He came here from Amarillo, where he had filled various posts in the accounting office since joining Southwestern Public Service Company in 1952.

Jayroe has been an active civic worker in Pampa, serving in the Jaycees, the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club, the Boy Scouts, United Fund, Red Cross and Salvation Army in many capacities. He was president of the Jaycees and a state director of that organization.

Genealogical Society Sets Workshop

AMARILLO (Sp) — Have you wondered how your ancestors of the Revolutionary War and Civil War time lived, and where they came from to this country?

Have you ever wanted to know the meaning and origin of your family surname?

Have you or members of your family wished to join a heritage society but lacked the necessary lineage proofs required for membership?

Would you like to know about the Pioneers of our Texas Panhandle region and the early days of our area?

The Amarillo Genealogical Society will sponsor a workshop in genealogy Saturday, April 20th, at the Mary E. Bivins Memorial Library, 10th and Polk in Amarillo. The workshop will begin at 10:00 a.m. with Mrs. Myrtle Creason from Oklahoma City presenting the main address, "The Challenge of Heraldry".

In the afternoon the workshop will be split into two parts. A beginners' class will be conducted by Mrs. H. W. Sherrieb of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. An advanced class will be conducted by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Anyone interested in checking family history is invited to attend the workshop according to Mrs. Forrest B. Doshier, president of the Amarillo Genealogical Society.

Officials Still Hope France Will Join Allies

PARIS (UPI) — U.S. officials still hoped today that France eventually may join an inter-Allied nuclear force, but there was no official indication that President Charles de Gaulle will approve the idea.

No final French answer is expected until next month, when the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) council of ministers meets in Ottawa to discuss the project, but De Gaulle is said to doubt the value of the plan.

He already has announced that France will have no part of the U.S.-proposed "nuclear navy."

French officials are angrily denying U.S. press reports that France's independent nuclear program has run into "serious difficulties."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk discussed details of the inter-Allied plan this week with De Gaulle and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, but both men remained noncommittal on the subject.

French officials hastily denied reports that De Gaulle had approved the plan and promised to contribute two tactical air squadrons already operating under peacetime command in West Germany.

A French government spokesman said there is no prospect of France agreeing to join the force until the plan has been endorsed by the pact council, as it probably will be next month.

The spokesman made it clear that France is cool to the plan. Range of the jaguar is from the southern borders of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas south to central Argentina.

Have you noticed the busy little bees working around the west side of the Youth Center? This is the construction crew working on the new gym, a structure of 105 ft. by 60 ft. Housed in this new structure will be basketball, volleyball, badminton and shuffleboard courts; a trampoline; mats for tumbling, judo, wrestling and boxing, along with other minor games. Come out and be a sidewalk engineer. The Ping Pong Tournament which was to be played last week was rescheduled for April 19. Entry deadline is Thursday, so there is still time to enter.

Mothers, fathers, sons and daughters have you noticed the time for family swim? This is a good time in this madhouse schedule of life to have a family outing. Take the family swimming on Tuesday nights, 7-8 p.m. Say, have you heard about the swim party being given by Howard Anderson for the Amarillo Newspaper Carriers next Tuesday night at the Center?

O. B. Draper said the Pampa News was due to have one soon for their new carriers.

The Center has had good response in the Swim Competition held each Friday from 8:30-10 p.m. Any youngster who likes to swim can come out and enter. You do not have to be a member to enter. If you win an event three straight times you win a ribbon, six straight times and you win a gold cup. You never know how you will come out unless you enter. You might want to join our Swim Team which meets on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays mornings so you can get in shape.

The Center Dance lessons given by Mrs. Elbert Walker have really been going over well. Sixteen have enrolled. They are: Helana Ford, Marilyn Hess, Sheila Guynes, Linda Jackson, Jimmy Adams, Jamie Moore, Tommy Bowers, Bob Doucette, Riette Smith, Clarriette Smith, Linda Topper, Larry Garrison, Butch Farmer, John Moore, Susan Davis, and Craig Davis.

Believe it or not the girls in this town are not dead. The Center is organizing a girl's softball league for school age girls.

A meeting was held last Wednesday, to draw up a schedule and to discuss various aspects of the league. Tentative date to start will be April 22. Interested clubs were: Kit Kat, Los Cresas, Theta Rho, Sub Debs, Rainbow, and Tri-Hi-Y. It took an hour to convince Gloria Langford and Sandra Weatherly that the catcher is the only one who wears a mask, not the entire team. What a sight that would be.

The Center had, approximately 108 football boys out to hear Raymond Berry last Sunday.

Committees Are Heard At Credit Executive Meet

Reports from the legislative and education committees highlighted last week's meeting of the Pampa Credit Executives Club in the Court House Cafe.

Arthell Gibson, president, conducted the meeting at which Mrs. Louise Fletcher was named to the publicity committee and Mrs. Ruth McQueary presented a program on delinquent accounts.

Program at the next meeting of the group will be in charge of Dave Duvall of Highland General Hospital.

Eighteen members attended the meeting.

Rains Are Helpful But Land Is Still Dry, Says TAES

COLLEGE STATION (UPI) — Last week's statewide rains helped the Texas crop outlook but all but one of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service's district agents say their areas remain too dry, the extension service said today.

Moisture conditions in the Panhandle range from short to very short and the condition of dry land wheat was described as generally poor with some fields being plowed out. Much rain is also needed in all counties in far South Texas where last week's fall was limited to the northern half of the area.

While the moisture will green-up pastures and ranges, more is needed to insure grass growth, to fill low stock tanks, to supply moisture for planting in the less favored areas and to keep crops already up growing. The extremely high temperatures which gripped the state early in the week dried out top soil at a rapid clip.

A decline was noted by the service in the amount of livestock feeding but is still extensive in the less favored areas. Pasture and ranges are generally furnishing short grazing but are showing some improvement.

Cotton is coming up to a stand as far north as the upper Gulf coastal area and planting will move rapidly northward where moisture is available if the warm weather continues. Most of the state's corn acreage has been planted and is up to a good stand and grain sorghum planting is moving northward and westward. The onion harvest in South Texas is near its peak and carrots and cabbage continue to move in volume from that area. Early vegetables are being harvested and rice planted in the upper Gulf coastal area.

Meetings Are Scheduled On Wheat Referendum

The referendum on the 1964 wheat program will be held over the nation on May 21. Wheat all farms will be sent well before the time to vote.

In order that all producers will fully understand the 1964 wheat program and how it would affect them, community meetings of farmers will be held this month to discuss the program.

The meetings will be at the following places in the county: Pampa ASCS Office, Monday night, April 15; Laketon Elevator, Thursday night, April 18; Grandview School, Monday night, April 29; McLean Methodist Church, Tuesday night, April 30.

All meetings will begin at 7:30 p.m.

All wheat has been measured and all notices have been mailed to producers. The final date to dispose of any excess wheat is May 1.

Producers are reminded that a fee of $4 plus $2 for checking each plot over one is charged on many farms. The definition of one plot is a four-sided spot. Any spot with more than four sides will be more than one plot with extra fee. The final date to substitute diverted acreage is also May 1, and application must be made in the office by that time.

It is very important for farmers to come in by May 1, since applications must be made to have destroyed wheat checked.

Any producer with planted barley should also report if the barley is frozen out so it can be removed from the worksheet.

FINAL DATES TO REMEMBER
April 20 - To file application on wool.
May 1 - To destroy excess wheat.
May 1 - To substitute diverted acres.
May 1 - To stop grazing diverted acres.

Soviets Distort Thresher Tragedy For Propaganda

MOSCOW (UPI) - Fleet Admiral S. Isakov expressed condolences to the American people Saturday for the loss of the nuclear submarine Thresher but used the tragedy for a propaganda blast at U. S. nuclear policies.

Isakov contradicted U. S. authorities and said the disaster will poison the Atlantic with radioactivity and endanger waters as far away as Newfoundland and New York and Boston. U. S. authorities said the loss posed no radioactive danger.

Isakov, writing in the government newspaper Izvestia, said the lost submarine was proof of the "aggressive" nature of U. S. naval forces. He said the reason the United States built such "complicated" submarines was that America lagged in rocketry and space exploration, had lost its monopoly of the atomic bomb and was late with the hydrogen bomb.

Soviet First

The Soviet Union has maintained it was first to develop the hydrogen bomb.

"For this reason the U. S. tried to make up the balance by building unusual submarines which could be advertised to the world to frighten those with weak nerves and to draw into their aggressive orbit all those who cannot afford Thresher rockets, and the notorious Polaris."

The admiral said the Thresher tragedy grew out of "the race for sensational advertising and for doubtful 'priority'" and that 129 men died because the "Pentagon wanted to continue risky experiments with the Thresher."

Isakov added that America had "frightened" the world with its enormous army, navy and air force strength.

"We say the Thresher disaster has again demonstrated complete lack of soundness in the long compromised policy emanating from a position of strength. The doomed sub, pointed up the aggressive spirit of America," he said.

Structural Defects

The loss of the Thresher, Isakov added, resulted from structural defects, not to "chance" as the Pentagon claimed.

The admiral did not make any reference to the Soviet Union's fleet of atomic submarines.

Other Soviet naval authorities said the loss of the Thresher may have been due to haste in getting the vessel into action and to technical shortcomings.

The authorities, who were not identified, were quoted in the newspaper Soviet Russia as saying that U. S. "war psychosis" also contributed to the tragedy.

Welfare Conference Planned In Amarillo

"Helping People to Help Themselves" is the theme for the regional conference of the Texas Social Welfare Association to be held in Amarillo on Wednesday, April 17, according to Mrs. L. Ray Value, Amarillo, conference chairman.

The conference, which is sponsored by the Association's Panhandle Chapter, will be at the Herring Hotel from 8:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. All persons interested in improving health, recreation, and welfare programs are invited to attend and participate in the exchange of ideas with the professional social workers, Mrs. Value said.

Mrs. Jack P. Foster, 1228 Willis

Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Spoonmore urged other interested Pampa residents to register for the conference by mailing a $1 fee plus $2 for luncheon before April 15 to Panhandle Chapter, TSWA, Box 3005, Amarillo, or registrations will be accepted the day of the meeting in the Herring Hotel.

The agenda for the conference is as follows: 8:30-9:30 a.m., Registration; 9:30-10 a.m., Opening General Session; 10:15-11:45 a.m., Panel discussions with conference participants choosing among three groups involving youth, the family, and the mature citizen; 12 noon-1:15 p.m., Luncheon with the program being a panel discussion of the philosophical approaches to social welfare; 1:30-3:15 p.m., Workshops and summarization; and 3:30-4:15 p.m., Closing Session.

Panel members in all sessions will be experts from Amarillo and throughout Texas, including J. Weldon Watson, assistant commissioner, and Don Abernathy, regional supervisor, both of the State Department of Public Welfare, Austin, and Clarence M. Lambert, director of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Dallas.

Mrs. Value, in commenting on the purpose of the conference, said, "We want to educate the public in changing trends and pressing needs within the social welfare field and to motivate conference attendees to put their knowledge into action within the community. To achieve constructive legislation and helpful community agencies pressure from an educated public is required."

The Panhandle conference is one of a series of regional meetings held throughout the state by the Texas Social Welfare Association, a voluntary association supported by memberships and the Texas United Fund.

Student Two More Held By Police For Cafe Burglary

There was blood on the white hull and on the fishing chairs, both on a lower deck and on a second level flying bridge.

It reflected a terrific struggle before young Foster stabbed the Trevors into submission, and later threw them overboard at a spot near the Marquesa Keys. This is a small cluster of islands about 20 miles west of here.

Talk With Boy

Sheriff Haskins, chief investigator Robert L. Brown and FBI agents Ralph Jensen and Patrick Philbin reconstructed what apparently happened after a long session with the boy in the Monroe County jail.

The boy apparently left home Monday in the family car and spent two nights in Key West, police said, before he attempted suicide with a razor blade in a motel room and then chartered the Dream Girl Thursday morning.

"He told the captain he was a college student and that he wanted to study the geographical layout of the Marquesa Keys," Haskins said. The boy said he was to pay $65 for the charter but did not have all of the money.

The sheriff said the boy from the beginning "apparently had the idea of getting out around the Marquesas and somehow getting the others off the boat so he could take it out in the middle of the Caribbean and carry out his suicidal intention."

After cruising around the islands for awhile, the investigators said, young Foster—who described himself as a "student of political philosophy"—stepped behind the elder Trevor at the main deck half of the fishing craft.

Hit From Behind

He hit him from behind with a flashlight, intending to knock him unconscious, but only stunned Trevor, investigator Brown said.

