SAYS FAIR BILL WOULD APPLY TO ENTIRE STATE

AUSTIN, April 2 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred today vetoed a bill remitting certain ad valorem taxes to Harris county for flood control purposes and announced he would veto all similar local measures.

The action was in line with his reiterated declarations that the state's financial condition would not permit remissions to individual counties unless taxes were levied to make up the difference in revenue.

The governor said he planned to veto a bill remitting taxes to Foard, Cottle, Hardeman and Wilbarger counties for two years to aid the Pease river flood control district although it had not reached his desk.

The Harris county bill would have remitted one-half of the state ad valorem taxes collected in that county for 10 years.

The governor said his veto message on the Harris county bill, stating it was "very unpleasant duty" to take that action, was being drafted.

With reference to the Pease river project, he commented "that is from my own district, and while I hate to veto the bill I must."

I will veto all local tax remission bills," he said.

A bill which would remit ad valorem taxes to all counties, the governor said, was "a whole lot fairer," but he had reached no final conclusions as to it.

That bill has been passed by the House of Representatives and has been set for special consideration in the Senate next Wednesday.

"I think it is more justifiable to remit taxes to all than to pick out a few counties," he said.

In his formal message, Governor Allred said he had previously told the legislature he would veto such bills, that more than 40 counties had had tax remissions and that it was a discrimination against other counties. He noted other remission measures were pending and would be proposed.

"We have a tremendous deficit in general revenue," he said "to give away these ad valorem taxes will add to that deficit. The relief bonds voted by the people are payable out of the first tax moneys collected for the general fund. The credit of the state will be further seriously impaired."

"To sign this bill will call for the passage and signing of other similar bills. There is no end to it."

The governor said he did not question the desirability of flood control work but "the fact remains we are not able to do it" in the manner proposed.

Cites Difference. He said there was a vast distinction between the remission to Galveston county, made long years ago and renewed from time to time, for that remission was to take protective measures against a repetition of the disastrous tidal wave near the start of the century.

The present remission, he said, was to build seawall, local citizens were "bearing more than their proportionate share of the burden," and, in addition, "Galveston county and others enjoying tax remissions at the time of the adoption of the homestead amendment to the constitution" were not entitled to the benefit of the exemption.

MEL DAVIS TO SPEAK AT JAYCEE PROGRAM

Mel Davis, Gray county rancher and oil man, will be the first in a series of speakers on agriculture and stock-raising to be heard during April at regular Tuesday meetings of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. It was announced today by Clarence Kennedy, general program chairman of the Jaycees.

Mr. Davis will be the speaker at the first April meeting to be held in the Hotel Schneider next Tuesday noon.

He will discuss work being done by the agricultural committee of the Board of City Development and outline a proposal to further the small-farm population of Gray county and the Panhandle.

ONE KILLED, FOUR HURT IN WICHITA ACCIDENT

WICHITA FALLS, April 2 (AP)—Wichita Falls' second automobile fatality for 1937 was recorded here early Friday with the death of Lloyd Prechel, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Prechel.

Four other Wichita Falls youths were injured, two of them seriously, in the accident. The sedan in which they were riding overturned in the city late Thursday night.

Garnet Ford and Edwin Crocker remained in a serious condition at a hospital here.

Local Trustee Election Will Be Tomorrow

Two trustees to serve on the board of the Pampa Independent school district for three-year terms will be elected by voters within the district tomorrow. Only two names will appear on the ballot—J. M. Daugherty and C. T. Hunkapillar, incumbents. Voters may exercise their write-in privileges.

The election will be conducted in the high school building with Lee Ledrick as election judge and J. S. Wynne and Harvey Anderson as clerks. The polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Qualified voters were urged to exercise their rights and vote in the election. There was more talk than usual before a school election about downtown Pampa today.

Lake Will Be Subject Of Mass Meeting On Tuesday

At a conference yesterday, attended by C. H. Walker, Ivy E. Duncan, James Lyons, and Garnet Reeves, it was decided to call a meeting of Gray county citizens interested in a lake for Gray county. The gathering will be at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the chamber of commerce rooms in the city hall here.

Invitations to every community to send delegations will be mailed by Mr. Walker, at the request of the committee.

Judge Duncan will report on a conference last week with the Texas State Park board in Austin. He will explain their interest in a park and lake for Gray county.

Reports of findings of a committee which visited many sites in the county will also be made at the meeting which will be open to the public.

Reiterating his claim of innocence to the last and with a smile on his face, Adams declared he was ready to go.

He walked unassisted from the jail door up the steps to the scaffold, shook hands with Sheriff Dewey Miles and three deputies, and told them goodbye.

The American Legion, open-air arena, converted into a death chamber for the occasion, was crowded to capacity with about 100 persons. More than that number pressed closely around the outside of the enclosure, stood on the roofs of buildings and climbed telephone poles.

Four reprieves had been granted Adams, one by Gov. Guy B. Park which prevented the execution on the first scheduled date, Dec. 18, 1936, and three by Lloyd C. Stark, who became governor in January. The last postponement was granted because Stark did not wish the execution to take place on Good Friday.

Green was slain March 28, 1934, when he surprised three men robbing a gasoline service station. Arrested in Paragould, Ark., March 31, 1934, Adams was convicted by a circuit court jury in Dunklin county in July, 1934. The state supreme court upheld the death sentence last Nov. 17.

WHO WOULD LIKE TO BE 2ND FAVE COTTON?

FORT WORTH, April 2 (AP)—The Cinderella-like career of Miss Faye Cotton of Borger was recalled Friday as a search for a successor to the title of Texas Sweetheart No. 1 was begun by the Fort Worth frontier fiesta.

Miss Cotton, lifted last year from behind a restaurant cash register to a featured role in the Casa Manana revue, is now in motion pictures.

Billy Rose, Frontier Fiesta director general who is sponsoring the search for the Texas Sweetheart No. 1 for 1937, announced that the final contest will be held in Fort Worth on Saturday, May 22.

Invitations to each of 100 Texas cities to select an entrant in the final contest have been sent out.

BURNS ARE FATAL TO SKELLYTOWN CHILD

Burns received a week ago when her dress caught fire from a heater at home caused the death this morning of Beverly Anne McBee, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McBee of Skellytown.

The funeral is to be conducted at Skellytown Holiness church Sunday at 3 p. m. by the Rev. H. B. Bates. Burial will be made in White Deer cemetery by the Pampa Mortuary.

Surviving the little girl, in addition to her parents, are three sisters, Katherine, Charlotte, and LuWayne.

ESCAPE ON MULE HUNTSVILLE, April 2 (AP)—Tom Corbett, convict from Quitman, galloped to freedom yesterday on a mule sneaked from the Retrieve state prison farm barn. Corbett, serving 12 years from Collingsworth county for burglary, was a state-approved trusty employed in the barns, according to H. W. Miller, Retrieve captain.

LOYALISTS ACT TO CUT REBEL ARMY IN TWO

GOVERNMENT COLUMNS HAVE ADVANTAGE ON 3 FRONTS

MADRID, April 2 (AP)—Mechanized government columns rumbled toward strategic, insurgent-held Cordoba today in a renewed threat to isolate southern insurgents from their field base.

Two lifelines—the Cordoba-Badajoz railroad and the highway between the front and Cordoba City—were the objective of the fresh government assault. The city is headquarters for insurgent Gen. Gonzalo Queipo de Liano's southern force.

Opposing armies battled on four fronts. Major action was concentrated along the southern lines while additional forces engaged in spirited conflict in the far north. The fighting summarized:

North of Cordoba—the town of Ovejo was the focus of the southern battle zone. Government militia aimed their attacks at the town, only 16 miles north of insurgent Cordoba and five miles northeast of the insurgent-held highway. Government planes, reconnoitering ahead of ground troops, bombed Cordoba.

In the far-north: Government commanders admitted hard-driving insurgents had penetrated their lines to the town of Gorbica but contended Basque supporters halted the advance a dozen miles from the Biscayan coast.

In Burgos province: In fresh spurts, government troops renewed efforts to break through the insurgent ring protecting Burgos, capital of Gen. Francisco Franco's government. Government militia, firing from behind improvised breastworks near Sargentes, combined with artillery and aviation. No definite progress was reported.

REBELS CLAIM VICTORY OVER BASQUE ARMY

In the Guadalupe area: War action was confined to artillery duels as rain suspended most activities in the sector northeast of Madrid.

The Febus (Spanish) news agency said insurgents captured a line of communication between Ovejo and the town of a rise during a midnight truce parley in no man's land.

While government leaders discussed the battle situation, insurgent demolition squads cleared paths through government barbed wire entanglements in the area, reported. The peace parley suddenly concluded.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, said today there was "a distinct probability" that the Senate would avoid an immediate vote on the uncomfortably hot sit-down strike issue. After prolonged conferences with other administration chiefs he indicated that a message condemning sit-downs, submitted yesterday by Senator Byrnes D. S. C., might be sent to committee for "thorough study."

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Settlement of the soft coal strike this afternoon, before the end of its first day, was predicted today in usually well-informed quarters.

JAEEN, Spain, April 2 (AP)—Seventy persons were killed and many more wounded during what government sources described as a "terrific bombing" by insurgent planes last night. Many of the victims, the war minister declared, were women and children residing in the provincial capital east of the Cordoba battle sector.

ABILENE, April 2 (AP)—Twenty-two fuel cars of a Texas & Pacific Eastbound freight train were derailed and fired today three and one-half miles west of Abilene. All members of the train crew were accounted for and it was believed no one was injured. The loss was estimated at $50,000.

VITORIA, Spain, April 2 (AP)—An insurgent army led by Gen. Emilio Mola was reported today to have smashed through the first line of government defense and to have carried its drive to within 25 miles of the Basque capital, Bilbao, on the Biscay coast.

ZION, Ill., April 2 (AP)—Fire destroyed the tabernacle and radio station WCBZ today and Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of the Christian Apostolic church, said "I haven't any doubt it was intentionally started."

Voliva estimated the total loss at between $600,000 and $700,000. He said the tabernacle, built in 1902, was valued at between $500,000 and $600,000, and the radio station at $100,000.

DISTRICT AWARDS ARE WON BY PAMPA P-TA RECORD BOOKS

PERRYTON IS HOST TO 250 ON FIRST DAY

Leading Part Taken In Convention By Pampan

Pampa representatives are playing a large part in the district convention of Parent-Teacher associations at Perryton. Dozens of members attended the opening sessions yesterday, and others are present today. Mrs. T. Hunkapillar of Pampa, district president, is presiding.

