Union Demands Will Be Laid Before Humble

ILLEGAL LABOR PRACTICES ARE HIT IN BILL

BOTH EMPLOYERS AND WORKERS TO BE CRITICIZED

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—Majority leader Robinson (D-ARK) disclosed today that he would ask the Senate to condemn company unions and "any other unfair labor practices" together with the sit-down strike.

He said he expected the Senate to vote shortly on a "statement of policy" with regard to the strikes agreed upon yesterday by a group of administration leaders.

The resolution he had prepared denounced sit-downs as "illegal and contrary to sound public policy," and added:

"The so-called industrial spy systems breeds fear, suspicion and animosity, tends to cause strikes and industrial warfare and is contrary to sound public policy; and it is likewise contrary to sound public policy for any employers to deny the right of collective bargaining, to foster the company union, or to engage in any unfair labor practice as defined in the national labor relations act."

Robinson said the measure was drawn as a joint resolution, which would not force any action by the President. It would be, in effect, a mere declaration of sentiment by Congress, and would never go to the White House for signature.

The resolution is a modification of a measure submitted Monday by Senator Pittman (D-NeV), immediately after the Senate had refused to write a declaration of sentiment into the Guffey-Vinson cost bill.

Senator Borah (R-Ida), said he was not necessarily committed to vote for the resolution.

"I do not propose to single labor out and condemn its illegal acts," he said, "and let the capital free to pursue its illegal methods, which is to be treason, make the most of it."

The veteran Idahoan repeatedly has blamed monopolistic industry for much of the current industrial strife.

Majority Leader Robinson said the measure was based on a resolution by Senator Pittman (D-NeV).

That resolution in its original form termed sit-downs illegal and contrary to sound public policy, and described "so-called industrial spy systems" as equally violating public policy.

Agreements agreed on at the conference were said to strengthen both of these pronouncements.

TEXAS MOTHER GETS GARD FROM 'DEAD' SON

PORT WORTH, April 7 (AP)—The card that brought incredible news to an elderly couple in the Rock Creek community near Crowley was worn by repeated readings today as Mrs. and Mrs. W. G. Miller began anxious efforts to get in touch with a son they had believed dead.

Alfred Is Boomed In Mass Meeting at Beaumont

HOUSTON, April 7 (AP)—John L. Lewis' lusty Committee for Industrial Organization surged along today in its stubbornly-opposed drive to unionize under its banners a million American oil industry workers.

The newly-launched campaign will reach an important stage tomorrow when Harvey C. Fremming, president of the International Oil Workers Union, CIO affiliate, lays the union's demands before H. C. Wiess, president of Humble Oil & Refining Company. In negotiations with the steel and automobile industries CIO unions have demanded recognition as sole bargaining agent for the workers.

Yesterday the CIO drive drew attention in Beaumont, Houston and Austin.

Fremming and Adolph Germer, Lewis organizer from Detroit, went to Beaumont for a mass meeting where they exhorted Magnolia Refinery employees, 3,000 of whom previously voted against CIO organization, to "come out like men and join up."

Fremming warned them they faced imposition of a 40-hour week in place of the present 36-hour system. He said 300 to 400 men might lose their jobs when that occurred and that his union was prepared to protect the workers' job security.

There was boozing when Fremming referred to Governor Alfred as a "decent fellow" who had been given "bad advice." Last week the governor strongly condemned sit-down strike methods and said he would oppose them with all his might if they break out in the oil industry.

Fremming said the campaign may (See No. 1, PAGE SIX)

SENATE AGAIN FAILS TO SET DATE ON BILL

AUSTIN, April 7 (AP)—A fourth attempt within 24 hours to set the House horse race repeal bill for early floor consideration failed in the Senate today.

The vote to set the proposal for tomorrow was 2-12, whereas a two-thirds majority would have been required. Sen. Joe Hill of Henderson started to move for a setting at a later hour tomorrow but decided against it after Sen. Clay Cotten of Palestine said he was "tired of all these motions which do nothing but kill time."

Cotten had been voting for the special setting proposals.

Governor Alfred meanwhile hinted at his press conference that race repeal might be submitted to a special session of the legislature if it failed of passage at the regular session.

"If I can help see that there is a vote on the issue, I'm going to do so," he said. "We'll cross the special session bridge when we get to it."

A new pardon board bill designed to eliminate the objections which Alfred raised in his veto of a previous bill was introduced by Sen. Wilbourne C. Collier of Eastland. The bill would locate the board at Austin, as desired by the governor. It would require a representative of the board to visit prison properties at least once every 30 days.

The Senate set for special order next Monday the soil conservation bill by Sen. E. M. Davis of Brownwood.

Day Required to Dig Shanty Out of Cellar at McLean

McLEAN, April 7.—It was Shorty's night "in" Sunday, and although he is expected to recover completely, right now he is suffering from shock, a patch over his eye, a skinned forehead, and a cut lip.

When this picture of pretty Eleanor Young, New York and Newport debutante, appeared on a picture page of the Daily News recently, friends in Canadian were interested in her reported romance with young Woolworth Donahue (inset), grandson of the chain store founder. Miss Young frequently made long visits to Canadian during her childhood.

Her father, Ralph R. Young, was born in Canada. His father, the late D. J. Young, and grandfather, Robert Moody, pioneer settler and large ranch owner of Hemphill county, founded the First National Bank there, of which Eleanor's uncle, Kenneth Young, is now president. Ralph Young married in Virginia, where Eleanor was born, and later moved to New York where he gained wealth as a broker. With his wife and daughter, he has spent vacations of several weeks in and near Canadian at various times.

Loyalists Win Most Smashing Victory Of War

MADRID, April 7 (AP)—A force of government soldiers stormed the heights of Mount Chimorra in Cordoba province, it was reported today, and put their insurgent foes to bloody rout in one of the most smashing victories in the Spanish civil war.

The thrust, near the easterly end of the government's Pozo-Bianco front, carried the shouting "Millions" within three and one-half miles of Villaharta from which a short drive would sever the insurgents' main line of communications, the Cordoba-Penorroya road.

(Villaharta was erroneously reported captured last week.)

Last night, after the government column reached the summit of Mount Chimorra, a detail was put to work burying the bodies of 400 insurgent victims of the fierce attack.

When day broke the Madrid-Valencia soldiers set out again, away from the mountain top, to clear out several groups of insurgents caught behind the suddenly formed new line.

Rebels Flee Insurgents were reported in flight from Villaharta on the road to Penorroya. Mount Chimorra is part of the mountain range of that name fronting on the Cordoba-Penorroya highway from the north.

Government planes quickly followed up the Chimorro assault in a bomb attack on Villaharta, said reports by the Febus (official Spanish) news agency.

Three hundred prisoners were taken in the first wave of attack up the mountainside and toward Villaharta.

Febus reported the death of Major Guillermo Garcia, commander of an insurgent column, while trying to escape in his automobile.

The major's chauffeur was captured. Several insurgent regular army officers' bodies were found by the advancing militiamen.

Three tanks captured Captured war materials included three German made tanks, one anti-aircraft battery, four trucks, many machine guns and automobiles, and a large quantity of rifles, sub-machine guns and ammunition.

The Basque defense forces were putting up a terrific resistance in the immediate defense of Durango which is 15 miles southeast of Bilbao. Ochandiano is nine miles south of Durango.

Planes, bolstering Gen. Mola's drive toward Bilbao, bombed towns and government positions over a wide area, including Santander on the Bay of Biscay coast, about 45 miles northwest of Bilbao. Government airmen roared into the skies to meet them. Two insurgent planes and one government ship fell to earth in "dog fights."

BRITAIN IRED AS INSURGENTS SHELL VESSEL

By The Associated Press Renewed Spanish insurgent bombings of British warships and merchant vessels and charges by Italy of Franco-Soviet violations of the "hands off Spain" agreement threatened serious international repercussions today.

Great Britain demanded a quick and satisfactory explanation from insurgents for two aerial attacks on her destroyer, Gallant, off the east coast of Spain.

She dispatched the destroyer Garland to Palma, Mallorca, held by insurgents, to back up her warning that Italy will not tolerate interference with her shipping. The Gallant was bombed twice yesterday but was not hit.

Britain also considered making a formal protest over the shelling of the British steamer Thorpehall by insurgent vessels in the Bay of Biscay yesterday.

Expected to Withdraw In Rome, government-controlled newspapers said that because other nations had violated the agreement not to send arms and volunteers to Spain, Italy might feel forced to take counter-action.

Usually informed sources said Italy and Germany might withdraw from the 21-nation agreement in protest against alleged foreign aid to the Madrid-Valencia government, particularly by France and Russia. Italy and Germany have themselves been accused of repeatedly breaking neutrality pledges.

10,000 Italians Land In London, the Spanish embassy declared it had received confirmation of the Spanish landing of 10,000 Italian troops at Cadix, Spain, as aid for insurgents on March 22, 23 and 24.

LONDON, April 7 (AP)—Great Britain dispatched a destroyer to the Spanish island of Mallorca today to demand quick and satisfactory explanation for a double aerial attack.

SIT-DOWNERS DRIVEN FROM HERSHEY PLANT

HERSHEY, Pa., April 7 (AP)—Irate farmers and workers opposed to the union went into the plant of the Hershey Chocolate Corporation today and drove sit-down strikers from the building.

The farmers whose market for some 800,000 pounds of milk daily has been paralyzed since the strike started last Friday, took matters in their own hands after they said sit-down strikers rescinded an agreement to come out by 1 p. m., the final deadline set by the milk producers and "loyal workers."

A fight broke out inside the ivy-covered seven-story plant which was one of the first buildings in the area to plant and model town the 79-year-old Milton S. Hershey laid out in a corn field some 34 years ago.

Men bleeding and cut were led from the buildings.

Pampans Will Hear Eastern Scouters Talk

Many Pampa scouters will drive to Oklahoma City on Friday when H. P. Pote of New York, director of division of personnel, and Dr. Ray O. Wyland of New York, director of educational service, of the National Boy Scout council, will speak at a meeting of laymen of the ninth region of which Pampa, and the Adobe Walls council, is a part.

The Adobe Walls party will be headed by President C. H. Walker and Executive Fred Roberts of Pampa. C. R. Stahl of Borger, and many other leading scouters in the area, including M. A. Graham, C. E. McGrew, V. Darnell, Walter F. G. Steinh, V. L. Boyles and others from Pampa.

Recovery and expansion will be the theme of the all-day meeting. Purpose of the gathering will be three-fold: 1—Recruiting men to serve boys; 2—Classifying men for service;

POSSE SEEKS SKYLINER ON SIDE OF PEAK

McNARY, Ariz., April 7 (AP)—A posse of some 25 picked men plunged at daybreak today into the eastern Arizona "badlands" in search of a wrecked airliner and its eight occupants, deemed certainly dead.

Their goal was the rugged western slope of 10,500-foot Baldy peak, where the tangled ruin of the one-ground skyliner was located from the air yesterday.

Seven miles of pathless wilds lie between the searchers and the wreckage, almost hidden in a grove of quaking aspen on the mountain-side. Snow lies from four to six feet deep on level stretches and fills box canyons to a depth of up to 20 feet.

Major A. D. Smith, who discovered the wreckage, and other airmen were ready to take off from Albuquerque, N. M., to aid the ground parties by circling over the scene. It is impossible to land an airplane near the peak.

Those who saw the wreckage from the air yesterday were unanimous in their certainty none of its occupants could have survived what appeared to have been an almost head-on plunge against the mountain slope. "He couldn't live in that," declared Major Smith, as he gazed at the tangled and blackened wreckage.

CELEBRATION WILL BE HELD JUNE 10-11

Thursday and Friday, June 10 and 11, were selected today as dates for Pampa's annual June celebration.

