Nursing Home Nominations Group Named

At the fifth organizational meeting of the 60-member Campaign Executive Committee for a 50-bed, Community Nursing Care Home in Pampa, a nominating committee was appointed by Acting Chairman Arthur Teed.

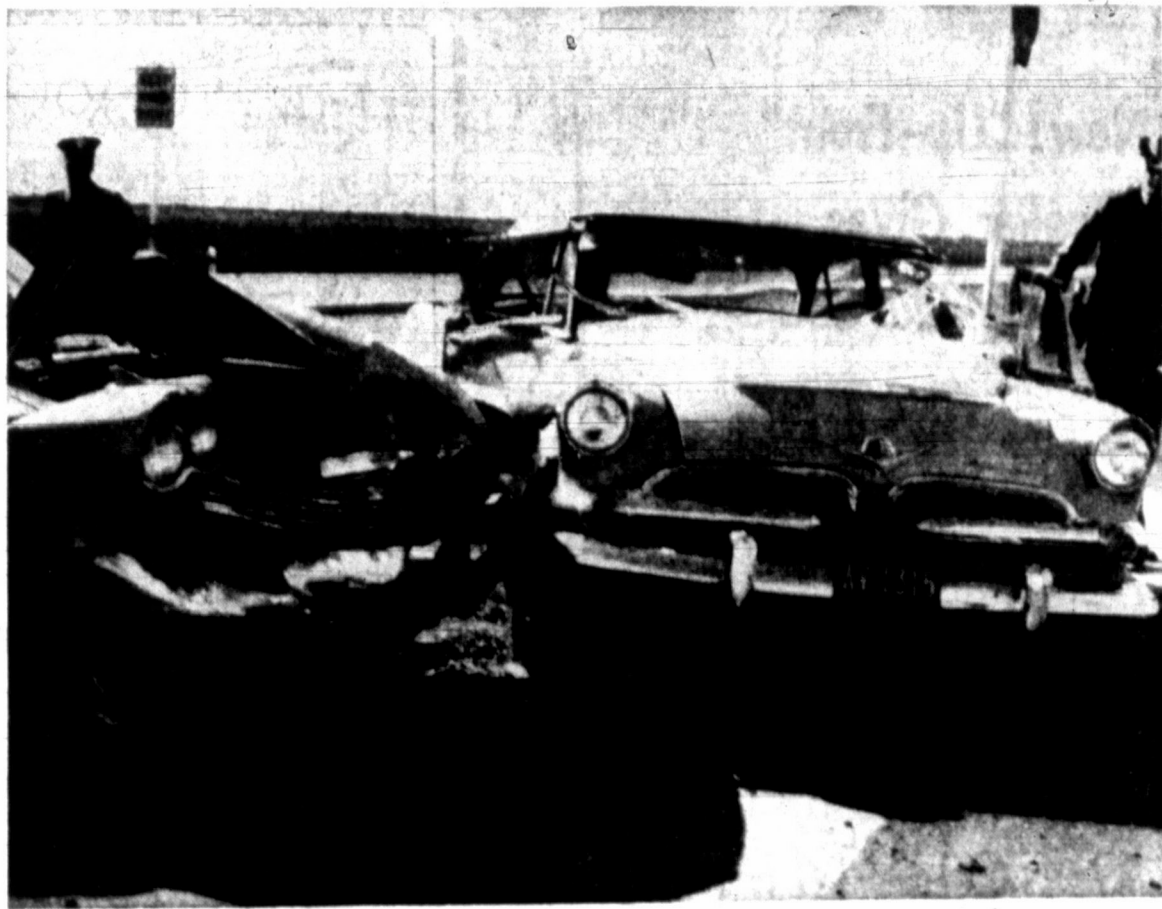

The committee will recommend a slate of four campaign officers at the next meeting, 4 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 26, of the Campaign Executive Committee. The four campaign officers consist of one Honorary Chairman, one General Chairman and two Vice-Chairmen. It was reported that these officers and other members of the Executive Committee would be the governing body during the campaign to raise funds totaling $300,000.

At yesterday's meeting, attended by 30 persons, 7 new members were added to the present roster which brought the total number to 30.

The present group will also add to its membership at next Tuesday's meeting in the Court House Cafe.

The following members currently make up the roster of the Campaign Executive Committee:

Roy S. Bourland, Rev. H. H. Bratcher, A. J. Carubbi Jr., Mrs. Jewel Castleberry, Irvin Cole, Paul G. Crossman Sr., Frank M. Culbertson, Dr. Joe R. Donaldson, Mrs. Jack P. Smith, Mrs. Nina Spoonmore, Arthur M. Teed, H. R. Thompson, Dick Walker, John Warner, and E. O. Wedgeworth.

DEATH SCENE — Here are the remains of two automobiles involved in a fatal accident yesterday afternoon about a mile south of Pampa. Mrs. Nancy Faye Brothers of Pampa, 68, a passenger in the car on the right, was dead on arrival at a local hospital following the mishap. Her daughter, driver of the car, was hospitalized with injuries, as was Mrs. Jethro C. Lewis of Amarillo, passenger in the car on the left. The two cars were total losses, as estimated by investigating officers. (Daily News Photo)

Pampan Dies In Wreck

Mrs. Nancy Faye Brothers, 723 E. Albert, was dead on arrival at Highland General Hospital yesterday following a two-car collision about a mile south of Pampa at about 1:15 p.m.

The mishap occurred at the intersection of State Highway 273 and Loop 171, a mile south of town.

Mrs. Brothers was a passenger in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. Ruby June Callis, also of 723 E. Albert, who was injured in the crash.

Also injured was Mrs. Jethro C. (Helen) Lewis of 2904 Eddy St., Amarillo, passenger in the other car involved. The extent of injuries to the two women was unavailable late this morning but their conditions were reported as "satisfactory" for Mrs. Callis and "good" for Mrs. Lewis.

According to the investigating Highway Patrolman, Lawrence Marcha of Pampa, the 1958 Plymouth driven by Jethro C. Lewis of Amarillo was traveling west on S.H. 273 and the Callis automobile was going east, also on 273. The two cars collided when the 1955 Dodge driven by the Pampa woman turned left and the two automobiles crashed together with the Lewis car smashing head-on broadside into the Callis auto, Marcha said.

Lewis was reported to be uninjured.

Funeral services for Mrs. Brothers, 68, are pending arrangements at Duengel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Mrs. Brothers was born July 1, 1894, in Ottawa, Kan., and moved to Pampa in 1927 from Barnsdale.

New Norther Due To Hit Panhandle

By United Press International

Fair and mild weather was the rule in Texas today, but a dry norther threatened to put a chill on the northern sections of the state by Thursday.

A Canadian cold front surged southward across the upper Midwest today and forecasters said it would reach the Texas Panhandle in time to drop temperatures to around the 18-degree mark by Thursday morning.

That won't be too much of a shock to the residents of that area, however, since this morning's low reading at Dalhart was 25 degrees.

Clear skies and resulting good radiation helped push the mercury down to the freezing mark in scattered areas of North and West Texas early today and frost was common in the still air.

Amarillo reported a low of 27 degrees, Alpine 29, Lubbock 30, and Abilene and Fort Worth 32. Overnight highs ranged to 49 degrees along the lower coast at Corpus Christi and Brownsville, where 80-degree readings were reported Tuesday.

Adam C. Powell Says It Isn't So!

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell says it isn't so.

The controversial New York Democrat Tuesday broke a silence of several weeks about criticism of his operations in and out of Congress.

"Inaccuracies, misstatements and in some instances lies," the Negro congressman said of charges by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., that the Kennedy administration was going all-out to give him favored treatment.

"Vindictive," he called efforts by some of his House colleagues to cut his request for $697,000 to run the House Education and Labor Committee.

"I don't want to have any more than any other congressman," he said. "But by the grace of God, I'm not going to take any less."

Reversing a "closed door" policy toward reporters in his office, Powell gave all comers his views of the criticism that has been piling up about him for weeks.

He said a more complete answer to his critics would come later.

Gets Some Support

Powell also got some support in his rejection of Williams' Feb. 5 charges from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., a member of the education and labor committee.

