Cold Due To Stay Tonight

By United Press International
The third sub-zero cold front in less than two weeks, riding winds of up to 50 miles per hour, plunged deep into Texas today with promises of another hard freeze for the semi-tropical Lower Rio Grande Valley.
The rapid movement of the front, coupled with a general dryness of the air, erased most of the threats of snow, sleet and freezing rain which would have hampered transportation and added to the cold misery.
Light snow persisted in portions of West and Northwest Texas early today, but it was so powdery and the wind so strong that there was no accumulation and no glazing. Skies were clearing rapidly in North Texas.
Temperatures dropped as much as 25 degrees in one hour as the front drove relentlessly southward across the state.
By sunrise, freezing temperatures were near Houston and Corulla, but still in the balmy 50s at Beaumont-Port Arthur, Galveston, Corpus Christi and Brownsville, all on the immediate coast.
The fresh surge of Arctic air brought forecasts of a hard freeze for the entire state by Thursday morning in sharp contrast to the 55-degree range—from zero at Dalhart to 55 at Beaumont-Port Arthur—which marked today's early morning readings.

Lows tonight will range from 10 below zero in the Panhandle to 29 above along the seashore in the lower tip of the Valley. The interior Valley points expected 24-degree minimums.
It appeared the new assault on the Valley's remaining vegetable crop would be a dry one, although forecasters at Brownsville said some possibility remained for some light freezing drizzle tonight.
The Valley area escaped heavy damage, except to tomatoes and sweet peppers, in the first two sub-freezing spells and it was too early to tell, forecasters said, what effect the new cold wave would have on unharvested crops and citrus groves.
At 6 a. m., the front had dropped temperatures to 1 below zero in Pampa, 1 degree above zero at Amarillo to 8 degrees at Lubbock and Wichita Falls, 10 at Abilene, 12 at Midland, 14 at Dallas, Fort Worth, 15 at San Angelo, 18 at Waco, 21 at Austin, 29 at San Antonio and 38 at Houston.
Light snow was falling at daybreak at Lubbock and Abilene and had been reported earlier throughout the Panhandle and traces as far south as Dallas-Fort Worth.

Blizzard Stacks Up Snow From Denver To New York

By United Press International
A new blizzard swept through the Midwest today, dropping the mercury far below zero, stacking up new snow from Denver to New York and creating huge ice gorges in the Mississippi River.
Zero readings stretched from Denver to the upper Great Lakes. It was 25 below at St. Paul, Minn. Up to three inches of fresh snow were piled on top of cold coatings from Detroit to New York.
Nearly 30 inches of snow had fallen at Muskegon, Mich. since the weekend, and 10 inches fell Tuesday alone.

$374 Collection Of Coins Stolen

Paul Tucker, 1322 Mary Ellen, reported to the police that someone broke into his house yesterday afternoon and stole his coin collection.
The collection, with a face value of $374 was taken from the Tucker residence sometime between 1 and 4 p. m.
The burglar broke in the back door after tearing a hole in the outer screen door. The safety chain latch attached to the inside door gave way, as the burglar pounded the door, tearing off an inside door panel.
Police said the burglar apparently knew what he was after. He went into the bedroom and pulled out the suitcase containing Tucker's coin collection.
Along with the collection, someone made off with a piece of luggage, a transistor radio, and a pearl necklace, all valued at $25 each.
The coin collection consisted of 155 silver dollars, 60 fifty-cent pieces, 200 quarters, 700 dimes, 400 nickels, 500 pennies, 22 two-dollar bills, three $2 Canadian bills, one 20 Dutch mark, and one 1,000 Lira mark.

WATER FOR SALE? — Oil company representatives, city officials and Dallas consulting engineers met in City Hall yesterday afternoon to discuss the possibility of the City of Pampa selling water for waterflood purposes in the Pampa oil fields. Shown in the accompanying photo are, left to right, N. E. Turnbo of Kewanee Oil Co., W. C. Newlin of Cities Service, Pampa Mayor E. C. Sidwell, T. Dock Strikers Vote On Terms To End Walkout

By United Press International
Longshoremen in New York City today started voting on settlement terms which could end the 32-day dock strike on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts this week.
The ratification vote by individual dockworkers starts Thursday in other ports from Maine to Norfolk, Va. There were indications that if the proposed new contract quickly is accepted by shipping interests and the union in Southern and Gulf ports longshoremen would return to work on Saturday.
The end of the long strike would provide a big break in the worst siege of labor unrest across the land in many months. Millions of persons have been affected by the maritime walkout, which has idled more than 100,000 workers. Losses due to the strike have been estimated at $800 million.

Provides Pay Hike

The longshoremen settlement calls for a 39-cent package increase including a pay hike of 24 cents an hour spread over two years. The International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) originally asked a total of 86 cents an hour. The shipping firms offered 22 cents.
The New York Shipping Association, the pacesetter among the shipping firms, accepted terms of the proposed contract worked out by a panel headed by a former professional labor mediator, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore. About 280 ships were tied up in New York.
The New Orleans Steamship Association accepted the contract "in principle." But it said the locals would have to return to work immediately. The Louisiana port city has lost an estimated $1.8 million daily and had 160 ships at anchor.
Representatives of Gulf Coast shipping interests and the ILA met in Galveston, Tex., to end the walkout in that area.

$25-Million Oil Deal Announced

NEW YORK (UPI)—Delhi-Taylor Oil Corp., Dallas, will sell all its refining and marketing assets to Hess Oil and Chemical Corp. Perth Amboy, N.J., for an estimated $25 million in cash under terms of an agreement announced late Tuesday by the two firms.
None of Delhi-Taylor's other properties, including its exploration or producing properties, is involved in the sale, the announcement said.
Delhi-Taylor has been up for sale for about two years. The biggest single stockholder is the Murchison family of Dallas.

Rogers Promises Fight To Keep Oil Depletion Allowance At Same Level

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Walter Rogers, D-Tex., said today the 27.5 per cent oil depletion allowance "is going to be under fire again" in the new Congress.
But he promised "once again" to be among the congressmen working to keep the allowance at its present level.
"I expect bills to be introduced calling for a reduction in the oil and gas depletion allowance to 22.5 per cent," Rogers said. He said he expected this figure to be presented because the Congress had defeated in past years proposals for cuts to 15 and 20 per cent.

City May Be Source Of Waterflood Supply

Prospects of the City of Pampa furnishing water for water flooding operations in oil fields adjacent to the city were discussed at an informal meeting yesterday afternoon in City Hall.
Pampa Mayor E. C. Sidwell, along with T. C. Forrest and Carl Shimek of the firm of Forrest and Cotton, Dallas consulting engineers, told oil company representatives present the results of recently completed studies showing the water supply requirements of Pampa for the next 20 years.
It was pointed out that Pampa's underground water capacity is now approximately 11,500,000 gallons per day. The city is now using an average of about 2,500,000 gallons a day. Projected figures show that the city will require an average of 6,500,000 gallons a day by 1982.
In periods of peak loads, however, the requirements would be much higher, as in the case of the summer of 1954 when 8,000,000 gallons per day were required. Forrest stressed that the city must be prepared to meet peak loads and not depend upon average usage.

