REUTHER WOUNDED BY GUNMAN

UAW Chief Receives Arm, Chest Wounds

DETROIT — (AP) — The CIO's Walter P. Reuther escaped death at a gunman's hand last night.

Walter P. Reuther

A mysterious assailant, creeping to a lighted kitchen window of the auto unionist's home, fired a shotgun blast at Reuther, inflicting serious arm and chest wounds.

Early today, as doctors reported Reuther out of danger, a battery of Detroit's police and top detectives followed slim clues in the assault.

For a time it was feared that Reuther, fiery president of the CIO's United Auto Workers, might lose his right arm, shattered by several slugs.

Reuther himself, according to Prosecutor James N. McNally, blamed "management Communists or a screwball." However, the prosecutor said Reuther "wasn't much help on what happened."

The 40-year-old red-haired, aggressive UAW leader has long been an avowed foe of communism.

Currently his big auto union, which speaks for nearly 1,000,000 workers of the car plants, is pressing its new Spring wage increase demand on the industry.

The injury to the UAW's chief left in question meanwhile the extent to which he can take part in his union's wage drive. Doctors said he would be hospitalized perhaps for weeks.

Reuther was shot a few minutes after returning home from a meeting of the UAW International Executive Board.

As he stood at a refrigerator in the breakfast nook of his home on the northwest side, a blast was fired through a window four or five feet from him.

Body Returned For Reburial

The body of Joe M. DeGrace, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. DeGrace, of 124 W. Foster, will arrive in Pampa in the morning.

Joe was a private in Company A of the 28th Replacement Draft in the 3rd Marine Division. He was killed on Iwo Jima, March 9, 1945.

His body will lie in state in the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home until service arrangements are made.

Portable Iron Lung Demonstrated

Fire Chief Ernest Winborne and members of the Pampa Fire Department demonstrated the department's Mullikin portable iron lung respirator to an assembly in the Junior High School Auditorium at 11 a. m. today.

The machine is used to apply artificial respiration in cases of drowning, heart attacks or severe shock from cases of various sizes of fits. It is fitted around the patient's chest and the neck and arm holes and the bottom of the cage are sealed with wide bands of rubber. A bellows attachment then contracts and expands the patient's ribs, forcing air into the lungs.

The motor that runs the bellows can be operated from an ordinary household electric connection, from an automobile or truck battery, or from a home generator.

Pampa Fire Chief Points to Importance of Clean Up Week

Plans for Clean Up Week in Pampa, being sponsored here by the Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary and Junior Chamber of Commerce clubs, with the assistance of the senior Chamber of Commerce, are coming along rapidly.

Dates for the campaign are the last week in April, from the 26th to the 30th, inclusive. The accumulated trash and stuff to be disposed of will be picked up in Ward One on Monday, Ward Two on Tuesday, Ward Three on Wednesday, and Ward Four on Thursday.

All trash will be picked up except garbage and tree limbs. The City Street Department will haul tree trimmings away for a nominal charge per load.

Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said today, "If everyone will clean up his part of the alley, and his part of his yard, this cleaning-up will not only be easier, but will also be much quicker."

Someone with a turn for mathematics estimated during the recent heavy snow in New York City that, if every man, woman, and child in the city would discard a shovel full of snow, the entire city would be clean in an hour.

That may be a little far-fetched, but if every person in Pampa would clean his part of the city, the entire city would be clean and sanitary in very short order.

Winborne goes on to say: "Attics, closets, and garages should be included in the clean up. All those old chairs you have been saving, those old papers, and anything you have that you saved for some reason, long forgotten, should be put on the street. A clean house never burns."

A letter to Winborne from the National Fire Protection Association said: "Every year, fire alone, takes 400,000 dwellings off the real estate market. A good part of these homes are totally lost. Every 90 seconds a fire breaks out in an American home, and once every 50 minutes someone is burned to death."

Clean Up Week, if conducted correctly, will help eliminate the causes for these fires. All persons must cooperate with the various organizations working to make Pampa a better and safer town in which to live.

Communism Has Suffered Great Defeat

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Anti-Communist forces appear to have won a smashing victory for freedom in the Italian national election. Parties have to have a far-reaching influence on the cold-war between Russia and the democracies.

The returns aren't complete at this writing, but Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democrats and other right wing parties have sufficient lead so that Victor Premier Saragat has announced "The Communists will not be admitted into Italy's new government."

If that proves to be true it represents a sensational defeat for the numerically greatest Communist Party outside Russia.

Saragat, head of the anti-Communist Socialists, interpreted the upset thus:

"The Italian election means a rebirth of democracy in Europe. The victory of democratic forces is a great setback to Russia. Communist plans for expansion into Europe and not of the Balkans."

That's what we like to read, but let's temper our exultation with a bit of caution. Even if final returns bear out the present estimate, we mustn't overlook this: Until Italy's first full-fledged post-war Parliament meets next month and elects a new president there will be danger of a bolt.

The Italian Communist leader, Palmiro Togliatti, has promised that Reds won't use force but observers aren't making any bets on such assurance. Saragat himself warns that "the election doesn't mean the final defeat of communism in Italy."

"This is more difficult because the Communists cannot be fought by police measures, but only through social measures. The Communist Party will remain strong here as it is today in (See COMMUNISM, Page 8)

Asphalt Blaze Is Extinguished

Asphalt in a melting pot belonging to the State Highway Department caught fire at 7:35 p. m. today at the corner of Hughes and Frederick.

The asphalt boiled over and was flowing into the gutter when the Fire Department answered the call. Chief Ernest Winborne said.

The Fire Department answered a call to 403 W. Foster at 7:35 p. m. yesterday to extinguish a car fire. A broken trouble light ignited some alcohol near the car and started the blaze. The damage was slight, Winborne said.

