Kennedy's Tax Proposal Would Limit Deductions

State Senate Considering Final Step On Connally Money Request Congress Gets Sweeping Plan

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI)—The State Senate was considering today the final step of providing Gov. John Connally $197,000 in emergency funds to enlarge the scope of the offices of the Governor and Attorney General.

The House-approved bill met some delay tactics Wednesday in the Senate Finance Committee, but this group passed the measure and sent it to the Senate floor after holding a second hearing.

Some economy-minded senators on the finance committee insisted on hearing from members of the Governor's staff and from Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr on why they needed the money. Immediately after they did so, they sent the bill out of committee.

The measure was requested by Connally as emergency funds in his message to a joint session a week ago. It provides $85,000 to increase the Governor's staff by some 12 members, $82,000 for the Attorney General to continue the slant-hole probe, and $30,000 for the Governor to set up immediately a study of higher education needs.

The bill still faces scrutiny of the full Senate, but it should pass with little dissent. If senators want to give final passage to it today, they will have to suspend constitutional provisions by a four-fifths majority vote, to hold all three floor readings on the same day.

Senate Finance Committee Chairman Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo held the first meeting of his group at 10 a. m. Wednesday, but several members wanted further hearings and an afternoon session was set up.

Sens. Galloway Calhoun of Tyler and Frank Owen of El Paso appeared to be more intent with questions concerning reasons for rushing the emergency funds through.

The committee heard from Carr concerning needs for the Attorney General's office, and from Bill Cobb, the Governor's budget officer.

Carr said the state needs some good $250-a-day trial lawyers and some $200-a-day expenses for witnesses to follow up the slanted well investigation and other probes. Much of this expense has been underwritten by private funds in past months, he said.

Legislators, meantime, continued filing bills in both houses. In the Senate, Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe introduced a constitutional amendment to boost the veterans land fund by a $150 million bond issue.

Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells introduced a voter registration bill to replace the poll tax. Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio filed two ad valorem tax measures to replace portions of the tax with other sources.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy asked Congress today to recapture about a fifth of his proposed $11 billion tax cut for individuals by clamping drastic limits on deductions.

His proposal would limit deductions for such things as home mortgage interest, contributions, medical expenses and local taxes. Only that portion of the total amount which exceeds 5 per cent of the taxpayer's income could be deducted.

The sweeping nature of the plan was the surprise element in a 9,600-word message in which Kennedy spelled out his anxiously awaited request for a three-step reduction in personal and corporate tax rates.

His blueprint also called for new tax preferences for most persons over 65, for many working mothers and for professional athletes, authors and others whose earnings fluctuate widely. He urged tougher tax treatment for the oil and gas industry, stock dividends and stock options enjoyed by some corporation executives.

The President said his proposed "reform" in deductions would cancel out $2.3 billion on the $11 billion tax cut he wants to give individuals to pump more purchasing power into the economy and revitalize business.

He said it also would mean that some 6.1 million of the 25 million taxpayers who now itemize deductions would find it more, or equally, profitable to take the standard 10 per cent deduction and file a short return.

However, Kennedy's tax blueprint would give low-income groups a better break on deductions than they get now. It would establish for the first time a minimum deduction — $300 for a single person or married couple plus $100 for each dependent. Every one would get that much regardless of deductible expenses or income.

As a result, between 750,000 and 1,000,000 low-income taxpayers would be removed from the tax rolls. This would be in addition to certain old people who would be relieved of tax liability under other rule changes.

Obviously aware that the deduction proposal will face trouble in Congress, Kennedy said "the present practice of allowing taxpayers to deduct certain expenses in full... raises difficult problems of equality, taxpayer compliance and tax administration and enforcement."

As for his overall proposals, which would mean a net cut of $10.2 billion in taxes, the Chief Executive said:

"Our economy is checkmated today by a war-born tax system at a time when it is far more in need of the spur than the bit."

He dismissed congressional complaints that the current period of heavy red-ink spending is no time to cut taxes. He said the deficit would be $9.2 billion next year even without a tax reduction.

As for proposals that he cut his record $98.8 billion budget to clear the way for tax relief, Kennedy said he had proposed spending the minimum needed for national security and the Soviet challenge in space. He said it would be "a grave mistake" to cut it.

Democratic leaders believe—and all advance signs indicate—that Congress will wind up voting a tax cut this year. But they believe Kennedy will get few of the revenue-boosting "reforms" he wants.

The President showed no signs of surrender, however.

He said "the largest single barrier to full employment of our manpower and resources and to a higher rate of economic growth

Water Rate Increase Seen In Near Future

Approximately two dozen persons showed up at City Hall last night and heard a repeat performance of the briefing given city officials Tuesday night on Pampa's obligations to the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority.

They were told, this time by Carl L. Shimek, vice president of Forrest & Cotton, Dallas consulting engineers, that the city has some very pressing financial problems in connection with its water and sewer distribution systems — problems which are in need of immediate solution.

T. Carr Forrest, president of the engineering firm, who pressed the engineering firm, who pressed the warning button Tuesday night, had to return to Dallas yesterday afternoon and the chore was taken over by Shimek.

Those present last night listened as Shimek showed slides and repeated findings of the engineering firm had made in a six-month study of Pampa's water and sewer problems.

Shimek reiterated that Pampa is committed under contract with the CRMWA to begin paying around $200,000 a year when the Authority starts delivering water to the city in 1968 and that at that time Pampa will be faced with a $1,800,000 obligation as a starter for plant treatment plant, sewage treatment plant and water and sewer lines.

He again pointed out that while Pampa's current operating expenses for the water department and bond payments alone are around $450,000, beginning in 1968 they will jump to around $1,000,000 plus.

The point Shimek said he wished to make was that it was up to the city to start now building reserve cash to ease the shock that otherwise will come in five years from now.

"It's an obligation and Pampa will have to pay it," he said.

The engineering firm recommended that the best way to do this would be by increasing water rates 30 to 35 per cent.

Rates suggested by the engineers would increase the minimum charge from $2.60 for the first 4,000 gallons of water used to $3 for the first 3,000 gallons. Sewer charge would be hiked from a minimum of 50 cents to $1.50. These are residential rates.

This, he stated, would increase the city's water revenue from its present $560,000 a year (in 1962) to between $800,000 and $900,000 a year. This $200,000 to $300,000 increase annually could be put into the reserve fund over the next five years and the city then would have in 1968 some $1,000,000 plus to make the initial payments without selling bonds and paying interest.

Commissioner L. P. Fort, near the end of the meeting, said:

"I notice that the representatives of the people who promoted this program are not here tonight. They are absent when it comes time to pay off."

It was pointed out that Pampa entered into the Canadian River Water contract by a 20 to 1 vote of the people.

"I wonder if they knew what they were getting into?" someone said.

Commissioner Will Graham stated that it was sold to the people on the basis that a lake would be provided for motorboat enthusiasts.

Shimek again reminded city officials they should hire a fiscal expert to help them work out the financial problems connected with the water and sewer projects ahead.

Search For Five Missing In Gulf

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The Coast Guard dispatched vessels and planes today to resume searching for five men dumped into the Gulf of Mexico Wednesday when their oil exploration boat capsized.

The temperature along the coast dropped to below 20 early today. A Coast Guard spokesman said the chances of survival in the 15-foot waves and 40-mile winds were both "good and bad." But he added that the men would be "in pretty rough shape even if they made it through the night."

The Coast Guard said the owners of the capsized vessel, the 120-foot Diversity, had requested the missing men not be identified until later. They were reported to be from the Morgan City, La., area.

Pampa Jaycees To Honor Their Bosses Tonight

Melvin Munn will be the principal speaker when the Pampa Jaycees hold their annual Bosses Night banquet in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn tonight.

The program will be highlighted by special awards including presentation of the Distinguished Service and Outstanding Boss awards.

The distinguished service award will be presented to Pampa's outstanding young man by E. O. Wedgworth, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Bosses Night is an annual feature of Jaycee Week in recognition of employers of Jaycee members who support the aims and ideals of the organization.

John Warner will act as toastmaster at tonight's ceremonies. Dave Damon is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the affair.

Florida Bank Hit For $60,000 Haul

JAY, Fla. (UPI) — Two neatly dressed gunmen took around $60,000 from the only bank in this small town in northwest Florida Wednesday. There was classic confusion among witnesses.

Several persons said the men escaped in a black car. Others said the getaway vehicle was light in color.

Some of the witnesses said the car was headed east. Others said it went west.

Dems And GOP In Clash Over Cuban Invasion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic foreign policy experts today opposed Republican demands for a new Senate investigation of the abortive 1961 invasion of Cuba.

"The bay of pigs incident was terrible," said Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., "but I don't believe any further investigation would serve the national interest."

"We had an investigation which was conducted in a bipartisan manner," said Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore. He added that he did not favor disclosure of data, supplied as secret, "to satisfy a group of Republicans."

Sparkman is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Morse is chairman of the committee's subcommittee on Latin America which conducted a closed inquiry shortly after the invasion attempt.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., raised the new cry for an inquiry. He proposed a full investigation by the Senate Armed Services Committee of which he is a member.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen had previously announced he would undertake a "preliminary exploration" of the matter. Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said he thought the move was politically motivated.

Both GOP proposals followed the statement by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy that no air cover was ever planned or promised for the ill-fated invasion force. That, said Goldwater, was contrary to the general understanding of the circumstances.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said he would not rule out the possibility of an inquiry by the Armed Services Committee. He said he would place Goldwater's proposal before the committee for action if Goldwater advanced it.

Pampa Accidents Show Decline In Past 12 Months

The annual accident report of the Pampa Police Department to the National Safety Council reveals fewer accidents happened in Pampa in 1962 than in 1961.

Police investigated 494 accidents in 1962 as compared to 527 in 1961, but more injuries and one fatality occurred in 1962. There were 118 injuries and no fatalities in 1961 with 133 injuries and one fatality in 1962.

Pampans are more accident prone on Saturdays than any other day of the week, the report indicated, as 94 mishaps occurred on Saturday. Fewer accidents occurred on Sunday, 47, than any other day.

The report also indicated that more people aged 15-24 have accidents than any other equivalent age span. The age bracket, 25-34 was second with 159 accidents as compared to 335 accidents for the younger drivers.

Of the violations contributing to accidents, failure to yield right-of-way and following too closely were the highest contributors.

According to the report, 50 of the drivers involved in accidents had been drinking with 16 arrested for driving while intoxicated.

Estimates made by officers investigating the accidents, reveals $117,469.49 damage occurred in the 494 mishaps.

Director Named At Youth Center

George D. Smith, Chickasha, Okla., has been named director of the Pampa Youth and Community Center following the resignation of L. Douglas Halley.

Smith, 27, will assume duties in Pampa, Feb. 15. The new director is presently employed as a teacher at Friend High School near Chickasha.

A native of Ada, Okla., he was graduated from East Central State College, Ada, in 1955. He has coached and taught in Oklahoma schools the past eight years.

Smith and his wife have two small sons. Halley, who resigned earlier this month, leaves Pampa tomorrow to do graduate work at Oklahoma University.

Efforts Pushed To End Strike

United Press International

The federal government pressed efforts again today to reach settlements in the Gulf Coast dock and New York newspaper strikes and head off a walkout at Boeing jet and missile plants.

Federal mediators scheduled new talks at Galveston, Tex., New Orleans, La., and Mobile, Ala., with striking longshoremen and said unless the dispute is settled quickly "we can expect some positive action from Washington."

Forecasts Calls For Slight Warming Trend In Weather

Sub-freezing temperatures gripped all of Texas today and record low temperatures in South Texas threatened millions of dollars damage to flax, citrus and vegetable crops.

