POPE JOHN XXIII

By WILLIAM F. SUNDERLAND
United Press International
VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII, one of the greatest popes in the history of the Roman Catholic Church, died today in the fifth year of his reign.
The 81-year-old pope went to his death slowly, in prayer and suffering, his stout peasant's heart carrying him through more than three days of final agony that was relieved only by lapses into comas.
Vatican Radio said the pontiff died at 7:49 p. m. (2:49 p. m. EDT).
The spiritual leader of the world's half billion Roman Catholics died without seeing the end of his great project, the Ecumenical Council, which was suspended with his death.

For nearly four days the heart of the Pontiff continued beating after doctors had given up hope of saving him from the stomach tumor that was believed to be cancerous. As his condition worsened, peritonitis, an inflammation of the abdominal cavity, set in and his temperature rose dangerously while his blood pressure fell.
Last Friday he sank so close to death that he asked for and received Extreme Unction, the last rites of the church. As he lingered in the valley of the shadow of death in the days that followed, the Pope slipped in and out of a coma, rallying at times to bless those at his bedside with a weak wave of the hand, then drifting again into deep unconsciousness.

Before the end came he was too weak to move.
Pope John's illness first became evident last November, but he rallied and returned to his work in the Vatican offices until May 21 when the tumor's lethal effects began forcing him into the final surrender.
The public saw him for the last time on May 23 when he blessed a cheering crowd of 15,000 from the window over St. Peter's Square.
The death of the Pope was announced by Giorgio Luigi Dernucci, an editor of the Vatican City newspaper Osservatore Romano.
Vatican Radio reported at 3:45 p. m. (10:45 a. m. EDT) that doctors could do nothing more for the 81-year-old pontiff than to help his labored breathing with oxygen.

It said the Pope had been "unconscious for several hours."
"Only his heart is still beating," the broadcast said. "No feature of his face is moving. He has gone into deep unconsciousness. Administration of oxygen is all that can be done."
At 4:15 p. m. (11:15 a. m. EDT), Msgr. Andrea Cesarano, archbishop of Manfredonia, Italy, left the papal apartment in tears. Vatican sources said the Pope repeatedly had mentioned his name while half conscious in recent days and that he had been hurriedly summoned to the Vatican from his archdiocese.
The radio had said earlier that the pontiff, although conscious enough to hear Mass this morning, was so weak he no longer needed sedatives or drugs to kill his pain.

This afternoon's bulletin said the internal hemorrhaging that had complicated his condition earlier had resumed Sunday night. Today his blood pressure dropped from 115 to 95, and medical sources said this indicated his stout heart was failing.
There was no "human" solution to the illness, the Vatican Radio said earlier in the morning.
As the Pope lay dying on his bed in the Vatican Palace, surrounded by his three peasant brothers and sister and his confessor, a group of high church officials charged with the task of

July 4 Rally Planned To Promote Goldwater

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The national Draft Goldwater Committee today announced plans for a mammoth July 4 rally in the nation's capital aimed at convincing

Sen. Barry Goldwater to run for president.

The committee said groups from almost every state had announced they would attend the rally on behalf of the Arizona Republican and it would be "a truly national declaration of popular sentiment."

Sens. John G. Tower, R-Tex., Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio, and Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona were listed as speakers for the affair, which will be held in the National Guard Armory.
Actors Walter Brennan, Chill Wills, William Lundigan and Erem Zimbalist Jr. will provide entertainment, according to Peter O'Donnell Jr., chairman of the committee.

"The purpose of the rally is to demonstrate growing public support for the nomination of Senator Goldwater as Republican candidate for president in 1964," the committee said.

The rally will also serve as a formal kick-off for the committee's campaign to secure millions of signatures, petitioning Senator Goldwater to seek the Republican nomination.

In another development in the presidential sweepstakes, Sen. Hush Scott, R-Pa., said he hoped that Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania would accept the call if he were asked to run for president or vice president.

Scott, appearing on a bi-monthly television program with Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., described Scranton as "one of the ablest Republicans we have."

"If he's ever called for higher duty, it would be my hope that he would feel impelled to accept it," Scott added. However, he said there was no movement afoot in Pennsylvania to generate interest in Scranton as a national figure.

Red Prince Offers To Meet Neutrals On Plain of Jars

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Pro-Communist Pathet Prince Souphanouvong has offered to meet with neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma in the vicinity of the Plain of Jars airfield, a Pathet Lao spokesman said today.

Public Works Minister Souk Vongsak said the offer was made in a telegram which Souphanouvong sent to Souvanna, apparently in response to a joint appeal by Britain and Russia for immediate peace negotiations.

No other details were available. The premier's office had no comment on the telegram, the latest in a series of rapid-fire exchanges between the Pathet Lao chief and Souvanna.

Vongsak has been Souphanouvong's chief go-between in his dealings with Souvanna. A member of Souvanna's coalition government, Vongsak is one of the few Pathet Lao officials still based in Vientiane.

On the surface, the telegram appeared to be the first positive response to the Anglo-Soviet peace appeal since Vongsak delivered it to Souphanouvong last week.

Earlier the International Control Commission (ICC) reported Pathet Lao and neutralist troops exchanged mortar and artillery fire on the Plain of Jars for the second day Sunday.

Communist North Vietnamese gunners were believed supporting the Laotian Communists in the shelling attacks. There were no reports of casualties in the four hours of bombardment, but the weekend resumption of shelling lent urgency to efforts at peace talks.

Holiday Traffic Mishaps Claim Record Number

By United Press International
A total of 524 traffic fatalities over the long Memorial Day holiday set a record for highway death over a summer-season holiday.

Final United Press International tabulations for the 102-hour holiday showed the traffic toll had surpassed the 462 of 1961's Memorial Day weekend, the previous record for this holiday, and the 509 for the July 4 weekend of 1961, which had stood as the record for a summer season holiday.