Publicity book and yearbook contests saw several Gray county units placed high. Sam Houston of Pampa took first place. Horace Mann of Pampa second, and Weatherly of Berger third on publicity record books in class one. In class two, Pringle, Pollett, and Booker placed in that order.

For printed yearbooks, Vega was first, Baker of Pampa second, Sunday third, Booker was first, LeFors second and Pringle third for mimeographed books; Huntoon, Beck, and Spring Creek winners for hand-written books.

Panel is interesting. Featuring the program yesterday was a panel discussion led by Ernest Caba of Pampa, on Wholesome Recreation for Youth. Betty Jo Townsend of Pampa high school was among the students from schools and colleges over the district who participated in the frank and interesting talks.

By noon yesterday, 251 persons had registered, including four state and 23 district officers. Compliments for the hospitality of Perryton and the Ochiltree County Parent-Teacher council were expressed frequently. A luncheon was given for delegates at noon.

In the morning session, life memberships were presented to Mrs. J. M. Turner, president of the Pampa Parent-Teacher council, and Miss Louise Orr, teacher at Panhandle. Registration, reports and greetings occupied most of the morning. Reports showed the same number of associations in the district as last year.

Forecasts Election. A nominating committee to select a ticket of officers to be voted on next year at the bi-annual election was named yesterday. Supt. W. B. Irvin of Perryton, Supt. R. B. Fisher of Pampa, Mrs. J. E. Griggs of Amarillo, Mrs. Tom Johnson of Tulla, and Mrs. D. C. Kinard of Memphis are members.

Certificates in procedure courses were presented at the luncheon yesterday, when Mrs. J. H. Emmert of Wichita Falls, representative of the state president, was honored guest. B. M. Baker and Woodrow Wilson associations of Pampa received certificates.

Those registered from Pampa included Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. and Mrs. L. L. Sone, A. L. Patrick, J. A. Meek, Ernest Caba, Misses Myrdred Bishop, Josephine Thomas, Helen Maslingale, Mary Reeve, and Townsend.

Mrs. F. M. Culbertson, Carl Boston, Luther Pierson, Lee Harrah, L. K. Stout, F. M. Shotwell, W. A. Breining, N. F. Maddux, W. C. Hutchinson, Ray Eaton, J. C. Ritchie, Earl Graham, A. D. Robinson, Emory Noblitt, Hunkapillar, Turner, Claude Lard, Roy Holt, L. H. Anderson, Allen Hodges, V. L. Hobbs, T. P. Morton, Roy Van Winkle, C. E. Simmons.

All Pampa associations and the city council were represented.

Goal of 260 Is Set For Revival Sunday in S. S.

Former members and prospective members of Central Baptist Sunday school are especially urged to be present Sunday, when an attendance goal of 260 has been set. W. W. Ernest, educational director, as a part of the revival campaign now in progress.

Growing crowds are reported at daily services, and two additions to church membership resulted from the evening service Thursday. The Rev. Willis J. Ray of Lattfield, evangelist, spoke on the subject, "The God of the Bible."

"God is often misunderstood and as a consequence often ignored by the multitude," he said. "In the Bible he is revealed as a God of love, light and life, who changes nations from barbarism to brotherly kindness, changes men physically and mentally and morally, brings blessings of knowledge and truth to all, and offers present and eternal life."

This evening, the subject will be "The Way to Heaven." The Rev. John O. Scott, pastor, invites the public to hear these daily sermons, at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

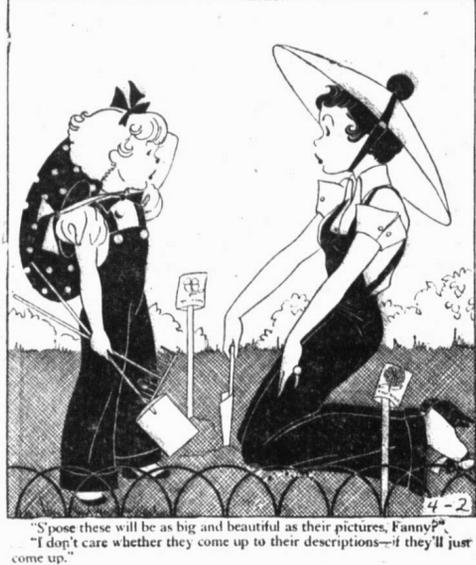

GOOD RELIEF of constipation by a GOOD LAXATIVE

Many folks get such refreshing relief by taking Black-Draught for constipation that they prefer it to other laxatives and urge their friends to try it. Black-Draught is made of the leaves and roots of plants. It does not disturb digestion but stimulates the lower bowel so that constipation is relieved.

BAPTISTS HAVE NEW DIRECTOR

Harry W. Miner, Jr., of Nashville, Tenn., has been elected educational director at the First Baptist church. He arrived Thursday evening and begins his new duties immediately.

Mr. Miner's first work was with the First Baptist church at Lubbock as student worker and director of music. "He comes highly recommended and it is the hope of the church that he will be a great ally in making the church more useful to the entire community," said the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor. He will assist in the services Sunday.

MODERN MENUS

By Mrs. GAYNOR MADDOX

All salmon looks alike in the can. You must open it to see the difference. Firmly packed, clean, ready salmon makes good eating. So does canned tuna, and frequently the combination of salmon and tuna will, like the quality of mercy, be twice blessed. Vary your fish recipes with daring.

Piquant Creamed Salmon

One small can best salmon, 1-8 teaspoon dry mustard, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon black pepper, 2 teaspoons condensed spiced tomato sauce, 2 tablespoons minced green pepper, 1-2 teaspoon lemon juice, and 1-4 teaspoon sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk.

Drain and free salmon from skin and bones. Use either finely flaked or in large sections, according to preference. From an uncut loaf of bread, cut thin lengthwise slices 3 inches wide and 6 inches long. Spread entire surface with mild creamy cheese. Roll one end over until only 1-2 of strip remains unrolled. Place in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) and bake until slightly browned. Your creamed salmon to-boggans, then favor on these tasty strips.

Melt butter in saucepan. Add all ingredients except flour, milk and lemon juice and salmon. Cook 2 minutes, then stir in flour. When well blended, slowly add milk.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit juice, buckwheat cakes, syrup, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Cheese soufflé, cold slaw, rye bread, jam, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato and clam juice, creamed salmon on to-boggans, steamed rice, Brussels sprouts, lettuce and orange salad, chocolate brown Betty, coffee, milk.

When sauce begins to thicken, add salmon. Cook slowly 20 minutes. Use your favorite pastry recipe. Instead of pie tins use sea shells, large ones which you gathered last summer at the beach, or else use shell molds. Spread shells or molds with pastry. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) until delicately brown. Remove pastry and fill the crisp little edible shells with well seasoned fish.

In case you have been worrying during your Lenten observances, that the absence of regular amounts of meat from your family menus will interfere with the normal balanced diet, stop worrying. Fish is interchangeable with meat in the diet. High in phosphorus, low in iron and extractives, it is therefore less stimulating than meat. Fish high in fats, such as salmon, are good sources of vitamins A and B.

COMMITTEE TO NAME OFFICERS IS APPOINTED

Council of Clubs to Have Election In May

A nominating committee which will report next month, when the annual election of officers is scheduled, was appointed at a meeting of the Council of Women's clubs yesterday morning. Mrs. Edward H. Damon is chairman.

Other members are Mmes. Frank Perry, Bob McCoy, Clifford Braly, and Miss Clotilde McCallister. Resignation of Mrs. M. P. Downs as secretary was accepted, and Mrs. Jim Collins was appointed to serve the remainder of her term.

Mrs. Raymond Harrah, council president, announced further plans for the summer recreation program, sponsored by civic organizations under leadership of the council. W. Postma, selected as director for this summer is outlining a program that will offer attractions for everyone in the community.

LA SALLE DELEGATES HONORED AT FUNCTIONS

HOUSTON, April 2 (AP)—Members of the French National de La Salle Mission and Canadian delegation, organized to commemorate the exploits of the French explorer, La Salle, were honored here today.

The some 30 prominent residents of France, including Andre Chevillon, active head of the French academy in Paris, were brought here by automobile late yesterday from Liberty where a ceremony was held at a marker honoring the memory of some 600 veterans of the Napoleonic wars who came to Texas in 1818.

Featuring today's program was a trip to the San Jacinto battlefield where Texas won her independence from Mexico 101 years ago, and several talks and receptions at Rice Institute.

The visitors will be honored tonight at a banquet at which Gov. James V. Allred will be the main speaker.

The party will leave tomorrow for Austin, going by Navasota, where history says La Salle was killed. From Austin the group will go to San Antonio, Victoria and Edna before returning here to divide into several parties for visits to cities in the northern part of the United States and in Canada.

The mission timed its trip to Texas to coincide with the approximate date of the 250th anniversary of the death of La Salle.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

Are you training your girl to do housework, dear mother?

It is a grand idea if you are, because the things children learn when they are young, remain as guiding stars forever.

Perhaps you have a maid, or two or three, even, and the actual necessity of Edith doing little chores appears to be nonsense right now. But it isn't at all. Every girl, when she is married, or thrown upon her own responsibility of running a house, should know every detail of housekeeping.

Edith, or Helen, may never have to lift hand at housework all through life, but if she doesn't she will be a rare person indeed.

Saves Family Experimentation. She is going to marry someday, almost certainly and it is only fair to her, and to her husband and prospective children, that they should have to bear the brunt of her experiments and hard-learned lessons.

The people of Wales gave Princess Elizabeth of England a two-story playhouse of six small rooms, thatched roof, hot and cold running water, and many, many paneled windows. Queen Elizabeth made a ruling that neither of the two children, Elizabeth or her little sister, Margaret Rose, were to have any help whatsoever in keeping it clean.

As the house is as large as a small cottage and is used constantly by these little girls, it is easy to imagine that the tear-up is considerable. Besides, there is sweeping and dusting and, I haven't the slightest doubt, window-polishing.

One mother I know gave her growing daughter the grocery money each week to teach her exact buying and budgeting. I was there one day when the child came in glowing, and said she had saved two cents a can on salmon and five cents on potatoes, because she had compared prices at five stores.

Dish Washing Not Enough. Merely washing dishes is not enough experience for a girl. Moreover, it is like anything else in the way of work, for unless we can put ideas into labor, it becomes mechanical and a bore.

Show your daughter how to make a bed to her taste, to air it, turn the mattress and fold under the corners of the sheets; how to pump up pillows so the feathers will be "alive."