A slight warming trend is promised by forecasters.

At least one death was blamed on the bitter cold.

W. P. McNally, county agricultural agent for the Kennedy-Karnes City area south of San Antonio said today's freeze may have spelled disaster to the area's multi-million dollar flax crop for the second straight January.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said freezing temperatures would engulf the state again tonight.

Deadline Nears To Buy Poll Tax

Less than a week remains to get your 1962 poll tax receipt.

County Tax Assessor Collector Jack Back issued the reminder today that only six days are left after today for poll tax buyers.

Thursday, Jan. 31 is the absolute deadline according to Texas law, Back said.

So, if you wish to participate in elections after Jan. 31, now is the time to get that new poll tax receipt.

The current 1961 poll tax receipt will be good for the city charter change election which falls on Jan. 31, according to City Secretary Edwin Vicars.

Incidentally, deadline for casting absentee ballots in the city charter change election will be tomorrow.

Vicars said only ten absentee ballots had been cast so far in the upcoming special election.

The Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce will start a drive tomorrow to sell poll tax receipts at a station to be set up in the 100-block of N. Cuyler St.

Jack Webb, Jaycee chairman, said the booth also will be open every day next week for the convenience of shoppers. Webb said the Jaycees are striving for a 100 per cent poll tax participation by club members.

The Democratic Club also is pushing the sale of poll tax receipts. A stand has been set up in the Furr Food Store.

Billie Sol Estes Denied New Trial

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Wednesday he does not agree with President Kennedy that a reduction in federal income taxes is the most urgent task facing the 1963 Congress.

McClellan said he feels that Congress can perform a far greater service to the country in the long run "by substantially reducing federal expenditures and moving sharply towards a balanced budget and the restoration of fiscal integrity in government."

Tax Program At Glance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's tax program at a glance:

Deductions — Limit itemized deductions to those in excess of 5 per cent of the taxpayer's income. This would recapture $2.9 billion of proposed $11 billion cut in individual income taxes.

Rates — Cut individual income tax rates from present 20-to-91 per cent range to 14 to 65 per cent over three years; cut corporate rates from present 52 to 47 per cent over two years.

Groups — New tax advantages for persons over 65, working mothers, professional athletes and others; tougher treatment for oil-gas industry, stock options and stock dividends.

Outlook — Chances are Congress will approve a major tax cut this year, but without some of revenue-producing "reforms" Kennedy wants.

Chamber To Hold Luncheon Monday

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce will hold its January membership noon luncheon at the Coronado Inn in the Starlight Room Monday.

Winners of the Christmas decoration contest will receive awards.

Reservations are now being accepted at the C. C. Office.

Several reports from committee chairmen also will be given at the noon luncheon.

U.S. And Britain To Defend India

NEW DELHI (UPI) — U.S. and British air forces will take over the air defense of India if there are any signs of Communist China preparing bomber strikes, informed sources said today.

The British and Americans already have agreed to rush fighter squadrons here in the event of Red air raids, the source said.

Unity Talks Begin At Elisabethville

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo (UPI) — Katanga President Moise Tshombe was due here today from Kolwezi to begin unification talks with the Central Congolese government.

The Katangese leader, who ended his 31-month-long secession last Monday, was scheduled to meet with Sen. Joseph Ileo for his first official contact with Premier Cyrille Adoula's Central regime since last summer. Ileo is the Central government's high commissioner for Katanga Province.

Juvenile Parole System Studied By Senate Group

By KYLE THOMPSON
AUSTIN (UPD)—The state Senate Cost of Government Study Committee recommended yesterday the state initiate a fully-supported, effective juvenile parole system "in order to provide more meaningful service and to effect a long-range saving of state funds."

The recommendation came as senators considered a House-approved bill giving Gov. John Connally $197,000 in emergency funds.

House members held a short 30-minute session for introduction of some resolutions and adjourned until 10:30 a.m. today.

The Senate study group was organized at the close of the 57th Legislature to find ways of "eliminating waste and extravagance" in state government.

The group in its report today said it felt the juvenile parole system would result eventually in "great savings of state funds." It asked the legislature to appropriate $400,000 to implement the program, but pointed out that the money in effect, would be a transfer of funds "to provide more meaningful service."

Other Economies Suggested

The committee also proposed a central maintenance staff, supply room, mailing and messenger services and duplicating service for all state agencies to effect further economy.

Senators continued introducing bills and proposed constitutional amendments today while House members adjourned to get various committees organized.

The House gave final approval of Connally's bill for emergency funds Monday 123-23 after overcoming a determined minority of opposition.

The bill was expected to meet some opposition when it comes to the Senate floor, but Sen. Grady Hazlewood, chairman of the Finance Committee, said he would call a meeting of his group today to hear the bill.

Question: Which Way Does The Neckline Plunge?

FLORENCE, Italy (UPD)—There was nowhere for necklines to go today except up.

After the plunge they took in the Pitti Palace fashion shows Tuesday night, it was either that or the Folies Bergere.

Designer Germana Marucelli bared necklines to the waist in her spring-summer collection. The result was the kind of anatomical moment of truth that once made Minsky a household name.

Marucelli startled the most sophisticated of fashion experts with her bodices. The plunge on all her dresses ended exactly at the waist. She kept the décolletage wide and open—occasionally adding a modernistic silver pendant in a futile attempt to offer some degree of cover.

Since dresses were as bare in the back as in front, Marucelli's collection also supplied capes of a military cut to protect midlady from the chill air.

The elbow length capes, completely beaded in glistening white and banded in electric blue, were almost as theatrical as her more revealing costumes.

For contrast, she topped most of her day clothes with demure little girl sailor straws, complete with streamers.

The Roman house of Mingolini-Gugenheim presented a collection with a different fashion philosophy.

Suits had well marked hips, bosom and waists but were kept sleek and slim at the same time. The waistline was marked by parallel lines and sometimes wandered a scant inch above or below the "natural" waistline.

18 Pass Drivers' Education Exams

LEFORS (Spl) — Eighteen out of twenty Drivers' Education students, taught in Lefors High School by Dunny Goode, passed their final examinations successfully and have received their operator's driver license.

One student, John Sublett, made one hundred on his exam, the second such grade made here since Goode has been Driver's Ed instructor.

Those receiving their operator's license were John Sublett, Glenna Gee, Sharron Harrington, Johnny Lofton, Marcia McDonald, Larry McDowell, Terry Sanders, Carron Stubblefield, Sandra Whitney, Linda Cates, Lyssa Carruth, Judy Garrison, Frances Gifford, Charley Gustin Keith Jernigan, Jerry Lane, Bill McBe, and Dickey Sims.

Gray County Boy Among Winners At Amarillo Show

A Gray County 4-H Club boy won honors at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show. Lonny Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Groom, showed his 1005-pound Angus steer to the championship of the Angus division. Lonnie was victorious over some 75 Angus steers entered in this year's show.

Lonny and his older brother, Larry, exhibited heifers in the Junior Angus heifer show. Larry won first place in the class of Junior heifer calves and Lonny was first in Senior calves. The Brown boys are members of the Grandview 4-H Community Club.

Other Gray County 4-H youngsters showing steers Monday were Jan Wheeler and Joe Whedley of the Top O' Texas Community Club and Joe Magee of McLean.

The calves were sold at auction Thursday at the W. M. Goudly Sales Arena.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Spear & Staff, Inc., says that severe technical deterioration has not shown up, and this indicates that any correction at this time likely would be limited to 20 to 30 points in the Dow-Jones industrial average.

S&P's position remains the same as it has been since summer — namely that clients should continue to increase their invested positions on price setbacks. However, it says that at present levels, emphasis should be given to selected lower-multiple stocks and to attractive issues which are representative of the best acting groups.

In terms of the Dow-Jones industrial average, says Bache & Co., the important point to watch is the 668.00 line. It was at this level that the industrial index established the closing low of the brief consolidation phase which took place just before the rise last week. If the industrial average closes below 668.00, accompanied by similar action on the part of the daily cumulative advance-decline line, it would indicate that the short term day-to-day trend has turned down.

International Statistical Bureau says the outlook in 1963 for the office equipment industry is for a further increase in sales, particularly for electronics data processing equipment, office supplies and photocopy equipment. In this light it says the securities of these groups should move into higher ground and regain a good portion of the sharp decline in prices recorded in the past year.

Eldon A. Grimm of Walston & Co. says the monthly short interest figures, to be released right after Friday's close, are expected to be down somewhat because a great deal of stock that was "short against the box" may have been cancelled out over the year end. Sometimes this type of transaction — literally, selling short against an equivalent long position — is one for tax purposes, and now this factor has been disposed of.

Name to Remember
NEW YORK (UPI) — Many steady hotel guests have difficulty remembering the name of their favorite bellhop.

That's not the case with a popular bellhop at the Hotel Edison. His name is Joseph Joseph Joseph and he's been there 20 years.

Pastor Addresses Jaycees At Their Weekly Luncheon

Speaking on the subject, "Joiners or Disciples," the Rev. C. N. Snow Jr., pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, challenged Pampa Jaycees at their noon luncheon Tuesday to become "true doers of the Word and not hearers only."

The entire Harvester basketball squad made up special guests at the luncheon and Charles Price was singled out by Coach Terry Colley as "Hustling Harvester" of the week.

President A. J. Carubbi named a special committee to take part in the March of Dimes Bucket Brigade solicitation Saturday in downtown Pampa.

Five members of the Pampa Club attended a breakfast meeting of Jaycees in Canadian Tuesday. They were Gary Frasier, Carubbi, Eddie Chatlin, Doyle Green and Bill Swift.

The Y.M.C.A. was founded in 1847.

Pampans To Take Part In Telethon

A Tel-A-Rally will be held Saturday, Feb. 2 on Station KFDA, Amarillo, (Channel 10), to raise funds for the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, according to Jack Skelly, Pampa, chairman of the state board for the association.

The two-hour program will consist of a film on activities of the Texas Rehabilitation Center at Gonzales. Well-known entertainers are scheduled to give appeals for donations at intervals during the showing of the film. The program starts at 10:20 p.m.

Two Amarillo men, Joe Macrander and Les Kilgore were in Pampa yesterday making arrangements for Pampa to participate in the program.

Headquarters-in Pampa for the fund drive will be Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home (Phone 4-3311) with Pampa Key Club members picking up the donations.

Other Pampans on the state board of the Texas Rehabilitation Center at Gonzales are Herman Whatley and Bob Clements.

The event is conducted by the staff of the school yearbook, The Tumbleweed, and each of the candidates is sponsored by a businessman who has advertised in the yearbook.

The three judges will be from out of town.

William Murthe Rites Saturday

Funeral services for William Murthe, 319 N. Rider, will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Jack Riley, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church officiating.

Mr. Murthe, a retired painter, died at 11:55 p.m. Wednesday in a local hospital. He had resided in Pampa for 35 years.

He was married to Sarah Jane Morris on June 24, 1898 in Salina, Kan.

In addition to his wife of the home, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Enid Cole of Pampa; six grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Interment will be in Memory Gardens under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Williams, Margie Pakan, Joyce Beasley, Linda Smith, Susan Blackwell, Tone Mertel, Sylvia Groves, Barbara McCurley, Linda Weekley, Sharon Spain and Gloria Allen.

Petit Jury Will Convene Monday

The Gray County Petit Jury will report for jury service on Monday, Feb. 25, at 10 a.m. to handle both civil and criminal cases.

Judge Lewis Goodrich will preside in 31st Judicial District Court.

KILLED BY ARROW

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI) — Authorities said Wednesday that a man first believed to have been stabbed to death actually was killed by an arrow probably fired from a 45 pound crossbow.

