Soviet Weapons on Way to Viet Reds

Kosygin Promises Assistance

MOSCOW (UPI) — Diplomatic sources said today Soviet ground-to-air missiles, jet fighter planes and technical advisers are en route to Communist North Viet Nam to defend against any new retaliatory air strikes by the United States.

Soviet Premier Alexi N. Kosygin promised assistance to the Hanoi regime during his trip to Communist Asia earlier this month. Although dispatch of the military aid could not be officially confirmed, the Kremlin has made it clear that the Soviets will follow through on Kosygin's pledge.

(A UPI dispatch from Saigon last Tuesday quoted authoritative sources as saying Soviet ground-to-air missiles had already arrived in the North Viet Nam capital of Hanoi. The UPI report was based on accounts received from persons who arrived in Saigon from Hanoi.)

In a related development Sunday, Marshal Nikolai Krylov, commander of Russian rocket troops, rattled Soviet missile might.

"If the imperialists of the United States in their reckless attempt to carry out criminal schemes with regard to countries of the socialist camp, the war will immediately be transferred to the territory of the aggressor," Krylov wrote in Trud, a trade union newspaper. Diplomatic observers said the severity of Russian propaganda directed against the United States was partly connected with a March 1 conference of Communist parties.

The Russians were reported trying to show Asian Communists they can look to the Soviet Union as well as Communist China for help against "imperialism."

BUILD NEW WALL

BERLIN (UPI) — East German police worked for the fourth straight day on a new six-foot-high wall on the border of Berlin's French sector.

Twenty policemen, guarded by three others and an armored car, worked on the wall, which is now more than 250 yards long. It was going up where only barbed-wire barriers stood before.

Ceremony Thursday for 27 Cardinals Named by Pope

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI today officially nominated 27 new cardinals in the first consistory of his reign. The historic ceremony raised membership in the college of cardinals to an all-time high of 103.

The new "princes of the church" include Archbishop Lawrence Shehan of Baltimore, Md., and Archbishop Josef Beran — a Czechoslovak prelate who was held behind the Iron Curtain for the past 16 years.

Today's secret ceremony swept aside some of the centuries-old tradition surrounding new cardinals and several changes will be made Thursday in a public consistory in the splendor of St. Peter's Basilica. Two other rites were eliminated.

The move to de-emphasize pomp is part of the Pope's campaign to modernize the church in the spirit of the Ecumenical Council.

The Vatican announced the names of the 27 new cardinals on Jan. 25 and today's consistory was the opening ceremony

Police Blame Black Muslims For Shooting of Malcolm X

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police today blamed Malcolm X's mortal enemies in the Black Muslim movement for the assassination of the venomous Negro nationalist and said at least five persons may have participated in the Harlem meeting hall shooting.

Early today, detectives booked on homicide charges a 22-year-old Negro whom they said was one of the triggermen who filled an auditorium with volleys of gunfire Sunday as Malcolm X rose to address 500 members of his own black supremacist followers. Malcolm, a defector from the Muslims, died in the hail of shotgun and pistol fire before the horrified eyes of the onlookers and his hysterically screaming wife and one or more of his four daughters.

The murder suspect, originally identified as Thomas Hagan, was in turn wounded by one of Malcolm's aides and was severely beaten by the crowd before police rescued him and another man the frenzied Negroes were attacking with shouts of "kill him, kill him."

Police described Hagan as a "light-lipped suspect" who would tell them nothing — including whether he had any connection with the Muslims or another extremist group. An FBI fingerprint check identified Hagan as a man who had been arrested in Passaic, N.J., in November, 1963, for possession of stolen property. He then used the name of Talmadge Hayer and gave his address as 347 Marshall St., Paterson, N.J.

Hagan, or Hayer, was charged with firing a blast at Malcolm from a double-barreled shotgun which had been sawed off at both ends.

Two other men in the Audubon auditorium, on the fringe of Harlem, were shot in the melee. Police, who launched a secrecy - shrouded investigation, refused to elaborate on what their role in the assassination might have been.

The wounded men, in addition to Hagan, were identified as William Parker and William Wallace (See BLAME, Page 3)

DISTURBANCE PULLS GUARDS AWAY

Reporter Watches Assassination

EDITOR'S NOTE: Only two newsmen were in the audience of a Harlem rally Sunday when gunmen shot and killed Malcolm X. UPI correspondent Stanley Scott and a local radio station (WJMC) reporter witnessed the assassination. This is Scott's eyewitness account.)

By STANLEY SCOTT
NEW YORK (UPI) — Even before entering Harlem's Audubon ballroom Sunday to hear Malcolm X reveal an "action program" for the Negro people, I suspected trouble.

I asked a policeman stationed outside if he anticipated any incidents. His answer was "no."

One of Malcolm's own lieutenants told me the militant Negro nationalist leader was "well protected."

But an hour later, from my twilight-row seat I heard a terrifying volley of gunshots and screams and saw Malcolm bowled over by the bullets. His wife, Betty, cried hysterically, "they're killing my husband," and Malcolm lay bleeding and fatally wounded on the stage.

