CHAMBER OF COMMERCE Growth or Disaster?

Langishing on shelves in towns all over the country are copies of expertly prepared and expensively bought community surveys... a complete waste of money and effort, for they are not being used.

Muleshoe business men recently paid a good price to Texas A & M University experts to prepare such a survey for Muleshoe. It contains a number of recommendations for the improvement and growth of our city.

If we do not heed these recommendations, we will have been penny wise and pound foolish.

Paramount among the recommendations made in the A & M survey is that the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce be completely re-organized. The survey points out that the Chamber must be made to be the single effective vehicle for furthering our progress, and growth and prosperity. It further points out the futility of breaking down the Chamber's effectiveness through division and splintering.

The Chamber's operation is only the beginning. Once this is done, then the people of the community must invest their time and talent in carrying out the most important tasks facing the future of Muleshoe.

But this must be done through concentrating on each problem separately, and not through chipping away ineffectively at a hundred different small plagues of the overall problem.

It's not romantic. It's not simple, or glamorous, or likely to produce any magic formula. It can be done only through work, interest and genuine desire to improve our lot.

The committee on reorganization has submitted the following report to the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Due to the financial difficulties of the Chamber of Commerce and the very real possibility of it being dissolved for a lack of interest on the part of individuals, businesses and the City Government this committee was appointed to make recommendations to the Board of Directors for the improvement in the effectiveness of the Chamber of Commerce so that possible dissolution could be avoided.

The committee feels that business leaders, individuals and the city government will have more interest in the Chamber of Commerce if they have a financial stake in its programs. Membership in the Chamber of Commerce is an investment not a contribution.

We believe that a minimum dues should be established and strictly adhered to for individuals, businesses and the city government. We therefore recommend the following to the Board of Directors:

1. That a minimum dues be established as follows:

- (a) Individuals not in business $30.00 per year.
- (b) Individuals in business such as managers where the business is also a member $50.00 per year.
- (c) Businesses including professional men, life insurance or other types of salesmen, a minimum of $60.00 per year.

WRECKAGE -- An early morning wreck 21 miles southwest of Muleshoe, near Coyote Lake, took the life of one local youth and another remains in fair condition in West Plains Hospital. Sam Johnson was killed and Jim Street injured when the Ranchoero they were in failed to make a curve and rolled three times.

Three Needed To Fill School System Vacancies

With Texas facing another teacher shortage this year, Muleshoe schools lack three filling vacancies created by teachers resigning and retiring.

Superintendent Neal Dillman said Friday that the position of high school counselor had not been filled and the school is in need of a choir director and one fifth grade teacher.

The teaching staff has been reduced for the 1967-68 school year due to the drop in enrollment last year which is the basis for the number of teachers hired.

"One teacher less is being required in Junior High School and three less in elementary school," Dillman said.

Texas State Teachers Association reveals that the shortage of teachers in Texas this year remains in a sad state, however the shortage would have been much worse had there been no action taken by the Legislature in improving teacher salaries.

The action by the Legislature in providing an average annual teacher salary hike of $554 is having an early effect on bringing many better teachers back into the classroom, but more are needed.

This shortage will affect schools when they open in September over the state.

According to an editorial in TSTA's official publication, "Texas Outlook," the basis for the predicted shortage this September is the experience being encountered in TSTA's Teacher Registration Service at the Association's Austin headquarters.

The editorial said that by mid-July, the Teacher Registration Service had fewer teacher applicants for a larger number of teaching positions than at the same time last year.

"And last year," noted the editorial, "has been acknowledged as a record-breaking year in the teacher supply drought."

The TSTA office is not the only avenue for teacher job applications, but its work load offers strong evidence of the statewide situation.

Many, though not all, Texas superintendents list available teaching positions with TSTA's registration service.

This year 1951 vacancies have been listed by superintendents using the service. At the same time last year there were 100 more applicants and 300 less vacancies.

The only field in which there appears a surplus of teachers for teaching jobs available is social studies.

The dark side of the ledger shows only four math teachers have registered with 198 vacancies listed in that field. There are 30 science teachers registered for 127 vacant positions.

Other short fields include almost the entire spectrum of girls' physical education and Spanish teachers high up on the list of vacancies.

Even coaching jobs are begging, apparently, TSTA has only 40 hopeful coaches registered to fill 91 available jobs.

"It looks like another mad scramble for teachers this year, without a solution to the problem in sight," TSTA Executive Secretary Charles H. Tenyson said.

"The children will be there when school opens," he said, "but where will the teachers come from? We have the consolation of knowing however, that the shortage would be far worse had there been no action by the Legislature this year in improving salary schedules."

Of the situation Superintendent Dillman said "It is really the worst teacher situation I have seen."

Law Officer Activities Varied

Law enforcement officers "hit the road" Wednesday night. Burglary, an entangled wreck and an attempt car theft all came about in the fore part of the night.

Sheriff Dee Clements investigated the burglary at the Verney Towns home (see related story).

Deputy Buddy Clark was called out on the report of a telephone post being hit near the Water Pump Station on Highway 84 east and was informed that a man driving a 1958 Cadillac had hit the pole and was being brought into town in a truck.

