Khrushchev 'Fully Supports' Free Laos

Americans Admit Taking Part in Attack on Capital

Harriman Confers With Top Officials

By ROBERT J. KORENGOLD
United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI) — U.S. presidential envoy W. Averell Harriman met for 3 1/2 hours with Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev here today in a dramatic bid to save the peace in Laos. He said Khrushchev declared he still supports a 1961 accord with President Kennedy to preserve a free Laos.

Harriman presented Khrushchev a personal message from President Kennedy during the extraordinary conference that took place in the Soviet leader's Kremlin office. Before seeing Khrushchev, Harriman met with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

A joint statement released after the Kremlin meeting declared that both governments "fully support the Geneva agreements on the Laotian question about which there was an exchange of views between them in Vienna and a mutual understanding reached."

The Kremlin meeting occurred against a background of renewed fighting in Laos, where Communist Pathet Lao forces were reported to have attacked an outpost of right wing forces led by Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

War Renewal Feared

Vientiane reports said the attack raised a serious threat that the right wing forces might retaliate and possibly trigger another full-scale civil war.

The brief joint statement issued after the Harriman-Khrushchev meeting said the U.S. under secretary of state delivered a message from Kennedy to the Soviet premier "about the question of the situation in Laos."

It said there had been a discussion on the subject between Khrushchev and Harriman and repeated the expressions of support for the Geneva agreements by both governments. But it gave no details of the substance of the talks.

The communique was released by the U.S. embassy in Moscow. The U.S. envoy conferred for two hours and 40 minutes with Gromyko at the foreign ministry.

The meeting was the beginning of Harriman's urgent mission to enlist the Kremlin's help in restoring peace and stability to Laos. The meeting was held against a background of charges in the Soviet press that the United States is responsible for the crisis. (See HARRIMAN, Page 3)

Jet Fighters 'Accompany' Helicopters

BERLIN (UPI) — Two Soviet jet fighters flew within 500 yards of U.S. Army helicopters flying over East Berlin and near the Communist wall, a U.S. Army spokesman said today.

Both helicopters landed in West Berlin safely, the spokesman said. They were on separate flights.

The fact that two helicopters were approached on the same day by two Russian fighters appeared to rule out coincidence, he said.

One helicopter was approached by a Soviet jet as it flew over East Berlin in a regular exercise of Western rights in the four-power city. The second helicopter was flying on the West Berlin side of the East-West border when the Soviet jet flew near it.

The Russians long have maintained that Western helicopter flights over East Berlin are illegal. The Allies assert they may fly anywhere in Berlin.

The spokesman did not say the Russian jets took any aggressive action against the helicopters.

QUAKE REPORTED

TRIESTE, Italy (UPI) — The local observatory reported Thursday it registered a sharp earthquake in an area about 100 miles from here. It did not specify the direction.

I. Bear Turns from Zoo's Lover to Killer

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ivan, the terrible tempered polar bear of Griffith Park zoo, turned from lover to killer Thursday and mauled his mate of 11 years to death.

"He went berserk" when his mate, Lena, spurned his amorous advances, chief keeper Mike Wendt said.

Keepers stood helplessly as the 850-pound animal silently killed Lena. There were no sounds from either Ivan or the 500-pound female in the 90-minute struggle.

Ivan and Lena have had four cubs. Ivan killed two other bears in separate incidents in fits of jealousy over Lena. He was nearly destroyed, but was granted a last-minute reprieve.

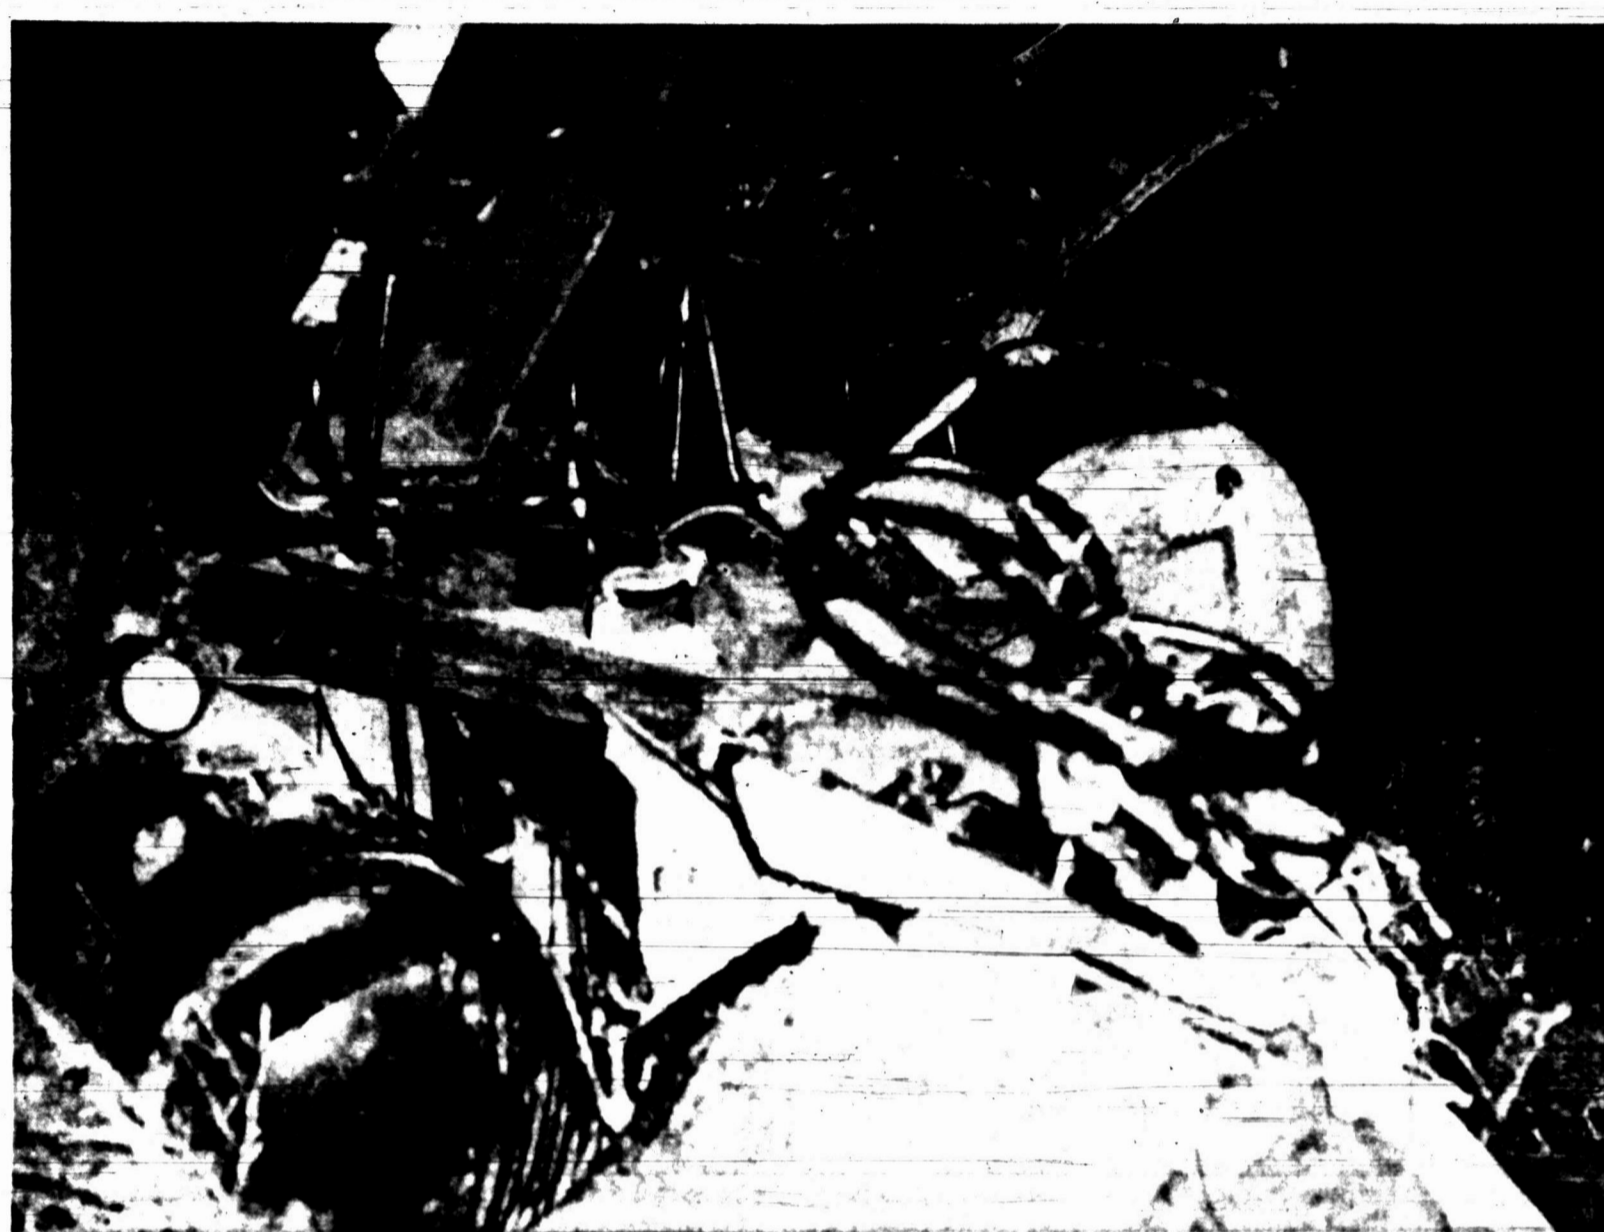

"Polar bears are naturally mean," a zoo official said at the time. "Why destroy one that follows his instincts?"

Wendt said there is no danger

OFFICERS FACE TRIAL

NUERNBERG, Germany (UPI) — Three former police officers will go on trial here May 13 on charges of murdering about 2,400 Jews in the Ukraine in 1942, it was announced Thursday. They are Joseph Paur, 64, Wilhelm Wacker, 63, and Otto Koeller, 55.