The UPI death count between 6 p. m. Wednesday and midnight Sunday showed a total of 784 fatalities, including a toll of 121 drownings and 15 persons killed in boating mishaps.

The breakdown:
Traffic 524
Drowning 121
Boating 15
Miscellaneous 124
Total 782

Only Rhode Island and South Dakota escaped without a single holiday traffic or accidental death.

California led the traffic death count with 63. There were 42 in New York State, 28 in Texas, 24 in Pennsylvania, 23 in Ohio, 22 in Indiana, 19 in Michigan and 15 in Tennessee.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated between 450 and 550 holiday traffic deaths for the holiday, said there were more cars on the highways over the weekend than it had expected.

"A lot of those men who had to work Friday took off Wednesday, went to the country for a one-day holiday, went to the city, worked Friday, and then drove out again for the weekend," a spokesman said.

It was a happy Memorial Day holiday for most Texans this week end, but for many it ended in tragedy and grief.

A United Press International death watch that began Wednesday at 6 p. m. showed that at least 65 persons have died violently over the state, 34 of them in traffic accidents.

Thirteen of the deaths were from drownings, as Texans took to lakes and rivers for the long holiday. The other 18 deaths were from shootings, stabbings and miscellaneous violence.

Two persons were drowned in outings in South Texas Sunday. Ronald Gene Busby, 5, wander-

Witch Burned by Mexican Farmers; Five Others Killed

VILLA GRAN, Mexico (UPI)—Farmers, rebelling against two brothers who established a strange religious sect with the help of a woman "witch doctor," stoned the woman and burned her at the stake, according to reports reaching Villa Gran today.

The woman, Celina Salvana, was one of six persons killed at the farming cooperative of Varba Buena. The others were the brothers Casapano and Santos Hernandez, who set up the religious sect, two farmers and a policeman.

The farmers were Hector Solis and Sebastian Guerrero. Solis slipped into Villa Gran to get police help for the farmers. The policeman, killed in a gun battle with the brothers, was Luis Martinez. About 25 families, with many children, live in the cooperative. They live rurally, using candles for light and rarely seeing an automobile. Villa Gran is 125 miles south of the border city of Nuevo Laredo.

The Hernandez brothers, according to reports in Villa Gran, moved in about two years ago, and with the help of Celina Salvana, started a religious sect that rigidly controlled the farmers and their families.

The woman witch doctor employed ancient Indian rites, according to reports in Villa Gran.

Federal Court May Try Keeping Wallace 'Out of School Door'

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—The Justice Department today asked a federal court to keep Gov. George C. Wallace from carrying out his vow to personally block integration at the University of Alabama next week.

Wallace himself was not on hand for the hearing which began shortly after noon.
The governor was in Montgomery, Ala., and sent attorneys to represent him.

The fiery little segregationist said Sunday in New York that he would not attend the hearing before U.S. District Judge Seaborn Lynne but his attorneys would be there.

The hearing was scheduled to start at noon EDT.
Sources close to the governor said his attorneys were to argue that Wallace's presence at the university when two Negroes are scheduled to enroll June 10 would be necessary to forestall violence.

The Justice Department asked for an injunction shortly after Wallace said he would stand in the doorway and personally block the students' admission. The government apparently sought to avoid a campus showdown like that with Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett in the integration of the University of Mississippi last fall.

The defiant governor, who had played a cat-and-mouse game with federal marshals for more than a week behind a highway patrol guard, was served with a summons and complaint by a marshal here Sunday.

Wallace had tried to fly secretly to New York to appear on a television show by using a devious route. He left a National Guard plane here Sunday and was served as he entered a commercial airliner.

U.S. Marshal Peyton Norville said Wallace took the papers with a "look of bewilderment and amazement." He said the papers did not require that Wallace personally appear, but he must be represented.

A week from today, Negro Viv-

Agency Shop Ruled Legal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled today that the "agency shop" — now included in about 6 per cent of all collective bargaining agreements — is legal under federal law.

But the court also ruled in a separate Florida case that the agency shop is subject to prohibition by state law there.
The court left undetermined the question of whether Florida courts, rather than the National Labor Relations Board, have jurisdiction to enforce the state ban against agency shop arrangements. This will be decided next term.

In general, the agency shop does not require a worker to join a union but does require him to pay union dues.

Justice Byron R. White read the two opinions for a unanimous court.

Atlas Explosion Investigation Crews Are Forced to Wait for Silo to Cool

ROSWELL, N.M. (UPI) — Air Force safety crews and a board of investigation both began work today into the explosion of an underground Atlas missile site that shook the quiet plains of southeastern New Mexico Saturday night.

Walker Air Force Base firefighters, working with Roswell city firemen, brought the resulting fire under control Sunday after a night-long battle.

Because the concrete silo was so hot, however, crews were unable to go into the area, and a Walker spokesman said the crews would wait until it had cooled enough for safety.

The $1.5 million Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile, loaded with a dummy warhead, was destroyed by the immense blast. Cause of the blast was undetermined.

Felt 15 Miles Away
The force of the explosion was so great it was felt 15 miles away in Roswell, and two 32-ton steel and concrete doors covering the silo were blown from their hinges 50 feet into the air and about 75 feet from the silo.

Despite this, however, the five-man missile crew escaped injury. They were in the launch control center at the site at the time, separated from the silo by a long hallway and two heavy steel blast doors.

The crew members were evacuated immediately after the explosion, the Air Force said, but traffic was blocked off on nearby U.S. 70 until emergency crews made sure there would not be another explosion.

The flames following the blast were fed by ruptured liquid oxygen and missile fuel tanks at the base of the silo.

For Retaliation
The explosion took place during normal maintenance procedures, the Walker spokesman said, and the crew was taken to Air Force investigators immediately for extended questioning.

None of the crew was available for comment.

