Voting Probe In Spread To Plains

AUSTIN (UPI)—Investigation of possible voting irregularities in the Nov. 6 general election spread today to the South Plains, as state investigators planned to check out notarization of absentee ballots.

He's Telling Us?
SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—Author Eugene Burdick claimed Sunday "there was abundant evidence" the nation's leaders have been paralyzing their emotions with tranquilizers while debating the vital issues of war or peace.

"The higher you go in the pyramid of power," he said, "the surer is the indication of finding unbalanced people at the top."

Meanwhile, investigators said the first phase of the vote probe, that concerning some Starr County voters who said votes were cast in their names without their consent, has been completed. State lawyers are looking over information developed at a Rio Grande Valley hearing before deciding what action to take.

Non-Existent Notary
Salmanson said today some absentee ballot applications bore the name of a non-existent notary public, and the ballots' return envelopes, in which the votes are sent to the voters' home county, bore the name of existing notaries. He said investigators will try to find out if the existing notaries actually signed the ballots' return envelopes.

Absentee ballot boxes from Starr County will be sent back to Austin later this week for investigators to give them one last look. Ballots from Duval and Zapata counties have not yet been investigated, because complainants who asked the state investigation have not followed up with formal complaints calling for action. The statutory deadline for such a probe to start is Dec. 6.

The ballot investigation may also spread to Loving County, sparsely populated area on the New Mexico border. County Judge Bill Winston of Mentone, the Loving County seat, sent state prosecutors some affidavits concerning possible voting of ineligible voters on the last day of absentee voting in the county. But the Loving County complaints have yet to go to court for an order setting up the formal election contest.

Valley Hearing Over
In the Starr County vote probe, investigators concluded their hearing in the valley last week.

Sam R. Wilson, another assistant attorney general, said the investigation so far "clearly shows many people were voted against their will."

Wilson and other investigators questioned witnesses Friday. Several of them, none of whom could speak English, said votes were cast in their names without their knowledge in Starr County in the Nov. 6 general election.

Three of 24
More than two dozen witnesses were called. Only three could speak English.

"After we evaluate our findings," Wilson said, "we will have" (See INVESTIGATION, Page 3)

Will Use Force 'If Necessary' Marshals Plan Records Move

MOUND CITY, S.D. (UPI)—Federal marshals met today to lay plans for removing—by force if necessary—Agriculture Department records from a building barricaded by embittered farmers.

U.S. Marshal Leonard T. Heckathorn met with his two regular and 16 special deputies to decide how to remove the records with the least amount of friction.

"Out-of-state rable-rousers are responsible," Asst. U.S. Atty. Travis H. Lewin said.

Lewin told a meeting of Mound City residents the documents must be surrendered peacefully or he would order the federal marshals to get them.

Mound City is objecting to the transfer of the county Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization Service (ACSC) office to Herried, a larger community. Citizens feel the next move of Herried residents would be to advocate moving the county seat from Mound City to their town.

Gov. Archie Gubbrud authorized the State Motor Patrol "to keep law and order." The Motor Patrol will not assist in the removal of the records.

Deputy Marshal Donald Herman of Rapid City, S.D., recently returned from Oxford, Miss., where he aided in quelling riots on the University of Mississippi campus.

Herman said the presence of out-of-state agitators in Mound City could mean "this will turn into another Mississippi incident."

He said the situation sounded like "someone is looking for a fight."

Lewin said extremist agitators were influencing the townspeople because "many of those we've been battling were subdued—helping to keep order."

Photos Show Plane Fuselages On Ships

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Russia has begun shipping its IL 28 jet bombers home from Cuba, the Defense Department announced today.

Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester said that a Soviet ship has been photographed and pictures showed the fuselages of three of the Red bombers on its deck.

The ship, identified as the Okhotsk, was proceeding off the north coast of Cuba at the time it was photographed Saturday, Sylvester said.

He also said that analysis of information available to the U. S. government shows that on Nov. 30 the dismantling of IL28s was under way at the San Julian airfield.

Under terms of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's recent promise to President Kennedy, all the twin-engine bombers—estimated at between 20 and 40—are to be off the island by Dec. 28.

The IL 28 is a subsonic jet bomber with a radius of operation of about 750 miles.

The bombers were detected in Cuba at about the same time that American reconnaissance pilots discovered the buildup of ballistic missile bases on the island in October.

President Kennedy placed first priority on removal of the missiles but also criticized the bombers as offensive weapons and demanded their removal as well.

The San Julian air field where the IL28s were seen being dismantled is on the western tip of Cuba.

Used Several Bases
The Defense Department said it was unable to immediately identify any other fields where IL28s had been seen. A spokesman said they had "appeared and reappeared in different places."

He declined to say whether they had been seen flying over the island.

After a period of haggling over the status of the bombers between Russian and U. S. crisis negotiators, President Kennedy announced at a news conference Nov. 20 that Khrushchev had agreed to withdraw the bombers as well as the missiles.

This resulted in a great lessening of tension in the Cuban crisis.

Soviet Union Rejects Test Ban Proposal

GENEVA (UPI)—The Soviet Union today rejected neutral nations' proposals for a nuclear test ban.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin turned down the neutral nations' plan when the 17-nation disarmament conference met in its 86th plenary session.

The neutral proposals, Tsarapkin said, are "an attempt to apply Western control measures to the proposed (test ban) agreement and therefore quite unacceptable to the Soviet Union."

A Western delegation spokesman said the Soviet stand appeared to block any chance of a test ban agreement before Christmas.

The Russian rejection came shortly after the United States said it is interested in the neutral proposals for resolving the test ban deadlock.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the conference the United States was giving careful consideration to the proposals made last week by Sweden and India.

Tsarapkin, on the other hand, again mentioned the Russian plan for test inspection by means of the "black boxes" — unmanned seismic stations. He did not make a formal proposal on the subject, however.

Dean said the most interesting points were those concerning with international on-site inspection of suspected underground blasts.

This Is Carrying 'Sunday Driver' Thing Too Far!

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (UPI)—Edward J. Marek took his daughter, Suzanne, 18, for a driving lesson Sunday — and wished he hadn't.

She was making a left turn when the car jumped a curb, rolled across a lawn, smashed through two fences, ran over a patio, slammed into a house, plunging into the kitchen, shearing a gas line, forcing the M. E. Rowley family to flee until firefighters could clear the house of gas.

Miss Marek was charged with driving without a license; her father with permitting an unauthorized person to drive.

Commie Chinese Troop Withdrawals Reported

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru reported today that the Chinese communists appear to be withdrawing troops from rear areas.

Nehru admitted, however, that the situation is "confusing" and did not go so far as to accuse Peking of going back on its word.

Peking Radio announced Sunday that its forces on the eastern border had withdrawn in accordance with Red China's much publicized withdrawal offer last month. It did not mention other border areas.

Nehru's report to Parliament today was the first official Indian word on the withdrawal.

"Behind the Chinese front there have apparently been some withdrawals," Nehru said. "In front positions the Chinese may have lined out but they have not withdrawn actually."

Nehru pointed out, for example, that Peking had arranged to return 53 Indian prisoners at Bomla on Wednesday so the Chinese communists obviously will not have withdrawn from there by that time.

