

Pampa Man Home For Holidays

Home for Christmas is PFC Donald Robert Conley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don M. Conley of 1632 Christine Street.

He is a member of the Honor Guard of the 151st Transportation Company of Fort Eustis, Virginia. Enlisting in July, 1941, he completed his basic training at Fort Ord, California, where he received two medals for expert marksmanship. Recently he received letters of appreciation from three of his commanding officers complimenting him on his attention and devotion to duty, unselfish attitude and manner of performance.

Members of the Honor Guard are picked for their outstanding appearance and military precision.

In August he participated with more than 70,000 Army and Air Force personnel in Exercise Swift Strike II, a two week U.S. Strike Command maneuver in North and South Carolina. In September he suffered a knee injury, and since then has been in McDonald Army Hospital in Fort Eustis, Virginia. After his furlough he is being transferred to Fort Campbell, Kentucky with the 62nd Company, Maryland was on the Union side during the Civil War.

TOP SCOUT — Robert W. Karr, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Karr, 1110 N. Somerville, shown here at left, has been named Outstanding Scout of the Year for Boy Scout Troop 14, according to Scoutmaster Jack Nichols, right. Robert is a Senior Patrol Leader for the Troop. He recently received the God and Country Award after a year of work in the church supervised by his pastor, Rev. Hubert Bratcher of First Methodist Church. Robert holds 16 Merit Badges and has five to go for his Eagle Scout Award. (News Photo)

(Continued From Page 1) vested about $375 million in Skybolt with an additional $260 million needed before the weapon could be considered operational and ready for production.

High Cost Noted
The President has placed the ultimate cost of the weapon at $2.5 billion. He said the expenditure was unnecessary because of the nation's present awesome nuclear weapons strength.

Salinger's remark about the Nassau agreement providing Western security well into the next decade reflected government planning for virtually a "total missile" concept of defense by 1970.

Skybolt was designed for launching from manned bombers which are expected to be obsolete as far as the Western arsenal is concerned within another eight to 10 years.

To produce Skybolt in sufficient volume to supply Britain and the United States would have cost an estimated $2-billion over development costs. The President told a nationwide television audience on Dec. 17, "We don't think that we're going to get $2.5 billion worth of national security" out of Skybolt.

The President spent a relaxed Saturday but his choice of lunch guests showed his interest in developments stemming from the Nassau agreements. His guests on a cruise aboard the White House yacht Honey Fitz were Sir David Ormsby Gore, British ambassador to the United States, and Charles E. Bohlen, U. S. ambassador to France.

There was no White House comment on the impending exchange of Cuban prisoners for American food stuffs and medicines, although the President was known to be following the situation closely.

● Red Subs

(Continued From Page 1) and other conditions. Anderson also had a warning about defense against Russia's submarine force, estimated at about 450 subs, including up to 20 with nuclear propulsion.

There is no way to "wave a magic wand" and bring about a breakthrough in submarine defense—some radical advance that will permit the Navy to look beneath the seas and be sure it knows where all hostile subs are, he said.

In the Cuban crisis, for example, anti-submarine operations were a tedious, painstaking business that required surveillance of an estimated 2.3 million square miles of ocean, reaching out across the north and central Atlantic. Soviet subs came as close as about 200 miles off Cuba.

In some future crisis where geographic conditions are more favorable to the Russians, Anderson warned, the Soviets might try a blockade with their submarines. This possibility must be added to the known threat to the United States of missile-armed and other submarines.

On his visit here, Anderson awarded the Legion of Merit on behalf of President Kennedy to Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, Guantanamo base commander in the critical period since U. S. diplomatic relations were broken with Cuba in January, 1961.

Reger Rites Scheduled For Monday

Mrs. Nancy Theola Reger, 79, a resident of Pampa for 24 years, died Saturday forenoon in Highland General Hospital where she had been a patient since Oct. 8.

Mrs. Reger, who was born in Megargle, Texas, July 6, 1883, came to Pampa in 1936. She moved two years ago to the home of a son in Stinnett.

She is a member of the Fellowship Baptist Church of Pampa. Survivors include five daughters and three sons.

They are: Mrs. Blanche Cox of Lefors, Mrs. Sadie Dennis of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Ada Ray, Mrs. Alta Mae Campbell and Mrs. Laura Maurie Reeves, all of Pampa; Frank Reger of Stinnett, Lorenza Reger of Borger, and Earl Reger of Pampa. Twenty-four grandchildren and 33 great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Fellowship Baptist Church. The Rev. Earl Maddux, pastor, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Claud Butler, pastor of First Methodist Church at Stinnett.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery beside the body of her husband, who died Aug. 27, 1950. Pallbearers will be E. C. Fulton, O. N. Lofton, O. C. Cox, E. L. Everhart, Raymond Ray and James E. Ray.

Pampa Man Is Victim Of Oil Field Accident

Charles L. Palmer, 413 N. Frost, was recovering Saturday in Northwest Texas Hospital from injuries suffered in an oil field accident near Sanford late Friday afternoon.

Palmer was hurt when a rotary brushing fell and struck him at an oil well drilling site. He received an injured shoulder and possible internal injuries. He was taken to the Amarillo hospital where attendants said Saturday his condition was satisfactory.

Youth Released In Theft Case

A 15-year-old Pampa youth was released to the custody of his parents Saturday after being arrested for shoplifting Friday night in the F. W. Woolworth Co. department store, 200 N. Cuyler.

James Alexander of Woolworth's told police the youth was caught taking a pair of Slim Jim trousers.

The boy was held until police arrived and then was taken to police headquarters where his parents were notified.

Vandals Damage Three Screens

Mrs. John Bowers, 1008 Christine, complained to police during the week end that vandals had damaged three window screens on the Bowers home.

One screen, she said, was missing. The vandals also broke into the garage, she said, and scattered a deck of playing cards over the floor.

Bodenhamer Rites Set For Today

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. today in the College Hill Presbyterian Church at Tulsa, Okla., for Mrs. Susie Pearl Bodenhamer, 81, who died here Friday.

Mrs. Bodenhamer suffered a heart attack at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Johnson, 81 Rosewood, and was pronounced dead on arrival at Highland General Hospital.

She came to Pampa one month ago from Mountain Home, Ark., to make her home with her daughter.

She is survived by another daughter, Mrs. E. B. Bingham of Hobbs, N. M., and a son, J. B. Boley of Mountain Home, and six grandchildren. A brother, J. B. Boley, resides in Mountain Home.

Burial will be at 10 a.m. Monday in the cemetery at Mountain Home.

Weather

Just how low readings go in that area, the weather bureau said, depends on local wind and soil conditions.

The cold could damage peppers, tomatoes and other tender vegetables, forecasters said. If temperatures drop lower than the expected 27, hardy winter vegetables and citrus trees could be damaged.

It was the second freeze forecast this season for the Rio Grande Valley area, where a bitter winter January ruined the 1962 citrus crop.

Above Freezing
Lows in the middle 20s were predicted for the area about two weeks ago, but prevailing winds and clouds kept the mercury above the freezing mark.

Scattered showers were forecast for Southeastern Texas and along the coast Saturday night and Sunday.

Overnight low temperatures early Sunday ranged from 22 at Alhambra to 52 at Corpus Christi. The fast-moving front is expected to pass entirely through the state Sunday.

Fog covered the area around Houston Saturday, although nowhere nearly as thick as that which socked in the area for four days earlier this week.

Skies were mostly clear ahead of the front.

● Cubans

(Continued From Page 1) noyed that news of the agreement-signing was announced by U.S. officials in Washington before the prisoners themselves were officially notified.

Air Shuttle Service
Mrs. Berta Barreto, families committee resident member in Havana, said Saturday Cuban officials indicated Monday's exchange will be operated on an air-shuttle basis, with prisoners being returned in the same aircraft which bring in the first shipments of goods.

In Miami, four DC-6s and DC-7s stood by at Opa Locka Airfield to take aboard semi-perishable cargo for the prisoner trade. This consists mainly of pharmaceutical supplies.

The American Red Cross charter freighter African Pilot was reported to be ready to depart from Miami Saturday night with the bulk of the barter supplies. It will take an estimated 15 hours for the ship to reach Havana harbor.

There was no indication in Havana that the exchange would start Sunday instead of Monday as rumored in Miami.

The airlift phase of the exchange calls for the prisoners to be flown to Homestead Air Force Base where barracks and a mess hall have been prepared for them. Presumably they will receive medical and other processing there.

Success

It fell inert for several agonizing seconds. Then, in a roar, its booster engines fired. The Skybolt dashed ahead of the B52 and began a steep climb to the fringe of space ahead of a white vapor trail which sparkled brilliantly in the morning sunlight.

The trail ended abruptly as the booster stage separated, then flared anew as the second stage jolted into action. Within seconds, it was out of sight.

It was the last missile shot of the year from Cape Canaveral. The word that it was a success spread like wildfire through the tense band of engineers and technicians that had habited it along. A thunderous cry of cheer rocketed through a blockhouse that had known many hours of dejection this year.

Harvesters Cop Top O' Texas Tourney

Yellow Jackets Sting Demons; Local 5 Wins

FRIDAY — Pampas Harvesters and the Yellow Jackets of Arlington Heights, Ft. Worth, advanced to the championship round of the Top O' Texas Tournament with first round victories over Lawton and Dumas respectively.

In the initial tussle of the tourney, the tall Yellow Jackets pulled away from the Demons in the middle of the second quarter to rally to a 50-32 victory.

Giving the Harvesters the toughest tussle of the season in the Harvester Fieldhouse, Lawton's Wolverines sputtered to within striking distance several times in the fracas only to have the Harvesters gain momentum and move further ahead. The Pampans won their ninth game of the season against one loss with the 63-46 victory over Lawton.

In the first match of the tourney, Dumas and Arlington Heights fought an even battle until midway in the second quarter. Trailing 9-5 at the end of the first quarter, the Demons were shut out in the points department until the last two minutes of the first half. Dumas scored six points to A-H's 17 points in the second quarter.

The Yellow Jackets continued to control the game as the Demons fell into a fourth quarter slump, producing only five points in the last frame.

With James Buis hitting 17 points and James Belknap adding 13 points to the winning cause, the Ft. Worth team handed the Demons a 50-32 loss.

Second Game
In the second game of the tourney Friday night, the Harvesters found the Lawton forward three some plenty of competition as the big Wolverines challenged the Pampans' perfect record in Top O' Texas tourney play and their four-game winning streak.