The dates were picked shortly before noon at a meeting of the general celebration committee in City Hall.

The general committee is composed of W. B. Weatherhead, Garnet Reeves, Ramond Harrah, R. B. Allen, and Tex De Weese. Dick Hughes, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the annual event, also attended today's session.

Committee Chairman Weatherhead announced that another meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday when sub-committees will be assigned.

Name for the celebration will not be announced until next week. A title contest, in which a cash prize of $10 will be awarded for the winning name, is scheduled to end next Saturday.

Suggested names still may be sent or mailed to the June Celebration Contest Editor of the Pampa NEWS. It should be accompanied by a short letter outlining possible feature attractions which could be incorporated with the two-day observance.

CITIZEN GROUP UNANIMOUSLY FAVORS LAKE

STATE PARK ON SITE OF BATTLE NEARBY IS ADVOCATED

By ARCHER FULLINGIM The largest body of water that ever shimmered on the pampas of the Texas Panhandle appeared emerging from the mirage stage today.

Yesterday afternoon, representative Gray county taxpayers and civic leaders unanimously approved plans to vote a bond issue of from $100,000 to $200,000 and build a huge lake at the Beaver Dam crossing on McClelland creek in the central part of the county.

A motion offered by J. N. Duncan, one of the largest taxpayers in the county, to petition the commissioners court to authorize and finance a cost estimate and survey of the proposed reservoir was seconded by half of the 50 men in the room, and was adopted without a dissenting vote.

County Judge Sherman White and three county commissioners, John Haggard, Thos. O. Kirby and M. M. Newman, stated that the court would probably authorize the estimate and survey at the next meeting, April 12. It was estimated that cost of the survey and engineer's report would be less than $300.

Officials invited here J. P. Elms, young landowner of Alarred, then offered a motion inviting William J. Lawson, executive secretary of the State Park Board, to visit the proposed dam site on McClelland creek the latter part of this month and be visited by the Panhandle. This motion was also unanimously adopted.

Earlier in the meeting, Ivy E. Duncan, who was the first to advocate the construction of a county-financed dam, said that on a recent visit to Austin he learned that there is a strong possibility of securing a state park on the Indian background which lies immediately west of the proposed lake. The battle in which Lieutenant Baldwin led United States soldiers in a wagon train charge against Gray Beard's warriors, routed and decisively defeated the savage Comanches, and in doing so rescued the hapless German sisters, is located near the proposed lake.

CCC Camp Possible Judge Duncan quoted Mr. Lawson as cheering the idea of a state park. "The Pampa area is a strong possibility of securing a state park on the Indian background which lies immediately west of the proposed lake. The battle in which Lieutenant Baldwin led United States soldiers in a wagon train charge against Gray Beard's warriors, routed and decisively defeated the savage Comanches, and in doing so rescued the hapless German sisters, is located near the proposed lake.

Mr. Lawson pointed out that Amarillo has had a CCC camp for four years. He also said that transfer of CCC camps was not difficult when the county had the money to furnish materials. The government furnishes only labor in CCC projects.

"Several months ago, I suddenly awoke to the fact that I have lived a life in the Panhandle without a lake or a park," Mr. Duncan said in opening his remarks. "I have come to the conclusion that if we are ever to have a lake, now is the time to build it."

Lake Demand Growing Mr. Duncan pointed out that Amarillo has a lake, that Lubbock built one last year and that 1,300 cars (See NO. 4, Page 6)

SMITH DEFEATS DAVIS FOR M'LEAN'S MAYOR

McLEAN, April 7.—Vester Smith was elected mayor of McLean in yesterday's election, defeating Mayor A. Davis, running for re-election. Smith received 123 votes to 45 for Davis.

In the other contested race, J. A. Sparks received 128 votes to Lawrence Nicholson's 37, for city marshal.

Jno. Cooper and C. D. Batson were elected councilmen without opposition.

W. E. Bogan was returned as city secretary with 163 votes to one write-in for C. S. Rice.

Club Hears Talks On Safe Driving

Civic Culture Club Delegate to Go To Canyon

Safety was the theme of a program unusually interesting because of its timeliness, presented for Civic Culture club yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. G. Cagle.

Mrs. Joe Berry, leader, reviewed a talk by the national federated club safety chairman, stressing the "three E's" of highway safety—engineering, enforcement, and education. Mrs. L. C. Mahan spoke on the importance of learning to drive correctly, the use of driver's signals, and closed her talk by reading "And Evident Death," dramatic declamation.

District federation plans were discussed, as the club's delegate, Mrs. W. B. Murphy, prepared to leave this week for the annual convention of clubs at Canyon.

Mrs. Claude Lard was appointed yearbook chairman for next season. Mrs. C. P. Braudry and Mrs. McMahon committee members to serve with her.

Mrs. A. L. Johnson and Mrs. French were welcomed as new club members, and Mrs. Bradbury was welcomed back after a long absence because of illness.

The report from the recent city club council meeting was given by Mrs. Albert Braunton.

YOUR CHILDREN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON.

Of course every mother knows by this time that she is losing hold every time that she says to a little child, "Be good and I'll give you a nickel." "Eat your spinach and I'll take you to a movie." She knows perfectly well that bribery has no more place than threats in training the small child.

But to hold out a prize as something to work for, even though it smells suspiciously of bribery, won't hurt a child old enough to know what it is all about.

The pernicious effects of such tactics lie in their habitual use. There is nothing reprehensible about either reward or, if you like, prizes, once in a while to whet interest and put effort in high gear.

Anything can become a habit, however, and very easily.

There was a family that was accustomed to give its children some things rather elegant in the way of money or presents when they came home after twice-a-year finals and announced that they had the highest marks in their rooms, which was almost invariably the case.

Graft Starts Young.

Then they lost their money, but like so many unwed parents, they tried not to let the children know.

Those three children weren't a bit nice about it when denied the usual graft as a reward for specially high marks that winter. I well remember the day that one of the girls came over and pouted about it. "So this is gratitude," I thought.

Not long ago one of my neighbors said to her son, "William, if you make a better Latin mark, I'll get you a new bicycle."

Her husband was dead and this 14-year-old is acting the part of heavy protector. "Where will you get the money?" he asked skeptically, but importantly, as though he were speaking of somebody else.

"Oh, I'll get it. I have a little tucked away."

"Sure you can spare it?"

"Well, yes, or I wouldn't have offered."

He got the wheel and I was delighted, for this round-faced child, already five feet ten, and still growing out of his socks, is a great boy.

Competing Is Fun.

These days the world has gone prize mad. It does add zest to life, I must say. I myself am never as happy as when I'm thinking up smart slogans, or guessing answers. Usually results are enough satisfaction for you have licked something in yourself, even though you don't bother hunting for a stamp. I never got a prize, but if I won one I wouldn't feel that I had broken the ten commandments at that.

We all love to try for something definite. If we fail, well, that's that, and it is the attitude children must learn to take—to be fair losers.

With very little children the idea is likely to be misunderstood. They will learn to eat their spinach only if candy is legitimate. But they must be able to grin and bear it, if they miss the goal, and then try again. All of us are working for some kind of reward. Of such stuff is ambition made.

CHURCH PLANS DAY OF PRAYER

All-Day Service to Feature Baptist Revival

All-day services in Central Baptist church are announced for tomorrow, set aside as a day of fasting and prayer for the revival now in progress there. The prayer services will begin at sunrise, announces the Rev. John O. Scott, pastor.

This evening the Rev. Willis J. Ray, evangelist, will speak on the subject, "Stop and Think."

Last evening the subject was Faith. As characteristics of faith the speaker mentioned that it is practical, a commonsense use of the mind, that it runs from danger, is willing to wait, trust, and sacrifice.

Music is a feature of all services at the revival. W. W. Ernest, church education director, is in charge of the opening periods, when congregational singing and special numbers are included.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usages by answering the following question, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it necessary at large dinners to wait until all of the guests have been served before beginning to eat?

2. At formal dinners, is food served by the head of the table?

3. At the completion of a course, how should the knife and fork be placed?

4. Who gives the signal for rising from the dinner table?

5. Which arm does a man offer a woman when he takes her in to a formal dinner?

What would you do if—

(a) At a large dinner or banquet you seated next to someone whom you do not know—

(b) Eat the meal in silence unless someone near you induces you?

(c) Say, "I'm Mrs. Stephen Noyes?"

(d) Start a conversation without an introduction?

Answers.

1. No, only until those near have been served.

2. No, it is offered by the servant at the left of each person who then helps himself.

3. Parallel across the plate with their handles to the right.

4. The hostess.

CHEAP BOOKS HOBOON WITH LIBRARY ELITE.

WASHINGTON (P)—Tiny brightly-colored five- and ten-cent books keep strange company on the shelves of the rare book division of the Congressional Library.

Paper-backed Shirley Temple tales, comic strip exploits and condensations of movie classics hobnob with priceless literary treasures. Far from rare at present, the gaudy little volumes some day may be the only record of how millions of twentieth century children took their literature, believes V. Volta Farms, rare book chief.

PARTIES GIVEN AS CLUBS ARE BRIDGE GUESTS

Members of Tuesday Club Fill Three Tables

Spring flowers lent their colors to all appointments of a party for Tuesday afternoon bridge club yesterday, when Mrs. H. E. Carlson was hostess at her home to three tables of members.

Each player was given a corsage of orchid sweet peas, and glass baskets of the same flowers were awards for high cut. Mrs. F. J. Stalls held the traveling prize.

A salad and dessert court repeating the pastel colors were served to Mmes. Jim White, Carl Boston, Homer Elliott, H. T. Hampton, P. C. Ledrick, Roger McConnell, Howard Neath, Skeet Roberts, C. H. Schulkey, Sherman White, Stalls.

EXTRA PLAYERS ADDED BY LONDON CLUB

Mrs. Arthur Swanson invited five added guests for the party at which she entertained London Bridge club in her home yesterday afternoon. She served a salad course and a dessert course after the games.

High score award for guests went to Mrs. Lynn Boyd, and high for members to Mrs. Otto Studer. Special guests, in addition to Mrs. Boyd, were her house guest, Mrs. Ihard of El Paso, and Mrs. Clyde Fatheree, Mrs. Howard Buckingham, Miss Marjorie Buckler.

Club members playing were Mmes. Russel G. Allen, C. N. Barrett, M. C. Overton, P. O. Sanders, W. J. Smith, John Sturgeon, and Studer.

Luncheon Honors Canadian Bride

BY LEA CALLAWAY.

CANADIAN, April 7.—A luncheon Monday was given by Merry Bidders club at the home of Mrs. George Mathers, honoring Miss Opal Tepe, bride-elect. A beautiful coffee set was the club gift to Miss Tepe.

Texas bluebonnets formed the attractive decorations. Three tables of bridge followed the luncheon.

Club Guest Day.

Annual guest day in the Women's club was marked with a luncheon at the Methodist church Tuesday, with 68 members and guests present. A program followed in the B. F. Tepe home.

Vocal numbers were by Miss Georgia Engle, Mmes. Leona Switzer, R. N. Matthews, H. S. Wilbur, H. M. Hobdy, and a quartet from Amarillo: Mmes. J. W. Sanders, Howard Boxwell, Paul Boxwell, and Miss Josephine Martin. Mrs. W. D. Fisher spoke on "Reminiscences of the Woman's club. A play, The Blue Teapot, was presented by Mrs. Lewis Merry, Miss Molla Davis, Mrs. Edith Fowler, and Mrs. Jess Yokley.

Medical Missions Is Circle Subject

Mrs. W. D. Waters was hostess to 19 members of circle three, First Methodist Missionary society, Monday afternoon at her home. Mrs. J. E. Kirchner introduced the program topic, Christian Missions and World Health.