Kennedy, testifying before a subcommittee on the President's Youth Conservation Corps bill, said a $250,000 juvenile delinquency project in Powell's Harlem district, was "very valuable."

The project, of which Powell is a board member, was one of Williams' chief objections.

Roosevelt, at the same hearing, objected to another member "intimating that there is something bad" about the Adam Clayton Powell Foundation. He said the foundation was named for Powell's late father "and it is doing a wonderful job."

On Senate Floor

Williams charged on the Senate floor two weeks ago that government agencies had been "scrambling around" to do Powell's bidding. He cited alleged loans to Powell-related foundations dealing with housing for the elderly.

Powell said he used the word "lie" specifically to apply to Williams' statements on his tax problems and on the reported housing loans.

Powell had no apology for keeping his wife on his congressional payroll. He said Mrs. Powell, a Puerto Rican, performs an invaluable service at home by translating and handling correspondence he gets in Spanish.

"As for grumbling by some congressmen about his recent two-week stay in Puerto Rico, Powell said that on this and other personal trips to the island he had paid his own expenses.

Soviet Note Leaves More U.S. Problems

Betancourt Says Latins Facing Communist Threat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela said today his country confronts a "very aggressive" Communist offensive ordered and financed "from the centers of Moscow and Peking by way of Havana."

He warned there will be "violent revolution" and government regimes "very much like that from which Cuba is suffering" if Latin America fails to institute social reforms.

In an address prepared for a National Press Club lunch, Betancourt said U. S. diplomacy during the decade through 1958 contributed to the flourishing "of the extreme left in my country and in others where there was dictatorship."

But he emphasized that he felt the world was getting a "distorted picture" of the significance of Communist terrorist acts in Venezuela. He complained that not enough attention is given to "concrete and definite facts of progress in economic and social reform" in his country.

Stand Against Castro

Stressing his opposition to the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba, Betancourt asserted:

"The government that I head, and I personally, have taken a position toward the Communist regime in Havana and toward international communism that is free of equivocation, half tones, or balancing on a tightrope."

Betancourt planned to lay before President Kennedy later today his ideas for checking Communist penetration in Latin America.

The Venezuelan president arrived here Tuesday and twice heard Kennedy praise him as "a symbol of what we wish for our own country and for our sister republics."

The two presidents were scheduled to hold their second working session late this afternoon, following which a joint communiqué will be issued. The conversations were expected to cover means of strengthening the Western Hemisphere defense alliance and streamlining Alliance for Progress machinery.

Lavish in Praise

Kennedy went out of his way Tuesday to give Betancourt full and firm personal endorsement. Welcoming him at the White House, Kennedy said "you represent all that we admire in a political leader."

At a White House state banquet Tuesday night, Kennedy repeatedly lavished praise on Betancourt. "We are," Kennedy said, "great admirers of yours. We wish the United States to be identified with leaders such as you...I hope that your visit here to the United States will remind the people of this country that they have a good deal of unfinished business in this hemisphere, that the hope of this hemisphere lies in leaders such as yourselves, that there is no quick and easy answer to all the problems that we face, that Mr. Castro can disappear—and the problems will still remain..."

His Same Theme

Betancourt struck the same theme in his banquet toast.

"We want," he said, "to work for a serious transformation of Latin America, for a change in depth of its economic and social structures. We want to benefit our people, our people who are attacked by Soviet propaganda that is so cunningly channeled through Havana."

Speaking of Fidel Castro, Betancourt said "Castro's prestige and Castro's regime may only be accidental; but our joint efforts will have to try to make sure this accident does not take place in other countries."

"When his regime is gone, the continent will still be poor. Those who think like I do do not pretend and do not claim that the United States itself can solve these problems. I believe that our own effort and our own work are extremely important and this is actually the basic philosophy of the Alliance for Progress."

Administration Glad But Wary Of Promise

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's promise to withdraw "several thousand" of his troops from Cuba by March 15 left a number of unanswered questions today to plague the Kennedy administration.

It was obvious that the Russian offer, couched in general terms, would not lessen appreciably the congressional pressure on the issue at this time. The Soviet note, which came through normal diplomatic channels, gave no hint as to the actual number to be pulled out or the type of personnel to be withdrawn.

The administration apparently found itself in something of a bind on the matter. The White House and the State Department withheld official comment or public acknowledgement of the offer lest premature declarations embarrass Khrushchev and make it difficult for him to accomplish the pullout.

At the same time, however, Kennedy's aides had to represent the move as sufficiently encouraging to warrant a reduction in the noise level in Congress.

Welcomes Red Promise

While officially silent, the State Department was understood to have sent a reply to the Kremlin welcoming the promised reduction in Soviet forces as a constructive step toward lessening tension in the Caribbean. The administration obviously is not going to commit itself too formally until it sees just what happens.

Most congressmen, including a few who attended the secret-shrouded White House meeting Monday night at which Kennedy disclosed the new Soviet promise, said they found the Russian note encouraging. But Democrats and Republicans alike called for continued American pressure until all Soviet forces leave the island.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk invited Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., one of the most vocal critics of the administration's Cuban policy, to lunch today—presumably to urge moderation until it becomes clear exactly how far the Russian pullout will go.

Include Combat Units

Administration estimates are that Khrushchev still has about 17,000 military personnel and troops on the island, of which almost 6,000 are said to be organized in regular combat units.

The Russian leader withdrew about 4,500 military personnel when he removed his offensive missiles and bombers last fall. These are believed to have been the troops and technicians directly in charge of the medium-range nuclear missiles Khrushchev tried to sneak into the island.

In other action, the group heard a request from the State Highway department to establish speed zones on incoming highways, received an invitation to place a float in the St. Patrick's Day Parade in Shamrock, and received an invitation to attend the Region II meeting of the Texas Municipal League in Dimmit Feb. 25.

City Commission Postpones Action

The City Commission postponed discussion of the proposed water rate increase since only two commissioners were able to be present for the meeting last night.

At a special meeting Feb. 7, the group studied methods of raising money to aid in financing Pampa's part in the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority.

Two proposals for raising water rates were presented; one by the Dallas engineers, Forrest & Colton, and another by City Manager Harold Schmitzer.

The Commission also delayed discussion on the inclusion of an amendment to the city charter on the April 2 election ballot.

The amendment election had been requested through a petition presented to the group Dec. 28.

The last possible date for placing the issue on the April 2 ballot, according to City Atty. Bob Gordon, would be Tuesday, Feb. 25, thirty days before the election.

Some controversy exists over the issue, and commissioners decided to wait until their next meeting to pass a decision.

It was recommended to the commission by Schmitzer that a car allowance of $75 per month be given Patrolman Scott, Pampa's Negro officer, rather than supplying him with a city automobile. The recommendation was approved by the commission.

A request from the City Traffic Commission was heard, asking for the appointment of Preston Folkles in the place of Claude Wilson, who resigned from the commission. This recommendation was also approved.

U.S. Says Test Ban Gulf Has Been Deepened Between East And West

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States charged Russia today with avoiding an agreement on a nuclear test ban treaty but said it would continue pressing for "give and take" bargaining.

Chief U. S. negotiator William C. Foster told the 17-nation disarmament conference that the gulf between the Soviet and Western positions on a test ban "has deepened."

Referring to the Soviet refusal to resume direct negotiations on a nuclear treaty with the Western powers, he said "I reluctantly conclude that the Soviet Union rather than the United States and the United Kingdom is intent on avoiding agreement."

The Russians have been claiming here that the two Western powers have been trying to avoid an accord that would end testing.

"We are willing and intend to engage in give and take negotiations on all major issues which must be agreed upon if we are to reach agreement on a nuclear test ban," Foster told the conference.

Foster's speech came before a Big Three lunch and was a final attempt to crack Russia's hard nuclear position before he flies to Washington later in the day for consultations with President Kennedy.

The Russians, who broke off nuclear negotiations in Washington Jan. 31, refuse to discuss a test ban treaty unless the West accepts their quota of three annual onsite inspections to police a ban. They have defied Western and neutralist demands to re-open the talks.

Lost Satellite Blown Up?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Space officials say the missing Syncom communications satellite may have blown up deep in space.