Indictments Hit County Officials

LIVINGSTON, Tex. (UPI)—A grand jury indicted Polk County's four commissioners and a county judge Tuesday in connection with its probe into the handling of county property and money.
The grand jury returned three indictments on felony and misdemeanor charges.
A joint indictment was brought against Judge E. C. Matthews and county commissioners Jesse T. Lott, Livingston, Lowman Parrish, Leggett, and Carter Watts, Corrigan, on charges they permitted the sale of a county-owned picket truck to another county commissioner.

She Treated Him Tenderly

EDGEWOOD, Tex. (UPI)—C. C. Estes thought his wife was doing him a favor Tuesday when she put some "good smelling stuff" in his bath water.
"Then I began to burn and turn red," he said.
Mrs. Estes discovered the "stuff" was meat tenderizer.

Engineer Points Out Need Of Reserve For Contract Obligations

Public Invited To Hear Survey Story At Open Meeting In City Hall Tonight
The City of Pampa is facing some startling financial problems in the near future in connection with obligations arising from its contract with the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority.
That warning was sounded last night by T. Carr Forrest, president of the Dallas Consulting Engineering firm of Forrest and Cotton.
It was given to city officials and members of the city commission in a 45-minute briefing preliminary to tonight's public meeting on the firm's water and sewer survey report to be held at 7:30 p. m. in the City Commission Room at City Hall.

Among the facts that should startle the people into an alertness of the problems ahead, Forrest said, is the possibility of a 25 to 30 per cent increase in water rates if the city is to build reserves to meet its financial obligations to the CRMWA when they begin to fall due in 1968.
Forrest told the officials present last night that the city's financial problems are going to be of such magnitude that his firm is recommending that Pampa hire at once a fiscal advisor to come up with solutions to the financial burden that the city must assume beginning in 1968.

Secretary Cloaks Test Ban Talks In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States, Britain and Russia went into the second day of nuclear test ban talks here today with their discussions shrouded in secrecy.
Representatives of the three nuclear powers met at the State Department for nearly four hours Tuesday and announced they had agreed on two things:
—To meet again at 3 p. m. EST today.
—Not to discuss the meetings publicly.

Paving Costs Reduced For S. Barnes Property Owners

The City Commission decided last night to start all over again on paving legislation for S. Barnes St. from the Fort Worth & Denver Ry. underpass south to the city limits.
After a question raised by Commissioner L. P. Fort and about 45 minutes of discussion later, it was decided to draw a new resolution covering the paving project.
Fort said he thought it was unfair to assess property owners on the street a greater portion of the paving cost than is assessed to property owners on other streets.
It was explained that the reason was that the S. Barnes St. paving would be 48 feet wide instead of the standard 32 feet on residential streets.
The final decision was that the property owners should be assessed only for 90 per cent of the cost of paving and the curb and gutter for a standard 37-foot wide street. The city will assume the cost for the additional 11 feet.

Meredith Checks Out At Ole Miss, Perhaps For Good

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—Negro student James H. Meredith left the University of Mississippi, possibly for good, with students and newsmen literally pushing him off the campus in a broken-down auto.
Meredith departed Tuesday in a boisterous atmosphere but there was none of the bloody violence that marked his admission four months ago.
The 29-year-old Korean War veteran was delayed in his departure when his car would not start. He called several service station attendants to recharge the battery. The car still would not start when he was ready to leave, and he had to be pushed off by students and a few newsmen.
He refused to say whether he would return.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The national chairman for United Community Campaigns of America has announced the collection of a record $520 million in this season's United Fund and Community Chest drive.
Oliver G. Willis made the announcement at a meeting Tuesday during which volunteer leaders from various segments of the population were honored for their services in the campaign launched last September.

Bills Introduced To Deal With Texas Youth Problems

By KYLE THOMPSON
United Press International
AUSTIN (UPI)—State Legislators today proposed a series of bills dealing with juveniles in Texas that range from lowering the age of juvenile accountability to 15 to a complete state parole system for youngsters.

While the flood of proposed new legislation continued in both houses, the Senate Finance Committee planned an early meeting today to take up the House-approved $197,000 Governor's emergency appropriation bill.

Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen filed a bill that would allow certain felony counts be charged against both boys and girls 15 years of age or older. Under existing laws any boy under 17 and girls under 18 cannot be charged with a felony in Texas.

The Senate Cost of Government Study Committee in its report turned in yesterday proposed the state initiate a fully-supported juvenile parole system. The group said the system would effect a long-range saving of state funds.

Create Camps
Rep. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi filed a bill to allow the Texas Youth Council to set up maintenance camps in state forests and parks for juvenile offenders.

Under Bridges' proposal, the youth council would pay juveniles for working in parks and forests. The program would be in cooperation with the State Parks Board.

Lawmakers held only brief sessions yesterday during which the Senate saw a series of bills introduced in an effort to catch up some with the legislative initiative set by the House.

Among the Senate proposals were a series of bills by Sen. George Parkhouse, of Dallas to carry out recommendations of a tax study group on replacing the state property tax with other revenue.

Farmers Asked To Report Acreage Intended For Cultivation Now

Final date to release 1963 cotton allotments or to request that released cotton be reapportioned to farms is March 4, according to Evelyn Mason, Gray County-ASCS office manager.

Any farmer who does not plan to plant his cotton allotment this year is asked to check with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service on releasing it, Miss Mason said. Also if farmers do not plant 75 per cent of their allotment or release it, they will lose some of the cotton allotment for next year, unless the farm is in the soil bank.

The county will also lose cotton acreage if your allotment is not released or planted.

Miss Mason also stated that the Agricultural Conservation Program handbook has been devel-

An inch of snow had fallen in Nashville, Tenn., by 8 a.m. EST. The Weather Bureau said the temperatures will drop to 3 degrees in north Alabama tonight. Snow and ice accumulations of one inch were forecast in the state.

Sleet and freezing rain changing to light snow were forecast for the northern part of Mississippi with temperatures dropping to 5.

Temperatures were expected to range from 5 to 10 degrees below normal over north Florida to about normal over the southern part of the state.

The Weather Bureau warned of hazardous driving conditions in areas where snow, sleet and freezing rain was expected.

The new blizzard that swept through the Midwest today, dropping the mercury far below zero, stacked up new snow from Denver to New York. It created huge ice gorges in the Mississippi River.

Reporters are now measuring wheat and diverted acres over the county. Farmers are asked to be present when wheat is measured.

"Diverted acres must be in fields of regular shape with not more than four sides and must be land of equal productivity of the rest of the cropland," she said. Spots of poor land cannot be singled out and used for diverted acres.

