Pampa Recall Tossed Out By Civil Appeals Court

District Court Verdict Reversed By Tribunal

The effort to have three Pampa city commissioners subjected to a recall election ended in defeat for the plaintiffs in the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo today.

The court ruled, in effect, that the action to have the commissioners submit to a recall election was illegal to begin with.

Victims in the court ruling handed down this forenoon were City Commissioners Lloyd Simpson, Leon Holmes and L. P. Fort.

A recall election on all three had been sought in the court action. Mayor E. C. Sidwell, also a target in the original recall petitions, was not a party in the suit since he already had voluntarily submitted himself to a recall election and won it.

In effect, the court's decision today sustained the judgement of the Pampa City Commission on the recall petitions and reversed the verdict handed down in District Court here ordering the recall elections.

The court ruled that "the action of the District Court in ordering the calling of a recall election for the Pampa City Commission was reversed and judgement rendered that the cause be dismissed."

The Appeals Court in its opinion reviewed the history of the Pampa City Charter and its changes and pointed out that when the charter was amended to provide for the election of commissioners from the four wards, instead of being elected at large, the provision for the recall of any elective officers was not amended.

The court ruled further that "before the change to the ward system, the charter had required that petitions for recall should be signed by 30 per cent of the qualified voters at the last regular election."

The fact that the election for the recall of the mayor was promptly ordered by the commission precludes any thought that the refusal to call the election for the recall of the commissioners

Polaris A3 Flight Test Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The Navy today fired its new Polaris A3 missile, the most powerful submarine weapon ever built, on a successful flight of 2,000 miles across the Atlantic Ocean.

The snub-nosed rocket blasted from a launching pad on Cape Canaveral at 10:30 a.m.

It was the second success in four days for the A3, whose first six tests all had been marked by problems. The A3 is a third-generation member of the famed submarine-launched family of Polaris missiles.

It also is far and away the most powerful. It will be capable of landing nuclear warheads on targets up to 2,880 miles away in firings from nuclear submarines beneath the ocean's surface.

The range was deliberately held down today, however, while technicians and engineers studied "basic missile development."

What they saw looked good.

Lawmakers Study Bill On Capitalism Vs. Communism

High School Course Is Legislation's Purpose

By KYLE THOMPSON
United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI) — State lawmakers take their first look today at a proposal that would require all Texas high schools to teach a course on the virtues of capitalism and the faults of communism.

The bill, by Rep. W. T. Dungan of McKinney, would institute effective with the 1964 school year a complete course of not less than one hour per school day for one full semester on "capitalism vs. communism."

The bill was scheduled to be heard at a mid-afternoon meeting of the House Education Committee.

It was among scores of proposals dealing with a wide variety of subjects ranging from local bills to some major tax and election code revisions set for committee hearings in both houses this week.

Capitalism Praised

Dungan's bill would put the legislature on record as recognizing that capitalism or the free enterprise system "has created the highest standard of living for the greater number of people ever known to man."

Several proposals dealing with taxes in the state were scheduled for committee airing. One, by Rep. Jack Woods of Waco before the state affairs committee tonight, would allow cities and towns to levy their own limited sales tax up to 1 per cent of gross sales.

MoD Officials Report On Contributions

The March of Dimes in Gray County "exceeded our expectations this year," Clyde Carruth, county chairman, said this morning while going over the collection figures with Benny Shackelford at the First National Bank.

A total of $7,800.00 was collected. Last year's collections totaled $6,405.00.

"Everybody was wonderful in their attitude in giving so freely for this worthy cause," Carruth added, "and the way the outlying towns came through was a amazing." He was drawing attention to McLean which donated $984.56. Lefors turned in $409.95.

The Mothers March turned in the largest amount for any group with $2,458.20. Mrs. R. A. Mack, chairman, said the drive isn't over for the mothers, "because I'm still getting telephone calls for pick ups and

Annual Sessions Proposed

Another proposed amendment by Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston to be heard on Tuesday would set up annual sessions of the Texas Legislature.

The Senate Banking Committee is due to get a report from its subcommittee Thursday on three separate loan shark bills. The three were heard together nearly two weeks ago and the committee told its subpanel to report back this Thursday.

However, there were indications the subcommittee will ask for more time to get a bill acceptable to lenders and borrowers alike ready. This is the third successive legislature to wrestle with the knotty loan shark problem. Bills failed in both previous sessions.

'Jet Tummy' Is Complaint Of Stewardesses

LONDON (UPI) — Stewardesses on high-altitude transatlantic flights are being plagued by what they call "jet tummy" that swells them up like balloons, it was reported here Sunday.

It is painful, the girls say, and sometimes it takes up to 24 hours before their waists get back to normal.

"It starts when we are in the air and the swelling often lasts for the whole day," an Irish stewardess who works on the transatlantic jets explained. "Some girls can't bear the pain and I have known some to slip off their girdles in the galley in the back of the plane halfway between London and New York," she said.

According to a Dublin doctor, loosening clothes is just what the girls ought to do to ease the trouble.

"Everyone swells to a certain extent when they fly, but hostesses seem to notice it more. If they are wearing a tight girdle, the chances are they will swell more," he said.

The doctor said the pain and swelling was caused by gases in the stomach expanding by as much as 30 per cent, depending on the pressure in the plane cabin.

Baghdad 'Dead Quiet'

New Iraqi Regime In Double Executions

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Iraq's new rebel regime executed two generals and two other officers today, but travelers arriving here from Baghdad reported "dead quiet" in the capital for the first time since fighting began Friday.

West German member of parliament Rudolph Werner said streets were empty and only a few shops were open. Tanks and armored cars moved through the streets continuously.

"Sunday there was firing all over the city, as they smoked out Communists, but today I did not hear any shooting," he said. "Everything was dead quiet today, almost frighteningly so."

The military governor of Baghdad was reported to have relaxed the curfew hours. It is now in effect from 8 p.m. to 6 a.m.

(Britain today became the second major power to recognize the new Iraqi regime. Earlier today, West Germany extended its recognition.)

One eyewitness estimated about 1,500 persons were killed in the initial day of the revolt. No official figures were available.

Baghdad Radio in a broadcast heard here said the four "criminal traitors" were shot and killed because they "violated the people's rights and lived in corruption."