As I approached the entrance to the ballroom at 166th Street and Broadway I remembered what Malcolm X had said several days earlier after a fire-bomb attack destroyed his home.

"There is a conspiracy that leads to my death."

I along with other newsmen, heard that at the headquarters of Malcolm's newly formed Organization for Afro-American Unity. It made me wonder now about his safety before an audience of 500.

When I entered the building at 2 p.m. one of Malcolm's lieutenants told me the press would not be permitted to cover the session. But, he said, "as a Negro you can come in as an interested citizen. But you will have to remove your press badge."

Two of Malcolm's judo-trained, six-foot guards stood at the outer entrance of the ballroom. Additional guards lined the front of the speakers platform and the aisles.

About 2:30 p.m. another of Malcolm's aides mounted the platform and began to address the audience. "You should support a man that is willing to lay down his life for you," he told them. "There are few men that are willing to die for somebody else."

A minute before 3 p.m. Malcolm himself entered and strode to the stage to loud applause.

Alabama's Black Belt Region New Target for King

SELMA, Ala. (UPI) — Dr. Martin Luther King returned here again today to open the sixth straight week of a voter registration drive in Alabama's black belt described as "the last stand for white supremacy."

King was scheduled to lead another march to the Dallas County Courthouse in a drive that has resulted in violence, mass arrest and growing tension.

The march will be without benefit of a parade permit and it could lead to a face-to-face showdown between King and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

The governor ordered a ban on nighttime marches following violence last Thursday night in nearby Marion in which Negroes and newsmen were beaten and one Negro was shot.

Selma Mayor Joe Smithman said Negroes will not be issued a permit to parade in his city. Negro leaders also said that they had received no answer from a registered letter asking for the permit.

Hosea Williams, a field worker in King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, told a Negro rally at Brown's Chapel Church Sunday night that he was "utterly disgusted and surprised" that President Johnson had not sponsored legislation to speed up voter registration.

"Johnson is denying us the vote by being too complacent and apathetic," Williams said. "It is a travesty that our President would sit idly by and not say a word."

"This is the last stand for white supremacy. If we can break the black belt in Alabama for all practical purposes the struggle will be over."

Williams warned that "Negroes are prepared to die like flies and I believe the Jim Clarks (Dallas County sheriff) and Wallaces are ready to kill us like flies."

Khanh Balking at Return to Saigon

SAIGON (UPI) — Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh agreed today to resign as South Viet Nam's military strongman but balked at demands of the powerful Armed Forces Council that he come to Saigon and put his resignation in writing.

Khanh was reported to have agreed early today to step down in a series of telephone conversations with the group of rebellious generals that had voted him out.

But he was said to be holding out at Vung Tau, 40 miles from Saigon, until some face-saving measure had been worked out for him.

The council sent a delegation to Vung Tau to try to convince Khanh to come here and officially resign as a preliminary to his departure from South Viet Nam.

Khanh was deposed as armed forces commander-in-chief by order of Chief of State Phan Khac Suu Sunday. At the same time he lost this position as chairman of the Armed Forces Council, which includes all of the country's top generals.

Yanks Deny Involvement
An American Embassy spokesman denied reports of involvement of the American mission here in the disappearance of some of the 14 persons implicated in the attempted coup last Friday. The Armed Forces Council today offered rewards for the 14, dead or alive.

Lt. Gen. Tran Van Minh, a Roman Catholic known as "Little Minh," was named to succeed Khanh in the powerful post of commander-in-chief after three days of coups, counter coups and the threat of full-scale war between feuding factions in the Vietnamese army. Khanh was reported to have promised to relinquish his post in a telephoned surrender to the generals at 6:30 a.m. after his airplane ran low on fuel and landed in the mountain resort of Dalat. He had failed in frantic efforts to line up support (See KHANH, Page 3)

Rescued Miner Due Amputation

STEWART, B.C. (UPI) — A Finnish-born carpenter found alive by rescuers Sunday after being entombed for 78 hours under tons of an avalanche's rock and snow today faced possible loss of his hands and feet.

A doctor said the carpenter, Einar Myllyla, about 32, was suffering from shock, lacerations and frostbitten hands and feet. Myllyla spent his ordeal in the ruins of the avalanche-destroyed Granduc copper mining camp on British Columbia's remote Pacific Coast.

Myllyla was one of 27 persons asleep in four bunkhouses Thursday when the avalanche thundered down a 6,000 foot glacier and flattened the remote camp under tons of rock, ice and snow.

Spark Of Hope
The discovery of the semi-conscious carpenter under five feet of snow revitalized the 12-member search team's waning hopes of finding survivors beneath the rubble.

The searchers had recovered the bodies of 12 men and had all but abandoned hope of finding alive any of the other 15 missing victims when a bulldozer knocked away part of the snow blanketing Myllyla.

Ballot Counting Underway in McDonald, Abel Union Election

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The official count of the United Steelworkers Union (USW) election began today and the outcome has overtones of a soap opera.

