AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Col. (UPI)—The Air Force Academy's examination cheating investigation was over today with 105 cadets shorn from the ranks and an undetermined number of others still facing honor system discipline.

Wednesday the 105 cadets who withdrew were directly involved in the cribbing. He recommended various types of discharges for the offenders, scaled to the nature of their participation in the scandal.

Other cadets, who knew of the cheating but did not participate, will face discipline under the cadet wing honor committee Warren said. They also could have been forced to choose between resigning or court martial.

Less than 6,400 persons will be eligible to vote in any elections held in Pampa and Gray County this year.

In announcing the end of the investigation which began Jan. 19, Warren still refused to make public any of the names of the cadets involved.

Warren said he had recommended honorable discharges from the Air Force for those of the 105 who merely cheated; general discharges for those who sold test questions and "other than honorable" discharges for those who actually stole test questions.

Texas to Join Remap Protest

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas became the 16th state today to petition Congress for a constitutional convention to nullify the U.S. Supreme Court's reapportionment rulings.

Forty of the resignations were submitted by athletes—29 of them football players. Two first team basketball players and a second-stringer also withdrew.

A few cadets—possibly only one—actually did the stealing, according to unconfirmed reports. Another 10 allegedly did the selling. The Air Force has declined to reveal details of the incident.

Warm Weather Still in Forecast

Pampans are expected to get a real touch of spring today and tomorrow as the U. S. Weather Bureau forecast the warmest weather so far this month for the next couple of days.

AN OASIS IN A SEA OF RUIN

By STANLEY SCOTT NEW YORK (UPI) — Can you imagine an oasis of tidy buildings, happy people, tree-lined sidewalks and nursery schools in a sea of poverty, crime, dope, addiction and the attendant misery that is a way of life in Harlem?

Known The Problem

There, in the words of a man who knows the situation intimately, is the problem faced by the composite force of private and public agencies who want to turn one dismal block, surrounded by hundreds of dismal blocks, into a magnificent example of how neighborhood rehabilitation can be accomplished — if you're willing to spend the money.

Haven For Addicts

"And it is a narcotics haven for dope addicts, alcoholics and prostitutes," said Sidney Evans in the course of a UPI survey of the block Wednesday. "These people (the government) are crazy to invest money in here. They are fools. The prisons have not been able to rehabilitate some of these people, now they say they are going to rehabilitate them with new homes."

Addressing his remarks to the Vietnamese people, Bundy said: "I can tell you plainly that the United States remains determined to work in partnership with you for the defeat of aggressors so that your families can sleep in peace."

Bundy stepped into a U.S. embassy limousine with Taylor, who met him at the airport, and the two men were locked in deep conversation as the car was driven into the city.

Large Attendance

Dr. L. P. Sturgeon, TSTA public relations director, told a TSTA rally in Austin Wednesday night. "We can't afford to accept a program which will give us only a $900 maximum salary spread over the next 10 years. The meeting was attended by 4,300 teachers and educators."

Program Outlined

If it becomes law, the four items would look like this: — University of Texas System: Main university, medical branches, Texas Western, North Texas State, Pan American, East Texas State, Southwest Texas State.

LBJ Asks Congress for 'Freedom of Action'

Rogers Accuses Republicans of 'Smear' Attempt

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa went on the floor of the House of Representatives in Washington yesterday afternoon and accused Republicans of what he called a "contemptible" attempt to smear him.

MEMORY TRAPS KIDNAPER — A happy seven-year-old Donna Adkins is held by her mother, Mrs. Clifford Adkins, as she goes home from the hospital in Cleveland, Ohio. Donna was kidnaped Jan. 22 and her kidnaper tried to destroy her eyes with blank cartridges to prevent his identification by the child. He destroyed one eye, but Donna's memory trapped the kidnaper when she supplied clues to the police.

President Strong on U.A.R. Aid

By ALVIN A. SPIVAK WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson urgently appealed to Congress today to grant him "freedom of action" to send surplus food to the United Arab Republic if he sees fit.

The House recently voted to ban U.S. sales of surplus food to the U.A.R. The Senate Wednesday approved a compromise which would give the President discretion on whether to authorize the shipments.