An autopsy revealed a black arrowhead in the chest near the heart of Dillmon Thrasher, police said. A feathered shaft was found later in the vicinity where Thrasher was slain.

Woman Reports Prowler In Yard

Mrs. Linda Munns, 1313 Coffee, reported a prowler to police at 8:33 last night.

Mrs. Munns reported hearing a noise at the rear door of her home. Upon investigating, she said she saw a man in a dark, brown jacket and wearing Levi pants, climb over the rear fence. The police investigated, but the prowler had already left.

Delicious Pot Roasts Deserve High Honor

HURRAH FOR POT ROAST! What homemaker hasn't acclaimed this when she serves tender, juicy slices of roast beef with rich brown gravy. It's a hearty dish to bring to the table on a crisp winter's eve. Rosy spinach-topped tomatoes give the vegetable course a touch of individuality.

Homemakers know that beef cuts are usually classified as tender and less tender. Those in the latter group require slow, moist heat cooking to develop tenderness. When cut into roasts they are classified as "pot roasts." Some have round bones, some have blade bones and others, such as a rolled rump roast, are boneless.

In many areas across the country new pre-tendered beef is available. Recipes developed by Martha Logan, famous home economist, are available at the meat counter for cooking both oven roasts and pot roasts. The pre-tendered beef is identified by a small foil label placed on the cut of Pro Ten Beef. When pot roasting a rump roast of Pro Ten Beef, remember that the cooking time will be about an hour less than for regular beef of the same chunky shape and weight. Homemakers will find that the cuts they have always considered pot roasts are now tender enough to cook with dry heat methods. A boneless rolled-rump roast is easily carved even by a beginner. All that is necessary is a platter large enough to hold the sliced meat, a sharp carving knife and a sturdy fork. The fork is inserted into the center of the roast. Slicing is downward, across the grain of the meat using straight even strokes. Each slice should be about 1/4 inch thick. Cut enough slices for everyone at the table before serving the plates.

Family favorite pot roast: (Allow 1/4 pound of boneless rump roast per serving.) Season meat, dip in flour if desired, then brown in a small amount of hot fat. Add a small amount of liquid as water, milk, tomato juice or bouillon. Cover and cook slowly on top of range or in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Cook until fork-tender. Approximate cooking time after browning for a 3 to 5 pound roast is 3 to 3 1/2 hours. If Pro Ten Beef is used allow 2 to 2 1/2 hours.

SPINACH STUFFED TOMATOES

Yield: 6 tomatoes
10 ounce package frozen chopped spinach
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons crumbled blue cheese
6 medium tomatoes
Cook spinach according to directions on package. Drain. Make a white sauce by melting the butter in a saucepan. Stir in flour and nutmeg to make a smooth paste. Gradually add the milk, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in blue cheese. Blend in cooked spinach. Slice off the tops of the tomatoes and scoop out the pulp. Fill tomatoes with spinach mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Serve with roast beef.
Note: If desired, bread crumbs may be sprinkled on top of tomatoes before they are baked.

Gain Applause At Dinner Party With Specialty Pork Chop Entree

At a small dinner party, or just when you want to treat your family, you'll gain applause from all with a specialty pork chop entree. One particular dish stars thick, meaty chops baked atop an unusually tasty wild rice and mushroom combination. It's appropriately named Gourmet Pork Chops, yet is simple to prepare with expert results.

And, once the dish goes into the oven, there's no watching involved. You're free to mingle with your guests.

Since Reba Staggs, expert on meat cookery, says moist heat braising brings out the delicious flavor of pork chops, the baking dish remains covered during most of the cooking period.

Gourmet Pork Chops

6 rib pork chops, cut 3/4 to 1 inch thick
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/3 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped celery
1 package (6 ounces) fresh mushrooms, quartered
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 beef bouillon cubes
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups cooked wild rice (about 3/4 cup uncooked)
1/3 cup light cream
1 1/2 cups soup.

beans
Brown ground beef and onion in lard drippings. Pour off drippings. Add oregano, salt, pepper, consommé and tomatoes. Cover tightly and cook slowly 15 minutes. Add lima beans and continue cooking, uncovered, 15 minutes. Yield: 7 cups soup.

Beef-Franks Moderne Offers New Menu Variation With Old Duo

Although the duo is old, you can create new variations. Here is a suggestion given by Reba Staggs, meat recipe expert. Six franks, a can of sauerkraut and a pound of ground beef play the lead roles.

Beef and Franks Moderne

1 pound ground beef
6 frankfurters
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1/4 cup water
1 c (16 ounces) sauerkraut
Brown ground beef and onion in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add salt, chili powder, tomato sauce and water. Cover tight-

Manners Make Friends

Well-mannered young folks speak to the chaperons when arriving AND leaving a dance.

A new room-darkening window shade conceals its functional talents under a wondrous look. Its three-dimensional pattern, impressed on vinyl-impregnated shade cloth, goes well with oriental or contemporary decor. The shades come in metallic-threaded bronze on bahama white or grenada sand and are flame-resistant and color fast.

1 1/2 quart casserole. Arrange frankfurters over sauerkraut. Cover tightly and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 minutes. Remove from oven and top with beef-tomato sauce. 4 to 6 servings.

Frozen Rabbit, French Style

Many cooks overlook the delicious fact that frozen rabbit meat tastes like the white meat of chicken. It is available at most modern stores. Why not try it this new year of new adventure in good eating?

HERBY RABBIT
(Peter's Cousin)
(Makes 6 servings)
1/2 cup white dinner wine OR chicken broth
1/4 cup instant minced onion
1/4 cup salad oil
1 tablespoon vinegar either cider or tarragon
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1 bay leaf
Salt
Pepper
1 rabbit (about 2 1/2 pounds)
1/2 cup cream or sour cream
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Parsley
Blushing Pear Potatoes

Combine wine or chicken broth, onion, oil, vinegar, thyme, bay leaf, salt and pepper. Pour over rabbit in baking dish. Marinate at least 2 hours, spooning marinade over rabbit occasionally. Bake in 400-degree oven (hot) about 30 minutes; turn rabbit, bake about 30 minutes longer until tender, basting occasionally with marinade. Place rabbit on platter. Remove bay leaf; stir cream into marinade; add lemon juice. Pour over rabbit and serve at once. Garnish with parsley. Arrange Blushing Pear Potatoes around rabbit.

Blushing Pear Potatoes
Boil 6 medium-size potatoes in jackets until about half done; remove skins. Melt butter in baking

Protein Boosters In Familiar Foods

Making the most of meat power means planning meals to assure adequate high-quality meat protein to suit individual nutritional needs. One method is to use strained 100 per cent meats or chopped 100 per cent meats as protein boosters in familiar food combinations. It is not just the tiny tots who experience periods of rapid growth, pre-teen and teenage are times when an abundance of body-building protein is essential. Strained or chopped 100 per cent meats come to the rescue for they provide meat power in a single serving-sized jar to be combined with other foods for a satisfying and nutrition packed meal.

SOLO SPAGHETTI SAUCE
Yield: 2 1/2 cups
3 1/2 ounce jar chopped beef for juniors
3 1/2 ounce jar chopped pork for juniors
1 cup cooked tomatoes
6 ounce can tomato paste
1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Combine ingredients in a saucepan. Bring to a boil and simmer 5 minutes. Serve over cooked spaghetti.

MEAT POWER OATMEAL
Yield: 4 to 6 servings
3 1/2 ounce jar chopped beef for juniors
2 cups quick cooking rolled oats
1 teaspoon salt
4 cups water
Stir rolled oats into briskly boiling, salted water. Cook for 1 minute, stirring occasionally. Stir in chopped beef until mixture is well blended. Cover pan. Remove from heat and let stand a few minutes.

Members of the armed services used to wear magnificent shoulder insignias known as epaulets. The term derives from the French word for shoulder, epaule. In the 18th century elite French troops were distinguished by clusters of red ribbons on their shoulders. The epaulet was introduced into the British army about 1768 and thereafter its use became widespread. From the start the epaulet was used to indicate rank and function of both officers and men.

White Deer Personals

By MRS. JOE MILLER

Rev. and Mrs. Bob Ely of Wheelersville, Ohio, were dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. Curtis Lee, Wednesday.

Mrs. M. H. Kuykendall of Crossville, Tenn., visited in White Deer with friends and relatives recently.

Miss Carolyn Peters of Amarillo visited with her parents, the W.A. Peters recently.

Rev. Curtis Lee attended a committee meeting of the Conference of the Board of Missions in Lubbock recently. On his return home he stopped in Tulia and visited his mother, Mrs. J. W. Lee.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Carey recently were the daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson of Amarillo.

Rev. and Mrs. Curtis Lee attended an Amarillo district meeting recently at the Trinity Methodist Church in Amarillo.

Miss Cherry Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gunn, won first place in the Top of Texas District Future Farmers of America Sweetheart Contest, last Monday evening in the Perryton High School Cafeteria. Miss Baker will represent this district in the Area I-F.F.A. Sweetheart Contest to be held in Amarillo, on May 11th.

Mrs. E. J. Williams was hostess to the White Deer Art Club in her home recently.

Mrs. Hoy Taylor was honored with a layette shower recently in the home of Mrs. J. C. Williams. Hostesses were Mrs. Joe Wheeler and Mrs. Williams.

Miss Lou Ellen Howard, daughter of the Russ Howards, has become a member of Omicron Nu, a national honorary organization for Home Economics majors.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Qualls and boys attended a luncheon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams and son in Panhandle recently. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Cook and girls of Groom, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Anderson and children of Claude, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Perkins of Skellytown.

Mrs. J. R. Carney of Groom, Pampa Deanery President, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Sacred Heart Altar Society which met recently in the Parish Hall.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Silkwood last week were their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hoskins, of Amarillo.

Rev. Edgar Hubbard and other ministers and laymen from this area attended the first meeting of the year of Plains Presbytery in Slaton recently.

Mrs. Charles Warminski was a guest speaker at the Hoe and Hope Garden Club meeting which met recently in the White Deer library. Those present were Meses J.L. Darnell, Jimmy Nash, W. L. Potter, Howard Cavett, Conner O'Neal, Bertha Williams, Sam Stone and Horace Brooks, and Mrs. Warminski.

A Pack meeting of the White Deer Cub Scouts was held Monday evening in the School Cafeteria. Mr. J. C. Williams, Cubmaster, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. James Britten's Den No. 2 presented the opening flag ceremony and concluded it with the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. J. C. Williams' Den No. 1 presented the program entitled "Boys Eyes".

Mr. Olur Bertrand, advancement chairman, presented the following awards and recognitions: Bobcat pins to Gary Sugar, Randy Denny and Max Britten; Denner stripes to Andy Taylor; Gold and Silver Arrow points to Steve Waltz; Wolf badge to Ricky Powers; Bear badge to Bryan Bertrand; and Bear books were presented to Ricky Powers, Stephen Carver and Steve Waltz.

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 6972, have undertaken a money raising campaign to purchase an invalid car lift for Mr. Kiefer Butler, former member of the White Deer-Skellytown school system.

Mr. Butler is partially paralyzed from a back injury received last year.

According to Harold Conrad, a V.F.W. member, the lift will cost around $250.00, and anyone wishing to contribute toward its purchase are urged to contact any member of the post.

Mrs. Leon Nicholson was hostess to the White Deer Home Demonstration Club which met in her home recently. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Charles Warminski, president.

The members present were Mrs. Russ Howard, Loy Collis, Floyd Ulrich, Joe Wheeler, Charles Warminski, and Mrs. Sybil Stringer.

