Macmillan's Cabinet Gives Him Vote of Confidence

Minister Will Confront Labor With Full Support

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press International

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's cabinet threw its support solidly behind him today with full approval of his handling of the scandal threatening to topple his government.

Well-informed sources said the cabinet members gave Macmillan their complete backing during a two-hour secret session that was one of the most dramatic since the Suez crisis nearly seven years ago. The action put the cabinet squarely behind Macmillan for his confrontation with the Labor opposition at next Monday's parliamentary session on the security aspects of the scandal.

The backing of the cabinet was a key move in Macmillan's fight to retain his leadership of Britain and stave off mounting demands that he resign.

Give Full Confidence

Macmillan's cabinet colleagues rushed back to London posthaste for the critical meeting, arriving from such diverse places as Scotland and the United States.

The sources said they gave the prime minister their full confidence after hearing a report from the lord chancellor on security aspects of the scandal.

Informed sources said the country's top judge, who made the investigation, cleared resigned War Minister John Profumo of suspicions he may have leaked secrets when he shared the love of a red-haired playgirl with a Russian diplomat.

Profumo's resignation last Wednesday has led to a critical government crisis and demands that Macmillan resign.

His Key Weapon

Political sources said Macmillan's key weapon in his secret meeting with Conservative party leaders was a report by Lord Chancellor Lord Dilhorne on a crash inquiry into the scandal.

Political observers said it was believed the report would assure

JFK's Test Ban Leaves Some Doubts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. military leaders have misgivings about President Kennedy's qualified new ban on testing nuclear weapons in the atmosphere. Some believe America should be developing a 100-megaton bomb such as the Russians claim to have.

Armed forces chiefs were described today as believing national security requires continued testing of a variety of nuclear devices under present world conditions.

A 100-megaton bomb, advocated by some military men, would have more political and psychological than purely military significance. America's present 25-megaton bombs are more than adequate militarily. But it is argued America can ill afford not to have a weapon of such force as the Russians claim to have.

To bring home this argument, the specter is raised of Russia someday putting a 100-megaton bomb in orbit about the earth, America could not do that today, but would be able to with the Titan III space booster now under development. Kennedy has said Russian missiles could not yet carry such a heavy warhead.

Military leaders' views seemed likely to get an early airing in Congress, where the President's newly announced policy received a mixed reaction — from cautious Democratic support to Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater's claim he made a "dreadful mistake."

The President made the new policy known in a two-part announcement Monday in a commencement address at American University here. He said high level talks would start soon in Moscow among America, Britain and Russia on a test ban treaty.

NAACP Strategist Fatally Shot in Back

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — The top integration strategist for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) in Mississippi was shot to death by a sniper early today while returning from a civil rights rally.

The slaying of Medgar Evers, 37, followed by only hours a plea by President Kennedy for a racial golden rule to put out "fires of frustration and discord" among Negroes.

It was the third death in the South in the past two months involving participants in racial activities.

Baltimore postman William Moore was shot from ambush April 23 while on a protest march near Gadsden, Ala. and mechanic Fred Link was slain during a clash between whites and Negroes Thursday night at Lexington, N.C. Both were white.

Soviet Health Officials Visit Texas Hospitals

DALLAS (UPI) — Soviet health officials visited country hospitals in East and North Texas today to round out their nationwide tour of U.S. medical facilities.

The Russians planned stops today at the 30-bed hospital of the Jack County Hospital in Jacksboro.

The Russian officials—four men and two women—arrived in Dallas Tuesday night on the next-to-last stop on a nationwide hospital tour.

Speaking to newsmen at Tuesday's seven-hour tour of Dallas' Baylor Medical Center, the leader of the delegation sidestepped questions about medical problems of the Soviet cosmonauts, the grafting of human limbs, radiation equipment and U.S. hospitals versus Soviet hospitals.

But Aleksii Georgievich Safonov, speaking through a State Department interpreter, did say: —A lack of time has kept them from seeing as many U.S. hospitals as they wanted. However, they have seen what they thought was essential.

—Each hospital seems to be financed differently. The "possibilities" of each hospital appear to vary with financing. But by "financing" he did not mean a patient's ability to pay.

—The best U.S. hospitals, as far as the mission can tell, are those that have a connection with a medical school.

—It is true that the delegation has visited Indian hospitals in New Mexico, but that does not mean the delegation is partial to Indian hospitals.

—The Soviet counterpart of the U.S. city-county hospital is larger so it is impossible to compare the two.

NASA Planning No More Mercury Space Shots

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Space Administrator James E. Webb announced today that there will be no further Mercury space shots.

Webb said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) will concentrate instead on the planned Gemini shots — sending up two men. This eventually will lead to placing astronauts on the moon.

"There will be no further Mercury shots," Webb told the Senate Space Committee while testifying in behalf of the space agency's request for $5.7 billion.

"We will concentrate on reorientation and realignment of NASA to move on with Gemini," Webb said.

Pampan Hurt in Car-Truck Crash

G. H. Adams 621 Kingsmill, a passenger in a car driven by A. J. Hall of 1610 36th in Lubbock, received minor injuries in a car-truck collision at the Starkweather railroad crossing about 1:20 p.m. yesterday.

An oilfield truck driven by James W. Jennings, 624 N. Carr, attempted to cross the tracks, heard the bells and swerved to the left to avoid breaking the guard rail, Police said.

The truck struck the car driven by Hall and knocked it clear of the rails. Jennings then reversed the truck, thus avoiding a major train crash, according to Police.

