

POWER TO BE FURNISHED REA BY LIGHT FIRM

TP&L CLAIMS RATE IS ACCEPTED BY OFFICIALS

DALLAS, Dec. 12 (AP)—John W. Carpenter, president and general manager of the Texas Power & Light Co., said today a contract to furnish wholesale power to the rural electrification administration had been submitted to REA officials and the rate accepted.

Carpenter said the company was co-operating wholeheartedly with the REA in Washington to the end that electric service be made available to farmers in the areas served by the company.

He said the proposed contract would provide for the power for co-operative projects to be financed by the REA, allocations having been made already for the Rockwall-Collin-Dallas counties project; Bellalls (Bell, Falls and Milam counties) Light & Power Co.; Hill County (Hill, Johnson and Ellis counties) Electric Co., and others which will be made.

"The company is doing everything possible at considerable expense and effort to bring about successful completion of proposed projects which are contingent to areas now served by transmission lines of the company," the utility head said. "It has volunteered services of trained engineers in numerous instances for completion of technical details necessary to preliminary applications for REA allotments. This has been done because no money is available from REA for survey work."

EMPLOYEES' MUTUAL BENEFIT PLAN INTRODUCED BY TWA

A plan of mutual benefit between employer and employee, the first of its sort to be introduced in any air transport organization, has been put into effect by Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc.

The plan provides additional protection to that which is guaranteed under the Federal Social Security program in which TWA is participating, and also protects the workers in cases not the subject of workmen's compensation.

The cost of making the plan operative will be taken care of through the contribution by the employee of 1 1/4 per cent of his or her salary. The total of the amount thus derived will be matched by the company which, in addition to contributing to the plan, guarantees any additional funds necessary for its operation.

At Kansas City, headquarters of TWA, Research Hospital will be used for hospitalization of TWA employees. Similarly, high class institutions, completely equipped, will be selected in other cities over the coast to assist in the agricultural machinery makers are preparing for their best spring season in several years. Moving picture stocks responded to rosy dividend hopes engendered by bounding box office receipts.

The Associated Press average was up .1 of a point to 70.95. Transfers totaled 1,235,810 shares compared with 1,099,550 last Saturday.

Texas is primarily an agricultural area, he said, and it "should be among the first to benefit from the new type of construction of lines now which would have been impractical even three years ago."

Through the functioning of the plan as announced by Jack Frye, president, employees of the company at time of sickness or injury will be assured of income together with medical and hospitalization costs when necessary.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—Buying forces gave specialties another rush in today's stock market and a number of favorites were lifted 1 to 5 points or more.

As in the past several sessions leaders in other groups stumbled over selling obstacles and many were barely able to hold their own. There were a few feeble declines in evidence at the rather nervous close.

Farm implements and amusements were easily the star performers of the day. The former continued to find support on indications the agricultural machinery makers are preparing for their best spring season in several years. Moving picture stocks responded to rosy dividend hopes engendered by bounding box office receipts.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 12 (AP)—July delivery of wheat shot suddenly skyward almost three cents a bushel today to above any Chicago price peaks reached before in seven years.

Chief immediate stimulus for new upturns of wheat values came from reports indicating likelihood of subnormal yields in the United States the coming season because of widespread moisture shortage.

DUKEDOM OF WINDSOR CREATED FOR EDWARD

LONDON, Dec. 12 (AP)—In creating the Dukedom of Windsor for his brother, the former King Edward VIII, King George VI today conferred the highest dignity in the English peerage.

The dukedom was introduced by King Edward III in 1337 when he made his eldest son, Edward the Black Prince, the first Duke of Cornwall.

A duke is officially addressed by the crown as "your right trusty and right entirely beloved cousin."

A Marquess is the next degree in the peerage, followed in succession by Earl, Viscount and Baron.

CHILDRESS C-C SECRETARY AND TACK AIR GRID OPINIONS

The following angle is an excerpt from Tack's column in the Amarillo Daily News, Saturday morning. It is reprinted here because of the local interest in the Childress-Amarillo football situation.