Explain that flapping a cloth is not dusting, but instead, to rub clean the queen's best cloth. Cooking is the climax of all. Cooking is not hard, but it should never be a guessing game. Timing of foods is important, so that all dishes will be finished at the same moment.

Help the child, show her, advise her to be like all good teachers, avoid too-often repeated advice. Let her enjoy her triumphs.

TREBLE CLEF CLUB. A special rehearsal of the Treble Clef club is called for tomorrow at 4 p. m., in city hall club room. All members are asked to be present for this practice on scheduled programs, as a social and study meeting replaced the usual rehearsal hour Wednesday afternoon.

WOULD REQUIRE FEES. OKLAHOMA CITY, April 1 (AP)—A bill was introduced in the Oklahoma house yesterday which would give Texans the right to fish in the Red River, provided they purchased special non-resident annual Red River fishing licenses at $1.25. A 1923 supreme court opinion held the border stream lies within Oklahoma. Texans had complained of arrests by Oklahoma game wardens for fishing in the stream without non-resident Oklahoma licenses which cost $2.50.

DINNER-DANCES FOR COUNTRY CLUB MEMBERS WILL FOLLOW GOLF AGAIN IN WARM MONTHS

Summer Plans Made At Biggest Party Yesterday

Country club members will continue their monthly entertainments on second Thursdays of the spring and summer months, and will resume Scotch golf foursomes in addition to the dinner and dance at the next party, May 13, they decided last evening.

The business session followed a delicious dinner and preceded a dance at the club house, attended by 83 persons, the largest group ever present for one of the membership parties. Hostess chairman was Mrs. W. A. Bratton, assisted by Mmes. John Roby, Carl Leuders, and Alex Schneider.

Dr. H. Hicks was a clever master of ceremonies. Dancing to music of the KPKN orchestra directed by Sid Harris was enjoyed to complete the evening.

Out-of-town guests were Charles Thomas of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd of Stellytown.

When dates for future parties were set, members also set a price to be in effect regularly. Cards will be mailed by the club secretary to notify members of the entertainments, and hostesses will also telephone as has been the custom.

TROOP 1. By Thelma Jo Thompson. A hike at 9:30 Saturday morning was planned by Girl Scouts of troop one when they met Thursday afternoon. Plans for a hike last Saturday were spoiled by bad weather.

Troop members told pet stories and finished tenderfoot tests. Two visitors, Betty Sue Johnson and Peggy Thomas, were present with 13 members and the leader, Mrs. Ralph Thomas.

The regular meeting date of this troop has been changed to Thursday afternoons, 4:15.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usages by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. When a woman who is wearing street clothes in the evening goes to a hotel to dance, does she wear a hat?

2. Is it poor taste for a girl to put on make-up while she is on the dance floor?

3. Must the men who have attended a dinner before going to a dance ask the hostess and other girls present at the dinner for a dance?

4. Is it polite to insist that another person drink when he once refuses?

5. Is it courteous for a hostess to offer cigarettes to both men and women when she herself is not smoking?

What would you do if—
You are at a dance where there is a stag line and you are having a miserable time being a wallflower—
(a) Leave?
(b) Try to grin and stick it out?
(c) Go to the dressing room and wait until the dance is over?

Answers

1. Yes, a woman always wears a hat with street clothes.
2. Yes, she should go to the dressing room.
3. Yes, they are even spoken of as "duty dances."
4. No, it is rude and inexcusable.
5. Yes.

Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(a). This is one time when it is wisest to admit defeat.

Children's Benefit Dance Is Tonight

A party of Pampan will go to Amarillo tonight to attend the crippled children's benefit dance to be staged there by Khiva Shrine in the Masonic Temple.

Music will be furnished by Carlton Scales and his orchestra and the dance is open to the public. Entire proceeds of the dance will be turned over to the crippled children's fund.

More than a dozen Pampa children have benefited in the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children at Shreveport. Admission will be $1 per couple.

FIGHT AGAINST OIL DRILLING GROWS HEATED

U. S. WAR DEPARTMENT URGED TO DEFER PERMIT

AUSTIN, April 2 (AP)—Texas state officials, legislators and coastal residents today sought methods to block proposed drilling for oil in leased submerged land which they feared might pollute gulf waters.

Possible destruction of fishing and recreational interests along the Texas coast by unpreventable waste from a well the Humble Oil Company plans to drill a mile from the beach at High Island, half way between Galveston and Port Arthur, brought action in a meeting of interested parties yesterday.

Governor James V. Allred and state game officials immediately urged the U. S. war department, sole apparent recourse of objectors through its jurisdiction over navigation, to defer granting a permit to drill and allow time for investigation.

The meeting brought out submerged land leases had yielded the state several hundred thousand dollars and the state board of education might fight the movement to halt drilling because there was a possibility $50,000,000 could accrue to the school fund from oil discoveries in salt domes beneath the waters.

It was agreed a concurrent resolution would be introduced in the legislature providing a committee to sift the entire problem and make recommendations.

Further agreement removed other submerged land from the market for leasing purposes but doubt was expressed that anything could be done about the land already leased since definite contracts had been drawn and revocation could not be effected by statute.

Henry W. Flagg of Galveston, president of the Texas Wild Life Federation, informed the committee marine life was doomed if oil development was permitted.

"You can't produce an oil field in the gulf without pollution," he said in urging cancellation of the leases. "The rights of the people are sovereign and this proposal invades those rights."

Rep. Conde Hoskins of Gonzales, author of a bill prohibiting pollution of public waters, said his measure would meet the situation while Rep. H. L. McKee of Port Arthur started immediately to draft a proposal allowing holders to voluntarily surrender their leases and be reimbursed.

LIQUOR CONTROL ACT TIGHTENED IN NEW LAW

AUSTIN, April 2 (AP)—A 77-page bill intended to tighten up the present liquor control act bore the approval today of the House liquor traffic committee.

After lengthy debate last night the group rejected a proposal to place venue of appeals from liquor control board suspension or revocation of licenses in the counties of appellants.

The bill also boosted the cost of retail package store permits from $50 to $125 to discourage operation of stores outside city limits at an unfair advantage to those paying city taxes in addition to the state levy.

It also provided for high levies on plants bottling beer brewed outside of the state assertedly to discourage "chain" bottling shops. Fees for such establishments began at $200 for the first and graduate up to $100,000 for the fifth shop operated by the same brewery.

Shamrock News

BY MRS. PEYTON WOFFORD. SHAMROCK, April 2—Members of the Junior church of the Methodist church planted a pecan tree on the church grounds presented them by the A. & M. college horticultural department last week. The tree was grown from a seedling of the pecan tree planted on Governor Hogg's grave, the only memorial he requested.

Miss Frances Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hill, returned to school at Canyon after spending the Easter holidays here.

Funeral services were held Tuesday in Terrell for Lewis Owens, former resident of this city. He died at his home Saturday.

ROOSTER SETS FOWL EATING RECORD

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A husky little Rhode Island Red rooster belonging to Bill Eschbach recently set a mark for other roosters to strive for by eating 692 grains of corn to win a contest with four other fowl gourmets.

The rooster was still eating when judges closed the contest because corn ran out for the second time. More corn was obtained and the rooster ran his number up to 751 before he was led away looking hungry.

HAWAII TRIP PLANNED. SAN PEDRO, CALIF., April 2 (AP)—Twelve patrol flying boats, built at San Diego for the navy, will make a 2,600-mile non-stop delivery flight to Hawaii during the week of April 11. Admiral Arthur J. Hobbins announced today. Another squadron of bi-motored patrol planes will make a similar non-stop delivery flight to the Coco Solo air base at Panama late in May, the fleet commander-in-chief said.

EMPLOYERS IN OIL INDUSTRY ARE PRAISED

DALLAS, April 2 (AP)—On the eve of John L. Lewis' announced determination to unionize the great oil industry, leaders attending an American Petroleum Institute district meeting pondered today an assertion worker-employer relations probably will continue "pleasant."

Hours, wages, working conditions and other "humanitarian" activities of the oil industry, George A. Hill of Houston, A. P. I. vice president, said, show that employers are acutely sensitive to the welfare of their employees.

"If it should be contended that this has not been manifested to its ultimate degree, it nevertheless furnishes indisputable proof that there exists upon the part of the employer generally the ability and willingness to improve the various phases of the relationship between the employer and the employed in our industry."

Hill spoke yesterday at the first of a two-day session of the southwestern district of the A. P. I. regional division. About 400 oil men attended.

He said workers on their part have contributed an increasingly effective service to the industry through greater skill, energy and loyalty.

"They have exhibited a degree of consideration and understanding that has proven indisputably their recognition of the mutuality of the interest of the employer and the employed," he said.

"It is likely then, that out of the unrest in the air affecting other industries, an issue may be suddenly precipitated in the oil industry that will supplant distrust for understanding * * * and a public-be-damned attitude for the present zealous devotion on public service."

Jake L. Hamon, Dallas, said the oil industry pays more than 60 per cent of all state and county revenues while the true value of the industry represents only 19 per cent of all taxable values of the state.

The southwest's predominant position in the industry was stressed by Wallace E. Pratt, Houston, vice president of the Humble Oil and Refining company. Southwestern oil states supply half of the nation's production and 58 per cent of the national reserves.

This vast wealth of oil, he said, entails responsibility and the present reserves must be conserved. Accomplishment of this aim depends vitally on discovering an improved technique to realize more oil from a given reservoir, he said.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
901 N. Frost St.
"Unreality" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 4.

The golden text is: "Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it." (Job 35:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of understanding? * * * God understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof, and unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding." (Job 28:20, 23, 28).

The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Evil has no reality. It is neither person, place nor thing, but is simply a belief, an illusion of material sense" (page 77).

Sunday 11 a. m.
Sunday school 9:30.
Wednesday 8 p. m.
The reading room in church edifice is open Tuesday and Friday 2 to 4 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend the services and use the reading room.

FREEDOM ASKED.
SAN ANTONIO, April 2 (AP)—Among the resolutions to be voted upon by delegates attending this morning's second business session of the Association for Childhood Education in the forty-fourth annual convention are those asking that faith be reaffirmed in campaigns for more academic freedom for teachers, a single salary schedule for teachers, ratification of the child labor amendment and better grades of motion pictures, radio programs and comic strips.

At the morning worship service a communion message by the pastor will precede the communion. Special music will include a duet by Mrs. C. E. Powell and Lester Aldrich.