New Look At 'New' Texans To Be Offered By Magazine

NEW YORK (Sp) — More than 200,000 readers the world over will soon be getting a new and infinitely more accurate look at the state of Texas. For its February issue, Show magazine, a Magazine of the Arts, has scheduled an article which strongly refutes the erroneous cliches of Texas as a money-mad, un-culture conscious state.

The article, titled, "Deep in the Art of Texas," is the work of Warren Leslie. Leslie, author of two novels and numerous magazine articles, is a native New Yorker who moved to Texas by choice. After working for a Dallas newspaper (the Morning News) he joined Neiman-Marcus, where he is now a vice president.

In his article, Leslie strongly states his conviction that "the legend and cliché of modern Texas as spectacular and uncivilized is as extinct as the bison." Texas society, fed by the enormous influx of new blood and the growing sophistication of its natives, reflects a broader base of intellectual curiosity than the state has had in its lively history.

The "new breed" of Texan, Leslie says, is much less likely to be a prototype of the rich and raucous-looking "Big Tex" statue at the Texas State Fairgrounds in Dallas than a non-raucous and cosmopolitan businessman or educator, who is an ardent supporter of the cultural arts.

As examples Leslie names Erik Jonsson of Dallas, chairman of Texas Instruments, civic leader, and one of the prime planners of a new music hall for the city; Dr. John Patrick Sullivan, chairman of the Classics Department of the University of Texas; John Graves, Fort Worth author, and others.

Leslie points out that Texas-based institutions and personalities in the fields of art, music, literature, and theatre have become the peers of any in the world. He credits the wealthy Texan with an increasing sophistication, cosmopolitanism, and interest in the arts. It is true, Leslie admits, that he may buy a Renoir for status. But it is just as likely that he may buy it because he loves it. The important thing is that he buys it.

But love of the arts, Leslie claims, is not limited to the fortunate Texans who can afford to acquire paintings and endow museums. The non-affluent Texan public has increasingly been demonstrating its eagerness to contribute to worthwhile cultural projects, too.

"In the winter of 1963," Leslie writes in Show, "one finds the artists and writers of Texas staying at home because they can earn a living and because they are respected. One finds self-criticism and aspiration."

The rest of the world, he implies, will soon become aware of Texas' cultural assets, and will echo Maestro Georg Solti's comment following his last concert in Dallas. "I must come back here, the world-famous musical director said. "So many possibilities. It is quite a place, your Texas."

Leslie's article is likely to convince many other skeptics of this attractive truth.

Thin Americans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fat Americans aside, there still are many people who'd like to gain weight.

For anyone wanting to put on pounds, Dr. Hazel M. Hauck, emeritus professor of food and nutrition at Cornell University, suggests adding 500 to 1000 calories a day to gain one or two pounds a week. Tuck an extra pat of butter into a baked potato, add cream to milk. Eat until you feel satisfied — then eat a little more.

Cannon Levels New Attack On Kennedy Budget

By LYLE C. WILSON
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—There will be no greater firepower leveled against President Kennedy's new budget than the statement of a powerful member of the President's own party, Chairman Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., of the House Appropriations Committee.

The Republican National Committee should reproduce Cannon's remarks and circulate them to the millions of voters. What Cannon had to say in the Jan. 17 Congressional Record. Reading time is about an hour because Cannon's statement is accompanied by tables on deficit spending debt and miscalculations.

Cannon condemns the Kennedy budget in all respects as a menace to the welfare of the republic. He fears its inflationary impact at home. He also fears it will lead to a shattering loss of confidence in the U.S. dollar abroad.

Claims in Gold
 Foreigners possess dollars and other claims against the United States aggregating more than $21 billion. Through foreign central banks, these claims can be exchanged for U.S. gold. Since Dec. 31, 1957, when the U.S. gold hoard amounted to $22.9 billion, foreigners have been cashing their assets for U.S. gold. The balance of international payments thus has been against the United States.

Since that date, the U.S. gold hoard has shrunk to just under $16 billion, a loss of about $7 billion. The United States is required by law to maintain a 25 per cent gold backing for its currency and deposits. The United States is short more than $17 billion in gold to meet the 25 per cent requirements, and the $21 billion of possible foreign claims.

Cannon fears that the 1954 deficit budget and others to come will frighten foreign creditors into unloading their claims against the United States for gold.

On the basis of the budget as presented, plus a statement by Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, Cannon foresees three more successive budget deficits in fiscal years 1964, '65 and '66. He has no confidence of an end to deficit financing in fiscal 1967 or soon thereafter.

Down 35 Per Cent
 There have been 28 Treasury deficits in the past 34 years accompanied by a rotting of the U.S. dollar that has reduced its purchasing power as of last November to 45.7 cents compared with what a dollar would purchase in 1939.

President Kennedy promised he would hold the line in his new budget on non-defense spending. Cannon says he didn't do it by a margin of more than $2 billion. Non-defense spending in the current budget is up $9.3 billion above fiscal 1961, a 27 per cent hike. It is up $22.8 billion above fiscal 1954, or 111 per cent.

"Mr. Speaker," said Cannon, "who will deny that the spenders and the special pleaders are on both sides of the aisle (Democrats and Republicans) and in both administrations (Eisenhower's and Kennedy's)?"

Want To Be A Reporter? Get Yourself Old Trench Coat

By DICK WEST
 United Press International
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—As anyone who watches old movies on television can tell you, the badge of the newspaper business is a trench coat.

Not just any trench coat, of course. It needs to be a dirty old trench coat with a few holes in it, preferably bullet holes. A trench coat is not really broken in until its wearer has covered a couple of revolutions, exposed a spy ring under the very nose of the FBI and solved an old kidnap case; thus freeing an innocent man from prison.

The coat must have a collar that can be turned up while a reporter is waiting on a fogshrouded bridge for a rendezvous with a mysterious lady in black. And it must have a belt that he can use to lower himself from a balcony when he is foiling an assassination plot against the prime minister of a small but strategic country in the Balkans.

Women Don't Understand
 "Some women do not understand this. My wife, for instance, noting that my trench coat was looking a big raunchy, sprang to the conclusion that it was merely worn out.

She did not realize that a trench coat, like wine and cheese, mellow with age, gradually acquiring a sort of patina, or crust, that gives it a distinctive color and aroma.

It was her lack of appreciation on this point that drew my attention to an alarming situation.

The trench coat, like the bison and the whooping crane, is in danger of becoming extinct.

Hunts For Coat
 At first, I thought nothing of it, putting it down as merely additional evidence of the provincialism of suburban merchants. But I was unable to dismiss it entirely from my mind.

Finally, I made a tour of some of the downtown stores to investigate the matter first hand. It ended, to confirm my fears. Trench coats have virtually disappeared from the racks.

"I haven't seen a coat like that in 12 years," one clothier told me when I described the garment I was seeking.

What the stores now mainly stock are single-breasted coats with narrow collars and lapels, sans belts and epaulets. I tried one on and it changed my image completely. Made me look like a second echelon bureaucrat.

Unless something is done to preserve our identities, we newspapermen may have to go back to wearing press cards in our hats.

220 Prisoners End Seven-Month Job Turning Out License Plates

HUNTSVILLE (SpI) — Due to the continuous efforts of a number of Texas Department of Corrections officials and the hard work of 220 specially-assigned inmates of the Huntsville Unit, car owners of Texas will be able to purchase their license plates on time in 1963. They go on sale Feb. 1.

License plate plant superintendent, Benjamin Smith, announced this week that the last of more than eleven million (actual count 11,094,268) individual vehicle plates were shipped to the distributing centers on January 15, one full month ahead of the deadline established by the Texas Highway Department.

Since July 1962, when the plant started producing 1963 license plates, inmates and employees have worked a day-and-night shift. Reuben Blagrove, 17-year veteran employee of the Department of Corrections, said, "This was our busiest year. We got started late due to installing new equipment, and we had one million more plates to produce but we got caught up and finished well ahead of time."

Blagrove gives credit to the inmates who operated the presses, cutters, ovens, and other machinery in the plant. "They are the boys who turned out the work," he said.

The job of providing inmates for the staffing of the License Plate Plant falls on Leon Hughes, Director of Classification. "When the plant went on double shifts," Hughes said, "we transferred more than 150 inmates from the farm system to the plant. We consider this a job promotion for the inmates to trusty jobs on construction and on special State Approved Trusty jobs. The inmates proved themselves, and we were pleased to promote them."

The Huntsville plant produces 29 varieties of license plates for the vehicles of Texas. The 1963 order called for 7.8 million individual plates for automobiles.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

President Charles De Gaulle's virtual rejection of Britain as a member of the European Common Market hit Britain like a dash of cold water and aroused resentment among France's partners in the European community. The result might easily be a crisis not only for Britain but for the European community as well.

Lord Privy Seal Edward Heath, Britain's chief representative in the market negotiations at Brussels, responded with what has come to be regarded as typical British bulldog tenacity. His actions clearly indicated that, far from accepting defeat, Britain now will redouble its efforts.

In Rome, Budget Minister Ugo La Malfa responded acidly that De Gaulle "cannot treat Italy and other common market countries like a colony."

Outdated Viewpoint

Netherlands' officials at The Hague attacked De Gaulle's view as outmoded nationalism.

Belgium, the Netherlands and Italy all have suggested that if French stubbornness bars Britain from the European community, then they also might be forced to reassess their position.

In Britain and among France's aroused partners was a feeling that De Gaulle, by his unyielding stand on terms of British entry, deliberately was setting a trap, that he hoped thereby to goad Britain into breaking off negotiations.

There were bitter references to 1958, the year the common market came into being, when Britain did slam the door on free trade because of terms largely dictated by France.

The question now is how far the European partners can push De Gaulle—who never has changed his mind easily—away from his concept of a tightly knit Europe open to compromise, large enough to admit Britain and with ever closer ties to the Atlantic community, including the United States.

Suspicion of U. S.

At least partly responsible for De Gaulle's opposition to Britain and his rejection of a nuclear force for NATO is his abiding suspicion of the United States.

High up in his thinking is a conviction that the European economic community never must lose its identity in a "colossal Atlantic community" controlled by the United States.

Fire destroyed 530 buildings in New York City in 1835.

New Fashion: Rain-Suit For Spring Showers

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—This year, April showers promise to bring out something new in fashion—the rain-suit.

The rain-suit is made of water-repellent plastic, the same material of many slickers and is the brainchild of a young California designer named Rudi Gernreich. Gernreich's suit, in bright yellow, came with a straight skirt and collarless, cardigan type jacket. Under the jacket was a printed silk blouse. Whether the blouse too was water-repellent the designer didn't specify.

Gernreich's rain-suit was unveiled during a weekend series of American designer shows for reporters from all parts of the country. When one fashion editor asked the model if she could sit in the suit comfortably, the model eased herself onto a chair. She cooed.

Plastic for Swimming
Gernreich used the same slicker fabric for a series of bathing suits. Unconventional fabric for swimming, to be sure, but Gernreich has a reputation for being an unconventional designer—and of being copied.

His variation of the bikini bathing suit, for instance, has suspenders spanning the long bare middle. A summertime riding habit consists of orange chiffon skirt with epaulet shoulder treatment, combined with beige linen and white geometric print. And topping a neatly tailored white flannel suit was a Texas-type hat with the brim tamed just a smidgen.

Fashion Shows End
Gernreich was one of 21 New York and California firms which participated in a series of spring fashion shows beginning last Friday afternoon and finishing today. They were for the benefit of visiting women's and fashion editors who all last week attended the New York Couture Group of designers' 40th "national press week."