Dr. Hugh Dryden, deputy director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said there was speculation that the satellite exploded at the height of its trajectory—22,000 miles above the earth.

Team 4 Gets Long Gain In CoC's Drive

The team headed by Dick Evans broke loose for a long gain yesterday afternoon in the Pampa Chamber of Commerce membership campaign.

Evans' team, No. 4, now has a total of 535 points turned in compared to 345 for the second place team, No. 14, captained by Floyd Watson.

Only yesterday morning the two teams were reported "even-steven" in the contest, in which the winning team will divide a prize calf to be purchased at the Top O' Texas Junior Livestock Show early next month by the CoC. Both teams had 315 points yesterday morning.

In third place in the big race is team No. 13, headed by Aubrey Steele, with 305 points. Fourth place team, No. 18, is captained by J. C. Roberts and has a total of 255 points. In the fifth place spot is team No. 3, directed by the CoC President, Dr. Joe Donaldson, with 230 points.

Loyal Davies, finance director for the chamber, said the campaign is going well in its drive to raise some $40,000 in operating funds for the CoC for the current fiscal year.

The next check-in time is 10 a.m. tomorrow in the chamber office in the Hughes Building. Free coffee and doughnuts will be served to campaign workers.

The final check-in, for contest purposes, will be at 5 p.m. Friday.

Second place team in the effort will be awarded a prize pig, also to be purchased at the Top Junior Livestock Show by the CoC. Third place team will get a "fryin' chicken" to be purchased where known-where, and the last place team will be awarded a "booby prize" of a goat, maybe young and tender enough to be barbecued and maybe not.

Hijacked Venezuelan Freighter Surrenders

MACAPA, Brazil (UPI) — The hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui was formally surrendered to Brazilian officials today by its pro-Communist "pirate" crew.

The Anzoategui anchored at 10:20 p.m. Tuesday at Santa, a mining company loading point 12 miles downriver from Macapa, a remote Amazon River port.

Five minutes later, a group of Brazilian marines boarded the vessel from an outboard motorboat without incident as newsmen watched from the shore.

The marines were led by Lt. Francisco Medeiros Araujo, a square-jawed six-footer with the physique and agility that comes from 12 years of jungle garrison duty.

He swung up to the deck of the 5,000-ton freighter wearing a 43-caliber automatic and a jungle knife and dressed in khakis. He was followed by three steel-helmeted marines carrying submachine guns.

Orlando Saboya, acting governor of Amapa territory in this isolated northeast section of Brazil to which the Reds brought their hijacked vessel after eluding Venezuelan destroyers, followed the marines aboard as the civilian representative of the Brazilian government.

Medeiros forbade newspapermen to go aboard on orders from the Brazilian navy.

"The navy doesn't want this operation to be used as a forum by the politicians behind this mutiny," he said. "That is Venezuela's business and we are just carrying out a military mission."

The husky lieutenant smiled and added:

"A marine expects to get all kinds of assignments, but this is the wackiest."

Rebels Interned

Before he went aboard, Medeiros said he understood the rebels who hijacked the freighter a week ago Tuesday after it sailed from (See FREIGHTER, Page 3) the Venezuelan port of La Guaira en route to Houston, Tex., already had been "interned" by Brazilian representatives on the ship.

He added that command had been returned to the legitimate Venezuelan captain.

He said he understood the Brazilian corvette Solimoes would anchor alongside the freighter and the rebels would be transferred to that vessel.

Saboya had orders to assume formal command of the freighter in the name of President Joao Goulart; and take the rebels into custody; pending an investigation of Venezuelan charges of piracy for seizing the government-owned ship in the Caribbean last week.

Venezuela has requested extradition of ringleader Wismar Medina Rojas and eight accomplices, but Brazil has indicated it will grant them political asylum.

The Brazilian government has agreed to return the freighter to Venezuela, and the Venezuela Navigation Co. has flown a new second mate to replace Medina for the return trip.

Skilled Workers Represent Large Group Of Inmates

HUNTSVILLE (Sp.)—Eight contractors, three ministers, five school teachers, one dentist, one lawyer and a shoemaker, were among the occupations listed by the 5,608 inmates received in the Texas Department of Corrections during 1962.

According to the Department of Correction's annual report prepared by J. C. Roberts, chief of records, persons entering the prison system during 1962 listed a total of 63 separate skilled or professional occupations.

Dr. George Beto, director of the department of corrections, said, "It is a sad commentary on our times that more than one-third of the inmates coming to prison last year were listed in the 'miscellaneous occupation', or in other words, no prior work or employment history or adequate means of earning a livelihood."

The report from the prison records office shows that six counties in the State sentenced forty per cent, or 2,641 of the total number of persons, to prison.

Harris county led all other counties with a total commitment to prison of 893 persons. The other five counties, in order of commitment, are Dallas, with 747; Bexar, with 346; Tarrant, 293; Travis, 192; and El Paso with 170.

Nearly half of the persons received in prison in 1962 were married. The records show that 49 per cent were married, 16 per cent divorced, and 34 per cent single. Less than one per cent were widowed.

Panel Vividly Describes Heritages Of America

"Devotion Through An Appreciation of America's Heritage" was the topic of discussion by a panel of speakers, Mrs. J. T. Cornutt, Keith Swanson and Travis Lively, at the Thursday evening meeting of Stephen F. Austin PTA held in the school auditorium.

Mrs. S. B. Sypert, unit president, presided at the meeting which opened with honor to the flag led by Joe Daniel Jr.

Mrs. Bill Roots introduced the program by quoting "Crede O An American."

Panel members discussed America's heritage from their respective viewpoints: that of mother and homemaker, high school student, business man and civic leader.

Mrs. Cornutt stated that the home is the first institution that God founded on earth. "It is in the home that our citizens are shaped and molded. If a child is trained to make the right decisions when he is young, he will more easily make the right decision when he is grown."

Keith Swanson, high school student council president, presented American heritages as a high school student sees them. He spoke of the legacy and ideals set up by the great and uncommon men who founded America.

"men such as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton and those great documents of our history; the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, which includes the Bill of Rights and the Preamble. Through a study of these, young people have formed the basis for their understanding of America's heritage."

"A student's attitude toward America today," he continued, "is one of pride in its past and concern for its welfare in the future. Too many young people of today do not realize the importance of convictions and principles. Perhaps the greatest handicap of teenagers is their need for conformity and the failure to stand up and out for what they really believe."

Keith cited the Key Club and the student councils as outstanding examples of service to one's community and country. "The church must also have a vital place in the lives of young people, if they are to realize and develop characteristics and qualities which will help them meet the responsibilities placed upon them as active American Citizens."

Mr. Lively spoke of American heritage from the perspective of one who has watched several generations grow to adulthood, but whose own pioneer background and individual experiences played a large part in establishing his own profound respect for national history and those honored heroes who built America.

"In spite of the fact that during the era of the cynics, those iconoclasts, who sought to smash the images of some of the great heroes of American history, a great many Americans lost their respect and enthusiasm for some of our state and national heroes; the ideals and principles which these heroes stood for, believed in, fought for and died for."

Even though some of our great men of history may have had feet of clay, though they had human failings, their patriotism, their love of liberty and freedom was unquestionable and unshakable.

Floral Arranging Topic For Club

WHITE DEER (Spl) - Sunshine Home Demonstration Club had a demonstration on Floral Arrangements given by J. C. Hopkins, a florist from Roberta's Flower Shop in Pampa, at their meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Alvin Kalka. Mrs. Bruce Martin was the hostess.

Mrs. Gregory Rapstine, president, conducted the business session. The club made plans to attend the meat course to be given in the school cafeteria on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 21, by the County Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Sybil Stringer.

Refreshments were carried out in the Valentine motif to the following members: Mmes. Melvin Kalka, Jerry Braddock, Bruce Martin, Robert Bichsel, Mike Germany, and Mrs. Gregory Rapstine.

The next meeting of the club will be in the home of Mrs. Mike Germany on Thursday, March 7.

Career Clinic Plans Outlined For Club

Mrs. Dona Cornutt, Altrusa Club Career Clinic chairman, gave a preview of the annual Career Clinic, which is in progress today in the high school, at the Altrusa Club dinner meeting Monday in the Coronado Inn.

