are being outlined for members of the Board of Directors and Committee Chairmen to attend an institute workshop sponsored by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in Lubbock on Nov. 28. The workshop will deal with basic fundamentals of community development and designed to provide ideas and stimulation of community effort on the local Chamber of Commerce level.

At yesterday's meeting, conducted by Dr. Joe R. Donaldson, newly-elected president, announcement was made of committee chairmen for the 1962-63 year as follows:

Agriculture and Livestock, Billy Davis; Aviation, Buster Carter; Civic Improvements, Wayland Merriman; Conventions, Benny Shackelford; Education, Mrs. Dona Cornutt; Fire Prevention and Safety, Lee Fraser; Highways and Transportation, Paul Crouch; Industrial, Frank Culbertson; Junior College, E. Large Turnout For Commission Meeting On Bond Issue

Some 130 persons turned out at last night's special meeting of the Pampa City Commission, called to explore the possibility of re-submitting a bond issue for highway and drainage improvements in Pampa.

Mayor E. C. Sidwell and city commissioners expressed satisfaction at the large turnout which filled every available seat in the Commission Room and had visitors standing in the rear.

No official decision was reached on whether the bond issue will be offered to the voters again.

Principally, the commission endeavored to get the thoughts and wishes of those in attendance on the matter. Many spoke out briefly and asked questions which they said they thought should be answered if the issue is presented again.

There were representatives present from 15 civic clubs, women's organization, and other groups.

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce was represented by Loyal Davies, finance director. Davies said the Chamber had taken no action and that he was there as an individual.

Other groups represented included The Pampa Noon and Evening Lions Clubs, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Pampa Morning and Evening Optimist Clubs, Pampa Kiwanis Club, Business and Professional Women's Clubs, American Business Women's Association, Altrusa Club, Negro Chamber of Commerce, Colored Advisory Board, City Improvement Club, Pampa Service League, and Toastmasters Club.

Uphot of the meeting was to get suggestions from the audience on where the City Commission failed in its presentation of the bond issue to the voters. The $1.5-million bond issued failed by 43 votes in a special election last Tuesday.

In a statement explaining the purpose of the meeting, Mayor Sidwell said:

"We do not feel it advisable that a conservative commission, such as we are, should expend taxpayer's funds to hold an election without complete deliberation of all concerned."

The mayor also quoted D. C. Greer, head of the State Highway Department in a speech he made to the Association of Mayors, Councilmen and Commissioners in Fort Worth recently. In his address "Teamwork in Urban Traffic," Greer said:

"The Texas Highway Department is glad to team up with you for the solution of your urban traffic problems. What I am saying to you is this: This is going to be a tougher game than those in the past, and it will require the maximum of teamwork. How about you continuing as quarterback and we will help you run the play?"

Mayor Sidwell asked for questions and suggestions. They came from various sources as he called on the club representatives. They included questions about the city's bonded indebtedness, more details on just how much it will cost the individual taxpayer, how much will be needed in the future for other bonded indebtedness issues such as a water treatment plant and the Canadian River Water project, S. Barnes St. underpass widening, the much-talked about Loop by-pass of Pampa, city tax valuations, timing of the proposed election, whether the three highways included in the bond issue could be voted on separately, the possibility of including needed drainage in other sections of the city, the possibility of including funds for the purchase of downtown property for a downtown parking lot to relieve Pampa's parking problem, clarification of actual drainage needs, and a clearer understanding of just what the bond issue would cost the average wage-earning property owner.

These and other questions were posed by those in attendance.

Ex-Mayor Tom Rose, Jr. submitted a list of seven questions which he said were not submitted to be controversial. Rose said there was no immediate need for answer to the questions last night.

They were submitted he said for the consideration of the commission if they intended to ask for another vote on the bond issue.

"I do not like to see an improvement bond issue defeated," Rose said.

The questions which Rose said he thought should be cleared up in the public mind before another attempt is made to float the bond issue related to which highway project would receive first consideration, could the drainage cost be broken down and allocated to each highway, could the right-of-way costs be broken down from the standpoint of individual right-of-ways on each of the three

The Lighter Side

On Voting For First Time

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — I have more than my usual amount of interest in the elections this year owing to the fact that for the first time in my life I am eligible to vote.
There is no point in trying to explain why I never registered before. Suffice to say that I am only 41 years old and don't like to rush into things.
I had planned to vote once several years ago, but by the time I made up my mind which candidate to support, the election was over. It is too late to vote for Tom Dewey, isn't it?
Nervous Over Voting
Since this will be my maiden trip to the polls, I am naturally nervous about it. I probably couldn't go through with it except that my wife is going to vote for the first time, too.
Being in the same boat, we go around slapping each other on the back and telling each other that everything will be all right. It may be only Dutch courage, but it helps.
In preparing to vote for the first time, there are several preliminary decisions that must be made. For one thing, we had to decide whether we were Democrats or Republicans.
Our polling place is in the state of Virginia, which complicated that decision enormously.
Decides On Dewey
After careful analysis, we finally came to the conclusion that my wife is a De Gaulist and I am a whiff. We therefore decided that we would vote for Tom Dewey by write-in.

The presidency isn't at stake this year, but what the heck? We can write that in, too.
We were resolutely proceeding on this course when the Cuban crisis arose. That started the political experts to wondering what effect it would have on the elections.
I don't know why it should have any effect, unless somebody had been planning to vote for Castro by write-in. But if the political experts insist on worrying about it, I want to help them all I can.

Area Youth Studies For Priesthood

WHITE DEER (Spl) — Joe Raymond Lopez of Sacred Heart Parish, White Deer, is studying for the priesthood at North American College in Vatican City, Rome, Italy.

The appointment to the college was received in May from the Most Reverend John L. Morkovsky, Bishop of the Diocese of Amarillo. On his return from Rome in 1966, Joe Raymond will become a member of the teaching staff of St. Lucien's Seminary in Amarillo.

Joe Raymond, the son of Mrs. Julia Lopez of White Deer, was born in White Deer on August 31, 1929. He is the 13th of 16 children, nine of whom are living. One sister, Candelaria, is a nun in the Order of St. Casmir. She is teaching in Clovis, New Mexico. Joe Raymond received his school training in White Deer, in his junior year, in 1956 he entered St. Mary's College, St. Mary, Ky., to begin his training for the priesthood. He finished high school and four years of college there, receiving his B.A. degree there in May of this year.

Due to his scholastic achievements Joe Raymond was chosen by the Bishop of Amarillo to finish his studies in Rome and after ordination to the priesthood, to be on the faculty of the school in Amarillo. He will be ordained on December 9, 1965 at the North American College in Rome and will return to White Deer in May of 1966 where he will celebrate his First Solemn High Mass in Sacred Heart Parish, White Deer.

Joe Raymond is the first boy from his parish to study for the priesthood and he is the first seminarian of Mexican descent to be appointed from the Diocese of Amarillo to finish his studies in Rome. He left for Rome September 19.

State Dept. Investigation Urged in New Book

During the past seventeen years, many men have resigned from government service for the purpose of exposing what they felt to be disgraceful activities going on within the government. Many of them wrote books — but a listing of them here would not strike many familiar notes. In the American people have never even heard of most of them.

In most cases, the books — despite their shocking and urgent contents — were ignored by reviewers and booksellers, and failed even to go into second printings. It is tragic that we have not been allowed to judge for ourselves the stories that these men have to tell.

Now, however, there may finally be an exception to that rule.

Bryton Barron — who resigned a few years ago after over 20 years as a State Department executive — has just released his second book. His first, Inside The State Department, was largely a disclosure of the suppression of documents and treaties that exist within the department. That book is already in its fourth printing.

His newest work, however, threatens to be the spark that may finally ignite the long-overdue full-scale investigation of the State Department that many Americans have so long called for. The book, The Untouchable State Department, contains ample evidence that such an investigation is so long needed.

Of course, those on the outside can see the need by reviewing the disastrous foreign policy that has allowed over 1-3 of the earth's surface to fall to the Communists, while nothing is done to change our tactics or direction. But Mr. Barron adds vital information from the inside in calling for an investigation.

He cites the way incompetents, and worse, are promoted rather than discharged; he shows how diplomacy has become a secret art, to be practiced "beyond the reach of the common rabble." And he points out that these and other practices prevent any real improvement from within.

In addition to his plea for a full Congressional investigation of the State Department, he outlines a positive foreign policy, based on the goal of victory over communism.

Although this book, too, will probably be bypassed by many "authoritative" reviewers and booksellers, it is already getting through to the American people. It may well trigger an explosion of public indignation that will finally cause Congress to fulfill its historic responsibility — that of seeing to it that the Executive Branch operates in the national interest.

Directors of the Chamber were appointed to serve as liaison members of the various work committees to create good communications between the Board of Directors and the working committees.

Budget and finance were discussed and it was concluded that a general re-evaluation of the dues structure of the Chamber would be necessary to meet obligations of the independent Chamber of Commerce organization.

However, it was pointed out in the meeting that every effort would be made to make it possible for every firm and individual to be a member of the Chamber of Commerce and active in its work program regardless of business or vocation. A dues re-evaluation committee is being set up to make a complete study of the organization's finances and will follow through in directing the membership campaign under the leadership of Loyal Davies, finance director.

