U.S. Considering Military Moves for Peace in Laos

Panhandle Gets Weak Front; Storms Rage over Midwest

By United Press International
Texas apparently will get only the remnants of the spring cold front which dumped heavy snows on the Rocky Mountain states and plummeted temperatures below zero in Nevada.
The U.S. Bureau said the weak front was approaching the Texas Panhandle this morning and was expected to cover the northern half of the state by Tuesday morning.
The temperature drops, however, will be only moderate and the shower activity connected with the frontal passage is expected to be scattered and light.

More Americans Make Freedom Flight to U.S.

By MATTHEW T. KENNY
United Press International
HOMESTEAD, A.I.R.—FORT BASE, Fla. (UPI)—Twenty-one Americans held prisoner in Fidel Castro's Cuban dungeons, some for as long as three years, flew to freedom today with New York attorney James B. Donovan, who arranged their release.

'Precautionary' Measures Talked

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States today was reported considering precautionary military moves to back up its diplomatic efforts to restore peace in Laos.
President Kennedy called his top advisers to a National Security Council meeting, the second in three days, to review the critical Laotian situation.
The meeting was scheduled for 11 a.m., EST.

Key Club Takes Honors In District Competition

The Pampa High School Key Club captured more awards in district competition than any of the 151 clubs in the Texas-Oklahoma district, it was announced yesterday at the closing of the 14th annual district convention in San Antonio.
Awards were presented at the governor's farewell brunch in the Hotel Gunter Sunday morning. The Pampa boys' service organization won the "Melvin I. Munn Award" for the greatest total of humanitarian services, runner-up in over all Achievement, runner-up in Single Service, and received the Paul J. Fikes Memorial certificate for outstanding performance.
The "Munn Award," established by the District Board of Trustees, has honored Key Clubs since 1957. At the closing session of the San Antonio Convention, Munn, present Kiwanis Advisor to the Pampa Key Club, requested that the Award be permanently given to Pampa High School, and withdrawn from future District competition. Formal action on his request will be taken by the current Governor's Men.

Cancer Door to Door Crusade Starts Tonight

The American Cancer Society will be conducting its house to house crusade today from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m., according to Mrs. A. D. Hills, chairman of the Gray County Cancer Society house to house crusade committee.
The co-chairmen serving with Mrs. Hills include Mrs. Eddie Zuniga, Mrs. Doty Warner, Mrs. C. V. Wilkenson and Mrs. R. A. Mack.
The city has been divided into several sections and each section will be canvassed.
More than 400 volunteer workers will assist in the crusade, according to Mrs. Hills. These workers will be stressing the theme "To cure more, give more."

2 Area Men Die In Auto Mishaps

By United Press International
Two persons, both from Texas, died Sunday from injuries received in traffic accidents in New Mexico.
An Amarillo man died Sunday to become the third victim of a two-car collision near Tucuman, and a Panhandle man died in a one-car accident near Albuquerque.
Att. Hayton, 37, of Panhandle died in a one-car accident seven miles west of Albuquerque on U.S. 66.
State police said the car, driven by his wife Wanda, was pulling a trailer through a severe dust storm when it went out of control and overturned, throwing Hayton out.
The car rolled over Hayton. He (See AREA MEN, Page 3)

Labor, Technology Studied by ANPA At 77th Meet

More than 1,400 executives from the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, Bermuda, and Jamaica were expected to attend the four-day 77th annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA), held here today.
The organization membership stands at a record high of 867 daily newspapers — representing more than 90 per cent of total daily North American circulation — in an industry which this year has been beset with labor trouble in a time of marked gains in automated production.
Following two years of reduced strike activity, newspaper unions in 1962 called 27 strikes against 26 daily newspapers in 17 cities. Minneapolis was hit by a 117-day strike. Cleveland papers were closed by a 126-day strike. New York was blacked out by a 114-day strike-shutdown.

Firemen Still Watch Well Near Perryton

GRAY, Okla. (UPI)—Firefighters kept a close watch today on a burned out gas well that blazed for 24 hours and killed one worker before it was smothered by foam Sunday.
Donald C. Patchin, 31, an oil field worker from Perryton, Texas, was caught in the cab of a water truck by mushrooming flames when the well blew out Saturday. G. R. Harvey, 30, and Marion J. Ogden, 19, both of Perryton, were burned in the fire. They were reported in good condition.
The well, 14 miles north of Perryton near the Texas-Oklahoma border, is owned by the Shamrock Oil Co. It has a daily flow of 20 million cubic feet of gas.
Fighters were hampered by the red hot steel of the fallen derrick, which kept reigniting the fire as soon as it was put out.
A spokesman for the Shamrock estimated damage at more than $250,000.

Court Rules State Laws Apply to Air

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court ruled today that state laws barring racial discrimination in hiring can be applied to airlines even though the federal government has jurisdiction over air transportation.
The 9 to 0 decision came in a Colorado case involving the hiring of a Negro pilot, Marlon D. Green, by Continental Air Lines.
Sixteen other states have laws like Colorado's, and would probably be affected by the ruling. They came into the case as friends of the court.

Government Aids Green

The federal government also participated on the side of Green and the Colorado Anti-Discrimination Commission. The Justice Department said there was no objection to state laws which affect interstate commerce provided they don't put a burden on or interfere with uniformity.
The department said the case in its broadest aspect deals with the power of the states to prohibit racial discrimination in thousands of jobs by all carriers in interstate commerce — railroads, trucks, buses and ships.
Today's opinion, by Justice Hugo L. Black, did not touch on this overall aspect of the case, however.

Reds Offer Cease Fire Arrangement

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The government announced today that Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, has proposed a cease-fire arrangement that would erase important Pathet Lao victories on the strategic Plain of Jars.
A government communique said Souphanouvong called for adherence to a cease-fire agreement of April 14 and withdrawal of troops to positions held before the agreement.
Premier Souvanna Phouma, the neutralist half-brother of Souphanouvong, obtained the cease-fire agreement eight days ago from Gen. Kong Le, commander of the neutralist forces on the Plain of Jars, and Gen. Singapou, Pathet Lao military commander.

Jordan Will Fight To Protect King

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—Newly appointed Premier Sharif Hussein Ibn Nasser warned today that Jordanian troops "will strike mercilessly" against any attempts to overthrow pro-Western King Hussein.
Hussein named Ibn Nasser to head a "transitional" government Sunday after dissolving Parliament and calling for new elections in an attempt to stem demonstrations for Arab unity under the banner of the United Arab Republic.
The 27-year-old monarch's loyal Beroun soldiers broke up an anti-government demonstration here Sunday by firing over the heads of students who were demanding an end to the Hussein regime and union with the expanded United Arab Republic (U.A.R.) of Egypt, Syria and Iraq.
The army sealed off the capital, keeping out all traffic with roadblocks manned by desert troops on the main highway. Army units patrolled the streets but there was no curfew and the city appeared calm today.
(In the Jordanian sector of Jerusalem, where troops reportedly fired on demonstrators Saturday killing at least four, a strict curfew was in effect.)
Hussein dissolved Parliament Sunday after it toppled the government of Premier Samir Rifai on a no confidence vote, 32-28. The King charged Parliament was jeopardizing the nation's security and appointed his uncle to head a "transitional" government until new elections are held within four months.
The new premier said Hussein's Western-trained army was in full control of the situation.

Space Capsule Ready for Cooper

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Technicians today installed a bell-shaped space capsule atop an Atlas rocket in preparation for the planned orbital flight of astronaut Gordon Cooper Jr. next month.
It was still undetermined exactly when Cooper would ride into space in the capsule he named Faith-7 on what would be the longest orbital voyage ever taken by an American—22 orbits.
Informed sources said today that "Around May 14" was still the best possibility.
The launching had been set for May 7. But Project Mercury officials called a postponement last week when potential troubles were discovered in a set of nine gyroscopes inside the rocket. The gyros were pulled out for an intensive check.
The "mating" of the capsule to the top of the 80-foot Atlas was one of the most critical steps. The basic part of the connecting should be completed late today. After that, it will be a matter of making detailed connections and checking the entire assembly.

Fish Turns Tables

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A 60-pound, spear-nosed amberjack turned the tables on New Orleans skin diver Wallace A. Fitzmorris Sunday when Fitzmorris speared the fish underwater in the Gulf of Mexico.
The amberjack turned around and speared Fitzmorris.
A Coast Guard helicopter flew the skin diver to a hospital where he was treated for chest cuts and released.

Pampa School Board to Go to Canyon Meeting

All Pampa school board members are expected to attend the Panhandle Association of School Boards meeting at Canyon Thursday, according to Jack Edmondson, school superintendent.
The meeting will open at 3 p.m., with the first work sessions slated from 3:30 to 4:15 p.m. The second session will be from 4:30 to 8:15 p.m., with a dinner session from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. closing out the meeting.
Expected to attend from Pampa are Supt. Edmondson and board members Dr. R. M. Hampton, R. D. Wilkerson, John Gikas, Floyd Watson and H. Creel Grady.