It was white, and more white, for Ceil Chapman, whose collection shown Sunday evening included white silk crepe dresses, both long and short, draping the figure gently.

Another Chapman group, featuring what the designer called the missile silhouette, was in white matelasse crepe. These shaped the body as far as the knees, then flared out to the floor.

Take It From Kathy

by Kathy Peterson
Dear Kathy: I have been going steady with a boy for over a year.

He has asked me to marry him and my parents agreed—if he had a good, steady job. But he doesn't, and doesn't even try to get one. I love him very much and feel sure he loves me. I really do want to marry him. Do you think I should wait until he decides to get a job? I'm 18 and he is 24. Please try to help me.—Helpless.

Dear Helpless: You'd really be calling for help in a year or two if you married him. Giving a fellow responsibility doesn't mean he'll take it. You're positive he'll change. That's not likely. Why would you like to marry?

Because you love him? Without a husband—who does his share, you would become a drudge. Romance would be just something you saw on television.

Perhaps you dream of your own home. Without an income, what home? Consider your mother's budget. Explore a furniture store and total the cost of three rooms of furniture. Figure out how long it would take to save that amount at $5-10 per week. If you aren't disillusioned, you're an incurable optimist.

Party Honors Two Brothers

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a Commanding Officer on active duty, but please don't mention which branch or where this letter comes from. I just want to say that if you could see some of the letters my husband gets from wives, sweethearts and even mothers asking if a certain boy in his company is living or dead, it would bring tears to your eyes. Why are some boys so thoughtless? Your column reaches more servicemen than any other, Abby, so please print this with your comments.

C.O.'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: There are thoughtless, lazy, self-centered people everywhere. The boys in the service write to ME and ask if their loved ones at home are dead, dying or have just plain forgotten them. Maybe this will help to perk up mail call. Uncle Sam could use the money.

DEAR ABBY: I thought I'd be the last person in the world who would ever write a DEAR ABBY letter, but here I am. I am 40 and my husband is 49. We've been married 20 years and have three wonderful children. Suddenly my husband has decided that I am the most beautiful and wonderful woman in the world. He's always been considerate, generous and helpful. But lately I feel like a prisoner. He doesn't let me out of his sight. I wear a shower last Saturday (for ladies only) and he insisted on driving me there (I drive, too) and he sat out in front and WAITED for me! He claims I am more attractive today than I was 20 years ago and that every man who sees me falls for me. (This is not true.) What is wrong with him? I can't figure it out.

SMOTHERED
DEAR SMOTHERED: Men go through a period of glandular and chemical changes just as women do, you know. That could be his trouble. He sounds insecure and unsure of himself. Get him to a doctor. Your 49'er is due for a check-up.

DEAR ABBY: My 15-year-old son has hair that is so long it looks like a girl's. He refuses to have it cut and it just lays in waves all over his head. He puts it up in large rollers. Do you think he is normal?

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: I've heard of young men "rolling their own"—but this is ridiculous. If you want to find out if he is normal, get him an appointment with a psychiatrist.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MR. R."
Yes, I know a good employee is hard to find. But a good wife is harder to find. Next time that "valued employee" comes to you with her marital problems, don't offer yourself as a willing wail. Give her the name of a good marriage counselor. You can help save her marriage without endangering your own.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

TEL Class Has Social Meeting

Mrs. Lelia Gomer and Mrs. Dora Poe were co-hostesses for the TEL Sunday School Class of Central Baptist Church on Tuesday afternoon in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Mrs. R. E. Warren, teacher, led opening prayer following the class song.

Mrs. E. O. Etheredge, president, conducted a short business meeting with Mrs. W. G. Gooding giving the secretary's report.

Mrs. Myrtle Enloe read the devotion from Romans. Mrs. Maggie Deal was in charge of the entertainment.

Only One Original Colt Left In Houston Corral

By HARRY CRAFT
Houston Colt 45s' Manager
As told to HARRY GRAYSON
Everybody with the Colt 45s was pretty well pleased with our first year showing, but if you suspect that anybody is satisfied with the eight-place finish just take a look at the turnover.

The Houston club will open the 1963 season with probably only one player at the same position he held a year ago. He is Bob Aspromonte, who should be a fixture at third base for the Colt 45s for another 15 years.

The Colt 45s have a fine nucleus of seasoned players and will insert outstanding kids from the farm system into the parent club's lineup as quickly as they are ready.

One of these promising boys may make it this year. I'm talking about John Bateman, a six-foot-three-inch, 210-pound, 19-year-old catcher with great power and an arm to match. Bateman hit 21 home runs for Modesto of the Class C California League in his first season as a professional. He showed vast improvement in the Instructional League. General Manager Paul Richards calls him "the next Gabby Hartnett."

RUSTY STAUB
"Home-grown heavy artillery"

Dan (Rusty) Staub, an 18-year-old first baseman, could make the parent club in 1964. He is such a rousing hitter that we may have to switch him to the outfield because of the presence of Pete Runnels at first base. He hit 23 home runs for Durham of the B Carolina League.

Our future rests in the hands of the Batemans, Staubs, Aspromontes and George Williamses. Williams, whom we obtained from the Phillies in the National League expansion draft, could open at second base. He spent most of last season in the armed forces.

The Colt 45s have acquired a dozen players since the last show was fired in 1962. The infield is well fortified with Runnels, Williams or Johnny Temple at second,

Bob Lillis at shortstop and Aspromonte.

Center field will be our top project in training, the battle being between newcomers Mennie Mota, Carroll Hardy and Ellis Burton. Mota was obtained from the San Francisco Giants, Hardy from the Boston Red Sox and Burton, a switch hitter, spent last season with Louisville of the American Association. Plans call for Carl Warwick and Al Spangler to fill the other outfield posts.

Left-handed batting Merritt Rane figures to push young Bateman for the number one catching job with veteran Hal Smith and Jim Campbell also in contention. We added three more experienced pitchers in Don Nottebart, Dick LeMay and Connie Grob, the latter with Louisville last trip.

This gives us more pitching depth and we had one of the most formidable staffs in the league in 1962. I expect continued good work from Dick Farrell, Bob Bruce, Ken Johnson, Jim Golden and George Brunet while the bull pen is in the capable hands of Don McMahon, Jim Umbricht and Russ Kemmerer.

Other candidates are Dick Drott, Hal Woodeshick and Dave Giusti. Recruits who will get a good look are Tom Burgmeier, Jim Dickson, Jesse Hickman, Wally Wolf and Marv Dutt.

The Colt 45s generally were regarded as the surprise team of the National League in 1962, when they bagged 63 games in their first year.

The trick now is to keep going until we develop some home-grown heavy artillery.

Cincinnati, Illinois Meet In Top College Cage Tilt

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer
What happens when an irresistible force meets an immovable object?

A thunderous crash results. This deafening sound will be echoed from Chicago Stadium Saturday night when Cincinnati (14-0), the nation's No. 1 team in college basketball rankings and defensive prowess locks horns with third-ranked Illinois (12-1), second highest scoring aggregation in the country.

A preview of NCAA tourney play. The Bearcats of Cincinnati lead the Missouri Valley Conference as usual and have won the NCAA title the last two years. Illinois is heir apparent to Ohio State as the Big Ten Conference champ.

Cincinnati's vaunted zone defense could cause Illinois trouble, but the Illini may have the answer in Billy Burwell, who has the 11th best field goal percentage with a .581 mark.

On the other hand, Ron Bonham is a match for any Illinois scorer with an average of 21 points a game and a nation-leading foul shooting percentage of .929.

which could result in a drastic change of ratings. Art Heyman keys the Duke offense. Rod Thorn may hold the West Virginia answer to the Blue Devil scoring leader.

Wichita, ranked eighth, clashes with the Air Force. Arizona State (No. 5) and Stanford (No. 9) are idle.

Mid-year exams held Wednesday night's schedule to a trickle of games. Highlighting the meager offering was Army's 61-34 victory over Williams; Florida's 94-88 triumph over Florida State; Oklahoma State's 81-62 decision over Oklahoma, and Denver's 71-58 defeat of the Air Force.

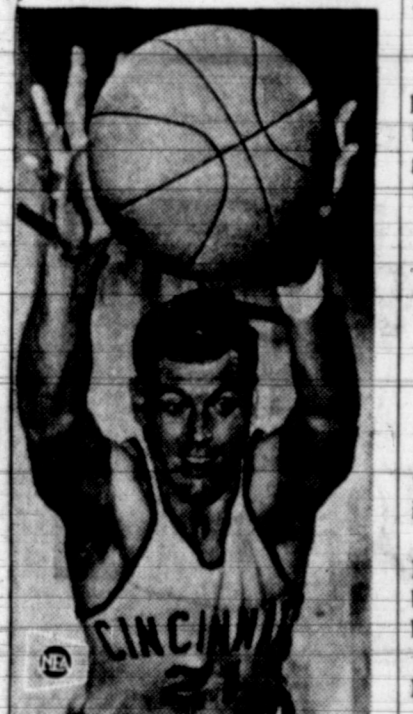

In the other half of the season's most crucial doubleheader, No. 2 Loyola of Chicago meets Santa Clara. The Ramblers of Chicago have won 17 straight in running up cash register figures as the top point-maker of the campaign.

Santa Clara also has excellent credentials, sporting a 9-4 record and a tie for the lead in the West Coast Athletic Conference.

More fireworks are due Saturday when sixth-ranked Georgia Tech shoots for a tie with seventh-ranked Mississippi State in the Southeastern Conference. Tech engages Tennessee in a league battle while State has an out-of-conference game with Memphis State.

Jack Nicklaus, the National Open champion, indicated he is ready to corral a title, too, when he finished one-stroke off the pace at the Crosby — missing a tie by three-putting the final green.

Pampa Boat and Ski Club lost to White Deer Independents, 116-84, in a basketball fracas last night. High for the Boat-Ski cagers was Roy Pool with 40 points followed by Jim Enloe with 22. High point honors for White Deer went to Ronnie Mills with 27 and Allen Kaiser with 26.

Boat-Ski Club, 6-2, for the season, plays the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce team in an 8 p.m. game in the Shamrock High Gym.

Wittenberg Snares No. 1 Spot In UPI

NEW YORK (UPI) — Once-beaten Wittenberg today received the most popular acclaim so far this season when 24 of the 35 members of the United Press International board of coaches named the Ohio Tigers the nation's No. 1 small college basketball team.

Wittenberg, which replaced Westminster of Pennsylvania as the top team a week ago, lost its only game of the season to major school Eastern Kentucky on Dec. 17. Since then, the Tigers have swept over four opponents, including Dayton last week, for a 9-1 overall record.

Grambling of Louisiana, beaten only once in 16 games, made the biggest advance of the week, vaulting from fourth to second past Tennessee State and Westminster, which slipped from second to fifth. The Louisiana Tigers received three first-place votes this week and enough support for second, third and fourth to take a 16-point lead over Tennessee State.

Evansville (11-3) advanced one position to fourth behind Tennessee State (13-3); Westminster (6-3) was fifth; Southeast Missouri, with a perfect 13-0 record, was sixth; Southern Illinois (9-5) was seventh; Prairie View A&M (12-3) was eighth; Hofstra (11-5) was ninth, and Southeastern Oklahoma (12-3) was 10th.

Palmer, Player Lead Lucky Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Bill Casper led the birdie brigade off the tee in the first round of the $50,000 Lucky International golf tournament today.

But before teeing off, Palmer took a good look at the rules.

Last week the king of the golfers was penalized for a rules infraction.

"And this time I want to make sure I know what I'm doing," said Palmer.

He was kidding, of course. Because he already knows enough about the game to have become the greatest money-winner of all time.