The second Monday in each month was set up for director's meetings and the fourth Monday was approved for membership luncheons.

Rev. Carver Is On Board For New Hospital

The Rev. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pampa, was elected last week by the Baptist General Convention of Texas in Fort Worth to the board of trustees for a proposed new Baptist hospital in Amarillo, to be built within the next four to five years.

The Amarillo Area Foundation, a Panhandle region fund-raising and civic organization, is raising the $5 million to construct the 200-bed hospital, and will present the building fully equipped to the Baptist convention as a gift.

Messengers to the convention voted Thursday to accept the hospital and to operate it as the ninth Baptist healing institution in the state.

The hospital will be built as a part of a medical center complex in Western Amarillo, with tentative plans calling for a psychiatric hospital, a nursing school, and perhaps a medical school.

Prowler Report Investigated Here

Mrs. Arthur Clark, 1121 Neel Rd., wife of a city fireman, reported to police at 10 o'clock last night that she believed a prowler was in the back yard.

She said she believed the prowler was frightened away by the barking of the Clarks' dog.

Investigating officers said they found the gate to the back yard open, but found no trace of anyone in the neighborhood.

J. W. Hopkins, 421 Zimmer St., told police that as he was driving under the Hobart St. underpass at 9:30 p.m. Sunday someone dropped a balloon filled with water on to the hood of his car.

Hopkins said the missile came from the railroad tracks above and landed with such force that it put a dent in the hood.

The hospital will be built will be included in the gift from the Foundation to the Baptist convention, along with $200,000 operating fund, provided the Baptist convention will operate and administrate the hospital.

VFW Makes Appeal For Broken Toys

An appeal was issued today by Vernon R. Stuckey, Veterans of Foreign Wars quartermaster, for broken toys to be added to the VFW Christmas effort for Pampa's underprivileged children.

Stuckey asked that any kind of toy be brought to Central Fire Station in W. Foster St., opposite City Hall.

Firemen will repair any broken toy and put it in shape so it will make some boy or girl happy at Christmas time.

"We are in need of toys of all kinds," Stuckey said. "The broken toys will be repaired and repainted to look like new."

All that is needed to make the VFW Christmas Party a success, Stuckey stated, is for Pampans to get the Christmas spirit early, check the household for broken toys that no longer are in use, collect them and take them to the fire station.

Officials

(Continued From Page 1) in conferences with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro since Friday, there has been no hint that Castro has backed away from his refusal to allow any international inspection in Cuba.

U. S. sources pointed out that unless Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's pledge to remove the weapons under international inspection is honored, the United States would be under no obligation to honor its no-invasion of Cuba pledge.

While Mikoyan has been talking with Castro, there has been a steady round of talks in New York among U. S., U. N., and Soviet officials.

Cuba

(Continued From Page 1) inspection procedures might be agreed to fairly soon. But U.S. officials said this would solve only one-third of the problem.

The United States also wants international inspection of vessels departing Cuba to see that the offensive weapons are shipped out.

And it wants ground inspection of missile sites.

Methodist Fund Drive Is Underway

Over 50 Methodist leaders met last night at the Pampa First Methodist Church for the kickoff dinner of the United Capital Funds for Texas Methodist Higher Education. The meeting was for the Pampa District of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church.

Dr. Gordon Bennett, president of McMurry College, spoke on the "Importance of Methodist Higher Education in America." Also attending the meeting from McMurry was Dean Williams, director of development of the college and director of Northwest Texas Conference's part in the United Capital Funds drive.

L. D. Patton of Berger presided at the meeting along with W. B. "Dub" Rushing of Lubbock. Rushing is one of the overall chairmen of the campaign.

The purpose of the meeting was to start the solicitation of funds for the support of the Methodist schools and Wesley Foundations. The ministers of the Pampa District of the Northwest Texas Conference have personally pledged $6,825 in the start of the program in this area.

Five Methodist Colleges and 42 Wesley Foundations are slated to benefit from the $12 million dollar Texas campaign.

Twenty-one Methodist ministers were in attendance at this meeting along with about 30 laymen of the church.

Report meetings will be held in the future.

WOMEN PAST 21 WITH BLADDER IRRITATION

After 22, thousands of women suffer from bladder irritation which causes pain, burning, and frequent urination. This is often due to a condition called cystitis, which is caused by bacteria entering the bladder through the urethra. It is a common condition and can be treated with antibiotics.  steadily expanding their submarine fleet in the Atlantic. During recent naval maneuvers, the Russians used more than 75 submarines, 31 of them capable of firing missiles.
 Two of the Soviet submarines were detected making a Pacific-to-Atlantic crossing over the North Pole route. And a nuclear Russian submarine was tracked less than 90 miles from Boston.
 The military leaders also held that these naval installations presented a serious threat to Latin American nations. Submarines operating from these bases can be used to export Communist-trained guerrillas throughout those countries.
 One guerrilla training school is being run by Algerian Communists on the Isle of Pines.
 As reported in this column on October 22, the Russians are identical assistant for national security affairs. He contended Russia does not have a proud naval tradition similar to that of the U.S. or Great Britain, and that the Kremlin has not shown a disposition to be sensitive about incidents at sea that would be taken as national insults by other countries.

 Peter the Great tried to build Russia into a naval power but never made it. This lack of naval tradition was given as the basis why Khrushchev would back away from a naval blockade.
 A stoppage of oil imports would play havoc with Cuba. The Navy estimates that a drum-tight blockade could destroy Cuba's economy within 60 days. On October 25, the Castro government quietly ordered that no gasoline or oil could be sold to owners of private cars. Doctors and technicians are allowed only three gallons a week. No oil changes for automobiles are permitted.
INSIDE CUBA — The Cuban crisis has convinced President Kennedy that the Army's request for two additional divisions should receive serious consideration. If funds are included in the fiscal 1964 budget, the Army would be increased from 16 to 18 divisions.
 One of the main reasons President Kennedy adopted the "selective" arms blockade over other alternatives was his advisers' belief the Soviets would not challenge it. This argument was made by McGeorge Bundy, special pres-highways, does the bond issue include plans to widen the underpass on S. Barnes, and does the city have a reasonable estimate on what would be needed for future bond issues on a water treatment plant and the Canadian River Water project?

 Rose said he thought these were questions which the people would like to have answered before another bond election is held.
 "They are questions which were asked of me before last week's election, and I am submitting them to the Commission for consideration in connection with any plans for another election, Rose said.
 Commissioner Will Graham said he thought Pampa took a step backward when the bond issue was voted down last week.
 Graham said he was distressed at the pessimism about Pampa in some quarters; that there was no use spending money on improvements when (as he said one man told him) "we can expect a ten per cent drop in population in the next five years."
 Graham said the people of Pampa needed to get busy and stop deterioration.
 Then he added:
 "I have no intention of voting to hold another bond election unless the people show they want it done. Unless the people are interested in the growth and development of Pampa, I see no reason why the City Commission should order another election."
 "Chili" Smith, district highway engineer from Amarillo, told the commission and the audience that the highway commission has no recommendation as to what the city of Pampa should do, that the highway department would take no action of any kind until it gets a request from the city.
 Smith also said he could not say whether in the future the city would be by-passed or whether it wouldn't.
 "Everything would depend upon the needs created by flow of traffic," Smith said.
 Gene Lewis, S. Cuyler businessman and one of the supporters of the recent bond issue, said Pampa seems to be doing like Wichita, Kans., which has gone down in recent years, he said, because of a lack of action on the part of its citizens to keep pace with progress.
 "We seem to be content to stand still," Lewis said. "It was a tragic day for Pampa when the bond issue failed."
 Lewis pointed out that there are 80 vacant business buildings in Pampa.
 "We need highway improvements if we are to attract business and industry to Pampa," he said. "We need highways that will bring people through Pampa, not around it."
 "You can't lose filling stations, motels, eating places, and other business places — you can't survive unless you show you are progressive."
 Among others recognized, some of whom spoke and posed questions for the consideration of the commission, were Bill Steger, Bill Jenkins, Lindy Houck, Dr. Weldon Adair, A. J. Carubbi, Mrs. Wesley Lewis, Mrs. G. H. Anderson, Mrs. Lorene Locke, Mrs. J. M. Quarry, Sam Motley, James Morgan, Bill Watson, Mrs. John Morgan, Bill Duncan, Ray Duncan, Ed Flood, Dudley Steele, Wayland Merriman, and Doug Morgan.
 The two-hour meeting was convened on a congenial note that all the suggestions and questions would be taken under consideration by the commission and that another similar meeting probably would be called soon for further discussion of the highway and drainage program and its possible solutions.

WRONG DATE
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va., said Sunday he is in favor of some of the campaign literature of his opponent Clyde B. Pinson, which he contended was sent out by a few doctors along with their monthly bills.
 Hechler said the literature urged voters to "mark your ballot on Nov. 7" — the day after the elections — and he promised to supply "babysitters and rides to the polls" for all who follow his suggestions.

 The two-party race for these four offices is bringing out many additional voters today, election officials said.
 The same is true in the district races for representative in congress, state senator, and state representative. Gray County voters are making their choices between Democrats and Republicans in each of these contests.
 There even is two-party interest in Gray County voting on the precinct level for justice of the peace and county commissioner.
 The only county-wide race between a Republican and Democrat is the contest for county judge in Gray County.

