Sen. Yarborough Sets Three Talks Here Monday

Plans were going ahead today for three appearances in Pampa Monday of Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Texas senior U. S. senator.

Senator Yarborough's Pampa schedule will be part of a one-day motorcade through seven eastern Panhandle towns and cities, following his arrival Sunday night from Amarillo Air Terminal.

The senator will speak at a 7 a.m. breakfast in the Court House

Sen. Ralph Yarborough ... On Panhandle tour

Cafe here and is scheduled for an 8:15 a.m. visit to Leters, 9:15 a.m. in McLean, 10:15 a.m. in Shamrock and a luncheon stop in Wheeler at 11:30 a.m. Monday.

Canadian will be the first afternoon stop at 1:15 p.m. He is scheduled in Miami at 2:15 p.m. and will return to Pampa in late afternoon for a 5 p.m. talk with members of the Independent Oil and Gas Producers Association.

Senator Yarborough then will go to the Top O' Texas Junior Livestock Show barbecue at Recreation Park before making an appearance at a public dinner being given for him at 7:30 p.m. in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn. The senator will be the principal speaker at the banquet.

Dinner tickets at $3.50 each are on sale at Richard Drug, Crossman Appliance store, Shewmaker Insurance Agency and the Court House Cafe.

Those making arrangements for Senator Yarborough's appearance here said today he will be met at the Amarillo Air Terminal by a Pampa group late Sunday night and will come to Pampa to spend the night.

The senator is scheduled to return to Amarillo after his Monday night speech here and will appear there at a convention of county judges and county commissioners on Tuesday.

New Dominican President Seems Undaunted By Pro Communist Outbreaks

SANTO DOMINGO, D.R. (UPI)—Dominican authorities today held at least 10 pro-Communist demonstrators who broke up the inauguration parade of President Juan Bosch with shouts of anti-American slogans and battles with police.

Bosch, apparently undaunted by the disturbances Wednesday before a host of foreign dignitaries, including Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, launched his term as the Dominican Republic's first constitutional president in 34 years by naming a cabinet composed largely of members of his own party.

The lone independent in the cabinet is Andres Freitas, currently ambassador to Washington, who will serve as foreign minister. He is considered friendly to the United States.

Underscore Problems
Wednesday's demonstrations underscored the problems facing the new government in its task of restoring orderly democracy and economic prosperity to this small Caribbean nation once ruled by the late dictator Rafael Trujillo.

Police swinging rifle butts charged upon about 160 youths chanting anti-American slogans near the parade reviewing stand. At least 10 demonstrators were arrested and several were led away with bloody faces.

Johnson and Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt were hustled from the reviewing stand by security guards to the safety of a nearby building. Bosch reportedly remained on the stand until order was restored.

Gunfire Near Johnson
One of the security guards later reported to the American Embassy that he thought he heard gunfire about 30 yards away from Johnson's U.S. Ambassador John Barlow Martin said he understood two people were wounded in the clash but this was not confirmed.

Dominican security sources later said three persons were injured, presumably rioters clothed by police, but there were no bullet wounds.

Police identified the demonstrators, most of whom wore colored sweatshirts as a sort of uniform, as supporters of the pro-Communist Venezuelan Armed Forces of National Liberation (FALN), which recently hijacked a Venezuelan freighter.

Dr. Will Graham, Ward 2 commissioner, Leon Holmes, Ward 3 commissioner and L. P. Fort, Ward 4 commissioner, have not stated their plans for the future.

Vicars said today his office in City Hall will close at 5 p.m. tomorrow, and any filings for the municipal election should be made before that time.

FISHERMAN DROWNS
CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—Raul Flores Pena, 23, of Corpus Christi drowned Wednesday when he fell into the choppy waters of Corpus Christi Bay while fishing from a pier.

U.S. Retains Veto
A four or five member executive committee has been organized.

It was made clear, however, that the United States would retain a veto of the use of the missiles and that the President of the United States would say when they could be fired.

Sir Evelyn Shuckburgh, Britain's permanent NATO delegate, was reported to have told the closed council meeting his government agrees with the broad outlines of the plan.

But he was said to have made it plain Britain favors basing the Polaris force on submarines and giving control to a committee of 10 leading NATO nations.

Perfect Solution

JFK Asks For Civil Rights Program Outlined In 6,000 Word Address

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Kennedy asked Congress today for a series of new laws to protect Negroes from "the cruel disease of discrimination" in voting, schooling, and other walks of life.

The President outlined his proposals in a 6,000-word special message, his first on civil rights. The politically significant message hailed the administration's non-legislative accomplishments in the past two years.

He called for laws to speed consideration of voting suits by Negroes, provide them the ballot while their suits are pending, guarantee them the same voting tests as whites, and presume they are literate if they have completed the sixth grade.

Kennedy also asked for federal technical and financial assistance to school districts which need help to desegregate. And he requested four more years of life plus expanded powers for the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

List of Priorities
Describing these as "a list of priorities," Kennedy said he knew his proposed past actions "do not constitute a final answer to the problems of race discrimination in this country." He promised to sign, if enacted, any other measures directed toward these same goals.

The program outlined in this message should not provide the occasion for sectional bitterness," Kennedy said. "No state or section of this nation can pretend a self-righteous role, for every area has its own civil rights problems. Nor should the basic elements of this program be imperilled by partisanship."

The President's failure to ask for much new civil rights legislation until now has aroused criticism from some Negro leaders and some Republicans, including New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Kennedy insisted, that acting on his own authority, his administration in 1961 and 1962 made "more progress in securing the civil rights of all Americans than in history."

Cites Progress Made
"Progress has been made through executive action, litigation, persuasion and private initiative—in achieving and protecting equality of opportunity in education, voting, transportation, employment, housing, government, and the enjoyment of public accommodations," he asserted. He pointed, for example, to his recent executive order banning discrimination in federally aided housing.

But the President said there still is a need for new laws, particularly to protect the right to achieve other rights of citizenship." He offered a four-

State Urges Reversal
Pennsylvania officials urged reversal of the lower court on the free exercise thereof.

The Schempps argued that the Bible-reading favors Christianity over other forms of worship. But even if all religious groups were included, the state will may not "aid religion," they said.

The lower court agreed with the Schempps' claim that the practice was a religious ceremony barred by the First Amendment to the Constitution. The amendment says "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

Labor Legislation Speakers' Topic At C-C Breakfast
A breakfast audience at a meeting of the Legislative and National Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce in Coronado Inn this morning heard three speakers discuss labor legislation pending in Congress.

James T. Sanders, industrial relations manager at Celanese, spoke on "Wage Fixing and the Shorter Work Week, Daniel W. Bond, personnel director for Cabot Corp., discussed "Labor — Management Relations," and James A. McCune, assistant personnel director at Cabot, spoke on "Unemployment Compensation."

All three speakers stressed the need of close scrutiny by business and industrial leaders as well as the public on proposed labor legislation before Congress.

They also warned of the possibility of further inroads by government into the field of labor relations such as monopoly powers for labor, federal control of state unemployment compensation, administration, and too liberal expansion of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

This morning's meeting was presided over by Roy Sparkman, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce National and Legislative Affairs Committee, who introduced the speakers.

Sparkman announced that ten or twelve Pampanos were scheduled to leave this afternoon for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce Air-cade program tomorrow in Oklahoma City.

Supreme Court Engages In 'Verbal Free-For-All'

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Supreme Court turned today to a defense by Pennsylvania officials of Bible-reading in the public schools, which a lower federal court has held unconstitutional.

With questions and answers flying thick and fast, the justices Wednesday heard a Baltimore case which dealt mainly with use of the Lord's Prayer at daily opening exercises.

Justice Tom C. Clark was the only member of the court who had almost nothing to say. The other justices engaged in a verbal free-for-all with attorneys and sometimes among themselves.

A standing-room-only audience, including numerous members of the clergy, listened to the arguments with rapt attention. The spectators chuckled frequently at the sharp clashes.

The Pennsylvania case, which has been fought since 1958, was started by a Unitarian couple, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Schempps. They have two children in Abington High School.

Win Court Order
The Schempps eventually won an order by a special three-judge federal court in Philadelphia that Bible-reading be discontinued.

The lower court agreed with the Schempps' claim that the practice was a religious ceremony barred by the First Amendment to the Constitution. The amendment says "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

The Schempps argued that the Bible-reading favors Christianity over other forms of worship. But even if all religious groups were included, the state will may not "aid religion," they said.

Snow Dumped On Panhandle By New Front

A new cold front barged into Texas today, dropping snow in the Panhandle and threatening to engulf the entire state by Friday.

Temperatures remained spring-like ahead of the front.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the new air mass would bring welcome rains to almost all of Texas, with continuing snow in prospect for the Panhandle.

Forecasts called for cooler weather for all of North Texas today and tonight, with southern areas due to escape the change-over until Friday.

The predicted rains would be welcome to North Texas firefighters, plagued with scores of grass-fires in the past few days.

Early morning temperatures south of the front remained in the high 50s and 60s, while the colder air dropped readings to near freezing in the Panhandle.

Overnight low readings ranged from 34 at Amarillo to 65 at Brownsville in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Wednesday's high was 88 at Presidio.

The rain was mixed with snow in the Panhandle, making driving a hazardous undertaking.

Strong winds whipped the state Wednesday, fanning grass fires out of control and blowing dust in West Texas.

Strong early-morning winds in Ennis today threatened to fan a $75,000 blaze at a downtown furniture manufacturing company to surrounding structures. But the fire was contained.

British 'Invasion' Denied

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)— The U. S. Navy denied Wednesday a report that a British submarine, after giving advance warning, slipped through this country's submarine defenses.

The London Daily Mail claimed the conventional sub HMS Orpheus penetrated the U. S. Navy's hunter-killer submarine defenses and surfaced within attacking distance of the New London, Conn., naval base.

The newspaper said the Navy radioed an "off the record" message to British submarine headquarters saying "well done."

Atlantic Fleet headquarters here said the statement the Orpheus penetrated U. S. defenses was "without foundation."

The Navy said the Orpheus participated in exercises with the U. S. Navy from Jan. 25 to Feb. 12 and was assigned a route for the trip from Scotland to the United States.

"Her position was known to Atlantic Fleet headquarters throughout the entire transit," the Navy said.

It said the "well done" message merely complimented the Orpheus on her participation in the submarine exercises.

Dallas Wants '64 Convention
WASHINGTON (UPI)— State GOP Chairman Peter O. Donnell of Dallas said Wednesday that Dallas is going to make "an attractive bid" to get the 1964 Republican National Convention.

"We've got the facilities and we want everybody to know it," O'Donnell told the Washington Bureau of the Dallas Morning News. "If we don't get the 1964 convention, we'll try to get the 1968 one."

The Perryton sheriff's department today confirmed that the three pistols and a rifle with which the boy had shot out a Canadian deputy sheriff's motor and fought a gun battle with highway patrolmen Lawrence Mocha and Bob Broughton and Miami Deputy Sheriff Cy Carr, had been stolen the night before from a Western Auto store in Perryton, along with some transistor radios and over $100 worth of ammunition.

Perryton Youth Leaves Hospital
Ochiltree County authorities were to confer late today or tomorrow on what disposition to make of the case of the 15-year-old Perryton youth who "shot it out" with four area police officers near Miami yesterday.

The youth was released from Highland General Hospital here this forenoon, after X-rays showed no bullets had lodged in his body. He was turned over to Sheriff Ray Phagan who came here to return the boy to Perryton.

Theater Manager Is Transferred To Albuquerque

West, general manager of the Capri and LaVista downtown motion picture theaters and the Top O' Texas Drive-In theater, has been transferred to Albuquerque, N. M., it was announced today by officials of Video Theaters in Oklahoma City.

West will leave for Albuquerque the middle of next week to take over management of five theaters and a golf course, owned by Video Theaters.

Video officials said no successor has yet been named to fill West's vacancy here. He has been with the Pampa theaters for 14 years.

The Wests reside at 2122 Mary Ellen. Mrs. West and their two children, students at Stephen F. Austin School, will remain in Pampa, West said, until the end of the school year.

West, a past president of the Lions Club and former head of the Pampa-Lefors United Fund, has been active in civic and community affairs during his stay in Pampa.

New Fatal Clashes Break In Congo
ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The United Nations reported Wednesday that four Central Congolese soldiers and two Katangese were killed Tuesday night in the first fatal clashes since Leopoldville troops moved in to reintegrate secessionist Katanga into the Congo.

U.N. and Congolese authorities said the four Congolese were ambushed by Katangese policemen near the big Union Miniere copper plant.