The President also referred to the civil rights crisis in Selma, Ala., where hundreds of Negroes have been arrested. He said the "basic problem in Selma is the slow pace of voter registration for Negroes qualified to vote."

Johnson said he will use the tools of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, including court action, to "see that the right to vote is secured for all our citizens."

"Nothing is more fundamental to our freedoms than the right to vote," the President said. "All Americans ought to be indignant when one American is denied the right to vote."

On other topics, Johnson: — Said the farm policy recommendations he sent to Congress in a special message today included a proposal for a "blue ribbon commission" to help in "adapting farm programs to the needs of the 20th century."

He said his proposals also called for continuing farm income supports because "it is right and proper that a grateful nation should properly reward" farmers who have provided it with food abundance at low costs.

— Withheld comment at this time on a suggestion made by French President Charles de Gaulle that a five-power conference, including Red China, be held to discuss revision of the United Nations. But he remarked: "It is the position of this country that the problems of the United Nations are traceable not to the charter but to those countries which have violated the spirit or letter of the charter."

— Declined to amplify on his statement Wednesday night that he hoped to meet with Soviet leaders, and go to Russia himself. He said his hopes for the meetings were based on discussions between representatives of the United States and the Soviet Union. The details of the meeting will be made public as soon as they are completed, he added.

— Said he "may have made a mistake" in not asking Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to attend Sir Winston Churchill's funeral last week. Johnson said he felt that with the Chief Justice Earl Warren, former

Pre-School Years Important for Teaching Child

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

How much should a child be taught before he enters school? Parents have a big job during the pre-school years. Much that is done during this period may affect the child's entire future.

Parents are involved in teaching many things to their children. Children learn a great deal from imitating what they see and hear. Other things are learned from experience while still other activities are taught by parents, other adults, and friends.

Children are usually anxious to walk and talk. As soon as their muscles and minds are sufficiently developed, they begin to copy. They try to do practically everything they see their parents doing. They want to wash their hands when they see mother doing this. They sit on a chair the same as dad. Feeding and diapering their dolls is fascinating when they see mom taking care of a baby.

This fascination that children have for repeating things they see and hear places a serious responsibility on parents. It is obvious that parents must be careful to set good examples. If dad carelessly hangs his clothes away and mom keeps the house neat, a child will tend to do the same.

What about a child's social development? This is an important area in which parents have much influence. Children must learn how to play with their friends. They should learn to share and respect property. This requires experience, advice, and careful handling.

Give your child many opportunities to play with other children. Don't be lazy and keep them in the house. When the weather permits, take them to the playground. Although it is not a good idea to constantly interfere when they are playing, you should be available when they need help. Give advice sparingly but give it at a time when it has the most meaning.

Children need to know that they are part of a happy family. Mom and dad will naturally have some arguments but constant bickering should be avoided.

There are many experiences which will help a child when he enters school. Don't pressure a child to learn, but don't underestimate his ability. If he wants to look through a book or magazine, help him.

Hot Soup, Bacon Sandwiches Make Luncheon Favorites

Bacon sandwiches and hot soup are traditional luncheon favorites. For a new twist serve this Hot Bacon 'N' Asparagus Luncheon Sandwich. The flavor of crisp brown sugar cured bacon combines well with asparagus spears, hard cooked eggs and avocado slices.

A sweet-sour sauce is made from the bacon drippings. The sauce is served over the luncheon sandwich adding just the right amount of tang.

Lean bacon with the sweet smoked taste is so good for any meal of the day. Popular for breakfast with eggs or coffee cake, bacon is also delicious in a hot bacon and corn chowder for Sunday supper. Luncheon sandwiches or salads are made irresistibly delicious with bacon.

It's easy to cook bacon for two or fifty. If only a few slices are needed, remove the desired number of slices in a group and place in an unheated skillet. The slices will separate easily when heated. Cook slowly and turn often to cook and brown evenly. Drain the bacon on absorbent paper. When cooking bacon for a crowd, place the separated slices on a rack set in a baking pan. Bake in a hot oven (400 F.) about 10 to 12 minutes to cook and brown. The bacon needs no turning and little watching.