Mrs. Cornutt introduced Mrs. Ruby Capps, high school counselor and a member of the career clinic planning committee, who gave an outline of the clinic schedule to be followed by students today conferring with consultants relative to future careers and training for careers.

"There will be 72 consultants conferring with students," Mrs. Capps stated. "The students choose the clinic session in which they are the most interested that may aid them in choosing a profession or career."

"Schedule cards will be obtained in homerooms at 8:30 a.m. followed by a general assembly in the Harvester Fieldhouse at 9 a.m. The keynote speaker will be Ed Speers of Dallas, vice president of an insurance agency."

Miss DeAnn Drew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Drew, was introduced by Miss Linda Key as Altrusa Girl of the Month for March.

Mrs. Clyde E. Vanderberg, district vocational chairman, announced that a Founders' Fund Grant had been presented to Mrs. Lia Wills in order that she may continue training and education in dress designing.

PLANTS

You can go away on vacation and leave your house plants right where they are if you put each one in a plastic bag - the same kind that vegetables come in - and seal them tightly. Don't water the plants before you put them into bags or they will be too wet.

Dear Abby... He'll Love You ... And Shut Up!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been fighting about this ever since Christmas and I'd like it settled. The employees at his office exchange names and each one puts down what he (or she) wanted for Christmas. The girl whose name my husband drew put down she wanted a red silk slip! I told my husband that over my dead body he'd buy another woman a red silk slip. He said I was narrow-minded and a poor sport, but I held my ground and he finally bought her a nice bottle of cologne instead. He still throws it up to me that I was a poor sport. Is it proper for a man to buy intimate apparel for someone other than his wife, or WAS I a poor sport?

JEN

DEAR JEN: Tell your husband that you are frankly jealous and admit to being a poor sport when it comes to his buying lingerie for other women. He'll love you for it. And I'll bet he shuts up.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for telling that woman not to complain because her husband never said "I love you," that talk was cheap, and if he supported her and behaved himself, she should be satisfied. I left my husband some years ago because all he said was "I love you" - but before we had been married a year, he had broken every rule in the book. And while his "I love you's" were still ringing in my ears, he was bouncing me off every wall in the house.

SICK OF "I LOVE YOU"

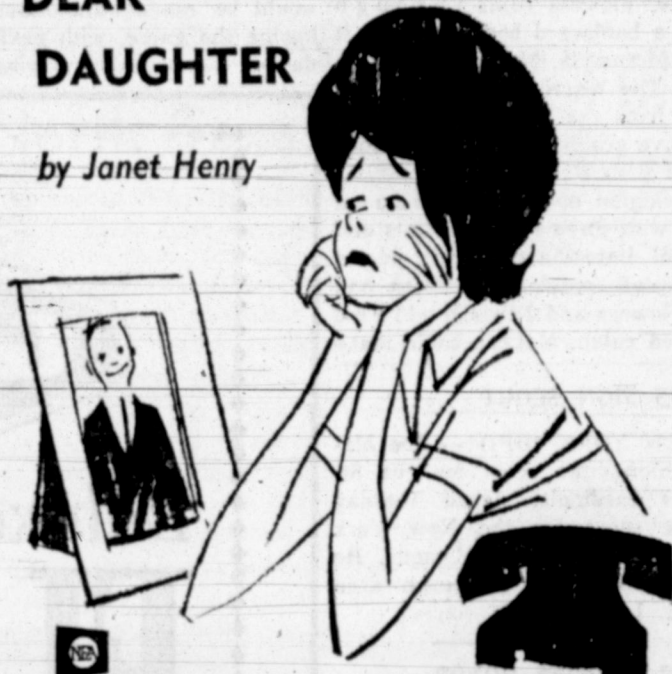

DEAR ABBY: If you go to a prom with a very nice, but very shy, boy and at intermission he invites another couple to go for a ride with you, and the other couple is very mushy and they are sitting in the back seat necking like there is no tomorrow and the boy is necking yells to your date that he had better hurry up and kiss you or he will show him how - what are you supposed to do? (That's not a very good sentence but that is what happened to me and it was very embarrassing.)

DEAR SOPHOMORE: You are supposed to pretend you are deaf. And if your date gets flustered, turn up the radio and drown out the cheering action.

Founder's Day Noted At Wilson PTA Meet

Mrs. Calvin Hogan, president of the Woodrow Wilson PTA unit, extended a welcome to members and guests attending the annual Founders' Day program of Woodrow Wilson PTA held Thursday in the school auditorium.

Former unit presidents were introduced by Mrs. Hogan as "those who paved the way for us": Mmes. Holly Gray, Coy Palmer, Dorothy Francis, J. L. Wills, E. A. McLennan, and E. L. Henderson.

Mrs. Sue Clark gave the secretary's report and Floyd Smith, school principal, the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Walden Haynes, Mrs. Melvin Clark and Mr. Smith were elected to the nominating committee to recommend a slate of officers for the 1963-64 unit year.

Mrs. Dan Cotten, vice president, introduced Mrs. Rufe Jordan, who led the audience on a make believe job hunt through want ads of newspapers.

She suggested that "we take such a tour when we begin to feel self-pity and boredom. Discover for yourself what other job you could qualify for that would give you the prestige, the working conditions, and the standard of living that is enjoyed as wife, mother and homemaker."

"Rich benefits are ours," she said, "if we will reach out and grasp them; if we will avail ourselves of our opportunities to help others."

Mrs. James Lewis, state finance and budget chairman, reviewed the article "Is PTA Doing Anything For Our Schools," which appeared in an issue of "Better Homes And Gardens."

Mrs. Lewis mentioned that PTA had instigated the hot lunch program and school bus service; that members of PTA worked for school bond issues and for laws for the protection of children.

The speaker said that PTA still has the same basic policy that it had in the beginning: "That society is improvable through the improvement of the individual; through intelligent group action; that every child has the potentialities for useful, constructive citizenship; that the home is the essential core for democratic living, the fountain head of physical fitness, spiritual strength and moral integrity."

"Education is a partnership shared by home, school and community. What is right and desirable for the most privileged children is right and desirable for all children."

Mrs. J. B. White's second grade class won first place by having the most parents present. Mrs. J. L. Best's fourth grade was second.

Refreshments were served from a table appointed in a Valentine motif by Mrs. W. R. Coyle and Mrs. Ray Boyd.

PLASTERING

Do you have a plastering job ahead of you? If so, unless you're an expert, the pre-mixed plasters are for you because they contain proper proportions of ingredients. Pre-mixed compounds for plastering will cost a little more than the basic ingredients but are less expensive than having to do the job over again in a short time.

O'Dell Signs Up For 25 Grand

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

Billy O'Dell, the Clemson College comet of a decade ago, has made a complete money cycle since his major league signing as a bonus baby.

O'Dell agreed to terms Tuesday with the San Francisco Giants for a $25,000 figure, a sum the southern southpaw received from the Baltimore Orioles when they enticed him from the Clemson campus in 1954.

The Giants boosted O'Dell about $7,000 over his 1962 salary for achieving his top big league record of 19 victories and 193 strikeouts and as a reward for helping hoist the National League pennant over Candlestick Park.

Willie Mays, the highest priced player on the club, Orlando Cepeda, Juan Marichal and Jack Sanford are among the Giants stars still to be signed.

Also signing with the club was outfielder Carl Boles, who hit .375 in 19 games as a utility man.

Right-hander Lew Burdette, who broke his holdout habit last season, signed with the Milwaukee

Braves and probably will be relegated for major bullpen duty this year by manager Bobby Bragan.

Burdette had one of his worst seasons in 1962 when the 36-year-old pitcher won only 10 games. The hero of the 1957 Milwaukee World Series recorded 18 victories in 1961 and a peak of 21 wins in 1959.

Hot-tempered Ray Sadecki was given another chance by the St. Louis Cardinals and indicated he is ready to stay out of the club's doghouse. The lanky, bespectacled southpaw was fined $250 last June for what manager Johnny Keane called "goofing off" on the mound.

Nine Redbirds remained unsigned as catcher Tim McCarver and pitcher Alan Brice also settled into the Cardinal nest.