The following is a statement in The Wichita Falls Post by Jerry Debenport, secretary of the Childress Chamber of Commerce:

"We may be called poor sports, but we went through with the protest. Relations between Childress and Amarillo have been too good in the past and were not improved by arguments over the Childress - Amarillo bi-district game. Amarillo contested us on every point during these negotiations and when they were not given their way as to the site and the date of the game, they backed up and sent less than 100 people to the game. Then, as a last straw, 48 hours after they had defeated our light team, Booth, or sophomore end, received a letter from an Amarillo individual, offering his father a job in Amarillo if he would attend school there."

Mr. Debenport, will you please provide us with the name of this Amarillo firm? Just who did this? We'd like to know.

You are not poor sports, we all lost our heads. Really, Mr. Debenport, realizing that the dispute over the date is most regrettable, I would like to inquire as to whether all you folks down there at Childress are perfect? Haven't you groups of men and officials in your city who have made what some other people think are mistakes? Is it fair to condemn and burn a whole community and our whole football squad because of an argument and misunderstanding between two groups? I'll grant you're right in the first premise but hasn't Childress ver made a mistake?

And now I'm going to tell you something and be plain about it, and if you want to face the facts, all right.

Childress is a long way from Amarillo. We've been and we're still hard up. I'm speaking for Amarillo generally. We haven't the money to send large delegations to every game the Sandies play and we can only pick out the games. Can't you understand this?

Your boys on your football team are very light and you must know they didn't have a chance. Everyone knew up here that your team would be a push-over for the Sandies. It wasn't a crucial game, but just a practice game. We couldn't get our people up here interested like when we have a big combat. They were saving to go to Abilene. Wouldn't you folks down there at Childress have done the same?

The truth is that the Sandies could have defeated Childress 100 to 0, but the boys on our team were as easy as possible. They tried to keep from being rough and the regulars were pulled and the substitutes even were told to go light.

Your boys were game and courageous but they were outweighed terribly. We all admire their spunk and your spirit. Childress now has the football fever right and in several years you should develop some great teams. You will unquestionably develop into real opponents and when that time comes whether you like us or not and we have the privilege of again playing in your city, we'll bring down half of Amarillo. But to get a crowd from here, you'll have to have a much stronger team.

And please, Mr. Debenport, please give me the name of that Amarillo firm. And to the Childress Index I make the humble request that they reprint the above.

We're not sore up here and we regret the whole affair and we can understand why you became mad, but isn't there such a thing as cooling off and putting yourselves in our shoes? Would the whole town of Childress, not just the school board, have acted differently than we did?

You are the Chamber of Commerce secretary and you're evidently one of the backers and boosters of your Childress team.

But up here it's different. Few of those who attend our football games are even members of the Chamber of Commerce. In fact, few of our business men attend many of the games as they are usually held on Saturday and they are in their stores and businesses. Our football fans are football fanatics and nothing else and they attend simply because of the love of the game and not because of any Chamber of Commerce urge. It is not a good will gesture or trade trip on their part.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Why has relief become an acute problem here?

A. The Federal government is attempting only mass relief, that is paying $31.50 for month's work on WPA jobs, and that amount is not sufficient to maintain a family, and these jobs are not continuous. Workers are laid off for indefinite periods.

Q. Whose problem is this?

A. It is strictly the local community's. For four years, the Federal government gave assistance to all in need. This year, it turned the job largely over to the communities.

Q. Who will determine persons to receive aid?

A. The county and district case workers who thoroughly check every family who ask for assistance, and an advisory committee of nine persons.

Q. Will money be given?

A. No one will receive any money, but medicines, groceries, fuel, and other necessities, as recommended by doctors and case workers.

Q. How much will be paid out for administrative costs?

A. Not one cent. The county pays the salary of the case worker, the state of Texas the district case worker's salary; the committee gives its services, and these groups will handle the funds.

Q. Who will be the treasurer?

A. Garnet Reeves, secretary of the chamber of commerce. He will receive donations, and his books will be audited.

CHEVIGNY APPOINTED TAX BUREAU ATTORNEY

AUSTIN, Dec. 12 (P)—Governor Alford's announcement today that Jack Chevigny would become an attorney for the state tax department Jan. 19 gave rise to fresh speculation as to who would succeed him as football coach at the University of Texas.

