Bunny' Shultz Dies Yesterday; Rites Saturday

A heart attack while moving in his new home in Fort Worth yesterday proved fatal to Bernard Shultz (Bunny) Shultz, a long-time Pampa resident. Mr. Shultz was moving to Fort Worth from Pampa at the time the attack, which came before the move was completed. He was employed by the Hughes Companies in the accounting department. Mr. Shultz was born September 1909, at Arnett, Okla. He died about 4 p.m. yesterday. His residence in Pampa was at 632 N. Hills Street. He was a past president and lifetime member of the Pampa Lions Club, a past District Governor of Lions Clubs, and had a year perfect attendance record. Mr. Shultz directed and was instrumental in the Lions Club Mingle here for several years. He was also a past president of the Pampa Boosters Club. Mr. Shultz was a member of the First Christian Church. Survivors include his wife, Gerline; his father, G. W. Shultz, Okemah, Okla.; his mother, Mrs. (See SHULTZ, Page 2)

'New Frontier' Legislation At Stake 'Second Battle Of Rules' Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration leaders in the House today began mustering their troops for the "second battle of rules." Opposing conservative forces launched their drive for recalcitrant days ago. The struggle, which President Kennedy has said may mean life or death for New Frontier legislation, is tentatively set for Jan. 3, opening day of the 88th Congress. Technically, the question is whether the "traffic-cop" House Rules Committee shall be composed of 15 members or 12. Practically, the issue is whether Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Miss., or Rules Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., will decide what controversial issues shall be put to a vote in the House. Fought Same Battle The same battle was fought, on the same ground, between Smith and the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., at the start of the 67th Congress two years ago. Rayburn won, but on a close vote and after heavy blood-letting. McCormack, until Thursday, had let Smith do all the talking. He finally made his announcement by indirection. Through a routine caucus call he let the word go out that he was ready to fight. Democratic House members were advised to attend a party caucus Tuesday, Jan. 8, to establish among other things a party position on rules of the 88th Congress. This, in effect, was McCormack's notification that he will seek a showdown with Smith. According to party leaders the outcome will decide who is going to be the real boss of the House during the next two years. Under its old 12-man makeup, the committee for some years had been under effective control of a conservative coalition of Smith, Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., and four Republican members. Delayed Organization With the coming of Kennedy's New Frontier in 1961, Rayburn decided to restore control of the committee to the Democratic leadership. He delayed organization of the House for almost a month while he put together the votes to enlarge the committee to 15 members. Of the three additional members, he picked two pro-Kennedy Democrats, while the Republican leaders picked one member from their party. That gave Rayburn, and later McCormack, a shaky 8-7 majority and sufficient control of the committee to obtain final consideration of a number of key measures on Kennedy's must list. To win his battle by a 217-212 vote, Rayburn limited the expansion proviso to a single Congress. In the new Congress, Smith is out to cut back the committee to its former size, thus restoring conservative control. Kennedy said recently his program would be "through" if McCormack lost the fight. Privately, key House Democrats have been saying the same thing. They also say McCormack's reputation as a leader is at stake. His friends believe McCormack can win but that the outcome will be close.

Castro Said Fighting For His Political Life In Cuba

MORE THAN 20 members of the Pampa Key Club took over the job of stuffing 10,000 envelopes for the March of Dimes drive last night in the basement of the First Methodist Church. This mail, which will cover Pampa and Gray County contains information on Polio, Arthritis and Birth Defects, and an envelope which may be used to mail in contributions. The information places emphasis on arthritis and birth defects, as polio is almost conquered, which was made possible by contributions during the past years. Pictured above are eight of the Key Club members doing their part on the assembly line stuffing. They are from left Richard Klotz, Ray Wagner, Price Dosier III, Guy Nanney, Hank Henry, James Shelton, Gary Steiger and Larry Hoppe. (News Photo)

Bearded Dictator's 'Image' Destroyed

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY
UPI Latin America News Editor
Smuggled dispatches from Western diplomatic and other reliable sources in Cuba reported today that Fidel Castro is battling for his political life. The dispatches, delivered in New York, reported that his image has been damaged, perhaps irreparably, by Nikita Khrushchev's unilateral decision to remove Russian rockets and bombers and their crews from Cuba. The Soviet action enraged Castro's student followers, the dispatches said, and he was reported having trouble keeping them in line. Cuba's 7-million people, meanwhile, were described as increasingly restless over prolonged shortages. The dispatches said there was continued anti-Castro activity in the interior but described it as scattered and ineffective. More serious for Castro, they said, was growing discontent among the peasantry. The dispatches cited "unconfirmed reports in Havana of similar discontent within the armed forces. Nightly Visits Reported Castro was said to be visiting his alma mater, the University of Havana, almost nightly to keep his student followers from open street protests against what they term "Soviet treason." The dispatches cited protest rallies within the university, not only against Khrushchev but against university Rector Juan Marinello, veteran president of the Cuban Communist party for 40 years. Diplomats said that the internal crisis in Cuba provoked by Khrushchev's action also has caused a cleavage in Cuban Communist ranks. Such party stalwarts as Ernesto (Che) Guevara, generally credited with having been instrumental in getting the rockets and bombers into Cuba, was described as "enraged" over the Russian role. Long a sympathizer of Red China in its ideological clash with Soviet communism, Guevara was said now to be openly pro-Peking in his political attitude. Earlier Information Confirmed The dispatches confirmed earlier information from Havana of serious differences between Castro and Anastas Mikoyan, the Soviet deputy first premier, in their recent "peace talks" in the Cuban capital. The dispatches said that Castro's failure to personally attend more than the first two sessions of talks was because he expressed himself on the subject of Russia in terms which Mikoyan considered offensive. The Cuban leader, the dispatches said, ignored several Mikoyan overtures for a withdrawal or modification of the phraseology used. The consensus among Western (See FIDEL, Page 2)

Second Reading Of Ordinance Scheduled

Second reading of an ordinance calling an election Jan. 31 for the purpose of amending Pampa's city charter is scheduled at a special meeting of the City Commission at 7 p.m. today in City Hall. The proposed amendments in the ordinance would provide methods of extending the city limits and for the election of a mayor pro tem. The ordinance was passed Tuesday night on first reading by a 3 to 2 vote of commissioners. Lloyd Simpson of Ward 1 and Will Graham of Ward 2 opposed holding the election on Jan. 31. Commissioners L. P. Fort of Ward 4 and Leon Holmes of Ward 3 voted for the ordinance and Mayor E. C. Sidwell cast an affirmative vote to break the tie. City Manager Harold Schmitzer said today he was under the impression the charter amendment ordinance would be the only item of business tonight. Another meeting of the commission is scheduled for Monday, New Year's Eve, for third reading of the ordinance. A petition containing between 700 and 800 names, which has been in circulation for several days, may be presented to the commission asking that additional amendments be placed on the ballot for the Jan. 31 election. The petition asks that the method of electing city commissioners be changed so that all voters in the city would vote on commissioner candidates who must be residents of the wards they seek to represent. It also calls for a method of alternating commissioners for six month periods in the role of mayor pro tem.

Red Cross Seeks Bigger Ship For Haul To Cuba

MIAMI (UPI)—The Red Cross was searching today for a ship bigger than the 10,000-ton African Pilot to take more ransom goods to Cuba and possibly bring out another load of refugees. And President Kennedy, after talking with leaders of the ill-fated Cuban invasion, was making plans to fly to Miami Saturday and address an expected 80,000 Cuban exiles in Miami's Orange Bowl. The African Pilot left last Saturday with 1,800 tons of medical supplies and foodstuffs and returned Thursday with 922 relatives of the Cuban invasion prisoners. The Red Cross said thousands of relatives still in Cuba are eager to leave and that Premier Fidel Castro has made a firm offer to release them. "We are making preliminary arrangements to get another ship to take freight to Cuba but nothing firm has been worked out yet," said Red Cross spokesman Roy Johnson. He said there are 37 carloads of supplies at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to help pay the remainder of the ransom demanded by Castro, for the release of the 1,112 prisoners who returned here earlier this week. At the same time, Enrique Ibañez of the Cuban Families Committee said he hoped any ship taking freight into Cuba could bring back relatives of the freed prisoners. He said Thursday's group was only "the first load" and that 4,000 of the prisoners' relatives are making preparations for the one-way trip to the United States. The 822 relatives who arrived Thursday as a "Christmas bonus" to the ransom deal stepped off the African Pilot with only the clothes on their backs. They told how Cuban militiamen had forced them to stand in a two-mile-long line for 12 hours on a Havana wharf beside the African Pilot.