The boy stabbed Trevor once as the captain lay on the deck but the skipper managed to get up an struggle with Foster, holding both of Foster's hands, and shouting to his son on the flying bridge above: "Watch out, he's got a knife."

The son leaped down, managed to disarm the boy and fling the knife toward the rear of the vessel and dash for a radio to call for help while his father held the boy down.

But the investigators said, young Foster broke free, grabbed the knife again and killed both the Trevors, stabbing both of them "numerous times."

Foster moved his two victims to the rear of the boat, seeing that they were dying and "tried to make them as comfortable as he could," Haskins said.

When he saw the men were dead, he "sat around and thought for awhile" and then went to the rear of the boat and threw the bodies overboard, "one on the left side and one on the right side," the sheriff said.

Take Over Boat

Haskins said the boy then took over the helm of the boat, which had been slowly circling during the death struggle, and headed generally southeast. It was not his intention to go to Cuba, Foster told authorities, although the Dream Girl ran out of gas and was found Friday night drifting about 20 miles north of the Cuban coast.

Haskins explained that the boy told of several previous attempts to commit suicide and apparently abandoned his plan to kill himself in the ocean because "after he tried before and couldn't, he just didn't feel it would work this time."

The sheriff said the boy made no special effort to contact authorities between the time of the murders between 4 and 5 p.m. EST Thursday and when he was spotted early Friday afternoon by a Coast Guard plane which directed the cutter to him. He surrendered with no struggle.

Foster left in his motel room in Key West a notebook marked "propaganda" along with a book binding. Inside were written a number of slogans, among them "Long Live Trujillo... Long Live Batista... Long Live Peron"—all referring to Latin dictators. The notebook also had written on the front the word "Rockwell," but going further to establish this as a reference to American Nazi Party leader George Lincoln Rockwell.

But police said Foster denied he was a member of Rockwell's Nazi Party.

Thresher

Hole (Oceanographic Institution) are optimistic.

Andrews said water tests show no radioactivity from the Thresher. He said water samples have been taken regularly since the submarine sank Wednesday.

Andrews said the Skylark dropped "little hand grenades" after losing communication with the Thresher, but to no avail. The grenades are small explosives used to signal submarines to surface. They are not powerful enough to cause damage.

The two-flag marker was positioned by a destroyer over the spot where the Thresher sank last Wednesday with a loss of its 129-man crew.

A former skipper of the Thresher, Cmdr. Deane L. Axene, testified the submarine experienced instrumentation trouble during its initial test dive after commissioning in August 1961 but that it soon was refitted.

The marker was dropped overboard shortly after four scientists were transferred by breeches buoy from the destroyer Hazelwood to the marine research ship Atlantis II.

In other developments:

The White House announced that "every effort" is being made to speed benefits to the widow and orphans of the men lost aboard the Thresher.

Naval experts in Washington recalled Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover's speech last fall in which he complained that the Navy was having difficulty in getting manufacturers to meet the rigid specifications for safe operations of nuclear-powered submarines.

Force

being, it will be a sort of NATO navy paid for and manned by personnel from as many countries as wish to contribute men and money. It, too, would be under the supreme Allied command.

Russia has protested all NATO nuclear force planning as likely to increase the peril of nuclear war. The United States, after discussing the Soviet protest with other allies, is expected within the next week to reject the complaint.

U. S. officials view creation of the IANF as being principally a military rather than political affair, since it is being put together under existing treaty arrangements.

Contributions Agreed

The British and American contributions were agreed upon by President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at their Nassau meeting in December. At that time the United States planned to assign some of its strategic bombers to the force but recently decided to substitute the three Polaris submarines. Kennedy and Macmillan called for inclusion of "tactical forces" elsewhere in Europe.

Agreement now has been reached that such tactical forces are available—or soon will be—from eight countries.

They are Greece, Turkey, the Netherlands, Italy, Belgium, France, West Germany and Canada. The first four already have U. S. nuclear weapons but under American control. They must remain that way until the President clears them for use as nuclear force striking elements. The nations received the weapons under a 1957 NATO agreement.

Belgium, France, West Germany and Canada are working out final agreements under which they will receive similar nuclear weapons to be released to their custody in event of war.

Passing motorists saw Marvin P. Brown, 61, of Pampa, lying in the street about 8:30 p.m. and called police and an ambulance. Brown said he started across the street and was hit by a car.

Attendants at Highland General Hospital said the man apparently had no injuries.

Patrolman Loren E. Pigg, investigating officer, said there were no witnesses to the incident.

McNamara Is Winner After Secret Meet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara emerged Saturday as a big winner in the Senate's extraordinary secret session which produced a decision not to speed development of the Nike-Zeus missile killer.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D. Ga., who fashioned the clear-cut victory, won new laurels too. His very considerable prestige was put to something of a challenge by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D. S. C.

In the end, the Senate opened its doors—closed to the public for the first time in 20 years—and voted with Russell to uphold McNamara's judgment on a rather touchy question. The vote came at a time when McNamara's judgment was being sharply questioned by congressional critics.

With Russell's support the Senate, in the same Thursday session, voted McNamara some $364 million in authorizations he does not want to speed development of the RS70 strike plane. That underlined the long-held congressional view that McNamara was moving too rapidly to phase manned bombers out of the nation's striking force.

The Nike-Zeus decision was a more recent one, however, and it involved the matter of defending U. S. cities against a possible nuclear attack. The McNamara-Russell viewpoint was that the Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile should be developed into the more sophisticated Nike X, with the new Sprint missile before Congress begins spending the $12 to $20 billion which will be required to deploy the system around U. S. targets.

Thurmond led forces who contended that the Nike-Zeus, successful in several intercepts of U. S. intercontinental ballistic missiles, should be deployed as soon as possible and converted to the Nike X after it is developed. The additional cost—$1.5 to $2.8 billion—would be well spent, they said.

Adding to the complexity of the issue was the fact that the Joint Chiefs of Staff were not unanimously behind McNamara. Chairman Maxwell D. Taylor, an old Army man, and Gen. Earl G. Wheeler, the Army's current chief of staff, supported the Army's Nike-Zeus. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, the Air Force chief of staff, was quoted as saying the speeded program would not be worth the effort.

Mrs. Wallace left Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas with her 15-year-old son, Fred Saturday. He was alive by a miracle and a world's record of 931 blood transfusions in 612 months.

The son is a victim of hemophilia, or bleeder's disease. He started bleeding after a knee operation at Baylor last fall, and only recently were doctors able to stop the flow of blood.

It required 931 pints of blood to keep Fred alive until the bleeding could finally be stopped.

"It is the most joyous day of my life," the mother said Saturday as she left the Baylor medical center with her son, headed for their Oklahoma home.

Kathleen Burris, one of the spotters, said: "It was terrible. There are Negroes all over town buying. When you say something about it, they get real nasty. I get so mad at my people."

JFK's Decision To Bypass London Disappointing

LONDON (UPI) — President Kennedy's decision to bypass London on his forthcoming European trip has caused disappointment but no surprise in British government quarters.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has been hoping for a little summit with the President this spring on his "home ground." They met in Nassau last December.

A stop-over in London by Kennedy when he visits Rome and Bonn in late June was expected here to provide the opportunity for talks on the state of the Western Alliance and inter-allied troubles in Europe.

Say They Understand

British diplomats, though disappointed have expressed understanding of the President's motives.

A stop in London probably would have made Kennedy's stay-away from Paris look like a calculated snub of President Charles de Gaulle, Kennedy does not plan to visit Paris.

Britain, while angered by France's veto against her entry into the European community, does not want to add to existing tensions in the alliance.

Paris diplomacy already considers Britain determined to isolate France both in the European alignment and in NATO. British efforts to keep contacts alive with France's partners in the Common Market — Germany, Italy and Benelux — have ostensibly aroused grave suspicions in Paris. So has the recent Anglo-American understanding on the visability to set up a NATO nuclear force, with or without French participation.

Could Squelch Suspicion

In this line of argument a Kennedy-Macmillan talk in London might have added to De Gaulle's suspicion of a further ganging up of the "Anglo-Saxons" and inter-

Some diplomats in London however regret that an opportunity for a top level Anglo-American policy review is being lost on the eve of important decisions.

Next month the Allies begin vital discussions with the U.S. on trade liberalization, against the background of Kennedy's Trade Expansion Act.

In May also NATO is expected to take decisions on the problem of an interallied nuclear force — the British favored multinational force of V-bombers and American Polaris submarines, and the American project for a mixed-manned nuclear surface force.

Finally, rumblings in Moscow, reflecting Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's difficulties at home and tensions in the Moscow Peking axis are seen in London as an important topic for high-level Anglo-American reflections and conclusions.

A few suspicious diplomats speculate the President is staying away from London because of the political uncertainty in Britain and the possibility that a Labor government might take over before long. Government quarters in London followed with pained interest the attention which the recent visit of Labor leader Harold Wilson aroused in the White House.

CANCER WORKERS — 1963 National Crusade Chairman of the American Cancer Society, Ralph Edwards, television personality and producer, kicked off the April Cancer Crusade as the "Year Of The Volunteer" in Dallas recently. Shown with him at the meeting is Mrs. W. A. Spoonemore, delegate from the Gray County unit. Edwards, speaker for the occasion used as his theme, "This Is Your Life, Cancer Volunteer." Edwards has been an ACS volunteer sixteen years. Mrs. Spoonemore has served the local unit as a volunteer ten years. More than 500 volunteers will be working in the Gray County crusade this month, 400 of them on the House to House Drive the night of April 22.

Tower Predicts Goldwater For President In '64

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Republican Sen. John Tower of Wichita Falls told the Southwestern Social Science Convention that Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., will be defeated for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964.

Tower said Goldwater "has a good potential for success."

Tower's speech ranged from presidential politics to the Cuban situation. He predicted medicare will not be passed this season of Congress, partly because of the pressure of other issues.

On Cuba, Tower said the American and British crackdown on Fidel rebel raids on Communist shipping, "will have a bad morale effect on the insurgents in Cuba."

PHILADELPHIA — Mrs. Manning J. Harvey, mother of the skipper of the missing nuclear submarine Thresher.

"I have great faith in God, and in my son. He is a splendid nuclear man. If anything can be done, he will do it."

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — The Rev. Martin Luther King, after service of an injunction aimed at halting Negro demonstrations here.

"No injunction nor anything else will stop the Negro from achieving full citizenship in the state of Alabama."

MIAMI — From a monitored Havana speech made by Fidel Castro on the halting of refugee raids near his island.

"The only sensible thing the U.S. rulers can do is to cease provocations and aggressions against our revolution and our country."

Most U.S. forest fires are caused by incendiary, debris burners and careless smokers, in that order.

13 Is Too Young, Even For Air Force

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — The Air Force has mustered Charles S. Griscom out of the service. Griscom is 13 years old.

Griscom's stepfather, S. Sgt. James Hessler of Newburgh, N.Y., arrived at Lackland Air Force Base and identified "Junior Birdman" Griscom as his stepson.

The Air Force listed Griscom as Ronald Merry, who is a neighbor of the Hesslers in Newburgh.

Hessler said his stepson took Merry's identification papers and enlisted in the Air Force March 28 at Baltimore, Md. He came to Lackland the next day.

Hessler said his son left home "because of a combination of personal reasons."

Hessler, stationed at Stewart AFB in New York, said he and his stepson will leave for home this weekend.

A 17-state missing persons alarm had been out for young Griscom in the East. But officers were looking for Charles F. Hessler, instead of a youth named Griscom.

WARNING WATCH—Today's Paul Revere, who would alert the whole continent to impending attack, is known as a senior controller and works at this communications console at North American Air Defense Command's combat operations center in Colorado Springs, Colo. The senior controller, center, can in a matter of seconds alert NORAD defense forces, contact the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, Canada's Chiefs of Staff Committee, Strategic Air Command and other major military organizations and put them in conference for an evaluation of the warning. NORAD can alert its forces over 10½ million square miles of territory in less time than it took Paul Revere to saddle up 188 years ago. Senior controller in picture above is RCAF Group Capt. W. H. Swetman of Montreal, flanked by USAF Maj. Arthur L. Criswell, left, of Colorado Springs and USAF Staff Sgt. Jack Davis of Lubbock, Tex.

Panhandle API To Meet Here

The Panhandle Chapter A-P-I will meet Thursday, at 8 p.m. in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn here.

The featured speaker of the evening program is G. L. Knight, whose topic is the geology and development history of oil fields in the Texas Panhandle.

