TEMPTED — In the spring a young lad's fancy turns to wading in a stream. Stephen E. Austin students reporting for school this morning were tempted in such a manner by the early morning rain, which filled Aspen Park Creek to a flowing stream. Whether to wade or report for classes was the choice of the first grade students, pictured left to right, Phil Gage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Gage, 2241 Mary Ellen; Bob Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Campbell, 2120 N. Petitions Planned to Ask for Referendum On CRMWA Project

Petitions to have Pampa voters decide whether they want the city to stay in or withdraw from the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority will be in circulation within the next week. City Commissioner L. P. Fort announced following today's city commission meeting.

The petitions, Fort said, will ask the city commission to include the issue in the July 9 election that has been called to amend the city charter to change the method of voting on ward commissioners and selecting a mayor pro tem.

That ordinance was passed 3 to 2, on final reading at today's commission session. Commissioners Fort and Leon Holmes opposed the legislation. Mayor H. R. Thompson and Commissioners Jim Nation and Mac Field McDaniel voted for it.

Commissioner Fort said the petitions to be circulated will ask that the voters be permitted to decide at the July 9 election whether they wish to withdraw from the Canadian River Water Authority and also suspend construction of the aqueduct from the Sanford Dam to Pampa.

Commissioner Leon Holmes indicated in a statement during the commission meeting that there also is the possibility of a contest on the proposed charter election to change the method of electing ward commissioners. Commissioners now are elected by individual wards. The proposal at the July 9 election is to have commissioners for all wards elected at large.

Commissioner Fort had asked at today's commission meeting that the council authorize the city attorney to prepare the format of a petition to be circulated on the Canadian River Authority proposal. (See PETITIONS, Page 3)

Lion Chews Man to Death

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (UPI)—An attendant at the Ross Park zoo here was mauled and chewed to death early today by a lion while cleaning the animal's cage.

Attendants said Guy Carey, 45, father of three, apparently died sometime between midnight and 5 a.m.

Authorities said Carey's body was found in the cage which housed the lion. Timba, Timba had been an attraction at the zoo for the past 10 years. He was destroyed by police.

Carey's body was discovered by a second zoo attendant who had come on duty early this morning.

Parks Supt. Michael Bednar said Carey apparently was cleaning the cage when the animal attacked him. He said Timba had been the cause of recent trouble in the past, having broken out of his cage several times and roamed around the park.

U.S. Policy Still Vague About Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UPI) — United States policy toward Haiti remained undefined today despite an end to six days of "silent treatment" of President Francois Duvalier's government by the U. S. embassy.

U. S. officials Monday made their first contact with the Haitian government since early last week to lodge an informal protest against a march of 300 peasants across U. S. embassy grounds.

Quebec Declares 'War' Against FLQ Terrorists

MONTREAL (UPI) — The Quebec government, convinced that anti-confederation terrorists are responsible for the recent wave of bombings here, took the lead today in an all-out war against the Quebec Liberation Front.

Premier Jean Lesage was to meet this morning with heads of federal, provincial, local and military police to map strategy for the campaign against the separatists. The premier announced he had summoned top police officials to a special security meeting and told newsmen the government had offered a $50,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of anyone responsible for any act of terrorism in Quebec since April 1.

City Offers Reward
The government bounty on the Front Liberation Quebecois (FLQ) raises the price on their heads to $60,000. The city of Montreal offered a $10,000 reward following the death several weeks ago of night watchman Wilfred O'Neil.

O'Neil died when a bomb, which the FLQ admits it planted, exploded as he attempted to get it clear of an army recruiting center he was guarding.

The terrorists Monday limited their activities to one explosion at a militia engineers' armory. But they warned that more would come.

In Quebec City postal employees found 18 sticks of unfused dynamite in mail boxes on their morning pickup. Police in the provincial capital interpreted it as a threat.

Seek Independent Nation
The FLQ has called for the province of Quebec to break away from Canada and become an independent, French-speaking nation.

In Ottawa, where foreign ministers from the North Atlantic Treaty countries are gathering for the spring NATO ministerial conference Wednesday, precautions were taken to protect delegates from threatened violence.

The FLQ had warned Ottawa hotels they would be bombed if they admitted NATO delegates. NATO officials deny they are taking extra security steps, but Defense Minister Paul Martin said that "every precaution" would be taken to protect delegates.

Space Spokesman May Resign Post

HOUSTON (UPI) — Col. John A. (Shorty) Powers, reported to be on the way out of the Project Mercury team, is expected to arrive in Houston today instead of going to Washington with space hero L. Gordon Cooper.

Powers would not confirm or deny a story in a Houston newspaper (The Chronicle) Monday that he intends to resign. He said he might make an announcement by Friday.

Powers said from Cape Canaveral Monday that he does not intend to go to Washington or to take part in any of the festivities arranged for Cooper. Instead, he said, he will arrive in Houston sometime this evening.

The newspaper story from Cape Canaveral quoted high officials as saying that Powers intends to announce his resignation soon.

In Houston, officials at the Manned Spacecraft Center were not surprised when asked about the report. One spokesman said he had heard the rumors, but nothing official.

Powers, an Air Force officer, has been on the Project Mercury assignment for about four years. A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the normal tour of duty is three years. Powers will be eligible for retirement in 1964.

7 Reported Dead In Short-Lived Revolt

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — Forces loyal to President Cemal Gursel today crushed a military revolt in Turkey's two main cities which left at least seven dead and 28 wounded.

Gursel told the nation that the seven-hour revolt "by a few adventurers" was defeated early this morning. It was a noon before government troops rounded up the last of the rebels, including their leader, former Col. Talat Aydemir.

The government later declared martial law in Istanbul, Ankara and Izmir for a period of one month.

Gursel, staunchly pro-Western leader whose nation borders Russia and is a member of both the NATO and CENTO military alliances, used his armor, infantry and air force to defeat Aydemir after the rebels seized control of Ankara's radio station shortly after midnight and used it to broadcast anti-government statements.

At the same time, regular troops easily repulsed an attempt by about 100 retired officers who donned their uniforms and tried to seize Istanbul's radio station. Military cadets who rallied to Aydemir's side sought refuge in a school.

Common Market, U.S. Compromise In Tariff Talks

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and the Common Market countries reached a compromise in tariff talks today, pulling the GATT ministerial conference back from the brink of failure.

The Common Market accepted the American principle that tariffs must be cut "across the board" or evenly on all products, informed sources said.

In turn, the Americans agreed that distortion of trade caused by high tariffs which still remain after cuts may be examined.

Final details of the compromise still were being worked out. But a resolution embodying the two views was expected to be voted in a plenary session of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade conference later in the day.

An American spokesman said, "We are more optimistic than at any time since the negotiations began."

As the Europeans met for what promised to be their final discussion, spokesman Maurice Brasseur, the Belgian foreign trade minister, said "we have almost reached agreement."

Pampa Dampened

More - than-welcome rains doused Pampa early this morning, and showers were forecast here through tonight.

The News rain gauge had recorded .48-inch by noon today. On E. Denver street, .81-inch of rain fell in a period of about 45 minutes.

Creeks in town, dry for months, were filled with rushing water, creating quite a sight for youngsters on their way to school this morning. And at many street intersections, the water was running fender-deep on work-bound automobiles.

Chamber Members Told

Industry Will Come With Proper Business Climate

Creation of a proper business and moral climate and good sound government is what it takes to make people and industry want to come to a city, Dr. Joe Donaldson, chamber of commerce president, told some 350 persons at a barbecue dinner last night in the Pam-Tex Corp. plant on the Borger Hwy.

The dinner was held to welcome new members of the chamber who joined in the recent membership campaign.

Donaldson said industry does not come to a city because of a subsidy or a gift.

"If the city has the proper business climate and the people are working together for the betterment of the community, industry will be interested in locating in that city," he said.

"Your chamber of commerce is a voluntary organization dedicated to creating that kind of a climate in Pampa."