The evening service will begin at 8 p. m. Sermon subject, Christian Neighbors.

ABILENE WARD SCHOOL SIT-DOWN ENDS AT NOON—HOLIDAY DENIED

ABILENE, April 2 (AP)—Although a practical-minded teacher had proposed paddlings to end a ward school sit-down strike here Thursday, unitive measures were unnecessary to end the stationary walkout.

Three hundred sixth and seventh graders staged the demonstration with demands for an April Fool's holiday.

After nonchalantly strolling in and seating themselves at desks, the pupils refused to open books or obey other directions of teachers whose classrooms are on the second floor of the Central school.

Without disorder, the status remained unchanged until about 11 o'clock.

"They can't sit down if you paddle 'em," a mother of one pupil advised Principal W. D. Gullede. "What would we do if they started home?"

But the sit-downers grew hot and thirsty and uncertain whether they would be allowed to leave for lunch. They relinquished demands for a holiday and were ready to quit by noon.

Then, school officials, after reluctantly giving a reporter details of the strike, prepared a last laugh in the episode.

"Will this go on the air (over KRBC, the Abilene Reporter-News station) in your newscast this afternoon?" asked Mrs. Mickey C. Miller, a Central teacher.

MAJOR GENERAL PLANS FLIGHT TO AMARILLO

SAN ANTONIO, April 2 (AP)—Major Gen. H. J. Brees, commander of the Eighth Corps Area, Fort Sam Houston, will attend a banquet Monday night in observance of the fourth anniversary of the organization of the Civilian Conservation Corps at Amarillo, it was announced at headquarters here.

The general will travel by plane.

In event it is impossible to fly to the Panhandle city, Gen. Brees will be represented by Col. J. A. Green, deputy chief of staff for the CCC of the corps area, and Major Russell Throckmorton, commander of the Fort Worth CCC district.

The north Atlantic group of states (Me., Vt., N. H., Mass., Conn., N. Y., N. J., Del., R. I., Md. and Pa.) produce only 1/50th of the nation's meat, yet consume 1/3.

REST HOME PATIENT. LOS ANGELES, April 2 (AP)—Robert M. Miller, Arizona Boy Scout executive, who disappeared for a week after a "spat with a girl friend," was a patient in a rest home here today. Charles Miller, Los Angeles auditor, said his brother would remain in the home six or eight weeks to recover from a "pretty bad condition mentally and physically."

One-half of the infants in the United States show some signs of rickets during their growth, according to estimates.

'GASSERS,' 'WOGS,' 'GRAYS' SUGGESTED FOR BASEBALL TEAM'S NAME

MANY TITLES ARE SENT IN BY RESIDENTS

$20 PRIZE WILL BE GIVEN WINNER OF CONTEST

A stack of letters, inches high, adorned the sports desk at The NEWS this morning and every one was a suggestion of a name for the Pampa baseball club.

Someone will receive $20 in cash and another will get a season box seat free. All that is necessary to enter the contest is to send one name for the club to the sports editor of The Pampa Daily NEWS.

The first entry received was from Bob Kotner who wrote an interesting letter congratulating the men who are seeing that Pampa has a ball club. His name was the "Pampa Oilers," because that makes Pampa as famous as the oil industry," wrote Bob.

Next came the suggestion "Pampa Panthers," from Rosa Belle Reed and this morning C. A. Baird of Fanhandle suggested the same name. Mrs. Baird disagreed and wanted Oilers.

"Pampa Dusters" was the third name in the order opened, with Don McLarry making the suggestion. "Pampa Grays," suggested J. M. Mercer, who said he didn't know that Pampa had a team "The Grays" in 1927, 1928 and 1929. The old Grays, organized under management of Emmet "Red" Guber, now of Clovis, N. M., were named by Otto Rice Jr.

Why not the "Pampa Producers" queried Mrs. Hol Wagner in her entry, while J. F. LaCasse dropped the name "Pampa Owls" in the box. Perry Faust, who hasn't missed a ball game in Pampa, it is believed, wrote to "Most Honorable Sports Editor" and suggested the name "Pampa Ajax." "How about the Pampa Gassers," asked Rufie Jordan, while Jimmie Barrett suggested "Pampa Hot Shots." Mr. Barrett wrote saying that he was looking forward to see Pampa with another real baseball in 1937.

Dr. C. D. Hunter came up with the kind of a brain wave that comes about once in a life time. Suggested Dr. Hunter, "How about the Pampa Wogs?" When asked where he got the idea, Dr. Hunter said, "Huh, easy. Just take Wheat, Oil and Gas, and you have Wogs."

Several suggested the same name and others wrote to hold up because they would have entries in the list before the deadline.

QUALIFYING IS EXTENDED FOR ANOTHER DAY

Qualifying for the first golf match of the year has been extended to 6 o'clock Saturday evening when Captains Grover Austin Jr. and Johnny Austin meet to pair players according to their scores. Play, over 18 holes, will begin at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon with the losing player feeding the winner.

No entry fee will be charged. Del Love announced at the beginning of play. Only charge will be regular green fees and 50 cents a plate for the feed.

Pairings will be posted on the bulletin board at the club house Sunday morning.

To enter the tournament it will be necessary to play 18 holes and turn the score in to Mr. Love.

Players already entered include: Art Swanson, Chinch Barrett, Paul Hawthorne, Marvin Harris, Tom Darby, Jack Goldston, Hol Wagner, Frank Shotwell, Shorty Hoffman, Gus Howard, Dan Williams, E. W. Voss, Grover Austin Sr., Grover Austin Jr., Johnny Austin.

John O'Day, Jet Brumley, R. G. Allen, Gene Green, Dan Gribbon, Earl O'Keefe, C. P. Buckler, Mack Graham, H. H. Hicks, Hugh Ellis, E. Gee, Mike Hanna, Clyde Winchester, John McCarty, Don Donovan, Jimmy Hulme, Clevie Huff, Charles Thut, Jim Hatfield, Sam Fenberg, B. M. Behrman, Ed Vicars, Bill Jarratt.

TO SUSPEND WRESTLER. CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—Chairman Joe Triner of the Illinois Athletic Commission said today he will advise the indefinite suspension of Chief Osley Sanookke, Indian wrestler from Cherokee, N. C., as the result of Sanookke's tactics which resulted in a near-riot at the coliseum last night.

take a chance on winning the contest," announces the committee in charge.

ANOTHER FELLER CASE

Tom Henrich, above, stirred up a pretty kettle of fish when he asked Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis to find out what team owned him. Henrich is under contract with Milwaukee which bought him from New Orleans, a team that has a working agreement with Cleveland. He thinks the Indians own him under cover. His request for investigation came after Billy Evans, Indians' former general manager, now chief scout for the Boston Red Sox, was quoted as saying Henrich was worth $15,000 as free agent. Alva Bradley, Cleveland owner, aroused, accused Evans of violation of confidence in private Indian affairs, insisted on investigation.

IT'S ANOTHER IDEAL YEAR FOR BRADLEY HORSE TO WIN

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—It looks like an ideal year for that famous Kentucky Colonel, Edward Riley Bradley, to crash through with his fifth Kentucky Derby victory.

His two nominees, Billionaire and Brooklyn, winners of $12,150 and $11,595, respectively, last year, were hardly among the topflight of 1936 juveniles, but his last two Derby winners, Burgoon King and Broker's Tip, were no great shakes as two-year-olds.

Both Burgoon King and Broker's Tip received their preliminary Derby training in actual racing at Lexington, Ky., in 1932 and 1933. Since then, there has been no spring racing at Lexington, the colonel's Derby entries have failed.

Now the Keeneland association has arranged an ambitious spring racing program in the cradle of the thoroughbred. Billionaire and Brooklyn will test their hooves on Kentucky soil during the Lexington meeting—perhaps entering the feature race, the $5,000 added Blue Grass stakes for three-year-olds, nine days before the Kentucky Derby on May 8 at Churchill Downs, Louisville.

Col. Bradley is the undisputed champion Kentucky Derby owner. His record stands at 11 titles. His four farm have won $215,000 in Derby stakes since 1921.

BAYLOR BEARS LOSE TO RICE; TEXAS VICTOR

(By The Associated Press.) The Southwest Conference baseball pack was off in full cry today in the quest of the 1937 pennant, but Baylor University's highly-favored Bears were not in the lead.

A sophomore right-hander from Honda, Floyd Mechler, threw the Bruins for a 7 to 0 loss in their opening game with Rice Institute. Mechler's shutout was accomplished by the fruitless three hits he allowed. Sorelle, Baylor mainstay, was touched for nine hits. The game was played at Houston, whence the Baylorists left to meet Texas A. and M. today.

At Fort Worth another season's opener gave the University of Texas an 8 to 6 victory over Texas Christian. The losers nullified their superior hitting by six errors. The Steers got nine hits, T. C. U. 15. They play another game today.

Training Camp News

(By The Associated Press.) YUMA, Ariz., April 2.—The Cubs and White Sox play the first of six consecutive tilts today with the Bruins elated over the pitching of veteran Tex Carleton in yesterday's 7-5 win over Los Angeles.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—The New York Yankees' manager Joe McCarthy is brimming with confidence. "This is the best Yankee ball club I have ever taken North," says Joe.

GULFPORT, Miss.—Manager Bill Terry gave his old number, No. 13, to John McCarthy as the Giants took the field against Jersey City, yesterday—another indication the ex-International Leaguer is to be the regular first baseman.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Schoobly Rowe and Dizzy Dean were scheduled today to oppose each other Sunday when the Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Cardinals meet here in a return engagement.

TAMPA, Fla.—Manager Chuck Dressen of the Cincinnati Reds said a cheek-fracture suffered by Kiki Cuyler, vet outfielder, may keep him from play until after the season opens.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—Joe Bowman and Bob Burke, Phillies pitchers, still are bothered by sore throwing arms. Wildness of Hal Killeber sent the Willsomen down to a 5 to 4 defeat by Newark, of the International League yesterday.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—The St. Louis Browns and Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics were ready today for the first of a three-game series.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Manager Burrell Grimes has a new panacea for defeat. The morning after his Brooklyn Dodgers lose a game

TEXAS RELAYS WILL FEATURE FAMED MILERS

ANNUAL CONTEST WILL BE HELD AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, April 2 (AP)—One thousand athletes, hailing from the banks of Lake Michigan to the Rio Grande, were gathering here today for an assault on Texas relay records.

Clyde Littlefield, University of Texas track coach and director of tomorrow's 10th renewal of the carnival which rings up the curtain on the national outdoor track and field season, supervised the task of issuing numbers, making preparations to run off the program with split-second precision.