Knight is a well-known consulting geologist with extensive background and experience in this area, and his talk will be of unusual interest to oil men associated with drilling, producing and secondary recovery operations in the Texas Panhandle Area, according to Leonard L. White, secretary-treasurer of the chapter.

Keating To Speak At Petroleum Gas May Convention

Senator Kenneth B. Keating has accepted the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Association's invitation to be keynote speaker at its 1963 convention. He will speak at a luncheon session May 6, at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago.

The New York Republican's acceptance was announced by Low Marshall of Petoskey, Michigan, convention chairman. "The insight into the Cuban crisis which Senator Keating can bring to our meeting makes him a logical choice for the keynote position," Marshall said, in announcing the senator's acceptance.

Keating, a New York Republican, has been a leading critic of the nation's conduct of the Cuban crisis. He has also been a spokesman for Republican Party ideas on political and military aspects of that situation.

Now in his first term as a senator, Keating served 12 years in the House of Representatives. The 62-year-old lawmaker graduated from Rochester and Harvard Universities. A veteran of both World Wars, the senator holds an Army Reserve commission as brigadier general.

In Congress, Keating's interests have centered around Anti-trust, immigration, aeronautical and space activities. He has also represented the US at several international conferences.

The annual LPGA convention trade show will draw an expected 4000 LP-gas marketers to Chicago for the May 5-8 period. The sessions will be tuned to the "Look Ahead."

The opening day will offer a schedule of exhibit viewing featuring approximately 150 displays of appliances, containers, controls, vehicles and other items used or sold by the marketers. The LPGA directors will also meet on May 5. The initial business session May 6, which Senator Keating will address, will also include a report on LPGA activity to be delivered by president W. A. Schuette. Following this, there will be three idea-swapping open forum sessions for marketers and meetings of several supplier sections.

Major events on May 7 will be a breakfast for state association presidents, a meeting of Canadian members and a cocktail party. The trade show will be open all day.

A second luncheon and business session are slated for May 8. At this session LPGA's new president will be installed. Following this the marketers section will meet for a speaking program. A banquet and entertainment will wind up the four-day gathering.

Kerr-McGee, Chicago Mill To Merge

OKLAHOMA CITY—The Boards of Directors of Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., and the Chicago Mill and Lumber Company, Inc. have approved and executed an agreement providing for the merger of Chicago Mill into Kerr-McGee.

This Is The Way We Go To Church...

...On Easter Sunday Morning

Who'll be first to find an egg?

Time to leave, and she's still primping ...

To help a beautiful lady into her coach ...

What could be better than a child at Easter time? Two children. Jeffie and Randy Suttle, shown here on their Easter morning, symbolize all children at this very special time of year. They search eagerly for the eggs hidden by the Easter Bunny, with a great deal of laughter, and a few smashed shells. Then it's time to leave for church. And there, as to no one else, the mystery of ages in all its splendor is revealed in the hearts of children.

Pampa Drops Slugfest To Plainsmen

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

The strategy which won the baseball game over Lubbock Friday for Pampa backfired yesterday, as the flawless fielding against the Westerners fell apart to give the Monterey Plainsmen a 16-6 victory at Optimist Field.

Juggling his pitching staff and his lineup in a desperate effort to stop Monterey's ringing bats, coach Ray Howard used every hurler on the team, but to no avail as Monterey slugged out 13 hits, including a bases-loaded home run.

Grand Slam

The Plainsmen wrapped up the game in the first inning as they scored seven runs off Jerry Glover, the Pampa ace, who had won Friday's game with key relief pitching, didn't have it today as the Westerners got to him for three hits, three walks and a hit batter in the first frame. Monterey hurler Chris Galanos literally coasted to victory, giving up six hits and three walks, while the Plainsmen had the grand-slammer, a triple and two doubles among their hits, got eight walks, a hit batter, and were aided by five Pampa miscues.

Eleven men batted in the first inning as Gary Huey walked and stole second base, Eldon Frost was safe on an error, Keller Smith and Buddy Hampton singled in succession and Al Ayres and Jerry Haggard walked. With two out, Danny McDougall then homered over the right-center field fence. Glover then hit Galanos, and was yanked for Carl Harnsberger. "Harny" was greeted by a double by Huey, but finally got the third out.

Pampa Scores

Glover opened the home-half of the frame with a triple to the left field wall. Shotgun Gregory walked, Ricky Stewart was safe on an error, Ricky Maynard walked, Kenny Collins beat out a bunt single and Jerry Garrison walked, coupled with a wild pitch by Galanos to cut the score to 8-4.

Each team got one hit apiece in the next three frames, but neither denied the scoring ice again until the sixth inning. Smith opened with a single for the visitors and stole second and third. Hampton walked and stole second and Ayres singled them home. Ayres took second on a throw home, and then scored as Jerry Haggard singled and a throw to catch him at third base was wild. Ayres moved to second on a wild pitch and Glover came back in, giving up a single to Galanos to score the 13th Monterey run before retiring the side.

Harvesters Fight

Gregory made it 13-5 in the bottom of the inning as he was hit by a pitch, stole second and scored on a bad throw trying to pick him off. Jerry Garrison took the mound for the top of the seventh and was touched for a triple by Hampton and a single, and threw in a walk and a wild pitch, plus an error behind him, for three more Monterey runs.

The stubborn Harvesters came up for their final chance and pinchhitter Phil Smith singled. He was out on a fielder's choice by Garrison, Eugene Madrid walked and Kenny Hebert singled over shortstop to score Garrison and move "El Bandido" to third. Glover then hit a looping Texas Leaguer down the right field line which looked like a sure hit. Madrid sped home, but right fielder Frost made a back to the plate catch, turned and fired a strike to third base, doubling off Madrid to close the game out. Monterey is now 3-1 in district 3-AAAA play. Pampa, now 3-3 in district, hosts unbeaten Borger Tuesday at 4 p.m.

Borger, Rebs, Sandies Take Saturday Games

Borger

BORGER (Spl) — Borger continued undefeated in District 3-AAAA play yesterday as they turned back visiting Lubbock, 5-2.

Each team got a run in the first, and then catcher Joe Coffey hit a bases-empty home run in the second to give the Bulldogs a lead they never lost. David Parkhurst and David Dillingham wrapped it up with back-to-back doubles in the fourth inning for two more runs. Parkhurst took the win, tiring in the fifth, with Big Joe Robinson coming in to retire the last seven batters in order.

The game was tied at 3-3 when the Rebs exploded for 11 runs in the bottom of the fourth inning, led by doubles by Danny Gray, Jimmy Carter and Bill Bogart, and aided by Don fielding miscues.

Fine Fielding Gives Pampa Lubbock Win

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

Pampa baseball coach Ray Howard became the Casey Stengel of the Panhandle Friday as he juggled 15 different players in 24 different positions to take a 7-3 win over Tom S. Lubbock.

Howard shifted players like pawns on a chessboard as he had Jerry Garrison starting as a right fielder, moving to center field, then to third base and finally to pitcher. Carl Harnsberger started as a pitcher, was yanked for Jerry Glover to pitch to one batter, after which Glover returned to third and Harnsberger to the mound. Several innings later, Glover again came in to pitch to one man, then was returned to third, then out to right field and finally back to third base where he had started.

Shotgun Stars

The Pampa hurlers were saved by magnificent fielding behind them. For the first time this season, they played errorless ball, with catcher Larry "Shotgun" Gregory leading the way as he pitched runners off first base and threw them out stealing to pull the Harvesters hurlers out of the hole, while the outfield ran like trackmen and threw like pitchers as they chased long flies all over the diamond and fired in throws to nip base-runners.

Pampa got only four hits off the slants of Don Coleman and relievers Carlos Rangel and David Milburn, but two of them, Glover's triple and Garrison's single, both came in the fifth frame with the bases loaded to drive in five runs.

Miss Chance

Pampa tied the score in the first frame, but missed a chance for two more runs. Garrison walked, was wild-pitched around to third and Eugene Madrid walked. "El Bandido" immediately set out to steal second base, but Garrison thought the steal sign was for him and dashed home, only to be tagged out by Lubbock backstop Stan Maynard. Kenny Hebert poled a single over second to score The Bandit. On a run-and-hit play, Hebert took off like a frightened deer as Glover slammed a long drive into right field, but Milburn made a running catch and easily doubled. Hebert off first as the fleet-footed Hebert was practically at home plate when the ball was caught.

Attorneys Go On In 'Fix' Case

ATLANTA (UPI) — The executive committee of the Southeastern Conference Saturday directed Commissioner Bernie Moore to continue an investigation into the Wally Butts-Paul Bryant case until a "positive conclusion can be reached."

The action by the committee came during an unannounced, closed door meeting in Atlanta.

Doug Moves Up Lead At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UPI) — Handsome Doug Sanders, playing brilliant golf through afternoon thundershowers and dropping temperatures, fired off four consecutive birdies Saturday to increase his lead in the third round of the $35,000 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament.

Sanders, who carried a three-stroke lead into the third round, parred the first five holes, then birdied the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth holes to go four under par with a 32 on the front nine of the par-71, 7,017-yard Sedgewick Country Club course. The 29-year-old Ojai, Calif., pro birdied the 14th and 15th but then bogied the next two holes and parred the 18th to go even par with a 35 for the backside.

Key Homer Downs Mets

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Towering rookie Len Gabrielson made his first major-league hit a slashing three-run homer Saturday to power the Milwaukee Braves to a 5-2 win over the hapless New York Mets.

The 23-year-old Gabrielson, a 6-foot-4 former University of Southern California star, tagged a pitch off loser Galen Cisco in the first inning and lined it into the bullpen in right center field, 400 feet from the plate.

Either the UIL or Pampa baseannouncers will join in wholeheartedly, to abolish this nefarious practice! Why doesn't the UIL just allow a player to bat for the pitcher every time up? This Friday's chess-playing version of baseball has even been suggested in the major leagues, so we feel sure it could be accomplished in a high school. The purpose of the original ruling was to speed the game once, and then return him back up to play again. The rule is meant mainly to allow pinchhitters or runners for pitchers, or to allow a boy who has suffered a minor injury to be taken care of without holding up the game.

The idea seemed laudable until Friday's marathon in which coach Howard used 15 players in 24 different positions. The results, as Ray pointed out, paid off, as the Harvesters won, but the chaos it caused the officials, the announcer, the players and most of all the official scorekeeper (Yours Truly) was chaotic. It seems that there are only two lines for each position in a scorebook, one for a starter and one for a substitute. By writing small, you can get two players on each line, but when you have one man playing five different positions in one game, or a player starting in one position, moving to another, coming out of the game, then going back into a third, fourth a little even fifth position, it gets a little ridiculous.

As a South Texan, we have heard of many jokes about the "barefoot-hillbillies" in West Texas, but we thought they were jokes until a recent area track meet. In two heats of a dash race, one runner wore track shoes or sneakers, and the three others in each heat either wore barefooted or just wearing socks. In both cases, the man with the shoes on finished last! There must be a moral here somewhere.

For the many people who don't know about it and think that a certain outstanding Pampa trackman "choked" when he did not place in district, we would like to report an outstanding example of courage and determination. Bill Martin, Pampa's 6'3" high jumper was "only able" to make 5-8 at the district meet and finished fourth. After checking into the case, we found out from coach Norm Phillips, Bill's father and his family physician, that Bill had strained a groin muscle two weeks before the meet, had said nothing about it and had gone on jumping (doing 6-0 at the Amarillo Relays) where most boys wouldn't have even tried to walk! By district time, the swelling was so big that Bill could hardly run, but he gave it all he had. Regardless of the scorekeepers, umpires, scouts and

HOUSTON (UPI) — Rice University, which gained world renown a generation ago as the home base of "Flying Freddie" Walcott, finds itself in a repeat situation today with another "Flying Freddie" — Fred Hansen.

Walcott was a sprinter-burster in the late 1930's and early 1940's and for some time held the world record for the high hurdles.

The handsome, 6-foot, 175-pounder is confident he can match the present unofficial world outdoor record of 16.4 posted Wednesday by John Pannel of Northeast Louisiana State College during a triangular meet with Northwestern Louisiana and McNeese State College.

Uses Hansen's Pole
Pannel set the record with one of Hansen's fiber glass poles, which he borrowed just prior to the Memphis meet where he vaulted 16.3 two weeks ago.

So, when Hansen and Pannel meet this week in a pole-to-pole duel at the Southwestern Relays in Lafayette, La., Hansen will be competing against his own pole.

Hansen was recruited by Rice as a combination track and football star from Cuero, Tex., High School where he had starred in both sports.