8 FLQ Members Arrested; 'Back' Believed Broken

MONTREAL (UPI) — Police were expected today to lodge formal charges against eight men described as key members of the terrorist Quebec Liberation Front (FLQ) responsible for a recent wave of bombings in Quebec Province.

Unconfirmed reports said the leader of the gang was a 33-year-old Belgian trained in terror tactics in Communist Cuba.

Police Director J. Adrien Robert said an investigation by city, provincial and federal police and the army culminated in the arrests and broke the back of the FLQ.

The suspects were arrested in a series of raids over the weekend. One of the men arrested was described as a mechanic who made the bombs which killed one man and left another near death.

Police said they confiscated 50 sticks of dynamite, detonator caps, fuses, timing devices and wires in the raids.

The FLQ had stated publicly it had launched the bombing campaign to force the secession of predominantly French-speaking Quebec from the other Canadian provinces.

Murder Trial Is Underway For 17-Year-Old Boy

EASTLAND, Tex. (UPI)—The murder trial of Nathan Curry, 17, charged with the June 29, 1961 slaying of Mrs. Florence E. Hussey, 53, began today in 91st District Court.

W. J. Oxford is presiding as special judge.
Mrs. Hussey, a church secretary and Curry's next door neighbor, was beaten and stabbed about a dozen times.

Curry was held in the Gatesville State School for Boys until July 22, his 17th birthday, when his parents petitioned to have the youth freed. The petition was denied.

On Jan. 26, Odessa Dist. Judge C. V. Milburn ruled Curry was being held arbitrarily. Murder charges were filed the next day.

Curry was freed on $10,000 bond. His attorneys are expected to ask that the charges be dismissed on grounds of double jeopardy. If this fails, attorney John Watts of Odessa is expected to ask for a change of venue.

A reported confession by Curry has confused the case. Eastland County Dist. Atty. Earl Conner Jr. told reporters after Curry's arrest about a week after the killing that Curry signed a statement saying he was compelled to go into Mrs. Hussey's home.

Conner said the statement revealed that the woman surprised Curry in a hallway where he panicked and scuffled with the woman.

Statement Held Back
Conner did not show the statement to reporters and has not revealed if the murder weapon was found.

Astronauts Will Be Ready For Moon Jungle

HOUSTON (UPI) — If there were a jungle on the other side of the moon America's astronauts would be ready for it.

Nine new spacemen, along with the original Mercury astronauts, were enroute to Albrook Air Force Base in Panama for a week of jungle survival training.

The space agency says the training is part of a continuing climates program of survival under all conditions.

The Mercury astronauts underwent desert survival training in the first year of the program and will take training in Arctic survival at a later date.

The astronauts traveled to Panama in several different flights because of a space agency ruling forbidding more than four to travel in the same plane.

Local Area Included In Weather Warning

Pampa's more than two and a half inches of rainfall since last Thursday has given a new lease on life to things that depend upon moisture for their survival.
This includes frozen and burned out lawns, new grass seed and garden produce that had been struggling for many weeks to stay alive.

BULLETIN
FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — The U.S. Weather Bureau today issued a severe thunderstorm forecast for portions of West Texas, including the southeast portion of the Texas Panhandle, the northeast portion of the South Plains, and portions of Southwest and Central Oklahoma.

The Pampa area was included in the bulletin.
The text of the forecast read: "A few severe thunderstorms with large hail and damaging surface winds are expected this Monday afternoon and evening from 2 p. m. until 8 p. m. CST in the area along 60 miles either side of a line from 30 miles northwest of Lubbock, Tex., to Oklahoma City."

Another inch of rainfall was added Sunday to the inch and a half that fell on the Pampa area Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Today's forecast called for more rain in the area late this afternoon and tonight. The Daily News rain gauge showed an even 1-inch in the latest precipitation figures. Other areas around Pampa received equal amounts or more.

With wheat harvesting time here, there was indication that there might be a delay in combining if the rains continue as predicted.

Another area where the rainfall was felt in reverse was the Pampa City Water Department. Water consumption has fallen off with a thud since last Thursday.

The city pumped 4,048,000 gallons of water on Wednesday, May 29, and on Thursday, May 30, it dropped to 1,870,000 gallons. The consumption was less than 2-million gallons Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Highest consumption for one day during May was 6,200,000 gallons on May 10.
"Water revenue has been up in Pampa for a long time because of the unusually dry weather," City Manager Harold Schmitzer said today, "but it has taken a big drop since the rains came."

R. B. Cooke, public works director, said the rains in the past few days had been spread far enough apart that they caused no particular trouble as far as flood.

BARRED FROM HOME
THETFORD, England (UPI) — Pensioner George Hitchcock, 73, asked the court to send his daughter, Winnie, 39, to jail because she refused to leave his house.

Judge Carey Evans ordered her sent to jail Tuesday for six weeks but suspended sentence on condition she leave her father's home.

Riot Policemen Begin Training In Dallas Today

DALLAS (UPI) — Special enforcement details of the Dallas police force began a program of riot control training today.

Police said plans for the training program were prepared before an incident Saturday night when some 50 Negroes demonstrated against the arrest of a 26-year-old Negro, who struggled with officers.

Officers Elmer D. Martin and Floyd G. Phillips said in a written report that a crowd of Negroes surrounded them in South Dallas when they attempted to subdue the 26-year-old man.

They said they were unable to call for help because the radio was ripped from their car.
The officers said the crowd acted as if it intended to free the prisoner, but made no physical attempt.

The 26-year-old man and officers struggled, the report said, after the man asked the police why they were questioning another Negro man.

Phillips said his gun was fired into the air by the man they arrested.
The 26-year-old man was booked for investigation of burglary and theft and aggravated assault on a police officer.

Police said Martin suffered abrasions on his right elbow and Phillips' right hand was bruised.