Chairman J. C. Dolley of the Athletic council said several days ago no time would be lost in starting negotiations with top-flight eligibles over the country but refused to name names.

Mentioned by curbstone gossipers in the order of their frequency were Dan X. Bible of Nebraska, Ray Morrison of Vanderbilt, Ted Twomey, first assistant to Chevigny and formerly of Kentucky and Georgia, Wallace Wade of Duke, Howard Jones of Southern California, Tiny Thornhill of Stanford, Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern, Ralph Sasse of Mississippi State and Harry Mehre of Georgia.

Sandies, Kerrville, North Side March To Semi-Finals

By The Associated Press. Favorites came through decisively today to take their places in the semi-final round of the state interscholastic league football...

ABILENE, Dec. 12 (AP)—The Golden Sandstorm of Amarillo high school struck with stunning fury here this afternoon to rout the Abilene Eagles, 46 to 13, and roll into the state semi-finals against Fort Worth North Side...

Charging behind a line that blocked with irresistible violence, "Wildhorse" Mayes and Fullback Bob Clesson led the Amarillo scoring with three and two touchdowns, respectively...

Mike Sweeney an end, caught a pass from Clesson for 19 yards and one of the Sandies scores, and blocked a punt which Newman Miller, guard tackle, covered for the other touch-down...

Abilene got both its touchdowns within two minutes in the fourth period against the Sandies reserves. Galbraith spun through the line for nine yards to end a 73-yard drive...

Mayes with 127 and Clesson with 111 collected most of Amarillo's 341 yards on running plays, but Odell Herman of Abilene was the top ground gainer with 189 yards...

North Side Wins. FORT WORTH, Dec. 12 (AP)—Fort Worth's North Side swept a gallant Gainesville high school football team out of its path, 31 to 0, in a quarter-final battle in the inter-scholastic championship race today...

The Steers' surprisingly decisive victory over the Leopards gave them entrance into the semi-finals of the state schoolboy permanent fight. It was with a sparkling display of versatile ability that the Steers outclassed the lighter visitors by scoring five touchdowns and never allowing Gainesville to come within 20 yards of the Maroon goal...

Ably assisted by a full herd of helpers, Marion Pugh led the Steers to a triumph. He scored three touchdowns, one on a 53 yard gallop and three a pass to Raul Monriques for another. He did all of the punting and passing. He carried the ball 21 times for a total of 112 yards or an average of 5.3 yards per play...

In the first quarter when they fought a fresh south wind as well as the Leopards, the Steers failed to count. They got underway in the second period with one touchdown and the half closed 7 to 0. They chalked up two touchdowns in the third quarter and two more in the fourth...

Score by periods: North Side... 0 7 12 31 Gainesville... 0 0 0 0. Scoring North Side—touchdowns M. Pugh 3 Monriques and Stephens. Conversion points by place kick—M. Pugh.

Final score: North Side 31; Gainesville 0.

Lufkin Defeated. WACO, Dec. 12 (AP)—Kerrville's Tivy High Antlers rolled into the semi-finals of the state high school football race today with a lopsided 31 to 6 triumph over the Lufkin Panthers...

Kerrville meets Port Arthur in the semi-finals.

Roy Holbrook, the Antler's backfield ace, heaved three passes to Co-captain Preston Chambers for as many touchdowns, and also flashed some spectacular ball carrying as long as he remained in the game...

McCaleb, shift Tivy back, scored one tally and W. Coleman intercepted a Lufkin pass and ran it back 45 yards for another score. Jones tallied Lufkin's lone touchdown late in the final quarter after a belated passing attack had put the ball in scoring position against the Kerrville second team...

The East Texans, despite their overwhelming defeat, rang up a total of 18 first downs. Tivy also counted 18 first downs.

Jones and Spivey were outstanding in the Lufkin backfield. They ripped off many long gains through the Tivy defense on spinners and reverses. Their dashes accounted for many first downs, but Tivy tightened before pay dirt was reached. Hauser of Kerrville backed up his line to play the outstanding defensive game for Tivy.