Both Hall and Jennings received tickets for driving on the wrong side of the road.

The guard rail struck the bed of the truck and broke approximately ten feet of the rail off.

Damage to the Hall car was extensive. The truck received minor damage.

Adams was taken to Highland General Hospital, and released after treatment for minor injuries.

Kennedy Seeks Racial Golden Rule Support

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy sought national support today for a racial Golden Rule to put out "fires of frustration and discord" among Negroes by guaranteeing them full equality from lunch counter to polling place.

Warning that there is "a rising tide of discontent that threatens the public safety," Kennedy declared in a radio-television address Tuesday night that "we face a moral crisis as a country and as a people."

"It cannot be met by repressive police action," he said. "It cannot be left to increased demonstrations in the streets. It cannot be quieted by token moves or talk. It is a time to act in the Congress, in your state and local legislative body and, above all, in all of our daily lives."

Readies New Legislation

To carry out his aims, Kennedy said he will send to Congress next week legislation which for the first time in this century would commit this country to the idea that "race has no place in American life or American law."

In a near-paraphrase of the Biblical Golden Rule, the Chief Executive said: "Every American ought to have the right to be treated, as one would wish his children to be treated."

Speeds Mail Service

Pampa to Start ZIP-Code

Uncle Sam's new post office ZIP (Zoning Improvement Plan) Code, designed to speed up mail delivery service, will go into effect in Pampa on July 1. Postmaster O. K. Gaylor announced today.

The new five-digit Zip Code number for Pampa also were announced by the postmaster.

Gaylor explained that a three-digit prefix will be used by all mailers in the Pampa community whether they are post office, box holders or receive home or office mail delivery.

This general three-digit prefix for everybody in Pampa is 790, Gaylor said.

If your mail is delivered to your home or office, the two-digit number 65 should be added to the prefix, making your ZIP - Code 79065.

If you are a post office boxholder and get your mail there, the number 66 should be added to the 790 prefix, which would mean that the ZIP-Code serving you is 79066.

Postmaster Gaylor cited this example of the ZIP Code:

Postmaster O. K. Gaylor
U. S. Post Office
Pampa, Texas 79065

That would mean he is a box holder there. If the mail is sent to his home, the address would be as follows:

Mr. O. K. Gaylor
1610 Williston St.
Pampa, Texas 79065

"The ZIP Code is literally the last word in mail addressing," Gaylor said today. "and the code number should always follow the city and state in address—the very

Girl Cosmonaut Getting Ready For Space Trip

MOSCOW (UPI) — Communist sources said today the Soviet Union is preparing to send the first woman into space, possibly this week.

There was no official confirmation of the report and the length of the space shot was unknown.

But the sources hinted it might last eight days. The current record is 94½ hours — an hour and one-half short of four days.

Unconfirmed reports of a planned space flight by a woman have been circulating in Moscow for some time. Two candidates were said to be ready, one of them possibly a back-up pilot.

The latest unofficial information circulating the Soviet capital indicated a blastoff could take place anytime between now and the opening of an international women's congress on June 24.

The sources described the girl selected for the flight as being fairly good-looking, unmarried and in her early 20's.

She was said to have exceeded male Soviet cosmonauts in some physical tests, and to be extremely friendly with current record-holder, Andrian Nikolayev, who orbited the earth 64 times last summer.

Connally Hints Special Session Not Necessary

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. John Connally, who slashed $12.4 million from the state budget by use of his veto powers, has hinted a special session of the legislature may not be necessary if Texas' higher education can get by on the money the legislature has appropriated.

But the governor ruled out any special session before Sept. 1.

Most of the funds Connally struck out of the record $1.4 billion state budget bill represented construction and repairs he considered secondary to the teaching, salaries, research and libraries he called the "very life blood" of excellence in education.

"It was the wide difference between those recommendations and those of the final bill of the joint conference committee report on appropriations which cause me to object vigorously to where the money was going," Connally said Tuesday night over a statewide television network.

Second Year Crucial

He noted that the second year of the biennium will be a crucial one for education because the money bill provided less that year than the first year. He said he will be in constant contact with educators to determine their needs.

"At this time, I find it not in the best interest of the people of the state of Texas to call a special session," Connally said.

"If it is possible to get by without a special session, I will not call one. At the same time, I am going to keep in touch with educators of this state to determine how they progress during the next two years."

"If it is determined that there is a critical need for a special session to bail our higher educational system out, I will have no hesitancy of doing so."

'Brains vs. Bricks'

Connally dramatized his differences with the appropriations conferees with a chart headed "Brains vs. Bricks."

He said the legislature had short-changed his higher educational program on the "brains" side by $14.2 million less than he had requested, while adding $7.1 million more than he wanted in the "bricks" category.

Thunderstorms Kick Up Winds, Hail in Area

By United Press International
Thunderstorms that kicked up duststorms in the Panhandle and produced gusty winds and hail in the South Plains whipped West Texas again Tuesday night.

A few thunderstorms brought rain to a wide band of West and North Central Texas from Abilene to the Red River today.

Heavy showers and marbled hail poured over Pampa yesterday afternoon for approximately two hours.

The News rain gauge registered .20 inches of rain. There were reports of scattered hail over the city, in varying sizes, during the showers.

The rain started at approximately 2:30 p.m. yesterday and ended about 4:30 p.m.

No major damage was reported due to the hail.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecast increasing thundershowers over most of the western half of the state by tonight.

More summertime heat was expected in all parts of Texas today.