The chamber president invited the new as well as the old members of the organization to offer their suggestions to chamber directors and officials.

"We welcome any ideas or suggestions that can be worked out for the betterment of Pampa," he said.

Ed Myatt, a member of the board of directors of Pam-Tex Corp., one of Pampa's newest industries, spoke briefly and welcomed the group. Myatt said that the building in which last night's affair was held had just been completed and that it was the plan of

Appropriations Bill Given to State Legislature

AUSTIN (UPI) — A record $3.14 billion state appropriations bill was distributed to members of the 58th Legislature today. The spending proposal put heavy emphasis on higher education and upgraded salaries for state employees and prison guards.

State spending from the general revenue fund was pegged at $475.4 million, up more than $80 million from the current general revenue budget.

While lawmakers mulled over the bulky spending proposal, supporters of the voter registration system proposal to replace the poll tax planned to push today for House and Senate acceptance of a conference committee report.

The conference committee's appropriations bill represents a $324 million increase in state spending over the current biennium ending Aug. 31. Total spending for the next two years was pegged at $1,142,582,833, compared with the present budget of $2,818,739,048.

Education Spending Jumps
Public education accounted for the biggest increase. State aid to public schools was up $105.7 million. (See LEGISLATURE, Page 3)

Sukarno Accepts Life Appointment; Endorsed by Reds

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — President Sukarno formally accepted a life appointment as Indonesia's chief of state Monday and immediately received endorsement by the Communist party leadership.

Communist party chairman D. N. Aidit said the appointment, by the 600-member People's Consultative Congress, will help Sukarno fight his enemies at home and abroad.

Farmers Voting Today on Possible Turning Point

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's wheat farmers vote today in a referendum that could signal a turning point in the concept of federal aid to all farm programs.

The immediate issue was whether the 1964 wheat crop would be grown under President Kennedy's program of strict production and marketing controls and high price supports, or with no marketing curbs and low supports.

But the outcome could be a crucial test for Kennedy's supply management plan for agriculture, which the American Farm Bureau Federation has denounced as an attempt to regulate "the future way of life" of U.S. farmers.

Interest among wheat farmers was at fever pitch in some areas following a heated campaign on the issue and a record turnout of ballots for a farm referendum was expected.

Two-Thirds Must Approve
Two-thirds of the farmers voting must approve the administration's plan before it can be put into effect.

An estimated 1.5 million to 2 million wheat farmers were eligible to vote, and the turnout appeared certain to exceed the 247,508 who balloted in a different type of wheat referendum last year.

Balloting was to take place at polling places set up by county committees of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), usually in public buildings. Polling places will be established in each county where there is a wheat acreage allotment.

Hawaii is the only state without a wheat allotment.

The county committees, composed of farmers, will count the ballots and telephone the results to state ASCS headquarters. They then will be relayed to the Agriculture Department, where returns will be announced tonight.

Neither Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman nor Farm Bureau President Charles B. Shuman would predict the outcome, although a spokesman said "we're confident farmers will reject the supply management concept."

M. W. Thatcher, chairman of the National Wheat Committee composed of farm groups supporting the administration plan, said he believed farmers would approve the proposal because "all farmers, big and small, understand pocket-book economics."

Freeman contended the issue was purely economic — "24 wheat or $1 wheat — it's as simple as that."

Referendum in Texas
AMARILLO (UPI) — Eighteen thousand wheat farmers in Texas' Panhandle were among the nation's 1.8 million wheat growers eligible to vote today in a referendum on President Kennedy's new 1964 wheat control plan.

If the president's proposed controls are approved, Kennedy has promised 1964 wheat will sell at $2 a bushel and that wheat surpluses will be cut.

He said if the plan is defeated, it will mean prices will drop to $1.10 a bushel and surpluses will climb.

Top Money Crop
Wheat, the No. 1 cash crop of the nation, is one of the top three in Texas. The crop grossed $89 million on some 51 million acres in the state in 1962.

About 75 per cent of Texas' wheat farmers, who have allotments of 15 acres of wheat or less, were qualified to vote. Some 27,100 of Texas' 36,100 farmers have 15 acres or less allotments.

Lack of rain last winter and this spring has cut production this year to about 7 per cent below last year. An estimated 90 to 95 per cent of all dryland wheat in the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle has been plowed under.

The Texas Farm Bureau is against the plan. Most of the Farmers Union, the National Grange and the National Farmers' Organization are in favor of it.

D. M. Womble of Morse, Tex., Amarillo area director of the Texas Farm Bureau said the program "is contrary to the basic economic laws."

"To increase income by reducing production is the same as traveling in two directions at the same time," he said. "It is impossible to restrict acres, raise prices and balance supply with demand at the same time."

R. C. Sampson Jr. of Bushland, president of the Potter County Farm Bureau, said "I had much rather have government control with a stable price." Sampson said "That to be controlled by lower price on our commodities, prices that will eliminate many of the farmers, causing unemployment in the cities, which will have to be solved by city people."

THEY CAME AND GOT IT — Shown here are a few of the 365 persons who ate high on the hog and beef last night at the Chamber of Commerce barbecue dinner in the new Pam-Tex Corp. plant on the Borger Highway. The dinner meeting was called to acquaint new members with the aims and purposes of the chamber in its Pampa operations. The beef and pork barbecue main courses were donated by members of the prize winning teams in the chamber's recent membership drive. (Daily News Photo)

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

The modern Republican magazine that rates the GOP leaders of the House and Senate as a pair of clowns and Sen. Barry Goldwater R-Ariz., as a bungler, is seeking funds from the party faithful at a $100-a-plate dinner.

The magazine is "Advance," founded a couple of years ago by a group of young Harvard men and published occasionally from Washington D. C. The dinner is to take place May 27 at the Hotel Pierre, New York City. Sen. Thomas Kuchel R-Calif., and Rep. John Lindsay R-N. Y., are listed as speakers. The presence is promised of other distinguished congressional Republicans and party officials.

It is reasonable to believe that Sen. Everett Dirksen and Rep. Charles A. Halleck, Republican leaders, respectively of the Senate and the House will not be present. "Advance" dealt with them and with Goldwater in the March 1962 edition shortly before former President Dwight D. Eisenhower started party regulars with an all-out endorsement of the magazine. He professed to have read it before uttering his endorsement but there are doubts about that.

Opening a June 30, 1962, Republican gathering at his Gettysburg farm, Eisenhower endorsed "Advance" and urged all present to subscribe. Those present reported that Halleck required restraint by calmer counsel when he endorsed the magazine. The March edition contained a free-swinging attack on Halleck, Dirksen and Goldwater. Halleck had read it if, by chance, the general had not. The March issue was devoted to "Republicans on Capitol Hill."

The magazine described the Republican congressional leadership as reluctant, lazy or hostile in matters of responsibility to the well being of the nation and of the Republican Party. It attributed to several of Halleck's Republican colleagues the statement that: Halleck hasn't read a serious book in 10 years and is suspicious of those who have.

"Republicans of all views," the magazine related, "feel they are being less led (by Halleck) than pressed over; that the only attempt at hammering anything out comes not in policy but in the strategy of obstruction."

The young editors of "Advance" found Goldwater to have been a bumbling chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee. They called him disqualified for that chairmanship, adding that "Goldwater's liabilities in his campaign committee position seem to us overwhelming."

Dirksen and Halleck at that time were regular Republican television spokesmen on what came to be known—and to be ridiculed—as the "Ev and Charley Show." "Advance" rated the show as little more than comic relief and as evidence of Republican intellectual poverty.

"Advance" continues to potshot Halleck, Dirksen and Goldwater. There continues to be suspicion that "Advance" is promoting Michigan's Gov. George Romney for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination and with the connivance of Gen. Eisenhower. Advancemen stoutly deny this.

On balance, however, "Ad-

Carver High Plans Graduation Rites Friday Evening

James F. Mathis has been named the valedictorian of Carver High School of Pampa, and R. L. Harris was named salutatorian.