BRADDOCK AND SCHMELING TO FIGHT JUNE 3

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—It looks like a merry Christmas for Max Schmeling. He got his first present today in the form of a title fight with James J. Braddock...

Almost before the gallery realized what was going on, the New York State Athletic commission got the two fighters together and signed them for a 15-round championship battle in Madison Square Garden's Long Island bowl next June 3...

The Garden and the 20th Century Sporting club will be joint promoters. The contracts call for Braddock to receive 37 1-2 per cent and Schmeling 12 1-2 per cent of the gate, but private agreements will raise these figures to 42 and 20 per cent, respectively...

In sharp contrast to Friday's bitter wrangling, today's session was a love feast. It required less than an hour to reach an agreement.

Braddock and his manager, Joe Gould, made the match possible by turning their backs on Atlantic City and promising not to fight Joe Louis prior to June 3.

The champion's flat refusal to do this brought about Friday's squabble. Mike Jacobs, 20th Century club promoter, was to have been associated with Herman Taylor of Philadelphia in staging the show, said today's developments automatically cancel Braddock's proposed no-decision battle with the Brown Bomber in February...

HARVESTERS WILL PLAY M'LEAN MONDAY NIGHT

A Harvester basketball team with only one veteran in the lineup, will get its first baptism of fire tomorrow night in McLean when Coach Odus Mitchell takes his prospects down to meet Coach Bill Allen's Tigers...

While the Harvesters have been practicing only a week, the Tigers have been getting used to the hardwood for nearly three weeks. Football is expected to play an important part in the contest. Both teams will present several gridiron stars during the game.

Coach Mitchell plans to have a light workout before going to McLean. At that time he will divide his squad, keeping the best 10 or 12 prospects for the Harvesters and sending the rest to Coach Bob Curry's Guerrillas.

No starting lineup has been announced. The fit, according to early practices, will be among Ayer, Nobilt, Dewey, Enloe, Cox, McKay, Kilgore and Maxey. Ayer was one of the sparkplugs of the champions last year while Nobilt played a relief role. Enloe got a little experience before the close of the season...

Tiger starters will be mostly veterans, headed by Laswell, Bogan, Braxton, Watson, Cunningham, and a few others.

TEXANS PLACE ON LITTLE ALL AMERICAN CLUB

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—This year's "Little All America," selected by Associated Press survey from the small college footballers who romp the gridirons from coast to coast, presents an aggregation of talent that belies its designation...

With a line averaging 200 pounds and 6 feet 2 inches, from end to end clearing the way for a quartet of unusually versatile ball-handlers, the team's manpower qualifies for competition in any league.

The selections represent the pick of players who annually perform only with such recognition they get in their own halliwicks or when they tackle the bigger fellows. From their ranks each year professional steals the big league show.

With the exception of Norman Cooper, captain of the Howard (Ala.) team, "Little All America" center, the selection were made from colleges with a student body well under the 1,000 mark.

The East fills four places on the "Little All America" eleven. The south, middle west and far west occupy two places, the southwest one.

RED CROSS TELLS HOW TO MAKE CHRISTMAS SAFE FOR OLD SANTA

Don't let Santa Claus smoke when he comes this Christmas. If he starts to light his pipe tell him he'll have to wait until he gets back to the North Pole. This may seem a trifle severe on the jolly old gentleman. Nevertheless, it is one of the many important precautions recommended by the American Red Cross as its way of wishing everyone a Merry Christmas and helping to make that wish come true.
 Santa Claus has been badly burned a good many times in past years when hot ashes from his pipe or cigar have set fire to his highly combustible regalia. If Santa happens to be smooth faced all the rest of the year, and yet wants to wear a bushy beard at Christmas time he could easily fix one up for himself out of fluffy wool. Wool does not burn as readily as cotton. If suitable wool is not available, he could use ordinary fluffy cotton made fireproof by dipping it into a solution of four ounces of phosphate of ammonia dissolved in a quart of water, and drying. Then he would have something pretty safe, the Red Cross points out.