"Some withdrawals appear to be going on in some places," Nehru said. "The position is rather a confused one so far as to give me to give any precise information. Apparently there have been some withdrawals, some signs of withdrawals in rear areas, signs of truck withdrawals, etcetera."

Home Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri said Sunday night it probably would be several days before there would be a clear picture of the Chinese withdrawal.

He reiterated the government's statements that India will not negotiate with Red China if its troops fall back only to the ceasefire line established by Peking.

"India's firm in the stand that unless the Chinese withdraw to positions of last September 8 we will not mention other border areas."

Dallas (UPI)—The first step was a big one for Cecil Everett Davis, 28.

Police brought Davis in Sunday to jail him on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

The two arresting officers were writing out their reports on Davis' part in a knife fight that seriously injured another man.

Davis, noticing that no one was paying too close attention to him, turned and stepped out a window.

The window was on the third floor. Davis was in serious condition at a hospital early today.

He changed His Mind
BONHAM, Tex. (UPI)—Quincy Moore Carpenter, 25, of Garland, Tex., told the jailer at the Fannin County jail Sunday night that he urgently needed to call his wife to "find out how my baby is doing."

The sympathetic jailer opened the door. He said Carpenter was still running when last seen.

Wondering About The Red Lights?

Wondering about those red and orange lights scattered among the blue ones in Pampa's downtown Christmas-decorations?

A. J. Carubbi, Jaycee president, said that as the red and orange bulbs burn out, they will be replaced with blue lights.

"The idea," Carubbi said, "is eventually to have the lights all blue, but we didn't have the money to buy all blue ones right at the start."

Carubbi said the Jaycees would be happy to receive donations so that the conversion can be made completely.

"We felt it would have been a waste to throw away the red and orange lights as long as they were burning," Carubbi said.

Woman Dies Whose Farm 'Seceded'

GLENDALE, Calif. (UPI)—Mrs. Irene Pearl Smith Clett, 62, who succeeded her Texas farm from the union after she was ordered to sign away her rights, died Saturday of cancer. She was to have begun a prison sentence March 5.

The 60-day prison term for contempt of court when she ignored an order to relinquish her 350-acre farm near Waller, Tex., was delayed when Mrs. Clett's physician testified she had only six months to live.

Judge Reynaldo G. Garza last October set Feb. 13 as a deadline "if she then be alive" after which she would be jailed if she failed to purge herself of contempt.

Storm Buffets Atlantic Seaboard

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UPI)—A fierce Atlantic storm drifted slowly southward today and battered the Atlantic Seaboard with gale winds and high tides. No relief was in sight.

"The storm is expected to drift a little southward in the next few hours with a tendency to become stationary," the Weather Bureau said. "Therefore no relief is in sight and residents in the affected areas can look for more of the same."

The week-old storm drifted slowly southward Sunday and the latest advisory located it about 250 miles due east of here.

Gale warnings were displayed from Myrtle Beach, S.C. to the Virginia Capes and small craft warnings remained in effect along the coast from Cape Canaveral to Cape May, N.J.

Winds up to 65 miles per hour were reported in heavy squalls near the center of the storm. Rough seas and tides up to three feet above normal continued to plague coastal areas from Virginia southward to northern Florida, causing serious beach erosion and minor flooding.

Weather Bureau forecasters were puzzled by the erratic behavior of the storm which remained stationary at times last week but retained its strength.

Walter Hall, a Weather Bureau forecaster here for 25 years, called the storm the most unusual he had ever seen. The direction of the storm has changed frequently.

Three crewmen were rescued from a North Carolina ferry system work boat Sunday after the vessel began listing to port and taking on water in rough seas off Pamlico Sound near Manteo, N.C.

For Lady Who Waits: These Charmers

By GAILE DUGAS
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — Maternity fashions for the holidays are the prettiest ever. In fact, girls who are not waiting have been known to buy them just because they are pretty.

This year, there's an accent on luxury. Brocade, lame, lace, satin and chiffon are used for fashions that will turn any mother-to-be into a beauty. And the lines follow those of all 1962 fashions: the shift, the straight top, the slim skirt, the high waistline.

In fact, girls lucky enough to own these fashions are sure not to retire them after baby's arrival. They'll go on and on, just as any favored fashion would. Even the girl who retires maternity skirts will keep the tops for further use. One is done in lace with a scalloped edge; another is three-tiered chiffon in white. A jacket of fake broadtail would be endlessly useful in any wardrobe.

Beautiful fabrics are so handled as to suggest slimmest and call attention to a lovely face. (Most women tend to bloom during pregnancy; the skin is nearly always clear and glowing.)

The girl with three or four really smashing holiday fashions will accept all party invitations without a qualm. And her husband will feel that he is escorting the belle of the ball. What could be more flattering to a woman?

The lady who waits can be pretty as a picture. Maternity fashions for the holidays are real charmers. Sleeveless and chic, this one-piece dress is in black and pale beige (left). Jacket of frankly fake broadtail (center) is worn over slender dress with drawstring waistline. Handsome brocade suit (right) is for dinner, the theater or small parties. It is in apricot and gold. All designs shown here are by Toni Lynn; they are done in many color choices.

Dear Abby... To Each His Own Convictions!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please print this to let other wives know how one wife feels about office parties. I think it's silly for a wife to try to keep her husband from going. Let him go and tell him to have a good time. If he kisses a widow — so what? Or even a divorcee. If a man knows he has all the freedom he wants, he won't take it. Half the fun of swiping green apples is the danger and risk of stealing them. I shove my husband at other women all the time and he hardly looks at them because having my okay takes all the fun out of it. Try it. It works.

JULIET
DEAR JULIET: And what if it doesn't work? You'll have to go hunt up your husband in somebody else's orchard. No, thanks. I say tell him you love him, refuse to share him, and if you catch him straying you'll have his scalp!

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for making it known that tattoos can be removed by a physician. Some people still believe that just because they foolishly got themselves tattooed when they were out on a spree one night they have to live with the tattoos forever. I know a fellow who applied for the State Police and had to have two protractors removed from a very embarrassing part of his anatomy before he could pass the physical.

Take It From Kathy

by Kathy Peterson
Dear Kathy: If a girl is given a gift by her boy friend and they break up, should the girl still wear it? In this case, I'm referring to a sweater.

Should you buy your boy friend a gift for a special occasion? We earn our own money from baby-sitting, but we don't know whether we should buy a gift or just send a card. Please answer as soon as possible.—In the Doghouse.

Dear Girls: Gifts exchanged by boys and girls should be inexpensive and needn't be returned when they stop dating. However, a couple engaged or going steady for a long time might exchange expensive things and presents that have great sentimental value. A ring, pin, or other tokens should be returned. Of course engagement rings fit this category. Anything not returned may be used.

When you have been seeing the same person steadily, a present could be in order on a special occasion.

Books, a magazine subscription or something tied in with the sport he enjoys are all possibilities. Just try to tailor the gift to his special tastes.