Played Freshman Football
He played halfback for the Rice freshman football team, but then decided to concentrate on track.

Tigers Win With HRs

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Home runs by Dick Mauthe, Billy Bruton, and Norm Cash, and relief pitching by Terry Fox gave the Detroit Tigers a 4-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians Saturday.

Phil Regan, who started for Detroit, gave up seven hits, including a home run by Tito Francona in the eighth, but needed help from Fox in the ninth after Willie Kirkland led off with a walk and John Romano singled.

Cards Shut Out Phillies 7-0

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Lefty Curt Simmons pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to their third consecutive shutout, 7-0, in a home opener Saturday, limiting the Philadelphia Phillies to five scattered hits.

Newcomer Dick Groat, ex-Pittsburgh shortstop, joined Carl Sawatski and Julian Javier in hitting home runs in a 10-hit, Cardinals attack.

Tri-Captains Named For Pampa Golf

Bryan Prigmore, Grover Haskell and Freddie Howard were elected tri-captains of the Pampa High School golf team, announced coach Eural Ramsey.

On a vote of the ten team players, the trio each ended in a deadlock for the honor and were named tri-captains.

Prigmore and Howard are both seniors, with Prigmore the leading golfer on the team last season. Haskell is a sophomore and will captain the squad next year.

Six lettermen were named by Ramsey, on the average of their scores in all tournament rounds, which include the three district matches, the Sweetwater Invitational and the Amarillo Relays.

In addition to the captains, Johnny Weatherly, Skip Warren, and Bill McKinney lettered. Also on the B team were Chuck Worley, John Triplehorn, Phil Thompson and Phil Hall.

The entire team except Prigmore; Howard and Weatherly will return intact next season. McKinney, Triplehorn and Johnson are juniors. Haskell, Warren, Worley and Hall are sophomores.

Randy Puts 66-7, Ralph Wins 440

ANDREWS (Spl) — As has been the usual case this season, team championships in a track meet were completely overshadowed by Randy Matson's giant-sized performance in the Mustang Relays.

The Pampa senior put the shot further than he had ever done and he already had thrown further than any schoolboy in Texas history.

Matson heaved the 12-pound ball 66-7, which exceeded his best previous effort by more than a foot. He had thrown 65-7 in the Amarillo Relays and that was better.

Canadian Sets Up LL Plans

CANADIAN (Spl) — Canadian's Little League baseball season will get underway on May 27, League President Jake Keim announced this week.

Team managers have been picked, league officials are appointed, and everything is shaping up for the 1963 baseball season, Keim said.

Managers of the four league teams this year will be Claude Hodges of the Yankees, and Don Titchfield of the Cardinals.

Both hold-overs from last season and new mentors will be Sam Shahan with the Dodgers and H. D. Barry with the Red Sox.

Chief Umpire is Frank Guthrie. Ivan Conklin is vice-president of the League. Don Schaefer is secretary; Ben Ezzell is official scorerkeeper, and Lamond Beatty is Player Agent.

Beatty will announce plans for work-outs for prospective new players soon, so that managers will be able to get an advance look at replacement prospects.

James Cowell of Dimmitt ran the 880-yard dash in 1:59.9 for a first place. Abernathy also won the mile relay with a 3:28.2 clocking. Charles Ledbetter of Morton won the broad jump with a 20.8 effort.

Pampa's Ralph Palmer ran a 49.6 for first place in the 440-yard dash in the largest school division.

Pampa Junior Chamber Of Commerce To Hold Junior Track And Field Meet

The Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce announce the upcoming Junior Champ Track and Field day, May 4, 9:00 a.m., at the High School Athletic field. This is one of many such programs which are conducted throughout the nation in the general interest of America's youth fitness.

It offers all pre-Olympic age of youngsters from 10-15 years of age, regardless of physical handicaps, an opportunity to participate in athletic competition. The Junior Champ slogan is "The story: Youth fitness today for total fitness tomorrow."

All youngsters being 10-15 years of age can enter simply by filling out an entry blank and being present on May 4 to participate. Entry blanks can be found at all the schools, PHS Athletic Office, Pampa Youth Center, and the Jaycee office.

Each youngster can enter any three running events and two field events or any three field events and two running events. The ratio must be kept at 3:2. Entry blanks must be returned to the place you received it by May 1, 1963.

Lefors Plans For Pee Wee Track Meet

LEFORS (Spl) — On April 27th, the Lefors Optimists Club will sponsor a Pee Wee Track Carnival.

The all day event will be for boys and girls in the third through sixth grades, and ribbon will be given in the first six places of each event.

Dunny Goode, High School Head Coach, will be the director with his assistant coaches, and the Optimist club members assisting, according to Ben White, Optimist Club chairman of the events.

The boys events will include the fifty, seventy-five and one hundred yard dash in each grade.

Field events for the boys will include broad jump, high jump, football throw, and baseball throw.

The girls events will include the 50 and 75 yard dash. Other girls events have not as yet been scheduled, but are in the planning stage.

In the regular meeting of the Optimists Monday night at the Hilltop cafe, a discussion was held also concerning the coming oratorical contest as well as the Pee Wee track meet.

As a money making project the club is selling tickets on a Coleman stove and lantern to be given away Saturday, May 4th, with all proceeds to be used for the boys work in summer recreation.

The honorary Optimists of the month of March are Phil Woodring and Terry Bromlow, who were present.

Members present were Gene Robbins, Archie Chisum, Leonard Cain, Jesse Ring, Jim Pennington, Les Smith, Ed Brock, Harold Hugg, George Smith, Ben White, Chestine Dunn, and one visitor, Cecil Jernigan.

Israel Offers An Exquisite Blend Of Old And New, East And West

By MURRAY J. BROWN
United Press International

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI)—American tourists looking for the unusual may well consider a visit to Israel. For probably nowhere else can one find such a rare blending of the cultures of East and West and of Biblical history and atomic-age progress.

Almost from the moment of arrival by plane at Lydda airport or by ship at Haifa, the tourist is constantly made aware of the sharp contrasts in the "Land of the Living Bible."

A tiny shaggy donkey tethered alongside a sleek 1963 American limousine. The chant of ancient Hebrew prayers from a synagogue and the latest rock n'roll song blaring from a transistor radio.

Modern, air-conditioned glassed buildings and centuries-old ruins held sacred by the faithful of three of the world's great religions — Christians, Jews and Moslems. Prefabricated dwellings with terraces and square, flat-roofed homes solidly built ages ago of the rugged native stone.

Young girls and boys doing the twist in fashionable night spots to the near-frenzied musical beat of American-style bands. Bespangled belly-dancers gyrating sensuously to the muted wail of flutes and pipes in dimly-lit cafes in the old native quarters.

Lumbering camels in the southern Negev desert, ridden or driven by the nomadic Bedouin, and huge 10-wheeled trucks roaring a long paved road. In the lush northern Galilee, oxen-or-mule drawn primitive plows and giant tractors and other mechanical farming monsters.

ISRAEL LIES ON the eastern shores of the Mediterranean Sea. It has an area of about 8,000 square miles — roughly the size of New Jersey. It is about 260 miles long and from 6 to 70 miles wide.

Born 15 years ago, Israel has a population of around 2.3 million, including about 250,000 Arabs.

Less than 40 per cent are native-born.

There are Jews of more than 70 different nationalities in Israel — including immigrants from Asia, Africa, Europe and the Americas — and one hears virtually every language in the world. Some citizens, particularly those from Arab countries, cling to the dress and customs of their native lands, adding an exotic oriental touch to this predominantly western-culture nation.

Hebrew is the official language but Americans should have no difficulty since most Israelis will come in contact with speak English. In fact, English is a favorite subject in schools here. Virtually all road, street and other signs are in Hebrew, English and Arabic.

Booklets, pamphlets and other informative material issued by the government tourist corporation or private travel and tourist agencies also are printed in English. The Jerusalem Post is published in English and the national radio, Kol Israel, broadcasts regular news programs and other English-language features.

ISRAEL HAS FOUR seas, four different geographic regions and four climatic zones. The narrow sandy coastal plain along the Mediterranean is dry and sub-tropical except during the brief winter rainy season; the lush central highlands are cool and dry in summer, cold and rainy in winter; the low-lying Jordan Valley is hot and dry in the summer, mild and dry in the winter; the Negev is hot and dry in the summer, cold and dry in the winter.

The winter runs from November to March. But you can swim in the Red Sea or the Sea of Galilee as often as not in mid-December and in the Mediterranean on all but the coldest days of the winter.

Tel Aviv, Israel's largest city with a population of 500,000, is the favorite seaside resort for tourists on the Mediterranean. Rates at Class A hotels run from around $7.25 to $9.50 per person daily, two in a room, during the peak season (March 1 - May 31). Other hotels and pensions include breakfast in rates which run as low as $3 a person daily, double occupancy. Rates are reduced during the summer season (June 1-Oct. 31).

Most hotels, restaurants and cafes include a 10 per cent service charge on bills and tipping is not usually expected.

FOR THE DIEHARD golfer, Israel can offer but one 18-hole course — at Caesarea, north of Haifa. Caesarea was founded around 22 B. C. by King Herod the Great and the golfer can tour the ruins of the city's Hebrew, Byzantine, Roman and Crusader eras.

There are countless other biblical and historical sites from Eilat on the Red Sea to the northernmost town of Metulla on the Lebanese border. There are Jerusalem, Beersheba, Nazareth, Tiberias, Acre, Safad and Jaffa.

El Al Israel airlines flies six flights (including one non-stop in the peak season) each week from New York with Boeing 707 intercontinental jetliners. Other import, Israel's Zim lines, American and other steamship companies make Haifa a regular port of call on Mediterranean and other cruises.

"It's just about spoiled us for any other means of travel," Bates said.

Buy Old Pullman To Tour Country

ATLANTA (UPI)—Sturgis Bates and his wife are among a growing number of Americans who are determined to turn back some of this jet speed modern living.

Bates, whose father was once a railroad president, inherited a love for trains at an early age and therefore can be excused for perking up one day when he read in a magazine about a fellow in Chicago who had bought himself a pullman car.

The thing that interested Bates about this particular car was that its owner, Maury H. Klebolt, a Chicago businessman, planned to fill it up with railroad enthusiasts and take them around the country.

"Now wouldn't that be nice," Bates mused to his wife, "taking a train trip around the country?"

When he added "let's do it," Mrs. Bates balked at first, then reluctantly agreed to accompany him to Chicago.

There they found an old-fashioned pullman car, ornately painted the way they did things at the turn of the century, and occupied by 16 strangers they had never heard of before.

For the next two weeks their car clackety-clacked around the country, hooked to the rear of first one train and then another.

Format for the trip was to pull into a town and spend the day on a siding while the occupants of the special care toured places of interest. Then late at night, a train going someplace else would hook on to their pullman and off again.

"Generally, the car stops in each large city," Bates said. "The passengers get off and go their separate ways, shopping or renting cars for sightseeing. You eat a leisurely dinner and get back to the train about 11 o'clock at night. Next morning you wake up in a different city."

In New Orleans, the Chamber of Commerce took the train riders on a yacht ride, and other cities plan special receptions.

Bridge Is Opened Across Red River

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Highway director Frank Lyons announced today the opening of a new 3,888-foot bridge across the Red River on U.S. 277 between Randlett, Okla., and Burk Burnett, Tex.

Cost of the bridge, in excess of $1 million, was shared by Oklahoma and Texas highway departments. The Oklahoma department supervised construction.

Lyons said the bridge was an important link to Oklahoma's new southwestern turnpike and to the Texas Red River-Valley Expressway.

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—Stockholders of Robertshaw-Fulton Controls Co. Friday voted to change the name of the corporation to Robertshaw Controls Co. and also to increase the number of authorized common shares from 2 million to 3.5 million.

The company said it has no plans at present to issue any of the newly authorized shares.

Tourist Boom In Singapore

SINGAPORE (UPI)—An early 1963 tourist boom has revealed an uncomfortable shortage of first class hotel rooms in this crossroads city.

Since February, visitors without reservations have been in trouble. The managers of Singapore's five leading hotels say it probably will be that way through April. Space in the summer and fall also may be tight.

"I make a lot of money," Mario Marchasi, manager of Raffles Hotel, said. But, he acknowledged, his 130 rooms were not enough for the demand.

"It used to be we would have high and low season — time enough for vacations and repairs," he said. "Now it's all high season."

According to hotel men, there are fewer than 500 first class hotel rooms in Singapore, a glaring deficit for an international city of 1.7 million. The five leading hotels have a total of 450 rooms among them.