Report on Jaycee Convention Given

A report of activities of the local Jaycees at the State Junior Chamber of Commerce Convention held in El Paso last week was given by Jim Arndt, president of the local Jaycees, at the club's weekly luncheon held yesterday noon in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

Twelve members of the local Jaycees attended the state meeting.

Other business pertained to the Jaycees' part in the city-wide clean up campaign, which gets underway Saturday.

Disintegration of Popular Front Seen

ROME — (AP) — Right signs of possible disintegration of the Communist-dominated Popular Front appeared today as Italian election returns strengthened the already dominant position of anti-Communist forces.

Giuseppe Romita, former minister of the interior, and until now an ally of the fellow-traveling Socialist Parties, handed to newspapers copies of a letter he wrote party members inviting them to a meeting to take steps to "regain the independence" of the Socialist Party.

He said he wrote the letter Monday before returns started coming in. Five other Socialist leaders signed the letter with him. The Socialists split in Italy and part joined the Popular Front and part went along with Premier Alcide De Gasperi in his middle-of-the-road government.

Final returns from the Senate election Sunday and Monday, issued this morning by the interior ministry, showed the Christian Democrats had won 47.9 percent of the total vote in contests for 237 seats at state. That compared with 35.2 percent they got in the last elections in 1946.

The Popular Front got 21 percent down from the 39.7 percent the Communists and pro-Communist Socialists got in 1946.

The Senate totals announced by the ministry:

Christian Democrats 10,740,131. Popular Front 6,985,229. Independent Socialist Party, 1,580,722 (7 percent). Rightist National Bloc 1,364,741 (6.1 percent). Republicans 437,433 (2.9 percent). National Monarchists 436,597 (2 percent). Independents 278,351 (1.2 percent). Italian Social Movement 244,646 (1.1 percent).

In the races for 874 seats in the Chamber of Deputies, the ministry of interior announced results in 35,929 of the nation's 41,678 precincts:

Christian Democrats 10,878,783 (48.5 percent). Popular Front 7,660,119 (31.5 percent). Socialist Party 1,542,095 (6.9 percent).

Only persons over 25 years of age were eligible to vote for senators. All the 29,000,000 registered voters were eligible to vote in the deputies contests. News papers figured today that approximately 95.5 percent of the eligible voters in Senate contests and two thirds of those in the chamber races.

There still was no certainty as to the composition of the two chambers of the legislature, which will elect the new republic's first president May 10. Most politicians here look for granted that the seating would just about follow the percentage of the popular vote, but the elective system made it too complicated for any flat prediction.

On the basis of the popular vote it appeared the Christian Democrats would fall just short of an absolute majority in the Senate and Chamber. With its allies the Independent Socialists of Giuseppe Saragat, Socialist Party, and the Republicans of Rinaldo Ossola, however, it apparently will have comfortable margins with which to work.

The combined percentage of the three parties in the Senate is 57.8 percent. In the Chamber, on the basis of this morning's returns, it is just about the same.

Lewis Asks Miners To Return to Pits

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today issued a ban against a soft-coal strike for about 80 days.

This injunction replaces a temporary court order which John L. Lewis was found guilty of violating. It was Lewis' disregard for the temporary order which brought him a $20,000 fine personally and the United Mine Workers a $1,400,000 one yesterday for contempt.

Lewis still faces the possibility of further fines, or even jail, on a contempt count and has telegraphed the miners his wish that they get back to work.

Goldsborough approved the injunction on the plea of a government that "the public interest remains in peril" and a strike still exists.

There still was widespread idleness in the coal fields today. Many miners obviously were sore over the whopping fines Goldsborough imposed. But signs were strong that normal operation of the mines may be resumed within a few days at the latest.

Last night Lewis sent telegrams to all district union presidents saying it was his wish that the miners go back to work.

The result was an avalanche of orders from the 27 United Mine Workers district presidents directing the 400,000 soft coal diggers to be back on the job in force by Monday at the latest.

The air cleared at once, and the pension strike which began March 15 seemed definitely over. There was no "code or wink or nod" in the message Lewis sent to his top union lieutenants. He said flatly he wished they would go back to work immediately.

Justice Goldsborough had said Lewis used a "code" in the four-week strike over pensions. Lewis is due to appear before Goldsborough again Friday to hear a possible sentence against him and the union for civil contempt.

Monday's verdict held them guilty of both criminal and civil contempt. But Goldsborough this far has punished them only for the criminal offense. He said he didn't want to emphasize the civil phase, because another fine would only shift a lot of money "from one class (the miners) to the whole people."

But the government, acting through Assistant Attorney General H. Grabham Morton, insisted that the civil penalty be held in reserve until Friday. The idea was to keep a sort of weapon over the heads of Lewis and the miners to see whether they actually would end the pension strike.

Local officials expected full production to be restored by tomorrow or Monday at the latest. Some thought normal crews would be at work late today.

Lewis, president of the UMW, last night sent telegrams to district presidents saying: "I do hope you will convey to each member my wish that they immediately return to work."

That message, close on the heels of $1,420,000 fines meted out to Lewis and the union on contempt of court charges, found thousands upon thousands of miners able to show their resentment.

In some places, response to the Lewis message was immediate. But in many other mining centers, particularly Western Pennsylvania, where many miners refused to work this morning, the diggers waited to learn the decision of local leaders.

At a few spots, a non-work movement was reported. In Hazleton, Pa., in the anthracite fields, about 800 men thrived to work at four operations. Some 300 miners, members of local 823 at Barton, Md., voted to remain idle for an indefinite period. Other Maryland local unions scheduled meetings between now and Monday.

Sam Caddy, UMW district president at Lexington, Ky., predicted a full scale return to work tomorrow at Kentucky mines.

Bellevue, Ohio, met but did not vote on the Lewis telegram. Instead it talked about the fine of $1,420,000 which Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough imposed on Lewis and the UMW yesterday, after their conviction for contempt of court.

"Judge Goldsborough is unfit to sit on a federal bench," one union official thundered.