Mrs. Doyle Osborne was hostess to the Twentieth Century Culture Club, Tuesday, with Mrs. Jeff Bearden assisting. Preparations were made for the club to assemble and distribute a Christmas basket to a needy family. It was announced that location of the club's Christmas party on Dec. 11 would be changed to the home of Mrs. E. L. Henderson at 419 E. Foster. The program "American Education—Old Patterns and New Ventures" was presented by Mrs. L. H. Hart and Mrs. W. L. Hasse. It was prefaced by the statement that the American education plan is probably the best of all plans. However, we cannot sit back on our laurels and think that there is no room for improvement. With interested parents and alert educators working together, changes could be made for benefit of the student and the satisfaction of the taxpayer.

The outlook for education in 1975's predicts an increase in school and college enrollment added number of junior college lengthened school hours number of days; summer sessions to be commonplace; in curriculums some elective courses become basic, such as in science and federal aid legislation of grants to be broadened; techniques of teaching to be revolutionized by the use of teaching machines.

With the influences of state laws, college entrance requirements, government agencies, professional organizations, a federal aid legislation arose as to who does our schools.

Using the jargon of core curriculum to represent past history the validity of report cards of present day, and the possibility of teaching machines in future techniques of teaching were discussed.

Pilot projects now in the of experiment were enumerated to point out the awareness of particular needs in education to alert us to the truth that are still pioneers in many phases of education. Some of the schools mentioned were those with retarded children, emotionally disturbed children, some schools were separate the boys and girls for each day on the basis that each learns differently and has different attitudes and energy schools were technically taught pupils to listen, one of the best techniques in teaching; other schools had revamped reading programs to achieve more success in the basic fundamental of all learning.

Teacher — load, curriculum study-halls, extra-curricular activities, and physical education other subjects receiving much attention. A desperate need for more attention given to library materials in the schools both reference and leisure reading pointed out. Logically the availability of these materials supplied was of great concern.

The program was geared to real aim of education, that teaching students how to think rather than what to think.

Members in attendance of than those mentioned were: Mmes. Ross Buzzard, Craddock, R. E. Dobbin, J. Donaldson, E. L. Henderson, V. Hobbs, E. E. Shelhamer and J. Zachry.

QUIET GUANTANAMO—Family area of Guantanamo, Cuba, where only a short time ago children played and women attended to household duties, is strangely quiet since the recent evacuation of 1,200 wives and 1,000 children. Aerial photo reveals outdoor movie lyceum and vacant tennis courts, basketball court and baseball diamond. Guantanamo was transformed, almost overnight, from a family town into an armed camp as large-scale military buildup began.

Kozlov

(Continued From Page 1) Moscow are a "monstrous slander." Armed for Defense Kozlov said Russia is for peace "but it would be a gross mistake to consider our love for peace as a symptom of weakness. Party leader Palmiro Togliatti opened the congress Sunday with a four-hour speech that drew only token applause from the 876 delegates and hundreds of hand-picked guests.

Togliatti outlined a right-wing domestic and international policy of peaceful coexistence, domestic reform, alliance with the middle classes and the distant prospect of a "socialist state" with more than one party.

Open opposition to Togliatti appeared absent. Although central committee member Maria Alicata said last week that an atomic trigger-happy "Chinese line" faction existed in the party, there was no firm evidence that any of them had won election as congress delegates.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—According to Standard & Poor's, prospects remain favorable for some extension of the rise in stock prices but the point has been reached where the risk element is coming increasingly into play.

While long-term holdings of well-situated issues should be maintained, new purchases should be made more discriminately.

United Business Service says the upswing very likely will carry further, but a temporary period of reaction and setback should be allowed for first. UBS recommends to maintain present investment positions and reserves.

The current stock market advance as measured from its low point in October now encompasses a total of 100 points on the Dow-Jones industrial index. It is the reasoning of Richard T. Leahy, of J. W. Sparks & Co., that the powerful bullish performance leaves no doubt as to the long term future for share prices. However, he warns, it must be remembered that on many occasions in the past when an almost unanimous bullish or bearish point of view prevailed, the list showed an amazing propensity for contrary action.

Bache & Co. says it seems likely that further selective buying will develop over the near term.

Thomson & McKinnon does not foresee a new bull market of unbroken stock price advances. There is a formidable overhead supply overhanging the market which should become more in evidence as prices move up through the 450 area in the Dow-Jones industrial.

Land Bank Reduces Loan Rate

The Federal Land Bank of Houston, effective Jan. 1, 1963, will reduce temporarily to 3 per cent the interest rate on all outstanding loans which presently bear a rate in excess of 5 per cent, according to J. E. Gunn, manager of FLBA in Pampa. The contract rate on new loans will continue to be 5 1/2 per cent but interest on loans closed on and after Dec. 1, 1962, will be billed temporarily at 5 per cent until further notice by the bank.

In making the announcement, Hal Weatherford, president of the bank, said that of its $260 million of loans outstanding more than $100 million bear contract rates in excess of 5 per cent and that the savings to Texas farmers and ranchers by this action will be more than a half million dollars in 1963 alone. Weatherford said this is the fourth time the bank has voluntarily reduced the interest on its outstanding loans.

The Houston bank makes long-term farm and ranch loans through 73 Federal Land Bank Associations located throughout Texas. The one serving this area is the Federal Land Bank Association of Pampa. Gunn is the manager and Lora Dunn is the office assistant. The other officers and directors are: John B. Talley, president, Miami; W. B. Jackson, vice president, Pampa; Oscar G. Forgy, Canadian; J. L. Andrews, McLean, and Paul R. Bowers of Pampa.

Rear Door Of Store Is Found Open

Patrolman C. L. Wallace, making his regular rounds, discovered the rear door of White's Auto Store, 105 S. Cuyler, broken open at 12:35 a.m. today.

It is believed the policeman's appearance on the scene frightened the would-be burglars away. Bill Gross, assistant manager, was summoned and a preliminary check of the store revealed nothing stolen.

The burglars had knocked out a panel from the door, but police were of the opinion that entry to the building was not made. Larry Stephens, 1223 N. Russell, reported to police that someone stole four hubcaps from his car. They were valued at $32.50.

Fabulous Old Men Win Eastern Crown

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

The New York Giants' "fabulous old men" are eastern Division champions of the National Football League for the second straight season and they're itching for another shot at the Green Bay Packers because they're confident "this time it'll be different."

The Giants made the NFL playoff for the 13th time Sunday when they edged the Chicago Bears, 16-14, in a fiercely-fought game high-lifted by fisticuffs, four field goals by Don Chandler, and the brilliant defensive play that has become New York's trademark.

Few at the start of this season ever figured that the Giants would win it, much less beat the Packers into the title playoff. With 10 key players whose pro experience totaled nearly 100 years, the word was out that the Giants were "getting old."

A 15-yard penalty against defensive end Ed O'Bradovich of the Bears for punching Phil King put them on the Bears' 29. Chandler kicked his third field goal a few plays later.

Hornung Returns

Paul Hornung returned to full-time duty with the Packers for the first time in seven weeks and scored their first touchdown against the Rams by catching a 30-yard pass from Bart Starr. Jim Taylor bucked over for two scores. Starr threw another short touchdown pass to Ron Kramer and Jerry Kramer kicked two field goals as the Packers regained their winning habit after their Thanksgiving Day loss at Detroit.