Tourists and other visitors have spilled over into some pretty good and some pretty bad second-rate hotels. The Singapore Tourist Information Office tries to put up visitors in guest houses if it can't locate hotel space.

Behind the shortage is the uncertainty of Singapore politics. Three years ago, when hotel men should have been building, they watched to see what the new socialist government of Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew was up to.

The fears of private enterprise have not materialized but there are still some doubts.

Singapore's best known hotel, Raffles, has been capitalizing on its reputation for years but still has no plans for modernization.

Coffee Break.... ...with d. e. w.

THE SPRING OF THE Lilacs... just in case, in years hence, anyone asks what was the Spring of '63 like... you can say it was the Spring of the Lilacs... never have they been so lushly purple... bush branches are loaded with lilacs from the ground to the crown... and it's as though the lilacs had decided to hold their Spring convention in Pampa with general headquarters located at the home of C. P. Buckler at 401 Buckler Street... his home is surrounded on three sides... one half block on the east and west and a full block on the south... by lilac bushes in flourishing bloom... and it all began, he told a friend, with a mere bush he brought from Lefors some years ago.

Spring passes over mountain and meadow, waking up the world. — Mary Baker Eddy.

"SPRINGTIME IS VIOLET TIME" and to prove it the Pampa African Violet Society is staging an African Violet Show next Saturday in the First National Bank Annex. The Society has prepared the loveliest cover page for its schedule of events... a clock with pink, blue, deep rose, and purple violets substituted for numerals at twelve, two, four, six, eight and ten o'clock. Busy working out the details for the show are Mrs. Norman Walberg, president... Mrs. J. E. Carlson, entries... Mrs. Holly Gray, general chairman... Mrs. Lee Moore, classification... Mrs. V. N. Osborn, schedule... and Mrs. Dan Glaxner, publicity. Love the credo of the Violet Society... "God made the violets to beautify our homes and cheer our mood in Springtime"... and Mrs. Lee Moore's home on North Duncan certainly fits this description... cheerful. She has three windows filled with glass shelves holding beautiful African Violets. Her technique is called "Window Culture", which is a drastic departure from the usual method of growing the pampered and slightly temperamental plant. She grows her violets exposed to the natural light... instead of under special lights. Her violets usually start blooming in the autumn and continue in constant bloom until late Spring... which makes her home a continual garden of beauty.

The true work of art is but a shadow of the divine perfection. — Michael Angelo

THAT WAS A gay, mad luncheon the Petroleum Engineers' Wives' Society had on Tuesday in the Cibola Room of the Coronado Inn. Billie Talley as hostess for the day had created the loveliest Easter table decorations with halved eggs shells filled with Easter grass and candy eggs as guest favors. Large and fancy, colorful paper Easter Eggs and Bunnies were placed alternately along the T-shaped luncheon table. The head table was appointed with a large top-hatted Duck surrounded by reclining Easter bunnies lounging in a field of tiny white, pink and blue meadow flowers. And a most intriguing program was presented by Mrs. Eugene Leigh, a graphologist, who gave each member a "quickie" analysis of her personality and moods by samples of individual handwriting. It was a revealing time... but all in fun with a tinge of seriousness and respect for Mrs. Leigh's capabilities. Anyway, as one member put it, the whole purpose of the Society is to get to know each other better... and now we imagine they do! Just think the way you cross your "t's", dot your "i's" loop a letter or fail to loop it, whether you write straight up and down, slanted to the left or right... all are revealing clues to your innermost thoughts and moods. And the fact that your handwriting may vary from time to time, there is still definite personality characteristics revealed in it! Our handwriting analysis certainly revealed some things we weren't aware of... here, all along, we thought we were nothing but sweet and lovable! Getting to know each other a lot better were Floy Dees, Katherine Rose, Barbara Turnbo, Retha Jordan, Evelyn Allison, Peggy Murphy, Sally Davis, Delora Henslee, Vera Cuzzon, Luxie McLaughlin, Bobby Frazier, Margaret Jones, Betty Norwood, Dorothy Burke, Billie Talley, Doris Lou Stephens, Barbara Trout, Jane Vitano, Mabel Smith, Rosemary White, Coy Roberts, Judy West, Wanda Gill and Nina Thienes. There are two more events on the PEWS social calendar before it recesses for the summer months. Preceding the AIME Spring Dance in the Coronado Inn on May 17, the wives will be hostess for a "Happy Hour" in the Cibola Room... and the May meeting will include in addition to installation of new officers, a book review by Mrs. N. Dudley Steele, Speaking of "Happy Hours", Jerry Caldwell, the new Country Club manager, tells us there will be a weekly "Happy Hour" in the club each Friday between the hours of six and seven o'clock... nice way to meet old friends and chat about the week's events.

Love makes everything lovely; hatred concentrates itself on the one thing hated. — George Macdonald.

CLEVER-THOSE Twentieth Century Culture Club members... and they did it again! Provided an attractively-appointed refreshment table loaded with delectable, munchable tidbits, engaged Kathryn Steele, one of their own members, to give a review of a Best Seller... and when everything was in readiness at 2:30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon invited guests down to the Lovett Memorial Library for a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon!

An afternoon with Kathryn giving a discussion of a book always holds promise of a gay and entertaining one and guests are never disappointed. For the Tuesday program, she had chosen John Steinbeck's "Travels With Charley".

"Charley", Kathryn told the guests, "is Mr. Steinbeck's gentleman French Poodle, who travels with him in a three-quarter ton pickup truck, whom he named "Rocinante" after Don Quixote's horse, from Long Island in a complete circle of the United States and back to New York again."

The book was a best-seller in 1960 and would seem a departure from his former books of despair, depression and "underdogs". "There are some who say Steinbeck has mellowed, but he says it is no longer easy to tell underdogs from upper dogs."

In the book, Steinbeck is concerned with the people of the country. He says Montana is the state he loves best, but we think he was wrong when a little fascinated by Texas," Kathryn said. "He talks mostly with waitresses and delivers at truck stops

Wells-Wills Solemnize Vows In Chapel Service

Miss Karen Louise Wells became the bride of Richard Hardy Wills with single-ring vows repeated on April 12 at four o'clock in the First Methodist Chapel with Dr. Hubert H. Bratcher, pastor, officiating.

Vows were solemnized in a setting of yellow and white gladioli flanked by Palm greenery.

Miss Wells is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson A. Wells, 2510 Mary Ellen. Mr. Wills' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wills, 1144 Huff.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white eyelet embroidered suit designed with three-quarter length sleeves accented with cuff and button trim and a v-neck collar topped the box jacket. She wore a Halo Hat of white organdy trimmed with pearls.

The bride carried an arrangement of white roses.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Carolyn Hudson attended the bride as maid of honor; Miss Frances Altergut was bridesmaid. Both were dressed identically in pale yellow, two-piece silk suits and carried arrangements of yellow feathered mums.

Jimmy Storms served the bridegroom as best man. John Wright seated the wedding guests.

Mrs. Hugh Carson, organist, provided the traditional wedding music and served as accompanist for her husband as he sang "Because."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wells chose a Bone Chiffon dress. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Wills, wore a blue crepe dress. Their corsages were fashioned from white roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for a wedding trip to Carlsbad Caverns.

Mrs. Richard Hardy Wills nee Karen Louise Wells

"Fashions And Food" Make Up Program For Varietas Study Club Meet Tuesday

Two topics dear to the hearts of women of the world were discussed at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Varietas Study Club held in the home of Mrs. Lee Harrah, 2401 Duncan with Mrs. H. H. Bratcher as assisting hostess.

"New Spring Fashions" and "Obesity: Battle of the Bulge" were presented in discussions by Mrs. Luther Pierson and Mrs. Joe Z. Weaver.

The fashion news this year is texture, color and silhouette. Mrs. Pierson said in opening remarks about Spring fashions. "There is no revolution in fashion this year but rather evolution. Clothes are simple, unadorned and very wearable."

"Textures are in loopy mohairs, fluffy wools, knits and textures in silks and blends. Exciting colors are either soft, beautiful pastels or sharp bright colors. And the proper skirt-lengths continue just below the knee," Mrs. Pierson said.

"The look in make-up and hair-styling is a natural one. The look in hair color and shape is natural too, not curly, wavy, or teased. We like a rounded, shining, natural hairstyle."

A quote from Lavater concluded the fashion commentary: "Be not too early in fashion; nor too long out of it; nor at any time in the extremes of it."

In discussing obesity, Mrs. Weaver said "Diseases are caused by strict diets or insufficient foods for a balanced diet. Thinking of our body as an engine, we can easily see how too much food will choke and slow down our body. Self-diagnosis in deciding on a diet can be dangerous. Consult your physician or a good dietitian."

"Cutting down on eating is the secret of proper dieting. Enjoy your food but think slim; eat slim; drink slim, exercise and be slim."

Mrs. John S. Barnes, a Varietas Club member, gave an informative talk on how she had lost 100 pounds. She showed pictures showing herself before and after the diet. Then she outlined the diet of balanced meals, which she had followed and still observes.

During the business meeting, club members voted to help pay expenses to send a girl to Girls' State in Austin in June.

A report was given of the party Varietas Study Club gave on April 18 at Senior Citizens Center.

Leather 'N Lace Plans Play Day

The Leather And Lace Riding Club will stage its first Play Day for this season on April 28 in Recreation Park. Registration will begin at 12:30 p.m. and games will start promptly at 1:30.

Five games are scheduled including barrel racing, pole bending, wagon racing, baton relay and goat tying.

There will be no admission charge for the public, but 25 cents per game will be charged participants in the games.

A concession stand will be open under the direction of Mrs. L. W. Foote, chairman.

Glenda Foote, Becky Durham and Berienda Rogers were named to the publicity committee to advertise the event.

Mrs. Durham and Becky, Mrs. Wanita Hughes and Gloria were welcomed as new members in the club.

During the business meeting, a report was given of the Amarillo Rodeo held March 31 when the Leather 'N Lace Club served as pivot setters for the grand entry.

Plans were also discussed to attend the Spearman Rodeo to be held May 11-12.

The next meeting will be held May 1 in the home of Betty Phillips.

The up-to-date woman in Eastern Europe this summer will have a straight profile with no more than a slightly-accentuated waistline. This, reports Radio Free Europe, is the verdict of the communist fashion dictators who conferred recently in Budapest. The fashion commissars did not confine themselves to women's apparel. The "new communist man" is expected to trade his flappy pants for drainpipe-thin trousers without turned up cuffs.

Vocational Clinic Under Discussion By Altrusa

Plans for a Vocational Clinic for Mature Women were discussed at the Monday luncheon of the Altrusa Club of Pampa held in the Coronado Inn.

Mrs. Clyde Vanderberg, District Nine Vocational Information chairman, prefaced the program with information from Altrusa International relating to career or vocational clinics for employable mature women to be held in every club. "It is a challenge and a channel for Altrusa service," Mrs. Vanderberg stated.

The clinic is planned to be held sometime during the month of May with Altrusans acting as consultants and moderators along with other business people in Pampa, who will also be interested in learning of the potential labor pool available.

Mrs. Vanderberg pointed out that various businessmen have indicated a desire to assist and to conduct classes to train the mature woman for employment.

"If the survey determines there is a need for clinics, training classes for various skills can be established," Mrs. Vanderberg said. "There may be a need for part-time workers, who do not wish to be gainfully employed, but who wish to perform community services but are not aware of where need is greatest for their skills. Altrusans are confident that worthy women have a niche in life."

Included in the program was a report by Mrs. Don Kenney, who discussed her impression of the opportunities clinic for mature women outlined at last year's Altrusa workshop held in Amarillo.

The program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Thelma Bray, local Vocational Information chairman.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Lorene O. Locke, president, it was announced that the next meeting will be in commemoration of Founders' Day, April 11, which is the 46th birthday of Altrusa International, Inc. Miss Susie Fillman, Altrusa Girl of the Month for April was introduced by Miss Sally Paden, Altrusa Girl of the Month for March.

Mrs. Irene Smith, member of the Public Affairs committee, introduced Gerald Aljwe, recipient of the Courteous Driver Award for March and Dewey A. Musgrave, Most Courteous Driver for April. Each was presented with an engraved "Altrusa Award" for courteous driving. James A. Bailey, a patrolman, who spotted the acts of the courteous drivers was also a special luncheon guest.

Mrs. Thelma Wilson, who was ill during the formal initiation of new members, was presented with a membership pin and welcomed into membership by Mrs. Locke. Thirty members and five guests attended the luncheon.