Foreign Commentary

 UPI Foreign News Analyst
 Notes from the foreign news cables:

Khrushchev Caution:
 There is no concrete sign from Moscow that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's leadership is in any danger because of his decision to withdraw Russian missiles from Cuba. But caution is one of the first laws of self-preservation in the Communist world. And Italian Communist boss Palmiro Togliatti, one of the smartest men in the international Communist movement, is exercising that caution. He remains in power for long after the Cuban setback, and has kept remarkably silent on the issue.
 The day after Khrushchev agreed to the withdrawal, Togliatti actually refused to comment. The Italian Communist party directorate praised the whole Russian-Cuban deal. But all Togliatti indulged himself in then was to say: "We are satisfied with the solution of the Cuban crisis."
 Togliatti finally commented on Cuba by week's end in an article in the party magazine Rinascente. His words still were guarded, and his praise was for the "Soviet Union" rather than Khrushchev himself.
 His guarded attitude is in contrast to his belligerent stand at the peak of the crisis when he bombarded the Rome government with personal statements and parliamentary interrogations.

Russians Submarines:
 Military sources in Tokyo say the Russians have added as many as a dozen submarines and a number of surface vessels to their far Eastern fleet in recent weeks. The reason: The Russians must monitor their own rocket tests in the Pacific and take on the additional chore of spying on the U.S. nuclear tests at Johnston Island and the U.S. anti-missile missile development program at Eniwetok Island.
French Elections:
 First unofficial predictions of results in the Nov. 18 and 25 French parliamentary elections are that the Communists will be among the biggest winners and President Charles de Gaulle's union for a New Republic (UNR) party will be the biggest single loser. The guesses are that the Communists will gain in strength from their present 16 to 70 seats, with the Radicals going from 37 to about 65, the Popular Republicans (MRP) from 57 to about 75, and the Socialists and independents making slight gains. The UNR is expected to suffer disastrous losses—up to one-half of its present strength of 176 seats. There is extremely heavy pressure being put on De Gaulle to get him to help avert this disaster. Betting is that he will do so—but in a discreet manner that will not compromise his traditional stand of being above the political strife.

Washington Window

By LYLE C. WILSON
 United Press International
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — For Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller the mystic number in Tuesday's polling is 572,034. Rockefeller is a modern or Eisenhower Republican seeking re-election. He is almost but not quite avowed candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.
 Almost, that is, if he is re-elected by a plurality of well more than 572,034 votes. That was the size of his 1958 plurality over New Dealer W. Averell Harriman, who then was seeking re-election.
 There isn't much doubt that Rockefeller will be re-elected Tuesday. If his plurality falls below or not much above the 1958 figure, Rocky will be more a not-at-all than a not-quite candidate for the 1964 top spot. The governorship of New York state always is likely to catapult the holder into presidential nomination. That is because politicians lean to a man for President who, in effect, has New York's big electoral vote in the bag.
 Carry New York for governor by a fat margin repeatedly is persuasive evidence that the governor could win the state's presidential electoral vote. Rocky must do better than just good Tuesday. The situation is loaded for him and loaded against him.
 It is loaded for him because Rocky appears to be a shoo-in for re-election and, therefore, will remain in some degree a figure in national Republican politics. It is loaded against him because everyone expects him to wig-out that to make a real impression on people and politicians he must win very big.
 Rockefeller is expected to win because he has the common touch as a campaigner, a decent record as governor and is opposed by the weakest Democratic nominee that party could find. The Democratic Party in New York state is ripped by feuds, petty and grand.

 If Rockefeller's plurality is sufficiently great, Republican conservatives will be hamstrung in their effort to prevent his 1964 nomination for President. The conservatives don't like Rockefeller because they regard him as a lost sheep, strayed into the pastures of modern Republicanism and, worse, maybe touched by the philosophy of the deals, fair and new, or by the New Frontier.
 Strange but true is the fact that whereas the Republican Party in Congress is basically conservative and probably will grow more so, Republican gubernatorial nominees this year are more or less modern Republicans, one or two being accused of not being Republicans at all other than for convenience.

Quotes In The News

By United Press International
 MIAMI — Former Ambassador William D. Pawley, warning the United States it should not rely too heavily on aerial photographs to determine if Russia is dismantling its Cuban missile bases:
 "Is any man in his good sense willing to accept only a few photographs? We don't know what they are doing at night. There are magnificent places in Cuba to stash away such arms."
 NE WDELHI — Frank Moraes, editor of India's largest circulation newspaper, praising the U.S. position in the Sino-Indian border struggle:
 "Something quite different from Soviet Russia's conception of friendship which means siding with the aggressor. The time has come when we must realize that between Communist power and a democratic nation there can be no real friendship."

Matter of Fact

Breadfruit—not a fruit at all in the popular sense—is the staple food in the South Pacific. It is a product containing considerable starch and has to be cooked. Interestingly enough, its history is linked to Capt. Bligh of the H.M.S. "Bounty." His ship was carrying the first breadfruit to the West Indies, because it was thought that it would be highly useful as food for the Negro slaves there.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The people's choice for the most popular new television series is already decided. It is CBS-TV's "The Beverly Hillbillies," and the vote is so solid in all surveys that there is no doubt.
 For those who may have missed this national event — and perhaps intend to keep right on missing it — "The Beverly Hillbillies" is a half-hour comedy about an Ozark family that strikes oil in its front yard and moves to a mansion in Beverly Hills, Calif.
 The show zoomed right to the top, at one point even passing the new Lucille Ball series, which is really not a rookie entry anyway. In addition, the "Hillbillies" edged out a Bob Hope special, which is almost unheard of. Hope's guests were Miss Ball and Bing Crosby.
 What's more, Perry Como, prime regular competitor for the "Hillbillies," isn't even coming close. It is quite a blow to NBC-TV since the Como program is the most expensive weekly show on the air — at $140,000 a crack for each budget.
 The success of "The Beverly Hillbillies" was not entirely unexpected. As noted in this space the day after its debut, there was a feeling at the networks all along that it would be a smash hit.
 It is naive to throw up one's hands about the cultural meanings of such a success. There are no more meanings now than there ever have been or will be. With a knowing hand, the series aimed low and hit its target. An amiable cast, headed by Buddy Ebsen, did the rest.
 The most impressive thing about the show is not its quality, but the almost awesome, premeditated commercialism that put it across. It is not the sort of accomplishment that makes the cockles of one's heart glow with admiration. This might be a good day to remember that the best man does not always win and that crime, unfortunately, often pays.
 Since a good television cause nowadays is hard to find, the reminder of these words are devoted again to casting yet another ballot for the Monday night NBC-TV series, "It's a Man's World," which has had an uncertain status because of its poor ratings.
 Peter Tewksbury, the producer-director, deserves highest praise for his refusal to compromise the life-like pace of this program about four boys who live on a houseboat in a small Midwest college town. Against the hyped manner of the huckster-biased series, his show actually takes the time to study and be concerned with human reactions to situations. He is interested in his four boys as individuals, and so am I.
 He has shown the value of silence and normal scrutiny, and thus achieved his attempt to capture, with love, the tone of small-town America. There is art in this aimed-for artlessness. The people are real people, not the repulsive Warner Bros. phonies of "Hawaiian Eye" and "77 Sunset Strip." And there is a thousand times more genuine sophistication than the pseudo stuff passed off in "Ben Casey."
 The Channel Swim: NBC-TV's "Bonanza" is a hit in Latin America; it is sold in Argentina, Colombia, Costa Rica, Mexico, Panama, Uruguay, Peru, Puerto Rico and the Dominican Republic. Adlai Stevenson discusses the aftermath of the Cuban crisis on his ABC-TV program Sunday.

HE GREW HAIR

Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr., of Holidaysburg, Pa. (above) gave about 29 minutes of his time for an interview — saved and regrew his hair in only a few months with the exclusive home method. He did not have male pattern baldness.

Will Be In Pampa, Texas Tomorrow, Wednesday Only

Results guaranteed by the Ebb organization. We don't ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro-rated basis.
 Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which neither the Ebb method nor any other method is effective, and the Ebb method will not help those who are sick bald after years of gradual hair loss.
 If your scalp is still creating hair and you have dandruff, or excessive hair fall, excessive oiliness, dryness, or itchy scalp, you should take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.
 Many have reported satisfaction from the Ebb Scalp Method. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? It costs you nothing to come in and learn how many people have been helped by the years of Ebb experience.
 Just go to the Pampa, Hotel in Pampa, Texas, Wednesday, Nov. 7, only, between 1 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for R. D. Webber.
 Interviews are given in private. You will not be obligated or embarrassed in any way. Take action before it's too late.

Mr. Webber Will Be In Amarillo, Texas Thursday, November 8, at the Herring Hotel

Dear Abby....

They Appear To Be Teen-Age "Hobgoblins"

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: To what ages should the Halloween custom of going from door to door for Tricks or Treats be limited? We welcome little ones in costume (some accompanied by their parents) early in the evening. But what about "kiddies" up to 18 years old who go from door to door with sacks, baskets and pillow cases asking for a "treat"? This annual event has provoked considerable discussion. What is your opinion?