A notice showing base acreage for corn, barley and grain sorghum and the payment rates for these crops will be mailed out soon. The sign-up date is expected to be from Feb. 1 through Mar. 22.

The plaintiff also charges in the petition that Van Aukin struck her across the face and knocked her down. She asks $500 punitive damages and $1,000 for pain and suffering caused and for medical bills.

Parents' Demand For Book Ban Is Denied By Board

EDGERTON, Wis. (UPI)—The school board denied parents' demands Tuesday night to stop high school classes from reading such "filthy" books as "The Ugly American" and "1984."

"We are no longer living in the age of Longfellow," a board member said.

The parents, led by Mrs. Edwin Thalacker, had attempted to get the school board to ban class readings of "filthy" and "vulgar" books. They named such books as "The Catcher in the Rye;" Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World;" George Orwell's "1984;" John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men;" Fyodor Dostoevsky's "Crime and Punishment;" and "The Ugly American" by William Lederer and Eugene Burdick.

About 450 persons attended a two-hour meeting which ended with a terse statement by board president Thomas Houle in support of the continued use of the books.

'Eternal Nuisance' Charge Tossed At PTA Organizations

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Mrs. W. J. Danforth, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers said Tuesday night comments made by Adm. Hyman Rickover about the PTA "don't justify an answer."

Rickover, known for his outspoken criticism of the American educational system, said Tuesday that PTAs were an "eternal nuisance" and members "ought to stay home and take care of their husbands."

Rickover is also recognized as the father of atomic submarines.

Mrs. Danforth, obviously displeased by the admiral's remarks, said "our services to the schools of this country is self-evident."

"We serve the people in our communities and we try as state officers to give leadership to our children and our youth."

Pampa Harvesters Roar Past Plainview, 81-55

Randy Matson, nabbing 27 rebounds, joined Pampa's high-scoring guards — Keith Swanson and Wayne Kreis — in pacing the Harvesters to an 81-55 blistering of Plainview's Bulldogs last night in a Dist. 3-AAAA basketball fracas. Before the large home crowd, Swanson and Kreis buckered 28 ond quarter and swished four baskets for eight points. Donny Hollis, 6-2 sophomore, kept the Bulldogs from complete slaughter as he tallied 18 points in the losing cause winning high point honors for Plainview. Hollis scored three points the first half and 15 the second. Peret, Plainview's leading scorer, netted 13 points, five below his average.

15-12 1st Quarter
Pampa, leading 15-12 at the end of the first quarter, slowly moved away from the visitors as Kreis and Swanson zeroed in on the basket and Price tallied his eight points. The Harvesters padded their lead to 15 points, 39-24, at intermission.

The Harvesters connected on 16 of 30 field goal attempts the first half for 53 per cent. Plainview hit 11 of 26 attempts for 42 per cent from the floor.

Hollis pulled the Bulldogs within 10 points of Pampa, 51-41, in the third quarter. Pampa owned a 37-44 lead at the end of three quarters.

Kreis and Swanson teamed to give a free throw exhibition in the fourth quarter as Kreis tallied eight and Swanson four charity tosses.

Technical Foul
A ruckus ignited in the fourth quarter as official Jack Scarborough called a technical foul on Plainview for not properly registering all its players on the official scorebook prior to the start of the contest.

Plainview sent in a reserve player not on the scorebook drawing the automatic foul.

Kreis missed the charity toss awarded Pampa on the technical foul call.

The Harvesters gained momentum throughout the final quarter, padding the Pampa lead to 26 points, 81-55, as the game ended.

The Harvesters, in lining up their 17th victory in a row, hit 29 of 53 field goal attempts for 55 per cent while the visitors netted 22 of 32 field goal attempts for 42 per cent.

Shocker's Win
Pampa's Shocker's won an overtime contest over Plainview's "B" team in a game preceding the varsity tilt, 57-55.

With the score tied 55 all at the end of the game, the two teams continued the battle in a three-minute overtime tussle.

The Pampa "B" team controlled the tip and kept possession of the ball for the first minute, unable to get a shot off.

Plainview swiped a pass and held the ball for nearly a minute and a half, hunting the right shot. A walking violation gave the ball back to Pampa.

The Shocker's held the ball until about five seconds remained. Carl Harnsberger unleashed a long shot from the corner, swishing for two points and the game. Harnsberger's shot was the only one attempted in the overtime period.

Foley Joins NY Knicks
BOSTON (UPI) — Jack (The Shot) Foley, one of the nation's top scorers in collegiate basketball last year, today joined the New York Knickerbockers after failing to make the championship Boston Celtic team.

He was purchased by the Knicks Tuesday for an undisclosed price.

Boston coach Red Auerbach said Tuesday night, "We didn't want to give up Foley. But we had to cut down the squad and it was a case of going along with the players experienced in pro ball."

WanderKelen Signs Minnesota Contract

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Officials of the Minnesota Vikings, elated over their surprising success in landing one of the hottest pro football quarterback prospects in years, began making plans today on how to use the star Wisconsin caller.

The player, of course, is Ron VanderKelen of Green Bay, Wis., who signed a hefty one-year contract with the Vikings Tuesday, presided over a press conference, and left for home to continue studying for mid-term examinations at the University of Wisconsin.

VanderKelen, whose passing made him the hero of the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl game, ignored pressures from his home-town to sign with the Packers and instead chose to go with the younger Vikings squad.

He expressed confidence that he would get to play more with the Vikings than with most other National Football League clubs, and said he was impressed that the Minnesota team "would think enough of me to have their head coach (Norm Van Brocklin) come to see me personally."

He said the contract carries a "substantial" salary, but one that was "not way out of line."

The 6-1, 176-pound passing whiz said he chose the Vikings, who had a 2-11-1 record last season, over the world champion Packers because the "Vikings are a new team, on their way up, and I'll have a fine opportunity to play with them."