Matter for Congress: How Many Cherries?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The picture on the frozen cherry pie package showed one wedge of a luscious pie with 34 mouth-watering cherries visible.
But Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said today that when he investigated he found the eight-inch pie contained only 40 cherries in all.
"They were only one cherry deep and even then the cherries weren't packed tightly side-by-side but were swimming in a thin paste apparently composed of corn starch," he reported.
Hart, sponsor of the "truth in packaging" bill now before Congress and whose home state produces 60 per cent of the nation's cherry crop, was indignant.
"I am going to ask the Food and Drug Administration to set some standard on how many cherries a pie should contain," he said.
Hart said a 10-inch pie from the Senate cafeteria contained 183 cherries. He figured that on this basis, an eight-inch pie baked in the Senate kitchen

Oilman Speaks on Education at A&M

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—L. F. (Pete) Peterson, a Fort Worth oilman, said Sunday that Texas must be willing to increase tuition and taxes if it wants to keep its important role in education.
Speaking at Texas A&M College's annual Aggie Muster, Peterson said A&M is well ahead of many state schools and is on its way toward excellence.
Peterson is president of the A&M former students association and a new member of the A&M board of directors.
"The educational system of Texas now stands at a crossroad," Peterson said. "We have a good system now but being good is not enough if we are to fill our role in destiny."

Legislators Return to Face Kennedy's Big Proposals

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress returned today from its Easter recess still confronted with the major portions of President Kennedy's legislative proposals.
The major administration request for a tax cut and reform of the revenue laws will be taken up again today behind the closed doors of the House Ways & Means Committee. A bill is expected to be reported by the committee in June and then the Senate Finance Committee will start its hearings. The Senate resumes debate on a measure to provide federal grants to build water resources research center.
The House Tuesday was scheduled to act on the administration's request for long range construction aid for medical and dental schools and funds for loans to their students. The House Education and Labor Committee has approved a $237-million, three-year bill.
Wednesday, the House was expected to begin its consideration of the administration's requested extension of authority to pay farmers to hold down surplus corn and other feed grain production.
Other congressional news:
Thresher: The Joint Atomic Energy Committee has scheduled a closed door hearing into the sinking of the nuclear attack submarine Thresher with 129 men aboard. A naval board of inquiry is still considering the tragedy which was the worst peace time naval disaster in U.S. history.
Steel Prices: Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said he hoped a scheduled congressional investigation of the steel price increases would not be conducted in a "punitive way." The Republican filibuster said there was a danger that

Yellow Roses Presented 1963 Woman of Year

The traditional bouquet of yellow roses, Certificate of Merit, and a silver medallion inscribed with "Thelma Bray, Woman of the Year - 1963" was presented to the recipient for the honor at a Yellow Rose Tea held yesterday afternoon in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn by Mrs. Ruby Capps, Woman of the year for 1962.

Piano selections by Mrs. Hubert Carson, organist for the First Methodist Church, welcomed tea guests, who were served from a table appointed with a floor-length pink cloth centered with an arrangement of pink Tea Roses contained in a crystal pedestaled bowl.

The Yellow Rose Tea, honoring Mrs. Bray, was the 18th given by the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, which annually honors a woman selected for her outstanding contributions to home, community and church.

Preceding the welcome to guests by Mrs. Dot Francis of Xi Beta Chi Chapter, Hubert Carson, minister of music for the First Methodist Church, accompanied by his wife, sang "O, What A Beautiful Morning" and "I Love Life," two of the honoree's favorite songs.

Rodney Williams, associate minister of the First Methodist Church, in giving the main address of the afternoon, outlined the contributions which lead to Mrs. Bray's being named Woman of the Year for 1963.

In accepting the honor, Mrs. Bray expressed appreciation to the sorority for the recognition and to others who had contributed to it.

As a concluding portion of the program, Mr. and Mrs. Carson sang "They Didn't Believe Me" dedicated to the Woman of the Year.

Special guests were previous Woman of the Year, Mmes. Frank W. Showell, W. R. Campbell, Arthur

Teed, Dona Cornutt, Carl J. Wright of Fort Collins, Colo., Ruby Capps, A. D. Hills, Huey Laycock of Canyon, James Massa, Roy McKernan, R. H. Nestel, Jack P. Foster, H. H. Hicks, Rufe Jordan. Unable to attend were Mmes. Dick Hughes, Raymond Harrah and Inez Carter.

Receiving guests were Mrs. Eray; her twin-sons and daughter, Roddy, Ronny and Delby; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Osborn, Mrs. Capps and Mrs. Francis.

Among the honoree's relatives attending were her twin-sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lard, twin daughters, Sharon and Karen and son, Gene, all of Amarillo; Mrs. Kenneth Osborn of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. J. Tadlock of Clovis; Mrs. Bobby Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wilds of Mobeetie; Mrs. Clyde Bray of Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Horace McAdams, twin sons, Ken and Ben.

Approximately 400 guests attended the Yellow Rose Tea.

Dear Abby.... Learned Answer From Learned Friend

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have a neighbor who goes through our garbage to seek out whiskey and wine bottles. Then she spreads it all over the neighborhood while spouting religion. One day I got angry enough to tell her that Christ drank wine, too. She replied, "Christ drank only grape juice!" Knowing that you have access to the thinking of learned people, could you please tell me where in the Bible it says Christ drank grape juice instead of wine? Thanking you,

MRS. E. DEAR MRS. E.: I can best answer your letter by quoting a learned friend:

"Dear Miss Van Buren: I am not sure that I qualify as one of the learned people to whom you have access, but I am happy to give you such information as may be helpful. Your correspondent's neighbor has John the Baptist confused with Christ. Nowhere in the New Testament does it say that 'Christ drank only grape juice.' There have been many attempts to prove that Christ was a total abstainer. Such attempts involve an ignoring of Jewish social custom and the obvious meaning of the Greek and Hebrew words involved. No reputable scholar would take these suggestions seriously. References include St. Matthew 11:18, 19; John 2:3 ff; Luke 5:39 and Luke 7:34, which indicate that there were overly pious people who criticized even Christ himself.

Sincerely yours,
The Rt. Rev. Allen W. Brown, D.D.
Bishop, Diocese of Albany, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: Please convey this message to the woman who wrote to you and signed herself "Cheated" because her husband never gave her a wedding ring. I still have the wedding ring my husband put on my finger 31 years ago. You can have it if you want it. Two years ago my husband left me for another woman. I finally gave him a divorce. So you see, a wedding ring doesn't mean a thing.

Homes For Aged To Be Discussed At County Meeting

John Hessey will discuss the laws and regulations governing homes for the aged in the County Court House Annex meeting room Wednesday afternoon at 1:30, according to Lou Ella Patterson, County Home Demonstration Agent. This meeting is open to the public and it is hoped that everyone who is interested will come. Mr. Hessey is area supervisor for the Texas State Welfare Department and is well qualified to bring this program. He will be able to answer questions that may be asked on this and related subjects.

All the home demonstration clubs will attend this meeting. It will be their regular second meeting in April.

Mrs. Jackson Named Auxiliary President

New officers for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Auxiliary were elected at a meeting held Thursday evening in the City Club Room.

Named to serve in the 1963-64 club year are Mmes. E. B. Jackson, president; Ray Ainsworth, vice president; Kenneth Mumford, secretary; O. E. Payne, treasurer; Fred Martin, reporter; Charles Holloway, hospitality chairman.

A report was given on clothing purchased for a student. Members approved keeping this as a project for the coming year.

Mrs. Bob French won the door prize.

Mrs. Kenneth Mumford and Mrs. Fred Martin were hostesses during the social hour.

A "42" Party for members and husbands, a Secret Pal Exchange is planned for the May 17 meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ainsworth.

Orange juice can be made into a different drink by just adding a little tangy grapefruit or pineapple juice.

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. O. A. WAGNER
Senior Citizens Center

We missed Uncle Billy Frost and Mrs. Ollie Station at the Center. Understood they were not feeling up to par for the Thursday afternoon party in Lovett Memorial Library.

Mrs. P. H. Roberts of Borger and Mrs. Frank C. Campbell of Bartlesville were visitors Thursday. Mr. Campbell is visiting his friend, the Rev. Donald Houch, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and plans to go on to California and Arizona, where he will visit relatives.

Mr. Campbell told us he was one of the organizers of Senior center at Bartlesville three years ago and gave us a schedule of their activities, which was interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hukill visited some of our members last Sunday in St. Anne's Rest Home in Anahandle, including Mrs. Francis Debrouha, Mrs. Lee Harris and Charles Mullins. They are all anxious to get back to Pampa.

It was announced at Senior Center Thursday that John Hessey, area supervisor for the Texas Welfare Department, will speak on laws and regulations for state homes for the aged on April 24 at 1:30 p.m. in the Courthouse Annex. Everyone is invited to attend.

Guests in the Jay Evans' home over Easter were, Mr. Evans, grandson, Earl Evans and family of Abilene.

Guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hatcher are their daughters, Mrs. Pat Hantsche and two small children of Abilene. They visited at the center for a part of the afternoon. Mr. Hatcher will spend the weekend in the Hatcher home and they will return home with him.