The first shooting incident occurred when a Central Congolese patrol attempted to arrest a man suspected of being a former Katangese gendarme who had not turned in his arms. The Katangese was shot and killed when he tried to flee.

Why $98 Billion?
President And Representative Meet To Discuss National Debt
WASHINGTON (UPI)— It was eyeball to eyeball today for President Kennedy and Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., and this part of the world, anyway, waited to see who would blink.

Kennedy called Cannon to a White House meeting, no doubt to explain why $98.8 billion is the very least he must have to keep the country running next year. Cannon was presumed prepared to explain just why he can't have it.

Whatever the President and the congressman said took about 20 minutes. On leaving the President's office Cannon said only that he had dropped by to see "the house that belongs to the people."

One of the main reasons is that Cannon, besides being 83 and a chronic worrier about the national debt, is chairman and potential of the House Appropriations Committee. This is the committee that gets first crack at the President's assorted money requests.

Cannon, since the memory of a 45-year-old man like Kennedy runneth not to the contrary, annually has pronounced presidential budgets too high, and annually has announced his intentions to cut them. Now and again he has succeeded.

This time, Kennedy's record spending plans for the 12 months starting July 1 had no sooner been read to the House than Cannon, who once held out great hopes for the Kennedy administration, rose to announce that whereas he earlier had feasted on the delights of sweet anticipation he now was gnawing on the cold corn-cob of reality.

In short, he said, the budget request was too high. He used terms like "incredible" and "unbelievable." He said it ought to be cut and he called on Congress to help him cut it.

He was loudly applauded, and not all the applause came from the Republicans. A lot of Democrats also joined Cannon in his profession of horror at the prospect of an $11.9 billion addition to the national debt.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Analyst
 More than 50 years after the overthrow of dictator Porfirio Diaz, Mexico still considers itself a revolutionary state.
 The steep upward climb of Mexican industry, the towering office buildings and the new hotels in Mexico City provide convincing evidence of the revolution's success.
 The story of Mexico's revolution actually may be divided into two parts. One that is succeeding and another that, if it cannot be called a failure, certainly has not been keeping pace.

Mexico's 1917 Constitution provided specifically for land reform, but as President Adolfo Lopez Mateos enters his last two years in office, Mexico's farm front still is a picture of unrest.
 In the states of Oaxaca, Chiapas and Morelos in the south, peasants have fought pitched battles with Mexican soldiers. In Chihuahua, just below Texas, squatters have attempted to move against large cattle ranches.

Peasants Organized
 Putting pressure on the government is a new organization called Independent Peasant Central. It is Communist-supported and claims one million members.

It demands immediate expropriation of large farms and ranches. Prominent among its supporters is former President Lazaro Cardenas, the man who expropriated U. S. and British oil interests in Mexico in 1938 and who in more recent times has been an outspoken friend of the Castro regime in Cuba and the Red Chinese.

He attacks U. S. "oppression" and demands the end of "foreign investments and of "foreign monopolies."

Thus he places the Lopez Mateos regime on the defensive on two fronts. On the farm front, Lopez Mateos has announced he will break up every large privately owned farm and ranch within the next two years, but he denies it is because of leftist or Cardenas pressure.

Cardenas' talk is the kind to strike fear into the hearts of American investors who have around a billion dollars invested there.

Action Against Reds
 Internally, the country is anti-Communist and the government has not hesitated to jail local Communists or to expel Communist diplomats interfering with Mexican internal affairs.

Lopez Mateos has described his government as "far left" but he himself has been moving toward center. His program fits in well with the Alliance for Progress program. He has spent increasingly huge proportions of the national budget for education.

As for Cardenas, he probably would describe himself as less pro-Communist than pro-Mexican. But he and his kind deal with fire if, for politics alone, they seek to divide the country between left and right and undermine confidence in the country's future.

ESCAPE TO WEST

BERLIN (UPI)—Two East Germans escaped to the American sector of Berlin Monday by crawling through barbed wire, according to West Berlin police.

They said the Germans were aged 19 and 31. Patrolling Communist border guards failed to spot them.

Matter of Fact

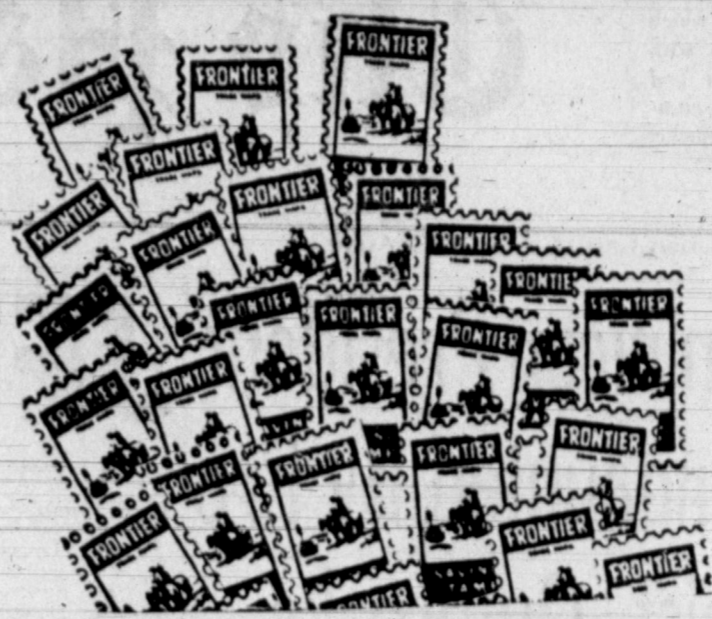

Who can be blamed for not being sure on which Thursday in November Thanksgiving falls? It was not until 1941 that this holiday was decreed by Congress to be on the fourth Thursday. From 1789 to 1941, Thanksgiving was switched several times and at various periods was observed on the first, third, fourth and last Thursday in November and even on the first Thursday in December.

Committees Getting Down To Business

The lights are burning late these nights on Capitol Hill. This first session of the 88th Congress at last is down to business. Congressional committees are meeting to shape the legislation that will affect every American and our friends — and enemies — abroad.

The key work of the Congress comes in the long, tedious meetings of the 20 standing committees of the House, the 16 standing committees of the Senate and the 130 or so subcommittees of both chambers. Once a bill is introduced, the assigned committee may call for a hearing on it, may amend or completely rewrite it, may refuse to consider it, may reject it, or may report it to the full chamber with approval or disapproval. The standing committees also may initiate new legislation and they serve as watchdogs on the administration and conduct of policy. Committee work is indeed the heart of the Congress.

"We are ruled by a score and a half of 'little legislatures,'" said Woodrow Wilson. His complaint centered on the power committees hold over pending legislation. It was an objection that was made by Presidents before and after Wilson as they sought to break the grip of powerful committee chairmen and committee members. Many a program advocated by a President has been drastically revised or amended before it was reported out of committee for action in the House or Senate. In the view of some observers, drastic amendment will be the probable fate this year of President Kennedy's tax reform proposal. Now up for hearings by the House Ways and Means Committee, this measure is the most important administration proposal submitted to Congress this year. Like in any pending measures, the tax bill has an unpredictable future.

Legislation originates from many sources. Bills may come from a government agency or the President. It is the duty of the President under the Constitution to recommend to the Congress from time to time "such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient." Some bills from Congressmen come as a result of their own ideas for needed legislation.

some are introduced at the urging of their constituents. A recent study of 90 major acts showed that 46 of them were chiefly the products of Congress. But even those bills that did not originate with a member or committee of Congress bore the marks of Congressional revision before they reached the floor of either chamber. Few bills reach the House or Senate floor without considerable change.

As a member of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, I serve as chairman of the Subcommittee on Communications and Power, which has initial jurisdiction over bills affecting interstate and foreign communications, petroleum and natural gas, interstate power, and the U. S. Weather Bureau. As a member of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, I again have been assigned as chairman of the Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation. This is the subcommittee which held original jurisdiction over bills to provide for the Canadian River Project now being built.

Were it not for the screening and amending work of the committees, Congress would bog down in a morass of confusion. More than 20,000 legislative proposals are expected to be introduced in this session. In addition, the Senate will consider nearly 100,000 Presidential nominations. Judging from past Congresses, only about 10 per cent of proposed legislation will be enacted into law by the 88th Congress. And the 10 per cent that make the grade will, for the most part, be those measures that were reported favorably by committees. Committee power is a fact of life.

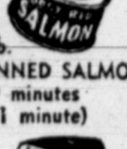

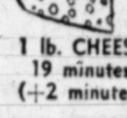

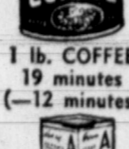

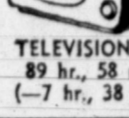

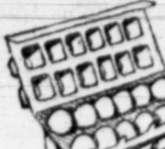

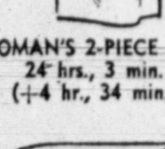

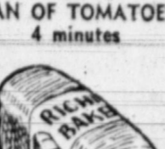

As our government began, the practice was for the House to ask heads of executive departments to report on subjects for legislation. Bills then were shaped before the full House. Instead of standing committees, a number of select or special committees were appointed for specific but temporary purposes. Had this system persisted, our legislative process would be similar to that of the British Parliament, in which no specialized standing committees participate. In Parliament, bills are initiated and shaped by ministries of government for consideration by the full House.

Early in our history, Congress lost faith in the wisdom of the Executive branch. In 1792, when the Jeffersonians captured control of the House, a system of standing committees was established. By 1946, when the Legislative Reorganization Act was passed to straighten out the confusion, the House had 48 standing committees and the Senate 33. The Act cut the number of standing committees in the House to 19 and those in the Senate to 15 and clarified the jurisdictions of each. Since then, one standing committee — that on civilian space activities — was added to each chamber. But subcommittees have multiplied.

Most legislation before this session is now in the committee stage. Bills given committee approval will move to the floor of the House or Senate, then (if approved) to conference committee where differences in the versions will be ironed out, then to the House and Senate for final approval, then to the President.

AWARD WINNER — DeKalb Agriculture Association, Inc. held its sixth Annual Awards Banquet recently for winners of the 1962 Selected 5-acre yield contest. In Gray County, Paul Eakin was first place winner with a yield of 6,269.11 pounds with DeKalb E-56a. Second place winner was Jim Eakin with a yield of 6,125.63 pounds with DeKalb E-56a and Amos Harris was third with a yield of 5,582.47 pounds with DeKalb 5-50a. This year's State Champion was A. J. Labus of Panhandle.

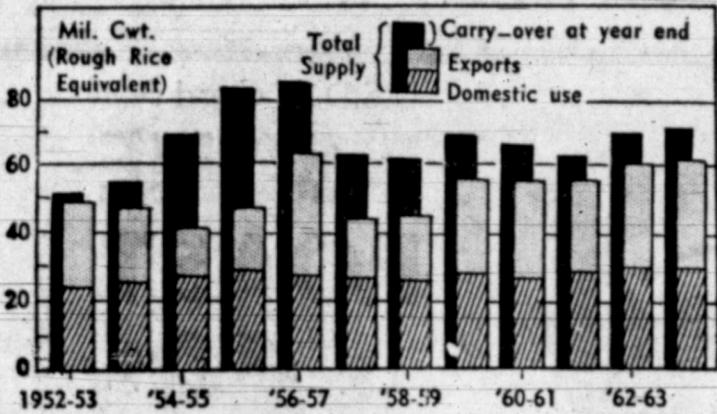

THE NEW LOOK—Those funny-looking code numbers printed on checks have shown up on a clock in a Memphis, Tenn. bank. To employe Eloise Hendrick the figures are very familiar. They're used so that machines will "recognize" them.

RICE SUPPLY AND DISTRIBUTION

JUST ABOUT AVERAGE—U.S. rice supply for 1962-63 is estimated at 70.1 million hundredweight, rough rice equivalent. (The 1963 bars on chart are estimates.) This is 8 per cent above the figure for a year ago, but comes pretty close to the 1956-1960 average. Exports, at an estimated 32.0 million cwt., would be about 10 per cent above those in 1961-62. Carry-over at end of the 1962-63 marketing year may total about 9.0 million cwt. Data: figured on marketing year beginning in August, as compiled by Department of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Too bad the late Sen. Huey P. (Kingfish) Long isn't around these days to add some belly laughs to the yammer about President Kennedy's tax bill.

That is not to say that Huey merely was a clown, good only for laughs. He was, indeed, a clown. But he also was a political operator of great talent. As, for example, when he took out after Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1934-35 and gave the great man one of the political frights of his career.