Clements and Black started to the scene and about three miles out, found the highway was impassable as the wires, reportedly swinging low over the highway had been hit by a truck and torn down.

Bailey County Electric was called and line repair was completed some time later.

City Patrolman Larry Hensley was called to 202 West 12th after an attempt was made to steal a car at that address. The intended thief dropped the keys, scaled a six foot fence and made his get-away good (on foot) after a neighbor spotted him and hollered at him.

Accident Takes Life of Youth, Another Injured

Services Held For Johnson

A shattering one-car accident took the life of a Muleshoe youth and resulted in severe injuries to another county youth. The accident occurred at approximately 12:30 a.m. Thursday 21 miles southwest of Muleshoe.

Pronounced dead at the scene by Bailey County Judge Don Cihak was a Samuel Franklin Johnson, 18 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. N.L. (Red) Johnson, a life-long resident of Muleshoe.

Injured and in West Plains Hospital here is Jim Street, 19 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M.C. Street, Route 5, Muleshoe. Street is said to have been the driver of the 1967 Ranchoero.

Failing to negotiate a curve, the Ranchoero left FM 1904 near the starting point of the curve and overturned three times as it traveled several hundred yards over the steep embankment.

Street told investigating officer, Highway Patrolman Freddie Jack that they were enroute to the street home, one and one half miles from the accident scene. The youths were not discovered until seven hours after the accident when J.H. Lackey, farmer in that area spotted the vehicle, upside down on the west side of the road.

SERVICES HELD

Services for Johnson were held at 3 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Don Murray, minister and Rev. J. Frank Peery, First Methodist Church minister officiating.

Burial was in Bailey County Memorial Park under direction of Singleton Funeral Home. Johnson was born September 1, 1948 and was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Charial was a member of Muleshoe High School and was a member of the school golf team and participated in a number of other school activities and held offices in several school organizations. He attended Texas Tech throughout the fall term last year and from the first of the summer semester.

Classified as a freshman, he was enrolled in the school of arts and sciences. He was also a member of the Tech golf team.

Survivors other than his parents are a brother, Dick, Lubbock and a sister, Mrs. Joe King, Muleshoe; a grandmother, Mrs. Lou Johnson and grandfather, P.E. Wilemon.

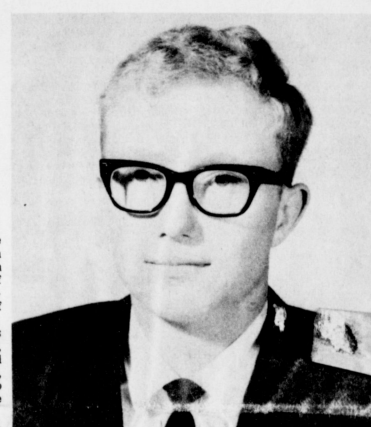

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Don Murray, minister and Rev. J. Frank Peery, First Methodist Church minister officiating.

Attends College

Street attended South Plains Junior College in Levelland last year and is classified as a sophomore.

His parents were vacationing in Red River and were located through the efforts of the Bailey County Sheriff's office in cooperation with New Mexico police late Thursday.

Attendees list his condition as "fair" in West Plains Hospital Saturday. He is suffering from a broken back and other injuries.

Monday is Kids Day

Calling ALL kids! Monday, August 7 will be "KIDS DAY" in Muleshoe. The program is being sponsored by the Business Activities Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

A full agenda, packed with fun for everyone, has been slated to start at 2 p.m. on the vacant lot south of Muleshoe High School.

There will be sack races, bicycle races, a potato contest, relay races, a swimming meet and the final of the day is a big event, a greased pig race.

Prizes for winners of the events will total $125. in cash.

All parents are urged to bring their children to town and plan an afternoon out.

New Publication Tells Mule Story

Pete's image, the Muleshoe Mule Memorial Statue remains in Muleshoe on its mounting at the north end of Main Street on Highway 84, yet is a national and international traveler.

There is just never a way of predicting where his picture and/or story will show up next. His story is sort of the "Home to Dome" rovertype thing.

This week, a relatively new publication, the third edition of "Barb Wire Times" published in McAlester, Okla. made it's way to the Journal, and there among many historical stories and pictures was a picture of the Mule Statue with the word "Mule" which is a part of the word Muleshoe painted on the water tower showing plainly above the sway of the animal's back.

The caption beneath the picture read: "Residents of Muleshoe, Texas displayed their awareness of the value of the mule in tilling the land by erecting this monument. In the old L.T. Tobucksey (now Pittsburg) County Court House, still standing on north main street in McAlester, Okla., a Choctaw Indian judge meted out punishment for mule larceny. Stealing a mule (first offense) fifty lashes on the bare back. Stealing a mule (second offense) death by the rifle, attesting to the importance of a mule in Indian Territory."

This unique publication contains pictures of many kinds of barbed wire and stories tell of modern day collectors of the old-time product.

There again, along with the statue, same page, is a letter to the editor-publisher, Bryan Wolf, from a Muleshoe historian, Cecil A. Davis, complimenting the second edition of the publication.

around muleshoe with the journal staff

Suspect Arrested

Sheriff Dee Clements began an investigation of a break-in at the Verney Towns home, 8 miles west on Highway 84, which, after some miles of tracking, lead to the arrest of a suspect in Texaco.