HOT BACON 'N' ASPARAGUS LUNCHEON SANDWICHES
(Yield: 4 sandwiches)
1/2 pound sliced bacon
10 1/2 ounce package frozen asparagus spears
1/4 cup bacon drippings

Spiked Preserves

New preserves in the luxury class are flavored with Grand Marnier, an orange-cognac liqueur. The varieties are clear jelly marmalade made from Seville oranges, and Alberta peach preserves. The liqueur flavor predominates in all three.

1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons vinegar
2-3 cup water
4 slices sandwich bread, toasted
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
4 slices avocado

Pan-fry bacon until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Pour off all but 1/4 cup drippings. Cook asparagus according to package directions. Blend cornstarch, sugar, and salt into bacon drippings in pan. Add vinegar and water gradually and heat until thickened. To assemble sandwiches: place some asparagus spears on center of each slice of toast. Garnish with sliced eggs and avocado. Pour sauce over sandwiches. Top with bacon slices.

BACON WALDORF SALAD

(Yield: 6 servings)
1/2 pound sliced bacon
2 cups chopped apple
1 cup sliced banana
1/4 cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons peanut butter
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons milk
Pan-fry bacon until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Crumble bacon and combine with apple, banana, and nuts. Blend together peanut butter, mayonnaise, and milk. Pour over bacon mixture and toss lightly. Serve on lettuce.

Valentine Meringues That Say You Care

1 cup sugar
1 No. 2 can (2 1/2 cups) Cherry Pie Filling
1/2 cup orange marmalade
Vanilla ice cream

Combine egg whites, vanilla, cream of tartar and salt; beat until fluffy. Gradually add sugar and continue to beat until very stiff peaks form. Cover a cookie sheet with ungreased paper and draw eight 3 1/2 inch hearts. Spread each with meringue and shape with a spoon. Bake in a 275 degree oven for 1 hour. Cool. Combine cherry pie filling and marmalade; heat. Fill meringues with ice cream and serve with warm cherry sauce. Makes 8 servings.

Herbed Butter

Herbed butter gives new zest to leftover cornbread. Combine 1-3 cup of melted butter with 1/4 teaspoon of oregano, 1/4 teaspoon of marjoram and a dash of garlic powder. Brush onto cornbread that has been cut into one by two-inch sticks. Wrap cornbread sticks in aluminum foil and heat about 10 minutes, or until hot, in preheated 400-degree oven.

For Peanut Butter Fans

For a lunch box treat or an after-school snack, make easy peanut butter bars. In a double boiler, melt together 1/4 cup of butter, 1-3 cup of chunk-style peanut butter and 32 large marshmallows. Stir occasionally until blended. Meantime, heat 5 cups of puffed rice in a shallow baking pan for 10 minutes in preheated 350-degree oven. Pour hot sauce over hot cereal.

Cook potatoes and other large vegetable in a french fryer wire basket to prevent steam burns caused by boiling water. stirring to coat evenly. Pack into greased 7 by 11-inch pan. Cool. Cut into 2 dozen bars.

Business Highlights

NEW YORK (UPI)—A boost in the common dividend of General Motors drew general satisfaction in the financial community despite disappointed men that the automaker did not announce a stock split.

On the heels of record earnings directors voted a dividend of 75 cents a share. The company had been paying 65 cents a share in recent quarters.

NEW YORK—American Metals Climax, Inc., said its Australian partner, Mount Newman Iron Ore Co., has signed a 22-year contract to supply $1 billion worth of ore to the Japanese steel industry. The venture will require investment of $150 million in mines and a railway to Australia's northern coast.

NICE GESTURE
NICE, France (UPI) — Actress Sophia Loren, making a new film here, donated $2,000 to enable a local woman to have a delicate heart operation.

The Italian movie star heard an appeal for the money over television and rang the station to offer the whole sum, then had the check delivered.

French Leader De Gaulle An Old Man In a Hurray

PARIS (UPI) — At 74 President Charles de Gaulle of France is an old man in a hurry.

He is racing against the inexorably encroaching years to unfold his own blueprint or "grand design" for the future of Europe and the world.

It is a grand design based on what aides have called "a Monroe Doctrine for Europe."

"Europe for the Europeans and no domination by Washington" is the central theme.

Continued alliance with the United States — yes, De Gaulle considers that a basic element.