REMAINS OF WATER TRUCK CAB — Shown above are the remains of a J. T. Richardson water truck, which was struck late yesterday by a Santa Fe passenger train. The truck was driven by Ray Fitzer, 31, of Pampa. Fitzer jumped from the truck shortly before the accident but was not able to get clear of the tank. He suffered the loss of his right arm in the accident. Witnesses said Fitzer apparently did not see the train until just before it crashed into the truck. The large portion at the top of the picture is the back of the cab, and the steering wheel is in the foreground. Also shown at the far left is the gasoline tank. (Daily News Photo)

Underground Says 6,000 Red Troops Slipped In

MIAMI (UPI) — Cuban underground sources said today more than 6,000 Russian combat troops have slipped into Cuba recently to replace the Soviet forces that left the island earlier this year.

A report issued by the clandestine National Resistance Movement (MRN) also said Russian troops already in Cuba are being moved from known positions to out-of-the-way places.

The report also mentioned new activity by anti-Communist rebels in Pinar del Rio, Cuba's westernmost province. It reported activity in the Organ mountains, but gave no details.

The underground group said Russian troops have landed at several Cuban ports under cover of night and moved to such hidden bases as a vast underground barrack which the MRN says has been built in the Pinar town of Cayajabo.

Says He's 'Not Immortal'

Nikita Eyeing Retirement?

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nikita Khrushchev's reminder to the Russian people that he is not immortal lent weight today to speculation he might soon resign one of his top government and Communist party posts.

There was no official indication Khrushchev was under political pressure to make a change, but his public statements on his advancing age focused attention on his possible successors in the Kremlin.

The spotlight fell especially on Frol Kozlov, 54, a secretary of the powerful party central committee who is considered Khrushchev's heir apparent as party chief, the actual seat of power in the Soviet Union.

U.S. Officials Cautious
U.S. officials in Washington were reluctant to read too much into Khrushchev's remarks, but they sensed that the premier might soon decide to give up some

CANING BY INSTALLMENTS
DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (UPI) — The government will introduce drastic penalties for theft and corruption, including caning by installments. Home Minister Job Lusigide told Parliament Thursday. Cattle rustlers will be sentenced to three years in prison with 24 cane strokes at the rate of six every three months.

Pampan Injured In Train Collision Late Yesterday

A Santa Fe passenger train and a water-filled tank truck collided at a crossing five miles west of Pampa at 7:15 p. m. yesterday.

The train struck the truck, driven by Ray Fitzer, 31, of 600 N. Hazel, at the front section severing the cab from the tank, and carrying parts of the cab as far as a mile from the point of impact.

Fitzer leaped from the truck just before the train hit the cab, but was not able to jump clear of the tank. The driver's right arm was pinned under the wheels of the vehicle.

Fitzer's right arm was amputated shortly after arriving at North West Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

The speed of the train was estimated at approximately 80 miles per hour.

Fitzer is listed in good condition at the Amarillo Hospital today.

He is an employee of J. T. Richardson Trucking Company. He was carrying a load of salt water for use in a nearby oil well rig.

Americans Are Warned to Keep Off Streets

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — The U.S. Embassy has warned Americans to keep off the streets and to build up emergency supplies because of the possibility of further anti-government disturbances, informed sources said today.

Other Western embassies in Jordan were said to have issued similar warnings following a week of riots by supporters of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's Egypt, Syria and Iraq have plans for an Arab federation. Egypt, Syria and Iraq have agreed to merge into a federal state.

MIAMI (UPI) — A twin-engine plane, piloted by Cuban exiles, dropped several bombs on the outskirts of Havana Thursday night, reliable refugee sources here reported today.

The plane, described as a "commercial-type" craft, flew over Havana looking for a specific target. The target was not identified.

When the pilot failed to locate the assigned target, the bombs were dropped on the city's outskirts, the sources said.

According to the refugee sources, the plane took off from a "secret Caribbean base."

It was the first reported bombing of the Havana area by anti-Castro exiles since April 15, 1961, two days before the abortive Cuban invasion.

At that time, raiders hit the old Camp Columbia military base and San Antonio de los Baños airbase, about 30 miles outside Havana.

Sources who made the information available here said the attack occurred about 2:30 a. m.

The raiding plane apparently penetrated air defenses of the capital. It was not known if any anti-aircraft fire was directed against the plane.

Refugee sources said the raiders do not belong to any of the established exile "action" groups. Details of their identity were not disclosed.

Indications were, however, that there were not more than two men aboard the plane.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A former television newsman said today he took part in a bombing raid over Havana Thursday night in an effort to wipe out a big oil refinery.

Alexander Rorke said he and three other men dropped five home-made bombs on the Cuban capital. He said he and two of the others are Americans.

Rorke is a one-time NBC newsman who was imprisoned in Cuba after the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion two years ago. He said the raid hit the Esso and Shell refineries east of the historic Moro Castle.

He said the home-made bombs, including a 100-pounder, "didn't blow anything up."

Rorke, 36, said the raiders flew a twin-engine plane. He said (See AMERICANS, Page 3)

U.S. Jaycee Officer Slates Speech at Local Installation

Lewis Timberlake of Austin, 1961 state president and a vice president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker at tomorrow night's installation banquet of Pampa Jaycees in the Coronado Inn.

A reception for Timberlake is scheduled at 6 p. m. and the installation banquet will begin at 7 p. m., followed by a dance in the Inn's Starlight Room.

Doyle Green will be master of

Suspect Held In Slaying Of Postman

GADSDEN, Ala. (UPI) — Police held a father of six today for further questioning about the ambush slaying of a Baltimore postman hiking to Mississippi to plead for racial moderation.

Floyd L. Simpson, 40, was picked up Thursday after authorities learned he had talked with William L. Moore a few hours before Moore's body was found on a desolate stretch of U. S. 11 near here Tuesday night.

A friend and neighbor of Simpson, Gaddis Killian, 44, also was questioned by officers because he was with Simpson during the talk with Moore. Killian, a rural mail carrier, was not held.

U.S. Working on Hot Line in Spite Of Talk Deadlock

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States hoped to make some progress on a "hot-line" communications link between Moscow and Washington today despite the gloomy outlook on the nuclear test issue.

The "hot line" and other measures to reduce the risk of war were on the agenda for today's plenary session of the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Informed sources said the Soviet Union has shown sufficient interest in the communications link during bilateral talks with the United States during the last three weeks to suggest that quick agreement on technical details may be possible.

The Russians already have agreed to the principle of direct communications as one means of reducing the risk of nuclear war by accident. Discussion of the project began in Geneva before the one-week Easter recess.

The United States plans to send technical experts to the talks next week to work out the practical details. The Russians have not yet announced whether they will follow suit.

U.S. sources said there would be no point in American scientists coming to Geneva unless they had someone to negotiate with.

The question of a nuclear test ban was not expected to be raised today. Delegates to the conference were gloomy over the possibility of a breakthrough in the current test ban deadlock despite Anglo-American proposals delivered to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in Moscow.

Lewis Timberlake ... National vice president

Peru Assignment: Latin America

(Second of Series)
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
LIMA, PERU — The Andes Mountains rise in a jagged, saw-toothed jumble at Lima's back, dividing Peru into three worlds, the coast, the high sierra and the jungle.

Lima, a mixture of the new and an ancient Spanish culture, lies on the first of these, the coast. It is the home of Julio Danta, a bright-eyed youngster who hopes to become a petroleum engineer.

Andres Quisbe, a direct descendent of the Incas, lives in the second, the high sierra. He is one of six million who live in misery on pennies per day. Quisbe is addicted to the coca leaf, the source of cocaine, and he has no hope.

But he is stirred by a vague and sometimes violent unrest.

The third world is the sparsely populated jungle, still in pre-historic days, its riches still untapped.

These are the worlds that Peru must unite if it is to fulfill its future and escape the shadow of communism which seeks to engulf it. And time is pressing hard.

Gets U.S. Aid
Peru's allocations from the Alliance for Progress so far total $123 million, much of which has not yet been used by Peru's caretaker military government. But the government is instituting land and government reforms and has promised free elections for June 9 to restore democratic processes interrupted by a bloodless coup last July.

Immense wealth is concentrated in Lima, most of it in the hands of a few families. But there also is a burgeoning middle class emerging in an economy which is among the most diversified and stable in all of South America.

Here there is no runaway inflation. The rise in the cost of living has been limited to one or two per cent per year. Gross national product is advancing at a rate of better than five per cent a year, comparing favorably with most countries of the world.

New Industry Grows

In the last four or five years a new industry, fishing, has come to Peru. Fish meal pours an annual $100 million into the Peruvian economy and is now Peru's No. 1 export.

Contributing nearly as much are cotton and copper. Also high on the list are petroleum and sugar.

These are the symbols of Peru's wealth. But symbols of her poverty are the adobe shacks which stretch out endlessly on the barren sands sloping downward toward the Pacific and Lima's port of Callao.

An Alliance for Progress housing project is going up here for the relief of Lima's slum-dwellers. It is called Ventanilla and is designed eventually to house 25,000 people. Some 2,000 are there now.

But the $30 million project is 15 miles from the city and transportation is poor. Many who need it most cannot travel that far.

Nation's Chief Concern
Andres Quisbe's village is called Huancarani. It is 20 miles from Cuzco, two and a half hours by air and centuries away from Lima.

Quisbe's diet, such as it is, is a monotonous repitition of corn, barley, beans and such tubers as the potato or the oca.

His solace is the coca leaf. Through centuries of descending misery, Quisbe has been Peru's forgotten man, laboring for pennies on the cattle, coffee, tea or wheat plantations and living in huts amid the filth of his animals.

Quisbe is the No. 1 concern of the military junta. And of the Lima politicians.

Better Days Ahead
Quisbe's poverty is less than that of some, and a better life may be on the way.

In La Convencion Province of Cuzco Department, in late March, the government began distribution of 6,000 acres of land taken over under the land reform program. More will follow and along with it will come teachers to supply modern methods and pools of farm machinery to work the land more efficiently.

Among the 200 U.S. Peace Corps workers in Peru, approximately 40 are assigned to the Cuzco area. Primarily they work now under the U.S. Food for Peace program. Later will come teachers and engineers.

At another day will come roads into the Andes valleys and into the jungle. And on that day, Peru will begin the union of its three worlds.

Father Carries Gun, Bible, Child

HOUSTON (UPI)—A 34-year-old bicycle repairman painted a crude red cross on the pavement of a busy Houston street today, then waved a gun and a Bible at startled onlookers.

He painted the cross on the spot where his youngest son died in a traffic accident on North Loop two years ago. He carried another son, completely naked, in his arms.

