Italians Name Premier

ROME (UPI) — Aldo Moro, for years the power behind the throne in Italian politics, was named premier-designate Saturday and charged with forming a new government which will meet with President Kennedy during his visit here next month.

President Antonio Segni officially called on the 46-year-old Christian Democrat to replace Amintore Fanfani, who touched off a government crisis May 16 when he and his left-center government resigned after the national elections.

Moro, who has headed Italy's largest party since 1959 but never before has been premier, said he would explore the chances for another center-left government. He indicated success or failure of his experiment would depend on whether the Socialists of Pietro Nenni agree to support NATO and bolt the government door to the Communists.

Aldo said the new government he hoped to form would be committed to "loyalty to the Atlantic Alliance, non-alignment with the popular front as an instrument of security and peace."

The government Moro had in mind would be a Christian Democratic-dominated cabinet based on the parliamentary support of the Socialists.

Other left-of-center parties, the Social Democrats and the Republicans, also would be part of the government.

Reserves Decision
As is normal, Moro received his decision on whether to accept the premiership during the next week he will consult with leaders of the various parties, and if an agreement is reached he will return to Segni with his acceptance.

Only then will Segni accept Fanfani's May 16 resignation and officially name Moro as premier. After naming and swearing in a cabinet Moro will have to go before the parliament for a vote of confidence — a move that will depend on Socialist support although they will not be actual members of the cabinet.

Engineers Want Comprehensive Plan Payment

Koch, Fowler & Grate, Dallas consulting engineers, want the balance of their money which they claim is due on the cancelled contract for Pampa's ill-fated Comprehensive City Plan.

The contract was cancelled out in 1961 when the work had been approximately half finished. The cancellation was ordered by the former city commission which held that Pampa was putting itself in the position of accepting federal money and therefore would be subject to federal control of certain facets of the project.

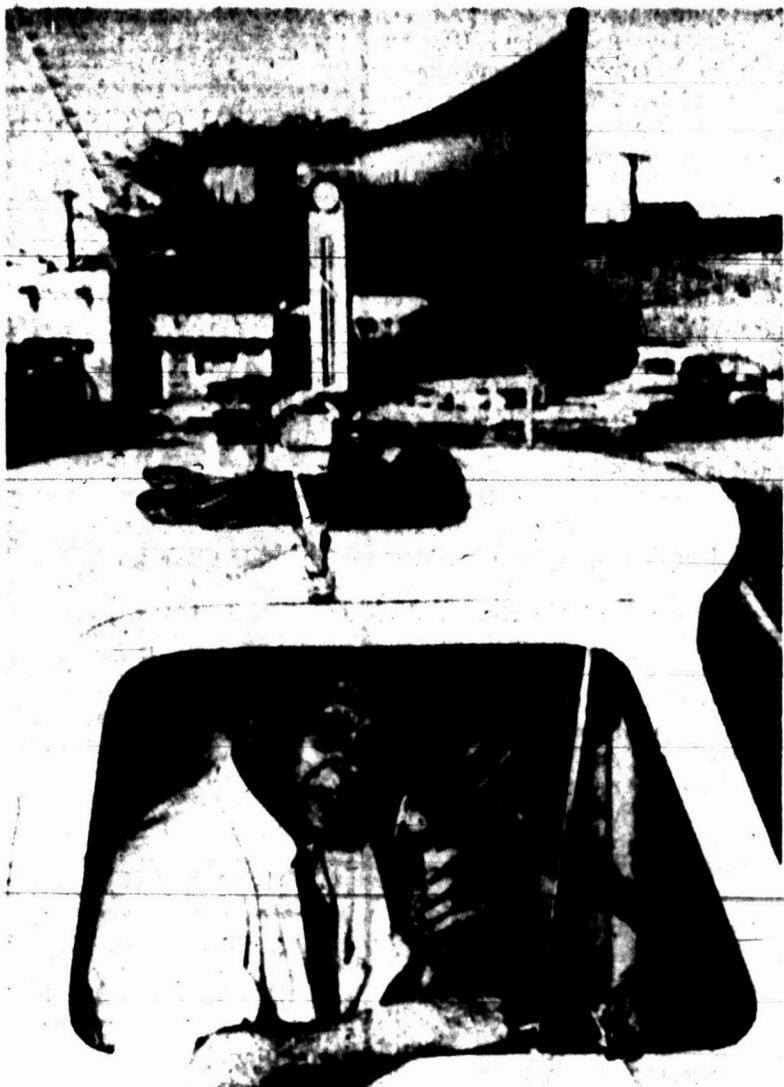

Pampa made all of its payments on the projected plan with the exception of approximately $2,000 which Koch, Fowler & Grate claim is due the State Department of Health before the engineering firm can receive its final $6,000 payment from the state.

The new city commission is expected to discuss the matter at its Tuesday morning meeting and ask the advice of City Atty. Bob Gordon on what action should be taken on the request for payment.

Also on the agenda at Tuesday's meeting will be the third and final reading of an ordinance to establish graduated speed zones on state highways coming into the city.

Ku Klux Klanner Convicted for Racial Bombings

ANNISTON, Ala. (UPI)—A former Ku Klux Klanner who once participated in an attack on singer Nat King Cole was convicted Saturday of firing shotgun blasts into a church and the home of two Negroes.

The trash-collecting trucks will make final rounds of the city this week, spending a day in each ward. Plot to Overthrow Iraqi Leader Exposed CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI) — Baghdad Radio announced Saturday the government had uncovered a plot to overthrow the regime of Premier Maj. Gen. Ahmed Hassan Bakr of Iraq and plunge that country into bloodshed and chaos.

The broadcast did not identify the leaders of the plot immediately but it was believed they were opponents of Bakr's plans to take Iraq into the proposed new United Arab Republic headed by President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

However, sources here said the plot may have been triggered by Nasser supporters who felt Bakr's government was delaying Arab unity.

Opponents of the powerful Baath Party, which controls the governments in both Syria and Iraq, claim that Baathists are against Nasser's leadership in the proposed Arab federation.

Damascus Radio said discovery of the alleged plot touched off the 37th annual Hilltop Open Air Conclave of Master Masons and their wives from ten Panhandle Masonic districts will be held Saturday, July 27 on the Andis Ranch, three miles west of Skellytown.

The announcement was made Saturday by E. Barrett, past master of Pampa Lodge 966, who said more than 1,000 persons are expected to attend the barbecue dinner and program at which John R. Collard of Spearman, deputy grand master of Texas Masons, will be the principal speaker.

The conclave is being sponsored this year by the Pampa and Petersburg lodges. The ten districts are made up of 65 lodges and some 6,300 Master Masons, Barrett said.

The entertainment program at the Hilltop Open Air meeting will include numbers by a choral group from the Texas Masonic Home and School at Fort Worth. Twenty-five guests from the Grand Lodge of Texas are expected to be in attendance along with visiting dignitaries from New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Colorado.

Blake Laramore is master of the Pampa Lodge 966 and Barrett is general chairman of the steering committee in charge of arrangements for the July conclave.

Tickets now are available for the affair. They may be obtained from the secretary of any of the lodges in the district and locally from Barrett, Laramore, Bob Shelton, John Pitts and Alvin Soper.

Sugar Price at Post-War Record

LONDON (UPI)—Raw sugar prices shot up to a postwar record of $282.80 per ton this week but rigid government controls kept retail prices from rising. However, warnings went out that prices might rise next week. Housewives went on a precautionary sugar buying spree, more to protect their purses than their larders since the country has comfortable stocks built up from supplies from Commonwealth pro-

4-H Management Team Will Go to State Contest

Steven Maddox and Bill Skaggs of Pampa will represent the Gray County 4-H Club in the Farm and Ranch Management contest at the annual State 4-H Club " roundup at Texas A&M College June 4-5. The team won first place honors in District One competition earlier this Spring to earn the right to participate in the state contest. The pair is coached by Foster Whaley, Gray County agricultural agent.

The statewide contest is sponsored by the Production Credit Associations of Texas, home-owned and operated agricultural financing institutions. Winning teams at the state contest will receive watches, desk clocks, pen and pencil sets and wall plaques.

It is a pleasure for our association to participate in this worthwhile contest," said E. L. Crowell of Canadian, general manager of the Canadian Production Credit Association, which serves Gray County and five other Panhandle counties.

Proper management practices are becoming increasingly important to a successful agricultural operation. Crowell said. "These contestants show a tremendous amount of understanding and background training in these demonstrations," he declared.

The Canadian association provides more than $7,000,000 in agricultural loans in its six-county area. The 37 PCAs in Texas had a loan volume in excess of $400,000,000 in 1962 and serve more than 30,000 ranchers and farmers in all 254 counties.

Young Skaggs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Skaggs, who reside east of Pampa and Maddox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Maddox, south of the city.

Bombings Rock Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE (UPI) — A thunderous explosion blew a hole in the Louisiana capitol's lawn Saturday and a second blast shook the Louisiana State University campus.

Some LSU students said the 63,000-seat football stadium had been blown up. There were no reports of injuries in either explosion and there was no damage at LSU.

But the explosion at the capitol broke at least 40 windows, including some 20 stories up, and a big window in the basement press room. It also cracked windows in nearby apartments, and broke at least one apartment window.

Nazi Speakers Attacked in New York City

NEW YORK (UPI)—Enraged war veterans, hurling rotten eggs and overripe tomatoes at six members of an American Nazi group, Saturday smashed through police barricades and overwhelmed the storm troopers in a lopsided hand-to-hand battle.

The National Renaissance Party, a pro-Nazi group, called a rally in Manhattan's German-American section of Yorkville to drum up support against Jews and Negroes.

Police anticipated trouble and rushed 10 mounted policemen into the area to reinforce 115 foot patrolmen and detectives.

By the time James H. Madole of Manhattan, self-proclaimed leader, climbed to a speaker's platform set up on the street, there were an estimated 5,000 angry persons held back by police barricades.

Madole was flanked by five "storm troopers" dressed in Nazi green uniforms with the German "Hitler" emblem on their chests. (See SPEAKERS, Page 3)

The United States has a military mission in space, Maj. Edwin L. Miller of the U. S. Air Force Base at Amarillo, told an Armed Forces Day luncheon audience yesterday in Coronado Inn.

"The nation that controls space will control the earth," Major Miller said, "and that is why this nation wishes to maintain the lead in space, so that we can become a creative force for peace rather than a destructive power for war."

A film, "Aerospace Power," was shown by Major Miller.

The Air Force officer was the principal speaker at Pampa's annual Armed Forces Day luncheon, sponsored by the Military Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce under the chairmanship of Sgt. Wesley Langham.

The luncheon was part of the day's ceremony which began with flag-raising services in front of the Court House at 9 a. m., followed by a display of Armed Forces equipment and a band concert by the Amarillo Air Force Band.

Members of the Pampa Key Club were out bright and early Saturday morning placing the American flag on display in front of downtown business places. Flags also were displayed from many homes in the residential district.

Key Club members are urging Pampans to display more flags on holidays and special occasions. They will be pressing their flag display campaign again next week on Memorial Day.

Thirty-Three Countries Form Neutralist Bloc

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI) — A new organization linking 30 independent African nations was born here Saturday night in a ceremony climaxing the largest gathering of heads of state ever held. The 30 African countries contain 200 million persons.

The heads of state signed a charter for an organization of African unity to replace rival blocs within the continent. The charter was designed to weld a new force dedicated to economic development of Africa and to total liberation from colonial rule.

Signing of the charter, expected eventually to turn Africa into the largest neutralist bloc in the world, represented a victory for superior Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, who worked for a year to bring it about.

It also signified the determination of Africa's newly-independent states to wrest remaining African territories from colonial or minority white control.

The chiefs of state, weary from their long meeting here, began signing the historic document at 5:28 p. m. EDT.

Algerian Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, who presided over the ceremony, said the decision reached in the three-day NATO council of ministers meeting in the Canadian capital.

Informed sources in Paris said French government officials reacted with indifference. The sources said President Charles de Gaulle (See SOVIETS, Page 3)

ARMED FORCES DAY CEREMONIES — The flag raising ceremony began the Armed Forces Day celebrations in Pampa yesterday. Children With Machine Guns Guard Cuban Jails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ten-year-old children armed with machine guns are serving as guards at dank, rat-infested Cuban prisons, according to a report of the Inter-American Human Rights Commission.

The 2,000-word report said the treatment of the estimated 60,000 prisoners in Castro jails was "humiliating, oppressive and degrading."

One girl said there was no sunlight in the prison, and "the place was full of big rats, mice, mosquitoes, flies, cockroaches and frogs...I woke up with my body all covered with blotches from bites."

The report said testimony from prisoners "specifically indicated that the complaints were more serious concerning the treatment of female prisoners."