THEY MATCH-- These plaster casts of footprints and tire tracks displayed by Sheriff Dee Clements match those of Robert Hargett and his car. The casts were taken at the Verney Towns home and at the home of a neighbor and match those of a suspect apprehended in Texaco. An indefinite amount of money was taken. Towns said $35, was taken from one room and an indefinite amount from another room. The window in the rear of the home was broken where the burglar apparently had tried to enter. Towns said "I feel we came home just as he was getting started, since nothing else is missing that we know of."

Verney Towns Home Burglarized

Identified as Robert Hargett, the suspect was taken into custody about 9 p.m. Thursday. Sheriff Clements went to the Towns home after being informed of the break-in and found entry had been gained by prying the garage door open into the house. After checking the house, Clements waited for daylight Thursday and resumed the investigation.

Clements found track across the Santa Fe Railroad and followed them back across highway 84 toward the south on to the Towns home.

The tracks lead from the house by way of the back door. It is suspected that the burglar was in the house at the time Towns returned home around 11:30 Wednesday night, as tracks lead from the back door and into a field of grain where, in tracking him, Clements found where he had crawled about one-fourth mile south of the house, around to the west and back across the railroad tracks, then back east to the car.

The trail lead from that spot to a neighbor's house. The neighbor said "I was awakened about 3 a.m. when someone knocked on the door, then came around to the side of the house and threw a light into the bedroom window. The home owner got his gun and went out to investigate.

Outside, he found the man he said was Robert Hargett who had previously worked for Towns. Hargett told him that he was out of gas and left, going back down the turn row. In a few minutes, a car started about Cont. on Page 2, Col. 3

WASHINGTON BUREAU

Washington, D.C. -- The most powerful political figure in the Republican camp, despite the fact that he is retired and often reticent, is former President Dwight Eisenhower. That's why his recent criticism of the way President Johnson is handling the war in Vietnam is major news.

Heretofore Johnson has been careful to brief Ike and to seek his support in times of difficulty. And because Ike has always believed in the team philosophy and in unity on foreign policy this has brought from him statements of support for Johnson's Vietnam policy. Recently, however, Johnson seems to have tripped himself up when he used one of his old Senate techniques in gathering General William Westmoreland, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara and Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Earle Wheeler at the White House for a show of unity.

President Johnson invited the press in and asked each of the three men if there was agreement on U.S. policy and each, in turn, answered affirmatively. But only a day or two before McNamara had been saying we needed to increase the percentage of our fighting troops compared to office and support troops.

This was implied criticism of manpower utilization among the 450,000 American troops in Vietnam. Westmoreland had asked for between 70,000 and 150,000 new troops. In addition, McNamara said the South Vietnamese are not doing enough fighting. On top of this, McNamara is pushing an extension of a cleared zone, or static defense line, south of the DMZ which many military men in Vietnam oppose.

Thus there are differences, real differences. The President is up against hard budget and economic considerations and as his trained manpower reserve runs thin and the cost of the war increases rapidly he is reluctant to undertake still another major escalation, which is likely to cost many more lives and much more money. In effect, Johnson was saying no, for the most part, to Westmoreland. But he was determined not to allow a split to develop and to come let us reason together" conference of the three men, and for that reason questioned them publicly in front of the press.

Representatives To Attend FB Texas Seminar

Five well-known lecturers will speak to the group. An added feature to this year's program will be the appearance of several young inmates from the Texas Department of Corrections who will tell their past experiences.

The three county youths are being sponsored by Bailey County Farm Bureau.

year with the ability to pay and their vested interest considered and their dues established by the board before membership is allowed. A list of present members showing their present annual dues as well as their recommended dues by this committee is attached. The committee feels that the recommended dues for each member is a minimum and is fair in all its aspects and would not cause any undue hardship on any business, individual or city government.

2. That the recommended breakdown of committees by the Texas A & M Research team be followed as is outlined in their report under "Problem Area 1, Page 18."

3. That the City of Muleshoe be requested to join the Chamber at a minimum dues of $600.00 per year since their water, sewer and garbage business is a service and it has more at stake in the growth of Muleshoe than any other service business. This was also recommended by the research team.

4. That the by-laws of the Chamber be strictly adhered to in requiring the presence of Board Members at meetings.

5. That the Board set up a meeting in the near future for the General Membership aided by telephone committees requesting their presence.

The report was signed by: Alex H. Williams, chairman, Eddie Faust, secretary, Harvey Bass, Roy Whit, Jim Cox, M.D. Gunstream, Vic Benedict and Don Harmon.

Outdoor Cooking Cool Treat

COLLEGE STATION, Aug.-- Outdoor cooking offers a cool summer for the homemaker who some years ago would have prepared the family meal over a hot stove.

And not only can the main dish be cooked out-of-doors on the grill, but accompanying vegetables can be prepared outside also, thanks to the convenience of aluminum foil.

Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A & M University, suggests piping hot roasting ears, baked sweet or Irish potatoes, tomatoes and onions or vegetable hobo packs to spruce up an outside meal. Add salt, pepper, butter or margarine to the vegetables before cooking, with the exception of the baked potatoes.

Cut tomatoes in half crosswise, season and place this onion slice between the halves. The vegetable hobo pack consists of a y frozen or canned vegetable.

Miss Reasonover suggests wrapping the food with a "drug store" wrap. Bring the two sides of the aluminum foil evenly together at the top. Fold the two edges together until tight around the food. Fold

TIPS

To concoct a tartar sauce that tastes especially delicious with fish or seafood, and plenty of drained capers to the mayonnaise preparation. If you like large-size capers, look for jars of them in the section of a food market that is stocked with spanish-style foods. Regular bottled capers, available in all large food markets, are small-size.

Jones is a graduate of Fort Sumner, N.M. high school, has served in the US navy for four years, and will be entering South Plains Junior College at the fall semester.

Foam-Backed Drapes Taking Market

COLLEGE STATION--Foam backed draperies are being added to nearly every manufacturer's line in the market, says Bonny Lay, Extension home furnishings specialist at Texas A & M University.

The foam backings first introduced last season, now appear on the fiberglass fabrics, linen and wool. The jacquard weave takes the primary position, but the backing appears on plain weaves, including prints and solids.

The backings will penetrate the retail scene in many variations during the rest of the year, says the specialist. The Home Curtain Company will introduce this fall the first Milium elastomer foam backing for draperies on the market. These Milium insulated draperies will be available in white, eggshell and pastels.

Burlington House, which introduced the aerocellular acrylic lining, Sheffield 600, last year will also introduce this fall a crushed foam backing for draperies in the moderate priced range. It will offer complete opacity by removing the "spongy air bubbles" that give the present foam backings a kidskin effect.

There are several advantages to having foam backed draperies. The lining foam helps insulate against heat and cold, possesses some acoustical qualities, protects the fabric from sun fading and gives the drapery body, depth and dimension.

The backing is permanently bonded to the fabric by a machine, but it may be picked loose. Most are guaranteed not to crack or peel under normal wear. If the foam is bonded to a washable drapery fabric, it too is machine washable, but other wise it should be drycleaned. Be sure to read the label to determine the correct method of cleaning.

Roland Bigham suffered a badly crushed ankle Tuesday afternoon while roping at the grounds of the Muleshoe Roping Club. Bigham had just roped a calf and was hurt when he leaped from his horse to tie the calf.

Contract for the first of the new buildings planned for Muleshoe's new school campus was let Monday night by the school board. It was for a building 39 feet wide by 94 feet long to house the vocational agriculture and industrial education departments of the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ladd and sons left Sunday for Durango and Alamosa, Colorado, to spend several days.

Washington Report

From Congressman BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1223 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20535

Thomas Jefferson, the architect of our Constitution, wrote in 1791: "I had rather be exposed to the inconveniences attending too much liberty than to those attending too small a degree of it."

Were Jefferson here today, he would surely agree that there is more than inconvenience attending "too much liberty" or rather the abuse of liberty, local investigations of the violence, the President has appointed a Special Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders and I have joined other House members in a resolution calling for a select committee to conduct a full and complete investigation to determine the causes of the riots.

The House Un-American Activities Committee has also scheduled hearings on the subversive elements involved and the Senate Judiciary Committee has called hearings on the House-passed anti-riot bill.

But these hearings will not stop the near state of insurrection the country is now in. The basic concept of government is protection of its citizens and the answer now must be a hard-hitting determined effort to stop the aggression of a relatively few so that law-abiding citizens can continue to live under the protection of local governments.

The evidence mounts that the riots, looting, arson and murder in city after city across the nation may be the result of organized planning and execution on a national scale. So clear that under no circumstances will violence and rioting be tolerated or rewarded. The abuse of freedom has gone too far.

Another Thomas Jefferson quote might be worthwhile reading for those who urge insurrection and rebellion: "A Republican government is slow to move, yet when once in motion, its momentum becomes irresistible."

Veterans Q's and A's

Q -- I live in a small community and have been unable to find a lending agency which will grant me a loan to purchase a home. How may I obtain a GI loan?

A -- Get in touch with your nearest VA Regional Office to see if your county is on the approved list for VA direct loan for home purchase.

Q -- I have National Service Life Insurance and it has been in force on the ordinary life plan since 1945. My children are now grown and self-sustaining and I have been giving some thought to discontinuing the payment of premiums and take a paid-up Policy. If I do, will my dividends be discontinued?

A -- No, but they will not be as large as on your existing policy. If you take a paid-up policy, the amount of insurance in force will be less than the present face value of your policy. The dividends will be computed on this reduced insurance coverage.

Q -- My husband still has his $10,000 National Service Life Insurance. I know that he has not changed the beneficiary since our marriage. He tells me that it is not necessary to change the beneficiary because the insurance is automatically paid to the wife of the veteran.

A -- Your husband is badly misinformed. The Veterans Administration must pay the designated beneficiary of record, even though it is evident that this will result in an inequity. If he desires that you receive the proceeds of his NSLI policy, he must name you as the beneficiary.