Indian Plane Crashes; 29 Aboard Dead

NEW DELHI (UPI)—An Indian Airlines plane crashed today in northwest India, apparently killing all 29 persons aboard. Six of the passengers were Americans.

Among those aboard was Prof. James C. Laverty, 40, of the University of Illinois, his wife, and their three children. One other American, identified only as a Miss Hardman, also was aboard. She was reported to have been living at Lahore, Pakistan.

Ten of the victims were believed to be children.
An airline spokesman, who disclosed the crash, said the plane was flying from Amritsar, in the Punjab, to Srinagar, capital of

Dear Abby... Teeny-Weeny Drop Will Awaken Him!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a six-foot, 45-year-old baby. I can't get him out of bed in the morning. When the alarm rings, he shuts it off, puts his head under the covers, and goes back to sleep. Our arrangement is that when the alarm goes off he is supposed to shut it off, get up and put the coffee on, and then I get up and fix breakfast. Well, as I said, he shuts off the alarm and crawls back in bed again. If I try to get him up, he says, "Oh, my back," or "I didn't sleep a wink last night." What makes me angry is that, when he is going fishing, he can get up at 4:30 a.m. without any trouble, fix his own breakfast, and take off with no help from me. What do you think?

PLAIN MAD
DEAR PLAIN: Your husband is a healthy, normal, six-foot, 45-year-old comfort creature. When the alarm rings, YOU shut it off and fix the coffee. And bring a nice steaming cup to his bedside. If the aroma doesn't arouse him, one teeny-weeny drop on his nose will.

DEAR ABBY: When I had my last baby, I swore off having any more children. I am 27 years old, Abby, and I have EIGHT boys (no twins). Is it possible that there is something about the combination of my husband and me that can't produce anything but boys? Whose fault is this, anyway? My husband says it must be me because his first wife had two girls.

LONG ON BOYS
DEAR LONG: You're short on facts. The sex of the children is determined by the HUSBAND....

DEAR ABBY: You mentioned that some of the wires a father should pull to get his son into a good college were TV, hi-fi and telephone. I couldn't agree more heartily. I am 18 years old and have been glued to the "nutty box" almost since its invention. I don't know how I ever tore myself away to go to school. For some fantastic reason I got grades that were good enough to admit me to an Ivy League university. Considering the stiff competition, it was a miracle. I will never let the TV or any other distraction control the lives of any children I may have.

JUST LUCKY I GUESS
CONFIDENTIAL TO ESTHER:

When a man says, "I'm sure of my wife," he means that he is sure of his wife. When a woman says, "I am sure of my husband," she means she is sure of herself.

Happy Marriage Views By A Biblical Scholar

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) — Beginning with Adam, the Bible's rich and lifelike portrait gallery of men and women includes various husbands and wives whose relationships were affected by their traits of character.

Relating some of the stories of husband-wife relationships, Edith Deen, author of "Family Living in the Bible" (Harper and Row), said a quotation from Ephesians 5:33 sets the tone of happy wedded life. The quotation:

"Nevertheless, let every one of you in particular so love his wife as himself, and the wife seen that she reverence her husband."

"In the Bible," said Mrs. Deen, of Fort Worth, Tex., "there are tales of husbands who blamed their wives, of devoted and courteous husbands, of love that lasts through the years, of a drinking husband, of a wife who mocked her husband and even of a king dominated by his wife.

Many Examples
 "There also are reports of a wife who was discarded, of a wife who succumbed to adversity, and of a husband who forgave lovingly."

What kept Biblical families together in spite of adversities might well be kept in mind by contemporary couples just starting married life, according to the author.

The something: Faith.
 "Dramatic instances of families protected and sustained by the power of faith can be found in the stories of Noah, Abraham, and Jacob," Mrs. Deen said. "All of these heads of families reached forward toward unseen goals for themselves and their loved ones, assured by their direct, personal relationship with God of the reality of his promises."

"In the superb eleventh chapter of Hebrews, the heroes mentioned and many others are honored in the triumphant roll call of the victors of faith."

Quotes From Bible
 From Hebrews 11:1:
 "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."
 "I believe that the Bible contains clues to solutions of the problems that beset us, even though today's families do face bewildering sociological changes and complex problems unknown in ancient times."

The family unit in Biblical times was so important, in fact, that the law allowed a man exemption from military service to dedicate a new and still unoccupied home, just as he was granted exemption to enjoy the fruit of a new vineyard, or to marry.

Take It From Kathy
 ... by Kathy Peterson

Dear Kathy: My friends say I have a good figure, pretty hair and face but the problem seems to be my personality. I can get friends (boy friends) but I can't keep them. However, this doesn't apply to girls. I have a number of close girl friends. The longest I am to be able to keep a boy interested is about a month. How can I develop my personality?
 —R.S.

Lots of girl friends indicate that there can't be anything drastically wrong with your personality. You present a good appearance and can't have any glaring faults, if boys, too, are attracted to you at first.

Girls like the feeling that they have exclusive rights to a date, but most fellows in their early teens prefer not to feel fenced in. Might it be that you start testing ownership by becoming demanding after the first few weeks?

I would suspect this to be the reason, if boys always seem to lose interest at the end of a month.

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press-International
Southern senators who professed shock at President Kennedy's first special civil rights message to Congress may as well get ready to be shocked again. The first message went up last February.

A second special civil rights message appears to be in the works. If the Southerners were shocked by No. 1 they will be doubly shocked if not more so by No. 2. In the field of civil rights politics there is no way to go but up. No politician can retreat on civil rights. Merely to stand still on such a political subject is a great achievement in itself. Kennedy accomplished that feat in the two years of his first Congress, the 87th. New Frontiersmen in the 87th Congress happily drafted an omnibus civil rights bill.

This bill was to make good on the civil rights promises in the 1960 Democratic presidential platform. The 1960 Democratic bid for Negro votes promised just about everything Negro leaders could wish for in the way of legislative or administrative action provided, of course, that the Democrats won.