The officers were identified as Brig. Gen. Abd Al Majid Jalil, Brig. Gen. Dawud Al Janabi, Col. Husayn Khidr Al Duri and Lt. Col. Ibrahim Kazim Al Musawi, all retired.

Military units and armed student bands were reported hunting down and wiping out pockets of resistance in Baghdad to the new rebel regime.

West Texas Blanketed

Pampa Is Thawing From Sunday Snow Visitation

Pampans today were trying to thaw out from a sudden arctic front which moved in Sunday afternoon and night on the heels of a mixed rain and snow storm.

The mercury fell to 11 above at 7 a.m. today, is expected to drop to 8 above for a minimum tonight, and then warm up into the 40s tomorrow.

Best news out of the whole nasty weather business was the nearly two-inch snowfall which gave the area around 10 to 12-inch of moisture.

It marked the first real precipitation of the six-week year. It also was the first snowfall of any consequence since the three to four-inch fall Pampa had in November.

It all began Saturday night with a light rain which continued intermittently mixed with snow through Sunday forenoon and then changed to snow as the mercury began to drop.

This morning there was nearly two inches of snow on the ground, drifted to four or five inches in many places.

Streets were slick and motorists were forced to drive with caution. Four or five minor accidents, caused by the slippery streets,

West Texas Blanketed

Much the same condition is expected to continue through today and tonight, the weathermen said, with a warming trend scheduled to set in tomorrow. The latest forecast calls for a drop of the temperature to around 8 to 10 above tonight and then into the 40s by tomorrow afternoon with the resultant thawing.

The cold front was widespread and carried down through north and central Texas.

Roads in the Top O' Texas area were open today although warnings were out for motorists to drive carefully and that many of the highways were treacherous and slick in spots. School buses made their trips as usual.

A new arctic storm blanketed a wide area of West Texas in as much as six inches of snow today. The wind-whipped storm brought snow as far south as Austin and touched off thunderstorms in South Texas.

Six inches of snow was reported in the Texas Highway Department's Lubbock district.

Planes, Ships Fan Out In Search For Tanker As Mystery Deepens

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Planes and ships fanned out over the Atlantic today in an effort to solve the deepening mystery of a tanker missing for eight days with 39 crewmen aboard.

There was no clue to whether the 524-foot Marine Sulphur Queen, carrying a cargo of molten sulphur, had exploded and sunk or was lost or disabled.

A Coast Guard officer speculated that if the hot sulphur had come in contact with the water, a steam explosion would follow, causing "the whole thing to go up like an atom bomb."

The World War II Merchant Marine vessel sailed from Beaumont, Tex., nine days ago bound for Norfolk, Va.

The ship transports sulphur in heavily insulated steel tanks that are kept at 265 degrees by steel coils. The ship's operators, Marine Transport Corp. of New York, said hauling sulphur is no more dangerous than hauling other cargoes.

The Coast Guard rushed two ships to check what appeared to be floating debris Sunday night but hours of searching a 200-square mile area east of here produced no trace of the ship. The Coast Guard reported the flotsam did not appear to be from the vessel, last heard from when it dispatched a radio message Feb. 3 while sailing near Dry Tortugas in the Gulf of Mexico.

The disappearance of the ship recalled another great maritime mystery in the Atlantic — the U. S. Navy supply ship Cyclops which vanished in 1918 with 309 men aboard.

Commission To Meet Tonight

This week's regular meeting of the City Commission will be held in City Hall at 7 p.m. today instead of tomorrow, the regular meeting date.

City Manager Harold Schmitzer said the date was changed because of the Lincoln Day dinner scheduled for the Country Club tomorrow night.

The city manager also indicated the possibility of a special commission meeting on Thursday night to discuss the proposed increase in city water rates.

Official Asks End To Debate On Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A high administration official has called for an end to public debate over Cuba following a weekend of new charges and counter-charges on the issue.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball said Sunday night that it was "a little bit extraordinary that we keep on hectoring one another over this Cuban problem."

Ball spoke out after members of Congress unleashed a new barrage of statements on Cuba. Republicans demanded a harder line toward the Castro regime, and a Democrat accused the GOP of trying to push the United States into World War III.

Ball, appearing on a television program, said the administration had been as "candid and as open" with the American people about Cuba as the national interest allowed.

"I think now is perhaps an occasion when we ought to stop talking so much about this and let the situation be watched as it is being watched on a day-to-day basis, but let it develop," he added.

Ball, No. 2 man in the State Department, said "the facts are on the table" and they had been told "as completely as they could have been told" by President Kennedy.

"If anyone gets any evidence that there is some offensive build-up in Cuba or the presence of offensive weapons, or some change in the military situation, the Defense Department is ready to receive that evidence, to subject it to the critical test of the whole intelligence community and to evaluate it and give it some informed judgment as to whether it makes any sense or not," Ball said.

"But all these voluntary intelligence gatherers who would rather make speeches than turn the information over to the government where it could be seriously considered. I don't think they serve the national interests very well."

Ball said that Secretary of State Dean Rusk had talked Saturday with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin about the continued presence of 17,000 Russian military personnel in Cuba.

"This is a matter of some continuing communications between ourselves and the Soviet government," Ball said. "We will see how things develop."

Over the weekend the Cuban situation was by far the most popular subject discussed by members of Congress, especially Republicans, in newsletters and interviews.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., appearing on a weekly radio-television program with Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said the administration had failed to tell the truth about Cuba until "forced to do so" by disclosures he and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., had made.

Clark replied that President Kennedy was engaged in a "sound method" to get the Russians out of Cuba, "but he's not going to throw this country into the kind of war which... you and Sen. Keating... are trying to push us into."

"You follow your policy and you'll have us in World War III in 30 days," Clark said.

Dear Abby....

Man's Leading A Dog's Life

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife is an animal lover from way back. We have two dogs and my wife has become friendly with the vet. When I don't feel well, she calls the vet and describes my symptoms and he sends out some pills for me. I am not a dog or a horse and do not care to be treated by a veterinarian. My wife insists that he can do as much for me as a regular doctor. Does he have as much education and training? And isn't it against the law for a veterinarian to treat humans? He has never charged me anything.

TWO-LEGGED PATIENT
DEAR PATIENT: Veterinarians are not licensed to administer to humans. Furthermore, the law prohibits it. Even though to refuse his treatment might be looking a gift horse in the mouth, I would advise you to refuse his treatment and consult a medical doctor.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a 26-year-old man for three months. I am 22. When I first met him he was the biggest drunk in town. But he has changed completely. He joined my church and gave up drinking and he even works steady now. The only trouble is my parents don't want us to get married because of the kind of person he was when I first met him. How can I convince them that he is a changed man? We want to get married but want my parents' blessings.