Miss Janet Sue Atkinson and Fred Burison Smith were united in marriage with double-ring wedding vows repeated on April 12 at seven o'clock in the Lefors Methodist Church with the Rev. Carl Nunn, pastor, officiating.

Candelabra holding white tapers, fern and baskets of white gladioli appointed the wedding scene. Pews of honor were marked with blue ribbon streamers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Atkinson of Lefors. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Boyd B. Smith of McLean.

BRIDE

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle. The fitted bodice was designed with a low rounded neckline topped with a lace collar and three-quarter length lace sleeves complemented with lace mitts. The bouffant skirt of tiered lace and net was gathered to form a busset for back interest.

Her fingertip veil of Tulle II. fusion was held to a tiara encrusted with seed pearls.

She carried an orchid-encrusted with-Stephanotis.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Bob Bright Jr. of Norman, Okla., sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss LeAnn Pafford, Miss Jeanne Atkinson, both of Lefors.

The feminine attendants were dressed identically in blue lace and chiffon fashioned as the bride's and each carried a cascade of white carnations. James B. Smith of McLean

This week members of the four chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, Upsilon, Rho Eta, Xi Theta Iota, Xi Beta Chi, are making preparations to honor their selection of Woman of the Year for 1963 at a Yellow Rose Tea on April 21 in the Coronado Inn.

In the belief that women are giving their efforts and talents to home, church, school and community development, each year Beta Sigma Phi goes in search of a woman in Pampa, who has accomplished the most during the current year in cultural, civic work, homemaking and outstanding community activity.

The 1963 Woman of the Year will be the 18th to be so honored by the sorority.

In other years, there have been Mrs. W. R. Campbell, 1945; Mrs. Carl J. Wright, now living in Fort Collins, Colo., 1946; Mrs. Huelyn Laycock of Canyon, 1948; Mrs. James Massa, 1949; Mrs. Arthur Teed, 1950; Mrs. Dick Hughes, 1951; Mrs. Rufe Jordan, 1952; Mrs. H. H. Hicks, 1953; Mrs. Jack P. Foster, 1954; Mrs. Raymond Harrah, 1955; Mrs. A. D. Hills, 1956; Mrs. R. H. Nensiel, 1957; Mrs. Inez Carter, 1958; Mrs. Roy McKernan, 1959; Mrs. J. T. Cornutt, 1960; Mrs. Frank W. Shotwell, 1961; and Mrs. Ruby Capps, 1962; and in 1963, . . . who?

The selection of Woman of the Year is made from a list of nominees presented by community leaders, men and women. When the nominations are in, a BSP committee screens the nominations and a final selection is made.

A committee from BSP calls upon the woman to be so honored and informs her that she has been chosen Woman of the Year.

The name of the Lady is kept secret until the day of the Yellow Rose Tea, when she is formally and publicly honored.

What would you do if out of the clear blue sky one day in the Spring, a group of young women called at your home and said "You have been chosen by Beta Sigma Phi Sorority as the Woman of the Year for 1963?"

What would you do and what would you say in answer to them?

For the past seven years we have been wondering and have been so curious that we decided to ask the women, who have been honored.

Mrs. Hicks: "My first thought was 'who on earth would do such a thing to me!' I was washing dishes when the BSP committee called to make an appointment to inform me of the honor. It was so far from any conception of honor that would come to me that my first reaction was 'who on earth would do such a thing to me!'"

Mrs. Foster: "I thought they were playing a joke."

Mrs. Harrah: "I just don't deserve it."

Mrs. Hills: "I just couldn't believe my ears!"

Mrs. Nensiel: "When the BSP committee first called, I was preparing to leave for a Community Concert board meeting. . . and I was just too busy to talk to them."

Mrs. Carter: "It just took me by complete surprise."

Mrs. McKernan: "I thought they had made a mistake."

Mrs. Cornutt: "It just couldn't be me!"

Mrs. Shotwell: "I was sure they had made a mistake, but 'Shot' and I have been deeply grateful and it has given me something to live up to."

Mrs. Capps: "What have I done to deserve this!"

The Woman of the Year for 1963 was not left out of the reaction survey. She was asked the same question, "how did you feel and what did you say" and while it is still fresh on her mind, she replied, "Oh, I really don't have any feeling yet. I'm still on C. I. O. U. Nine!"

Take It From Kathy
by Kathy Peterson

Dear Kathy: How old should a girl be before she is allowed to go out with a boy in a car? Don't you think 16 is old enough? Some of my girl friends are 15 and they do it.

My mother says I can't go out with a boy in a car until I am out of high school. By then I will be almost 18! Do you think she is fair? She says that my aunts didn't let their children do it at my age either. Well, times have changed! Please give me your opinion.—Thank you.—Hoping Blanket permission to go when and where you please in a car should not be expected but selective O.K.'s are in order from 16 onward. What do I mean by this? Joy riding without a purpose is out. Parents should know where you are going and feel sure the car isn't a ticket to off-limit spots. They shouldn't feel uncomfortable about such a date if these conditions were fulfilled:

When you have a definite place to go on an important occasion and parents approve of the activity planned. This means a school dance or something similar.

If from past performance, your mother and dad know you respect their rules, are dependable and will arrive home on schedule.

When the boy at the wheel can be trusted. This means that driving ability should be good and that he's level-headed enough not to show off by taking chances.

Double or triple dates with friends who are well-known to the family should rate approval faster than solo dates.

Dear Abby... There Would Be Long Queue For This

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Everybody complains about smokers, but nothing is ever done about them. I've had more meals spoiled and more pleasant hours of socializing ruined by people who foul the air with cigarette and cigar smoke. Do they think they own the world? I wish someone would invent a "pipe" to be used in self-defense by non-smokers who wish to retaliate. It should be an instrument capable of producing great clouds of offensive smoke that would out-smell any cigarette or cigar on the market. It should contain a safety valve so the user could send out this smoke without getting any of it in his own mouth. Also, tiny fans to direct the smoke away from the user and toward others. It should have an attachment that would blow ashes into food of smokers and burn neat little holes in fine furniture.

If the above - described "retaliator" is ever invented, I promise to buy the first one produced, regardless of price.

DEAR DOUG: If such an item is ever produced, you may buy the second. I want to buy the first.

DEAR ABBY: A dog worshiper has been leading his dog, routinely, to my front yard. I decided if he had that much nerve, I would get up the nerve to do something about it. So when I saw him approaching with his dog, I stood on my porch and just stared a long, hard stare at him. He smiled and tipped his hat! Must I come right out and say, "Why don't you use YOUR front lawn?"

LIVE AND LET LIVE
DEAR LIVE: Tell the man please to let his pooch see more of the world than your front lawn. And if he doesn't catch on, tell him to keep Fido off your grass or you'll call the law.

DEAR ABBY: You may be interested to know that there are 8,500,000 widows in this country. Half of them are under 60. That "Frightened Bachelor" who wrote

Dog Lovers Disapprove Of Classes

AUSTIN (UPI)— Dog lovers were up in the air over reports that biology classes at the Wylie, Tex. High School were watching live demonstrations of canine surgery.

Dr. James Edgar, state education commissioner, said he has received 10 or 12 letters from Dallas-Fort Worth citizens protesting surgery on dogs at the school. Edgar said information had indicated a Dr. T. M. Trimble of Wylie performed the surgery at the request of the biology instructor.

"As I understand it," Edgar said, "dogs are put under sedation and surgery is performed as a demonstration for the students." Mrs. Margaret L. Scott of the Tarrant County Humane Society wrote Edgar and asked him to determine if Dr. Trimble is certified to instruct in public schools. Edgar said consultants have never been interpreted as instructors.

Physical Fitness Importance Stressed By Director At El Progreso Meeting

George Smith, director of the Pampa Youth and Community Center, was guest speaker at the El Progreso Club meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Elmer Fisher, 2542 Mary Ellen.

Following an introduction by Mrs. Tom Perkins, Mr. Smith, assisted by Mrs. R. H. Nensiel of the Pampa Art Club, gave an enthusiastic report on the work she and Mrs. David Gante are doing at the Youth Center with exceptional children.

"We are teaching the children handicrafts of various types," Mrs. Nensiel stated. "Our first class has been such an inspiration to us and has been accepted so well, we are beginning a second class of the same type."

Mr. Smith gave an informative talk on "Physical Fitness" and the program at the Youth Center illustrated with posters, which outlined the needs, purposes and results of a physical fitness program in each individual person's daily routine.

He suggested a definite 15-minute a day of physical, strenuous exercise as a minimum requirement for good health. "Unless our young people, as well as adults, get the proper amount of exercise, they do not have the energy or strength to do the things they need to do and want to do as a rule. Exercise is a definite factor in good health."

Mr. Smith pointed out the seriousness of the "softness" in most of our young people today and urged club members to use influence to encourage children, young people and adults to take part in sports. He explained he would be glad to start any additional program at the Center that enough people were interested in. "Many additional sports will be added at the Center with the completion of the new gym now in the process of being built."

Mrs. Glen Radcliff, president, presided during the business meeting.

Members attending were Mmes. D. V. Burton, V. J. Drew, John Gill, Verl Hagaman, Charles Lanehart, Bob McCoy, J. G. Morrison, Carlton Nance, Tom Perkins, Glen Radcliff, George Waldstad, and George Newberry.

'Springtime Is Violet Time' Show Theme For Pampa African Violet Society Event

Pampa African Violet Society will stage an African Violet Show on April 20 in the First National Bank Annex with the show theme "Springtime Is Violet Time."

"The show will be opened to the public between the hours of 12:30 and 7 p.m." according to Mrs. Norman Walburg, president.

In outlining plans for the annual event, Mrs. Holly Gray, general chairman, stated, "Entries will be received in the First National Bank Annex, 107 N. Ballard on Friday from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. and 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday. Exhibits must be picked up after 7:15 p.m. and before 8 p.m. Saturday."

"The show is being sponsored by the Pampa African Violet Society and will include horticultural, artistic, hobby and educational exhibits. Entries are open to all amateur growers of African Violets and house plants in Pampa and the surrounding area," the general chairman said. "All plants must be insect and disease free and will be inspected before entering. Only clean, healthy plants will be accepted."

All plants in the Horticulture Division must have been in the exhibitor's possession at least three months, but this does not apply to the Artistic Division. For uniformity all pots must be covered with aluminum foil, dull side out. Exhibitors are to print names on adhesive tape and attach to bottom of foil-covered pot; also print plant names on tape.

"The Society will afford all possible protection to exhibits but will not be responsible for any loss. Plants are entered at owner's risk," Mrs. Gray pointed out. Award will be given in both the horticulture and artistic division in each class of the show.

The C. C. Dodds Feted On Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dodd, 1418 N. Russell, were honored on the occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary by their daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Peacock of Burbank, Calif. The reception was held April 1 from 2:30 until 5:30 p. m. in the parlors of the First Methodist Church.

The parlor was appointed with large floral arrangements, which had been sent by friends. Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by Tracy Cary, Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, Mrs. W. H. Fuller, organists; Mrs. Evelyn Thoma Price and Roy Tinsley, violinists and by Mrs. Peacock, vocalist.

The reception opened with organ music softly played by Tracy Cary followed by Mrs. Peacock singing "The Lord's Prayer." Invocation was offered by Dr. Hubert H. Bratcher, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Vocals of "I Love You Truly" and "Yours Is My Heart Alone" with instrumentals and other songs were heard through the remainder of the reception.

The refreshment table was appointed with a white satin cloth trimmed with gold ribbon and caught to each corner with gold wedding bells. The table was centered with an arrangement of white roses, gardenias arranged with gold leaves and ribbon. White candelabras flanked the centerpiece.

A five-tiered anniversary cake decorated with white and gold roses and birds, topped with wedding bells, sprays of orange blossoms arranged in tulle and the golden numerals "50" was served by Mrs. Russell-McConnell.

Punch, with gold roses afloat, was served by Mrs. Marie Smith. Other members of the house-party were Mrs. Jack McCabe and Mrs. Ann Heskey.

Approximately 240 guests were registered by Mrs. Harold Wright.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. P. McSkimming of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan D. Peacock and children, Deborah Ann and Linda Sue of Glendale, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Peacock of Bay City.

C. C. Dodd and Miss Myo McSkimming were united in marriage in 1913 by the bride's father, the Rev. D. McSkimming in their parsonage in Wichita, Kan. Mr. Dodd was attending Wichita Business College at the time he met the pastor's pretty daughter and asked her to marry him.

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Dodd returned to Pampa where he had already established a home in 1910 and a Grain Feed business. Mr. Dodd had farms south of the city and also south of Kingsmill. He later owned a produce and hatchery during the oil boom. He also was employed for the city for approximately 12 years.