Huey did not disguise his purpose. He merely sought to steal FDR's army of New Deal voters so that he, Huey, could be elected president in 1936. It would be too much to say that Long got far with this program. But FDR was shook. Long did that with a tax bill in support of the Huey P. Long battle cry: "Share our wealth, every man a king."

Share our wealth sounded mighty pretty to the have-nots who made up much of FDR's New Deal voting army. They were the ill-housed, ill-clothed, ill-fed. To those unhappy folk, Huey made his pitch—a seven-point tax program. Huey explained he didn't have the details worked out and his point No. 7 seemed to prove that.

Debt Moratorium
No. 7 was as follows, in Huey's own words:
"Until we straighten things out—and we can straighten things out in two months under our program—we would grant a moratorium on all debts which people owe they cannot pay."

What got FDR's ill-fed New Dealers was the beautiful simplicity of it all. The remainder of Huey's tax plan was like this:
—A graduated capital-levy on all fortunes in excess of $1 million. The levy would be 100 per cent on all over the seventh million.
—Limitation of inheritances and of annual income to $1 million.
—Provision of a home with conveniences such as radio and automobile to every family from the proceeds of the foregoing levies. (Huey was not familiar with TV.)
—Easy Living
—A 30-hour work week and a 11-month work year.
—Free college and vocational education for every youth at state and federal expenses.
—Adequate pensions to everyone over 60 except persons earning $19,000.
This giddy program not only was taken seriously but actually helped acquire for Huey a national following. Mid-way in 1935, FDR struck back with a soak-the-rich tax plan of his own. FDR's bill didn't soak anyone very hard. But it was a small beginning.

There is some redistribution of wealth written into the Kennedy tax program now proposed. Nothing as bold as Huey Long's redistribution program, of course. But, as the late Harry L. Hopkins said of FDR's New Deal: Tax and tax, spend and spend, elect and elect!

THE PICTURE AS BEFORE—Figured in terms of annual rates, payments to farmers for foods in the "market basket" of farm-originated foods changed but little—about 1 per cent from 1961 to 1962—$410.20. On the consumer's (marketing spread) side of the chart, market basket cost averaged $4.00 in 1962, about $3 above the 1961 average. Small increase since 1950, it reflects stability in costs of bringing foods to market. Figures for 1962 are preliminary. From Agriculture Department.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Roy Brady of J. W. Sparks & Co. believes that technical indices dictate a high degree of stock market confidence and he would use sinking spells for the accumulation of favored equities.

He further reasons that the impetus needed to stimulate the Dow-Jones industrial average, over the near-term, may rest with the performance of U.S. Steel in the next few trading sessions.

Should leadership develop from this area, he would expect an objective of 700-710 in the senior average to be attained in the near future.

Walt McKibben, editor of Investographs, notes that despite his conviction that the market is going higher, it has become difficult to find short-term trading situations which can be strongly recommended. Therefore, he says, accumulation of high quality issues for the longer term now seems sensible.

The stock market is historically prone to accident in the second quarter of the year, says analyst Arthur Wiesenberger, but other evidence suggests it may be early to expect a reaction of consequence at this time.

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the opinion of Bradbury K. Thurlow, analyst for Winslow, Cohn & Stetson, it seems most unlikely that the stock market is on the threshold of a new, major advance.

If this is so, he says it follows that we should see a near-term reaction of "significant proportions" from current levels—but if the reaction can hold between 638 and 660 in the industrial average "our attitude would become much more bullish."

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. says the new closing high set by the industrial average on Thursday bodes well for the maintenance of an upward market course. He believes that even minor liquidation will bring in aggressive support with the bullish forces developing greater power as the list pushes higher.

Indicator Digest explains the current market action as follows: The tug of war in the narrow trading range of the past few weeks is still undecided. No clear-cut decision about the secondary direction of the market should be made until the industrial average breaks out of its channel boundaries between 667 and 688.

The Fabulous J.A.T. Galvin

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW United Press International SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The government of the United States is about to come to grips with a former newspaper reporter who took time out to make an estimated $130 million.

His name is John A. T. Galvin. The Treasury Department says he owes $21,846,895 in back income taxes—the largest claim ever filed against an individual.

Galvin is now in Dublin. A jeopardy assessment has been filed in San Francisco against his properties in the area.

Similar liens have been placed against Galvin's 77,000-acre ranch holdings in Modoc and Lassen counties in northern California, and against the fabulous Rancho San Fernando Rey near Santa Barbara.

The Internal Revenue Service claims $39,654 for 1954; $1,137,200 for 1955; $10,266,249 for 1956; $450,281 for 1957; plus 1956-1957 gift taxes of $9,348,491, and an additional $298,000 for gift taxes in 1955 against Mrs. Galvin.

Five other persons involved in the management of his fortune are joined in the 1956-1957 gift tax claim against Galvin.

Topped Only Once Internal Revenue Service records indicate that the claim against Galvin has been topped only by a $23 million lien placed against a foreign corporation alleged to have had income from the United States.

"All income taxes claimed are capital gains taxes on funds received by Mr. Galvin before he was a resident of the United States," his financial counselor, John Collins, told United Press International.

"John Galvin has never evaded taxes in the past," his attorney Robert S. Cathcart, said. "And he hasn't in this case."

Cathcart indicated that the claims will be opposed in the U.S. Tax Court. Galvin, in his only statement to the press since he arrived in Ireland, says he does not owe the taxes and will fight. Galvin has 150 days in which to appeal to the Tax Court to have the liens lifted.

This deadline expires early in May.

Grounds for Action Walter R. Stumpf, assistant director of the Internal Revenue Service in San Francisco, said the fact that Galvin left California for Ireland was sufficient grounds for the jeopardy assessment. The government uses this approach when it appears that property may be converted to cash by a taxpayer planning to leave the country for good.

Galvin is an Australian. His defense is that he did not earn the money in the United States and that he was not a resident of the United States when he did earn it.

The general contention of the Internal Revenue Service is that Galvin's family lived in the United States during the relatively short period of four years in question, that he had attempted to protect them from American income tax by setting up a trust prior to their arrival, and that despite his contentions he was a de facto resident of this country when the money came in from the Orient.

Galvin is an unassuming man of slightly less than average stature, with a round face and round glasses which give him a somewhat owl-like appearance. He did not inherit any of his fortune.

Of Poor Family He was born in 1905 into a very poor Australian family, one of seven children. His father did odd jobs around His Majesty's Theatre in Hobart. As soon as he was old enough, John sold newspapers.

The father saved enough money to send John and his brothers to St. Virgil's Christian Brothers School in Barrack Street, but soon found he could not maintain the cost. The Brothers waived the fees because the young Galvins were exceptional students.

Later and more recently, John repaid the Christian Brothers with gifts to St. Virgil's totaling 150,000 Australian pounds.

His courage evidenced itself in his boyhood. When he was 12 and a poor swimmer he saved a friend from drowning and was awarded the Royal Humane Society Medal.

Later, as a newspaper reporter in Hong Kong, he went into the mountains on a dangerous mission to interview a tough guerrilla named Mao Tse-tung.

Leaves School Galvin left school in Hobart at the age of 15 and went to Melbourne. Here he became a messenger boy at 15 shillings a week and sold newspapers on the side.

In 1930, after a brief fling in London's Fleet Street, Galvin got another job in Melbourne soliciting advertising with Gordon and Gotch, publishers and news agents. Here he encountered a setback and an asset, almost simultaneously. He met a fellow Australian, Stanley Smith, who was doing the same work. This was an asset, because later on when they became partners they made an estimated $375 million together.

The setback occurred when Frank Taylor of Gordon and Gotch fired them both.

"They were no good at selling classified advertising," Taylor said. "Girls were better."

Bereft of their jobs at four Australian pounds per week plus commissions which they didn't seem to be able to earn, John Galvin and Stanley Smith went to Hong Kong.

Joins News Service "I got a job with the United Press," Galvin told this writer last year at his 35,000-acre Rancho San Fernando Rey, near Santa Barbara.

Records of the news service's bureau in Hong Kong indicated that very little of his $150 million was accrued at this time.

During the war, Galvin worked for the British Ministry of Information in India and Burma. After the war he became a top echelon man in the Hong Kong government's Department of Commerce and Industry, and simultaneously with Stanley Smith became involved in the operation of several commercial companies.

One of them brought him back to journalism again; he became among other things, a director of the China Mail. This was the newspaper for which he had obtained an interview with Mao Tse-tung.

Later the Mail was merged into the South China Morning Post, and Galvin and Smith went to Malaya and bought an Iron mine.

They negotiated a contract with the government of Japan for its output, organized a steamship line to deliver the ore, and started the acquisition of fabulous fortunes in a relatively short period of time.

Peck Family Gets Grand Slam

By JOSEPH FINNIGAN UPI Hollywood Correspondent HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Gregory Peck's Academy Award nomination represented a grand slam for his family in acting and sports.

One of Peck's sons won a track meet event for his college, another son was a victorious high school wrestler, and the actor's jumping horse won the race in Ireland. Greg's nomination, his fifth as best actor, gave the family four straight victories.

With his two sons and the horse having won their events, Peck was slightly nervous as he awaited the Oscar nominations. Two friends who came by a dressing room on the set of his picture, "Captain Newman M.D.," to wish him well, Peck waved a rabbit's foot.

Peck was nominated for his portrayal of a lawyer in "To Kill a Mockingbird." He's competing against Burt Lancaster (Bird Man of Alcatraz), Jack Lemmon (Days of Wine and Roses), Marcello Mastroianni (Divorce-Italian Style), and Peter O'Toole (Lawrence of Arabia).

Peck has been nominated four times previously for Oscars but has yet to win. "Didn't Expect to Win" "As I look back I think a lot of those early ones were because I was new," he said. "You seem to make a more vivid impression on people because you are new. I was grateful for the first couple of nominations but I never expected to win."

"I never expected to win any of them. But the one where I thought I was a contender that year but Brod Crawford gave a strong performance in "All the King's Men" and he won. Talking about his four previous nominations, Peck doesn't cry sour grapes.

"I've never had any regrets," he said. "I've felt that the right candidate won it each time. I never felt short changed."

Peck's "Mocking Bird" nomination was based on his serious portrayal of a lawyer. He's usually in serious pictures, but his role as a doctor in "Captain Newman M.D." is one of his rare comedies.

Likes Comedy Roles "I like to do comedy pictures but they don't come my way," Peck said. "They go to Rock Hudson, Cary Grant, Glenn Ford or some other actor. I guess it's because I've done so much dramatic work."

Peck often wears a uniform in pictures and he humorously hints that perhaps his reputation as a movie military commander kept him out of comedies. "I've commanded so many things like a submarine, bomber wing, paratroopers and frigate," he said with a smile. "And when you're commanding, the comedy lines don't come your way. Very often in the first two reels I find myself standing in front of a map, telling my men and the audience what we're doing. I seem to get so many of those things, maybe it's because I'm a good ex-

Prestige Polls Dime A Dozen.

By DONALD MAY United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI)—Those U. S. "prestige" polls which have raised a storm since President Kennedy's 1960 campaign are now available by the bushel.

In what it called a "significant departure" in information policy, the administration today made public 34 previously classified overseas public opinion polls on U. S. standing and other issues. All are a year or more old. The major ones deal with the Eisenhower administration. Others take up such subjects as what the Burmese think of "rock and roll" and why Frenchmen have a low opinion of American women.

Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., of the House information subcommittee, who has fought for release of the polls, made public a letter from U. S. Information Agency Director Edward R. Murrow spelling out the new policy. It appeared to be a compromise.

Policy of Delay Polls marked "confidential," Murrow said, will be made public two years after completion "unless the interest of national security require them to remain classified." Polls marked "official use only" will be released one year after completion.

All can be released to congressional committees immediately on strict understanding they will "not in any way be made public."

One 10-page study dated September 1960 said people in Britain, France, West Germany and Italy had a "far from favorable" opinion of American youth and an only slightly better regard for American women.

The number who had a "favorable" impression of American women was 34 per cent in Britain, 18 per cent in West Germany, 11 per cent in France, and 38 per cent in Italy. The study showed that American women are admired by men in Germany.

"miscellaneous." Other disclosures: President Eisenhower's personal esteem in Norway dropped from 70 per cent in 1957 to 46 per cent in June 1960. Forty-nine per cent of Britons, 38 per cent of Frenchmen, and 65 per cent of West Germans liked Eisenhower in May 1960.

A "flash survey" made in 17 countries in January 1961, just after Kennedy's election, rated the new President 66 per cent in average "esteem" around the world. This ranged from 90 per cent in Lima, Peru, to 34 per cent in India.