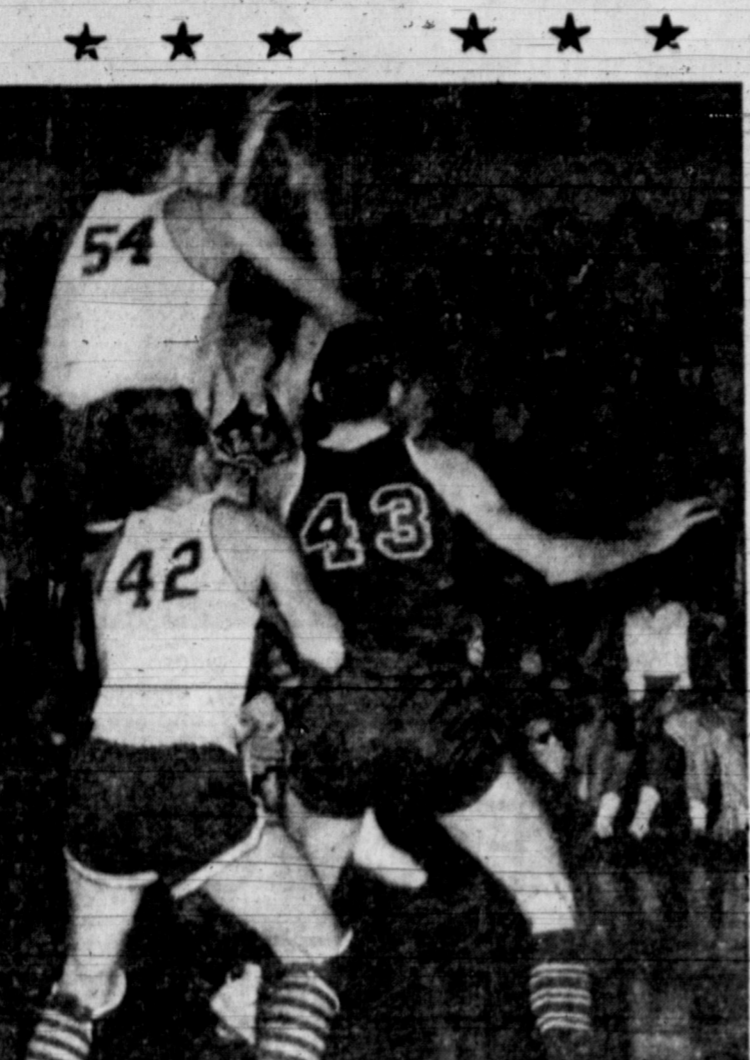

Van Brocklin agreed and said VanderKelen will be "given every chance to play football."

"We'll have him in our offices in the Twin Cities prior to the opening of summer drills so he can learn the terminology and technicalities of professional football," Van Brocklin said.

"Then when we go to camp (Bemidji, Minn.) he'll know what he's talking about."

Pampa Reapers Lose To Lee
Robert E. Lee's eighth graders downed Pampa Jr. High's eighth graders, 44-31, in a basketball game yesterday.

High scorers for Lee were Jack Thompson with 12 and Smisor Goodlet with 10. High for Pampa Jr. High were Larry Keyser, 13 and Larry Stephens, 9.

WINNING A BIG ONE — Pampa's Harvesters ignited last night in Harvester Fieldhouse, belting the Plainview Bulldogs, 81-55, in an important Dist. 3-AAAA battle. In the first picture, Randy Matson, 6-6½, brings down one of his 27 rebounds against the Bulldogs with teammate Gordon Balch (42) ready to help. Matson yanked the ball down with Bulldogs Ronnie Peret, 6-8, and Burl Couch, 6-5½, unable to block him from the boards. Keith Swanson buckets two points with his delay shot after snake-dribbling through the Bulldogs in the second photo. Swanson scored 28 points in the victory. (Daily News Photos)

Welu Cops Lead In All-Star Meet

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Billy Welu of St. Louis and Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., were at the top of the men's and women's division today in the stretch drive of the $100,000 All-Star bowling tournament.

Welu, 29, and Mrs. Ladewig, 48, each compiled record scores in the tiring qualifying rounds.

Welu, a strong, 6-4 kegler who throws a hard ball, made it to the top of the 16-man list of qualifiers with a 32-game total of 7,202—an average of 225 pins per game.

Mrs. Ladewig, a grandmother, scattered pins over the 24-game women's qualifying rounds for a total of 5,018 — an average of better than 209. Mrs. Ladewig has won the All-Star seven times.

So accurate have the bowlers been in this 22nd annual Bowling Proprietors Association of America (BPAA) tournament, that records have been falling daily. The first 14 men in the top 16 bettered the previous 32-game record of 6,574 set last year by Roy Lown of El Paso, Tex.

William Helsel of Tampa, Fla., sneaked into the No. 16 spot Tuesday night with a record six-game mark of 1,454 — snapping the old mark of 1,435 set last year by defending champion Dick Weber of St. Louis.

Weber was in a good position today to repeat as All-Star champ. He finished the 32-game haul at 7,147 — 55 pins back of Welu.

Ray Bluth, also of St. Louis, was third among the qualifiers at 7,084. Don Carter four-time champion from St. Louis, wound up 14th with a total of 6,877.

Betty Kuczynski of Chicago finished second to Mrs. Ladewig with 4,830. Pat Senning and Joy Abel, both of Chicago, were third and fourth, respectively, with scores of 4,788 and 4,782.

Defending champion Shirley Garms of Chicago was 16th at 4,549, and past champion Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia was 13th at 4,583.

The 16 men finalists today began four-game match play, with each man meeting the other in four matches per day. The Petersen point system will be used, with bowlers getting one point for each 50 pins and one point for each game won. The same system will be used for the women.

The women will meet each other in two-game match play, bowling four matches per day.

Robert E. Lee Downs Pampa Jr.
Robert E. Lee's ninth grade Rebels surged past Pampa Jr. High in a basketball tussle yesterday, 53-34.

High point honors for Lee went to Steve Swanson with 14. David Cain, 12. Teddy Bird, 8 and Gary Crossland, 8.

Chamberlain, Ferry Brawl In NBA Tilt

By United Press International
Wilt Chamberlain, the San Francisco Warrior star who takes a nightly pounding from shorter NBA defenders, finally fought back Tuesday night.

The big guy bloodied the nose of Detroit's Bob Ferry in a brawl that brought both squads roaring onto the court.

Ferry lost the fight, but after peace was restored he scored the basket that salted away a 115-107 victory over the Warriors, who now have lost four straight.

The night's only other action took place in Madison Square Garden where 15,034 saw St. Louis dump Syracuse, 113-93, and Boston trample New York, 124-100.

St. Louis' romp over Syracuse was the sixth straight victory for the high-flying Hawks.

Bob Pettit had 28 points, while backcourt ace Len Wilkins managed to snag 11 rebounds in an unusual performance for a guard.

Lee Shaffer hit 20 points for the Nets, while veteran Dolph Schayes scored 17 points in 15 minutes while playing in his 1,000th NBA game.

The second game turned into another tribute to the great Bob Cousy, who played 20 minutes and hit 19 points.

Dusty Boggess Ready To Retire
HOUSTON (UPI) — Dusty Boggess, a National League umpire for 19 years, told a stunned gathering at the third annual Major League Baseball Dinner Tuesday night that he has decided to retire while "I'm on top."

"I am going to retire and take a few years leisurely," Boggess, 58, said. "The eyes are getting bad and I know I couldn't do as well as 10 years ago."

"I would rather go out when I'm on top and have them say 'He was a pretty good umpire.'"

Boggess made the announcement after he accepted the Bill Klem Award for outstanding performance as an umpire.

SKILL TO SPARE
by Dick Weber

24-Southpaw 5-8

Like some others, the 5-8 spare, if left by a left-handed bowler, is standing for an entirely different reason than if left by a right-hander.