Mrs. W. J. Ball of Alanreed spent Sunday with her cousin, Mrs. Mollie Heathcock and attended services in the First Christian Church on Easter Sunday morning.

We enjoyed the exhibit of paintings of Mrs. Alva Satterwhite's pupils in the library this week. Understand her pupils range in age from eight to eighty. Very nice showing too; saw many blue, red and white ribbons, but did not learn who the judges were.

We extend our christian sympathy to Mrs. Bob Dilly, whose brother Thurman Hill was buried in the Arlington Cemetery Thursday. Mr. Hill was an attorney in Washington, D.C.

Was nice to have Mrs. Jessie VanHuss back with us after her illness. She is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. B. S. Wooten, 401 N. Christy.

Mrs. D. H. Porter and daughter, Ruth, of Shamrock were guests of her mother, Mrs. C. G. Miller and brother Bill, last Monday.

The Varietas Study Club was hostess this week under the direction of Mrs. Otis Nace, project chairman assisted by Mmes. Lee Harrah president, Joe Z. Weaver, and Sherman White. Sandwiches, cookies ice cream and coffee were served.

The serving table was graced with a lovely and unique centerpiece with roses and lilies - of the valley and butterflies made of pieces of colored glass for the wings.

Door prizes went to Mrs. C. P. Roop and Marshal Appleton. Altrusa ladies helping out were Mmes. Mable Hukill, Louise Sewell, Lena Pearl Hobbs and Jay Flanagan, chairman.

Red Cross Gray Ladies providing transportation were Mmes. Jess Hatcher, O. F. Kreimeyer, Stanley Brandt and A. D. Hills.

We're busy trying to coax the lawn to grow and getting rid of dandelions. Be seeing you, Mrs. Wagner.

SPEED MERCHANTS!

...The little lady will pass them all with her bedroom telephone... every time!

Across town or across the continent, there's no faster way to get from one place to another than by telephone. Just spin the dial and seconds later you're talking.

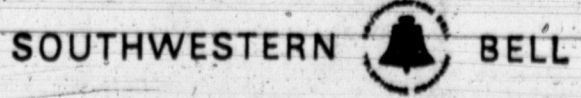

This almost "instant" communication is made possible by a continuous flow of service improvements.

Modern equipment automatically guides your call to its destination. If one voice pathway is busy, electronic equipment routes your call another way — in fractions of a second.

These and many other improvements add up to greater speed, convenience and reliability. Our never-ending goal is to improve your telephone service and make it more valuable to you.

Tower Discusses Foreign Aid

Senator John Tower (R-Texas) now of $16,657,000,000. So we have discussed "Some Approaches to Foreign Aid" Sunday afternoon over WISN-TV, CBS, of Milwaukee.

In approaching foreign aid I believe that there are some important factors that must be considered. First, let's understand what the basic purpose and motivation of our foreign aid program is. Now we do have a broad and expansive good feeling toward other peoples in this world. We Americans are friendly by nature. Because we are for the most part a Christian nation, we recognize that we have certain responsibilities for the care of peoples who are less fortunate than ourselves. But the real purpose behind our foreign aid programs, or what at least the original motivation behind these was, is to make sure that we show up the Free World against Communism. That is to say that we improve the strength of the Free World military forces. The Free World technical know-how, that we improve the economies of Free World nations to the extent that they can resist Communist encroachments, to the extent that they will be strong enough to wage a battle against Soviet Imperialism in the Cold War.

Now we must ask ourselves two questions. First, are we accomplishing this purpose? Are we, in reality, strengthening the Free World against Communism? And secondly, what effect is foreign aid having on our own domestic economy?

Well, let's look at the last question first. Now I believe that foreign aid has recently — or at least the extent of the outlay of money that we have poured into the foreign aid program — has had deleterious effect on the American economy. It has created, I think, a rather dangerous drain on our gold reserves. For example, in 1952 we had gold reserves, or gold holdings, in the amount of $23,250,000,000. The outflow to foreign countries over a ten year period through 1962 was $7,135,000,000 which leaves us gold holdings

The accident occurred Friday at noon about four miles north of Pampa.

Area Men

Mrs. Hayton suffered multiple injuries, and was hospitalized in Albuquerque with her 2-year-old son Douglas, who received cuts and bruises.

James B. Bock, 47, of Amarillo, Tex. died at a Tucumcari hospital several hours after a two-car collision that killed two others and critically injured a third.

Sarah Bock, 38, of Amarillo, who was a passenger in his car, was reported in critical condition.

State police said Bock's car skidded into the eastbound lane of U.S. 66 two miles west of Tucumcari and collided with a car driven by Carl Millard Calhoun, 46, of Newark, Calif., who was killed instantly, along with a passenger, John D. Calhoun, 31, of Ilimo, Mo.

Killed early Saturday morning was Bowman Frickling, 22-year-old Holloman Air Force Base airman. Frickling died when he was thrown from an overturning car near Alamogordo.

DOUBLE TROUBLE—Although it looks as though these two donkeys are but one, Mrs. Doreen Newman, of London, England, can vouch for the fact that the four-day-old foals are a pair.

Weather

a record-breaking heat wave surged across the southern plains. Thunderstorms, hail and a tornado crashed through the Midwest.

Traces of snow fell at Los Angeles and the fire-ravaged East continued without rain to complete the spring weather picture. Highways were hazardous across much of Wyoming and Colorado after a deep storm dumped 18 inches of snow at Lander, Wyo., and up to three inches along the northern Rocky chain.

Snow fell in northern Colorado today while Lamar, in the southern part of the state, marked a high of 87 degrees Sunday.

Dust storms swept the parched southern Colorado flatlands.

Tornado in Indiana
A tornado spun through Jamestown, Ind., during the night causing minor property damage. No one was injured.

High winds hammered hail an inch and a half in diameter across southern Illinois and eastern Missouri. Gusting thunderstorms damaged a coal mine garage and several other buildings at Pawnee, Ill.

Oklahoma City set an all-time record for the date Sunday when the mercury reached 90 degrees. Springfield, Mo., had its hottest early spring day in history—93. The mercury climbed to 100 degrees at Presidio, Tex.

Nevada Gets Snow
Ely, Nev., had four inches of snow and Austin, Nev., three inches. Snow fell at the Los Angeles county airport at Palmdale, Calif., but melted as it touched the ground.

Two Utah ski resorts reported 13 inches of snow on the ground and the opening game of the Pacific Coast League baseball season at Salt Lake City was postponed for the third successive day.

Warm, moist air covered the South today in direct contrast to the cool and dry air blanketing the north. The Weather Bureau warned this combination could produce extremely severe weather.

White Deer Man At Fort Worth Credit Meeting

WHITE DEER (Sp) — H. H. Keahey of White Deer attended the seventh annual meeting of stockholders and patrons of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston held at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth last week.

More than 500 of the state's leading farmers, ranchers and dairy men and guests attended the three-day meeting of the agricultural financing institution. The credit bank serves as discount and supervisory agency for 37 Production Credit Associations and 14 other agricultural credit organizations serving Texas.

Keahey is president of the Canadian Production Credit Association, which provides short and intermediate term agricultural credit in the organization's area.

terial, he said. "It is obvious you boys do not know the latest system in running a big organization. I get the impression in Washington that there is some sort of rule against leaving any money in the bank! You not only have a balanced budget, but you also have a surplus. It seems to me you boys should be in Washington, and those of us who are there should come home, and let you run things."

A standing ovation came spontaneously as the senator concluded his address.

Others appearing on the program were J. Frank McCabe, director of youth activities, Kiwanis International, Chicago; Walter P. Moore, Houston, governor of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis District, and Bob Tanner, Gainesville High School Key Club, current Key Club Governor.

The Pampa Key Club entered oratorical, talent, essay writing and scrap book competition, but did not place. A technical rule in the Scrap Book division disqualified two-thirds of the entries in that competition, including Pampa.

Unofficial information indicated that the Pampa entry, compiled by Wayne Lemons, would have been a sure winner, had the club known of the rule in advance. A study of the rule and the method used to inform clubs of its existence was ordered by the district, in view of the large number of clubs disqualified.

The Pampa Key Club is sponsored by the Pampa High School and the two local Kiwanis Clubs.

Nursing Home Sets Luncheon For Tomorrow

Going into the final two weeks of the Nursing Home Campaign, volunteer workers will gather tomorrow for orientation at a kick-off luncheon to be held jointly with the Jaycees at the First Methodist Church.

Nearly 150 volunteer workers have been formed into 25 teams during the past three weeks. The teams are divided into three sections—a women's section, Jaycee section and executive committee section.

Following the luncheon, workers will begin calling on prospective contributors to help build and furnish a 50-bed Nursing Home. The facility will be constructed on a 10-acre site that has been donated by Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Castleberry. It is located just two blocks north of the Coronado Inn and three blocks west of Highland General Hospital.

The minimum campaign goal has been set at $200,000.

"We are hoping every family will recognize the vital need for taking care of our elder friends and family members," said the Rev. H. H. Bratcher, First Methodist Church minister, "because the need is increasing steadily, and we cannot escape the obligation it is presenting to us."