ED'S GIRL
DEAR GIRL: Rome was not built in a day, and a man cannot rebuild his character in three months. If, at the end of a year, he is sober, working and still living right I think your parents will be convinced that he's changed. Wait!

DEAR ABBY: When your husband starts to drive one of his employees back and forth to work, tells you what horrible skin she has, that she is so skinny a good wind would blow her away and that she is so stupid it took him six weeks to straighten out her books, look out! If I hadn't been such a trusting dope, I could have stopped my husband from running off with a "skinny, stupid" book-keeper. Please print this as a warning to other wives who are slow to read the signs.

WOMAN WITH HINDSIGHT
DEAR ABBY: I wish you'd put a few lines in your column about people who say, "My but you look nice TODAY!" I always wonder if I looked a mess yesterday.

POLLY'S POINTERS

White Overshoes Become White Again

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I use white side-wall tire cleaner to clean my children's white galoshes. It is easy to use and overshoes become white as new again.

Have you ever tried the idea of stirring the thickening into gravies and sauces with a fork instead of a spoon? You can really stir up a storm without splashing out of pan or skillet.

MRS. J. E. B.

DEAR POLLY—When hanging a picture, use a fork to slip the wire easily and quickly on nail, hanger or hook. Rest the tines of the fork on the hanger and slip the wire over the handle.

If a faulty shower head sprays water over the shower curtain onto bathroom walls and floor, cut out the center of a plastic bowl cover and slip over the shower head to divert spurting water.

GIRLS—This last hint is one of the many good ones we print that are wonderful stop gaps until plumber or hubby takes over.

DEAR POLLY—Put an aluminum cup containing hot water and soda on the sink cabinet when doing breakfast dishes. Into this cup put silverware that has been discolored by eggs. By the time you have done the dishes, the silverware is all bright and shiny.

Notes like the following make my day brighter:
DEAR POLLY—My children often asked me, "What would you do if someone handed you a million dollars?" They got their answer when I received a Polly Dollar. I danced and jumped and sang all over the place. Imagine what a reaction I would have had with a million.

GIRLS—It isn't the amount of the money but the pat on the back for something we have done (that appeals to someone else) that counts, isn't it? Have you shared any of your favorite homemaking tricks with our readers and...

DEAR POLLY—Take a piece of regular wire window screening and cut it to the same size as your loose powder container. It holds the puff out of the powder for storing and, with a slight pressure, sifts just the right amount of powder on your puff. It eliminates waste of powder, too.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas... send them to Polly in care of this newspaper. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

Local Businessman Guest Speaker For Pampa Council Of Women's Club Meet

Melvin Munn, business man and lecturer, was guest speaker at the Thursday morning meeting of the Pampa Council of Women's Club held in the City Club Room.

Mr. Munn described the function of "Programmed Instruction and the Teaching Machine" as "simply a matter of atomizing knowledge, breaking it down to its simplest and most basic form."

He made it clear that teaching machines are not a device that will replace teachers or eliminate the classroom but are primarily designed to aid the student who is weak or failing in a basic subject. "Teaching machines can teach," but only a teacher can educate.

The business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Libby Shotwell, council president, followed the speaker's talk.

Included in the morning's program were invocation by Mrs. Jack Hermon. Reports were given by Mrs. Richard Cooke, secretary and Mrs. L. K. Stout, treasurer.

Mrs. Jack P. Foster of the Gray County Chapter of the American Cancer Society announced that a new film "To Smoke Or Not To Smoke" was available for showing to local clubs and groups. Mrs. Foster stated that the film had been shown to high school students and will be shown to junior high groups soon.

It was reported that the City Club Room had been used 16 times during January.

The House Committee completed the Council on the new drapes. All member clubs were urged to leave the drapes drawn and to use artificial light; use the air conditioner to cool the room and use the furnace to control heat.

Council representatives attending were Meses. Marian Osborne, Altrusa; Lee Eslick, Exceptional Children; Lillian R. Land, Pampa Music Teachers; Joe Z. # Company Splits WT-NM Division

Cities Service Oil Co.'s West Texas-New Mexico production division has been split into two divisions, with Ray W. Ely as production superintendent of the newly designated Tex-Mex division and E. L. Cralle as superintendent of the West Texas division.

Announcement of the change was made by C. R. Smith of Bartlesville, Okla., manager of the company's production division, following the retirement Feb. 1 of Dan D. Bodie as superintendent of the West Texas-New Mexico division.

Cralle, as production superintendent of the West Texas division, will supervise operations in the East and West Odessa production districts. He will continue to headquarter in Odessa. Cralle steps into the division superintendency after serving five years as assistant division superintendent under Bodie. His engineering assignments in Cities Service production have been at Oklahoma City, Okla., in North Texas and Pampa. He was transferred from Pampa to Odessa as district superintendent in 1955. Yankees Got All They Needed In Stan Williams, Says Houk

By RALPH HOUK New York Yankees' Manager As told to HARRY GRAYSON

It was common knowledge at the conclusion of last season that the Yankees needed just one thing—a big pitcher.

The New York club got what it wanted from the Los Angeles Dodgers in fireballing Stan Williams, who will round out a Big Four with Ralph Terry, Whitey Ford and Bill Stafford. Williams is only 26, enthusiastic about joining the World Champions and I expect him to be a substantial winner for several years.

We further bolstered our pitching by making Bill Kunkel our first draftee in 11 years. I remember the right-handed Kunkel, who is also 26, as a stalwart relief pitcher for Kansas City two years ago. The Athletics shipped him to Toronto last season, where he was 8 and 1 in 15 games with an earned-run average of 2.35 for 46 innings.

To obtain Williams we had to give up Moose Skowron, so the attention at our Fort Lauderdale training base this spring will be on young Joe Pepitone. There is no reason Pepitone can't make it at first base. He has indicated that he can handle the bat, possesses power, has defensive skill and runs well. But promise and performance are not necessarily identical.

If Pepitone doesn't make it all the way, we can fall back on Dale Long and Hector Lopez, a major league hitter whose position could be first base.