TRICKS OR TREATS DEAR T.O.T.: Halloween should be left to the little ones who still believe in witches, goblins and ghosts. It's the responsibility of parents to control their children who are too old for such fantasies. There is something pitifully childish about a 15-year-old "begging" candy or a taffy apple.

DEAR ABBY: Is it all right to use a nickname on an engraved wedding invitation? My fiancé has been called "Buddy" all his life. If someone called him "Bertram" he wouldn't even turn around. My mother says we have to use "Bertram" on our wedding invitations. Could I put "Bertram (Buddy) Finklehoffe" on the invitation and be correct?

DEAR ENGRAVED: Sorry — only full given names are used on a formal wedding invitation.

DEAR ABBY: One of your readers signed "STUMPED" asks, "Can a dog be trained to sleep days instead of nights?" The answer is yes. And this training will work on almost any dog within 24 hours. It is common practice to feed a dog once a day. After eating, the dog will lie down and go to sleep. It is obvious that "Stumped" feeds her dog in the evening. If she feeds her dog in the morning he will sleep during the day and stay awake all night.

CORNISH DEAR ABBY: You be the judge. If a fellow called you up and told you straight out that he had just broken up with his steady girl and was not going to take her to the Prom but he would like to take you if you were not doing anything that night, would you go? Or would you refuse? "LET ME BE NAMELESS" DEAR LET: If I had nothing else to do that night and wanted to go to the Prom, I'd say, "Thank you, I'd be delighted."

Old Ref

Sez So

Old Ref's a little blue over his harvesters falling to pieces in the second half against Palo Duro. He had high hopes that the Amarillo High game had been a sure-fire cure for the second half slump disease. Maybe poise and consistency will double team on the second half slump disease before the season ends.

The Old Ref insists that even the Borger Bulldogs would've had tuck their tails between their legs against the Harvesters if they'd had the misfortune to be playing the Harvesters that first fall.

He believes the Harvesters just an out of speed and steam against the Dons in the second half. He agrees with Coach Otis Holladay that the team had to play 100 per cent to stay with the speedy Dons in the first half. The Dons just had more left for that half.

He still believes Pampa will have a break - even season this year. And Lubbock High will make victory number four.

The Old Ref's a bit disappointed about Wichita Falls getting upset 6-0 by Irving last Friday night in district play. He'd like to have seen the winner of Dist. 3-AAAA square off against the Coyotes this season. He wonders how much worth, anyway? It's probably worth more if a Dist. 3-AAAA team tanned it.

The Old Ref received a tip the other day about hunting. Paul Edwards of the Rife and Piest Club is starting a free school for young men interested in learning the finer points of hunting, safety, and using their weapons properly. The Old Ref recommends this activity to any young man over 16.

The Old Ref's proud of the professional football teams in Texas. The two Dallas teams are really showing their stuff this year. Sunday the Texans lost to the Houston Oilers 14-4 after burning the Oilers 21-7 the previous week. The surprise team of the National Football League is the Dallas Cowboys. The Cowboys topped and hog tied the Washington Redskins 24-10 Sunday.

The Old Ref feels that in the next few years, the Texas teams will be in the driver's seat in the pro ranks. He gives as his reason his opinion that Texas being the number one state as far as high school and college football players are concerned, the professional Lone Star teams (using largely Texas boys) can't help but sparkle a little brighter than the other teams.

While the Old Ref was peering into Lady Luck's finest crystal ball, eyeing the pros, he caught a glimpse of football on the local scene three years hence. He decided to reveal what he saw—Pampa's Harvesters will be the strongest team in Dist. 3-AAAA in football with an outside chance of going all the way.

—Robert E. Lee's Rebels will still be winning most of their games.

—Pampa Jr. High will have decided they can win, too. Or at least a few tears will be shed after their losses by someone besides the coaches.

Wildcats Named No. One By UPI

NEW YORK (UPI) — Northwestern increased its margin over runnerup Alabama in the latest United Press International major college football ratings today although it almost fell victim to unrated Indiana last Saturday.

The Wildcats, who had to come from behind in the final quarter to avert an upset and maintain their perfect record, received 19 first-place votes from the group of 35 coaches who comprise the UPI board. This was the same total they attracted last week.

However, Alabama was awarded only seven first place votes a drop-off of five from the previous balloting — despite a 20-0 victory over Mississippi State.

The rest of the top five remained the same as last week, but three new teams were added in the second five. They were Missouri, Wisconsin and Minnesota, replacing Michigan State, Washington and Nebraska.

Southern California received four first-place mentions and moved within four points of Alabama following its decisive triumph over Washington and fourth-rated Mississippi headed the voting on the five other ballots.

Texas remained in fifth place, followed by Missouri, Wisconsin, Arkansas, Minnesota and Louisiana State.

The three newcomers to the elite group all made notable advances from the previous week's voting, with Wisconsin moving up from 13th place, Missouri from 14th and Minnesota vaulting all the way from 18th.

Oregon headed the second 10 list, which also included Washington, Penn State, Miami of Florida, Georgia Tech, Michigan State, Auburn, Army, Purdue, Oklahoma and Arizona State. Auburn and Army were tied for 17th place and the last three schools were tied for 19th.

Patterson Wants To Fight Liston

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (UPI) — Instead of considering retirement, Floyd Patterson declared today he wants two more title fights with heavyweight champion Sonny Liston.

Floyd led the crowd to Sonny at Chicago, Sept. 25, on the quickest knockout ever suffered by any reigning heavyweight champion — 2:06 of the first round.

Shamed by that sudden kayo, Patterson has been silent during most of the intervening six weeks, in Europe and at home, and disguised at times by a large black mustache and a black goatee.

Emerging from that silence, he said: "I'd like to beat Liston at Madison Square Garden before the end of March, like when I won back the title from Ingemar Johansson in our second fight."

Floyd was the first man to recapture the heavyweight crown. The 27-year-old ex-champion continued: "And then I'd like to beat Liston again — just to prove to myself that I can really do it."

McPeak Challenges Slumping Redskins

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Coach Bill McPeak challenged his Washington Redskins today to "prove whether they're really fighters."

McPeak's comment on his team's second straight defeat after six weeks on top of the National Football League's Eastern Conference was:

"This is a good time to test our mettle. Now we'll find out what kind of a team we really have."

McPeak said the Redskins' climb to the top surprised him — just as their sudden fall disappointed him.

Doesn't Expect Collapse
"None of the coaches expected the team to jell as fast as it did," he commented, "and we don't think it's going to collapse overnight, either. One week our defense folds and the next week it's the offense. We've got to put them together on the same afternoon."

McPeak's other observations on personnel, problems and possibilities:

Quarterback Norman Snead, who had a bad day against the Dallas Cowboys last Sunday — "there's no cause for panic. I'd go with this kid in any game over any other quarterback in football. Norman would deny it because he's modest and won't admit, but he hurt his knee in New York the week before and it didn't help his balance and timing."

(Snead's wry comment on his injury: "I don't throw with my knee.")

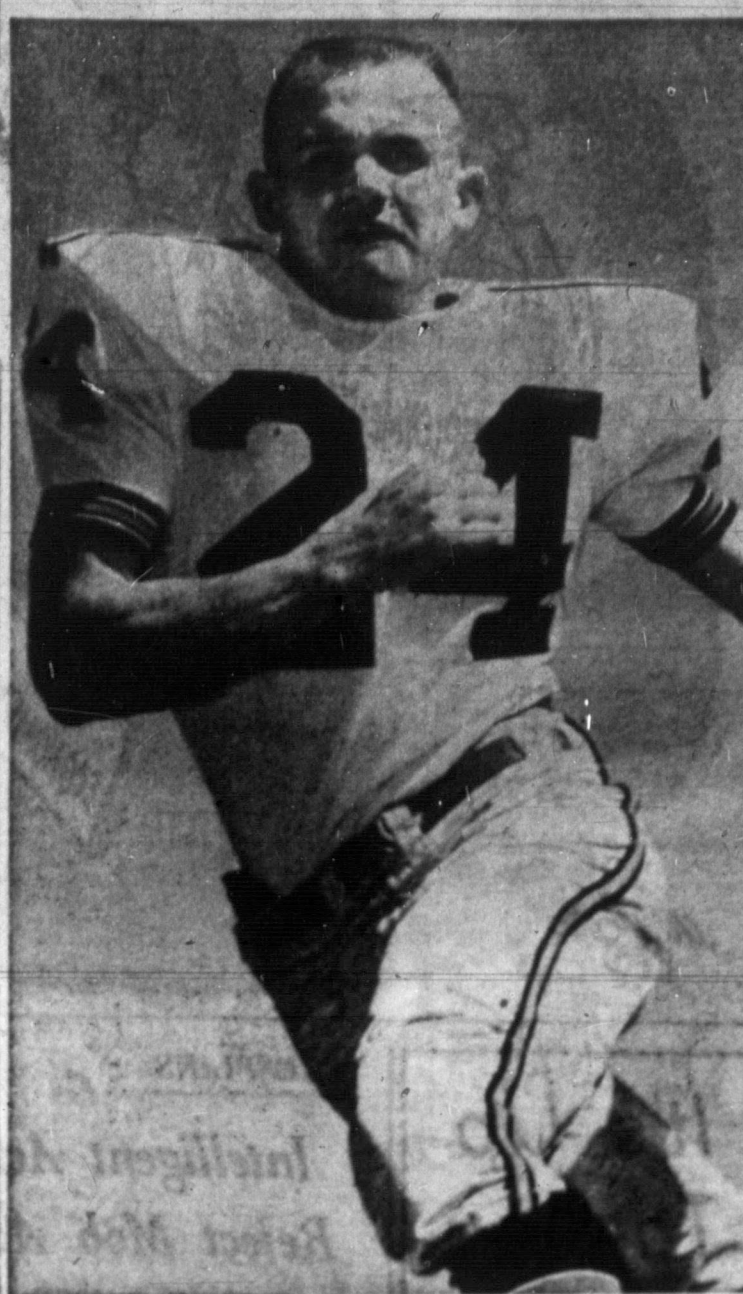

On the Redskins' below-par offense Sunday — "because of weather and injuries to all three ends plus Bobby Mitchell, we didn't have a real pass offense workout all week. I'm not using this as an alibi because Dallas is a good football team, but we were hurting offensively and needed breaks which we sure didn't get. Dick James was the only able-bodied receiver we put on the field."