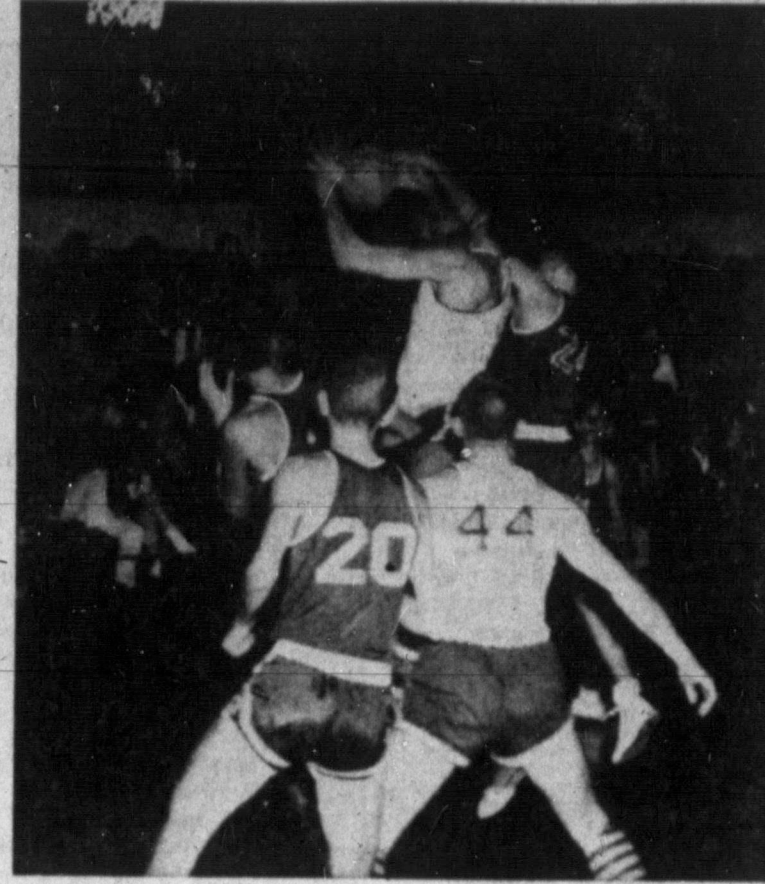

With two baskets by Gary Sikes and one apiece by Wayne Kreis and Randy Matson, the Harvesters stunned the Sooner visitors early in the first quarter with an 8-1 lead.

The Wolverines growled back with five quick points to move within a basket of Pampa.

picture Pampa and Arlington Heights players battle for the ball. Pampa's Randy Matson pulled the ball down for the Harvesters. Others fighting for the ball were Kenny Hebert (44) for Pampa and Larry Kirk (20), James Wehman (24), and Jeff Saari (player in front of Matson) for the Yellow Jackets. Pampa Sputters Past Arlington Heights

Pampa's Harvesters staved off a pesky bunch of Yellow Jackets who refused to be swatted for long as the Pampans kept their perfect record intact in Top O' Texas Tournament play with a 51-45 victory.

The Harvesters won their sixth Top O' Texas trophy with Dumas winning the consolation trophy with a 46-37 victory over Lawton, Okla. in the first game of a double header.

Free Throws
Free throws proved to be the difference in the championship game as the Pampans connected on 21 of 32 charity tosses with the Yellow Jackets hitting 15 of 23. Both teams had 15 field goals.

The Harvesters threatened to make a runaway of the championship game as the Pampans moved into a commanding nine point lead halfway in the first quarter, 11-2.

The Yellow Jackets played even basketball with the Pampans for rest of the quarter with each final half to over come a 19-11 deficit with a 40-37 victory. The game got off to a slow start with Lawton leading 7-4 at the end of the first quarter. The picked up momentum in the second quarter as Dumas scored 12 points giving Lawton a 19-14 first half lead. Mike Wendele and Hurlon Land teamed up to spark the Demons in the third quarter as the Wolverines accounted for 16 of Dumas' 21 quarter points. The Demons ahead to stay with one minute in the third quarter and on 33-31 third quarter advantage. The Wolverines of Lawton within growing range, two until the closing seconds of the game when Dumas pulled to a 35 lead. Wendele of Dumas won high honors in the consolation game with 15 points. Kirkland added the winning Demon cause. Long won high point honor with 13 and Vernon second with 11.

AFL Championship Game Slated For This Afternoon

Today's American Football League championship game at Houston between the host Oilers and Dallas Texans will pit the league's top offense against the circuit's stingiest defense.

"We feel we don't have a weak link anywhere," says all-league linebacker E. J. Holub of the Dallas Texans, whose pro experience matches that of the three year-old AFL. The Texans are six-points underdogs by the odds makers.

The Oilers, battling fiercely to maintain their one-half game edge over the Boston Patriots down a winning seven-game stretch drive, wrestled the AFL total offense leadership away from Dallas as the final weekend to successfully defend their total offense title.

The Oilers rolled up 461 yards in their closing 44-10 clinching triumph over the New York Titans, while Dallas needed but 238 yards in subduing the San Diego Chargers 28-17, giving Houston 4,571 yards for the season to 4,863 for the Texans — a 355-yard average to 347 for Dallas.

Cochman Frank Pop Ivy has described the Oilers' 21-7 defeat by the Texans as his team's low water mark of the season. That was Oct. 28 the Oilers' "Longest Day." It was a day when everything they touched turned sour. The Texans spent the afternoon turning over fumbles and intercepted passes into Dallas touchdowns.

Name Change
LONDON (UPI) — Soccer was known as football in England until the latter part of the 19th century.

South Rebs Upset Yanks

MIAMI (UPI) — Kentucky's Jerry Woolum and Jackson (Miss.) State's Willie Richardson — first Negro to play for the South in the North-South game — combined for an 80-yard touchdown with 37 seconds to play Saturday to lead the Dixie dandies to a 15-14 upset victory.

Woolum then heaved a two-point conversion to his own teammate, Dave Gash, for the two points that sent the North, an eight-point favorite down to defeat.

But there were other honors, too. Richardson and Bob Paremore of Florida A&M, were the first two Negroes ever to play for the South team. Richardson, who gathered in two Woolum touchdowns, was named the South's most valuable player and Paremore, playing despite an injured ankle, the game's sportsmanship award.

Rounding out the scoring for the South before 16,952 spectators in the Orange Bowl, was Randy Kerbow of Rice, who place-kicked one extra point when the South first came from behind to tie it up in the first quarter.

Most valuable honors for the North went to Detroit's Jerry Gross, who passed to Lonny Sanders of Michigan State for the first touchdown and set up the second when Dave Francis of Ohio State banged over from the one. Purdue's Omer (Skip) Ohl place-kicked both points.

But it was that last-minute touchdown that "made" the game, which started under bright sunshine and in 80-degree heat at 3:45 p.m. because of television and finished in darkness under the Orange Bowl stadium lights.

The South was on its own six-yard line when the limping Paremore entered the game and picked up the Southeners. Far with him running as if nothing mattered with his leg, he opened up that muscular North defense and the South began to roll. The South drove all the way to the 14 but its cause appeared lost as Sanders intercepted in the end zone.

They went into the last minute with the North in control and, as the seconds ticked away, the South held and received the ball on its own 20. With eighty yards to go and less than a minute to play, Woolum faded back toward his own end zone and spotted the racing Richardson on at midfield. He fired the ball long and true and the six-foot, two-inch Willie, already under contract to the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League, gathered it in while in full stride and carried it all the way for the score.

That's when Woolum faded back again and hit Gash for the two points that wrapped it up.

The North jumped into the lead in the big concrete horseshoe after Larry Benz of Northwestern recovered a fumble by Brinham Young's Eldon Fortie on the South. Young's to the seven from where he hit Sanders for the touchdown.

Tigers Rally Past Ga. Tech, 14-10

HOUSTON (UPI) — Vince Tobin's 77-yard third quarter touchdown run and two timely fourth-quarter interceptions by linebacker Andy Russell propelled Missouri to a 14-10 victory over Georgia Tech in the fourth annual Bluebonnet Bowl game Saturday.

Tobin, a 5-10 sophomore from Burlington Junction, Mo., broke through the left side of the heavier Georgia Tech line, twisted out for about 10 yards, then got a key block by Russell to spring him loose on his winning sortie.

The Tigers from the Big Eight had scored first on a 21-yard option sweep by quarterback Jim Johnson in the first quarter and were never headed.

Tech and its talented Billy Lothridge drove 61 yards for a second period touchdown with Joe Auer circling right end for the final six yards and Lothridge tucked on a 25-yard field goal in the third period.

Auer, a junior halfback who seems to save his heroics for post-season games, almost pulled the game out for the Rambling Wrecks with a 35-yard run in the fading moments.

But after Auer had taken the ball to the Missouri 21, Russell came up with his second interception of the quarter on the goal line with 1:22 left to play and the game was over as far as Tech was concerned.

Russell also had stopped another Georgia Tech threat in the opening minutes of the final quarter when he hauled in a Lothridge pass on his own 11 yard line, after Tech had driven to the Missouri 25.

Russell's interceptions were among four that kept Lothridge's aerial threats minimized. Roger Phillips, a stocky guard, had killed off a Tech threat in the second quarter with an interception on his own 19 and in the final quarter Carl Crawford had picked off a fourth Lothridge aerial.

Lothridge managed to complete only five of 13 passes for 68 yards and was under constant harassment by a Missouri line headed by end Conrad Hitchler. The Tech running game worked a bit better with Auer, Lothridge and Mike McNames doing most of the work in a 169-yard ground effort.

Missouri's promised passing threat was a complete washout, misfired on all seven attempts and Johnson, a southpaw chunker, misfired on all seven attempts and had two intercepted.

Tourney Team

Pampa's Harvesters paced the All-Tournament team winning three of the six berths. The team, selected by the coaches and representatives of the news media covering the tournament, consisted of six instead of five as there was a tie for the fifth spot on the team.

Wayne Kreis, Randy Matson, and Gary Sikes were voted to the team from Pampa with Vernon Paul of Lawton, James Belknap of Arlington Heights, and Mike Wendele of Dumas rounding out the team.

Team hitting seven points giving the Harvesters a 17-8 first quarter lead.

Pampans lined up six straight free throws and baskets by Gary Sikes and Wayne Kreis while holding Arlington Heights scoreless midway in the second quarter to cushion the Pampa lead to 34-14. The Harvesters maintained an 18-20 point lead for the remainder of the half with a 36-17 halftime lead.