The southpaw who leaves a 5-8 usually does so because he crossed over, got a Brooklyn side hit. He can convert by standing in his strike position and delivering a strike ball.

The right-hander who leaves this spare frequently does so because he has delivered a ball with almost nothing on it. Sometimes women who have a very weak ball will hit the strike pocket and leave the 5-8.

The ball didn't have enough on it to carry the pins.

SOUTHPAW crossed over.

Dear Abby... Handy Man... Is Never Handy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I believe in being a good neighbor, but I think my husband has been overdoing the good neighbor policy. For the past three years our house has been in a state of being "remodeled." We have holes in the floor, unpainted walls, untiled floors, doorless and drawerless cupboards. Our driveway needs to be paved and our faucets all leak. Yet my husband finds time to build fences for the neighbors, fix their TV sets, spread concrete and what not. When he isn't volunteering, they are coming over and getting him. I am proud of my husband because he is a handy man, to have around, but he's never around.

MR. FIXIT'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: The only reason a man will knock himself out doing odd jobs for the neighbors when his own fence needs mending is quite simple. He likes the "thanks" they give him.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine passed away some time ago. He weighed around 230 pounds and was about six feet, six inches tall. What I would like to know is, how did they get him into a six-foot casket?

CURIOS

DEAR CURIOS: There are caskets of all sizes and also caskets made to order, so there is no reason to assume that a man six-foot-six was buried in a six-foot casket.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and am considered a reliable baby-sitter. The lady next door has a two-year-old child with whom I have sat many times. I was asked to sit with their baby from seven in the morning until midnight on Saturday because they intended to go out of town. I agreed and got up at 6:30 to take the job. At five of seven she called and said, "We decided not to go so we don't need you. Ha Ha." I turned down a date to our football game and the big dance afterwards for this job because I needed the money. Other sitters have been cancelled out at the last minute, too. How would the lady like it if the sitter called five minutes before she was due to show up and said, "I just got a date and can't come. Ha Ha"? What is your advice?

JUST PLAIN ANGRY

DEAR ANGRY: People's plans can change suddenly. However, if signals are switched on you more than once, refuse to sit for the person who stood you up.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FAMILY SECRETARY": To each his own, but I think students should get their own reference books. If I were to ask all my readers (over 10 years of age) whose mothers went to the library to get reference books for their children, I doubt if I would get a dozen letters.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions."

For the do-it-yourself home-maker: Paper cutout design ideas for decorating interior whitewashed walls. Japanese, Scandinavian, Egyptian, Russian, Indian and North and South American designs appear in "Designs for Craftsmen," a book by Walter Miles.

Since 1950, annual number of births in the U.S. have averaged a little more than 4 million.

HOW TO BE pretty and "hep" are the topics being discussed by the group pictured above at a meeting held Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Thelma Bray, 1305 Hamilton. Participating as volunteer instructors in the Altrusa Club "Teens Self-Improvement Clinic"

'Four Seasons' Salad Supper Given By CWF

A devotional play titled "Between the Bookends With J. Pierpont Bookworm" was presented as a portion of the program for the Christian Women's Fellowship meeting held Thursday at 7 p.m. in the First Christian Church. Mrs. John Zuerker as J. Pierpont and Mrs. Charles Lanehart as the waitress were the principal characters. Mrs. Leland Finney introduced the play.

The evening's program was concluded with a review of "The Book Of Ruth" given by Mrs. W. R. Harden. Preceding the program, a "Four Seasons Salad Supper" was served with guests seated at tables decorated to represent the season of the year in which their birthdays occur.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Mrs. D. V. Vurton, CWF president. Approximately 60 members attended.

Enrollment For Teens' Clinic Slated Friday

"Teens Self Improvement Clinic" to be sponsored by the Altrusa Club of Pampa will get underway Friday with enrollment at 4:30 p.m. in the educational building of the First Methodist Church, according to Mrs. Thelma Bray, Vocational Information chairman. Clinic sessions are to begin Feb. 1.

"Each session is planned to be of special interest to female teens," Mrs. Bray stated. "All teenagers interested in self-improvement are invited to enroll in the tuition-free course."

The clinic is designed to give pointers on hair and complexion care, hair styling, make-up, fashion co-ordination and social graces ranging from table manners to dating etiquette.

Each session will be directed by women in the community, who have expert knowledge of or who have specialized in the good grooming field she will discuss. "We have been so pleased with the interest shown by the women who will take time out to come and discuss self-improvement with the girls," Mrs. Bray said.

Participating in the clinic sessions at designated times throughout the two month's course are Mrs. Robert K. Swanson and Mrs. Jack C. Williams on teen fashions; Mrs. Kirk Smith on hairstyling; Mrs. Joe DiCosimo on grace and poise; Mrs. I. U. Bryant and Mrs. Emma Olsen on complexion care and make-up; Mrs. Frank Carter Jr. and Mrs. Jim Baldrige on "manners make friends."

Two clinics are planned for each Friday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. during February and March. "One will be held in the Pampa Youth and Community Center and one will be held in the Southwest Public Service Rooms. The girls may choose the one most convenient for them transportation-wise, but the same subjects will be discussed at both clinics," according to Mrs. Bray.

Assisting Mrs. Bray with organizational plans have been Mrs. Lorene O. Locke, Altrusa Club president, Mrs. Lonnie Kenney, Mrs. Irl Smith, and Miss Ila Pool, Altrusa Club members; Mrs. Wynne Veale, school nurse; Mrs. Kenneth Walters, Lee Junior High counselor; Mrs. Doris Fisk, Pampa Junior High counselor; Mrs. Joe DiCosimo, Lee physical education instructor, Mrs. Buster Higdon and Mrs. Howard Martin.

John Robert Powers' book "Secrets Of Charm" will be used as a study course guide. Each girl will be provided with a note book in which to make notes and keep a record of her own self-improvement.

Girls Scouts participating in the clinic will earn "Good Grooming Badges," it has been announced by Mrs. Marian Osborne, Quivira Girl Scout executive director.

Worthwhile Club With Mrs. Smith

Mrs. O. G. Smith presented a program on "The Art Of Seasoning" at the Friday morning meeting of the Worthwhile Home held in the home of Mrs. N. B. Cude, 526 S. Ballard.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Roy Tinsley, president, Mrs. M. L. Cotter was elected as the club's nominee for delegate to the THDA district convention to be held in Friona in April and Mrs. Smith was elected the club's nominee for THDA chairman.

It was announced that the Rifle Club will meet at the Rifle Range on Feb. 16. Worthwhile Club members have the work assignment of serving hamburgers, coffee and soft drinks.

Mrs. C. R. Mullens was welcomed as a new member. Refreshments were served during the social hour.

It was announced that Mrs. Boyd Brown, east of the city, will be hostess for the Feb. 1 meeting to be held at 2:30 p.m. in her home.