With Tony Kubek and Bobby Richardson as a double play combination, Clete Boyer at third base—and probably Pepitone at first, we'll be strong defensively as well as offensively in the infield, where we are further protected by versatile Phil Linz.

And where could you find an outfield combination excelling Tommy Tresh, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris?

Behind the plate, Elston Howard is backed up by Yogi Berra, now a part-time coach, and Johnny Blanchard.

The addition of Williams will help our middle and finishing relief pitchers as well as our spot starters. Jim Coates, Bud Daley, Hector Brown, Jim Bouton and Roland Sheldon scrap for the middle relief and spot starting jobs. I'm hoping that Luis Arroyo and Hal Reniff come back strongly to aid Marshall Bridges with the bullpen chores. Kunkel could figure here, too.

Last season did not produce the top performances that some Yankees had in 1961, so I believe I am not overly optimistic when I say there may be some improvement this trip, plus a couple of new faces. We start with the advantage of having Tony Kubek all the way along the route. Over-all the Yankees are young and we're still the team to beat.

NEXT: Sam Mele on the Minnesota Twins.

Top College Cage Teams Keep Win Streaks Alive

By GARY KALE UPI Sports Writer

It's reached a point where you can't pick an individual star on the University of Cincinnati basketball team any more — they're all chipping in to keep the top-ranked Bearcats' undefeated streak alive.

In the past, there was Jack Twyman. Then Oscar Robertson and later Paul Hogue. Now the laurels are spread among Tony Yates, Ron Bonham, George Wilson and Tom Thacker.

Cincinnati won its 19th straight this season by beating stubborn Bradley, 65-61, Saturday night for an 8-0 lead in the Missouri Valley Conference race. A victory against Wichita Saturday would virtually wrap up the Bearcats' sixth straight league title.

Yates, voted Cincinnati's best defensive player last season, picked off a key rebound and added two free throws in the waning seconds of the Bradley game that took the pressure off the Cats after they had come from behind four times in the second half. Bonham, the nation's free throw

Thomas Defeats Valery Brumel In High Jump

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The international stars, including the much publicized Russian track and field performers, were on their way home or to other meets today after most of them went down to defeat Saturday in the Los Angeles Indoor Games.

Two members of the Russian team of three tasted defeat as Valery Brumel was beaten in the high jump by John Thomas, and Valery Bulishev finished fourth in the 1,000-yard run. Only Igor Ter-Ovanesyan was victorious in the broad jump—and only by inches.

New Zealand's Peter Snell departed with the expressed hope he could return here in May and not only take on his mile conqueror, Jim Grelle, outdoors but also test Sullivan Award winner Jim Beatty.

Lesser foreigners who failed to gain victory in the indoor games included Finland's Olavi Salonen in the mile, Poland's Witold Baran in the 1,000-yard run, and a pair of women sprinters, Dorren Porter of New Zealand and Teresa Ciepla of Poland, in the women's 60-yard dash.

The paths of most of those other than Snell probably will cross later this month in the national AAU indoor championships at New York. This Friday, Thomas and Ralph Boston compete in the Golden Gate Games at San Francisco, while the Russians take part in the New York Athletic Club meet at Madison Square Garden.

Thomas and Brumel Saturday night both jumped 7 feet 1/4 inch, but the Russian had more misses before clearing the height and was placed second. It was Thomas' first win over the world record holder in eight meetings.

Grelle beat Snell in the mile in 4:04.7, but the manner in which he did it was more impressive than the time.

Texas Longhorns On Road To SWC Crown

By ED FITE UPI Sports Writer

The Texas Longhorns, who have beaten all their rivals en route to a 7-0 record at the midway point of the Southwest Conference basketball title race, start around again this week on what appears to be a downhill run to the championship.

The Longhorns, who may even become only the fourth team in 21 years to wade through league play undefeated, figure to finish with no worse than a 12-2 record. This week, they are expected to boost their record to 9-0 while meeting Texas Tech at Austin Tuesday night and Texas Christian at Fort Worth Friday night.

The Rice Owls, who appear to be the only club with much of a chance of overthrowing the Longhorns, face their two toughest assignments of the second half of the schedule this week. Tuesday night, they must invade Fayetteville to meet Arkansas, then hit the road again Saturday night to face Southern Methodist in Dallas.

If the Owls could clear both those hurdles, then they would have three of their remaining five games at home—including both Texas and Texas A&M—and a fair shot at the Longhorns if they could get some help from other league members.

That trick was turned last by SMU in 1956. Only other teams to accomplish it over the past two decades were the 1947 Longhorns and the 1945 Rice Owls.

The two biggest stumbling blocks—on paper, at least—to Texas appear to be consecutive road games against SMU Feb. 23 and Rice Feb. 26.

The Aggies and Arkansas, who suffered rude jolts to their chances last week to wind up with 4-3 records one game behind Rice's 5-2, will have their work cut out to stay in the running.

The Aggies host SMU Tuesday night and Arkansas Saturday night, while the Razorbacks will be facing Rice and A&M. One, or both, will drop out of sight of the title.

4th Quarter Surge Wins For Celts In NBA Tiff

By United Press International

Plain frustrated! In a nutshell, that's exactly how the Syracuse Nationals feel even though they've won 10 of their last 12 games and are whizzing along at an 833 clip in the National Basketball Association.

The Nats' frustration stems from the fact that the first-place Boston Celtics, whom they are trying to overtake in the Eastern Division race, have won 9 of their last 11 starts.

Syracuse, averaging 141 points in the last three games, routed the San Francisco Warriors, 139-115, Sunday while Boston knocked over the New York Knickerbockers, 129-123.

John Kerr and Hal Greer each scored 26 points in pacing the Nats to their fifth straight victory. Syracuse went ahead on Dolph Schayes' basket within the first five minutes of the game and never trailed thereafter. Wilt Chamberlain led the Warriors with 29 points.

The Celtics trailed the Knicks through nearly three quarters before wrapping up their victory with a 34-point burst in the final quarter. Sam Jones was high scorer for Boston with 21 points while Bill Russell added 17 as well as 10 assists. Johnny Green topped the Knicks with 25 points.

The Detroit Pistons poured it on in the final quarter to defeat the St. Louis Hawks, 102-95, despite a 36-point performance by Bob Pettit.

Pettit, however, could not prevent the Hawks from suffering their third straight home defeat even though his 36-point output raised his NBA scoring total over 17,000 points for nine seasons. Bailey Howell netted 22 points for the Pistons and Ray Scott contributed 21.