Even 3d Quarter
Ft. Worth battled the Pampans to a standstill in the third quarter with both teams scoring nine points to give Pampa a 45-26 third quarter edge.

The Yellow Jackets swarmed after the Harvesters in the final period of play. Arlington Heights sliced the Pampa lead as thin as five points in the fourth quarter.

Ft. Worth's Larry Kirk paced his teammates to within five points as he connected on five straight free throws and a basket pulling the Yellow Jackets within stinging range at 50-45.

Pampa's defense and offense sparked in the first half, but the Harvesters turned in a ragged half. Wayne Kreis and Gary Sikes fouled out in the third and fourth quarters respectively. James Belknap and James Ankele both fouled out in the fourth quarters for Arlington Heights.

The Harvesters swished only four field goals the second half. Both teams scored 15 field goals in the fracas.

Pampa shot 39 per cent the first half on field goals and 22 per cent the second half while Arlington Heights shot 32 per cent the first half and 39 per cent the second half.

Randy Matson and Wayne Kreis paced the Pampa scorers with 12 points each. Gary Sikes scored 10 points to round out double-figure scoring for Pampa. No Yellow Jacket scored in double figures.

Peg O'Pampa

OR AS LONG AS Peg can remember Christmas Day has been falling on December 25... but somehow the actual trival date always catches us by surprise... we are never quite ready for it... it seems procrastination is the pattern of our life... we spend more time making lists of "things to be done" than doing them... all in the name of efficiency... some year, we'll surprise our family and friends... and ourselves most of all... by having everything ready by December 15... and serenely sail through Christmas... somehow, we think we would miss the happy do of it all by being too efficient... of having more things crowded into one day than even Santa Claus and all of his little helpers could ever get done... we could use some of those little elves and their miracles right now!

EG AND HER FAMILY, with a friend who is a shut-in, led into the family bus one evening this week and drove around town on our annual Christmas Decorations Tour... it's amazing how such a bustling little city changes as the day fades into dusk... (and if you don't think it is bustling, just try to find a parking place downtown during the day)... a simple flip of electric switches around town, it is transformed into a veritable fairyland of sparkling color... like the opening of a Walt Disney color cartoon... our tour took us by Bob and Alleith Curry's home on Charles... ways a traditionally beautifully done entranceway... in old, green and white with elaborate simplicity... an effect we strive for and always come up with hodge-podge... each year Alleith adds a new and different touch... this year, two sparkling doves are perched on top of a huge wreath... Elmer and Dru Wilson's home... the G. E. Younger home... the Harold Schmitzer's... and the William Fain's... all on Chestnut, look festive and hospitable... Sibyl and Clarence Quall's home on Aspen looks as gay from blocks away with its eaves and roof-top outlined lights... and the Richard A. Wilson home on West 26th commands attention from the moment you turn down Mary Ellen and drive right up to it... in fact, we almost drove rough the picture window trying to see the lovely tapestry of Angels or Madonnas hanging on an inside wall... The Melvin Munns out on Navajo Road don't seem to mind at all that their Elm Tree has shed all its leaves... now it has leafed out" with bright Christmas lights... just down the street, the Charlie Grissoms put old Santa at the helm of their boat... loaded it with presents and strung it around and around with lights... Santa's traveling every way this year... might as well in a boat... there are three houses on Mary Ellen in the 1300 block... side by side... that look as if they might have been moved in from Santa's neighborhood at the North Pole... one has a cute tumbledown woman holding a music sheet of Christmas Carols... and the other is a significantly impressive outside decoration that Dr. Le and Johnny Donaldson have at their home on North Dunbar... a roof-high cross blazing with red lights with the printed inscription underneath... "Freedom Under God"... it's nice to be greeted by the outdoor lighted Christmas card from Nora and Dave Payne on Christine... and we see the Christmas wreaths centered with red electric candles hanging in every window... framed by white shutters... the colonial-type home of Bob and Joy Williams on Grape Street... it is a delight to pass by the Ewart Carmons on Mary Ellen and hear the Christmas Carols emanating from a speaker outside their home... here's a lovely little poem I came across in our favorite slick magazine this month... "It's Not Far To Bethlehem" written by Ulrich Troubskov that we'd like to pass along... "it's not far to Bethlehem, the shortest cut I know... is directly through a heart... The way a child would go... it's not far to Bethlehem... it cannot take you long... it is not farther on a prayer... The distance of a song..."

OLIDAY PARTIES are an around-the-clock schedule this time of year... but one of the nicest was the one a group of miniature-type teenagers attended last Sunday morning... Annie Leverich invited members of the Kit Kat Klub over to her home for a Christmas Brunch and gift exchange... when they all attended church together.

ONE OF THOSE LITTLE Elves that keeps note on good little boys and girls for Old Santa's Gift List certainly has Gene Allor's name down at the top of the list... Gene, who is an architect of note, went a little outside of his designing field just recently and designed the year book cover for the Petroleum Engineer's Wives' Society... the group's name lettered in Old English script entwined with ivy... an added artistic touch is the tiny oil well in one corner decorated with flowers and ribbon bows... the Engineers' Wives are awfully proud of it!

WHO HAS TIME TO WATCH television these days?... watching hasn't but she took time one afternoon this week to watch an old movie as she wrapped Christmas packages... it was George Washington Slept Here" which Pampa Little Theater presented here last August... it was fun to compare the two productions and again the local theater group can be proud of its interpretation... the movie starred Ann Sheridan and Jack Benny but there was a switch in characters... on had the dialogue given by Bob Swanson in PLT's play and Glennolae Miller's lines were spoken by Jack Benny... and Percy Kilbride didn't sing "I'll Never Smile Again" quite so funnily as Jim Terrell did!

EVER HEAR OF Christmas Crackers??? Peg hadn't either until she heard of this old English tradition from Joyce McAusland... Christmas Crackers are tiny ornate bits of paper stuffed with riddles and puzzles... a gay paper hat and charms which each child receives in a stocking on Father Christmas... the adults usually find their Christmas Cracker beside their Christmas dinner plate or tea table... there are tiny tabs on either end and when pulled are is a pop and out spill all the surprises... imagine John Jr., Joanne, Joanne and Jennifer will have fun with theirs which their grandmother sent over from England... have missed seeing the pretty blue lights of Christmas time around by Lee's and Dick Hughes' home on Harvester... they returned home from a Builders' Convention in Chicago... time to re-pack their luggage for a trip to spend the holidays with their son and his family, Richard and Loreta and Kristin, in Austin... Viola and Rufe Jordan will be spending the Eve and Day with their daughter, Ann, and her husband, Wayne, in Silverton... and of course with those two adorable grandchildren, Lee Ann and Ty... would love to hear their war-whoops when they open up the Christmas gifts that Viola and Rufe bought them on a recent trip to El Paso... a couple of ornate Indian headdresses... and it should be, it will be a happy holiday family-type Christmas in the Key home on Fir... Kathy's mother, Mrs. C. L. White of Port Arthur has been visiting with them since Thanksgiving... Kathy's sister, Frances, also of Port Arthur, and Dr. Julian's mother, Mimi Key of Amarillo, are expected for the holidays, too.

ENDING THEIR VERY first Christmas in Pampa are Milton and Almeda Khineman, who have just recently moved here from Longview and are living on Fir Street in the former Ralph Ludwig home... The Khinemans have two sons, Larry, 10, who is a student at Stephen F. Austin, and David, who attends Robert E. Lee Junior High... Milton is a new assistant district superintendent for the Texas Company... the family loves to fish... but now with their home on the High Plains, they're thinking of switching hunting... Welcome to Pampa!... on this happy note, I'll close with a wish for a very Merry Christmas... Love, Peg.

MRS. DALE HEMSELL nee Marilyn Roye Rote

Rote-Hemsell Wedding Vows In Houston Church

Miss Marilyn Roye Rote and Dale Hemsell pledged double ring vows at 8 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 22 in the Garden Villas Methodist Church in Houston. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Rote of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Clenon C. Hemsell, 1809 Hamilton. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white French lace in fleur de bois design, fashioned in classic elegance with a Basque bodice that had an oval portrait decolletage outlined by pearl embroidered lace motif and long lace sleeves that tapered into deep points over the hands. The graceful gathered skirt draped over an overskirt of tulle and with deep scallops of lace patterns cascading over a flounce of pleated tulle, also framed the cathedral length train. The veil of French illusion, in fingertip length, fastened to a halo of artificial orange blossoms and pearls. Maid of honor was Miss Judy Ray, cousin of the bride, from Tucson, Ariz. Bridesmaids were Miss Martha Wither of Talt and Miss Letha Ray of Houston. Marvin Sexton, of Houston, served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Clenon Hemsell Jr., brother of the groom, from Dallas and Robert Cains of Denton. The couple traveled to New Orleans for their wedding trip and will make their home in Denton. The bride graduated from Jesse H. Jones High School and North Texas State University, majoring in English Education. The bridegroom graduated from Pampa High School, attended Texas Tech and graduated from North Texas State University with a BBA in Marketing; and BA in P.E. Education. He was a member of Pi Kappa Sigma Fraternity. He is now Athletic director of the Selwyn Private School in Denton. Mrs. Hemsell will continue her education at North Texas State University.

BETROTHAL ANNOUNCED

Miss Carol Jean Wilson

Mrs. Mary D. Wilson, 2118 Mary Ellen, announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Carol Jean, to John Alden Kotara III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kotara Jr., of White Deer. The wedding is planned for Jan. 12, 1963 in Sacred Heart Church in White Deer. (Photo, Qualls Studio)

Gudgel-Binnion Vows Read In Mobeetie

McLEAN (Spl) — Miss Wanda Jean Gudgel and Dayle Aubrey Binnion both of Midland, exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening, Dec. 22 in the First Methodist Church in Mobeetie. The pastor, Rev. D. C. Read, officiated. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gudgel of Mobeetie and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Binnion of Odessa.

MRS. DAYLE AUBREY BINNION nee Wanda Jean Gudgel

To form a decorative setting for the ceremony, the chancel rail was banked with greenery interspersed with candles with tiered candelabra in the background.

As the guests assembled, Mrs. Lyndon Sims of Wheeler played nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Harrison Hall, also of Wheeler, who sang "Because," "I'll Walk Beside You," and "Bless This House." Traditional marches were used.