Will David J. McDonald win his fourth four-year term as president of the million-member union? Or will I.W. Abel, international-secretary treasurer, oust his former ally from the top spot? The three international tellers of the USW — John Shipperbottom, Wayne Antrim and Steve Caruso — will supervise the count of the Feb. 9 elections tabulated by the Honest Ballot Association of New York. The tally will be made behind locked doors in USW headquarters in the Commonwealth Building in downtown Pittsburgh.

The deadline for return sheets from the locals was last Friday midnight. Ballots received after that time are invalid, according to the USW constitution.

The Labor Department has assigned two representatives to be on hand when ballots from 3,203 locals in the United States and Canada were opened.

Charles Donahue, solicitor of labor, and Frank M. Kleiter, director of labor and management and pension reports, were present as government representatives.

The Labor Department said arrangements for their presence was "made by mutual agreements" of McDonald and Abel.

According to a union source between 100 and 200 locals either did not conduct elections or did not report results.

An unofficial tabulation by UPI from 2,907 of 3,203 locals showed 290,188 for Abel and 285,770 for McDonald.

Returns from some locals are expected to be invalidated by the international tellers for varying reasons. It was recalled that when Donald C. Rarick unsuccessfully opposed McDonald for the presidency in 1957, votes from 58 locals were tossed out.

Rescue workers said that when he was uncovered, Myllyla blinked in the glare and mumbled:

"Watch my feet..." He then lapsed into incoherent mumbling about a buddy who was also buried. A quick search of the immediate area failed to uncover any other victims.

Rushed To Hospital
Myllyla was rushed to a hospital in Ketchikan, Alaska, where a doctor said "there is a high probability that he will lose his fingers and toes, if not his whole hands and feet."

Dr. James Wilson said Myllyla was still in a state of shock but could carry on a coherent conversation. He apparently had no broken bones.

Myllyla told rescuers he and a couple of men were in a bunkhouse when the slide hit. He said that he slept most of the time during his entombment.

President Asks Young Americans to Help Cause of Freedom by Sharing Its Goals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today called on young Americans to advance the cause of freedom by sharing fully "in the responsibilities, the dangers and the passions of your time."

The president outlined the promised sacrifices and rewards of the Great Society in a speech prepared for delivery at ceremonies marking the 100th anniversary of the University of Kentucky at Lexington.

The Great Society cannot be built by government alone, he declared. "It needs your sacrifice and effort."

Johnson told his audience at the university convocation that "we cannot and will not withdraw from this world. We are too rich, too powerful and too important. And we are too concerned.

The President was to fly from here to Lexington in a one stop trip to make the address and return to the White House tonight.

The President emphasized that he was not speaking of foreign policy, although our relations abroad presented "grave and immediate issues."

He said he was speaking of the challenges to Americans today in domestic and foreign fields. "We care that men are hungry—not only in Appalachia, but in Asia and Africa," he asserted.

"We care that men are oppressed—not only in this country but wherever man is unjust to man."

"We care that men should govern themselves and shape their own destinies—not only in Kentucky but in every corner of every continent."

"We care for peace—not only for ourselves, but for every country torn by conflict."

Johnson warned young Americans they would inherit a world with the greatest danger, but also with "the most promising destiny in history."

"If you wish a sheltered and uneventful life, you are living in the wrong generation," he said. "For only those who dare to fail greatly, can achieve much." He added that American youth "will find meaning only by sharing in the responsibilities, the dangers and the passions of your time."

Dear Abby.... Advice Given Deer Hunter Still Stands

DEAR ABBY: I don't know whether to feel sorrier for About Had It or his wife for being married to such a mite-fool. He cries that she won't "let" him go deer hunting, although he always loved to. And you, of course, advised him to knuckle under. It is about par for the course in this female-dominated society for the woman to simmer her way to the altar while plotting how to remold her man as soon as he slips the ring on her finger. I do not hunt and I am happily married (as is my wife). And you, Dear Abby, are guilty of a bum piece of advice in this instance, which goes to the heart of something far more important than the question of deer hunting.

50-50 PARTNER IN SAN RAFAEL
DEAR PARTNER: Bum advice? I certainly would hesitate to advise a man who wants to hunt, but doesn't because his wife won't "let" him, to go anyway. She might turn out to be a better shot than he is.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 15 I got into trouble and I gave my baby to my father and stepmother. I didn't really want to, but I had no choice. They were both in their late 30's and my stepmother wasn't able to have children of her own. I signed some papers, so I imagine my child was legally adopted by them. I married at 19. That was six years ago. I don't seem able to have children and I would like to have my little girl back to raise as my own, as that is the way God intended it to be. My husband knows that the little girl I call my baby sister is my illegitimate child, and he is crazy about her. My stepmother has taken to drinking heavily and this child is not being given the kind of home I could give her. She seems shy and withdrawn, and I know she loves me. It tears me apart every time I see her. Should I try to regain custody of the child who is rightfully mine? Have I grounds?

WANTS MY BABY
DEAR WANTS: See a lawyer and give him the facts. But if you expect to regain custody of the child on the grounds that her parents are "unfit," you'd better bear the evidence cold.