A February 1961 poll on Latin American opinion of Fidel Castro reported a "predominant negative reaction" to the Cuban leader. Nineteen per cent of urban Brazilians and 88 per cent of rural Brazilians had never heard of Castro.

RELIEF FOR WIVES WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Tuesday approved a bill that would give a woman whose husband deserted her the same opportunity to deduct child care expenses as is now permitted widows.

The Internal Revenue code now allows working widows to deduct up to $600 for care of a child under 12 years or a dependent who cannot care for himself.

2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
2 eggs
4 squares (4 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, melted
1/2 cup chopped Brazil nuts
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Seven-minute or package Fluffy White Frosting Mix
Cream shortening; add sugar gradually and mix thoroughly. Add eggs, one at a time and beat until light and fluffy. Add melted chocolate and beat well. Mix in Brazil nuts, sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt; add flour mixture alternately with milk to batter. Stir in vanilla. Turn into 2 greased 8-inch layer pans 2 inches deep. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes and remove from pan. When cake is cool, frost with white fluffy frosting, and garnish with toasted Brazil nut slices.

WHAT could be better for a Bossa Nova dancing party than cake made with nuts from Brazil, the dance's birthplace?

Novel Idea Makes Eating A Success
Here's a novel idea that will make a "hit" with the young crowd and will be just as popular with a party crowd.

PEANUT BUTTER AND ORANGE

1/2 cup Marshmallow Fluff
1/4 cup peanut butter
1 tablespoon orange juice
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind.

Combine all ingredients in small mixing bowl. Spread in desired amount on crackers, bread, or between split lady fingers for dessert.

Pumpkin Pie Is Always Favorite

It doesn't have to be Thanksgiving to serve this delicious Pumpkin "Peace Pipe" pie. It has plenty of party appeal the year around.

There's a layer of ice cream below, whipped cream and caramelized almonds on top. And in between is a rich and spicy filling made with Libby's fine specially-process pumpkin that gives you velvety-smooth fillings every time!

- 1 pint vanilla ice cream, softened
- 1 10 inch pie shell, baked
- 1 1-lb. can Libby's pumpkin
- 1/2 c. sugar
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. ginger
- 1/4 tsp. cloves
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1/2 c. whipping cream
- 1 c. slivered almonds
- 1/4 c. sugar

1. Spread the softened vanilla ice cream in pie shell that has been thoroughly cooled; place in freezer.

2. Filling: Start with Libby's Pumpkin and mix it with 1/2 c. sugar, salt, spices and vanilla. Whip 1 c. whipping cream until stiff, and fold into pumpkin mixture. Pour over ice cream in shell; cover with foil, and freeze about 4 hours.

3. To caramelize almonds: Combine nuts and 1/4 c. sugar in skillet over low heat. To prevent burning, stir rapidly as sugar begins to turn color. When almonds are caramel-colored, remove and spread on greased cookie sheet. Break apart when cool.

4. At serving time, whip remaining cream; spread around edge of pie. Garnish with almonds.

SUGGESTS SEAL CHANGE

BOSTON (UPI) — Attorney Robert Donaldson, chairman of the board of directors of the Massachusetts Sweepstakes Committee, expressed opposition to increased racing dates in the state Tuesday at a hearing and suggested a change in the state seal—"to depict a horse and dog drooling greedily at a $2 bill."

Michigan Bean Bake Recipe Can Be Made Day In Advance Of Serving

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We received a letter from a friend in Saginaw, Mich., urging us to try her recipe for a get-together party — one of those gatherings of friends and relatives where each guest brings her favorite dish to be shared by all. Actually, it becomes everybody's party.

Our friend, naturally proud of her state's navy beans, used them in a creamy version of a bean bake. She says it can be made a day in advance and is good either hot or cold.

CREAM-OF MICHIGAN BEANS
(Makes 6 servings)

Soak in warm water to cover for 2 hours:
2 cups dry navy beans
Bring to boil in same water and add:
1-3 teaspoon ginger

Pineapple Captures Flavor Of Islands

Here's another taste of the tropics to delight your family. The pineapple captures the magic of the islands.

ISLAND MAGIC PUDDING
(Pineapple Volcanoes)

2 cups sponge cake pieces or use angel food, chiffon, pound cake or lady fingers.
3 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1 (9-ounce) can crushed pineapple
1 cup milk

Distribute cake pieces evenly in 5 lightly buttered 3-ounce custard cups. Beat eggs until fluffy. Beat in salt, sugar, vanilla and almond extract. Blend in undrained pineapple and milk. Spoon mixture over cake. Set cups in pan with 1 inch hot water in bottom. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until set, about 40 to 45 minutes. Cool on wire rack. When cold, run spatula around inside of cup. Turn out, upside down, onto serving plate. Spoon additional crushed pineapple or thin red-jelly over top of each serving. Makes 3 servings.

essary, to keep beans covered. Drain beans and turn into 8x11-inch baking dish.
Stir in:
2 large onions, chopped fine (about 1 cup)
Blend together:
1/2 cup commercial sour cream
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon molasses
Pour over beans in baking dish and add about:
1 cup boiling water
Cover dish tightly and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 2 hours. Remove cover and continue to bake until browned and completely tender, about 30 minutes longer.

Slim Jims
NEW YORK (UPI) — As late as 1844, the slim waistline was considered top form for a gentleman. In both London and Paris, those not favored with narrow waists wore corsets.

The pretty Pampa miss was awarded $150 in cash, a $100 clothing certificate, a diamond necklace and an invitation to interview for an airline stewardess job. Second place went to Peggy Judd, 38, of Amarillo.

American Jazz Ensemble Concert Here Friday Night

The American Jazz Ensemble, which prides itself on mixing "cool jazz" with rigorously difficult modernist works, will be presented in concert on Friday at 8 p.m. in the Pampa Junior High auditorium, under the auspices of the Pampa Community Concert Association.

The ensemble is composed of Johnny Eaton, pianist and Bill Smith, clarinetist, who originated the idea for the jazz group in the fall of 1960 while students at the American Academy in Rome. Erich Peter on bass and Jimmy Pratt, who has joined the ensemble as drummer for the American tour, complete the ensemble.

Smith, Juilliard-trained and noted both as a serious composer and brilliant clarinetist, suggested to Eaton the possibility of forming a jazz group... purely for fun. Eaton recalls, "At first, I was hesitant. After all, I had come to Rome to leave performance behind and compose. But then, suddenly, a long-dimmed light flashed brilliantly. 'Would you perhaps be interested in trying a concert with contemporary serious music and contemporary jazz on the same program?' I haltingly asked. Smith replied, 'What! And be shot?' But after this joking response, Bill admitted that he would be very interested."

And so, admittedly with fear and trepidation, Eaton and Smith formed the American Jazz Ensemble, which gave its first concert in Rome in December, 1960. The response was enthusiastic, beyond the group's wildest dreams. Although the format of the program generally consists of roughly one-third contemporary music followed by two-thirds jazz, the group's versatility enables it to do all-jazz or all-contemporary formats, plus programs with some strictly classical music added as well.

Smith says, "Eaton is all fire, intensity. He is full of rich and complicated ideas. As for me, I am for balance. I love the pure line of the clarinet; I love clarity and economy in composition. Eaton says, 'I am romantic. With music I try to express as much as I can. Bill, on the other hand, tries to express less than he can. I love Wagner, he hates him. My other two favorites are Schoenberg and Mahler. Smith is all for Mozart, Bartok and Stravinsky.'

One topic they do agree is the subject of great names in jazz: Thelonius Monk, Lennie Tristano, Budd Powell, Benny Goodman, Dizzie Gillespie, Davis, Guifre and Charlie Parker.

A further contrast: Eaton is a bachelor; Smith is married and the father of four.

Admission to the concert is by membership only.

The Jazz Ensemble will conclude the 1962-63 concert series. A drive for new memberships for the 1963-64 concert season will begin Monday, March 18 with renewal of memberships set for the week of March 11.

Nursing Home Drive Officers Named At Meet

Officers of the Pampa Community Nursing Care Home campaign were named and five new members were added to the executive committee at a meeting held in the Court House Cafe yesterday afternoon.

Arthur M. Teed was elected chairman of the campaign.

Dr. M. C. Overton Jr. was elected vice chairman, and Frank M. Culbertson was elected as second vice chairman.

Roy Bourland made the report of the nominating committee, which was unanimously adopted.

Next step in the campaign was to be selection this afternoon of the six team captains who will lead teams of 10 or more volunteer workers.

The next executive committee meeting was set for 4 p.m. this afternoon and to be followed by a breakfast at 7 a.m. Friday in the Court House Cafe.

At this stage of the campaign, only prospective contributors who are generally considered able to contribute gifts of $500 and up are being canvassed, according to Teed.

Pampa Delegates To Attend Aircade In Oklahoma City

A delegation of Pampans representing the Legislative and National Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will attend a one-day Aircade meeting in Oklahoma City tomorrow according to Roy Sparkman, Chairman of the Legislative and National Affairs Committee. The program is designed to bring information on the 88th Congress which is now in session. A team of hand-picked authorities on major legislation will conduct the Aircade meeting, sponsored by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Primary purpose of the workshop is to give a clear picture of the 88th Congress; to furnish solid, facts-based analyses of all major congressional issues; to show how to work effectively with congressmen and senators; and to show individuals how to equip themselves to become better informed citizens.

Following the Aircade meeting, the Pampa group will bring back a resume of the day's program which will be presented at a membership meeting of the Chamber sometime in March.

Those planning to make the trip include Roy Sparkman, Melvin Jayroe, W. A. Morgan, Jim Sanders, Jimmy McCune, Dr. Joe Donaldson, Dr. Smith Sybert, and possibly others.

Pampa Man Will Get Presidential Service Citation

George W. Scott, 1709 N. Russell St., president of Scott Oil Co., will be honored with a Presidential citation for service as co-chairman of the Selective Service, Board for Gray, Donley, Wheeler and Roberts counties.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz of Austin, state director of Texas Selective Service, will come to Pampa to make the presentation.

Colonel Schwartz will represent President John F. Kennedy in awarding the Certificate of Appreciation to Scott at a ceremony scheduled for 10 a.m. Thursday, March 7 in the board office in the Fraser Bldg.

Kathleen Zmotony, clerk of local Selective Service Board 52, said today Scott has served the board for ten years without compensation.

Services For Ed Gallemore Set Friday

Funeral services for Ed Gallemore, 59, of Irving, father of James Gallemore of Pampa, a local insurance man, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday from the Plymouth Park Methodist Church in Irving.

Special Apron Is Missing

The Crusaders' Class of the First Methodist Church is missing an apron; not an ordinary kitchen apron but a Money Apron.

For the past several years, the class has been circulating the apron around to members, who sewed dollar bills beneath patches on the printed pattern of the apron. The money was used for class projects. The only identification is a tag identifying "The Crusaders' Class."

Class members feel that the apron was delivered to the wrong home about three weeks ago and somewhere in the city someone is wondering who it belongs to.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the misplaced apron is asked to call the First Methodist Church office, MO-47411.

Special Courses Start Wednesday At Coronado Inn

"The neutrality to religion required by the First Amendment means that the government cannot be forced by the religious or by the non-religious to add to or subtract from the traditional and voluntary religious leaven that has always existed in our public life," the state's brief said.

Maryland Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan argued Wednesday that the underlying issue was whether "non-theism should override theism (belief in a supreme being)."

Questions Argument

"Once you remove the idea of theism you surrender in effect to those who want a non-theistic climate," he said. "This gives official sanction to non-theism."

Chief Justice Earl Warren questioned this argument. He suggested there were lots of people who oppose use of the Lord's Prayer in public schools who "believe just as fervently in God" as anyone else. He mentioned briefs opposing the prayer filed with the court by the Synagogue Council of America and other groups.

Baltimore attorney Leonard J. Kerpelman argued for Mrs. Madalyn E. Murray, who brought the case on behalf of her son, William J. Murray III. Both are atheists. His arguments were like those of the Schempps.

'LIGHT MAN' SIGNS HEAVY DOG—A couple of dolls unwind after being chosen for the new Broadway play, "Hey You, Light Man." They are a 160-pound Great Dane named "Doll" and his owner, Lenore Rhine.

AUDREY ATTRACTS ATTENTION—In all of her current motion pictures, Audrey Hepburn wears hats. She is shown here in an 1810 poke bonnet from "War and Peace."

DOUBLE DOSE—Both the models and the evening gowns come in doubles. The Baker twins, Broadway musical stars, are wearing bright raspberry red peau de soie bell-skirted gowns by Sylvan Rich for Martini.