Miss Anna Mae Gudgel attended her sister as maid-of-honor and bridesmaids were Miss Mary Helen Gudgel, sister of the bride and Miss Karen Stockdale. They wore identical street-length dresses of American Beauty red, wore white fur hats and carried white fur muffs decorated with red roses.

Lt. David Le Master of San Antonio was best man, Gerald Gudgel, brother of the bride, and Don Fellers were groomsmen and ushers were Don Bell and Roy Patrick.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of white tulle, tulle and chantilly lace. The fitted bodice buttoned down the back with tiny self-covered buttons and was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long fitted sleeves terminating in petal points over the hand. Her finger-tip veil of tulle was bordered with lace, and fell from a lace tiarra. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis atop a white Bible.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gudgel chose a tailored suit of gray wool with black accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore navy with black accessories. Both had shoulder corsages of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party was honored with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. Miss Martha Coursey registered the guests. Miss Sharon Bell served the wedding cake and Miss Lua Bea Patrick poured punch. Other members of the houseparty were Mesdames Doris Schuping, R. C. Parker, and Horace Blair. The bride was graduated from Mobeetie High School and from West Texas State College where she was member of the Buffalo Gals, Opportunity Plan, Inc., and Who's Who. Her husband was graduated from Odessa High School and from West Texas State College, and both are employed by the Midland Public Schools. The couple left immediately for a wedding trip to Ruidosa, N. M., and will be at home to their friends at 4317 Versailles, Midland after Dec. 29.

Miss Nancy Andrews Is Bride Of Jim Brown

MRS. JIM BROWN nee Nancy Ellen Andrews

Murphree, cousin of the groom. Miss Darella Winegeart and Miss Jan Henderson lighted the candles. They wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor. White wrought iron candelabra holding white tapers, from which garlands of greenery and white gladioli extended, decorated the church. Mrs. Lois Fagan, organist, provided traditional wedding music and Mrs. Austin Ruddick, sang "Whither Thou Goest," and the "Wedding Prayer."

For her niece's wedding, Mrs. Herman Winegeart wore a rust-brown antique satin dress and carried a matching handkerchief. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige brocade suit with matching accessories and both wore white carnation corsages. For a honeymoon trip to Dallas, the bride traveled in a gray tweed suit with black accessories and a rose corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will make their home at 710 N. Russell.

The bridegroom graduated from Pampa High School and is currently employed by Malcolm Hinkle Inc. The bride's parents are currently employed by Reeding and Bates in Sale Victoria, Australia. Therefore, a tape-recording was made and sent to the parents, plus pictures. The bride has just recently returned from a two and one-half months visit with them.

A bridal shower was given for the bride, Dec. 8 in the lounge of the First Baptist Church with the following serving as hostesses: Mmes. E. G. Velson, Elmer Wilson, A. T. Winborne, George Henderson Jr., E. D. Owensby, H. H. Graham, Garrell Robertson, Ed Schneider, W. A. Green, Curtis Smith, J. T. Richardson, J. E. Hollingsworth and Miss Diane Zachry. They presented the honoree with a white carnation with orchid trim corsage.

Those in the receiving line were Mrs. Joe Brown, mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. E. G. Nelson. (Continued on Page 16)

Take It From Kathy

by Kathy Peterson

DEAR KATHY: I'm 15, am in the 10th grade, and very shy. I'm quite skinny for my age. Mother gives me vitamins but it doesn't make me any fatter. What should I do about this? One of the reasons I'm small is that I have asthma. I weigh about 94 pounds.

I would also like to become closer to my mother. How can this be done? I argue a lot with my brothers and sisters, too. How can I overcome this?

Another problem I have is that I don't talk as plainly as other children. Please answer my questions because it will do me a lot of good. Honest.—Misfortune.

Dear Misfortune: Let's consider how you can become closer to mother, because I think that's the most important problem. Brothers, sisters and you add up to lots of responsibility. Have you wondered what your mother's problems might be and how it might be possible to help?

Worrying only about yourself could mean that you demand attention without considering how frantic she is at the moment. She could be impatient even though she loves you.

You probably know what a nice feeling it is to have someone quietly volunteering assistance when you need it. Show mother that you care enough about her to do something useful.

Try to arrange time with your mother when the other children are busy. Ask her about things that happened when she was growing up. I'll bet she had worries, too, and you'll learn how understanding she can be.

something new, something borrowed and something blue was carried out.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left on a trip to Carlsbad, N. M. They are now at home at 1920 41st Street, Lubbock.

The bride is a graduate of McLean High School and Jessie Lee's Hairstyling Institute in Lubbock and is presently employed by Rafael's Coiffures.

The groom attended McLean High School and is presently employed at Hancock Manufacturing Co. in Lubbock.

son, a friend of the family, and the honoree.

Miss Diane Zachry presided at the guest register.

The serving table was laid with a hand-made, cut-work cloth, made by Mrs. E. G. Nelson and was centered with orchid and white flowers with crystal candleholders with white candles. Crystal appointments were used.

Cake, punch nuts and mints were served to approximately 150 guests who attended or sent gifts.

A cake server was presented the bride, as a gift from the hostesses. Napkins engraved, "Nancy and Jim," were used.

Students Present Program For 20th Century Cotillion Meet

The two students studying in Pampa High School under the American Field Service Program spoke to members of the Twentieth Century Cotillion Club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ralph McKinney.

Louisa Prieto from Madrid, Spain, and Turan Soylemez from Istanbul, Turkey, discussed religious holidays in their respective countries.

Miss Prieto explained that the Christmas season in Spain is similar to that in this country. The traditional colors of Christmas in Spain are silver and gold. Gifts are exchanged on the sixth of January, which is the Day of Three Kings. The families place their shoes by the fireplace and they are filled with sweets, gifts and often with coal. The coal is a reprimand for misconduct during the year. The Spanish sing carols, have large nativity scenes and decorations like those in America, and turkey for the large Christmas dinner.

Turan Soylemez explained the important religious festivals of the Muslim religion. The most important one is the Ramadan Festival, which is a month of fasting.

The people fast during the day but are permitted to eat and drink at night.

Following the Ramadan is the Festival of Sacrifice or the Sheep Festival. At this time sheep are sacrificed. The wealthy people buy the sheep and the money is given to the poor. This is the time when homes are decorated and gifts are exchanged.

The purpose of the festivals is for increased prayer, giving thanks, helping the poor, and making peace among each other and all humanity.

Metanet Club Has Christmas Party With Mrs. O'Neal

Members and guests of the Metanet Quilting Club were entertained in the home of Mrs. Earl O'Neal, 700 N. Nelson, club president, Tuesday, Dec. 18. Christmas gifts were exchanged and all present enjoyed singing Christmas carols accompanied by Mrs. H. E.

Winegart at the piano.

Refreshments were served the following guests: Mmes. Orva Johnson, H. E. Winegart, Fostie Whaley, Nelse Robinson, Dub Mc Kendree, Eugene Tollison, George Iamlim, J. J. Longan, Wayne Phillips, Forrest Cloyd, J. B. Jones, Bena Harkrader and Margie Hausman.

An English brewery offered to help the Red Cross blood drive by exchanging beer, one pint for pint, for blood.

Mrs. Billy Jack Bailey

Miss McCurley And Billy Jack Bailey Are United In Double Ring Ceremony

McLEAN (Spl) — Miss Martha Jo McCurley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McCurley of McLean, and Billy Jack Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bailey, also of McLean, were united in marriage recently in St. Luke's Methodist Church in Lubbock.

Rev. Leo Gee officiated at the double-ring ceremony before a candle-lit altar adorned with baskets of white gladioli in the chapel of the church.

Mrs. W. F. Cagle of Lubbock served as matron of honor. She wore a grey wool knit suit with black accessories and carried a bouquet of pink and gold flaked carnations with white ribbon streamers.

C. T. Harden Jr. of Lubbock served as best man.

The bride chose a blue velvet street-length sheath. The bodice was accented by an inset of white cotton lace, complimented by a Queen Anne collar which extended to the waist in a V-shape. She wore a small hat of matching velvet accented with bows and a short veil, blue suede shoes with satin trim and white elbow-length gloves.

The bridal bouquet was of blue and white variegated carnations atop a white Bible, with white streamers and feathered carnations.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Srygley-Jimmy Goldston

McLEAN (Spl) — In an impressive candlelight ceremony in the Memphis First Methodist Church, Miss Frankye Lynn Srygley became the bride of Jimmy Don Goldston.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clenton F. Srygley of Memphis and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Goldston of McLean.

The double-ring vows were read by Rev. J. B. Thompson before altar arrangement of pale yellow tapers in white wrought ironandelabra, flanked by baskets of red palms and bronze chrysantheums.

The traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Ben Wilson, organist who also accompanied soloist, Mrs. Bob Fowler. Candles were lighted by Sharon Goldston of McLean and Beverly Srygley of Borger.

Little Miss Lee Ann Hamill of Lubbock was flower girl and Terri Lynn Hamill, also of Lubbock, as ring-bearer.

Mrs. Gene Hamill of Lubbock as matron of honor and Mrs. Fred Molesworth of Amarillo was the bride's other attendant. Their dresses were of gold taffeta and were designed with bouffant skirts and fitted bodices. They carried floral nosegays of pale green and white mums.

Roy Allard of Clarendon was best man and Bill Goldston was roomsman. Ushers were Gilbert Srygley of Borger and Fred Goldston of Lubbock.

Mrs. Jimmy Don Goldston

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white tulle and lace. The fitted bodice of tulle over taffeta was accented with lace encrusted with iridescents and featured a ruffled neckline.

She observed the tradition of wearing something old, new, borrowed and blue.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents were guests at the reception in the church annex. The serving table was covered with yellow lace over yellow satin and centered with a tiny white fruit cake topped with gold wedding rings.

The four-tiered wedding cake was placed at one end of the table and golden punch was served at the other. Crystal appointments completed the setting. Those who assisted with the serving were Misses Carl Lee, Clayton Srygley, Ray Powell and Bob Hutcherson. Mrs. Gene Chamberlain presided at the guest register.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldston will make their home in Amarillo, where he is employed by the Amarillo Stock Yard and she is a teacher in the San Jacinto Elementary School.

The bride is a graduate of Memphis High School and West Texas State College. The bridegroom is a graduate of McLean High School.

Mrs. Yoder Has Christmas Party

The younger pupils from the class of Mrs. Fidelia Yoder held a Christmas Workshop Party last Friday evening at the home of Gail Duncan, 2110 Charles, with Mrs. Ray Duncan and Mrs. Jack Graham as hostesses.

