WASHINGTON By George Durme

Pies— It was a matter of no amazement to those who know Huey Long and his political background when he announced, in his off-handish way, he might run for reelection as Governor of Louisiana. The Kingfish never has enjoyed himself in the Senate. That august body cramps his exuberant style. He is just one of 96 Senators and momentarily out of character as Dictator of the Delta. Huey moves restlessly about the chamber all day chatting with this Senator and that, snipping backs and making himself as agreeable as possible—but he is the loneliest man in the upper house of Congress.

Whip-Saw

But the Big Sharer-of-Wealth misses the No. 1 position he enjoys back in Louisiana—albeit with the aid of a well-armed bodyguard. He likes to be dictator and he likes to hear the applause of the galleries. Although most of the cheers you see emanating from Louisiana via the press wires are of the Bronx variety, the palms clap together avidly when he makes an appearance to all intents and purposes in the United States.

Counting

Big smoke is going up from the strike vote called in 176 automobile unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, although the call made clear a strike was imperative even if outvoted. Until the final count is in no one can tell how much fire might be under the smoke. It is a fact, however, that the A. F. of L. has made distressingly poor progress in its efforts to organize the automotive industry.

Unseating

Washington labor headquarters has received confidential reports that make it apprehensive about the situation in Toledo, where one of 1934's bloodiest strikes was staged. As the word reaches the A. F. of L. Building, radical agitators once again are boring from within for the sole purpose of stirring up a walkout.

UP TO YOUNG 'UNS AND RAJAH MAGIC TO BOOST BROWNS

John Tarleton Boys Undefeated

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., (AP)—Responsibility for further improvement in Roger Hornsby's acrobatic Browns in 1935 rests almost entirely on seven rookies and the baseball magic of the Rajah himself.

Last year the Browns, tugging manfully at their bootstraps, rose to sixth place in the American league and at times even dreamed of the first division.

A few innocent-appearing player deals bolstered the 1934 edition. Efforts to repeat the performance this winter generally were futile and success apparently will depend on the harvest from St. Louis farms and the gleanings of Browns scouts.

Four pitchers head the list of recruits. They are Ashley Hillis and Howard Mills from San Antonio, Fay Thomas from Los Angeles and Eldon Walkup from Milwaukee.

Bettencourt Back Again
Tommy Heath, catcher, from San Antonio; Roy "Beau" Bell, outfielder, from Galveston; and Larry Bettencourt, also an outfielder, hailing from San Antonio, complete the cast.

Hornsby, reluctant concerning the newcomers until he becomes personally acquainted with their abilities, was most favorably impressed by the records of Walkup and Bell. Vice-president L. C. McEvoy echoes his sentiments.

"Walkup, a big right-hander with a good curve and a fine fast ball, is better than his record last year with Milwaukee indicates," McEvoy declares. "He won seven and lost 10 in 1934 but he didn't start many games and didn't get the work he needed."

Bell, also right-handed, batted .337 and fielded .980 with Galveston. Mills, a left-hander, had a tryout with the Browns last year and

FIERRO JOINS McCAMEY CLUB

Pootrio Fierro, who was catcher for the Mexican Tiger ball club here last year, will play with McCamey in the Permian Basin league this year. Fierro formerly an outfielder, started catching in 1932, and has played with various West Texas clubs.

The McCamey manager saw him play with the Cosden Oilers in a game here last year with a Dallas team.

L. Crouch, a former Tiger twirler, will pitch for the McCamey team again this year. He joined them last season.

HOW STUDENTS FEEL

A cross-section of opinion on the issues of war and peace has been obtained from American college and university campuses by the Literary Digest—whose editors apparently are not happy unless they are polling somebody about something—and the results are interesting.

Of the 112,607 students polled, 90 per cent favored government control of munitions manufacture; 80.5 per cent opposed American entrance in the League of Nations; two-thirds expressed belief that America can stay out of the next great war; and 63 per cent said they would willingly defend the country in case of invasion.

It would be interesting to know how closely this reflects the sentiment of the country as a whole. Offhand, one might suggest that it is not very far from it.

OF THE RECOVERY ACT, JUDGE NIELDS' DECISION WOULD BLAST NRA OUT OF THE PICTURE SHOULD IT BE UPHOLD.