Refused Support
Kennedy and the Democrats made it. The New Frontiersmen introduced their bill and Kennedy refused to support it. This shocked the New Frontiersmen. Kennedy's strategy was to avoid a legislative battle over civil rights to leave Congress free to enact—if it would—other parts of his program.

Despite lack of congressional action, Negroes appeared to be happy, however, with the Kennedy administration's civil rights performance. Negroes showed up in well-paid government jobs, at White House social affairs. James Meredith entered the University of Mississippi. The administration made voting rights the top civil right. Kennedy sought to enforce rights laws already on the books. Last winter Kennedy began to put his civil rights record in shape for the 1964 presidential campaign. His first civil rights message went to Congress on Feb. 28.

The message was strong enough to shock Southern senators but not strong enough to keep the Negroes happy nor adequate to meet a developing situation, such as riots in city streets. So the Kennedy administration now is thinking in terms of more and stronger laws. Perhaps even in an all-out proposal for laws making good on all 1960 campaign promises. Either way, Southern Democrats are likely to be shaken up again.

Section Three
There are hints that Kennedy may pick up Section 3 of the 1957 Eisenhower civil rights bill. The 1957 Senate killed section 3 after a blaze of Southern protest. The protest was against two provisions. One would have spelled out authority for a president to call out the Army, Navy and National Guard to enforce any or all of upward of 20 civil rights. The other provision would have authorized the Justice Department to defend all of those rights by civil proceedings in the federal courts under conditions denying the right of jury trial to defendants in civil rights cases. Section 3 aroused much bitterness.

But there was much more promised in the 1960 Democratic platform. The Democrats promised, for example, that they would create a fair employment practices commission — a political A-bomb, no less.

In Jakarta, Indonesian President Sukarno accepted an offer from his hand-picked congress that he keep his job for life, and then, leaving his country in typical chaos, took off for a month-long vacation among the brighter lights of Tokyo, Rome, Vienna and Paris.

If it would seem to be fiddling while Rome burned, it was nothing new for Sukarno whom crisis never has been known to keep at home and who as a ruler has demonstrated both durability and agility.

Five assassination attempts have been made against him but as he himself remarked in accepting his life-long post, "Sukarno cannot be toppled."

Behind him he left a month of anti-Chinese riots and anti-government posters proclaiming "we do not want speeches. We want food and clothing."

Blames Foreigners
The rioting he blamed on foreign subversives.

As for food shortages and the economic chaos brought on in part at least by general mismanagement, these he brushed aside as part of the price of achieving Indonesian style socialism.

Socialism
"Do not expect the government and me to become Santa Claus," he told his people. "You must work hard."

As a revolutionary, Sukarno has found the going comparatively easy since the end of World War II.

The United States helped him achieve independence from the Netherlands.

At home, the emotional appeal has taken the place of a sound economic policy and so far as Sukarno is concerned, has been successful.

U.S. Balance Wheel
Successful also has been his policy of balancing the United States against the appeal of communism originating in Moscow and Peking.

From the U. S. he has received more than $700 million in economic aid.

Military aid from the Soviet Union is estimated at around $1 billion and his MIG jets, frigates and well-equipped army of around 300,000 enabled him to take West New Guinea from the Dutch almost without firing a shot.

But there is a possibility that Sukarno's luck may be running out.

At home, Sukarno so far has balance successfully between an estimated two million Communist party members and perhaps

"Outside of some muddy situations on unpaved streets," Cooke said, "there have been no complaints."

The public works director, however, brought up a reminder that Pampa probably will have a mosquito problem within a week or so.

"It will take three or four days," he said, "for the eggs to hatch and then we probably will be under a mosquito attack."

Cooke said plans are ready to send mosquito spray trucks into all sections of the city to fight off the winged invaders.

The weather in Texas was rough Sunday night. Tornadoes skipped across the South Plains and rain and golf ball-size hail battered cotton and grain sorghum crops. A thunderstorm dumped five inches of rain on Lockney. Six twisters were sighted, but no injuries or damage to buildings were reported.

It was clear to partly cloudy over most of Texas today. The Weather Bureau said widely scattered showers were expected to extend later along the upper coast to the northeast quarter of the state.

Early morning temperatures ranged from a mild 56 at Dalhart to 79 at Corpus Christi.

The Rebels will host Amarillo Caprock at Optimist Park Wednesday night at 8 p.m. The Legion team opened their season Saturday night with an 18-3 walloping of Borger as Jerry Garrison and Bobby Price led the visitors to three hits and three unearned runs while their mates were getting 18 hits off three Borger pitchers. Wednesday's game is slated for a nine-inning affair, with Carl Harnsberger, Ronnie Curlee and Jim Arthur scheduled to go three innings each.

Following the ceremonies, the Eastern League will inaugurate the new program which has broken away from the National Little League, Inc., with Dixie Paris meeting the Misfits at 6 p.m. The Western League will also open action tonight and the Northern League Wednesday night.

Lefties, First Basemen Hand Yanks Two Losses

Memo to American League managers:
If you want to beat the New York Yankees, save your left-handers for the world champions.

And if you need proof of that statement just take a look at what Jack Kralick and young Sam McDowell of the Cleveland Indians did to the Yankees on Sunday.

Kralick, who seems to have regained his 1962 form since being traded by the Minnesota Twins, stopped the Yankees on two hits in the opener as the Indians won 5-0, and McDowell, the 20-year-old flame-thrower from Pittsburgh beat the champs in the nightcap, 7-2.

The Yankees have lost only 17 games thus far this season in 43 starts but eight of those setbacks have been to southpaws, including one to the departed Bo Belinsky, who had just that lone victory over the New Yorkers this season in eight decisions.