The girl was one of them. A woman told the commission during an investigation in Miami: "Mothers in prison were not allowed to see their sons who were over 7 years old...Jailers considered the boys over this age are men. Therefore mother prisoners cannot be visited by their sons who have reached their seventh birthday."

CHICAGO (UPI) — Think general stores are out of vogue? A mail order firm here needs an electronic computer to process the thousands of orders received daily from 54,000 general stores in the U.S. The (Honeywell 400) computer handles as many as 26,000 orders a day from crackerbarrel merchants during the peak Christmas buying season.

Conference Will Start Tomorrow At Abilene

ABILENE — The 54th annual session of the Northwest Texas Annual Conference of the Methodist Church opens Monday afternoon at St. Paul Methodist Church in Abilene with Bishop Kenneth W. Copeland, former San Antonio pastor, as conference speaker.

Bishop Copeland is now the presiding bishop of the Nebraska Area of the Methodist Church, having been elevated to the episcopacy in 1960 while serving as pastor of the Travis Park Methodist Church in San Antonio.

Bishop Paul V. Galloway, who presides over the Northwest Texas Conference, will be in charge of the annual sessions in this conference for the third time. He was elected a bishop at the same time as Bishop Copeland. Galloway is former pastor of Tulsa's Boston Avenue Methodist Church. He also presides over the Southwest Texas Conference.

One of the highlights of this session of the NWT Conference will be election of delegates, both laymen and ministers, to both the South Central Jurisdictional Conference and the General Conference of the Methodist Church. The General Conference will be held in Pittsburgh, Pa., in April, 1964, and the Jurisdictional Conference will be held in June, 1964 in Dallas. The South Central Jurisdiction includes eight states.

The nine district superintendents who, along with Bishop Galloway, make up the cabinet of the NWT Conference, opened their pre-conference sessions Wednesday at McMurry College in Abilene. They were joined on Friday by Bishop Galloway.

The nine district superintendents are Dr. Vernon Henderson of Amarillo, who will serve this conference as secretary to the cabinet; Dr. Marvin Boyd of Lubbock, Dr. Tilden Armstrong of Pampa; Dr. J. E. Shewbert of Plainview, Dr. Dallas Denison of Brownfield, Dr. H. Clyde Smith of Big Spring, Dr. C. A. Holcomb Jr. of Stamford, Dr. John English of Childress, and Dr. Woodrow Adcock of Abilene.

Host pastor for this year's conference is Dr. Frank Charlton of St. Paul Methodist Church in Abilene.

The Conference officially opens at 4 p.m. Monday with the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, led by Bishop Galloway. The evening worship begins at 7:30, and an informal All-Conference reception will follow.

Former Pampan Is Ordained

Jerry Barrett, a former Pampa resident, was ordained to the ministry in services held May 19 at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Clarendon.

Rev. Barrett was born in Pampa on July 16, 1944 and attended Pampa High School. He entered the ministry at the age of 15 and was licensed to preach at age 17. He became a full-time pastor on May 12, 1962 serving the Bethel Baptist Church in Shamrock.

Rev. Barrett's wife is the former Brenda McAnear of Goodnight and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barrett, who resided in Pampa until moving to Clarendon in 1962.

Rev. Barrett, a former member of the high school a cappella choir, was leader of the "Christ Ambassadors Quartet," which was heard over a local radio station in Pampa for about two years. Upon moving to Clarendon, he sang with the Junior College Quartet and Choir.

He has completed one semester at Wayland College in Plainview and plans to return there in September.

Not Guilty Plea Entered; Bond Set

A plea of not guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated was entered by Arthur R. Lorraine Jr., 1037 Cinderella, when he was arraigned before Judge Bill ... in County Court Saturday. Bond was set at $500.

City police said Lorraine was arrested early Saturday morning in the 800-block of W. Foster St.

Rain Clouds Fail To Open up Here

Reports from Amarillo said a small cell twister touched down there shortly after 7 p.m. Saturday and knocked TV channels 4 and 10 off the air temporarily. Small damage to some buildings also was caused in the immediate area.

Heavy black clouds passed slowly over Pampa from the west around 8:30 p.m. The humidity was close to 100 per cent and the temperature at that hour was 55 degrees. Lightning flashed out of the clouds.

Thirty minutes later, the skies here had cleared and the stars and moon were on display.

At the midnight hour, forecasts of scattered thundershowers for Pampa and vicinity had not materialized. The prediction for today called for the possibility of a few isolated afternoon and evening showers.

Pampa Jobber Forming New Partnership

Phillips Petroleum Company has appointed M. J. Chisholm Jr., who began his company career at Amarillo, manager of its Amarillo sales division effective June 1. He replaces W. C. George who has elected to take early retirement.

George is entering partnership with C. R. Hoover, a company jobber in Pampa, to form Philger 66, Inc., a Phillips jobbership operating in Amarillo and Borger.

Chisholm, a former Philgas jobber in Amarillo, joined Phillips sales department there in 1950. He was assigned to the development of Phillips sales in the Maplewood, N. J., area in 1961 and has been manager of that sales division since January 1962.

A native of Texas, Chisholm received his elementary and high school education at Plainview and attended Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene and West Texas State College at Canyon.

George, also a native Texan, joined Phillips sales organization in 1933 as a service station dealer here in Pampa. He later was assigned at Shamrock and district salesman at Big Spring and Clovis, N. M. He transferred in 1945 to the Amarillo sales division.

Theft Brings Explanation From Police

A rash of thefts from coin-operated machines in Pampa prompted Police Chief Jim Conner to point out Saturday that the crime is of a more serious nature than may be suspected by the perpetrators.

The latest break-in of a coin machine was reported yesterday when the ice dispenser on the Furr Food parking lot in the 1400-block of N. Hobart St. was broken into and two bags of ice, valued at 80 cents, were taken.

"The amount of the theft was only 80 cents worth of ice," Chief Conner said, "but Texas law says the act is a felony punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, and confinement in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than two years or both fine and imprisonment."

Chief Conner pointed out that the law permits a judge—even for an 80-cent theft—to send the guilty party to the state penitentiary for five years upon conviction.

"Breaking into a coin-operated machine," the chief said, "is not a petty crime."

Chief Conner said the warning was going out and police plan to push for heavy prosecution of any persons convicted of breaking into coin-operated machines of any kind.

Final Days At PHS

PARTICIPATING IN ANNUAL SIGNING, Maria Luisa Prieto, American Field Service student from Spain, is shown signing the 1963 Harvester for Jesse Jones and Sue Ann Thompson at a senior annual signing party.

GRADUATION EXERCISES FOR THE 1963 SENIOR CLASS will be held at 8 p.m. Monday with approximately 253 students participating. The ceremony will be held in the Harvester Fieldhouse. Vesper services are scheduled for today at 5 p.m. in the Fieldhouse. The Valetorian for the 1962-63 school year is Edwin Albers III and the Salutatorian is Phyllis Dalsing.

PREPARING FOR THE FINAL DAYS of his American High School career, Turan Solymez, American Field Service student from Turkey, tries on the cap and gown, making sure the collar and tie are exactly straight for this special occasion.

TAKING ONE LAST LOOK at "dear old PHS" and, perhaps, recalling many pleasant memories, Jimmy Flynt and Francyne Forrester gaze at the portals through which they will pass no more.

PORING OVER COLLEGE CATALOGUES, Edwin Albers reads material published by different colleges, trying to decide in which college or university he will further his education.

OPENING GRADUATION GIFTS is one of the more pleasant activities of the end of school. De Ann Drew is shown opening one of the gifts she received during this excitement-filled week.

Hints for Happy Holidays (3) Piloting the Freeways

Freeways and turnpikes are still an unfamiliar experience for many motorists. They're marvelously convenient and are safer than other roads if driven properly. But their very differences from regular roads—no stops or crossings, gentle grades—give the new roads a special hazard. Some call it "highway hypnosis." It's sheer boredom and fatigue, caused by monotonously driving straight ahead at a constant speed for hours on end. Some recommend tricks, like blasting the radio, sticking your head into the wind, varying speeds. But there is only one really safe rule: STOP driving at the first sign of drowsiness. And whether sleepy or not, pull into service plazas, get out and stretch occasionally.

- CHECKLIST
1. Have car serviced before hitting freeway or turnpike.
 2. Speed up in entrance lane. Once on freeway, keep up with the stream of traffic.
 3. Take all the room you need to pass. Signal intention to pass and return to righthand lane.
 4. Never stop on freeway. In emergency, pull well onto shoulder. Never back up.
 5. Stay two (TWO, not one) car lengths behind the car ahead for every 10 m.p.h. of speed.
 6. STOP driving, pull off and rest if you become tired or sleepy.

British List Favorite U.S. Tourist Spots

By MURRAY J. BROWN
NEW YORK (UPI) — What are the most popular tourist attractions in the United States? Maybe you'll be surprised.

An advertisement listing "50 of the places Americans themselves most want to see in the U.S.A." was published recently in a London newspaper. It was run in connection with the world-wide program being conducted by the U.S. travel service of the Department of Commerce to promote tourism to America.

The ad noted that the list was drawn up to help Britons planning a holiday on the other side of the Atlantic. It said that each state was asked to name "one of its most popular tourist attractions."

The list, in addition to the state-by-state nominations, included as an "added attraction" the White House in Washington, D.C., where it emphasized that "many of the fascinating sights are free"—Congress, the Supreme Court, the National Gallery of Art and the Smithsonian Institution.

Many of the places and sights included in the listing are world-famed tourist attractions. But there are other "most popular places" for tourists that may come as a surprise to many Americans.

Here is the ad's descriptive list of the 50 "most popular places" state by state:

- ALABAMA: First White House of the Confederacy at Montgomery.
- ALASKA: Mt. McKinley, highest mountain in North America (20,320 feet).
- ARIZONA: Grand Canyon.
- ARKANSAS: Eureka Springs, a spa in the Ozark Mountains.
- CALIFORNIA: Yosemite National Park.
- COLORADO: Aspen. Ski, fish, hike and enjoy chamber music.
- CONNECTICUT: Seaport and Marine Museum at Mystic.
- DELAWARE: Henry Francis Dupont Winterthur Museum near Wilmington.

- FLORIDA: The Everglades.
- GEORGIA: Okefenokee Swamp, wildlife refuge.
- HAWAII: Hawaii Volcanoes National Park.
- IDAHO: Craters of the Moon National Monument.

- ILLINOIS: New Salem State Park.
 - INDIANA: Indianapolis Motor Speedway.
 - IOWA: The Amana colonies, early religious settlements.
 - KANSAS: Eisenhower Home, Museum and Presidential Library in Abilene.
 - KENTUCKY: Mammoth Cave National Park.
 - LOUISIANA: The French Quarter.

Graduation Rites Set Today, Monday

EDWIN ALBERS III
... Valedictorian

PHYLLIS DALSSING
... Salutatorian

Two hundred and twenty-eight members of the Class of 1963 will be graduated from Pampa High School tomorrow night, with 22 more graduating on July 26.

The graduating class will include eight honor students and 20 scholarship winners.

Valedictorian Edwin Albers III heads the list of graduates as he finishes with honors and receives the Twentieth Century scholarship. Salutatorian Phyllis Marie Dalsing will receive the Twentieth Century Forum scholarship.

Fourteen scholarship awards will be given with six graduates receiving M. K. Brown scholarships. Scholarships, to aid in the expense of college study, range from $300 to $500, except for the Lions Club award valued at $1,700 which was won by Gordon (Gordie) Schultz.

Final ceremonies will start today at 5 p.m. with the Senior Vesper Service at the High School Fieldhouse. The seniors will parade to the fieldhouse to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance," rendered by the high school band.

The invocation will be by the Rev. J. C. McCluskey, the scripture reading by J. M. Gilpatrick, the sermon by Dr. Douglas Carver and the benediction by the Rev. Carson N. Snow.

The A Cappella Choir will sing "If God Be For Us," and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," accompanied on the latter by the band.

The services will close with the recessional "Tannhauser March" by Wagner, played by the band.

Tomorrow's graduation ceremonies will begin at 8 p.m. also at the Fieldhouse, with "Pomp and Circumstance" again the processional. The invocation will be by the Rev. William E. West and the benediction by the Rev. T. O. Upshaw.

Louise Richardson on the clarinet, Gordon Bayless on the bassoon and Maurice Hickman on the flute will play "Trio in F."

Salutatorian Miss Dalsing, Class President Gordon Balch and valedictorian Albers will speak, after which Supt. L. J. Edmondson, Principal Cameron Marsh and assistant principal Bill C. Cooper will present diplomas and confer honors.