THE SAME PRINCIPLE WOULD BE APPLIED TO ALL CONCERNS ENGAGED IN MANUFACTURE—NEWSPAPERS, COTTON MILLS, BAKERIES AND EVERY OTHER BUSINESS WHICH MANUFACTURES. NOTHING MUCH WOULD BE LEFT TO REGULATE SHOULD SECTION 7-A BE THUS CLIPPED OF ITS CLAWS.

IT IS THE WORST BLOW YET DEALT THE NEW DEAL, AND PARTICULARLY NRA AND THE BLUE EAGLE. IF THESE ASSAULTS ARE KEPT UP MUCH LONGER, THAT ONCE NOBLE BIRD WILL HAVE NOWHERE TO LAND EXCEPT IN THE DUMP TRUCK.

A FEW MORE SUCH DECISIONS AND THE NEW DEAL WILL BE NOT ONLY ON THE DEFENSIVE, BUT DEFINITELY IN RETREAT.

LESS PATHETIC THAN SPIRITUALLY UPLIFTING WAS THAT STORY FROM ALBANY, GA., TELLING HOW A 63-YEAR-OLD BLIND NEGRO, HANSON MCCOY, WAS FOUND PULLING A PLOW DOWN A LONG ROW WHILE HIS WIFE HELD THE HANDLES.

HE WAS NOT COMPLAINING OF HIS BLINDNESS FOR HIS BRUTALIZING TOIL. INSTEAD, HE SAID:

"The Bible says we have to live by the sweat of our brows, and that is what I am doing."

PULLING THAT PLOW, MCCOY WILL CULTIVATE ONE AND A HALF ACRES OF COTTON THIS YEAR. LAST YEAR, HE MADE A LITTLE MONEY ON COTTON AND RAISED A BETTER CROP OF CORN THAN SOME OF HIS NEIGHBORS.

HIS CHIEF HOPE IS THAT BY HIS TOIL HE MAY EARN ENOUGH TO GET ENTIRELY OFF RELIEF ROLLS.

BLACK MAGIC IN AMERICA

If you are ever inclined to feel that public education has been pushed about as far as it need be pushed in modern America, you might find it helpful to reflect on these strange "hex" cases that continue to pop up in Pennsylvania.

The latest is a case in which a 5-year-old boy was "cured of a spell" by a witch doctor. The fact that the child, after being "cured" got a butcher knife and carved his 8-month-old brother almost to death, does not shake the parents' faith in the efficacy of the hexer's mumbo-jumbo.

Now Pennsylvanians pay from being a backward state. The general level of intelligence and education there is probably above the national average.

Yet even in Pennsylvania there lingers this relic of medieval belief in black magic.

Could there be a more striking example of the need for broader and more thorough educational policies?

IN RETREAT

Death blow to NRA was Federal Judge John P. Nields' decision that the congress has no power to regulate manufacture. He held that the Weirton Steel company was not subject to control of section 7-A of the National Recovery Act, because it is not engaged in interstate commerce in its relations with its employees.

SINCE SECTION 7-A IS THE VITAL PART of the recovery act, Judge Nields' decision would blast NRA out of the picture should it be upheld.

The same principle would be applied to all concerns engaged in manufacture—newspapers, cotton mills, bakeries and every other business which manufactures. Nothing much would be left to regulate should Section 7-A be thus clipped of its claws.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Vigor . . . Vigor . . . Vigor

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of sagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic spots and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons, causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . an old prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 46 years. They give happy relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

SWEAT OF HIS BROW

Less pathetic than spiritually uplifting was that story from Albany, Ga., telling how a 63-year-old blind negro, Hanson McCoy, was found pulling a plow down a long row while his wife held the handles.

HE WAS NOT COMPLAINING OF HIS BLINDNESS FOR HIS BRUTALIZING TOIL. INSTEAD, HE SAID:

"The Bible says we have to live by the sweat of our brows, and that is what I am doing."

Pulling that plow, McCoy will cultivate one and a half acres of cotton this year. Last year, he made a little money on cotton and raised a better crop of corn than some of his neighbors.

HIS CHIEF HOPE IS THAT BY HIS TOIL HE MAY EARN ENOUGH TO GET ENTIRELY OFF RELIEF ROLLS.

Oliver Wendell Holmes

This appreciation was written when Mr. Justice Holmes retired from the Supreme Court and is reprinted here from the issue of January 13, 1932.