Waves of walkouts, touched off by the Lewis conviction Monday, and his firing yesterday, had a scheduled meetings of another general mine strike.

Although no accurate count was available, unofficial estimates indicated perhaps half of the 400,000 UMW members had joined the walkout by yesterday afternoon.

Warning on Trash Fires Is Issued

The Fire Department answered a call to the rear of 916 E. Browning at 1:30 a. m. yesterday when burning trash had ignited the fence and burned a trunk and its contents in the house.

Fire Chief Ernest Winborne asks everyone to refrain from burning trash in barrels behind their homes. This trash fire was supposedly out when the residents went to bed, but the high wind that started early in the morning re-ignited the blaze, and very serious damage could have resulted, Winborne said.

The meeting is open to the public and all interested have been invited, it was stated.

Possibility of Texas Demo Bolt Fades

By The Associated Press
Texas Democrats today took sides in a fight for and against the renomination of President Truman. The issue of a party bolt in the wake of rival barbecues at Fort Worth and at Mother Neff State Park near Waco.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester disposed of the bolt question at the Fort Worth anti-Truman feed by advising Texas and Southern Democrats to stick with the party no matter how angry they are with the President.

Woodville Rogers of San Antonio, chairman of the Texas Democratic faction in the Waco crowd that the leaders of the Democratic organization in Texas are attempting "sabotage of the only candidate the Democratic Party has."

There were about 1,000 persons at the organization's feed at Will Rogers Memorial near downtown Fort Worth. Out in the woods for Truman 30 miles from Waco there were about 500.

Jester hurled one coldly bitter phrase after another at the President and was applauded frequently. The South, he said, has been deprived of fair representation in party affairs, "but the most unexpected and cruellest blow has come from the dagger blow of a trusted friend. The South has been stung by President Truman's attack upon our sovereignty and social institutions."

The Truman crowd signed pledges of support to the nomination of the party and decorated themselves with Truman badges.

of our grievances, we must not retaliate blindly and rashly." He said the changes must be fought for within the party structure. Jester urged that the Texas delegation be instructed only as to principles and that it be uncommitted as to candidates to elect itself "free to work for the nomination of a vice-presidential candidate acceptable to the South." Neither should the delegation's hands be tied in voting for a presidential candidate, he advised.

Joe Dibrell of Coleman charged at the Truman meeting. That Jester is the "spokesman" for the big oil companies. Because of oil interest opposition to Truman on the tidelands question, Dibrell continued, they want to sacrifice the only party nominee with a chance of being elected.

"Go to your precinct and count-travelers and send delegates to Brownwood who will vote with us," Dibrell asked.

Approximately 20 leaders of the Truman movement unanimously resolved to take the fight to states' business, not the federal government's. Jester asked that the Texas delegation to the national convention be instructed in favor of a platform plank urging legislation to give the plaintiffs to their tidelands.

Masked Marvel To Meet Scot On Main Event

The main attraction at Promoter Vic Burnett's Sportorium at 8:15 p. m. tomorrow will be a punching bag demonstration by "Labe" Safo, a former professional boxer and known in recent years as the World Champion Bag Puncher.

He will demonstrate his extraordinary speed and rhythm on the small bags for 15 minutes before the wrestling matches begin at 8:30.

The main event, a one hour match with two out of three falls to decide the winner, will find the Masked Marvel meeting Eddie Gideon, the Wrestling Scot from Springfield, Mo.

Nothing is known about the Mask except that he drives a car with Missouri license plates.

He will reveal his name and identity only if he is defeated.

Both men are making their second appearances in the local ring. The Mask defeated Dr. Gil Knutson here April 1, and Gideon won over rowdy Pat O'Dowdy last week.

The semi final will match another newcomer to Pampa, Billy Hickson, Knoxville, Tenn., who meets Billy Sandow, of Toledo, Ohio. The match has a 45 minute time limit, with two out of three falls to decide the winner.

Six Beaumont errors helped San Antonio. Bud Kimball got the Missions started with a sixth-inning homer. In the seventh three runs that were largely due to a pair of Beaumont bobbles gave San Antonio the decision.

It was cellar-dwelling Tulsa's night to be good. After beating Dallas, 3-1 Sunday, then losing 2-1 Monday, the Oilers picked off third-place Oklahoma without much trouble. Henry Perkowski went all the way for the Oilers, pitching six-hit ball for his first victory on the mound. Tulsa Outfielder Russell Burns was hit on the head by a pitched ball, but Manager Al Vincent said his injuries were not believed serious.

Cloyd Boyer, young right-hander, did a sixth job on the Shreveport Sports as Houston won. Solly Hemus led the winners at the plate with two doubles for three tries.

Tonight's schedule: Fort Worth at Dallas, Sareveport at Houston, San Antonio at Beaumont, and Tulsa at Oklahoma City.

Jim King pitched for the winning team.

Dallas and Beaumont Share Top of Texas Loop Standings

By The Associated Press
The Dallas Rebels were berthed alongside the Beaumont Exporters at the top of the Texas League baseball standings today.

But even the Rebels might have been a little surprised to find themselves there. You wouldn't have guessed where they were heading by watching them at the plate last night. Once on base, however, the Rebels left no doubt they were after scores.

Fort Worth's Cats hit safely 11 times while Dallas was getting seven hits. But the score was the other way around, 4-1, in favor of Dallas.

Meanwhile, the San Antonio Missions hauled Beaumont up short to end a five-game winning streak. The score was the same as in the Dallas-Fort Worth tussle, 4-1.

In other games last night, Tulsa's Oilers, who have trouble deciding whether they're good or bad, beat Oklahoma City, 9-3, and Houston triumphed Shreveport, 3-1.

It was the Rebels' alertness on the base paths that brought them out in front.