Temperatures at 6 a. m. ranged from 60 at Dalhart to a warm 81 at Corpus Christi. San Angelo got an inch of rain, while a wide area of West Texas and the South Plains reported small amounts of moisture.

NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins said in New York: "The entire nation has lost a man who believed in America and died defending its principles."

Pierce said Mayor Allen Thompson was notified of the slaying in Destin, Fla., where he was on a visit. Pierce said Thompson termed it "a terrible thing" and made arrangements to return immediately to Jackson. Pierce said Thompson instructed the police department to "throw all resources into the investigation and make every effort to apprehend the guilty party or parties."

Two Negroes Begin Classes Under Watchful Eyes of National Guard

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — Two Negroes enrolled at the University of Alabama under the protection of federalized National Guard troops went to their first classes today without incident.

BULLETIN
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Gov. George Wallace notified President Kennedy today he would remove all state law enforcement officers from the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa within the next four days. The governor pulled out 527 officers today.

Vivian Malone, 21, of Mobile, Ala., strolled across the tree-lined campus with two white coeds, chatting as they proceeded to their first class of the summer term.

She shook her head at a U. S. marshal who was in a car parked near the building where her first class was held, apparently a signal that all was well.

Officers had feared there might be at least token demonstrations against the actual admission of the two Negroes to classes.

Only a few of the 100 National Guardsmen who rolled onto the campus Tuesday were in evidence today. Two jeeps were parked some distance from the building which Miss Malone entered.

Ten minutes later, James A. Hood, 21, of East Gadsden, Ala., strode briskly to his class in sociology — the only course he is taking. A dozen photographers had trouble keeping up with his brisk pace.

Several U. S. marshals were scattered inconspicuously about the campus where the two Negroes were registered Tuesday after Gov. George C. Wallace bowed to the presence of the troops President Kennedy had federalized to meet the crisis.

Only a few students were standing outside Comer Hall, where Miss Malone had her first class in political science. They showed only mild curiosity as she approached.

Wallace's capitulation in the face of the 100 battle-equipped national guardsmen represented the shattering of the last segregation hold-out state.

The governor risked jail for contempt of court but apparently no one was ready to push for his arrest.

Sullivan-Satterwhite

CANADIAN (Spl) — In a double-ring ceremony solemnized Saturday afternoon, May 25 in the First Methodist Church of Higgins, Miss Eulalia Victoria Sullivan became the bride of Max Merrel Satterwhite of Amarillo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted R. Sullivan. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Carl Satterwhite of Higgins.

Vows were read by Bro. Floyd Robertson, pastor of the Church of Christ of Alva, Okla.

Nuptial music was played by the organist, Miss Jan Bryant of Higgins.

The altar area was decorated with greenery and standing baskets of yellow gladioli and lighted by pink candles in candelabra.

Candlelighters were Miss Lonna Jean Satterwhite of Amarillo, niece of the bridegroom and Ted Sullivan Jr., brother of the bride.

BRIDE
The father of the bride gave his daughter in marriage. She was attired in a gown fashioned of delicate Chantilly lace and tulle styled with a scalloped bandeau neckline and full-length sleeves tapered at the wrists. Sequins and seed pearls trimmed the bodice and skirt. The back of the skirt was ruffled tiers of lace from waist to floor. Her finger-tip length veil of nylon illusion fell from a tiara of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. She carried white roses centered with a white orchid. The bride was attended by her sisters, Miss Twyla Ray Sullivan, maid of honor, and Miss Cherry Lynn Sullivan, bridesmaid. Their dresses were styled identically with nylon over lace bodices and nylon chiffon bouffant-skirts. The sleeves were of nylon over lace fitted to the wrists.

The maid of honor's dress was pale yellow; she wore a yellow pillbox hat with eye-level veil and carried a bouquet of yellow and white pom mums.

The bridesmaid's dress was pale pink with matching pillbox hat and a bouquet of pink and white pom mums.

Don Satterwhite of Higgins, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man. Arbr Word of Higgins, a cousin, and Lon Satterwhite of Amarillo, a brother, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and pink streamer. The white wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Pink flowers floated in the yellow punch. Mints and nuts were also served.

For travel the bride chose an aqua jersey knit dress and white hat and accessories.

Mrs. Satterwhite attended school in Higgins and Canadian and graduated from the Amarillo School of Beauty Culture. She has been employed until recently by Canadian Beauty Service.

Mr. Satterwhite attended the Higgins schools and is employed by King Trailer and Equipment Company in Amarillo.

The Satterwhites are making their home at 1113 Travis in Amarillo.

POLLY'S POINTERS Lucky Man To Have Loving Care

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — When I pack my husband's bag for a trip, I put the socks and bow tie to be worn with each shirt in the neck of the shirt. This keeps the collar in shape and he can dress in a hurry and keep his bag neat. A longer tie, to be knotted, is folded only once and placed inside the shirt and fits from waist to neck. I also put a few handkerchiefs in EACH corner of the bag so he does not have to look in every corner before he finds one. — MRS. H. S. G.

GIRLS — This would be good travel advice for those 6, 16, 40.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Little girls become so attached to favorite dresses that it is hard to detach them from a worn-out garment. I solved this by making a pillowcase for my daughter's bed from the skirt of a beloved dress. There is usually enough good fabric in the skirt so the little one can still have her "favorite" and mother has an addition to the linen closet. — MRS. D. K.

DEAR POLLY — We have a family rule that no one is to wear a store-bought garment until I have first reinforced the buttons, hooks, snaps and ornaments. It takes only a few moments and saves time and money later on.

