Birmingham Racial Battle Rages With Water Hoses, Bricks

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Police turned high-pressure hoses on three thousand young Negroes protesting segregation Saturday when one of them threw a brick that landed near Police Commissioner Eugene (Bully) Connor.

The clash marked the third consecutive day of massive racial demonstrations in this Southern steel city. More than 1,000 Negroes have been arrested, including 50 Saturday—many of them teenagers.

President Kennedy was reported to have been by the events and the administration set in motion Justice Department trouble-shooters in hopes of working out a truce.

A park in the Negro section of the city, closed as the riot broke ground Saturday.

The clash occurred after Negroes had staged a series of minor demonstrations in an attempt to get arrested. It followed a "march on City Hall" and a "march on City Hall grounds."

The demonstration, which should have been a peaceful one, turned into a riot when police tried to tear up fire hoses and carried off the hoses to get arrested.

The riot was a continuation of a 15-day strike which began last week and resulted in the arrest of 150 Negroes and 100 white persons with shots of violence.

Marines Move to Within 30 Miles of Port au Prince

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UPI)—The United States today warned more than 100,000 American residents here to come strictly with a tough no-fly order imposed by President Francois Duvalier under martial law.

The government put the capital under martial law and announced the 30-day curfew today, apparently to curb the activities of night-pounding terror bombers seeking to overthrow the autocratic Duvalier regime.

Tormentals roused with the curfew gave Port au Prince an apparently quiet night, though with an reported "outburst of machine bombing."

The U. S. Embassy had already ordered Americans to stop up local stay of the streets and be ready for possible return of home.

A U. S. naval task force headed by the cutter Baver was reported standing by in the Gulf of Gonave off Haiti's western coast with a contingent of U. S. Marines to carry out an evacuation if the situation deteriorated to open violence.

Members of the American community were going about their business in a normal manner, but many of the men said they were back to the United States until the situation stabilized.

U.S. Might Foot Bigger Bill in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson indicated Saturday that the United States may vote in its announced determination not to pay more than its assessed share of U. N. peace-keeping costs.

He emphasized, however, that the final position would be governed by what money is paid in by U. N. members who are delinquent in their payments.

Under congressional pressure and public opinion that Washington put up close to 40 percent of the costs of the U. N. Command in March that it would have only its assessed share in the future and members who failed to pay even the world organization's debt to $100 million contributions of their own.

Stevenson indicated in an interview that while the United States still holds the position, it is willing to consider a British proposal pending voluntary contributions that would carry Washington's share above 32.01 percent.

"The United States will certainly oppose any assessment which would involve its being mandatorily obligated to pay, for the last six months of 1952, more than its regular budget percentage of 32.02 percent," Stevenson said.

Other suggestions have been made such as the "three-bite" United Kingdom proposal that an annual sum, perhaps $10 million per operation, be assessed on the regular budget scale, that the balance be fully assessed but with lower rates on the less developed countries, and that the shortfall be balanced by voluntary contributions by the more developed countries.

Action Taken While Dominicans Ready For Invasion of Haiti

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (UPI)—A U. S. Navy task force carrying combat-ready Marines has moved to within 30 miles of the Haitian capital of Port au Prince as the threat of a Dominican invasion increased, informed sources reported Saturday.

The sources said the task force, including the flagship aircraft carrier Baver, left its alert position at sea Friday night and sailed down the St. Marc Channel past the island of Gonave just off the west coast of Haiti.

Another sizable Naval amphibious force was available in nearby Puerto Rico, should threatened disorders endanger the 1,000 American citizens living in Port au Prince. The Americans were warned to comply with the tough one hour curfew imposed by Haiti.

The U. S. Naval action was reported as the Dominican Republic massed its armed forces along the Haitian border and set sea to invade the neighboring island to public should President Jean Bosch give the word.

Bosch told United Press International he would move out of the neighborly invasion that order had broken down in the neighborly (See MARINES, Page 6)

Diplomats Revive Possible JFK, Macmillan Talks

LONDON (UPI)—Diplomatic speculation revived here Saturday that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Kennedy might meet after all during the latter's forthcoming Europe tour.

The possibility of a possible informal "summit" between the two Western leaders was stirred by the invitation of the Northern Irish government in Kennedy to attend the opening of the "Giant Causeway" in Antrim.

This event coincides with Kennedy's visit to Europe which includes visits to Italy, Bonn, Berlin and Dublin.

The invitation of the Northern Irish government was passed to Kennedy by Macmillan personally, it was disclosed in London.

This move has strengthened the possibility of a meeting between the two leaders, it was said by a source familiar with the situation.

British government spokesmen said they know of no formal arrangement so far for a top level get-together.

But diplomatic sources did not rule out the possibility of a brief Kennedy-Macmillan meeting of an official character before long.

Washington reports reaching here to date have not encouraged expectations of such a summit.

'Modern Martin Luther' Stays In Catholic Church; Writes Book on Modernizing Reforms

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Fr. Hans Kung has been called "a modern Martin Luther who stayed in the Catholic Church."

He may not relish this appellation. But there are striking resemblances between the brilliant young Swiss theologian, who recently toured the United States, and the 16th century German monk who sparked the Protestant Reformation.

The most obvious similarity is that both of them set out at a comparatively youthful age to achieve sweeping reforms in the church.

Luther was 34 years old, and a professor of theology at a German university (Wittenberg), when he nailed his famous "95 theses" to a church door.

Fr. Kung was 34 years old, and professor of theology at a German university (Tübingen), when he published a bold blueprint for modernizing the Catholic Church.

Book Is Acclaimed

His book, entitled "The Council, Reform and Reunion" (Sheed & Ward, $3.95), has been acclaimed widely by Catholics and Protestants as a manifesto of liberal hopes for the second Vatican Council.

It won Fr. Kung an influential post as a theological consultant to the council fathers. And it made him, in the words of Dr. Robert McAfee Brown, a Presbyterian observer at the council, "a kind of symbol of what Protestants would like to believe contemporary Roman Catholicism can become."

During the past month, Fr. Kung has been visiting the United States, speaking before capacity crowds at leading Catholic institutions from coast to coast. He returned to Europe this week.

At each of his public appearances in America, Fr. Kung received a thunderous ovation when he asserted that a new era of freedom is dawning in the Catholic Church.

Differ In Emphasis

He said that, ever since the Reformation, Protestants have emphasized freedom of the individual conscience at the expense of order and authority in the church; whereas the Catholic Church, in reaction, has stressed order at the expense of freedom.

In the present ecumenical age, he said, both branches of the Christian family are discovering that they have "much to learn from each other."

Catholics are hungering for greater freedom, for an end to "oppressive" types of church discipline which yield "feared subservience" rather than "willing Christian obedience."

Protestants meanwhile are searching for greater order, for an end to theological anarchy which confuses rather than frees the individual conscience.

Fr. Kung hopes and believes that the second Vatican Council, resuming in September, will create a new climate of "freedom in order" in the Catholic Church. This new climate, he says, will be "an invitation and a challenge" to the separated brethren, and will open the way for eventual reunion of Christians.

For Churches Also

The ordered freedom which Fr. Kung envisions in the coming Church Universal will apply not only to individuals, but also to local churches.

"Unity and not uniformity, a center without centralism is called for in the church today," says Fr. Kung.

"It is urgently necessary for the church to repudiate all of the methods of totalitarian states, to abandon forever any attempt at coercing conscience or compelling belief, and to restore the royal freedom which Christ brought to the children of God."

Protestants hearing Fr. Kung speak are apt to shake their heads in wonder. Can this curly-haired young man, who quotes Scripture as freely as Billy Graham, really be a Catholic

George Smith Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

If you ever come out to the Youth Center and see about 25 boys and girls all wearing royal blue swim suits, you will know that this is the Center Swim Team. They have just purchased new suits and jackets that make the team look neat and trim.

Bobby Bybee, water safety instructor, has done wonders with this team besides building up each member's swim ability. They are consistent winners in the swim competition held each Friday at 5 p.m.

Mrs. Elbert Walker is doing miracles with our teenage dance lessons. She has even trained the boys to say, "May I have this dance, please." They are learning the waltz, fox trot, twist, bossa nova, cha-cha-cha and many other popular dance steps. These teenagers are really enjoying themselves as they learn. They meet Tuesdays at 6 p.m.

Mrs. Tommy Cox has been teaching a ladies swim class for the past four weeks on Tuesday and Thursdays at 2:30 p.m. She is a very busy swim instructor since she also has been helping with the girl scout swim program and the pre-school age children's classes on Saturdays.

If you want to see something interesting, come by the Center on alternating Thursdays and watch the Craft classes conducted by Incunabula is the Latin term used to designate books printed before the year 1500.

This one could have been the winter of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's discontent and the spring of same. It is difficult for the ordinary citizen to believe that the going ever could be tough for a Kennedy or a Morgan.

But if the going has not been tough for Nelson Rockefeller, it surely has not been easy of late. His path-points toward the White House. The path is steep, much steeper than it seemed likely to be a year ago.

The Rockefeller luck faltered last November when the governor was re-elected with a paltry majority of 37,562 of total votes cast. New York Republican leaders had projected last November's election as a flamboyant beginning of the Rockefeller sweep toward presidential nomination. The script read that the governor would win by upward of 800,000 votes.

Narrow Margin
The script was wrong. Rocky had a badge of only 27,000 votes over Robert Morganhan, 43,000 under his 1960 plurality against Averell Harriman. Rockefeller's 1962 margin was the lowest of any statewide Republican winner.

The governor had money trouble with his Republican legislature this winter. He was bound by a campaign pledge not to raise taxes. Instead Rockefeller proposed higher taxes in several areas, including automobile licenses. Cries of anguish echoed the Republican legislators' rumormongering about $67 million from Rockefeller's $2.8 billion budget.

Still pending, of course, are political returns on the governor's divorce a couple of years ago.

Mrs. Murphy Free
Last month, Mrs. Margaretta Filler Murphy, 35, a former member of the governor's staff, was divorced from Dr. James S. Murphy. Rockefeller's response to questions whether he planned to marry Mrs. Murphy was: No comment.

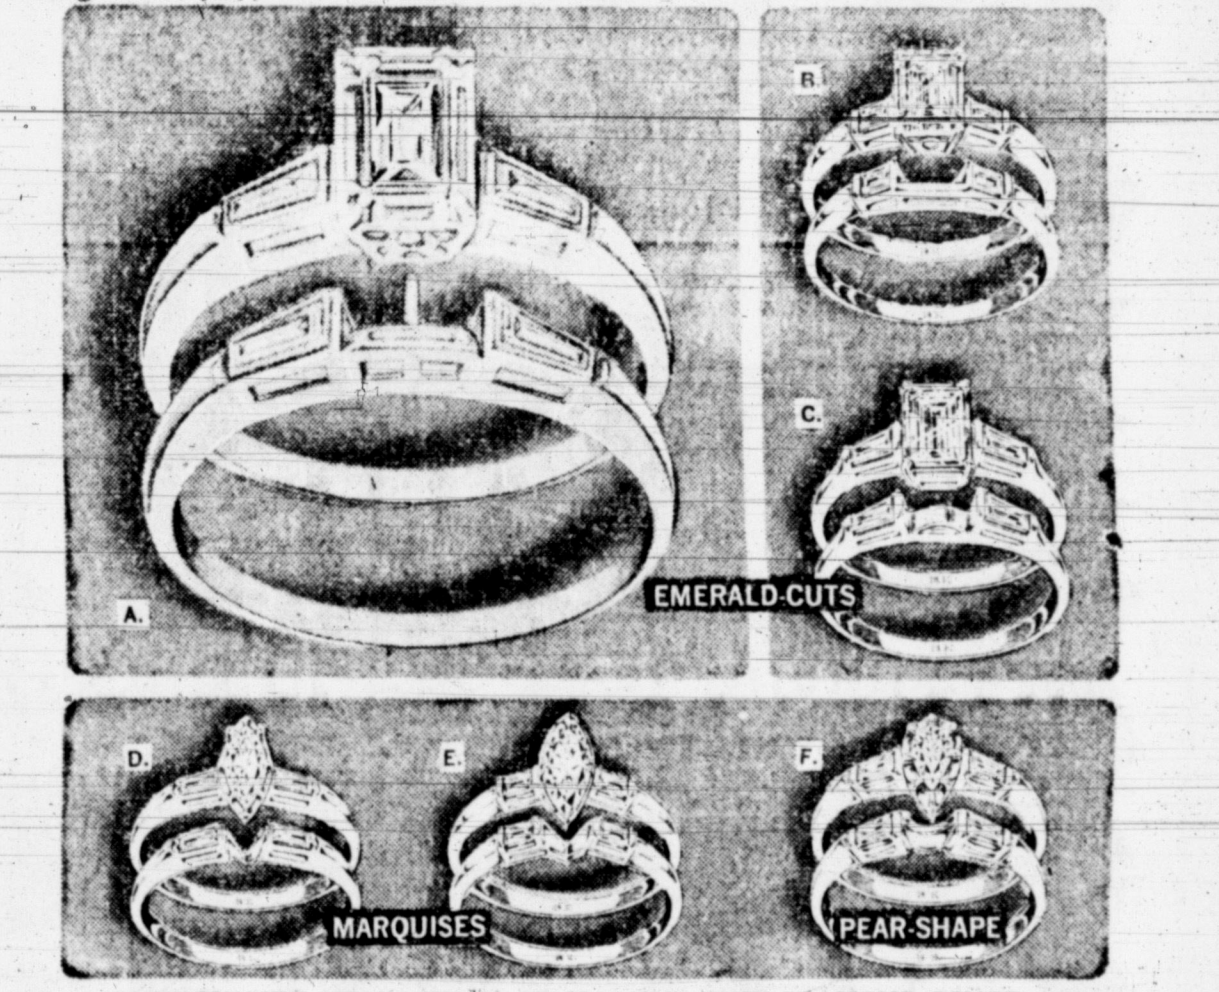

None of the foregoing has improved Rockefeller's political image. How much, if any, the image has been impaired is anybody's guess. It may not have been impaired at all. There is another factor however:

Events are pressing the Republican party toward a major bid next year for Southern electoral votes. It is likely that the Republican presidential nominee must have major Southern support to win. Rocky's notable civil rights record may prove to be the greatest obstacle to his nomination and election to the presidency.

play, and the Negroes—trapped between the torrents of water—grabbed each other and tried to keep standing in the face of the pressure.
One brickbat from the crowd rolled by Mayor Art Hanes.
"Get that one," he shouted and the firemen turned their hose on a Negro standing behind a tree.
"Those Negroes are about as non-violent as a whirlwind," Hanes said.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Police in two Missouri cities fired warning shots into the air Saturday to disperse crowds of Negroes and whites "looking for a fight."
One man was shot in both legs. Another man was severely beaten about the head and four police officers required first aid treatment at hospitals.
One skirmish took place at Crystal City, 40 miles south of St. Louis. The other brawl involved Negroes and police in St. Louis. Crowds in both incidents were estimated at 100 each.
The Crystal City brawl followed an exchange of words between whites and Negroes, but Police Chief Pete Pappas said "it was not a racial matter."
"We don't have any racial trouble here," Pappas said.
In St. Louis, police were showered with bricks and bottles when they tried to arrest Negro dice shooters. Police dogs helped chase the Negroes.