After exchanging gifts for the evening which were later given to Pampa's underprivileged children, the students each played a Christmas song, and gained some experience as an accompanist while the group sang.

During the social hour, refreshments of punch and Christmas cookies were served by the hostesses.

The following students were present: Daniel Bond, Gail Duncan, John Skelly, Brenda Terry, Diane Graham, Cindy Welch, Linda Chase, Gail and Susan Wilson, Mackie and Glenna Hudgins, Jean Fischer, and Kay Upshaw. Steve Higdon was unable to be present due to illness.

Mothers present included Mrs. John Skelly, Mrs. Jimmy Terry, Mrs. Raymond Welch, Mrs. Michael Wilson, Mrs. Joe Fischer, Mrs. Therman Upshaw, and Mrs. Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Duncan.

ASK THE DESIGNER by gaile dugas

Dear Gaile: Would you please tell me if silver fox fur is just for formal wear? I have a beautiful cape my aunt gave me. I know it is an older style. Has slits in front for armholes and length is to the waist or longer. Should I have it remodeled? If so, what style? Our social life is very informal and I feel out of place wearing it. Please advise what to wear with it.

—Mrs. A. L. M.
Dear Mrs. A. L. M.: Since fox is a high-fashion fur for this year, you're lucky. Designer Leo Ritter has some sound suggestions for you on having it remodeled. He says:

"To bring this old-fashioned cape up-to-date, have it made into a two-tier capelet with front fastening. The cape should have greater depth at the back. This way, you can wear it for both afternoon and evening.

"Or, you might use the best skins for a very deep and luxurious collar on a street-length black velvet coat. This could be ideal for informal evening wear all winter long."

Dear Gaile: I would like your advice on a new wardrobe. I haven't bought any clothes this year. I have heard many compliments on your advice. I am 57 years old and don't have many wrinkles. I have dark brown hair with just a tiny bit of gray at the temples. I wear it in a French twist. I am 5 feet 3, and weigh 118 pounds. I have brown eyes, high forehead, oval face, wear dark frames glasses.

I would like clothes I could wear at home next summer, as well as on a trip to California this winter. My husband and I plan to stay two or three weeks. I need help with my wardrobe.

—Mrs. J. B.
Dear Mrs. J. B.: Designer James Galanos feels that your best silhouette choice is the unconfined. A line with the upper arm covered. For California, concentrate on two or three silk prints and some daytime linens in clear, vivid colors.

Remember, he points out, that the coloring of Californians is vivid; you do not want to appear drab short or long length.

For all short sleeve lengths, take long gloves. Take the pump with oval toe and lowered heel in perfectly plain design for daytime wear. And why not switch those dark glasses frames for a pretty pale blue, a mauve or a pale green? You would look younger and prettier. Try the new, oblong frame.

MR. AND MRS. DEE CAROL TURNER

Miss Griffith And Dee Carol Turner Wedding Performed In Fritch Church

Miss Peggy Griffith became the bride of Dee Carol Turner, Stinnett, in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Dunaway at 8 p.m. Dec. 4 at the Church of Christ, Fritch.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Scott, 627 N. Zimmers. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Turner, Stinnett.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore white satin and lace covered bodice with full skirt, styled with a round neckline and long leaves tapered to pedal points at the wrist. Her bridal veil was attached to a white hat and she carried a cascade of white carnations.

Mrs. Shirley Miller was matron of honor, wearing a blue dress and carrying a cascade of lilac trimmed carnations. Miss Bonny Danials was bridesmaid. Her dress was identical to that of the matron of honor.

Charles Rae was best man and Royce Davis served the groom as usher. Edwin Parsons was groomsmen.

Terry Turner and Elene Charlton were flower girls. Baskets of gladioli and carnations decorated the church where Mr. Germon and his daughter provided traditional song selections.

Club Members Enjoy Luncheon

CANADIAN (Spl) — Members of the Arts and Crafts Club held their Christmas luncheon recently at EJ's Cafe. The luncheon tables were decorated with candles and holly. Place markers of angels in gold, blue and red added a festive note.

The menu for the occasion was fruit juice, turkey with dressing, mashed potatoes, beans, beets, cranberry sauce, waldorf salad, hot rolls, and pumpkin pie.

Following the meal the group adjourned to the home of Mrs. W. R. Hext for a gift exchange and Christmas program. The program was brought by Mrs. Bud Hoobler who gave a Christmas story entitled "Raphael, the Herald Angel."

Mrs. Hoobler was a guest. Members present were Mmes. Hext, Ben Hill, Bud Webb, W. E. Ramp, Cleo Jahnel, Paul Wood, W. P. Varnell, Charles Burton, James Mitchell, Darrell Wiggins, Robert Rogers, M. H. Smith, F. D. Teas, Bennie Tepe, Ray Morey and Walter Killebrew.

Dear Abby....

Not Good Enough!!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am so mad right now I am seeing red! I want to find out if my daughter did the right thing. She is 17 and her name is Annette. Three weeks ago Annette's best girl friend asked if she could borrow her floor-length formal for the prom. Annette had just broken up with her steady and had no hopes of going to the prom herself, so she said yes. The night before the prom one of the nicest boys at school called and asked Annette to the prom. She said NO because she had promised her dress to her friend. I say she was a fool. She should have said YES and asked for her dress back. What do you say?

ANNETTE'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I saw you should be proud of a daughter who puts her promise to a friend above a date to the prom. Top bad Annette didn't think of "borrowing" a dress from another Cinderella who wasn't going to the ball.

DEAR ABBY: Do you have any suggestions on how to handle a 16-year-old son who threatens to beat you to death with his fists? I am 52 and can no longer handle him. I have had to back down from several challenges lately and it is undermining my position of authority. He reads your column. In fact, I think it's the only part of the paper he reads.

DAD
DEAR DAD: Apparently when you were bigger and stronger than your son, you controlled him by the threat of your physical strength. You taught him well that might made right. Now he is reacting to your own harsh form of discipline. Or he might be emotionally disturbed. Consult a doctor on how to reestablish normal relations with him.

DEAR ABBY: There is a boy at school who asks the girls if he can kiss them to see how their lipstick tastes. He says he can tell if their lipstick is expensive or cheap. What do you think of such a boy? He is in the 9th grade.

NINTH-GRADE GIRL
DEAR NINTH: When a boy wants a kiss, one excuse is as good as another. But if a girl lets an acknowledged "lipstick taster" set that close, the GIRL is cheap.

DEAR ABBY: Please help me. I know what you will think of me when you read the unforgivable thing that I have done. I am married to a wonderful man. I have three beautiful children. They all favor their father. I have reason to believe I am expecting another man's child and I am sick with shame. So many innocent ones will be hurt by it all. Should I tell my husband the baby isn't his? He would surely know it because he and this man are as different as night and day. I have thought of leaving him, and the children, but I have no place to go. I have also thought of taking my life and the little life to come, but I can't bear the thought of leaving my children motherless. Please tell me what to do. I am—

SUICIDE BENT
DEAR SUICIDE BENT: Don't tell your husband (or someone else). The baby could be your husband's. Stay home and resolve to be a good mother to ALL your children, and a good wife to your husband. Pray for forgiveness. (The Lord is merciful.) And ignore all alternatives except remaining where you are and doing your job.

DEAR READERS: If you have sent for the pecan pie recipe I offered and have not as yet received it, please be patient. I have had over 100,000.

ABBY
What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Brownies Honored With Yule Party

During the month of December, Brownie Troop 15 held three meetings. At the first meeting, each member made a savings bank, of plastic bottles. The second meeting, they made Christmas gifts for their mothers and the last meeting was a party for the members and their newly adopted "grandmother, Mrs. Orvie Hallman.

Hostesses for the party were the leader, Mrs. Julius Hollis and assistant leader, Mrs. J. K. Gann. The troop presented Mrs. Hallman with gifts and exchanged gifts themselves. Later, the girls were taken to Twilight Acres, where they sang Christmas carols and presented all the residents with cookies and favors.

Committee members assisting with the troop were Mmes. J. T. Rogers, Robert Lewis and Fred Martin.

The center was decorated with blue and white Christmas decorations and the music was provided by the "Starfires."

Sharp Group Of The First Christian Church Meets With Mrs. Castleberry

Plans were made by the Sharp Group of the First Christian Church, which met Dec. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Murray Castleberry, 2218 Dogwood, to assemble a Christmas Basket for a needy family, to be delivered by the members, the Sunday before Christmas.

Program chairmen, Mrs. Castleberry, prepared a play, "Beggars Can't Be Choosers." Members of the group, who took part in the play were: Mrs. Leon Howell as Mrs. Brown; Mrs. M. Castleberry, as Miss Pratt; Mrs. C. S. Boston as Mrs. Digby; Mrs. Don Elledge, as Mrs. Lewis; Mrs. Vance, as Rose; Mrs. E. B. Jackson, as Kate; Mrs. O. H. Odom, as Dora; and Mrs. Jim Cunningham, as Mrs. Allen. The scene takes place in the living room of Mrs. Brown's home, where an important business meeting was in session. The members are engaged in packing a Christmas box for a very worthy but needy minister, whom fate has assigned to an obscure mountain district. The outcome of the results is, instead of the packing and sending, the odds and ends of various articles of clothing for the family, that was given by various people, the Wilson, Charles Lanehart, M. F. Hedcock, H. L. Meers, C. A. Pollock, Vardeman Smith, Roy Tinsley, Doty Warner and Verda Adair. Guests were Mmes. D. V. Burton, John Gill, Carl Boston, Jack Hood, Julian Key, William Leonard, Glyn Adair and Miss Rosemary Lawler.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Julian Key gave a Peter Marshall's, "Let's Keep Christmas."

Gifts brought by members were sent to Harwood Hall in Dallas for the senior members.

Mrs. Elwess Is New Member Of Ladies Moose Lodge

Women of the Moose Lodge 1162 met Tuesday, Dec. 11 at 8 p.m. in the Moose Lodge Hall with Mrs. Ralph West, Sr. Regent presiding.

Initiation was held, accepting new members, Mrs. Juanita Elwess, into the Lodge. A social hour followed with refreshments being served.

The annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 18 at 8 p.m. for members and each one is required to bring a gift, not to exceed $5. The next meeting will be Jan. 8 at 8 p.m. in the Moose Lodge for a gift exchange.