A. J. Carubbi Jr. and Mrs. Jack Osborne, men's and women's section managers, have issued an invitation to all volunteer citizens who would be willing to call on a few prospects, to attend the luncheon at noon, Tuesday.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

United Press International HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The NBC-TV cameras Sunday night unfolded a fairly amazing real-life account of the relationship between a parole officer and an ex-convict who tried to go straight but eventually couldn't.

The "Show of the Week" presentation, entitled "Prisoner at Large," concerned the almost fatherly interest of the Massachusetts parole officer, Joseph McCormack, in the likeable, burly but pleasant-looking ex-convict, who used the pseudonym of John Hackett.

Particularly in the highly emotional scene where there is a confrontation of the two men after another crime is committed, one is in a sense disturbed by the willingness of persons thus involved to allow the intrusion of cameras in such a private matter.

Seeks Hackett's Trust
But it strikes this viewer that with the enormous amount of misgiving and dangerous television fiction giving many unsophisticated persons a semi-real and unrealistic outlook on daily existence such stark realism is worth the price, and more than a service.

The story, filmed as it happened was built around the officer's attempt to gain Hackett's trust, and the parolee's reserve toward authority. Hackett had been sentenced to 10 years for armed robbery but gained parole in the spring of 1962.

For eight months, he did all right. He was shown on the street with friends; talking to his girl; cutting Christmas trees to earn extra money; chatting jocularly at work with McCormack.

Problems suddenly lumped together. He was fed up with earning only $46 a week because of his ex-convict status. He had lost his driver's license. He had a fight with his girl. This past Jan. 12, he broke into a home and ransacked it; and though he remorsefully returned everything being arrested, he was in deep.

Pleads for Leniency
The emotional confrontation took place in jail. "I don't know why... really, I don't know why," he told his parole officer. And as he broke down in shame and tears, the cameras decently withdrew to a distance, shooting purposely discreetly from behind a partition.

Though no longer his official responsibility because of the arrest, the officer stuck by Hackett, visiting him in jail and pleaded to the state parole board for leniency. At a jail meeting, Hackett was skeptical of the whole thing, and bitter. But in a final note, the narration revealed McCormack has been appointed to the parole board that will decide Hackett's fate. From this corner, it seems an excellent appointment. As a central figure and part-narrator, he was wonderfully humane and unaffected, and the main reason the hour was engrossing. If he erred, it was on the side of the angels.

The Statue of Liberty was designed and made by M. Bartholdi, a French architect and sculptor.

Ornaments And Color Feature New Straws

By WALTER LOGAN
NEW YORK (UPI)—There still is some confusion in the country as to which is the real Straw Hat Day, May 15 or Decoration Day, but whichever a man chooses he'll find lighter weights, lighter colors, metal ornaments and brighter bands.

The most popular style in early sales appears to be the pinch front with center dent though the center crease is very much in the picture. Ivy League devotees still insist on the telescope shape with classic silk foulard or Madras pique.

Stetson introduces a "seersucker look" which is achieved with a wide, bold seersucker type band on a dark - toned Ivy League straw, giving an effect of "cool, crisp summertime. The Ivy League is in a bound edge model with narrow snap brim featuring a deep curl in the back.

Hat Corporation of America (Dobbs - Cavanagh - Knox) emphasizes clear-bright champagne tones in a departure from the traditional dark grays, blues and browns.

Adam also emphasizes lighter colors with the dark charcoal tones replaced by medium tones of brown, grey and blue. Shown with them are offwhites and sand tones and for the more daring, Bermuda and Horizon blue straws.

Byer - Rolnick (Resistol) pioneers an extremely lightweight straw, a Florentine braid something like an Italian Milan but lighter and finer. More casual is a silver palm braid in such colors as black, jet brown, putty-colored adobe, dark gray dusk and black jade, a green so dark it takes a second glance to make sure it isn't black.

Disney, with a wide array of coconuts, Milans and Panamas, has fun with casual hats showing among other things a center crease cloth hat in bright plaid, and a series of straws decorated with everything from golf balls to playing cards and badminton sets.

Lee shows a center crease Milan braid with a ventilated Macora band that lets the breezes through. Mallory reflects an Egyptian influence — textured straw braiding with a wide band covered with Egyptian figures.

In addition to "fun hats" decorated with such assorted ornaments as brushes, straw animals, rakes and hoes, Adam also shows a plantation hat for the beach — a wide brimmed, shallow crowned straw with a bright trim.

New and unusual from Cavanagh is a Japanese Kabuki silk in olive, black or tan with a nubby finish, and a plaid madras bucket hat for golf or sportswear. But in the straw line a favorite light color is whipcord, a tan with suggestions of grey and olive.

As for hat shapes, Knox reports big sales of a new tapered crown to give a slimmer silhouette for the natural shoulder set. If you want to look more rugged there is a quarter front pinch which starts farther back and gives a fuller front.

For small fry, the National Cap and Cloth Hat Institute reports an increase in "just like dad" headwear with a snap brim hat of raffia cloth with a bright print band and a side feather. Another is a dark blue batik with stitched brim and side feather. It reports the top color is navy blue followed by lighter Air-Force blue, olive, tan and black.

The Lighter Side

Armchair Strategists

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)— One of the nice things about being an armchair strategist is that you can plan the invasion of an entire continent without having to fire a single shot.

Among the sandbox warriors in Congress, the name of Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., stands near the top. And small wonder.

Without leaving his seat on the House defense appropriations subcommittee, Flood recently mapped out a grand design for the conquest of Communist China. As you can see, Flood thinks big.

Most of the other armchair strategists in Congress have been occupying themselves with nothing more ambitious than the conquest of Cuba.

Flood offered his battle plans, free of charge, to Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Unfortunately, however, I am unable to tell you what Taylor's reaction was.

The printed transcript of the hearing leaves some large gaps in the discussion, largely because of Taylor's reluctance to discuss the subject for publication.

But this much I can tell you: When Flood is planning a military maneuver, he makes Hannibal—with all of his elephants look like a piker.

The Flood plan for the conquest of Red China is so breathtakingly simple it's a wonder someone hadn't thought of it before.

The first half of the plan calls for Nationalist Chinese agents to infiltrate the mainland and line up support for an invasion south of the Yangtze River.

The second half calls for Russia to assist in this venture by moving her troops into Chinese-held territory in the north.

"Does it intrigue you at all?" asked Flood.

"Off the record," said Taylor. Flood said that "Moscow is not going to start a thermonuclear war for Peiping."

"Off the record," said Taylor. Rather, Flood said, he was convinced that Russia was only interested in protecting her own borders and that "nobody, but nobody," would help the Red Chinese.

"Off the record," said Taylor. The discussion continued in this vein for quite some time, with Flood elaborating on his strategy and Taylor responding off the record. That made it difficult to read between the lines.

I gather, however, that Taylor's enthusiasm was somewhat bounded, for Flood ended his presentation on what appeared to be a rather lame note.

"Nobody else will talk about these things but me around here, and so it just enlivens an afternoon, perhaps," Flood said.

"Off the record," said Taylor.

U.S. Claims Force Is Vital

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States told the 17-nation disarmament conference that development of a multi-national NATO nuclear force is necessary to protect the West from aggression and prevent the burgeoning of independent atomic powers.

U.S. Ambassador Charles Stelle made the statement in reply to a sharp attack by Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin on West Germany's military buildup.

"We hear all too frequently that the Federal Republic of (West) Germany faces potential aggression of all dimension including nuclear attack," Stelle said.

"Therefore, NATO forces in West Germany must be strong enough to protect this front line of Western defense."

He pointed out that West German forces are fully integrated into NATO. He said nuclear weapons on German soil now are under exclusive British and American control and the new multi-lateral NATO forces under discussion would not change this situation.

"The Federal Republic of Germany has no intention of developing its own national nuclear deterrent," Stelle said.

LONDON (UPI)—Dr. Richard Beecching, chairman of the nationalized British railways, said British trains and stations are dirty because "the public are so filthy."

Standard of Excellence is Set by a 'Professional'

Perhaps one of the most abused words in common usage today is the term "professionalism" — its prevalence has degraded the term to such a degree that it has become less and less meaningful. A professional takes the trouble and the time and expense to train to become a competent and well-informed professional, and also reflects the knowledge that he has in whose attitude and approach reflects well on his trade and himself, whether it be slicing out an offending appendix, or producing a well-dressed and expertly cleaned garment.

Anzac Becomes 1st Lefty Champ

By KENNETH CARR
United Press International
HOUSTON (UPI)—Bob Charles, a lanky New Zealander, today had 10,000 reasons and they're all dollars why golf is not strictly a righthander's game.

Charles, the first southpaw ever to win a Professional Golf Association tournament, took the $10,000 first prize Sunday in the Houston Classic.

The splintery 27-year-old took the lead in the second round and held off a strong finish by Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., to win by one stroke.

Charles' 12-under-par score of 67-66-69-268 broke the Classic's 72-hole record of 273 set by Cary Middlecoff in 1955. Hawkins and amateur Homero Blancas of Houston also broke the record with their scores of 269 and 270, respectively.

Hawkins started slow in the tournament but went 45 holes without a bogey and finished with a 66 Sunday to give Charles a score.