If the hem is to be changed in a ready-made dress, I unravel the thread used to put it in and wind this thread on a small white card. This is the correct shade for the dress, so it is used for re-sewing. Usually there will be some left over after the hem is put in by hand. This extra serves for the reinforcing of buttons, etc. Any that remains is left on the card and marked for identification.

If extra buttons come with a dress, they, too, are fastened to the card with the thread.

DEAR POLLY — My husband and I are both in our 60s. So whenever we go on vacation, I take a plug-in night light. It helps one of us find medicine and our way around a strange room without disturbing the other one. This would be helpful for people traveling with small children. — A. U.

The Mature Parent Harmony In Heaven Honesty In People

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Last summer when we were visiting my husband's parents, I punished our 6-year-old boy for staying out in the woods all day with another child without telling us where he was going. Later, my husband told me that his mother objected to the disturbance this made. She said she did not want such disharmony brought into her home. Now she has invited us to spend my husband's vacation with her again. I don't want to accept, and my husband can't understand why.

ANSWER: Sometimes we have to dispense with other people's understanding of our point of view and just stick with it without support. Perhaps you could tell your husband that you'll agree to visit his parents if his mother agrees to tolerate the "disharmony" that often results when an adult opposes his wish to a child's.

I really think that you are entitled to make this condition.

Pure harmony in a home is, I imagine, quite a thing. I have never experienced it myself. But I have observed that people who insist on it are usually domestic tyrants. They use this virtuous-sounding insistence to squash all opposition to their wishes.

So it is just possible that your husband's mother is less interested in harmony within her home than she is in reducing the members of her family to agreeable stillness and compliance with what she wants.

Outside of the harmonious world over which your mother-in-law believes she presides, there is a practical rule which requires grandparents to mind their own business when their children are engaged in the discipline of grandchildren.

Dear Abby... Can't Resist Sharing Parties With Friends

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: If I'm wrong, please tell me and I'll keep quiet. Last year I attended seven weddings, nine bridal showers, two ten-year wedding celebrations, one 25th wedding celebration, two housewarming parties, and six baby showers. Please don't think I'm stingy, but I've been married 14 years, have had 5 babies and I never gave any sort of a party where a gift was expected. We moved into a new home, too, and have entertained for our wedding anniversaries, but we invited only our immediate family. Why can't people keep THEIR celebrations to themselves?

NO GIMMICKS
DEAR NO: I GUESS THEY JUST CAN'T RESIST SHARING EVERYTHING WITH FRIENDS.

DEAR ABBY: Speaking of unusual names, here is one I found in the Philadelphia phone book a few years ago — "Wolfeschlegelsteinhausenberger, Hubert B., Jr."

DEAR C. H.: Thank you. He's probably changed his name to "Wolfe" by now. And the woods are full of 'em.

DEAR ABBY: I don't suppose this will be news to the people of Texas, but when I read your column on unusual surnames I was reminded of the Texas governor whose name was HOGG. He named his two daughters URA HOGG and IMA HOGG.

CLARENCE F. M.
DEAR CLARENCE: I know you aren't feeding me a line because no less than 500 readers included those names in their odd name round-up.

DEAR ABBY: Our little grandson, who is six years old, lost three teeth last week, so we have been busy playing "Good Fairy." (The child puts the tooth under his pillow at night, and during the night the "Good Fairy" takes the tooth and leaves a dime.)

Well, if "Ma," who is annoyed because her husband leaves his "choppers" grinning at her from the top of the dresser, wants to play a cute trick on "Pa," she should take his "choppers" and leave $3.20 in dimes in their place. She should tell him that the "Good Fairy" thought he didn't need them any more and took them. Then when the joke is over she could present them to him in a jeweled plastic box with a lid on it—available in any five-and-dime.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DEUTCH: If you would be wise, be silent. No man wants an honest opinion of a horse after he's bought it.

Wilson was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Jimmy Bowers and Texas Ranger Bill Baten. Woodward was picked up Saturday by Deputy Sheriffs Shirley Nichols.

Minister

(Continued From Page 1) the cabinet there was nothing in Profumo's activities that would undermine the nation's defense. Profumo, 48, quit last week and admitted improper relations with Christine Keeler, a 21-year-old red-haired playgirl who was having a simultaneous love affair with former Soviet assistant naval attaché Eugene Ivanov. The fact that Profumo and Ivanov were sharing Christine's favors at the same time has led to charges by opposition Laborites and the press that the former war minister left himself open to blackmail and endangered the country's security.

Admits Falsehood Profumo also admitted he lied in the House of Commons when he stated several weeks ago his relations with Miss Keeler were not improper. In the face of mounting pressure, Macmillan marshalled his forces for a Commons debate on the scandal starting next Monday. Failure to get full backing of his ministers and party could mean his end politically. Dilhorne completed his report Tuesday night after a study of all available documents and personal interviews with security agents and Profumo himself.

Ag Coach Overjoyed With Pampa Prize

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

Charlie Thomas acted like a man who has found out there is a Santa Claus yesterday.

"Why shouldn't I feel that way," smiled the tall, personable Texas A&M track coach as he waved a signed athletic scholarship letter of intent from national shot put champion Randy Matson. "The number one athlete in the United States is coming to A&M. That's enough to make me happy for years."

Thomas admitted that he was still dazed after Randy had called and said that he had decided upon Texas A&M over all the hundreds of schools throughout the United States that had sought the services of the two-time All State track man. All State basketball star and All District football player.