Reserve quarterback Earl Morrall came off the bench in the final period and engineered two touchdown drives that gave the Lions their victory over the Colts. Morrall passed 11 yards to Nick Pietrosante for the winning score with less than two minutes remaining. Johnny Unitas passed for both Baltimore touchdowns in the fourth period, the second sailing 49 yards to Jimmy Orr.

At Dallas, Amos Marsh rushed for 117 yards and Don Perkins for 92 to supplement Don Meredith's two touchdown passes in the Cowboys' surprisingly easy win over the Browns. Jimmy Brown of Cleveland was held to 29 rushing yards.

Eagles Beat Skins

The Eagles, trailing by two touchdowns in the second period, sprang to life when Tim Brown ran back a kickoff 99 yards and beat Washington. Brown scored again on a three-yard plunge and on a surprise 10-yard toss from flanker Tommy McDonald on a fake end-around play as the Eagles broke the game open.

All-Texas Playoff?

Dallas Texans Cop AFL Western Title

By United Press International
Only the Boston Patriots stood in the way of an all-Texas playoff in the American Football League today.

The Dallas Texans backed into the Western Division championship Sunday and the Houston Oilers can set up the Eastern berth in the playoffs—with a little luck next Sunday.

The Texans dropped a 23-14 verdict to the Buffalo Bills Sunday but clinched their first conference championship when Houston whipped Denver, 24-17, to eliminate the Broncos from the Western race.

The Oilers' victory also enabled Pop Ivy's men to regain their half-game lead over the Patriots in the Eastern Division. The Pats had pulled into a first place tie by downing the New York Titans, 24-17, last Friday night.

Two Games Remaining
Houston and Boston each have two games remaining. The Oilers entertain the hapless Oakland Raiders and the Patriots visit the San Diego Chargers next Sunday. A combination of a Houston victory and a Boston defeat would give the Oilers their third straight Eastern crown and a crack at their third consecutive league title.

If the Patriots repeat an early-season victory over the Chargers they will carry their dogfight with Houston down to the final week of the season when the Oilers visit New York and Boston is at Oakland.

Jack Kemp and Cookie Gilchrist sparked the aroused Bills to their most impressive victory of the season.

Completes 21 Passes
Kemp completed 21 of 37 passes for two touchdowns and 248 yards. Gilchrist, who plunged for one TD and kicked a 37-yard field goal, established a league rushing mark by gaining 43 yards on 19 carries to raise his season total to 953 yards. The old AFL record of 943 yards was set by Houston's Bill Cannon last year.

The Oilers set a league record by intercepting eight Denver passes and turned three of them into touchdowns in the mud at Houston. Another league record fell when both teams totaled 94 passes. George Blanda tossed three touchdown strikes, including a pair to Cannon, booted two field goals and added four conversions.

In Sunday's other game, the Chargers broke a six-game losing streak by turning back the Raiders. It was the Raiders' 18th straight loss.

umph over their service rivals. But even without Navy to add extra glamour to the bowl pairings, the various promoters have managed to put together one of the most competitive lineups of recent years—if the oddsmakers are an accurate barometer. No team involved in the four big ones—the Rose, Sugar, Orange and Cotton bowls—is more than a touchdown favorite and the outlook for close games prevails throughout the lesser bowl pairings.

Wisconsin Favored

Wisconsin has been installed as a five-point favorite over unbeaten and untied Southern California in the Rose, Mississippi is a seven-point favorite over Arkansas in the Sugar, Alabama is 4½ points over Oklahoma in the Orange, LSU is three points over Texas in the Cotton and Georgia Tech is 6½ over Missouri in the Bluebonnet.

Other bowl pairings include Villanova vs. Oregon State in the Liberty Bowl and Miami of Ohio vs. Houston in the Tangerine. Gotham Bowl promoters are still looking for an opponent for Miami of Florida and Gator Bowl officials have yet to announce a foe for Penn State.

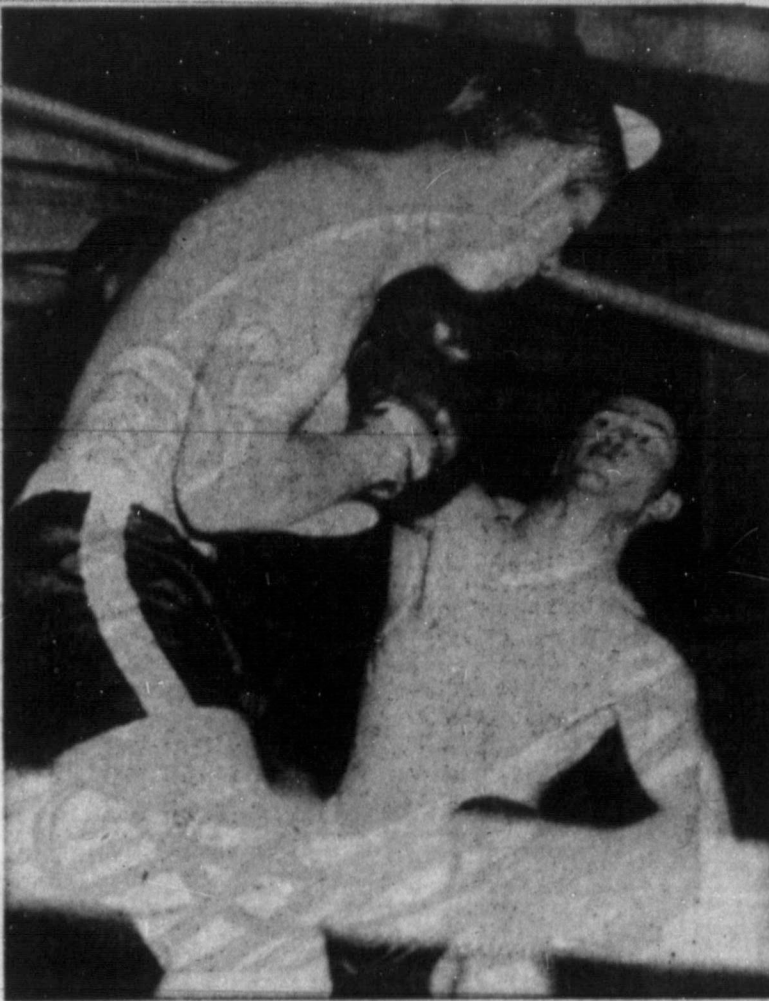

Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia Tech officially moved into bowl Saturday after winding up their seasons with victories. Mississippi had a "squeaker" before topping Mississippi State, 13-6; Alabama routed Auburn, 38-6, and Georgia Tech whipped Georgia, 37-6.

Southern California, the nation's top-ranked team, displayed its exceptional speed with a 23-0 triumph over Notre Dame and thus completed its first perfect grid iron season since 1923. Fullback Ben Wilson scored the first two touchdowns for Southern California, which will go into the Rose Bowl against Wisconsin with a 10-0 record.

55TH YEAR MONDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1962

HERE IT COMES — Blackwell's Lester Ebert gets ready to unleash a hard blow to the chin of Pampa's Dickie Wills. Both boys landed hard blows that staggered each other in the fights held Saturday night by Pampa Optimist boxers. Ebert won.