Expense Account Rules Eased By Internal Revenue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has eased its expense account rules so they "won't hurt anybody who hasn't been trying to get away with something." IRS Commissioner Mortimer Caplin said Thursday night that after Jan. 1, taxpayers would need receipts to prove deductions of more than $25 a day for business travel, entertainment and gifts. When the service first announced its controversial proposals last November, it set a $10 limit on the amount of expense account living that could be claimed daily without receipts. This raised a great protest from businessmen. The limit was raised, Caplin said, "after listening to comments at public hearings and when our own agents agreed that up to $25 was more appropriate." Under the new requirements "a person would almost be inviting fraud charges if he made deliberate overstatements. It would be quite unwise for anyone to fabricate such records," he said. Individuals would be allowed 30 days and companies up to three months to convert to the new record-keeping requirements, Caplin said. As a conservative estimate, Caplin said, "the Treasury will save about $100 million a year." But he said he actually expected an even greater tax yield. Youth Admits Committing 4 Burglaries

Police Chief Jim Conner said today confessions to four burglaries in the past week or two had been obtained from 19-year-old Charles P. Burkard of Sioux Falls, S. D. Burkard, who has been in Pampa for several months, is a probation violator, police said, from a service station burglary committed here last July 16. Police Captain Denny Roan said he took a confession from Burkard in which the youth admitted burglarizing Ogden and Son's service station and store, 501 W. Foster; two burglaries at the Roberts and Rhoten station, 623 W. Foster, and the Ensey service station, 501 S. Cuyler. Captain Roan said Burkard was on probation for the July 16 burglary of the Ensey station. Chief Conner said shortly before noon today that Burkard would be taken before District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich this afternoon for a hearing on the probation violation.

Three Hurt in Accident Early Today

Three servicemen on their way to Missouri for the New Year holiday were injured in a car accident at the intersection of Wilks and Dwight streets shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. The three, taken to Highland General Hospital, were injured when their 1955 Ford car was in collision with a 1961 Buick driven by Mrs. Geneva Clark Gobin, 55 S. Dwight. They are Larry Plesier, Fort Knox, Ky.; Harold L. Hamilton, Fort Knox, and Jerome D. Roux, Bonn Terre, Mo. Plesier, driver of the car in which the servicemen were riding, suffered an injured right knee. Roux, who was asleep in the front seat, received face lacerations and Hamilton suffered an injured left side and possible broken ribs, police said. The accident happened, according to Patrolman Preston Bailey, when Mrs. Gobin, driving in the left lane and headed west on Wilks, failed to see the approaching Ford. Both cars were heavily damaged, police stated. Hamilton and Plesier were taken to the hospital in Patrolman Bailey's patrol car and Roux was taken in a Duemkel-Carlisch ambulance.

Americans Start New Year Trips

By United Press International
Millions of Americans will take to the highways tonight for the start of the four-day New Year's holiday. The National Safety Council estimated that from 420 to 480 persons would die and from 18,000 to 21,000 would be injured during the holiday period. The holiday period begins at 6 p.m. local time and ends at midnight New Year's day. State and local authorities, shocked by the number of highway deaths during the long Christmas holiday, went all out in promoting safety on the highways and streets this weekend. As independent stevedores defied ILA pickets and unloaded bananas from the Swedish freighter Brita Thornden at Galveston, Tex., Thursday night, four shots were fired and one bullet hit a man who had crossed the picket line. Ben Klime, head of the firm receiving the bananas, was standing only two feet away. The worker, Robert L. James, 37, was hospitalized with an ankle wound. Galveston police said they had no clues in the shooting, and made no arrests. An attorney for the receiving firm, the Texas Forwarding Co., said he will seek a court injunction to prevent ILA picketing of other ships due to be worked by the independents. One was expected to dock today.

Negotiations Resume In Dock Strike

NEW YORK (UPI)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz meets today with shipping industry representatives, starting a new round of negotiations to settle the longshoremen's strike. Elsewhere along the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico coasts, the six-day walkout, by dockworkers was marked by gunfire, threats of court action and union efforts to keep stray locals in line with national strike policy. Wirtz, who presided over bargaining sessions until the talks collapsed last week, said he would confer with negotiators for the New York Shipping Association (NYSA) today. He planned to meet with International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) officials Saturday. "It is imperative in the national interest that negotiations be resumed," Wirtz declared. The strike has frozen movement of most dry cargo in and out of ports from Maine to Texas. Delfy ILA Pickets As independent stevedores defied ILA pickets and unloaded bananas from the Swedish freighter Brita Thornden at Galveston, Tex., Thursday night, four shots were fired and one bullet hit a man who had crossed the picket line. JFK Will Speak To 'Brigade 2506'

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—President Kennedy has decided to step personally into a highly emotional situation in South Florida to dramatize this country's intention to help upset the Cuban regime of Fidel Castro. The chief executive will fly to Miami Saturday by helicopter to speak to the assembled survivors of "Brigade 2506," the military organization of Cuban refugees so badly routed in the abortive 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion. More than 1,100 of the men were ransomed from Castro prisons this week with an estimated $70 million worth of medical supplies, food and credit for the Communist government of Cuba. The formation of Brigade 2506 for inspection by the President will take place at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the 80,000-seat Orange Bowl stadium where families and friends of the recently liberated captives are expected to gather by the thousands. Visited by Leaders The chief executive will speak at the end of what promised to be an emotional ceremony. Arrangements for his appearance were made late Thursday by a delegation representing the prisoners. The six members of the group, most of them lean and graced with 20 months of Cuban prison squalor, spent 70 minutes talking with Kennedy at the Palm Beach residence where he and his family are spending the holidays. The men fresh from prison filth and suffering resembled a group of mourners in new black suits and unsmiling faces. The President did his best to make them feel at home, serving tall cool drinks in the patio of his residence and presenting the men to his wife, Jacqueline, who spoke with the delegation in fluent Spanish. Manuel Artime, 30, was the ranking civilian officer representing the Cuban Revolutionary Committee in Brigade 2506. He was such a firebrand that Castro demanded a $500,000 special ransom for him. Plan to Return In the brief period since his release, Artime has been calling for another and powerful invasion with hemispheric support. He said he did not raise this subject with the President, but stated fervently, "we shall return." The Cuban freedom fighters, who spoke little or no English and had to rely on a State Department interpreter, were highly gratified by Kennedy's statement to them that some day he, himself, hoped to visit a free Cuba. The veterans were so grateful for the behind-the-scenes role of the U. S. government in winning their release that they plan to give Kennedy their most precious possession—the brigade flag which flew over their ill-fated command post for three days in April 1961.

Jaycees Name Five Outstanding Young Texans

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce has named the Five Outstanding Young Texans for 1962. They are R. W. Linton, 32, of Harlingen; James Edwin Lyon, 35, of Houston; Guy King Jr., 31, of Waco; Edgar Franklin Foreman, 28, of Odessa; and Dr. Dwin Freeman Dodson, 34, of San Angelo. Jaycee president J. Robert Sheehy said the five were chosen because they have "through their initiative, demonstrated that success in our free enterprise system is still available to those individuals who strive to achieve it." A group of past presidents of the Texas Jaycees made the choices of the outstanding Texans. The five will be honored Jan. 12 at a banquet in Brownsville. The principal speaker will be Byron Tunnell of Tyler, past state and national officer of the junior chamber. Linton, president of the W. T. Linton Co., serves as a Harlingen city commissioner. He has contributed much to the community through civic work and his efforts in welfare groups. Lyon is an investor and active supporter of local, state and national political candidates. Foreman is an honor graduate in civil engineering and a U.S. congressman. King is creator of "Waco Will" a cartoon character which adds to the community spirit of Waco citizens. Dodson, a physician and pediatrician, is a diplomat of the American Board of Pediatrics and a member of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Aged Magistrate To Take Oath

PLATTSBURG, Mo. (UPI)—When Clinton County Magistrate R. Alexander takes his oath of office next week, he wants a fan fare. He will be starting a 13th year at the post. But, probably, a few will raise their eyebrows. Alexander is 103 years old. An assistant said "just the usual ceremony" was planned for the oath-taking. Alexander doesn't appreciate "follies" and celebrated his birthday Nov. 3 by working all day. He still drives his own car, manipulating the vehicle to work even over icy roads. "He works all day, every day, winter and summer," the assistant said. And for Alexander, a career as judge — which started when he was 80 — is just another adventure. He already had been a school teacher, lawyer, postmaster and newspaper man.