 Besides Santa, the large quantities of tissue and ordinary wrapping paper usually strewn about the room after opening presents and so much other combustible decorative material make fire the most serious hazard associated with Christmas. Matches and smoking materials, lighted candles, electrical short circuits and sparks from the fireplace too frequently easily start a blaze.
 It is hard to keep the room in which the celebration is being held wholly free from inflammable material. Care may be taken, however, to set the Christmas tree well away from the fireplace or any other heating device, and to avoid using inflammable decorations. Instead of allowing wrapping paper to be scattered around the room, it should be packed down at once in suitable containers and removed as soon as possible. Any paper to be saved may be folded and placed in a pile at a safe distance from any possible source of fire. None of this material should be burned in the fireplace because it would make a quick blaze with high flames which might easily start a fire in the chimney.

 By exercising a little care, ignition sources can be eliminated or kept under reasonable control. Smoking, with the inevitable use of matches or automatic lighters should be dispensed with while trimming the tree and later when the gifts are being unwrapped. The use of lighted candles ought to be avoided, and if additional wiring for elaborate lighting is needed, leave it to the electrician. A guard should be placed in front of the open fire particularly while there is so much inflammable material about.
 Another point to be considered is the furnace. Because the family arises at cockcrow on Christmas morning, as a rule, the "heat is turned on" literally to a higher degree than usual. In the excitement of unwrapping parcels and examining gifts, the friend in the basement is all too apt to be forgotten, and is permitted to roar unchecked. Fire results if this situation continues too long.
 Falls in the home are apt to happen at any time during the year, but particularly while hanging Christmas decorations. There are wreaths to be hung or festoons of pine to be draped or branches of holly to be tucked behind pictures, and most important of all, that be-ribboned bunch of mistletoe to be swung from the highest central point to trap the unwary. The tendency to drag up a chair to stand on instead of going down in the cellar for a decent step ladder, becomes all too prevalent.
 After getting that step ladder, be sure it is firmly planted with all braces in position before climbing up to fix the mistletoe to the chandelier or ceiling light. It is well to have a member of the family around to lend a steadying hand should it be needed. Have the mistletoe already tied with its red and silver ribbon, with a bit of picture wire strung through the stems to fasten the bunch to the fixture. Go up and down the ladder slowly and carefully. A misstep is all too easy and apt to prove serious. After all the right way is often easiest.

 For holly wreaths, usually the best place to fasten them is to the lock in the center of the window with a bit of wire or red string. But for safety's sake, don't start hammering nails around windows. Glass shatters easily and the joyous season may be spent with a hand wrapped in bandages.
 When the time comes to decorate the Christmas tree, remember, that heavy ornaments at the top of the tree, unless they are wired securely into the trunk, may fall on the baby's head. Don't leave scraps of tinsel or the tiny wires used for hanging ornaments on the tree lying about if there are infants in the household. After the tree stands fully bedecked, make a final inspection of wiring.
 Gifts of electric trains, stoves and so on should be tested before they are presented to the child. The various tools in sonny's tool chest should be painstakingly explained to him and their use illustrated to protect him from mashed fingers or cuts. If children are carefully instructed and told in detail the workings of their new toys, far less physical damage is apt to occur. Most hurts of this kind come from allowing the child to blunder into some new game or gadget without proper preparation.

National Citizens Committee

NOW IS THE TIME FOR ALL GOOD CITIZENS TO COME TO THE AID OF THEIR LESS FORTUNATE FELLOW MEN.

Despite government relief programs, millions of Americans—children, old folk, mothers and fathers—must look to the welfare agencies in their communities for assistance.

Thirty-five national welfare and character-building agencies sponsor the 1936 Mobilization for Human Needs. The demands are great and urgent. Funds are inadequate.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Citizen! Only with your aggressive support can the pressing needs for medical treatment, visiting nurse service, child care and a multitude of other forms of aid be adequately met.

HERE IS AN OPPORTUNITY FOR ALL GOOD NEIGHBORS TO JOIN IN A COMMON CAUSE WHICH KNOWS NO PARTY LINES.