Yields Two Singles
Kralick, who won 12 games for the Twins in 1962 including a no-hit, no-run game over the Kansas City Athletics, gave up a single to Cleve Boyer in the third inning and a single to Mickey Mantle in the seventh.

Joe Adcock's three-run homer in the sixth inning decided the issue for Kralick over Bill Stafford. It was Kralick's fourth victory in nine decisions and third since coming to the Tribe on May 2.

McDowell didn't pitch nearly as well in the nightcap, but he had more to work on as the Indians opened up a 6-2 lead in six innings. Fred Whitfield, who took over for Adcock in the second game, was the hitting hero with three runs batted in on a double and homer.

Veteran Pros In 500 Finals

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—At least five veteran pros get a shot today at first-prize money of $10,000 in the final round of the $55,000 "500 Festival" golf tournament.

At 202 was Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex., the first-round leader. Relatively unknown Bob Duden, Portland, Ore., and Tony Lema, San Leandro, Calif., who beat Aaron in a playoff to win at Memphis last week, were next at 203.

Yanks Favored In British Golf

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—U. S. Amateur champion Labron Harris Jr. of Stillwater, Okla., led the star-studded field of 39 United States invaders off the tee today at the start of the British Amateur golf championship.

Harris is quoted as a 1-1 shot to win the tournament — just below co-favored Billy Joe Patton of Morgantown, N. C., and Scotland's Ronny Shade — which is being played over the famous 6,938-yard, par-72 old St. Andrews course nicknamed the "Old Lady."

The tournament consists of seven 18-hole rounds and a 36-hole final next Saturday.

Other U.S. stars in the field are defending champion Richard Davies of Pebble Beach, Calif., Bob Gardner of Essex, Fells, N. J., Downing Gray Jr. of Pensacola, Fla., Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., and Charles Smith of Gastonia, N. C.

Singles In Ninth

Rocky Colavito's ground single in the ninth drove in the winning run for the Tigers after the Twins had rallied to tie the score at 6-6 in the eighth on a double by Jim Hall and a single by Rich Rollins. Colavito homered earlier in the game as did Al Kaline.

Chuck Hinton's two-run homer in the 10th inning led the Senators to their victory over the A's. Don Lock's eighth home run in the seventh tied the score after the A's had taken a 4-3 lead in the sixth. Jim Coates was the winner in relief and Dale Willis, who took over in the 10th, was the loser.

Willie Mays On Streak, Leads SF With 3 HRs

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

Look for the San Francisco Giants to break the National League race wide open any day now.

Why? Willie Mays, that's why.

When Willie gets into one of his hitting streaks he literally carries the Giants, even with all those other muscular hitters on his back. He gave evidence that he has shaken off his most recent slump Sunday by ramming three homers as the Giants defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-4.

They were homers No. 8, 9 and 10 for Mays, who hadn't hit one since May 17. During that period the Giants won seven games and lost six, and even though they held onto first place in the NL race, it hardly was a pace befitting a contender, let alone the defending champion and favorite.

Hits In Streaks
Throughout his major league career the 32-year-old Mays has been a streak hitter, and this year doesn't seem any different than the other 11. The thing about Mays' hitting streaks, though, is that they sometimes produce awesome results — such as Sunday's three homers.

The first homer came with Horvey Kuenn aboard in the first inning and was a typical four-base blow — not too long a drive but no cheapie by any means. The second hit the scoreboard at St. Louis' Busch Stadium in deep left-center, a drive of about 400 feet, and came with the bases empty in the eighth. The third reached to the foot of the scoreboard in the ninth and gave the Giants a 6-1 lead.

Willie showed signs of coming out of his hitting slump on Saturday when he got three hits in four at-bats. He finished the three-game set against the Cardinals with six hits in 11 at-bats and raised his average 18 points to .254 — far below his career average of .315.

Widen League Lead
The victory enabled the Giants to salvage one game against the Cardinals and widened their lead to two games over second-place St. Louis and 3½ over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost to the Cincinnati Reds, 5-2.

In the other NL games, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1 and 4-3, the Houston Colts nipped the Milwaukee Braves, 3-1, in 17 innings, and Philadelphia and Chicago split, the Phils winning the opener, 5-2, and the Cubs taking the nightcap, 2-2.

Wins Ninth Game
Jim O'Toole picked up his ninth victory in beating the Dodgers, but it took some weird doings to achieve as the Reds scored three runs on a bunt during a five-run second inning. A double, infield hit and a walk loaded the bases after two out in the second. The Dodger infield then threw the ball around, two runs crossing on an error by Dick Tracewski and three on a wild throw by Don Zimmer.

The Mets gained their first-game victory when Bill Virdon and Jerry Lynch collided chasing a fly ball in the 10th inning as pinch-runner Rod Kanehl scored from second, and they gained their second win on a 10th inning

WILLIE MAYS

Pastrano May Defend New Title In Europe

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Happy Willie Pastrano said today there was a "strong possibility" he might make the first defense of his newly won light heavyweight championship in Europe in about 30 days.

Swarthy, black-haired Willie, who wrestled the 175-pound crown from veteran Harold Johnson Saturday night on an upset split 15-round decision at the Las Vegas Convention Center mentioned these three possible European challengers:

—Chick Calderwood of Glasgow who outpointed Willie in Scotland on Sept. 16, 1950.

—Lennart Risberg of Sweden who held Willie to a draw, at Stockholm Aug. 6, 1961.

—Giulio Rinaldi of Italy, current champion of Europe.

Saturday's rainy-night fight, inpy Willie Pastrano said today there was a "strong possibility" he might make the first defense of his newly won light heavyweight championship in Europe in about 30 days.

Pastrano's victory was a terrific upset. He had gone into the ring a 5-1 underdog against a champion boasting 19 straight wins.

Pat Oliveri, manager of the defeated 34-year-old Johnson, arranged with attorney Alfred Klein of Philadelphia to make a formal request Tuesday to the World Boxing Council to order a return title fight with Pastrano because of the controversy over the split decision.

