India Checks Red China's Advance On Both Fronts

Nehru Appoints New Commander Of Army

By PATRICK J. KILLEN
United Press International

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Indian forces were reported today to have checked the Chinese Communist advances south of Bomdila and Walong at opposite ends of the fighting front in the North East Frontier Agency.

A Defense Ministry spokesman said the Indian troops were holding their positions against the Chinese pincers movement as fighting continued in both the Bomdila and Walong sectors.

The Indian defense stiffened as Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru announced the appointment of a new army commander.

Nehru said he had appointed Lt. Gen. J. M. Choudhery as commander in chief to replace Gen. P. N. Thapar, who "has applied for a long leave on grounds of health."

Defense Holding
The statement on the fighting said: "Our troops are now holding defensive positions some miles further south of Bomdila." The defensive bastion of Bomdila was lost to a swift Chinese Communist advance Monday.

In the fighting about 250 miles to the east in the Walong sector near the Burma border, the Chinese troops were said to be in about the same positions they occupied Monday, 12 to 14 miles south of Walong.

The spokesman refused to divulge information about a division of Indian troops who were surrounded or cut off between Bomdila and the captured Se La pass. Although he did not say the division headquarters at Dirang north of Bomdila has been captured, the spokesman said it no longer was located at Dirang.

Outpost Lost
In a speech to parliament Nehru said the Chinese had captured another Indian outpost in the Chusul area of Ladakh. He also revealed they had advanced "a few miles beyond Bomdila" near the Bhutan border.

He said the Chinese forces were being "obstructed and checked" in their drive toward the heavily populated Assam plains south of Walong, but he was not optimistic.

"We should expect the worst and be prepared for it," he said. Choudhery, a World War II combat veteran of Burma fighting, has been commander of India's southern armies for the last three years and masterminded the take over of Goa from Portugal in 1951.

Thapar had been a controversial appointment of V.K. Krishna Menon, who resigned under pressure as defense minister earlier this month.

As the Chinese penetrated deeper into Indian territory, a major operation was being started in threatened Assam state to move American and British nationals from danger areas.

Situation Serious
A U.S. Embassy spokesman said American Consul General William Baxter in Calcutta "is warning all American nationals in Assam of the seriousness of the situation."

Break Is Expected On Bomber Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration officials indicated they expect a major break this afternoon in the Soviet-American deadlock over Cuba.

The indications came after Premier Fidel Castro sent a letter to U. N. Secretary General Thant, indicating he had no objection to removal of Russian bombers from Cuba.

The administration adopted a policy of watchful waiting to determine what effect Castro's letter will have on the Cuban crisis.

"It is too early to say just what this means," said Secretary of State Dean Rusk as he boarded a plane for New York, to confer with U. S. officials at the United Nations.

Cubans Charge US Plane Makes Attack On Ship

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Radio Havana charged today that a U. S. plane made a bombing attack on a Cuban ship in international waters Monday, but the Defense Department flatly denied the claim.

The broadcast identified the ship as the Rio Damuji and said the aircraft made four attack passes, dropping 11 bombs. Most of them missed, it said, and the vessel was only slightly damaged.

The Defense Department said, however, that no U. S. plane was involved in any such incident.

"There is no basis for this report," a Pentagon spokesman said.

Havana radio said the attack on the freighter, carrying a cargo of 55,000 sacks of potatoes, was "savagely."

The official radio said the ship's position at the time of the alleged bombing—about 5:30 p.m.—was at 22.35 degrees north latitude and 73.13 degrees west longitude, placing it southwest of Bermuda.

Radio Havana said the plane attacked without warning.

The broadcast quoted Capt. Francis Cobas, the skipper of the Rio Damuji, as saying his ship had been "under observation by U. S. planes and ships for three days without regard for bad weather."

One bomb wrecked a porthole, the radio said.

It reported that the ship, which carried a crew of 33, was on the way to Cuba at the time of the alleged attack.

"The bombs did not damage the ship or the morale of our crew," Cobas was quoted as saying. "We are continuing our journey to the fatherland confident that we are not going to yield."

"Our crew of 33... will return full of pride. We are simply fulfilling our duty."

The broadcast said the attack lasted 15 minutes, from 5:20 to 5:35 p.m. It reported that some bombs fell "within 50 feet of the portholes" but gave no specific information about the attacking plane.

A short-wave radio message heard here earlier said the crippled Cuban motorship Cacique was being towed into the port of Coloma in southwestern Cuba with "several injured men" aboard. The message did not mention the cause of the damage to the Cacique or its extent.

The message, apparently originating either aboard the Cacique or aboard the towing tug, asked the Red Cross to have doctors and ambulances waiting at the waterfront when the ship docked.

'Recall' Hearing Date Is Named

The appeal from a 31st District Court decision ordering a recall election on City Commissioners Leon Holmes, Lloyd Simpson and L. P. Fort will be heard in Seventh District Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo on Tuesday, Jan. 8.

The case was appealed from a decision rendered in 31st Judicial District Court here last April 13 by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich after The Citizens for Better Government, a group whose spokesman at that time was Lewis B. Hackley, had sought to have the election called on the city's four ward councilmen.