Almighty God, Who hast given us Thy only-begotten Son to take our nature upon Him, and as at this time to be born of a pure virgin; Grant that we being regenerate, and made Thy Children by adoption and grace, may daily be renewed by Thy Holy Spirit; through the same our Lord Jesus Christ, Who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the same Spirit ever, one God, world without end. What Ever Happened To Bette Davis?

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — What ever happened to Bette Davis? Well, here is what ever happened to Bette Davis: She made a smash comeback movie called "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?" and now you can hardly turn on a television set without tripping over her.

She visited the Jack Paar show. She signed to play a lawyer on a "Perry Mason" episode. Wednesday night she turned up as a spinster on "The Virginian." And Thursday night she danced, sang and gagged (joked may be a better word) with Andy Williams on NBC-TV.

Part of the reason for her sudden burst into the medium is, of course, the success of the movie. But part of it may also stem from an advertisement she placed in the Hollywood trade press some while back, before public approval of the film was assured.

It was a full-page ad, termed "situation wanted," and said: Mother of three — 10, 11 and 15 — divorcee, American, 30 years experience as an actress in motion pictures. Mobile still and more affable than rumor would have it. Wants steady employment in Hollywood. (Has had Broadway). Bette Davis... references upon request."

On the Paar show, Miss Davis was hampered by laryngitis, but found time to make what she apparently thought was a devastatingly funny remark about newspapers, though, of course, she had chosen them as the place to ask for work.

Well, my old man once told me it wasn't polite to tell a lady when her slip was showing, so let us think, instead, in terms of gallantry a much nicer quality than pettiness. And thus we come to Thursday night, and the side of Miss Davis that I prefer to remember, that of a trouper.

The lordly lady of the movies had proven her troupette mettle in a different area not long ago when she barnstormed through theatre after theatre in New York to sell "Baby Jane," and it paid off when the film incredibly recouped its negative cost in its first week of release.

But Thursday night took a different sort of guts, and she came well-supplied. Known primarily as a dramatic star, she showed the kids what confidence and poise are all about. She sings about as wonderfully bad as Rosalind Russell, and with just as much forthrightness and gusto.

Steve McQueen Overcomes His 'Rebel Attitude' Toward Hollywood

By JOSEPH FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Steve McQueen, a teen-age drifter who became a movie and television star, has overcome a rebellious attitude against Hollywood.

Before arriving in town McQueen, now 30, worked at a variety of jobs that including sailing U.S. Marine Corps tank driving, finally entering a drama school.

He went through lean days before landing some movie, television and legitimate stage roles. But his career wasn't in the star category until he came west in 1958 as "Josh Randall," a paid gunman who hunted down outlaws in television's "Wanted—Dead or Alive."

"Randall" can be described as a fellow who saw no disgrace in occasional fear when it came to outshooting bad guys, a philosophy that McQueen finds reasonable.

When the series ended, McQueen decided to concentrate on a movie career, a decision which other television stars have made, most of them with little success.

He was Different
With McQueen it was different. Personal determination and luck, which have been with him since he left the family's Missouri farm when he was 15 years old, followed the nervous actor into movies.

He has been working steadily in feature films here and abroad. He has three pictures scheduled for next year.

The blond actor returned recently from Europe where he completed "The Great Escape" and his attitude seems less nervous than the Steve McQueen of not too many years ago.

Mickey Mouse Was 'In His Glory' In Walt Disney's Christmas Parade

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — When Walt Disney puts on a Christmas parade he doesn't fool around, massing thousands of marchers, bands, animals, hundreds of flags and the inimitable Mickey Mouse.

Mickey is a character we don't see too often these days but he was in his glory at Walt's holiday season parade. The little rodent brought the audience to their feet as he pranced into the parade area leading his own band.

More than 25,000 people were on hand for the eighth annual "Christmas in many lands" parade featuring international holiday season celebrations.

A total of 23 floats competed for sweepstakes honors. Mexico's colorful toy tree float won first prize with Austria second and Nationalist China third. The United States unit featured a group carrying banners and twirling lariat.

Disney's "Family" Parades
The Mickey Mouse man had the whole Disney family on hand to wish celebrants a Merry Christmas. Besides Mickey, there was Donald Duck, his three nephews and Uncle Ludwig Von Drake, Goofy, the big bad wolf and three little pigs, Pluto the pup and Snow White with her seven dwarfs trailing along.

The Giant Disneyland amusement park in nearby Anaheim was colorfully decorated for the event. Add to that bright flags, costumes and decorations of foreign nations represented and you end up with a marching rainbow.

The Armenians had a folk ballet group, Irishmen danced, Scotsmen played bagpipes, Austrians pulled a toy castle float, Chinese displayed a "dragon boat" to ward off evil spirits, Danes danced, children decorated a traditional English pear tree, French girls performed a spirited can-can, Germans danced, and Dutchmen showed off their windmill float.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE? — Even the ghoulish family created by cartoonist Charles Addams turns away in horror from the house where Bette Davis practices her various tortures on Joan Crawford in the new Warner Bros. motion picture thriller, "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?" The film is scheduled for a five-day engagement at the Capri Theatre starting Thursday.

When she barnstormed through theatre after theatre in New York to sell "Baby Jane," and it paid off when the film incredibly recouped its negative cost in its first week of release.

But Thursday night took a different sort of guts, and she came well-supplied. Known primarily as a dramatic star, she showed the kids what confidence and poise are all about. She sings about as wonderfully bad as Rosalind Russell, and with just as much forthrightness and gusto.

She sang folk songs with Williams and the New Christy Minstrels, and she hoofed to a square dance and also to a Broadway-style number with eight chorus boys. She is a hot property in this area, fellas.

Was it a comedown for her to sing an easy twist-type song? Nonsense. She's not living in the past. She's alive and kicking. Good for her.

Mickey Mouse Was 'In His Glory' In Walt Disney's Christmas Parade

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — When Walt Disney puts on a Christmas parade he doesn't fool around, massing thousands of marchers, bands, animals, hundreds of flags and the inimitable Mickey Mouse.

Mickey is a character we don't see too often these days but he was in his glory at Walt's holiday season parade. The little rodent brought the audience to their feet as he pranced into the parade area leading his own band.

More than 25,000 people were on hand for the eighth annual "Christmas in many lands" parade featuring international holiday season celebrations.

A total of 23 floats competed for sweepstakes honors. Mexico's colorful toy tree float won first prize with Austria second and Nationalist China third. The United States unit featured a group carrying banners and twirling lariat.

Disney was the parade grand marshal, riding a model of an old electric car with three cartoon characters joining him for the tour.

The Mickey Mouse man had the whole Disney family on hand to wish celebrants a Merry Christmas. Besides Mickey, there was Donald Duck, his three nephews and Uncle Ludwig Von Drake, Goofy, the big bad wolf and three little pigs, Pluto the pup and Snow White with her seven dwarfs trailing along.

The Giant Disneyland amusement park in nearby Anaheim was colorfully decorated for the event. Add to that bright flags, costumes and decorations of foreign nations represented and you end up with a marching rainbow.

The Armenians had a folk ballet group, Irishmen danced, Scotsmen played bagpipes, Austrians pulled a toy castle float, Chinese displayed a "dragon boat" to ward off evil spirits, Danes danced, children decorated a traditional English pear tree, French girls performed a spirited can-can, Germans danced, and Dutchmen showed off their windmill float.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the right of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

It's Dreary Outlook, Federal School Aid

The question of federal aid to schools is going to continue to be a political issue until it finally is decided to give some kind of federal subsidy to all schools. That may be a dreary outlook, but it's the whole history of modern politics to give support to anybody who hollers long enough and hard enough; and who has made more noise than the federal-aid-to-schools people?

On the one side are the people who say they don't want any federal aid to schools because federal aid invariably brings federal control. A supreme court decision has said that federal control follows federal money; it is the right and even the duty of the grantor of funds to see how the money is being spent.

These anti-federal-aiders seem not to realize that there is no more local school system in this country. Each of the Independent School Districts is a wiggle-y-waggled little appendix hooked onto the vast innards of a giant state school system, and they enjoy just about as much significance and independence.

The state of Texas takes $36 million a year in federal funds for Texas schools already. There's nothing new about federal aid. We've had it for years. The local school boards have no significant educational functions. They can no longer even buy tires for the school buses. The state takes care of that!

Well, if there are those who oppose federal aid—even though they've been accepting it for years—there are others who are for it. This group is split like the Big Endians and the Little Endians, but they're agreed that it's a good thing in principle.

One group wants the federal government to subsidize school buildings, scholars, research and just about everything else directly or remotely connected with schools. Another group wants this aid confined exclusively to public schools, that is, schools of the state system as opposed to private schools.

The hassle here is between the Roman Catholic bishops (National Catholic Welfare Conference) and the group who want aid to public schools only. The conference first took a hard-nosed stand in favor of equal subsidies to private and public schools, but when Cardinal Spellman of New York backed the late Eleanor Roosevelt he found himself over-matched. Mrs. Roosevelt took on the cardinal and dispatched him rather handsily. Now the Conference says it will settle for loans, not gifts. The President, too, has come out against federal grants to private schools.

Comes now another contender which says, frankly, it is uncommitted one way or the other on federal aid. But, says the Citizens for Educational Freedom, "While we're neutral on the question of aid to education itself, if Congress finds federal aid desirable, then we want it without discrimination" against private schools. So says the head of the Citizens for Educational Freedom, David L. Driere of St. Louis, Mo.

The Citizens are quite active, politically. They got Wisconsin to pass a law giving school bus service to parochial school children, but the high court of Wisconsin struck it down.

Since, they have supported a number of candidates, including Sen. Thurston Morton, R-Ky., Sen. Elect Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., and a number of successful House candidates around the country.

Since the Citizens do not philosophize, they are not concerned with the ethics of federal aid. They have not considered whether there will be any such thing as a private, church or parochial schools once they get federal money. They have not concerned themselves with whether private schools are not already getting subsidies in many guises (tax exemptions, grants in aid, federal funds for research, to name a few).

And, most of all, does it really matter whether the state or federal governments control the schools? Is it more than a matter of Tweedledum and Tweedledee? We'll leave that to the strong advocates of government schools to decide.

Force, Cunning, Virtue

To win by brute force is to prove one's strength. To win by strategy is to prove one's cunning. To win by virtue, is to prove one's right.

BENEVOLENT TYRANNY

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

In a recent column we discussed benevolent tyranny at some length but we ignored one particular facet of a situation which implies that all men are helpless, individually. A union states its case with great fervor: You would never receive a living wage without our help. You, alone, are incapable of dealing with employers. You, worker, are helpless and weak without us.