Pampa Fighters Top Blackwell

Blackwell's highly regarded fighters were able to cop only one bout in seven from Optimist Boxers Saturday night in the Boys Club Building with Lefors fighters winning five of five bouts.

The experienced visitors from Blackwell didn't appear to be as far along this season as the Pampa boxers. The only Blackwell victory was gained by a rugged Lester Ebert over Pampa's Dickie Wills in the 165-pound weight.

Lefors, entering five fighters, won five for five for the best win-loss record of the matches.

Pampa Winners
Pampa fighters winning over Blackwell fighters were Alfred Brown over Mike Ebert, 90; Vince Stracener over Mark Turner, 75; Bobby Ashby over Warren Stevens, 135; Jesse Dean Reed over Pat Ebert, 130 (tko); Jim Murray over Albert Geer, 155 (tko); and Charles Snider over Jim Woods, 170.

Other Pampa fighters winning were Richard Jones over Darrell Worley, Skellytown, 83; Jimmy White over Jerry Ledford, Skellytown, 70; and Johnny Roth over Larry Mercer, Skellytown, 65.

Lefors Winners
Lefors winners were Hubert Sims over Mike Ledford, Skellytown, 50; Mike Atchley over Andy Grim, Pampa, 65; Gary Atchley over Junior Jenkins, Pampa, 90; Terry Dunn over Ernie Fanning, Skellytown, 60; and Danny Robbins over Butch Robbins, Pampa, 130.

Rickie Allen, Skellytown, decided Billy Taylor, Perryton, 70; and Paul Edwards, Perryton, decided Weylon Holtman, Pampa, 135, in the other two matches on the 17-bout card.

Next fights for the Pampa Optimist fighters are against Liberal, Kan., this Saturday night in Pampa.

Boxing Meeting
Cliff Dunham, director of Optimist boxing, urges any boy living within the Pampa Independent School District interested in boxing to attend Tuesday night's meeting at 7:30 p.m. Several items will be discussed — plans for future out of town fights; the ordering of boxing jackets; and the answering of questions pertaining to the Optimist boxing program and the Golden Gloves Tournament.

Dunham stated that any boxer desiring to be considered for a jacket must be present and have a release card turned in by six p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 5.

Dumas-Brownwood Top Match On Texas Schoolboy Schedule

By United Press International
Dumas and Brownwood, who have won the Class AAA crown the past two seasons, clash head-on this week in the feature game of the Texas schoolboy football quarterfinals.

The defending champion Demons and 1961 titlist Brownwood are expected to produce the eventual 1962 champ when they collide at Lubbock Saturday although there are still two more hurdles to be cleared.

Brownwood boasts the only perfect record left in AAA, while Dumas boasts a 10-1 record with the only blot being a 13-0 early season loss to Class AAA favorite Borger.

18 in All
Their get together is just one of 16 spread evenly throughout the four divisions playing through to state championships.

The Brownwood-Dumas winner will go into the northern bracket semi-finals against the winner of the McKinney-Jacksonville contest, while the southern bracket semi-finals will come from the winners of the Orange-Bay City and Austin Johnston vs. Pharr-San Juan-Alamo contests.

Dumas, McKinney, Orange and Johnston rule only slight favorites.

In AAAA, Borger's Bulldogs renew acquaintances with San Angelo, a team the Bulldogs defeated 18-13 in their season opener, while the other northern bracket game matches Dallas Samuell with Lufkin. In the southern division, Spring Branch meets Beaumont South Park and Brownsville tackles San Antonio Brackenridge.

Solid Picks
Borger, Samuell, Spring Branch and Brownsville are fairly solid choices to move into the round of four.

In AA, where defensive champ Donna bowed out in last week's regional round, top-ranked Denver City plays Winters and Jacksonville meets Mineola in the north and Rockdale faces Humble and Missouri City meets Sinton in the south.

Denver City, Jacksonville, Humble and Sinton are favored here. In Class A's northern bracket

San Angelo whipped El Paso Austin 38-6. Samuell trimmed Fort Worth Western Hills 7-0. Lufkin downed Sherman 15-6. South Park edged Galena Park 7-6. Brownsville kaymed Austin 5-0. Austin 14-9 and Brackenridge beat San Antonio Hilslands 21-3.

SWC Cagers Break Even In Openers

By United Press International
The Southwest Conference basketball campaign for 1962 gets in full swing this week, with league squads performing in 18 games.

Defending co-champions Texas Tech and Southern Methodist along with Texas A&M, Texas and Rice opened the season last week. SMU's Jim Thompson hit a 15-foot jump shot with one second left to give the Mustangs a 55-53 victory over Oklahoma City on the road. Nebraska's Bill Vincent did the same to Tech in the final seven seconds at Lubbock to lead the Cornhuskers to a 68-66 victory over the Red Raiders.

Texas breezed past Howard Payne 77-63 and A&M took Centenary 91-74.

The biggest surprise of the week and openers was the 63-61 humiliation at the hands of Georgia Tech.

This week, Arkansas and TCU bow at home against Kansas and Oklahoma City Monday night and Baylor at Waco against Arlington State Tuesday.

Rice stays in the Southeast Monday and Tuesday against Tennessee then Vanderbilt then plays LSU Saturday at Baton Rouge.

SMU opens at home Tuesday against Oklahoma, then plays at Georgia Tech Thursday and at Vanderbilt Saturday. Tech plays New Mexico at Albuquerque Thursday then hosts Florida at Lubbock Saturday. Arkansas winds up its two-game slate against Missouri at Columbia, Mo. on Saturday.

TCU takes on Centenary at Fort Worth Friday, the Aggie's face Lamar Tech Tuesday at Beaumont and entertain Memphis State Saturday night at College Station; Baylor goes to Houston Saturday for its second game of the week and Texas hosts East Texas at Austin Wednesday, then meets Tulane Saturday at New Orleans.

Kendall Rhine of Rice broke in front of the individual scoring race with a 22-point performance against Georgia Tech, one ahead of A&M's Gerald Woodward.

Cincinnati Lives Up To Pre-Season Rating

By United Press International
Cincinnati lived up to its top-ranking in pre-season ratings for the 1962-63 college basketball campaign, but Kentucky rookers are still feeling the shock that resulted from the Wildcats' first opening-game loss since 1928.

The powerful Bearcats of Cincinnati, with Ron Bonbons taking over the key role from departed Paul Hogue, drowned DePaul with a 97-36 deluge Saturday night. Bonham tallied 23 points and led a 34-6 Bearcat tear at the start of the second half for the NCAA champions.

Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp was speechless after watching Virginia Tech score an 80-71 upset over the Wildcats. Cotton Nash tallied 34 points in Kentucky's losing effort. Lee Mclear led the Gobblers with 24.

Have Easy Pickin's
Duke, West Virginia and Loyola of Chicago had easy pickins', but St. Bonaventure, an Eastern powerhouse, lost a supposedly warm-up game to Southern Illinois.

Second-ranked Duke, sparked by Art Heyman's 26 points, swept past Davidson, 76-58. The Blue Devils trailed throughout the first half, before Heyman found his shooting eye and began scoring from the outside.

West Virginia, ranked fourth, clipped The Citadel, 86-61, after enjoying a 48-30 halftime lead. Red Thorn riddled the loser's defenses for 29 points, including 11 of 18 field goal attempts.