Sign At Coronado

The signing took place yesterday at the Coronado Inn, due to the illness of Randy's mother, Mrs. C. W. Matson Sr., which precluded the signing at the Matson household. Present were Randy's father, Mr. C. W. Matson and his high school track coach, Norman Phillips, who is still coaching Randy as he competes for the Pampa Track Club in USTFF and AAU meets this summer.

Thomas, a frank and friendly man, admitted that the sky was the limit for Randy. "I feel that Randy has more potential than Dallas Long," said Thomas. (Long the 1960 Olympic shot put champion, is the only other high school athlete who ever threw the high school shot over 65 feet and the college shot over 60 feet.)

"Long has reached his peak already. He has been on a strenuous weight program all his life, pointing for nothing but the weights, especially the shot put. Randy has been playing basketball and football, running in dashes, and splitting his training between the sports. If Randy undergoes a strong weight training program, including isometrics, I feel he can go a long way."

Can Make Olympics

Thomas hesitated to predict just how far Randy would reach. "I hate to make a prediction like that," he explained. "They backfire sometimes and you never hear the end of it. I do think Randy has a wonderful opportunity however, and I think he can make the 1964 Olympics. It will take a lot of work as we have less than a year, but I think he can do it. He has a chance of making 64 to 65 feet in the shot in the near future, and I think he will need to, as it will take that much to qualify. The way he is going, Randy might make 62 feet before he enters A&M." (In his first competitive try with the 16-pound shot, Randy put it 58'10". Last week he won the Federation national championship with 60'6".)

"Actually," continued Thomas, "the shot might turn out to be his best event. Randy still has a lot to learn on form, but he will be real consistent. It will take a lot more work to make the Olympics, as he will have to throw in the neighborhood of 200 feet to qualify. I think he has a good chance."

Thomas stated that A&M has one of the finest weight training programs in the United States, presided over by Emil Mamelegial. The program helped champi-

Canadian FL Teams Swap Six Players

MONTREAL (UPI)—The Montreal Alouettes and the Saskatchewan Roughriders today announced a six-player football trade in which the Alouettes imported Ferdie Burket and guard Darrell Aschbacher and Canadian Bob Miller in exchange for fullback Larry Hickman, guard Ron Brooks and a player to be announced later.

The deal, which Montreal coach Jim Trimble said had been in the works for three weeks, was announced jointly here and in Regina.

"As of Tuesday we had five trades in the works," Trimble said. "We're still negotiating four others."

The trade helps the Alouettes where they were weakest — in punting and at offensive guard.

Burket, who joined the Western Conference Roughriders in 1959 after graduating from Northeast Oklahoma State and playing briefly with the Baltimore Colts, is rated one of the best punters in Canadian football.

ons Darryl Hooper and Danny Roberts, among others, explained the Aggie head man.

Aggs Dominate

A&M, which has dominated the weight events in the Southwest Conference over the past quarter-century, has placed first in the discus four of the five years and second the other, and has won the shot three years, finishing second one year and third one year, one of the key reasons for Matson's picking A&M as his school. In 1962, the Aggs finished first, second and fourth in SWC finals in the shot, and first and fifth this past year. Roberts, who lost to Matson in the TFF shot and beat him in the discus, finished first in the Conference with the fourth best mark recorded in the nation until Matson's record-breaking heave. Teammate John Steffek finished fifth. Junior David Glover has thrown the discus 185'.

In addition to Roberts, Steffek and Matson, the Aggs have a tremendous crop of high school weight men coming up, featuring Jack Pyburn, who holds the all-time Louisiana high school record with 178 feet.

Thomas said that it was up to Randy as to what other sports he participated in at A&M, but that the basketball coaches were literally in deliriums of joy over having landed the 6'6 1/2" All-State cager. Matson, who averaged over 20 rebounds a game in his high school career, leading Pampa to a 14-0 district record last season, will play in the North-South game this summer as well as competing in track meets.

Careers Want Him

"Coach Metcalf is so eager to get Randy," laughed Thomas, "that he has promised him that he will give him a rubber indoor shot to practice with in the basketball gym between cage workouts. We realized that we're getting a great athlete and a fine boy here and we couldn't be happier."

Explains Choice

Matson, who had picked A&M out of all the schools that had contacted him, explained his choice. "I narrowed it down to Texas, Texas A&M, Southern Cal and Kansas State, because they had the best track programs in the country and all had outstanding basketball programs as well. I finally decided that I wanted to stay in my home state and go to the Southwest Conference. Then I decided that A&M had the best field events coaching in the country. I have to admit, the tradition and the Corps kinda impressed me too. Another thing that had a lot to do with my choice was Roberts, Pyburn and the other weight boys that are going there. Most of my life I have practiced against a tape measure. I've never had anyone to compete against in practice that could make it tough for me. When I ran into Roberts at Houston, that was one of the few times in my life that somebody threw that thing out there and challenged me to come match it. Throwing against Danny and those other boys every day can make a lot of difference. I very much want to go to the Olympics and that competition can help me to do it."

Olympics First

Matson said that although he hoped to play basketball, the cage sport would have to wait on the outcome of the Olympic tryouts. If he qualified for the Olympics, said Randy, he would concentrate on that, and would have to pass up freshman basketball. After the Olympics, Matson said he hoped to get in cage play for the Aggies.

Both Randy's father and his high school coach expressed the same opinion, that they were glad that he was staying in Texas. "It was strictly Randy's decision as to what school he was going to attend," said the senior Matson, "but I'll admit that his mother and I are very happy that he is going to stay in Texas."