DEAR ABBY: As a member of the Abilene (Texas) "Slim-

French Florists Compares Floral Arrangements

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK (UPI) - A Frenchwoman florist whose customers include President Charles de Gaulle took one look at floral arrangements as done by Americans and decided: The long-stemmed beauty look for which American girls are famous should be applied to flowers as well.
"In France, we do much taller, larger arrangements," said Suzy Aignan. "I don't know why you cut, cut, cut the stems. In France, we do not. Maybe it is because we do things with the grand gesture."
She figured, however, that one reason U.S. florists usually make smaller arrangements is the difference in homes. Most of those in her native Paris, for instance, are tall, old structures with high ceilings and giant rooms which call for large arrangements. Low-ceiling, modern housing in the United States does not.
Mme. Aignan, 43, wife of a construction engineer and mother of two teen-aged boys, represents a fourth generation of her family as florists. Her great-grandfather founded the firm, Debrrie-Millon, in 1852.
Now, she, her father, mother and one sister run the shop located amid the great fashion houses of Paris.
Mme. Aignan said the shop holds numerous awards for floral arrangements - "every time we enter an exposition, we take first prize," she said, without bragging, but as if this were a thing to be expected from 113 years of flowers.
The ministry of foreign affairs regularly orders from them for state occasions. But for the presidential residence, De Gaulle's own gardens provide the flowers.
Mme. Aignan, her family, and a supplemental staff, placed flowers in every room of the many-roomed palace of Versailles when the late President Kennedy and his wife were on an official visit to France. The palace was site for a De Gaulle reception. She said some 80 arrangements were placed about, each planned to blend with the tapestries and rugs of the rooms.
She also planned flowers for the Palais du Quai d'Orsay which the Kennedys occupied during their visit. She used many mixed spring flower bouquets, she said - "protocol had told us Mrs. Kennedy liked them."

Clarendon Plays Gruver In Pampa

AMARILLO — District 1-A winner Gruver and district 2-A champ Clarendon will clash in the bi-district game at Harvester Fieldhouse at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Officials of the two schools met yesterday in Amarillo and chose the neutral site. Clarendon went undefeated in district play, downing White Deer, Canadian, McLean, Memphis and defending champ Wellington twice each. They posted a 17-7 season mark.

Clarendon does not have big height, with their tall man 6'2" sophomore Richard Thornberry, but they have two colored players who are extremely high jumpers and tremendous rebounders in 6-0 Archie Smith and 6-1 Odell Lewis. Smith averaged 16 points per game for the season and 10 rebounds. Their other standout player is ballhandler David Mooring, a deadly shot averaging 15.6 points per game. The Bronchos have averaged 35 percent from the floor this year.

Gruver, seen recently by Pampa fans when they beat Panhandle in the district tournament, is also a short team, but has no fear of height, as proven by their three wins over favorite Panhandle, probably the tallest Class A club in the state.

The Hounds ran up a 22-8 season record and were 11-1 in district, beating Panhandle in a playoff after tying for the title, and then sweeping a district tournament.

Gruver is led by all-state candidate Sam Tipton, son of coach Wayne Tipton. The 5'11" junior is a smooth ballhandler and playmaker, a standout passer and a deadly shot, averaging better than 20 points a game. Tipton scored 23 in the playoff against Panhandle as he hit almost 50 percent of his shots from the floor.

The winner of tomorrow night's game will go to the regional tournament at Lubbock this weekend.

OLD FOE — Barry Williams, 6-5 Haltom City forward, is the only returnee from the 1963 team that edged the Harvesters in bi-district. Williams is averaging 21.3 points and 17 rebounds per game going into tonight's clash at TCU.

St. Joseph's Upsets Villanova Wildcats

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

If Villanova hopes to end the undefeated string of Providence Tuesday night, it had better come up with some super explosive—bombs just aren't powerful enough these days.

The Wildcats found out last Saturday night that not even a bomb scare at the Palestra could quiet high flying St. Joseph's (Pa.) as the Hawks won a hard fought game, 69-61.

Third-ranked St. Joe's, which ran its season record to 23-1, was leading 30-26 at halftime when a crank telephone call warned that a bomb was planted in the building. Fans were told to leave the building while police searched for the bomb. When no trace of an explosive was found, the fans were allowed back and the game was resumed.

Villanova discovered there really was an explosive in the gym in the person of the Hawks' Cliff Anderson. The high-jumping sophomore proved to be the big difference in the game as he scored a career high 36 points and pulled down 24 rebounds.

The Wildcats now tangle with the fourth-ranked Friars on Tuesday at the Villanova gymnasium and need a victory to keep their hopes alive for an NCAA tournament berth.

The Friars were the only members of the nation's top 10 ranked teams who were idle over the weekend.

No. 1 Michigan won its ninth straight Big Ten Conference game, downing Ohio State, 100-61. The Wolverines once again got standout performances from their one-two scoring punch of Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin. Russell tallied 26 points and Buntin added 20.

Second-ranked UCLA won its 29th consecutive Pacific Eight Conference game by whipping Oregon, 74-64. The Bruins used a pressing zone defense to move to a 41-28 halftime lead, but then had to rally midway through the second stanza to pull out the victory. Gail Goodrich, the Bruins' top scorer, was high point man in the game with 28.