He had painted on his car two signs reading, "Who killed my kids? How does the law work?"

The man threw down the gun as officers approached. He barricaded himself in his living quarters behind his repair shop for half an hour. Officers finally persuaded him to surrender.

His three children, two entirely naked and a third dressed in skimpy clothing, were taken to Jefferson Davis Hospital.

The father was held for investigation. No charge was filed.

DOLA, W. Va.—Steve Canonico, vice president of the Clinchfield Coal Co., referring to the fatalities of 22 men trapped by an explosion inside the firm's 2 mine: "They seem to be taking it well. They appear hopeful that their relatives will be found safe."

Russians Afforded Birds-Eye View Of Rocket Launch

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—If they looked back over their shoulders, a group of Russians caught a spectacular view afforded few Americans—a bird's-eye view of a U. S. rocket firing.

They were in the right place at the right time—aboard a high-flying Soviet jet airplane off the east coast of Florida just as a U.S. Pershing missile blasted away from Cape Canaveral.

Whether the Russians actually saw the rocket as it streaked 200 miles in a successful test was unknown. But the Pershing left a brilliant, white vapor trail that could be seen for scores of miles.

The Federal Aviation Agency in Miami indicated the Soviet plane was en route from Moscow to Havana on a course flown by the Russians roughly twice a week.

On this particular occasion, it happened to be winging through an offshore warning area that the U. S. Air Force had set up as a safety measure for the Pershing launching.

American radar tracked the jet, and the FAA confirmed that it was one of the regular Russian aircraft. A "hold" of about 20 minutes was called in the Pershing countdown until the airplane cleared the area.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—It has taken three years, but Fort Worth police say they now have found everything except the radio and hub caps of a car stolen in 1960.

The engine was found in one automobile, the front end assembly and hood on another, and the wheels on a third. The stolen bucket seats were found in a garage.

Resolution Would Create Monument Near Amarillo

Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., introduced a resolution to create a national monument preserving the Alibates Flint Quarries and Pueblo ruins near Amarillo, Tex.

The quarries and ruins are to be acquired by the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, which has offered to donate the site to the National Park Service as a national monument.

Yarborough said the quarries were a source of flint for weapons and tools for the North American Indian for thousands of years. The Pueblo is said to be the only such ruin in Texas, and perhaps the easternmost structure of its type in the nation.

Yarborough also released the text of a letter sent to the Bureau of Reclamation urging that the bureau take steps to fence off the Franklin Canal which runs through El Paso.

He told Reclamation Commissioner Floyd E. Dornay that two children drowned in the canal this year, and there have been similar deaths in previous years.

The senator said the unfenced canal constituted an "attractive nuisance," and asked that the bureau "request an adequate appropriation from Congress" to fence off the canal. Yarborough said he would support fully such an appropriation request.

Wall Street In Review

Standard & Poor's says that considering the pace and extent of the advance, the stock market may well require at least a brief period of consolidation before it moves ahead further. Increasing selectivity is desirable, but S&P does not anticipate more than technical corrections.

After sounding highly bullish for the past nine months, Investors' graph Stock Survey says it should begin to sound the warning that we only think the market is worth about 740 and 750. As the market approaches that level it can be expected to become more and more selective and less interested in general market participation.

Schmitzer Invites Engineer to Talk To Commissioners

City Manager Harold Schmitzer today sent a letter to the consultant engineering firm of Forrest & Cotton in Dallas asking that a representative be sent back to Pampa to explain to new city commissioners, recommendations for the city's sewer system improvement as contained in a recent survey by the company.

The Forrest & Cotton recommendations called for a new sewage treatment plant, modification of the existing plant and for new sewer lines, all for a total expenditure of $660,000.

The city manager said in his letter to Forrest & Cotton that he wanted to have the three new city commissioners briefed on the water and sewer study report, especially with reference to the sewer system improvements.

"Since the city commission has postponed action on the water and sewer rates," Schmitzer said, "I feel that we should get started on the sewer improvements so that general obligations bonds can be issued for this work."

The city manager pointed out that the sewer program was one that needs immediate action from a health standpoint.

Schmitzer said that twice recently he has had complaints about the septic condition of the effluent below the treating plant.

Upon investigation with Public Works Director R. B. Cooke and City Water Supt. E. S. Lowry, the city manager stated, conditions were found to be much worse than expected.

gave no hint as to when he might step down. They took a cautious approach in evaluating the premier's remarks.

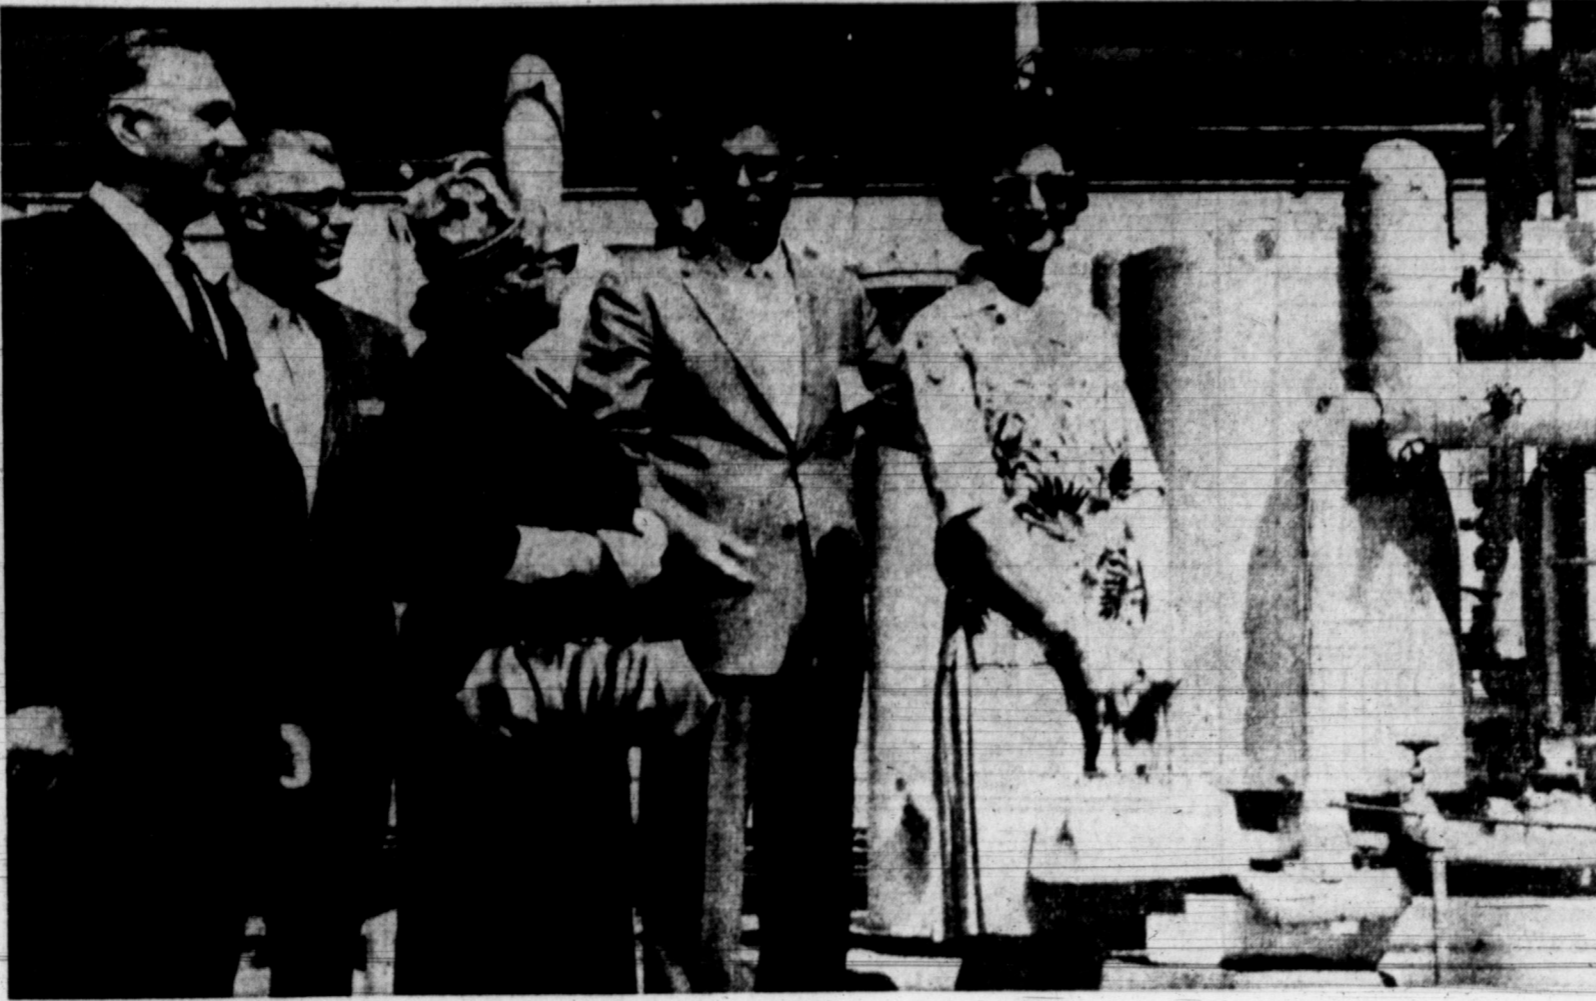

Although Khrushchev has mentioned in the past that "we shall all die some time and we must prepare new leaders," Wednesday's speech was the first time he particularly referred to his separate positions as first secretary of the party and head of the government.

The reference gave new impetus to recent reports abroad that Khrushchev is in political hot water at home or is thinking of giving up some of his duties to concentrate on one job stemmed from a dispatch in L'Unita, official Communist party newspaper in Italy, indicating rumblings in the Kremlin.

Observers here have detected no signs that Khrushchev is losing his firm control, despite persistent farm deficiencies, over-extension of the country's resources, the dispute with Red China and resistance to party control among Russia's intellectuals.

Senate Passes Annexation Bill; Waits House Action

AUSTIN (UPI) — The House passed annexation bill was approved by the Senate Thursday, with minor amendments, and sent back to the House for concurrence.

Hartwood failed to get an amendment adopted that would have required cities to provide water and sewage to annexed areas or let them de-annex.