The Cleveland Indian mail was thick with seven signings, including outfielders Al Luplow and Ty Cline. Others were pitchers Bill Dailey and Joe Schaffernoth, infielder Lee Green and infielders Larry Brown and Hector Cardenas.

Gene Woodling finally halted reports he would move to the New York Yankees as a coach by signing with the New York Mets. The 42-year-old Woodling took a "slight cut" in pay after hitting .274 in 81 games last season.

Catcher Elston Howard, pitcher Bill Stafford and infielder Phil Linz accepted Yankee terms, all with increases. Howard was raised $5,000 to $45,000, Stafford went from $18,000 to $20,000 and Linz reached $10,000 with a $2,500 raise.

Dumas Drops Whitefaces

CANYON (Sp) — Dumas repeated last year's District 1-AAA playoff win last night as they defeated Hereford, 56-34, before 3,000 fans in West Texas State Fieldhouse. The two teams had tied for district last year, after which Dumas won its way to the state AAA championship.

The Demons were never headed as their height advantage and strong defense broke the game open in the second quarter and they led all the way.

The Whitefaces made a fight of it in the first quarter as they trailed 10-9, but 6-5 Damon Kelly Baker dominated the offensive boards for 21 points, while Mike Wendele hogged the defensive boards. Robby Robinette aided with 17 points and held Hereford's leading scorer, Ronny Welty, to only five points.

Dumas led at the half, 23-16, and increased the margin to 43-26 at the three-quarter mark. Julian Miller of Dumas was the only player in double figures with 12 points, as Dumas coach Jerry Hale cleared the bench in the second half, with 14 of the Demons getting into the ball game.

Warriors Defeat McLean, 44-32

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

MIAMI—The Miami High Warriors served notice on bi-district foe Higgins that they will be tough to beat as they stopped the McLean Tigers, 44-32, here last night in a pre-bi-district warmup game between the 2-B district champions and the 2-A titlist Tigers.

It was the third time the two teams had met this year and the third Warrior win as they upped their season record to 27-3.

The first half was an all-out battle as the lead changed hands seven times and the score was tied on six other occasions, but Miami pulled away to a six-point lead at the end of the first half and practically stalled the second half out for the win.

McLean's ace junior, 6-6½ Derrith Welch, was a one-man ball team for the losers, despite Miami's sagging on him constantly, doubled and triple-teaming him as 6-4 Raymond Guerrero and 6-3 Mark Arrington harassed him throughout the game. Guerrero, a sophomore, played an outstanding game despite his lack of experience, both on bounding Welch and grabbing the offensive rebounds.

Miami ace Jimmy Flowers and little ballhawk Lewis Holland matched Welch and Glen Swift as the lead switched back and forth in the opening minutes, until Miami moved into a 14-7 lead as Arrington canned two buckets and Flowers another. Welch came back with a two-pointer and Don Woods hit a long shot as the period ended to cut the margin to 14-11.

Miami Fast Breaks

With Welch blocking the Warriors' shots, McLean tied it up on three straight points by Eddie Windown and once more the lead switched back and forth until Flowers stole the ball and scored on a fast break to make it 22-18. Miami, which had used the fast break only twice this season, tried it three times last night, being successful twice to match their season mark. Lewis Holland moved the margin to 24-18 as Joe Wayne Holland was blocking the Tiger shots, but Welch went over two men to cut the lead to four points. Flowers came through with a backward hook shot and it was Miami 26, McLean 20 at the half. The Warriors had hit 44 percent from the field and the starting five grabbed 16 rebounds, four more than Welch.

Arrington opened the second half with three straight points and Miami immediately went into a semi-stall, playing possession ball as Flowers and Lewis Holland played catch. McLean could make only six points in the frame, four by Welch, while Flowers and Arrington had four each for a 36-28 lead going into the last quarter.

Warriors Stall

Flowers and Holland then played medicine ball for almost four minutes of the final frame, until Welch finally got his hands on the ball and McLean scored. Flowers then started firing again, hitting six points in a row to move the margin to 42-28.

McLean put on a full-court press, but Flowers just dribbled over, around and under the Tigers to run out the clock.

Flowers had 20 points and Arrington 12 for Miami, Welch 21 for McLean.

Miami plays 1-B champion Higgins Monday night in bi-district at Canadian. McLean must await the results of the 1-A tournament before knowing who they play. Stratford won the round-robin, and if they win the tourney Friday, they will meet the Tigers. If another team will play it off Saturday night, reported McLean cage coach Derril Davis. Davis said that if Stratford won, the two teams would meet Saturday morning to determine the site and date of the bi-district game; if another team forced a Saturday playoff, plans would be made immediately following the game, with next Tuesday as the probable playing date.

FLYING HIGH — Battling under the boards for a rebound are 6-6½ Derrith Welch of McLean (23) and 6-3 Mark Arrington of Miami. The arm sticking out between them belongs to Miami's Jimmy Flowers, also trying to get a hand in the matter. Waiting for a chance at the ball if they miss are Joe Wayne Holland (22) and Jim McCarty (10). The Warriors, District 2-B champs, took a win over the visiting Tigers last night as the two teams kept in shape for bi-district play. (Daily News Photo)

PAMPA-DUMAS NIXED

Pampa Basketball coach Terry Culley today denied that there might be a pre-bi-district practice game between Pampa and Dumas. "Coach Jerry Hale and I discussed the possibility of a game this week end, but were unable to agree on a site near Pampa. We have to go back to Forth Worth next Tuesday and I don't feel it would help the team to make two long trips in a row. Our next game will be at Haltom City Tuesday."

Denny Moyer Keeps Crown In Honolulu

HONOLULU (UPI) — Denny Moyer, 193½, used superior boxing skill and an effective left jab Tuesday night to punch out a unanimous decision over hometown hero Stan Harrington, 151½, and retained his world junior middleweight championship.

There were no knockdowns in the 15-round bout watched by a near capacity crowd of 5,085 at Pacific Auditorium. But Moyer, of Portland, Ore., earned the nod by coming back strongly in the late rounds after a slow start.

Harrington, a veteran of 59 fights and considered the island's greatest fighter since Bobo Olson, started out as though he might topple the defending champ.

The 29-year-old Hawaiian used a sharp left uppercut to dominate the action and pile up the points in the early stanzas. But the tide slowly turned after the seventh round when Harrington tired visibly and Moyer's steady jabbing found its mark.

Referee Louis Freitas scored the fight 72-69 for the champion, Judge Walter Cho called it 74-68, and referee John Medeiros saw it 71-69. UPI had it 70-68.

METS SIGN SCOUT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joe Mathis, long-time scout for the St. Louis Cardinals, signed Tuesday as a scout for the New York Mets of the National League. He will scout in his hometown area of St. Louis.

BOWLER WINS HONOR

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dick Weber, winner of the All-Star bowling tournament for the second straight year, Tuesday was voted the professional athlete of the month in January, and thus became eligible for the $10,000 Hickok Award as athlete of the year.

Sports Patrol

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

ISLAMORADA, Fla. (UPI) — Mickey Mantle and Willie Mays never have lived up completely to their full potential as a hitter, Hall of Fame Ted Williams insisted today in asserting that 97 per cent of baseball's major leaguers could be improved at the plate.

"I'm not criticizing them," said the former Boston Red Sox star at his home overlooking the Bonefish Flats of Florida Bay "but I always felt that Mantle, Mays and maybe Hank Aaron could have hit 400."

None of them has, of course, the sinewy Williams being the last of that storied clan on his .406 average in 1941.

Now one of the world's foremost fishing experts, Williams still is vitally interested in the game which raised him to fame as one of the greatest hitters of all time. Even now his genius with the bat is in such demand that at the end of the month he will go to the Boston Red Sox camp at Scottsdale, Ariz., to instruct their hitters and then do a tour of duty for his old club at their rookie camp in Ocala, Fla.

"Joe DiMaggio was one of the few who got just about everything out of his hitting talents that a man could desire," said the handsome 235-pounder who looks fit enough to put on a uniform today and still probably could hit with the best of them.

Castling a plug unerringly into the shadow of a rock nosing out of the water more than 80 feet from the bulkhead fronting his star, Williams analyzed his own performances with but one regret.