Equal Partners

But alliance, he never tires of telling listeners, implies a partnership of equals. Any form of American "domination" of "heemony," as he calls it, is out. De Gaulle uses a technique of "jolts and shocks" rather than quiet diplomacy to advance his program.

When he decided two years ago to veto British membership of the European Common Market because he considered Britain an American "Trojan Horse" in the European camp, aides warned it would mean trouble.

"Of course. There will be a terrible uproar to start with," De Gaulle is said to have replied. "But eventually they'll see I was right."

Whether they did or not is still a moot point. But De Gaulle has found the jolts-and-shocks technique highly effective. It's a safe bet he will use it again when it seems the best means of getting his own way.

Promises Lively Year

"I can promise you 1965 isn't going to be a boring year," he told newsmen with a malicious glint in his eye recently.

"I do what I know is best for France," he tells visitors. He believes it firmly. It explains in part why he has become known as the "loner" or "odd-man-out" of the Western Alliance.

Only recently De Gaulle racked up two quite sizeable diplomatic successes by judicious use of these tactics.

He high-pressured the other five European Common Market members into agreeing on common grain prices; more or less on his own terms, by threatening to walk out of the six-nation group if they failed to meet his 1964 year-end deadline.

Similarly, he threatened to boycott the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and to junk the two-year-old French-German alliance if the United States and West Germany went ahead with their Allied Nuclear Force (MLF) project.

Buries MLF Project

The plan has not been scrapped altogether. But it has been placed so deep in cold storage that De Gaulle no longer considers it an immediate threat.

De Gaulle's "Europe for the Europeans" grand design often has been interpreted as basically "anti-American." Aides deny this. They say De Gaulle is so convinced of the need for the alliance with the United States that he does not even consider it a matter for discussion.

Yet he also goes to quite considerable lengths to demonstrate his "independence" of the United States.

In a speech at Strasbourg on Nov. 22, his 74th birthday, he virtually told the West Germans they would have to choose between alliance with France and casting in their lot with the United States.

He also has been cranking up a campaign of late against what he terms American "economic colonization" of Europe — meaning establishment by American corporations of plants in Europe or purchase by them of controlling interests in European companies.

A TOUCH OF BEAUTY—The early morning sun shimmers slightly on the soft ripples of the Jhelum River at Srinagar, Kashmir, India, as two fishermen leave their floating homes for a day on the river. It's no wonder Indians are fiercely proud of their country.

CYPRIOUS WOUNDED

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — A Turkish Cypriot was wounded in the arm by gunshot fire as he was grazing his flock of sheep outside the village of Ay Khariton, a U. N. spokesman said.

The spokesman said the Turk was shot by Greek Cypriots.

"POLL TAX"

A poll tax is a uniform amount levied upon each individual or a tax of so much per head (poll) is the Middle English word for head, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Some Disability Payments Not Taxable Income

Some payments received by a taxpayer on account of illness or personal injury are not taxable income for Federal tax purposes, Richard V. White, administrative officer of Internal Revenue in Pampa, said today.

The law allows (subject to certain limitations) a taxpayer to exclude from income amounts received under a wage continuation plan financed by his employer, when he is absent from his job due to injury or sickness. In this case the taxpayer must attach a statement to his return showing computation of the amount excluded, the dates of absence, and whether or not he was hospitalized.

Other types of payments that are not taxable are those made:

1. For damages under a suit or in settlement of a claim under Workman's Compensation Acts, and under an accident or health insurance policy on which the taxpayer pays the premiums.
2. On account of a Taxpayer's Contribution to an accident or health plan jointly financed by him and his employer.
3. Under an employer-financed plan covering sickness or injury to the taxpayer or his dependents, if received as reimbursement for medical care, or as compensation for the permanent loss or loss of use of a member or function of the body, or for permanent disfigurement.
4. As pension, annuities, or similar allowance to an individual for injury or sickness resulting from active service in the armed forces of any country, or in the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, or in the U. S. Public Health Service, or to his beneficiaries by reason of his death.

Document 5016, which furnishes more detailed information on this subject, is available upon request from the Internal Revenue Service.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Chile elects a new congress on March 7 and for President Eduardo Frei the day cannot come too soon.