A brief flurry of fist-swinging marked the Cincinnati Royals' 124-107 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers. Hub Reed of the Royals and Jim Krebs of the Lakers squared off in the final quarter but no damage was done.

Oscar Robertson led Cincinnati with 29 points, including 12 in the decisive fourth quarter, while Elgin Baylor was individual high scorer with 42 points for the Lakers.

A'S SIGN PITCHER KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Kansas City Athletic hurler Bill Fischer today signed on with the A's for the 1963 season.

The 32-year-old pitcher broke the major league record for consecutive walkless innings pitched last season by throwing for 84 1-3 innings without putting a batter on. He ended the season with a 4-12 record.

Arnie Palmer Holds On To Phoenix Golf Lead

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer goes to the tee today in an attempt to win an unprecedented third consecutive Phoenix Open golf championship — weather permitting.

The fourth round of the $35,000 event was scheduled to be played Sunday, but a combination of rain, wind and hail swept over the Arizona Country Club course in mid-afternoon, cancelling all scores.

For some it was a tough break, for others it may mean money in the bank.

Palmer goes into this round with a 54-hole total of 203 strokes — the same number he had when he teed off Sunday. He went only two holes before the storm broke and was even par.

But Gary Player, who had started the day one shot behind him with 204, had finished four holes and was two under par, and theoretically in the tournament lead. Jack Nicklaus, winner of the Palm Springs classic last week, also was even par for the two holes he played Sunday. He is tied with Player.

Several others, including Tony Lema, also were enjoying good rounds when the storm broke. Lema was three under par after seven holes and only two shots back of Palmer.

The storm broke out with such suddenness that thousands of fans were caught on the fairways and scattered in all directions. Some huddled under palm trees for protection from the biting sting of being hit by the large hailstones.

The powerful wind caught up lawn furniture along the fairways and smashed them into fences. Trees came toppling down. Concession tents were uprooted and sandwiches and other food tossed about in the wind.

When it was all over the whole course was pure white, covered with hail stones. An hour later the hail stones still were visible lying on the ground.

One man died of a heart attack after running to the safety of the clubhouse. The telephone company estimated that damage to their equipment on the course

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Heavyweight boxing champ Sonny Liston engaged brash Cassius Clay here Saturday in verbal battle that almost landed in the ring.

Clay, No. 2 contender who predicts knockout rounds, was working out in a gym here Saturday night when the champ walked in unannounced.

Clay, never at a loss for words, yelled, "Throw that guy out of here. This is my training headquarters. This place isn't big enough for both of us!"

Sonny shot back, "The only reason it's not big enough is because I can catch you in here."

Then the champ offered Clay $100 a round to spar with him. "Spar," Clay screamed. "You get in the ring now and we'll fight for nothing."

Promoters and trainers stepped between the two men, but the boiling Clay spat out: "I had predicted Liston would fall in eight rounds. After this, you will fall in six."

He went on to tell the champ that he'll be waiting in his dressing room April 4 to sign a contract for the title match — "If you get by (former heavyweight champion Floyd) Patterson."

Liston told Clay, "They ought to arrest you for impersonating a fighter."

Marzich Pockets 1st Place Money

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Andy Marzich pocketed a $5,000 first-prize for winning the St. Louis professional bowling tournament here and hurried to telephone his wife, Lori, in Long Beach, Calif.

But Marzich, who defeated defending champion Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich., 238-188, supposedly didn't tell his wife that he won the Saturday night tournament.

Marzich told newsmen he wanted his wife to "find out for herself."

"The tournament is taped and shown on television two hours later in California," said Marzich. "I didn't want to spoil the ending for her, so I just told Lori that I was among the four who would appear on the show."

Joseph took home $2,500 in second prize money and Ed Lubanski of Detroit got $1,250 for his third place showing. Billy Welu of St. Louis, who lost to Joseph in semi-final play, 228-201, earned $1,000 for coming in fourth.

3-Winter Putting

Putting is half the game—and a 50 per cent that can be worked on to great advantage in the winter.

Sizzling long shots are a big kick, but if you don't believe putting is important you should be around top players. Their shop talk is mainly about putting. They know they can't win unless their work on the greens is well nigh perfect.

There are three essentials to good putting. You must find a style that suits you, individually. You must learn to concentrate. You must practice.

There are as many styles in putting as there are in women's fashions.

Some use a lot of wrist action, others propel the ball largely with their arms. Some stand straight, others crouch. Bob Duden, the bright young touring professional, puts from between his legs. Leo Diegel, a fine player in my day, held his elbows way out and swung his club pendulum fashion. He looked like a land crab, but he got the ball in the cup.

There is a putter to suit every style. They are made with mallet heads, goose-neck shafts, heel-shafted blades and in just about every other design you can think of. Julius Boros, Billy Casper and Bob Goalby use mallets. Duden employs a croquet mallet type putter with a bent shaft for his style.

Winter is the time to experiment and find the style that is best for you — and the putter that goes with it.

The Busy 'Taxometer'

An ingenious and valuable device made its appearance at the recent Pennsylvania State Farm Show. It's known as the "Taxometer"—and it shows on a day basis, the total gasoline taxes the American motorist is paying.

This computer really has a big job to perform. According to current projections, using present tax rates, we will pay nearly $6.3 billion in state and federal gasoline taxes during 1963—which works out to $17 million a day. And remember—there is certainly no guarantee that these rates won't go up. Many a state is painting for new revenue, and higher gasoline taxes are almost always in the proposed or pending stage.

The rate of increase in the gas tax has been staggering. For instance, Pennsylvania applied its first gas tax, of one-cent a gallon, some 40 years ago. The total revenue for the first full year, 1922, was $3.1 million. Now Pennsylvania drivers pay that much every three days. And the record of the other states has been comparable. The tax, actually, amounts to about half the pre-tax cost of regular gas. That would be a murder-gas tax to impose on an out-and-out luxury, much less on an absolute necessity.

Egypt has lifted the ban on dancing the American Twist, which was forbidden for some time as "demoralizing." Maybe it was giving the native Belly Dance of the Nile too much competition. Incidentally Nasser's aides say that anyone criticizing the Belly Dance is un-Egyptian. The Bossa Nova, the new Brazilian dance craze, has not as yet reached the shores of the United Arab Republic, but we'll probably have some word from the dictator's cultural dancing department about it later.