Mrs. A. L. Patrick spoke of missionary doctors and nurses in various countries. Mrs. Will C. House told of research and public health work done by medical missionaries. The opening devotional was by Mrs. Luther Pierson.

According to U. S. Bureau of Air Commerce records, production of aircraft increased 78 per cent in 1936 in this country.

Stomach Gas So Bad Seems To Hurt Heart

"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart seemed to hurt. A friend suggested Adierka. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never feel better."

Adierka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adierka gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system and that has been causing gas, stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.

Dr. J. E. Shum, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierka greatly reduces bacteria and colon bacilli. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adierka and see how good you feel. Must one spend a lifetime GAS and stubborn constipation."

CLASS PLANNING COMMENCEMENT

Seniors at McLean Will Have Busy Final Week

By Mrs. Jim Back

McLEAN, Apr. 7.—Commencement plans are being outlined by the senior class here. M. C. Cuthbertson, minister of Francis Avenue Church of Christ at Pampa, is to preach the baccalaureate sermon on the evening of May 16 at the high school auditorium, and Tillman Carter of Memphis has been invited to deliver the graduation address.

Presentation of the senior play and the annual trip to Carlsbad cavern are other events planned for the week. Miss Jewell Cousins is class sponsor.

New Teacher Arrives

Clto Pixler of Childress took up his duties as high school science teacher Monday. A graduate of Abilene Christian college, Mr. Pixler majored in science. He has been teaching at Delwin in Cottle county.

Here he succeeds Marcus Graham, who resigned to accept a position with the United Carbon Corp. at Borger.

Weddings Announced

Two weddings of interest here have been solemnized recently. On March 27, Miss Murrel Breedlove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Breedlove of Wellington, and Arthur Ann Bogan, Ruth Strandberg, Mary Lee Abbott, Mary Evelyn Foster, Frances Hudziets, Thelma Jean Dishman, and the following from Webb: Alice Billy Coris, Betty Jean Webb, Anabeth Gatlin.

Installation of officers will be the main event for ward school Parent-Teacher association when members meet in the gymnasium Thursday afternoon at 3:45.

Visit Band Concert

Band Director C. H. Leeds and five of his pupils will leave today for Enid, Okla., to attend the fifth annual Tri-State Band concert.

Minstrel To Open Thurs.

Advance purchase of tickets to the "Dixie Blackbirds" minstrel which Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association will sponsor tomorrow and Friday evenings will be profitable. The price of tickets will advance five cents when they are put on sale at the door of high school auditorium, where the first performance is scheduled at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Mrs. Emmett Gee is chairman of tickets, which are on sale by a committee from the organization and also at the Cresting drug store.

The entertainment consists of a juvenile and an adult minstrel act, with songs, dances, and humor, and is climaxed by two blackface skits. About 60 persons are in the cast.

Proceeds will go to the main Woodrow Wilson P-TA project of this year, a school cafeteria.

MANY TEXAS CITIES ELECT NEW OFFICERS

(By The Associated Press)

Many Texas cities had newly-elected officials today. Municipal elections throughout the state included these results:

In Dallas Mayor George Sergeant led a 44-man council into an April 20 run-off for nine city council posts. The following will be paired against each other: George A. Sprague and J. J. Collier; J. Willis Gunn and W. K. Barton; Emil Corneblech and Charles A. Levi; John Cullum and D. R. Graham; Z. Starr Armstrong and Cleve Reach; Hughes Knight and James F. Cochran; P. M. Brinker and L. M. Rice; Max Hahn and Charles A. Moore; George Sergeant and George Ripley. Sergeant polled 6,352 votes.

In Fort Worth councilmen elected were J. P. Elder, W. J. Hammond, Herbert L. Ull, E. S. Hooper, T. J. Harrell (unopposed), Jerome C. Martin, Dr. D. M. Rumph, George A. Seaman, George B. Eable. Councilmen who lost out were Dr. W. R. Thompson, Dr. C. M. Murphy, W. T. Ladd and Arthur Brown. More than 13,000 votes were cast.

In Austin Mayor Tom Miller and councilmen C. M. Bartholomew, Simon Gillis, Charles F. Alford and Oswald Wolf were unopposed in a light election drawing 1,064 votes.

Other cities voted as follows:

Corpus Christi: J. S. Murchison, mayor, N. F. Garrett and Edgar Rittersbacher, commissioners, re-elected.

Cisco: J. T. Berry, mayor, and commissioners H. A. Bible and W. J. Foxworth, re-elected.

Brownwood: Joe Leach, T. H. Hart, aldermen.

Olney: Roy J. Graham, Albert Ragle and Earl Gilbert, councilmen, re-elected.

Corpus Christi: A. C. McCaughan, mayor; Dr. C. O. Watson, Dr. A. Segrest, Thomas McGeen and Joseph Hixson, councilmen.

Waco: Nat Harris and George Armstrong, city commissioners. Dr. S. R. Spencer, A. R. Wilson and J. W. McMurray, water board members, re-elected.

Kilgore: Roy H. Laird, mayor, re-elected; John Bagwell and Ed Middlebrook, commissioners, re-elected.

Edinburg: E. A. Brown, mayor, re-elected; W. P. Smith and C. A. Liljestrand, city commissioners.

McAllen: Horce Etchison, mayor; Harley Jackson, J. A. Frisby, A. F. Vannoy and John Collavo, commissioners.

Henderson: F. C. Culp, E. M. Roberts and Ted Hudson, city councilmen.

Mineral Wells: John C. Miller, mayor; Oscar Bish, commissioner, re-elected.

Longview: Lawrence Birdsong, and T. L. N. Rawlinson, commissioners.

Tyler: Pledge Burke, Arch McPhail and Walter Knight, commissioners.

SENATE PASSES LAW AGAINST SIT-DOWNERS

AUSTIN, April 7. (AP)—The legislature today faced further consideration of moves to outlaw possible sit-down strikes after the senate had passed to the house a bill carrying heavy penalties.

A house committee set for additional hearing tonight a somewhat similar bill when representatives of the Texas Federation of Labor, making clear their organization opposed sit-down methods, asked to be heard on grounds the proposals might prohibit peaceful negotiations and picketing.

The legislative action followed Governor James V. Allred's statement he would oppose sit-down methods with every means at his command.

Penalties of from 30 days in jail to five years in the penitentiary were provided in the senate bill, the felony punishment being aimed at "agitators."

The bill, by Senator R. A. Wetnert of Seguin, would prohibit two or more persons from entering or remaining on premises with the intent to force the owner, representative or manager "to do or refrain from doing any act or thing whatsoever."

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—R. K. Blakely, former ice man, is trying to do for Evansville's homes what the Olden society has done for the country's hotels.

He's conducting a one-man campaign to put a Bible in every home. It's not a commercial proposition, he says, it's an ambition.

"It seemed to me that if people knew more about the Bible they would be better able to understand the lessons to be found in the New Testament," he explained. "It's amazing what a slight acquaintance most people have with the Bible."

On his sixtieth birthday, Nov. 13, 1905, Blakely started distributing New Testaments after naming himself the "Helping Hand Testament League" and adopting the motto: "One in every home."

When he finds a home without a Bible, he offers a New Testament for 25 cents. If there's no sale he leaves the book anyway. He has sold 500 Testaments and given away 100.

WRECK HELPERS CALL FOR BIF.

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Patrolmen Harry Wolf and Harry Cotts were ordered to investigate an accident involving two cars.

They started out in a radio car. They called a telephone call on the officers.

"Our car has been in an accident. Better send another car to check on the first wreck."

Directing First Ford Sitdown

"Ford is next" was the U. A. W.'s threat, and union workmen started their first attack when 1000 of them struck, welded shut the gates of a Kansas City assembly plant. Then they sat down as Ed Hall, above, U. A. W. vice president flew from Detroit to take charge. The strikers want higher pay and better working conditions, a spokesman said.

TEXANS UPSET OVER NAMES ON HEROES' SHAFT

Protest Putting the Names of Moderns On Memorial

HOUSTON, April 7. (AP)—Texans take their memorials to heroes of the state's turbulent past very seriously.

Last summer during the Texas Centennial Exposition a storm of contention arose over placing an equestrian statue of "Buffalo Bill" Cody on the grounds of the main exposition in Dallas. Patriotic societies vehemently protested Cody's flamboyant career included a bit of spying for the Union cause in the War Between the States and thus he was bereft of all right to a place of honor in a state which had thrown its weight with the Confederacy.

Much argument ensued, even in the courts, before bearded Buffalo Bill astride his pony were placed in stone on the centennial grounds.

Then there was another argument of similar magnitude about a centennial sculpture depicting a pioneer and his rugged family. Shocked Texans protested the statue was unrepresentative because it was embarrassingly unclothed. The state refused to accept it and the artist is now redoing his first effort.

The latest memorial battle rages here. Patriotic societies have protested putting the names of President Roosevelt, Vice President Garner, Governor Allred and other Texas office holders on a shaft to the heroes of San Jacinto—where Texas won her independence from Mexico in 1836.

The shaft—to cost $1,100,000 and be the tallest in the nation—is under construction as a government project with the state board of control in charge. Daughters of the Republic of Texas and Sons of the Republic of Texas demanded of Chairman Claude D. Teer that all names of individuals be placed, if at all, inside and not outside the shaft. The patriotic groups called a mass meeting for tonight to further their fight.

His parole revoked by County Judge Sherman White after his confession to County Attorney Joe Gordon that he had passed two forged checks here Saturday. Windon Tomlinson, 18, of Texline, was being returned to the reformatory at Gatesville today.

Sheriff Earl Talley and Deputy George Inman took Tomlinson with them when they left early this morning with Tany Pinkston, negro youth, who was sentenced to the reformatory for five years on his plea of guilty in connection with an attempted attack on a white girl last week.

Tomlinson admitted that he was on parole from the reformatory and that he passed two forged checks at two Pampa stores. He was arrested by county officers after he had attempted to pass a third check.

PLANE CRASHES INTO GULF AT GALVESTON

GALVESTON, April 7. (AP)—Second Lieut. A. E. Livingston, 28, crashed into the Gulf of Mexico today as he towed a target in aerial gunnery practice of the 56th pursuit squadron.

First reports were meager but a brief radio message after the ship wreckage was sighted from above said:

"Airplane dived into water about three and a half miles off shore; pilot apparently killed. Coast guard boats salvaging wreckage."

Livingston, a reserve officer, was alone in the plane.

Major Carleton Bond, operations officer of the 20th pursuit group at Barksdale field, Shreveport, La., took off from Barksdale for Galveston immediately to take charge of an official investigation.

He said the squadron was engaged in gunnery tests at 15,000 feet and at normal altitudes. It was not determined whether the squadron was conducting high altitude gunnery tests when the accident occurred.

Officers did not advance a cause but discounted a theory that the target plane was towing was responsible. The target usually is dragged several hundred feet behind the plane.

Livingston was a son of J. A. Livingston of Russellville, Ark. He began active duty training at Barksdale Field on July 4, 1935.

BOY ACTORS RECEIVE GROWN-UP SALARIES

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 7. (AP)—Two boy actors, Edward Arnold, Jr., and Spanky McFarland, were earning grown-up salaries under new contracts today.

Spanky, 9, whose first name really is George, draws $200 a week for the next year at Hal Roach studios. He's a veteran of Our Gang comedies.

Recently he received a violin in the mail from an anonymous sender who admitted breaking the original violin and said his conscience bothered him.

ANOTHER DEAN OPPOSES FOR COURT PLANS

WASHINGTON, April 7. (AP)—Ignatius M. Wilkinson, dean of Fordham University law school, declared today the Roosevelt court program was dangerous to the continuance of constitutional democracy.