"There are many things that go into the making of a good hitter," he said in his brisk fashion.

"First of all, a boy must have the natural ability in swinging a bat. He needs a certain amount of strength which can be transposed into power. He needs tremendous desire and a good eye but about as important as anything he must have the proper circumstances.

"Let's face it," he continued, "the best ball players come from places where they play a lot of baseball and can play almost all year round, like Florida, California or the South. Up in my boys camp in Massachusetts I have a youngster from Nova Scotia who loves to play and has talent. But circumstances are against him because they don't play much ball in Nova Scotia and the season is short."

Lacked Running Speed

But in his own case, he reflected ruefully, lack of tremendous running speed handicapped even those dazzling figures he walloped into the record books.

"I like to imagine what I might have done if I could have run like Mantle, who can travel like a reindeer," Williams mused. "I was lucky to get nine infield hits in a season. Well, the year he hit 58 home runs he also got 54 infield hits. That doesn't leave too many clean shots to the outfield when you figure it up."

Mellowed and relaxed, with much of that one-time tigerish restlessness dispelled, the splendid splinter concurred that he might have raised his average on occasion if he would have crossed up the "Boudreau shift" to the right side of the infield and deliberately hit to left field more often.

"On the other hand," he said, "I won four of my six batting championships after Boudreau came up with that shift. So how can anybody say I hurt myself too much?"

UP AND OVER — Bill Martin of Pampa gets set for the Fort Stockton track meet this weekend. Martin, high jump regionalist last year, will also enter the high hurdles and run a leg on the mile relay team. (Daily News Photo)

By JEFF COHANE

Our first letter came in the mailbag yesterday. Although it is primarily intended for our predecessor, Lee White, since we only got to cover the Rebs in their last 180 games, we would like to print it.

Dear Mr. White: I would appreciate it very much if you would print the following statistics about the Robert E. Lee Junior High School seventh grade basketball team in the Pampa Daily News. I feel some of these boys have great potential in making excellent high school athletes. It is our obligation, as sports minded individuals, to do anything in our power to keep these boys interested in sports. Printing these statistics and comments will be a step forward.

STATISTICS (Conference)

Won 7 Lost 1. Scored 233 points to the opposition's 126 points. Team Average Per Game—Lee 29.1 Opposition 15.1.

Player	TP	Av.
George Bailey	64	8
David Schaub	49	5.1
Jimmy Cornutt	31	3.9
Steve Walls	31	3.9
Johnny Marsh	14	1.7
Rodney Hall	14	1.7

Other players on the team include Chris Kenny, Mike Subbert, Stephen Walls, Mike Trimble, Buddy Newton, Steve Summers, Weldon Watson, Wayne Caswell, and Gregg Gunner.

I think these boys have greatly improved their ball playing since the first of the season because they have found it takes hard work, sacrifice, endurance, and a lot of desire before a team can become real champions. These boys have taken the first steps toward molding a stronger character which will help them not only in later athletic participation, but will make them better citizens all through life.

It is always a coach's pleasure to have such fine boys, both on the court and off, and I am really pleased with their efforts this year.

Sincerely yours,
Coach Don Derryberry
R.E.L. 7th grade coach
ON THE LIGHTER SIDE: We dropped over to Miami High School yesterday to get some pictures of the district boys and girls basketball teams and were treated royally by coaches Lawrence Overcast and Bill Hines, who even fed us an excellent lunch.

We returned that evening to cover the Miami-McLean game and cut up old touches with coach Derral Davis, whom we remembered from more years back than we both cared to remember. While we were talking, one of the referees came over and started giving us a hard time, stating that we were delaying the ball game and he was going to call a technical on us. We looked up in shock and it turned out to be our good friend, Pampa track coach Norman Phillips, kidding us.

Since we printed a picture of Norm and his track team yesterday which we felt was the best picture we had taken since our arrival, we wondered about his not mentioning it. Norm confessed that he hadn't seen the evening paper before coming straight to the game from track practice, but after coach Overcast verified the fact that it was an excellent picture, Norm immediately became contrite, practically holding the game up to let us take pictures.

We wondered as to this sudden change of heart until we came back to the office to write up the story and found Norm impatiently awaiting us. He looked at the paper and then begged for the picture. We consulted with photographer Bob Ferguson, and after Norm solemnly promised not to give us a hard time again, we broke down and gave him the picture.

VERSATILE—A Class B coach has to be a man of many skills as demonstrated in this impromptu shot taken at the Miami High coaches' office as basketball coach Lawrence Overcast is shown in a trainer's role taping up the foot of girl cager Marilyn Murphy, Marilyn, co-captain of the Warriorettes, broke her foot early in the season, but has come back to win All-District honorable mention, despite the treatment and taping her foot must get regularly. Jackie Nicklaus Gets Tucson Deal

By United Press International

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Some golfers struggle through the year-long professional tour hoping just to make more money than they spend—and then there's Jack Nicklaus who won't even have to swing a club to pick up $50,000. Though he's only 23 years old, the 1962 National Open champion already is as familiar with the folding green as the golf course green.

The chunky young golfer won more than $91,000 last year during his rookie season as a pro, and Tuesday he confirmed a United Press International report that he had negotiated a new four-year contract to represent the Tucson National Golf Club on the tour for $50,000.

It is believed to be one of the highest-paid pacts ever given a touring pro to represent a golf club. Most of the touring professionals make agreements to represent golf courses for from $2,500 to $3,000 a year.

"I signed a two-year pact with the Tucson National when I first turned pro," said Nicklaus. "But over the weekend we negotiated a new four-year pact. When it is completed, I'll have been with the National six years." Nicklaus at first would not reveal terms of the contract. But club owner Bill Nanni, a Chicago contractor, said the pact had cost him $50,000.

Drake Edges North Texas

By United Press International

North Texas State's second half rally fell short by one point against Drake University Monday night and the Eagles lost their fifth Missouri Valley Conference game of the season 65-64.

North Texas led Drake by as many as 10 points in the second half, but the Iowa team overcame the deficit and moved out to a nine-point lead themselves.

Late in the game, the Eagles scored eight straight points and pulled even at 50-50, but could never take the lead.

Russell Noll scored 22 points to lead McMurry College to an 88-74 win over St. Edwards University at Abilene.

McMurry built up a slim four-point halftime advantage and increased it during the final 20 minutes.

Marshall Proctor of Tarleton State scored half of his team's points in the second half, but East Texas Baptist still beat the Texans 65-54 in a District 8 NAIA South Zone basketball game at Marshall.

Arlington State grabbed an early lead and kept it throughout the game to defeat Midwestern 75-66 at Arlington.

The Rebels hit a hot 51 per cent of their shots from the field and opened up a lead of 18 points early in the second half.

Pan American coasted to a 78-59 win over St. Mary's of San Antonio at San Antonio. Pan American's Lucious Jackson led his team with 19 points, but Hank Cox of St. Mary's was the game's leading scorer with 24 points.

Tips For Outdoorsmen

By KENNETH CARR

It's still not too late for boaters to enter the Texas water safari—the Lone Star state's answer to marathon lovers who don't relish blistered feet.

The brainstorm of two San Marcos men, the safari is actually a 500-mile race against time, other boaters and the elements. It starts April 29 at Spring Lake in San Marcos and will end—for some—12 days later at Corpus Christi.

Any type of boat may be used as long as it doesn't have a motor. Paddles, oars or sails, or any combination of the three may be used to supply the locomotion. The race course is the Guadalupe River.

Boaters may come up against a "few" obstacles during the run. These include low water bridges, waterfalls, rapids, open water, more than 59 log jams and nine dams.

Longhorns Boston Celtics Closing In Near Title On The Los Angeles Lakers

By United Press International

The University of Texas needs only a victory in its game at Dallas Saturday night against Southern Methodist to tack up a portion of the Southwest Conference basketball crown next to the Longhorn football championship trophy.

The Steers beat Texas A&M 83-73 Tuesday night at Austin for their 10th straight league win and moved within one game of clinching a title tie.

Texas stayed three games in front of the Rice Owls who squeaked by Baylor 74-70 in Houston. All SWC clubs have four games remaining.