Commencement exercises will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in the Carver auditorium. The Commencement address will be delivered by Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pampa.

The presentation of the graduating class will be by Carver Principal J. C. Randall.

The Baccalaureate Services were held Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Carver High School Auditorium. The Baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. E. Felton Nelson, pastor of the Macedonia Baptist Church of Pampa.

The 1963 class has three graduating members, Mathis, Harris and Donald Dunn.

"Advance" must be rated as a representative of modern or Eisenhower or liberal Republicanism, as opposed to the party conservatives and, especially, to the nomination of Goldwater. But "Advance" is no ostrich. It looks the facts in the face and concedes that Goldwater has a considerable following in the Republican Party.

Mishap Summary Is Compiled by Pampa Police

The summary of the number of automobile accidents compiled for the month of May by the Pampa Police Department shows 32 accidents, 13 injuries and no fatalities, as compared with May of last year, which saw 36 accidents and 12 injuries.

This year's five-month total is higher than that of last year, reported police chief Jim Conner. To date, Pampa has 157 accidents and 59 injuries, compared to 147 and 49 in 1962. However, there have been no fatalities so far this year, compared with one last year at this date.

Total property damage thus far has been an estimated $6,347.50. There has been one pedestrian injury. Involved in accidents have been 34 males and 25 females.

Proving that the luncheon and dinner hours are the most heavily travelled times, five accidents occurred between 5-6 p.m., four between 4-5 p.m., and three each in the hours of 11-12 noon, 12-1 p.m. and 1-2 p.m.

Twenty-nine traffic violations were causes of some of the accidents, with seven violations being failure to yield right of way, six following too closely and five speeding.

One Injured in 2-Car Mishap

Police reported minor injuries suffered in a two-car collision at Clark and Crawford Sts. at 4:33 p.m. yesterday.

Involved in the accident were Wilma Jean Tyler, 19, of 1200 S. Christy, treated at Highland Hospital for a slight cut on the right knee and a swollen and scratched left knee; and Royal E. Myers, 49, Rt. 2.

Damage was estimated at $200 to the Tyler car and $300 to Myers' vehicle.

Myers was ticketed for failure to yield right of way.

Petitions

al. He made a motion to that effect and it died for want of a second.

Commissioner Jim Nation said he felt it would be an unusual procedure and that persons wishing to circulate the petitions should initiate their own petitions.

Fort later said he could see the point of the other commissioners and that the petitions would be initiated without commission assistance.

Fort said he thought many Pampa voters had changed their minds about the Canadian River Water project since they learned what it would cost them.

"At least a referendum on the issue would give them a chance to express their feelings about it now that they understand it," Fort said. "And I see no reason why it shouldn't be included in the July 9 election."

Approximately 350 signatures would be needed on a petition to have the issue placed on the ballot. This would be ten per cent of the votes cast in the last city election.

In other business today the commission awarded bids for the purchase of three police cars to the Jov bidders. Two cars will be purchased from the Tex Evans Buick-Rambler Co. and one from the Harold Barrett Ford Co. Two of three bids which did not meet specifications were thrown out and a contract was awarded to International Harvester Co. for a tractor and rotary mower for the park department.

The council passed on second reading the ordinance to amend present city legislation to permit graduated speed zones on state highway leading into the city.

Minutes of yesterday's meeting of the City Traffic Commission were submitted to the commission.

Mayor Thompson said he hoped city officials and traffic commission officials soon could work out a plan of handling traffic at the three-way intersection of N. Hobart, Cook and West streets.

"This seems to be one of Pampa's worst traffic bottlenecks," the mayor said.

Spending for the state's 20 state colleges and universities was up $42.7 million, with increases for all agencies of higher education totalling $58.8 million. Addition of the University of Houston to the state system accounted for $18.7 million of the increase.

Davis Mountains — $2.8 million was included for the conclusion of the three-year screwworm eradication program in South Texas.

Youth Work Service Week Is Proclaimed

Mayor H. R. Thompson today signed a proclamation declaring the week of May 26-June 1 Youth Employment Service Week in Pampa.

The Top O' Texas Kiwanis Club in conjunction with the Pampa Youth and Community Center has set up a youth employment service to aid Pampa boys and girls to obtain summer employment and to aid prospective employers in finding suitable workers who have the proper qualifications to work in positions which are open.

The office will be open in the Youth Center starting May 26 and will register boys and girls of high school age for full and part-time jobs during the summer months.

The mayor in his proclamation said: "I hereby call upon all citizens and organizations in the commuty to recognize this special week and to cooperate fully so as to provide the greatest possible opportunities for our youth to obtain summer employment both during the special week and in the summer of 1963."

Top O' Texas Kiwanis officials said this is the second year for the project and it is being promoted to enable the youth of Pampa to earn money during the summer season and have an opportunity to acquire funds to help further their education.

Vandalism, Theft Is Reported Here

Mrs. W. L. Walker, 1833 N. Nelson, reported to police that vandals, apparently juveniles, had broken a garage window and broken windows and slashed a tarp on a pickup truck parked inside late yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. B. J. Spradlin, Rt. 2, reported to police that her daughter, Rebecca Ann, had had her purse stolen from a car parked outside the Pampa High School Fieldhouse Saturday night. The purse contained personal items, but no money.

Gursel did not disclose the number of casualties incurred in the fighting against Aydemir's second attempted coup in little more than a year. But there were unconfirmed reports of gunfire in the streets of the capital, and two deaths.

There were indications that Aydemir, who tried in February, 1962, to overthrow Gursel's government, had some military ca- deats on his side this time. A for-buildings after being beaten back. But the government forced them to surrender by dropping smoke bombs in the area. One bomb set fire to a house. Machineguns also were used in the operation.

Although there are a number of U. S. military units in Turkey there were no reports of incidents involving U. S. servicemen.

Aydemir was reported to have had about 50 men and three tanks. The station changed hands four times during the early morning.

Grand Jury To Be Called Tomorrow

District Attorney Bill Waters said today that the existing grand jury would be called tomorrow for jury duty in the 31st District Court.

Attorney Waters stated that approximately ten criminal cases would be brought before the court in this session.

He said that the present jury's tenure of duty would expire after the last Monday in June and a new grand jury would be empaneled at that time.

Gursel first came to power by a military coup three years ago this month. He overthrew the regime of Premier Adnan Menderes — who later was executed — and imposed military rule on the nation until the 1961 elections making him civilian president and Ismet Inonu premier.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
 United Press International
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It's been a tough year for critics, who are, by and large, pretty peaceful and bookish citizens.

In Brisbane, Australia, a lady opera singer walloped one critic with her leather glove because he said she sang flat. It didn't change his opinion. In London, another critic got belted by the husband of an actress he had reviewed, not favorably. And in Madrid, a theater owner applied the slug to yet another reviewer.

I won't even go into the verbal assault on a New York drama critic by a Broadway producer recently on NBC-TV's "Tonight" show, because it would mean having to mention the producer's name, and he can get his free publicity elsewhere. Suffice it to say that it showed once again what a weak host "Tonight" emcee Johnny Carson is, and how his program can be taken away from him on any given night by almost any strong-willed visitor who has a mind to do so.

Preference For Television
 And in an important way, this general blandness of television personalities, plus the unchallenging and mechanical nature of the medium, add up to the reasons why certain types of persons prefer to project their public images and views from video. Let us forget producers here, and deal with actors and politicians, who are better known.

We have heard a good deal lately from actors and politicians, of both parties, about their preference for television. But this really shouldn't surprise anybody. Both of these human species are used to being kowtowed to; to be evaluated or questioned is frequently considered an act of hostility. The idea of heaven for many in their ranks is to be able to make a statement of their own and then escape tough questioning from seasoned, backgrounded reporters who know when they are hearing pap and consider it a public duty to probe deeply for readers.