He said annexation without services was "just like what caused the Boston Tea Party—taxation without representation." He recalled a picture he had seen of an annexed area in the Rio Grande Valley. He said there was not a single house in view.

The bill would give cities jurisdiction over areas of land surrounding them. The width of these areas would range from one-half mile in small cities up to five miles in large cities.

The cities would then be required to provide "governmental and proprietary" services in these bands comparable to that provided in similar areas in the city. If such services are not provided, the areas would be permitted to petition for de-annexation.

Under the bill, the cities could contract to keep industry from being taxed in some respects.

Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard guided the measure through the Senate. He amended the bill with a requirement that annexations pending on March 15 or passed thereafter must conform to the bill.

sis in the Southeast Asian kingdom. Soviet newspapers claimed that U.S. interference provoked the latest fighting between rival Laotian factions.

After the meeting with Gromyko, Harriman was asked if he was optimistic about chances of finding a diplomatic settlement of the crisis.

"We have talked about events in Laos," he replied. "We both assured each other that our governments are determined to do all they can to assure the independence and neutrality of Laos."

Harriman arrived Thursday from London as President Kennedy's personal representative to try to enlist the Kremlin's help in restoring peace and stability to Laos.

Russia and Britain are co-chairmen of the 1962 Geneva conference which ended the Laotian civil war, established a coalition government under Premier Souvanna Phouma, and guaranteed the tiny nation's independence and neutrality.

American sources said Harriman intended to remind Khrushchev of his pledge to Kennedy to cooperate in maintaining Souvanna's government and safeguarding Laos' independence and neutrality. Khrushchev made the commitment when the two leaders met in Vienna in 1961.

Cabot's Common Offered Public At $41.50 Share

A 296,560-share ($12,307,240) secondary offering of Cabot Corp. common stock reached the market at $41.50 a share, it was announced in yesterday's Wall Street Journal.

It was the first public offering of the company's common stock. Carl M. Loeb, Rhoades & Co. and White, Weld & Co., managed the underwriting.

According to the financial newspaper, proceeds will accrue to selling stockholders, not the company.

Cabot, with one of its main plants here in Pampa, makes carbon black, natural gas, oil field pumping equipment, gun barrels and other products.

Rescue Teams Find 3 Dead in Mine Depths

DOLA, W. Va. (UPI) — The bodies of three miners were found today deep inside an explosion-riddled Clinchfield Coal Co. mine near here. Rescue teams raced time to reach 19 men still missing and sealed off far below ground.

Discovery of the bodies did not bode well for the missing men, veteran mine officials indicated.

The three bodies were not found in what was known as the working area. They were located in a hallway near an entry where one main group of miners were believed trapped.

Announcement of discovery of two bodies was made by Harry George McKay, executive vice president of the coal company. Minutes later, a state mines department source said a third body had been found.

The men were trapped 330 feet below ground late Thursday night by an explosion caused by methane gas or coal dust.

Thirty Reach Safety

Thirty other men were working the same night shift in other sections of the mine and felt the shock wave of the blast, but scampered to safety on the surface.

The scene of the apparent disaster was only a few miles from Monongah, W. Va., where on Dec. 6, 1909, 361 miners lost their lives in this nation's worst mine disaster.

Covered With Dust

A veteran miner at the scene said the men who made it safely to the surface were covered with rock dust. He said this could indicate an explosion of major proportions. Officials added that a rockfall also may have occurred.

"Twenty-two men are trapped," company Vice President Steve Canonico reported shortly after the accident occurred at about 11 p.m. He confirmed that the explosion was caused either by methane gas or coal dust.

"We didn't blow any whistle (after the explosion occurred)," Canonico said. "Quite a few (men) got out safely and they passed the word around. Word travels fast at a time like this."

400 Try to Halt Forest Fire

RUIDOSO, N.M. (UPI) — A band of 400 firefighters, aided by a rainstorm, worked into the morning hours today in an effort to "fully control" a 250-acre fire in Lincoln National Forest.

The workers succeeded Thursday night in containing the blaze, which spread during a windy evening in the Bonita Lake area of the rugged forest. A U.S. Forest Service spokesman said late Thursday "we're going to make every effort to fully control the fire."

He said relief crews, several pumpers and six bulldozers were at the scene. The fire broke out Wednesday afternoon, and came within 10 miles of Ruidoso before its progress was stopped.

There were no reports of injuries or of damage to buildings.

AIR TRAFFIC CLIMBS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Passenger traffic on the nation's domestic scheduled airlines climbed 6 per cent in the first quarter of 1963, the Air Transport Association ATA reported Thursday.

January-March revenue passenger miles totaled 8.4 billion compared with 8 billion in the same period of last year, ATA said. Load factor percentage of available seats sold, however, dropped from 52.3 per cent in the first quarter of 1962 to 50 per cent this year.

The possibility that disaster had struck plunged the town's population of 200 persons into gloom.

The most recent mine disaster in this coal mining state occurred on March 8, 1960 when 18 men lost their lives at a mine near Logan, W. Va.

And West Virginia holds the dubious distinction of suffering the nation's worst coal mine disaster. It occurred at Monongah on Dec. 6, 1907, when 361 men were killed.

Records show that since 1869 a total of 779 persons have died in West Virginia mine disasters.

Showers Continue In Parts of Texas; Mild Weather Due

By United Press International

Fog blanketed the low lands and drizzle and rain continued today in North Texas. A stationary front shielded South Texas from the precious moisture.

The front was posted along a Lufkin-Waco-Abilene-Lubbock line.

Showers fell in North Texas for the fourth consecutive day, this time along the Red River, while rain actively increased during the morning in the western Panhandle.

North of the front, temperatures remained mild, generally in the 50s in the Panhandle, South Plains and along the Red River, and 60s elsewhere.

South of the front, where a man died of a heat stroke Thursday at San Antonio, overnight low temperatures were in the high 60s and low to middle 70s.

Forecasts called for mostly cloudy, mild weather with scattered showers through Saturday over the northern half of the state.

Extended five-day forecasts called for temperatures to be 2 to 5 degrees above normal throughout the state with Southeast Texas the only area besides North Texas due to get appreciable moisture.

The showers cooled off North Texas, but the mercury soared to near 100 degrees Thursday in the south. Laredo reported 99 degrees, Presidio 98 and San Angelo and Junction 95. Dalhart had only a 76.

Poque Zapata Rincon, 57, a laborer for the city of San Antonio collapsed while working. Doctors said he died from a heat stroke. The maximum at San Antonio was 98.

Two other persons died Thursday in weather-attributed accidents.

Rocky Blasts JFK Proposal; Offers One of His Own

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said Thursday night that President Kennedy's European nuclear defense policy will lead to "chaos" and proposed, instead, one of his own.

Rockefeller, who many believe will face Kennedy in 1964 as the Republican presidential candidate, urged the United States to help Europe create a nuclear arsenal and strategy that can be coordinated with our own.

He called for "a North Atlantic political arrangement within which nuclear weapons can be controlled and deployed for the common good of all free people."

Such an arrangement, he said, could be achieved through creation of a "genuine political partnership of strong and independent nations committed to sharing agreed nuclear responsibilities for the common defense of the Atlantic area."

Rockefeller, in a dinner address to the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA), said the Kennedy administration "has talked a great deal about partnership, (but) it is treating our friends of the Atlantic alliance as dependent allies rather than independent partners."

"The administration in its policies and actions has, in fact, been extremely ambivalent; in the economic field, it has talked of equal partnership, of the importance of European integration and of common European action, but in the nuclear field, it has discouraged the emergence of any European identity."

The GOP governor said the administration has tended "to blur the realities with which we must deal, to obscure the problem of proud and strong allies seeking a measure of self-reliance for their own defense, and as a result to avoid the political solutions which must be devised."

Lowly Yawn Receives Oscar From Actress

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Beauty Editor

Forget the tranquilizers and learn to yawn to help steady your jangled nerves. This is the advice of socialite-actress Dina Merrill, who commutes between New York and Hollywood for television and movie assignments. Married to industrialist Stanley Rumbough Jr., and mother of three growing children, she finds herself pulled from pillar to post on more than one occasion, as most housewives do today.

Miss Merrill says she discovered her "yawn therapy" while riding in a New York cab.

"Now when I begin to feel tense or nervous during especially busy days, I work up a yawn. Discreetly, of course."

"She points out that this is like stretching on the inside, and relaxes her completely. She also uses deep breathing as a relaxer. These apparently simple approaches to brushing aggravations aside are in her daily regimen that has become a part of her life.

She is firmly convinced that a well-rounded diet, adequate sleep and exercise have made her what she is today. She is trying to pass her views, especially on good eating habits, to her daughter and two sons.

"You've got to stoke the engine to keep it going," she says. "The worst thing a person can do is to miss breakfast. There is no such thing as not having time to eat breakfast. I make time." She says she is a bacon-and-eggs type, and had two eggs each morning while making-up for a movie.

Since she plays tennis twice a week, winter and summer, she does not have a daily exercise program. For nonathletes, she recommends working the kinks out with some form of daily exercise.

Blonde Dina Merrill appears as a brunette (inset) in a new movie. As a brunette, she discovered the hair change required new make-up and a new wardrobe.

In her latest movie, "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," she appears as a brunette.

How did she feel as a brunette? "I still felt like a blonde," she says.

However, she reports that her "blonde" clothes and make-up were completely overpowered by her brunette hair and accompanying more vivid make-up. Both the color and the cut of her clothes for the movie had to be different.

She points out that this is a factor all women should consider when they change their hair coloring, or purchase a wig of a color different from their natural hair color.

A complete make-up and wardrobe change is essential to complete the impact you want to make with your totally different hair color.

Dear Abby...

Hot Remarks On Air Refrigeration

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You were wrong when you said "the customer is always right" in regard to the air-conditioning in a restaurant. It is far easier to get customers than it is to get a good waitress. If the waitress wants it cooler, we make it cooler. And we serve hot coffee for the customers who need it.

IN BUSINESS 30 YEARS

DEAR ABBY: Just read the complaint from CHILLED. I have been an air-conditioning engineer for years so can speak with some authority on the subject. In eating places where the hostess stands still, she is cold. The waitress who rushes around is hot. The customers are both cold and hot. On ships, the woman with the baby says you are giving her baby pneumonia. The man in the next stateroom says it is so stifling he is getting seasick.