Rice kept its mathematical hopes of winning the conference alive by rallying in the final nine minutes of play in its game with Baylor. The Bears held an eight-point lead with nine minutes left in the game, but saw the lead wiped out in less than six minutes.

In other SWC action, Southern Methodist hit a solid 64 per cent of its field shots in the second half to beat Texas Christian in a high-scoring battle, 109-98 in Fort Worth. SMU still has hopes of finishing second in the league race.

Tommy Boyer set two Arkansas school records with a 30-point performance in leading the Razorbacks past Texas Tech 83-78 in Fayetteville. Boyer's 18 free shots broke his own record of 16 made last year and his 30 points made him the first Razorback to score 30 or more points in one game five times in a career.

Crowd Defies Coaches' Plea

AUSTIN (UPI)—Football coaches

Hank Foldberg of Texas A&M and Darrell Royal of Texas appeared at mid-court before Tuesday night's Aggie Longhorn South West Conference basketball game and appealed to the crowd to display good sportsmanship.

"I'm going up there and sit with Hank Foldberg," Royal said. "If we can get along, maybe you all can, too."

Hank and Darrell got along fine. The crowd didn't do so well. Some 40 fist fights broke out after the game ended—Texas an 83-73 victor. The players were not involved.

The Boston Celtics are closing in on the Los Angeles Lakers in their National Basketball Association battle to see who can win the biggest percentage of their games.

There's more involved here than just team pride. Assuming the two division leaders again wind up as playoff foes, the team with the highest percentage gets that big home court advantage for four out of seven games.

Boston is now 48-19 and Los Angeles 48-17 after the Celtics nipped Cincinnati and Los Angeles dropped its second straight to San Francisco Tuesday night. Boston edged the Royals, 129-126, before 12,000 as Sam Jones and Tom Heinsohn each scored 25 points. Oscar Robertson had 35 for Cincinnati.

San Francisco fipped the Lakers at the buzzer, 111-109, as Wilt Chamberlain hit a jumper from the side. The "Big Dipper" had 39 points for the evening, but had to concede scoring honors to the losers' Elgin Baylor with 42.

Dick Barnett added 24 for the Lakers and hit the 30-footer with nine seconds to go that tied the count and set the stage for Chamberlain's bucket.

Even though Barnett has done a good job filling in for injured Jerry West, it's obvious the Lakers are not the same club without their brilliant back court performer.

In other action Tuesday night, Detroit stayed a half-game ahead of San Francisco in their battle for third place and a Western Division playoff spot.

The Pistons dumped New York, 121-112, as Don Ohl came off the bench to hit 30 points. Richie Guerin of the Knicks joined the select circle of NBA greats with more than 10,000 lifetime points. He had 23 for the night and John-ny Green scored 24 for the Knicks.

In the first game of the New York twin bill, Syracuse defeated Chicago, 118-110, as Lee Shaffer exploded for 41 points. Walt Belamy meshed 31 for the Zephyrs.

Salazar KO's SA Fighter

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Jorge (Baby) Salazar of San Francisco survived a knockdown and an accidental-butting Tuesday night to knock out Oscar German of San Antonio in the 9th round of a scheduled 10-round bout.

Salazar is the world's fourth-ranked bantamweight. German, who weighed 117, knocked Salazar down for an eight count in the third round.

In the middle of the seventh round, German accidentally butted Salazar.

Referee Raton Macias asked the boxing commissioner to stop the bout. He then called for a doctor to examine the boxer and finally decided to let the fighters continue.

Salazar landed a crunching right cross to German's jaw for the victory in 1:38 of the ninth round. Salazar weighed 118.

In a top preliminary fight, Steve Freeman of Houston knocked out Daniel Lopez of Ciudad Acuna, Mexico in the fourth round of a fight.

Freeman weighed 129½. Lopez weighed 133.

At Our Peril

The right to choose is a basic right in any society that can honestly call itself free. That means the right to choose where we will live and work—and the right to choose what products and services we will voluntarily buy.

This includes the right to choose the fuel—the source of energy—we want. That right is imperiled by an effort to pass a law which would give a government agency the authority to control the "end-use" of fuels. In other words, that agency could tell us what fuel, or what source of energy, we would be allowed to use for one purpose or another.

Back of this is a simple story. Once wood was the major fuel source for industrial and private use. Then coal took over and, by 1920, supplied more than 78 percent of the nation's mechanical energy. But the clock of progress did not stop at this point. Year by year more and more people and enterprises turned to oil as an energy source, attracted by its convenience, efficiency, and economy. To take a major example, now almost all railroad engines are diesel. Today petroleum supplies some 75 per cent of the nation's energy requirements.

The proposed law would, beyond argument, turn the clock of progress back. As one authority has observed, it would be as if the wagon builders and buggy whip makers of 50 years ago had successfully pushed for legislation restricting the use of the automobile. And it is interesting—and important—that a comprehensive energy and fuels study authorized by the U.S. Senate decisively rejects the principle of end-use control of fuels.

We may, or may not, like progress. But we impede it at our peril.

What Size Is 2x4?

As ever do-it-yourselfer knows, a 2x4 piece of lumber is not two inches thick and four inches wide. That is the rough-cut size and is the stuff grandpa used to work with. Today, lumber is trimmed and a "2x4" is actually only 1 1/2 inches by 3 1/2 inches.

What many do-it-yourselfers may not know, however, is that some 2x4s are not even this trimmed dimension. If cut green, they may have shrunk to an even smaller size.

The Lumber Standards Committee, which is appointed by the Department of Commerce to establish and maintain standards of lumber size and quality, is going to do something about it—at least, a subcommittee has been appointed to study the problem.

The committee is also studying lumber sizes from the standpoint of strength and stiffness with an eye toward using smaller sizes for a given job than are specified today.

The likely result is a new lumber standard that will be based on moisture content and strength requirements. It would mean, says the committee, a better product at a better price for the consumer.

Chances are, too, that the familiar 2x4, whatever its actual size might be, would still be part of our terminology.

4-H Club Week Coming

National 4-H Club Week, which is to be observed during the March 2-9 period, deserves special attention. Locally, we mark it with the Junior Livestock Show.

We live in a time in which juvenile delinquency has become a national problem of great and growing dimension. Every possible force needs to be brought to bear against the dismaying trend. The 4-H movement ranks high in this respect.

The young men and women who belong to the far-flung 4-H organizations learn how to make the most of the land, how to handle animals, how to develop character within a natural and healthy environment. They bear within them to a great extent, the future strength, discipline and solidity of this nation.

All power to 4-H Week. May it be a resounding success!

Editor:

These United States that you and I are privileged to live in, is a choice land. No people on earth from Adam until now have ever been blessed with more abundance than we enjoy today. This land is choice in its freedom, choice in its economic uplift of the mass of its citizenry, choice in the development of its great national resources, choice in its cultural and industrial development, choice in the comforts, in the plenty, in the happiness of the people. It reaches the height of greatness that all nations dream of attaining.

Why, then, should we stand uncertain and sometimes trembling before a Goddess pagan nation such as Russia, who denies its people any individual freedom. A nation that can neither adequately feed nor clothe its people, a nation whose leaders do not have the moral capacity to recognize truth if it should be printed in 30-foot letters before their very eyes. How can it be possible for such a nation to frighten half the world out of its wits? Where are the great leaders we need to put this nation in its rightful place among nations? If we let this pagan nation destroy our freedom it will be because of their strength.

During Stalin was named for Winston Churchill, a Dane in the Russian Navy.

but because of our weakness. That weakness can be nothing more than moral decay; we have everything a nation needs for greatness. "Do we have the will to use it?" Why do we try to do business or make treaties with a nation, that has no conception of honor, no knowledge of truth and no understanding of anything except brute force and power? There is no need to try to please the communist government.

There is no such thing as co-existing with communist ideology. Their avowed purpose is to destroy every thing that does not fit their alien idea of man. For the communist, there can be no such thing as compromising. They may sometimes offer that as a hope to those who tremble before them, but they are only seeking a more vulnerable spot to sink their poison spear.

To those educated intellectual illiterates who dare put forth the idea of "better red than dead," I offer Patrick Henry's immortal words, "Is life so dear, or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery?—Forbid it, almighty God, I know not what course others may take, but as for me give me liberty or give me death."