CARNIVAL CHARACTER—A figure of President Kennedy in papier-mache is being readied for a float in an annual parade at Viareggio, Italy. Figures for the floats are inspired by chronicles of the year.

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

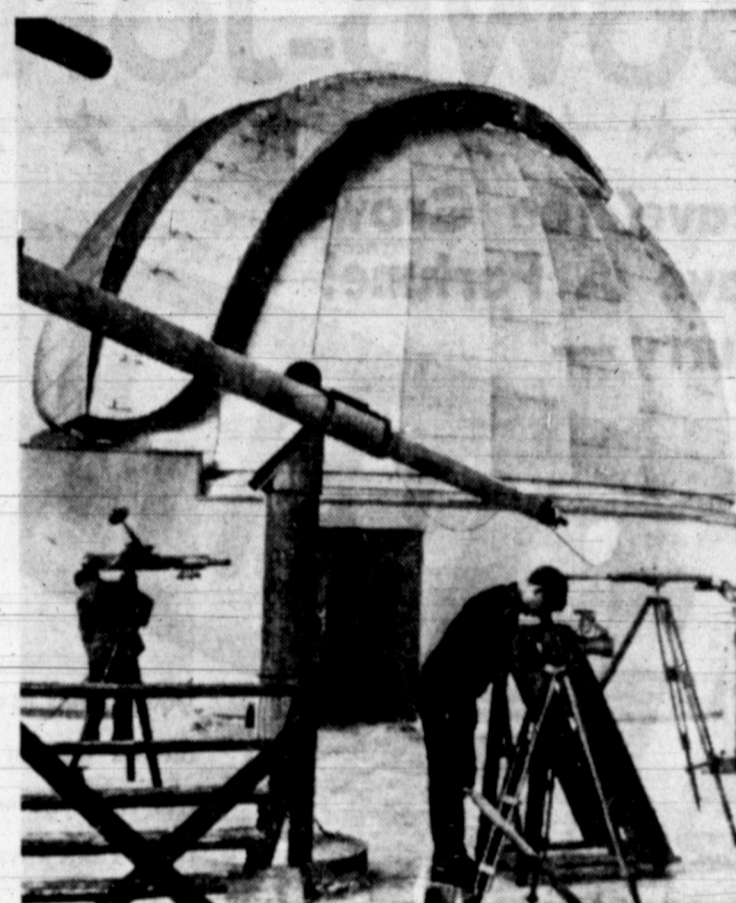

NEW ARRIVAL—A mother gnu at New York's Bronx Zoo watches over her new white-tailed family addition. Zoo officials state the animal, which stands two feet high, is the first of its species born there in 14 years.

DAYDREAMER—A bright-eyed Nepalese girl sits in the doorway of her Katmandu home. The nation of Nepal lies in the mountainous region between China and India. As such, the land is politically and militarily pivotal, and the future of its people is anything but certain.

DOING A TAKE-OFF—What's coming off here? Little Mary Irwin of Cleveland seems to be pretty fussy about hats—even this shower cap. While in the bathtub her mother put this chapeau on her, but Mary put up a real squawk until the cap was removed. Her reaction is reflected in the photographs, especially the lower right which shows her glee after her "take-off."

GERMANY'S LARGEST—The Wilhelm-Foerster Observatory has been inaugurated as the biggest in Germany. Berliners can see the movements of the stars and moon through the telescope and the cupola has precise photographic studies of the stars.

DUTCH 'COUSIN'—The Wilhelmina Inn at the Queen Wilhelmina State Park near Mena, Ark., is now under reconstruction and soon will be open to tourists.

THUNDERSTRUCK!—At the Olympia Stadium in Rome, two trackmen take time out to survey the remains of a statue after it was struck by lightning. The bits on the ground are all that remain of original 19-foot-6 structure.

CANDLE FOR THE POPE—Candle-maker Salvatore Di-Giorgio puts finishing touches to this ornate 35-pound candle at his Rome plant. It was among those presented recently to Pope John XXIII.

THE ICEBERG THAT GROWS AND GROWS . . .—A 15-foot-high iceberg in Frankfurt, West Germany, offers a chilly watering place for water-birds. The iceberg, formed by the water of a fountain underneath, is still growing as it continues to spout beneath the ice shell.

Dear Abby... Marriage Isn't For Kids In School

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I think the parent-planned marriages like they had in the old country years ago should become a custom in this country. Why not let the girls marry at 16 and finish their education in an all-married-girls' high school? It would save a lot of wear and tear on parents who have a tough time keeping their daughters in line.

MRS. C.
DEAR MRS. C.: Marriage is for mature people — not children. Granted, some mature people make a poor choice, but the key to keeping daughters in line is not wedlock. When a girl marries she should be mature enough to make a home for her husband and to rear any children that follow. Mixing school books with milk bottles and bills is for the birds.

DEAR ABBY: Just exactly what is an engagement ring supposed to mean, and how long should an engagement ring two years ago Christmas and so far my boy friend has made no plans for our future. When I ask him to help me set a wedding date, he finds a hundred excuses. The main one is that he is in debt. It is no wonder, the way he spends money before he gets it. Should I give him his ring back or wait some more? I am 22 and he is 24.

LONG ENGAGEMENT
DEAR LONG: Before you make that decision, collar your boy friend and ask him what his plans for the future are. If he has none — and doesn't want to make any — it means he is not seriously considering marriage. In which case, return his ring.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please explain why a girl has to accept a date with the first boy who asks her for a special occasion — or else stay home? The creepiest boys get wise to this and ask unreasonably early. I realize a girl can't refuse on the grounds that she hopes someone more desirable will ask her. But if she tells the early caller that she "might be out of town" and then shows up with a date.

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, our drug called ODRINEX. You must lose 7 to 10 days of your money back. No strenuous exercise, laxatives, massage or taking of so-called reducing candies, crackers or cookies or chewing gum. ODRINEX is a tiny tablet and easily swallowed. When you take ODRINEX, you still enjoy your meals, still eat the foods you like, but you simply don't have the urge for extra portions, because ODRINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food. Your weight must come down, because as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Get rid of excess fat and live longer. ODRINEX costs $2.00 and is sold on this GUARANTEE: If not satisfied for any reason just return the package to your druggist and get your full money back. No questions asked. ODRINEX is sold with this guarantee by: Richard's Drug Store, 111 N. Cuyler, Mail Orders Filled.

No gift to give a giver? Remember him on some other occasion.

'Manana Is Another Day' Sets Friday Opening

When "Manana Is Another Day" opens Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the Pampa High School auditorium for its first local showing by Pampa Little Theater, Inc., the audiences will have the opportunity to see this rollicking satire on American tourists in Mexico with its actual flavor of Pan America. A second performance will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday. Jack O. Miller is director of the three-act comedy with music with Mrs. Miller serving as co-director. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Krueger have written original music and lyrics for the local production. Choreography has been directed by Mrs. Phyllis Jackson of Borger. Mrs. Marie Jones is technical director.

PARTICIPATING in the World Day of Prayer Services planned for Friday at 10 a.m. in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church and at 7 p.m. in First Methodist Church Chapel are Mrs. Glyn Adsit, World Day program chairman, left and Mrs. Julian Key, worship leader.

Impressive World Day Of Prayer Services Planned By UC Council

The United Church Women of Pampa are sponsoring two services in observance of World Day of Prayer on Friday. The theme for the day is "More Than Conquerors". The following representatives from the churches will participate in a skit entitled "Money Talks": Mrs. G. B. Hogan, Lamar Christian; Mrs. Gary Mills, Harrah Methodist; Mrs. R. B. Dial, Church of the Brethren; Mrs. J. L. Colville, First Methodist; Mrs. Jerome Henry and Miss Jean Smith, St. Mark's Methodist; Mrs. Homer Johnson, First Presbyterian; Mrs. Murry Castleberry, First Christian; Mrs. Bill Sargent, St. Paul Methodist; and Mrs. Robert A. Smith, St. Matthew's Episcopal. Mrs. Price Smith is chairman for the evening service which will be held at 7 o'clock in the First Methodist Church Chapel. The program will be concluded in time for attendance at the Community Concert.

Tommy Wall Is Feted At Party

SKELLYTOWN (Sp.) — Mrs. Orval Wall of Skellytown entertained with a party for her son, Tommy, Friday afternoon on the occasion of his fifth birthday. Games were played and refreshments of birthday cake, jello salad, ice cream and cold drinks were served. Party favors were valentines, red lollipops and balloons. Attending were Greg Houghton, Dennis Cook, Jeff Houghton, Jimmy Lee, Eddie Rogers, Jim Bo Hunt, Billy Lynch, James Flippo Jr., Randy Seger, and Mmes. Jim Lee, H. Flippo, Bill Houghton and Mrs. James Flippo.

the summer home of the late Ambassador Dwight Morrow. Cuernavaca is a beautiful place; it has gardens, churches, cobblestone streets, atmosphere, color and curries.

It is a favorite spot of American tourists. The authors relate "if you live in Mexico and watch the summer tourists from the United States, you cannot help wondering and laughing. If you write plays, you cannot resist portraying these odd, funny, strange people, who are very normal in their hometown life. They wear the clothes they have cast out at home — and they are curious about everything... even intimate details."

The heroine of the play, the romantic Rosario, is not an extraordinary type; she is found in Cuernavaca, in Morelia, in Pachca, everywhere in Mexico. She is the girl who always said, "Manana"; she is the girl who learns the value of "today."

Cast members are Janie Wiens, Sue Pope, Jim Douthit, Edd Rowntree, Dorothy Walker, Jerry Douthit, Nancy Imel, Lynn Roberts, Chleo Worley, Homer West, Carl Hodges, Odevern McConnell, Martha McComas, Charles Lockhart and Peewee Worley.

RUTH MILLETT

It has been a long, long time since the American housewife was expected to bake her own bread, weave her own cloth, can her own vegetables, or piece quilts.

Now another of the homemaker's jobs has received special attention — this time in a court decision rendered in a separate maintenance suit. The judge ordered the wife to send her laundry out — with the husband footing the laundry bill.

Regardless of the merits or arguments of the particular case involved, the judge most likely rendered his decision in light of the attitude of the American housewife, who looks on doing the family wash as the first job to be hired done the minute a couple can afford it.

The family wash is the last of the big jobs left in the home in these days of ready-made clothes, ready-mixed food and electrical appliances. True, automatic washers and driers have lightened the job of washing clothes. But ironing is still time-consuming drudgery, and women try to get rid of the job as quickly as the household budget permits.

Any man who today enjoys any kind of luxury at the expense of his wife's standing over an ironing board is living in a world that is on the way out.

The judicial decision shows how well we women have managed to sell men on the idea that doing the laundry isn't a housewife's job, unless her husband's pay check can't possibly cover having it done.

And even then, many a housewife would rather take a job and pay to have the laundry done, rather than stay at home and face the laundry detail.

Counsel that hits home: Read Ruth Millett's booklet, "Fupper, Wives (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, in care of The Pampa Daily News, P.O. Box 453, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Miss Glenda Shirley Crowned FHA Sweetheart At Valentine Banquet

LEFORS (Sp.) — Miss Glenda Shirley was crowned Future Homemakers Sweetheart at a banquet held recently in the school cafeteria. Miss Shirley, escorted by Anthony McCool, was crowned by Miss Jo Ann Rash, FHA president.

Rufe Jordan, sheriff of Gray County, was guest speaker. G. N. Mounger, high school principal, gave the invocation. Gene Shelton, speech and English instructor, gave the benediction.

A quartet composed of David Roberts, Gene Gee, Wayne Pursley and Anthony McCool presented a selection of songs.

A Valentine motif was used in decorations. Banquet arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. Jolene Corcoran, homemaking teacher with Geneva Lisenbee in charge of food preparation assisted by mothers of the FHA members.

Eight grade girls, costumed in red dresses with white aprons, served the meal.

Attending the banquet were Messrs. and Mmes. Alfred Corcoran, G. N. Mounger, Rufe Jordan, Howard Areher, J. Weldon Moore, Gene Shelton, Mr. Doyce Lee, Phil Woodring, Judy Garrison, Dickey Sims, Charly Gustin, Rodney Airington, Sandra Whitney, Billy McBee, Sharon Harrington, Neal Cates, Madonna Jorda, Frank Bridwell, Joye White, Carolyn Presley, Mary Taylor, Carolyn Todd, Angelia Atchely, Neoma Collins, Joe Harvey, Jeanne Atkinson, Dickie Archer, Sue Stubblefield, Marvin Todd, Phyllis Lamb, Mary Collins, Wayne Coleman, Velda Gifford, Don McCool, Caron Terry, Kay Phillips, Doris Hattley, Nancy Bryant, and Barbara Blair.