Commissioner Newt Secrest was a member of the commission at the time, but resigned his post a few days later, leaving only Commissioners Holmes, Fort and Simpson involved in the court action.

The case was appealed by Atty. Clayton Hearre of Amarillo who represents the City Commission in the action.

Atty. Walter T. Norman of the Berger law firm of Gassaway, Allen and Norman, who represents the Citizens Better Government group, said today, he will be in court Jan. 8 to participate in the oral arguments on the appeal.

Indications were that it probably will be four to six weeks after the oral arguments before a decision is handed down in the case, probably about mid-February.

Tinge Of Optimism Visits World Of Business After Federal Reports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government reports showing good gains in personal income and factory orders in October put a tinge of optimism in the business picture today.

The reports diminished the likelihood of an economic recession early in 1963 and enhanced the possibility the economy would continue to expand. There remained the chance it would merely level off.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, and President Kennedy's Labor-Management Advisory committee called for a prompt $10 billion tax cut in 1963. They said it was needed both to give the economy a short-run lift and to put it on the long-run track to faster growth.

Two members of the 21-man committee favored limiting a tax reduction to $4 billion to $5 billion. Several members of the majority felt the $10 billion cut should be spread over two or three years, presumably to minimize a federal budget deficit. A $10 billion tax slash would mean "appreciable deficits," the committee said.

New Orders Rise
Of three reports from the Commerce Department, one citing a 3 per cent. spurt in new orders placed with manufacturers of durable goods gave most encouragement to government economists. The gain, a strong one for one month, also was spread among most major industries.

It raised the possibility that industrial production, which leveled off from July through October, might resume expanding. That probably would mean overtime work for those employed and perhaps some new factory jobs.

Another brightener in the business situation was a sizable $2.1 billion advance in personal income from September to October. Although partly due to some special, non-recurring factors, it meant extra purchasing power for the Christmas shopping season.

A third report showed housing starts rebounding from a September dip. Although welcome news, it was not considered particularly significant. The decline and the recovery were attributed chiefly to differences in the number of working days in September and October.

Strong In Steel
The widespread advance in factory orders was especially strong in iron and steel. One expert expressed the view that steel users had begun rebuilding depleted inventories, a development the industry long has waited for.

Auto and electrical and non-electrical machinery also posted unusually good one-month gains. Also up were furniture and ceramic products. A rise in orders for electronics and communications equipment was attributed to Defense Department buying.

Aircraft was the only major industry reporting a dip in orders. It may have been merely a let-down from a good September performance. Fabricated metals orders were unchanged.

Satire On Life In The White House Is A Hit Record Almost Overnight

NEW YORK (UPI) — It was a grim night in American history and certainly not a time to poke fun at the President of the United States.

The President had just completed an address to the nation, revealing that the Soviet Union had erected offensive missile bases in Cuba and warning Khrushchev that any attack on the United States would be followed by massive thermonuclear retaliation against Russia.

In New York a few hours later a young night club comedian who vaguely resembled President Kennedy but talked exactly like him walked into a recording studio to make a record that possibly would never be released.

But arrangements for the session had been made many days before the crisis by Archie Meyer, head of Cadence Records, and he told the comedian, Vaughn Meader, and the assembled cast to make the record and hope the crisis would ease.

The record was called "The First Family" and it satirized life in the White House. As soon as it appeared Khrushchev intended to keep his agreement to remove the missile bases from Cuba, the record was put on sale.

New York disc jockeys played parts of it. Almost overnight, sales in New York went up higher than Khrushchev's rockets.

Within a week more than 200,000 copies had been sold and Cadence was predicting an overall sales of more than 1 million copies across the country.

"The First Family" was almost impossible to buy in the big discount record stores in New York City. And sales were fast out in the neighborhood.

"We can't keep it in stock," Bob Lippieat, co-owner of S.E.L. Appliance Co., a small store in Queens, said. "As soon as we receive copies and put them on the counters they are sold. It is the funniest record I have ever heard."

Meader, who has appeared on Ed Sullivan's television show, is convincing as the President. And Naomi Brossart, a former Copacabana showgirl, is excellent as the First Lady, Norma Macmillan, who has been heard on countless television commercials as a child, takes on the role of Caroline.

George Washington's Portrait Quivers Visibly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The brassy blare of the jazz sextet swallowed the echoes of a Chopin étude, and the First Lady was like beaming.

George Washington's portrait quivered visibly on the wall of the East Room. In the words of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, "There's never been anything like it here before."

The occasion was the fifth in the First Lady's series of White House concerts for young people. The program was headed by the Chinese pianist, Tong Il-Han. Han played selections from Scarlatti, Schubert, Liszt and Chopin, which is generally considered a pretty hard act to follow.

But to judge from most reactions, the Paul Winter Jazz Sextet, direct from Altoona, Pa., followed so closely that it trod on Chopin's heels.

"Simply wonderful," breathed Mrs. Kennedy after the sextet finished rattling the rafters with various jazz selections, including the bossa nova, the new Brazilian dance music.

"I had a hard time keeping still and staying dignified," she said.