The graduating class will sing "Dear Old Pampa High School," and, following the benediction, the Class of 1963, again to the strains of the Tannhauser March, will close out their high school careers.

Florida Gets Convention

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The American Legion's 1963 national convention, with the usual hoopla and some top speakers, will come to Miami Beach in September instead of segregated New Orleans. National Commander James E. Powers announced here that the convention would be held Sept. 6-12, the same dates it was scheduled for New Orleans before plans collapsed earlier this week. Powers said New Orleans withdrew its bid for the convention. The reason was the legion's objection to Louisiana's segregation policies.

The convention should bring about 60,000 legionnaires and their families to Miami Beach, Powers said, and they should spend more than $8 million during the week they are here.

London Line of Suits Hints at 1937 Styling

By WALTER LOGAN
NEW YORK (UPI) — Tailor and Cutter came out the other day with an artist's rough version of the new London line of men's suits this fall and our first thought was that it looked a lot like a green gabardine suit we bought in Nashville, Tenn., in 1937.

So we took a copy of the magazine, which is the bible of British tailoring, to Brooklyn-born Raymond Ackerman who with his brother Myron, has all sorts of men's clothing interests in Britain. (They also have a factory in Italy.)

"It looks pretty much like a suit I bought in Brooklyn in 1937," he said. "I'm afraid it isn't for the younger man. They'll stick pretty much to soft construction (ivy styling) but it might be all right for some of the older men."

In all fairness, it was only a rough sketch but it did give a hint of what British stylists will present later. Shoulders were squarer, the lower front of the coat was squarer and there was a definite nip in look at the waist. Lapels were slightly wider. Trousers remained slim.

We asked Ackerman about it because he is sometimes more British than the British and recently opened a new $1 Million plant in Crewe, England, which turns out its ultra-conservative Chester Barrie Ltd. line of men's wear. Myron Ackerman lives near Crewe and runs that end of it.

The Askermans also are sometimes more Italian than the Italians and turn out a line known as D'Avenza of Rome.

Ackerman, who also finds time to be president of Simon Ackerman Clothes, Inc., an American firm, glows with pleasure when he talks about the highly successful British operation because of the "sneers and snickers" when they first set up shop in Crewe in 1935.

He brought out a number of Fall 1963 models to display what he called the true British look and the true Italian look. The Chester Barrie suits were very sedate British woollens mostly in traditional 3-button styles. The D'Avenza ones were in lighter fabrics, somewhat sharper cut and in brighter colors.

The difference was more noticeable in the sports jackets. The British numbers were quite dignified with neat straight patch pockets. The Italian ran to salmon tweed, brick tweed and sometimes green with slanted pockets and a flapped breast pocket that won an Esquire fashion award.

Very noticeable was the lightness of the Italian fabrics. One, a worsted gabardine made up into slacks (a golden mustard color) was 5 1/2 ounce—not much heavier than a heavy shirt.

Outer coats were handsome and very British. The broad and butter pumber was a big plaid raglan, very full with a sweep in back. A split raglan had the same full sweep. Most spectacular for fall was a knee length black and white hounds-tooth-topcoat with black velvet collar.

Pampa Girl Elected to Club Office

Sharon Carmon of Pampa has been elected Inter-Club Council Representative of Metah Moe, a women's social club at Lubbock Christian-College, Lubbock. She will serve during the 1963-64 school year.

Organized in 1957, when the junior college was in its first year of operation, the club participates in inter-campus sports events, competes for the highest cumulative grade average of the 11 social clubs at LCC, and holds special events such as banquets and picnics.

Miss Carmon, a 1962 graduate of Pampa High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evert Carmon, 2432 Mary Ellen.

The hooked rug art, brought to America from Britain, reached its highest development here, thriving best in Canada and New England. Early American examples show considerable variety of colors, generally designed in crude floral, animal or geometrical patterns.

STUDENTS FROM ABROAD — Maria Luisa Prieto and Turan Soylemez, students from Madrid, Spain and Istanbul, Turkey, are looking at the pictures hanging in the Pampa High School library of Pampa's first foreign exchange students. Pictures of Luisa and Turan will soon be placed along with the others lining the walls. The pictures are a gift from the Student Council, and each picture bears a plaque with the student's name and country and the year they were students at Pampa High. (Daily News Photo)

LINKED BY RINGS
NEW YORK (UPI) — Singers Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Buddy Greco have one thing in common: each wears an identical friendship ring. The rings were custom-made by his jeweler for Sinatra, who kept one for himself and presented the others to Martin and Greco on their birthdays.

STARTS AND STOPS
PROTECTION, Kan. (UPI) — Mrs. Glenn Maris said today a jug of water helped start and stop a fire in her car.
Mrs. Maris left a jug of distilled water in the car seat while shopping and the sun focused through the glass and burned a hole in the seat. Finding the blaze on her return, Mrs. Maris used water from the jug to put it out.

Spotlighting Servicemen

James S. Barrett, machinist's mate first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Barrett of 725 North Banks, took part in a joint United States-French military exercise in the Mediterranean early this month while serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise.

The exercise was conducted May 1-10 in the Western Mediterranean and involved elements of the Sixth Fleet and the French Army, Air Force, and Navy.

The exercise, dubbed "Fair Game," was aimed at providing mutual tactical training and familiarization in air, amphibious and submarine operations. Sixty ships from both countries spread out in the western part of the sea for the mock attack on the island of Corsica. Aircraft carriers, submarines, cruisers, destroyers, amphibious ships, minesweepers, and logistic support ships provided seaward protection and delivered U.S. Marines and French Commandoes to the simulated invasion beaches. They were opposed by French Army troops.

Fair Game was the latest of a series of annual bilateral exercises between American and French forces in the Mediterranean.

Mike A. Klein, photographer's mate airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Klein of 1136 Sirroco, has completed basic Photographer's Mate School at the Naval Air Technical Training Unit, Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

The 18-week course provides training in the technical phases of photography including optics, operation and maintenance of various types of photo equipment used throughout the Navy.

A graduate of Pampa High School, Klein entered the service in June 1962.

Staff Sergeant Darrell L. Johnson of Atwater, Calif., is being reassigned to Craig AFB, Ala., following his graduation from the United States Air Force technical training course for air traffic controllers at Keesler AFB, Miss.

Sergeant Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson of 1490 Fir St., Atwater, was trained in the proper control of airport traffic and air approach and air route traffic.

The airman attended Livingston (Calif.) Union High School. His wife, Peggy, is the daughter of Sam B. Davis of Panhandle.

Ines G. Garcia, personnelman second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose W. Garcia of 304 West Atchison, returned to San Diego, Calif., on April 30 after spending seven months in the Far East aboard the attack cargo ship USS Tulare.

The Tulare was part of the Seventh Fleet, a major element of American seapower abroad.

During the cruise, the ship visited Bangkok, Hong Kong, Manila, Nagasaki, Kobe, Yokosuka, and Honolulu, with other elements of Amphibious Squadron Three.

The Tulare is the newest attack cargo ship in the Navy. She is designed to transport supplies and equipment to assault beaches.

Army 1st Lt. Harold L. Conway, son of Abner D. Conway, 2145 Christine, took part in Exercise GRAND SLAM II with other members of the 3rd Infantry Division in Germany early in May.

Elements of the Canadian, French and German armed forces also participated in the exercise which was designed to test plans and procedures of NATO forces assigned to Central Europe.

Lieutenant Conway, a communications officer in the 39th Infantry's 2nd Battalion in Germany, entered the Army in June 1961 and arrived overseas in March 1963.

The Pampa Daily News

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

The Dog Haters

Red bureaucrats behind the Iron Curtain seem to have exhausted the roster of American capitalists and Western imperialists and are now turning on the dog as an enemy of the "good Communist life."

Communist Bulgaria's regime is currently carrying on a relentless campaign to exterminate man's age-long silent friend ostensibly because dogs "spread infectious diseases among humans and animals."

Law No. 26 issued recently by no less an august body than the Council of Ministers of the "People's Democracy" strictly forbids the feeding or even the possession of dogs by "unauthorized citizens."

This, alas, is not another bit of capitalist propaganda against communism. It is a brutal fact printed in Dunavsko Delo, an official newspaper of the Bulgarian Communist Party.

The Red oligarchs, who are as devoid of a sense of justice as they are of a sense of humor, insist that they only have the "good of the people" at heart. They claim that the decree to exterminate dogs was issued "in order to protect the welfare of the workers, prevent infectious diseases in livestock breeding and to improve the general health of the country."

Fortunately, even behind the Iron Curtain where food is scarce and the secret police ever present there are humans whose love of dogs is stronger than their fear. Ordinary Bulgarian citizens, it seems, refuse to part with their silent friends even though they face stiff fines for violating Law No. 26.

Whatever you may think of our responsibility to the under-privileged nations—and their (usually) over-privileged potentates—it is high time, if you ask us, to give heed to under-privileged humans here at home.

There are at this writing, we have just learned, millions of households in the USA in which the little woman has failed to provide her lord and master with colored sheets and pillow cases on which to rest his weary bones!

As matters stand, thousands of men — millions, in fact — are plodding wearily home each night to sleep in those same old unimpaired white sheets. Many are actually unaware that more fortunate husbands are reclining between sheets of mauve and magenta, puce and pistachio, or of baroque stripes or decked with sunflowers, morning glories, or forget-me-nots.

It should be explained, however, that this is not always due to wife-oversight, indifference or lack of soul. Many housewives are just fearful that this brightly bedded may run or fade, that it will require special treatment in washing. They don't know that colored sheets are vat-dyed. Maybe they don't even know that vat dye is any different from any other kind!

But this timidity can be corrected. A husband need only explain firmly, but kindly, that vat dyes do not run or fade or crock. They are soluble only during the time the dye is impregnating the textile fibers, then restored by chemical reaction to the original inert state — insoluble even in boiling water. Furthermore, the dye has so completely permeated the fibers that the fabric will wear out before the color changes. And if your helpmeet wants to know where that name comes from, it is because these imperishable dyes were first applied in fermentation vats—like vat 69, for instance.

From here on, we would say, a man need only allow reasonable time for shopping—and prepare to dream in technicolor!

The GOP's Primary Problem

The flurry of talk about tossing a flock of favorite sons into the 1964 GOP presidential race could evaporate when the present confusion in the party shakes down a little.

Some experienced politicians listening to this talk believe it is a direct response to the uncertainty introduced when New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller remarried. Politicians in doubt tend to seek protective cover. The favorite son device qualifies as such.

Right now favorite son candidates seem a sure thing in Wisconsin, a strong prospect in Ohio and Colorado, a possibility in Oregon and California. All of these save Colorado are also states which conduct presidential preference primaries.

This has aroused the ire of the editors of Dunavsko Delo who wrote in an angry editorial:

"The decree of the Council of Ministers was broadcast over the radio. Dates were fixed for the destruction of dogs. But the number of citizens who turned up was very small. The attention of all dog owners is drawn to the fact that the decree will continue in force until it has been fully complied with."

"Let this decree be kept in mind. The next time dates are set for the destruction of dogs let all owners bring them to places specified. Should they fail to do so they will be fined and their dogs will be destroyed anyway — but in a compulsory manner."

To date, according to the Red newspaper, 18 persons have already been fined.

Of course, to use Orwell's famous phrase, while all dogs are equal in Communist society, some dogs are more equal than others. Thus Law No. 26 states clearly that "Only the offices of the Ministry of National Defense and of the Ministry of Interior (Police) are allowed to have dogs." These are ostensibly the lucky dogs.

"But all other dogs are subject to destruction."

Dog lovers in the Free World who are doomed to live under "capitalist barbarism" will undoubtedly be horrified by this senseless destruction of animals. Perhaps they will find some solace in the fact that the dog, as an enemy of socialism, has now joined the company of American imperialists, revisionist poets and abstract painters.

But this timidity can be corrected. A husband need only explain firmly, but kindly, that vat dyes do not run or fade or crock. They are soluble only during the time the dye is impregnating the textile fibers, then restored by chemical reaction to the original inert state — insoluble even in boiling water. Furthermore, the dye has so completely permeated the fibers that the fabric will wear out before the color changes. And if your helpmeet wants to know where that name comes from, it is because these imperishable dyes were first applied in fermentation vats—like vat 69, for instance.

From here on, we would say, a man need only allow reasonable time for shopping—and prepare to dream in technicolor!

But the widespread resort to favorite sons would tend to discourage such tests. Where a respected state leader is given this honor the real candidates often decide to stay out and not challenge him. Sometimes it is in fear of defeat. Sometimes it reflects a wish to avoid embarrassing the leader on his home grounds.

There are only some 15 states which hold presidential primaries. A few are quite minor. But those in Wisconsin, Oregon and California are among the potentially most significant on the list.