What a blessing it would be if we could all feel that way today. James Waldrop 404 Doucette

Engineers say that one of the "Five Future Wonders of the World" is the magnificent bridge under construction that will link Brooklyn, New York City's largest borough, with Staten Island, the smallest. It will be completed in 1965. Many officials are in favor of naming it the Verrazano Bridge, after an Italian explorer, who first sailed into New York harbor some years before Henry Hudson. But some old-timers on Staten Island are suggesting that it be called the FREEDOM BRIDGE. Since the new structure will be the first and giganticly visible evidence of the nation's enterprise and capability seen by newcomers sailing into the U.S.A., we think FREEDOM BRIDGE an excellent name. Many ethnic, political and geographic titles for the new span have been suggested. But none have recommended the American ideal.

MEMORY LANE: Movie-going bobby soxers may be inclined to believe that the Romans gave us nothing more than story material for chariot races and love scenes between Cleopatra and Caesar. But each day we use words that had their beginning with some function of the Roman government. When a Roman ran for office and tried to gain votes for himself, it was called "ambitio" (going about), whence came our word ambition. Also the Roman magistrate called a Censor, held an office of great dignity and responsibility. His duty was to keep a public register of citizens and their property, assess taxation and regulate public behavior. From this right to judge and examine the private life of a citizen came our meaning of the words censor and censorship.

GOP Leaders Are Poised To Fight JFK Requests

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Republican congressional strategy is gradually taking shape. It should begin to show when Senate and House settle down for a little more work Feb. 18 after a week of GOP oratory in observance of Lincoln's birthday.

Just before this welkin ringing began, GOP congressional leaders of both houses approved two statements lambasting the Kennedy fiscal and foreign policies.

These were adopted at an organization meeting of the joint Senate-House Republican leadership Feb. 7. This 11-statesmen group may play an increasingly important role in the next two years, up to the time the Republicans nominate their candidate for the presidency and he takes over as head of the party.

In the leadership are Senators Dirksen, Ill., Kuchel, Calif.; Hickel, Alaska; Saltonstall, Mass.; Morton, Ky.; Reps. Halleck, Ind.; Arends, Ill.; Byrnes, Wis.; Ford, Mich.; Brown, Ohio; and Wilson, Calif.

The new members are Sen. Thurston Morton, former GOP National Committee chairman, and Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the new House GOP Policy Committee chairman.

Morton and Wilson are Congressional Campaign Committee chairmen. Their groups will finance the staff work for leadership statements, even though this takes some money out of their campaign kitty.

It is noteworthy that Rep. William E. Miller, N.Y., who is also GOP National Committee chairman, does not sit in on this act. Neither do Senators Barry Goldwater of Arizona nor John G. Tower of Texas, the two most aggressive attackers of all Kennedy policies.

The two minority leaders, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen and Rep. Charles A. Halleck will continue as principal official spokesmen for the party in Congress and will continue the "Ev and Charlie show" from time to time, with minor changes.

They appeared on a national television panel show as a curtain raiser and they will be back on the air waves again whenever they have anything to say, which is frequently.

But they will also present guest stars now and then, particularly governors and presidential possibilities whenever they are in Washington. It's good free time, open for the asking.

It has taken over a month to get all this worked out. But as Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., comments, no time has been lost. It has taken the Senate a month to lay the ghost of the liberals from both parties who wanted a rules change to prevent filibustering.

And it has taken a month for the President to send Congress his principal messages on State of the Union, budget, economic policy, tax reform, farm, education and health programs. Also a request for a big supplemental appropriation for the rest of this fiscal year.

They now give the Republicans something to shoot at.

The leadership statement on foreign policy, released this week, does not try to answer the President's State of the Union foreign policy declarations point by point.

The criticisms are more on the President's conduct, or misconduct, of foreign policy in Europe, Cuba and other trouble spots.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Do men or women smoke as a stimulant or a sedative, or because they have less foresight than those who do not smoke?"

We've heard it said that women used to knit to keep their hands busy, but now few of them knit and are nervous with their hands and go to smoking. And nowadays, when housework is so much less than it used to be, they do not know what to put their time in doing and too often have no desire to develop their mental faculties, it is only natural for them to seek transitory excitement. It is a method of escaping life.

Some people contend it is a stimulant and some people contend it is a sedative.

We have never heard a man give a rational explanation as to why he smoked, whether it was to stimulate him or to keep him from biting his fingernails or to tranquilize him.

"We'd be glad to have rational explanations as to why people smoke and burn up the wealth that could be put to work to raise real wages of all people.

What this is taken to mean is that the Republicans are shooting for a balanced budget. They will try to reduce government appropriations first. Then they will limit the tax cuts to the amount they can slash from the budget.

The Republican, congressional leadership offers no substitute program of its own other than that, "The government can help solve unemployment by encouraging industry and investment capital to promote expansion and new ventures. Chronic government deficits will never stimulate American ingenuity, build confidence or create jobs."

Question: "Do men or women smoke as a stimulant or a sedative, or because they have less foresight than those who do not smoke?"

We've heard it said that women used to knit to keep their hands busy, but now few of them knit and are nervous with their hands and go to smoking. And nowadays, when housework is so much less than it used to be, they do not know what to put their time in doing and too often have no desire to develop their mental faculties, it is only natural for them to seek transitory excitement. It is a method of escaping life.

Some people contend it is a stimulant and some people contend it is a sedative.

We have never heard a man give a rational explanation as to why he smoked, whether it was to stimulate him or to keep him from biting his fingernails or to tranquilize him.

"We'd be glad to have rational explanations as to why people smoke and burn up the wealth that could be put to work to raise real wages of all people.

What this is taken to mean is that the Republicans are shooting for a balanced budget. They will try to reduce government appropriations first. Then they will limit the tax cuts to the amount they can slash from the budget.

The Republican, congressional leadership offers no substitute program of its own other than that, "The government can help solve unemployment by encouraging industry and investment capital to promote expansion and new ventures. Chronic government deficits will never stimulate American ingenuity, build confidence or create jobs."

TRUTH FORUM

Background Cited for Huge Defense Budget

By ED DELANEY

More than half of the $90 billion budget which President Kennedy's economic wizards prepared for presentation to a Democrat-dominated Congress, is for defenses at home and abroad. This is approximately 11 per cent of our national income. We are spending some $10 billion annually for nuclear weapons and installations for their use, which we hope will never be used.

The President and some of his political party stalwarts are expressing dissatisfaction and sharp criticism of our European allies, because they seem to expect the United States will continue to bear the major burden of providing money and manpower for the defenses of Europe. Mr. Kennedy has pointed out that we are paying about 30 per cent toward the over-all costs of NATO. We have more than 400,000 men in the defense forces of Western Europe, in the naval fleet we maintain in the Mediterranean and to man the missile bases and other installations that encircle the peace-loving Soviet Union.

What we are doing and have been doing to protect Europe for the past 15 years, said the President, "is a fantastic story." It is. But it is not half as fantastic as the true story of who created the situation in which we have had to spend some $450 billion for the pockets of the American taxpayers since 1945. In order that millions of our people may properly correlate in their minds the causes, the deeds and misdeeds which have brought on annual defense expenditures of $50 billion, the President should have dwelt at some length on that side of the story. It is understandable why the President might experience some embarrassment if he emphasized that part of the record, because it is a shocking indictment of two Democratic administrations which preceded him: But with the preponderance of Democrats in the present Congress, many of them showing little reluctance about spending us into bankruptcy, it is appropriate that I supply the data which Mr. Kennedy scrupulously omitted.

The record shows also that when Harry Truman inherited the office of president, he approved without a murmur the unconscionable and disastrous vivisection of Europe which had been done at the behest of the Soviet-sympathizing cabal in the Washington bureau, including Harry Dexter White the identified Communist and architect of the infamous Morgenthau Plan for wrecking the economy of Western Europe.

The American people are paying billions and billions because of the aids to the enemy that were rendered by two previous presidents. Is it any wonder the European countries take the attitude: "you in the United States created this situation—now you are paying the penalty." For obvious reasons Mr. Kennedy did not mention that.

Ed Delaney and Valis Frank.