Need Running Attack
On the Redskins' future: "We have to establish some kind of a running attack. A ground game would make our passing to better. That's our biggest problem — along with our defensive secondary."

On the rest of the Eastern Division: "The Giants still are the team to beat, and Cleveland isn't out of it. The Browns (whom the Redskins play Sunday) still have their big boy (Jim Brown) and their front four defensive unit can give a passer a tremendous rush. Two weeks ago, Pittsburgh lost 36 yards trying to pass against the Browns and Cleveland didn't red dog much, either. It's the Browns' defense you've got to respect; they're the only team that's really stopped Dallas."

55TH YEAR TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1962 9

ONE WAMPUS KITTY—Buddy Rawls, Abilene Christian junior from Pampa, is a real wildcat this season and is ACC's no. one wingback. The 6-0, 175-pound physical education major is leading the Wildcats in kickoff returns, handling six for 122 yards and a 20.3 average. He is also a defensive ace.

QB Hebert Gets Nod As 'Tough Harvester'

Kenny Hebert, Harvester quarterback, was selected the "Toughest Harvester" by the coaching staff at Pampa High for his fine play in Friday's game against Palo Duro and his determination in workouts.

Hebert, the best kicker in Dist. 3-AAAA, proved to be one of the better quarterbacks against the Dons.

In commending Hebert, Coach Otis Holladay pointed out that Hebert worked out all last week with a sore heel, but kept on going.

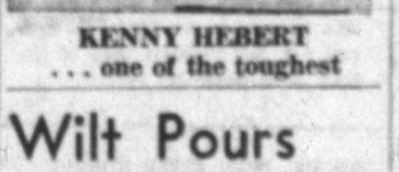

"He played the best ball game I've seen him play," Holladay said. "He played with more determination and did an excellent job on defense keying against Burke."

Hebert was honored today at the weekly noon luncheon of the Pampa Jaycees who sponsor the "Toughest Harvester" citation. The Jaycees make this award presentation to the boy, selected by the coaches, that best meets the following requirements — aggressiveness, blocking and tackling ability, leadership, and desire.

The period of judging the player selected is from Monday through that week's game, workouts included.

Other winners of the coveted citation are Carl Clark, Ricky Stewart, Dee Wright, Jerry Glover, Curtis Fletcher, and Ricky Goodwin.

Kenny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hebert, 314 W. Francis.

Wilt Pours In Baskets, Leads NBA

NEW YORK (UPI) — Improbable as it may seem, Wilt Chamberlain is getting better with age. Official statistics released today show that the seven-foot Wilt has scored 389 points in his first seven games for an average of 55.6 points per contest, an all-time NBA high for this stage of the season. At a corresponding time last year, Chamberlain had 342 points and a 48.8 average.

Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers is runnerup in points scored with 278, although Walt Bellamy of the Chicago Zephyrs has a higher per-game percentage of 33.1 with 265 points in eight contests. Baylor, who has played one game more than Bellamy, has a 30.9 per game average.

Chamberlain also leads in rebounds with a 28.1 average, far better than the 21.4 average turned in by runnerup Bill Russell of Boston.

Rookie Howard Montgomery of the Warriors is the field goal percentage leader at .649 and Syracuse's Dave Gambee leads in free throw percentage with a .917 mark.

Cookie Gilchrist Top AFL Gainer

DALLAS (UPI) — The Buffalo Bills, geared to the bull-like rushes of Cookie Gilchrist, appear headed for a new American Football League ground-gaining standard.

The Bills lack only 38 yards of matching their entire 1961 rushing output of 3,696 yards and they still have five games to go.

If they can maintain their present league-leading pace of 174.2 yards per game, the Bills will wind up with more than 2,400 yards on the ground in comparison with the AFL record of 2,183 set by the Dallas Texans last year.

Gilchrist ambled for 107 yards last week in the Bills' 23-20 tie with Boston to bring his league-leading rushing total to 725 yards.

Total offense honors remain in the hands of the Denver Broncos, who own the AFL's best record of seven victories in nine starts. The Broncos set the pace in passing with 275.5 yards per game and in total offense with 371 yards per contest.

RIDES THREE WINNERS
PAWLUCKET, R.I. (UPI) — Veteran Jockey Darrell Madden rode three winners at Narragansett Park Monday, including Rushing Wind (95.00) in the feature race. He also won aboard Friendly Mission ($18.00) in the third and Mr. Whimsy ($10.00) in the ninth.

QB Club Slates Meeting Tonight

Pampa's Quarterback Club is slated to meet tonight at 7:30 in the High School Cafeteria with the Palo Duro-Pampa film to be shown. A scouting report on Lubbock High will be presented.

Also, the coaches of the junior high and "B" teams will give reports on their teams. The public is invited to attend.

Pulled Muscles, Broken Bones Hamper SWC

United Press International

Muscles (pulled) and bones (broken) occupied most Southwest Conference coaches' thoughts today as the league prepared for a full schedule of activity next Saturday.

Coach Darrell Royal of the University of Texas Longhorns, who lead the league, lost two key sophomores to injuries in last Saturday's winning effort over Southern Methodist.

Wingback and punting specialist Ernie Koy Jr., suffered a badly stretched ligament and a chipped ankle bone. End Knox Nunnally wrenched a knee to badly it probably will require surgery.

The Longhorns meet Baylor this Saturday in Waco.

And Baylor Bear Coach John Bridgers had his injury problems too. Bridgers said linebacker Bobby Maples is definitely out of the Texas game, and guard Robert Mankin and tackle Arturo Delgado are on the doubtful list. The Bears counted bruises and sharpened their passing in a scrimmage Monday.

And ditto the hurts for Texas A&M coach Hank Folsberg. Folsberg announced Monday that tackle James Craig and guard Joe Royak are lost for the season. The Aggies held a light workout Monday. They play Southern Methodist in the Cotton Bowl this weekend.

SMU coach Hayden Fry, who has a surprising squad currently sharing second place in the conference, said his team will be healthy for the Aggies. The Mustangs gave awards to center John Hughes and halfback Tommy Caughran for outstanding play in the Texas game, then held a light workout.

Arkansas coach Frank Broyles said his Parkers will try to stop the Rice passing attack and fullbacks in workouts this week. But they will do it without guard Tommy Brasher, who will miss the Fayetteville contest due to an injured foot.

The Owls, relatively injury-free for a change, went to the movies Monday and watched themselves win over Texas Tech last Saturday and then watched the films of the Arkansas game the year before. Arkansas won that one.

Texas Christian went through a light workout against the Louisiana State University attack in preparation for Saturday's contest in Baton Rouge.

Texas Tech coach J. T. King, whose team has not won a game, will try to break into the other side of the win-loss column against Boston College in Lubbock Saturday but will do it without wingbacks Charles McEntire and Larry Jones, both injured against Rice.

Canada Cup

U.S. Golfers Top-Ranked

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — The United States team of Arnold Palmer and Sammy Snead no more than reached Argentine soil before it was made the favorite to defend successfully the international golf championship it won last year.

Before its arrival, the host country team of Roberto de Vicenzo and Fidel de Luca rated as the pair to beat, partly because they know the Jockey Club course over which the International Trophy and Canada Cup matches will be played, starting Thursday.

But a few hours after the 36-year-old Snead arrived, he went out and fired a practice round 67, three under par for the 6,746-yard course. Palmer arrived too late Tuesday for a tuneup round but what Snead showed the audience was enough to convince most Argentine golfing fans that the U.S. team would be the one to beat.

Snead Likes Course
Snead, using the larger American ball, said he liked the course and that he putted well.

"This is a course where the premium is on accuracy, not on distance," the Slemmer said. "I'm going to stick with the American ball because I think it puts better."

In past international tournaments, Snead, who three times has shared in the team title for the United States used the smaller British ball.

34 Nations To Compete
In all, 34 nations are to compete in this 10th annual tourney, but there is some doubt whether the Venezuelan team of Francisco Gonzalez and Teobaldo Perez will play. They both hold Cuban passports which are not recognized by Argentina.

There will be 18-hole rounds on each of the four days, starting Thursday, with all of them counting in both the individual and team competition.