Withholding - A Way Of Life

Bills have been introduced in Congress—not for the first time—that would either reduce or eliminate altogether the withholding of federal income taxes from paychecks.

Reasoning behind the bills is that it might awaken people to the fact that an enormous slice of their earnings go direct from their employer to Washington. Realizing this, they might demand some semblance of economy in government.

As it is now, the tax extraction is relatively painless. Though 18 per cent of a man's wages, beyond exempted amounts, is withheld, he never sees it. With the natural human capacity for rationalizing, our man doesn't let himself think that the money ever actually was his. He figures his pay only as what he takes home in his pocket.

THE CURSE

Conformity May Improve Bodies, But Not Minds

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

My good friend, the Cerbat Mountain, reminded me of several scenes I watched, the last time I watched a TV program, in July, 1960. Thousands of marchers passed, thousands of arms moved in unison and thousands of legs paced off steps of a precise length and every mind was concentrated on just one thing—conformity. I can think of no greater curse on humanity than the regimentation of the military drill or the building of bodies by the numbers while minds are dulled. Regimentation is contrived to achieve an unthinking mass response to a spoken command or signal from a single source. It is the sworn enemy of individualism, the enemy of freedom.

I can hear the ubiquitous collectivist hollering, "But we must train and regiment men who will defend for us and protect us," and I ask, WHY? Think back to the American Revolution and the trained enemy which was beaten by individualists who fought to protect their property and their lives. Think back to the first world war and a massive army trained to the utmost, regimented beyond intelligent, individual thinking. Probably no force in history had been so well trained as the armed forces of the ruler of Germany.

Today major cities operate police academies. Police officers are well trained and strictly regimented but the crime rate climbs and soars. In one wealthy city, police officers are trained by working with experienced officers. The character of the city requires an individualized police force and the crime rate is among the lowest in the country.

At the end of that sentence I was interrupted by the arrival of four young men who had driven all night from California. After an 8-hour discussion of the philosophy of freedom, they left at 10 o'clock at night in order to be back at their jobs in the morning. Obviously, young men of this time will never be regimented and attendant tyranny with strength and vigor. Much of our discussion revolved around the subjects of private enterprise police and fire protection for those who desire to be so protected and national defense. The idea of a completely private enterprise system without a presently accepted form of government which has a strangle hold on authority to surrender an entire nation of people received a great deal of attention. Governments make war upon governments and the people become merely pawns in a horrendous chess game for power. It is my contention that no combination of governments could conquer all of the people of this country just as long as no single authority could surrender all of the people just by signing a single document of surrender. Emphasis on my point of view gathered strength from the fact that governments which impose their will upon governments after waging war find it necessary to employ natives to carry out the dictates of the conquering government. A difficult facet of discussions concerning a complete private enterprise system is the obvious fact that no magic cure will be achieved through voting or the handing over of personal responsibility to a certain group of men and women. It will be achieved through an evolutionary process, rather than revolution. Personally, I believe the beginning will be with private enterprise education. Just one state school district could be sold to the highest private enterprise bidder or just one school. It is also possible for private enterprise to make great advances in competition with the present socialist system of compulsory education. There are signs pointing to exciting progress in this area right now. Opposition to regimentation grows. My four fine young friends were not wearing the regimented hair cuts of their contemporaries. Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

When the Metropolitan Opera moves in the fall of 1963 to its new home in Lincoln Center, it will be housed in a magnificent structure designed to provide the finest listening conditions that modern science can produce. Two top American experts, Dr. V. L. Jordan and Professor Cyril M. Harris of the Columbia School of Electrical Engineering, have been carrying on some extremely large experiments in acoustics with Danish scientists to make this possible. We were down the other day to visit the Metropolitan's present home on Broadway and 39th Street, which seats 3615. The brilliant interior of the old opera house still awes us with its beautiful color scheme of maroon and gold. And speaking of optimum acoustical conditions, this historic 80-year-old structure still rates an A.

More Democratic $1,000-a-Plate Dinners Planned To Support Mounting National Committee Expenses

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — How the Kennedy administration loves those $1,000-a-plate fund-raising dinners! The one held in the capital last month, to celebrate the New Frontier's second anniversary, was so lushly lucrative that at least three others are contemplated.

The next one will be in Los Angeles in April. Others definitely slated are in Chicago and New York, with Miami a strong possibility. The dates are still open.

The President will attend each of these affairs and deliver a speech.

According to National Chairman John Bailey, the anniversary celebration netted a clear $1.2 million.

Ambitious goal of the $1,000-a-plate dinner plan is to raise $2.5 million for the Democratic committee's coffers. Bailey and his lieutenant estimate that is needed to meet the committee's mounting operating expenses and to prepare for next year's tough presidential battle.

Privately they now expect it to be rough and costly, and far more uncertain than they hoped it would be.

Bailey and National Treasurer Richard Maguire are no longer talking about raising money to pay the committee's debt from the 1960 race. Actually that was cleared more than a year ago, but for a long time this once $900,000 obligation was a handy bogeyman to wheedle contributions from the faithful — and others.

Now Bailey and Maguire are stressing the national committee's heavy expenses and need to get ready for next year's arduous election struggle.

WHERE IT'S GOING — A committee insiders say its expenses are running at around $100,000 a month.

One reason cited for this is a "fixed charge" of $20,000 a month — $10,000 each to the Senate and House Democratic Campaign Committees. In return for these monthly checks, the two committees have merged their fund-raising activities with those of the national committee.

Also under consideration is setting up a pulse-taking agency in the national committee.

This proposed polling outfit would supplant the private organizations that have been hired for this work. The President and his political leaders are strong believers in polls and use them constantly. But they had some disconcerting experiences with private pollsters last year.

One was in Kentucky, where Republican Senator Thurston Morton won re-election by a big majority. The administration's pollsters came up with figures showing he would be decisively defeated. They were equally wrong in adjoining Indiana. There the pollsters gave the victory to Republican Senator Homer Capehart, only to have his youthful Democrat opponent, Birch Bayh, win by a good margin.

Attorney General Robert Kenedy, the real backstage ruler of the national ruler committee, favors establishing its own polling organization. The President also is credited as being for that.

The big problem is how much it will cost, and that is now under study.