Winter, a 23-year-old saxophonist, said it was obvious the First Lady dug his jazz.

"You could tell by looking at her face. It was never anything but lit up, like beaming," Winter said.

"We lost all our inhibitions when we got out on that stage," Winter said. "They were a warm, unpretentious audience."

His audience of children of Washington diplomats and government officials sat quietly through the program of blasting modern jazz, most of which could undoubtedly be heard by the President in his office.

Winter's program included "Toccata" by Lalo Schifrin, written for Dizzy Gillespie, and "Count Me In," a tribute to Count Basie.

Winter said Mrs. Kennedy told him she had an album of his bossa nova records she has been "playing non-stop for two weeks."

The 23-year-old pianist Han said, "The pleasure was all mine. I love jazz."

If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Howe. Ad.

GET MORE U.S. JOBS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Negroes are getting more federal jobs, especially white collar positions, according to the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

The committee said Monday that in fiscal 1962 Negroes obtained 17 per cent of the 67,623 new federal jobs during the year, more than double the normal rate. About 5,500 Negroes obtained employment in the $4,503 to $10,615 a year bracket. An additional 374 Negroes secured government salaries of $9,540 to $20,000 a year.

The Harlow Look Revived For This Winter

By GAILE DUGAS
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — Ask any saleswoman in any department store selling really fine lingerie. She will tell you that girls in their late teens, early and middle 20s, have no notion of elegance in nightwear.

It's the mature woman who buys the beautifully lace-frosted gown, the velvet robe, the slip with fine crystal pleating. The younger woman buys pajamas, baby dolls or short sleep shifts.

The point can be made that these younger women have budget problems and can't afford the finer things. But that isn't the whole story. For it is these same young women who collect mohair sweaters, shoes by the dozen, fine handbags, and who generally do on clothes.

The truth is that they've been reared in an era without a truly elegant and dazzling personality to copy. Movie stars and actresses of today are most likely to turn up in slacks, sloppy sweaters and messy hairdos. Motion pictures don't reflect the great and careful attention to fashion that they once did. It was once said, quite truthfully, by a critic, that Joan Crawford, wearing an Adrian design, was the best-dressed woman who ever peeled potatoes at a kitchen sink. And women loved her pictures!

In the 1930s Jean Harlow, who was a true beauty, wore some of the most beautiful clothes ever, both on and off screen. Her bias-cut white satin evening gowns were famous then and her influence lingers on.

The Harlow influence has revived and is felt today both in evening gowns and in nightgowns. In fact, some of the slinky, ankle-length nightgowns now appearing in stores could pass for evening gowns of the 1930s! And a young woman who tries on just one is bound to be impressed! It's glamour which can't be resisted.

Take It From Kathy

By Kathy Peterson
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Kathy: I have been worrying about this for ages. Could you give me some suggestions on what a teen-age girl can do when her boy friend comes to the house? We don't have any games and neither of us is good at conversation.—Help.

Dear Help: If your boy friend didn't enjoy his visits, he wouldn't come.

When you expect him for a visit, why not invite one or two other couples to your house? Food and sociability seem to go together, and for years people have said that the way to a man's heart is via his stomach. Have refreshments.

Most teens love to play records, but even if music isn't one of his great loves, it will provide a relaxed background.

Back in the 1930s, film star Jean Harlow set the fashion pace with her beautiful bias-cut evening gowns in satin. This influence is felt in 1962 in fashion and extends to nightgowns, too. Antron and nylon are used in this gown (left) with lace bodice and slinky skirt. Here is Jean Harlow (center) as she looked in bias-cut nightgown and extravagant marabou trimmed robe. And another gown showing the Harlow influence (right) is as slinky as any the star ever wore. Dacron and silk are combined in this long, bias-cut nightgown. It has the look of an evening gown of the 1930s.

Holiday Display Is Setting For 20th Century Meeting

Members of the Twentieth Century Culture Club were guests in the home of Mrs. J. R. Donaldson for a meeting last Tuesday afternoon. As co-hostess, Mrs. J. W. Edminster, served refreshments during the social period.

Innumerable artistic Holiday decorations on display gave the Donaldson living room an air of Christmas fantasy-land. Mrs. J. L. Chase and Mrs. L. J. Zachry proceeded to demonstrate and explain how to be a do-it-yourself Christmas decorator for your own home. Materials such as newspapers, foil cleaning bags, empty cans, cartons and tubs, corn husks, macaroni, discarded toothpicks, jewelry, pins, pipe cleaners, pine cones, acorns, cactus, leaves and candies, candles, kissing balls, table centerpieces, gift soap, mistletoe hangers, wall hangings, wreaths, tree ornaments, corsages and anything to delight one's Christmas heart was to be seen everywhere one looked.

The two ladies presenting the program, said that the most important ingredients in their recipes for Christmas cheer was a dash of energy, a brimming cup full of time, a heaping spoonful of patience, a "bugger" box (junk and tool box to the uneducated), and ten strong fingers with skin like hide.

We would hasten to add that a large portion of artistry and a sprinkling of good humor would lend to each article an individual, beautiful, and finished touch.

Names were drawn for Christmas gift exchanges to be made at a later date.