Frei won his own election by the greatest landslide in Chilean history, and on Nov. 3 took office with a read-made program of "revolution in liberty."

But a lame-duck congress which doodled while Frei fumed has taken the steam out of the early excitement and refused even to consider bills labeled by the government as "extremely urgent."

Hamstringing the government is the fact that Frei's Christian Democratic party controls only 33 of the 192 congressional seats a situation which the persuasive Frei hopes to reverse in March. Legislation which Frei seeks and which congress so far has failed to pass, strikes directly at what have become traditional Chilean injustices.

Must-Import Food

One is a land tenure system which keeps much of the population in poverty and which is so inefficient that Chile must import half her food.

Another is an inequitable tax system which simply increases the gulf between the rich and the poor.

And a third which has contributed heavily to Chile's strong Communist party is low pay for brutally long hours, especially in rural areas.

As a starter, Frei made three key proposals.

One would be a capital-property tax to raise $100 million a year over the next five years to finance education and housing projects. This bill came under attack from both the political center and conservative right.

The government estimated that only 15 per cent of the people would be affected by the new tax.

Sought Special Powers

A second proposal dealt with a second clearance, and a third with special powers to help the president govern. The latter came under special attack because it would give the president the power to take his proposals to a plebiscite if they failed to win approval of congress.

It was a weapon congress did not want to give Frei who has been taking more and more to the air waves to defend his "government for the humble."

Also awaiting congressional approval is a plan already worked out with U.S.-owned copper companies for greater Chilean participation in its greatest money-producing industry.

This would give Chile a controlling 51 per cent in the Braden Copper Co., a Kennecott subsidiary, for $80 million; 49 per cent in a mixed exploration company with Anaconda; 33 per cent of any new Anaconda mine and 25 per cent in various other projects.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Alexander Hamilton Institute says investors should utilize current market strength to eliminate weak or poor acting stocks from their portfolios.

The institute believes there are too many uncertainties in the business, political and international outlooks to warrant making new commitments in any but very carefully selected stocks at present high levels.

Investors Research Co. says investment accounts should remain fully invested since the intermediate trend is still bullish and the buying momentum generated in January is not likely to subside overnight. However, it advises extremely limited new buying.

Colby & Co. Inc. says some minor weakness should be experienced this week but it cannot, at this time, see any compelling reason to expect a correction of as much as secondary importance.

New Kerchief Hats Are Hits

POPULAR SILHOUETTE — One of the season's most popular silhouettes is the kerchief cap or scarf hat found in a wide variety of fabrics such as jersey, felt, wool, silk and fur. Kerchief turban of beige felt (left) by Mrs. John Jr. is draped toll in the crown. Big black grosgrain bow adds contrast. For late day through evening Lemington fashions a kerchief hat (right) of sleek satin. Soft folds circle the crown and focus on the elongated back bow.

Ruth Millett Preserve Us From 'Effective Beauty Pill'

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. News item with a London date-line:

"A British scientist says that a youth pill is being perfected here that will enable a pretty woman to preserve her—good looks for years."

If the pill ever does work, it's good news for every girl who is born beautiful. But it won't be such a happy invention for the plain Janes.

In the past a plain girl always had the assurance (for what comfort it might give her) that beauty is at best a fleeting thing. With that in mind a plain girl, if she had enough get-up-and-go, could concentrate on more lasting qualities than mere beauty.

She could learn how to dress to best advantage, cultivate charm, broaden her interests, sharpen her intellect.

By age 40 she stood a good chance of being a more attractive woman than the one whose youthful beauty had faded and who had never felt the necessity for developing more lasting qualities. But if a youth pill will someday keep a pretty girl pretty until age 60 or 70 (which is what the scientist is hoping it will do when perfected), the plain girl will have to compete with beauty most of her days. And that is a bit discouraging to contemplate. But until a youth pill has actually proved to work, plain Janes still have the comfort of knowing that beauty is not only skin-deep — it's fleeting. They can carry on, hopefully preparing for the day when they will come into their own. And if they hope there will NEVER be a successful youth pill — who can blame them?