Nuts to everybody!
WALT, THE SOURPUSS ENGINEER

DEAR ABBY: One of my sons has been taking money from my purse since childhood. He is now 18 and is about to graduate from high school. We are still unable to leave money around without having it "disappear." He seldom admits to taking it, but there is no question about his guilt. We've tried reasoning with him, punishing him and even increasing his allowance. Nothing works. Can you suggest any other methods to break him of this habit?

ANXIOUS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Psychiatrists tell us that many youngsters steal money because they feel cheated of love or affection. The money fills the real or imagined void. Your son appears to need professional help.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DISAPPOINTED FATHER: If you will pull a few wires while your children are growing up, you won't have to pull any strings to get them into a "good" college. (Suggested wires to pull: television, hi-fi and telephone.)

The Mature Parent

Overworked Mother

Often A Martyr

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: We have two girls, age 12 and 15. Neither ever lifts a hand to do anything around the house. Though I work with their father all day at our store, I have to shop and cook supper, too, when I get home. Then, when washing up has to be done, they have to get to their homework. Last night when I got home I found their breakfast dishes still in the sink.

ANSWER: Maybe your girls seem to do nothing for their home because you do too much.

If we are an overworking parent like you, we are apt to develop blindness to what our children do to help us. Our resentment at the too many tasks we feel obliged to perform makes the fewer ones performed by our children seem like nothing.

The solution to our problem is knowing that we're resentful of overwork—and stopping it.

It's not an easy solution. We may enjoy overworking as much as we resent it. Indeed, we may really want no relief, and have discouraged our children from offering any. We may need to overwork to maintain our sense of ourselves as the only competent "doer" in the family. By doing much more than our share, we silently declare, "See, I am much more unselfish and able than you are."

Usually, overworking parents prefer exhausting themselves to giving up this comforting belief. They continue to enjoy their sense of superiority and express their resentment by complaints and disparagement of what other members of their families do.

Could they stand living without their comforting belief in their superiority, the answer would be simple. They'd acknowledge their resentment of overwork to their children and say, "I want you two girls to get together on shopping and preparing meals for us. You can alternate these jobs between you every week. How about it? I'll help all I can. I'm so sick of overworking that I certainly don't want to overwork you, but if we all get together nobody will be overworked. We can begin to live fun..."

For removing grease spots from clothes, try rubbing them lightly with table salt which has been dissolved in ammonia.

New Potato Has Taste Of Spring

The fresh new crop of potatoes has the taste of spring. Remember, also, they are a good and inexpensive source of vitamin C, an important fact now that the price of citrus fruit (rich in vitamin C) is high because of the recent freeze in Florida and California.

NEW POTATOES, RISSOLE (6 servings)

1 1/2 pounds small new potatoes
1 inch boiling water in saucepan
1 teaspoon salt

1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk

3/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper

Wash potatoes, scrape or pare, or if desired, cook in the jackets. Place in saucepan with 1-inch boiling water and the 1 teaspoon salt. Cover and bring to boiling point. Boil until partially tender, 10 to 15 minutes. Drain if necessary, and place potatoes in a shallow pan and dot with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Bake, uncovered, 15 minutes or until tender in a hot oven (425 degrees), turning once. In the meantime, melt the remaining 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a saucepan. Blend in flour. Gradually stir in 1 cup milk. Cook over medium heat until medium thickness, stirring constantly. Add remaining salt and black pepper. Pour over potatoes. Garnish with fresh parsley.

BROWNED NEW POTATOES (6 servings, 2 small potatoes each)

1 1/2 pounds small new potatoes
1 inch boiling water in saucepan
1 teaspoon salt

3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Thoroughly wash new potatoes. Do not peel. Cook until almost tender in a covered saucepan containing 1-inch boiling water and 1 teaspoon salt. Drain potatoes and place in a shallow baking dish or pan. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Bake in a preheated oven (400 degrees) until potatoes are brown and the skins are crisp, about 25 minutes.

56TH YEAR FRIDAY/APRIL 26, 1963

Lee, Pampa Juniors In District Action

A rash of injuries has almost crippled Lee Junior High for tomorrow's district track meet at Dumas, reported coaches Lester Ramsey and Don Myers.

Ted McIvain, the Rebels' top hope in the 440 will have to be scratched, several others are doubtful starters, and Jesse Dean Reed, who has been plagued all season with a hip injury, will be a question mark. Jesse Dean, top point-getter for the Rebels this year, was unable to compete at Amarillo last week end, and without his services, the Rebels have little chance, said the Lee track mentors.

Coaches Howard Moore and Paul Boswell of Pampa Junior High said they have avoided the injury jinx fairly well this year, but have lost a lot of boys who dropped

Alston's Faith in Fairly Pays Off

By United Press International

They can second guess Walter Alston all they want but they'll never accuse the strong, silent manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers of failing to stand up for a player he likes.

A case in point today is Ron Fairly, 24-year-old Georgian, who has bounced around between outfield and first base the last two years but who almost always somewhere for Alston. He's short on glamour but the thing Alston likes about him is that he's long on base hits.

Fairly was hitting only .200 after 10 games this season but he's collected 11 hits in his last 24 at bats for a .458 average and it's no coincidence that the Dodgers seem to be straightening away with three straight victories and five wins in their last six games.

Fairly drove in four runs with a homer, double and single Thursday night as the Dodgers downed the Cincinnati Reds 7-1 to give ex-New York Met right-hander R. L. Miller (#12 in 1962) his second victory of the season.

Giants Belt Cards

The San Francisco Giants whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4, the Houston Colts defeated the Milwaukee Braves 7-5 and the New York Mets beat the Chicago Cubs 3-2, in Thursday's other National League action.

John Roseboro and Willie Davis joined Fairly in hitting homers to help hand 21-game winner Joey Jay of the Reds his fourth consecutive loss of 1963. Miller, the hard luck pitcher of the hard-luck Mets last season, went the distance with a five-hitter and lowered his earned run average to 1.14. His two victories equal

Youth Center Sports

The Pampa Youth and Community Center held their first ping pong tournament last week and the results are as follows:

In the first round Bennie Shackelford won over Jake Webb.

In the quarter finals Jeff Cohane won over David Ganiz; John Thomas over Pete Erwin; Phillip Duncan over Ole Karbo; and Bennie Shackelford won over Gary Frasher.

In the semi-finals John Thomas eliminated Jeff Cohane and Bennie Shackelford won over Phillip Duncan.

In the finals John Thomas took gold medal honors over Bennie Shackelford.

The Youth Center will sponsor additional ping pong tournaments in the near future. These will consist of age group tournaments, doubles, singles in girls divisions, and mixed doubles. Those interested should watch the Center daily schedule and bulletin board at the Center.

Steve Barber Hottest Pitcher In AL Now

By United Press International

If Steve Barber really can't throw a strawberry through a locomotive why can't he pitch the Baltimore Orioles to the 1963 American League pennant?

Baltimore pitching coach Harry Breechen insists the home-grown, 24-year-old left-hander can do the former and a surprising number of AL experts think he might just also accomplish the latter.

In any event, the 6-foot, 190-pound left-hander, who was a weekend pitcher for the Orioles in 1962 when he was a private in the Army, is the hottest pitcher in baseball right now.

Strikes Out Seven

Barber became the major league's first four-game winner of 1963 Thursday night when he flame-threw a typical game — allowing seven hits and striking out seven — to give the Orioles a 3-2 10-inning triumph over the Kansas City Athletics. The victory vaulted the Orioles into sole possession of first place and strengthened their claims to consideration as a season-long flag contender.

Jack Kralick pitched a three-hitter to give the Minnesota Twins a 3-0 victory over the Washington Senators and the Los Angeles Angels hit four homers to down the Detroit Tigers 7-5 in Thursday's only other American League action.

Gentle's Homer Wins

Barber, 9-6 last season, gained victory No. 4 of 1963 when Jim Gentile belted relief pitcher John Wyatt for a 10th-inning homer.

Al Smith's two-run homer had provided the Orioles with their other two runs.

Kralick, who had lost his first three 1963 decisions allowed only one Senator base-runner to go as far as third and struck out five batters. Kralick tripled and scored the Twins' first run on a single by Lennie Green in the third inning. Rich Rollins homered for the Twins.

Leon Wagner hit two homers and Ken Hunt and Bob Rodgers one each to lead a 10-hit Los Angeles attack that brought relief pitcher Julio Navarro his second win. The loser was Hank Aguirre, who was tagged for five runs and six hits in three innings.

Travis Takes Sixth Grade Track Meet

Travis elementary school edged Houston, 78 points to 76, to win the annual sixth grade track meet yesterday. Baker was third with 35 points, Wilson had 35 points, Austin 29 points, Lamar 26 and Mann 11.

The seventh grade district meet will be held at 3 p.m. today at the high school practice field. Hosts Pampa and Lee Junior High will take on Austin and Houston at Borger, Dumas, Perryton and Phillips.

Only one new record was set in yesterday's meet, a 6.65 run by Howard Colcoat of Travis, in the preliminaries of the 50-yard dash. Colcoat finished fourth in the finals, however, with Monty Middleton of Wilson winning in 7-0.

Mike Cooper of Houston was high point man in the meet with 28 points and Gary Parish of Travis had 22.

Cook Releases Reports on Grid Gambling

ATLANTA (UPI)—Georgia Attorney General Eugene Cook Thursday released a report on his efforts to determine if any big bets were placed on last year's Alabama-Georgia football game.

The report indicated that Cook's findings into the gambling angle of the Butts-Bryant controversy were not conclusive.

The attorney general is investigating charges made in a national magazine article that former University of Georgia athletic director Wallace Butts gave secret football information to Alabama coach Paul Bryant before last year's game, which Alabama won 35-0.

Cook investigated the report at the request of Gov. Carl Sanders and in an earlier statement concluded that Butts gave Bryant information that could have affected the outcome of the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game.

Both Butts and Bryant have denied the charges and have filed multimillion dollar libel suits against the Saturday Evening Post which published the article entitled "The Story of a Football Fix — A Shocking Report of How Wally Butts and Bear Bryant Rigged a Game Last Fall."