Mrs. H. H. Hahn was recipient of the door prize which comprised of a Christmas decoration and a dash of dolly.

During the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. R. E. Dobbin, president, a request from Mrs. J. W. Edminster was accepted placing her on the inactive list of the roster. Mrs. G. L. Craddock was elected to the office of secretary, thus filling an unexpired term.

Those members in attendance who have not been mentioned were: Mmes. Ross Buzzard, G. L. Craddock, Philip Gates, L. H. Hart, W. L. Hasse, E. L. Henderson, V. L. Hobbs, Rufe Jordan, Ronald Merrill, Doyle Osborne, N. D. Steele, and Michael Wilson.

The club will meet Nov. 27 in the home of Mrs. Doyle Osborne at 2107 N. Russell.

'Americanism' Is Topic At Wilson PTA Meeting

A Flag Ceremony conducted by Cub Scout Pack 109 opened the meeting of Woodrow Wilson P-T-A in the school auditorium recently.

The Cubs led the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance after presenting the "colors." Steven Carter was flag bearer for the United States Flag and Mike Poole carried the Texas state flag.

Mrs. Calvin Hogan, president, called the meeting to order and Mrs. Melvin Clark, secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. J. C. Morris read the treasurer's report in the absence of Mrs. J. H. Gallman, treasurer. The membership approved by voice vote the recommendation of the Executive Committee that we have a frame made for the copy of "Texas, Our Texas" which had been presented to the school by Tracy Cary. Mrs. Hogan stated that the Texas State P-T-A convention would be held in Fort Worth Nov. 14, 15 and 16. The members approved Mrs. Dan Cotton and Floyd Smith to represent Wilson at this convention which will elect new officers for the state organization and work on the legislative program for 1963.

Mrs. Dan Cotton, program chairman, introduced Cameron Marsh, Pampa High Principal, who gave an interesting and inspirational talk on "Americanism."

He told how in teaching American History and Government for 25 years, he realized that our schools taught something about Nazism, Socialism, Communism and Fascism but taught very little of Americanism. He decided that we should take a more positive approach and show how our form of government was far superior to totalitarianism. He told how the writers of our Constitution worked to give us something that people had been searching for through thousands of years of tyranny and oppression — a form of government that would allow each individual freedom. He asserted that a "Fundamental Belief in God" was the foundation of our liberties. The pillars of political rights; the right to vote freely, to move about freely, to trial by jury, the right to habeas corpus, the right to privacy, the right to petition, the right to assemble, the right to free speech, the right to worship and the pillar of Economic Rights protected by our laws support "The American Way of Life." Without either pillar, we could lose our freedom. He closed his remarks by reminding us, "We are not fighting for Cuba nor Berlin but for a basic principle in which we believe — freedom for the individual, freedom and responsibility to be Americans."

Mrs. John L. Best's fourth grade room won room count and Mrs. Herbert Coker's second grade room won second place.

Ruth Millett Panel Decides That Beauty Is People-Deep

"Who is responsible for ugliness?"

That's the big question a panel made up of an architect, a city planning official, a landscape architect, and two interior designers, recently attempted to answer.

What the panel of experts decided, I don't know. But the question is one for us all to consider, because ugliness is made up of so many little things.

As parents we are responsible for ugliness when we neglect to teach our children not to litter, to use profanity, or to get by with any kind of juvenile vandalism.

As homemakers we are responsible for ugliness when we don't bother to learn that we can about beauty so that in every choice we make we pick the beautiful, rather than the ugly.

As citizens we are responsible for ugliness when we don't band together to preserve the natural beauty of our communities.

As individuals we are responsible for ugliness when we slavishly follow a fashion that we know is ugly but accept only because we are afraid not to follow the crowd.

There are so many different kinds of ugliness. There is the ugliness that springs from neglect. The ugliness that exists from lack of taste. The ugliness that comes from clutter. The ugliness that comes from wasting beauty instead of protecting it. The ugliness that comes from sameness and the stifling of individuality.

Baptists Set Meeting Here Tonight

Central Baptist Church of Pampa will host to the Palo Duro Association for a Sunday School Workers' Conference tonight. This meeting will include all Baptist churches in this area including Pampa, Panhandle, White Deer, Leiors, Borger, Fritch, Phillips, Skellytown and other neighboring churches.

The theme for this conference will be "Sunday School Organization and Enlargement" and there will be special conferences held for each age group. Ten separate conferences will be led by outstanding Sunday School workers in the association. This meeting will be under the direction of Rev. T. O. Upshaw, pastor of Central Baptist Church of Pampa, and Ronald Holloway, minister of education for First Baptist Church of Borger. Holloway is the Associational Sunday School Superintendent for the Palo Duro Association.

The evening's program will be concluded by the showing of a special film entitled "The Great Challenge." Board meetings will be held at 6:45 and the Sunday School conferences start at 7:30. The public is invited to attend this program.