It would hardly be healthy for Republican presidential politics if these states were to be stripped from the agenda of major tests in 1964.

Politicians of course are of two

The American Way

THE SHAME OF A STATE
By RAYMOND C. BAKER
American Way Features
Correspondent

To its shame, the respected Yankee State of New Hampshire has added a new course to the curriculum of its educational system — the art of gambling by lottery.

New Hampshire was the first state to declare its independence of England in 1776. Now it can boast the dubious distinction of being the first state to go into the lottery business since the infamous Louisiana lottery was killed in 1894 by Federal laws making it illegal to send tickets through the mails or across state lines.

To compound the blunder, the New Hampshire law decrees that tickets will be sold only in state liquor stores and at race tracks. The Irish orator, Edmund Burke, called gambling "a principle inherent in human nature." This "principle" applies to most Americans. Many enjoy a friendly game of poker or bridge or even an occasional toss of the dice. Others gamble every day in business when they bet that an expensive piece of machinery will do a better job or that an untimed advertising campaign will sell more products.

Deserving of Scorn
But when a sovereign state admits that it is abandoning the democratic form of levying a just and equitable tax against all of its citizens to educate its children in favor of a state lottery which picks the pockets of those who can least afford it, it deserves nothing but scorn.

How important are the arts and sciences going to be when children of New Hampshire recognize that parents have turned over the financing of their education to gamblers? Surely, this creates a highly unstable climate for children in their formative years.

This is particularly true in a nation which is spending nearly $4 billion a year in foreign aid to assist so-called under-privileged nations, but can't scrape together a comparatively pittance $4 million — the amount New Hampshire expects to raise annually through the lottery — to educate the children of one of its own states.

Lesson in Odds
Some 1.34 million tickets will be sold at $3 each. A certain number of tickets will be drawn in a lottery twice a year and assigned to horses in a given race at each of the state's two tracks. Prizes will be scaled according to how horses finish. The top prize probably will be $50,000.

One thing is certain, the children are going to learn something about odds. The number of prizes and amounts have not yet been announced. Assuming the state decides on 200 prizes, totaling $300,000, the 1.34 million ticket holders will have one chance of winning out of 6,700.

Not even Nevada, where gambling has been legalized for many years, would permit such devastating odds. Nor would the operators of the card games, roulette, craps and one-armed bandits. At worst, they give the suckers a 30 to 70 chance, and at a best, 45 to 35. Otherwise, they would be out of business.

And it is possible to win or lose $50,000 at the tables in Las Vegas or Reno. The difference is that only the house or the gambler is hurt — not the moral fiber of children of a whole state.

"Fiscal Experiment?"
Unlike New Hampshire, Nevada has not made gambling a government function. Its revenues come from the licensing of gambling to individuals or syndicates. The revenues go into the general fund, along with other taxes, to meet the cost of government, including education. Admittedly, this is a thin line of distinction, but at least the children of Nevada have not been abandoned to the malodorous lottery.

Governor John W. King, in signing the New Hampshire lottery into law, said it was "a legitimate fiscal experiment."

The noted judge and philosopher of law, Sir William Blackstone, put it this way: "Gambling is a kind of tacit confession that those engaged therein do, in general, exceed the bounds of their respective fortunes; and therefore they cast lots to determine on whom the ruin shall at present fall — that minds about primaries. They devote the evidence they offer of a candidate's saliability. They welcome the national publicity they bring the party.

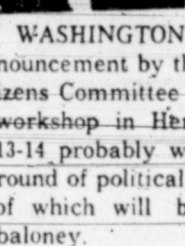

But they really would like these benefits of open competition without the attendant pain. They dislike the divisive effects of battle, the cost and the trouble.

But as the Republicans approach the 1964 contest, their leaders must ask themselves whether the American people want a decision arrived at behind hotel room doors at convention time — or a decision the voters have had at least some part in shaping.

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Announcement by the Republican Citizens Committee that it will hold a workshop in Hershey, Pa., June 13-14 probably will start another round of political speculation, most of which will be thumb-sucking baloney.

This organization was set up formally in Washington last December after a preliminary picnic meeting in a tent on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Gettysburg farm in June.

It has been accused of a lot of party-splitting and presidential-candidate-making intentions and activities—all of which are denied.

The truth is that the Republican Citizens Committee still doesn't quite know where it's going, but it's trying to find out.

That's one purpose of the Hershey workshop. It will be an invitational affair for about 75 hand-picked participants. Keeping attendance small was intentional, because the Citizens Committee wanted top leadership which could get a lot of work done at this first session. The drive for citizen members in large numbers will come later.

Eisenhower, as honorary RCC chairman, will be at Hershey and will preside at one off-the-record workshop session on critical problems facing America today.

A special feature of this session will be the unveiling of an RCC-financed Elmo Roper survey of voter concepts of what the Republican party stands for and how this differs from voter concepts of what the Democratic party stands for. Albert L. Cole of Reader's Digest will make this presentation.

Another workshop was to have been chaired by RCC Chairman George (Tim) Herrmann of Chicago, but his sudden resignation because of the press of private business and his wife's illness throws the organization and the program into some confusion.

Donald C. Frey, executive secretary of RCC in Washington, who also is in active charge of the Hershey meeting, was for 10 years chairman of the Los Angeles County Republican Associates.

This organization set the pattern for similar organizations in San Diego, San Francisco and Sacramento. There also are successful GOP citizen action groups in Chicago and Cleveland.

Flanigan of New York will chair a workshop on how best to aid Republican candidates. C. Wade Petersmeyer, president of Corinthian Broadcasting Co., New York, is workshop chairman in charge of the program. All sessions will be closed, but the press will be briefed later.

William E. Miller of New York, Republican National Committee Chairman, will speak at one session. This cuts both Congress and GOP headquarters into the act. This is considered important, because the Citizens Committee has been accused or suspected of wanting to usurp some of the functions of the National Committee, take over the policy-making functions of congressional leaders, name a national convention candidates.

The fact that Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania is the only GOP presidential possibility who has been invited to the Hershey workshop may start another round of rumors that the RCC is trying to put him over. But this is officially denied all around. Scranton was invited solely, it is maintained, because he is governor of the host state.

When the Citizens Committee plan first emerged early in the 1962 congressional campaign there were charges it was a New York plot to nominate Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in 1962. Lately, this has been changed to gossip of a conspiracy to put over Michigan Gov. George Romney. It then became a "stop Goldwater" drive. Actually, it is none of these things.

The Citizens Committee is merely trying to set up an organization to back whatever candidates the Republican national or state conventions and primaries nominate and get them elected. They're a bunch of influential but frustrated Republicans who would like to see the GOP win one for a change.

First year operations of the Citizens Committee have been financed by $1,000 contributions from 100 of its charter members. A budget for the 16 months before the 1964 elections and a drive for smaller contributions from many more citizens will be made after program is developed at Hershey.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gordon A. Rusk of Wilmington, Del., has been named national chairman of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts to promote and develop the non-profit school on a national scale. He plans to organize a repertory company of top Academy graduates to tour the country.

Every major cosmetic concern and scores of smaller companies are now in the hair spray business, which originated during the last five years. Wonder how many words the average intelligent person has in his or her vocabulary? And except for checking through the unabridged dictionary, how can one tell? Come to think of it, it's one thing to say you have X-thousand words in your vocabulary, but how many of these words can you spell correctly, pronounce and define? That's a one-two-three at that might floor many a scholar.

The nation's amusement interests are against a proposal to have certain holidays celebrated on Monday, year after year. Long weekends are poison to the movies and legit houses, especially in the spring, summer and fall. Business in restaurants and night clubs is also poor on Monday in most parts of the country. The big gambling play today in Nevada is in the Las Vegas casinos, exceeding Reno's dice and roulette layouts by more than 50 per cent.

ROBERT ALLEN Report PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A House Immigration subcommittee is sharply challenging Attorney General Robert Kennedy's decision that some 250 descendants of a Russian sect living in Turkey be allowed to settle in the U.S.

The legislators, headed by Representative Michael Feighan, D-O., are bluntly questioning both the Attorney General's judgment and authority in permitting this band of Old Believers, as they are known, a sect that split from the Russian Orthodox Church in the 17th Century, to come here.

The group is slated to arrive in June under the auspices of the Tolstoy Foundation of New York, unless the administration's plan is upset by the House committee's investigation.

An explosive showdown on this unprecedented immigration case is due this week when Abba P. Schwartz, the State Department's Administrator of Security and Consular Affairs, appears before the committee to explain the Kennedy administration's action.

Schwartz was summoned after an exchange of correspondence with the Attorney General revealed that Schwartz was the key official behind the move to bring the Old Believers to this country.

Attorney General Kennedy, who will also be interrogated, wrote the legislators that he granted the sect special asylum under Section 212 (d) of the Immigration and Nationality Act because of "very persuasive reasons outlined by the State Department" in a communication from Schwartz.

The Attorney General claimed the sect's members, descendants of a band of 5,000 Old Believers who left Russia more than 300 years ago to live in Turkey, are under heavy pressure by Soviet agents to return to Russia.

About 1,000 of the sect did go there last September, but are reportedly unhappy. The 250 scheduled to come to the U.S. are the last of the band.

Since all admissions under little used Section 212 (d) are temporary and for emergency cases, Attorney General Kennedy indicated the administration would later seek specific authorization from Congress to give the sect permanent residence.

LIFTING THE SECRECY — In grilling Schwartz, the lawmakers will seek answers to specific questions they put up to Attorney General Kennedy but which he sidestepped by referring them to the State Department.

Foremost of these is whether the granting of this special asylum is a prelude to bringing other Russian groups to the U.S., particularly from Latin America and Canada.

The Feighan committee raised this possibility in a letter to Kennedy, as follows: "It is noted that the Tolstoy Foundation report forewarns of similar developments among other Russian emigre groups settled in Latin America, particularly Brazil, where the Russian emigre groups are clamoring for emigration to the U.S. Obviously, this gives rise to the question whether a favorable determination on the 'Old Believers' in Turkey will produce a chain reaction of determinations in response to the clamor of other Russian emigre groups."

Another related consideration is the case of the Dukhobors, a Russian-religious sect residing in Canada. They are known as "spiritual wrestlers" and have much in common historically with the 'Old Believers.' Their collectivist customs and tendency toward public nudist demonstrations have caused tensions between them and the Canadian government in recent years.

"They, too, have been the target of Soviet pressure to return to the homeland and some members of the sect have in fact returned. In light of these tensions and the pressure of Russian agents, does it follow that this sect will also be granted asylum in the U.S.?"

THE BIG QUESTION — Another unanswered question is the legislators' demand as to Turkey's position in this mysterious affair, as follows: "It is not clear from information now available to the subcommittee whether the religious liberties of this group are impaired by an inability or unwillingness of the Turkish government to protect them from Soviet agents. It seems incredible that Turkey, a member of NATO, is unable or unwilling to provide this protection."

After questioning Schwartz and the Attorney General, the House committee will determine whether to go directly to President Kennedy and ask that admittance of the sect be held up until all the implications can be thoroughly studied.

Members taking this position are Chairman Feighan and Representatives Frank Chelf, D-Ky., Richard Poff, R-Va., and Arch Moore, Jr., R-W.Va. Representative Francis Walter, D-Pa., is ill and not taking part in the inquiry.

The Old Believers have not changed their ways through the centuries. They do not intermarry and their religion forbids marriage with non-Christians. Throughout their long stay in Turkey, they have maintained their traditions, language and costumes, dating back to the reign of Peter the Great.

Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, daughter of Leo Tolstoy and head of the Foundation, has told the Justice Department the group will be resettled in a farming section of New Jersey.

FOREIGN FLASHES — Leon Trotsky's assassin, Frank Jackson alias Ramon Mercader, is now running a school in Czechoslovakia to train terrorists for Latin America. Intelligence reports locate his institution on the outskirts of Prague, and disguised as an "agricultural school." Around 1,600 Czechs are in Communist China working on projects originally begun by Russia. Many of the technicians want to return home but neither government will permit it.