Mrs. Dodd was not idle during those days. She has been employed by Mitchell Ready "To Wear" later for Murree's where she continued employment when it became Dunlap's Department Store, until her health forced retirement.

The Dodds were the recipients of floral arrangements, gifts and cards sent to their home honoring them on their Fifty Golden Years.

C. C. Dodd and Miss Myo McSkimming were united in marriage in 1913 by the bride's father, the Rev. D. McSkimming in their parsonage in Wichita, Kan. Mr. Dodd was attending Wichita Business College at the time he met the pastor's pretty daughter and asked her to marry him.

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Dodd returned to Pampa where he had already established a home in 1910 and a Grain Feed business. Mr. Dodd had farms south of the city and also south of Kingsmill. He later owned a produce and hatchery during the oil boom. He also was employed for the city for approximately 12 years.

Mrs. Dodd was not idle during those days. She has been employed by Mitchell Ready "To Wear" later for Murree's where she continued employment when it became Dunlap's Department Store, until her health forced retirement.

The Dodds were the recipients of floral arrangements, gifts and cards sent to their home honoring them on their Fifty Golden Years.

'Heart And Soul Of Constitution' Topic For Civic Culture Study Club Meeting

"Americanism" was the theme for the Civic Culture Club's program on Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. K. A. Sorenson.

Mrs. C. F. Pennington, in discussing Americanism, titled her talk "The Heart And Soul Of Our Constitution."

"The written American constitution, the flag and the Great Seal are the oldest of any nation in the world. This sounds strange," she said, "but it is true. The United States is the oldest country with its original constitution."

"As an example, England has a not a written constitution. It's constitution or fundamental law is whatever the parliament says it is."

"Most constitutions are rigid and soon become antiquated. The American constitution has withstood the test of time and a civil war and has grown with the country. It is wonderful to think that our forefathers must have had us in mind when this timeless instrument was formed 176 years ago. We should be as foresighted as they and provide for the welfare of our posterity."

The program was concluded with a prayer "With the Power of God" given by Mrs. Louise Sewell.

In reporting on the recent Top of Texas District meeting of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Carl Axelson, president said that Civic Culture Club won three awards in the Texas Heritage Department, one in the conservation department and two in the Fine Arts Department; one for 100 per cent subscribed membership to the Texas Clubwoman; and a member, Mrs. W. J. Morris won first place in the Public Affairs Department for best division report at the meeting. Seven Civic Culture members attended the convention.

Members attending were Mrs. Emmett-Gee, F. R. Grantham, H. L. Alexander, J. B. Townsend, Louise Sewell, K. A. Sorenson, W. C. Scott, C. F. Pennington, Emmett Osborne, George Neef, W. J. Morris, A. C. Houchin, A. D. Hill, R. E. Dauers-Irvin Cole, Stanley Brandt, and Carl Axelson.

Rho Eta Members Hear Program Of 'Absolute Music' Played By Bill Haley

Bill Haley, a local piano teacher, presented a program on "Absolute Music" at a meeting of the Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Heare, 1520 Hamilton.

As an example of program music, Mr. Haley played "The Hunting Song" and explained "The composer always lets the listener know what to think while listening to program music either by the title or by words in the song."

Compositions by Bach and Mozart were played as illustrations of Absolute Music.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Haldane Suttle, president, reminded members of the Woman of the Year Tea planned for April 21 in the Coronado Inn.

It was announced that Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will celebrate the sorority's 32nd birthday with a Founders' Day Dinner on April 30 in the Pampa Country Club.

Plans were approved to contribute $30 to the Phi Epsilon Beta Chapter, the newly-formed chapter jointly organized by Upsilon and Rho Eta.

Refreshments of ribbon sandwiches, cake and stuffed dates were served in brightly colored knapsacks from a table appointed with an arrangement of Spring flowers.

Cosmetic make-up is now available in a leak-proof, air-tight aerosol container. It produces a single drop of fluid make-up at each pressure with three drops sufficient to provide a foundation for forehead, cheeks, nose, chin and neck.

RUTH MILLETT

Some people who can pay a pretty compliment with no trouble at all are anything but gracious when it comes to accepting a compliment from someone else.

The hard-to-compliment find many ways of turning a compliment aside, instead of accepting it with pleasure.

Sometimes they treat a compliment as insincere flattery. "I look terrible and, you know it, you're just trying to make me feel better."

Sometimes they belittle the thing you compliment, reflecting on your own taste for professing to admire something they insist is "just an old rag," or something they intend to get rid of as soon as possible, or something they are stuck with because it was a gift.

Sometimes the compliment is turned aside with an obvious comparison such as, "Well, it's not anything compared to your fine big house, but we like it."

Or the hard-to-compliment may just keep protesting that what you are admiring has this and that wrong with it, so that you have to keep struggling to answer all the arguments.

Considering that the gracious acceptance of a compliment is such a simple thing, it's surprising that so many people have never mastered the technique.

Actually you don't have to be clever or original about what to say when someone pays you a compliment.

All you need to do is treat it as any other gift and accept it with a pleased "Thank you." For that is all a compliment is, a gift from someone who is trying to make you feel pleased with yourself.

The Pampa Daily News AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

The Meaning Of Easter

The meaning of Easter is found in its bright message of eternal life. Many of the world's great theological systems have glimpsed the principle of eternal life and have symbolized it in one way or another. There is no more hopeful and inspiring concept than this.

miracle to the minds of simple men that leaves would reappear on the trees, that grass which had turned brown would turn green again, that growth and new life would constantly put in an appearance.

In our more sophisticated times, the mystery of life still remains a mystery. No one today, any more than in times two or three thousand years ago, has understood everything about life.

Scientists are now probing deep within the cell and even the molecule to try to isolate whatever it is that we call life. Perhaps one day they will succeed. When they do, our knowledge will be enlarged.

But still, life will behave exactly the same way, whatever it is we learn about it. And this is the real meaning of today's glad tidings.

Life is eternal. The principles by means of which that peculiar, sentient quality of existence we call life is with us, will not change.

Men may come and men may go, but life persists. States may rise or fall, but life goes on.

Bombs may drop or they may not drop, but still the process of living is a constant with which we are confronted.

Knowledge vs. Belief

What people believe about you has more potency than what they know about you. Emotion is more powerful than logic. Indeed, this is the problem.

Yes, We Do Believe

I am the resurrection, and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.

Divinity, which has walked the earth as man, has shown the way through darkness to eternal light. The very world around us joins in proclaiming a miracle of rebirth after the barrenness of the winter season.

The great facts of the birth of a Saviour and of His triumph over death have now been told again. In the very retelling, in the reliving of the Christian experience for nearly 2,000 years, there is an implicit affirmation of belief in immortality.

On this Easter morning, each Christian, in his own church, in his own way, deep in his being, can say: "Yes, I do believe."

Congress received its power "to collect taxes on income from whatever sources derived" from the 16th Amendment to the Constitution, which was ratified by the states in 1913.

The English had a taste of income taxes in 1799 when William Pitt introduced them as a war measure, but it was of short duration. However in 1874 the little island established a permanent income tax.

The $30 million aquarium proposed by Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio, and approved by the last Congress is to be built at government expense, paid back by admission charges.

Editor:

If, as most Americans believe, free enterprise is the key to prosperity, are we here in Pampa creating an atmosphere favorable to private investment? A trend is apparent toward the creation of tax exempt institutions which compete directly with taxpayer, investor owned small businesses here.

A short time ago a beautiful new home for the aged called Twilight Acres was opened here, the result of private enterprise investing to meet a community need.

This bill also makes design of the Water Resources Educational Building subject to approval by the Fine Arts Commission. Authority granted in the legislation would terminate if construction is not begun within five years.

Now, Pampanos are being asked to kick these free enterprises to the teeth by contributing to a new, tax-exempt, non profit nursing home. Any careful study of these tax exempt foundations will reveal that they have a history of becoming tax-supported.

In addition, the proposed construction will cost about five times as much as the Twilight Acres home and a large portion of the money raised will leave town in the hands of the professional fund raising organization conducting the campaign.

It would behoove every citizen to carefully weigh all the facts in deciding whether or not this project will actually benefit our community. Let's give free enterprise a fighting chance in Pampa. That is the only way to get us growing again.

Allen-Scott Report

Leaving SpaceShip Protection During Orbit Scheduled for U.S. Astronaut Early Next Year

WASHINGTON — The U.S. is preparing to match Russia's latest space "spectacular" with one of its own.

An astronaut will attempt to "walk in space." He will open a trap-door in an orbiting spacecraft and step out into space, more than 150 miles above the earth.

For the astronaut's safety, he will be attached to the spacecraft by a special 20-foot "life line," and also will be equipped with one-half hour's supply of oxygen.

Approval of this daring space experiment has been given National Aeronautics & Space Administration scientists by Director James Webb. When the extraordinary project is announced later this month, the astronaut who undertakes it will be selected.

NASA's "flight plan" for the thrilling feat calls for the astronaut to attempt the space "walk" early next year from a two-man Gemini spaceship. The other astronaut will control the craft.

During the experiment, the Gemini spacecraft will be traveling at some 15,000 miles an hour. The space "walking" astronaut will wear a pressurized suit under a coverall garment that will protect him from "heat, cold, and meteoroid puncture."

Probably no astronaut — American or Soviet — has so far taken the risk this daring pioneer will face in leaving his spacecraft. Still very much in the realm of the unknown is the exact rate of speed the astronaut will travel once outside his capsule.

On the basis of calculations, NASA scientists estimate the astronaut will travel at the same speed as his spacecraft. This untested theory is challenged by the astronauts who have actually flown in space.

They believe that the space-walking astronaut, like the "firefly" particles knocked off their spaceships during flight, will travel at a slower rate than his craft.

If this theory is correct, the astronaut being pulled along by his Gemini could face new and unknown menaces. PROBING THE UNKNOWN — In his space-walking mission, the astronaut will not be affected by gravity nor will he be able to control his attitude. The latter will be in the hands of the astronaut who remains in the cabin.

Should the 20-foot "life line" break, the astronaut confronts virtually certain death as the Gemini spacecraft is not designed to pick up a person floating in space.

The astronaut would be able to stay alive only as long as his oxygen lasted. After that ran out, his dead body would be incinerated when his orbit brought him into the earth's atmosphere.

To keep the astronaut from exploding in space, special protective clothing is being designed. This space suit will be the prototype for moon landing missions.

The Gemini spacecraft used in this dramatic experiment is similar in shape but about 50 per cent larger than the Mercury capsule in which astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper is slated to make a 22-orbit flight next month.

The two-man Gemini spacecraft, to be hurled into orbit by a modified Titan missile will permit rendezvous in space with another craft. The plan is for the astronauts to attach their craft to a satellite previously sent aloft.

Designed for use in orbits for up to two weeks at a time, the Gemini is the next step in the development of the Apollo space vehicle to be used in rendezvous and moon landings.

Space scientists believe Russia will soon put a two-man astronaut team in orbit, possibly for the Communists' May Day celebration.

Vice President Lyndon Johnson, chairman of the National Space Council, hinted at this in a "little-noticed" paragraph in his speech before the National Rocket Club, as follows:

"In this year of 1963... it is possible that our efforts may be overshadowed by Soviet space shots. I urge, therefore, that we not be discouraged by publicized events but rather be stimulated to even greater efforts for the coming year."

SPACE FLASHES — During this forthcoming 22-orbit flight, astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper will remove part of his pressurized suit for comfort during the long mission. In case of meteoroid puncture or depressurization of the cabin while thus partially undressed, a specially installed "environmental control system" will supply additional oxygen for about five minutes to allow him to get back into the suit.

In a space environment, Cooper would have less than 12 seconds of useful consciousness. In Project Gemini, a diet of 2,350 calories per day is planned, because the question of actual metabolic needs is still undetermined. This summer, for the first time, rockets will be tested over uninhabited areas of the U.S.

The Air Force will undertake a series of firings from Green River, Utah, over portions of Colorado, to the White Sands area of New Mexico. The plan is to test more than 20 Athena missiles, a fourstage 50-foot-long solid-propellant vehicle. The aim is to obtain additional information on what happens to a ballistic missile as it re-enters the earth's atmosphere from space.

The $19 million test program is scheduled to run several years. Senators Margaret Chase Smith, R-Me., and Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C., have been named by Senator Richard Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, to study the latest intelligence reports on Russian tests of an anti-satellite missile.

The two senators will determine whether members of the Armed Services Committee should urge President Kennedy to launch a crash program for the development of a similar weapon by the U.S.