Volunteers Are Capped

Pampa High School Volunteers were capped in an impressive ceremony Sunday afternoon in the First Methodist Chapel. Rev. Joe Allison, minister of the Highland Baptist Church, gave the invocation. Miss Joyce Prock played organ music and Miss Jean Holman sang a special number. Mrs. Jack Foster, chairman of the volunteers, gave the welcome address and told the group the background of Red Cross. She said, "The Volunteers are the latest group who will work for others through the American Red Cross. When high school girls become interested in serving people, then you have the nucleus of service when they are older."

Howard Graham was complimentary of the High School Volunteers and told the group of the work of high school boys and girls in the community. Miss Verneil Meador and Mrs. Raymond Linville, RNs from Highland General Hospital, with Mrs. Frank Harber, RN from Worley, capped the following: Misses Nancy Holt, Helen Hampton, Diana Hopler, Evelyn McCauley, Pat Rose, Darla Snow, Cheryl Teague and Karen Gist. Mrs. Libby Shotwell, executive secretary, ARC for Pampa Chapter, congratulated the chapter, the hospitals and the girls who had decided to serve in the hospitals as Volunteers. Rev. Jack Parker, assistant minister of the First Baptist Church, gave the benediction.

The Volunteers of last year presided at the Tea table after the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Mary Nell, Jenny Goff, Marilyn Davenport, Sharon Smith, and Carol Peoples.

Only five species of monkeys are actually equipped to swing by their tails.

Oh, my aching back

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation... with these restless uncomfortable feelings. If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain-relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes. So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable... with restless, sleepless nights... don't wait... try Doan's Pills... get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Doan's Pills today!

that all on the north bank of the Brahmaputra River be moved out "promptly" and those south of the river "urgently" consider getting women and children out of the area. The embassy said there are about 200 Americans in Assam, 140 of them women and children. About 70 live north of the river. The British Embassy said there are about 1,500 British nationals there, mostly planters and missionaries.

"It is my understanding that evacuation of some women and children on the north bank of the Brahmaputra began Monday night," said a British spokesman. Name Familiar Assam is a familiar name to American airmen who fought in that area during World War II. Its plains are dotted with air strips from which Americans flew the Ilump to China. Connected to the rest of India by a narrow neck of land wedged between Nepal and East Pakistan, Assam stretches east to the Burma border and west to Bhutan.

Either end of this border the Chinese are driving down in a giant pincer action. Assam's chief minister, Bima Prasad Chaliha, told of the worsening crisis in a radio broadcast Monday night. "We have great faith in our defense forces," he said. "Even then I should be frank and tell you that we should be prepared for the worst. This is our land and we were born in this land and we will die in this land as independent citizens."

Delens' Wrecked From all the evidence, India's northern border defenses were all but a shambles. After a month of war the Chinese Communists have knocked out a dozen Indian outposts in the Ladakh area, crushed two major Indian defensive positions at Se La Pass and Wang in the NEFA, staged a long-range flanking movement to capture Bomdila, and isolated an Indian division withdrawing from Se La Pass. It still was an undeclared war although angry members of parliament were pressing the prime minister hard to break diplomatic relations and declare war. Informed sources said the only thing preventing this was India's concern that the Chinese Communists might bomb such teeming cities as Calcutta. So far all the battling has been done on the ground.

Texas No. Four

Southern Cal Holds On To No. One UPI Rating

NEW YORK (UPI)—Southern California and Mississippi, two of only three perfect-record major college football teams in the nation, held the top two positions today in the United Press International Board of Coaches ratings, the Trojans gaining the No. 1 spot for the second week in a row.

With only two weeks remaining before the crowning of the national champion, a slip at this point in the race could very well mean down and out. Alabama, the defending national champion which was second a week ago, already has stumbled, bowing to Georgia Tech, 7-4, last Saturday for its first loss of the season and slipping all the way to sixth.

The Rose Bowl bound Trojans, named No. 1 by 16 coaches a week ago, increased their margin this week when they were named for the top spot by 21 of the 35 coaches who comprise the UPI rating board. Mississippi, like Southern California unbeaten and untied through eight games, was designated No. 1 by eight coaches but received enough solid support for second and third places to make it a race with the Trojans.

Close Behind
Wisconsin, Southern California's New Year's Day opponent in the Rose Bowl, trails in third, but not by much. The Badgers (7-1) were named No. 1 by five coaches while one coach picked Penn State for the top spot.

With points distributed on a basis of 10-8-6-4-3-2-1 for votes from first through 10th, Southern California had 223, Mississippi had 234 and Wisconsin had 278.

The big test comes this Saturday for both Southern California and Wisconsin while Mississippi, which gained the inside track to the Sugar Bowl by beating Tennessee, 16-4, last Saturday, enjoys a day off. The Trojans take on arch-rival UCLA in the 32nd renewal of their cross-town (Los Angeles) series while Wisconsin plays host to Minnesota, ranked fifth this week behind Texas.

UPI Ratings
NEW YORK (UPI)—The United Press International major college football ratings with first-place votes and won-lost records in parentheses:

Team	Points
1. Sou. Calif. (21) (8-0)	323
2. Mississippi (8) (8-0)	284
3. Wisconsin (5) (7-1)	270
4. Texas (8-0-1)	244
5. Minnesota (6-1-1)	171
6. Alabama (8-1)	149
7. Arkansas (8-1)	148
8. Louisiana State (7-1-1)	90
9. Penn State (1) (8-1)	78
10. Oklahoma (8-2)	56

Second 10-11, Washington 45; 12, Nebraska 27; 13, Georgia Tech 22; 14, Missouri 14; 15 (tie), Arizona State, Michigan State and Ohio State 10 each; 18, Duke 7; 19, Purdue 5; 20, Northwestern 2.