BRITISH PRESS IS PAYING FOR SIN OF SUPPRESSION

If the faces of the British newspaper editors are not by now as red as an extra-rare slice of the roast beef of old England, it can be only because they have completely forgotten how to blush.

They have not only committed the one great, unpardonable blunder for which a newspaperman cannot be forgiven—dozed off to sleep and missed a whale of a story—but they have helped to turn a teapot tempest into a storm that shook the British throne.

And they did it all because they forgot that the newspaperman's one great, pre-eminent function is to tell the public what is going on in the world. From being reporters, they promoted themselves to censors and moral guardians.

Since the errors one democracy makes can be highly instructive to the people of a neighboring democracy, the course of the British editors in the last few weeks is worth a little extended examination here in America.

The great Simpson case began to percolate gently into American news columns a year or more ago. Several months ago it moved out to the front page, and by the middle of the fall the entire American public knew that the king of England was deeply enamored of a young woman from Baltimore who had divorced one husband and was about to divorce another.

But all this happened in complete secrecy, as far as the people of England were concerned. Their papers ignored every line of it. Gossip doubtless circulated freely in society circles, but the ordinary man in the street had no inkling whatever that his monarch might be considering marriage to a twice-divorced, foreign-born commoner.

The inevitable result of all this was that, when the lid finally did come off, it came off with a bang. The British public had no chance to prepare itself. It had no chance to think things over and weigh the question thoughtfully.

Overnight it found itself presented with a grave constitutional crisis, which, because of the unexpectedness of its arrival, had to be considered emotionally rather than intellectually.

For all this the British can thank their newspapers. There are plenty of excellent people in America who denounce our newspapers for giving space to unpleasant news—crime news, for instance. Suppose the American papers had followed the British example over a period of years, so that no American had known anything about big city gangsterism until some such spectacular event as the Kansas City Union Station massacre forced the whole thing out in the open. Would not the resulting shock, disillusionment, and confusion have shaken our democracy to its very foundations?

Bear the parallel in mind. The British papers committed the unforgivable sin of journalism and almost wrecked the empire. The next time you find yourself wishing that your own paper would not print this, that, or the other unpleasant news item, reflect on the ultimate consequences of the policy of suppression.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—Charges at the American Federation of Labor convention that a super-lobby was being created to end the LaFollette labor spy-civil liberties investigation—which preceded the federation's formal call for $200,000 more for the inquiry—were no pipe dream.

The Senate committee's investigators are reported to have come upon certain telegrams which indicate that some of the biggest corporations in certain mass production industries are out to stop the investigation at all costs.

Lobbyists lined up for this job include two or three ex-senators whose names are likely to be revealed when LaFollette calls for a further appropriation.

The investigation, although it has unearthed some sensational evidence, has been moving along for months on a shoestring appropriation of $15,000. This fact apparently has encouraged some employers and various detective agencies to believe they can wear the committee down and exhaust its resources, killing it off entirely if they can block a further appropriation.

Such tactics have resulted in a program of constant stalling by those whom the committee has sought to investigate. Detective agencies have said that lives of their operatives as well as of their businesses depended on names of their agents being kept secret; for the most part they have refused to produce any papers tending to identify operatives.

The committee has run up against a common policy of concealment. Its members believe that a big appropriation for continuance of the investigation early in the next Congress would end the campaign of obstruction.

Since both the A. F. of L. and the Committee for Industrial Organization will be lobbying for such appropri-

Members of the NLRB are confident that their scheduled hearings can't be legally blocked. Eighty-two injunction suits to prevent hearings have been brought against the board, whose lawyers have fought every one of them and won more than half.

The board's victory in five circuit court decisions has discouraged an earlier tendency of federal district courts to heed pleas of employers that public hearings would damage their business.

Urges Drive

Pampa citizens are urged to get behind the city's Supplementary Relief Fund drive by Maj. William G. Gilks of Dallas, divisional commander and head of the Salvation Army in Texas, when he visited here last Thursday.