To remove the glare on a wall freshly painted with enamel, rub a clean cloth dipped in turpentine over the painted surface.

Members attending, not previously mentioned, were Mmes. P. G. Turner, O. A. Wagner, M. L. Cotter, C. L. Carlton, Lester Reynolds, Yvonne Reynolds, Boyd Brown and W. G. Kinzer.

CWF Board With Mrs. D. V. Burton

Study materials were distributed and plans for the year were discussed at the executive board meeting of the First Christian Church Women's Fellowship meeting held recently in the home of Mrs. D. V. Burton, 811 N. Russell.

A letter from "Lucky" Dunham, who is serving with the Peace Corps in the Dominican Republic, was read.

Attending were Mmes. Glynne Adsit, W. F. Taylor, W. G. Kinzer, Frank Skidmore, R. K. Swanson, Glenn Nichols, Roy Williams, Charles Lanehart, Murray Castleberry, Walter Bailey, Frank Hogsett, Ray Parsley, Paul Reimer, Vardeman Smith, Lester Mason, Gladys Harvey, John Gill and Duane Cash.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Oil Is Good Cleanser!!!

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Here is one I am sure you don't know. For cleaning stainless steel refrigerators, oven doors, hoods, etc., take any light oil — I prefer a light machine oil but mineral oil is good, too. Using a paper towel, napkin or old cloth, apply the oil lightly to the surface. It not only shines the surface but helps prevent future finger-marks.

DEAR POLLY — To brighten up black wrought iron such as television table legs and telephone stands, apply black liquid shoe polish. No sanding, not even a paint brush is necessary. Does not rub or wash off. No muss, no fuss and the iron's always bright, shiny and easy to dust.

MRS. L. McD. This is slick and simple — the shoe polish gave the legs of my folding tray tables the same dull black look they originally had — not a repainted effect.

DEAR POLLY — If any of the school pupils have trouble with dirty pencil erasers, they should tape a piece of sandpaper inside their notebooks. Then whenever the eraser needs cleaning, rub it over the sandpaper.

Even the big boys and girls will doubtless appreciate this suggestion from a 10-year-old girl.

DEAR POLLY — If you are ever caught without a ruler, you will find a passable substitute in your wallet. A dollar bill is just a fraction over six inches long and can be used as a tape for rough measurements.

MRS. C. F. M. DEAR POLLY — For eight hours of sound sleeping comfort, place a wool blanket on the mattress under the sheet that you sleep on. This way less covering is needed over the body. Coldness comes from beneath, arousing a person, rather than from above.

MRS. J. M. K. DEAR POLLY — A tin muffin pan can be painted with bright enamel and used for serving beverages. Glasses won't tip over and serving is made much easier.

MRS. G. B. Share your favorite homemaking ideas. Send them to Polly in care of this newspaper. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

New WMU Circle Names Officers

CANADIAN (Spl) — A new circle in the Baptist Women's Missionary Union was organized recently at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Aaron Rose, WMU president.

The circle was named the Betty Butcher Circle in honor of a missionary to Thailand. Following a prayer by Mrs. Rose for missionaries with birthdays on January 17, Mrs. Carroll Harmon sang a solo, "Why Do I Sing Of Jesus?"

Mrs. Jack Chambers was named circle chairman and appointed Mrs. Revis Dudley as secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Harmon, program chairman and Mrs. Loretta Steele as mission study chairman.

Other circle members, not previously mentioned, are Mmes. Pat Baggett, Edith Martin, Janice Snyder, Betty Kiefer and Betty Schooler.

Also attending the organizational meeting were Mrs. R. N. Matthews and Mrs. Ben Jordan.

Chickory, Grits And Tabasco Are Breakfast 'Musts'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The South rose again today in the White House kitchen as a Louisiana lawmaker got President Kennedy to add a taste of Dixie to his breakfast menu.

Rep. Hale Boggs complained after last week's White House breakfast for Democratic congressional leaders that there had been no tabasco with the eggs, and no chickory in the coffee.

"It was much improved today," Boggs told newsmen after Speaker John W. McCormack jokingly referred to the change.

"We had grits, tabasco, and coffee with chickory—and Hubert Humphrey liked it better than anybody else."

Humphrey, who is from Minnesota, retorted that "We Southerners must stand together."

Adlai In Hot Water Again

NEW YORK (UPI)—The possibility of a new squabble has arisen today over the role of Adlai Stevenson in the Cuban crisis.

The latest development was triggered by an article in the current Saturday Evening Post written by the magazine's Washington editor, Stewart Alsop.

The article said that Stevenson had advised the National Security Council to consider the abandonment of the Guantanamo naval base if necessary in exchange for Russian removal of its missiles from Cuba.

Clayton Fritchey, Stevenson's special assistant at the United Nations, said Monday night, however, that the report was inaccurate and contradictory.

Fritchey, one of Alsop's "sources," said the report contradicted a previous article published last December which created a public furor.

Alsop, who coauthored the earlier article with Charles Bartlett, said the information had been elicited from Fritchey in the course of three lengthy conversations.

A Thirsty Nation Is Reminded Of Its Dwindling Supply Of Water Reserves

By United Press International
A thirsty nation, from South Dakota cornfields to California communities to the parched soil of Texas, was alerted Monday to its dwindling water supply.

The decision of a West Texas judge that a farmer was entitled to a tax reduction because he had to "mine" irreplaceable water to grow his crops spelled a new warning that water soon may not be everywhere.

It used to be that when people thought of irrigation they envisioned networks of canals and ditches channeling water from rivers and lakes and reservoirs into crop rows.

U. S. Dist. Judge Joseph B. Dooley's ruling pointed up that many farmers and ranchers across the nation use underground water for irrigation.

Underground Sources Tapped
From cities in northern Illinois, to cornfields in the South Dakota prairies, to a vast sea in California, city and rural people alike are tapping underground sources for water.

Actually, from a physical standpoint, it matters little what the water is used for above the ground. Washing dishes depletes the underground reservoir just as much as irrigating sugar beets.

In some parts of the country, such as in Minnesota, the underground water is quickly replenished. In other parts of the nation, such as in Texas' High and South Plains area, the water is like a naturally deposited mineral and is not replaced.

'Mining' Water
This was the contention of farmer Marvin Shurbet of Petersburg, Tex. He said the water he used to irrigate his land was not being replaced. Shurbet said such irrigation amounted to "mining" the water.

He claimed it as an income tax deduction.

The judge agreed and noted that Dr. Edward Teller, the famous physicist, had said "water was being mined" in Shurbet's case.

Water district hydrologist W. L. Broadhurst said the ruling did not mean irrigation water throughout the United States suddenly had become tax deductible.

California Affected
In California, state officials said about 2.5 million acre-feet of water drawn from the ground annually fall within the area of the Amarillo, Tex., case.

They said best estimates were that tax savings would run "into the millions," but both state and private officials said no exact estimate could be made without extensive legal and engineering study.