The split decision favored Pastrano on a five-point basis as follows: referee Jimmy Olivas, 69-68; judge John Romero, 68-69; judge Harry Krause, 69-67. Only Romero favored Johnson.

The United Press International had Johnson ahead, 69-68; and a UPI poll of 14 sports writers at the ringside favored Johnson, 9-5.

Better Financially

Smiling Willie, 27, explained that, right now, a fight with any one of those three European boxers seemed a better money match than any that could be made in the United States.

He emphasized, however, that manager Angelo Dundee would pick the opponent, site and date. Dundee flew to New York Sunday to help his welterweight champion Luis Rodriguez, with his final grooming for Saturday's first defense against ex-champion Emile Griffith at New York.

Dundee said Sunday he was not interested in a return bout with Johnson, who had accepted Pastrano as a second substitute challenger only after Mauro Mina of Peru and Henry Hank of Detroit had withdrawn from the Las Vegas match because of training injuries.

"And besides," said Dundee, "Johnson is not a drawing card."

WINS PRO TENNIS

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) —Surprising Andres Gimeno of Spain was $1,000 richer today for his victories over Australians Ken Rosewall and Rod Laver in the first San Diego professional tennis tournament.

Gimeno bested rookie pro Laver in the final match Sunday, 2-6, 7-3, 6-3, after talking top-seeded Rosewall 9-7 in the semifinal match.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Portrait of a victor in defeat: Robin Evan Roberts.

Laud your big guns, on the mound the likes of ageless Warren Spahn and in the batter's box such as Mickey Mantle or whoever your personal favorite might be.

But don't forget the two-time "whiz kid," the six-foot, two-inch guy from Illinois with the bland baby face and the iron will which you need to reach a spot among the greats.

He was whipped on the big weekend but there were extenuating circumstances. He throws for a light-hitting ball club and he was sent out against a group which murders you with muscle.

So Roberts lost and his record

Tired Mickey Heads For Chattanooga

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UPI) —Mickey Wright, tied with her own record of four straight tournament victories and admittedly "a little weary," today readied for next week's Chattanooga, Tenn., Women's Open and her last shot to keep the present victory skin alive.

The Dallas blonde burned up the course Sunday, turning in a last round 69 for a record 209 total and a victory in the $5,000 annual Babe Zaharias Women's Open golf tournament.

The victory was worth $1,250 to Mickey, but matching her own record for consecutive tournament wins was equally valuable. She set the four-in-a-row mark last year.

The Chattanooga tourney will be the last chance to keep her string alive. She flies to Lisbon, Portugal, after it for a televised golf date with European proette Brigitte Vavansot.

Miss Wright had an eagle on the par 5 No. 12 hole at the 6,276-yard Beaumont Country Club course Sunday, hitting her second shot to within six feet of the pin.

Little Clifford Ann Creed, of Alexandria, La., hung on gamely through the front nine, but wound up with a 73 for a 54-hole total of 214 and $975 second place money.

Miss Creed had to birdie the feet off the putting surface to 18th hole with a chip-in from five yard off the rush of Judy Kimball, whose 71 Sunday left her one stroke back in third place.

Miss Wright's record round bettered Betty Jameson's 210 in 1955 for the tourney.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Does Marshal Dillon have the seven-year itch? Is Miss Kitty giving him a bad time?

I hate to get into personal matters, but there has to be some reason why CBS-TV's "Gunsmoke" has become a crashing bore, and this being the end of its seventh season, I was just wondering.

There is a teletype operator in our bureau here named George Shields, who has a theory about the whole problem.

It is George's contention that when "Gunsmoke" expanded from 30 minutes to an hour each Saturday, the main achievement was that Chester was not able to get the marshal six cups of coffee each show instead of three.

This is a valid suggestion that the series is stretching itself way out each week, which was certainly obvious, to anyone who watched last Saturday's episode, in which Dillon tried to find a murderer in order to save an innocent convicted man.

It also was obvious that the only-occasional appearances nowadays of Chester, the limping comic relief played by Dennis Weaver, are needed desperately to give the show its once-unique droll flavor.

Weaver was absent Saturday.
In fact, for several years now, he's been trying to land his own series, preferably musical-variety. But he hasn't been able to, and he'll be back for another 13
or so appearances next season, when "Gunsmoke" will need all the help it can get—for its competition will be not only NBC-TV's
Saturday night movie but ABC-TV's
Jerry Lewis show.

Frankly, I like Jim Arness, who plays Dillon, for his straightforward depiction of the classic Western-type hero. And directors like Andy McLaglen, son of the late Victor McLaglen, always have enough savvy to make things so smooth that they look better than they are.

Saturday, for instance, the stretching was incredible. The dialogue pauses were so long that they seemed parodies. There was so much riding that the horses rated overtime and featured billing. There was the usual punk gun-slinger trying to make a reputation by perforating the marshal and the usual provocation of the hero at a saloon bar.

Dillon's search for the killer had so many side aspects that the story was lost and then patched up with a hokey ending: The right man was caught, but the innocent fellow was killed trying to escape. Normally, I might have been moved, but I had forgotten all about him.

The Channel Swim: Arthur Godfrey's week of vacation relief for NBC-TV's "Tonight" show host Johnny Carson begins tonight (day delay in Pacific time zone).
Also tonight, same network's
"David Brinkley's Journal" probes the commercialization of Gettysburg's battlefield.

India's President Radhakrishnan visits NBC-TV's "Today" program Tuesday and ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers" Sunday. Barbara Streisand, the young dramatic singer who made a notable appearance on a recent Dinah Shore show, guests with CBS-TV's Ed Sullivan Sunday.