Met at Belgrade's glistening and modern Surcin Airport by Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic and U. S. Ambassador George Kennan. Rusk said he was delighted to see at first hand some of the results of Yugoslavia's recent economic progress.
Since this was his first visit to Yugoslavia, he also had an opportunity to trade views directly with Tito's government on the problems of Belgrade's future trade relations with the United States.
Complications of the economic picture loomed large in Rusk's visit. At present, there is no military aid from the United States to this country, and the last remnants of authorized economic aid are trickling out of the pipeline.
But most important is the future of Yugoslavia's status as a "most favored" nation in sending exports to the United States.

The imposition of martial law by Haitian President Francois Duvalier with a nine-hour curfew Friday heightened tension in Port au Prince, where attacks on Duvalier's militia and bloody reprisals have been reported during the past week.

One Youth Fined, Another Jailed In Assault Case

Paul J. Bynum, 17, who resides south of Pampa, was fined $25 and costs on an assault charge when arraigned in Justice Nat Lunsford's court, Friday afternoon.

The charge grew out of an assault on a 14-year-old Pampa youth as he walked out of the White Way Barber Shop, 123 S. Cuyler, about 6 p.m. last Wednesday.

Juvenile Officer Bill Leonard said the 14-year-old was attacked by Bynum and a 16-year-old companion. Leonard said both assailants struck the youth who ran to his parked car. The pair followed him to the car and continued the assault there, Officer Leonard said.

The youth's nose was broken in the attack and he was taken to the hospital for treatment of his injuries.

Leonard said Bynum and his companion were arraigned Friday morning. The 16-year-old boy was taken before County Judge Bill Craig and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for his part in the affair.

Hearings to Start On Cotton Allotment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Agriculture Committee plans to begin hearings May 20 on new legislation to aid the ailing cotton industry.

ABILITY DOES COUNT—Judith Keith Sikes, 16, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., is this year's winner of the "Ability Counts" essay contest, sponsored by the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. Her theme, "How My Community Benefits from the Abilities of Handicapped Workers," won the $1,000 first prize in nation-wide competition for junior and senior high school pupils.

The hearings are aimed at clarifying the problem which results from domestic cotton support prices being substantially above world market prices.

This price differential, besides a U.S. export subsidy to enable American cotton to sell abroad at world prices, causes American textile mills to pay 8.5 cents a pound more for U.S.-grown cotton than foreign mills.

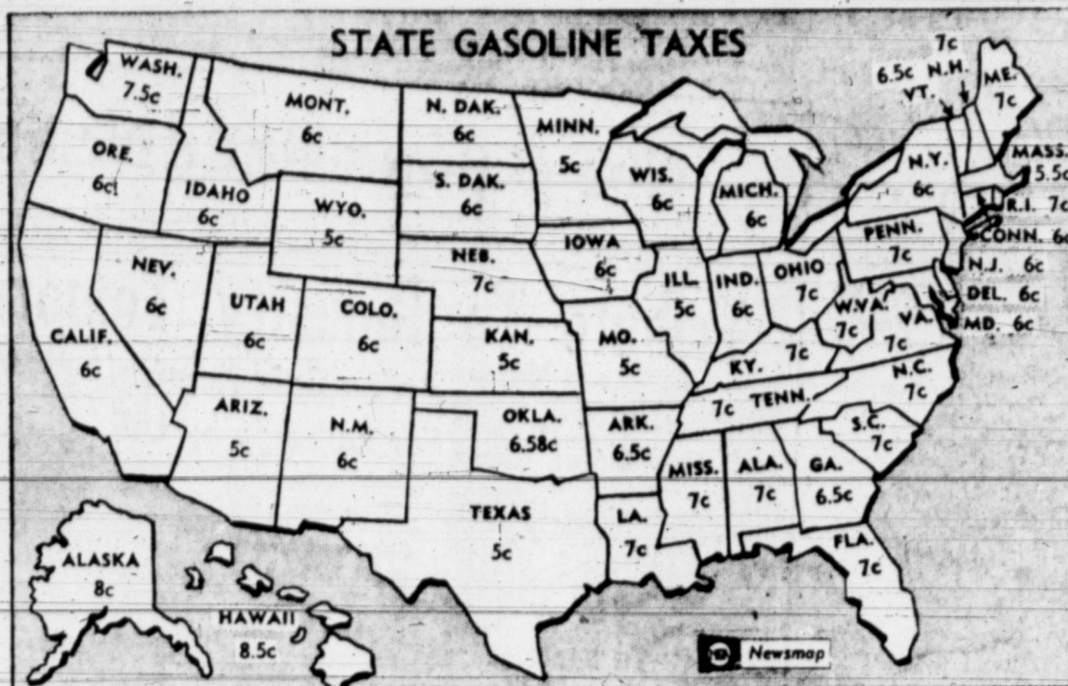

Imports of fabric made from the low-priced cotton have hurt the domestic textile industry, businessmen contend. At the same time, low-priced synthetics have entered the traditional cotton markets in the United States.

The House Agriculture Committee began considering the problem several months ago and administration and textile leaders have agreed on proposals for a domestic trade subsidy to offset the export subsidy.

Introduction of a new cotton bill in the House awaits full dealing with farm price supports and future relaxation of acreage controls.

Senate Agriculture Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., has said he is opposed to a domestic subsidy, but that he would support a plan to reduce farm price supports with special price protection written in for small growers.

There were 9.7 million foreign born resident in the U.S. at the time of the 1960 census.

GALLONS OF STATE TAX REVENUE—Newsmap gives gasoline taxes per gallon levied by the 50 states. Highest: Hawaii, 8.5 cents per gallon. Arizona, Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Texas and Wyoming tie for low, with a 5 cents-per-gallon tax. All taxes shown as of Sept. 1, 1962. In addition, motorists pay a 4-cents-per-gallon federal gasoline tax. Data: Commerce Clearing House.

NUF SAID

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ernest Borgnine of the "McHale's Navy" television series met and marveled at a former movie actor who was nearing his 90th birthday. "Tell me," asked Borgnine, what exercises do you do to keep fit? "My boy, when you're pushing 90, that's all the exercise you need," replied the old timer.

Higher Education Causing Split in Texas Legislature

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas lawmakers, with but three weeks left in the regular session, were torn apart Saturday in a higher education issue split that could seriously alter the remaining crucial issues of the 55th Legislature.

The matter already has involved the governor and House Republicans in a running battle.

The big trouble that is the subject of weekend discussions is the San Angelo College bill, which the House tentatively passed Thursday. The bill squeaked by with a slim margin. It will be brought up for final passage next week, but it is anyone's guess whether it will pass.

It would make the college a four-year state-supported institution, effective September, 1965.

Leaders of the opposition met Friday in the otherwise empty House chamber, plotting ways to get key members to change their votes on final passage.

The floor opposition on engrossment was led by Reps. James Cotten of Weatherford, Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, James Sluder of Naples, Miss Maud Isaacks of El Paso, John Allen of Longview and Ben Jarvis of Tyler.

Leading the fight for the bill were Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo, Ben Barnes of De Leon, Bob Johnson of Dallas and members of the Houston delegation.

Allen Revolis

Allen, a member of the Speaker Byron Tunnell-Gov. John Connally legislative team, gave the first open notice that things were amiss. He attacked Connally on the floor in a personal privilege

Texas Business Slumps for 2nd Month in a Row

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas business slumped in March for the second month in a row, but the decline was a predictable one, a University of Texas researcher said Saturday.

Francis B. May, statistician for the University's Bureau of Business Research, said one or two months of decline often follow a surge in business activity, and January was an unusually good business month.

The seasonally adjusted March business index stood at 127 per cent of its 1957-59 average value—7 per cent below February of 1963 and 4 per cent below March of last year.

In January, the index touched a new peak of 138 per cent of the average, May said. The previous peak value was reached last May and was followed by declines in June and July.

The March slowdown matched declines in a substantial number of Texas business barometers, May said.

Total electric power consumption fell 3 per cent in March after industrial power consumption declined 4 per cent, although both stayed ahead of their year-ago values.

Life insurance sales were down 10 per cent from the month before, although still 14 per cent above March, 1962. The insurance sales index had risen to its second highest value in its history in February.

Nondurable goods slipped down 3 per cent, but retail sales in March were still 3 per cent above February. Automobile sales and trade in lumber, building materials and hardware helped boost the sales index.

Urban Building Off

Although March urban building permits slipped 2 per cent, the total was 6 per cent above last March and the total value of permits made it the highest March on record, May said.

March crude petroleum production held almost at the February level. The index value of 89 per cent was only one-tenth of a per cent below February. The first-quarter average was 88 per cent, compared with 91 per cent for the first quarter of last year.

Warmer weather in March reduced the demand for fuel oil, and April is a month of seasonal decline in demand, May said. These drops in demand accounted for the 3 per cent drop in crude oil runs to stills, May said.

Industrial production in Texas declined 1 per cent in March and stood 4 per cent above March a year ago. Only three Texas cities made gains in the bureau's city-by-city index of March business activity—Beaumont, Texarkana and Tyler. Beaumont's increase was 4 per cent, Texarkana's 3 per cent and Tyler's 3 per cent.

Declines Noted

Indexes held at the February values in El Paso and Lubbock and other cities showed declines ranging from Port Arthur's 2 per cent drop to the 16 per cent drop Dallas suffered.

Insured unemployment in Texas in March was 3.5 per cent of the average covered employment, only 61 per cent of the national rate of 3.7 per cent, May noted. This is slightly above the March of 1962 figure of 3.1 per cent for the state, but was substantially below the unemployment rates in Texas' four neighbor states.

How to Disrupt Court Without Really Trying

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 9-year-old boy went with his classmates and teacher to visit a state supreme court.

They had been invited to visit the court as part of the Queens County Bar Association program for Law Day.

The group walked into Justice George P. Stier's court where the manslaughter trial of Jerry Anderson, 19, was in session. They sat down quietly and listened to the proceedings.

All except the 9-year-old, who gave a note to a juror.

Caused the defense counsel to call for a mistrial.

Prompted the judge to bar grammar students from his courtroom.

Forced the trial into recess. Was interrogated by the judge personally.

Started an investigation by the district attorney.

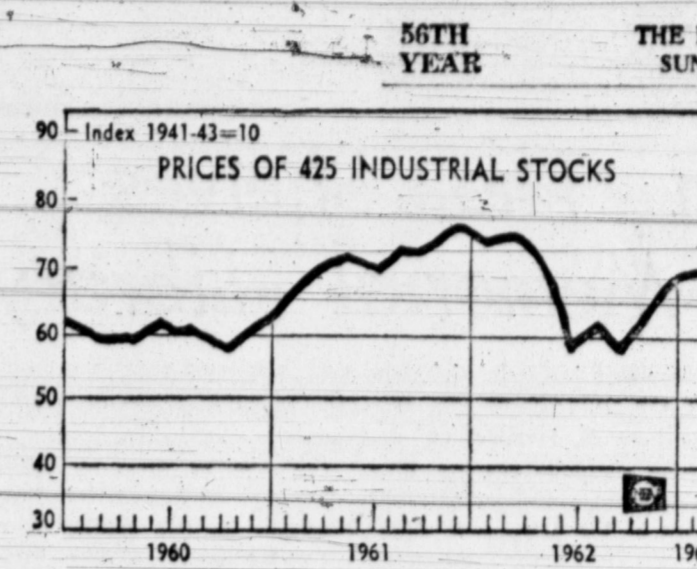

The note said: "Jerry is innocent. The DA is trying to railroad him."

The juror passed the note to a court attendant.

The attendant passed the note to Stier. Stier demanded the spectator who passed the note identify himself.

The 9-year-old rose and said, "I did."

The 1960 U.S. census showed a total of 1,622,000 elementary and secondary school teachers in the country.

ABERDEEN, Scotland (UPI)—Princess Alexandra and her husband, Angus Ogilvy, flew to Gibraltar today on the second leg of their honeymoon.

The couple spent the first 10 days at the queen mother's seaside home in Scotland.

BERLIN (UPI)—Britain's Lord Irivy Seal Edward Heath arrived here today for consultations with British mission leaders and a tour of the Communist wall.

Heath is to lunch Sunday with the British, U. S. and French commandants.

EAST LONDON, South Africa—(UPI)—Sixty-one Africans were charged today under the new anti-sabotage act which permits imprisonment without a trial.

The suspects were held in connection with a police clash with Africans at an alleged Pogo meeting in a plantation outside the city last month. Pogo is the anti-white terrorist organization, which is banned by South Africa.

Congressional Soap Opera

By DICK WEST

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — House committee hearings on the defense budget are published in installments, something like a magazine serial or, if you prefer, a soap opera.

I eagerly look forward to each new chapter so that I can follow the latest adventures of Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., who is my personal hero of the hearings.

In the last chapter, you may recall, "Silent Dan" unveiled an ingenious plan for the conquest of Red China.

All we need to do, he suggested, is persuade the Chinese army to turn against its leaders and then persuade Russia to cooperate with an invasion by the Chinese Nationalists. Nothing to it, really.

Demonstrates Versatility
In today's chapter, the master strategist demonstrates his versatility by coming to grips with military problems of a radically different sort.

As we look in on the hearing "Silent Dan" is interrogating an Air Force officer about "boneless liver." His questions are being directed at Lt. Col. D. J. Perkins, who carries the title of "General Support and Services Division, Directorate of Supply and Services, Deputy Chief of Staff, Systems and Logistics."

How Perkins gets all of that in his brief case is a mystery to me.

Some More Expensive
Perkins said that some types of prefabricated meat are more expensive than other types of prefabricated meat.

Flood: "What in the world is prefabricated meat?"

Perkins: "Prefabricated meat is boneless..."

The Army who read off a list of meats he was buying using boneless liver. I said 'boneless what?' Boneless liver? Is there any other kind of liver?"

Perkins: "No sir. I believe what they meant, sir, is frozen and portion-cut liver. All these meats we refer to as prefabricated, they are boneless, excluding liver, boneless, frozen and portion-cut."

"Silent Dan" parted company with prefabricated liver at this point to explore the question of why the Air Force finds it easier to recruit nurses than the Army does.

"Do you pick them with blue eyes and they look better in a blue uniform?" he asked. "What do you have—keep this decent—that the Army does not have?"

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
As a Socialist Revolutionary, Premier Mohammed Ben Bella of Algeria frequently has expressed his admiration for Fidel Castro. But as the head of a new nation almost totally dependent upon Western help, particularly from France, he has had to temper his public utterances with assurances that Algeria has no intention of stifling private enterprise or abandoning the agreements which led to its independence.

Next to Castro, the man most admired by Ben Bella probably is President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic. This month, on separate occasions, he will play host to both.

Despite the difficulties, he can point out to both that he has been an apt pupil.

One-Man Control
After a relatively slow start, he can say that he has eliminated from public life most of his political opposition and made himself the controlling figure in the government and in Algeria's single political party.