Press Agent's Delight
 The nature of television, the paucity of such good and tough shows as "Meet the Press," and video's generally scared-rabbit approach in the area of commentary combine to virtually create that heaven-on-earth. It is a press agent's delight. But what is worse, this uncritical "good fellow" approach helps solidify sometimes unworthy images, and furthers the extremely dangerous idea that power and fame—any power and any fame—are good, simply because they are achieved. Basic values are at stake, uncritical acceptance is a preface to mental decadence; and television may have a lot to answer for to the angels some day.

In short, we give too much credence to some video frauds. And while it is true that occasionally the only qualification for a critic is to be able to spell the word "superb," it is also good to remember H. L. Mencken's view: "One horse-laugh is worth 10,000 syllogisms."

The Lighter Side

Creeping Disposatism

By DICK WEST
 United Press International
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Every now and then something pops up that seems to fit in with my pet economic theory, which is called "disposatism."

Although it gets rather complicated around the edges, the basic concept of disposatism is quite simple.

It rests on the postulate that we are nearing the point where it will be harder to get rid of things than it is to acquire them.

Already we can see signs of creeping disposatism. It is, for example, easier to grow more grain than we can use than it is to dispose of the excess production.

Atomic power can now be readily produced, but getting rid of the radioactive waste materials has become a major problem. And so on.

Notes House Testimony
 A new manifestation of disposatism came to my attention in a volume of testimony published over the weekend by the House defense appropriations subcommittee.

As might be expected, it was Rep. Daniel J. (Silent) Dan Flood, D-Pa., who laid his finger on the problem. In fact, he laid his thumb on it, too.

Flood posed the question of what the armed forces intend to do with their old ballistic missiles when the models now in use are made obsolete by more advanced designs.

with old missiles. They are a bit large to convert into salt and pepper shakers and I doubt there would be much demand for them as flower vases.

In times past, they would have made a dandy item for Fourth of July picnics, but in many areas now the use of fireworks is prohibited.

And, the game laws being what they are, you would need a special permit to use them for duck hunting.

I'm just thinking off the top of my head, but as a stopgap plan I would recommend turning them over to the Navy. It could use them to hold the mothballs for the mothball fleet.

The Federation of Nigeria is nearly seven times the size of England.

Anti-Poll Tax May Be Part of Constitution

By United Press International
Chances are that the "anti-poll tax amendment" will be part of the nation's Constitution by the time of the 1964 political conventions.

The proposed 24th Amendment still needs the approval of four state legislatures to become part of the basic law of the land.

Its success depends on 11 states whose attitude could change overnight. Four of the 11 appear likely to wind up in the ratification column, a United Press International survey indicated.

Thirty-four states already have approved the amendment which would outlaw payment of poll taxes as a condition for voting in federal elections. Ratification requires approval by three-fourths of the state legislatures, or 38 states.

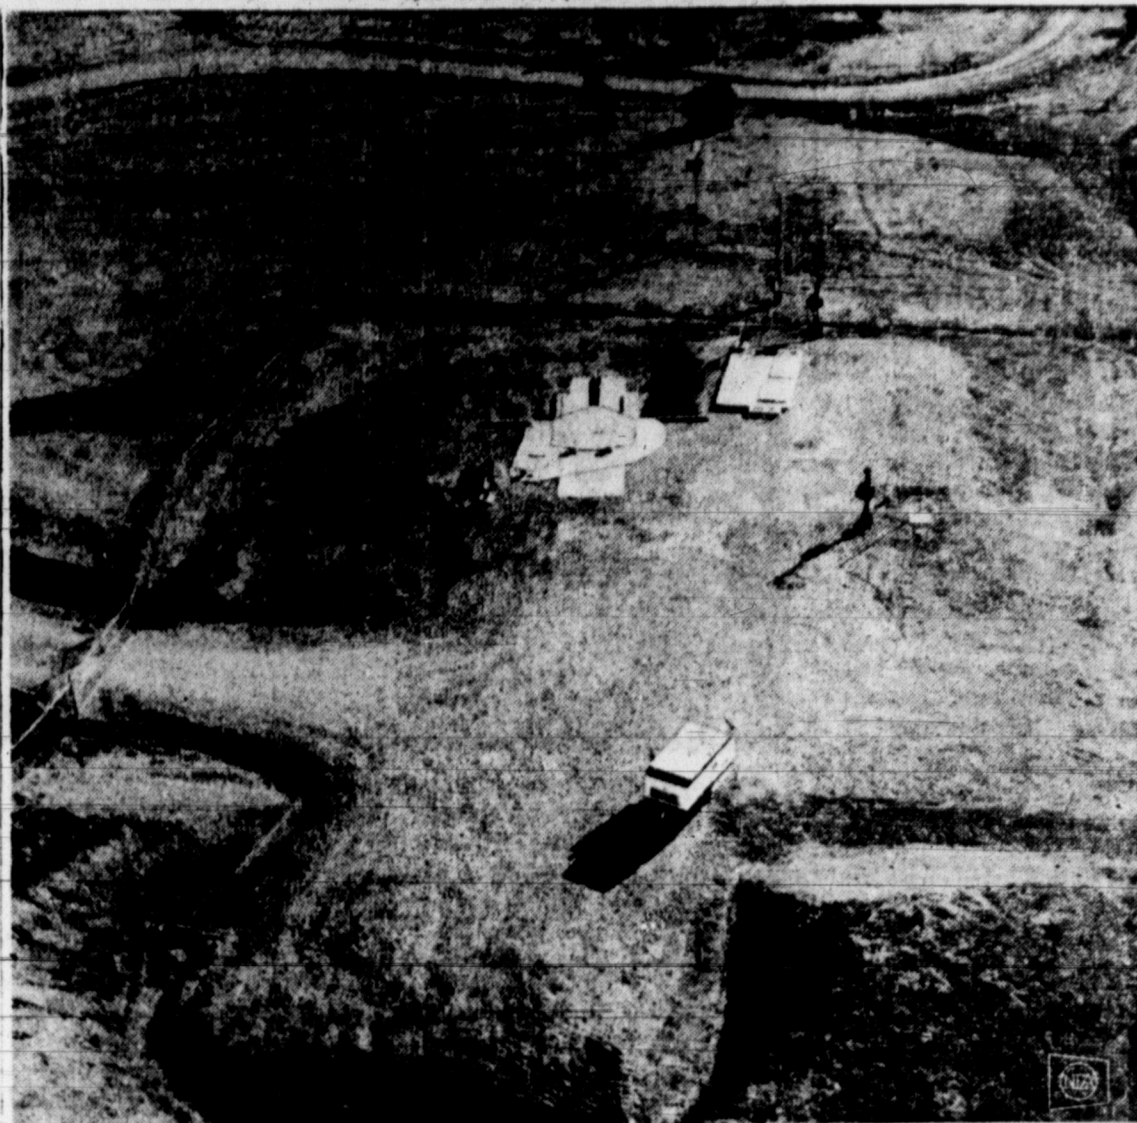

In three states—Arizona, South Dakota and North Carolina—the amendment either died or was smothered in legislative committees.

Four states which have poll tax Virginia, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas—still were aligned against the proposal. But Texas, which also has a poll tax, moved the amendment through its Senate, and it is now in a House committee.

Five other states—Kentucky, South Carolina, Wyoming, Louisiana and Georgia—remained pivotal or classified as "status unknown." It seemed unlikely that any action might come from any of them this year.

Favorable responses, however, were expected before the end of 1963 from Maine, Oklahoma and New Hampshire. These, when combined with Texas, would raise the number of ratifier-states to the necessary 38.

Only U.S. territory where Christopher Columbus ever set foot is Puerto Rico.

COCKED AND READY—Peaceful appearance of this Montana field belies its true nature. Beneath the soil lie tons of steel and concrete in which is cradled a Minuteman missile. Should its use ever be required, Minuteman would roar through hatch, center of picture, seconds after ignition of its solid fuel. Site, above, is one of 10 which compose the first "flight" of missiles at Malmstrom Air Force Base. Fourteen flights make up a "wing."