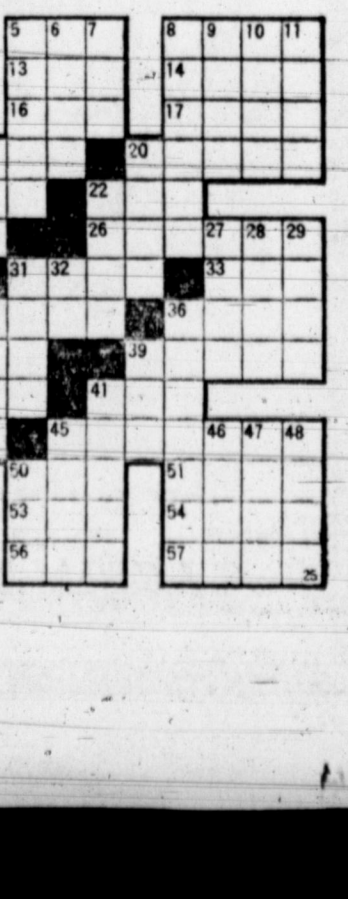

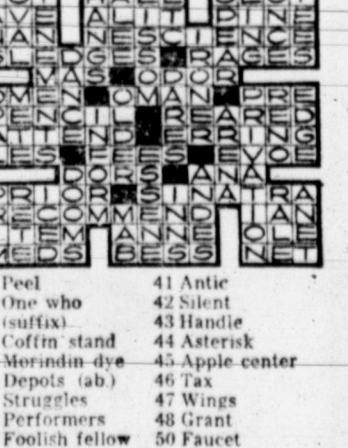

For the first time, Sweden will build its own tanks. The government placed orders for $125 million of tanks developed by the Swedish Army. The tank is somewhat lighter than the 30-ton Centurion, which Sweden has been buying from Britain since World War II.

American Comeback Retains Walker Cup

TURNBERRY, Scotland (UPI) — The United States, led by Billy Joe Patton, Labron Harris Jr., and Charlie Coe, staged a stirring comeback Saturday to retain the Walker Cup, 12-8, crushing Britain's amateur golfers by sweeping the four foursome matches and winning five of the eight singles.

Trailing 6-3 after Friday's play, the U.S. stars played brilliantly as their game improved with the weather. They won the first seven matches Saturday to clinch the cup—the 18th time America has won it in the 19 times the international golf competition has been held.

It wasn't until the U.S. had built up an 11-6 lead Saturday that Britain was able to win a match. David Sheahan of Ireland defeated Richard Davies of Pebble Beach, Calif., 1 up.

Then the U.S. won another singles, halved the next, and Britain closed out the day by winning the final singles match when Bonnie Shade of Ireland defeated David Gray of Pensacola, Fla., 2 and 1.

U.S. Game Improved
The U.S. golfers lost no time in showing the Brits that their game had improved with the weather.

Writers of Morganton, N.C., and the U.S. of Springfield, Ark., and the Americans of the rain-fog in the morning foursomes play when they defeated Mike Bonallack of England and Stuart Murray of Scotland, 1 up, under overcast skies which later cleared. But the weather was in direct contrast to Friday's when the British found the rain and wet fairways and greens to their liking.

Then came victories by Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla., over Harris, of Stillwater, Okla., over

Rain Washes Out Saturday Open Round

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Ninety-one golfers face a grueling 36-hole finish in the $50,000 Memphis Open Sunday. A drenching rain killed Saturday's action.

About 40 golfers who teed-off despite the rain had their cards erased. It was the first tourney washout since the final round of the Phoenix Open in early February.

Tony Lama, who has placed in big money all this season but hasn't yet won a crown, held a two-stroke lead after he captured a six below-par 67-67-134 Friday.

Clearly tracking the slender Calumet at 126 were George Knudson, Jerry Edwards, Harold Knace and Tommy Aaron.

Knudson's five-under-par 85 Friday was low round for the tournament. Knudson, a young Canadian pro, led Friday's field most of the way with a four-under-par 68-68-136.

The golfers left the soaked links and thousands of disappointed spectators to return to their hotel and motel rooms to rest for Sunday's double round.

The medal event pays 50 places, scaling down from $9,000 first-place money to $110 each for the final eight.

Deadlocked for third place were Jack McGowan and Bruce Cramp-ton, both with 137's.

Shehan and Michael Hunt of England, 3 and 2; by Bob Gardner, Essex Fells, N.J., and Dr. Edgar Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., over Charles Green and Sandy Saddler, both of Scotland, 3 and 1; and by Deane Beaman of Bethesda, Md., and Coe of Oklahoma City over David Madeley of Ireland and Shade, 3 and 2.

Kept Streak Going
Patton kept the winning streak going by beating Murray in the first of the eighth singles matches, 3 and 2. It was Patton's third victory in the two-day affairs, tying him with Harris and Coe as the U.S. leading point-winners.

Updegraff then defeated Joe Carr of Ireland, 4 and 3, and when Harris beat Bonallack, 3 and 2, America was assured of a tie.

Then Gardner, a last-minute substitute for Charley Smith of Gastonia, N.C., beat Lunt, 3 and 2, and the British saw their hopes of victory dashed again.

Gardner was called on when Smith was forced to withdraw after his back ailment flared up again.

After Sheahan broke the U.S. victory string, Coe added the U.S. margin by defeating Green, 4 and 3, and Beaman halved his match with Saddler. It was the fourth halve of the matches and they did not count in the point standings.

Shade closed out the matches with his triumph over Gray—but it was far too little and too late.

Dallas 'Texans' Now KC 'Chiefs'

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Kansas City's new entry in the American Football League will be nicknamed "Chiefs," owner Lamar Hunt, of the transplanted league champion Dallas Texans team announced Saturday.

The announcement confirmed reports that the millionaire Texas oilman had picked that nickname from among 4,885 entries received in a contest which produced more than 1,000 varieties.

The nickname, incidentally, is also that of former Kansas City Mayor H. Roe Bartle, who is credited with launching the drive which led Hunt to decide to give up his battle against the National Football League Dallas Cowboys and move to Kansas City.

"I felt that 'Chiefs' best combined what we were looking for in a new name," Hunt said. "It has local significance. The Kansas City area was once a dwelling place for at least four different Indian tribes."

"It has class and it is short enough to appear in headlines anywhere," Hunt pointed out, adding that "these were just a few of the factors considered."

The name "Chiefs" wasn't the most popular among the 1,020 different names submitted, however, Hunt revealed that honor went to the name "Mules," submitted by 272 entrants. The name "Royals" was the second most popular.

Three Novis Qualify For Indianapolis 500

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The powerful Novis, plagued for years by misfortune, made history at the Indianapolis Speedway Saturday when the last of a three-car team qualified for the 500-mile Memorial Day race.

Rookies Bobby Unser and Art Malone put the second and third eight-cylinder supercharged roadsters into the race, although the final 33-car lineup will not be determined until Sunday.

Unser, of Albuquerque, N. M., winner of the Pike's Peak hill climb in Colorado the past five years, was the day's first qualifier with an average speed of 149.421 miles per hour.

Malone, of Tampa, Fla., followed about an hour later at 148.343 — also good enough to make the race.

Last Saturday, Jim Hurtubise, of North Tonawanda, N.Y., put the first Novi into the race at a clip of better than 150 m.p.h.

Busy Month Coming Up For Golfers

Twenty contestants competed yesterday in National Golf Day competition to "beat the champ" and at least as many more are expected today, reported Pampa Country Club golf pro Hart Warren and assistant Dale Taylor.

Last year 51 Pampans contested the National Open and PGA championships in an effort to see if their scores minus handicaps could beat the champs, and 41 accomplished the feat.

The weekend kicks off a busy season of summer golfing at the Pampa Country Club. The 15th annual Memorial Day Mixed Scotch Foursome Inter-club competition will be held Thursday, with play starting at 3 p.m.

The annual PCC Junior Tournament will be held from June 4-7. The tourney is open to all boys and girls under 16 years of age, and will be divided into three age groups, 11 and under, 12 and 13, and 14 and 15-year-olds.

Trophies will be awarded to first and second place winners in each category. The tournament is open to all youngsters. Registration begins tomorrow and ends at 10 a.m. the morning of the fourth, with the tournament beginning at 1 p.m. that day.

On June 5, pro Hart Warren will compete in the Lubbock Country Club pro-member tournament. Junior class instructions will begin June 7 at 9:30 a.m. A four weeks course of instructions for beginners, the classes will be open to boys and girls from eight years old up to 16 years old.

There will be a nominal charge for non-members of the Country Club seeking instructions. Warren asked that youngsters wishing to take lessons to contact the pro shop prior to the lessons, as there was a minimum number needed to justify the classes, and they would need to know how many students would be in the classes.

The annual city tournament will be held on the weekends of June 15 and June 23. The championship flight will be 36-hole medal play. The other flights will be match play the starting rounds and medal play in the final round, with trophies for winners in each flight and medalist. The deadline for entries is June 14 at 10 a.m.

'Louisville Lip' Gives Cooper 5

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cassius Marcellus Clay, who flies to London Sunday for a heavyweight contenders' fight there on June 18 with British Empire champion Henry Cooper, Saturday made this unprejudiced appraisal of Cooper:

"If that bum goes over five rounds, I won't return to this country for 90 days."

Unbeaten, 21-year-old Cassius, in the world's "hottest" young fighter, then disclosed: "This London fight is just a warm-up till I meet that big ugly bear, Sonny Liston, maybe in September."

Liston is scheduled to defend his world crown in a return fight with ex-champion Floyd Patterson at Las Vegas, Nev., on July 22. And Cassius seemed to take for granted that Liston would belt out Floyd again.

Swinging back to his outdoor 10-rounder with Cooper at London's Wembley Stadium, Cassius — the lippy poet laureate from Louisville, Ky. — declared:

"I'm not just talking jive. 'When I say Cooper goes in five.'"

Clay, wearing a black-and-white checked sports jacket and black slacks, admitted during his chat at Madison Square Garden's fight headquarters that Cooper is an exceptionally good puncher, particularly with the left hook.

Cubs Beat Colts For First Time

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Cubs got five-hit pitching from Larry Jackson and Ernie Banks' first home run since May 7 Saturday to beat the Houston Colts for the first time in six games this season, 6-1.

Jackson, upping his record to 6-5, yielded only singles and the Colts' only run was unearned. It came in the sixth inning when Dick Farrell scored from third as Jackson's pitch got away from catcher Dick Bertell.

The Cubs saddled Farrell with his fifth loss in nine decisions by scoring single runs from the third through sixth innings.

Torre's Homer Gives Braves Win

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Joe Torre led off the eighth inning with his first home run in a month to break up a scoreless pitching duel Saturday and give the Milwaukee Braves and right-hander Bob Shaw a 1-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Shaw, who gained his second win of the season in eight starts, yielded four scattered singles in going the distance.

Joe Gibbon, who also gave up four hits, was charged with his second loss of the season. Shaw struck out five and walked four. He got help from three double plays and catcher Del Crandall picked off two base runners.

Giants Down LA, Birds Win Again

Orioles Cop Sixth Straight Triumph

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The league-leading Baltimore Orioles scored three runs in the top of the ninth inning Saturday with the help of three fielding misplays to beat the Cleveland Indians, 6-4, for their sixth straight victory.

Throwing errors by third baseman Max Alvis and relief pitcher Jerry Walker and a late throw by pitcher Bob Allen all figured in the Orioles' scoring that broke a 3-3 tie.

The Indians came back with a single run in the last of the ninth inning on a walk to Tony Martinez and a triple by Vic Davillock, but relief pitcher Stu Miller struck out Al Luplow and got Joe Adcock on a grounder to end the game.

Cardinals Club Mets Again, 6-3

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals collected 12 hits Saturday in rolling to their third consecutive victory, 6-3 over the New York Mets, with Ray Sadecki picking up his first win of the season against four defeats.

Sadecki needed help from rookie Harry Fanok, who came on in the seventh to turn back a New York rally.

Sadecki allowed three hits and struck out five during his 6 1/3 inning stretch.

The Cardinals used a three-run inning off starter-loser Al Jackson to jump to a lead which they never gave up. Curt Flood's two-run double was the key blow. Flood scored on Bill White's line single past second baseman Ron Hunt.

St. Louis added another run in the fourth after Flood, who collected three hits, singled; Flood stole second and went to third when no one covered the base on the throw. Dick Groat singled him home.

Yankees Defeat Senators, 5-1

NEW YORK (UPI)—Clete Boyer's seventh-inning double off the fingertips of third baseman Marv Breeding touched off a four-run rally that enabled the New York Yankees to defeat the Washington Senators 5-1 Saturday behind Ralph Terry's seventh-hit pitching.

Terry and loser Tom Cheney were locked in a scoreless duel until the seventh when the Yankees put together a walk, three doubles, and an error to fashion the fifth consecutive victory.

The defeat was the sixth in a row for the Senators, their third straight under new Manager Gil Hodges, and their 13th in the last 14 games.

Spencer Leads Reds Over Phils

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Daryl Spencer hit four straight singles and Joe Nuxhall fired a six-hitter Saturday to lead the Cincinnati Reds to a 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

Nuxhall was nicked for run-scoring singles by Tony Gonzalez in the third and fifth, but finished strong, retiring the last 12 Phils in a row.