His peasant management committees have taken over more than 2.5 million acres of Algeria's richest farmland, and the government has seized scores of enterprises, including movie houses and hotels.

Eventually, it is planned that more than six million acres of land will be collectivized, with the profits divided between the state and the peasants.

The heavy hand of government has fallen both on Moslem and French owners, despite French protests that such action violated the accords by which France agreed to Algerian independence.

Ben Bella also has declared that he does not intend to let matters rest there.

Cuban Pattern
He has said that just as Cuba solved its problems, "so will we solve them."

To demonstrators chanting "profiteers into the sea" in downtown Algiers this week he pledged that Algeria will have "socialism a la Castro."

It seems fair at this point to recall that Castro also promised land to the peasants, that he declared "we are not Communists" and that he pledged not to confiscate private industry.

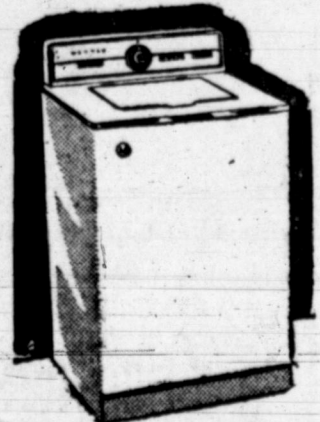

It is also fair to point out that Ben Bella operates under enormous pressures, from the landless peasants, from the two million unemployed and from the state of his treasury which could not operate without more than $1 million per day from the French.

In a land where almost every man owns a gun and is willing to use it, he must show some progress.

Sunderland, England, was recorded as a shipping port as early as 1346, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Norene Carr Is Crowned Church Fiesta Queen

CANADIAN (Spl) — Norene Carr was crowned Queen of Fiesta last night at the annual Sacred Heart Church "Fiesta" program reached its climax in colorful coronation pageantry.

The coronation program at City Auditorium began at 8 p.m.

The "Fiesta" itself started at noon Saturday when the Market Place opened at the American Legion Hall. Mexican dinners were served and market booths offered fancy work, dolls, grab boxes, and silhouettes.

A dance featuring music by the "Amarillos" orchestra from Amarillo was held at City Auditorium following the coronation.

The Coronation program featured Spanish dancing and singing as a prelude to the crowning of the queen.

Featured performers were Miss Lupe Ornelas from Wayhoka, who sang "Camino de Guanajuato" and "Corazoncito Tirano"; Francis Lopez of Canadian and Joe Mark Ybarra of Shattuck in the "Jarabe" (Mexican hat dance); Genette Dawkins of Pampa dancing the "Farucca"; and Miss Dawkins and Sandra Molesworth dancing two ball numbers, "Leyenda" and "Gitaneas."

New Wheat Legislation in Offing if Referendum Fails

AMARILLO (UPI) — Truman Cunningham of the U. S. Department of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation said Friday that many opponents of the 1964 wheat program will be seeking new legislation to rescue the "stranded wheat farmer" if the plan is turned down.

Cunningham read a speech prepared for E. A. Jaenke, assistant administrator of the ASCS, who could not be present. Cunningham read the speech to the 47th annual convention of the Panhandle Grain and Feed Dealers Association.

Cunningham said he hoped farmers would "on May 21 vote in the national referendum to determine whether marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1964 crop and "vote based on facts."

"There is organized opposition to the 1964 wheat program," he said. "Opponents stressing they favor what they call 'freedom for agriculture' hope to convince a large group of people that they are opposed to farm programs in general.

"Yet, if this plan is turned down, those most active in its defeat will be ringing telephones of congressmen and senators before breakfast May 22 seeking new and more expensive legislation to rescue the stranded wheat farmer from sharp financial setback."

Space Writers to Honor Aviation Firm Executives

DALLAS (UPI) — Forty-one top executives of the nation's oldest aviation firms will gather in Dallas May 21 to be honored by the Aviation-Space Writers' Association during its silver anniversary meeting.

M. L. McLaughlin of Dallas, chairman of the meeting, said the historic gathering of leaders in aircraft manufacturing, engine building and airline industries will be the first of its kind.

Each executive will be awarded a silver medallion to honor his firm for making aerospace news during the 25 years of the association's existence.

In addition to the aviation firm executives, medallions will be awarded to Najeeb Halaby, Federal Aviation Agency administrator, and Alan S. Boyd, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Broadway

By JACK GAVER
UPI Drama Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Composer Richard Rodgers took off for a six-week jaunt to various European capitals and Israel in a happy frame of mind. He had just read the reviews of the revival of the 25-year-old Rodgers-Hart musical comedy, "The Boys from Syracuse."

The production at the off-Broadway Theater Four received notices that were practically ecstatic throughout.

The libretto by George Abbott, who freewheeled a deal about two sets of mixed-up twins under the inspiration of Shakespeare's "The Comedy of Errors," doesn't even show too many signs of wear, as is often the case with these revivals. Set in ancient times, you might even say the story was dated when it was new.

And, of course, that wonderful Rodgers score, with the inspired saucy lyrics of the late Lorenz Hart, is as melodic and zestful as when it was new.

Furthermore, producer Richard York has provided a really first-rate cast and Christopher Hewett has directed with a real flair for the antic nature of this piece.

The physical production, with design by Herbert Senn and Helen Pond and costumes by Guy Kent, is the handsomest I've ever seen in an off-Broadway theater. It sparkles. And the show happens to be in one of the few off-Broadway houses that is a pleasure to visit.

It looks like a long run, and not the least of the rewards will be a cast album of the complete show. Such things weren't done when "The Boys from Syracuse" was first produced.

While abroad, Rodgers is locking in on the second anniversary of his "The Sound of Music" at the Palace Theater in London and the production of "A Shot in the Dark" which he is sponsoring there.

By the time he gets back here, the City Center's Light Opera Company will have launched its spring revival season with an all-Rodgers program — "Oklahoma!," "Pal Joey" and "The King and I." Then to work again almost immediately to put the finishing touches for the score of "I Picked a Daisy," which he and Alan Jay Lerner will get on next season.

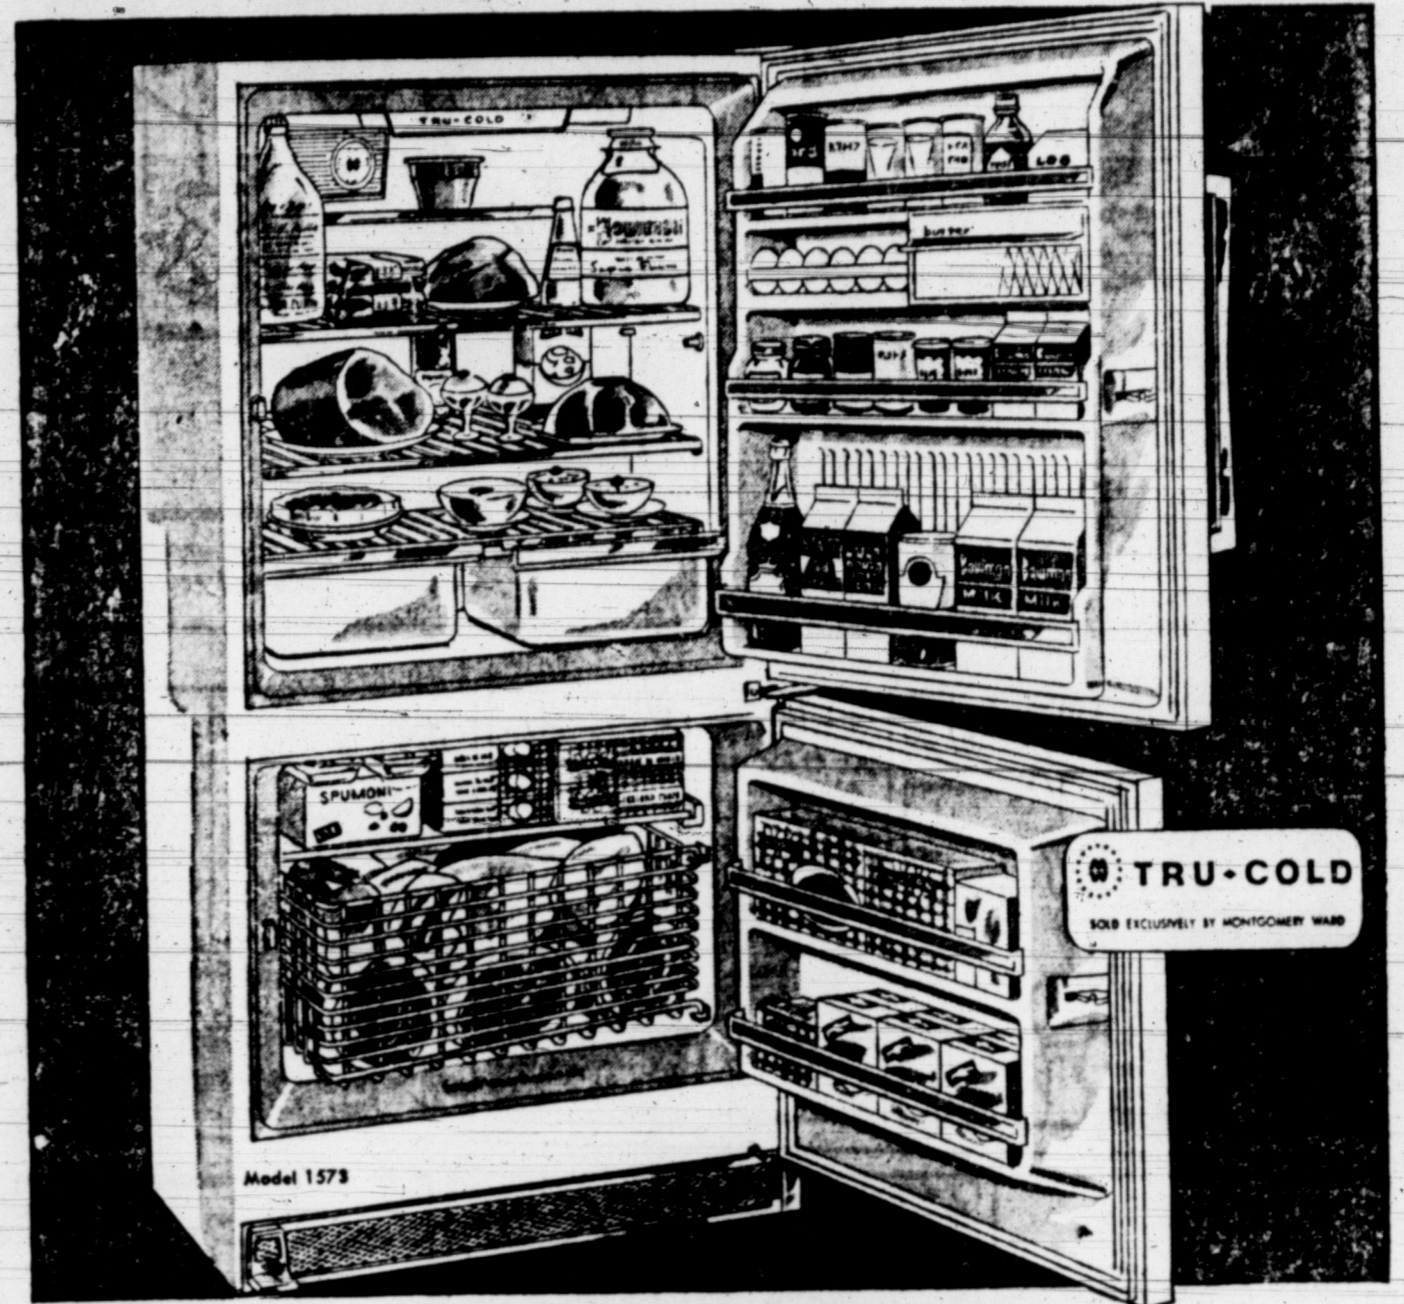

Another off-Broadway revival of a once-popular Broadway musical is at State 73 where "Best Foot Forward" may be seen in a fresh production with a cast of young talent and is doing a sell-out business.

This is the production that has received so much publicity because of the debut in the cast of Lisa Minelli, 17-year-old daughter of Judy Garland. This singing and dancing lass looks like a natural and should be able to get by on her own name from now on.

The John Cecil Holm script for this 1941 show, about hijinks during a weekend at a boys prep school, has been revised to its benefit, and Hugh Martin and Ralph Blane have added two or three new songs to their already excellent score.

This is another case where a cast album will be available for a show that never had one.

Randy Matson Heaves Shot 66-10 1/2

Pampa Finishes Third in Class

AUSTIN (Spl) — Mighty Randy Matson put the shot 66-10 1/2 yesterday to set a new state record for the second day and give Pampa a tie for third in the Class AAAA decision of the state track meet.

Wayne "Lightning" Coleman of Lefors was the other Greater Pampa area winner as he took the Class A pole vault crown.

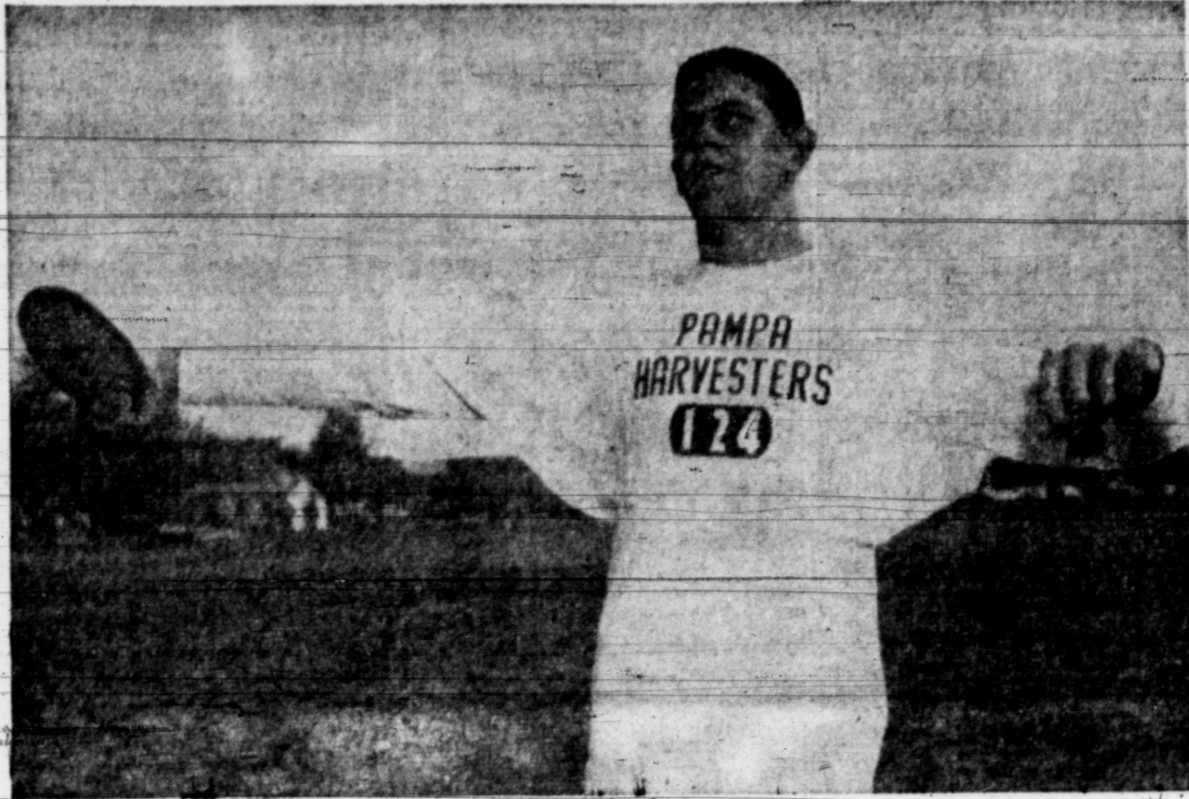

Ralph Palmer of Pampa wilted in the heat and finished eighth in the 440-yard dash.