Palmer figures to do a comeback from last week. He was in contention for two rounds at Pebble Beach. Then he skied to a big 77 on the third round. To top that off, he took nine on the 18th hole of the final round before finding out that he should have been disqualified for his rule infraction during the third 18 holes.

With points awarded on a basis of 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 for votes from first through 10th, Wittenberg, coached by Eldon Miller, drew 311, only 12 below Westminster's season high; Grambling had 238; Tennessee State 222; Evansville 198, and Westminster 197 among the first five.

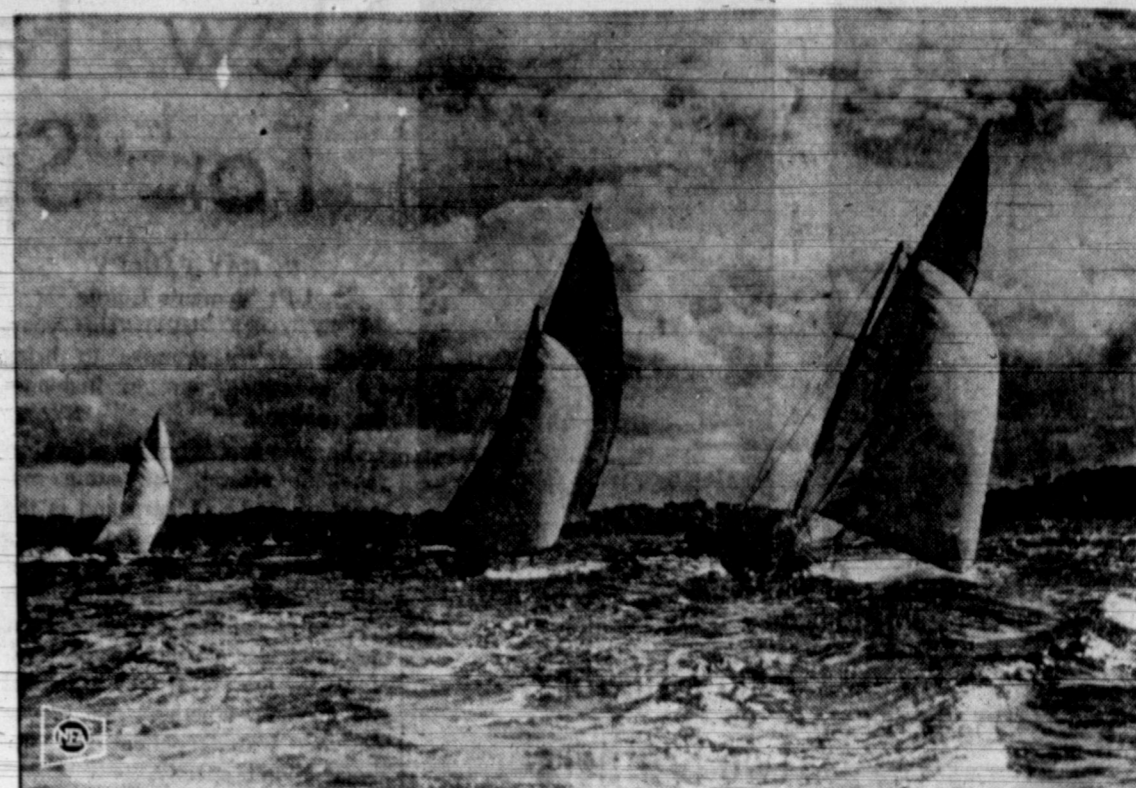

Tennessee State, Evansville and Southeast Missouri each received two first-place votes while Westminster and Augsburg were named No. 1 by one coach each.

Completing the second 10 this week behind Akron were Fresno State, Orange State, Santa Barbara, Lamar Tech, Augsburg, Austin Peay, Northeastern, Gannon and Kentucky Wesleyan.

UPI Ratings

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United Press International small college basketball ratings (with first-place votes and won-lost records in parentheses):

Team	Points
1. Wittenberg (24) (9-1)	311
2. Grambling (3) (15-1)	238
3. Tenn. State (2) (13-3)	222
4. Evansville (2) (11-3)	198
5. Westminster (1) (6-3)	197
6. S.E. Missouri (2) (13-0)	175
7. Southern Illinois (9-5)	132
8. Prairie View A&M (12-3)	128
9. Hofstra (11-5)	52
10. S.E. Oklahoma (12-3)	47
Second 10 — 11. Akron 38; 12. Fresno State 27; 13 (tie), Orange State and Santa Barbara 17 each; 15. Lamar Tech 16; 16. Augsburg (1); 13; 17 (tie), Austin Peay and Northeastern (Okla.) State 9 each; 19 (tie), Gannon and Kentucky Wesleyan 8 each.
Others (3 or more points) — Ball State and Pacific Lutheran, 7 each; Chapman and Stevens Point, 6 each; Jacksonville and Puget Sound, 4 each; Northern Michigan, 3.

SAILING OUT OF SYDNEY—Three entrants in Australia's biggest annual yacht race, 680 miles from Sydney to Hobart, Tasmania, cut dashing figures in waters of Tasmanian Sea.

Brash Cassius Clay, Powell Fight In Pittsburg Tonight

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Charlie Powell, who forsook all other athletic endeavors to make one final push in the boxing game, gets his big chance tonight when he meets third-ranked heavyweight Cassius Clay.

A record local indoor crowd is expected to view the fight, scheduled for 10 rounds or less.

Both Clay and Powell predict it will be for less.

The 29-year-old Powell, who has had only 32 fights since turning pro nine years ago, sees a victory in five. Clay has forecast a three-round kayo.

Powell, who has seen duty as a professional football and baseball player, has declared himself to be in the "greatest shape of my career." He prepared for the fight by sparring 78 rounds during a two-month training period.

Clay, who turned pro after winning the Olympic title in 1960, is undefeated in 16 fights, including 13 kayoes. He paraded through 10 fights last year and won seven of those by knockouts.

Powell, conversely, fought only three times in 1962. He stopped Jerry Gaines in two rounds, was counted out in three against John Riggins and decided Dave Furch in 10. His overall record is 23-6-3. He has won 17 by knockouts and has been knocked out five times.

Clay's biggest victory to date has been a four-round kayo of Archie Moore. Powell's most noteworthy win came when he flattened Nino Valdez in eight rounds in 1958. Valdez at that time was the No. 2 ranked contender.

Lakers Edge Detroit; Celtics Lose In NBA

By United Press International

Then again, if the Liston-Patterson rematch flops they can always throw in Woody Sauldsberry against Lee Shaffer.

Sauldsberry, who at 6-foot-7, 235 pounds isn't the world's meekest person, decked the smallest — 6-foot-7 and only 220 pounds — Shaffer with one punch Wednesday night in the first period of what almost resembled a basketball game between the Chicago Zephyrs and Syracuse Nationals.

Not only did Chicago's Sauldsberry and the Nats' Shaffer engage in other activities besides shooting and rebounding, but Syracuse's Al Bianchi was ejected for fighting with Chicago's 6-foot-11 Walt Bellamy. And Syracuse coach Alex Hannun was bounced for protesting Bianchi's bouncing.

Oh yes, the Zephyrs won the game — their first from Syracuse in six tries this season—104-94.

The Los Angeles Lakers hung on to edge Detroit, 123-115, for their seventh straight win over the Pistons, and the Cincinnati Royals rolled up a record-breaking 49 points in the third quarter to whip the Boston Celtics, 138-133.

Erik Carlsson Rally Favorite

MONTE CARLO (UPI) — The winner of the 32nd Monte Carlo rally will be decided today after drivers of the 98 cars remaining in the rally have competed in the final test—the Monte Carlo racing circuit speed trials.

A total of 38 cups ranging in importance from the overall rally winner downwards are at stake.

Favorites to take the overall prize for the second year running was Erik Carlsson, the Swedish driver, in his little Saab.

Favored for the women's cup are the Swedish women's team of Solvia Osterberg and Ingallil Ednering in their Volvo.

But there could be some surprises from the small but high-powered English Minicoopers. The final points are decided on a calculation involving the average speed over the circuit in relation to the car's engine size.

"DODGE CUT OUR MAINTENANCE COSTS 35%"

After trying many other makes we settled on Dodge D500's with 361 cu. in. V8 engines. We now own six of them that travel over 475,000 miles a year. They have cut our maintenance costs 35%, average 108,000 miles before a valve grind, 160,000 miles before a major overhaul. Our drivers like them, too, for their easy handling, comfortable cabs, and fast acceleration!

Kenneth J. Schaper, Schaper Poultry Co., Pana, Illinois Dodge trucks don't stop their economizing with operating and maintenance savings. They'll save you money on price as well. For Dodge, America's only Job-Rated trucks, are priced lower than most of the competition, right in line with the rest. Even after having more than 50 significant improvements made in them lately, their prices haven't changed. Talk over your truck problems with your Dodge dealer. Ask him about Dodge Truck's liberal new finance plan! He has lots of good news for you!

Pampa Owns Two-Game Edge In District 3-AAAA Race

At the mid-way point in the District 3-AAAA cage race, Pampa's Harvesters enjoy a two-game lead and a perfect record in conference play.

Pampa, in winning 21 of 22 games this year including the seven district wins, has proved the district's coaches right in their pre-season poll that revealed Pampa as the team to beat.

Amarillo and Monterey are tied with 5-2 district marks for the number two spot in the conference standings. Both teams are slated to play tonight in a double header in Lubbock's Coliseum with the Sandies playing Lubbock and the Plainsmen going after the second win at the expense of the Tascosa Rebels.

Pampa, riding a 17-game winning streak, swings into action tomorrow night as the Harvesters host Palo Duro, 1-6 in district play. Pampa routed Palo Duro, 70-42, in the first district fracas for both teams.

The battle of the Bulldogs is also scheduled for tomorrow night as Plainview hosts Borger. Plainview, 4-3 in district, won its first four games and has lost its last three, including Tuesday night's trouncing, 81-55, at the hands of Pampa. Plainview won the first Bulldog fracas, 69-45.

The Harvesters are the highest scoring team in the district this year, averaging 67.5 points a game while giving up 54.8 for a 12.7 span between their score and the opponents' score. Only Monterey has given up fewer points, 48.3, but the Plainsmen have scored only 33.8 points a contest.

Pampa's guard combination, Wayne Kreis and Keith Swanson, gives the Harvesters two of the top four scorers in district as well as the leading rebounder, Randy Matson.

Kreis, with a 20.1 average for the seven games, is the only player in Dist. 3-AAAA carrying a 20-point average this season. Swanson, scoring a season high of 28 points against Plainview Tuesday night, has moved from sixth to fourth with his 16.4 average.

The tallest man in the league, Ronnie Peret, 6-8, Plainview sophomore, is the third leading scorer with 16.9 and Amarillo's Leslie Lovett is in the No. two spot with 17.0.

Two other Pampa starters, Matson and Gary Sikes, are carrying averages in double figures.

Indications are that many of the games will be postponed Saturday because the country is in the grip of snow and ice.

The association, therefore, announced that five of Britain's most famous soccer experts will decide the results of the postponed games on paper. The panelists will deliberate for two hours and 45 minutes and then announce the result they have computed over the BBC radio and television service.

The panelists will decide what would have been the results had the matches been played using their own knowledge of the sport and basing their decisions on such considerations as current form, past performances and other relevant matters. Their decision will be final.

Soccer Games To Be Decided On Paper?

LONDON (UPI) — The results of more than 30 matches in the British Soccer League next Saturday may be decided on paper instead of the field.