There are few who, reading Judge Holmes' letter of resignation, will not feel that there they touch a life done in the great style. This, they will say, is how to live, and this is how to stop, with every power used to the full, like an army resting, its powder gone but with all its flags flying. Here is the heroic life complete, in which nothing has been shirked and nothing denied—not battle or death, or the unfathomable mystery of the universe or the loneliness of thought, or the honors and the beauties of the human heritage. This is the whole of it. He has had what existence has to offer; all that is real everything of experience, of friendship and of love, and the highest company of the mind, and honor, and the profoundest influence—everything is his that remains when illusion falls away and leaves neither fear nor disappointment in its wake.

It is impossible for the layman to do justice to Holmes the jurist. But even the layman, if he has read some of the opinions and has lived among the generations of lawyers whom Judge Holmes has influenced, must be aware that he is one of that small number who has determined not merely the course of the law but the premises and quality of legal thinking. For this great judge is one of the true philosophers of the English-speaking world, and it is the part of the philosopher to show men not so much what to think as how. This is his immortality. He has altered the course of thought. And not only for lawyers. In the days to come, when only scholars remember the cases he decided, he will live on with Emerson and with William James and with a very few others in whom the American spirit became articulate and ripened into distinction. He has the gift of delivery. I have no doubt that his genius is the purest American writing of our time, and I am not sure but that in the American anthology his wisdom, so firm, so graceful, so spare, so clean, will be cherished as a tonic to the will of men above any thus far uttered on this continent.

It is a delight to honor him, and to express, while he is within hearing, a little something of the esteem in which he is held. He himself, however, has said, speaking more than thirty-five years ago to the undergraduates of Harvard College about the calling of the thinker, what now in the fulfillment of his life should be said of him: "Your education begins when you have begun yourselves to work upon the raw material for results which you do not see, can not predict and which may be long in coming—when you take the fact which life offers you for your appointed task. No man has earned the right to intellectual ambition until he has learned to lay his course by a star which he has never seen—to dig by the divining rod for a spring which he may never reach. In saying this, I point to that which will make your study heroic. For I say to you in all sadness of conviction that to think great thoughts you must be heroes as well as idealists. Only when you have worked alone—when you have felt around you a black gulf of solitude more isolating than that which surrounds the dying man, and in here and in despair have trusted to your own unshaken will—then only will you have achieved the joy of the thinker, who knows that a hundred years after he is dead and forgotten men who never heard of him will be moving to the measure of his thought—the subtle rapture of a postponed power, which the world knows not because it has no external trappings, but which to his prophetic vision is more real than that which commands an army. And if this joy should not be yours, still it is only thus that you can know that you have done what it lay in you to do—can say that you have lived and be ready for the end." WALTER LIPPMANN.

Under The Dome

By GORDON F. STAPLE

AUSTIN (UP)—Governor Alfred D. Montgomery has better luck with his brain than President Roosevelt. He has found that rare jewel—a practical professor. He is Dr. Robert Hargrove Montgomery, economic instructor at the University of Texas.

Dr. Montgomery has studied utilities for 25 years. Governor Alfred, seeking to make good on a campaign promise to regulate utilities, turned to the professor. Result: A bill that has emerged from a legislative committee with unanimous vote.

It is not alone the professor's acumen that makes him such a treasure. It's the way he accepts conditions instead of blindly backing theories. Example: He drafted a bill giving all rate regulating power to a state commission. Legislators suggested it would meet with opposition from cities jealous of their power.

"O. K. Leave them out," Dr. Montgomery said. "When they see how much better the state can do it, they will want to get in." He didn't press for his original plan of having all the power in one place. Committee members considered; decided his plan was better after all; and put it back in the bill. At the start, legislators spoke timidly in Dr. Montgomery's presence when they discussed what the folks back home might think. He quickly set them at ease. "You should be guided by what the people back home want," he said. "That's the first thing I teach my classes. It's essential to democratic government."

Raft Rookies Holds Answer To Sox Hopes

American League Team Tired Of Being In Second Division

By DICK STROBEL

CHICAGO (UP)—Buffeted about these many years by every other club in the American league, the White Sox hope they can extract enough talent from a host of youngsters to lift them from the doldrums of the second division. The door to fame never has been opened wider than it is this year to the recruits at the Pasadena, Cal., Sox camp. Any fielder who can hit or any pitcher with a good arm rates an excellent chance for the team is weak in both departments.