Last year Snead teamed with Jimmy Demaret to win the team title and the Slemmer won the individual crown with a record low of 77. Before that triumph Snead teamed with Ben Hogan in 1956 and with Palmer in 1960 to win the team trophy.

Rodeo Roundup

Rodeo queens representing more than 28 states will gather at Hotel Sahara, in Las Vegas, November 27-30, to compete for the coveted Miss Rodeo America title and the right to rule over the nation's rodeos in 1963.

The annual pageant, now in its eighth year, is co-sponsored by the Hotel Sahara and the International Rodeo Management.

Crowning the 1962 winner will be the current Miss Rodeo America, blonde Karen Lavens, 19-year-old Idaho State College sophomore from Jerome, Idaho. Miss Lavens has appeared at more than a million and a half rodeo fests this year.

Contestants will compete in personality, appearance and horsemanship during the four-day competition at the Sahara, each counting one-third toward the Miss Rodeo America title. The winner will be crowned by Miss Lavens on Nov. 30, during the second performance of Nevada's first indoor rodeo, the Rodeo of Stars, at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Freckles Brown
Professional rodeo headed into the stretch this month with just a few rodeos left till the end of the regular season, on November 4, but the cowboys' own favorite for championship honors lay in a Portland, Oregon hospital with a broken neck. Freckles Brown, of Lawton, Oklahoma, far in the lead for 1962's bull riding title suffered a crushed vertebra when he was hit by a bull in the final go-round of the Pacific International rodeo.

Freckles rode Christensen Bros. Black Smoke to the whistle and was hit twice while getting off with his hand still in the rope. Attendants at the Immanuel Hospital said he is expected to recover, but may be in traction for six weeks.

WISMER TO SELL
NEW YORK (UPI) — Harry Wismer announced Saturday night he intends to sell the majority interest in the New York Titans of the American Football League.

Wismer, one of the founders of the AFL and a chief architect of its television schedule, said that he has suffered $1,750,000 in losses since the Titans began operations in 1960.

"Every quarter that has gone into this club, with the exception of $100,000, was put up by me," said Wismer. "Unfortunately, I am not a rich man's son and there is a limit."

Wismer owns 80 per cent of the Titans' stock and intends to sell 65 per cent, thus retaining a 25 per cent minority interest.

Dean Oliver
The big match calf roping between Dean Oliver and Jim Bob Altizer is coming up soon, November 10, at San Angelo, Texas, and many an argument is going on and many a bet being made on the outcome of this twelve-calf nite. It would be hard to find two tougher ropers than Oliver and Jim Bob, and with twelve 250-pound calves to rope and tie it ought to be a dandy.

The match is being held in conjunction with San Angelo's 8th

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the rights of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

The Work Of Many Hands

We are often told that big business is the enemy of small business — as the dog is the enemy of the cat. But dogs and cats are often firm friends. And the big business is often the best commercial companion the small business has.

A striking example of this is provided by one of the spectacular achievements of all time — the communications satellite, Telstar. It was developed and financed by the country's largest telephone company. But — as that company makes clear in a magazine advertisement — Telstar "is the work of many hands." Some 1249 different companies, most of them small, were subcontractors and suppliers. Their billings ran from $100 on up. They are located in every section of this huge country. They provided resistors, transmitters, antennas, and other essential and highly specialized equipment. They were chosen because of competence in their respective fields. Size was of no importance. The parent company says of Telstar: "Many shared its creation so that all might share its accomplishments." This felicitous phrase is true of almost everything that contributes to the progress of mankind. There is room in this country for enterprises of every size — for quality not dimension, is the criteria.

Precedent Of Danger

Never before in the history of this country has the Federal government elbowed private investment aside and seized the identity of project in order to construct it by tax monies and public debt.

The words are those of Kinsey M. Robinson, board chairman of the Pacific Northwest Power Company. Back of them is a remarkable and ominous story.

It has to do with the long debated High Mountain Sheep Dam on the Snake River. This is a huge, multi-million dollar project. Apparently, it is going to be built — so the question to be answered is who will build it, and with what funds?

The investor-owned utilities in the region are ready to go ahead with Mountain Sheep. Under their joint plans, the dam's full potential would be developed. Every nickel of the cost would come from private savings and other non-governmental sources. And, on completion, the dam would become a major taxpayer.

But the Department of the Interior is insisting that the federal government build Mountain Sheep. And construction, to repeat Mr. Robinson's phrase, would be "by tax monies and public debt."

Edson In Washington Little Change Seen In Party Ratios In Senate And House

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some political analysts now are guardedly predicting that when the Nov. 6 congressional election returns are all in and counted, the total number of Democrats and Republicans may not be far different from what they have been the last two years. This allows for a number of upsets, which always happen. But the upsets are expected both ways, to balance out.

Early this year the Democrats were actually talking up the possibility of increasing their majority of 27 in the Senate, 87 in the House, as the count stood when the session ended. But these high hopes have not been heard recently.

Similarly, early Republican boasts that they might pick up 44 seats to win control of the House have been dropped by all but the party professionals who have to talk that way.

A prevailing view now is that the country is still just about as closely divided as it was in the 1960 presidential race when Kennedy got only 119,000 more votes than Nixon out of a 68 million total vote. The total vote may be under 50 million in this midterm election, but stay-at-homes usually cancel out.

Democratic paper majorities in the last Congress were really meaningless. Division of the two parties into conservative and liberal blocs made votes on major issues extremely close.

The Kennedy administration lost its full farm program in the House by only five votes. A House motion to kill the $900 million emergency public works bill was defeated by only nine votes.

On key Senate votes, an amendment to weaken the manpower retraining act was defeated by only one vote. The King-Anderson medical care plan was killed by only four votes.

If congressional votes accurately reflect the sentiment back home, these close counts indicate that public opinion is still pretty evenly divided on major domestic issues. It is traditional for the minority party in Congress to gain seats in a midterm election. That gives the Republicans the historic advantage this year. But Gallup polls have shown consistently in the last few months that a 35 to 60 per cent majority of the voters favor the Democrats.

This isn't hard to believe when it is remembered that there are more registered Democrats than registered Republicans. The GOP has to pick up votes from dissatisfied Democrats and independents to win.

Another factor indicating the possibility of a tight race is that President Kennedy's Gallup poll popularity dropped by five points after he ordered federal troops and marshals into Mississippi. But this is also natural drop for a midterm battle.

In the fall of 1956 President Eisenhower's popularity had dropped to 57 per cent. President Kennedy's now is reported at 62. Practically all this loss came from the southern states.

But another poll shows a party sentiment in the South still divided roughly 75 per cent Democratic, 25 per cent Republican. A Republican gain of 10 to 12 congressional seats in the South — which the GOP has been talking up — may provide an upset of first magnitude.

Republicans may gain a few seats by redistricting under the 1960 census in 25 states. Eight states gain a total of 19 congressional seats and 16 states lose a total of 21. The net loss of two seats is accounted for by reduction of House membership from 437 to 435, after admission of Hawaii and Alaska.

There are a number of minor factors which can materially affect this year's congressional results. Five Senators and eight representatives have died. Five senators and 35 representatives have resigned or retired. Seventeen incumbent congressmen were defeated in primaries.

Pull Up A Chair

By Neal O'Hara

Farmers in many parts of New England and especially about the Sturbridge, Mass., area report huge crops of enormous acorns this fall. Conservationists say the gray squirrels are dying out and are extinct in certain districts and that the chipmunks cannot cope with the over-abundance.

The greatest transportation bargain in the world for sightseers is on the State Island ferry from lower Manhattan to the Borough of Richmond, commonly known as Staten Island. The visitors get magnificent views of the skyline and harbor — all for five cents. Ferries operate from South Ferry and the five-mile trip takes about 28 minutes each way.

One of the favorite stories of Joe McCarthy, former manager of the New York Yankees, is about the time he dreamed he had died and gone to heaven. There he was ordered by St. Peter to assemble and manage a ball team. McCarthy says his eyes glistened as he surveyed the talent around him—Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson, Rube Waddell, Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and all the other superstars. "This will be the greatest team of all time," he gloated.

Just then the phone rang. It was Satan calling from downtown St. Peter to challenge the heavenly hosts to a ball game.

"But you haven't a chance of winning!" McCarthy told him. "I've got all the ballplayers."

"Oh, I know that," Satan replied. "But I've got all the umpires." — Arthur Daley, Times at Bat (Random House).

Thoughts while shaving: 1. Wonder why "yellow streak" means cowardice or timidity? The Indians regarded the white feather as the symbol of cowardice, so why did the white man change to yellow?

2. Another slant on the white feather derives from the sporting fraternity. For a white feather in the tail of a cock was an indication, they believed, that the bird was not a true gamecock and therefore lacked the latter's fierce courage in combat.

3. That's reminding of the trembling young fellow who was undergoing a physical examination for the draft board. "What's the matter — have you a yellow streak down your spine?" sneered the doctor. "It ain't just down my spine," whimpered the lad. "It's as broad as my back."

4. "He depends on it for his bread and butter" is an oft-heard expression. But suppose he's on a diet and passes up bread and butter. Does he then depend on it for his orange juice and coffee?

Horse sense has finally been debunked. Cornell University scientists say that the horse isn't too bright, and prove the pig is much more intelligent. The scientists have something there. You never see a team of pigs pulling a big heavy brewery wagon. And you never see a pig showing up at a racetrack on a hot day to run six furlongs with a jockey on him.