More than 5,000 spectators were expected to witness participants representing 16 universities, including Chicago, Drake, Indiana, Kansas and Kansas State, Michigan State, Oklahoma and Oklahoma A. & M., Louisiana State, Wayne of Detroit and Lone Star State schools, match strength and endurance on the cinders and in the pits.

Headline attractions included Don Lash of Indiana, crack distance runner, who will match strides with Wayne Rideout, one of North Texas Teachers famed twins, in the 3,000-meter event, and Gene Venke, Pennsylvanian's veteran miler, paired with Blaine Rideout in an exhibition mile.

The favored Lash will have additional competition in the gruelling chase in Ken Wolfe of Michigan State, intercollegiate A. A. A. cross country champion, and his teammate, Dick Frey, freshman titlist in the same meet. Case of Texas Tech and Feller of Drake, also entered, were considered dangerous.

Another Olympian, Alton Terry of Hardin-Simmons, was expected to crack the javelin mark of 206 feet, 11 inches, set by Bevens of Kansas State Teachers in 1929.

Lloyd Cardwell of Nebraska, Al Tolmich, who has been setting indoor tracks after by Wayne University of Detroit, Delmer Brown of North Texas Teachers, Reeves and Graves of Texas, Carr of Rice, and J. Hill of Drake were ranking favorites in the 100-yard dash.

Two Rice Owls, Captain Welchert in the pole vault and Jack Patterson in the 120-yard high hurdles, appeared the most likely contenders in their respective events. Sanford and Bryan of B. U., and Evans of Drake, however, were eminently capable vaulters entered.

Jack Vickrey of Texas, who recently cleared six feet, six inches, seemed the man to beat in the high jump with Whitley of North Texas Teachers, Kable of Chicago, Neece of Rice and Baxter of Nebraska among competitors.

SEASON OPENS

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 2 (AP)—To the shouts of 40,000 or more fans and the crack of bat against horsehide, the Pacific Coast league's 35th baseball season opens tomorrow.

Only Portland, pennant winner last year, and Oakland, 1936 runner up, appeared less formidable in the pre-season size-up. Each lost important stars.

ROLLED, TOSSED WITH GAS PAINS!

Stomach Pains at Night Almost Unbearable, But Van-Tage Relieved!

Many druggists in this section say they never saw anything like the way Reliable People praise Van-Tage. This is the Amazing New Medicine which is being sold in great quantities here in Pampa. Recently Mrs. A. B. Shepherd, of Three-D Stock Farm, Arlington, Tex., endorsed it.

"No matter what I ate, even a drink of pure water would fill me up with gas until I could hardly breathe, and make me have terrible pains in my stomach. I couldn't even keep a drink of water on my stomach. It seemed like it was impossible for me to get a good night's rest, for I was so nervous and full of gas pains that I just rolled and tossed from one side of the bed to the other. My kidneys also broke up my rest, too, as they were so sluggish that I had to get up three or four times every night. I read about Van-Tage and got it. The very first dose seemed to get right to work on me, and now I am not in misery with gas and I feel like an entirely different person and can hardly believe it."

VAN-TAGE helps invigorate bowel, stomach and kidney action. Its 21 Great Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents (over 30 ingredients in all) have a surprising effect on suffering people. Due to the immense volume in which it sells, Van-Tage is NOT expensive, so get it TODAY—at Creney Drug Store, next to LaNora Theatre. Adv.

20 Vets And Rookies Work Out In Baseball Practice

Twenty aspirants for places on the Pampa baseball team waited outside Road Runner park yesterday afternoon for the first practice of the season. When the doors opened, veterans and youngsters charged through like a bunch of colts that had been locked in a barn all winter.

The usual arguments of who bats first, how many swings, do fouls count, and so forth, opened proceedings. With no manager named, the boys looked to the veteran Floyd Lisle for orders. He made suggestions and kept frisky young pitchers from staying too long on the mound and from trying to slip across a curve.

Members of the Pampa Road Runners, several Little Road Runners, a sprinkling of Pampa-Busby Indians and a bunch of newcomers to Pampa appeared on the field.

Beside Lisle, former Road Runners who appeared in uniform were Lefty Cox, first base, Al Summers, second base, Ben McLarry, shortstop, Sam Scalling, third base or outfield, Carl Stewart, pitcher, and Bill Hardin, pitcher.

Members of last year's Little Road Runner aggregation aspiring to step into fast company were Mage Keyser and Harold Nicholson. From the Indians were Reese Barham and "Fuzzy" Feltner.

Several newcomers who know all about the baseball game included Lloyd Summers, catcher, brother of "Little Al" Mays, an elongated pitcher, Bert Prince, another chunker, and of course, "Spring Training" Ray Riley who never fails to put in an appearance when baseball fever is at its boiling point.

Practice will be held every afternoon at 2 o'clock. Several new players are hoped to make their appearance soon.

TROJANS IN MEET

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 2 (AP)—The good Dean Bartlett Cromwell, for 28 years coach of the University of Southern California track and field team, introduces his 1937 squad tomorrow in a warm-up meet north of Fresno State College. The general Cromwell faced an uphill task in moulding a team comparable to previous scoring machines. He may even have a time winning his third straight N. C. A. A. championship, which would be quite a blow in view of the fact Cromwell's Trojans have won the national title only five out of the nine times they have competed.

BOBBY JONES TIES FOR NEXT TO LAST PLACE IN GOLF MEET

BY PAUL MICKELSON.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 2 (AP)—Keeping up with Jones is no longer a job in golf.

As the 46-man field lined up for the second round of the fourth annual Augusta National Golf championship today, the once unbeatable Bobby Jones was tied for next to last place behind Byron Nelson, lanky blond sharpshooter from Reading, Pa., blazed the trail with a record 66.

Bobby fell out of the running yesterday with a shaky 79 that all but carried the favored Horton Smith with him to the shoals of defeat. Smith, a hot contender for his third Augusta crown in four starts, slumped while he played with Jones and took a 75 that left him nine blows behind.

Jones' 79 ties his worst Augusta record. He had two of them last year, finishing 33rd.

Trailing Nelson was Ralph Guldahl, who streaked home with a back nine 32 for an 18-hole 69. Pressing close behind Guldahl came eight of the finest par-crackers of golf.

Tied at 70, two blows under par, were Wiffy Cox, Washington; Ed Dudley, home club pro, and Lawson Little, former amateur champion.

At 71's came belting Jimmy Thomson, Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Pa.; Johnny Revolta, former P. G. A. champ from Chicago; Tony Manero, open champion; Ray Mangrum, Pittsburgh, Pa. and Len Dodson of Springfield, Mo.

Al Espinosa, Mexico City, and Victor Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., had par 72's, making an even dozen contenders who had par or better. Harry Cooper, another pre-tournament

College Boxing Tourney Finals To Be Tonight

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Apr. 2 (AP)—Safely through a stormy preliminary session, the boys who sock 'em and rock 'em will square off tonight in semi-final bouts of the 1937 national collegiate boxing championships.

A dozen of them are survivors of last night's gruelling opening matches.

Out of the flurry of leather mittens inaugurating the holding in the far west of the biggest tournament of the boxing world loomed two stars from Duke University—Ray Matulewicz and Danny Farrar.

Matulewicz dropped down to his natural weight to dispose of Leon Gray of Arizona in the 165-pound preliminaries.

Matulewicz will face Mortimer Coplin of the University of Virginia tonight.

In the 145 pound class Farrar stopped Howard Wallstrum of the University of California.

Farrar was favored to win tonight over Bob Harris of San Jose (Calif.) State college.

WESTINGHOUSE GETS THE LARGEST SINGLE ORDER EVER PLACED FOR REFRIGERATORS

Bids are based on first cost plus use of current for 10 years.

PUBLIC WORKS ADMINISTRATION HOUSING DIVISION BUYS WESTINGHOUSE REFRIGERATORS TO MEET HIGH ECONOMY REQUIREMENTS IN LOW RENT HOUSING

To provide modern, safe food-keeping facilities at lowest cost in 34 low-rent housing projects in 26 cities, the Housing Division of the U. S. Public Works Administration late in 1936 called for sealed bids from leading refrigerator manufacturers. Bids were based on initial price added to cost of electricity for ten years. Westinghouse won... though four other manufacturers quoted lower unit prices. Low current consumption made possible by Westinghouse features, convinced Government buyers that on a 10-year basis it costs less to own a Westinghouse.

12 KILLED IN LONDON CRASH OF 2 TRAINS

LONDON, April 2 (AP)—Twelve persons were killed today and more than 40 injured when two suburban trains, crowded with city-bound workers during London's morning "rush hour," crashed on a 60-foot high viaduct.

One coach was telescoped across a live rail and burst into flames. The blaze was quickly extinguished. Scores of passengers narrowly escaped death in the smash which was one of the worst train accidents in the London area in recent years.

Some of the dazed occupants of the car swung precariously on the viaduct as it crawled from the crumpled coach and along the narrow foot-hold to safety.

Others refused to leave the car until ladders were run up to the bridge from the main line below and rescuers rushed up to lower them to safety.

A heavy rain beat down as stretcher after stretcher loaded with dead and injured was carried to ambulances.

"It was terrible," one survivor shuddered. "People were screaming and moaning from underneath the wreckage."

It was the second train wreck in London within 24 hours. Sixteen persons were injured in a collision of two trains north of London yesterday.

RADIO MAY SUPPLANT 'MOCCASIN TELEGRAPH'

WINDOWROCK, Ariz. (AP)—"The box that talks too loud" (Indian for radio) soon may replace the "moccasin telegraph" as a means of communication between isolated outposts of the huge Navajo reservation.

Superintendent E. R. Fryer has submitted plans for a 250-watt transmitter at the central Indian agency and three smaller stations at distant points.

There is a telephone system between the main points of the reservation, but Indian couriers still are used in remote corners.

International Sunday School Lesson

MESSAGES FROM GENESIS
Text: Genesis 1:1-5, 26-31
By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D.
Editor of Advance

From lessons in the New Testament, we turn in the second quarter of the year back to the Book of Genesis, with its story of beginnings.

Has Genesis something to teach us in this modern world, where science has discovered a great deal concerning the process of creation that ancient writers never knew?

We cannot hope that Genesis will offer us a textbook of science, but it may be that it will have a great deal to teach us concerning the spiritual nature of man and his world, and the sanctity of life, the responsibility of brotherhood, the nature of sin and its wages, and the vision and need of mercy.