Ballyhooed as most promising among the pitchers is Vernon Kennedy, a right-hander who struck out 167 batsmen for Oklahoma City last year. Kennedy was a baseball star at Central Missouri Teachers college and he won the decaathlon in the 1927 Penn relays. He is 26.

Only two of the 25 pitching applicants are lefties, and both are recruits—Dick Brock, a husky youngster direct from the University of Colorado, and John Michaels, winner of 16 games for Rochester last year.

It is undisputed that had the Sox given their pitchers a little more hitting last year the scores of many lost games would have been reversed. For this reason much attention undoubtedly will be showered on Vernon George Washington, whose .367 was within one point of leading American Association batters with Indianapolis last year. Washington, an outfielder, was charged with only one fielding bobble in 135 games. He is 26 years old and stands nearly six feet tall, weighing 190.

Ray Radcliff of Louisville is another outfielder with a good minor league record. Four years ago he came up as a first baseman, but was shipped back to the bushes for more experience and returns as an outfielder. Given an outside chance of making good in his first major league attempt is Dan "Bud" Hafey nephew of Chick Hafey of the Cincinnati Reds, who played with the San Francisco Missions of the Pacific coast league last year as an half dozen or more next summer, including prohibition repeal. The people may be asked if they want to scrap the constitution of 1870 and have a new one from "hat to boots" as former Governor Pat Neff proposed.

Texas race tracks seem perfectly willing that legislators should know all about racing and the part mutuels before they vote on the topic. The law makers were taken to Alamo Downs to see the last day of racing there. They have been season at Epsom Downs. If there is something pernicious about the tracks and part mutuels they are being given full opportunity to observe it. Passes have been sent to friends and foes of racing alike.

Representative Emmett Morse of Houston, aspirant for the next Speakership, had a chance to show House members his ability as a presiding officer for two days. Speaker Coke Stevenson, called home to attend court, designated the Harris county legislator to act in his place.

Huge fireplaces in the rooms of the new building occupied by the United States Supreme Court impressed Chief Justice C. M. Cullen of the Supreme Court of Texas up on a recent visit to Washington. He considers it fitting. He thinks it tends to keep fresh in the minds of judges the home and fireside as they consider legal problems.

Amazing Facts!

Three large paint manufacturers maintain experimental stations where every known paint is tested by exposure to weather. Here are paints made of all the old formulas as well as paints made from new materials and by new formulas. Our paint chemists, always searching for the newest and best, studied these tests. Among all these paints, tested under identical conditions, just one was outstanding. After 4 years' exposure the paint film was smooth, unbroken and beautifully white. It contained a new material, Titanium Dioxide, skillfully balanced with White Lead, Zinc Oxide and Abestine. Wards have made Super Paint to the same formula. There is only one difference: Wards low price!

GREECE CALLS OUT RESERVES AS REVOLT SPREADS

Events in Greece moved rapidly toward a climax as the revolt which broke out with the capture of five warships by anti-government rebels spread to the island of Crete, where Eleutherios Venizelos (top, right), former premier, openly joined the forces of sedition. At top left is shown the armored cruiser, Averoff, one of the five ships seized, and later reported bombed and seriously damaged in a battle with government aircraft. Map shows the relation of Crete to Greece, and the island of Milo, near which government planes dropped bombs on the captured warships. BRIDAL COSTUME ESPECIALLY DESIGNED FOR FASHION TEA BY BIG SPRING COUTOURIER

Miss Mary Alice Wilke To Be Bride Of 1935; Models' Names Announced By Co-operating Shops

Striking a note of originality that is unusual for a western town, one of the models of the Benefit Fashion Tea to be given Friday at the Settles will be gowned in a frock designed and executed by a Big Spring artist.

The artist is Miss Emily Bradley, the model Miss Mary Alice Wilke, and the dress a 1935 wedding costume which Miss Bradley herself has designed and made for this occasion.

Albert M. Fisher Co. has furnished the materials for the gown. Miss Wilke will be one of the Albert M. Fisher models.

This wedding scene will be the closing number of the program. Little Miss Veda La Nell Robinson will be the ring bearer and little Misses Joyce and Joan Beene will be flower girls. After the bride, will come the four models of this store gowned in evening frocks, representing bridesmaids.