In the sixth, for example, Johnny Creel ran out a roller for a hit, stole second and advanced to third on a putout. He scored as Livingston ran out an infield

Major Leagues Set New Mark For Opening Day Attendance

By The Associated Press
About the only thing missing in yesterday's and Monday's major league opening games was a no-hitter.

Practically everything else happened, to the delight of 331,783 fans who set a record for opening day attendance.

As for the results themselves, Brooklyn snaked past the Giants 7-6 in New York; the Cards shut out Cincinnati 4-0 in St. Louis; Washington gained revenge for its one-sided defeat by the Yankees Monday, thrashing the World Champions 9-1; Detroit defeated the White Sox in Chicago 5-2 and the Indians sent a record inaugural crowd of 78,163 home happy with a 4-0 triumph over the St. Louis Browns.

In other games, the Philadelphia Phillies had a successful home opener as they whipped the Boston Braves 3-1, and Pittsburgh did likewise with a 3-2 win over the Chicago Cubs. The Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics were idle.

Here are some of the opening day highlights:

Eighteen home runs were belted yesterday and Monday—not an unusual number, but look what some of them produced:

Star Spence, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr hit theirs in succession in one inning—a record-tying feat—but the Red Sox lost anyway.

George Vico, rookie first baseman of the Tigers, smacked one on the first pitch served him in his first major league game.

Tommy McBride of the Senators slammed one—with the bases loaded in the first inning.

Mike Tresh of the White Sox hit one—his first in 787 games. He had not hit a four bagger since 1940. Previously he had hit only one home run in 10 years in the majors.

Three rookies—Hank Sauer of the Reds, Romanus Basgall of the Pirates and Vico—hit homers.

Two pitchers—Allie Reynolds of the Yankees and Rip Sewell of the Pirates—joined the home run brigade.

In addition to Spence and Stephens, recent additions to the Red Sox, Eddie Miller and Billy Cox celebrated their transfers to new clubs with homers. Miller,

Special Pan Cupboard
If you have a closet or cupboard near the range, use it for the storage of cooking utensils. Having the pots and pans within easy reach will save many steps during the preparation of meals.

Cooking utensils may be hung from hooks or placed on shelves. But they should be so arranged that they are in plain view and can be easily reached. A file cabinet for baking pans and pots covers will add to the convenience.

This cupboard need not have a door. It may be just a few shelves, with hooks underneath for hanging saucers and frying pans. The utensils can add a decorative note to the kitchen. For example, porcelain enameled utensils are finished in gleaming white to harmonize with other kitchen equipment. They have a distinctive trim which may be either black or red, depending upon the color scheme.

Wesleyan Service Guild Meets With Mrs. Lee Harrah

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church met with Mrs. Lee Harrah Monday evening with Miss Minnie Allen presiding for the business session.

Mrs. Harrah, as study leader, had charge of the lesson and introduced Miss Inez Clubb, who gave a review of the book of Revelations.

Mrs. J. M. Turner was welcomed into the group as a new member.

A delicious refreshment plate with favors of tiny handmade book marks, was served to the members and Mesdames Aubrey Jones, Malcolm Denton, George Newberry, Tommie Hammond, Diamas Wood, and Misses Minnie Allen, Inez Clubb, Ann Hastings, Lia Pool, Lillian Mullinax, and one guest, Mrs. Annie Daniels of Amarillo.

Magazine Survey Pictures Typical U. S. Husband

Contrary to popular opinion, the typical American husband is thoroughly domestic; he helps do the dishes 82.5 percent of the time, helps make the beds 50 percent of the time, and helps vacuum, scrub floors and wash clothes one-third of the time. In addition, he almost always tends the furnace and totes the garbage outdoors. At least, that's the composite picture given by 209 wives who took part in a survey conducted by Mademoiselle's Living Magazine.

Here are more revelations about the American husband:

He is blond and medium-short, easy to get along with, sleeps in pajamas (all or either half), leaves them lying around in the morning and doesn't tidy up the bedroom after shaving. He prefers a shower to a bath, but doesn't sing in it.

For breakfast he likes orange juice, eggs, toast and coffee, which he bolts down grumpily. He likes to cook hamburgers, spaghetti and omelets. He's a good father, likes to give the baby its bottle and changes diapers adeptly.

His worst habits: reading newspapers instead of talking to his wife; strewing papers around the house; flirting with other women. At parties 40 percent of the time (but he rarely dates them).

Here are the nicest things he has ever said to his wife:

"I love you."

"I've found an apartment."

"You're the best little wife in the world."

And, one wife reported, "O.K. have it your way; we'll get married."

Ladies Make Quilt Blocks; Plan Party

The Policemen and Firemen's Auxiliary held a "Quilting Bee" when the members met in the Recreation Room of the Fire Station Tuesday afternoon. Blocks were made for a quilt to be given to Boys Ranch when completed.

A bingo party was planned for Friday evening at 7:30. All members of the city Police Force and all firemen and their families are to be invited. Coffee and donuts will be served.

Mrs. W. A. Claunch will be hostess in her home, 1221 S. Wilcox, to the Auxiliary on May 4 at 2 p. m.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames J. E. Pritchett, Lou Allen, J. B. Conner, E. G. Albers, J. V. Pirkle, J. E. Winborne, L. C. Stokes, Shirley Nickols, and E. N. Pierce.

Darline Lovell Is Honored at Party

Little Darline Lovell was honored last Saturday on the occasion of her third birthday, when her great-grandmother, Mrs. Mack McLaughlin, gave a party for her at 1931 E. Frauell.

Darline's birthday cake was white with pink icing and it had three little candles.

Each child received a favor of a stick of peppermint candy to which was attached a rubber balloon.

The cream was served with the cake at refreshment time.

Games were played and pictures were made of the group. Co-hostesses for the party were Marcia Lunford and Sammie Jo Cason and Mary Kay Lunford. Guests included Kay Lovell, Sammie June Bray, Marthy K. Price, and Dora Lovell.