Fifth-ranked Duke went over the 100-point mark for the eighth time this season in tripping Notre Dame, 101-88. The Irish never headed the Blue Devils as Jack Marin with 35 points and Steve Vacendak with 32 paced the attack which brought Duke its 18th win in 20 games.

SWC Roundup

By United Press International

Texas Tech can clinch a tie for the Southwest Conference basketball championship this week—or maybe even win the title outright.

Coach Gene Gibson's Red Raiders, who swept past challenging Texas 87-73 and Stubbins Rice 77-67 last week for a 9-1 league record and a two-game lead over Southern Methodist's 7-3 mark, can assure themselves of no worse than a tie by winning both starts.

First, they must travel to Waco Tuesday night to tackle the dangerous Baylor Baptists—the only league team to conquer the Raiders (77-74 at Lubbock), then return home for a Saturday night date with Texas Christian.

And, should SMU stumble against either Rice Tuesday night or Baylor Saturday night a Tech sweep would put the Raiders home free with a date next month against an at-large team in the NCAA regionals on their own court.

Texas and Baylor, tied at 6-4, still have a mathematical chance, but they're three games in arrears and there are only four to play.

Tech and SMU won't meet again since they've met twice with Tech winning both times, so SMU's hopes rest precariously on the ability of a couple of rivals to knock off Tech while the Mustangs sweep their last four games.

Three of the four SMU games will be at home, but that could be more of a detriment than a favor since two of the league losses have come on the Pioneers' own floor.

While Tech was firming its first-place grip last week, SMU climbed into undisputed second place by edging TCU 96-93 and Texas 73-70. Baylor bowed to Arkansas 78-73, but beat TCU 97-88.

Big John Beasley helped allay some of the sting of the defending champion Texas Aggies failures by continuing his hot scoring streak (110 points in his last three games) to take over both divisions of the individual scoring race.

Beasley is averaging 23.7 points over the full season to 23.3 for the season-long leader he replaced, Dub Malaise of Tech, and in 10 loop games is doing even better—25.1 to 21.9 for Malaise.

This week's other action has an Arkansas-Texas match at neutral Little Rock and the Aggies at TCU Tuesday night, and A&M at Texas and Arkansas at Rice Saturday night.

Darrouzett, Briscoe At Miami Tomorrow

MIAMI — A team that has won 22 straight games clashes with a team that lost six of its first 11, then came back to win the loop title when 2-B champ Briscoe meets 1-B titlist Darrouzett here at 8 p.m. Tuesday for the right to represent the Top O' Texas in the regional tournament at West Texas State this Friday and Saturday.

District 2-B's representative won 12 straight games in district play, then swept the district tournament in Wheeler last week, smashing Miami in the finals, 62-30.

The Broncos' coach Don Johnson lost only five of 20 games this season, dropping two to Hedley, and one each to district 9-B champ Quail, Class A Spearman, and Samnorwood. All the losses came early in the season, and the Broncos came back to take revenge wins over every team but Spearman, whom they played only once.

Briscoe is famed for their fast break and full-court press game, led by the fabulous half-pint, Tommy Hays, Hays, an all-state candidate, stands only 3'7", but is built like a pocket wrestler, and his speed and quick moves have stolen countless games from opponents as he averages 30 points a game and at least that many assists a contest.

Also scoring at a 20-point-per-game clip is Orville Atherton, the 6-2½ jumping jack who has consistently rebounded with men up to four inches taller from his post position. Atherton, a junior, averages 14 rebounds a game. He scored 31 points in the district tournament finals win.

Another player who jumps far higher than his height figures is 5-11½ Mack Sides, a tough board man who hits nine points per game.

Harvey Puryear, 5-11, is the other half of the fast-break combo, averaging 10 points a game and hitting 17 last Friday night.

David Zwyback, 5-6, is the other floorman with Hays and also an adept thief, averaging nine points.

Defending district champ Darrouzett dropped six of their 11 pre-district games, but came back to run up an 11-3 loop record. The Longorns tied for the district crown with Booker and Follett, then won out in a three-way playoff.

The Horns lost three to district 1-A champ Gruver, split with Class A Spearman and lost to Higgins and Eureka before the loop season started. They lost their own Golden Spread Tournament to Booker in the opening game of district, starting a four-game string broken only by another loss to Booker, then one of the losses to Gruver.

Darrouzett then came back to win four more straight before a loss to Booker which threw them into a tie for the loop, winning over Follett after they had defeated Booker.

Leading the Horns is 5-10 Dana Duke, an all-state football player and also an all-state cage nominee, with a 16.9 scoring average. Second leading scorer is "Little Duke," Dana's brother Darrell, a 5-10 sophomore who averages 11.3.

Six-foot James Perkins, the only junior on the squad, hits for 10 points a game. Don Pratt, 6'2", is the Horns' big man and top rebounder. Clinton Hanshu, 5-11, is another boy who goes far higher than expected on the boards. Sixth man on the team is 5-7 Mike Koschke, a regular last year.