The model personnel for Albert M. Fisher are: Misses Wilke, Lita Ashley, Roberta Lee Hanson, Alta Mary Stalcup and Mrs. Robert Riegel.

Models for the Fashion will be Misses Anna Pauline Jacobs, Winifred Piner; Mmes. Lewis Rix, T. C. Thomas and Rhine Philips. Mellinger's store is specializing in children's frocks, showing their line of Kate Greenway dresses for sports, afternoon and evening.

Their models include the little Beene twins, Joyce and Joan who have never missed modeling for a Fashion Tea yet. The twins are all of four years old this year and will dispense with the guiding hands of an adult.

Other models will be little Misses Jacqueline Faw, Jerry Hodges, Jean Berry, Robby Piner and Emma Ruth Stripling. J. and W. Fisher will be represented by Miss Minnie Belle Williamson, Mrs. James Brigham and Mrs. Watson Hammond.

The Ladies' Salon has selected as their models Miss Lucille Rix, Miss Evelyn Merrill, Miss Virginia Cushing and Mrs. Harry Williamson.

The shops will show sports, afternoon and evening costumes with accessories and hats to match.

Tea will be served during intermission. At this time there will be a special old-fashioned bridal scene in which members of the Woman's Auxiliary will appear in actual costumes of past year dating as far back as 1886.

These will be Mmes. Charley Worley, Edmund Notestine, Tom Helton, Rhine Philips and Miss Camille Kohery. Louisa Ann Bennett and Joan Rice will be the flower girls and Ray Simmons, Jr., the ring-bearer.

Dance numbers will be furnished by Mrs. Robert Riegel and Jacqueline Faw who will do solo dances. Miss Helen Duley will be the pianist.

Special musical numbers to accompany the models will be selected in harmony with the program. Ray Simmons will announce all the numbers. Little placard girls will be Marjjo Thurman and Sara Woodward.

This will be the third Benefit Fashion Tea given by the auxiliary. The program promises to be more attractive and much shorter this year than ever, the committee members say.

The hour is 2:30. The tea is being given under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Mary's Episcopal church and will be held in the Crystal ballroom.

FIGHT

The guards were kicking the woman to her feet again, laughing. Then, with a shouted command, they started the string of the con-stant forward into the throat of the valley.

But the two guards did not follow immediately. They seemed to realize that whatever the loss of the valley closed over would never pass through them again. They re-mained to stare "heartily" over some quarry, with one of the ras-cals held in his fist.

Perhaps it was the overplus of which the officer of the Rurales had been elected.

But Montana, as he watched, saw a chance for action stranger than anything he had ever dreamt of before. He looked at the

"A Gift for you, Felipe!"

Felipe, still lost in profound pray-er.

He looked quickly at the girl; then he started down the slope be-hind the rocks, swerving quickly from one to another until he was very close to the spot where the two still argued.

They were not men. They had the faces of beasts. The evil that was in them made them seem like two blood-brothers. And now with smacking mouths and reddened eyes they threatened each other.

They were still at it when the Kid stepped out from behind the nearest boulder.

"There's a better way, brother," he said.

They started and faced him with one movement. Both were armed, but only with knives, and that judge. God knows that there's nothing so useful you can do as die. The winner lives, then, and I step into the sandals of the other rat. Start! You understand? Or do you want me to sift some lead into your hides?"

The smaller of the two seemed to take in the idea first. His knife came out in a flash as he said, "A gift for you, Felipe!"

And he struck the blade into his companion's thigh. There was weight enough in the blow and it was well enough aimed, below the left shoulder; but with a light, tinkling sound the blade snapped in two. The point, no doubt, had struck a rib bone.

"Francisco!" screamed Felipe. "Devil!"

And he hurled himself right at the other.

Felipe had the strength, the length of arm, and a knife which was unbroken. He had the relen-ant vigor of a bulldog, too. But Francisco was as wily as a snake. He could not run, because of the rope that tied him to his compan-ion. But he could use that rope to jerk Felipe off balance.

A long slash had ripped open the breast of Francisco. But he had wit enough to spring far to the left and throw his body to the ground. Felipe toppled after him, met in falling by the up-jabbing knife fragment in the hand of his fellow.

They rolled together like two tomcats.

The fight was as brief. Big Felipe lay on his back, his throat well opened, a dozen other jagged wounds in his breast from the rapid knife-work of Francisco, and Francisco, pouring blood, dragged himself up and sat on the body of the dead man.