Coach Norman Phillips also was glad that Randy had elected to stay home. "Coach Thomas is one of the finest weight coaches in the world. With his coaching and competition against the other fine shot and discus men at A&M, Randy can go a long way."

Marichal Leads As Dodgers Fall

The San Francisco Giants' long suit is power but don't try to tell the Los Angeles Dodgers they lack pitching.

Not as long as there's a fellow named Juan Marichal on the Giant roster.

Marichal is known as the Giants' "big pitcher" — the one they like to match against their rival's ace. He throws with a sweeping, high-kicking motion and he beat the Dodgers three times in four tries last season en route to an overall 18-11 record.

The 26-year-old right-hander made it two out of three for this season Tuesday night when he pitched a seven-hit 3-0 victory that knocked the Dodgers out of the National League lead and paved the way for the St. Louis Cardinals to take over the top rung. The win raised Marichal's record to 9-3 and was especially impressive because it came against Don Drysdale, the 25-game winner and Cy Young Award ace of the 1962 Los Angeles staff.

Youth Baseball

Crail Products took their second straight win in Northern League Youth Baseball at Optimist Park Monday night, a 13-9 slugfest over Highland Drug, while Ruff-trimmed Your Laundry.

Daniels took the win for Crail despite giving up 11 hits and three walks, a striking out two. Parker was the loser as he was reached for 16 hits and nine bases on balls.

Parrish and Merrill led the hitting with three safe pokes apiece.

Roger Swanson took the win for Ruff, giving up six hits and striking out seven. Scott took the loss, being combed for 10 hits while striking out four.

Marichal, who struck out four and didn't walk a batter, was in trouble only in the third inning when three Dodger singles filled the bases with two out but he struck out Ron Fairly to end the threat. The loss evened Drysdale's record at 7-7.

Cards Beat Bucs

The Cardinals beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1, the Houston Colts defeated the Chicago Cubs, 6-2, in 10 innings, the Philadelphia Phillies edged the Milwaukee Braves, 8-7, in 10 innings and the Cincinnati Reds whipped the New York Mets, 8-3, in other NL action.

Last Time Around For Sam Sneed

Twin Second Sacker

New Eddie Stanky

NEW YORK (UPI) — This could be the last time around for old Sammy Sneed in the U.S. Open golf championship.

Sam has had his Open hopes buried more times than one of those movie cadavers and, at 51, he admits it's getting tougher all the time. But here he is back once again for a shot at the one golfing title that continually has eluded him.

Sneed, deadly serious and equally as accurate, carded a 69-71-140 at the Old Oaks and Century golf courses in Purchase, N.Y., Tuesday to qualify for the "big one" at Brookline, Mass., June 20-22.

"God knows how bad I've wanted to win this tourney in all those other years," Sam said in that homesy West Virginia drawl of his. "It sure would be nice if I could make it this time, but I know it'll be a grind with all those good young players around."

Only 11 players among the 129 who won Open berths through a second qualifying round at 13 sites on Monday and Tuesday shot better golf than Sneed. They were topped by a sparkling 69-64-133 by Dow Finsterwald at the Cloverbrook Country Club in Cincinnati.

The veteran Fred Wampler of St. Louis had a 69-66-135 at the Indian Hills Country Club in Kansas City and Gardiner Dickinson, another tourney pro, had a 68-67-135 at the Detroit Golf Club.

Those were the top scores but most were turned in against mediocre qualifying fields, while Sneed was shooting with some of the best pros on the tour at suburban Westchester, where golf's elite are gathered for the start of the $100,000 Thunderbird classic Thursday.

As it was, unheralded Bob Schoener of Bethlehem, Pa., was tops in the New York field, where 45 players qualified, with a 69-70-139.

Some of the game's stars who failed to qualify at New York were former PGA champions Jim Ferrier and Jim Turnesa, Bob Tooki, Jerry Steelsmith, Don Whit, Bill Collins, Bo Winger, Ken Venturi and George Knudson, while Lew Worsham failed at Pittsburgh, Jerry Barber missed out at Bakersfield, Calif., and Shelly Mayfield was a casualty at Fort Worth.

Remember Eddie Stanky, the modern Muggsy of Brooklyn's "ferocious gentlemen?"

"He can't hit, he can't field and he can't run," they said of Stanky. "But in a tough game he'll find a way to beat you."

Well, they're saying pretty much the same things about another second baseman today—Bernie Allen of the Minnesota Twins. Allen is a skinny guy often overlooked among all those Minnesota muscle men, but he's maintained his regular status despite a .164 batting average.

"Don't let that average fool you," comments manager Sam Mele, "or you'll liable to be sorry."

The 24-year-old native of East Liverpool, Ohio, made his manager's words look good Tuesday night when the Twins beat the Chicago White Sox, 8-6, for their 16th victory in 20 games and moved to within 2 1/2 games of the American League lead.

Allen went to the plate in the ninth inning with one out and Rich Rollins on second base. First base was open but White Sox relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm elected to pitch to the .146-hitter, who had made only seven singles in his previous 68 trips to the plate.

But Allen crossed up the strategy with a double to right center field and then scored the icing run on a pinch single by Jimmy Hall. The win went to relief pitcher Bill Dailey, who gave up one run in 2 1-3 innings and now has allowed only that single tally in his last 19 1-3 frames.

Zorro Versalles contributed four hits and Rollins, Earl Battey, Harmon Killebrew and Lennie

Green two each to the Twins' 16-hit attack while Tom McGraw had three hits for the White Sox. The Cleveland Indians beat the Baltimore Orioles, 9-5, the Boston Red Sox topped the Detroit Tigers, 9-3, in 15 innings and the Kansas City Athletics defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 5-2, in other AL games.