The Longhorns, too, have a tough opponent in Texas A&M on Thanksgiving Day. A victory or tie, though, would wrap up the Southwest Conference title for Texas and give it the automatic berth in the Cotton Bowl. The Longhorns (8-0-1) drew 244 points for fourth while Minnesota (6-1-1) had 171 for fifth.

Alabama Idle
Alabama also will be idle this Saturday and winds up its season on Dec. 1 against Auburn. On that same day Mississippi plays Mississippi State, while Southern California, shooting for its first perfect-record season in 30 years, tangles with Notre Dame.

Arkansas (8-1) was seventh this week, Louisiana State (7-1-1) was eighth, Penn State (8-1) was ninth and Oklahoma (8-2) was 10th. Penn State and Oklahoma moved into the top 10 for the first time this season, gaining their positions at the expense of Northwestern and Missouri.

Northwestern bowed to Michigan State, 31-7, while Missouri was beaten by Oklahoma, 13-0.

In the other pairings this Saturday, Arkansas plays Texas Tech, LSU meets Tulane, Penn

Longhorns, Aggies Meet In Thanksgiving Tiff

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Unbeaten Texas, which cleared the TCU hurdle Saturday, faces Texas A&M here Thursday in coach Darrell Royal's biggest blue chip season finale.

Royal said Monday his Longhorns "took care of our business" in a 14-0 blanketing of TCU and were not counting on help from SMU, which almost upset Arkansas to hand Texas a clear-cut Southwest Conference title and Cotton Bowl bid.

TCU's 8-0 upset over Texas last year spoiled an otherwise perfect Longhorn season.

If Texas, a 17-point favorite over A&M, rides over the Aggies it will give Royal his first undisputed SWC crown and Texas its first undefeated season since 1923.

Another Cotton Bowl appearance would make three in the past four years for the Steers, something done only twice before since the Cotton Bowl started in 1937.

Texas played in 1943-44 and '48 and TCU made it in 1956-57 and '59.

The Team
Royal said the team effort against TCU "was about as well as our defense is going to play." The Frogs were limited to only seven first downs and never crossed their own 40-yard line after a first period fumble gave them a chance in Texas territory. In preparing for the Aggies,

Royal said he would stress defense because it is "the only phase of football that has consistency... and I am certain it will win just as much."

The record book seems to bear out the defensive capability of the Longhorns in recent seasons. Not since TCU took Texas 20-8 in 1955 has a Texas team lost a game by more than a touchdown. Syracuse downed the Steers 23-14 in the 1960 Cotton Bowl but the margin came on two-point extra point plays.

22-1-0
After Rice downed Texas 7-0 in 1960, the Longhorns have rolled up 22 victories while losing only once and tying twice.

Royal said the Aggies have beaten themselves with mistakes in several games and no team has overpowered them. "When you eliminate mistakes, that's when you get an upset."

He said the 17-point spread established by the bookmakers is "a heck of a lot of points for a team that doesn't have much offense. It surprises me."

Royal hopes for good weather Thursday, because "unfavorable weather is an equalizer" for the underdog.

Ray Poage was listed as doubtful for the Aggie game, Royal said, because of an injured Achilles tendon in an ankle and tackle Gordon Roberts is "very doubtful" with a bad ankle. Ernie Koy will be available to punt, but will not return to his wingback spot, Royal said.

If Poage rounds into form, there will be no offensive alignment changes. Tommy Wade, who drilled Baylor with passes for 195 yards but directed a dominant ground game against TCU, will start again at quarterback.

Razorbacks Prefer Sugar Bowl Berth

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (UPI)—The University of Arkansas football players prefer to go to the Jan. 1 Sugar Bowl game at New Orleans, pending the Texas-Texas A&M game Thursday.

Texas will win the Southwest Conference championship and the right to host in the Cotton Bowl if it beats the Aggies.

Razorback publicist Bob Cheyne said Monday that all bowls were asked not to send invitations to Arkansas until after Thursday's game.

Cheyne said the players and coach Frank Broyles met Monday to discuss possible bowl games. "Although several possibilities were reviewed," Cheyne said, "coach Broyles and the players

Buffaloes Accept Sun Bowl Offer

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—The high-geared Buffaloes of West Texas State waited today for an opponent to be chosen for the 29th Sun Bowl football game here Dec. 31.

The Buffs, 8-2 for the season, accepted the hosts spot for the bowl Monday.

Area Winners Face Unbeaten In Bi-District

Two Top O' Texas football teams, Lefors and Wheeler, are matched in bi-district play with unbeaten teams.

The fracas between Lefors and unbeaten Sunray is slated for Pampa's Harvester Park this Friday night at 7:30.