He untied the rope from his left wrist.

"Well," said Francisco, "I am done for. But that doesn't matter. I sit on the big half-wit now. If only the senor could see how I sit now! If you really see Juan-Silva, amigo, tell him how I won the fight—and with a broken knife."

Here he choked suddenly.

He bowed his head and leaned his hand on the shoulder of Felipe.

The strength went out of him. The arm which supported him began to shake violently.

"Who are you?" he breathed.

"El Keed," said the Kid.

The head of Francisco jerked back. There was a loose-lipped, gibbering laughter in his face for a moment.

"So!" he said. "And a great man knows how Francisco died."

Gradually he sank down. His body rolled away from Felipe a half turn and he lay still. One breath more puffed the dust up around his head. He shuddered. And that was the end.

Montana untied the bloody rope from the wrist of Felipe and threw the dripping thing over the rocks. Big Brother Pascual was running frantically down the hill-side. The girl sat on a sun-blea-

STORY OF GIDEON TO BE BROADCAST

Detected as the next of the series of "Immortal Dramas," the story of Gideon will be presented by Montgomery Ward over a coast-to-coast NBC-WEAF network Sunday, March 10 at 2 p. m., E.S.T. This story from the Old Testament will portray the characters of Gideon who, while the other Israelites prayed to the false god, Baal, to deliver them from the Midianites and Amalekites, continued to worship Jehovah. How Gideon destroyed the altar of Baal, restored confidence in his people and led them from their captivity of seven years duration, will be dramatically told in several scenes. Since the story offers frequent opportunities for the use of choral music, the A. Cappella Choir will be featured more than in any of the previous programs of the series. Much of the music to be played by the symphonic orchestra will be original compositions.

Friday Designated Church Night For Rayburn Revival Services

Dr. James Rayburn, leading in a nation revival, will speak this evening on "Promises of God."

Wednesday evening Rev. C. A. Bickley, First Methodist pastor, expressed the appreciation of the Pastor's association to those who aided in preparation for the revival. He called special attention to services given by the city, Texas Electric Service and Empire Southern Service.

Rev. S. J. Shettlesworth, First Christian pastor, read a proclamation by Mayor C. E. Talbot, proclaiming Friday as a day of prayer in accordance with a similar proclamation by Governor James Allred. A motion carried that all men meet at the tabernacle from 12 noon to 1:30 p. m.

Dr. Rayburn said he was anxious to meet officers of all Young People's organizations with pastors Thursday evening at the close of services. Friday evening will be "church night." At that time Dr. Rayburn will speak on "Christ an Agitator."

Wednesday evening he spoke on "Healing the Paralytic" and said in part:

Scripture: Mark 2:1-12.
 Text: Mark 2:3: "And they came unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four."

"I believe this miracle was brought down to us for some lessons that it contains. First, notice the condition of the man him self. He had paralysis to the extent that he was completely and wholly incapacitated. He lay in a stretcher as dead weight. Such is the exact condition of the unregenerate soul—totally incapacitated by sin. Just as this paralytic did not come to Christ but had to be carried there, so the sinner will never come to Christ unless he be brought. There is nothing encouraging in the natural state of man's heart. The unconverted sinner presents to the church a problem to be solved, a difficulty to be surmounted. The concern must start in the hearts of Christians. Sinners are not interested more than their own souls. Unsaved men are spiritually paralytic.

Rebellious Spirit
 "Next, notice the forbidding circumstances outside of the man himself, over which he had absolutely no control and which only aggravated the situation. When the four men arrived with the paralytic, they take, do more harm to Christ's cause than a world of sinners. These are outside conditions over which the sinner has no control.

"A few years ago it got to be a fad to write editorials on "What is the Matter with the Church?" Some talked of the gulf between the church and the working man. There is no gulf there except that of a rebellious heart. Others thought that the ministers did not speak the language of the people. The language of the Gospel is a universal language. Some said the church is too cold, to get busy and do it yourself. 95% of the blame was laid on the preachers. Now the church deserves chastisement for its failures and neglect, but it has been blamed for many things for which it was not responsible.