Bitter Weather Attacks Europe

LONDON (UPI)—For the sixth consecutive day bitter winter weather brought havoc and death to Europe today with forecasts for more snow and cold over the weekend. From Britain eastward to the Iron Curtain, from Lapland southward to the normally balmy Mediterranean, an unofficial count showed deaths attributed to the weather rose above 400 for the week. Although the airports were back to normal today, a Royal Automobile Club spokesman said roads in hard-hit southern England "resemble Alpine passes."

UN, Katanga Army Exchanging Gunfire

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (UPI)—United Nations and Katangese forces exchanged heavy gunfire, including mortar bursts, today after Katangese troops launched an attack on U.N. positions outside this secessionist capital.

"Numerous" casualties were reported in the gunfight—the second such clash between U.N. and Katanga troops in five days.

The U.N. command said it was preparing a counter-attack unless Katangese forces stopped firing. (In Leopoldville, capital of the Congolese central government, a U.N. statement said its troops had not fired on the Katangese at least up to about noon. This report appeared to be lagging behind events in Elisabethville due to slow communications.)

Military Censorship
(Communications with Elisabethville were spotty this morning and dispatches reaching United Press International from the city indicated some form of military censorship may have been imposed.)

(An Elisabethville dispatch with the heading "Cleared by military inf." said late this morning that President Moise Tshombe appeared to have lost all control over his army.)

The fighting apparently began after a heavy burst of rifle fire on the city's outskirts that signaled the start of an attack on U.N. positions.

Tshombe and his ministers were reported to have left the city this morning after failing in earlier attempts.

Action Expected
"You can stand by for some action today," a U.N. officer here said. "We will have to do some thing to stop them."

U.S. and British diplomats stepped in to try to halt the fighting. The U.N. gave civilian staff members three hours to pack up and fly out of the city.

The new clash broke out just

Dear Abby... In The Spirit Of Things!!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In these days when everyone is so eager to knock the teen-agers, I want to tell you about an experience I had with one. She is a 14-year-old neighbor girl who has sat with my children many times. A few days before Christmas I gave her a little gift. On Christmas Day I found the following note in my mailbox:

"Dear Mrs. Blank: I have no money to buy expensive Christmas gifts but I want to give you something, so this letter is good for one evening's babysitting. Love, Gloria"

Knowing that this little girl wanted to give something of herself meant a great deal to me. Sincerely, Mrs. Blank

DEAR ABBY: Women are always getting lectures on how they must be slim and trim if they want to get a man and hold him. So they pass up bread and desserts and count calories like crazy. But how about the men? You don't see them passing up a bottle of beer or anything good to eat. They aren't even ashamed. They stuff their faces and let their stomachs hang over their trousers tops. Who wants to kiss a walrus anyway?

HUNGRY DEAR HUNGRY: A lady walrus. Now eat something, dear, you'll feel better.

DEAR ABBY: I am a school teacher. Each Christmas I receive many gifts from students. Some good and some not so good. This year I received several things in poor taste, among them a pair of earrings with large multi-colored stones. They were hideous and I gave them to my wash woman. The other day the mother called me saying her daughter gave me "those lovely earrings" by mistake and she wanted them back. I told her I would "look for them," hoping she would forget it. She didn't. Yesterday I received a very ugly letter, demanding I return the earrings at once. What can I do? I can't tell her the truth. Is it proper to ask for a gift back? I'd hate to lose any job for a 29c piece of junk.

NEEDS HELP DEAR NEEDS: The child obviously gave you the earrings without her mother's knowledge. Buy another gift for your "wash woman" and explain the situation to her. Then, next time a child gives you a gift, "thank" the mother.

DEAR ABBY: My girl friend and I had a discussion about how old you are before you become an old maid. I say you become an old maid at 23 and remain an old maid until you are married. My friend says that you are not an old maid as long as you are still looking; you just haven't found the right person yet. Sign me—

WONDERING DEAR WONDERING: Technically, an old maid is a maiden lady who has never married. Maiden ladies have been known to marry at 88. Your friend is right. Until a lady gives up and quits looking, she is not an old maid.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 2365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Cold weather and overheated rooms can cause dry skin and chapped lips. This girl (left) keeps her lips soft and smooth by applying a lip emollient stick under her lipstick. She uses it once more, over her lipstick to give her lips a lustrous gloss. To keep her complexion lubricated during the winter, this girl (right) uses a lanolin-rich cream.

Don't Let Winter Mar Beauty

Extra care must be taken to keep your skin smooth and soft during winter, for inclement weather and over-heated rooms can cause dryness. Whether your skin is dry or oily, you should wash with soap and water once a day. Before you wash, remove your make-up with cleansing cream. If your skin is normally dry, be sure to use a thick cream, rich in lanolin. Should you have oily skin, you might want to try a new, lighter cleansing cream. One of its ingredients is a refined lanolin, which its makers claim, will nourish and lubricate the complexion.

A good night cream, applied with strong upward motions before bedtime, will do wonders to offset the drying effects of winter. Your lips, too, come into their share of chapping and splitting during the cold months, a condition that's painful as well as unattractive.

The solution to this dilemma doesn't lie in repeated applications of fresh lipstick, but in the regular use of a lip emollient. One new lip emollient stick is a two-way beauty treatment. Used before each application of color, it can soothe and soften the lips. Used again, over your lipstick, it will produce a gloss on the lips and protect them from the elements. According to the makers, it will not change the color of your lipstick or cause feathering. The stick comes in an elegant silver-and-gold swivel case that will make an attractive addition to your make-up wardrobe.

ASK THE DESIGNER by gaile dugas

Dear Gaile: I am taking a world cruise starting in December and lasting 3 1/2 to 4 months. I will go all the way via freighter, visiting Japan, Korea, Formosa, Hong Kong, the Philippines, and Thailand; East Indies, India and Arabia.

Will you kindly suggest a wardrobe for such a trip? Would it be practical to take a fur jacket or would a winter cloth coat be a better choice? Will a raincoat be necessary?

I want to limit my baggage to two wardrobe cases and an overnight bag. Will I need more summer or winter clothing? Any suggestions you can give me will be greatly appreciated.—H. E. R.

Dear H. E. R.: Because of her familiarity with the countries you're visiting and because of her very beautiful fashions, I have asked designer Vera Maxwell to answer your fashion questions. She says:

"First, you will need a bright colored warm cloth coat in mohair or a textured fabric with a skirt to match. (You might buy a Harris tweed.) Next, a raincoat. A plastic fold-up one is a MUST."

"Then, some cashmere or wool sweaters, a cotton dress, two dinner or afternoon dresses, a one- or two-piece jersey dress. You should have an extra sweater with matching skirt."

"Also, have a jersey stole made, about 28 inches wide and 2 1/2 yards long with fringed ends in any color that pleases you. Have a silk chiffon stole in the same dimensions without fringe. Both of these I have found invaluable as accessories."

"You'll need pretty shoes for dress-up and a comfortable pair of shoes for sightseeing."

Dear Gaile: My sister-in-law is to be married December 29th. She has asked me to serve at her reception. It is a formal military wedding and will be in the afternoon. I would like your help in choosing my outfit. I have brown hair and fair skin. I will have to wear the dress I chose both to church and to the reception later.—Mrs. R. F. L.