Major Gilks spoke at the noonday luncheon of the Lions' club. He was accompanied to Pampa by Maj. John Morrison, divisional secretary of the Army in Texas, and Maj. Gustav Lambrecht, head of the Salvation Army in Amarillo. While here they were also the guests of Capt. Herman Lambrecht, of the Pampa Salvation Army post.

"Although the relief fund you are about to raise in Pampa is entirely separate from the Salvation Army, we hope sincerely that it will give the support of the city as a whole," Maj. Gilks said.

Maj. Gilks dwelt on the Army's coming to Pampa to establish a local headquarters, and stated that he hoped the citizens here would call upon the Army whenever help is needed.

Maj. Gilks is one of the most widely known social workers in the Southwest. Among the offices he holds are chairman of the Dallas county parole board, vice president for Texas of the Southwest Conference of Probation and Parole, member of the executive committee of the state conference of social workers, and a member of the Texas state committee for transients and homeless. Maj. Gilks and Maj. Morrison both are members of the American Association of Social Workers. "It is my first trip to Pampa," Maj. Gilks stated. "We like the city and its hospitable folk."

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Dec. 11 (AP)—One trouble with governors, opined Senator Tom DeBerry of Bogota on his first full day as acting governor, is that they do too much talking. Then he settled down and talked readily in answer to questions put by capital press correspondents.

DeBerry had a three-day stint in the chief executive's office in the absence from Texas of Governor James V. Alfred and Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul, both having gone to New Orleans for a conference on parole problems. He was the fourth senator who, by virtue of being president pro tempore of the Senate, had subbed for the governor and lieutenant-governor.

He thought King Edward had a right to marry Mrs. Wallis Simpson or any other person of his choosing, that many salaries of the state employes cut several years ago ought to be restored, especially those of the eleemosynary institution employes, and that the regular session of the legislature meeting in January ought to take steps to whittle down the general revenue deficit.

"Restate your question slowly," snapped DeBerry, in the legislature as a confirmed champion of the "Spivens boys," or common folks, when his views on King Edward's tilt with parliament were sought. Then he affirmed, "as an American," that the king's business was not anyone else's, and that "anyhow Americans like to see tradition smashed."

Salaries ought to be put back "substantially where they were," he said, asserting "everyone knows that you can't buy with $120 today what you could with $90 four years ago." He said "conditions in the eleemosynary institutions are very bad and the state is losing some of its best men because of low salaries." He also said the people indicated by their approval of the constitutional amendment raising salaries of the governor and five other state officials that they "want to do the right thing by their employes."

With reference to the deficit, he observed he always had thought "a little debt" was a good thing for the state, in that it would discourage reckless spending, but he had "become alarmed" and thought the situation called for some decided action.

"The principal problem of the legislature will be state finances," he said. "There are just two ways to reduce a debt: to reduce expense or raise more money. Probably we ought to have some of each, after judicial study."

As to whether he will seek office or was through with politics, DeBerry, who did not seek re-election and will retire in January, told a story:

His father drove a heavily-loaded cotton wagon on a public scale. One of the traces dropped and DeBerry Senior asked a negro boy standing nearby to hook it. The boy demurred.

"Will dat mule kick?" he asked. "Well, he ain't dead, is he?" DeBerry answered.

The state agriculture department estimates the Pinaloa county (Fla.) citrus crop will yield from 1,500,000 to 1,700,000 boxes this season.

STUDENTS ARE YOUNGER.
CANYON, Dec. 12.—College students are now much younger than they were in former years according to J. A. Hill who has been identified with college teaching staff since 1910. He says "fifteen or twenty years ago even our sub-college students averaged about 23 years of age. Today our seniors will scarcely exceed this average." The youth of present-day college students has made it necessary to change courses of study and to give a longer time to pre-professional work, according to Dr. Hill, who is president of the West Texas State Teachers College.

TAXES.
Tax experts estimate that federal state and local collections for 1936 will set an all time record in the country's history. The previous peak was established in 1930 when $13,286,000,000 was paid. The 1936 figure is expected to approach the $12,000,000,000 mark. Last year tax receipts were $9,650,000,000.