Charles Thomas Speaks on Art

Charles Thomas gave a lecture on Modern Art at the regular monthly meeting of Beta Sigma Phi which was held Monday evening in the home of Mrs. John Bond, 721 N. Wells. Pictures illustrating the context of the address were shown and members of the society were given an opportunity to ask questions during the program.

Hostesses for the occasion were Per Scruggs and Mary Elizabeth New.

Mother of Cancer Victim Founds Fund

To help spare others the grief she suffered when her small daughter died of cancer, a St. Louis mother has created the Fern Waldman Memorial Fund for research on cancer in children.

The mother, Mrs. Meyer Waldman, has already obtained $1,932 from card parties, and is planning other benefits.

"Fern, my little daughter, was a healthy child until September of 1945, when she developed a little pain in her foot," Mrs. Waldman said. "I took her to a doctor immediately. The pain was from cancer, and it spread through her body with the terrible swiftness it shows when it attacks children. She died in agony. It was determined that her life wouldn't be wasted, so I started this fund in her name."

Trustees for the fund are Dr. Louis H. Jorstad and Herbert D. Condie, chairman and secretary of the St. Louis division of the American Cancer Society. The Society has given Mrs. Waldman full approval for her efforts.

The money will be used for clinical work and research on cancer in children in St. Louis hospitals.

Hollywood Jewels Have Gone to Waist

HOLLYWOOD, Cal. —(Special)—To enhance the fashionable new cinched-in waistlines, style setters in the motion picture colony here have taken to wearing brilliant light weight palladium jewelry pinned to their waists.

Among the more sensational examples seen is that being worn by Hilary Brooke. It is a ribbon of diamonds massed in palladium and tied with a sparkling knot formed by an emerald cut diamond surrounded by baguettes.

Besides using it to attract attention to her small waist, Miss Brooke uses this piece as the "lavish luxurious note that all women love," wearing it at the neckline of some gowns or to accentuate a hidden pocket.

Girls Everywhere Are Praising 2-Way Help

What to do for woman's oldest problem, functional monthly pain? Many a girl and woman has found the answer in CARDUI 2-way help. You see, CARDUI may make things lots easier for you in either of two ways: (1) started 3 days before "your time" and taken as directed on the label, it should help relieve functional periodic pain; (2) taken throughout the month like a tonic, it should improve your appetite, aid digestion, and thus help build up resistance for the trying days to come. CARDUI is scientifically prepared and scientifically tested. If you suffer "at those certain times", get CARDUI today.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, April 20—(AP)—The stock market stumbled after a fast start today and never quite regained its balance. Price changes at the close were mixed and narrow.

Of around 1,700,000 shares traded during the session 576,000 changed hands in the first hour. Several rises which had reached new tops since 1946 slumped in the face of profit-taking. Aircraft were particularly hit. More resistant were selected oils, metals and retail stores. Although occasional combs were attempted, there was scant response. Most issues closed well under their best.

New 1948 highs were touched by Distillers Corp., Union Pacific, Pennsylvania Railroad, New York Central, Southern Railway, Plymouth Oil.

CAN BLACK-DRAUGHT HELP A BAD BREATH?

Yes, Black-Draught may help a bad breath if the only reason you have bad breath is because of constipation. Black-Draught, the friendly laxative, is usually prompt and thorough when taken as directed. It costs only a penny or less a dose. That's why it has been a best-seller with four generations. If you are troubled with such symptoms as loss of appetite, headache, upset stomach, flatulence, physical fatigue, sleeplessness, mental hesitancy, and breath—and if these symptoms are due only to constipation—then see what Black-Draught may do for you. Get a package today.

Pacific Western Oil, Phelps Dodge and Anaconda Copper, although some of these subsequently sagged. On the off side were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Union Carbide and Transcontinental and Western Air.

Brokers said many customers were cautious in expectation of a sharper correction than has taken place after recent advances.

The Vagaries of Nature Will Win

Even socialism can't lick nature — as a series of recent events has proved.

In California, there has been the worst drought in a great many years, and it has naturally been accompanied by power shortages. The government ownership zealots promptly started whooping and howling that government power plants could prevent such shortages. However, at the same time, Ontario, Canada, was experiencing an even more severe power shortage. And Ontario is served by a government-owned hydro authority which has long been a model for similar ventures in this country.

The Tennessee Valley Authority has been praised to high heaven as a flood control project. It has cost the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars. Yet, in mid-February, even TVA couldn't handle the job. In the words of an AP dispatch, "On the Tennessee river, the flood waters were too much for the great dam set up by the Tennessee Valley Authority and the huge reservoirs filled and the water was released to rush over the low country."

There are some very obvious lessons in all this. First of all, neither free enterprise nor socialized enterprise can create a single drop of rainfall. All either can do is to make the most of what exists—and when it comes to that, free enterprise has always demonstrated a great superiority.

TVA's flood control activities are inextricably tied in with its power producing facilities. And power dams must have water in them—they can't be held empty to await floods. At the present time, experience is teaching that building huge reservoirs is the wrong approach to the problem, and that soil conservation and flood prevention work on small streams and tributaries of large rivers are far more important, and will produce greater benefits at a much lower cost. But the advocates of socialized power are much less interested in flood control than in dams to produce power.

The idea that socialization of industry will circumvent the vagaries of nature is utterly ridiculous. Private industry, in every line of activity, will do more to meet our needs and grapple realistically with our problems than any group of bureaucrats and political hangerson.

MOPSY by GLADYS PARKER

WAIT A MINUTE WHILE I CALL MY LAWYER. I WANT THIS IN WRITING—OTHERWISE, NO ONE WILL BELIEVE ME!