Blancas, a 24-year-old former player for the University of Houston, shot a 64 in the final round that gave him third place and the highest finish of an amateur on the tour this year.

Hawkins won $4,600, while Masters' champ Jack Nicklaus took $3,000 for his fourth place finish. Nicklaus remains the leading money winner on the tour this year with $37,715 to his credit.

Gary Player, the tour's second-place money winner in 1962, soared to a 77 on the third round and had to settle for $400, 15 strokes and 27 players behind Charles.

Stengel Sees 'Miracle', Mets Win Four Straight

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer
Casey Stengel actually was trembling out of sheer happiness. The 73-year-old manager who guided the Yankees to 10 pennants with hardly more than a wink was now wide-eyed with unabated excitement because his Mets had won four straight games.

"Tee-rific!" he said, his voice breaking a bit. "I think I'll get me a beer."

Casey was king again. His amazing Mets had just climbed out of the National League cellar by taking a doubleheader from the Milwaukee Braves, 9-5 and 9-2, for a four-game sweep of the series and their longest winning streak in their short history.

"I kept saying we were better in spring training," Stengel reminded. "Now do you believe it?"

The improvement Casey referred to certainly wasn't evident while the Mets were losing their first eight games of the season but it showed clearly Sunday to the delight of 26,775 frenzied fans.

Hickman Stars at Bat
Jim Hickman drove in seven runs during the double-header, whacking a grand slam off Claude Raymond to climax a five-run rally in the eighth inning of the opener and homering again with one on off Lew Burdette during another five-run outburst in the eighth inning of the nightcap.

Ken MacKenzie, "My Yale fella," as Casey calls him because he's an alumnus of Old Eli, was credited with the Mets' first game victory and also saved the finale for Galen Cisco by holding the Braves hitless over the last three innings.

The San Francisco Giants clung to first place by beating the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, in the second game of a double-header after the Cubs won the first game, 4-1. The Philadelphia Phillies won their opener with the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, in 10 innings, but dropped the nightcap, 10-5, the Cincinnati Reds routed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-3, and the Los Angeles Dodgers swept a pair from the Houston Astros, 11-3 and 6-5.

Yankees Beat Senators
In the American League, the New York Yankees shaded the Washington Senators, 7-6; the Los Angeles Angels clipped the Kansas

City A's, 6-2; the Detroit Tigers beat the Boston Red Sox, 5-2; the Baltimore Orioles downed the Cleveland Indians, 7-0, in the opener but lost the nightcap, 2-0, and the Minnesota Twins defeated the Chicago White Sox, 7-0, but dropped the second game, 8-0.

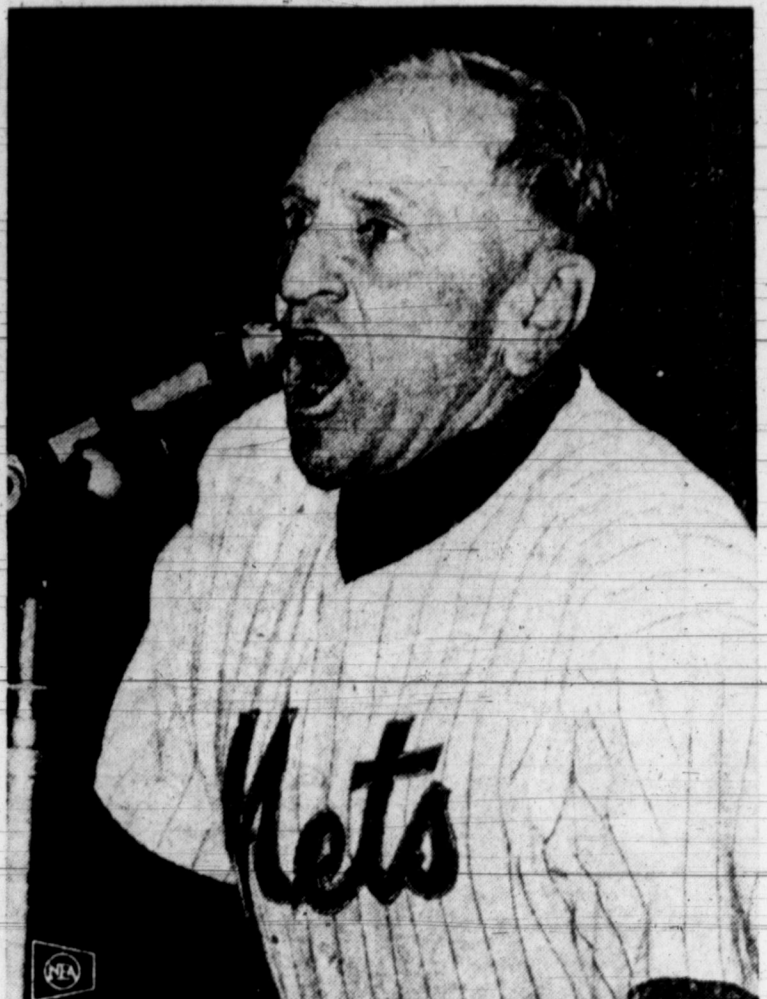

Tom Haller singled home the winning run for the Giants in the fourth inning of the nightcap against the Cubs after Willie Mays led off the inning with his fourth homer of the season. Willie McCovey also hit his fourth homer in the second. Billy O'Dell hurled a six-hitter for his second victory.

Ken Hubbs drove in two runs for the Cubs in the opener with three hits, including a home run, as Dick Ellsworth posted his second victory with help from Barney Schultz.

Tony Gonzalez' 10th inning double off Ed Bauta gave the Phils their opening game win over the Cards, who then overcame a four-run deficit to win the nightcap with a six-run rally in the fourth. Don Hoak hit a three-run homer in the first inning of the nightcap and Gene Oliver, Curt Flood and Don Demeter each homered in the opener. Dallas Green and Harry Fanok were the winning pitchers.

Reds Slug Pirates
The Reds slugged four Pirate pitchers for 16 hits, including four by Eddie Kasko and three apiece by Frank Robinson and John Edwards. Loser Al McBean yielded eight of Cincinnati's hits during the 2-1-3 innings he pitched. Jim Maloney was the winner.

Ron Fairly drove in three runs for the Dodgers in their first game victory over the Colts and then singled home the winning run in the ninth inning of the nightcap. Bob Miller, who had pitched scoreless ball for 14 2-3 innings in his two previous starts, won his first game for the Dodgers in the opener although Ron Perranowski relieved him after the fifth inning. The Dodgers ruined Randy Cardinal's major league debut by kayoing him with a five-run rally in the first inning. Besides delivering the game-winning single off loser Gene Brunet in the nightcap, Fairly also belted a two-run homer in the fourth-inning. Reliever Ed Roebuck was credited with the victory.

SEVENTH HEAVEN — Casey Stengel, who used to win pennants four and five at a time, is now in deliriums of joy because the New York Mets have won four games in a row!

Aguirre Proving No Flash in Pan

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer
Hank Aguirre has a one-track mind.

"I have to prove to myself," says the Detroit Tiger southpaw, "that I'm not a one-year flash."

Maybe the 31-year-old change-up specialist from Azusa, Calif., hasn't convinced himself of that yet, but he's starting to make a dent on the rest of the American League.

Aguirre enjoyed his greatest year in baseball last season when he turned in a 16-6 record for the Tigers and a 2.21 earned run average that stamped him the most effective pitcher in the circuit.

So far he has been even better this year.

His 5-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox Sunday was his third route-going triumph without a loss and his earned run average stands at a remarkable 1.40.

Aguirre, who struck out seven and gave up eight hits, held the Red Sox scoreless until the seventh when Bob Tillman nicked him for a two-run homer. The Tigers had clinched the victory before then, however, on Norm Cash's three-run homer off Bill Moubouquette in the fourth. Then win-snapped Detroit's three-game losing streak.

The Cleveland Indians ended Baltimore's four-game winning streak with a 2-0 nightcap victory after the Orioles won the opener, 7-0. The New York Yankees shaded the Washington Senators, 7-6; the Los Angeles Angels downed the Kansas City A's, 6-3, and the Chicago White Sox beat the Minnesota Twins, 8-0, after losing the opener, 7-0.

Stubborn Lakers In Comeback Win

By DICK DEW
UPI Sports Writer
BOSTON (UPI)—They're pretty big to act like flies, but the Los Angeles Lakers are certainly in the Boston Celtics' ointment.

The Lakers, all but counted out after losing three of four games to Boston in the National Basketball Association's playoff finals, launched an optimistic comeback Sunday night in a 126-119 victory over the Celtics.

The Lakers did it on Boston's home court, and they did it when the aging Celtics were within one game of clinching their fifth successive pro basketball championship. The series resumes Wednesday night at Los Angeles and, if necessary, concludes here next Saturday night.

Coach Auerbach Speechless
The shock even rendered talkative Boston Coach Arnold (Red) Auerbach speechless for nearly ten minutes. It was that long after the game before Auerbach, NBA coaching dean, could utter a single word to newsmen.