The new Cook report quoted University of Georgia Comptroller J. D. Bolton as saying he first learned of the reported incident from Georgia coach Johnny Griffith. He said it happened in an Atlanta hotel room 3-n '64 during

Jerry Glover Aiming for District Batting Honors

Season and district batting statistics compiled by Harvester coach Ray Howard show Jerry Glover in strong competition for the league batting title. The tall All-District pitcher-third baseman is hitting .493 on the season and .486 in district play, having moved ahead of Bill McFee of Tascosa when the Reb batter was stopped cold by Jerry Garrison last week. Glover leads the Harvesters in runs-batted-in with 30, runs scored with 19, doubles with 11, triples with four, home runs with two and has stolen four bases. In district play, Jerry has 13 RBIs, 10 runs and 17 hits, with four doubles and three triples.

Philip Smith, who has come up fast in the last few games to see regular duty, is hitting a hot .455 in district, with .353 on the season.

Smith has become the team's number one pinch hitter, and is now competing for regular action at third base.

Left-fielder Jerry Garrison, who went four-for-four against Amarillo to move the Harvesters into third place in the district, is piling .357 in district and .347 overall. Jerry is second in runs scored with 16, and the speedy southpaw has snatched five bases.

Kenny Hebert, who has gotten red-hot in the Pampa three-game win streak, has pushed his district average up to .310 and his season average to .325. He is tied for second in successful stolen bases with eight and has nine RBIs.

Eugene "El Bandido" Madrid has dropped under the .300 mark for the first time this season, with .275 on the year and .250 in district, but the peerless flycatcher and ballhawk still is eight-for-eight in the stolen base department.

Larry "Shofgun" Gregory is hitting only .245, but his hits are for power, with 11 RBIs, second only to Glover, four doubles, a home run and five stolen bases.

First sacker Ricky Maynard has dropped to .220, but has eight RBIs. Third baseman Ken Collins, a good gloveman, has started to connect with the ball and moved his average up to .261 in district play.

Second sacker Ricky Stewart has dropped to .207, but leads the team in stolen bases with nine, five in district play.

Steve Molberg, who was hitting a hefty .348 until he broke his thumb just before district started, has had the cast removed. Although it is doubtful whether he will be in shape to play regularly yet, his potent bat will add powerful bench support to the Harvester cause.

Glover, with a 5-5 season record and a 4-3 district mark, has done the bulk of the Pampa pitching, hurling 62 1-3 innings, 32 1-3 in district. He has a district ERA of 2.16 and a season mark of 2.24. He has walked 29 batters, given up 55 hits, but made up for both with a total of 78 strikeouts.

Jim Arthur, number two hurler on the squad, has pitched 34 innings, has a 2.28 ERA on the season and 3.63 in district. He has walked 17, given up 28 hits and struck out 44.

The left-handed Garrison, who in addition to starting, has formed a "Ford - Arroyo" combo with Arthur, has hurled 13 2-3 innings, 9-2-3 in loop play, has a district ERA of 1.44, given up only eight hits and six walks while whiffing 10 batters.

Carl Harnsberger, who has worked both as a starter and reliever,

Top Area Racing Drivers At Lake McClellan Sunday

Top race drivers from three states will be competing in the boat race to be held at Lake McClellan Sunday beginning at 1 p.m. The race, sponsored jointly by the Pampa and Borger Boat and Ski Clubs, will be divided into classes according to type of boat and class of horsepower.

Dale Brumley, formerly of Pampa and now living in Amarillo, will be back to defend his Class X title (.86 to 100 hp.) won on New Year's Day. Dale has been racing for three years and has won a majority of his races. He will be driving a boat owned by Leo Moore of Pampa, the same craft he won his previous local title in.

Other Pampans who will compete in Class X are D. H. Caswell, in his second race, and Dale Southard, a veteran driver who has moved up from smaller power motors. Top contender for Brumley's title is expected to be Bryan Ralls of Borger, who has been running neck-and-neck with Brumley as the pair split the honors in their last four races.

Richie Gardner of Pampa will be going for an unprecedented triple win, using his racing shell and 60 horse motor to compete in Class B (41-60 hp.), Class D (61-70 hp.) and Class F (71 tp 85 hp.). Richie has been racing for four years and is defending Class B title.

In the unlimited class—anything goes as long as it is an outboard motor — some of the top racing boats and drivers in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma will be competing, including several state titlists and national contenders.

The races start with Class A—up to 40 horsepower, and anyone is eligible to enter the race.

Explaining The Auto To Moon Men

We seem to be preoccupied with how much foreigners love us Americans — if, indeed, they love us at all. Our foreign policy, simplified, appears to reduce itself to this agonizing consideration: Does everybody love us, and if not, why not?

The corollary reads: If they don't love us, how much will it cost to make them adore the ugly American?

We'd better start worrying pretty quick what the people on Mars and Venus and perhaps the moon are going to think of us, too; and how much will it cost to make them love us the way the Africans and the Europeans and the Canadians do?

How are we going to explain to them, for example, the apparent cussedness of the genus Americanus who, as soon as he gets what he wants, finds out he doesn't want it at all?

There is at hand the matter of the stick shift. A stick shift, you oldsters recall, is a lever sticking up out of the floorboards of an automobile. It's purpose was to shift the gears from lower to higher, and sometimes to reverse, positions. In the early-early days, the stick shift was a formidable affair. You grasped it with all the strength and fortitude at your command; at a certain speed, you engaged the clutch and began a series of frontal attacks, now pushing ahead, now feigning, now going around the flank, now standing still. The purpose was to get the gear from first to second without a grinding that would wake the dead and scare the horses.

The brutal method — damn the rpm's, men, full speed ahead! — was to shove the gear into second with a terrible finality, as if to show that Marmon (that was a car, boy!) that the driver intended to keep his beast at heel. There was the expected growl, scream and chattering of protesting gears as they went into an enforced mesh.

There was another or sneak-attack method. You judged the rpm's best suited for the enmeshment of the gears and tried to slide into second. A smooth and silent transition brought grins and nods from the girls in the back seat.

How much did Detroit spend to perfect the synchromesh gear? Who knows? But in due time there arrived on the automotive scene a gear which meshed silently — no whang, clang or bang. Certainly this was an accomplishment to rank alongside the self-starter.

Years passed, more millions spent. The gear shift goes from the floor to the steering post. No more stick shift except on the strictly economy car.

More years pass. Free wheeling. No clutch shifting. Then, automatic transmissions. You just sit there and push down on the gas pedal.

The stick shift is strictly for salesmen's cars. Nobody in his right mind would want one on the family bus, especially the missus. And now 1963. And What?

The stick shift, you can have a stick shift on your car. The same kind Detroit spent those millions getting rid of. Suddenly, it is a status symbol to shift gears, matrons want to shift gears, everybody is on a gear-shift binge. Back to the Marmon. Who'll be first to order a Stutz Bearcat? A Moon? A Hippomobile? A Rocket? How about a LaSalle 167? Or a Packard 127?

Anticipating these trends can make a man a bit of money. What's next? Isinglass curtains? Dusters? Goggles? Touring coats? Side-mounts?

Whoever has these in stock might be the new Billie Sol Estes millionaire. But how much will it cost the taxpayer to explain to the Venus and chattering of protesting gears as they went into an enforced mesh.

Pull Up A Chair By Frank J. Markey

Reminiscent of her Spanish colonial days, we found peppered throughout California street signs, restaurants and cafes bearing a Spanish name or some well-known phrase in that language. Buena Vista, the good view, is one label or expression seen and heard from the Oregon border to the southern tip of the Golden State bordering on Mexico. Nowhere is the phrase Buena Vista better expressed than on the 150-mile drive down the coast line from San Francisco to Carmel. The good view is so good that we found ourselves unable fully to enjoy the scenic beauty in such scant time as our car rolled along at 40 mph. From San Francisco down the peninsula, past such posh towns as Burlingame, Atherton and Palo Alto, it takes about an hour to arrive at San Jose, California's oldest city. Then southward, our eyes wandered over endless acres of orchards, vegetable growing areas such as Castrolville, billing itself as "The Heart of the Artichoke World," and the cattle lands about Gilroy and Watsonville. In the Salinas Valley of California near Monterey they grow strawberries the size of plums, yet they taste juicy and fruity. In fabled Monterey on the Pacific is the noted Cannery Row, now aborning after years of silence. Most of the canning plants have been closed since the sardines disappeared from the ocean some years ago, but art shops, restaurants and all the tourist paraphernalia of this era have moved into the district.

Twenty-five minutes way from the White Cliffs of Monterey lies Carmel, California, with its pastel-colored homes and magnificent seascapes, unlike any beauty spot we ever saw in the world. It was all too much to take in during our brief day. There are just too many Buena Vistas in the Golden State.

Memory Lane: "Upsetting the applecart" is an old, familiar expression for throwing a situation into confusion. But why is it an applecart? Out in California they have carts of prunes, oranges, lemons, and apricots that could just as well be upset. And even if some of this fruit were upset, wouldn't it be just as disconcerting? The only thing we are sure of is that Abraham Lincoln did his own speech writing! Had he not the Gettysburg Address would have been lost to literature.

And it's easy to assume that one as prolific with his pen and as gifted with the language as was Teddy Roosevelt would spurn any assistance in the composition of his colorful speeches.

Today's Smile: Sam Himmell, who sells the nation a large quantity of its quality printing paper, sends us this story: On Broadway two druggists were talking about one of their associates who had just died. "He was a great druggist," said one. "He was," admitted the other, "but don't you think he made his chicken salad a little too salty?" It's not always worry or tension that causes ulcers. They have been found in youngsters from five days to 15 years of age, reports a British medical journal. Our colonial forefathers liked their grog and a favorite cocktail of their day consisted of brandy, white wine, sugar, lemons and water. It was called a shrub. Country Editor speaking: "Sometimes a clear conscience can be nothing more than a short memory."

Most Spoken Language Language most spoken by more people than any other is Northern Chinese, or Mandarin which is used by some 460 million persons.

Edson In Washington U.S. Keeps Close Tab on New United Arab Republic

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The United States has a big stake in the new United Arab Republic formed by Egypt, Syria and Iraq. The merger unites 38 million Arabs into one strong force, dominated by Egypt.

Near East authorities in Washington look upon this development as something new and different in the Arab world. They believe it bears watching; American interests are involved.

The first U.A.R. of 1958 broke up in 1961 because Egypt exercised too tight a control over Syria. President Gamal Abdel Nasser may have learned something from this.

Whether he did will be revealed in the degree of local independence allowed the young Ba'ath party in Iraq, the Nationalists and Socialists in Syria.