BACKFIRE

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The great labor peacemaker and coal strike stopper, GOP Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, left himself a wide bridge on which to retreat in case his quick solution to the miners' pension plan turns out to be not too good.
Bridges' statement said:
"The decisions we as trustees make are not unchangeable. The opportunity to change them at any time is guaranteed. I must refer to the fact that my resolution, if adopted, would be a tentative agreement and the amount of this monthly pension is subject to any revision which our further study may indicate is proper." Nobody wants to take away any of the glory now going to Speaker Joe Martin for solving the riddle of how to make the miners go back to work. Getting John L.
Lewis and Ezra Van Horn for the coal operators to accept Senator Bridges as the third trustee was a master stroke. But insurance actuaries who have been figuring how the Bridges settlement is going to work out say it leads to one of two things:
1. The three trustees will have to cut down on the amount of pension payments within a few years, thus forcing Senator Bridges to cross his bridge when he gets to it, going backwards.
Or, else the 10-cents-a-ton royalty on all coal mined will have to be increased to 20 to 40 cents a ton to keep up the payments. That can mean only a raise in the consumer price of coal.

John L. Lewis originally wanted $100 a month paid to all miners aged 60 or over, who had worked

Trouble Moving Northward Through GOP Legislation

By UPTON CLOSE

The Republican Congress is responding to the same shortsighted and highly questionable political strategy which has contributed to at least three defeats for the party in presidential campaigns.
It is trying to out-New Deal the New Deal.
It is preparing to force down the throats of the Old South, and the preponderant majority of voters of both parties, the Truman-sponsored "civil rights" program.

A month ago the Republican-dominated House Judiciary Subcommittee approved the first step in this program, a federal anti-lynch bill. Soon this bill will be passed by Republicans of both houses.
It is indeed a sorry sight to see the Republican Congress stooping to enact a measure known to be at the top of the Communist legislative program.

Probably not more than a handful of backers have their hearts in the effort.
They are going through with this shameful show in an attempt to take away from Truman and Henry Wallace the Jewish and Negro votes of the half-dozen pivotal industrial states, and to rub salt into the Democratic Party wound caused by the split between Truman and the Old South over this measure.

THE FOMENT MOBS
As political strategy this Republican action is amazingly stupid, for this year of all years could capture a conservative Republican Party hope to win some Southern states. The South would seriously consider such a man as Mar-Arthur of Taft if the party would stand solidly for conservatism.

And as for splitting the minority vote with Wallace and Truman, the Republicans are fooling nobody but themselves.

In this pitiful drama to be enacted in the halls of the great Congress of the United States, the citadel of representative government, the lawmakers (with the possible exception of New York's delegation) are wittingly and knowingly selling out the majority of their backers.

And they are counting on those backers not to fully comprehend the significance of the sellout.
The federal antilynch measure is wanted by the Communists for a reason which must be clear to most policemen and city and county judges and to all FBI men—and which will become apparently clear to many other people soon after the measure becomes law.

It is wanted so that Communist agents can create street scenes and mobs at public gatherings, both in the Old South and in the big industrial cities, then point to Truman's leftist-aiding attorney general to get all persons indicted who react against incited minorities in the artificially fomented mobs.

Violence such as pushing or striking a Negro or a Jew can be proved on the streets of any city in any of the big industrial states; for many of these minorities have been moved into the big states in recent years.

ONE LYNCHING IN 1947

And any white American, especially one disliked by Communists, who is put into position of having to defend himself from an attack by one or more members of a minority race, can and will be hailed into federal court under the pending Republican measure—even if a conviction is only remotely possible.

The purpose of the Communists is to use this measure for propaganda.

They will use this measure as they used the federal courts during the 1940s to hold under indictment more than a score of American citizens whose only "offense" had been that of exposing racial character of communism.
Never did the leftists, who made use of the New Deal attorney general, the courts, have any case against the defendants, but by holding them under indictment for five years they were able to make millions of Americans believe it criminal and subversive to expose racial communism.

Last year, though there were hundreds of gang killings in Northern states, there was only one Negro lynching in the Old

Common Ground

Views on the Present
War "Situation"

I continue to quote in today's column from the letter written by Leonard E. Read to Honorable Ralph Gwin of the House of Representatives on Mr. Read's views on the present war "situation." Yesterday's column concluded with the statement of Mr. Read that Stalin and his automatons are nothing more than a blustering joke from the standpoint of armed threat to America and the Western Hemisphere.

I continue with Mr. Read's letter:
"There are only two remaining things which plague me. One is the atomic bomb which some of my scientist friends claim Russians can produce. Maybe she can, maybe she will use it. Or, maybe she will if I have enough, do a much easier thing: spread some tubes of virus, that is, engage in bacteriological warfare. Using that process she could wipe ten planes and the crew to man them and, after we had pummelled all the Russian people into submission, she could still exterminate us. Hate, which war breeds, probably won't assure this.
War, it would seem is a fruitless way to combat this sort of thing."
"The other point that bothers me, as well as most Americans, is the fact that Russia is taking over other countries. But she is not doing this with armies. No massed Russian forces marched into Czechoslovakia.
Only a set of evil ideas marching in a minority of Czechoslovakians themselves adopted and put over. Are we, in addition to killing the Russians, to search out and then judge and then kill these miscreants? Who among us, in our executive, legislative, judiciary or military departments, has the efrontery to say he is qualified for this satanic task? I ask again that we remember our last two efforts to 'make the competitive set for democracy' by the use of force. I ask that we ask ourselves, 'How are we doing?' Are we so blind that we would kill off more millions of women and children than we would
'righteousness' and on behalf of 'justice'?"

"I should now like to examine the second pernicious idea, namely, the world of communism by killing human beings, that is, by war."
"First, what is communism? The answer should be given in two parts—that is, communism as it is commonly thought of, and communism as it actually is."
"Most persons think of communism only as it manifests itself politically. They are confused and alarmed by the communists and Stalin the head man. The system is rotten principally because Stalin and his secret police are ruthless. Those who disagree are sent to the salt pans. The communists are not democrats. They are shot. Phooey to such a system! The world ought to be rid of it. That's easy. Just shoot the communists!"