Then, surprisingly enough, Auerbach wouldn't say anything about the officiating. This despite the fact that two of his players, retiring veteran Bob Cousy and acrobatic cornerman Tom Sanders, fouled out of the game. In addition, cornerman Tom Heinsohn was ejected from the game, a decision that sent one fan racing onto the Boston Garden court in a vain attempt to slug a referee. Captains Gene Wiley and Jim Krebs also fouled out for Los Angeles.

The officials, Richie Powers and Mendy Rudolph, were under heavy police escort when they left the court after the game. Even so, two fans touched off a brief but furious scramble when they tried to get at the pair. The burly Lakers joined eight policemen in escorting the officials from the auditorium.

The game itself was a see-saw affair, Boston building an early seven-point lead but the Lakers fighting back in hot fourth-quarter scoring spurts to put it safely away — their second victory in five final playoff starts.

LEADS WIN — Elgin Baylor had a hot hand with the hoop as he led the LA Lakers to a comeback win against the Boston Celtics.

Baylor Scores 43
The official scoring sheet credited Elgin Baylor with 43 points and Jerry West with 32 more for Los Angeles. That same sheet showed Rudy La Russo with 17 and Frank Selvy with 11, most of them coming in the waning minutes to wipe out Boston comeback hopes.

The Celtics had a few things to crow about. Sam Jones rolled up 36 points while Bill Russell had 24 and Heinsohn 23. Russell also had 27 rebounds while Sanders scored 17 and Cousy combined a dozen points with 14 assists.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus announced after the victory that, "We have an excellent chance to even it up in Los Angeles (on Wednesday night) and come back here (on Saturday night, if necessary)."

Auerbach, when he finally recovered his voice, expressed confidence in his veteran team. "We'll still win it," he said. "If we don't win on Wednesday, the pressure will still be on them (the Lakers). We can win it back here if necessary."

Cuba Clobbers U.S. In Pan-Am Baseball

By LEO H. PETERSEN

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI) — United States athletes, although irked by a loss to Cuba in the baseball tournament, were occupying their accustomed front seat today in the Pan American Games.

The Yanks' baseball team, made up of collegians and service personnel, dropped a humiliating 13-1 decision to Cuba in an opening round game Sunday. The Cubans collected 15 hits, including a pair of home runs by Pedro Chaves, one of them a grand slam.

However, the U.S. still dominated the first full day of competition by winning three of the five gold medals decided, the Yank basketball team opened defense of its title with a 92-65 victory over Puerto Rico, and U.S. swimmers smashed four records in trial heats.

Wins Judo Medals
Ben Campbell of San Jose, Calif., and George Harris of Travis Air Force Base, Calif., won gold medals in judo, a sport new to the games this year. Campbell walked off with the open (unlimited weight) crown and Harris captured the heavyweight title.

Tochiyuki Seino, an Air Force serviceman from Los Angeles, gave the U.S. another first place in judo when he beat Jorge Yamashita of Brazil in the lightweight division. However, no gold medal was awarded in this event because Seino and Yamashita were the only entrants.

The other U.S. gold medalist Sunday was Isaac Berger of York, Pa., who broke his own games record in successfully defending the featherweight crown in weightlifting. Berger hoisted a total of 797.5 pounds, far exceeding his games mark of 782.5 set at Chicago in 1959.

Set Game Records
In swimming, Steve Clark of Los Altos, Calif., Charles Bittick of Long Beach, Calif., and Chet Jastremski of Toledo, Ohio, set games records and Ed Bartsch of Philadelphia broke a South American record.

NEW YORK (UPI)—If it takes them all year, the never quit New York Yankees always manage to come up with the man they want.

And therein lies the behind-the-scenes story of how they acquired Harry Bright from the Cincinnati Reds Sunday for approximately $25,000.

Bright, a 33-year-old utility man who has spent 13 of his 17 professional baseball seasons in the minors, isn't too well known to the average fan. But the Yankees know him exceptionally well.

Quietly, they watched him belt 17 homers for the Washington Senators last season and hit a solid .273. The fact that he could play first base, third base and even catch did not escape their attention either.

Decide On Bright
Putting their heads together this spring, General Manager Roy Hamey and Manager Ralph Houk agreed what the team needed most was a right-handed hitter with better-than-average power. They would have liked someone who could possibly spell inexperienced Joe Peppitone at first base.

"What about Bright?" Hamey asked Houk. "He had a good season for Washington last year."

"The Yankees?" he said. "I can hardly believe it."

The world champions aren't getting just any other utilityman in the 6-foot, 169-pound Bright, who works as a roofer for the Southern Pacific Railroad during the off-season.

Here is a man who not only can take over for Peppitone if need be, but also can fit comfortably in at third base if Cleve Boyer comes up with an injury or even put on the mask and mitt if the Yanks find themselves pressed behind the plate some time.

Bright, who was up among the American League's leading hitters for a spell last year after winning Washington's regular first base job, also won the admiration of ballplayers everywhere last summer when he stood his ground against former Senator-owner Gene Elwood (Pete) Quesada.

During one of the Senators many slumps, Quesada said the team needed several new players, including a first baseman.

"What's wrong with me?" Bright asked Quesada point-blank. "How many first basemen are out-hitting me right now. I think your remarks were uncalled for."

KC 'Sellathon' Nets $16,000

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—A television station's three-hour "sellathon" Sunday resulted in the sale of more than $16,000 worth of season tickets in a drive to lure the Dallas Texans of the American Football League to Kansas City.

Lamar Hunt, owner of the Texans, has agreed to move the team's franchise here this year if 25,000 season tickets can be sold in advance. Season box tickets sell for $49 and season reserve tickets for $42.

The "sellathon" produced the largest single block of tickets sold to date in the drive, which began April 15 and ends May 15.

The Pampa Daily News

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Non-Aggression And Its Meaning

To the minds of cannibals, a vegetarian is incomprehensible. To the minds of persons accustomed to the use of force, an unwillingness to commit aggression provides a riddle beyond their powers of understanding.

It is well known that we do not favor aggression. And we define aggression as the initiation of force by someone against some other one WITHOUT PROVOCATION. This is not to discuss defense, protection, safety, security, or any one of a number of other variables.

We believe that nature has so ordained that each individual controls his own energy. We think this is a demonstrable fact. It is also demonstrable that thousands of generations of men haven't been happy with that fact.

From the earliest of known records down to the present day, millions of men have struggled to shift the responsibility of their self-chosen acts upon some outside agency or force which they want to believe controls them and hence is responsible for them.

The name of this outside agency or force has varied with each age and clime. It has been Baal, Moloch and Ishtar. It has been a pantheon of pagan deity of endless complexity and variation. It has been fate (kismet) and predestination. Marx thought it was historic inevitability, which most union bosses also think. It has been the Law of Lek, and the idea of economic determinism. It has contained more spook lore and metaphysical twaddle from the days of Plato than could be condensed into a set of Britannica.

Currently, it is environment or heredity, or the "will of the swarm," or the majority, or merely the will of the "glorious leader."

These are merely variations on the same theme: that man is a helpless pawn in the hands of some outside power which controls him, is responsible for him, and will look after him come what may.

But nature tells us that man can and does control his own energy. Hence, he is responsible for his own actions. And to escape the

Frightening Possibilities

Though Adm. George W. Anderson, Chief of Naval Operations, considers sabotage a remote prospect in the loss of the nuclear submarine Thresher, past history works against ruling it out.

It has been disclosed that when our first atomic vessel, the Nautilus, was in Portsmouth naval yard for repairs four years ago, some 235 separate sabotage efforts were made in a two-week period. All involved deliberate cuts in armored, cable-style wiring affecting ship controls.

The FBI failed to turn up the saboteurs, despite hard search. Its quest was similarly fruitless in the case of another nuclear submarine and a guided missile destroyer, both of which suffered sabotage

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Why should so-called 'public schools' not be called 'public schools'?"

The answer to that question is that in schools that are public, other parties, the parents and the school officials, voluntarily agree to an exchange that is suitable to other parties, while in what are called "public schools" only one party needs to be satisfied with an exchange and only one party has a right to initiate force and compulsion to make the other party pay for the schools and take his children attend the schools that the compulsory party decides they should attend.

idea of that responsibility men have been willing to debate their intellects and to flee in any direction their errant thoughts can indicate.

It is because we believe that we are responsible for our own thoughts and actions that we do not wish to initiate physical force against anyone.

Take, for example, our position in respect to taxation.

We have no objection whatever to any payment of any tax which is willingly made by an individual. But when an individual is forced to pay a tax which in his mind is immoral or wrong for any reason, we support his right to be opposed to such tax. And to take his money against his will is tyranny in its most common and, at the same time, its most subtle form.

Let us suppose that we had a magic button rigged up in such a way that a single push on the button would abolish all the taxes in the country. Would we push the button? If you have followed our reasoning, you will know before we answer that we could not possibly push the button nor advocate its being pushed.

Why? Is it not true that there is always a minority opposed to the collection of ANY tax? Probably it is true.

But we have no more right to PREVENT the payment of a tax by those who willingly pay it, than the government has a right to collect a dime for a purpose which is contrary to the wishes of the person who has earned and honestly owns that dime.