15 Years Ago

W.M. Pool, Jr., known to everybody as Myron, heads the administrative committee for this year's Will Rogers Memorial Roundup. Mair Pool, a former president of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, is the one most responsible for the Roundup. He has conducted daily meetings for a long time, hearing reports of other committee members, coordinating activities of all.

Several days of above 100 degree weather were climaxed last Thursday with a high of 103, according to report of H.J. Klump, weather recorder.

A glorious rain fell over a large section of the county and immediate area Monday night, with a precipitation in Muleshoe of .85 of an inch.

There is a need to look back occasionally to get our bearings for the future. Past experiences often guide future action. What has proved good and profitable in the past will often prove to be the same in the days ahead. Serving God and our country through our churches and through civil and community service has always elevated us as a people and contributed to our image as a free and just country. We will not go wrong in adhering to these practices. Attend the church of your choice this Sunday and receive inspiration and courage for the future.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Coleman Adv. Ser.

Editorials Ike's Point

Former President Dwight Eisenhower caused a stir in Washington recently when he suggested Congress consider declaring war on North Vietnam. Most of the reaction on Capitol Hill, including much from Republicans, was negative.

Eisenhower says the United States can't win "a war of gradualism," and that we're now in what amounts to a war, with 450,000 U.S. troops in Vietnam. With today's heavy fatalities and the expectation that many more Americans will be asked to give their lives, Eisenhower believes it's time to consider winning the war our first priority.

"When you must use force to support a national aim, for example in the defense of another country's freedom, there is no higher authority to which you can appeal. Therefore, you must win. To do that you must use all the power you have and you must use it quickly and secretly so as to achieve surprise."

The former President believes the mistake in our Vietnam policy was to send in U.S. troops, which former President Kennedy did in 1962 — 15,000 of them. "When President Kennedy came in we had 735 advisors in Vietnam — and the situation didn't look bad. After we sent 15,000 troops over there the character of the war changed," he recalls.

Eisenhower's position is becoming more critical of Administration policy on Vietnam, and he is said to feel General William Westmoreland should be more solidly supported by the White House. His criticisms are certain to have an effect on public opinion and major political implications.

Guest Editorial

All of us have been deeply and sadly shocked by the rioting raging through scores of American cities. This mushrooming rate of crime demands of us prompt improvement of our law enforcement facilities and forces upon its painful re-assessment of the recent history which has led our nation into unparalleled domestic crisis.

Under no circumstances can riots, arson, looting and murder be tolerated. The basic right of every American is the right to be secure in his home and his person under protection of his law. These laws must be enforced against outlaws. Likewise, every American has the basic responsibility to obey the laws. Nobody has a right to hurt another American or to damage another's property. Rioting in the streets is not an American solution to any problem of whatever magnitude. Americans need not rob and assault, for there are opportunities to improve those opportunities for all our citizens. Americans need not riot for rights, for there is open to all Americans the massive weight of the law which prescribes and enforces orderly, effective redress of grievance.

Those few who call for anarchy, incite violence and advocate bisection of our Union into "two Americas" neither a state nor a democratic society nor heed the tribulations and lessons of history which have established this indivisible Union. Some who thus agitate for the downfall of the United States do nothing less than traitors bearing allegiance to foreign powers and ideologies. It is tragic that some political spokesmen have by their public statements contributed to creation of an atmosphere in which breaking the law is tolerated. More thoughtful Americans must now combine to save our nation from the whirlwind of lawlessness, lawlessness and utopian political promises.

Nearly a year ago I proposed to the Senate an anti-riot bill providing federal punishment of agitators who cross state lines to incite disorder. Such a bill has been approved by the House of Representatives and should be passed by the Senate very soon. In addition, a Congressional investigation of the riots must be undertaken since the Executive Branch of our government has not chosen or been able to cope with the lawlessness. Emphasis must be placed on obedience to the laws, not disobedience. As your United States Senator, I pledge myself to this task with all of the energies at my command.

For the past four summers the trend toward lawlessness has been growing in our major cities. Chaos has come in the form of rioting, destruction of property, and killing of innocent citizens. We have witnessed establishment of a pattern which deeply concerns me, and I know we have noted that certain persons -- no longer content to acknowledge the rule of law -- have taken the law into their own hands. They are using the United States mail, roads and highways to help them mastermind organized outbreaks of collective lawlessness.

Beyond doubt, a pattern is recognizable. It consists of professional agitators whose task is to organize local outbreaks of lawlessness, exploit local troubles and undermine law enforcement. The ringleaders of these incidents travel from state to state. For years we have dealt with interstate lawbreakers through these of such federal statutes as those on kidnapping, rape and transportation of strike-breakers. And, we must place the same penalties on interstate riot agitators. We must insist that the Justice Department actively prosecute those responsible for current disorders. And, Congress must provide initiative toward the investigations identifying such agitators, since the Justice Department has thus far neglected to pursue such investigation.

Our democracy stands at a crossroads. We must ask ourselves a simple question: Can a disorderly society survive? Throughout history none has. Every lawless nation has decayed in disobedience of the laws. Anarchy ends liberty.