ALWAYS UNDER FOOT—There is one Washington news photographer who is thoroughly fed up with the Kennedys, and makes no bones about it.

He voiced these indignant feelings after an experience with Senator Ted Kennedy, ambitious 30-year-old brother of the President. The photographer, assigned to cover a dinner for new senators, spotted Wisconsin's new Senator Gaylord Nelson chatting with Louisiana's veteran Senator Russell Long.

It's Up To You

We have truckled to communism in scores of places. We have foreborne to destroy it when we could easily have done so. We have ignored the cries of millions of innocent human beings, butchered by the merciless devotees of Marx, Lenin, Stalin, Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung.

We have closed our eyes to the horror in China, the genocide in Tibet, the slave camps of Russia, the tragic cries of violated women wherever the Communist hordes have penetrated and the anguish of whole peoples and civilizations as they have been blotted out.

No nation having the power to stop all of this and having neglected to use it over a long generation will forever retain that power. He who will not use his power to prevent murder, is almost as guilty as the murderer himself.

The cameraman asked them to pose for a shot. As he was focusing to snap a picture, young Kennedy, who had been standing nearby, strode over and without being asked placed himself between Long and Nelson, with an arm on each so he couldn't be squeezed out.

Angry but unable to do anything about the matter, the photographer irately snapped one picture and then stalked away, remarking loudly:

"That's what I can't stand about these Kennedys. They're always pushing themselves. You can never get away from them. They not only tell you what to do, but how to do it; what profile they want taken, and how many pictures, I'm fed up, but how do you get rid of them?"

POLITICALS — Attorney General Robert Kennedy is still being needed about that long-standing vacancy on the federal bench in New Mexico. This appointment has gone unfilled for nearly a year, with no explanation from the attorney general, or his brother, the President. The needler is Federal Judge Waldo Rogers, Albuquerque, an Eisenhower appointee. Recently, outspoken Rogers remarked to lawyers in his courtroom, "Don't bother Bobby about the urgent need for another judge in our state. He's to busy arguing the first case of any kind in his life."

Representative John Shelley's campaign for Mayor of San Francisco this year will be well financed. At a so-called "informal fund-raising luncheon" attended by 30-odd businessmen, more than $120,000 was pledged to finance his race in the fall. Fore most among those present and contributing were George Killion, head of American President Lines, Clarence Heller stock broker, and Thomas Mellon, former San Francisco Police Commissioner.

Senator Olin Johnston, D-S.C., chairman of the Post Office Committee, has been advised by his doctor to sell the home he has occupied in the capital for more than 20 years. The physician urged this because greatly increased traffic now passing the house is making Johnston nervous. . . . William Brawley, former Deputy Attorney General who lost that job after a policy clash with Postmaster General Day, is leaving the Democratic National Committee. He was shifted there from the Post Office Department, and the inside word is that Brawley is to get another top job in a government agency. He would like to be a Civil Service commissioner, but that is still undecided.

New Book Gives Insight On How Dean Rusk Ticks

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A guide to the mind of Secretary of State Dean Rusk is now obtainable through a new book containing some 60 selections from his speeches and foreign policy statements during the last two years.

Edited by ace newsmen Ernest Lindley, who is now Rusk's special assistant, the volume is titled, "The Winds of Freedom" (Beacon Press, $4.95). The title should mislead no one into thinking it is a windy book. Rusk is a fast thinker and a fast talker. But he is by no means a windy character. And concise editing has boiled down his policy statements to their very essence.

One of the interesting things to do with this book is to take one subject and, by means of the index, track down Rusk's ideas on it. Communism, for instance, and the related subjects of the U.S.S.R., Khrushchev, Stalin, the Sino-Soviet block.

There is no one speech or declaration which fully and in detail outlines a policy for dealing with international communism wherever it is found. To some readers this may be a fundamental fault. But references to communism crop up all through the book and there is no evidence here that he is "soft" on it.

The last chapter of the book highlights his speech to the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Minneapolis last August, titled "Our Goal: A World-Wide Victory For Freedom."

"The global struggle for freedom and against Communist imperialism is our main business at the State Department," says Rusk. "My colleagues and I give intensive attention, day by day, to Communist strategy and tactics."

"No one has to convince us that when Khrushchev said communism will bury us he was proclaiming... an objective toward which Communists work relentlessly."

"No one has to convince us that 'peaceful co-existence' means to them a continuing attempt to spread their system over the earth by all means short of a war which would be self-defeating."

"No one has to convince us that the contest between Communist imperialism and freedom is for keeps."

Here is an insight on a very tough-minded man.

"The underlying crisis is not an ideological conflict between 19th century capitalism and 19th century socialism," Rusk had told a National Press Club audience earlier. "It does not result from a bilateral conflict between the Soviet Union and the United States."

"The central issue of the crisis is the announced determination to impose a world of coercion upon those not already subjected to it. If this means exaggerated simplicity, let us not be mistaken by our own reluctance to believe what they say, for on this point they mean it. At stake is the survival and growth of the world of free choice."

Returning to the Minneapolis text for a moment: "One hears now and then that we have a 'no win' purpose or policies," Rusk told the VFW. "That is simply not so. Of course we intend to win. And we are going to win."

Rusk is perhaps still not as well known in the United States as were Dean Acheson and the late John Foster Dulles in their times. They were more controversial figures who made and announced

United States foreign policies in the names of others. Rusk subordinates himself to President Kennedy as the head of state constitutionally responsible for American foreign policy.

It may surprise many people, therefore, that in his first two years in office Rusk has traveled more miles than Dulles did in a comparable period of time.

Rusk has been described as a machine-gun mind. He wants his associates to think as fast as he does, and he cannot stand mediocrity on his staff. But in negotiation with an opponent he can be extremely patient, repeating his points endlessly to drive them home. He is tireless, with a physical stamina that enables him to take the punishment of his never-ending job.

"The Winds of Freedom" is probably just the first of what will be a series of volumes on Rusk's conduct of foreign policy. It is, in a sense, an index to his global philosophy.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Is it possible under a free and unhampered market to have an excessive or unfair profit?"

Answer: In order to answer that question we would have to define what "excessive" or "unfair" mean. If they mean profits arrived at by the use of force or the threats of same by the government or any other group, it would be possible to have an unfair or excessive profit.