The American Way

BIG BARGAIN

By Rosalie M. Gordon Editor, America's Future

Early last month, a number of Americans who have been sorely troubled about the dangers we face because of our involvement in the United Nations, were somewhat encouraged that a spark of sanity was appearing in official Washington with regard to the UN.

The disgraceful Congo aggression by the UN, coming on top of a long list of trouble-making UN activities, needed only two succeeding events to arouse indignation and anger. One was the grant by the UN Special Fund to Castro's Communist Cuba to help shore up the island's agriculture which the Reds have wrecked. The other was the issuance of a booklet by UNESCO, a UN agency which American taxpayers' dollars help support as they do other UN activities.

The booklet was written by two Russians and was a lying propaganda job designed to show how kind the Soviets are to minorities. Government Wakes Up Then came the announcement that our government had told the UN that we would stop paying more than our assessment for the support of UN troops in the Congo and the Middle East. This caused the feeling of encouragement, but it was short-lived. It could not withstand a closer analysis of this action and several newly revealed events.

No, No, Unless... There are 110 nations in the UN, but the United States pays 32 per cent of the costs. Many nations have been welching on their own small assessments, so in the case of the UN troops, big-hearted Uncle Sam had been paying nearly half the costs. Then last month our government told the UN that for the balance of the year we would pay only our assessed cost of 32 per cent — that is, unless some other nations pay up, in which case there was the implication that we would open our pocketbooks wider.

But then Congressman Durward Hall revealed that some of your money, through the UN, is going not only to a Communist Cuban agricultural project, but incomprehensible as it may seem, to train Cuban pilots and to prepare new textbooks and hire teachers in Cuban schools. The new textbooks and teachers are necessary, of course, to turn Cuban children into little communists. Other UN grants, paid for partly by your money, are going to Red Poland and Red Yugoslavia — one Red Yugoslavian grant being for a nuclear research project.

The Real Bargain Meantime, our Ambassador to the UN, Adlai Stevenson, is on a European "sales trip." A number of European nations have soured on the UN. His trip is for the purpose of trying to resell them on it. This led one close observer of the United Nations and its shenanigans to remark that it would be a big bargain for United States security and for the American taxpayer if Ambassador Stevenson could sell the United Nations for one dollar to anyone who would take it lock, stock and barrel out of the United States.

Broadway

By JACK GAVER UPI Drama Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Uta Hagen, busy since last October as a star in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?," has just celebrated the 25th anniversary of her career as a Broadway actress.

It was on March 28, 1938, that she made her New York debut as Nina in the revival of Chekov's "The Sea Gull" headed by Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne.

When she auditioned for the job, Lunt told her to come and see him at 11 o'clock.

"I was so eager that I misunderstood what he meant," Miss Hagen recalled. "I was at the theater the next morning promptly at 11, and there wasn't a soul around. He had meant 11 at night."

That was Miss Hagen's second professional acting job. Her first had been as Ophelia in a summer theater production of "Hamlet" directed by Eva Le Gallienne at a Cape Cod playhouse. Just before that she had graduated from the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts in London.

Miss Hagen was called on for a "command performance" at the White House while in "The Seagull," and President Roosevelt praised her as "one of the greatest young actresses of the stage today."

Some of Miss Hagen's outstanding roles through the years have been Desdemona in "Othello" and Joan of Arc in Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan." In recent years she has been active in her own acting school.

Lillian Hellman became the third major American playwright to come up this season with something the public wouldn't buy when her "My Mother, My Father, and Me" was presented at the Plymouth Theater.

Tennessee Williams and William Inge were similarly rebuffed with their respective "The Milk Train Doesn't Stop Here Anymore" and "Natural Affection."

Not that this proves anything, all three have had flops in the past. But when they all fail in a period of less than three months, this has a dampening effect on theater folk and a season.

Miss Hellman's play was something of a departure for her, inasmuch as it tended toward comedy and her reputation has been made in solid drama.

However, the new work was not exactly on the light side, although it did have an almost burlesque flavor in writing and performance — which, by the way, did it no good and represented bad judgment on the part of someone.

Miss Hellman was concerned with a caustic examination of all that is wrong with current middle-class life as represented by a mixed-up New York Jewish family. The only likeable character was an elderly woman holding fast to the precepts of the old days. Greed, selfishness, lack of direction, racial conflicts, moral irresponsibility — these and other items were Miss Hellman's targets.

Ruth Gordon and Walter Matthau were able heads of a large and talented cast. The play tried to cover too much ground through too many characters who had no stature, not even as villains.

"COURTSHIP" — Shirley Jones is amused at Glen Ford's cautionary finger in a scene from "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," heart-warming drama of a boy who tries to find a new wife for his widowed father. The picture co-stars Stella Stevens, Dina Merrill, Robert Sherman, young Ronny Howard and Jerry Van Dyke. It is in Panavision and color. "Courtship" started Thursday April 11 at the Capri Theatre and will run for seven days.

Old Russian Music Given New Warmth

By DELOS SMITH NEW YORK (UPI) — The pieces collected under the record title, "Music of Old Russia," were especially happy ones for the violin virtuosity of Nathan Milstein, and for his personal musical sentiments, too.

The latter statement is a guess, of course, but one solidly based upon the glowing warmth which he gave to each of the pieces in his technically brilliant playing of them (Angel-36002).

As the record notes point out, the music of "old" Russia is not very old by western standards of musical age, nor is it deep-deep Russian, having been strongly influenced by the music of other lands.

The oldest composer represented in the collection is Tchaikovsky and the newest Rachmaninoff who in contemporary Soviet Russia belongs no less to "old" Russia.

Tchaikovsky is represented by three pieces, two being violin adaptations by Glazounov who is himself represented by his "Meditation" which in its day melted sentimental hearts in vast numbers but now has fallen into obscurity.

You'll be dazzled by the fantasy on Russian themes which Kreisler made for violin from the music of Rimsky-Korsakov and by Kreisler's transcription of the hopak from Moussorgsky's opera "The Fair at Sorochinsk." But everything on the record is dazzling. All are pieces played with joy in the violin.

For no less joy coupled with violin music of longer breath heard Jascha Heifetz playing Bruch's concerto in G minor, with the New Symphony Orchestra of London, Malcolm Sargent conducting (RCA Victor-2652).

The Bruch is the perfect model of the late 19th century warhorse concerto but in addition to sentimentality and mock dramatics it also has genuine sincerity and

"Fair Lady" Pic HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Stanley Holloway, the father of "Eliza Doolittle" in the Broadway musical "My Fair Lady," will portray the same role in the Warner Bros. Studio movie version.

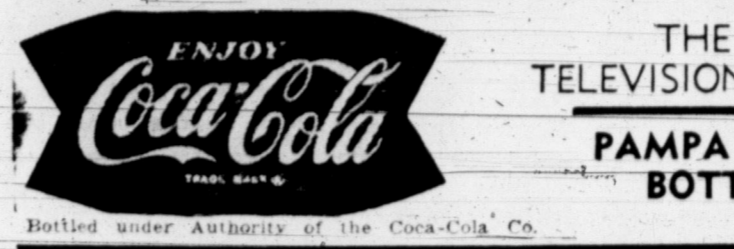

Holloway plays the butler "Higgins" in the television series "Our Man Higgins."

With the result, this time Smith takes himself to Tahiti and is sometimes informative and sometimes astounding as he looks into native lore in an island famed for its beautiful women.

Haley Had Early Start

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Teenage actress Haley Mills, now co-starring in Walt Disney's "Summer Magic," began her professional career at the age of three.

Born the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nate Walley, known as "The Walleys" when they started with the Ice-Capades, Haley could put on her skates and take her turn on the stage. Haley's parents wanted her to train for professional skating competition but the 5-foot-2-inch green-eyed miss rejected this.

Faces Of History Examined In Fiction And Non-Fiction

Among the new books this week are highly readable glimpses into history — sociological, political and romantic.

Life in 18th century England is described vividly in the papers of James Boswell, and the crusades are brought to reality in a new release by Henry Treece. The effects of sociological change applied to 20th century communism is the subject of Eric Hoffer's book, "The Ordeal of Change."

Boswell: The Ominous Years 1744-1776, edited by Charles Yorkskamp and Frederick A. Pottle (McGraw-Hill $8.50). The Yale Editions of the private papers of James Boswell continue with this volume containing a record of the doings and thoughts of this very active young gentleman of the 18th century. Here we read in profuse detail all about Boswell's career as a lawyer, bon vivant, and friend, admirer and recorder of the great Samuel Johnson. It is from these papers that Boswell wrote his immortal Life of Johnson, but it is mostly about Boswell that we read here. An interesting and avidly curious human being he was, with a compulsion to commit all his experiences to writing.

The Ordeal of Change, by Eric Hoffer (Harper & Row $3.50). A keen analysis of what happens when people are subjected to a great change as they were in the great movements of history — the Renaissance, the Reformation, mass migrations — and now communism, industrialization, etc. Hoffer sees communism as an attempt to overturn capitalism. "It makes of production an uncompromising deity which brooks no interference from any quarter. . . Communism is repeating a pattern followed by other heresies when it strives to separate Capitalism from the capitalists. The Christian heresy detached Judaism from the Jews, and the Protestant heresy separated Catholicism from the Catholic hierarchy. And . . . it is permissible to predict that the slogan of an eventual Communist heresy will be: 'Communism without Communists.'"

Black Harp Takes Gold NEW YORK (UPI) — A local harpist who wanted to be different spent $8,000 for a custom-made black harp when he could have bought a ready-made gold one for much less. Battle On Birth Control Is Gathering Force In Illinois

CHICAGO (UPI)—Illinois' embattled birth control program has threatened to explode into a legal scrap bigger than the Scopes "monkey trial" of two generations ago.

An attorney for the pro-birth control faction of the Illinois Public Aid Commission said the dispute involved issues "bigger than the Scopes case."

The Illinois Council of Churches, representing some 4,500 Protestant congregations with approximately 15 million members, unanimously adopted Thursday a policy statement supporting the birth control program "as by far the lesser of two evils."

A Chicago judge, however, on the same day ruled in favor of opponents of the birth control program.

Judge Denis' Motion Judge John J. Lupo denied a motion to disqualify Illinois Attorney William G. Clark as legal counsel for the aid commission. The action was sought by the pro-birth control faction of the IPAC. Auditor Michael J. Howlett were involved "in a conspiracy to defeat and destroy the program."

Cotton Futures Gain Stability

NEW YORK (UPI)— Cotton futures regained a measure of stability last week, breaking out of a declining trend which carried prices down to a nine-week low.

But the rallies encountered renewed spurts of selling. Finishing a holiday-shortened week of four sessions on Thursday, the list ruled 20 points lower to 13 cents a bale compared with the preceding week.

The New York and New Orleans exchanges adjourned trading on Thursday and will remain closed until Monday morning for the Easter holidays.

At the week's low level on Monday, the October contract was down to 31.80 cents a pound, lowest since Feb. 6, and compared with the season's high of 33.95 cents a pound, established just about a year ago on April 13, 1962.

Market sentiment continued to be dominated by two major factors: 1. Continuing uncertainty over new cotton legislation and; 2. The recently announced new government export program for raw cotton.

Possibilities for cotton legislation blew hot-and-cold, with uncertainties increasing at the week-

Regional Clinic Set For Lubbock

AUSTIN (SpI) — A regional rehabilitation clinic for Veterans Service Officers is to be held at the Plainsman Hotel in Lubbock April 18-19. The announcement was made by Charles L. Morris, executive director of the Texas Veterans Affairs Commission in cooperation with the various veterans organizations and the Veterans County Service Officers Association of Texas.

This clinic will serve as a refresher training course for county service officers and post, chapter, and barracks service officers within the 79-County area served by the Veterans Administration regional office in Lubbock.

Main topics for discussion will deal with disability compensation and pension, all types of death benefits for veterans' dependents, GI loan benefits, educational and training benefits for veterans and war orphans, and hospitalization and medical treatment for veterans.

Writing in the newspaper Maariv, Dayan said each missile costs hundreds of thousands of dollars and that no nation would develop them merely for use with conventional warheads.

"I suspect we hit on the truth when we say (U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel) Nasser's reason for rocket production is to reach the capability of arming them with nuclear warheads when the time comes," he continued.

Dayan, now Israel's agriculture minister, said that even in the rocket age the power of Israel's armed forces was the only deterrent barring Nasser from launching a war.

end when consideration of a new bill by the House Agriculture Committee was postponed until after the Easter recess, around April 22.