We shall discover in the course of these studies that Genesis is by no means a played-out book, but that it still has a great deal to teach the thoughtful reader.

If there were any question of this, we might cite one striking illustration. In the world of the 20th century, where modern, so-called Christian nations are bristling with arms and armament, and we know not on what day the world may be plunged into war, is it not instructive to remember a man named Abraham? When his herdsmen fought with those of his nephew, Lot, over water for their cattle, Abraham took the amazing attitude of refusing to fight, and of saying that he was willing to sacrifice his own interests for the sake of peace.

Do we forget that he said to Lot, "You take the right hand, and I'll go the right, but let there be no strife."

That episode, in the book of Genesis, with its implication of teaching and vision, seems still to offer an ideal for modern men and nations. May we not find that this is so with a great deal in the book?

Let us turn to this lesson, with its story of creation. The story of creation is one of bringing order out of chaos, of bringing light out of darkness, of bringing man, greater than his universe and greater than the animals, into being, made in the image and likeness of that Being whose Word brought order out of chaos, light out of darkness, and life into the world.

Nothing in modern science has gone beyond this or has set it aside. We may have discovered something more about the process, and we know now that creation has been a matter of millions of years and not of a few days; but we know, nevertheless, that life is the supreme reality in the universe. We are conscious today of living in a world of great mystery. We feel its complexity, as the ancients could not have felt it. But the crude materialism of the science of yesterday has passed under the influence of scientific investigation itself and has lifted us into the newer and loftier realm of great energies and forces that contradict the idea of what we once called dead, or lifeless, matter. The teaching of science today would seem to be rather that matter itself is a form of motion. We are in a living universe. Perhaps the mystery of life in the world seems more impenetrable than ever before, yet the simple verities of creation's story that life are the factors to which men come in faith and vision.

FINAL TESTIMONY IN GREEN CASE IS READY

DALLAS, April 2 (AP)—To a wealth of evidence, humorous and technical, witnesses were expected today to add final testimony in a hearing on the late Col. E. H. R. Green's estate.

Commissioner Raymond Prime of New York announced he would hear cross-examination of two attorneys who yesterday testified Texas law since 1840 did not recognize prenuptial agreements—a point vital to the struggle of Col. Green's widow and sister over the great fortune.

The attorneys were William R. Harris and D. A. Frank. In addition to their technical testimony Commissioner Prime previously had heard exhaustive evidence that the late railroad magnate maintained his legal residence at Terrell, Tex. Much of the testimony, from old timers who knew Green around the turn of the century, bore humorously on his fondness for speed—via air and auto—and his lavish donations to the Republican party of Texas.

LaGuardia Likes To Take Slaps At His Pet Peeves

By PAT McGRADY
NEW YORK (AP)—Fiorello H. LaGuardia, Italian equivalent of Henry VIII, bounced about his office in City Hall and talked about the people he doesn't like.

Flays Hitler

Pet peeves include a certain brand of uplift fanatic, incompetents seeking jobs through political pull, dishonest or stupid or uninformed callers who waste his time—and Hitler.

His hatred for Hitler recently made LaGuardia an International Complication when he suggested a figure of the Nazi dictator be displayed in a proposed "chamber of horrors" at New York's world fair in 1939.

His Honor says he reads Hitler's speeches from beginning to end—"just to get a laugh, or real mad." On the record, he has been uncompromising in his attacks on fascism here and abroad.

A Man of Parts
Yet he is but a single generation removed from the land where fascism flowers fullest, and critics have called him a "sawed-off Mussolini."

Swart, short, stout, jolly, temperamental—he is Napoleonic in mien and stature. An International Lawyer, linguist, diplomat, World War ace, former congressman—veterans of City Hall call him one of the most picturesque mayors New York has ever had.

He has less than 10 months left in his first four-year term. The best information around City Hall holds he will not, as rumored, seek a Roosevelt cabinet appointment as secretary of labor or war, but will run again this fall for mayor.

World War Ace
Born in New York of Italian parents, young Fiorello Enrico went to school in military posts at Sully, S. D., and Prescott, Ariz., where his father was an army bandmaster.

He went into the U. S. diplomatic service at 20, came back to New York four years later to study law, was elected to congress in 1916, but was in Washington less than a year before enlisting in the American flying force.

He served on the Italian front in the night and day bombing squadron through most of the war, worked his way up to major and brought home a wound stripe and three medals.

After the war, LaGuardia dabbled in New York politics and then, from 1922 to '32, served again in congress. As a Republican he was defeated for mayor of New York by Jimmy Walker in 1929 and for congress in 1932.

Licked Tammany Hall
The next year he united Republican and Fusion forces to get himself elected mayor by giving Democratic Tammany Hall one of its most crushing defeats at the polls.

Whether his vigorous campaigning for Roosevelt on the American Labor ticket last fall will alienate Republican support for this year remains to be seen.

The butter-ball mayor is mighty proud of this three-year record in office.

He cites these achievements: Reorganization of city departments on a business basis; pinning politicians at the head of each department; application of a merit system; establishing a new city charter; rehabilitating the finances of the city, where the credit had been shattered; completion of the city's independent subways system and substitution of modern buses for ancient trolleys; abolishing rickety tenements and firetraps to make room for modern, low-priced housing projects; increasing the number of parks and playgrounds and in inverse ration, decreasing child accident rates; making the city hall more free of politicians than it has been since it was built.

And this "must" list before he leaves office:
Creation of a city art and music center; unification of the city subway with two privately owned lines; abolition of all tenements to make way for low-cost housing projects; creation of a "rate yardstick" municipal power plant; perfecting an administrative system "that will give the taxpayers 100 cents worth for their dollar."

A modern business executive, the mayor has a work desk in his car and at home. His car is equipped with a police radio, and he frequently directs operations at a fire, disaster or crime.

Speaks Many Languages
He likes people to speak to him in Italian, French, German or Croatian, which he speaks fluently, or in Yiddish or Polish, which he understands.

He speaks extemporaneously better than from a prepared address, which he must read with glasses. He dresses sloppily and is most informal in manner; but he dislikes familiarity from strangers.

That's Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia pointing a finger of scorn and shouting: "Hitler is not personally or diplomatically 'satisfactions-fable,' before 20,000 cheering anti-Nazis at a rally in New York. Translated, "Satisfactions-fable" means not giving satisfaction—hence a cad. In Berlin the speech was echoed with headlines: "German People Insulted."

He bends a convivial elbow but accepts treats neither from co-drinkers nor the house. He cooks spaghetti excellently.

Takes Own Dictation
Associates say he works "never less than 16 and never more than 24 hours a day." An expert at shorthand, he takes his own dictation after permitting his wearied secretary to go home.

Outside of courtesy and political appearances, he is seldom seen on Broadway. Occasionally he manages to slip away to a concert. He enters and leaves quietly, when possible, and it embarrasses him to have spectators recognize him and interrupt the concert when he arrives.

He likes baseball, throws out the first pitch each spring and makes impromptu appearances as bandmaster at open-air concerts in the summer.

For many years his favorite relaxation was horseback riding. Lacking time for that now, he takes his principal diversion at play with his two adopted children—Jean, a girl, 8, and Eric, 6. He sidesteps minor conferences for a pre-bedtime romp with the kids almost every evening.

Reads All Papers
The mayor reads all the metropolitan newspapers, goes through every line of the ponderous city budget report and likes to read up on technical city affairs so he can call down his experts with authority.

He gives away 10-cent cigars because "they're too good for me" and himself smokes a two-for-a-nickel brand. His favorite pipe, in a large collection, is a corncob.

He sponsored city legislation banning hurdy-gurdies from the streets, but cops incline to wink at infractions of the ordinance without rebuke from City Hall.

He made horses wear rubber shoes and milk wagons rubber tires in his drive to silence city din.

Calls Spade a Spade
He likes plain language and was sued for slander when he called some one a "bum" and a "faker." During a police clean-up he advised that "all pimps, punks and tinhorns had better keep on the run."

At work he gives the impression of being unhurried, but few of the hundreds who stream to his office every week get more than 3 minutes of his time.

From his World war experience he retains a love of flying. Only zero-zero weather impels him to take surface transportation.

He says he is 54; his wife says 55. Who's Who says he was born December 11, 1882.

VILLAGE LIFE

New York's famed Greenwich Village is in rather a high dudgeon because of the way it was described in a booklet put out as a WPA federal writers' project.

"Greenwich Village..." said the blurb, "is the nation's greatest rash of art, literature, and temperament in the raw—where the artist of artists meet to eat, drink and argue. On the checkered tablecloths of quaint retreats are platted free verses, free lives and a free world."

Prominent citizens have signed a petition to the President protesting that this was not a true picture of the Village. It is possible, however, that these people are rather late in their effort to present the Village in its true light, or else they have an extensive campaign of public education before them.

NAZIFIED MOVIES

Herr Goebbels, Germany's propaganda minister, has inaugurated a new system of grading German films. Under this schedule, "politically valuable" movies without claim to artistic merit are to be graded higher than the artistically or culturally valuable film without political significance.

If this means that German producers are to turn out more solely political pictures, to meet the approval of Reich leaders, one must sympathize with the German people. Radios and newspapers have been drumming Nazi ideology into them; now another avenue of entertainment may be used for the purpose.

Since there can be too much of even a good thing, it is wondered if Herr Goebbels' latest move is a wise one. All propaganda and no entertainment may make Fritz a dull and dispirited Nazi.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, April 2—The fact that both sides claim they have been helped, and that the judiciary issue has been clarified by the Supreme Court's new minimum wage decision, doesn't really mean that this major development hasn't actually made the waters muddier.

In effect, one man has amended the Constitution. A few days ago the Constitution, according to the only authoritative interpretation—that of the Supreme Court—said states couldn't have minimum wage laws for women and children.

Now the Constitution says such laws are permissible. The difference is that Justice Owen J. Roberts, youngest member of the court, who voted no in the 5 to 4 decision against the New York minimum wage, now has given his support to Washington state's minimum wage law in a favorable 5 to 4 decision.

This ability of Roberts to switch from one side to the other on such an important issue makes him a very important man. He becomes even more important than the President, "at such times, as he is able to say what shall and what shall not be the law of the land."

Chief Justice Hughes conspicuously omitted one fact when he undertook to explain how a court majority, such as was now approving the Washington law, had turned down the New York law last year. Last year, he said, the court had held that it could decide only whether the New York case was distinguishable from the Adkins case in 1923, in which a District of Columbia minimum wage law was killed, and whether the state of New York has asked for a reconsideration of constitutional principles decided in the Adkins case.