While unionism states its case, millions of men and women EARN excellent salaries without benefit of unionism. On the other hand, unionism has stated its case with such fervor as to convince millions of workers of their inability to stand on their own two feet and EARN in relation to their ability to produce. This reminds me of a specific case; a man I knew had tremendous talent in a field not connected with his regular work. He pursued his hobby and from time to time EARNED more in one week than he received at his regular occupation in six months but unionism had done its work well. On more than one occasion this man said to me, "If it wasn't for unions I'd still be making $9 an hour like I did 30 years ago." This man, through his croative talent, acquired a small fortune in property purchased with the earnings of his individual and important talent and he saw nothing incongruous in his belief that without unionism he would still be what he called a down-trodden worker.

A friend of many years ago was employed under circumstances which forced him to join a union. After a few years he continually complained that under such circumstances he could never be anything but a worker called a working stiff. He was a good worker and received an offer to take over an executive, non-union position which would result in a 150 per cent increase in his earnings and accepted. Less than a year later, he quit that job and went back to his old position because, as a working stiff, he would have so much less responsibility.

The thinking of millions of American workers has become just as institutionalized as if they were spending a life time behind prison walls. A host of experienced criminologists will attest to the fact that many repeaters of the criminal element invariably breathe a sigh of relief when they are caught in the commission of a crime and find themselves

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

When Henry Ford gave America cheap motor transportation early in the century, the walking stick started to disappear from the scene. Then when the taxicab became popular just before World War II, the cane was on its way out as a general custom. About 90 per cent of the sticks sold in the United States today come from Germany, Austria and England and are bought by actors, collectors, the physically handicapped, those who carry and like them and for gifts. One of New York City's famed cane-wearers is C. D. Batchelor, the Pulitzer prize editorial cartoonist of the Daily News. He is also a collector with close to 450 specimens from all parts of the world. There has been a pick-up in cane sales within the last few years by persons who use them for protection against muggers and other criminals.

Millions of lights sparkled from the towers of Manhattan at dusk the other night as we had a tug's-eye view of the city as it glowed like a fairland. We were in the Patricia's warm and smug pilot house, listening to the docking pilot's radio instructions as six other tugs maneuvered the great liner France to her berth. Hundreds of radio commands came back and forth and the other tugs answered by shrill whistle signals of one, two, three and a series of peeps. Then the liner was secured and the job over in one hour.

ROUNDUP. Our sea-going relative, Captain Dan is back from the Orient and reports construction of new gambling halls and hotels in Macao. This small-outpost is a province of Portugal, about a 3-hour boat trip from Hong Kong. Its principal trade is in gambling, smuggling and the manufacture of matches. There is practically no children's delinquency among the Chinese in America. The close family relationship is apparently the answer. We often wonder how a busy physician can find time to read his many current medical journals, and new books on the healing arts.

Well, Suh, those Southern Rebels may have cussed many a "damn Yankee" in their time, but they didn't coin the expression. In fact, "damn Yankee" didn't originate south of the Mason and Dixon Line. It didn't even originate in the U.S.A., says the Catholic Digest. The colorful phrase was the watchword of the Canadians who fought "damn Yankees" in the War of 1812.

Distinction: Four Governors of New York — Franklin D. Roosevelt, Teddy Roosevelt, Grover Cleveland and Martin Van Buren — became President of the U. S., and others — Thomas E. Dewey, Al Smith and Charles E. Hughes — ran unsuccessfully for the presidency, but Teddy Roosevelt is the only President to have been born in New York City. Almost two-thirds of American women are five feet, four inches in height or less, recent government data shows.

Country editor speaking: Two many fast-moving automobiles carry slow-thinking drivers.

again secure netwone prison oars. In prison they achieve the utmost in the way of security.

The basic, natural urge to walk abroad as a free man persists, however. This is indicated by the fact that regular offenders serve their time penitently so that they may try it again on the outside. I talked with an ex-convict who said, "The first time I crossed a busy street, I thought I'd go nuts. I wanted to rush up to the first cop I saw and ask him to lock me up quick. It was almost too much for me." In this individual instance, the urge for freedom had a great deal more strength than the urge of security and today the man mentioned is a successful, independent businessman, 30 years later.

But don't get me wrong. I make no plea for your independence. Your independence or lack of individualism is your business, just as my freedom is my business. The point I wish to make is that in making a fight for my own freedom, I will continue to search for ways and means to avoid paying for your security.

If the prisoner prefers the security of a cell, that is his business. If I am compelled to part with my earnings to pay for his security it becomes my business and I believe the prisoner should be required to work to pay for his keep and his security. If a man wishes to sit and wait for someone to find him a job, that's his business. If I am forced to contribute to his support as he sits on his fat, that is my business.

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

LOOK OUT FOR THAT BONE!
By Harry Browne
It now appears certain that a sizeable income tax cut — along with an increase in federal spending — is in the cards for 1963. Apparently, the government has decided that it's time to throw the dog a bone — and is readying magnanimous tax concessions to the poor taxpayer.

Before the dog goes for the bone, however, he'd better make sure it isn't his own tail that he's devouring. For there's one fact of life that mustn't be overlooked: Taxes constitute the price we pay for the government we get. The only possible way to cut that price is to cut the amount of government.

We Pay Anyway
The hired economists will come up with some head-spinning theories justifying tax reforms. But we taxpayers are still going to have to cough up every cent necessary to pay for the amount of government we allow to be inflicted upon us.

Once income tax rates are reduced, the search will begin for ways to make up the loss in revenue. Other taxes may be raised or existing "loopholes" closed. Either way, government spending will continue to cost us dearly.

The sneakiest method of confiscation is to simply let the tax reduction create a budget deficit — letting us believe we're putting the deficit "on the cuff" to be paid later. But in this case, there's no "cuff."

You see, the Treasury Department long ago ran out of lenders who would buy its bonds. As a result, the only way to finance the remainder of its $300 billion debt is to have the Federal Reserve System "create" brand new money to pay for it.

Inflation
So every additional dollar of red ink the government incurs means one more Federal Reserve Note dollar in circulation. And the natural law of economics dictates that every dollar added to the money supply reduces the value of existing dollars proportionately.

In other words, instead of taxing its citizens to pay for its extravagances, the government simply means that the bone we eagerly consume is really a part of ourselves.

matter of fact
To the hunter or to the gourmet, it will be interesting to know that in the second half of the 20th century one game bird was raised for every 38 domestic turkeys produced, one for every 16 ducks, one for every 1.3 geese, and one for every 1.3 guineas. In North America the term "game bird" includes quail, pheasant, grouse and partridge, ducks, geese and swans, woodcock, snipe and plover.

The Doctor Says:

Psoriasis, a Skin Disease, Is Not Akin to Leprosy
By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Q—I have had psoriasis most of my life. In a recent news item about the New England Bible it says the translators are dropping the term "leprosy" since in Biblical times it meant a skin disease now called psoriasis. I was never told that psoriasis was a form of leprosy and I still can't believe it but it is embarrassing to me to have this skin disease so closely linked with a disease the public is so afraid of.

A—Psoriasis is not a form of leprosy. In Biblical times there were very few skin specialists and those there were could not always make an accurate diagnosis. For that reason people got into the careless habit of calling leprosy every skin disease that lasted more than two weeks and was associated with white scaly patches. Many of these unfortunate persons probably had psoriasis, a very old disease.

Since psoriasis is not contagious, it has absolutely no connection with leprosy. The isolation forced on these persons worked a much greater hardship on them than any misunderstanding of a recent news item could possibly work on you. Incidentally, leprosy is not nearly so fearsome a scourge as it was once thought to be.

Q—I lost my sense of smell and taste a year ago. I had had a bad cold. When it began to get better, my sense of smell did not return. I can now breathe as well as ever but I can't smell or taste anything except sweet, sour and salt. What can I do?

A—There is a gradual loss of the sense of smell after age 50 but a sudden complete loss may be due to an obstruction in the nose. This apparently you do not have. Other causes include atrophic rhinitis which is wasting away or destruction of the mucous membranes of the nose or excessive dryness of these membranes. These conditions may result from a long series of severe colds. Thorough examination by a specialist in diseases of the nose may help to determine the cause in your case. But you have not lost your sense of taste altogether. There are only four kinds of taste: sweet, sour, salt and bitter. All the flavors we "taste" depend on our sense of smell.

Q—I have a pain in my right side which is very severe at times. I have been told that this is diverticulitis. It is more severe after I eat any roughage. Please explain the cause and remedy for this. Will it become a cancer?

A—Diverticula are small outpocketings that may occur anywhere in the digestive tract. They may be especially numerous in the body after the age of 40, no cause except aging is known. Most of these diverticula never cause any symptoms. If they become inflamed, the condition is called diverticulitis.

There is no evidence that cancer is any more likely to occur in a diverticulum than in a part of the alimentary tract that is free from diverticula.

Treatment consists of a diet with little or no roughage and antibiotics if prescribed by your doctor. Laxatives should be avoided. If obstruction of the bowel occurs—and this is rare—see your doctor at once.

Question Box

Question: "Do you believe eminent domain is ever justified? If not, could you explain how the free market would solve the 'hold out' at any price?"
A—Do you think major highways could be constructed by private enterprise? Please explain.

We do not believe that eminent domain is ever justified. It gives power that no man or group can be trusted to have.

Isabel Paterson, in her great book "The God Of The Machine," which Ayn Rand said is the greatest book published in the last 400 years, contends that if you concede the right of eminent domain you are lost; you cannot defend private property. We think that is right, because eminent domain is giving the government the right to use initiated force that no individual has the right to use. It is a double standard of rightness.

If an individual were arbitrary and wanted a fictitious price for his property, public opinion against that individual would be a strong deterrent.

If that didn't work, then whoever built the roads would have a right to tell the person who would not cooperate and sell his property at a rational price, that he could not use the roads or the sewer or whatever rights were required to build the utility that was going to be used.

And if the man could not use the roads, he would rightly soon decide that he'd better sell his property, because if he couldn't use the roads, unless he was a river or an ocean, he couldn't market what he had to sell.

We think major highways could be conducted by private enterprise, and they would have the right to exclude a man from using the roads if he would not sell and they were obliged to go around his property. This was pretty well answered in a former explanation of the right of eminent domain.