"Its ultimate effects will tend to undermine the independence of the Supreme Court and indirectly of all courts," he said in a statement prepared for the Senate judiciary committee.

"The administration bill, he said, seeks to create vacancies in the Supreme Court to enable the President to appoint justices who would be responsive to his views on social legislation.

"The real objection to the attitude of the Supreme Court on the part of many people supporting the plan," Wilkinson testified, "is not alone that the position of the court is a departure from the true meaning of the constitution in construing, for example, the general welfare clause, but rather that the judicial views in question are unpopular and out of step with the times."

"If the Supreme Court is to be made to respond always to the prevalent sentiment of the moment, ultimately it must become wholly subservient to public opinion."

James O. Monroe, Democratic state Senator in Illinois, testifying late yesterday against the bill, urged substitution of a constitutional amendment.

Frank Gannett, newspaper publisher and chairman of the national committee to uphold constitutional government, in a telegram to Vice President Garner asked that the Senate repudiate a speech by Postmaster General Farley "implying executive control over the deliberations of the Senate."

Gannett said Farley has asserted: "We have let the Senate talk all it wants. Then the House will talk and after they are talked out, we will call the roll. We have plenty of votes to put over the President's program."

Soloist

Charles Eton Beene, director of the White Deer High school band, will be one of the soloists to appear on the final concert to be given here at the three-day contests of the Northwest Texas Band and Orchestra association on April 22, 23 and 24.

Mr. Beene, one of Texas' best known cornet players, won many honors in the state and nation while still a high school student at Panhandle. He is the son of C. W. Beene, of Panhandle. He was graduated from Panhandle High school at the age of 15 after having won first in a national contest at Marion, Ind.

SECURITY ARGUMENTS CALLED FOR BY COURT

WASHINGTON, April 7. (AP)—The Supreme court called today for arguments on constitutionality of federal and state social security legislation.

Up for debate at noon were two cases involving the Alabama unemployment compensation act challenged by the Southern Coal and Coke company and the Gulf State Paper corporation.

Arguments will begin late tomorrow on validity of the Federal Social Security act, contested by another Alabama concern, the Charles G. Steward Machine company.

A final decision on both laws is expected before the supreme court adjourns for the summer early in June.

The court already has upheld by a 5-4 vote a similar New York state statute.

A petition for reconsideration of the New York decision, given without a written opinion, has been pending since Dec. 14.

'RED' WEATHERED IS CALLED UGLIEST MAN

W. B. Weathered, Gray county superintendent of schools, was declared the ugliest child in a close race with C. J. McGee, vocational agricultural teacher, at McLean, last night at the pie supper at Back. The prize was a bottle of milk and a nipple which had to be sucked while the prize winner stood on the stage.

Proceeds from the well-attended pie supper, attended by several Pampaans, was to help defray expenses of the McLean high school vocational agricultural judging team to Lubbock and College Station to compete in contests. Several boys from the Back community, attending high school in McLean, are members of the judging team which has won high honors in several Panhandle contests this year.

WHY FRET ABOUT OIL?

ON TOUR OR IN TRAFFIC BE MERRY WITH YOUR ENGINE OIL-PLATED

You can laugh off your old doubts about warm-weather engine oiling, because Oil-Plating is so terribly hard to rub off, scrape off or burn off. Here's one form of lubrication which is not a mere shifting temporary oil-film. For in addition to the normal moving type of film, vastly strengthened, Conoco Germ Processed oil forms a stationary Oil-Plating.

The explanation is that patented Germ Processing makes this oil really plant itself on bearings, shafts, and upright surfaces too, such as cylinder walls. Not even the good old Law of Gravity can make Oil-Plating drain down. It's always up there all the while your car is parked, or showing its heels in the open. None of that much-mentioned starting risk for you... No anxious eye on the heat indicator... THE LAKE PROGRAM GOES AHEAD

Without a dissenting voice being raised, representative taxpayers and civic leaders, meeting here Tuesday afternoon, voiced unanimous approval of a county-financed lake.

Speakers at Tuesday's meeting pointed out the commercial and recreational advantages that would accrue to Gray county citizenry in the event the reservoir is built—and judging by the temper of the lake advocated at the meeting, the established residents of Gray county intend to see to it that the lake is built.

No one would deny that Gray county needs such a lake as Ivy Duncan proposed—a lake large enough to deserve that title; a lake 50 feet deep at the dam and extending two miles back and more than a half-mile across.

Those men at the meeting yesterday were keenly aware, as most Pampans and citizens of Gray county are, that water in a lake would furnish a recreational spot that would be of inestimable moral and commercial benefit to the county.

Mr. Duncan, in his remarks advocating the voting of a bond issue to build the lake, pointed out that the tax would be negligible; that the county's oil wealth would pay for the lake, and rightfully so.

A striking feature of the discussion dealt with the probability that the government could and might finance the building of the lake, but expression that the county should not wait on the government was unanimous.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—It takes 10 secretaries, a dozen secret service men and a navy crew to backstop the President in catching a fish but his continued good health undoubtedly justifies it.

His April trip to the Gulf will carry him to New Orleans by train and by boat into shallow water some distance off shore where he will try for tarpon, a big man-sized fish whose capture means work for anybody.

On trips of this nature he takes an operating White House staff including Marvin H. McIntyre, assistant secretary, two personal secretaries, four stenographers, military and navy aides, and his personal attendant.

On the Gulf trip headquarters will be set up first at New Orleans but will move westward to Galveston a few days later as the President's craft idles that way.

But the secret service will not be kept at arms length in any such manner. Whither the President goes, they go also. They will be on the Potomac, the President's yacht. They work in shifts, just as in Washington.

Mel Davis, rancher, gives you something to think about when he gets to talking about the agricultural possibilities of this particular section of these here plains.

Diversified farming, he says, is what this country needs more than anything else. Of course, it has oil, gas, carbon black and their affiliates—but Mr. Davis is righter than two rabbits when he says that we absolutely must make up and not lose sight of our other two mainstays, farming and stock-raising.

Dog-lovers found a heart-jerker or two in the story in last night's NEWS which told of the city's lethal gas chamber for canine executions at the municipal dog pound.

Graves' disease in its classical form is characterized by a certain amount of enlargement of the thyroid gland, bulging of the eyes, which gives the sufferer the appearance of being continuously in a state of fright.

During the last 100 years this form of thyroid overactivity has been definitely recognized and has been competently treated, mainly by surgical means.

When the condition remains undiagnosed and untreated the accumulated effects of what is called thyrotoxicosis—that is, chronic intoxication with the excessive secretions of the thyroid gland—may irreparably damage the heart.

HEART AND THYROID

In the early part of the last century the Irish physician, Robert James Graves, described a disease which now bears his name.

Graves' disease in its classical form is characterized by a certain amount of enlargement of the thyroid gland, bulging of the eyes, which gives the sufferer the appearance of being continuously in a state of fright.

During the last 100 years this form of thyroid overactivity has been definitely recognized and has been competently treated, mainly by surgical means.

When the condition remains undiagnosed and untreated the accumulated effects of what is called thyrotoxicosis—that is, chronic intoxication with the excessive secretions of the thyroid gland—may irreparably damage the heart.

Interestingly, too, much "social and occupational damage" may be suffered by the patient because of the increased irritability associated with this condition.

Thyrotoxicosis is effectively treated by operations on the thyroid gland.

This, That and Everything

BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK

When Germany was compelled to sign the Versailles treaty at the conclusion of the World War, she had very little sympathy from the world. Even though the provisions of that treaty were obviously aimed at placing the blame for the war on Germany, nothing much was said about the severity of the treaty.

As time went on, and when the real causes of the war were viewed more carefully, sympathy for Germany began to show itself from some of the most unexpected sources. This change of heart on the part of public opinion allowed Germany, at a later date, to repudiate various provisions of the treaty until the whole thing amounted to nothing more than a scrap of paper.

Here of late, Germany, by her radical military program, has lost much of the favorable sentiment from the world at large. In the last few years, we have observed rapid fluctuations of public opinion. While many have agreed that the Versailles treaty was unfair to Germany, they are beginning to wonder just what is the proper attitude to take with reference to Germany's international "status quo."

MANILA, April 7 (AP)—One of the worst fires in years raged out of control in the Tondo section of Manila this afternoon, leaving hundreds homeless.

Fanned by a stiff breeze, the flames roared through six squares of the thickly populated sector to the edge of Manila bay. The entire Manila fire department, hampered by low water pressure, was forced back by the rapid advance of the fire.

The United States army was asked for help and fire fighters were sent from Fort Santiago. The Tondo district is situated in northern Manila and is populated by many poor families. The homes are of flimsy construction.

CHICAGO (AP)—A gulp and a shudder is the American technique of drinking liquor, says Harry L. Lourie, executive secretary of the National Association of Alcoholic Beverage Importers. He thinks it's all wrong, too.

The average American picks up a shot glass of a fine old rye, bourbon or corn in his right hand, gestures vaguely with his left and then tosses it off with an expert flip," says Lourie.

The fine old liquor splashes against the back of his throat, gushes down into his stomach and begins to burn. Here the drinker gives three shudders, wipes his lips with the back of his hand and says, "Ah, there was a drink."

Lourie says any liquor fit to drink is fit to sip and that one gets the flavor of the liquor by sipping and sniffing its aroma.

MOVIE COWBOYS FLOP AS RIDERS, VETERAN SAYS. MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Movie cowboys don't have to know how to ride, says Col. Tim McCoy, one of the screen's old-school western riders.

"It really isn't necessary to be able to ride much to be a celluloid cowboy today," he told friends here. "All one has to do is ride into the closeup and then dismount."

It is different, he said, than in the earlier days of western picture making when "we made as many as five pictures a month and spent a great deal of the time between shooting in the hospital."

In early days, a woman wore a ring in her husband's absence to show that he had delegated his authority to her.

SIX MEMBERS OF RYDER CUP TEAM NAMED

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP)—President George Jacobus of the Professional Golfers' association today named six members of the United States Ryder cup team which will meet the British at Southport, England, June 29 and 30.

Other eligible and hopeful candidates began tuning their strokes for the remaining links tests which will decide the winners of the four vacant places.

Definitely allotted posts on the American squad, in addition to non-playing captain Walter Hagen, are Gene Sarazen, veteran of all five previous cup clashes; Denny Shute, P. G. A. champion; Tony Manero, U. S. Open champion; Horton Smith, the putting paragon; Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta.

Jacobus announced their names after a conference with Ed Dudley, chairman of the P. G. A. tournament committee.

A new method will be employed in picking the four remaining team members. A group of at least 12 candidates will be named after the sectional qualifying rounds for the P. G. A. championship.

The four players of this group who compile the lowest averages during the 36-hole qualifying round for the PGA at Pittsburgh, May 24 to 30, and the 72 holes of the national open at Oakland Hills, Birmingham, Mich., June 10 to 12 then will fill the vacancies.

Of the six named today, only Smith and Picard have won neither an American nor a British national title. Both, however, had been consistent money-winners.

The biggest money winner, Harry Cooper, is ineligible for the team, since he is not a native American.

Manero will be a Ryder cup freshman. Picard and Revolta made their bows at Ridgewood two years ago, winning in foursomes and singles.

Shute played in 1931 and 1933, Smith in 1929, 1933 and 1935.

Most prominent among the winter's top flight campaigners in the race for the four openings are Sam Snead, fourth in the cash winning list; Ralph Guldahl, winner of the Radix cup for low average score of 72.3 during 1936; Ed Dudley, Paul Runyan, Byron Nelson, recent winner of the Augusta national, and Jimmy Hines.