The court decided that the state had not asked for such a reconsideration and hence wasn't entitled to it. (Hughes was a member of the four-man majority which stood for upholding the act.)

But last fall the states of New York and Illinois came back to assert that the court had been mistaken and they requested, emphatically, such a reconsideration in a petition for rehearing. The petition for rehearing begged that the court not permit the rights of millions of working women to be jeopardized and obscured by legal technicalities.

And the court refused to grant the rehearing. That was before President Roosevelt sent his sensational message to Congress asking for power to "pack" the court.

The opponents of the President's plan now say the court has proved it can function flexibly on issues of major social-economic importance.

Administrationists say the decision helps them in their difficult task of convincing the country that the Constitution isn't a fixed, immutable document which compels the court to interpret it along hard and fast rules. Also, they say, the dissent of the four most conservative justices has shown that "we must get those four men off."

It occurs this late that, from their showing in the electoral college, Maine and Vermont seemed most likely to secede.

TEX'S TOPICS

Perhaps you have been reading in your favorite newspaper that they are planning quite a shin-dig for the king's coronation over in England next month. Digging into some of the facts in connection with the crowning of George V on May 12, one finds that right now in Old Lannon everything is coronation this and coronation that as the big day draws near.

According to Elmer W. Peterson, Pampa Daily London correspondent, the cry of "The King, the King, God Bless Him," will be heard throughout the city in night-long revelry. Indications are that it's going to be a grand party—one that will be just too, too. It is estimated that 250,000 EXTRA barrels of beer will be required for the toasting of the king's health, and street merriment on the big night is expected to surpass anything before realized.

The night spots have been preparing for weeks. Several new ones have been opened. Getting a table on that night in one of London's hotcha places is going to be difficult. Raw-w-w-ther! At the same time there is a police campaign to check up. Bottle party clubs, where drinking can continue all night, are being watched closely. These clubs, which sign up members and dispense liquor by the bottle, are outside the licensing laws' scope.

Open to the public will be such entertainments as a coronation costume ball. There will be processions and pageantry and the court of Queen Elizabeth will be represented by descendants of courtiers of those days. Prominent hosts and hostesses are cooperating with the Overseas League and the various empire societies in providing entertainment for overseas visitors, for instance, from Texas.

Ocean liners, moored in the Thames, will cut their own brilliant lighting pattern at night, and give further scope for private parties and celebrations. Hotels will be packed to overflowing. London has 12,000 bedrooms in first-class hotels and 300,000 bedrooms in smaller hotels and boarding houses. Special trains to be used as overnight hotels will ring the city. Yes, indeed, London is planning to crown the new king, and how!

That new baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet (Chamber of Commerce) Reeves has been tagged Bradford Frank in honor of a couple of uncles. Mr. Reeves had thought some of running a prize contest to select a name, but Mrs. Reeves changed his mind about it. Ely (Insurance) Fonville runs the ex-mayor Jimmy Walker of New York a close second for dapperism. Or, maybe, he's a step ahead.

Pampa already has begun to get ready for the big three-day competition among about 80 school bands from 36 counties in the Northwest Texas Band and Orchestra association. The big music festival is scheduled for April 22, 23, and 24. It is the first time the district meeting has come to Pampa, and local school and music officials are leaving nothing undone in their arrangements for the program in which hundreds of school musicians from Northwest Texas will take part.

Spring was here again (yesterday) as this was written. But, the Panhandle weatherman still is a tricky bird, so there's no use getting over-confident about his balmy atmosphere. One hopes he wasn't just April-fooling. Ball players were in action out at Road Runner park, and that's a good sign. School campuses are alive with spring ball players, too. Definitely, winter is on the run. And, now, this would be a good place to drop in a spring rhyme, if we could think up one—but the muses fail us completely.

NOW, LET'S SEE—

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—The theatrical season is at its low ebb at the moment; nevertheless, a drama took place on the stage the other night that was far from anything its authors intended.

It happened during the first act of a brand new comedy, and the audience had hardly settled into its seats when the episode began.

One of the actors suddenly walked over to another actor and began to pat him on the cheek. Incredulous, but making a gallant effort to convince the audience that this was really a part of the play, the recipient of this odd attention locked hands with his playful colleague and began to engineer him off stage.

Finally, the now thoroughly annoyed player hauled the man into the wings, but he immediately broke free and pranced back before the footlights. Seeing a divan handy, he flopped down on it and cried, "My God, I'm tired. I want to rest a moment, but I'll be all right in just a little while."

"This was as far as this weird drama got," the attendant barked stage-rang down the curtain, and a thoroughly perplexed spokesman hurried out front to convince the audience that things really would be okay in a short time. "There's been a little accident backstage," he said. "One of our stars has become ill, but the stage manager will go on in his place."

Naturally the audience was jittery with excitement, but the players themselves were quickly in hand. There was a moment during that wild first act when the whole thing was threatened to fly to pieces, but the danger quickly passed. There wasn't another single flaw till the end of the play.

Such episodes are rare in New York, but they are by no means unknown. All Broadway remembers the night several years ago when a fancy drama opened before an audience, shin deep in ermine, that represented most of the Social Register.

In the pit the orchestra was climbing to a brave crescendo. Just then a giant Negro, ducking past the door-man, hurried down the aisle and hit the director in the nose. Never was there such an exciting moment in the theater as THAT one. Women fainted, men scrambled over chairs, and a riot was imminent. However, the police dashed in and quickly had everything under control. When it finally went up the curtain was only 55 minutes late.

The cause of the trouble is as much of a mystery now as it was then. Nobody ever has been able to learn what grudge the sepia belter was nursing.

SOLO OPPOSES IMPORTATION OF DEADLY SNAKES.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Rep. Alfred N. Phillips Jr. of Connecticut doesn't like the idea of importing poisonous snakes into the United States.

He fears that in case of earthquake, flood or other disaster "these reptiles might escape from zoos and breed in their new habitat." The congressman plans to introduce legislation banning or curtailing the importation of dangerous reptiles after he has completed his work on the more pressing problems of slum clearance, minimum wages and neutrality.

"When I have such legislation prepared for introduction you can be assured that no fear of anything will deter me from doing my duty as I see it," he said.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULFILING

Kids' day suffices for celebrating April Fool in Pampa high school, but it was different and not quite so sensible when I was a young boy. Then we all went to a one-room school down on Pecan creek in Wise county. It was taught by Aunt Frances who was in her early twenties, and how she loved fun! Every year the Wild Cat gang that lived down Cattlet creek tried to pull something on her on April Fool day, but she was too smart for them. One year they thought sure they had her. There were in their bunch about a half-dozen boys and girls, and the boys were about 17 and they went bare-footed when they wanted to run fast.

Well, that April fool they got up at 4 o'clock and went to the school house and nailed the doors and windows shut from the inside, and sat down to wait. But Aunt Frances was a smart one. She slipped out of her room, had seen the boys in a huddle and they figured things out. They got up at midnight and walked three miles through lone woods and pastures to the school, got up in the ceiling and set up side-splitting laughter when the kids from down the creek had nailed themselves in. Aunt Frances and her abettors came down out of the ceiling. The teacher wrote a note directing the rest of the pupils where to find them, tucked on, unlocked the school house door, then lit out up the creek on an all-day picnic.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—Never a dull moment, riding about this town. You don't need a map to tell you this is Hollywood; the commercial signs do that.

The movies, overlord of local industry, and indirectly responsible for many lay their ballyhooing fingers on the signboards of business enterprise. From real estate to sandwiches, the movie touch creeps in.

How's Your Health?

Edited by DR. IAGO GILDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

DANGERS OF PURGING

The American people spend vast sums of money on cathartics and purges. Thereby they waste both their health and their substance.

No part of the human anatomy is more the everyday concern of the average man than the upper and lower ends of the gastrointestinal tract. What between the alkalies and mythical acidities, and purges for equally mythical auto-intoxications, it's a wonder people manage to keep so much modicum of sense and well-being.

This preoccupation with evacuation is more a problem of psychology than of clinical medicine. Why are people so concerned? Why are some patients so miserable when their established rhythm has been upset?

Given a delay in evacuation, there are some individuals who will promptly develop a headache, complain of lassitude, spots before their eyes, etc. They are more the victims of auto-suggestion than auto-intoxication.

About the excretions of the body mankind has centered a multitude of rigorous taboos. These are unclean, even unmentionable. While taboos are seldom "reasonable" in origin, it is possible that mankind throughout the ages has learned from experience the wisdom of the sanitary disposal of wastes.

These taboos are with us today, and account for our excessive preoccupation with these matters. Little children are told that they are good when they evacuate to order, and the idea that an action of the bowels is meritorious and salutary lingers in many adult minds, as is witnessed in the very expression, "a cleansing."

Were these taboos inert peculiarities of our mind or emotions they might be looked upon with tolerant amusement. Unfortunately, however, they lead to action. Sick people, especially children, are purged, first and often, at times when they can little stand having their digestive tracts irritated, and when the consequent loss of body fluids will make them sicker.

A person suffering fever needs all his body fluids. The very constipation developed may be an attempt on the part of the body to conserve its fluid resources. It does not seem wise then to upset the sick person further by the administration of a purge.

If evacuation is indicated, the plain warm water enema will serve. This is much more the logical and preferable procedure, at least until such time as the doctor changes the order.

boulevard the "style center of the world" where women shoppers in slacks and hair done up in curlers as likely as not, promenade their pet pooches. Dog and cat hospitals. Was there ever a town with so many?

You are invited to meet and eat with the stars, to dine and dance with the stars, to "rendevous with the stars" at cocktail time. And (page the ghost of Ziegfeld!) a new open-air barbecue heralded itself as "glorifying the American sandwich."

This one has nothing to do with pictures but I like it anyway; a laundry proclamation "we wash everything but the baby" (and probably leaving that to the Hays office). One of the most noted signs about town is that of Read & Wright (realtors, not producers). But my favorite sign, which has nothing to do with pictures but ought to have is that of "The American Beauty Shoppe" (Pariz-vous English, nein?).

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. How many newspapers are owned by William Randolph Hearst? A. P.

A. According to a recent article in Editor and Publisher, William Randolph Hearst now owns 25 dailies, 13 magazines, and 10 radio stations. That is described as the $220,000,000 empire of the celebrated publisher includes newspaper syndicates, wire services, motion pictures, mines, and real estate.