Dear Mrs. R. F. L.: Sylvia Kaplan of Nat Kaplan would like to see you choose a dress with a little jacket in a pale color, possibly green or yellow. The dress might be silk with a lace top. Wear the jacket to church and remove it for the reception. She says further:

"As you live in Florida, a pastel color would be very pretty for a December wedding. Have jewelry and gloves in white. Have a stiff little cage veil with bow in same color as your dress."

"When you buy the dress, ask for extra fabric and have shoes made of it. If this is not possible, then have shoes tinted to match."

Junior high and High school students exchanged gifts in the high school auditorium. School was then adjourned for the annual Santa Day Parade.

The Mature Parent Attention Housewives!

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Tonight, as she clears the table, Fran's mother will begin to complain about Fran's monopoly of the telephone. Gathering plates, she'll say:

"Just suppose someone is trying to phone me or dad? You've been talking for 20 minutes. You know perfectly well that grandma's been sick. Suppose she's trying to phone me? How long do you intend..."

Her hand over the receiver, Fran will shout, "Oh, Mother, will you PLEASE let me finish a phone call for once? Will you PLEASE be quiet a minute so I CAN finish it?"

Her mother, scraping dishes in the kitchen will think, "What's the use? Nobody ever pays any attention to what I want. All that counts is what other people want..."

Of course what she wants doesn't count. She hasn't told Fran what it is that she wants—help with the dinner dishes.

Like other harassed parents among us, Fran's mother doesn't dare to present an open, self-interested demand to her child. She asks for what she wants by the long way around. She uses concern with grandma's health to try and remove Fran from the telephone instead by a direct request for help with the dishes.

Her fear of asking is why she doesn't get. For when we fear to make open demands on children, our false demands convey falseness. Lacking the punch of the honest wish,

POLLY'S POINTERS WELCOME... To The 'Club' By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Your daily helpful hints are a blessing to me because domesticity and I were al strangers only a few short months ago. For 15 years I had on a world-traveling entertainer, thanks to you and your readers, my reluctance to become a housewife is a thing of the past. You offer a workable solution in using bottle-tops hardened with lected residue. Using an open jar as a vise to hold the bottle, set with the other hand while artlessly pulling the door closed, bringing with it unfailling story. Of course, the door used could be one of little or no visual tie. The section between the legs is used as a garage, back or even refrigerator door. It serves nicely. A comb that has worn its usefulness serves as a nail or tack holder while tapping with a hammer. MAHALO Thanks for your kind words. So glad to have you join our group with two good hints that would do justice to a homemaker of years standing.

POLLY DEAR POLLY — Few mail boxes are large enough to accommodate the many Christmas cards that come to all of us through the mail. I decorate a half-bushel basket with Christmas paper and paste a few of last year's cards around the sides. Write in large letters, on a card, "Mail Basket" and fasten this to the handle. Place near the mail box for the convenience of your faithful mail man.

MRS. B.C. DEAR POLLY—After shampooing your hair use a cup of stale beer mixed with a little water as a waveset lotion. It makes the hair have a pretty sheen and really holds the waves. SUSAN

It really does—so empty that leftover beer (after hubby has entertained the boys) into one container to save for your next shampoo. POLLY

DEAR POLLY — A most effective and simple way to remove asphalt and vinyl tile blocks that need to be replaced in a floor, is to hold a steam iron about one inch above the surface of the tile for a minute or two. Place a putty knife under the edge of the tile and work it out. J. M. F.

Shave your favorite homemaking ideas... send them to Polly in care of this newspaper. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

Green Bay, New York Battle For Supremacy

MURRAY OLDERMAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — Emotion leads every other factor in the New York Giants' challenge to the Green Bay Packers at the Stadium Dec. 28 for the right to be called the best team in the world.

"When I was in high school," he relates, "the coach said, 'I don't want any good losers.' I couldn't understand that because you know what they always tell you. But the Giants never go into a game expecting to lose. I think that's what he meant. It's a matter of mental attitude. To succeed in football, first you have to be a good winner."

the 37-0 drubbing in last year's big one has motivated him for the last 12 months. "I'm not that kind of guy," he shrugs. "Two weeks after a game, I can't be fit to be tied about it. But this is a very important game."

Giants Versus Packers

RUNNING — Jim Taylor gives Packers edge. Paul Hornung not in top shape, but Tom Moore is fine substitute. Alex Webster is only Giant threat, good short yardage man.
PASSING — Y. A. Tittle outclasses Bart Starr. He's better under pressure, more accurate on the long toss, particularly adept in setting up screens. Starr is smart field general.
RECEIVING — Again an advantage to Giants because of Del Shofner. But no one matches tight end Ron Kramer bulging for key third down yardage. Packers' Boyd Dowler has more speed than Frank Gifford, but not the Giant veteran's savvy.

Linebackers

LINEBACKERS — Giants are vulnerable at corners, with rookie Winter, older Scott. As unit, Packers have best line-backing in National Football League, featuring Forester and Currie at the corners. Big margin to Green Bay.
SECONDARY — Evenly matched. Green Bay's Jesse Whitton always does great job on Shofner. Adderley has been brilliant at halfback. But Giant corner men Barnes and Lynch are top hands, too. Jim Patton for New York, Wood for Green Bay are fine roaming safeties.

4 Major Bowl Games On Tap For Saturday

By United Press International
Close to 150,000 on-the-scene fans and the vast audience of television quarterbacks will view four games Saturday that kick off the two-week carnival of post-season bowl contests featuring the holiday season.

The biggest game of Saturday's schedule from the standpoint of competition pits Penn State (9-1) against Florida University (6-4) in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. A crowd of 50,000 is anticipated with CBS-TV beaming the event beginning at 7 p.m. EST.

The annual "heart tigger" also takes place, beginning at 4:30 p.m. EST in San Francisco and over NBC-TV when the East meets West in the annual Shrine Bowl game for the aid of crippled youngsters. Forty-eight collegians compete in this one — an annual charity affair that will attract 60,000 fans to Kezar Stadium.

Shockers Stop White Deer "B"

Robert Howard hit a season high of 20 points last night igniting Pampa's Shockers past White Deer "B", 47-36, in a tussle played in Robert E. Lee Gym.

The Shockers, now 10-2 for the season, will play Canadian "A" team tomorrow night in Harvester Fieldhouse with the game starting at 7 o'clock.

The White Deer cagers stayed within striking range of the Shockers throughout the first half with the Pampanas increasing their lead to 10 points at the end of the third quarter, 35-25.

Howard made the first five field goals for the Shockers in the first quarter while White Deer cashed in on seven free throws and two baskets to stay with the Shockers, 13-11, at the end of the first quarter.

White Deer fell into a slump in the second period of play, failing to score in the first four minutes of the quarter.

The Shockers padded their lead to six points by halftime, 21-15.

SWC Teams In Bad Night

By PAUL FREEMAN
United Press International
Win-wise, Tournament-wise and otherwise-wise it was a bad night for the Southwest Conference basketball reputation.

The University of Florida took a 66-57 victory over Rice University in the first game of the Gator Bowl tournament at Jacksonville, Fla.: Eastern Kentucky pushed past Texas Christian 69-65 in the Gulf South Classic at Shreveport, La.; and Loyola clobbered Arkansas 81-42 in the all-College Basketball tournament at Oklahoma City in games played Thursday night.

Arkansas plays Toledo in the Oklahoma City tournament tonight and Baylor also goes after a consolation victory against Creighton. TCU plays Northwestern in the consolation semifinals of the Gulf South tourney. Southern Methodist hosts Tulsa at Dallas, Texas Tech takes on the Illinois Oilers at Lubbock, Texas A&M meets Tulane at Jonesboro, Ark. in the Arkansas Classic and Texas meets Denver in the Sun Carnival Tournament at El Paso.

Arkansas managed to stem the Loyola tide in the first minutes of the game and held Loyola well beneath its pre-game average of 108.2 points per game. It was Loyola's lowest score of the season.