An inscription has just been carved in stone over the entrance to the headquarters in Washington of the Internal Revenue Service. Those who enter there are told: "TAXES ARE WHAT WE PAY FOR A CIVILIZED SOCIETY."

The late Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes is credited with the saying, "Some smart alecs are sure to see this and ask when we are going to get what we are buying. The fact is that, while taxes are necessary in a civilized society, taxes are not all it takes to create and maintain one."

We regard a civilized society as a society in which people have reached a relatively high degree of refinement in arts, sciences and politics. We speak here of politics in its purer meaning of the art and science of organized relationships of people, not in the more common and sometimes derogatory meaning of the activities of an office-seeker.

Civilizations are created by people, and they are destroyed by people. Sometimes a civilization has been given its final blow by less civilized outside enemies. Lack of maintenance left it weak and vulnerable to attack. Some civilizations have grown tired and have become dilapidated because not enough people cared about keeping them up.

Civilization has enemies, and most of them attack from within. One of them is the good but false feeling that a society has been so well constructed that its principles can stand all sorts of abuse without collapse. Another is the equally false and perhaps even more dangerous belief that a society that has reached such great heights that nobody can see its limits is able to provide for all the wants of mankind without effort or responsibility of its individuals.

There is too much of this attitude in the United States. It ignores the fact that all the power of America, all the fantastic progress of American science and all the money — or credit of the treasures on its national and local governments are the result of efforts of individual Americans.

The principles of democracy and freedom and justice that have in the past made this country the envy of much of the world have been maintained only because the people of America have wanted democracy, freedom and justice for themselves and have known that it meant they must respect the same rights for their neighbors.

We have built a strong, free and wealthy nation because we worked at it, not because we have had a government able to create its own strength and its own wealth.

We can decide now to rest in comfort in our country's wealth, be protected by its strength, have our health guaranteed by its medical science and, as the popular saying goes, just "cop out."

Some other people, of course, would have to pay the taxes, but even that is not enough. A civilized society requires people of honor, responsibility and patriotism and with a real desire for justice, order and decency.

WASHINGTON NOTES

ON DUTY CUTS

President Johnson has approved the results of the Kennedy round of trade negotiations. Tariff reductions range up to 50 per cent on approximately 6,000 imported products.

SEEKING GOLD

The Department of Interior is searching for gold under the Pacific Ocean off the shores of Alaska. Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said the project is using two ships to gather samples from the ocean floor.

YEAR ENDS IN DEFICIT

The Government has ended its fiscal year with an estimated deficit of $11-billion. Final figures will not be available for some time.

TRUTH-IN-LENDING BILL

The Senate Banking Committee has passed a bill before the Senate which would require money lenders to tell borrowers exactly how much loans will cost.

SMOKING INCREASED

A Federal report showed that Americans are smoking more cigarettes than ever despite rising prices and warnings of health hazards. The Agriculture Department estimated Americans smoked about 9 billion more cigarettes in fiscal 1967 than in 1966.

DRAFT & NEXT YEAR

The Administration, it is believed, will make another try to push a lottery draft selection proposal through Congress next year. Congress turned back the President's bid for a lottery this year.

POSTAL SAVINGS ENDS

The Post Office has officially ended its 50-year Postal Savings System. The Department said the $60,000,000 in unclaimed deposits will be held in a Treasury Department trust fund until claimed.

ON POVERTY FUNDS

Sargent Shriver, head of the Office of Economic Opportunity, has asked Congress for additional funds for the anti-poverty program. President Johnson has requested $2,060,000,000 for the OEO for fiscal 1968.

P.O. AND ADDRESSES

The Post Office Department has announced that it would furnish a person's last recorded change of address for a fee of $1. The new ruling came into effect July 4.

ASKS MILITARY CHANGE

Senator Sam J. Ervin, Jr. (D., N.C.) has proposed an overhaul of the 1950 Uniform Code of Military Justice. His bill would require that service men have lawyers when facing special courts-martial — a lesser charge than is handled at general courts-martial.

Votes, Volts and Revolts

Guest Editorial

NO DOUBT about it, the past week was one to make newspaper readers wonder if they've been standing around in the summer sun for too long.

Not the least unsettling was the news that James Meredith is endorsing — and campaigning for — the election of Ross Barnett in the Mississippi gubernatorial race.

And then there was the latest from old reliable Berkeley, Calif. A demonstrator is in trouble with the law out there, but not because of her love of peace. The local newspaper reported that one Janet King struck an officer with a 12-foot paper effigy of Lyndon B. Johnson and was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

At the black-power conference in Newark, conferees decided to give up on the United States and have their black-power followers secede from white-dominated society altogether. The new black-power state would have no truck with the rest of the country — with one exception. The power boys did relent and agree to let the society they're leaving provide a guaranteed annual wage for all their followers, as a sort of continual going-away present.

However, this would not be welfare, which is demeaning. We suppose the handouts would come under the heading of foreign aid.

Nor are the black-power gang the only ones getting tough. A couple of research scientists have decided to cut out the soft-soap and start cracking down on cigarette smokers.

These two psychologists have worked out a method to get people to stop smoking or else. Instead of using charts and statistics, they rely on a good jolt of electricity, which is delivered to the finger of the smoker each time he starts to light up a cigarette.