Orioles Protest Loss After Umpire Goofs

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Club president Lee MacPhail and manager Billy Hitchcock of the Baltimore Orioles said today they will protest Tuesday night's loss to the Cleveland Indians, but both admitted it looked like a situation in which "the smart fellows lose."

Chagrined manager Birdie Tebbets of the Indians, who forgot one of the simplest rules in baseball, and plate umpire Nestor Chylak agreed.

"We're protesting the game on two grounds," said MacPhail and Hitchcock. "But we doubt that the protest will be allowed."

"I believe in being brief," said Tebbets, in explaining his role in the 'He's in, he's out' pitching changeover that touched off the protest. "I'll tell you in three words: I was stupid."

"The only guy who didn't foul up was Hitchcock," continued Tebbets. "And he lost. So what good does it do to be smart?"

Last Of Ninth

The situation developed in the last half of the ninth inning of the Indians' 9-5 victory over the Orioles. There were two out, the bases were filled and Jim Gentile was the batter.

Tebbetts walked to the mound and brought in Bob Allen to replace pitcher Jim Grant, who had allowed 10 hits in 8 2-3 innings. Allen made two pitches — both balls — to Gentile and Tebbetts immediately called in Ted Abernathy.

Abernathy reached the mound, stepped on the pitcher's plate and prepared to pitch to Gentile. Then Hitchcock made his appearance and reminded Chylak that the rules state a relief pitcher must complete pitching to at least one batter before another relief pitcher can be called into the game.

That meant, in effect, that the Indians had two pitchers in the game at the same time.

Recalls Allen

Chylak resolved the issue by recalling Allen to the mound. Allen completed the walk to Gentile, forcing in the Orioles' fifth run of the game, and then Abernathy returned to retire Russ Snyder for the final out.

MacPhail and Hitchcock said they were protesting because (1) Rule 3-05-B says a relief pitcher must complete pitching to the first batter he faces and (2) Rule 8-03 stipulates that a relief pitcher can take only eight warm-up pitches whereas Abernathy had a total of 16.

Hitchcock spent a half-hour studying the rule book after the game and added another comment:

"If the protest were allowed, I don't know where we'd resume play but we'd have everything to gain and nothing to lose if it goes through."

"It was just an oversight," said Chylak, "just an oversight."

It's American League president Joe Cronin's baby now.

Missouri Seeks Second NCAA Win After Texas

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Missouri sends another unbeaten pitcher to the mound tonight in hopes of another heroic performance and the best record in the NCAA national baseball tournament.

Jack Stroud, victorious in all four decisions this year, will represent the Tigers in their quarter-final game tonight with Arizona, the only other team to survive the first two rounds of the double-elimination tourney without loss.

Stroud will face another unbeaten hurler, Doug Holliker, who has a 4-0 record for the Wildcats.

The Tiger-Wildcat collision climaxes today's three-game program which opens this afternoon with a win-or-go-home game between Penn State and Texas. Tonight's first game will pit Southern California against Florida State in another fight for survival.

Rich Peterson was Missouri's pitching star Tuesday night. He won a duel with Texas' Charley

Softball League

MIAMI (SpI) — The Miami Cowboys came up with three runs in the fifth inning to put the game out of reach and take an Industrial Softball League win over Panhandle Packing last night.

The Packers chopped away at an early Cowpoke lead and cut it to 6-4, but Miami, with Packer errors opening the way, tallied three times in the top of the fifth to widen the margin for good.

Larry Rider took his third win in the Pokes, giving up four hits and striking out five. George Gantt went the distance in defeat, failing to register a K.

Scotty Daugherty led the winners with three hits and Lawrence Overcast had two.

Hubble Improved, Continues Fight

AMARILLO (UPI) — Boxer Luther Ray Hubble 24, moved his arms and legs Tuesday, indicating improvement in his grim fight for life.

But Hubble—his wife and mother at his bedside around the clock—remained in a coma and on the critical list at Amarillo's Northwest Texas Hospital.

He has been unconscious since collapsing in his dressing room Friday after being knocked out in the third round of a four round light heavyweight bout against Willie Franklin, 27.

His injury is similar to the one that caused the death of featherweight champion Davey Moore in Los Angeles on March 25 after a fight with Sugar Ramos.

Carlos Ortiz Loses Lightweight Crown

ENGLEWOOD, N.J. (UPI) — "Titles are won and lost in the ring, not by publicity-seeking lawyers."

That was manager Bill Daly's reaction to an order by the World Boxing Association (WBA) which stripped his fighter, Carlos Ortiz, of the world lightweight championship Tuesday.

Anthony Felice, an attorney for the WBA, announced the action in Spokane, Wash., on behalf of the association president, Dr. Charles P. Larson.

Felice said the WBA had decided to withdraw its recognition of Ortiz as champion because the New Yorker had failed to meet Kenny Lane, the No. 1 challenger from Muskegon, Mich., by June 3.

"I don't think they know what they are doing," said Daly, who revealed that only last week he was told he and Ortiz would be given a hearing at the WBA convention at Miami Beach, Fla., in August.

"Now they turn around and take the title away from Carlos," he added. "We'll fight 'em all the way on this one."

Daly said that Ortiz hasn't agreed to defend against Lane because "they've been offering us peanuts."