The madly-sporting method of determining the scores of games that aren't played was announced today by the Pools Promoters' Association. The association must have the scores to determine winners of the popular betting pools based on results in the soccer league.

International League Wants Junior Series

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The International League was willing to negotiate with the Pacific Coast League today over a Junior World Series, although league directors refused to kill its additional playoff round.

A three-man committee was appointed at a directors meeting here Wednesday night to talk to a similar group from the PCL, even though PCL President Dewey Soriano said last week his league "wouldn't do business under the IL's playoff system."

IL President Tommy Richardson was firm on his league's method of deciding a junior series representative.

"We have this, but the PCL would like to play our own championship. We've always had great success attendance-wise in our playoffs and we just feel we'd like to continue with it," he said.

The league said it would schedule a playoff between the second place finishers in each division, the survivor meeting the winner in a playoff between division champions.

Despite the snag, Richardson said the committee "will go to work on it right away."

George Sisler Jr. of Rochester, was named chairman of the committee, with Robert Maduro of Jacksonville and Max Schumacher of Indianapolis, the other members.

Al Jackson, left-handed pitcher whose 8-20 record was misleading in 1962, became the sixth member of the New York Mets to sign. Jackson pitched 12 complete games and impressed National League rivals as a pitcher with a bright future.

Pete Ward, Al Weis and Sam Esposito. Weis, who appears to be a leading candidate to replace the traded Luis Aparicio at shortstop, stole 21 bases and batted .296 for the Indianapolis Indians in 1962.

Pitcher Cal Koonce, 16-10 as a rookie last season, agreed to a contract with the Chicago Cubs, who now have 32 players under contract. Koonce included a one-hitter among his victories last season and three of his defeats were by 2-1 scores.

Infielder Marv Breeding, obtained in a trade with the Baltimore Orioles, signed with the Washington Senators along with infielder John Kennedy, rookie outfielder Lou Pinella and pitcher Roy Heiser. The Senators now have 11 players under contract.

Veteran shortstop Woodie Held and infielders Mike De La Hoz and Max Alvis agreed to terms with the Cleveland Indians. Held batted .249 with 19 homers and 58 runs batted in last season and may face strong opposition for a regular job from Tony Martinez, up from Jacksonville of the International League.

De La Hoz appeared in only 12 games for the Indians last season while Alvis, former University of Texas football player, batted .319 for Salt Lake City.

Pascual Gets Raise; Other Players Inked

By United Press International

Camilo Pascual believes he has several more 20-victory seasons in his arm—and the Minnesota Twins apparently think so too.

Once known as a very stubborn fellow around contract time, the 29-year-old right-hander from Havana, Cuba, signed a $35,000 pact with the Twins Wednesday. Both club officials and Pascual said it was "a nice raise" and Camilo said he's confident he'll be as effective in 1963 as he was in 1962.

The Twins may very well be an American League pennant contender if he is because Pascual posted a 20-11 record and a 3.31 earned run average last season. He had 206 strikeouts, 18 complete games and five shutouts. The Twins also signed Dick Stigman, who had a 12-5 record, pitcher Gary Dotter and outfielder Joe Nosske.

Patterson Steps Into Keg Lead

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—A balding kegler who never had much luck in the national championships and a seven-time champion grandmother today dominated the $100,000 World Series of bowling.

Pat Patterson, 36, St. Louis bowling proprietor, stepped into the lead of men's competition on Wednesday night from sixth place. Robbie Robinson of Wilmington, Del., was second followed by a host of St. Louis men.

Marion Ladewig, a 48-year-old kegler from Grand Rapids, Mich., also jumped from sixth place Wednesday night to the lead of women. The calm, seven-time champion ousted Donna Zimmerman of Akron, Ohio, who dropped to second. Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia was third.

Afternoon and night sessions were slated.

SKILL TO SPARE by Dick Weber

25-The 3-5-9
The best way to make the common 3-5-9 spare is to roll through the cluster from the strike position into the 3-5 pocket.

The ball should carry through into the 9 pin. Even if you're a bit off, you still have a good chance of taking all three pins because either the 3 or 5 can fly back and take the 9. But aim right into the pocket, just as the Sparemaker indicates.

A thin Brooklyn side hit usually causes this trouble for the right-handed bowler.

BALL should carry through.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living, the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings.

But Not Good Enough

If you talk to some political analysts, they will tell you that one of the big things about the American electorate today is that it is so much better educated than used to be the case a few decades back.

Everyone knows that a bigger share of U. S. young people finish high school and go on to college—and that this constitutes a rising trend.

Yet these acknowledged advances can be misleading. For there are still 58 million Americans who have not finished high school.

A worse statistic, some 11 million persons 18 or over are "functional" illiterates who can't really learn marketable skills because they can't read and write as well as average fifth graders.

Embarrassment Of Riches -

The Cuban Communists have explained the serious shortage of shoes and clothing the country is suffering from with an example of doublethink that rivals anything the Russians have ever come up with.

They say that higher incomes are "extraordinarily increasing" the demand for these items.

Departing 'Equalizer'

That old dark horse, the mudder who outstrips the field on a rainy day at the racetrack, may be headed for pasture.

An all-weather, nonslip synthetic surfacing material has been developed and will be tried out for the first time on a full-size track near Pittsburgh.

New Words From Sky-

If it has been of no other benefit the usually severe winter in Britain has enriched the language. So reports a shivering correspondent writing for the Christian Science Monitor.

One word is "frizzle" — a form of freezing rain. It falls as drizzle, but distastefully turns to frozen frizzle on the ground.

Down South

By THURMAN SENSING Nashville, Tenn.

THE SCANDAL OF RANSOM

Being a humanitarian people, Americans rejoice that the Cuban prisoners who languished in Cuba's communist jails now are in this land of freedom.

Charles Cotesworth Pinckney, the early patriot who helped establish this country, laid down a sound rule that was respected until John F. Kennedy took office.

Therefore this country enters the New Year with a shameful deed on the public record of the national administration. Mr. Kennedy attempted to turn the ransom episode to his own political advantage.

It is not by chance that the ransom deal was carried through before Congress convened. One can be sure that Congress never would have voted money to ransom the prisoners.

The whole ugly story of ransoming the prisoners is yet to be known. The administration has been reluctant to tell all the details of negotiation, which was carried on in secrecy.

There is no telling how much or what kind of pressure the white House and other agencies of the New Frontier put on the pharmaceutical companies, railroads and other industries for gifts, and up to individuals for the three million dollars raised in one day.

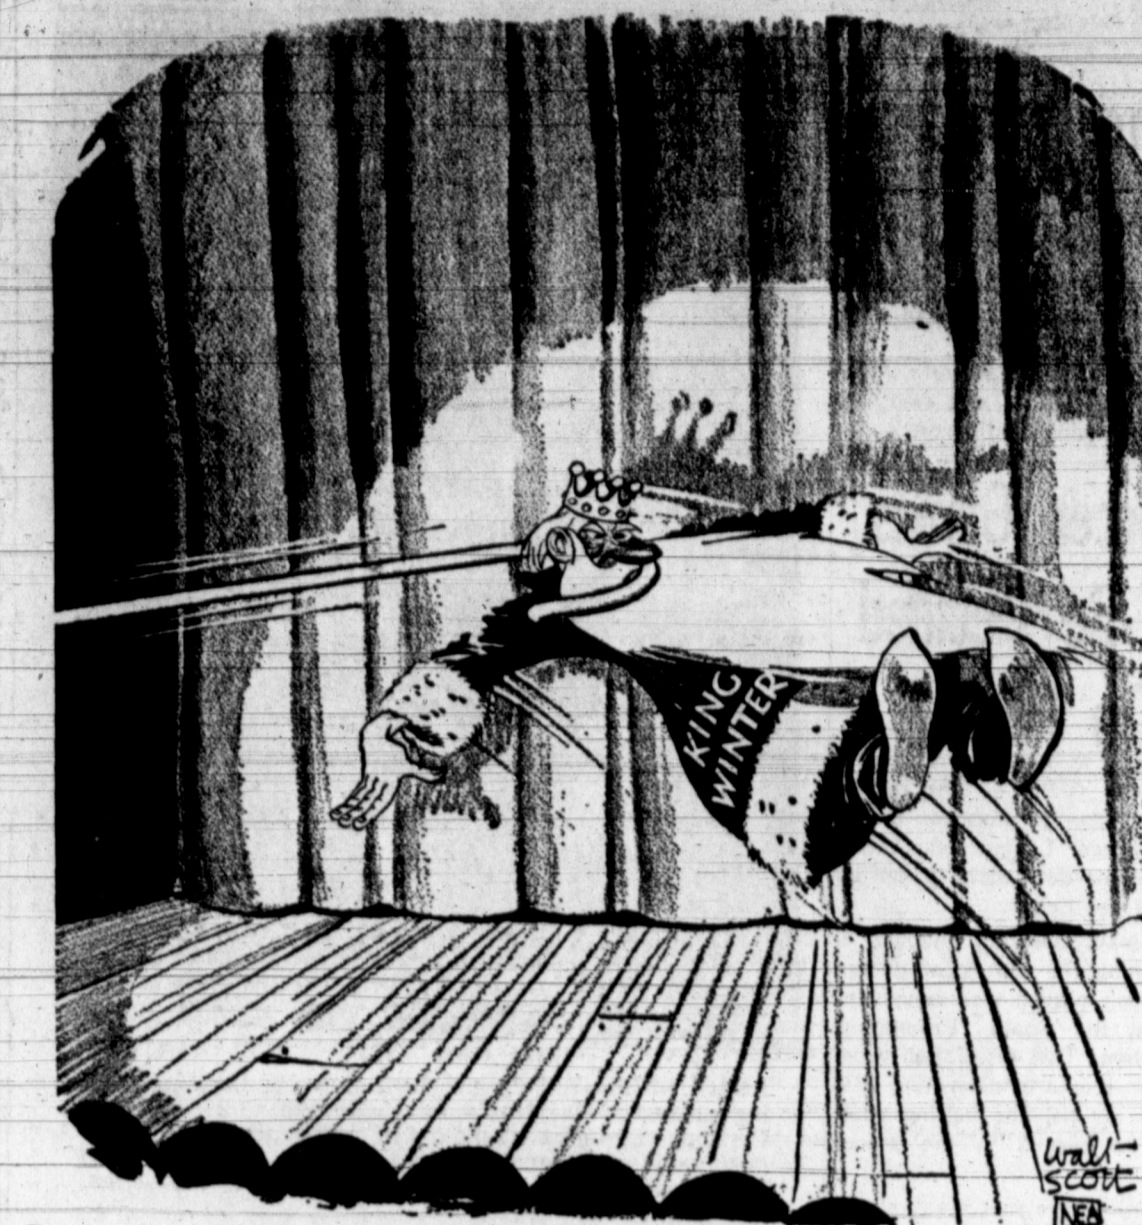

Everyone who has ever read a newspaper account of a kidnapping knows that law enforcement agencies argue against payment of ransom to criminals. What is true in the case of individuals also holds true in the case of nations.

Let us not be deluded by the pageantry of the New Frontier—it has been a tragic recent period for good patriots. The climate of honor in the administration is sickening to patriots.

If that were not bad enough, the President also gave a pardon to John (Jake) Barber Factor, a former jailbird associated with the Al Capone era in Chicago's underworld.

The only people for whom the New Frontier is unwilling to do a favor are the overwhelming mass of American citizens who are law-abiding, anti-communist and dedicated to the traditional liberties of this republic.

Pull Up A Chair

Northern tourists who go to Florida to escape the cold icy winter weather are merely following the example of the prehistoric animals, such as mammoths, sloths, camels and others, who moved to the warm peninsula when the Ice Age covered Canada and the northern part of the United States.