It was the fourth victory in six decisions for the 24-year-old southpaw and his fifth consecutive complete game.

Spencer, acquired recently by the Reds as a free agent after being released by the Los Angeles Dodgers, batted in two runs and scored what proved to be the winning run in the fourth inning.

Bonus Rookie Wins For Tigers

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit Tigers' rookie bonus right hander Bill Faul, with relief help from Terry Fox, won his second major league game in as many starts Saturday, downing the Boston Red Sox 5-2.

The Tigers had lost four straight games since Faul won his first start last Sunday with a three-hitter against Washington.

But the Tigers, who were out of 9-7 Saturday, took advantage of eight Boston walks to snap the losing streak.

Faul had a shutout until the sixth inning when Gary Geiger slammed a homer. After Frank Malzone singled in Boston's second run with one out in the eighth inning, Manager Bob Scheffing brought in Fox who preserved Faul's win.

Pascual Hurls 2-Hit Shutout

ST. PAUL MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Camilo Pascual hurled a brilliant two-hit shutout Saturday to lead the Minnesota Twins to their sixth consecutive victory, a 6-0 win over the Chicago White Sox.

Pascual, who gained his sixth victory in 10 decisions, struck out eight to tie Washington's Tom Cheney for the league leadership at 82.

The Cuban curveballer was touched by a double by Pete Ward in the third which glanced off Wally Post's glove, and a single by Floyd Robinson in the ninth.

Minnesota's eight-hit attack off White Sox starter Juan Pizarro and Joel Horlen was highlighted by the solo homers of Post and Rich Rollins. The Twins also came up with a four-run fifth inning on a walk, two singles and a double.

Frisco Takes 3 Game NL Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Ed Bailey, the San Francisco Giants' clutch-hitting catcher, smashed a two-run homer in the seventh inning Saturday that launched them toward a 6-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers as a three-game lead in the National League race.

The burly catcher, who now has driven across 26 runs this season with as many hits, teed off on southpaw Johnny Podres for his 10th homer after Jim Davenport had singled.

Bailey's 390-foot shot over the rightfield fence wrecked a 2-2 tie and kept lefthander Billy O'Dell (7-0) in the unbeatens ranks this season. Podres (3-4) saw his Candlestick Park losing streak extended to six consecutive reversals.

Twenty-one of Bailey's RBI's this year have come on home runs.

Felipe Alou put the game out of reach by doubling across two runs in the eighth inning off rookie reliever Dick Calmus.

Amarillo Y Wins Swim Meet Friday

The Amarillo Y defeated the Pampa Youth and Community Center Dolphins Friday night in a dual swim meet 153-118. The Dolphins were nosed out in all but two events.

Carlene Harrison won the open class seven year old race and the 13 and over boys 200-yard medley relay team beat the Amarillo relay team. The Pampa team consisted of Don Rader, Scott Rader, Scott George, and Rusty Reeve.

Particularly outstanding for Amarillo were Ed Bagot and Ann Kenny.

Other swimmers outstanding for Pampa were Ann Donaldson, Jackie Stephens, Twila Jackson, Deborah Huff, Kathy Kelp, Barry George, Chuck Crowson, Ricky Lowe, Charles Jordan, Butch Wilkerson, Bill Nidifer and Dick Donaldson.

Jim Miller Leads Farhad Rodeo

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Jim Miller of Sulphur, La., led in bareback bronc riding competition and placed second in bulldogging after the first night of the Farhad Rodeo to Rodeo International.

A second "go-round" is scheduled tonight at City Park Stadium. Miller edged Billy Rogers of Austin, Tex., in the bronc riding, 171 points to 168. Clyde Vamvoras was third with 167.

Bill Duessen of Booth, Tex., tracked up 172 points in bulldogging, downing his animal in 5.8 seconds. Miller was next with 12.6 seconds. James Bynum of Forreston, La., was third with 13 seconds.

Ken Stanton of Redmond, Ore., led in wild steer riding with 172 points. He and Bill Williams were the only two contestants to ride for eight seconds, the minimum time to qualify for awards.

Don Munn of Cypress, Tex., led in calf roping with 44 seconds. Next was Neil Love of Fort Worth with 14.1 and Norman Gault of Ore City, Tex., with 14.3.

Marvin Holmes of Picken, Okla., led in saddle bronc riding with 179 points. Tex Martin of Tulsa scored 175 and Ben Bogap of Beaumont, Tex., 174.

Cotton Kenney, the rodeo producer from Sulphur, threw a scare into the crowd when a 700-pound steer flipped in the air and landed on him. Kenney lay still in the ring for a moment but was later helped up and said he did not think he was seriously injured.

By JEFF COHANE

ALTHOUGH Kellum Johnson of the AAU national executive committee, has now backed water, and withdrawn his definite statement that Randy Matson and every high school athlete who participated in the West Texas Track and Field Federation championships at Abilene last week was ineligible for the Olympics: the furor he raised has had two effects, one that he apparently wanted and the other that he apparently did not want: "digging his own grave," or in this case, that of the AAU.

Although almost every sportswriter in Texas was pro-NCAA in their fight against the AAU, a few held back because there is very little AAU-sponsored sports in this area and they really didn't know but what we might be hearing only one side of the argument. Again, most members of the Texas Sportswriters Association felt that this was a fight between two bodies for control of amateur sports, and since the sportswriters would have to live and get along with the winner, it would be best if the argument was not editorialized on.

However, Johnson's changing from firm statement of lifetime suspension to "perhaps they made a mistake and the suspension needn't be lifetime" to "if the TIF sanctions the meets, maybe they didn't do wrong" to his final (we hope) statement that "if the boys tell us (the AAU) they didn't know anything was wrong, they won't be penalized," compares rather poorly with the definite statements by Federation officials that Johnson had no right to make such a statement, and that even if he did, the AAU had no right to impose such a penalty under the MacArthur agreement; especially since the statements of the Federation officials have been proven to be absolutely correct.

SINCE Randy Matson was a key figure in the suspension story, this department naturally contacted everyone we knew who was authorized to comment on the situation. We will admit our contacts were rather one-sided, as we have never seen an AAU official in this area, nor have we met one in Texas in connection with anything but the Golden Gloves; while coach Oliver Jackson of ACC is a highly respected figure in the athletic world and coach Johnny Morris of the University of Houston an old and good friend whose word we would take over that of most people.

We will admit that, along with coach Norman Phillips, a man whom we have never before seen angry, we were, to put it mildly, furious, feeling that Randy was being used as a stalking horse and that the purpose of the suspension threat was merely to frighten a number of high school athletes, so that they would hesitate to enter Federation meets, and possibly ruin the Dallas meet this past weekend, which they almost did.

Since we admit complete and utter prejudice in the matter, we feel that anything we might say would be bigoted, so instead we are going to quote a few sportswriters, coaches and officials on the matter, and let readers draw their own conclusions.

AFTER READING over a dozen columns on the affaire Johnson, we feel that Bill Hart of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal hit the nail on the head: "The ruling by the AAU, making those athletes who competed in the West Texas Federation Meet Saturday at Abilene ineligible for international meets, is the first of several expected to be put on athletes within the next month.

And you can be sure it won't slow down coaches trying to sign up these athletes. Can't you see Jack Patterson and Charles Thomas staying away from Randy Matson just because he's ineligible for AAU sanctioned meets?

Apparently the ruling was made at a "good" time for the AAU, for it will only keep those athletes from entering the AAU meets this summer and it's highly unlikely any would have gone anyway.

It's just another step by the AAU trying to throw its weight around, a weight that apparently is on Metrical more and more as time wears on.

Another Federation meet is planned in Houston this weekend and a lot of athletes will be banned for competing in this meet. A lot were banned at a meet in Houston back in January, but their suspension was lifted after the talks with Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Slowly, but surely, the AAU is tightening the noose around its own neck and many more incidents like this one will choke the life out of the organization.

A QUOTE concerning the AAU itself: "In New York, AAU officials withheld comment. But the executive secretary, Capt. Steve Archer, said Johnson, a longtime AAU executive, should know what he's doing.

New York AAU executives, however, (See SIDELINES, Page 11)

other competitors, including White Deer team-mate John Ulrich and Pampa High netter Joe Fischer for the boys honors, defeating Tim Eller in the finals, 6-0, 6-1. Debby won out over four other girls singlists, beating Tamah Williams in a love match in the finals.

The winners and second place finishers in each division will be the guests of honor at the Jaycee luncheon next Tuesday, where they will receive trophies donated by the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co.

In boys competition, Eller defeated Steve Spidell, 6-2, and Fischer dropped Terry Scoggin, also 6-2, in the opening round.

In the second round, Eller out-fought Barry Price, 6-3, 6-3; Richard Ulrich defeated Charlie Jackson, 6-0, 6-1; Fischer stopped David Kinneman, 6-1, 6-1; and Ryals downed Harlan Hysmith, 6-0, 6-1.

The semi-finals saw Eller edge Ulrich in the toughest match of the day, 8-6, 7-5; while Ryals dropped Fischer, 6-1, 6-1.

Debby edged past Betty Supina in the first round of girls play, 7-5; then shut out Joan Neslage in the semifinals while Tamah was out-duelling Joann McGaughy, 6-4.

Apparently the ruling was made at a "good" time for the AAU, for it will only keep those athletes from entering the AAU meets this summer and it's highly unlikely any would have gone anyway.

Pampa Track Club Set, To Sponsor Houston Meet

The Pampa Track Club has officially been formed and has joined the United States Track and Field Federation, announced Pampa High Track coach Norman Phillips Saturday.

Officers of the Pampa Track Club will be Jeffrey Cohane, president and publicity director; William Power, vice-president; William Trice, secretary, and Phillips, coach and treasurer. Cohane is sports editor of the Pampa-Daily News, Power general manager of the News and Trice the athletic director of the Pampa Independent School District.

The Club was formed on the advice of Oliver Jackson, track coach at Abilene Christian College and Johnny Morris, track coach at the University of Houston, both officers in the Federation, explained Phillips. Formation of the Club and sponsorship of Randy Matson and other area athletes in Federation, NCAA and AAU track meets this summer will protect them from any suspensions, need of sanctions or possible censure of violation of rules, said Phillips, as occurred after the recent West Texas Track and Field Championships, when Matson and nearly 100 other high school athletes were threatened with suspension by the AAU.

Phillips explained that formation of the Club will also protect Matson and any other athletes sponsored by the Club from possible accusations of "tampering." "We have had a touchy problem with sponsorships," explained Phillips. "A number of civic and sports-minded Pampans have offered funds to send Randy and other boys to track meets after our regular school track season was over. We accepted one such offer, and then had to decline it on the advice of college coaches, as the donor was a graduate of a Southwest Conference school, and had Randy later signed with the school, SWC members could have accused the alumnus of trying to persuade Randy to attend his school by offer of the money."

"Although this was not so and the donor had nothing in mind but supporting Pampa sports, such an accusation could have been made, and could be made in the future. Formation of the Pampa Track Club eliminates this question; as we will sponsor Randy to the National Federation Meet in Houston July 6-7, and if donations are sought from individuals or clubs in the future, they can be donated to the Track Club and not to Randy or myself as individuals. Since none of the officers are graduates of a school that Randy is thinking of attending, Jeff having graduated from the University of Iowa, Mr. Power from the University of New Mexico and coach Trice and myself from West Texas State University, there could be no question as to whether any of us were "tampering" with, or "influencing" Randy in going to our particular Alma Maters.

"This also eliminates any question of suspensions or sanctions," explained Phillips. "Since we as a club have become a member of the Federation, if we sponsor Randy or any other athlete, the AAU cannot raise any question of his not being a member of the Federation, the NCAA, or the AAU. Not only will Randy be able to attend and compete in Federation meets, he will also be able to take part in both NCAA meets and AAU if he wishes."

Phillips reported that Matson will be the only area athlete entered in the National Meet at Houston. "Coach Morris informed us that this weekend's Dallas meet was the last meet in which there would be a junior class this year as school ends officially with graduations Monday. Originally we had planned to enter Bill Martin of Pampa and Jimmy Flowers of Miami in the junior high jump, Wayne Coleman of Telfors in the pole vault and Carroll Russell of White Deer in the hurdles. However, in the open division, which will be the only one at the Houston meet, qualifications would be at the NCAA level in each event."

ever, seemed puzzled to understand Johnson's role, since he had jurisdiction over the Dallas area.

Phillips reported that Matson will be the only area athlete entered in the National Meet at Houston. "Coach Morris informed us that this weekend's Dallas meet was the last meet in which there would be a junior class this year as school ends officially with graduations Monday. Originally we had planned to enter Bill Martin of Pampa and Jimmy Flowers of Miami in the junior high jump, Wayne Coleman of Telfors in the pole vault and Carroll Russell of White Deer in the hurdles. However, in the open division, which will be the only one at the Houston meet, qualifications would be at the NCAA level in each event."