Loyola had all five starters hitting in double figures as the fifth-ranked Ramblers crushed Christian Brothers, 114-55. Jerry Harkness paced the Chicagoans with 21 points.

Is Progress Theft?

The destruction of a myth is a monumental task. And yet, the creation of a new myth is easy. Current myths which have been created in the past decade relate to the military superiority of the Russians, the invincibility of communist planning, the idea that a Republican administration would solve all our problems.

Prior to that time we had myths respecting the idea that Hitler was still alive, that F. D. Roosevelt was still alive, that science could never be wrong and, on the other hand, that science could never be right.

But in respect to the destruction of myths, our attention should be constantly engaged.

Pagan myths sometimes amuse us as we read of the solemnity with which ancient Greeks, otherwise intelligent, believed in the infallibility of the oracle, the effectiveness of the entrails of goats in predicting the future, the intervention of various gods and goddesses on behalf of their suppliants.

But while we marvel at this inability of the Greeks (and other ancient peoples) to see thru the mass of pagan superstition and Tolly we ourselves are frequently discernible in postures of mythological reliance.

Currently the greatest myths in vogue in this country relate to government. To the rank and file on the American scene, the government has a strange and mystic power. Let a dispute arise between two persons and the government will be called upon to settle the dispute. "What will the settlement be?"

No one knows in advance, of course. But what can be predicted is that the vast majority of the people will conclude that by this intervention, Sir Oracle has spoken. The determination may be right or it may be wrong. It may bring justice, and it may extend injustice. But is certain that whatever transpires, the great number of Americans will believe that it is RIGHT.

Let a demand arise for some new goods or services. Again, the government will be sought. Has the government the facility for producing the goods or providing the services? In fact, it does not have these facilities.

All that the government can do and all that it ever does do, is to invoke force and violence in collecting funds so that human beings can be employed in providing the goods and services. Yet the myth will arise that the government is doing the job.

Take the postal service. Does government provide it? Not really. Human beings provide it. Private persons deliver the mail; private transportation companies carry the mail under government contract. Who does the work? Private persons.

Take the building of roads. Who does this? Is it government? No, it is not. Government oils up its guns, seizes the money, seizes the land. Then it hires private contractors to do the building. The job is done by men, private citizens, under private contract to a firm which has a government contract.

What is this government mystique? If one's eyes are open, the myth can be dispelled. Government is nothing but force. The work is always done by private persons and private firms in the market place.

That is, all kinds of work are done this way except one phase of the work. That phase relates to the collection of the funds. Government is a legalized bandit, skilled in the collection of loot. That is all. Once the loot has been collected, the government has no power to put it to use. Instead, the government goes out and hires private persons by disposing of its sordid plunder.

Were we an alert and an aware people, we would recognize the myth of government accomplishment for what it is. Government accomplishment is in a very limited field. Its achievements relate to its ability artfully and legally to collect funds. Its achievements stop at that point. From that point on, private persons provide with the chores.

And now we see the second myth, carefully wrapped in the trappings of the first. It is believed by many, in contravention of all reason and evidence, that ONLY the government can ever collect all the money that is necessary to perform large undertakings.

But this is to say that only by theft (legalized, of course) can we make progress. Would you subscribe to the belief that all progress rests upon legalized spoliation? If so, how would you define progress?

Too Many Witch Doctors

Fred G. Clark, chairman of the American Economic Foundation, has written: "Since 1932 the American people have had their witch doctors... who, from their lofty towers of learning have been prophesying the death of the free form of enterprise called competitive capitalism. Their prestige is constantly touted by the self-styled liberal press, radio, and television."

"And millions of Americans — ignorant of economic truth and awe-struck by the learned prose and academic degrees of these prophets — are accepting the alleged inevitability of freedom's doom and are more and more accepting a role of shivering mendicants, dependent upon paternal government to give them some of their own money back."

Agriculture Department's research service figures that with male drivers behind the wheels, average life expectancy of new autos is 6.9 years. Women drivers can expect to eke 7.6 years of use from a new auto.

Spitballs Next? —

Adding injury to insult, Cuban militiamen have been throwing rocks across the fence at U.S. Marines stationed at Guantanamo naval base.

Let's hope the cartoonist never hear of these figures. Cartoons wouldn't seem nearly so funny if men drivers were pictured running their autos through garages, up trees, over cliffs, and so on. At least, not to the men.

Rocks are always preferable to bullets and the Leathernecks really wouldn't mind if it meant that the Russian pull-out of weapons had left the Cubans no better weapons.

Pull Up A Chair
By Frank J. Markey

In order to check on the origin of underworld and gangster money and those who would cheat on Federal Taxes, the Treasury Department has a reporting system with all banks. Most everyone has a bank account today and all legitimate business and personal money is generally moved through the medium of checks. So there is really no reason why an individual should be walking around with bills in denominations of $1000 or $500, or even a large amount of currency. Banks are provided by the Treasury with currency transaction reports, providing for name, address, occupation and description of transactions. The report covers the date, total amount and denominations. Also whether it is for deposit, withdrawal, cashing of purchase of check, etc. And banks must send these reports on or before the 15th day of the month to the Federal Reserve Bank of the district in which the institution is located. Here are the regulations:

1. Transactions involving $2,500 or more of United States currency in denominations of $100 or higher.
2. Transactions involving $10,000 or more of United States currency in any denominations, and
3. Transactions involving any amount in any denominations which in the judgment of the financial institution exceed those commensurate with the customary conduct of the business, industry or profession of the person or organization concerned.

Here is some good advice: A man should never be ashamed to own that he has been wrong, which is by saying, in other words, that he is wiser today than he was yesterday. — Alexander Pope.
MEMORY LANE: Remember the untroubled, pre-war days when all that Formosa meant to most Americans was a kind of tea? — Still in common usage is the phrase, "intestinal fortitude." To the best of our knowledge it was coined by the late Percy D. Haughton when he was head coach of Harvard football. Addressing a student rally the night before a Harvard-Yale game 40-odd years ago, he pointed to his starting team on the platform and said, "If I wished to be elegant, I'd say these players have intestinal fortitude. But to heck with being elegant — these boys have guts!"

Many Hindus, just before they die, drink water from the Ganges river in the belief that by so doing they will not have to return to earth and start another life.
TODAY'S SMILE: A clergyman and his wife were discussing two men they had known for many years back. "One was a clever, handsome fellow," said the minister, "and the other a steady, hard worker. In the race for success the clever one was left behind, but, the hard worker — well, he died and left his widow half a million. It's a great moral." "Yes," replied the wife with a smile. "I heard this morning that the clever one is going to marry the widow."

Compared with our White House, the Paris residence of the President of France is an unostentatious abode on Rue St. Honoré Faubourg. If you didn't know it was the presidential "palace," you'd hardly give it a passing look. It has a small courtyard leading off the street and only a couple of soldiers on guard, with their rifle-bayonets.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government, which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: We understand that our national debt is $308 billion, which is more than the value of all real estate homes, factories and all other assets in the whole of the U.S. My question is four parts:

1. Just whom do we owe this money to?
2. When the interest is paid, whose name is on the check when it is made for payment?
3. Whose name is on the check when it is endorsed for payment?
4. And who is willing to keep on lending the U.S. money on such poor collateral?