The tax saving was estimated at $6 million alone for West Texas. In Nevada, the state owns the ground water and issues permits for any wells. State conservation director Hugh Shamberger said the case probably would not be applicable to Nevada.

In Washington, Rep. Walter Rogers, West Texas Democrat, said he long had advocated a depletion allowance.

Understands Problems
"Judge Dooley knows and understands these problems as an individual as well as legally," Rogers said. "I think he was absolutely right."

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., said permanent depletion of water supply should be taken into consideration in the tax structure.

"Whether permanent depletion of water supplies exists as in the withdrawal of oil is a matter of fact to be determined in each case," Yarborough said. "If the underground water reservoir is permanently depleted then allowances should be made."

The Texas case probably will be appealed by the government, according to George McCleskey of Lubbock, one of a battery of lawyers the High Plains Water District retained to aid Shurbet.

What the cause of the problem is, the result is undesirable. How should this problem be approached? Each situation must be considered individually. The job is complex. It takes cooperation and effort by parents, schools, community agencies, etc.

The parent and student must understand the importance of education. The sacrifices which may be necessary are worthwhile. When difficulties of this nature appear, help should be sought. The school guidance counselor is generally able to assist. So, very often, is the pastor or family physician.

More Than Advice
This kind of problem usually needs more than just advice. The student must be directed to a school program which meets his needs. Vocational assistance is valuable. The student and parent need the feeling that graduation will result in a more promising future.

When money is part of the problem, additional family income is difficult to turn down. Perhaps a part time position will help. If this is not sufficient, further steps can be taken. The school might bring in other local agencies.

Parents who recognize and understand the problem, can be most helpful. They can, through proper guidance, do a great deal to assist a student to remain in school. Naturally, the school can do little to help a student when his parents want him to leave.

Foreign Commentary
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Notes from the foreign news cables:

Confidence Vote:
Although tension between Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani's Christian Democrats and the left wing Socialists of Pietro Nenni is near the breaking point, the government is expected to survive a vote of confidence vote brought by the Communists and scheduled to be decided later this week. Shortly afterwards, however, President Antonio Segni is expected to dissolve parliament and call general elections, possibly for April 7 or 21, as the only way out of an impasse. The ruling Christian Democrats are split into a center-left faction which supports Fanfani, and a moderate faction which is cool to his policies. Chances of survival are debatable. The Socialists are also split into a center-left wing led

Philippine Sovereignty:
The Philippines will maintain its claim to sovereignty over British North Borneo in talks with the British government starting in London this Thursday. But the Filipino delegates probably will settle for less — say a lump sum payment for waiving sovereignty claims, along with guaranteed membership for the proposed Malaysia Federation in the South East Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO). It is not certain, however, that the British will yield anything. London is inclined to view Manila's claims to North Borneo — through tenuous links with the heirs of the sultan of Sulu — as somewhat more than questionable.

Berlin Tension:
Don't look for any lessening of the heat in the Berlin crisis to result in any contacts or "deals" between the East and West Germans. This idea is in the deep freeze at present. The West Germans feel that East German Red boss Walter Ulbricht is losing ground. This, despite Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's backslapping and kissing demonstrations with Ulbricht. The West Germans therefore are dead-set against any dealings with him. The East Germans, too, are adamant. They preferred to practically reject a sizable credit offer for trade from Bonn because it was coupled with a demand for West Berliners to be given passes to enter the East through the anti-refugee wall. The East Germans turned this idea down because it would have been tantamount to recognizing West German responsibility for West Berlin.

Disarmament Talks:
The outlook for the 17-nation disarmament talks appears dim in the wake of Premier Khrushchev's statement that Berlin settlement takes precedence over a disarmament treaty. There even is talk of recessing the Geneva conference indefinitely until the Russians give some indication they are ready to do some serious negotiating. So far it is only talk. But members of delegations in Geneva are half-ready to return home if there is more delay.

PLANS LESS TV WORK
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Dinah Shore, popular television personality for a decade, announced Sunday she will not appear on a regular show next season.

Miss Shore said she wanted to get away from the rigors of a tight television schedule to devote more time to her two children, Melissa Ann, 15, and John David, 8.

TV Producers Busy At Work On '64 Shows
By JOSEPH FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The new year is just over three weeks old but television producers are busily working on new video series for the 1963-64 season.

And they have been for months, pouring thousands of dollars into shows that might never see the light of an evening's prime time exposure to America's living rooms.

In keeping with the trend back to comedy, several producers are working on new shows starring proven funnymen and newcomers in situation type series.

Clowns like George Gobel, Phil Silvers, Mickey Shaughnessy and Mickey Rooney are working on series being set for the hectic television market.

Cast And Titles
Rooney is co-starring with John Forsythe and Barbara Nichols in "Five, Six, Pick Up Stocks," a series about a recording company promotion man. Gobel is heading up a variety show, Shaughnessy may appear as "Butterball Brown" in itinerant baseball player, and Aldo Ray stars as "Lollipop Louie," a fisherman who carries a pocketful of candy. There's also one on the drawing-board which takes advantage of the space race. Titled "I Married a Martian," the show stars Julie Newmar.

A few seagoing series may wash up on video's waves. One stars Tommy Sands, another has Rory Calhoun and a third presents Peter Graves and Walter Pidgeon.

In keeping with the rage for military themes which have been a success this year, one producer is planning an epic called "A O.K. O'Shea," a woman's Army Corps story which has Gale Storm portraying a lady captain. Jack Palance has been cast in "The Greatest Show on Earth," a title which makes this one an obvious circus production. He'll play a big top owner in the show which Desilu studio plans to film at Ringling Bros. Florida winter quarters.

New Detective Shows
New detective shows, always standard fare, are being filmed. Jackie Cooper plays a rich private eye and Chuck Connors, whose "Rifleman" is going off the air, portrays a detective who nabs crooks in "Arrest and Trial." Gen. Gazzara is a defense attorney protecting the criminals arrested by Connors.

Chester Morris, an unfamiliar face on television, is working on "The Quick and the Dead." He'll manage a sports arena.

Lee Marvin, "M Squad" veteran and Keenan Wynn have been cast in "The Losers," described as an updated western with two rascally characters.

Robert Taylor's agreement to star in a show based on the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare cinched that show for a network time slot.

Of course all plans hinge on acceptance of network brass and advertisers. It's always well to remember that Hollywood's vaults hold millions of dollars worth of pilot films which have never been viewed by the general public because they couldn't be sold.

Watching the fast spread of federal power into the hands of the Kennedy clan, a good many Americans have voiced wonder as to whether a new upper echelon "dynasty" is in the making.

Writing recently in the London Daily Herald, Malcolm Muggeridge, witty former editor of Punch and acid critic of the monarchy and the nobility, declared that "King Jack, Queen Jackie, Prince Caroline and the various royal dukes and duchesses are as entrenched in the social scene as their equivalents in England."