"A promoter in Muskegon offered us $30,000 for the fight," he said. "That's not even half enough. Carlos got $63,000 for his last title defense (against Doug Vaillant) in San Juan."

Anthony Petronella, former WBA president and currently chairman of the association's rating committee, also expressed surprise at the WBA action.

"I think they should have given Ortiz a hearing first," he said in Providence, R.I. "He may have some solid arguments why he has not fought Lane."

Petronella revealed he wired Larson as soon as he learned of

THE WIZARDS OF SPACE (3)

By Don Oakley and John Lant

In 1954 National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics began studies on an advanced rocket plane, the X-15. By 1955 the Navy was working on the Vanguard rocket, which was to launch a tiny satellite sometime in 1958.

The approach to space was leisurely. Many experts considered it as something for the next century. Then, on Oct. 4, 1957, the Soviets' Sputnik I soared into the skies like a danger signal, jarring the U.S. once again out of complacency.

As with aviation in 1915, so with space research in 1957: America found itself left behind. NACA had been the answer in the field of aeronautics. Now a new organization was needed to answer the challenge in astronautics. On July 2, 1958, National Aeronautics and Space Administration came into being.

Personnel and facilities of NACA were absorbed—Hugh L. Dryden, former NACA head, was made deputy administrator of the new agency. T. Keith Glennan became the nation's first space boss (succeeded by James E. Webb in 1961).

The Act of Congress establishing NASA stated: "It is the policy of the United States that activities in space should be devoted to peaceful purposes for the benefit of mankind."

Among the major objectives set forth:

- "The expansion of human knowledge of phenomena in the atmosphere and space."
- "The development and operation of vehicles capable of carrying instruments, equipment, supplies and living organisms through space."
- "Long-range studies of potential benefits to be gained from . . . aeronautical and space activities."

"Preservation of the role of the United States as a leader in aeronautical and space-science and technology."

"Co-operation by the United States with other nations and groups of nations."

NASA went into operation in October 1958, nine months after America's first satellite, Explorer I, was launched, 32 years after rocket pioneer Dr. Robert H. Goddard had launched the world's first liquid-fueled rocket and 39 years after he had proposed a rocket to the moon.

One of NASA's new research centers was to be named after Goddard. A prophet was finally with honor in his own land as a whole nation embarked on what some believe to be the greatest adventure in history.

12 Die in Scout Outing Tragedy

ESCALANTE, Utah (UPI)—The harsh, rocky mountainside was covered by brown camping equipment and bright yellow rubber boats. And by the bodies of 12 persons as tragedy ended a Boy Scout outing into rugged southeastern Utah.

The bodies were of nine Scouts, two university professors and a woman reporter who, along with 34 others who were injured, were tossed in all directions when their truck plunged down a precipitous mountainside.

The day that had started so joyfully for the Scouts—just out of school for their summer vacation—thus ended mournfully on a lonely, primitive road in the "no man's land" 35 miles southeast of here.

When Garfield County deputies arrived at the scene four hours after the accident, they found the dead and injured pinned beneath the open-bed truck and buried under their camping equipment and rubber boats.

Young David Hall of Provo, one of the injured, described the accident: "The truck wouldn't shift and started rolling backward, and everyone started screaming. Everyone got tossed around, but I was lucky."

Garfield County Sheriff George Middleton said as the truck headed up a rough road carved out of the mountainside, the driver, tried to shift gears and the vehicle began rolling backward. Then the brakes failed and the truck spilled over the end of the road, tossing the passengers in its open-bed down a steep precipice.

On July 18, 1938, Douglas Corrigan landed in Dublin on his "wrong way" flight.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — As of this week, television series involving the Democratic party's three most recent presidents of the United States are in the works.

Barring a late scratch because of sponsor trouble or other reasons, ABC-TV this fall will present a weekly half-hour program entitled "F.D.R." about Franklin D. Roosevelt, which will continue into the election year of 1964.

Screen Gems, a production firm, is meanwhile starting preparations on a series about Harry Truman.

And NBC-TV's announcement earlier this week that President Kennedy's book, "Profiles in Courage," would be the basis of a series of one-hour dramatizations is the most recent of the projects.

NBC says the Kennedy biographies of courageous Americans, which will be supplemented by some added episodes to fill out a 26-show schedule, will not air until after the 1964 presidential election. And, of course, those whom Kennedy wrote about in his book included Republicans.

Yet it is not impossible that the accumulation of the above three series may have some members of the Grand Old Party wondering, "Is there a Republican in the house?"

It is well-known that this month will see the release of the movie "PT109," which deals with the President's service in World War II.

And the apparent emergence of federal departments as a source of heroic images for mass entertainment television series—other than in G-Men type roles—has previously been noted by this viewer. Samples:

—In the fall, NBC-TV's Robert Taylor stars in a series as a member of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

—Franklin Schaffner, a television advisor to the President, is reading a series involving the State Department for CBS-TV for 1964-65.

—A top actor was approached about a possible series concerning the U.S. attorney general's office.

Furthermore, a movie based on Robert Kennedy's book "The Enemy Within" would have been made but for differences with a studio boss.

Since the airwaves are controlled by the Federal Communications Commission, it is fascinating to consider the various possible byplays involving the connection of a working president with a specific network.

Also fascinating is the recent federal order banning networks from forcing their affiliated stations to run specific shows during best viewing hours. Would a station be so indiscreet as to refuse "Profiles in Courage" when it knows its license is granted by the federal government?

During the War of 1812, Stephen Girard, Philadelphia banker, assumed an entire Government loan of $5,000,000.