Elimination Week for Texas Cagers

By United Press International

Texas schoolboy basketball's bulky field, now whittled down to 173 district champions, faces a busy week of eliminations that will trim the surviving list by Saturday night to the 22 teams which will make it to the state tournament in Austin March 4-5.

Only one 1964 champion was able to survive its own district competition—Little McAdoo in Class B.

Bi-district play and regional tournaments will trim the field to four state tournament teams each in Classes AAAA, AAA, AA and A and to six in Class B.

Survivors include: AAAA—El Paso High, Midland Lee, Pampa, Haltom City, Fort Worth Arlington Heights, Dallas Jefferson, Highland Park, Marshall, Houston Jones, Spring Branch Memorial, Beaumont French, Texas City, Austin McCallum, Kingsville, San Antonio Lee, San Antonio Bracketridge.

AAA — Dumas, Seminole, Levelland, Brownwood, Mineral Wells, Sulphur Springs, Kilgore, Waxahachie, West Orange, Houston Furr, Wharton, Clear Creek, Belton, San Marcos, San Antonio Marshall, Weslaco.

AA — Phillips, Childress, Eriona, Denver City, Winters, Crane, Comanche, Brady, Decatur, Lake Worth, Plano, Mexia, Hooks, Gladewater, Mt. Vernon, Van, Rockdale, Taylor, Luling, Katy, Rusk, Port Acres.

WINS CUP AGAIN
MELBOURNE (UPI) — Jack Brabham won the International Cup auto race at Sandown Park Sunday for the second straight year.

The Australian averaged 161.8 miles per hour over the 103-mile course in his Repco-Brabham in 100-degree temperatures to beat three former world driving champions — Jim Clark of Scotland, Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., and Graham Hill of Britain.

Harvesters In Bi-District Playoff Tonight At TCU

By RONNIE OLER
News Sports Reporter

FORT WORTH—Although the local newspapers and sports observers continue to make Haltom City the choice in the bi-district game here tonight, at least one observer who should really know feels the Harvesters have a good chance.

Clifton McNeely, former Pampa basketball coach who led the Big Green to four state championships, was down to see his former assistant, coach Terry Culley, and his team, and rated the Harvesters well.

"They look like a good team and they work well together," opined McNeely following a Sunday workout at the TCU Coliseum. "I feel that if the Harvesters have a good game and put a lot into it, they can win it."

Another expert who rated the Harvesters highly was Wayne Kreis, a member of the district champs of 1962-63 and now one of the leading scorers in the Southwest Conference, down from TCU for the game. Kreis was impressed by the smooth teamwork of the squad.

Local newspapers keep pushing the Haltom City height advantage in the frontcourt, although apparently overlooking Pampa's overall height advantage and deadly team shooting.

Haltom City has three big front court men who average a tremendous 45 rebounds per game average between them, according to HC coach Ronnie Stevenson, 6-4½ Larry Messer averaging 18, 6-5 Barry Williams 17 and 6-3½ Larry Shafer 10. The Harvesters have only one man in double figures rebounding-wise. Roper Roper with 13, but average 39 per game, with 6-2 Davy McDaniel averaging nine and 6-3 Mac McWilliams eight.

Haltom City's shooting, however, is concentrated in the hands of three players, while their starting height drops off sharply after the big three. With 5-11 Ricky Gaither and 5-10 John Gloeckler in the backcourt, the Buffaloes average less than 6'2" while Pampa, with 6-2 Ron Curlee and 6-0 Lanny Lewis in the backcourt, averages almost 6'2½."

Williams is averaging 21.3 points per game, Messer 13.5 and fast-break leader Gloeckler 12. Shafer averages only 6.0 and Gaither 4.2. The Buffaloes averaged 72.5 points per game to their opponent's 60.1, but 12.5 of their average comes from a strong bench.

The Harvesters on the other hand, have all five of their starters averaging in double figures, with 61.6 of their averaging of 70.2 points per game coming from their starting five. Pampa opponents have hit at 57.6 giving the Harvesters one of the top defending averages for a 4-A team.

Roper, near-unanimous first team all-district choice, averages 15.3 per game, McDaniel 12.8, Lewis 11.9, McWilliams 11.0 and Curlee 10.6.

Both coaches expressed a high respect for the other. Stevenson opined that "Pampa is very quick and they hustle real well. What impresses me most about them is their court savvy. The way they set up shots and make passes comes from a lot of playing. Their offense is well-organized and you never know what they're going to do. Also they try to take the percentage shot, they don't seem to take bad shots."

Culley, sizing up Haltom City after they worked out in TCU Coliseum early Sunday morning, said "We know they are bigger than we are, we will have to do an outstanding job of rebounding and defense. They are a high-scoring outfit."

In this reporter's opinion, after watching the Buffaloes work out, the Fort Worth papers are correct in seeing little difference except height among the two clubs. Haltom City is also a fast-breaking outfit and puts on the press when necessary, just as the Harvesters do. They shoot a little more quickly than the visitors, but also go for the good shots, with Williams and Messer working under the basket, and Gloeckler's style of play very reminiscent of Lewis' drives.