"I should now like to realize that the gangster, Stalin, is a logical and inevitable consequence of the admission of the socialist premise. If he weren't the head man some one equally as bad would be. He is where he is just as anyone else is. You don't get rid of a muck heap by scraping off the fungus.
Nor do you rid the world of communism by 'brushing' it off. Stalin, the problem isn't that simple."
"The contest that has to be waged is an ideological contest. The things that have to be destroyed are the ideas, not the persons who are foolish enough to uphold bad ideas. If killing Russians is our answer to this problem then a lot of suicides are in order here at home."
"Communism is an idea, a collectivist idea. It holds that the individual has no rights; that the individual's role is only that of serving the group, that is, the state.
Stalin, the present head man, is Marx later held to be the ultimate ideal of communism—From each according to ability, to each according to need."

"Such an objective denies, absolutely, the right to private property, that is, the right to the fruits of one's labor. The greater one's ability, the more one acquires, the more one is forced to give up. Obvious, free competition enters into the result in no such apportionment of a nation's goods and services as this principle requires.
Therefore, the state ownership of the means of production came to form the keystone of this system."
"Now, let's see what happens under this ideological system:"

"The victim, that is, the person of ability, is deprived of what he produces. This removes his incentive to produce."
"The 'beneficiary,' that is, the one in need, who receives unearned rewards, is relieved of the necessity to produce, which, however, removes his incentive for production."
"Hence, as production declines, the incentives to production having been removed, all along the line, this procedure of coercive collectivism must inevitably lead to arbitrary and dictatorial punishment. With voluntary production abandoned and production being an essential requisite to survival, there is always, and has to be, a

Watchful Waiting

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Some old-
fashioned political canvassing has disclosed that Henry A. Wallace may poll almost 10 million votes
as a third presidential candidate
and, even more significantly, that 75 percent of those votes will be cast by persons who might otherwise have supported Harry S.
Truman or another Democratic candidate.

This canvass is not to be confused with the public opinion poll involved in the Roper-Winchell bickering. It's a survey by practical politicians who have rarely been wrong in their estimates of voting trends. It displays well affect the GOP's decision at the Philadelphia convention, for it seems to assure the triumph almost any man they might name.

It may lead some Democratic bosses still sitting on the fence, especially Boss Ed Flynn of the Bronx, to join the parade of leaders trying to persuade Mr.
Truman to find it convenient to drop out of the race in favor of a more likely winner.

PROTEST—The new Wallace estimate amazes sideline observers as well as the professional politicians. But a study of the Wallace appeal and tactics makes them believe that the 10 million figure may not be far wrong, although more conservative calculators still place it at approximately 8 million.

Should the former cabinet member roll up 10 million ballots, he would amass a larger number than a new presidential victor obtained before Warren G.
Harding landslide the nation in 1920.

It would be the greatest protest demonstration ever staged against the two major organizations in way found to "whip up" production among the ever-increasing non-producers and, also, among those who the socialists think are insufficiently producers. Even the how socialistic or communist ideas inevitably lead to the political horror which, when experienced, these ideas to wall. 'But I didn't incur whatever bills meet her basis of their future platforms.

FANTASTIC—This latest estimate of Wallace strength, however, does not seem so fantastic in view of the fact that the La Follette-Wheeler slate of insurgents corralled 4,822,000 votes as far back as the plumpily prosperous year of 1924. It is a comparison of 1924 with 1948 conditions, political, economic and foreign, which appears to lend credence to the reports seeping into Washington from the countryside.

Messrs. La Follette and Wheeler had no money, no organization, no publicity. They were able to get their names on the presidential ballot in only a few states. They had some labor union support, but they had no basic and stirring issues for arousing mass support. They were running on the eve of the richest boom up to that time, with Calvin Coolidge claiming credit for boosting wages, employment and general economic improvement after the 1920-1922 doldrums.

The world's first disarmament agreement had been signed only two years before. There were no foreign scares or alarms. The American people, having fought and won the first world war in history, did not want to be upset or disturbed by these Cassandras from Wisconsin and Montana.
And yet they got 4,822,000 votes from various protest groups.

SPLIT—Mr. Wallace has a far more definite appeal and message than his rebellious predecessors.
Whereas they did not run in any of the so-called swing states as New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan and California, Il-lowan is expected to roll up a tremendous vote in the urban and industrial centers of those electorally important areas.

Aside from his attempt to win racial minorities dissatisfied with Mr. Truman's foreign program, Palestine policy and his failure to try to implement his "civil rights" proposals, Mr. Wallace has apparently split the so-called church-and-school vote that the La Follette-Wheeler ticket did not get. The White House has been especially disturbed by Mr.

The Innocent Impostor

By Renee Shann

THE STORY: Patience Mond goes to London three times a week to attend dressmaking school. It is the only freedom allowed her by the two old-fashioned aunts with whom she lives in the country. Patience always returns home with a new dress. But one day she comes back with a man who takes the same train and for some time now has been trying to pick her up. But Patience is too proper to talk to a strange young man.
The evening, an accident happens on the train about a mile from her station. Paul offers to walk her home, so she won't be late getting home. Patience hesitates.
Paul jumps from the carriage, beats out his arms to her. "Come on," he says. "The big bad wolf won't eat you."

PATIENCE drew a quick breath.
He was laughing at her, of course. She wasn't sure if she liked it.

"I'm not afraid of that," she said and jumped into his waiting arms.
Paul set the girl down lightly beside him.

"From what I've observed of you," he said gravely, "I feel perfectly sure you won't walk a yard down the line with me without a proper introduction. And since there's no one here to effect it, I must do it myself. I'm Paul Taylor. I live at Old Wittings, and I believe you may have heard of some three miles this side of Bishop's Stortford."