ANSWER: Sen. Harry Byrd recently pointed out that when all U.S. obligations to pay in Social Security, pensions and other future obligations, the federal debt is something over a trillion dollars. We suspect the actual value in present depreciated dollars of all property in the U.S. is more than $308 billion.

1. Banks, insurance companies, other financial institutions and individuals holding U.S. bonds.
2. and 3. The interest payments would go to whomever holds the bonds.
4. That a decreasing number of persons has been willing to purchase U.S. bonds is indicated from the fact that the interest rate has had to be increased. Harry Sherman in "The Promise Men Live By" said that history shows that all governments eventually repudiate their obligations. Nazi Germany was one of the most recent examples.

Geneva Talks May Tip Off Softer Red Policy

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — First chance to see if there really is a new and more relaxed Russian foreign policy in the wake of the Soviet pull-back of missiles in Cuba will come at the disarmament and nuclear test ban conferences resuming in Geneva.

Chairman Nikita Khrushchev is not the only Russian who has been making public statements in support of disarmament and a test ban. Signals that the Russians are at last willing to talk seriously about peace have been coming from Soviet diplomats farther down the line at United Nations, in Washington and in Moscow and western European capitals.

The possibility of another Soviet deception is always possible, of course, but after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko deliberately deceived President Kennedy of the offensive nature of Russia's aid to Cuba, it is considered less likely that the Communists can get away with another major deception so soon.

The Cuban mistake cost the Russians too much in lost prestige among the North Atlantic Treaty countries and the Organization of American States for any quick repeat.

In Latin America, even some of the left-wingers seem to be abandoning Castro. The missile base pictures convinced them.

Just how firmly the western European nations are committed to support American firmness against Russia should be developed at the NATO Council of Ministers meeting in December.

If the western European governments believe that a new era of relaxed East-West relations is already at hand, they may continue the past slough-off of their responsibilities to NATO, now that the Cuba crisis has ended.

The guarantee that Russia will continue on a course of good international relations can come only through sustained western firmness.

A NATO show of force is considered important as a signal to Moscow. This includes a decision on nuclear deployment for over a year without decisive action.

Allen-Scott Report
Nehru Seeking Tripled Arms Buildup from U.S. And Britain — Whether or Not Border War Resumes

WASHINGTON — Prime Minister Nehru is seeking a U.S.-British commitment to help finance and arm a build-up of India's military forces to more than triple their present size.

This massive arms aid, estimated at nearly $2 billion, would boost India's force from 600,000 to 2,000,000 over the next 24 months.

This is the core of the arms request Nehru and his military advisers gave a team of high-ranking U.S. officials, headed by Assistant Secretary of State Averell Harriman.

Nehru's new military blueprint, which Harriman is expected to present to President Kennedy this weekend, calls for between 15,000 and 20,000 U.S. and British military advisers and troops to train Indian forces in the use of modern weapons. Of these advisers, an estimated 10,000 to 14,000 would come from the U.S.

The U.S. military mission, if authorized by the President, would operate in India similarly to the groups now in South Vietnam, South Korea and Turkey.

In addition to training troops, these U.S. forces would be used to organize and support new ground and air communications and supply systems for the Indian troops.

The possibility that the U.S. might send some of its crack air defense interceptor units to India was also raised during the talks, but no official request for this type of combat help was made by Nehru.

The U.S. air units would definitely be needed, according to Nehru's military advisers, if the Chinese Communists should use their airforce to attack Indian cities, army supply routes, and staging areas.

Up to the cease-fire, Red China limited its airforce to reconnaissance of the battlefield area and to supply operations. India has done the same in the hope that the warfare would not escalate into bombing raids.

LOOKING FORWARD — Significantly, Nehru is taking the private position that India must now become the major military power in Asia if she is to remain independent.

He told the Harriman mission that India would go ahead with the proposed military build-up regardless of the outcome of the present cease-fire of its border war with the Chinese.

If agreeable, Nehru proposed that U.S. military aid be put on a 75-25 basis — with India paying for 25 per cent of the equipment and the U.S. furnishing the remainder free.

Nehru's list of military need could have a big impact on U.S. economy. Many of the items — trucks, rifles, machineguns and communications equipment — supplied from U.S. Army depots will have to be replaced through new arms orders because of pressing U.S. military needs.

Already, General Lauris Norstad, supreme NATO commander has cautioned the Defense Department against supplying India with more arms from U.S. military stockpiles in Europe unless immediate replacement is assured.

Nearly all of the arms rushed to India during the emergency airlift came from these reserves, which are again near the danger limit after having been built up last year during the Berlin crisis.

BATTLE REPORT — General Paul D. Adams, ranking military officer of the U.S. mission, is supporting Nehru's arms request. In his report to the Joint Chief of Staff, the commander of the U.S. Army Strike Command said the extra military forces are needed because of the tremendous border India must protect.

General Adams attributed India's military reversals to (1) poor defense planning and strategy; (2) shortage of troops and arms at key defense positions, and (3) lack of fire power.

He said his mission found that the Indian Jawans (troops) had done a good job of fighting, but that in all engagements they were heavily outnumbered by the Chinese invaders.

India's casualties were listed at between 10,000 and 11,000, with about one-third of these troops killed. An estimated 3,000 Indians have been captured and the rest injured.

Chinese Communist casualties are believed to total about 15,000 troops. The Chinese are estimated to have committed about 40,000 troops so far. They have some 125,000 along the border area.

The Chinese troops have attacked in winter uniforms. They also have used alpine equipment — including sleds — to haul mortars and mountain artillery.

These preparations indicate the Chinese began their big military push through the Himalayas after more than a year of careful planning, according to Adams' report.

INDIA WAR FLASHES — India is going to press production of an Indian-designed fighter, the HF-24, to supply its long-range aircraft needs. It will be produced at India's state-owned Hindustan Aircraft factory at Bangalore.

U.S. military intelligence discounts those reports that Russia forced the cease-fire in India by threatening to cut off China's oil and gasoline supply.

SOCIAL WHIRL — The New York State Society in Washington apparently believes in being well forehanded in planning. Although winter is just getting underway, the (New York State Society) already has chosen its Cherry Blossom princess. She is Elizabeth Ann Miller, daughter of Representative William Miller, who is also Republican National Chairman. A student at Newton College of the Sacred Heart, Newton, Mass. Miss Miller will represent her home state in the capital's annual cherry blossom festival.

Chief Justice Earl Warren's current main topic of conversation is his latest grandchild — the son of his daughter Virginia and newscaster John Daly. Beamingly the Chief Justice describes the tot as "the only red-head in the tribe," which consists of 12 grandchildren and two more on the way.

Rated as one of the three best chefs in the capital is Italian-born Canali Domenico, who presides over the kitchen of the Argentine Embassy. He is noted for both his culinary and artistic skill. At a recent concert-supper, at the embassy, Domenico decorated a cold salmon with a spray of pink carinations made of tissue, thin slices of tomato skins and green stems of infinitesimal slivers of spinach with an overall glaze. The salmon was surrounded by a row of tiny penguins, made of hard-boiled eggs and slices of ripe olives for the wings and heads.