Presumably this causes the smoker to light up instead. The two scientists claim that, after a few hours of this sort of unpleasantness, conditioned reflex takes over. The smoker, they say, begins to associate smoking with punishment, as the charges are increased to the individual's level of tolerance.

This system works better than reasonable arguments, in their view, because man is not always disposed to act logically. It's hard to argue with them on that point, at any rate.

Freedom of Expression

Thoughtful men and women would oppose any tendency in this country to place limitations upon the individual's right to think and express his thoughts regardless of the topic discussed. Any effort to curb intellectual freedom in an attempt to perpetuate the present status is an obstacle to progress and freedom.

Tolerance or discussion, based upon sincerity of belief, is the foundation alike of both democratic government and the maintenance of human liberty. Without freedom for criticism of both doctrines and deeds no error can be corrected, and no improvement can be expected when human beings have been totally subjected to mental control and censorship.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reacts to some weather experts, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

Some practical joker in town apparently having read in the Journal last week that in a news- paper and bottles wrapped in a newspaper and thrown in a ditch by the road near my Johnson grass farm out here, has now left a batch of tin cans and bottles in the same place, with a rolled-up page of a newspaper stuck in each one. He didn't get the point. Anyway, I pulled the pages out one by one and put them together and found I had a complete newspaper except for the front page, which didn't matter as one day's riots seem about like another's. There are times when the most predictable thing in a paper is the front page.

Speaking of predicting, I found on page 14 of the can-and-bottle delivered paper (by the way, if the joker who did this will let me know his name, I have a few items I'll be glad to deposit on his front lawn in town to maintain a balance of trade) an item about the weather.

According to it, the odd weather we've had this summer such as unseasonably cool days and too wet in some places and too dry in others has been blamed by a weather bureau expert on the jet streams, the upper air wind patterns above 10,000 feet. One jet stream flows from Alaska and north-west Canada over the Great Lakes region and then toward the northeast. The other comes in from the Gulf of Mexico, crosses the southwest, and turns east over Kansas, he said.

The weather expert went on to say the jet streams explain this summer's weather, but when asked about how to explain the jet streams, he said "We don't know the full answers. They're never normal." I have thought this over and I believe what he's saying is that he doesn't understand the weather either and that it is never normal. I get very little satisfaction out of knowing that when I need a rain and it stays dry, the fault lies with the jet streams. This is like always putting the answer one step out of reach.

So far weather experts are like economics experts, they're a lot better at telling you what happened yesterday than what's going to happen tomorrow. You don't find many economics experts getting rich in the stock market or many weather experts getting rich in farming.

TRANSPARENT MINKSKIRT

London — An unidentified girl, about 20, was causing quite a stir as she walked on the street in her hip-length miniskirt. The police hustled her into a police car, took her home and gave her a lecture on moral danger. The skirt became transparent in the sun.

Pierced Ears Are The "Rage"!

Dear Amy: In your honest opinion, do you see anything wrong in a woman wanting to have her ears pierced? I've been wanting to have mine pierced for years. And now that it's all the rage, I want to even more so. But my husband, the old fuddy-duddy, won't let me.

Every time I bring it up, he shuts me up. I would have it done without his OK, but I couldn't take the fireworks. He's got some temper! Any suggestions? All Ears!

Dear Ears: I don't know what all the fuss is about. If it means that much to you, go ahead and have them pierced. They're your ears! And if your husband is like most, he'll never notice... unless you tell him. . . .

Dear Amy: "Please tell 'A Mixed-Up Kid' to keep the baby when it comes and don't give it away. If she decides it best to give it away, then give her my address. I would love to have a baby. I am 25 and single, but the only thing is: I am a MAN!"

Dear Frank: You're an angel! But the laws of your state do not permit a single man to adopt a child. How about finding a wife and having one of your own? . . .

Dear Amy: When I was a youngster and needed "correction," my mother corrected me with the universal salute given any naughty child... five fingers across the 'you-know-what'.

Now I have children of my own, but my mother, who is living with me, finds MY methods of discipline quite barbarous and lets me know about it in no uncertain terms. Am I right in still pursuing this old-fashioned way? . . .

Dear Mother: I salute you! If more parents used the old-fashioned way, perhaps there would be less delinquency amongst the youth of today! . . .

Dear Amy: I am 23 years old, I would like to go with the boys on dates, but no one has asked me yet. What do I do about it? Should I get out with the crowd more than I do? What do you think about blind dates? I'm partially mentally retarded. In this case, should I have a boyfriend? Never Been Kissed

Your questions are very normal and should be resolved, but only by your personal physician. He knows of your capabilities (and incapacities) and he will advise you how to cope with your social life and its problems. . . .

Dear Amy: I have a problem which is too large for me to handle alone and I have no one to ask for help. I am a married woman and have 3 boys. I have a good husband, but he doesn't have time to talk to me or to take me any place. I was very lonely for companionship so I went out alone and I met a man who is so wonderful that we fell in love. He is 28, and I'm 37. But I love my husband, too. I don't want to leave my husband and the boys but I just can't give up this boy. He is so much fun and a great lover. I am just plain worried sick over the whole thing. I want to be with this boy all the time. He says give up my boys and husband and come to him as his wife. What shall I do? . . .