Oil Refinery Is Sophisticated

TULSA (UPI)—To the person who thinks a cat cracker is something you feed a pet, an oil refinery probably seems to be an unorderly maze of pipes and towers.

But to the refiner, the complex is no less sophisticated than a space capsule.

The investment in a refinery often reaches $100 million and up. One Gulf coast plant designed for aviation gasoline and rubber cost $75 million during World War II. The firm says that initial investment represents only a minor fraction of its current value.

Into the refinery goes crude oil. Before it comes out the oil has been separated into fractions and these parts converted and the products treated.

Before petroleum is ready to become a lipstick, nylon, a highway,

Embassy Locks Gates After Use As 'Shortcut'

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UPI)—U. S. Embassy officials locked the gates to embassy grounds after an estimated 500 Haitian peasants swarmed through the enclosure en route to a nearby park.

The peasants, who were orderly, carried placards of "Duvalier or Death." They appeared to have used the embassy grounds as a "shortcut" to the Exposition Park area where they have been bivouacked.

Meanwhile, President Francois Duvalier, increasingly confident of his ability to stay in power, appeared to have been taken a more conciliatory approach to his opposition within Haiti.

or a rubber foam mattress, it goes through all types of tortures.

First, crude is pumped into a heater and piped up a tower. Right there some products such as kerosene can be drawn off.

Most products, however, require more processing. The hot oil is cracked or broken down by compressing it under high pressures. Then the cracked oil is fed into a fractionating tower where vapors of light products—including gasoline—are distilled.

'Cat Cracking' Explained
Cat cracking is short for catalytic cracking and occurs when a chemical is introduced to aid in the breakdown of the molecular structure of the oil.

Impurities, sometimes doggedly entrenched in the oil, must be removed and chemicals added to give the desired odor and color.

A survey showed the average 42-gallon barrel of crude produces 18.8 gallons of gasoline, 9.7 gallons of light fuel oil, 4.4 gallons of heavy fuel oil and two gallons of kerosene. The remaining 7.1 gallons went into lubricating oil, coke, asphalt, waxes and other petroleum products like liquefied petroleum gas.

It's The Law In Texas

OVERHANGING BRANCHES

A Joyce Kilmer poem reads, "I think that I shall never see a poem lovely as a tree." However, to the property owner whose home stands beneath the outstretched arm of a neighbor's oak, a tree may present far from beautiful image. In a violent windstorm it may split apart with great damage to his home below. Or lightning may partially sever a limb which could some day fall, injuring children playing under the tree. What recourse does a person have if the owner of the land upon which the tree stands refuses to trim off a protruding or dangerous limb, although requested to do so?

A landowner may, without liability, cut off at his boundary line the branches and limbs of trees growing on neighboring premises. Such overhanging branches are in effect a nuisance which the adjoining landowner may prevent by removing them. However, he is limited strictly to the removal of overhanging branches and if he cuts beyond the boundary line, he is committing a trespass upon his neighbor's property and may be liable for damages.

If you desire to cut off the overhanging branches of a neighbor's tree, you are not required to give notice unless you have in some way encouraged the continuance of the dangerous condition. What if neither party cuts off the overhanging limbs and one falls injuring a person or damaging property? Who is responsible? The fact that the adjoining landowner could have cut off that part of the tree protruding over his lot does not make him liable for failing to do so. He has no duty to cut off protruding limbs although he has a right to cut them if he so chooses.

The owner of the land upon which the tree stands, however, does have a duty to remove branches and limbs when it becomes apparent to him, or he should reasonably know, that they are in a dangerous condition. So where a decayed tree standing near the boundary line falls during a heavy wind, injuring property or persons on adjoining land, the owner of the property on which the tree stands may be liable. A property owner, the court has said, "has no more right to keep on his premises an unsound tree near the house of his neighbor, on which it is liable to fall, than he would have to keep a dilapidated and unsafe building in the same position."

VFW PROTESTS

The VFW statement was issued following reports that U.S. officials were considering dropping opposition to giving the Hungarian regime a seat in the United Nations.

Dear Abby....

Army Hitch Is No Gravy Train!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Where did CURIOUS get her information about what a sergeant makes and what he spends? His meals at the N.C.O. Club are not free! If he tears his uniform, he can't have it repaired; he has to buy a new one. And they aren't cheap! Tell Curious that if she's looking for a man with money, she had better find herself a civilian.

SERGEANT'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: My father was an Army man and I am married to an Army man. I wouldn't trade this title for anything in the world. A sergeant doesn't "take home" any $375 a month. Not after he gets through paying his Army Emergency Relief donation, income tax, social security and insurance. We in the service don't have many material things, but we have interesting lives, the satisfaction of contributing something to our country, and hospitalization when we need it. I have had seven children for seven dollars. Who can top that?

PROUD ARMY WIFE

DEAR ABBY: To prove to my husband that people will eat anything at a cocktail party, I made up some canapes of cat food. I decorated them nicely and everyone ate them and raved about their unusual flavor. Several of the women asked me for the recipe. I certainly cannot tell them the truth, can I? Also, is it against the law for a husband to blackmail his wife?

"AGGIE" Solve all your problems by telling anyone who asks that the canapes were cat food. They'll never believe it.

DEAR ABBY: May I add my little statement to the wedding ring topic: Twenty-six years ago I married a man who did not give me a wedding ring. The only things of value he gave me were three wonderful sons. After 14 years of miserable marriage, he left me for another woman. For a number of years his mistress has been wearing the wedding ring he gave her, although they are not married. So what does a wedding ring mean?

We are glad to report that Mrs. N. M. Norris and E. G. Frasier are home from the hospital, but sorry to say that V. S. Kealey will, of course, be confined to the hospital for some time yet with a broken hip.

Mrs. Ruby Robinson of Borger visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Adams recently.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Shelton of Sisseton, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holland and Bill Burgin of Borger were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Burgin. Mrs. Verda Adair was a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Allen Hall and family in Fort Worth. She came home by way of Oklahoma City and visited with a granddaughter, Mrs. Burgess and family; also with a grandson and his family, M. H. Adair.

Mrs. Loua Webster has as a houseguest her sister, Mrs. McBride of Amarillo.

J. R. Watts, who was ill last week, was able to be with us Thursday at our Center party.

Frank Herlacher, who is in the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo may be transferred soon to another hospital, because of the crowded conditions at Amarillo.

From an airline brochure: "Never has airline travel offered you so much. This is the time to break earthly ties."

J. L. Sutton spent last weekend in Amarillo with his daughter Mrs. Audrey Smith.

Guests of the Jay Evans on Mothers' Day was a granddaughter, Mrs. Joe Galligan and her husband of Amarillo.

Mrs. Elma Bailey visited in Amarillo for a few days last week and helped her little granddaughter, Linda Beth Bowman, celebrate her third birthday.

Now that Gordon Cooper has completed his successful 22 orbit flight and set a new record for U. S. Astronauts, we, too, can get down to earth. Faith 7 lived up to its name. Murrain for Colonel Cooper!

My son-in-law was in Hawaii the first of the week and I have a sneaking idea it had something to do with this flight. He is with the Navy (civilian branch) and travels a lot on inspection trips. ...something to do with electronics. I never ask any questions. He was in the Navy during World War II.

Door prizes went to Mrs. C. P. Roop and Uncle Billy Frost, who had some tall tales to tell of the Oil Men's luncheon he attended last week in the Coronado Inn. But he said, "It lasted a little too long for a Centenarian."

See you next week. Love, Mrs. Wagner.

Gas Controls Are Upheld by 5-4 Decision

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today upheld the Federal Power Commission's new method of regulating natural gas producers' rates by areas instead of by each company's individual costs.