Phillips said that Morris has reported the only other high school boy who will compete in the meet is David Parkhurst of Baytown. Parkhurst, although ill this year and unable to defend his title, won the 100-yard dash last year in 9.4 and is one of the few high school boys who meet NCAA requirements for meet entrance. Matson, whose 58 1/2" shot put last week at Abilene is the third highest in state history, being topped only by Danny Roberts of Texas A&M with 59 3/4" and John Fry of Baylor with 58 10/16", is automatically eligible in the shot. Roberts will compete against Matson at the Houston meet next week, reported Morris. Randy also qualified for the discus with his practice throw of 169' at Abilene, although he did not compete in the open class in that event, since it interfered with the junior class discus throw.

Phillips added that although Randy would probably be the only entrant sponsored by the Pampa Track Club this year, the Club would be able to sponsor such boys as Coleman, Mark Westbrook of Pampa and other promising underclassmen in meets next year and in future years after regular high school competition is over, without any question of suspensions.

and not West Texas and the Abilene area."

THE OTHER side of the story: "At Abilene, Oliver Jackson, president of the Texas Track and Field Federation, said Johnson's declaration "is ridiculous."

"As far as I am concerned, the MacArthur agreement leaves the competition of athletes connected with educational institutions up to the United States Track and Field Federation."

In Houston, Johnny Morris also called Johnson's statement ridiculous. Morris is chairman of the U.S. Federation's first national track and field meet to be held in Houston June 7-8.

"He (Johnson) doesn't say college boys, just high school boys. Johnson's group tried unsuccessfully to pick on someone in the background, the innocent high school kid. It is absurd."

CHICK WERNER, executive director of the U.S. Federation: "One of the basic principles everyone got out of the MacArthur Plan was that there would be an end to this wholesale penalization and threatening of athletes that has come from the AAU."

"In addition to stopping the penalties, both parties were urged to stimulate the sport. Mr. Johnson appears to be attempting to curb competition. He's gone to great lengths to curb it. I would call him an obstructionist."

We would like to add only one comment on the whole affair. We believe Mr. Werner's last sentence should be nominated for the understatement of the year.

Matson Wins Amarillo CoC First Award

AMARILLO — Randy Matson, the schoolboy giant from Pampa, is the winner of the first annual Amarillo Chamber of Commerce Texas High School—Outstanding Trackman Award.

The 18-year-old senior, who stands 6-6 1/2 and weighs 225, broke his own records in both the shot and discus in the recent state meet at Austin.

He hurled the shot 66 feet, 10 inches and the discus 192 feet, 3 inches. He has broken records in 22 consecutive meets.

He threw the college shot 55 feet, 8 1/2 inches last week at Abilene. That's the third best mark ever posted by a Texas athlete.

Randy was an all-state choice in basketball.

The Amarillo Chamber of Commerce is honoring athletes in the various sports. Mike Lyle, Odessa Permian halfback, was the football winner. Bob Glover, Dallas Jefferson, was the basketball choice.

Randy Chosen By TSA As All-State Track Star

HOUSTON (Spi) — Headed by Randy Matson, Pampa shot and discus specialist, four schoolboy stars have been named a second straight year to the all-state high school track and field team.

Other repeaters on the 1963 team selected by the Texas Sports-writers Association are three sprinters, Don Parkhurst, Baytown, James White of Dallas Sunset, and Riley Dunn, Coleman.

Matson, holder of state records for the shot and discus, was one of three stars selected for the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Buddy Woodall of Texas City was selected for the 180-yard low hurdles and the broad jump.

The only sophomores selected were George Aldredge, a sprinter from Dallas Highland Park, and Barry Noble, a high jumper from Dallas Hillcrest (47.7); Jourdanon.

Matson set new state records this year of 66 feet-10 1/2 inches for the shot and 192 feet-3 inches for the discus. He had a throw of 199 feet, 4 inches in the discus in the regional finals at Odessa but the height of the ring prevented him from claiming a new schoolboy national record.

The 1963 team: — 100-yard dash — Don Parkhurst, Baytown (9.5w); James White, Dallas Sunset (9.6); George Aldredge, Dallas Highland Park (soph) (9.4w).

220-yard dash — James White, Dallas Sunset (20.7); Riley Dunn, Coleman (21.0); Doug Cockerham, Red Oak (21.0).

Unsanitary Man Makes Herring Gull Problem

SOUTH LINCOLN, Mass. — Man's own unsanitary habits have been responsible for an increase in herring gulls that has created hazards at some airports and nuisance concentrations of the birds at other places. This fact, long suspected by naturalists, has now been documented by Dr. William H. Drury, biologist and director of research for the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

A parallel can be drawn, according to Audubon authorities, in the Norway rat problem experienced in many cities. This animal also thrives when and where man feeds it well by being untidy.

Dr. Drury and assistants have completed the second year of a study to determine where the herring gulls were coming from that have, from time to time, plagued pilots at Boston's Logan International Airport. It has now been shown that the troublesome gulls are mostly local birds, whose numbers have vastly increased because they find abundant food to their liking in outfalls of raw sewage and in open garbage dumps in and near Boston harbor.

The herring gull, only one of several species of gulls in North America, is a scavenging feeder.

The study has been financed by a grant from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

The Drury team trapped, colored marked and banded 1,945 gulls in seven nesting locations in 1961, and 2,855 at four locations in 1962. The birds were dipped in harmless dyes that stained their feathers, red, green, or another color, and released. Salem Harbor gulls were stained red, for example; those trapped in Boston Harbor, yellow-orange. Bird-watchers from Maine to Delaware were alerted and their sightings of colored gulls provided data to measure how far and in what numbers the birds move about.

"Our results again show that gulls concentrate at abundant food sources: dumps, fish piers, along beaches, at sewer outlets, and at pig farms — in that order of importance," Dr. Drury reported.

"The Cape Ann gulls seldom work beyond Ipswich Beach or the Magnolia dump; Salem Harbor gulls concentrate in the Danvers River drainage and the Saugus-Lynn area and move into the lower Mystic River, as well as visiting Gloucester regularly. The Boston gulls fan out from Saugus to the Roxbury dump of the Hull dump and occupy the southern and western part of their area most heavily. The Narragansett Bay gulls concentrate at the Navy, Newport, and Middletown dumps. They meet Boston gulls at the Start Farm piggery in Taunton, but come no further. The populations show very little overlap — much less than we would have expected."

If anyone doubts that man's filth is responsible for the increase in herring gulls and attracts them to places where they may be a hazard, Dr. Drury said, he should consider the following:

"Winter censuses early in 1962 totaled 110,000 gulls from New York to St. John, New Brunswick. Of these, 80,000 were in large cities and 20,000 in fishing towns. Only 10,000 gulls were making an honest living gleaning from the beach between tides.

"In 1962 when the fishermen at Gloucester, as is their tradition stopped work for two weeks at Christmas, the gull population there dropped from more than 4,000 birds to fewer than 600. When housewives struck against the dump at South Boston in the spring of 1962, the gulls there went from 3,500 to 65."

The solution? Stop polluting harbors and beaches with untreated sewage and stop disposing of garbage, fish offal and food-plant waste in open dumps or harbor waters. This kind of clean-up will come about only through public understanding and citizen action, according to Audubon leaders. When it does, there will be many public benefits. Only one of them will be a return of the herring gull to normal numbers and in the words of Dr. Drury, "this resourceful species, so full of character, will once again become an admired part of the coastal scene."

Miss Powell Becomes Bride Of William Shaw

Wedding vows of Miss Joyce Ann Powell and William Shaw were read in a double-ring, candle-light ceremony performed on May 25 at 4:30 o'clock in the Immanuel Temple with the Rev. Bill Sparks of Perryton officiating.

Miss Powell is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Powell of Skellytown. Mr. Shaw's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lonzo Shaw, 641 N. Christy.

Vows were repeated beneath an archway entwined with white gladioli and Lemon Leaves, centered with a cluster of wedding bells flanked by palm trees and candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal.

She wore a gown handmade by the mother and the bride designed in dull lustre satin with a bodice and skirt panel overlay of embroidered chiffon. Each embroidered flower was centered with tiny simulated seed pearls. The neckline was scalloped and the long tapering sleeves extended to bridal points over the hands. Back interest was formed by soft gathered fullness extending into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of Illusion Tulle was edged deep with scalloped Chantilly lace and was held by a Rhinestone tiara.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Ann Daniels and Miss Joyce Cook of Copeland, Kan. wore pink-orchid satin dresses designed with boat necklines and full skirts. Each carried a satin-covered heart sprinkled with colored rhinestones and pearls.

Jerry Harrington served as best man with Gary Craves as groomsman. Donnie Powell, bride's brother and Jackie Shaw, bridegroom's brother, seated the wedding guests.

Mike Shaw was ring-bearer. Darlene Shaw, as flower girl, wore a full skirted, ruffled dress of Primrose Yellow.

Candles were lighted by Miss Dianne Small of Wichita, Kan., cousin of the bride and Miss Iris Leflet of Pampa, friend of the bride. They wore Ice Blue satin street-length dresses with rounded necklines and pleated skirts.

Mrs. Twanna Hyde was guest registrar.

Mrs. Yvonda Stokes played the traditional wedding music and served as accompanist for Miss Judy Pemberton as she sang "Always" and "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt for the benediction.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Powell chose a yellow embroidered dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Shaw, wore a blue floral chiffon dress with white accessories.

Their corsages were fashioned from white carnations.

RECEPTION
Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the banquet room of the Black Gold Motel. The bride's table was appointed with a lace cloth over pink. Mrs. Rex Britton, bridegroom's sister and Mrs. Raymond McKinney presided at the cake and punch service. Miss Barbara Holt was guest registrar.

The bride was graduated from White Deer High School in 1962 and the bridegroom will graduate from Pampa High School this Spring. They will make their home at 1104 S. Christy.

For a wedding trip, the bride traveled in a peach cotton embroidered eyelet dress complemented with a white carnation corsage.

Chapel Services By Candlelight Unite Miss Mary Jean McKinney, Bill Brown

Miss Mary Jean McKinney became the bride of Bill Byron Brown with double-ring wedding vows solemnized on May 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, pastor, officiating.

Miss McKinney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McKinney of Skellytown. Mr. Brown's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Brown, northwest of the city.

An arrangement of gladioli flanked by candelabra formed the wedding scene.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white eyelet embroidered suit complemented with a white pillbox hat stitched with tiny embroidered flowers and encircled with a brow veil. She wore a corsage of white orchids.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Marjorie Adams, as maid of honor, wore a pink embroidered dress designed with a Sweetheart neckline and a corsage of white gardenias.

Gene Green served the bridegroom as best man. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McKinney wore a beige two-piece knit dress with tan accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Brown, bridegroom's mother, wore a grey two-piece jersey print with white accessories and a yellow-rose corsage.

Coffee Break.... ...with d. e. w.

Roger Long is a world-traveled Pampan, who, some years ago, decided that he wanted to paint more than anything else in the world . . . and so, that is what he does . . . warm and colorful things with touches of humor and whimsy now and then.

Just how he has lived up to his ambition to become a fine artist may be seen when The Tuesday Craftsmen, a group of local artists, present his works in a One Man Exhibit at a tea in Lovett Memorial Library today.

The tea hours, with the public invited, are between two and five o'clock, but the exhibit will extend throughout the week and may be viewed at any time during the library's open hours.

Chatting over glasses of tea we found this artist to be reticent to talk about himself or his own works, but most lucid on the subject of other painters, teachers and their works.

During his travels, he has picked up and absorbed many influences and directions, but his work always remains absolutely creative and highly individual.

He has the courage and talent to express himself and he is, like all true artists, acutely aware of the nuances of contemporary life. He conveys this awareness with extreme diversity in medium and style and in many moods.

In his collection, there are large serious canvases in strong, pure colors of abstract shapes; small canvases in more subtle colors of themes more related to the world of reality. Sometimes his context is whimsical; sometimes playful and gay and sometimes, it is pure satire but whatever he is, he is always diverting.

Like Louise Nevelson, the famous New York sculptor, who gathers scrap pieces of wood from old furniture and even from old houses to make big painted sculptures, Roger has been about Pampa gathering scrapwood for some most interesting pieces of his own.

Unlike Nevelson, who generally works in the flat dimension and paints them in flat color, Roger does his in the round and breaks surfaces into areas of bright painted shapes. These create beautiful space relations and make for a complete new concept in Art.

He also has water colors, drawings, monoprints, etchings. In fact, there will be something at the Sunday show for everyone who is art-minded.