This year at the Roundup there will be eight troops with four patrols each and instead of taking gifts for swaps, they are taking them for "Potlatch". "Potlatch" is the ceremony of giving gifts with meanings. The program consisted of a skit by Senior Troop 91 of Shamrock, Pam Purcell and Sharon Williamson of Phillips gave a report of their Senior Troop 151's visit to Hawaii, and showed films. Mrs. John Brewer, volunteer trainer of Pampa, presented the LIT recognition ceremony for girls completing the course. On Wishful Thinking

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON Voluntary Unionism The Union Bosses ride tall in The Great Society saddle.

Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act grants each state the right to decide whether, within its borders, union membership shall be voluntary or compulsory.

Texans Can Resign If you are a Democrat, Republican, Communist, Texan, Mason, B'Nai B'rith, Catholic, Holy Roller, Rotarian or John Birchler, you can resign, join another organization or none and suffer no consequences.

True liberty means more than freedom from servitude. Liberty means freedom to serve or not to serve, to work or not to work.

Right-to-work laws are merely a restatement of our constitutional guarantees of individual freedom. Union shop advocates claim that the worker whose pay and fringes are bargained for by the union but who does not pay dues to the union is a "free rider."

Why are the union bosses so obsessed with destroying right-to-work laws? Union officials derive most of their personal power from this compulsory membership which delivers to them dictatorial power over the nation's economy.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Schooling, Learning Not Same Thing as Education

By SAM CAMPBELL Business Editor

Everybody has a secret ambition. Me, I would like to go down in some historical footnote as the chap who finally brought home to the minds of Americans the difference between schooling and education.

The two terms and the two separate processes to which they severally refer now are and have been, hopelessly confused.

As a consequence we have teachers who appropriate to themselves the title of "educator" because they have cut the classroom to assume a loftier status in the bureaucracy.

Webster's Third International is no help in clearing up the "education" mess. It defines the term as the "act or process of educating or of being educated."

Education is the sacred province of the individual. Only you can turn it on for yourself. Your education process begins when you decide to think for yourself.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government, which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "How should one answer the oft-repeated statement that it is easy to find fault with a course of action but what is needed is constructive criticism?"

Answer: One would have to first define what constructive criticism is. Constructive criticism would seem to be anything that would promote man's freedom and that which would permit each individual to use his creative energy to be superior to his previous self, if he so wills.

With that definition, it would seem that finding fault or pointing out the errors and the eventual consequences of an act that is based on immorality or initiated force has to be first pointed out so it can be stopped.

The only constructive criticism it would seem would be to stop an act that violates the self-evident fact that stealing, either individually or collectively, in the long run is harmful. It leads to the degrading of character and retards production and interferes with freedom.

It will be remembered that nine of the ten commandments are "Thou shalt not."

It is difficult to have constructive criticism for something that is based on immorality because the means pre-determines the result.

Would any individual who believes in tax-supported schools contend for a minute that he as an individual had a right to force his neighbor to pay for his ideas of education of his child?

As Isabel Paterson said, "The only way to have constructive criticism about putting strychnine in your coffee is for the perpetrator to stop putting strychnine in your coffee."

The American Way

By HARRY BROWNE Perhaps no economic fear haunts the average individual more than the possibility of another "great depression" like that of the 1930's.

GOP's 1943 Policy Is 1965 Guide

By BRUCE BLOSSAT Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Republican party's broad policy conference at Mackinac Island in 1943 may have some significant questions for GOP leaders who question the practicality of such a parley today.

Barry Goldwater wonders how it can fairly be decided who should attend a party-wide meeting. And he doubts anything it would agree upon would supersede the 1964 party platform as a general policy declaration.

Ray Bliss of Ohio, newly but not yet seated GOP national chairman, indicates he will have to be satisfied of the prospect of concrete accomplishment before he will commit himself to a "leadership" conference.

Meantime, the 17 Republican governors, led by Gov. Robert Smylie of Idaho, are on record as favoring a meeting they can hardly be heartened by expressions which stress how difficult it is even to pick representative conferees.

The Mackinac Conference in 1943 is instructive. It grew out of informal discussions among party leaders, led by the then national chairman, Harrison Spangler, over a five-month span. By June 1 of that year its formation was announced.

Its not too unwieldy membership of 50 included all 24 Republican governors, 12 U.S. House members, nine top party officials (six of them National Committee members), five U.S. senators.