Both Miami entries, Jim May Flowers and Mark Arrington, failed to win. Arrington finishing fourth in the 180-yard low hurdles and Flowers tying for fifth in the high jump in Class B.

Matson, in comparison to Friday's rugged battle with the record books, discus-wise, had no trouble Saturday with the shot. His first throw went 64-11, his second, 64-8, and his third throw topped his own record by 3 1/2 inches, making it the second highest shot put in national high school history, topped only by Dallas Long's 69-3 1/2 for North Phoenix, Ariz. High in 1958. It breaks Matson's official state meet record last year of 64-7.

Chateaugay Comes from Behind for Derby Victory

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Chateaugay, a big bay colt from the Darby Dan farm, swept into contention on the final turn at Churchill Downs Saturday and roared through the stretch like a runaway train to win the $151,400 Kentucky Derby by a length and one-quarter.

With jockey Braulio Baeza in the saddle, the bright chestnut colt circled around three horses leaving the final bend and then turned loose one of the great stretch runs in the history of this classic to beat Cain-Hoy Stable's Never Bend in America's greatest hours race.

Candy Spots, the spotted colt from California who went into the race with a perfect six for six record, was a neck farther back and On My Honor fourth in the field of nine of the country's greatest 3-year-olds.

Chateaugay, a son of Swaps, winner of the 1955 derby, faced an imposing task when he launched his surprise rally. For ahead of him, when Baeza, a native of Panama and the second foreign-born rider ever to win this classic, asked Chateaugay for his best, were the "big three" of this 89th classic.

Never Bend, No Robbery and Candy Spots each was ahead of him and each of them had to be caught with the greatest prize in racing up for grabs.

Collars Leaders

One after another Chateaugay collared them, with Never Bend and Candy Spots battling desperately to match his final drive. But neither could stay with the thoroughbred, who flashed under the wire in 2:01 4/5, one of the fastest derbies on record.

It was fifth best, topped only by Decidedly's record of 2:00 2/5 set on a lightning fast and concrete-hard track a year ago, by Whirlaway's 2:01 2/5 and the 2:01 3/5 clockings turned in by Middleground and Hill Gail.

Chateaugay, bred by the Darby Dan farm of John W. Galbreath, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, had many supporters in one of the largest crowds ever to see the first of the triple crown classics.

He paid $20.80, $7.00 and $3.80 across the board while picking up a winner's purse of $10,000, his initial victory in a "hundred grander."

Never Bend, the 1962 juvenile champion when he earned a record $402,069, paid $5.00 and $3.40 while Candy Spots, the favorite, returned $2.80.

Chateaugay ran his victory string to five straight by winning the derby and registered his second stakes victory. In his race just before the derby he won the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland.

For Baeza it was his first victory in three rides in the racing classic. Two years ago he was second with Crozier when Decidedly set the record and he was ninth with Admiral's Voyage in 1962.

No Robbery faded back to fifth, followed by Bonjour, Gay Pet, Investor and Royal Tower.

After a brief struggle with No Robbery, Manny Ycaza sent Never Bend to the front as the field roared down the stretch for the first time and there Never Bend stayed with No Robbery second and Candy Spots third.

On and on the three horses rolled while Chateaugay loped along back in the pack, almost 10 lengths from the training leaders.

Until he reached the end of the backstretch, with a half mile to go, that Baeza asked Chateaugay to shift into high gear. The light tan silks on his back shone in the bright sun as they flashed past horse after horse on the turn.

Then, when the field straightened out for the drive through the stretch, he was fourth and eating up the ground with giant strides. Chateaugay had to go outside the leaders to make his bid and that didn't bother him a bit.

Halfway through the stretch he was in command as Ycaza struggled desperately to keep Never Bend going and jockey Willie Shoemaker tried to "ash additional speed out of Candy Spots.

Tascosa Tops Bulldogs, 5-3 To Tie Pampa

AMARILLO (Spl) — The Tascosa Rebels tied the Pampa Harvesters for third place in District 3-4A as they downed Berger Saturday, 5-3, to close out the season for both teams.

Tascosa grabbed an early lead as they scored in each of the first four innings and then held off a last-ditch Bulldog rally for the win. Berger finished district with a 9-5 record and Pampa and Tascosa each ended 8-6. Amarillo is 7-5 with two make-up games to play Tuesday at Lubbock and Monterey. If the Sandies win both games, they will tie Berger for second. A split would put them in a three-way tie for third and losses in both games would drop them to fifth.

David Packhurst lasted only 2 1/3 innings and took the loss as the Rebels got to him for five hits and four runs. Mike Hyatt relieved and was touched for four more hits and another run. John Bowman held the Bulldogs in complete control for five innings, scattering four hits, walking two and striking out nine. Bowman tired in the heat and Bruce Magnus took over in the sixth. Although he struck out four, the Dogs got to him for five hits and two walks, with runners being thrown out at the plate in the sixth and seventh frames, choking off two Berger rallies.

Tascosa grabbed two runs in the first inning on an error and singles by Bill Bogan, Stan Robinson and Bill Hobbs. They got another in the second, one in the third on a home run by Jim Carter and another single rally in the fourth.

Borger rallied in the sixth on a walk, doubles by Dale Connor and Neil Grubbs and a pair of Re-reliefs. They got one more run in the seventh on singles by Jerry Shelton and Preston Wilson and a double by Joe Coffey, but Shelton was thrown out at the plate to save the Tascosa win.

Grelle Upsets Beatty With Pan-Am Record

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI) — The stunning Jim Grelle upset famed Jim Beatty to win the 1,500 meter run in record time and a U. S. quarter apparently survived a protest to win the 1,600 meter relay Saturday as the United States swept seven out of eight track and field gold medals in the Pan-American games.

The stunning finish in track gave the U. S. team a rich haul of 103 gold medals in the games, with night competition still to come on the final full day of action.

Grelle's victory over Beatty, the 1962 Sullivan Award winner as America's top amateur athlete, in meet record time of 3:45.3 was the competitive highlight of the day. But that was almost overshadowed in the dispute that blew up over the 1,500 meter relay finish.

The U. S. team finished first but then runner-up Venezuela protested the third Yank runner, Ollan Cassell, had run out of his lane.

At first it was announced officials had allowed the protest and disqualified the U. S. team, but then it was announced the protest had been turned down. Finally, officials said they were turning over the Venezuelan protest to the Pan-American jury for final ruling.

The jury had left the arena by that time, and apparently it would be some time until it could be reassembled to consider the protest.

Pending the however, the Yanks had wound up track and field in a blaze of glory, although just a trifle short of the gold medal figures they posted in the same sports in the last Pan-American games in 1959. This time the Yanks won 17 out of 24 possible gold medals in

Reds Drop Cards Out of NL Lead

Robby, Coleman Baltimore Holds Lead, Tops Tigers

Hit Four-Baggers

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Home runs by Frank Robinson and Gordy Coleman backed the four-hit pitching of Jim Maloney Saturday as the Cincinnati Reds defeated St. Louis, 6-0, and dropped the Cardinals out of the National League lead.

Maloney was shaky in the first four innings when St. Louis stranded base runners but settled down later as the Cardinals were blanked for the second straight day and dropped into a tie for second place behind the Pittsburgh Pirates.

A walk to rookie Pete Rose and a single by Vada Pinson preceded Robinson's fourth homer of the season in the third inning. Moments later, Coleman, who had been hitless in 30 consecutive at-bats going into the game, clouted a long home run into the right field bleachers.

The Cardinals had one more chance in the seventh when Maloney hit two batters and walked one to load the bases with two out. But the young right-hander sneaked a slow curve past George Altman for a third strike to end the threat.

Indians in the women's 50-meter hurdles, and the women's 400-meter hurdles.

The only track event in which a Yank did not finish first was the coveted marathon, won by Mexico's Fidel Negrete.

Giants Gobble Up Hapless Mets, 17-4

NEW YORK (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants exploded six home runs, two each by Orlando Cepeda and Ed Bailey to crush the New York Mets, 17-4, Saturday for their fifth straight victory.

Felipe Alou and Jim Davenport also hit home runs as the Giants extended their road record to eight wins in nine games for the young season. Lefty Bill O'Dell, who retired after six innings because of soreness behind his right shoulder, breezed to his third victory with out defeat.

All except Bailey's second homer were hit off Mets' starter Roger Craig. Alou's two-run homer in the first started the assault. Cepeda hit a pop fly bases-empty home run and Davenport hit a three-run blast in the fourth.

Chicago Crushes Senators, 8-1

CHICAGO (UPI) — Dave Nicholson drove in three runs with his fifth and sixth home runs Saturday to pace the Chicago White Sox to an 8-1 victory over the Washington Senators in a soggy rain-delayed ball game.

Nicholson, who leads the White Sox in strikeouts with 35, found the range in the fourth inning when he hit a shot in the left field stands with the bases empty.

The former Baltimore outfielder hit his second after a double by rookie Pete Ward during a five-run Sox outburst in the seventh.

High Schools Split Votes On Football

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas High School administrators divided sharply today on proposals to limit fall football practice to conditioning exercises only for the first seven days of drills.

Classes AAA, AA and A of the University Interscholastic League voted on the proposal, 209-191. Class AAAA approved it, 49-18, and Class B, six and eight-man divisions, gave it a 157-77 endorsement.

They endorsed, 391-141, a rule change that would limit a student or team to not more than eight indoor and outdoor track and field meets. This rule also had a provision that no student or team shall participate in a meet on a day other than the last day of school for that week or Saturday, unless that day is a school holiday.

An amendment that would extend the baseball season one week carried 480-218. This provides that the district baseball championship be certified by the last Friday in May with bi-district, regional and state championships on succeeding weekends.

The track and baseball changes will take effect in the 1963-64 school year while the approved football plans will become effective in 1964-65.

Yanks Halt Twins Rally in Ninth

ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Reliever Hal Reniff put down a ninth-inning rally by the Minnesota Twins Saturday and saved a 3-2 New York Yankee victory, powered by homers by Elston Howard and Mickey Vernon.

New Yorker starter Stan Williams had a two-hit shutout going with two outs in the ninth when the Twins started their last-ditch battle. Bob Allison, who walked, and Jim Hall, who singled, rode home on Earl Battey's long double to tie.

New York manager Ralph Houk summoned Reniff, who ended the game by getting Bernie Allen on a grounder.

Dickey Kerr Dies

HOUSTON (UPI) — Richard H. (Dickey) Kerr, the honest hero of the 1919 World Series, died Saturday of cancer at the age of 69.

Nicklaus Takes Las Vegas Lead

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Ben Casper, Arnold Palmer and Bobby Goaly fired brilliantly, then fell back Saturday before the relentless shotmaking of Jack Nicklaus as the Ohio star wound up the day leading the third round of the Tournament of Champions, four strokes.

Nicklaus faded in the winds to an even par 72 for 54-hole score of 204-12 stroke under par, four shots ahead of Casper, five ahead of Goaly as six in front of Palmer.

But the National Open at Masters champion got a scare from the trio of antagonists before he clung to his lead.

He had started the day with five-shot bulge over Palmer, seven over Casper and nine ahead of Goaly.

But after eight holes, Casper had cut the margin to two shots, Palmer to four and Goaly to five.

Casper finished with a 69 for 208; Goaly 68 for 209; and Palmer 73 for 210.

Nicklaus had rounds of 64-64 before Saturday when 20-11 winds swept the Desert Inn Country Club course and gave him some trouble.

He had three bogies on the front nine, but retained his composure to bag a pair of birdies on the back nine for a 34.

Pastrano Pounds Wayne Thornton

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Willie Pastrano piled up a big early lead Saturday night, then survived the late-round bull-like rushes of young Wayne Thornton to win a split decision in their nationally televised light heavyweight fight.

The win evened the three-fight series between the two fighters at 17 1/2 pounds, danced and jabbed one win apiece plus one draw.

Monterey Is Loop Champ

LUBBOCK (Spl) — The Monterey Plainsmen clinched first place in District 3-AAA Friday as they routed the Lubbock Westerners, 10-0.

Danny McDougall, the Monterey ace, pitched his finest game of the season as he allowed only three scattered singles, two of them bunts and one an infield hit, walked none and struck out 16. It was McDougall's fifth win in six district starts and made him 12-1 on the season.

The Plainsmen picked up singles runs in the first, third and fourth innings and then wrapped it up with a four-run sixth with two out. A hit batter and two straight singles started the action and then McDougall clinched his own win with a two-run homer.

This makes the Plainsmen 11-1 in district with two games to go, and 27-3 on the season. It was coach Bobby Moegle's fourth straight district championship in as many years and Monterey's 161st win under his leadership.

Strongarm Boys

Kenny Hebert, returning Harvester quarterback, is getting stiff competition from a hungry quartet who would like to take over his signal-calling duties. Flexing their passing arms along with Hebert are Darell Luster, Phil Smith and Larry Johnson. A fourth candidate who has moved up from the sophomore ranks to also challenge is youthful Kyle Vann, who has impressed with his ball-handling and throwing.

Wayne Thornton

Wayne Thornton, the young light heavyweight, won a split decision in his nationally televised fight against Willie Pastrano. Thornton, who is 17 1/2 pounds, danced and jabbed one win apiece plus one draw.

Willie Pastrano piled up a big early lead Saturday night, then survived the late-round bull-like rushes of young Wayne Thornton to win a split decision in their nationally televised light heavyweight fight.

Sporting Sidelines

By JEFF COHANE

WE WOULD like to give credit to one of the hardest fighting games, all-out teams we have ever seen. The Pampa Harvester baseball team.

Picked for sixth place when the season started, this group of youthful, inexperienced sophomores and juniors coalesced into a smooth-working, confident ball club as the season went by, and went to the twelfth inning of their final game of the year before losing second place in district.

Since there are several makeup games to be played in the district, it will not be known positively until next Tuesday whether Pampa will finish third or fourth in the loop, although their chances for finishing in a third place are excellent, since the Amarillo Sandies' chances of beating Monterey in their season finale is definitely a long shot.