However, to the degree that we have a free market does it become less and less likely to have an excessive or unfair profit. Our trouble comes from the fact that we have never had a completely laissez-faire free economy where the government did not intervene. Any monopoly group would be very helpless if it was not supported by the government. Our real trouble comes from the government initiating force to interfere with the free and natural division of labor and with all people being equally free to help establish values. When all people are equally free to help establish values, it will then be impossible to have an excessive or unfair profit.

And if we didn't have an excessive or unfair profit and had a free market where people respected the rights of property belonging to others, we wouldn't be in one war after another, wouldn't have unemployment other than seasonal, and our standard of living would be very, very much higher than it is at present, because then there would be more production. And there would be more production because men will work harder when they believe they are getting all they produce and the more they produce, the more they will get.

The solution for unfair profits is to keep the government from issuing licenses and giving monopolies. The only purpose of the government is to attempt to protect the equal rights of all men to help establish values.

Man Fined $100 On DWI Charge

Lanny Orin Weatherly of Elk City, Okla., pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated this morning in County Court and was fined $100 and court costs and sentenced to three days in jail by Judge Bill Craig.

Weatherly was first observed driving fast in the 1200 block of Hobart. He turned east on Cook and was stopped by City Policeman H. E. Britton.

Recall

Borger, held that the petitions calling for the recall of the ward commissioners were legal. Clayton Heare of Amarillo, defense attorney for the Pampa City Commissioners, argued that the petitions were not valid because a city-wide petition was required for each ward commissioner rather than the individual ward petition.

The five plaintiffs in the court suit also had been members of a candidate slate of officers to seek election to replace the current city officials in event the recall was upheld by the voters.

The mandamus action had been dangled in the courts since April 13 of last year when the district court decision was handed down.

At the Appeals Court hearing in Amarillo last Jan. 3, Atty. Heare represented the three city commissioners and Atty. Norman of Borger appeared for the plaintiffs.

Sitting on the court as the oral arguments were presented were Judge James G. Denton of Lubbock, chief justice; Judge Ernest O. Northcutt of Amarillo, associate justice; and Judge Alton B. Chapman of Floydada, associate justice.

Mayor Sidwell, when informed of the court ruling today said: "It is gratifying to learn that the judgment and actions of the City Commission have been upheld. It now becomes the obligation of those who opposed us to pay the court costs of this action."

The easy, low cost way to supply this nitrogen is to apply Spencer Anhydrous Ammonia before you plow. This puts the nitrogen right in the root zone, and helps speed up decomposition of stalks and stubble.

We are proud to be able to state that we are one of the pioneer ANHYDROUS AMMONIA fertilizer dealers in this area and that as a result of the experience gained by our personnel during the past years we can better serve your needs in the manner that you expect. During the past three years we have seen dealers come and go; have seen our competitors out of Anhydrous Ammonia for long periods of time and we do BRAGGINGLY state that our reliable source of supply — SPENCER CHEMICAL COMPANY — respect their commitments through our firm to you the farmers in this area by having furnished us with ample stocks to care for your needs when you needed fertilizer. Again we are bragging when we call your attention to the fact that we are the only dealer serving this area who has not experienced serious shortages and outages of ANHYDROUS AMMONIA during the past three years.

Our employees have all been with us since the founding of our business, are courteous, have your interests first always, and their aim is to satisfy you, hence our high repeat business. They have gained much experience in the fertilizer distribution, handling, and application while in our employ as well as have many years of experience prior to their association with us. We offer you an aggregate of Twenty Six (26) years of experience when you avail yourself of the services of these people.

We pioneered with the use of improved types of applicators; double tool bar shank type; sweep type; plow down application; and now have a plan that might be a money saving method for farmers who do not own an applicator, yet would appreciate having the convenience of your own applicator with a very minimum investment, and still have the opportunity to purchase your fertilizer requirements at a minimum cost.

All of our nurse tanks are equipped with vapor transfer pumps to both speed up the filling of your applicator tanks as well as to prevent the loss of valuable fertilizer that your soil requires. By purchasing your ANHYDROUS AMMONIA from us you can make large savings as a result of our vapor transfer pumps since we know that you are interested in fertilizing the soil not the air above it.

Since entering this business we have always carried out a planned maintenance and care program for all of our equipment; just assure you of having carefree service from our equipment.

It is necessary to constantly emphasize the need for safety precautions in all farm work, and particularly in the area pertaining to the use of machinery. Our experienced personnel are always happy to give you any assistance in the use of safety measures and precautions as they might help you in your fertilizing operation. Even with all precautions and care being exercised, we know that accidents can happen, so we carry the highest limits of insurance to cover these hazards with Strong Reputable Insurance Companies who have local representatives which assures the prompt handling of any claims should they ever arise. We understand that some of our competitors have not carried any Liability Insurance for the protection of their customers, their customers employees, and their families.

Our Supplier — SPENCER CHEMICAL CO — was selected by our firm because we felt they enjoy the enviable reputation of being one of the nations largest manufacturers of fertilizer and agricultural chemicals. Further, they enjoy the highest farmer respect for quality in all their areas of operation. They are constantly seeking new methods through their research to offer you better and improved products. A further illustration of this point is that AGRICULTURAL CHEMICALS ARE A BASIC PART OF THEIR BUSINESS, not just a side-line of the by-product from another enterprise.

We are also in a position to offer you either dry sacked formula fertilizer or bulk, if they might fit your particular needs best; and have applicators for their use that are both very fast and accurate in their distribution. Price of any product is always a factor in your farming operation and we are proud to say that we have always been first in this area with competitive pricing and we expect to continue to follow this policy in the future and assure you that you can rely on us to always offer you: 1. PROMPT IMMEDIATE SERVICE AND DELIVERY; 2. MODERN EFFICIENT EQUIPMENT IN EXCELLENT MAINTENANCE, READY TO GO TO WORK FOR YOU WITHOUT ANY DELAY OR INCONVENIENCE; 3. EXPERIENCED TRAINED PERSONNEL AT YOUR SERVICE; 4. PROTECTION TO YOU, YOUR FAMILY, AND YOUR EMPLOYEES; 5. ALL OF THESE SERVICES AT A COMPETITIVE PRICE.

Now we ask you, why settle for less than the best, when the best is available to you at our firm? We would appreciate it very much if you would phone us collect so that we might go and visit with you, and discuss all phases of our services as they might apply to your requirements; or we invite you to come to our office and we will discuss this over a cup of coffee.