Q. How much tax-exempt property do the churches own in the United States? S. M.

A. They own about four billion dollars' worth of tax-exempt property.

Q. How many blind people are there in the world? H. L.

A. The number is estimated at 6,000,000.

Q. What career did Frank Sautiere, the youngest member of the A. E. F., follow when he grew up? T. B.

A. He emigrated at Bordeaux, France, in 1917 at the age of 12 years, 7 months. After the war, he attended college and became a newspaper man. He is now on the staff of a Boston newspaper.

Q. When did Sherlock Holmes first appear in literature? M. F.

A. He was introduced in 1887 in Study in Scarlet.

Q. What was the Baring Panic? L. H. S.

A. This panic in England in 1890 came at the end of a period of violent over-speculation. The failure of the brokerage house of Baring Bros. precipitated the panic which at once spread to a number of other banks and brokerage houses. The intensity was alleviated by loans of gold obtained by the Bank of England from the Bank of St. Petersburg and the Bank of France.

Q. Is Gabriele d'Annunzio living? If so, how old is he? W. H.

A. The poet was 74 years old on March 12.

Q. How long has the ceremony which will be followed in the coronation of King George VI been used? F. D.

A. The ritual known as the Liber Regalis, adopted in 1307, has with some modification from time to time been used in the crowning of all English kings since that date, and will be followed in the 1937 ceremony.

SIDE GLANCES

This, That and Everything

BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK

The time of year has come when people begin to think of picnicking and hiking across the wilds of nature. It is also a good idea for one who goes out on hikes to brush up on the best technique in the treatment of snake bites. The Scout motto, "be prepared," is a good slogan for all to observe.

Speaking of snake bites, it seems very strange that the venom from a rattlesnake makes its attack upon the blood of the victim, while in the case of a bite from a coral snake, the nerves are the principal part of the body affected. Because the rattlesnake venom tends to destroy the corpuscles of the blood, it is called haemotoxic. The poison from the coral snake is termed "neurotoxic" due to the fact that it attacks the nerves.

While the methods and types of injury may vary widely according to the particular kind of snake afflicting them, the method treating the different ones are about the same in each instance.

IRISH LEADERS

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The football captaincy is an honor no Notre Dame man would turn down, but for three successive years misfortune in the form of ill health has come to elected leaders of the "Fighting Irish."

Joe Sullivan of New York was elected captain of the 1935 team, but didn't live to fill the position. He died March 20, 1935, after several mastoid operations.

William Robert Smith of Hackensack, N. J., was elected to lead the 1936 team. Three operations for removal of gallstones kept him from ever putting on a uniform during the season.

Joseph Zwiers of Grand Rapids, Mich., is the third of the captains-elect to go under the surgeon's knife. The 1937 captain recently was hustled to a hospital for removal of his appendix. Zwiers will not be able to participate in spring practice but will be available in the fall according to Dr. J. E. McMeel, university physician.

CITY PAYS BILLS WITH GAS WELL REVENUE.

LANCASTER, O. (AP)—This city has been running its government on gas for 50 years and is still doing so profitably. A city council report for the first two months of 1937 shows a profit of $15,572 from 74 municipally owned wells. Since 1887 when the city first took over and consolidated several privately owned natural gas well companies, the profits have provided funds for erection of an elaborate municipal building and a good income for operation of government.

DISAGREE. New Deal spokesmen say that there will not be any tax legislation at this session of Congress. Senate leaders say that there will be no additional tax legislation during 1937.

STEEL. Steel output next week will hold all recent operating gains. Barring labor difficulties, production during the summer months will be at or near record levels.

OUTLOOK. While speculative interests are frightened because of the stock market's sharp price decline during the past few weeks, long-pull people are quietly picking up so-called bargains.

BAD. The United States Industrial Alcohol deficit reported for 1936 confirmed the pessimistic forecasts of interests close to the management.

POLITICS. Few people in New York and outside of the state lines realize why so many smart people are quietly easing out of tobacco company shares.

LIQUORS. Despite the fact that most statistical and dopester services are bullish on the liquor shares there is very little large buying evident.

NEUTRALITY ACT IS CALLED GUESSING GAME BY DUTCHER

LEGISLATION, EXISTENT AND PENDING, SAID TO BE VAGUE

By RODNEY DURCHER
NEWS Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 2 — Just where this country would be left if a Spanish government submarine should torpedo an American ship carrying munitions or other war materials to Italy is a question to which you can't get even a semi-official answer here.

Speculation as to the consequences of such an incident, however, is bound to get back to these facts: 1.—That neutrality legislation, existent and pending, leaves it entirely up to the President to determine whether a state of war or civil war exists abroad.

2.—That no provisions of the neutrality bills passed by the two houses of Congress, whether "mandatory" or "discretionary," can go into effect unless the President formally finds and declares such a state of war to exist.

3.—That the aggressive military powers of the world are falling out of the habit of declaring war, preferring to wage war, when they can, under the pretense that they're doing nothing of the sort.

4.—That such powers thus leave themselves free to brand as an unfriendly act any formal declaration of war by this, or any other government, that they are in a state of war—especially when the declaration is an instrument for enforcing commercial embargoes or other restrictions.

5.—That all this leaves operation of the neutrality act a sort of a guessing game, with the State department guessing how best to keep America out of war—assuming that's what they want most. It also leaves a wide field in which to play the game of international politics, which diplomats have been playing from time immemorial.

So much can be said without reference to the sections of the Pittman and McReynolds bills, now being ironed out in conference, which confer other discretionary powers on the President. The Pittman bill leaves it up to the President to decide whether if any materials, in addition to munitions, American ships should be prohibited from carrying to a country he decides is at war. The President also must decide when and whether belligerent vessels should be barred from using American ports as supply stations. The McReynolds bill is believed to be more satisfactory to the administration than the Pittman bill. It leaves it to the President to decide whether or not to require that title to all shipments to belligerent nations shall have been transferred to the foreign buyer, and whether or not American citizens should be prohibited from traveling on belligerent ships.

Munitions to Spain were embargoed by a special act of Congress early in January. This act stands until "in the judgment of the President the conditions of civil war described in the act have ceased to exist. The new general neutrality act will enable the President to prescribe its provisions when he finds a state of civil war to exist, but there is nothing in it to compel him to find any such thing or to find that a state of war exists between nations.

Just One Situation
Italy has a large army in Spain. Germany also has troops there, according to reliable reports. Germany and Italy are permitted to buy airplane engines and other munitions and implements of war in this country.

It is fairly easy for spectators to conclude that Italy and Germany are at war with the Spanish government. The new neutrality law will permit Roosevelt to declare Italy and Germany at war with Spain and embargo munitions to them as urged by Senator Nye. There is no indication that he will. Yet that hypothetical case of the torpedoing of an American vessel carrying munitions to Italy stands as an example of just one of the situations that may develop.

There is nothing in the prospective neutrality statute which could prevent the state department from going to such an extreme as it recently did in prohibiting American physicians and nurses from accompanying ambulances to Spain and administering to mangled women and children in Madrid. The fact that this order was rescinded only after some highly secret backstage lobbying and wire pulling is an interesting commentary.

Japan did not declare war on China when she invaded Manchuria and shelled Shanghai. Italy declared no war on Ethiopia. Italy and Germany have declared no war on Spain. A law asking that the President decide whether such conflicts and others which will arise are states of war, brings to mind the recent statement of Senator Key Pittman, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee:

"There is not the slightest evidence that Italy as a government is doing anything in the Spanish civil war. There is evidence that great numbers of Italian soldiers are going in."

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, April 2 (P)—The "number one" evils of 1935 and 1936 said Senator E. M. Davis of Brownwood were "the attitude of many people that the government can be depended on for everything" and "the universal craze for gambling."

He made the statement in urging a Senate committee to report favorably a bill to repeal legalized wagering on horse racing, which the committee a few minutes later did by a vote of 8 to 6.

"I think it is time to do something about those evils," Davis said.

The hearing was one of the noisiest and drew perhaps as many spectators as any held at this session of the legislature.

There was a big crowd, not only on the floor of the Senate chamber and the galleries, but it overflowed on the rostrum of the Senate president. Gov. James V. Allred had a seat at the press table.

The storm of applause that greeted the opening speeches by advocates of repeal created the impression at first that the crowd was on the side of those seeking to knock out the racing law, but later there was equal applause for the opponents. Apparently the sentiment, like the vote in the committee, was about evenly divided.

There was plenty of wise-cracking. One man friendly to legalized wagering talked of the traditional love of Texans for horses and Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock referred to the speech when he arose.

"He said his father rode a horse into Texas 50 years ago," said Nelson. "Yes, and when his daddy took the saddle off he hooked the mare up to a Georgia stock plow and raised corn and cotton."

Nelson said all the horses they talk about raising as a result of the racing law "couldn't plow a crooked furrow."

W. C. Repass of Houston, newspaper editor, opposing repeal, told the story of an old negro who was talking through a wood when a rain storm came up.

The thunder rolled and the lightning flashed and the negro, more afraid of the former than the latter, finally prayed:

"Oh, Lord! Please give me a little more light and a little less noise."

Repass said that what was needed in the controversy over the race betting situation.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (P)—University of Michigan and Michigan State college baseball teams will be meeting this spring for the 49th year. They started playing in 1888, dividing a 2-game series. They have played 56 games, Michigan winning 35, Michigan State copping 20, and one ending in a tie. Notre Dame has played Michigan State on 41 occasions, the Spartans winning 16, losing 25.

THERE'S ONLY ONE WAY TO STOP CONSTIPATION

You have to correct the cause. Simply taking a pill now and then is just temporary—and often harmful.

Most constipation is due to meals low in "bulk." Put enough "bulk" in your diet and you can really correct common constipation.

That's why millions of people eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day. This cereal furnishes "bulk" which does not "break down" in the body. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, gently sponges and cleanses the system.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food—not a medicine. You buy it at the grocery store. Besides "bulk," it has vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily with milk or cream. Three times daily in severe cases. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

OKLAHOMA COP'S 'BOTTLED CLUB' QUELLS DRUNKS

Part of his night's work is getting drunks out of pool halls, beer joints and dives where they have passed out.

and later lodge assault charges against them." Todd has a painless technique. He holds a bottle of double-strength ammonia under the snorer's nose and almost instantly the drunk comes to life and straightens up, sneezing, and with a clear head. "It really sobers them up," says Todd, "and I find out where they live and send them home and don't have to beat them all up with a club and then take them to the police station."