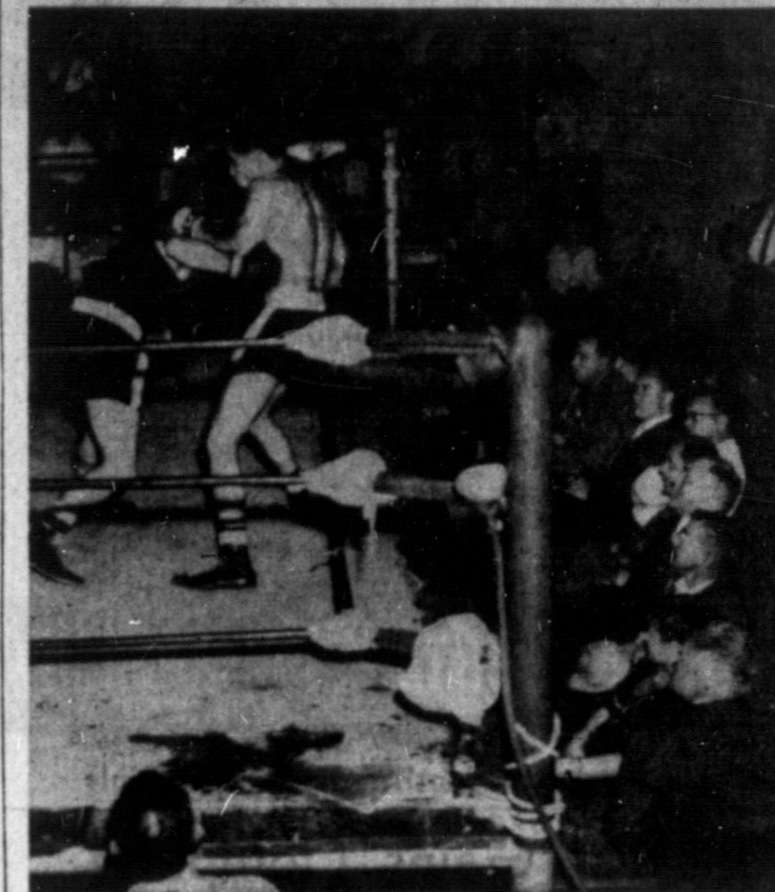

Jerry Harkness and Johnny Egan sparked Loyola to a 35-28 halftime lead. Harkness led Loyola with 22 points, while Arkansas' top man was Larry Wofford with 12.

Rice's 8-foot-10 center Kendall Rhine got 19 points in the Owls' losing effort against Florida but came out second best in scoring to Florida's Tom Baxley's 24 points. Florida led all the way and held a 31-22 edge at halftime. The Owls came on stronger in the second period and milled to 57-53 with 4 minutes and 22 seconds left but could not fire up a sustained drive.

Guard Jerry Wade paced TCU with a game-scoring high total of 20 points against Eastern Kentucky in a close match in the Gulf South tourney. Eastern Kentucky broke up a see-saw battle in the final minutes by getting six points during a five minute TCU scoring drought.

55TH YEAR FRIDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1962

FATHERS AND SONS are an important combination in the Optimist Boxing Program. Several fathers working in the Optimist boxing program have sons fighting. Ollie Wilhelm (man in the dark suit in the corner) gives encouragement to his son Gary in last Thursday's matches between Pampa and Clovis. Gary won a close decision over his opponent, Pete Esquibel. The Pampa Optimist Boxers will trade punches with Amarillo-Canyon fighters tomorrow night in Optimist Boys Club building starting at 8 o'clock.

Tomorrow Night — Optimist Boxers Battle Tough Canyon Ringmen

Fresh from a victory over a rugged Clovis boxing team, Pampa's Optimist Boxing Club will host another formidable foe in the Canyon-Amarillo team this Saturday night with the bouts starting at 8 p.m.

Weigh in time for the boxers will be at 6 p.m. with the matches to be held in the Optimist Boys Club Building.

Several top-notch bouts have been tentatively matched, according to Cliff Dunham, director of the Optimist boxing program.

Johnny Ironmonger against George Arrendondo could well be the featured bout of the evening. The two fighters, tentatively slated to battle each other, are both experienced leather slingers with established reputations in the ring. Arrendondo of the A-C team, has won two regional Golden Glove championships in the high school division and will be fighting in the open division this year.

Ironmonger is pegged in some circles as a definite possibility to win both regional and state honors this year. The boys will fight in the 135-pound division.

Another promising bout tentatively matched pits Dickie Wills and A-C's Albert Moline. Wills won an impressive victory in his last fight against Clovis' Clarence Archie.

These two and other tentative fights will be confirmed after the weigh-in session.

Harvesters In Rematch With Yellow Jackets

FT. WORTH (Spl) — Pampa's Harvesters tacked the hides of another Ft. Worth team to the wall last night as the Pampanas blasted Carter-Riverside, 77-39, in the Ft. Worth Tournament.

Pampa's Harvesters, 13-1 for the season, take on the Arlington Heights Yellow Jackets tonight at 9 o'clock for the second time this season in what promises to be one of the best games of the tournament. The winner of the semifinals contest will advance to the finals and will tangle with the winner of the Poly Tech-Eastern Hills tussle also slated for tonight.

Fast Break
"Our fast break looked as good as it has all year," Coach Terry Culley stated following the 77-39 lopsided victory over Carter-Riverside. The Pampanas tore the Ft. Worth team's zone defense to shreds with the fast break.

Keith Swanson paced Pampa scorers in the victory with 20 points and Randy Matson led the rebounding with 18. Gary Sikes pulled down 12 rebounds.

Double Figures
All five starters scored in double figures for Pampa with Matson scoring 15, Gordon Balch, 11, Sikes, 10, and Kreis 10. Swanson led both teams in scoring with his 20 points.

Kreis made seven assists in the battle. The Pampanas out-rebounded the Ft. Worth team, 49-26. The Harvesters shot 55 per cent, hitting 33 of 61 field goal attempts. From the free throw line, Pampa hit 11 of 19 for 58 per cent.

The Pampanas walloped the Ft. Worth cagers from the beginning as the Harvesters owned 20-9 and 43-17 leads at the end of the first quarter and at half respectively.

Second Unit
Coach Terry Culley once again played his second unit freely in the fracas.

Pampa's foe for tonight, Arlington Heights, was favored a long with Pampa to win the tournament. The Harvesters downed the Yellow Jackets, 51-45, to win the Top O' Texas Tournament last Saturday night in Pampa.

Arlington Heights has three tall boys in Jeff Saari, 6-8, James Anhele, 6-5, and James Belknap, 6-5. Belknap was selected to the Top O' Texas all-tournament team.

People Revere Bible, Don't Understand It

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Bible is more revered than read because most people do not know how to read it with understanding, says a leading Bible scholar.

The Rev. Dr. Leander E. Keck, assistant professor of the New Testament at the Divinity School of Vanderbilt University, said that as a result, the Bible is the most neglected resource of modern times.

"Taking the Bible seriously involves more than simply reading it piously," he said. "It may be better to argue with the Bible than to shrug it off."

Keck presents an argument for learning about the Bible by questioning it in an essay on "Taking the Bible Seriously" published in book form by Haddam House, a branch of Association Press, the publishing department of the YMCA.

One way to participate actively in reading the Bible, Keck said, is to write comments in the margins. Another way is to check the Bible from time to time, going back to historical material and various references.

"There is no need to argue that many people find the Bible to be a problem," Keck wrote. "The fact that year after year it manages to top the best-seller list hides the fact that most readers have serious difficulties with it."

Despite a flood of modern translations and paraphrases of the Bible, Keck said, the average English-speaking person still does not understand it. He finds the basic trouble is the language — strange words and phrases. Another difficulty he cited lies in the fact that today's Bible readers live in a different world than the one that existed when the scriptures were written.

"There is still a deeper level on which we have difficulty grasping what the Bible intends to say," he added.

For example, Keck cited the term "spirit." He said it has lost most of its original content, although the word "spiritual" is used to designate an intangible such as loyalty or love. People still talk about "God's being up in heaven," he said, but "actually we probably doubt if heaven is a place, and we are not at all sure that it would be up there."