A Lonely Married Woman
Dear Lonely: If your lover wants you without your children and you are considering his offer, then you deserve each other. On the other hand, if you devoted as much time and energy to your husband as you give to this 'boy,' you wouldn't be a Lonely Married Woman. The bonds of matrimony are useless unless the interest is kept! . . .

PERSONAL TO BRIDE-TO-BE: Unless you are prepared to be the wife of a drinking husband, you had better wear him off the bottle or you will have a crybaby on your hands for the rest of your life! . . .

Time Approaches To Plan Wheat Fertilizing

The time is once again approaching to consider plans for fertilizing wheat to be planted this fall.

Since most soils vary in their ability to supply plant nutrients, the most logical starting point for determining fertilizer needs is the soil test, says J.K. Adams, County agricultural agent.

By sampling early, the report will be received in time for making the final decision as to what kind and how much fertilizer to apply.

Nitrogen is the fertilizer element likely to be in shortest supply, points out Adams. Organic matter as measured by the guide is one of the guides for determining how much nitrogen will be needed.

However, such factors as the amount and stage of decomposition of previous crop residue, physical condition of soil, ability to irrigate adequately and intended grazing practices will all influence the nitrogen need of the crop.

Insufficient phosphorus can also limit wheat production, the agent points out. Profitable response has long been evident on many of the sandy and mixed land soils. Yield increases have also been noted in heavy soils shown to be deficient by soil testing.

Since phosphorus does not move appreciably with soil moisture, it must be placed in the soil where it will be available to the plant roots. Therefore, preplant application is recommended. Wheat plants utilize much of the phosphorus when they are young.

Adams urges a 1 1/2 wheat growers to send soil samples as soon as possible. Complete information on sample collection and mailing is available at the county Extension office.

Entertainers Book for Annual Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE -- Some of the nation's top entertainers have been booked for personal appearances at the 36th Annual Texas Prison Rodeo each Sunday in October in Huntsville.

H.H. Coffield of Rockdale, prison board chairman and chairman of the rodeo committee, announced that three artists of the Lawrence Welk television show will appear the first two Sundays, Jo Ann Castle, Welk's piano stylist, will give out with her own brand of honky tonk piano playing on October 1, followed by Norma Zimmer and Larry Hooper on October 8. Both Miss Castle and Miss Zimmer were favorites during the 1966 rodeo series. Miss Zimmer's singing has brought her many honors. Hooper doubles as a general pianist and deep-voiced singer.

For the October 15 show, the featured attraction will be Judy Lynn and the Judy Lynn Show. Said to be the most successful figures in the country-western stable of music.

Sharing the October 22 line-up will be two well-known country music stars, Buck Owens and Floyd Tillman, both having reputations as real crooners. Owens will be supported by his own musical group, the Buckaroos.

Closing the 1967 rodeo on October 29 will be Roy Acuff, no stranger to prison rodeo fans. He will again bring his own brand of country music -- the kind that spelled fame and fortune for this native of Tennessee.

Also on the bill of fare all five Sundays will be former inmate Candy Barr, who proved to be a popular attraction last year. The famous Zoppo Family will be presented during each performance in the prison stadium beginning at 2 p.m.

30 Years Ago

THIRTY YEARS AGO (Taken from the Files of the Muleshoe Journal)

Friday and Saturday of last week there were scattered showers of more or less crop inspirational value in various portions of the county.

Last Sunday formal opening of the remodeled, enlarged and beautified Muleshoe Methodist Church was held and a large crowd attended that being the beginning of a two weeks revival meeting. Unusual interest is being manifested at all services.

The crop prospects this year for Bailey county are indeed flattering and probably the best for several years past, is the consensus of expressed opinion of citizens. There is little doubt but this county will participate in the bumper crop and financial betterment of the nation.

Proof that a Muleshoe woman is aging comes when a man is not to her and his wife isn't jealous.

When a Muleshoe man should complain about not being able to see his own faults, his obliging neighbors will gladly point them out to him.

Any direct descendant (over eighteen) of a member of Hood's Famous Texas Brigade is eligible for membership. Each member will be presented with a two-color parchment facsimile of the Certificate awarded to the original members of the Association at their annual reunion in Waco in 1889. THE CUSTOMER
A CUSTOMER is the most important person in the business.
A CUSTOMER is not dependent on us - but we on her.
A CUSTOMER is not an interruption of our work - she is the purpose of it.
A CUSTOMER is not an interruption of our work - we are not doing her one by serving her.
A CUSTOMER does us a favor when she calls - we are not doing her one by serving her.
A CUSTOMER is part of our business, not an outsider.
A CUSTOMER is a human being like ourselves, with the same feelings and emotions.
A CUSTOMER is not someone to argue or match wits with.
A CUSTOMER brings us her wants, and it is our job to fill those wants.
A CUSTOMER is deserving of the most courteous and attentive treatment we can give her.
A CUSTOMER is the person who makes it possible to pay our salaries, whether truck drivers or managers.
A CUSTOMER is the life-blood of this and every other business.