WHEREVER they finish, however, they have been one of the most courageous teams we have ever seen, and we feel that not enough credit can be given them. Although we hate to throw bouquets to our romie, the tremendous work that coach Kay Howard put in, aided by assistant Joe Perrinman, in not only making ballplayers out of them, but in giving them not only a spirit of confidence, but a feeling of pride in being a Harvester baseball player, the feeling that made them come from three runs behind against the best pitcher in the district (in our opinion) and fight tooth and nail before going under, deserves a vote of thanks by all Pampa sports fans.

Almost all of the Harvesters will be back next year, and this time they are not going to settle for a battle for second place, they are going to be going after the Monterey Plainsmen and Borger Bulldogs with everything they have, and we feel it might be enough to give Pampa its first baseball champion in history.

TO THE two departing starters who played their last game Friday, there is little to be said that hasn't already been quoted. Jerry Glover pitched the finest game he could, 12 innings worth after two days rest, 12 innings of matching Big Joe Robinson out for out, there isn't any more to say, except to mention that Jerry was the top hitter on the team as well played anywhere, anytime. Jerry, a natural first baseman, played second base last year because he was needed there, and made the All-District team. This year he willingly took over third base, because that was where he was needed. Our vote for the finest all-around player in the loop this year and one of the best in the history of Pampa goes to Jerry G. As for Kenny Collins, not only his fine fielding at shortstop, but his smiling confidence had a lot to do with pulling a group of youngsters together as a team. Both he and Jerry will be badly missed, but they have set an example for next year's team. An example that will be followed.

WE WOULD like to quote from a column by Burl Pettit of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal: "All games that were rained out during the district 3-AAAA season were scheduled, and that deserves a tip of the old hat to athletic directors Eck Curtis of Lubbock and De Walker of Amarillo.

In the past, only those games which might affect the championship itself were reslated. This, although convenient for schools wanting to get their baseballers into spring and drills, was not completely fair.

In baseball, as well as football and basketball, every team should be allowed a complete schedule. Kids who have worked hard from February through April should not be deprived of a chance to finish as high in the standings as they can, regardless of whether they still have a shot at the title.

WE COULD not agree with Burl more. Unfortunately, due to Pampa's school schedule starting earlier and closing earlier than the rest of the district schools this year, Pampa baseballers were shifting from baseball to football regularly this past week. Not using it as an excuse, but this naturally affected their timing both at bat and in the field, as well as affecting their football play as well.

MOVING ON TO FOOTBALL, we have been tremendously impressed with Pampa's spring training, and so have all the fans and spectators we have spoken to. According to the pessimists and hecklers we heard when we first arrived and to the Harvester's past record, we literally expected a hangdog bunch of ragamuffins to shamble out on the field. Knowing coach Otis Holladay and his staff as we do, however, and knowing the Pampa Harvesters as a gang that gives everything they have in every sport, we are glad to relay the pleasure we have received in not only watching them, but in reporting to the hecklers that they were completely wrong. This is one of the hardest working, smooth-running, bone-breaking-tackling groups we have seen in many years.

We can't guarantee a winner, knowing football as a game where anything can happen, but if this team coming up doesn't give the other teams a run for their money, and the fans the same, we will eat our own column, printer's ink and all. This team looks GOOD! We have always figured that it takes

Jaycee Junior Champ Meet Winners

Although there were over 300 youthful contestants out for the annual Jaycee Junior Champ track meet at Pampa High School yesterday, only the boys prep and junior division saw strong competition as the trackmen from Lee and Pampa Junior High battled it out, but the girls prep division, girls junior division and boys and girls PeeWee divisions were each dominated by one or two athletes.

In the girls prep division, Ann Donaldson and Diana Reynolds walked off with all the honors, as Ann won the 50 yard dash, the 75 yard dash and the 100-yard dash, with Diana second each time. Diana took individual honors however, as she went on to take first in the softball throw and running broad jump.

In the junior girls division, Connie Parrish, Regina Barnett and Cheryllyn Porter split most of the honors. Connie won the 50 and 75 yard dashes and ran on the winning 220-yard shuttle relay team. Cheryllyn won the running and standing broad jumps, and was third in both dash events and the softball throw. Regina ran on the winning relay team and was second in both dashes and the running broad jump.

In the boys Pee Wee division, Matt Braley and Mark Thomass led the individual winners. Matt won the 50-yard dash and the standing broad jump, while Mark was second in the 50, won the softball throw and ran on the winning relay team.

In the PeeWee girls contest, Debbie Bennett was outstanding, winning the 25-yard dash, the 50-yard dash, the running broad jump and the softball throw, as well as running on the third place relay team.

In the boys prep division, Gary Crossland was the only double winner, taking the 75-yard dash and the running broad jump. Joey Roden won the 50-yard dash, and Lewis Meers the 100, and all three were on the winning 440-yard relay team.

In the junior boys, Lane Hooten won the 50 and 75 yard dashes and ran on the winning 220-yard relay team to cop the most prizes.

Borger Tops Harvesters In Twelfth Inning, 5-4

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

BORGER — Jerry Shelton and Preston Wilson hit back-to-back doubles in the last of the 12th inning Friday to give the Borger Bulldogs a 5-4 victory over the Pampa Harvesters.

The Bulldog win eliminates Pampa from a chance at second place and clinched at least a tie for the hosts. Pampa finishes the season with an 8-6 record and has to await several makeup games by other teams in the district Tuesday to determine whether they finish third or fourth.

The hits also broke up the finest pitching duel of the season as Big Joe Robinson and Jerry Glover battled each other through five near-perfect extra innings after Larry "Shotgun" Gregory had brought Pampa from three runs behind with a seventh-inning home run into the left-center field light tower.

Season Record
Robinson set a season mark for strikeouts in district play as he struck out 23 Harvesters and walked only two, one intentionally. Glover, pitching with two days rest, struck out 15 batters, walked two and hit two. The total strikeouts by the two hurlers is the second highest recorded in loop history, with the only higher mark established in a 21-inning game by Monterey and Amarillo several years ago.

Big Joe gave up only four hits, all singles except Gregory's four-bagger. Glover gave up nine hits, but pitched perfect ball from the eighth inning on, allowing no hits and no walks, with only two errors breaking his one-two-three string as he struck out seven men in the extra-inning span until finally weakening in the twelfth.

Pampa Scores
The Harvesters got off to a quick start in the top of the first as Jerry Garrison reached first on an error and stole second and Kenny Hebert sliced a solid single through the middle of the diamond to score Garrison. Hebert reached second as the center fielder bobbed the ball, but died there in the last Pampa threat until the seventh inning. Robinson retired the next 16 batters in a row — 11 via the strikeout route, aided by a fine running catch of Eugene Madrid's liner in the sixth by center fielder Royce Barron.

Borger got to Glover for two runs in the third. Barron singled, but was picked off first by Gregory. With two out, David Dillingham walked, and Shelton hit a long fly ball just over the head of right fielder Jerry Garrison, who made a leaping try for the ball, to send Dillingham home. Preston Wilson then followed Shelton with another double, this one just staying fair inside the right-field line.

Dogs Hit
The Dogs made it 3-1 in the third when Vincent Langen was hit by a pitch, stole second and scored on a clean double into right-center by Buddy Grubbs. Grubbs was then wiped out as Ricky Stewart made a leaping catch of Barron's line drive and flipped to Ken Collins for a twin killing.

Borger added another tally as the seemingly tired Glover gave up a leadoff double to Joe Coffey in the sixth. Coffey moved to third as Langen grounded out and scored on Dale Conner's single.

Trailing 4-1, the apparently beaten Harvesters went up for their final at-bat. Kenny Hebert walked on a 3-1 count. Glover then dumped a bunt in front of the plate. Robinson speared it, and then, seeing that the flying Frenchman was almost at second base, lobbed the ball to first. The lob went almost straight up in the air and came down several feet from the bag, pulling Conner off the base and putting men on first and second. Gregory looked at a strike and then belted a waist high inside curve for a high, soaring fly out to right center field. The ball sailed on like a Randy Matson-discus toss and disappeared into the light tower, 340 feet away, to tie the game.

Pitchers Star
The infuriated Robinson then proceeded to strike out the side

Texas Boating

By KENNETH CARR
United Press International

If the trend towards boat gadgetry increases in the next five years as it has in just the past year or so, the average Texan's craft by 1968 may resemble the USS Nautilus.

That prediction may be slightly exaggerated, but a boating buff made it recently after examining the new gear displayed at some of the state's recent boat shows. A lot of the new boats have these gadgets and ideas already built into them. Storage compartments, like closets in houses, are becoming a necessary item for boat buyers. Other extras thrown in are heads, refrigerators, air conditioning, heating, built-in cooking equipment and hydraulic seats that take the bounce out of the boat ride.

Electronic Gear Offered
Electronic equipment has also become the rage and most boats have at least one piece of electronic gear offered. In many cases the equipment may be nothing more than a small transistor radio, which receives both standard broadcasts and marine radio weather information.

Roll being Removed
The autopilot is designed to take the roll out of boats in heavy seas. It uses an electric rate gyro that produces a stabilizing signal which detects a roll in the boat before it actually starts, then automatically corrects the roll.

A water skier, by means of switch buttons on the ski rope, can control the boat's speed and direction. If the skier takes a fall he can immediately chop the throttle.

LIKE FATHERS

PALISADES, N. J. (UPI)—Offspring of two of the greatest circus stars of all time made their debuts as stars in their own right at Palisades Amusement Park. Featured in the Hippodrome International Circus were Pat Kelly, son of the tramp clown Eggert, in a look-alike, act-alike of his famed father, and Harriet Beatty, daughter of wild animal trainer Clyde Beatty, making her debut as a talented trainer of elephants.

Paintings Are Auctioned

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the greatest collections of paintings by old masters that was saved from the Castro regime was auctioned off in 45 minutes for $1,280,300.
A dealer bidding by telephone from London for a private collector entered the top price in the public auction at the Parke-Bernet galleries of $800,000 for "The Merry Lute Player" by Frans Hals.
The work was part of the collection of the late Oscar B. Cintas who transferred his treasures from Cuba to New York before he died in 1957 at his Havana mansion. Other art collections which remained in Cuba were nationalized by Premier Fidel Castro.
The price for "The Merry Lute

Player" was disappointing since some estimates of its worth had exceeded $800,000. The work was the most valuable of the Dutch artist, who produced it in 1625-27.
CIVIL DEFENSE PRIORITY
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara believes there is a possibility that in a nuclear attack civil defense may take priority over military operations.
Damage in the United States may be so extensive, McNamara said in a directive Thursday, that domestic recovery might be given precedence over requirements for military forces overseas.

New Orleans Site For Legion Meet

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The national executive committee of the American Legion approved New Orleans as the legion's 1963 convention site.
Officials had ordered a review of the decision to hold the convention in New Orleans after the Pennsylvania department complained that segregated accommodations would interfere with Negro legionnaires planning to attend the Sept. 6-12 meeting.
A federal court in New Orleans will begin hearings Friday on two suits attacking a Louisiana law preventing hotel desegregation.
Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion of Louisiana said the law in question had nothing to do with hotels, but hotel owners interpret the law differently.

BIRMINGHAM Ala. (UPI)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. addressing the largest mass demonstration protesting segregation ever held in the United States:
"We are going on and on with our movement and we are not going to stop until the walls of segregation are crushed."

Coffee Break....

...with d. e. w.

TOP O' A TEXAS Morning... ready for our weekly chat over coffee cups? ... have enough cream? sugar? ... oh, you like it black, too? ... that's a taste we have acquired since coming to this coffee drinking town. Hardly know where to begin. There's been so much going on in the "woman's world". Like, for instance, the District 19 PTA conference, which started this week off with a bang. Sitting on the sidelines, so to speak, we heard so many complimentary comments from PTA members from other towns about the hospitality and wonderfully efficient way the conference was organized. Most of the bouquets to Zee Holloway, general chairman of the conference... and to Lois Shelhamer, co-chairman... and to Dot Hudson, city council president... and to Francis Cree and Jean Hogsett, who had all the publicity material in weeks before the conference even started... but to make the conference the genuine success that it was, takes the combined cooperation of all the chairmen serving from all the units, Lamar, Travis, Wilson, Houston, Baker, Austin, Mann and Robert E. Lee Junior High... which is what the 1963 conference certainly had!

EVEN THOUGH there was nothing dull about the conference, here's an article that is guaranteed to banish dullness from unit meetings held monthly throughout the year. It seems that members in the Oak School PTA in Los Angeles had suffered and squirmed through long, dull meetings until they decided to do something about it. They decided that in the first place, the faithful parents and teachers who always showed up shouldn't have to suffer for their fidelity. And, in the second place, activities of the Parent-Teachers Association were so important that something should be done to attract the not-so-faithful. So they came up with this program: 1) no more droning recitations of minutes and financial reports; pass them out in mimeographed form; 2) maintain a strict time limit; begin promptly at a certain hour and conclude at a definite hour, regardless; 3) seat parents at cafeteria tables equipped with coffee and cookies; no more rows of straight-backed chairs; 4) encourage attendance by setting up a pool of teenagers available for paid babysitting; 5) most important of all, make the meetings genuinely interesting; no more lengthy discussions of whether the treasury can support a new piano for the music department, etc. According to the Oak School PTA this worked wonders for the attendance at their meetings. At one meeting 900 persons turned out!

MUSICAL MOMENTS of the past week that we would like to live over... Louise Richardson, accompanied by Wanda Gill, singing "The Bells of St. Mary's" at the PTA Life Membership Banquet Monday night in the Coronado Inn... The High School Girls' Choir, in their pretty red dresses, white slippers and gloves, in their singing appearance before the morning session of the District PTA workshop Tuesday morning in the First Baptist Church... Susie Fillman, accompanied by Johnlyn Mitchell, dancing and singing "I Love Being a Girl" as she did at the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority's Founders' Day Banquet Tuesday night in the Pampa Country Club. Susie sang as if she truly enjoyed being a girl and Johnlyn played the piano as if she enjoyed being a girl... as well as an accomplished pianist!

MUSICAL MOMENTS anticipated during this National Music Week... every evening this week, between the minutes of 6:35 and seven o'clock, Treble Clef will present musical programs over a local radio station with selections dedicated to its 23 patroness members. Each patroness was asked to name her favorite selection, which, then, will be dedicated to her during one of the broadcasts throughout the week... and did you know that there are two local students in West Texas State University's musical production of "The Music Man"... Sara Gordon, daughter of the Joe Gordons, whom we vividly remember performing a memorable Spanish dance during her dancing school days with Jeanne Willingham... and Jerry Nichols, son of the Jeral Nichols... both have parts... Sara as a featured dancer... and Jerry as a member of a quartet and is a speaking part as a school-board member. Four days of the production have already passed, but four more are coming up... on May 8-9-10-11... so there's still plenty of time to catch it!... and then this afternoon... don't forget, the bonus concert being presented by Ronald Turini, concert pianist, at two o'clock in the Pampa Junior High auditorium... it's the Pampa Community Concerts' Association's way of saying "thank you" to all of its new patrons as well as to its faithful ones, for the support given during the past 19 years!