Roper, who has consistently rebounded with far bigger men, will have his work cut out for him, as Williams also does the same thing, while Messer is heavier than any of the Harvesters and really pushed his mates around during the fights for the boards in workout.

Haltom City is figured to have more depth than last year's outfit which was third in the state. Despite all this, Pampa players remained confident, admitting that they were aiming to avenge the '63 team, which dropped a 77-74 clash to Haltom City, also in Fort Worth.

Garcia Pick In GG Semis

FORT WORTH (UPI)—A trio of national champions or former champions were in the field of 28 boxers left to compete tonight for the eight Texas Golden Gloves championships.

Welterweight Jesse Valdez of Houston, featherweight Manuel Navarro of Austin and flyweight Fred Garcia of Plainview have tasted the fruits of success before and were expected to do so again.

Navarro, who won as a bantamweight last year, and Garcia, who was a 1963 champ while representing Roswell, N.M., faced two bouts tonight, but the classy Valdez had only one more foe to get by.

Navarro faces Donald Jones of Fort Worth and, if he wins, meets the winner of a bout between Jesse Avalos of Corpus Christi and Oscar Albardo of San Antonio.

Garcia meets Rudy Benitez of Odessa, then the winner of a bout between Joe Gracie of Tyler and Roland Hernandez of San Antonio — if he wins.

Bantamweight semifinals pit Richard Cole, Dallas, against Gary Swinney, Tyler, and Eddie Gonzales, Plainview, against Jimmy Artega, Fort Worth.

Finals pairings include: Lightweight — Johnny Gonzalez, Ranger, vs. Ray Garay, Houston.

Welterweight — Valdez vs. Jim Miller, Corpus Christi.

Middleweight — Gene Guess, San Antonio, vs. Burton Gilliam, Dallas.

FEEL SECURE IN YOUR HOME?

Saying it Doesn't Make it So

World Horizons Special (EDITOR'S NOTE: Four serious crimes are committed every 60 seconds in the United States. There has been an alarming rise in every type of crime. UPI's national reporter, in the first of three dispatches, examines some of the statistics and the reasons some experts say they are going up.)

By HARRY FERGUSON WASHINGTON (UPI)—Deep down in President Johnson's State of the Union message was this sentence: "Every citizen has the right to feel secure in his home and on the streets of his community."

Sure. Every citizen has the right to be a millionaire, too, but saying it doesn't make it so. The grim fact is that every day we become less secure in our homes and communities. We are losing a desperate race to crime, and we might as well face up to the fact that so far as lawlessness is concerned the state of the union is not good. With due deference to the President's plan to do something about crime, there is small chance that the situation can be improved in the next three years. Every type of crime is on the increase in every type of American community. Years ago Lincoln Steffens coined the phrase "the same of our cities" to describe corruption and crime. The phrase is no longer operative. The current increase in crime spreads itself impartially through cities, small towns, suburbs and rural areas. Like this:

Crime Statistics —Four serious crimes are committed every minute in the U.S. —Once every hour somebody is murdered. —Once every minute an automobile is stolen. —Once every 32 minutes a burglary is committed. —Once every 32 minutes somebody is raped. —Once every four minutes an American is a victim of aggravated assault. —Once every minute a larceny involving $50 or more is committed.

What's happening to us? The usual glib and thoughtless answer is that, sure, there is more crime because there are more people. If that had any validity, our problem would be fairly simple. The shocking fact is that since 1958 the crime rate has been increasing five times as fast as the gain in population. Every year it gets worse. The Federal Bureau of Investigation reports a 10 per cent increase in crime in 1963 over 1962. But in the first six months of 1964 the increase over the same period in 1963 was 15 per cent.

Sordid Scoreboard Here is the sordid scoreboard: Murder up 13 per cent. Robbery up 13 per cent. Rape up 20 per cent. Auto thefts up 17 per cent. Aggravated assault up 17 per cent. Residents in many large cities are afraid to be on the streets at night. But perish the thought that you would be safer in some neat, quiet suburb where the lights are out early and the doors are locked firmly. The crime rate for the nation's suburbs was up 23 per cent for the first six months of 1964, eight points above the national average. In trying to fix the blame for the upsurge of lawlessness people are inclined to strike out in all directions. Television is a favorite whipping boy, presumably on the theory that if you watch Marshal Dillon shoot a man in Dodge City shortly after the middle commercial in "Gunsmoke," you will be tempted to buy a gun and do something desperate. Motion pictures are accused of inflaming the young by creating a world of violence in which every child feels he may be called upon any minute to wage hand to hand combat with the Creature from the Black Lagoon.

Bond Demoralizing The other day the Salvation Army newspaper in London said Ian Fleming's fictional hero, James Bond, was demoralizing British youth and contributing to a nine per cent increase in indictable offenses in England and Wales. Bond was denounced for gambling, eating food in fancy restaurants with French menus, violence, sadism and excessive enthusiasm for the principles and practices of toujours l'amour on all continents and islands. Perhaps there is a grain of truth in the contention that there is some relation between the increase in crime and the activities of Dillon, Bond and the Creature, but there is also a high content of nonsense in it. Long before television and the movies were invented children were subjected to accounts of violence. If Dillon and Bond must go, then so must Little Red Riding Hood because she is the heroine of a story involving horse breaking, a threat to devour human flesh and an ax murderer. And our students must be protected from Shakespeare's "MacBeth" where the stage is strewn with almost as many bodies as there are in the Fisher Division of General Motors.