"Pachinko," a Japanese pin-ball game, named for the sound the ball makes, does more business in Japan than the department stores. Since the average Jap is of such small stature, it must take two pin-ball players to "tilt."

Life on the halfshell: You find inflation in strange places today. No longer does the panhandler ask for a dime. "Please gimme a quarter, mister" is now the approach. Recently on the fashionable east side of New York, the police finally picked up a professional woman beggar, who had been operating in the area for months. In her pockets and bag the police found over $30 in halves, quarters, a few dimes and some one dollar bills. She stopped me one morning with a great hard luck story — out of work, but had had restaurant experience, etc. I pointed to a nearby shop with a sign in the window saying they needed a waitress. She hustled a way. Merchants in the district reported she came in daily and asked them to exchange her coins for paper money. This panhandler always went over the $20 mark and her begging hours were from about 10 to 3 in the afternoon, five days a week.

"Do You Suppose They Noticed Us?"

It's Up To You

by HOWARD KERSHNER L. H. D.

Under the leadership of Norman Thomas and a number of well-known Quakers, a new pacifist organization, Turn Toward Peace, has been set up with headquarters in New York.

In a recently issued pamphlet, "American Initiatives," it says: "Two great powers are engaged in a struggle to preserve their national security and way of life. Each believes, and can cite evidence, that the other presents a threat to its safety."

Turn Toward Peace thus repeats the common error of assuming that the United States and Russia are equally guilty of attitudes and practices which make the threat of war ever present. This of course is the misguided opinion of many conscientious well-meaning people who are striving to solve the problem of war.

The plain fact is that the responsibility for the ever-present threat of war arises from the inherent nature of communism that its survival depends upon blotting out freedom, free enterprise, self-government and capitalism everywhere. As long as these exist, affording living demonstrations that life is better under the Western system, they are a mortal threat to communism. Communists hate private property and capitalism with a ferocious and consuming desire to obliterate them and all who believe in them. The living proof that life is much better in West Berlin than in East Berlin, in West Germany than in East Germany and in the free world than in the enslaved Communist world poses a threat to the existence of communism. Therefore, communism must destroy the Western system if it hopes to survive.

There is nothing inherent in Western ideology that compels it to destroy communism. If the people of the world were allowed freedom of choice as to which system they prefer, the two might exist peacefully side by side until it became evident that communism or socialism is vastly inferior as a means of achieving the good life. Then would come the voluntary turn to the Western system of freedom, self-government and free enterprise. Realizing that this is inevitable unless they destroy capitalism, the Communists are at our throats. Because they press the battle, our only hope of survival is to destroy communism.

At the close of World War II we disarmed, sank our munitions in the North Sea and brought our soldiers home. This was a case of unilateral disarmament. We set an example which, if the Communists had followed, would have eliminated the tensions that disturb the world. Instead of showing a peaceful, non-aggressive attitude, however, Communist Russia continued to expand and aggressively took over one country after another. As we saw the slave system ad-

THE SPIANS Intelligent Actors Reject Mob Action

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph.D.

For three full decades I lived in Hollywood. Only a hermit could possibly live in that area for so many years and avoid contact with actors, actresses, composers, writers and others connected with movie, radio theater, TV and other forms of entertainment. Even Peter the Hermit spent a lot of time in the company of film-dog's great, near great and never-quite-made-it great. I was a bystander, a listener and watcher.

In the early 20s, thespians avoided political conversation like they would shun a plague, in public. In private, they had their own ideas about how the world could be saved from one dictator or another and how governments should operate. A predominant theme during these off the record conversations and discussions was the subject of freedom. How could an actor be free to act if his audience was enslaved? Many truly great entertainers were at the top of the heap in those days and they were great in more ways than one. Smart business men and women. Suggested individualists, non-conformists, intelligent and courteous, mature human beings.

After 1941 things began to change. It became fashionable to pose as liberals. Newcomers in the arts and the theater projected a phony image of universal good and a few of the less talented former greats fell for the line unthinkingly. Others imagined they could think. A few months after one of the hearings in Hollywood, my profession brought me into contact with a man who played a bad guy part in the hearings. I talked with him for about three hours and it was obvious to me that this man had not the slightest idea of the kind of a game he was playing.

He was playing the part of a great martyr in a spectacular but he didn't even know the name of the play he only knew his part. Now a revolution has set in and this is good. Peculiarly enough it began with the frequently maligned westerns, where the hero always runs true to form. Several of the acting heroes went right on playing the part they liked off stage and away from the TV and movie cameras.

When a really great actor becomes obsessed with a compatible character, he is likely to play the part to the hilt, even in front of his own shaving mirror. The fact of the philosophy of freedom being entirely compatible with more and more actors and writers and producers is becoming evident with each passing week.

And this is a natural development, not a carefully contrived, highly publicized passing fancy. Sensitive to every shade of human emotion, actors are beginning to feel the truth and the reality and the absolute quality of freedom. How can an actor really act unless he be free? How can a writer, write unless he writes in freedom?

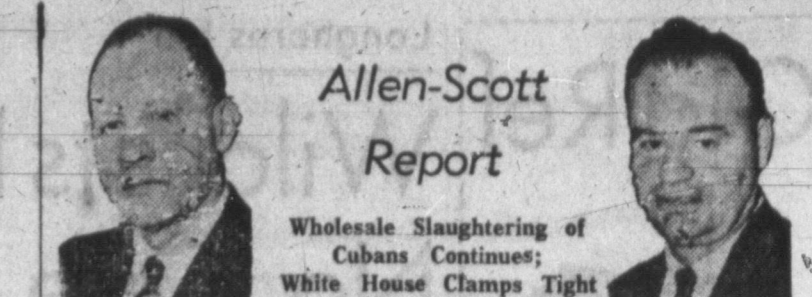

The socialist conglomerate has developed into a mob, a mob of bit players who respond unthinkingly to cues. No great actor wishes to become part of the mob. In a mob, the actor's creative ability is crushed and trampled into the dirt. In the mob, a composer of music becomes a mediocre carpenter. A writer becomes just another mobster, in the mob. An actress becomes a look alike, not an individualist. The revolution has set in, deep and hard, and sincere, hard working, intelligent actors and writers and composers and producers are reacting in a natural, normal, logical fashion.

vancing, with every prospect of continuing until it overflowed the whole world including ourselves if we did not resist it, the American people realized that they were being driven to the necessity of rearming. They accepted this burden reluctantly because they knew it was vastly expensive, but they rightly saw no other way to prevent the communication of the world.

In the face of these well-known facts, to assume that the United States is equally guilty with Russia for the danger of the war-like preparations now taking place is tragically illogical and unrealistic. It is just what the Communists want us to believe. They wish to put as much as possible of the blame of this era of tension and danger upon the West, when in reality, if they had retired to their own borders as we did after World War II and if they had disarmed as we did, there would be no tension and no threat of war in the world today.

Therefore, in view of the fact that the Communists assumed the aggressive attitude that called forth self-defense on the part of the West, to blame each side equally for our present difficulty is not only groundless, but dangerous in the extreme.

Wholesale Slaughtering of Cubans Continues; White House Clamps Tight Lid on Intelligence Reports

WASHINGTON — Whatever else may or may not be dismantled in Cuba, Fidel Castro is showing no signs of dismantling his blood-letting firing squads.

His Communist goons slaughtered 47 Cubans last month after they were arrested on suspicion of either being members of the anti-Castro underground or helping "U.S. agents."

Two U.S. intelligence operators, captured in the vicinity of a Russian missile base, were executed on the spot by a Red firing squad.

The intelligence operators' radio reports, giving eye-witness accounts of missile base construction and locations, ended abruptly three days after they parachuted into the Cuban interior. Their fate was reported by refugees.

These murders and Castro's new killing wave are being suppressed under one of the tightest censorship ever clamped on U.S. intelligence and military personnel in peacetime.

The suppression order came directly from the White House.

If it limits the circulation of intelligence information on Cuba, Berlin and Russia to only six top officials in the Defense Department. Not even the Secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force are permitted to see this information without direct authorization from Defense Secretary McNamara.

A suppressed intelligence estimate reveals that the Cubans shot by Castro's firing squads were executed without a trial and without specific charges being brought against them.

Fourteen officers in Castro's own militia were led to their death within an hour after being seized. All they were told was that they were disloyal and that was their summary death sentence.

The censored intelligence report credits the latest killing wave to invasion jitters by high Castro officials and their Russian advisers. In several instances, pro-Castro Cubans were seized and shot because of their detailed knowledge of Soviet missile and bomber bases.

Since Castro's firing squads began the executions in 1959, they have killed more than 2,300 Cubans. So far, none of the recent executions involved any of the 1,113 prisoners taken during last year's ill-fated invasion. Castro is apparently keeping the doop open to ransom these prisoners for $50 million in U.S. food and medicine.

CUBAN POLITICS — One of the intriguing facts of the congressional campaign was the strenuous effort of the Senate Democratic Campaign Committee to keep Cuba from becoming a major issue in key senatorial races.

The Committee, which has expended some $350,000 during the campaign, sent a series of confidential memorandums to Democratic candidates urging them to "ignore Cuba" as an issue.