WHAT'S NEW IN TOWN? ... well, Erin O'Connor is. She's nearly one whole month old... and she's come to brighten the Coronado Inn suite of Jim and Joan O'Connor, which she is certainly doing with her pretty red hair!

NEW TELLS! ... M. K. Brown, an esteemed Pampan, arrived back in town this week from his winter sojourn in East Texas... just in time to celebrate the anniversary of his arriving from England to this Top O' Texas area sixty years ago! Lorraine Locke and Van Venderberg are back home, too, after attending a weekend District 9 Altirus International workshop for presidents and chairmen held in the Ramada Inn in Dallas... they flew down last week... Larena will be installed in June as president of the Altirus Club of Pampa for a second term... and Van participated in the district conference workshop in her capacity as District Vocational Information chairman... but they had a ball! Leah and Bunny Bohman were in Dallas, too, the same weekend attending some family parties. Caught just a glimpse of Ellen Kretzmeier last week when she arrived back in town in time for the Oddfellow-Rabekah Convention... she's been visiting various Rabekah Lodges throughout Texas in her capacity as state president of the Rabekah Assembly... and has a full and busy year ahead of her! The Joe H. Lewises' home, east of the city, was certainly a happy spot when they celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary last weekend with family and a host of friends. Since their wedding day, fifty years ago, the Lewises have lived in the same attractive farm home. There was no time for a honeymoon fifty years ago, Mrs. Lewis told us, but there have been several special love the door chimes which greet guests and friends calling at Floyd and Maxine Watson's home on Aspen... when the front door is opened pretty chimes of "Bless This House" can be heard! And Maxine has the most charming accessories in her patio garden... and old-fashioned kindling stove converted to a planter... a black, iron link chain swirled around holding an old-fashioned mail-box suspended in the air, which Maxine uses as a tool-box for her smaller garden accessories... it's a charming back-yard with narrow walks winding around through her garden... white wrought-iron garden chairs beneath a shade tree... a brick out-door fireplace, which serves beautifully for out-door cookouts. Our mission in Maxine's garden was to take pictures for the Pampa, Top O' Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Garden Clubs, which are sponsoring a Spring Flower Show, "Magazine Titles In Flowers" on May 11 in Lovett Memorial Library... see you around, d.e.w.

pare him to be away from you for several hours at a time. Let your child grow up."

Mr. Page reminded parents to bring summer roundup blanks and the child's birth certificate — the first day of school next fall.
Mrs. Dorothy McMurry, school nurse, stressed responsibility.
"Start them off with a good and never keep them out of school unnecessarily."

POWDER POINTERS

Face powder is one of the keys to a flawless look. Puff it on properly and you will be as close to the velvety complexion we all want as anyone can get.

A clean puff is essential. Have a generous amount of powder on the puff. Start with the lower part of your cheek and puff the powder on gently clockwise around your face. Powder around your eyes and the nose last. You can fill in lines on the forehead and around the mouth by spreading them apart and gently pressing on the powder.

Vacuum mattresses several times a year, and remove dust and lint from the crevices and tufts.

Helping Others Key To Survival: Mrs. Lyndon Johnson

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of the vice president, said Thursday night that helping others will be the key to survival of the American way of life.

Mrs. Johnson told a convention of American women in radio and television, that aid to underdeveloped and needy countries "is a more potent force than all the propaganda that the best mind could assemble."

Mrs. Johnson said the United States should bring to underdeveloped countries "cumulative knowledge in science, agriculture, medicine and cultural forms."

America, she added, should use its knowledge in child care to reduce infant mortality on a global scale.

She urged the nation to share with Asia and Africa "our knowledge of how to grow more corn and wheat so that the bread baskets of the world will be full and there will be no empty stomachs."

You Can Tell Man's In House!

Is there a man in the house? You can tell the minute you enter the living room. Signs of masculine occupancy are all over the place — if, that is, the man has something to say about the kind of home he lives in.

A man I know maintains the surest sign that dad really lives there is a big dog sleeping on the living-room carpet.

There are other indications that a house is a man's home. For instance: Big, serviceable ashtrays that are usable instead of tiny and decorative. Big easy chairs. When living room chairs have obviously been selected for looks alone, with no thought of comfort, you can be pretty sure mama went furniture shopping without taking papa along.

Magazines and books that are easily accessible. If the magazines and books are hidden, you know who hid them.

The morning or evening paper lying beside a man's easy chair is a good sign, because no man who has his wishes respected lets a newspaper be thrown away the day it arrives.

A six-foot divan reveals consideration for the husband. The living room that a man can stretch out to read, listen to the radio, or watch television wasn't planned with the man of the house in mind.

Furniture that isn't too fine and delicate to be used, and looks as though it is used every day, seems to say "He lives here, too."

Yes, it's usually easy to tell with just a glance at the living room whether it is a man's house as well as a woman's house.

When papa has no say at all about his own home, the living room usually bears silent witness to the fact.

Some at-home suggestions: "How to Have a Happy Husband." Send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, in care of The Pampa Daily News, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, NY.

Wellington Woman Wins Texas Mother Title

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Mrs. Jennie Dysart Holcomb of Wellington, Tex., was named Texas Mother of 1963 Thursday at the annual Awards Dinner sponsored by the American Mothers' Committee, Inc., of Texas and the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce.

Busy Tuesday Set By PTA Council

Installation of PTA City Council officers will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in Robert E. Lee cafeteria. Coffee will be served before the meeting.

A luncheon will follow at 11:30 a.m. in Poole's Steakhouse at $1.50 per person.

The Leadership Procedure Course will begin at 12:30 p.m. in Poole's Steakhouse and conclude at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Marvin Armstrong of Lubbock will conduct the course.

A profile of Mrs. Holcomb's life was given by Mrs. B. M. Sims of Wellington, Mrs. Texas of 1962. Mrs. Sims told how Mrs. Holcomb assumed the job of city secretary at Wellington in 1934 after her husband, who had held the position, was killed in an automobile accident that year. Mrs. Holcomb retired this year after serving more than 28 years.

Also in 1934 Mrs. Holcomb's two oldest sons entered college. H. A. Holcomb Jr., of Baytown, a research engineer with Humble Oil & Refining Co., earned a doctorate at the University of Texas by the time he was 27, and Dysart Holcomb, a research engineer with El Paso Natural Gas Co., received his doctorate at the University of Michigan when he was 24.

Mrs. Holcomb raised three other children. They are Dr. Carter Holcomb, who received his medical degree at Tulane University and returned to Wellington to practice medicine; Mrs. R. L. Johnson of California, and Samuel Wolters Holcomb of California who works in the electronics division of North American Aircraft.

Mrs. Sims has collected and organized a book with the memoirs of Mrs. Holcomb's life which will be displayed at the annual Mother's Conference in New York next week.

The American Mother of 1963 will be named at the conference and will be honored in Washington on Mother's Day.

MATURE PARENT

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My oldest child—she is 7—has developed a very embarrassing habit. When family friends or relatives are at the house, she follows them around asking them if they love her. It embarrasses them, too. My husband says I should tell you that I did not want this child as she was born only 10 months after our marriage. I have to also admit that I don't like some of her other mannerisms.

ANSWER: It's odd that her awareness of not being loved "embarrasses" you, inasmuch as you yourself admit she isn't loved. What's embarrassing about wanting to be loved? Don't you care about it? Are you really as self-sufficient as you sound? Have you never felt the pain of feeling yourself unwanted? As a child were you ever told to go away by other children? Did you never feel the dread of final isolation closing in on you when your parents left you alone in a distant room to consider your sins? Maybe you yourself were unloved as a little girl, and just don't remember how and when you came to the desolate conclusion that you were alone, that compassion for your weaknesses, fears and hurts was just not attainable in this world. As unloved children, it is very easy for us to come to this unconscious conclusion. We survive, of course—but at the cost of a deep and secret scorn for all softer feelings in ourselves and other people. So, if we become the parent of a child who goes about asking people to love her, we'll find her insistence on their affection "embarrassing."

As we think that everyone has to get along without tenderness from other people, our child's open hunger for this necessity of life fills us with irritable contempt. Pork chops won't become hard on the outside if they're soaked in milk before frying or broiling.

National Auditions For Piano Students Underway In First Methodist Church

Mrs. Gladys Kelso Storrs of Alamogordo, N. M. arrived in Pampa Friday to begin duties as adjudicator for the National Piano Auditions which got under way yesterday in the First Methodist Church here.

Mrs. Storrs is sent here by the National Guild of Piano Teachers which sponsors these auditions each year. Pampa, among hundreds of cities in the United States, is an Audition Center, in which piano students earn various types of certificates and pins according to the amount of work prepared. On an attached report card, they also receive a valuable appraisal of their piano playing.

Mrs. Storrs has received a bachelor of Music Degree from TWU at Denton and also a Master of Music Degree from New York University. She has attended Juilliard School of Music, where she studied piano with Dr. Ernest Hutcheson. She also has had theory courses at Union Theological Seminary, where she studied organ with Dr. Clarence Dickinson. At Chicago Musical College, she studied piano with Percy Grainger.

Mrs. Storrs has taught piano, organ, and theory courses at NTSU, Denton until she married and came to Alamogordo, N. M., where she has a large class of piano and organ students. She was organist of the First Presbyterian Church in Denton and is organist of the Presbyterian Church in Alamogordo.

She is currently vice president of the Southwest District of the New Mexico Music Teachers Association, and has been a Guild Judge for a number of years in different states.

Out-of-town teachers bringing students for the Auditions are: Mrs. Bob Urban of Perryton, Mrs. H. C. Brannon of Shamrock, Mrs. Willie Boyett of McLean, and Mrs. J. R. Naylor and Mrs. Ruth Evans Smith both of Panhandle.

Locally, Mrs. Fidelia Yoder is Guild chairman and Mrs. Herman Jones is assisting as monitor.

Christian Endeavor After Easter Stressed At CW Fellowship Meet

"After Easter What?" was the message brought recently to the Christian Women's Fellowship by the pastor, the Rev. Glyn B. Adsit of the First Christian Church.

He emphasized that "for the early church, Easter was not a climax — it was the beginning. Today we make Holy Week leading up to Easter a climax of our yearly Christian endeavor."

He suggested that the church today should recapture the spirit of the early church and become witnesses for Christ where people live. He stated, "In order to witness we must each have a message and we cannot have that message unless we have had a personal encounter with God through Christ. This encounter will lead us to an all-out surrender of self to God and we will come to rely more upon the power of God than upon our own power."

In the absence of Mrs. D. V. Burton, president, Mrs. W. F. Taylor conducted the business meeting. It was announced the Spring

Workshop will be held Tuesday, May 7 in Perryton at 10 a.m.

Manners Make Friends

Promptness is appreciated. Consider how you would feel if kept waiting by someone.

There will be a night session on May 10 at 7:30 p.m. in Amarillo. The annual Mother - Daughter Banquet will be May 16 at 7 p.m. with a salad supper planned. The Little Theater will present a program and there will be an art exhibit of creative works of many types done by women of the church. Mrs. Clayton Dunaham gave the devotion. Approximately 30 members attended.

Dear Abby... Can Be Godparents As Often As Wished

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We asked a very nice childless couple to be godparents to our first child. They accepted and are apparently pleased. Now we would like them to be godparents to our second child but don't know if it is proper to ask them. Has a couple ever been godparents to more than one child in a family?

PROUD PARENTS: In some families all the children have the same godparents. The only "rule" governing choice of godparents is that they must be of the same religion in which the child is to be baptized.

DEAR ABBY: Is a woman justified in being embarrassed when her husband isn't polite to her in public? (I never expect it at home.) One night my arthritis was bothering me, and the waiter saw me struggling to get my coat on, so he helped me while my husband sat. He also runs ahead of me across the street in heavy traffic. When I ask him please to help me, he replies, "Who helps me?" He is always polite to strange ladies, helping them off the bus, etc. We've been married many years, and I should be used to it by now, but I'm not.

HURT: Your husband is inconsiderate, lacking in manners, and is cruel to boot. I can't change his behavior in one letter, and I doubt if you could do it in one lifetime.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell my parents what a "C" means? I got three "C's" on my report card and am on restriction because of it. I think a "C" is pretty good. I could have had all "D's."

ON RESTRICTION: DEAR ON: A "C" IS pretty good for a student who can't do any better. I suspect you are capable of doing more "B" work. All "D's" are nothing to be ashamed of IF the student has worked up to his capacity to earn them.

DEAR ABBY: Experience teaches. I am experienced and would like to pass on some valuable information.

Use baking soda as a cleanser to restore the transparency of an oven glass door.

formation to all single females: "If you think you love a man, don't show it. If you want to marry the guy, never indicate it by word or action. Be aloof, untouchable and fun, but don't overdo trying to show him a good time. Fight off all his affectionate advances."

This may seem like a weird formula, but I know it works. Every man I have ever dated, and felt nothing for, has gone wild about me. The ones I could really care for don't give me a tumble because I didn't follow my own advice.

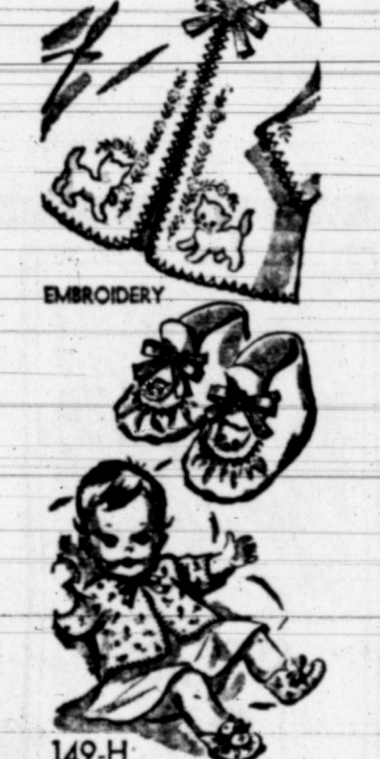

A LOSER: Stop worrying. Write to Abby. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif.

WEDDING COST $1,850: LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said Thursday that Princess Alexandra's wedding at Westminster Abbey last week cost the British government $1,850 — most of which was spent on decorations of the Mall on the route of the wedding procession.

Macmillan gave the figure in response to a question in the House of Commons from Labor MP Richard Marsh.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Economist Eliot Janeway says it is being proven once more "that no market ever boils over until the public rushes in where traders have been treading fearfully."

Janeway also believes it is axiomatic that no boiling market ever bursts "until the public has begun to make a damn fool of itself and the market as well." He points out that in the long climb from last June's lows, the public was absent and professionals were cautious; and the market stopped on the sensible side of hysteria.

Janeway says the present advance can be interpreted in two ways: Either the new upsurge is an early signal of a pickup or a boom throughout the economy, or, alternatively, "the stock market is parting company with the trend of the economy and good sense as well."

Roy Brady of J. W. Sparks & Co. says the general list in coming market sessions will participate to a greater extent than witnessed to date, with greater volume developing in previously neglected areas.

Thomson & McKinnon says that while opinion is mixed over public participation in the current market, it cannot be denied that leadership is swinging to the low priced secondary issues. The firm suggests that the market may be pausing now to catch its breath after the March-April run-up and that this pause will provide firmer ground for future advances and investment opportunities in selective situations.