The decision was by a 5 to 4 vote, with Justice John M. Harlan writing the majority opinion. "We recognize the unusual difficulties inherent in regulating the price of a commodity such as natural gas," Harlan said. "We respect the commission's considered judgment, backed by sound and persuasive reasoning, that the individual company cost-of-service method is not a feasible or suitable one for regulating the rates of independent producers."

'Ultimate Solution'
"We share the commission's hopes that the area approach may prove to be the ultimate solution," he said for the majority.

The court's action empowers the FPC to stabilize gas rates for the consumer. Under the individual cost formula, rates fluctuated widely.

Dissenters were Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices Tom C. Clark, Hugo L. Black and William J. Brennan Jr.

The lawsuit was a continuation of a 1954 landmark case when the Supreme Court ruled that the FPC has jurisdiction to regulate wholesale rates of 3,000 or more producers. Before that, it had been confined to rates of pipelines.

Separate Consideration
In fixing pipeline rates, the commission traditionally considered separately each company's costs of service. Then it allowed rates to provide a fair return on investment.

In the 1954 Phillips case, the commission adopted an entirely new formula because of the vast differences between producer and pipeline operations.

It announced that it would handle prices on a sectional basis by fixing ceilings in 23 specified areas. Estimates on time required to establish all the permanent prices range from 4 to 14 years.

Employe Thieves
NEW YORK (UPI)—The average employe thief during 1961 helped to steal an estimated $2 billion from U.S. companies, according to a case-history study made recently by one of the nation's major business-security and research organizations.

Only 25 per cent of these thefts are cash, the other 75 per cent in merchandise. The average thief is in his early thirties, father of two children and a member of two or more social organizations, the survey disclosed.

Court House Change Plans Submitted

CANADIAN (SpI) — Plans for a complete remodeling job on the 53-year-old Hemphill County Courthouse have been submitted to the County Commissioners Court by Amarillo architect James F. Rittenberry.

As tentatively approved by the Commissioners, the plans call for removal of the third floor and tower of the present courthouse building, and construction of a new one-story addition across the southeast side of the building, facing on Fifth street.

The new addition would be approximately 52 feet by 150 feet, containing offices for county and district clerk, sheriff and tax collector, county judge and county treasurer, county attorney and justice of the peace, and a county and district courtroom with seating capacity for 144 spectators.

This building would be of masonry and steel construction, faced with brick and trimmed with stone and aluminum.

The tower and top floor of the present building would be removed, leaving the basement and first floor, and this building would be connected by corridor with the new structure. The old portion of the building would be refaced on the outside with brick and trimmed with stone and aluminum to match the new building. Redecorated and rearranged inside to provide space for the various farm offices (Soil Conservation Service, County Agent, and ASCS), county welfare office, jury room, and storage and vault facilities.

The entire building, old and new, would be equipped with central heating and air conditioning facilities.

Commissioners asked for some changes in the original plans drawn by the architect, cutting down the length of the proposed new wing from 175 feet to about 150 feet, and eliminating the covered walk between old and new buildings in favor of a unified structure.

Rittenberry told the Commissioners the remodeling would cost between $225,000 and $250,000 complete, and would require about nine months.

Commissioners are inviting a petition for bond election, in order to submit the whole issue to vote of the people. Public meetings to discuss the proposals are also planning in the next few weeks.

Memorial Day Party Planned

CANADIAN (SpI) — Canadian's first annual "Canadian Day" party is being planned by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce for Memorial Day, May 20.

Plans include free swimming at the municipal pool in the afternoon, an ice cream supper for all comers at City Auditorium in the evening, followed by a beauty pageant arranged by the ESA sorority at which some girl will be named "Miss Canadian."

Winner of the beauty contest will be Canadian's official representative in other cities at events such as Perryon's Wheatheart Contest and Shamrock's St. Patrick Day celebration during the succeeding year.

Marlene Johnson is in charge of applications from entrants in the beauty contest. The girls will be sponsored by Canadian business firms.

Pappas Pitches Orioles Into Tie, Houston Wins

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

They've taken the "kid prodigy" label off pitcher Milt Pappas of the Baltimore Orioles because this year he's become a man.

Immaturity of outlook has been the only rap against the 6-foot-3, 200-pound right-hander from Detroit, Mich., since he started American League hitters with his pitching savvy as a 19-year-old rookie in 1958. Pappas compiled a 65-49 record from 1958 through 1962 but he still was regarded as a "problem child."

But so far this season all the problems are being encountered by rival hitters.

Pappas turned in his second shutout and his fourth straight victory of the season Monday night in a 6-0 win over the Detroit Tigers that enabled the Orioles to move into a first-place tie with the Chicago White Sox.

Pappas allowed only one run in each of his other two victories, has struck out 26 batters while walking only nine and has a 1.17 earned run average.

Pleasingly Cocky

Known in the trade as "pleasingly cocky," Pappas has been tabbed for stardom since he vaulted into the majors—virtually direct from American Legion ball. Only four pitchers have won more big league games at his age and his shutout Monday night set a club record of 14 for a career.

The Orioles backed his five-hit pitching with a salvo of four home runs that produced all their runs and dealt Phil Regan his fifth loss against two victories, Jim Gentile and Jerry Adair hit solo homers and Jackie Brandt and John Powell each slammed one with a man on base.

The Orioles have won six of their last seven games during which Baltimore pitchers have allowed a total of 11 runs and 33 hits.

The White Sox nipped the Washington Senators, 5-4. The Minnesota Twins knocked the Boston

Red Sox out of first place with a 6-5 triumph and the Cleveland Indians downed the Los Angeles Angels, 7-5, in other AL games.

Colts Beat Pirates

Dick Drott pitched a five-hitter as the Houston Colts defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-0, in the only National League action.

The White Sox overcame an early 3-1 lead held by Tom Cheney and snapped a 3-3 tie in the sixth inning when Floyd Robinson singled. Joe Cunningham doubled and both scored on sacrifice flies by Dave Nicholson and pinch-hitter Charlie Maxwell. Eddie Fisher went 5 1-3 innings for his third victory although he needed the late-inning relief help of Frank Baumann and Jim Brosnan. The loss was the fourth in a row for Cheney, the league's early-season pitching sensation.

A three-run homer by Earl Battey and solo homers by Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew paced the Twins' 10-hit attack. Camilo Pascual was tagged for five runs and seven hits in 6 1-3 innings but gained credit for his fifth win. Earl Wilson suffered his third loss.

Wagner Blasts Two

Leon Wagner drove in all five Los Angeles runs with his 12th and 13th homers of the season but homers by Willie Kirkland and Tito Francona plus a two-run double by Johnny Romano enabled Cleveland's Jack Kralick to win his second game. Kralick was kayoed by Wagner's three-run ninth inning homer—the 100th homer of his career—and Gary Bell closed out the game.

Drott pitched his first complete game since June 14, 1959, walking two, striking out seven and permitting only two Pirates to advance to third. Johnny Temple, who ran his hitting streak to eight games, tripled in the first Houston run and a sacrifice fly by John Bateman delivered the outliner. Don Cardwell dropped his sixth decision against one victory.

Thousands to Pay Last Respects To Ernie Davis

ELMIRA, N.Y. (UPI) — The body of this city's greatest sports hero, halfback Ernie Davis, lay in state today in the community gymnasium where he got his athletic start.

City officials expected thousands of persons to pay their respects to the 23-year-old All American who died Saturday of acute leukemia. Among the mourners was Arthur Modell, president of the Cleveland Browns football club for which Davis never got to play under an $80,000 contract.

Bo Heads for Bullpen, Where Will Mamie Go?

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Bo Belinsky has been sent to the bullpen and the Los Angeles Angels are talking about sending him on another trip — to the Cleveland Indians.

The Indians are looking for another left-handed pitcher and they'll take the 26-year-old Belinsky even with his disappointing 1-7 record, his inflated 6.43 earned run average and his fondness for the bright lights.

Only hitch up to now is which players the Angels would get in return and among the possibilities are infielder Mike De La Hoz, pitcher Jerry Walker and utilityman Gene Green.