The senior citizens will be encouraged to put their extensive knowledge and talents to work organizing and running hundreds of "community-wide service" projects throughout the country.

They are to be enrolled in service programs ranging from guiding and counseling youths in urban slum areas and prisons to educational and social projects for migratory workers, Indians, and the mentally retarded.

To be established as an independent agency, the National Service Corps would enlist from 3,000 to 5,000 volunteers during the first three years. Service in the Corps would be for one year at least and open to any person over 18.

Applicants, including retirees, will be selected on the basis of their interests, experience, education, and personal qualities. While there will be no pay, Corps members are to receive a minimum allowance (probably $6 per day) to cover living expenses.

The President's unannounced decision to give retired persons a major role in the new domestic service corps springs from proposals by his brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, and Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Anthony Celebrezze.

BUILDING THE IMAGE — The Attorney General, whose growing influence in the administration is cropping up in all major government programs, was personally asked by his brother, the President, to consider with Celebrezze "the feasibility of a national service corps based on the techniques and motivations of the Peace Corps, but directed to the domestic."

MOB RULE

Every Democracy Has Perished in Violence

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

Early in January, 1963, it seems logical to repeat something I've mentioned many times during 1962. Let's never forget that democracy means majority rule, that majority rule means mob rule and that every democracy in the history of the world has perished in flames and violence.

Unfortunately, a great many people who oppose mob rule are less than sure of their ground. Time after time you'll hear them say, "The only way we can win is to combine our strength so as to achieve a majority."

The American Revolution was not won by a majority. It was not created by a majority. The vast majority of the population was in favor of maintaining the status quo.

In recent weeks I have noticed a growing awareness on the part of space scientists of the fact that space will not be conquered by the masses. Time after time I've heard scientists reiterate understanding of the fact that while 50 thousand workers may be involved in the manufacture of a space craft, the entire project may fall apart at the seams or become a howling success because of the ability and energy of just one, solitary human being.

Individuals spelled the difference between success and failure and the politician knows it, despite his efforts to pretend he does not—and that's the reason he works so hard to find ways and means to keep those few individuals tied to his political apron strings.

Mobs may be ruled by emotionalism. Individuals are motivated by logic. A single individual may rule and exert absolute control over a mob but a mob is unable to control individuals. Once a mob succumbs to the control of an individual tyrant, the tyrant must continually seek new areas of emotionalism with which to control the mob.

1963 probably will be a difficult year for men and women who have learned to think as individual human beings. Pressure from the socialist conglomerate will increase with every passing week. Despite this more and more persons who actually believe in freedom will do more and more to free their own freedom and the freedom of their family.

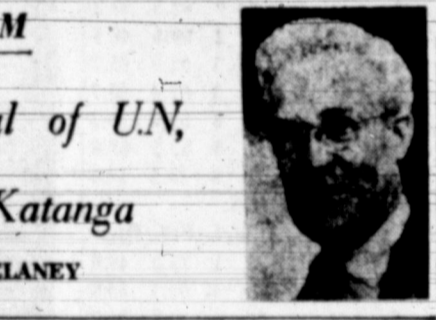

There will be growing signs of intellectual maturity among many who believe in the private enterprise ideal. They will stop being apologists for their own existence and for their beliefs. Just the other day I received a letter from a man in Texas who told me that a year ago he found himself overcome with some kind of fear which prevented him from making unqualified comment to columnists who wrote what he wanted to read.

The bright and shining light of freedom which bathes each new instant with warmth and vigor cannot be abated by a majority because only individuals are aware of it. Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

Dodd Critical of U.N. Actions in Katanga

By ED DELANEY

The "unspeakable tragedy" of the United Nations action in the Congo, is the term used by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D. Conn.) in his demand for a thorough investigation of the aggressive war the U.N. has launched against Katanga and its president, Moise Tshombe. This unspeakable tragedy is directly due to the support in that war of aggression, which is being given by the Kennedy administration.

While the White House spokesmen may endeavor to absolve the administration of complicity in that Congo crime, the world knows there would be no U.N. military forces there if the United States immediately ended its financial and military aid for the operations.

The war of aggression initiated by the U.N. is intended to crush Katanga and compel the unconditional surrender of Tshombe to the government of the U.N. puppet, Cyrille Adoula, prime minister of a bankrupt and communist riddled Congo. The attack on Katanga, as Sen. Dodd rightly asserts, "is a flagrant, inhuman act of aggression by the new imperialism which appears to be raising its head in the Congo."

NOTE: Just as with the Peace Corps, the domestic volunteers would only go to communities where local authorities sought their aid. They would be trained in local schools and agencies.

THE CRITICAL NEEDS — According to a cabinet-level report the White House will publish soon, there are 32 million people in the U. S. living at a lower level than this country is capable of providing its citizens. The report states that, "Many of these persons are handicapped by poor health, diets and housing, as well as inadequate education." Of this group, migratory workers are described as "our most neglected citizens. Our 500,000 domestic migratory workers and their 1,500,000 dependents have been excluded from virtually all the benefits enjoyed by most Americans. The children generally are retarded 2 to 5 years behind non-transient rural families."

Katanga and Back" by Conor Cruise O'Brien, former director of U.N. in Katanga, he accuses the U.N. of falsifying its report on the military extent and aims of its operations in Katanga.

The military operations of any U.N. forces, let us never forget, are under the overall direction of the Soviet military official of the U.N. That has been the rule since the inception of the U.N. An agreement is alleged to have been made by Alge Hiss and approved by Harry Truman, that the director of the U.N. armed forces would always be a Russian. We saw the result of that during the Korean war. Secret orders from the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington to Gen. MacArthur, were channeled through the U.N. and known to the communists in North Korea before they reached MacArthur.

It has been reliably asserted that pressure was exerted by the Eisenhower administration to force Belgium out of the Congo and permit the establishment of what is erroneously referred to as an independent Congo state. It has been an area of bloody conflict and tribal warfare ever since. But the politicians in Washington counted on support of the Afro-American vote if they made the gesture of creating a so-called independent state in the Congo. It has been a mendicant and a barnacle on other nations ever since.

Katanga, the copper-rich part of the former Belgian colony, is coveted by the Congo. So with United States financed and equipped forces of the U.N., Katanga would be destroyed unless Tshombe submits to merging the two areas into one — with a typical communist-coalition government. President Kennedy grandiloquently assured the Cuban freedom fighters that he supported their aims for overthrowing the communist regime in Cuba. But he gives aid to communism — collaboration factors in Africa. Before American prestige is irreparably destroyed, we should cut loose from the U.N. and formulate a foreign policy that is for the interest of the United States.

THA President Tells Of Battle Against Heart Disease In Texas

Thirteen scientific investigators in Texas have been awarded grants totaling more than $94,000 by the Texas Heart Association to support research studies into the baffling problems of disease of the heart and blood vessels, it was announced today by Stephen W. Wilson, M.D., Fort Worth, President of the Texas Heart Association. The research work is to be conducted in five medical institutions during the twelve month period ending June 30. Three additional projects totalling over $16,000 were also approved for support but sufficient funds were not available to cover all approved projects.

Dr. R. M. Bellamy of Pampa, chairman of the Gray County Heart Association said today Dr. Wilson's statement should help to enlighten the public concerning the use of money donated to the Heart Association.

"The continued support of this admirable work by the citizens of our community," Dr. Bellamy said, "will be in proportion to their knowledge and appreciation of the work being done."

According to the THA president, local units of the Texas Heart Association have also allocated over $120,000.00 for research at the community level this year.

In addition to its own research program, Dr. Wilson pointed out that the Texas Heart Association and its affiliated units in the state contributed $254,224.88 to the American Heart Association this year, of which one-half is committed by policy to the national research program. The national organization has allocated $4,100,000.00 for grants-in-aid and fellowships in 37 states, the District of Columbia, and five foreign countries during the same period.

Fifteen Texas researchers have received grants-in-aid and fellowships under the national program which has now channeled more than 75 million dollars into the support of scientific research since it became a national voluntary health agency in 1945.

In announcing the awards, Dr. Wilson remarked that heart and blood vessel diseases claim more American lives during a single year than were lost in all the wars fought throughout the nation's history. He also pointed out that all Heart Association financial support for research is made possible by public contributions to the annual Heart Fund campaign held in February and contributions to the Association's Memorial Gift Fund throughout the year.

Underscoring the urgency of research into causes and means of preventing heart and blood vessel diseases, Dr. Wilson noted that the lives of 920,000 Americans were snuffed out by these diseases in 1950 — including 38,022 such deaths in Texas. Records indicate that an estimated 608,663 Texans are afflicted with some form of disease of the cardiovascular system.

"The 920,000 figure is considerably higher," he emphasized, "than the 602,000 American lives lost during all wars in which our country has fought — from the American Revolution through the most recent conflict in Korea."

"Diseases of the heart and blood vessels are responsible for more than one of every two American deaths each year," Dr. Wilson commented. "They afflict more

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chances are that for some time to come the market will be a much more selective affair than it has been for the past 2½ months, says Walter Mintz of Shearson-Hamill & Co.

He thinks excellent values can still be found among some of the finance, rail, petroleum, armament and utility stocks as well as a considerable number of special situations in other industries.

On the other hand, Mintz said he sees little reason for expecting much intermediate-term appreciation for some of the automobile, cement, flat glass, gas transmission, drug, bowling and transistor stocks.

Richard T. Leahy of J. W. Snarks & Co. says the near-term climate of the stock market continues to indicate the possibility of higher share prices. "We have the utmost confidence that the list will continue its recent encouraging action."

Bache & Co. tells traders to watch the interaction between the Dow-Jones industrials and rails in the next few sessions noting that they have been moving in opposite directions for three sessions. It says it has seen a number of instances in recent years where non-confirmation by the rails of new highs industrials occurred just prior to important technical reactions.

Continue to give the market rope on the upside as long as this uptrend remains intact, says James Dines & Co. Inc. Never fight a trend, stay with the technically strong issues carefully protected by properly placed stops.

For 25 Cents, You Can Learn How NOT To Contribute To The Accidental Death Or Injury of Your Children

By PATRICIA McCORMACK United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—WANTED, 25 cents from loving parents who, through some fault of their own, might contribute to the accidental injury or death of the offspring in the year ahead.

The pennies buy an accident handbook from the Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston, Mass.

The booklet contains instructions for brewing an accident vaccine—strictly on a do-it-yourself basis.

The directions—do's and don'ts—are based on unique research into the causes of accidents killing and maiming an estimated 17 million youngsters in a typical year.

The read-and-learn handbook from the world famed children's medical center tells you how to avoid having a child poke a pencil in his eye or setting himself off the house afire.

The handbook also contains life-saving first aid information to help parents save the limb and the life when accidents occur.

The simple handbook, with string attached, cites the golden rules for accident prevention. The string is attached so you can hang the life-saving information on your phone—a place where it's quickly and easily available.

A few of the golden rules for accident prevention:

—Try to be aware of potential dangers at all times. Be a worrywart. Include safety measures as part of your household planning. Be conscious of the little things around you that could lead to trouble: The glass bottles, the electrical outlet. Imagine how you could hurt yourself if such things begin to go wrong. Everyday troubles set the stage for accidents. Many occur when members of the family are worried or ill.

—Protect your child. But don't overprotect him to the extent

Dr. Roger J. Meyer, leader of the research team producing the booklet, says the only possible vaccination for the accident disease—and he calls it a DISEASE—is parental education.

"Parents need to understand that accidents don't just happen," he said.

"They have causes and, if you are aware of the causes, you can do much to prevent them."