Wheeler, in Class 5-B, is playing on Thanksgiving Day against a highly rated and favored Matador eleven. The game is scheduled for Clearendon at 2:30. Matador sports a 9-0-1 season mark.

The Sunray Bobcats, 10-0, are a defensive-minded team as well as an offensive cyclone with their passing quarterback, John Mark Worst, and their hard-running fullback, Johnny Johnson. The Bobcats have allowed 5.2 points per game while scoring 32.8 points a contest.

Lefors, owning a 7-2-1 season mark, are close to the Bobcats on defensive effort as the Pirates have allowed 6.8 points per game and scored 24.2.

Sunray, a definite favorite to win the game by the oddsmakers, may have their hands full when they meet the scrappy Pirates, providing all the Buccaneers are in top shape for the battle.

Jaycees Launch Basketball Play

The Pampa Jaycees were edged last night in their initial game, 47-25, launching the Jaycee Basketball League. Teams in the new league are Shamrock, Clearendon, and Memphis along with Pampa.

Shamrock downed the Pampans, 47-35, in Shamrock. Eddie Polnac, 12, Howard Anderson, 9, and Gary Frazier, 8, were the scoring leaders for Pampa. Other Pampa players are Benny Shackelford, John Warner, Dave Damron, and John Bird.

The teams will play each other four times playing on Monday nights. Next game for Pampa is this Monday night against Memphis in Pampa.

FIGHTS SEMIFINAL

ROME (UPI)—Isaac Logart of Cuba will meet Italy's Nino Benvenuti at the Sports Palace on Nov. 30. The bout will be a semifinal to the scheduled match between Carl (Bobo) Olson of San Diego, Calif., and European light heavyweight champion Gullio Rinaldi.

Logart requested that all bowl invitations should await the outcome of Thursday's game between Texas and Texas A&M. Should Texas win that contest and represent the Southwest Conference in the Cotton Bowl, Arkansas will then accept bowl offers.

"Razorback players did go on a record, however, as indicating a preference for the Sugar Bowl game," Cheyne said.

Arkansas would represent the conference if Texas loses to A&M, and if the Razorbacks defeat Texas Tech Saturday at Lubbock.

Arkansas has lost one game, to Texas, Texas was tied by Rice.

QB Club Slates

7:30 Meeting
Pampa's Quarterback Club will hold its weekly meeting tonight in the Pampa High school cafeteria at 7:30. The game film of the fracas between Pampa and the Plainview Bulldogs will be shown. Also, a scouting report on another Bulldog pack, the Berger Bulldogs, will be given.

3-2 Advantage

Russians Move Ahead In U.S. Basketball Tour

MOUNT PLEASANT, Iowa (UPI)—Soviet basketball players held a 3-2 advantage over U. S. squads today, and one key to the Russian success was teamwork.

The Soviet men scored an 83-82 victory over an American collegiate team Monday night to move into the lead in the cross country series for the first time.

The Soviet women continued their dominance of the distaff side by scoring their fifth consecutive victory with an 88-83 runaway over a U. S. team made up largely by Iowa Wesleyan College girls. The hard-fought men's game was not without its stars, but Soviet coaches and players demonstrated their emphasis on teamwork rather than individual performance.

Genady Volnov took on the hero's role for the Soviets when he fired an 18-foot field goal just as the final buzzer sounded for the victory. His teammates mobbed him and lifted him into their arms to toss him into the air a half dozen times.

Volnov, 6-7, was the top scorer for the Russians with 14 points. The men's game score was tied 10 times with the Soviet team holding a 49-49 halftime lead. The NAIA All-Stars went into a 30-28 lead shortly after the second half began and forged a 84-81 lead with just under 14 minutes to go.

The Russians did not regain the lead until about one minute remained on the clock. With only 10 seconds left, Danny Price, a former Oklahoma star, tied the game with one free throw and put the Americans ahead by one point when he dumped in his second shot.

The Soviets rushed down the court and lofted a shot at the basket, but it missed. In a scramble for the rebound, Volnov got the ball and tipped in the game-winning basket.

Cecil Tuttle, 6-2 guard from Georgetown College in Kentucky, led the Americans with 13 points. Price and Lucious Jackson of Pan American (Tex.) College each had 18.

Liston To Buy Chicago Home

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, who charged last month that Philadelphia police were prejudiced against him, was scheduled to fly to Chicago today and purchase a home there.

Liston and his wife, Geraldine, plan to move to their new Chicago home next weekend, a close friend disclosed. They have been living about three years in West Philadelphia, where they own a brick house.

The friend decided to blame Philadelphia police for Liston's shift to Illinois. He said Sonny had become very fond of Chicago, where he won the title from Floyd Patterson on Sept. 25, and where "the people treated him just wonderful."

Last year he was arrested for loitering on a street corner and later for impersonating a police officer while driving through a park. On Oct. 5 he was picked up in Fairmont Park when allegedly under the influence of alcohol while driving.

It was then that Liston charged the Philadelphia police were prejudiced against him.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "This is where the action is," said Robert Q. Lewis when he came last year from New York to be a disc jockey, but you could tell he longed for the whiff of a good smelly subway.