If that idea seems difficult to understand, take time with it and see what happens.

We do not believe that we may commit aggression against those who wish to be imposed on by a tax. Equally, we do not believe that any group of persons, however sparse or numerous, has a right to commit aggression against those who do NOT want to pay the tax.

Because of this view it cannot ever be honestly claimed that we have imposed our views on anyone. Those who agree with us, have always done so because they wished to do so. We don't exercise power to force them to our will.

Whether this kind of thing is the work of conscious foreign agents or simply disgruntled workmen, it is not very heartening to hear that it can occur in the tight security atmosphere of a U.S. naval shipyard — or that the perpetrators can go undiscovered.

Whatever the cause of the Thresher's sinking, we would all gain from assurances that far tighter screening of workmen is now being applied in critical naval defense tasks. Obviously, too, it should not overlook men of a temperamental weakness which might lead them to work out personal resentments in actions against the nation's safety.

Anything that is not voluntary, where the public or the consumer doesn't have the right to refuse to buy or pay for, ceases to be public. Then the consumer or the public does not control the schools. Then they become political schools based on initiated force.

"Public schools" is trick wording, because the word "public" seems to have an appeal to almost everybody. Every real person who believes in democracy of the market believes that all people should be equally free to exchange goods and services and ideas.

But the government schools are anything but free. Nor can they teach a single standard of rightness, because they are using a standard that the state or a group has a right to do things that they, as individuals, would think were wrong for them to do if they used the Golden Rule or the Human Relations Commandments as a guide of what is right. They should be called compul-

We attended the graduation exercises at a New York barber college the other day and saw 29 men receive their diplomas. But graduation time comes almost every week or whenever the trainees have completed the tonorial course of 1,000 hours spread over a period of six months. The early practice work is done on poor folks who drop in to get a free haircut and shave. Yes, they still give instructions on shaving despite the safety razor. The State Board of Barbering then issues an apprentice certificate permitting the "Green" barbers to work in certain shops up to one year. At the end of that period they take an examination from the State Barber Commission and, on passing, are given another document and thenceforth are known as Master Barbers. The tuition is $400. There are about 6 basic haircuts with scores of variations. If the Master Barbers wish to work in a beauty shop and become a coiffeur, an additional 100 hours of class work is necessary.

Edson In Washington Discovers The Depression Was Economic Growth Era

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Wall Street Journal which, to borrow and corrupt the slogan of another great newspaper, knows all the news that's fit to print about business, recently came up with a discovery. It learned that the Great Depression of 30 years ago was actually a period of economic growth.

"Between 1933 and 1940," said a Journal editorial, "the Gross National Product practically doubled and the national income more than doubled."

It should be made clear at once there is no advocacy here of depressions as a source of economic growth.

The moral of the piece is that private capitalism and the free enterprise system have an enormous resiliency which should make it impossible for anyone to feel pessimistic about America's future.

Few people will disagree or want to argue about that.

The Journal's editorial writer used the point to refute modern economists now proposing extreme measures to speed up the country's lagging economic growth.

Such measures were rather freely bandied about by the professors at the American Bankers Association's recent Washington conference on economic growth, and they need challenging.

The phenomenon of business recovery from depression to which the business paper has referred has, however, set Washington economists to looking up the figures.

Gross national product—a figure that represents value of total production — was $56 billion in 1933 and $100 billion in 1940.

That missed being exactly double by $12 billion. GNP actually doubled in 1941, when it reached $125 billion, pass-

Even the most liberal government economists would oppose a 250 per cent increase in federal spending or a 90 per cent increase in the national debt today. That big a jolt isn't necessary, either to speed up the country's growth rate or to cut unemployment below four million (5.8 per cent of the current labor force of 73 million).

One reason it isn't necessary is that there are a lot of forces operating in the economy today which were just beginning in 1933-40.

Unemployment insurance and social security, for example, contribute more than $20 billion. This is double the whole federal budget of 1940.

And there are few people who would want to go back to those good old days, even if it was a period of growth, as the editorial writer says.

Folklore experts believe that the popular Halloween customs exhibit traces of the Roman harvest festival of Pomona and of Druidism. These influences are inferred from the use of nuts and apples as traditional Halloween foods and from the figures of witches, black cats and skeletons, commonly associated with the occasion.

The Doctor Says: Scolding Won't Cure Nail-Biting Habit

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Some children, when they are tense or worried, have to bite something. If in school they may chew on a pencil, but if nothing else is handy they will bite their nails — the only part they can readily bite without causing pain. It is a common habit and one that is usually, but not always, outgrown.

It does not help to scold or punish the child. He is apt to be unaware that he is biting his nails, and will start again automatically when his tension returns, when he is watching an exciting television episode, or when he is worried about something. Scolding and nagging are bound to fail, as they do nothing to relieve the cause. This can best be done by bolstering the child's self-confidence through praise for accomplishment, and by not pushing him beyond his capacity.

It sometimes helps in the case of a girl who bites her nails to appeal to her pride in neat-looking nails and, as she grows older, if she still bites her nails, to get her a manicure set complete with polish.

The thing to remember is that the nail biting is not important in itself. As an indication of an overwrought state of mind it should be taken as a warning that your child is not as well adjusted as he or she should be.

Q—I am concerned about my 3-month-old son's birthmarks—two bright red rough spots on the right side of his flank. One is flat, the other is raised. They are growing slightly. Our doctor says surgery may be necessary later, but he is hoping they will go away. What do you advise? Do they ever become cancerous?

A—Birthmarks are of three kinds. Port wine stains are flat, strawberry marks are slightly raised, and hemangiomas are deeper and consist of a mass of distended veins. Since none of these has any relation to cancer and since, in the case of your son, they are located where they will be covered for the most part, no treatment should be required.

If, as your son grows older, you treat him at all times as though he were perfectly normal, he will suffer little or no emotional upset when others stare at him or remark about these birthmarks on a bathing beach.

Treatment for the three types is different. Irradiation with Grenz rays or tattooing are sometimes used for the port wine stains; freezing with carbon dioxide snow for the strawberry marks; X-ray, surgical removal or injection as with varicose veins for the hemangiomas.

I would advise postponing any treatment until your son is old enough to decide for himself whether he wants these spots treated.

Q—Is it harmful to an infant's eyes for him to be photographed using flash bulbs?

A—Although prolonged looking at an intensely bright light is harmful to anyone, the fraction of a second to which the eye is exposed by a flash bulb is not harmful, provided the flash is 10 feet or more from the face. If a person is not looking directly at the source of the flash, the danger is even less.

Allen-Scott Report

Agriculture Department Again Under Fire—'Windfall Profits' to Florida Juice Firms?

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department seems to have been in a generous mood again with the taxpayers' millions.

A Government Operations Investigating Committee, headed by Representative L. H. Fountain, D-N.C., has uncovered evidence that Agriculture officials, in effect, handed $2 million in "windfall profits" to five Florida producers of frozen orange juice concentrate.

This was done by cancelling an ironclad government contract for the juice at a time when its price had doubled as the result of a severe freeze.

Representative Fountain's investigation has also established that the amount of frozen juice called for in the contract cancelled by the Agriculture Department was approximately what the Defense Department subsequently bought — at a cost of an additional $2 million to taxpayers.

Immediately involved in this matter are Assistant Secretary John P. Duncan Jr., head of Marketing & Stabilization, and George Cooper, director of the Commodity Credit Division in the Office of the General Counsel.

Whether the government can institute recovery action on this study "windfall profits" is under study by Fountain's committee.

If the committee decides affirmatively, the General Accounting Office will be directed to make a detailed report preliminary to submitting the matter to the Justice Department for legal measures.

While not as publicized as other probes, Fountain's committee has an impressive record of exposing "windfall profit" deals and obtaining refunds.

Most notable was the recovery of $1.5 million in such profits from a number of cheese-makers. Another instance was the indictment of leading drug manufacturers for price-fixing.

THE INSIDE DETAILS — As brought to light by the House investigators, the backstage details of the frozen juice case are as follows:

Last November, at the urgent behest of "representatives of the Florida citrus industry," the Agriculture Department agreed to establish a so-called "Section 32" purchase program for frozen orange juice concentrate. Under such programs, surplus commodities are bought up for the purpose of "removing them from the normal domestic market."

The Agriculture Department contracted with five Florida processing firms for 383,000 cases of juice (1,150,000 gallons) at from $4.43 to $4.85 per case. Total of the contract was approximately $2 million.

The juice under this contract was to be donated by the government to institutions throughout the country.

On December 12, a severe freeze struck Florida causing extensive damage to orange crops and trees. The effect on the price of juice was virtually instantaneous. By December 14 it had doubled.

On that day the Agriculture Department cancelled its month-old contract which now had a market value of $4 million.

This was done despite a provision in the contract holding the producers liable for damages in the event of failure to fulfill it. Summarizing the Department's extraordinary action, a committee memorandum pointedly notes: "At the time the contracts were cancelled, it appears that no offi-cialer or employee of the Department made any effort to determine or to give any consideration to such questions as whether: The Department could take delivery of the frozen juice and turn it over to some other government agency which would otherwise have to make the purchase in the market at double the Department's contract price.