The assassins and their driver, all of whom escaped, were dressed in Soviet Army uniforms. Their jeep was similar to those used by units of Castro's own army.

These are the intriguing details that U.S. intelligence agencies have pieced together from information Castro has circulated among his own security forces.

One of his messages, ordering massive new security measures throughout the entire island, left no doubt he was the assassins' target. It flatly reported that the stricter security precautions were being put in force to prevent a new attempt on Castro's life.

INSIDE JOB??? — This unconfirmed premise is based on findings that none of the Cuban underground, with whom U.S. officials are in contact, were involved in the assassination attempt or even knew about it ahead of time.

The shooting, later confirmed by these anti-Castro Cubans, caught them completely by surprise. Also, they have been unable to furnish any hard information on who the actual assassins might be.

There is even speculation by these Cuban sources that Rodriguez, boss of Cuba's powerful National Institute of Agrarian Reform, may have set up Castro for the assassination attempt.

Rodriguez, who received a flesh wound in the attack, is known to feel that Castro's recklessness might touch off a military incident that would bring a U.S. invasion of Cuba.

In line with Soviet policy, Rodriguez favors avoiding any military clash with the U.S. in order to keep Cuba as a base for Communist subversion and espionage throughout Latin America.

Rodriguez's importance in Cuban-Soviet affairs has been underlined by his recent trips to Russia and other Iron Curtain countries to discuss policies. His support, while a Communist party member, of ousted Dictator Fulgencio Batista has never set well with Castro.

LOOKING THEM OVER — The Navy is again playing "cat and mouse" with Soviet ships believed to be carrying new arms to Cuba.

Allen-Scott Report. Castro Real Target of Assassination Attempt; Intelligence Indicates; Russian Reds Suspect. Includes portraits of Robert Allen and Paul Scott.

WASHINGTON — Premier Fidel Castro was the real target of that mystery-cloaked assassination attempt being vigorously denied by officials of his Communist regime.

The assassins' wild-flying bullets, one nicking Carlos Rafael Rodriguez in the leg, struck all around Castro as he and Rodriguez emerged from a government building in Havana on January 12.

Castro and Rodriguez were about two feet apart when the rain of bullets began pouring from sub-machineguns manned by two persons riding in a speeding Czechoslovakian built jeep.

The assassins and their driver, all of whom escaped, were dressed in Soviet Army uniforms. Their jeep was similar to those used by units of Castro's own army.

These are the intriguing details that U.S. intelligence agencies have pieced together from information Castro has circulated among his own security forces.

THOUGHTS ON SOIL BANKISM. Dear Editor: Paw never did put much faith in the help, his brother Butram offered to give him. One day while Paw and I were building a fence, Paw looked up and saw my Uncle Butram coming to help us.

A few years ago the government started what was called a soil bank for the farmers to put some of their land in. It worked something like this. They paid my cousin Boliver Sockwad ten dollars per acre per year, for a ten-year period to get him to let his place grow up, not to farm it.

More on Cuba — President Kennedy is showing growing concern about the continued and increased shipments of Soviet arms to Cuba. After reading a report listing the arrivals of an average of 60 Russian ships a week in Cuba, the President summoned the Joint Chiefs of Staff to the White House to obtain their private views.

The four young men who drove 400 miles to discuss the philosophy of freedom with me asked the question in these words: "If you had the power to do so, what kind of government would you institute?" Despite the fact they had asked this question of libertarians and conservatives and others concerned with the affairs of people and governments, my reply seemed to shock them.

I would not accept the power to institute any type of control over anyone because the acceptance of such power changes a man who would be free into a tyrant, government, per se, is inevitably evil, so while the least government is the least evil, I will not give my sanction to an evil thing.

Now it seems that a great many people have created a number of mythical forms of government with which they believe they could live. On the other hand, except in broad based, general terms, mightily few people are able to specify how much government they want and will be willing to pay for.

Finally my questioners asked this one, "What type of government do you believe would be best for all of mankind?" My reply was and always will be, "Self Government."

If we must ape the scientists who aim for the moon when they can't find a cure for the common cold, and want to worry about all of mankind, we should, I believe, take a look at a few hard facts. If man has not achieved an intellectual capacity which permits him to be self responsible and self governing, how does his intellectual deficiency qualify

TRUTH FORUM. Communists Use Same Techniques in Britain. By ED DELANEY. Includes portrait of Ed Delaney.

Recently a Washington court found the Communist Party in the United States to be an integral part of the Soviet communist conspiracy and assessed a fine of $120,000. Individual officers of the party are expected to be tried on similar charges of being agents of a foreign power, namely the Soviet Union.

Abundant proof of the international character and Moscow control of communists in all countries, is seen in four articles which appeared in the London Times. They present at considerable length the identical technique, tactics and efforts to control or contaminate labor unions, also the "peace movements" and snares to beguile youth groups in Britain, as we have observed in this country.

They endeavor to "soften up" the British people, says the Times, so they will come to accept communism as an alternative to the tensions of the cold war. They regard Christian morality as mere weakness or stupidity and they take advantage of it. They accuse the British government of being the main "obstacle to peace" because it will not accept Soviet proposals for total disarmament without any system of guarantees.

No mention is ever made of communist methods of liquidation within the Soviet Union or in satellite countries. This is the prescribed line used by the communists and their collaborators in America. But to trace the similarity a bit further. Fear is easy to exploit, points out the London Times, so the communists have sized up that fear and are using it for their ends, because the prospect of nuclear annihilation is so appalling that it is not surprising that many people are ob-

These and many more activities of the communists in Britain are precisely what the communists and their collaborators have been doing in this country for years. The pattern is identical on both sides of the Atlantic. Yet the American communists try to convince us that they are an "independent" political organization. Their independence is the same that millions of others have behind the Iron Curtain.

What Kind of Government Would You Create? By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D. Includes portrait of George Boardman.

It is true that men have begged for rulers and governments to assume responsibilities which belong properly to the individual, since the beginning of recorded history and even before. On the other hand, scientists and historians and educators seem willing to believe that relatively large segments of the population have achieved a slow but gradual advance in intellectual capacity and even in responsibility.

Advances have been made, the total population of the world should now be enjoying the least government and less governmental oppression than at any time in history. The reverse, unfortunately, is true. At no previous time in history has there been more government to oppress those who are not a part of government.

Rational and logical thinkers are beginning to agree that if mankind is to advance towards a real civilization or self responsibility, mankind had better get about the business of reducing the size and the cost and the powers of governments all over the world. Governments will no longer be able to cut their own throats. Recipients of doler and other handouts from governments will not leave off their begging. A once proud and respectable capitalist system has lost the courage to turn its back on government business and government bribes. Now, we have whittled away until we can see the individual trees and the forests and this leaves you and me. I instituted my personal boycott against government more than two years ago and I'm doing the best I can to write and think and live in freedom, and that leaves you.

Good luck and good health to you, in freedom.