Roger can't remember when the urge started to transfer art forms from mental image to canvas reality for it has always been there; "even back in early childhood," according to his mother, Mrs. A. C. Long, 114 North West.

But during high school days here, it became clear that there was no "other" road for Roger. During the time no formal art classes were offered in high school he was encouraged by several interested teachers to pursue his art career.

Mrs. Lillian Snow, librarian, invited Roger and a group of his friends to paint in the library, located then in City Hall.

While still in high school, he was sponsored for three One Man Shows; a rare honor, indeed, for a high school student. He was sponsored by the Tri-City Art Club in Borger; at West Texas State College by Isabel Robinson, an art instructor and by the art department of Texas Women's University.

Exhibiting led to an unusual offer, which came about when Mrs. Mabel Torvie, a high school teacher, invited Roger to bring some of his paintings to class one day. It happened that a Dr. Moore, a psychology professor at TWU, was lecturing in assembly that day. After viewing the young lad's work, Dr. Moore asked Roger to come to Denton and show his work to Toni LaSelle, art professor and longtime student of Hans Hofmann, internationally famous Austrian artist-teacher.

It was through Professor LaSelle that the Pampa artist met Otis Dozier of the Dallas Museum and was invited to exhibit there. It was also through Professor LaSelle that Roger gained the attention of Hans Hofmann and was given a scholarship to study at Hofmann's School of Fine Arts in Provincetown, Mass.

The Korean Conflict interrupted Roger's studies at the school. But during service with the Navy in 1951-55, he kept at his art study in extra time and always visited galleries at "ports o' call." He brushed up on his study of languages and became especially conversant in French.

Following service in the Navy, he worked for two years in New York City's Public Library. In free hours, he had the world of art for inspiration and an entree to painting circles where he could see the world-wide influence of Abstract Expressionists and to maintain contact with the Hofmann School.

"This is the first generation of American painters, whose works are being sought by collectors throughout the world," Mr. Long said, quite enthusiastically.

He described the "Co-Op Galleries" in New York City set up in empty stores and tended by artists' wives, while their husbands are engaged in more immediate remunerative labors.

Following his sojourn in New York, Roger began academic studies in Mexico City College, where he specialized in the study of the Spanish language and continued art study in the studio of Lola Cueto.

After three and half years of academics, the lure to see more of the European World of art, which had been denied during Navy days, impelled Roger to catch a Greek Freighter for Athens and Crete to see the art of great and ancient classical periods. He prolonged a visit in Turkey, where he taught English at the Turkish American Association in Ankara; then on to Spain, where he studied Romanesque painting at Barcelona and at the Prado Museum in Madrid.

The One Man Exhibit of Roger Long's paintings will be the first held in Pampa, though art groups have long tried to persuade him to have one.

Dedication to his work can be summed up in a remark Mrs. Hans Hofmann, wife of the Austrian artist, made to Roger one day. "Find out what you want to do. . . then do it." Roger is.

THE PARTY CIRCUIT has been in "on" position all Spring and from what we hear it will not be switched off until Pampan settle down to vacations. Curt and Wil Beck are now officially "at home" in their beautiful one at 1940 Fir after a group of friends, headed by Lydia and John Horn, Kay and Babs Fancher, officially "warmed the house" for them last weekend. It's always such fun to attend parties at Ann Heskew's home on North Somerville . . . where hospitality and good food always abound . . . and where, too, you can feast your eyes on pretty art objects Ann has made during Pampa Art Club sessions . . . the club held its annual Spring Luncheon there this week . . . and each member brought her favorite salad, these gals seem to excel in the kitchen as well as in workshop sessions . . . never have we tasted such delicious concoctions since the Art Club Salad Luncheon we attended last Spring. The last we heard the Sophomore Class was planning an "End of School Dance" on Friday evening in the Pampa Country Club. Just how large a back-lawn and patio do you need to entertain all the freshmen girls from Pampa Junior High School and Robert E. Lee Junior High? We'll know this time next week, after the Kit Kat Klub's Koke Party at Kim's (Wilson, that is) on Tuesday afternoon.

WE WERE IMPRESSED by a scene on the Pampa High School Campus one afternoon this week. Passing by, we noted all the Key Club members, wearing dark suits and ties, and holding American and Texas Flags, were lined up in an interesting fashion for a picture which will appear in next year's "Harvester Yearbook". There were approximately 60 Key Clubbers in the group, Melvin Munn told us later. Quite a breath taking, patriotic sight . . . Flag Day is June 14. Okay, summer-time kiddoes, the line forms to the right out at the Pampa Youth and Community Center to enroll for courses in Twirling and Bridge. Hazel Nation has agreed to undertake the instruction for Bridge . . . especially for teenagers. The two Donnas, Rath and Conner, Pampa High School twirlers, will teach any and all teenagers the art of twirling. Better hurry, if interested, because of necessity, the classes can't be too large. See you around, d.e.w.

PLANS JUNE WEDDING

Miss Snow Drop Dunn

Miss Snow Drop Dunn's engagement to Lt. William Perry Gaut is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn of Floydada. Miss Dunn is a graduate of Floydada High School and Baylor University. She is a speech and hearing therapist at the Spartanburg Speech and Hearing Clinic in Spartanburg, S. C. Lt. Gaut is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry O. Gaut, 807 N. West. He was graduated from Pampa High School and received a psychology degree from Baylor University. He is currently personnel officer at Langley Air Force Base in Hampton, Va. The wedding is planned for June 29 in the First Baptist Church in Floydada.

Miss Judy Wells Feted With Party

CANADIAN (Sp) — Miss Judy Wells of Pampa, bride-elect of Kenny Abraham, was guest of honor at a coffee recently in the home of Mrs. Jack King with Mrs. Guber Lee Mitchell as co-hostess.

Guests were received by Mrs. Tom Abraham, Miss Wells and her mother, Mrs. W. W. Wells of Pampa. The honoree wore a corsage of white daisies with miniature blue butterflies. Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Abraham, the hostesses and other members of the houseparty wore daisy nosegay corsages.

Guests registered in the bride's book at a table which held a large white candle with a cluster of blue grapes.

The serving table was laid with a natural linen cloth bordered with blue grape clusters. The off-center table decoration of a white potted caryanthemum had clusters of grapes about the base.

Presiding at the coffee service during the morning were Mrs. E. H. Morris and Mrs. Malouf Abraham.

Garden flowers were arranged about the entertaining rooms. Approximately a hundred guests called during the morning.

Nebraska sometimes is called the "Tree-Planters' State" because the first Arbor Day in the U.S. was celebrated there.

SUGGEST LICENSE

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — The state Fish and Game Department said an unidentified man who takes his retriever, Chico, fishing has reported that the dog frequently stands at full point when it spots a trout lazily in a brook. He wanted to know if this was legal.

The department said it wasn't illegal but suggested the dog should have a fishing license.

LEFORS—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carruth of Lefors announces the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen Dianne, to Larry William Ables, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Ables of Pampa. The wedding is planned for June 14 in the Lefors Church of Christ.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The reception table was laid with a white damask cloth. Silver and crystal serving appointments were used.

The white wedding cake was placed on a round mirror. The bridesmaids' bouquets formed the centerpiece flanked with red tapers in crystal candelabra. Red and white decorations were used on the piano and gift table.

For her wedding trip to eastern Oklahoma, the bride wore a white brocade shirtwaist dress with pink accessories. After May 19 the couple will be at home in Canadian where Mr. Morgan is employed by Hilyard Drilling Company.

Mrs. Edens is a graduate of Guymon High School and is a trained hairdresser. Mr. Edens is a graduate of Madill (Oklahoma) High School.

Formal Afternoon Rites Unites Eden-Morgan

CANADIAN (Spl)—In a formal wedding ceremony held Saturday afternoon at five o'clock in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church, Miss Barbara Nell Edens became the bride of Max Barton Morgan.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tonie Edens of Guymon, Okla. Mr. Morgan is the son of Mrs. Dezzie Morgan of Madill, Okla.

The double-ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Lee Crouch as the couple stood before an arch of greenery accented with red tapered candelabra. Baskets of white gladioli and red carnations completed the decorations.

Before the ceremony Mrs. J. R. Glenn sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer" accompanied by the organist, Mrs. W. A. Kessie Jr. who also played traditional wedding music.

BRIDE

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace over white satin which featured seed pearls and crystal sequins on the bodice. The long sleeves tapered to points at the wrist. The skirt front was of lace extending to a bustle effect in the back. Her elbow-length veil fell from a crown of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Janna Morgan of Rusk and Amanda Edens, nieces of the bride and bridegroom were flower girls and Toni Lynn Edens, a niece of the bride was ring bearer.

Mrs. A. D. Edens, sister-in-law of the bride attended her as matron of honor. Mrs. Jim Stout of Tuttle, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Kay Lynn Sessions were her other attendants. They were attired in white satin brocade sheath dresses with white silk organza overskirts complimented with red satin shoes, red rosette headpieces and 16-button white gloves. They carried red carnation-rosesays.

The flower girls and ringbearer wore red silk organza dresses with white accessories.

Dale Morgan of Rusk, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsman were William N. Ford and Gary Drown of Lindsey Okla. Serving as ushers were Max J. and Cleo McDaniel.

The bride's mother wore pink with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother chose blue with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white roses.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Can a person who has no "rhythm" ever learn to dance? I am a 44-year-old bachelor. I've always been on the bashful side and was told that a course in ballroom dancing (including the fox trot, waltz, rumba and cha cha) would help me socially. Well, since 1956 I have spent $4500 on dancing lessons and I still haven't met anybody. Furthermore, I can't dance any better now than I did before I took the lessons. I am not complaining, because nobody forced me to sign up, but I want to know this: Can a person who doesn't have a natural sense of rhythm be taught to dance?

NO RHYTHM DEAR NO RHYTHM: No, no—a thousand times no! This is not to say that those who have no sense of rhythm cannot enjoy dancing as much as those who have. (Only the partner suffers!) But attempting to "teach" a person who has no "rhythm" to dance is like trying to teach a person who can't carry a tune to sing.

DEAR ABBY: I was engaged briefly while I was in the service, but the girl returned the ring. I am going to get engaged again. Would it be okay to use the same ring? Some people tell me that a girl doesn't want a ring some other girl has worn, but the one I'm marrying says she doesn't care. Do you think it's okay?

LAWRENCE DEAR LAWRENCE: Even if your girl says she doesn't care, be a sport and have the stone set in a brand new mounting. Why have any of the "old" memories cropping up?

DEAR ABBY: Even more important than whether Jesus Christ drank wine or grape juice is the fact that there are so many self-proclaimed Christians in the world whose minds never rise above their neighbors' garbage cans. RALPH

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WORKING GIRL": When a single girl accepts a dinner date from her married employer, she should expect the following menu:

Cocktails: A few martinis—just to "relax" us. Appetizer: "My wife doesn't understand me." Fish Course: (Very fishy) "I haven't had any real affection in years."

Entree: Baloney and... "I'd have left my wife years ago—if it weren't for the children." Salad: Grass (other side of the fence variety) and... "YOU understand me perfectly. If I were a free man I'd marry you tomorrow."

Dessert: Sweet talk and... "It's so noisy in this place. Let's get out of here and go to my place where we can talk."

Children And Poisons Don't Mix

Curiosity is both a blessing and a danger to young children. A blessing because it is a search for knowledge, but a danger because it can sometimes lead to an accidental poisoning. When you have very young children a special effort must be made to keep anything that might be harmful safely out of reach.

When children are old enough to understand they should be strongly cautioned about harmful substances. Should an accidental poisoning occur, or if you should even suspect one, summon your physician at once. If an emergency, call us and we will help you locate a physician quickly.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

How annoying, those people who always say—
When looking at a group picture, it's terrible of me.
When shamelessly bragging, "I don't want to brag, but..."
When confronted with someone else's problem, "Just don't worry, everything will turn out all right."
When telling something they shouldn't be telling, "I wouldn't tell this to anyone but you."
When interrupting a busy person, "I hope I'm not interrupting."
When describing a person who is arrogantly careless about his dress and social niceties if he also happens to have wealth, "He's as plain as an old shoe."
When writing stacks of picture postcards while on a trip to "get away from it all" — "Wish you were here."
When going all-out to have a really big party, "We're having a FEW friends..."
When getting one had break, "That's just my luck."
When seeing someone for the first time in years, "You haven't changed a bit" — even when the changes are startling.
When they are excited over having seen a celebrity in person, "You know, I ordinarily wouldn't walk across the street to see a celebrity."

MR. L. A. "DUDE" MCKNIGHT
The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: For Thou art with me. Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou art my strength and my portion, O Lord. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever. — 23rd Psalm