"I'm Patience Mond."
"And you live at Oakley."
"No. I live at High Ditch, two miles from there."
"Goodness! How do you get to London from the station? By car, I suppose."
"No. I bicycle. We've not got a car."
"I live with my two aunts."
"Maiden aunts something tells me."
"Yes," and defiantly, "They're darlings."
"Oh yes, I'm sure they are. But a little strict in the way they bring you up."
"How do you know?"
He smiled.

"I've been watching you pretty closely since you've been traveling by this train. Anyone can see you're an extremely well-brought-up young lady." He glanced at her sidelong as they now set off towards Oakley, following a straggling line of other passengers.
"Now we've met, as it were, don't you think that in future we might travel down together?"
"I suppose we might," she said doubtfully.

"You couldn't, I suppose, meet me, say one Saturday afternoon, in Stortford for tea and the picnics?"
Her eyes widened. For a fleeting moment she wondered if it would be possible. And knew instantly that it was out of the question.

"I don't see how I could."
"Why not?"
"—I'm always rather busy on Saturday afternoons."
"Doing what?" he asked with interest.

"The brasses for the church, and the flowers. My Aunt Alice sees to them each week and I always help her."
"She shoober her head."
"I couldn't. Truly I couldn't."
"But you'll have to break out some day."
"Would she? Funny that until this moment she's never even considered it."
"How old are you?"

"Twenty."
"Ye Gods! I've got a sister of 20. She has so many boy friends we lose count of them."
"And you—have you so many girl friends?"
"You bet. But none who really matter. None I want to see as much as I want to see you on Saturday."
"THEY were nearly at Oakley now. She could see the lights of the station. Soon she'd be on her bicycle and it would be over. Because of course she couldn't meet him as he suggested. And if she didn't he wouldn't bother with her any more. He'd give her up as far too dull and far too straitlaced for him. There'd be no further thrill about the train journey home. No more point in wondering breathlessly whether possibly, she'd see him.
All the same what he wanted was out of the question.
"I'd like to," she said regretfully. "But I'm afraid it really is impossible."
Nevertheless, she was on the two-thirty following Saturday.
She'd not intended to do it.
But it wasn't of her own choosing.
Beneath her arm was her aunt Helen's library book. Each week Newmans, the library in Stortford, called to deliver a new one. But this week they'd had a breakdown with the van. Aunt Helen at breakfast had said that it was very annoying. For a week she'd have nothing to read. Unless—she'd looked at Patience. "Patience dear, I suppose you wouldn't like to go into Stortford for me this afternoon, and change my library book?"
Patience decided it must be fate.
Only twice before had Aunt Helen asked her to go to Stortford. She'd hoped her voice hadn't sounded too eager as she'd said that of course she'd go only too willingly.
And that her aunts hadn't noticed that she'd set off wearing her new gray suit and fluffy little white blouse.

Nor that she'd spent an unusually long time before starting in getting ready.
She looked out of the window as the train steamed into the platform. She saw him immediately and felt her heart racing wildly.
And knew a sudden shyness as she stepped from the train. It was quite ridiculous considering her age that this was the very first time she'd met a young man for tea and the picnic!

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Some old-
fashioned political canvassing has
disclosed that Henry A. Wallace
may poll almost 10 million votes
as a third presidential candidate
and, even more significantly, that 75 percent of those votes will be
cast by persons who might otherwise have supported Harry S.
Truman or another Democratic
candidate.

COMMUNISM

France? However, if present returns bear out their promise, bolshevism has been soundly thrashed in the first big showdown outside Russia's Eastern European Zone where the Reds have imposed their will by force. Communism has been thrust down unwilling throats in the Soviet domain, but Italy has had the strength to resist it despite the chaotic condition in which the war left her. As Premier De Gasperi said, the country just wouldn't "be bolshevized."

Father of Local Man Succumbs

Seventy-four year old James A. Massa, retired farmer from Floydada, Texas, died early this morning at the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo. He has been at the hospital since February of this year.

Survivors are one son, J. B. Massa of Pampa, and Mary Ursula Massa, of Fort Worth.

Mr. Massa will be buried at the Fairview Cemetery. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Elected state officials and candidates for office were hard to find at either gathering. U. S. Senatorial Candidate George E. Peady of Houston appeared at both. There was a thin sprinkling of members of the Legislature.

The pro-Truman conclave was free but a collection was taken up to rub out a $492 deficit in the campaign treasury. Executive Committee Chairman Robert W. Calvert said it would probably be several days before the Fort Worth take could be figured. Many persons sent contributions who did not partake of the $5 a-plate barbecue and beans.

The commissioners also voted to send Steve Matthews, the city manager, to a meeting of the Texas City Manager's Association at Temple, this weekend.

Representatives from the Pampa Furniture Company, Johnson's and Davis Electric Companies, and the Maytag Sales Company, all located on Foster and Cuyler, appeared before the commission to discuss loading zones in front of their stores.

None of these firms have access an alley adequate for their loading and unloading needs. Consequently, curb zones have been designated for that purpose, but the commission has received complaints, Mayor C. A. Huff said, that these zones have been used for private parking.

Any truck or vehicle using these zones for loading or unloading must back into the curb, the mayor said, and anyone found using them for parking will be subject to a fine for a traffic violation.

Get up-to-date...

Get all the fun your pleasure car was built for! Get down to your Mileage Merchant's today... let him drain out that "old" has-been winter oil and OIL-PLATE with fresh, clean Conoco Nth!

Once inside your engine, a special added ingredient in Nth Motor Oil (Patented) fastens extra lubricant so closely to metal that cylinder walls and working parts are actually OIL-PLATED!

And this extra OIL-PLATING stays up on metal surfaces... won't all drain down to your crankcase, even overnight! That's why a quick change now to Conoco Nth means extra protection from "dry-friction" starts... from high-speed heat... from power-choking sludge and carbon due to wear!... For extra-cool, extra-powerful, extra low-cost miles, make a date to...