Nasser has banned all political parties except his own in Egypt. It may be difficult for him to maintain a unified country if he has three different local political systems.

The new U.A.R. has announced there will be central financial direction. But who is going to collect the taxes? And will Iraq turn over to Nasser a share of the oil royalties it now collects from Iraq Petroleum Co. — 47 per cent owned by American companies — or keep these funds for purely internal development of the Iraq "area," as each of the three new states will be called?

Relations between the new U.A.R. and its neighbors are also being watched closely. The kingdoms of Jordan and Saudi Arabia, which formed a loose alliance last year, may have completely different reactions to the new nation.

Jordan has made encouraging progress the last few years. Young King Hussein recently declared that if conditions were right and his people wanted unity with other Arab countries he might resign his throne. He might also be assassinated which is the traditional Near East way to remove unwanted kings.

Saudi Arabia, on the other hand, has been close to direct conflict with Egypt over the revolution in Yemen. Nasser has had 25,000 Egyptian troops supporting the revolution while King Saud's forces supported the old Imamate that was overthrown.

Yemen has had observers in Cairo while unification of Egypt, Syria and Iraq was being arranged. Yemen could conceivably provide a fourth star for the new U.A.R. flag. This would not meet with favor in Saudi Arabia, which then would be isolated.

So far, the United States has felt no embarrassment in dealing with both ancient kingdoms and new presidencies in the Arab world. U.S. policy is to not interfere in the domestic affairs of other countries. It has been made clear in the Near East that on the question of Arab unity, the U.S. will live with whatever the Arabs agree to, so long as the will of Arab leaders is not imposed by force.

Victory Agreement with others is an attainment. Agreement with one's self is a great victory.

Put Government On Sound Basis

In view of the President's conviction that an income tax cut would give the economy a much-needed boost, we suggest he carry his thinking a big step further by personally endorsing the Liberty Amendment, which would eliminate the income tax altogether.

The fiscal irresponsibility of cutting $15 billion from taxes without a corresponding reduction in federal spending has already been pointed out by many. So the question arises, how in the world could you ever cut enough from the federal budget to responsibly allow outright repeal of all income taxes?

The answer is built into the Liberty Amendment. Its first section says, "The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution." (Emphasis added.)

This means that the government would automatically be required to give up every economic scheme that hasn't been authorized in the Constitution.

This means we would no longer be forced to give our hard-earned money to Communist and socialist dictators around the world. We would no longer be required to pay farmers for growing wheat — and for not growing wheat.

We would no longer have to buy steam-heated tunnels for the government-owned Alaska Railroad, or eskimo dwellings, or boondoggles to help re-elect Congressmen. It means that our tax money will henceforth be used only for purposes authorized in the Constitution.

And isn't that what we would expect anyway? Isn't this supposed to be a free country? We learned in our eighth-grade civics classes that the United States is not a dictatorship — not like other countries where the government makes its own rules as it goes along.

So the Liberty Amendment combines both sound business logic and a reinforcement of the Constitution. Just by enforcing the Constitution, it provides enough cuts in government spending to allow complete repeal of the personal income tax.

This means the over-700 government corporate activities now operating without constitutional authority would be transferred to private enterprise and — or state jurisdiction. Henceforth, instead of losing billions of tax dollars annually, these enterprises will now begin paying corporate and excise taxes. And the American people will have the right to decide for themselves whether or not they want to support such activities with their purchases.

The Liberty Amendment will solve a great many problems. It will hold the line on government spending. It will solve the unemployment and "recession" problems — by returning over $40 billion each year to the American people to be spent on productive activities that will raise our standard of living.

It will take a great deal of the strain out of labor-management relations — because the government will no longer claim the first 20 per cent or so of a man's earned wages. It will reaffirm America's traditional boast as the one nation of the world where the people are supreme — instead of their government.

Such a proposal will benefit you — so it deserves your support. Write your state legislators tonight and urge them to follow the lead of six states that have already approved the amendment. Let's make our state number seven.

Let's make our state number seven.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Between the commercials Thursday night, NBC-TV's "Dr. Kildare" grappled with the problems of life, death, God and mercy killing.

Actually, most of the Kildare people would rather not hear the term "mercy killing" or its more formal description, euthanasia. In fact, someone in the play Thursday night even had a line or so saying that it wasn't such a case.

You can figure out rather easily why they'd like to avoid it. If blatantly offered as a show on such a theme, it touches some sensitive nerves, getting into delicate areas like religion. It also would put the shining young hero, Kildare, on the spot too since it was his final decision to cut off the mechanical devices that kept alive a patient in a terminal coma.

The idea of the Kildare people apparently is that the patient was a hopeless case anyway and that no one was actually taking away his life. But that seems to be hair-splitting. The dictionary describes euthanasia as "the putting of a person to death painlessly, especially a person suffering from an incurable and painful disease." Kildare did it. And if you want to argue that incurable doesn't necessarily mean fatal, that's your privilege.

The script argued that the patient was dead for all practical purposes. I suggest, however, that the only way a person is dead is if he is dead. But the important thing is for the series not to be cowardly. Nothing should be outside the scope of drama.

In the play, the pivotal character, was the dying man's daughter, one of those tough, repulsive women who start sentences with the word "like." Mary Murphy enacted the role using all the histrionics of which less-affected directors had probably deprived her.

Overall, it was a generally terrible show. Maudlin, cliché filled—even after Miss Murphy gave Kildare the decision on his own and eased into the background. Still, it was better than the March 28 Kildare program in which Polly Bergen played twins with kidney problems, and which the National Kidney Disease Foundation thought so highly of that it took an ad in a show business newspaper. It is hard to stay interested in a woman once you know about her kidney.

NBC-TV's Emmy Awards show May 26 hopes to open with a live broadcast from London via the Relay communications satellite. Naturally, it's the satellite of the Radio Corp. of America, which owns NBC.

 spectacle into a U.S. nightmare for rival countries.

The Yanks won four in swimming, swept the board clean of all wrestling events and placed first in five other sports.

Prime target for the United States today is Cuba. The Cubans defeated the U.S. contingent in baseball 13-1 in an opening round game last Sunday. Both teams are deadlocked at 3-1 in the round-robin standings and a win today could mean the gold medal in baseball.

U.S. swimmers continue their complete domination of the games Thursday and they racked up three more Pan-American records in the bargain.

Alice Mary Driscoll, a 17-year-old high school student from Louisville, Ky., turned in a record-breaking 2:56.2 in the women's 200-meter breaststroke. She just nipped Roby Whipple of Los Altos, Calif., who tied the old mark of 2:56.4.

Terry Lee Stickle came from behind in the final strokes to edge Canada's Mary Steward with a new mark of 1:02.8 in the 100-meter women's freestyle. The new standard was a full second better than the record set by Chris Von Salza in the 1959 games.

Carl Robie of Drexel Hill, Pa., turned in a record-shattering performance in the 200-meter men's butterfly with a 2:11.3 clocking.

To climax the swimming sweep, the U.S. women's team won the 100-meter medley relay in 4:49.1.

The U.S. wrestling team bolstered its hopes for high-level competition against Russia in the 1964 Olympics at Tokyo by wiping the mat clean of all opposition. Eight U.S. grapplers came to Sao Paulo and each will return home with a gold medal.

The landslide by Uncle Sam's athletes is expected to keep on rolling when the track and field events open Saturday.

Griffith called him to his room, Bolton said, and told him that an Atlanta insurance salesman, George Burnett, had given him information about Butts telephoning Georgia team information to Bryant in Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Bolton said various officials of the university system launched an immediate investigation and finally faced Butts with their findings.

"Coach Butts did not deny a conversation," Bolton said. "He stated that Mr. Burnett probably heard such a conversation, that it was natural for coaches to talk to each other that way and that the only thing wrong with the conversation was that Mr. Burnett had put the wrong interpretation on it."

Glover
 has 7 1-3 innings in district action, with a 5.75 ERA, eight walks, nine hits and 10 strikeouts.

Coach Howard is undecided whether to go with Glover today against the heavy-hitting Lubbockers, and use Arthur and Garrison tomorrow against Monterey; or to switch the order. Another possibility is for Glover to start, with Garrison standing by today, and then start Arthur tomorrow, with Glover, if he has not gone the full route against the Westerners, and Harnsberger to back Arthur up against the powerful Plainsmen.

Monterey will be a slight favorite over Berger as the rivals clash at 4 p.m. today for the District 3-AAA baseball leadership.

Joe Robinson blanked the pre-season favorites, 6-0, in the first meeting at Berger. But Monterey will be given the nod, playing at home.

Borger is on top with eight wins and one loss. Monterey is a half-game back at 7-1. Next are Pampa 6-4, Tascosa 5-4, Amarillo High 4-4, Palo Duro 2-6, Lubbock High 2-6 and Plainview 1-9.

In the other 4 p.m. games today, it's Amarillo High at Tascosa, Palo Duro at Plainview and Pampa at Lubbock.

In the first meetings, Tascosa edged Amarillo High, 2-1, Palo Duro stopped Plainview, 6-5, and Pampa cooled Lubbock High, 7-3. The Saturday afternoon card is Berger at Lubbock High, Pampa at Monterey, Tascosa at Palo Duro and Amarillo High at Plainview.

Regular schedule winds up May 3. Each makeup game will be necessary.

Mrs. Bill Jenkins, 1805 N. Wells, is president of the Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, which meets the first and third Monday of each month in the Citizens' Hospitality Room.

Assisting with the activities of the chapter in their respective offices are Mrs. J. P. Adams, vice president; Mrs. Jay Lauth, secretary; Mrs. Bill Ellis, treasurer; with Mrs. Bill Nichols as publicity chairman.

Upsilon participated with the three other Chapters of BSP in Pampa in a Kick-Off Luncheon held in the Pampa Country Club. Entered one of its members in the international Valentine Sweetheart contest, and were honored here at a Valentine Ball held in the Coronado Inn.

Included in its activities for this year was the organizing of a Phi Mu Chapter of young women between the ages of 18 through 22 with Rho Eta Chapter of BSP assisting.

Modern Home Scores On Changing Concept

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The changing concept of the kitchen is one point on which the modern development house scores solidly. Whether your taste in housing leans toward the older home or the new model, the palm for kitchen planning goes to the new. Don't conjure up for me comparisons with the old-fashioned farm kitchen. There are precious few of those. In the majority of older homes the kitchen was allotted leftover floor space, and gave an unpromising view of the back porch and the trash can.

