New capsule aids digestion, helps prevent indigestion, gas, heartburn, before distress begins

Because of today's fast, hectic living pace, we often suffer indigestion, gas, heartburn and other uncomfortable forms of painful stomach tension. But now, a new digestant enzyme capsule, called MIAZYME can help prevent these conditions before they begin.

Everyone's greatest possession is the 24 hours just ahead of him.

If you properly digest the food you eat, chances are you will not suffer stomach distress. This is due to the action of enzymes, manufactured in the digestive process. But when these enzymes fall below par, you are apt to suffer indigestion, gas, bloating, heartburn, etc.

There is some speculation that Khrushchev might choose to accept one of the optional plans suggested by the Chinese-with a lower ranking delegation of either side going to the capital of the other. But some, Communist sources in London have come up with an ininteresting possible compromise. They suggest that if any meeting at all comes up, it might be settled on the basis of an exchange of visits-with Khrushchev first going to Peking, and then some time not too long afterwards with Mao visiting Moscow. This, at least, would have the saving grace of keeping either from losing face by going to the other's capital on command. Their last meeting was in 1959, when Khrushchev was in Peking for the third time. Mao has been to Moscow only once. De Gaulle Showdown:

Aides say President Charles de Gaulle is itching for a showdown by which he hopes to break the strength of France's labor unions should the current wave of strikes continue indefinitely. They say he figures the time will be ripe towards the end of this month. By then, coal stocks will be exhausted, gas and electric supplies cut and industry perhaps grinding to a standstill. At that point, he believes public opinion would swing behind him it he starts using strongarm measures of com-

But that swing will have to be a radical one, for at present much of French public opinion strongly supports the striking workers in the state-owned industries and mines, for it feels they are lagging behind the rest of the country in economia benefits.

ing of the philosophy of freedom will advance more rapidly as more and more thinking human beings begin to discard time worn cliches in favor of logic. One of the illogical notions insists that men and women, that all human beings, are by their very nature, gregarious, and inclined to collectivism. If this were true there would be no nomads or explorers or farmers, hunters, fishermen, inventors, writers, artists or individualists. If it were true all of us would be searching for just another form of collectivism to supplant existing collectivism. I hold that men are by nature, individualists and it is for this reason I wish you:

The Doctor

Some Kinds of Anemia By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

How often when looking for one thing we find another! This is as true in medicine as in other sciences. A striking example has just come to my attention. For several years, male sex hormons has been used to treat women with breast cancer. Although it does not produce a cure it often brings about a marked improvement. As with most forms of chemical treatment, certain side effects are observed. For the most part these are the masculinizing symptom? to be expected from this form of treatment: acne, huskiness of the voice and an increase in facial

When this treatment failed it was found to be due to not using large enough doses of the horiron, although iron alone would months for the blood to respond. This is in no way to be considered an answer to all anemias. Most persons with anemia are more effectively treated by conventional measures; and not all the stubborn cases of anemia could be improved by the use of male hormone, but these studies have given your doctor one more means of combating a disease that all too-often taxes his ingenuity.

despicable power helpless. He fails to see that power sufficient to over-power existing power would bring into being a force of equal or greater tyranny. We find here the old story of hoping for a good evil which will over power a bad evil The author indicates a willingness to believe the power unleashed against the people came into being without the consent of the people. He holds to the belief that most of the population would rather be free than enslaved, and I believe this to be wishful thinking. In effect, he suggests a new political party to whom the people may turn over their responsibilities, new heroes and newly organized political activity. With the exception of his plea for adoption of the Liberty Amendment which would repeal the federal income tax laws, Mr. Poeschel ignores the fact that only a reduction in the size and cost and power of government will prove of real benefit, He provides a fervent plea for what he calls free enterprise but does not suggest that private enterprise can do anything better than can government. Obviously, since he advocates a government sufficiently powerful to overpower the existing power in government, he does not attack totalitarianism so much on principle as he does the contemporary bosses of totalitarianism which supports the socialist conglomer-

"It Is High Time" is well written, it moves quickly and the price is only $2. There are times when you realize that Mr. Poeschel has almost been trapped by his own logic into understanding that he's advocating powerful political action to combat political power and force. Eventually, I believe, the author's ability to reason will bring him to a more positive belief in-freedom.