Focus on Small President Johnson has not said so, but it is safe to say his primary concern is not with the spectacular crimes that bring out the big headlines. We eagerly read about the theft of the Star of India sapphire from a New York museum, the robbery of a Brink's truck carrying big money and the senseless work of a vandal gouging holes in florentine paintings. But such things do not touch our daily lives or create dangers on the streets and our homes. The story of the sensational increase in crime usually is told in short stories under modest headlines inside our newspapers. You have to put them all together to get the real impact of what is going on. When you do that, as the FBI does in its Uniform Crime reports, the picture becomes clear and it isn't a pretty one. As we shall see tomorrow, the real culprit is the American youth.

Next: The desperate plight of our teen-agers.

Best Quality Top Product at Perry Typewriter Company

High quality bought in quantity is the motto of the Perry Brothers of Jerry Perry Typewriter and Adding Machine Company. According to Jerry and Charlie, approximately 95 per cent of new office typewriters are electric typewriters. The transition from manual to electric typewriters could be linked to the difference between a ride in an old horse drawn wagon and a modern automobile. With the electric typewriter the typist can enjoy easier, faster typing and have more uniform beautiful letters.

Jerry Perry is the exclusive representative for the Smith Corona Compact electric typewriter in Pampa and adjoining counties. The Smith Corona Compact Model 250 is now the fastest selling typewriter in the world. This is due largely to the fact that SCM engineers eliminated 1,800 parts, yet came up with a typewriter that is 100 per cent electric and sells for the price of an ordinary typewriter.

This little "secretary dream" has a full size keyboard but weighs only about one-half as much as the large electric, due to the elimination of the parts mentioned above. Jerry is also exclusive representative for the world famous Adler electric typewriter which is known for its precision German craftsmanship and the new benefit of being able to type on either carbon or ribbon at will, just by flicking a switch. Another remarkable benefit of the Adler is the automatic paper insertion which does away with the necessity of having to roll paper in the machine by turning the platen knobs.

Guarantees on machines purchased from Jerry and Charlie Perry are taken care of by their modern service facilities. Both Jerry and Charlie are "old timers" in the business. They have accumulated 35 years of combined experience in the servicing and sales of office machines. Charlie recently sold his office machine business in Great Bend, Kansas and joined the firm. He and his lovely wife Neva, have purchased a residence at 1112 Sirocco. They have a son Gary, who is 15 and a sophomore at Pampa High School. They have two daughters, Brenda, 5, and Shelly, 3. "The whole family loves Pampa," says Charlie, "and the people in the Golden Spread are the friendliest and most accommodating I have ever known." Both the Perry brothers are service trained on both typewriters and adding machines. They feel that this is a major factor in the fact that their sales are climbing upward each month. "Also," says Jerry, "more people are finding out that due to our quantity purchasing of high quality machines, we can furnish them with a machine for less money than our competitors."

Wide selection of rental machines with free pick up and delivery. Loaner machines are furnished free of additional charge for those machines requiring shop repair. Go by 2010 Alcock and see these quality machines.

Company President Morris Levine also revealed that the company expects to announce shortly record sales and earnings for its fiscal year which ended January 31, 1965. Profits are expected to show an increase of approximately 30 percent to an all-time high of about $1 million; sales will be in excess of $40 million, an increase of over 10 percent.

Pearson to Read Annual Speech

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress pauses today to pay tribute to George Washington on the 223rd anniversary of the first president's birth. The often-quoted phrases of Washington's stately farewell address were to be read once more in the House and Senate chambers according to a custom which began on Feb. 22, 1901.

Sen. James B. Pearson, R-Kan., was designated to read the address to the Senate, and Rep. Del Clawson, R-Calif., to the House. The annual reading usually takes about 45 minutes. Former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., breezed through the 7,641 words of the text in 41 minutes as the 1957 stand-in for Washington. That stands as an unofficial record for speed in recent years. The most familiar passage — "tis our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world" — is among the most quoted of American political utterances. Washington's farewell words summarized his deep "solicitude" for the welfare of the new nation. There were no other events scheduled today in either the House or Senate.

Other congressional news: Test Ban: The Senate military preparedness subcommittee set up a special watch-dog panel Saturday to oversee operations under the nuclear test ban treaty, including weapons tests by Red China. Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., named three members of the subcommittee to a special task force to monitor the treaty's "safeguards." Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., will head the group. Also named were Sens. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine.

ISSUED INSECTICIDE BRACKNELL, England (UPI)—Girls working at a laboratory here have been issued with insecticide sprays to fight off hungry mosquitoes, which are being bred in heated chambers to test new chemicals. "It's much better now," said one girl assistant. "Before, we spent all our time slapping at mosquitoes—and being bitten if we missed."