ACCURACY

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Carl Milliken, chief of Warner Brothers' research department, was a Naval Lieutenant on Rendova Island during World War II. During the time Milliken was stationed on the Island Kennedy was operating out of the base.

BRITISH JUNK PILE? — The British are learning that many a rubbish heap conceals a gold mine, now that the antique boom is on in America. Shown here is an Antique shop whose crates are filled from a "boneyard."

South Seeking Tourists; Eases Speed-Trapping

By AL KUETTNER United Press International ATLANTA (U1) — To many south-bound tourists, Dixie once was a vast land of rough roads, speed-traps and poorly prepared southern cooking en route to the sun and sand of Florida beaches. Then one day somebody discovered that one of the biggest industries in the country was a thing called tourism.

Old rutted roads have become superhighways and hairpin curves in the mountain passes have been widened and rounded.

Georgia, one of the worst offenders in speed-trapping, is now warring on the practices. The State Legislature will be asked next year to put all local sheriffs on salaries to discourage fee taking operations.

Luxury motels, complete with swimming pools, plush lounges and fine restaurants, dot the landscape.

Florida, the leader in attracting tourists and their dollars, is still far ahead in the game. For fun's sake, you name it, Florida has it. Hotel and motel-lined Miami Beach remains tops in numbers of visitors and money spent.

Three horse tracks, a half dozen dog tracks and two jai-alai (hi-li) frontons operate through Miami's busy winter season.

The "gold coast" area of the East Coast of Florida now has spread north past the launching pads at Cape Canaveral to Daytona Beach. West coast and north-west Panhandle beaches are also bidding strongly for the tourist trade.

When Floridians decide to leave the sun-baked lowlands for some touring of their own, they often head for the high mountain country of Dixie. And most often that means the Great Smokies of Tennessee and North Carolina.

The Great Smoky Mountains National Park is a 509,000-acre mountain wilderness featuring some of the highest peaks in eastern America.

The main highway (U.S. 441) enters the park at Gatlinburg, Tenn., a quaint town of craft-shops and a Japanese tea house, and at Cherokee, N.C., home of a large Indian reservation.

The highway, winding past sheer cliffs and breathtaking scenery, crosses the summit and the state line at Newfound Gap, more than 6,000 feet above sea level.

The Appalachian Trail, the Maine to Georgia footpath along the top of the mountains, crosses over the gap.

Elsewhere in Tennessee, the log cabin birthplace of Davey Crockett draws a number of tourists to Limestone. At Greeneville, the home of President Andrew Johnson, is kept as a federal shrine and Andrew Jackson's Hermitage is a standard attraction at Nashville.

Natchez, the once roaring and wealthy Mississippi river port and plantation center has many old and beautiful homes. It and Mississippi's Gulf Coast resorts are high on tourist lists.

In 1962 more than five million persons traveled the Natchez Trace Parkway, a two-lane highway along the site of an old Indian path that was an overland route from Tennessee to Natchez and New Orleans.

Colonial Williamsburg, the restored 18th century capital of Virginia is a perennial favorite of tourists.

Williamsburg, 85 miles east of Richmond, also is the site of the College of William and Mary, the nation's second oldest institution of higher learning. Nearby is Jamestown, site of the first permanent English speaking colony in the new world, settled in 1607. It is now a park with historical exhibits and a recreated village.

Williamsburg, Mount Vernon, the plantation home of George Washington, and Luray Caverns in the Shenandoah Valley — all in Virginia — are among the 19 most visited tourist attractions in the nation.

The South Carolina and Georgia coasts are attracting increasing numbers of tourists.

On the famous Battery at Charleston, grand 19th century homes still stand with their elaborate porticoes and double piazzas. On their porches Charlestonians in 1861 leisurely watched a group of cadets fire on a federal ship in the harbor — the first shot of the Civil War.

Americans to Travel, Spend More In 1963; One Million to Visit Europe

By MURRAY J. BROWN UPI Travel Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans will go to more places and spend more money in 1963 than even before.

This prediction of a foreign travel boom comes from Joel M. Abels, editor of the authoritative Travel Trade magazine.

His forecast is based on survey reports from travel industry sources — agencies, tour operators, air, sea and land carriers, foreign government tourist offices and the U.S. Department of Commerce.

More than two million Americans went overseas last year on fun and business and spent more than $2.5 billion.

"The travel industry consensus is that 1963 will show an overall 10 per cent rise in American tourism abroad," Abels said.

"An extraordinarily wide variety of tours, itineraries and rate schedules have been developed and are ready for the traveler, along with helpful facts, tips and information by the thousands of local travel agencies throughout the United States," Abels said.

Here is the worldwide picture for 1963, according to Abels:

The No. 1 travel attraction will again be Europe.

More than one million Americans, the most ever, are expected to visit the continent. The majority will make what is known as the Great Circuit tour — London, Paris, Rome and other famed capitals.

But others, particularly those on their second visit will be seeking new travel thrills in countries like Greece and Scandinavia. Greece expects 130,000 American visitors, up 20,000 from last year. Scandinavia looks for a 10 per cent gain over the 240,000 tourists in 1962.

To meet the anticipated demand, transatlantic airlines have scheduled, during the June-September peak period, about 475 flights weekly from U.S. and Canadian gateways with total seat availability of about 61,000. This compares with 395 flights weekly and a seat capacity of 48,000 last year.

Opening in May will be Knott's 25-story Westbury Hotel in Brussels. Hilton is opening hotels in London, Athens and Rome. The Intercontinental Hotel Corp. will have six new hotels — in Dublin, Cork and Limerick in Ireland, and in Geneva, Vienna and Frankfurt.

The Caribbean also has seen a tremendous boom in luxury hotel construction and accommodations are expected to be fairly plentiful during the summer and fall seasons. Puerto Rico has the new Riviera at Dorado and the soon-to-be opened Puerto Rico Sheraton. Jamaica, Antigua, Nassau, Bermuda and the out islands of the Bahamas also are pressing hotel building.

Lower-summer rates will be in effect at many of the islands.

Mexico is rapidly climbing higher on the tourist scale. Increased promotional activities and the development of many new tourist attractions as well as hotels and improved air service has helped.

Canada also has expanded promotional efforts and with the opening of several new hotels and the very favorable dollar exchange now in effect, is expected to see its tourist totals climb substantially.

South America has long been somewhat the "stepchild" of American tourists but a slight increase is expected.

The Pacific is expected to enjoy the biggest jump with more and more Americans heading toward the "mysterious east" and the romantic South Sea islands.

Transpacific steamship facilities will remain the same as last year but jet airliners will provide 120,000 more seats than last year to Hawaii and beyond.

Hotels are mushrooming everywhere, especially Hong Kong, Japan and Hawaii.

An overall gain of 15 to 18 per cent in tourism is anticipated throughout the Pacific area.

Israel and the Middle East also will attract a larger share of American tourists. Here, too, are new hotels and special air fares, plus the introduction of Mediterranean air-sea tours.

Africa, long neglected by Americans, is due for tourist gains this year. Improved facilities and growing political stability are contributing factors.

Around-the-world travel is proving increasingly popular and will probably show a 15 per cent increase in 1963.

On the domestic scene, 65 million travelers are expected to make 120 million vacation and pleasure trips, spending more than $13 billion in the process. Advance signs indicate the southwest will be the big draw in 1963.

"Obviously," said Abels, "1963 will be a travel year."

When taken aboard ship, albatross are apt to become seakick, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Franciscan Missions Are Monuments to Spain

The crumbling ruins of the Franciscan missions in Southwest Texas are among the most impressive monuments to Spanish enterprise to be found in the United States.

Along a stretch of 12 miles down from the old Presidio of San Antonio de Bexar may still be seen the ruins of five missions.

Often called "Queen of the Missions," Mission San Jose is located a few miles from the heart of downtown San Antonio. Established in 1720, this is the best preserved and most complete mission establishment in the United States.

One can spend several hours touring the buildings and making pictures. The entire outer wall includes the restored Indian houses along it. Also on the compound are the carpenter shop, granary and workshop. An interesting restored old mill is the oldest in Texas. The Church is beautifully stone carved and contains the famous rose window.

Mission San Jose is now a national historic site and Texas state park. It is open from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. weekdays, and from Sunday noon until 6 p.m.

In the course of its colorful history, the beautiful old city of San Antonio has been under six flags: France, Spain, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, Confederate States of America and United States of

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Spring Clean-Up Time Here

Spring Clean-Up Week is 50 years old this year. From Cincinnati, where the first official Clean-Up Week was proclaimed in 1913, the campaign has spread across the nation and now is observed in thousands of communities by millions of people.

But it was not a city proclamation that truly started clean-up week. It was a 50-cent dress, a gift from a sympathetic school teacher to a little girl from the slums of Cleveland.

That dress transformed an entire neighborhood. It was in 1909 that Bertha Chapman, the teacher, bought a dress for one of her students. Scrubbed clean and wearing her new dress, the child went home, to be greeted in silence by her parents.

That night the mother found a clean cloth for the dinner table. Her father began to clean up the yard and fix the house. The neighbors, not to be outdone, also cleaned and repaired their homes.

Spurred by a local minister, city officials gave the block their support, and, realizing the value of such campaigns, instituted clean-up drives in other areas to help eliminate health and fire hazards.

Then Cincinnati, hearing about the successful neighborhood campaigns, made clean-up week a city-wide project.

It is impossible to tell precisely how many dividends that 50-cent "investment" has paid over the years. But certainly it has snowballed into a substantial saving of lives and property.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters says there are about 500 home fires a day — more than one every two minutes in the United States, and many of these are begun by faulty wiring or feed on rubbish in attics and basements.

Without the annual clean-up drives that spur repairs of faulty wiring and the removal of trash, this appalling figure would undoubtedly soar even higher.

Is the work of a home clean-up campaign worth while? These figures show the need: Last year, 11,800 persons—many of them young children — lost their lives in fires, and property losses rose to an all-time high of $1,265,002,000.

This was the sixth year in a row that losses exceeded the $1 billion mark, with the losses for the six-year period totaling almost $7 billion.

Such a figure almost defies comprehension. For example, if you wanted to count it out at a dollar a second, it would take 222 years of non-stop counting to reach 7 billion.

Looked at another way, $7 billion would buy a city. It would build 466,600 $15,000 homes. With the "average family" now consisting of four persons, the homes would shelter 1,866,000 persons, a population greater than the city of Detroit.

The most distressing aspect of this staggering loss is the fact that the National Board of Fire Underwriters says that three-quarters of all fires are the result of carelessness or forgetfulness — and hence could have been prevented.

And many can be prevented so easily.

That's one of the goals of Pampa's Clean-Up and Paint-Up campaign which starts tomorrow and runs through May 27. Go up into the attic and down in the basement or other storage areas.

Throw out those stacks of old newspapers and magazines. Get rid of the old paint cans and brushes. These are the combustibles on which home fires feed.

Check the wiring on your lamps and appliances, and if you have any doubts at all, call a qualified electrician to check the wiring in your home. Frayed cords, overloaded circuits and misuse of electrical equipment account for 20 per cent of all fires, the National Board reports.

The campaign opens in Ward 1 tomorrow and the clean-up trucks will be in that ward for four days. They will be in Ward 2 May 10, 13, 14 and 15; in Ward 3 May 16, 17, 20 and 21, and in Ward 4 May 22, 23, 24, and 27.

Private Schools—End To Conformity

There's a new superintendent of schools just taking hold of the New York City government school system who is going to have a rough row to hoe if he continues to follow his theories as recently published.

Calvin E. Gross says: "We are going to have to stop gearing our whole enterprise to the average student." We are certainly in agreement with this view. But just how Gross is going to do this within the confines of a governmental school system isn't clear.

Gross has criticized the condition in government schools, observing that the tendency has been to concentrate on the average student and to neglect both the extremes of the very brilliant and the very dull student.

Without impugning the nature of the government schools themselves, what Gross wants to see is a concentration on the brilliant students, letting them proceed as rapidly as they can, with an equal concentration on the dull students, insisting that they learn the tools of intellectual activity before they advance.

In fact he says: "... We absolutely insist on mastery of the fundamentals before a child goes on to study something else. ... What we should do, as soon as a child slips below a certain achievement level in reading, is put him in a class that's half as big and double the time he spends on reading. If he continues to slip, cut the class size and increase the time once again, because he has to learn to read. If he can't read well, he'll find locked doors for the rest of his life."

This is sound. Indeed, it would be the normal expectancy in any school not hampered by government controls and norms. But Gross is going to be up against it if he really tries to establish this policy in any government school system.

Why? Because the admission of government controls in any system, regardless of a policy which might be adopted, tends to the very condition he deprecates. The government, by its nature, MUST favor averages. As Emerson remarked in one of his essays, it is the "bed of Procrustes," the place where all are compelled to conform in the interest of being "fair" to everyone.

This is the nature of law. It is the nature of any enforced system of "justice." It is the inescapable end of the road for any program administered by the payment of taxpayer's money.

The government, regardless of the spirit of any well intentioned reformer, must follow the patterns which all governments adopt in order to be governments. What happens to the average student in Mr. Gross's system? He would tend to be pushed upward, into the sunlight of the advanced students, thereby slowing their advance. Or he would tend to be pushed downward into the gloom of the dull student, thereby creating a burden upon the average student for he would be compelled to wait for the duller.

To overcome this problem, the only remedy would be to begin dividing the students into smaller and smaller groups (which Gross also proposes), which division will become a larger and larger cost burden on the taxpayers who, in the end, simply cannot carry the enormity of the cost.

The answer, of course, can only be found in independent schools. Were these permitted to function in the market place without the unfair competition of government-supported institutions, the result Gross seeks would be almost automatic. Schools would be formed

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

Away back before World War I, Arthur Brisbane, the late Hearst editor, wrote a widely syndicated daily column and frequently asked the question, "Who really understands money?" Even today the answer would be, "Not many." No longer are we impressed, when government expenditures are spoken of in terms of thousands and millions of dollars, they have to be in the billions really to attract attention. We already know that it will cost $20 billion for the trip to the Moon, scheduled within the next 10 years and the price tag for the journey to Mars is set at $100 billion. But where is the money coming from — increased taxes? This is quite a contrast from the good old days of Vice President Marshall, who complained, "What this country needs is a good 5-cent cigar." A good clear Havana leaf at that—but today there is nothing clear in Havana.

In a discussion the other evening about the nation's great comedians, the names of Jack Benny, Bob Hope, Red Skelton and Jackie Gleason were the ones to get the nod. It was pointed out that these great ones never have to resort to "blue" material to be successful. The 70-year-old Jack Benny has "raised" the present crop of young men and women from childhood and their affection for him has never diminished. There is a moral in this somewhere for the upcoming comers. Today's smile: A fat lady stepped on a scale not knowing it was out of order. The indicator stopped at 75 pounds. An inebriated gentleman was watching her. "Great heavens," he said to himself, "she must be hollow."—Wichita Eagle.