The Americans will be shooting for their first victory on British soil. They lead in the series, 3-2, but precedent favors the home side.

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT. DALLAS, April 7 (AP)—Veteran trainer Bob McGarvey's clipped comment on the Milky Way farms' Case Ace, publicized "good thing" in the Kentucky Derby winter books: "He's dangerous... weather conditions can be a bit off today."

He can go sloppy or dry rucks, pavement or shrubbery... if he can last a mile and a quarter, he's dangerous.

WHEELER AND MOBEETIE THIN CLADS TO BE HERE TOMORROW

Track and field teams from Wheeler and Mobettie will come to Pampa tomorrow afternoon for an impromptu meet with the Pampa Harvesters.

The meet will begin at 3 o'clock at Harvester field where a good track has been laid out.

Competition is hoped to be a little stiff for the Harvesters track who have been out for practice only a few days.

Wheeler and Mobettie have been at work for several weeks and have the county meet behind them.

Wheeler walked away with the event, Mobettie placing second. In Ford, Wheeler will show a great field and weight man, Mobettie will include in its entry a crack hurdler who showed up well in the Ford Worth Pat Stock show meet.

Albert Ayer will be the only Harvester veteran available. Sherman Morgan, promising dash man, will not be available for the meet. He will be in Lubbock taking part in a judging contest. Harvester coaches, Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean, have not selected their starters for each event.

A new catcher showed up in uniform yesterday in Pruitt McWright, one of the several McWright brothers residing here.

The big fellow—he weighs a good 200 pounds—appeared in the uniform worn by Little Sam Hale, mascot last year. It was a little small but it didn't stop him from throwing the ball around and taking a healthy cut at the plate.

Another newcomer yesterday was "Pats" Free's young brother who is a first baseman. He turned down a contract with Galveston in the Texas league this spring.

Opening game of the season will probably be next Tuesday afternoon with the Ponca City entry in the Western association providing the opposition.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 7 (AP)—It took Henry Armstrong 10 rounds and every blow in his deadly repertoire of punches to knock out battle scarred Pete de Grasse here last night.

Twenty-three seconds more and deGrasse, the "washed-up" featherweight the wise boys said couldn't last five rounds, would have gone the limit.

Ten thousand spectators, nearly filling the Olympic auditorium, saw Armstrong deal out a merciless beating. They also saw the little Mohawk Indian from New York stand up and take it, and what was more, lash back with vicious punches.

Luckily for Armstrong, they carried more fury than effectiveness. The cinnamon-shaded negro from Los Angeles knocked de Grasse to the floor in the tenth with a right smash to the head.

American tourists spent an estimated $485,000,000 abroad in 1936.

While in Germany for the Olympics, Archie Roman, the runner, got a group letter from a hundred co-eds at Kansas Teachers' college...

Archie took time out to answer each girl individually... Dave Tyler, Hartford high school star who holds the interscholastic 220-yard freestyle swim record, is ticketed for Yale via Mercersburg Academy...

The Indians already are picking the Giants to repeat in the National League.

WEEDING-OUT OF PROSPECTS BEGINS SOON

Despite wind and swirling dust, prospects for Pampa's baseball team went through another lengthy hitting session followed by an infield workout yesterday afternoon at Road Runner Park.

Fred Brickell was scheduled to arrive today to take over the workout and begin weeding out the boys not fast enough for the team.

Five Hawaiians Win AAU Bouts

ST. LOUIS, April 7 (AP)—A flashy band of fighting little brown men from the Hawaiian Islands proved they didn't travel the long distance only for the ride as they headlined last night's opening card of the National A. A. U. junior boxing championships here.

Five of the six islanders came through with victories—two of them by knockouts—to lead the visiting parade into the semi-finals and finals scheduled for tonight.

Championships will be determined in eight weight divisions tonight. St. Louis placed eight men in the semi-finals, while the Hawaiians were close pressed for honors by the Chicocco Indian school, which advanced four men into the scramble for titles.

New Orleans and Boston were represented by the three survivors each in today's pairings. Little Rock, Ark., and Bloomington, Ill., have two men each remaining in line, and other semifinalists hail from Memphis, Tenn., Clarksville, Ark., Evansville, Ind., Houston, Tex., and Stillwater, Okla.

First of the great wonder children was Christy Mathewson. "Big Six" was a real one and proved it by winning 21 games for the Giants in 1901, when, fresh from Bucknell and a brief apprenticeship in the minors, he was 21.

Lefty Gomez and Wes Ferrell, two of the modern crop who ripened early, each won 21 games at 21 and Schoolboy Rowe was 21 when he joined the Tigers.

And now along comes that "feller Feller," schoolboy sensation, Frisch may step from the campus to the Giants' infield, but hurlers are usually 25 or older before they crack the 20-game mark.

If Feller cracks this 36-year old jinx, he's the real McCoy as a boy wonder, successor to a great tradition.

BOB FELLER MUST BREAK TRADITION TO WIN 20 GAMES

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP)—Youth will be served, but not apparently on the pitching mound.

Young Bob Feller, shooting at the tender age of 19 for 20 victories in the American League this season, defies a baseball superstition as old as Grover Alexander, a superstition upheld eloquently by statistics which show that hurlers achieve stardom and 20 victories late in their baseball careers.

A DiMaggio may be smothered in headlines his first year up, Frisch may step from the campus to the Giants' infield, but hurlers are usually 25 or older before they crack the 20-game mark.

GWINN HENRY TALKED FOR KANSAS POSITION

KANSAS CITY, April 7 (AP)—The name of Gwinn Henry, already well-known to the Big Six conference for his football coaching record at Missouri University, bobbed up again today in discussions of the much-debated athletic directorship at the University of Kansas.

Henry, whose style of deceptive and speedy play developed championship teams at Missouri, has been recommended for the post by the recently created K. U. athletic board.

It must be acted on by the University's board of regents which failed to approve a previous recommendation of the Athletic group.

The Kansas City Star said the regents will consider Henry's name at Topeka, Kas., today.

WHITE RABBIT TURNS UP AT LOCAL DEPOT

A bold customer at the Santa Fe station this morning was captured trying to get into Ticket Clerk T. A. Cox's lunch. Questioned at length, the culprit failed to answer, except to quiver a delicate nose and blink large eyes in a friendly manner.

The unusual visitor was a huge white rabbit, it had been white until getting around the station yard where it picked up considerable dust and coal black on its long silky hair.

How the rabbit got into the station is unknown. It is apparently a pet and any one who has lost a rabbit may call at the station and interview the one held by Mr. Cox. "I had some lettuce in my lunch and the big fellow must have smelled it," remarked the genial Cox. "He sure is a friendly fellow. Yes, I shared my lunch with him."

chinery would be moving at top speed in 60 to 90 days.

Germer disavowed CIO sponsorship of sit-downs, saying such strikes in the east were in many cases "conducted by unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor."

Meanwhile in Austin the Texas Senate suspended its rules to pass a bill to thwart sit-down strikes, stipulating penalties ranging from 30 days in jail to five years imprisonment.

Reilly Condemned.

The bill immediately drew the condemnation of Wallace C. Reilly, executive secretary of the state federation of labor, bitter foe of CIO. Reilly from his Austin office called on labor unions to oppose House passage of the bill, describing it as not only ineffective against sit-downs but as taking "away the right of strike, peaceful negotiations, and picketing."

He said the A. F. of L. was on record as opposed to sit-down methods but thought the Senate bill went too far.

tack on one of his Majesty's warships and stop what British sources deemed unprecedented insubordination for her proud battle fleet.

The Destroyer Garland cut thru the Mediterranean under forced draft toward Palma, Mallorca, to get an answer for yesterday's attacks, by an insurgent bombing squadron, on another British destroyer—the Gallant, off the east coast of Spain.

The captain of the Garland, together with the British vice-consul at Mallorca, will demand an explanation. If it is not satisfactory to the British, a stern and formal protest is likely to follow, informed sources said.

Simultaneously, the Spanish government at Valencia charged flatly that German ships were aiding insurgent war vessels off the Spanish coast.

At the same time Great Britain was considering a protest over the shelling of the British steamer Thorpehall, fired upon in the Bay of Biscay yesterday by insurgent warships. Reminders already have gone from London to the insurgent capital of Salamanca that no reply has been received to protests against the bombing of the British destroyers Havock and Gypsy, in February.

Both Britain and France have warned the insurgents flatly that they must keep their hands off British shipping under pain of forcible measures. The insurgents, on the other hand, have charged that Spanish government shipping was using the union jack as a camouflage and that Britain was doing nothing about it.

Ominously prophetic of the end she would meet are many of the story illustrations for which beautiful, vivacious Veronica Gedeon presided in her busy career as a professional model. At left you see produced during that period would have sold for $60,000,000 at the factory.

Added to that strike cost was a vast increase in the welfare load which probably approximated $1,000,000.

The settlement provided for further negotiations, to begin tomorrow, on such issues as seniority and methods of dealing with grievances. Today Gov. Murphy planned to bring together representatives of the U. A. W. A. and the Hudson Motor Car Co. and the Reo Motor Car Co. in separate conferences to seek a termination of strikes which have closed those plants.

A statement by Homer Martin, international president of the union, indicated that sit-down strikes in the motor car industry were at an end.

The agreement itself provided that the U. A. W. A. would call no more sit-downs in Chrysler plants during the life of the pact, which is effective until next March 31.

The corporation granted the union bargaining rights for its employees who are members of the U. A. W. A. The union had asked for exclusive bargaining rights and called the strike when this was denied it.

visited the Lubbock reservoir last Sunday, and that Hemphill county to the northeast with a valuation of $3,000,000, compared with Gray county's $27,000,000 valuation, has voted a $40,000 bond issue to buy a park site. The plans also call for the construction of a lake within the park.

Mr. Duncan emphasized that if Gray county is to go ahead and progress with other counties of the Panhandle, a large lake, second to none, must be built. He declared that the only reason Gray county does not have a lake or a state park is because the residents didn't go after it. "We were just sort of satisfied here," he said.

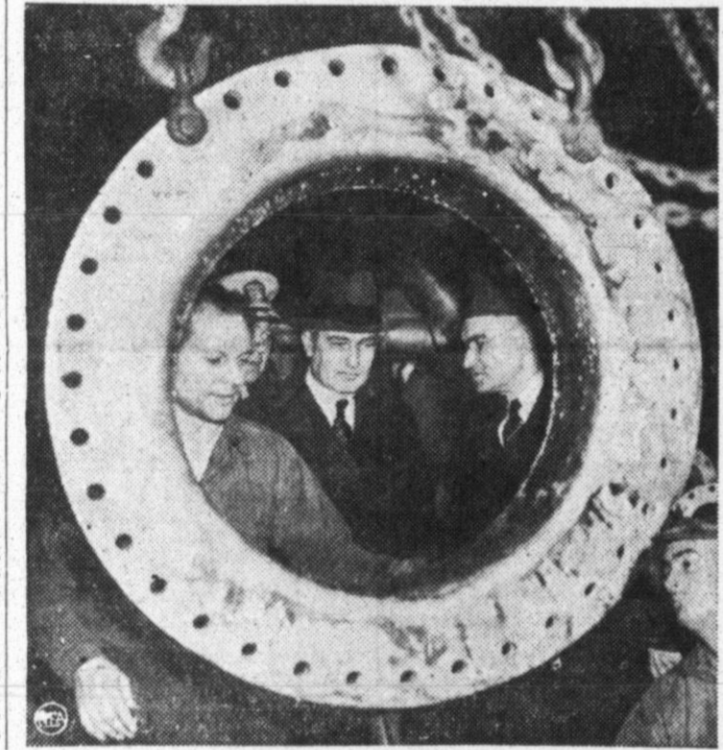

Site Called 'Best' Mr. Duncan said he was convinced that Gray county has one of the best sites in the Panhandle for a state park, and that Mr. Lawson was so impressed with the possibilities that he expressed a desire to visit here the latter part of the month when he visits the Palo Duro Canyon and Lubbock state parks.