Texas Has Two Final Courts

By VERNON SMYLIE
Texas News Syndicate
AUSTIN — The two highest courts in the State of Texas hold their sessions here, across the hall from one another, in a modern building on the northwest side of the Capitol grounds.

This should impress you — and certainly the physical facilities will. The doors to the two chambers are masterpieces of design. What may startle you slightly if you aren't closely acquainted with the state judicial system is the fact that Texas has two courts of final authority.

One is the Texas Supreme Court. It is the highest court in the state for civil matters. The other is the Court of Criminal Appeals, the court of final jurisdiction in criminal matters.

The establishment of a two-pronged state court system resulted from the judicial abuses that came about during the Reconstruction period under more centralized authority. When the present Texas Constitution was drawn in 1876, the division of the civil and criminal branches of the courts was provided for. There have been some changes and enlargements since then, but the separate systems have continued in force.

The Supreme Court has nine members, all of whom are elected. There are eight associate justices and a chief justice. Terms of office run for six years on a staggered basis. Three justices come up for election every two years. When vacancies occur, they are filled by appointment by the governor until the next general election.

To be a Supreme Court justice, you must be at least 35 years old when elected; a citizen of the United States and Texas, and a practicing lawyer for a period of 10 years. There are no exceptions to the age and citizenship requirements. But you may satisfy the legal practice stipulation by serving part of the required time as a judge of a court of record with a law degree.

Five justices — any five — constitute a quorum of the Court. The concurrence of five is required for a decision to be reached.

The Supreme Court, however, doesn't always sit as a full unit. Sometimes, when the work load is heavy, the Court breaks itself into sections to hear arguments, to consider applications for writs of error, and to transact other preliminary business. Final decisions, though, always are rendered by the full court.

The practice of hearing cases in sections is a holdover from the days when the Supreme Court consisted of only three justices. The expanding workload led to the creation by the Texas Legislature of two commissions of three judges each to help the Court transact its business. The commissioners, appointed by the elected justices, heard and decided cases but submitted their findings to the elected justices for approval. At times the commissioners even sat with the elected Court; but only the three elected justices participated in formal action. Finally, in 1945, the Texas Constitution was amended to officially recognize the role of the commissioners by expanding the size of the Supreme Court to nine members.

Most of the cases that reach the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals originate in the State district courts. The criminal cases go directly to the Court of Criminal Appeals. But between the district courts and the Supreme Court a new level of civil courts has come into being. These are the Courts of Civil Appeal.

There presently are eleven Courts of Civil Appeal. They are located in Houston, Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio, Dallas, Texas, Amarillo, El Paso, Beaumont, Waco, and Eastland. These courts are empowered to reach final appellate decisions in matters of fact and in some matters of law. In many situations, however, the decisions of the Civil Appeals court are moved to the Supreme Court for final judgment.

The Civil Appeals courts are composed of a chief justice and two associate justices. All three serve six-year elective terms. Their qualifications are the same as those of members of the Supreme Court.

The Court of Criminal Appeals is a three-member body with five chairs. The two extra positions are filled by appeals commissioners who, like the Supreme Court commissioners of the past, aid in hearing but don't render formal decisions.

Justices of the Court of Criminal Appeals have the same qualifications as Supreme Court justices and, likewise, serve six-year staggered terms. The creation of the two appeals commissioner posts was authorized by the Legislature. The Court itself appoints the commissioners for two-year terms.

There are no juries in the Texas Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, or the Courts of Civil Appeals.

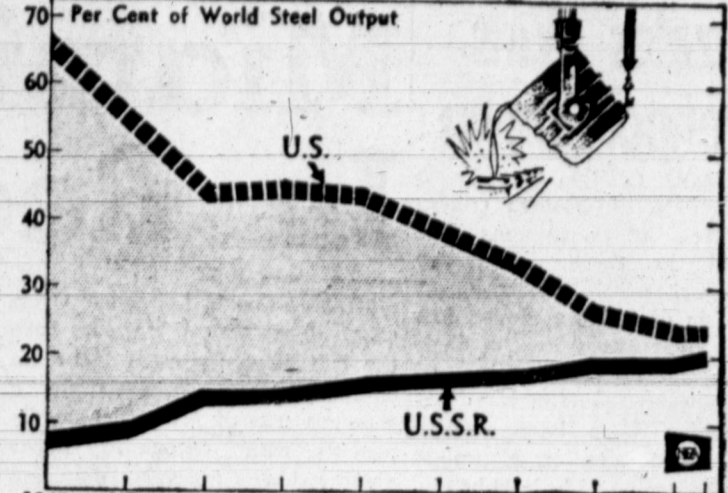

Juries are reserved for the trial courts. Decisions in these courts come directly from the bench.

AND SOME CHANGE

CHILTON, Wis. (UPI) — David Karls, 17, was fined $45 for spearing a sturgeon without a license.

He got part of his fine back because the fish bore a state conservation tag promising $10 to the fisherman returning the tag.

STEEL OUTPUT CLOSER

CLASH OF STEEL—America and the Soviet Union appear headed for a showdown on who is going to lead the world in the production of steel. Russia, whose output has increased every year since World War II, made 21 per cent (84.2 million tons) of the world's steel in 1962. The U.S., whose output has had ups and downs since 1945, saw its percentage of the world total dwindle to 24.6 per cent (98.3 million tons) in 1962. World steel output reached a record 399 million net tons last year, a gain of about 6.5 million over 1961. Of the gain, Russia accounted for 5.8 million tons. In 1945, Russia made only 8.4 per cent of the world's steel; the U.S. 48 per cent. Data from Steel magazine.

CHARGE SYRIAN FIRING
JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israeli officials said Tuesday Syrian fishermen poaching in the Sea of Galilee fired on an Israeli boat. The officials told members of the United Nations Armistice Commission that Syrian fishermen also have been stealing nets set in the water.

BURNS-UP PROCEEDS
BRISTOL, England (UPI) — St. James' Presbyterian Church has been forced to close for two weeks because it burned up the proceeds from its success. "We're broke. We had so many functions at the church that it cost us a fortune in heating," the Rev. Ernest Marvin explained.

Gonzales Wins, Devenport Down

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Texas delegation to the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions was trimmed to three Wednesday night.

The trio of fighters moved into the semifinals while two of their teammates lost quarterfinal matches.

Advancing were bantamweight Eddie Gonzales, middleweight Gary Barcroft and light-heavyweight Wayne Morris.

Defeated in their bids to reach the semifinals were featherweight Floyd Molina and heavyweight Claud Devenport.

The semifinal and final rounds will be fought next Wednesday, March 6.

Fort Worth, the city the Texas fighters represent, stands one point behind Detroit in the team race. Detroit has 12 points. A city gets one point each time one of its fighters wins a match.

Gonzales defeated Duane Mann of Minneapolis, Minn., to advance to Wednesday's round. Barcroft fought off Walter Rodgers of Springfield, Ill., and Morris beat Ed Salter of Buffalo, N.C.

Molina lost his three round bout to Leroy Romer of Billings, Mont. Devenport, an Arlington State football player, dropped his match to Wyce Westbrook of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Heyman, regarded a cinch to be the first collegian drafted by the professionals in April, was the most popular choice on the team. The 21-year-old New York youth who migrated to the Carolinas for his education was a first-team choice of 201 voters and a second-team selection of 12 others. His name thus appeared on 86.2 percent of the ballots cast.

Bonham and Thacker were next in popularity, followed by Harkness and Bradds, in that order. The scoring average of 22.2 points per-man-per-game for this year's All-American team is comparatively low (last season's, for example, averaged more than 27 points per man).

However, this year's honor five shows excellent balance, with 6-foot-8 Bradds the high scoring pivot man and rebounder; Heyman and Bonham, each 6-foot-5, the strong, aggressive forecourt men; and Thacker and Harkness, each 6-foot-2, the outside sharpshooters and ballhandlers.

The consensus of the nation's college basketball experts thus selected a team dominated by four players from Midwestern schools. Heyman, Thacker and Harkness are seniors, while Bonham and Bradds are juniors.

The All-Americans also come from among the six highest ranking college teams. Cincinnati, Duke and Loyola are rated 1-2-3 by the UPI Board of Coaches and Ohio State is sixth.

Barry Kramer of New York University heads the second team which includes Nate Thurmond of Bowling Green, Rod Thorn of West Virginia, Bill Bradley of Princeton and Cotton Nash of Kentucky. They received votes in that order.

A third team is made up of: Walt Hazzard, UCLA; Dave Stallworth, Wichita; Nick Werkman of Seton Hall, the major college scoring leader; Eddie Miles, Seattle, and Bill Green, Colorado State University.

MIAMI—Coach Lawrence Overcast, whose Miami Warriors are the last surviving area team in competition, returned from a scouting trip of his regional opponents, with optimistic hopes about Friday's opponent, Bula, but worries about his probable second-round opponent, Roosevelt.

Pairings for the opening round of regional play in Canyon pit Miami, bi-district winners over Higgins, against Bula at 3 p.m. Friday, with Roosevelt vs. Happy at 4:15, McAdoo vs. Meadow at 7 p.m. and Aspermont vs. Quitaque at 8:15.

Overcast saw 6-B champ Bula down 7-B winner Amherst, 64-58, and reported: Bula is good, but have only one really tall player. He is a 6-3 boy who does all their board work and rebounding for them, while the other four men play outside. He looked very good on the boards, but Amherst's tallest man was 5'10", and I think he'll have a little trouble with our 6-4 Ramon Guerrero and 6-3 Mark Arrington. "Bula must be rated a good team however, they ran up a 24-1 season record, with their only loss being to Shallowater, and were undefeated in district play. Their outside men run from 5-10 to six feet, and if they are hot, may not need too much rebounding," warned Overcast.

Their best shot is 5-11 Gene Aulry. I don't know if he's any relation to the cowboy of the same name, but he has lassoed the basket for a 20-point-per-game average. Six-foot Walt Rifinger seemed like their outstanding player. He's the ballhandler and playmaker, can dribble well with either hand, is averaging 15 points

Carter Faces Field In PBA

HOUSTON (UPI) — Defending champion Don Carter will face the field today when 96 bowlers begin rolling in the Professional Bowlers Association $20,500 All-Charity Classic.

Carter won the 1962 classic but has been off to a slow start this year. He has won $3,547 in 1963 compared with the more than $40,000 he took home in 1962.

Carter, 36, and the other veterans on the tour have been having their troubles with the younger set. Last week in Dallas the St. Louis bowler lost in the quarter-finals of the All-American Classic to 25-year-old Bill Johnson of Kansas City.

It was only Johnson's fifth tournament as a pro and he went on to beat Don Ellis of Houston and Pat Patterson of St. Louis to take the $5,000 first prize money.

The win moved Johnson to number six in the top 10 on the tour this year.

Andy Marzich, 26, of Long Beach, Calif., leads the pack with $10,995 won after finishing first at Denver and Louisville. In his sophomore year on the tour, Marzich is the only bowler to win two tournaments.

There will be 86 PBA members in the Houston tournament plus another 10 local non-members for a total of 96.

The list includes such big name stars as Ed Lubanski of Detroit, Jim St. John of Chicago, and Al Savas, Dick Weber, Billy Welu and Harry Smith, all of St. Louis.

'Ding-Dong' Dumas Drives

DUMAS, Tex. (UPI) — They call them the New York Yankees of District 1-AAA, and the ding dong daddies from Dumas High School are determined to earn the reputation on a state level as well.

The Dumas Demons deserve the title in the tough district, having just completed a sweep of their ninth consecutive crown in the so-called four major sports.

And, they are not far from proving the name fits in the state playoffs.

The athletic program started paying off in chips for Dumas in 1960-61 when the Demons started their string of crowns with a basketball team that won regional and finished with a 25-7 record.

The Demons then won the district track and baseball titles, and started rolling. In 1961-62, Dumas won the Class AAA state football title, added the state cage crown and won district in both baseball and track.

Things are still all championship quality at Dumas, with the Demons already owning a repeat state football crown and now moving into the state playoffs in basketball in an effort to bring in a repeat crown in that sport.

Coach Jimmy Thomason has a good chance to continue track domination with good sprinters and weight men returning from last year's championships, and coach Jerry Good has all but two starters returning for the baseball season.