Pan American Airways has finally solved the mystery of one of its passengers, who had been traveling on some of its Australian flights. She always signed in as "Miss M." Was she a movie actress, counter-spy or did she seek publicity? No. "Miss M" is a Fiji Islander and she handled her name as an easy way out. Her name: Miss Mouarkarkarkurkarkurkarrier. "I remember the old gag about Washington being first in war, first in peace and last in the American League, but this year that team may vacate the cellar in the final standings. . . . A number of utility companies are considering manufacturing their electricity at the base of coal mines in West Virginia. Some experts believe the energy could be produced much cheaper and there would be an additional saving because the coal would not have to be shipped hundreds of miles to power sites.

Today's gag: A man about to be electrocuted phones his lawyer from the death chamber. "They are ready to put me in the electric chair. You're my lawyer—what do I do now?" The lawyer thought a moment, then said, "Don't sit down." — Terre Haute Advocate. . . . By adroit double-dealing, one appliance store has increased its sales this way: Housewife is invited to bring in soiled clothes, which are washed while she looks on. The washed clothes then are tossed into a dryer and the housewife invited to go out and do the remainder of her shopping. That evening the store delivers the washed and dried clothes to the home free. That usually gets the salesman into the house while the husband is there.

(Do we have to go on?) . . . Distinction: Oregon City, Ore., with a population of 8,000, is the only city in the nation that is built on two levels, with a free municipal elevator connecting the downtown business district with the residential hill section.

Today's favorite gag: An elderly man in a movie theater had dropped something and was making a frantic search for it. The woman next to him asked what he was looking for. "A caramel," he said. "You're making all this fuss about a caramel?" she snapped. "Yes," he explained, "My teeth are in it."

USIA opinion polls in Europe played a decisive role in determining the timing of the President's forthcoming visits to Italy and West Germany.

Administration insiders privately indicate that "trend surveys" in these two countries convinced the President he should make the trip in June rather than later because of "A continued high level of confidence in U.S. leadership." It was felt the polls implied this confidence had reached a peak and was bound to decline after a while regardless of events.

The West German survey also was deemed to foreshadow that the President will draw crowds as large if not larger than President de Gaulle did last year.

WASHINGTON — There is apparently no limit to the number and variety of opinion polls the Kennedy administration is conducting overseas.

These special surveys, which President Kennedy suspended when he took office, are now being made regularly in more than a score of countries on three continents by the United States Information Agency and private organizations.

Initiated by the White House, State Department, the Arms Control & Disarmament Agency and the Central Intelligence Agency, these opinion polls range from surveys in Europe on the prestige of President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev to samplings in Latin America of Fidel Castro's popularity.

In the latter monthly pulse taking, the Kennedy administration appears to be keeping a closer watch on Castro's standing than on the number of Soviet troops in Cuba.

While no U.S. agency admittedly has accurate figures on the strength of the Russian forces bulwarking Castro's Red regime, USIA officials are bulging with reports showing the detailed percentage rise or fall in the Cuban dictator's popularity in any large city in Latin America.

For whatever it's worth, the latest unannounced USIA poll shows Castro's popularity down 50 per cent from a year ago among 400 persons sampled in each of the following cities — Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Bogota, Colombia; and Montevideo, Uruguay.

In contrast, a USIA poll of 300 persons in San Jose, Costa Rica, showed President Kennedy's prestige at an all-time high following his meeting there with Caribbean heads of state. This survey was made before the President's crackdown on Cuban exiles.

Another USIA poll, made last year by Investigation de Mercados, Bogota, Colombia, revealed that the administration's short-lived policy of having U.S. officials avoid making statements about Castro was a flop. The findings of this survey were that such official silence had no effect on Castro's standing.

USING THE POLLS — Recent USIA opinion polls in Europe played a decisive role in determining the timing of the President's forthcoming visits to Italy and West Germany.

Administration insiders privately indicate that "trend surveys" in these two countries convinced the President he should make the trip in June rather than later because of "A continued high level of confidence in U.S. leadership." It was felt the polls implied this confidence had reached a peak and was bound to decline after a while regardless of events.

The West German survey also was deemed to foreshadow that the President will draw crowds as large if not larger than President de Gaulle did last year.

Cost of the several hundred polls the USIA has made overseas in the past two years ranges from $50,000 for an average Castro survey to $120,000 for the opinion samplings in West Germany and Italy.

However, there was one "bargain" poll in Korea. This survey, indicating that the average Korean knows about U.S. aid and favors it, was conducted by the Korean Survey Research Center of Seoul for only $270. Even at that remarkably low price the poll takers made money.

Their sampling was limited to 1,000 male visitors to a Seoul trade fair.

TAKE YOUR PICK — Other major USIA surveys include a $120,000 study of "the popular reception of the Alliance for Progress program" in five Latin American countries, and a $100,000 analysis of "attitudes in Britain toward the European Common Market."

A backstage State Department summary of USIA surveys, also lists "a study in depth of the attitudes, values and aspirations of the Mexican people."

Based on 1,067 personal interviews in cities with populations of 10,000 or more, the study "singled out for special attention the views of those persons with the greatest interest in political affairs — a group though small in number is especially influential because of its members' greater tendency to be involved in political activity."

Distribution of this study is limited to a tightly restricted group of inner administration officials. As a follow-up to this survey, Sergio Milmide of Caracas, Venezuela, has been employed to make a study of mass communication media in Mexico.

In Greece, the USIA pays $100 monthly to the Institute of Communications & Research, a private Athens firm, for polls on the comparable popularity of President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev. Latest of these samplings show the President holding a commanding lead over the Soviet ruler.

Backstage efforts are underway in Congress to learn more about these numerous USIA polls, particularly their cost. Virtually all information on them is classified as confidential.

Representative John Rooney, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee in charge of the USIA budget, has asked Director Edward R. Murrow for a full report. In the past, the White House has balked at disclosing details to either Congress or the public.

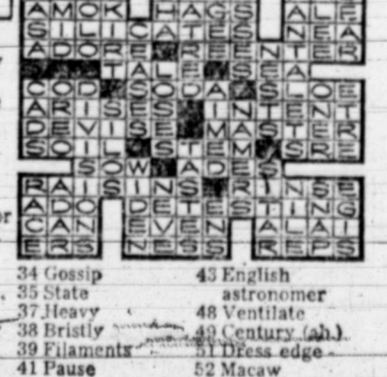

One high official, who has access to these overseas polls, states that expenditures for them by all government agencies runs into millions.

Turn Toward Survival

(Christian Economics)

Under the leadership of Norman Thomas and a number of well-known Quakers, a new pacifist organization, Turn Toward Peace, has been set up with headquarters in New York. In a recently issued pamphlet, "American Initiatives," it says: "Two great powers are engaged in a struggle to preserve their national security and way of life. Each believes, and can cite evidence, that the other presents a threat to its own safety."

Turn Toward Peace thus repeats the error, common to many conscientious and well-meaning people who are striving to solve the problem of war of assuming that the United States and Russia are equally-guilty of attitudes and practices which make the threat of war ever present. The plain fact is that the responsibility for the ever-present threat of war arises from the inherent nature of communism—that its survival depends upon blotting out freedom, free enterprise, self-government and capitalism everywhere. As long as these exist, affording living demonstrations that life is better under the Western system, they are a mortal threat to communism. Communists hate private property and capitalism with a ferocious and consuming desire to obliterate them and all who believe in them. The living proof that life is much better in West Berlin than in East Berlin, in West Germany than in East Germany and in the free world than in the enslaved Communist world poses a threat to the existence of communism. Therefore, communism must destroy the Western system if it hopes to survive.

There is nothing inherent in Western ideology that compels it to destroy communism. If the people of the world were allowed freedom of choice as to which system they prefer, the two might exist peacefully side by side until it became evident that communism or socialism is vastly inferior as means of achieving the good life. Then would come the voluntary turn to the Western system of freedom, self-government and free enterprise. Realizing that this is inevitable, unless they destroy capitalism, the Communists are at our throats. Because they press the battle our only hope of survival is to destroy communism.

At the close of World War II we disarmed, sank our munitions in the North Sea and brought our soldiers home. This was a case of unilateral disarmament. We set an example which, if the Communists had followed, would have eliminated the Tensions that disturb the world. Instead of showing a peaceful, non-aggressive attitude, however, Communist Russia continued to expand and aggressively took over one country after another. As we saw the slave system advancing, with every prospect of continuing until it overflowed the whole world, including ourselves, if we did not resist it, the American people realized that they were being driven to the necessity of rearming. They accepted this burden reluctantly because they knew it was vastly expensive, but they rightly saw no other way to prevent the communication of the world.

In the face of these well-known facts, to assume that the United States is equally guilty with Russia for the danger of the warlike preparations, now taking place, is tragically erroneous. It is just what the Communists want us to believe. They wish to put as much as possible of the blame of this era of tension and danger upon the West. Actually, if they had retired to their borders as we did after World War II, and if they had disarmed as we did, there would be no tension and threat of war in the world today.

In view of the fact that communism assumed the aggressive attitude that called forth self-defense on the part of the West, to blame each side equally for our present difficulty is not only erroneous but dangerous in the extreme.

If that view prevails and the American people accept the policy of unilateral disarmament advocated by Turn Toward Peace, it will be equivalent to suicide. There is no question that the program of Turn Toward Peace, shared by many pacifist organizations, produces high glee in Russia and Peiping. If it prevails, communism will achieve a cheap triumph throughout the world.

Consider some of the specific proposals in the pamphlet in question: "Announce American support of plans for a disarmed Germany in a nuclear-free central European zone." In other words, neutralize and render helpless our strongest ally. What could be more pleasing to the Communists? Announce that the United States will make no more nuclear tests, regardless of Soviet action." In other words, render ourselves increasingly helpless as the Soviets improve their knowledge of nuclear science.

Invite the Soviet Union to "plug in" on our ballistic missile "early warning system." That is — allow Moscow to know the exact instant at which we become aware of the fact that the Communists have launched a nuclear attack against us.

"Invite the UN to inspect U.S. bases, test facilities and military installations." That is, make them aware of our strength and our plans for self-defense.

"End production of fissionable material for nuclear weapons purposes and invite the UN to inspect our facilities." In other words, make the Russians fully aware of our nuclear situation and end the production of these materials so that the Communists could quickly achieve ascendancy in this field.

"Give U.S. support and offer of financial help to the establishment of a UN police force." In other words, turn over to the Russian (communist) who sits at the military desk at UN whatever international police force may be established. If it is a strong one, that will put the Communists in control.

"Repeal the Connally Reservation, which permits the U.S. to decide for itself which cases involving us will be submitted to World Court."

In other words, in the event that the World Court has a majority of Communists judges, which may well happen at any time, to voluntarily put ourselves in the clutches of our enemies. No Communist nation adheres to the World Court, yet the nationals of all of them are eligible to serve as judges upon it. Assume that at some future time a majority of these judges are Communists. That is not an unlikely assumption. Then assume that Russia demands Alaska, that Mexico asks for the southwestern part of our country, that Panama asks for the Panama Canal and Cuba the Guantanamo Base. These decisions would certainly go against us. They would dismember our country and render us helpless before communism. Retention of the Connally Reservation is a must if we are to remain an independent nation.

"Invite 1,000 Soviet teachers, journalists and jurists to undertake at our expense a three-month lecture tour of the U.S."

In other words, pay the expenses of 1,000 additional spies and propagandists to help undermine, deceive and mislead our people.

"Invite 5,000 Soviet tourists to vacation at our expense in the U.S."

Soviet tourists are spies. Do we want them so much that we offer to pay their expenses? "Offer to underwrite the cost of a network of UN radio stations in the U.S. and to help finance similar stations in any country willing to allow them free operation."

In other words, to vastly increase throughout the world the Socialist and Communist propaganda being put out by UN. Let it be remembered that the Socialist and Communist nations already have a large and increasing majority in UN. This proposal would therefore place at the disposal of our enemies vastly increased radio facilities for deceiving and betraying the people of the world.

I cannot imagine any program, short of outright capitulation, that would be more beneficial to our enemies, the Communists, than the proposal contained in this Turn Toward Peace pamphlet.

Your latest visit to the dentist may belie this fact, but dentistry has become almost painless in comparison to what it used to be. Until about 1000 A.D., surgeons believed in extracting loose teeth only and relied on crude instruments. During the period of 1400 to 1750 new instruments made new techniques available.

My Fair Lady Comes to Amarillo

With Ronald Drake as its Henry Higgins and Gayle Byrne as its Eliza Doolittle, the National Company of "My Fair Lady" comes to Amarillo for a three-day engagement at the Municipal Auditorium, beginning Thursday, May 16th.

Evening performances will commence promptly at 8:30, and a matinee is to be given on Saturday, May 18th at 2:30 p.m.

More than 8 million people have seen "My Fair Lady" in the United States and Canada. Its box office receipts in New York almost doubled the total ever achieved by any other stage attraction in Manhattan's history.

As everyone must know by now, "My Fair Lady" was meticulously staged by Moss Hart. Oliver Smith devised the show's late Victorian settings and Cecil Beaton its costumes. The choreography is the work of Hanya Holm.

Thanks in part to the great vogue of the original cast album, "My Fair Lady's" songs are familiar to millions. Perhaps the most popular among them are "I Could Have Danced All Night," "On the Street Where You Live," "With a Little Bit of Luck," "Wouldn't It Be Lovely," "I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face."

War Memoirs, Novels Dominate Book Scene

The Alexander Memoirs 1940-1945, by Field Marshal Earl Alexander (McGraw Hill $5.50): This book is the result of a sentimental journey Alexander made in 1960, retracing his campaigns in North Africa and Italy. The volume also deals with his campaigns in Burma, in France, the Dunkirk retreat, and Greece. Comparing the fighting qualities of troops, Alexander writes: "There are no better soldiers than those of the British race, provided they have a cause worth fighting for — and dying for if necessary." On the German soldier — "a tough opponent, exhibiting a marked sense of duty and discipline. It was very remarkable that they fought their last battles just as toughly and bravely as when they were winning their first."

"Dudley, There's No Tomorrow!" "Then How About This Afternoon?" by Shepherd Mead (Simon and Schuster $4.95): The cumbersome title of Mead's new novel is a passage of dialogue from a telephone conversation of secondary importance, but it is a fair lead in to a surrealistic satire on life in the suburbs.

Dudley is an average non-conformist, but beatnik but the beard, who re-enters the lives of his divorced wife, Gloria, and their son, Bart, when her second husband suddenly turned up dead. Tom's death appeared to be an accident, but suicide or even murder were possibilities. Certainly there were people in exclusive Cobbs Point who were glad to see him dead — he was negotiating with developers who might build a low-cost suburb on their secluded doorstep.

With her husband dead, Gloria was a potential target. Dudley, a man of high resources and low responsibility, undertook to solve a girl's financial problems, set a community on the right track, and rescue the suburban from the chaos of their own connivings.

His quest, from bottle to bottle and bed to bed, is wild comedy-melodrama worthy of the author of "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

A thought for the day—British author Oliver Goldsmith said: "Conscience is a coward, and those faults it is not strong enough to prevent it seldom has justice enough to accuse."