Relative to the cost of the Beaver Dam lake, Mr. Duncan suggested that a tract of land surrounding the lake be purchased and that the county could lease this land for filling stations, cabins, stores and other commercial ventures. It was his opinion that the concessions would pay for the upkeep of the dam. The oil wealth of the county should help build the lake, he declared, and other speakers agreed with him. He said that a bond issue could be paid out in a few years.

Engineer Praises Site Mark Denson, local engineer who has built many reservoirs, declared that the Beaver Dam site was one of the best he ever saw and that he had seen many. He advised a 50-foot dam. He reported materials nearby for erecting the dam were ideal. He "guaranteed" that the reservoir would be full of water all the time after it was once filled. He pictured the proposed lake as being 50 feet deep at the dam, two miles long and nearly a mile wide—by far the largest lake in the Panhandle.

M. D. Bentley of McLean declared that he would give the proposal his whole-hearted support, and that he would work for the success of the bond issue. He also cited a list of arguments in favor of building the lake.

Massey Praises Plan D. N. Massey of McLean drew applause when he declared he was in favor of going ahead with the plans. He declared it would be foolish to stop now. "It would be foolish for people who live in Gray county and who expect to live in Gray county not to support the lake. Other speakers who favored building the lake from the proceeds of a bond issue included Blake Ball of Alabaster, Hank Breining of LeFors who stated that building of the lake should not be regarded as an expenditure but as an investment.

Judge White suggested that the group wait to find out an estimate of cost of the dam and learn the results of the survey before circulating a petition to call a bond election.

Small Lake Planned Several speakers pointed out that apparently it is the government's intention to build small lakes in the Panhandle in its program to combat dusts and to conserve the soil and other natural resources. Mr. Duncan thought that the government had no intention of building a large lake such as the group yesterday favored. The half hundred men present yesterday also agreed that the McClelland creek location was the "only logical place to build the dam."

Walker Presides C. H. Walker, local postmaster, presided. He stated that the purpose of the meeting was to determine whether to wait to see what the government would do for Gray county in building a lake. He said that any action the county might take would not antagonize the government and would not injure chances of getting small lakes for the county or an appropriation toward financing construction of a large lake. Mr. Walker reported that there is a strong sentiment toward building a lake in the county and that the people wanted a lake "and were going to get it."

"Of course I have no authority in the matter," Allred said, "but I see no occasion for having my name on the cornerstone. I have done nothing to merit this. Since the people of Texas and the nation are responsible for this monument, it occurs to me it would be much more appropriate to simply state the monument was erected by the people of Texas and the nation, without crediting a few of us who happen to be officials with it. I would prefer, therefore, that my name not be put on the monument or cornerstone." Allred is a member of the Sons of the Republic of Texas.

Woodrow Wilson Sobbed Like Child After Delivering His War Message

When the die was being cast for the United States' entry into the World War, Joseph Daniels, now United States ambassador to Mexico, was "on the inside" as Secretary of the Navy in President Wilson's cabinet. Few persons were in such a favorable position to understand the full significance of the drama that was enacted in the Capitol on April 2, 1917, when Wilson announced the break in relations with Germany. He tells of that scintillating interplay of personalities in this special article for the Pampa Daily News. It is interesting to recall that Daniels at that time was the boss of Franklin D. Roosevelt, then Under-Secretary of the Navy.

By JOSEPHUS DANIELS
(Written for NEA Service and Pampa Daily NEWS)

Twenty years have passed since I was privileged to be present at the Capitol on the memorable night of April 2, 1917. Stirring scenes have intervened, but the scenes of that night—"these things I saw and a part of them I was"—remain photographed indelibly on my mind.

Not in all American history is there a scene comparable to that of 20 years ago in the House of Representatives as war was in the offing. Every ambassador and minister accredited to Washington was present, attired in gorgeous uniforms. Most of their countries were already in the war, others were awaiting anxiously the action of the United States.

British Ambassador Spring-Rice, present with his staff, wore his gold braid proudly. He had been severely troubled and harassed during the difficult days of the neutrality. That night he beamed with joy, representatives as war was in the offing.

Every ambassador and minister accredited to Washington was present, attired in gorgeous uniforms. Most of their countries were already in the war, others were awaiting anxiously the action of the United States. British Ambassador Spring-Rice, present with his staff, wore his gold braid proudly. He had been severely troubled and harassed during the difficult days of the neutrality. That night he beamed with joy, representatives as war was in the offing.

But like Wilson, by April 2, he had come to the conclusion that arbitration was out of the question. Only the German ambassador, Baron Bernstorff, who had received his passports, was conspicuous by his absence. Admirals and generals of the army and navy in brilliant uniforms matched the gold and purple of the diplomats. The galleries were crowded, women in evening dress making the scene a colorful one.

Supreme Court Set Precedent On the floor, seated in a half-circle just in front of the Speaker sat the justices of the Supreme Court, the figure of Chief Justice White towering like Saul among the prophets. Their presence in the House was unprecedented.

I observed that the Chief Justice seemed to be laboring to conceal his satisfaction that the hour had arrived for the declaration he had long been waiting for. For months he had not concealed his zeal for entrance into the war on the side of the Allies.

Near the robed justices sat the ten members of Wilson's cabinet, who had on March 20 unanimously voiced their approval of the call for a special session of Congress that would mean war. In all previous cabinet sessions there had been divisions of opinion. Now there was none.

My heart sank at the great responsibility entrance into the war would impose, but I was strengthened in spirit as I felt that the distinguished gathering of leaders was voicing the mounting mandate of the American people.

An air of tense expectation filled the chamber, Speaker Clark, who had not believed earlier that entry into the war was necessary, took his seat with gravity in his strong-lined face. Slight of figure, serene of countenance, Vice President Marshall ascended to his seat beside the Speaker.

"The Senate of the United States" announced the sergeant-at-arms, and the 96 Senators filed in to take seats reserved for them. I observed Senator Lodge, a gleam of pleasure on his face because the course he had long advocated was about to be taken.

The members of the House were all in their places. The press gallery, reinforced by the presence of leading editors from all over the country, was crowded.

Wilson Sounds Clarion to Nation It was an awed gathering, silent in anticipation as the clattering of a cavalry escort, plainly heard on the pavement outside the Capitol, gave notice that the President was arriving.

Every person jammed into the House chamber rose as President Wilson entered the brilliant hall. He was given a spontaneous and sustained ovation.

"The President of the United States!" announced the Speaker as Mr. Wilson ascended to the place appointed. As the sound of the gavel died away, the hushed audience resumed their seats.

Any stranger would have chosen Wilson as the leader if he had looked down on that gathering. There was a gravity and distinction in his bearing that marked him as the voice and inspiration of a great people. He looked inches taller in his immaculate dress. A spirit of serious apprehension of all that before him seemed to sit upon his countenance. He was pale, for he had come to that moment through great travail of mind and heart.

He bowed his thanks for the evidence that those present were ready to go all the way with him. His eyes took in the scene, rested a moment on the faces of his Cabinet comrades, swept the pages of military and diplomatic uniforms, and then rested for a brief period on the gallery where encouragement and love beamed from his wife and daughters. From that intimate and reassuring glance he turned to the manuscript he held in his hands, and an air of calm and confidence settled upon him. The spirit of the seer and the prophet and the fighter were upon him.

He spoke clearly and solemnly. In sentences so vascular that they would have bled if cut, he recounted the tragic events which had culminated in the necessity for war. The spirit of the Covenant flashed from his eyes as he proclaimed: "The world must be made safe for democracy!"

Speech Drew Tears from Men Why did he counsel war—why must we fight? He answered: "For Democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own governments, for the rights and liberties of small nations, for a universal dominion of right by such concert of free powers as shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world at last free!"

The chamber breathed its approval and consecration. When he came to the climax: "There is one choice we cannot make, we are incapable of making. We will not choose the path of submission," all observed the tall and commanding Chief Justice rise to his feet—he looked 10 feet tall—and lead the cheering with which the chamber rang. As he applauded, his face moved convulsively and great tears ran down his cheeks. The Chief Justice was not alone. There were not many dry eyes.

The die had been cast. Four days state of war existed between the United States and the Imperial German government.

As the President was leaving the chamber, Secretary Houston records that he said to the President: "If it will give you any comfort, I can tell you that I have been watching the Supreme Court Justices. On the spot unanimously they have given you a favorable verdict as to the constitutionality of your proposal."

President Wilson then returned to the White House. Instead of the applause of the people making him happy, the President was depressed in the moment of reaction.

"Think what it meant," he sadly said to Joseph Tumulty, his private secretary, "the applause of the gathering in the Capitol and the people lining the streets as we returned from the Capitol! My message tonight was a message of death to our young men. How strange to applaud that!"

And Tumulty records that after dwelling on the tragedies he knew would follow the declaration of war, Woodrow Wilson let his head fall on the cabinet table and sobbed as if he had been a child.

WOMEN SIT-DOWNERS PIONEERED IN SALOON.

MOOREVILLE, Ind. (AP)—The current wave of sit-down strikes is nothing new here. Back in 1831 the women of this town staged such a siege in a saloon until the barkeeper quit.

The women objected to having a saloon in Mooreville. They took their knitting and rocking chairs and planted themselves before the bar. They worked in shifts so several women were always present. The barkeeper muttered to himself, then he chewed his nails and swore. His patrons balked at drinking before the knitters—in fact they refused even to enter the place. This went on for days until the barkeeper admitted defeat and moved out of town.

A total of eight eggs is the score for one day's individual egg laying effort, according to the information reaching Corsicana today. The turkey hen, it is said, for the past several days made regular trips to the nest without results. Yesterday things were different. When she left the nest this time five eggs with hard shells and three soft shell eggs remained. The turkey was still alive, according to last reports, although a little droopy.

Court Change Called 'Shabby' by Attorney

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—Charles C. Burlingham, former president of the New York Bar association, denounced the Roosevelt court bill before the Senate judiciary committee today. He called it a "shabby enterprise."

Prior to his appearance as a witness an agreement between Senators Wheeler (D-Mont.) and O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) intensified discussion of a possible constitutional amendment as an alternative to the Roosevelt measure.

Wheeler, an outspoken objector to revamping the Supreme Court, said he would vote for O'Mahoney's amendment to require a two-thirds majority of the court to invalidate any statute.

Burlingham warned "liberals and radicals, and labor, too, may curse the day when the Roosevelt bill was conceived."

As a supporter, and admirer and a friend of the President," Burlingham added, "I cannot refrain from saying that I think he has made a great blunder and should retrace his steps and proceed on the road charged for him by the constitution—I mean by amendment."

He suggested an amendment such as that proposed by Senator Burke (D-Neb.) to fix the age for retirement of judges.

Attorney General Cummings, the witness said, "is almost unique." "I do not believe that in our history," he added, "there are more than two other attorneys general—I will not name them nor help anyone to identify them—who would not have resigned their office rather than have any part or lot in such a shabby enterprise."

AVERAGE LENGTH OF HUMAN LIFE COULD BE STRETCHED 10 YEARS

BY STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH. WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—The average length of human life could be stretched another 10 years, Dr. Thomas Parran said today, if available medical knowledge, if advanced.

Dr. Parran, surgeon-general of the United States public health service, said that in the last 80 years the average length of life of men has increased from 38 to 61 years and of women from 40 to 64 years.