Keck pointed out that the Bible is not the only Scripture available to mankind. The Koran is the Scripture for Islam, he said, and the Buddhist religion has the Gita.

To Keck, the significant aspect of the problem of reading the Bible involves more than understanding. It involves also the ability to believe that the Bible has anything decisive to say to the people of today.

"In other words, can the Bible continue to be our Scripture?" he asked. "Can we take it seriously enough for it to affect our lives and shape our culture? Or has the modern world made it both incomprehensible and unbelievable?"

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Book Our Mothers Read—the Bible

For America's churches, 1962 marked the end of an era. It was an era in which "religion" achieved unprecedented popularity, and church membership rose at a spectacular rate. Since 1946, when the postwar "religious revival" got under way, American churches have gained about 42 million new members.

For 15 consecutive years, the annual growth in church membership substantially exceeded population growth. During this period, the proportion of Americans affiliated with religious bodies increased from less than one-half to nearly two-thirds.

To make room for the influx of new members, churches embarked on the biggest building boom in their history. Expenditures for church construction, which had totaled less than $200 million in 1946, rose to a level of $1 billion annually in the late 1950's.

The Yearbook of American Churches, the most authoritative compilation of religious statistics, gave clear warning last year that the tide was beginning to ebb. Its figures showed that church membership gains were only slightly greater than population growth.

The new Yearbook of American Churches is out this week. It reports that church membership gains, for the first time since World War II, have fallen below the rate of population growth. To be precise, church membership rose 1.4 per cent, while the national population was increasing by 1.6 per cent.

This means that the proportion of church members in the U. S. population actually has declined—only a fraction of one percentage point to be sure—but enough to mark the end of the era of rapid and easy growth.

Just Beginning
Those who saw a "religious revival" in the rosy statistics of the 1950's may mourn its passing.

But there are others who believe that American churches are only now beginning to experience a genuine revival.

The flocking of people to the churches following World War II was a type of crisis religion, a shallow demonstration of popular piety without any real depth of concern," says Rev. Dr. Arthur Vincent, a Missouri Synod Lutheran leader.

"Today we find that religion is not quite so popular among the masses. But instead, we are discovering a new depth of religious conviction."

But there are others who believe that American churches are only now beginning to experience a genuine revival.

FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GOD

The Road That Jesus Trod

Matthew 7:13-14 Enter ye in at the straight gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat. Because straight is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

Then said one unto Him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And He said unto them, strive to enter in at the straight gate; for many I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

Some take the road of least resistance, trying to avoid trials and testings. Trying to find favour with all men, even if they must sacrifice some Godly convictions. In 2 Timothy 4:16-17 The Apostle Paul said, at my first answer no man stood with me (meaning, at my first trial no one acted in my defense, as my advocate, or took my part), but all men forsook me. Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me.

While some choose the road of least resistance, Christ chose the road of greater results. He was willing to suffer to bring results to the kingdom of God. He came unto His own people and they rejected Him and said, Crucify Him, Crucify Him. And they even said, let His blood be on us and on our children. There was never a greater sacrifice, and there was never greater results.

The greater the sacrifice, the greater the results. Paul said, that I might know Him, and the power of His resurrection, and in the fellowship of his suffering. It was Jesus that said, If ye suffer with me, ye shall also reign with me.