Manager Bill Rigney of the Angels and Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbets huddled for some time before Monday night's game and although neither revealed the nature of their conversation, it was known to have centered around Belinsky.

Meet Again Today

Rigney has another appointment today with Cleveland General Manager Gabe Paul, who told General Manager Fred Haney of the Angels last season, "If you ever get tired of Belinsky, I wish you'd give us first crack."

BO BELINSKY

Actually the Kansas City A's had first crack at the colorful Belinsky last September and a winter deal for him already had been agreed upon, but Commissioner Ford Frick nullified it because the deal was made public prematurely.

Due to his recent poor showing, Belinsky was assigned to the bullpen Monday night for the first time this season by Rigney.

The Los Angeles manager emphasized the move was not a punitive measure and also took the opportunity to deny a published report that Bo would be shipped back to the minors.

Made Frequent Headlines

Belinsky, who pitched a no-hitter for the Angels last year, made frequent headlines by his after-hour escapades and recently became engaged to movie actress Mamie Van Doren, managed only two innings against the Yankees in his last start in New York Sunday.

The Yanks shelled him for eight runs and went on to win the nightcap of a doubleheader, 10-4, after the Angels won the opener, 6-2.

Bo has completed only one of his nine starts, has failed to get past the fourth inning in his last three outings and has given up nine home runs — more than any other major league pitcher.

Questioned as to the possibility of his being dealt to the Indians, Belinsky shrugged and said: "It makes no difference to me. I'll do the best I can wherever I'm at."

Softball Loop Play Tonight

The Independent Softball League, weather permitting, is slated to open action tonight with a game in Pampa and a game in Miami. Secretary Travis Lively reported that the league will start the season with four teams. Cabot will play Pampa tonight at 8 p.m. at Lions Park, while Panhandle Packing plays at Miami. The loop will play every Tuesday and Thursday night.

High School Gridder Dies At Practice

MIAMI (UPI) — A tall high school junior who had just made the first string collapsed and died Monday on the football practice field.

Robert Kirby, 17, had just run out from his left end position on the second play of a scrimmage and ran 20 yards downfield when he stopped, started back and collapsed, according to Miami Senior High Coach Vince Schaefer.

Schaefer said he and another assistant coach, Bob Carlton, tried to talk to the felled youth but "there was no response. We turned him over and he was blue then."

Kirby, a 6-foot-7, 170-pounder who had just been given the first-string offensive end position, was pronounced dead at a hospital.

Dr. Joseph Davis, county medical examiner, said an autopsy would be held today.

The coaches said Kirby made no body contacts on the play. The boy had been pronounced in good shape several weeks earlier by the family doctor, according to his parents.

Too Many in 500 Classic

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The problem at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway today and for the rest of the week, was how to put 40 cars in a starting lineup for the 500-mile race where there is room for only 15.

A partial answer calls for bumping for qualifying faster than the slowest cars to make the field last weekend. While mechanics work to get a few miles an hour more out of their cars, drivers were keeping one eye open for another ride if their car is bumped or fails to qualify.

The fast boys including pole sitter Parnelli Jones who qualified at a record 151.153 m.p.h., can run fuel and tire tests at their leisure.

Eighteen cars have qualified but high winds both days kept the speeds for the 10-mile sprints down at least two or three miles an hour from the expected 152-plus speeds.

Low man on the chart is Mexico's Pedro Rodriguez, a rookie who turned in 146.687. With good weather the slowest car to make the field should have to turn over 147.

He has indicated he may take a tour of the 2 1/2-mile oval in a standard Offenhauser this week in case he is bumped and can get in another car. He qualified in the 6-cylinder Aston Martin powered Cooper.

Curtis Cokes Fights in Hawaii Bout

HONOLULU (UPI) — Fourth-ranked welterweight Curtis Cokes of Dallas faces Stan Harrington of Honolulu tonight in a 10-round main event bout at Civic Auditorium.

Cokes, a fast mover who can punch with either hand, is a solid favorite over Harrington. Harrington is the Hawaii state welterweight king.

Cokes' best asset is his pile-driving right. He has knocked out 21 of 47 opponents with it.

Harrington's manager, Tad Kawamura, acknowledged Cokes' six-inch reach advantage, saying "Our only chance is to crowd him all the way, trying for the big punch."

Harrington lost a decision to Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore. his last fight. Moyer was the world's junior middleweight champion at the time.

Both fighters went through light workouts Monday and were expected to weigh in close to the 140-pound contract limit.

Assigned to Denver

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Joseph Cisterna, a 20-year-old right-handed pitcher signed by the Milwaukee Braves Monday, has been assigned to Denver of the Pacific Coast League.

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sport's Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Art Modell, the owner of the Cleveland Browns, broke a long silence today to tell of the moment Ernie Davis received his message of death and the day last week "when he came to say goodbye."

Modell, a sensitive man, hesitates even now to reveal the details. Davis, the All-American halfback from Syracuse who will be buried Wednesday in Elmira, N.Y., died of the most severe and acute type of leukemia.

"The thing to fear is that average people with less acute cases will say 'How can I conquer something a big, strong football player couldn't beat?'" he says. "They must take strength from his courage and realize that he did the impossible for eight months and that with less acute cases people live long, long careers."

And it is the courage of the man Modell remembers best.

Last Aug. 1, after the original tests on Davis, Modell was told that Ernie had four weeks to live. But by Oct. 6 doctors reported 100 per cent remission and Davis was called into Modell's office where the Browns' owner waited with two doctors.

The doctors told Modell that it was only temporary remission and that Davis "didn't have a Chinaman's chance."

"Ernie was perspiring when he sat down but he was completely expressionless," Modell recalls. "Then the doctors told him what he had."

"How serious is it?" he asked quietly.

"It's serious," one doctor admitted. "But it's totally remissive now. People have lived with this for years."

Davis nodded and, Modell remembers, "seemed almost relieved now that he knew exactly what he was fighting." Davis asked that nothing be said about his condition but agreed when Modell pointed out that his continuing activity might be an inspiration to others fighting the disease.

Ernie never fought harder on the gridiron than he did in the weeks that followed. But, because of the severity of his case, it was only a matter of time.

"Usually he would call me whenever he went into the hospital for a transfusion," Modell said huskily.

Then, last Thursday there was a call for Modell from the hospital advising him that Ernie's condition suddenly had become critical.

"Earlier in the week he had bought a set of golf clubs," Modell said. "But Thursday before he went into the hospital he dropped into the office. He didn't look good but he still was able to smile when he said he was going into the hospital for a couple of days."

They grieved for conversation. This time was different from the others.

"I'm sure," Modell asserted, "that he had a premonition. I think he came to say goodbye."

Then he left, walking straight, if not strong, and with a proud, unyielding set to his shoulders.

Davis entered the hospital Thursday at 2 p.m. Saturday at 2 a.m. he died.

"We've set up the Ernie Davis Leukemia Foundation," Modell said. "Contributions can be sent to it at Cleveland, T. Ohio. This way Ernie undoubtedly will make a bigger contribution to mankind than if he had broken every scoring record in the pro football books."

HOUSTON (UPI) — It was a big joke to everyone but the Houston Colts when they started a rascally 19-year-old kid as a rascally-hitter on opening day, a little more than a month ago.

Daniel (Rusty) Staub, two summers out of a New Orleans high school, still bats cleanup for the Colts, but nobody laughs anymore.

Staub led the Colts in runs lated-in, doubles and was tied for triples in games through Tuesday. Although he was batting a conservative .250, he managed to get on base in 25 of his first 25 games.

Experts of the game such as Paul Richards and Ted Williams predict big things for the 6-foot, 1-inch, 190-pound, first baseman-right fielder.

Has Good Eye

Richards claims that Rusty swings at very few bad pitches and has a good eye for one so young.