"I feel confident another 10 years could be added to the life expectancy," he said, "entirely aside from the possibility of discovering an effective preventative for cancer or major heart diseases."

While no effective general treatment is available, he said, many cases are being successfully treated and the length of life prolonged.

"Great progress in reducing the incidence of heart disease will be made in the present drive to control and eradicate syphilis, since syphilis is the cause of a large percentage of heart ailments," Dr. Parran added.

Considerable progress in lengthening the lives of cancer sufferers, he said, may be expected in the next few years through the present campaign to educate the public to the fact that early cancer is curable.

Wheeler Supports O'Mahoney's Plan

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—An agreement between Senators Wheeler (D. Mont.) and O'Mahoney (D. Wyo.) intensified discussion today of a constitutional amendment as an alternative to the Roosevelt court bill but administration supporters gave it no encouragement.

Wheeler, an outspoken objector to revising the Supreme Court, said he would vote for O'Mahoney's amendments to require a two-thirds majority of the court to invalidate any statute.

The two promptly announced their agreement to Senator Pittman (D. Nev.) who had suggested he might back any amendment they would propose jointly.

Pittman told reporters he expected the judiciary committee would approve the amendment and that he might give it his own support but not as an alternative to the administration measure.

O'Mahoney, still not ready to commit himself on the Roosevelt bill, said he felt encouraged over prospects of his amendment.

The committee, hearing witnesses against the bill, invited Charles C. Burlingham, New York lawyer, and James Truslow Adams, historian, to testify today.

3 PER CENT YIELD. Continued liquidation of United States government securities is attributed to two sources. The first is that country banks are preparing to meet the new reserve rules which go into effect on May 1. The second is that numerous corporations which held these bonds as investments are switching into inventory positions because of climbing raw material prices.

PROFIT. Fresh speculative attention is evident in the price movements of the Plymouth Oil shares. Buying is attributed to the recent construction remarks of W. S. Hallahan, president of the organization. He stated that the first quarter net will run some 70 per cent ahead of the like period last year. For all of 1936 Plymouth reported a net profit of $1.55 a share.

REPORTS ARE THAT. Los Angeles traders say that the C. I. O. plans a unionization drive in the motion picture industry. Devoe & Reynolds taken as a semi-speculation—dividend increase likely. International Nickel's financial position strongest in its history—this official. Alcohol industry's sales outlook better but clouded by price uncertainty. First quarter of Schenley into Phillips Petroleum—for seasonal turn. W. T. Grant in a position to benefit because of its large inventory position obtained at low prices. Sharn & Deane came through depression without an operating deficit. Canadian people say Distillers-Seagram will show better than $4 a share for fiscal year ending with July. Despite high prices—earnings ratio Ails Chalmers being re-rated. Texas Corporation owns about one-third the 1,244,383 shares of outstanding Seaboard Oil capital stock. And that a New Haven Railroad reorganization plan will be filed by July 1.

HIGHER. Informed circles hear that first quarter oil company reports will show substantial improvement over the like period of 1936. This is attributed to the increase in crude prices early this year in addition to the advance in refined products. Some companies which have crude production of their own benefited around. Companies which do not refining did not fare so well. They had to pay higher prices on crude purchases.

SUGAR. In London there's a world sugar rally in session. Trade insiders expect that this time a sugar agreement will be reached. There are no reasons why such is anticipated. The first is that the League of Nations sponsored the conference. The second is that Great Britain and the United States are cooperating. The last sugar agreement—the harbinger plan—failed because the two largest consuming countries did not participate. But now that Great Britain and the United States represented the belief is that any world sugar agreement signed will be successful.

CAUTIOUS. Speculative circles get the tip that the big move is due in Radio common. The hope is that the corporation's 37 prospects are unusually good. Cautious stock buyers say that the sight of the large capitalization Radio common a difficult move. Rather than be "hung high and dry" with a non-dividend paying issue, the shares are being roided.

FAVORABLE. Individuals who believe that the steel industry is headed for several good years are closely watching Blaw Knox. The company is a generous beneficiary of the present steel boom. Not only is it a fabricator of specialty steel fabrics, it also operates steel plants with open hearth and rolling mill equipment. In addition its diversified activities suit in orders from public utilities, broads and radio broadcasting operations. Due to the favorable outlook Blaw Knox insiders are of an opinion that the $1.17 per share 36 net will be doubled this year.

PUNISHED. The last spurt in the red metal area was a shock to more than a professional trader. Here's the side: During the stock market's recent recession the copper shares are found to be vulnerable to sell. In order to earn quick trading profits the so-called smart boys took on themselves large short positions. Quite unexpectedly the domestic price of copper was increased three quarters of a cent to the 17 cents a pound price. Result: The shorts were severely punished when they rushed to cover. Then the President Roosevelt's statement on high commodity prices, the copper shares collapsed. In this case the "longs" were punished.

RUBBER. Crude rubber prices are currently the highest levels since the post-war recession. Trade insiders continue bullish just the same. Some are optimistic enough to predict a 36-cent per pound price. March construction figures in this country are privately estimated to run up as high as 50,000 tons. The grid continues a heavy buyer. Increasing tightness is due in the far future. It will take several months before increased rubber output will ease the supply picture.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 7 (AP)—It seemed today that America's two leading merchants of feminine pulchritude, Sally Rand and Gypsy Rose Lee, would never meet, even though their stage doors are only separated by a "strip" of an alley—and it's all because of the bad old publicity department. The two young ladies, using a slightly different technique, are both appearing here this week. Miss Rand in her own show at the Lyric theater and Miss Lee at the English in the "Ziegfeld Follies." The stage doors of the two theaters face each other across an alley. Ben Atwell, publicity seeker for the "Follies" arrived in town and said "no" when asked about the picture. It seems Gypsy Rose Lee leaves the "Follies" this week for Hollywood. The "Follies" wanted Miss Lee's understudy, who will replace her in the cast, to pose with Miss Rand, but Sally said "no" to that—that is that.

ROBBER OF PENSION. DALLAS, April 7 (AP)—A. E. O'tinger, 65, cashed his pension check, celebrated by taking a street-car ride, and was robbed of the $17. He told police he rode to the end of the line "just for a holiday." Three men in an auto, drew up to the curb. Two men held him while the third emptied his pockets, he reported.

When We Stop Greasy Indigestion We Feel Just Fine

Our stomach can't digest grease. Neither can our bowels. Only our pancreatic juice, working with our bile juice, can digest grease. When we get bad taste, headache and that nasty grouch feeling which comes from greasy indigestion, take 1 Carter's Little Liver Pills before each meal and 1 after. Carter's Little Liver Pills bring a large flow of our pancreatic juice and bile juice into our bowels. The large flow of these juices digests the grease we have eaten. Then we burst into life and into our work like a joyous skyrocket. But if you want this glorious relief from greasy indigestion, ask your druggist for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and stubbornly refuse to buy anything else. Size.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

By WILL H. MAYES

In this column history will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Who was Luke Short? A. A noted race track man and short card player, reared near Gainesville, whose youth was spent on cow trails and in Indian fighting as a Government scout in the campaign of the 70's against Sioux and Ute Indians, in the Black Hills. He gained notoriety for killing Jim Courtwright, another scout and gun fighter, at Fort Worth in 1884, on a stairway leading to the noted "White Elephant" gambling house. He was an authority on sporting matters and for several years was a partner of Jim Brown of Brenham, in race track operations.

Q. I am interested in knowing something of the life of King Fisher. A. In 1873, J. King Fisher, then six feet tall, was a man in Goddard county and fled to Dimmitt county where he acquired a small ranch, which became headquarters for a gang of cattle smugglers. Before he was twenty he and his gang were charged with killing seventeen men, preferred characters, and Fisher was placed under bonds totaling $85,000. Falling in love with an attractive young woman, he finally succeeded in getting the cases against him dismissed, under promise of settling down and reforming. He located with his bride in Uvalde and served two terms as deputy sheriff. He was killed in San Antonio when 27, with his friend, Ben Thompson, while trying to keep Thompson out of trouble.

Q. How many Texans served in the United States-Mexican war of 1846-49 and under whose leadership? A. The number is not definitely known, but about 8,000 with Gov. J. P. Henderson as major general of volunteers. Others in command included Albert Sidney Johnson, Edward Burleson, Ben McCulloch, Jack Hays and George T. Wood.

CENTENNIAL SCRAP BOOK. Get the Scrap Book habit. Encourage the children to do so. The newspapers are full of pictures and items relating to Texas that should be kept for convenient reference. Especially will it be helpful to preserve Texas history in this form during Centennial year. This scrap book is artistically designed, indexed and classified under appropriate headings and can be expanded as needed. Cover in heavy paper with large picture of Texas capital surrounded by Six Flags of Texas. Inside covers contain much information about Texas. This lovely Centennial Scrap Book mailed for 25 cents. THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

The DIAMOND-BACK RATTLESNAKE ATTAINS THE GREATEST WEIGHT OF ANY KNOWN POISONOUS SERPENT.

THE COCONUT IS THE MOST VALUABLE AND MOST USED NUT IN THE WORLD.

OTHER poisonous snakes grow longer than the Diamond-Back, but it outranks them all in bulk. It reaches a length of eight feet, and a bite from its enormous fangs usually results in death within less than an hour.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Gray County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon W. W. Edwards by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the Dist. District Court of Gray County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Pampa, Texas, on the 5th Monday in May, A. D. 1937, of the same being the 31st day of May, A. D. 1937, then and there to answer the petition filed in said Court on the 8th day of September, A. D. 1936, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 4513, wherein Mrs. E. J. Case, a feme sole, Ellen M. Case and husband, A. T. Case, H. B. Tiemann and husband, A. A. Tiemann, are plaintiffs, and W. W. Edwards is defendant, and said petition alleging:

1st. Plaintiff Mrs. E. J. Case is a resident of Gray County, State of Colorado; plaintiffs H. B. Tiemann and husband, A. A. Tiemann, are residents of Gray County, Texas, as are plaintiffs Ellen M. Case and husband, A. T. Case; the defendant herein is a non-resident of the State of Texas and resides in the State of Oklahoma.

2nd. On or about the 17th day of February, 1927, plaintiff Mrs. E. J. Case, who was then the legal owner and holder of the entire title to the East halves of Sections 181 and 182, Block E-2, H. & G. N. Ry. Co. Surveys in Gray County, Texas, containing 333.5 acres of land, more or less, executed and delivered an oil and gas lease thereon to the defendant W. W. Edwards, as lessee, under the terms and effect of which lease said property was demised to the lessee for a term of 5 years, and as long thereafter as oil, gas, casinghead gas, casinghead gasoline, or any of them, are or can be produced from said land, with the right vested in the lessee thereunder to mine and operate for and produce oil and gas, casinghead gas and casinghead gasoline, with the right of laying pipe lines, building tanks, storing oil, building power houses, telephone lines and other structures thereon to produce, save, take care of and manufacture all of such substances, said lease containing other terms and provisions unnecessary herein to set forth, other than the following provisions, set out in Paragraph 8 thereof, viz:

"8th. The lessee shall have the right to use, free of cost, gas, oil and water found on said land for its operations thereon, except water from the wells of the lessor. When required by lessor, the lessee shall bury pipe lines below plow depth and shall pay for damages caused by its operations to growing crops on said land," etc.

Said lease also contains the following terms and provisions, viz:

"The lessee shall pay lessor, as royalty, one-eighth of the proceeds of the sale of gas, as such, each year, for gas while the same is being sold or used off the premises."