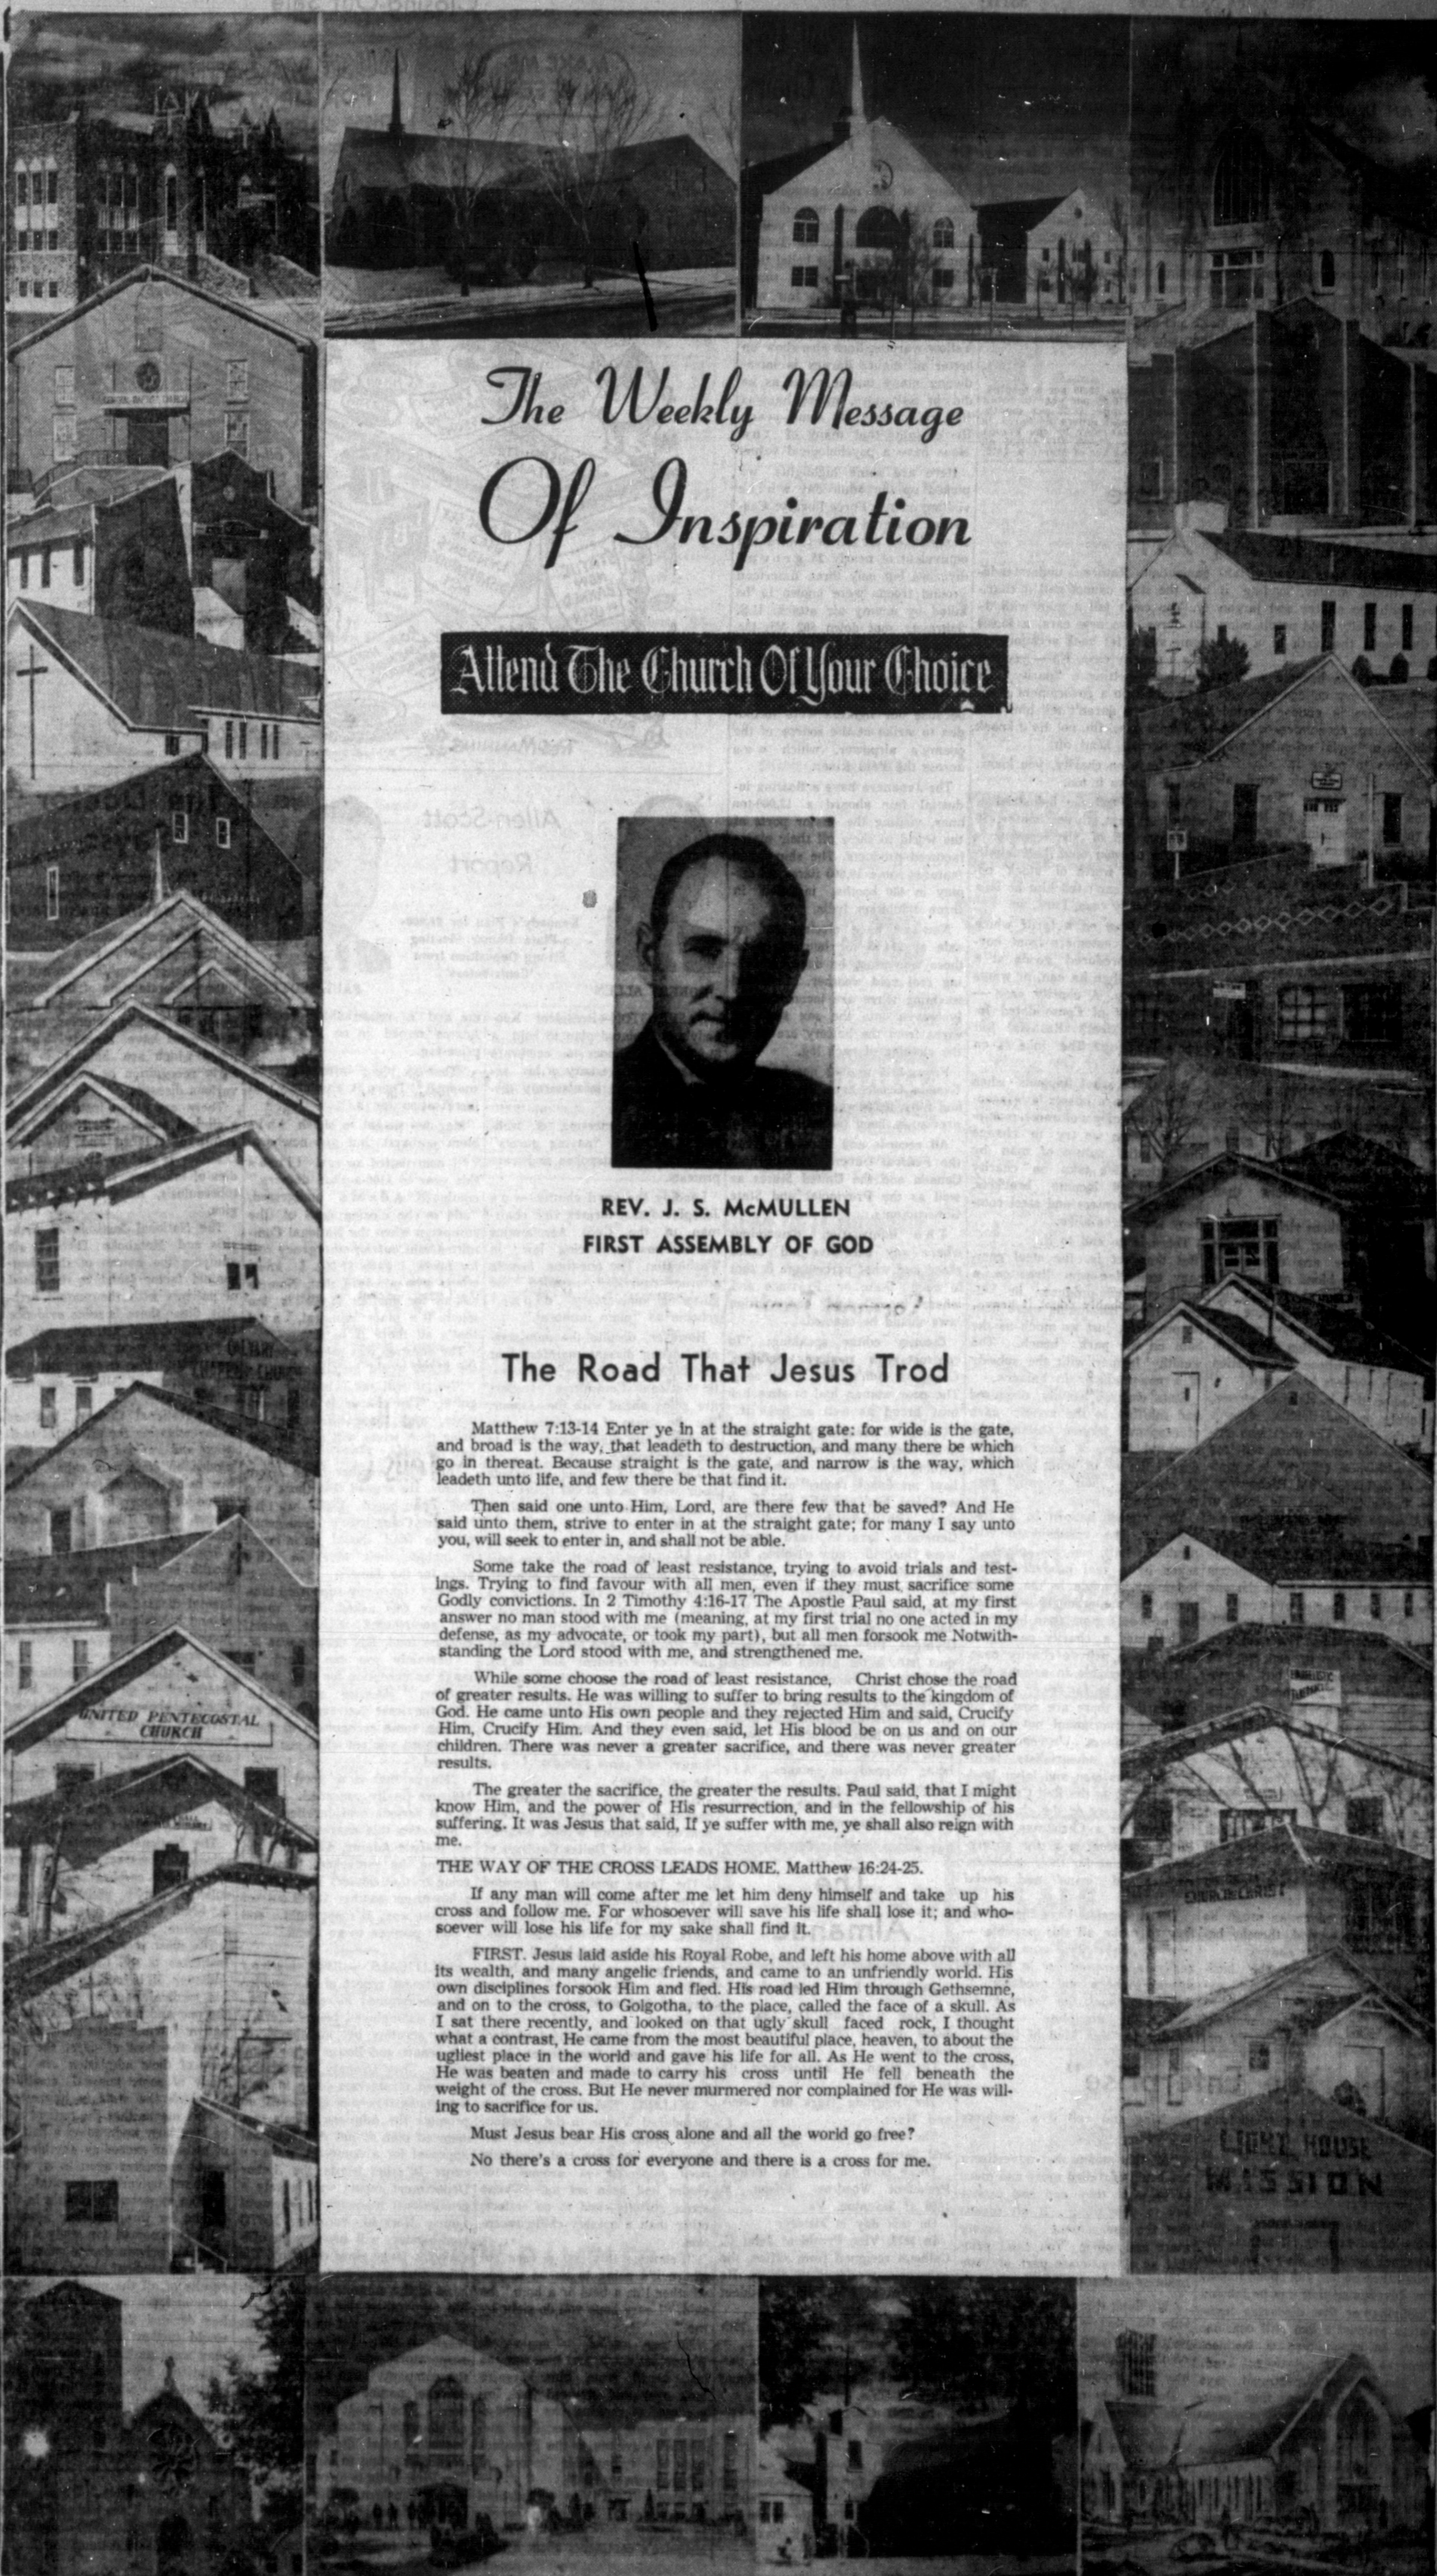

THE WAY OF THE CROSS LEADS HOME. Matthew 16:24-25.

If any man will come after me let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it.

FIRST. Jesus laid aside his Royal Robe, and left his home above with all its wealth, and many angelic friends, and came to an unfriendly world. His own disciples forsook Him and fled. His road led Him through Gethsemane, and on to the cross, to Golgotha, to the place, called the face of a skull. As I sat there recently, and looked on that ugly skull faced rock, I thought what a contrast, He came from the most beautiful place, heaven, to about the ugliest place in the world and gave his life for all. As He went to the cross, He was beaten and made to carry his cross until He fell beneath the weight of the cross. But He never murmured nor complained for He was willing to sacrifice for us.

Must Jesus bear His cross alone and all the world go free?

No there's a cross for everyone and there is a cross for me.

In Space Program, Year 1963 Will Be Known As 'Year Of The Deep Breath'

EDITOR'S NOTE — After the dramatic missile and space achievements of 1962, the new year may seem dull. Actually it will be a busy time preparing for almost unbelievable conquests due for 1964. In the following dispatch, third (and last) of a series, the manager of UPI's Cape Canaveral bureau inventories the nation's space program in the year ahead.