Public works programs were conducted from 1925 onward—the stated purpose being to "stabilize depressions." Grants-in-aid subsidies were passed onto the state governments, beginning in 1921. This program is almost 100 times as large today.

During the 20's, the Federal Reserve System allowed bank inflation to proceed on a wide scale; banks were lending out more money than they had deposits to cover.

At the same time, the FRS created its own inflation through the purchase of federal bonds—a process that created paper money where none previously existed.

The politicians also coerced the steel industry into making concessions in wage and price policies during the twenties (sound familiar?).

Public works programs were conducted from 1925 onward—the stated purpose being to "stabilize depressions." Grants-in-aid subsidies were passed onto the state governments, beginning in 1921.

These are but a few of the ways the artificial boom of the twenties was stimulated and sustained by political devices. The pattern is always the same.

1. The politician promises some of the people that he can provide "something for nothing."

2. He believes he can satisfy the people from whom the "something" will be stolen, by feeding extra paper money into circulation.

3. Then natural economic laws begin to demand punishment for these crimes against reality. So the politician steps up the inflationary push, hoping to ward off the inevitable collapse—at least until the next administration takes over.

4. Eventually, nature exacts its price. The "something" that was supposed to cost "nothing" turns out to cost much more than anticipated, and a depression results.

As we can see, the same political unreality of the twenties is in full bloom today. The only difference is that the techniques have now been refined to where the cost is mounting even higher.

Freedom is the natural state of the economy. It's what we're going through today that can't possibly work.

House Works Group To Hear Governors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Governors of three Appalachia states were scheduled to appear today before a House public works subcommittee hearing testimony on President Johnson's $1.1 billion redevelopment program for the area.

The governors were William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, Hewlett Smith of West Virginia and J. Millard Taves of Maryland. Other governors from the 11 states affected by the program were to submit statements.

All of the chief executives from the Appalachia states have previously given their general endorsements to the Senate-passed legislation, which would finance a connecting highway network and develop natural resources.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Robert E. Jones, D - Ala., expects to vote on the measure Friday and send it to the full committee for action next week. Floor consideration on the bill, part of President Johnson's overall antipoverty campaign, is expected before March 1.

Other congressional news:

Disability: The Senate Judiciary Committee is expected to act today on a proposed constitutional amendment to set procedures for takeover by the vice president in cases of presidential disability. Endorsed by President Johnson, the measure would also provide for filling vacancies in the vice presidency.

Baker: Former White House aide Walter Jenkins was scheduled to appear before a closed Senate Rules Committee hearing on the Bobby Baker case. A source said that a psychiatrist would testify that Jenkins was not able to testify for medical reasons.

Agriculture: President Johnson's agriculture message was scheduled to go to Capital Hill. The agriculture program for the fiscal year beginning July 1 was not expected to contain many changes from present administration policies.

Feel Lucky She Didn't Use the Sweet Vermouth

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most advice to the Jovelorn columns are written by women. Which is hunky-dory with me. I prefer to deal with problems of a more abstract nature.

Occasionally, however, there arises a problem of the type that one hesitates to confide to a woman. And when that happens, I am always willing to pitch in and lend a hand.

"Dear sir:

"I hesitate to bother you with a martial matter, but I am afraid the ladies of our profession who dole out domestic advice would miss the point of this cataclysmic event.

"A short time ago I acquired a jug of an exquisite (and expensive) English gin, my favorite nectar. One evening recently, after a particularly trying day at the office, I asked my helpmate to prepare me a martini.

"When she handed me the frosty glass I took a sip, anticipating instant bliss. But horror of horrors!

"When I regained my faculties sufficiently I gasped, 'Woman! Are you trying to poison me? What is this terrible, lethal concoction?' And she replied, ever so innocently, 'Why, it's two parts of gin and one of dry vermouth.'

"My question, kind sir, is this: Shall I forgive, try to forget, and take her back?"

The above letter was signed by Terry McHale of the Flint (Mich.) Journal, with whom I once was associated in a project to devise a system for measuring the intensity of hangovers.

For that reason, I gave my reply even more careful consideration than might ordinarily be the case.

"Dear Mr. McHale:

"There is a lot of sadness in the world.