"Also whether the Department was entitled to and could collect a settlement in return for releasing processors from their contracts and thus possibly enabling them to obtain twice as much for their concentrate elsewhere. And whether the contracts could have been filled from orange juice concentrate already held in the processors' inventories and were not dependent on 1962 production."

The memorandum also significantly notes that: "By coincidence the amount of frozen juice concentrate purchased by the Defense Department for its requirements in 1962 was approximately the amount contracted for by the Agriculture Department. It seems likely that the Defense Department will have to pay around $2 million more for the amount of concentrate involved in the Agriculture contract than Defense would have had to pay if it had obtained delivery."

BEATING AROUND THE BUSH — James Naughton, dynamic counsel of the Fountain committee, got little information from George Cooper, Agriculture attorney, in trying to get at the bottom of this matter.

Although Cooper participated in the contract cancellation, he beat around the bush on who was responsible for it and why.

"Can you tell us how completion of this contract would have been contrary to the public interest?" asked Naughton.

"You might ask the man who made the decision," retorted Cooper.

"Who was the man?"

"There were at least four in it," said Cooper, "and it finally ended up with the Assistant Secretary (John Duncan)."

"Well, can you tell us how completion of this contract would have been contrary to the public interest?" persisted Naughton.

"He apparently concluded that it was not in the public interest for us to go out and buy these commodities when a surplus no longer existed," explained Cooper.

"How would it be contrary to the public interest for the government to have saved itself in the neighborhood of $2 million by going through with these contracts?" demanded Naughton.

"We would have had to find out that the Army was willing to take over the contracts," contended Cooper. "Whether they were I do not know."

"But you have already indicated it looked like they would have been interested," pointed out Naughton.

"Well, that is the question yet to be determined," insisted Cooper.

"One thing doesn't have to be determined," said Naughton dryly. "and that is that the Defense Department is paying as much as $13.50 a case for this juice. It is going to pay perhaps $2 million more than the juice would have a cost if delivered under the Agriculture contract."

This and That

Repairing Of The Driveway

After being down for a few years, asphalt driveways develop a common failure. Uneven density of the base, construction over filled ground, penetration of water, freezing and thawing and leaking gasoline can all play a part in the destruction of asphalt. Early repairs will eliminate costly repairs.

The first step in repair is the removal of all loose asphalt. Cut back to solid asphalt or blacktop with a chisel to a depth of at least 1 inch. Clean hole or crack thoroughly with a broom or brush. An excellent economical and permanent patching material is available at most lumber, building material and hardware stores. The product, a ready-to-use blacktop called Sakrete Blacktop is put into the hole or crack 1/2 inch above the surrounding surface, then packed down thoroughly even with the surrounding surface. Tools may be cleaned easily with kerosene.

Former Veep Chosen Prexy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford Courant, took over Saturday as president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

He moved up from the post of first vice president to succeed Lee Hills of the Knight Newspapers, who has been ASNE president for the past year.

Succeeding Brucker as first vice president is Miles H. Wolff, of the Greensboro (N. C.) Daily News; Elected second vice president was Vermont C. Royster, editor of the Wall Street Journal.

Michael J. Ogden, executive editor of the Providence Journal and Bulletin, was named treasurer. Robert C. Notson of the Portland Oregonian was elected secretary.

Hills was named as ex officio member of the ASNE board of directors.

TUNIS (UPI)—Tunisia will ask for association with the European Common Market, informed sources said Saturday.

Received Aid; Shows Thanks

COLLINSVILLE, Ill. (UPI)—Public aid supervisor G. W. Killinger received an envelope containing $52 in small bills and a note signed "A.B.C."

The sender said he was returning public aid funds given to him by Killinger's predecessor, "a Mr. Hedde."

"He (Hedden) was good to me," the letter said. "Now, I can pay it back. Please put it back in the poor fund and acknowledge it in the Collinsville Herald. Thank you."

City editor Karl Monroe of the Herald acknowledged receipt of the $52 with a story.

Pre-Easter Sales Up 18 Per Cent

DALLAS (UPI) — Department store sales in Texas for the week immediately preceding Easter were up 18 per cent over the same calendar week a year ago, the Federal Reserve Bank said today.

However, the bank noted that the comparison was based on a 1962 week preceding the actual Easter week and did not offer a true comparison of Easter week sales.

Sales in San Antonio led the district with a 34 per cent increase, while Houston reported a 28 per cent jump, Dallas 16 per cent and El Paso 14 per cent.

For the four-week period ending April 13, statewide sales were up 11 per cent and for the entire period from Jan. 1 to April 13 were up 4 per cent.

For the year to date, sales were up 12 per cent in San Antonio, 8 per cent in El Paso, 6 per cent in Dallas and 5 per cent in Houston.

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will pay official visits to Finland and Sweden in August, it was announced Saturday.

Freas May Go to Court for His Job

LIVINGSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Polk County Dist. Atty. Sam Freas said Saturday he may go to court in an effort to keep his job.

Gov. John Connally has appointed Ross Hightower to succeed Freas. The appointment will go to the Senate for confirmation next week.

Freas was appointed by former Gov. Price Daniel, but the appointment was never confirmed by the Senate.

Freas started an investigation that led to malfeasance indictments against all five members of the Polk County Commissioners Court. The charge against one member was dismissed. The others were acquitted by a jury.

Hightower served as legal counsel for the defendants during their trial. Connally's office said the governor did not know at the time of the appointment that Hightower had represented the defendants, but said it would have made no difference.

Freas said he thinks the investigation of Polk County government should continue. A spokesman for the governor said Hightower had promised that "if anything needs investigating, he will investigate it."

Freas said he was searching the law for a basis of legal action to bar his removal and Hightower's appointment to the office.

"I feel like I do (have a cause for a lawsuit)," he said, "and I may contest this appointment through the courts."

Freas said his salary was cut after the trial of members of the commissioners' court, his secretary's pay was suspended and the court quit paying his phone bills.

Foreign Commentary

By BRUCE W. MUNN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The Congo headache has returned to plague Secretary General Thant.

This time, the cause of the recurrent trouble is political rather than military. Recent fighting in and around the Jadoville mining center appeared, up to now, to have been only a recurrence of internal tribal battles that have always marked the country's history.

The seat of Thant's African headache this time is the problem of retraining the Congolese national army.

When the Belgians gave the country independence in 1960, they left a native army of 25,000 men, none of whom ranked higher than master sergeant. Overnight, non-commissioned officers became generals, and disorder, mutiny and riots followed.

Neither the United Nations nor the central government headed by Premier Cyrille Adoula wants to risk this happening again.

Military Needs
Under the U. N. resolution which authorized the Congo military operation successfully completed in January, all countries are forbidden to supply military assistance to the Congo "except upon the request of the United Nations through the secretary general."

Early this year, the Leopoldville government, through Thant, asked for help from five NATO powers and Israel to train its army to the point where it could preserve order, defend the country and let the U. N. force, now reduced to 16,000 men, go home.

The Congolese wanted Canadians to help organize its military communications, Norwegians to retrain the navy, Italians for the air force, Israelis for the paratroops, Americans for supplies and logistics—and Belgians for general reorganization and schooling.

Political Reaction
The request caused a political storm. Hadn't the United Nations gone into the Congo to end Belgian colonialism, the Africans asked. The Arab countries objected to Israel's participation. The Congo's neighbors wanted more representation.

Russia screamed foul about turning the program largely over to NATO powers.

Thant could simply relay Leopoldville's request to the governments concerned and let it go at that. But he has recognized the "delicate political implications" and hopes for a compromise.

Actually, Thant—like many of the Western powers—while recognizing that Belgium was the villain of the Congo piece and, indeed, has paid nothing for either the military or civilian programs in the country, the Belgians are the people who know the Congo best and the only ones who can really help effectively retrain its army.

MILITANT GREETINGS

TOKYO (UPI) — North Korean Communist Premier Kim Il Sung cabled his "militant greetings" to Cuban Premier Fidel Castro on the occasion of the second anniversary of the Bay of Pigs invasion. Pyongyang Radio reported Friday.

WOMEN PAST 21 WITH BLADDER IRRITATION

After 21, common kidney or bladder irritations affect twice as many women as men and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. Secondly, you may lose sleep and suffer from headache, backache and feel old, tired, depressed. In such irritations, CYS-TEX usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by cutting irritating germs in strong acid urine and by analgesic pain relief. Get CYS-TEX at drugstore. Feel better fast.

matter of fact

People who have normal sight by day may be night blind. In order to see in the dark a person must produce "visual purple." A person deficient in vitamin A makes this substance more slowly. "Visual purple" is one of the pigments found in the rod cells of the retina which provides the chemical basis for adapting the eye to dark.

CATCH BOLD THIEF

TOKYO (UPI) — Police announced Friday they have caught the bold thief who stole a $5,000 television camera from the press room in Premier Hayato Ikeda's official residence.

The police report said 29-year old Hiroshi Shioda was caught when he tried to sell the imported camera to a shopkeeper in the Ueno district. The camera belongs to the Japanese Broadcasting Co.