Williams, who watched Staub perform during the Colts' spring training in Arizona, said he has a "picture swing" and the "sweetest he has ever seen in a young lefthanded hitter."

Staub batted over .400 in spring training and that's what landed him the opening day berth.

Colt coaches praise Staub for his strong arm and calm temperament as well as his hitting abilities.

Through it all, the youngster seems little impressed with his jump to the majors after only one

Brazil-USSR In Cage Clash

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — A meeting between Brazil's defending titleholder and the Soviet Union Thursday night should settle the 1963 world amateur basketball championships.

Brazil defeated Yugoslavia its first defeat Monday night, rolling to a 30-point lead in the second half en route to a 90-71 victory. It was the Brazilians' third victory against no defeats in the final round robin series.

The Russians, unbeaten in two final round games, play Puerto Rico (0-3) tonight. Brazil meets France (2-2) and then will gain a one-day respite before its showdown meeting with Russia.

The United States team, which won the recent Pan-American Games title, is virtually out of the running after losses to Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union. The Yanks, idle Monday night, do not swing into action again until Wednesday night when they meet Puerto Rico.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By carrier in Pampa, 35¢ per week, $1.50 per 2 months, $9.00 per 6 months, $15.00 per year. By mail paid in advance at office, $10.00 per year in retail trading zone, $15.00 per year outside retail trading zone.

An Old Story

Hard experience, here and abroad, proves that the worst possible way to deal with an economic problem, or to provide a nation with necessary goods and services, is nationalization of commercial enterprise.

Take, as an example, Britain's nationalized railroads. Barron's magazine tells the current story. These railroads have been losing at the rate of $500 million a year, and it has been decided that the strained British economy just can't afford it much longer.

Think Again

There has been considerable talk of a federal body, court, or some other agency which would have the absolute power to resolve labor-management difficulties and controversies. This body, the argument runs, would be able to prevent the costly and damaging strikes that have plagued so many areas of the economy.

Kuchel Speech Won't Hurt Birch Society

By ED DELANEY

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, who was re-elected to the senate last year by the Democrats of California, although he was officially listed as a Republican, is proving to those voters how faithful he is in supporting the "liberal" line.

His very words are convincing proof of his abysmal ignorance concerning the Birch Society and its objectives. Moreover there is no organization "similar" to the Birch Society. Reckless remarks of persons like Kuchel only emphasize the need in this country for a John Birch Society to alert and educate the public in political affairs.

It has been correctly described as a rapidly growing organization of informed, dedicated, religiously motivated Americans for the purpose of executing under competent direction, a program of education and action toward the goal of less centralized, more limited government to the ultimate betterment of the nation and the free world.

As though taking his cue from professional smear artists of the liberal or pro-communist element that hibernates in the canyons of New York City, along the shores of the Potomac and scattered throughout California, Kuchel grouped the Birch organization with certain discredited organizations or groups which I shall not dignify by mentioning.

BEST INTEREST Government Agencies Protect Government By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

Government agencies employ a standard practice designed to protect the interests of the government agencies. Occasionally, politicians mention how a certain department or agency should clean house or wash its own dirty linen in private.

When any governmental body uses the "best interest" gimmick it means in the worst interest of the taxpayers. If a government hiring buys ten million dollars worth of something when he has three times that much on hand and more than enough to last out this century, it is not in the best interest of the employee, the bureau or government, as a whole, to do anything but attempt to cover up normal bureaucratic stupidity.

Question Box

QUESTION: "Is there a universal, inflexible moral code?"

Those who believe that there are eternal principles believe there is a universal, inflexible moral code. But most people seem to think there is an exception to moral law.

It would seem that the great moral leaders believed that there was an inflexible moral code. Moses recorded the Ten Commandments, which were moral codes later reduced to one moral code, The Golden Rule.

It will be remembered that Jesus said: "For verily I say unto you, I will heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled."

Even the great scientists who believed in evolution, like Thomas Huxley, believed that there was cause and effect, that one result was the cause of another effect.

It is hard for us to think how one can reason without first having an assumption of an ideal image of what is right. And this ideal image or this assumption must be always subject to examination, and if there are any exceptions, the ideal image is not an ideal image, but is a fallacy and not a guide of human relations.

It would seem that our trouble is that we have discarded the universal, inflexible moral code of the Coveting Commandment and the Golden Rule and the belief that man should never, individually or collectively, initiate force.

The Declaration of Independence is an inflexible moral code, and Thomas Jefferson stated the matter in this manner when he wrote: "I know of but one code of morality, whether it be for men or for nations."

Allen-Scott Report: Chandler Off and Running for Kentucky Governorship But Breathitt Given Good Chance to Defeat Him. Includes photos of Robert Allen and Paul Scott.

LOUISVILLE—"Happy" Chandler is again running furiously to latch onto the public payroll, but there are increasing indications he may not make it this time.

The hand-shaking, back-slapping, glib-spilling Kentuckian at last appears to have more than met his match, Edward Breathitt, World War II bombardier and member of a prominent state family, is joltingly giving Chandler his lumps with spectacular results.

Latest polls show them running neck-and-neck in the May 28 Democratic gubernatorial primary—a striking reversal of their standing several months ago.

Then, Chandler looked like a shoo-in. He was far out in front in the polls, cocky, bombastic and confident, Young Breathitt, making his first statewide campaign, seemed to have little chance.

Republicans are viewing the Democratic slugfest with undisguised enthusiasm. Louis Nunn, their attractive and popular candidate, is unopposed.

ZEROING IN ON "HAPPY"—Breathitt has three things going strong for him: (1) His vigor, forthrightness and handsome family appeal powerfully to young people and women voters.

The persistent recital of these unfulfilled promises is unquestionably making an impact. Also hurting Chandler in the Eastern Kentucky coal region is the still-fresh memory among miners that he once called out the National Guard against them.

Curiously, many coal operators also are hostile. But Chandler is still wielding his old electioneering magic, particularly in rural sections where he has always gone over big.

Chandler in 1956. Once bitter foes, they now are working hand-in-glove against Breathitt.

Clements' enmity to Breathitt is due to a feud with Governor Bert Combs, strong partisan of Breathitt. Until the young lawyer announced for governor, he was a member of Combs' Public Service Commission.

Breathitt's great grandfather, John Breathitt, for whom a county was named, was governor before the Civil War. Another grandfather, James Breathitt, was state attorney general, and an uncle, James, lieutenant governor.

POLITICALS—Both the Republican and Democratic National Committees have launched drives for contributions from grass-roots Committees have launched drives for contributions from grass root partisans.

It's Up To You by HOWARD KERSHNER L. H. D.

Six years ago we slapped down our long-time faithful friends and allies, Great Britain and France, when they sought to establish a barrier against Communist penetration in the Near East and Africa by the operation at the Suez Canal.

In sharp contrast we made no move when the U. S. S. R. was establishing a strong satellite bastion in Cuba. Quite the contrary, we made it easy for them to do so, and the men in the State Department who were in charge of the operation are still in high Federal offices.

We acted with rude effrontery toward our faithful friend and ally, the Netherlands, in forcing her out of West New Guinea while aiding the near-Communist Sukarno to take over that territory.

We armed Sukarno to subjugate the Christians living in the Moluccan Islands who desire to be free and independent, thus setting up another dictatorial colonial regime.

We forced the Laotians to accept a coalition government with the Communists, knowing full well that eventually it will mean the communization of that country.

We refused to recognize the Nagy government in Hungary which the Freedom Fighters set up and maintained for a period of four days. Few believe that the Russians would have returned had we done so and many believe that we would have sparked similar revolutions all over the Communist empire that would have swept the evil away.

We were so protective of communism that we refrained from keeping the road to Berlin open in 1948, and we took no positive action to prevent the erection of the wall between East and West Berlin.

Aided and abetted by U. N., we fought for and financed the Communist-infiltrated Central Government of the Congo in the joint effort to destroy the oasis of freedom, Katanga, and its brave fighters for the principles in which we profess to believe.