He brought along a Rolls-Royce and a white poodle, he joked that he needed the job, and he raised Cain here by billing himself as "the world's worst disc jockey." Yet I will gladly wager he was in seventh heaven Monday when, back in his native New York again, he took over as permanent host of NBC-TV's "Play Your Hunch."

It was in that city that he became, for years, a fixture of network radio and television with an informal, anything-goes approach that made him one of the most likeable of the daytime hosts. In addition to his own shows, he often sat in for the best daytime master of ceremonies that ever came down the pike, Arthur Godfrey.

Back at a regular network grind again Monday, Robert Q. was the old pro. It's a quiz show, which limits the range he once had. But the program's former emcee, Merv Griffin, used it to display his various abilities — and, with the help of a guest-host stint on "Tonight," this fall was awarded his own afternoon variety show.

Lewis, at his best, is a funny fellow, pleasantly irreverent and genuinely friendly. Though a program like "Play Your Hunch" can do only so much, it will live up a bit when Lewis unleashes more irreverence and informality than he did Monday; obviously he is in the stage of letting his audience get acquainted with him anew.

He made some happy moments, though, out of a talk with a little girl who said she was from "New York Jersey." And he sparked up quite a bit more when a big girl an "Australian singer, came on. That's Robert Q. all right. A Rolls, a poodle and an eye for talent.

Last year, speaking of Godfrey, Garry Moore and some of the other old hosts, Lewis said: "All of us are radio babies. We gripe, but we're never happier than when we're on the air every day projecting our own self-idealized images. Moore got his night-time show but begged CBS to put him on radio 18 minutes a day. Godfrey went through cancer but kept his radio show."

On the entertainment side, Robert Q. would do well to toss in some of his proven, if modest, showmanship. Some of his determined singing, hoofing — and maybe even a sketch now and then — could make "Play Your Hunch" the brightest quiz program around, especially with its big-name guest-star policy (Jane Russell today, for instance).

At any rate, Robert Q. has taken his first step back into the real big-time, and it must seem a long way from the August day of last year when, newly arrived in Hollywood, he plunked down for an interview on the patio of a Sunset Boulevard restaurant and said: "You couldn't have picked a bigger star." The nice thing about him was that he was probably the only guy in town who didn't really mean it.

India Has 335 Million Illiterates In A Population Of 400 Million

NEW DELHI (UPI) — As many as 335 million of India's total population do not know how to read or write.

This was revealed by Census Commissioner A. K. Mirtra, who recently announced the final total of the 1961 headcount as 439,235,462 persons, including 226,293,620 males and 212,941,842 females. Of these, he said only 77,828,162 men and 27,505,118 women are literate.

Mirtra gave the following additional information: —The best educated of India's 15 states is the communist stronghold of Kerala where 50 per cent of the people are literate. The literacy ratio between men and women is 60-40.

—Another strongly communist state, West Bengal, ranks second with 36 per cent.

—The most thickly populated state is Prime Minister Nehru's home province of Uttar Pradesh.

But here, only 1-4 of the people are literate.

—The most backward states educationally are disputed Kashmir and Jammu and the former princely state of Rajasthan. Less than 1-7 of the population can read or write in these regions.

Mirtra said India's population had increased by about 21 per cent in the past 10 years. He warned that serious danger was in the offing if this "phenomenal" increase was not checked.

He said population was growing because of "elimination of famines, epidemics and wasting diseases like malaria."

The commissioner placed India's average life expectancy at 45. Under the British regime it was 32.

He said the statistics indicate girls in the first few years of life suffer from greater neglect than boys.

A heavy toll of female lives is still taken in the earlier reproductive ages (15-34), he said.

Mirtra said: "On the assumption of a round figure of 3,000 millions as the population of the world in 1961, and an inhabited land area of 135.6 million square kilometers, India accounted for about 2.4 per cent of the world's land area but 16.6 per cent of the world's population.

"In population, India is second in the world only to China."

Firm Is Developing 'Triple-Threat' Vehicle

DALLAS (UPI)— Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., is developing a triple-threat combat vehicle for the U.S. Army that rides "on air" to transport 10-men over any kind of surface and through any type of weather.

A spokesman for Chance Vought Corp., a subsidiary of LTV, said today that the firm is under contract to continue work on its unique PATA (Plenum Air Tread Amphibian) vehicle for the Army's Transportation Research Command at Ft. Eustis, Va.

The PATA, when completed, will have a speed of 50 miles an hour on smooth surfaces and 30 miles an hour on water.

It operates on a continuous track of air-filled rubber cells which give it high flotation capabilities and permit it to ride rapidly over soft and watery terrain where other vehicles bog down. The PATA is designed to climb a 60 per cent grade and to operate on a 30 per cent slide slope.

The PATA's preliminary design is a one-and-one-fourth ton, 10-man experimental test vehicle built for rapid over-the-shore troop supply and for operation from jungles to arctic regions and from swamps to mountainous terrain.

The Army hopes to use PATA as a personnel carrier, logistic carrier, amphibious resupply carrier and arctic and desert exploration vehicle.

Weighing about 3,000 lbs. empty the PATA will be light enough for delivery by helicopter and cargo plane and for air drop by parachute.