Plaintiffs further respectfully show unto the Court that after the execution and delivery of said lease the defendant entered upon said premises, and commenced operations thereon for the purpose of drilling oil and gas wells thereon and has conducted various drilling operations, unnecessary to be alleged in detail herein, since said date, and is now in possession of said premises under the terms of said lease. Plaintiffs further respectfully show unto the Court that in the conduct of such drilling operations the said defendant has caused the construction of various derricks, slush pits, cellars, roads, pipe line rights of way, houses, and structures upon said premises, all of which occupy an area in excess of the 15 acres upon said land and all of which structures have been upon said premises for many years past and during all of which years time, from the date of the execution and delivery of said lease to date hereof, the owners of said land have lost the use of said area, so damaged by the lessee in the conduct of his said drilling operations, and that the crops upon said lands which could have been planted and harvested by the owners of said land would be of the value of $300.00 per annum, and which caused damage to plaintiff Mrs. E. J. Case, as the owner of the surface rights to said land, of the sum of $1,200.00, being the amount of the damages sustained by her as a result of the loss of said land for the past four years preceding the institution of this suit.

3rd. Plaintiffs further respectfully show unto the Court that since the date of the execution and delivery of said lease the defendant herein has sold water under said premises to adjoining lessees, for drilling operations conducted upon lands other than those owned by any of the plaintiffs in this cause, in excess of the value of $1,000.00, and the amount of which has the defendant herein accounted to plaintiff Mrs. E. J. Case, as the owner thereof, all to her additional damage in said sum of $1,000.00.

4th. Plaintiffs further respectfully show unto the Court that since the date of the execution and delivery of said lease, and during the year 1928, plaintiff Mrs. E. J. Case sold an undivided one-half interest in the oil and minerals under said land to plaintiffs Ellen M. Case and H. B. Tiemann, who have been the owners of an undivided one-half interest in the oil and minerals under said lands since said date, and that plaintiffs herein have been entitled to receive the oil and gas royalties payable under the terms of said lease since 1928, and that since said date the defendant herein has sold gas from said premises to other operators for their use in conducting drilling operations upon lands owned by others than the plaintiffs, to the value of $5,000.00, plaintiffs' one-eighth royalty thereunder being the sum of $700.00, and for none of which has the defendant herein accounted to plaintiffs, to the value of $700.00.

Wherefore, premises considered, plaintiffs pray that the defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and that at time of trial hereof they have judgment against the defendant for their said damages, together with all costs of this suit, as well as such other and further relief, general or special, legal or equitable, as may be their due upon the facts herein shown.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Pampa, Texas, this 27th day of March, A. D. 1937.

KING LEOPOLD SMILES AGAIN

Victim of profound grief ever since the tragic death of beautiful Queen Astrid, his consort, a year and a half ago, Leopold of the Belgians has seldom since appeared in public in happy, relaxed mood. However, there is a twinkle in his eye and a slight smile on his lips as he waits his turn in a golf match at Ascot, England. His partner is Pamela Barton, British women's links queen.

Neal entered the trailer and sat down before the table, watching her pour the coffee. "You don't mean that."

"I do, though. I've a job to do. You've said that the best thing for me is to keep on for the Airspeed Trailer Company. I can do that by myself. And you're not helping me to find Betty?"

He was silent a moment, still watching her deft hands. "Your next stop is at Eureka, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"There're some lonely stretches on those northern California roads. You'd better let me come along."

Martha sat down, pushed the lever on the automatic toaster. "San Francisco seems really booming. Why don't you try to find a job and settle down?"

"My job is to see you out of this." He reached across the table, took her hand, holding it tightly. "Look here, Martha—that night at the hotel I stopped pretending. Why don't you stop it too?"

"I—I don't know what you mean."

"Yes, you do, Martha. You haven't the slightest reason to believe in me, but you have believed in me. I've been evasive and secretive, but you've trusted me. Why? Why have you done that?"

"Because I wanted to find Betty," Martha said.

Neal shook his head. "No, Martha. Your judgment tells you that you should report me to the police, ask them to investigate Betty's disappearance and broadcast a description of Speddon and his car. Isn't that true?"

"Yes... it's true," Martha sprang upward from the table. "It's true—and that's what I'm going to do!"

(To Be Continued)

Sam Houston Allred, born March 17, has the best wishes of the "First Lady of the Land."

On her recent visit for a lecture, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt called at the governor's mansion and wrote in the guest book as follows:

"With all good wishes to the youthful Sam Houston."

Mrs. Roosevelt was accompanied by her son, Elliott, of Fort Worth who also signed the guest book.

Speaker Bob Calvert was entering a capital elevator and a friend queried:

"How about a sine die resolution, Bob?"

Calvert laughed.

"Wait about two more weeks," he said. "Then our nerves will be more frayed."

In past general sessions, a resolution must be introduced in both houses, has been introduced six weeks or so before the actual adjournment.

The general session usually runs about 120 days. The only provision in that connection is that after 120 days the pay of members drops from $10 to $5 a day.

It was no secret that Mrs. Allred hoped the new member of her family would be a girl, and if it had been she would have been named Betty after her mother.

A few days after Sam Houston was born someone commented on the fate that brought a third boy to Governor Allred remarked it was "a tradition in my family to have six boys before a girl."

"What will you do with three boys?" he was asked.

"Well," said the governor, "I'm very fond of baseball. That's a good start toward a team."

Rep. W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi, who has lived long on Texas coast, recently was mixed in his geography. His bill providing for creation of a park on Padre Island, which extends from Brownsville to Corpus Christi, had the island bounded on the east by Laguna Madre and on the west by the Gulf of Mexico, while the reverse is true.

A newspaperman caught the error, and Pope hastened to make a correction, which was permitted by unanimous consent.

Strawberries owe their name to the old custom of covering the plants with straw in the fall to protect the roots during the cold season.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, April 3 (AP)—The audience which recently heard Postmaster General James A. Farley speak here was respectful, unless the marble statue of Gov. F. Lubbock could be termed a member.

The statue of the bearded Lubbock, to the left of the speaker's rostrum, wore someone's gray felt hat at a rakish angle.

The cabinet member addressed a joint session of the legislature defending President Roosevelt's Supreme Court re-organization plan.

Gov. James V. Allred pushed his way through a crowd in a hotel to welcome Farley. The postmaster general had just arrived from North Texas and was sitting on a table swinging his legs.

"Hello, Jim!" said Allred. "I want your autograph."

"Hello, Jimmy," Farley shot back. They shook hands and there was a laugh. A number of girls had been asking and receiving Farley's autograph.

Farley said he was not interested in what Democrat wins the seat in Congress held for so many years by the late Rep. J. P. Buchanan of Brenham. There will be an election April 10.

"All I want is to be sure a Democrat goes to Congress," he said.

There should be no difficulty in that. The only Republican recently withdrew, saying he couldn't keep pace "with the flood of propaganda being disseminated in the district."

The postmaster general, who also is chairman of the National Democratic committee, said he was not worried about the outcome of the controversy over Supreme Court re-organization.

"We will have the votes when we want them," he said.

Farley was the second member of the President's cabinet to address the legislature this year.

He was preceded by Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior, who also advocated the presidential court plan.

Between the visits of Farley and Ickes, U. S. Senator Tom Connally addressed the legislature, criticizing the court proposal.

All the speakers drew big crowds and were given noisy receptions.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

By Nard Jones NEA Service, Inc.

Chapter XIII

The manager of the Bridge Auto Park grunted and turned over on his bed. But again there came that insistent knock at the door of his cottage—a knock which he had hoped might be part of a dream. Grumbling audibly, he climbed from his sheets, pulled on an ancient but serviceable bath robe, and shuffled to the door.

He was startled to see a rather breathless and very attractive young woman standing there. And he was more amazed yet when he recognized her as the young woman who had called earlier in the day. The young woman for whom he'd been holding that airmail letter from San Diego.

"I'm sorry to bother you at this time of night," Martha said. "But I want space for my coupe and trailer."

The man yawned. "There's a lot of it out there, lady. Just park anywhere and I'll talk to you in the morning."

"You see, I'm with the Airspeed Trailer Company. I'll be here two or three days—"

"Showing off the trailer? That's okay, so long as you pay the regular rent. One fellow a while back figured his trailer ought to draw customers and he should get in here rent free."

"I intend to pay," Martha said. She reached into her bag.

"Never mind now. I don't like to lose sleep. See you in the morning."

The door slammed decisively, and Martha returned to the trailer. There were other cars and trailers in the camp, but she seemed to be the only tenant awake at this hour of the night.

Perhaps, Martha told herself, she had been foolish to run away from the hotel and not wait until morning to come to the Bridge Auto Park. But when she had disengaged herself from Gerry Neal's arms and escaped into the solitude of her room she knew that she mustn't see him again. He would be telephoning in the morning, and she had to get away to think.

Since they had reached San Francisco the quick turn of events had anaesthetized her own feeling for Gerry Neal. But his swift, uncontrolled confession there in the hotel hallway had precipitated a condition which Martha did not yet want to face. Hurriedly she checked out of the hotel, fearing every moment that Neal would try to stop her. Within 15 minutes she was speeding in the little coupe to reclaim the trailer where Neal had left it earlier in the day.

The Bridge Auto Park proved to be an excellent location for displaying the merits of the Airspeed. On one of the main arteries for both north and southbound traffic, it drew many a curious motorist attracted by the streamlined trailer. With these, as well as with the occupants of the auto park itself,

Martha was kept busy. At the end of the day she had pointed out the merits of the trailer to scores of prospects, handed out as many advertising leaflets. And that night she made her report to Arnold Sloss, grateful for a task to keep her mind occupied.

That day and the next she stayed on at the Bridge Auto Park. Then, following Carrington's itinerary, she crossed the great bridge into Oakland and spent the day there.

The three days proved a tiresome one. At the close of the last day Martha tumbled onto the made-up berth and dropped off to sleep almost instantly. When she opened her eyes the sun was streaming into the trailer. But it was not the sunshine which had awakened her. There had been a distant tapping at the rear window. Looking up she saw the smiling face of Gerry Neal.

At the sound of his voice Martha's heart rose in her throat and whirled there like a frightened quail. She knew in that magic moment that all along she had wanted him to follow her—and had been afraid he might not. She knew that despite all her anger and all her suspicions, she had wanted to see him again.

Hurriedly she drew on her dressing gown, and went to the window. "I'll wait 10 minutes," Gerry told her. "Just one cigaret."

"How did you know where to find me?"

Neal grinned. "You showed me your itinerary. And I've known where you were. When I found you'd left the hotel I telephoned the Bridge Auto Park. I was mighty relieved when they said you were there. I was afraid perhaps you'd started north against my advice. You leave this morning, don't you?"

"I should have left an hour ago."

"You mean we should," Neal smiled. "Better start the coffee."

Without answering, Martha turned from the window. It was nearer 20 minutes when she had dressed and made toast and coffee. But near the opened trailer door Neal was still waiting patiently.

"All set?"

"You're invited to breakfast," Martha said. "But not to go with me. And I'll have to hurry."

DON'T SCRATCH, SOOTHE THE IRRITATION

Quick relief from the maddening itch of eczema, psoriasis, poison ivy, and irritation about the rectum or personal parts is obtained by applying an ointment called Resinol. Leave it on over night. "It lessens the desire to scratch, and eases the irritation."

The soothing effect of Resinol takes the sting out of the irritated parts and makes you comfortable. The skin heals sooner, too, with the help of Resinol.

The oily base of Resinol Ointment is ideal for penetrating the outer layers of the skin and securing deeper action. Bathing the affected parts first with Resinol Soap hastens the effectiveness of Resinol Ointment. Many nurses suggest and use Resinol—why don't you try it?

Buy Resinol Ointment and Soap in any drug store. For free sample, write to Resinol, Dept. 4, Baltimore, Md.