"Turn your attention to the other side of the story. These four unnamed stretcher-bearers realized two things: the utter helplessness and hopelessness of their friend and the fact that Christ only could do him good. He would never, never have come to Christ without being brought. So the unsaved will never be concerned about their salvation until the Church of Christ is concerned. They will never be burdened until we are burdened for them. These four men were concerned about their friend, otherwise they would not have put forth such efforts. And we, like them, must realize that it is Jesus Christ or nothing. That is a lesson that the church needs to learn over again. The world is dying for more Christ.

"When a ship is sinking, it is not money, nationality, or social standing that saves the passengers, but life boats only. It is Jesus Christ that saves and without Him we are lost. We need not examine a church expert to discover that unbelief is the chief trouble with the church. Read Acts 4:12—'Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.' The most e-bominable propaganda ever distributed is that which says that if we are just good we will go to heaven. Reputation and character will never save you. Jesus was harder on hypocrisy than on any other sin, and of all forms of hypocrisy, that at a funeral is the worst. We stand over a body which has never been into Glory. The choir sings "Asleep in Jesus," and every honest person in the group knows it is a lie. A man ought to be honest and pay his debts. Otherwise the collectors will trouble him. It is easier to be a good neighbor than to have everybody hate you.

"Often, in speaking of a person who has passed away, we say, 'He was honest and fair; he was an ideal husband; he was an excellent neighbor. If everybody was a good as he, they would be all right.' If that is so, this Book is a lie; your church is a lie. If you can be saved in your own name, you need no other. But according to Acts 4:12, the man who dies without Christ dies without hope.

Helpless
 "The paralytic was helpless, and Christ alone could save him. These two facts made the four men absolutely determined to get him to Christ. If they could not get him there in the regular way, they were ready to use an unusual way; if not by the door, then by the roof. Christians have spent a lot of time arguing over methods. Any method is good that gets men to Christ. Praise God, the Holy Spirit is not limited to any one method. A man may be out plowing, riding a train or at home reading his Bible when he finds Christ. If regular methods are not reaching the masses, then let's try irregular methods. If regular church services are not bringing in people as they should, then let's try a revival. A large mass who will not go inside a church will go to a tent or a tabernacle.

"And they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay." That is the end of the human part of the story. They had laid him at the feet of Christ and they had faith or they would never have taken him there. We can not save sinners, but we can point them to the "Lamb of God" which taketh away the sins of the world."

New Record Set From Los Angeles To Mexico City By A. A. Pilot

MEXICO CITY, (UP)—Leland Andrews, veteran American Airlines transport pilot, completed a record-breaking flight from Los Angeles Wednesday when he landed at the Civil Airport at 4:10 p. m.

His time for the 1670-mile hop was eight hours, nine minutes, or two hours and six minutes faster than the previous best mark.

In his Vultee transport plane, Andrews carried five passengers, including Gerard Vultee, the plane's designer and his bride, the former Sylvia Parker, Col. C. Julian Velarde, Mexican army officer; Police Chief James E. Davis of Los Angeles and Arthur Holliday, Los Angeles businessman.

It was the same ship in which Andrews recently set a new Los Angeles-Washington, D. C. record of 10 hours, 22 minutes.

Although there heretofore had been made by a Lockheed Electra plane of the Pan-American Airlines in a flight last year.

NORFOLK CHURCH SAVES REVOLUTIONARY SHELL

NORFOLK, Va. (UP)—On January 1, 1776, Lord Dunmore, in command of the British forces in Virginia, sent Norfolk New Year's greetings in the form of round shot, hot and cold. When his men refused Norfolk lay in smoldering ruins. Only one building remained standing. That building was St. Paul's Episcopal Church, still in use today.

All but one shot fired at the church fell to the ground. That shot struck and struck. When Norfolk was rebuilt after the Revolutionary War, St. Paul's was repaired, but the tuckpointers carefully placed their mortar around the shot, to preserve it there as a reminder of what happened that fateful day.

Archaeologists say the dog was the only domestic animal of the early Indian tribes in the lower Mississippi valley.

the road's current RFC obligation for two years. As for giving up collateral already pledged—Mr. Jones may not care to do it but he hasn't much choice. He can't afford to have it said that he forced a great railroad to the wall by quibbling over a detail like that. And of course all details were settled before the public discussion began.

Central's situation is far from happy but experts believe its chances for a comeback are vastly improved since it grabbed the pesterful financial bull by the horns.

Philippines—
It's surprising how unimperialistic conservative New Yorkers have become.