Will you be beggar, slave or free, self responsible man? Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

The population of our own country is dividing itself into two classes: Beggars and those who are enslaved for the support of the beggars. To turn away from such facts does not change the fact. A child born today with an enormous debt on its head the instant it draws a breath will either become a beggar or a slave to beggars and we are told that we must accept this indignity as the American way of life. Already this situation is having a profound effect. The earners, the self respecting citizens who would be self responsible human beings living in freedom, are having fewer children. The beggars are having more and more children in order that they may acquire a greater share of the plunder confiscated from respectable citizens.

Foreign governments employ American firms to look after their interests and to make certain they get their share of the loot. Many former employees of the people are now so employed. They receive large fees.

Governments of our once sovereign states are no longer self respecting, self responsible, self supporting entities. Try to name a state which does not receive its share of the plunder from the federal government. This situation, also, is part and parcel of the contemporary American way of life.

But, all of the beggars are pretenders to respectability. Foreign diplomats, from nations which cannot properly attend to their own business, prefer that we bow low and offer more and more of our earnings. Our own public servants pretend to rulership and tell us we must not offend the beggars. Our own public servants, pretending to respectability also tell us we must grin and bear it and not offend those who are stealing us deaf, dumb and blind.

Will you be beggar, slave or free, self responsible man? Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

CHRISTMAS ON MARROW-BONE RIDGE

By WALT SCOTT

The people who lived on Marrow-Bone Ridge didn't think they were poor. They just figured some folks had more to do with than they did.

They kept their homes mended and tidy. When times were bad they shined. One winter they lived mostly on marrow-bone soup. Marrow-bones are cheap, but they make wonderful soup. That's how the Ridge got its name.

Danny Dugon lived here with his Aunt Sarah, who had a razor-sharp tongue and a very large heart. Danny worshiped her.

What Difference Does It Make To Space Age That A Baby Named Jesus Was Born?

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

What difference does it make to people of the space age that a baby named Jesus was born in a remote Judean village nearly 2,000 years ago?

That question lies at the heart of the Advent season, which began Sunday.

Advent is the church's antidote to the sentimentalization of Christmas. It challenges us to think seriously about the long-ago event which we celebrate each December, and to consider what importance it actually has for our lives here and now.

Christmas commemorates the birth of a Person who is, by any criterion, one of the great enigmas of history. We now call Him Christ as casually and unthinkingly as if that were His last name. But Christ is not a name: It is a title. It comes from the Greek word "Christos," meaning "The anointed one," or Messiah.

Performs Special Mission

Thus, to call Him Jesus Christ is to attribute to Him a unique significance. He is One who came into the world bearing special credentials, to perform a special mission.

Theologians have been trying for 20 centuries to define who He was and why He came. But it is doubtful whether they will ever be able to improve on the language used by the authors of the New Testament, who witnessed the mystery at first hand.

Although they knew Him to be, in the fullest sense, a human being, they also beheld in Him a glory which was not of this world.

Grouping for words adequate to express their experience of Him, they called Him "Lord," "Savior" and "The Son of God."

Wears Away

Glib repetition has worn away the shock value of these terms. But the men who first used them were keenly aware that they were making the most endearing claim possible. They were saying that

Jesus was God Incarnate, or—as the writer of the Fourth Gospel phrased it, "The Word of God Fleshy."

They were also saying that He came on a rescue mission—to do for men what they could not do for themselves.

St. Paul explained the mission with simple eloquence:

"Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners."

Jesus himself put it even more clearly:

"I have come that men may have life, and may have it in all its fullness."

Subject of Study

There are other Biblical passages which say the same thing in different words. Around them has grown up a whole field of theological study called soteriology, which attempts to understand exactly how Christ saves sinners. In dealing with this question, however, the Christian church has always maintained an attitude of reverent agnosticism. It has tolerated many different theories about the reconciliation of man and God which was wrought, once and for all, in Christ. But it has never accepted any one of them as a final answer to be enshrined in dogma.

This fact should be borne in mind by all who have encountered only one theory of the atonement, and have been repelled by it.

Although Christians may and do differ widely in their comprehension of the mighty act of redemption which God accomplished in Christ, they have been united through 20 centuries by a common experience which is so real to them that they cannot doubt its validity, even though they may not be able to explain it.

Born Anew

"By His great mercy," said St. Peter, "we have been born anew to a living hope... and to an inheritance which is imperishable, undefiled and unfading."

The offer of a new life did not expire when Jesus returned whence He came. He left behind Him a community of faith called the church, in which, He said, His Spirit will always be active, however much its presence may sometimes be hidden behind human imperfections.

Thus when the church bells ring on Christmas Eve of 1962, they will be proclaiming the same glad tidings of great joy that were first heralded to an awestruck group of shepherds on a hillside near Bethlehem:

"For unto YOU is born a Savior, who is Christ the Lord."

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Will there never be an end to sniveling television dramas? Have the writers lost contact with grandeur and grand thoughts? Is there to be constant blind worship of the underdog without considering that he may have earned his position? I refer you to a whining lot of drive-in entitled "Mutiny," which was presented Sunday night on NBC-TV's "Show of the Week," and which dealt with the attempted takeover of a U.S. Navy brig-of-war in 1842 by a snotty, loony, young son of a senator.

This drama, based as loosely as you can imagine on an actual incident, starred Dana Andrews as the ship's commander and Robert Walker Jr., as the apprentice seaman. And rarely has a character so thoroughly deserved his comeuppance as did this apprentice, who fell from the vessel and drowned accidentally after the mutiny failed.

Yet the commander, after being cleared of a murder charge of having caused the death by being rough on the hothead, sadly admits that perhaps he was partly to blame for trying so hard to make the boy conform. And, oh yes, the boy's father also was to blame for trying to force him into a mold. You know, the kid hated his old man but really loved him. More cheap, dime-store Freud. Oh dad, poor dad.

Reconstructs Action

Now let me reconstruct for you briefly some of the actions of this misguided young fellow. He sought out the crew to back him in the mutiny and his plans to turn the brig into a pirate ship. He prepared an entire notebook on the step-by-step procedure. He actually caused the takeover to begin when his cohorts took pistols. And he orated openly for rebellion in the showdown, until even his companions saw he was cracking. Well, obviously you can tell he was misunderstood.

There is a strong suspicion in some quarters that there is a large demand for television scripts about poor, misunderstood youngsters because teen-agers supposedly learn to identify with such characters—and because there is a vast teen-age audience just ripe for commercials about cigarettes, hair sprays, deodorants and other benefits of life.

But even without this aspect, this "mutiny" was no bounty. Full of loopholes, miscast almost entirely, trying to pass off pretentiously arty music, the New York-taped drama got no closer to the atmosphere of the sea than the Hudson River. It had an almost Disney-like quality.

Subtly Of Anchor

Young Walker, who looks and sounds amazingly like his late and lamented actor-father, showed promise and gave his part more than it deserved, despite the direction. Yet his role was really nothing more than that of a delinquent dressed in a sailor suit. Before you know it, someone will suggest army rifle squads be equipped with psychiatrists to explain to officers why soldiers don't conform with orders.

About 300 pounds of vegetable is consumed by an elephant daily.