Those of us who live in the older-type home get used to the inconvenience of the kitchen, and plan for the day we can rip out the old horror. What I have in the back of my mind is the family-room kitchen, which is a constant joy to the dwellers in many good development houses.

Because a conscientious builder is quality minded in many ways, it is not surprising to find top-notch professional decorators furnishing the interiors, tastefully but practically. I was complimenting Alice D. Kenney, A.I.D. decorator for Levitt, on a particularly attractive kitchen-family room set-up, and asked for a few pointers.

In this case, as in many similar rooms, half the area is taken by a U-shaped kitchen arrangement, and half with a family-activity space which looks out on lawn and garden. Room is built on an open plan, so that the homemaker can work in her kitchen while keeping an eye on children playing indoors or out.

Wood-faced cabinets divide the area. To unify the room visually, the floor is tiled with a light-toned, marbled tile. Wallpaper, Miss Kenney points out, is rather sophisticated to underplay the "kitcheny" look. Wallpaper prints of fruits and flowers, of bottles, of birds in cages, are some she has used.

Select wallpapers, she suggests, which have companion fabrics that windows in the family area, for example, can be treated with simple curtains matching the kitchen wallpaper.

Another point: colored appliances, in wood or metal tones, may prove more harmonious than white ones.

When you purchase a robe, buy it with as much care as you would a dress. Remember that other people will see you in it. Don't pick the first wadded robe you can find, just for warmth and comfort. Have your comfort and with it, a little charm.

Don't Know
How Much to Deduct?

Are you one of those unfortunate taxpayers who never knows how much to deduct for drug purchases?

You can relax. DrugTax can help you, and it isn't going to cost you a penny. DrugTax is the new record-keeping system now available at our pharmacy. With it, we keep a complete record of your drug purchases. And at the end of the year we send you a DrugTax statement which tells you how much may be deductible in computing your federal tax return.

Simple? Of course—and it can save you money! By making all of your drug purchases at our store, you will be guaranteeing yourself an annual tax record. Those "little" purchases (which can add up to big ones) won't be forgotten.

We think you'll be pleasantly surprised at how many items are deductible. It could mean tax savings for you.

Come in today and let us tell you more about DrugTax. Remember, it's free.

Teen Youngsters Need Their Snacks

Q — My teen-age daughter is always raiding the refrigerator or stopping for snacks on the way home from school. How can I stop this? She is putting on weight.

A — Snack time is a very important part of a teen-ager's life, according to Dr. Charles Glen King, president of the Nutrition Foundation. In a Public Affairs Pamphlet, "Personality Plus Through Diet (Foodlore for Teen-agers)" he states, addressing teen-agers like your daughter, "Snacks are valuable for most teen-agers. You may need the snacks you eat in order to furnish your body with enough calories. But be sure you consider the food as a part of your total daily food pattern. You are wise to expect and count on most of your snacks to make a greater contribution to your daily meal plan than just calories.

"Hot dogs, hamburgers, and other favorite sandwiches, such as cheese and peanut butter, provide important amounts of protein as well as vitamins and minerals.

"Fresh raw fruits and vegetables, such as apples, bananas, apricots, carrots and celery sticks, are good sources of minerals and several of the vitamins. Nearly everyone likes them.

"In addition to the calories in ice cream, you can count on 1-3 of a pint to give you more vitamin A than a glass of milk, and about 1-3 as much calcium. Ice cream also provides small amounts of iron and the B vitamins.

"Malted milk and milk shakes are good sources of calcium, vitamin A, thiamine and riboflavin, just as is milk, but they also contain considerably more calories.

Delta State vice president during the meeting.

The delegates, also, brought home the news that the pressbook compiled by Kay Veale had won first place.

"Focus On Friendship" has been the study theme for the monthly meetings in carrying out the purpose of the conclave as that of promoting good fellowship and fraternal cooperation among teachers; to strive for the elevation and dignity of the teacher profession and to oppose all forces detrimental to the schools of the United States.

Board Serves In Lieu Of PTA

In lieu of a Parent-Teachers Association, Pampa Junior High School this year organized a Student-Parent-Teachers Organization with three general meetings a year and other called meetings as the need arises.

Serving as supervisory board are four parents, five students and five teachers. Mrs. Robert Kerr is board chairman with Mrs. D. L. Martindale as secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Tom Brady and Mrs. George Berrison complete the Parent segment; students are members of the student council. Rick Maxey, Sara Hahn, Irene Burke, Billy Turner and David Harmon are Teachers on the board; are Mrs. Doris Eski, counselor, Paul Payne, school principal, Home Kueger, Lloyd Sackett and Mrs. Jack Williams.

Its purpose is to promote the welfare of children and youth in school, home, church and community and to bring closer relationships between parents and teachers that they may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.

Unit activities this year have included the annual "Family Night" in October when parents visited their children's rooms to become better acquainted with teachers and to view classroom work. In September, the unit sponsored an Orientation conducted by the classroom teacher during which she outlined what she hoped might be accomplished during the year. ## MATURE PARENT

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: I have been driving my little girl and another child to and from school every day since they entered the first grade last fall. Now this neighbor's girl has made new friends. She visits their houses after school instead of playing at our house. She doesn't come over on weekends either. Do you advise me to ask her mother what the trouble is? My little girl is so hurt it hurts me to see it.

ANSWER: What about encouraging her to make and entertain some new friends of her own?

If this suggestion leaves you feeling hopeless and heavy-hearted, I've got more questions for you. When you offended your mother as a child yourself, what happened? Did she insist that your father, brothers and sisters all disapprove of you as though you had also offended them? Did offending mother always involve isolation from everybody else?

Perhaps you learned long ago to equate offending one person with offending other people around you. That is why my suggestion that other little girls are waiting to make friends with your child can spark no hopeful response in you.

A parent can easily induce this kind of hopelessness in us. All she has to do is say whenever we offend her, "Don't talk to her. She's been a bad girl. She's being punished." As a result, we unknowingly accept total isolation as the inevitable consequences of offending any important person.

If we lose one friend, we cannot imagine the possibility of anyone else finding us worthy of friendship. We endure this loneliness imposed for offending our mother.

So, when our child is hurt by the loss of a friend, the old helplessness overwhelms us. We cannot imagine that other children could offer her friendliness because nobody offered it to us when we offended Mother. Instead of encouraging our lonely youngster to make new friends, we can only sympathize with her and pity her.

We need to become aware that our helplessness derives from our special experience with a dominating parent — and disconnect it from our child's situation.

The club's objectives are those of elevating the standards for women in business and in the professions; promoting the interests of business and professional women; bringing about a spirit of cooperation among business and professional women of the United States; extending opportunities to business and professional women through education along lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities.

Clubs represented in the Council of Women's Clubs are Altrusa, American Association of University Women, American Business Women's Association, American Legion Auxiliary, Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Business and Professional Women's Club, Delta Kappa Gamma, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, Exceptional Children's Association, Pampa Historical and Genealogical Society, Red Cross Gray Ladies, Jaycee-Ettes, Kappa Kappa Tota Sorority, Kit Kat Klub, Las Cresas Club, Pampa Credit Women's Association, Sub Deb Club, Southwesterners, Treble Clef, Twentieth Century Club, Twentieth Century Culture, Varietas Study Club, VFW Auxiliary.

Meeting the first Thursday of each month at 9:30 a.m. in the City Club Room, the council is an information center and clearing house for club activity in Pampa.

A nominal membership fee entitles the individual club to participate in activities, be represented on the Council, receive information on other clubs' activities and to have full use of the City Club Room and its dining and kitchen facilities for meetings or special entertainment.

On dates when the Club Room is not being used by member-clubs it is available for a rental fee to non-member organizations for special events.

Improvement of club room facilities and decor has been one of the council's projects this year: a new refrigerator has been purchased for the kitchen; the carpeting sized; piano tuned; new drapes have been purchased and hung.

At each meeting, representatives announce important events and these announcements are taken back to each representative individual club.

In addition, informative programs are presented of civic interest. Included in programs presented so far this year have been a program on a teaching machine; a cancer film; TB Association; Polio film; program on the United Fund; program on the Pampa Historical and Genealogical Society. A program on the Heart Fund is planned in the near future.

Intimate—intelligence: they don't call the customer "dearie" anymore in fur shops. Evans Fur Co., of Chicago, recently put out a formal edict on the subject, cautioning sales people to avoid the word. The boss said the word was "downright cheap, lacking in taste and likely to put saleswoman and her shop in the third rate class." What's more, warned the boss—conservative customers resent being hailed as "dearie."

Now—the ultimate in golf shorts for milady. The pants have a built in tee pouch, pencil holder, towel rack and, aft on one leg, a zipper compartment for golf balls! The serious golfer doesn't sit during the pursuit of excellence, so no problem's anticipated in connection with the lumpy effect of golf balls in one's rear pocket. Wilma Donaldson, designer for Queen Casuals, said the utilitarian design is in response to demand from the females who rally round the tees.

Mrs. Katie Vincent, beloved citizen of Pampa and one of its valued pioneers, had the distinguished honor of having her name placed in the Golden Book of the Federated Women's Club of Texas. The honor was accorded at the recent Top o' Texas District meeting, TFWC, held in Amarillo.

Mrs. Vincent is a charter member of the Civic Culture Club and served as its first president when the club became federated in 1936. She is an active and valued member of the club.

If you are embarking on a long reducing regime, it is wise not to buy any new clothes until you are within at least 5 or 10 pounds of your desired weight. Aside from being an expensive proposition, it's impractical since the clothes will be of no use in a short time. Save the real thrill until your weight loss is complete and you can see a new you in a smart new outfit.

It's A Woman's World

Who brought the first lace curtains to the West? Who insisted that a piano be brought overland by wagon train so there would be music on the prairies? Who, with a tight little fist enclosed in a velvet glove, has insisted on and worked for spiritual, educational, cultural advantages for themselves and their families?

It's been the women, bless 'em!

After hubby has left for work and the children for school, the hours between nine and three become, indeed, "a woman's world," thanks in great part to all the modern conveniences that now make short work of household chores that formerly consumed a day.

It becomes a world in which women can devote themselves to creative hobbies in painting, gardening, writing, learning new homemaking skills; better grooming; club and PTA activities.

It's a "Woman's World" . . . and aren't we glad it is! — doris e. wilson, women's page editor.