ABC-TV's "Wide World of Sports" airs wrestling championships from Communist Bulgaria June 15. Cliff Robertson, who portrays President Kennedy in the movie "PT109," discusses the role June 12 on Steve Allen's syndicated program.

matter of fact

Sausage is one of the oldest forms of processed food. The first authenticated reference appears in Homer's Odyssey (ninth century B.C.). Greek literature has a play named for sausage, and even mentions salami. In ancient Rome, sausage was popularly associated with pagan festivals and so it was prohibited by early Christian emperors.

The Lighter Side

How to Succeed In 'Show Biz'

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—People with talent are always asking how they can break into show business. It's really quite simple.

If you are a girl, you can marry a producer. If you are rich, you can buy yourself a theater.
Or you can join the New Frontier and become deputy assistant to the secretary of the treasury.

The third method was the one used by Richard E. McCormack, who recently resigned from the Treasury Department to make his debut as a nightclub singer.

I wouldn't recommend his system for everyone, however. You might make a mistake and wind up as a cabinet member instead.
Although he had taken piano lessons and done a little vocalizing with school orchestras, Mc-Cormack didn't really get started on the road to a show business career until he was a student at Stonehill College in Massachusetts.

That was when he became active in President Kennedy's first campaign for the Senate.

A baritone can't make it from campaigns to cabarets in one easy leap, however. McCormack's next step up the ladder was to join the staff of Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., as a legislative assistant.

Being associated with a senator is good training for show business, but McCormack still needed more polish. So, during the 1960 presidential race, he joined the Kennedy campaign as traveling "advance man."

His work in that capacity led to his next assignment as director of transportation for the inauguration ceremonies. This was the break he had been waiting for.

An engineer for a record company heard McCormack sing at an informal social gathering and suggested that he start crooning professionally. But McCormack hesitated for eight reasons, all children.

Only after he had joined the Treasury Department and had a couple of television appearances to his credit did he feel secure enough to burn his bureaucratic bridges.

President Has Power to Contiscate All Private Property for Federal Use

By RAY HERST
For The Pampa News

Theoretically, the President of the United States today could order that all private property be turned over to the federal government.

He could do this without consulting Congress.

He could do this with a power that is not his according to the Constitution.

Whether he could get away with it, no one knows because no one knows exactly what this power is.

It goes under the title of Executive Orders.

Every President of this country, including George Washington, has issued Executive Orders during his term in office. Estimates of the number of times Executive Orders have been issued range from 27, 000 to more than 60,000.

They have been issued to cover just about everything from requiring executive heads of government to submit "a clear account" of affairs in their departments (Washington), to seizure of the steel industry (Truman) to the establishment of the Peace Corps (Kennedy).

And yet, despite the many and varied uses of the Executive Order, no one in government can say if such orders are valid.

The facts are not as varied as the orders. They are:

—The sections of the Constitution investing powers in the President make no mention of the Executive Order.

—Congress has never defined an Executive Order.

—Neither the courts nor Congress has ever determined to what extent or limit an Executive Order may be used.

—Both Congress and the Supreme Court have repealed various Executive Orders.

In short the power to issue Executive Orders is an implied one rather than a mandated or invested power.

The actual powers of the President, as outlined in the Constitution, include the power to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution, the Executive power of the government, and the power to see that the laws are faithfully executed.

It is from these that the power of Executive Order is implied and even recognized as part of the federal system of "statutory law."

At first, the Executive Order was employed mainly for the disposition of the public domain—the withdrawal of lands from federal reservations and for other such similar purposes. It was also used to create forest reserves, to establish land offices, to promulgate rules for civil service, to blanket in additional positions and to make individual exceptions and exemptions from these rules.

During World War I, with the increase of executive authority and power, the use of the Executive Order moved into wider areas. Agencies such as the Food Administration, the Grain Corporation, and the War Trade Board were established by Executive Order.

Today it has resulted in an executive order which gives a federal agency the power to mobilize all of this country's resources in event of national emergency but does not include a definition of such an emergency.

There have been times when an Executive Order has infringed on the power of Congress — when in effect, the power sought to be exercised under the Executive Order, was a lawmaking power which the Constitution gives to Congress alone.

At such times, the Supreme Court has been asked for a decision and reserved the order or Congress itself would move to have the order repealed.

Yet, Congress has frequently enacted legislation directing or requesting the President to issue
Executive Orders in certain fields.

The final result adds up to a kind of a paradox:

1. The validity of the Executive Order has been questioned many times.

2. The Executive Order as a tool by which the President carries out certain functions of his office has never been questioned.

Both of the above statements are contained in a report on Executive Orders prepared by the Library of Congress Legislative Reference Service.

The contradictory nature of the two statements stems from the fact that through the history of this country, no attempt has ever been made to define an Executive Order.

Yet, thousands of such orders affecting Americans in every walk of life have been issued through the years, are being issued and apparently will continue to be issued despite the fact that no one knows where the power comes from.

(Tomorrow: Action taken by Congress and the Supreme Court to repeal some Executive Orders as unconstitutional.)

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—William R.
White of Hornblower & Weeks cites several apparent reasons for the increasingly cautious attitude of investors in the last fortnight.

These reasons are: The threat of a nationwide rail strike, the threat of "harsh" legislative proposals for regulation of the securities markets in the second installment of the Securities & Exchange Commission's report, active profit taking now that long-term capital gains are tempting investors to lighten the commitments and growing doubts over enactment of the Kennedy administration's tax relief plan.

However, White feels that a slowdown now in "hit-and-run" transactions in secondary issues accompanied by a return of leadership to quality issues would enhance prospects for a "traditional summer rally" by establishing a sounder base.

Investors Research Co. feels that by rising continuously, with limited reactions, and bouncing back vigorously from one day setbacks, the market is simply following the laws of a bull market in its early-middle stages. The firm says that at such points in a sustained rise, the advance is so broad and investment interest so widespread that any corrective tendencies are immediately seized as opportunities to purchase stocks.