JUMPING JIM—Jimmy Flowers, ace of the Miami Bulldogs, practices his shooting as the Bulldogs prepare for regional play tomorrow. Although held to nine points by Higgins in bi-district, Jimmy was even more valuable as a decoy, with his faking and passing setting up his teammates for the win.

A game. His younger brother, 5-11, is hitting at a 10-point clip, and the fifth man isn't too much of a shooter, but can be relied on for five or six points a game.

"Offensively they play a single post. They play racehorse basketball and like to run with that ball.

Stengel To Make Mets A Ball Team

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Casey Stengel has only one aim this year and that is to keep the New York Mets from becoming "a fraud."

"And that's just what we'll be if we don't do better than last year," claims Stengel, who will be 73 in July. Old Case, after a long and brilliant stint as manager of the Yankees, took over the newly formed Mets at their inception last year and found the going "awfully rough."

They won only 40 games while losing 120, finishing 60½ games behind the pennant winning Giants.

"I can't see how things can be tougher," Stengel sighed. "On the other hand, I'm not kidding myself. We're a long way from being a representative major league team."

He isn't giving up hope, however.

"Last year at this time we did not know how many, if any, major league players we had on our roster," he pointed out. "At least we're ahead of the game in that respect this year for we know we have a dozen players who belong."

He didn't name them all but as he rambled on for a few thousand words he said that other clubs were bidding for pitchers Al Jackson, Jay Hook and Roger Craig, outfielders Frank Thomas and Jim Hickman and infielder Charlie Neal.

"The clubs that let those players go in the player draft to stock our new club now want 'em back," Stengel explained. "So it turns out they made mistakes when they let them go. But they didn't make enough so far as we are concerned for most of the others we got didn't turn out so good."

Stengel still is hopeful of making some deals. He and President

George Weiss are on the phone almost every day talking with other clubs.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Baseball's "who's new" for 1961 includes four managers, 23 coaches, two sets of owners, the first athletic director in history, two general managers and five umpires. It might even include 1,922 more customers. At least there's room for those 1,922 in modestly revised seating capacities at Boston, Detroit and Washington.

The American League, faced with a never-ending pursuit of the New York Yankees, has been considerably busier than the National in collecting new faces for the new season.

The AL rounded up three new managers, 12 new coaches, a revamped set of owners at Cleveland, three umps and two new general managers.

The National came up with one new manager — Bobby Bragan at Milwaukee — 11 coaches, new ownership at Milwaukee, a couple of new men in blue and that spectacular "first" — athletic director Robert V. Whitlow of the Chicago Cubs, whose duties have been defined chiefly as directing athletics.

with Washington as a coach. Yogi Berra pops up as a player-coach with the Yankees. Virgil Trucks is with the Pirates as a pitching coach. Jim Busby replaced Bragan on Houston's coaching staff.

No change: Chicago White Sox, Detroit Tigers, Los Angeles Angels and Dodgers, San Francisco Giants, and Philadelphia Phillies. Cincinnati dropped two (Otis Douglas and Pete Whisenant) but added none.

Casey Stengel, 72-year-old manager of the New York Mets, lost two coaches by death (Rogers Hornsby and Red Kress) and signed Ernie White as pitching coach in place of Red Ruffing.

And in their usual place at the bottom of the box score are the new umpires: William G. Williams and John Kibler in the National; Bill Valentine, Lou Dimuro and Walter Doyle in the American League.

NIT Closes Lineup With Local Teams

NEW YORK (UPI) — Officials of the National Invitation Tournament have completed the 12-team lineup for the 26th renewal of the college basketball classic.

"Hometown" representation was assured Wednesday when Fordham and St. Francis College of New York accepted bids to close out the field for the March 14-23 tournament at Madison Square Garden.

Previously invited were Wichita, Providence, Canisius, Villanova, Memphis State, St. Louis, Marquette, Miami (Fla.), DePaul and LaSalle.

Fordham, coached by Johnny Back, will be making its fourth venture into NIT competition. The Rams have won 15 and lost 7 this season.

St. Francis, which finished fourth in the 1956 tourney, will be competing for the third time. The Terriers were 15-5 when they received their bid.

Skiers Lose To Select Auto

The Pampa Boat-Ski Club took their first loss after 11 straight wins as they dropped a 65-58 decision to Select Auto at Pampa Junior High Gym last night.

The Automen grabbed a narrow opening margin, held it at 32-30, halftime, and led all the way.

Sam Condo had 24 and Merle Terrill 15 for the winners. Roy Pool had 28 and Delbert Derrill 13 for the losers.

The Skiers are now 16-4 on the season, the winners 1-0.

SIGN KALTENBACH
MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — The Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League announced Wednesday the signing of Gary Kaltenbach of the University of Pittsburgh. Kaltenbach, 6-2, 242 pounds, was the fifth draft choice of the Vikings.

Mantle Gets 100Gs

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — It was seven come 100 thousand for Mickey Mantle today and even the golden boy of the New York Yankees had trouble believing it.

Old number seven, all 31 years of him, was inked as the fifth man to draw $100,000 for one season's play in the major leagues. And, while somebody who earns that much will have to figure out how many Uncle Sam will leave him, it was highly satisfactory to the Oklahoma kid. Particularly when he remembers his servitude in the minor leagues, as brief as it was.

Mickey today is the picture of success. As he sat in a beach front hotel signing his contract he wore a blue silk suit and a light blue silk tie which could have been knotted by Dior and come off with less perfection.

The word which fits him, to one who has observed him ever since he arrived with the Yankees as an unsmiling, petulant, off-angry and sometime churlish young man, was gentleman. This Mickey smiles easily and is ready with smile or gripe.

Maris' Presence Helped
His greatest break came when Roger Maris became a Yankee and, in 1961, hit 61 home runs to break Babe Ruth's proudest one-season record. Ever since Mantle had joined the club, he felt mentally besieged to become the "new Joe DiMaggio." But in '61 the spotlight was focused on Maris and Mantle finally had time to unbind and relax. In that season he finally became the new DiMaggio.

West Virginia Must Win Again For NCAA Berth

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer

West Virginia will have to do it all over again when the Southern Conference tournament gets under way today if it wants to claim its traditional berth in the NCAA basketball championships.

Only this time it may not be as easy as is usually the case.

The Mountaineers finished in first place in the Southern Conference standings with an 11-2 league record and 16-7 overall, but it won't mean very much if they don't come out on top in this annual intra-conference fracas at Richmond, Va.

And to quote Les Hooker, the coach of the undistinguished Richmond team: West Virginia plays in an opening round match tonight. "Everyone starts off even in a tournament."

Other opening round pairings are: Furman vs. George Washington; Davidson vs. Virginia Military Institute; and William and Mary vs. Virginia Tech.

Viramontes Quits Texas

AUSTIN (UPI) — Jimmy Viramontes, assistant basketball coach at the University of Texas was hunting a head coaching job today.

Viramontes resigned his post on the newly crowned Southwest Conference champion's staff Wednesday and promptly announced his hopes of leading the top spot at some other school.

Viramontes' resignation becomes effective April 1.

"I feel opportunities are opening now," Viramontes said, "whereas if I delayed this announcement a few weeks, these opportunities might no longer exist."

"I didn't want to make this announcement before we won the championship," he said.

Texas clinched the title last week. The Longhorns are 12-0 in SWC play with two conference games remaining.

"My ambition is to be a head coach—and, after 10 years of coaching, I believe that if it is not my destiny to be a head coach, then I probably should go into some other line of work," Viramonte said.

Rice Bars Grid Star Over Bribe

HOUSTON (UPI) — Rice University football tackle Louis Mazzurana, who knew about a bribe offer to two basketball players and failed to report it, has been barred from intercollegiate athletics.

He also has been forbidden to hold any office on the Rice University campus. He lost his scholarship last week.

"The change in Mr. Mazzurana's status is due to a misunderstanding between University authorities and the athletic department," a University spokesman said Wednesday.

"It was the intention from the beginning that Mr. Mazzurana would be barred from intercollegiate athletics while at Rice," the spokesman said. "It should be emphasized that Mr. Mazzurana has cooperated completely with University, Federal and state authorities in the basketball bribery investigation. This announcement does not represent an increase in the severity of action in this case."

Rice athletic director Jess Neely announced last weekend that Mazzurana's athletic scholarship had been revoked because he knew about the bribe attempt. However, Neely said Mazzurana could come out on his own and play football.

Basketball guards Herb Steinkamp and Dick Cramer told officials a sophomore student had offered them $500 each to shave points in last week's Rice-Baylor game.

The student accused of offering the bribe was expelled. No charges were filed.

Baylor's 42 Points Wasted

By United Press International

The Syracuse Nationals are one of the National Basketball Association's best examples of how solid team play can overcome brilliant individual efforts by a rival player.

The Nationals displayed that truth for the umpteenth time Wednesday night when they scored a 122-111 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers despite a 42-point performance by the Lakers' Elgin Baylor.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Can You Control Yourself?

"Liberty... is not freedom to do as one likes. That is a denial of liberty and leads straight to its overthrow. A society in which men recognize no check upon their freedom soon becomes a society where freedom is the possession of only a savage few, as we have learned to our sorrow."

Would you agree with that statement? The great dictators from Tamerlane to Hitler agreed with it. But what is wrong with it? Certainly, it wouldn't be a good thing if men went around committing every conceivable kind of crime, imposing their wills on others with no let or hindrance.

Certainly not. But let's take a good look at what was said in the first place: "Liberty... is not freedom to do as one likes." Would liberty then consist of doing what someone else wants you to do?

If you are controlled by another, can it be said that you have liberty? That is what the original quotation was supposed to have you believe.

The problem here is not whether men should be controlled or not controlled. The problem is whether a man should control himself or be controlled by another.

All energy, including the energy of man, operates under control. And nature has seen to it that each individual man is the manager, the controller of his own energy. No one else may rightfully control him.

But to assume, as the first statement assumes, that if some outsider doesn't control you, you will become one of the "savage few" is to completely deny the facts of the case.

When Columbus was free, he sailed the Atlantic to a new world. What if he had been controlled so he could not sail? The fact of his sailing... did that make him one of the savage few?

Lindbergh one of the savage few? Centuries later when some wanted to control him so that he couldn't. Would you say that made Lindbergh one of the savage few? Every inventor who has gone his own way in spite of remonstrance and pleading... are such members of the "savage few?"

Let's End The Cuban Crisis

The controversy over Cuba is at a high pitch again. The Kennedy administration is once again being criticized for "doing nothing" about the Soviet buildup.

The situation is almost identical to the one just prior to the November elections. Constant criticism at that time produced a blockade policy — one that was never fully carried out, and then quickly called off. This time, of course, there are no elections coming up.

Unfortunately, no one is proposing a solution. A few people are calling for an invasion, but most critics are simply arguing that Cuba is a military threat, and that the government should "do something" about it. But what?

We'd like to make some observations and suggestions in that regard. First, Cuba is not the cause of our problems — it is just one more effect. Psychologically it is depressing — because for two years, our government has guaranteed that we'd never tolerate a military base in Latin America. Now our inaction makes us look ridiculous.

But aside from the embarrassment, Cuba is no more, nor less, dangerous than any Communist base — which is very dangerous. We should realize that and start treating the core of the disease — instead of the latest symptom.

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

While out in the vine country of California we learned a great deal about the industry. The vine is almost as old as man. The art of wine-making has followed man throughout the world and the vine is now found in almost every clime. No matter how careless some people may be in its use, there is still something indescribably sacred about wine. It seems to remain deep in our hearts and minds that the original purpose was holy and significant. Wine among the ancients was used principally for religious ceremonies and for great occasions. Even the first miracle of the Christ was that of changing water into wine at the marriage feast of Cana. And until the 19th century, the only books written on wine were by doctors.

Just being at the top sometimes brings surprising results, we dial "A", the first listing in the San Jose (Calif.) telephone directory the other day and the voice answered "Hello. This is the A Chemical Toilets". TV is now operational in 70 countries around the globe. We asked three businessmen in downtown San Francisco which city, Miami or San Francisco had more rain. They all failed to give the right answer. The California metropolis averages 20" precipitation against an average of 59" in Miami.

One of the earliest diseases recorded in history is diabetes and some ancient references to it have been found on an old Egyptian papyrus. The Greeks were the first to name it, according to a recent newsletter from the Canadian Diabetic Association. The hereditary nature of the trouble was noted in the 17th century and in 1885 Claude Bernard discovered the role of the liver in maintaining the blood sugar. But it was not until 1921 that Banting and Best, the Canadian scientists, successfully isolated insulin from the pancreas to control the condition.