FRANCE.
Brokers with international connections look for a selling wave of American shares and bonds coming from France. The inside political dope from that country is that Premier Blum is favored regardless of minor disturbances from time to time. The nation as a whole likes his defense stand and the fact that his "better times" policies are showing results.

GRAINS.
The Department of Agriculture predicts that domestic wheat prices will remain high during the winter months. Posted grain observers agree. Reasons: Europe started the season with a below normal crop; the world carryover into 1937 is the smallest since 1923; war-minded nations are increasing storage reserves; and in general world-wide grain quality isn't as good as it was last year.

WAGE FIGHT.
A decided shift is noted from construction of public buildings and roads to industrial building. Since other industries are voluntarily granting bonuses and wage increases labor organizations in the building industry are demanding higher wage scales. The trade reports that costs of construction are now at the highest point since 1923. But labor responds by saying current wage scales have been in effect since 1932 and that they must be revised with the increased living costs. Construction executives declare that wage increases would throw a wet blanket on prospects. Nevertheless labor insists. Discussions are now in progress. In the New York area some 115,000 men will be directly affected. But since most other cities use New York's wage scale as a basis, any increase would improve conditions for some 1,500,000 such workers throughout the country. Current building working agreements are unwritten. They expire on June 1, 1937. According to informed circles wages will have to be lifted. This will increase the costs of all new construction work. It was pointed out that that was the reason why such jobs will be granted prior to the June 1 date.

COFFEE.
Commodity traders say that coffee is a "seller" somewhat along the line of the long dormant cocoa market a year ago. The staple is now entering its heavy consuming season. Supplies are at low levels. Well founded reports are that Brazilian and Columbian representatives have agreed upon a price accord. General business improvement coupled with higher wage scales is expected to bring about increased demands. Based upon these assumptions commodity traders are closely watching coffee futures for the over due move to start.

REPORTS ARE THAT:
Consolidated Oil directors to declare a surplus dividend on December 16—company will show net of $110 a share for year... Twin Coach officials have agreed upon a portion of their share holdings—SEC report confirms... Phillips Petroleum's profits show consistent expansion since 1931—will show $4.10 share net for year... Thompson Product preferred convertible into $100 cash or common stock at price of $35 a share... Many department has placed an order for 40 scouting planes with a United Aircraft subsidiary... Cleet Peabody's Sanforizing process now used in 43 mills—1936 net estimated at over $5 a share... Because of government power developments Southern California Edison common speculatively priced

Another Class of Merchants To Be Honored Today

Continuing the series of broadcasts over station KPND, merchants "who were sold on our town," meaning those who came to Pampa after it's "expansion period" will be honored on the American legion program at 1:30 today.

After the boom every one predicted that Pampa would be just another oil town. That it would become a ghost town like other towns which have grown, due to the discovery of oil, and then have disappeared," a Legion statement said.

"Pampa did not become another oil boom town. Its growth has been steady, and since 1930 new merchants have come to make it the best town in the Panhandle of Texas. It is the intention of the American Legion on today's program to bow to these merchants that had faith in the new Pampa. These merchants have thrown their lot with us and should be praised.

"Competition is the life of trade, and these new businesses have made better merchants of the older ones by making our mercantile business more competitive. New business naturally follows when a city is growing such as Pampa. We welcome all new businesses and industries that will help build the city."

KPND PROGRAM CHANGES TO BE MADE THIS WEEK

Regular KPND listeners will notice program changes, beginning this week. All the old favorites have been retained, but some of them have been re-scheduled in order to present a more balanced program routine throughout the day.

Several new and interesting programs have been added to the present schedule, ranging in type from a Sunday afternoon Symphonic Hour to the Jungle Rhythm Boys, who present strange interpretations of popular melodies in their two weekly broadcasts. Tastes of the tuner-inner have been considered in every case, and lovers of classical selections will find a number of new programs which will appeal to them, as well as those who prefer the various types of swing and dance rhythms.

KPND's Program Department is auditioning new talent daily, and those who think that they are future radio stars will find a hearty welcome at the studios for auditions.