Financial leaders agree almost unanimously with Nicholas Roosevelt's idea that we'd better get the heck out of the Philippines before the Japanese chase us out. You hear the islands described as an economic nuisance and a military liability. The only talk about "sacrificing our national honor" comes from a few sources which still have money planted out there. Wall Street investments in the Philippines are remarkably slim.

An inside story can now be told of how we happened to acquire the Philippines in the first place. Whitelaw Reid—American commissioner to negotiate a peace treaty with Spain—was chiefly responsible. He was late getting to the conference at Paris and the first two articles of the treaty had already been tentatively adopted when he arrived. He informed his fellow negotiators he would raise no questions about those two provisions they would agree to purchase the Philippines from Spain for $20,000,000. His suggestion was accepted and incorporated in the third article of the treaty.

Mr. Reid had been Ambassador to Great Britain. While in London he developed friendly contacts with J. G. White & Co.—the British firm which owned Philippine concessions for sugar, tobacco, hemp and lumber. Anglo-Spanish relations had been as close as two fingers—but with the Spanish Empire shattered they feared native rule might jeopardize their business. The concessions continued to flourish nicely after we took over. J. G. White & Co. of New York managed them. So it wouldn't be stretching too many points to say that we embarked on our expensive and virtually fruitless Pacific venture chiefly to protect British investments.

Fund—
Informed sources say that civil service employes can feel safe about their pensions even though their retirement fund is not administered according to accepted actuarial principles. Reserves are not up to standards required of private insurance companies—largely because the government has failed to kick in with its prescribed contributions—but the manner in which successive generations of government employes finance those who have previously retired is a safeguard against peril on this account.

Defenders of the government's management of the system raise the point that there's a difference between administering life insurance and retirement funds. Experienced insurance men scoff at this argument. In one case you bet that you die and the insurer bets that you live. In the other the bets are reversed. But life expectancy tables are calculated the same way for both and the same reserve should be required.

Exports—
Automobile exports were swell in January and the motor people think Secretary Hull is a great fellow. This year looks even more promising than last—when General Motors made $3,000,000 net profit in Germany alone. General Motors would be perfectly happy if some one would only now tell them how to get the $2,000,000 out of Germany. So far it's done them about as much good as a diamond at the bottom of a sewer.

Premium—
New York State bonds have been selling at extraordinarily high prices. In some cases the premium amounts to more than $30 on a $100 bond (more than 7 years' interest). Shrewd observers doubt that such a premium is justified. They remark that the bulk of the state's revenues come from New York City. Shrinkage in the city's population and manufacturing activities will be no help to the state's financial future.

Risks—
Jesse Jones' remark that borrowers and investors should be more willing to take risks drew a wry grin from New York. "We'll be glad to oblige provided Jones' boss will guarantee that any profits we may make won't be grabbed off in taxes or dollar depreciation." (Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

Oklahoma Medley Relay Favorite

AUSTIN (UP)—The University of Oklahoma medley relay team is a favorite in the Eighth Texas Relays which will be held here March 30.

The team is composed of Bart Ward, Dick Chaney, Loris Moody and Floyd Lochner.

Ward is the Big Six conference 440-yard champion; Chaney, a sophomore, has shown exceptional promise in the 800-yard run; Moody is Big Six champion in the half mile; and Lochner holds the Big Six record in the mile.

Observers believe the team will have a good chance of beating the Relay record of 10 minutes, 29.8 seconds set by Marquette University in 1930.

Secretary of State Hull is getting a headache since the reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and Brazil was signed. Here's the reason why:

Brazil and Colombia ship more coffee than anything else into this country. Coffee always has been on the free list. Colombia signed a trade agreement months ago, in which she of course made concessions, but it never got ratified by her legislature—which was too concerned with the row with Peru over Letitia to bother about foreign matters.

The Brazilian agreement binds coffee definitely on the free list. Colombia, under the most-favored nation clause, can take advantage of that without ever ratifying the reciprocal agreement if she desires.

You like me best because I am so mellow, rich, flavorful. She chooses me in preference to other cigarettes for another reason; because I am so mild and easy on her throat. But you both prefer me because I am made exclusively from fragrant, expensive center leaves. That's why I'm milder. That's why I taste better. No top leaves, unripe and stinging; no bottom leaves, coarse and sandy, are permitted to destroy my uniform mildness and good taste. I'm your best friend. I am your Lucky Strike.