Country editor speaking: "The trouble with the new cars is that they make a fellow dissatisfied with his old one while he still has 17 easy payments to make on it."

An advertising expert who appreciates the impact of words observes that most of the precious things of life have simple names of one syllable—love, hope, wife, home, heart, soul, God. And he adds that the most successful employment of language is with simple words. "We've often wondered who originates all the dirty stories, the risqué anecdotes that are in circulation — and profusion. During our life, in which we've been in contact with humorists and wits, we've never found one who fashioned an off-color joke. We'll say this, though: Whoever originates those bawdy gags is a fast worker. A person or event has hardly hit the front pages before a couple of ribald gags are circulated about him, her or it. Those freshly concocted obscenities travel as swiftly as bad news.

THE DEADLOCK OF DEMOCRACY, just off the press of Prentice-Hall and authored by James MacGregor Burns, head of the Political Science Department at Williams College, is one of the most interesting political documents that has come to our attention in some while. Burns, political biographer of Franklin Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy, said that the Presidency and the Congress have reached a stalemate which no election of a few additional New Frontiersmen will break. His thesis contrasts sharply with many predictions that last fall election would mean better sailing for J.F.K.'s legislative program. Burns proposes a number of governmental changes.

Today's favorite gag: CLERK (to customer)—"No, ma'am; we haven't had any for a long time." EFFICIENCY EXPERT (angrily breaking in)—"We have plenty in reserve—madam; plenty—downstairs." The customer burst into laughter and left the store. EXPERT—"What did she want?" CLERK—"She didn't want anything. She said we haven't had any rain lately."

TRUTH FORUM De Gaulle Obstinacy Should Surprise None

By ED DELANEY

Thousands of words have been put into print and microphones in recent days over the stubborn opposition of Gen. Charles de Gaulle to Britain's admission into the European Common Market. Caustic comments have been heard on both sides of the Atlantic, in Congress and in the press. For the most part De Gaulle is blamed for wrecking what appeared to be the basis for economic stability in Europe, which of course would be reflected in our foreign trade and balance of payments. De Gaulle's obstinacy should surprise no one. He merely displayed his well known tendency to enact the role of the messiah of France and assume with its omnipotence of the Deity.

All the other members of the European Common Market opposed De Gaulle's position, which is a good augury for the future. Just two or three days before he wrecked the Brussels meeting, he and Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany entered into a treaty of reconciliation between France and Germany, thus ending over a century of discord and strife between those countries. However both Adenauer and the vice chancellor, Dr. Ludwig Erhard, expressed opposition to De Gaulle's attitude as regards the Common Market. They and other responsible persons on the continent, feel that Britain should be integrated into Europe both politically and economically. European unity and the Western Alliance, so imperative if NATO is to properly function, have not been destroyed. Partnership with the United States is recognized by the western European countries, even by France, as the firm foundation on which to build for the freedom of the world. Patience will eventually bring us to that goal.

A "firm" position of the United States as regards Cuba has served to recoup some of our prestige in Europe. It is reflected in the action of the German Federal Republic. Because Castro officially recognized the so-called "German Democratic Republic," the government in Bonn broke off diplomatic relations with Cuba. The establishment of diplomatic relations with the communist-dominated part of Germany was regarded by Bonn as an unfriendly act. East Germany is not a sovereign state, but merely a Soviet colony.

De Gaulle has indicated that his obdurate stand against Britain's entry into the economic union of the western European countries, was partly influenced by the meeting and agreements entered into at Nassau between Britain's prime minister, Macmillan and President Kennedy. At that meeting some of the strategic defense plans against Soviet aggression were drastically altered, without any consultation with France or other NATO members.

It is the strength of the Soviet... the real danger threatening... but the discord of the West. Our State Department has not displayed astuteness in dealing with our allies. There has been a tendency to be flexible instead of firm, when dealing with Moscow. Regardless

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Why do so many persons believe in high taxes?" Answer: Undoubtedly the reason is because they believe that someone else is going to pay these high taxes. The income tax was put over in the belief that the rich were going to pay the income tax, but now the person who is in the 20 per cent bracket is paying a great bulk of the taxes.

Another thing that fools the great mass of people who think they pay little taxes is, that they pay the great part of the indirect taxes—that is, the taxes that are added to what they buy. Every cent has to be added to the price of a thing in order for the employer or manufacturer to stay in business. And the total cost of government amounts to at least one-third of the national income; so everything that a person buys is loaded with taxes. Instead of paying 60 cents for an item, he pays $1 for it. In other words, he could buy one-half more if it were not for high taxes. And very few people realize that all taxation is a form of robbery. It is based on initiated force. And taxes are what lead us into one war after another. If the government couldn't tax, we wouldn't be in all these wars all over the world.

Taxes have been part of life for thousands and thousands of years and few people see the great harm that comes from taxation. And very few people realize that the people in low income brackets are the big taxpayers. They are misguided and believe the corporations and the rich pay the taxes, but the corporations and the rich have to pass on the taxes. If they don't pass on the taxes, there are fewer tools and the workers have to work for less because they produce less.

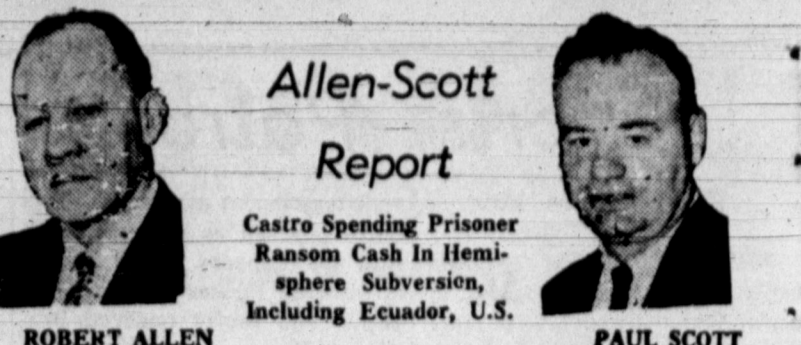

Between the Bookends

CULTURAL EXCHANGE: A WEAPON OF WAR For many years our government has carried on negotiations, summit meetings, and cultural exchanges with our avowed enemy. This incredible policy is carried on, we are told, because it will ultimately prove our good intentions to the Soviets and convince them of the superiority of our way of life.

The value of this policy can be gathered from a shocking new book, "Those Americans" (published by the Regency Co., 64 E. Jackson Blvd., Chicago 4, Ill.; $4.95). It is a translation of a series of articles that appeared in the Russian publication, "The Soviet Worker."

In it, the two Soviet authors—husband and wife—report to their countrymen on a trip to the United States. They had traveled with a group of Soviet scientists under the "cultural exchange" program. Here, in the Communists' own words, can be found the worth of all our foreign policy approaches of co-existence, conciliation, negotiation, persuasion, etc. The book reveals that they just don't work with the Communists. For the authors present their impression of life in the United States—describing the U.S. as a land where "capitalists" ruthlessly rule and the "ordinary people" are downtrodden and oppressed. The authors assure their fellow citizens that the "real people" of America are hostile to our own free capitalist society. The book utilizes lies and distortions—sometimes subtle, sometimes barefaced—to create the impression of an America full of agonized civil strife, widespread suffering, and stupid vulgarity. What are obviously fictitious Americans are manufactured to comment on the "horrors" of American life, the "atrocities" of capitalism, and the "glories" of Communist society. "Those Americans" will give you an insight into a truth that our foreign policy makers have never understood: that Communists utilize diplomatic relations—including "cultural exchange", trade, summit meetings and the like—to speed up their enslavement of us. The book was written in Soviet Russia. It was published here by an American company for the express purpose of showing the futility of trying to accommodate communism. It deserves the widest circulation. Naturally the Communist authors do not endeavor to tell America how to solve its problems with communism, the solution nevertheless rings out clearly from each page—stop trying to do business with communism!

ROBERT ALLEN Report ALLEN-SCOTT Report PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Fidel Castro is brazenly using the prisoner-ransom money he obtained from the U.S. to finance Communist subversion in Latin America.

Ecuadorian students grilled on returning from Cuba revealed that their Communist leaders received $50,000 of the ransom money to conduct anti-government operations.

The students reported that Castro, in turning over the money, boasted that all of the $2.5 million ransom payment he got for the Bay of Pigs prisoners would be used for "revolutionary activities throughout the hemisphere."

In addition to this $50,000, Castro told the Ecuadorian students another $50,000 will be sent to their country in April to finance the transportation to Cuba of several hundred more hand-picked students for training in guerrilla warfare.

Shipments of machine guns, pistols, rifles, ammunition, and dynamite were promised by Castro after the next batch of students finish six months of intensive instruction in the use of these weapons.

This information from the Ecuadorian students has been confirmed by U.S. Intelligence that is closely watching what Castro is doing with the large ransom shipments of food and medicine to Cuba. The full ransom payment is $33 million, of which about $25 million in supplies has been delivered so far.

CASTRO AGENTS—Other clandestine uses of the ransom funds are being investigated by the U.S. Immigration Service and the FBI, including the possible return of some of the money to the U.S.

This possibility was suggested in information French officials have turned over to U.S. authorities. French Intelligence warned that nearly 100 Castro agents, including some carrying sizeable amounts of dollars, were among the several thousand refugees recently transported here on the SS Shirley Lykes.

According to the French, Castro planted these Red agents among the refugees to infiltrate anti-Castro groups in the U.S. Their special mission is to learn the names and whereabouts of members of the underground in Cuba.

GETTING TOUGH — The Navy has an amazing plan that would make trading with Communist Cuba very costly. The proposal, known as the "silent quarantine," calls for spreading a newly developed chemical in Cuban harbors and ports to harass shipping. As most of it consists of Soviet bloc vessels, they would be the hardest hit.

The chemical, when sucked into the boilers and ballast tanks of ships, causes extensive corrosion and leakage in a matter of hours.

The "silent quarantine" plan is one of the more than 25 submitted to the newly organized Cuban Crisis Committee recently set up by the President. Its purpose is to develop ways and means to "lessen the Communist military threat in Cuba."

The committee, with members from the State, Defense and Justice Departments and the Central Intelligence Agency, is headed by Sterling Cottrell.

In formulating its proposals, the committee is operating under sharp limitations. The White House has laid down "guide lines" which bar (1) military invasion, (2) use of internal subversion and (3) use of U.S. arms to incite revolt within Cuba.

WATCHING CUBA — Eight "free-world" ships were in Havana during the period February 10-14. That is the report of crew members of the ransom-bearing American freighter, S.S. Santo Cerro. Crew members told intelligence authorities they saw three British vessels, three Greek, one Norwegian and one Yugoslavian. In addition, ten Russian, and six East German ships were spotted.

The number of "free-world" ships is significant in view of the fact that the State Department holds stringent restrictions are not necessary because of the "voluntary cutback" in such shipping to Cuba. Soviet technicians are constructing three rather than one "fishing port" in Cuba, according to the latest U-2 surveillance photos.

CIA Director John McCone told the White House briefing of Congressional leaders that two more coastal defense missile sites have been set up by Soviet technicians. This brings the number of these sites to eight, on which the Russians have installed more than 150 of their SS-N-1 missiles.

SOCIAL WHIRL — "Free-loading" on Washington's always hectic social circuit has never been lusher than in the past week. Following are a few examples: At a banquet Malaya's Ambassador gave for Secretary of State Dean Rusk the following exotic viands were served: the big gathering of diplomats and other officials — shark's fin soup, Chinese meat rolls, Chinese charcoal broiled chicken, sweet and pungent pork, water chest and chicken livers, fried egg noodles and a rich Malayan rice dish for dessert.

Senator Olin Johnston, D-S.C., head of the Post Office Committee staged a feast that was very different but no less exciting for a group of colleagues and New Frontier chiefs. Johnston's luncheon consisted entirely of South Carolina ingredients as follows: Game birds, prize yams, string beans, tossed salad, vanilla-raspberry ice cream. The game birds were broiled quail with currant jelly, toast pheasant with burgundy sauce, wild turkey with wild rice, braised chukar with sweet sour sauce, and wild duck with apple sauce. What the 50-day VIP guests did the rest of the day is not known.

The International Junior Diplomats Association literally had itself a ball to celebrate the unusual organization's first anniversary. Young staff members of the State Department and foreign embassies had a gay time dancing everything from the twist to the limbo. The lively party was held in the State Department's ornate reception chambers and was given official blessing by the presence of the dean of the diplomatic corps, Nicaragua's portly Ambassador Sevilla-Sacasa, and Undersecretary of State U. Alexis Johnson. Among the 700 young guests were the children of a number of foreign ambassadors.