"Once at a garden party I saw a woman empty an entire glass of Scotland's most cherished fluid product simply because a gnat had crash-landed on one of the ice cubes.

"From a strictly legal standpoint, your wife doesn't have a leg, or jigger, to stand on. Any court in the land would uphold your petition and award you custody of the corkscrew.

"It would be advisable, however, to consider this matter in the light of recent findings by Dr. Wilhelm Bartowel, the noted anthropologist.

"His studies indicate that the same structural weakness which causes women to play poker with deuces, sevens, red queens and one-eyed jacks wild also renders them incapable of creating a potable martini.

"Even when correctly proportioned, it will be improperly stirred.

"By all means, take her back, sir. And consider yourself lucky that she didn't use sweet vermouth."

PHS Debate Team Presents Program

A debate team from Pampa High School presented the program at the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday noon in the Coronado Inn.

Jan Farley and Pat Ludeman took the affirmative on the subject, "Resolved: That Nuclear Weapons Should Be Controlled By An International Organization". Sammie Monroe and Jimmy Helms represented the negative side. Mrs. Don Myers is head of the speech aid debate department at the high school.

January Junior Rotarian Mark Westbrook introduced Carl Harnsberger, who will serve as Junior Rotarian during the month of February. Carl is a member of the Harvester basketball team.

Rotary President Gordon Lyons announced that the annual 'Ladies Night' banquet will be held Thursday, Feb. 11 in the Coronado Inn.

Casey Still Trying For Parent Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Sp)— A Texas lawmaker has reopened his battle in Congress to bring tax relief to the parents of college students, to homeowners, and to working mothers who must pay for child care.

Rep. Bob Casey of Houston, a four-term Democrat, introduced three tax relief bills in the House of Representatives Tuesday.

The first would permit parents of college students to deduct the actual costs of keeping dependents in college not to exceed $1,500 per year.

The second would permit homeowners to deduct actual cost of repair and improvement to his home from gross income reported not to exceed $750 per year.

Casey's third bill would permit working mothers to deduct the actual cost of child care from gross income reported not to exceed $2,400 per year, a substantial increase over the present allowable of up to $900.

"These three segments of our population need immediate tax relief," Casey said, and so far, they have been completely overlooked by Congress.

"I'm particularly gratified that my efforts to bring tax relief to parents of college students, and to homeowners for the expense of repairs to their residence, are gaining support throughout the country," Casey stated.

"I have been fighting for this since I came to Congress, and we are slowly making headway. Whether we are successful depends upon the support given these proposals by the people."

Casey pointed out the federal government spends millions on urban renewal and slum clearance programs.

"My bill would give homeowners the incentive to keep their property in repair. It would also permit rent property owners to amortize the cost of rehabilitating or restoring rental housing, and would strike at preventing slums rather than waiting until they are created to act," Casey said.

Casey's bills were referred to the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

"I intend to do my utmost to press the Committee for consideration of these bills," Casey stated. "I am convinced to the soundness of this approach in bringing relief to these people."

Ancient Greeks called themselves Hellenes after a legendary ancestor named Hellen.

If you're going to enter something like the Pure Oil Performance Trials, you might as well do it to win.

So we did. Class IV—won by Buick Special.

Down at Daytona Beach, we gave everyone another look at Buick's "Win Policy". A V-8 Buick Special won over stiff competition (sorry, boys!) in Class IV—in the 1965 Pure Oil Performance Trials. The winning Special was equipped with our 300 cubic inch Wildcat 310-V-8 and Super Turbine Transmission.

Remember that the drivers in the Performance Trials are skilled professionals, and the cars finely tuned standard production models. (If it can be said that the Special is "Standard" anything.) Also remember that the trials are an exhausting, carefully graded test of a car's all-around ability. In economy, acceleration and braking. Small wonder the Special came out on top. Handsomely.

(The specific detail? Our hero averaged 20.689 mpg in economy, to score second among 10 cars. It accomplished the acceleration test—from 25 to 70 mph—in 9.315 seconds, for a fifth. And took another second in braking: from 65 to 0 mph in 172.0 feet. The cumulative result: we won all the marbles in Class IV.)

Now then. If you're going to enter something—like a car—you might as well do it to win, too. Your Buick dealer can introduce you to the driver's seat of a Buick Special.