Eminent domain is the entering wedge of socialism. The minute you give the state the right to initiate force, you have no principle as a guide as to what the state dare do. It is our contention the state has no right to do anything that each and every individual doesn't have an equal right to do. And no individual has a right to force another man to sell

Allen-Scott Report

Portugal, Bitter over Goa and Angola, Demands $80 Million Rent on U.S. Azores Bases

WASHINGTON—Portugal wants $80 million a year in rent for the U.S. air and naval bases in the Azores. They have been rent-free since World War II. The demanded $80 million is approximately what Portugal is spending to maintain some 45,000 troops, about half of its army, in Angola, its revolt-torn African colony.

That's the bad news Secretary Rusk gave the President after conferring with Portuguese Foreign Minister Alberto Nogueira during the NATO conference in Paris. The Portuguese diplomat made no bones as to the reason for this extraordinary rental demand. He said bluntly Portugal is irate at U.S. refusal of support against India's armed seizure of Goa, and her attacks in the United Nations on alleged brutalities in Angola; and his country urgently needs funds to preserve its rule of Angola.

Nogueira was particularly critical of the U.S. for not inducing the Congo government to close camps in which he charged Angola guerrillas are being trained. Much was made by Nogueira of Portugal's long alliance with the U.S. He stressed that this country had strongly supported the Allies in World War II, but had been rebuffed when it needed help in Goa and Angola.

Portugal is still vigorously protesting. But henceforth, Nogueira declared, its dealings with the U.S. are on a strict business basis. As a starter, Portugal wants $80 million rent for the crucial Azores bases.

Built in World War II, the airbase on Terceira Island, where bombers of the Strategic Air Command refuel, and the naval base on Santa Maria Island, cost around $100 million. Under the terms of a 1957 lease, the bases must be evacuated next June unless a new agreement is reached.

At a press conference early this year, President Kennedy frankly conceded that these bases are "very important to us and to NATO," and expressed the hope Portugal "will continue to permit us to use these bases, upon which 75 to 80 per cent of our military air traffic to Europe depends."

Senator Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., and Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., both Reserve officers, after talking with Foreign Minister Nogueira, wrote the President urging "greater understanding" of Portugal's complex problems in Angola. They advised that the U.S. should support Portugal instead of opposing it.

HOUSE HUNTING — Russia is looking for a larger and more secluded embassy in Washington. The present embassy, on 16th Street, three blocks from the White House, has been occupied since diplomatic relations were established with the Soviet by President Roosevelt in the mid 30s. Originally, the embassy was the Pullman mansion the scene of elaborate parties prior to World War I.

Ambassador Dobrynin has told Capital realtors his government wants to sell the 16th Street embassy and move to a larger and more secluded establishment.

more secluded establishment. As an example of what Dobrynin is interested in, he cited the handsome 20 acre estate of the late Joseph Da Ambassador to Moscow during New Deal and author of the selling "Mission to Moscow." In addition to the big manor house there are other buildings on estate, which is not far from towering Washington (Episcopal Cathedral where Woodrow W. is buried).

Particularly appealing to Dobrynin are the many trees on the estate, which is surrounded by high iron fence. Also greatly interested in Dobrynin is the new Communication Satellite Corporation, which gress voted last session. The corporators of this billion dollar concern, who have yet to be firm by the Senate, have out feelers on the purchase Tregaron. But it would have to be rezoned to permit its use business purposes.

According to what Dobrynin is telling the realtors, his government is prepared to spend $1 billion for the desired new embassy. UPHILL FIGHT — General Fred Gruenther, head of American Red Cross and one-NATO commander, is hoping to spend Christmas at home after a long illness at the Army's Reed Hospital. He was there in September with pneumonia. Blood clots developed his right lung, and emergency surgery had to be resorted Gruenther's recovery has been slow, but his condition is improved. Justice Department officials are carefully reading "The Rupt Judge," by one-time Assistant Attorney General John Borkin, for clues to possible litigation against several jurists. Kin was a noted anti-trust lawyer, and is still a militant fighter against hoodling in places.

Secretary Rusk and other Department officials can keep fit and trim like other Frontiersmen — if they can the time between crises. A 25-foot gymnasium has been installed in the vast $60 million State Department building, rowing machines, stationary cycles and other devices. The cost $5,000, and was made converting two private dining rooms on the top floor. Access is limited to a score high rankers. Senator Clair G. D-Calif., is vigorously urging the administration to port the development of a cosmic airliner. In a letter to the Civil Aviation Administrator Jeb Halaby, Engle warr'd unless prompt steps are taken to produce such a plane. U.S. will lose out to the British and French. Declared Engle, the British-French partnership succeeded in capturing the market for supersonic transport the United States will be forced relinquish leadership of world civil transport."

Christmas Eve Midnight Mass Set At St. Vincent's

St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church, 2300 N. Hobart St., is observing the season of Advent with the Christmas Novena service each evening at 7:30 p.m. which will climax with the solemn observance of the Feast of the Holy Nativity of Jesus Christ and celebration of the annual Christmas Eve Midnight Mass, Monday, Dec. 24.

Rev. Edward Cashman, C.M., pastor, will be celebrant of the High Mass assisted by Rev. Jerome Calcagno, C.M., assistant pastor of the church. Acolytes will be the following seminarians: Ronald Ebenkamp, Gregory Jewell, Jerry Simpson and Andy Supina.

Beginning at 11:15 p.m. with the organ prelude, "The Vision of the Shepherds" by Mary Rosa, 65 members of the St. Vincent's Adult Chorists and Junior Chorists under the direction of Tracy D. Cary will sing a pre-mass service of carols which will include "The Magnificat" (VIII

Violinist for the descants will be Mrs. Evelyn Thoma Price, who will play "Nazareth" by Gounod during the distribution of Holy Communion, accompanied at the organ by Cary. Mrs. Jack D. Edwards will be co-organist.

During the singing of Novello's festival arrangement of "Adeste Fideles" a solemn procession of ministers and vested altar acolytes will proceed to the creche for the blessing of the manger after which the Mass will begin at midnight.

Music for the liturgy will be the Kyrie, Gloria, Sanctus and Benedictus from Wm. J. Marsh's "Mass in Honor of St. Lawrence." The Credo and Agnus Dei will be taken from "Mass in Hon-of St. Peter 1850 by Marsh. The offertory motet - anthem "Hodie, Christus Natus Est" (Today, Christ Is Born) by Tracy D. Cary will be performed for the second time. It was especially written for the choir of St. Vincent's in 1961. The setting of the Mass-Propers will be "In Nativitate Domini" by A. Tozer performed by Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Miss Julia Neslage, Miss Sheila Chisholm, Mrs. Evelyn T. Price, Jack D. Edwards, and Cary.

Services for Christmas Day will include Masses at 8, 9, and 10 a.m. At the 8 a.m. Mass the children's choir from St. Vincent's Parochial School composed of the 3rd, 4th, and 5th grade pupils will sing hymns and carols under the direction of Sister Mary Catherine, C.C.V.L. with Jeanne Neslage and Ann Keim as organists. Music for the 10 a.m. Mass will be provided by the 6th, 7th, and 8th grade students under the direction of Sister Luitgardis, C.C.V.L. and with Sally Prince as organist.

MAIL TRY FAILS

RACINE, Wis. (UPI)—Because he has been in the United States from China only a few days, Hank Lem, 19, wasn't sure how to mail a letter—but he tried. He went to a street corner, pulled the lever on a box and 10 fire trucks roared to the scene.

H-SU Names New President

WICHITA FALLS (UPI)—Dr. James H. Landes, pastor of the Wichita Falls First Baptist Church, will become the 16th president of Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene.

The Abilene school elected Landes president last week. He did not accept until recently. His resignation from the church will become effective Feb. 1, 1963.

Dr. Landes, 50, read to his congregation a copy of the telegram he sent to the trustees announcing his acceptance.

"To us this is home... you are our people... this is our church... but it appears God has other plans for us.

"We earnestly covet your prayers, for the institution to which we go has glorious opportunities and great problems."

In Dallas, W. B. Irvin, chairman of the Hardin-Simmons trustees, said, "I believe he can, and will, do a wonderful job as president."

Dr. Landes previously was pastor of College Avenue Baptist Church in Bryan and Eagle Lake, Tex., Baptist Church.

He is a graduate of Ouachita Baptist College in Arkadelphia, Ark., and Southwestern Baptist

New Books Available From Lovett Library

Among the recent new books now on the shelves at the Lovett Memorial Library are the following novels: "Purple-6," by Henry Brinton; a brilliant and terrifying novel set against the modern atomic age.

"Atlantic Fury," by Hammond Innes: the writer of "The Wreck of the Mary Deare" again shows his power to grip the reader from start to finish in this new adventure of the sea.

"The Golden Spur," by Dawn Powell: alight, amusing novel of a dreary mid-western businessman and his adventures in New York.

"The Girl Who Was Never Queen," by Mary Main: a biographical novel of Princess Charlotte, the only daughter of George IV, who should have reigned in place of Victoria.

Non-fiction: "Arctic Odyssey," by Everett S. Allen: the biographical novel of a polar expedition.

Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

He will succeed Dr. Evan Alford Reiff, who died last March.

Among the recent new books now on the shelves at the Lovett Memorial Library are the following novels: "Purple-6," by Henry Brinton; a brilliant and terrifying novel set against the modern atomic age.

"The Hidden Heart of Baja," by Eric Stanley Gardner: an account of a most important archaeological discovery in Lower California by the well-known mystery writer.

"The Old Post Road," by Stewart H. Holbrook: the story of the Boston Post Road from the first rider in 1763 to the present day; one in the American Trails Series.

"In Navajo Land," by Laura Adams Armer: the personal record of this outstanding author's experiences with the Indians written with a deep understanding of the Navajos.

"Don't Park Here," by C. William Fisher: this book has a message of hope for those facing adversity with advice on how to move beyond your tragedies and triumphs.

"Moonlight On a Lake in Bird Street," by Stephen Watts: reminiscences of a drama critic on a London paper who found himself, a confirmed civilian, in the middle of World War II.

"How to Catch 5,000 Thieves," by Gerard Luis: the life of one of the great private investigators.

"For Parents Only," by Dr. Frank Richardson: a discussion of discipline with practical, down-to-earth advice on the art of bringing up today's child.

"How to Cope With," by Merrill Pollack: a funny, tongue-in-cheek book for all those who have had to cope with "letters with little celophane windows, lecture agents who bark."

The Lovett Library will be closed for the Christmas holidays on December 24 and 25.