Prepared by John F. Kraft, Inc., consultants to the Committee, the memorandums cautioned candidates to leave the issue to the President. If pressed to debate Cuba, they were advised to "allude to" or "simply repeat" the President's statements.

For example: One confidential memorandum, dated October 19 and circulated by Senator Vance Hartke, chairman, at the outbreak of the Cuban crisis, contained these instructions:

"The following material is being furnished you on a confidential basis. It has been prepared by John F. Kraft, Inc., Public Opinion Researchers, and is being made available to you by the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee.

"Ignore Cuba. If forced, allude to the President's statement; if forced harder, simply repeat the President's statements. Don't get distracted from important issues. Don't be trapped into being defensive about it.

"Even in a state like Florida on the doorstep of the problem voters do not attach responsibility to one party or another, or one President or another.

"In Florida, concern is deep much more so than in Maine or Wisconsin, or Utah. But for all of the heightened concern, the fundamental concern is with finding resolutions, solutions, or conclusions short of threats of war."

"Attention to the Cuban issue can only detract from attention to problems which are of greater importance. Obviously, there is only so much time a candidate can expect from a voter, in terms of attention. Any time given to Cuba must detract from the more important focus on problems which really matter."

A later confidential memorandum, dated October 20 and circulated to all candidates, pointed out that the President should be fully supported in all his Cuban actions.

It stated that "The Presidential popularity rating has been stiffening" and that this was partly due to his actions on Cuba and "a decline of interest in the family."

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Are moral absolutes necessary in order to have individuals fully develop their physical, mental and spiritual potentialities?"

It is hard to conceive how there can be anything but chaos if everything is relative and there are no moral absolutes governing human relations that will promote peace, goodwill and prosperity. Of course, these ideas of moral absolutes might change, but the moral absolutes do not change. They are eternal. Men's ideas of them change, just as men's ideas of God and right change in many cases.

We have to have a moral absolute or what we assume to be a moral absolute in order to have a guide, just as we have to have an agreed unit of measure in order to measure distance.

And since we know so little every assumption that is a moral guide or a moral absolute should be always subject to examination and a test. If there be an exception to it, it ceases to be a moral absolute. That's the way by the process of elimination, that we come to learn moral absolutes to which there are no exceptions. It is inductive reasoning.

It would seem that it is a moral absolute that no individual or group, ever, under any circumstances, has a right to initiate force. Unless somebody can find an exception to that axiom is a moral absolute. Many people think that the majority has a right to violate that moral absolute. That's the reason we're in the mess we're in today, because we haven't lived up to the moral absolute that belongs to each individual.

These moral absolutes, for a couple of thousand or more years have been: "Thou shalt not commit murder." "Thou shalt not steal." "Thou shalt not bear false witness." "Thou shalt not covet anything that is thy neighbor's property." And to covet means to desire or have the will to get things on an involuntary basis.

Yes, we would say that moral absolutes are a necessity for peaceful, happy, prosperous society.

Two of every 10 U.S. youths do not reach the senior year in high school and one other fails to graduate on becoming a senior.

Watching Daddy take off in helicopter, April 1962

On vacation in Ravenna, Italy, August 1962

FAMILY ALBUM—These memorable pictures of Caroline Kennedy, daughter of President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy, were taken between July, 1960, and August of this year. They portray her in only a few of her many activities and have helped make the little girl's likeness familiar throughout the world.

Election Briefs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The two oldest U.S. senators are running for reelection today, but the oldest House member is retiring.

Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., is 85 and has been in the Senate for 26 years. Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., is 78 and has 24 years of Senate service.

The retiring House member is Rep. Brent Spence, D-Ky., 87.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fifty-eight congressmen do not have to worry about being reelected today. No one is running against them.

All but one of these automatic winners are Democrats. The lone Republican is Eugene Siler of Kentucky, whose Democratic opponent withdrew.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—At least five Negroes will serve in the new 88th Congress — more than at any time since 1874.

There now are four Negro House members. A fifth is assured because two Negroes are opposing each other in California's new 21st District in Los Angeles. They are Democrat Augustus F. Hawkins and Republican Herman Smith.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The number of women serving in Congress is due to drop.

The 87th Congress had a record high 29 women members, but seven women in the House are retiring and one, Democrat Grace Pflast of Idaho, is running for the Senate.

If Mrs. Pflast wins, she will raise the female membership of the Senate to a record three. The present lady senators are Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, and Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Many familiar faces will not be back for the 88th Congress after today's election, regardless of the outcome.

Fifty-three House members and five senators will not return for one reason or another, mostly retirement. Seven incumbents will not return because they are running against other incumbents as a result of redistricting of House seats.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two brothers are running for Congress in California, and a son seeks to rejoin his mother in the House in today's election.

Dick Wilson, brother of Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., is running in the state's 37th District.

Oliver P. Bolton, a former member of the House, is seeking to return to the Ohio delegation with his mother, Republican Rep. Frances P. Bolton.

A Crisis For Every Election!

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Voters who picked up a newspaper on election day two years ago found the news much the same as it is today.

The headlines, dominated by the presidential election, told of trouble in Cuba and a crisis in the Congo. And four years ago, when congressmen and governors were being elected as they are today, the United Nations was trying to bring an end to nuclear testing.

In the days prior to the election that made John F. Kennedy President two years ago today, dispatches told of Russian arms being shipped to Cuba, the seeds that sprouted into the crisis that nearly brought war a few days ago.

Fidel Castro ordered out the militia to prepare for "imminent" American invasion, and 1,450 Marines landed at Guantanamo Bay for "weekend shore leave."

And on election day, Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell was made commander of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo with orders to fight if necessary to defend the base. He is still there.

The Congo upheaval was the big story. Patrice Lumumba was barricaded in his house, predicting he would be restored to power. Four months later he was slain and today the Congo has faded from the crisis picture.

In Hollywood, Clark Gable voted from his hospital bed. He died 10 days later.

And in Moscow the next day, the Soviet press hailed the victory of John F. Kennedy as a step toward better U.S.-Russian relations.

Four years ago last Sunday, the U.N. General Assembly called on the nuclear powers to reach early agreement on a controlled nuclear test suspension. Monday, the General Assembly's Political Committee voted for an end to all nuclear weapons tests by Jan. 1.

Pope John XXIII had just been crowned and television quiz whiz Charles Van Doren had just been discredited.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, frequently mentioned then as a possible presidential candidate, defeated Vincent J. Celeste for re-election to the Senate from Massachusetts.

Presidential Chances On Line For 4 In GOP

By WILLIAM THEIS
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)— The 1964 presidential chances of at least four Republican candidates will be strengthened or smashed today in off-year balloting for 35 of the nation's governorships.

Of the four, only Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York appeared to be an odds-on favorite. He was considered almost certain to preserve both his seat in Albany and his position as a GOP presidential contender.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who lost the presidency to John F. Kennedy by a scant 119,450 popular votes two years ago, was fighting for his political future in a close race against Democratic Gov. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown.

The other two potential White House nominees, former auto maker George Romney of Michigan and Rep. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, are the "new faces" in the presidential test run. Both have been leading in some polls in their states.

Romney Opposes Swainson
Romney is trying to unseat Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson, 37, legless war veteran now finishing his first two-year term. Scranton, 45, is opposed for the Pennsylvania governorship by former Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia.

Of the governorships at stake in today's voting, 21 are now Democratic and 14 Republican. Republicans, building for the 1964 and 1968 presidential races, were confident they would make gains in governorships. The patronage, prestige and power involved are vital to any national effort.

Republicans appeared concerned only about possible losses in New Hampshire and New Mexico, while making strong bids for governor's chairs in Ohio, Texas, Colorado, Wyoming, Wisconsin and Nebraska.

Democrats hold all but two of the 15 governorships in the states which have no contests this year. Montana and Utah are under GOP control.

DiSalle's Seat Shaky
Even Democrats conceded that the GOP had one of its best chances in Ohio, where Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, an early Kennedy-for-president endorser, is up for reelection. Republican state Auditor, James A. Rhodes appeared the favorite.

In normally Democratic Texas, Republicans were struggling to build on their present U.S. Senate seat by taking the governorship as well. Former Navy Secretary John Connally, a friend and long-time backer of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was the favorite to keep the governorship in Democratic hands, however.

In New Hampshire, where party feuding after the death of Senate GOP Policy Chairman Styles Bridges rocked the GOP, Democrat John W. King was credited with at least a chance to score an upset. But the edge apparently still was with Republican John Pillsbury, a one-time Bridges aide.

In New Mexico, Democratic State House Speaker Jack M. Campbell was threatening Republican Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, seeking his third term.

A second former Eisenhower administration figure, ex-Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton, was pitted in Nebraska against Democratic Gov. Frank B. Morrison. Democratic incumbents also were fighting to save their places in Colorado and Wyoming.

House of Representatives

Len-agg-see, an Indian princess, gave her name to Lenexa, Kans. Early elevators were run by hydraulic power.

REUNION—Three of the four surviving Dionne quintuplets got together at christening ceremony for Eric, son of Mr. and Mrs. Germain Allard (formerly Annette Dionne, left), in St. Bruno, Quebec. Holding baby is Yvonne, and at right is Marie. Cecile, ill, was unable to attend. Emilie died in 1954. The famous quint was born on May 28, 1934.