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
 United Press International
 CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Newcomer 1963 will be the "year of the deep breath" for America's ever-growing space program — and it's going to seem dull compared with booming 1962.

Americans will continue to pour millions of tax dollars into space projects, but they will have to wait until 1964 or later to find out just what they bought.

Many of those dollars will be fed into existing programs which will be spending time on the ground for the "big push" ahead. Others will go into giant new space projects.

The most significant event to be expected in the year ahead is the ending of Project Mercury, the nation's first man-into-space program, and its replacement by the huge and expensive new Gemini and Apollo projects aimed at conquering the moon this decade.

The United States has scheduled only two manned spaceflights for the year and the second one probably will be cancelled if the first goes all right.

For 17 Orbits
 Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr., a 35-year-old Air Force major, has been selected for the next U. S. manned orbital mission — a 17-orbit trip, the most ambitious ever attempted in the free world.

If all goes well, Cooper will fly five orbits farther than the combined trips of his three globe-girdling predecessors — astronauts John Glenn, M. Scott Carpenter and Walter M. Schirra — who flew in 1961.

But the day-long flight, set originally for the end of 1962, already has slipped badly. It is now set for April, 1963, and it stands a good chance of being postponed until May or June.

A second day-long flight would be attempted only if something serious went wrong with Cooper's mission. Otherwise, U. S. scientists will turn their attention to Gemini, the two-man spaceship program.

Prepares For Apollo
 Meanwhile, the federal space agency is tooling up for the even more ambitious Apollo project, designed to put Americans on the moon — hopefully ahead of the Russians — before the end of the decade. But here again, a date well beyond 1963 is the target.

The main space bound tasks connected with Project Apollo this year will be in three scheduled flights of the Saturn C1 "super-booster" — a 1.5 million-pound-rocket believed to be more powerful than anything Russia has flown to date.

The Saturn C1, with three successes in as many attempts under its bulky belt, will go to the firing pad for the fourth time in the spring, probably around April, for still another booster-only test. The next shot, scheduled for late in the year, will carry a live, hydrogen-propelled upper stage for the first time.

This, then, will be the full scale Saturn rocket which will launch three-man teams of U. S. astronauts into earth orbit aboard Apollo spaceships starting in late 1964. More powerful Saturn C5 rockets under development will lift them to the moon in another five years or so.

POURING BETTER, NOW — Steel production, as determined in ingots and steel for castings, was on the increase as the industry approached year's end. Data, figured on a 1957-59 index of 100, is from the Commerce Department.

WHOLESALE PRICE PICTURE — Newschart, based on Commerce Department's "Business Statistics" figures, gives the wholesale price picture for first 10 months of 1962.

Stretching Dollars Is Necessary For Fattening 'Kitty'

NEW YORK (UPI) — The family kitty grows fat one of three ways.

Either you're remembered in a will. Dad gets a raise. Or — somehow, you become expert at stretching dollars.

The first two ways aside, let's settle down to the magic methods of making dollars do more.

First, it's useful to estimate your expenditures against the following national spending patterns for average families in the United States. The patterns, supplied by the American Bankers Association, tell you more or less how the family next door spends its money.

—Food, 15 to 40 per cent of spendable income; clothing, eight to 15 per cent; housing, 15 to 30 per cent; household operation, five to 15 per cent; furnishings and equipment, four to nine per cent; fuel, three to eight per cent; transportation, eight to 15 per cent; medical and dental, two to 10 per cent; education and recreation, two to 10 per cent; personal care, two to six per cent; gifts and contributions; two to 10 per cent; dues and subscriptions, zero to six per cent.

Make such a list and estimate the percentages of family income consumed by expenses covering each category. Remember, of course, that some of the upper ranges above exceed sensible expenditures in a given category.

For example, if your food expenditure is in the 35 to 40 per cent range of spendable income, you're probably spending too much and should take in the belt.

Here's how the ABA suggests families cut the food bill:

—Plan your buying. Possibly you can buy in larger and more economical quantities. Are you making the best use of leftovers. Can the workers take sandwiches from home for lunch? Look for specials and avoid impulse buying.

—Shop from a list prepared in advance. With thought and care, plus some imagination, most food bills can be trimmed while a nutritious diet is maintained.

—Be a sophisticated shopper. Become familiar with the various grades and standards. Don't be misled by the package. You're interested in the contents. Compare weights on packaged goods along with prices.

The Lighter Side His 'Highlights Of 1962'

By DICK WEST
 United Press International
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — The period between Christmas and the new year traditionally is a time for journalistic reflection.

Many newspapers use it to review the events of the past 12 months, to choose the 10 biggest news stories of the year and like that.

Not wishing to feel left out, I offer below a resume of my own "Highlights of 1962:"

January — Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass., is elected as speaker. He describes House of Representatives as "the greatest deliberative body in the world." This is taken to mean that Congress is in for a long session. (See October.)

February — Moon shot misses by more than 20,000 miles. Rep. Eugene Siler, R-Ky., complains this is like "missing an elephant's south end while swinging at it with a big bass fiddle." Space officials retort that it's more like missing a baboon with a bassoon.

March — Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., releasing CIA report on the U2 incident, holds world's first do-it-yourself news conference. Not only provides the answers but asks all the questions. On points, however, he is unable to pin self down.

April — Things got pretty around here.

May — Cornerstone is laid for $100,000,000 congressional building and Rep. L. Mendez, D-S. C., gets a haircut. Mendez is that Rivers had flume mane trimmed so a lock could be placed in cornerstone. Rumor confirmed.

June — Astronaut John Glenn, who rode in 13th capsule launched by United States, is honored by anti-superstition society. Society says belief that is unlucky is mere superstition. Glenn agrees. Says 12 ways have been his lucky number.

July — Women demand space program. Mrs. Phil Hart, wife of Michigan senator, tells House committee that as mothers shouldn't keep away from becoming astronauts, Hart has eight children.

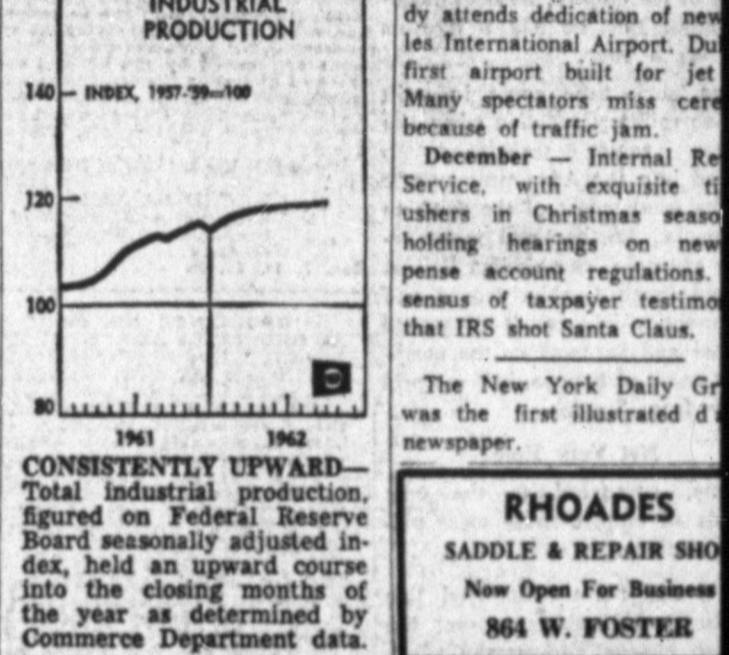

August — Congressional journal rush begins.

September — Congressional journal rush continues.

October — Congressional journal rush ends. (See January.)

November — President Kennedy attends dedication of new terminal at International Airport. Dulles first airport built for jet. Many spectators miss cars because of traffic jam.

December — Internal Revenue Service, with exquisite timing, holds hearings on new pension account regulations. Sensus of taxpayer testimony that IRS shot Santa Claus.

CONSTANTLY UPWARD — Total industrial production, figured on Federal Reserve Board seasonally adjusted index, held an upward course into the closing months of the year as determined by Commerce Department data.
